'Worst Duster In Ten Years' Hits State

Area Counties Lead State In Cotton Crop

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE South Plains cotton crop last year did not quite equal the previous all-time high of 1937 by approximately 10,000 bales, but Lubbock and Lamb counties set new high records for production, and the area contains five of the six highest producing counties in the state.

In addition, Lubbock's production set a new record high for any county in the state.

The figures are based on the closing preliminary report on the 1947 crop by the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, which shows ginnings in 14 South Plains (above the caprock) counties totals 932,436 bales, compared with 942,850 bales ginned in the counties in 1937 (preliminary figures). Final figures on the 1937 crop showed a total of 959,000 bales in the 14 counties in 1937.

Lubbock County Leads State

Lubbock county's new high production of 180,935 bales gave the county undisputed state leadership, and Lamb county was in second place with production of 115,162 bales. Lubbock county's 1937 production was 162,448, and Lamb county that year produced 99,651.

Only three other counties in the nation exceeded Lubbock county's production last year, and only two states produced more than the 14 counties on the South Plains.

Higher producing counties were Mississippi county, Arkansas, which produced 212,075 bales last year, compared with 223,139 in 1946; Fresno county, California, which last year produced 207,627 bales compared with 112,977 the previous year; and Kern county, California, which produced 234,878 bales last year, compared with 127,416 in 1946.

Six Rank High

The only states producing more than the South Plains were Arkansas and Mississippi, with 1,241,458 and 1,515,333 bales, respectively. Alabama, third highest producing state, excluding Texas, showed 1947 production of 908,256.

Lynn county, which was in second place in 1937 with 152,622, was in fourth place in this area this year with 106,027 bales, and was in fifth place in the state.

Hockley county took third place in the area this year, just barely ahead of Lynn, and replaced Daw-

USSR Claimed More Vulnerable To Germ Warfare Than U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 30—Russia would be "far more vulnerable to germ warfare than the United States, and would be foolish to start that type of offensive," Dr. Selman A. Waksman, discoverer of streptomycin, said today.

The gray-haired 60-year-old Russian-born scientist said it is his "guess that the Russians are far behind us in bacteriological research."

In an interview at Rutgers university with the Newark Star Ledger, Waksman said the potentialities of germ warfare are "far less horrifying than the atom bomb."

House Nears Crucial Vote On Aid Bill

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30. — The Senate voted $462,000,000 for China aid today and the House, in a series of rapid-fire actions, worked closer to a vote on a massive "package" carrying $6,205,000,000 to assist foreign nations.

Leaders hope to reach a House decision on the latter measure tomorrow. Meantime the chamber voted:

1. To enable officials in charge of the aid program to clamp down on American exports of war supplies to Russia and her satellites. and,

Final Passage Predicted

2. To give Franco Spain a slice of the $6,205,000,000.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) indicated there will be little difficulty in reconciling differences between House and Senate relief bills. He told reporters he would not oppose the House plan of wrapping all foreign relief bills into a single "package" although some of the House provisions might have to be compromised.

Vandenberg, apparently encouraged by the swift developments, predicted final passage this week-end of the foreign relief program, designed to spur the recovery of nations abroad and bolster them against Communism.

Solon Attacks Aid Bill

The Senate passed the China aid bill on a voice vote after Vandenberg declared conditions in China were "touch and go."

Senator Kem (R-Mo) launched a bitter floor attack on the China bill and other foreign aid programs, saying the United States was following a lone wolf "piecemeal" policy that will lead to war.

"Soon," he said, "American soldiers will be called upon to follow the American dollar."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said the China aid program "is good as far as it goes" but that it is just "a bare beginning."

Next Move Up To House

Passage of the China aid rounds out the Senate's action on its big three relief bills. It already has passed a $5,300,000,000 European relief plan an $275,000,000 military aid for Greece and Turkey.

The next move is up to the House which is debating the "single package" foreign aid bill

Wide Section Of State Swept By 'Duster;' Plane Lost Near Post

By JOE HITCHCOCK
Avalanche Staff Writer

LUBBOCK and the South Plains were battered by choking clouds of dust whipped up by raging March winds which swept over the area and charged across most of the state Tuesday in what the Dallas Weather bureau called the worst Texas dust storm in ten years.

The duster, traveling on a steady 52-mile-an-hour wind, halted a search for a plane which was last seen at a low altitude about 20 miles northeast of Post as it was believed making an attempt for an emergency landing. The search began after the pilot of another plane made a forced landing in a farmer's back yard.

Roofs Blown Off

Roofs were lifted from buildings in Lubbock and vicinity and several oil derricks were blown down in the South Plains area, it was reported after a survey. Visibility was cut to one-eighth mile a. noon in Lubbock Tuesday and late last night the thick blanket of soil was still settling in a hazy 'fog' over the city.

A built-up flat roof, 65-by-65 feet, was lifted by the wind from the Ed Moore service station, at the junction on the Idalou highway two miles from Lubbock.

The roof was blown into the road, Moore said. A neon sign also was damaged.

Police said an awning was blown off the front of a building at 1107½ Ave. K and into the street.

The tin and wood roof of eight adjoini. garages in 1500 block of College Ave. was ripped off and set down on a tree and electrical lines yesterday morning. The city electrical department sent workers to the scene.

At Post, two oil derricks were reported flattened by the storm about three miles south of there. Another derrick was reported downed near Levelland.

Drifting sand on the Santa Fe railroad tracks between Meadow and Seagraves forced the train to back into Meadow and return to Lubbock, according to the dispatcher at Slaton.

In midafternoon the wind had diminished to about 43 miles per hour at Lubbock. At the same time dust haze had spread as far east as Dallas, where visibility

Board Names Faculty Here

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE school board of Lubbock Independent School district met last night in regular session at the school tax office and approved reelection of more than 300 teachers in the local school system and the election of 13 additional teachers and school personnel.

The additional personnel is needed partly to fill positions being vacated by present teachers and partly to assume duties in the expanding school system, R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools, indicated. The present gross enrollment of the schools has exceeded 10,000, Matthews said, an increase of about 800 over last year.

Senior High Addition Planned

The board also accepted Superintendent Matthews' recommendations on the list of textbooks submitted by a committee of teachers in the school system.

Plans to expand building and other facilities of the school system and repair and remodeling of certain property at various schools in the city were discussed at length by the board.

Haynes and Kirby, architects, submitted tentative plans for an addition to Senior High school for the approval of the board. The plan calls for the addition of 15 classrooms, a cafeteria, girls gymnasium, vocational agriculture department and band room.

Summer Program Set

The architects will draw up complete plans and bids on construction probably will be opened within about 30 days, Jackson indicated.

Plans for a new field house on Chapman field at Senior High school were referred to the building committee for further consideration and suggestions.

The summer program includes relighting of Dupre school and parts of Hunt school and Junior

Lewis Denies Strike Charge

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30—Forced by a federal judge to appear before a board investigating the coal strike, John L. Lewis today entered a blanket denial that he caused the nationwide walkout.

He declared that the soft coal miners left their jobs because "they found out that they had been gold-bricked by the operators."

The strike started March 15 three days after Lewis told his United Mine Workers in a letter that the operators had "dishonored" their contract by failing to arrange pension payments.

Board To Report Findings

But Lewis insisted the miners walked out on their own.

The UMW president was compelled by the federal district court to answer questions before a presidential board investigating the strike.

The board may report its findings to President Truman tomorrow. When it does, Mr. Truman can direct the attorney general to seek a federal court injunction to stop the strike. The board is acting under the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Lewis was forced before the board after he had ignored its own subpoena yesterday. Promptly the three members turned to the federal court, and in ten minutes this morning, an order was issued directing Lewis to appear at 2 p. m.

Lewis Answers Questions

So "under compulsion," as he put it, the miners' chief gave his side of the pension dispute.

Stony-faced, he strode at the head of 20 aides into the hearing room. He sat in silence as cameramen recorded the scene. Then Federal Judge Sherman Minton, chairman of the board, asked if he would state his side of the pension dispute. Lewis sonorously replied:

"I might say I am here today under the compulsion of a decision of the United States court. I have no particular statement to make other than responding to interrogation."

Pensions Discussed

He confirmed that he wants every man who reaches 60 with 20 years' mining experience to have $100 a month pension out of a fund raised through a 10-cents a ton royalty on coal. If the fund would not support $100 payments

Italy Rushes Troops To Subdue Rioters

ROME, March 30 (AP)—Airborne troops were rushed today to Pantelleria, the war-time fortress isle off the African coast, to quell a riot of 2,000 taxpayers.

Other reinforcements sped by boat from Sicily to help restore order after three persons were killed and 14 wounded in what Rome newspapers called a "revolt."

The mob, yelling protests against "high taxes," stormed into the tax office, destroyed records, smashed furniture and set fire to the wreckage. The casualties resulted when police opened fire, and order was not restored until after arrival of troops by air from Rome.

Amendment On City's Liability In Accidents Is Questioned

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four discussions of five proposed amendments to the Lubbock city charter to be submitted to election next Tuesday. The propositions are being discussed in the order they appear on the ballot.

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

ONE proposition which definitely should be defeated in the city charter amendment election next Tuesday is that which appears on the ballot under the heading, "Amendment No. 2."

The proposal reads thus:

"The city of Lubbock shall not be liable to any person for damages caused from streets, ways, crossings, bridges, culverts or sidewalks being out of repair from negligence of the said corporation (the city) unless the same shall have remained so for 10 days after special notice in writing given to the city secretary or city manager."

KIEFER

The more the thoughtful citizen will read and study this proposition, the more astonishing it is likely to appear. It is one for Ripley's "Believe it or not."

Under the wording of this proposed amendment, which would be a completely new addition to the city charter, the city could claim complete immunity from responsibility for any of its negligences for at least 10 days.

Let's illustrate. Let's suppose a sewer ditch is left uncovered or sinks in on some street in Lubbock. Someone reports it to the city. The amendment does not acknowledge that city might be expected to find out some things for itself.

After the report is made, the city, under this amendment, could leave the dangerous condition wholly unattended to for a full 10 days without becoming liable in any way for accidents that might occur there. That's the way the amendment reads.

Anyone else with a comparable happening on their private property becomes liable the instant a dangerous condition occurs. And they could offer the excuse that someone failed to give them written notice.

The city proposes to require written notice and 10 days of immunity thereafter.

Validity Of Plan Doubted

Let's get back to that open sewer ditch analogy. Let's suppose that your ear crashes in the ditch and you suffer injury. The city might admit its negligence was responsible.

Yet, under this amendment, you could not collect a penny unless someone had given the city written notice that the hazardous condition existed and unless the city had been allowed 10 days after such notice in which to correct the dangerous condition. You, of course, could not have given the notice. If you had known about the ditch, you would not have run into it.

There is considerable doubt among attorneys as to whether this amendment would be valid, even if approved. Some of them predict frankly that it would be knocked out the first time it was tested in court.

If that is the case, it would be extremely unfortunate to allow it to become part of the city charter, even temporarily.

Discrimination Against Residents

Many people who might have just claims against the city could not afford a court test of the amendment—especially one that

'Jinx' Plagues Reynolds Again

PEIPING, Wednesday, March 31. (AP)—A takeoff mishap today caused the abrupt cancellation of Milton Reynolds' aerial expedition to explore western China's mountains.

No one was injured but the plane was damaged. Its right wheel sank in soft earth as it was taxiing out from a parking area. The plane tilted; its right outboard propeller struck the ground; the nosewheel collapsed and the transport settled down on its belly.

"The expedition is over—Captain Everest has won again," said Reynolds, millionaire backer of the expedition.

He had planned to measure the height of peaks in western China with the expectation that one might prove higher than Mount Everest, now regarded as the world's highest.

Damage to the plane, he explained, would take weeks to repair even if parts were available here.

And, in Lanchow, West-China base, scientists of the party were already admittedly impatient at past delays. Dr. Richard Goldthwait of Ohio state and Prof. Walter McKay of MIT said they must return to the United States within the next few days.

Thieves Strip Pump Motors

New reports of thefts from irrigation pump houses were added to thefts already under investigation here last night as law enforcement officers continued probe of two burglaries.

And a "pickpocket' was sought after one man reported theft of a watch from his pocket.

A cook at Etter's cafe in the 1300 block Ave. H was without a timepiece after someone 'lifted' a 17-jewel wrist watch from his person, police were informed. The watch had a gold band, hands, and numerals.

Packing Firm Ransacked

Cathey Packing company, at 1507 Ave. A was ransacked sometime Monday night, but the loot was small. Two or three skinning knives and perhaps 50 pennies were missing, and papers were scattered on the floor, police said.

In another burglary, Hall Produce at 1212 Ave. A, was entered, but nothing was believed taken.

Entrance to each place was at a window.

In the meantime, fresh reports of thefts from irrigation pump houses were received.

Pump Motors Stripped

A generator, starter, engine head, distributor, oil bath cleaner, carburetor, and fuel pump were stolen Sunday from the J. D. Medlock farm.

W. A. Arant of Lubbock route 3 complained that a generator had been taken off his well engine.

Fourteen Killed, 18 Injured As Train Smashes Into Bus

MEXICO CITY, March 30 (AP)—A bus driver's losing race to a railroad crossing brought death today to 14 persons. There were 18 badly hurt.

The bus was smashed by a train for Veracruz at a highway intersection near Xoloc, 20 miles northeast of here.

The bus driver was killed. With him died five men, six women and two children. There were no foreigners listed among the bus passengers.

Russia Scores U. S. Stand On Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, March 30 (AP)—Russia declared today the United States wants to kill the Palestine partition project to save American oil and military interests in the Middle East.

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet delegate, rejected a United States proposal for a special assembly of the 57 United Nations to consider the future of Palestine.

The Russian said there are no grounds for this session. Gromyko's stand forecast a Soviet veto which would force the U. S. to demand a poll of the whole membership on the question of calling a special session.

Finally, Gromyko slapped down the U. S. proposal for a UN trusteeship for Palestine. He said the trusteeship idea was "an attempt to convert Palestine into a military-strategic base of the United States and England under the pretext of maintaining order in that country."

Jew, Arab Pledges Pave Way For Red Cross In Palestine

JERUSALEM, March 30 (AP)—The Jews and Arabs have promised to observe the Geneva convention rules of war, an International Red Cross spokesman said today.

The pledge paves the way for the mercy organization to start work in the Holy Land, now torn by civil war.

In Jerusalem, bread rationing was decreed for the city's 100,000 Jews for the first time since the outbreak of current hostilities.

Jews said their food supplies were "dangerously low."

Jaques De Reynier, the Red Cross spokesman, said the Jews and Arabs had given oral promises to cooperate with the organization and observe the code of warfare as laid down in the Geneva convention.

Truman Charged With War Aims

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30. — Henry A. Wallace charged today that the Truman administration is railroading this country into a war which it cannot win.

Speaking less than 24 hours after President Truman sarcastically suggested that he go to Russia and help them (the Russians) against his own country," the third party presidential candidate said:

"I charge that an artificial crisis was deliberately manufactured to stampede Congress and the people into accepting military training and conscription."

Defense Pace Speeded

Wallace, testifying before the Senate Armed Services committee, lashed out at both the draft and UMT. He said this country is in no danger of attack by Russia or any other power.

He urged that the U. S. take the lead in outlawing the atom bomb and go "back again down the road of good neighborliness, charted by (Franklin D.) Roosevelt."

Even as Wallace spoke, the national defense pace was being stepped up.

The House Appropriations committee voted $150,000,000 extra for the Atomic Energy commission and told it to "move forward with

Hobbs Pilot Makes Emergency Landing

Search Is Planned For Missing Plane

(Special To The Avalanche)

POST, March 30 — An aerial search for a low-flying plane which mysteriously disappeared over rough terrain about 20 miles northeast of Post during Tuesday's raging dust storm was to be started early Wednesday morning after deep sand drifts and 50-yard visibility halted would-be rescuers late this afternoon.

The ground search for the missing plane was started about noon today after James E. Crawford, jr., 24-year-old Hobbs, N. M. pilot, made an emergency landing in the backyard of a farm home near Kalgary community, just inside the southern boundary of Crosby county from Garza county and told of having seen a companion plane disappear in the choking clouds of dust.

Car Also Stuck

Crawford told the Lubbock Morning Avalanche late today, after returning from a futile search of the rough breaks where the other plane was feared to have crashed, that his plane and the other craft began flying close to each other soon after he had taken off from Hobbs, N. M., early Tuesday morning.

Both planes were flying low at the time the other one disappeared, he said, because of poor visibility and high winds. He said he did not know the pilot of the other plane or where it had come from.

Crawford and James R. Hundley, jr., who owns a charter plane service at Post, returned to the area where Crawford was forced down and where the other plane was believed to have attempted a landing about noon. After fighting choking clouds of dust and high winds their car finally became stuck in a heavy sand drift and they were forced to borrow a tractor to free it. Then they returned to Post and made arrangements to fly over the area in two or more planes early Wednesday in an effort to locate the other craft—described as a two-place Luscombe Silvair 85 horsepower monoplane.

Other airports over the South Plains indicated that they too would join in the search if needed.

Reds Threaten Allied Lifelines

BERLIN, March 30 (AP)—The Russians threatened today to restrict the supply lifelines of the British, French and Americans in Berlin.

The lines pass through the Soviet occupied zone and are the only ground communication routes of the western powers in Berlin.

Lt. Gen. G. S. Lukyanchenko, Soviet chief of staff, made the threat, the latest Soviet act in a series apparently designed to disrupt four-power rule of Germany.

Allies Refuse Comment

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, refused to comment on the Russian general's statement. British and French officials also would not comment, but high American officials not quotable by name indicated that interference with allied supply lines could lead to serious consequences.

Gen. Lukyanchenko's statement appeared in the form of an interview in the Soviet-licensed newspaper Voerwarts. It came as the regular day for the meeting of the Allied Control council passed without any move from the Russians to call the four-power military governors into session.

Coldwar Intensities

The threat brought the war of nerves being conducted by the Russians and German Communists to a higher pitch. Communist newspapers have been charging under screaming headlines that spies, criminals, hungry Germans and looters have been crossing the border into the Soviet occu-

HST 'Reluctantly' Signs New Legislation For Rent Control

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The nation got a new rent control law today, one day before the old act was due to expire.

In signing the legislation—reluctantly—President Truman said it wasn't the strengthened measure he had asked of Congress, but is "better than no rent control at all."

"I I had not signed it," he said in a statement, "rent controls would have expired tomorrow at midnight. As was true of the rent control bill of June, 1947, I had no choice but to sign."

The bill extends controls for one year, to March 31, 1949, and gives an emergency federal court the final say over the raising or removing of rent ceilings in any area. The recommendations of local rent boards would bear great weight, however, and the court would have to uphold them if it found they were based on "adequate and substantial evidence."

Mr. Truman promised that the administration "will do everything it can under this act to hold rents to reasonable levels." But he also said "we cannot hope to be wholly successful in holding the lines on rents by the powers

Western Hemisphere Nations To Consider Communist Issue

By JOSEPH F. McEVOY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 30—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall tossed the hot issue of Soviet-inspired Communist activities in the western hemisphere into the conference of American republics today and the delegates voted by acclamation to consider it.

The action was taken just before the ninth International Conference of American States opened its formal sessions.

Marshall did not mention Communism by name, but there was no doubt of his meaning when he posed this question at a preliminary session prior to the formal opening:

"I should like to raise the question at this time as to whether the agenda as it now stands may be considered to permit the discussion of the problem of foreign subversive activities directed against the institutions and peace and security of the American republics.

"I am told this is a subject of considerable concern to the countries represented here. I now merely raise the question as to

Midland Man Says Lubbock Now Needs More Office Space

Midland still needs office space, although it has four office buildings six floors or taller and is building another six-story unit.

So said C. A. McClintic, of Midland, who is visiting in Lubbock several days, and who with his brother, H. L. McClintic, is building the fifth office building for Midland.

"I don't see why somebody in Lubbock doesn't build some office space for these oil companies," the wiry little rancher-oilman, at Hotel Lubbock today said. "I've seen a dozen or so oil friends of mine since I've been here and they all tell me their companies would like to have offices in Lubbock.

McClintic's building is in the process of construction and will cost approximately $1,000,000 when completed. "But we already have it leased to oil companies for $3 per square foot for the next ten years," he said.

McClintic, who has been in the Midland area since 1901, has several ranch properties and extensive oil holdings, which have made him independently wealthy.

"But I believe a fellow who makes money in a place ought to put some of it back in building up that community," McClintic said. He said he and a group of Midland men planned to construct a new hotel in Midland on 200 by 140 foot site he owns just across the street from the new 9-story Tower building. He said Wyatt Hedrick, Fort Worth architect, who designed his office building, is joining in the venture.

McClintic is making visits to a local physician because of sinus trouble.

An embryonic stock exchange was inaugurated on Wall Street in 1792.

Klondike Kate To Wed Her Second Husband Thursday

BEND, Ore., March 30 (AP)—Klondike Kate, once the belle of the Yukon, will take a second husband at Vancouver, Wash., Thursday.

Now 68 and known as Mrs. Kate Rockwell Matson, the one-time beauty of the northlands will be married to W. L. Van Duren, Bend accountand, whom she has known for 18 years.

Her first husband—she did not marry until she was 53—died 1½ years ago on a frozen Yukon trail. He was John Matson, a miner who had carried his love for her 33 years before he worked up the nerve to ask her hand.

Plan Trip To Portland

After her days as queen of the dance-hall girls in the Alaskan gold rush, Kate homesteaded on dry farmland east of here. She first met Van Duren when he entered a convalescent home she started here later.

The couple will leave for Portland tomorrow. After the wedding Thursday, they plan a short honeymoon trip, probably to California.

It will be Kate's first real experience as a housewife.

After her marriage to Matson, she came back to Bend, and he went to his diggings in Alaska. They met only occasionally through the years, generally when Kate made a trip to Dawson.

Matson, then 83, died after a heart attack while hiking out from the Yukon to meet Kate in October, 1946.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester has granted a conditional pardon to James Wilson Flowers, 23, of O'Donnell, who was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary from Lubbock county in 1946 for assault with intent to rob, the Associated Press has announced from Austin.

Records of the case, found in the office of District Clerk Royal Furgeson and Sheriff Grady Harrist, show that Flowers was indicted by a 99th district grand jury of Lubbock county Sept. 19, 1946, on a charge that he robbed Edward H. Dial at gunpoint of a watch, a camera and $30. A special venire was summoned, but Flowers waived it and entered a plea of guilty of assault with intent to rob, before the court. Judge G. V. Pardue sentenced him on Nov. 4 of that year.

House Slash Of Appropriations For Labor Department Scored

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The frantic pursuit of "economy" in Congress often achieves some strange results.

A current glittering example of false economy is the very considerate reduction the House made in the appropriation for the Labor department, knocking a fourth off the $16,600,000 recommended by the budget bureau for the next fiscal year beginning July 1. It voted $12,498,200, which compares with $15,358,000 for the current year.

Not only will this cripple the department's work and curtail or stop services long regarded as essential by business as well as labor, but it comes at a time when the military services are asking an extra three billion dollars to make a grand total of over fourteen billion dollars for Army, Navy and Marine corps.

STOKES

By contrast the sixteen-odd million for an important function in our domestic economy seems very insignificant. The Labor department, along with the Commerce department, has its role in maintaining balance and stability in our economy. Among other things, it acts as a clearing house for all sorts of information to guide business and labor—in formulating policies, in planning ahead and in improving conditions under which workers live and do their jobs.

Taft Opposes Slash

One important division of the department, the Bureau of Labor Statistics, would be so seriously affected by the House cut in appropriations that the conservative and economy-minded Senator Taft (R.,O.) raised his voice in protest. He appeared personally before the Senate Appropriations committee, now considering the labor department bill, to appeal for restoration of the nearly $3,000,000 that the House sliced from the budget bureau's recommendation. The House reduced the requested amount more than half—from $5,389,000 to $2,500,000. The appropriation for the current year is $4,073,000.

Senator Taft is particularly aware of the need for a well-staffed Bureau of Labor Statistics. He is chairman of the joint economic committee set up by Congress in the 1946 employment act to watch for changes in economic conditions in the country and make recommendations to Congress for legislation to correct maladjustments. He stressed the valuable service the bureau has performed for his committee.

Furthermore, about three-fourths of the reports and statistics compiled by the bureau are for the benefit of business and industry. Many of these would be affected, as would services to labor and to states and cities.

For example, the monthly reports on employment, payrolls and earnings would probably have to be restricted to factories, instead of including all industrial employment. There would be curtailment, too, in reports on new house construction and dollar volume of construction which are received now on request by 4,700 organizations and individuals engaged in construction.

Other Facilities Threatened

The consumers' price index, a reliable measure of inflationary tendencies, probably would have to be put on a quarterly instead of a monthly basis.

Compilation of strike statistics, now issued monthly, likely would have to be discontinued. The file of collective bargaining, would become inactive. Studies on productivity, already cut in half by appropriation reductions by Congress last season, might have to be eliminated. There would have to be a reduction, also, in reports on industrial accidents which now disable two million workers a year. Most of the local and sectional studies of wages, employment and working conditions would have to be abandoned.

Likewise, the House abolished outright the Bureau of Veterans Employment rights. This was set up by Congress to assist veterans under the Selective Service act which Congress now has been asked to revive. The House also cut $67,000 from the recommended appropriation for the Women's Bureau's program of research into industrial problems of women workers that will shut down field operations now carried on in six major cities—New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Again the Senate has an opportunity to rectify another example of false economy by the House.

Slapping Case In High Court

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—The question of whether or not former gov. Coke Stevenson could revoke the pardon he granted Marshall Morris went to the Supreme Court today.

The attorney general filed application for a writ of error on lower court holdings that the pardon was valid.

Morris was convicted in Palestine in the spring of 1945 on an aggravated assault charge. He was found guilty of slapping a nurse, Miss Jimmy Gantt. He was sentenced to a year in county jail and fined $500.

Jail Sentence Remitted

The jail sentence was remitted by then Gov. Stevenson on Dec. 19, 1946, and the fine reduced to $100. Eleven days later, Stevenson reversed his clemency action after protests from Palestine citizens.

Morris continued his fight for freedom by applying to the 74th district court at Waco for a writ of habeas corpus. The court granted the writ, ruling that the governor could not revoke the clemency. The 10th Court of Civil appeals upheld the lower court ruling.

The state's petition in the Supreme Court alleges eight points of error in holdings of the appeals court, among them its ruling that the pardon was in force and effect when it was revoked by the governor.

Morris has 10 days in which to answer the state's application for the writ of error.

NICKEL COFFEE CUP

NEXT to the weather, a topic that comes up ever so often among working people is the possibility of the passing of the five cent cup of coffee. The places that are the favorite haunts of bank, newspaper, Cotton Row and office people for the early morning and mid-afternoon cup still hold out for the institutional nickel coffee but a number of eating places in Lubbock are charging a dime and the extra cup of coffee, that used to be customary with a standard meal, seems to have joined the ranks of the near extinct good five cent cigar.

A friend of ours who is a restaurant owner, in speaking the other day in defense of this increase said that customers do not take into consideration that from a profit stand point, the nickel cup of coffee is a white elephant. He agrees with one expert down state who has figured it costs about six and a half cents to serve a cup of coffee.

"When people criticize higher prices in restaurants, they should consider each eating place individually in price fixing," he pointed out. "For instance, one with table service, which furnishes linen, and has a lot of equipment, has to charge more than a so-called "greasy spoon," which slaps down a cup of coffee on the counter."

The increase in coffee with meals seems to have been spread rather generally over Texas. A survey in Austin showed more than half the restaurants, cafes and coffee shops up to seven and ten cents for a cup of coffee.

There are several places in Lubbock that charge a nickel for a cup of coffee up to the time for evening meals and then increase it to a dime.

The State Restaurant Association of Texas is taking no action on the complaints officers have been receiving on this and on the disappearance of the standard dime slice of pie and other traditional items, such as a good four-bit blue plate luncheon. They are leaving price fixing up to the individual owner who knows what food and drink items are costing and how much he will have to charge to make a legitimate profit.

GIRLS' BALL TEAMS

SEEING the request for someone to show interest in girls' baseball teams, Curtis Barrett, athletic director of the City Recreation department, telephoned Tuesday afternoon to remind that that department is anxious to help the girls to organize teams. Further announcements will be made in the near future.

The department will furnish bats, balls, a place for the girls to stage their games and umpires. It will be up to them to try to get interested sponsors, Barrett pointed out.

Last year there was not enough interest for a single team and he is pleased that indications are there will be several teams this summer. The young women are invited to get in touch with recreation department members for other information.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Jones of Fluvanna are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Patsy Jones, and James H. Aaron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Aaron of Rotan, which took place at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in Snyder First Presbyterian church. Rev. The couple stood before an arch entwined with white satin ribbons and greenery and flanked with baskets of white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white crepe with gold trim and white hat. Her other accessories were navy. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid. In the Bible was a white handmade linen handkerchief that the bride carried at her high schol graduation and which she plans to carry when she is graduated from Texas Technological college in June.

Mrs. Aaron is majoring in animal husbandry at Tech college. Mr. Aaron received his degree from Tech before he entered the service in 1943 and was stationed in India. After his return to the states and upon receiving his discharge he studied toward a master of arts degree. At present he is in Soil Conservation Service at Aspermont, where the couple will be at home after the bride's graduation.

CLAIMED DIRECTED AGAINST REDS

Moscow Radio Says U. S. Using German Officers In Spy Ring

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 30 — Radio Moscow charged today that Russia had uncovered an American-directed spy ring of former German Army officers operating out of western Germany, Austria and Sweden to learn the secrets of the Soviet zone.

Moscow said the leader of the group operating in the Soviet zone had been captured and had confessed. He was identified as Col. Gerhard Pinkert, former regimental commander of the Brandenburg division.

"He confessed he was a member of an illegal Fascist organization existing in the western occupation zone of Germany, consisting of officers of the former German army who are being used by the American intelligence service for espionage in the Soviet zone," radio Moscow said.

"According to Pinkert's testimony, the center of the organization set itself the task of establishing contact with German agents left in a number of countries during wartime and for this purpose intends to utilize such countries as Austria and Sweden, through which it is possible to conduct espionage work."

Moscow said the center of the alleged spy organization was established first in Frankfurt but was transferred to Munich in the summer of 1947.

Its members, Moscow said, were "former officers of the German general staff." The head of the spy ring, the broadcast charged, was Col. Gen. Franz Halder, former chief of staff of the German army.

Halder was imprisoned by the Nazis for suspected participation in the 1944 bomb attempt against Hitler. He was released by British troops at the end of the war and held with most of the German general staff in a castle near Wiesbaden.

It will not only hold the rupture perfectly no matter the size or location but it will increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, and thereby close the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps, or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

Board Of Education Cannot Accept Free Copies Of Book

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP) — The state board of education will have to turn down a publisher's offer of 10,000 free copies of a book.

Advised that the book is not a textbook for any course of instruction, the attorney general held the board may not use state funds for the cost of transporting or distributing the books.

The book is a fictional story dealing with the early life and customs of the Quakers in this country.

KARL CROWLEY

Karl Crowley Is Death Victim

FORT WORTH, March 30 (AP)—Karl Crowley, 53, former solicitor for the Postoffice department and 1938 candidate for governor of Texas, died in a local hospital late today.

He had been ill for several weeks.

Crowley was a leader in the 1932 presidential campaign of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He became Postoffice solicitor when the Roosevelt administration went in, in 1933.

In April, 1938, he resigned the postoffice position to make the race, in which W. Lee O'Daniel was elected.

Since then he has been engaged in the private practice of law.

He served for five years as postoffice solicitor, resigning to enter the Texas contest.

Crowley was born in Smithville, Tenn. His father, P. C. Crowley, former judge and legislator in Tennessee, was a close personal friend of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, also a Tennesseean.

Young Crowley followed in his father's footsteps, taking a law degree at Cumberland university. He set up practice in Tennessee before moving to Fort Worth about 25 years ago.

At a testimonial dinner for Crowley, Secretary Hull praised the attorney as having "taken his place among the front ranks of the most capable and outstanding servants of the American people."

An ancient kidney cure was a ring set with a toadstone, dipped in a mug of water. The sufferer drank the mug of water.

Hubbers Win 12-10 Game With Buffalo

Chick Fowler Hits Homer With Bases Loaded In Fourth Frame

WAXAHACHIE, March 30—Chick Fowler's home run with the bases crammed in the fourth inning today put the Lubbock Hubbers out in front and they never were headed afterwards, as they went on to down the Buffalo Bison's "B" team, 12-10 in seven innings.

Fowler struck his blow with the score tied and the circuit clout handed the Hubbers, reinforced by five Odessa players, a lead they never relinquished.

Sports Study

By Earl Seudday

Plainview golfers will soon have a full 18-hole layout instead of the present nine-hole setup, according to plans completed recently, with work scheduled to be completed on the project about mid-summer. Land is available for the extension, it is reported, and the only cost will be for the actual work on the new greens and fairways.

A four-man Golden Sandie golf team will enter the Lubbock High school Invitational tournament here April 3, reports from the Panhandle city indicate. Top candidates for places on the squad are John Evans, Art McKay, jr., Don McCormick, Gene Klein, jr., George McCormick, Don Hill and Jay Triplett.

If all the teams entered in the annual Big Spring Relays Saturday show up for the meet, one of the highlight events of the West Texas track season is assured. Odessa, Abilene, Big Spring and Lubbock—all the top Class AA powers of this section of the state—are slated to battle for top honors and many Class A teams will be on hand. The meet will furnish Val Joe Walker of Seminole with an opportunity to avenge his defeat in the 100-yard dash by Byron Townsend of Odessa, while Jim Johnson will seek revenge for his loss to Midland's Dunny Goode in the 440. Only unfavorable weather could prevent the meet from being an outstanding event.

Due to the "overlap" of candidates for both the track and baseball squads at Levelland High school, Marvin Wheeler's Lobo nine will not continue full-scale drill sessions until after the district track meet April 10. Many of the Levelland schoolboys were trying out for both squads, so the mentors decided to concentrate on the cinder path team until the district meet, then emphasize work on the baseball diamond for the start of 4-A competition late in April.

Reports from Brownfield High school indicate that George Zoller, veteran Texas Tech gridder, is one of the candidates being considered for the post as assistant coach on the Cub staff. Zoller has reportedly made a good impression on the school officials, but they are waiting until Zoller can be interviewed by the new head mentor, Tracy Kellow.

Diddy Pearson, stellar Lubbock Westerner guard of the 1947 eleven, is attending San Angelo Junior college and is making a strong bid for a starting post on the Ram team. Pearson was named on the second team of the all-District 1-AA selections last fall.

Brief Bisons Rally

Buffalo rallied briefly in the sixth frame to knot the count, but the Hubbers staged their own bonfire in the seventh to win the only exhibition game of spring training that they will play.

Billy George "Cotton" Russell, the 18-year-old former Fort Worth high school pitcher, started the game and went three innings. He allowed only three runs, kept the hits scattered and looked like a fine prospect for the Hubbers.

Offensively, the Hubbers were headed by the stickwork of Newt Secrest, the catcher up from the Kitty League. Secrest caught the entire game and had a perfect day at bat, with a double and three singles in four trips.

Team Due Friday

Frank Boothe, rightfielder up from the Kitty League, chipped in a pair of singles in four appearances and played a fine game in the outfield, where work was hampered by a strong wind. Dust blew through the entire game and hindered good, clean baseball.

Manager Jackie Sullivan benched himself in order to get a better look at his potential players. And what he saw didn't hurt his feelings any. Russell hurled capable ball against the International League team's B squad; Boothe hit and fielded well; Secrest caught a fair game and had a good day at bat; and Fowler more than lived up to expectations with his batting.

The Hubbers will pick up a few more players before Friday morning at 8, when they will return to Lubbock. In the meantime the squad will continue daily workouts in Dallas.

Dust Storm Hampers Tech Track Drills

A diminished track team from Texas Tech, thwarted in an effort to practice by dust storms and Easter vacation, sat out yesterday's weather virtually one the eve of leaving for the Texas Relays in Austin this week end.

Coach Maxey McKnight has cut the traveling squad that made the Fort Worth Fat Stock show meet, banking on Charley Reynolds, Charles Pinnell and Ed Clepper to pick up most of the Red Raider points. Reynolds will run the 100 and 440-yard dashes; Clepper will run the 120-yard high hurdles; and Pinnell will try the high jump and the high hurdles.

The Tech mile relay team, consisting of Reynolds, Joe Wilson, Costin Bufkin and Ernest Hawkins, will enter the relays, but Hawkins will not try the half-mile.

Coach McKnight also will take Moon Mullins for the century, but will not have a sprint team, field men or entries in the 440-yard dash or mile.

Ticket Sales Total 3,400 For Exhibition Game Here April 9

The dust storm yesterday, that kept shoppers away from town to a certain extent, also had a minor effect on the sale of tickets to the New York Giants-Cleveland Indians game.

Slightly over 200 tickets were sold at the Hub Clothiers yesterday, bringing the total to over 3,400 sold to date, with only nine days left before the Major league teams are here for their exhibition. The club expects to sell from 6,500 to 7,500 tickets for the game and probably the biggest crowd to witness the two teams on their road trip will be packed into Rosenthal Field.

HSU Grid Practice Will Start Monday

ABILENE, March 30 (Special)—How to replace four lettermen, the core of a team which lost only one Border Conference football game in three years, is the problem for 1948 which faces Coach Warren B. Woodson of Hardin-Simmons university.

He will get to work on the assignment April 5 when spring practice begins. Gone will be All-Conference Quarterback Al Johnson, Dublin; Little All-American Guard Jack Ellison, Hamlin; Center Red Cleveland, Corpus Christi, and Right Halfback "Bullet" Cook, Baird.

Four Good Prospects

Other lettermen to be missing are Joe England, Alvarado guard; Neil Taylor, Levelland, tackle; Waller Hedrick, Houston, end; and Raymond Cook, Baird, halfback.

Four new faces on the H-SU campus may give the Cowboys strength where it is needed next fall. The foursome is composed of Charlie Dean, Lawton, Okla.; Bob Surratt, Altus, Okla.; John Cowsar, Odessa, and Nolan Tiger, Altus, Okla.

Dean and Surratt are transfers from the Cameron (Okla.) Junior College eleven. Dean is a 195 pound guard; Surratt is a 218-pound tackle; Cowsar, former all-State end for Odessa, who now weighs in at 225, will be after the center position; and Tiger, 170 pounder, will be after either the quarterback or a halfback post.

19 Lettermen Back

Nineteen returning lettermen give some grounds for optimism. They are: Linemen Elmer Biddy, Paducah; Paul Frost, Abilene; Hugh Higgins, Cleburne; Tom Proctor and Paul Bailey, Abilene; Jack Boles, Midland; Jesse Clardy, Levelland; Leon Cooper, Reading, Pa.; Bob and Howard McChesney, Van Nuys, Calif.; Herman Rapheit, Stamford; J. W. Steadman, Cleburne, and Rowan, and Backs Brooks Allen, Groves; J. D Kirby, Corpus Christi; Pat Bailey, South Bend, Ind.; Dugie Turner, Sweetwater; Raymond Troutman, Abilene, and Wilton "Hook" Davis.

Second No-Hit Game On Record

St. Louis Pitcher Blanks Yanks, 7-0

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30, (AP)—Murry Dickson, right handed pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, hurled a no-hit, no-run game at the expense of the World Champion New York Yankees today. The Cardinals won the exhibition, 7-0.

It was the first no-hitter in the spring exhibition season since the late Cy Blanton of the Pittsburgh Pirates handcuffed the Cleveland Indians, 6-0, April 9, 1939 in New Orleans.

MURRY DICKSON
Hurls No-Hit Game

Musical Hits Homer

Dickson, who won 13 and lost 16 for the Cardinals last year, walked five batters today and hit one. He fanned six, including Linus Frey, Ed Stewart and Johnny Lindell, who batted for Bill Bevens, ailing right-hander who hurled a 8 2/3 hitless innings in the 1947 World Series.

Stan Musical smacked a three-run homer off Bevens and later in the frame al Schoendienst also drove in a trio of mates with a base-clearing double.

Cardinals Ahead

The triumph gave the Cardinals a four to three edge in the spring series with the Yankees.

After the fray it was announced that Outfielder Charley Keller, out since last June because of a spinal operation, would be in the Yankees' starting lineup on Thursday in hopes of bolstering the New Yorkers' attack. On that day the Yankees will play the Philadelphia Phils.

Tomorrow, however, the Yanks and Cardinals tangle again here.

Training Camp Notes

GLOBE, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—Swatting out a fourteen hit attack, the St. Louis Browns broke a seven-game Cleveland exhibition game winning streak, 11-5, here today.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs broke a five game losing streak today by blasting the Chicago White Sox 13-7 after piling up nine runs in the first two innings.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Boston's Red Sox smeared their Louisville Colonel Farmhands in an exhibition ball game today, blanking the American association club 13-0.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers dropped the curtain on their Florida training season today, with a 7-0 conquest of the Lakeland Pilots.

TAMPA, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds extended their win streak to five today as an eight-run sixth inning set up an 11-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Frankie Resigns As Assistant Line Coach For Texas Agoies

COLLEGE STATION, March 30 (AP)—Johnnie Frankie, assistant line coach at Texas A&M college, resigned today to become football and basketball coach and director of physical education at Wharton County Junior college.

The athletic council accepted the resignation "with regret."

Frankie had been here since 1945, working on the football staff and as freshman basketball coach.

Littlefield Joins Coaching Faculty

ABILENE, March 20 (AP)—Clyde Littlefield, coach of track at the University of Texas, and Bobby Cannon, coach of Edinburg Junior college, will be members of the faculty at the annual Texas Coaching school here in August.

L. W. McConachie, executive secretary of the Texas High School Coaches association, announced today that Littlefield would lecture on track at the coaching school and that Cannon, former professional baseball player, would handle baseball. There is hope some big league players may be obtained to assist Cannon.

Others members of the faculty have not been confirmed.

Roach Bout Here Consented To By Abood, Dundee

John Abood and Chris Dundee, co-managers of LaVern Roach of Plainview, promising young middleweight fighter, have consented to their fighter boxing in Lubbock this summer.

This information was contained in a letter received yesterday by Joe Kelly, Avalanche-Journal sports editor, and settled, once and for all, rumors that Roach would not be allowed to stage a fight in this city.

Opponent Sought

Dundee, who wrote the letter, said that further negotiations will be carried on with Bert Kahn, promoter of the proposed fight. Big stumbling block at present is a suitable opponent and agreement on a guarantee.

Kahn, out of town at present, wrote Dundee last week and asked him to name a suitable opponent and also the minimum guarantee he would accept. Kahn also emphasized that, since Roach lost to Cerdan, the original guarantee of $7,500 was too high.

Dundee said in his letter: "I spoke to my partner, John Abood, and he told me that he is willing to let LaVern Roach box down there. As soon as Bert Kahn is ready, he can offer us an opponent and terms. I am sure we will get together. He had offered us $7,500 at first, but in his last letter he told us that on account of Roach losing to Cerdan, he would have to cut that a bit. We will get together."

Roach Okays Bout

Roach said Friday night in Plainview, where he is visiting his parents, that he would like nothing better than to have his next fight in Lubbock. Speaking on a radio broadcast that night, Roach reiterated that statement and hoped that his friends would come down to see him fight.

The handsome ex-Marine lost a gruelling, eight-round TKO to Marcel Cerdan of France in Madison Square Garden on March 12. Cerdan currently is ranked Number two in the middleweight division by the National Boxing Association. Roach is, and was at the time, not ranked.

Roach Here Thursday

Despite the defeat, Roach is considered one of the leading contenders for the middleweight crown. Paul Domski, German fight promoter, saw the Roach-Cerdan fight and said recently in Dallas that the Plainview boxer should be the champion within two years.

Roach will referee bouts here Thursday night for the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce boxing tournament.

"Victory Would Be A Miracle"

Oilers, Kentucky Tangle In Olympic Cage Finale

NEW YORK, March 30, (AP)—Kentucky, a lightning fast basketball team, meets the Phillips Oilers, a toweringly tall team, tomorrow night in the Olympic tryout finals.

There is complete agreement on two points.

1—Both coaches think the Oilers will win.

2—Both teams will contribute five men to the Olympic basketball squad.

Oiler Coach Confident

"They've got too much experience and height for us," said Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky's national collegiate champions. "I honestly don't think we can win. If we do, it will be a miracle."

"In the long run we will make less mistakes than Kentucky," said Coach Bud Browning of the Nation A.A.U. Champion Oilers.

Kentucky's first team averages 6 feet 2 1/5 inches. The starting Oilers average nearly 6 feet 5 inches. With the experts, the Oilers are favored by a couple of points.

Baylor Plays Denver

As a preliminary to tomorrow night's big game in Madison Square Garden, for which a sell-out crowd of 18,400 is assured, Baylor meets the Denver Nuggets in a consolation game at 7 p. m., CST.

Whatever happens, Louis G. Wilke, American Olympic Basketball chairman from Denver, is happy.

Battle Of Titons

Tomorrow night's final will find two titans opposing each other. Groza, six feet seven, is the heart of Kentucky's offensive. When Kentucky downed Baylor 77-59 in the semi-finals, Groza made 15 baskets in 26 shots from the court. In all he scored 33 points. Seven-foot Bob Kurland made eight field goals in 26 tries. He had a total of 21 points as the Oilers beat the Nuggets, 69-40.

Texas Cagers Sound Off When Lone Star State Gets Ribbing

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—It was double irritation for the Baylor Bears, here playing basketball in the NCAA and Olympic try-outs.

The Bears yesterday went to see the Broadway musical comedy hit, "Look, Ma, I'm Dancing." The hit song of the show was "I'm Tired of Texas," as rendered by Nancy Walker.

The Baylors gave it the Bronx cheer and had to be cautioned by ushers to cease or be pitched out of the theater.

Then last night the Bears lost to Kentucky 77-59 in the semi-finals of the Olympic basketball trials.

Masked Marvel Mat Headliner

The identity of the Masked Marvel probably won't be revealed tonight at Sled Allen's wrestling arena, but wrestling fans will have fun guessing who the grappler is while watching a double main feature.

The hooded matman pairs up with Karl Gray in a tag team match against Ace Freeman and Eddie Gideon that should provide all the thrills of two main wrestling events. In addition, Walter Stratton and Johnny Carlin tangle in another main go.

These two main features will be two out of three falls with one-hour time limits.

Grudge Bout Looms

For Freeman it will be more than a team match, since the New York wrestler has a grudge score to settle with Gray. And there is no question but that they will meet in the ring tonight. Gideon hasn't been in Lubbock for more than two weeks, but he also wants a crack at Gray and will get it.

Stratton is a strong man, the result of weight lifting, and ranks high in the weight lifting classification. At the same time, he is no stranger to wrestling and has faced some of the best. In Carlin he will meet a grunt and groan artist of the old school, one who likes to win and doesn't care how.

The starting time has been changed from 8 p. m. to 8:15 p. m., with tickets on sale from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. today at Wylie's Drug store.

More than one-half of the reserved seats for the Thursday night opening card of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce boxing tournament were sold Tuesday at Wylie's drug, officials reported late last night, and many of the ringside and general admission ducats were taken by South Plains fight fans.

The ticket sale will continue today and Thursday, with the ringside pasteboards selling at $1.75, reserved seats for $1.25 and the general admission ducats for 85 cents. Tickets are available at Wylie's for all four nights of the tourney—Thursday, Friday, Saturday and April 5—Which is slated at Sled Allen's arena.

Bonilla, James Entered

Joaquin Bonilla, Texas Tech student from Costa Rica, reported yesterday that he may have to fight in the heavyweight division instead of the 175-pound class as he had planned. After a week of workouts Bonilla still tips the scales at 180 pounds and it is doubtful that he can drop the necessary four or five more pounds to meet the light-heavy requirement. Bonilla holds the amateur heavyweight crown of Costa Rica and will be one of the top favorites in the division here. Another prominent heavyweight contender will be Lubbock's Gene James, district Golden Gloves champion.

Other featured leather-slingers in the boxing tourney will include two of the fighting Kirkpatricks from Petersburg, Kenneth and Howard; Elmo Hall of Texas Tech; and James Forbes of Brownfield.

Several of the highest-ranking Panhandle boxers are slated on the program, including Amarillo's flyweight battlers Skeeter Haggerton and Glenn Duckworth and Clint Williams of West Texas State Teachers college.

"Grudge" Bout Set

The weigh-in for all fighters will be held at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Sled Allen's arena, officials announced, but boxers can enter the meet as late as 6:30 o'clock Thursday night if they will report to director Bill Buck at the arena. Meals and sleeping quarters will be furnished all out-of-town contestants.

Two Jaycee members, Glenn Woody and George Sanders, are hard at work training for their Thursday night exhibition "grudge" bout, officials reported last night, and each of the fighters put in approximately 30 miles of roadwork Tuesday, (by automobile). The contestants have been limited to 10 cigars and three packages of cigarets daily, trainers said, and both men are expected to be in top shape for the bout.

St. Louis Cardinals Send Nine Players To Minor Loop Clubs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals sent nine minor league players who have been helping in spring training to their farm training camps today.

Vernon Rapp left for Columbus, Ga., to join the Omaha club; Floyd Boyer and Ross Grimley went to Houston, Texas; Kenneth Wild, Ed Kazak, Bob Young and Larry Puent joined the Rochester club at Daytona Beach, and John Crimian and Kurt Krieger the Columbus club at Daytona Beach.

SMU NINE LOSES

DALLAS, March 30 (AP)—Nebraska swept its two-game series with the Southern Methodist nine by walloping the Mustangs, 19 to 7, here today.

Westerners Set For Big Spring Meet Saturday

Lubbock High's improving cinder path specialists will be seeking revenge when they tangle with Odessa, Abilene and host Big Spring for the championship of the annual Big Spring Relays Saturday.

The Abilene speedsters nosed by the Westerners for top honors in the Abilene Invitational meet three weeks ago, then last weekend Odessa and Big Spring copped the two high positions of the Sand Hills Relays at Odessa.

But the Lubbock schoolboys have turned in better performances each week and, if they are able to hold a few workouts under favorable conditions before Saturday, are capable of copping the Big Spring championship.

A dozen other highly-rated Class AA and A schools are slated to enter the meet, including defending champion Amarillo, Midland, Lamesa, Sweetwater, Seminole, Andrews, Water Valley, Imperial and Monahans, but Odessa, Big Spring Abilene and Lubbock will be the "big four" of the track event.

The Big Spring meet will feature most of the top track stars in West Texas, with Odessa's Byron (Santone) Townsend, Big Spring's Leon Lepard, Abilene's Jim Edington and Lubbock's Jim Johnson holding the spotlight. Townsend is probably the outstanding schoolboy athlete in the state and Lepard, who was chalked up a time of 1:59.4 on the 880 this season, is rated as the best half-miler in Interscholastic league ranks.

Johnson a Top Threat

Jim Johnson, who placed fifth in the 40-yard dash in the state meet at Austin last year, is rounding into condition and will be the top threat in the quarter-mile.

Coach Marlin Hayhurst announced last night that a lengthy full-dress drill session for the Westerner squad is slated this afternoon at the Chapman field oval—weather permitting.

JAMAICA STRIKE LOOMS

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Approximately 130 horse owners and trainers were warned today to sign a labor agreement with grooms and exercise boys before 6 a. m. Thursday—or face a strike at Jamaica race track.

Parker Is Top Olympic Hope

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—Charley Parker, a sprint sensation as a schoolboy but something of a flop his first year in college, was termed "an excellent Olympic prospect" today by his coach at the University of Texas.

Parker captured the headlines in high school at San Antonio by running 100 yards in 9.5 and 220 yards in 20.6, climaxing three unbeaten years with victories in the national AAU.

First Showing Dismal

Then came army duty and while in the service Parker raced 100 meters in 10.3.

Much was expected of him when he came to the University of Texas. But during the season he took repeated beatings.

Outside of finishing second in the senior 200 meters of the national AAU, Parker had a dismal year.

But a new Parker took the cinders this spring. Already he has a 9.5 hundred to his credit and he has raced 220 yards in 21.2. These are the best he ever has recorded this early in a season.

Learned To Relax

Learning to run relaxed, which his coach, Clyde Littlefield, says is the hardest thing in track, was the answer to Flyin' Charley's troubles.

Last year he was "fighting himself." His slow start was responsible for most of his losses. He just couldn't keep from tightening up.

But last fall and this spring he has practiced continually on starts. He worked at three-quarters speed to improve his form. He practiced on the grass to preserve his leg spring. Twice a week he started from a gun to tune his ear for actual meet racing.

Now Charley says he's stronger, has more confidence and boasts a more pronounced finishing kick.

Far From Peak

Parker still is far from his peak and Littlefield's idea is to bring him along slowly so he will hit it in the summer when it really counts.

"He is one of the two or three best 200-meter men in the nation," says the conservative Littlefield. "He was rated that high last year even when he didn't do too well. He also stands a good chance in the 100 meters because it's nine yards longer than the 100 and will make his fine finish more effective."

Littlefield calls Parker "one of the finest boys I have coached in my 28 years at Texas. He has a fine racing temperament with a little controlled nervousness like a race horse. His only problem is keeping on just as he is."

Hubbers' Game Slate Changed

The changes bring one more game to the pre-season exhibition schedule and gives the Hubbers two games on the road instead of one. The game with Big Spring here, originally scheduled for April 12, has been changed to April 15 and another game with Odessa has been scheduled April 7 at Odessa.

Play Here Sunday

The Hubbers will open their spring exhibition schedule this Sunday with an afternoon game beginning at 3 p. m. Two other Sunday games, both to be played at 3 p. m., are on the schedule. All the other games are at night, with games scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

GRID RULES CHANGED

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—For the first time in 15 years, college and high school football will be played under almost identical sets of rules next season, it was disclosed tonight. A group of officials meeting here has brought forth a common code in which the differences between the two sets of rules have been reduced from some 150 to less than a half-dozen, and those very minor.

Lubbock Teachers For 1948-49 School Year Approved By Board

High, painting and remodeling of sections of Senior High school, sodding of the athletic field at Dunbar High school, and installation of a water sprinkling system at Westerner field at the Senior High school.

Cafeteria System Hit

Jackson reported that arrangements have been made for a temporary cafeteria to be set up immediately at East Broadway school. The cafeteria would serve sandwiches, milk and ice cream. Further arrangements whereby hot meals could be served at the school by next fall were discussed.

Other business included:

An additional $500 was voted by the board to finance the evaluation of the high school system by a group of educators from outside the school. The evaluating committee will carry out the work on April 25, 26 and 27, Matthews announced.

A group of four persons appeared before the board to protest the present cafeteria system in the local schools. The protesting persons stated that the rotation system of feeding the school children in the schools was damaging to the businesses which they operate adjacent to schools.

Lots Are Sold

Under the system now in operation, children must remain in the bounds of the school premises unless notes from parents instruct the school authorities to allow the children to go home or to other places during the noon lunch periods.

A. C. Jackson, business manager, gave a report on the financial status of the building fund. The board approved sale of lots 8, 9, 10 and 11 of block 3 of Rush addition to the American State bank and others. The land to be sold consists of 120 feet fronting on Ave. Q near the Fourteenth street intersection.

H. L. Allen, president of the board, presided. Other members present were Paul Hardwick, C. H. Hamilton, E. J. Parsons, Dr. M. M. Ewing, and Clyde Tatum. W. H. Evans was absent.

Foreign Aid Plan

which includes all major items in one measure.

Differences between the Senate and House versions will be ironed out by a House-Senate conference committee after the house finishes action on its bill later this week.

The House by voice vote amended its bill to give teeth to controls over exports of war supplies.

Veto Power Given

An amendment by Rep. Mundt (R-SD) would grant the foreign aid administrator power to veto any shipment of articles of military value to the Soviets and her neighbors.

The House also approved a plan aimed at preventing Russia from getting, through western European countries participating in the Marshall plan program, any war supplies made from American materials.

Many Congress members have said it is foolish to combat Communism with one hand and feed Russia with the other.

The House voted 149 to 52 to invite Spain to share with 16 other western European nations in the multi-billion dollar Marshall plan fund if she agrees to terms laid down in the plan.

Chartering Of Ships Barred

The House apparently was so heavily in favor of the Spanish amendment that it didn't require any speeches of persuasion from its backers, once the Foreign Affairs committee agreed to take it.

In another amendment, the House voted overwhelmingly to require that at least half of all goods shipped abroad under the aid program be carried in U. S. vessels. This was sponsored by Rep. Bradley (R-Calif).

A standing vote of 165 to 32 defeated a provision to allow the chartering of 200 Ameriacn ships to European nations getting American aid. American shipping interests and unions have bitterly fought the chartering provision. (The Senate killed a similar provision).

An amendment by Rep. Isaacson (Al-NY) to forbid use of ERP funds to buy oil or finance oil development in the Middle East was defeated.

By a 68 to 62 vote the House refused to cut from its bill a section saying that when surplus farm products are bought for foreign aid, they must be bought in proportion to the amount by which they exceed domestic supplies. Tobacco interests were involved.

The House accepted amendments to include canned food and fisheries products among the food items sent abroad.

It agreed that 50 per cent of the corn used in the program should be in the form of corn flour or starch processed in the U. S.

Senator Vandenberg said that not to accept the House's plan of wrapping up aid in one package would result in needless loss of time. But he also warned that the Senate was not prepared to accept all of the measure's provisions.

Wallace Charges

all possible speed" on both wartime and peacetime uses of "the newly discovered secrets."

The House group also okayed $11,370,000 for a road connecting Seward and Anchorage in Alaska. Secretary of the Army Royall, the committee said, had described this as "of major importance to the military program" there.

And the munitions board announced it is going to survey some 11,000 factories to find out "where the bulk of requirements for war will be drawn from in an emergency." A survey covering another 11,000 to 14,000 plants is planned later.

Wallace said the military preparedness program would lead only to "a war in which there can be no victory."

He said the draft and other proposals of the President and Secretary of Defense Forrestal are really "a political program to control the American people."

Blue Tint To Cars After Duster Puzzle

A 'phenomenon' of the aftermath of lusters in Lubbock and the immediate area has a lot of people puzzled.

It seems that when the dust starts settling, the atmosphere casts a steely blue shade over most cars and some other metal objects.

Tech instructors who sometimes make a study of such things said they were at a loss to explain the unusual bluish tint which the tops of almost any colored car seems to assume following a duster. One suggestion was that the dust settling through the late evening sun filtered out most of the colors to leave the blue reflection.

Of course, it could be just the "outlook" everyone has after a storm like that of Tuesday.

Cotton Production

son which was in third place in 1937. Dawson slipped from 110,767 bales in 1937 to 95,540 in 1947.

Among the first ten high producing counties in the state, the South Plains placed six. Cameron county was in third place in the state with 111,188 bales, only county off the South Plains among the first six.

State Leaders Shown

The first ten leaders in the state as shown in the report are:

County	No. Bales
Lubbock	180,935
Lamb	115,162
Cameron	111,188
Hockley	106,063
Lynn	106,027
Dawson	95,540
El Paso	87,897
Hidalgo	82,190
Ellis	73,994
Crosby	69,863

In 1937 Lubbock, Lynn and Dawson were first, second and third, in that order, in the state. On a percentage basis, the 14 South Plains counties produced, in 1947, approximately 30 per cent of the state's total cotton crop, compared with 21.5 per cent in 1937. The state produced less cotton last year than in 1937, however, figures for the state being 3,306,882 bales last year, compared with 4,947,099 in 1937.

Irrigation Increases Yield

Possibly reflecting the advance and increase of irrigation in this area, the report shows that five leaders among the 14 South Plains counties produced approximately 65 per cent of the crop in the area. Lubbock, Lamb, Hockley, Lynn and Dawson counties produced a total of 603,727 of the 932,436 bales in the 14 counties.

Lynn and Dawson, with very little irrigation, dropped in production, compared with 1937, while the other three, Lubbock, Lamb, and Hockley, where irrigation is increasing, all show increased production.

The irrigation picture is further emphasized in Floyd and Hale counties, on the basis of figures and estimates compiled by K. N. Clapp, of Anderson-Clayton and Co. here, who has for years estimated the area cotton production, always pulling up only a small percentage off actual total produced. This year Clapp's forecast was only about one per cent off actual production figures.

Dry Land Crops Good

Clapp's figures show that 13 per cent of the total acreage in the 14 counties was irrigated last year, and that the highest yield was in Floyd county, where on irrigated land production averaged 1.44 bales per acre. Hale county was a close second, averaging 1.43 bales peracre, Lamb was third with 1.11 and Lubbock was next with .90.

Average area-wide production, dry and irrigated land, was placed by Clapp at .46 bale per acre, based on a 520-pound average bale, which his company uses as shipping basis. Average over the area was 239 pounds of lint per acre, and in Lubbock county, the average was set at 265 pounds.

Clapp and other sources set the total acreage last year in this county at 350,000 acres, of which 90,000 acres—about one-fourth—was irrigated. Based on .90 bale per acre on irrigated land, dry land cotton in this county produced well above the area-wide average dry land crop.

Comparisons Given

Table below shows production last year, in 1946 (drouth year), and the banner year of 1937. The counties used are those above the caprock, and do not include one or two normally considered to be South Plains counties. The area comprises 18 counties, but only 14 are used, since no figures are given on the other four because of the government's desire to not expose individual operations. Production in the four is light, and in some instances there is only one gin in a county. The four are Castro, Parmer, Swisher and Yoakum counties.

Here are area figures by counties:

County	No. Bales 1947	No. Bales 1946	No. Bales 1937
Bailey	52,851	2,650	37,310
Briscoe	5,974		11,474
Cochran	34,247	1,023	19,366
Crosby	69,863	19,758	88,189
Dawson	95,540	25,597	110,767
Floyd	28,829	10,668	32,705
Gaines	11,686	947	9,866

Duster Sweeps Most Of State

was still eight miles.

The wind had subsided to 12 miles per hour at 9:30 o'clock last night, and the dust was rapidly settling.

Possible damage to crop lands in the South Plains area could not be determined last night. Wheat land on the north Plains was less hard hit by the high winds, Amarillo reporting a high velocity of 42 miles per hour and no dust.

The Lubbock weather bureau station said that the duster was the worst storm since January 29 of 1947, when the wind reached a steady velocity of 54 miles per hour, compared with 52 miles per hour yesterday, and visibility at that time dropped below one-eighth of a mile.

The weather bureau in Dallas said a pilot reported dust as high as 10,000 feet.

Not since the dust-bowl days of the early 1930's had the Texas atmosphere been so thick, and choking, the Weather bureau said, The Associated Press reported from Dallas.

Most Of State Hit

The only places free of dust were in the extreme south and along the Gulf coast. At San Antonio, visibility was reduced to 15 miles, and a 28-mile-an-hour wind was recorded.

A windstorm blew down a power line and demolished two houses between Quitman and Winnsboro in East Texas. It was reported to be a small tornado, The Associated Press reported.

The storm was born in a low-pressure area in northeast Oklahoma, the weather station said. It reached up into Oklahoma and Kansas. The low was causing thunderstorms in Oklahoma, western Arkansas, Tennessee and Missouri as it moved to the northeast, according to The Associated Press.

No strong winds were forecast for the South Plains today. The forecast was mostly fair and cooler, with winds up to 20 miles per hour.

The 65-mile-an-hour winds in gusts were estimated by the Weather station north of the city Tuesday. The steady wind velocity was 52-miles-an-hour that morning, around 43 in the afternoon.

A cold front was moving down toward the Panhandle from the Rockies last night, and was expected to reach Lubbock about noon. The maximum temperature today was predicted at 58 degrees. Tonight the temperature forecast was 'near freezing.'

The forecast for East Texas today was for fair and cooler weather.

Before dark last night, a 35-mile-an-hour wind was sifting a thick, straw-colored haze through Dallas, cutting visibility to three quarters of a mile, the Associated Press said.

In the extreme western corner, El Paso had three miles visibility and at Texarkana in the northeast, the visibility was three miles. It was two miles at Tyler, east of Dallas.

Wichita Falls, in the upper Red river valley, had visibility of one mile and a 40-mile wind.

Conditions elsewhere yesterday: Bonham, visibility about a quarter-mile, Fort Worth, two miles of visibility, 30-mile wind; Abilene, two miles visibility, 48-mile wind; Waco, two and one-half mile visibility, 34-mile wind; Big Spring, three miles visibility, 45-mile wind, San Angelo, three miles visibility, 40-mile wind; Austin, 12 miles visibility, 23-mile wind.

Charter Amendment

might be dragged clear through the Supreme court.

Many other people with just claims simply would not be bothered. They would submit to injustice in preference to getting mixed up in a law suit.

If either of these classes of people were told that their claim was outlawed by this proposed amendment to the charter, that would be the end of it so far as they were concerned.

But even if it was known positively the validity of the amendment would be upheld, it still should be defeated.

It discriminates too much in favor of the city against those who might have just claims against it. It has no proper place in the charter of any city government which wants to be entirely fair with its citizenship.

Arkansas Solon Fined $100 On Peace Disturbing Charge

TEXARKANA, Ark., March 30 (AP)—Guy Rovers Reed, Arkansas state representative, pleaded guilty today to a charge of disturbing the peace. He was fined $100 and costs in municipal court.

The Arkansas legislator was charged with firing a pistol shot March 22 into a garage apartment owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Wilson.

The peace disturbance charge was substituted for an original charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Special Judge T. B. Vance ruled that the state's evidence could not support the original charge.

Reed said the incident climaxed efforts to stop gossip which he said Mrs. Wilson was circulating about him.

NICE WORK

Deputy Combines Work, Pleasure

DALLAS, March 30 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Harold R. Rhoden, assigned by Sheriff Steve Guthrie to stop people from dumping trash along county roads, is working in disguise.

Dressed as a fisherman, Rhoden placidly fishes in county creeks and barrow pits that are located near roads.

During the last three days he has caught three garbage dumpers, seven catfish and a big mess of crawdads.

Missing Plane

failed to turn up any trace of where the plane might have come from or who might have been piloting it.)

Crawford said he had taken off about 7 a. m. Tuesday from the field at Hobbs. He was flying an Ercoupe (Continental) 65 horsepower plane and was on his way to Lubbock.

About six miles southeast of Denver City he sighted the other plane, a Luscombe. A short time later the duster struck the two planes. Crawford said it was impossible to fight the high winds and that he and the other plane, which at that time also seemed to be lost, were forced to just drift with the winds.

"We were flying at about 6,700 feet part of the time, and the dust boiled up to 4,600 feet or higher," he said, estimating the wind at about 45 miles an hour at that point.

Seemed To Be Lost

"The pilot of the other plane semed to be lost," Crawford said. "We kept fairly close together looking for a break in the dust." The other plane followed Crawford part of the time he said, although he believed the other ship to be faster, indicating the other pilot was lost and looking for directions.

Finally, late in the morning, the two finally spotted a thin break in the area where Crawford finally landed. The other pilot at that time signaled to Crawford, the latter understanding him to mean that he was "low on fuel" and was going down.

The other pilot then headed into the dust rapidly and disappeared at about 3,200 feet, Crawford said.

"I attempted to circle back over the area where he disappeared but found it impossible against the winds. At about that point I also discovered I was low on fuel and prepared for an emergency landing."

Landed In Yard

Crawford set his plane down in the backyard of John S. Nichols, longtime resident and farmer of Garza county. The plane landed within 75 feet of the house.

A telephone line runs into the community and three telephones are connected but the line was down and no call could be made into Post. Nichols took Crawford into the Post telephone office and the pilot called the Hobbs airport in an effort to find out something about the other plane.

Hundley, business man in Post and a veteran who served as a pilot in World War II, was notified and he joined a searching party which left Post to return to the viciinity where the accident was believed to have occurred.

A check of airports at Seminole, Clovis and others in the area gave no clues to the missing plane last night.

Crawford was on his way to Lubbock for a checkup at the Veterans administration office. He served in the Signal corps in World War II. He is a business man in Hobbs, is married and has two children. He had rented the plane from the B. F. Hines Flying Service in Hobbs.

From Clent Breedlove Aerial service in Lubbock, it was learned that two men from Lovelock, Nev., had landed in a Luscombe plane Monday and had said they were en route to Dallas to get another Luscombe and afterward would return to Nevada. Whether the plane was the same that landed in Lubbock or the new plane which was to be obtained in Dallas, however, was not known. Other Luscombes are owned in the area.

pation zone by the hundreds.

U. S. Army officials in Frankfurt said they had no comment on the latest Russian story—an account in the Communist newspaper Pravda in Moscow saying a German spy ring financed by American military intelligence and German industrialists was working in the Soviet zone.

The story quoted a Berlin correspondent of Pravda as saying the group was headed in Germany by a man named Gerhard Pinkert, a former colonel in the German army. The story said former German spies left throughout eastern Europe during the war were being reorganized.

"Boxers" Train For Grudge Fight Here

When 127-pound George Sanders good-naturedly heckled 180-pound Glen Woody at a Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon, Woody tossed a challenge toward Sanders' way.

The climax will come about Thursday night when the pair meet in the ring at the Jaycees' boxing tournament in the second match at Sled Allen's arena. The tussle will be a two-round "grudge" match.

Neither has any known ring experience. Horace Gerhardt, trainer for Sanders, and Curly Wilkinson, trainer for Woody, have reported their men in peak condition, and training vigorously for the fray. Jaycee officials have announced that both fighters' gloves will undergo rigid inspection just before the bout begins, just in case one or both gladiators have devised some ulterior method for winning.

Lewis Testifies

"they certainly would have to be reduced," he said.

Did he mean the pensions should go to those retired in the past and those whose companies don't pay into the welfare fund?

"Certainly sir, because it was in behalf of those men that a pension was negotiated."

Lewis and the operators have been unable in the nine months since the pension fund was started to agree on how it should be handed out. A three-man board of trustees, including Lewis, deadlocked. The neutral trustee, Thomas E. Murray, proposed a system among those eligible for pensions. Both Lewis and Ezra Van Horn, the operators' trustee, vetoed it.

Murray said the Lewis plan is "actuarily unsound" (meaning the fund couldn't stand it).

Lewis told the board it didn't have to be "actuarily sound."

"It's a pay-as-you-go plan," he said. "The trustees, of necessity, cannot pay out any more money than the revenues going into the fund will permit."

Settlement Claimed Sought

Chairman Minton asked Lewis whether he tried to settle the pension dispute by collective bargaining with the operators.

Lewis: "Oh yes. On Feb. 2, I sent a notice that a dispute existed. No attention was paid to it.

Minton: "You didn't offer to negotiate in that letter, did you?"

Lewis: "Certainly. It was implied all through that letter."

Minton then read from the Feb. 2 letter Lewis' statement that the union "reserves the right at will to take any independent action."

Minton asked: "Is that in your estimation an effort on your part to open negotiations? It contains an implication of independent action."

Lewis: "That's something that only circumstances and the organization itself could determine. What I was doing there was notifying each of several thousand operators that their agent, Mr. Van Horn, was not fulfilling the contract."

Minton: "Do you think this gave you the right to take independent action?"

Lewis: "I didn't take independent action."

Minton said the board would begin work at once on its report to the White House. He said it would be sent to Mr. Truman tomorrow if possible, and by Friday at the latest.

ITU To Offer Contracts Without Bar On Non-Union Job Seekers

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The AFL International Typographical union tonight wrote instructions for its local unions to offer full-year contracts without discrimination against non-union job applicants.

Government attorneys agreed that the new instructions comply with a federal court injunction issued against the union Saturday.

Both union and government lawyers expressed the hope that the new document will clear up all current disputes between the ITU and employers—both in the newspaper and commercial printing industries.

whether or not the present agenda permits such discussion."

The delegates voted unanimously that "foreign inspired subversive activities" could be discussed

Chile, Paraguay and several other republics have said in preconference statements they were seeking a strong declaration of condemning Communism, even going so far as to having the conference take joint action to curb it in the western hemisphere.

The American attitude has not been defined at the conference. A member of the U. S. delegation, asked to interpret Marshall's question, replied: "It speaks for itself."

The preparatory meeting voted to break down the conference into six separate commissions to handle these subjects:

Commissions Named

1. The organic pact of the Inter-American system as a regional branch of the United Nations.
2. Systems of specialized organizations for financing the Pan-American union.
3. Peaceful settlement of controversies and collective defense.
4. Economic treaty for boosting living standards and industrializing the Americas.
5. Social matters (education, cultural activities, social legislation, etc.)
6. Political matters which include the defense and preservation of the democracy of the Americas. The subject of Communist infiltration of the American nations would fall to this commission.

Colombian Elected President

Foreign Minister Laureano Gomez of Colombia was elected permanent president of the conference.

Additional projects added to the agenda included United States proposals for easing travel conditions for tourists; united action to combat ignorance, poverty, malnutrition and disease; creation of an Inter-American institute for exchange of technical information and research.

Romulo Betancourt, head of the Venezuelan delegation, said in an interview a "cordon" should be thrown around anti-democratic governments in the Americas. He did not name any specifically but said some were located in Central America.

the field there Sunday night. Seeing car lights, he drove in his truck to where the men were and asked what their business was. He said they informed him they were hunting.

Jalomo told investigators field ridges precluded much hunting in the field and that he did not see a gun.

Bond Is Set

As result of his description and that of a neighboring farmer, who described a suspect car, investigators may be narrowing clues.

Clarence Bryant, 28, a negro charged Monday with drunk driving, changed his plea from innocent to guilty Tuesday, and paid a fine of $50 and county court costs.

Bond of $1,500 was set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in binding Delbert Phillips, 35, over to grand jury investigation on a charge of theft over $50.

The complaint, sworn to by Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton before E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, accused Phillips of theft of $884.50 worth of gin saw bearings and shafts March 26 from Hale F. Eubanks of 1920 Ave. F.

Officials said such stolen property had been sold as scrap iron for $8. A county court misdemeanor theft complaint also was filed against the defendant. He was fined $50 and court costs on a guilty plea and was assessed five days in jail.

New Rent Controls

granted by this law."

The new law sanctions rent increases of up to 15 percent when tenant and landlord can agree on a lease running through 1949. Such increases would not be permitted, however, in cases where a tenant had agreed to a similar increase last year under the old law. The new law "freezes" the rents of such tenants, who signed leases running through this year, until March 31, 1949.

The act also provides that:

All hotel accommodations go ceiling-free. So do non housekeeping rooms in homes where there are not more than two paying guests.

Tenants may be evicted on 60-day notice if the landlord wants the dwelling for the personal use of a member of his family, or plans to demolish or alter it substantially, or decides to take the quarters off the rental market.

Controls are removed from dwellings covered by leases which were ended in the first three months of this year.

Sixty-day eviction notices are required generally. There are exceptions if the tenant does not pay his rent or becomes a nuisance. In such cases local laws govern eviction.

The act kills the former requirement that special federal permits be obtained for the building of amusement places and recreational facilities.

Campaign To Recruit Americans For Holy Land Fight Hits Snag

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—A campaign to recruit Americans to fight for a Jewish state in Palestine today ran up against a government policy of not issuing passports to citizens going abroad to do battle.

While voicing this reminder, State department officials made no move to halt the drive which claims to have lined up more than 1,000 men in a George Washington legion, composed of American volunteers.

Officials also noted in a letter on Palestine policy to Senator Murray (D-Mont) that "many" Americans lost their citizenship in 1939 and 1940 just before this nation entered the war by swearing allegiance to Canada, Britain and France.

The department's position on this phase of the knotty Palestine issue was defined after Barney Ross, former world's champion boxer and Marine veteran, announced he had joined the George Washington legion and is ready "to leave immediately" to fight in the Holy Land.

36-Year-Old Money Order Is Presented For Cash

DALLAS, March 30. (AP) — Mrs. J. W. Smith presented a 36-year-old money order to be cashed at the postoffice here today. Postmaster J. Howard Payne said she will get her money—after some formalities.

The old order must be sent to Washington for examination. Then a Treasury department check will be mailed to Mrs. Smith.

She bought the order Feb. 20, 1912, when she lived at Thurber. She sent it to her father, Professor D. McKay, now deceased, who lived in Fort Worth.

She found it again while going through some old papers a few days ago.

TO RETURN HOME

Billy Cathey, 26, of 2427 Nineteenth, who has been in the Dallas Veterans hospital for the past four months, is expected home in about two weeks, it was reported last night. He was injured in a car accident near Roswell, N. M., in a cast. The cast was removed yesterday, and he is now permitted Dec. 6, and was afterwards placed to walk on crutches.

WASHINGTON, March 30. (AP)—The navy wants 300 merchant marine officers who hold naval reserve commissions to sign up for a year's active duty on combatant ships.

VIOLENCE MARKS EXCHANGE STRIKE

Police And Pickets Clash In Bitter Battle In Wall Street

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Brief but bitter battling between police and pickets broke out today in Wall street—the world's most moneyed thoroughfare.

The spectacular scrapping opened the second day of a strike of AFL financial workers against the New York stock and curb exchanges.

It was fought at the very doors of the stock exchange as striking financial workers and husky AFL seamen who swelled their picket lines tried to block the main entrance of the building.

Riot Squads Called

Pickets who stretched themselves out on the sidewalk were hauled to their feet. Policemen were knocked down. Women screamed.

Clothing was torn. There were several minor injuries. Two men suffered fractured arms. A detective was sent to a hospital, his head bleeding.

Calls went in for riot squads and ambulances. Wall street was roped off. Private phones in nearby stores were allocated for police emergency use only.

In six minutes it was all over.

The exchanges opened for business on the dot of 10 a. m. (EST). The stock exchange had a million-share day, compared with 760,000 shares yesterday, the first of the strike. Prices were higher and brokers said operations were smoother than yesterday.

After the fighting, 43 men and two women had been carted off to the old Slip police station. Most of them were charged with disorderly conduct. Six, identified as seamen by police, were accused of assault. All pleaded innocent. Some were released on bail and others paroled.

A police lieutenant said that most of the arrested pickets were members of AFL seamens unions—the Seafarers International and the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

Police Scored

The police took no chances on a recurrence. More than 100 officers and plain clothesmen were concentrated in the area.

Pickets confined their afternoon activities to shouting insults at those going into and leaving the exchange.

Emil Schram, president of the stock exchange, deplored the violence. He said there had been no provocative acts of any kind on the part of the exchange and there would be none.

M. David Keefe, president of the United Financial Workers (AFL), accused the police of acting as "private guards for the financiers of Wall street."

He said the police made a "merciless attack" upon the picketers as they staged a "sitdown strike before the exchange entrance."

The contract of the union employes expired March 1.

The employes are seeking $9 to $15 weekly increases. The stock exchange offered increases of $3 $4 and $5. The curb offered a 10 per cent cost of living increase for the year.

An eight-cylinder auto operated 10,000 miles will open and close the ignition points 120,000,000 times.

New College Avenue Church Of Christ To Open Sunday

College Avenue Church of Christ, a new church in Lubbock, will hold its first regular services Sunday in the recently completed church building at Twenty-sixth street and College avenue, according to an announcement from the Southside Church of Christ, sponsor of the new church.

Alstone L. Tabor, recently of Tuckerman, Ark., will assume the duties as minister of the College avenue church. A 1940 graduate of Harding college, Searcy, Ark., Tabor has been active in the Church of Christ for about 12 years. His latest work was a year and one-half with the church in Tuckerman. He is married and has a five-year-old son.

Part of the members of the Southside church will make up the nucleus of the congregation for the College avenue church, it was announced and O. C. Horne, O. B. Haynes and Harley McIlroy will serve as leaders of the church until the congregation can select and appoint elders.

Sunday's services will begin at 9:45 a. m. with Bible study, followed at 10:45 a. m. by morning worship services. The evening worship service will be held at 8 p. m.

A fellowship meeting will be held at the new church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the service to consist primarily of congregational singing interspersed with brief talks. Members of other Church of Christ congregations of Lubbock and the South Plains are especially invited to attend, it was announced.

Lubbock Man Is Speaker At Big Spring Rotary Meeting

BIG SPRING, March 30 (Special)—The 127th Rotary conference session here this morning brought strong appeals for support of Rotary International's foundation for advanced study fellowships abroad and other means of promoting international understanding.

Linton Estes of Wichita Falls predicted the district would reach its foundation quota of $10 per member during the year. T. C. Root of Lubbock viewed the foundation as one of the principles which "Rotary might establish as outpost defenses."

Leslie Wilson of Amarillo, district nominee for a Rotary fellowship, expressed hope he might be allowed to study in Zurich, Switzerland.

Other speakers were J. E. McLaughlin, Ralls, and Fred Wemple, Midland, past district governors.

Only one invitation was extended for the next conference, and that by Plainview. The 126th, a new district created out of the eastern half of the 127th following a conference here, was uninvited.

$500,000 Claimed Paid For Community

'Gus The Greek' Saves Town From Doom--He Just Buys It

LANGELOTH, Pa., March 30 (AP)—This once-bustling community of 3,000 was rescued from a "ghost town" fate today by "Gus the Greek" Barbush, who as an immigrant boy got his start by washing dishes 36 years ago.

Gus saved Langeloth by the simple process of buying it—the whole town—for a reported half-million dollars.

Worked Hard, Saved Money

The town's troubles began when the American Zinc and Chemical Co. decided to close its local zinc plant. The major industry here, it provided 800 jobs and a $9,000-a-day payroll. Officials explained the company's process was obsolete and the plant wasn't worth rebuilding.

Things looked pretty gloomy until Gus surveyed the scene. Gus lives in nearby Burgettstown, where as a lad of 13 he got his first job as a dishwasher. Working hard and saving his money, he built his original $7 into a small fortune. At Burgettstown he owns a big country store, a large restaurant, and a hotel building with a half-dozen stores.

Gets Record Loan

Gus thought he might put Langeloth on its feet. He went to the Burgettstown bank, which showed its faith in him by advancing a $200,000 loan—largest it ever advanced to an individual.

With the loan, Gus had little difficulty in buying the 390-acre property of the zinc company, which includes 261 houses, a water company, community hall, church, school, scout hut, sportsmen's clubhouse, park, and incidentals.

Gus's main objective is to induce a new industry to move into the empty plant. Then he wants to improve the town by laying out a baseball diamond, fixing the park, etc.

"My plan is to run a good town," he said.

Gus admits he got a kick out of buying the town. "It could only happen in this country," he smiled.

Texans' Plans For Dinner For 'Ike' Are Now Up In Air

DALLAS, March 30 (AP)—Word from Washington that General Dwight Eisenhower would not accept the Democratic nomination for President has caused plans for a dinner in his support here April 1 to be held in abeyance.

Morris Jaffe, Dallas attorney, said he was waiting for a telegram from the national headquarters of People for Eisenhower in New York, before deciding whether to abandon the dinner plans. Jaffe was on Eisenhower's staff.

Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, Army press chief, said in Washington last night that the general would "under no conceivable circumstances" consent to be drafted as the Democratic candidate for president.

About two per cent of American homes which were wired for electricity had mechanical refrigerators in 1926 and about 72 per cent had them in 1942.

Braniff Crews Will Make Trial Flight On South American Run

People In Holland Backing Aid Plan, But Question U. S. Motive

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 30—Except for members of the Communist Party, the majority of the people of Holland welcome the Marshall Plan. However, in Holland as in France, England and Italy a substantial number of people think the main American motive for the Marshall Plan is to create markets and stave off a depression.

This fact, revealed in surveys by Gallup Poll affiliates overseas, brings out a marked contrast between opinion here in the United States and opinion abroad.

Here in the United States only a very small percentage of voters—fewer than one in ten—think there will be a depression within a year. But in Holland, France, England and Italy a very much larger proportion—ranging from about one-fifth to more than one-third—seem to feel that a business crisis is close enough at hand in the United States to make us want to adopt the European Recovery Plan as an economic "shot in the arm." It is quite evident that the American people and the people in Europe have a different set of impressions about the American economy.

Opinion abroad concerning the E.R.P. has been measured in a series of polls which will cover most of the chief recipient nations.

The Dutch poll was conducted by the Nederlandsch Institut voor de Publieke Opinie, one of the 12 members of the International Association of Public Opinion Institutes. The Dutch poll found that nearly nine out of every ten voters in Holland have heard about the Marshall Plan and these were asked:

"Do you think our country should cooperate in the plan or not?"

Yes, cooperate	59%
No, do not	9
No opinion	32

When asked to give reasons for their opinion, those in favor said that E. R. P. is a economic necessity for Netherlands recovery, and that it will bolster the forces opposed to Communism. Dutch voters against E. R. P. said that it will make Holland too dependent on the United States.

When opinion was analyzed by political parties, it was found that the members of all Dutch parties except the Communists are in favor of E. R. P. by majorities ranging from 58 to 88 per cent. The Communist vote is only 8 per cent in favor, 75 per cent opposed and 17 per cent no opinion

The next question asked:

"Why do you think the United States wants to give us the Marshall Plan help?"

The principal replies were:

U. S. wants markets, needs to stave off depression	38%
To stop Communism, Russia	15
To help Europe	10
To get more power, imperialism	7
Miscellaneous and No opinion	30

Polls in January by the British, French and Italian public opinion institutes found that majorities ranging from 60 to 65 per cent in the three countries were in favor of E. R. P. When asked to give their opinions as to why the United States had proposed the plan, the people of the three nations voted as follows:

	Eng.	France	Italy
To help Europe	24%	23%	35%
U. S. wants markets, stave off depression	22	26	17
To stop Communism	14	14	20
Imperialism	8	9	11
Miscellaneous	6	7	18
No opinion	26	21	17

Lion Members Hear Quartet, See Film

Lions club luncheon heard several numbers by a Barber Shop quartet to stress an announcement of the first annual Parade of Quartets by the local chapter of SPEBSQSA and saw a film, "By Jupiter," at the club luncheon Tuesday at Hilton hotel.

The quartet parade and harmony show, scheduled here April 10, was announced by Dr. Marshall Harvey. The quartet that sang was composed of Bob Dennis, Bob Hufstedler, Jack Hall and R. S. Roberson. Harvey said several nationally known quartets will be here for the session, to be held at the high school auditorium.

The film was presented through efforts of Paul Crouch, who was introduced by Bob Garner. It portrayed the effects of courtesy and friendliness on an individual going about his duties, business and social.

The club's Jubilee Minstrels is to be shown Thursday night at the Whiteface school auditorium, with buses to leave the hotel at 5 o'clock that afternoon. The minstrel group and other members go to Ruidoso Saturday, where the show is to be presented that night.

Coke Stevenson Modestly Says Poll Underestimated Strength

DALLAS, March 30 (U.P.)—Former governor Coke Stevenson, candidate for the U. S. Senate, was asked in Dallas yesterday if he thought the Texas poll published Sunday overestimated his present political strength.

The poll showed 36 per cent for Stevenson. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel was given only nine per cent.

Said Stevenson, who has just completed a campaign tour that took him to the four corners of Texas: "I'm a modest man, but I'll have to admit I think I'm a little better than the poll showed."

Three buses are to leave here Saturday, one at 6 a. m., one at 8 a. m., and one at noon, for the weekend at the New Mexico resort.

Club President J. Wm. Davis presided, with invocation by Dr. J. Ralph Grant.

Okay On Sale Of Bonds Is Given

Decision On New County Courthouse May Be Reached By Officials Soon

The Lubbock county commissioners court and Dallas Union Trust company of Dallas Monday night entered into a contract of sale of $250,000 in Lubbock county courthouse and jail bonds.

The contract employs the Dallas company to find a buyer for the bonds, which are to be dated April 10, 1948, and will mature on April 10 in each year, at a rate of 2¼ per cent for the first year, 2½ for succeeding years, as follows:

1949, $20,000; 1950, $20,000; 1951, $22,000; 1952, $23,000; 1953, $25,000; 1954, $22,000; 1955, $24,000; 1956, $30,000; 1957, $32,000; 1958, $32,000.

Fee Will Be Paid

The contract calls for a price of par and accrued interest and provides for payment to the trust company 1¾ per cent of the face amount of the bonds thus sold. This fee is to be paid upon delivery and payment for the bonds.

It was understood that the trust company has a buyer for the issue.

It was expected that Leroy L. Jeffers, authorized representative who signed the contract for the trust company with the commissioners court, would meet with the court at its Monday session to submit a cashier's check for 2 bonds, and that the court would enter its order at its regular meeting date April 12, authorizing issuance of the bonds.

Decision To Be Made

That done, the court would be left to decide whether it will construct a new courthouse and make an addition to the county jail, as authorized by the voters in 1945 when they approved issuance of $1,500,000 in bonds that could be sold at not more than 2½ per cent interest.

One million dollars in bonds had been marketed earlier, at an average interest rate of 1.89 plus, officials said.

Commissioners cannot market the remaining $250,000 until valuations of the county increase, it was explained. Figures in the office of Joe Boyd, county auditor, show the valuations increased $7,110,883 in 1947, however—to $43,089,387. The 1946 valuations were $35,978,504.

Bond Market Higher

The bond market, it was explained, is higher than when the first installment of the bonds were marketed, and is going higher. The costs of building materials and labor are showing no decline. The court has been informed there is no foreseeable time when construction costs will be lower.

Spokesmen, not entirely agreed upon whether now is the time to build a new courthouse, nevertheless have known for years that

Bodies Of Area Men To Arrive

Bodies of 14 servicemen, three from Lubbock and 11 from the South Plains and Panhandle area are among those being returned to the United States aboard two Army transports arriving in New York Friday and Sunday.

The two vessels, the "Robert F. Burns" and the "John L. McCarley," bear the remains of 5,342 Americans who died in the struggle for the liberation of Europe.

Virtually all those aboard the McCarley are being returned from the D-Day military cemeteries at Saint-Laurent-Sur Mer, Blosville and LaCambe, Normandy. Those aboard the Burns are from later established cemeteries at Henri Chapelle, Belgium, and Varois and Epinal, France. The Burns was scheduled to arrive in New York Friday from Antwerp, Belgium, and the McCarley is due in New York Sunday from Cherbourg, France.

Those from Lubbock and their next of kin include Pfc. John H. Day, Army, Virginia I. Day, 2124 Sixth Street; Sgt. Paul W. Smith, Army, Mrs. Nellie V. Smith, Route 1; and Pfc. Oliver N. Keesee, Army, Mrs. Cornelia D. Keesee, 2432 Twenty-fourth. Day and Smith are returning aboard the Robert Burns and Keesee is aboard the McCarley.

Other South Plains and Panhandle men listed among the group aboard the Burns, are Pfc. Elmer W. Everett, Army, Pampa; Pfc. David S. Storey, Army, Lit-

Nine Jurors Chosen In Slaying Trial

CROSBYTON, March 30 (Special)—Nine jurors had been accepted tonight in preparation for the murder trial of W. Fred Jones.

Of the members of a special venire examined today, ten men were challenged by the state, and 11 by the defense. Twelve persons were rejected for conscientious scruples against the death penalty and 23 for having formed opinions on the case.

Most of the session tomorrow is expected to be devoted to the selection of the remaining three jurors.

Judge Dan Blair is presiding. The case was sent to his 72nd district court of Crosby county by a change of venue, after the court of criminal appeals had reversed a death conviction in a former trial of the case in the 64th judicial district of Hale county and had ordered a new trial.

Jones, 38, is charged with murder with malice in connection with the 1946 shotgun slaying in front of Jones' Floydada grocery store of 23-year-old H. C. Love, jr., an employe of the store.

Jones claimed at the former trial he had discovered existence of an illicit relationship between his wife and Love, after an evening of heavy drinking.

Paving Project Is Planned For Lubbock

$546,867 To Be Spent On Work

Approximately 20 miles of city street paving, estimated to cost $546,867, will be done in Lubbock during the spring and summer, Mayor C. A. Bestwick announced Tuesday.

The program is more than twice as large as during any previous year in Lubbock history.

The program, involving an estimated cost of $546,867, is about twice as large as any previously undertaken in any year in the city's history.

The program includes 90 blocks to be done by contract, on which bids are to be opened April 22; 83 blocks to be done by the city, and 38 blocks of surfacing, also by the city, on caliche base which already has been laid.

Early Start Expected

The city's part of the program will be started as soon as weather will permit, the mayor said. Warm weather is necessary, he explained, to insure an even flow of asphalt.

The contractor who submits the successful bid will be expected to start on that portion of the contract within a few days after the award is made, the mayor added.

The paving, he said, is well scattered through the city. However, a large portion of it is in areas where blocks are 600 feet long, eight of them making a mile when allowance is made for streets. Thus, Mayor Bestwick explained, the aggregate of 211 blocks of paving adds up to about 20 miles.

Will Speed Work

This is about one-fourth as much street paving as now exists in the city. A recent survey showed that 880 blocks aggregating 78 miles now are surfaced.

The contract plan of handling a large portion of the program, Mayor Bestwick said, has been adopted solely as a means of speeding the completion of accumulated work. About 50 blocks were paved under contract last summer, he said, and the work was satisfactory as to quality and cost.

But he pointed out that the city will do more paving work itself than during any previous year. Members of the city commission do not believe it would be a good investment to buy the equipment which would be necessary to undertake more work than the city has allotted to itself.

The following are the streets to be paved under contract:

Second from Vernon to College; Eighth from H to O; Twentieth from Tyler to Polk; Twenty-first from Tyler to Polk; Twenty-third from H to L, N to P and T to U; Twenty-fourth from P to Q; Twenty-fifth from L to N and Tyler to Polk; Twenty-sixth from Q to S, and Monroe to Tyler; Twenty-seventh from Jackson to Van Bu-

Post Men Hurt In Car Mishap

The condition of four Post men who were seriously injured in a car accident near San Angelo Sunday remained critical last night, according to Shannon hospital at San Angelo.

Funeral services for Lee Roy Holly, 20, who was killed in the crash, had been postponed at Post yesterday to an indefinite time due to the condition of his father, Roy Holly, 43, who was injured in the wreck.

The others in Shannon hospital are R. H. Sappington, 25, Thomas Ammons, 35, and Otis Odom, 39, all of Post. All were in critical condition, and only Ammons had regained consciousness since the accident, the hospital reported.

Car Hits Bridge

Lt. Alton E. Skinner, 27, of Goodfellow field at San Angelo was also involved in the accident, but suffered only a lacerated chin.

The Ford in which the Post men were riding rammed into a concrete bridge about six miles east of San Angelo, and a Hudson driven by Lt. Skinner, plowed through the wreckage. The accident occurred about 1:30 a. m. Sunday, the highway patrol said.

Young Holly, a gin employe at Post, died at the San Angelo hospital early Sunday.

The elder Holly was believed in the most serious condition. He suffered a fractured spine and is paralyzed from the waist down. He also suffered fractured ribs, head injuries and internal injuries. The hospital said that he had been placed under an oxygen tent.

Others Seriously Hurt

Sappington suffered internal injuries and a head injury, and remained unconscious last night.

Odom suffered a fractured right leg and pelvis, and a head injury. He was also unconscious last night.

Ammons, who had regained consciousness, was believed to have been hurt the least. He suffered possible internal injuries, a fractured leg and ribs. He was the only one of the four who was able to talk Sunday.

The death victim is survived by his wife; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holly; five brothers and four sisters, all of Post.

The program also featured presentation of a $25 savings bond to Donald Huffaker, Lubbock FFA student, for exhibiting the best pen of three barrows in the recent Lubbock County Fat Stock show. N. J. Roberson sang several selections at the outset of the program as a preview of the Parade of Quartets to be staged at Lubbock Senior High school auditorium April 10. They were introduced by Pat Cunningham. J. H. Penn, Lubbock High school music director, introduced members of the Hi-Y quartet, who sang negro spirituals. They were Robert Leonard, Jack King, J. A. Suit On Farming Is Transferred

A suit that has to do with the farming methods of G. K. Horton, former county commissioner of precinct 4, in relation to the effect those methods may have had on the blowing of his topsoil in Deaf Smith county was transferred Tuesday from there to the 99th district court of Lubbock county.

The action was brought against Horton by Charlie Hoover, who described himself in the petition as a farmer working land adjacent to Horton's. It seeks judgment in damages of $1,546 alleged to have been suffered by his growing crops, fences and land by reason of the manner in which Horton plowed his farm the last three years.

It was transferred upon Horton's plea of privilege. The district court of Deaf Smith county granted the plea, which action was affirmed by the court of civil appeals of the seventh supreme judicial district, of Amarillo, upon Hoover's appeal.

Hoover particularly objected to Horton's alleged employment of a "one-way" plow in his farming methods, and alleged that Horton's farming methods there did not conform with the most recognized efforts of other Deaf Smith farmers. The appellate court, in a decision of Associate Justice Lumpkin, found that Horton's election of method in farming could constitute no exception to statutory definition that venue lies in the county of residence of the defendant.

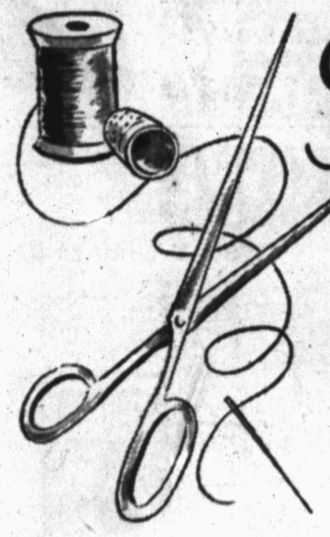

Funeral Services Set Today For Snyder Wreck Victim

Communistic Sabotage Of Fight Against Cattle Disease Cited

HOUSTON, March 30 (AP)—Evidence of Communistic activity against efforts to eradicate the foot and mouth disease has been uncovered in Mexico, a member of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas said here today.

Claude K. McCan, Victoria rancher, told the Houston Farm and Ranch club a "pile of evidence" has been uncovered showing that radical elements in Mexico are fighting the program to stamp out the dread disease.

"We had one chance at the disease but failed," he said. "If we lose our second attempt, I don't think we shall get another. We have lost too much ground in Mexico already."

He advocated rapid inauguration of an effective program against the disease, with the program to be headed "by a man like General Dwight Eisenhower."

McCan said the first step of a program should be appointment of co-administrators by the Mexican and United States government, with such officials to have sufficient money and power to carry out their program.

The Victoria rancher said Communist agents, in the past, moved in ahead of cattle appraisers and told owners of infected cattle the United States representatives fighting the disease would take or kill cattle without paying for them.

Mexicans Propagandized

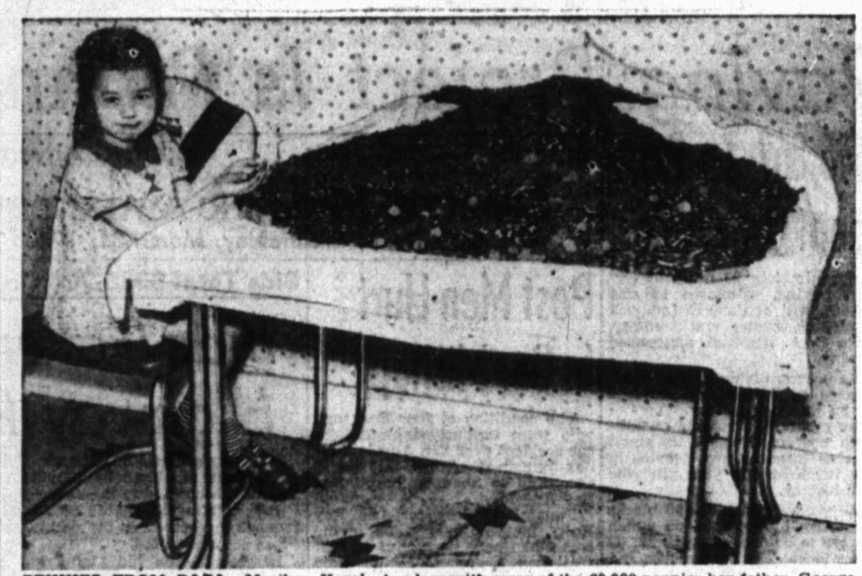

"They told the Mexican ranchers they would be cheated by the United States representatives in Mexico," he stated.

"The Mexicans thought we could eradicate the disease," he continued, "but their minds are being changed partly by the Communists and partly by our inactivity against the disease."

The two nations, he said must "make a new beginning" toward stopping the epidemic, which he said now has spread to within 275 miles of the Texas border.

He said it would take a sound program at least two years to eradicate the disease.

"If the disease is not stamped out," he warned, "it is possible states to the north of Texas will place a quarantine on Texas cattle."

Pensioners Join Demand For Special Legislative Session

AUSTIN, March 30 (U.P.)—Members of the Texas Pension association today added their weight to current demands for a special session of the Legislature.

Everett H. O'Dowd, Waco attorney and spokesman for the group, wrote Gov. Beauford H. Jester requesting a "special session of the Legislature for the purpose of providing adequate laws" to assure "a just old age pension."

O'Dowd told the governor the association is planning a convention April 17 at Waco and invited the state's chief executive to be present.

He wrote Jester that "while you were campaigning for governor, you assured the old people and me as their representative, that you would give your support toward providing adequate pensions for their needs."

"Since the teachers are demanding a special session, and since the Democratic party believes that a special session is necessary, they (the association members) believe that justice would be done to all parties and to the state of Texas, if you . . . called a special session to meet the present emergency."

Government Has Bought Bulk Of Rice Crop For Export

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The government already has bought the bulk of the 1947 rice crop to supply export programs, agricultural officials said today.

Purchases since buying started last October 14 totaled 237,067,000 pounds.

Under a rice export allocation program, the department was authorized to buy 290,000,000 pounds for relief aid abroad.

But officials said a part of this allocation has been cancelled. They would not say how much because it is possible, they explained, that some of the cancellations may be reinstated for other shortage areas.

Officials said the department still is receiving offers this week. They declined to say, however, how much longer the government will stay in the market.

Commission Sets Hearing For Houston Gas Pipeline Firm

WASHINGTON, March 30 (U.P.)—The Federal Power commission has set April 7 for hearings on the ability of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., Houston, Tex., to meet its customers' requirements.

In ordering the investigation, the commission said information indicates that Panhandle "may be unable to supply" both direct customers and distributing utilities who require gas for underground storage this summer.

The commission said it will also investigate the "lawfullness" of deliveries by Panhandle to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for industrial use at Detroit, underground storage requirements in Michigan, Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio and Canada, and a proposed rate schedule for Panhandle deliveries to the East Ohio Gas Co.

Tourists Rate Texas Food, Climate Low

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—Tourists spent $178,562,365 in Texas last year. They were impressed with our hospitality but didn't think much of our food and climate.

Those findings were reported today by the state highway commission based on information collected at its information bureaus. The data was checked and verified by the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Visitors entered the state at the rate of more than 10,000 a day, spending an average of $8.73 each per day, the survey said. They used a total of 1,388,186 automobiles, traveling an average of 662 miles each. They stayed an average of 5.3 days.

Of the total, 52 per cent were visiting Texas for the first time. Vacation was the purpose of 58 per cent.

When they left 36 per cent had been most impressed by Texas highways and traffic services, 19 per cent with Texas courtesy, 13 per cent with the scenery, 11 per cent with the progress of business.

Climate impressed only 2 per cent and food 1 per cent.

"This cash crop of $178,562,365 constituted one of our largest sources of income in 1947," the survey noted.

Widespread Search Planned In Effort To Locate Pilot

DALLAS, March 30 (AP)—A final systematic aerial search, before spring leaf growth hides the ground, will be made this weekend for Eugene Holstein, Dallas pilot missing in East Texas since last December.

Col. D. Harold Byrd, Texas wing commander of the Civil Air patrol, said today that at least 100 airplanes are expected to join in the search, Friday through Sunday.

Holstein, who disappeared after low ceilings prevented him from landing his light plane at the Houston airport, is believed to have crashed somewhere in the heavily forested East Texas area. Civil Air patrol and Army pilots have searched extensively for his plane.

Byrd urged all licensed private fliers with at least 200 solo hours to join in the search. Pilots will report to Lieut. Helen R. Wheeler, CAP, who will command the search mission from an operating base at the Palestine airport.

The old familiar charge that America has no foreign policy is out of date.

There is a definite policy, concurred in generally by both major political parties, that Communist imperialism must be contained through elimination of the social and economic chaos on which it feeds. Imperialism and aggression is to be halted by military preparedness which will cut off its chances for success.

The two methods are designed to eliminate the possibility that western institutions can be conquered either by arms or infiltration; in other words, to avoid slavery.

Hold People In Slavery

When President Truman mentioned slavery in his AHEPA speech he was not just using a generic term. He was talking about plain old slavery, under which a man is the chattel of his rulers, driven at his assigned tasks, starved, killed or imprisoned if he rebels.

He was talking about the way the Russians treat their political opponents at home and abroad. Of the internment camps over which the State department has just protested to the Soviet. Of the modern Buchenwald, where, the large Stockholm Daily Dagens Myheter says, conditions are no different than they were under the Nazis. Where, a smuggled letter from an inmate to the Swedish syndicalist Organ Arbetarn says:

"We are 12,000 aspirants to Siberia and our situation is hopeless. New people arrive almost daily. They are mostly members of political parties other than the Socialist unity party (the Russian-sponsored party in their German occupation zone). None of them have been sent here at the verdict of a court. However, our number does not increase . . . Every week a considerable group is taken away, nobody knows where.

Horrible Stories Told

"About 150 of us sleep (in shifts on the floor) in a barracks for 50. . . . They beat us every day. . . . Our daily ration is 500 grammes of bread and one litre of muddy soup . . . Our psychical and physical condition deteriorates with every day that passes. Suicides are daily occurrences and the simplest method is to go into the forbidden zone in the direction of the sentries, whereupon one is shot down."

Similar stories, and worse, have come from the labor camps where Russia's new czars send their own dissidents at home.

Is it any wonder that the Romanians vote 92 per cent for an imperialist regime which they dare not flout?

The slavery imposed by Russian imperialism is not just an abstract something which requires scientists to reach conclusions, and musicians to compose, along party lines. Slavery of the heart and the intellect can be more brutal for some people than physical torture. Americans don't like any of them.

That's what the President meant when he said:

"There are certain things which are worse than war. One of them is slavery. That's what we were faced with in 1940 and 1941. We are faced with almost exactly the same situation today."

Truman Accused By Senator Of Following Republican Policy

HOLLYWOOD, March 30 (AP)—Sen. Glen H. Taylor (D-Idaho) says "millions of people have been the prisoner of an illusion, that the Democratic party of Harry Truman is the same as the Democratic party of Franklin D. Roosevelt which we trusted with our hopes and our votes."

"But it is no longer the same," he declared. "In the short space of less than three years it has become under Truman so much like the Republican party in fundamental policies, in character, in men, as to make any differences that appear to the naked eye unimportant.

Taylor, candidate for vice president as a third party running mate of Henry A. Wallace, told a Gilmore stadium rally last night that the Truman foreign policy "is the policy of the imperialists who have always run the Republican party."

William McCraw Declines Job Of Heading Dallas HST Group

DALLAS, March 30 (AP)—William McCraw, Dallas attorney, had changed his mind today about becoming the Dallas leader of the Democratic faction favoring election of President Truman.

The former law partner of U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark had been offered the Dallas county chairmanship of the Truman Democrats, and had declared his belief that the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention should pledge to vote for Truman's nomination.

But yesterday he declared that "the welfare of the Democratic party was more important than fighting over Truman."

"Previous personal commitments will preclude my taking any active part in the precinct and county conventions," he said.

Lt. Monte Page, Jr., Assigned Duty At Okinawa Headquarters

First Lieut. Monte M. Page, jr., of Lubbock, who was formerly serving with the 11th Signal Service battalion, has been recently re-assigned to duty within the Ryukyus Command as assistant to the officer-in-charge of supply and utilities at Headquarters, American Military Government for the Ryukyus on Okinawa.

Lt. Page entered the Army at Kelly Field in June 1941 and left for overseas tour of duty in August 1946. He has served with the 4025th Signal Service Group in the Philippines, prior to his assignment to Okinawa.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Monte M. Page, of Lubbock.

Repeal Of Oleo Tax Said Still Possible

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—There's still a chance, Rep. Abernathy (D-Miss) said today, that a bill to repeal federal taxes on oleo can pass the House.

Several such bills were shelved by the House agriculture committee recently after hearings.

Abernathy said a discharge petition which he and Rep. Rivers (D-SC) have filed now has signatures of 154 representatives and needs only 64 more to become effective.

A discharge petition, when signed by 218 members, has the effect of taking the bill from a committee and placing it before the House for consideration.

"We have an excellent chance of obtaining 218 signatures," Abernethy told a reporter. "We haven't yet talked with a number of representatives from cotton states who probably favor the bill. I'm extremely hopeful."

Beets are delicious when they are peeled, shredded and cooked in a covered saucepan in just enough water to prevent scorching; they may be dressed with butter, salt and pepper just before serving.

New York Fire Department Is Reviving Emergency Training

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The New York city fire department is reviving its auxiliary firemen corps to aid regular personnel in the event of "any disaster or emergency."

Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle said last night that plans for the re-creation of a civilian volunteer auxiliary similar to the one that functioned during the war were formulated about six weeks ago.

The department at present has started recruiting a "nucleus" force of about 4,000 men, Quayle said. Additional forces could then be recruited and trained by the "nucleus" units in such numbers as any emergency situation might require," he added.

The Burglary Wave

MEMBERS of the City commission at great length, recently criticized the Police department as having been lax in tagging autos which overstayed their time in parking meter spaces. The criticism apparently got results. More cars have been tagged than previously, City officials report. This is proper. Since we have the confounded meters, regulations affecting them should be enforced.

But that enforcement certainly is not as important as trying to do something about the recent wave of more serious crime—particularly burglaries. The loot last week-end alone exceeded $7,000. That's a great deal more important than the possibility the City might overlook a few nickels to over-time parkers.

We think it would be logical if the City commission "got as high behind," and showed comparable interest, in the burglary wave as it did in connection with the loss of a few nickels from the pockets of people going about their business, instead of breaking the law and stealing from others.

The burglary epidemic—even though it does not involve city finances—is much more important than the over-parking problem, which received so much thought and study at City Hall.

How about tackling it, gentlemen?

Good Luck, Sir!

WHILE rejoicing because of the greater opportunity opened to him, the many friends M. D. Fanning has made during his long connection with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and affiliated agencies, will regret deeply his departure today to become general manager of the San Angelo Chamber.

Mr. Fanning's connection with the chamber here was due to chance. He and Mrs. Fanning visited in Lubbock about the time of the 1938 Panhandle-South Plains fair, planning to remain only a few days. Someone was needed to handle the fair rodeo. Mr. Fanning had been associated many years with the late Tex Austin, famous rodeo promotor. So Mr. Fanning became rodeo secretary here, planning to leave immediately after the fair. Instead, he remained nearly 10 years, becoming assistant manager of the chamber and the Fair association, and secretary of the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show.

Mr. Fanning is not a spectacular, back-slapping type. His chief reliance for results have been patience, attention to detail, diligence and preserverence. His chief assets in winning an ever-widening circle of friends have been sincerity, a quiet sense of humor and a pleasant and obliging disposition. These qualities have served him well in Lubbock, just as they are sure to do in his broadened responsibilities in San Angelo.

It goes without saying that the best wishes and the confidence of those who know Mr. Fanning will be with him in San Angelo, or wherever the future may carry him. As to his feelings toward Lubbock his own words are eloquent: "I hope, rather than expect, to find a place Mrs. Fanning and I will like as well as we have Lubbock."

Down Memory Lane

(From the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche of March 31, 1928.)

Bearing a message of sympathy and offers of assistance, as result of a recent disastrous fire, a group of Lubbock citizens drove to Seagraves "into the jaws of one of the worst sandstorms of the season." In the party were B. D. Woods, president of the chamber of commerce; A. B. Davis, C. of C. manager; Fire Chief W. E. Twitty, Spencer A. Wells, C. A. Burrus, James L. Dow, H. H. Griffith, G. O. Reeves, F. O. Norman, R. F. Cook, Richard Douglas, Tom Jones, and R. G. Wilson.

Organization was completed and officers named to supervise Lubbock's entry into the West Texas baseball league, and check to cover guarantee to the league was to be posted the following weekend. S. D. Hunter was named president of the group, Dr. V. V. Clark was named vice president, Harry Meyers recretary-treasurer, and Homer D. Grant and Boyd Aycock were named directors. Bennie Brownlow was selected as team manager for the club, known then also as the Hubbers.

Mrs. Louie F. Moore was hostess to the Kongenial Kard Klub at a bridge party. Members present were Mesdames Byron Brown, Fred Caylor, Rufus Rush, L. P. Smith, Maple Wilson, Harry Miller and H. L. As Long As I Live

(THE STORY: Ann Bancroft—Mrs. Rush Bancroft — suddenly becomes terrified. Someone has waxed the soles of her new brown pumps. Someone who evidently wants her to slip and fall down the steep staircase at Tophill. Ann discovers the can of wax in her closet. She is so upset she begs off going to the country club with Laurie—her 19-year-old sister—and Rinda (Ann's one-time college roommate, now visiting Tophill), where they are to meet Rush and Tommy, Laurie's fiance. Left alone in the house, Ann's fright increases when she gets a letter from a Mr. Stark about work done on the swinging bridge over the ravine in the garden. The workman writes that the bridge was in perfect condition on May 23. But on May 30 the bridge collapsed, carrying Luke the gardener to his death . . . Ann thinks back to that day, the day of the picnic. She is convinced now it was no accident, that she—and not Luke—was intended to be the victim. Rush phones to find out how she is feeling and the sound of his voice reassures her. But the terror breaks out again when he remarks that her typewriter can't be repaired—it was too badly smashed. This reminds Ann of another incident. She takes two golf balls from her dresser. Now she knows how they were used.)

VIII

IT happened the night after Rinda had come to Tophill.

They had a late dinner that night, after cocktails on the terrace. Laurie put a concert of piano records on the phonograph and they lounged in the living room, coffee at hand, and let the soft music lull them.

But Laurie, as so often happened, got bored and said so in a loud voice. So they turned the music down even lower and began talking, not about anything important, or at least none of it had seemed important until it got around to Ann's and Rinda's college days. At the time, reminiscing seemed the most natural thing in the world and they were both enjoying it throughly until Laurie said, "Wasn't there some scandal the last year you two were in school? It seems to me I remember hearing about it only every time I ever tried to find out any of the details I got put in my place. The implication, I believe, was that I was too young to know. How about giving with it now?"

The music continued in the background. Rinda sipped her coffee and didn't say a word. Ann scowled. She wouldn't have raked up that old story for anything.

Rush changed the subject at once; changed it so quickly and tactfully that Ann knew he had recognized the tension. He talked about the trip he and Ann had taken to Hawaii.

"It's a beautiful spot," Rush said. "We have some pictures—where are they, Ann? Rinda might enjoy seeing them."

"I'll get them," Ann said.

SHE went upstairs, running lightly up the stairs, leaving the others in the living room.

She went to her room, opened the door to the big storage closet, peered up at the shelves. The box was over her head, on the second shelf, but she thought she could reach it. She stretched on tiptoe, felt for the big box, gave it a hard tug.

It was the tug that saved her. The tug threw her off balance so that she fell sideways just as the heavy typewriter came skittering down and crashed on the floor at her feet.

The shock of the crash held her paralyzed for a moment. Rush and Rinda and Laure, with Gay and Tommy bringing up the rear, were in the room before she'd moved or even got her breath.

"Holy cow, angel!" Rush said. "What if it had hit you?"

They all gazed in awe at the smashed machine, at the blue box that had fallen, too, on top of the typewriter. Snapshots were spilled and scattered.

Tommy stooped over and picked up something from the floor. "What're you doing with golf balls in your closet?"

There were two golf balls on the closet floor. Ann couldn't imagine what they were doing in her closet and said so; Rush was the only one at Tophill who played golf and he hadn't had a game yet this year.

"I thought the typewriter was on the next shelf," Ann said irrelevantly. "It seems to me that I remember—" and Rush said, a trifle brusquely, "Let's go downstairs and get you that drink, darling. You look as though you could use it."

IT had been the first attempt to kill her.

Someone had placed the typewriter close to the front of the blue box, then placed the golf balls underneath the machine, towards the back so that the slightest movement would send it forward.

The murderer must have figured she would simply stretch up and tug, she wouldn't see the typewriter. It didn't matter when she did it. That was the beauty of it. It was so simple. There wouldn't even be a question of alibis. If the typewriter had crashed down upon her, who would have supected that it was not just another household accident? And in the confusion the murdered could easily have disposed of the golf balls.

And this someone knew her almost as well as she knew herself. This someone was well aware of her love for orderliness. This someone knew that she took care of their room, Rush's and hers, and that it had been typical of her to go for the box herself.

She heard a familiar sound then, one which she had heard often enough before, one for which she had listened eagerly. An ordinary everyday sound yet it made her shrink back on the chaise, unable to control her trembling. A car had driven into the driveway.

They were back. Rinda and Tommy and Laurie and Rush. Probably they had stopped at the station for Gay and brought her home with them. Once again the cast was complete. The game would begin again. The game of death. Her death. And she did not know what to do.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

HERE is one contest I would like to win myself.

Unfortunately I am not qualified.

To enter this contest you have to be the kid of a soldier.

Well, my father was a soldier, but he wasn't stationed in Texas, and he didn't make any derogatory remarks about the State.

It seems that the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's association resents the fact that men stationed in the Lone Star State during the war have spread some mean stories about it.

BRANDEIS

Of course, all those stories are downright lies, the association says; but it thinks that something should be done about them.

So it makes the following offer to children of soldiers who were stationed in Texas:

Write a letter telling why your daddy was wrong about the great State of Texas. The author of the best letter will get a free trip to Madisonville by air, a week on a Texas ranch and a big barbecue on May 27.

"No strings attached", the announcement adds.

What an opportunity! How I wish I could enter and win that contest!

I don't know exactly where Madisonville is.

In my atlas it is shown somewhere between Fort Worth and Houston. Its population is given as 1,293. But, my atlas being about ten years old, the population is probably closer to 12,000 by now.

I don't think I'll ever forget my last visit to Texas two years ago.

My main stay at the time was in Lubbock, where Charlie Guy, publisher of the Avalanche-Journal, and his friends entertained me as if I were a king—and not an ex-king, mind you.

Then I stopped over in Amarillo for a little while, and again they made me feel like somebody extremely important.

Ever since then I have been homesick for Texas. That goshdarn state does something to you. It certainly is a terrific tonic to your ego.

I think I am going to Texas, at that, some time this year.

Would you believe it, I have never been in Fort Worth and that other town about thirty miles away, whose name I can't mention any more than a radio-performer on CBS mentions NBC.

BUT I want to see Fort Worth.

The reason is that the Fort Worth Star-Telegram just recently started to run my column, and after having heard Jimmy North, its editor, talking about his town, I want to see for myself whether any city on earth can really be as good and as beautiful and progressive as he says it is.

And believe me, Fort Worth will have to go some to approach Lubbock!

But all kidding aside. If all the people in this country had the intestinal fortitude (I know a shorter word for that) and the civic pride and the optimism of the Texans I have met—there would be another war for us.

No nation on earth would dare to fight an America made up of Texans.

FDR FAMILY WATCHED

HST Needs Backing

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Truman's virtual abandonment of every major Roosevelt policy has raised the question among anxious Democratic leaders as to whether the majority of the late Chief Executive's family will give active support to the Administration in the forthcoming campaign. They are especially concerned over the attitude of Eleanor Roosevelt, Franklin and Anna Roosevelt Boettiger.

TUCKER

As head of the California Democratic organization, James Roosevelt is counted on to support Mr. Truman without question. He must stand by because any defection would crimp his supposed ambition to follow in his father's footsteps sooner or later.

Indeed, he brought joy to the Truman camp with his recent assertion that "Henry Wallace wouldn't know any of father's policy if he met it on the street."

BACKING: Nevertheless, the open and enthusiastic backing of the other members of the Hyde Park household, especially Mrs. Roosevelt's, is wanted. She still makes an appeal to civic, feminine and industrial elements, according to all reports.

Franklin carries some weight with the World War II veterans, who have lately been critical of certain Truman policies. One wing has indicated an interest in Mr. Wallace. (Franklin joined another Roosevelt son, Elliott, in urging backing for Gen. Eisenhower as the Demo nominee over the past weekend. Mrs. Roosevelt, just before leaving for Europe, explained however that she was not taking part in partisan politics because of her connection with the United Nations and that her children were entitled to their own decisions.)

If Mrs. Roosevelt were a vengeful person, it is probable that she would foreswear political activity in 1948. President Truman and her husband were never close friends. Mr. Truman has fired numerous of her favorites from the government, besides repudiating most of her late husband's basic policies. So far she has given the White House no intimation of her future plans.

BREAKAWAY: The full extent of President Truman's breakaway from his distinguished predecessor's program was not appreciated until his board of strategy recently made an inventory of his liabilities and assets on the eve of the 1948 battle. It was only then that they sensed their lack of issues and arguments for winning Rooseveltian admirers, who might otherwise vote for Mr. Wallace or stay at home if they could not stomach the Republican nominee.

Mr. Truman's foreign policy bears no resemblance to F.D.R.'s. The United States is virtually at war with the Russia which, Mr. Roosevelt assured us, would always be our ally.

We have taken a run-out powder on Palestine, despite F.D.R.'s reiterations that this country would eventually make it a homeland for the Jews. In many ways the Administration has bypassed the United Nations, which Mr. Roosevelt helped to create, and which Mrs. Roosevelt serves as the American delegate.

LABOR: Mr. Truman has cracked down on labor—the trainmen and the coal miners—as F.D.R. never would have done. The President did veto the Hartley-Taft Act, but he made no effort to round up supporting votes on Capitol Hill. He has appointed to high place men who have no sympathy with New Deal theories of centralization, regimentation and bureaucratic control.

He has displaced so many firm Rooseveltians that it is almost impossible to list them all. But a few who come to mind are James F. Byrnes, Wallace, Harold L. Ickes, Dr. Thomas Parran, Frances Perkins, Henry Morgenthau, James Landis, Paul Porter, Leon Henderson and many minor but important figures. Among others scheduled to walk the plank, it is said, are Education Commissioner John W. Studebaker and Social Security Administrator Arthur J. Altmeyer.

FLEXIBILITY: Although the recent military conferences at Key West were highly productive of agreements on many borderline disputes, Secretary Forrestal has had to forward several disagreements to the White House for final settlement, to wit:

The newly enfranchised Air Force is feeling its oats. It would like to restrict the Navy air arm's bombing operations to those required solely for naval purposes. Carrier-launched planes would merely provide cover for naval landings or sea battles. The Navy insists that its carrier planes should be used for inland bombardment, where feasible, as it probably would be against Russia under certain circumstances.

The Army wants a small Marine force that will be confined to minor amphibious operations in conjunction with naval missions. This would probably limit use of the Marines to the Pacific area, where islands figure so largely in large-scale warfare.

It is believed that President Truman, although an Army alumnus, will decide in favor of the Navy and Marines on both counts. He has generally advocated the utmost flexibility in our various branches of national defense.

Incidentally, the Key West conferees' final check showed that the U. S. can draw on 2,156,000 National Guard and Reserve personnel, in addition to the 1,392,000 now under arms, in the event of conflict.

REFUSES: "I cannot understand," writes R.A.S. of Brooklyn, "why the Truman Administration treats Dictator Peron so generously and tenderly. He is still trying, as I understand it, to make Argentina a center of anti-American influence, and refuses to cooperate with us for world restoration or hemispheric solidarity."

Answer: Many other people, including high officials and members of Congress at Washington, are puzzled by this Polito-diplomatic phenomenon. Peron is still as hostile toward us as ever. He refused to join the wheat pool under which the grain-growing nations will ship 500,000,000 bushels annually at a maximum of $2.50 a bushel and a minimum of $1.50.

He is paying about a dollar for Argentina wheat, and selling it to a needy world, when he can, for $4.50 a bushel. Yet he demands special favors and prices on shipments of machinery and industrial equipment from this country.

He still houses many influential Nazis who were branded as enemies by our government during both world wars. By withholding credits and food from other South American nations, he aims to force them to let him control the export of their natural resources, so that he can levy excessive tribute.

* * *

EXPLANATION: The only explanation for softening of our policy in view of these circumstances, is that Washington feels the need of South American friendship and cooperation in these troublesome days and will make any sacrifice to attain it. The Administration hopes to prevent a further breakdown of the "good neighbor" policy, which has been heading for the rocks.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Some Opinions From Readers

EDITOR, The Morning Avalanche: Some 24 or 25 years ago I was living at 1320 Avenue Q and was then obsessed with the idea that the avenue should have a name more in keeping with its importance. Speaking to the then mayor of the city, the late Percy Spencer, on the matter, I suggested the name Grand avenue be given, pointing out that it was a north and south street 100 feet wide, and that many cities had a Grand street or avenue.

Mr. Spencer was unimpressed, was indifferent to the proposal, and I did not then nor thereafter mention the subject to anyone else. Now since moving from the location, no one can accuse me of having a personal interest in the matter and in bringing it to the public attention at this time.

Avenue Q is indeed a Grand avenue and worthy of a better name than prosaic Q, being three miles long and a hundred feet wide now, and having many fine business and commercial establishments as well as splendid homes. It would do no harm to anyone to change the name of this beautiful street to one more in keeping with its position and standing.

Property owners of Avenue Q, what do you think of the proposition? Will someone carry on from here?

Yours very truly,
A. B. Ellis,
Lubbock.

DRUNK DRIVING

EDITOR, The Avalanche: I agree on your ideas about traffic being dangerous.

I have also wondered why many times the same offenders are given so many suspended sentences and a small fine for drunk driving. I am not a person who likes to see anyone punished, but people who insist on "drink-and-drive" are a menace to our social society. Even if it be my husband or brother, I'm convinced we should make "drink-and-drive" a penal offense.

I have been almost scared out of my wits on many occasions from contact of drinkers. How would the smart alec who is driving around about three-fourths shot feel if an officer tapped him on the shoulder and said, "Come go with me and cool your heels about three months in the clink." I'll bet, if we as citizens, who care for our lives and those of our fellow man, would help put a law of this sort into effect it would most assuredly have its pleasing effects!

The trouble is, most everyone would be guilty at some time or other. For instance, at Christmas most of us drink eggnog, but lest we forget—home is the place for eggnog.

To willfully kill a person is a crime. Drinkers, willfully drink the "devil's folly" then go out driving—even if the drive is only three blocks. It is a wonder we aren't all smacked! On Christmas we used to do the same way. Now that I am older (31) I want to live to be 60 at least. I am afraid to go anywhere on Christmas Eve for fear of a fatal accident.

This sort of law would be difficult to pass, but if the churches are in favor of safety, why wouldn't they, and every civic-minded person, endorse this?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Paul Brasfield,
Slaton.

BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

EDITOR, The Morning Avalanche: I am enclosing some clippings from the Pathfinder and one from The Avalanche-Journal of recent date. They all have to do with the court fight and rulings concerning religious instruction in public schools, brought about by Mrs. Vashti McCollum, who is a self-styled atheist.

I have been greatly disturbed about this business since I read Article I, June 25, 1945.

I know you are a busy man, but I know, too, you are a just man. I suspect Communism is behind the whole scheme, for Communism is the greatest foe of Christian religion. Then why does our Supreme court and other courts, as well as our edcuational systems, and our nation as a whole, allow such self-styled atheists to teach or usurp authority over any body of students in any university or school of any kind in this America of ours?

Our form of government was founded upon the rock of religious principles. As long as it is only the Bible (religious history) and not denominational, it should be taught everywhere in America. I believe the matter described in the enclosed articles should be put before proper authorities to investigate the motives of this woman. It is a fight against our religious freedom in all America.

God help us in these perilous times.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. M. Lynch,
Shallowater.

THIEVES CLEAN UP

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—Thieves broke into the garage of a trucking firm, stripped trucks of tires and rims valued at $2,200 and stole tools and office equipment valued at $1,000. Then they loaded their loot on a company truck worth $3,500 and drove away, undetected.

Lamb chops may be pan broiled. To do so heat a heavy skillet until it is sizzling hot; then, using a piece of suet or a fork, grease the skillet well to keep the chops from sticking. Place the chops in the hot greased skillet and cook on each side until done.

Wall Street

MARKET STAGES GOOD RALLY
NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The stock market today took the Wall Street strike in stride and enjoyed one of its best recoveries of the past two weeks.

Prices began to stiffen and activity quickened around midday. From then on the move was upward. Gains ran to 2 points or so at the close with a few wider climbers in evidence.

Volume was 1,060,000 shares compared with 760,000 Monday.

Buying again was attributed principally to inflationary psychology stemming partly from the outlook for big rearmament spending and passage of the European relief program.

Many skeptics held aloof or trimmed accounts.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .6 of a point at 64.4, a peak since last January. Of 986 issues registering, 588 rose and 202 fell.

Superior Oil of Calif. was the day's broadest jumper, up 22 points at 185, a new high.

American Tobacco common and "B" came back substantially after their recent tumble.

At tops for the year or longer with gains of 1 to 2 points or better were Paramount Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox, Loew's and Mission Corp.

Stumblers included Graham-Paige, Caterpillar Tractor, Kennecott, U. S. Gypsum, and United Air Lines.

Bonds were relatively steady.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, March 30 (AP) — Cotton futures moved irregularly in moderately active dealings today. Rallying tendencies were discouraged by commission house profit taking. Old crop deliveries held firm on trade buying, although covering against export sales by leading spot firms was much smaller than in Monday's trading. The decision of the house foreign affairs committee to include Spain in the foreign aid program accounted for some buying in the new crop month since traders felt that country urgently needs cotton. The Department of Agriculture urged prompt congressional approval of the $150,000,000 revolving fund for purchase of cotton and other commodities.

Futures closed 25 cents a bale higher to 25 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, March 30 (AP)—Fluctuations were irregular in cotton futures here today, the near months being supported by trade buying while distant positons were under the influence of long liquidation.

Closing prices were steady 55 cents a bale higher to 35 cents lower.

AVERAGE PRICE
NEW ORLEANS, March 30. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 5 cents a bale higher at 35.31 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 33.84; middling 15/16ths-inch average 33.08.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—Price changes were small in the grain future pits at the board of trade today. Grains opened generally lower, and prices drifted downward until there were indications that the government had purchased some cash wheat.

The Commodity Credit corporation was credited with purchase of 500,000 bushels at Kansas City during the morning. This lifted wheat prices above yesterday's closing level, but selling pressure was encountered on the advance.

Trading interest in corn was light, and only limited demand for oats was uncovered.

At the close wheat was ¼ higher to 1¾ lower, May $2.43½-¾, corn was 1 cent to 2 cents lower, May $2.18¼-18, oats were ¾ higher to ¾ lower, May $1.09⅝-½.

Two Groups Of Demo Leaders In State Set For Showdown Fight

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 30—Two factions of Texas Democrats today were digging in for a finish fight at the May 25 state presidential convention.

Two days after pro-Truman Democrats announced plans for a statewide campaign to buck Gov. Beauford H. Jester's proposal for an uninstructed Texas delegation, the Jester forces fired back.

Jester called a conference of topflight state party leaders and included key figures in the newly-organized association of county Democratic chairmen.

Harmony Is Asked

After a session in the governor's office, the group issued a statement calling on party members to forget past differences and unite behind an uninstructed delegation.

Gov. Jester said later that two years ago the majority of Texas Democrats were middle-of-the-roaders. Jester has said the moderate course this year is to send an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

The meeting called by Jester was given added significance by the presence of the leaders of the organization of county chairmen. They were Arthur Stevenson of Dallas, president of the Texas Association of County chairmen, and Dury L. Helm, of Clifton, executive secretary.

Also present were Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, chairman of the State Democratic executive committee; Mrs. R. A. Thompson of Goliad, vice-chairman; Jimmie Brinkley of Houston, president of the state Young Democrats.

County Officials Praised

Jester issued a statement commending the state's 254 county chairmen and the 7,000 precinct chairmen for their outstanding work in the past as "trustees of Democracy."

County and precinct chairmen have complained they did not have enough voice in party affairs. They run the elections but they are not often called into strategy meetings of the state organization.

The harmony appeal followed a declaration of war Saturday by the pro-Truman Democrats. Many of them were leaders in the pro-Roosevelt fight in 1944. They plan to open a statewide headquarters and likewise will pitch their campaign on the precinct level.

Precinct conventions will be held May 1. They determine the make-up of the county conventions, which in turn send delegations to the May state convention. Whoever gains control of the precincts likely will run the state session.

The fight this year centers on President Truman's civil rights proposals. The Jester group opposes federal legislation along these lines. The pro-Truman group announced they favor the civil rights program on a legal level.

KING BRUCE DIDN'T GIVE UP

King Bruce of Scotland, after many successive defeats, sat alone in his cave, greatly discouraged. He watched a spider trying to climb the wall of the cave. The spider had climbed six times, but each time had fallen before reaching the top. The seventh attempt was successful. Bruce took courage from this, went to battle the next day and won.

So, if you are one of those people who have tried unsuccessfully to obtain the medicine you may need, Mertox Compound may be the answer.

This great medicine has been endorsed by hundreds of Texas people. Here is what Mrs. J. S. Bell of Dallas wrote us:

"For the past seven years I have been in a weak, rundown condition. I was troubled with gas and bloat to such an extent that the pain and misery seemed unbearable at times.

"I had very bad dizzy spells, some absolutely blinding me for a spell. I have even passed out at times after eating certain foods.

"I have had pains and aches all over my body. My bowels were very irregular and caused me no end of misery.

"It just seemed that everything was the matter with me. I have tried dozens of methods of relief in the past seven years, but I honestly never knew what real relief could be until I tried that wonderful medicine, Mertox Compound. Why, I couldn't eat anything without it souring on my stomach. Now I can eat absolutely anything. I couldn't walk four blocks without tiring myself terribly. Now I would rather walk than ride. I eat and sleep much better and I have gained 12 pounds in the past three weeks."

The above is just one of the many endorsements we have received for this splendid general tonic.

physical requirements of the present courthouse are greatly insufficient to care for the needs of the county.

If the court decided now is the time for construction, the preliminaries of issuing the latest installment of bonds would be expected to be slightly more than routine. The entire bond issue has been passed on by bond attorneys in Chicago and by the Texas attorney general, as to legality. The latest installment would be referred to them for approval again. It is possible that the bonds could be printed, delivered and be paid for by May 10, if machinery were to be set in immediate motion, it was understood.

Mexico Expected To Produce More Wheat This Crop Year

MEXICO CITY, March 30 (U.P.)—Mexico will produce 110,000 tons more of wheat in the current crop year than in the 1946-'47 crop year when production totalled 360,000 tons, Secretary of Agriculture Nazario Ortiz Garza announced today.

He said the anticipated production increase of approximately 35 per cent is a result of President Miguel Aleman's program of agricultural expansion. Ortiz Garza said it was hoped that within three years Mexico will produce enough to meet its own requirements.
