A BIT SCARY: Young Tom Greenwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Greenwood, wasn't any too eager to extend a greeting to this "monster" drummer in the Amarillo Shrine Band here for the Post Office dedication last Saturday. Most youngsters shied away and stole glances at the drummer from a safe distance, but Tom finally found enough courage to get a close-up look. The drummer actually is R. E. Smith of Phillips. Many Attend Dedication

Credit for the new Post Office in McLean was given to "many people" here Saturday at a special ceremony dedicating the structure.

W. B. Weatherford of Fort Worth, senior field officer of the Post Office Department's Dallas Region, expressed his appreciation to the Lions Club and "many other people who helped make this possible."

Weatherford, principal speaker of the afternoon, told the sizeable crowd attending the dedication and open house that the new building here is one of 2,000 already in use or nearing the construction stage throughout the United States under President Kennedy's accelerated program.

"Good government requires good postal service," he pointed out.

He explained that the local Post Office and others being built are under a lease program, eliminating the need for spending large sums of federal money. In this way, too, he said, the buildings are placed on the tax rolls and no local revenue is lost.

He defended the new postal rate bill now before Congress which would increase the cost of postage.

"If we don't pay the deficit by raising the postage rates, then we must pay with tax money," Weatherford continued.

He pledged that the Post Office here and others elsewhere "will provide you with the best mail service you have ever had—economically, feasibly and sensibly."

The speaker reported that the Post Office Department at present is delivering some 183 million pieces of mail daily—one piece for every citizen of the U. S.

Postmaster General Edward J. Day congratulating residents of McLean on the opening of their new Post Office, and he presented a 50-star U. S. Flag which has flown over the United States Capitol to Postmaster Bill Reeves.

J. M. Benesch, field service officer from Amarillo, briefly traced the history of the McLean Post Office, reporting that it was established in 1903.

He said the first rural route was established in 1919 and the Lefors Star Route in 1920. Postal receipts the first year were less than $200, compared with more than $3,200 at present.

Master of Ceremonies Larry Fuller, former Southwestern Public Service Co. manager here who now lives in Boise City, Okla., called the new Post Office "an indication of the town's economic growth" and "a monument to progress."

Ten years ago, Fuller said, McLean "was going right on down hill," but he praised the "spirit of cooperation" now which is making the city grow.

As the dedication program began, Postmaster Reeves presented a five-year safe-driving award to Jim Hathaway, rural mail carrier. The award was from the Post Office Department and National Safety Council.

FFA Boys, Advisor At State Meeting

The McLean Future Farmers of America and their advisor are attending the state FFA convention this week in Dallas.

Mike Johnson, local chapter treasurer, and Gene Bench, sentinel, will accompany to the convention by Jim Weatherford, McLean High School vocational agriculture instructor and FFA advisor.

The meeting opened Tuesday and will end today.

Weatherford also is scheduled to attend the state conference of vocational agriculture teachers Aug. 8-11 in Austin.

The annual conference is planned to assist teachers in keeping abreast of the many changes in the complex field of agriculture in the state. Workshops, panels and other presentations will concern the teachers with subjects vitally important to the further training of vocational instructors.

Principal speakers at the conference will be Floyd Johnson, president of the National Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association from York, S. C.; Dr. Alexander Nunn, of the Progressive Farmer magazine, Birmingham, Ala.; and Leon Tichinin, Russian-born California Extension Service fruit specialist.

City Now Using Sanitary Landfill

That modern-as-the-times garbage disposal method—sanitary landfill—has been put into operation in McLean, and before long the city's dumpground will be about as neat as a park.

Using heavy equipment owned by Gray County commissioners, city employees undertook the task of burying huge mounds of cans and other aged refuse early this month.

City Employee Bob Glenn has been operating a bulldozer for several days now—first digging long, deep trenches and then pushing the garbage in for burial.

City Manager B. J. McCartney estimated that it will take about two more weeks to complete the clean-up chore. Then the refuse will be buried as it is taken to the dumpgrounds.

Hundreds of tons of cans, boxes and other refuse have collected at the dumpgrounds east of town through the years. As required, the trash was pushed into mounds (See LANDFILL, Page 2)

SHORT COURSE ON CALVES TO BE AUG. 18

Several hundred persons are expected to attend a short course on the selection, feeding, fitting, training and showing of beef calves at the Hess Hereford Ranch south of McLean Aug. 18.

Plans for the event were announced this week by Faris Hess, Gray County Agent Foster Whaley and Jim Weatherford, McLean High School vocational agriculture teacher.

Future Farmers of America, 4-H Club members, parents and county agents from 22 Panhandle counties are being invited to attend the day-long short course, which will feature authorities on beef cattle.

The course is scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. and continue until 4:30 p. m. with a luncheon in the quarter horses to close the program.

Barbecue Lunch
A barbecue lunch will be furnished by the Hess and Wright Hereford Ranch and the George Saunders Angus Ranch. Cold drinks will be provided by Gray County 4-H boys and served by McLean FFA members.

Masters of ceremonies will be Jay Humphrey, manager of the Burnett ranches at Fort Worth, in the morning and Bill Dameron of the Dameron Hereford Ranch at Hereford in the afternoon.

Speakers during the day will be: Selection—Andy Duffel, chairman of youth committee, American Hereford Association, Kansas City, Mo.; W. W. Wright, Fort Worth, of the Hess and Wright Hereford Ranch, McLean.

Feeding—George Reese, Goldthwaite, Mills County agent.

Place to keep and train a calf—Byran Swaim, Wheeler County agent.

Patricia Simon Is Victim of Drowning

Mrs. Patricia Simon, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orp Hildner, accidentally drowned in the bathtub at the home of her parents Friday in Lubbock.

She had reportedly not been feeling well and appeared to have fainted.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 4 p. m. in Lubbock.

Survivors are her six-week-old daughter, her parents, one sister and one brother.

Mrs. Hollingsworth will be remembered as Pansy Watt, formerly of McLean.

Those attending the funeral from McLean were her uncle and aunt, Ruel and Dora Watt. Another aunt, Mrs. Birdie Gougherty, was ill and unable to attend.

Hail Storm Damage Runs Heavy In McLean Area

HEAVYWEIGHT: DR Supreme, yearling Hereford bull in the Wright and Hess herd here, has reason to pose proudly. He was the heaviest bull for his age in this year's Denver Hereford Show. Born in May, 1960, DR Supreme has gained an average of 2.74 pounds every day of his life. (McLean News Photo)

Golf Champs Repeat In Sunday Tourney On Local Course

Richard (Sonny) Back and Mrs. Dick Everett won their second golf tournament championships in a week Sunday afternoon in competition on the local course for men and women.

Back shot a par 72 score in medal play, while Mrs. Everett had a 31 handicap score on nine holes in the tournament sponsored by the McLean Lions Golf Association.

Both had won first in a handicap tourney the previous Sunday.

For their efforts the past Sunday, each received three championship golf balls.

Runnerup to Back was Ollie Tindall, who finished with a 74, in the championship flight.

Mrs. Windom Second
Mrs. E. J. Windom Jr. had a 35 for second place among the women, and Mrs. Sammy Haynes' 36 was good for third.

Two golf balls went to the second place winners and one to the third place woman golfer.

In addition, Don Alexander and Mrs. Tom Greenwood were awarded one golf ball each in a special event, when their shots came closest to the cup on par three No. 3. (See GOLF, Page 2)

COTTON CROP LOSS GREAT: BUILDINGS HIT

Hail ranging in size from peanuts to hen eggs, shredded many acres of crops and caused extensive damage to buildings in McLean and surrounding area late Friday afternoon.

County agent Foster Whaley, following an inspection of hard-hit farmland Tuesday, reported that the hail seems to have followed the course of a similar storm last Aug. 30.

The cotton crop, beginning to mature following recent rains, was wiped out on some farms and badly damaged on others.

Total Loss
Whaley said J. I. Martindale's cotton acreage south of town probably will be a total loss.

Also suffering damage were cotton crops of Boyd Reeves, Leamon Andrews and Dick Henley. In addition to others whose fields were not inspected by Whaley.

Whaley pointed out that cotton is "much more susceptible" to hail damage than grain sorghum, and he reported many farmers are now in the process of plowing up cotton planted late and damaged and are planting milo.

The county agent recommended a fast-maturing hybrid milo like C-44A or C-45, both DeKalb varieties.

Fast Maturing
He said these are extremely fast in maturing. Whaley said that any farmers desiring assistance in obtaining these varieties are invited to contact him.

Numerous windows on the north side of homes in McLean were broken by the hail, and insurance adjusters have been busy this week (See HAIL, Page 2)

All Low-Rent Houses Are Now Occupied

For the first time since they were completed last fall, all 12 of McLean's low-rent housing units in Ed Lander Place are occupied.

Mrs. Martha McPherson, McLean Housing Authority manager, said this week that the last unoccupied unit had been rented.

The one, two and three-bedroom units were constructed by the federal government, but the title will go to the city in 20 years.

Lightning struck the J. S. Morse residence during the severe electrical storm which accompanied the hail, but damage was not heavy.

Greenhouse Damaged
Flowers and gardens took a beating in the storm.

Hail screen failed to protect the McLean Flower Shop greenhouse, and Mrs. Verna Burris reported 10 panes were broken. The storm door on the north side of the Flower Shop was also broken.

Heavy damage was reported, too, on the T. A. Landers place east of the city, and the watermelon crop all across the area was battered.

Temperatures have been on the rise, reaching high into the 90's, but exact readings are not available here. Weather instruments formerly kept in McLean were removed by the Weather Bureau several weeks ago for a special project, and will not be returned until early next year.

DEDICATION

A host of out-of-town visitors, including a large group from Pampa, attended the dedication and open house.

George Terry of McLean commanded the color guard which raised the new flag at the Post Office. Men in the guard are members of the 142nd Company E, Shamrock National Guard.

Mayor John C. Haynes welcomed visitors to the city and Reeves welcomed them to the dedication. The invocation was by Rev. Kenneth McCall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the benediction was by Rev. J. B. Stewart, First Methodist Church pastor.

Members of the Pioneer Study Club served refreshments at the open house.

Unsanitariness Gone
With this new method, the unsanitariness and unsanitary condition of the dumpgrounds will be eliminated. Choice breeding places for insects are being done away with.

McCartney explained that sanitary landfill will raise the value of other property in the area, and also make it possible to use the dumpgrounds in later years for other purposes.

While many larger cities have been unable to begin the sanitary landfill method of garbage disposal because of the heavy expense, McLean was able to undertake it—thanks to the generosity of the county commissioners.

MISS PATRICIA ANN WIGGINS BECOMES BRIDE OF DON McKEG

Miss Patricia Ann Wiggins, daughter of Mrs. Frank Wiggins of McLean and the late Frank Wiggins, became the bride of Don McKeg, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKeg of Odessa, on July 1st at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in McLean.

Rev. Dan Beltz, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Vows were repeated before tall tiers of cathedral tapers flanked by emerald foliage and baskets of white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her brother, Kent Wiggins, the bride wore a cloud white silk organza gown designed with a scalloped portrait neckline and brief sleeves, complemented by short white kid gloves.

Appliques of re-embroidered Alençon lace graced the neckline and front of the fitted bodice and fell into sprays on the bouffant skirt which extended into a full chapel train.

Pearlized orange blossoms formed the crown which held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Rainbow Bible which was topped by a white orchid surrounded by white rosebuds.

Attendants were Miss Betty Ayres of Littlefield, who served as maid of honor, and Miss Judy Clement, cousin of the bride of Lamesa, and Miss Ann Terry, candlelighters. Miss Gayle Terry was flower girl.

They were all attired in mint green cotton dresses with scooped necklines and full skirts. Matching green headresses which held short tulle veils completed their outfits.

The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of white frenched carnations.

Mr. McKeg served his son as best man. Ushers were Charles Askins, brother-in-law of the groom, Jerry Biggers and Joe Howard.

Mrs. Paul Miller, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Morris Brown who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Miller played "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Mrs. Wiggins chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace dress with bone accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua silk dress with matching accessories.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony.

The serving table was covered with a white organdy over green.

The three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white roses and wedding bells, and green frosted punch were served on crystal appointments.

Mrs. Fiddle Stubbs and Miss Molly Miller were in charge of serving the cake and punch.

Miss Sharon Jones registered the guests.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Pauline Holloway of Groom, Mrs. S. E. Ayres and Ebert Ayres III, Littlefield; W. W. Hughes, Pampa; Mrs. E. C. Clement, Mabel Clement, Inez Clement, Wellington; H. A. Murphy, Kay Murphy, Lola Cyphers, Sandra Wood, Odessa; Mrs. Roy Meadows, Miami; Mrs. R. D. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Clement, Stan Clement, Lamesa; Barbara Puckett, Elaine Atchinson, Henry Fitch Jr., John Mac Carpenter, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Askins and Lynn and Kenneth, Abilene; and Mrs. Bessie Henderson, Mrs. Annie Jones, Amarillo.

For a wedding trip to Clouderoff, N.M., the bride wore an aqua cotton and lace dress with white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The attendants wore identical dresses of white embroidered silk organza over crystal green underskirts.

The flower girl, Miss Clara Lee, was attired similar to the other attendants.

Rollie Wood was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Bobby Frank Wood, also the groom's brother, Barry Smith and Fred Swanson. Ringbearer was Guy Cooper.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white wedding gown of rosepoint lace over French tulle and satin.

Her fingertip bridal veil was of imported scalloped illusion held by a queen's crown inlaid with tiny seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by Stephanotis and was carried atop a white Bible.

A reception in the fellowship hall of the church followed the ceremony.

The bride's table carried out her chosen colors.

After a wedding trip to Colorado the couple will be at home in Irving, where the bridegroom is minister of music and education at Plymouth Park Baptist Church.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Colebank of McLean, grandparents of the bride.

TELEPHONE TALK

by George Newberry, Manager

PROXY MARRIAGE WITH A NEW TWIST

Today it's not unusual for a couple separated by many miles to be married by means of a long distance telephone call. But I recently heard about a marriage conducted in Fort Worth for a couple 5,000 miles away, in Germany, with a new angle.

When Dale Bennett and his fiancée were married in Konigstein, Germany, his father, Rev. Harold O. Bennett, conducted the ceremony from his church in Fort Worth via overseas telephone. By means of special speakers installed in the church, family and friends could hear both ends of the conversation.

The speaker system was arranged by two telephone communications experts who also set up the overseas call. This may be the first marriage of this type in the world.

Gene Schaefer has been named Wire Chief at Shamrock, Texas. He succeeds Ray Austin, who many of you know. Austin has been transferred to Big Spring as plant foreman. Gene joined the company at Cisco, Texas, in 1950, as a lineman and has been an installer-repairman in Seminole until he was transferred to Shamrock.

I am sure all of you will want to know Gene. He will be over all the plant men in Shamrock, Canadian and McLean area.

PUT MORE FUN IN YOUR TRIPS

One day last week an old friend stopped by to tell me about his vacation plans. He told me where he was going, what highways he'd take and where he'd be staying all along the way.

I asked him how he got everything worked out so well. "It was easy," he said. "This year I made all my plans by phone. We have good accommodations for each night, and I know how much they cost. You just can't beat a phone call for finding out what you need to know."

That's a good idea for you, too, if you're planning a trip or vacation. You can save money by calling on Sundays or after 6 p.m. on weekdays when long distance rates are lower. And by calling station-to-station, you save as much as one-third more.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

TOO LATE TO CHANGE MIND

What if some glib salesman signs you up for an encyclopedia, or a set of pots and pans. Next day you change your mind. Can you cancel the order? Chances are you can't.

The typical patterns runs thus:
 The salesman fast-talks poor Joyce Jones into signing an order for a set of cooking ware, silver or what-have you. She pays a nominal amount down, the balance to be over a long term.

The price is high enough, plus a big carrying charge, but the installments run for a long time and at first look reasonable. When the shipment arrives, Joyce decides she doesn't want it, and can't afford it anyhow, so she refuses to accept it and tells the company she is cancelling the order.

But poor Joyce is out of luck.
 The company promptly tells her that they "sold" her installment contract to a bank or financial institution, and she must deal with them, not the company. The company thus got its sale price in full, the salesman his commission and the new owner of the contract expects his money in full.

Sorry, but it is too late to cancel the order. This is not at all like buying from a local store, where you can usually return the goods if they are unsatisfactory or if you change your mind. If Joyce ships the merchandise back, the company will most likely refuse to accept it.

Moreover, the companies buying such contracts are hard-boiled about collections. If Joyce doesn't pay, they will not hesitate to report her to a credit rating agency, or even sue.

The moral is, be sure you know who you are dealing with, and be sure you know what you are signing and the consequences.

By FOSTER WHALEY

The cotton I checked while in McLean last Tuesday seems to be getting free of insects. I found only one thrip after close inspection of several fields of cotton.

Leamon Andrews had a slight aphid or plant lice infestation on the cotton just west of the gin.
 Seldom is it ever necessary to use any control measures on aphids.

Usually you have a lady bug infestation which will follow a build-up of aphids, and the lady bugs prey on the aphids. This is why cotton should be sprayed only when needed because many times your beneficial insects outnumber the destructive ones.

Insecticide sprays destroy both.
 So never spray without running an insect survey.

Thrips are one of the early season insects that sting small squares as they form. The past weather conditions have not been too favorable for them.

JOHNSON GRASS CONTROL

There still seems to be considerable interest in chemical control of Johnson grass. In addition to C-56 mixed with diesel fuel at the rate of one gallon of C-56 to 98 of diesel, sodium chlorate in dry powder form does an excellent job.

POISON GRAIN

I have supplied Smoky Price with a supply of poison grain. If you have asked for the grain and Smoky was sold out, he has been re-supplied.

He also has the ready prepared rat and mouse grain—Pival. It is one of the anti-coagulants that have met with such overwhelming approval. Smoky gets the business out of handling the grain, since he handles it at cost.

Genius is one per cent inspiration and 99 per cent perspiration. —Thomas A. Edison

From the Library

By MRS. GUY HESTER

Twenty-five boys and girls, ages 3 through 7, attended the story hour at Lovett Memorial Library last Thursday morning, when Miss Leona Forbes told the story of "Peter Rabbit and Mr. Gregory." Miss Forbes used a flannel graph and mounted pictures to illustrate the story. Miss Patricia Morris, niece of Mrs. Hester, was dressed in a bunny suit as Peter Rabbit and visited the children during the program.

The area where the story hour group met was gaily decorated with balloons hanging on the walls and bookshelves and a display of little bunny figurines inside a fence made of suckers.
