Hospital administrator resigns

Mitchell County Hospital Administrator Wendell Alford announced his resignation during a called meeting of the board Tuesday night.

"I have tendered my resignation to Jim Bullard of Methodist Hospital," Alford told the board at the end of the meeting that had begun with an hour long executive session on a personnel matter.

The resignation will be effective Nov. 1.

Hospital Board President Fred Thompson accepted the resignation "with regret" on behalf of the board and said to Alford, "Once again, we tell you that we appreciate everything you've done and we hate to see you go. We understand that everything goes on and you have to make changes every now and then."

The board members individually expressed their appreciation to Alford.

Jim Bullard from Methodist Hospital told the board that running a rural hospital is one of the toughest jobs there is in the United States. "I've said it publicly before. Wendell is one of the best, if not the best, administrator in our system and I want to express our appreciation for what he's done here and for the system."

Alford, who has served as administrator of the hospital since October, 1990, did not give any reasons for his resignation during his concise announcement.

"I don't have any definite plans at the moment," he answered when questioned after the meeting about his future plans.

Before the announcement, the board discussed planned renovations on the emergency room with Bob Cox, owner of Cox Design Associates. Cox agreed to provide the board with preliminary sketches by Thanksgiving.

Early voting to begin Wednesday

Early voting for the general election begins October 16 in the County Clerk's office, located in the Mitchell County Courthouse. The office is open from 8 a.m. until noon and from 1p.m. until 5 p.m.

The deadline to request a ballot by mail is October 29.

None of the Democratic candidates in local elections are opposed in the November 5 election. The ballot will include local elections for 32nd District Judge-Weldon Kirk; District Attorney-Mark Edwards; County Attorney-Mark Piland; Sheriff-Patrick Toombs; County Tax Assessor-Collector-Faye Lee; County Commissioner, Precinct No. 1-Edward B. Roach; and County Commissioner-Precinct No. 3-Wyndell (Wendy) Inman.

Funds are available to pay for water project overrun

Unanticipated costs in Colorado City's major water project will mean a $100,000 to $150,000 overrun, City Manager Steve Shutt reported to the city council during Tuesday night's meeting.

Higher than expected costs for replacing the water lines and at the water plant, such as for pumps, were part of the overrun.

Shutt said the final figures on how much the project went over budget were less than once feared.

"The good news is that we can handle it with funds available to the city ," he said, noting that a loan would not be needed.

The budget includes $150,000 to $300,000 for downtown improvements which won't be spent since the city did not receive the state grant for the project.

Also, "we got to keep $75,000 on the sewer project over interest money," Shutt said.

In other business, the council approved the donation to Colorado High School of horticulture items seized by the police department when they broke up a marijuana growing operation on 10th Street earlier this year. The largely new equipment for greenhouses will be given to the horticulture class at the high school.

During Tuesday's regular meeting, the board also approved:

- a display case for the civic center;
- the purchase of property on the west side of Ruddick Park;
- U.S.C. as long distance carrier with expected savings of $2,400;
- turning down COPS-MORE grant for computer equipment because grant would involve a $15,000 to $20,000 cost to the city.

Long-time business manager receives promotion

Clark to assume manager duties

The local Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company's longtime manager has been promoted to retail merchandising manager for the company's 18 home centers in the southern district.

David Hoover, who managed the Colorado City store for 19 years, began his new duties October 1.

Jodie Clark, assistant manager, was promoted to manager of the local store. He is the son of Ronnie and Donna Clark of Colorado City.

David and his wife Melinda will continue to live in Colorado City, as Melinda will continue to work for the local Higginbotham-Bartlett store.

David has been very active locally, having served on the Chamber of Commerce board and as a member of the Kiwanis Club.

"I'm excited about my new job," Hoover said. "We're planning on building a new showroom in Snyder and a new facility in Eastland—I'll get to help design these new facilities."

Higginbotham-Bartlett has 36 stores company-wide.

DAVID HOOVER (l), manager of Higginbotham-Bartlett home center here for the past 19 years, hands the store keys over to new manager Jodie Clark. Hoover was recently promoted and Clark will assume the manager's duties of the local store.

Appreciation Day planned October 16th

In appreciation for all the work and perseverance Mitchell County growers have shown this year, the Mitchell SWCD, NRCS, Chamber of Commerce, FSA and TAEX revised the traditional farm tour, scheduled this year for Wednesday, October 16.

Everyone is invited to the meeting, which will be an informal appreciation day with about $500 in door prizes to be given away. It will be a half-day meeting as in years past, but there will not be a tour.

Five speakers will talk about wind erosion (Bill Fryrear, Agriculture Research Service, engineer); cattle nutrition in periods of drought (Stan Reinke, NRCS, rangeland resource specialist); roundup ready cotton (Joe Raff, CEA-AG); crop revenue coverage (Chris Reichle, USAG); and an agriculture outlook (Harold Bob Bennett, FSA executive director).

The appreciation day will

Local residents see meteorite shower

Lights in the western sky from a meteorite shower Thursday night were observed by area residents including some Mitchell Countians.

At 9:32 p.m. the Howard County Sheriff's Office received a report of something falling from the sky. A Big Spring radio station, KBEST, received four phone calls from listeners who reported sighting the phenomenon between Westbrook and Big Spring. The calls came into the station following the radio's airing of Paul Harvey's report on the meteorite shower seen from San Francisco to New Mexico.

There were no reports from citizens to the Mitchell County sheriff's office that evening. However, Sheriff Patrick Toombs saw the meteorite shower for himself while he was at the Westbrook Homecóming bonfire Thursday night. He said he was facing west and happened to look up when he

Civic Center is due major repairs

The Colorado City Civic Center, long a stepchild among the city departments, is budgeted for $30,000 in major repairs this year.

The most pressing renovations include extensive repair of the roof, replacement of ceiling tiles, door repairs and the purchase of additional tables and chairs.

However, the roof repairs may eat up the amount budgeted and more, said City Manager Steve Shutt.

Bids will be taken on the work this fall, he said.

"The problem is that there hasn't been any work done on it since it was built," said Shutt.

The building has been a community service over the 22 years since it was built, providing a facility for civic organizations and other groups.

Jean Holbert, who has managed the civic center for 18 years with her husband Bill, said that there haven't been any renovations done that she can remember.

Over the years, more pressing

Native grass conference includes banquet, dedication

A conference on native prairies and dedication of the Maddin Prairie Preserve will be held here October 11 and 12.

The Native Prairies Association of Texas is sponsoring the two-day event.

The conference, titled "Restoration of Native Vegetation on the Southwest Rolling Plains", will be held at the C.C. Thompson Room, beginning Friday, Oct. 11. Registration will begin at 11:15 a.m.

The conference is sponsored in cooperation with the Natural Resources Conservation Service.

A banquet will be held Friday night at the Heart of West Texas Museum, beginning at 7 p.m. Dr. Clay Johnson, President of Texas State Technical College in Sweetwater will be the featured speaker.

See schedule of events, page 6

The conference will continue Saturday morning, beginning at 8 a.m. A dedication program at the Maddin Prairie Preserve will start at 10:45 a.m.

Over a thousand acres of land seven miles south of Colorado City and one mile east will be returned to its original prairie grasses. The preserve is a gift of Alfred E. Maddin in memory of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Maddin and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Maddin.

Bring a lawn chair to sit on during the ceremony.

Local residents Jerold and Linda Epperson and Don and Nelda Browne are the elated grandparents of a new grandson, Austin Price Browne, born September 5, 1996. Marty and Mistie Browne are the proud parents.

A new granddaughter has Walt and Anna Staats smiling. Sarah Anne Staats was born Oct. 3 to Dwight and Susan Staats of Ft. Collings, Colo.

Congratulations to all!

I have a funny story to tell on Jay Craddock! As I understand it, Jay had a little surgery on his neck last week and was walking around with visible stitches. Whenever anyone would ask him about it, he would say that his wife, Marian, got after him with a butcher knife. Not true, of course, but it made for a funny story.

Well, this past weekend, Marian was having some trouble with her allergies, especially in her eyes. Before she went to bed Saturday night, she remembered rubbing her eyes. When she woke up Sunday morning, she had a black eye.

So now Marian is telling everyone Jay was after her—that's why she had to defend herself with the butcher knife! You know what they say about "paybacks", Jay!

Did anyone else see the migration of monarch butterflies the past few days? We had quite a bunch of them in our back yard. Don King said he was trying to capture some on film.

***

Luna Bilberry fell Sunday night and is in the Mitchell County Hospital. Her daughter will be taking her back to Post when she is released.

***

Rita Hardegree was hospitalized this past weekend for heart problems. She is the principal of Kelley Elementary and will be out for a while.

***

Sharon Gilbreath has retired from Farm Service Agency. She will be devoting all her time now to the Rainstick Gift Shop, which is celebrating its third anniversary.

***

Kay Richmond will be serving another term as secretary of the Kiwanis Club this year. Being secretary takes a lot of time and energy and I know the club really appreciates the many hours of volunteer work she provides for them.

***

Tandy Curlee is quite pleased these days. Up until a few days ago, he was in terrible pain with his back. He went to the doctor and was told he needed surgery, but not right away, there were some other things that needed to be adjusted before the surgery could be done.

From what I hear, Tandy has changed some medications and is not having any pain in his back to speak of. He says he won't have the surgery unless the pain returns.

That's good to hear, Tandy!

Westbrook Baptist honors pastor

Brother Jim Mosley

October is Clergy Appreciation Month and the members of Westbrook Baptist Church invite everyone to attend a celebration Sunday, October 13 in honor of Brother Jim Mosley.

Brother Mosley was licensed to the ministry in 1955 at First Baptist Church of Grandfalls, Texas. In 1959 he was ordained at Royalty Baptist Church of Grandfalls. For 42 years, he has been tireless in his commitment to his congregation and community.

He and his wife, Jimmye Sue Mosley, have three children, Laurie and Bo Burton and David and Betsy Mosley, all of Abilene, and Gay and Chuck Haigood of McPherson, Kansas.

Clergy Appreciation Month is an annual effort that seeks to acknowledge the tremendous contribution of and pressures facing North American religious leaders in the 1990s.

Families invited to lunch

Parents, grandparents and siblings of Westbrook ISD students are invited to lunch on "Take Your Family to Lunch Day," Wednesday, October 16.

Scheduled during the 33rd Annual National School Lunch Week, "Take Your Family to Lunch Day" was created by the American School Food Service Association (ASFSA) in celebration of its 50th anniversary of serving nutritious meals to children.

National nutritional standards require that school lunches and breakfasts provide one third to one fourth of the Recommended Dietary Allowances (RDAs) for calories, protein, vitamins A and C, iron and calcium. Schools are also encouraged to serve meals lower in sodium and cholesterol and higher in fiber.

Brush & Palette Club meets

The Brush and Palette Club held their regular meeting Tuesday, October 1 at the Wallace Center. After the business meeting, an art demonstration was given by Mary Justiss.

Refreshments were provided by Essie Pearl Ellis. Members present were Elnora Barber, Essie Pearl Ellis, Ginny Harmon, Mary Justiss, Orlie McElhaney, Flo McKenney, Frances Quiett and Glenda Hemphill.

The club will meet again Tuesday, November 5 at the Wallace Center, when an oil workshop will be taught by Frances Quiett from 9:30 a.m.-3 p.m.

For more information please call Glenda Hemphill, 728-2892 or Ginny Harmon, 728-3676.

Haltom attends seminar

Sponsored by the Texas Justice Court Training Center, the seminar is one of five held for elected justices of the peace to fulfill their continuing judicial education requirements as set forth in Article 27.005 of the Texas Government Code. The training center's headquarters are at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

Topics addressed at the seminar included judicial ethics, criminal and civil jurisdiction and venue, trial procedure, alternate sentencing, small claims, administrative hearings, civil law, criminal law, dealing with anti-government groups, traffic laws, juvenile laws, landlord and tenant law, magistrate duties, search and arrest warrants, commercial driver's license laws, federal motor carrier regulations, emergency protective orders and inquests.

COOK'S CORNER

Melody Stubblefield

Like a lot of us, Melody Stubblefield learned to cook by watching her mother. But when she entered college, her mother worried that she might not have enough experience in the kitchen. When Melody came home from college on the weekends, she visited with one of her mother's friends for cooking lessons. This friend of their family was known for making delicious desserts and was happy to share this art with Melody.

Melody always wants her dishes to look appetizing as she cooks for the public quite a bit. She credits that same friend with teaching her how to do so. During the holdiay season, Mrs. Stubblefield makes pies which she sells at their family business, Gas 'n' Grub.

Already knowing how to prepare salads and desserts, Melody picked up a few tips from her husband, David. She said, "he taught me how to make gravy, homemade ice cream and some regular meal foods."

One of the most unusual things that Melody has ever made is mincemeat pie. Shortly after the Stubblefields moved to the county, she met one of their neighbors who frequently spoke of mincemeat pie. After receiving instructions on how to cook this, she bought a hog's head, scrubbed it, cooked it and made a pie for their neighbor. Although Melody said it was good experience, she wouldn't want to try it again soon.

Melody and David have three daughters, Kamie, age 14; KayLee, 13 and Krista, 8. Since Melody is a nurse who works on weekends, the girls help out by doing the cooking when Mom works. The Stubblefields are a close family who spend as much time as possible together. The girls help out at Gas 'n' Grub as well as helping with some of the farming and ranching.

At the Mitchell County Fair this year, Melody's pickled okra took a first place blue ribbon. She has submitted this recipe along with others we hope you will try.

PICKLED OKRA

2 lbs.	small tender okra		Celery seed
1 ea.	jalapeno, sliced	1 qt.	white vinegar
5	garlic cloves	6 Tbs.	pickling salt
	Dill seed

Wash okra and pack in hot sterilized jars. Add 1 slice pepper, 1/4 teaspoon dill seed, 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, and one clove garlic in each jar. Boil vinegar and salt, pour into jars up to 1/2 inch from top of jar. Seal jars and water bath in boiling water for 5 minutes. Let stand for a least one month before eating.

GRAND CHAMP PECAN PIE

3	eggs
1 cup	white syrup
1/2 cup	maple syrup
1/2 cup	soft margarine
1/3 cup	brown sugar
1/2 tsp.	salt
1/2 cup	chopped pecans
1 cup	pecan halves
1	pie crust, unbaked

Beat eggs with fork. Add syrups, margarine, sugar and salt; mix well. Add chopped pecans, pour into unbaked pie shell. Arrange pecan halves on top. Bake at 425° for 10 minutes, then at 350° for 50 minutes. Serves 8.

Per serving: 487 Calories; 26g Fat (47% calories from fat); 4g Protein; 63g Carbohydrate; 68mg Cholesterol; 506mg Sodium

POOR BOY PUDDIN'

5	biscuits, broken into 1 inch pieces
2 Tbs.	butter
1	egg, beaten
Scant	cup sugar
1 cup	milk
1/2 tsp.	vanilla

Soak biscuits in enough milk to soften. Stir in egg, sugar, butter and vanilla. Cook in buttered pan in medium hot oven until brown. Serves 6. Granny, Frankie Stubblefield (born 1879), was over a 100 years old when she last made this for me. It was delicious!

Per serving: 299 Calories; 17g Fat (51% calories from fat); 6g Protein; 31g Carbohydrate; 50mg Cholesterol; 554mg Sodium

GREEN BEEF ENCHILADAS

2 lbs.	ground beef
1 tsp.	garlic powder
1 tsp.	salt
1/2 tsp.	pepper
1	small onion, chopped
1	can green chili enchilada sauce
1	small can chopped green chiles
2	cans cream of chicken soup
2	cans cream of mushroom soup
1	can evaporated milk
8 oz.	sour cream
8 oz.	grated cheddar cheese
8 oz.	Velveeta cheese, chopped
1	small jar pimentoes
24 ea.	corn tortillas

Cook ground beef, garlic powder, salt, pepper and chopped onion in large skillet over medium heat, stirring frequently until brown. Drain fat and set aside. In large microwave dish, combine: enchilada sauce, green chilies, soups, evaporated milk, sour cream, grated cheddar cheese, chopped Velveeta cheese and pimentos. Cook in microwave on 80% for 10 minutes or until cheese is melted, stirring every 3 to 4 minutes. Dip corn tortillas in oil and stack 12 in small dish with lid. Microwave on high for 3 1/2 minutes. Drain on paper towels. Repeat process. Pour a cup of sauce mix in bottom of each of two casserole dishes. Then pour two cups sauce mix in bowl and set aside. Add meat to remaining sauce mix. Put 1 - 2 tablespoons of this mixture in each corn tortilla and roll up. Place in casserole dish, filling both pans. Using the sauce mix that was set aside, pour one cup each over the tortilla rolls. Cover pans with foil. Bake at 325° for 30 minutes. Serves 8.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

Bands have a long and colorful history in Colorado City. From the town's earliest times to the present, Colorado (City) bands have enjoyed support from the local citizens.

Through the years, uniforms for the bands have ranged from hand-me-downs to downright sleek. Jimmy Harrison was a member of the Colorado High band from 1934 until 1939.

"We wore red and black capes with matching trousers and a military style cap," he told us. The band director during that time was "Pop" Rose and practice sessions were held on the middle school stage. As for trips, the Wolf band didn't take many.

"The only trip I remember us taking," Harrison continued, was to Carlsbad Caverns. 'Course, we did play at all the football games, too."

Skipping ahead to the 1940s, Bob Ratliff was a member of the Wolf band. By then, the uniforms Harrison was so proud of must have been worn out.

"We wore white shirts and blue jeans," Ratliff said with a laugh. Later capes were added. World WAR II was being fought, gas was rationed and the band didn't make many trips.

"On Senior Day," Ratliff added, we went to Big Spring and visited the state park with a sack lunch!" Times have changed.

And so has the music! "Our fight song was 'Chinatown' and we played it at our own graduation," Ratliff stated. Of course the band marched in all parades back in the 1940s.

In the 1950s the band was still marching and winning accolades for its precision. Sandy McSpadden was a member of the Wolf band during that era and he recalls the band was voted tops in competition during the Wichita Falls Band Festival.

Another memory McSpadden has of his days at Colorado High is the closeness enjoyed by the band and the football team.

"Our fight song during those years," McSpadden said, "was 'Prairie Jump' and if the Wolves needed a touchdown, the band played the song over and over until Colorado City scored." Prairie Jump included a tumpet solo and it was performed by James Barber who McSpadden and many others say was one of the greatest trumpet players Colorado City ever had. (Barber died in 1983 in Oklahoma.)

The '50s gave way to the '60s and the '60s and early '70s found the popular Dwight Tomb directing the band. Clad in black uniforms, the Wolves bandsmen were known as the Black Knights of Precision, a tribute to their marching perfection.

In 1977 the band went to Page, Ariz., where it played in a new municipal auditorium. Band Boosters had raised money for the trip through garage sales and other endeavors, just as they do today.

The icing on the cake during 1977 was the Colorado High band achieved sweepstakes honors. The Wolves were able to repeat as sweepstakes winners the following year, 1978, but then for three consecutive years, honors eluded the band.

By the 1980s, better times lay ahead for the band. Under the leadership of band director Bill Shipp the Wolves rang up back-to-back sweepstakes for four consecutive years, beginning in 1981 and ending in the school year of 1984-'85.

After some lean years after that, the band has bounced back again in the 1990s and is fulfilling the legacy that bands started before the turn of the century.

Not to be forgotten is that historic trip made in 1931 when the local band was named the official booster band for the Broadway of America, the old Bankhead Highway. Later the famous highway became known as Highway 80.

The band's role was to promote travel and all along the way, from Colorado City to San Diego, Calif. the band would stop and hold concerts. At each stop a collection would be taken up to raise enough money to get to the next town. The late John Tom Merritt remembers their uniforms were hand-me-downs (no band boosters, no garage sales then, either?) and the uniforms were so old they had been worn by the old Colorado City town band.

In fact, Merritt recalled his uniform had been worn by the drum major. "The pants had pockets," he once told us, "and I always heard the town's drum major used to carry a quart of whiskey in his pockets."

Band members of the Broadway of America band traveled in automobiles owned by local residents. Gus Armstrong remembers being drafted to drive Mrs. Will Berry's brand new 1931 Ford. The band did have boosters in those days, Mrs. Berry being one of them, as were Sam Wulfjen and Mrs. Charles Root, Senior.

Gone are the days of a "town band." No longer are the uniforms hand-me-downs and the drum major's pockets are about the same size as all the other uniform pockets.

From those earliest times, dating back 106 years ago, Colorado City has been well represented by its band...in Tulsa, Okla., along the Bankhead Highway, as the Broadway of America band and today that tradition is being carried on by the Wolf band. They have quite a tradition to uphold.

Round table sessions will highlight TMCN meeting

How do small towns get selected as locations for movies or commercials? How do working ranches diversify into tourist attractions? How can rural communities attract thousands of visitors to a festival or historic sight?

These are some of the questions to be addressed at the Third Annual Texas Midwest Community Network membership meeting October 16 at the Abilene Civic Center.

Four round table sessions will be offered at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. for anyone in the region interested in learning more about movie productions in rural towns, nature and heritage tourism development, promoting festivals and special events, and anticipated legislation concerning economic development. A $5 cover charge will be collected at the door.

The round table sessions are a service provided by Texas Midwest Community Network. The regional organization founded in 1994 includes communities and associate members in a 20-county area surrounding Abilene.

"TMCN is often compared to a regional chamber of commerce," explained TMCN executive director Nicki Harle. "We focus on ways towns can work together to accomplish things that one town alone may not be able to do. By bringing the heads of the Texas Film Commission, Texas Nature Tourism Association, Texas Economic Development Council and area media representatives all to one location at one time, we feel we are accomplishing that."

The annual meeting offers several learning and sharing opportunities. In addition to the round table sessions in the morning, an information expo is open to the public from 10 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Regional service groups and businesses host information booths.

Howard Payne University President Don Newberry will be the featured speaker at the 12:30 luncheon.

The deadline for luncheon reservations is Thursday, October 10. The luncheon serves as a time to network with other community leaders, celebrate the advantages of the region and learn more about the regional organization. Movers and shakers from throughout the region are invited to attend any or all of the events offered October 16.

For more information call (915) 893-2099.

Defensive driving class set

A defensive driving class is scheduled for Saturday, October 19 from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. in room 6 of the Wallace Community Education Center. The class is sponsored by the National Traffic Safety Institute and Charles Watlington is the instructor.

The classroom session offers pointers in preventing accidents in spite of the incorrect actions of others and adverse driving conditions.

Films and other visual aids will be used to demonstrate driving skills. There will be a one-hour lunch break.

Those who complete the course will be eligible for possible ticket removal from their driving records.

Each student must bring to the class an approval letter from the judge. The fee for the course is $30. Registration must be completed by Friday, October 18.

OBITUARIES

Albert "A.E." Damborsky
1919-1996

Albert "A.E." Damborsky, 77, of Colorado City died Thursday morning at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. Services were scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday at the Oak Street Baptist Church with Dr. Bentley Gwyn officiating. Burial was in Hillside Memorial Gardens in Snyder under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Born September 8, 1919 in Ft. Bend County, Texas, Mr. Damborsky had been a resident of Colorado City since 1960. He married Jessie Harris on November 10, 1942 in Vanderbilt, Texas. He retired as a lease operator from Mobile Oil Co. after 37-1/2 years of service. A World War II veteran of the U.S. Army, he was a member of the Disabled American Veterans and a member of the Oak Street Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Jessie Damborsky of Colorado City; two sons, James Damborsky of Sugarland, Texas and Larry Damborsky of West Columbia, Texas; one daughter, Nancy Stevens of Sterling City; one sister Valarie Baker of Shalimar, Fla.; three brothers, Marvin Damborsky, Hamlin Damborsky and Lenard Damborsky, all of Edna, Texas; and 10 grandchildren: Corey Stevens, Ty Stevens, Jessica Stevens, Matthew Damborsky, Kristin Damborsky, Terry Damborsky, David Damborsky, Lacey Damborsky, Jason Kellar and Bryan Kellar.

"Daddy was a devoted and loving husband. He was the best Daddy and Granddad anyone could have. He loved and lived life to the fullest, right up to the time he was called to his Heavenly home.

If you knew Daddy at all, you knew there were very few baseball and football games he missed, since living in Colorado City for the past 36 years. He loved to watch the games and he knew every player's name and position.

His greatest joy in his life were his grandchildren. If you had the opportunity to talk to Daddy long enough the conversation sooner or later would turn to his grandchildren. Anytime the kids were involved doing something, from basketball games, football games, baseball games, rodeos, to ropings, he always tried to be there.

Everyone who knew Daddy enjoyed spending time visiting with him. He looked forward to going for coffee in the mornings at Trucktown and playing dominoes at Loraine in the afternoon.

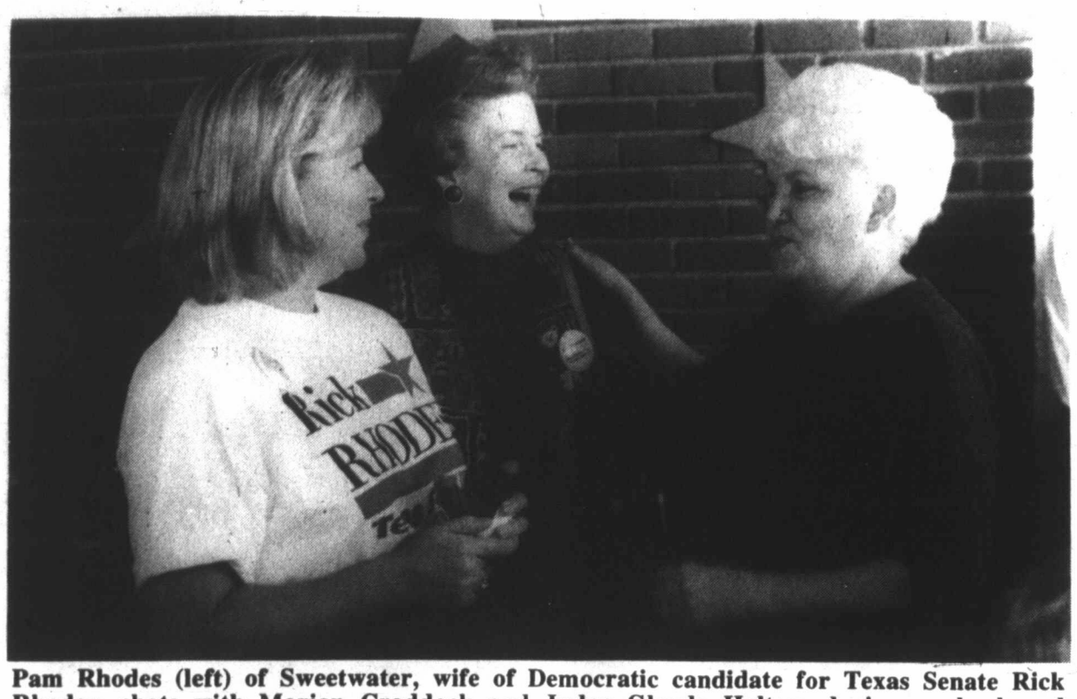

Daddy will be missed by his family and friends. Even though he is not here with us now, his legacy lives on."

Mauricio Rosas
1904-1996

Mauricio Rosas, 92, of Loraine died Wednesday at Midland Memorial Hospital. Services were scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday in the Kiker-Seale Funeral Home Chapel with the Revs. Robert Cantu and Evaristo Granado officiating. Burial was in Loraine Cemetery under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Rosas was born September 22, 1904 in Hays County, Texas and had lived in Mitchell County since 1962. He was a landscaper and a member of the Rock of Salvation Pentecostal Church in Loraine. He married Esperanza Villarreal on December 12, 1936 in San Antonio. She preceded him in death on February 8, 1994.

Survivors include three sons, Domingo Rosas of Midland, Francisco Rosas and Mauricio Rosas, Jr., both of Snyder; seven daughters, Ruperta Gonzalez and Andrea Rocha, both of San Antonio, Minerva Selestino of Lubbock, Altagracia Loe of Amarillo, Mary Helen Armas of Centerpoint, Emerlinda Martinez of Loraine and Diana Orona of Artesia, N.M.; 42 grandchildren and 46 great grandchildren.

Taxpayer seminar to be held

A free taxpayer seminar will be held Tuesday, October 15 from 3-4 p.m. at State Comptroller John Sharp's Abilene field office, 209 S. Danville C202. Vanessa Zientek and Mary Sue Riskus from the field office will meet with the public and answer questions about state taxes.

"It's important that taxpayers have a full understanding of state taxes," Sharp said. "This seminar has been designed just for that."

Taxpayers who are unable to attend the free seminar may call the comptroller's toll-free hotline at 1-800-252-5555 for assistance.

For more information about the Abilene seminar, call the Abilene field office at (915) 695-4323.

Veterans Land Board seminar focuses on loan programs, etc.

The Texas Veterans Land Board is holding a seminar and exhibit for Texas veterans Thursday, October 17 at 6 p.m. in the Big Spring Municipal Auditorium, 310 East 3rd Street. Registration begins at 6 p.m.

This community event is designed to help the more than 4,900 area veterans learn more about the loan programs available from the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB).

The VLB recently increased the maximum amount of a VLB land loan from $20,000 to $40,000, so veterans who want to buy land will now have the option of borrowing $20,000 at 6.65 percent or $40,000 at 8.85 percent. Both carry a 30-year term and require a five percent down payment.

"The Texas veterans home loan program is far and away the best deal in today's home buying market," said Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who serves as chairman of the VLB. He said the increase in benefits means veterans now have $110,000 in special low-interest loan benefits to use.

"I want to urge every veteran and real estate professional to attend this seminar and find out more about these outstanding programs that have enabled more than 150,000 Texas veterans to buy a home, land or make needed home improvements," Mauro said.

The seminar is free and open to the public.

Reading program is teacher's way of reaching out to children

After spending only a few months in a special reading program, one first grader's academic future looks bright.

That wasn't the case at the beginning of the school year. Although just as intelligent as most of her classmates, she wasn't catching on to the earliest reading lessons. Such a child is often destined to become a poor reader and fall further and further behind every year she's in school.

However, the child was placed in a Reading Recovery class for thirty minutes a day and given intensive, one-on-one instruction from a specially trained teacher. After twelve weeks she no longer needed the extra class. She could read as well or better than other first graders.

"It just clicked for her. The light turned on and from then on she continued to be an active learner and an independent reader," said her Reading Recovery teacher, Janet Mayo.

The child's success is a special memory of Mayo's training in the Pilot Point ISD last year—training that enabled the Colorado Independent School District teacher to bring the program to Kelley Elementary for the first time this year.

Reading Recovery is basically a program for first grade children who are at risk of reading failure. It's a short-term, early intervention program which brings the student to the point of reading at grade level within 18 to 20 weeks.

Mayo individually works with four children a day at Kelley Elementary. Within a year's time, she will teach eight to 10 children. She is also an adjunct professor in the master's program at Abilene Christian University, training 11 teachers in area schools so they can implement the Reading Recovery program in their own school districts. Two CISD teachers, Barbara Hammond and Kelli Lancaster, are among the teachers in training this year.

Mayo, with a master's degree in reading education and supervision, was very interested when she began hearing about Reading Recovery about eight years ago.

During more than 20 years of teaching, she had encountered children who were confused about something in the process of reading and gotten lost in a classroom full of children.

"It's those children who need that extra help. I knew that there had to be something—some way to reach them," she said. "I was hungry for more knowledge about how to help them."

The Reading Recovery program originated in 1970 by Marie Clay in New Zealand. It's research based with an 80 percent success rate. Data is collected on every child in the program which has led to a large volume of research as the program spread to other countries, such as England, and in 48 states in the U.S. Some states, like Arkansas, have adopted it fully.

READING RECOVERY TEACHER Janet Mayo sits at the desk where she works with her students. Besides working with four first graders each day on a one-on-one basis, she provides master level instruction for teachers in the program.

Hillary Clinton emphasized her support of the program in her recent book It Takes A Village. In discussing successful solutions to problems in education, she praised school districts who are "making the front-end investment" needed to train teachers in the Reading Recovery program.

The program also is in step with Governor George Bush's emphasis on education and goal of every Texas child reading on grade level by the third grade. Texas was one of the first states to implement the program, beginning in Richardson and spreading across the Metroplex. It is currently used in many large cities like Houston and El Paso and spreading to West Texas where it is in place in Midland/Odessa school districts.

MAYO'S TRAINING

The Region 14 education service center wanted to continue to bring the program to this area but they needed a teacher who would be willing to go to Texas Woman's University in Denton for a year of doctorate level training. The selected person would train other teachers so the program could be implemented in school districts throughout West Texas.

Mayo jumped at the chance even though it would mean leaving home for a year.

Six districts in a Region 14 co-op (Ranger, Cisco, Haskell, Hamlin, Roby and Colorado City) shared in the expense of her training and now pay her salary. Their investment is returned as she trains their teachers and later as other school districts pay a fee to have their teachers trained.

A one-way glass was a key element in the intensive year of training for Mayo. Each week, two teachers would work individually with a child behind a one-way mirror while the teachers in training would watch from the other side.

"As you're watching and discussing what's happening, you're becoming sharper and more attuned to childrens' reading behaviors and needs," said Mayo.

The teachers become acute, expert observers of children, skilled at problem solving and able to make moment to moment decisions on what is needed by the child being taught.

During training, Mayo was happy to discover that a former Colorado City native, Yvonne Garcia Rodriquez, was at the university, doing both bilingual and English training. (Rodriquez's brother is the artist who recently painted the mural at Kelley School.)

THE READING RECOVERY CLASS

What they know are their strengths and each jam-packed 30-minute class is individually tailored to build on those strengths.

During a typical session, the child first selects and reads two to three small books which he or she has read previously with 90-100 percent accuracy, gaining confidence and fluency by re-reading. Then the book that was introduced the previous day is read. Mayo uses magnetized letters on an easel to work with the child a few minutes on letters or words that gave the child problems the day before. The child then dictates and writes a story, which often consists of only one sentence. The child writes the letters or words he can and Mayo writes the others. Through joint problem-solving, Mayo and the child work together to write the story-sentence chosen by the child. The sentence is then cut up and the child reassembles the words to make the sentence.

A new book is introduced at the end of the lesson. Mayo and the child preview the book first. They discuss the pictures and Mayo points out details to help the child in a first reading.

The child is then allowed to take home one of the books he was able to read proficiently so he can confidentally read it to a parent or sibling.

Mayo keeps a journal on each child. She makes notes throughout the session, recording what the child knows and needs to know so she can individually plan the next day's lesson.

Mayo emphasizes that the children are not "slow" but, what she calls "passive learners". Often they are confused about something in the process of reading and don't speak up or ask questions.

Each child's problem or confusion is individual, so the teaching is individual.

One child now in the program at Kelley started the year with almost zero knowledge of letters, their sounds, etc. As the fifth week of the school year ended, that same child was recognizing letters, many words and gaining confidence in her ability to read.

One little boy wouldn't talk when he first came to Mayo's class. By observation and talking to him, she found that he enjoyed trucks and hooked him into getting excited about reading by purchasing a book about trucks and other equipment during the first two "observation" weeks. By the end of five weeks, the child was talking and participating in his regular classroom and revealing that he knew quite a few letters and their sounds.

"With this program, these children are like butterflies," said Mayo.

As caterpillars they inch along in learning to read. During Reading Recovery, they're in the cocoon, where many changes are occurring.

As readers, they become beautiful butterflies. They can then spread their wings and fly.

2nd annual Pow-Wow to be held

The Cultural Affairs Committee of the Big Spring Convention and Visitors Bureau will bring Indian culture back to this area with the second annual National Inter-Tribal Gathering (Pow Wow) at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum on October 25-27. This will be a competition event with cash prizes in traditional dancing, singing and drums. American Indians from Texas and many other states will gather at the Coliseum.

Native American arts, crafts and traditional food will be available each day.

Ticket prices on Friday are $2 for adults and $1 for children. On Saturday and Sunday they are $5 for adults and $3 for children.

The civic center does not receive hotel/motel tax money. In the past when it did receive a share, the most that was ever received was $3,000 in a year, Mrs. Holbert said.

"We used some of that money for the microwave we have now," recalled Holbert.

Gwen - Wistrand, who managed the civic center when it opened in 1974, said that the same chairs they had when they opened are still being used today. The flooring is the same and the leak in the south wall has always been a problem.

"Then it looked as if parts were dropping off," said the sheriff.

His son, Brien, almost seven years old, also saw the light and wondered if it could have been a shooting star.

It was too bright and going too fast to be a jet, said Toombs.

Mitchell County Ambulance paramedic Jason Cooper and EMT Audra Buckalew were on stand-by at the JV game at Wolf Stadium. They were sitting in the ambulance when Buckalew noticed a light in the western part of the sky.

"It broke up and then we couldn't see it from where we were" said Cooper. "It went behind the press box. So we climbed up to the hill and didn't see anything."

Cooper said they later asked several Colorado City people who were at the game if they had seen anything and no one had. However, he said that the Lamesa fans would have had a good view.

OIL & GAS NEWS

Mitchell County's Little Pig Field gained a new producer when the No. 2 Nail "10" was completed about six miles northwest of Silver. Baytech, Inc. is the operator.

The developmental well flowed 78 barrels of oil per day on a 12/64 choke. Flowing tubing pressure was gauged at 1,520 PSI.

The well was bottomed at 7,246 feet and perforated for Strawn Formation pay, 6,942 to 6,963 feet into the wellbore.

The No. 4 Morrison-Jones was brought on line about six miles northwest of Westbrook in Mitchell County's Turner-Gregory Field with SDX Resources Inc. as the operator.

The new oiler pumped 21 barrels per day. It probed to 3,200 feet total depth and will produce from Clear Fork Formation perforations, 2,714 to 2,796 feet into the hole.

The same operator will continue its developmental activities in Mitchell County's Turner-Gregory Field by spudding the No. 6 Morrison-Jones, also about six miles northwest of Westbrook.

Location is a 160-acre lease in the T & P R R Survey A-588. SDX will seek Clear Fork formation pay at a depth of approximately 3,200 feet.

THE WOLF PACK MARCHING BAND received a superior rating at the Big Country Marching Festival October 5 at McMurry University. Drum majors Perry Noblett and Ben Stedman display the band's trophy.

Wolf Pack band wins superior rating in marching festival

The Wolf Pack marching band competed in the Big Country Marching Festival at McMurry University, Abilene, on Saturday, October 5, receiving a superior rating from three judges.

The band performed "Allegro Barbaro", "1812 Overture" and "Amazing Grace", during which junior band member Ashley Turner performed a trumpet solo while being lifted above the band's formation by the flag corps.

"I am very pleased with the progress the band is making," said Aaron Lewis, band director. "The band is very young this year and has been slow to develop. I feel sure that the young age of the group will be overcome and the performance has all possibilities of advancing to the area level and maybe beyond.

"There is a lot of talent in Colorado ISD," he said.

Art students place at fair

Several Colorado Middle School art students placed in the Mitchell County Fair.

In Division 2, age 11 and 12, Hayley Stepp won first place in drawing and Jeremy Espinoza won first in painting. Kaci Chambers and Max Graham won second place in drawing and Jared Monday and DeAnna Moody won third in drawing.

It's a twister!! Wolves whip Tornadoes, 34-6

By CASEY EAGAN

The Colorado City Wolves, behind 279 rushing yards from Arian Emerson, blew away the Lamesa Tornadoes 34-6 last Friday night in Lamesa.

It was the Wolves' final game before starting district play this week, and the Wolves look more than prepared to repeat as district champions.

"I don't think we've played a better game in the last two years," said Wolves Head Coach Bill Grissom. "We're at the point where we need to be going into district."

The Wolves took control from their first possession. Emerson took the Wolves' first offensive play 31 yards, setting the tone for the rest of the night. Emerson added a 17-yard run and Chris Fambro took the ball six yards to the Lamesa six yard line.

Emerson took it in from there and Chris Ramirez nailed the extra point to make it 7-0 Wolves with 7:51 to play in the first quarter.

Lamesa had a chance to even things early in the second quarter. On fourth down at the Wolves' seven yard line, the Tornadoes tried a trick play, but were stopped by Wolves defensive tackle Jeff Anzaldua, turning the ball back over to the Wolves.

The Wolves' offensive line took over. Zack Love, Brandon Atkins and Marcus Sanchez opened up gaping holes for Emerson, who had runs of 44 and 30 yards on the drive. Emerson scored on a four-yard touchdown run, putting the Wolves ahead 14-0 with 7:52 to play in the half.

Lamesa got back in the game, scoring on a 13-yard touchdown pass. The Tornadoes blew the two-point conversion, leaving the Wolves with a 14-6 lead with 4:42 to play in the half.

The Tornadoes' celebration was short-lived. On a second down at their own 25 yard line, Emerson took a pitch-back and went untouched 75 yards for the touchdown, giving the Wolves a 21-6 halftime lead.

The second half began with the Wolves continuing to dominate. Wolves defensive back Terry Green nearly intercepted a Lamesa pass, forcing the Tornadoes to punt.

Wolves quarterback Lance Dockrey began to catch fire, scrambling for a 20-yard run. Dockrey then connected with tight end Adam Wood on a 29-yard pass.

Runningback Tony Walthall continued to impress, darting 25 yards for the touchdown, putting the Wolves ahead by 21, with 9:31 left in the third quarter. Ramirez missed the Wolves' extra point attempt.

After an amazing 64-yard punt by Lamesa punter Frank Kaplan, the Wolves put the game away with a 16-play drive, taking six minutes off the clock. Dockrey connected with Chris Fambro on a 10-yard touchdown pass to give the Wolves a 34-6 lead through three periods.

The fourth quarter belonged to the Wolves defense, with Zack Love, Joe Ross Jameson and John Erwin putting huge licks on the tired Tornado offense.

"This was the best our defense has played this year," said Wolves Defense Coach Gerald James. "This is the way they need to play in district."

The 4-1 Wolves open district Friday night at 8 p.m. in Greenwood. The Wolves shared the district title with Greenwood last year. Coach Grissom knows it's a whole new season.

"You always divide your season into two seasons, non-district and district," Coach Grissom said. "This is the part of the season that really counts."

Wolves gear up for district

The Wolves, coming off two big wins the last two weeks, enter district play Friday against dangerous rival Greenwood.

Colorado City has put together outstanding back-to-back performances both offensively and defensively and enter Friday night's contest at Greenwood riding a wave of momentum.

"This is a new season and we're in great shape at 4-1 entering district," Coach Bill Grissom said. "In order for the kids to reach the goals they've set, we need to now focus in on our district games, particularly Greenwood," Grissom said.

The Wolves have been on a roll the last couple of weeks, scoring 87 points and giving up only12 points against Clint and Lamesa.

"I think the last two weeks we've shown what kind of team we can be," Grissom said. "I don't think we've played a better football game in two years than we played against Lamesa Friday night," he said.

Greenwood always plays the Wolves tough and Grissom expects this year to be no exception. "Greenwood is always well coached and always doing the things they're supposed to do," he said.

"When they play us—I don't know how it's developed in just two years, but I think it's a big rivalry between us and you know they're going to play hard," he said.

Wolves runningback Arian Emerson continues to be up near the leading rushers in West Texas. Against Lamesa last week Emerson rushed for a season high 279 yards on 25 carries.

Defensively, the Wolves played an aggressive and disciplined game against Lamesa, allowing only 152 total yards last week.

"Joe Ross Jameson played his best game ever last week against Lamesa and Zack Love has been playing well all

Wolves captains focused on district play

The five captains of the Colorado City Wolves see an opportunity this year to make Colorado City history and repeat as District 4-3A champions. They also know that the other teams in the district intend to stop them.

Wolves defensive back Brad Anderson, tackles Marcus Sanchez and Zack Love, quarterback Lance Dockrey and linebacker Joe Ross Jameson have played a great part in the Wolves 4-1 story, but district play means a whole new season against teams just itching to take the Wolves' place as top guns in the district.

"When I think of Greenwood, I think of all the times they beat us," said Anderson, who has recovered a fumble and is responsible for many bone-crushing hits on opposing teams. "Since the seventh grade, we've only beaten them one time, and that was last year.

The Wolves' rushing game, led by runningback Arian Emerson, has averaged over 280 yards a game, due in large part to the offensive line combination of Sanchez and Love.

"Our goal was to win district and get into the playoffs," said Love.

Sanchez is looking forward to this week. "It's a big game—all district games are big," Sanchez said. "We're going to take them one at a time and Friday it's Greenwood."

The biggest change in the Wolves' offseason was at quarterback with Dockrey taking over the helm. He has been up to the task, throwing for 269 yards and seven touchdowns without an interception.

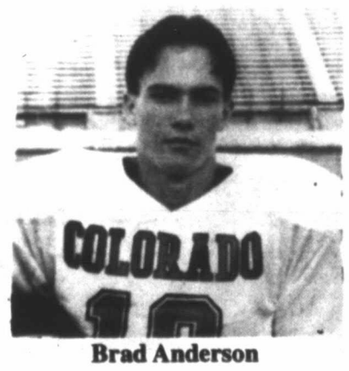

"Our offense is playing really well now," said Dockrey. "The offensive line is giving me time to throw, which has really helped our passing game."

Defense wins district championships and the Wolves' defense is getting better every week, thanks in part to Jameson, who had 11 tackles in last week's win over Lamesa.

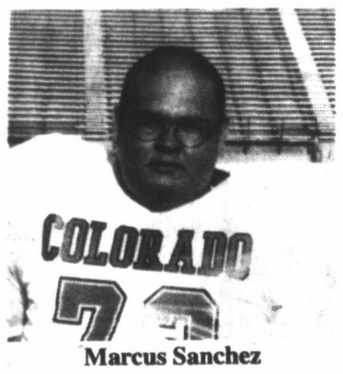

"Our defense is playing well," Jameson said. "Greenwood is a big rivalry and it sure would be nice to beat them."

The Wolves' captains, who were elected by their teammates, have been vital in providing the leadership essential in turning the Wolves from a 0-10 team two years ago into one of the best teams in the state.

Wildcats clobber Trent

Score at halftime....48-0

The Westbrook Wildcats needed only one half of football to tame the Trent Gorillas 48-0 last Friday night in Westbrook.

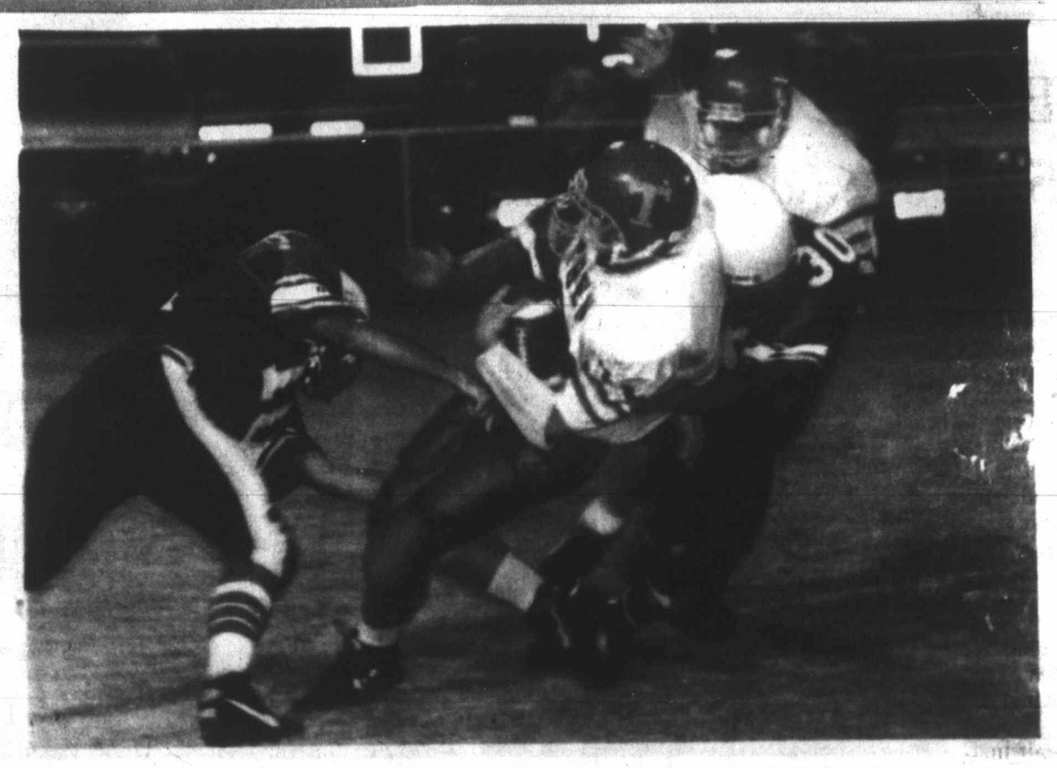

The Wildcats drove the Gorillas bananas all night, with Wildcats quarterback Justin Hill throwing for 171 yards and four touchdowns. Casey Hill and Scott White each scored two touchdowns for the Wildcats, who improved their record to 5-0. Westbrook is ranked as high as No. 4 in the state in some polls.

"We aren't going out there necessarily to cream everybody," said Wildcats Head Coach Jim Hill. "But in district play, we can't let up."

Westbrook defends their district title against Ira Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in Ira, and Coach Hill expects nothing less than a championship from his team. "If we play as well as we're capable of playing," he said, "we can beat anybody."

WESTBROOK SENIORS CASEY HILL AND JAMIE RICH were named Homecoming King and Queen at Westbrook's Homecoming game last Friday night.

Booster Club holds regular meeting

In its weekly treasurer's report, club treasurer Joe Morren reported a total of $10,600.

Club President Randy Erwin announced the agreement to donate $250 to the Pee Wee Football League.

Wolves Head Football Coach Bill Grissom gave a report on his team's game against Lamesa and showed a film of the Wolves' win over Clint.

Lady Wolves Head Volleyball Coach Jessica Lacy also stopped by to give a report on her team's progress. The Lady Wolves open district play this week with a 9-5 record.

Anyone interested in attending this week's meeting at Collum's Restaurant or anyone interested in Wolves athletics please call Randy Erwin at 728-3408.

Lady Wolves post high marks in cross country meet last Saturday

The Lady Wolves cross country team posted some of its best times of the year in last Saturday's meet in Lubbock.

Amy Hammond, Shanti Ross and Amber Courtney also improved their times, with Courtney having her best time of the year. All three finished in the top half of the race.

"I'm very pleased," said Lady Wolves Coach Darrin Leverton. "Each of the girls ran very, very well."

7th grade Wolves lose to Lamesa 14-0

The seventh grade Wolves kept within striking distance of Lamesa well into the fourth quarter before falling 14-0 last Thursday night at Wolf Stadium.

Trailing 6-0 in the final period, the Wolves moved the ball inside the Lamesa 15-yard line, but were unable to capitalize on fourth down. Lamesa took the ball back upfield and scored a touchdown on a reverse on the last play of the game, with the game already in hand.

"We will remember that next year," said seventh grade Coach Jerold Epperson. "Our kids were trying their best."

The 1-3 Wolves continued to to turn the ball over against Lamesa and cannot afford to make the same mistakes again this week against Greenwood, Thursday night at 5:30 p.m. in Greenwood.

SPORTS NOTES

Offensive Player of the Week

Junior runningback Arian Emerson was named Offensive Player of the Week in the Wolves 34-6 win over Lamesa last Friday night. Emerson ran for 279 yards and three touchdowns, raising his totals for the year to 890 yards and nine touchdowns.

Co-Defensive Players of the Week

Senior linebacker Joe Ross Jameson and senior Defensive tackle Zack Love were named co-Defensive Players of the Week against Lamesa. Jameson had his best game of the year, making 11 tackles. Love controlled the line of scrimmage, knocking down two passes to go along with his nine tackles.

Special Teams Player of the Week

Junior Roland Nelson was named Special Teams Player of the Week. Nelson leads the special teams in tackles and was the first player downfield on all kickoffs last Friday night.

year," defensive coordinator Gerald James said recently.

Greenwood is led by Brandon Hunnicut, last year's district defensive MVP, who is again having another outstanding year. "He's a great athlete," James said.

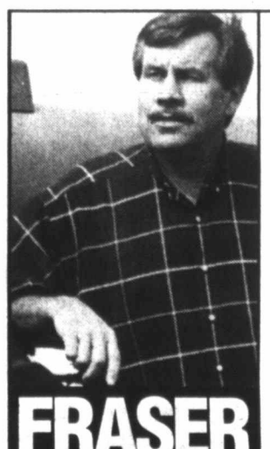

Injury-wise, the Wolves go into district in good shape. Lineman Danny Scott is not at 100 percent, but probably won't be 100 percent all year because of the type of injury he sustained. Scott is still expected to be a big part of the Wolves' line.

Fans are reminded that kickoff is at 7:30 p.m. for all district games. Players and coaches both have been pleased with fan support this year and another good crowd from Colorado City is expected at Greenwood.

Bulldogs defeat Moran 52-40 last Friday night

The Loraine Bulldogs pulled away in the fourth quarter and received a super effort from quarterback Richard Cooper to defeat Moran 52-40 last Friday night in Moran.

Cooper ran for 189 yards and four touchdowns, and threw for two more to help give the Bulldogs their second win of the season.

"We were up and down the whole game," said Loraine Head Coach Rick Cooper. "We played to our potential when we had to."

Loraine trailed 20-14 at halftime before scoring 38 points in the second half.

Bulldog runningback Raymond Limones ran for 65 yards and a touchdown and also caught a touchdown pass to assist Loraine. The Bulldog defense was led by Marcus Garcia, who had 15 tackles.

Loraine, 2-3, opens district play this week against Borden County Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in Gail. Coach Cooper feels his team is prepared.

"All the games are important now," Coach Cooper said. "We can't mess up once."

JV Wolves pick up first win of season over Lamesa

The Wolves JV football team won for the first time this year, getting a fine all-around team effort in their 18-12 victory over Lamesa.

The Wolves got a big game from quarterback Armando Rocha and a key interception by Jessie Rios to raise their record to 1-4 for the season.

"I think playing at home for the first time really helped us," said Wolves coach Larry Hartwick. "Getting this first win should turn around our season."

The Wolves played with intensity and, despite being smaller, dictated the play of the game. Frank Martinez had a fine game for the Wolves' offense while Rickey Molina helped lead the Wolves' defense.

The JV Wolves hope to continue their winning plays against district rival Greenwood Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. at Wolf Stadium.

9th grade Wolves lose 46-0

The Wolves ninth grade team was no match for the Lamesa Tornadoes, falling 46-0 last Thursday night in Lamesa.

The Wolves, 2-3, played as if they were fighting a tornado, having no answers to stop Lamesa from scoring. "I think we were intimidated," said Wolves Ninth Grade Coach Doug Boone. "But I give Lamesa credit. They played hard."

Wolves runningback John McSpaddin gave another fine effort, but the Wolves were unable to put the ball in the end zone. The Wolves need to regroup as they face district rival Greenwood Thursday night at 5 p.m. at Wolf Stadium.

"With a loss like that, all you can do is put it behind you.," said Coach Boone. "I think we will be ready for Greenwood.

CMS to host The Art of Balance Friday

Lady Wolves 7th grade team takes consolation trophy

The Lady Wolves seventh and eighth grade volleyball teams competed last Saturday in a tournament in Sweetwater and both teams reached the consolation round.

The seventh grade team lost its first match to Miles in a tight one, 15-11, 10-15, 11-15. They rebounded in their next match with a hard-fought 15-3, 12-15, 15-5 win over Sweetwater, putting them in the consolation round.

The Lady Wolves responded with an impressive 15-5, 15-6 win over Water Valley to take the consolation trophy. Erica Grant, Miranda Davila, Rita Luera and Chelsea Strunk each had big games to lead the way for the Lady Wolves.

The eighth grade Lady Wolves lost their opening match despite a fine performance from Cheryl Sparks, losing to Big Spring 10-15, 9-15. In the consolation round, the Lady Wolves fell to Bronte 13-15, 15-8, 9-15.

"The girls all played very well," said Lady Wolves coach Linda Mathis. "We are very proud of them."

The seventh and eighth grade Lady Wolves next go to Snyder for a tournament on Saturday.

Jaguars move to 4-0

The Jaguars remained undefeated this season with a 34-0 victory over the Cougars Saturday in Pee Wee football.

Earlier in the day, the Panthers defeated the Tigers 28-6 as the season nears the playoffs.

In the standings, the Jaguars are 4-0, the Panthers are 2-1-1, the Cougars 1-2-1 and the Tigers 0-4.

This week will pit the Jaguars against the Tigers at 2 p.m., followed by the Panthers and the Cougars at 3:30 p.m. Both games will be played at Wolf Stadium. In the event of rain, the games will be moved to the practice field.

Bates wins football contest

Jerry Bates was this week's winner of Jackpot Football.

Bates correctly picked 20 out of 24 winners and won the deciding tiebreaker to claim his prize of $50 worth of football bucks. The bucks are redeemable with participating merchants.

Lady Wolves rebound going into district

The Lady Wolves varsity volleyball team ended a three-match losing streak last Tuesday night, defeating Bronte 16-14, 15-11 in Bronte.

The match marked the return of one of the Lady Wolves' top scorers, Jana Redwine, and her presence seemed to lift the rest of the team.

The Lady Wolves picked up their second straight win last Saturday, defeating Tahoka 15-8, 15-5 in Tahoka. The JV Lady Wolves didn't fare as well, losing another tight match 5-15, 15-8, 9-15.

Lady Wolves Head Coach Jessica Lacy is relieved about the turnaround. "It came at a great time, right before district," Coach Lacy said. "They played at the level I know they can play."

The Lady Wolves and JV teams go into district play this Tuesday night against Crane and Coach Lacy believes her teams are peaking at the right time.

"This team is as close as a family. I don't think the other schools are as close as we are," Coach Lacy said. She credits her squad with knowing exactly where to be and what to do on court.

"Jana Redwine and Bettina Bridgford are two of our top scorers. Kendra Anderson is great at hitting and blocking. Mica Merrell is great at serving. Melissa Rivera and Jamie Mason are our defensive stars and Nikol Swann covers the angles. The rest of the girls come off the bench and do a great job," she said.

The Lady Wolves teams follow their matches against Crane with matches against Greenwood on Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Pit.

"Our Children Are The Future. We Owe It To Them To Provide The Best Education Possible."

Education is the most important responsibility of our state and local government. As your new State Senator, I'll work for:

- ☑ Stronger local control of our schools.
- ☑ Teachers back in control of the classroom.
- ☑ Providing state funds for special alternative schools to send disruptive students to, keeping them out of regular classrooms.
- ☑ Increased numbers of Charter Schools so teachers and parents can decide how to best meet local needs.
- ☑ Fight any attempts to weaken Gov. Bush's reforms that restore local control.
- ☑ Stop unfunded mandates.

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine.

Mother Nature is doing her thing, unseen vibes to let birds, animals and insects know it's time to pack for a southern trip.

I saw a few beautiful monarch butterflies resting before their journey south. And my mudswallows have vacated their homestead. I don't have a clue as to where they winter but most likely where there is warm mud.

Do you think we will have an extra cold winter? I haven't seen any woolly worms to check out their coats. According to O.T., if you should see worms with extra thick dark coats, put more potatoes, onions and carrots in the root cellar and cut more wood. (O.T. being "Oldtimers".)

Attending the backyard gathering Monday morning to meet Pam Rhodes, wife of Rick Rhodes, democratic candidate for the Texas Senate, were Chrystene Hall and Elaine McMichael from Loraine.

The gathering took place at the home of Erna Lou Burt.

* * *

Verlie Liles is back in her home at this time, and glad to be back. Her daughter, Gale Harper from Dallas, visited with her this past weekend.

* * *

John Horton of Denton visited with his mother Amy McKee this past weekend. Amy said he brought some great pictures of Sweet Pea and her baby brother Dalton.

* * *

* * *

Last Saturday afternoon, Danny and Pam Butler went to HSU to visit daughters Krystal and Dawn to take in a big ballgame with Alpine. After the game they went shopping and then had a nice dinner.

* * *

Danny and Pam Butler, Krystal and Juanice Butler had a nice lunch together after church.

* * *

Our friend and neighbor Maurice Rosas passed away last week. He and his wife, Esperanza, lived here for many years.

Mrs. Rosas preceded her husband in death sometime ago.

Mr. Rosas leaves a large family of children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Our condolences to the family and friends.

I was told Monday that Estelle Lee fell and broke a hip Saturday.

Surgery was performed Sunday and reports at this time are that she is doing fairly well.

* * *

* * *

Recently, Royce and Margaret Mahon visited with Barbara and Charles Couk in Ft. Worth. While in Ft. Worth, they also visited with Eldon and Nova Lee Mahon.

Before returning to Loraine they drove on to Sherman, where they visited with James Mahon and his family and also with Susan and Tiffany.

Daughter Cindy joined all the family in Sherman, where they helped Margaret celebrate her birthday.

Royce reported that they went to see a good football game in which their grandson Jason played in Sherman.

* * *

I am pleased to report that she is still recuperating from knee replacement surgery that she had the 23rd of September.

She wants to thank everyone for all the food, flowers, cards and other expressions of concern that friends have shown recently.

* * *

A golden wedding anniversary party honoring Armando and JoBeth Bauman took place this past Sunday at the Loraine Center with their children hosting.

Many relatives and friends were in attendance.

Children are Johnny Bauman of Houston, Deanna and Terry Looney of Weatherford and Patrice McKenney of Houston.

Congratulations and best wishes to the Baumans.

* * *

Thursday, October 10, Chrystene Hall and Margaret Brame will attend a symposium concerning the farm programs at the Dora Roberts Community Center in Comanche Trial Park, Big Spring.

The meeting will focus on C.P.R. land use.

F.C.E. Club News

The North Loraine F.C.E. Club met in the home of Melba and Monte Wilkes on Wednesday the fourth.

A tour of the Wilkes' new home and a program on the Tyler convention were combined.

Melba Wilkes, the hostess, graciously showed her home with several of her interests focusing on antiques, her paintings and plants. Mr. Wilkes' interests were evident, with hunting trophies displayed in prominent areas inside the home.

After the tour, Wanza Graham gave a report on her trip to the state council convention in Tyler. The discussion centered on some new thoughts and ideas for the 1997 yearbooks.

Refreshments were served to Mary Rose Bowen, Doris Henderson, Elaine McMichael, Eva Wells, Billie Schroeder, Billie Ruth Abernathy, Millie Rose, Wanza Graham, Bertha Fay Snyder, Margaret Brame and Bessie Ann Vaughn. One guest, Mrs. Adele Thompson, was also present.

Senior Center

Flu shots were given to several of the seniors following the noon meal at the Loraine clinic October 2.

* * *

* * *

A lot of fun was had with our joke sharing on the second. We heard some pretty tall tales—all clean and just in fun.

* * *

Tom and Debby Carlock came over to eat with us Monday. Tom told us about cellular phones, explaining their benefits and different types.

* * *

Verlie Liles came to the center Monday. We were glad to see her looking so well.

She said she was feeling pretty good.

* * *

Rudy Bauman said he was about right, and that he enjoyed the anniversary party for Armando and JoBeth Bauman.

* * *

We have Margaret Brame to thank for the lovely rose bouquets at the Center.

* * *

We have concerns yet for Dorothy Johnson and hope by this time she is better. I believe Beverly is still here with her mother.

* * *

Take care and see you around town.
