Wild Weather Rakes Area Near Vernon

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms swept North Central Texas ahead of a sluggish cold front today in the wake of a wild afternoon and night of severe weather in the Vernon area in which a tornado was sighted.

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey K. Coker, who live north of Vernon said the twister tore the tin roof off their barn and hurled it 200 feet.

"It was close enough that we didn't make it to the cellar," said Mrs. Coker. "Nobody got hurt."

Mrs. Coker said the tornado hit about 3:30 p.m. Sunday and heavy rain pounded the area. Coker estimated about two inches of rain soaked the ground.

Mrs. Coker said the tornado brushed by their home and "tore a screen door off."

The front stretched across Texas from near Lake Texoma to the New Mexico border near Hobbs. The Weather Bureau said the front should move in the eastern sector, but remain stationary in West Texas.

The forecast called for thundershowers today and tonight over north and West Texas with cooler readings along the Red River and continued warm elsewhere.

Radar was picking up thundershowers early today in the Wichita Falls area stretching all the way to Ardmore, Okla.

No general relief was in sight for the deepening Texas drought. However, a five-day forecast indicates the state may get some needed moisture, particularly in North Central, Northeast, and Southeast Texas.

Presidio again was the state and the nation's hotspot Sunday with 99 degrees as the summerlike heat wave continued.

LANDMARK GOES — Workmen are busy dismantling the old Santa Fe freight house off the Old Lubbock Highway. The building, erected in 1908, has long been a landmark here. The materials will be sent to the Davis Mountains where it will be used at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch. Bob Bell, adult scout worker, is busy removing lumber.

US Hints Of New Latin-Trade Policy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay, (AP) — The United States, besieged by clamor for bigger Latin shares of U.S. markets, left the door open a crack today, with the hint that President Johnson may offer this gift at the summit.

While refusing to open a special door through U.S. trade barriers, Secretary of State Dean Rusk did agree after 11 wearing hours of bargaining in a presummit conference to permit Alliance for Progress dollars to be spent outside the United States.

Rusk insisted to his tired colleagues, however, that this could be done only "to the maximum extent consistent with the balance of payment position of the capital exporting countries."

The possibility that President Johnson might breach the protective wall around U.S. markets for the Latin Americans could be read between the words of U.S. official sources.

One such top source two days ago said in answer to a reporter's question about Latin trade preference "I don't think I ought to scoop the President."

The alliance spending agreement stood as a major concession by Rusk.

Earlier, a U.S. official source said alliance dollars could be spent only for U.S. goods and services "because of the balance of payments."

The United States gave in after foreign ministers of the hemisphere harped in speech after speech on the need for preferential entry into U.S. markets by Latin products and commodities.

Rusk hoped his alliance spending back-up might stem the rising demands for access to U.S. markets. Since trade represents 98 per cent of Latin income and aid only 2 per cent, it appeared somewhat a calculated risk.

This and other stubborn snags still faced the ministers as they went into closed-door bargaining again today, the pace stepped up as American presidents began arriving for their summit confrontation beginning in 48 hours.

In today's early hours, the ministers set in motion measures intended to lead to a common market for 230 million Latin Americans.

Rains Soak Wide Areas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms soaked a wide section from New England to Oklahoma today. Flood threats hung over the Mississippi River Valley.

The storms formed along a line of advancing cold air which lowered temperatures in the north central section of the nation below freezing.

A tornado blew the roof from a barn near Summit in northeast Oklahoma. A half inch of rain fell at drought - parched Tulsa.

The Mississippi is expected to hit its second highest crest Tuesday at Prairie du Chien, Wis. Some 130 families have been evacuated and large dikes have been built to cope with a crest of 21.3 feet. Flood stage is 18 feet.

Hail the size of golf balls peppered areas near Springfield, Mo., Sunday.

Showers were developing in the western third of the nation. The rain was expected to spread over the Pacific Coast states later in the day.

Temperatures were warm all through the South. South winds from the Gulf of Mexico brought early morning temperatures in the mid 70s in the Gulf states and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Mao Steps Up Attacks On Liu

By EUGENE LEVIN

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's forces, reportedly bolstered by a 6-5 endorsement in the Chinese Communist party's policy-making body, stepped up its attacks on President Liu Shao-chi today. It accused him of "eight serious crimes" and charged he was a "traitor."

The new attacks against Liu, already denounced as a counter-revolutionary, indicated Mao may be preparing a criminal action against the 68-year-old chief of state.

Correspondents in Peking for the Japanese newspaper Yomiuri and the Yuposlav news agency Tanjug reported that the standing committee of the Political Bureau of the party Central Committee had voted 6-5 to back Mao in his struggle to wrest the party and government machinery from Liu and his supporters.

If this information is correct, it could explain the sudden explosion of open attacks against Liu. It could also mean that Premier Chou En-lai, the reputed mediator in China's strife, has swung all the way over to Mao's side.

The New China News Agency told of a Peking rally against Liu and said one of the speakers reported that in 1964 "he had charged the number one party person in authority taking the capitalist road (Liu) with eight serious crimes but had been brutally persecuted by the tiny handful of party persons in authority taking the capitalist road."

The eight crimes were not explained.

The attacks on Liu by official Mao press organs started in the last week of March although he had been under fire in unofficial Red Guard newspapers and posters for months.

The New China News Agency described the campaign against Liu as an "unprecedented mass movement." It said 20,000 workers, peasants, soldiers, revolutionary cadres and Red Guards held rallies in Peking Saturday and denounced Liu for launching "wild attacks on Chairman Mao and the thought of Mao Tse-tung."

Two US Newsmen Injured By Mine

SAIGON, (AP) — Two American news correspondents and a Vietnamese camerman were among six persons injured by a Claymore mine today near Rach Kien in the Mekong Delta.

Correspondent David K. Snell of the American Broadcasting Co. suffered hand and leg injuries. Robert Erlandson of the Baltimore Sun was scratched on the wrist.

Erlandson said Photographer Nguyen Thanh Thai of United Press International was injured in the left side of the head. An American soldier and two vietnamese policemen also were injured in the blast.

All were hospitalized except Erlandson.

Many Arrested In Race Violence

By DON GILBERT

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A light rain and sunlight brought an apparent end early today to Nashville's second straight night of racial violence in the city's Negro college section.

Gunshots, fires and looting erupted overnight, continuing into the early hours this morning — and left one student seriously wounded. But the dawn — coupled with so many arrests that police officials said they were uncertain early today of the number — apparently brought the strife to an end.

Police charged two Negroes with inciting a riot. They were identified as George Washington Ware, 26, of Atlanta and Ernest Stephens, 25, of Tuskegee, Ala., and were held under $2,500 bond each early today.

Ware told police he was with "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael here Saturday. Stephens said he was a worker for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, headed by Carmichael.

The charges stemmed from riots which erupted Saturday night — a few hours after Carmichael spoke at a symposium at predominantly white Vanderbilt University. The violence was triggered when police ejected a Negro from a Negro tavern at the owner's request. Police said Carmichael was not seen in the area of the rioting.

Settlement Near In Radio, TV Strike

By NICHOLAS PILEGGI

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators reached a tentative settlement today in the nation's first radio and television strike that put celebrities on picket lines and programming on a schedule of old films and reruns. The strike began March 29.

Terms of the agreement between the American Federation of Radio and Television Artists and ABC, CBS and NBC were not revealed pending a union vote, but shirt-sleeved bargainers laughed and shook hands as the settlement was announced at 6 a.m. today after a session that began at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Pickets still walked outside NBC at Rockefeller Center in New York City, however, and mediators would not say if the lines would be withdrawn. No date was announced for the union vote on acceptance.

"The strike is still on," one picket said.

Immediately involved in the settlement was the fate of the motion picture Academy Award show, scheduled for tonight on ABC. It was not known if arrangements could be made to broadcast the show.

Observers said a break in the talks came at 3 a.m. when the parties met jointly with federal mediator Ralph C. Patterson. They talked for an hour and 20 minutes then separated with a network spokesman, announcing: "The union people will call us when they want us."

Both sides joined the mediators again at 5:30 a.m. and within 30 minutes the settlement was announced. Said Patterson: "Following almost 24 hours of bargaining, the parties have reached tentative agreement subject to ratification by the national board of AFTRA."

The strike pressed a diet of canned shows on TV viewers and late last week when engineers refused to cross AFTRA picket lines forced supervisory personnel to take over technical duties. The results at times were wavering sound, blurred pictures and missed cues.

Writers, cameramen and even motorcycle messengers at network pivot points stayed away from their jobs in sympathy with the 18,000-man striking union whose pickets included such celebrities as John Daly, Fran Allison and Ed McMahon.

At issue in the stike were the union's demand for base pay of $325 a week and a greater share of commercial fees for about 100 local newscasters at network-owned stations in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

Another area of dispute reportedly the last to be settled, was automation on network-owned FM stations.

The networks, who previously offered $300 a week through a system of base pay and fees, charged that AFTRA was demanding the assignment of extra staff announcers to cover jobs requiring only a few hours of airtime per week.

Park Use Approved For Celebration

Formal approval for use of Towle Memorial Park for the annual community Independence Day celebration was granted this morning by Scurry County Commissioners Court.

Gill Dryden, co-chairman of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce committee on sports and recreation, requested the approval, which has been granted annually since the celebration was inaugurated. The Chamber of Commerce makes arrangements for various attractions and activities and handles details of planning for the event each year.

Texas Feels Truck Strike

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Trucking officials predicted the full impact will be felt today from a shutdown of freight carriers which has crippled shipment of millions of tons of freight in Texas.

J. A. Sheetz, president of Southwest Operators Association which represents 26 motor freight carriers, said "this is not a lockout but a recourse necessary due to small strikes taking effect throughout the country while the negotiations have been going on."

Sheetz said not too much work went on Sunday and today "will see the full impact of what's happened."

SOA has motor freight carriers in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas.

There were indications that all types of cargo, including food and medical supplies, would be affected.

George M. Stewart, Houston manager for Yellow Transit Freight Line Inc., said "it's really going to be quite a burden on the consuming public. We bring into Houston... medicine and clothing — everything tendered to the public for use in everyday life."

The hauling stoppage, which the Teamsters Union calls a lockout, began Saturday midnight by about 65 per cent of the nation's truck lines after what they called "harrassing strikes" by segments of the union while negotiations for a new contract were in progress.

Sheetz said a number of carriers were crippled within the last week because some buyers walked off the job to cause "disruption and harrassment."

A spokesman for the Truck Drivers & Warehouse Men's Local 745 (Teamsters Union) in Dallas emphasized the local was not on strike.

Draft Call Is Biggest Of The Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today issued its biggest draft call of the year, asking for the induction of 19,800 men in June — all for the Army.

The June call compares with May's 18,000. Other calls this year were for 15,600 men in January, 10,900 in February, 11,900 in March and 11,400 in April.

Inductions for the first six months of this year thus will average 14,600 — less than half the average monthly inductions for the first half of 1966.

The June quota compares with the 1966 high of 49,200 in October and last year's low of 12,100 in December.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said draft calls this year will be considerably smaller than those of 1966.

Early this year the Pentagon chief said he expected draft calls the first six months of this year to be on the order of 101,000 men. Today's announced call for June provides a total considerably lower — 87,600. For the same six month period last year 177,000 men were inducted.

The Pentagon expects draft calls during the next six months to average about 20,000 a month or a total of 120,000. This would compare with draft calls totaling 205,000 in the last half of 1966.

Defense plans are to continue the basic one year assignment in Vietnam.

SHS Victory Bell Works Overtime

The victory bell ringers at Snyder High School went into overtime as representatives of the local school system turned in one of the most fruitful weekends of inter-school competition in the school's history.

A big victory came in the University Interscholastic League District 3-AAA literary competition, which was held Friday night and Saturday at SHS.

On the athletic fields, the Tiger baseballers won their second conference victory in a row over Levelland, the high school golf team took over the lead in the district race, and the track team won a smashing victory in a tune-up for the district meet next Saturday at Brownfield. Details of the victories in sports events may be found on the sports page today.

Snyder rolled up 139 points to win the district literary contests, finishing well ahead of runnerup Sweetwater, which had 105 points. Following in order were Brownfield with 76 points, Levelland 72, Littlefield 39, Lake View 35 and Lamesa 17.

Snyder's final 10 points came when Emily Kincaid copped second place in the ready-writing contest. In another event reported after 1 p.m. Saturday, the Brownfield boys debate team of Johnny Mercer and Mike George won over Littlefield's Gary Bradley and Bill Nowlin to give those two teams first and second places, respectively. David Wetsel of Sweetwater placed first in the ready-writing contest, while Sherri Hronas of Levelland was third.

APOLLO OVERHAUL RECOMMENDED

Report Reveals Many Deficiencies

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's man-to-the-moon program faced further delay today to allow time to overcome workmanship and management deficiencies revealed in a blue-ribbon board's final report on the spacecraft fire that killed three U.S. astronauts.

The eight-man board which spent seven weeks in an exhaustive investigation of the Apollo 1 tragedy said it uncovered "many deficiencies in design and engineering, manufacture and quality control."

The report recommended a major overhaul of Apollo spacecraft, including a quick-escape hatch, fewer combustible items inside the moonship and a review of components in Apollo electrical, communications and lifesupport systems.

House and Senate Space Committee members said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and its contractors should take time to correct the ills.

"These deficiencies must be catalogued and corrected and must not be repeated," said Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee.

Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., whose subcommittee on NASA oversight begins its own Apollo 1 investigation today, said "there were all kinds of carelessness, and some of it was unbelievable."

The Apollo 1 board-of-review said in its final report released Sunday that a bruised or broken wire most likely sparked the blaze that killed Air Force Lt. Cols. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee in a launch pad test Jan. 27.

While "no single ignition source could be conclusively identified," the report said the probable cause was either an electrical arc or short circuit in "DC (direct current) wiring providing power to environmental control system instrumentation."

An electrical arc is a band of sparks between two closely placed electrical sources, such as open ends of a broken or bruised wire.

In its 3,000-page final report, the board said the fire is believed to have started in the left-hand equipment bay, beneath Grissom's couch, where the suspected wiring was located.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is a man, who has been married for almost 20 years, supposed to think when he accidentally finds hidden in his wife's closet six or eight beautiful sheer, shortie nightgowns and negligees he has never seen before?

They were certainly not ever worn in MY presence.

Perhaps that explains why she slips her luggage in and out of the house when making increasingly more frequent out-of-town trips — alone.

Please answer in your column, as I am beginning to WONDER

DEAR WONDER: Either your wife is taking in laundry, or you've caught her with evidence that anyone can see thru.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 30 years and have two married children. While they were growing up my husband took me on business trips, family drives, and week-end trips. As soon as the children left home he stopped taking me places.

Now he goes out alone several nights a week, and he plays cards and bowls on week-ends. I am never invited, and if I ask to go with him, he stays home and sulks all evening.

A widower who lives in our neighborhood enjoys driving and would like my company on short trips to scenic areas around our city. Should I go?

HOUSEBOUND

DEAR HOUSEBOUND: Not unless you want one of those "you-go-your-way, I'll go mine" kind of marriages.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Church Ladies" who hesitated to eat at the home of a member because she kept cats and they were afraid of finding cat hair in their food:

I raised three healthy boys and the amount of money I spent on doctors wouldn't even pay for the frame on a medical diploma. Yet these strong sons of mine ate and slept with dogs and cats from the time they could toddle. They brought home all kinds of creatures, you name it; if it was lost, hurt, or hungry, we took it in. My boys mended broken wings, put fledglings back in treetops, and gave warmth, love, and food to strays. Not once were they bitten or diseased by their contact with these friends.

What I am trying to say is that animals are neither as dirty nor diseased as some human beings.

O, yes, one of my boys did have a communicable disease—impetigo. He got it from another boy. Sincerely yours, MRS. L. D., POTTSVILLE, PA.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to a letter from Jim S. who expressed concern over young women who do not look like women in their little-girl dresses, white lipstick, and little boy haircuts:

Perhaps if we had MEN to dress for instead of the feminine boys we now have — in their pants so tightly tapered they put women's capri pants to shame, jackets with pinched in waists, shoes and boots with higher heels than many women wear, and hair so long they look like girls — we would change our fashions.

Give us MEN to dress for and we will dress like women!

P. L. J.

More Funds Released For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration has rummaged in the freezer and pulled out another $1.1 billion for highways and other construction frozen since last year.

The freezing was ordered by the President last fall because he felt the threat of inflation made it unwise then to be pumping more money into the economy.

He put the chill on $5.2 billion. Counting the funds released Saturday by Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, about half has since been thawed.

The bulk of the money being released, $1 billion, is in the form of unspent highway fund balances. The remaining $146 million is for hospital, airport, sewage plant and other construction.

The freeze did its job, Schultze said.

"The anti-inflation program undertaken last September continues to have the effect then intended," he said. "Pressures on prices have subsided and the outlook for price stability in the months ahead is promising."

The highway funds had been authorized for 1966 and previous years and apportioned to the states but not used by them. Half is for immediate release and the rest will be freed July 1.

West Texans Note Decline In Drilling

ABILENE (AP)—Directors of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association noted a major decline in well drilling as their meeting opened Sunday.

J. D. Tompkins of Abilene, association president, said 2,141 wells were drilled in West Central Texas last year. Ten years ago the total was 4,252.

In 10 years, said Tompkins, Texas drilling declined by half to 10,902.

Earl Turner of Austin executive vice president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said domestic drilling has declined 50 per cent in the decade.

Scott Taliaferro of Abilene, chairman of the Pollution Abatement Committee, told the directors that problems in the area are subsiding. "We are approving measures to eliminate pollution, but we are also working to see if we can live with regulations," he said.

J. F. McAdams of Hobbs, N.M., was the scheduled luncheon speaker today. Others on the program include George H. Bruce, Wichita, Kan., president of the National Stripper Well Association; Lester Clark, Breckenridge independent operator; and Harold McClure of Alma, Mich., chairman of the import policy committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Attending the session but not listed as speakers were Jim Langdon, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, and the other two commission members Ben Ramsey and Byron Tunnell

Oil Depletion Said Injurious To Industry

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The 27.5 per cent oil tax depletion allowance "hurts the industry," asserts an economist.

Alfred Kahn of Cornell University said yesterday that "perhaps 2 or 3 per cent of capital investment" would be a more realistic depletion allowance, one which would reflect actual costs.

He spoke to the management conference on the economics of petroleum distribution, sponsored by Northwestern University's Transportation Center.

He also said the oil industry "mistakenly regards as advantages" proration of crude oil import controls.

"You just can't get yourself involved with the federal government in the way of accepting favors without also taking orders from that same government," he said.

"Special tax privileges, like the depletion allowance, lead to heavy investment, which leads to cutbacks.

"But these cutbacks then lead to increased operating costs, which lead to higher prices, which bring an excessive drilling for more moneymaking opportunities."

This boosts costs, which compels domestic companies to seek lowering operating expenses abroad, which results in increased operating costs, which lead to higher prices, which bring an excessive drilling for more moneymaking opportunities."

This boosts costs, which compels domestic companies to seek lower operating expenses abroad, which results in increased oil imports, which in turn brings cries for governmental protection.

Sharp Hike In Fighting

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. command today reported a sharp increase in ground actions throughout Vietnam with 315 Communists killed in the preceding 24 hours.

The first wave of three B52 bombers to be based in Thailand arrived there today from Guam after dropping 180,000 pounds of bombs on a suspected Communist camp only 31 miles from Saigon.

Nine more B52s will move to Utapao Air Base, in southern Thailand, later this month, cutting their round-trip time for raids on South Vietnam from 12 hours to less than three.

The ground action included a sharp barrage of recoilless rifle shells on the U.S. 25th Infantry Division headquarters at Cu Chi, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon. The predawn shelling, which killed three American soldiers and wounded 20, was the second in two days. The helicopter-borne U.S. 1st cavalry, Airmobile, Division headquarters at An Khe was hit Sunday.

American pilots flew 96 missions over North Vietnam Sunday despite bad weather. All-weather jets hit the Thai Nguyen steel plant 35 miles from Hanoi and other raids struck antiaircraft missile sites 30 miles from the Red capitol.

Heavy ground fighting raged 20 miles southwest of Saigon after U.S. 9th Division soldiers flushed a major force of Viet Cong guerrillas in a running two-day fight. Battlefield reports listed 166 Viet Cong dead from infantry, air and artillery pounding.

The battle erupted Sunday when a 9th Division sweeping force ran into skirmishes of a 750-man guerrilla battalion. Planes and artillery began pounding the Reds, who scattered with units of the 9th in pursuit. Heavy fighting was reported several times throughout Sunday night and this morning.

Continuing the sweep in the muddy delta paddylands, the 9th Division reported it was again in heavy contact this afternoon, with jet strikes and artillery again pouring in.

New Clashes In Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean army patrols shot and killed four North Koreans in two gun fights on the western front today, army headquarters announced

Both border clashes occurred within 20 miles of the gunfight last Wednesday in which U.S. 2nd Infantry Division troops killed at least four North Koreans, an army spokesman said

There was no immediate report of any South Korean casualties in the incidents today.

The spokesman said the four North Koreans raised to 12 the number of Communist intruders killed by South Korean soldiers in four major border incidents this year.

The spokesman said a patrol encountered three North Korean intruders south of the demilitarized zone this afternoon. In a brief gunfight, the patrol killed one of the North Koreans and the other two fled into the heavy underbrush. The patrol pursued them for an hour and finally killed them both.

In the second incident, the spokesman said, one of two Communists was killed in a brief exchange of gunfire with another patrol south of the demilitarized zone. The spokesman said the other North Korean fled north, leaving his comrade's body.

On Conversation

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Snyder Daily News is sponsoring a Dale Carnegie course as a means of training and developing community and area leaders. This article is one in a series written by Warren Quinlan, director of the Dale Carnegie Training Program in West Texas.)

By WARREN QUINLAN

If you've ever felt at a loss for words with a stranger and couldn't think of anything to say, you know how valuable good conversation habits can be in your association with others.

Poor conversation practices, like forgetfulness and stage fright, usually result from being aware of the wrong facts. General and vague ideas sprinkled with impersonal points of view are conversation-killers. Some persons might not be persuaded easily to accept this point of view because we evaluate our personal experiences as too trivial and restrictive.

A young friend recently retreated from this position when he discovered his personal experiences always kept the undivided attention of his listeners. When you consider he has a heavy accent and is difficult to understand, this fact is even more significant.

Less than four months ago, our friend hesitated to discuss his personal convictions and experiences. His conversation picked up a hollow ring when he talked about something of which he had little or no personal knowledge and to which he had devoted little or no attention. In short, when he talked nobody really listened.

One evening, he was instructed to dig deep into his mind and heart and bring up a firm conviction that life has stored there, from his own mind, and coined in his own thoughts. His search dipped into his memory band and came up with a flesh-and-blood story about his activities as a French underground fighter. He vividly to'd us about the cruelties he and his family suffered under Nazi rule. Later, he described how he escaped from secret police and crossed the Atlantic to America. He closed by saying, "I am free to come or go, policemen don't stop me and check my identification card and freedom is worth having."

A sure fire formula to improve your conversational batting average is to select a subject which stands out vividly in your memory after many years have gone by. Burn the facts into your mind, arouse your interest, and stir your enthusiasm, and your conversation will be enjoyed to the last syllable of the last word.

Possible Breakthrough In New Anti Blood-Clot Drugs

By FRANK CAREY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A Denver physician today reported a possible breakthrough toward developing oral drugs that might help eliminate "our worst killer" — blood clots that cause coronary heart attacks.

Describing development of a series of new, synthetic compounds that can dissolve abnormal-type blood clots in the test tube, Dr. Kurt N. Von Kaulla of the University of Colorado School of Medicine told the 153rd national meeting of the American Chemical Society:

"Grounds for optimism now exist that oral-administered synthetic drugs can be developed which will dissolve intravascular blood clots.

"Such clots are the cause of fatal heart attacks by occlusion (blockage) of the coronary artery, and are annually responsible for several hundred thousand deaths in the United States . . . and the crippling of an equal number more."

He added in his report:

"It is emphasized that the new drugs are not yet ready for clinical use and, in fact, have not been tested beyond the laboratory test tube. New findings, however, indicate the opening of promising pathways of attack on a major medical problem."

At the same meeting, Dr. Manfred E. Wolff of the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, reported apparent solution of a 200-year-old mystery as to how the drug digitalis works against heart failure.

He said the finding constitutes "a major breakthrough" towards developing new, synthetic drugs having digitalis-like action, but conceivably offering greater effectiveness than the natural drug.

Digitalis, an extract of the purple foxglove plant, has been used since the 18th century to make a failing heart work more efficiently. It strengthens and slows the heart beat, but the chemistry of its action long has been a riddle.

Humphrey Calls Tour A Success

By HARRY KELL

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew home from Europe today reportedly feeling he achieved diplomatic successes despite the protests against the Vietnam war which captured much of his headlines.

Humphrey feels his two-week, seven-nation tour reassured European leaders that the United States is not turning its back on Europe despite its concerns in Asia.

Some observers believe he may urge President Johnson to make a similar trip. The vice president is understood to believe such visits improve personal relations between leaders who otherwise have to conduct their dealings through ambassadors and cables.

Shouting demonstrators threw things at him in Brussels, Rome, Florence, West Berlin and Paris but never hit him. The demonstrating groups were generally small.

Summing up before his departure from Brussels, Humphrey said:

"My visits here and to other Western European capitals have confirmed my belief that the enterprise and undertakings which unite Europe and the United States are of vastly greater importance than the minor differences which sometimes distract us."

He said he was heartened by what he saw and heard in Europe and "convinced that we must and that we shall work together."

American diplomats along Humphrey's route — through Switzerland, the Netherlands, Britain, Italy, West Germany, France and Belgium — praised his performance [illegible].

The vice president's real grading as a diplomat, though, will come when his government assesses the impact of his talks on the Kennedy Round of tariff negotiations and the negotiations for a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

Humphrey is understood to have advised all the European leaders he visited that the United States would not make any deal with the Soviet Union or reduce the size of its forces in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization without consulting its allies.

The vice president received cheers from a crowd of onlookers in Brussels Sunday, although police moved in earlier and scattered less than 100 hostile demonstrators. His limousine and a Secret Service agent were splattered by an egg.

Newsweek magazine said members of Humphrey's party carried instructions on how he should assume the presidency in case President Johnson died or became incapacitated while the vice president was in Europe.

The instructions, it said, were that Humphrey should not be sworn in as president on foreign soil, but the ceremony "would have taken place aboard Humphrey's plane after it was airborne."

Two Mishaps Kill Thirteen In S. Texas

KIRBYVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Thirteen persons were killed in South Texas Sunday in two separate traffic smashups.

A small van and a car crashed headon on a farm road near the Southeast Texas town of Kirbyville about dusk, killing six persons and injuring six.

The accident at Kirbyville occurred about 15 hours after five San Antonio youths and a man and his wife from Taft, Tex., were killed in a two-car collision east of the South Texas town of Taft.

The dead in the Kirbyville wreck were identified by the Department of Public Safety as Mr. and Mrs. William B. Atkinson, their one-year-old son, Thomas, and Essie L. Berry, 6, all of Orange, Tex.; and Robert Wayne Johnson, 29, of Kirbyville, and James F. Howe, 6, of Orange.

The injured included Georgia Berry, 23, Samantha Berry, 2, Kenneth Berry, 3, Billy Ruth Atkinson, 2, and Kenneth Howe, 3, all of Orange, and Johnny Leroy Penry, 41, of Kirbyville.

The cause of both accidents were under investigation.

In the Taft accident, six persons were dead at the scene and a seventh died at a hospital.

The Texas Highway Patrol said Lorenzo Garcia, 44, and his wife, Audelia Pena Garcia, both of Taft, were killed. Mrs. Garcia died at a hospital.

In the second car, those killed were James Dean Keoughan, 20; David Arthur Rocks, 21; Louis A. Williams, 19; Roberta Knoeller, 18, and Gloria Ann Draper, 18, all of San Antonio.

Remember . . . It's the TOTAL FOOD BILL THAT COUNTS!

BIG HAUL — These Snyder men had good good luck fishing for 'cats last Tuesday night. Using minnows on their rods and reels, they pulled out four "yellowcats" that deighed 16½, 14, 13 and 6 pounds and one channelcat that weighed 11½ pounds. The same anglers had good luck last week at Lake Thomas using waterdogs for bait. They are, from left to right, Jerry McCarver, Richard Nicholson, Howard Jones and Dick Krause.

Brewer Gay After Masters Victory

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "Only great golfers win the Masters," said Bobby Jones to Gay Brewer. "That's why I'm happy you won it — you're a great golfer."

"I'm choking up," said Brewer.

"You don't choke and win this tournament," said Jones, the immortal Grand Slammer who founded this tournament and designed the Augusta National course.

He was right. Brewer didn't choke. Dubbed "the man who will never come back," he had lived for a year with the nightmare of a hanging putt that never fell.

He wiped out that dreadful memory Sunday in a sweeping charge over the lush green acres of Augusta National, coming from two strokes back, climbing over three men and winning the 31st Masters with a brilliant, five-under-par 67 for 280.

"I may be the happiest man in history to win the Masters," the graying, 35-year-old tour regular said after he had broken the seven-year stranglehold of the Big Three — Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player — on the prestigious event.

Nicklaus, three-time champion and winner of two in a row, failed to make the cut for the last two rounds. Palmer, a four-time champion, finished with a 69 for 285 and fourth place. Player, the little South African who won in 1961, finished with 71 for 287 and a share of sixth.

"The Masters is really something special for me," the six-foot, hard-hitting Brewer said, "especially after last year. I really wanted to win this one. I wanted to prove to myself that I had it in me to do it."

Brewer, who had never before won a major tournament, came within a fraction of an inch of it in the 1966 Masters. He went to the 18th tee with a one-stroke lead and was on the green in two.

Needing only a par to win, he three-putted from 40 feet, leaving a five-foot par putt — the one that would have won it — hanging on the lip of the cup.

Nicklaus and Tommy Jacobs tied him and when it went to a playoff Brewer finished third with a dismal 78.

"He'll never come back," most observers said.

"I don't remember things like that," said Brewer. But history indicated otherwise. He didn't win another tournament that year, but finished second three times, twice losing in playoffs.

He was second two more times this year, third once and finally broke through a week ago in the Pensacola Open with a startling 262.

He had every opportunity to choke Sunday. He started off two strokes back of the leaders, Bobby Nichols, Julius Boros and Bert Yancey, and was paired with Nichols while Yancey and Boros were together.

Nichols finished with 70 and 281, one stroke back in second place. Yancey, the 28-year-old former West Pointer, had a closing 73 for 284 and third. Palmer was fourth and Boros fifth with a 75 for 286. Player and Paul Harney shared sixth at 287.

Palmer never really got his charge going.

Mike Glasscock was 3rd in the shot put with a throw of 36-2, and Sammy Lee Harrison was 6th in the century.

Clayton, Harrison, Melvin Cobb and Gary Durst teamed up for 5th place finishes in both the 440 relay and the 880 relay.

Tigers Trip Loboes, 1-0; Host Tornadoes

One robin does not a spring make and six and two-thirds innings do not a baseball game make as Lane McMillan, talented Snyder right-hander, found out here Saturday.

Lane pitched brilliantly for 6-2-3 innings and found himself in trouble suddenly with a 1-0 lead and only one out away from victory over Levelland's determined Loboes.

Steve Schmidly drew a walk for the visitors after Ignacio Rendon grounded out, third to first. Frazier, a pinchhitter, sacrificed Schmidly to second, and Gismen, another pinchhitter, walked to put runners on first and second with two away.

Rob Golden came on in relief, facing Merced Puente, with the final outcome riding on every pitch. Puente drilled a line fly to short center and Snyder centerfielder David Cadena came charging in. He dived for the ball and made the catch for the third out just before it hit the turf.

And that's the kind of teamwork that has accounted for the Tigers' baseball success this season. Snyder currently is tied with Lamesa for the league lead. Each team sports a 2-0 record and they meet here at 4 p.m. Tuesday in a showdown battle.

Some wonderful clutch hitting in the bottom of the 5th provide the Bengals with the only score of the game. After Terry Holt fanned, Max Moreland smashed a double to left. David McGinnis, the next man up, cracked a hot liner which glanced off the third baseman's shin into left field and Moreland scored on the hit.

Snyder also threatened in the 1st when Steve Moffett singled and stole second, and in the 4th, when Kenny Ragland singled, stole second, and moved to third on an error.

McMillan deserved the title of winning pitcher. He stopped Lobo rallies in the 5th and 6th frames with strikeouts. In the 1st, with the dases loaded, he caused Gaylan Seagler to pop out to second to get out of a jam.

McMillan was touched for only two singles in 6 2-3 innings of brilliant work. He fanned five and walked four.

Dale Williamson allowed only four hits for Levelland. He struck out one and walked none.

Leaders Vie In Big State

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Leaders clash this week in the Big State Conference baseball race that has four teams in a virtual tie for the top.

Texas Lutheran and East Texas Baptist are mathematically tied for the lead with 3-1 records but St. Mary's and St. Edwards are not tied with them largely because they haven't played as many games.

St. Mary's is 2-1 and St. Edward's is 1-1.

Texas Lutheran and St. Mary's play Tuesday at San Antonio and St. Mary's meets St. Edward's at Austin Saturday in games in which three of the leaders figure.

CRUCIAL HIT — David McGinnis drove in the winning run in the Tiger-Lobo baseball tilt here Saturday with a single to left. Max Moreland, who doubled ahead of him, scored on the play in the 5th frame.

IN 3-AAA MATCH

Bengals Grab Golf Lead

LAMESA — The Snyder Tigers wrested the lead in the District 3-AAA golf tournament away from Levelland here Saturday by carding a 320 in the second of three matches.

The Tigers, with a two-round total of 645, lead Lamesa by 14 strokes. The Tornadoes are 659. Levelland fell to third place with a two-match total of 667. Scores of other teams: Sweetwater 682, Lamesa "B" team 700, Brownfield 738, and Littlefield 811.

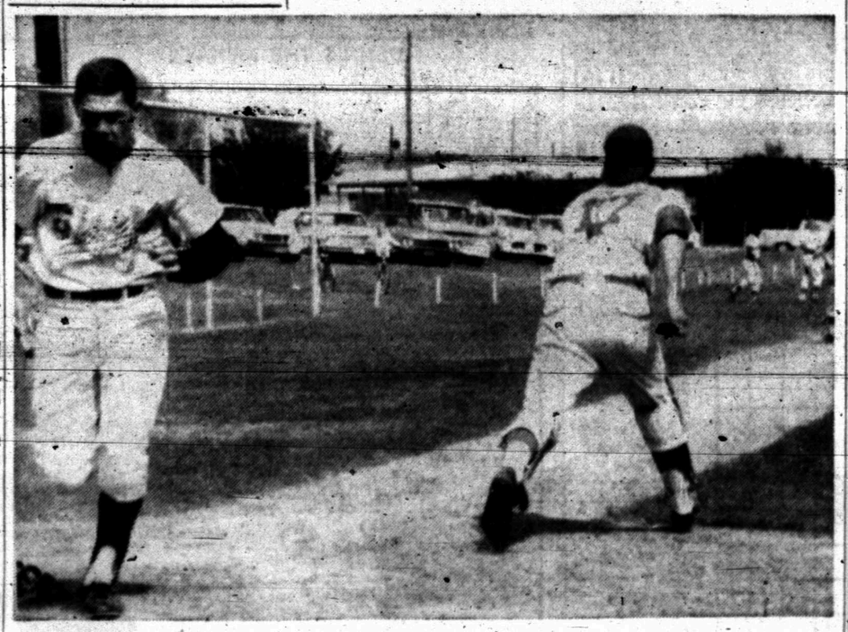

Mitch Rambin fired a hot 73 Saturday to take over medalist honors with a total of 151 for the two matches. Don Copeland, who shot a 76, is tied with Levelland's Shettlesworth for runnerup honors with 156 totals.

Bill Taylor, who carded a 78 Saturday, remained in the running for medalist honors with a 158 total — only 7 strokes off the pace.

Jay Kidd fired an 85 and Alex LeFeuvre posted an 86. Their scores combined with the scores of Rambin and Copeland for the 320 total Saturday.

Taylor was shooting as a member of the extra team. Bennie Ward and Paul Zeck carded 83's and 101's respectively.

The third and final district match will be held at Levelland Saturday, and the Bengals are in good position to win the championship. The top two teams will compete in the regional tournament at Odessa April 20-21.

WINNING RUN — Max Moreland crossed home plate in the bottom of the 5th inning with the winning run in Snyder's 1-0 victory over Levelland in a District 3-AAA baseball game here Saturday. Max doubled and scored on a single by David McGinnis. The Tigers host Lamesa at 4 p.m. Tuesday. Both teams are 2-0 in district play.

A QUIET ARGUMENT FOR THE DRAFT!

No President Has Been Immune To Acid Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics in and out of the press badgered and inflamed him all through his presidency. He was called a crook, and much besides. He was ridiculed as the "stepfather" of his country.

He kept quiet about it most of the time in public. In private, with his aides, President George Washington exploded, hesitated about a second term.

One of those closest to him, Thomas Jefferson, later to get his own dose of criticism when he became president, told how the fed-up Washington let go at a Cabinet meeting.

Washington, Jefferson wrote, was in one of those passions he couldn't control, regretted his failure to resign, and said "by God, he had rather be in his grave than in his present situation."

President Johnson gets worked up about the critics, too, in and out of the press. He has been blamed for many things, including a "credibility gap." But much of it is mild compared with what some of his predecessors had to take.

President John Adams said that if he believed his critics he would be the "meanest villain in the world." But his successor, Jefferson, that staunch defender of freedom of speech and of the press, even got hit by Adams, who considered him a calamity.

Jefferson, besides the now familiar "hypocrite," was accused of practically everything from fathering illegitimate children by his slave women to worse.

Shrewd Andrew Jackson wooed the press, and even had three newsmen in his "kitchen cabinet." No good. He got it, too. He was called a murderer and adulterer. President James Buchanan took so much criticism he considered himself the happiest man in the country when his term was up.

His successor, Abraham Lincoln, was called everything from being a baboon to being illegitimate. One hostile newspaper rejoiced at his assassination. The president who followed Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, was called a drunk, starting with the day of his inauguration.

President U.S. Grant had the drunk label tagged on him, too. President Theodore Roosevelt got along with individual newsmen but he resented criticism from wherever it came, and it came often.

That didn't deter him from doing the same to his successor, Woodrow Wilson. Roosevelt wrote for magazines after leaving the White House. Once, when Wilson hesitated about sending troops into Mexico, Roosevelt said he "kissed the blood-stained hand that slapped his face."

When Wilson, three days after a German U-boat had sunk the Lusitania, spoke of "being too proud to fight," Roosevelt called him a "Byzantine logothete"—meaning a high-placed clerk for an emperor — backed by "flubdubs" and "molly-coddles."

Roosevelt himself was described by an Englishman as a combination of "St. Paul and St. Vitus." President Herbert Hoover, like Johnson, was charged with a "credibility gap." President Franklin D. Roosevelt got it from cranks and critics throughout his three-plus terms.

Among other things he was called a Communist, worse than Stalin, and a mama's boy who never earned a dime on his own. President Harry S. Truman didn't take it quietly, like Washington. He hit back.

He called one critic an "s.o.b." and threatened to beat up a music critic who said his daughter's voice was flat. Dwight D. Eisenhower, a war hero before his presidency, wasn't immune, either. But, compared with those before him, he escaped lightly.

It may seem comical now but President John F. Kennedy was called an "extremist." He had a thin skin, spent time trying to track down the origin of criticisms. Once he said wryly: "As I make my views clear on these issues, then, of course, increasingly some people are not going to approve of me."

Other presidents were left out of this account but not because they were not criticized. There wasn't enough room.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANGELUS BELL

QUESTION: Why is the Angelus bell rung?

ANSWER: It is part of the devotions in the Roman Catholic church that a bell, called the Angelus bell, is rung at six a. m., noon, and six p. m., to signal a time for prayer. The first prayer starts, "Angelus Domini nuntiavit Mariae" and tells of the angel Gabriel's annunciation to the Virgin Mary that she was to become the mother of Jesus Christ. This first sentence starting with "angelus" is what gave the Angelus bell its name. Many artists have used the idea of the Annunciation as a theme for famous pictures, such as the one in the upper left which is taken from an exquisite painting by Fra Angelico. The feeling of sanctity and devotion in this picture is echoed in the drawing to lower right made from a famous painting by Jan Francois Millet. Two peasants, while digging potatoes, have heard the sound of the Angelus bell coming from a distant church tower and have paused for a few moments of devotion and prayer.

Mail Brings New Facts To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Seven out of 10 people who get tattooed regret it later and seek surgical aid in having the art work removed from their skin. Among the diseases spread by unclean tattoo needles are hepatitis, tuberculosis and syphilis.

If people kept their dogs chained, the U.S. postal service would be a mite less deep in red ink. The canine appetite for mailmen: 7,000 are bitten annually. This costs Uncle Sam $1 million in sick leave and medical expenses.

Now that spring is here, don't absent-mindedly start nibbling on strange plants. They can be deadly. Among familiar ones that are toxic are lilies of the valley, oleander and rhododendron.

Oh, for the life of a lion!. It seems the king of the jungle is a lazy monarch. On a typical day he will spend three hours walking and stalking (he leaves most of the killing of prey to his wife), two hours eating and 19 hours resting or sleeping.

If you don't eat 17.2 pounds of candy a year, your sweet tooth isn't as sweet as the average.

Driving can be a strain on the heart as well as hard on the nerve. British scientists found that anxiety in heavy traffic caused the hearts of some motorists to beat twice as fast as normal.

Perhaps one reason for the anxiety was fear of what the woman driver in the car ahead of them would do next. Rome solved that problem in 205 B.C. by passing a law prohibiting women from driving chariots.

Geographical fun: You'd never expect to find a pessimist in Happy, Tex., Happyland, Conn., Happy Valley, Pa., Happy Inn, Mont., Happy Corners, Wis., or Happy Hollow, Ky.

Secret: The toughest phone number in Manhattan to get is the one for the dressing room of the Copacabana chorus girls. Employes of the night club are forbidden to reveal the unlisted number on penalty of banishment.

Curing the royal blues: When King Louis XI of France was in a melancholy mood, nothing could tease him back faster to laughter than watching a troupe of colorfully costumed small pigs that had been trained to dance to bagpipe music. (Aside to the U.S. State Department: Have we tried this yet on Gen. de Gaulle?)

Worth remembering: "You probably wouldn't worry so much about what people think if you could know how seldom they do."

Tax Incentives Battle Renewed

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders renew this week their attempt to win passage of the bill urgently sought by President Johnson to restore key business tax incentives.

But, after a week's acrimonious debate, they still have not solved their major problem — how to defeat a rider which would knock out an election campaign financing plan.

Neither Senate nor House planned much business today because of the baseball season opener between the Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

The campaign financing plan, endorsed by Johnson when it was enacted last year, could make available $30 million each in federal funds to the Democratic and Republican parties in 1968. Each income taxpayer could divert $1 to the fund.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., joined by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and most Republican senators, is leading a fight to kill the plan by an amendment to the tax bill.

Gore insists he has the votes. The plan's backers appeared to be conceding this with a series of delaying moves to prevent any tests of strength last week.

Sen. Russell B. Long, chief sponsor of the plan, said there was a possibility of votes this week but made no commitments.

Those fighting the repeal move were understood to be placing their hopes on pressure from businessmen for a shelving of the repealer because it was blocking quick action on the tax bill.

The incentives to be restored by the tax measure include the 7 per cent investment credit on machinery and equipment, and accelerated depreciation on income-producing buildings.

Democratic leaders said they might put aside the tax bill to take up an Appalachian development bill which is ready for debate.

The Senate Banking Committee opens public hearings Thursday on another controversial piece of legislation — the truth-in-lending bill.

The House Ways and Means Committee continues Tuesday its hearings on the bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes.

Scheduled for introduction today is the administration's request for $2.06 billion to continue its antipoverty program.

An Associated Press survey reaching 53 of the 59 freshman House Republicans shows the antipoverty program and other Johnson domestic proposals could face trouble. All but three of the 59 replaced Democrats — most of whom had favored Johnson's programs, some of which narrowly passed.

Powell Victory Appears Certain

NEW YORK (AP) — Harlem chooses Tuesday between Democrat Adam Clayton Powell, a Republican grandmother who campaigned only once to unseat him—and then by accident — a Conservative preacher who is opposed to the civil rights movement.

Powell's victory appears certain in the special election called after the House on Jan. 28 excluded Powell from the 18th District seat. The only question in the election seems to be how much Powell's margin will be.

Powell campaigned not at all. With two contempt of court arrest warrants outstanding against him, he spent the time at his Bimini Island retreat leaving whatever publicity was needed to aides, sound trucks and some posters still hanging on lampposts from last November's election.

Powell won 74 per cent of the ballots cast then, about 45,000 of a total of 61,000 This time, Powell's campaign manager, L. Joseph Overton, figures the turnout will be around 30,000 with Powell getting about 23,000 votes. The district, with a population of about 300,000, has about 120,000 registered voters.

The size of the vote is important to Powell's backers. They feel that anything less than an overwhelming victory might lead Congress to assume Harlem is less securely behind him than before his ouster.

The opposition is Lucille Pickett Williams, a Republican party worker for 22 years — the length of time Powell has been representing the district — and the Rev. Ervin F. Yearling, Conservative party candidate. Both, like Powell, are Negroes.

Mrs. Williams, an attractive grandmother at 50, entered the race after civil rights leader James H. Meredith withdrew his GOP candidacy. She had no posters or slogans, avoided handshaking and said her one campaign speech was an accident.

Would Alter School Discipline Policy

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— When hoodlum type students attack teachers, the superintendent of Dallas schools says, the instructors should strike back.

Supt W. T. White said, "I know what the rule is against corporal punishment by teachers, but that means ordinary disciplinary situations. It doesn't mean knife-users, pistol slingers and club toters.

He told of a boy expelled from a Dallas school who violated order not to appear on the school ground and insulted a reprimanding teacher with epithets.

"She knocked him flat," said White, "and I've loved her ever since."

Easter greeting cards were first published in England in the late 19th Century. One of the earliest is a silk-fringed Bavarian lithograph of Christ reassuring Mary at the tomb. This rare Easter card is one of 70,000 antique cards in the Hallmark Historical Collection, largest collection of historic greeting cards in the world.

Economic Forecasting Is Big Job

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The economic forecasters have been taking it in the chops lately. It isn't just because they're having a difficult time forecasting. They always do when the economy reaches a turning point.

What hurts is the hard statistical evidence, and the evidence of late has not really been very good. Moreover, it cannot be ignored, avoided or explained away. It is there, imperishably, for the record.

Studying this record, none other than the prestigious National Bureau of Economic Research has found that professional forecasters of the gross national product generally miss the mark by about $10 billion.

This might not seem like much, considering the GNP will reach an annual rate of more than $800 billion late this year. It is really huge, though, when you realize the only thing to be forecast is the advance — say $25 billion or $50 billion a year.

Reading deeper into the report we find that economists sometimes do little better than amateurs who use crude methods, a devastating finding reminiscent of the discovery a few years ago that a dart, a blindfold and a list of stocks sometimes provide a high quality of advice on picking stocks.

Still, the hard statistical evidence may not be as vicious as the more literary indictment by a British professor who called economists the witch doctors of modern society, the men who satisfy man's craving to know the future.

"The witch doctor," said Dr. W. Becker of Oxford, "used to look over the entrails of tigers and say what was going to be revealed to them. Economists," he said, probe "the entrails of past statistics."

In fairness, the tiger entrails perhaps were easier to deal with because they weren't wriggling or writhing anymore. But consider the plight of today's economic forecasters who must deal with the live issue of a 6 per cent surtax.

It is utterly impossible to forecast precisely for the latter part of 1967 without knowing if this surcharge will be applied or not to income taxes. It will do no good to inject qualifications because listeners ignore them anyway.

Exasperated, George Hagedorn, economist of the National Association of Manufacturers, put it this way:

"If you expect an economist to make an unqualified forecast for the last part of this year, you must believe either that tax action is irrelevant to economic developments or that the economist can know something about future congressional action that the congressmen don't know themselves."

Houston Demos Seek To Host Convention

HOUSTON (AP) — Top Democrats from Houston and Austin will go before their party's national convention site selection committee in Washington Tuesday to try to bring the nominating meeting to Houston's domed stadium next year.

Leaders of the Houston effort said Gov. John Connally will head the delegation if he is able to make changes in his appointment calendar.

Houston Mayor Louie Welch was in Washington today to attend a meeting of the National Advisory Committee on education. He will speak before the site panel Tuesday, joined by U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and U.S. Reps. Robert Casey and Robert Eckhardt, Houston Democrats.

Double Trouble In Baltimore Court

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "You're the one who's been found guilty in court seven times," said Municipal Judge Robert I. H. Hammerman to Abraham Black. Black denied it.

The judge pointed Saturday to the record, which included a birth record matching Black's. He fined Black $14 for disorderly conduct.

Then Elizah Black stood up and said he was actually the one with the record. He said he was Abraham's twin brother. Abraham's fine was suspended and imposed on Elizah.

Critical Teacher Shortage Looms In Texas Next Fall

EDITOR'S NOTE: Whether due to a shortage of money for teacher's salaries or an abundance of it for new educational programs, whether because of a tight labor market generally or the post-war baby boom—the fact remains that Texas is critically short of teachers for public schools. Here's a look at the situation.

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

The most critical teacher shortage in recent history looms in Texas next fall, an Associated Press survey shows.

How bad is it and what caused it?

The answers vary according to whom you ask.

The Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) says more than 5,500 positions went vacant last fall or were filled by substitute teachers——and though many of the classrooms were adequately staffed by spring the outlook for September is gloomy.

"Nobody knows how short schools have been," says one school recruiter. "They have to scrape to stay even with industry in hiring and keeping teachers."

Austin, Houston, San Antonio and school systems in the Lower Rio Grande Valley had harder times this year than at any point in the past in filling vacancies, the school administrators say.

"We're at the crossroads as it relates to teachers, supply and demand," says Wichita Falls Superintendent Joe B. McNiel, who is shy math and science teachers because so many go to higher paying jobs in industry.

The TSTA and the Texas Classroom Teachers Association say there will be twice as many vacancies this fall unless the legislature passes a substantial teacher pay raise. They also ask a "continuing contract" program described as "a procedure for fair dismissal of incompetents and protection of teachers who do a good job" says Miss Betty Buford of Plainview, president of the classroom teachers.

The teacher groups point to the Texas ranking of 39th in salaries and say Texas is one of seven states without a "continuing contract" arrangement. They are backing a bill which would help beginning teachers most, establishing a $5,000 annual salary minimum.

Gov. John Connally's program would raise the current minimum of $4,100 to about $4,378 or 5 per cent, with the same rate of raise in all pay levels.

Ask any school administrator, however, and he'll tell you that the irony of the teacher shortages is (1) The lack of money paid teachers, and (2) The sudden abundance of money to help schools launch programs for pupils long neglected by educators.

These include specialized services parents never dreamed schools might offer a decade ago: Help for the mentally retarded, the physically handicapped, the emotionally disturbed, the brain-injured, the poor, and those of kindergarten age.

The federal and state money poured into local public schools is at an unprecedented high, principals say, but often they either can't find people with the right training to teach the new programs at the same salaries. Or the special programs take experienced teachers out of their classrooms.

Reds May Open Area To Tourists

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Soviet Union has offered to reopen a tourist peephole into Arctic Russia. The Norwegian government, mindful of past complications, has decided to look the other way.

The Soviet state travel agency Intourist said that from May 1 tourists of all nationalities may visit a tiny segment of the Soviet Union called Boris Gleb. They may stay 48 hours without visas.

Boris Gleb adjoins a tongue of Norwegian territory thrust between northern Finland and the Soviet Union's Murmansk region, more than 150 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

In response to the Soviet offer of March 2, Norway said last Wednesday it did not consider Boris Gleb significant enough as a tourist attraction to open a border station at Skafferhulet, the closest point of approach.

The Norwegian statement said the government would stick to the regular border crossing at Storskog, farther away. It said if the Soviets want to admit tourists there without visas just to visit Boris Gleb, that is their own business.

This was interpreted as meaning the Norwegians are discouraging visits to Boris Gleb without prohibiting them outright.

It was at Boris Gleb that Newcomb Mott, an American vacationer, wandered across the border in 1965. He was arrested and died mysteriously in Soviet captivity.

Boris Gleb adjoins a Norwegian district where prohibition is in force and thus is a lure to the thirsty. Returning drinkers have aroused indignation among the Norwegians in the past.

It isn't clear why the Soviets want to show off the district, less than three square miles in area.

There's not much to see. The most popular attraction is the bar. There are a church, a restaurant and a filling station. The scenery is the same as the wild country on the Norwegian side.

Opening the border might yield the Soviets some foreign currency. The Russians charge six Norwegian kroner—90 cents—at the border and presumably the bar and restaurant do a good business.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

Classic Coiffures Employs Beauty Care Professionals

Classic Coiffures, 1903 Fortieth Street, is hiring two new beauty operators — Bess Early and Wanda Lavrens.

New customers are learning what old customers always have known — that Classic Coiffures are real professionals in beauty care. Other operators who take pride in having satisfied customers are Elissa Ramos, Betty Hildreth, Mary Ashley, Cathy Hill and Kathy Henderson. Manager of the firm is Nancy Grimmett.

You can get anything you want in beauty care at Classic Coiffures — such as manicures, facials, pedicures and cold waves. The firm also specializes in wigs and wiglets. They come in all colors and types and they "style very nicely."

Also available are wig cases, hair spray and all accessories for wigs and wiglets.

Several new customers have learned of the professional concern for them at Classic Coiffures. All of its beauty operators are local personnel who have attended beauty college.

Classic Coiffures opened for business last July. In handsome, new surroundings, the building has refrigerated air for the warm summer months and it is decorated in good taste.

Classic Coiffures remains open on Mondays, and there always are two operators on duty. Some of the girls take late appointments by request.

You will find Revlon and Clairol cosmetics along with standard prices at Classic Coiffures. A comfortable atmosphere and courteous service await both old and new customers alike.

Dial HI-3-7126 for an appointment.

Little Lady Didn't Care For Robbers

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Two men walked into a small neighborhood grocery store in Pittsburgh's Beltzhoover section Sunday and approached Margaret Kubisiak, 81, alone behind the counter.

"Do you wish to be waited on?" asked Mrs. Kubisiak.

One man pulled out a pistol. "No," he said, "I want money."

"No," replied Mrs. Kubisiak.

"I'm not fooling," he said.

"Neither am I."

"I've got a gun."

"So do I," she said, and pointed a tear-gas pellet gun at the man.

He and his companion left.

"I don't care for that type," said Mrs. Kubisiak later.

Starling Flies Across As Paying Passenger

HARTORD, Conn. (AP) — When Eva Johansson, 17, of Stockholm was visiting her aunt in Connecticut last year, she rescued a baby starling from a cat. The bird refused to leave its cage after Eva raised it on gruel.

After Eva returned to Sweden, the aunt, Mrs. Ernest Schaefer, had trouble giving the bird its accustomed treatment so it was shipped to Eva in Stockholm — flown as a paidup airline passenger.

Air Conditioning Service Calls Made More Promptly

Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning Co. on the Big Spring Highway can answer service calls more promptly now.

Vernon O. Rannefeld, manager of the firm, said that a new man has been added to the staff and a new truck has been added to the equipment.

The addition of Odell Taylor to the staff also has increased the quality of the service. Previously, Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning Co. tended to "shy away" from work on units other than Lennox since most of their experience has been with the Lennox line.

Taylor, however, has acquired most of his experience working on heating and air conditioning units of other lines. His work experience includes several years at Abilene and Odessa.

"We can handle anything," said Rannefeld. "Taylor complements our staff nicely."

Bob White, who has been with Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning about 11 years, and Taylor will be working primarily on service calls.

"We can double our service," explained Rannefeld.

He said his company also is working out a service contract for the benefit of its customers so that routine maintenance calls can be handled automatically. There will be several types of preventive maintenance available when the new plan is worked out sometime in the fall.

"It's more econimical to catch the trouble through routine checks rather than answer a call after a minor malfunctioning has developed into a serious repair job," he pointed out.

"Ultimately," said Rannefeld, "we hope to have a preventive maintenance plan that can fit every customer and every pocketbook."

"Of course," he added, "it will be up to the individual to determine which, if any, plan best suits his needs, although we'll be glad to help in any way that we can."

Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning specializes in temperature comfort for homes, offices and businesses regardless of size. Units can be installed separately or in one compact unit to give the home owner year around comfort.

With a modern sheet metal department, Snyder Heating and Air Conidtioning can design and complete a system for air conditioning and heating for all types of construction.

Dial HI-3-4411 for a free estimate.

FASTER SERVICE — Odell Taylor (left) and Bob White stand beside their trucks at Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning Co. on the Big Spring Highway ready to answer service calls. New equipment and personnel will provide customers with quicker service.

North Texas Wins Honors

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)— A vocalist from Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., won first place in the Mobile jazz festival while best band honors went to North Texas State.

Five first places were won by North Texas State University entrants, and two each by entrants from University of Southern Mississippi and Florida State University.

Joe Restivo, Bradley University, was judged best vocalist of the competition which ended late Saturday night. Best combo honors were divided between Lou Martini quartet, North Texas State, and Campbell-Tarber duo, University of Miami.

Special achievement awards: John Monohan, bass, North Texas State; Rudy Aikels, bass, Florida State; Sergio Fernandez, drums, University of Southern Mississippi; Lou Martini, saxaphone, North Texas State; Gray Campbell, saxaphone, University of Miami.

Bill Stapleton, trombone, North Texas State; Al Hall, trombone, Florida State; Ron Hanley, band leader, Troy (Ala.) State; Ed Soph, drums, North Texas State.

No Penny Machines At Penny Arcade

NEW YORK (AP) — The Penny Arcade sign over Coney Island's slot machine row has been replaced by one reading: "Get your dimes and nickels here."

The last two penny-slot machines went out with the sign Sunday. Dime games were installed where a copper could once win you a whistle, badge or a box of popcorn.

Of the 83 machines in the arcade, 62 now take nickels and 21 take dimes.

Bermuda Feeling Winds Of Socio-Economic Changes

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — A Bermuda court broke the terms of a wealthy woman's will the other day to permit Negro children to attend a new whites-only school she had bequeathed.

This is among signs that Bermuda is feeling the winds of the political, socio-economic transformation whipping over Britain's shrinking New World colonial system stretching from Barbados to this fishhook-shaped cluster of islands 570 miles east of North Carolina.

The winds blowing here are relatively mild and refreshing, as if meant to match the mood and pace of the colony.

It is a speck of green fringed in pink coral sand, 22 miles long, one mile at its widest, with 49,000 inhabitants, 62 per cent of them Negroes.

Hamilton, the capital, has the calm yet purposeful air of a campus for affluent middle-agers taking postgraduate courses in quiet living. Even the thousands of students who visit here for Easter's "ugly week," as it is known locally, seem different: They are chaperoned, beardless, guitarless, and drink beer for fun.

It probably couldn't be any other way in staid Bermuda. Of 210,500 visitors in 1966, an officially estimated 49,000 were honeymooners.

Billboards and neon advertisements are prohibited. Store signs must not protrude over sidewalks. Rooftops, all of glistening white limestone slabs, must be whitewashed twice yearly as a health measure; the roofs are catchments for rain, the principal water supply source for the islands.

Bermuda has no used-car lots because all residents except medical doctors are limited to one car. If you wish to sell yours, it or its equivalent must be exported. There are 14,000 motorbikes or scooters. Even aristocrats cycle to work while their wives use the family car.

To survive, Bermuda is heavily dependent on imports, even eggs, cream, beef. It produces little for export and annually runs up a giant commercial deficit.

Exclusive of goods imported duty-free for processing and reexport, Bermuda's commercial operations produced a $57-million deficit in 1965. The $24 million government budget, financed mostly by customs duties — there are no income taxes — also yielded a loss of $4 million.

Tourism revenue, however, brought in $40 million and there was unrevealed dollar income from "invisible" sources. These include rental and service fees paid by U.S. naval and air bases, and fees from a large number of international companies based here. An official report merely says "the over-all balance of trade was favorable."

Sees Advent Of Socialized Medicine

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Socialized medicine will be reality within 10 years, a management-union health program administrator told the American Society of Internal Medicine Sunday.

Glen Slaughter of Oakland said the blame for this will rest on doctors "who demanded the right to charge what the traffic would bear, namely usual and customary charges."

Slaughter said "most political observers give the American Medical Association's uncanny political ineptitude full credit for speeding medicare by at least five years."
