CHICKEN BAKED IN CREAM—JON MOZETTA—CHOCOLATE
CHIFFON PIE—JACK O'LANTERN SALAD—K C HOME MADE
BISCUIT MIXTURE—SPICE CAKE QUICK CARAMEL
FROSTING—A DELICIOUS MYSTERY

CHICKEN BAKED IN CREAM

Choose chickens weighing 2 to 3 lbs. Rinse each piece well and wipe thoroughly dry, then dip in Light's Best flour seasoned with salt and a little pepper and arrange in casserole. Cover with cream-of-mushroom soup, blended with an equal quantity of pasteurized milk. Cover casserole closely and set in oven. Bake slowly, keeping heat to 325 degrees about 2 hours. Add more liquid if necessary. Just before serving, remove cover and brown delicately. If gravy seems too thick, add a little cold milk when you remove cover. Garnish with parsley and serve in casserole.

JON MOZETTA

1 large can (or 1 pt. fresh) tomatoes, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 lb. hamburger, fried until brown, 5 medium sized onions, 3 tablespoons bacon fat, 1 pkg. noodles cooked 20 minutes in boiling water, 1/2 lb. grated cheese. Mix all together and bake one hour. Put half of cheese on top. This is the famous Jon Mozetta.

CRABMEAT, CELERY AND APPLE SALAD

4 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons salad oil, 2 cans crabmeat, 1 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup diced, pared tart apples, 3 shelled hardcooked eggs, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, lettuce, stuffed olives. Combine lemon juice, salt and salad oil. Mix crabmeat, celery and apples and let stand in salad oil mixture for 20 minutes. Then add eggs, coarsely chopped and mayonnaise. Serve on individual beds of lettuce garnished with green pepper and stuffed olives. Serves 8.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

Melt 2 squares chocolate in double boiler. Add 1 1/3 cups sweetened condensed milk. Stir until mixture thickens. Add 1/2 cup water and few grains of salt. Add yolks of 2 eggs beaten slightly. Stir until smooth, take from fire. Cool. Then fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites and flavor with 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Pour into pastry-lined pie plate. Bake in oven at 350 degrees about 25 minutes. Makes 9 inch pie. Serve with cream.

JACK O'LANTERN SALAD

2 cups diced apples, 1 cup diced celery, whole cloves, 1/2 cup nutmeats, halves of canned peaches, lettuce, strips of pimiento, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise. Combine apples, celery and nutmeats. Moisten with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and place mound of salad in nests of crisp lettuce. On mound of salad, place half a canned peach, with round side up and insert 2 whole cloves to represent eyes, a clove lengthwise to represent nose, and a thin strip of pimiento to represent mouth.

K. C. HOME MADE BISCUIT MIXTURE

8 cups sifted Light's Best flour, 1/4 cup K C Baking Powder, 4 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 cups shortening. Sift flour and measure. Sift again with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture has a fine even crumb. Place in closed container and keep in refrigerator using as desired. Will keep at least a month in refrigerator. It will yield 5 batches with 2 cups of mixture to the batch. May be used for biscuits, dumplings, shortcakes, quick coffee cake, muffins, waffles and others.

SPICE CAKE

1/4 cup shortening, 2 cups brown sugar, 2 eggs, 2 cups Light's Best flour, 1 teaspoon K C Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk. Cream shortening and sugar. Beat in eggs, add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, pour in greased tube pan. Set control at 350 degrees, bake 45 minutes to 1 hour. To serve cover with quick caramel frosting.

QUICK CARAMEL FROSTING

2 cups light brown sugar, 2 egg whites, 5 tablespoons cold water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Place all ingredients in top of double boiler, beat until mixture is thick and until it will hold its shape.

EXQUISITE CUSTARD PIE

1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1/2 cup chopped pecans, 1/2 cup raisins, 2 eggs. Cream butter and sugar, add cinnamon, nutmeg, vinegar and pecans and raisins. Then, add well beaten eggs. Pour in uncooked pie shell made as follows:

PIE CRUST RECIPE

Cream 1/4 cup butter and 1/2 cup shortening, add 6 tablespoons milk, 2 cups Light's Best flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon K C Baking Powder. Bake 10 minutes at 400 degrees, then reduce temperature to 300 degrees and bake 30 minutes.

A DELICIOUS MYSTERY

Make a baked custard as follows: 2 eggs, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 cups scalded milk, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract. Beat eggs slightly, add sugar and salt. Add scalded milk and extract. Pour in casserole and bake 1 hour at 300 degrees. Place casserole in pan of hot water. Cool custard and break it up in glass bowl. Soak macaroons in Sherry and cover custard with macaroons. Make a gelatin fruit dessert (using your favorite fruit flavor) and break it up when it has congealed. Pour over custard and macaroons. Serve with ducky little coconut cakes.

HOG PASTURES PAY DIVIDENDS

GOODWILL EXPERIMENT WITH SUDAN PASTURE FOR HOGS LOWERS COST OF FATTENING HOGS

That it will pay farmers of the high plains region to provide pasture such as Sudan grass for fattening hogs is indicated by results of an experiment recently conducted at Panhandle A. & M. College under the supervision of Question Williams, Assistant Professor of Animal Husbandry. Pigs fed a ration of ground milo and tankage plus Sudan pasture made gains at the rate of $5.90 per 100 pounds not including the cost of the pasture, whereas pigs fed in an identical manner but not having access to pasture consumed $6.63 worth of feed for each 100 pounds of gain.

The lots containing 12 pigs in each lot were used in this experiment. The pigs in the two lots were divided as equally as possible at the beginning of the experiment according to size, sex, type and general condition. Both lots were fed in self feeders containing two compartments with coarsely ground milo in one compartment and tankage in the other allowing the pigs to balance their own rations from the standpoint of protein required. The feeding trial extended through a period of 60 days, from August 2 to September 30, 1935. The pigs having access to the pasture weighed an average of 88.1 pounds at the beginning of the trial and 208.5 pounds each at the end of the 60 day period. The pigs not having access to the pasture weighed 88.3 pounds each at the beginning and 197.4 pounds at the end of the trial. The pigs on the pasture consumed 290 pounds milo and 15.5 pounds of tankage for each 100 pounds gain compared with 319 pounds milo and 21.3 pounds tankage required by the pigs not on pasture.

The feeds used were figured at their actual cost at the beginning of the experiment which was $1.90 per hundred pounds for ground milo and $2.65 per hundred for tankage containing 60 per cent protein. The use of the Sudan pasture caused a saving of $0.51 per head in feed cost during the 60-day period, and since the pigs in this lot produced at prevailing market prices pork worth $0.43 per head more than that produced by the pigs in the other lot, the pasture was actually worth $0.84 per head. One-half acre of Sudan was required to furnish sufficient pasture for the 12 pigs giving this area a value of $10.00 or $20.16 per acre. It should be remembered that the average rainfall was considerably below normal during the summer months of this year and that in seasons of normal rainfall at least twice as many pigs could likely have been supported on the same acreage.

Due to the similarity in the chemical composition of Sudan grass and young wheat plants, Williams believes that wheat pasture during the winter would be equally valuable in fattening pigs farrowed during the fall months.

K C is economical. Because of its high leavening strength only 1 level teaspoonful to a cup of flour is sufficient for most recipes.

It is a time saver. That's due to the double action. One action in the mix and the second, a stronger action, in the oven. You can prepare dough for biscuits, muffins, etc., hours in advance, set in a cool place and bake when desired. No need for hurry when using K C.

FARMERS VOTE REFERENDUM

ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM TO BE DECIDED IN NATION-WIDE BALLOT

More than nine major factors will be weighed by Ochiltree farmers before they mark ballots in the nation-wide referendum, Saturday.

October 26, according to W. M. Deck, president of the county corn-hog control association.

Not one of the nine points can be slighted, he said, in reaching a sound "Yes" or "No" decision on the referendum question: Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires November 30, 1937?

First in the outlook is the country's small livestock population. Unprecedented drought which cut the corn crop and the harvest of other feed grains almost half last year forced the farmers to strip their herds and flocks down to the smallest number of grain-consuming animals on farms in 34 years. Furthermore, the country's livestock population will not have been rebuilt to any great extent by the beginning of 1936.

Second, although farmers have 15 per cent less livestock than they had during the five-year period 1923-1932, it is estimated that at the close of this year's harvest, they will have enough feed supplies for almost as many animals as the average during the five-year period. The grain supply per animal this winter is therefore expected to be larger than any year since the World War, except 1926.

Third, if there is no adjustment program in 1936, farmers will be likely to harvest more than 100 million acres of corn. They harvested about 105 1-2 million acres in 1933 and 1934, and a recent government report indicates a 1935 harvest of nearly 94 million acres. Acreage this year was held down to 94 million only because corn-hog contract signers retired about 11 1-2 million acres. With average yields an uncontrolled acreage of corn next year would mean a production of more than 2 1-2 billion bushels. Since it is doubtful that animals will be increased enough in 1936 to bring the grain supply demand per animal back to normal, the amount of feed per head would continue high during the 1936-37 feeding season.

Fourth, with a large supply of corn and too few animals to utilize it, the trend of prices of corn during the coming year is expected to be downward. With uncontrolled production next year, the farm price received for the 1936 crop may be expected to average much less than the price received for this year's harvest.

Fifth, it is possible for the hog population to increase rapidly during the next two or three years. Furthermore, farmers would be forced to resort to this means of utilizing their feed supplies if production were uncontrolled. With unlimited farrowings in 1936, a total pig crop 25 to 30 per cent larger than the 1935 crop may be expected. This would lead to a similar increase in 1937, causing 1937 farrowings to total from 50 to 70 per cent heavier than in 1935.

Sixth, in the past ruinously low farm prices have always resulted from unlimited increases in corn and hog production following periods in which live-stock numbers and feed supplies have been out of balance. If no control program is adopted, low prices for hogs can be expected, beginning in 1937.

Seventh, it is likely that the gradual economic recovery which has been under way since 1933 will continue, but no improvement in the export demand for pork products can be expected. Since the war American exports of pork products have declined gradually by the equivalent of 8 million head of live hogs.

Eighth, a considerable increase in hog production above the present drought-reduced level is desirable from the standpoint of both the farmer and the consumer. On the other hand, an unlimited increase in hogs is not to the interest of either.

Ninth, an adjustment program can allow for a healthy increase in hog numbers and at the same time keep corn acreage at a more desirable level.

"The Romance Of Cooking"

By

BEULAH MACKEY YATES

A great celebration will take place on the day when dishes are invented that are inexpensive enough to be thrown away after one using, but still retain the virtues of china.

Until that time comes, however, our pride of ownership in good dishes will keep us at the daily cycle of clearing up the dinner table, washing the dishes and storing them away. In the meantime, also, many of us will continually be seeking for ways to lighten the task that takes us from table to sink to cupboard. There is really romance in cooking if we but look for it.

If we examine the processes in dishwashing, reduce if possible the time each takes and eliminate those which are unnecessary it is possible we may find waste motions and reduce the unpleasantness of an unavoidable chore.

First, all dishwashing should not be left until after the meal. Begin to reduce the after-dinner part of the work the first moment of meal preparation.

Clearing away as you go along will simplify dishwashing unbelievably. Replace materials or containers as soon as they are used—the baking powder, the spice can, the sifter. As you replace them determine whether or not they are in their most convenient location. Replacing is simple if it means merely reaching out to a shelf an arm's length away and not walking across the kitchen.

One meal process likely to create a confused and untidy kitchen is vegetable preparation. To avoid this all fresh vegetables such as lettuce, radishes and tomatoes should be washed as soon as they arrive from the green grocer and placed in the refrigerator ready for use.

This keeps the untidiness of wilted leaves and sandy sediment out of the kitchen during its busiest time. Other vegetables refuse, such as potatoes parings, carrots scrapings and bean strings can easily be kept out of the sink by paring or clean them directly into waste cans.

The large accumulation of cooking dishes during food preparation—measuring cups and spoons, mixing bowls, pans—all but the last minute cooking dishes, can be washed and rinsed with hot water.

Some housekeepers advise washing each dish as it is used, but there may be waste motion in that. A little easier system may be to clear away as one goes along but to have one washing during the last period of cooking.

When baking, a utility tray saves labor. Each tool as it is used is placed on this tray and taken with the soiled dishes on it in one trip to the sink to be washed.

The next step in cutting down waste effort in the handling of dishes after they come to the table is to have a systematic routine for them in the kitchen.

Extra space near the sink and a table placed conveniently near the sink where the dishes can be cleared and stacked as they arrive from the table are helpful.

It is at this point that a movable table of generous proportions makes its usefulness felt.

Dishes may be placed directly on the table in the dining room, moved to the kitchen cleared, washed, put back on the table and taken to the point of storage if the cupboards cannot be reached from the sink.

The Revolutionary NEW Concentrator Burner

NORGE Gas RANGE

The greatest advance in gas range engineering since the insulated oven

This exclusive, new Norge burner uses less gas to produce more heat. From an intensely hot flame, you can turn it so low that coffee can be kept hot for hours without even simmering.

The remarkable economy of this burner is due to its scientific design. It creates an ideal mixture of gas and air. It focuses the flame toward the center of the burner where it curves outward to the edge, heating the entire bottom uniformly without curling up the sides—without producing hot spots. Only Norge has the Concentrator Burner.

The modern beauty of this range is combined with a seamless top; spring-balanced, disappearing burner cover; removable porcelain grates; burner level tray; automatic top lighter; safety oven lighter; combined heat regulator and oven valve; two roller-bearing utility drawers; porcelain lined oven with level slide racks; full insulation; adjustable, elevating broiler.

Longer Lines in Ford V-8 for 1936

THE LONGER and more graceful lines of the Ford V-8 for 1936 are well illustrated in this view of the popular De Luxe Tudor Sedan. The new longer hood extends gracefully over the attractive new radiator grille. Wide streamlined front fenders, with an imposing flare, shroud the tires and house the matching and wheels of new design in a harmonizing color. Cars without de luxe equipment come in black or gunmetal, with fenders matching the body color and black wheels.

Thirteen body types are available, ten with de luxe appointments and three without. These are:

De Luxe: Three-window coupe, five-window coupe, roadster with rumble seat, phaeton, cabriolet with rumble seat, convertible sedan, Tudor sedan, Fordor sedan, Tudor touring sedan and Fordor touring sedan.

Without deluxe equipment: Five-window coupe, Tudor and Fordor sedans.

Interiors, especially luxurious in the de luxe types, reveal a distinctively modern treatment. The color motif in a rich gray, with which the taupe of the upholstery fabrics harmonizes. Seat cushions are deeply pillowed and set off with new piping. In de luxe types various upholstery options are available. Recessed arm rests give added elbow room in the Fordor and Fordor touring sedans.

All instruments are of new design to conform to the modern effect of the new gray metallic pyroxin instrument panel. De luxe car panels are fitted with -60-mile speedometer, with trip mileage recorder; ammeter water temperature indicator, electric fuel gage, and electric oil gage, as well as cigar lighter, tilting ash tray and glove compartment. The ash tray may be removed and a Ford radio installed upon special order.

All body types have clear-vision ventilation. Safety glass is standard in windshields and all doors, and windows.

Steering gear ratio has been increased to 17-to-1 from 15-to-1, and the front axle steering arm lengthened. New roller bearings have been added to the steering arm sector shaft, and teeth of the worm and sector are now ground and lapped. It is estimated effort required in steering has been reduced more than 25 per cent, as a result of these improvements.

Gear shifting is made easier by reducing the length of travel of the gear shift lever.

The number of anti-friction bearings in the chassis is increased to 27 from 25.

The new steel wheels consist of a drawn steel spoke section electrically welded to the rim, forming a single steel unit of exceptional strength. Each wheel is nearly five pounds lighter than the former steel spoke wheels. The wheel is completed by a 12 1-2 inch hub cap with polished rustless steel center carrying the V-8 insignia. Tires are again 6.00 by 16 inches, carrying 30 pounds pressure.

Although no change except in manufacturing fineness has been made in the V-8 engine, the cooling system has been improved and its capacity increased to provide adequate cooling under exceptionally severe conditions.

Aside from these improvements, the chassis is unchanged. Its most important feature is the proper combination of three engineering principles to provide what is termed the "centerpoise" ride. These are improved spring suspension, correct car balance and proper passenger weight distribution.

Other features include a double drop X-type frame, with X and side members forming box sections extending to the end of the frame; mechanical four-wheel brakes with 186 inches of friction surface; flexible transverse springs perched forward of the front axle and back of the rear axle on the 112-inch wheel base, providing in excess of 123 inches springbase; easy clutch with application assisted by centrifugal force; full torque-tube drive; three-quarter floating rear axle with

NEW FORD V-8 IS ON DISPLAY

1936 MODEL IS BEING SHOWN BY JOHNSON MOTOR COMPANY; MANY CHANGES

The new Ford V-8 for 1936 was introduced into Perryton last Saturday morning and attracted many visitors to the Johnson Motor company, local dealers, to see the new model on display.

Body lines which strike a new note in conservative streamlining, a new treatment of the interiors and three important refinements in chassis engineering summarize the principal improvements. There are no radical changes. The 85-horsepower V-8 engine, of which more than 2,000,000 are now in operation, is unaltered.

Of the three principal chassis improvements, one—improved steering is aimed at greater ease and safety of operation. Two others tend to greater comfort. One is the use of new steel wheels which lessen the unsprung weight and thus provide greater riding comfort. The other is an improved transmission using quiet helical gears—formerly used only in second and high speeds—in all forward speeds and reverse.

A new front end treatment gives added distinction to the body lines. The hood is longer, extending gracefully over the attractive new radiator grille. With its vertical slots and more accentuated "Vee", as well as its smoothly rounded lower edge which blends with the streamlined curve of the inner portion of the fenders, the grille contributes a new note of smartness.

Fenders are streamlined, a wide inward flare giving them an imposing appearance. Louvers are of new design. Horns are now recessed in the fender aprons back of small grilles beneath the streamlined headlamps.

The welded steel body is low and wide, with flowing rear quarter lines. Finish is a Ford-developed baked enamel. There are five colors, Washington blue, gray Vineyard green, Cordoba tan, gunmetal and black, of which the first two are new.

De luxe body types are available in any of the five colors, with fenders

PLANKED HAM STEAK DINNER—LADY OF SPAIN RICE—PAPRIKA SCHNITZEL—BANANA BUNDLES—SCRAMBLED EGGS WITH BREAD CRUMBS—JIFFY CAKE—COOKY FIT FOR A KING—GINGERBREAD THINS

PLANKED HAM STEAK DINNER

1 slice smoked ham, 3/4 inch thick;
4 small red apples, 4 parboiled
green peppers, 2 cups Spanish rice.
Score fat around ham. Broil 10 minutes without turning. Remove to plunk with broiled side down.
Fill pepper cases with Spanish rice. Arrange around ham alternately with apples. Return to oven to heat through and broil other side of ham. Garnish with parsley.

LADY OF SPAIN RICE

1 cup rice, 4 tablespoons bacon fat, 5 medium onions chopped, 1 clove garlic, 2 cups strained tomatoes, 1 pimiento, 2 teaspoons salt.
Wash rice, place in frying pan with bacon drippings, add onion and garlic minced fine. Let cook 10 minutes. Add rest ingredients and 1 cup water. Cook slowly about 1 hour. As water evaporates add more to keep rice from burning. Cook until rice is tender.

VANILLA ICE CREAM

1 cup whipped cream, 1/2 cup confectioner's sugar, 1 1/2 cups thin cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Whip cream until light and fluffy. Add sugar, salt and vanilla. Carefully fold in thin cream. Pour into tray and freeze.

BANANA BUNDLES

6 bananas, rich pastry, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Peel and cut bananas in half, crosswise.
Roll in sugar and cinnamon which has been thoroughly mixed. Place on square of pie crust about 1/4 inch thick and roll completely enclosing banana. Bake in hot oven 425 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.
Serve hot with whipped cream.

PASTRY

1 1/2 cups Light's Best flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 4 to 6 tablespoons cold water. Cut shortening into flour and salt until crumbs are size of dried peas. Add water slowly, using just enough to make dough hold together. Roll on floured board.

LITTLE APPLE CAKES

1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 2 cups Light's Best flour, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons K C Baking Powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon,

1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 cup nut meats, 1/2 cup chopped dates, 1 cup chopped fresh apples, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup cold strong Admiration coffee. Cream shortening, sugar and salt. Add egg and beat well. Sift dry ingredients and mix with nuts, dates and apples.
Add alternately to first mixture with coffee and vanilla. Bake in muffin pans 375 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes.

PAPRIKA SCHNITZEL

6 veal chops 1/2 inch thick, salt and pepper, Light's Best flour, 3 tablespoons shortening, paprika, 2 medium size onions sliced, 1/2 cup thick sour cream. Salt and pepper veal chops and roll in flour. Heat shortening in frying pan, add enough paprika to make a good red color, and sliced onions. Fry slightly, and add meat, brown, gradually adding sour cream. Cover pan and let cook slowly about 1/2 hour or until tender. Serve with Noodles or Steamed Rice.

SCRAMBLED EGGS WITH BREAD CRUMBS

4 eggs, 6 tablespoons cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup soft grated bread crumbs. Add salt to the eggs and beat until well mixed but not frothy. Add cream and stir until well blended. Pour over bread crumbs and mix well. Pour into well buttered frying pan and cook over low fire, lifting from bottom of pan with a spatula from time to time until mixture is rather firm. Set frying pan under gas flame for a moment to slightly brown top of eggs. Serve with broiled or fried bacon or sausage.

QUICK COLESLAW

1 chopped green pepper, 1 tart red apple diced, grating of onion and juice, 1 teaspoon salt, mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons pure vinegar, 4 cups cabbage, 1 tablespoon sugar, dash of tabasco sauce. To cabbage finely shredded, add a green pepper, diced apple and few drops of onion juice. Sprinkle with salt, sugar and tabasco, and moisten with mayonnaise, which has been combined with vinegar. Mix well and serve in nests of crisp lettuce. This makes a splendid emergency salad.

2 tablespoons salad oil may be used instead of mayonnaise.

JIFFY CAKE

(Baked in Half Hour)

6 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 squares (oz.) un-sweetened chocolate, 2-3 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 1/2 cups Light's Best flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon K C Baking Powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Into a good sized bowl put softened shortening (not melted) and sugar. Work together just enough to blend. Break in whole eggs. Stir in melted chocolate (first melted over hot water) then add milk, sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt and cinnamon, add to first mixture. Now beat vigorously with slotted spoon 2 minutes or with electric mixer 1 minute at high speed. Turn into well greased square pan (8x8x2) and bake at 350 degrees about 25 to 30 minutes.
Ice with:

Frosting

2 cups powdered sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 table spoon butter, enough milk or cream to make a thick smooth icing. Beat hard until smooth. Note: 1 package cream cheese added to frosting improves it a lot.

A COOKY FIT FOR A KING

Maybe you wish for something for tea, some little thing that hasn't appeared on every tea table as regularly as a fried egg on a lunch cart counter. So here is a chocolate cookie, a fragile rose-point cookie, a thin, crisp, perfect love of a cookie, and so easy and quick to make that you can dash out and have it ready before you can say Jack Robinson!

Put on the double boiler—the whole thing is done in it. No extra bowls and melting pots necessary.
Put on the double boiler and into it put 2 squares of chocolate. Let it melt. Now, take the top of the boiler to your kitchen table and add to the melted chocolate 1/2 cup melted butter, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup
Light's Best flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt.
Beat well, add 2 well beaten eggs.
Flavor with 1 teaspoon vanilla.
Beat again. Spread with a spatula on greased cookie sheet, having mixture spread extremely thin. I mean extremely thin. Be as immoderate as you can on the thinness. Sprinkle thickly with finely chopped walnuts. Bake in an oven at about 400 degrees for 10 minutes. Cut into squares or shapes while warm.
Don't loiter here. Work fast, and right away they'll be crisp, elegant, delicious and devastatingly good with tea, coffee, chocolate, ice cream or all by themselves.

GINGERBREAD THINS

Just one more of the same kind,
only a little more so, if you know what I'm driving at. And this one is to be used, utilized, employed, consumed and turned to the same account as the chocolate creation.

And its a gingerbread. Ginger things are lovely with tea.

Cream 1 cup shortening with 2 cups sugar. Add 1 tablespoon ginger, 1 cup milk in which has been dissolved 1/4 teaspoon soda. Add gradually 4 cups sifted Light's Best flour. Mix well. Spread this mixture on inverted greased tins (the bottoms, you know), or on a cookie sheet. If you spread the chocolate on as thin as you possibly can, spread this one a shade thinner.
It's thinness that counts. Bake in an oven at 375 degrees until light brown. Cut while hot, don't wait.
Cut it the moment it comes from the oven. This recipe makes a large quantity of the most delicious ginger "thins" you'll ever eat in all your life. Half the recipe if you want less. After once making these, you won't dream of halving the recipe.

FRUIT SALAD WITH HONEY DRESSING

Prepare fruits, which may be combination of fresh and canned strawberries, oranges, bananas, canned pears, canned white cherries and pineapple make an attractive blend—by slicing or cutting into cubes. Drain and chill well.
Serve on lettuce leaves with a dressing made by mixing together 1/2 cup strained honey, 1/4 cup lemon juice, and 1/2 teaspoon gelatin softened with 1/4 cup cold water, then dissolve over boiling water. Beat well to incorporate honey through-ly and fold in 1 1/2 cups whipped cream.

BOILED RICE

1 cup rice, 2 quarts boiling water
3 teaspoons salt. Wash rice thoroughly in several waters until all loose starch is removed. Drain.
Have boiling water ready in deep saucepan, add salt, slowly drop in rice and allow to boil for 12 to 25 minutes, or until a grain when pressed between thumb and finger is entirely soft. In order to prevent rice from sticking to pan, lift, if necessary with a fork but do not stir. When sufficiently cooked, turn rice into a colander or sieve.
A little hot water may be run through rice to wash off extra starch. After water has drained off, cover with a cloth and set over pan of hot water on back of stove or oven. Treated in this way, the grains swell and are kept separate.
Rice cooked with hard water is not as white as that cooked in soft water. 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon cream tartar or 1 tablespoon vinegar may be used in hard water to insure snowy white cooked rice

"Romance Of Tabasco Sauce"

In 1947 the United States and Mexico were at war. Towards the close of that year General Scott led his victorious troops into the city of Mexico; thereby ending that unpleasantness. After peace was declared, and the soldiers from the north country had been ordered home, quite a few of the Sutters and Army followers remained in Mexico to seek their fortunes.

One of these men by the name of Gleason worked his way south from Mexico City and took up his residence in the State of Tabasco, where he found conditions to his liking. Later he decided to come back to the States, and in 1832, took ship at one of the gulf ports, landing in New Orleans. While there, he was brought in contact with Mr. McIlhenny, a banker, and gave to him some pepper seeds which he stated would produce a pepper pod of especially fine flavor and color. These pepper seeds were planted by Mr. McIlhenny and, eventually, some of the plants were taken to Avery Island, La., near New Iberia, and there grown in the kitchen garden of Mr. McIlhenny's father-in-law, Judge Avery.

We now come to the War of the States, when the North and the South were engaged in a death struggle, which, fortunately, for the perpetuation of our great country, ended disastrously for the South. It was primarily due to the defeat of the southern cause that Tabasco came into being. Due to the fact that both Judge Avery and Mr. McIlhenny took prominent parts in the financing and administration of the southern cause, they were, when General Banks captured southern Louisiana, banished from the state and with their families went across country by wagon train from south central Louisiana to south central Texas, where they remained until peace was declared.

After the war these banished people returned to the old home plantation and found their sugar-houses, salt works, and homes, had been burned; their slaves liberated; and themselves impoverished. With their families and some of their old slaves who had remained faithfully on the plantation, the work of building a new home and fortune was begun.

Both Mr. McIlhenny and Judge Avery had been fond of the highly seasoned foods, peculiar to southern Louisiana, and, as on their return to the plantation, the funds to purchase other than the barest necessities were unavailable, Mr. McIlhenny began experimenting with the making of condiments and seasonings for the family's use. Finding in the shrubbery growing about the place some bushes of pepper similar to those he had previously raised from the seeds brought to him by Gleason, from Mexico, Mr. McIlhenny experimented in making a hot, pungent sauce from these peppers, which at once, due to its high flavor, met with the approval of his family and friends.

Among those who tried this sauce was General Hazzard, who had been appointed Federal Administrator for South Louisiana. General Hazzard became a warm friend of Mr. McIlhenny's and induced him to give to him a number of bottles of this sauce so that he could take it North with him.

In 1867, General Hazzard showed this sauce to his brother, E. C. Hazzard of New York, who—at that time—was head of the largest wholesale grocery house in the United States. E. C. Hazzard thought the sauce had such fine qualities that he persuaded Mr. McIlhenny to make and pack a small quantity and send it to him by steamboat from New Orleans to New York, and to give him the agency for the distribution of the sauce in the North. All of this being accomplished, E. C. Hazzard and Co. began the introduction of the McIlhenny Sauce.

When a name to designate the sauce became necessary, Mr. McIlhenny called it Tabasco; that being the name of the state in Mexico from which the seed of the pepper originally came.

This pepper, at that time and for many years thereafter, was not known as a distinct variety of pepper, but in 1886, Dr. Sturdevant, a botanist of Geneva, New York, described this pepper as a new variety, calling it Tabasco pepper, and stating in his description that he had received the specimen from Mr. E. McIlhenny of New Iberia, Louisiana. Dr. Sturdevant's original herbarium specimens, with description attached, are now deposited with the St. Louis Botanical Gardens, and is part of their herbarium records.

From the small start in 1868, Tabasco rapidly met with popular favor, and in 1872, a demand having arisen in Europe for this sauce, Mr. McIlhenny established a Tabasco agency in London on Soho Square, immediately adjoining the famous firm Cross and Blackwell.

The distribution of Tabasco soon became world-wide, and it was not long before it could be procured in every civilized country in the world, and some that were uncivilized. An instance proving its wide distribution is related in Lord Kitchener's report to British Government of his conquest of Kartoum. In this report the statement is made that Tabasco was found further in the desert, than any other modern food product.

A large part of the the popularity of Tabasco lies in its pungent, highly aromatic flavor. While this flavor is contained in the crude state in the pepper itself, it is brought out in a peculiar manner. All table sauces, with the exception of Tabasco are cooked before being bottled. The peppers from which Tabasco is made are brought from the fields and macerated, then packed tightly into oaken casks. These casks have small holes bored through the tops—as they stand on one end—the tops are then covered with a thick layer of fine salt. The object of the salt is to form a seal which will be airtight insofar as air getting into the casks, but which allows the gases formed by fermentation during curing to escape through the small holes and salt layers. These casks, filled with the mashed peppers stand untouched for 3 years, at which time the mash is thoroughly cured and has attained a rich, smooth flavor. As the demand for Tabasco sauce warrants, the cured mash is mixed with a suitable amount of high grade vinegar, run through a couple of sieves of the finest mesh, automatically bottled, labeled, and packed. No exposure in handling is allowed which might detract from the mellow delightful flavor of this sauce.

A large part of the success and reputation of the seasoning used in Creole cookery is due to Tabasco. It is especially valuable in giving the breakfast egg a fine flavor. As the English say, "It makes a good egg better and a bad egg good."

As an aid to digestion this sauce has no equal, for its penetrating, pungency stimulates the peptic glands, causing an increased flow of the digestive juices.

But it is in the kitchen where Tabasco is of the greatest value to the housewife. There is hardly a dish which cannot be improved by adding a few drops of this pungent sauce while cooking. Mrs. Yates even advises its use in ice cream to bring out the flavor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Blue, Mr. and Ray Christopher and Mrs. Miles Edwards were Saturday visitors in Amarillo.

"Things You'll Like To Know About Salads"

By Mrs. Beulah Mackey Yates

There is one especially happy thing that every woman should know and consider about salads—often a salad will make a meal—and as a main course it frequently solves the menu problem on some particularly difficult day.

If the weather be warm, a crisp salad stimulates the lagging appetite, especially if you accent its cool refreshment by serving one contrasting hot dish. This may be merely a cup of heated canned soup, a plate of hot bread, a toasted sandwich, a health-giving vegetable, or an egg or cheese surprise.

Luscious salads are legion—and are tempting to the average appetite no matter what the weather or the season. Before suggesting some of my pet versions, I am listing some rules of general and great importance.

The first and most essential one is the chemistry dictum that oil and water do not mix. Dry your lettuce. Drain your vegetables and fruits.

Emphasize contrasts—in flavor, texture and color. A bland base, like tuna fish, or cream cheese, requires a bit of pickle, a nut, some celery, an apple, or the like. A golden peach stuffed with cream cheese is improved by surrounding it with bright red cherries. A criss-cross of anchovies on potato salad achieves three contrasts, and thereby delights the epicure. Even the salad greens are more alluring if you use a little of several varieties as a base for full-meal salads.

Marinate vegetables, meat and most fish, and set in your refrigerator for an hour before mixing with other ingredients. But lightly, please. By marinating, we mean to let these salad bases stand in a rather tart French dressing.

Avoid lavish quantities of dressing. Use just enough to moisten and coat each component part. Be sparingly with sugar in any dressing.

Use two implements in combining ingredients. Two forks are excellent. Remember to toss your salads, never to mix with pressure.

Don't cut meat too fine unless it is used in a gelatine mold. Finely minced meat tends to become mushy when mixed with dressing.

Augment salads by adding canned accessories from your emergency shelf if last minute motoring guests arrive or remain until the dinner hour. Slices of canned corned beef are delicious additions to your mixed salad. A can of boned chicken can be used with your chicken salad. Canned peach halves are elegant, stuffed with mashed bananas, mixed with chopped pecans.

Garnish every salad. Your guests' delight will reward you richly for such efforts. Sliced, hard-cooked eggs, radish roses, capers, sliced stuffed olives and cucumber rings add color as well as flavor.

COOK

with GAS

"End Home Drudgery
By Using Natural Gas--
The Modern Fuel!"

Says Mrs. Yates, Cooking
School Instructor

No home can be modern without gas appliances—because gas is definitely a modern fuel . . . as modern as today's automobile.

Only a few years back, gas was available only in the larger cities and then at almost prohibitive cost. Today it is piped adjacent to every home in Perryton.

End home drudgery by connecting with the gas system. No more ashes, no more fires to build, no more heating troubles. Light just one match this fall and the fire will last all winter—keeping your home cozy and warm—at just the right temperature.

And in the kitchen, the modern housewife is finding gas indispensable. It makes cooking and baking easier and faster—no soot, no dirt, no fuss. Gas refrigeration is gaining too, because it is so very economical. Automatic hot water heaters are a revelation in any home.

Mrs. Housewife can go about her tasks with a smile for she knows that her household tasks are done—

K C BAKING POW- DER COOK HINTS

MRS. BEULAH MACKAY YATES
GIVES NEW CHOICE RE-CIPES USING KC
BAKING POWDER

Always sift flour and K C Baking Powder together at least three times.
The more sifting, the lighter, finer texture the cakes, biscuits, etc., will be.

To mix a cake, first cream butter and sugar thoroughly then add yolks, if used. Then, to this mixture, alternately add moisture and the flour that has been sifted with baking powder and stir until smooth and glossy, adding beaten egg whites after thoroughly mixing.

For cakes, have your oven slow to moderate at first, until the cake is fully risen; then increase the heat,
so as to just brown lightly.

Here are a few choice recipes. You will like them.

K C Everyday White Cake

1/2 cup butter (4 oz.)
1 cup granulated sugar (8 oz.)
1/2 cup milk
2 cups flour (8 oz.)
2 level teaspoonsful K C
Baking Powder

Whites 3 eggs

1 teaspoon vanilla extract

K C Bran Muffins

2 1/2 cups uncooked bran (3 1/2 oz.)
2 cups flour (8 oz.)
1 1/2 teaspoonsful salt
2 eggs
1 3/4 cups milk
3 1/2 level teaspoonsful K C
Baking Powder
4 tablespoonsful sugar (2 oz.)
3 tablespoonsful melted fat
(1/2).

Note: Permitting the bran to soak in the milk for 1 to 3 hours before adding the other ingredients, adds greatly to its palatability. Bake 35 to 40 minutes at 350 to 375 degrees.

K C Baking Powder Biscuit

2 cups flour (8 oz.)
2 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder
4 level teaspoonsful shortening (2 oz.)

About 2-3 cup milk or water
1/2 teaspoonful salt.
K C Doughnuts
1/2 cup granulated sugar (6 oz.)
1 cup sweet milk
3 tablespoonsful melted butter
(1 1/2 oz.)
3 cups flour (12 oz.)
1 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites and yolks beaten separately
2 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder

MANY SHOWERS DURING OCTOBER ADD MOISTURE

While nothing like a general rain was received during the month of October, several local showers supplied a total of .88 of an inch of moisture. The fall came in seven showers during the month.

The moisture came on the following dates:

October 6	16
October 16	18
October 17	20
October 18	02
October 20	13
October 23	17
October 29	02
Total	88

Only one shower was received during the past week, a dashing one late Tuesday afternoon accompanied by high winds. The fall amounted to only .02 of an inch. Nearly all of the moisture received has been during the latter part of the month which gives some hope that it may continue.

pices of the Pierce Johnson Post of the American Legion.

Filipino orchestra, will furnish music for the occasion.

LION CEREMONY HELD THURSDAY

INITIATION SERVICES AND VISIT BY DISTRICT
GOVERNOR GET
TURN OUT

Nearly every member of the Perryton Lions club was present for the meeting last Thursday evening to hear the address of District Governor Ralph E. Randall, Panhandle, and to attend the cub initiation ceremony held after the regular meeting.

Before being admitted to the hall, the visiting District Governor was required to take some of the "secret works," when it was discovered that he had never been initiated. He was followed by three cubs from Liberal, Kans., brought down for initiation purposes by President Chas. Taylor.

Local cubs who were made into full-fledged Lions were J. R. Martin, J. W. Nielson, E. C. Buie, E. W.
LeMaster, Tom Hampton, W. G.
Park, C. O. Roach, Otis E. Burk,
J. T. Stovall, Miles Edwards, O. A.
Bush, Garland Redfern, W. A.
Eaton and L. D. Stinson. M. R.
Coffee, a reinstated member was introduced into the mysteries of Lionism. E. D. Kelley, who has been active in the club long enough to think he was exempt from initiation, also was given "the works."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Joffroy and Ruth were Amarillo visitors Saturday.

Designate Herald To Receive Funds For Rogers Memorial

The Ochiltree County Herald has been designated by Captain Eddi Richembacker, director of the operations committee of the The Will Rogers Memorial Commission, to accept subscriptions from people of this area to the national fund that is being raised to erect memorials to this great American.

The Will Rogers Memorial Commission is headed by Vice-President John N. Garner and a large group of prominent and influential nationally known men and women make up the commission. Money, alone, is not the goal. Naturally, the total subscribed will be reflected in the ultimate nature of the memorials. But the real goal in the eyes of the Commission will rest in the number of friendships registered in the campaign—the total number of people who will voluntarily honor the memory of their friend with a material token of that friendship. Millions, it is anticipated, will voice their appreciation of Will Rogers by their contributions—mil-

FUNDS SOON AVAILABLE TO START WPA PROJECTS

Congressman Marvin Jones' office notified the Ochiltree County Planning Board, under date of October 28, that he had received information from Washington that the Treasury warrant had just been countersigned for a state-wide WPA project to improve star mail and school bus routes and to construct farm to market roads and that $30,000 for Ochiltree county was included in the amount. Local officials have received no word when the funds will be available for the starting of WPA projects in this county but it is thought that it will only be a matter of a few days until some definite date can be set for the starting of operations.

ROLL CALL TO OPEN NOV. 11

RED CROSS CHAPTER PLANS
ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP
DRIVE OPENING
NOVEMBER 11

The dates of the American Red Cross Roll Call, from November 11 to Thanksgiving, will be observed by the Ochiltree county chapter for the membership drive of the local unit, C. W. Claybaugh, Roll Call chairman announced this week.

"The chapter has a splendid membership at present," Mr. Claybaugh stated, "and the officers hope that this can be maintained and if possible increased for the coming year."

Organization of the Roll Call committee is nearly complete and will be announced next week. It is the sincere hope of the officers in charge that all volunteer workers will perform the duties to which they are assigned so that the intensive drive can be conducted. Every part of the county will be covered in the campaign, it is said, and everyone given an opportunity to join.

Because of the many relief activities of the past few years, the local chapter has not been called on for a great deal of assistance, but with the reduction of the direct relief program and the necessity for the local communities to take care of unemployed it will mean greater demand on the Red Cross. The delay in getting WPA projects into actual operation in this section will also mean that the Red Cross will be called upon for help.

All of this will require funds and the annual membership drive is the only method the chapter has of securing them. One-half of all dues paid is retained by the local unit, the balance being sent to national headquarters to assist in carrying on the huge program anticipated for the year by the organization.

Ablene, Texas; Construction Starts

Station To Cost $4,500

Located at 4th. and Main; Will Be Company Operated by Sinclair Refining Co.

Construction work will start at once on a modern one-stop service station at the corner of Fourth Avenue and Main Street. W. B. LaMaster, owner of the property, awarded the contract for the erection of the building to H. L. Rice, Abilene, Texas, last week, for the sum of $4,500.00.

The station will occupy the front 75x80 feet of the plot, the 60 feet in the rear being used by the Armour Creamery. The buildings now used by the Armour people is being moved to the rear. It will be stuccoed and given a thorough overhauling.

The new station has been leased to the Sinclair Refining Co. for a ten year period. It will be company operated, so states C. V. Hobbs, local wholesale Sinclair agent. Plans and specifications for the new modern service station follow the general design used throughout the nation by the Sinclair people. The general lines follow the Spanish style, exterior being finished in white stucco with green tile trimmings.

Size of the station is 41 ft. in width by 22 ft. deep, with a 16 ft. canopy projecting out from the south part of the main building. The pumps will be under the canopy. The station will be located in the center of the plot, north and south, and will be about 26 ft. back from the front property line.

The south 16 ft. of the main filling station building will be used for the office, accessory salesroom, a tire repair room and the restrooms. The north 26 ft. will provide space for servicing cars, with grease rack and car washing equipment.

The walls of the station will be of hollow tile and brick construction with white stucco exterior finish, plaster on the inside.

"The Republicans have to deal, not with lost faith in Roosevelt, but rather with how to restore faith in the Republican party. This can only be done if the Republican leaders face the new conditions boldly and sympathetically."

Thus was summarized the recommendations of the "official observer" of "The National Republican Builders," one of the many adjuncts, affiliates, and other types of appendages of the G O P national organizers, that have been set up to perform services and do deeds that are either beneath its dignity or perhaps above its comprehension. This observer had made several transcontinental trips and sounded sentiment. His conclusion as quoted above was reproduced in the orthodox Republican New York Herald-Tribune of September 8. It attracted some attention, no doubt, but not especially in the quarters of the G O P High Command to which it was directed.

For example, Mr. Chester Bolton, chairman of the Republican National Congressional Campaign Committee, announced to the press his "conviction" that putting people to work is a "disgraceful and unwarranted spendthrift program." Messrs. Ogden L. Mills, James M. Beck (momentarily leaving the Constitution unguarded), and others who served under and around Mr. Hoover, also approved the Bolton thesis that starvation would be preferable to utilizing the country's credit. On down the line, Hamilton Fish et cetera to Col. Roosevelt, they are putting the Republican party on record as vigorously opposed to continuance of relief.

Mr. Bolton's idea of recapturing public respect for the Republican party was to assert that the seven billions appropriated for relief and work relief in the last three years "is more than double the worth of all the automobiles and trucks manufactured in the United States in 1929." This to his mind seemed sufficient statistics. But Mr. Hoover himself, when his turn came to re-establish public confidence and respect, made his figures more impressive, more astronomical as befitting a subject with which his name was long connected, until relief became a poignant problem in his own land. His contribution at Oakland was a blase statement that while he couldn't "comprehend" a three and one-half billion dollar deficit, he did know that it was "enough to buy me ninety million suits of clothes, one for every mile to the sun."

Evidently Mr. Hoover did not realize that the American people would at once associate him with relief when he discussed relief. Immediately the editorial writers, particularly on independent Republican newspapers, began consulting the records. They have recorded that as administrator of Belgian Relief Mr. Hoover reported expenditures of a billion and a half dollars; as administrator of relief in Eastern Europe following the World War he reported expenditures of another billion dollars. Also that while the deficits during the last three years of Mr. Hoover as President of the United States were not quite six billions, they remind their readers that nothing was done worthy of the name of relief, in so far as this country was concerned, until Franklin D. Roosevelt became President. Therefore the inevitable conclusion that although Mr. Hoover personally supervised some sizeable expenditures of American taxpayers' money for relief of the inhabitants of both Western and Eastern Europe, he indulges in levity in criticizing severely what his successor has done for the deserving destitute folks here at home.

There have been many other efforts put forth by eminent Republicans of the Old Guard to recapture public faith and confidence in the party under their benign control. For instance, despite the decision of the High Command in session in Washington September 25 "to say nothing at all" about the AAA "until the convention meets next year," Nation Chairman Henry P. Fletcher issued this statement to the press on October 1:

"Reports from various sections of the West show that under orders from AAA officials, farmers are being compelled to set fire to harvested crops, such as wheat and oats, and burn hundreds of bushels because the amount they have raised and harvested is in excess of the amount stipulated in their contracts with the AAA."

This yarn was immediately exposed, by farm and grain publications as well as by the AAA. It related to two isolated and "stage managed" cases. A share tenant in Reno county, Kansas, had been notified by the local board of farmers that it would be no violation of his contract to cut his excess oats as hay. Later he reported to the committee that he had given the ripened grain to the local relief authorities. Instead, a Hutchinson newspaper photographer was conveyed to the farm by a representative of its absentee ownership, the camera was placed snugly close to accentuate the crime and the stack was ignited in furtherance of the plan to regain the respect of the electorate. It was done "boldly and sympathetically."

The other case was that of a farmer near Sarcosie, Missouri. Reports to the grain director showed that the wheat and use it as cattle feed. But he claims he couldn't get around to it. The wheat ripened; he cut it and "somebody else" went out and took a picture of what the farmer asserted was a mighty small blaze.

The several thousand local farmers' committees in charge of the adjustment programs—all administered locally—report that they have never ordered or sanctioned the burning of surplus commodities. So the extreme rarity of such cases as the Republican National Committee Chairman reported to the press—as having been ordered by AAA officials—is in very striking contrast to the tragic situation before the farmers organized their adjustment administration. Under Mr. Hoover's administration, the government agencies frankly recognized the situation was so desperate that penniless farmers, unable to buy coal in winter, should burn surplus harvested grain in their stoves. Studies conducted by the University of Nebraska showed that shelled corn at 16 cents a bushel was more economical fuel than coal at $10 a ton. Similar reports were issued by the Universities of Illinois, Minnesota and other states. With corn selling at 10 cents a bushel, it was realized that farmers were justified in burning it to keep their families warm instead of letting it rot.

Chairman Fletcher will discover that hard experience has taught the farmers to get away from the disasters of 1932. He will have to devise some other method of "restoring faith in the Republican party."

able result? It is constant application that makes these men efficient.

Applying these thoughts to the religious sphere, what is the chart and compass, the lawbook, the instrument with which every Christian should be familiar? As you well know, it is the Bible, which God has given "to instruct us and to teach us the way in which we shall go."

Many, in these hectic days, would form a new religion, better adapted to modern needs than our Bible. Many preach a social gospel to show men how to transform this world into a paradise, making a future heaven unnecessary. But no human intelligence can improve upon the way which God Himself has prescribed for all men of all ages. And that path still leads out to smoking Mt. Sinai, where the thundering Law is proclaimed in ten harsh commandments. And from there the trembling sinner is directed to peaceful Mt. Calvary, where stands the cross, upon which the world's Savior atoned for the sins of all mankind. Having found Him, who is "the way, the truth and the life," may God keep us consecrated to Him and His word in these days of materialism and religious flabbiness!

"The Sinner on Trial Before the Court of God" will be the sermon subject next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Sunday School and Bible classes meet after the service. Visitors are always welcome at our church.

THE FALL OF JERUSALEM

Memory Text: "Righteousness exalteth a nation; But sin is a reproach to any people." Prov. 14:34.

Lesson Text: 2 Kings 25:1-12

Have you ever dreamed in vain? Have you ever built hopes and plans for those you loved, only to have them dashed to pieces at your feet?

Have you given of your own heart's blood in behalf of others, only to be rewarded with contempt and ingratitude? Ponder then, the disappointment of the Potter under whose tender and diligent hand the rebellious clay became disfigured. Behold Jerusalem, Jehovah's chief joy, the Holy City of the centuries, the abode of some of the best and purest people who ever trod the earth, putrifying with internal corruption, and taking the perilous path to certain ruin.

I. Jerusalem Besieged

The declining years of Judah were characterized by weak, puppet kings who were mere figureheads placed upon the throne by the whims of Babylon. These rulers were very wicked, caring nothing for the ancient beauty of Jerusalem's righteousness. Selfish and conceited, they cared nothing for the people. With hands full of idolatry and greed, they had no room for the pearls of truth nor deeds of righteousness.

Zedekiah, the last king, resorted to treachery and rebellion against Babylon. This brought Nebuchadnezzar down upon Jerusalem like a great tempest. Soon the defenseless children of Israel were to be torn from their homes and scurried to a heathen land in a most disgraceful manner. A fort was built around the city by the enemy, and a bitter siege begun.

Soon the sunshine was paled by the shadowy figure of famine. Up and down the streets he trod withering the bodies and blanching the faces of young and old. Disease and death followed hard in his footsteps. Cries for food must perish in echoes while the grim monster, Babylon crouched without, ready and biding his time when the defenseless city must surrender to his ravenous jaws.

II. Jerusalem Captured

Finally a breach was made in the walls of the city. Though these barriers were strong, Judah's real strength should have been in their God. But heaven had withdrawn its

p. m., Sunbeams, R. A's. G. A's. and W. M. S.

shielding arm from the doomed people. Mere rock and mortar were helpless in such a crisis; so the city fell, "and great was the fall thereof." The walls were crumbled to the earth, the gates burned with fire, and the fair daughter of Zion lay a hopeless wreck and ruin, smoldering in her own ashes and sending up to Jehovah a nauseating stench of defeat.

III. ZEDEKIAH'S FATE

But where was Zedekiah? Coward that he was, he took to his heels leaving his people to their sad fate. His cowardice came to the surface along with his fiendish selfishness. What cared he for the tragedy that was swooping down upon his subjects if his own neck was spared? Thus those who lead you to do wrong will desert you in times of tragedy. Satan himself is yellow as well as black.

But the fleeing fox is losing to the hounds. His wild race across the plain is soon ended as Nebuchadnezzar's fleet soldiers sweep down upon him. His own sons are slain before his very eyes. Then those eyes which had witnessed the ghastly sight were put out, and the suffering humiliated king was led away captive to spend the remaining days of his life behind dark prison walls. Sightless and brokenhearted, he is left there to die.

IV. But we are happy to turn from this repulsive scene to get a glimpse of sunshine. God has not forgotten the Ethiopian who had been instrumental in getting Jeremiah out of the city where the prophet had been put because of his warning words. So when Jerusalem was destroyed, the Ethiopian was spared by being permitted to leave the city before its fall. Let us therefore remember that though God took vengeance upon those who rebelled against Him, He rewarded those who served Him. If we will but profit from the pages of history, it is possible for us to enrich our own lives and avoid the pitfalls like those which swallowed up many unfortunate and disobedient men of past centuries.

METHODIST CHURCH

W. B. Vaughn, Pastor

Last Sunday showed the best attendance at the services for several months. A very fine spirit prevailed among those present. The Fourth Quarterly Conference was held Sunday night. There were good reports from all the departments. The new board of stewards will meet Friday night to organize and get ready for the work of a new year.

Sunday School 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. Young People at 6:45 p. m.

There will be no preaching service at night, but we will attend a union service at the Baptist church, where Mr. Pat Henry will speak in interest of the Hi-Y.

The pastor will preach at New Hope Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

Sunday was a good day with us. Large and appreciative audiences at all services. The young peoples work is making rapid growth. Bible classes are being attended by appreciable numbers. A fine crowd was present for the New Hope meeting Sunday afternoon.

Sermons for next Lord's Day are: "The Life Supreme," morning hour. "The Needs of Man," continued from last Sunday night.

These two themes are vital and concern some of the most challenging issues of our present day. Come and let us study heaven's answer to our great soul needs, hungerings and thirsts.

A. C. Williams, Minister.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 3.

The Golden Text is: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" (Psalms 51:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints." (Revelation 15:3)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil." (page 571.)

Dinosaur Stamps New Thrill for Collectors

DINOSAUR Stamps, made from original paintings, are putting a new glint in the eyes of stamp collectors both young and old. Twenty-four stamps in all have been prepared and published. Eighteen show dinosaurs of various kinds, and six show other important reptiles and strange birds that inhabited the prehistoric world. Some of the creatures have never before been pictured.

The authoritative character of the stamps is vouched for by the fact that they were prepared under the personal supervision of Dr. Barnum Brown, Curator of Fossil Reptiles of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City, and leader of the American Museum-Sinclair Dinosaur Expedition, which dug up some 4,000 dinosaur bones in Wyoming in 1934. Dr. Brown also prepared the explanatory text for the Dinosaur Stamp Album, which has been published for collectors' use. Under the space for each stamp is a brief description by Dr. Brown of the illustration on the stamp. Also, included in the album is a geologic time chart, showing the eras and periods of the world from the beginning as well as the dominant and characteristic life at various stages.

The preparation and publication of the Dinosaur Stamps and Albums is a result of the great public interest in dinosaurs and other prehistoric life. They are being distributed, free, by Sinclair Refining Company (Inc.), through its dealers.

Centennial Contests

Farm and Home Demonstration Contests Available To Residents of County

The Centennial Farm and Home Demonstration contest being conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service of A. and M. college, sponsored by the Dallas News, is offering farm homes a number of contests, the aim of which is to recognize improvement in agriculture and the improvement and beautification of rural homes.

To compete for district or state honors, any farm or ranch family or resident in a town or village of not more than 2,500 population, on a designated state or federal highway, may enter by registration with the home demonstration agent, Miss Marie Ludwick. Cash prizes are offered in both divisions.

Ochiltree county is located in District 1, along with most of the rest of the Panhandle. Cash prizes of $200 are offered the five winners. State winners will be selected from among the first place winners in the various districts, nine prizes totaling $700 being offered. Only residents located along state and federal highways are eligible in these groups.

Judging will be made on the following points: building and equipment, grounds, soil, crops, livestock, and food supply and other resources.

Everyone in the county may enter the county classification but no prize is offered and judging will be made on any one or more of these above listed points. For further details, inquire of Miss Ludwick.

Miss Ludwick also requests all club women who plan to send any quality canned, or preserved products to the Centennial exhibit in Dallas, to contact her immediately. All entries must be made by December 1 and the items to be displayed should be listed at once. Miss Ludwick stresses the point that only "quality" products will be accepted for this exhibit.

Heads Precinct Club

Walter Keim Elected President Of "Ag" Club of Southeast Precinct at Alfalfa

Walter Keim, pioneer farmer and stockman and owner of the ranch upon which headquarters of the Bar C outfit, largest of the real early day Ochiltree county ranches was located, was elected president of the Agricultural Association in Precinct No. 4, at the meeting held at the Alfalfa schoolhouse Friday evening. Sam Handly was named as secretary-treasurer and chairman of the program committee.

A very interesting session of the club was held and problems of mutual interest to the farmer and cattleman were discussed at the meeting.

Fred Nies and Richard Allison returned to Wichita, Kans., Tuesday morning after spending the week-end in Perryton.

Dale Pearson, who attends P. A. M. C., Goodwell, Okla., spent the week-end with home folks.

"Ag" Meet At Huntoon

G. E. Lemon Elected President Of Precinct No. 1 Agricultural Association

G. E. Lemon was elected president of the Agricultural Association of Precinct No. 1 at the annual election of officers held at Huntoon on Friday evening, October 25. Other officers selected were: O. A. Schuster, vice-president; A. C. Emberson, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. T. R. Shirley, program chairman.

Miss Marie Ludwick, county home demonstration agent, gave an outline of some of the projects the clubs are asked to consider during the coming year. She placed first on the list, "The Beautification of Rural Homes." Cooperation was asked of all members to the work of the organization and that they attend meetings of other precinct clubs whenever possible.

In line with the movement to form sub-organizations in each of the school districts in the precincts, J. H. Kershaw has been named chairman, and Mrs. R. J. Barlow, secretary and program chairman at Twitchell.

Plan Farm Meetings

Meetings of Farm Leaders Will Be Held in Oklahoma Counties in Near Future

Stillwater, October 29.—(Special)—County agents will sit around the council table with farm leaders in their counties and plan programs of Extension work for 1936 in a series of meetings scheduled throughout the month of November and the first week of December.

Local problems of farmers will be discussed, and on the basis of county needs and local interest, the emphasis to be placed upon various types of work during the coming year will be decided.

Each county has its county advisory council organized to work with farm and home demonstration agents in planning local programs. E. E. Scholl, acting director of the Extension Service, Oklahoma A. and M. College, explained.

A council of men advises with the farm agents while a similar group of women help the home demonstration agents plan their work.

The meetings in each extension district are scheduled in such order that the district agents can meet with each county group and assist in laying out the program.

The meetings will follow the annual district conference of county agents at which the agents will discuss plans of work with the state Extension workers.

Meetings are scheduled for Beaver county on December 4; and in Texas county on December 6.

Continuing Tire Sale

Russell's Service Offers Trade-In Discounts On New General Tires-Tubes

A special General tire sale will be featured all during the month of November at Russell's Service offering large trade-in discounts on the purchase of new tires.

In connection with the sale, the station is offering an attractive lubrication and car washing special, to introduce the Magnolia winter-proof campaign.

"The winter-proof idea is not a trick sales stimulator—not a 'shot in the arm, so to speak,' J. A. Russell, manager of the station remarked. "It offers to give away nothing. For four years it has appealed to car owners because it prepares their cars for the colder half of the year by means of an intelligent, well-organized check-up method and the application of paid for products and services that make a car safe to drive, easy to handle, economical to operate. Motorists are invited to drive in and ask about the Magnolia winter-proofing campaign."

RUBY KEELER TAPS FOURTEEN STEPS A SECOND

How many taps per second does a tap-dancer tap, when that tap-dancer is going at full speed?

Ruby Keeler, perhaps as speedy a foot-shaker as there is, hits the floor with her sole and heel 14 times a second, 840 times a minute, and 2,520 times in a two and one-half minute dance she does in the Cosmopolitan production, "Shipmates Forever," which comes to the Ellis Theatre Sunday and Monday as a Warner Bros. release.

While Ruby was making a tap-dance scene one day her husband, Al Jolson, had some visitors on the set. Her little feet were actually twinkling as she tapped to the rhythm of "Don't Give Up the Ship," a snappy rallying song that Harry Warren and Al Dubin wrote especially for the picture.

"Boy, is she goin' to town!" exclaimed one of Jolson's friends.

There may be dancers who get more taps to the second than Miss

Keeler. Possibly the fastest expert, Bill (Bojangles) may. Maybe Fred Astaire. "Shipmates Forever" is a drama with catchy songs and the exciting story of two naval cadets. The cast includes Miss Keeler, Stone, Ross Alexander, John, Richard (Dick) Powell, Light, Johnny Arthur and hundreds of others.

AMERICAN LEGION AT AUXILIARY MOND

The regular monthly meeting of the American Post and Auxiliary Unit held at the Legion hall on Monday evening, November 4, at a full attendance of all of both organizations. Visiting Legionnaires and eligible members were welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sherman, were night guests of Mrs. H. C. Sanford, Monday.

Mrs. Beulah Mackey Yates Gives
Two Request Recipes for Seasonal Foods

Mrs. Beulah Mackey Yates, instructor and lecturer at the Herald cooking school which closed a three day session Wednesday afternoon at the American Theatre, was asked to give two special seasonal recipes that were not on the regular published programs. The request recipes were for her "Glorified Pumpkin Pie," and foolproof "Cranberry Jelly." Housewives of this vicinity who are readers of the Herald, can now add these to the full list of the Yates recipes that appeared in the Tuesday evening Herald.

Glorified Pumpkin Pie

2 cups fresh or canned pumpkin
3-4 cup sugar
1-4 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 teaspoon butter
1-2 teaspoon each of cinnamon, and ginger
1-4 teaspoon each of allspice, nutmeg and cloves

Beat eggs and add other ingredients and cook in top of double boiler until thick. Add one half cup of chopped pecans. Pour in baked tart shells, baked on back of muffin tins, top with slightly sweetened whipped cream. Mixture can be kept in refrigerator indefinitely.

Cranberry Jelly

1 qt. (lb.) cranberries, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups boiling water. Place berries in the boiling water, where they promptly start popping. Cook 6 to 8 minutes by the clock and turn off heat. Press fruit through a sieve and add sugar. Place on fire and stir faithfully with your wooden spoon until mixture is rolling in a bubbling boil. Turn off gas and pour sauce into scalded glass or earthenware molds.

Proclamation

By the
GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

On Friday, August 16, 1935, Will Rogers died. Idol of America, beloved by all who knew him, his untimely passing brought a greater sense of individual loss and sorrow to every American citizen than any man who has ever commanded the attention or affection of the people.

In the words of Reverend J. Whitcomb Brounger Sr., who officiated at the Will Rogers memorial services in Glendale, California:

"There are many hills, but only here and there a great towering Mt. Shasta;

There are many streams, but only here and there a great Mississippi;

There are many trees, but only here and there a great Sequoia gigantea;

There are many echoes, but only now and then an original voice;

There are many musicians, but only now and then a Mendelssohn or a Mozart;

There are many musicians, but only now and then a great statesman;

There are many people, but only now and then an outstanding individual."

The nation still is stunned and sorrowful. It is impossible to realize that Will Rogers is really gone from us.

Will Rogers needs no monument. He built his own monument, he wrote his own epitaph in the hearts and affections of people from every walk of life. He was the greatest apostle of sunshine, of joyous humor, of fellowship, the world has known. He still lives because his work lives. "To live in mankind is far, far more than to live in a name."

To perpetuate his memory, to fittingly attest a nation's love for the ideals Will Rogers represented, a nation-wide movement is under way. It is headed by outstanding citizens everywhere who have agreed to give unselfishly of their time and means, in order that a proper foundation for service to human-kind may be permanently established. Every man, woman and child, from the highest to the lowest walks of life, will be given an opportunity to participate.

As but a small part of the program, on Monday, November 4th, every bank in the nation will open special "Will Rogers Memorial" accounts. Every man, woman or child who has ever chuckled at the homely philosophy of Will Rogers, whose life has been made happier, who has been inspired by the cleanliness of his example, who has hungrily searched for his daily news contribution, who has seen him on the screen, who has pressed forward in surging crowds for a personal glimpse of him, will be given an opportunity to make a deposit, quietly, without publicity of any kind, from a single dime to the limit of their means.

I think Will Rogers, if he knew that all who loved him are determined to establish a permanent foundation to his memory, would prefer contributions of twenty-five cents from fifteen million people to a few sized donations.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JAMES V. ALLRED, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and dedicate Monday, November 4th, as Will Rogers Day.

I urge all Texans on this day to reflect upon the fine, clean manhood of Will Rogers, the life of service he lived, the good he did. I suggest that all of our schools and civic clubs conduct suitable programs and exercises in memory of our great philosopher humorist.

I especially urge that all of us contribute of our bit to the Will Rogers Memorial Fund.

WITNESS MY HAND under the Great Seal of the State of Texas, this 28th day of October, A. D. 1935.

JAMES V. ALLRED

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS.

LEGION DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

ONE WEEK INTENSIVE MEMBERSHIP CONTEST RESULTS IN FORTY-FIVE NEW LEGIONNAIRES

Culminating the most successful drive for membership ever staged by the Pierce Johnson Post of the American Legion, ex-service men of this vicinity assembled at the Legion Hall Monday evening for a special meeting called by Post Commander C. C. Bull.

After the business session was concluded a "stag" lunch was served and the remainder of the evening spent in social games and "stunts."

Forty-five new 1936 members were secured during the one week's membership contest under the leadership of Captains H. I. Hudson and Sibley Jines. Captain Hudson's side turned in 27 members while the Jines' squad reported 18. The new memberships brings the total 1936 dues paid to 51.

It was definitely decided at the meeting to organize a squadron of the "Sons of the Legion" in Perryton. Sons of Legionnaires are eligible to membership in this organization. Commander Bull appointed the following committee to have charge of the Junior organization: H. Shindler, W. P. Ballew, and Tom Denman. It is planned to form a Drum and Bugle corp among the Sons of the Legion.

The matter of distributing Christmas baskets to the worthy and needy families residing in this area was delegated to a committee consisting of R. B. Orrill, chairman; Van W. Stewart, Sibley Jines, H. C. Graham and W. C. Herndon. The Legion has for many years made possible a real honest-to-goodness Christmas dinner for the unfortunate families of this community.

W. M. Boston, past commander of the Post, and one of the owners of the Piggy-Wiggly grocery, stated that his firm would donate the candy for the baskets as they have done in the past.

H. Shindler, new adjutant of the Post, is making arrangements for the opening of an office in the Legion home. An effort is going to be made to furnish the club room and keep it open to members of the Legion and Auxiliary at all times.

Mrs. J. J. Long was a Monday visitor with Mrs. Ferd Hood.

Texas History Heroes

This week the lives of some of the greatest Texas heroes are discussed. Notes on Stephen F. Austin, Moses Austin, James Bowie, Sam Houston, La Salle, David Crockett, contributed by Fern Hamilton, Opal Rowe, Maxine Prewitt, Dwight Drake, LeRoy LaMaster, and Arline Slavin.

Sam Houston was the son of a Revolutionary soldier. He was born on a small farm near Lexington, Virginia, March 2, 1783. He served with Andrew Jackson in the Creek Indian battle in which he became lieutenant. In 1812 he resigned from the army and began the study of law. He was elected district attorney and major general of the state militia. From 1823 to 1827 he was in congress, and in 1827 he became governor.

He was a member of the convention of 1833 which asked that Coahuila and Texas be separated. When the war broke out for Texas independence, he was first made commander of the East Texas forces, and soon was made commander-in-chief of the regular armies.

Sam Houston was appointed president of the republic in 1836 and he again served from 1841 to 1844. When Texas was annexed to the U. S. he was the first senator and served until 1857. When he retired to his home in Huntsville, there were few men more popular. He died July 26, 1863, and is known as one of the greatest sons of Texas.

La Salle was one of the greatest French explorers in America. He worked not for personal gain, but for the enlargement of the French possessions in the new world.

He was born at Rouen, France, in 1643, of a well-to-do family. He came to Canada at the age of 23 to engage in fur trade. He came down the Mississippi river to the rapids at Louisville, and from there explored the land nearby. He later traveled all the Mississippi river to its mouth and claimed the land for France. On this second voyage down the Mississippi river, he built a fort. He then went to France for supplies for the fort, but on his return with supplies he landed at the Matagorda bay. Texas instead of at the mouth of the Mississippi river as intended. Before their mistake was noticed the ship had left so La Salle and a group of men started on foot to Canada to get some assistance because they were doomed otherwise. He was shot from ambush by one of his own men in 1687.

Moses Austin's forefathers came from England in 1783. They settled in Charlestown.

Moses Austin was born October 1761, became the father of Stephen F. Austin in 1793.

In 1783 he was engaged in a dry goods business at Philadelphia. He migrated west with his family in 1791. In 1796, after hearing of lead mines in Missouri he moved his family to Missouri.

January 17, 1821, he received the first permit from Mexico permitting immigrants to Texas from the United States, but he died a short time afterward and his son, Stephen F. Austin, carried out his father's plans in Texas.

David Crockett was born August 17, 1786. David lived with his father until twelve years old. In 1826 he was elected to Congress and again in 1828 and 1832. Upon retiring from Congress, he joined the Texans in their war for independence. At the Alamo in 1836 he was one of the heroic group of defenders who were massacred by the Mexicans. David Crockett was considered one of the six great scouts of pioneer days in America.

James Bowie was born in Burke county, Georgia, in 1796. He removed to Texas in 1828, took part in the revolt against Mexico and fought with brilliant courage at the battle of Nacodoches and Concepcion. During the siege of the Alamo in 1836 he was ill with pneumonia, but it is said he fought from his cot. His body was found in a little room with numbers of those of the foe.

Stephen F. Austin, was born in Wylie county, Virginia, November 3, 1793. He was the founder of Texas, and one of the two men whom the state has honored by placing their statues in National Statuary hall in Washington.

Austin was first opposed to the movement for Texas independence but in 1835 when it became clear that no concessions would be made by Mexico in behalf of the Americans he accepted the chief command of the Texas army, but resigned after a few months. In the next year he was an unwilling candidate for the presidency of the new republic of Texas but was defeated. Stephen F. Austin died in the year 1836.

Ellis Stars For TCU

Former Ranger Grid Star Is Hero of TCU-Aggie Game Last Saturday

In the Fort Worth Star Telegram of Monday, October 21, along side a nice sized picture of him, appeared the following article.

"There was an abundance of stars in the clash between T. C. U. and Texas A. and M., but when it comes to the No. 1 hero, that honor must go to Drew Ellis. . . the 200-pound tackle from Perryton was a hero in every sense. . . In uniform only two days during the past month, he went in there at left tackle and played a big portion of the game on one leg. . . He stopped the Aggies, too, in the first half and put up a game fight against overwhelming odds in the second half. . . Seeing Ellis playing in there on one leg reminded one of a man who can't swim jumping into a pool of water to save a drowning man. . . It takes a world of gameness to do that and it required just as much for Ellis, out for a month with a chipped bone in his ankle, to go in there and face the powerful Aggies on one leg. . . Then, too, it must be considered that Ellis couldn't have been in the best of condition after having been out a month. . ."

Drew Ellis graduated from P. H. S. in '33. He played center position on the Ranger team and graduated with two stripes on his football sweater. P. H. S., in fact, all of Perryton is proud of Drew. A good case of a home town boy makin' good.

LATIN I

One will never know, and appreciate the good of Latin until they have taken it. You cannot take anyone's word about Latin because there are no two people alike—I hope. Each and every one of you would enjoy Latin.

In Latin class, our teacher will talk to us in the Latin tongue, and we will answer her or perform what she asks us to do. But to shut a door in Latin is the same in English—slam.

PEP SQUAD NEWS

Most members of the Pep Squad were present at the last football game. To our regret Imogene Pitts, our bolterous girl, was absent. We did not form a stunt last time, but during the past week we have practiced a new stunt for the Spearman game. We are going to attend and help win the Spearman game.

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

Editor's note: The El Sombrero is happy to announce through the untiring efforts of the Editor, Miss Loveless, who gave such good advice to the poor broken hearted students last year will return and open her heart to you confused students again this year.

If anyone has any problems of the heart and can't make up his mind which way to turn, just state your problem on paper as briefly as possible and lay it on the El Sombrero desk. Miss Loveless will be glad to help you with your troubles. No names will be published and all possible precautions will be taken to hide the identity of the writer.

The following letter was received this week:

Dear Miss Loveless:
Will you please give me some advice? I used to go with a boy now in CCC camp and thought a lot of him. Then I met another from Spearman quite a bit and very readily won my love. He didn't seem to think much of me at first but I became ill at the thought of my future without him. Now for the last two or three weeks he has been coming to see me three or four times a week and I know he loves me very much. I have grown tired of him and long for the good times I had with the first. Could you give me any advice as to what to do??
Confused.

Answer:
Well, Confused, it looks to me like you have a bad case of wantin' your cake and eat it too. My advice to you would be to hang on to the second boy as you don't know whether the first boy would still go with you or not and always remember that "one bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." Hoping I have helped you, I remain,
Miss Loveless.

TEN MINUTE CHAPEL

The ten minute chapel program Thursday, October 24, consisted of only one number. This number was a reading by Effie Jones and Maxine Prewitt. It was very well given and enjoyed by everyone.

HY-Y CHAPTER IS INITIATED

DALHART CLUB VISITS WITH NEWLY ORGANIZED HY-Y CHAPTER HERE WEDNESDAY

The Hy-Y club netted a nice return from the sale of tickets to the picture show last Saturday. Ernest Ferguson's team won the tickets to the show for selling the largest number of tickets.

Last Wednesday, October 23, the Dalhart club came over with their high class club and initiated us into the state society of Hy-Y clubs. The Dalhart club has won the honor banner for being the outstanding Hy-Y club in the whole of North Texas for the last two years. This is a noteworthy record in as much they had to compete with towns and cities much larger than they are. L. H. Rhodes, the sponsor of the Dalhart club, has been actively associated with Hy-Y clubs for the last ten years.

Before the actual initiation began, the home economics girls served a full course dinner. It was delicious, and the boys and the men from our city and Dalhart enjoyed it very much. Following the refreshments talks were made by Mayor W. C. Bryan and Supt. W. B. Irvin. These talks were very interesting and the boys got a great deal out of them. Members of the advisory council present were: W. C. Bryan, R. C. Johnson, and B. B. Kent. The men from Dalhart were L. H. Rhodes and Clarence Ashby. The members of the degree team that did the initiating were Arnold Brown, LaVerle Stout, Nathan Peery and Verne Schuhart.

We are proud to be full fledged Hy-Y members and have for our brethren such boys as are in the Dalhart club.

MEET RALPH DUKE

Ralph Leonard Duke, another new teacher in the Perryton school, was born in 1906 at De Leon. He attended high school there; after his graduation in 1923, he attended Howard Payne college and graduated from the University of Texas in 1934.

He is grade school principal and also teaches math in the grades. Mr. Duke is a blond, 5 ft. 8 1-2 inches tall, weighs 140 lbs., wears size 8 1-2 shoe, and 7 1-4 hat. His favorite color is blue. Says he has no favorite food but likes everything. Likes fishing and baseball, but his favorite sport is football.

He married Jewel Crouch of Victoria last Christmas, and they live at 417 Southwest First Street.

Mr. Duke taught at Merkel before he came here and has been connected with football in some way for the last three years that he has taught. He helps Coach Burke quite a bit with the football boys, and has promised "Speedy" Johnson a dollar for every punt he kicks in a regular game.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB

Well since we worked so hard to prepare our numbers for chapel, we are sort of slacking up. We are even dissipating.

A party has been planned for Wednesday night, October 30, at the home of Mildred Brillhart. We expect to have a swell time and I'm sure we shall.

We are now beginning to think about our operetta and a concert to be given sometime in the near future, we hope.

SENIOR NEWS

We have selected our class rings. Mr. Crisp must have all orders by Friday so that we can receive our rings by Christmas.

The picture of last year's senior class is hanging in the hall. We shall start having our pictures made soon.

We shall shortly begin writing dramas. The teacher hopes to find some Eugene O'Neills or even Shakespeares in the class.

NEWS 71

Those who made the honor roll were Weldon Bransgrove, Hazel Cook, Anita Jackson, Clinton Hearn, Billy Francis Thompson, Jack Williams and Eileen McCall.

The ones who made a hundred in spelling for last six weeks were Glen McWilliams, Anita Jackson, and Hazel Cook.

This week we are having our chapel program; the name of it is "The Initiation."

Gordon Riley was absent Monday.

THRU THE KEYHOLE

Earnestine Yoakley and Lloyd Hunter seem to be that way about each other. And what does Effie Jones have to say about that? Mmm! Are you listening?

Seen together lately were Inez Johnson and Fat Ferguson; Virginia Holland and Cyril Peters, Imogene Pitts and Ed Schroeder, Mary Lee Wilson and Dick Vernon, Bessie Willie and Billy Glasgow, Carmen Cofer and Lyndon Balzer and Joy Hergert with Violet Hanners. What next?

What girl wants to know where Ed Schroeder was Saturday and why he didn't show up at a certain party? What's the matter lady—are you slipping?

Virginia Holland doesn't like babies, especially when someone has to take care of 'em. Tsk, Tsk, poor little innocent babies.

Spied: Elsie Clark making eyes at George Andrews (very unusual). J. T. Cropper trying to get Marguerite Evans to clean his glasses. Clyde Jones and Doris Cofer having a pow-wow.

Chocolate Butler is still Roweling around.

Luella, why the downhearted look? Cheer up, every cloud has a silver lining.

Lee Kent and Edna Brillhart are deserting the morning study-hall. Reasons are cheap so ask them.

Things are being reversed around this "deah old school." We saw Sibyl Apple with Bob Whippo and Dick Neils with Nelda Wright. They were all in the same car, too.

We see that Imogene Pitts and "Popeye" are getting along with the Reynolds brothers famously. Luck to you, gals!

We wondered why Virginia Holland is getting so skinny—She's been losing her Cyril???

ENGLISH CLUB NEWS

The English club met Friday the seventh period. The Library club visited us this week.

Sibyl Apple prepared the program. The first number was a song by Elaine Shockey accompanied by Jackie Enfield; the second a reading by Clara Copeland; the next, a tap dance by Opal Waggoner accompanied by Virginia Correll; a reading by Juanita Bryan, and last a piano solo by Virginia Correll.

PARENTS NOTICE-IMPETIGO

During the past few weeks we have had some cases of impetigo in our schools. This is the name for a rather stubborn and contagious skin disorder. The germ finds its way into a scratch or injury and the result is a prolonged and bothersome sore or series of sores. Sometimes it will spread rapidly to include quite an area of the body.

We have had to exclude several students from school. We regret to do this but health authorities ask that it be done in the interest of public health. If your children have any sores of any kind please see a doctor at once and do not allow the contagion to spread.

Thanks!

W. B. Irvin.

NOTICE TO BOYS OF P. H. S.

Each week hereafter there will be printed in the El Sombrero a column devoted to helpful hints to the boys. This is meant to be educational as well as "a hint to the wise." If any boy has some question concerning social, custom or manners, please write in to the office staff and your special problem will be given immediate attention. No signature is necessary. Simply say your questions answered in public print, through the facilities of El Sombrero. Private advice is not given. As a beginning we will print a few of the very present and essential "Do's and don'ts."

1. Don't go down the street or appear in public places holding hands. If the girl needs assistance, as on an incline, it is sufficient to offer the girl your arm.

2. When taking a girl to a public entertainment, if an usher is not present, precede the girl to the seat selected then let the girl be seated first.

3. Always walk on the outside when walking down the street with a girl.

4. Don't be noisy or conspicuous or make others so in public.

5. Don't stop at the curb in an automobile and expect a girl to come out to the car either for a date or a chat, for it is not good manners for either party.

6. Don't try to be the life of the party when you can readily see that your wit and sense of humor is not appreciated, but simply boring.

7. Don't brag of your exploits in games of public gatherings. Remember the old "Self praise is no recommendation."

ROOM 4-A

The boys and girls who are in our room who are on the honor roll are: Charles Brillhart, Jo Ann Dyatt, John Foglesong, Betty Ann Kershaw, Max McLarty, Gussie Poise, Peggy Jane Thomas, Lena Mae Wilson.

For club period Jimmy Denman brought his chemicals to school and did some experiments for the class. Junior Glee club sang Thursday in chapel. The songs were "Play to Me Gypsy," and a Texas cowboy song.

New officers were elected for our room. They are: John Foglesong, president; Jimmy Denman, vice-president; Darrel Seymore, secretary; Margaret Jean Orrill, reporter; Jo Ann Dyatt, program chairman; Donald Ellis, treasurer.

BOXING AND WRESTLING NEWS

We are now going in for a rest between rounds. This increase in rounds is due to the demand for more wind. There still continues to remain some excellent boxers in the ring. The whole outfit seems to be getting tougher every time. The veterans still know how to dish it out and the new fellows are just getting tougher.

LATIN TWO

In Latin 2 we have been studying the subjunctive, indicative and the imperative mood. We find it pretty hard now, but Miss Mitchell tells us it won't be so bad when we "catch on" to it, and we hope not.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

We met Friday at club period. We discussed the Scouts laws. Miss Mitchell served candy at the end of the period which was enjoyed by everyone. The Sunflower patrol has charge of the program next Friday. The girls all met Sunday night and went to church.

BIOLOGY

The study of biology is becoming more interesting every day. We find that in every single leaf on a plant there is a manufacturing plant, the likeness of a mill. The green part of the plant is a mill, which with the help of the sun, manufactures the raw materials, soil, water and carbon dioxide into sugar and later changes it into starch. If a plant is kept in the dark away from the sun, it will not have any color. Neither will there be any sugar or starch in the plant when it is tested for those.

A few drops of iodine added to a starchy substance in boiling water will turn a dark blue or purple color.

Fehling's solution A plus B added to sugar in boiling water will turn a brick red if a great amount of sugar is present, yellow if a medium amount is present and green if there is only a trace of sugar.

RANGERS CRUSH GUYMON 42 TO 0

PERFECT BLOCKING AND TACKLING SHOWN IN BEST PERFORMANCE OF SEASON

The finest local grid team that has appeared on Ranger field for the past several seasons was seen in action last Friday afternoon, when the Red and White squad completely smothered a visiting Guymon Tiger eleven, with a 42 to 0 score.

Near perfection was witnessed in every department of the game as speeding backs raced around end behind perfect blocking, drove through gaping holes opened by the charging linemen, tossed and caught perfectly timed passes in a dazzling offensive drive that netted six touchdowns. No less spectacular was the record piled up by Fullback Jones who converted from placement with every attempt.

Surprised spectators and fans who have watched the progress of the Rangers during the season could hardly picture this perfect machine as the team that early in the season played so erratic a game.

On defense the Rangers displayed the same fierce determination, permitting the Tiger squad only two first downs and a total net gain of but 41 yards. The Ranger onslaught accounted for 21 first downs and net gains of 340 yards.

Nearly every man on the Ranger squad saw service during the session and made a showing that he could well be proud of. On one occasion an entire new line of seven men was substituted without a hitch in the power of the team.

Guymon on the other hand suffered from the demon-like driving power of the locals, Byerly, a half-back, breaking his wrist, Mayfield and Hamilton going out with cracked ribs and King and Stevens receiving painful leg injuries.

"There was no undercover or dirty stuff," Coach Roy Varney of the Tiger squad said after the game. "Those Perryton boys were simply too powerful for our team."

The game opened with Guymon kicking off. A 19 yard pass to Lilly netted a first down and on the next series the Rangers fumbled, losing the ball, the only serious mistake of the game. Guymon made a first down with four attempts but were forced to punt on the next series. Four consecutive first downs found the pigskin on the Guymon 13 yard stripe as the quarter closed. Five plays later and McWilliams slipped the first counter over, Jones kicking goal. The Rangers kickoff and Guymon punts after gaining only 2 yards on three plays. McWilliams raced behind perfect interference, 42 yards for a touchdown but the play was called back, when the referee admitted blowing his whistle to designate a Guymon off-side penalty. A pass to Lilly is good for 10 yards and a first down but a second attempt is intercepted.

Guymon fails to gain, losing ground on two penalties for excessive time-outs and punts. McWilliams returning 20 yards to the 17 yard marker. Schroeder clicks around right end for 7. Tucker around right end for 8 and a first down, Jones through the line for the second touchdown, converting for placement. Another kickoff to Guymon and after Mayfield gets loose around left end for a 14 yard run and a first down, the Tigers are held without gain and punt. Another Ranger drive is under way as the half closed, 14 to 0.

The Rangers kickoff and again Guymon fails to gain, fumbling on the second attempt, Johnson recovering. Two line smashes and McWilliams tosses a long one to Kent who scores with a 28 yard
