Payment Balance Better

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON AP — The nation's balance-of-payments deficit improved dramatically in the April June quarter, the Commerce Department said today.

The department said by one measurement, the official reserve transactions basis, the deficit improved by $2.5 billion over the first three months of the year. The red ink was $831 million.

The department said the deficit was concentrated in late June, when the floating of the British pound sterling created widespread speculation against the dollar in foreign currency exchange markets.

By a second key measurement, the net liquidity balance, the deficit was an estimated $2.3 billion, an improvement of $800 million from the first quarter red ink of $3.1 billion.

Although the department's way of figuring the two balances is more complex, basically the new liquidity balance measures most transactions with foreigners, while the official reserve transactions balance is a broader measure and includes transactions with foreign central banks and governments as well.

The department said the speculative pressures against the dollar continued in July before abating, thus guaranteeing that the speculation will show up in the next balance of payments report.

Since President Nixon devalued the dollar last December, there has been less speculative pressure in foreign exchange markets than before. Last year, the nation recorded its largest balance-of-payments deficit in history, $29.7 billion.

Kissinger To Saigon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is sending his top national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, to South Vietnam Wednesday for "a general review of all aspects of the Vietnam problem, including negotiations in Paris."

The White House cautioned against any speculation that there was a breakthrough in negotiations at Paris. It said the plan to send Kissinger for discussions with top U.S. and South Vietnamese officials has been under consideration "for several weeks" and the President feels it is desirable and appropriate at this time.

Kissinger is scheduled to arrive in Saigon Wednesday night Vietnam time and to stay until Friday. He will meet with President Nguyen Van Thieu, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and the top U.S. military commander Gen. Frederick C. Weyland and other officials.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Kissinger will return to report to Nixon before the Republican National Convention gets underway next week. He said Kissinger will probably be back "some time over the weekend."

But he raised speculations over Kissinger's travel plans by declining to say where Kissinger will go when he leaves Saigon Friday evening (local time).

Ziegler ruled out speculation that Kissinger would go back to Paris or to Hanoi, the capital of North Vietnam. He said Kissinger's travel schedule will be announced later.

Kissinger held his 16th announced secret negotiating session with the North Vietnamese in Paris Monday and then flew to Switzerland to help celebrate his parents' 50th wedding anniversary there. It was the third secret session Kissinger has held in the past six weeks.

He plans to leave Switzerland Tuesday evening and arrive in Saigon about 11:25 p.m. Tuesday night, Saigon time.

Discuss Auto Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — At President Nixon's request, representatives of the Big Four auto manufacturers have been called to the White House to discuss their 1973 prices with Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Cost of Living Council.

While spokesmen for the White House and the Cost of Living Council would not say that "jawboning" was under way to keep the proposed auto price increases down, they did say that the discussion involved the impact of auto prices on the economy.

Rumsfeld arranged a meeting with Ford representatives at the White House today, a spokesman for the Cost of Living Council said.

We're Back

Although operations were something less than normal, the Snyder Daily News was back today in its own plant for full production of the newspaper.

The press was returned to operative status late Monday and offset printing camera equipment which been heavily damaged by floodwaters had been repaired this morning.

Monday's issue was assembled in the Snyder Daily News Office, but was taken to Lamesa where it wasprinted on the press of the LAmesa Press-Reporter.

Meanwhile, work was continuing on electronic typesetting equipment which was damaged by the floodwaters. Some of this equipment, including some that isused to set headlines may have to be replaced. Smaller headlines for short stories are unavailable on the substitute equipment used Monday and today, which accounts for the scarcity of short items with small headlines.

Laird Calls For Party To Back Nixon's Policy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today called on the Republican party to "reject policies of planned weakness, of white-flag waving, of begging" and to give full endorsement to President Nixon's foreign strategy.

The Pentagon chief told the GOP National Convention's Platform Committee the President has maintained the nation's strength while still moving toward meaningful relaxations of world tensions.

Laird did not mention Democratic presidential nominee Sen. George McGovern directly, but he made clear he was attacking the political opposition.

"Our progress could quickly evaporate if we allowed our military strength to wane and if we had leadership that was not firm, calm, realistic and experienced," Laird declared.

"It is especially essential," he continued, "That the nation be led by a president and commander in chief who does not waver under pressure or articulate confusing, teeter-totter views.

"President Nixon has demonstrated the ability to devise sound policies and to successfully pursue them under the most strenuous kind of pressure."

Besides Laird, appearing at today's hearing were Nixon's top economic advisers, who told the committee that federal spending must be curbed and Phase 2 economic controls maintained to prevent a resurgence of inflation and higher taxes.

"Price and wage controls need to be continued and improved for the time being," the President's Council of Economic Advisers said. "But we need to look forward to getting rid of them.

"An important reason for great care in adhering to noninflationary fiscal and monetary policy is to permit the controls to end without major disruption of the economy."

The economic advisers who appeared in addition to Laird before the 108-member Platform Committee were Herbert Stein, Ezra Solomon and Marina N. Whitman.

Cleanup Work Continues As Damage Listed

Cleanup and repair work made progress in the Snyder area today in the wake of Sunday's floods as surveys of damage continued.

The over-all damage estimate in Snyder was pegged at $1,850,000 by the Small Business Administration, with $1½ million of that amount charged to businesses and $360,000 to dwellings.

Several agencies had representatives in town working with local officials in arranging for restoration work.

Horatio Hanks of the SBA met Monday evening with a group of local businessmen whose firms sustained losses from the flood. He explained procedure for arranging disaster loans. The SBA can grant such loans up to half a million dollars at five and one-eight per cent interest on a 30-year payout, it was explained.

Also, in town are representatives of the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Steps were being taken this morning to coordinate the work of the various agencies.

The Red Cross, Salvation Army, along with The First Baptist Church have been surveying and taking care of immediate emergency needs of families and individuals.

The Corps of Engineers advised that the water flowing down Deep Creek Sunday was three feet higher than that which flooded much of the same area in 1967.

Crews of youngsters organized by Snyder Jaycees spent most of Monday aiding residents whose dwellings were flooded as they tried to remove debris and clean up their property.

Banks plan to meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the city hall with owners of dwellings to explain to them the loan programs availabe to repair dwellings damaged in the floods.

A list of tentative estimates of damage to business firms was being compiled by the local Civil Defense unit.

So far, the following figures have been entered all of them tentative and subject to revision as the survey of damage continues:

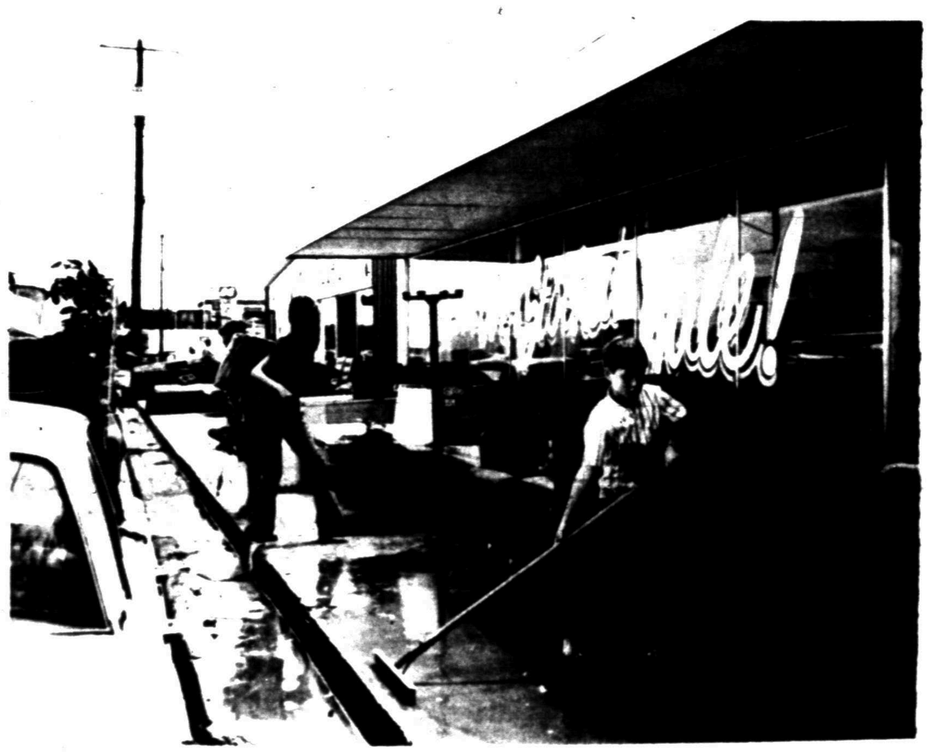
Armor Cote, $500; Hoyt Furniture Co., $200,000; Jack Huckabee Co., $2,000; Parmer Service Station, $1,000; Hinshaw's House of Flowers, $2,000; Montgomery Ward, $7,000; Rainbow Market, $5,000; Furr's $3,000; Goodyear, $300; Snyder Janitorial Supply, $10,000; Forrest Builders, $60,000; Gallegos Glove Co., $2,500; White's, $5,000.

Also, Robinson Plumbing Co., $5,000; M&M Electronics, $3,000; Dunnam Bros. Mattress Factory; $1,000; Pioneer Furniture, $1,000; Snyder Daily News, $75,000; Downtown 66 Service, $500; Clark Lumber, $1,000; Lewis Chevron Station, $200; Howell Electric, $100; Conoco Service Station, $200; U.S. Post Office, $1,000; Snyder Glass and Mirror Co., $20,000.

Several other business firms sustained losses and damage which have not been calculated.

Waters flowing down Deep Creek and the Colorado River continued to boost supplies of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The elevation of Lake J.B. Thomas stood at 2234.37 at 9 a.m. today, which represents a vertical rise of 6.4 feet and an increase in the water supply of 24,000 acre feet. Water was still flowing into the lake this morning at a depth of four feet from the river and from Hjelms Creek and at an undetermined depth from Bull Creek.

The Colorado River crested at 11½ feet above the CRMWD channel dam near Colorado City and had declined by two feet from its high point. This water is expected to begin pouring into Lake E.V. Spence at Robert Lee later today.



SOAKED—Thoroughly saturated merchandise is lined up on the sidewalk in front of Hoyt Furniture Co. building following Sunday night's floods. Water poured through the firm's buildings on Twenty-fifth Street just west of Deep Creek, causing heavy damage.

Tentative Contract For Museum Building Okayed

The Scurry County Junior College District Trustees approved a college budget for 1972-73 and tentatively okayed a contract for construction of a museum building on the Western Texas College Campus.

The museum building will befinanced by bond funds which were included in the issue approved lastyear by voters in the college district to construct a student center and physical education center.

A proposal to add the museum to the contract for the two larger buildings now under construction was approved, pending approval of the contract document by the college district's attorney. The contractor on the other campus buildings, Area Builders of Odessa, had advised the college that it could add the museum building to the project for $345,000.

A budget of $1,273,354.71 for operations and $535,002.50 for the interest and sinking fund to take care of bonded indebtedness was approve. The tax rate was set at 55.4 cents per $100 valuation——28.4 cents for operations and 27 cents for bond retirement. The college district uses the county valuations for its taxes. The county assessed values for the coming year total $181,197,080.

The college catalog for 1972-73 was formally approved and new personnel employed since the last board meeting were approved by the board. The new personnel include Jesse C. Long, Associate Professor in English; Charlotte Strasner, Instructor in Business; Bill Teal, Occupational Technical Education, Ray Terry, Instructor, Automobile Mechanics; and Hattie Simpson, Assistant Librarian.

Dr. Robert L. Clinton, WTC President; Bill Jones, Board President, and Bill Wilson, Vice-President of the Board, reported that WTC was unsuccessful in biding for a library at Hiram Scott College in Scottsbluff, Nebr., which was acutioned off recently. The three went to Scottsbluff in hopes purchasing the library of the private college, which had gone bankrupt. The library, valued at $200,000, was purchased by the University of Colorado for $119,000.

Plans were announced for an "open house" event on the WTC campus scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 20. The new WTC dormitory complex and the Scurry County Museum room in the learning resource center will be open for public inspection between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Sunday.

PREPARING BUILDING—This building is being prepared for possible use as the site for a sheltered workshop by the Scurry County Association for Retarded Children. The building is located near the Humble Smith School.

Plan Workshop For Handicapped

The Scurry County Association for Retarded Children through the Texas Rehabilitation Commission is in the process of developing a sheltered workshop for the mentally handicapped, physically handicapped, alcoholics and drug addicts. Economically deprived persons are not included unless they have one or more of the above conditions.

John E. Connor, contract and procurement officer, Abilene State School, is at this time making a survey within a 200 mile radius of Abilene to determine interest and man power available. Connor obtains work contracts. The businesses who let the contracts provide equipment and freight charges and still find sheltered workshop labor more economical than regular labor. According to Connor, some handicapped persons could make as much as $1000.00 per year which is more than most are doing at the present.

Sheltered workshop jobs include racking and spraying screws for air condition vents and light fixtures; pouring paint into small jars and labeling the jars; packaging plastic table wear and napkins; packaging picture frames; dismanteling and salvaging telephone parts; and repairing soft drink cases. So-called "normal" people cannot tolerate these jobs for long periods of time. With normal people, employe turnover is high. This is not true with the handicapped.

The Scurry County Association for Retarded Children has the names of 19 retarded persons who might profit from such a program. It is asking the general public to help make a survey of perhaps more mentally retarded persons than those now listed and to expand the list to include the physically handicapped, alcoholic, and drug addict. Please call Mrs. Madge Bruce (573-7529) Mrs. J.W. Everts (573-9618) or Mrs. Joye Loyd (573-3729) if you know of a relative, neighbor, or a friend who might profit from such a program. The association will make the contact.

Presents Awards

Two service awards were presented by Henry K. McEntyre, Grand Warden of the International Order of Odd Fellows during a visit to Snyder Lodge No. 194.

Jesse E. Waller received a 30-yard award . Eaves received a 25-year award.

Also visiting the Snyder Lodge were Grand Secretary P.W. McClendon and the District II Deputy Grand Master, W. A. Majors.

Members of Midland Lodge No. 384 Big Spring Lodge No. 372 and Albany Lodge 193 also were present for the presentation.

In an address to the local lodge, McEntyre urged the members to build up the strength of the lodge "so that you can have the members to fill the excellent lodge rooms that you have here."

HOUSTON (AP) — Gladys Helman has announced she is resigning effective Oct. 15, as director of the women's professional tennis tour.

At your service:

Electricity that can help save lives.

The next time you visit a large hospital, think about all the modern machines and equipment there that help save lives.

Those that come most quickly to mind include electrocardiogram equipment, kidney machines, sterilizers, special lights in the operating room, surgical and physical therapy equipment.

Intensive care units in some hospitals have closed-circuit television, so nurses on duty stations can observe their patients constantly.

X-rays, long an important diagnostic tool, can now be ready to read in as little as 90 seconds.

And all newborn babies are now helped to adapt to life conditions by the controlled temperature, humidity and light of modern incubators. Built-in equipment monitors each child's health.

These machines extend the skills of highly-trained medical professionals.

And they all require electricity to make them work—electricity that will be required in even greater supply in the years ahead.

When additional power is needed, we'll be ready to provide it to hospitals and to all our customers.

But getting ready and staying ready is an increasingly expensive, never-ending job at Texas Electric. Our construction expenditures are at a record high for facilities necessary to keep an adequate and reliable power supply at your service.

Art Is Studied

LATE NINETEENTH CENTURY ART: The Art, Architecture and Applied Art of the "Pompous Age." Editored by Hans Jurgen Hansen. McGraw-Hill. 264 Pages. $25.

It was the Victorian Age in England and America, the Second Empire and the Fin de Siecle in France and the Grunderjahre in Germany, as the cover of this book indicates.

It is interesting to see what a conglomerate mess art was in during the latter half of the last century, and, for most readers the volume will be a documentation of the atrocious taste of that period. As editor Hansen points out, it was a period of historicism, when artists and craftsmen pillaged the dominant styles through the centuries. Unfortunately they turned them into gimcracks, overloaded them and made them seem absurd.

The text (from eight contributors) and illustrations (there are 90 color plates, 350 black and white illustrations and line engravings) range through architecture, furniture and fittings, painting, sculpture, goldsmith's work, ceramics, glass and textiles.

There is Victorian fussiness, gothic gingerbread, and a lot of over-decorated glop. The paintings (including those of the pre-Raphaelites) and sculptures were either stoppily sentimental or ponderously portrayed corny historical scenes.

The book serves a useful purpose in reminding us that pretty dreadful crimes were committed in the name of art. It also might remind us that, at a time when nostalgia is a recurrent theme, the good old days are not all they were cracked up to be.

Emergency Measures Of 1971 Gaining Favor

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK AP —It is now one full year since President Nixon, faced with persistent inflation, joblessness and foreign payments deficits, devalued the dollar and imposed controls on the economy.

The President's action was a stunning defeat for the philosophy of laissez-faire.

The fact was that the American people were disturbed by theories that seemed not to work, by promises of economic turnarounds that led straight ahead-and down. Surveys showed public confidence waning.

The American economy was in trouble, domestically and internationally.

Practical measures, no matter how abhorrent to basic beliefs, seemed called for.

Have the results been worthwhile? Millions of words will be written in an attempt to deomnstrate or deny that this is the case and, to a point, some evidence can be offered to suit either viewpoint. The rate of inflation has dropped to about 3.5 per cent, but that still is enough to cut the dollar in half in 20 years. Joblessness has decreased from near 6 per cent, but 5.5 per cent of the labor force is still unemployed.

Still, the domestic economy is expanding, corporations are making money, people are building their savings and a housing boom continues. The government still hasn't learned how to cut spending, and the continued budget deficits and trade imbalances conceivably could lead to a further dollar devaluation even before the word monetary system is rebuilt.

In broad summary, the evidence seems to indicate that the emergency decisions of a year ago have resulted in immediate practical gains for the administration.

The final evaluation of those moves, however, remains to be measured by both future events and future historians. The most important measurement will be of the long-term changes in the American way of life.

Will emergency regulations enacted under the great pressure of immediate problems become a permanent part of the American outlook, accepted as the new ethic, woven into the philosophy, enacted into laws? Time will tell.

Meanwhile, there is one effect that surprises almost everyone who learned their textbook economics more than a dozen years ago. Business is thriving in a regulated economy. Many businessmen support controls. Their mood is bullish. Contrast their outlook with that of a year ago and you have one of the most curious results of the new economic program. Businessmen, economists, statisticians are all looking up.

Ironically, the emergency measures of Aug. 15, 1971, enacted with considerable distaste, are winning respect from some unlikely directions. Conceivably, they could become a permanent part of the new economics.

Pastor Named

DALLAS (AP) — The Rev. Leighton K. Farrell, Richardson pastor and a native of Hillsboro, was named today as minister of the Highland Park United Methodist Church of Dallas, the largest in the denomination.

The appointment was by Bishop W. McFerrin Stowe, resident bishop of the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The Rev. Dr. Farrell has been pastor of Richardson's First United Methodist for more than five years.

Before that, he was executive secretary of the Dallas-Fort Worth area under Bishop W. Kenneth Pope for two years. Prior to that, he organized the Edge Park United Methodist Church in Fort Worth.

The minister received his doctor of theology degree from Iliff School of Theology in Denver.

Husky Jeff Burroughs, the rookie outfielder sent down to improve his hitting, has 32 hits in 141 at bats throughh the All-Star Game break and exactly one fourth of these have been home runs, oine a 450-foot smash in Mile High Stadium.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

You can't teach an old dog new tricks, but you can an old devil. He never quits learning.

Men think better on their feet. Women think better when they take their shoes off.

There are at least four pro football teams I'd rather watch play than the Dallas Cowboys—Baltimore, Kansas City, Minnesota, and Oakland—but Dallas is going to be the team to beat for at least the next three years.

Any girl is old-fashioned who still wears a lipstick that leaves an aftertaste when you kiss her.

Grandparents take more pride in showing pictures of their grandchildren than they ever did of their own children. But, of course, being a grandparent is more fun in almost every way than being a parent.

My supermarket is now charging 89 cents for a 10-ounce box of fresh strawberries. I expect that during my lifetime I'll see them on display in Tiffany's window.

One old female cat in the house can henpeck a man more than a dozen nagging wives. Since I've been a widower, I find I spend much more time trying to find a canned food that Lady Dottie, our cat, will eat than I ever spent searching for a restaurant that would please my wife.

An old-timer is a guy who remembers when office wolves used to prey on innocent new secretaries. Today it's the office wolf who needs a bodyguard.

Four out of five men get as a farewell gift at retirement a gold watch, a traveling case, a fishing rod or a typewriter. There is no other occasion in American life in which so little imagination or ingenuity is shown. It would be far more fitting if they were presented with something more appropriate—such as a lifetime pass to a burlesque house, a 10-speed wheelchair, or enough money to run away from home.

I wrote with some horror recently of a Manhattan store that charges $3.39 a pound for veal cutlets. A reader now tells me that he knows of a place where they charge $3.79. I told him to keep it a secret—and maybe they'll go out of business.

The other day I heard of a new and supposedly surefire way of stopping a girl who is sneezing or hiccuping. Have her sit down, look overhead fixedly at a light bulb and say aloud nine times: "Every day my sex life is getting more and more interesting, and I wonder who I'll have to thank tomorrow!"

Whatever happened to films that have happy endings? Most of them now seem to try to be so true-to-life they wind up worse than life. Your trip to the movies is incomplete unless you bring along a crying towel.

Death An Accident

AUSTIN (AP) — Justice of the Peace James F. Dear Jr. ruled today that the death of a man in a traffic accident involving a Houston federal judge was a homicide. But he added that his ruling has "no criminal meaning."

The judge is John Singleton, who gained statewide notice when he gave immunity to Frank Sharp of the Sharpstown scandals and probated Sharp's three-year prison sentence.

The case will be presented to the Travis County grand jury.

Theodore Terrell, 57, a Houston deputy constable and district manager for a tobacco company, died in the two-car collision late Friday.

Judge Singleton, 53, and his passenger, Warren Bellows Jr., president of the J. W. Bellows Construction Co. of Houston, were treated for cuts and bruises at Brackenridge Hospital here and released Friday night.

The cars collided about 20 miles west of here on Texas 71 in a light rain.

The grand jury will determine if there should be any further action, the justice of the peace said.

Junior Editors' Quiz on BANYANS

QUESTION: What is a banyan?

ANSWER: The banyan is an odd-shaped tree, native to India. It has a peculiar manner of growth. Roots which descend from the branches form supplementary trunks and extend the tree until it covers a large area, giving it a striking form. A single banyan may grow to the size of a grove or small forest. The largest known banyan tree is on the island of Ceylon. It has 350 large trunks and over 3,000 small trunks. The Great Banyan tree at Calcutta, India, covers an area of 1,000 feet in circumference.

The banyan is a member of the mulberry family of trees. It thrives in a warm climate. The wood is soft and porous. The fruit of the banyan is a small fig which is a favorite food of birds and bats. Hindu merchants used the tree as a shelter to display their goods. The Hindu word for trader is banian, hence the origin of the name of this unique, spreading tree.

Nixon Appears Pleased With Economic Policy

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — Back where he launched it precisely a year ago, President Nixon is assessing his new economic policy in the wooded seclusion of his Camp David retreat.

From all indications, including an optimistic set of comments from key economic advisers, the chief executive is immensely pleased with results of the action he ordered last Aug. 15.

When Nixon flew here Monday—his third trip to the Maryland mountaintop retreat in a week—a White House spokesman said he was "reviewing economic matters, economic policies."

The spokesman signaled presidential concern, however, about congressional moves to exceed his budget—moves which the White House contends could hurt anti-inflation efforts.

It was a year ago today that Nixon, after a weekend conference at Camp David with his top economic advisers, told a nationwide television audience that he had decided to impose a wage-price freeze, to slap a 10-per-cent surcharge on imports and to free the dollar from its links to gold.

He pledged, too, to cut the rate of inflation by half—and his advisers are proclaiming success.

Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz, in an anniversary briefing for newsmen, noted that the rate of inflation over the past four months has been less than 2 per cent. This compares, he said, to the 6.1-per-cent increase in 1969 and to the 5.5-per-cent increase in 1970.

At the same briefing, Budget Director Caspar Weinberger voiced concern that Congress "is on a rather dangerous spending path."

Weinberger said he was referring specifically to a $30.5-billion health-education-labor appropriation bill passed by Congress and now before the President. The bill is $1.8 billion more than the President requested, and, said Weinberger, is "a highly inflationary increase to an already-generous budget."

The measure was passed by Congress in the face of a threatened presidential veto. And, while aides refused to say what action Nixon would take, they indicated he would strike down the bill—as he implied he would when he asked Congress recently to clamp a $250-billion ceiling on federal spending this year.

"If you don't get the spending ceiling and the Congress runs itself on a major spending spree ...," Weinberger said, "then that certainly builds up the pressures for a tax increase."

White House aides were reluctant to forecast when Nixon's wage and price controls would be lifted.

"We are certainly not yet out of danger," said Weinberger. But, he added, "we are a lot better off today than we were a year ago."

In Washington, meanwhile, the Pay Board, one of three main agencies running Nixon's new economic program, announced it will retain the general standard limiting wage increases to 5.5 per cent a year.

Injuries Blamed On Fall

HOUSTON (AP) — Police said today injuries suffered by Barnett Garrison, husband of millionairess Candace Mossler Garrison, were caused by an accidental fall and they plan no further investigation.

Garrison remained in critical condition at a Houston hospital with brain damage, a broken left hip, broken ribs and a collapsed lung.

Police said Garrison, 34, an electrical contractor, fell early Sunday while trying to climb from the room to the balcony adjoining the third floor locked bedroom of his wife. He fell about 30 feet to the brick patio.

Homicide detectives said Mrs. Garrison was locked in her bedroom when they arrived on the scene. They said a butler persuaded her to unlock the door and admit the officers.

Police said Mrs. Garrison went to the hospital Monday to join her husband's relatives but she was unable to answer questions. They said she indicated she knew nothing about her husband's injuries until she awoke Sunday morning.

Garrison had a little more than $1,000 in his pockets Sunday morning when the butler found him as he arrived for work, officers disclosed.

In addition, police said, they found an automatic pistol in a case with two full clips of ammunition near Garrison. The pistol had not been fired, they said.

Mrs. Garrison, 51, and a nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, were charged with the 1964 murder of her husband, Jacques Mossler, 69, an investment millionaire. After a sensational trial at Miami, both were acquitted in 1966.

She and Garrison were married in July 1971.

Hints Mass Arrests

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst says the Justice Department would make mass arrests on a "May Day" scale if demonstrators tried to disrupt the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach next week.

But Kleindienst told a news conference Monday at the American Bar Association's 95th annual meeting:

"I don't even remotely expect that to come about."

Some 12,000 persons were arrested in Washington, D.C., over three days in May 1971 by policemen acting without warrants. All but a small percentage were either acquitted or forfeited bond.

Require Labels

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican television stations have been told to announce movies and filmed series they show which are not appropriate for youths.

The ministry of government told the national chamber of the radio and television industry Monday that stations should announce before and during programs only fit for adult viewing that they should not be seen by younger people.

Mom wants to ease little girls' curiosity

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor has three very nice daughters, ages 9, 10 and 11. No sons. This lady stops and visits with me when I am out in the yard and she seems to be a patient and conscientious mother.

I have a four-year-old son and a 13-year-old daughter who play with the neighbor's children. Recently, when my two were at this neighbor's house, she said to my daughter, "I wish I had a son. Would you ask your mother if she would let you bring your little brother here so my daughters and I could give him a bath. Then my girls could see what a little boy looks like. That would help to satisfy their curiosity."

I really can't see any reason to refuse this request, Abby, but I'd like your opinion about it.

MASS. MOM

DEAR MOM: If the girls just happened to be around when you were bathing your son, their natural curiosity could be satisfied, and I see nothing wrong with it. But I wouldn't set up a bath at your neighbor's so the girls could "help," and thereby satisfy their curiosity.

DEAR ABBY: I could have written that letter from the teen-aged girl who was head over heels in love with an "older man" who was separated from his wife.

I know exactly how that girl felt. At 16 I was in her shoes. My dream man was divorced and the father of small children. I was inexperienced, and thrilled beyond words that an older man [of 26!] would even look at me. I lost my heart and my head to him, not realizing that what he saw in me was a free babysitter and a bed partner when he felt the need. And I didn't cost him a dime.

My love affair with him was my first. At the same time, it put me in social limbo. Boys my own age seemed like infants. I missed the school proms, and the fun of being 16. It made a liar out of me, a sneak, and it robbed me of my last carefree days of youth.

What did I get instead? The constant fear of unwanted pregnancy. [I was lucky, it never happened.] Alienation from my parents who really loved me, and two years devoted strictly to him. I also got the very real pain of losing my first love, for would you believe that right in the middle of our big love affair he married somebody else!

That was seven years ago. And it was the best thing that ever happened to me. Sometimes I still ache a little at the thought of him, but not because of losing him. But for what I lost of myself.

GLOWWORM

DEAR GLOWWORM: Thanks for sharing your slice of life. Perhaps another teen-ager who is in love with an older [married or separated] man will learn from your experience. But probably not. Would YOU have listened when you were 16? Pity!

DEAR ANGRY: Here's your letter. I hope it helps.

King Cotton Is Leaving South

DALLAS (AP) — King Cotton is leaving the "Deep South" environment of East Texas for the rugged, dusty plains of West Texas.

Lured by irrigated water and bigger, more modern farms, this economic mainstay is finding a new home where three-fourths of the state's cotton production is now centered.

In an article written by Carl G. Anderson Jr. for the business review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, published today, it is noted that Texas grows nearly a third of all of America's cotton on little more than three per cent of the state's Land.

One hundred years ago, when banjos, river boats and black field hands were synonomous with cotton, all of the state's cotton was produced in East Texas.

But, Anderson says, cotton production has been moving west since the turn of the century and 75 per cent of all of it comes from west of Abilene.

The big spur behind this important change has been, in recent years, brought on by modern technology better adapted to the vast areas available in West Texas, and increased irrigation.

While the environment for cotton improves in West Texas, the article states, marginal land is being retired from production in East Texas.

Irionically, East Texas is turning more to beef cattle production, heretofore the backbone, along with oil, of West Texas.

Anderson says the largest cotton crop produced in Texas was the 1949-50 season, when more than six million bales were harvested from just over 11 million acres. That made an average yield of 261 pounds per acre.

"Improved cultural practices pushed yields to 410 pounds per acre in 1968, but setbacks from weather and other adverse growing conditions have since held yields below that level," Anderson notes. "Yields averaged 282 pounds per acre in the 1971-72 season.

"Reflected in this recent drop were drought conditions that impacted on dryland crops and a late, cool spring in the irrigated High Plains that combined with an early wet fall to cut yields there."

The average price received by Texas farmers for cotton has varied widely from 39 cents a pound in 1950 down to slightly more than 17 cents in 1966, which was the lowest price since 1941. However, there was a sharp comeback in 1971 when the price ranged from 26 to 30 cents a pound most of the harvest season.

Oil Hike Asked

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Major buyers of Texas crude oil have asked for a record 3,751,417 barrels of oil next month, the Railroad Commission reported Monday.

The commission said the nomination for September is 50,113 barrels more than this month, which had the previous record.

The commission said the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast of September demand for Texas crude is 3,525,000 barrels a day, a decrease of 75,000 from August.

Business Better

TECATE, Mexico (AP) — The governors of Mexico's seven border states say the business outlook in their states is improving because Mexican businessmen are more willing to compete with Americans.

The governors gathered here Monday for a conference on the border states' problems with Mexico's President Luis Echeverria Alvarez, his cabinet and other federal officials.

Gov. Eulalio Gutierrez of Coahuila said some Texans across the border from his largely agricultural state are beginning to feel an economic pinch because the Mexican businessmen are doing well and taking customers away.

Other states represented besides Coahuila were Baja California, Chihuahua, Tamaulitas, Sonora, Nuevo Leon and the territory of Baja Del Sur.

The governors said three major problems all of them face are unemployment, shortage of schools and a limited economic market.

President Echeverria was scheduled to visit Tijuana today.

Talks Start

MOSCOW (AP) — Officials of Occidental Petroleum Co. today began a new series of meetings with Soviet trade and economic experts to follow up a cooperation agreement reached last month.

Campers Forced To Abandon Park

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Helmeted policemen forced about 100 campers to leave Flamingo Park early today, eight hours after the City Council voted to allow demonstrators here for the Republican National Convention to use the shaded campsite.

Police Chief Rocky Pomerance, who led the nonviolent operation involving 40 officers, said the city needed more time to prepare the 36-acre park for the thousands of protesters expected for the convention, which opens Monday.

Police first were greeted by epithets and shouts of "Pig," but the campers, most of them followers of the Zippie movement, slowly cleared the fenced park after officers marched shoulder-to-shoulder toward the only available exit.

The protesters, their number thinning to between 50 to 75, then roamed the streets of Miami Beach's senior citizen community. Zippie leaders tried to organize a march on City Hall, but squad cars cut off the march and herded the demonstrators toward a church which had offered to house convention nondelegates.

No arrests were reported.

The protesters were finally directed to Miami Beach Community Church several blocks from Flamingo Park about 3 a.m., where some 40 protesters already were bedding down for the night. About 25 of the marchers refused to enter the church's parish house and slept in the street while officers pulled back and watched.

City Council voted 4 to 3 Monday to open the park for nondelegates. About 3,000 demonstrators used it as a campsite during last month's Democratic convention.

The council did not specify when protesters could set up campsites the park, but Pomerance told Zippie leaders early today he thought the city could arrange for necessary sanitary, medical and other facilities by Thursday.

Dallas Whips Wharton

LA JUNTA, Colo. (AP) — Dallas, Tex., whipped Wharton, Tex., 7-2 Monday night to advance into the championship game of the Connie Mack South Plains regional baseball tournament.

Dallas played El Paso, Tex., in the title game later Monday night.

The winner goes to the Connie Mack World Series which begins Thursday in Farmington, N.M.

Louis Avery went the seven-inning distance for Dallas in the first game, allowing only four hits. He gave up one walk and struck out one.

General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article VIII, Section 1-b, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 1-b. (a) Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads as now defined by law shall be exempt from all taxation for all State purposes.

"(b) From and after January 1, 1973, the governing body of any county, city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the State may exempt by its own action not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older from all ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. As an alternative, upon receipt of a petition signed by twenty percent (20%) of the voters who voted in the last preceding election held by the political subdivision, the governing body of the subdivision shall call an election to determine by majority vote whether an amount not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) as provided in the petition, of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or over shall be exempt from ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. Where any ad valorem tax has theretofore been pledged for the payment of any debt, the taxing officers of the political subdivision shall have authority to continue to levy and collect the tax against the homestead property at the same rate as the tax so pledged until the debt is discharged, if the cessation of the levy would impair the obligation of the contract by which the debt was created."

He shall be at least thirty years of age, a citizen of the United States, and shall have resided in this State at least five years immediately preceding his election."

Sec. 2. That Article IV, Section 22, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

He shall represent the State in all suits and pleas in the Supreme Court of the State in which the State may be a party, and shall especially inquire into the charter rights of all private corporations, and from time to time, in the name of the State, take such action in the courts as may be proper and necessary to prevent any private corporation from exercising any power or demanding or collecting any species of taxes, tolls, freight or wharfage not authorized by law. He shall, whenever sufficient cause exists, seek a judicial forfeiture of such charters, unless otherwise expressly directed by law, and give legal advice in writing to the Governor and other executive officers, when requested by them, and perform such other duties as may be required by law. He shall reside at the seat of government during his continuance in office. He shall receive for his services an annual salary in an amount to be fixed by the Legislature."

Sec. 3. That Article IV, Section 23, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 23. The Comptroller of Public Accounts, the Treasurer, the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and any statutory state officer who is elected by the electorate of Texas at large, unless a term of office is otherwise specifically provided in this Constitution, shall each hold office for the term of four years and until his successor is qualified. The four-year term applies to these officers who are elected at the general election in 1974 or thereafter. Each shall receive an annual salary in an amount to be fixed by the Legislature; reside at the Capital of the State during his continuance in office, and perform such duties as are or may be required by law. They and the Secretary of State shall not receive to their own use any fees, costs or perquisites of office. All fees that may be payable by law for any service performed by any officer specified in this section or in his office, shall be paid, when received, into the State Treasury."

Sec. 4. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to provide a four-year term of office for the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Secretary of State, and certain statutory State officers."

Staubach Suffers For Scrambling

DALLAS (AP) — Marianne Staubach watched the collision of Ram middle linebacker Martin McKeever and her husband, Roger, Saturday night on television, calmly turned to some friends and said: "I hope it's his head and not his arm."

A quarterback's wife would think like that. If the arm goes ... the career could be over.

"When he first got up, I thought it was his head," said Mrs. Staubach. "You can get over a headache in a couple of days. That heals faster than an arm."

But she knew when Dallas Cowboy trainer Larry Gardner helped Staubach to the sidelines that her worst fears had been realized.

"I could tell it was his arm by the way he was holding it," she said of the shoulder separation which required surgery.

She sighed and said "I guess Roger will never quit scrambling. That's him. Granted he doesn't scramble now near as much as he used to. But he's just too much of a competitor not to run when he doesn't see his receivers open.

"On this particular play he figured if he would turn inside he'd have the first down and maybe a touchdown. He didn't see McKeever ... but that's him ... all out ... down with the ship."

She said Staubach didn't feel like talking with the press Monday because "he's still coming around from surgery ... you know still a little groggy.

"I told him the doctor said he would be playing in eight to 12 weeks. He got out a schedule and said 'Oh, that's when we play Washington, right in the heart of the season. I'll be in there for the long haul.'"

Mrs. Staubach said "We're thankful that it wasn't worse. It could have been a dislocation like we went through in 1965 when Roger played for the College All-Stars. It was his left arm and it's never bothered him. But it took awhile to heal while we were in the Navy."

Staubach completed four years in the Navy before he came to the Cowboys and directed them to the Super Bowl championship last year.

Mrs. Staubaeh said the injury factor is always "in the back of the mind" of wives of professional athletes.

"But you never think it will happen," she said. "It's a shocking blow. Football is a big thing in our lives but we have a lot of other things too (if he doesn't recover)."

She added "Oh, he'll be back. His timing is just messed up. The surgery on Roger is similar to the operation Bob Hayes underwent. He was back in six weeks. Of course, Roger's arm is his primary weapon. But he doesn't consider the season blown."

Asked if Roger had any regrets about taking on a man some 65 pounds heavier, she replied: "All he said was if he had had bigger shoulder pads it wouldn't have happened."

Flames Finish Second In Hamby Tournament

The Snyder Flames traveled to Hamby this past weekend and returned with the runnerup honors behind the champion hosts in the Hamby Invitational Tournament.

In the tourney opener the Flames came from behind in the top of the seventh when Barbara Moffett whacked a two run homer with two outs. Barbara combined with Janie Rody to contribute the main attack for the Flames' offense. Janie had four hits and scored four runs while B.J. figured in every run that the Flames scored, hitting three times, picking up four RBI, and scoring one run herself. Mabel Powell was the winning pitcher and went the entire game for the Flames.

In the second game the Flames bats could not get started and they dropped an 8-6 verdict to a team composed of players from Lubbock, Abilene, and Ft. Worth. Gwen Brunson, who seems to be having her problems lately from the mound, started the game but went only three innings and gave up seven of the runs, taking her fourth loss of the season. Mabel Powell finished the game. Barbara Moffett was the only Flame to have two hits. She had a single and a double.

In the third game the Flames kept their tourney bid alive with a 12-8 victory over Midland. Brunson started, again, but again lasted only three innings and gave up six runs. Powell went the last four frames to record the win. Once again Moffett was at the top of the hit list. She shared the limelight with Janie Rody. Both had three hits and were followed by the two hit productions of Jan Kruse and Helen Rios. Luther Thompson pulled some heroics with a three run homer in the fifth inning that pulled Snyder out from under Midland and left the score tied at 8-8. The Flames simply took it from there.

The third round victory gave the Flames a comeback berth in the finals against tournament host Hamby. Mabel Powell started the game, but allowed seven runs in the first two innings. This time it was Brunson to the aid, and the relief hurler pitched her best game of the tourney and looked like her old self, but the damage was done and the Flames were forced to take second with a 10-1 loss. Regina Lewis was the leading hitter for the Flames with two singles and Mabel Powell added a triple for the only extra base hit.

The Flames placed two girls on the All-Tournament team. Helen Rios earned a place with her steady defense and Barbara Moffett's offensive consistency throughout the tourney gave her a position. It was the second time that Rios has been selected and the first honor for Moffett.

The tourney brought the Flames record to 22-9 for the season. Their next game will be 9:00 Friday night in the Odessa Fast Pitch tourney. The Odessa meet will be the last tourney for the Flames.

Qualifying Close

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Shreveport, La., golfer Barbara White Boddie had three competitors hot on her heels today as the second round of qualifying began in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Boddie, who runs a tavern with her husband, shot a three-over-par 75 Monday on the 6,138-yard St. Louis Country Club course. She had a 38-37 against par of 35-37.

Second with 18-hole totals of 76 were Lancy Smith of Williamson, N.Y., Martha Kirouac, Anaheim, Calif., and Janet Webber of Fresno, Calif.

"The key to this course is the first four holes," said Mrs. Boddie at the end of her round in humid 90-degree weather. "They are terribly difficult. If you can play them in two over par you can do well."

Calling the greens "absolutely treacherous," she said, "I made only one putt all day, a six-footer for a birdie on No. 15. On No. 6 I was three feet above the hole and I rolled my putt five feet past."

Two sons, ages 3 years and 18 months, have slowed down the holder of a record 69 round in past National Amateur qualifying. She said the National is the only tourney she enters now, except when the Louisiana or Southern meet is held in Shreveport or nearby.

The field of more than 100 will be culled to 32 today as match play entries are chosen.

Reeves Named As Backup QB

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys went no farther than their own coaching staff Monday to find a backup quarterback for Craig Morton.

Coach Tom Landry announced backfield coach Danny Reeves would become the No. 2 quarterback and that Sid Gillman of Dallas' research and development department would tutor the backs.

Gen. Mgr. Tex Schramm said "all efforts" were being made to obtain a veteran quarterback from another National Conference club. The deadline for trades with the American Conference had passed when Super Bowl hero Roger Staubach suffered a shoulder separation Saturday night in an exhibition game with Los Angeles.

Staubach, now recovering from surgery in Baylor Hospital, wasn't expected to be ready to play for some 12 weeks.

"There is a possibility of a trade but we're going to have to get someone who's better than Danny," said Landry.

Reeves, 26, retired this year because of severe knee injuries suffered in his running back days with the Cowboys. He was a former quarterback at South Carolina and knows the Dallas system thoroughly. He works out daily with the team.

"Reeves is an excellent thrower although his injured knees keep him from being capable of playing halfback," said Landry. "He works plays against our defense all the time. Danny says he's interested because it's a challenge. Reeves can be a quarterback."

Landry said Reeves likely wouldn't play against New Orleans this Saturday night in an NFL exhibition but granted it was possible somewhere else down the line.

Rookie Maurice Daigeneau of Northwestern is the only other quarterback on the Cowboy squad.

Cowboy team physician Dr. Marvin Knight said Reeves' knees could stand the strain of quarterbacking if he didn't run the ball.

Landry announced he would call the plays for Morton just like he did for Staubach by shuttling the tight ends.

Asked whether Staubach had a chance to win his job back before the end of the season, Landry answered, "You can't count him out. The same thing that made him try to run over that guy (Ram linebacker Martin McKeever) on the goal will bring him back."

The 1973 American Bowling Congress tournament will be held in Syracuse, N.Y., starting next March 3.

TEXAS HOSPITALS OPERATE ON OIL
A modern hospital uses hundreds of things that come from oil: surgeon's gloves and gowns, plastic tubes and syringes, x-ray film, bed sheets, and even the paint on the walls.
But most of all, hospitals use energy. In the operating room, the intensive care ward . . . wherever patients are treated.
75% of all our energy comes from oil and natural gas (including 40% of our electricity).
But today, we're using these petroleum fuels faster than we are finding them. That's why America faces an Energy Gap.

Allocation Pondered By Republican Rules Panel

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A Republican rules-making panel deliberated today on moves to change the way convention delegates are selected and allocated. Its decision will have a strong impact on the 1976 GOP convention's choice of a presidential nominee.

The 108-member Rules Committee of the Republican National Committee scheduled an afternoon session to consider the proposals which would open up the delegate selection process for the next convention and revise the method of allocating delegates to the states.

The Rules Committee's recommendations must clear both the national committee and the convention Rules Committee before they can be put to a vote at the convention next week. In past conventions they have been altered very little in the process.

The line was sharply drawn between liberals and conservatives Monday on the two major questions before the committee: how to bring more women, youths and blacks into the Republican party and how to fix the delegate strength of each state.

At a day long committee hearing, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., John W. Gardner, chairman of Common Cause; Massachusetts Gov. Francis W. Sargent and others identified with the liberal wing of the party endorsed a proposed rule that would require state Republican parties to take positive action to assure that all segments of the voting population participated in party affairs.

The proposal was advanced as an alternative to setting quotas for youths, women and blacks. Quotas originally were recommended by a reform panel but were discarded when they came under heavy attack.

Sen. James Buckley of New York, a member of both the Conservative and Republican parties, and Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-Ill., a leading House conservative, attacked the alternate proposal as an attempt to set quotas indirectly.

Strong criticism also was directed by conservatives and delegates from small-states at a variety of plans for allocating delegates among the states that would increase the influence of the large states in the 1976 convention.

David B. Kennedy, a delegate from Wyoming, said adoption of such a system "would destroy the Republican party as we know it."

The Republican party currently awards 80 per cent of its convention delegates on the basis of each state's electoral vote and the other 20 per cent on a bonus system that rewards states that went Republican in the last presidential election. The system recently was held unconstitutional by a federal district court because of the bonus awards. The decision has been appealed.

LONDON (AP) — The British government said it is preparing to offer refuge to 60,000 colored people of Asian extraction being expelled from Uganda. But they may find themselves as unpopular in Britain as they are in their East African homeland.

Labor party leader James Callaghan said he regrets that British passports were ever issued to the Asians in Britain's former African colonies.

Francis Boyd, a columnist for The Guardian, wrote that the welcome for the "lost souls" from Uganda will be "somber at best."

"Where are the houses for these people, the jobs or the school places for their children?" asked a letter writer to The Guardian, B. Dalton.

The Uganda Asians and those in neighboring Kenya and Tanzania retained their British citizenship when their countries became independent. This entitled them to emigrate to Britain at any time. But five years ago Kenya cracked down, to end the Asians' hold on the country's commerce, and the resultant influx into Britain touched off a racial scare among lower class whites fearful of the competition for jobs and cheap housing. The Labor government responded by sharply restricting immigration.

Now President Idi Amin of Uganda has given the holders of foreign passports in his country 90 days to get out. Most of them are of Asian extraction, with an estimated 60,000 holding British passports, and an unknown number of others holding Indian or Pakistani papers. Britain's Conservative government says it will honor the British passports, but so far it has come up with no concrete plans.

Britain is one of the more densely populated countries in the world, with 587 persons to the square mile — about 10 times as many as the United States. Many of its 55 million people are beset by economic ills and shortages or housing, schools and hospitals. There are nearly one million people out of work.

Trouble between white and colored communities in the cities is coming increasingly to the surface. Rioting in Liverpool last week was blamed largely on racial antagonism in a district where housing is in short supply or of poor standard.

German Plane Crashes

BERLIN (AP) — An East German jetliner carrying vacationers to the Black Sea crashed and burned shortly after taking off from East Berlin Monday night, and all 156 persons aboard were killed. It was the second worst disaster in the history of commercial aviation.

ADN, the East German news agency, said all the victims were East Germans. The Soviet-built Ilyushin 62 was on a charter flight operated by Interflug, the East German government airline.

ADN said the plane was bound for Burgas, on the Bulgarian coast, and crashed near Koenigs-Wusterhausen, a suburb of East Berlin.

Fire brigades and medical teams rushed to the scene, but "all aid came too late — all 148 passengers as well as the eight crew members were killed," ADN said.

A government commission headed by Transport Minister Otto Arndt was ordered to determine the cause of the crash, the brief dispatch said.

Travelers from East Germany said the red and silver jet exploded in the air. West Berlin police said they had an unconfirmed report that it developed engine trouble shortly after taking off from Schoenefeld, East Berlin's airport, and crashed while trying to return.

It was the worst commercial air disaster ever reported in Europe.

Poll Is No More

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Rising costs have forced the Presidential Popcorn Poll out of existence, despite its 20 years of accuracy.

The poll began in 1948 as a promotional gimmick for the Blevins Popcorn Co., was one of the few polls in the country which correctly predicted Harry Truman's victory in that year's presidential election.

Officials of the company said that the cost of obtaining an extensive sampling of the vote has out-weighed the benefits expected by theaters and retail outlets.

Jim Blevins originated the poll when he decorated half his popcorn boxes with donkeys and the other half with elephants. Customers bought their popcorn according to their political affiliations, and Blevins tallied the results of his sales to predict the campaign winner.

SIMPLY BRUSH IT ON—All you need to do to provide protection against crawling pests in the home is to simply brush on Johnston's No-Roach where ever there is insect traffic. It destroys the pests and keeps them away for months and months. The odorless, colorless liquid dries rapidly too for an invisible path of death for roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish, etc.

At Home Jobs Are Available

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: I am somewhat handicapped (my leg) and need to supplement my income with work at home. I sew very well, and have done a little seamstress work. You once gave "sewing for handicapped people who have trouble buying clothes that fit" as an idea. I would like to look into this, but don't know how to make or change patterns professionally. – S.L., Philadelphia

It's a useful skill to be able to alter commercial patterns, or make a pattern from scratch, especially if your customers – handicapped or not – have fitting problems. Most pattern drafting books look like the blueprints for a B-52 bomber, but at least one recent book is simplified. It's based on the so-called Oriental method. "Pattern Drafting and Dressmaking" by Dorothy Moore (Golden Press, $9.95) gives 15 easy-to-follow lessons, including understandable diagrams. The author operated a pattern drafting school in Virginia. If you do become expert at pattern drafting, you too might give lessons to home sewers, as well as provide a pattern drafting service for other seamstresses.

Dear Joyce: My daughter-in-law brought back some very pretty, huge paper flowers from Mexico. I'd like to try making and selling similar flowers. – C.W., Altoona, Pa.

If you can work with your hands, have a little creative flair, and learn the basic rules, really professional-looking crepe paper and art tissue flowers aren't too hard to make. Some flower-makers consider tissue paper flowers to be the loveliest (50 colors from which to choose), but tissue paper doesn't last as long as crepe paper (30 colors). Crepe paper is also more versatile. You can try this scissors craft for a song: about all you need is paper, wire, green florist tape, wire-cutting shears, clear lacquer spray, and a few other incidentals like glue and string. You might sell through gift shops and boutiques, particularly those in hospitals, bazaars, and craft shows. You might work a tie-in with caterers to provide paper flower arrangements for table decorations.

For a free list off various paper flower-making instruction booklets – which can be ordered by mail, and which cost between 25 cents and $1.25 – send a postcard to Joyce Lain Kennedy at this newspaper. Ask for "Dennison Idea Books List."

Dear Joyce: I plan to set up a shop for repairing broken china, glass, pottery and ceramics. Can I do this in my home in a residential area in a small town? How should I estimate my charges?

I have been repairing broken antiques and gifts for years, but since most of it has been for close friends or relatives, I have never charged and have had few complaints on my work.

Now freeloaders have become a problem and I hope to rid myself of them with a paying program. I do not expect to make a living income, but would enjoy supplementary earnings. – T.L., Hitchcock, Texas

It's doubtful that you'll have any legal trouble, but to be on the safe side, check with your local courthouse and ask if there are restrictive zoning regulations. Also, check to see if you'll need any licenses of any type – town, county or state. For pricing, decide how much you want to be paid per hour. Then add the value of your time to the cost of your materials, plus about 10 percent for profit. However, the value of the articles you repair will influence your price; you can't charge $10 to glue together a $5 dish, for example. You may have to turn down unprofitable jobs, or stay stuck with freeloaders.

No-Roach Is Easy To Use

Chances are she DOES have roaches, and other crawling pests in her home. But like everyone she hates to admit it. Don't be embarrassed, "Mrs. Homemaker", these pests have been with us since prehistoric times - and all we can do is rely on science to provide ways to prevent and destroy them. There are many products which offer temporary solutions but only one which offers protection 24 hours a day for months and months - Johnston's No-Roach.

Johnston's No-Roach (comes in a amber bottle with a free brush attached) is different...and it's different for many reasons. No-Roach eliminates the need for frequent application of messy, unsafe sprays and powers...No-Roach is clean and easy to use? Simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around baseboards, sinks, tablelegs, behind cabinets and appliances, on shelves and inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and anywhere else cockroaches may breed. No-Roach dries fast to form an invisible path of death, that kills roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish, all crawling insects-and best of all it continues to kill effectively for months.

CONTROL ANTS

To keep ants out of the house, brush No-Roach across window frames and door sills. Ants will not cross the coating. Use No-Roach with confidence.

It is available at Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, B&B, Safeway, Everybody's, Rainbow and all grocery stores, distributed by Kimbell.

Hurt By Gas Gun

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A valley youngster has been hospitalized, police say, after accidentally shooting himself in the mouth with a tear gas gun.

Francisco Guerra, 16, was reported in satisfactory condition after the incident Monday at a motel between Edinburg and Pharr.

A relative in the next room said young Guerra was talking on the telephone when she heard a muffled explosion and saw a flash. She did not explain how the mishap occurred.

The tear gas gun was of the cylindrical type, about the size of a fountain pen, and is commonly carried for protection by women.

Jamaica's population includes blacks, British, Chinese, East Indians, Jews, Lebanese and North Americans and its national motto is "Out of Many, One People."
