WHY JUNCTION SHOULD HAVE A TOURIST HOTEL

Since the Highway leading in to Junction has been completed, and the outside world has discovered our wonderful climate, scenery, and so on, Junction has far outgrown its hotel facilities; in fact, the tourist have been compelled to move on by the hundreds, when in reality they preferred spending a good portion of their outing with us.

The reason, I say, Junction should have a modern Tourist hotel, is because it is about the only chance to keep our town growing. We have practically every inducement to offer that many other places do not have. Junction is so situated, (it is just a good day's run over the highways from most any city within 130 to 250 miles of us), making this an ideal point for an over-night stop.

Again, Junction being off the railroad gives us practically nothing to draw from in the way of getting out side business. Our near-by towns are railroad points, and naturally, no one will leave a railroad point to trade in an inland town.

In my opinion, Junction's future and the upbuilding of the community lies in providing pleasure resorts, first class hotel facilities. Tourists spend lots of money, and money spent in a town and community means more business for all, no matter what business you are in, whether you are a daily laborer, banker, merchant, farmer or hotel man.

What has urged me to write this article is to better enlighten the public on this matter so all may know, because a proposition has been made to our Chamber of Commerce, whereby, with the assistance of Mr. Joe Fritz, our present hotel man, a modern hotel is a possibility, and it will not be a small affair.

It is going to take a lot of money, and outside capital will have to come in to put the proposition over. Our Chamber of Commerce is to raise $20,000.00 in cash, and if they do so, I believe the matter will be put through. This is a whole lot of money, but again, it is a small sum if we can obtain for Junction, a modern fire-proof hotel building, with an investment of approximately $85,000 or more.

A hotel in Junction will mean an increase in the value of all property; it will bring people here to locate; it makes better business for every one; in fact, it will do so many beneficial things to numerous to mention, as modern hotels are the biggest drawing cards today. Modern hotels are now being built all over West Texas, and in every instance they are proving to be a great success, together with the town and community in which they are built.

In my opinion, this proposition is a wonderful opportunity for Junction to at once become known as a Tourist hotel headquarters, and the surrounding country a great summer resort, thereby enabling the farmer and ranchman to realize good prices for every thing they have to market. Furthermore, you will seldom find an individual who is willing to take hold of a big undertaking of this kind in a small town off the railroad; so let us do all we can to have it constructed. We may not have the opportunity again for a long time to come and I am sure that every one that feels interested in the upbuilding of our town and community can see that a modern hotel is the first thing toward it.

We must provide a comfortable

SHERIFF SELLS TWO RANCHES TUESDAY.

On Tuesday afternoon at the West door of the Court House, Sheriff Gibbs offered for sale to the highest bidders, two ranches, previously advertised in this paper under "Notice of Sheriff's Sale."

One was the ranch on the head of Cedar Creek, commonly known as the Richardson place. It was bought by J. W. Clappitt of Ranger, through attorney Coke R. Stevenson of Junction, for $9,500. The ranch comprises a little more than four sections of land, most of which is cedar breaks, but has some farming land, and on it is located the big springs that feed Cedar Creek, and are among the largest in the county.

The other place of about 2,800 acres is known as the Baker Cowsett and Moore ranch, and is located near the head of Gentry Creek. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eckert and Mr. Peter Jordan, of Mason County held the notes against the land and bid it in at the amount of the indebtedness, which was approximately $16,000.

Able stopping place with all modern conveniences, for people who can afford them and want them.

We are not asked to put up a penny for nothing; we have a good chance to get every dollar back, with interest, that we subscribe toward the proposition; so let's pull together and put it over. We can do it if everybody helps.

A committee has been appointed by the president of our Chamber of Commerce, Mr. J. N. Hodges, who will solicit you; so when they come to see you, don't argue but boost, and tell the boys, "I am with you for a bigger and better town," and go all you can. Remember, many thousands of dollars will be turned loose in Junction while this building is being constructed. It will not only build up Junction, but will be a most valuable asset to the entire community.

COMMISSIONER-ELECT DIES IN SAN ANTONIO.

Chas. G. Montgomery, elected County Commissioner from Precinct No. 4 at the last election, died at a hospital in San Antonio last Thursday and was buried here Saturday afternoon, the services being conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. J. Virgil Davis.

Mr. Montgomery had been ill for several weeks and has undergone a serious operation. His condition had been reported better and his friends were hoping he would soon be back to take up his duties as commissioner, when word was received that he had grown worse, and a day or two later, his death was reported.

Mr. Montgomery had lived in the east end of the county for several years, where he was engaged in ranching. His family were living in Junction where the children were in school.

Before moving to this county, he lived in Menard County and was at one time County Commissioner there.

In his death the Noxville community loses a valuable citizen, and the county loses what would have been a very efficient public official.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Deland, about sixteen years of age, and two small daughters. The Eagle extends condolence to the bereaved relatives and neighbors.

FIRST FEMININE HIGHER TRIBUNAL APPOINTED.

Austin, Jan. 5.—All records were shattered and at least three precedents established on Thursday when Gov. Neff appointed a special Supreme Court composed entirely of women. It was a healthy New Year gift of recognition to the woman barista of today. This is the first instance a woman has been appointed to sit on the supreme bench; it is the first time a higher court is to be composed entirely of women and it is the initial case of where a majority of the Judges will be women.

Before making the appointments Gov. Neff called H. L. Clapp, Deputy Clerk of the Supreme Court, and asked him if he thought the appointment of women legal. Mr. Clapp opined that probably they were if all eligibility rules were observed, which would require a minimum of seven years' practice of the legal profession and having reached the age of 30 years. It presumed the lady Judges will assent to the last.

Miss Nellie Robertson, elected County Attorney of Hood County without opposition, was designated as special Chief Justice, the two special Associate Justices to be Mrs. Hortense Ward of Houston and Mrs. Edith Wilmons of Dallas, the latter having been a member of the Thirty-Eighth Legislature. It is supposed that Miss Robertson has not qualified as County Attorney, as the Constitution forbids any person holding two offices of emolument.

This court of exclusive feminine Judges will hear and decide the case of W. T. Johnson et al. vs. J. N. Darr et al., pending in the Supreme Court on writ of error from El Paso, the submission being set for Thursday, January 8, all three regular Judges being disqualified because the Woodmen of the World are parties to the litigation.

Judge Stevenson and wife were in Rocksprings last week.

JURY LIST FOR FEBRUARY TERM OF COURT.

The following is the list of Grand and Petit Jurors being summoned by the sheriff to appear for the February Term of District Court. The Grand Jurors will appear Monday, February 2nd, and the first week petit jurors, Tuesday, February 3rd, and the second week jurors Monday, February 9th. Hon. J. H. McLean of Llano, Judge.

The Jury Commissioners were Chas. G. Montgomery, John B. Wilson and Chris Schraub.

Grand Jury—Earl Hill, E. O. Dunbar, Willie Bell, E. H. Harrison, L. A. Warren, E. H. Kothmann, T. J. Wooten, E. I. Cummins, J. P. Mabry, Alton Miller, I. O. Weldon, V. A. Cottle, Robert Hunger, Ran Davis, Frank L. Wilson, H. M. Stewart.

First Week Jury—W. R. Eckert, W. L. Bierschwale, A. L. Bartley, John Taylor, R. M. Alexander, J. S. Roe, G. W. Vierling, Sr., L. L. Parker, O. Amaon, H. O. Denman, Jas. W. Cochran, Geo. Hamilton, T. FIRST SESSION OF NEW COUNTY COURT.

The initial session of the present County Court was held here last Monday. Numerous routine matters were taken up, but the minutes were not available at the time of going to press.

An error was made in the account of officers taking oath of office in last week's paper, as it was stated that E. G. Hill qualified as commissioner of Precinct No. 3. Mr. Hill had moved out of that precinct previous to the first of the year, creating a vacancy in that precinct, which was filled by appointment of Mr. J. F. Ragsdale.

R. R. King, former commissioner of Precinct No. 4, who was to have been succeeded by C. G. Montgomery, accepted appointment and will continue as commissioner from that precinct. Mr. King has made an excellent commissioner for several years and it is fortunate that he was willing to accept the office for another two years. Mr. Ragsdale is well qualified for the office and will make Precinct No. 3 an excellent public servant.

The court will consequently be composed of two new commissioners and two former members of the court.

County Judge Farmer was elected purchasing agent by the court. He has already begun the routine work of his office and is getting accustomed to the appellation of "Judge."

Dr. Helen Gray returned last week from a visit to her former home in Paxico, Kansas.

WHEN DAD WAS A BOY — By SATTERFIELD

Sallie's Temptations

SALLIE'S REPUTATION IS AT STAKE.

I was panicky. I knew that the "memento" Ted was about to pull from his pocket was the remainder of my black and white checked bathing suit. They would all recognize it. What would they think? The silence was appalling.

I looked up at Curtiss Wright in desperation. In the meantime Ted was dragging the bit of silk from his pocket. My eyes must have sent an S. O. S. to Curtiss, for in a moment he edged his way through the crowd and had Ted by the shoulder. To the onlookers it was all done in a friendly manner, but I noticed that he had pinned his right arm to his side so that it was impossible to display the thing his hand was holding.

"Wassa matter, Mr. Architec' wanna protect our little girl frien'—"

He was about to call my name when my rescuer suddenly shoved him, still apparently in a friendly scuffle, out through one of the lower casement windows.

The crowd stood sullenly as if they rather resented the interference. Then Curtiss Wright re-entered and at a word from him the orchestra began playing. The fickle crowd's interest changed to dancing and in a few moments the scene with Ted was forgotten.

After the last guest had departed I went into the living room and sat down on a cushion in the faint glow of the dying fire. I was tired. The episode with Ted had been indeed trying. "May I see you for a moment," asked Curtiss Wright, coming into the room after making a round of the doors to see that everything was fastened.

I nodded. "I just wanted to return this to you," he began. "I believe it is your property. Evidently the shark didn't place a proper valuation upon it." He smiled sarcastically and handed me the rest of the little suit whose career had been so stormy.

Then he made ready to leave. "Stay a moment," I urged, motioning to him to sit beside me.

"No, thanks," he replied; "I promised your father I'd look after you in his absence, and keeping you awake at 4 o'clock in the morning is not exactly—salubriously," he ended.

"I don't give a rap about that," I flared up at him; "there are a few things you've got to tell me," I demanded. "Don't you dare go to bed until I've finished." And standing up, I faced him.

"What did you do with Ted Billings?" "Oh, he's your first consideration," he answered, and his voice was cynical. "I recall your having defended him already earlier in the evening. He's not such a bad sort—he means well," you said, and now I see you're still anxious about him." He threw out his hands in a hopeless gesture.

"No, no," I cried. "You're wrong. I hate Ted Billings! He's just a plain old skunk and anyway," I continued, "I used to think he was an inoffensive booze-hound, but now I know he hasn't any honor."

I flung myself on the divan and a flood of tears burst from me.

Curtiss Wright came swiftly to my side and knelt on the floor, talking to me, softly as if he were heart-broken at the sight of a woman crying.

"Don't do that, Sallie, little girl," he murmured; "it's all right," and his hand caressed my shoulder.

"But you think I'm horrible!" I sobbed.

"I think that you are wasting your time with a bunch of idlers," he responded, "and you are not always happy with them are you, Sallie?"

"I wasn't tonight. After Ted's performance everything seemed to go fluey. Why, he could have ruined my reputation."

Curtiss Wright's fists clenched involuntarily.

"I want to thank you," I hurried on. "You handled everything so tactfully." I ended weakly. "Did you have any argument with him?"

"No." He shook his head. "Like most bullies—when his bluff was called he became very meek and gentle."

I sat up so that I could hear the rest of the story.

"I took the liberty of asking him to leave the place until he was fit to associate with ladies," he continued.

"What did he say to that?" I was myself again and interested in every word he was saying.

"I'd rather not go into that," he argued.

I insisted.

"Well," he said there was not a girl here who was not as drunk as he was. That was all. Then he found his way out through a window."

"With your assistance, I'll wager." And I smiled in admiration.

Then his brow became puzzled as if his thoughts had wandered back to a perplexing subject.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"I want you to tell me what business Billings had with your bathing suit." And he looked straight into my eyes as if he expected a direct answer.

From his tone of voice I realized that what we would mean to each other in the future depended entirely on my explanation.

TEXAS HAS A CHARM.

There is a charm, a mystery, a romance, a thrill in the name "Texas," that comes with the pronunciation of no other State name in all the category of the Union. We should capitalize these things so that they may be translated into terms of increased business, increased population, greater development. In our publicity we should tell of our history, of the six flags that have flown over Texas soil, of the missions, the frontier forts, the Indian battles, the outposts of civilization. These things interest people and interested people listen.—Ft. Worth Record.

We agree with you, but please tell us how folks are going to tell of the glories of a history and capitalize something that they don't know anything about. The ignorance of Texans about their own State history is something appalling. Perhaps it comes largely from the attitude of the public schools towards Texas history in that they teach so little of it and that when the student is at an age that it makes but little impression. Yet however, it is true. How many Texans can tell the glory of the Alamo, Goliad, San Jacinto or Old Washington, the cradle of Texas independence? There is so little known of Old Washington that it is really hard to find any one who can give the facts about it. Just today we asked a young lad some fifteen or sixteen years old to tell us something about Washington-on-the-Brazos, and what do you suppose was his answer? "Washington-on-the-Brazos? Where is that, anyway?" That boy is Brazos County born; a student of the Bryan high school, and a boy of more than average intelligence. Yet he don't know Texas history, made in his neighboring county. He is not in a class unto himself; there are thousands upon thousands of boys and girls and older folks too, who do not know Texas history. It is never too late to do good, so begin today. Know your State history; it will not only help you individually, but it will help your State to sing its praises.—Bryan Eagle.

By the kindness of Mr. H. G. Perry, there is to be a message to you ever yweek in The Eagle. The recent cold spell has kept many of our members at home; but those who have braved the weather and attended the services have found our pastor, Brother E. L. Kelley, right there at his post.

Yesterday morning, January 4th, we had a fine sermon, and all present felt inspiration and courage to go forward this new year and "win out" for Jesus Christ.

Next Sunday morning let us encourage our pastor by a large attendance both at Sunday School and church. A very hearty welcome will be given to any strangers in our community.

On January 20th, we are, D. V. to enjoy a visit from Brother T. V. Herndon; but more about that good time next week. Everybody invited. Reporter.

School Notes.

Monday, the 29th of December, at the re-opening of school after a week of joyous vacation during Christmas, there were many interesting and beneficial talks enjoyed by the few patrons who were present, as well as by the high school students.

When the work hours began again at school, there was a great surprise awaiting each pupil. Mr. Walter Bueck presented the school with a pretty and useful Christmas gift—a wall clock—which is appreciated very much. The school pupils especially wish to thank him, because it seems to rush the long hours by.

Since the holidays there has not been a full attendance in school on the account of sickness, laziness, and other various reasons.

Last Wednesday the Plant Production class and the instructor, visited the new dairy which is being built on the Baker farm.

The High School was honored with the presence of two visitors, Miss Heyman and Miss Quisenberry, who were formerly High School teachers of this school.

The Spanish class enjoyed a visit from the Spanish teacher's bride and sister, Nettie, who was home for the holidays.

Although there was only one week vacation given for Christmas, the trustees had a tender feeling towards our pupils and gave us a holiday New Years.

New Year's Eve night the P. T. A. gave a watch party at the school house.

The Senior Class met and decided to take up with new zeal the Annual and "put it over." Come on! Everyone back the Annual!

The expression class has started for the remainder of their term of school.

Last week there was a meeting held by about thirty High School students and Mr. Oren C. Reid. But I can't say what the object of this meeting was, since I was not so fortunate as to find out.

Everybody boost the beauty and popularity contests which are to be started immediately.

All the students in the High School are interested in the interscholastic meet. Some are preparing for declamations, some for spelling and essay writing, and others for debate.

Some of the most intelligent pupils of the grammar school were promoted to higher grades. Miss Mattie Wright, the 4th grade teacher, was absent from school last Friday on account of sickness. Miss Nettie Wright acted as a substitute in her sick sister's place.

The English Class III wonders why "Boob" does not read up on "manners?" And also, why Clara feels so "Self-reliable?"

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Last Sunday was cold; flu was prevalent, and the holidays were still echoing from the hills but we had a brief service with a limited attendance. I wish to thank everyone who has at any time shown interest in our services, the churches, the public and the press, and for the special kindnesses and remembrances from warm hearts and hands during the season just past. There are real evidences that the services and work of the Presbyterian church are to become a very vital factor in the religious life of the growing town of Junction, and of the surrounding country.

The Presbytery of Western Texas is planning to that end.

KEEPING WELL

BREAD

DR. FREDERICK R. GREEN

BREAD is the staff of life.

When Christ taught his disciples the Lord's Prayer, he taught them to say "Give us this day our daily bread." Not meat nor milk, vegetables nor fruits, pie nor cakes, desserts nor sweets, but bread.

Bread in some form is the principal article of diet of the human race.

Up to fifty years ago most of man's knowledge regarding bread and its importance was based on experience alone. The housewife added yeast to her dough to make it rise. She didn't know why it rose or how the yeast worked.

Pasteur in 1850 found out all about yeast and fermentation. Osborne in recent years has done equally important work on the chemistry of wheat proteins.

Millers and bakers today try to get for bread-making the flour that has the highest percentage of protein and the smallest amount of mineral matter, or ash, in it.

Our wheat crop last year was 800,000,000 bushels, only 80,000,000 bushels of which, or about one-thirteenth, was suitable for the production of the highest grade flour.

The consumption of bread in this country requires at least 100,000,000 bushels of wheat a year.

The bread on which our forefathers were raised was not as fine or as white as what we have today. The wheat was ground in the handmill or in the small water-power mill with rough stones instead of by the steam roller process of today.

The flour was not as finely screened or as carefully bleached. We eat more beautiful bread than our grandparents did, but it is not as nutritious or as wholesome as the nutbrown loaf our mothers used to make.

Whole wheat flour and graham flour, which contain more of the mineral and nutritive substances of the wheat, make better bread than the highly refined white flour, so commonly used.

Give your children brown bread or whole wheat bread and they will have better bones and better teeth.

Eat it yourself and you'll have better digestion and better elimination.

Weakening Night Coughing Banished Very Simple Way

It is really astonishing how a persistent, exasperating cough that has kept you awake night after night, and is rapidly wearing you down is usually stopped short by a very simple method. Hundreds have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed after the first time they try it.

The method is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. Getting at the cause like this, in a perfectly simple way, it stops the spasm almost instantly. You get your best night's rest perhaps in weeks, and in a very short time the whole cough is gone.

This simple treatment is splendid not only for coughs and chest colds, but also for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and almost every kind of throat irritation, including children's spasmodic croup. Very economical too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for

TEXAS PRESS
ASSOCIATION

The Rising Star X-Ray, purchased last year by our friend, Doc Sellers, formerly of Brady, has made wonderful progress since Mr. Sellers took it over, and in order to carry out the big work that Doc has ahead of him, the name was changed on the first of the year to the Rising Star Record, and in commenting on the change Editor Sellers states that the new name is a proper one for the paper is truly a record of events of interest to the citizens of that town and surrounding country.

We are always glad when the Record reaches our exchange desk, and are glad to see that Mr. Sellers is enjoying a splendid business. He is well known here as a fisherman of no little ability and we are looking forward to the time when he will make his annual visit here to camp on the Llano.

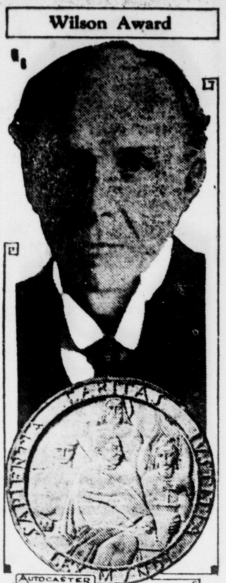

We note that last week's issue of the San Saba News was the first issue of its fifty-first year's service to the town of San Saba and the people of San Saba County.

For the past sixteen years the paper has been under the management of W. A. Smith, now Vice-President of the Texas Press Association. The News is a creditable paper for any town and is especially so for a town the size of San Saba, considering also that in this town is a competitive paper.

The Eagle congratulates our good friend, Smith, with whom we had the pleasure of associating during our trip last summer to attend the State Press Convention at Amarillo.

Editor Smith seems to it that The News is not satisfied with being a good paper, but his every effort is made to make it better and the fine patronage that he receives is evidence of the fact that the people appreciate his efforts. Under the cognomen of "Sun-of-a-Gun," he writes weekly editorials that are anxiously expected each week by the regular readers, and are copied by various exchanges throughout the State.

The Eagle wishes for The News many more years of usefulness in San Saba.

Viscount Cecil of England, now in the United States, last week received the first award made by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation in the cause of world peace. With the bronze medal, 10 inches in diameter and shown above, went a check for $25,000.

January 19th, 1922, recorded in Vol. 26, page 296 of the Deed Records for Kimble County, Texas.

Partition deed, dated February 1st, 1924, between W. E. Hodges, A. F. Hodges, Irene Hodges Farmer, H. H. Farmer, Stella Hodges Nell and Henry Nell, of record in the Deed Records for Kimble County, Texas, Vol. 27, page 484.

Warranty deed from W. E. Hodges and wife May Hodges, dated October 25th, 1924, and recorded in the Deed Records of Kimble County, Texas, Vol. 15, page 603, to this plaintiff, Otto Fisher.

Three: Plaintiff alleges that he and those whose interest, title and estate he has, claiming under deeds duly registered, had said land fenced, peaceable possession, continuous and adverse possession, open and notorious, of the land and tenements hereinafter claimed, using and enjoying the same and paying all taxes thereon due for a period of more than ten years before the commencement of this suit, and this he is ready to verify.

Plaintiff alleges that the defendants are setting up some character of claim to the land herein described, but that the claims so set up by the defendants are spurious, fraudulent and without merit, and that the said claim of said defendants rest a cloud upon the plaintiff's title to said lands, depreciating the value thereof.

Premises considered, plaintiff prays the Court that defendants and each of them, be cited to answer this petition and that on hearing hereof, the plaintiff have judgment for the title to said land, divesting out of defendants any claim thereto and vesting the same in the plaintiff, and removing all cloud from plaintiff's title to said land, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief in law and in equity, as plaintiff may show himself entitled to.

Herein said not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Junction, Texas, this 1st day of January, A. D. 1925.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Warren Mogford has moved back to his farm between London and Streeter.

Paterson and Rieck sold and delivered 900 ewes to Sterling Baker of Sutton County last week. Price $6.50 each.

John R. Martin is starting The Eagle to two of his daughters living at Sonora, Mesdames Sterling Baker and Ben Wheat.

Subscription renewals were received the first of the week from Howard Payne of Willard, New Mexico, and Sidney Ramsey, of Menard.

Attorney Carl Runge, Chas. Bierschwald, Peter Jordan and son, Ben, and J. D. Eckert, all of Mason, were business visitors in Junction Tuesday.

J. R. Pettitt was here from Camp Wood last week, and while he would not commit himself, it is stated he is now mayor of that growing town.

After this date, the Elite Beauty Parlor will be open from 11 to 5 o'clock each day except Fridays.

Miss Lola Brooks of San Antonio, who has been a stenographer for the past three years, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bissett and Mrs. Nellie Hankins left Tuesday for Glen Rose where they will probably remain a couple of weeks. They drove thru in Mr. Bissett's car.

In sending in her renewal this week, Mrs. Mary Bell of London also had The Eagle sent to Mrs. Ed Hill of Klamath Falls, Oregon, and Mrs. Gilbert M. Hubbard of Inlay, Nevada.

Frank Lifeste of Segovia was in town Wednesday from his place near Segovia and called at The Eagle office to renew his subscription. Frank says he can't get along without The Eagle.

Miss Mary Ellis Blackburn was here during the Holidays to visit homefolks. She is a student at Southwestern this year. Her name was overlooked in the long list of visiting students last week.

Mrs. Hankins who has charge of the sale of Christmas seals, states that the sale was very satisfactory, although this county only bought about $72 worth, while the quota was $100. All the schools in the county, except four, to which seals were sent, sold their quota. Miss Modelle Jobes' pupils sold the largest amount.

I want the High School students who visited our dairy this week to know that I appreciated their visit. Very sorry that I was engaged in work at the time and was unable to welcome them personally. When the building and equipment is completed, I will be glad to have them visit the dairy again and will take pleasure in showing them everything about the place.

FOR SALE—Preparatory to winding up the Estate of H. P. Roddie, deceased, I am offering 83 shares, fully paid and non-assessable, in the Menard Wool & Mohair Association, par value $100.00 per share; also 250 shares fully paid up and non-assessable, in the Cattle Raisers' Loan Company, of Fort Worth, Texas, par value $4.00 per share. Submit your offer to me, Brady, Texas. O. L. McShan, Administrator of the Estate of 38-2tc H. P. Roddie, deceased.

Lee Walton, who is attending a business school in Abilene and Guy Munn returned to Abilene last Sunday. T. H. Walton and N. H. Skaggs drove through with them and will go on to Glen Rose before returning to Junction.

Ned Estes was here last week from Mountain Home. Ned has been sick several months and has been unable to look after his garage business there, which he built up to a nice patronage. Mrs. Estes still conduct the store and postoffice.

NEED GLASSES?

Dr. Jones, the Eye Man will be at Hankins Drug Store on Thursday, January 22nd. Eyes examined, glasses fitted, headache and eye-strain relieved. Remember the date.

DANCE.

Last Thursday evening Miss Emmarine Ray honored the young set with an informal dance at her home.

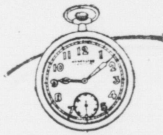

At a late hour refreshments of hot chocolate and cake were served to the guests present.

A fire that in a short time would have spread to the Emil A. Loeffler home in the south part of town, was extinguished, after the tank tower and a quantity of clothing had burned. The fire started at the wash kettle and spread in the dry grass. A number of people were on the ground promptly and prevented serious loss.

FOR SALE—My place in Junction, immediately south of the Hodges Hotel. Just recently remodeled and repainted. CITATION

The State of Texas: To the Sheriff or any Constable of Kimble County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to cite all persons interested in the welfare of Arthur Stockton, a boy, about 10 years old, and Emory Stockton, a boy, about 7 years old, minors, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Kimble County, to be held at the court house thereof, in the town of Junction, on the first Monday in February, A. D. 1925, and continue, if they fail to do so, the application of B. M. Stockton, which has been filed in said Court, for the guardianship of the persons and estate of said minors. If herein fail not, but have you before said Court at next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in the town of Junction, this 21st day of December, A. D. 1924.

N. R. SKAGGS, Clerk County Court, Kimble County, Texas.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS: To the Sheriff or any Constable of Kimble County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Wm. Amberson and Beulah Wahrmond by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 33rd Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 33rd Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Kimble County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Junction, on the first Monday in February, A. D. 1925, the same being the 2nd day of February, A. D. 1925, and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 9th day of January, A. D. 1924, in said numbered on the docket of said Court No. 842, wherein S. H. Ivy, Mrs. W. A. Freeman, a feme sole, W. Gephart, J. L. Gephart, Henrietta Gephart, a feme sole, H. F. Grobe, C. W. Hardisty, T. J. Lanes, Henry Lanes, T. B. Pearl, H. C. Pearl, Sime Pearson, W. M. Height, W. D. Adams, J. T. Jackson, Ed Smitherman and Nath Walker, are Plaintiffs, and Beulah Wahrmond, J. R. Wahrmond, who reside in Kimble County, Texas, May Bell Amberson and Wm Amberson, who reside in Los Angeles, California, Minnie Walton and John Walton, who reside at Swenson, in Snowball County, Texas, Kerion G. C. Hubbard, and Gilbert M. Hubbard, who reside at Sparks, Nevada, also Geo W. Hoel, who reside at Karnes County, Texas, are defendants. File Number of said suit being No. 842.

The nature of the Plaintiff's demands is as follows, to-wit: That on or about the 24th day of April, A. D. 1923, Plaintiffs were lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, situated in Kimble County, Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit: Survey No. 446, Section No. 7, on the Llano River, made for Jose Pineda, containing altogether 4,602 acres of land, located in Kimble County, Texas. That on the day and year last aforesaid defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiffs therefrom, and unlawfully withhold from them the possession thereof to their damage in the sum of Three Thousand Dollars. That the reasonable value of the annual rental value of said land and premises is Two Thousand Dollars.

Wherefore plaintiffs pray judgment of the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that plaintiffs have judgment for the title and possession of said above described premises, and for their rents, damages and costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and equity, that they may be justly entitled to, as in duty bound will ever pray.

Stevenson and Knetsch, Attorneys for Plaintiffs. Given under my hand and seal of said Court at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

L. R. HODGES, Clerk, District Court, Kimble County, Texas.

Robert Fritz.WHAT PROPORTION
OF MEN ARE HONEST?Some time ago the Parisian newspaper, "Le Soir," conducted an unusual test of honesty
among its readers and others.
A list of 100 selected men was made up, and to each was mailed five francs in stamps.A letter was sent with the stamps, under a fictitious name, which clearly indicated that the stamps were being mailed to the wrong individual. The list of 100 names included diplomats, professional men, tradesmen, authors and clergymen.No mention of the newspaper was made, and from all indications, some small tradesmen had merely made an error in mailing.Then "Le Soir" waited for the response. Out of the 100, 66 men failed to return the stamps. Of the 34 who did return them, authors and parliamentarians proved the more honest as a group.One might speculate a good deal on the results shown, but in the end, when all the facts were known, the test would probably prove how careless people are rather than how dishonest.This question of honesty suggests a side of human nature which a little division of the treasury department at Washington touches every few days.Just about a hundred years ago, some one sent $5.00 to the treasury, indicating that it was intended to repay a similar sum taken from the government.That was the beginning of what is known as the "conscience fund." Since that time thousands of such offerings have been received from people who had in one way or another defrauded the government and who found in the end that their consciences would give them no rest until they had made restitution.Starting with that original $5 bill, the fund now shows that over $600,000 has been received in this manner by the government. The sums range from a postage stamp to the record sum of $30,000, which was received by the treasury department with the unsigned explanation that it represented the amount which the sender had stolen many years before.While $30,000 is the the large-est single amount ever received,
there have been many substantial sums sent in under all sorts of curious circumstances.—Ex.The City Market now has fresh oysters. 24-tfcD. C. BROYLES IS NOW CONCHO COUNTY JUDGE.To his role of teacher, publisher-editor and postmaster will be added that of Judge when D. C.
Broyles of Paint Rock assumes the office of Concho County Judge on Thursday, January 1.In order to devote himself wholly to his new duties, Mr.
Broyles has recently leased both the Eden Echo, which he founded in 1906, and the Concho Herald at Paint Rock, which he established twelve years ago, he announced in San Angelo Monday. He was accompanied here by his son, Dodson Broyles, advertising man on the Dallas Dispatch, who is spending the Christmas Holidays at home, and by J. F. Cope of Paint Rock.Mr. Cope has leased the Concho Herald and takes charge January 1. He has been with the Santa Fe Railroad at Eden for several years, and has been in Paint Rock since December 1, familiarizing himself with the plant. J. A. Wilhelm and son, Clyde, have been publishing the Eden Echo for some time, though they leased it only a month or so ago.The Concho County Judgeship will be the first elective office Mr. Broyles has ever held.
He served Paint Rock for eight years as postmaster, being an appointee of the late President Woodrow Wilson in 1912.—San Angelo Standard.Many here will be glad to know of Mr. Broyles' continued success in Concho County. He was superintendent of the Junction school several years ago, and has many friends here.The Kerrville Mountain Sun upholds the right of the landowner to ban the hunter in an effort to conserve wild life and says that the hunter does nothing to protect or foster the game.Game conservation is excellent in theory, but it can be carried too far. The recent example of failure in trying to move herds of starving deer out of the Grand Canyon where they had been protected from slaughter until they ate all the range, shows that game conservation that simply prevents killing by hunters, is not conservation at all. As between the hunter who has studied the habits of game and who wants to see it protected for the sake of sport and the land-owner who very often gets the viewpoint that wild game on his land is his own property the conservation odds are in the sportsman's favor. And if more argument were needed it might be recalled that it has been the hunter rather than the land-owners who are responsible for most of the game conservation laws we have.—"Think," in San Antonio Express.While the esteemed writer of the Think Column of The Express misquotes The Sun in the statement that the hunter does nothing to protect or foster the game, the contention is still held that the land-owner does more for the protection and conservation of wild life, and, as pointed out by O. W. Smith in the January issue of Sportsman's Digest, there must be the closest co-operation between the farmers and true sportsmen if the future generation is to have any hunting. Along this line,
Mr. Smith says:"Heaven bless the farmers, game refuges and all that; unless the farmers help out our game is doomed. Right here I want to pause long enough to say a word about the relationship between the farmers and sportsmen. I know that such signs as 'No Hunting Allowed,'
'Private—Keep Out,' 'Trespassing Strictly Forbidden,' etc., make us see red, for we are Americans, descendants of the men who hunted wherever they saw fit, and also all but exterminated the game. If you could see the matter from the farmers viewpoint, I am sure you would appreciate his situation. Often the farmer is a far better sportsman than the man who proudly assumes the title, leaving gates open, throwing down fences and cutting down wire fences! We have a few ring-neck pheasants in Wisconsin, and, of course, a perpetually closed season, yet so-called sportsmen shoot them unless under the eye of a game warden. The farmer, for the most part, doesn't break the game laws, and because he has suffered so much from the hands of sportsmen—Sportsmen—he is refusing all hunters permission to hunt on his land. So the innocent suffer for the guilt-ty. My sympathy is all with the farmer, though those warning signs stir my anger, because in my veins courses the blood of a long line of free hunters. Let me tell you something a game warden told me. Noticing three hunters stalking across a field with game pockets bulging, he asked to see what they had. One had some tame ducks, another chickens, and the third a small pig! I know it sounds utterly impossible, but I see no reason to doubt the warden's word. He took those fellows back to the farmhouse where the pig was identified as one of a drove, and they took it for granted the fowls came from the farmer's flocks, for he had both ducks and chickens.
Of course, they were foreigners,
these hunters, and in no wise sportsmen, but it indicates what the farmers are up against who live anywhere near a large town.
Can't you see that there is much to be said for the agriculturist?
And believe me, it is not only the ignorant foreigners who are guilty of depredations. There must be the closest co-operation between the farmers and true sportsmen, if we are to have hunting to hand down to our children."—Kerrville Mountain

Owensboro, Ky.—Mrs. Maude Basham, wife of a Davie County farmer, was fined $10.00 in police court Tuesday following conviction on a charge of having violated the State "anti-gossiping act." Mrs. Basham, it was testified, had stated that the Owensboro police were "50-50 with the boot-leggers." A law enacted by the last general assembly makes it a misdemeanor for any person to make false reports concerning any individual, officer or candidate for office. Conviction carries a penalty of $10.00 to $10000 fine and 10 to 50 days in jail, or both. It pays to read the ads.

WATSON DIVIDE NOTES.

(Society Number)

If you don't like what we say, say something about it. If you do like it, be quiet. You might give us the big head.

"Watson Divide, U. S. A." will get us. It won't make any difference who gets it, we are all one big family up here.

Where they played on Christmas Day: The mudges and Mrs. Nancy Paterson at Mrs. Aggie Paterson's and the Rieck's; the Prentice and the worse one-tenth of the Cardwells at Watson's; the better nine-tenths of the Cardwells and children with the Mitchells at Wheelock; the Bundys with the Hardings at San Antonio; Miss Marion Whitwood with her sister in San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cowser and Miss Lillie Ramsey at Mrs. Cowser's in San Antonio; the Hogens at Center Point with home folks; Mr. and Mrs. Vic Durham of Kerrville at W. H. Ramsey's; Mrs. Wolf at Junction; "Babe" feeling the Bolt rode pony at home for gentle exercise;

Mr. and Mrs. John Barfield and Mother Barfield at Ed. Bar-Messrs. W. P. Riley and Hez Denman in the afternoon installed a new radio set for the community, and parties for four consecutive nights were perfect successes. Two complete church services were enjoyed Sunday from the two First Methodist Churches of Dallas and Fort Worth.

At the regulation polo game Tuesday, all the ladies present vowed a vow that they would not hold Joe Watson's head, so he did not get hurt a single time. He said there wasn't any use.

Carl M. Wolf's party Monday night was undeniably a success. At 2:59 a. m., H. W. Rieck was at the Cardwell ranch inquiring "the way to go home" and asking for a drink of water. Absolute data has not yet been received on that old native Texan, Felix Watson, but car tracks wearing casings similar to his were found on all the dim roads of the Welge ranch. Mr. Rieck was heard to mutter that if he "had a few goat coats along it wouldn't be so foggy."

Much coming, much going, no sickness, no weddings, no fights (but repeat myself—a man in California, Calcutta, Schenectady, New York, or Havana, Cuba, was criticizing his pastor for over the radio Sunday night for preaching on "Marriage" at eleven o'clock and at night on the "Eternal Punishment of Man." He said he hated to hear a man repeat himself the same day). Much eating, much dancing, and like the Gonzales County stuttering ranchman when his Mexican workmen were asked if Mr. Blank could talk much Spanish said: "Nada, nada Espanol y muy poco Ingles," very little sleeping.

The school Christmas program rendered in the spacious living room of the new Bundy home, was up to the Watson Divide standard. Miss Whitwood is a woman of wide experience, having taught in New York, California, and three or four other states, and her broad versatility of mind is very gratifying to the patrons of this school. When any community or nation fails to put forth its best efforts in behalf of its children, it is certainly lacking in correct perspective. Isn't it wonderful how bold and aggressive we are in protecting "property rights" and how like jelly fish we become when our children want to go "swimmin'" with the Blankes in the devil's own current, and if we voice a protest, how soon we hear a loud cry for "tolerance and broadmindedness." But it is well always to look closely over the rank and file of the "tolerance and broadmindedness" crowd to see if they are of the kind that said to Jesus when about to be cast out by Him: "Jesus, Jesus, Thou son of God, why persecutest Thou?" us and it is to be hoped that we can have enough cement in our spinal columns to direct the majority of our young people into stalwart Christian American manhood and womanhood. In no other way can we keep this nation "The" Christian nation as it is called over the entire world.

RED CREEK "RALLY."

Quite a number of our people are reported sick at present. Some have colds, with flu, while one or two persons have typhoid fever.

Joe Crumbley of Yates had business in Junction Saturday. C. E. Lambert has been assisting with the laying of the foundation for the new garage of Amaon & Son at London.

Willie Herbst has been moving his farming implements to the Walton farm, which he recently rented.

Mrs. Josie Summers and family visited relatives at Junction last Sunday.

The little daughter of Tully Black has been ill for several days past.

T. J. Lange of Yates went to Junction Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Stewart spent Sunday at the Will Matthews home on Saline.

HARLAN STONE NAMED FOR SUPREME BENCH.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Harlan F. Stone, Attorney General, was appointed by President Coolidge today to succeed Joseph J. McKenna, 82, on the United States Supreme Court.

The nomination of Attorney General Stone to succeed Justice McKenna, whose resignation had been announced earlier in the day, was sent to the Senate just before that body adjourned.

Stone is expected to take up his new duties as soon as the nomination is confirmed and a successor has been named for him as head of the Department of Justice.

The resignation of Associate Justice McKenna, 82, was announced today from the bench of the Supreme Court.

By virtue of 27 years' service on the Supreme bench, Justice McKenna is the ranking associate justice of the court. He retires because of his advanced age.

INVITATIONS FOR INAUGURAL BALL MAILED.

Austin, Jan. 5.—Ten thousand invitations to Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's inaugural ball on the night of January 20, arrived in Austin last night and today a force of 40 clerks is addressing them.

Requests are pouring in from every corner of the continent. Col. John L. Peeler, chairman of the committee, said: "A New York bank asked for 75 invitations for its officers and employees. A similar request came from Chicago. If all the requests are complied with it will require 100,000 invitations, said Colonel Peeler.

"We shall be unable to take care of all the demands," he said. "The first batch of invitations numbered 10,000. It will go to 50,000 before we get through."

Mrs. Ferguson's friends and the people of Texas outside of Austin and Travis County will be cared for first, with every courtesy extended to out-of-the-State people. Persons coming here from out of the State will receive a ticket upon arrival, whether they have an invitation or not. The people of Austin and Travis County are footing the bill. They will be charged $5 for each admission to the dance.

The invitation were delayed a week because the paper on which they are engraved had to be especially prepared in Philadelphia. The engraving and printing is being done by an Austin firm.

The board of directors of the inaugural association is to meet Wednesday afternoon to perfect final plans.

Society.

This column is conducted by Mrs. H. G. Perry, and the paper assumes no responsibility for errors appearing in items herein. Mrs. Perry will be glad to have details on all club and other society events, either by phone or by letter, and each will receive attention. The Eagle prefers that each club have its own reporter write up the meetings and prefers that some guest at other societies, write an account and mail to the paper. Contributors should exercise care in preparing their copy for items will be run as they are written. The signature of the writer must appear on the reported's copy, but hereafter will not be published unless requested. The following item was not signed, and we are breaking the rule in publishing it, as it should have been reported to this paper last week. Hereafter no unsigned items will be published and no accounts of societies will be published later than the week following the event.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Last Tuesday evening, December 30, at the Fritz Hotel, Miss Clara Fritz honored the recent bride, Mrs. Slater Fleming, with a miscellaneous shower. The guests were received in the lobby until Mrs. Fleming was stationed on radio by Santa to enter the dining room, where the holiday motif was carried out in the beautiful decorations.

On a table in the center of the room was a Christmas tree laden with beautiful gifts.

Music and reading were enjoyed until the unwrapping of the numerous gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

BLUE BONNETS ELECT

On Tuesday afternoon the Blue Bonnet Society met at the home of Mrs. Ada Dockery, and a very pleasant and profitable hour or more was spent.

The election of connectional and local officers was held and the installation of same will take place next Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. T. M. Hodges, Sr., who entertains the society on that date.

HORSE-BACK RIDE.

Mrs. G. G. Martin of Chicago, and Miss Alice Domingues of Knoxville, guests of Misses Lois and Blix Hankins, were entertained with a moon-light horse-back ride by some of the young people of the town. Mrs. Hankins served the crowd at the foot of Lover's Leap with a hot dog and marshmallow roast, topped with oat meal rocks.

Those enjoying the horse-back ride were: Mrs. G. G. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hodges Jr., Misses Alice Domingues, Lois and Blix Hankins, Jack and Buddie Richardson, Pierce Hoggett, Watt Turner, Jim Middleton and Ernest Randle.

THINGS UNUSUAL

By T. T. MAXEY

THE NEW YORK SUBWAY

The rapid growth and consequent street congestion of our large cities seriously slows down local transportation and hastens the installation of improved methods. With the perfection of electric traction came the subway or underground transportation.

Crowded conditions on Manhattan island, where in some sections authorities claim population reaches the unbelievable density of 700 persons per acre, are unmatched. New York city not only leads the world in subway operation, but probably possesses more miles of subway than all other cities combined.

There are now completed or being built there seventy miles of subways, containing upwards of 200 miles of single track, the cost of which ranged from $1,200,000 to $2,500,000 per mile, according to time of construction and working conditions.

The building of a steel-reinforced concrete tunnel under the crowded streets and towering skyscrapers of our largest city, maintaining sewers, water, steam, gas and lighting mains, telegraph, telephone and fire-alarm cables and other public utilities vital to the success of a metropolitan city, through which to operate electric passenger trains on fast and frequent schedules is a herculean task.

The main trunk lines of this subway system are four tracks wide and provide for both express or through and local traffic in each direction. Patrons enter the subway from kiosks on the streets, broad stairways leading to the station platforms. As a rule, local stations are about five blocks and express stations about two miles apart.

During the busy periods, morning and night, in a trunk line subway express trains carrying eight to ten cars operate about one minute apart in each direction, making a speed better than thirty miles an hour. Local trains, carrying five and six cars, operate less than two minutes apart in each direction. The cars are about fifty feet long. Such a subway will transport 1,000,000 passengers daily.

The depth of the subway underground varies widely according to local conditions. The greatest depth is at about 100th street where the rails are about 180 feet below street level. At places of great depth elevators are used to carry the people to and from the trains.
