West Asks Early Big Four Talks On Berlin Blockade

WARNINGS CLAIMED USELESS

Weather Expert Says Tornadoes Can Be Forecast In Broad Area

By E. V. W. JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

MIAMI, Fla., May 2.—Tornadoes are predictable, says Grady Norton, chief storm warning forecaster here.

The trouble is the area of tornado probability is usually large. It would be necessary, for example, to warn areas as large as Georgia and South Carolina to watch out for the violent twisters.

That would induce fright in several million persons. For most of them it would be needless fright because tornadoes sweep small areas..

And the visited areas, even though warned, would be helpless. Tornadoes are something you can do nothing about, says Norton.

Concrete Homes Destroyed

"The strongest structures are torn up by the violence of these storms," said the hurricane expert. "A tornado spawned by a hurricane last October destroyed well-built, stormproof concrete block homes at Pompone, Fla."

It so happened that most of the Pompano home owners were in a hurricane shelter out of the tornado path. Others who remained in their homes escaped miraculously. No lives were lost.

More recently, Norton advised north Florida and Georgia that squally weather with tornadic ten-

U.S. Urged To Remain Alert In Cold War

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Robert A. Lovett said today the United States should not be "lulled to sleep" by any temporary brightening of prospects for peace in the cold war with Russia.

The former under secretary of state, discussing the proposed North Atlantic treaty, told the Senate Foreign Relations committee:

"I am confident this (treaty) is not the end of trying to find a solution for our difficulties. It doesn't mean we do not have to do anything else."

Then he cautioned the nation against being caught napping by "any temporary set of circumstances" — an apparent reference to current negotiations with Russia toward lifting the Berlin blockade.

Lovett also agreed with Senator McMahon (D-Conn) that the North Atlantic pact should not be considered a "100 per cent guarantee for peace." He denied, however, that the United States would immediately be plunged into war if a North Atlantic treaty nation were attacked.

Rent Increase Yardstick Set

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The government tonight made public a yardstick to determine which landlords can raise their rents, but left unanswered the big question:

How widespread and how large will the increase be?

Housing expediter Tighe E. Woods announced:

1. Any landlord operating a small structure can get a rent increase if his net operating income is less than 25 per cent of his gross income. He will be given an increase to bring his net operating income up to 30 per cent.

Structure Types Defined

2. Any landlord operating a large structure can get an increase if his net operating income is less than 20 per cent of his gross income. He will get an increase to bring his net operating income up to 25 per cent.

A small structure contains one to four homes. A large structure contains more than four homes.

Gross income is the total the landlord takes in on his rental properties. Net operating income is defined as the money left after payment of all operating expenses including taxes and allowance for depreciation. Payments for interest or payments on the principle of mortgages are not included in operating expenses.

Expediter Sets Limits

Expediter Woods announced the action under the new rent control law which Congress passed a little more than a month ago. The law, which extended controls for 15 months, said landlords should get a "fair net operating income" but left it up to Woods to define such an income.

Individual landlords may apply for rent boosts by filing what Woods called "a simple petition form" in area rent offices. It calls for the listing of present rents and

Mercury Hits High Of 91 Degrees Here

Summer weather made its debut on the South Plains Monday. At least so far as temperature was concerned it was summer for the mercury hit a new high for year during the afternoon when it climbed to a maximum of 91 degrees.

The warmest previous reading of the year came on April 13 when the mercury climbed to 86 degrees.

Indications are, the Weather station at Municipal airport said, that warmer weather will continue with only a possible slight dip Wednesday afternoon.

Temperatures today will again reach the 90 degree mark, the station said. Moderate to strong winds are predicted for today with velocities of 25 miles an hour foreseen this afternoon.

Wednesday will continue warm and partly cloudy, the forecaster reported, with a slight cooling off expected during the afternoon. Winds will diminish. No heavy rain is indicated for the next day or so, the Weather station said

20 QUESTIONS GO UNANSWERED

McGee Agrees To Interview; Defense Attorney Balks Plan

BY EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

I had an interview with Richard W. McGee Monday morning. It was an interview that lasted less than two minutes but one which impressed me so much that I wanted to extend it for a longer period of time.

McGee was found guilty of the pistol slaying of R. L. Allston on July 7 last year. The jury that returned this verdict also assessed the death penalty last Friday evening as the climax to Lubbock county's longest murder trial.

When I went to see him Monday, McGee was occupying the cell in the county jail which has been his home for the last nine months. Sheriff Grady Harrist and Jailer Lem Pounds were quick to give their permission and co-operation when I told them what I wanted to do.

I was interested to learn some of the life history of the 24-year-old slayer that led up to the untimely death of a Lubbock citizen. I was not morbidly curious and I did not want to dwell on any of the sordid details of the crime or the trial which was an ordeal for

Reds Call Off War Practice

By RICHARD WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 2 — Preparations for large-scale Russian war games in Germany were cancelled suddenly today amid East-West preparations to end the Berlin deadlock.

The spring maneuvers had been planned as the most extensive post-war display of Soviet military might outside Russia. Original plans had called for a simulated offensive in the direction of the American zone.

But new orders went out without advance notice cutting down the number of troops to be used, placing the games on a local basis, eliminating plans for land-air coordination and cancelling activity around the zonal border areas.

Written Guarantees Asked

The order came shortly after a top-ranking American source said the Western Powers have demanded written Soviet guarantees that Russia will not reimpose a blockade of Berlin once it is lifted in return for holding a big four conference on the whole German problem.

The American informant said the Soviet guarantees were asked because western military government officials fear the possibility that Russia might restore the blockade in event she failed to get what she wanted at the big four conference.

The West's demands were said to have included:

1. A "neutral" auto road between Berlin and Western Germany.

2. Elimination of need for Soviet approval for inter-zonal travel.

3. Removal of all controls over agreed routes, or immediate four-power regulation of such controls at checkpoints.

Gen Lucius D. Clay said in an interview that the West's airlift should be continued for a few months after the Russian's raise the blockade, to permit stockpiling in Berlin.

Prestige Claimed Lost

The American military governor, who has warned the West to be wary of any agreement with Russia on Germany, expressed the view that Russia's willingness to lift the blockade is recognition

CAB Asked For New Air Routes

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Through one-carrier air service from the South and Southeast to the West Coast was urged today at a Civil Aeronautics board hearing.

Eight airlines have made application to set up new routes.

CAB Examiner Earl Cox said the hearing probably would last six weeks and that regional sessions would begin in Houston about June 1 and last nearly two weeks.

Pending applications are those filed by Braniff Airways, Delta Air Lines, Continental Air Lines, Eastern Air Lines, National Air Lines, American Airlines, Peninsular Air Transport and Pacific International Airways.

Braniff Seeks Routes

The latter two were not represented as the hearing opened and Cox said he would recommend their applications be dropped from the current hearing.

President Charles E. Beard, executive vice president of Braniff Airways said his company's application had this twofold purpose:

1. To provide the first through-carrier service from the West Coast to Cuba, Central America and South America, now served by Braniff; 2. To provide the first one-carrier service from Houston, Corpus Christi, Austin and San Antonio, Tex., to the West Coast.

He said there is no one-carrier service existing now between the southeastern part of the United States and the West Coast and between South Texas and the West Coast.

He said his company seeks to establish service between New Orleans, La., and Houston, and to inaugurate West Coast flights from

Perryton Man Goes On Trial In Year-Old Double Slaying Case

PERRYTON, May 2. (AP)—W. A. Cronister went on trial today for murder with malice. The case arose from two slayings last May.

The court overruled a motion by District Attorney Bob Galloway for a change of venue. State and defense witnesses testified all afternoon on the issue.

The Ochiltree county rancher is charged in the twin slayings last May of C. W. Barker and his son, W. H. Barker.

Injunction Powers, Other Taft-Hartley Features Retained

House Demo Leaders Draw Own Substitute Labor Legislation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Democratic leaders in the House hammered out a compromise labor bill late today, and planned to offer it on the floor tomorrow.

The compromise retains some features of the Taft-Hartley law in an effort to assure the measure's passage.

It would replace the administration labor bill which called for outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and revival of the New Deal Wagner act with some modifications.

Disliking this bill, a number of Republicans and southern Democrats have got behind a bill offered by Rep. Wood (D-Ga.) to "repeal" the Taft-Hartley act but reenact most of its major provisions.

Compromise Drafted

To take the steam out of this drive for the Wood bill, the compromise was drafted. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told reporters after a two-hour conference of House leaders, and House Labor committee members that the compromise would include these points:

1. Injunction provisions, similar to those now in the Taft-Hartley law, to deal with labor distputes threatening the national security or safety. The admiinstration bill omitted these provisions.

2. A guarantee of free speech to employers and unions in labor disputes.

3. A requirement that unions make regular financial reports periodically.

Oaths Are Proposed

4. A requirement that employers and union officials sign oaths of loyalty to the government and swear they are not Communists before they can avail themselves of National Labor board procedures. The Taft-Hartley law contains the non-Communist oath provision as to unions—and the administration bill omits it altogether.

5. Creation of a joint congressional committee to study labor-management relations.

The House will vote on the compromise first. If it passes there will be no vote on the Wood bill or on the administration measure, which is known as the Thomas-Lesinski bill.

Rayburn emphasized that the compromise had not been cleared with the Truman administration, and does not have administration approval.

Byrd Rejects HST's Demand

Meanwhile Senator Byrd (D-Va.) sharply rejected the demands of President Truman that Democrats vote for repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act. He said he would vote to retain "essential features" of the law.

Byrd disclosed his position in an address prepared for a Virginia dinner to be held in connection with the annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce here.

The compromise differs in some respects from five amendments which Rayburn said earlier in the day he would support. When the first announcement was made he had just visited the White House, but said he was not speaking for the President.

Several hours elapsed between the two announcements.

Here is what the first set of proposals, as outlined by Rayburn, would have done:

1. Authorize the President to intervene, either by obtaining an injunction or by seizing plants, if a strike threatened the public welfare. The Taft-Hartley act provides for injunctions to halt such strikes.

2. Make it "perfectly clear" that freedom of speech is assured to both sides in a labor dispute. Taft-Hartley has this provision.

3. Require management and union leaders to file non-Communist affidavits if they want to use the facilities of the National Labor Relations board. The Taft-Hartley law requires the oaths only from labor leaders. The administration bill does not require them at all.

Not Speaking For HST

4. Require that labor union financial reports be available to union members, and perhaps to the public. Taft-Hartley requires

SHANGHAI APPROACHES POUNDED

Six Red Warships Claimed Sunk By Chinese Aircraft

By JOHN RICH
INS Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, May 2—Chinese Nationalists tonight claimed the sinking by government planes of six warships captured along the Yangtze river by the Communists but Red artillery continued to pound the approaches of Shanghai.

A government communique also claimed that the Communist advance on Shanghai had been blunted and halted by government troops, 35 miles from the city of six million.

The communique on aerial activity said the six ships sunk were part of eight seized by the Communists when they swarmed across the Yangtze at the start of their offensive.

In addition, the government said that almost continuous bombing and strafing missions were carried out during the past few days by fliers who claimed to have killed 10,000 Communists and to have destroyed 500 river craft.

Communists Dispersed

(The London Daily Telegraph reported from Shanghai that Communist artillery shelled the outskirts of Hangchow while Communist infantry drove to within eight miles of the city, Shanghai's last escape exit.)

The Shanghai communique added that Nationalist troops dispersed 200 Communists near Chintangcheng, a few miles southwest of Taichong, which is 30 miles northwest of Shanghai.

Military observers believed the Communist force may have been the vanguard of the Communist 31st army assigned to reconnaissance in preparation for a southward drive at Shanghai.

It was officially stated the 31st army is massing at Changshu, northwest of Kunshan.

The garrison communique issued Monday said Kunshan is still firmly held by government troops. It did not mention the situation at Hangchow or Kashing.

Previous reports said Nationalist troops evacuated Hangchow, the government's "escape hatch"

Reluctant Witness Sent To Jail After Striking Defendant

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 2.—A reluctant witness was sent to jail for contempt today after he struck the defendant in a divorce suit.

Judge Cullen W. Briggs of 117th District court sentenced D. K. Bonner, a welder and the witness, to three days in county jail. He was fined $100. Bonner struck Walter F. Stubblefield after the judge told Bonner he was required to remain and testify.

Even so, Bonner may not have to testify. L. DeWitt Hale, who is Stubblefield's lawyer, said Bonner's attitude made his appearance as a witness doubtful.

Refunds Ordered In Rent Actions

Restitution in the amount of $411 was made to Lubbock tenants in three judgments handed down by Judge Joseph B. Dooley in Federal court yesterday afternoon. All judgments were for alleged overcharges.

The docket of criminal cases which was scheduled for hearing yesterday was set down until May 16. The purpose of this postponement was to allow the federal grand jury, which meets in Dallas, May 9, to include any additional criminal cases in the present term docket.

Refunds Ordered

One judgment included an injunction to prevent the landlord from further overcharges. Court costs of approximately $35 were added to each of the cases. One other motion was set down until Tuesday morning to allow the plaintiff, Housing Expediter Tighe Woods, through attorney J. Edwin Fleming, to produce a witness.

In the first judgment O. B. Poe was ordered to repay $133 rent overcharges to tenant Bob Dellow. Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Camp was instructed to make restitution in the amount of $118 to T. W. Weathersby, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mooney were ordered to return $160 to former tenants Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis.

Bids On Courthouse May Be Called Today

A special meeting of the county commissioners' court at 5:30 p.m. today is expected to result in official call for bids for construction of Lubbock county's $1,500,000 six-story courthouse building.

It was announced Monday that bids will be received at a meeting of the court Wednesday, June 15, at 2 p.m.

The call for construction bids on the huge project indicates an early start of work on the building. Plans and specifications have been completed by Haynes and Kirby, Lubbock architects.

Details of the categories of contracts on which bids will be asked will be decided at today's meeting, County Judge Walter Davies said. Most of the work will be grouped under general construction, heating and air conditioning, plumbing, electrical and elevators.

SOUND TRUCKS TO CRUISE SOUTHWEST AREA

Annual Lubbock Cleanup Campaign Given Boost As Preparations Begin Today For Trash Pickup

PREPARATIONS for the biggest trash pickup in Lubbock history will begin today as another major feature of the 19th annual City Cleanup, Paintup, Fixup campaign now in progress, General Chairman Ernest St. Clair, jr., announced Monday.

A sound truck will spend a large part of today cruising in the Southwest Lubbock area south of Nineteenth street and west of Monroe Avenue urging residents of that district to collect their trash and put it in their alley for pickup Wednesday.

The district is one of nine into which the city has been divided for the pickup. Each district has been assigned to one or more service clubs, which will be responsible for hauling trash from its area upon a specified date within the next nine days.

Instructions Given

The Rotary club has been assigned to the Southwest Lubbock district. All available city trucks will be concentrated there tomorrow to handle as much of the trash as they can. Rotarians are to arrange for as many additional trucks from private sources as may be needed. The city will supply the crews and gasoline.

The collection will not include wet garbage or rocks. It will include all other kinds of trash. Paper should be bundled. Lawn and shrubbery trimmings should be sacked or bundled. Tree prunings should be cut into lengths sufficiently short for easy handling. Yard rakings should be placed in containers to simplify loading.

Mayor W. H. Rodgers urged fullest co-operation with this phase of the campaign for several reasons. Disposal of the trash will remove fire hazards. It will get rid of tin cans, bottles and other containers where stagnating water provides breeding places for flies

New York Is Urged As Site

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., May 2.—The big three Western Powers asked Russia tonight for a four-power meeting in New York by the end of this week to discuss lifting of the Berlin blockade.

The United States, Britain and France sent a formal memorandum containing the request to Soviet United Nations Delegate Jacob Malik.

The note was drafted at U. S. delegation offices in mid-Manhattan and approved at an hour's meeting of U. S. Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup, Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan and France's Jean Chauvel.

The memorandum also suggested that the council of foreign ministers be convoked in Paris about two weeks after the Berlin blockade and counter-blockade have been lifted.

Two-Party Talks Ruled Out

This would indicate that the Paris four-power meeting will be under way either toward the third week in May or by May 25.

The three western representatives left it up to Malik to set the date for the four-power talks in New York on lifting the blockade.

It is expected that Malik will refer the western note back to Moscow for final instructions, which means that the New York talks probably will not take place until Thursday.

Jessup, Cadogan and Chauvel agreed that the Russian request for another meeting between Malik and Jessup alone must be ruled out.

Snags May Arise

Difficulties or snags in the four-power New York talks in proceeding with the lifting of the blockade are not anticipated.

The difficulties which may arise are those of exact items to be placed on the council of foreign ministers.

Last Friday, Jessup and Malik reached "agreement on principle" on a reciprocal lifting of the blockades and the conference of foreign ministers.

Authority Given

The British and French governments over the weekend gave their representatives full authority to go ahead with a four-power meeting in New York without delay and to set action on the blockade into motion within a few days.

Three Burglaries Are Probed Here

Three burglaries, in which loss was light, and a number of thefts were under investigation of law enforcement officials here Monday.

Three batteries valued collectively at $81, several postage stamps and a few keys were taken by burglars who entered through the skylight of Fortenberry-Gammill Tire company, 1219 Ave. H, police said.

Sears Roebuck & Co. reported three trailer wheels and tires stolen Sunday off that company's lot. Value was placed at $100.

No loot was reported in other burglaries. The residence of W. R. Tunnell of 1519 Twenty-fifth and that of J. D. Henly of 1509 Twenty-fifth were broken and entered. A piggy bank that had no money in it was broken in the Tunnell residence. The Henly residence was entered by a southwest window, the screen of which was torn off.

Thefts Are Reported

Other thefts included:

A $35 bike from Howard Patterson of 1514 Twenty-fifth; $25 worth of property, including sunshades and a fan, from the car of C. A. Austin of 2920 Twenty-second; a $30 pistol from the residence of Rebecca Hunt of 208 Eighteenth.

Officials said they probably would file a misdemeanor charge of unlawfully carrying a pistol in connection with a shooting case involving two negro men.

Sam Long, they said, shot Elonzo Clewis at 1904 Ave. A early Sunday, after he had been cut by Clewis with a knife. Injuries were

House Group Splits Over College Funds

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP) — The House Appropriations committee split sharp tonight on how much money should be spent on state colleges the next two years. Final decision was postponed until tomorrow morning.

A subcommittee reported a bill appropriating $57,877,000 for higher education the next two years. This is $11 million more than the current appropriation. A majority of the main committee was ready to recommend the bill to the House, but several members had amendments yet to be offered. They would have upped the cost.

"We played absolutely no politics with the taxpayers money in drawing up this bill," Rep. Preston E. Smith, subcommittee chairman, said in presenting the measure for consideration.

U. S. C-C GROUP URGES FEDERAL ECONOMY

House Leader Predicts That Congress Will Okay 'Greater Part' Of Truman's Legislative Program

WASHINGTON, May 2 (INS)—House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) predicted today that Congress will enact "the greater part" of President Truman's legislative program "in major form."

McCormack made his forecast before some 3,000 delegates attending the four-day 37th annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Earlier the chamber released a policy committee report blasting Mr. Truman's domestic program, calling for a firm stand against Russia and demanding federal economy.

Urge Pact Approval

McCormack declared that "a substantial part" of Mr. Truman's recommendations made in his state of the union message last January are "in the process" of enactment.

On foreign policy and U. S. relations with the Soviet Union, both the Massachusetts congressman and the businessmen saw eye-to-eye. They urged Senate ratification of the North Atlantic defense pact and military and economic aid to Western Europe.

McCormack credited the Marshall plan with making conditions in Europe "at least ten times" better than they were a year ago.

Solon Sounds Warning

He warned the Kremlin and the Soviet Politburo to recognize that in any future war "the winner will also be the loser." He said:

". . . It is their deliberate policy of misunderstanding, thereby creating fear, uncertainty, and if possible, chaos, to extend their imperialistic and ideological designs, that prevents that international understanding which is so essential for peace."

The chamber report took critical exception to a number of the administration's social and economic proposals. The committee recommendations will not become official until approved by the full membership Wednesday night.

Medical Plan Opposed

The report urged Congress to reject Mr. Truman's plans for wages and prices.

It declared that the President's national health insurance program would reduce medical care "to a uniform level of mediocrity."

The report asked the administration to make a "drastic decrease" in government employment and cut taxes and the national debt and advocated adoption of the Hoover commission on government reorganization in the interest of economoy.

Labor legislation, it said, should embody a "minium of control" so as to "encourage voluntary rather than government-imposed settlement of labor disputes."

Red Maneuvers Hit

The report blamed Russia's maneuvers in the United Nations and elsewhere for a three-year period of "disillusionment and disappointment" and called for a forthright program of defense and foreign aid to avoid aggression or appeasement. It said:

"Since what the Kremlin seems to respect is force and only force, the Soviet leaders must be convinced, first, that the United States, by word and action, will avoid both aggression and the path that leads to appeasement; and, second, that the United States will develop not only its own means of defense, but will assist free and friendly nations to help themselves militarily as well as economically.

Solon Asks Tighter Commodity Controls

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) of the Senate Agriculture committee said today he will introduce immediately an administration bill to tighten government controls over commodity markets.

Thomas said these were the main points in his bill:

1. Extend control to future trading in eleven commodities not now covered.

2. Authority to control margin requirements on speculative trade but not on hedging transactions.

3. Registration and control of commodity trading advisers and pool operators.

4. Authority to require grain markets to permit delivery at multiple delivery points similar to the system in effect on cotton.

5. Require competitive execution of orders for cotton similar to the practice in effect on grain.

6. Make it unlawful wilfully to make untrue statements or practice deceit.

French Railroads Recover With Aid Of 'Double Action' Dollars

WASHINGTON, May 2. (U.P.)—French railroads, with the aid of "double action" dollars, are running again as well as they did before the war, and in some cases better.

The Economic Co-operation administration reported today that some $85,000,000 of French counterpart funds released during the past year for railroad modernization had worked wonders.

These counterpart funds, or "double action" dollars are created when ECA makes dollar grants to France or other Marshall plan nations. In the case of France, the government then puts up an equal amount of francs into a counterpart fund to be used for recovery purposes.

RED OFFICIAL IS LESS 'CORDIAL'

Scribes Note Change In Gromyko Attitude Since Recent Promotion

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK May 2 — Sideglances:

From the time of his first appearance in UN black-browed Andrei Gromyko has been a pretty tough fellow. Yet there were some delegates with whom he was almost cordial. And occasionally, in giving UN reporters the brush-off, he'd promise them a story at some later date.

But since his elevation to the post of first deputy foreign minister, the Russian has dropped even the hint of his old sociability, if it can be called that. He pushes aside reporters who once felt they were getting to know him and even understand him. His manner with delegates has become increasingly brusque. They say his new job has gone to his head.

First thing you know, that fellow will be disliked.

Tenor Opens Program

Morton Downey, the svelte Celt, opened a new phase of his life in show business last night (Monday) when he inaugurated his NBC television program. Downey has come a million miles and perhaps three times that many dollars, since the days when he used to sit in Paul Whiteman's band—holding a French horn he couldn't play—and singing an occasional ballad.

Downey will mix his television singing with interviews of politicos and other celebrities. He will be, among other things, the first piano lifter ever televised—an anyone can attest who has seen him bounce a two-ton Steinway on his knees.

Legion To Honor HST

World War I vet Harry S. Truman will be made an honorary member of one of the world's more exclusive clubs on May 10. The Society of the American Legion Founders, whose honorary president is Douglas MacArthur, will tap the President for bones at its 30th anniversary convention in Washington.

The Legion was started in Paris on March 15, 1919, and staged a kind of second birth in St. Louis in May of the same year. Only 234 of the original 1,500 members are either still alive or active. MacArthur, incidentally, succeeded Gen. John Pershing, as honorary national president upon the latter's death.

Among the most active survivors of the Paris and St. Louis foundings is William McIntyre, the New York insurance man who is running on the Republican ticket for the late Sol Bloom's seat in Congress. The political soothsayers are not giving Bill much of a chance to win, but he points out the same was true of the chances of his fellow Legionnaire—HST.

French Official Visits U. S.

Christian Pineau, French minister of public works, transportation and tourism, stepped off an Air France liner the other day to tell an audience of travel reporters how things will be in France this season.

He expects about 3,000,000 visitors to France, a million more than last year. With the help of the Marshall plan and private enterprise in France, hundreds of big and little hotels have been rebuilt or restored with a seven billion franc budget. Tourists who bring along their cars, or buy French cars, will be allowed 125 gallons of gas a month. There is no other rationing, Pineau said. Prices are down, and the black market in francs (now 32 to the buck) has disappeared.

Hotels and restaurants that scalp visitors will be blacklisted, he asserted. He asked especially that Americans notice the gratitude of the French for U. S. aid and he asked that they remember that there are other cities in France beyond Paris. Pineau suggested the long neglected Basque country.

Athlete To Be Honored

Remember Bernie Wefers, the "fastest human" of the gay nineties? He made, equalled or broke world records in his specialties 29 times. His 220 yard mark of 21.5 seconds lasted from 1896 until Charley Paddock's time.

His 100-yard mark has been shaved only sub-microscopically in the ensuing generations despite great progress in equipment, track surfaces and coaching.

Well, Bernie, hale, gray and hearty is still around and was honored last (Monday) night at the New York Athletic club. He was born on February 19, 1873, in Lawrence, Mass. Asked once how he happened to be born in Lawrence, Bernie said, "I wanted to be near mother. She lived there."

RODEO PROGRAM OPENS

VERNON, May 2 (AP)—Vernon was jampacked with thousands of rodeo fans today as a parade, largest ever seen here, ushered in the annual Santa Rose Roundup celebration. The first performance of the week-long fiesta got underway tonight. The first appearance was a complete sell-out.

New Lubbock Firm To Offer Sidewalk Disinfecting Service

Add new industries for Lubbock:

A sidewalk washing and disinfecting service.

The service was announced Monday by Rex B. Williams, former Texas Tech grid star, and Paul E. McConnell, who recently moved to Lubbock from Sherman. They have formed the M. & W. Co.

The service will be performed by the company on a contract basis with Lubbock merchants. The company will provide a 2,000-gallon capacity tank truck equipped with power spray which will spray the vestibule and sidewalks in front of businesses with a DDT solution.

Additional Services Planned

The service will not only offer the protection of cleaning of the sidewalks daily but the DDT film offers additional protection from infection and will serve to keep down epidemics of polio and other diseases.

Similar service has been in operation in San Antonio, Dallas, Sherman and other Texas cities.

In addition to the sidewalk service, the company plans to offer window cleaning and floor waxing and polishing service at a later date. Five employes will start the company's operations here about May 15.

The service meets the requirement of city, county and state health departments and the company has been authorized by Mayor W. H. Rodgers and the city commission to start solicitation of merchants. It is planned that the service will precede city street sweepers and operate from 11 p.m. until 6 a.m.

SEALED-IN POPPA CAUGHT NAPPING—Hoisted to the hospital window on a fork-lift, Don Haynes shakes hands with his wife Mary and gets his first peek at his new-born daughter Jeanette from the welded-shut car in which he must live a year to win a $25,000 bet. Haynes expected to do his corridor pacing by driving around the Ashland, Ore., hospital, but was snoozing in the family garage when Jeanette arrived. He entered the car Feb. 19.

Phillips Chemical Plant, Union Reach Agreement At Dumas

DUMAS, May 2. (AP)—Terms of a tentative agreement between the Phillips Chemical plant and the International Oil Workers union (CIO) are to be submitted to union members for approval.

The tentative agreement last night averted a strike at the plant here.

Fred Schmid, union representative, said the contract will be published about May 10, when it is expected to be signed.

The union took a strike vote Friday, but the result was withheld. The issues were housing, sick leave and retirement.

The Phillips Petroleum company at Borger and its operating engineers reached a tentative agreement Saturday night on a new contract.

Texas College Of Mines To Hold Summer Speech Clinic

EL PASO, May 2. (Special) — Plans for a summer speech clinic for children or adults with speech defects were announced Saturday by College of Mines officials.

The clinic, sponsored by the Mines speech department, will be free and dates for it are June 1 to July 11, and July 13 to Aug. 24, at the Texas College of Mines in El Paso.

Speech defects include articulatory and vocal defects such as lisping, cleft palate, infantile speech, nasality and stuttering.

In addition, the speech department has scheduled for the summer term a course in speech correction designed for teachers. College credit will be granted.

Mrs. Charles Brady will be the clinician. She holds a masters degree in speech correction from the University of Iowa and has had experience in clinical work.

Information concerning the speech clinic may be obtained by writing or phoning Mrs. Clarice Jones, speech department, Texas College of Mines.

Studebaker Champion 4-door sedan

For thrift as well as style...

Studebaker's the '49 buy word

Here's what you get for your Studebaker dollar
New decorator-fabric upholsteries • New body colors • Self-adjusting brakes • Variable ratio "extra-leverage" steering • Panoramic vision • Seats centered between the axles • Low center of gravity • Glare-proof "black light" instrument panel dials • Automatic hill holder—available on Champions at slight added cost, but standard on other models • Automatic overdrive, Climatizer heating and ventilating, white sidewall tires and wheel trim rings or discs, optional at extra cost on all '49 Studebakers.

THE clean-lined look of a 1949 Studebaker tells you it's a car with the right build for thrift.

You don't see a trace of cumbersome excess bulk in those trim, graceful body contours. There's no gas-wasting surplus poundage in the rugged Studebaker chassis underneath.

This is motoring's most advanced kind of designing—it cuts driving costs substantially every mile.

Let's give you the names of Studebaker owners to check with. You'll be amazed to learn what they save.

Women Attend Church Circle Meetings Monday

FIRST CHRISTIAN COUNCIL ELECTS

Officers chosen by First Christian Women's council at a Monday luncheon were: Mrs. Grady West, president; Mrs. Brady Lowe, first vice president; Mrs. F. C. Rector, second vice president; Mrs. Fred Stone, secretary; Mrs. Clyde Mathus treasurer.

Department chairmen include: Mrs. Harry Sharp, missions; Mrs. Ralph Bedford, education; Mrs. J. A. Raley, projects; Mrs. Jimmy Yates and Mrs. Vera Salmon, evangelism; Mrs. Isabel Garrison, world call; Mrs. L. W. Squyres, flowers; Mrs. R. A. Mills, devotional; Mrs. Mary Hinton, emergency food; Mrs. Paul Morgan, pianist; Mrs. Homer Pharr, publicity; and Mrs. J. W. Kolb, parliamentarian.

Circle 5 was luncheon host. Table decorations were on the May day theme. Approximately 50 members attended.

The program featured reports from the state convention held last week in Waco, presented by Mesdames O. J. Snow, E. A. McClure and O. P. Hankins, and a skit, "As Others See Us," enacted by seven council members.

MRS. HICKS NAMED CIRCLE LEADER

Mrs. Joe Hicks was chosen circle leader for next year by members of St. John's Methodist Mary Winn circle at a meeting Monday with Mrs. Roland Simpson, 2626 Twenty-ninth. Mrs. Ralph Gossett was chosen membership chairman.

Mrs. O. C. Southall led a lesson on, "Hawaii." The meeting was attended by a guest, two new members and 12 others.

ASBURY WSCS HEARS SPEAKER

Members of Asbury Methodist WSCS heard Mrs. Euel D. Crosby discuss, "On Our Own Doorstep, American Geographical Frontiers," at a meeting Monday afternoon in the church parlor.

The meeting opened with song, "The Kingdom Coming." Mrs. J. E. Walter, vice president, was in charge of the business session. Program for next Monday's meeting will be based on the WSCS publication.

FIRST CENTRAL WMS PLANS FOR KITCHEN

Plans for furnishing a basement kitchen at First Central Baptist church were discussed at a WMU meeting Monday afternoon at the church.

Following the business session, the circles met separately for programs. Mrs. J. L. Birdwell presented the lesson to 14 members of Circle 1. Mrs. Boyd Crooks gave the lesson on the second chapter of Romans before 19 members of Madonna circle.

FIRST BAPTIST WMS CIRCLES MEET

Mrs. L. O. Bunton gave the lesson and Mrs. Roy Cocanougher gave the devotional when 15 members of Annie Armstrong circle met with Mrs. C. C. Worrell Monday afternoon. Mrs. L. J. Abbott taught nine members of Elouise Cauthen circle, meeting with Mrs. Robert Meaker. Mrs. L. E. Boren was hostess to 10 members of Ola Culpepper circle, who heard a lesson by Mrs. J. B. Walker.

Fifteen members and a guest heard Mrs. J. H. Hankins bring the lesson and Mrs. Harry Hunter give the devotional for Maudie Fielder circle, meeting with Mrs. W. M. Petticolas. Blanche Groves circle met with Mrs. S. T. Stone, and heard a lesson by Mrs. Claude Key. Lily Hunley circle, meeting in the home of Mrs. Joe Jackson, was attended by four members. Six Miriam Willis circle members met with Mrs. Eddie Clifton to hear Mrs. R. M. Armstrong teach. Mrs. R. E. Patillo taught 10 members of Rosa Lee Mills Appleby circle, meeting with Mrs. Roland Nabors. Leta Rue Riddle circle members heard a lesson by Mrs. M. F. Flake when they met in the home of Mrs. W. H. McIlwain.

Calvary Baptist Class Holds Tea In Home

Mrs. Irma Buck and Miss Fannie Pillow were hostesses at a tea Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. A. Giles, 1905 Twenty-fourth, honoring members of the Business and Professional Women's class of Calvary Baptist church.

Guests were Mesdames Marva Brown, Rose James, Helen Carr and Esther Lemon.

Cooper FHA Girls At Rally

Three representatives of Cooper chapter, Future Homemakers of America, Olagene Baldwin, Mary Lou Wylie and Mary Ann Smith, will attend the state FHA rally in Dallas Thursday through Saturday. Each girl is a chapter officer and each has a high scholastic standing.

BALDWIN

More than 2,000 club members from 688 Texas chapters are expected to attend the annual meeting. A fun-fest, directed by Dr. Ann S. Duggan of Texas College for Women, is scheduled Thursday night, prior to the general sessions which are to open Friday morning.

Ruth Hendler, state FHA president from Temple, will welcome the group with a talk, "Good Will in the Home." The program theme, "Promoting International Good Will," was used during the year as a basis for individual club activities. Among the speakers will be Roberto de la Rosa, cultural agent for the Mexican government, who will discuss "International Good Will." He is one of 12 "good will ambassadors" touring this country.

WYLIE

Friday afternoon, a panel discussion of "Values We Live by as World Citizens," led by Dr. Bernice Moore of the Hogg foundation, will be presented.

SMITH

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, of the state board of education, is to be honor guest and speaker at a Friday night banquet. Topic of her address will be, "Homekeeping Hearts are Happiest."

Rush Party Is Slated

Continuing rush activities, Texas Nu chapter, Delta Theta Chi sorority, will hold a picnic tonight at Mackenzie State park. Members and guests will meet in the home of Mrs. B. B. Borden, 2433 Twenty-second, at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Lela Craddock is in charge of arrangements.

Thursday night the sorority will honor rushees at a coke party in the home of Miss Alta White, 2020 Fifth street, apartment 52, at 7:30 o'clock.

Rushees are Misses Jeanie Fry, LoRena O'Neill, Dovie Parr, Marie Riley, Viola Limmer, Sue Tyson, Gail Tyson, Nan Powell and Mesdames Sherely Hudson, Martha Sue Cawthorn and Wilda Reynolds.

NEW MEETING TIME

Truth chapter, No. 941, Order of Eastern Star, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight and on through the summer, instead of at 7:30 p. m. as before.

Town Talk

Miss Helen Wagner of New York arrived Monday afternoon for a visit in the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Wagner, 1644 Broadway.

She will remain until Monday when she hastens back to New York city to close her apartment for the summer while she plays summer stock in Worcester, Mass. Miss Wagner has lived in New York since completing work on bachelor of music and bachelor of art in dramatics at Monmouth college, Monmouth, Ill.

For a few years after college, the attractive brown-haired woman continued her study of voice, and then went on the stage. Her career has been divided about equally between musical comedies and serious plays, but she says she prefers the more serious works. Her most recent part was of Portia in Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice," presented by Equity Library theater.

Miss Mary Dunn was hostess at a Saturday luncheon at Hector's, with Guy Wood and W. J. McDaniel, both of Wayland College Music staff as special guests.

Others attending were Bill Harrod, J. H. Penn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Pipkin, Mesdames A. C. Saunders, jr., Lillian Butler, Marie Harrison and Elois A. Elliott and Misses Eileen Dawkins, Grace Padley and Dorothy Lomax.

In answers to queries concerning "T-D Day" in Amarillo on May 14, Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra and show will appear in concert presentation in the Amarillo Municipal auditorium Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets may be ordered from the Panhandle Concert Bureau, Box 1214, Amarillo. Prices including tax are $3.60, $3, $2.50 and $1.80.

Ilona Massey will appear as an added attraction, and also on the show will be Copsey & Ayres, Sonny Calello, Louis Bellson and Jack Norton.

Mrs. W. A. Dunn of Bogalusa, La., is a guest in the home of her son-in-law and daughter Dr. and Mrs. Carey B. Batson of Levelland road.

Several entertainments have been given as a courtesy to the visitor, who plans to remain in Lubbock for a part of the summer.

Mrs. Vesta Edwards was honored on her birthday Sunday afternoon with a lawn party and out-of-doors dinner at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Edwards, sr.

Othea guests were Noel Joe Edwards, jr., Billy Earl Edwards, Johnny Calvin Edwards, Earl Perkins of Corpus Christi, L. C. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lacy and Jay Bradshaw, Turkey; and Messrs. and Mesdames Winston Watkins and sons Tony and Tommy, Petersburg; Walter Tindall and son; Luther H. Edwards and son, Gordon.

All of Mrs. Edwards' sons and daughters were present except Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Edwards and Cynthia of Dallas.

Miss Wenona Rieger of Bellaire, Texas, stewardess on Pioneer Airlines' Houston to Amarillo run and a niece of Charles Adams, sr., of Lubbock, is featured in a page tribute to airline stewardesses in the May issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. Miss Rieger has visited here frequently besides stopping at Municipal airport regularly on her flight schedules.

Auxiliary Holds Coffee

St. Paul's Episcopal Woman's auxiliary entertained with a May day coffee Monday morning in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 3312 Twenty-fourth.

The serving table, at which Mrs. Roscoe Wilson presided, was centered with a May pole from which extended colorful streamers. Talisman roses banked the pole and decorated other points of the table.

Others in the houseparty were Mesdames J. L. Barstow, Walter Clayton, William Stone, Arthur Jenkins and D. Kinner.

A silver offering of $40 was given by the 75 women who called. The money is to be added to the general auxiliary fund.

Mrs. Eubank Honored At Bridal Shower

A shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. L. Strader, 2122 Twenty-fourth honored Mrs. James H. Eubank, bride. Mrs. Maurine Harwell, daughter of the hostess, assisted.

The tea table was laid with a crocheted cloth and the punch bowl was surrounded with a floral arrangement.

Approximately 40 guests called.

CORRECTION

Trailers club will not meet Tuesday night as announced in Sunday's paper. The club's next dance will be Oct. 4.

Mrs. Hobbs Is Elected

Mrs. Earl Hobbs was elected president of Las Vivarachas Alumnae association at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Bruce Ferrel. Mrs. O. B. Haught was cohostess.

Other officers named were Mrs. Haught, vice president; Mrs. George Philbrick, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ferrel, reporter.

A flea can move a weight hundreds of times heavier than itself.

Installation Is At Picnic

Officers of Tech's Paul W. Horn chapter, Future Teachers of America, were installed at a picnic for chapter members in Mackenzie State park Sunday afternoon. Installed were:

William G. Trenfield, president; Norma Deane Richardson, first vice president; H. M. Cook, second vice president; Lamonte Leddy, secretary; Bradford Rowland, treasurer; Bob Hutchins, librarian; and Joy Williams, reporter. Dr. Lewis B. Cooper was installing officer.

Donald McDonald, assistant professor of education and psychology at Tech, was introduced as new co-sponsor with Dr. Cooper.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Garlin, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. McDonald and children.

AAUW Child Study Group To Elect

Officers of AAUW Child Study unit 3 will be elected Friday during a luncheon in the Blue room at Hector's. The meeting, which concludes this year's program, will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Haskell Taylor and Mrs. L. E. Parsons are to be hostesses.

In Switzerland's Largest City

Flower Gardens Flourish In Clean, Modern Zurich

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The series of articles being written by Margaret Turner, Woman's Editor of the Lubbock Avalanche and Journal publications, from Europe continues today).

ZURICH—Springtime has come to this largest city in Switzerland which stretches for miles along Lake Zurich and up in the hills and everywhere one looks she sees bowers of fruit blossoms and flower gardens. The amazing thing about it to us is that only two weeks ago the ground was covered with a foot of snow.

Zurich is a clean and modern city with wide streets down which many cars made in America are driven. "We like your cars very much in Switzerland," explained Sidney Fanconi, American Express representative, who served as interpreter and guide from the front seat of the Chrysler in which we rode.

By next year it's said all Swiss railways will be running on electric power and we believe we have never appreciated the use of electricity more than on our train ride to Zurich, with arrival after nightfall. For miles and miles before coming into the city we rode along the lake front, looking across to the small towns and villages on the foothills, each ablaze with light. The ride from the station was much as one would enjoy in any American city. It was quite a contrast to Paris and Vienna, both of which are rationed on electricity and turn their lights off two days each week from 7 in the morning until 6 at night. The streets in those two cities are dim and all of the shop windows are dark.

With all of their home produced electricity the people of Zurich have not seen fit to install traffic lights and a policeman, wearing white gauntlets that extend past the elbows, stands at the intersections, waving his arms this way and that. Whether or not he blows a whistle we don't know, but one of them yelled "Hey" at us when we stepped into the street too soon.

During our sightseeing tour of Zurich, which was arranged solely for the three of us, since we have arrived well ahead of the expected tourist exodus from the United States, we saw a profusion of fruit trees in bloom, lilacs in deep purple, beds of pansies and geraniums blooming in pots along every window sill. "The Swiss like a lot of flowers," Sidney proudly explained. This we believed before the day was over, because we could not remember one yard, no matter whether it was an estate or a peasant's home, in which flowers were not in bloom.

In one of the parks there were beds of bright red and yellow tulips, blazing under a sun as warm as summer and blankets of forget-me-nots and daisies covered the countryside which was not yet under cultivation.

Our afternoon ride to Rhine Falls took us through a number of villages, all as clean as a hospital hall. We saw the entire families at work in the fields, most of them spreading fertilizer and saw our first evidence of up to date methods in a tractor which a youth was racing down the furrows. In contrast to Austria, we saw few oxen and the plow horses appeared in much better condition than those we had noticed in other countries.

It was, as we have said, as beautiful as May, and women were scrubbing steps and polishing windows. "Spring time is a clean time," said our guide.

As we drove through a farming village, we stopped for a funeral procession. The hearse, drawn by a horse draped in a black robe, resembled a large surrey. A somber-faced man, in rusty black, led the horse, and the funeral procession followed, men, women and young people, all in black, walking in pairs. Each man doffed his hat as he passed our car, and although we knew it was rude we could not help but look and it salved our rudeness somewhat to see that the mourners were staring at us.

Later at Stein on the Rhine, when we were enjoying a tea hour in a garden, we saw a wedding party. As the bride came through the gate, someone in the party stepped on her train and she frowned a moment and then laughed. When she passed us we noticed she wore the same kind of stars in her eyes that are peculiar to brides everywhere. Despite the riot of blossoms in yards and florist shops, the men in the party wore artificial carnations in their lapels. Two of the young men seemed to be attending the bridegroom and Sidney told us they were "best men." "We have only one best man in America," we told him. "Well here in Switzerland we have two," he laughed.

Plainview Highway HD Club Hears Program

Plainview Highway Home Demonstration club members heard Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, discuss, "Understanding a Pattern, Measurements and Alterations," at a meeting Monday in the home of Mrs. H. F. Williams.

Each member brought a pattern, fabric and a sewing box. Mrs. J. C. McClellan reported on aluminum trays to be made in July.

Attending were Mesdames Lee Dex Vessels, Miles Kiefer, L. A. Peeples, J. M. Caddell, C. H. Tisdel, W. W. Atwood, W. G. Loflin, E. J. Pittle, G. C. Vaught, T. C. Hudson, C. W. Benson, J. L. Moore, Ralph Robinson and J. H. Eubanks, a new member. Club guests were Misses Bessie Edwards and Elizabeth Elliott.

Mrs. Vessels will be hostess to the next meeting at 2:30 p. m. May 17, in her home, 2518 Thirty-sixth.

The Woman's Angle By Ellen Miller

"Today's home builds tomorrow's world," is the theme for national Home Demonstration week, being observed May 1 through 7, and each of Lubbock's 16 clubs are holding some special observance of the week, as are other clubs throughout the nation.

Lubbock county observance will be climaxed at 2:30 p.m. today in Asbury Methodist church, when the county council sponsors a book review by Mrs. J. S. Crumpler, discussing, "The Big Fisherman," (Lloyd C. Douglas).

Book review, teas and other parties are important, but they are actually a very small section of the broad field of home demonstration club work.

Working with county home demonstration agents, club members study and learn by practice the most practical methods of home making . . . from gardening, cooking and canning to sewing and home beautification. A most democratic organization, home demonstration clubs are open to all who wish to join, and the programs are based on suggestions made by members to help them with their own problems in their own homes.

Leader training has been emphasized in club work during the past three years. Leaders from each club meet with the home demonstration agent for training demonstrations, which they, in turn, repeat in their own club meetings. Leaders in this county gave 77 demonstrations, attended by more than a thousand people last year. Leaders will give 11 demonstrations in each club in the county this year.

EAT THE BOWL

Try serving creamed vegetables, fish or other food in a platter fashioned of toast. Here's how: lay overlapping slices of bread in a greased loaf pan. Put a smaller pan inside to hold it in shape and place in a moderate oven. After about 15 minutes remove the inner pan and allow the bread to brown evenly. It should be used immediately.

In addition to being attractive, this type bowl makes just one less dish to wash.

Camels for Mildness!

Now! Tooth Decay Reduced by Amazing New Discovery

First Ammoniated Tooth Powder Amm-i-dent Helps Prevent Cavities!

Science explains how Amm-i-dent reduces tooth decay

Your mouth contains acid-forming bacteria that can cause decay. Amm-i-dent eliminates large numbers of these bacteria (Lactobacillus acidophilus). The secret? No other leading toothpaste or powder contains Amm-i-dent's two amazing ingredients—Dibasic Ammonium Phosphate and Carbamide (synthetic urea)—specifically added to fight these bacteria, and help reduce decay.

"Promises to make history"—Reader's Digest

Ammoniated tooth powder has hit the headlines from coast to coast! Reader's Digest article praised it as "a revolutionary way to help prevent tooth decay." Time Magazine (Medicine, Feb. 14th) told how Amm-i-dent was developed by a non-profit research group. Newsweek cited Amm-i-dent's use by New York high school students. ("Preventive Tooth Powder," Feb. 14th.) It's thrilling news!

Now you may save your child untold grief and pain

Think how much pain and trouble you may save your children by helping them to reduce tooth decay with regular use of Amm-i-dent. Buy Amm-i-dent today—start using it according to directions on the package. Your whole family will love the pleasing flavor! Remember—Amm-i-dent has been tested and commended by Parents' Magazine Consumer Research Bureau.

New Hope for Children and Adults!

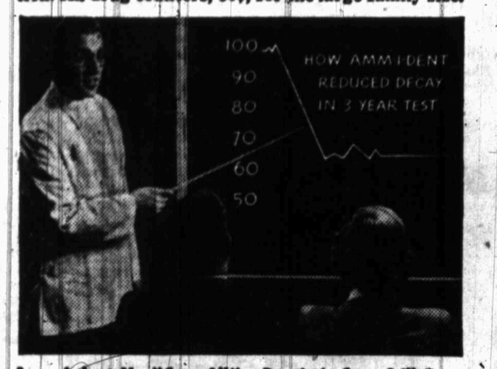

You've heard about ammoniated tooth powder from dentists or friends! You've read about it in Reader's Digest, Time, Newsweek and other magazines and newspapers! Now, it's here, ready for use in your own home, after three years of clinical testing—a tooth powder that helps prevent formation of new cavities.

First Anti-Decay* Dentifrice. Up to now, dentifrices could help clean and brighten your teeth, but contained no effective anti-decay* ingredient. Now, for the first time, with Amm-i-dent, you and your children can help protect your teeth against decay, as you give them their regular daily cleaning. For Amm-i-dent contains two anti-decay* ingredients, not used in any leading toothpaste or powder!

Look at your teeth in the mirror. Count the fillings. How much pain and trouble could you have been saved, if Amm-i-dent had been discovered when you were a child? How much can you save your children, by starting them on Amm-i-dent today?

Yes, for adults and children alike, regular daily use of Amm-i-dent works to reduce the rate of new cavities, promote healthier teeth. Everyone will love its clean, minty taste. Amm-i-dent cleans your teeth to gleaming brightness and sweetens breath instantly.

Important! Get Amm-i-dent Now, without prescription. All drug counters, 60¢, for the large family size.

Amm-i-dent No "Cure-All"—Dentist's Care Still Best.

No claims are made that Amm-i-dent is a "cure-all." It cannot help cavities already formed. Nor are you guaranteed never to have any cavities again. But from all the evidence, the proper use of Amm-i-dent is a simple way to reduce occurrence of new cavities. The makers of Amm-i-dent also wish to stress that no dentifrice can take the place of your dentist. He is your best safeguard in preserving mouth health.

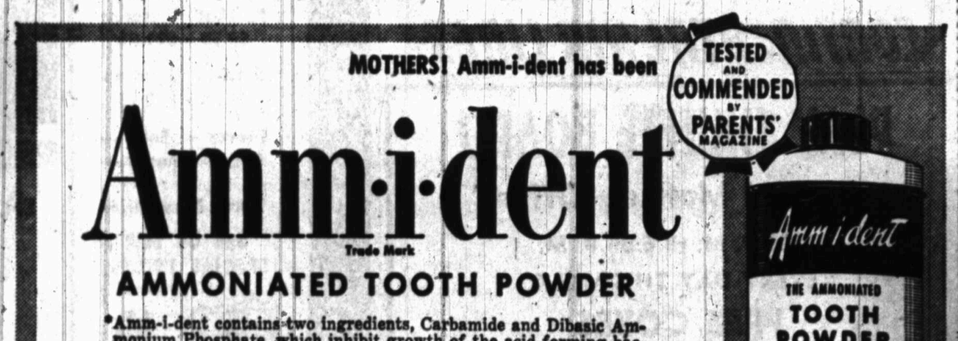

You fight decay as you clean your teeth

Now you can take positive steps to help prevent decay. No longer should you be content with a toothpaste or powder that does no more than help brighten teeth or sweeten breath. With Amm-i-dent you get clean breath, bright teeth, of course—but most important, Amm-i-dent (used as directed) will help you prevent new cavities, as you give your teeth their regular daily brushing!

"Only dentifrice I recommend," says dentist

Long before national magazines and newspapers told the great news about Amm-i-dent, thousands of dentists, who were following the research, recommended it to patients. Before Amm-i-dent, toothpastes and powders could brighten teeth but had no specific ingredients to fight decay. Now with Amm-i-dent, your daily brushing helps give active protection against new cavities.

Hubbers Defeat Pampa, 14-4

Sullivan Enjoys Perfect Night

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

When the Hubbers weren't ballooning balls all over the confines of Mrs. Rosenthal's ball orchard last night, Pampa Oiler pitchers were and the combination resulted in an easy 14 to 4 victory for the home club.

The Oilers went down in order meekly to start the game and the Hubbers took over. Nelson Davis singled through the box, Manager Jackie Sullivan singled to right-field and Jim Prince put the clincher on the inning with a slam over the rightfield fence. Selah.

After Mike Dooley had been thrown out on a nice play by Tooter Harper, Chick Fowler singled to centerfield and went to second on the error. Pedro Dunabeitia promptly singled through the box and Fowler scored. Joe Wisniewski sent a screaming double down the third base line to plate Dunabeitia and the Hubbers had the game won.

Just to make it secure, Nelson Davis opened the second with a single that almost knocked Pitcher Charles Bodine's left leg off and Sullivan doubled to left center. Prince walked and Dooley slammed a no ball-one strike pitch over the leftfield fence. It was his second grand slam blow of the season.

With that kind of a lead to work on, Cotton Russell was tough to beat. He gave up single hits in the second, seventh and ninth and three safeties in the sixth. But Pampa couldn't do much against him (he majority of the time He became the first Hubber hurler to go the route and win.

Charles Lockwood, who followed Bodine ,was more effective. He was also wilder. He walked 11 men, turned loose four wild pitches and hit a batsman. At the same time, he gave up only two hits, fanned five and allowed four runs.

Sullivan, who has been in a slump, came out of it with a bang last night. The Hubber pilot walked, drilled two singles and two doubles to the outfield and tripled his last time up for a perfect night at the plate.

Four errors by the Hubbers didn't help Russell any, but they played little part in the outcome. Pampa was licked long before the game ended and the players knew it.

Tonight the two teams conclude the series here and John Meyer, a righthander acquired on option from Greenville today, probably will hurl for Lubbock. The Hubbers, now in a tie for fourth place, will attempt to make it four straight over Pampa.

New Pitcher To Join Hub Nine

John Meyer, a righthanded pitcher, was expected to join the Hubbers here this morning and probably will throw tonight's game against the Pampa Oilers.

George Schepps, Hubber general manager, said that Meyer was an option to the Hubbers from Greenville. He is a six foot, 185-pound hurler with a good fast ball. He was with Gladewater last year, where he won 14 and lost 10. His earned run average was 4.10 and there were only 10 other hurlers in the league with better earned run records.

Meyer was signed by Doc Prothro for Tennessee in 1947 and optioned out. He was bought outright during the winter by Scheppe. His home is in Memphis, Tenn., and his wife and two children will accompany him here.

Player Not Injured

The Hubbers also got additional good news yesterday when, after thorough physical examination by Dr. J. H. Stiles, club physician, it was learned that there was nothing wrong with three players.

Bubba Kaine, utility infielder-outfielder, who was struck on the forehead by a thrown ball April 25 in a game against Albuquerque, went on the recent road trip. He complained of headaches and club officials were afraid he might have a slight concussion.

But x-rays yesterday failed to disclose any sign of concussion and doctors diagnosed the trouble as a sinus infection with which Kaine is bothered.

Don Hensiek, pitcher, who has a sore arm, also went under the scrutiny of the x-ray machine. Investigation failed to disclose any bone chips or other complications and light exercise was recommended.

Joe Wisniewski, outfielder, who had a case of flu, was examined again and declared fit and ready to play. Wisniewski still isn't strong, but he has been working out in Lubbock while the club has been on the road.

HUB HOMES WINS GAME

Hub Homes Indians baseball team walloped the Latin-American Rangers, 12 to 5, at Guadalupe park today. H. T. Hillen was the winning pitcher and Raymond Cruez the loser.

The Treasury department now collects nearly 2½ billion dollars a year in taxes on alcohol.

Bill Henderson To Fight May 31

LEVELLAND, May 2 (Special)—The Jaycees of Levelland will sponsor a boxing card here May 31 with Bill Henderson and Chino Alonzo in the 10-round main event.

Henderson, who has lost only two fights in his professional career, will probably be favored to take Alonzo in the fight. The only setbacks given to the Lubbock scrapper were two lightweight bouts with Jean Mougin, former French lightweight champion.

Alonzo appeared in Lubbock last week in a Jaycee sponsored fight program, decisioning Sammy Galvan.

Also appearing on the card will be Gene James, Lubbock heavyweight, but his opponent has not been named. In two professional appearances, James has won both fights with TKO's

Promoter of the fights will be Dickie Griffin of El Paso.

Fans Are Behind Giants' Pilot

Durocher To Appear Before Commissioner

CINCINNATI, May 2. (AP)—Leo Durocher, who suddenly has come up with a lot of friends he hadn't even suspected were on his side, probably will gain a quick exoneration when he faces baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler here tomorrow.

Chandler wouldn't say so.

He still was intent tonight on going through the motions of a hearing. But the letters and telegrams pleading leniency for the manager of the New York Giants were piled high on his desk.

"I hope I can give you a quick decision," said the man who holds Durocher's fate again.

It seemed fairly evident from his untroubled countenance that he isn't as peeved at Leo this time as he was, say, two springs ago

So far as he knows, the Commissioner said, the only ones who will appear at his office at 9:30 (CST) tomorrow morning are Durocher and Giants officials, including President Horace Stoneham.

Fred Boysen, the Brooklyn fan who claimed Durocher assaulted him after a game at the Polo Grounds last Thursday, is not to be represented. It will be, presumably, a simple case of Chandler asking "Did you do it?" and Durocher saying "No, sire, I didn't."

After that it will be up to Leo and Stoneham to convince the Commissioner, orally and by affidavits of fans, that it was all a mistake.

If Chandler gives the peppery little pilot the benefit of the doubt —as he probably will—then Durocher's suspension will be lifted and he will be free to resume his management of the Giants. He has been suspended since last Friday.

However, Durocher still must face a charge of simple assault filed against him in New York City today by Benjamin H. Chasin, attorney for Boysen. The summons is returnable next Monday

Chandler was closeted for some time today with George H. Weiss, general manager of the New York Yankees. Their talk had to do with Artie Wilson, the negro shortstop whom Weiss claims was swiped from him by Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians.

Gassers Turn Back Gold Sox, 24 To 14

BORGER, April 2 (AP)—The Borger Gassers and the Amarillo Gold Sox rattled the fences at Huber park tonight in a slugfest which found the Gassers on top of a 24-14 win for their third straight over the Gold Sox and their ninth straight league victory.

The Gassers pounded Sox hurlers for eight runs in the third and nine more in the fourth to put the game on ice. Four Borger homers featured the 24 hit attack with Ferguson Faccio, Nell and Johnson taking the round trip. Veteran catcher Nell batted in five runs for the winners.

ALBUQUERQUE DEFEATS CLOVIS PIONEERS, 17-15

CLOVIS, May 2. (AP)—The crippled Clovis Pioneers played the role of cousins to the Albuquerque Dukes tonight throwing a game which they seemed to have in the bag for their third consecutive loss to Hershel Martin's nine. The fina lscore was 17-15 after three hours and seven minutes of labor.

A flood of Pioneer errors paved the way for the Duke triumph, the visitors coming from behind huge deficits twice to get back into the ball game. Eight Clovis muffs greatly aided the Dukes to roll up their eighth straight win, the final Clovis miscue costing the home team the contest.

Abilene Downs Lamesa, 5 To 1

ABILENE, May 2. (AP)—The Blue Sox supported the fine four-hit pitching of Rene Vega here tonight to defeat Lamesa, 5-1, in a West-Texas-New Mexico league series opener.

Vega turned in a masterful job of pitching, fanning six, throwing out six, allowing no walks. Hank Melillo tapped him for a double in third and later scored on Hayden Greer's boot of Rheingans grounder to short for the lone Lobo tally.

Abilene had led with a run in the second that broke the tie with a three run attack in the sixth on consecutive hits by Greer, Sturdivant and Fernandez, two walks and an error helping the cause.

Singles by Sturdivant and Fernandez and a fine bunt by Lopez brought the fifth run in the eighth.

The game was played under protest, manager Jay Haney of Lamesa protesting in rebutal to Greer's criticism of pitcher Glen Selbo's stance at the mound. A temporarily installed pitching rubber, used in batting during rainy weather, was removed by Green and the protest followed.

Tornado Nine Meets Mustangs

LAMESA, May 2. (Special)—Lamesa High school's Golden Tornado baseballers, riding the crest of a seven-game District 3-AA winning streak, meet the Sweetwater Mustangs here at Lobo park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

The Tornadoes, firmly entrenched in first place with seven wins to one loss, will be strong favorites to annex their eighth consecutive triumph against last-place Sweetwater.

Righthander Jerry Phillips, who has a two-to-one record, will hurl for Lamesa. Coach Jack Wetzel, taking no chances with a potential pennant winner, will have both Bill Hart and lefthander Royce King ready for relief duty.

Bobby Claybrook will probably start on the mound for the Mustang nine.

K. Carter Boys, Girls Teams Defeat East Broadway Squads

K. Carter boys and girls softball teams turned in a pair of victories over East Broadway school teams yesterday afternoon, the boys winning 16 to 8 after the girls had taken a 23-18 victory.

Bobbie Jo Wright and Myra Gene Noland hurled for the winning girls, with Kay Barley behind the plate. Alfred Coronado pitched for the winning boys, with his brother, Robert Coronado, behind the plate.

Westerners Drop Plainview, 15-5

Lubbock Batters Pound Out 16 Hits To Assure Team Of South Half Title

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

PLAINVIEW, May 2.—Lubbock batters pounded out 16 hits here today to give the Westerners a 15-5 victory over Plainview's Bulldogs and assure them the south half championship in the District 1-AA baseball race.

The win gave the Lubbock nine its fifth straight victory against no losses. Plainview travels to Lubbock Tuesday to try to turn the tide on the rampaging Westerners in a game scheduled for 4 p.m. at Chapman field diamond.

Day Stars On Mound

Lefthander Benny Day started on the mound for the winners and gave up three hits and all the runs before retiring in the fifth in favor of Jimmy Richards who allowed no hits and no runs in the three innings he worked. Jim Hazelton went the route for Plainview.

Six Westerner batters shouldered the load in the wild tilt which saw the Lubbock squad score in every inning except the third and fifth.

Leading the base-hit attack Shortstop Charles Galey with a perfect day at the plate in four trips. His four hits greatly aided the Lubbock scoring, and one was a towering triple into left field which should have gone for a homer. But Galey missed second base and had to go back and tag the base before going to third.

Jimmy Sexton, center field, got two for four including a home run hit down the third base line in the second inning with no one on base. Powell Hinson, Westerner third baseman, hit three singles in three times at bat, and Garnet Reeves came through with the chips down, one hit being a long triple. Morris Turner, catcher, had two for five, and Jimmy Hamilton got the other hit while playing second.

Score Two In First

The Westerners got off to a good start in the first of the initial frame, scoring two runs. With one out Hinson hit a single and advanced to third on Galey's single into left field after Jessie Fullerton struck out. Galey went down to second without a play being made on him, and Reeves knocked both batters in with a Texas-leaguer into left field. Turner flied out to the second baseman, John Long, to retire the side.

In the second inning 11 Lubbock batters marched to the plate to score seven runs on two hits —a homer by Sexton and a single by Turner—four Plainview errors, and four walks by Hazelton.

The Westerners put together three hits for two runs in the fourth, scored two more on three hits in the sixth, and closed out the scoring in the seventh with a brace of runs on a pair of hits.

Plainview scored four runs in the third frame to threaten the Westerner lead and added one in the fourth, but that was all there was as Richards came in to hold the Bulldogs hitless the remainder of the game.

Cooper Scores Fly

In the third frame Plainview's Durwood Neie, shortstop, got on base when Hinson overthrew first base, and took second on the error. The next batter, Hazelton, popped a ball high into the air between home and first base, and Turner, Fullerton, and Day all came in to play the ball, which fell in fair territory, advancing Neie to third. John Long singled to score Neie, sending Hazelton to third, and Long went to second. Hazelton scored the second run on a wild pitch, Cooper walked. Howton singled in Long, with Cooper advancing to third. Bill Blair sent a long fly into center field which was caught by Sexton, but Cooper scored on the fly for the final score of the inning.

Sox's Tipton Under Fire

CHICAGO, May. 2 (INS)—Manager Jack Onslow of the Chicago White Sox, who had been looking for a spark and instead got a bonfire, said today that all is now peace and harmony between himself and his ace catcher Joe Tipton.

Onslow, who replaced Ted Lyons as pilot of the Sox last winter, made that statement after an emergency meeting between himself, Tipton and general manager Frank Lane and vice president Charles Comiskey.

Scuffle Reported

The meeting was a "command performance" on the heels of still unconfirmed reports out of St. Louis that Onslow and the big, burley Tipton growled and shoved each other in the clubhouse.

The near scuffle reportedly took place when the 59-year-old Onslow accused his ace receiver of sloppy handling of pitchers and of tipping opposing batters off to what kind of a pitch was coming up next.

Although the Sox swept the stormy double-bill, 7-6 and 14-11, and thereby climbed into second place in the American league, the Pale Hose manager told newsmen:

Wasn't Too Proud

"I wasn't too proud over the two games we won."

After their meeting with the club executives, Onslow said, he shook hands with Tipton and that all present vowed to confine their fighting to an effort to keep the team in the first division.

Referring to reports that he had slapped a $500 fine on Tipton, who came to the Sox from Cleveland last winter, he added:

"There won't be any fines and the whole deal is closed. Frankly I believe Joe's going to be the best catcher in the American league."

He added that he would give Tipton every opportunity to prove that.

Yanks Head For Western Trip Without 'Crippled' DiMaggio

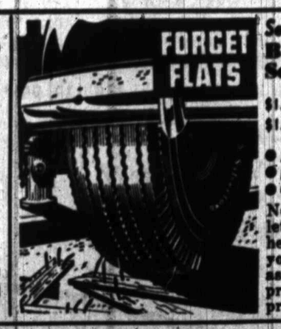

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees headed for their first western trip of the season today without their famous "cripple" Joe Di Maggio.

The Yankees announced yesterday that Di Maggio's heel had not improved sufficiently to allow him to make the western trip, but hoped that the centerfielder would be able to rejoin the club when it returns to Yankee Stadium, May 17.

Lubbock Teams Gain Control In West Texas-New Mexico Bowling

George Tate Takes Over Singles Lead

Lubbock teams and individuals took control in the second week of bowling in the West Texas-New Mexico tournament being held at Lubbock Bowling club.

The final weekend of the kegling meet will be May 7-8, and chances are the standings will suffer more changes before the last ball goes down the alley.

Local bowlers made most of the changes. Ben Brown paced the Class A keglers toward the all-events prize with 1,962, an average of 218 pins per game. George Tate of Lubbock holds the top spot in Class A singles with a 710 series, and the Class A doubles lead is held by Jay O'Keefe and Ben Brown with 1,247.

Klatterhoff In Lead

The new leader in Class B singles is Bill Klatterhoff, Lubbock, with 629, and the Class B doubles is in the hands of E. Stover and Fred McGinnis of Clovis, N. M., with 1,151. Bill Helms of Amarillo topped the Class B all-events with 1,746.

San Angelo keglers took over the lead in Class C singles and doubles. John Franklin rolled a single game of 610 and teamed with Bob Lerch to pile up a 1,072 score for tops in doubles. Still retaining his hold on Class C all-events is C. D. Wickson of Lubbock with 1,621.

Team play will get underway Friday night with two local jaycee teams in Class B. Team play will be held in three shifts Saturday, and doubles and singles will be on tap for Sunday to close out the tournament.

Sunday's attack on the standings left them altered considerably, and with local bowlers in the top spots in most of the cases. But Wickson and Al Simmons were pushed out of first place in Class C doubles after taking the lead the first week with 1,081.

Bill Helms of Amarillo dropped from first to second in the Class B singles; Roy Hooten and J. A. Peel of LUubbock dropped from first to fourth in th ehClass B doules; and Wickson and J. D. Short of Lubbock dropped from first and second respectively to second and third in the Class C singles.

First Five Given

The first five in each event, under the new tabulation, follow: Class A singles, Tate, Lubbock, (217-227-266) 710; Charles Gay, Odessa, 680; T. I. Brown, Lubbock, 671; Ben Brown, Lubbock, 657; R. R. McCallum, Lubbock, 643.

Class A doubles, O'Keefe -Ben Brown, Lubbock, 1,247; M. A. Cooper and George Tate, Lubbock, 1,212; Jake Douglas (Big Spring) and E. A. Christensen (Lubbock) 1,193; J. C. Byors and Browning Higgs, Amarillo, 1,192; and Gay and T. Matthews, Odessa, 1,158.

Class A all-events, Ben Brown, Lubbock, 1,962; T. I. Brown, Lubbock, 1,919; E. A. Christensen, Lubbock, 1,900; Jay O'Keefe, Lubbock, 1,872; and Vic Langley, Amarillo, 1,853.

Class B singles, Bill Klatterhoff, Lubbock, 629; Bill Helms, Amarillo, 595; John Howard, Clovis, N. M., 591; J. Sisco, Monahans, 586; and H. Jenkins, Hobbs, N. M., 585.

Class B doubles, E. Stover and Fern McGinnis, Clovis, 1,151; M. Seigler and E. R. McCallum, Lubbock, 1,143; Lefty Hall and Toby Cooksey, San Angelo, 1,137; Roy Hooten and J. A. Peel, Lubbock, 1,100; and Barney Stagner and Frank Baker, Lubbock, 1,095.

Class B all-events, Bill Helms, Amarillo, 1,746.

Class C singles, John Franklin, San Angelo, 610; C. D. Wickson, Lubbock, 597; J. D. Short, Lubbock, 579; and C. H. Tuler, San Angelo, 559.

Class C doubles, Franklin and Bob Lerch, San Angelo, 1,072; and Wickson and Al Simmons, Lubbock, 1,018.

Class C all-events, Wickson, Lubbock, 1,621; and Franklin, San Angelo, 1,614.

TEXAS PGA GETS UNDERWAY

Harden Leads Qualifying For National PGA Golf Tournament

DALLAS, May 2 (AP) — Jack Harden of El Paso led sectional qualifying today for the National PGA golf tournament. He shot a 36-hole total of 138 over the Dallas Athletic Club country club course.

Harden had a three under par 69 on each round.

Ray Hill, of Shreveport, La., and Raymond Gafford, of Fort Worth, tied for second place with 141. Hill had a 71-70 and Gafford a 69-72.

Pro-Pro Meet Set

Frank Champ of Lake Charles, La., and Charles Klein of Amarillo tied for the next spot at 143. Champ had 67-76 and Klein 70-73.

Only five qualified for the National PGA at Richmond, Va.

Alternates will be Milton Ward, Corpus Christi, and Elroy Marti, Houston, who finished sixth and seventh. Ward had 72-72—144 and Martin 73-72—145.

The qualifying test today was the first feature of the week-long Texas PGA tournament. Tomorrow there will be a pro-pro (women and men) tournament with such stars as Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Louise Suggs, Patty Berg and Bettye Mims participating. The next day is set aside or a pro-amateur.

The Texas PGA Open starts Thursday with 18 holes daily through Sunday. Byron Nelson, the defending champion, is favored to win the title again.

High Court Upholds Bribe Convictions

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—The Supreme court today upheld by a 4-4 vote the conviction of two men charged with offering bribes to New York Giant pro football players.

The pair, Harvey Stemmer and David Krakower, contended New York state illegally used evidence against them obtained by wire-tapping.

By long precedent an equally divided decision upholds the lower court.

Stemmer and Krakower were accused of offering Frankie Filchock and Merle Hapes $2,500 each, plus the returns on a $1,000 bet, if they would throw a game to the Chicago Bears. The game was an important one in the 1946 National Football league race.

Stemmer and Krakower were sentenced to 5 to 10 years in prison each. Filchock and Hapes were barred from the league. Stemmer and Krakower appealed to the high tribunal after the New York Court of Appeals upheld their convictions.

SWC Cinder Meet Slated

(By The Associated Press)

The last dual and triangular meets this season will be held this week as Southwest Conference track and field performers bring themselves to an edge for the championship cinder path carnival scheduled at Fayetteville May 13 and 14.

The question of whether Texas A. and M. is to repeat with the championship with no more than a mild struggle from the opposition or if it's to be a gripping duel between the Aggies and Texas down to the last barrier rests on a couple of pulled muscles.

If Charley Parker and John Robertson of Texas are able to compete, Texas could make a real fight of it. Parker and Robertson both are dash men, forming one-half of a great sprint relay team, while Robertson is the top broad jumper of the southwest.

Rice threw something of a surprise into Conference ranks last week by winning the mile relay at the Drake Relays in 3:16.4 — three-tenths of a second under the conference record. The hitherto all-victorious Aggie mile relay team lost out because of a dropped baton. Rice might lick the Aggies in the Conference meet, which would be taking some precious points from the Cadets.

At least six records appear in the balance, including the mile relay.

Rice is favored to win third place in the Conference meet with Arkansas and Southern Methodist, paced by its hurdlers John Rowland and Cleburne Price, fighting it out for fourth place.

Major Loops Record Attendance Increase

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Baseball attendance in the major leagues, expected to drop after the 1948 all-time high, shows a slight increase over last year for the first two weeks of the season.

A total of 1,728,534 fans paid to watch the big leaguers as compared to 1,709,487 for the same period in '48. Although the increase is only approximately 1 per cent, the fact that attendance is holding up to the record level is surprising.

The New York Yankees-Boston Red Sox series, involving three games in Boston April 22-23-24 and three more in the Yankee stadium over the weekend, contributed 226,702 of the American league's 880,984 paid.

Detroit and New York are showing the way in the American, doing better business than last year.

So far teams have been playing in their own section. Today was an open date in both majors but tomorrow the first east vs. west series open.

Three night games are listed on tomorrow's National league schedule. The only day game sends Cincinnati to Brooklyn. Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis at Philadelphia and Chicago at Boston all will be played at night.

With Philadelphia and Cleveland idle, the American league will present a day chart of New York at St. Louis, Boston at Detroit and Washington at Chicago.

ARCARO TO RIDE FAVORED OLYMPIA

Trial Race Is Scheduled Today For Kentucky Derby Eligibles

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2(INS)—Fred W. Hooper's Olympia will undergo his last pre-Derby test against a field of seven other Kentucky Derby eligibles tomorrow in the Derby Trial at Churchill Downs.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro, who will ride the winter-book favorite in the Derby Saturday, was scheduled to arrive in Louisville tonight and will pilot the fleet son of Heliopolis over the one-mile distance in the $10,000 added stakes.

Ocean Drive Entered

The all-out Derby favorite will be only half of the entry carrying Hooper's colors in the trial, since Ocean Drive was also listed as a starter in the contest for Derby eligibles. Basil James will ride Ocean Drive in the Derby test.

The Hooper entries will each carry top weight along with Greentree Stable's Capot with Ted Atkinson up.

Calumet Farm made its final bid to produce a suitable entry for Saturday's Derby and named its two eligibles, De Luxe and Ponder, for the trial. De Luxe is generally rated as the best of the Calumet hopefuls and will carry 112 pounds.

However, trainer Ben Jones has stated that his De Luxe was doped in his stable prior to one of last week's races at Keenland and, as a result, is not considered a likely starter in the Derby.

Ponder, which turned in good weekend workouts, is weighed at 110.

The Other Entries

Gordon Glisson, the jockey who paced the Keenland spring meeting and turned in three winners at Churchill Downs last Saturday, will ride under the Calumet colors.

Others in the eight horse field include A. P. Cotter's Petey Cotter, which will carry D. Madden and a weight of 112.

Bracketed in the 110 spot are Jackstown of Afton Villa Farms, and Mrs. H. J. Damm's Roundeleer.

W. L. Taylor will ride Jackstown and Roundeleer had no boy at the closing time for entries.

New Deal Lettermen Elect Exum President

NEW DEAL, May 2 (Special)—Lettermen from New Deal High school met here Saturday night in their first organizational meeting and elected Fred Exum president.

The meeting, held in the high school auditorium, attracted 61 lettermen representing New Deal teams from 1938 through 1949. They selected the name ND club for the organization.

Other officers elected included John Kveton, vice president; Wilma Exum, secretary; L. M. Hall, jr., treasurer; and Jack Beaty, sergeant-at-arms.

A constituion was presented and adopted. It provided for three meetings each year—one during football season, one during basketball season, and an annual spring meeting at which officers will be elected.

After election of officers Saturday night, initiation of new lettermen was conducted. Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

BEANS BOYS, GIRLS WIN

The George R. Bean grade school boys and girls softball team invaded P. E. Brown's baseball diamond today and walked away with a clean sweep of games, the girls winning 33 to 1 and the boys taking a 16 to 6 victory. The girls played two innings and the boys went seven frames.

THE MOST ADVANCED of America's Four Finest cars
COSTS $875 TO $2,428 LESS* TO BUY

Unique among the nation's four finest cars, the Nash Ambassador is built with a Unitized Body-and-Frame.
This great advance in design lowers the center of gravity . . . increases stability . . . lightens driving effort . . . expands passenger space . . . eliminates drag of useless weight.
It is why you will find the Nash Ambassador the most comfortable car you ever rode in. It is quieter at all speeds, and magnificently powered. Yet owners of the other three finest cars who have changed to the Nash Ambassador find they are obtaining as much as 30% more mileage on gasoline.
In feature after feature it more than merits its distinction as the most advanced of America's fine cars. Yet—it is priced from $875 to $2,428 less* than the other three.
Your Nash dealer will gladly place an Ambassador at your command.

Lions Club At Monroe Started

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

MONROE, May 2.—Monroe's latest organization, the Monroe Lions club, received its charter here tonight with 250 persons attending a banquet and ladies night program in the New Deal High school gymnasium.

District Gov. W. R. Rutherford of Dumas delivered the charter to President Bruce E. Gentry, sr., of the newly organized club after which Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, professor of education and psychology at Texas Technilogical college presented a talk.

Gov. Rutherford declared the charter "a scholarship in a world organization!" and commended Monroe's civic-mindedness in organization of the club.

Members Are Named

As he presented the charter, he called the club's 30 charter members to stand at the speaker's table. They were: John Abbe, Archie Acker, L. A. Barnes, J. O. Bumpass, L. C. Crews, A. A. Cox, J. W. Durham, E. J. Exum, A. L. Faubion, Billy Fortenberry, Bruce E Gentry, jr., Grady Henly, Royse F. Hess, Earl B. Hobbs, P. B. Justice, E. L. Keeton, Billy Meyers, O. L. Miller, Pat Nix, John S. Rankin, John H. Reagan, W. C. Snider, T. E. Snider, M. F. Thurman, J. W. Vanistory, Toby Waggoner, Demp Webster, S. W. Williams and Frank Worley.

Grady Henly was toastmaster at the banquet, a sumptuous meal being served by 30 girls of the New Deal Home Economics department.

After Gov. Rutherford presented the charter, J. P. Nystel, representing the Abernathy club, presented a gavel and bell to the Monroe group.

Nation Must Stay Strong

During the meal, George Warner, Amarillo pianist, gave several piano selections.

Vocal numbers by Misses Jonita Jenkins and Betty Myers, accompanied by Lawrence Ivey at the piano, were given during the program.

Invocation was by Rev. John Rankin, pastor of the Monroe Baptist church and benediction was by David Dart, Church of Christ minister.

In his talk, Dr. Jackson cited the great position the United States holds in the world today and declared establishment of the incentive to work, to save, to invest and to produce has been the great factor in our nation rising to its tremendous power.

"If we ever create a situation that causes us to lose them, we'd cease to exist," he declared, "just as the great nations of the world before us have done.

"But as long as our nation is as productive and as rich as we are today, we should never fear Communism or Socialism," he said. d"They will only gain a foothold when we become poverty-stricken and weak."

Lubbock Group Attends

Sixty-five Lions and their wives from Lubbock attended the affair and other delegations were present from Abernathy, Hale Center, Amarillo, Petersburg and Idalou.

Besides Gentry, other officers of the club are : Earl B. Hobbs, first vice president; L. A. Barnes, second vice president; Frank Worley, third vice president; P. B. Justice, secretary; Billy Fortenberry, treasurer; John H. Reagan, Lion tamer; Demp Webster, tail twister; and A. L. Faubion, Toby Waggoner, Archie Acker and S. W. Williams, directors.

Misses La Ruth Faubion and Peggy Thurman, club sweethearts, were introduced by Gov. Rutherford during the program.

Burglaries Probed

slight, it was indicated.

Jack Fletcher reported that an unidentified Mexican had stolen a lever-action .22 caliber rifle valued at $54.50 from Fletcher's place of business at 1203 Ave. G.

Diago Montaya, 18-year-old Mexican youth of 114 Ave. K, was fined $25 in corporation court after pleading guilty of theft under $5. A food store on Fourth street said Montaya had taken two pounds of pork chops, two T-bone steaks and a can of Vienna sausage from the place.

The sheriff's department announced the arrest of a 45-year-old Lubbock man approximately an hour after Sheriff Vertice Cannon of DeQueen, Ark., had telephoned to ask that the man be detained. A felony warrant has been issued in the case Cannon said.

Fines Are Levied

Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank and Dep. Sheriff Frank Mitchell said the prisoner waived extradition to Sevier county, Ark., in connection with the case. Arkansas officials had not said when they will arrive to accept custody.

In county court Annie Sanchez, 10, pleaded guilty of simple assault and was fined $5 and court costs; Billy G. Johnson and R. Butler, 23, each were fined $75 and costs and revocation of driver's license six months for drunk driving. Willie Jones, described as a Negro, was fined $5 and costs for check law violation.

Not Guilty Verdict Returned

Gene Lotspech, 29, pleaded innocent of a charge of driving while his operator's license was suspended, and bond of $300 was set.

The same defendant was charged with a felony offense—drunk driving, second offense—in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of the peace. Robertson set bond of $1,000 in binding the defendant over to investigation of a June 6 grand jury.

A county court jury returned a verdict of not guilty late Monday in the trial of Henry D. Williams on a charge of drunk driving. County Attorney Waggoner Carr and assistant County Attorney Dudley Brummett prosecuted for the state, and the defendant was represented by Byron Chappell.

Tornado Predictions

dencies was moving in from the Gulf of Mexico. Five tornadoes swept a section of Georgia as the squalls passed.

Air Becomes 'Unstable'

A condition of atmospheric instability is required for tornadoes, said Norton. A characteristic is pulsating barometric pressure.

"Almost invariably this is brought about by active movement of a warm body of air underneath a cooler, drier body of air.

"The warm air is lighter, and seeks to rise. The cool, dry air is heavier and seeks to ascend. Here and there the warm air will break through and shoot upward, causing sudden winds and rain. The barometer will fluctuate rapidly as these adjustments take place. Some break throughs will be more violent than others, a vacuum will be formed and the air rushing in to fill it will spin. A tornado sweeps a small area.

Warnings Not Practical

"This happens on a grand scale, covering hundreds of square miles. Thunderstorm activity is similar, but on a local scale."

Tornadoes also are companions of hurricanes. In these cases, the section visited by a tornado is usually already under hurricane warnings says Norton. But sometimes a "splinter storm" will lash a section outside the warned area.

Regular tornado warnings would not at this time be a worthy public service. Such warnings would cause apprehension for millions and would do no good for those whose homes or businesses might be struck by a tornado.

House Approves Bill Banning Caribbean Quarantine Station

WASHINGTON, May 2. (Special)—The House approved today a bill offered by Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock, to repeal an existing law, setting up a quarantine station in the Caribbean sea for cattle being imported from foot-and-mouth diseased countries.

Because Worley, chairman of the House Agriculture sub-committee on foot-and-mouth disease investigations, and other congressmen had raised so much objection, the Department of Agriculture had withheld use of the quarantine station at Swan Island, pending further action by Congress.

Worley said even a quarantine period for such cattle was insufficient and constituted a threat to the U.S cattle industry. He cited the fact that the cattle believed to have started the present outbreak of the disease in Mexico had undergone quarantine too.

RIOTS FLARE IN BOLIVIA

LA PAZ, Bolivia, May 2 (AP)—Bolivians, who once strung their president up to a lamp post, engaged in spasmodic gun battles again today and the government declared a state of seige. Official sources said at least five persons were killed and 50 wounded in shootings last night and again today after a parliamentary election

Livestock Group Raps Farm Plan

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The American National Livestock association today declared its opposition to the Truman administration's proposed new farm program. The association said it dislikes "government subsidies and controls.'

"We are opposed to over-all grants of authority that inevitably will tend more and more to regiment the entire industry. Aside from our belief that such subsidies and controls are fundamentally unsound, the very nature of our industry is such that it does not lend itself to operation under such controls."

Proposals Made

The administration has proposed that the government abandon present price supports on many crops. These supports aim to maintain farm prices by holding crop surpluses out of the markets. The government either buys the surplus or makes loans on surpluses stored and withheld from the market.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has suggested instead that these crops be permitted to sell at what the market will pay. The government then would make "production payments" directly to farmers to make up the difference between the average price in the market and the price the government considers to be a fair return to the farmers.

Objections Outlined

Smith outlined these objections:

1. Proposed limits to such support would exclude about 25 per cent of cattle production.

2. Livestock growers believe "the program would discourage the feeding of cattle, particularly in commercial feed lots which are a substantial factor in beef production."

3. If so, a reduction of acres planted to corn and other cattle feeds might be necessary.

4. It seems inevitable that such a progrom "would add tremendously to the already heavy tax burden."

5. Citing increased imports of meat, Smith said "instead of moving in the direction of production controls as this program does, it would seem more equitable to give the American producer a larger share of the American market and avoid any possibility of making production controls necessary."

ants to appear in the Federal court. Mrs. Davis took the stand to identify two cancelled checks showing the amount of rent she had paid for a furnished apartment at 2003 W. Twenty-seventh. She stated that they paid $50 per month for a period of approximately eight months before they were asked to vacate to permit use of the property by the landlord's family.

Roy B. Carnes, district manager of the office of rent control, took the stand to testify that the registration of the dwelling at 2003 W. Twenty-seventh called for a rental of $30 monthly. The registration was made in November, 1945. Carnes said that "no orders have been issued to authorize the rent increase."

An injunction was granted to prevent the Mooneys from charging more than the legal amount from present and future tenants.

At 9 a. m. today a class in naturalization will be held in the Federal court. No estimate was available as to the number who will attend this class. A suit brought by the Union Supply Co., against the Country Club of Levelland will also be heard.

Slight Damage Reported As Result Of Five Fires In City

City firemen answered five alarms Monday afternoon and early last night, but damage was light in all cases.

They were called shortly after noon to the State Highway department building on East Broadway, where a small blaze on the roof had been extinguished upon arrival of fire equipment.

At 4:20 p.m., a city truck caught fire at 1716 Ave. K, requiring one booster truck from the fire department to extinguish the blaze.

Sherrod Hardware store, at Thirteenth and Ave. J, caught fire on the roof about 7:35 p.m. when a neon sign shorted out. The fire was out within ten minutes after arrival of firemen.

A refrigerator motor caught fire at 7:40 p.m. at a residence at 4017 Fourteenth, but was out on arrival of firemen.

A cushion in a trailer house on East Thirty-fourth street caused the last alarm at 8:30 p.m. Residents extinguished the fire before arrival of fire trucks.

'Kick Off' Dinner Opens Fund Drive For New Levelland Hotel

LEVELLAND, May 2. (Special)—A "kick-off" dinner tonight in the Methodist church opened an intensive drive toward financing the new hotel here.

Attended by over 100 people, members of the New Hotel executive committee and the general sales organization, the dinner marked the opening of "New Hotel Week," May 2 to May 10.

Half the amount required to build the hotel has already been raised, Harry H. Mann, of the New Hotel organization, announced, and said that it is expected the remainder will be subscribed this week.

A large scoreboard has been erected on the Courthouse square to keep the public informed on progress made.

SNYDER DENIES REPORT

PORTLAND, Ore., May 2 (INS)—Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder declared tonight he will "never become president of the World Bank." Snyder was asked at a press conference in Portland to comment on a radio commentator's (Drew Pearson) forecast that he will take such a post.

Interview Balked

every one connected with it.

From the testimony and the record introduced during the trial it was apparent that young Richard McGee was not just an ordinary boy who had been denied a fair opportunity to make something of himself in life. With perhaps the single exception of the first three or four years of his life his environment had been average or better. He had been an excellent student, had participated in athletics and was possessed of good physical development.

Questions Prepared

Richard McGee had been a student at several colleges and universities in Texas and had been given grades that in most cases were above average. He showed more than average interest in and knowledge of the Bible and classical or semi-classical literature, according to testimony and records.

It was for these cultural sidelights that I paid a visit to McGee in the "escape-proof" Lubbock county jail.

I went armed with a list of about 20 questions which I wanted to ask him. These questions were mostly on his former hobbies, travels, sports and studies. Only one question had any bearing on the criminal case that was brought gainst him.

That question was formulated because he had been a student of government at North Texas State Teachers college and had received a grade of "B" in that course.

Questions Unanswered

The question was for his opinion on the processes of the court system in the United States.

This latter question was never asked. Neither were any of the other questions.

Lem Pounds took me up to the third floor of the jail. I waited while he unlocked one of the heavily barred doors.

"Richard," Pounds called through the door.

"Yes sir," came the well modulated reply. My first impression was that there was more than one prisoner with the name of Richard. I did not connect this voice with the youth whom I had been seeing for more than two weeks. Although I had been within a few feet of him during this time I had never head him speak a word.

Has Pleasant Smile

Once or twice during the scuffle between Richard and several guards, an uproar that exploded like a bombshell in the sedate court room a few days after the trial began, I heard some muffled and incoherent sounds. But these words, if they were words, were from a man engaged in a fight.

The voice I heard Monday was that of Richard McGee. He came to the cell block door and smiled as he said good morning to Pounds. The jailer told him who I was and what I wanted.

"Why yes," McGee said with a pleasant smile and an alert tone, "I'll be glad to talk with him."

"Of course, Richard, you don't have to answer any of the questions I have to ask if you don't care to," I advised him.

"I understand that," he replied in a very cultured voice that bespoke an intelligence beyond his 24 years. He reflected for a second and then said:

"Perhaps it would be better though if we got permission from my attorney, Mr. Burks, first," he said. "If it's all right with him then it will be all right with me."

Plans Are Balked

I told him that was wise on his part.

"If I tell you Burton Burks says it is all right you'll believe me, won't you?" Lem Pounds asked him.

"Sure I will, Lem," Richard said and I turned to go down in the elevator and seek Defense Attorney Burks.

I found Mr. Burks in county court. I told him what I wanted to do and the reason. I told him that I had prepared a list of questions from which I did not intend to deviate. I asked him if he would look them over and approve the interview.

Burks shook his head silently for a moment as he considered my request, then said:

"No. My feelings are too strong in this case to even discuss it." With that he turned to some matter at hand and I dropped the planned interview.

The few minutes I had talked with McGee, who awaits the outcome of a motion for new trial, had stimulated a real interest. Others who have seen and talked to him have felt the same way. Those who have read or censored his letters to the outside say that his letters are masterpieces. Cellmates have found him a good companion as they while away the long hours.

I wanted to talk for a few minutes with McGee. I still want to talk with him. However, I have to bow to the wishes of his attorneys.

Prison Manager Given Assistant

HUNTSVILLE, May 2. (AP)—The Texas Prison board today hired Richard Jones of Nashville, Tenn., to be right-hand man to General Manager O. B. Ellis.

The board created the title of Executive assistant to the general manager of the prison system for Jones. His job will be to relieve Ellis of detail. The prison system head will be free to oversee the prison improvement program.

Cell Block Authorized

The board authorized Ellis and any board members who want to go with him to make a flying inspection tour of the country's leading industrial prisons. The tour will include prisons at Jackson, Mich., and Joliet, Ill., and the Virginia Industrial prison.

Plans for an isolation cell block unit to house prisoners Ellis described as "unsalvageable material" were approved by the board.

Members said the cell block should help solve the problems of sex perversion, dope addiction and self mutilation.

Perversion is the prison system's number one problem, Dr. T. R. Havins of Brownwood, board secretary, said. Self mutilation and dope addiction are dropping off, he said.

Jones was education director of the Shelby county, Tenn., penal farm. Ellis left that institution to take over the Texas prison system.

Jones served at the penal farm nearly four years. During that time, he also was president and dean of Memphis State college.

To Get More Men

As Ellis' executive assistant, he will be paid $5,000 a year, plus housing and prison-produced food.

The board told Ellis he can hire two more additional general managers when he finds suitable men. They will be paid the same salaries as Jones.

Ellis' present assistant general manager, Mace Thompson, was raised from $4,200 to $5,000 a year.

Ellis said rain had forced replanting of about 2,700 of the prison's 3,500 acres of cotton. However, he said, if the weather is good the rest of the spring and summer, the cotton crop should yield about 10,000 bales, worth about a quarter of a million dollars.

and mosquitoes. It will dispose of innumerable potential tire punctures which also might result in injury to barefoot children.

Sound Truck To Aid Drive

The same schedule will be followed until the entire city and some of the adjoining suburbs have been covered by the trash pickup. The sound truck will cruise in each district one day ahead of the actual collection urging residents to get their trash together.

While trash is being collected in Southwest Lubbock Wednesday, the sound truck will be cruising in the area south of Thirty-fourth street to the city limits between Monroe and Avenue H. On Thursday, the Exchange club will arrange for the trash pickup in that area.

On Friday, collections will be made in two areas. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will be responsible for the district west of College avenue in Northwest Lubbock including the Arnett-Benson and adjacent additions. The Kiwanis club will handle the area bounded by Fourth and Nineteenth streets and Avenue Q and College avenue.

Other Districts Listed

On Monday, May 9, the American Business club will attend to the area between Avenues A and Q extending from Nineteenth street northward to the city limits. On May 10, the Optimist club will work the district bounded by Monroe, Avenue T, Nineteenth and Thirty-fourth streets. On May 11, the Kiwanis club will handle the area bounded by Avenues T and X and Nineteenth and Thirty-fourth.

Pickups are scheduled in two districts on May 12, the final day of the trash collection drive. The 20-30 club will work the district between Avenue Q and College avenue from Fourth street north to the city limits. The negroes will be in charge of the pickup in their own areas the same day.

The depreciation allowance is limited to 21 per cent of the gross income in the case of "small" structures and 16 per cent in the case of "large" ones.

Yearly Increases Limited

Associates of Woods said they are prepared to start granting increases under the formula to qualified landlords immediately.

Whenever a landlord files a petition for an increase, his tenants will be notified. They will be given an opportunity to protest.

16 Candidates Are Initiated By DeMolay

Sixteen candidates were initiated into E. Y. Lee chapter of the Order of DeMolay Monday night at ceremonies conducted in Masonic hall.

Candidates initiated included Clarence Reagan, Rodney Roper, David Smith, Joe Guy Smith, Lynn Turner, Howard Wayne Walker, Al Alschuler, Jack Burt, Tyler Curtis, Billy Edwards, Roy Furr, jr., Richard Hitt, Charles Holmquest, J. T. Jones, jr., Bobby Mitchell, and Marshall Pharr.

Degrees were conferred by Jimmy Kennedy, master councillor, who also made the "Flower Talk." Among visitors from the Masonic bodies who made brief talks were Dr. A. A. Holmquest, Leslie Roper, C. E. Mitchell, Dr. C. B. Batson, J. T. Jones, and W. R. Dean. C. B. Boydston, chairman of DeMolay advisory council and John Ross, chapter dad, also spoke briefly from the viewpoint of the Masonic sponsors.

Jim Jaquet, outstanding DeMolay leader from Clovis, N. M., who is at present a Texas Tech student and is active in the local chapter, discussed DeMolay customs and opportunities, especially as they pertain to new members.

An interesting feature of the Monday night ceremony was the initiation of two brothers, Joe Guy and David Preston Smith, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith, of 2304 Thirty-first.

The E. Y. Lee chapter recently has been commended by the Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay in Kansas City for its outstanding record of growth and member interest.

Ex-Convict Charged In Texan's Death

KINGMAN, Ariz., May 2. (AP)—An ex-convict from New Mexico was charged today with the April 7 slaying of motorist Glen Yarbrough here.

Sheriff Frank L. Porter of Mohave county said he had a complete confession from William Edward Thorn, alias Ivan Leroy Miles, 23, who gave his home as Hereford, Tex. County Attorney Carl D. Hammond was also present when the confession was made, the sheriff said.

Porter said Thorn had been released from the New Mexico prison last year after serving 50 months on a forgery charge.

The suspect had been held in jail since the day after two bullets were fired into Yarbrough. The Corcoran, Calif., carpenter and former combat infantryman had swerved his car into the Gypsy auto court here attempting to thwart a robbery. He was shot as he attempted to leave the car.

Yarbrough had been driving from his mother's home in Rule, Tex., to Corcoran.

Thorn was questioned at the time of his arrest.

"He told a fantastic story with lots of holes in it," the sheriff said.

The suspect was booked on a vagrancy charge and sentenced to 30 days. When the investigation of the shooting was completed he was questioned again, and confessed to the shooting, Sheriff Porter said.

War Games Dropped

that the West cannot be driven out of Berlin by any means short of war.

Military government officials were represented by the informant as being convinced that the Russian move to lift the blockade was motivated by two reasons.

The first was said to be a desire for a six-month's or a year's "breathing space" to permit Communist consolidation in Eastern Europe, especially to take care of the rebellious Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

The second motive was declared to be aimed at repairing Russia's lost prestige in Germany, which suffered as a result of the successful airlift.

Russians Said "Horrified"

The informant said the Russians are, "horrified" at the realization that their entire policy in Germany was a fiasco" and are virtually sick at the thought that the airlift is aiding America's terrifying development of airpower in the Soviet frontyard."

He said Russia's immediate goal is believed to be withdrawal of all occupation forces from Germany to permit the Communist organization in Eastern Germany "to lead a movement for a unified German government."

Packard Car Company Announces Price Cuts On Standard Models

DETROIT, May 2. (AP)—Price reductions ranging from $103 to $246 on volume models of its new line of cars were announced today by Packard Motor Car Co.

At the same time Packard disclosed its new "ultramatic no-shift transmission will be priced at $225. The new transmission is included as standard equipment on Packard's 160 horsepower customs models. Later it will be offered as optional equipment at extra cost on other models.

The $103 price cut is on Packard's eight club sedan; the $246 slash is on the super touring sedan. With the reductions the eight club sedan will be priced at $2,224 at the factory; the super touring sedan at $2,633.

Blockade Talks Are Scheduled

But both governments are anxious to have the decision on the timetable of the two events taken at a joint meeting of Malik, Jessup, Cadogan and Chauvel.

Jessup arrived by plane from Washington shortly before the New York meeting opened at 1 p. m. CST. Jessup came to New York after a lengthy conference with Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The latter then called on President Truman.

The western powers are expected to offer a plan for progressive day-by-day removal of blockade and counter-blockade measures in Berlin, making it clear that these steps are final and permanent.

It is believed that the council of foreign ministers to discuss all questions on Germany will draw attendance of the following top men:

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Dr. Philip C. Jessup.

Russia — Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Britain—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and possibly state minister Hector McNeil.

France—Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and probably former French U. N. delegate Alexander Parodi as chief adviser.

To clear decks for negotiation on the question of Germany, the U. S. urged the UN Assembly's general committee this forenoon to adjourn the General Assembly by May 14.

Soviet Delegate Malik opposed this date as too early and asked the general committee to set the adjournment deadline for May 18. The general committee by vote recommended the May 14 deadline to the assembly.

three Texas cities on its existing system — San Antonio, Lubbock and Amarillo.

After observing that air passengers between the Southeast and the West Coast, and South Texas and the West Coast must change airlines, Beard said that all other major sections of the nation are connected by two or more through-carrier air companies.

United Air Lines, Transcontinental and Western Airlines, and Chicago and Southern Air Lines are participating in the hearing as interveners.

Other Firms Apply

They contend that the proposed "one-plane" flights can be obtained by agreements among the various companies to interchange their equipment.

The hearing continues tomorrow with Braniff witnesses still testifying.

Delta's application is for one route from New Orleans to Los Angeles, via Houston and San Antonio, and another route directly from Fort Worth-Dallas to Los Angeles.

Continental proposes to fly from El Paso to San Francisco. Eastern would fly from San Antonio to San Francisco.

Texas Line Discussed

National proposes a route from New Orleans to San Francisco, via El Paso, Tucson, El Centro, San Diego, Los Angeles and Fresno. The New Orleans-El Paso leg would be split into two segments, one going via Galveston, Houston and San Antonio, the other via Baton Rouge, La., Fort Worth-Dallas, and Hobbs, N. M.

American's application is for service between San Francisco and Los Angeles, and a route from El Paso to New Orleans, via San Antonio and Houston.

Town To Conduct Referendum On Taft-Hartley, Other Issues

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 2.—A referendum on repeal of the controversial Taft-Hartley law, government compulsory health insurance and other important issues will be conducted May 3 in New Brunswick, New Jersey under the sponsorship of the New Brunswick Daily Home News and Sunday Times.

The project, an "Experiment in Democracy" in which the citizen voices his opinion on great issues, will cover every adult in New Brunswick, a city of approximately 35,000 residents, and near-by Highland Park.

Newspaper carrier boys will distribute ballots to every person 21 years of age or older in each home in the two communities. Ballots will be given to every adult, regardless of whether he subscribes to or reads the Daily Home News.

The American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll) is acting as consultant and will assist with the tabulating of the ballots when the referendum is completed.

The ballots distributed on Referendum Day will have all ten issues printed on them and will require only a yes or no answer.

The five national issues are:

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

Passage of government compulsory health insurance.

Ratification of the North Atlantic security pact.

Passage of federal aid to education.

Adoption of the Hoover commission reports.

Other questions on the referendum day ballot will cover a New Jersey veteran's bonus, state-financed housing, location of a bus terminal in New Brunswick, a street-highway project, and municipal financing of parking facilities.

Educational Program

Each day up to May 3, The Daily Home News is publishing the pros and cons of one of ten important issues with an impartial factual analysis of each national and state issue being written by the Associated Press. The pros and cons of the five national, three state and two local issues—selected by a local committee of civic leaders—are being written by leading figures familiar with each issue.

The series of newspaper debates started on the issue of the North Atlantic security pact. Senator H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey wrote in support of the pact while Henry A. Wallace wrote against the alliance.

On the night preceding referendum day, a town meeting is scheduled at which two issues—one national and one local—will be discussed by leading proponents of each.

New Brunswick is a typical northern industrial community and the home of Rutgers university. In last year's presidential election, the city voted approximately 60% in favor of President Truman. Highland Park, the adjoining community participating in the referendum day experiment, is largely a residential area and gave Mr. Dewey almost the same majority that New Brunswick gave Mr. Truman.

'American Mother' Arrives In New York For Week Of Honors

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—The "American Mother of 1949" Mrs. Earle A. Gillis of Fort Worth, arrived here today for a week of honors which will be climaxed next Sunday by a big Mother's Day observance on Central park's mall.

Mrs. Gillis, mother of six, was dressed in a grey gabardine suit, dark blue straw hat with a pink flower, and white blouse and gloves. She had a kind word for young mothers of today.

Grandchildren Meet Plane

Their job, she said, is much tougher than it was in her generation.

"Modern life is faster and there are more pitfalls," she said.

Mrs. Gillis was met at the airport by two enthusiastic grandchildren, Don Gillis, jr., 9, and Carol Ann Gillis, 4, whose father is production director of the National Broadcasting company.

Also on hand at the airport were members of the American Mothers' committee of the Golden Rule foundation, which chose Mrs. Gillis as the 1949 mother of the year.

Reception Planned

During her stay in New York, Mrs. Gillis will take part in special meetings with state mothers and others interested in setting up social service court units within the domestic relations and family courts of the country.

Mrs. Gillis will participate in several national radio programs and a reception in her honor will be held Wednesday evening at the Ambassador hotel.

Carpenter Charged In Fatal Shooting Of Houston Youth

HOUSTON, May 2. (AP)—A 62-year-old carpenter was charged with murder today in the death of Raymond Clifford Bramlett, 22, found fatally shot last night near a church.

M. L. Tate stoutly denied he had shot anybody, although it was Tate's son, Preston, who ran into the Assembly of God church on Humble Road and broke up the sermon by announcing, "there's been a shooting."

Young Tate could give only a hazy version of what happened, and told police he had tried all day to talk Bramlett out of hunting for his father.

Tate was arrested at his home around midnight.

Houston Independent Oil Man Dies Of Heart Attack

HOUSTON, May 2. (AP)—J. B. Huff, jr., 56, Houston independent oil operator, died of a heart attack at 10:15 a.m. today at his home here.

Huff had resided here 22 years and during most of that period had engaged in the oil business as an independent. Prior to that he was assistant secretary-treasurer of the United Gas company.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Helen Finn Huff of Houston; three brothers, W. A. Huff of Tyler and Warren and Harrell Huff of San Angelo; two sisters, Mrs. Ernest Cooper and Mrs. E. E. Morgan, both of San Angelo.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Good Business Future Predicted For Texas

HOUSTON, May 2. (AP)—Texas should be immune to any possible business recession, one of the nation's leading insurance executives said here today.

Charles Fleetwood, vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, said Texas oil and gas should put the state in a favorable position if any such depression grips the country.

"Texas has too much that the world needs to be affected by any economic storms that may be lurking," he observed.

Tours Texas Cities

Fleetwood was here on a tour of principal Texas cities and the vast industrial section along the Gulf Coast.

Better business in general, he stated, could come from a slackening of the so-called "boom prosperity."

"The return of competition in business is a healthy sign," Fleetwood said. "We must remember that the United States has made its greatest progress under vigorous business competition."

The housing program, he added, seemed nearly solved, "and in some cities a surplus already exists." He theorized that too much home construction brings higher prices to the buyer because intense competition for labor and materials results in raised building costs.

Prudential has some $120,000,000 invested in Texas, Fleetwood pointed out, including $23,000,000 available to Houston industrial and residential builders.

'Anti-Allergy' Drug Found Effective In Treating Colds

CHICAGO, May 2. (AP)—An industrial physician reported today that an anti-allergy drug has been found effective in controlling common cold symptoms.

Dr. Halstead G. Murray, writing in the May issue of Industrial Medicine, said that 75 per cent of 494 persons treated during early stages of colds reported they were cured or had their symptoms alleviated by the treatment."

The drug, pyribenzamine hydrochloride, was administered in 50 milligram tablets at four-hour intervals at the onset of a cold.

Pyribenzamine hydrochloride is used extensively in treatment of hay fever. It is classed as an antihistamine because it neutralizes histamine, an irritant substance released by the body in allergic reactions.

Wayland College Plans Open House As Building Completed

PLAINVIEW, May 2. (Special)—Visitors and students of Wayland college here Tuesday will inspect the new science building and the newly renovated administration building basement on the Wayland campus.

The basement will house equipment and facilities for the journalism department, the college news service, Wayland World Press, the photography department, practice rooms, a student recreation center, and Little Theater.

The newly-constructed science building is a former wooden barracks which has been veneered with cream brick. Interior modernization and renovation was done under the supervision of J. L. Harden, college business manager. It now is valued at over $65,000 but cost only about half that much.

In the new building are classrooms for the physics and biology departments.

The public has been invited to attend the open house.

Airways Officials Learn Worker Is Claimant To Field's Estate

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—Braniff International airways officials expressed surprise today when told that one of their employes, William R. F. Morris, said in Hollywood that he is the illegitimate son of the late W. C. Fields, film comedian.

Morris, well known in Dallas' business world, went to Hollywood last week to file suit for a share of the late actor's $771,428 estate.

Friends said his middle names are "Rexford Fields."

Braniff reported Morris went to work for the airline in 1945 after his discharge as a sergeant with the 36th Infantry division. He was hired as a transportation agent and is now one of 12 agents-in-charge in Dallas, working at the airport terminal.

Active in work of the junior chamber of commerce, he served as a member of the group's board of directors for two years. Fellow-Jaycees described him as "one of our hardest workers."

Morris came to Dallas from Waxahachie. He is 32 years old and married.

REDS SHOW NEW JET PLANES

Russia Displays Its Military Might In Great May Day Parade

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, May 2—Jet planes wrote a May Day message of mushrooming Soviet air might over Moscow's skies.

A father—Prime Minister Stalin—squinted into the bright afternoon sun as his son, Maj. Gen. Vasily Stalin led the traditional Communist demonstration.

Behind the theatrical magnificence of May Day, foreign observers saw a solid military reality: A strong jet propelled Soviet air arm.

"It is very interesting to see the great development of the Soviet air force since 1946," was the cryptic comment of Lt. Col. S. Wennerstrom, Sweden's air attache.

Stalin Appears Fit

America's air attache, Brig. Gen. Russell E. Randall, added: "The parade showed evidence of continued technical progress of the Soviet Air force."

(There have been repeated unconfirmed reports in the past that numerous German jet plane experts were taken to Russia from the Soviet zone of Germany after Nazi Germany's capitulation.)

Massed artillery, trademark of Soviet strategy during the last war, roared in an ear-shattering command for the parade to begin.

Military Might Shown

Then Russia's May Day message to the world began:

The scream of jet planes in the sky.

The measured tred of infantrymen.

The precision of drilled guards divisions.

The band broke into martial music as more Soviet armed might paraded for the Russian crowd—and for the observant eyes of western diplomats. There were marines, sailors, air force ground troops, paratroopers, military school cadets; there were long-gunned tanks, self-propelled guns, and old-fashioned cavalry.

There was a music more familiar than that measured out by Soviet miliary bands: The familiar vocal theme of attacks against the United States.

"American reactionaries are preparing a new war," shouted Marshal Alexander Vasilevsky, the Soviet's new minister of the armed forces.

He accused America of "openly passing to an aggressive political course."

A familiar scapegoat—the Atlantic pact—was cited as an indication of America's intentions.

But it was toward the sky that foreign eyes turned. Stalin's favorite son led a demonstration which won sharp attention from foreign attaches who, during the second world war, had become accustomed to a Soviet concept of air power quite foreign to America's and the west's, the Russian's depending on their Yak fighter-bombers, had admittedly concentrated on planes which could furnish close support to the sprawling masses of Russian infantry.

Today there was something different from the sturdy but outdated wartime Yaks and other old-time close support aircraft.

"The accent was on jets," said Canadian air attache Capt. Lawson H. Randall, who admitted the parade was impressive.

"There are new weapons as well as new jets," said Capt. Henrick Madsen, Danish air attache.

(Details of Russia's new weapons—in the air and on the ground—were not contained in Moscow dispatches. One take of Gilmore's story was not received in New York. There was no indication whether it contained a hint of Russia's rocket might.)

Funds Okayed For Soil Program

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 2.—With very little discussion the House today passed a loyalty bill for all state employes.

Most of the talk had gone to finances earlier when economy forces took a million dollar beating on a soil conservation bill.

The loyalty measure, by Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antiono, would require all state employes, including teachers, to sign an affidavit saying they had not been a member of any subversive organization for the past two years. It was passed 127-0 and sent to the Senate.

Conservation Plan Okayed

The House finally passed and sent the Senate a bill appropriating $2,500,000 annually for soil conservation over a protest that it was too much.

Rep. Jim Norton of Nacogdoches said the Appropriations committee would not oppose $20 million for soil conservation if the state had it to spend. He is a member of the committee.

The Appropriations committee had cut the $5 million annual figure originally proposed for soil conservation to $1,500,000. Rep. Lamar Zively of Temple urged the $2,500,000 figure as a compromise and his amendment was adopted 102 to 25. The bill was finally passed 128 to 1.

Proponents of the bill argued that Texas must take immediate steps to halt the washing away of its topsoil.

It won't do any good to pass bills to educate our children if we can't feed them," Zively said.

To Push School Plans

Zively was referring to the Gilmer-Aikin school bills finally approved last week by the House and returned with amendments to the Senate. Senator Jim Taylor of Kerens, Senate leader of the Gilmer-Aikin forces, said he would push them for final approval tomorrow. The Senate adopted a House-passed resolution calling for a firmer policy against Russia and spent most of its morning session arguing whether to force county commissioners courts to raise salaries of sheriffs and deputies.

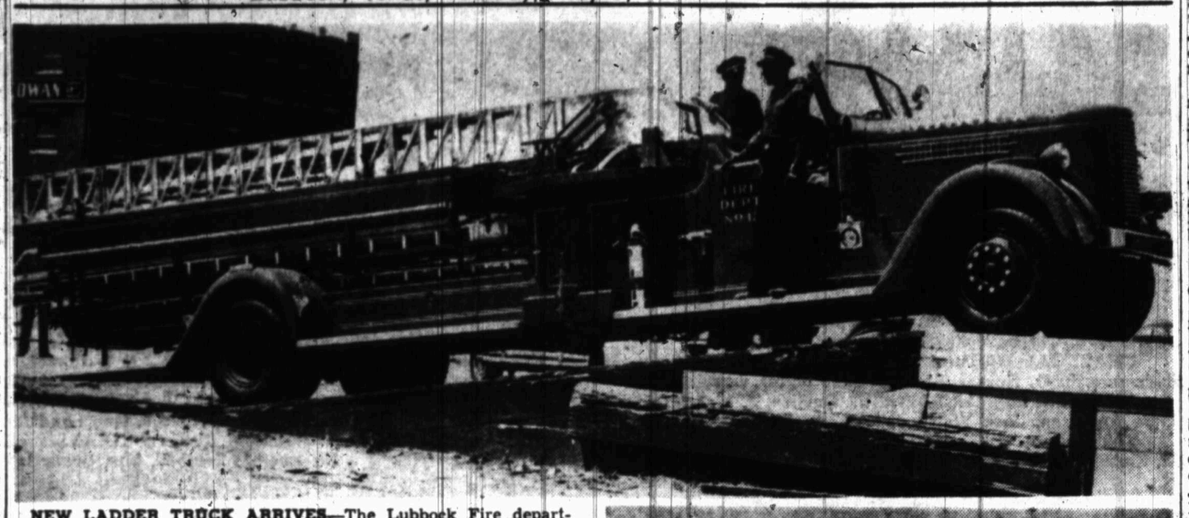

Both House and Senate ordered afternoon sessions.

There were other developments on finance in the House.

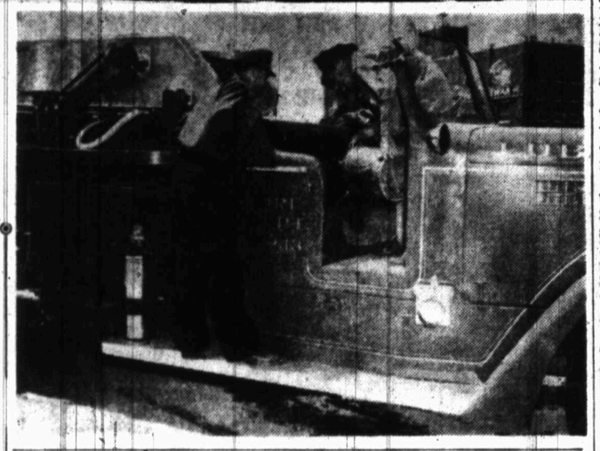

Rep. Jim Sparks of Sherman introduced a resolution in the House urging the Appropriations committee and the Senate Finance committee to keep money bills within available income. The resolution went to the committee on state affairs.

Taylor said no action would be taken in the Senate Finance committee on numerous appropriation bills until the major money meas-

LIEUT. BRADFORD ON LEAVE HERE

Veteran Air Force Officer Says Berlin Airlift Has Been Success

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Staff Writer

An Air force officer who has witnessed the Berlin airlift from its beginning says that in his opinion the massive transport operation into the German capital has been a success.

First Lieut. Leo G. Bradford, who arrived in Lubbock last week to begin a 45-day leave after three years' service in Germany, said Monday that he thought the airlift had proved to the German people that Anglo-American officials are earnestly trying to rebuild the German nation on a Democratic basis.

"And," he added, "I think the Germans are beginning to understand that."

Gets Valuable Experience

Aside from its psychological implications, Lt. Bradford said he thought the airlift had been of great value to the United States in that "it has given our Air Force an opportunity to gain experience that it might never have had otherwise."

Lieut. Bradford, who took about six weeks off from his regular position of assistant adjutant general of the 7200 Air Force Depot wing to fly planes in the airlift, had nothing but praise for the men who have made the operation a success.

"And I'll have to admit," he said, "that it has succeeded far better than I thought it would when it began."

The early days of the lift, Lieut. Bradford explained, were dark ones for U. S. airmen involved. Pilots were on a "12 hours on, 12 hours off" basis for lengthy periods; there was a shortage of both pilots and planes; living conditions often were unpleasant; and bad weather made flying extremely hazardous.

LIEUT. BRADFORD

Picture Has Brightened

Now, he said, the picture has brightened considerably. The original schedule of one plane into Berlin every three minutes, day and night, still is in effect, but facilities have been expanded greatly. The old C-47 planes have been replaced entirely by larger C-54's, and new airports have been put into operation in the

NEW SCURRY WELL PLANNED

Location Made In Cochran County For Projected 5,000-Foot Wildcat

Location has been made for a 5,000-foot wildcat three miles north of the Levelland field of southeast Cochran County by H. L. Cain of Midland as his No. 1 Saint Clair.

The drillsite is 440 feet from south and 823.8 feet from east lines of labor 14, league 130, Carson CSL survey. Elevation is 3,813 feet.

Nearest producer is one and one-half miles to the east at E. Constantin No. 1 St. Clair, small pumping discovery from the Permian.

Drilling will be with combination rotary-cable tools, starting immediately.

New Exploration

Standard Oil Company of Tex. as is beginning by May 4 on another exploration in the North Snyder field of north-central Scurry county, 10 miles north of Snyder.

It will be the concern's No. 3-6 Mrs. Jessie Brown, staked 1,980 feet from east and 467 feet from south lines of section 440, block 97, H & TC survey.

With rotary tools it is scheduled to make 7,000 feet of hole to test into the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian.

Pacific Western Oil corporation was preparing to plug back its No. 1-B Brown, southwest Lamb County, for testing in an upper formation as yet unidentified.

The venture drilled to a total depth of 8,135 feet in lime and encountered no oil or gas possibili-

Edinburg Youth, 19, Dies Of Poliomyelitis

EDINBURG, May 2. (AP)—A 19-year-old lower Rio Grande valley boy died today of polio.

The lad, Thomas R. Black, jr., was admitted to the Edinburg polio center yesterday and died at 1:30 p.m., victim of the bulbar type poliomyelitis. He was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Black, sr., of Brownsville.

His death leaves 50 patients in the Edinburg infantile paralysis center.

Cotton Planting In Lubbock Area To Be Completed Soon

Most cotton planting will be completed sometime between now and May 15, according to a report issued by D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent.

The recent showers have cause some delay in planting in some areas, Sherrill said. While they have been helpful in boosting the moisture content of the soil they have also contributed to factors lowering the soil temperature. The soil, he said, is still cold for planting.

The report states that wheat in this county is "very succulent and green." While some of this grain is for cash crop much of it will be used for grazing and cover crop or feed. There is very little corn this year, Sherrill says, and adds that so far there is no grain sorghum planting.

The condition of livestock is good and the pastures have been helped materially by the rains. Other crops, such as garden vegetables and truck, are progressing satisfactorily, the report concludes.

Jaycees Name Group For Race

Harold Chapman and Barney Stagner Monday were named by the nominating committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce as candidates for president in this month's annual election.

Roy Forkner, chairman of the nominating committee, read the group's report at Monday's Jaycee luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Two nominees for each position were named. Additional nominations, Forkner said may be made at the next two regular Jaycee luncheons. Election of officers will be May 16.

Others Listed

Other nominees listed by the committee included:

First vice-president—Joe Baldridge and Clifton Haynie.

Secretary—Rufus Rush and Pat Wiman.

Treasurer—Preston Baumgardner and Harry Frank Woody.

Fifteen board of director members also are to be elected this month. For these positions the committee recommended Waggoner Carr, N A. Cox, Arles Graham, Jimmy Gunn, Arvol Hays, J. C. Hughes, Linley Millsap, Jimmy Morris, C. A. Rodgers, Orville Stewart, Bill Tinney, Allen Todd, Asher Thompson, R S. Wilkinson and Jimmie Williamson.

A color movie of the 1947 Cotton Bowl football game, in which the University of Texas scored a 40-27 victory over Missouri, was featured on the luncheon program.

Barney Stagner reported that the club netted approximately $800 profit from the Bill Henderson-Jean Mougin fight last week. Each of the main-event fighters was paid $1,000, Stagner said. Stagner commended all Jaycees who helped make the fight program a success.

Frank Revier, in charge of Jaycees who operated concessions at Sunday's motorcycle races at Buffalo Lakes, reported the club made a net profit of $69 from that venture.

Jimmie Williamson briefly outlined plans for the club's part in the current Lubbock Cleanup, Paintup, Fixup campaign. The Jaycees will help with work in the Arnett-Benson addition, he said.

Red 'Peace Move' Attributed To Total Failure Of Berlin Blockade

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Government foreign affairs experts expressed the belief today that Russia wants to call off the Berlin blockade merely because it is a failure and not because of any desire to promote peace.

They said the success of the air lift and the West's counter-blockade has convinced the Soviets that their own blockade is costing them more than it is worth.

These experts, whose job is to analyze Moscow's confusing diplomatic strategy, warned that the lifting of the blockade "would not mean that the Kremlin wants peace."

"The Russians are realists," said one official. "They will discard any plan that is not successful. But in the act of discarding it, they will attempt to gain political advantage."

He pointed out that Russian propaganda, beamed to Germany, now is stressing that the Soviet Union is willing to end the blockade to prevent a war which "aggressive western circles" are plotting.

This week may show whether Russia and the western powers can get together on a formula for ending the blockade. U. S. Ambassador-At-Large Philip C. Jessup and Soviet envoy Jacob Malik are expected to resume their discussions.

However, there was some question in diplomatic circles as to just how much further the two could go by themselves.

The logical next step, most officials agreed, would be a meeting of representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Russia to lay out a timetable for lifting the blockade and to fix a definite date for four-power talks on German questions.

Department analysis indicates the "peace" move in Berlin is closely linked with the recent shakeup of the Soviet government, in which V. M. Molotov and other Politburo members were relieved of administrative posts.

Credence is given here to reports that Molotov and the others involved have been promoted to a sort of Soviet super-planning staff devoted to conducting the struggle against capitalism on a worldwide basis.

Berlin area, relieving traffic congestion there.

"When I left Germany several weeks ago," Lieut Bradford said, "the average pilot was on duty 12 hours, then off 24. And about every 10 days he received a three-day 'break.'

Asked if Russian fliers had interfered directly in airlift operations, he said that because of Air Force security regulations he preferred to withhold comment.

Got Wings at LAAF

A veteran of more than nine years' service in the Air Force, Lieut. Bradford received his pilot's wings at Lubbock Army Air field in September of 1942. He later served at a number of air fields in this country before going to Germany three years ago.

A high point of his return last week to Lubbock was his first sight of his nine-month-old twin sons, David Galen and Don Michael. The boys were born in Lubbock after Mrs. Bradford's return from Germany last year, and because of the airlift Lieut. Bradford had been unable to leave Europe until recently.

Mrs. Bradford, the former Arline Younger, lives with her mother, Mrs. Viola Younger, at 1513 Eighteenth. The Bradfords also have one daughter, Delinda Ann, 3.

At the conclusion of his current 45-day leave, Lieut. Bradford will be assigned to Carswell field, near Fort Worth.

FOUR JURORS NAMED

RUSK, May 2. (AP)—Four jurors were chosen today for the second murder trial of Willie Chapman of Athens. He is accused of the murder of J. D. Robertson Aug. 17, 1947 while Chapman was deputy sheriff in Henderson county. Chapman was tried here in 1948 but the case ended in a hung jury. Judge H. T. Brown called 160 veniremen. Questioning indicated a plea of self defense.

ties on that bottom. Electric log surveys were run.

There have been no reports of promising shows at this exploration. Observers believe surveys detected prospects up the hole which would warrant testing.

Location is 440 feet from north and east lines of labor 15, league 213, Deaf Smith CSL survey, about eight and one-half miles southwest of Sudan.

After developing water in a deep lime formation thought to be Ellenburger, Lone Star Producing company has reduced hole at its No. 1 Maule, northwest Scurry county wildcat, and made a test which also resulted in water.

Bottomed on 8,297 feet in lime, the project spotted a 30-sack cement plug at 7,300-7,130 feet and drillstem tested with packer at 6,742 feet.

The tool was open one hour and 15 minutes. Recovery was 220 feet of drilling mud with the bottom 90 feet heavily cut with salt water.

Next procedure of the operator has not been reported. The wildcat probably will be plugged and abandoned.

It is three miles east of the town of Dermott and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 451, block 97, H & TC survey.

C. H. Murphy & Son were preparing to plug and abandon No. 1. E. T. O'Daniel, wildcat failure in the San Andres-Permian of central Gaines county, two miles southeast of Seminole and 660 feet from east, 1980 feet from south lines of section 16, block C-44, psl survey.

Total depth is 5,450 feet. Extensive tests have been made of the San Andres through various sets of perforations, along with acid treatments. The well made mostly water with no appreciable amounts of oil.

More hole was being made at Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 Doss, deep wildcat in southeast Gaines county, 10 miles south of the Cedar Lake field, and 4, 620 feet from east, 7,340 feet from south lines of league 292, Lynn CSL survey.

It was under 12,606 feet in lime.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company was drilling ahead with its No. 15 American Warehouse, venturing deep in the Cedar Lake area of northeast Gaines county.

Passes 12,000 Mark

This prospector, 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D & W survey, was past 12,836 feet, drilling lime.

Pacific Western Oil corporation No. 1 Oil Development, wildcat between the Seminole and Russel fields of northeast Gaines county, was under 11,275 feet, penetrating lime.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Three outposts to the Flanagan field in south-central Gaines county were making more hole at last report.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Flannagan, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey, was drilling below 9,394 feet in lime and chert.

George P. Livermore No. 1 Head 631 feet from north and 610 feet from west lines of section 12, block A-23, psl survey, was below 9,488 feet, drilling in lime.

Shell Oil company No. 1 Andrews, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block A-23, psl survey, was making hole below 3,916 feet in anhydrite.

Operations Continue

Sinclair Prairie Oil and company was drilling ahead with two deep wildcats on the south edge of the South Plains.

In northwest Borden county, 11 miles northwest of Gail, the concern's No. 1 Sterling Williams was below 8,128 feet, penetrating lime and shale.

It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey.

Skelton, Top Demos To Meet At Laredo

LAREDO, May 2. (U.P.)—Byron Skelton, Temple attorney, will meet with state party leaders at Laredo May 16 in an attempt to solidify party organization in South Texas.

District Attorney E. James Kazen made the announcement today. He said Skelton, who is favored for the committeeman job expected to be vacated if Houston's Wright Morrow takes a diplomatic post, accepted an invitation sent him by Kazen and County Judge M. J. Raymond.

Kazen said the informal meeting will also enable South Texas Democrats to become better acquainted with party members from other sections of the state. He is a member of the advisory committee of the Loyal Democrats of Texas.

ures—those necessary to running the state during the next two years—are worked out. The single-shot list includes a soil conservation appropriation bill similar to the one approved by the House.

The Senate ruled against making proposed pay raises for sheriff's deputies mandatory on counties.

Instead, it amended such a bill by Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville to permit counties to raise salaries of all their deputies, clerks or other employes up to 35 per cent if they want to and have the money to do it. The amended version was passed, 28-0, and sent to the House.

The Senate also passed a tax reduction bill. An amendment to the unemployment compensation act, the bill would reduce the present tax of five-tenths of one per cent on payrolls by one-tenth of one per cent for every $5,000,000 surplus accruing in the tax fund over the $200,000,000 level. When the tax is reduced to one-tenth of one per cent, reductions will cease. The bill would also raise weekly unemployment benefit checks from $18 to $20, and extend the benefit period an additional six weeks beyond the present 18 weeks. The bill goes back to the House for approval of Senate amendments.

Effect of the tax-reducing feature of the bill would be an immediate drop of one-tenth of one per cent since the tax fund now totals $205,000,000.

The House approved a measure raising the expense accounts for district attorneys and district judges from the present $100 per county per year to $200. Author of the bill is Rep. Wayne Wagonseller of Fruitland.

It also passed on second reading, 60-45, a bill by Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston setting up a six-man board for licensing naturopaths. Backers failed to garner enough votes for suspending the rules for final passage today. The bill was amended to prohibit naturopaths from practicing obstetrics or issuing death certificates.

Rep. Bob Casey of Houston asked the House to table one of his bills after it had been amended, he said, so that it meant nothing. Casey said his original bill would have given "a better deal" for death claimants under the workmen's compensation act. The House voted 80-7 to table the amended bill.

HEADACHES
Relieved Quickly With Fast-acting
"BC" Powders or Tablets

• When you use "BC" for the relief of simple headaches, neuralgic pains or minor muscular aches you get the full relief-giving effectiveness of not just one, but several of the world's most popular pain-relieving ingredients. In combination these ingredients are remarkably effective—far more so than either would be alone. This is something worth remembering when a headache strikes and you want relief, and want it in a hurry.

Nowadays when you buy "BC" you may have it in either tablet or powder form. In both you get the same famous "BC" formula—the same fast relief. You also get a preparation that has stood the test of time—one you can use with complete confidence. Buy "BC" today and use as directed. You'll agree that nothing is more comforting or relieves faster. Two "BC" Tablets equal one "BC" Powder. 10c & 25c sizes.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

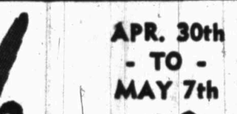

Here is what Mrs. Le J. Bryant, P. O. Box 56, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us:

"I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 269 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 213.

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 150 pounds."

Regular Lubrication...

and a "tightening up" will save you

For utmost motoring pleasure and money-saving car performance, drive in now for a complete car lubrication. Remember—when Dodge-Plymouth lubrication specialists do the job, you know that it's done right.

... and let's give the UNDERBODY a thorough going-over!

We'll examine spring shackles, U-bolts, shock absorbers, body and fender bolts, and all the other parts that might need tightening or replacement. Attention now can prevent repairs later.

ISRAELI'S ENTRY INTO ORGANIZATION ASSURED

United Nations General Assembly Sets May 14 As 'Target Date' For Adjournment Of Session

By GABRIEL DE SABATINO
INS Staff Correspondent

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., May 2.—The United Nations General Assembly tonight set May 14 as a "target date" for adjournment of the current third assembly session.

The 58-nation assembly at the same time assured Israel's entry into the UN at the present sitting by transferring consideration of its application from the over-burdened political committee to the auxiliary ad hoc group.

Soviet Demand Rejected

The Indonesian question also was re-allocated to the ad hoc group in an over-all attempt to allow adjournment in time for the impending Big Four foreign ministers' council on Germany. The issue of the treatment of Indians in South Africa was withdrawn from ad hoc consideration.

Another item referred to ad hoc was the creation of a sub-commission to the UN economic and social council's commission for the study of aboriginal problems in North and South America.

In setting the deadline for May 14, the General Assembly rejected a demand to extend the date to May 18 on the ground that further time was needed to complete the assembly's work.

Soviet delegate Jacob Malik, supported by Poland, argued vainly that the May 14 date, as proposed by Australia, was "unrealistic" and aimed at forestalling action on the assembly's agenda, which includes the question of Franco Spain and Indonesia.

Large Crowd Attends Parents Day At Tech

Nearly 400 persons attended the Parents Day and recognition services held at Texas Tech Sunday.

Ted Forsythe, chairman of Parents day, said visitors first attended a recognition service in the recreation hall where student personalities were introduced. This was the first time this service had been carried out, but Forsythe said its success indicated it would be a permanent part of Parents day.

Dr. Wiggins Speaks

From there crowds moved toward the Tech gym to hear Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Tech's president, speak. On the way they watched a parade of the R.O.T.C. unit at the college. The cadets staged a parade for the visitors.

Students with high scholastic honors were recognized in the services which were held in the gym. Dr. Wiggins told visitors Tech was proud to present her outstanding scholars for public recognition.

Dr. Wiggins went on to say Texas Tech had a brilliant future and by producing honor students such as the ones being introduced it could only add to its good name.

Each of the students was introduced to the audience. A total of 89 students in the Rec hall and gymnasium were introduced.

Tech Faculty Members Will Attend Meeting At Alpine

Dr. Forrest Wallace, associate dean of arts and science at Texas Tech, will present a paper entitled, "Commanches on The White Man's Road," before a meeting of the Texas Archaeological and Palaeonthological Society in Alpine today.

The meeting which is being held at the same time as the Southwestern division of the American Association of Advancement of Science convention in Alpine will also be attended by several other Tech faculty members.

Dr. Leroy Patton, professor of geology, will present a paper before the latter group. R. W. Strandman, professor of biology, will also read a paper before the Science convention. Strandman will tell of advancement on biological science.

Other faculty members attending the convention include Prof. Emmett Hazelwood head of the math department, and Prof. E. Richard Heineman also of the math department.

New Trial Denied In Lamesa Assault Case

LAMESA, May 2. (Special)—Motion for a new trial for R. D. Taylor, Dawson county farmer convicted of aggravated assault by a jury here March 17, in connection with an attack upon Ray Culp, Lamesa High school principal, has been overruled by County Judge R. W. Herndon.

George Thomas, Big Spring attorney who defended Taylor when he was fined $1,000, announced that the case would be appealed.

Second Case Reset

Taylor allegedly administered a beating to Culp at the latter's home here the night of Feb. 18 after the principal had disciplined Taylor's son, Denver, 15, with a small rubber hose.

A companion case against Jack Aldredge, Taylor's brother-in-law, who allegedly accompanied Taylor to Culp's house, has been reset for trial May 17. The trial date was at first set for this week but was reset at the request of defense attorney Thomas.

U.S. Officials Fear Red Peace Moves To Lull Americans

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Reports from Washington indicate that the possibility of lifting the Berlin blockade has aroused a certain amount of "peace fear" among American officials.

That is, they are wondering whether, if Moscow is really pulling in its horns for a while, the people and Congress will continue to support the "containment" program.

Program Has Grown

John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic correspondent, points out that current American foreign policy has been produced by, and received general support because of, a series of "made in Moscow" emergencies.

Without these continued provocations, would the country be willing to continue the expenditure of large sums for European rearmament and completion of the Marshall plan?

Since the "Truman doctrine" of containing Communism was announced in March, 1947, it has grown from a small program of military and economic aid to Greece and Turkey until it now embraces economic support for 18 nations and projected military support for 15.

Although other principles have been involved, and economic aid in some form would have been a postwar necessity even under peaceful conditions, fear of Russia has been the prime motive power behind this program.

No Truce Is Seen

Can Russia, then, acting to reduce this fear, substantially stall the program?

There is no categorical answer. A period of "truce" or a seeming peace in the cold war undoubtedly would make it more difficult to stir up support. This might produce a "keep awake" campaign. Indeed, it would seem that, as long as Moscow adheres to the dynamic tenets of Lenin-Stalinism, such a campaign would be essential. Otherwise the western powers might sleep themselves into ultimate submission.

Yet, by constantly harping on the dangers of Communist expansionism during a period of seeming peace, the present unfriendly atmosphere would be continued and the possibilities of real peace might be overlooked or delayed.

Looking at it from one standpoint, it's a wonder why Russia has not faced the West with this dilemma before now. But looking at it from the necessities of Russia's own position, any "peace fear" now seems premature and truce unlikely.

House Okays Bill Transferring Ownership Of Brownsville Fort

WASHINGTON, May 2 (U.P.)—The House today passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing the War Assets administration to transfer part of Fort Brown at Brownsville, to the U. S. section of the International Boundary and Water commission.

The commission is to make the land and some of the buildings available to the city of Brownsville.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing War Assets to transfer to the city of Marfa, about 2½ acres of land which the city had deeded to the federal government in 1938. The government used the property for a cavalry post that has been discontinued.

Youth Posts Bond In Fatal Slaton Shooting

Juan Ysasaga, 21, of Lubbock route 6, posted $2,000 bond Monday on a charge that he murdered with malice 27-year-old Benito Perales, jr., Saturday night outside a dance at Slaton.

Bartolo Esparza, 19, of Slaton, was charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the case. Both Ysasaga and Esparza fired several shots—in different directions—it was alleged.

The defendant and other witnesses said four Lubbock Mexicans including Ysasaga went to a dance that night at Slaton and that several Slaton Mexicans including Esparza told them to clear out. They were about to comply—had got in Ysasaga's car to return here—when a shower of rocks and one shot struck the car, officials were told.

Ysasaga said in a statement to E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, that he stepped out of his car and fired several times in general direction of those he said were shooting at him "to back them out." Perales was struck once, fatally.

The defendant was taken late Monday morning to the sheriff's office by his employer, A. A. O'Briant. He gave officials a statement before formally being placed under arrest.

Argentine Government Prepares To Take Over Public Utilities

BUENOS AIRES, May 2 (U.P.)—The Argentine government put into motion today machinery for taking over all public utilities in the country.

President Juan D. Peron heralded the move in a three hour, 15,700-word "state of the union" message yesterday at the opening session of Congress, from which opposition deputies absented themselves.

Peron said the utilities would be taken over by the government through "amicable agreement if possible," and by expropriation "when their owners refuse to accept reasonable solutions."

The utilities include transportation, power facilities, telephones, telegraph services, waterworks and sanitary installations.

The government intends to acquire them by invoking article 40 of the new constitution.

The article also gives the government power to expropriate meat packing plants, including three American and one big British plant, and two American and one British oil company.

Some 72 electric power companies might be affected by the nationalization plans. They include 70 belonging to the American Foreign Power Co. and other foreign interests.

Commencement exercises for the WT Demonstration High school will be on the evening of Wednesday, June 1.

KFYO Announcer Finds Rattlesnakes Plentiful In Area

There are plenty of rattlesnakes on the South Plains, Wes Youngblood, KFYO announcer, avers.

Youngblood received a request from Paul Spencer of Santa Rosa, Calif., asking someone to ship him a live rattler.

Youngblood aired the request over a Monday news program and within a matter of minutes he began receiving telephone calls. Everybody seemed to know of someone who could supply the rattlesnake.

Youngblood was trying to decide Monday afternoon who was to fill the order.

So Dear To Your Heart . . .

Ever so often, not more than half a dozen times a year, you see a motion picture that gets under your skin and you are glad that it did because it gives you a warm glow of happiness throughout and you leave the theatre wishing everyone could see it. You wish you could find words to express to them the down-right goodness of simple story telling and joyous entertainment which is in store for them.

Such a picture is Walt Disney's newest creation, "SO DEAR TO MY HEART."

The picture, done in Technicolor, a combination of live action (35 per cent) and cartoon, starring Burl Ives, Beulah Bondi, Harry Carey, Luana Patten and Bobby Driscoll, and some new lovable Disney characters, was taken from the book of the same name by Sterling North, and condensed in the December, 1948 Readers' Digest. The setting is a small mid-western town; the time at the turn of the century. The story is about a boy, probably seven or eight years old, his little black lamb, his little girl playmate, his grandmother, the village blacksmith, and the keeper of the general store. The train stops only when it is flagged and the county seat, to a little boy's thinking, is miles and miles away. Anyone who has the memory of childhood days in a small town will live this picture. It is so clean and wholesome that it goes to the roots of things fundamental, as well as spiritual, to the American way of life.

In addition to the title song, "So Dear to My Heart," other catchy tunes are "It's Watcha Do With Watcha Got," the dilly-dilly song, "Lavender Blue," "Stick-To-It-Ivity," and "County Fair."

We unconditionally recommend "SO DEAR TO MY HEART" for your family entertainment . . . a rare experience in a new kind of motion picture to charm your innermost depths.

Planes To 'Cover' Mexican Border On Daily Patrol Flights

SAN ANTONIO, May 2 (AP)—Complete air coverage of the border by plane twice daily was announced today by Dr. E. L. Peck, supervising inspector of the Mexican border foot and mouth quarantine project.

He said the project now has five planes to cover the border. Three are working on the Rio Grande. Plane patrol stations in Texas are at Brownsville, Del Rio and Presidio, he said.

Economist Says Recession Offers Opportunity For Competitive Basis

DALLAS, May 2. (U.P.)—While the duration of the present business recession depends chiefly on the speed with which durable goods producers can cut costs and selling prices, economist A. W. Zelomek told retailers here, it offers a "challenge to put themselves on a competitive basis for opportunities that will develop in the next six to 12 months."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the annual business conference of the Retail Merchants association of Texas, Zelomek, economist for International Statistical Bureau, Inc., predicted that the "trough of the present decline should be seen sometime in the first half of next year (and) following that there should be a period of increased unit volume on a lower-price basis."

Keen Competition Cited

"This is the period," he emphasized, "during which the wartime improvement in living standards will be made lasting and permanent, and even expanded further . . . competition will be keen, but the opportunities will be great for those outlets in a position to take advantage of them."

The conservative inventory and commitment policy followed by retailers, often in the face of much criticism, has resulted, Zelomek said, in "one of the strong factors in the situation"—The fact that most retail organizations are in a liquid position and have purchasing power available for merchandising that the public wants.

Price Cuts Aid Demand

"Substantial price reductions in many textile apparel items have already stimulated demand this spring," he pointed out, "and there is, no doubt, a large level of demand remaining for consumers' durable goods when prices are brought down to lower levels."

Recent sales trends, Zelomek said, have pointed up the extent of consumer resistance. Total trade ha sbeen somewhat disappointing, with major appliances and furniture sales lagging in particular, despite more liberal installment terms. But, he said, items that are visibly a "good buy" from the public viewpoint have sold freely.

Combined Functions Urged

The economist emphasied the importance of cost problems to retailers generally, since they can't shut down plant as manumacturers sometime do, but must make cost reductions the "result of intensive and co-ordinated efforts.

Lubbock Man's Night Visit To Brother Stirs Excitement

"Everybody was satisfied and excited," the police said in their official report, to conclude investigation into a case of the visit that didn't get off to a smooth start.

Police received a 10:15 p.m. call from 2700-block Allen. A man was in the wrong house.

Ira E. Scott and J. D. Atchison, prowl car patrolmen, went to the place. Scott slipped in, pointed his gun into the darkness and flipped on a light

In the middle of the room, dressed only in his shorts and "very excited," was a man.

Explanations were quick. The man was a brother of the householder and had "dropped in unexpectedly for a visit."

He is entertaining the idea of informing both the police and his brother—"and showing up in the daytime"—upon occasion of his next visit.

Mexican Style Siesta Proposed For McAllen Business Houses

McALLEN, May 2. (U.P.)—The siesta may come to McAllen.

Business leaders of McAllen, a Texas town on the Mexican border, are considering borrowing the idea of a daily siesta from Mexico.

Mrs. M. T. Blackwell, a McAllen jeweler, is behind the movement to have McAllen business firms close their offices from 12 noon until 2 p. m. daily—while everyone relaxes. That's the way things are done in Mexico and Mrs. Blackwell says it never hurt business there.

So Thursday when directors of McAllen Chamber of Commerce meet, the first item on the agenda will be: siesta.

Hester Declares Parts Of His Murder Trial Testimony Untrue

CLEBURNE, May 2. (AP)—Arthur Clayton Hester said today Dr. John Lord wasn't a homosexual. He also said the Texas Christian university dean he was convicted of killing did not break a promise to him.

Thus the 18-year-old youth repudiated the two major aspects of his defense in the murder trial which ended Saturday with his conviction and sentencing to 50 years in prison.

The youth, who admitted bludgeoning the educator to death in the latter's Burleson farm home last March 8, appeared voluntarily in the office of District Attorney John A. James.

Statement Is Signed

He had asked Sheriff Houston Walling to take him to James' office so he could "clear some things up." He told Jack Proctor, Cleburne newspaperman, in an interview that "I wanted to clear the name of Dr. Lord because I really liked the old man."

Hester, who was arrested in Los Angeles March 12 after a cross-country hitch-hiking and driving trip, signed a statement saying:

"I was afraid Mr. James would prosecute me again if I had lied during the trial. Dr. Lord was not homosexual as I testified to and not at any time did he ever have an unnatural sexual relation with me or conduct himself in any manner that would lead me to believe he was homosexual."

This was in direct contrast to Hester's testimony.

Hester had testified he beat Dr. Lord to death because the educator reneged on a promise to lend him the family car if he would submit to an unnatural act. Hester testified that he did submit to the unnatural act. He testified that Dr. Lord's homosexuality and his breaking of the promise to lend the car were factors in the slaying.

Repudiates Testimony

In his interview with Proctor, the teen-age prisoner repeated his repudiation of his testimony regarding homosexuality and added: "My life was at stake; I had to frame it."

In his statement, Hester also repudiated further testimony he had given at the trial. He said he was not at the farm home the night before the slaying and admitted, as state's witnesses had testified, that he was in Fort Worth that night and telephoned a girl friend.

He said that on the morning of March 8 he asked Dr. Lord if he might use the car and that Dr. Lord refused. He said "my anger got the better of me" and he bludgeoned the educator to death.

Met At Home

Hester also repudiated his testimony that he first met Dr. Lord in a theatre where Dr. Lord made advances to him and suggested unnatural acts. Hester said in his statement he first met Dr. Lord when he passed by Dr. Lord's home, asked for a handout and later asked if he might make his home with the educator.

In an interview Hester said, "I not only thought about the death penalty—I dreamed about it."

"I was tried by the best jury in the world," he added. "I love those men."

The youth said he was so fearful of receiving the death penalty that he had given his clothing away.

Sheriff Walling said he will take Hester to the state prison at Huntsville as soon as commitment papers are ready, possibly tomorrow.

Work To Start Soon On Baytown Tunnel

HOUSTON, May 2. (U.P.)—Work on the Baytown-La Porte $9,000,000 vehicular tunnel may be started within the next two months, state highway department district engineer Jim Douglas revealed today.

Joint approval for the project has already been given by the highway department and the U.S. Public Roads administration, Douglas said. Those agencies will bear the cost jointly.

"If possible," said Douglas, "we're going to let the first contract for the project when the highway commission meets June 21 and 22. The letting will be made no later than July, under any circumstance."

The 3,000-foot tube, two traffic lanes inside and four-lane approaches, will run under the ship channel between San Jacinto and Black Duck bays.

The northern approach will connect with the old Pelly-Baytown road west of the stream of Goose Creek. Southward, tunnel traffic will be diverted from the Pasadena-La Porte road, east of the DuPont chemical plant.

Considerable excavation work and installation of nine tube lengths will be wrapped up in the initial contract, expected to involve some $5,000,000, Douglas suggested.

Completion of the job is not expected before 1952, he added.

Houston Child Killed On Picnic As Softball Strikes Chest

HOUSTON, May 2. (U.P.)— Little Mary Louise Sears, 15 months old, was killed almost instantly yesterday when a softball struck her in the chest.

The child wandered onto the ball diamond while her family was picknicking in Memorial park late yesterday afternoon.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Sears, were in pursuit of the baby when the ball struck her. Passersby rendered artificial respiration, and others called an ambulance.

She was pronounced dead upon arrival at a hospital.

Poor Health Forces Resignation Of Amarillo Baptist Minister

AMARILLO, May 2. (U.P.)—Dr. A. D. Foreman, jr., pastor of the First Baptist church in Amarillo since 1941, resigned today.

He said he was not leaving the ministry but was retiring until he could regain his health. He has been ill several months.

Under his guidance, the local annual budget has been increased from $85,000 to $226,000. When he assumed the pastorate, the church owed $80,000. The debt has been liquidated and a building fund of $100,000 raised.

Foreman is a member of the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas and has served as trustee of Mary Hardin-Baylor college, Howard Payne college and Wayland college, all Baptist schools.

400,000 Acres Reported Under Oil Leases In Palo Pinto County

MINERAL WELLS, May 2. (U.P.) Approximately 400,000 of the 610,000 acres of Palo Pinto county land were estimated today to be under lease for oil drilling purposes.

The estimate was made by Bill Logsdon, who is compiling the information for a complete reference file. Much of the acreage has been placed under lease since 1946.

Chennault's Appearance Before Congressional Group Postponed

WASHINGTON, May 2. (U.P.)—Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's scheduled appearance today before the congressional "watchdog" committee on foreign aid was postponed until tomorrow, when he also will testify before the Senate Armed Services committee.

No reason was given for today's postponement.

HIGHWAY COSTLY, BUT

Project Has Merits

IT WILL be difficult to convince many Texans that the proposed four-lane highway from Orange to El Paso can be justified at a cost of $43,500,000 when the need for many additional all-weather rural roads is so urgent in most counties of the State—including those of this area.

But the importance of major highways which form links in trans-continental arteries, such as the one from Orange to El Paso, is emphasized by some figures reported recently by the State Highway Department. It announced that more than 5,000,000 out-of-state tourists spent more than $114,000,000 in Texas last year.

That was mighty profitable "cash crop" from which all Texans benefitted in varying degrees. And everyone agrees, apparently, that the possibilities of this crop are in their infancy. One way to attract more tourists is to provide good highways—and then to advertise this fact, along with the innumerable other Texas attractions—to the nation and world. The Legislature thus far has been too penny wise to recognize the dollar wisdom of systematic advertising designed to attract tourists.

The farmer in the mud naturally is more interested in a road which will serve him than in a highway which appeals to tourists. But it should be borne in mind by all Texans that, in shaping a broad road and highway program, some provision should be made for those which draw visitors. Taxes and business from that source, if properly cultivated, could go a long way toward financing many of the needed farm-market roads.

Solons Defy President

SOUTHERN Democrats in Congress are justified thoroughly in their indignation because of the attempt of President Truman to dictate how they vote on repeal of the Taft-Hartley act or any other legislation.

The President has been charged, and has not denied, threatening to withhold patronage from members of Congress unless they vote as he orders on legislation affecting the Taft-Hartley measure. This threat, if carried out, would deny to offending members the historic right, which is as old as Congress itself, to fill designated numbers of federal jobs. The patronage practice obviously has political values, upon which Mr. Truman has capitalized as much as any man in history.

The President seems to have lost sight of the fact that none of the members at whom his order is aimed owes his election to Harry Truman. They were not chosen to represent him in Congress. They were elected by majorities of participating voters in their districts or states.

Their first duty is to carry out as best they can the wishes of the people they represent. Most of them strive conscientiously to do that. They usually don't remain in Congress long unless they do. In nearly all cases, congressmen who have refused to obey presidential orders as to the Taft-Hartley act have complied with the wishes of the people who elected them. If the time should come when most congressmen ignore their own people to give blind obedience to any boss, presidential or otherwise, democracy will be at an end in the U. S. Happily, prospects are that few congressmen will do this, regardless of the patronage threat. They apparently intend to abide by the principles of democratic government even when a President openly demands that they be ignored.

"A western judge rules that love is a mild form of insanity." What's mild about it?

To one who takes a long-range view of things, history repeating itself every 25 years or so gives the effect of stuttering.

One of the meanest tricks we know of is a method of weaning a calf by strapping a cluster of small steel spikes around his nose. Then when he tries to take a drag from the bag, his ma kicks him out of a 40-acre pasture.

General Groves says likely some members of the wartime organization engaged in making atomic bombs revealed certain secrets concerning operations, and added, "You can't assemble 600,000 perfect persons." How true! So far as we know, not one perfect person has ever been assembled.

Hmm—Inf'resting—

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Disributed By NEA Service, Inc.

I

FOUR days out of San Francisco, the 65-foot Simpatico, converted tuna fisher, once mine layer, raised Speare Island.

Bea Cosgrove left the grease-smelling alcove where her three women companions still sat at table with the member of the crew who passed as first mate and spoke only with gestures and ogles. As she walked forward she felt the pulse of the overtaxed Diesels slow. The bow dropped lower, pushed apologetically now through the swells.

She saw the captain in the tiny wheelhouse, pulling away a dead leaf from the potted plant he tended so carefully. He looked up and smiled at her, a flash of white teeth in his bearded face. The half door hid the cotton pants he usually wore, and the bare upper part of his body was incredibly hairy.

In the bow, the reduced speed had stopped any breeze. Bea pushed her dark hair from her eyes. Ahead was a small brown smudge.

"Speare Island. Beautiful, is it not?"

She turned to face Captain Oak. He stood beside her on splayed bare feet. The hair on top of his shoulders stood up in unruly tufts. He looked at her a moment, then turned and pointed ahead again. "Your future home. Home, Sweet Home."

"So you do speak English? I thought you couldn't be as dumb as you pretended," Bea said.

"You are provoked with me. That is all right. I, Miguel Cervantes Vanessi Oak, say it is all right. But this thing you are going to do. That is not all right!"

"I don't know what you're talking about," she said.

Captain Miguel Oak shrugged his massive shoulders. "Those other three in the mess hall. Of them I laugh. I do not care what they do. It is fine if they go to Speare Island. For you, for one so beautiful, with a figure like . . ." he gestured. He repeated, "It is not good. For those others, maybe there is no other chance."

Miss Cosgrove's gray eyes could take on a greenish shade at times. She said, "I'm 40. I've taught school 20 years. I—"

He interrupted. "I do not care about your past. Even if I believed the words you say."

"And you have something to suggest?"

"You laugh at me. But never mind. I do have something to suggest. Go back with me on the Simpatico. Do not stay on the island."

SHE stared at him. His slit eyes were a liquid brown.

"And if I stay with the other three?"

He shrugged.

"I suppose," Bea said, "I should be complimented. You break your four-day silence, and make proposals. But the answer is no."

"Proposals?" Oak's bearded face was creased in bewilderment. He laughed suddenly. "Ah, senorita, you thought I spoke of love?" Of love between us, eh? What have you and I to do with love?" He waited for an answer, went on at last. "It is not the time, now. But there is something else of which we know. Something stronger maybe."

"Stronger? What do you mean?"

"Hate, senorita. Hate."

Bea looked at the island, closer now with individual features of cliffs and white foam line emerging. "I'm not going back," she said slowly.

"I did, not think so. I can see things hidden from others. And I must warn." He reached in a pocket of his white pants and pulled out a tiny, nickel-plated revolver. He said, "You can use this I think."

She took it, looked at it. "I wouldn't shoot that thing with a borrowed hand."

Oak said, "The things schoolteachers know! But you are right. It is a 'suicide gun.' But it will serve a purpose. It might be used to draw attention away from that so efficient automatic you carry in your girdle. You see, on the island, no firearms are allowed but his."

Bea partially checked her downward glance.

"It does not show," Oak said. "Unless one has an eye for such matters."

"Thanks. I'll take it, put it in my bag. And I suppose I'd better go put the few things I have together."

"There is plenty of time. We must wait outside for the right moment. It is a bad landing."

Bea smiled. "I'll take care of myself." She reached out and patted his shoulder. The tufts of hair were springy under her palm. She jerked her hand away.

Miguel Oak said, "You were not built to hold so much hate."

IT was late afternoon and four women were on the foredeck of the Simpatico when she entered the cove, hugging closely the overhang of a yellow, scarlet and black cliff. The wake pushed out and tossed the restless water against the green sea growth on tidal rock, retreated and left the long streamers brushed and dripping.

A group of men waited silently on one side of the small dock, while noisy sea birds littered the other. When the Simpatico slid closer Bea could see strands of barb wire which caged the men, shut them off from the wide table where one man in spotless white sat waiting.

Miss Cosgrove and her three companions held identical overnight cases they had been given to "bring everything they wanted besides clothes" to Speare Island. All four were dressed in their versions of suitable. Miss Cosgrove in a black suit skirt and coat with a loose white blouse, ankle socks and comfortable low black shoes. Mabel Jones' flowered print hung loosely and shapelessly from her sloping shoulders and left bare the lower part of her tanned, muscle-corded arms. In one work-hardened hand she carried a gray coat with mousy moth-eaten bits of collar fur. Lilly Warren's shocking pink slacks were too tight across the seat. Her off-shade red shoes were open-toed. Her hennaed hair fell below shoulder-length to her well-filled green sweater. Agnes Firth's shoes were patched.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

EVERY Spring my wife and I pay a visit to the Zoo in Central Park, New York.

It's really a children's Zoo, but that makes it so much more enjoyable.

First of all, the kids' enthusiasm is contagious.

Second, it shows how much we have lost by having grown up.

Last week we went on our annual trek again.

BRANDEIS

We bought a bag of peanuts—for the monkeys and the elephants.

We went to the monkeys' cage.

Somehow, our hearts went out to the little chimpanzees.

Perhaps one was a distant cousin of ours.

Particularly one. My wife thought I resembled him.

Did we possibly have common ancestors way back in the distant past?

Could be.

This little monkey looked so wistful.

There he sat, in his cage, wishing for the peanuts in my bag, but doing nothing more than wishing for them.

And so, perhaps by telepathy, that little chimpanzee gave me material for a column.

I was thinking how far we had really come from our monkeyhood. But I was also thinking, sadly, how close so many millions of people still are to the apes.

In the first chapter of Genesis, it is written:

"And God said, Let us make man in our own image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

But that "dominion" which God gave man is not maintained by sitting, like monkeys in a cage, wishing for peanuts.

That dominion is maintained by going out and getting the peanuts.

ONE of the great human, and particularly American, characteristics is what has been called "divine discontent."

Discontent with kerosene lamps brought about electric light.

Discontent with the stagecoach gave us the locomotive.

Discontent with the horse and buggy was the beginning of the automobile.

Discontent with plagues and fevers raised medicine and surgery to their present standards.

Discontent with wars will eventually bring peace.

If YOU feel discontented—do something about it.

To get more—go out and do more.

Think — plan — suggest.

Why don't you make more money than you do? Are you worth what you are getting now?

Wishing and grumbling won't do it.

CHANGES ARE SEEN

New Defense Studied

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Louis A. Johnson's surprise demand for a report on progress of the anti-segregation movement in the armed services was calculated deliberately to allay colored minorities' unrest and dissatisfaction over the White House and Capitol Hill failure to implement campaign pledges on racial equality.

TUCKER

Recent speeches by Vice-President Alben W. Barkley, which were unreported nationally, are largely responsible for the anti-Administration flareup on the part of the group which believes that they contributed heavily to President Truman's election last fall, and also to Mr. Barkley's.

INTERPRETATION: The Kentuckian has given an interpretation of the platform's anti-segregation promises that does not accord with the general impression of its meaning and sweep. According to him, Mr. Truman does not favor social equality at all, only political and economic. And he restricts his advocacy of equal treatment to interstate carriers and fields subject to national jurisdiction, as he must.

The Supreme Court has outlawed real estate covenants which bar negro ownership and occupation of property in white neighborhoods. But the Truman attitude, as explained by Mr. Barkley, does not go that far. The high tribunal is a law unto itself, and it has no enforcement agency.

Incidentally, the forthcoming report to Secretary Johnson will reveal that there has been hardly any intermingling of troops since V-J Day, although the document itself will try to minimize that fact.

RESTUDY: Secretary Johnson scored another political ten strike for the Administration when he cancelled, at least temporarily, construction of the Navy's super-carrier, the United States. He satisfied a powerful group of atomic and military experts on Capitol Hill who think there should be a revolution and reorganization of the structure and costs of our national defense system before undertaking such a project.

Members of both branches' Armed Service committees, as well as the men on the Appropriations and Atomic Energy bodies, think that the development of deadlier types of airplanes and the cosmic weapon necessitates a basic restudy of the national defense setup.

While they realize that the United States will always need a Navy, they are thumbs down on capital vessels like battleships and carriers.

COST: It is their off-the-record belief that the Army-Navy-Air bill can eventually be cut from sixteen to ten billions, despite persistence of the "cold war" with Russia. They have impressed their views on Mr. Johnson, and his action is accepted as recognition that he agrees with them.

The signing of the Atlantic Pact and the proposed rearming of Western Europe also underlie this attitude on military costs among members of Congress.

If the anti-Russian bloc must retain a fleet of global proportions, and if the naval thinkers feel that they need warships ranging in cost from two hundred to five hundred millions, many Congressmen insist that Britain assume this responsibility.

Latest estimates of the cost of the halted carrier ran as high as $350,000,000, as against the original total of $189,000,000. And this sum does not include the expense of the "baby Navy"—destroyers, subs, supply ships—that would be required to equip and protect the carrier against hostile attacks.

HAIRSHIRT: Latin-American countries are equipping Secretary of State Dean Acheson with a fine hairshirt wardrobe. In view of President Truman's good will offer in advancing his inaugural program of development of "backward nations" — the famous Point Four—they are behaving most peculiarly, biting the hand that wants to feed them.

Almost every South American legislature has enacted laws severely restricting American enterprise and capital since Mr. Truman spoke out. It is probable that there will be less expansion below the Rio Grande next year than there has been in a quarter of a century.

REASONS: The Latins have virtually used up the balances they built up here and in Britain during the war, when the embattled allies bought their food and minerals. The world prices for their commodities, especially oil, are falling.

Spokesmen from below the border advance two reasons for this anti-American movement at the present time. The proud Latins, according to one theory, resented Mr. Truman's apparent description of their countries as "backward." While he did not list them categorically, State Department releases tended to lump them with Iran, Greece, Turkey, and Africa.

BENEFIT: They are also miffed by the almost exclusive concern which we show toward Europe, as evidenced by the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Pact, the frequent huddlings of Anglo-French-American foreign ministers and diplomats, and the proposed rearming of this area.

While President Truman and Secretary Acheson may deny it, various South American representatives have suggested that Washington now frame a Marshall Plan for their benefit, with a five-year, ten billion dollar program as a beginner. They contend that, in actual cash and trade, such an investment would mean a greater return for us than the billions we are spending on Europe.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, May 3, 1928.)

Twa new members were pledged into the College Club last night in a meeting at the home of Floyd Honey, 1911 Fifteenth street. They were Frank Kelly, of Miami, and Buddy Brothers, of Lubbock. Five pledges are now listed on the club rolls. They are, besides the two above, J. P. Rhuman, John R. Johnson, and Thomas Owens.

Officers for another year were elected in the First Christian Girls Auxiliary Wednesday evening in a monthly meeting with Mrs R. A. Mills in her new home. A program was given by Misses Joellene Vannoy and Willie Pearl Dockray and Miss Mary Gene Owen gave two readings.

The new officers are as follows: President, Miss Annie Lou Barrier; vice president, Miss Pearl Harrison; secretary, Miss Ouida Davis; program chairman, Miss Louelle Smith. These officers will begin their term the first of July.

Supper was served to the group. Those who attended were Misses Vannoy, Jessie Walker, Annie Lou Barrier, Kathryn and Juanita Mills, Lillian and Eleanor Nelson, Willie Pearl Dockray, Pearl Harrison, Helen Robertson, Elizabeth Adams, Mary Gene Owen, Ouida Davis, and Mrs. Smith.

PATRONAGE THREAT RAISED

Party Discipline Major Problem

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Party discipline is a mighty fine thing—but no master mind ever has found the magic formula for it in American politics.

That is proved daily to anyone who sits in the galleries of Congress and, when the roll is called, sees both Republicans and Democrats deserting their party to join "the enemy" while harassed leaders watch anxiously. There are always "strays" from each party.

And anybody who attempts to do anything about this dilemma promptly finds himself in a mess of trouble.

Up to and including the President of the United States. Such as, currently, Harry Truman, who gathered congressional and Democratic national committee leaders about him at the White House to discuss patronage—that is, jobs—the most persuasive form of party discipline, and who should be deprived of such plums because of party "disloyalty" and what the standard of "loyalty" or "disloyalty" should be.

Would Affect South

The result was a bit foggy, but the understanding seemed to be that patronage discipline, that is the denial of jobs, would be applied to those who were "disloyal" to President Truman back in their home districts, as it was put by Senator McGrath (R.I.), Democratic national chairman. That would mean chiefly the outright bolters to the states righters in the South in the last election, of which there are only a handful in Congress, but also taken into account presumably would be those who, while they didn't actually bolt, nevertheless were plainly hostile to the President. Party leaders have a pretty reliable catalogue of these. Certainly, Harry Truman has no friendly feeling for them, for which you can hardly blame him.

But Senator McGrath insisted that the "loyalty" test would not include votes in Congress, a question that was raised because it had been rumored that jobs were being held back to influence votes to get what the administration wanted in revision of the Taft-Hartley act, which was being debated in the House. The timing of the White House confab was such as to arouse suspicions.

In the matter of votes in Congress you bump up against what the congressman calls his "conscience" or "convictions" or sometimes even "high patriotic motives," and no man can be a judge as to when these are sincere and when not.

The solution seemed to be a fair, satisfactory one when, lo and behold, the President at his press conference the following day said that loyalty meant loyalty to the party platform before and after election, that it applies to votes in Congress and, when asked specifically whether that included the Taft-Hartley law, said it certainly did.

This fell like the legendary bombshell among his House leaders who, for two weeks, had been busy placating and buttering up the southerners and thought they had weaned over enough votes for a compromise that would satisfy the administration and its labor allies.

HST Surprises Aides

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn was grim when he heard what the President had said. Rep. Percy Priest (Tenn.), the Democratic whip whose job it is to round up votes, got a little sick when he heard about it and had to go over and sit down in the lobby for a few minutes. Senator McGrath was considerably surprised and said the President's definition of party loyalty at his press conference seemed to be "an extension of the Truman doctrine," referring to the discussion at the White House previously.

It's an old political custom, as is well known that patronage and political projects—sometimes lumped as judges, postmasters, bridges and dams—often are doled out when and where they can be most effective for some political purpose or other, which includes legislation. Of most recent memory was the skill of lieutenants of Franklin D. Roosevelt in this particular. But it goes back through our history.

Usually, of course, it is done quietly, and not broadcast from the White House or any other place. Few but the congressman know how it all happened when he stands up, beaming, before his delighted constituents and cuts the ribbon in the ceremony opening the new bridge or highway or dam, those few including perhaps the postmaster and the judge who look on with their relatives and friends.

The mistake is in getting caught at it. Or being honest about it, as was Harry Truman.

U.S. Rural Road Plan Claimed Unworkable

WASHINGTON, May 2. (U.P.)—A proposed bill to build rural local roads and "get the farmer out of the mud" is unworkable, Thomas H. MacDonald, national commissioner of public roads, said today.

MacDonald outlined his objections to the bill and recommended that the Senate Public Works committee not approve it.

Construction of low-cost farm roads with federal funds would result in "skyrocketing maintenance costs of substandard roads," the commissioner said.

The federal government already is doing all it can with a secondary roads policy that has produced 40,000 of these roads in three years, he said.

"Under present conditions an immediate program of this size for secondary roads is impossible," he said. "It would place too heavy demands on available engineering and administrative personnel."

Grain

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP) — May wheat showed strength at times while the new crop deliveries eased on the board of trade today. Other grains were mostly a little lower, but losses were too small to be significant.

The May delivery ran up around 2 points at one time following news the government was in the market for cash wheat. New crop futures sank on reports of rain in the north west and a favorable crop report on wheat growth in the southwest.

Wheat closed 3/4 lower to 1/8 higher, May $2.18 3/4-1/2, corn was 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, May $1.32 1/4-1.33, oats were unchanged to 3/8 higher, May 64 3/4-7/8.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, May 2 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.43 1/2-50.

Oats No. 2 white 82 3/4-83 3/4.

Corn No. 2 white 1.69-71 1/2.

MARKET MAKES SMALL GAINS

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Gains held a slight edge over losses today in a quiet stock market.

The movement in either direction was mostly in the smaller fractions. A number of leading issues ended unchanged.

Rails sagged slightly in the latter half of the day. Oils, metals, motors and steels were mixed. Chemicals held to the upside by fractions early but turned irregular later.

U. S. Steel closed 1/8 higher at 73 1/4. Stockholders at the annual meeting approved a three-for-one stock split previously proposed by directors.

Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper Co. halted mining operations in Michigan and laid off 1,800 men because "there now appears to be no demand for copper whatever." Its stock dropped 1/8 to 4, a new low for the year.

Kennecott gained 1/2 at 45 after a union spokesman said a federal fact-finding board handed down a decision "very favorable to the men" in a wage dispute. The decision hasn't been made public.

Alleghany Corp. today's third most active stock, reached a new high of 3, up 1/4, and Chesapeake and Ohio was down 1/8 at 32 on the announcement that Alleghany proposes to offer part of its holdings of C. and O. common in exchange for Alleghany prior preferred and series "A" preference stock.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .1 of a point to 63.1. The industrial component of the average gained .2 of a point and utilities were up .1 of a point. Rails, however, lost .1 of a point. Of the 933 individual issues traded, 348 advanced and 323 declined.

Sales were 740,000 shares, as against 810,000 Friday.

Making fractional gains were Bethlehem Steel 30 3/8, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 64 1/4, General Motors 58, Sears Roebuck 37 1/2, Douglas Aircraft 59, Anaconda 30, General Electric 37 1/4, United Corp. 3 1/8 (the day's most active issue), Du Pont 190 1/2, Nickel Plate 71 and Standard Oil (NJ) 68.

Slightly lower were Republic Steel 21 7/8, Chrysler 50 3/8, U. S. Rubber 36 3/4, Woolworth 45 3/4, Phelps Dodge 40 1/8, American Can 91 1/2, Johns Manville 33 1/2, Southern Pacific 40 3/8, and Sinclair Oil 22 3/8.

The announcement of Packard price cuts of $103 to $246 on its most popular lines came after the market closed.

In the curb market stocks improved slightly during the day but the final price range was mixed.

Trading in the bond market was the slowest in eight months with prices ending mixed. U. S. Government securities in the over the counter market were quietly irregular.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular today in quiet dealings. Renewed emphasis on the poor demand for cotton goods by the industry and the lack of new ECA export authorizations accounted for light selling. There was further liquidation in nearby May futures and persistent switching from May to later months. Offerings were absorbed through scale down mill buying.

Futures closed 10 to 40 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Court Upholds Bribe Sentences

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 2—The U. S. Supreme court upheld by a 4-to-4 tie vote today the bribery convictions of two gamblers in the New York Giants pro football "fix" of 1946.

Harvey Stemmer and David Krakower are serving five-to-ten year prison sentences for offering bribes to ex-Giant stars, Frank Filchock and Merle Hapes to throw a crucial game to the Chicago Bears. Filchock and Hapes were suspended.

NLRB Plea Rejected

The tie ruling, which sustained the lower court's decision, was announced in a three-line statement without formal opinions. In effect it upheld use of wire-tapping evidence against Stemmer and Krakower, who appealed on grounds that such evidence is unconstitutional.

The high court rejected, 6 to 3, a lengthy National Labor Relations board plea for a new review of state laws which ban "quickie" work stoppages. The court previously held that such laws are constitutional.

The court agreed to review a California supreme court decision which bars negroes from picketing business establishments in an effort to force employment of more members of their race.

Justice Jackson, who was absent in Germany during part of the consideration, took no part in the final disposition of the New York Giants case, and a tie vote was thus made possible.

Wire Tapping Claimed Illegal

By long-established precedent, however, a tie decision in the supreme court is considered to have the full force of an affirmative opinion upholding the lower courts.

Stemmer and Krakower contended that a provision in the federal communications act banning wire-tapping to gain evidence would apply to state and local courts. Counsel for New York state denied this.

The NLRB in a 62-page brief objected to the court's recent decision that the states have the "police power" to pass laws regulating labor activities in the public interests.

Picketing Said Unlawful

The board said this would lead to state laws regulating matters over which Congress intended exclusive federal jurisdiction. The original opinion upheld the so-called "labor peace act" adopted in Wisconsin.

The negro picketing case originated in Richmond, Calif., and involved a demand that a store employ negro workers in the same proportion as it had negro customers—about 50-50.

The California supreme court held that this was an "unlawful objective," and that it in effect would compel "discrimination" in favor of negroes regardless of merit.

Louis Richardson, president of the Richmond chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and others brought the appeal against Lucky Stores, Inc. the state of California opposed the review, declaring no constitutional issue is involved.

U. S. Officer, Wife Arrested By Czech Police, Released

PRAGUE, May 2. (U.P.)—Authorities disclosed today that Martin S. Bowe, American military permit officer here, and his wife were arrested while taking color films of the May Day parade here and were held for an hour and a half.

The films used by Bowe were seized. He had taken a roll of film of the parade in Wenceslaus square in the heart of Prague. A man in uniform appeared.

Bowe said he told the officer he was an amateur photographer and declined to give up his film. The policeman took Bowe and his wife to the Bartolomejska street station. There the film was seized.

Rail Official Sounds Warning To Farmers

GALVESTON, May 2. (U.P.)—The Santa Fe Railroad warned today that the nation's expected heavy 1949 grain crop may find storage facilities already crowded with 1948 grain.

"Warnings have been sounded repeatedly by grain and feed men urging the farmer to move his grain out of storage to make room for the new crop,' J. P. Cowley, the line's vice-president, said.

Cowley said grain men are "alarmed over the situation,' and want "governmental authorities to urge movement of stored grain as early as possible before the pending harvest.'

The railroad executive said grain under government loan or purchase order totals 687,000,000 bushels, much of it in storage in Midwest wheat states. He said much of it is destined for export and that it should be moved quickly toward Gulf ports.

"It has been estimated that it will require 50,000 railway box cars to move this grain during May and June," Cowley said.

He said the Santa Fe is mobilizing equipment, converting many cars to grain hauling, reconditioning other cars and hopes to have a slight back-log of cars on hand for the rush

Group To Urge Curbs On U.S. Oil Imports

NEW ORLEANS, May 2. (U.P.)—Russell B. Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said today the association will ask for legislation to restrict the importation of foreign oil

Brown told 500 members of the association, holding their 19th mid-year meeting, that a strong oil industry at home is necessary to national safety. He said foreign oil sources may be cut off overnight in event of war.

He said not more than five per cent of American consumption requirements should be imported. At the present rate of consumption, that would be less than 300,000 barrels a day

Brown also complained that foreign countries, in which American oilmen have concessions, can put pressure on the oilmen through the State department, if they are not satisfied with the amount of oil being extracted.

The State department then says "import the oil," Brown said.

Boy Injured As Motor Scooter Collides With Pickup Truck

A 14-year-old boy, Geloam E. Byrd, of Lubbock route 4, suffered bruises and abrasions at 12:23 p. m. Monday when his motor scooter collided with a Southwestern Public Service pickup truck at Nineteenth and Ave. Q.

He was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital where attendants said his injuries were not serious.

Byrd was traveling south on Q and the pickup, driven by J. L. Chapman, 27, of 2402 Twenty-first, was going east on Nineteenth when the collision occurred.

Another boy who was on the scooter with Byrd escaped injury, police said. His name was not listed on police records.

No charges were filed in the collision.

Houston Bricklayer Killed As Light Car Plunges Into Bayou

HOUSTON, May 2. (U.P.)— Ole Olsen Seiffert, 20-year-old bricklayer, died last night when his light sedan crashed through a railing and fell into White Oak bayou.

Witnesses travelling directly behind Seiffert's car said the vehicle suddenly swerved to the right, splintered the railing and toppled into the water.

Hospital attendants said Seiffert's head was crushed and his right arm was badly cut.

The Harris County Emergency corps dragged the shallow bayou to be certain that Seiffert was alone at the time of the accident.

Funeral services were to be held tomorrow morning. Surviving are his parents and one brother, all of Houston.

Island Of Escape

run over at the heels and neatly polished. Her service-weight hose were darned and she wore a nondescript gray suit as if it were an unpleasant chance acquaintance.

As the Simpatico came in for a landing, hundreds of birds took the air, screaming their opinions. The group of men milled about, herded themselves toward the closed gate.

BEA Cosgrove could see the whites of eyes in dark faces, the flash of teeth. She heard them laugh. She looked around to see Lilly Warren tucking the tight sweater into her slacks.

"You come too late," one man called.

The Simpatico touched the dock. Her engines turned over slowly, holding her. Captain Oak called, "Step ashore! Step ashore! Quien anda al reves anda el camino dos veces."

The men laughed.

The four women stepped ashore with their overnight cases. Their sea legs lent motion to the dock as they moved slowly toward the man in white.

A scuffling sound made Bea look back. The gate was open and the men pushed through. They ran the few steps, jumped to the Simpatico. Her engines reversed, swung her slowly, pitching and tossing in the rip and crosscurrents, then nosed her towards the entranee of the cove. The sea birds hovered uncertainly. Some skimmed low over the Simpatico's wake, while the rest settled noisily to the dock.

Miss Cosgrove bumped into Agnes Firth, turned quickly and found herself at the table. She faced the man she had taught herself to hate. The reality, instead of her previous nebulous and bloodless mental picture.

The man stood up. "I am Henry Gough Harding," he said. "If you ladies will open your bags for inspection and present your credentials?"

The opened cases were lined up on the table. Each of the women held out her letter on the embossed paper of the Lonelyhearts' Matrimonial and Correspondence Club.

Henry Harding took the letters, glanced at them, looked up momentarily and then sat down as he said, "These are your passports to a better life on Speare Island."

Houston Professional Models Plan To Set Up Organization

HOUSTON, May 2 (U.P.)—Houston's professional models announced today they'd appreciate paychecks to match their neat figures, and they set plans for organizing, even down to apprentices

Their trim feet were on the warpath against "meager" pay when they are used in style shows, which, said one spokesman, isn't very often.

Casyle Sullivan, 21-year-old stately blonde, claimed the usual run of junior leaguers and debutantes lack professional training, but appear in about half the shows anyway because their services usually are gratis.

"Junior leaguers and debutantes, who have had no professional training, and who don't know how to show off the clothes to good advantage, are being used in about half the shows," Miss Sullivan complained.

Average pay for professional models here, stated Miss Sullivan, is very low—about $20 per week.

Electric Co-Op Asks Open Probe

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 2.—The Brazos River Transmission Electric Cooperative asked today that a scheduled investigation of Brazos river power control "be open to the public."

The co-op charged that had a similar investigation in 1943 been open instead of conducted in secret sessions there would be no reason for the present probe.

The request came from T. C. Chadick, attorney for the co-operative, and was addressed to Senator A. M. Aikin, chairman of the Senate General Investigating committee. The committee was directed by the Senate to investigate a power contract between the co-operative and the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district.

Reports Discussed

Aikin said last week that some members of the committee held an informal meeting to discuss auditor's reports of the district and co-operative. His office said today that a formal meeting of the committee has not been scheduled.

"The 1943 Investigation was made in executive or secret session and the Brazos River Electric Transmission co-operative was not permitted to offer testimony, present witnesses or cross-examine witnesses," Chadick said in his letter to Aikin. "Such restriction resulted in a failure to properly develop all relevant facts which, I believe, would have eliminated all reasons for the present investigation."

Four Requests Made

Chadick made four specific requests of the Senate committee. They were:

(1) That all hearings be open to the public, (2) that the committee adopt a procedure similar to the methods used in the trial of civil suits, (3) that the co-operative be allowed to present testimony and cross-examine witnesses.

And (4) that "the committee shall file no report nor take any action concerning the pending lawsuit (between the district and the co-operative) . . . which could or might influence a just determination of the issues involved."

In a recent letter to all members of the legislature, the cooperative accused the district of supporting bills in hopes of breaking a contract between the two. The bills would set up a state power regulation agency.

The co-op has a 25-year contract with the district to purchase all power generated at Possum Kingdom dam at the actual cost of production. The district filed a suit to cancel the contract.

"It should be apparent to fairminded men that the sole object of the legislation and investigation is to breach the contract and try to win the pending lawsuit," E. D. H. Farrow, co-op president, said in a letter to the legislators.
