Hoover Takes 2nd Step In Law Enforcement Program

President Would Transfer Enforcement of Prohibition Laws From Treasury To Justice Department

Commission Meets

Secretary Mellon Speaks to New Law Enforcement Body in First Secret Session Thursday

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Hoover today took the second step in carrying out his law enforcement-observance program by recommending to congress the appointment of a joint committee of the house and senate to frame legislation transferring the major activities of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department.

Coincidentally, his recently created national law enforcement commission in its first hearing—a secret session—heard Secretary Mellon, upon whom the major responsibility for the enforcement of the Volstead and other dry laws now rests.

Open Hearings Demanded
A demand for open hearings by the commission was made in the session by Senator Hawes, democrat, Missouri, who asserted that secret hearings will defeat the object of the commission; will destroy confidence in the thoroughness of its work or the impartiality of its conclusion.

Congressional leaders moved quickly to the recommendations of the president—submitted in a brief special message, which disclosed a comprehensive program for unification of federal agencies dealing with enforcement of the laws. Senator Jones, republican, Washington, a leader of the drys, offered

William Tallman, Wanted in Closet Slaying, Is Missing With Life Preserver; Officers Make Search

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Discovery that a life preserver was missing on the steamer Admiral Benson from which William L. Tallman, suspected of slaying Mrs. Virginia Pasty in Los Angeles, disappeared last night, led police to believe today that the young radio man may have made his way ashore or perished in the attempt.

Despite this clue, however, fifty police were searching the vessel on the theory that Tallman still was aboard, hidden in the cargo or engine room.

Tallman boarded the vessel at San Pedro on the morning Mrs. Pasty's body was found hanging in a closet in a Los Angeles apartment.

The radio man and Mrs. Pasty, wife of a wealthy banker, Frank Pasty, had been on intimate terms for a year, according to information furnished police by friends of the pair. Bloodstained clothing identified as Tallman's was found in the room.

Police Captain Suspended

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—(AP)—Deputy Chief James Lyons, head of the police personnel bureau, announced tonight that Captain James Jean, veteran head of the homicide detail, had been suspended on charges of "gross neglect in duty" growing out of the investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Virginia Pasty and the escape of William L. Tallman.

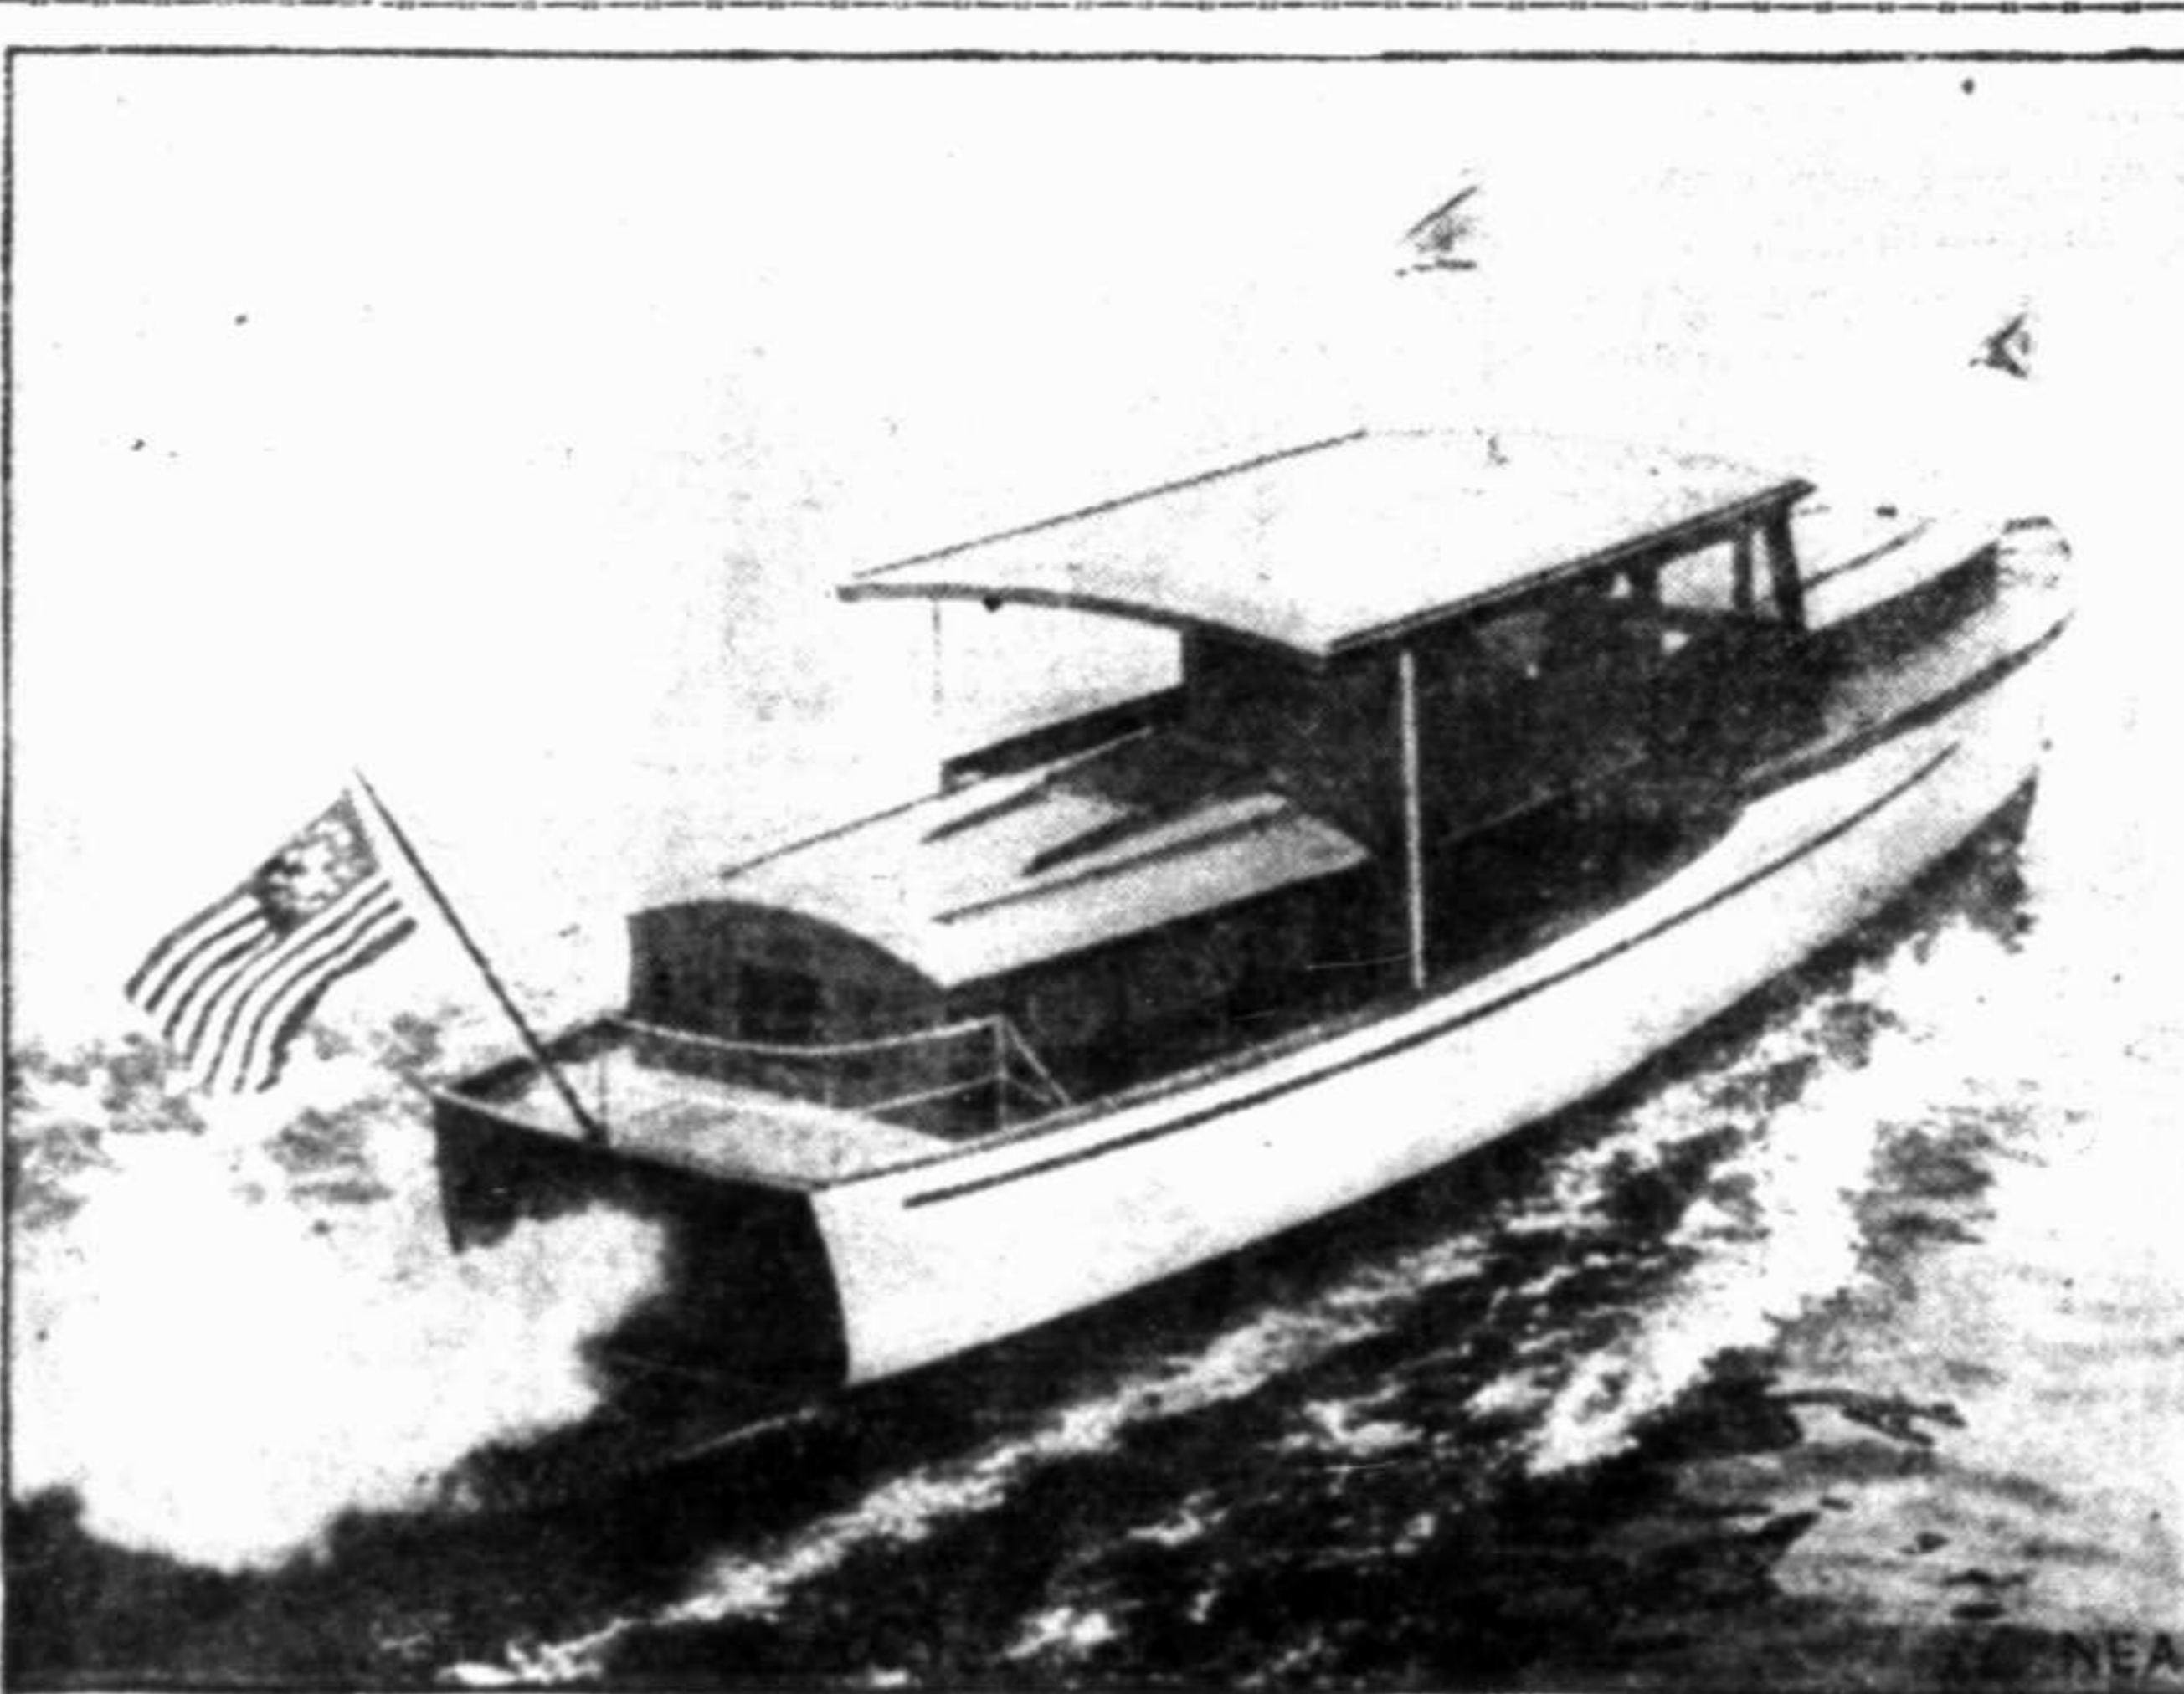

Scholastics Here Equal Fort Worth

Lubbock's scholastic increase, based on 1929 census figures, approximately equaled that of Fort Worth, according to A. C. Jackson, secretary of the local school board, who, with other board members, recently completed a tour of inspection of schools in other Texas cities.

Lubbock, with 5,104 scholastics, showed an increase of 999 over figures of last year. Fort Worth's increase was slightly less than 1,000 according to school authorities of that city.

Population of this city is now in excess of 20,000 while Fort Worth's population is 180,000.

Here 'Tis—No Wonder We Were At Sea About Lindy

This is Lindy's honey-moon boat. For a "tall blonde young man"—virtually identified as the flying colossus—stopped at Block Island off Newport, R. I., "didn't talk much," just ordered gasoline for this motor launch and then sailed away. The speedy, 38-foot, two-cabin cruiser "Mouette" pictured here was bought recently by Colonel Lindbergh and it is believed that he and his bride have been spending their honeymoon on the waters of Long Island Sound.

YORK HARBOR, Maine, June 6.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, accompanied by his wife of two weeks, the former Anne Morrow, was off the Maine coast tonight in the "honey-moon boat" Mouette.

H. M. Philbrick, proprietor of a fish company here, said that he recognized the famous aviator and much sought for when he tied his cabin cruiser up at his wharf this evening. "yes and no," was about all Philbrick was able to get out of the tall young man in the way of conversation.

Lindbergh took on a supply of gasoline, fresh water and ice sufficient to run him to North Haven, where the summer home of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow is situated.

Vatican Opens Portals Wide First Time Since 1870

ROME, June 6.—The Vatican city as a political entity will come into formal recognition tomorrow with the exchange of ratifications of the Lateran accords between the Italian government and the Holy See. Premier Mussolini will enter the Vatican for the first time in his life on the same day when it is rumored Pope Pius will make his exit.

Arrangements for the ceremony were concluded today. The brief proceedings, less ceremonial than first had been expected, will take place in the "Hall of Congregation" in the apartments of Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state.

Immediately after the exchange and the drawing up and signature of the process verbal attesting the exchange, the Vatican gates and the new frontiers of the Vatican city will be closed by the Swiss guards. The famous bronze doors, which never since the fall of temporal power in 1870, will be flung wide open as a symbol of liberation of the Pope from his self-imposed imprisonment.

Hoover To Forego Summer Vacation

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—President Hoover is to forego an extended summer vacation, but in the fall he will go to Cincinnati to speak at the three days' celebration to mark the opening of the great waterway lock system on the Ohio river.

Even should congress take an extended summer recess, Mr. Hoover does not plan to leave the national capital except for week-end trips to fishing grounds on the upper reaches of the Rapidan river in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia.

To Be In October

The president's trip to Cincinnati probably will be in October, as the ceremonies opening the Ohio waterway project will be fixed for a time suitable to his convenience. By that time friends of Mr. Hoover hope the legislative and administrative situation will be such as to permit him to absent himself from the capital for several weeks.

Attorneys Almost Come to Blows In Ray Adams Trial

Court Ruling Bars Seventy-Four Prosecution Witnesses In Murder Hearing at Corsicana Thursday

(By Associated Press)
CORSCICANA, June 6.—A near fist fight between attorneys and a court ruling barring 74 prosecution witnesses marked today's session of the V. Ray Adams murder trial. Adams took the stand and closed his defense by telling of the events leading up to the shooting last September in which Orville Meadows, election bet stakeholder, was killed on a busy Dallas street corner.

A ruling by Judge Hawkins Scarborough that the testimony as to Meadows' character was inadmissible barred 74 state rebuttal witnesses and brought testimony to an abrupt end. Court was adjourned until noon Friday to give the judge time to prepare his charge to the jury.

Fireworks Furnished
Ted Monroe, chief defense attorney and Bob Allen, assistant district attorney furnished the fireworks for the day when they engaged in a bitter argument over an answer from a witness. Courts recessed for noon shortly after Judge Scarborough had reproved the two and fined them five dollars each, but they resumed the argument during the recess and other attorneys and officers came between them to prevent them from coming to blows.

Theirs was shouting when they were separated. Most of Adams' testimony was

Stormy Session Marks Passage Of Census Bill

Successful Parliamentary Maneuvers of Party Leaders Feature Action On Bill Thursday

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—The census bill was passed by the House today after a stormy session marked by successful parliamentary maneuvers of party leaders for elimination of two amendments which they feared had endangered the re-appointment provisions of the legislation.

The bill goes back to the Senate for agreement to minor changes. Passage made it almost certain that House representation would be reapportioned among the various states on the basis of the 1930 census.

There has been no realignment of seats since 1911 although the constitution specifies that a reapportionment shall be made every ten years.

Consideration of the bill in the House was marked by a series of tense situations. It saw written into the measure and then stricken from it two proposals which would have made large reductions in the representation of industrial and possibly southern states.

The first was to exclude aliens from the count upon which reapportionment is based. The second would have excluded from the count disfranchised citizens and was aimed at southern states where it has been contended many negroes

Cutting swaths through young cotton and beating young fruit from trees hail storms fell in scattered sections of the South Plains area Wednesday night, punctuating a rainfall of varying precipitation.

Portions of Lynn county have been ravaged by hail, wind, excessive rains and lightning during the last two days. A strip of land approximately 15 miles long and five miles wide, west and northwest of Tahoka was reported as the section to receive the greatest damage.

With furious fury, the hail and wind injured several persons, killed hundreds of chickens and several head of livestock.

Acuff Suffers Loss
The Acuff community and territory several miles east suffered great losses from the hail farmers from that section report. All the cotton will have to be planted over on a score or more of farms. Farms of R. O. Moore, S. S. Rush, O. D. Pace, W. A. Davis and others received almost total losses.

Territory just north of Lamesa suffered from the hail, but not enough to necessitate replanting. Rainfall totalling three-fourths of an inch fell in Lamesa. Brownfield received .15 of an inch during Wednesday night but no hail.

Diplomatic Liquor Question Assumes Mysterious Angle

Published Reports That Sir Esme Howard Will Import No Liquor Not Accurate, Says Embassy

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—Social Washington was pondering tonight its latest question on diplomatic liquor—whether the British embassy will or will not be dry.

The situation took on an air of mystery after the floor of the senate described published reports that Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, had decided to import no more liquor as "not entirely accurate." They declined to indicate the discrepancies in the accounts and refused to comment.

It is known, however, that liquors have been served at the embassy since the ambassador recently expressed publicly his willingness to drop up to the embassy if the American government desired.

Comment was evoked at the state department and the floor of the senate for the first time today on the situation created by the ambassador's recent statement on the diplomatic liquor question.

Representatives Vote To Resolve Into Committee

Act As Grand Jury

General Land Commissioner Will Face Impeachment Trial If Any Charges Are Sustained by House

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, June 6.—The house of representatives today voted to resolve itself into a committee of the whole to hear testimony on 20 charges of alleged misappropriation of state funds and incompetency in office against J. T. Robison, commissioner of the general land office. The charges were filed by Representative Grady Woodruff of Decatur.

It was decided that the first testimony should be heard Monday. The house will act as a grand jury and in the event any of the charges are sustained will notify the senate, which sitting as a court of impeachment, would conduct the actual trial and decide finally whether the veteran official should be ousted from office.

Robison Hears Vote
When the house voted 85 to 33 in favor of the resolution by Representative Olan R. Van Zandt of Toga to consider the charges preferred under oath by Representative Woodruff, Robison, sitting in the gallery listening intently to what was going on on the floor.

This action was the result of a report of a joint investigating committee which conducted an inquiry into affairs of the general land office during the regular session. The committee filed its findings, severely criticizing acts of the commissioner, especially his administration.

Seek To Abandon City Well Test

Property Owners Will Ask City Commission to Halt Project In Northwest Section of Lubbock

The Lubbock City Commission will be asked to abandon its present project for a well test on the city property in northwest Lubbock, between Avenues U and V, and Fourth and Fifth streets, according to a group of property owners residing in that section of the city who are circulating a petition to that effect.

The petition will be presented to the City Commission within a few days, it was indicated.

Have 65 Signers
"We have about sixty-five signers to the petition, and will perhaps get many more," said C. D. Crump, one of the leaders of the movement, last night. "We feel that the city should show us the same consideration shown recently to property owners who petitioned for an abandonment of the proposed test on 19th street near the standpoint. We believe that the well will depreciate value of the property in this section of the city and will present an unsightly appearance."

Mr. Crump's statement was corroborated.

for Summer

Cool running at all speeds

No engine can knock and stay cool. Because Conoco Ethyl Gasoline eliminates knocks, it insures a cooler running engine. That's why Conoco Ethyl is the ideal summer motor fuel.

Of course, Conoco Ethyl is the essential fuel for high compression motors. Ethyl Fluid made these motors commercially possible. But Conoco Ethyl offers real economies for motors of ordinary compression, too. It greatly reduces wear and tear, produces more power, particularly in carbon coated motors, lessens gear shifting and makes hill climbing a sport instead of a burden.

Conoco Ethyl is not a carbon remover. But it does make carbon deposits a source of power in that these deposits decrease the combustion area in the cylinders, thereby automatically increasing the compression ratio. Conoco Ethyl functions perfectly under this increased pressure.

And remember Conoco Ethyl is a proper admixture of Conoco, the extra miles motor fuel, and Ethyl Fluid, developed by General Motors. All Ethyl Gasoline is not Conoco Ethyl. To be sure you are getting Conoco Ethyl fill only at those pumps which display the Conoco Ethyl sign.

Lelong Gives Snapshots Of Smart Paris Costumes

(Special Cable to Central Press) By LUCIEN Le LONG

One does not just "drop in" at the races, without premeditation, as one takes a turn in the Bois. One goes to the races because one loves them because of the eternal attraction of winning a bet or two, because they offer the opportunity to show oneself among one's peers. Each Parisienne has her own seat in the members' stand. Social observance is so scrupulous, in this aristocratic circle, that no woman would dream of taking another's place.

Straw Replaces Felt How pretty the women look in their spring costumes, wearing the large hats that all young feminine goes adopt as soon as the weather gives them an excuse. As soon as the sun is strong enough, straw hat replaces the winter hat, even with a tailored suit. This prevalent type of costume is seen in black, beige, or sometimes in the de sole, water-green or warm red. All the accessories of the toilet combine with the color chosen for the costume. Scotch plaids, hitherto reserved to woolen fabrics, are seen in spring in printed silks, especially in the charming three-piece costumes, fluttering with the least movement, which seem only to accentuate the slenderness of the female silhouette.

Loose Gloves Worn The real sportswoman, who carries her race glasses slung over her shoulder and never an opera glass carries also, on uncertain days, her smart umbrella, which permits her to go herself to the stands to make her bets. She also wears loose gloves in which she can easily mark her program with the ordinary wooden pencil, thrown away afterwards.

Dennis Lavender Remains Outstanding For Title By Eliminating Medalist And Defending Champion In Thursday Play

Nineteen-Year-Old Ex-Caddy of Abilene Shoots Only 1 Stroke Over Par In 30 Holes; Veterans Lose

DALLAS, June 6. (AP)—Favorites were stranded all over the Brook Hollow golf club tonight after Dennis Lavender, Abilene ace, and seven other sharpshooters, five of Dallas, had blazed their way through the first two rounds of match play in the state amateur.

Scarcely a player regarded as a favorite when the meet opened two days ago managed to survive the golf shot today by a group of youngsters just coming into their own and several oldsters who were thought to have seen their best days.

Lavender, 19-year-old ex-caddy, performed the outstanding feat and established himself a prime contender for the title when he eliminated both Ralph Guldahl, medalist, and Jack Speer of Houston, the defending champion. The West Texas links king was hotter than hot today, shooting only one stroke over par for the 30 holes. It required him to stop his opponents. Both Speer and Guldahl were four down at the turn and neither had a chance against Lavender's inspired game.

As Lavender swept into the favorite's position in the upper bracket, another youthful threat loomed in the lower. Glenn Crisman of Orange, they said tonight, was the boy to watch. Crisman, a former southern amateur champion, downed Willie Hunt, Houston veteran, 5 and 4 in the afternoon after stopping Reynolds Smith, Dallas, 7 and 5, in the morning.

Results of other matches: Charles Dexter, Dallas, eliminated Louis Jacoby, Dallas, 3-4 and Gaston Peck, Galveston, 1 up.

M. L. "Hap" Mastinell, Fort Worth, defeated Gus Moreland, Dallas, 3-1, and O. S. Carleton, Houston, 4-3.

Dr. S. M. Hill, Dallas, defeated Morris Norton, Wichita Falls, 3-2 and Neil Smith, Dallas, 2-1.

Jack Jackson, Dallas, beat Bob Alexander, Wichita Falls, 5-3 and Benny Estep, Dallas, 3-2.

Gibson Payne, Dallas, won from Ben Hogan, Fort Worth, 5-4 and Alvin Herold, Dallas, 3 up.

Lanham Connor, Dallas, won from Leonard Atwell, Houston, 3-1, and Dick Nault, Houston, 3-1.

ST. LOUIS, June 6. (AP)—Although outbatted by the Cardinals, 11 to 7, the Giants shaded the Cardinals by 5 to 4 today in the second game of the series. Larry Benton was tight in the pinches, but Harold Hald permitted, Bill Terry to hit for four bases in the third. The giants have won five out of six in the west.

Jackson Limits Santa Fe Outfit To Three Bingles

Red Terry and Company Go Notch Higher In Close Scramble for Leadership In Twilight League

Gilbert Jackson stepped in the box with his good right arm in working order Thursday evening and turned back the onrushing Santa Fe sluggers, 3 to 1, in the fastest baseball exhibition staged in the Twilight League this season.

The versatile Jackson not only limited the Railroaders to 3 hits but fielded his position brilliantly, throwing out six baserunners and gathering in one pop foul next to the stands on a dead run.

His Scarce The energetic Hargrove failed to inspire his cohorts to their usual scoring rally in the final innings. Jackson's change of pace had the entire Santa Fe Murderers row and all baffled. Martin P. Gailey and Lemons were the only Railroaders to reach first base via the bingle route.

Dunlap, on the mound for the losers, failed to show the same effectiveness that has characterized his pitching performance in previous games this season. The Hardware boys collected nine hits off his delivery.

Hardware counted twice in the third frame on hits by Luenberger and Hallmark. The Dutchman led off with a well-smacked single to center field and galloped on around when Hallmark sent one to deep center for three bases. Hallmark scored when Dunlap cut loose with a wild pitch that Gailey was unable to reach.

Lemons Counts One

Lemons counted the sole run for the Railroaders in the fifth after he had led off with a single through the box. He advanced to second on Martin's bingle and went to third as Dowell forced Martin at second after Bowers went out to center field. Lemons crossed the rubber when Cruise fumbled Watkins' hard-hit grounder. Clements fanned the breeze on his third strike, to end the threat.

The defeat put the Santa Fe back into the 500 class alongside the Hardware Dealers who gained a notch in the league race. Carpenter-Painters meet the Auto-Barbers today.

National Meet To Draw 322 Entries

CHICAGO, June 6. (AP)—Bent on winning new glories and sending more marks into a tailspin, 322 athletic stars representing 79 universities and colleges in 28 states assembled tonight for the eighth annual national collegiate track and field meet.

It was the largest and brightest entry in the history of the meet, which will be decided on the University of Chicago's Stagg Field tomorrow and Saturday. Eleven of the athletes were members of America's 1928 Olympic team.

On the basis of past performances and team balance, the Universities of Washington, Illinois and Southern California were favorites.

The duels for first places in the 100 and 200-yard dash events stood out. Claude Bracey of Rice Institute, Texas; George Simpson, Ohio State; Eddie Tolan, Michigan, and Cy Leland of Texas Christian, all of whom have been clocked at 99.5-100 seconds this year in the century will compete along with seven others who have bettered the present national mark of :99.8-10.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT O love the Lord, all ye his saints: for the Lord preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

IT PAYS TO BE CAREFUL THERE IS a warning in the fate of the Lawler family of Abilene.

You'll remember, probably, that Mr. and Mrs. Lawler, with their little daughter, were apartment hunting in the Taylor county capital. They found an apartment which they thought might suit them but the interior was too dark to easily perceive details.

Mr. Lawler struck a match. In the explosion which followed Lawler was immediately killed and his wife and baby were so badly injured that they died later, in a hospital. Escaping gas had filled the apartment and when the match was struck death stalked, triumphant.

There are many perennial house and apartment hunters in Lubbock. Scores of people are moving here all the time. It might easily happen that a similar tragedy be chalked up here and the entire community have thrown over it a damper of despair.

When you vacate a house see that all the gas jets are turned completely shut. And when you go to inspect a place in which you may want to live, check the jets before you light any matches.

In the long run it pays to be careful.

FEUDO AUTHORITIES Blessed is the man who invented sleep, quoth that philosopher, Sancho Panza, and many weary generations of men have echoed this benediction as they arose refreshed from the healing oblivion of slumber.

But an even greater blessing than sleep is the capacity to wake from the fantasies of foolish dreams, to throw them off and see ourselves as others see us.

Delusion of grandeur are common among the mentally afflicted and some others, but they are rare among the great leaders of industry, finance, exploration and invention, who create or conquer new worlds. The Morgans, the Rockefellers, the Carnegies, the Hills, the Edisons have generally been men of one-track minds who knew their limitations and the sort of jobs they could perform.

Carnegie, though he understood the value of literature and endowed it in perpetuity did not think of himself as a literary man, and was content to produce steel rails rather than write books or poems. Barnum, the world's greatest circus man, never went in for grand opera, and so on through the long list of captains of industry.

Would that some of the less great were like them. The men and women who set themselves up as authorities in every department of human conduct and every phase of national life constitute no small army which is both a nuisance and a menace.

The menace lies in the fact that a certain portion of the populace takes them at their word. Then the harm is done. The true colors and mental registers of every spokesman and person with a cause should be publicly advertised. The phrase "authority on the subject" has come to mean anyone who chooses to express an opinion and so many opinions are erroneous.

A LAME DUCK WILL RULE THEM We can not consider the appointment of Theodore Roosevelt as governor of Porto Rico an act of wisdom on the part of the president.

Ever since the passage of the Foraker act in 1899, our government has shown itself dense and careless about the people of this island possession, who had welcomed our armies two years before with flowers and song because they felt the coming of the Americans meant the dawn of a new era of opportunity and progress. Well, there has been progress, schools, sanitation, health have been improved, but an intelligent, industrious and freedom-loving people who elect their own municipal officers and their own legislature are not allowed to name their own governor.

Who are these people? The census of 1920 disclosed 948,769 whites, nearly all of pure Spanish descent; only 49,246 negroes and 301,814 mulattos, chiefly a mixture of negro and Indian blood.

Between 1890 and 1896 the population of Porto Rico quadrupled, due to an influx of loyal Spaniards from the revolting countries of South America. These people took root, acquired farms and businesses and made Porto Rico one of the most stable of Spanish possessions, little troubled by revolutionary propaganda. They were opposed to slavery, and that institution had long been on the down grade when the Spanish Cortes ratified public sentiment by abolishing it in 1873. This opposition to slavery accounts for the relatively small negro population—less proportionately than that of Cuba, and far below that of our Southern states.

The whites of Porto Rico are the dominant people. It is they who have taken eagerly to education, who have accepted and enforced health suggestions, who have cooperated with every movement for their own advancement—and who, nevertheless, are not considered capable of electing their own chief administrative officer! The idea of Porto Rico must remain a spoil for the party in power, a consolation for some political lame duck, is crude and unworthy. The people of Porto Rico have shown in every way that they are entitled to regulate their own affairs with as much freedom as any one of the 48 states.

Michigan is trying to select a state bird. Memories of that life-for-a-pint law lead us to suggest the goose.

To the true worth of many a man is never recognized in his lifetime, and a cat is only a cat until it dies and becomes coalskin.

Think how much a thick make-up would have prospected the old-fashioned girl from a scratchy mustache.

INTER-OCEANIC WATERWAYS AUTHORITY SUGGESTS THREE ALTERNATIVE ROUTES FOR LINKING ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC

BY CHARLES F. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 6.—"Even supposing the United States should decide to dig another ditch between the oceans, in addition to the Panama canal, the Nicaragua route is not the only one available."

The suggestion is a former Isthmian canal commissioner—also former head of the Canal Zone department of the civil administration—Representative Maurice H. Thatcher of Kentucky, by far the best informed member of congress on the subject of inter-oceanic waterways.

Besides, as the Kentuckian remarks, it will be quite a while before Panama's capacity is exhausted.

In fact, army engineers either already are tinkering with, or planning, extensions and improvements which they calculate will make the present canal adequate for all shipping requirements until 2060.

"In the meantime," agrees the representative, "it is highly desirable for Uncle Sam to hang onto all the rights he has acquired, and to make the necessary surveys for a new waterway."

"However, it is a trifle early to begin worrying about it seriously."

But what about the possibility of a war?—and the blowing up of the Panama canal by some enemy? What a fix Uncle Samuel would be in then!—For any way to get his fighting fleet from the Pacific to the Atlantic, and vice versa.

"Maybe it would be just as well," thinks Representative Thatcher, "for us to concentrate on our defenses at Panama and Colon rather than to consider dividing them up between those two ports and the opposite ends of another canal."

But to return to the three alternatives to the Nicaragua route—a somewhat novel suggestion, for Nicaragua has been discussed so much recently that many folk may have imagined the new canal, if any, will have to be dug there or nowhere.

1. About 100 miles east of Colon and Panama is a practicable route from the Gulf of Darien, on the Caribbean side, to San Miguel bay, opening out into the Pacific.

Its length is about the same as the Colon-Panama route's. It crosses some pretty rough country, but none to terrify modern engineering experts.

2. Another 100 miles or so beyond, across Colombian territory, is what is known as the Atrato river route.

Canal planners of a couple of generations ago thought well of it. The distance is three or four times the Colon-Panama journey, but the Atrato river—a big, navigable stream cuts off about three-quarters of it.

3. Finally, away "way off from Panama—more than 1,000 miles to the northwest—in Mexico, is the Isthmus of Tehuantepec route.

The Isthmus of Tehuantepec has tempted would-be canal builders—and yet scared the life out of them—for many of the decade. Digging a Tehuantepec canal certainly would be a contract for genius, but one dug, such a canal would be a treasure.

It would have to be approximately 125 miles long with a 785-foot lift over the isthmian divide.

The promoters would also have to dicker with Mexico.

This might not be as easy as dealing with Panama or Nicaragua.

Yet a canal at that particular spot on earth would be at the very hub of international travel right through the Americas.

By all odds it would be the world's greatest imaginable canal—not only to dig, but to control after it was finished. As compared with Panama, it would save the bulk of inter-oceanic shipping from 1,500 to 2,000 miles of steaming regardless of its port of origin or destination.

As for the Panama ditch the engineers present job is to dam the Chagres river at Alhajuela—for which congress will shortly have to appropriate some money.

The Alhajuela dam's purpose is to provide more water for increased lockage facilities and to permit keeping the canal open on a 24-hour schedule.

There are many reasons for this. As has been pointed out by many observers the vast majority of human ailments seen early can be taken care of by a general practitioner with the amount of equipment that he can carry in his handbag.

In the difficult case however, it may be necessary to use of X-ray, to have blood counts, to examine the excretions of the body, to use all of the machinery that is today available only in the offices of specialists in clinics and in hospitals. These things require the attention of a considerable number of trained personnel.

Clinics Increase. The clinics of this country have increased from some 600 in 1910 to some 6,000 in 1926. In 1900 there were only 100 clinics. Of the 6,000 in operation today, 700 are concerned with tuberculosis 900 with venereal disease, 400 with mental disease and almost 200 with the diseases of the heart, responsible for more mortality than are any other diseases in this country.

The hospitals of the nation have increased in number until today there are almost 8,000 as contrasted with hundreds 25 years ago.

Whereas some three or four hundred nurses were graduated from hospital training schools in 1880, this year approximately 18,000 nurses were graduated and the cost of operating the training schools is a part of the cost of hospital care.

Approximately one attendant was required for each person in a hospital in 1910 while today there are from three to four attendants for each person in the hospital, including doctors, nurses, orderlies, staff clerks, laboratory workers, engineers, maids, cooks, laundry workers and what not. These also must be included in the cost of medical care.

It may be argued that the only portion of the problem that concerns the physician is his own fee. Such an argument would not be true to the ideals or the nature of the medical profession. The care of the sick is the doctors' problem.

Group Associations. To save in the cost of overhead associated with the refinements of modern medical practice, specialists soon began to associate themselves in groups so that they might jointly use the expensive apparatus and the services of technicians. Such associations have been made in group clinics, hospital centers, or in office units.

Let's Hope He Will Never Be Able To Flag It!

RICH GIRL & POOR GIRL & RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED MILDRED LAWRENCE falls in love with STEPHEN ARMITAGE, who is lured away from her by PAMELA JUDSON, when she tells him Mildred is trying to marry her brother, HAROLD, for his money. Harold fears HUCK CONNOR, who is blackmailing him over a forged check. Huck is infatuated with Pamela and when she announces her engagement to Stephen frames him for the theft of an auto and causes his arrest. Pamela drops Stephen, but Mildred tries to get him out of jail. Harold had once told her he loved Huck, who had threatened to get rid of Stephen to keep him from marrying Pamela. Mildred begs Stephen out and Pamela begs her forgiveness. Going from the jail to his hotel with a detective, Stephen realizes they are followed. As the cars pass close, the thug shoots at the detective but misses as the latter chatters his wreath with a quick shot, thereby saving Stephen. The thug makes a getaway and they learn he was driving a stolen car. Stephen reports to Mr. Judson and learns that it was Mildred, not Pamela, who had worked for him. He is horrified when he tells that she also had been injured by a shot from one of the gangsters.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XLII Stephen seemed to freeze to the young man seemed oblivious to Pamela's charm. Pamela noticed it, too but she put it down to oppression. Who wouldn't be tongue-tied with a future father-in-law glowering across the table at you, let alone a high-hat future step-mother-in-law? She tried to coax her father into a better mood but he paid no attention to her.

"You'd better not keep your young man up late," her father said to her when they left the table. "And you're looking terribly rocky yourself." Mrs. Judson supplemented, thinking of the new necklace Pamela had got. She didn't see why an unmarried girl should have so many jewels.

"Oh, I won't need to worry until I'm after my third husband," Pamela retorted behind her father's back.

Her step-mother, having married three times, turned angrily away to the small salon that adjoined the parlor and seated herself at the Florentine piano to murder Debussy.

Pamela drew Stephen off into a corner and offered him a cigarette. Mr. Judson left no attempt to come business in his office.

"At last we have a chance to talk," Pamela said and settled herself far back on a saken couch.

Her costume was a very thin one and Stephen thought she must be cold and got up to close one of the French windows that opened onto a small balcony.

When he reached it he stepped out drawn by the beauty of the sky that glinted with stars—stars that he hadn't seen for weeks.

He looked a moment at them and then leaned over to view the constellations right below.

With a choked cry and a bound Pamela was running toward him. He turned in surprise.

"Oh, don't do that," she cried and grasped his arm with all her might.

"What's the matter? You're trembling all over. You might fall over. Oh, don't do that, dox please!"

She was leaning against him here. (To Be Continued)

eyes wide with terror, shaking like a leaf. "Nonsense," Stephen said un- gently, but Pamela continued to cling to him.

"I couldn't bear to lose you, too, Steve. Oh, I love you so dearly," she wailed.

Stephen put an arm around her to lift her away so he could close the window. The feel of her slim young body aroused no tender emotion in him, but he was touched by her emotion.

"Poor kid," he murmured and pressed her closer.

Her father, returning, entered the room before Pamela drew herself out of Stephen's embrace.

He stood for a moment surveying the young couple with a perplexed expression on his weary features. Could he have been mistaken? Had the coldness he believed he saw in Stephen been only the result of shyness? But Stephen's interest in Mildred?

He got no further in his thoughts. Stephen saw him and quickly thrust Pamela away.

"Here's the key to your room," Mr. Judson said, advancing with outstretched hand. "Your things have arrived. The management of the hotel where you lived had them placed in storage. I hope you will find everything in order."

"Thank you," Stephen said. "There was nothing important, mostly clothing. One of the boys from Mettles was and enough to look after the things I valued."

He turned to Pamela to say good-night, remarking that he would like to unpack his things. In reality he wanted to get away and telephone Mildred's home to inquire how she was getting along. An earlier call, just through by Mr. Judson, had acquainted them with her safe arrival at the flat.

"You can't go so early," Pamela declared solemnly. "Why, we haven't settled anything about our wedding."

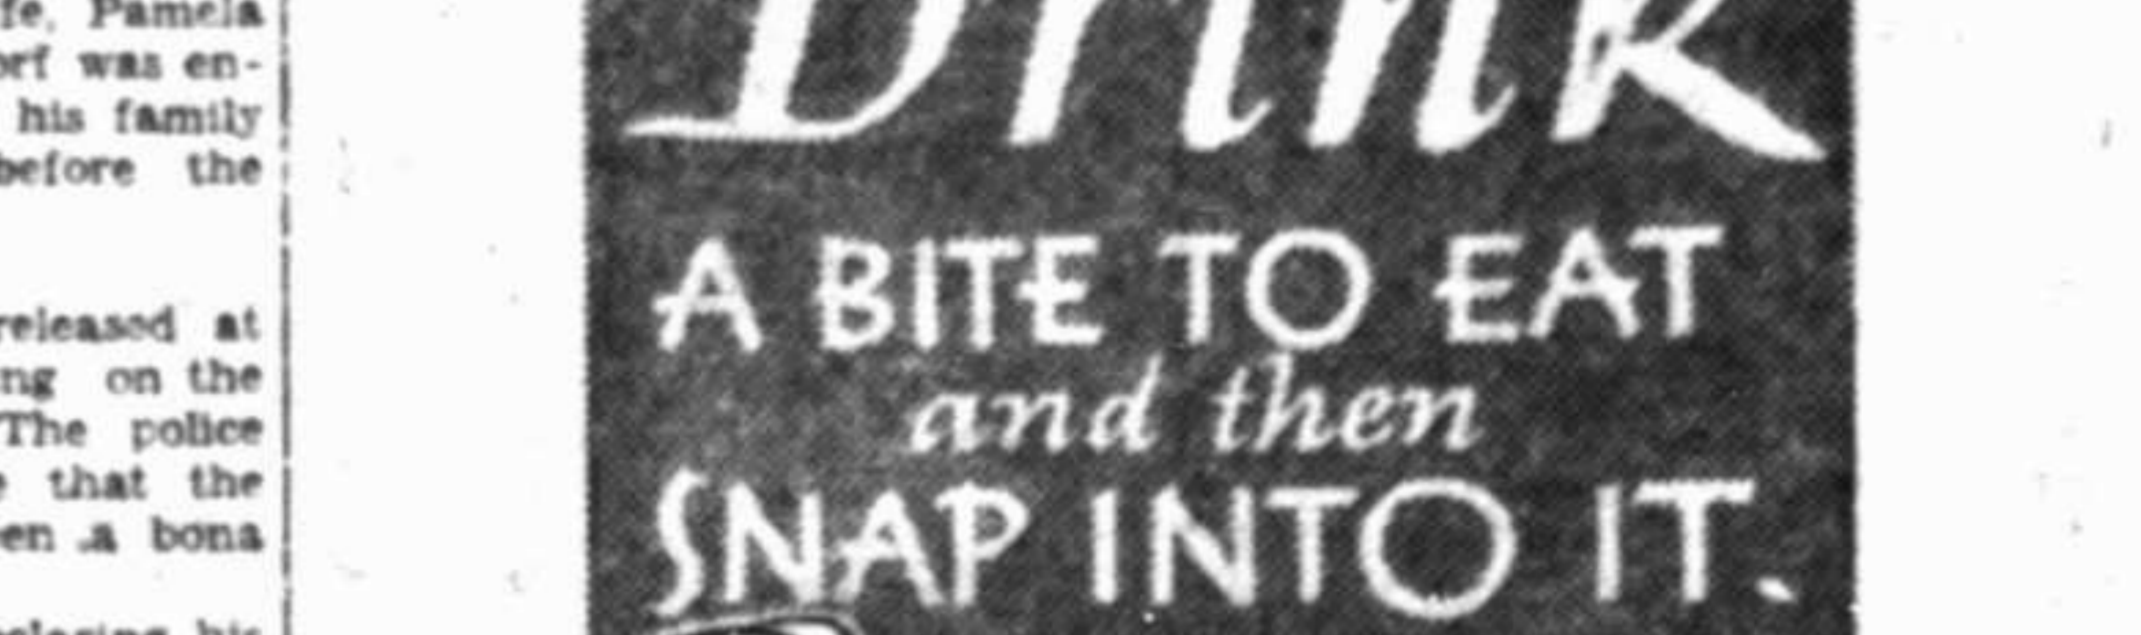

Her father looked at her with un-derstandable than she was accus- tomed to see on his face.

Control Of Cancer Is Given New Hope

WASHINGTON, June 6. (AP)—New hope of controlling cancer in the United States was held out today by Doctor James Ewing, head of the pathology department of Cornell university and a student of the disease for more than 20 years.

Addressing the closing session of the annual convention of the state provincial health officers with the public health service, Doctor Ewing outlined a program of cancer control through "cancer institutions" located in all large cities, each equipped with one-half to one million dollars worth of radium treatment apparatus, a staff of surgeons and other scientific experts.

West Texas Oil Suit Withdrawn

AUSTIN, June 6. (AP)—The case of Mrs. Marrie A. Smith against C. R. Sutton, involving title to valuable oil lands in West Texas, was withdrawn today from the commission of appeals by an order of the supreme court and set down for hearing before the court on October 30.

The court also invited attention of counsel for all parties in the case to certain constitutional provisions, statutes and authorities "in so far as they may throw light upon any issue in the case."

Nearly 2,000,000 passengers from abroad arrived at French ports last year.

The railroad connecting Guatemala and El Salvador is to be completed this year.

MOODY UNDECIDED

AUSTIN, June 6. (AP)—Governor Moody had not reached a decision at noon today on the petition asking commutation of the death sentence of A. J. (Pete) McKenzie, scheduled to be electrocuted in Huntsville prison tomorrow for the murder of Chief of Detectives Sam Street of San Antonio.

He sent word to newspapermen he had nothing to give out.

MRS. RUSSELL HAD ABOUT LOST FAITH IN ALL MEDICINES

I had suffered two years, and had taken so much medicine without relief. I had about lost faith in all of it. My husband had been taking the Sargon treatment. It did him so much good, I decided to try it. And it did more for me than all the other medicines put together.

"I was run-down and very nervous. My rest at night was broken, and in the day, I felt listless, lacked energy and was irritable and out of sorts. I felt so badly I did very little housework, and what little I did exhausted me. Constipation and biliousness bothered me continually, and severe headaches frequently put me in bed. After watching the remarkable improvement Sargon made in Mr. Russell's condition, I started taking it, and almost with the first few doses I felt better. Then day by day I grew stronger, enjoyed splendid sleep at night, and every bit of nervousness left me. Now I enjoy strength and energy I hadn't felt for years. Now my housework is really a pleasure.

"My liver has been stimulated, and my system entirely rid of poisons, thanks to Sargon Soft Mass Pills. I never knew what a wonderful laxative they don't shock or upset, and yet so naturally, you never feel like you have been taking medicine. I am certainly grateful to this wonderful treatment, and I am telling all my friends what it did for me."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Martha Russell, a highly esteemed resident of 4148 Travis St., Dallas.

Sargon may be obtained in Lubbock at the City Drug Stores and in Slaton at the City Drug Store. Adv.

Well Known Lubbock Water Work Employee Says After Taking Orgatone He Feels Better Than In Years

Mr. E. Denney, of 1806 Ninth St. is still another well known Lubbock man whose deep sense of gratitude and his desire to help others will not permit him to remain silent in regard to the benefits he has derived from the use of the remarkable medicine, Orgatone.

Mr. Denney, came into Bowen's Drug Store a few days ago, for more Orgatone and in a conversation with the Orgatone representative, said: "I never thought I would give a statement for publication and I never have until now. But Orgatone is the only medicine that has ever benefited me and it has done me so much good I feel it my duty for the sake of others to tell about it."

"I had a tired languid feeling all the time for many years. I suffered terribly from nervous indigestion, and felt like I had a big, hot knot in my stomach all the time. I could eat nothing without suffering afterwards, had severe headaches, and was so nervous I could hardly sleep at all. Many a night I would just toss and roll all night long and feel so tired and worn out in the mornings. I could hardly get about. I had the best of treatment and tried every kind of medicine until I thought nothing could give me any relief. I got so I was very lightest of diet. I looked well afraid to eat anything except the and healthy and for that reason I got little or no sympathy, but I suffered more than anybody knows."

"Yes, I tried every kind of medicine I knew of but nothing helped me until I began taking Orgatone. At first, that is before I tried it, I just thought Orgatone was like everything else I had used, and I tell you the truth, I had very little faith in it, but I read so many testimonials from people right here in Lubbock and all over Texas, that I decided to try it and I'm mighty glad I did. "I feel now like I never had stomach trouble, my digestion is fine and I am eating many things I have not been able to eat before in years. My headaches are gone, I'm not nervous anymore, and I sleep like a child every night. Orgatone has relieved me of all that tired, languid, run-down feeling and has built me up in every way so that I now enjoy living more than I have in many years. Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock by the Bowen's Drug Store, under the personal direction of an Orgatone representative. Adv."

Volcano Eruption Flow Diminished

NAPLES, June 6. (AP)—Dozens of families returned tentatively to abandoned houses in the village of Terzigno and the surrounding district this afternoon on publication of news from the Mount Vesuvius observatory that the flow of lava which the great volcano has been sending forth since Monday had decidedly diminished. Earth shocks accompanied the volcanic explosions this morning.

A tabulation of damage showed that 50 houses were destroyed, containing 147 habitations occupied by 78 families. One hundred and twenty-five acres of ground were covered with lava, of which about 90 were cultivated and in vineyards, and the rest forest.

Another spasm shook the volcano late tonight. The explosions shook the ground so that doors and windows miles away rattled. The earth trembled for twenty minutes, the greater. Little fountains of liquor fire sprung up and lasted for some minutes and there was copious ejection of luminous missiles.

tion of the one-cent an acre fund collected to pay expenses of reapportionment of state lands under the act of 1925.

Speaker, W. S. Barron will act as chairman of the committee. Attorneys will be chosen to present evidence in support of the charges and Commissioner Robison will be permitted to select his own legal counsel.

Senate Considers Departmental Bill

AUSTIN, June 6. (AP)—Having passed the eleventh and judiciary appropriation bills, the senate was in the midst of consideration of the departmental bill at adjournment today.

Turning aside for a time from proposed impeachment of J. T. Robison, commissioner of the general land office, the house returned to appropriations and working on the eleventh bill when the day's work was finished.

Senator A. J. Wirtz of Secuin lost his fight to reduce the number of men on the state ranger force from 36 to 30 after the law enforcement officers were defended by Senators Tom Love of Dallas and Walter Woodul of Houston.

Senators Wirtz contended that the law was being enforced in Texas now as it had never been before and argued that there was no need of a big ranger force.

There are more convictions in the courts fewer reversals and more trials than ever before, he said. Senators T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and Eugene Miller of Weatherford deplored the use of rangers.

The expenditure of money to send a ranger to Galveston the other night to stop a prize fight when a request to the sheriff could have sufficed, Senator Holbrook declared.

Senator Wirtz was successful in cutting $30,000 from the $11,000,000 for training expenses of the banking department for the year 1929-30. He also secured an appropriation for inspection and eradication of citrus canker and Mexican fruit fly in the department of agriculture section from $25,000 to $25,000 each year of the biennium.

The senate added $22,500 to the eleventh bill, bringing the total to $113,334,090. Additions included $1,500 to purchase 26 acres of land for use by the Rusk State Hospital and $2,000 for each of the two years for a dairy specialist at the Wichita Falls state hospital, also $7,500 each year to purchase dairy stock.

Law Enforcement

a resolution authorizing a joint committee of seven, three to be appointed by Vice President Curtis and four by Speaker Longworth.

To Consider Resolution The resolution was referred to the judiciary committee and Chairman Norris said it would be considered at the regular meeting next Monday.

As administration officials explained the president regarded unification of the enforcement agencies as highly important, and that he had asked congress to name a joint committee at this time so that a program can be made ready for consideration by congress early in the regular session which begins December 2.

An inter-departmental committee has been making a preliminary survey of this question under the direction of James M. Moran, prohibition commissioner, and it will cooperate with the congressional committee, as will be national law enforcement commission, which in the course of its work will make a study of this whole question.

An administration official explained it, the transfer of the enforcement department machinery to the justice department involves an extensive study of existing laws and regulations as well as of policy in dealing with the coast guard and customs services, which now are integral parts of the treasury and were created early in the life of the republic to deal with the administration and enforcement of the customs laws and regulations.

Whether these units can be administered to better advantage in the justice department is one of the major decisions which must be made in determining upon the whole transfer program. Another important question is where the alcohol permit division of the prohibition unit is to go.

The president's decision to bring about unification of the border patrol is in line with his recognized policy for consolidation of related governmental agencies and activities in the interest of efficiency.

Hail Storms

the destructive hail which covered sections north and west of Tahoka Wednesday night, much other damage from wind, hail, and lightning has been reported from over the county during the week.

A small cyclone traveling south of Grassland Tuesday afternoon destroyed a barn and windmill on the Bryant Mathis place. The same afternoon lightning struck and burned a barn near Wilson. Another stroke of lightning killed a mule on the C. T. Tankersley farm west of town.

The hail Wednesday afternoon killed hundreds of chickens for many farmers, and tore up many house roofs and small buildings.

While dragging the road north of town, Sam Weathers noticed the approaching hailstorm and drove his team under a shed. The shed was blown down and one of his mules killed.

Henry Short, Dixie farmer, reports that one of his mules was killed in the hailstorm and another badly crippled.

C. T. Tankersley and family in one car, and J. M. Noble, in another, were caught in the storm on their way home, and were injured when hail beat through the tops and sides of their cars. Mr. Noble received several cuts on the face from hail and broken glass, one of Mr. Tankersley's hands was cut, and his daughter, Miss Geneva Tankersley, received several cuts and bruises on the lower limbs.

Posey and Acuff Are Damaged

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, June 6.—Accompanying rain of one to two inches which covered this section late Wednesday, a hail storm struck parts of Posey and Acuff communities west and north of Slaton, destroying crops through an area about three miles wide and ten or twelve miles long, several thousand acres of cotton and feed that had already been planted from two to three times must be replanted again. Sufficient seed for replanting are available locally, it is believed.

The hail damaged roofs and broke window panes in several residences. Many chickens pigs and other small animals were killed reports said.

Snyder Girl Is Struck by Lightning

DALLAS, June 6. (AP)—Electrical storms bringing a wind, hail and rain struck a number of sections of west and north Texas last night, injuring a child probably fatally, causing less serious injuries to several others and doing considerable property and crop damage.

The cause of the storm probably was caused at Roaring Springs, Motley county, where between 10 and 12 inches of rain fell upon a five square mile area.

Streets of Roaring Springs were flooded and several houses were washed from their foundations. The storm did considerable damage to property and crops, was expected to reach $350,000. Roaring Springs has a population of 500. Crops in a strip approximately five miles wide and 15 miles long were destroyed.

Several persons were injured and a burning house killed. Other communities nearby also felt the storm.

Juanita Hardy, a 12-year-old girl was struck by lightning while gathering turkey eggs at her home near Kian. She said she had better be careful, the witness testified.

Before the third meeting with Mathews at which the shooting occurred, Adams said, a friend, Buck Ellis, warned him that Richards had been arrested for carrying a gun.

The threat that precipitated the shooting, the defendant testified, was as Mathews was standing in front of the bank with his hands in his pockets.

Goerner Testimony Concluded Thursday CALDWELL, Tex. June 6.—(AP)—Testimony in the Ed Goerner murder trial closed here late today. Arguments were set for tomorrow morning.

Goerner was charged with the fatal shooting of his wife at the Goerner farm, Bastrop county, in April, 1927.

corroborated by J. E. Walker and T. F. Adams, others who are leading in circulation the petition.

Woods Makes Statement "I don't believe the petitioners will oppose our plans when they understand the circumstances," Mayor H. D. Woods said. "After explaining our plans to loan companies, we were advised that the well, a unit of the city water system, will cause no depreciation on value of property in that section of the city. We propose to erect an imposing brick or stucco building at the site, which will be bordered by green shrubbery. The reservoir will be 45 feet in diameter. There will be nothing unsightly about the appearance of the station."

"Pressure of the standpipe would make installation of the well on 19th street a risky problem. Only two small lots, almost under the water tower, are owned by city at that location. The formation would not withstand the weight, we fear."

Youth Held for Disappearance of College Girl AUSTIN, June 6. (AP)—Jack Freith, sought by officers since last January 29, when Miss Fanne Lee Minter, University of Texas student, disappeared from her home here, was in the Travis county jail tonight.

He was brought back today from New Bedford, Mass., by Sheriff Coley White. He and Miss Minter were detained there two weeks ago and Governor Moody issued a requisition for his return to answer an indictment for swindling.

Attorneys Fight

corroborated by W. T. Ramsey, Adams associate in the fatal wager. Both men told of coming to Dallas before Ben C. Richards Jr. $1,000 on the Connally-Maryfield race and depositing the money with Mathews.

When they went to collect their winnings they said Mathews showed them a telegram and a letter supporting it by from Ramsey and the payment of the money to a Claude R. Vest of Waco. On a second visit, Adams said, Mathews warned him that Richards was a big politician and cyclops of the Klan. He said I had better be careful, the witness testified.

Before the third meeting with Mathews at which the shooting occurred, Adams said, a friend, Buck Ellis, warned him that Richards had been arrested for carrying a gun.

The threat that precipitated the shooting, the defendant testified, was as Mathews was standing in front of the bank with his hands in his pockets.

Ask Death Of Bob Silver

BRYAN, June 6. (AP)—The death of Bob Silver was asked of the jury here tonight in closing arguments of prosecution attorneys just before the jury received the case.

Silver was charged with robbery with firearms in connection with his escape from a Texas state prison farm where he was serving a life sentence on another charge of robbery with firearms.

Silver's attorneys argued tonight that the state's two and only witnesses testified they did not see Silver with any firearms when he commandeered their automobile for a ride to Houston.

His attorneys also pointed out that since Silver, in conversation with those in the car, said he would leave the machine for them in Houston, there was in reality no robbery as he was without intent to convert it permanently to his own use.

There appeared to be few manifestations of approval of the contemplated action of Mr. Egan among his colleagues of the diplomatic corps.
