Lions Installation Speaker Was A 'Delightful Hoax'

Gen. Hans Christofferson, Danish air marshal, and his beautiful Russian wife, Olga, turned out to be a delightful and entertaining hoax last night at the Pampa Lions Club annual installation banquet in First Methodist Church.

The "general" held his audience of some 200 persons spellbound for nearly a half hour as he spoke of his impressions of America and touched briefly on the international situation.

It was not until several minutes after the "general's" speech that the revelation came that he was "Cactus" Pryor, an Austin, Texas, television and radio personality, and his "wife" was a well-known model from Amarillo, who had posed all evening as the former Russian ballerina from the Bolshoi Ballet in Moscow, who spoke no English.

Before the "general's" speech, Deputy Dist. Gov. Joe Tooley of Pampa installed the following officers of the club:

Ed Flood, president; Melvin Jayroe, first vice president; Max Presnell, second vice president; Harbord Cox, lion tamer; Sam Jacobson, tail-twister; O. K. Gaylor, secretary-treasurer, and W. R. Altmiller, W. H. Greenlee and Lewis Hackley, directors.

Flood, the new president, turned acceptance of the gavel, turned the meeting over to outgoing president, Wynn Veale, who recounted the club's accomplishments for the year, and introduced the program.

Dinner music was played by Cov Palmer and the singing was led by E. O. Wedgeworth. The invocation was given by J. E. Gunn and guests were introduced by Max Presnell.

Minimum Gas Allowable Is Set By TRC

A minimum allowable of 200,000 cubic feet of gas production per day from each gas well in the East Panhandle Field was approved yesterday by the Texas Railroad Commission.

A minimum of 250,000 cubic feet had been asked by the operator applicants in the field which takes in the northern two-thirds of the eastern half of Gray County and also lies in Collingsworth and Wheeler Counties.

A hearing was held on the application of Amarillo last April 4. Yesterday's approval of the application came as a result of that hearing in which officials of gas companies and taxing officials had testified to the need for a minimum allowance.

.29 Inch Measured Today

More Rain In Prospect For Area Late Today

A stationary cold front in the Texas Panhandle triggered another barrage of tornadoes, hail and heavy rains Thursday night and early today in the western and northern portions of the state.

Pampa got some rain last night and this morning, with .29 inch measured in The News' rain gauge.

Amounts varied in the Top O' Texas area with Lefors reporting less than .10 inch.

The Amarillo Weather Bureau is forecasting chances for additional thundershowers late today.

The Weather Bureau said that as long as the cold front remains where it is—just south of Amarillo—the area can expect more turbulence. Thunderstorms swept deep into North Central Texas early today. Tornadoes swarmed the Texas Panhandle and West Texas Thursday night, but no injuries were reported. A man died during a severe thunderstorm with winds of 62 miles an hour.

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported a funnel was spotted in the air 12 miles north of Amarillo. A twister carved a path across open country east of Tulsa in Swisher County but no damage was reported.

A funnel was sighted in the air 14 miles southeast of Higgins near the Oklahoma border. Another tornado touched down in open country between Quitaque and Silverton in Briscoe County. Rain and marble-sized hail was reported at Quitaque. Silverton also had hail.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reported two more tornadoes in West Texas, one near Clyde, and the other 10 miles northeast of Abilene.

Heavy rain in the Dallas-Fort Worth area early today sent water rushing down the streets curbed.

Sham Moore, 72, died of a heart attack in the storm at Wichita Falls. Five trailer houses were overturned in the north side of the city. Broken tree limbs littered streets.

A farmer southeast of Happy, Tex., reported occasional hail larger than golf balls. Heavy rain fell in Happy.

The state was under three tornado and severe thunderstorm alerts Thursday. The siege of violent weather has battered the state for weeks.

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev disclosed Thursday night that he did not want to attend the ill-fated 1960 Paris summit conference with President Eisenhower but did so apparently to satisfy other Kremlin leaders.

Khrushchev made the disclosure at a reception during which he attacked the European Common Market and urged Italy to quit the trading group and expand commercial relations with Russia.

The economic challenge presented by the Common Market was believed to be a main subject of discussion at the Soviet bloc summit meeting that ended here Thursday.

How Much Does He Have In Mind?

President Confirms Tax Cut Plan For Next Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy plans to ask Congress to cut personal income and corporate taxes effective next Jan. 1, but the question is: How much?

The President told his news conference Thursday that a comprehensive tax reform bill calling for across-the-board tax reductions would be offered for action in the next Congress.

But he shied away from giving any figures on the size of the proposed cut. He said work on the bill should be completed later in the summer and "at that time I think we can discuss it in more detail."

There have been reports that the reduction might amount to $5 billion a year. Responsible sources consider that figure the maximum and point out that the final decision will depend on the state of the economy and the government's finances.

One idea that has been looked at in the Treasury is lowering the bottom tax rate from 20 per cent to 15 per cent and slicing the top rate from 91 per cent to 65 per cent. Similar cuts could be made in the rates in between.

By itself, such a 25 per cent average cut in rates could lop more than $12 billion a year from Treasury revenues — more than the administration would be willing to sacrifice. Such rate cuts would be offset in part by broadening the income tax base and making other revisions to bring in revenue.

Most corporations now pay 52 per cent on profits. A reduction to 48 per cent has been mentioned but this is by no means certain to be proposed.

Kennedy did not rule out the possibility of asking Congress to cut taxes this year. While he said the present judgment was that reductions would not be needed until next year, he added that "if circumstances brought a new situation, then we would have to make other judgments."

The income tax cut was one of five tax proposals Kennedy said he had made to spur the economy. Three are pending before Congress and the fourth will be put into effect by the administration within 30 days.

He said the administration, within the next month, would revise the internal revenue guidelines on the economic life of depreciable assets "to make them more realistic and flexible in terms of actual replacement practices." He said this would make more than $1 billion in added cash reserves available for business investment.

UCT Convention General Session Opens Today

The sixty-eighth annual Grand Council Convention of the Texas United Commercial Travelers of America officially got underway at 9 a.m. today with a general assembly in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

Pampa is host council for the three-day convention which is being attended by 200 persons representing councils from all over the state.

Registration for the convention was held yesterday afternoon and continued until 9 a.m. today.

At 7 a.m. today, J. C. Roberts, secretary of the Pampa council, presided over the secretary breakfast where a general discussion was held on the duties of the secretary and his responsibilities to the club.

The general assembly was held jointly with the Ladies Auxiliary. The session was called to order by Bill Crowell, Pampa's senior counselor. E. O. "Red" Wedgeworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the guests to Pampa and the Top O' Texas.

The response and highlight of the day's meetings was given by William G. Bill Martin, Tyler, UCT supreme counselor of the United States and Canada. "Dub" Harrison, Lubbock supreme counselor, also spoke to the group briefly.

Opening the agenda at 10 o'clock was Harrison who announced the following members to serve on next year's committees:

Mileage and Per Diem — D. H. Brewster, Beaumont; J. W. Pennington, Dallas; Julian Arkin, Lubbock; and R. H. Pick, Waco. (See CONVENTION Page 3)

West Berlin Police Fire Covering Shots

By EDWARD SHIELDS
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI) — Eight East German crewmen of a river excursion boat got their captain and engineer drunk on champagne, beer and schnapps early today and then escaped to West Berlin with five women and a child under a hail of machine-gun bullets fired by Communist guards aboard pursuing patrol craft.

The escape from the excursion boat Friedrich Wolf was one of the most daring flights to freedom in the divided city's history.

West Berlin police helped the refugees escape by shooting back at the Communists who were attempting to capture the fleeing East Germans.

The captain of the cruise ship and his engineer then took their 500-ton craft back to East Berlin under Communist police escort.

West Berlin police said apparently no one was wounded on either side in the raging gun battle.

One of the refugees, identified only as "Peter C" because of relatives still in East Germany, described how the first waterborne escape since the Communists put up their wall Aug. 13 was accomplished.

Plans were made about a week ago by a group which included two cooks from the East German pleasure fleet, Peter C and another deckhand of the Friedrich Wolf, two other men and the women.

"We slipped out word to friends in West Berlin that we hoped to come on Monday," said one refugee, and West Berlin police were alerted.

But a barge inadvertently blocked the route along the River Spree to West Berlin and the attempt was delayed.

Thursday night, the technicians, the cooks and the deckhands began a drinking party with the captain and engineer of the Friedrich Wolf.

"We drank champagne, beer and three bottles of schnapps," Peter C said. "Finally, the captain and engineer were so drunk they lay down and went to sleep."

"We put them in their cabins and locked in the engineer but we couldn't find the key to the captain's cabin, so two men stayed on guard outside it."

Shortly before 5 a.m., when the sky was already light with the dawn of a clear, sunny day, the "freedom ship" cast off into the slow-running Spree.

About a half-mile downstream, Communist border police saw the excursion boat make a wide sweep to the left and head for the mouth of the Landwehr canal.

The greps (border police) began firing with machine pistols and a machinegun nest on the Oberbaum bridge 200 yards away opened up on the fleeing craft. An East Berlin police patrol boat joined the chase and its deck-mounted machinegun fired hundreds of rounds.

West Berliners living nearby awoke and rushed to their windows in time to see the white-painted Friedrich Wolf ram into the steep grassy slope of the canal bank.

The refugees leaped ashore and took cover behind workmen's shacks and piles of planks until West Berlin police reached them.

Then one of the refugees sprinted back to the boat, rushed inside and removed a barrier in front of the captain's door and raced back to shore.

Victim Of Plane Smashup Dies
AMARILLO — Austin E. Wetzel of Merced, Calif., died in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Thursday morning.

Wetzel was the pilot of a light plane which crashed near Pampa Tuesday.

His body was flown yesterday to Junction City, Kans., where funeral services were planned.

Highway Work Is Topic Of Meeting Scheduled Today

A meeting to coordinate highway improvement plans being considered by state, city and county officials on main highways leading in and out of Pampa was scheduled to get under way in the city commission room at City Hall at 3:30 p.m. today.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said he had called the session for all agencies interested in the planning of drainage and sewer, widening and paving of State

Hwy. 152, 60 and 273. These include Alcock St. (Borger Hwy.), E. Brown St., and S. Cuyler and S. Barnes St. from Brown St. to McCullough.

Among those expected to attend the meeting this afternoon were Mayor E. C. Sidwell and members of the City Commission, Charles Smith of Amarillo, district highway engineer; G. K. Reading, resident highway engineer; City Engineer Monroe Moore, Public Works Director R. B. Cooke, representatives of the county commissioners court, and members of the Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee.

Also at the meeting will be representatives of the firm of Merriam and Barber, consulting engineers, who only recently completed a detailed survey for the city on the sewer and drainage problems involved in the overall program for planned improvements in the south and west portions of the city.

"We want to have everybody get a clear understanding of the problems we face," City Manager Schmitzer said, "so we can coordinate the plans and be ready for proper presentation of the immediate needs to the public."

Schmitzer said he was calling in every agency involved so that each one concerned will have a complete picture of the program in its entirety.

LBJ's Name Said Omitted From Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Republican lawyer filed with a congressional committee investigating the Billie Sol Estes Scandals said today a federal employee changed his testimony at the inquiry to avoid mentioning Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The charge was made by Robert Manuel, a Republican fired Thursday by a House subcommittee for giving a reporter a secret Agriculture Department report on the Estes case. A former assistant agriculture secretary, James Ralph, fired as a result of the Estes inquiry, was to testify today.

In a statement to reporters, Manuel said Carl Miller, an Agriculture official, omitted Johnson's name from his testimony while being questioned by the investigators.

Manuel said Miller had stated in private that Estes, West Texas farm manipulator, now under indictment on fraud charges, had "sought to pressure him by invoking the names of the late Speaker (See JOHNSON, Page 3)

Feeling Of Disappointment Among The People

Philippines Next Trouble Spot?

MANILA (UPI) — President Diosdado Macapagal said today the serious deterioration of relations between the United States and the Philippines could affect the outcome of negotiations regarding modernization of American bases in the Philippines.

The president said at a news conference that relations between the two countries had deteriorated seriously as a result of failure of the U. S. Congress to pass a $73 million bill for war damage payments to the Philippines.

However, he said there has been no change in Philippine policy toward the United States and there was no question of removal or discontinuance of the bases themselves.

The president had been asked earlier in an exclusive UPI interview whether he foresaw any difficulties developing between the United States and the Philippines over use of U. S. bases here.

"Normally, I would not say so," he replied, "but unless the feeling of disappointment among the people is changed, officials of the government are constrained to reflect the attitude of our people."

The affection and enthusiasm of our people for the U. S. would be affected if favorable action on the war damage bill is not taken. That is why I am making every effort to arrest this deterioration."

In response to a news conference question whether he had been correctly quoted in the story which said he hinted that continued deterioration of relations might eventually endanger American rights to the bases, Macapagal said the question asked him referred to "negotiations related to modernization of the bases and the removal of irritants." He said his answer referred to these negotiations and that removal or discontinuance of the bases was not an issue.

The questions during the UPI interview were read from a typewritten list. The fourth question in a series on U. S.-Philippine relations was, "Do you see any difficulties developing between the U. S. and the Philippines over use of U. S. bases in the Philippines?"

There were no questions which referred to negotiations which began in 1956 to revise the 1947 military bases treaty. They were suspended late in 1961 before Macapagal took office.

Subic Bay Naval Base is the key Southeast Asian supply point for the U. S. 7th Fleet. Clark Field performs the same function for the U. S. Air Force and Sangley Point is the home of naval patrol planes which keep an had been complaining for a year and a half of decreasing production in the Eastern Panhandle Field and its resultant slackening of gas income.

Jack O. Miller, district supervisor of the Railroad Commission office in Pampa, said today the new order will be issued formally within the near future.

There are nearly 1,200 producing gas wells in the Eastern Panhandle Field, and approximately 250 to 300 of them are in Gray County.

A total of nearly 40 billion cubic feet of gas was produced from the field last year. In 1960, the records show, some 33 billion cubic feet of gas was produced.

Yesterday's application approval, according to producers, will have a tremendous effect on the economy of the field for royalty owners and producers. In many cases, it was stated, an unfavorable decision could have meant the stopping of future expansion and even getting out altogether.

Miller said his office here in Pampa had been busy all day with inquiries about the effect of the commission's action of yesterday.

Mechanic Seeks Owner Of Auto

Benny Ormson, owner of Ormson's Garage, 111 Osage St., has asked police to help him find the owner of a car who skipped out without paying for an overhaul job.

Ormson reported to police that he had completely overhauled the automatic transmission on a black and maroon 1954 Packard. The owner of the car came for it, Ormson said, and while the garage owner was on the telephone the man drove away.

Ormson said he didn't have the man's name and address and had failed to get the license number of the car.

Stolen Auto Accessories Are Reported

Auto accessory thieves have launched a new series of night raids on parked cars, Police Chief Jim Conner said today.

The chief said numerous reports have been listed the past few nights of stolen hub-caps and other accessories. Latest complaints were filed by Mrs. T. J. Veale, 2216 N. Sumner; Charles McClure, 1218 E. Browning, and Jimmy Roland, 617 Doucette.

Mrs. Veale said someone stole the radio antenna from a car parked in the driveway at the Veale home. McClure and Roland each reported that four hub-caps were stolen from cars parked at their residences.

Another report came from Mrs. Donald N. Gray, 2238 N. Russell, who said someone either fired a shot or threw a stone through the picture window of the Gray home. Police said they were planning to question a neighborhood youth about his activities with a sling-shot.

The war damage bill has been re-introduced in Congress in two forms. One provides payment direct to Filipino businesses and individuals, the other to the Philippine government. Macapagal said his government does not care which bill is adopted.

"It is our position that the $73 million payment is an obligation of the U.S. and it is up to the U.S. government to decide how to make the payments," he said. "The important thing is that the commitment must be fulfilled."

Macapagal said there were no other points of friction between his government and the United States.

The president said the most serious problems facing his government today are the economy and corruption. He said the order of the problems was reversed when he took office last Dec. 30, but that corruption now has been brought under control.

The Philippines have been in economic difficulties because of an unfavorable balance of trade which contributed to a heavy drain on the nation's foreign exchange holdings.

Dose Of Culture

We see by the government that although federal finances are in poor shape, the cause of education and esthetics will go bravely forward as ordered.

The U. S. Office of Education has granted to the congressional authorized National Culture Center funds for studies on how best to use mass communications media to promote nationally, the arts of poetry - reading, little theatre, contemporary music, dancing and so forth.

The center also plans to launch an experiment into the field of broadcasting.

Although the center is supposed to be privately supported, the U.S.O.E. donated $27,965 to the center under the National Defense Education Act of 1958 which authorizes national funds to be spent in researching communications media for mass educational use.

The center's programs will be aimed to include projects for all age groups. Organized in 1958 as a national facility to "showcase" the best national examples of performing arts and to achieve on a national scale the "full educational value" of such programs as the poetry - reading, and so forth, the over-all goal is to bring to grassroots America a "cultural awareness" and presumably raise the esthetic taste, thereby.

Looking at the matter candidly, however, we wonder how effective these crusaders-for-culture will be. A possible $13 billion federal deficit is forecast for this year.

The gold supply dwindling. Fund-raising may become a bit difficult assuming that budget trimmers can prove that a well-supported group of amateur thespians for instance is essential to "national defense education."

And to put it delicately, though certain elements of exhibition wrestling and adagio dancing are admittedly similar, the question is likely to boil down to this: How much money will it take to convince the wrestling fan that he prefers adagio dancing?

Nothing Wrong With Trade

Some people still seem to think that the rise of capitalism occurred at the expense of the poor people. But ask yourself this question: Would you rather be poor in a community of millionaires or would you rather be poor in a community of paupers? We'll take the community of millionaires and then try to arrange a trade. And that's all capitalism has ever done.

Fallout Shelters — 'Useless Waste'

We were impressed the other day by the findings of a Los Alamos scientist, Dr. Payne S. Harris, concerning atomic fallout. We have had a few comments to make before about the stupidity of fallout shelters being pushed by the Civil Defense agency as a proper protection in the event of atomic war.

Recently the Dallas Times Herald published excerpts from Dr. Harris' talk before a Texas Medical Association meeting and some of his observations ought to make food for thought to some plausibly angry Americans who may have been conned or frightened into providing some kind of an expensive fallout shelter for themselves.

Dr. Harris says that he has sat in "nuclear fallout as visible as snow" and that the entire multimillion dollar government program to promote fallout shelters is a "useless waste," even in the event of nuclear war.

Even considering the most devastating nuclear war, Dr. Harris said, the probability of harm to the individual makes the government program an unreasonable one.

Well, why does the Atomic Energy Commission support the fallout shelter approach to survival, he was asked?

"Because the AEC has grown into a huge bureaucracy, mostly of non-scientific people, and bureaucrats are trying to keep themselves in a job and get a better job."

The scientist is a medical doctor and is the leader in radiation field studies of the health division of the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in New Mexico.

"This shelter business to protect the country against local fallout is a lot of misleading, confusing hallelujah," he declared.

Then Harris revealed that he and fellow scientists have sat in radioactive fallout so thick it looked like ashes falling from a cigarette, both in the Marshall Island tests and in Nevada. And he revealed that many natives on Rongelap, an atoll in the Marshall Islands, have experienced the same sort of thing. The natives say the fallout looks like snow which they have seen in Japan.

To be in danger from fallout, according to Dr. Harris, it has to be thick enough to be seen, and even then the radiation level is still often below the danger point.

"If a bomb is exploded above the ground, and the ball of fire doesn't touch the ground, there is no problem from local fallout," Also, according to the doctor, "bombs that are 'hot' enough to shoot past the tropopause into the stratosphere — a line about 40,000 feet up in this latitude — do not yield any local fallout."

And then he provided quite a dramatic illustration. He contended that if a five-megaton bomb were to be dropped on San Antonio every day for a year (total, 365 such bombs) that Austin, which is 75 miles away, would have fallout only 15 days a year because of existing wind conditions. On those 15 "fallout days" only three would contain enough radioactive material to require more protection than the normal home would offer. And he emphasized that this would be the result of constant bombardment for 365 days.

And then he delivered the clincher. He said that he believes the fallout approach to survival was promoted by the bureaucracy in Civil Defense and elsewhere to get the country's thinking away from any evacuation plans all of which are unworkable.

And what Dr. Harris implied, in so many words, was that the whole Civil Defense scheme is pretty silly, but that the C.D. and other bureaucracies "invented" it to perpetuate their existence even if there is no reason for them.

The cost to the American public in taxes and in scare - spending can only be imagined.

Government, by its nature, is intent upon the amassing and the keeping of power. It must keep people dependent on it one way or another, for if the people ever discover that they do not need all the "protection" the government insists on providing, there could well be a tax rebellion. And that would be fatal to any number of well-planned tax-supported political careers.

We'll go along with Dr. Harris and a number of other well-informed scientists who have reported similarly.

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

The front of a supermarket in Ohio looks like a theater marquee, with the names of famous stars appearing in lights, according to the "specials" the store is offering. When Perry Comp's TV show features a certain product one week, the supermarket's sign will read, "Perry Comp, 39 cents each," or "Red Skelton, 89 cents," etc. . . . Purely psychological: One medical institution kept track of 94 cases of accidental aspirin poisoning in children and discovered that in every case but one, the parents had previously encouraged the child to take aspirin, when needed, by telling him or her it was "candy."

News item in the Albuquerque Journal: "Four stiff members and two employees recently have been employed by the University of California Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory. . . . It took a government decree to make the better class restaurants in Spain's leading cities open as early as 8 p.m. for dinner. Therefore, these establishments had not accepted guests prior to 9 or 10 p.m., life in Spain being so leisurely. The change was made chiefly to accommodate tourists, especially those from the U.S."

Today's favorite gag: The dignified old lady, a pillar of the congregation, shook hands with the pastor after the service "Wonderful sermon! Reverend, wonderful sermon!" she exclaimed. "Everything you said applied to somebody or other I know. . . . If you have protruding ears, there's little that can be done to correct them except through surgery. It seems there is so much elastic recoil in the ears' cartilages that intermittent application of pressure affords no permanent results."

The Japanese company (Sony) that pioneered in inexpensive radio transistors is introducing (in Japan only) a five-inch transistorized TV set weighing eight pounds and selling at $180. It's powered by either household electric current or a pair of batteries.

Thoughts while shaving: 1. Often heard is the expression, "I wouldn't be a thin dime on it." Well, a dime is 10 cents whether it's thin or newly minted - provided it's not counterfeit, of course. So why should anyone sneer at a THIN dime? . . . 2. When a playwright's new show opens on Broadway, he usually stays up till the New York morning newspapers are out, to read the reviews. Well, now, when the publication date of an author's book arrives, does he wait up all week for the book reviews to come in? . . . 3. When the U.S. Senate was considering the acquisition of the great Pacific Northwest, Orator Daniel Webster rose before the august body and spouted that he "wouldn't give a dollar for all of Oregon." (Well, Daniel, a corner lot in Portland wouldn't be a tough inheritance for your heirs right now.) . . . 4. You hear and read about the Far East, but are there definite boundaries to those areas? We've never seen a map on which each is clearly defined.

Country editor speaking: "Khrushchev admits a meat shortage in the Soviet Union. He is not affected personally, having an abundance of ham."

Lincoln Laid First Brick For Income Tax Structure

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Senate Finance Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd's opposition to both the 8 per cent tax credit to business for investments in new machinery and the 30 per cent withholding tax on interest and dividend payments together what are really Siamese twins of taxation.

If business is granted an investment tax credit, the administration says it must have withholding tax collection on interest and dividend payments to make up for the loss of revenue. Approving the withholding tax but not the tax credit would of course increase revenues, though it would not stimulate investment. Any other alternative forces the government deeper in debt.

Both the withholding tax and the tax credit have been approved by the House of Representatives. Byrd's opposition may block both in the Senate. But there is still a possibility that a compromise can be worked out in the two tax committees that will be acceptable to the White House.

Several amendments are being considered to make both proposals more palatable to business and to people receiving dividends and interest on which they don't pay taxes.

The business tax credit might be raised. People over 65 might be exempted from having taxes withheld on interest and dividend payments. Further concessions might be made to take care of hardship cases.

But so far the Kennedy administration has not yielded on its original demands. Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon's recent appearances before closed sessions of Senate Finance Committee and other hearings still to come pertain to the new proposals on taxation of foreign income, foreign tax havens and related matters which are all tremendously complicated.

Internal revenue service has just released figures showing that the gap on reporting interest and dividend income amounted to $3.3 billion in 1960. The tax loss to the government was over $1 billion. The loss from dividends was $480 million, from interest $350 million. The losses are expected to run higher for 1961 when final figures are in.

President Kennedy in a press conference statement tried to emphasize that the proposed withholding tax on interest and dividends is not new. It is merely another way to collect taxes now being evaded.

Few people realize it, but the whole income tax system and the withholding of taxes at the source were introduced in America by President Abraham Lincoln just 100 years ago.

Prior to 1862 the federal government got practically all of its revenue from customs receipts and the sale of public lands. But the rising cost of the Civil War ran the national debt up by the then - colossal sum of $2 million a day.

Lincoln, forced to act, persuaded Congress to pass the first

The Doctor Says:

Serious Ill Effects Result From Overexposure to Sun
By DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

Everyone knows that sunlight is essential to our survival. Without it, life could not long be sustained on earth. We all know, too, that an acute sunburn may be a very painful experience. Less well known, however, are the ill effects of prolonged overexposure to the sun's rays (chronic actinic irradiation) and the disturbances that may be experienced by those who have an allergy to sunlight (photosensitivity).

Professor John M. Knox, of the Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston, Tex., recently summarized these less well-recognized manifestations: Burn - producing wave lengths are present in greater concentrations at midday rather than earlier or later in the day. This observation checks with the Noel Coward lyric to the effect that only "mad dogs and Englishmen" go out in the midday, out in the midday sun.

Burn - producing wave lengths also are present in greater concentrations in tropical countries and at high altitudes. Their intensity, furthermore, is increased by reflectors such as water, snow and sand. Their intensity is decreased by smoke, clouds, shade, clothing and a previous sun tan.

Prolonged and sustained exposure (chronic actinic irradiation) may encourage the growth of a skin cancer (cancerogenesis).

Neither of these ill effects is observed in portions of the skin surface not exposed to sunlight (abdominal wall or buttocks). And they are less likely to occur in the Negro whose increased skin content of pigment (melanin) acts as a protective.

These facts explain why doctors have frequently commented on the rare occurrence of skin cancers in the Negro, and why many of us note how much kinder the aging process is to the Negro than to the Caucasian of the same age, particularly when the prevailing conditions of life are relatively comparable.

Perhaps this altogether too brief summary of Prof. Knox's studies may alert summer vacationers to the risks involved in excessive sunbathing. Those of us who are normally sensitive may protect ourselves by measured exposure, the wearing of protective clothing and the gradual development of a sun-tan.

The hypersensitive, on the other hand, may have to be more completely screened by products in creams or by drugs prescribed by their physicians.

There has been no increase in the number of British-trained junior doctors in the national health service since 1957, although the output of British medical schools since that year has exceeded the number of elderly doctors lost thru death or retirement by 500 or so. The only possible answer, says Dr. Seale, is that British medical graduates have chosen to leave for countries where they can practice without a bureaucratic hanging over their shoulders. Since 1955, he says, 220 British doctors have been settling each year in Canada alone.

Heated Primary Clash Seen As Mass. Democrats Vow Fight to Finish Regardless of Convention Results

WASHINGTON — It is now certain there will be a bitter primary battle between State Attorney General Edward McCormack and "Ted" Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President, over the Massachusetts Democratic senatorial nomination.

This tensely-sought prize will not be decided at the party's state convention in Springfield this week.

Each is still striving furiously to win the convention's stamp of approval. But whatever that outcome, there will be a sulphurous primary clash.

The ground work already is well underway for that. Even before the convention meets, young Kennedy and members of his family are busily preparing to wage an all-out primary fight.

Mrs. Rose Kennedy, 70-year-old mother of the candidate, for more than a week has been lining up speaking engagements and "teas" throughout the state at which she will electioneer for him. In this campaigning, she will be accompanied by his sisters and sisters-in-law — all socially prominent and White House intimates.

Mrs. Kennedy and "the girls" are old hands at such electioneering. They did it in all the President's political races, starting with his successful bid for the House of Representatives in 1946. Masterminding this backstage organizing is Stephen Smith, brother-in-law of the President, who quit the State Department early this spring to take charge of family business affairs because of the illness of former Ambassador Joseph Kennedy.

Smith is commuting between New York, Boston and Washington. In the latter, he is taking an active part in putting over the Democratic National Committee's $250,000-a-plate dinner this weekend in honor of Matthew McCloskey, wealthy Philadelphia contractor, who is retiring as party treasurer to become Ambassador to Ireland.

More than 1,200 tickets already have been sold throughout the country. The several hundred thousand dollars profits from this dinner will go to the National Committee for this year's closely-contested congressional elections.

In National Committee circles there is some undercurrent grumbling over the size of Smith's telephone bills. Insiders are saying they run into four figures due to his many calls about the country to sell the $250-a-plate tickets.

HIGH - PRESSURE TACTICS — Behind the unannounced decision of Attorney General McCormack and young "Ted" Kennedy to "go all the way" and fight it out in the primary is their dissatisfaction with what the Springfield convention may do — whatever it will be.

If McCormack is endorsed "Ted" and his family will consider that a rebuff to the President and will refuse to accept it as final.

Should the endorsement go to McCormack, it will attribute it entirely to White House pressure. He is already publicly charging that, and citing numerous instances to prove it.

In a speech in North Adams, McCormack flatly asserted that the Administration is delaying the appointment of postmasters to vote for young Kennedy. McCormack pointed out that 15 postmaster-ships have gone unfilled for this purpose.

He also blasted State Democratic Chairman John Lynch for "trying to rig the convention for Kennedy." Lynch has long been closely allied with the President.

Also actively campaigning for young "Ted" are Richard Donahue, member of the White House staff; William Hartigan, who last month quit as Assistant Postmaster General to work in this campaign; Warren O'Donnell, brother of Kenneth O'Donnell, veteran special assistant to the President; and Milton Gwirtzman, administrative assistant of Senator Ben Smith, classmate of the President, who was appointed to his Senate seat following his election to the White House.

Particularly resented by McCormack and his partisans is young Kennedy's constant reference to the President and the fact that he has ready access to him.

To one politico who resisted "Ted's" insistent overtures, saying to him, the latter finally snapped, "All right, if that's the way you feel, but remember this: Win or lose, I'm going to handle the patronage in this state."

In Worcester, "Ted" greeted a local party leader with the booming announcement "Jack was asking about you just the other day. He told me to be sure to say 'hello'."

At a ward meeting in Dedham, young Kennedy, pointedly said, "The party needs a senatorial candidate who will give the ticket strength and be an effective spokesman in Washington." The local delegates didn't have to know what he meant — especially when "Ted" wound up his remarks with a jocular reference to "my brother the President."

Outcome of the three-day (June 7-9) Springfield convention is a toss-up.

McCormack still has a majority of the pledged delegates. But his 8 to 5 lead of several weeks ago has been sharply whittled down. At the most, his present margin is not more than 50.

Some 350 of the 1,763 delegates are still uncommitted, and the decision will rest with them. At best it looks like a very close finish.

CONVENTION FLASHES — President Kennedy will send greetings to the convention. That's the inside word being put out by young "Ted's" headquarters.

However, while making the most of that for propaganda purposes, his workers admit the President's message will be meticulously non-partisan. . . . Top Massachusetts labor leaders are going strongly to bat for Attorney General McCormack. Many of his delegates are union men. "Ted" is promising that if he wins he will reorganize the State Democratic Committee and install a paid full-time executive director. He says the job will pay around $15,000, and it's already alluringly dangled before eager party aspirants.

Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of the candidate, in lining up speaking engagements to electioneer for him, is literally inviting herself to address various organizations. That's what some of the startled officers are telling friends. As one in Watertown remarked, "We never hear from her until one of her sons runs for office. Then she and her daughters display, a very lively interest in our organization. This surge of solicitude is most intriguing."

Basic Black Ends Budget Blues

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The basic black dress has been the object of many humorous remarks. But for the girl with good fashion sense and a limited budget it can't be beat.

Make sure the black dress you buy has its own jacket, preferably a short one. With its own box jacket, for example, plus simple pin and earrings, the dress will be perfect for the office or for afternoon wear. For a complete change, invest in another jacket in beige, white or a pastel. If you prefer, a black and white check jacket will do, and you'll have a smart suit. For informal evening occasions, the dress without its jacket will serve beautifully if a soft, pretty scarf of turquoise or pale yellow is attractively arranged at the neckline.

And last, worn by itself as a sleeveless sheath, your basic black will not only hold its own, but will look chic for dinner and the theater. Your only additional investments need be jewelry for an evening out and a pair of fresh, elbow-length white gloves.

Let the gals fly about the little black dress. You can build a wardrobe around that one invaluable item.

DIFFICULT TEENS
Probably the most difficult time for a girl to make up properly is during her teen years. She wants to look just as well groomed as the older girls, but doesn't want to look too made-up for her age.

The new matte finish lipsticks in pastel shades are just right for her, since they have a soft, natural-looking finish. She should use only a little foundation make-up and a light dusting of powder in a shade that matches her own coloring.

A light coating of petroleum jelly on her brows and lashes will make them glisten without the harsh effect of mascara and eye shadow. The girl with a pale complexion can add a touch of rouge for a healthier glow, but she must be sure that it's blended properly and applied with a light hand.

With a minimum of make-up and shining, well-brushed hair, she'll be just as lovely as her older sisters. And with much less effort.

WARD OFF SUMMER
Hair care is extremely important in the summer months. The sun and salt water cause drying and streaking unless the hair is pampered.

If you don't have time for salon hair conditioning, hot oil treatments given at home will help. For the woman who feels these home treatments take up too much of her time, there's a new hair conditioner that's heatless and quick and easy to use. Salons use it to condition hair while tinting and lightening. It serves the same purpose as the hot oil and takes less time to apply.

Shampoo your hair after each swim to remove salt or chlorine. And to doubly insure the beauty of your crowning glory, wear a bathing cap in the water and a beach hat on the sand.

Take It From Kathy

by Kathy Peterson

Dear Kathy: My mother and sister shop for all my clothes and my father's, too. The things they pick for themselves look nice, but what they buy for us is absolutely awful! I don't know where they find them, because I've never seen any like these even in magazines.

My father is a good sport about it. He laughs and makes a joke of the things that look weirdest, but I don't think it's a joke to have to wear them. My sister has every single new thing that's a fad for girls, but I look like a freak compared to the other boys. It isn't fair.

When I complain my mother says, "Don't be silly. I think it's pretty, and it was on sale." Dad tells me I ought to know by now that a man can't argue with a woman and win. The next time they shop they come home again with something for me that was just "too darling" to pass up.

Boys don't want to look "pretty" or "darling." Shouldn't a high school student pick his own things? Hank J.

Dear Hank: It sounds like time for the men of the family to revolt. A father as good-natured as yours would help if he really understood how bad you feel. I'll bet your dad will join you on a few all-male shopping trips.

Some women use the terms "cute," "adorable" or "darling" to describe everything from an evening gown to a rocket ship. I don't believe your mother and sister bring home lace-trimmed shorts or embroidered shirts, but it does seem as if they need a few clues about what the average high school boy is wearing. Provide some ideas by clipping pictures of clothes you like.

I think you should have a chance to help select a wardrobe.

As large beads go out and small beads come into fashion, watch for the dog collar made up of tiny pearls. It will be important this autumn.

Dear Abby.... Talker Just Won't Ask THE Question!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Has a woman ever proposed to a man? I've been going with this fellow for three years. He's told everyone he knows that he wants to marry me, but he hasn't told me yet. We aren't kids, either. He is 33 and I am 31. He talks about marriage but he never comes right out and asks me to marry him. How can I get him to propose or do you think I should ask him?

WANTS TO MARRY
DEAR WANTS: Your man is a bashful one. Make it easy for him and get him on the subject again.

If he talks about it long enough, he'll either ask you, or think he did.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about a friend who has the nerve to ask you to make a dessert for her dinner party, when then, at the dinner party, when everyone is telling her how delicious it is, she just says, "Thank you," and never opens up her mouth about who really made it. She has done this to me more than once.

READY TO EXPLODE
DEAR READY: I think she is a small, insecure, begrudging, ungrateful fraud. Now, ask me what I think of a "friend" who would supply dessert for this kind of person twice.

DEAR ABBY: What makes women like you tick?

CURIOUS MAN
DEAR CURIOUS: Men like you who get us all wound up!

DEAR ABBY: There is much controversy over the fact that where there are children a couple should stay together even though there is constant bickering and quarreling. I believe that children are better off raised in the quiet atmosphere of a peaceful home with only one parent. How do widows manage? I depend on your answer.

TROUBLED MIND
DEAR TROUBLED: Widows "manage" because of circumstances beyond their control. Divorced couples make their own misery. If married people would exercise one-half the effort toward making a peaceful and pleasant home for their children as they do in less important activities, they could eliminate the bickering and quarreling they find so impossible to live with. Amen!

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

The finger end of an unbreakable rat-tail comb parts this girl's hair for easy setting. It is a useful tool, too, for lifting the hair into fullness.

There's More To Hair Grooming Than Weekly Beauty Shop Visits

By ALICIA HART

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The woman who feels that a flick of the comb and a weekly shampoo and set are all there is to hair care makes a big mistake. It takes much more to preserve the health and beauty of your hair.

Every evening, you should give your hair a health treatment by brushing from the scalp to the tips of the hair for one hundred vigorous strokes. Hold your head DOWN as you brush.

Before each shampoo, massage your scalp. This will work miracles for limp, lifeless hair. Falling hair, dandruff and overly fine hair will also benefit from massage. Start at the nape of the neck. Press thumbs into the base of the skull and slowly work up to the base of your ears. Then open your hands and, pressing the heels of the hands against the scalp, move your fingertips in circular, lifting motions.

If your hair is dry, give yourself a hot oil treatment each week.

After shampooing, let your hair dry before setting. Then, dampen it with water or setting lotion. Use an unbreakable rat-tail comb to part off the sections which will be wound on rollers.

The tail is good for separating the hair while setting and useful in lifting it to modified fullness.

You can maintain the health and beauty of your hair only by following a routine of cleanliness and stimulation.

Is It Presumptuous To Pray For Oneself?

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International
A few hours after Scott Carpenter was picked up from a life raft in the Atlantic, a reporter asked the astronaut's wife, Rene: "Did you pray?"

"No, I did not," Mrs. Carpenter replied. "I feel the same as Scott does, that it is presumptuous to pray for oneself."

Rev. Allison Gives Topics For Sunday

Rev. Joe Allison, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church, at the 11 a.m. Worship Service Sunday, will preach about the subject "A More Excellent Way," reading the scripture as found in 1 Corinthians 1:1-8 and 12:27-31.

The Morning Worship service will be preceded by the Sunday School hour at 9:45 a.m. The lesson subject will be that of "Christ Speaks to the Church."

For the 7:30 p.m. Worship Service, Rev. Allison will preach about the subject, "God Included Me, Too!" He will read the scripture as found in Galatians 4:1-10.

At the Training Union hour at 6:30 p.m., the topic, "Tenants of a Temple," will be discussed.

Both the Junior and Senior choirs will be under the direction of Rev. Roy Harper, minister of music, assisted by Mrs. Donald Steffer as Junior Choir Director and Mrs. Ann Winegar as the piano during both services.

Wednesday evening services will be the Commencement Exercises for the Daily Vacation Bible School, beginning with Open House at 7 p.m. and the Joint Worship Service at 7:30 p.m.

Their reasoning goes something like this:

"Since God is infinitely wise, He knows my problems and needs better than I do, and there is no reason for me to call them to His attention. Pleading with Him to help me is an insult to His love, because He needs no urging to do what is best for me."

This attitude is obviously grounded in a strong faith. It reflects a much higher degree of spiritual maturity than the widespread notion that prayer is some kind of magical gimmick by which men may bend God to their will.

But when all of this has been said, it is necessary to add that Jesus did not share the view that it is "presumptuous to pray for oneself."

In the model prayer which he taught His disciples, He included as "selfish" and mandane a pe-

Services For Sunday Set

The spiritual source of intelligence and creativity will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science church services.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the Lesson - Sermon, which includes this passage from Isaiah (45): "I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this selection will be read: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes; the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love. No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows" (p. 273).

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (3): "Every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God."

tion as one can imagine:

"Give us this day our daily bread."

When the hour drew near for Him to suffer and die, He went with some of his closest friends to a little park outside Jerusalem called the Garden of Gethsemane. He threw Himself on the ground, and according to Mark's gospel, "horror and dismay came over him."

"Father," He prayed, "all things are possible to Thee. Take this cup away from Me."

Rev. Adsit Gives Sermon Subjects

"Do You Have the Holy Spirit?" is the sermon for the Sunday morning worship service at the First Christian Church. The evening sermon will be, "The Miracle of Healing Ten Lepers."

Rev. Glyn R. Adsit will deliver both of these sermons.

Daily Vacation Church School will run for one more week with classes for all ages of children from Kindergarten through Juniors. The theme for the school is: "We Learn About The Bible."

Three High School Youths will leave Sunday for Young People's Conference at Ceta Glen Camp in Palo Duro Canyon. Those attending will be Mary Ellen Cooper, Jennie Goff and Mike Stewart.

FINDS ITS WAY BACK

LONDON (UPI)—The Rev. Gordon Gilling got back the umbrella he left at a parishioner's house nine months ago from a woman parishioner who bought it at a rummage sale.

"I assume," the minister said, "that the people with whom I left it didn't know to whom it really belonged."

TOO HOT TO HANDLE

LONDON (UPI)—Maurice Greenspan's television set burst into flames Wednesday night while he was watching a concert of hot jazz by American band leader Count Basie.

The scene is a vivid reminder to Christians that the New Testament scriptures, which bear witness to Jesus' divinity, also insist on His full humanity. He was "a man such as we," subject to the same fears, doubts and temptations. And in the ultimate crisis

Church Will Have Earlier Services

This Sunday and for the months of June, July and August, the Worship hour of the First Presbyterian Church will be changed from 11 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. The Church School will continue to meet at 1:45 a.m., following Worship.

Rev. Donald Hauck will use portions of the second chapter of Acts as a text for his sermon, "The Birth Of A Church," and the Sanctuary Choir, under the direction of Mrs. John Conway, will sing "The King Of Love My Shepherd Is" as the morning anthem this Sunday.

Training in Discipleship will continue on Sunday evening at 6:30 in Fellowship Hall followed by Evening Prayer at 7:45 in the Sanctuary. At 7:30 the Senior High young people of the Church will meet with their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. David Fatheree, in the West Room of the Church and after attending Evening Prayer will make plans for the Senior High youth ministry during the coming year.

TO OMUCH SPEEDUP
CLAREMONT, S.C. (UPI)—Police Chief Buren Grant said he didn't mind reading water meters, starting the waterworks pumps ever morning and repairing streets in addition to keeping the peace.

But he resigned Wednesday when city fathers told him he would have to start cutting the grass around city hall and hauling garbage.

of His life, He pleaded with God to spare Him from pain and death. "Nevertheless, not My will but Thine be done."

As many Christians have learned from experience, the "nevertheless" is not easy to say sincerely. But when it is truly said, it transforms the whole prayer. The petitioner begins by asking for something he desperately wants, and ends by accepting whatever Infinite Goodness knows to be right and necessary and best—even if it is a cross.

The prayer which culminates in "Thy will be done" does not presume that God needs to be told what to do. It does not presume that He can be wheedled into granting special favors for those who clamorously appeal to Him.

It presumes only that He is the kind of father who wants His children to flee to Him when they are in trouble, and whose arms are always open, particularly when He has to say no.

How to pay for a Cadillac—and not get one!

There are several ways that a man can pay the price of a new Cadillac car—and find himself in possession of an automobile of far less stature.

Because there are many motorists currently considering the purchase of their next car, we would like to enumerate these ways of going astray.

1. Assume that the purchase price of a new Cadillac car is higher than it actually is. (There are eleven models of other makes that this year cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac model.)

2. Fail to appreciate that the basic price of a new Cadillac includes important things that are extra on many other cars. (Including automatic transmission, power steering and power braking.)

3. Neglect to find out from a Cadillac dealer what your present car is worth in trade. (He is especially anxious this spring to welcome new owners.)

And if you take one of these detours, think of all the unique pleasures you could be missing.

There is Cadillac's styling—so majestic that it attracts attention wherever it goes.

There is Cadillac's comfort—so wonderful that every journey becomes a brief vacation.

And there is Cadillac's performance—so great that it is without rival on the world's highways.

So we suggest that you play it safe—and get all the facts from your dealer soon.

You might be closer to a Cadillac than you think.

THE FATHERS REQUEST

Proverbs 23:26 My son, give me thine heart.

God claims nothing less than the heart. SOME OFFER BELIEF OF THE INTELLECT: It is well to understand truth and to believe in that which is revealed about God. We may give many thoughts to God; but these, without the heart, will not satisfy him. SOME OFFER ETERNAL SERVICE: This is claimed by God, but only as the fruit of a loving heart. Given in hard, mechanical work, without love or devotion, it is worthless in the sight of God. SOME OFFER MONEY SACRIFICES — WORSHIP: All such things are acceptable only as growing out of the heart. In heartless worshippers these are but mockery, and are rejected by God. God's true children must give their hearts. They must give themselves, their inmost being, their very lives, thoughts, affections, and desires.

The heart must be wholly given to God. We must not be content to love God half-heartedly. We must give our heart to God, and give it wholly, if we would satisfy His claim. GIVE IT IN AFFECTION: This means supreme surrender of our hearts love to God. GIVE IT IN DEVOTION: God expects loyal service, not merely the adoration of the very soul and life and being to Him. GIVE IT IN TRUST: If one truly gives his heart to God it is put in a safe place, to be guarded from harm and sin. God is the safest treasury for man's most precious treasure. When the heart is entrusted to God, He will not betray it. Its affection and devotion will lead it not to desire evil; it will be in a sanctuary amid the storms and battles of life.

Glossary Helpful In Understanding Market Letters

By JESSE ROGUE

UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Investors, reading the market letters they pay subscription prices of up to about $100 a year for, might find a glossary helpful in understanding the current crop.

Mostly, the guarded phrases being used show the caution with which market writers for brokerage houses and advisory services approach the uncertainties of the stock market, particularly now.

But they sometimes lead the reader to wish that there could be a more direct way of saying what there is to say. Or even that a translation could be made available.

A few terms crop up so often, however, that they have tended to acquire standardized meanings, if they can be figured out.

This week, one letter said it was "now rather obvious that there are large reservoirs of liquid assets available for equity investment."

Meaning—There's money lying around ready to get into the market.

Another said business "was unquestionably probing for a valid explanation of the market's inability to hold at the 605-630 level in the Dow industrials. At this point, it is a reasonable assumption that the real answer must await the answer of hindsight."

In more common language—What's happen?

"To our way of reasoning," wrote one, "the downside purge of the market witnessed during the past week has had the effect of stabilizing an extremely unfavorable market situation."

Could this mean: If things looked bad last week, cheer up, maybe it'll be quiet for a while?

"The market would appear to be in an area where the battle between the bulls and the bears may soon be decided."

Yeah, but who's ahead?

"With more sober judgments in vogue, new realizations are being nurtured that the era of the post-war period has ended and a new era of different expectations, new challenges and new problems is unfolding."

Or: Now we've sobered up, things aren't the same. What comes next?

"It is fair to assume that investors' became increasingly disenchanted with equities as the decline persisted."

Or: Stocks didn't look too good. A lot of people sold out.

The historic Liberty Bell was made in England in 1752 and later recast in Philadelphia.

Pampan Will Attend Science Symposium

Gordon Lyons, manager of Southwestern Public Service Company, Pampa, has announced that Edwin Albers, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Albers, Canyon, and a senior in Pampa High School, will attend the second Texas Nuclear Science Symposium at the University of Texas June 10-13, as guest of the Southwestern Public Service Company.

Albers will be accompanied on the trip by Mrs. A. B. Turner, high school physics and biology instructor. The delegates from Pampa will join some 400 students and teachers throughout the state on the University campus. All students and teachers will be from areas served by Southwestern Public Service Company.

The symposium is jointly sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

"The foundation is co-sponsored with the General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation. The meetings sponsored by the Foundation seek to bring to Texas high school science students and teachers lectures on nuclear physics and nuclear fusion research by outstanding scientists and to provide the students with an opportunity to get answers to their questions on scientific careers and college curricula," Lyons said.

Speakers at this year's symposium in Austin will include three General Atomic scientists from San Diego, Calif. Other speakers will include Howard R. Drew, Fort Worth, executive vice president of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation; Dr. W. T. Guy, Jr., chairman of the department of Mathematics, University of Texas; Dr. E. L. Huds-peth and Dr. Wilson Nolle, professors of physics, and Dr. A. W. Stralton, professor of electrical engineering, all of the University of Texas; Dr. J. C. Allred, assistant to the president, University of Houston; and Dr. W. O. Milligan, professor of chemistry, Rice University.

Lefors Lions Take Tour Of Projects

LEFORS (Sp) — The Lefors Lions Club met in regular meeting Monday night in the civic center with Ed Spivey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, leading in prayer.

Fred Blackwell, vice president, had charge of the meeting.

The program time was spent touring the city and different projects, participated in and completed by the Lions Club in the past two years. The group went in the Scout bus, driven by Scoutmaster Johnny Taylor.

The Scout bus is a project of the club, along with the Scout House which was inspected by the group, since about $2,500 has been spent on the Scout house in the past few years by the Lions Club.

The group drove to Leforian Park and viewed the bumpy fence and the concrete table and benches placed there by the club.

In the ball park at the city square the group inspected the fence, the irrigation system and the grass, which have been projects the Lions added to the city facilities.

The Gun Club and Trap Shoot north of the city was inspected which has turned into a money making project of the club.

The Cemetery was viewed by the club, with its new fence and watering system, which was completed by the Lions last year, in aid to the Lefors Art and Civic Club.

It was learned that $175 was contributed by the Lions to the Summer Recreation project, an annual contribution by the club.

Members present and taking the tour were Fred Blackwell, Ray Chastain, George Duncan, Harry Garrison, Walter Elliot, Bob Bright, Alex Swann, Joe Clarke, Boyd Beck, Jack Thacker, Ed Spivey, Aubrey Carlton, L. D. McCauley, J. R. Sparkman and C. H. Gustin.

Auto Industry In Sales Record

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry set a 79-month sales record in May, with purchases averaging one new car every two seconds, Ward's reports said today.

The statistical agency said May sales totaled 656,837 units. This gave the industry its third 600,000 sales month in a row, with May volume alone the best for any month since 857,500 retailed in September, 1935.

General Motors took 58.1 per cent of the May auto market, eclipsing their high mark for 1962 of 57.4 per cent set in February. Ford Motor Co.'s share was 26.1 per cent, Chrysler's 8.6 per cent, American Motors' 6.2 per cent and Studebaker's 1 per cent.

Odd-Shaped Letters Will Be Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Post Office Department has notified the general public that come next year it will have nothing to do with odd-shaped letters.

The department said it was issuing a reminder since a previous announcement was carried primarily in trade papers.

Under the regulation, mail less than 3 inches high or 4 1/2 inches long, will be banned starting Jan. 1, 1963. It must meet both the height and length minimum standards.

The department said it was also banning pieces of mail "that are not of the normal rectangular

The Lighter Side On Practice Of Name-Giving

By DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The other day, as a public service, I undertook to explain how Billie Sol Estes got his name.

My main point was that when it comes to christening their sons, Texas parents generally are more progressive than those in other states.

This assertion was promptly challenged by a native of Louisiana, who claimed that he had a boyhood chum named Joe Joseph Josephs.

Conceding that there are exceptions everywhere, I believe I am on sound ground in saying that, by and large, the practice of name-giving in this country leaves much to be desired.

The national attitude toward personal names conforms to the familiar Shakespeare quotation: "What's in a name? That which we call rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

The implication is that names really don't matter. But is that true? A rose by another name might very well smell like a petunia.

I have before me a clipping from the legal notices in a local newspaper, in a local newspaper. It advises that a woman has filed application in district court to change her name from "Julie Lee Marsh" to "Sincere Determination."

I'm inclined to think that when Julia Lee legally becomes Sincere Determination she also will become a better person.

Most of the first names used in America are prosaic and dull, but all have meanings which if used as names, would give our nomenclature freshness and color.

For instance, John, which is one of the most overworked names in America, means "God's gracious love." Wouldn't that make a fine name for a President?

Roger Blough of U. S. Steel might not agree, but he also would stand to benefit. If his parents had named him "Spear of Fame," rather than Roger, steel prices today might be six cents a ton higher.

There is, however, no guarantee that an infant will fit his name when he grows up.

I have a daughter named Rebecca, which means "firm." That doesn't suit her at all. It turned out that her chief characteristic is asking questions.

If I had known when she was born what I know now, I would have named her "Constant Interrogation," which is almost as lovely a name as "Sincere Determination" or "Billie Sol."

Edwards To Offer Course In Safety

A firearms safety course, offered by the American Rifle Association, will be offered by Paul Edwards of Pampa starting around June 15 at the indoor rifle range on the Miami highway.

Edwards, who holds a graduation certificate in rifle safety from ARA in Washington, D.C., will offer the course to some 20 boys free of charge. The course will deal with safety of firearms, both at home and in the field. It also will deal with taking care of other people's property while they are out hunting.

Edwards said it would probably take 12 to 14 hours instruction in order to complete the ARA course, depending on the individual.

A written examination will be given following completion of the course. In order for a boy to pass the examination, he is required to answer at least 90 per cent of the questions on the final written test.

Edwards pointed out that 33 states have already made it mandatory for kids to have a safety firearms certificate before being able to hunt in the state. Texas is among three other states which might require the certificate in the near future in order to be able to hunt with a firearm.

Edwards said boys should furnish only their own ammunition and graduation cards, which they are to order. Edwards will furnish the firearms. Any further information regarding the firearms safety program may be obtained by calling Edwards' at MO 4-7240 anytime after 5 p.m.

PORTLAND WINS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UPI)—Portland (Ore.) State defeated Sam Houston (Tex.) State, 5-3, Thursday despite the first triple play in the six-year history of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) baseball tournament.

The play came when Portland's Bob Jones lined to the pitcher with the bases loaded in the sixth inning. The pitcher doubled the runner off third, and the third baseman caught the runner off second base for the third out.

Smith, 6-5, 205, will play in the Texas High School Coaching Clinic all-star basketball game at Lubbock in August. He chose to play basketball over football.

He was an end in football, and averaged 19 points per game in basketball.

New York Mound Ace Might Turn Bowler

NEW YORK (UPI)—This will come as a big jolt to Ralph Houk, but Bill Stafford revealed today he's thinking of turning professional bowler.

Houk can relax a bit though, and so can the New York Yankees because if Stafford does go through with his plan—and it certainly looks as if he means to—he will do all his bowling between baseball seasons.

Stafford's inclination toward a professional career on the alleys came to light following his superlative two-hit 4-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians Thursday night. Somehow the talk spread around to bowling.

"What was the best game you ever rolled?" someone asked.

"Two-ninety-eight," Stafford replied, matter-of-factly. Under further questioning, the 23-year-old Yankee right-hander totaled 727 for three games recently, was supposed to be a partner of pro bowler Don Carter during a charity exhibition at Auburn, N.Y., last winter and has "given quite a bit of thought" to bowling professionally.

"But I don't bowl during the baseball season," he pointed out. "You use a different motion bowling than you do pitching, and I wouldn't want to take any chances on doing them both together."

Still breathing heavily in the clubhouse although he had used only 93 pitches to blank the Indians.

LEG INJURY IMPROVES
NEW YORK (UPI)—Ty Cline of the Cleveland Indians said Thursday he expects to be released from Lenox Hill Hospital by Saturday. The rookie outfielder suffered an aggravation of a thigh injury during Wednesday's game against the New York Yankees.

Yankees Topple Indians Behind Stafford, Maris

By FRED DOWN

UPI Sports Writer

Bill Stafford is a young man in a hurry... a young man after the Yankee dollar... and a young man who looks like the successor to Whitey Ford as the ace of the New York staff.

Ralph Houk, manager, likes to compare him with Allie Reynolds for two good reasons: (1) Stafford is a purposeful fellow who likes to get the job done in a hurry and (2) he knocks down contenders like tenpins.

The 23-year-old Stafford, a native of Catskill, N.Y., demonstrated his "Reynoldslite" ability again Thursday night when he pitched the Yankees to a 4-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians to maintain their one-game lead over the Minnesota Twins in the American League race. Bill yielded two hits, didn't walk a man and sent everybody home in 1:59—a time it takes most young pitchers these days to work four innings.

Jim Perry shut out the Yankees for three innings but in the fourth Roger Maris exploded his 10th homer of the season and the Yankees added three runs in the eighth with the aid of a double by Bill Skowron and a single by Clete Boyer. It was Stafford's fifth win against three losses.

The current two-cornered race in the National League remained unchanged when both the first-place San Francisco Giants and the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers lost. The Chicago Cubs shaded the Giants, 4-3, and the Pittsburgh Pirates topped the Dodgers, 3-2.

The Baltimore Orioles whipped the Washington Senators, 12-5, the Minnesota Twins downed the Kansas City Athletics, 5-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 8-4, and the Boston Red Sox edged out the Detroit Tigers, 5-4, in other American League games.

The St. Louis Cardinals completed a sweep of a three-game series with the Cincinnati Reds with an 8-2 victory and the Houston Colts topped the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in other National League games.

Andre Rodgers drove in three runs with a two-run single and a homer to help the Cubs' Don Cardwell to his second victory. Billy Pierce, who had won eight straight games as a National League pitcher, suffered the loss, and still needs two more victories to reach a lifetime total of 200.

Dick Stuart's three-run ninth-inning homer enabled the Pirates to break their five-game losing streak at the expense of the Dodgers after Johnny Podres carried a 2-0 lead into the final frame. Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente hit successive singles off Podres and then Stuart homered off reliever Larry Sherry to break up the game.

A double by Dick Williams and singles by Johnny Temple and Brooks Robinson were the big blows of a four-run second-inning rally by the Orioles. Billy Hoelt, who worked the last 6 2-3 innings, gained his second win while Pete Burnside suffered his fifth loss.

Rich Rollins drove in three runs with a pair of doubles as the Twins snapped Kansas City pitcher Dave Wickersham's six-game winning streak. Joe Bonikowski went the route to win his fifth game. The victory moved the Twins past Cleveland into second place in the AL.

Al Smith's five straight singles, including two in a seven-run second-inning outburst, and three hits by Mike Hershberger led the White Sox' 14-hit attack on five Los Angeles pitchers. Eli Grba, rocked for five runs in 1 1-3 innings, suffered his third loss.

Bob Tillman's triple and Carroll Hardy's single in the eighth inning gave the Red Sox their victory over the Tigers and brought Ron Kline his first win. Earl Wilson, Jake Wood, Rocky Colavito and Gary Geiger all hit homers and Frank Malzone, Ed Bressoud and Norm Cash hit doubles.

Sore-arm Ernie Broglio went the distance for the first time since a seven-hitter and Curt Flood and Julio Gotay had three hits each for the Cardinals, while Billy Goodman's sixth-inning single capped the Colts' two-run ninth-inning rally and dealt Warren Spahn his sixth defeat of the year.

Stars Will Feature Meet Of Champions

HOUSTON (UPI)—Murray Halberg, probably the world's greatest distance runner from 1500 meters to 10,000 meters, will be one of about 100 track and field athletes from throughout the world who will compete tonight in the Meet of Champions.

Halberg, the 1960 Olympic games 5000-meter champion, will enter the three-mile race at the meet in Houston's Jeppesen stadium.

The versatility of the New Zealander can best be described by the tremendous marks he has compiled. He has turned in a 3:38 performance in the 1500 meters and his best mile mark is 3:37.5.

Halberg set the American outdoor record in the two-mile run with a 8:40.8 clocking. Last year he broke the world three-mile mark with a 13:10 timing.

Former University of Houston star John Macy, and Abilene Christian's Dennis Moore will be Halberg's chief competition.

Halberg's running mate from New Zealand, John Davies, will be one of the favorites in the mile run. Davies has turned in a 4:00.6 performance. The only runner entered with a better time is Cary Weisiger of the Quantico Marines, who ran a 3:59.3 mile recently in the Modesto Relays.

Another Olympian, Earl Young of Abilene Christian College, will have to be at his best when he defends his Meet of Champions title in the 440-yard dash.

Five other top quarter milers have been invited to battle Young for his crown.

Former University of Houston Star Olan Cassell, who holds a 4:1 victory over Young, has entered the 440. He is now stationed at Fort Hood and recently took the Fourth Army track meet 440 with a 46.0 timing, the best of his career.

Other entries in the 440 are Charles Strong of Oklahoma State University, Southwest Conference champion Roy Smalley of Baylor, Jack O'Neill of LSU, a pair of freshmen, Texas A. and M.'s Ted Nelson and Texas Southern's Ray Saddler.

Favorites in other events are Jerry Dyes of Abilene Christian, hop-step-jump; Anthony Watson Oklahoma, broad jump; Billy Stone, Oklahoma State, 880-yard run; Homer Jones, TSU, 100-yard dash; Blaine Lindgren, Utah, 120-yard hurdles; Charles Frazier, TSU, 220-yard dash; Fred Hansen, Rice, pole vault.

Brewer Is Leading Thunderbird Meet

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Front-runner Gay Brewer Jr. of Crystal River, Fla., counted on his hot putter to keep him rolling today in the second round of the $100,000 Thunderbird golf classic.

"If the putter keeps going, I will too," said the 30-year-old pro whose six-under-par 33-33 — 68 Thursday gave him a one-shot lead over U. S. Open champion Gene Littler of Rancho Bernardo, Calif., and veteran Earle (Spec) Stewart of Dallas in the year's richest golf tournament. Brewer had eight one-putt greens and 29 putts in all.

However, there's reason to believe that putter can cool. Gay led the Memphis Open with a first-round 64 last week but wound up in 10th place when the paychecks were passed out at the end of 72 holes.

"I was on the tour for six years without winning a tournament until I changed my putting style last year," said Gay. "Then I won three tournaments in five months and this is one I'd sure like to win."

But with $25,000 as the top prize, the competition in the Thunderbird is so fierce that hot pre-tourney favorite Arnold Palmer, the year's top money winner, shot an opening 73 and wound up tied for 46th place.

Right back of the 67 shooters were Dave Ragan and Fred Hawkins with 68 and six others at 69 — Doug Sanders, Jack Nicklaus, Dave Marr, Jackie Burke Jr., Mason Rudolph and Frank Boynton.

In the group of nine at 70 were 50-year-old Sam Snead, Jacky and Buster Cupit, Lionel Hebert and Bob Goalby. In all, 29 players cracked the 72 at the Upper Montclair Country Club.

Sanders and veteran Chandler Harper rolled in the ninth and 10th holes-in-one of the PGA tour this year, Sanders getting his with a three iron on the 210-yard third hole and Harper with a two iron on the 230-yard 17th. Harper had a 71.

Palmer was miserable after his 36-37-73 and said, "I'm playing awful."

Adding to Arnie's misery was a bogey six at the 11th where he plunked his second shot into a creek in front of the green. He also bogeyed three other holes in his scramble and only a 50-foot birdie putt at the 13th kept him from falling way out of it.

Gary Player of South Africa also had a 73 and Bill Casper skidded to 75.

One of the earliest casualties was former U. S. Open champion Cary Middlecoff who arrived late because of fouled-up travel connections and couldn't warm up his ailing back properly before teeing off. Cary shot a 43 on the front nine and withdrew.

Domed Park Has To Be Completed

HOUSTON (UPI)—Harris County's domed sports stadium must be built no matter what it costs to keep Houston from becoming the "laughing stock of the world," the president of the chamber of commerce said "people all over the world have been told in words and in pictures about our domed air-conditioned stadium."

"The Chamber of Commerce has received congratulatory letters and inquiries about the stadium from all points of the globe, so completely has it captured the imagination of people everywhere. We cannot permit ourselves to become the laughing stock of the world by any failure on our part to do exactly as we said we would do."

Harris County voters authorized $15 million to build the structure. Architects and engineers now say early cost estimates were too low and the domed stadium as publicized will require more money.

Ohio's flag is different from every other state flag in the Union in that it is of a swallowtailed pennant shape.

LONG DISTANCE CALL

Basketball May Be Dropped From Games

MOSCOW (UPI)—Basketball may be one of the sports dropped when the Olympic bigwigs get around to cutting four sports from the program of the 1968 games.

At least that was the speculation of Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, following Thursday's windup of the IOC's 59th annual conference.

The IOC delegates, by a vote of 28-8, passed a rule to cut the program of the 1968 summer games from 22 to 18 sports. Mayer said the IOC would decide at next year's annual meeting, scheduled to be held at Nairobi, Kenya, in October, which sports would be dropped.

Mayer said that it was his "personal opinion" that certain team sports like basketball and soccer might be among those eliminated.

"There is not one amateur basketball player in America," Mayer charged. "And in my own city of Lausanne, all the members of the football (soccer) club are paid and they call themselves amateurs."

Mayer added, however, he did not believe that all team sports were "professional."

Any move to drop basketball was bound to meet with opposition from the Americans. Basketball is a native American game and the United States never has lost an Olympic game in this sport.

Mayer explained that the IOC would continue to recognize 22 sports for the summer games. He said different sports would be dropped from each Olympiad however, to keep the number at 18.

"We don't want the Olympic Games to go on getting bigger and bigger," Mayer said. "We can't go on amplifying the games. If we had 40 sports, it would kill the Olympics."

The chancellor disclosed that the IOC recently rejected an application for recognition from the International Rugby Association. He pointed to the IOC rule which requires that a sport be "widely played" in at least 25 countries before it can be considered for the Olympic program.

Mayer said the International Rugby Association has only about 15 affiliated members.

He also revealed that the sites for the 1968 Olympic Games would be decided at the next IOC meeting at Nairobi.

Four Share Lead In Civitan Golf

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Sandra Haynie, a local favorite, and three other professional women golfers took a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $7,500 Austin Women's Civitan golf tournament.

Miss Haynie, 19, who went to high school in Austin but now lives in Fort Worth, shared the lead with a 69 total with Gloria Fecht of Los Angeles, Mickey Wright of Dallas and Jackie Pung of Daly City, Calif.

Their five-under-par scores put the foursome ahead of a second place Marilyn Smith of Tequesta, Fla., who finished the first round over the wind-swept course with a 71.

Four other women broke the par 74 at the Austin Country Club, including Bettye Danoff of Dallas who had a hole-in-one on the 135-yard 12th hole with a six-iron shot. It was the first of her career.

Miss Danoff and Kathy Cornelius of Scottsdale, Ariz., had 73s, one stroke behind the opening rounds of Judy Kimball of Sioux City, Iowa, and Sherry Wheeler of Glasgow, Ky.

Veteran Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex. and Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., two of the tourney favorites, finished with one-over-par 75s.

SIGNS FOR BONUS
NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI)—Jim Wakeling, Rutgers University first baseman the past three years, has signed with the Cincinnati Reds for a sizeable bonus. Wakeling will report to the Reds' Class D Geneva team of the New York-Pennsylvania League.

El Paso, Albuquerque Help Boost Attendance Figures

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)

The Texas League's two new cities — El Paso and Albuquerque — have been a shot in the arm for the storied circuit's attendance totals.

Attendance was up 67,578 fans as of May 31 compared with a year ago. Using those two cities' 1962 figures in comparison with the gate at Ardmore and Victoria in 1961 for the same number of games, the league had drawn 192,725 to 125,947 for the first 136 games of 1961.

Tulsa led the loop in average attendance with 2,099 fans per game, compared with 1,894 at Albuquerque, 1,917 at El Paso, 1,413 at San Antonio, 676 at Amarillo and 560 at Austin. The league's average was 1,417 as compared with 519 a year ago.

Tulsa had drawn 46,180 for 22 games, a gain of 16,246; El Paso 46,028 for 24 games, a gain of 31,274 over Victoria's 1961 figures; Albuquerque 43, 298 for 24 games, a gain of 27,361 over Ardmore; San Antonio 29,680 for 21 games, a gain of 5,117; Austin 14,019 for 25 games, a loss of 5,274, and Amarillo 13,520 for 20 games, a loss of 7,046.

Indianapolis Boosts Lead In American Association

By United Press International
Indianapolis boosted its American Association lead to two games with a 3-1 win over Oklahoma City Thursday night. Runnerup Omaha lost ground on a 2-0 loss to Louisville.

Dallas-Fort Worth's game at Denver was rained out.

Gary Peters allowed one run in the first inning and hurled shut out ball the rest of the way for the Indians, striking out nine Oklahoma City batters. Ramon Conde's two-run double was the who gave Jerry Nelson the loss, big hit for the league leaders.

Jim Mahoney provided all the plate power Louisville needed to stop Omaha. He drove in both runs with a double and homer while Connie Grob was holding the Dodgers' mound ace with eight wins, took his third loss.

Omaha manager Danny Ozark will be calling the shots for one club in the American Association all-star game July 17, but he doesn't know if it will be for his Dodgers.

If the Omahans, now two games behind Indianapolis, are leading the league July 5, Ozark and his charges will take on the Association all-stars, composed of players from the other five clubs. If Omaha is not atop the loop standings, Ozark will have to work anyway.

As the sole survivor among last year's association managers, Ozark will inherit the job of managing the all-stars.

Should the Dodgers overtake Indianapolis and host the game, the manager of the second-place team will handle the all-stars. In action today, Indianapolis plays host to Oklahoma City, Dallas-Fort Worth is at Denver and Louisville at Omaha.
