The cotton quota vote coming up on Dec. 15 will mark the twelfth consecutive year in which growers have voted on marketing quotas for their upland cotton crop, W. C. Harwell, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Collingsworth County Committee, said this week.

"Beginning with the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1954 crop, growers have approved quotas for each year's cotton crop," he said. "In the vote last year, on quotas for the 1964 upland cotton crop, 94% of the growers voting approved the quotas."

By law, quotas must be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture in years when the cotton supply exceeds normal. The estimated 1964-65 total supply of upland cotton exceeds the estimated normal supply by 41%.

The carryover of upland cotton on Aug. 1 of this year was 12.1 million bales. With 1964 crop yields indicated at a record high of 522 pounds per acre, domestic usage plus exports during this marketing year is expected to be less

The break was just above her knee.

Mrs. Raburn was taken first to St. Joseph's Hospital and later in the afternoon transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

7 Rockets Tapped for All-District Honors

Four Skyrockets won places on the all-district football team, announced this week, and an additional three were named for honorable mention, Coach Don Beck announced.

Several of the group were named for both offensive and defensive team honors.

State honors also came to Wayne Barton during the week end, when he was chosen for honorable mention in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram all-state list as a quarterback.

On the all-district team, Joe Rudy was selected as tackle and Barton as defensive halfback. Barton's selection was unanimous.

The four named for honorable mention on the defensive team were Johnny Maxwell and Freddy Bobo, ends, and Mike Smith and Neal Roberts, linebackers.

On the offensive team, Lynn Wolf was named at center; Maxwell, guard; Rudy, tackle, and Barton, quarterback. Wolf and Barton were selected by four out of the five coaches of other district teams.

Bobo received honorable mention.

Coaches of District 2-A teams make the selections, with each coach voting on members of all teams except his own.

Cotton Harvest Passes 8,000 Mark; Ginners Brace for Rush

Collingsworth county cotton ginnings totaled 8,276 bales Wednesday morning, Dec. 2, and ginners are bracing themselves for the big rush they believe will be on within the next week.

They were in general agreement that the wet spell has not hurt cotton as much as some had believed it might, and grades continue to hold up well.

Several noted that they are optimistic and believe the county will harvest a 30,000 bale crop this year.

Cotton around Wellington defoliated before the rain is ginning good, Dub Marchant, Farmers Co-op manager said.

Not many are pulling cotton that has gotten ready since frost, Marchant noted.

"Surprisingly, it is grading good after all the rain — much better than I anticipated myself," he continued.

Among his customers, most of the cotton is low middling and strict low middling light spot 15/16 and better. However some of the picker type cotton will go to 1 1/8 inch staple and a lot of the machine pulled cotton will grade 1 1/32.

"If the sun keeps shining, we'll be covered up from now on," he said.

Yields range from one-fourth to one-half bale per acre on dry land and up to two bales and a little more on some of the better irrigated cotton.

Dodson

At Dodson, Ed Crowder of Dodson Co-op Enterprises said that right now green bolls are soggy and cotton is ginning meaner than any time this year.

"Possibly a week will clear it up because it's going to dry mighty fast," he added.

So far grades are holding up and most of the cotton is bringing farmers 27.5 to 28.5 cents per pound.

"We are still going to make more than it looked like back there a few weeks ago. It is hard to tell what the green bolls are going to do. We've got lots of them; some will make good cotton; some will dry up," Crowder said.

Bale to the acre dry land cotton is not uncommon in the Dodson area.

Mrs. Marvin Wynn at the Davis Gin reported cotton was drying out well and beginning to come in good.

Yields per acre on irrigated land continue to break records, as Bill Harbin of Loco, harvesting picker type cotton, was getting two and a half bales per acre. There is quite a bit of two-bale per acre cotton in that vicinity again this year.

There has been considerable use in the Dodson area of drop-leaf type defoliant, considered a distinct improvement over the acid type, according to Crowder.

This was used on a small scale last year.

This is a sodium chlorate base defoliant, and cotton sprayed with it drops its leaves, but the stalk and bolls remain alive and the cotton continues to mature, Crowder explained. He added that approximately 80 per cent of the cotton defoliated around Dodson this year was sprayed with this type defoliant.

Quail

Only that cotton that was defoliated before the rain has dried out enough to pull, Pat O'Hair at the Quail Gin reported.

Most of the cotton in that section is being machine pulled, only a little is hand pulled.

"The micronaire is good, around 4.0 to 4.4," O'Hair commented. Most Quail cotton is

Leader to Publish Letters to Santa

In reply to questions from our very youthful readers:

Yes, The Wellington Leader is going to publish their letters to Santa Claus again this year, and it's time right now to write your letter.

After they are printed, all letters will be forwarded to Santa Claus at the North Pole, in plenty of time for him to fill all Christmas wishes.

All children of the Wellington area, as well as those who formerly lived here or who will be here Christmas, are invited to send their letters. These should be sent by Dec. 15 and may be mailed or brought to the newspaper.

The Santa Claus letters are a tradition of more than 30 years with The Wellington Leader, and as in the past, they will be printed in the special Christmas edition of the paper.

The date of their publication will be announced later.

Bobwhites Split

Quails Beat Rockets, and Lefors Pirates

The Quail Quails took a hard fought 77-56 decision from the Wellington Skyrockets Tuesday night, Nov. 24 in the Quail gym and then took an easy 76-37 victory at Lefors Friday night, Nov. 27.

The Bobwhites lost their game to the powerful Rockettes by the score of 61-43 and then came back to defeat the Lefors girls by an almost identical score, 61-42.

Quail vs. Wellington

The Quail Bobwhites got off to a slow start against the taller and faster Wellington girls and were trailing by 13 points after one quarter of play. The Rockettes continued to increase the lead throughout the first half and were leading by 19 points at the intermission.

The second half was very close as the Wellington reserves played a good portion of this period and the Rockettes were 18 points ahead as the game ended. Sue Breedlove scored 28 points for the Bobwhites to lead all of the scorers. Shirley Horton scored 10 and Lonetta Neeley had 5 to complete the Quail scoring.

Wellington's Betty Courtney led the Rockettes with 25 points and Beverly Singley scored 14. Nancy Holton had 8, Regina Ferguson 8, Joyce Holton 4, Becky Brewer 1, and Leslie Covey 1. Other Bobwhites who played were Judy Campbell, Linda Peters, Mary Conner, Mary Lindsey, Dianne Moseley, Patricia Kimbro, and Mary Cummings. Other Rockettes who played were Susan Sullivan, Karen Childress, Glenna Taylor, Jan Glenn, Linda Moore, Joan James, and Nancy Sanford.

"This was our eleventh game and this Wellington girls team is by far the best we have played so far. I feel like they have the stuff it takes to go a long way in the state race," Quail Coach Don Lacy said.

The Wellington boys started off strong and were leading the Quails by 4 points after one quarter. The Quails then began clicking and overcame the Wellington boys by one point at half time.

The Rockets again took the lead early in the third period but the Quails started playing their style of basketball and jumped to a 10-point lead as the quarter ended.

The closest the Rockets came was 6 points in the fourth period as the Quails put on the pressure in the final stages of the game and wound up with a 21-point lead as the game ended.

The Quails' two outstanding forwards, Bruce Ward and Dale Morris each scored over 20 points with ward hitting 23 and Morris 27. Joe Harris had 10, Paul Gollighugh 8, Smokey Mitchell 6 and Don Morris 3. Led scorer for the Rockets was Freddie Peters with 20. Ronnie Hurst had 12, Phillip Hughey 9, Bill Spillman 7, Gary White 4, Wayne Barton 2 and Larry Henard 2.

The outstanding defensive men for Quail were Joe Harris and Bruce Ward, and for Wellington were Wayne Barton and Ronnie Hurst.

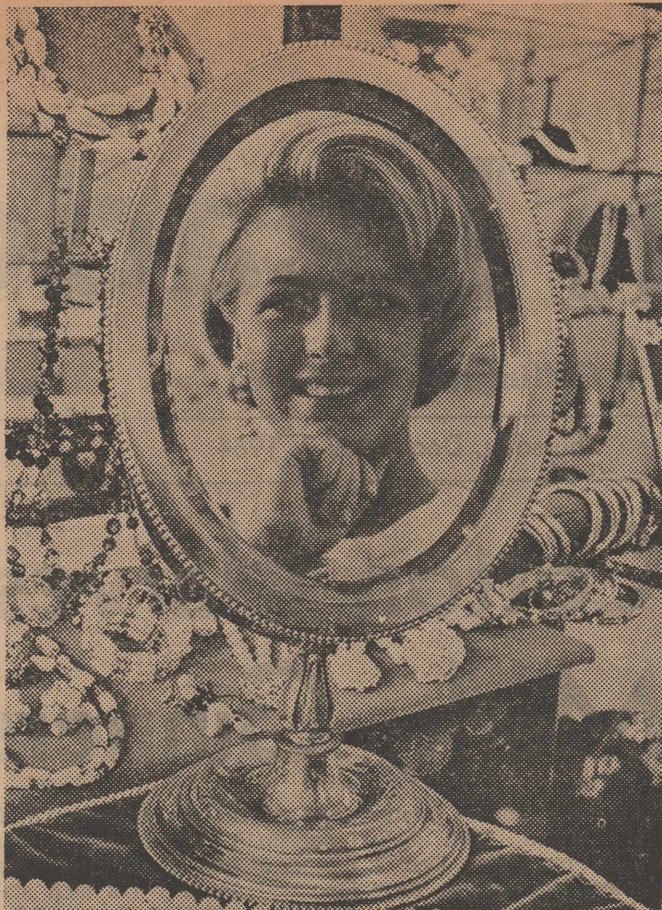

The leading rebounders for the Rockets were Bill Spillman, Freddie Peters and Phillip Hughey. Gary White also played good defense and did a lot of rebounding. Quail's leading rebounders were the Morris Brothers, Dale and Don, Bruce Ward and Smokey Mitchell. The Quails' smallest starter, Paul Gollighugh, did his usual fine job of ball handling and set up many scoring opportunities and did a fine job defensively as well. The Quails' handy man, Don Morris, who plays every position at one time or another, did his usual fine job once again.

"Our boys were very tight and nervous at first and had our second slowest start of the season. The 51 points scored

"I felt like the Wellington team is one of the best we have faced so far and I know Coach James Stavenhagen will have them going real good in a couple of weeks. It takes a little time for the boys to smooth out and quit fouling so often," Lacy continued.

Quail vs. Lefors

The Quail Bobwhites played one of their better games against the fast Lefors girls and were never threatened as they built up a 10 point lead at half time and won the game by 19 points. All ten Bobwhites saw considerable action in the game with Sue Breedlove scoring 31 points to lead the scoring. Vikki Stone had 29 to lead the Lefors team.

The Quails jumped to a 16-point halftime lead and increased this as the game progressed. Only 8 Quails made the trip and all saw a lot of action with the two starting forwards, Dale Morris and Bruce Ward again hitting over 20 points with Morris scoring 29 and Ward 21. Joe Harris had 8 and played one of his better games; Smokey Mitchell made 7 points and a ton of rebounds; Don Morris scored 7 and was all over the court all night and played his best defensive game; and Paul Gollighugh did his usual fine job and scored 4 points, but set up many more. Royse Mitchell and Coy Stephens also saw a lot of action and did a fine job. Leading the Lefors team was Roberts with 15 points.

The Quails' record is now 11 wins and 1 loss, and the Bobwhites stand at 7-5.

Texas 65 Health Plan Report Given

The Texas 65 Health Insurance Association provided medical payments to senior citizens in excess of $2,549,000 during its first year of operation, according to figures released by H. Lewis Rietz, president of the voluntary health insurance association.

Texas 65 was offered to the senior citizens of Texas for the first time during October of last year, following special enabling legislation passed unanimously by the 58th Texas Legislature and signed into law by Governor Connally. The plan went into effect Nov. 1, 1963.

A second open enrollment period was held last June. No additional enrollment periods have been scheduled, however they are expected to be held from time to time, Rietz stated.

He pointed out that 12,329 senior citizens received medical benefits through Texas 65 during its first 12 months. The average claim paid was $206.75.

Texas 65 offers basic and major medical health insurance to Texans 65 years of age or over, regardless of age and without physical examination. The basic plan costs $9 per month and the major medical plan $10 per month. The combination plans of both basic and major medical coverage costs $19 per month.

"Texas 65 was introduced primarily to provide low cost coverage for those Texans who were previously unable to purchase health insurance because of their age or health status," Rietz said.

Sixty-four insurance companies doing business in Texas guarantee benefits of the unique non-profit program, he said.

Texas was the fourth state to offer a 65 plan for its senior citizens. Six other states now have similar programs in operation.

Parks Lure Fall Trade Amid Quiet

AUSTIN—Peaceful attractiveness of Texas state parks is described in the November edition of "Texas Game and Fish Magazine."

The lead editorial, headed "Sequel to Summer" says: "All that awaits the autumn visitor is peace, quiet and a tremendous sense of harmony with nature."

"Nature really has a show rehearsed and ready, awaiting those who come," states the article, written by Elaine Bostic. "New frosted and tinted coiffures crown each tree. Ash, beech, maple, cottonwood, oak—each seemingly tried to outdo the other while the dower evergreens look down on such frivolity and whisper to each other how happy they are that such nonsense only comes once a year. Who knows? Maybe in their hearts they are only jealous."

"However, the woodland creatures take no notice of this perennial rivalry. They are active in a competition of their own. Squirrels scamper through cornflake leaves, busily gathering nuts; possums and coons amble in search of late berries and nuts (the few overlooked by the sharp-eyed squirrels) to fatten on before the northers arrive. Deer shyly peer from thickets and cautiously graze on golden grasses in meadows and glades."

"From overhead comes the trumpeting calls of great migrating flocks winging their way southward to winter homes in gulf coast fields, marshes and refuges."

"Fish, energized by a new chill in the water, leap and strike savagely at almost anything that passes, making lazy circles in the water that collide with vacant sandy beaches."

"Best of all, in the new-found silence come the faint voices of the past with pioneering tales of exploration, hardships, settlement, wars and growth, as colorful historical pageantry parades by. Almost all parks have a story to tell those seeking to know."

"Parks are not closed by any means, but merely awaiting more visitors. Visitors who will see them in a new and entirely different light. Not in a mood of helter-skelter fun but a new enchanting dimension in relaxation. Try it for yourself and see!"

Rockettes and Rockets Split with Hedley

Wellington Rockettes defeated the Hedley girls without trouble 61 to 38, but the Rockettes lost to the Hedley boys by a narrow 50-47 in a double header played here Friday night, Nov. 27.

The Rockettes didn't play real well during the first half, but came along in the last half and did a good job.

Hedley girls, on the other hand, were a little weak at this time, but by the time of the Wellington tournament they are expected to be a strong team.

"I was especially proud of the Wellington defense, as we held Hedley to two field goals in the first half and three in the last half," Coach James Stavenhagen declared. "They are beginning to show improvement and could come along and be strong contenders before the season is over."

High scorer for Wellington was Joyce Holton with 22. Betty Courtney got 20 and Beverly Singley 12. Janie Evans, with 20, was high for Hedley.

The score by quarters:

|            |    |    |    |    |
|------------|----|----|----|----|
| Wellington | 12 | 22 | 43 | 61 |
| Hedley     | 4  | 18 | 24 | 38 |

Rockets-Hedley

The Skyrocket-Hedley boys game was close all the way, and the widest margin came as the third quarter ended with a 10-point spread.

At the beginning of the fourth the Rockets began to pick up until they were only one point behind. Once again, Wellington was hurt on fouls. Gary White and Phillip Hughey went out by this route and Wayne Barton had four fouls against him early in the game and had to back off for the remainder of play.

Wellington led early in the first quarter and again in the second, but Hedley got a lead and held onto it.

Freddy Peters was high scorer with 18 points and 10 rebounds. Bill Spillman got 16 points and 7 rebounds; Wayne Barton played a good defensive game but hasn't begun to score much yet; Gary White had 6 points and played a good defensive game; Phillip Hughey, one of the best hustlers on the team, took 4 points and 9 rebounds; and Ronny Hurst turned in a good defensive game.

"I feel the timing of the club is still off," Coach Stavenhagen declared. "We need to work on teamwork and team timing and once we accomplish this, we'll have a good club. Defensively, the boys are doing a good job."

High scorer for Hedley was Pat Chesser with 19 points. Hedley has good team balance and plays a deliberate type of ball. This can be deceptive, as the Rockets learned, since it causes them to look weaker than they really are.

The game by quarters:

|------------|----|----|----|----|
| Wellington | 10 | 20 | 29 | 47 |
| Hedley     | 11 | 27 | 39 | 50 |

Wellington starters: Spillman, Hurst, White, Peters, Hughey. Hedley: Bobby Wiggins, Danny Morgan, Butch Weatherly, Chesser and Glen Ward.

Weather Affects Cotton Color

Most of the cotton in the Memphis classing office territory, according to K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge, is open and exposed to the weather elements. It seems most timely therefore, to explain a special subject entitled "What Causes Color in Cotton."

The grade of cotton is composed of three factors — color, leaf and preparation. These factors in combination constitute grade.

Weather is the chief factor affecting the color of cotton. White is the normal color, but in addition to White, cotton may be light spotted, spotted, tinged, yellow stained, light gray and gray. Adverse weather conditions can produce any of these color variations.

Freezing weather produces severe damage to immature cotton. The stage of maturity that the bolls are in at the time of the freeze usually determines the degree of discoloration of the lint. This cotton may be light spotted, spotted, tinged or yellow stained.

Open cotton that is left in the fields exposed to the weather loses its "bloom" and may become dark and dull in color, and therefore lower the grade. As the color becomes duller and darker, the cotton may fall into the light gray and gray categories.

Besides the weather, insects and disease contribute largely to discoloration in cotton. Each year enormous losses are experienced by farmers in production yields and quality due to insects and diseases. Discoloration of cotton means lower grades and lower price on the market.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

WHAT MISS CASTRO DIDN'T KNOW

One of the most poignant realities in the case of Juana Castro, the defecting anti-Communist sister of dictator Fidel Castro, was that the Castro family did not know anything about Fidel's Marxist leanings until after his overthrow of Batista.

For that matter, Juana Castro confesses that she did not consider that her brother might be a Communist until 1960, by which time Cuba was virtually a Russian sub-state.

Despite her intelligence, her interest in politics, and her readiness to take sides, she was surprised when anti-Communists were called enemies of the revolution in December 1961 and Fidel announced he had been a Communist since his college days.

This information lag reminds one of the gap that has so often existed between our own knowledge of the realities and U.S. governmental action. This is exactly as the Reds intend, and that is why a few well-planted agents can make our State Department look like the dupe of the Kremlin.

COLLEGE STATION.—Occupational outlooks for the years ahead have been projected by specialists with the U.S. Department of Labor.

Their findings should be of special interest to young people who must soon choose careers, and to their parents, says Mrs. Wanda B. Meyer, Extension specialist in home management.

For the next decade — at least — greatest increases in demand will be for people in professional and technical fields — in jobs that generally require at least a bachelor's degree from college.

Also needed will be more skilled craftsmen, clerical and sales workers, service workers, people for management jobs. There will be only moderate increases in semi-skilled jobs, few increases in unskilled jobs and a decline in farm jobs.

Outlooks in some specific fields, as indicated by Labor Department studies, are:

Engineers will continue to be in strong demand, with greatest gains in chemical, electrical and mechanical engineering. The strongest demand will be for those with advanced degrees for research and teaching jobs.

Teachers will find sharp increases in job openings, with demand heavy for science, industrial arts and mathematics teachers. There will be a need for many more school counselors.

Also in demand will be mathematicians, economists, sociologists, historians, welfare workers, accountants, graduates in business administration and programmers for electronic-computer operations.

Only moderate numbers of job opportunities are expected in the printing and machinists trades. The outlook in law is for keen competition. Musicians, actors, singers and dancers will find their fields overcrowded, according to the job projection.

H. J. P. Field to Undergo Surgery in Amarillo

H. J. P. Field, Quail farmer, entered St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo early this week, where he is scheduled to undergo surgery.

He was dismissed Tuesday, Nov. 24 from St. Joseph's Hospital where he was under treatment several days.

Until very recently there has been a lack of sufficient understanding of this point everywhere.

By way of contrast, President Johnson's acceptance speech to the Democrats at Atlantic City contained no recognition of the Communist threat to our welfare and to the peace of the world.

Mr. Johnson apparently sheltered, and welcomed on his bandwagon, every left-winger, socialist, and Marxist sympathizer in the nation.

The lack of awareness in Washington toward Kremlin intrigue is chronic. It is even more remarkable than Juana Castro's pitiful unawareness, and more sinister.

What the American people are asking today is why the blockade put around Cuba was not strengthened after October 1962, when it would have been easy to do.

They wonder why Cuban groups are discouraged from harassing Castro.

They wonder why it is necessary to put on a show of force in the Gulf of Tonkin when the bearded Communist stands astride the Gulf of Mexico.

And even why the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee could suggest a new canal across Central America with the Russians in on the project.

There are indeed some odd gaps in today's understandings and the realities.

Wellington Is Ideal for Christmas Shopping Center

Everybody's "hunt season" opened the day after Thanksgiving—the hunt for Christmas gifts for family and friends and business acquaintances that occupies so much of each December.

It is a hunter's maxim to look good before you shoot, and the same can apply to the Christmas gift hunter, with the added notation to look at home.

Browsing around in Wellington's stores shows an amazing amount of giftable merchandise, all of it identical to that handled in cities, and identical also to that advertised nation-wide in slick paper magazines.

Buying in Wellington is leisurely and it is convenient. There is the added advantage of salespeople who know you and what you like. There is the courtesy of people who will take the time with you.

Some might say that we should buy at home because our merchants support our civic enterprises, our schools and their activities, and our churches and their work. All this is perfectly true and our full recognition of this is called for. But at this point we are saying you should buy at home because it is to your own advantage.

Our merchants keep abreast of the markets, and manufacturers' new merchandise is available to us as soon as it is to any city of whatever size in the country.

There is no reason why ours cannot be a "Wellington Christmas" this year.

Save the Dollar

We rise with enthusiasm to join the two distinguished Senators from Montana—Mike Mansfield and Lee Metcalf—in demanding that the government preserve the silver dollar from extinction. The West was won by men who trusted that dollar and no other. Their hardy descendants still favor it.

Senator Mansfield has alerted the pale faces in Washington to the grave news that the banks in his part of the West are running out of silver dollars. Senator Metcalf is asking the Senate Appropriations Committee to authorize a new minting of cart-wheels, the first since 1935. He also proposes to reduce the dollar's silver content by one-ninth. That is his way of removing the temptation to melt down dollars, which could become a problem if silver should rise a few cents an ounce. The silver content of a cart-wheel is already worth slightly more than $1.

The other day, the bureau of the mint asked for authority to strike 50 million new silver dollars, but the derelict House Appropriation Committee struck down the mint's request. A crisis impends, as the Treasury has only 13 million silver dollars left in its vaults, and run on these has started.

Former Resident Dies in Mass.

Friends here have learned of the recent death of Mrs. James R. Collins, an early settler of this area. Her home was at Chicopee Falls, Mass. She was 69.

The date of her death was not learned, but in a telephone conversation with a long-time friend, Guy Clement, Mr. Collins said that burial was at Claremore, Okla., Wednesday, Nov. 23.

Mrs. Collins was the former Gladys Stewart, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dee Stewart. She worked at the Wellington telephone exchange several years and became chief operator.

The Collins family left here in the early 1930s and lived at Claremore, Okla., until they moved to Mill Valley, Calif., about 1942. That was their home until two years ago when they moved to Chicopee Falls to be near their only child, Mrs. Joseph Rader.

Mrs. Collins did not accompany her husband to Wellington on a visit last summer, but stopped in Pryor, Okla., to visit a sister.

In addition to her daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. Collins is survived by three grandchildren. One child preceded her in death and is buried at Claremore, as are her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Stewart.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

My cornpone neighbor says closing down military bases and shipyards doesn't bother us countryites much, but reminds us that what government can give it can also take away.

We get our living speed geared to social security, welfare, and soil bank money, federal outpourings and tax reductions, and then some bureaucrat is apt to jerk the plush out from under us.

But in these cases the unhappiness generated in people getting their prosperity pruned is offset by the extra joy of people who don't, so the happiness average is fairly steady.

The Mainstreamers are giving J. Edgar Hoover their favorite lost-his-marbles treatment because he said irreverently that a prominent Reverend is a liar.

My philosophomere neighbor says it is much more gentlemanly to stand up and call an opponent crook or a liar than it is to publish pious pap about his mental health.

Says some folks may use this brain-bellitting tactic in all sincerity, but first they had ought to remember the general Truth that the fellow who thinks everybody but him is crazy is.

Some bragging goes on that the wonder drug inventors have come up with 570 new medicines in the last 20 years, so as to make getting sick much safer and more expensive.

In fact, these drugs are the new status symbols, and the fellow taking 50¢ a capsule medication feels inferior to his neighbor who takes $1 a capsule stuff.

But there is still plenty of work for the wonder druggists, with new diseases developing all the time, such as credit carditis, federal grantosis, high taxemia and the 40¢ dollar.

It has been publicized that the Supreme Court the other day said it's a pure civil right to criticize public officials without getting put in jail or sued for libel.

But the Court in its wisdom did not say that a criticized official can't take away your military base, or your cotton allotment, or send the Internal Revenue men after you.

My criticcynic neighbor says an open mouth policy is risky, in spite of what the Court says, and is apt to get a man cut off from federal employment, federal handouts, and all other federal blessings except federal taxes.

D. E. SCOTT.

NEWS LETTER from Congressman WALTER ROGERS

AT WORK FOR AMERICA

It is a privilege and a pleasure to be assigned to the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs because it could truly be said that this is THE committee of the House of Representatives most directly involved with conserving and developing the natural resources of our country.

One of the oldest committees in the House (it was set up in 1805 as the Committee on Public Lands), the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee has served through the years to initiate some of the more significant and memorable pieces of legislation enacted by the Congress.

In the 88th Congress, the Committee's accomplishments accounted in large measure for the complimentary name by which the whole 88th Congress may be remembered by history: "The Conservation Congress." In every field of its jurisdiction, the committee led the way to House passage of meaningful, substantial measures. Again in the 89th Congress the committee is expected to be led by the gentleman who has served it so well as chairman through the three preceding Congresses, the Honorable Wayne N. Aspinall of Palisade, Colo. Congressman Aspinall's knowledge, energy, and dedication to his work has earned him a well-deserved national reputation as a conservationist ranked with the great of American history.

The responsibility of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs involves considering, reporting on, and helping to bring enactment of legislative measures providing for the maximum utilization, management, and conservation of the public lands, minerals, water supplies, forests, and other natural resources of the United States; legislative matters involving the government and administration of the territories and other offshore areas, and legislation affecting the Indians, Aleuts, and Eskimos of the United States and their lands and claims.

During the 88th Congress, 862 measures dealing with these matters were referred to this committee. Of this total, 164 (representing a total of 357 of those referred) were reported to the House and 144 were passed into law. Approximately 20% of all public laws enacted by the 88th Congress had first been cleared by the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

The Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation was extremely active during the 88th in exercising initial jurisdiction over legislation relating to the Federal reclamation program and multiple-purpose development of the Nation's water resources, and legislation involving the Nation's water and power policies and saline water research program. Twenty-five bills enacted by the 88th Congress originated in this subcommittee.

Test Can Restore Lost Horsepower

COLLEGE STATION.— Does your tractor measure up to its potential or is there a lag in the amount of horsepower produced?

Many farmers are not receiving maximum horsepower from their tractors and that's why Harold T. Wiedemann of the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Texas A&M University, recommend dynamometer testing.

The tractor dynamometer is a portable machine which measures the torque and speed developed by the power take-off shaft. A special scale then converts these measurements

Pork Production May Rise Over '63

Pork production in the 44 major producing countries in 1965 may rise three to five per cent above this year but may not reach the 1963 record of 44 billion pounds. This year production dropped 5% mainly because of decreased output in the U.S., U.S.S.R., Belgium, France and a few other countries. A general increase in world slaughter is anticipated.

Ideal Weather Permits Cotton Harvest Pickup

According to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service in Memphis, the harvest of the 1964 cotton crop was still in low gear although an increase in harvesting and ginning was noted this week, ending Friday, Nov. 27.

K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the Memphis classing office, said that the killing frost last Friday and frost several days this past week should have the plants ready for stripping some time this week. However, we need dry weather and some strong winds, he said.

The classing office is staffed with six classifiers, and one micronaire crew, but Voelkel said the office would employ additional personnel as soon as the volume of samples increases. Last year, as of Friday, Nov. 27, the office had classed 74,000 samples compared with 27,000 this season.

Based on samples classes, it was significant to note that the grades and staple lengths were somewhat lower in quality than last week. This can be attributed to the recent rains and the increased harvesting by mechanical means.

Samples showed 40% in the White grades, with 16% Middling. Light Spotted and Spotted grades represented 60% of the classing with 39% Middling Light Spotted.

The predominant lengths of staple this week continued to be 15/16 inch, with 76%. Other lengths were 29/32 inch and shorter, 14%; 31/32 inch, 9%; and 1 inch and longer, 1%.

Micronaire readings indicated that the fiber fineness and maturity was slightly less, percentage-wise, than a week ago.

95% of the cotton classed had a mike reading of 3.5 and above; 5% read 3.0 to 3.4. The most desirable reading is 3.5 to 4.9.

The fiber strength of the cotton classed by the Memphis office continued to show about

Quail to Play Chillicothe and Arnett This Week

The Quail Bobwhites and the Quails will play at Arnett, Okla., Friday Dec. 4 and then will play at home against the Chillicothe teams Tuesday night, Dec. 8. This will be return games with each team with the Quail teams winning all four previous games.

"We expect the Arnett and Chillicothe teams to be much improved over the first meeting we had with them as they had not played many games before," Coach Don Lacy said. "We invite all basketball fans to Quail when we meet Chillicothe. We only beat their boys 6 points before and we expect to have a real battle, both boys and girls."

70% tested Strong and Very Strong or test results of 85,000 and above pounds per square inch. This quality factor is very important and mills prefer cotton with a strong fiber.

Cotton with a mike reading of 3.5 and above, based on uncompressed, mixed lots in the warehouses, brought the farmers the following average prices: Strict Low Middling, 15/16, 27.35; Middling Light Spotted, 15/16, 27.80; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16, 26.80; Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16, 25.25.

Cottonseed prices paid to the farmers continued steady and were $45 and $47 per ton at gin points.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Business was humming in Wellington last week and it should keep on accelerating until Christmas; but the fact remains that we are about six weeks late in harvesting the cotton crop and the same thing is true of the irrigated crop on the plains. Regardless of what they say, people are going to buy for Christmas whether they have their cotton out or not.

This modern Math puzzles the parents; but the teachers claim it works and the students seem to like it. There is one benefit about the new method that is obvious at a casual glance; it eliminates any excuse for Dad working his son's Algebra problems wrong. It says here that children usually ask for help at home while they are in the elementary grades and that a reasonably intelligent parent can pick up the book and read the introduction and see how the technique works. One disgruntled father said: "They tell the kids we learned by rote, just rules. Now they make them learn six different rules to get the same answer."

Had a dream the other night: Luther Sullivan and a grocery salesman were having an argument about the meaning of a word, which I can't recall now. They called me over to settle the dispute and I ruled Luther was correct. "See, I told you," he said, "our editor may not know any math, but he knew words even before he started to school."

I have my doubts about the advantages of this fast reading that John Coleman, Louise and others have been taking this fall. There is considerable debate among the educators themselves. The opponents contend that it makes for partial understanding and the protagonists say the opposite is true—that a slow reader does not understand the meaning of phrases and sentences. Be that as it may, there is a lot of stuff being spouted forth in Washington that I do not understand whether I read it fast or slow.

Most newspaper editors are fast readers by necessity; but there is no sense in trying to read poetry, Shakespeare or the Bible quickly. Such works should be approached with serenity and the beauty of the living words should be savored slowly.

The Rockets sizzled and fizzed in their game with the Shamrock Irish Tuesday night but the Rockettes had no trouble in blasting off against the Colleens even with the second string in the game. Better luck next time, boys.

During one of their games last Fall, Mickey Mantle went over and sat on the Longhorn bench without anyone recognizing him for a time. During a lull, Darrel Royal went over and introduced himself. Mickey told him that he thought Darrel would remember him since Royal once took the afternoon off to show him over the campus when Mantle was still in high school. Royal replied: "You weren't Mickey Mantle then."

I required the entire family to get this column started Wednesday morning. My son started the effort at 6 o'clock and my wife finally succeeded in getting me to put my feet on the floor by 6:40; but even at that I am still thinking about crawling back into bed.

A traveling salesman was driving through the Ozarks on a hot September afternoon and became a little uncertain about his route. Noting a native walking down the road he stopped and asked the way to a certain town. Standing with his head in the window of the air-conditioned car the mountaineer courteously gave the directions. Impressed with the man's politeness and thinking of giving him a lift the salesman asked:

"Are you going to town?" "Well, I was thinking about walking in and getting some flour and coffee; but since this norther blew up, I think I'll stay at home and kill hogs."

WHAT A JOB

When a hunk of decorative cornice broke loose from the roof of San Francisco's historic mint and plummeted 50 feet onto the car roof of the building's maintenance chief, he was heard to say, "That's pretty typical of the problems I've got keeping that place together."

Salt Analysis of Irrigation Water Urged

COLLEGE STATION. — It's poor business to guess at the quality of your irrigation water. Rather than be in doubt as to possible harmful effects of the water on future soil productivity, Jim Valentine, area Extension soil chemist, suggests the water be evaluated by a chemical analysis.

The ideal time to collect samples is during the highest period of water use. This need is particularly acute with new wells and in instances where wells are deeper than average for the area.

Valentine says it is known that common salt in high concentrations may exist below the red bed formation. If wells extend into this strata, there is a greater possibility of dangerous salt levels in the water.

Soils vary widely in their ability to tolerate salt without being harmed—and some crops are more tolerant than others. Clays, where the water intake rate is already slow, can be made even less porous by a water high in sodium. Obtaining stands can become a problem on lighter soils due to sodium accumulation that "seals" or crusts the surface.

Water samples may be submitted to the Soil Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M University. Samples must be accompanied by the completed Information Sheet D-617, available at the local county agricultural agent's office. The present fee is $5 per sample.

Physicians, dentists and nurses will be needed in growing numbers, along with more medical technologists, dietitians and therapists.

Mrs. Wyrick

Other survivors are a sister and brother, Mrs. Ethel Hilburn of Wellington and Willie Greer of Toline. There are three grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Mr. Wyrick preceded her in death March 19, 1937, and a daughter, Mrs. Ludie Lawrence died May 19, 1951.

Cotton Harvest

grading strict low middling light spot.

The crop is short in the Quail vicinity and the farmers realize it, but their heaviest gripe is on the loan rate being down, O'Hair said. It is nearly three cents below that of last year. "We haven't hit the peak, but with pretty weather we will in a week or ten days," he commented.

North of Salt Fork

Cotton north of Salt Fork is drying out pretty well, reports from the Dozier and Luttie gins indicate, and there was not a great deal of damage from the wet weather.

The grade has dropped from middling light spot to strict low middling, however. A considerable amount of the cotton now coming in is from areas badly burned by the late summer drought.

Some of the cotton, however, is better than was expected, and other fields are yielding about what the growers anticipated.

Washington Wins Double Header From Memphis

Booker T. Washington 9th and 10th grade boys and girls basketball teams won a double header from the Memphis Morningside teams at Memphis Wednesday, Nov. 25.

The Booker T. Washington girls defeated Memphis 22-8. Mary Ingram was high scorer with 9 points, followed by Lou Moore and Carolyn Kilgore with 6 each.

The boys won by a 49-32 score. Claude Barber led the scoring with 10 points, followed by Virgil Massey and James Smith with 9 each.

Letters Send MD Prospects

Letters went out of the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce office this week to ten young doctors who have indicated they are hunting a location or would change, according to N. M. Higdon, manager.

Those to whom letters were sent were selected by a list furnished the Chamber of Commerce by the Texas Medical Association.

Efforts to secure an additional doctor for Wellington has been one of the major projects of the Chamber of Commerce and the Builders Club this year. Seventeen letters were mailed recently and there have been other personal contacts and contacts by letter in past months, Higdon pointed out.

All doctors now practicing here approve the work to secure an additional member of their profession, Higdon added.

Scout Snubs Sneaky Skunk

AUSTIN.—Good reflex action, as recommended by Boy Scout authorities, was expertly demonstrated by a young Scout on a Palo Duro Canyon State Park overnight.

Graigery Donnell of Canyon was comfortably established in "Scout Heaven" via a very warm sleeping bag when at 4:30 a.m. he found he had company.

In fact, a pole cat, seeking to share the nocturnal bliss, crawled into the bag with Graigery.

When the youngster resisted the intrusion, the invader scratched his way out post haste and was so eager to flee it didn't even leave a calling card.

They hurried the lad to a physician who treated all the scratches and then permitted his return to camp with standard instruction about alert reaction to any infection.

In the end, both the skunk and the Scout survived with only their shaky memories of combat.

than the 1963 crop, and the carryover is expected to increase to about 12.6 million bales by Aug. 1, 1965. A carry-over this size has been exceeded only once—in 1956.

For 1965, the chairman explained, Collingsworth county has a total of 63,694 acres available for allotment to growers on which to grow their upland cotton crop. This represents the county's share of the national acreage allotment of 16 million acres, plus 200,000 acres from the national acreage reserve to take care of minimum farm allotments.

Notices of individual farm allotments will be mailed to operators of cotton farms in advance of the Dec. 15 referendum.

If at least two thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas for the 1965 upland cotton crop, price support at a level within the range of 65 to 90 percent of parity will be available to growers who do not exceed the farm's acreage allotment, additional price support in the form of payments will be available to growers who keep their acreage within the farm's "domestic allotment," and marketing quota penalties will apply to any excess cotton produced on a farm.

If more than one-third of the voters oppose quotas for the 1965 crop, the regular allotment program will remain in effect, and price support will be available to growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments at 50% of parity, as provided by law.

All farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1964 are eligible to vote in the Dec. 15 referendum.

Rev. and Mrs. Davis Edens and children of Denver City visited Friday of last week with friends here.

Delmer Duckworth

NORFOLK, Va.—Delmer B. Duckworth, U.S. Navy, recently received the rating of Petty Officer MM/3 and is assigned to an air compressor crew over 10 men aboard the aircraft carrier USS Randolph.

Duckworth is the youngest man in his division with that high a rating and also has had the shortest period of service. He enlisted June 19, 1963 and received his basic training at San Diego.

He is the son of Mrs. Mae Duckworth, 1000 Ennis St. He graduated from Wellington high school in 1962 and worked in Paul Spillman's law office before enlisting.

October Bond Sales Total $5,717

John Forbis, chairman of the Collingsworth county savings bonds committee has announced that savings bond sales in this county totaled $5,717 during October.

Series E and H savings bonds sales in Texas during October totaled $12,227,000. Texas sales for the first ten months of 1964 totaled $124,000,000 which represents 1.4% increase over the same period last year.

This brings the total for the year in this county to $77,197, or 70.1% of the $110,000 goal.
