

Worms, Mites Found In Area Crops

Widespread Infestation Verified By Entomologists

Farmers in the Olton area are being attacked by still other pesky pests now that greenbug activity has waned.

Entomologists have verified the presence of grain sorghum mites in maize and corn and bollworms and cabbage loopers in cotton.

Lamb County Agricultural Agent Buddy Logsdon said, "We have widespread infestation of the pests in dryland and irrigated crops, and to date we've experienced great difficulty in controlling the worms."

Cabbage loopers, (sometimes known as measuring worms) eat leaves of the cotton plant and give it a very ragged appearance.

"The opinion of a lot of cotton producers is that if you begin control programs, the process should continue with at least three to five applications at five-day intervals or less - so, this gets to be quite an expensive operation," Logsdon said.

"It's a hard decision to make because of the expense involved and the difficulty of control. Those with good production prospects might want to go ahead with spraying."

Bollworm adults or moths tend to be more active in lush growth and after the recent rains cotton will be in better condition and more vulnerable to attack. Also, damage may be greater in the younger June planted cotton. This information comes from the Agricultural Extension Service district office in Lubbock.

"According to past research, one bollworm can destroy eight squares and about two bolls," says Dr. Bill Clymer, Extension entomologist. "This can be quite an expensive pest when heavy populations are present. Research has shown 2,000 to 2,500 worms per acre are of economic importance. This is about 1.5 to two bollworms per 10 feet of row.

Producers are urged to check their fields closely by carefully examining plants in several areas across the field. If an average of two bollworms per 10 feet of row is found, control should be considered, Clymer points out, however, that worms over one-half inch in length are most difficult to control.

Heavy infestations of the cabbage looper in cotton could possibly defoliate plants and are a cause for concern this early.

Logsdon said, "The small worms are pretty easy to kill, but unfortunately, cabbage loopers are extremely difficult to control with chemical treatment."

"In several fields which were checked the past few days, up to 20 percent of the loopers appeared to be infected with the polyhedral virus, which is the best control that we have for the looper," Logsdon said.

Sorghum mites are found on the under side of sorghum or corn leaves and cause the plants to turn brown, die and sometimes fall.

THE MIGHT OF A MITE—or a few million mites. Although the wind was accountable for this particular maize falling, entomologists warn that an infestation of spider mites can cause the same results. They have verified reports of spider mites, bollworms and cabbage loopers in area crops and Olton farmers are cautioned to be on the lookout for infestations in their crops. (STAFF PHOTO)

Booster Club Sees Plays

Olton fans got a preview of offense and defense plays planned for this year's games, when they attended the Olton Booster Club meeting held in the gymnasium Monday night.

Coaches explained different plays that the fans would be seeing on the field as the boys begin competition Sept. 12. The films of the Mustangs' first scrimmage will be shown at the next meeting.

The club will meet in the study hall in the high school building at 8 p.m. Monday night.

Football program ads are being sold and are still available but must be in by Monday night, according to Bobby Strait, secretary-treasurer.

Farmers 'Keep Their Cool', Take Infestation In Stride

Most farmers in the Olton area reported that they had "a few" bugs or bollworms in their fields, but the majority of them didn't seem to think that the infestation was heavy enough to warrant the spraying of such fields.

Raymond Lewis, four miles west and one south of Olton, said that there were mites in his sorghum, but that it wasn't a bad infestation at the present time. He reported a total of about five inches of rain on his crops.

A farmer who farms one place three and a half miles west of Olton (where he has had a total of 2.6 inches of rain) and another farm two miles west of Olton (where three and a half inches of rain fell), said that he hadn't noticed many pests in his crops. Spraying earlier for greenbugs in his sorghum and "that probably helped", reported Raymond Cooper.

Ull Gunter, west of town, said he didn't feel like he had anything to be worried about right now.

"We've got some spider mites and some bollworms, but the crops look real good. We sprayed for greenbugs but we will probably have some maize fall down from damage but all in all, crops are better than they have been for a number of years."

He reported from three to four inches of rain.

Five miles east of town, T. J. Smith, said there was just a little infestation of the bollworms and spider mites, nothing to worry about at this time. There had been about one and a half inches of rainfall on his farm.

Elmer McGill said he wasn't worried about the spider mites as his corn was far enough along not to be bothered too much by them.

As for bollworms, he said he had a few as well as a few leaf worms but not anything to get worried about yet. Rainfall amounts from two and a half inches to three and a half inches had fallen to give his wells the first rest that they'd had in quite some time.

Robert Meinecke reported about one and a half inches of moisture. He said he had sprayed before the rains for cabbage loopers and had a good "kill" from the poison.

"The pecan crop is looking real good," Meinecke said, "but I'd kinda like to have a little more rain."

His sorghum had some damage from insects but not much he said.

Lonnie Smith said he had one to one and a half inches of rain on a farm three miles north of Circle and about two or two and a half inches on his farm four miles south of Circle, while he reported only two inches on a farm east of town.

"Spider mites are in the sorghum, but I'm going to hold off spraying for a few days. I believe this rain may help get rid of them. We have a few bollworms but not enough to go into a program of spraying as yet."

"Sorghum looks like a good crop if nothing happens and the cotton looks the best in four years and looks like it could easily make a bale or bale and a half if nothing happens."

Forrest Latimer, who farms one and a half miles southwest of town, reported that he would be spraying for bollworm in the next few days. He reported some mites in the sorghum, but that he would not be spraying it.

He said that he had about three inches of rain and "needs sunshine now."

J. W. Lee, west of Olton, said he had noticed a few bollworms and leaf worms, but that he hadn't planned to start spraying.

Lee, for the first time, has 70 acres of green peppers along with a few acres of hot peppers. The crop is harvested every seven days by a group of Mexicans who are living in Olton, who originally came to the area for cucumber picking.

Benny Dickson also has some acreage planted into green pepper and the harvest crew works both fields, rotating each week, picking a new crop every seven days. Harvest will continue until frost, Lee said, "if nothing happens."

A bumper crop is in the making if the insects don't take too big a toll on the sorghum and cotton or "if nothing happens." (to quote a farmer.)

Safety Tips Suggested For Labor Day Motorists

Governor Preston Smith today offered four suggestions to motorists planning trips over the Labor Day holiday weekend. Noting that traffic will be heavy, the Governor urged all drivers to "stay within established speed limits, avoid fatigue, avoid drinking if driving, and drive defensively."

"As your Governor, it is my responsibility to lead our state efforts in traffic safety. I urge all Texans and visitors who will be driving this weekend to use utmost care and good judgment," Smith said.

The Labor Day holiday will officially begin at 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 29, and run through midnight Monday, Sept. 1. During this time, the Texas Department of Public Safety estimates that 44 persons will be killed in traffic mishaps within the state.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety, joined the Governor in urging all motorists to obey the law. He noted that the DPS would have all available uniformed patrolmen on duty over the holiday weekend in a special "Operation Motorcade."

"We will make full use of manpower and equipment to control the unsafe driver," Speir said, "and will begin full implementation of the new implied consent law at midnight the morning of Sept. 1." The implied consent law provides that drivers suspected of driving while intoxicated may have their driver license suspended if they refuse to take a breath test to determine intoxication.

Governor Smith pointed out that "our highway system is second to none in the nation. Our highways are meant to be enjoyed and to be used."

"We can enjoy our highway travel this weekend and we can travel safely, but this is up to every individual behind the wheel," the Governor added.

Both the Governor and DPS Director Speir urged Texas motorists to adopt the slogan "Drive to Stay Alive" as their personal motto.

July Savings Bonds Sales Total Given For County

July 1969 sales of United States Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares in Lamb County totaled $5,485 according to a report from C. O. Stone, Chairman of the Lamb County Savings Bonds Committee, January thru July sales totaled $67,998 and this is 52 per cent of the 1969 goal of $130,000.

"Bond holders should be aware of two facts and give consideration before redeeming for non-emergency or planned purposes," Chairman Stone stated.

"One - accrued interest on bonds must be declared on Federal Income Tax returns in the year Bonds are cashed and, two, The Department of the Treasury has proposed to Congress a new higher rate of 5 per cent on both E and H Bonds retroactive to June 1, 1969. The 5 per cent rate would also apply to all outstanding bonds" Stone said.

"People should remember, too, that Savings Bonds are sold to be redeemed so there's a steady rate of redemptions at all times for emergencies, planned expenditures, and education and retirement purposes. In addition the unique tax advantages of U. S. Savings Bonds make them especially attractive when fully understood by the bond saver."

"The $52 billion outstanding is a major brake on inflationary forces and represents 23 per cent of the publicly-held portion of the Federal debt," Wilson said.

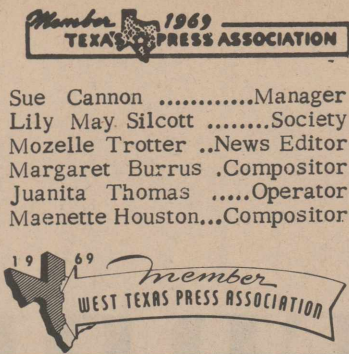

Texas sales during the first seven months of 1969 totaled $104,261,845 --- a decrease of 2.4 per cent from 1968 when sales were $106,830,122.

MRS. RUSTY SHERMAN

Cook Of The Week

An "Oltonite-By-Marriage", Mrs. Rusty Sherman, shares some of her favorite recipes with Enterprise cooks.

The former Jan Rowe before her marriage to Rusty in February 1967, she received her bachelor of science degree in home economics education from Tech this spring.

Jan, whose father is with International Harvester, lived in nine different school districts before her graduation from Tascosa High School in Amarillo.

While Rusty completed his basic training at El Paso, Jan made her home with her parents-in-law, Basil and Ruby Lee Sherman. According to them, she is a very good cook.

Jan loves to cook and confesses, "I cook by looking in the refrigerator to see what I've left out." She likes to "add to" or vary recipes, giving them her own flair.

She also enjoys craftwork, especially decoupage. She has made several purses and does wedding invitations for keepsakes for friends.

Her newest hobby, which she says she "took up in self-defense" is golfing and her favorite hobby is "taking care of Rusty."

Jan and Rusty leave this weekend for Mineral Wells where Rusty will be stationed at Fort Wolters. He is in the U. S. Army Band.

MEAT LOAF TRICKS
Jan hates "dry meat loaf" so she adds various ingredients to help make her's moist. Some of her favorite "additions" are mayonnaise, various salad dressings, grated cheese, bar-be-cue sauce, and "of course", catsup, Worcestershire sauce and milk. She says she often adds some of all these ingredients.

DARLA FRAZIER & SUSAN CANNON

well, fellow students, here we are! Bright-eyed and bushy tailed ... "bright" ... ready to start the new year ... blap! WELCOME, NEW TEACHERS AND NEW STUDENTS AND FRESHMAN TO OLTON HIGH SCHOOL!

Freshmen, don't be worried about having our "old hand-me-down" teachers --- we got rid of them last year, (ha, ha, ha, ha) Anyway, we're all strangers, at the old grind this year! After seeing all our old classmates this summer with their long hair and now all the new teachers, how could we recognize anyone in the old halls?

It took us all summer to get used to the long hair bit and now we're going to have to get used to the bald heads (hummm) But, we were reunited at the annual signing party (which was pretty much a success) and after a little concentration we finally figured out who everyone was!

If everyone was wondering why the seniors were going through the halls with a frozen smile it was because they were practicing their poses for their senior pictures!

And now ... ta da!

A HONEY OF A PEACH!—Ross Carty shows off peaches which were grown from trees at his home. Carty said he planted a seed three years ago and that this is the first year the tree had produced fruit. The peaches measured 10 inches around. (Editor's note: Very good eating, too!)
