Bonus For Vets Of Texas Now Believed To Be A Dead Issue

Ex-VFW Chief Warns That Legislators Will Have To Answer In Next Election

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 24—Some 700 Texas veterans yelled their approval of a state bonus, but a House committee paid no heed yesterday. It sent two bonus proposals to a subcommittee and did not say when to report back.

Such a procedure is considered almost certain death for legislation.

Roger Q. Evans, former representative and past commander of the Texas department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, said afterward:

"These legislators will have to answer to a lot of veterans at the next election."

All but three or four of the committee are war veterans.

"Let's not call this a bonus, but a token of appreciation," Rep. J. A. Benton of Wylie, author of one of the plans, told the committee.

Benton's and Rep. Jimmy Horany's bonus resolutions would pay the ordinary veteran from $200 to $500. Prisoners-of-war, disabled veterans, and dependents of men killed in service would receive more.

Legless Frank Sliger of Dallas, speaking from a wheel chair, asked that Texas ovters be given a chance to say whether veterans are entitled to a bonus.

"I don't believe there's a veteran in this House today who's asking you for anything but fair play. We're not asking for a handout," the World War II veteran said.

S. A. Childress of Waco, state VFW commander, declared to the committee: "I do not think you have a right to keep this from the people of Texas. I'm asking you to pass this in honor of the dead (servicemen) and to take care of the living."

Rep. Bill Fly of Victoria asked if the question of how to raise money for the bonus should also be voted on by the people of Texas.

Economic Outlook For United States Bright

High Business Volume In '49 Is Predicted

No Depression Is Sighted Despite Slow Price Drop

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, March 24 — Top men in industry, banking, farming, labor and government said today there is no depression just around the corner.

The outlook might not be as rosy as it was early in the postwar period, they said, but with some exceptions prospects still are good for a high volume of business in 1949.

Leaders in the various branches of the nation's economy were asked their opinions on conditions in their own fields and on the country's economic health generally.

Most of them agreed with the Commerce department, which reports that the postwar sellers' market has just about disappeared in every line except automobiles and metals. A lumber industry leader said business in his line was bad.

Opinions Are Given

Here are the opinions, industry by industry:

Oil: L. F. McCollum, president of the Continental Oil Co., Ponca City, Okla. "The oil industry finds itself in a position marked by adequate production to meet current consumer demands and with ample inventories to meet contingencies in all areas, as contracted with a year ago when there were spot shortages of petroleum products due largely to inadequate facilities. Demand is still increasing, although at a slower rate than during the past two years. A sound economic position for the oil industry during the coming year is indicated."

Steel: Adm. Ben Morell, president of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.: "Present prospects for the steel industry in the Pittsburgh area during 1949 are for continuation of capacity or near capacity volume for the steel mills with perhaps some shift in emphasis as among different product lines."

Coal: George H. Lamb, economics director of the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co.: "Bituminous coal looks to a good market in 1949 . . . several factors have acted adversely to coal recently, and they may continue to be disturbing during the remainder of 1949. Comparatively warm weather during the winter has lowered coal needs in the main areas of consumption. Residual fuel oil, because of seasonable excesses,

West Texas Clear, Rain Down State

(By The Associated Press)

A mild cool front, moving into Texas from the West, cleared West Texas skies today. Cloudy conditions prevailed in other parts of the state.

The only temperature below 40 degrees was at Guadalupe Pass, in far West Texas, where 37 degrees were recorded.

Drizzling rain fell at Bryan, Victoria, Fort Worth and Dallas.

Showers were expected in East and Southeast Texas tonight.

Temperatures today included: Amarillo, 41; Brownsville, 73; Laredo, 73; El Paso, 47; Houston, 64; Corpus Christi, 70; San Antonio, 67; Beaumont, 62; Galveston, 65; Dallas, 60; Fort Worth, 62; Texarkana, 57; Abilene, 61; Big Spring, 51; Laredo, 73, and Lufkin, 57.

At Presidio, in the Big Bend country, the mercury soared to 90 degrees yesterday.

Many Fleeing High Waters In Louisiana

Levee Break Total Surprise To U. S. Weather Officials

By WARREN ROGERS, Jr,
Associated Press Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE, La., March 24 The muddy Mississippi river broke suddenly through a weakened levee and flooded a rich sugar planting area today.

By mid-morning the water had spread over about eight square miles.

The area is sparsely populated, however. Sheriff's deputies estimated only about 200 persons lived in the area covered. Another 700 in the surrounding section were believed in possible danger.

IS Spreading Slowly

The levee break was in a "V" shape. At 10 a. m. (CST) it was about 500 feet wide on the river side and 15 to 200 feet on the inside. It appeared to be spreading slowly.

The water was three or four feet deep over most of the area near the break, and was not rising. However, it was spreading slowly over the land.

The break occurred about 4:10 a. m. (CST), about three miles north of Port Allen, across the river from Baton Rouge.

Within three hours the water had moved three miles in from the river. Highway 190 was covered to a depth of three feet.

Sheriff's deputies and volunteers patrolled the roads, knocking on doors and urging residents to leave their houses. The Red Cross set up a reception center in Port Allen to care for refugees.

Comes As Surprise

The break occurred at a large bend beside the Wilkinson sugar plantation. The river washes directly against the levee at that point.

The break came as a complete surprise, as the river stage had not been considered dangerous. Deputy Sheriff H. L. Oncal, jr., said the water was "just high enough to come through the PRINCIPALS IN SUIT—Mrs. Eilene Diane Latta-Lawrence (left), wife of Capt. Harold Alexander Latta-Lawrence (right), filed suit in district court, Washington, for separate maintenance. She asserted in the suit that for 20 years her husband had been on "close and intimate terms" with Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass).

Eight Dead In Three Blazes

CIRCLEVILLE, O., March 24 (U.P.)—A family of five was burned to death in a fire that swept through a one and one-half story farm house ten miles north of here early today.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff identified the dead as: Leonard Estep, 28; Mrs. Frances Estep, 26, and their three children, Jean 6, Beverly, 4, and Joey Lee, 17 months.

Circleville firemen stood by helpless with no water to fight the blaze. The only water available, they said, was in a well, which was so close to the flaming house that firemen were unable to get to it.

MAN DIES IN FIRE AT AMARILLO TODAY

AMARILLO, March 24 (AP)—A man tentatively identified as Perry Burk, about 45, died in a fire which destroyed a small frame house early today. He was the only occupant of the house. Police believe he was from Abilene.

TWO PERSONS KILLED IN HOTEL FLAMES

WAVERLY, Tenn., March 24 (AP)—Two persons were killed when fire swept through the Dixieland hotel here early today.

One man was killed in a leap from the second floor of the two-story frame structure, and the other was found dead in his room from smoke and fumes, Deputy Sheriff Grady Gray said.

Some 20 persons escaped from the blazing structure without injury, Gray added.

The deputy identified the dead as G. B. Reed of Goodlettsville, near Nashville, and Aniel Lewis of Memphis.

Fort Worth Woman Criminally Attacked

FORT WORTH, March 24 (U.P.)—A 30-year-old divorcee reported to police today she was raped by a man, who offered her a ride as he walked home from town about 10:30 a. m. today.

She said the man told her he was a "neighbor," and that she got in his car. Believing he had a gun under his coat, she said she accompanied him to a tourist court where he raped her.

Police Promise To Pay Telephone Bill

TOKYO, March 24 (AP) — When Tokyo's 73 police stations failed to pay their telephone bill the government cut off service to them.

Telephone service was restored today on a police promise to pay up. Slow payment of taxes was blamed by police for the telephone bill being in arrears.

One Killed As Trains Crash

JESUP, Ga., March 24 (AP)—A passenger train and a freight train collided head-on today, killing one crewman. Several others were hurt, one so badly that he may die.

Three coaches of the Atlantic Coast Line passenger were derailed, but passengers received only minor injuries. The train was enroute from Montgomery, Ala., to Savannah, Ga.

The trains crashed in a heavy fog about 7:30 a. m., two miles west of Jesup in southeast Georgia.

Engineer Is Killed

The passenger train engineer was killed, the firemen seriously injured and the conductor was slightly injured.

Passengers were brought to the Jesup hospital for examination.

The engineer killed was James Paul Parrish, 51, of Savannah. He was buried under coal by the collision's impact.

There was no information about the cause of the wreck. Sheriff George O'Quinn said a fireman, badly scalded, was believed to be the only one seriously injured.

College Salary Hike Bill Sent To Jester

AUSTIN, March 24. (AP)—The Senate today passed and sent to the governor a House bill to increase salaries of employes of institutions of higher learning in line with state pay raises granted earlier this session to other employes.

The bill provides a 15 per cent hike in pay in all salaries up to $3,000 or on the first $3,000 of higher salaries. The raises are for the remainder of this fiscal year.

Lewis Gives Order For Return To Work

PITTSBURGH, March 24. (AP)—John L. Lewis today ordered his 463,000 idle coal miners to return to work Monday.

An executive order to district officers said:

"The present memorial period will terminate Monday, March 28. Production may then be resumed in all mines and all members should make themselves available for work on that date."

Rankin's Bill Is Shelved By 1-Vote Margin

Little Chance Of New Attempt This Session Is Seen

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24. — By a one vote margin, the House today shelved the Rankin veteran's pension bill.

A roll-call vote of 208 to 207 sent the measure back to the veterans committee for further study.

It is possible for the veterans' committee to write a new bill and send it back to the House at a later date.

But Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) told the House the vote to recommit meant that the bill is dead.

Killed For This Session

"That kills this legislation for this Congress," Rankin said.

Rankin's bill already had been so amended that it bore little resemblance to his original proposal for $90 a month pensions at age 65 to all World War one and World War two veterans.

The vote to throw it back to committee climaxed a series of maneuvers on the floor.

Rep. Teague (D-Tex) made the motion to send it back.

The roll call vote was first announced as 209 to 208 against the motion.

But on a recount, it developed that the tabulators had erred on the first count.

No Vote Switches

There were no vote switches on the recapitulation.

Rep. McCormick (D-Mass), presiding in the absence from the city of Speaker Rayburn, ordered the recount on hi sown initiative.

The House sat in tense silence as the names of each member and the way they voted were called out by clerks. It was so quiet the automatic counter used by the clerks could be heard clicking.

It was the closest vote on a major bill in the House since late in 1941, when, by a one-vote margin, the bill to continue the draft law was passed.

Two non-record votes preceded the roll calls.

New Anti-Red Pacts Slated

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Proposals for the United States to support some new non-Communist defense pacts are expected here as soon as the North Atlantic treaty is out of the way.

Diplomatic authorities said today that so far two alliance systems have been informally talked about and appear most likely to receive serious consideration. These are:

1. An Eastern Mediterranean-Near Eastern treaty based on Iran, Turkey and Greece and designed to provide a greater degree of security in that strategic area of the world.

China Threat Seen

2. A Southeast Asian-Southwest Pacific system designed to provide some kind of machinery to deal with the growing threat resulting from Communist successes in China.

So far the possibility of new international organizations along these lines is only in the idea stage, at least as far as Washington is concerned. But once the Senate discussion of the Atlantic pact is over, authorities are sure much more will be heard of them.

Abroad, proposals for an Eastern Mediterranean pact have been more fully developed. Both the Greek and Turkish foreign ministers have discussed the idea with British Foreign Minister Bevin. It is possible that Bevin and Acheson may take up the subject when

$15 Million Rural Roads Bill Signed

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today signed the bill allocating 15 million dollars a year for rural road construction.

His signature completed enactment of the measure by Senator Neveille H. Colson of Navasota.

"Priority will be given to presently unimproved roads that are found to be most needed as feeder routes, secondary roads, school bus routes, rural mail routes, milk routes, and so on," Jester said.

New Plan Proposed On Security Taxes

By FRANCES M. LeMAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A new "stamp - book" tax-paying system was suggested today by the administration to help make possible a vast expansion of social security.

The stamp system is designed principally for farm workers and household help who would be among the 20,000,000 new workers blanketed under old age insurance if Congress approves the expansion.

Arthur J. Altmeyer, social security commissioner, projected the tax plan as he laid before the House ways and means committee the details of President Truman's program to:

Stiff Resistance Looms

1. Increase the coverage of old age and survivors insurance from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000 workers; 2. Boost the insurance benefits by about double; 3. Create a new insurance program for disabled workers; and 4. Reduce the "pension age" for women from 65 to 60.

Stiff resistance already has formed against Mr. Truman's proposal to increase the security tax take from the present $1,800,000,000 a year to around $5,000,000,000.

As part of the battle to prevent "destisution," Altmeyer said, the insurance program should be expanded to include 6,000,000 farm operators; 7,700,000 urban self-employed (lawyers, doctors, businesmen, etc.); 3,000,000 domestic or household workers, and 4,700,000 hired farm workers.

Quotes From Poll

And while the President had some rough things to say about pollsters after last November's election, Altmeyer today quoted from a Gallup poll to show that most farmers want social security insurance.

The categories of enployed persons he listed were skipped when the social security act first was passed 12 years ago because of

Endurance Fliers Reach 210th Hour

MIAMI, Fla., March 24 (AP) Two Californians passed their 210th hour aloft today in their attempt to break the world's record for endurance flying.

Bill Barris, 36, and Dick Riedel, 34, refueled their tiny plane, "Sunkist Lady," from a speeding jeep this morning and took on hot food.

They had been in the air 210 hours. The record is 726 hours, set in 1939.

Barris and Riedel took off from Fullerton, Calif., on March 15.

Schools Will Be Dedicated

Dedication services are to be held tonight at four Lubbock public schools opened since last September.

The services, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, will be at O. L. Slaton and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High schools and M. C. Overton and P. F. Brown Elementary schools.

After brief dedication ceremonies, all four schools will remain open for inspection by visitors. Students of each school will serve as guides for the inspection tours.

Programs Arranged

Faculty members, Parent-Teacher association representatives, and student council members have made arrangements for tonight's programs, each of which will include selections.

At. O. L. Slaton, Walter Posey will present an address concerning the late O. L. Slaton, sr., for whom the school is named.

Dr. William H. Gordon will speak on Dr J. T. Hutchinson at the Hutchinson Junior High school ceremony.

George Dupree is to talk on Dr. M. C. Overton at the Overton school dedication, and Dr. M. Norvel Young will speak on the late P. F. Brown at the Brown school ceremony.

Principals In Charge

Principals of the schools will be in charge of their respective programs. They are G. E. Dawson, Slaton; Jay Gordon, Hutchinson; Lennon Hill, Overton; and Mrs. Ruth Carter, Brown.

The general public has been invited by R. W. Matthews, Lubbock public schools superintendent, to attend tonight's ceremonies. Matthews said the programs would be so arranged that a person might attend the dedication service at one school, and then make the inspection tour at another school, if he so desired.

Man Sentenced For Strangling Of Wife

HARROGATE, Eng., March 24. (AP)—A man who said he strangled his wife because she nagged him while he was reading the Bible was sent to prison today for five years.

Donald Lobban Yarrow, 45, was originally charged with murder, but an all-male jury reduced the charge to manslaughter. His wife, Lilian, a 41-year-old boarding house keeper, was found strangled in the kitchen of their home last Dec. 31.

He told police when arrested that he "saw red" when his wife, holding a table knife, told him she would throw him out of the house if he didn't get a job.

"She was strutting about like a bantam cock in a farmyard," he later testified in court. "When I came to myself, I found I had my hands around her throat and we were both on the floor."

Sister Of Dead Girl Is Found

MINNEAPOLIS, March 24. (AP) A teen-aged couple wed six days today were central figures in a Wisconsin slaying mystery.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Babich, taken into custody here last night after a widespread search. The hunt started when the body of Patricia Birmingham, 16-year-old sister of the bride was recovered Sunday from the Milwaukee river near her West Allis, Wis., home.

Milwaukee officers, who said they want the Babichs for questioning will fly the couple there today. They are expected to arrive in time for Patricia's funeral.

Feared Wedding Annulment

The newlyweds, held in jail overnight, denied any knowledge of how Patricia went to her death. They told police they had heard Patricia's body was found. But they kept silent because of fear their parents would annul their marriage.

Eugene Bernath, Minneapolis detective inspector, said the couple told this story during 90 minutes of questioning:

The two eloped from their West Allis homes last Thursday and went to Kalamazoo, Mich. No particular reason—just a place on the map away from home. A justice there waived the five-day waiting period and they were married next day. Babich gave his wife's age as 18. She is 17

Jane Wyman, Olivia DeHavilland Lead Race For Oscars

English Film Expected To Give U. S. Movies Strong Battle For Academy Awards Tonight

By HOWARD C. HEYN
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, March 24. The Academy of Motion Picture Arts & Sciences hands out its 1948 Oscars tonight, and it looks like England's show—at last.

If this be heresy in Hollywood, then build my gallows high. Because I believe Sir Laurence Olivier and his majestic "Hamlet" should win the best actor and best film awards.

Jane Wyman should get the nod as best actress, in "Johnny Belinda."

Of course (here comes the hedging), if voting among the 1,987 academy members follows a strictly American pattern, "Johnny Belinda" will make "Hamlet" move over.

Miss Wyman's only serious worry, I think, is Olivia De Havilland's performance in "The Snake Pit." And Oliver could be displaced as best actor by Lew Ayres, also in "Johnny Belinda."

A British picture has never won the top award. This year, for the first time, two British films, "Hamlet," and "The Red Shoes," were nominated. Other contenders are "Johnny Belinda" "The Snake Pit," and "The Treasure of Sierra Madre."

With Olivier and Ayres on the list of best actor nominees are Montgomery Clift ("The Search"), Dan Dailey ("When My Baby Smiles at Me") and Clifton Webb ("Sitting Pretty"). Olivier was nominated for the same honor two years ago, for his "Henry V."

Miss Wyman and Miss De Havilland are competing with Ingrid Bergman ("Joan of Arc"), Irene Dunne ("I Re-

ACC Officials Seek Surplus Housing

WASHINGTON, March 24. (Special)—Two Abilene Christian college officials conferred with Texas Congressmen and federal public housing officials today in an attempt to get Ellis homes, Big Spring housing project, for the college.

B. Sherrod of Lubbock, president of the ACC board of directors, and Don Morris, president of the college, talked with Reps. George H. Mahon, Colorado City, and Omar Burleson, Anson.

Ellis home was a housing project erected during the war. The buildings, which have been declared surplus, face dismantling soon under federal law. ACC officials hope, however, to obtain them for use of students at the college.

Compromise Due On Rent Controls

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24—The House refused today to accept Senate amendments to its bill continuing rent controls. The decision will send the measure to a Senate-House conference committee to work out a compromise.

Rent controls will expire a week from today, unless a compromise can be reached and the bill put on President Truman's desk at that time.

Controls Not As Strong

Neither Senate nor House bill makes rent controls as strong or continues them as long as President Truman asked.

But Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill described as a "pretty good job" the amended bill approved by the Senate last night, 68 to 10. They didn't like a provision allowing "home rule" decontrol at any time. The House-approved measure also has a local option clause, although the Senate and House decontrol systems differ in some respects.

The Senate measure permits some rent increases up to 10 per cent. The House measure provides for no percentage rent hikes, but stipulates that, so far as practicable, the rent administrator must assure a reasonable return on reasonable value of rented property.

HST Favored Two Years

A 15 months continuation is provided by the House bill. Control for "12 to 15" month was voted by the Senate. President Truman asked that the controls be strengthen and continue for 24 months beyond March 31.

The Senate-House conference group plans to get together tomorrow.

The Senate bill also allows states to remove controls whenever the legislature passed a law

Last Battleship In Pacific Withdrawn

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24. (U.P.)—The U. S. Navy's last battleship in the Pacific—the 45,000-ton USS Iowa—joined the mothball fleet today.

Decommissioning ceremonies were held for the super-battlewagon at Hunter's point naval shipyard. In the ensuing months, the Iowa will be "pickled"—her 16-inch guns encased in preservative and her thousands of intricate machines covered with a coating of rubber, spun glass and plastic.

Only the USS Missouri remains of the 17 class "A" battleships afloat on V-J day. Of those 17, six are in mothballs on the West coast, eight are standing idle in their protective cocoons on the East coast, two were sunk as targets ships and one, the USS Texas, is encased in concrete in the Texas Gulf as a war shrine.

Deep Discovery Possibilities In Cedar Lake Area Weakened

Possibilities of a deep discovery i nthe Cedar Lake area of northeast Gaines county have been weakened by a second drillstem test of the prospective zone at Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 15 American Warehouse company fee.

The examination was for one hour at 12,345-370 feet, in a formation unofficially identified as Devonian. The test had a weak blow of air at the surface for eight minutes, dying at the end of that time, and recovered 1,800-foot water blanket followed by 10 feet of drilling mud. There were no shows of oil, gas or water.

This prospector, located in the shallow Cedar Lake and surrounded by producers from the San Andres-Permian, is drilling ahead in hard lime.

It is 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey. The prospect is an oil wildcat temporarily abandoned on 11,954 feet for more than four years. It was re-entered for further deepening on February 24.

Drilling Ahead

Venturing deep in the Landon field area of extreme south-central Cochran county, Stanolind No. 1 Adams was beyond 11,640 feet in lime and chert, drilling ahead. The present strata is thought to be still Mississippian.

This prospector, 457 feet from south and 1,063 feet from west lines of section 13, block L, psl survey, mised the Strawn-Pennsylvanian pay of the Landon pool and is continuing as a wildcat.

To Clean Out, Test

Humble Oil & Refining company was swabbing to clean out and test in the northwest Scurry county Ellenburger with its No. 1-B Moore, possible discovery from that formation 10 miles northwest of Snyder.

Swabbing on perforations at 8,200-40 feet, opposite the Ellenburger, was showing small amounts of oil along with drilling mud and basic sediment. The well has made several small heads of oil, mud and basic sediment, but as yet has developed no free oil.

Location is 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 492, block 97, H&TC survey.

Drillstem Test Taken

A drillstem test was taken in an unidentified sand and shale formation above the Canyon-Pennsylvanian at J. L. Collins, et al, No. 1 Parks, north-central Scurry county wildcat, eight miles north of Snyder and 1,980 feet from north, 330 feet from west lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

The investigation had the tool open one hour and 45 minutes at 5,616-5,786 feet, recovering 600 feet of drilling mud and 600 feet of salt water. More hole was being made.

TEST IS RUN

The Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian made water for Placid Oil company No. 1 Odom, wildcat in Northeast Scurry county, six and one-half miles northeast of Snyder and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 338, block 97, H&TC survey.

After topping the Canyon on 7,030 feet, the venture ran a drillstem test at 7,039-90 feet, with the tool open two hours and 53 minutes. A fair blow of air held at the surface throughout the test. Recovery was 510 feet of muddy salt water and 30 feet of very salty mud. Preparations were being made to drill ahead.

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware and Pan American Production company No. 1 Good, southwest Borden county wildcat, 1,965 feet from south and 2,004 feet from west lines of section 37, block 33, TP survey, T-4-N, and six miles northwest of the Vealmoor field, took a 30 minutes drillstem test at 7,413-7,560 feet.

There was a slight blow of air for a part of the period. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. No pressures were recorded.

The venture is making hole below 7,570 feet in a Pennsylvanian lime and shale formation.

Decline Of Living Costs Is Expected

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—A new government appraisal of living costs today is expected to show a decline for the fifth straight month.

The government's consumers price index has declined steadily for the past four months from the August-September peak. A further decline in the latest issue of the index was forecast by statistical commissioner Ewan Clague.

Today's index will reflect consumer prices for Mid-February. Food costs probably will show a drop for the seventh straight month. Continuing wholesale price declines have telegraphed further reductions at the retail level.

Clague, however, has said the price decline is likely to come to a halt soon. He told reporters the usual springtime price rise probably will take place and level off prices or start them upward again on a slight rise.

Floydada Rotarians Hear Lubbock Editor

FLOYDADA, March 24 (Special)—Seventy Floydada Rotarians and their guests, meeting at the American Legion Annex at noon Wednesday, heard Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal newspapers, discuss "Area Solidarity" in an informal address.

John W. Reue, outgoing president of the club, presided at the luncheon. Rev. Lloyd H. Jones presented traditional anniversary gifts to Mrs. Hollis Bond and Mrs. Garlan Glover, who were special guests.

New officers, who will take office in May, were introduced. They are John B. Stapleton, president; Hollis R. Bond, vice president; S. W. Ross, re-elected secretary; and R. E. Fry, Carl L. Minor, jr., and W. E. "Billy" Brown, jr., directors.

Cecil Haygood was program chairman for the day.

In his brief talk Guy recommended that West Texans give serious thought to the political interests of the area.

"We in West Texas are, politically, the red-headed stepchild of Texas," he asserted. He expressed belief that the average West Texan wants fair, honest and just representation for Texas—and isn't getting it.

Russian Press Suggests Wolf Hunt In Finland Spying Move

MOSCOW, March 24 (AP)—The Soviet press cocked a wary eye today at a Finnish wolf hunt, hinging possible ulterior motives. The hunt was reported to have taken place in Lapland, which borders on Russian territory.

Pravda said the total of four wolves bagged by what it termed a highly organized expedition "supports the theory the hunt had more important purposes."

Izvestia, the government newspaper, quoted the Finnish popular democratic newspaper Vapaa Sana as saying certain American and British circles were tremendously interested in the hunt.

Results Called Modest

A Tass dispatch from Finland said "judging from the press the notorious 'wolf hunt' in Lapland with the use of radio, planes and air photo in which a large number of people took part yielded very modest results."

Izvestia said two Finnish generals took part in the hunt. The Tass dispatch then said a small bag of four wolves indicated the real purpose of the hunt was something else.

A previous reference to the hunt in the Soviet press hinted that planes equipped with photographic apparatus might have been interested in taking pictures of something other than wolves.

Frats In Michigan Fight Discrimination

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 24. (AP)—Fraternities and sororities at the University of Michigan have begun an all-out drive to abolish discrimination in their national constitutions.

The inter-fraternity council and the Pan-Hellenic council formed a ten-member investigating group to decide the best way to combat racial and religious discrimination in charters of their members.

The investigating committee plans to present a "concrete plan of action on a national level before the end of the semester."

Tight Blockade Of Red German Zone Dangerous, Bevin Claims

LONDON, March 24 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons last night a total economic blockade of Soviet-controlled eastern Germany would lead to war.

Politicians on both sides of the Atlantic have suggested a complete counter-blockade of eastern Germany in retaliation against the Russian blockade of west Berlin.

"I do not want to break east-west trade," Bevin said. He contended such a shut-off "means sanctions, and sanctions mean war."

He added, however, that materials which could be used in a war against the Western powers should not be shipped to eastern areas.

Western Europe Saved

The Russian zone of Germany still does business with a number of Western countries, including Switzerland, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Belgium and Denmark.

The Western allies' counter-blockade has stopped the movement of goods through their zone to the Soviet area of Germany, but east Germany still gets supplies from several Western countries over other routes, mostly by sea.

Bevin, speaking in a debate on European affairs, said the West already has "saved" France, Italy and western Germany from Communism.

He spoke after Conservative Harold MacMillan had told the House he expects Russia will offer "a fake appeasement" and seek a treaty ending allied occupation of Germany.

Attempted Coup Seen

MacMillan predicted also the Russians will attempt "quite shortly" a coup in Yugoslavia and Greece in an effort to seize control of the eastern Mediterranean.

In the House of Lords, where a similar debate was held, Lord Pakenham, minister of civil aviation, warned that "there is danger of war this year, and I am afraid there will be for a number of years to come." He emphasized "that does not mean the government thinks war is probable this year," although it is preparing to meet "any emergency."

Bevin, who will leave for Washington Friday to attend the signing of the North Atlantic treaty, assured Commons that "western Germany is safe. I don't believe that they will go Communist now."

"I believe eastern and western Germany will unite," he added. "I do not think anyone can stop it."

He said the British-American airlift supplying blockaded west Berlin will be stepped up. It now carries 7,000 to 8,000 tons of food and materials a day.

LOVE LAUGHS AT APPENDECTOMY—The Rev. Vernon Firme, pastor of the Christ Evangelical church at Houston, marries Miss Marily Wareham, 19, to Thomas W Elliott, a 27-year-old Pinkerton detective, in the latter's hospital room. The couple had planned a church wedding but Elliott was stricken with appendicitis and taken to the hospital.

Coal Walkout End Indicated

PITTSBURGH, March 24. (AP)—Two of John L. Lewis' field lieutenants said today the two-week coal mine shutdown will end on schedule Monday.

Although Lewis kept a stern silence at his home in Virginia, two district presidents of the United Mine workers predicted there would be no move to extend the work stoppage beyond the March 28 deadline.

Outside the union, many feared Lewis' rebuff by the U. S. Senate this week might prolong the walkout.

Lewis had announced the walkout was a protest against the nomination of Dr. James Boyd as U. S. bureau of mines director. The work stoppage was eight days old when the Senate confirmed Dr. Boyd's appointment Tuesday by a thumping 50-11 vote.

Men Expected On Job

Lewis said also the shutdown was a memorial for the 51 000 miners killed and injured last year.

John P. Busarello, president of UMW district 5, which governs about 27,000 mine-members in western Pennsylvania, said:

"It is my judgment that the original instructions will be carried out.

"We went out on the 14th and we'll be back on the 28th."

Fred Gullick, secretary-treasurer of district 5, flatly declared:

"They'll all be at work, definitely—except maybe a few who'll be sick or something."

At Clearfield, Pa., James Mark, president of UMW district 2 with a membership of about 40,000, likewise predicted the walkout's end according to plan.

Lost Wages Lamented

But he lamented the forfeited salaries and feared the miners would be unable to "make up any lost wages after the holiday ends."

Nor will the coal industry be quickly to recapture its lost production from the two weeks of idleness. After a walkout last year the nation's coal stockpile was laboriously rebuilt.

When the memorial period began 10 days ago, the U. S. had a record 70 million tons of coal above ground, 40 per cent better than the normal 50 million tons. The miners' memorial, experts calculate, will have eaten the reserve back down just about to normal, by the time the pits are opened Monday.

Few believe the coal operators will be able to rebuild their stricken stocks in the two short months before annual contract negotiations begin.

The present contract ends June 30. Lewis is expected to begin bargaining about mid-May.

Busy Beavers Cause Floods In Canada

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 24 (AP)—The busy beaver apparently has been too busy in New Brunswick, causing flood damage with his dams.

From April 11-May 10 the government will allow trapping in the province by permit.

If they'd let well enough alone, the beavers would have continued to be protected by a year-round closed season.

Oscar Winner Will Be Awarded Tonight

Latins Prefer U. S. Tunes To Rhumbas; Wyman Slate Full

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, March 24.—Whether or not she wins the academy award tonight, Jane Wyman will have a loaded schedule.

"I figure to have my first day off about Jan. 2, 1950," she told me. As soon as she finishes "The Octopus and Miss Smith," she sails for England to do an Alfred Hitchcock thriller, "Stage Fright." Then she returns to Warners for the daughter role in "Glass Menagerie."

The Hitchcock film was originally from the novel "Man Running." The pudgy director enthused about the book to Miss Wyman and told her to read it. She did, and weeks later saw Hitchcock again and said she was enthralled with the story. "Forget it," he answered. "We're rewriting it entirely."

May Compete With Self

Incidentally, Jane may be competing with herself on the air tonight. She is on the Burns and Allen show, tape recorded last night. If she wins the academy award—and she's the favorite—she'll accept the oscar at the same time the comedy show is on the west coast airwaves!

Lina Romay, who left Xavier Cugat's South American tour in Venezuela, denies having a tiff with the maestro. However, the singer-actress indicates she won't appear with Cugie again. She reports the Latins preferred U. S. tunes to the Cugat-style rhumbas. "They're wild about 'Buttons and Bows'," she said.

Roy Rogers is getting ready to convert to a new Trigger. His famed hoss is pushing 12 years of age and getting near retirement. The Ohio cowpoke will introduce a Trigger, jr., in "The Golden Stallion." Actually, the young nag is no relation, which shows you just can't believe anything about four-legged film stars. Lassie is a he, you know.

Good news for Laurel and Hardy fans. Hardy tells me he and Stan will probably make their film return in Glenn McCarthy's "My Darling Is a Kangaroo," which is the worst title since "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands." Before the re-teaming, Hardy does a single in "Strange Caravan" and "Riding High."

Bing Crosby's "Riding High" goes to Tanforan race track for location shots. That's where racing scenes were made for the original film, "Broadway Bill." I hear the Crosby version sticks pretty close to the Warner-Baxter one.

Jerome Courtland moves to MGM for a G. I. role in "Battleground." He's still under contract to Columbia, which has done little with him since he returned from the service. Too bad, because he's an intriguing personality. He has matured greatly from when he played the gangling kid in "Kiss and Tell."

Nelson Eddy and Dorothy Kirsten again replace the Al Jolson show this summer. Jolson quits on his birthday, May 26. Just which birthday is a matter of local debate. Jolson says it'll be 61. Other estimates range up to 67 or more.

Guest To Discuss Business Opportunities For Seniors

MRS. CLARA G. SNYDER

"The home economics student who chooses a career in business finds a little glamour and excitement along with interesting and worthwhile work," says Mrs. Clara Gerhard Snyder, director of the Wheat Flour institute of Chicago, who will speak for 60 home economics seniors of Tech Friday morning at 11 o'clock in Annex G of the home economics building. In her talk, the guest will give the seniors a preview of some of the opportunities in the business field.

Mrs. Snyder directs the work of 12 graduate home economists in the institute; two of the 12 are Tech graduates, Gwen Lam, a 1943 graduate, and Joelline Vannoy, a 1931 graduate. Six of the group are field representatives who travel throughout the United States presenting lecture-demonstrations and cooking schools for college classes and adult groups. In Chicago a test kitchen is maintained where other home economists test and develop recipes with enriched wheat flour. These recipes are then made available to homemakers through newspapers, radio and publications.

The institute director will speak Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in Chimayo room of Hilton hotel at a banquet to be given by Lubbock Dietetic association.

Previous to her work with wheat flour, Mrs. Snyder organized the department of Foods and Nutrition for the Institute of American Poultry industries in Chicago. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and Iowa State college where she taught foods and nutrition.

Woman Asks For Friends: What's the Matter With Average Male Who Shuns Marriage

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: On behalf of several dear friends, I seek your views on the following question: What's the matter with the average male today who is indifferent to marriage?

Some of my bachelor friends say in all seriousness that it is foolish for a man to marry today. They say the average bachelor has a comfortable apartment; usually he can cook or he has a housekeeper; he can romance with different lovely ladies when he chooses; so why burden himself with the support of a wife and family?

The bachelors of whom I speak are worldly, intelligent, with upper educational training; they are successful in business or a profession; they have good character and a nice disposition. In short, they are very attractive husband-material. Why, then, have they no desire to build genuine social solidarity in companionship and comradeship with a wife?

ARE MEN ADOPTING NEW SOCIAL VALUES?

MY WOMEN friends are attractive, too; intelligent, of good family, some of them are well-to-do; and they all deeply desire to have a husband, home and family. But they receive continual rebuffs from these defensive bachelors, who admit—to me and them — that the girls are all that a man could want; but the stark bare fact remains that these men don't want to marry, period.

Have our social values changed so drastically that marriage is nowadays regarded by worldly men as a "trap for fools," into which only the young and unwary fall? Are fine young women doomed to lead lonely unfulfilled lives, because of this cynical egocentric male attitude? Your opinions will be appreciated. — Signed L. D.

SHE IS SPEAKING OF BIOLOGIC DUDS

DEAR L. D.: These men of whom you speak can't rightly be called good husband-material. They are sissy-men and immature men, who haven't got what it takes, psychologically, to step out boldly into the reproductive role, carrying the burdens that go with it in civilized society.

Some are still sucklings, psychologically, in relation to their mother-attachment. Others have advanced a few notches beyond that; perhaps up to the intermediate level of fraternal attachment to their own sex. But as nature and social science reckons the male adult, they are substandard. They are biologic "duds" who don't get married because instinct tells them they aren't "man" enough yet to cherish a wife and children with comfort, satisfaction and success.

Thus, they're dealing in sophistry, in deceptive argumentation, when they try to put a "wise" face on their resistance to mankind's normal function, which is to mate and propagate and devotedly provide nurture for the new generation. And when they play at normalcy, by offering romance to fulfillment-seeking ladies, they are baiting a trap for fools — because a woman who wants a mate and children in "social solidarity" is indeed a fool to waste time on them.

SCOURGE OF WAR BLIGHTS SOCIETY

HOWEVER, these eunuch-types have always existed in the human race; and are no more numerous in modern times than in past centuries, probably, if you pro-rate them against the rising population.

I hardly think our social values have regressed to a point where marriage is no longer considered worthwhile by knowledgeable people. Rather the growth of educational media seems to be bringing about a more general appreciation of good marriage, parenthood and loyal family unity as the richest fundamental source of strength and greatest blessing the individual can experience.

Unfortunately, many fine women are destined to lead lonely half-lives, due to scarcity of marriageable males; but this isn't so much because certain infantile or effeminate bachelors aren't "willing," as because war—humanity's self-induced scourge—periodically kills off the "flower of manhood" in its prime. And as you know, this has happened twice recently, twice during the husband-hunting years of your women friends, probably.—M. H.

Piano Recital Given By Primary Pupil

Mrs. Wallace A. Glover presented Mary Elizabeth Ellis in primary piano recital Tuesday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ellis, 2432 Twenty-second. Eight numbers were played by the pupil.

A tea hour followed the program. Twenty persons signed the guest book.

M. Bucy Honored

When Mrs. W. G Alderson and Mrs. Bert Pinson entertained at a Lubbock Country club luncheon today at 1 o'clock, Miss Fartha Busy, bride-elect of Julius Hegyi, was named honoree.

Guests were Miss Bucy, her mother, Mrs. R. T. Bucy, and Mesdames Eugene Alderson, Orville Alderson, Roland Nabors and Raymond Pendleton of Roy, N. M.

Mrs. M. D. Tempble, 2422 Fifteenth, honored Miss Bucy at a pre-bridal breakfast Wednesday at her home. Sprigs of white sprayed evergreen were arranged in a centerpiece which was accented with tiny silver wedding bells tied with pink and white maline. The bride-elect was presented a corsage of white snapdragons and a gift of crysal.

Those attending in addition to the honoree and her mother, were Mesdames Owen McWhorter, G. C. Turner, Maple Wilson, Charles Bucy, Ed Hambright and Clint Davis.

Entertaining for Miss Bucy Wednesday at noon were Mrs. Thord Dockray and Mrs. Robert W. Wright who gave a luncheon at Hector's. Jonquills and Dutch iris centered the table and a gift of silver marked the honoree's place.

Others on the list were Mesdames R. T. Bucy, Leslie Blawn, Jack Dudley, Ed Hambright, J. D. Hassell, jr., L. M. Jones, H. M. Sharpe, R. M. Tierce and T. R. Prideaux.

Three Men Receive Prison Terms Here

Twelve years in the penitentiary were assessed by 72nd District Judge Dan Blair after the court had overruled new trial motions of two defendants and accepted a plea of guilty from a third, it was announced Wednesday.

Rufus Doyle Eady, 24, of San Angelo, and Shirley Roy Beit, 23, of Sweetwater, each of whom had been convicted March 3 of car theft, were sentenced to five years each in the penitentiary after their new trial motions were overruled.

Lubbock Man Sentenced

Howard Jones, 22, of Lubbock, pleaded guilty of forgery in connection with the passing Nov. 16 of an $80.64 check to a Piggly-Wiggly store here. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr represented the state in the proceedings.

Sam McDaniel, 56-year-old Lubbock negro, was charged with theft by bailee in justice court of C. E. Lynn after Catherine Overstreet complained that he received $52 from her to be paid to another person, but fraudulently converted it to his own benefit.

He was arrested early last night by Deputies Sheriff John Barnett and B. F. Forrester on a work train west of Posey.

Lynn set bond of $1,000 in binding the defendant over to grand jury investigation.

Ina Bacon of 2223 Ninth street told city police that a spare tire and tube valued at $45 had been stolen from a car at her residence.

Pistol Reported Stolen

A P-38 pistol, valued at $30, and $1.50 in cash were taken in a burglary last weekend of the residence of Charles Outlaw of 2606 Twenty-first, Outlaw told police Wednesday.

Mrs. Leona Hawkins of 518 Ave. C asked police to be on the lookout for a billfold containing $165 cash which she said she lost Wednesday in 600-block Broadway.

Farm Session Set Saturday

LEVELLAND, March 24 (Spl.)—More than 1,500 South Plains farmers and stockman together with their families are expected to gather here Saturday for the fifteenth annual stockholder's meeting of the Lubbock Production Credit association. The meeting will take place in the Junior High school auditorium. Registration is scheduled to start at 9 a. m. and the business sessions will begin at 10.

The meeting is being held outside of Lubbock for the first time since the incorporation of the organization, according to P. J. Marcom, Levelland field office manager, who heads a 25 man committee making arrangements for entertaining the visitors. Co-chairmen of the members committee are Gordon McMillan and Lindsey Dycus.

From Several Counties

The association members will come from Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum, Gaines, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Crosby and Lubbock counties.

Business to be transacted will include the annual report of the directors, financial report of the Secretary-Treasurer and discussion of current credit problems. Also, two directors are to be elected to fill the expiring three-year terms of Fred McGinty of Tahoka and E. L. Carlisle of Ralls. A nominating committee has offered as director candidates for place one: Fred McGinty and Wilmer Smith of Lynn county; for place two: E. L. Carlisle and Lloyd Parkhill of Crosby county.

E. R. Davis, president, Lubbock, will preside at the business session. Director Fred McGinty will supervise preparation and serving of the barbecue lunch. Directors other than Davis, McGinty and Carlisle are C. E. Hicks, Meadow and A. B. Roberts, Flats Gin community, representing Hockley and Cochran counties.

Following the meeting an open house will be held at the organizations' office at 507 Avenue G. Marcom says that this is the only office building owned by the group. Also, the directors will hold their organization meeting at 2:00 p. m. in the board room of the Levelland Farmers Coop Gin.

Out of area visitors are expected from Abilene, Plainview, Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Houston.

Soviet Union Blamed For Unrest In World

SPARTANBURG, S. C., March 24. (AP)—Calling for strong national defense, James F. Byrnes last night laid the world's unrest at Russia's doorstep.

The former secretary of state spoke at ceremonies awarding him the Veteran's of Foreign Wars national citizenship medal.

"Our efforts to make the peace have been futile," Byrnes declared. He urged America to adopt some form of universal military training, continue the production of atomic bombs and quickly ratify the North Atlantic pact.

"It is regrettable we must talk of war, but it is nearly four years since the cessation of hostilities in Europe. Today there is no peace," Byrnes said.

He said the Soviets have "violated many solemn agreements with us," and added:

"The present government of the Soviet Union will keep the peace as long as it is in their interest to do so. It will be in their interest to keep the peace as long as America stands firm and keeps strong."

Husky Men Prepare For Muscle Contest

LOS ANGELES, March 24 (INS) Some of America's huskiest specimens were warming up in Los Angeles today, preparatory for the "Mr. U. S. A." contest on Saturday night when the nation's most muscular man will be named.

Winner of the contest will receive a gold trophy and $1,000. Entrants include Steve Reeves of Oakland, who recently won a "Mr. World" contest in Nice; George Eiferman of Philadelphia, recent "Mr. America" winner, and John Grimek of York, Pa., who won a London "Mr. Universe" contest.

Suspected Fugitive From School Held

HOUSTON, March 24. (U.P.)—Police last night took into custody a young girl believed to be a fugitive from the Gainesville state school for girls.

It was believed she was the same girl connected with the death Dec. 15 of a Dallas jail matron in an attempted jail break. The matron, Kassie M. Chandler, 59, died some 12 hours after she was attacked. The autopsy attributed her death to head injuries.

Della Brusso, 15, was sentenced to the Gainesville school by Judge Sarah T. Hughes until she is 21. The Brusso girl's companion, Katherine McGhee, likewise was sentenced to Gainesville.

The Brusso girl has admitted being married four times. She has twice previously been sentenced to Gainesville and her escape there four weeks ago was her third break from the institution. The girl also has been arrested on charges of violating narcotic laws and on prostitution charges.

The attempted Dallas jail break occurred when the matron went to the girls' cell to give them some food. The matron was attacked and knocked down, her head striking the concrete floor. Other jail employes arrived before the two girls were able to escape.

School Groups Studying UN

BALTIMORE, March 24 (AP) — In the high schools and colleges of Maryland are several thousand students who, unlike Americans in general, know something about the United Nations beyond what they read in the newspapers.

They are members of the United Nations Youth, which was set up by the United Nations association of Maryland to generate extra-curricular study of the world organization and to foster international "co-operation and understanding" among young people.

The association believes the UN can succeed only if an informed public opinion is behind it. Its director, Mrs. W. H. Maltbie, has an ambitious program based on a conviction that the story of the U. N. must be understood especially by young people.

Young Folk Care

"They are the ones who care more for peace, because they have been or would be directly affected by war," said Mrs. Maltbie, a widow who lost her only son in World War II and who dropped her school teaching temporarily to be director of the association.

United Nations Youth has a student membership in 12 junior high schools, about 60 senior high schools and 17 colleges of Maryland. The movement has the complete backing of the public, private and parochial school authorities.

In a well-rounded activity program aimed toward "accentuating the positive" of the UN, members of the United Nations Youth set up their own school meetings, elect officers, arrange radio broadcasts, exchange ideas with young representatives of other nations. They even make a trip to Lake Success now and then.

"We try to gather every bit of information we can about the United Nations and to get a true perspective on it," Mrs. Maltbie said.

"Too much data about the UN is put on the level of a person who already is studying on an international level."

Membership Growing

The association itself, whose president is Charles L. Marburg, vice president of the World Federation of United Nations associations, has a rapidly expanding membership of citizens "eager to know what the UN is all about." The membership at present stands at about 12,000.

In an announcement inviting prospective members to attend a recent United Nations Institute in Baltimore, the association took the stand that the "conflicts" within the UN were brought to the public's attention while the "more important achievements" were minimized.

The "inside story" of the UN's accomplishments must reach the public at large, the association said, or the UN will be on shaky ground.

"It must succeed in Maryland or it can succeed nowhere," the institute announcement said.

"If we in Maryland do not support this program overwhelmingly, what can we expect of Paris, Milan or Chungking?"

Floyd Courthouse Plans Are Delayed

FLOYDADA, March 24. (Special)—Any decision on the rebuilding of the Floyd county courthouse which burned March 11 depends on first obtaining an insurance settlement, county officials indicated Wednesday.

The 37-year-old structure is again in partial use, but the upper floors are completely burned out. Doubling up in offices on the first floor and in the basement are the county judge, sheriff, treasurer, collector-assessor, county school superintendent, county and district clerks and surveyor. The county and district attorney have occupied offices in the business district and all courts are held in a small first-floor courtroom.

The building was insured for $200,000, and contents were insured for $25,000.

County Judge G. C. Tubbs said he had heard of no petitions for a bond election as yet. Architects have started a survey of damage, and out of the survey is expected to come definite information as to whether the building can be rebuilt on its present existing walls and foundation, or whether a new building must be started from the ground.

After that decision is made, county officials will know whether a bond issue is required and how much.

President Praises Forrestal At Farewell Dinner In Capital

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) President Truman said last night retiring Secretary of Defense James Forrestal promised to return to government service in case of an emergency.

Forrestal will be succeeded by Louis Johnson next week.

Mr. Truman said Forrestal served his country at "tremendous sacrifice" and has sought to retire for some time. The President said he finally accepted the resignation for Forrestal's "own welfare."

He praised the defense secretary's "great public record" and then told a dinner party given in the retiring official's honor:

Truman Arrives Late

"I have succeeded in getting an agreement out of him that in case of necessity he would come back and serve in whatever position the President at the time would see fit to ask him to serve."

The dinner was given by the three secretaries under Forrestal —Royall of the Army, Sullivan of the Navy, and Symington of the Air Force. About 30 guests were present, including several members of the cabinet.

Mr. Truman arrived late, explaining he had dinner with his daughter Margaret, here for the week-end.

After his remarks praising Forrestal's record, the President said:

"Jim, I hope I am as well thought of when I leave the public service as you are."

"You needn't worry about that," Forrestal replied.

Laundry Victor In First Labor Case

ODESSA, March 24. (AP)—An Odessa laundry was the victor today in what was believed to be the first test case of a state law which prohibits employers from firing employes for union membership.

A district court jury yesterday ruled against 15 former employes of the Troy Steam Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co., who asked for reinstatement and $10,000 in back pay.

The jury, closeted only 40 minutes, ruled that the laundry company had not deprived the plaintiffs of employment because of their union membership.

The women charged, however, that W. W. Collums, president of the laundry, had told his employes they would have to give up union membership if they expected to keep their jobs.

Originally, 17 filed suit, but two withdrew while the hearing was in progress.

RFC Will Consider Hotel Loan Change

WASHINGTON, March 24 (Special) — The Reconstruction Finance Corp., has informed Sen. Tom Connally of Texas that it will give proper consideration to amending a previously approved loan for the Hereford Community Hotel Corp., at Hereford.

The hotel group seeks $181,500. Already conditionally approved was a loan for $115,000; hotel officials have informed the Dallas offices of the RFC that they would be unable to operate on that amount.

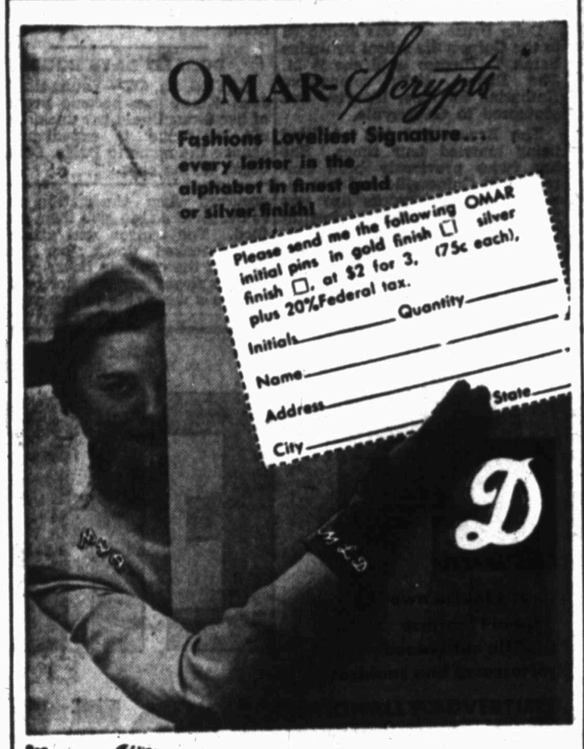

Harley Hise, chairman of the RFC board, told Sen. Connally that as soon as final application was received, his office would consider it further.

Graham Apparently Assured Of Senate Seat Despite Charges

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Despite some sharp criticism, Dr. Frank P. Graham seems certain to take his seat at the nation's newest senator next week with little or no opposition.

Yesterday's official Senate record contained these extremes about the North Carolina university president, who was named by Gov. Kerr Scott to fill the vacancy created this month by the death of Senator Melville Broughton:

"He is a little bit soft on Communist front organizations."

"He is as loyal as any American who walks this earth" and "one of the most Christ-like men I have ever met."

Charges Are Hurled

Despite more than an hour of sensational charges and equally sharp defense during Senate debate, both Democrats and Republicans agreed that Graham probably will be sworn in without any trouble.

His term would run only until 1950.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla), who frequently stands alone among the 22 Dixie senators, told a reporter that "if we continue to gain in the South as fast as we have in the past 12 months we may have a southern Democratic group known as progressives."

He pointed to the election of Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) as another example.

Kefauver also was happy at Graham's appointment. "I think it's a good appointment," he said. "I think he's a fine man."

Russell Is Surprised

Senator Russell (D-Ga), floor leader for the bloc of Dixie senators who have been fighting civil rights, said Graham is an able man.

But he added that as a "believer in state's rights I cannot refrain from expressing my surprise—if press reports are true—that the governor of the state would feel compelled to clear with the chairman of the national committee on the appointment."

Senator McGrath (D-RI), national party chairman, flatly denied that, although he said North Carolina Democratic officials had offered to consult him.

Graham's colleague, Senator Hoey (D-NC) predicted that Graham will be unchallenged despite the flurry yesterday.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) touched it off by telling the Senate that the congressional atomic energy committee should make a full investigation of reports that a security officer and loyalty review board had refused to clear Graham for top secret atomic information.

Cleared By Official

Bricker said the educator later was cleared by David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission. The Ohio Senator said the action was in connection with Graham's appointment to head the Oak Ridge, Tenn., institute of nuclear physics. Graham has been a member of many organizations, some of them described by Senator Jenner (R-Ind) as Communist fronts. It was Jenner who said Graham has been "soft" in this connection.

This brought a brisk retort from Hoey. Graham "is as loyal as any American who walks this earth," he said.

Senator Morse (R-Ore), who served on the war labor board with Graham, called him "one of the most Christ-like men I have ever met."

The new appointee also received strong support from Senators McMahon (D-Conn) and Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), present and past chairmen of the Senate-House atomic group.

HOPPED UP—Stilt-walking Bert Wood, 69, ties hop lines while his assistant, May Simmonds, 54, anchors the strings at the bottom of the poles in a Kent hop-yard. This picturesque method of growing the beer-making plant is rapidly disappearing in Egland because modern machines increase output.

Worker Dies In Fall Off Midland Building

MIDLAND, March 24 (AP) — Frederick L. Rogosch, 35, construction worker, fell to his death from the sixth floor of the Permian building here yesterday.

Rogosch was employed by a construction company that was engaged in adding four more floors to the previous two-story structure.

Witnesses said a large winch struck the worker before he tumbled from the building. His body struck the sidewalk.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

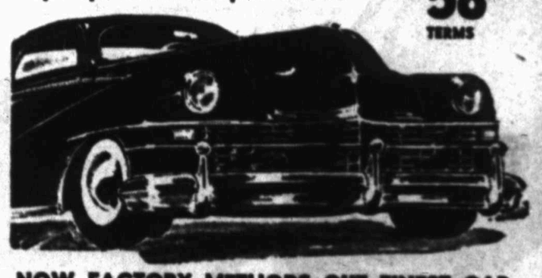

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 126 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Charles-Walcott Bout Slated

Chicago Site For Big Scrap

CHICAGO, March 24 (AP)—Joe Louis, in his new role as boxing promoter, has picked Chicago for the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight scrap for the Brown Bomber's vacated title.

It was in Chicago's Comiskey park that Louis lifted the heavyweight crown from Jim Braddock in 1937 and it may be in the same ball park next June that the proposed 15-round match between Charles and Walcott takes place. The date might be June 22, the night Louis won the championship in the White Sox park nearly 12 years ago. The date and site will be announced later.

NBA's Version

The Charles-Walcott bout would be for the National Boxing association's version of the heavyweight championship. New York, one of the two states not a member of the NBA, has suggested an "elimination" tournament for Louis' title and will not recognize the Charles-Walcott winner as champion. Massachusetts is the other non-NBA state.

Louis announced the Charles-Walcott affair yesterday with his partners in the new International Boxing club. They are Arthur Wirtz and James D. Norris, Chicago stadium and Detroit Olympia executives. The new combine will appear Monday before the Illinois athletic commission and request a license.

The retired heavyweight champion said Chicago was picked as a site "after carefully considering substantial offers from Detroit, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Cincinnati." He said Sam Becker, Cincinnati promoter, offered to guarantee a $500,000 gate.

Tournament To Have All-Southern Ending

ST. JOSEPH, March 24. (AP)—There's be an all-southern wind-up in the women's national A. A. U. basketball tournament.

The only teams still competing for the championship as the tournament moves into the semifinals tonight are from Tennessee and North Carolina.

The defending champion goldblumes of Nashville will meet the Elkin, N. C., Chthams. The other game pits the Nashville Business college against Hanes Hosiery of Winston-Salem, N. C.

In last night's quarter finals, the Goldblumes beat the Davenport, Ia., A. I. B., 39-13. The Chathams advanced to the semi-finals by trouncing the Dallas Queens, 24-14. Winston-Salem scored a 26-16 victory over the Nashville, Tenn., Generals and the Nashville Business college defeated Dencer Dry Goods, 21-17.

Wildcats In Seattle For Cage Title Tilt

SEATTLE, March 24. (AP)—The East came West last night, ready to give you Oklahoma A. & M. and all the points you think you'll need to beat Kentucky in the N. C. A. A. basketball championships Saturday night.

Eastern coaches were so far gone on the Wildcats, kings of the Atlantic side of the basketball country, they were talking with a southern drawl.

After the 11½-hour plane ride from New York there was hardly a smile in the entire cast of Kentucky and Illinois highboys.

Coach Hank Iba and his Aggies were due at midnight by plane.

Scores Remain Low In Bowling Congress

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Mar. 24. (U.P.)—It looked like a chalg-conservation program today at the American bowling congress tournament.

Scores remained low again during yesterday's session, with Fred Bierman of New York turning in the highest singles total—688

A number of teams made vain attempts to overtake the Jimmie Smith five of South Bend, Ind., the leader with a 3,027 tally.

Since 1928 the New York Rangers have not lost the traditional Christmas night National Hockey League game.

Pinto Expected At Lamesa's Training Camp For Workout

LAMESA, March 24 (Special)—Expected to arrive in the Lamesa Lobo training camp at Ballinger today was Dan Pinto, who stopped through here yesterday.

Pinto, only 1948 outfielder returning to the Loboes, stopped off briefly to confer with club officials. He boarded a bus bound for Ballinger and was expected to work out today.

The Lobo outer gardener, formerly with Albuquerque, said he was in good shape and had played "a little winter ball" in California. Originally he was sold to Santa Barbara of the California State League following the 1948 season, but was re-purchased.

Pinto hit .280 in 97 games with the Dukes and the Loboes. He poled 31 doubles, seven triples and five homers, while driving in 50 runs.

Ohio State Breaks Jinx Of Longhorns

(By The United Press)

A three-year jinx against visiting teams which had sought to beat the Texas Longhorns on their Austin diamond ended Thursday.

Ohio State's Buckeyes, twice a victim of the Longhorns this season, snapped the long winning streak Wednesday with a 5-1 victory over the Texans.

Texas had won 36 straight college games on their home grounds until Wednesday.

Ohio State punched out two doubles and a single to send the winning runs across the plate in the sixth inning.

Baylor gave the Southwest conference some satisfaction, however, by drubbing another Big Ten team, the Minnesota Gophers, 7-3 in the opener of a two-game series.

Lefty Fred Copeland, who relieved Baylor starter Leroy Jarl in the fifth, gave up only one hit in the remaining four innings.

Dutch Schroeder and Joe Szekeley led the Baylor attack with a pair of hits each.

Mrs. Markham Cards Low Putts In Play

Mrs. John Markham was low in putting, and Mrs. George Soash took low net over the 18-hole route at the weekly meeting of the Ladies Golf association at Lubbock Country club Wednesday.

In the nine hole flight, Mrs. O D. McCoy and Mrs. C. E. Hunley tied for low score. Low with the putter was Mrs. Fenner Tubbs.

Hubbers' Manager Unhappy As Players Are Slow In Reporting

GREENVILLE, March 24 (Spl.)—All things come to those who wait, but that isn't enough satisfaction for Manager Jackie Sullivan of the Lubbock Hubbers.

Sullivan wants things now—and he doesn't have them. He spent all winter moping for the diamond, unhappy from the night he pulled off his uniform following the final game of the 1948 season. He started looking forward to the 1949 season the following morning.

Now the diamond season has arrived and Sullivan should be happy. He isn't in spring training camp, he's on the diamond each day, he has players. But he doesn't have a full squad, the players reporting slowly.

Players Haven't Come In

Outfielder Joe Wisniewski still is home with the flu. Outfielder Bob Cowsar is coaching and can't get away. Outfielder Carl Brecheisen is still in college. Infielder Bill DePetris still is in college. A couple of pitchers haven't reported because of one complication or another.

And Sullivan just can't stand not seeing a lot of fine ball players on his squad. He wants to get going and he's stymied by the lack of Hubbers in uniform. Not even the assurances of George Schepps, general manager, that he'll have all the players he wants in a few days, can smooth over Sullivan's unhappiness.

Meanwhile the squad that is on hand is going through a week-long drill that is emphasizing condition. The Hubbers also are getting some hitting and some fielding practice. The pitchers are loosening up tight arms and the outfielders are shagging flies.

Pitts' Work Liked

Generally, the squad is in good condition, although Cotton Russell has come down with shin splints. At the same time, he has thrown a lot and has looked better than a year ago. Sullivan also likes the work of Herby Pitts, the Indian southpaw. Pitts wasn't ready last year, but Sullivan says that he is faster this year. He also has more poise and is working harder.

Jim Prince, the former Midland first baseman, still has a lot of superfluous winter living to work off, but he shows signs of making the Hubbers a top first sacker. He's working hard, hitting well and making progress.

All in all, things are better than Sullivan sees them right now and are certain to get better.

Tech Netters Whip SMU, To Play TCU

DALLAS, March 24. (Special)—Texas Tech's surprisingly strong tennis team, victorious 4 to 2 yesterday over Southern Methodist university racket wielders, today meets an outstanding Texas Christian net team in Fort Worth.

In the Horned Frogs, the Red Raiders will oppose one of the strongest net squads in the Southwest. The veteran Frog team is headed by Hap Manning, a veteran, and Dixon Osburn, a sensational sophomore.

Yesterday's match with SMU opened the season for the Raiders and they turned in an impressive performance. The Mustang netmen were able to snatch only one of four single matches and could do no better than break even in the doubles.

Scores Listed

Singles:

Jake Broyles, Tech, defeated George Martin, SMU, 6-1, 6-3.

Glenn Ivy, Tech, defeated James Owen, SMU, 7-5, 6-8, 6-2.

Raymond Rude, SMU, defeated Ed Scudday, Tech, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Carl Schmidt, Tech, defeated Herbie Karren, SMU, 6-4, 6-2.

Doubles:

Ivy and Broyles (Tech) defeated Martin and Karren (SMU) 0-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Rude and Owen (SMU) defeated Schmidt and Scudday (Tech) 6-8, 6-4, 7-5.

Broyles' win over Martin was by a surprising margin. The speedy junior from Lamesa played a good steady back court game and his placements were deadly accurate.

Win First Set

After the Lubbock netsters wrapped up three of the four singles matches, SMU's only chance to salvage the event was to win both doubles. Martin and Karren seemed on the road to that end, too, winning the first set 6-0 against Ivy and Broyles. The second set went to Tech 6-2. In the decisive set, SMU took a 5-3 lead and seemed headed for victory when Ivy and Broyles broke through Martin's service to rally and win the set 7-5. Ivy and Broyles played a lobbing game to take the set.

SMU's rally in the second doubles match was successful, but too late to do any good.

Longest match of the day was the singles go between Rude and Scudday. Both played a deep back court game.

Condition Of Yankee Clipper Disturbing Note In Training

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24 (AP)—How about Joe DiMaggio?

The doubtful condition of the Yankee clipper is the most disturbing note of the spring training season.

There is no definite assurance that DiMag, hobbled by a tender right heel following an off season operation, will be able to open the American league schedule. In fact, there is no positive word that he will play at all.

Nobody knows. The doctors are optimistic. DiMag wasn't to believe them. But he knows the heel still sends jabbing pains through his body when he tries to run.

It is feared the spur is growing back on the heel. Then again, what appears to be growth, may be only cartilage.

DiMaggio sets his own training pace. So far he has appeared in exhibition as a pinch hitter only. If he gets a hit, a runner takes his place. The Yanks are taking no chances with their $90,000-a-year star.

"I'm not going to tell Joe when to play," said Manager Casey Stengel. "He's the only one that really knows the story about his heel. When he wants to play, he'll tell me. I only hope he will be in there opening day."

"I don't think we'll be very good without him," he added sadly. Casey knows the Yanks can't win without DiMag.

Mexico Loop Denies New Player Raids

MEXICO CITY, March 24 (AP)—The Mexican Baseball league today denied rumors it is raiding U. S. clubs for players.

A league spokesman said that on the contrary Arizona-Texas league clubs have signed a dozen Mexican players this year. He mentioned crack players Manuel McGallon and Alberto Coty Leal with Ciudad Juarez.

Last week the Mexican league announced it had assurances from U. S. Baseball Commissioner Chandler that such raids would end, but there has been no sign these players would be returned, the spokesman said.

An incident last week may explain reports on Mexican raids, he said. Torreon signed Victor Manuel Canales, former third baseman with Ciudad Juarez. The Arizona-Texas league team complained on Saturday, and Torreon manager Benjamin Diaz Flores immediately cancelled the contract.

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

Raider Track Coach's Nerves Suffer From Awful Weather

There's a young companionable coach for the asking at Texas Tech—if anyone wants to be responsible for his behavior.

At present, the net squad is closing in, preparing to use a strait jacket. Coaches often become violent, but they are used to that. This case is different. It's a matter of track, weather and the nerves of a coach.

Humor Suffers

The coach is Maxey McKnight whose humor has suffered for three days now at the expense of the weather. It wasn't so bad Monday, always a slow day for track athletes, but Tuesday it was pretty terrible, and yesterday it was just plain awful.

The Red Raider cindermen might as well have stayed in and studied, as to have tried to get anything done on the track. It was a good deal closer to the temperature Coach McKnight is searching, but the wind and sand prohibited any time trials.

Coach McKnight is fed up with the vagaries of the so-called spring of West Texas. As stated yesterday, he'd give anything for a week of beautiful, virtually windless days. Instead, he finds that the elements go entirely against him.

Work At Minimum

Work yesterday was held to a minimum as the Raiders continued to try and get in shape. The runners have one meet under their belts and it helped considerably, but they need more running under pressure. Only time trials can do that for them. Meanwhile, the Raiders keep trying to get ready for the Texas Relays, to which the same 11-man squad will go.

The relays in Austin April 1 and 2 should find the Raider squad somewhat more advanced even though the weather is bad. They have the feel of the track now and daily workouts, even under present conditions, are helping.

Cage Play Features Consolation Bracket

HUTCHINSON, Kan., March 24 (U.P.)—Most of the action today in the national junior college basketball tournament featured the consolation bracket, with only two games scheduled in the race for the championship.

The championship games were the remaining quarter-final tilts featuring Dodge City, Kan., vs Hutchinson, Kans., and Weber college of Ogden, Utah, vs Grant Tech, Del Paso Hts., Cal.

Quarterfinals in the consolation side of the five-day meet will be cleaned up today with three games: Campbell College, Ruie's Creek, N. C., vs Bayonne, N. J.; Campbellville, Ky., vs Sayre, Okla., and Abraham Baldwin of Tifton, Ga., vs Joliet, Ill.

Olympic college of Bremerton, Wash., will play Brainerd, Minn., in another consolation match. Bremerton and Brainerd both lost in yesterday's championship quarterfinals.

Yesterday's results (championship):

Weber College, Ogden, Utah 70; Abraham Baldwin, Tifton, Ga., 64.

Grant Tech, Del Paso Hts., Cal., 67; Joliet, Ill., 47.

Compton, Cal. 62; Olympic, Bremerton, Wash., 61.

Tyler, Tex. 78; Brainerd, Minn. 63.

First-round consolation result: Webster City, Ia. 55; Benton Harbor, Mich. 51.

East Texas Lions Win Season Opener

COMMERCIAL, March 24 (U.P.)—The East Texas Lions took advantage of five Austin errors to win their season opener, 10-4, here yesterday.

Three Austin pitchers were knicked for eight hits, with Willard (Cotton) Cecil, Lion centerfielder, leading the victors' hitting attack with three hits in five times up.

The two teams will play at a later date at Sherman.

Paducah Boxers Go To Lockney Tonight

LOCKNEY, March 24. (Special)—Paducah travels to Lockney tonight to engage the local boxing team in what should be a slam-bang engagement.

Fifteen matches are on the card, and Coach Curtis Kelley expects a hard night of fighting for his team. Previously the Longhorn fistic squad defeated Olton, winner of the high school division at the Regional Golden Gloves tournament held in Lubbock.

Three Paducah Dragons have been upsetting their opponents in earlier matches and will have their sights set on giving Lockney a licking tonight. This is the first year of boxing for Paducah, and the boys have been showing up well.

Pyle To Fight

Out to protect the hold over boxing in this area for Lockney will be Calvin Pyle, middleweight. From the light heavyweight division on down to the grade school boys, Coach Kelley has a strong team that will be trying hard to protect its record. The most serious threat will probably come from the middle weights.

In the same ring where he gained experience as a 112-pound high school boxer will be LaVern Roach as referee. From this start he went on to become a challenger for the middleweight crown.

Lubbock's Keglers Place At Meeting

Three of the first five places in the Elks Club Bowling sweepstakes held in Odessa the past two week-ends were won by local keglers.

Ben Brown of Lubbock won the eight-game sweepstakes with a total of 1,567 pins for first money of $250 and a diamond studded gold medal. Jay O'Keefe finished in fourth place with 1,515 and T. I. Brown had 1,509 in fifth place.

Bowlers from all over this area participated in the sweepstakes and more than 100 pin-topplers tried their luck for the prizes. In this particular tournament one person could enter more than once, but one bowler could win only one prize. Twenty-four local bowling enthusiasts made the trip.

On Saturday Brown, O'Keefe, Bill Nelms, and Jim Buckner will go to Fort Worth for the Cowtown Roundup, a four game sweepstakes with a $300 first-money purse.

Buck Weaver Downs Fenton

You can show an old dog new tricks, but Buck Weaver depended upon the old tricks last night to down Rod Fenton, not exactly a newcomer himself, in two of three falls in the main event at Sled Allen's wrestling emporium.

Wrestling was the predominate feature of the bouts last night, a remarkable change from the usual high amount of rough and tough stuff seen. At the same time, there was enough hair pulling, slapping and gouging to keep the paying customers busy hurling insults and vindictive.

Pat O'Dowdy, who always can be depended upon, and Arturo Ruiz displayed the customary amount of mayhem, but their two out of three falls match ended in a draw. So did the 20-minute preliminary between Vic Weber and George Blackley. The latter was a good match from start to finish.

Weaver was in good form last night, winning the first fall from the clown-like Fenton in one minute flat. The veteran tossed Fenton with his Texas Bulldog, a variation on the flying headlock. But Fenton came back to win the second on a body slam and body pin, after dishing out plenty of punishment.

The third fall ended with surprising rapidity, after Fenton virtually had Weaver pinned. The veteran suddenly upended Fenton, breaking the Canadian's hold and applying a quick Japanese crab.

Ruiz and O'Dowdy had a rough, but crowd-interest, match, with Ruiz taking the first fall in 17 minutes on an abdominal stretch. O'Dowdy came back to throw his usual knowledge of the ring at Ruiz and took the fall in nine minutes with a hammerlock stomp.

Then the two grapplers came back to a rousing fall that ended in a draw when time ran out.

Blackley and Weber put on a good match in the preliminary, wrestling to a draw that kept the fans entertained and provided them with good wrestling.

"THE STORE OF BETTER VALUES . . . COMPARE"

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

It isn't our custom to rush to the defense of professional athletes. And to the credit of same, they seldom come to us asking for defense. After all, thick skin is a prerequisite of the pro, who is better than the amateur playing the same game—or at least is supposed to be better. At any rate, the pro comes in for more criticism anl less praise than most amateurs primarily because he is more in the public eye and the public feels that it has more of a right to ride the players for the mistakes he makes.

One of our more favorite pros, the likeable Bobby Layne, recently received some adverse criticism from a particularly innocuous source. While it was innocuous, statements were twisted to make Bobby look like a sorehead. It was intimated that the only reason he wasn't coming back to the Hubbers was because he was under paid, badly fed, hated playing conditions, disliked road travel and it was a bad league to begin with. Woof.

So we asked Bobby about it the other afternoon during Tech football practice. He laughed. He admitted that part of it was true and explained why. He didn't like the long bus rides, something a lot of the players don't like and which isn't confined to him. He didn't like a lot of the food he had to eat, but the main trouble wasn't the food, it was the odd hours when he ate. He hadn't uttered a word of complaint on any of the playing fields and as for being underpaid, that was ridiculous.

"When I signed up with the Hubbers' last year," Bobby declared, "I didn't it more for fun than anything else. I had no intention of making a living out of baseball. If I had, I'd be back with them this year. Sure, if I could stay in Lubbock and play, I would, but it's still a fact that professional football is hard enough on a man without going through the long grind of baseball." . . . Any sober person would realize, on a moment's thought, that Bobby's doesn't have to play baseball for a living. His football salary alone is more than the combined sum of several WT-NM League baseball rosters. In addition, he is a partner with Joe Holmes and Sam West in the Sports Center, a most successful sporting goods store.

Instead of being a heel, Bobby is a most cooperative guy. He worked with the football squad at Texas and he's helping Tech. He never is too busy to be friendly. He played independent basketball during the winter, for the fun of it. He has just about everything any young man could want. He may miss baseball, but baseball also will miss him. He was one of the best drawing cards any team had on the road and don't tell us the other clubs didn't appreciate it. We'd go out on a limb far enough to say we think he's right smart.

THE ROUNDUP: O. C. Foster is on his way to El Paso today to line up the supporting card for his first fight venture . . . Foster's promoting license was held up by an official's absence from Austin, but is due today . . . A possible attraction on an early card would be a meeting between J. D. Kirkpatrick and Gene James . . . Another possible got that has untold gate appeal would be between J. D. and Tom Adams, who might turn pro. In fact, we understand he's thinking seriously about it . . . LaVern Roach is doing well, thank you, selling insurance for the Southland company . . . No official statement has been issued, but LaVern is getting farther and farther away from the ring. His retirement is virtually accepted . . .

Bill Pollard, Lubbock boy who has been fighting pro in Dallas, has been in the city about a week now. He's driving a city bus . . . Pollard's pretty blond wife arrived yesterday . . . His father wants to see him on Foster's card and there's a strong possibility he will be on one soon. . . . Earl Pollard, a student at SMU, is torn between turning pro and remaining an amateur. . . . His father says that he might enter Tech in the fall to fight in the Golden Gloves here one more time. . . . Jimmy Joe Gieger looked good one day in the Hubber tryout camp, then fizzled. He's coming home by way of Longhorn League camps, trying to catch on. Sweetwater is his first stop. . . Dallas' Eagles have shipped Pitcher Eulis Rosson, ex-Hubber, to Gladewater of the East Texas League. . . .

Marvin Alexander, who failed here last year, is going like a house afire for the Eagles. George White tabs him as one of the finest rookies on the scene. . . Bill Serena is listed as eighth in the probable batting order for the Eagles. He's apparently a fixture at third base. Hit a homer and single and scored three of the four losing Eagle runs the other day. . . . Junior Arterburn of Ranger Junior college is passing 'em silly at Tech. He's one of the finest quarterbacks to show recently. . . . A delegation from Lubbock leaves today to help Jackie Sullivan "pick" the 1949 team. Mrs. Sullivan is going with them. . . . Only 12 more days and the Giants and Indians will be here.

BAYLOR BEATS MINNESOTA

WACO, March 24. (AP)—Lefty Fred Copeland pitched one-hit ball for five innings here yesterday as the Baylor university baseball team defeated Minnesota university 7 to 3.

When Copeland entered the game for Baylor in the fifth inning the score was tied at three all.

Baseball Suit Action Delayed

NEW YORK, March 24 (U.P.) — The re-instatement requests of three players suspended from organized baseball were headed today for a two to four week delay instead of the immediate action sought by their attorneys.

Hearings were held in federal court yesterday on the re-instatement injunction asked by Danny Gardella, former New York Giants outfielder, and on a similar injunction asked by former St. Louis Cardinals Max Lanier and Fred Martin.

To File Brief

Judge Edward A. Conger ordered Gardella's attorney, Frederick Johnson to file a brief by March 30 and he told baseball's attorney, Mark Hughes, to file a reply to Gardella by April 6.

Judge Conger also directed baseball to file an answering brief in the Lanier and Martin injunction request by April 23.

Knoblauch Will Not Go To Birmingham

HOUSTON, March 24 (AP)—Outfielder Eddie Knoblauch tonight said he will not report to the Birmingham club of the Southern Association.

Earlier today president Allen Russell of the Houston Buffs of the Texas league announced the conditional sale of Knoblauch, player with Houston four years, to Birmingham.

Both Russell and Knoblauch said they had been unable to agree on a contract for the 1949 season.

Knoblauch, who resides here during the winter, said he had no desire to leave Houston.

New Grid Coaches Named At Edinburg

EDINBURG, March 24. (U.P.)—The Edinburg school board yesterday named three new football coaches for the junior college and high school.

L. A. (Red) Youngman was designated junior college head coach with Bob Brumley as his assistant. Youngman is an instructor ot Edinburg junior college. Brumley, a former Rice institute star and now operator of a dairy, was employed only for the 1949 grid season.

W. E. Cooper, coach of the 1948 14-AA champion San Benito Grayhounds, was hired as highschool coach.

Cannon; Cooper replaces Henry Morris. Cannon and Morris were retained in the school system but relieved of their coaching duties after unsuccessful 1948 seasons.

Westerners Defeat Boys Club Nine, 4-3, In Practice Game

Wind blowing in from right field kicked up the sand yesterday at Chapman field diamond as the Westerners baseball squad defeated Boys club, 4-3, in a practice game.

The Westerners were only able to make four safe hits while Boys club made five hits. But the Westerner hits were timely and coincided with an error in the third inning and two walks and an error in the fifth for the runs.

The pitching of Jim Wilson was the best performance seen all afternoon. The big right-hander allowed only one walk and one hit in his four-inning stay on the mound, and while he was there he struck out six men, facing only 13.

Gives Up Three Hits

Jackie Martin gave up three hits and three runs for the Boys Club team, struck out five batters and issued two walks in four and one-third innings.

Jimmy Hamilton relieved Wilson and pitched two innings before Jack McCabe took over in the seventh. Joe Hall relieved Martyn for Boys club.

Leading the Westerner hitting attack was Bob Brown with two doubles on two official trips to the plate. He also was issued a base on balls. Jessie Fullerton collected the other two hits in three trips to the plate.

In the first inning Brown drove a pitch from Martyn through the hole in left-center field and scampered on across home plate, but he failed to touch third base and was thrown out, getting credit for a double.

Scores Two Runs

The Westerners scored two runs in the third inning with two outs. Brown doubled; Richards reached first base on an error by the shortstop, and both runners crossed homeplate on a single by Fullerton.

With one out in the fifth inning Hamilton and Brown walked. Richards struck out. Then Fullerton hit a high ball that came to earth between home base and the general direction of shortstop but close to the pitchers mound No one touched the ball and Hamilton scored. Attempting to throw Brown out at third base, Catcher Jackie Cook threw into left field, and Brown scored. Fullerton advanced to third base and was left stranded there.

Final Scoring In Sixth

Jackie Whitehead scored the first Boys club run in the fifth inning after drawing a walk from Hamilton. Roy Jones also walked, and with two outs Bennie Scott singled, driving in the run. Scott in turn was picked off first base to retire the side.

The final scoring came in the sixth inning, again with two outs. Mackie Lawrence singled; Cook got on base on an error by Garnet Reeves in center field; and Martyn drove in Lawrence and Cook with a single.

Lucius Knowles perfected the modern loom.

Briefs From The Baseball Camps . . .

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24.—The absence of extra-base punch on his club is one of the big worries of Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees.

The Yankees, notorious as fence busters, haven't been belting the ball with much gusto in recent exhibition games.

The Yankees won over the Washington Senators yesterday, 5-4.

FIND LITTLE COMFORT

WEST PALM BEACH.—Infield hopefuls in the Brooklyn Dodgers' camp are finding little room for comfort.

Billy Cox is turning out to be a whiz at third base. And Jackie Robinson at second and Pee Wee Reese at short look like permanent fixtures.

Robinson was the hero of the Dodgers' 5-3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, knocking in four runs.

TO TEST ABILITY

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — A couple of St. Louis Cardinal veterans, Howie Pollet and George Munger, will test their hurling ability against the Philadelphia Phils today.

The Cards scored their first shutout yesterday, blanking the Detroit Tigers, 6-0.

TAKE NEW TURN

HOLLYWOOD.—The Pat Seerey rumors in the Chicago White Sox camp took a new turn today.

Manager Jack Onslow spiked a report that the portly former Cleveland outfielder would be sold to the Los Angeles club.

The Sox were here to play the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight.

BEGINNING TO LIKE

SARASOTA, Fla.—Baseball observers in this area are beginning to like the Boston Red Sox pitching. Tex Hughson went for five innings yesterday, gave two hits and walked none. Even Bucky Walters, a great pitcher and now manager of the Cincinnati Reds, said Texas, useless last season, "again looks like a pitcher instead of a thrower." Catcher Birdie Tebbetts said Tex was as fast in the fifth as in the first inning.

FINDS STAFF GOOD

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — Rain which knocked out the Pittsburgh Pirates' exhibition game yesterday gave Manager Bill Meyer a chance to look over his pitching staff and find it good.

"I have enough starters and relief men now," he gloated. "Murry Dickson, Bob Chesnes, Elmer Riddle, Vic Lombardi and Bill Werle are being counted on the first five. And don't forget a guy named Rip Sewell had the best won-lost record in the league last year."

FLY TO CUBA

WEST PALM BEACH.—The Philadelphia Athletics flew to Cuba, today in two chartered airliners for a series of games with the Havana club of the Florida International league.

Yesterday they lost, 5-3, to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

WILL HANDLE DUTIES

BURKANK, Calif. — Southpaw Irving Medlinger and Red Embree will handle the St. Louis Browns pitching duties today in a game against the New York Giants.

In yesterday's game St. Louis beat the Cleveland Indians, 6-5.

GOOD PITCH, NO HIT

LOS ANGELES.—"Good pitch, no hit" is the problem of the world champion Cleveland Indians as they try for their first win in five games today against the Chicago Cubs.

The Indians yesterday lost to St. Louis Browns 6 to 5.

ACC Wins Narrow Track Meet Victory

ABILENE, March 24. (U.P.)—Abilene Christian squeezed through with a narrow 64½ to 62½ victory over Howard Payne in a track meet here yesterday.

Abilene Christian's Leon Lepard and Howard Payne's Eugene Carter tied for individual scoring honors with 7 1¼ points each.

Carter, helped by a strong wind at his back, sprinted the century in 9.5 and the 220-yard dash in 20.4 seconds.

Russell-Hardin Cleaners Gain In Commercial Bowling League

Russell-Hardin Cleaners are within one game of league-leading Penrods after Wednesday night's activities in the Ladies Commercial Bowling league.

A 38-point handicap failed to help Glassmans, and the cleaners won three games in match play. Marie Buckner rolled a 173-468 series for the winners, and Inez Green had 143-406 for Glassmans.

Penrods could win but one of three games from Southwestern Public Service, Bertha Thomas splintered the pins with a high 188-479 series for the victors, and Kathryn Tate had 170-471. Flo Christensen was top for Penrods with 224-516, and Lea Williams had a 194-503 series.

Three games were won by Hemphill-Wells in their match Lubbock Tailoring. Two very good games were rolled by Artie Reid, 195-505, and Aleene Hilton, 228-550. Helen Henkel was high for the losers with 168-450.

In the final game third-place Bluebonnett took two games from Home Lumber and Supply as Gail Tyson helped the cause with 186-492. The one game won by Home Lumber, with the aid of a handicap, helped them climb to a tie with Lubbock Tailoring for the cellar position in the league.

California Champion Looks For Easy Win

MEXICO CITY, March 24 (U.P.)—Jackie Wilson, California welter champ, today predicted an easy victory for himself in his Saturday night ten-round bout with top Mexican welterweight Nicolas Moran.

Wilson, a tough little negro, has been the nemesis of Mexican fighters for years. He won his California state crown from Tony Chavez and has toppled five other ranking Mexicans.

GRID GAME SLATED

HOUSTON, March 24. (AP)—The West Texas State Teachers college football team will play the University of Houston next season.

The game will be played here Oct. 15.

Big League Scouts Keep Eyes On Rote

DALLAS, March 24 (AP) — The big league scouts are watching the work of Kyle Rote on the Southern Methodist University baseball team these days.

Kyle has two more years at SMU but is considered a top prospect to be kept in mind.

In three games to date this season, Rote has sparkled with two home runs and one triple. In one game—against Minnesota—he drove in five runs, hitting two homers. Each time his stick work brought Southern Methodist even with Minnesota. The Gophers won the game 19-11, however. In the second game Rote's triple brought Southern Methodist a 7-6 victory.

Rote is the star sophomore football player of last fall's Southwest conference and Cotton Bowl champions.

"Rote is a fine prospect," said Hap Morse, scout for the Philadelphia Phillies who has been looking him over. "He has power and is big and strong. He should be playing in the outfield instead of third base, however."

Texans Hold Three Track, Field Records

DALLAS, March 24 (AP)—Texans hold three of the 20 national inter-scholastic track and field records, the National College Athletic association guide now on the market shows.

Billy Bless, Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), holds the 200-yard low hurdles record with a time of 21.7. He set the record last season.

Darrow Hooper, North Side (Fort Worth) holds the shot-put record with a heave of 59 feet 10⅛ inches. This record also was made last season.

The other Texas-owned record was set in 1933 by Ross Bush of Sunset (Dallas). It is a time of 1:54.4 for the 880-yard run.

Wyoming, then a territory, gave women the vote in 1869, followed by Utah the next year.

LONELY HEARTS OF ALL AGES

Romance And Business Close Pair In War-Torn Germany

By RUDY WECHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, March 24 — Romance and business, or maybe it's lust and greed, snuggle up so closely in public here these days that it's hard to tell where one begins and the other ends.

Take the notice of a billboard, for instance:

"Young man (not over 30): why not spend your weekend with lonely, lovely girl, 21? Have beautiful weekend house outside city."

Or this one:

"Young girl, 24, looking for acquaintance with handsome man not over 40. Purpose: marriage."

Many Sincere

Billboards carrying a profusion of such notices are all over the place, scores of them. Newcomers stare in amazement when they first see such "personals."

They don't know, and nobody knows for sure, whether the oldest profession is being plied in the newest way or whether a lonely heart is pining for less crass companionship.

Police officials estimated that 50 per cent of the advertisers were non-professionals — hoydenish products of a war era looking for excitement, women searching gravely for a husband in a land of scarce manpower, bids for some of the luxuries denied many Germans.

The other half, the officials figured, included the semi-professionals and the full-time workers who find advertising easier than street walking.

Raids Frequent

Many of the signs give glowing descriptions of the comfortable rooms in which the patron can spend the night—for a fee.

"We can't blame anyone for not finding proper accommodations," a police spokesman said. The allied bombers wrecked Frankfurt, it now has some 500,000 inhabitants, and there aren't enough roofs for all.

The opprobrium has all but faded from a man and woman who may not know each other spending the night in a common room to which they both may happen to have access.

But squads of American and German police constantly raid such "billets" and in the last month at least 100 persons have been arrested for the illegal housing of strangers.

The prostitutes in Frankfurt are estimated to number 3,000.

out the bill's enacting clause—ordinarily a motion that kills a bill if it carries. That lost 169 to 158 on a standing count.

Gets Teller Vote

Then Teague got a teller vote on the same motion. It carried then, 171 to 168.

Teague's motion to send the bill back to committee followed, bringing the roll call and the recount of the vote first announced on it.

As originally called up, Rankin's bill provided for a pension of $90 a month to all World War I and II veterans at age 65, regardless of financial need.

As it came back before the House for its third day of debate, it looked something like a combined pension-bonus bill.

Before adjourning, the House tentatively accepted an amendment by Rep. Jacobs (D-Ind.) knocking out the $90 pension figure and substituting what amounted to a deferred bonus proposal.

The Jacobs plan provides that all veterans would be paid a flat $10 a month at age 65, plus an additional $1 a month for each month of war service and another $3 a month for each month spent in an overseas theater of combat.

Yardstick Adopted

The House also dropped an amendment by Rep. Rogers (D-Fla) establishing a financial need yardstick. Pensions would be barred to veterans whose income is over $2,000 a year if unmarried, or $3,000 if married or with dependents.

Twice the House refused to exclude World War II veterans from pension benefits.

It first rejected an omnibus substitute for the Rankin bill offered by Rep. Huber (D-Ohio), and then turned down an amendment by Rep. Kearney (D-N.Y.) to limit pensions to World War I servicemen.

Those amendments written into the bill, however, must still come to the final test of a roll-call vote.

The House on Tuesday voted off the record to kill the entire bill, but it suddenly reversed its field when the members answered to their names for the record.

"Men In White" Don New Pastel Uniforms

CINCINNATI, O., March 24. (U.P.)—The "men in white" are fast becoming a thing of the past in local hospitals.

Instead of the traditional white linen uniforms, surgeons at three hospitals here now wear soft pastel shades. Those at General Hospital are in powder blue uniforms. At Bethesda Hospital they wear old rose and at Fort Thomas Hospital sea-green uniforms are worn.

Hospital officials explained that experiments proved the pastels are "restful," whereas white reflects light rays, produces a glare, is hard on the eyes and tiring.

White always has been associated with cleanliness, but, as one surgeon explained, "linen doesn't have to be white to be sterile."

TOOTH FOR TOOTH

KENTON, Ohio, March 24. (U.P.) Robert Mohn has been ordered either to buy new teeth to replace those lost by Rolland Farrington of Kenton or serve a 60-day workhouse term on an assault and battery charge. Mohn also must pay a $25 fine and costs.

Stock Market

LOSSES WIPED OUT

NEW YORK, March 24 (U.P.)—Stocks advanced for the second day today to completely wipe out the loss suffered by the list in the first two days of this week.

Buying was geenral in all sections of the list with the utility group pushing into new high ground since the day before the election, last Nov. 1.

Trading quickened early in the day but tapered off around noon, with sales for the first four hours reaching 700,000 shares, against 560,000 for the same period yesterday.

Railroad stocks, leaders on Wednesday's rise, were in the forefront of today's advance helped by the dividend boost voted yesterday by the board of the Pennsylvania railroad.

With bullish sentiment revived by the Pennsylvania dividend action, Wall street and individual investors were in a mood to pay more attention to current earnings statements, the tenor of which has been favorable.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 24 (U.P.) — Cotton futures turned irregular in slow dealings today. Price movements were narrow with scattered liquidation and hedging absorbed through mill buying and short covering. Switching operations from near to later months made up a good part of the trading. Most traders awaiting congressional action on ECA funds for the next fiscal year which directly concerns financing for cotton exports of 3½ million bales or more in the next crop season beginning August 1.

Futures closed 25 to 35 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

David Richman, 86, of Swindon, England, is worried because he cannot find his right thumb, which he gave to Swindon Museum after it was cut off 76 years ago in a chaff cutter and preserved in alcohol by a druggist, and which the museum no longer remembers receiving.

Cat Doesn't Stop With Slot Machine

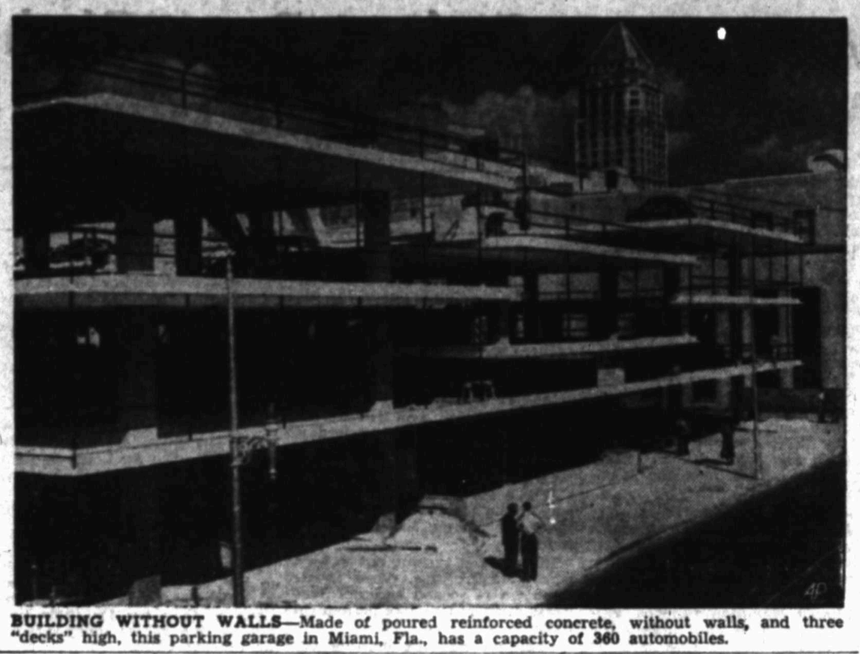

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 24. (U.P.)—A slot machine-loving cat is causing its owner plenty of embarrassment in this gambling mecca.

Tommie, the nine-month-old feline, usually can be found perched alongside one of the machines in Grant Stewart's grocery store.

When a customer hits a payoff in one of the one-armed bandits, Tommie dips a paw in the cup, scoops the coins onto a table and runs off with as many as he can cram into his mouth.

The coins are kept in a secret cache.

Stewart thought it was a cute trick—until he discovered Tommie was using the same technique on the open and untended cash register.

administrative difficulties, particularly in the collection of the tax.

Altmeyer said this problem has been licked, leargely by the idea of a stamp book system. He explained it this way:

"Under such a system each employe would receive a stamp book in which stamps would be placed by his employer to evidence contributions made by the employer and the worekr.

Could Purchase Stamps

"In rural areas the employer could purchase these stamps from the mail carrier, and in urban areas they could be purchased at post offices. A stamp plan could be used also by small industrial and commercial establishments which found it more convenient.

"For regular workers on large scale farms, where pay records are already kept, the system of reporting now used in industry might be most convenient.

"For the rest—that is, for the workers on small farms and the temporary help employed during rush seasons—it might be more convenient to use a stamp plan.

"Whenever he paid his workers, the farmer could place special social security insurance stamps in books carried by the workers. Half the cost of these stamps would be borne by the employe.

Accepted As Evidence

"The books would be accepted by the Social Security administration as evidence of earnings, and the farmer would not need to make any report or keep any special records for the purpose.'

It is assumed that the same plan would work for the household servant—with the housewife operating the stamp system when she paid her maid.

But the great bulk of social security taxes still would be collected through levies on employes' pay and employers' payrolls. Altmeyer said most of the farm operators and city self-employed, if they were brought under the program, could report their income, for purposes of social security coverage, as part of the income tax returns.

Many Moslem Women Welcome Face Veils

TOPEKA, Man., March 24. (U.P.) Washburn University students have penetrated an Iranian secret.

In an interview with two students newly arrived at the university from Iran the question of girls came up.

The Iranians admitted the face veils most Moslem women wear are donned not only for the sake of custom.

"Many of the women wear those veils because they are so ugly," explained one of the Iranians.

Aussie Gives Views Of American Women

SYDNEY, Australia, March 24. (U.P.)—American women "don't know they're alive," Dr. Muriel McIlrath said on return from a tour to Europe and the United States.

Dr. McIlwrath, a gynecologist, said American women were being "ruined" by labor-saving devices, and cited dish-washing machines, garbage-disposal sinks and other gadgets.

"The Americans have everything," she said. "Some of their devices made me green with envy—but they don't know they're alive. They haven't enough to do."

Modern Architecture Discourages Pigeons

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 24. (U.P.)—Modern design doesn't have much appeal for pigeons.

The rococo ledges and cornices of the federal building in Louisville long have been a favorite resting place for pigeons. But the new, streamlined Courier-Journal and Times building right across the street has yet to attract a single pigeon.

With no ledges, cornices or other architectural folderols, the new building offers no place for a squab to squat.

U. S. Economy

has been sold at sharply-reduced prices. The weather and fuel oil make coal's peacetime adjustment extra difficult."

Farm Outlook Good

Farming: Allan B. Kline, Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau federation: "Prospects for overseas shipment are still good for 1949. The unknown quantity is consumer buying. But given a real continuation of high consumer demand for good quality foods and other products, agriculture just doesn't face a real depression right now. The real question is whether this high purchasing power is going to stay with us. And I feel fairly optimistic."

Foods: Philip W. Pillsbury, president of Pillsbury Mills, inc., Minneapolis: "I agree with other observers that there has been a general leveling off of prices in this country. Fortunately, in the food industry recessions don't have much effect on the volume of production. Buyers simply have become more critical of price in their day-to-day buying."

Clothing: Jerome Udell, president of Max Udell Sons & Co., New York, manufacturers of men's clothing: "I look for a fairly sustained demand this year, lower than the inflated level, but with our present labor and material costs, it is impossible to make any appreciable reduction in prices."

Depression Not Inevitable

Banking: Evans Woolen, jr., Indianapolis, president of the American Farmers' association: "The banks of the United States today are maintaining a sound position unexcelled in our history and have ample capacity to meet any foreseeable credit needs of the economy."

Government: Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer and Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the president's council of economic advisors, were asked if another depression is inevitable. Sawyer: "The answer is definitely 'no'." Nourse: "No. I definitely do not believe that it is inevitable that a nation whose people are intelligent, enterprising and ingenious as ours should again allow our productive resources to run waste in large quantities or over an extended period of time."

Labor: Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial organizations: "Depressions are not inevitable if proper and adequate economic policies are adopted for the country as a whole."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor: "I do not think another economic depression is likely in the near future."

calling for that, and the governor approved. Individual states also could take over the control program if the governor certified that his state had an adequate rent law.

The Senate measure provides for two five per cent rent increases, provided the cumulative boost did not push a tenant's rent more than 15 per cent over the level of June 30, 1947.

First In October

The first of the two five per cent hikes could be put into effect October 1, 1949. The second could be charged April 1, 1950.

In cases where a tenant's rent already is 15 per cent above the June, 1947 level, no further increase could be charged. In cases where his rent already has been raised 10 per cent, the level could be raised five per cent October 1—but no more April 1, 1950.

During October, 14,000 emigrants sailed from Europe and Britain for Australia.

The Rev. Santos A. Romo, evangelist of Memorial Park, Calif., will preach at a one-week revival starting Sunday in El Redentor Latin-American Methodist church, First street and Ave. M., the Rev. Isabel Arouza, pastor, announced Wednesday. Services will be in Spanish, he said.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech, was the principle speaker at an all-day farm ownership meeting to be held in the Ropesville Community center today. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss farm problems, high prices and government production controls. Other speakers were to be Archie Leonard, associate professor of agriculture economics at Tech, T. Euel Liner, lecturer in agricultural education and Martin Reese of the Farmers Home administration office in Amarillo.

John R. Freeman, of 2810 Twenty-first, Wednesday afternoon was reported in much improved condition in St. Edward's hospital at Fort Smith, Ark., where he has been receiving treatment the past two weeks. The Lubbock man, an elder in the Church of Christ at Seventeenth and Ave. N, was among six persons injured Tuesday night, March 8 when the car in which they were riding skidded on wet pavement and overturned near Sallisaw, Okla. R. W. Poyner, of Lubbock, said Wednesday night he had been informed by telephone earlier Wednesday that Freeman's condition was improving as well as could be expected. Mrs. Freeman is with her husband at Fort Smith.

A total of 203 members and guests attended the regular weekly movie at Lubbock Boys' club Wednesday night. Two short movies were shown, followed by a full-length western, "Enemy of the Law." Another western is to be shown at the club house next Wnesday night.

Condition of Mrs. J. G. Welch, about 58, a patient in Lubbock Memorial hospital, this morning was reported as "poor." Mrs. Welch, the mother of Mrs. C. H. Grace of 2107 Sixth, Tuesday was admitted to the hospital for treatment for meningitis.

City Firemen were called about 2:35 p. m. Wednesday to Texas Tech campus to extinguish a small blaze in the lint room of the textile engineering building. A cutting torch, which was being used to cut a pipe, threw sparks into lint and trash in the basement room, firemen said. There was no damage to the building.

Sgt. Carl E. McCowan, son of Mrs. Homer C. Capehart of Lubbock route 7, recently reenlisted in the U. S. Air force with the Airways and Air Communications service at March Air Force base, Calif. Sgt. McCowan, now on 30-day re-enlistment leave, is assigned as a high speed radio operator with the 1907th AACS squadron. He received his technical training at Scott Field, Ill., and later saw service on Guam and Iwo Jima islands.

Pfc. Cecil W. Johnson, brother of Recil Johnson of Lubbock route 5, is now stationed at Osaka, Japan, with the 25th infantry (Tropic Lightning) division. His present duty is truck driver. He joined the Army Jan. 23, 1948, and received his basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Last rites for Toliver Benjamin Thomas, 54, were to be held at 3 p. m. today in the First Methodist church of Post. Rev. A. B. Cockrell was to officiate, assisted by Rev. D. W. Reed and Rev. J. E. Stephens. Burial was to be in Terrace cemetery.

A man who had been sought eight months on one charge and since November in another was fined a total of $10 and county cvourt costs this morning after he had entered a plea of guilty of check law violation in each case. In addition, Judge Walter Davies, presiding, allowed the man — charged as H. O. Whitlock and as Hubert Whitlock—until June 23 to pay the assessment, his judgment showed.

Homer C. Dudley, 17, of Lubbock, was fined $75 and county court costs after a plea of guilty of drunk driving, officials said this morning.

Slight injuries were suffered by a mother and her infant when two cars were in collision at 9:36 a. m. at Eighteenth and Texas Ave., police and West Texas hospital reported. Mrs. H. W. Nunn, 21, of Lubbock, and her month-old baby were thrown from the car of Floyd Phillips, 47, of Petersburg, Mrs. Nunn's father, when the car was in collision with one driven by Mrs. Nettie L. Robertson, 56, of 1402 Ave. L. Both victims were released immediately after examination. A negligent collision charge was filed against Mrs. Robertson, police said.

Sermon topic will be "Thirty-five Years of Overseas Relief" at the Sabbath Eve service at 8 o'clock Friday night at Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q. Rabbi Julius Kerman will deliver the sermon, which will be a survey of work of the Jewish Joint Distribution committee.

DEATH MAY BE AMONG YOUR SOUVENIRS—If you have, among the war trophies in your home, any "unloaded" weapons, souvenir shells or other munitions, you'd be smart to get in touch with the Army or Navy—quick. Fred Kennel recently bought a house in Washington, D. C. In it, he found two bazooka rockets, left behind by the previous tenant. He asked the Navy Disposal Unit to look them over. Lt. Wilbur Brooks left, and Lt. Charles J. Dorigan did. They found the rockets were deadly weapons, fully armed with the safety pins dislodged. They said the rockets would have exploded if dropped from three or four feet.

member Mama") and Barbara Stanwyck ("Wrong Number") for best actress Oscars.

By usual Hollywood standards, tonight's 21st annual awards will be a modest event, held for the first time in the academy's own 950-seat theater. The program has been condensed (on paper) to 90 minutes.

Clips from winning pictures of the past, a feature of previous programs, have been eliminated. But three new Oscars will be among the 27 major awards: one for best foreign language picture and two for best costume designing (in black-and-white and color films).

Bleachers for 850 were erected today outside the theater. Six searchlights, against last year's 15, were grouped around the entrance. Cost of the affair is estimated at $40,000, a far cry from the original plan of a $115,000 dinner party for 4,000 persons on a major studio sound stage.

Master of ceremonies will be Robert Montgomery. Last year's winners were Ronald Colman, Loretta Young, Edmund Gwenn* and Celeste Holm will present the awards in best actor, actress, supporting actor and supporting actress categories, respectively. Other Oscars will be presented by Louis Jourdan, Jeanne Crain, Ethel Barrymore, Deborah Kerr, Ava Gardner, Arlene Dahl and Glenn Ford.

and he 19.

Last Monday in Chicago they read of the finding of Patricia's body. But Kathleen, the bride, feared to go home because of her parents' possible wrath over the runaway marriage.

Tried To Get Savings

They took a bus for Minneapolis and rented a housekeeping room. Babich expected to get a job and stay here. But he had put $1,300 in savings into a bank at Kalamazoo. Yesterday he sought to transfer the money to a bank here.

Police found out about it and were waiting at the couple's room. Minneapolis Detective Harry Todd said the two seemed genuinely surprised when he informed them they were wanted for questioning. They entered the room with bags of groceries.

Yes, she and Patricia had been very close, in fact shared a room together at home, said Kathleen. Milton also knew Patricia very well. The dead girl acted as peacemaker in minor spats between him and Kathleen.

C. W. Smith, another detective here, said Milton admitted having had a date with Patricia on Feb. 10, the last day she was seen alive. The girl was to settle one of those spats.

The rendezvous was set for the corner of Beecher and 68th Sts., in Milwaukee. Milton did not keep the appointment, Smith said, but gave no reason why not.

break."

Yesterday's river stage at Baton Rouge was 34 feet, a foot below flood stage. The river had fallen half a foot in the previous 24 hours. It has been falling for several days, following a crest reached as the result of the Ohio river flood coming down the Mississippi.

Stephen Lichtblau, river forecaster of the U. S. weather bureau in New Orleans, said:

River Has Been Higher

"I don't understand it (the break). The river has been higher than it is now every year, at least since 1943. In 1945 it went over 40 feet at that point."

Port Allen is a town of about 3,500. The area being flooded is occupied almost entirely by sugar plantations. It is sparsely populated.

Rate of the advance of the water was difficult to determine immediately. Sheriff's officers said nothing could be done to check the spread of the flood until it reached comparatively higher ground. At 7 a. m. the water was about 2½ miles from Port Allen.

The U. S. Army engineers rushed men to the scene.

Levee Is Crumbling

Estimates of the size of the break varied. Three hours after the break, deputies reported water going through a gap 200 feet wide, with the levee crumbling on either side.

Sheriff Sidney C. Dubroccos of West Baton Rough parish (county), with Sheriff Bryan Clements of East Baton Rouge and their deputies, were patraolling the roads and helping evacuate residents.

A number of persons were seen walking along the roads carrying belongings.

Frank McGurk of Baton Rouge, Red Cross field representative in charge of the mid-state area, was supervising relief activities along with Mrs. Lila Brown, executive secretary of the West Baton Rouge chapter.

Nationalists Name Peace Body As China Reds Advance Troops

NANKING, March 24. (AP)—Nationalists China's cabinet named a peace delegation today. But Red troop movements indicated the Communists may be loading a pistol to hold at the conference table.

Government spokesman Teng Wen-Yi warned, after the peace delegates were announced, that Communist troops were being deployed toward the Yangtze river. The heaviest movement seemed to be centered seven miles from Anking, Anhwei province capital, 140 miles southwest of Nanking. Others were scattered up and down the river, which now divides Nationalist and Red China.

Such tactics would strengthen the victorious Communists' power to back up any demands they might make at the peace table. The action pointed up the fact that peace is still far away in China.

Red Delegates Unknown

The Communists have not yet announced their delegates. The Reds also will name the site for peace talks. The old capital of Peiping, now in Red hands, likely will be their choice.

But as remote as peace still is, war sickened Chinese sighed with relief when the delegates were named.

They are:

Shao Li-Tze, elder statesman and a member of the unofficial Shanghai peace delegation that went to Peiping last month.

Huang Shao-Hun, close associate of acting President Li Tsung-Jen and a power in the Kwangsi province political clique.

Chang Chih-Chung, cabinet member without portfolio and political administrator for northwest China.

Li Chang, minister of education and former head of Peiping normal university.

Not Listed As "Criminals"

(None of the delegates is on any Communist "war criminal" list available in the United States. Most government officials are on the list.)

Chang Tse-Chao, Shanghai lawyer and member of the unofficial delegation to Peiping.

The cabinet ended its meeting without disclosing its plans for drafting peace proposals. However, it was known that plans drafted by a committee headed by former premier Sun Fo had been discarded.

The army newspaper, Peace Daily, said the talks in early April will be similar to negotiations conducted between the Communists and Nationalists in 1945. The newspaper said third party members will be invited to join once the Communist and government negotiators reach a basic understanding.

Contact Planned

Peace Daily said the government planned to maintain constant radio contact with its negotiators. Once an agreement is reached, the newspaper said, the delegates will be empowered to sign the necessary documents.

While officials in Nanking discussed peace, provincial government leaders at Anking reported their government had practically ceased to function because of the arrival of Communist troops only seven miles away.

Provincial government offices were being evacuated. The Nationalist eighth pacification headquarters was transferred from Anking up the Yangtze to Kiukiang.

Chinese press dispatches reported government troops evacuating other small bridgeheads on the north bank of the Yangtze, Kouanchen on the north bank between Shanghai and Nanking was reported abandoned.

Hidalgo To Be Named As Rail Entry Port

McALLEN, March 24 (AP)—Hidalgo, Tex., is to be named a railway port of entry before June 16 according to an Interstate Commerce commission ruling, the McAllen Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

It said the ruling sets export-import rail rates at levels comparable to other points on the Mexican border, such as Brownsville and Laredo.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, when they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

France Is Making Progress, Eve Curie Tells Tech Audience

"France is again ready to take her place among the circle of nations of the world after more than 10 years of war and strife," Mlle. Eve Curie, noted lecturer and writer, told a small audience in the Texas Tech recreation hall Wednesday night.

Mlle. Curie who is on an eleven-week lecture tour of this country spoke to a group of approximately 200 persons at the college. The daughter of the discoverer of radium told her listeners the best news from France was that the nation was making tremendous progress in all fields.

Speaking of the European Recovery Program, Mlle. Curie said that it most certainly was working and that the good it was doing could never be measured in dollars and cents. She credited the progress that France had made, first to the spirit of the French people, and second to the aid that they had received from the United States.

"With the aid of ERP dollars the farmers of France are beginning to bring more and more modern equipment into use." The industries of France are also benefiting from the plan according to Mlle. Curie. She said that the French had worked hard and had used all of the money that was available to them before they turned to the United States for help, but when all of its own funds were exhausted there was nothing left but to ask for aid from the west.

France Is Battlefield

"Without that aid France would most certainly have experienced a serious economic and financial collapse," she went on to say. The fact that the United States, champion of free enterprise, is helping France is also making that country very free enterprise minded, she added.

On the subject of Communism, Mlle. Curie observed that "France is a constant battlefield between Democracy and Communism." The main efforts that Russia has launched against the ERP and Democracy have all been centered around France. She went on to say that the series of coal strikes that France suffered last fall were the direct work of the Kremlin to offset the Marshall plan.

Still Face Big Job

Mlle. Curie said she felt the Atlantic pact was one of the best steps to date in curbing the growth of Russian influence.

In closing Mlle. Curie said "France has chosen freedom and friendship with the west. We feel that the Atlantic pact is not for the purpose of banding together to win a war, but rather to prevent a war."

Mlle. Curie was introduced by Dr. C. B. Qualia, head of the Foreign Language department at Tech. After her lecture she devoted a short period to questions from the audience.

Brilliant new DESOTO gets tremendous welcome from public!

Come in and see "The Car Designed With YOU in Mind"

IT'S BRAND-NEW . . . so new that there aren't many on the streets yet. But already it's a tremendous success. And it's easy enough to see why.

Everybody wants a smart, good-looking modern car. But most of us don't want to pay a penalty for being modern. We want more room . . . more comfort . . . more visibility . . . not less.

That's where De Soto scores. It's got those long, low lines. But you don't have to wriggle into it. It has big wide doors. Plenty of headroom, too. The roof won't scrape your hat, no matter where you sit. It's roomier than ever.

It's no use having bigger windows and windshields unless you can see out of them. In the new De Soto you can . . . because you're sitting on chair-high seats. Even a short person can see over the steering wheel. Even a six-footer won't hit his knees on it.

You don't have to enlarge your garage to hold the new De Soto. You can still change a tire yourself. And a dent in the fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job. Come in and see this wonderful car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it with any other at any price. Then decide.

Tune in "HIT THE JACKPOT" every Tuesday night, all CBS stations

Liquor Official To Leave Here Sunday

"I only have to say that every co-operation that I asked was given by officers and others of the district—and that I've enjoyed being stationed here."

That was the reaction of Charlie F. Fuller to Wednesday newspaper stories saying he, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board, and his three inspectors stationed here would be transferred this week and be replaced by a supervisor and three inspectors from other Texas districts.

Lawhon Reveals Change

The announcement of the transfer was made in Austin Tuesday by John Lawhon, administrator of the board, shortly after an Austin conference in which he had received reports of dissatisfaction at Fuller's alleged failure to cope with an alleged liquor syndicate here.

Fuller told newsmen here he would remain in Lubbock until probably Sunday, so that he could check office supplies to his successor, W. G. Poplin. Poplin has been deputy supervisor of the Longview district. Both Fuller and Lawhon recommended Poplin highly.

Fuller will report probably Sunday night to Austin, where he will become supervisor of the Austin district of the liquor board.

He came here in early 1947, and was the 11th deputy supervisor to be sent here by the board since the setup became effective in 1935, it was stated. He remained in the position longer than any of his predecessors.

Town Has Five Chiefs In Seven Months

Mayor Swamped By Applicants For Unlucky Police Position

EVARTS, Ky., March 24. (AP)—Applications for appointment as Evarts police chief have been coming in so fast the past few days that Mayor E. H. Bailey hasn't had time to go over them.

The mayor said yesterday that 142 men from coast to coast have applied for the job.

This Harlan county mining community of 2,100 population was left without a police chief for the fifth time since last August when Chief Isachar Combs was convicted of manslaughter Saturday.

Convicted In Shooting

Combs and Patrolman Lewis Deaton were convicted in connection with the killing of Bryan Middleton last Dec. 17 in a wild-shooting street battle which followed the officers' attempt to serve a warrant on him. The jury recommended a 10-year prison sentence for each.

Mayor Bailey said he would like to "find somebody from outside for the job." He expressed an interest in the application received from Howard P. Gibson, 41-year-old war veteran of Lexington, Ky.

"I ain't afraid of any man, living or dead," Gibson was quoted. "I've got two .45's and if I get the job I'll get two more."

Council Meeting Set

Mayor Bailey said a new chief will be selected when the Evarts city council meets April 4. John Barnes, a former coal miner, is serving as a one-man police force pending the council meeting.

The rapid turnover in Evarts' police chiefs began last August when the officer serving at that time quit after several shots were fierd into his car. The next chief, E. J. Baumgardner, was shot to death.

The third resigned and went back to driving a cab. "It's safer," he said. The fourth chief gave up his badge after he was arrested for drunkenness.

Combs was the fifth. He's appealing his sentence.

Floydada Road Work Speeded

FLOYDADA, March 24. (Special)—Work is progressing rapidly on several projects in Floyd county's farm-to-market road paving program, County Judge G. C. Tubbs said.

Two projects are under construction now. One, consisting of 14 miles, will connect Sand Hill and Harmony communities with Floydada. On that job caliche is down on 14 miles of roadbed and grading and drainage work is in progress on the remainder.

The other project will be a north-south road connecting Lockney with Lone Star community. Grading and drainage work has been started.

Road Bids Due

Completion of these two jobs is expected by late summer, Judge Tubbs said. Total cost will be in excess of $200,000. The program is financed by a $500,000 bond issue voted by Floyd county citizens last year. Contractor is Cooper and Woodruff construction company, of Dallas.

The county commissioners will receive bids April 11 on 2.6 miles of hard-surfaced road which will connect the Lockney-Lone Star road with Sterley community.

Estimates are nearing completion on two projects which will be awarded by the Texas Highway department. One will be a six-mile stretch from highway 207 six miles east to Cedar Hill community. The other will be a 10-mile road eastward from highway 207 north of Floydada. At the completion of that work Judge Tubbs and the commissioners, Fred N. Clark of precinct 1, W. H. Counts of precinct 2, W. C. Plumlee of precinct 3 and P. L. Hart of precinct 4, estimate that approximately $75,000 of the bond issue will be left for further farm-to-market road improvements.

Free X-ray Clinic Slated At Floydada

FLOYDADA, March 24. (Special)—Floydada residents will have an opportunity to receive free chest x-rays in the near future when a Texas State Health department mobile x-ray unit visits here.

Philip N. Gauss, jr., tuberculosis field worker of the health department, will be in Floydada next Tuesday to make plans for the free clinic. He will work with Dr. G. V. Smith, Floyd county health officer.

Robert H. Crowell, manager of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Board of Development, made arrangements for the clinic on a recent visit to Austin. "A vast amount of effort and cooperation on the part of social, civic, veterans' and county organizations will be needed to make the clinic a success," he said.

Record Price Paid For Grand Champion Pig Of Stock Show

Lubbock Youth Gets $2.50 Per Pound For Winner In Auction

A record-smashing bid of $2.50 per pound for the grand champion pig climaxed the auction and the 16th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show at the Fairgrounds Monday night.

W. C. O'Mara, bidding for the Sears-Roebuck company, topped all other buyers after a long and spirited session in which a large number of buyers and breeders took part. The top barrow, a Poland China weighing 264 pounds, brought its owner and exhibitor $660 on the hoof. The pig was the entry of a Lubbock boy, Carleton Hatchett, 16-year-old FFA member. N. J. Robnett, Lubbock High school vocational agriculture teacher was Hatchett's instructor in the care and feeding of the money winner.

500 Attend Auction

The reserve champion, a Hampshire and the entry of John A. Smith of Snyder, sold for $1.50½ a pound, another top figure in the swine division.

More than 500 persons were in the auction arena during the sale and interest ran high as the bidding advanced into the record brackets. Most of the crowd remained for the final bid which did not come until 7 p.m. after auctioneer, buyers, boys, pigs and record keepers were all but exhausted.

The pig auction was split to allow the sale of the lambs which also commanded high prices but did not equal or closely approach earlier records.

Lamb Brings $2.25 Pound

The grand champion fat lamb, a Southdown, was sold to the R. L. Elms Equipment company, one of the heaviest bidders in all divisions. Elms paid $2.25 per pound for the 106 pound lamb owned by Billy Earl Terrell, Lockney, route M. Elms was commended for his support of the work the boys have been doing in stock raising.

The reserve champion lamb, a 96 pound crossbred Southdown, brought its owner Doyle Hutson, Tulia, an even $1 per pound. The purchaser was Economy Mills, whose buyer resold the lamb at once for $1.25 per pound. The proceeds of the resale, $120, were given to the fund for the Cerebral Palsy center.

Another lamb, sold by John Allen to Claude Hurlburt for 41 cents per pound was resold to Economy Mills for 60 cents, the proceeds, $60, went to the Milam Orphan's home.

Calf Prices Average

Early in the day the fat calves were auctioned off at top prices and to an interested buying crowd. Bids were only average although the offerings in the top half were better than in previous years.

The grand champion Hereford, a 1,050 pound calf owned by Weldon McClurg of Kress, was purchased by Dunlap's Department Store for $1.05 per pound. Weldon could bank over $1,000 on his prize entry. The reserve champion was bought by The Avalanche-Journal for 60 cents per pound. The reserve champion was the entry of Billy McAnelly, Tulia, a 944 pound Aberdeen Angus, a breed which made its first appearance at the South Plains show this year.

The results of the Junior Fat Stock Show sale with the boy, his home town, weight of the animal, buyer and price, is as follows:

OPERA PROGRAM SLATED TONIGHT

'Barber Of Seville' Will Be Presented

The Texas Tech Artist course will present Rossini's gay comic opera "The Barber of Seville," tonight at 8 p. m. in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium. It will be the final attraction for the season.

Marilyn Cotlow, famous coloratura soprano, will appear in the leading role of Rosina in the opera which is full length and will be sung in English. Miss Cotlow began singing at the age of 18. She has been in many leading soprano roles and made an excellent impression on Broadway last season when she appeared in Menotti's "The Telephone." She has recently appeared as a soloist on a nationwide radio show.

To Include Orchestra

Charles L. Wagner is in charge of the production. Wagner has been producing opera road shows for many years.

Tonight's performance will feature a chorus of 10 male voices and an orchestra of 20 pieces. Paul Breisach, eminent conductor of the San Francisco Opera will direct the orchestra, cast and chorus. Desire Defrere, stage director of the Metropolitan Opera association, is directing the cast for tonight's performance. Other artists in the cast will be Val Patacchi, Emile Renan and Lizabeth Pritchett.

"The Barber of Seville" is often called the singers opera. It deals with the story of two young lovers who have been denied the pleasure of seeing each other. The young lady, Rosina, has a cruel uncle who is trying to marry her to her singing teacher. The hero, with the aid of the famous clown, Figaro, comes to the rescue, however, and all ends well. The part of Figaro has long been a favorite with opera goers. It offers a real challenge to the singer who takes the role.

Tickets for tonight's performance will be on sale at the door. The admission is $1.80 for adults and $1.50 for students and children.

NOT MUCH LOVE LOST

WOODSTOCK, Vt. (AP) — After hours of deliberation, a jury in an $8,000 alienation of affections suit awarded the plaintiff 50 cents.

American Movies Hit By Moscow Broadcast

LONDON, March 24 (AP) — The Moscow radio said today Hollywood movies are "trashy, inartistic, reactionary propaganda."

An unidentified commentator, heard in London by the Soviet monitor, said typical American pictures are filled "with criminals, vampires and morally degenerate people as heroes."

The Hollywood movie product causes great harm, he continued, "with its vulgar, standardized themes, with raucous advertising of the American way of life."

The commentator declared the movie business was a means by which "American imperialism" is trying to dominate foreign countries.

He said the American moviemakers are trying to "crush the west European cinema industry" in order to ease their own crisis.

Social Freeze On In Poland

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WARSAW, March 24.—The social "freeze" is on in Poland. Both Americans and Britishers are getting the brush-off from the Poles.

Poles not only are not coming to parties, cocktail affairs and other social events organized by members of the American and British colonies. Many times they don't even trouble to answer "R. S. V. P." invitations.

The answer to anything the government doesn't want to talk about is: "We don't know anything about it. We never heard of it." That is the reply of the government's official spokesman to any inquiries about the social "cold war."

Pole Sets The Date

Those of the American embassy who like to entertain complain that it is not a question of setting a date and inviting Polish friends. If the American host hopes to attract a Polish guest the procedure is to telephone the Pole and ask him to set the date.

The government's official spokesman says, however, that no Pole is required to get official clearance to attend any Anglo-American affair.

Nevertheless, the brush-off goes on.

Colonel Nelson Dingley, the new American military attache, invited Polish military officials to a cocktail party to meet new members of his staff. Not a single Pole showed up.

Has Waited Months

Dingley now has been waiting months to meet Marshal Michal Zymierski, minister of national defense. Commander Gerard Bogart of Scarsdale, N. Y., U. S. naval attache, has been waiting since last August for an official meeting.

American Ambassador Waldemar J. Gallman invited representatives of the entire Polish press to a "get-together" cocktail party at his home. A half-dozen came of the 60 or more invited.

The social "freeze" is not confined to the Poles. Sadly lacking are contacts with the personnel of the Russian and other embassies of the "peoples' democracies." Necessary official business is conducted

OPAL DIXON

THE QUESTION

How does keeping house on the farm compare with keeping house in town?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. H. H. SMITH, Lubbock, route 7, housewife: "We have all the city conveniences, but there are more tasks, I believe, than in town. There's the house to keep and yard to keep and chickens to take care of. As for advantages, I can lots of things from my garden. I have a frozen food locker. Of course I put up all my meats and vegetables and fruits. I raised 1,500 chickens year before last and I still have them in my locker."

MRS. LOUIS HENDERSON, Lubbock route 4, housewife: "It's much harder on the farm. So many of the new farm houses are modern, but some of the older ones are not built quite so well. They are not equipped with baths or weather stripped. We have those wide open spaces, which I like. We have a wider community social life than the housewife in town. We can have that in the rural area, and then we can come in town and have social life, too. We can have both."

MRS. ERNEST SCHROEDER, Ropesville route 1, housewife: "I don't know. I never did live in town. I've lived on the farm all my life. You don't have as many visitors on the farm as you do in town and you can get your work done. I enjoy visitors when they do come. It's just a life of freedom on the farm. I can 500 to 1,000 jars every year and that makes cooking easier in the winter. We raise our own meat and have our own deep freeze."

MRS. M. C. VINEYARD, Kress, housewife: "When you're on the pavement in town, it's not so dusty. You have a lot more dust in the country. It's more pleasure to me, though. I'd rather be on the farm. It's just what a person is most satisfied doing."

MRS. DENNIS KNIGHT, Seminole: "It's pretty nice on the farm—quite an improvement over a few years ago. I like it. I have never kept house in town. I might like it in town, but I don't imagine I would. I've been so busy with my own home, I've never paid much attention to how they do in town. You hear people say 'I envy town people,' but I never thought about it that way."

MRS. TED VERNON, Lubbock route 6, housewife: "Well, I've lived in town until just last fall. I believe we have a little more dirt out in the country. Other than that, I don't think there's much difference. You have about the same routine of household duties in town and in the country."

Economic Aid To Europe Given Priority Over Arms Program

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24. — Europe's economic recovery has the right-of-way over any military program to support the proposed North Atlantic security pact, Senator Connally (D-Tex) said today.

"I should like to make it clear" Connally told the Senate, "the basic policy of the United States government is to accord economic recovery a clear priority."

The veteran chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee opened debate on the $5,580,000,000 program to aid western Europe in the next 15 months. Some senators have suggested chopping from $1,000,000,000 to $2,280,000,000 from the total.

Full Amount Urged

But Connally urged his colleagues to approve the authorization bill in full. It puts a limit on the amount to be spent by the Economic Cooperation administration, but it does not provide the actual cash. This would be done by appropriation.

Connally said the question has been raised whether "the contemplated military assistance program will interfere with the execution of the recovery program by the diversion of European manpower and materials for defense purposes."

While no definite answer can be given at this time, Connally said, "the military assistance program should, in fact, have a beneficial effect on economic recovery by strengthening the feeling of confidence and security."

Treaty To Be Signed

Unofficial estimates are that an arms program for members of the Atlantic pact will cost about $1,000,000,000—possibly more — in the first year. The treaty is scheduled to be signed April 4 by the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Belgium, France ,the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark and Norway.

Connally praised the achievements of ECA in the past year. But even though progres has been great, he said, Europe has not yet achieved recovery and still needs American dollars.

But he said that by June, 1952, Europe must be "independent of extraordinary American aid."

"We do not expect to continue this program beyond that time," Connally said. He added that next year's aid program will be cut "considerably below" the first year's program, which cost $5,055,000,000.

Clubwomen's Group To End Convention

WICHITA FALLS, March 24. (U.P.)—Federated clubwomen of the Wichita Falls district yesterday concluded a three-day convention with installation of new officers.

The new club leaders, also elected yesterday, were: president, Mrs. Herschell Eichler of Jacksboro, first vice-president, Mrs. Fred Broach; second vice-president, Mrs. John Carmichael of Vernon; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. D. Brownlee of Jacksboro; and first district trustee, Mrs. A. L. Wardlaw of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Herschel Nash of Weatherford was retiring president.

Kansas House Okays Veterans Bonus Bill

TOPEKA, Kan., March 24. (INS)—Party lines were shattered in the Kansas House of Representatives today when the House approved for passage a bill to submit a $100-million veterans bonus proposal to the voters in 1950.

The bill will be offered for roll-call vote tomorrow. Action today was taken as a committee of the whole.

A number of amendments were offered and parliamentary tactics used today in an effort to kill the bill in a bitted pre-ballot session.

Culberson Speaks On Communism At Kiwanis Luncheon

"Monopoly and Communism are twins," Olen Culberson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, told the Kiwanis club at noon today. "They are outwardly different in appearance," he urged, "but inwardly they offer the same threat to the continuance of individual rights."

Culberson told the Kiwanians that the American people had become too complacent and that they needed to shoulder their responsibilities soon or they would find that they had lost their privileges. He pointed out that casting a vote in the school trustee election on April 1 was one such important responsibility that all citizens should accept regardless of the pressure of their business or social life.

Prejudices Hampering

"We have already gone a long way down the road to the loss of our free enterprise system," Culberson said. "We had better take a part in our Democratic form of government to see that this trend is reversed or is stopped."

"We must go to the polls and vote our convictions. We must stop voting our prejudices," Culberson concluded.

W. W. Campbell was in charge of the program and introduced Mr. Culberson.

Visiting Kiwanians included: Glenn V. Banker, Russell, Kas.; G. W. Mumford, El Reno, Okla.; and Charlie Damron, Abilene. Visitors were: Brigham Young, Ft. Worth; J. E. Maisen, George Dupree, Gene Boisaubin, St. Louis; L. Wesley Read, Dr. M. D. Watkins, David West, J. C. Allensworth, Frank Baker, John Lee Smith, J. P. Elms, L. E. Walker and Carl Arthur.

Second Complaint Of Forgery Faces Man

Melvin Dean Barton, 24, of 18 miles southwest of Littlefield, was charged this morning in another forgery complaint—making two here—A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, said.

Barton, who has admitted a long string of forgeries—one of the checks running as high as $2,500—was charged in the latest complaint with writing and passing a $604.85 check Jan. 17 to Elms Equipment company. Dale Elms swore to the complaint, which was filed in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, for an April 4 grand jury investigation.

The check was signed "J. H. Middlebrook," Salyars said.

Officials of several other South Plains towns have asked that Barton be held for them after disposal of cases in Lubbock county, it was announced Wednesday.

Creel Chosen To Head VFW

William Earl Creel was reelected commander of the Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars at a meeting attended by 243 members in the new post home at Thirty-fourth and Ave. N Wednesday night.

Other officers elected were Robert Porter, senior vice commander; James H. (Cotton) Bryant, junior vice commander; Jewell C. Marbut, quartermaster; Jim Bill Clark, judge advocate; E. F. Pennington, chaplain; Carl Moyers, trustee; and Dr. C. H. McIlroy, post surgeon.

Others Are Appointed

Creel appointed the following officers: Louis Coffey, officer of the day; Glenn Self, quartermaster sergeant; Claud Thomas, sergeant major; Fred Kincaid, adjutant; Bob Stribbling, and W. A. Nelson, color bearers; and Art Matistic, guard.

V. R. Gilmore was named poppy chairman, Roger Hively, James Dallas, Leroy Land and Jim Crook were named to the publicity committee.

Creel announced that the Lubbock post is now the fourth largest in Texas with a membership of 787. A membership drive is to be started with a goal of 2,000 members in Lubbock.

The members agreed to sponsor a fun show, "Laugh It Off," to be staged in Senior High school auditorium April 14 and 15.

Plans were launched for a VFW district convention to be held in Lubbock May 7 and 8.

Tennessee Residents To Get Teeth Fixed

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 23. (U.P.)—The 4,000 residents of mountainous Carter county, Tenn., are going to get their teeth fixed—courtesy of the state legislature.

Yesterday the lawmakers passed a bill permitting an unlicensed dentist to practice in the area. No licensed dentist would live in the county, the bill's author said.

Communist Plan For Revolt And Strikes Is Revealed In Trial

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—A Communist master plan for general strikes and revolt—"according to the rules of military science"—was unfolded before a federal court jury here yesterday.

The prosecutor of eleven Communist party leaders read from a Communist document which bristled with such words as "armed insurrection," "revolutionary positions," "putschism," "revolutionary upsurge," and "mobilization of the masses."

A copy of this Communist program was identified by Louis F. Budenz, former Communist official who renounced the party in 1945 and returned to the Roman Catholic church.

Loyalty Said Demanded

Budenz testified that the party had demanded his loyalty to Premier Stalin as the leader of Communist world revolution in all countries, including the United States.

The witness said some of the defendants, being tried on charges of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence, had taken such a loyalty pledge in Moscow.

Budenz was the first witness called by the government in the ten-week-old trial.

The defense got an offer of help yesterday from Earl Browder, deposed leader of the U. S. Communist party who has been attacked recently by the Daily Worker, the party's official publication.

Browder offered himself as a defense witness, saying he made the public announcement to spike rumors that he would be a prosecution witness.

Browder May Testify

Browder, who was general secretary of the party several years ago, said he was prepared to testify that communisty policy always has been opposed to forcible overthrow of the U. S. government. Hitting back at the Daily Worker, he said it printed an "absurd" report that he was preparing to enter the Roman Catholic church.

Part of the Communist document identified at the trial by Budenz was read by U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey, the prosecutor previously had told the jury that the eleven defendants held the key to a planned American revolution.

The document—the 1935 Comintern program — called for "intensified revolutionary work in the Army and Navy."

McGohey read to the jury instructions to Communists in all countries to get control of trade unions, seek influence over "the lower strata of the intelligentsia" and fight the power of the clergy.

The Red program ridiculed any idea of "peaceful capture of the machinery of state by parliamentary majority." It insisted on the need for violence to overthrow the government when a "revolutionary situation" developed.

Budenz, formerly a member of the U. S. Communist party's "politburo" and now on the faculty of Fordham university, testified that as editor of Communist newspaper he had to follow orders gased on a world revolution program of the 1935 comintern in Moscow. He formerly was managing editor of the Daily Worker.

Budenz said Jack Stachel, the party's education director and one of the defendants, once criticized an article prepared for the Daily Worker because it failed to plug Stalin enough. The witnes said:

"Stachel called my attention to a resolution adopted by . . . the Communist international in Moscow which expressed loyalty to Stalin as leader of the world Communist movement."

Bundenz testified that three U. S. Communist leaders attended the seventh congress of the Communist international in 1935, which pledged loyalty to Stalin. He said they were Stachel, Browder, and Gilbert Green, Illinois state Communist chairman and a defendant in the conspiracy trial.

MOTHER WINS KITE CONTEST—Pointing to a kite which nas remained in the air for 38 hours over Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Harry P. King explains to her children that she has just set a record in the housewives' endurance contest. The children, left to right: Hornam, 7, seated, Douglas, 12, and Margaret Ellen, 3, are apparently impressed by their mother's fete.

Contract Awarded For Andrews Road

Additional low bids for 20 road projects, including one in Andrews county, were announced in Austin Wednesday by the State Highway commission, according to an Associated Press dispatch Wednesday night.

These, coupled with 22 low bids which were announced Tuesday by the commission, brought the total for the 42 projects to $6,630,932. The 22 low bids announced Tuesday aggregated $3,682,112, and included projects in a number of area counties.

The Andrews county project was let to C. Hunter Strain of San Angelo, with a low bid of $52,673. The work is to include 24.42 miles of double asphalt surface treatment on farm road 703 from Andrews to the Winkler county line.

Other West Texas counties in which road work is to be done include Howard, Pecos, Jeff Davis, and Culberson counties.

Flaming Gas Near Houston Smothered With Drilling Mud

HOUSTON, March 24 (AP) — A rip-roaring oil well gas fire shook South Houston homes late yesterday, lighted up the night skies and tied up traffic in the area for hours, before being subdued after blazing for more than nine hours.

The flame came in a bursting flash shortly after 6 p. m. yesterday which was seen for more than 20 miles, according to telephone reports.

Officials of the Production Maintenance company, which was drilling an adjacent well, said the burning gas came from the R. Y. Smith well, immediately south of Winkler drive in the South Houston oil field.

Drilling Mud Used

The blaze was finally extinguished about 4 a. m. today after more than 40 workmen pumped hundreds of sacks of drilling mud into the burning hole, smothering the fire.

J. K. Butler, vice president of the drilling company, reported that a nearby tool house, which housed equipment for the drilling crew, was burned to the ground and that the rig and rig crewmen escaped injury.

Calvin P. Williams, South Houston oil man, who owns three producing wells abutting the exploded well, was an eye witness to the initial blast.

"Boy, I thought the whole sky was afire when that column of flame went up. I ran to the back door of the house, looking for the drilling crew because I thought it was the new well going down," said Williams.

North Atlantic Pact Can Halt Conflicts Or Cause Third World War, Dulles Declares

PHILADELPHIA, March 24. (AP) John Foster Dulles says the North Atlantic pact can halt war forever—or be the immediate cause of a third world conflict.

John Foster Dulles

Dulles told the closing session of the 3rd annual Philadelphia Bulletin forum last night "the pact is defensive" but — "unless we are very careful Soviet leaders might jump to the conclusion that the pact is, in fact, offensive."

"If so," Dulles warned, "it might bring on the war which it is designed to prevent."

Dulles is U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

"Peace is not won merely by being right," Dulles insisted.

"If the Atlantic pact is to promote peace, the member states ought to conduct themselves, by word and deed, so that those in the Kremlin will see that the pact is an honest attempt to integrate and invigorate a free society within its natural limits. . .

"Let us rule out ambiguous acts and loose words that could make the pact a cause of war."

No Substitute for UN

Charles E. Bohlen, State department counselor, said the North Atlantic pact became a reality because the United Nations' peace machinery is stalled by Russian veto and defiance.

But Bohlen made it clear the pace "is no substitute for the United Nations."

"This treaty represents an historic step in the development of American foreign relations," Bohlen said.

"It is the first time in our history we are prepared to enter formally into an association for 20 years with countries outside this hemisphere under which we undertake to regard an attack on any of those countries as the equivalent of an attack on the United States."

Bohlen said only Congress can order the U.S. to war—despite the wording of the pact.

Dulles, however, insisted the U. S. would join the fight—immediately—should any member nation be attacked.

Conflict Defined

Clare Boothe Luce, former congresswoman from Connecticut, said "the present conflict" between the U. S. and Russia has three aspects. It's a battle between:

1. Capitalism and Communism. "This cannot provide the issue of war . . . but both sides may use it as an additional excuse in case of war."

2. World nationalisms. "It is marked by the nations' relentless search, in the name of peace, for a preponderance of physical power over one another. The Western nations are reaching this goal in the Atlantic pact. The Soviet east replies by enlarging its ring of satellite states."

3. Christianity and Marxian atheism.

The third struggle, Mrs. Luce said, "is the truly significant one."

"Let it be quickly said that in this conflict there can be no compromise of basic concepts," she declared. "It is a struggle to the death—the death in our time of either the Chrisian view of life, or the Communist view."

Russia, like Nazi Germany, is undertaking the experiment of official Godlessness, Mrs. Luce added.

Floyd Stock Meeting Scheduled Saturday

FLOYDADA, March 24 (Special)—Stock breeders of Floyd county and the surrounding area will attend a meeting at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the American Legion hall for the purpose of organizing the Floyd County Artificial Breeding association, County Agent Robert Gibson announced Wednesday.

Koy Neeley, lecturer in animal husbandry at Texas Technological college, will be a speaker at the meeting.

Officers and five directors for the organization will be elected. The group will make application for a charter, locate a headquarters and discuss buying equipment, hiring a technician and obtaining report and record forms.

Gibson said Floyd county stockmen have shown much interest in forming the organization and because of this the group will be able to start functioning immediately in order to take advantage of the spring breeding season.

Damage Suit Filed In Auto Collision

Judgment for damages of $5,171.85 was asked in a lawsuit filed Wednesday afternoon in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair as outgrowth of an April 22 collision of two cars on U. S. highway 84 just outside the Lubbock city limits.

The suit, J. P. Bowling and wife Carrie Maude Bowling against Will Stacey, alleged that Stacey's car was in collision with the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Bowling, who was represented to have been seriously injured. All principals live in Lubbock county.

The petition was filed by Gordon Treadaway, attorney for the Bowlings.

Congressional Group May Probe Election

SAN ANTONIO, March 24. (AP) A congressional sub-committee will look into the Texas senatorial election dispute of last fall, according to a letter received yesterday by Ben Tasto, San Antonio attorney. The dispute involved Coke Stevenson and Sen. Lydon Johnson.

The letter was from Sen. Frank J. Meyers, chairman of the U. S. Senate committee on privilege and elections.

Tasto said the letter was a reply to his suggestion that charges of election irregularities in Duval and some other Texas counties be looked into by the national senate.

Johnson was declared winner of the election by 87 votes. Stevenson contested the result.

Tech Women Students Schedule Vote Friday

The Association of Women Students at Texas Tech will elect officers for the 1949-50 school year Friday at the college.

The organization, of which every woman student is a member, serves to give mutual help and aid in matters of interest to women students and to help promote campus activities.

The following students are seeking office: for president, Levora Manning, Amarillo; Dorothy Phillips, Eagle Pass; for vice-president, Kathryne Witty, Hamilton; Thala Foster, Lockney Sue Ann Roberts, Memphis; for secretary, Joyce Byrom, Hobbs, N. M.; Dorothy Stephenson, Fort Stockton; for treasurer, Mary Stanford Waco; Louise Irwin, Amarillo.

Nominees for reporter include: Guida Miller, Amarillo; Doris Bell, Shamrock; Loy Anderson, Seagraves.

Volcano In Japan Spews Smoke, Ashes

TOKYO, March 24. (AP)—Fiery Mount Asama spewed smoke and ashes 10,000 feet into the air today.

The treacherous central Honshu volcano, one of the two largest of Japan's 300 volcanos, is 8,340 feet high. It is in Gumma prefecture.

U. S. Army Pvt. G. L. Gilmer of Elizabeth, Pa., is at the resort hotel Mompei near the volcano. He said Japanese meteorological service observers were at the base of the volcano, which vies each summer with Mount Aso, Japan's other large active cone.

For nearly two years Americans in the resort hotel near Mount Asama have been forbidden to approach the lower slopes of the volcano.

India, in a government-owned plant, will make its own penicillin and sulfa drugs.

Congressmen May End Part Of War To Slash Payment Budget

By JIM G. LUCAS
(Special Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 24 — Three years after VJ-day, Congress is getting ready to save money by ending a tiny part of World War II. Technically, that is.

A House subcommittee on military pay voted to declare the war's over as far as paying out any more soldier-sailor dependents' benefits is concerned. It wants to end hostilities—"for the purposes of this legislation"—six months after the new military pay bill becomes law.

Budget Cut Necessary

It's all part of Congress' struggle to pass a new armed forces pay bill which won't cost too much. On March 5, President Truman wrote Defense Secretary James Forrestal he'd go along if it didn't boost our military payroll more than $400 million a year. The budget can't stand any more than that, Mr. Truman said.

That means some cutting, the President added. The bill as it's now before Congress raises military salaries $590 million.

Mr. Truman said if he were still in Congress, he'd try to get down to $400 million a year in one of two ways:

Give everybody an increase but make military pay "fully taxable" —which it's not now. In other words, he'd pay out $590 million if the government were to get $190 million back in taxes.

Security Plan Proposed

His second idea is to make all soldiers and sailors contribute six per cent a year to their retirement fund. In the past, retirement has been looked on as part of a man's pay, with Uncle Sam paying all of it. The President suggested a military social security plan, similar to that used by civil service. He thought maybe it would make up the difference between $400 million and $590 million as well as lighten the load Uncle Sam has been carrying.

The Kilday subcommittee of the House armed services committee, thought it over and came up with an idea of its own.

During the war, the government matched GI salary allotments to take care of the folks at home.

Committee Action Slated

Several years ago, Congress announced it wouldn't pay those benefits to families of soldiers enlisted after July 1, 1946. But, the Kilday subcommittee found, there still are enough who enlisted before 1946 that Uncle Sam is paying out $50 to $60 million a year. Those men signed up for the duration of the war and six months thereafter. The only way to stop those payments is to end the war officially.

The committee decided to do that, with reservations. It didn't want to end it altogether. Too many of the president's war powers are still considered necessary. To end it altogether might mean he couldn't send military missions to Greece, Turkey and Iran. It might mean we had to give up overseas bases; it might upset North Atlantic planning.

Thus, the subcommittee voted to end just one part of the war. Mr. Kilday concedes it may be confusing. But it'll save $50 to $60 million a year—if Congress approves the committee action.

Judge Not Swayed By Lawyer's Cake

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 24 (AP)—Exhibit "A" was the cake baked by the defense attorney in the disputed oven, and the judge who ate it said "I feel fine—no indigestion."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finck sued a local furniture company for $198—the price of the stove which, said Mrs. Finck, "baked on the outside and not on the inside."

For the defense, Attorney Stanley J. Mosio asked Judge Royden S. Dane to move court temporarily to Mrs. Finck's kitchen. There Mosio turned out the cake. Judge Dane sampled it, thought things over and decided yesterday "it wasn't the best cake I've eaten, but—"

He ordered the furniture company to replace the oven door, repair the burners and make the stove satisfactory to Mrs. Finck.

FATHERS-TO-BE LABELED

BROOKLINE, Mass. (U.P.)—Prospective customers of a local diaper service wear "paternity pins." The firm presents the insignia to expectant fathers.

SHE WAITED 30 YEARS—Mrs. C A. Bente, of Dennison, Ohio, has kept her hopes for the past 30 years that she'd some day find her only son, Paul Lauver, right. The two were separated when she and Paul's father, now deceased, moved unexpectedly. A letter informing Paul, who worked on a farm away from home was lost and the 16-year-old boy joined the Marine Corps. As the years went by, both suspected the other was dead. In February they learned each other's address and Mrs. Bente is spending an extended visit with her son in Palestine, Texas.

Here's a NEW party-line customer!

This little fellow may be enjoying the protection of a telephone because you are sharing telephone service with his family or some other family on a party line.

Were it not for party lines, thousands of people—now being served—would still be waiting for telephones despite all the effort we've been able to put into the manufacture and installation of new telephone equipment.

If you are on a party line, you'll find courtesy and neighborly co-operation pay big dividends in better service. A party-liner who is thoughtful of the other fellow may well find that the other fellow will be thoughtful of him.

Planning Of Gardens Will Result In More Vegetables In The Locker, Experts Claim

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24.—It's almost spade and spud time.

My achin' back—garden time!

The National Garden institute, which knows everything about gardening from cut worms to corn shocks, has issued a primer on how to go about the business of providing the family with table greens.

First, says the N.G.I., a man ought to have a blue-print before he kicks up a clod in his garden.

Plan Said Needed

"Worry first about the hardy things like radishes, onions, lettuce, spinach and beets," the institute said. "Later you can think about beans, corn, tomatoes and the other tender crops."

Draw the plan on a piece of paper and take it with you to the garden. Save the drawing. That's a little complicated and puts the amateur gardener in the file-cabinet business, but the N.G.I. says it'll pay a dividend next year in the amount of stuff you put in the deep freeze.

The institute's recommendation for the size of the garden reminded me of the time he was secretary of agriculture and now is the junior senator from New Mexico.

Spacing Information Given

"I never have planted a garden," said he, "that was too big for my wife to handle."

Anyhow, the institute says that a plot should be no bigger than you (or your family, including mama) have time to take care of. About 1500 square feet is a good size for a home vegetable garden. If you want to hoe a corn row, reap a few potatoes and the vine crops, you'll need more room.

And about spacing:

The institute says that when planting very small seeds like lettuce you ought to dump about 15 to 20 seeds to the inch. Seeds somewhat larger, like the beets, you can plant about 12 to the foot. Peas, 8 to 12 to the foot, and beans 4 to 6 to the foot.

Crops Are Recommended

There are other things the garden folk recommend. Like putting a little sign at the head of each row so you won't be bending over to pick a radish where you planted beans.

"Memories are short," said the N.G.I.

And speaking of radishes, don't plant any long rows. They can be tucked in at odd places or sown in the same row with lettuce, beets or carrots. They grow fast and after you pluck 'em, you can transplant the other stuff and thus use your ground twice.

The institute points out that peas are a luxury crop—"none finer."

"But they take up a lot of room in your garden. A 25 foot row will yield a family of two only about a couple of messes. But they are delicious!"

There is no challenge on that.

Spinach! You had better keep junior under wraps when you are planting, hoeing and harvesting this crop. But if you pick it young and tender and tell him it's something else he'll eat it.

I am turning all of this information over to mama. The plot I have plotted is small enough for her to handle. In the springtime a man's fancy turns to taking a nap under a shade tree.

Russia Afraid To Let Its Citizens Make Comparisons With U. S., Report Charges

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The State department said today Russia is afraid to let its people get a true idea of American freedoms and living standards.

For that reason, it said in a strongly worded report, Russians are shut off from outside contacts whereby they could draw comparisons with the way things are at home.

The report told the failure of post-war American efforts to arrange with Moscow for exchanges of students, scientists and publications. It concluded:

"The Soviet government fears a free interchange of ideas because of a realization that 30 years Communism have failed to provide the patient Soviet people with a living standard anywhere approximating that enjoyed by the workers in the United States."

Freedoms Denied

It declared that the Russians have ben reprived by the Soviet regime of freedom of thought and action, "which once experienced through contact with American people or American books will make them ill-content with their life in the Soviet Union."

The report bristled with denunciation of Moscow "evasions," "suspicions," and "spy phobia." It was published on the even of the opening tomorrow in New York of a "Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace.' The U. S. granted entry permits to 21 delegates from Russia and Communist-run eastern European countries.

Explaining that "notable Communist propagandists" were granted visas because of the American policy of free exchange of ideas, the States department said that "the Soviet government has never permitted within its borders an international meeting epresenting a wide range of political views."

Closer Relations Proposed

The report disclosed that Prof. Harlow Shapley, Harvard astronomer who heads the sponsors of the New York conference, submitted invitations to several Soviet scientists to visit Harvard, Chicago, Princeton and other American universities. Moscow rebuffed or ignored scores of such invitations over the past several years and the State department said that Shapley's bid "as yet has not borne any fruit."

Beginning in wartime 1943 and particularly over the past four years the United States has pressed Moscow with repeated proposals for closer cultural relations of many kinds.

The war showed, the State department said, that "an interchange of ideas and a mutual understanding between the two peoples would constitute a prime necessity for the building of a healthy world society after the victory was won."

"The Soviet government persistently pursued an obdurate policy," the report said. "First the resistance was of a passive nature, delayed replies, incomplete replies, failures to reply.

"Then after the summer of 1947, rejections became more definite, based upon positive although specious reasons such as overcrowded housing conditions and psychological fears allegedly incited by the U. S. alien registration act.

"Finally, in 1948, the Soviet government took the open position of refusal to participate in cultural interchange with the United States because of suspicions that American motives behind the program were aimed at undermining Soviet security.

"Concomitant with the increasingly vehement opposition to cultural interchange has been the increasing emphasis upon Russian priorities and Soviet superiority in the realm of the arts and sciences.

"The mounting tight control exercised over Soviet artists and scientists, and the increasing attacks upon those who maintained contacts with fellow specialists in the free world have also poisoned the atmosphere and inhibited Soviet individuals."

The Kremlin, said the report, must keep Russians from outside contacts to "induce its citizens to tolerate the obvious failure of the Soviet system to provide for their needs, and to accept, at least passively, the oppressive aspects of the Soviet state."

"It is also necesary to keep gullible and misguided Soviet sympathizers beyond the USSR's borders ignorant of actual conditions prevailing in the Soviet Union," it added.

Floydada Officer Is Stationed On Guam

FLOYDADA, March 24 (Special) — Lt. Col. Kirk Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Scott of Floydada, currently is serving with the Far East Air Forces on Guam. There, he is chief of the Air Installation division at Harmon Air Force base.

Scott, who assumed active duty with the Air Force in 1941, first served as chief of the design unit at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, and later as engineering staff officer to the commanding general of the Miami Air depot.

In 1944, Scott served in the same capacity with the San Antonio Service command at Kelly Air Force base. After another tour of duty at Wright Field, he was sent overseas, where he was again engineering staff officer in the Japanese Air Materiel command for two years. After returning to this country, he spent one year as associate professor in the engineering department at the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright Field.

Lt. Col. Scott arrived for duty on Guam last November.

He graduated from Floydada High school in the class of 1919, and received a bachelor of science degree from Texas A & M in 1927. He holds membership in the American Society of Military Engineers. In civilian life, he was project superintendent for the National Park service at Big Bend National park.

Mrs. Scott and their 15-year-old son, John, currently are residing in San Antonio. Lt. Col. Scott will return to the United States in 1950.

Man Caught Wearing Women's Clothing

McALLEN, March 24 (AP) — A man arrested while wearing a skirt, blouse, silk stockings, slippers and a girdle was in jail here last night.

Constable Dick Bales said he found the strangely garbed man "wading around in stagnant water of a levee pit like a crane."

"He said he was trying to catch minnows," Bales said. "He talks sensibly."

STARDUST GAZER—Wearing an orchid-trimmed bathing suit, Chicago's Pat Morrison is in good position for star gazing, and incidentally—to catch someone else's gaze. She's a contender for the "Miss Stardust of 1949" title, given annually to the nation's most photogenic girl.

Thompson To Speak At Oil Convention

SAN ANTONIO, March 24. (AP) Ernest O. Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner from Amarillo, will make one of the principal addresses at the national convention here next week of the Western Petroleum Refiners association.

Thompson will speak Wednesday on oil production and marketing prospects for the rest of 1949.

The convention opens Monday and will end Wednesday night. New officers will be elected Tuesday.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so they feel more comfortable. Battery Products To Be Introduced Here

Six new battery products will be introduced here Friday when representatives of the Willard Storage Battery company meet with 17 Willard distributors and sales representatives from the Lubbock area in the Hilton hotel at 10 a.m.

The new products include a tractor battery, two radio dry batteries, a fast charger, a charge tester and a line of rental batteries. The new Willard rental batteries are the first produced by any battery maker since the war and emphasizes the service keynote of Willard's new 1949 sales, merchandising and advertising program.

The meeting, conducted by the Willard district office in Dallas, will consist of sales and merchandising discussions, a sound movie on prices and talks by sales executives of the battery firm.

Tablets or powder, you get the same famous "BC" formula—the same fast relief. Two "BC" tablets equal one powder. Use only as directed.

Floyd County Old Settlers To Meet

FLOYDADA, March 24. (Special)—Floyd County Old Settlers will meet at the Arthur Duncan Abstract company offices here at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to arrange for observance of the county's founding day, Mrs. Jeffie Smith, president, announced today.

All old settlers of the area were invited to attend.

A two-day celebration will be planned, and it is expected that the Floydada post of the American Legion and possibly the Floydada Rodeo association will participate in the celebration.

Social Freeze

ed in a suspicious, chilly atmosphere.

The social "cold war" obviously is an outgrowth of the strained international situation. No one doubts for a moment that all this would be changed if Generalissimo Stalin were to announce that permanent peace is here and relations with the United States were just dandy.

"Only the Rash Dash" is the slogan of the Dartford (England) Road Safety Club.

Plan For West German State Attacked By Several Groups

BY WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 24—The plan to create a western German state has bumped into increasingly powerful opposition.

Informed observers now give the idea no better than a 50-50 chance of being worked out. This dark outlook has taken root only in the last few weeks.

The Communists have been opposed right along to any western German government. It would leave out their eastern zone of Germany and minimize Communist influence in the west.

In this opposition they have found some strange allies, acting with different motives but the same end aim: No West German state.

Result Is Important

This opposition includes the strong Socialist party in western Germany, in French military government and a new German nationalist movement which aims at a united Germany.

The outcome of the dispute is important.

If the present German constitutional assembly at Bonn fails to adopt a constitution for western Germany, American and British policy — which calls for setting up such a state—must undergo a complete change.

The Bonn assembly early this month worked out its ideas of a West German constitution and offered it to the military governors of the U. S., Britain and France. The governors recommended changes which would give less power to the proposed federal government; more power to the states.

Strong Government Urged

The German Socialists, who hold 27 of the 65 votes in the assembly, are insistent on a strong central government with state planning. The Socialists say they won't back down. They apparently figure the western powers, if they want a western Germany, will have to make concessions.

The assembly can't adopt a constitution without the Socialist since a two-thirds vote is needed.

It is an open secret that French representatives in Germany have worked continuously at blocking the proposed western state. Twice invaded by German armies in recent years, France fears possible revival of a strong Germany.

According to one report the French consul general at Munich told German politicians France would support only the entry of individual German states into the western union defense federation. The inference was if the wesetrn Germans banded together they would never get into the European family of nations.

Red Bid Rejected

Thus there is a stalemate between the demands of the Socialists for a strong ventral government and the French opposition to creation of such a federation.

Dr. Rudolf Nadolny, former German ambassador to Russia, is one of those preaching a united Reich, composing the Soviet-controlled eastern zone as well as the three western zones.

Some say Nadolny is a Soviet agent. Others pass him off as a dreamer. But reuniting Germany is always a popular idea to the nationalist-minded Germans.

What may happen, one group thinks, is creation of the proposed western state will be stalled while all parties wait for something to happen.

A Communist-led people's council for eastern Germany last Saturday approved a constitution for the Soviet zone of Germany. This must be ratified by a People's Congress.

The People's council, apparently for propaganda effect, appealed to the western German leaders to meet them next month in an "all-German unity conference." This appeal has met with a cold reception.

ADMITS KILLING HER HUSBAND—Virginia and Ronald Wynne comfort their mother, Mrs. Jennie Barker, who has admitted killing her husband Lloyd. Mrs. Barker said she was afraid he was going to kill her and the children. Barker was the last of Ma Barker's boys, who rated high on the public enemy lists during the prohibition era in Oklahoma. The Barker family has resided in Denver for the past few years where Lloyd managed a restaurant.

Crop Outlook In Floyd Good

FLOYDADA, March 24. (Special)—Floyd county farmers are generally agreed that 1949 prospects are excellent as a result of late winter moisture.

In most of the county early wheat is showing a good stand, and even without further rainfall many farmers expect a yield of at least 15 bushels to the acre.

Late wheat is still doubtful, reports to County Agent Bob Gibson indicated today. More moisture will be needed for a good yield on late wheat.

Truck Gardening Planned

Gibson estimates that the wheat-ratio in Floyd county this year will be about 60-40, with more cotton to be planted than in the past three or four years.

Gibson estimates that Floyd county wheat acreage this year totals about 250,000 acres.

Irrigation Improved

Tomatoes, lettuce and carrots probably will be grown in the county this year, Gibson believes. Irish potatoes, for several years a large-scale crop in the area, have been discontinued during the past two or three growing seasons, but at least one farmer has indicated he will try them again this year. Onions will be grown by a few farmers.

The alfalfa crop is looking good. One farmer, Roy Wilkes, said alfalfa in some fields is nearly ready to cut.

Much progress has been made during the winter toward improvement or irrigation facilities, with many new wells drilled and old ones improved.

Southeastern Floyd county, long thought to be a "dry area," shows promise of successful irrigation wells, at least in scattered spots. Several wells have been sunk to 300-foot depths and appear to be good producers. Recent experiments with adicizing have improved water production in that portion of the county.

TWO-DECKER PLANES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24 (AP)—Pan-American Airways announced last night that its two-decker "Clipper America" planes will be put into service to Hawaii on April 1.

UP IN THE WORLD—Shelley Winters, young actress, rides the 11,005-foot Baldy Mountain chairlift to the summit while on a skiing vacation at Sun Valley, Idaho.

Woman Slow Learning Residence On Fire

ONEIDA, Ill., March 24 (AP) — Mrs. Oscar Olson, 45, didn't know her house was on fire until the floor collapsed and she lunged into the basement.

She crawled out and called the fire deepartment which kept the flames from spreading.

Floyd Cooperative Will Receive Bids

FLOYDADA, March 24. (Special)—Floyd County Electric Cooperative, Inc., will receive bids next Tuesday for construction of 258 miles of rural electric lines and two sub-stations, L. W. Chapman, manager of the cooperative, said today.

Two hundred and seventy consumers will be served by the additional lines, which will be built in Floyd, Hale, Briscoe, Swisher, Crosby and Dickens counties. Cost is expected to exceed $300,000.

The system was designed by a Lubbock engineer, H. N. Roberts and associates. Eleven contractors are figuring the job, Chapman said.

By 1920, when the constitution was amended to give women the vote, they had been enfranchised by 30 state governments.

Mass Protests Against "World Peace" Meeting Are Scheduled

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP) — Protests against a "world peace" meeting grew today but the meeting's sponsors accused the State department of "deliberately misrepresenting the conference in the eyes of the American people."

The State department has claimed the international meeting, which opens at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel tomorrow, will be devoted largely to Communist-inspired attacks on U. S. foreign policy.

Several Catholic and anti-Communist groups are marshalling forces to oppose the three-day conference. Picketing, pamphleteering and street demonstrations by massed thousands are planned.

Refusal Is Protested

As delegates from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia arrived yesterday, sponsors again protested the State department's refusal to admit some 17 delegates from western Europe and South America.

The ban against French, Italian and four of five British delegates was called an "attempt to suppress the truth that intellectual leaders of all political persuasions" support the conference.

The sponsors, the National Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions, said visas had been denied "Prominent non-Communist leaders."

Dr. Olaf Stapledon, philosopher and the only British delegate to receive a visa, is scheduled to arrive today.

Charge Is Hurled

In Washington, two lawmakers, Rep. Wood (D-Ga) and Rep. Multer (D-NY) joined in echoing the State department claims that the meeting would be a medium for Communist propaganda.

Wood, chairman of the House un-American activities committee, told the House the conference is "under direct sponsorship of the American Communists."

Dr. Harlow Shapley, Harvard astronomer and chairman of the sponsoring group, has denied this, and declared the conference is independent politically and will be conducted in the "democratic tradition."

The council said messages of support were "pouring in" from all over the world.

Among those listed as expressing support were George Bernard Shaw, British film star Michael Redgrave, Irish poet Sean O'Casey, novelist J. B. Priestley, Mexican artist Diego Rivera, novelist Thomas Mann, and Premier Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

Demonstrations Are Planned

Demonstrations protesting the conference were being coordinated by a newly-organized peoples' committee for freedom and religion.

Joseph M. Calderon, Brooklyn attorney and chairman of the committee, said:

"If we can flood the sidewalks around the Waldorf-Astoria, we will show Stalin what we thing of him. We would like to show him now what a demonstration for freedom really looks like."

He said prayers for the "liberation" of "Russian-enslaved millions" will be offered.

Officers of the Catholic War veterans said the CWV plans to "blanket" all sessions of the conference with 20,000 pickets.

The seven-man Russian group, headed by the noted composer, Dmitri Shostakovich, posed briefly for photographers at La Guardia field. On their arrival, after going through customs, the Russians slipped away from waiting reporters and left the field by automobile.

Foreign representation at the conference was trimmed further yesterday when the U. S. embassy in Mexico City refused a visa to David Alfaro Siqueiros, noted Mexican painter. The visa was refused after he said in answer to a question that he is a Communist, the embassy said.

MEET THE MANAGER—H. P. Clifton, manager of Firestone stores, 1112 Broadway, was born in Commerce Dec. 22, 1907. He attended public schools there and then Texas university, receiving a B. B. A. degree in 1934. He taught school two years at Honey Grove and Henderson, then became general manager from Gibson Products in Dallas, where he remained three years. He joined Firestone eleven years ago and managed stores at San Angelo, Oklahoma City, Roswell, N. M., before the war. He joined the Navy and served as a quartermaster on a transport for two years in the Pacific combat area. Returning, he was named to manage the Firestone store at Bartlesville, Okla., for a year and a half until he came to Lubbock July 1, 1947. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton and two children, H. P., jr., and Mary Ann, 11, live on Idalou highway and there Clifton pursues his principal hobby, gardening. He is a member of First Baptist church, where he teaches a class and is president of a Baptist Training union. He is a member of the Optimist club.

Former Convict Is Given Prison Term

SAN ANTONIO, March 24. (AP)—Paul Tomlin, 38, Dallas ex-convict, was sentenced to five years here yesterday after conviction as a holdup accomplice.

It was the only accomplice case of its kind tried during the past 26 years in the court of Judge W. E. McCrory.

Tomlin was charged as an accomplice in the hotel room holdup of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moody and Carlyle Lynton, San Antonio oil man, last Oct. 2.

Tomlin also faces charges as a principal in the robbery. The accomplice charge accused Tomlin of encouraging, commanding and advising the holdup.

James A. McFadin, 18, Arlington, who admitted the holdup, was placed on probation after being given a five-year sentence.

REFUSE TO WORK

CLEVELAND, March 24 — Prisoners at the Warrensville workhouse refused to work today because they objected to entertainment and visitor facilities.

Professor Is Motel Owner

PACIFIC BEACH, Cal., March 24 (AP) — Dr. R. W. Kerns has given up the classrooms in eastern colleges and gone into the motel business, so that he and his family can keep up with the high cost of living.

Ferns, a native of Ohio, is a Ph.D. in sociology and psychology and taught two years at Cornell University and ten years at Penn State.

But like so many other college professors with their modest salaries—far below those of some industrial workers—Kerns was unable to have what he wanted: a typical American family.

Their Own Design

So after the war, in which he served as a major in the Marine Corps, he and his wife, Alberto, a graduate of the Drexel Institute in Philadelphia, came to southern California. Together they designed, built, decorated and landscaped one of the most unusual and most modern motels on the west coast. They pooled their intelligence, and are now "making all ends" meet by operating their "Surf and Sand" motel, located right on the Pacific.

"It's hard to leave the teaching profession," Kerns said, "but unless we do we can't live in this period of high costs, and raise our three children in the standard that they deserve."

Uses Psychology

A college teaching position with probably a $3,500-a-year salary is all right in "depressions," according to Dr. Kerns, but it is touch in "times like these."

Dr. Kerns, who specialized in sociology, also likes the field of economics and psychology. Even now, he is practicing psychology to a certain degree.

To operate a motel, he believes, or a hotel, you've got to be something of a psychologist. His students, now, are his guests.

But, Kerns says, as soon as he can afford it he'll be back at teaching and research.

DEATH IS DECREED

License Voided After Negroes Are Sold Homes In White Area

ATLANTA, March 24. (AP)—The license of a negro real estate dealer, who sold homes in a white neighborhood to negroes, was revoked yesterday by the Georgia real estate commission. The commission found J. H. Calhoun guilty of falsely assuring a negro purchaser she could move into a home without opposition.

Calhoun said he might pull Georgia into federal court on grounds his civil rights were violated.

The commission took up the case after Gov. Herman Talmadge ordered it to revoke the license of dealers selling white property to negroes.

"It is my contention," said Calhoun, "that white people have a right to sell their property to colored people and vice versa.

Incident Recalled

"I intend to find out through the courts if this right exists. If there is such a right I should not be deprived of my means of livelihood for negotiating such a sale."

Calhoun is a member of the Georgia Republican central committee.

Areas where negro sections begin expanding into white neighborhoods have been a sore spot in the South in recent years. This month a dynamite explosion damaged a house in Atlanta sold by white persons to negroes.

Calhoun commented:

"The colored people have to have somewhere to go. I don't know the answer. But somebody better do something about it."

That Girl on Broadway says it's difficult—if not downright impossible—to tell a saint from a sinner when they're out fishing with each other.

What's so wonderful about man? It's true he can look back a billion years into the past, but he can't yet peer a split second into the future.

DURING the next several weeks you're going to read and hear more and more about the prospects of war.

In Congress and out, speeches will be made—and duly reported—about the dangers of immediate conflict and the steps we should take to get ready for it. In Russia and its satellite countries, similar talks will be made and the world armaments race already under way, will be stepped up.

For our part, we think the odds are 20-to-1 against war any time soon, simply because Russia probably isn't ready to fight. But even in the face of such odds, there is a possibility of an "incident" turning peace into shooting, as well as the possibility that Russia will decide to fight before the North Atlantic pact becomes operative.

Immediate war, therefore, is a possibility, rather than a probability. On the other hand, eventual war with Russia—when Russia is ready to fight—must be accepted as a probability, rather than a possibility.

This means that we must get ready for Russia—and stay ready for Russia, even if we have to be constantly on guard over five, 10 or 15 years.

WHEN people talk and think about "getting ready to defend ourselves" they usually think only about men and equipment.

"Getting ready" means plenty of planes, tanks, guns and ships; the men on hand to man them and other men ready to be funneled in as rapidly as possible.

"Getting ready" means great dumps of ammunition and other supplies; factories which can be turned, in a twinkling of an eye, from the manufacture of products of peace to products of war.

"Getting ready" means Red Cross blood banks, organizations of air raid wardens, auxiliary police, etc.

But "getting ready" means something else, too—something very important.

And for our part, we'd like to hear a little more about it from Washington than we're likely to hear before the guns begin to boom.

This "something else" we need to "get ready" is a law, already drawn up and pledged to immediate passage, covering a "draft of everything."

By a "draft of everything" we mean a draft of labor and of dollars, as well as of fighting men.

We mean that instead of a partial "freeze" of jobs and rents and wages and prices, an entire "freeze" of everything.

In other words, when and if war comes again it should be a total war from the start, in which all of us are subject to the same restrictions of liberty and earning power as the men yanked into uniform.

THE partial "freeze" during World War II was a step in the right direction but it didn't go far enough.

It permitted too many men to make fortunes out of war. It permitted predatory industry and equally predatory labor to raid, indiscriminately, the pockets of the taxpayers and to fatten on the war, itself. It didn't go far enough in the way of over-all control.

"Next time," if there is a "next time," our war effort should be total, with every man back of us paying his part and playing his part— as much a pawn in the game as those drafted for fighting service.

If one man can be told by law to "get in there and fight" at so much per month, another can be told by law to "get in there and work" at so much per month. Still another can be told how much of his fortune and earnings must be placed at the disposal of the Treasury and still another can be told how much he may charge for his goods, his services, or his rental property.

We'd like to hear a little something from the politicians on this score, along with their other ideas about "getting ready" and staying ready for possible attack.

EFFORTS on the part of Lubbock Rotarians to raise funds sufficient to build a permanent home for their Cerebral Palsy clinic spotlight again the great work being done for child victims of spastic paralysis here. Literally scores of youngsters are being aided at the clinic every week, with Miss Esther Snell, a trained technician, in charge.

Most people in Lubbock know there is such treatment available here without cost to parents. But what most people do not know is the almost amazing improvement treatments are bringing to numbers of the youngsters. Some, of course, show little or no improvement, due to the degree of involvement of their affliction. Some show only a little improvement. But a good many youngsters have improved and are continuing to improve to the point where the change in them is little short of miraculous.

The good the clinic is doing can best be measured by the fact that without it, many youngsters who will be made self-sufficient otherwise would go through life hopeless, helpless and thoroughly misunderstood cripples and invalids.

Also little known, but not surprising, is the fact that the clinic is bringing to Lubbock families with spastic children. Several families have moved in here to make their permanent home—one coming all the way from California—all because of the clinic's facilities.

Young patients are brought here twice weekly from distances well over 100 miles and more are coming all the time. It will not be long until additional technical help will have to be given Miss Snell who, thus far, is the only full-time paid employe of the clinic. Volunteer workers, mostly wives of Rotarians, take care of much of the paper work and other details and will continue to do so.

THERE is much humanitarian work going on in Lubbock all the time. This is a generous, forward looking city, its people always willing and ready to help on projects aimed at making life better for the less fortunate.

But it can be said without fear of contradiction that there is no greater humanitarian effort in Lubbock, or anywhere else, than the work going on at the Cerebral Palsy clinic. It simply cannot be beat.

Some day the new clinic building will be completed, opened and operating.

When that day comes all Lubbock may be humbly proud of it—and of the great work it is accomplishing.

BY DREW PEARSON: FOUNDATION FOR ECONOMIC EDUCATION OPERATES HUGE LOBBY

Biggest U.S. Corporations Backing Propaganda

WASHINGTON. — One of the neatest ways of reducing your income tax while simultaneously operating a powerful lobby has just been disclosed on Capitol hill.

It is the Foundation for Economic education, run by some of the biggest corporations in the U. S. A., and which has been flooding the country with propaganda aimed at undermining the Marshall plan, rent control, aid to education and social security.

PEARSON

The list of contributors has been kept a closely guarded secret. This column, however, has secured a copy and can reveal the fact that the backers of this lobby include General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Ford, General Electric, the Mellon National bank, Gulf Oil (also owned by the Mellon family), Republican Steel, the Du Ponts, Chrysler, Humble Oil, Inland Steel, Swift Packing company, U. S. Steel, Ernest T. Weir, Westinghouse, monsanto chemical, Libbery-Owens Ford, Sears Roebuck, Sun Oil, Texas Oil and various others.

Because the foundation is supposedly for "education," these big corporations can deduct every cent of their contributions from income. Thus the $274,576.60 given to the foundation in the past eleven months costs the corporations only a fractional part of the dollar.

Chief aim of this high-powered lobby is to oppose any act of Congress that raises living standards, if—it also lowers business profits.

MAIL BARRAGE

Sometime ago this column exposed the amazing fact that one congressman alone, Rep. Ralph Gwinn, New York Republican, had mailed out 900,000 letters containing 2,350,000 copies of speeches — against public housing, rent control, aid to education, etc. Since the congressman had only 280,000 people in his district it seemed interesting to probe into why he was mailing 900,000 letters at a cost to the taxpayer of about $27,000.

Part of the answer proved to be the Committee for Constitutional government. This lobbying agency, directed by Dr. Edward A. Rumely—who served a jail sentence as a German agent during the first world war—has been promoting part of the Gwinn mail campaign. But part of his letter barrage was traced to a rambling mansion overlooking the Hudson river at Irvington, N. Y., called the Foundation for Economic Education.

This idea was started two years ago by Suave, 51-year-old Leonard Read, former western manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and general manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The Foundation now pays Read $25,000 a year and, though not registered as a lobbyist, Read has carried his "educational" activities to Capitol Hill where he has written speeches against the Marshall plan for isolationist congressmen.

ONE of the foundation's writers whom the New York Herald Tribune has called the Goebbels of France. That he was a pro-Hitler propagandist has also been confirmed by the French embassy. Yet he was selected by the so-called "educational foundation" to write about the evils of rent control. Furthermore, the Reader's Digest lent itself to this propaganda, by publishing his pamphlet—just as rent control came up for debate on Capitol hill. De Jouvenel didn't even deal with rent control in the United States, but in France. Now he has been assigned by the foundation to write another pamphlet on socialized medicine—in England.

Other samples of the foundation's propaganda are: "Why Kill the Goose?"—a plea to protest big business; "Can Dollars Save the World?"—an attack against the Marshall plan; "Liberty and Taxes," an argument against overtaxing the rich; "Planned Chaos," a sock at government planning.

The foundation also sharply denounces tax exemptions for co-ops, yet willingly accepts tax exemptions for itself.

To spread its propaganda, the foundation has built up a mailing list of 27,308. But more letters are sent out by friendly congressmen using free mailing privileges.

Behind The Lobby

Among the top-flight business executives who run the foundation are David M. Goodrich, chairman of B. F. Goodrich Co., tire manufacturers; Thomas I. Parkinson, president of Equitable Life Assurance society; and Jasper Crane, Du Pont executive.

The more active trustees include: Charles White, president of Republic Steel corporation; Hughston McBain, president of Marshall Field; Whipple Jacobs, president of Phelps Dodge Copper Products; A. C. Mattei, president of Honolulu Oil corporation; and B. E. Hutchinson, financial chairman of Chrysler Corp.

The foundation's confidential records show that recent contributions have been received from the following: Nash-Kelvinator of Detroit, $2,500; Detroit Edison, $2,500; Republic Steel, $10,000; U. S. Gypsum of Chicago, $10,000; R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., $1,000; Standard Oil company of Ohio, $1,000; former senator A. W. Hawkes of New Jersey, ex-president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and vice president of NAM, $1,000.

BECAUSE the Senate was tied up over the filibuster, only one Irishman got away for St. Patrick's day. He was Senator O'Mahoney, who kept a speaking engagement in Pittsburgh. Another Irishman, Senator O'Conor of Maryland, came to his rescue. O'Conor would have voted the opposite of O'Mahoney, but he canceled his vote so O'Mahoney could celebrate St. Patrick's day . . . Senate majority leader Scott Lucas isn't at all happy over the way Democratic Senator Howard McGrath, the Democratic national chairman, is giving out stories to the press. Lucas threatened to have a showdown with the President, and demand just exactly who is the administration's spokesman in the Senate — McGrath or him . . . Louisiana's Senator Russell Long, jubilant over the South's victory in the Senate filibuster, has been telling firends that it "only took ten days for the South to change Senator Lucas from majority leader to minority leader."

Reporters' Book Will Explain "Fluke" That Elected Truman

ACTRESS Estelle Winwood tells of the ingenue who was being rehearsed for an Ethel Barrymore play. She kept making suggestions such as: "Miss Barrymore, don't you think I should be standing near you instead of way upstage?" Or: "Miss Barrymore don't you think it would be better for me to have a baby-spotlight here?" Or: "Miss Barrymore, in this scene don't you think I should make my entrance when you make yours?"

WINCHELL

The star nodded in agreement three times and then, turning to the producer, intoned: "Clevah gel. Too bad she won't be here ahftah lunch!"

Mr. Bogart says "those high Hollywood salaries impress a lot of people."

He means the people who are getting them.

Over at El Borracho some Democrats were praising new Sec'y of Defense Louis Johnson. "His new job," someone said, "will be a cinch after what he went through last October."

"Meaning what?"

"He was in charge of digging up Truman campaign money!"

A POLITICO was defending the President's defense of Gen. Vaughan, who accepted a medal from dictator Peron.

"Truman's very loyal," said the defender. "He doesn't care what any of the colyumists think."

"If he's so loyal," sarcasm'd a colyumist, "why doesn't he care what FDR would have thought?"

Two political reporters this Summer will unveil a book to explain the fluke that elected Mr. Truman. They will show, they say—that contrary to political history—the President was carried to victory by Congressional and State Democratic candidates.

In N. Y. State, it appears, nearly 100,000 voters voted for others on the ticket but did not vote for either Truman or Dewey. The total popular vote was 48,680,416. Truman got 24,104,836.

A slight margin, but Truman failed to win the majority of the popular vote because most voters opposed or ignored him.

From the H-Trib sports page: "Ollie Sax of Kearney High was voted the outstanding performer as a result of his brilliant oratory in the 440-yard race."

Gordon Jenkins, the "Manhattan Towers' composer, was telling Angel Lopez how to make out his income tax.

It's very simple," said Gordon. "Just add up what you made last year plus 10% and send it all to Washington."

A big news story that eluded the papers took place in Chicago a few months ago. Remember Sewell Avery, the business giant who got on all front pages when two soldiers carried him (in his chair) out of his office bldg.? He had defied a gov't order.

It was ex-Attorney-General Francis Biddle who gave the order to expel him. When Chicagoans gave a luncheon for Biddle they invited Avery, who sent this memo: "Mr. Biddle did more than anyone to put me on the map. I wish I could be there to tell him to his face."

THE OTHER night Mr. Biddle was telling how the passing of FDR affected people—high and low.

Mrs. Biddle phoned a friend to relay the terrible news. The colored maid answered. "Sarah," said Mrs. Biddle, "did you know the President died?"

There was a pause, and the almost-choking voice said: "Not OUR President?"

Gene Fowler's "Beau James" (the story of J. J. Walker, ex-mayor of N. Y.) reminds you of the time he resigned (for love of Betty Compton) and was sailing for Europe. A reporter said: "Jim, everyone is for you. All the world loves a lover."

"You are mistaken," Walker grimly replied. "What the world loves is a winner."

At a Board of Estimate meeting someone interrupted Walker by shouting "Liar!"

Jimmy squelched: "Now that you have identified yourself, we shall proceed."

Oh, away back in the Texas Guinan days when we reported a gangster would be shot dead in the morning (and he was) the Mayor said: "You better be careful; they'll take you for a ride."

"Would you come to my funeral?" we asked.

"What!" he exclaimed. "And get killed in the crush?"

At the Leslie House the ugly subject was Axis Sally—and the claim that her Man of Destiny had her hypnotized.

'I wonder how he did it?" wondered someone.

"Prob'ly waved some money in her face," hmf'd Vincent Lopez.

In the Stork club a producer of a soon-due play told showman Tony Farrell: "I'm sure I have a hit on my hands."

"Well," said Tony (who survived twice), "wait'll they get THEIR hands on it."

Mr. Lewis Solves His Pyramid Problem

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

No Accusations, But Sports Business Very Much Refined

NEW YORK, March 24. — I would never, never accuse the sports business of being cultured up and supervised to the point of sissiness but it sure has gotten refined in the last few years. Rocky Graziano was the last rugged individualist I remember, lately, and they legislated him loose from major operation.

RUARK

It seems mandatory that everybody in the sports world be a gentleman, today, or they will run him right out of the racket. This goes for prizefighters as well as tennis bums, not to mention ballplayers. I make no point in favor of hoodlumism as an adjunct to muscles, but I could never see that parlor deportment made any difference to the application of violent skill.

I have known some ballplayers who never hit so well as with a hangover, and a few fighters who practiced tee shots off the chins of their ever-loving brides. But even in my comparatively recent span things were beginning to get effete. I never knew any fighter like old Chuck Wiggins, who is dead now.

Bumps Into Alvis

All this came up not long ago when I bumped into Master Ray Alvis down in Washington. Master Alvis is a mellowed manager of gladiators and a high-rolling top-talker of the vintage of Dempsey and Doc Kearns. Ray was the keeper of Mr. Wiggins, who was a saber toothed tiger straight out of Indianapolis.

Mr. Wiggins had one great delusion. He thought he could whip any ten men that lived, and especially cops. This delusion was not aided by the fact that Chuck could not punch his way through a swinging door, but he never realized it. He delighted in summoning half-a-dozen policemen to help him frolic, and he thrived on nightsticks.

Mr. Wiggins also had another deplorable habit. He dearly loved to drink whisky, and he fancied himself a ladies-man. These foibles kept Mr. Alvis dancing, because at the time, Mr. Alvis, being much younger, had troubles of his own in the firewater and fluff department.

OLD CHUCK fought Harry Greb 13 times, and at least one time, Grand Rapids, the fight was put on with all fouls allowed. Mr. Greb bit Mr. Wiggins in the nose, and Mr. Wiggins kept a permanent knee in Mr. Greb's groin, and it was a real fine fight.

As a drinker, Chuck was always in trouble. He bought a horse and paid a fabulous fee for a silver saddle, and he kept the horse for two years with the local bootlegger. The horse ate the booze mash, and was ever in fancy fettle. They were kindred souls.

During the time that Gene Tunney was training for the Chicago version of the Dempsey fight, Mr. Wiggins once was employed to give Westbrook Pegler a mickey. The sum was $500, paid by a cultured non-admirer. Chuck poured the mickey when Pegler left the room to go to the gents. Peg was delayed in conversation, Chuck's heart smote him, and he became the first man in history to admit to evil intent with a Michael Finn. He knocked the glass out of Pegler's paw.

Bottle Finally Wins

The bottle finally beat old Chuck. He did a rap for some trouble with a young lady, who thoughtlessly turned up nude on a public highway, and considerably later he was found dead in an alley.

"Wild man or no," Alvis—who now rides the wagon himself—was murmuring, "he could murder any bum we got around today. Except I doubt if I could pasteurize him enough to suit the public taste. One thing I will say for Chuck, he was no gentleman."

Ray was ruminating, too, over the fact that the ranks of sports writers today are filled with gentlemen. He rubbed a scarred head as he mused.

"It was in Cleveland a long time ago," Ray said. "I was talking too loud at one end of the table, and this writer was trying to tell a story at the other end. I kept killing his point, so he picked up a bottle of ketchup, walked down to my end, and slugged me over the conk with it. Between the ketchup and the blood, I thought I was dead. Then the writer went back and finished his story. We don't seem to raise 'em that tough any more."

NO SO SMALL-BONED

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

MOTHERHOOD is considerably lightened for mothers who: Haven't forgotten how to play, and can be companions to their children instead of being just women who keep saying "No" to everything the children think up.

MILLETT

Aren't unhappy if they can live by a strict schedule. Few mothers can, but it's surprising how many of them feel frustrated because they can't.

Don't take the children's hurts, which are all a part of growing up, too keenly. It's one thing to understand what a child is experiencing and quite another to experience it right along with him.

Can put their children out of their minds when they do have the rare pleasure of leaving them in good care to go out and enjoy some grown-up fun. Some women feel guilty if they don't worry about their children constantly.

Can accept their children for what they are, instead of trying to make them meet some standard the mother has in her own mind.

LET CHILD BE HIMSELF

DON'T TRY to live their lives through their children. The mother who counts on a child to fulfill some ambition of her own is almost sure to be disappointed.

Don't mind noise and confusion too much. A home where there are children has its share of both, and if they make a woman "nervous" she is in for some unhappy years.

Don't keep comparing their children with the children of their friends. Women who do are always unhappy if their offspring are outshone in any way.

Enjoy each stage of childhood as it comes along, instead of always thinking, "When they reach such an age, everything will be easier." For each age has its wonderful side, as well as its particular problems.

Can learn from the experts without taking them so seriously that rearing children is filled with the anxiety that springs from trying to follow rules exactly.

Motherhood is considerably easier for such mothers, and childhood is easier for their children, too.

"Try And Stop Me"

WHEN Thomas Mann, one of the greatest of living novelists, fell ill, many of his admirers expressed resentment at the grudging information given out on the nature of his malady and the progress of his cure.

The silence, however, was the result of orders issued by Mann himself. "This concerns only my immediate family and myself," he said. "Only last week, I read what Tolstoy told his physician when HE was stricken: "I wish you would stop publishing bulletins about my sickness. What good do they do? My friends will be saddened, my enemies delighted."

A GRAND SUCCESS

All of the hundreds of individuals who contributed to the success of the 16th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show, which ended Wednesday, are due a salute for a magnificent job.

Those who visited the Fairgrounds during the three days of the show were practically, if not unanimously, in agreement that it was the best event of its kind ever staged in this portion of the Southwest. Entries were the most numerous. The quality of the calves, pigs and lambs shown was the finest. More people visited the show than ever before.

Many factors undoubtedly contributed to the achievement. But they all add up to one: More people worked harder, and with greater interest, on and during this show than any of its predecessors.

There is no more surer recipe than this for success for any undertaking, whether it be junior fat stock shows or anything else. It is the method which can insure that each of the annual South Plains Junior shows will be surpassed in quality only by those which lie in the future.

Rites For Pioneer West Texan Slated

LAMESA, March 24. (Special)—Funeral rites were to be conducted today for A. A. Reagan, 80, pioneer West Texan who died Tuesday night in a Big Spring hospital.

Services were to be held in the First Presbyterian church, with Rev. Clem G. Sorley, pastor, officiating.

Burial was scheduled to be in Lamesa Memorial park, under direction of Higginbotham Funeral home.

Reagan, a native of Tennessee, moved with his parents to Collin county when he was seven years old. He lived in Farmersville for many years and served as an elder in the Presbyterian church there.

A farmer and rancher, he first came to West Texas in 1891 when he settled in Lubbock. In 1927, he moved back to Collin county, and had been living here for the past four years.

Pallbearers will be D. W. Ogletree, George D. Norman, Edd Hatch, John Cason, C. A. Hollingsworth and Jack McLaughlin.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Sallie M. Reagan; one daughter, Mrs. Matt A. McCall, Lamesa; four sons, A. L. and John H. Reagan, both of Lubbock; C. A. Reagan, Amarillo, and A. A. Reagan, jr., Dallas; two brothers, Ike Reagan, Lozear, Colo., and Will Reagan, Clovis; one sister, Mrs. A. M. Black, Mountainaire, N. Mex.; and three grandchildren.

NO. 2809
IN RE: ESTATE OFIRA L. ELLIOTT, AND OLAN C. ELLIOTT, MINORS
IN THE COUNTY COURT OF LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS
TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ABOVE NAMED PERSONS OR THEIR ESTATES:

You are notified that I have on the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1949, filed with the County Clerk of Lubbock County, Texas, application under oath for authority to make an oil and gas lease on that certain real estate belonging to such minors, described as follows:

The undivided ⅛th interest belonging to each of said minors in and to the following tract of real estate situated in the County of Lubbock, State of Texas, to-wit:

FIRST TRACT:
The Southwest one-fourth (SW/4) of Section No. Thirty-three (33), Block J-8, E. L. and R. R. R. R. Co. Survey in Lubbock County, Texas.

SECOND TRACT:
150.18 acres out of the Southeast one-fourth (SE/4) of Section No. Thirty-three (33), Block J-8, E. L. & R. R. R. R. Co. Survey original grantee in Lubbock County, Texas, being all of said Southeast one-fourth (SE/4) lying South of the railway and state highway right-of-way as same are now laid out over said land, said 150.18 acres being described by metes and bounds as follows:

BEGINNING at an iron pipe for the S. E. corner of said section and this tract in the center line of the East-West and North-South graded highways;

THENCE North 861 varas to an intersection with the south line of said state highway right-of-way;

THENCE northwesterly along and with the south line of said state highway 185.3 varas to a 3" pipe set in the north line of said southeast quarter (SE/4), 1021.5 varas west of its northeast corner;

THENCE West at 847.5 varas a galvanized iron pipe set by a stone for center of said section Thirty-three (33) the Northwest corner of this tract;

THENCE South 930.4 varas to a point in the center of the East-West roadway, a 3" pipe set 20 feet north of the corner;

THENCE East 850.4 varas to the place of beginning, as surveyed by A. T. Harris, County Surveyor of Lubbock County, Texas, on October 14, 1932.

Also the undivided 1/8 interest belonging to each of said minors in and to the following described tract of real estate situated in the County of Lubbock, State of Texas:

THIRD TRACT:
The West 240 acres of the North 440 acres of Section No. Twenty-four (24) Block J-8, E. L. & R. R. R. R. Co. Survey in Lubbock County, Texas; which said tracts of real estate are more particularly described in said application, reference to which is here made for a complete description thereof; that the Honorable Walter Davies, Judge of the County Court of Lubbock County, Texas, on the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1949, entered his order designating the 4th day of April, A. D. 1949, at 10:00 a. m. in the County Courtroom in the Courthouse of such County as the time and place when and where such application will be heard, and that such application will be heard at such time and place.

A HORSE FOR THREE CENTS POSTAGE—Mike Hewitt, 11, of Woodmere, N. Y., and Rife, a retired police horse, look over the copy of Mike's letter that brought them together. Mike wrote the New York City police department asking for a horse and promising to take proper care of it. After investigating, the police delivered Rife right to Mike's door in a van.

Foot, Mouth Disease Still Threat To U. S.

HOUSTON, March 24. (AP)—The president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association today said the nation's economy still is threatened by the dread foot and mouth disease in Mexico.

Bryan Edwards, Henrietta, Texas, said "the danger to us and to our industry with consequent danger to the economy of the whole country is no less real today than it was a year ago."

In his annual report prepared for delivery before the concluding session of the association's 72nd annual convention, Edwards said continued support of the fight against the disease "is required and will be given."

Two officials of the commission, Senor Oscar Flores, Mexican undersecretary of agriculture for livestock, and General Harry H. Johnson of Houston earlier this week made reports to the convention on the fight's progress.

Edwards said it is very pleasant to know that a spirit of cooperation exists between the two countries.

SIGN OF THE TIMES?—French Communist women want to make it clear that they didn't raise their sons for war—not against the Soviet Union anyway. At the "Women's International Day," sponsored by the Reds in Paris, speakers reaffirmed recent declarations of aid to Russia in event of war. The sign on the rostrum reads: "The mothers of France will never give their sons to make war on the Soviet Union."

Truck-Train Crash Victim Badly Hurt

LOCKNEY, March 24 (Special)—Two of three men injured in a truck-train crash at Sterley, in northeast Floyd county, were released from Lockney hospital after emergency treatment Wednesday, but an attending physician described the condition of the third man as serious.

Old "Doodle Bug," a diesel running from Childress to Plainview, was in collision with a gravel truck owned by Cooper and Woodruff Construction company of Floydada at a grade crossing just kest of Sterley at 8:52 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Witnesses said the train struck the caliche-loaded dump bed of the truck. Most seriously injured was the train's engineer, Walter Williams, about 50, of Childress. The fireman, Ben Trent, about 40, of Childress and the truck driver, Charles Brantner, 18, of Floydada, suffered only superficial injuries. The three were taken to Lockney hospital in a Texas highway department station wagon.

Williams suffered a leg fracture, severe facial and internal injuries. His condition was not critical, the physician said.

The truck was employed on a farm-to-market road paving project near Sterley.

The Netherlands recently derationed eggs, tea and soup.

Setting, Atmosphere Of Meals Stressed

Fireplaces, Candles Claimed Important Factor In Romance

NEW YORK, March 24 (U.P.) — It's probably true that the way to a man's heart is through his esophagus, but if a woman's souffles burn and her biscuits become baseballs, she needn't despair.

For even if she can't cook the way his mother does, there's still a good chance to stimulate love at first bite. All it takes is a little planning and thoughtfulness.

Or so claims suave, genial Lou Simon, a three-college man who made the Fireside Inn one of New York's popular restaurants on the premise that love goes with lamb chops, romance with roast beef and wooing with wienerschnitzel.

Simon's restaurant is divided into five candle-lit rooms. Each has a fireplace and there are special corners for newlyweds, fiancees, anniversary-minded couples and the "boss-secretary pair."

Stage Setting Needed

"Each requires a different setting, you see, for each is in a different stage of love," Simon said.

He said women must "never, never" forget that "the dinner hour is the hour of intimacy." He also contended that more engagements are made and more tender words spoken at the dinner hour than at any other time of day.

He said that even after marriage "dinner should—and could—retain its aura of romance."

"Good cooking alone doesn't make for a successful dinner," he said. "A hungry man isn't always too particular. If the food is palatble, he'll eat it."

Simon said he considered setting and atmosphere to be as important as good food when it comes to making meals enjoyable. He said tables should always be set with candles, polished silver, and clean linen tablecloths and napkins.

Fireplace Desirable

"A fireplace is desirable too," he said. "If one doesn't have a fireplace, a bit of art, whether it be a drape or painting, will do."

Simon said he realized that after marriage it would be difficult for wives to give so much attention to dinner. However, he suggests that they make it a "must" at least twice a week.

"It's the best way I know of to keep love alive," he said. "Too many wives make dinner a routine meal. They forget all about romance. They come to the table with their hair in curlers and with aprons on. They set the table in the kitchen and serve from the cooking pots."

RATIONING ABOLISHED

STOCKHOLM, March 24 (AP) — Sweden abolished rationing of butter and other fats today, after more than eight years. Meat in restaurants also goes off the ration list, but remains on coupons in the stores.

MISSING NO BETS

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.) — A cafe burglar, after taking cash and other loot, stopped long enough to pry off the wall a $1 bill, tacked there on a bet.

Housewife Caught In Stampede Sues

BELLEVILLE, Ill., March 24 (U.P.)—The Kroger company today planned to appeal a decision awarding $20,000 damages to Mrs. Catherine Smith, who charged that her neck was broken in a stampede of housewives when a clerk yelled "come and get it!" during an oleomargarine sale.

Mrs. Smith also said that her right arm was paralyzed when she was "run down" in an East St. Louis, Ill., Kroger store Sept. 28, 1946, when oleo was scarce.

DAV Officer To Join Region Office Here

Transfer of Robert L. Fullen of Dallas to the Lubbock regional Disabled American Veterans office was announced Wednesday from the Washington office of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, national commander.

Fullen, a national service officer, recently completed a special six-month course at American university, Washington, D.C., and an 18-months field training course. During the latter, he was with the Montgomery, Ala., and Dallas DAV offices.

He assumed his new duties here Wednesday.

Lubbock's DAV office is located in the Veterans Administration building.

The DAV offers free service to any veteran, or veteran's dependents, in handling claims.

The Lubbock regional office serves 77 counties—the largest area of any regional office in the country.

In addition to Fullen, national service officers in Lubbock's DAV office are Robert Pugh, in charge, and Robert A. Burkhart.
