SP Affected Within State

By The Associated Press
Texas operations of Southern Pacific Railroad began stopping today as members of the United Transportation Union went on strike.

"We have several trains finishing up, but none is leaving," a spokesman for Southern Pacific said.

State points affected by the strike, the spokesman said, included Orange, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Del Rio, Sanderson and El Paso.

The walkout coincided with work stoppages in Maryland and Indiana. The union represents firemen, brakemen, conductors and switchmen.

In Houston, a major city in Southern Pacific operations, union members picketed the Southern Pacific station, office building, general shops, yards and freight station.

A public relations director for the railroad said the strike shut down freight operations and the railroad's only passenger trains, the Sunset, between New Orleans and Los Angeles.

The eastbound Sunset, due in Houston about noon, was caught by the strike in San Antonio. The westbound Sunset was stopped in El Paso.

Railroad officials said 400 union members walked off their jobs in San Antonio as part of the national strike.

Leroy Borchers, Southern Pacific yardmaster in San Antonio, said the railroad would put stranded passengers in hotels or transport them by bus to their destinations.

IN GENERAL LULL

Communists Pull Out Of Ancient Cambodian Capital

PHNOM PENH (AP) — Communist troops have pulled out of at least part of the ancient ruins at Angkor, with the ruins not damaged by more than a month of occupation, authoritative sources reported today.

It was not known whether the Viet Cong, North Vietnamese and Khmer Rouge troops had withdrawn from the entire 50-square-mile Angkor area or only from Angkor Wat, the best preserved and most famous of the 800-year-old ruins 155 miles northwest of Phnom Penh. But reports from Siem Reap, six miles south of Angkor Wat, said Cambodian Army patrols found the enemy gone from the main area at Angkor Wat.

A general lull continued in other Cambodian battle areas as well as in South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese gunships attacked enemy positions around Kompong Thom, on the main highway between Phnom Penh and Siem Reap, and enemy mortars hit Kompong Sepu, another provincial capital south of Phnom Penh, during the night.

HELICOPTER SHOT DOWN

South Vietnamese forces near Svay Rieng, in the southern area of the Parrot's Beak, were also hit by mortars, a communique in Saigon said, but fighting generally tapered off in the Cambodian countryside.

The U.S. Command in Saigon reported two Americans killed when a gunship helicopter was shot down 16 miles southeast of Hue and 36 Americans wounded in ground fighting and shelling. Troops of the 101st Airborne Division clashed four times with North Vietnamese in the northern provinces of South Vietnam and reported they killed at least 15 of the enemy. Another 16 enemy were reported killed in other fighting.

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers left Saigon for Tokyo, ending a three-day stay with the assessment that the level of fighting has been reduced and that U.S. casualties last week to be announced Thursday, will be "much lower" than in previous weeks. A U.S. spokesman said later that the figures will not be a record low.

SEES PROGRESS

Another visitor, U.S. Army Secretary Stanley Resor, also left Saigon and said he had found the Vietnamization program has made "substantial progress to date."

Resor said the operations of South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia had boosted their morale and confidence. But he added operations in Cambodia "will not be conducted in such a way as to restrict the Vietnamization program." He explained that if Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, finds that South Vietnamese operations outside Vietnam are delaying Vietnamization, Abrams will arrange with the Vietnamese command to limit such operations.

Communists moved into the vast Angkor complex early in June, set up supply dumps and fortified some of the ruins with mortars and antiaircraft guns.

The Cambodian government, worried for the country's greatest shrine and its major tourist money maker, declared Angkor an "open city" and said its forces would do nothing that might endanger the relics of former Khmer glory.

Fire-Bomber Disorders Inflict Heavy Damage

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP) — Fire-bombers and looters ravaged a predominantly Negro district of this seashore city for a second night Monday and police estimated damage at up to $1 million.

Officials said they did not know the cause of the disorders. Police reported about 65 arrests and hospitals counted more than 40 injured, mostly by flying glass or hurled objects.

ESCAPEE TRIO STILL AT LARGE

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Three of the nine prisoners who overpowered a jailer and fled the McLennan County jail Sunday night, remain at large.

Still uncaptured Tuesday were Joe Louis Drake, 35, sentenced to two years in prison for theft under $50, and Sammy Davis Jr. and Clennon Loud, both sentenced to life imprisonment as habitual criminals.

Four of the escapees were caught in or near Waco and a fifth, Oscar Turner, 27, was captured hiding under a bed in a Temple residence. Turner was sentenced to life for the murder of two persons in Hill County.

Highway patrolman Hollis Riggs captured Hugh Showers, 40, and Marvin Vaughn near Interstate 35 north of Waco before dawn Monday after shooting Showers in the leg.

Vaughn was serving 45 years for armed robbery and Showers had been sentenced to life in prison on a burglary charge.

Floyd Matthews and Bailey Jones, 25, were both arrested at residences in east Waco. Matthews had been reported captured in the West Texas town of Cisco, but the person in custody turned out to be a California man.

Johnny Lee Robinson surrendered at the county jail Monday morning.

At least 10 buildings were destroyed.

Police sealed off a 21-block area as up to 1,000 young Negroes roamed the streets.

Police Chief Thomas S. Smith, a Negro who grew up in the area, was at a loss to explain what triggered the outbreak.

"There are so many things that could have caused this," he said. "Kids are hollering that they can't get jobs and there's no recreation."

Smith said there were some minor incidents during the July Fourth weekend, when the city's normal 22,000 population exploded with summer visitors. Then came a rampage of looting and rock throwing late Sunday night.

Negroes form about 40 percent of the permanent population here.

TEXAS SWELTERS IN SUMMER HEAT

By The Associated Press
Texas roasted under a scorching sun Monday, with temperatures soaring as high as 106 degrees at Childress in the Red River Valley.

Although a few thunderstorms and widely scattered showers traipsed through the Texas Panhandle and into parts of extreme North Texas during the night and early this morning, there was no appreciable cooling. Forecasts held out prospects only for more midsummer heat and further drying of already thirsty expanses across the state.

The occasional thunderstorms Monday night rumbled through an area embracing Dalhart, Amarillo, Lubbock and Childress, moving eastward into Oklahoma.

Showers before dawn teased areas around Vernon, Wichita Falls, Sherman and Denton. Skies were mostly clear in other sections of the state.

Besides the high of 106 at Childress, top marks Monday afternoon included Abilene and Del Rio 103, Cotulla, Junction, Lubbock and San Angelo 102, Mineral Wells 101 and Amarillo, Midland and Wichita Falls 100.

Truck Pact Is 'Inflationary'

CHICAGO (AP) — Representatives of the nation's trucking industry have adopted a revised contract with the Teamsters Union and reiterated their view that the wage increases it provides are inflationary.

James K. Seymour, president of Trucking Employers Inc., the industry's bargaining agency, said the settlement was adopted Monday by a vote of the 89-member TEI Policy Committee. Although the vote was not unanimous, he said, it was "obviously weighted toward acceptance."

The agreement reached early Friday ended an 85-day strike and lockout in Chicago area trucking and also scrapped wage provisions in a national trucking contract originally ratified in May.

The revised national contract providing $1.85 an hour in wage increases over 39 months, is subject to ratification by the Teamsters rank and file. Acceptance seemed assured, however. The earlier contract called for wage hikes of $1.10 an hour over 39 months.

Seymour again called the new increases "highly inflationary" and he added that they "will have an immediate effect on the economy."

Only 8,000 In Walkout

By The Associated Press
The United Transportation Union struck three of the nation's railroads today over a long-standing dispute about the elimination of firemen's jobs.

Railroad workers were reported off the job in Maryland, Texas and Indiana.

W. H. Gilbert, assistant UTU president, said in Cleveland that about 8,000 of the 260,000 members of the union were affected by the strike against the Baltimore & Ohio, Louisville & Nashville and Southern Pacific railroads.

"This is just a simple failure of the railroads to bargain in good faith, to settle this issue which has been with us since 1965," Gilbert said.

Gilbert said that the railroads were notified on Nov. 15, 1965, of the union's intent to change the agreement affecting firemen, but that negotiations have not succeeded.

The railroads had no comment immediately on the union's accusations.

A spokesman for the B&O in Baltimore described the walkout of firemen, conductors and trainmen as "sporadic in many places."

He said early morning commuter trains between Baltimore and Washington completed their runs but have not been in operation since 8 a.m. About 5,000 B&O workers could be affected by the strike, he said.

In Garrett, Ind., about 300 B&O trainmen, conductors and firemen were reported on strike.

A walkout of Southern Pacific switchmen reportedly halted operations in the railroad yards at San Antonio, Tex.

J. J. Kelley, a UTU vice president in Baltimore, said the strike would continue until a settlement is reached on restoring the firemen's jobs.

House Panel Says Aid Is Essential

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 12-man House study team says the non-Communist nations of Southeast Asia are ill prepared psychologically or economically to set up a mutual defense pact and continued U.S. aid is essential to their survival.

The report was issued Monday following a two-week on-the-spot study in which two members reported finding 400 political prisoners and criminals crammed in small cages in a South Vietnamese prison on Con Son Island.

Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., said the trip convinced him the U.S. should pull its troops out of Indochina, cut off military aid and let the North and South Vietnamese set up a coalition government that would not be dominated by Communists.

"United States policy based on using these nations as our front line against the threat of Red China seeks military victory instead of a peaceful settlement," Hawkins charged.

Hawkins said the jail situation reflected South Vietnamese suppression of citizens who seek peace. He said U.S. authorities help cover up the treatment of prisoners.

Rep. William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., did not agree with that characterization.

"But I'll tell you this, if these people weren't Communists when they went in, they'll be Communists when they get out after the treatment they've received."

The 70-page report said Thailand is willing to add its combat troops to South Vietnam's in Cambodia with U.S. military aid. It added some Southeast Asian leaders have suggested a common strategy including military equipment grants, mutual combat training, and use of neighboring countries' forces to repel invasion.

"Before one becomes intrigued by the potentials for close and continued military association of the countries of Southeast Asia," the report continued, "it is well to recall that hostilities that run deep into history cannot easily be erased."

Moreover, it said, all but Thailand have a fragile political hold on their populations and lack the economic stability to support military operations.

The report added: —Thailand is willing to join a common strategy only with U.S. military aid. —Cambodia says it depends on U.S. air support. —The North Vietnamese could overrun Laos if U.S. aid is not continued.

—Indonesia says it cannot afford military aid to its neighbors.

Holiday Toll Reaches 540

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents during the Fourth of July weekend claimed 540 lives across the nation.

The final toll was well below the 611 counted a year ago, the highest for any three-day observance of the holiday.

The National Safety Council had estimated in advance that 560 to 660 persons might die in traffic over the weekend that began at 6 p.m. local time Thursday and ended at midnight Sunday.

We're Now $373 Billion In Hole

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's bookkeeper has etched the figure $373,000,000,000 in red ink to close out the government's book with the highest fiscal year-end debt in history.

The Treasury Department said Monday the $373 billion recorded on a preliminary basis last week at the end of the fiscal year represents a sizable jump over the $357 billion a year ago.

The sum is not the nation's deepest indebtedness. The government approached $377 billion last March 30 just before income tax payments prevented it from going over the legal debt ceiling.

President Nixon recently signed a bill providing the authority to raise the national debt to $395 billion.

Texas Labor Force Reaches New High

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' civilian labor force reached another new high in May but 154,000 of them were out of work, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

The TEC said the 3.2 per cent unemployment at mid-May was up from 2.9 in mid-April and "compares favorably with the experience of past years."

"However," the TEC report said, "not since May, 1963, has the current month's ratio of unemployment been ahead of that recorded for the corresponding month a year earlier."

The May, 1969, jobless rate was only 2.5 per cent. The 10,400 persons entering the nonagricultural civilian labor force was the smallest April-to-May gain since 1966.

Manufacturing employment was down 5,700 for the month, with most of the loss in durable goods industries.

Post Reward For Bomber

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A $10,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the person responsible for the bombing of the home of Akron Beacon Journal executive editor and publisher Ben Maidenburg has been offered by the newspaper.

Maidenburg's home was bombed Saturday night while the Maidenburgs were away on a July 4th holiday outing. No injuries were reported.

The newspaper called the bombing "cowardly terrorism" that "cannot be tolerated."

Maidenburg, who said he could think of no reason for the bombing, estimated damage to the home to be at least $10,000 and said his wife's car was turned into "$4,500 worth of tin."

The bomber pushed the pipe bomb through the windows of the garage of the tri-level house.

The blast lifted the ceiling of the garage and cracked a wall in the Maidenburgs' bedroom, directly above.

Akron police and the FBI were investigating the bombing.

Secret Visit To Riot-Torn Area Is Sharply Denounced

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Premier James Chichester-Clark of Northern Ireland today sharply denounced the clandestine visit to his tense province Monday by the Irish Republic's foreign minister.

"I am astounded," said Chichester-Clark, "that the foreign minister of any state should show such a lack of courtesy as to visit Northern Ireland without reference to me or to the Northern Ireland government—the more so in the present very serious situation."

"I cannot regard such a visit as helpful and I deplore it."

Foreign Minister Patrick Hillery, who also is Ireland's deputy premier, said he made his unannounced visit to the riot-torn Falls Road area of Belfast to "relax tension" among the Roman Catholics there.

A source close to the provincial government said the Irish government was "obviously trying to get United Nations intervention by making this into an international incident."

"This is a trespass by a foreigner into British territory and is against all political convention," the source added. But the British Foreign office said Hillery was playing too passive a role in the crisis between Northern Ireland's Catholics and Protestants. Lynch's government has pledged to reunify Ireland only through peaceful means.

as a symbolic assertion of the republic's claim to the six northern counties, which were split off from the 26 Catholic-dominated counties to the south 50 years ago.

The Rev. Ian Paisley, the militant Protestant evangelist, called the visit "an unwarranted interference in the internal affairs" of the British province.

Political observers felt the main reason for the trip was to counter criticism in the republic that Irish Prime Minister Jack Lynch was playing too passive a role in the crisis between Northern Ireland's Catholics and Protestants. Lynch's government has pledged to reunify Ireland only through peaceful means.

Resignation Staves Strike, But Italy Still Beleaguered

ROME (AP) — Premier Mariano Rumor's resignation staved off a one-day general strike today, but no end to Italy's latest political crisis was in sight.

Rumor's four-party Center-Left cabinet resigned Monday after the three major labor federations rejected his appeal to cancel the walkout they had scheduled to press for social reforms. Six hours after the premier handed his resignation to President Giuseppe Saragat, the unions suspended their strike plans.

Leftist political groups, including the left wing of his own Christian Democratic party, accused Rumor of playing into the hands of the rightists in an attempt to shift the orientation of the center-left coalition that has governed Italy for the past seven years.

The big Communist party said Rumor was hoping ultimately to dissolve Parliament "in a climate of alarm and amid a reactionary crusade." It said he was trying to propel a more conservative Parliament into power by capitalizing on public fear of disorders.

Beef Import Rule Imposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has put into effect new regulations requiring imported beef from Australia, New Zealand and Northern Ireland to be rejected unless accompanied by papers showing its origin.

Agriculture Department officials said Monday that no attempt was made at this time to take similar action against meat imports from other supplying nations, including a number in Latin America.

The transhipped meat from the three countries totaled about 23 million pounds during the first six months of this year, a department spokesman said.

For the remainder of 1970, the order said, no meat from Australia, New Zealand and Northern Ireland will be allowed into the United States except direct shipments and accompanied by bills of lading showing the original shipper.

'Crises in Nation' Theme Of Church School Meet

Members from the Lubbock District of the African Methodist Church convene in Big Spring today for a church school convention.

DEATHS

Diana Davis, 6, Wednesday Rites

Funeral services for Diana Davis, 6, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Macon-Douglas Funeral Home, Dallas.

The daughter of S. Sgt. and Mrs. James M. Davis, formerly stationed at Webb AFB, she drowned Saturday in Florida during a picnic for her father who had received orders for Vietnam.

Burial will be in Laurel Land Cemetery.

She was born Dec. 16, 1963, at Webb. Her father was stationed here from 1962 to 1966. Her mother is the former Linda Walker of Bee County.

Survivors include her parents; one brother, Mathew, and a sister, Ruth Marie, of the home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Davis, Dallas; and maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Walker, Luther.

Simshaw Infant, Graveside Rites

Graveside services for the infant son of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Phil Simshaw, Webb AFB, were held at 9 a.m. today in Trinity Memorial Park.

The infant died shortly after birth Monday. The Rev. Fred Ketterer, chaplain at Webb, officiated. Burial was under direction of Nalley-Pickie Funeral Home.

Survivors include the parents; one brother, Lyle Simshaw of the home; and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Simshaw Sr., Alexander, N.D.

The two Socialist parties in Rumor's coalition split in their reaction. The PSU, or moderate Socialists, called Rumor's decision "correct and responsible."

But Vice Premier Francesco De Martino, head of the PSI, or leftist Socialists, said the resignation was a "political error."

A long-simmering feud between the moderate and left-wing Socialist parties is at the root of the current crisis. Disputes between the two over such issues as how closely to cooperate with the Communists have led to the fall of the past two governments.

New Public Works Director Is Employed By The City

City commissioners approved employment of a new director of public works in a special meeting today, and passed to the next phase for Intech annexation proceedings.

Don Womack, speaking for the Industrial Foundation, outlined the annexation proposal, by which the city would undertake police and fire protection, sewer service, water supply and other normal governmental services for the Intech site.

Womack added that the extension and paving of Lorilla Street along the edge of the five-acre site would be completed as planned under existing city pavement programs.

The Industrial Foundation, working with county road teams, will undertake the paved extension of West Seventh with curbs and gutters to city specifications.

Intech plans to use the site for a factory producing plastic egg and meat cartons. The initial employment will be in the 45 to 50 man range, Womack indicated. He added that within two years, it is possible that Intech will expand production to include building materials, and could double the work force.

In accord with the recommendation of City Manager Larry Crow, city commissioners approved the hiring of Maj.

Nolan Chafin as director of public works.

Chafin, 48, is to retire from the Air Force at the end of July, and should be able to assume the post here by mid-August. He is a Texas A&M graduate, with a master's degree in engineering management from the University of Houston.

Chafin, who has served as base engineer at Randolph AFB in San Antonio and at other bases, is registered as a professional engineer in Texas, thus satisfying one of the major criteria for the public works job.

Commissioner Eddie Acric asked for clarification on the landfill lease contract undertaken with Lee Cotton. The contract was authorized by the commission earlier, but Cotton failed to sign the necessary contract on time. Another contract was signed for a lease at another location, where preparation of the landfill is already under way.

City Attorney Herb Prouty pointed out that neither of these contracts can be cleared up until the commission acts again on the matter.

The Foremost bid included a $125 installment fee, but it was decided that county workmen could do the installment work.

Foremost had come close to being faulted for not having their bid in by the opening time, 10 a.m., June 2. After discovering that the company had mailed their bid the preceding Friday, commissioners decided that it should not be faulted because of a slow-down in the mails.

Mrs. Nichols was instructed to obtain further brochures and samples from the company, and commissioners resumed their board duties.

Other bids were $5,448.50 by Joe Toombs with a $50 deductible if installation is not done by Toombs workmen, and $6,486.39 minus a $251.50 installment fee by Royal Seating. Although these bids were lower than that of Foremost, it was decided after close examination that the other bids did not meet specifications set by county commissioners.

Boards of Equalization for the various taxing agencies heard eight complaints from taxpayers this morning. Fifteen complainants had registered to present their cases to the boards. Board sessions began at 9 a.m. today and will continue through the afternoon and Wednesday and Thursday.

County Commissioners serving as the equalization board for county, state and junior college tax assessments heard approximately five cases today. One of these cases concerned the evaluation on property owned by Grady C. Beck, 1201 Settles.

Beck's property on Settles was purchased for approximately $3,000, but its tax value had been assessed at $9,400. After hearing statements from Beck on the condition of the property, and Earl Dean, evaluator, commissioners reduced the assessment to $8,000 at 100 per cent evaluation.

Other complainants were heard by the joint board for the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District.

Nine of the complaints filed concerned private property evaluations, two mobile home evaluations and two commercial property evaluations. Seven of the complainants had questions which were answered by representatives of Dean Evaluation and were not presented to either of the boards.

The county equalization board is meeting in the county commissioners courtroom and the joint city and school equalization board is meeting in the office adjacent to the courtroom.

The new Charter Action Committee, meeting for the first time last night, selected officers and began mapping their study of charter revisions.

All but three of the 20 members were able to attend. R. H. Weaver was moved up from temporary to permanent chairman and John Taylor was chosen vice chairman and secretary.

George Zachariah, speaking for city commissioners, charged the committee with responsibility for seeing if any changes in the charter are needed. He said the committee was empowered to write the necessary amendments or revisions to be voted on by the electorate.

The charter was written in 1926, and amended once in 1951. A previous Charter Action Committee disbanded in 1965 without recommending any changes.

John Burgess, then city attorney, prepared a memorandum in 1965 pointing out areas of the charter that failed to conform to Texas statutory law.

Burgess pointed out last night that two legislatures have convened in Austin since his study was made, so that an updated study will be needed.

The charter committee agreed to adjourn until 7:30 p.m.

Democrats Monday night discussed a possible request for consolidation of several rural polling boxes to reduce election costs, but no definite action was taken.

Meeting in a special meeting in the county courtroom, the Democrats heard a financial report, and Frank Parker took over party chairmanship duties from C. V. Riordan.

"In my opinion the reduction in boxes could be handled so those involved would not have to drive more than six or eight miles out of their way," Riordan told the group as they discussed consolidating rural boxes.

Any action would have to come from county commissioners, Riordan said, and even the commissioners could not cross precinct lines to consolidate polls. Boxes would have to be consolidated within the precincts.

"We could save about $300 per year by reducing the number of polls by five," Riordan said. Cost of conducting the two Democratic primaries in May and June was $3,849.24, Riordan said.

By law the polling place must be manned by one election judge, one clerk and one alternate judge. Election judges are paid $17.50 per day, and the other two get $12.50 each.

"No matter how few persons vote, keeping a poll open costs at least $42.50," Riordan said. Cost of the election kits is extra.

Financial reports on the recent primaries showed candi-

Commissioners Accept Bid On Furniture

County commissioners took time out from their board of equalization duties this morning to accept a bid on the library furniture. Based on recommendations from Mrs. Edna Nichols, librarian, commissioners accepted the $87,800 bid from Foremost Furniture Co., Temple.

"Their bid comes the closest to meeting our specifications," said County Judge Lee Porter. Commissioner Ray Nichols moved that the commissioners accept the bid.

The Foremost bid included a $125 installment fee, but it was decided that county workmen could do the installment work.

Foremost had come close to being faulted for not having their bid in by the opening time, 10 a.m., June 2. After discovering that the company had mailed their bid the preceding Friday, commissioners decided that it should not be faulted because of a slow-down in the mails.

Mrs. Nichols was instructed to obtain further brochures and samples from the company, and commissioners resumed their board duties.

Other bids were $5,448.50 by Joe Toombs with a $50 deductible if installation is not done by Toombs workmen, and $6,486.39 minus a $251.50 installment fee by Royal Seating. Although these bids were lower than that of Foremost, it was decided after close examination that the other bids did not meet specifications set by county commissioners.

Boards of Equalization for the various taxing agencies heard eight complaints from taxpayers this morning. Fifteen complainants had registered to present their cases to the boards. Board sessions began at 9 a.m. today and will continue through the afternoon and Wednesday and Thursday.

County Commissioners serving as the equalization board for county, state and junior college tax assessments heard approximately five cases today. One of these cases concerned the evaluation on property owned by Grady C. Beck, 1201 Settles.

Beck's property on Settles was purchased for approximately $3,000, but its tax value had been assessed at $9,400. After hearing statements from Beck on the condition of the property, and Earl Dean, evaluator, commissioners reduced the assessment to $8,000 at 100 per cent evaluation.

Other complainants were heard by the joint board for the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District.

Nine of the complaints filed concerned private property evaluations, two mobile home evaluations and two commercial property evaluations. Seven of the complainants had questions which were answered by representatives of Dean Evaluation and were not presented to either of the boards.

The county equalization board is meeting in the county commissioners courtroom and the joint city and school equalization board is meeting in the office adjacent to the courtroom.

The new Charter Action Committee, meeting for the first time last night, selected officers and began mapping their study of charter revisions.

All but three of the 20 members were able to attend. R. H. Weaver was moved up from temporary to permanent chairman and John Taylor was chosen vice chairman and secretary.

George Zachariah, speaking for city commissioners, charged the committee with responsibility for seeing if any changes in the charter are needed. He said the committee was empowered to write the necessary amendments or revisions to be voted on by the electorate.

The charter was written in 1926, and amended once in 1951. A previous Charter Action Committee disbanded in 1965 without recommending any changes.

John Burgess, then city attorney, prepared a memorandum in 1965 pointing out areas of the charter that failed to conform to Texas statutory law.

Burgess pointed out last night that two legislatures have convened in Austin since his study was made, so that an updated study will be needed.

The charter committee agreed to adjourn until 7:30 p.m.

Democrats Discuss Poll Consolidation

Democrats Monday night discussed a possible request for consolidation of several rural polling boxes to reduce election costs, but no definite action was taken.

Meeting in a special meeting in the county courtroom, the Democrats heard a financial report, and Frank Parker took over party chairmanship duties from C. V. Riordan.

"In my opinion the reduction in boxes could be handled so those involved would not have to drive more than six or eight miles out of their way," Riordan told the group as they discussed consolidating rural boxes.

Any action would have to come from county commissioners, Riordan said, and even the commissioners could not cross precinct lines to consolidate polls. Boxes would have to be consolidated within the precincts.

"We could save about $300 per year by reducing the number of polls by five," Riordan said. Cost of conducting the two Democratic primaries in May and June was $3,849.24, Riordan said.

By law the polling place must be manned by one election judge, one clerk and one alternate judge. Election judges are paid $17.50 per day, and the other two get $12.50 each.

"No matter how few persons vote, keeping a poll open costs at least $42.50," Riordan said. Cost of the election kits is extra.

Charter Revision Task Begins Again

Two Injured In 3-Vehicle Crash

A three-vehicle accident Saturday night left two persons injured and a car and pickup demolished on the north access road of IS 20 at Sand Springs.

Santos T. Mendez, 22, Coahoma, and Doyle D. Edmondson, 24, Coahoma, were taken by Alert Ambulance to Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. Mendez was treated and released, and Edmondson was reported in good condition this morning.

The accident involved cars driven by Mendez and W. L. West and a pickup driven by S. R. (Dick) Read, Big Spring. The West car was traveling east on the service road and the Mendez car was traveling west at the time of the collision. The Read pickup was stopped in the middle of the service road, headed west, as Read waited to make a left turn.

The Mendez car ricocheted off the West car into the pickup causing the pickup to turn over. Both Read and West were only shaken. Highway patrol investigated the mishap.

Madelyn Asks To Present 'Religious Instruction'

AUSTIN (AP) — Atheist Madelyn Murray O'Hair's "Poor Richard's Universal Life Church" has asked permission to present "Bible and religious" instruction for high school credit.

The church's pastor and president, Richard F. O'Hair, made the request in a letter to the Austin Independent School District.

A district spokesman said courses in religion are taught in churches for school credit.

"Please send us all the information available on this plan. We desire to become a part of it," O'Hair's letter said.

A woman psychiatrist will teach the course in her home, Mrs. O'Hair said. She said the woman did not want her name revealed.

"We know as well as they do that it is unconstitutional," she said. "This is a way they have gotten religion to creep back into the schools."

She said a suit might be filed eventually challenging the constitutionality of public school Bible credit courses.

O'Hair noted in his letter that the U.S. Supreme Court held recently that a belief in God is not required for a person to be exempted from the military draft as a conscientious objector. Selective Service, however, interpreted the decision as requiring a background of training and reading as a foundation for one's opposition to war.

"We will be focusing on the teaching of young men desirous of meeting draft board requirements. Young women will also be accepted into the classes," O'Hair's letter said.

Mrs. O'Hair's son was the plaintiff in a suit that resulted in the Supreme Court's 1963 decision against compulsory religious exercises in public schools.

dates will get a refund. Candidate assessments ran to $4,256.50, leaving a balance of $407.26 after expenses were paid. Parker, as new chairman, will handle distribution of refunds.

Also discussed were ways to raise party-interest for the November general election, organization of a Howard County Democratic Women's Club, and meetings and activities for youth.

N. Vietnamese Won't Talk To POW Relatives

PARIS (AP) — The North Vietnamese delegation refused today to open the door to the wives and children of two U.S. airmen believed held prisoner in North Vietnam. A man who appeared at an opening in the door said "everyone is on vacation."

This was the latest setback for Mrs. James J. Connell and Mrs. Michael J. Estocin of La Jolla, Calif., who have been in Paris 10 days seeking information about their husbands. Neither of the men have been heard from, although the U.S. State Department believes that both are prisoners.

Letters have gone unacknowledged, and last Friday when Mrs. Connell and Mrs. Estocin tried to telephone the North Vietnamese hung up the phone. They went to the delegation Monday and talked with a man at the door for about 20 minutes, but got no information.

This morning they went with their children, aged 6 to 11, James and Ruth Connell and Susan, Jane and Katherine Estocin. But a rebuff was their only answer.

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A policeman escaped an apparent attempt by a car to run him down Monday, the second such incident in a week.

Patrolman Leonard Paccione reported that as he and another officer held a prisoner for the arrival of a paddy wagon, he heard the screech of auto tires and turned to see a car heading toward him.

Paccione jumped aside as the vehicle brushed his leg. A youth 17, was arrested two blocks away after Paccione and another patrolman gave chase.

A 20-year-old youth was arrested a week ago after an attempt to run over a policeman with a stolen car.

Pope Calls For World Prayers

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says the state of the world calls for prayer.

Addressing a crowd gathered in St. Peter's Square for his Sunday noon blessing, the pontiff said:

"How can we close our eyes and not care about what is happening in the world, what is happening in our society, on the necessary balance for the progress of peace?"

"Serious threats are interwoven with good hopes. Perhaps God allows that these tensions may take place to make us more conscious, good and strong and to call us to perform our first duty, the duty of praying."

"We will be focusing on the teaching of young men desirous of meeting draft board requirements. Young women will also be accepted into the classes," O'Hair's letter said.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits. (Psalm 103:2)

PRAYER: Our Father, teach us to be grateful for the loving concern of our fellowmen. Most of all help us to be grateful to Thee for Thy daily outpouring of faith, hope, and love toward us. Amen.

Prisoner-Of-War Issue

Big Springers, even those who are not now members of the Air Force Association, would do well to register as delegates to the forthcoming state convention of the AFA to be held in Big Spring.

They will find some interesting personalities here, and hear an exploration of one of the tragedies of our time — the prisoner-of-war issue as regards North Vietnam.

Murphy Martin, a Dallas man now associated with the humanitarian, H. Ross Perot, and who is fully knowledgeable in this issue, will be a speaker. He is to be accompanied here by wives of war prisoners who have suffered anguish, anxiety and sorrow beyond what most of us should be asked to endure.

Apparently only world opinion will bring the Hanoi government to any decision on releasing names and conditions of prisoners, or of even admitting that they are held. Perot, Martin and many others have labored to create an opinion that might work when all the international rules of war and Red Cross conventions have failed.

An expression of opinion at the AFA convention here could be a strong contribution. Those who attend the sessions would have an opportunity to learn more of this blot on world humanity, and might want to help erase it.

Name Another Commission

The presidential commission game is an appealing device, much used by President Johnson and apparently of late coming to be favored by President Nixon.

The game consists of identifying a problem, then naming a group of prominent citizens of both parties, with good regional representation, to study the problem and recommend a solution. President Johnson's commissions were appointed in record numbers. But, being human, he tended to emphasize the reports with which he agreed and to ignore or play down the reports he found distasteful.

President Nixon has appointed members of commissions to study future population growth, school finances, foreign trade policy and the structure of financial institutions. He has announced the creation of other commissions, but has not yet gotten around to naming the members.

Cynics have always maintained that the appointment of a study committee or commission was merely a convenient device for sweeping a problem under the rug. True believers have always replied that the accusation was both false and unfair.

But the problem of committees and commissions has always been one of numbers. Years ago Columbia University studied the problem of large committees vs. small committees. It found that small committees are easier to get together and easier to handle, don't talk as much and produce a higher percentage of bright ideas. But the large committee brought in more ideas — not all of them necessarily bright — but only about 62 per cent more ideas than a small committee.

The conclusion (ours, not Columbia University's) is that there is no committee as efficient as no committee.

Marquis Childs Scientists Oppose Missile System

WASHINGTON — The first casualty of war, truth is also a casualty of the fierce struggle over the next round in the nuclear arms race. This was dramatically demonstrated before the Senate subcommittee on arms control in a series of exchanges that almost entirely escaped notice.

The chief propagandist for the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile program of the Nixon Administration, John S. Foster Jr., Pentagon Director for Research and Engineering, appeared before the committee early last month. Making his case for Phase II of Safeguard, Foster said he had called together a panel of six distinguished scientists. He asked them to put aside their political convictions and pass on the feasibility of the missile.

"NOW THERE was considerable concern about this move," Foster testified, "but, as a matter of fact, the report was sent to the Secretary of Defense and what it said was that this equipment would do the jobs that the Department of Defense wants to do."

The other day the committee called two of the scientists who served on that panel, Marvin L. Goldberger of Princeton University and Sidney D. Drell, Deputy Director of the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center. Both had served on the President's Advisory Commission on Science, Goldberger as a member of the military uses panel, which is as close as anyone can get to the complexities of nuclear-electronic weaponry.

missile bases in Montana and North Dakota, and on Phase II extending the system to three or four other centers. It is unworkable as a defense system, they testified.

THE ADVOCATES of ABM presented before Congressional committees by the Defense Department almost to a man avoided talking about the actual system, even though they were in closed session. Goldberger said:

"The most charitable interpretation one can put on this remarkable fact is that they could not, as men of scientific integrity, defend the system that was being proposed. They concentrated instead on the Soviet threat, the intransigence of the Chinese, national determination, the virtues of defensive weapons as extolled by Mr. Kossygin (the Soviet Premier), etc., but never, never on the relation of Safeguard performance to the actual or projected threat."

THE SENATE will begin debate later this month on money for Safeguard. The vote will be a test of this newest round in the arms race promising to cost billions upon billions of dollars.

The testimony of Drs. Goldberger and Drell goes into a scientific realm that often leaves the layman far behind. Nothing could better illustrate the bewildering complexity of these so-called weapons which, once deployed, take out of human control the choices of response. Their computerized operation is infinitely faster than the human mind, the eye, the hand.

Billy Graham

Some people seem to have only heartaches and problems in their lives. Why? D.G.

There is a spiritual law which we cannot escape: there can be no crown unless first there is a cross. No victory can come to those who experience no conflict.

True, it seems that some suffer more than others. But God knows our capacity, and will "not allow us to be tempted above that we are able to bear."

No one escapes problems, pain and suffering. We all have it in one form or another. It is in the furnace of affliction that strong souls are forged — and the hotter the fire the harder the steel. But in all life's unpleasant experiences, we have the knowledge as did the Hebrew children, that another "like unto the Son of God" is in the furnace with us. And God has added for our encouragement "If we suffer with Him we shall also reign with Him." That is comfort enough for most of us.

PUT IN simplest terms — probably oversimplified — the scientists' case against Safeguard ABM is as follows: The controlling device is a giant radar, a great brain, that responds to a series of warning impulses by sending defensive missiles into the air to knock down incoming offensive missiles. The scientists contend, one, that the giant brain is altogether too vulnerable to attack and without it Safeguard is a zombie. Second, they contend that there is no proof whatsoever — quite on the contrary — that the defensive missiles will function when the heavens are exploding with incoming nuclear flack designed to thwart them.

Language Change

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Government policy is that the two official languages, English and Afrikaans, are equal and must be used equally. Among the latest targets for bilingualism is whisky, but long standing Afrikaans dislike for British imperialism seems to have taken a hand. Queen Anne whisky is now labelled "Tant Anna," or Aunt Anna. If other distillers follow the bilingual line, Johnny Walker may become Jan Looper, Teachers may become Onderwysers and Highland Cream may become Hoeveld Tannie.

More Shareholders In The Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest stock market census shows a surprising jump in individual shareholders to 30,085,000 in 1970 from 20.1 million in 1960 and only 6.5 million in 1952. People's capitalism spreads.

One in every six Americans is now a shareholder. They have growing capital resources, and they are investing them.

The picture that could be drawn from the statistics gathered in the census by the New York Stock Exchange is that of a prosperous, middle class America flexing its muscle and reaping the rewards of prosperity.

Never in American history, it would seem, has participation in the economy been greater. But seldom in recent years, judging from the consumer polls, has sentiment been more apprehensive about the immediate economic future.

The development that really brings doubts about the viability of people's capitalism, however, is the relative strength of this growing corps of individual investors compared with the might of institutions.

The census figures indicate that individual investors own 64.1 per cent of all stock in American corporations, or a total of nearly $683 billion, and that "non-individuals" own 34.3 per cent or $365 billion.

The non-individuals include pension funds, broker accounts, banks, insurance companies, foundations, hedge funds and such. And while their dollar holdings may not have risen faster than those of individuals, their market power has.

How? Mainly because of their concentrated wealth and the use they have made of it. Many of them have become traders, and when an institution trades it does so with millions upon millions of dollars.

The little guy—and the census shows he isn't so little these days, having a family income between $12,000 and $15,000 a year—is not a trader. He generally buys for the long term. He is more investor than speculator.

The non-individuals have become his opposite in habits. Some now turn over their portfolios 100 per cent in a year. Some buy and eliminate the same stocks several times in a short period. They have become in-out traders.

The power of the individual, it appears, is much less than would appear from a cursory reading of the census. He is growing in numbers, but is he growing in power? Is he a fair match for the pros?

That question is one that will assume growing prominence among the many issues before the exchanges, and is now the subject of a federal study whose findings originally were scheduled for release in September, before a delay was announced.

Monster Behind The Wheel

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Put an inveterate pedestrian behind the wheel and he becomes a bigger monster than an ordinary driver.

A woman may be flattered if you bring her a single red rose — once. But if you do it a second or third time, she'll start thinking of you as just another cheapskate.

You can bet a book is dull as well as dirty if it is advertised as being of "special interest to doctors, ministers, other professional men and serious students of morality."

It is a sign of maturity in you when you realize that some problems will probably never be solved in your lifetime—such as, no matter how often you switch laundries, there is always someone working in them who is determined to put starch in your shirt collars.

About the only thing a middle-aged man can learn after midnight anymore is that anything he learns about midnight isn't worth staying up that late to learn.

A summer bachelor always dreams of having a fling while his family's away in the country. The cold reality is that the only person he finds available for company on his rounds of the town is—another summer bachelor.

It isn't much fun to play golf with a guy who thinks he's had a successful day if he reaches the last hole with more balls in his bag than when he started.

It is possible to feel sorry for a woman who marries for money and finds it a bitter bargain; when a man marries for money and later regrets it, he meets only with universal contempt. No one has any sympathy or respect for him—not even his mother.

An old-timer is a fellow who can recall when practically everybody in the neighborhood called both the postman and the cop on the beat by their first names.

The meanest revenge a woman can take on a man is to break into tears while they are having an argument in a restaurant. She knows that everyone in the place will automatically assume that she is one of nature's noblewomen and he a heartless brute.

We live in a civilization in which most of the people are standing in line to get things that aren't worth standing in line for.

Around The Rim

Better Second Time Around

One of my pack-rat pals couldn't have delighted me more.

In the midst of moving, she knew something had to go — but not on the van with the remainder of her possessions.

Arms laden, she approached my desk.

"YOU'RE THE ONLY friend I know who would appreciate these," said she, dumping armful of magazines on my already cluttered desk.

They were copies of Reader's Digest, circa 1939 - 1943. They are proving more enjoyable the second time around.

The magazines mirror World War II. If there is ever a lighter side to war, and there must be, it is reflected in excerpts from an article entitled "Wartime Newsreel."

AT OKLAHOMA Baptist University, complications are avoided by posting in the girls' dormitory a list, kept up-to-date, of all married cadets at the nearby army flying school.

At a Seattle hotel these days you make your own bed. A sign says: "Maid's Year Out."

Indians of the Rocky Boy Reservation in Montana get to town Saturdays in spite of gas rationing. One car, loaded to the fog lights, pushes a second crowded jalopy 23 miles to town. After a big day, the second car pushed the first one home.

IN HONOLULU, Judge Franklin devised a special fine for black violators: $25 and a pint of blood. The physically unfit pay an extra $25, to buy blood.

A Harlem butcher despairingly posted a sign: "Leg o' Nuttin'."

AT OMAR KHAYYAM'S restaurant in San Francisco, patrons who dutifully eat everything on their plates get 10 per cent of their checks back in war stamps.

Draw-your-own-conclusions-department: United States food rationing values — brains, three points; tongue, six points.

"You, too, can help the war effort," proclaims a national woman's magazine. "Don't order girdles by telephone!"

THE ULTIMATE: A new balloon globe of the world for street corner strategists has the war areas outlined on a scale of an inch to 800 miles. The balloon can be inflated with three or four deep breaths. Completing your study or discussion for the moment, you let the air out and return the world to your pocket.

ON A TOUR THROUGH the Jersey City Quartermaster Depot, newspaper reporters learned that the army had bought 229,500 pairs of transparent dice to be sold at post exchanges as a "comfort" item for morale. A depot officer explained: "The dice are for parcheesi. Men in the army play a lot of parcheesi."

FOUR MARINES were playing bridge in a hut on Wake Island. Suddenly another leatherneck burst into the room and shouted: "The Japs are landing a force of about 200 men down on the beach."

The four marines looked at one another wearily. Finally, one said: "I'll go. I'm dummy this hand."

Tax Increases Appear Inevitable

WASHINGTON — Predicted for months, the bad news is now an acknowledged fact. President Nixon's dollars-and-cents men have added the last sum down to the last decimal point in the administration's tax-increase program.

Nixon's proposals, calling for boosts in individual income taxes and excises, will be aimed at enactment by Congress in 1971. The President, as one official put it, "is simply facing the fact that the government needs more money." In fact, he may ask for more this year if his proposed $1.6 billion tax on leaded gasoline is rejected on the Hill, a not unlikely eventuality in light of the muscle wielded by the oil lobby.

A 5 PER CENT increase in basic tax rates on individual income is the meat of the Nixon program. He also almost surely will ask that Congress postpone or cancel the increase to $650 (from $625) of income tax exemptions, scheduled to become effective next Jan. 1. He will ask Capitol Hill to postpone for a year the scheduled increase in the standard income tax deduction from 10 per cent (to a maximum deduction of $1000) to 13 per cent in 1971.

EXCISE TAXES will be increased, if Nixon has his way, will be those on cigarettes and alcoholic beverages. He also would like to revive the so-called luxury taxes on jewelry, furs, leather goods and toiletries which were repealed, for some insane reason, in 1965. There is no suggestion that taxes on business will be increased. Nixon's experts claim there isn't enough revenue there. Indeed, the administration plans tax breaks aimed at providing new incentives for capital investment.

IN ALL THIS gloom, there could be a ray of sunshine for the individual taxpayer. He has an ally in the new deputy director of the new Office of Management and Budget headed by George P. Shultz. This possible friend is named Casper Weinberger.

Remember that name, because he sounds like a phenomenon. Breaking with budget tradition, Weinberger comes right out and says there is nothing inevitable about the trend of increasing government expenditures. He thinks his job is to reduce spending, bless him.

SPECIFICALLY, Weinberger rejects the notion that the money now being spent on the war in Vietnam automatically will be channeled into other Federal programs, notably in the social legislation field. He considers presumptuous the virtually unquestioned premise that total Federal spending must continue to rise after peace in order to finance domestic needs.

WHY NOT, asks Weinberger, adopt the "perfectly reasonable alternative" of using savings from the end of the war to cut taxes and thereby provide more money for private spending in the domestic field? He even believes he can cut expenditures, after the war, below the current level of about $200 billion a year.

I don't know. This is radical stuff, and the establishment may decide that Weinberger is preaching dangerous subversion and put him to the rack.

Now, About Those Plane Losses

WASHINGTON — No one is quite certain if and when the United States will sell Israel the 125 fighter planes it's been asking for. The rumor in Washington is that the policy for the moment will be not to give Israel any new planes, but to replace those shot down by the enemy. If this is true, we can expect to see a decided change in the communiques emanating from Tel Aviv and the Arab capitals.

They may go something like this:

TEL AVIV, July 10—Military spokesmen for the Israeli air force announced today that their planes were attacked along the Suez Canal. Twenty-seven Israeli planes were shot down, the spokesmen said, and 30 more limped back to their bases. This was the largest loss of Israeli combat aircraft ever recorded.

CAIRO, July 11—Egyptian army officials angrily denied shooting down any Israeli planes in yesterday's battle over the Suez Canal. "Our pilots," said Gen. Gamal Emer, "missed the Israeli planes by miles."

"We have aerial photos showing all Israeli planes returned safely without so much as a bullet hole in them."

Gen. Emer said he was also very disappointed in the new Russian-type SAM missiles which failed to hit the Israeli attackers. "It's apparent there is no hope we will ever shoot down an Israeli plane."

HAIFA, Israel, July 15 — A sneak attack along the Syrian border by Israeli fighters proved to be a catastrophe, Israeli sources said today. The high command revealed that Syrian fighters had shot down 23 Israeli planes, bringing Israeli losses for the week to 50 planes. Gen. Mordacai Rashnik has been relieved of his command for allowing these defeats to take place.

DAMASCUS, July 16—Syrians demonstrated in the streets today against Israeli claims that Syrian fighter planes had shot down 23 Israeli planes in yesterday's dog fight over the Golan Heights.

At a giant rally in Damascus Square, Arab nationalist leaders introduced several Syrian pilots who claimed they had turned tail as soon as the Israeli planes approached.

"We did not engage them in battle," Lt. Abdullah Yafed told the screaming crowd. "The Zionist pigs did not lose any planes. They shot down five of ours."

The crowd cheered this news and then burned down the Jordanian Embassy.

TEL AVIV, July 25—Prime Minister Golda Meir went on Israeli television tonight to regrettably announce that 30 more Israeli planes had been shot down by French-built Mirages over Libya. This was the farthest penetration Israeli planes had made. When it was pointed out after the broadcast that France had not yet delivered the Mirages to Libya, Mrs. Meir said, "I made a mistake. Our planes ran out of gas."

AMMAN, Jordan, July 26—King Hussein demanded today that the United Nations take over the counting of Israeli planes lost in action. Charging Israel with duplicity, the king said, "We can never have peace in the Middle East as long as Israel keeps claiming plane losses it has never had."

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 1—President Nasser and the Soviet military command announced jointly that all Arab planes had been grounded indefinitely and all anti-aircraft guns had been silenced until further notice, to prevent the Israelis from announcing any more plane losses.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Our hearts are torn and we are frantic. My father-in-law died last week. He entered the hospital a month ago. His memory was failing and he was confused. The doctor said the cause of death was "hardening of the arteries." We just received the report on his blood test and it showed that he had syphilis! He was 86 years old.

Worse yet, the day of Dad's funeral we received the report on my mother-in-law's blood test. It was the same as Dad's. We feel certain she was an innocent victim of circumstances. (She is 83).

We cannot understand it, as their health had been excellent until Dad became ill. They were very active and drove their car everywhere and had no signs of anything.

I have been in the family for 42 years and felt as safe in their home as in my own. I ate and slept there, and used their bathroom, etc. Now we are scared to death.

We have children and grandchildren to think about. My husband is about to have a nervous breakdown from worry. Our doctor is a man of very few words and offers no advice on how we can protect ourselves.

Please advise us soon as Mom will wonder why we don't ask her over for a meal. She wants to give Dad's clothes to our sons, but now we are afraid to accept them. How careful should we be? NO NAME, PLS. DEAR NO NAME: My medical authorities have informed me that you have absolutely nothing to fear. Your mother-in-law should be examined for clinical evidence of the disease to determine if it's active. It is almost a certainty that it is not and she is not contagious.

A "man of few words" is to be admired, but not when he's a doctor and many words are necessary to answer your questions and relieve your troubled minds. It is entirely possible (and the doctor should have told you this) that the reports of the blood test are NOT conclusive evidence that your parents actually had syphilis. Many other conditions could have produced the same report. My medical experts say, after having Mom examined, forget it. And your father-in-law's clothing can be worn without fear of contagion.

DEAR ABBY: Minister Whipple wrote to you a second time, apologizing for equating the color "black" with wrong or evil. He feared he might have offended the black race. He was well-intentioned, but needlessly sensitive.

The color black has always been associated with evil foreboding and tragedy. The Chinese traditionally used white as a symbol of mourning. Surely no "white" person would take this as a slam.

How about the "red" man? His color represents anger, rage, danger and communism. Or the "yellow" man? Must he always be the coward? Fortunately we have no "green" man. He would be known as the envious one. And "blue" folks would be in a constant state of depression.

It's true, the black man has suffered unjustly in our society, but amends are now being made. And more should be. I think the good minister was being unduly tender.

SINCERELY, E.H. What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Retarded Children Into Mainstream

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mentally retarded children should not be segregated in their own schools, but placed in the mainstream of the educational experience, a joint Canadian-United States study said today.

The report, released simultaneously in Washington and Toronto, summarizes a joint conference of the Canadian-U.S. Study Group on Mental Retardation held last year.

Special class programs should be re-evaluated, especially for the mildly retarded, the report said, to give the child access to the full resources of education.

The study called for at least 15,000 more special education teachers in the two nations, adding the supply of aides is critically short.

The report said U.S. institutions, in addition, need at least 50 per cent more professionals to meet minimal standards in caring for the retarded.

Just as the retarded child should be integrated into the regular education process, the report said, so should mental retardation programs be merged into comprehensive community services for the handicapped.

Getting the needed extra personnel will require a change of attitude by entrenched professional groups, the study said.

The directors of agencies and institutions must accept more help from aides, and existing should be lowered, the study said, to overcome the teacher aide shortage.

The study group said standards for staff aides should be determined by the actual function performed, not necessarily by the amount of schooling taken, and in-service training for accreditation should be offered.

Start New Tests For Control Of Boll Weevils

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department plans a one-year test beginning next month on the latest methods for controlling cotton boll weevils.

The series of tests will be conducted on 4,500 acres in southern Mississippi and the adjacent areas of Alabama and Louisiana.

Officials said that in mid-August spraying will begin with a nonpersistent pesticide to kill boll weevils before they attain diapause or the inactive state they require for winter survival.

Next spring the program will continue with traps baited with live male weevils or a synthetic sex attractant. Other followup weapons will include distribution of sterile insects and a recently approved pesticide which is absorbed into cotton plants through the roots.

Diana Hartford Seeking Juarez Quickie Divorce

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Diane Brown Hartford, wife of A&P heir Huntington Hartford, was to appear in court today to obtain a mutual consent divorce, a Juarez divorce lawyer said Monday night.

Aureliana Gonzalez Vargas, a prominent Juarez attorney, said the divorce proceeding will be just a formality. He said Mrs. Hartford will petition the court for custody of the couple's 2-year-old daughter, Juliette.

Vargas said the formal language of the divorce will cite incompatibility of character. The Hartfords were married eight years ago in Wyckoff, N.J. Mrs. Hartford will be represented by Mitchell Booth of New York.

Hartford, 58, married Diane Oct. 6, 1962, after a divorce settlement of $2,385,000 on his second wife, the former Marjorie Steel.

The third marriage soon ran into difficulty and Diane, 28, filed for separation from the supermarket heir, who has estimated his fortune at $70 million. The action was withdrawn after a reconciliation.

Mrs. Hartford filed for a divorce in 1967 at the time she was being seen frequently with singer Bobby Darin.

He described the relationship as platonic.

Police Hunt Bank Bandits

HOUSTON (AP) — Police were searching today for the three men who walked into the North Shore National Bank Monday with weapons and walked out with an estimated $30,000.

The trio, two armed with pistols and the third with a shotgun, came in the bank Monday afternoon wearing blue overalls and ski masks.

They ordered everyone on the floor, then clubbed a customer, Lloyd Prognore, 46, who attempted to look at them.

One of the gunmen handed a teller, Mrs. Doris Jean Shock, 36, an empty pillow sack and ordered her to fill it with money.

He threatened to shoot her when she said she could not get into the drawer of another teller's cage because it was locked, then he broke the lock and took away a metal strongbox.

One of the gunmen fired a pistol shot into the air when the three entered the bank but no other shots were fired.

Five minutes after they had entered, the men ran out of the bank and sped away in a 1964 Ford.

A witness took down the car's license number but police discovered the plates had been reported stolen earlier Monday.

Confrontation Chance Grows Due To Use Of Red Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration fears the Soviet Union may feel forced to use Russian-piloted MIGs to protect SAM-3 missile sites along the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal—an action that would increase the chances for a direct Soviet-Israeli confrontation.

American foreign policy strategists warned of the possible development after Israeli and U.S. sources indicated Monday several advanced SAM-3 missiles had been moved closer to the canal battle zone and fired against Israeli aircraft.

Israel has made it clear it will continue its extensive pounding of Egyptian defense installations along the canal zone regardless of the nationality of the pilots or missile crews. SAM-3 missile sites reportedly are manned by Soviet personnel.

If the sites are to be protected, authorities speculated, the Soviet Union probably will have to send Russian-piloted fighters to ward off attacking Israeli warplanes.

The worst could occur if Soviet fliers engaged Israeli aircraft and ultimately escalated into a "collision of the super powers"—words used by President Nixon in a July 1 television interview.

The deployment of SAM-3 sites along the canal appears to scuttle the previously held Nixon administration theory that the Soviet missile and fighter crews were deployed far from the battle zone and were primarily for defense against Israeli raids deep into the Egyptian mainland.

But Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, Israel's military chief of staff, said in Tel Aviv Monday Israeli pilots believe Soviet rocket crews fired the sophisticated SAM-3s at them last week. Both rockets missed, he added.

Previously, older SAM-2 anti-aircraft missiles manned by Egyptian crews were the main defensive weapons along the canal.

Of more immediate consequence to Israel could be the loss of planes supplied by the United States.

Israel has lost three Phantom fighters within the last six days. The United States has not said publicly whether it will replace the lost aircraft, but there are indications the destroyed planes will be replaced.

Wallace Is Wagon Boss

Leland Wallace, prominent Howard County Hereford breeder, has been named wagon boss for this county on behalf of Boys Ranch near San Angelo.

The ranch is supported wholly by contributions in this area of West Texas and is maintained for boys who have had home situations or are without homes. They are cared for in a home-like situation on the ranch, attending school and performing chores.

Individuals or businessmen wishing to help this cause are asked to contact Leland Wallace on Route 2 or phone 399-4370.

Wallace will pick up donations of livestock which farmers and ranchers may desire to give, and he will haul them to the auction ring. Donations of money will be received gladly.

Phone Books Ready Soon

The administration building of Big Spring State Hospital is featured on the cover of the new telephone directory to be delivered soon.

Harry Sawyer, manager for Southwestern Bell, said mailing of the directory to customers will begin on July 11. About 20,000 copies will be distributed.

"We are pleased to feature the administration building, one of Big Spring's landmarks, on the cover," Sawyer said.

The cover drawing, printed in brown ink, was done by a telephone company artist from photographs of the building.

The directory includes 82 pages of alphabetical listings. Other towns besides Big Spring in the directory are Ackerly, Lomax, Luther, Coahoma and Sand Springs.

LETTER

Child's Camp Warms Heart

To the Editor:

Recently one of the local Lions Clubs sponsored my daughter to the Lions Crippled Childrens Camp. When my husband and I picked her up from a two-week stay we attended an awards program at the camp.

When I saw with my own eyes children less fortunate than my daughter, my eyes filled with tears of happiness. All the grief and self-centered feelings for Audrey and myself left my heart and it was filled with thanksgiving and blessings.

The children at this camp had enthusiasm and determination I have never seen in my life. The blind, deaf, and children with artificial limbs, in wheel chairs seem to draw together like an army ready to defeat their handicaps, and prove to the world they wouldn't be held back.

I also have to hand it to the college-age counselors who denied themselves a lot of summer fun, and sacrificed jobs to take care, discipline, and direct these children, so that it was enjoyable for each child. It gave me a new faith in our leaders of tomorrow.

I plead with any parent that has a handicapped child to let them experience the feeling of being someone special.

Words have not expressed my deep feeling. But I will say this much: I will always be a firm supporter of civic clubs because I have witnessed the good they do. I also heard a rumor that a Lions Club sacrificed their hot meals for a sandwich at their meetings to have more money to send children to the camp. I can only say your hearts are evidently bigger than your stomachs.

Thank you,
Mrs. Russell DeVore

Plainclothesmen In Uniform?

DALLAS (AP) — The 300 city detectives on the Dallas force may not be plainclothesmen much longer.

The police uniform committee is polling them on a proposal that they should be fitted out with $40 blazers and $16 slacks. At present the city buys uniforms for the uniformed officers, but the plainclothesmen must furnish their own outfits.

Polio Incident Prompts Clinic

POTH, Tex. (AP) — The town's first polio case in several years led health officials to sponsor a free polio oral vaccine clinic here today.

Recent tests at a hospital in nearby San Antonio indicated a Poth girl, 4, had polio, officials said.

The clinic was sponsored by Wilson County Health Department.

Gov. Maddox Says He's Had Enough Rock Festival

BYRON, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox and three members of the Georgia Legislature say they will introduce laws to ban — or at least attempt to control — any future rock gatherings in Georgia such as the second Atlanta International Pop Festival conducted here over the holiday weekend.

Maddox said the three-day festival with its nudity and widespread drug abuse, was shameful and disgraceful.

"It was a health hazard," he said Monday in a statement from Atlanta. "There were not enough restrooms, medical facilities or eating facilities to take care of the crowd. And even if we'd had all of our National Guardsmen there, we couldn't have handled them."

State troopers, who estimated the festival crowd at more than 200,000 at its peak, said less than a thousand remained in the area Monday night.

Lamar Brown, owner of the 120-acre Middle Georgia Raceway site leased for the festival, was emphatic, too. "This is the end of it. It won't be back," he said.

Johnson Joins AL All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox nosed out Rico Petreoli of the Boston Red Sox for the starting shortstop job on the American League All-Star team and Davey Johnson of Baltimore was named to replace the injured winner at second base, Rod Carew of Minnesota.

The Commissioner's office announced McAuliffe, the runner-up, who has been playing regularly despite an injured knee, had been advised by his doctor to rest.

Bill Freehan of Detroit was the landslide choice at catcher with 944,601 votes. Powell won all the way at first as did Carew at second. Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota had a margin of over 114,000 over Brooks Robinson of Baltimore for third base.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced the results of the fan vote of 2,034,724 ballots and the starting line-up that will face the National League July 14 in the All-Star Game at Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium.

Boog Powell, Baltimore first baseman, led the league ticket with the highest total, 1,007,930 votes, but fell short of the 1,394,847 polled by Hank Aaron, Atlanta's super star outfielder, in the National League.

There were no appreciable write-in votes in the American League. Al Kaline of Detroit who was not on the computer ballot selected last winter, polled 167,197 votes.

More Fem Appeal Sought In Golf

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — A gal with the looks of Raquel Welch, the game of Mickey Wright and the personality of Marilyn Smith.

She says half of the problem has been solved by the introduction of feminine golf garb now worn by about 85 per cent of the professional players.

golf hat with a yellow and orange bow attached above the visor. "All we used to have were men's hats, we looked like Frank Beard going down the fairway," she joked.

That, says Carol Mann, is what the women's golf tour needs right now to boost its feminine image and attract a bigger galleries.

"The amateurs need to get with it," she says. "I think they have an immature view of what a golfer should be so they dress in Arnold Palmer shirts and short pants."

She said that even with the girlish garb "I'm sure we still look like a bunch of little boys running round out there."

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: WARREN GILES, former president of the National League: "I didn't while I was president, and I don't now, believe an umpire can tell by the flight of the ball whether it is 'doctored'. Therefore, I always have been disinclined to invest so much authority in the umpires that they can throw a pitcher out of a game just because the ball does 'strange things' en route to the plate. . . . Pitching is a sophisticated skill. Can an umpire tell with certainty that it was a 'doctored' pitch, or was it a knuckleball, sailing fast ball, or whatever?"

Umpire CHRIS PELEKODAS, offering rebuttal to Giles' stand: "I am just one of many umpires who knows a splitter when it is thrown. It is ridiculous to believe that one of those pitches cannot be detected by a man who is as close to the action as an umpire. Or a hitter. Or a catcher. Or by anybody who has played the game for any length of time. Not to call it is unfair to the hitter. More importantly, it is dishonest not to call it."

Navy athletic director BO COPPEDGE, when asked what a freshmen guard who weighs 262 pounds and stands 6-5 would play: "Offensive and defensive tackle and half of one guard."

FRED GLADDING, relief pitcher for the Houston Astros: "Why shouldn't a relief pitcher be picked to play in the All-Star Game? Look at the job Wayne Granger is doing at Cincinnati and Ron Perranoski at Minnesota. I think they should pick a righthanded and a lefthanded reliever. If they can't, say, find a qualified lefthander, then pick two righthanders."

RUBE WALKER, coach of the New York Mets, commenting on the fans who flock to Shea Stadium: "They're all the old Giant fans and all the old Dodger fans put together, plus they had a few years without baseball to get nuttier."

SAM FRANCIS, former Nebraska football All-American, who reported to the Chicago Bears after finishing college: "George Halas let me know what he expected of me, when he showed me Bronco Nagurski's helmet — dented."

HARRY WALKER, manager of the Houston Astros, frowning on the post-homer handslap handshake: "If a handshake means anything, do it right. Don't give it a brush. It's typical of the careless way so many things are done today."

Golfer FRANK BEARD, after excerpts from his book depicted Arnold Palmer as a man at war with himself: "I didn't mean it that way, and I don't think they came out that way. It's just that Sports Illustrated took out the most sensational parts and didn't run the others. I idolize Arnold Palmer. Really. I wrote those things after the first round of the PGA tournament last year when Arnie shot an 82 and quit because he had a bad hip. His doctor told him to take six months off. I ate crow when he won those two tournaments late last year and I was delighted. But the magazine left that part out."

WILLIE MAYS of the San Francisco Giants: "Baseball hasn't changed since I broke in, but the people in baseball have. Rookies who have been around here one month feel they belong."

Santo, Millan Deal Misery To Pitchers

Ron Santo and Felix Millan spent their Monday at the ballpark doing a week's work in a day.

Santo exploded for three home runs including a grand slam, and drove in 10 runs as the Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from Montreal 3-2 and 14-2. The two victories in one day matched Chicago's total for the last two weeks.

Millan ripped six straight hits including a double and a triple and drove in four runs as Atlanta thrashed San Francisco 12-2. His last hit came in the eighth inning—an at-bat he didn't even want for me."

Elsewhere in the National League Monday, New York trounced St. Louis 1-3, Pittsburgh knocked off Philadelphia 7-5, Cincinnati shutout San Diego 5-0 and Los Angeles topped Houston 10-8 in 11 innings.

SUPER IN RELIEF

Santo tagged a two-run homer in the first game but the Cubs needed a super relief job by Roberto Rodriguez in the ninth inning to nail down the opener.

The Expos loaded the bases with none out in the ninth but Rodriguez came on to strike out John Allen of St. Louis, who nosed out San Francisco's Willie McCovey at first base, quipped about his All-Star selection: "I think it's a popularity contest."

Allen was the object of catcalls from dissatisfied fans at Philadelphia before his trade to the Cardinals last winter. He also said he wasn't satisfied with the season he's having, despite the fact he's up among the leaders in home runs and RBI.

Special Panel Reports On Car Insurance

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith's car insurance study committee has concluded its work by proposing a special legislative investigation of car insurance repair charges.

Other recommendations and findings of the committee, headed by former Gov. Price Daniel, included:

—The same legislative committee that probes car repair costs should study the possibility of mandatory liability insurance.

—Mandatory six-month suspension of drivers licenses of convicted drunken drivers.

W.O. Shafer of Odessa dissented from the committee's majority report.

Statistics filed with the committee show that of the top 10 states in auto registrations Texas ranks eighth in over-all average statewide car insurance rates, the report said.

Texas ranks ninth in average liability rates, seventh in $100 deductible collision rates and first in full comprehensive rates.

Evidence indicates comprehensive rates "were influenced greatly by the high cost of repairs and parts and by frequent hail and storm damages," the committee said.

"However, we think the (State Insurance Board) should continue to give special attention to this type of coverage, since it is the only one in which Texas has higher average rates than both of the other states (California and New York) which have as many or more registered passenger vehicles."

While not studying the feasibility of mandatory auto insurance, the committee said it believes the subject "is worthy of your (Smith's) recommendation to the legislature that it appoint a special committee" to make an in-depth study of required insurance in North Carolina.

HIGHER RATE?

"We suggest North Carolina, because the rates appear to be consistently low in that state, while they have been consistently high in the other mandatory states of Massachusetts and New York," the committee said.

"If there is any possibility of a mandatory system of liability insurance being operated in Texas without increasing rates, it would be highly desirable as an assurance that every automobile registered in the state carries protection for any person injured or property damaged thereby."

The committee said it had "heard evidence that many garages will quote a much lower repair estimate on an uninsured automobile. The high cost of repairs is a major factor in higher insurance rates."

Shafer said mandatory insurance would force "the below average drivers (who are usually uninsured)" into the insurance pool and cause rates to rise "because there will be a greater proportion of losses from these same drivers than there will be premiums collected from them."

He also said no insurance company can charge the same premium and pay $1,000 for the same repairs for which it paid $400 only two years ago.

Grassfire That Wasn't Anything

The Howard County Sheriff's Department received notice Monday of a grassfire that nobody wanted. The fire was reportedly burning 13 miles west of Big Spring between IS 20 and the railroad tracks.

The Jonesboro fire department was notified, but they called back to the Sheriff's office that they were unable to go. Sand Springs fire department was then notified, but they too were unable to go.

As luck would have it, however, what had seemed to be a grassfire out of control turned out to be a clean-up project. Texas & Pacific Railway Co. workmen were burning the grass and weeds away from the right-of-way.

Bentsen Raps Secret Meets

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Lloyd Bentsen, Democratic U.S. Senate nominee, said Tuesday he favors elimination of secret congressional hearings except in matters which might endanger national security.

"I was shocked and dismayed," Bentsen said in a speech to the Lions Club, "by a recent study showing that 1,314 of the 3,012 committee meetings held in Congress during 1968 were conducted behind closed doors. There can be no legitimate reason for shrouding 43 per cent of these meetings in secrecy.

"In 1969, the percentage of closed door meetings dropped to 36—but that figure also is much too high. The fact that appropriations subcommittees, in making decisions on how our tax money is to be spent, hold all their meetings behind closed doors is especially distressing.

"Good government requires continuous public scrutiny. The Congress should set an example for all other governmental agencies in regard to open meetings. Except when national security would be endangered by proceedings in an open meeting, our elected officials should make everything open and above-board.

"To think that there is any justification for holding 43 per cent, or even 36 per cent, of congressional committee meetings behind closed doors is ridiculous. Such meetings trample on the basic right of the people to keep fully informed on the work of their elected officials."

Prisoner Back In Local Jail

Richard Monroe Smith, 64, Canton, charged with theft over $50 in connection with the real estate swindle of a Big Spring woman, was returned to Howard County jail from Midland Monday by Sheriff A. N. Standard.

According to Standard, Smith is being held in lieu of $7,500 bond set by District Judge J. W. Caton. Smith was recently indicted on the theft over $50 charge by the Howard County grand jury. Previous to his indictment, Smith's bond had been set at $25,000 by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter.

Jury Notices Mailed To 120

Sheriff's officers have mailed 120 jury notices to prospective jurors for 11th District Court. Jurors are to appear in the District Courtroom at 10 a.m. Monday.

Docket call for the 12 defendants in the 11 cases to be tried was set for 2 p.m. today for the defendants to appear before District Judge R. W. Caton.

Cases tentatively scheduled for trial concern charges of rape, embezzlement, theft over $50, possession of marijuana, assault with intent to rob, making, drawing and delivering a worthless check, and driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Multiple Listing Service

MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE DOES SELL EQUITIES:

Some of the important advantages of a MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE are: (1). BUYERS & SELLERS receive the benefit of cooperation between REALTORS rather than being restricted to the offerings of a single agent or series of agents. (2). NEGOTIATIONS ARE carried on under rules of procedure designed to assure ethical practice, thus furthering the interests of clients and the public, while extending adherence to high standards of practice. (3). CURRENT MARKET information which is readily available through Multiple Listing, means that REALTORS, their clients and the public are better served and informed.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I grew up in the wide open spaces, and now that we have a small city apartment, I miss the green and blue of nature.

We have crammed our enclosed patio with plants. And as the result of this, we have learned to cut down on our watering chores by the "double-decker" method.

Pitcher by pitcher we carry the water to our hanging baskets but kill two birds with one stone for we have strategically placed the other sturdy potted plants below them. The water dripping from above (like rainfall) takes care of the lower ones.

We also have ferns planted in a border and the water splashes on them too, and this really takes care of all those thirsty devils. . . . Hilda Rose

Aren't you really killing three birds with one stone instead of just two? . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Use those little rough, yellow, square pot scrapers to scrub potatoes for baking.

Better than a brush. . . . A Reader

Dear Heloise:

I have a hint that my husband suggested to me. Maybe other housewives might be able to use it.

I have a three-piece sectional sofa, and hardwood floors. The sectional wouldn't stay together whenever anyone sat down on it.

So my husband suggested cutting a piece of an old inner tube and slipping it over the back legs next to the wall.

This secures the pieces of the sectional and prevents them from sliding apart. . . . Ethel McVay

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

This is a letter of laughter but it could have been a letter of "tears" very easily.

I was making cookies one day, took the bottle of vanilla from the cupboard shelf where I always keep it and added a teaspoon of it to the cookie dough and put it back in its accustomed place.

When the cookies started to bake there was a very unusual menthol aroma. I was completely flabbergasted. Went back and checked the vanilla, and sure 'nuf someone had put a bottle of cough medicine on the shelf and I had used that.

The cough medicine was harmless so we ate the cookies, but as you know this could have been disastrous and accidental poisonings do happen by such carelessness.

Everyone enjoyed them and the favorite comment was — Cool, boy, cool! . . . Betty Pagel

Dear Heloise:

While making rye bread I came across this idea: As you know, caraway seeds are used to flavor rye bread.

However, I do not like to bite into the seeds. I decided to try using my peppermill to grind them and it worked wonders.

Now I have two mills, one for pepper and one for the caraway seeds. . . . Alma Woerner

Dear Heloise:

A few years ago I wanted a picture for my kitchen and couldn't find one that was predominantly yellow.

So I cut out a lot of yellow flowers from seed and nursery catalogues, added a few red ones and some green leaves here and there.

Then I arranged them to look like a big bouquet. I glued this paper arrangement on appropriate backing, matted it and put it in an inexpensive frame that I bought at the dime store.

Very pretty, and what's more it is exactly what I had in mind. . . . Thelma Howard

A LOVELIER YOU

Cool Hints Keep You Fresh-As-A-Daisy

By MARY SUE MILLER

Do you lose your cool when it's hot? And look it?

Then this column is for you. There are many ways to beat the heat, in addition to starting the day with a tepid shower and an iced cologne rubdown. Newly laundered lingerie underscores that fresh-as-a-daisy feeling. And you just know you have to feel fresh to look fresh.

The idea naturally carries over to topside dressing. What exactly should you wear? For the sake of your day-long comfort on an urban scene, do avoid scanty attire. Tests show that coverup clothing in lightweight, absorbent materials acts like a thermostat to regulate the body's own cooling system.

It follows that a sheer easy-fit cotton dress with sleeves has its cool built in. Effects increase when you shade your head with an airy hat; when you protect your feet with a covering shoe, in a style that is soft, ventilated and leather-soled.

Here fashion plays into your hands with charming pastel voiles, weightless straws and glove-like shoe leathers. If you want for pizzazz, try a calico shirt and flouncy skirt with cotton boots.

For the reason that any sort of fussiness makes heat waves, do simplify your jewelry, your hairdo, and your makeup. You will appear a cool oasis for the doing and be as welcome to the eye.

HIP REDUCING

You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hipline is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick and effective ones, send for my leaflet, "Hip Reducing Routines." Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.
