

Sue's Views

BY SUE CANNON

Looks like I really let myself in for it when I allowed the kids' column to talk about the farmers.

Everyone that knows me knows that I am from a farm family and love this part of the country, partially because of the fact that it is agricultural area. I hate big cities! Knowing the boys, I thought it would be taken for a jovial ribbing of the farmers, but seems that some didn't like it a bit!

So, it's just another case of my "putting my foot in my mouth" so to speak when I permitted it to be printed. I hope you will all accept my apology.

If you missed the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet, you missed a real inspiring message by the speaker, Larry Milner.

He put it on the line as to what the little towns were going to have to do to survive. It was either sink or swim. And frankly, I think it's time Olton started swimming!

Here we sit in one of the richest farming areas in the world, with an abundance of water (so far) and with the greatest people on earth as neighbors and we sit and twiddle our thumbs, hoping that some industry will come to Olton.

Have you taken a look at our beloved town (without your rose colored glasses on)? Now really, it's kinda hard to think of Olton as a place that someone would not like to live.

But it could stand a lot of cleaning up. There are houses that are literally falling down that need to be condemned and destroyed according to the law. We have ordinances to back up the officials in this action, and it would certainly help the looks of our town.

And we'd like to see some paving done. People like the employees of the gas company or electric company or the paper boy who drive all over this town know how much we need more paved streets. We have just about ripped a muf-fler off a time or two hitting some of the chug holes in the streets.

But back to the speaker, he told of 230 towns that have vanished from the map that were very much there in 1930. And we don't have to go very far to see the remains of some of these little communities and others that are drying up and blowing away.

We hope Olton isn't one of the next ones.

Outstanding Citizens Named At Banquet

In a sentimental setting, featuring "country-style service," old fashioned bouquets arranged in tin containers under the glow of Kerosene lamps, Olton citizens met Friday night for the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet.

Held in school cafeteria the typical Lamb County steak dinner preceded an assessment of the year's progress and provided opportunity to honor three outstanding citizens.

In keeping with the theme "The City's Goin' Country," a friendly country girl was selected as Outstanding Woman of the Year, a man "who has come up through ranks from teacher to superintendent was named Man of the Year; and a country lad who has never wanted to do anything other than farm was named "Outstanding Farmer".

Guest speaker, Larry Milner, development manager of Southwestern Public Service in Amarillo, brought a challenge for economic development of the area. He stated "...to attract new industry...to grow and prosper...to build a better community...is the important task of a Chamber of Commerce, and it requires a positive leadership...attacking the enemy in every direction. This we need to do for our children and our children's children.

Milner described the world's population today in terms of an imaginary city of 10,000 people. In such a city, 600 of its citizens would be Americans; 3300 would be Christians, with less than 1000 in the Protestant faith; 5000 would never have heard of Jesus Christ; 6,800 would go to be hungry every night; and 7,500 would be colored races.

These percentages he cited to show that "we in West Texas are a small minority in this present world."

Relative to the awesome technological development of recent years, Milner stated that more scientists live now than have lived in all the history of mankind. But he warned, the past 20 to 30 years of gadgetry have led us into some serious dilemmas that we must solve. Among them he named the nuclear arms race; economic gap between underdeveloped countries and the developed countries; the population explosion which will lead to one square foot for each person by the year 2500 A. D.; alienation of youth and minority groups; and the need to clean up our ecology sensibly.

The speaker anticipates a tremendous upsurge in national economy, but warns that long range trends indicate mass migration to metropolitan areas. "In the Panhandle of Texas we are on the threshold of magnificent growth or stagnated decay. We must capture this growth, or let growth capture us."

"Every community has to compete with other communities...if you do nothing, you may dry up and blow away," Milner mentioned that 230 towns that appeared on the Texas map in 1930 - are no longer.

"This town," he contended "needs strong, dedicated leadership...leaders who are willing to give up $1 today in the hope of making it worth $2 tomorrow."

"The Community needs to develop a plan of goals for the next decade, but goals alone won't work, you must work those plans."

He concluded "Olton will become whatever its citizens can combine to make it...but you must attack in every single direction."

Joe Turner, superintendent of schools was named "Outstanding Citizen" receiving this award from Basil Sherman, last year's "Citizen."

Having been with the school system for 21 years, Turner was presented as man of high moral, educational and political standards.

He came to Olton in 1952 as head football coach, a position he maintained through 1959. Serving as high school principal for ten years, he was elevated to the superintendency in 1970. Sherman stated "...possibly his greatest contribution has been in the area of the youth he has coached and counseled."

Member of First Baptist Church and Olton Masonic Lodge, other community services have been given through Chamber of Commerce, and Olton Lions Club.

Turner and his wife, Gwynn have two sons, Bobby and David, both students at West Texas State University.

Mrs. Percy Parsons, "Woman of the Year" was described as "a person who is always thinking of others and what she can do to help." The award was presented by Sue Cannon retiring Woman of the Year.

Born in Oklahoma, mother of three children, Mrs. Parsons was characterized as a woman of deep faith in God, active in all phases of her church's work, and "always first to offer aid in time of tragedy or sorrow."

Examples of community service were cited as given through the local clothing commission, and her own ministry to homebound and other needy individuals.

President of Olton Women's Golf Association, Margaret also is well known as a sports enthusiast and member of Band Boosters.

Larry Witten named Outstanding Farmer by his predecessor, Dan Quigley, has grown up "with farming in his blood." A 1955 graduate of Hart High School, he was high ranking boy and attended Texas Tech University, but has been too busy farming to take the last two courses necessary to receive his degree.

Designer and builder of some of his equipment, the Outstanding Farmer is a board member of Olton Grain Coop; an ASC committeeman; Cub Scout Committeeman; Trustee and member of the executive committee of High Plains Research Foundation; secretary and treasurer of Grain Sorghum Producers board and representative of the board to the U. S. Feed Grain Council; he also serves as a member of the foreign Trade Policy board of the Council.

Witten is associate chairman of deacons of First Baptist Church. He and his wife, Doris, have two children Melanie, 11 and Rex, 10.

Gene Trotter, outgoing president of the Chamber is now serving as director. Melvin Rape, incoming Chamber president introduced new officers, Elmer Moore, vice-president and Leon Noack, secretary-treasurer.

Ruthart served as master of ceremonies. Dinner music was presented by Mrs. L. H. Carson, High School Stage Band, under direction of Fred Stockdale, provided special entertainment. Invocation was by the Rev. Ronnie Travis, pastor of Hopewell Baptist Church, and benediction was by the Rev. Al Jennings, pastor of First United Methodist Church.

The dinner was served by members of Olton chapter of Future Homemakers of America, Mrs. Jodie Seaborn and Mrs. Evelyn Maxey, sponsors.

OHS Speech Department Preparing For UIL Competition

Rehearsals are underway by the OHS speech department for the one-act play they will present in UIL competition April 12.

Farmers Under Pressure To Prepare For Planting

The pressure is on for farmers to get preparations underway for spring crop planting, states County Extension Agent, Buddy C. Logsdon. This includes getting soil tests made and arrangements for fertilizer applications finalized.

Late harvests and unusually wet soil have seriously delayed fertilizer applications in most of the West Texas area, Logsdon reports. This means that when conditions permit, fertilizer dealers will be hard-pressed to get applications made before planting time. For this reason, farmers who anticipate soil testing needs should allow a few days for soil analysis before ordering fertilizer applications.

"If anyone has reservations about how much and what ratio of fertilizer is needed for a particular crop," Logsdon explains, "soil tests made by the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory at the Texas Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock can help. Tests are made for pH, nitrate nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, calcium, magnesium and salts on a routine basis. If desired, tests for the micronutrients iron, zinc and manganese can also be made.

Logsdon emphasizes that reports stating the amounts of plant nutrients needed for the yield goal by the producer are based on the soil test values and the field research that has been conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researchers working in soil fertility on typical soils in the West Texas area.

"Nitrate nitrogen and phosphorus generally rank first in importance among the determinations made on West Texas soils," Logsdon says. "By basing a fertilizer-use program on a recent soil test, a producer can avoid deficiencies and excesses, either of which can cost big money in a farming operation."

For information on soil sample collection and mailing, producers should contact the County Extension Agent's Office at the Courthouse. The soil testing laboratory at the Extension center is currently caught up with its work and can return reports within a few days after receiving samples, Logsdon reports.

It's School Time

Knowledge always desires increase; it is like a fire, which must first be kindled by some external agent, but which will afterward propagate itself. - Johnson.

You are the external agent who creates within your child a desire for knowledge. He may go to school, but only your encouragement, enthusiasm and support can spur him to achieve his potential.

One-hundred nineteen years have passed since public schools were established in Texas, March 5-9 marks that anniversary, and as always, Texas Public Schools invite you to visit and observe.

Your interest-whether or not you have children-is needed to continue and improve education for those who will lead tomorrow.

Texas Public Schools are your concern. You pay tax dollars to support them. See that you're getting your money's worth and help to keep the lamp of learning burning.

Please visit a public school in your area or neighborhood during Texas Public Schools Week, March 5-9.

We Apologize

Offense was taken by some over a column which was written a few weeks back by the authors of "Thick As A Brick".

We offer our apologies to anyone who was hurt by the words which we felt were written in jest.

However since there were "hard feelings" over the column, we accept the responsibility for permitting it to be printed.

So, in an effort to correct an injustice, we offer our sincere apologies.

Dear Editor

Injustice To Farmer

Dear Sue,

I was extremely displeased and disappointed after reading the article titled "Thick as a Brick" in the February 15 edition of the Olton Enterprise.

As an American farmer and a member of an entirely agriculture oriented community, I felt it was my duty to call attention to the insults that the misinformed young man wrote. I cannot understand his feelings against the farmers especially since his father's business would not exist without them.

Olton's farmers as well as farmers all over the country are experiencing the most progressive times in 25 years. Agriculture is doing more than its part in reducing the trade deficit of this country while keeping this nations food standards above all others in the world.

If "haygrazers", as Keith calls us, are not progressive, then, I would appreciate knowing his source of information.

The article stated that the farmers in this country were on a form of welfare called subsidies. A little research on the reasons behind subsidies and an analysis of what food prices would be without the government controls might reverse the belief that the farmers are the only ones who benefit from them. Consumers actually profit by subsidies every time they purchase an agriculture related product. These products are cheaper because of subsidies.

Several farmers that I have talked to were very upset after reading this article. This form of lopsided news injures the farmer every time it is printed. Too many misinformed people decide they are qualified to discuss issues without researching them or having access to sound arguments and information.

I hope in the future the Olton Enterprise will consider its location, in an almost totally agriculturally dependent area, and not print such garbage.

I write this letter seeking only to call attention to an injustice done to the American Farmer.

Respectfully submitted,
 Stephen Smith

Come Let Us Reason Together

(Isaiah 1:18)

By Milton Caraway, Evangelist
 Main Street Church Of Christ

In these studies together, I pray that we have come to agree that the prophets of old and the apostles and prophets of the New Testament spoke by the inspiration of God and the guidance of the Holy Spirit. There may still be for some, however, the plaguing doubt as to whether or not the entire Bible is of God. How do we know that there is something written there that is not supposed to be or something that should be included that is left out? Let us consider a few of the many passages that declare that God also spoke through the prophets and apostles when they wrote.

In Romans 9:17 Paul quotes Exodus 9:16 and attributes the words to God. In Galatians 3:8, Genesis 22:18 is attributed to being from the mouth of God. Peter and John quote Psalms 2:1-2 whose human author is David and they declare that God spoke these words through David. Paul puts his stamp on Isaiah 65:10 in Acts 28:25 and declares that it, too, is from God. In the New Testament, Peter in II Peter 3:15,16 refers to the writings of Paul as scripture. Jesus puts His divine approval on the entire Old Testament in Luke 24:44 when He declares that "all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms..." All that is not mentioned are the books of poetry and these are covered in verse 45 under the term "scriptures". We see from these few illustrations that Genesis, Exodus, Psalms, Isaiah, Paul's writings, and the Old Testament are all spoken of as the Word of God or scripture. The best summary can come from II Thessalonians 2:15. "...hold fast the traditions (teachings) which we have been taught, whether by word (spoken) or by our epistle (letter). The written Word is just as sure as the spoken Word. Let us summarize our study to this point. The Bible is a special divine revelation from God to man. We can be assured that all that God wants us to know and all that is necessary to salvation (II Peter 1:3) is found within the Bible. We need not be afraid of discrepancies or contradictions because the Bible is word for word inspired (breathed from the mouth of God) (II Timothy 3:16). To insure such inspiration, God sent the Holy Spirit to guide and teach the recorders of the Bible (cf II Peter 1:21; I Corinthians 2:10-13). Again and again we read the claims that the Bible is the Word of God. Man must either accept it as such or reject it as a document of deception. We do not have the right to go through the Word "cafeteria style", selecting the things to follow that we like and with a wave of the hand dismiss the rest as only men's good philosophy. The majority of religious problems that exist in the world today come from our lack of respect for what the written word has to say. This is the reason that the unbelieving world refuses to consider Christianity (cf John 17:20-21). There is to be unity, not according to what I think or what another may think, but unity based on the apostolic word. We are to seek to find the message that God has set forth in His special divine revelation.

'Texas' Musical Drama Planning Eighth Season

Have directors - will travel - is the motto of the staff of the "Texas" Musical Drama this spring. The production takes place each summer outdoors in the magnificent Palo Duro Canyon near Canyon and Amarillo, and the directors are searching for talent to man the show. Eighty people will be on stage; dancing, singing, and telling in words the tale of the struggles and successes of the early days in the Texas Panhandle.

As "Texas" enters its eighth season, the directors will visit six locations, looking for gifted and skilled people in each place who can help to carry Paul Green's strong script to the 80,000 people who attend the show in a year. There are seven principal acting roles, which require some singing - a dancing chorus and a singing chorus. Applicants are encouraged to prepare a memorized song and scene from a play as well as most cast members use several skills.

For further information write "Texas", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182.

Almost 500,000 people have seen "Texas" in seven seasons.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Want to feel as though you're the luckiest person in the world? Want to realize just how many blessings you have each day? I can tell you how.

Many of you already have learned what I'm just now finding out - the vivid drama of life as seen from a hospital waiting room or corridor.

Our family's recent experiences in the waiting room by the Intensive Care Unit of Lubbock's Methodist Hospital are unforgettable for so many reasons.

There's so much living and dying - each minute of every hour. And for the people waiting for those ever-so-brief 10 minute intervals that come every four hours, it's difficult to distinguish between day and night.

Gathered within those walls of the waiting room there'll be found people of all ages, races and creeds - rich or poor, intellectual or illiterate, man or woman. Yet all share a common bond - each one is concerned for someone important.

There's the young couple - scarcely more than kids themselves. Their someone is their five-year-old son mortally injured in a fall from a horse. And yet, as hope mingles with their despair, they are among the first to offer comfort and consolation to others filled with worry, sorrow and distress.

And there are the loved ones of a tiny girl battered in a school bus-train wreck. Mixed with their anxiety and fear is the terrible grief from the knowledge that her sister, only seven, and an uncle, just 18, were among the ones that lost their lives.

Filled with many rooms, there are as many stories to tell as the hospital has beds. Hospitals are not filled with trouble-free, carefree folks! For every bed there is someone with a burden, a worry, a trial - a hurt or an ache - hopefulness or a hopelessness.

Tiny and only two, there's a Maria. Pert and pretty, Maria lies with both little legs suspended in traction casts for the healing of a broken leg.

Perhaps she's too little to be unhappy that there's little "company" stopping beside her bed - days passing without seeing even her parents. Strangers join the nurses in loving her, so she's gay.

Within those halls you're also likely to meet "The Man in the Gap".

"Mind if a few Baptist prayers are offered up for you, too?" he'll ask.

Unpaid - except for the "stars" being added to his crown - he's taken upon himself a ministry to those in need. Wandering watchfully about the hospital, he's "available" wherever there's someone who needs a friend, a comforter, a counselor or a bearer of one's burdens.

Cook Of The Week

A new little daughter and a two-year-old son keep life busy for our Cook of the Week, Mrs. Lynn Gullett. Caring for Coy and baby Jill, seven weeks old, has become Kathy's "favorite hobby".

Kathy enjoys playing the piano and received one from her husband for Christmas. She also likes to make candles and recently created one that looks "good enough to eat". Made in a tall, slender glass, it is a very realistic parafat sundae.

Born in Roswell, N. M., Kathy came here as a third grader when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gary, moved to the Hart Camp Community. The Garys moved to the Halfway Community seven years ago when Kathy's father became gin manager there. Kathy's mother teaches in H. P. Webb Elementary school.

Kathy and Lynn were active in athletics in OHS - Kathy in basketball; Lynn in football. Kathy was named "Best Girls Basketball Player" her sophomore year. Employed at Olton Feed-yards, Lynn is a native of Olton. The young Gulletts live northeast of town.

"A good example of minority rule is when there is a baby in the house."

"The secret to catching fish is to go yesterday while the fish were biting."

"It is always a bitter dose when we have to swallow our own medicine."

"It is possible to take life as we find it, but impossible to leave it that way."

We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...

Elmo Hasha recorded yields of 9120 with Pioneer brand 828, and 8400 with Pioneer brand 820. Top yielders every year, Pioneer 828 and 820 can do well for you like they did for Elmo Hasha, Box 356, Olton, Texas.

Amos Walden got top yields from Pioneer brand 3306 corn. On 110 acres the yield was 10,000 pounds for Amos Walden, Box 127, Olton, Texas.

Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

For the Southern Panhandle and Plains area we recommend these sorghum, corn and forage hybrids...

Pioneer brand 846—excellent drought resistance—consistent high yields—MDM and smut resistant—medium maturity.

Pioneer brand 820—good yielder under stress—outstanding with plenty of water and fertility—MDM resistant—full season.

Pioneer brand 8417—new yellow endosperm sorghum—champion yielder in medium maturity class—large open heads—does well on all types of land.

Pioneer brand 3369A—a corn with outstanding seedling vigor—tolerant to blight—good roots and stalks—good ear retention—heavy grain yield.

Pioneer brand 3306—excellent for grain or silage—drought resistant—single cross—well-suited to narrow rows.

Pioneer brand 988—sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage—ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month—regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer.

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all...

Bob Price Writes

Recently in one of his most strongly worded letters to President Nixon, Congressman Bob Price expressed opposition to any plan or scheme to provide economic assistance to North Vietnam as part of the peace settlement. Price's office has received a tremendous number of letters from concerned constituents who have registered their opposition to any plan for aid to North Vietnam.

The text of Congressman Price's letter to the President is as follows:

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing to express my objection in the strongest of terms to any plan which would involve American financial or economic aid to the government of North Vietnam.

Those of us in the Congress who have stood resolutely with you in opposition to the demands among various dissidents in and out of the Congress for peace at any price have done so because of our agreement with your stated premise that Americans who have fought, died, and "paid a price" to resist Communist aggression shall not have done so in vain.

After ten years of cruel war it would be unconscionable to lavish over two billion dollars of assistance upon a government which has been responsible for the deaths of over 50,000 Americans, hundreds of thousands of South Vietnamese, and has practiced the most sadistic and brutal forms of inhumanity and has scoffed at the most elementary rules of civilization and human decency.

It is true that the United States helped rebuild our former enemies of Germany and Japan at the close of World War II, but that was after the militaristic and dictatorial regimes of both nations were deposed. In North Vietnam today the same persons who have attempted to defeat and humiliate the United States are still in control of the government, and any attempt to buy or bribe their friendship or cooperation is as doomed to failure as every other giveaway program this Nation has undertaken in the past.

Mr. President, I supported you in your bid for an honorable conclusion of the Vietnam conflict. Let us not reward those who have forced upon this Nation our darkest hour since the Civil War. Sir, my conscience will not permit me to do this.

Respectfully,
Bob Price
Member of Congress

Heading Higher

When an aviator encounters a storm, he directs his plane through the clouds and goes higher. In that clear, rare atmosphere he is free from fear and difficulty.

Similarly, when we find ourselves surrounded by clouds of doubt, we need to direct our lives into a higher level where we may free ourselves of weaknesses and seek the will of God.

How can we attain these heights? Through the Church! It offers continuous opportunities for new growth, new life, new understanding. We need not wait for a more convenient time. We can enter into the life of the Church NOW.

Thick As A Brick

By Max Moss

Hippies, Hillbillies, Cowboys and Rednecks, lend me your ears, I'd like to take this opportunity to say as little as possible and make it as long as possible. No, really, I'd just like to say that OHS is alive and well. The assembly on snakes was STRIKING wasn't it, and the drug program was almost enough to make a person bend his needles.

Track is officially underway, and there will be a track meet Saturday at Littlefield. If Jossie and the Pussycats will allow it, why don't you get blistered, (thinking positively), and go. The girls will have two dual meets this week. The first one was with Hart, Wednesday and Thursday the girls battle it out with Anton. The meet will be right after school.

COMMENTS:

Donna M. - Oh where, oh where, has my little cargone??
Tracy C. - Romeo, Romeo, where are thou Romeo?
Joanna C. - Not so loud at a Church party.
Tim G. - It must have been the beans.
Gale L. - How was your luck???

DEDICATION OF SONGS

Mark G. - "I Want To Be Elected."
Gordon L. - "Hot Rod Lincoln."
Glen J. - "Watermelon Wine."
Vic - "Jesus Is Just Alright with Me."
Jerry J. - "Super Fly."
Mr. Moore - "You're Walking On The Fighting Side Of Me."
Mr. Gee - "Hair."
Mike Kersh, and Mark Robertson - "Wild Angle."
Gale L. - "I Got Spurs That Jingle."
Keith W. - "Let's Go Fly A Kite."
Jimmy P. - "Puppy Love."

Well, that's all the songs that I could think of that fit the people of OHS, so now I have some slogans (which were made up by me and Keith) which a Cowboy might put on his pick up bumper. These are anti-dope stickers, so if your not anti, turn the words around.

I'd rather wear a lid than smoke one
I'd rather ride a horse than snort some
I'd rather get my kicks from Tony Lamas
I'd rather pop a whip than a pill
I'd rather dip than trip
I'd rather throw a rope than smoke dope

To all you farmers out there, Keith said that he's sorry that y'all didn't take the joke. If you have noticed, the paper says I instead of we, and that means that there is only one of us writing the column. Keith is no longer writing the column so now I get all the blame for stepping on any tennies.

Thanks for reading this week, and anyone who tries to make a million dollars of the slogans will be sued. Until next, Adios Space Ghost

Tips On Rose Gardening Given For Flower Lovers

In preparing for roses, two things are of importance - location of beds, and selection of plants.

Rose beds, when possible, should be protected by wind barriers. East side of house or hedge is most preferred.

In selecting plants, have planned the color scheme you desire. Roses come in varied colors and should be arranged accordingly...Some desire the more delicate two-tone of which PEACE and CONDESA DE SASSAGO are probably the most hardy here. In the deep red plants, NOCTURNE, RUBAIYAT, RED RADIANCE and SYRACUSE are quite popular.

In the soft pink, there is a wide variety including PAUL NEYRON, ERNIE PYLE, EDITOR McFARLAND, QUEEN ELIZABETH and KATHERINE T. MARSHALL. For those who want a splash of yellow mixed in GOLDEN CHARM and ECLIPSE grow abundantly. White AMERICAN BEAUTY in either Hybrid Tea or Climber adds a touch of delicate tenderness to any yard. For corners or nooks where climbers are desired for a back-ground, BLAZE (red), CLIMBING TALISMAN (two-tone red and gold) or AMERICAN BEAUTY (white) will fit in nicely.

Hybrid Tea roses should be planted 2 feet apart, Floribundas, because of their bushy growth, should be 4 to 6 inches further apart. After plants begin to leaf out, water every 10 days by filling beds slowly. Do not sprinkle bushes as this has a tendency to create mildew and leaf blackspot as well as wash away your Rose Dust and Fungicides.

Cultivate lightly as ground begins to dry to prevent cracking and hardening of soil. When roses begin blooming, water weekly to keep hardy growth and full succulent blooms. Fertilize lightly twice a month while roses are in bloom. About a tablespoon per plant of balanced commercial (or cup of Manure) fertilizer applied in a circle 6 to 8 inches from plant should be sufficient.

Start spraying plants early when leaves first begin to appear, using a fungicide for diseases (Mildew or blackspot) and an insecticide for insects (aphids, mites). Spray weekly until hot weather, then only each two weeks. Spray lightly unless insects or diseases appear.

With constant care, you should have lovely blooms for bouquets or center pieces throughout the summer.
