Task force aiming at drug, alcohol prevention

Following the nationwide broadcast of the "The Chemical People" and two community meetings here, a Drug and Alcohol Abuse Task Force has been organized for Scurry County.

Both the television production and local gatherings were designed to focus on drug and alcohol-related problems among school age children both across the U.S. and in the respective communities. Part of the message in these programs was to urge the organization of such local groups.

"Our goal is to curtail school age chemical abuse through a unified community effort," said Sue Smith, elected as the task force's first president. She said the two local town meetings have pinpointed alcohol-abuse as a growing problem among Scurry County's youth.

Other officers elected include Keith Glaze, vice president; Linda Cheek, secretary; and Charlie Rico, treasurer.

The group now plans weekly meetings with the next scheduled Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the junior high.

This program will deal with how parents may identify drug- paraphernalia, a warning sign of drug use.

Such task force organizations across the country are to address five specific areas.

—Information: to include publicity and workshops on the drug and alcohol problems.

—Prevention: involving programs in schools warning of these dangers.

—Intervention: such as the organization of parent-student self help groups, parent telephone networks and drug use early warning advice.

—Advocacy: for communication with local law enforcement and governmental agencies for legislation review and enforcment of drug and alcohol-related laws.

—Fund raising: described by local volunteers as basically covering such expenses as postage, phone service and advertising.

Participants in this week's "The Chemical People" discussion group were Glaze, also an organizer of the Scurry County Parent's Association, designed to aid parents with problem children; Don Cheek, former Snyder police officer; high school students Toby Hinshaw and Patrice Davis, County Sheriff Keith Collier and Snyder Police Detective Jerry Morgan.

Inaugural class meets...

Leader group begins classes

The inaugural class meeting for "Century II: Leadership Scurry County" was conducted Thursday, the first of seven monthly gatherings planned for the new project.

It is sponsored through Western Texas College and the Snyder Chamber of Commerce and is designed to both identify leadership for the county and pinpoint areas for future planning here.

Dr. James Palmer, division chairman for social science at WTC, is class instructor. Guest lecturers at Thursday's session were members of the WTC faculty to include: Mike Otto, discussing the geological setting of Scurry County; Dr. Frank Pruitt and Dr. Harry Krenek, discussing the county's historical background; Dr. Joe Reaves, discussing time management; and Dr. Gil Fleer, discussing the qualities of effective leadership.

The next meeting will be Dec. 8. with the class to focus on Snyder's city government.

The first 15 members of the class — with additional classes planned yearly — are: Rodger Sullenger, Roy Rosson, Troy Williamson, James Tully, Wayne Hoskins, Don Cheek, Ronald Hines, Bruce Erratt, Shannon Shane, Darlene Robbins, Murray Anne Ray, Diana Allen, Gloria Shaw, Kami Greif and Eunice Irwin.

Winds up visit to Japan...

South Korea next stop for Reagan

TOKYO (AP) — President Reagan, winding up a three-day visit of pomp and blunt talk in Japan, is heading for South Korea, where 100,000 security agents are on alert to protect him against the kind of terrorism that recently decimated the senior ranks of that nation's ruling regime.

Secretary of State George P. Shultz said today that South Korea, where the president and Mrs. Reagan will spend two days beginning Saturday, "is very much an area where you feel the tension. Korea is a tense place right now with these murders."

In Seoul, the security-conscious capital that will be Reagan's next stop just 30 miles south of the border with North Korea, U.S. and South Korean flags already line the streets to celebrate the Americans' arrival. But police and military forces are on full alert, as they have been since a terrorist bomb killed 17 top South Korean government officials, including four cabinet ministers, and narrowly missed President and Mrs. Chun Doo-hwan during a visit to Burma on Oct. 9.

Sporadic anti-government and anti-Reagan demonstrations by several hundred students were reported on the campuses of three Seoul universities today. But students said reinforced police units, some using tear gas and riot control agents, moved in swiftly to break up the protests before they could gain momentum.

Calling for broad international backing for South Korea, Shultz said: "Obviously, we don't want to see a war on the (Korean) peninsula. We want to see restraint. But we also want to see South Korea supported."

Shultz pointed out in a brief news conference in Tokyo this evening that the U.S.-Korean security relationship is vital and said any comments the president makes about human rights in Korea would be made in private discussions with President Chun.

Another senior administration official, in a discussion of torture in South Korea, said that when "you live in artillery range of the enemy and where they constantly come through tunnels or in other manifistations make clear their antagonism to you," there is a need for "a higher level of discipline than in other more tranquil areas."

This official, who spoke on the condition that he not be further identified, added that "a clear and present danger" justifies this "higher level of discipline."

He also emphasized the progress of democracy in South Korea, where Chun came to power after President Park Chung-hee was assassinated, and said the nation was "a democratic country with some considerable promise politically and economically, a model for developing countries throughout the world."

Another senior administration official, briefing reporters on the upcoming trip on condition he not be named, said: "We will talk very bluntly ... in private" about institutionalizing democracy in South Korea.

"While there's room for a lot of improvement," the source said, "the trend is in the right direction."

Foilage cleanup planned

After Nov. 21, city crews are to begin efforts to trim back trees and shrubbery currently obstructing city traffic signs.

In addition, foilage will be trimmed which encroaches on city right of way property.

Local property owners are encouraged to trim such trees and shrubs of their own initiative prior to the 21st.

The trimming will be undertaken primarily as a safety measure, city officials say. In particular, the effort is aimed at low hanging tree branches which either obstruct traffic signs or the view of oncoming traffic.

Guilty pleas end criminal charges

Four defendants — including a man charged with the armed robbery of Stinson's Drug last August — entered guilty pleas Thursday in Scurry County's 132nd District Court.

Gary Mark Rhodes, indicted by the September session of the Scurry County grand jury for the Aug. 5 drug store robbery, pleaded guilty to those charges.

He was sentenced to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections for the offense.

The other three defendants — linked to two felony cases here — entered guilty pleas and were assessed probated prison terms.

Teresa Marie and Robbie Lee Nolan, charged with burglary of a vehicle in connection with an October incident here, were both placed on felony probation for a period of two years.

Adam Rodriquez Sosa, indicted for felony DWI by the November grand jury, also received a two-year probated sentence after pleading guilty to the charge.

'Texas' featured in entertainment

The entertainment "Texas: Tunes, Talents and Tall Tales!" will be presented on the campus of Western Texas College Saturday beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The event will mark the opening of the new season for the Fine Arts Association at WTC and will be staged in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

Featured will be Margaretta Bolding of Houston, accompanied by mezzo soprano Elizabeth Real of Kerrville and Lee LaForge, a popular Houston pianist. The program is billed as a lighthearted look at the Lone Star state.

Members of the association will be admitted by showing their membership cards, which may be loaned also. Tickets will be on sale at the door as well. They are $6 for adults and $3 for children.

Advance reservations may be made by calling 573-8511, ext. 234.

New city system changes numbers

The installation of a new telephone system at Snyder City Hall has prompted the changing of several key numbers there.

City officials note the changes affect only city hall. The telephone numbers for police and fire calls remain the same.

New telephone numbers now in effect are:

—573-4957: the main city hall number. This is a rotary number and other departments can be reached as well.

—573-4959: new number for the city engineering department.

—573-4969: new number for the city water department.

—573-9361: new number for the city accounting department.

Ask Us

Q. — Are there plans to add more channels to the SCAT cable TV system?

A. — Yes. SCAT officials say there is currently one channel space not used with an addition to be added soon. Sometime within the next year, adding several more channels is planned — a change that will likely entail the switching of converter boxes used with the "premium" service which includes additional channels above the "base" service.

In Brief

U. S. jets resume overflight

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — U.S. jets flew low over Beirut in reconnaissance runs this morning, a day after a similar mission drew groundfire from Syrian-held territory. Two radio stations said Syrian gunners fired at the planes again today.

In northern Lebanon, meanwhile, Palestine Liberation Organization chairman Yasser Arafat's besieged loyalists were reported trading sporadic artillery fire with Syrian-backed rebels around the port city of Tripoli.

Beirut residents saw U.S. F-14 Tomcat interceptors swoop over the capital and surrounding hills at 6:30 a.m. and then veer westward and fly back toward the sea.

The Voice of Lebanon and Voice of Free Lebanon radio stations of the rightist Christian Phalange party said Syrian gunners fired at the F-14s from mountaintop positions in central Lebanon. The claim could not be officially or independently verified.

School burglary reported

A break-in at Snyder High School was reported to police Thursday.

Principal Ray Courtney noted the incident around 9:35 a.m. He told investigators that the Science Building at Snyder High School had apparently been burglarized sometime Wednesday night.

Reports indicate entry to the building was gained through a window which had been broken out. Nothing was reported missing as of Friday morning.

Bills session at hospital

The board of managers for Cogdell Memorial Hospital were to meet Friday for their monthly meeting related to payment of bills at the facility.

The session was to be preceded by a noon meal in the hospital conference room.

Three agencies to benefit

Members of the Stanfield Elementary School Parent Council have come to the aid of three Scurry County organizations with contributions derived from their recent Halloween Carnival.

These include the Scurry County United Way, the Snyder Jaycees Girl Scout Hut Building Fund and local Boy Scout Troop 177.

Some monies raised at the carnival will go toward support of specific projects at Stanfield Elementary such as the Fabulous Fridays program.

Chairmen for the carnival were Rhonda Roberson and Ralphene Canon.

Turkey walk is Saturday

The annual Turkey Walk to raise funds for the American Heart Association begins here Saturday at 9 a.m.

A 10-mile course has been plotted for participants, who will be receiving pledge funds based upon the number of miles they complete.

Both the start and the finish are planned in front of the Snyder Junior High School building. The general route followed by the walkers will be west of the city along West 30th and 37th Streets.

Two rest stops are also scheduled along the route. Participants are expected to complete their miles around 1 p.m.

FBI investigating Geter case

DALLAS (AP) — An FBI agent says the agency is conducting a "fact-finding" investigation into the case of Lenell Geter, a young, black engineer sentenced to life in prison in the robbery of a fast-food restaurant last year.

Geter's former roommate, Anthony Williams, was acquitted Tuesday of a robbing a convenience store of $31. The two had moved to Greenville, Texas, from South Carolina last year to work as engineers for E-Systems, Inc.

Their cases gained national attention because of allegations the charges against the two men were racially motivated.

Williams, 25, says he hopes his acquittal will help free Geter, 26, whose case is on appeal.

"I hate to think about Lenell. It makes me sad," said Williams. "But I can't forget about him. It's like, 'Now that Anthony's free, why can't Lenell be free?' I'm hoping my trial will help free him."

Woody Specht, a special agent for the FBI in Dallas, said Thursday that an investigation is being conducted into Geter's case, but would not comment specifically on it.

"It does concern the Lenell Geter case," Specht said. "We can't say who the subjects are. No formal charges have been filed. We obtained certain facts and we are forwarding that information to the Justice Department."

During the sentencing phase of Geter's trial, Greenville police Lt. James Fortenberry testified that Geter was a suspect in more than a dozen crimes in South Carolina, He said he learned that Geter was a suspect from J. Edward Darnell, a Bamberg County, S.C., sheriff. Fortenberry testified that Darnell told him Geter was "a bad character."

But Darnell testified at a post-trial hearing that Fortenberry might have misinterpreted their conversation about another man and said he did not know Geter.

Edward Sigel, a Dallas attorney who represented both men, said the FBI last week requested transcripts from Geter's trial and "zeroed in on the Fortenberry-Darnell testimony."

Sigel filed a motion Wednesday asking an appeals court to consider testimony from Williams' case when it reviews Geter's conviction. Sigel said evidence in Williams' trial "is highly material" to Geter's case.

The two men were at one time considered accomplices by Greenville police, though they were charged in separate robberies.

Their pictures were circulated among robbery victims, and in each of the two cases, they were identified as the respective culprits.

Sigel's motion asks the appeals court to review the testimony of 24 witnesses from Williams' trial and 14 witnesses from the pretrial hearing.

The Texas 5th District Court of Appeals, based in Dallas, did not immediately rule on Sigel's motion.

Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade has said Geter's and Williams' cases are "not really connected" and has rejected requests to re-try Geter.

District Judge Herbert Line of Texarkana, who presided over Geter's trial, declined to say whether he will consider granting Geter a new trial.

Geter was convicted in October 1982 of robbing a Balch Springs restaurant. At his trial, five eyewitnesses identified him as the Balch Springs robber. Nine co-workers from E-Systems testified he was at work the day the robbery occurred, but none could account for his whereabouts at the exact hour of the crime.

After a Dallas jury sentenced him to life in prison, civil rights groups claimed Geter was a victim of racism and misidentification.

Williams was arrested one day after Geter and charged with robbing a Garland convenience store clerk. Jurors who found Williams innocent agreed that the clerk who had picked Williams out of a lineup had picked the wrong man.

Williams, who quit his mechanical engineering job with E-Systems in May, said he does not harbor any ill feelings toward the people of Greenville, but his future plans do not include returning there.

He currently lives with his girlfriend in Arlington and is a graduate engineering student at the University of Texas. He also works parttime as draftsman for a construction company.

Williams said he plans to get a master's degree and a Ph.D. in either engineering or physics and will either continue studying in Arlington or at the University of South Carolina.

Missionettes' open house is scheduled November 14

Lighthouse Assembly of God will host an open house at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 14 for its Missionette program.

Missionettes is a Christian club that began in 1956 and is comprised of over 90,000 girls from kindergarten through junior high school.

Missionettes objective is to help girls develop socially, mentally and spiritually.

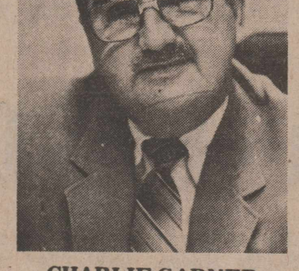

Junior and senior Missionettes enjoy an achievement program called Stairway to the Stars where they receive badges for steps completed. Badges are also awarded for steps like sewing, nature, music, campcraft and many others.

Girls from ages 4-9 also complete steps and receive badges such as sharing, learning, nature and animals, safety and missions.

Missionettes enjoy spring and summer camps, field trips, and learn many things about the community.

Although this club is sponsored by Lighthouse Assembly of God, girls do not have to belong to the church to be a Missionette.

Interested girls may sign up during the open house and parents may visit rooms and talk with sponsors.

CHARLIE GARNER

C. Garner resignation announced

Charlie Garner, minister of the 37th Street Church of Christ for the past 3½ years, has resigned to accept a position with the Winter Garden, Fla. congregation.

Garner, who moved to Snyder from Port Lavaca, said Jan. 22 will be his final day with the Snyder congregation.

Garner said his decision to move was based on his desire to be closer to his aging parents. Winter Garden is a suburb of Orlando where Garner was reared.

Garner moved to Snyder in June, 1980. He has been a full-time minister for 29 years, and he spent six years in the Philippines as a missionary.

Garner has also worked with churches in Michigan, Oregon and West Virginia.

The Garners have four children. Beth is a student at Freed-Hardeman College in Tennessee. One son is a minister in Tennessee. Another son lives in Victoria and a daughter lives in Georgia.

DAVID ROBERTSON

D. Robertson to speak here

The Rev. David H. Robertson, former pastor of First United Methodist Church in Snyder, will return Sunday as guest preacher.

A reception in his honor will be hosted at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Fellowship Hall of the church by the Kum Dubl Sunday School Class.

Robertson served the local church for seven years, from June 1975 to June 1982. His wife, Margie, taught in Snyder Public Schools and their children, Perry, Mark and Lynne, all graduated from Snyder High School.

Paul Harvey

It's Christmas kettle time again.

When the Salvation Army encourages the best in us to remember the least of us.

This is closed circuit for the Army:

Enough of you have trusted Angel and me to know you informally so that we recognize sometimes less than tranquil eyes.

A recruit getting his or her "S's" is filled with determination to change the world — and the world does not change.

The officer gets his or her epaulets hoping to brighten even a corner of it; sometimes feels overwhelmed by the dark.

Also, shouldering the world's problems does not relieve you of your own.

I know.

Disciples since the first have been fallible, distracted. One of the first 12 dropped out.

What battleground was ever without casualties?

The most cynical stand in awe of the enormity of the Army's mission — the logistics — the power and the sums which must surely, sorely tempt.

Yet this commission you have accomplished for a hundred years utterly immaculately.

Yet the Salvation Army is nothing — the Army is impotent — except for you who serve it.

The Army does not move mountains; you do.

Your fair faces are the mirrors in which we less selfless diisciples are challenged to be more than we are.

Yet seldom are.

For all that, comrades in arms, you must do what you must do because without you ... who?

So live the poetry you sing ...

If the world is yet evil and dangerous in spite of you, without you hell would surely overtake us.

Your General Booth once said, "So long as women weep I will fight. For as long as children are hungry and men go to prison and while there is one last girl on a dark street at night — I will fight!"

He said that and did — even after he had lost his sight.

Evangeline Booth, his life-wife, was in a London gutter wiping vomit from the beard of a drunken derelict when a passerby said, "I wouldn't touch that creature for a million dollars."

She said, "Neither would I."

Yet they would agree that sacrifice on the front lines is less heroic than the tedium of a streetcorner in the snow, always cold and often unrewarding.

Yet you sustain them.

Ultimately, up the roa ahead we who complai about all the sin and su fering to which humai flesh is heir are going to be asked, "But what did you do about it?"

I don't know how many of us can handle that. But you will.

Send $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to give your zodiac sign. Mail an additional $1 for your Scorpio Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your tolerance or patience with persons who are not wholly supportive of your opinions may be at a low ebb today. Try to see their points of view.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Do not permit yourself to be pressured by friends today into doing things you cannot afford. You know what your financial limitations are.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be realisitc regarding your goals and objectives today. If they are too impractical, you might end up spinning your wheels.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not be your own worst enemy today. When your better judgment tells you not to do something, avoid going against your own wisdom.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Avoid situations today that could obligate you to others. Your most sensitive area will be in dealing with friends.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be on guard at all times today so that you do not unintentionally offend someone whose cooperation you now need. It could cost you an ally.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be very selective regarding persons you choose today to help you with critical tasks. Avoid those who would rather be a chief than one of the Indians.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) There's a possibilitiy you'll be let down today if you place your faith in somebody who doesn't warrant it. Use your best judgment.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) To maintain harmony on the home front today, you and your mate may have to find a common ground. Be prepared to make some concessions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're the type who goes out of your way to be of service, but today you might look for excuses to dodge being helpful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Unless you are budget-conscious today, there's a strong chance you'll not manage your resources as wisely as you should. Count your pennies.

Klemperer's role changes

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Werner Klemperer, the bumbling Col. Klink in television's "Hogan's Heroes," has a more dignified role these days — as a guest narrator for symphony orchestras.

"I made no switch in my career at all," says the 63-year-old Klemperer, appearing this weekend with the Toledo Symphony. He said it's just another form of acting.

Klemperer, who played the commandant of a prison camp in Nazi Germany that was virtually run by the prisoners, also has appeared as narrator with the Boston Symphony, the Chicago Symphony and the New York Philharmonic. And he performed in a speaking role last year with New York's Metropolitan Opera.

"The musical phase is merely a new dimension," said Klemperer, whose father, Otto, was a famous conductor and whose mother was an opera singer. "To narrate with an orchestra is standing on a platform on a stage and you're performing it."

Cold shooting stalls Western

LAREDO – A fired-up Laredo Junior College team out-distanced Western Texas College here Thursday, 72-56 to hand the Westerners their first defeat of the 1983-84 season.

Western, now 2-1, will play Lon Morris at 6 here tonight as the Laredo Classic continues. Lon Morris lost to Hill Junior College 80-67 Thursday.

"We played real hard, we just didn't shoot the ball well," said Coach Barry Davis, who estimated the team shot "about 35 percent" from the field. "We went across the border yesterday morning, so maybe it was the water," he joked.

"The effort was there, we just didn't put the ball in the hole. Of course, Laredo had a lot to do with that. We're still basically a young team and when you go in and play a top flight bunch like Laredo on their floor, it's tough. They played five sophomores who started last year and you know they were ranked No. 1 for 13 weeks. They lost out to the eventual champion, San Jacinco."

Davis said the score was not an indication of the game.

"It was not a blowout. It was a tough, hard-fought game. I'm sure we'll come back Friday and play a better game."

Fred Johnson and Larry Banks led WTC with 10 points apiece.

HCC tops Dusters

CISCO – Western Texas College's Dusters suffered their first defeat of the 1983-84 season here Thursday, scoring 79 points but giving up 88 in early action of the Cisco Classic.

The Dusters, now 3-1, will play Western Oklahoma at 6 tonight. Cisco defeated Western Oklahoma 85-83 Thursday.

The three-day classic concludes Saturday with Western Oklahoma meeting Henderson at 6 and WTC facing Cisco at 8.

"Henderson was extremely hot from the field. They shot 40 of 80 (50 percent). I thought they would hit a cold streak, but they came out in the second half and picked up right where they left off," said Coach Joe Cushing.

"We hung in there tough. It would have been easy for us to get blown out. Hopefully, we can take it to the gym and learn from it. We hadn't had good workouts before this (the classic) and we were a little complacent, a little flat, I think, because we were 3-0. This brought us back to reality."

Cushing said freshmen Patti Hayes and Renvy Evans had good games, while sophomore Mary Nell Clayton played "a brilliant second half."

Clayton led the Dusters in scoring with 22 points. Hayes and Evans notched 15 points apiece while Lyndy French and Clara Campbell added 7 apiece. Campbell fouled out with 9:24 still left to play. It was the 6-2 freshman's second straight game to foul out early.

Vickie Green chunked in 19 points for Henderson. Derinda Walker and Tanya Brackens had 15 and 12 points apiece.

In Super Bowl II, in 1968, Wes Chandler kicked four field goals and three extra points as Green Bay downed Oakland, 33-14.

SAN ANGELO -- Tonight's 8 o'clock kickoff will mark the final football game for 15 Tiger seniors, as they take the field against Lake View High School here.

Playing for a victory will be Tommy Hunter, Chad Peterson, Norman Malone, Joe Boudreau, Mike Everett, Darren Greenway, Peyton Claxton, David Gandy, Ricky Vaughn, Jeff Minor, DeWayne Williamson, Eddie McClure, Chris Doles, Jeff Sisneros and Richard Wesley.

Almost all of the 15 have a starting role.

The Tigers are still looking for their first win of the season, a goal which Coach George Byerly says is not impossible, but will be very difficult.

Lake View is 8-1 for the season and 5-1 in District 2-4A play. The Chiefs, who defeated the Tigers 21-8 in non-district play earlier this season, boast the district's leading rusher, leading passer, and, not ironically, the top offense. They have already wrapped up the 2-4A runnerup playoff spot.

"I don't think anything is impossible. We're 35-point underdogs and by all the scoring and records, we ought to be. But we are going to play the game and we are going to do our best. They are coming off of a big, emotional win last week (36-34 over Sweetwater), and we have nothing to lose," said Coach George Byerly.

Snyder will start basically the same lineup, except for free safety Charles Bollinger, who suffered a broken ankle in last week's game with Andrews. Quarterback Jimmy Cain will start at the safety spot.

Five of Snyder's 15 seniors accounted for 42 tackles in last week's game. Minor led with 13, followed by Sisneros with 9, McClure with 8, Claxton with 7, junior Paul Thompson with 6 and Hunter with 5.

Cats end season

SWEETWATER -- Snyder eighth graders tied one and lost one here Thursday night.

The B-team lost to Sweetwater 44-0 and ended its season with a 1-5-1 mark.

The A squad tied 8-8 on a Scott Lanier TD run and a conversion pass from Brad Gartman to Trey Tippens.

Lanier and Craig Watkins had both scored twice in Snyder's 30-12 win over Andrews last week.

"Offensively we dominated the football game, we just couldn't get it across the end zone due to our own mistakes and picky calls by the officials," said Coach Roger Goodwin. "We (the eighth grade A-team) ended up with a good season, 5-1-1. Kids that played pretty steady during the year were Scott Lanier, Craig Watkins, Trey Tippens, Daniel Martinez, Thance Springer, Steve Harper, Brad Gartman, Terry Garza, Dan Krenek, Shannon Fontinilla, Bryant Mitchell, Pete Madrid, John Pena, Robbie Jamison, Wade Spencer and John Rawls.

"On the B-team, Van Echols, Jason Polk, Stacy Browning, Roland Romo, Brad Newman, Kenneth McClain, Randy Mallory, Thomas Wesley and Nelson Carthel deserved special recognition for their efforts," said Goodwin, who was aided by a coaching staff of Dale Byrd and Martin Lechuga.

JV clips Chiefs, 22-18

Snyder junior varsity ended its season on a strong note here Thursday, defeating San Angelo Lake View 22-18.

The victory left Snyder 5-5 on the season.

"I was pleased with our overall season. We had some disappointments. There were two or three games where we didn't play well. But the kids learned a lot and improved. We had more players this year than we've had in a while, and I think we established a good, winning foundation," said Coach Robert Crawford. "It helps winning that last game. It's the first time I can remember in a while that a Snyder team beat someone they weren't supposed to beat."

Snyder scored with 26 seconds left in the first quarter when Theron Brown ran over from two yards out. The PAT run failed.

The Cats set up their next touchdown when Mark Daniel intercepted at the Lake View 14-yard line. Patrick Malone ran to the 6 and Reggie Price bulled to the 2 before quarterback Tony Pineda went over from there with 8:58 to go in the half. Brown ran over the conversion, 14-0.

Snyder's final touchdown, in the third quarter, was set up by a James Powell fumble recovery at the Chief 35-yard line. Tim Kershaw put up the points, scoring on a 21-yard run with 6:40 left in the period. Brown ran the PAT and Snyder led 22-0.

Snyder had a chance to put the game away early in the fourth. After a short punt and a 15-yard punt reception interference penalty, the Cats found themselves at the Lake View 29. Kershaw then broke loose on a 25-yard scamper to the 4, but Snyder fumbled on the next play.

Lake View found momentum with the turnover and came back to score on a 2-yard run with 7:34 left. The drive started with a another fumble recovery and was aided by a pass interference call on fourth down. A PAT pass was good, 22-8.

Both teams then exchanged turnovers. Rusty Radican picked off a pass at the Cat 10 yard line. Snyder fumbled it away at the 14, but Juan Benitez in turn fell on a loose Lake View ball at the 9. Lake View held and Snyder took a safety with 23 seconds left, 22-10.

Lake View scored on the last play of the game and completed the PAT to make it a 22-18 final.

"I thought our defense played real well, especially in the first three quarters," said Crawford. "We gave them the opportunity to get fired up with the fumble. Our T-N-T (tackles and noseguard), our ends and our linebackers probably played the best they've played all year. Our secondary played well, but they always will if the guys up front do."

7th graders lose and tie

SWEETWATER -- Snyder seventh grade Black team tied with Sweetwater 0-0 here Thursday.

Outstanding defensive players were Lewis Wesley, Tony Ferrard and Bodie Barnes. On offense was Wesley, who gained over 100 yards.

The Gold team lost 8-6. Outstanding offensively was Jesse Hernandez, who scored on an 8-yard run, Roy Guiterrez, Chet Byerly and Lee Fletcher. On defense were Hernandez and Fletcher.

The Gold team finished the season with a 1-5 mark while the Black was 0-2-4. The White team, which did not play Thursday, was 0-3.

Coaching the seventh were Roland Herrera, Gary Moore and Weldon Parkinson.

"The kids did an outstanding job all year long, despite our records. They look bright for the future," said Herrera. "I think this class will really stay together."

2-4A roundup

It's a David and Goliath kind of matchup as the winless Snyder Tigers try to save some pride by knocking off No. 10 ranked San Angelo Lake View in a predictable but key game Friday night.

Lake View, 5-1 in District 2-4A play, needs a win over Snyder to keep ahead of Pecos record-wise. The Chiefs will be the 2-4A runnerup regardless, since they have already beaten Pecos this season. Pecos, 4-2, entertains Sweetwater.

Meanwhile, loop leader Monahans, the only undefeated 2-4A team with a 6-0 record, has already wrapped up the first representation rights. The only question for the Loboes, who travel to Fort Stockton, is whether they will finish as district champion, or as co-champion with Lake View. Regardless, they will represent 2-4A against the 1-4A runnerup, since they defeated Lake View earlier this season.

In the other 2-4A game Friday, 1-5 Lamesa travels to 2-3-1 Andrews.

Monahans kept its record intact and put Pecos out of the playoffs by beating the Eagles 13-6 last weekend. Lake View, which also benefitted from Pecos' loss, secured its playoff berth by edging Sweetwater, 36-34.

Each of Friday's games have already been played, though in non-district action. Earlier this season, Lake View defeated Snyder 21-8, Sweetwater kicked Pecos 24-0, Fort Stockton nipped Monahans 13-7 and Andrews bombed Lamesa 39-0.

Frosh fall to Stangs

Snyder freshmen lost their final games of the season to Sweetwater here Thursday.

The B team lost 8-6. Snyder's score came on a Mike Kershaw quarterback sneak from one yard out.

"Barry Byrd and Alan Holt ran the ball real well and Brad Gambrell and Steven Mack blocked exceptionally well. The B team played probably its best second half of the year," said Coach Rick Howell.

The A team lost 38-36. Earl Ware ran for one TD and caught scoring passes of 38 and 8 yards from Kyle Guerry. Guerry ran one 17-yard touchdown and passed to Jeff Rose for a conversion. Toby Ubando also had a 7-yard scoring run and a conversion.

"In this game we played as well as we could offensively, and probably as poorly as we have played all year defensively. We simply did not tackle well or play sound defense like we are capable. However, I'm as proud of this team as any I've ever been associated with because we were down so far and came back," said Howell, whose team was down 24-0 early and 32-16 at the half. "Our guys never quit and actually had a chance to win. We ran well, passed well and even recovered an on-side kick. Toby Ubando and Mike long ran real hard. Kyle threw well and had over 200 yards passing. The line obviously blocked well. Earl Ware made some unbelievable catches.

"We are very proud of our freshmen and believe the future is bright because of their character, determination and talent. I feel they will stick together and there will be 30 or more playing and winning as seniors."

Coaching the ninth grade this year were Rick Howell and Bud Birks.

Peanut butter becoming more than a spread

By TOM HOGE
AP Wine & Food Writer

America is a land of peanut munchers who put away 2.35 billion pounds of goobers a year, from fresh roasted to salted, and in many other guises including peanut butter and brittle.

These versatile nuts were brought over from Africa before the Civil War as food for pigs. Soon they were used to make oil and eventually found their way to the tables of the postwar poor who couldn't afford much else.

The peanut came into its own around 1900 when George Washington Carver, famed botanist at Tuskegee Institute, persuaded Southern farmers to plant the nuts in cotton fields where the crop had been destroyed by the bcll weevil.

Carver developed more than 300 uses for peanuts and featured a complete dinner where everything from soup to dessert was made from goobers.

I got my first look at the peanut plantations of the Southland last summer while visiting friends in Georgia and Alabama. In the Alabama community of Eufaula I toured the 3,000-acre spread of W. L. Corcoran, who grows peanuts, soybeans and cotton.

Trudging through dusty fields, I watched a machine cut the taproot of each peanut plant and lift out the nuts, covering an acre in about 30 minutes.

After they are harvested, the nuts are left in the fields for about three days to let the sun dry them. Then a combine plucks them off the vines and dumps them into wagons.

After government inspection, the nuts are graded and sold, usually to commercial buyers. Then they are shelled, skinned and roasted. Most of the nuts grown in Georgia and Alabama are small and are used for peanut butter, which Americans consume to the tune of 600 million pounds a year.

Invented in the late 1800s by a St. Louis physician searching for a health food, this spread contains no cholesterol and runs 95 calories per spoon. It is one of the cheapest protein sources available.

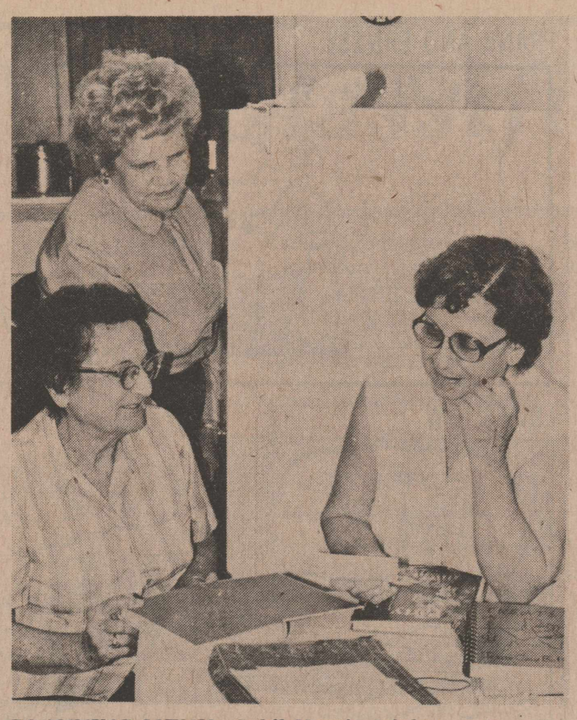

Today, peanut butter has emerged from the lunchbox and is a key ingredient in many main courses of the meal, such as this spiced chicken.

2 cups cooked, shredded chicken
1 cucumber, pared, seeded and sliced
1 scallion, thinly sliced
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 large clove garlic, minced
1-3rd cup creamy peanut butter
3 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1½ tablespoons red wine vinegar
1 tablespoon peanut oil
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
Watercress
2 tablespoons chopped, salted peanuts

In medium bowl, stir together chicken, cucumber, scallion, ginger and garlic, mixing well. In small bowl mix peanut butter, water, soy sauce, vinegar, oil, sugar and hot pepper sauce. Pour sauce over chicken, tossing gently. May be served hot or cold. Serve on watercress and garnished with nuts. Serves 4.

PLANNING MENU—Sybil Harris (right), caterer for Martha Ann Woman's Club, Maxie McNew and Gussie Gray (standing) are finalizing the menu for the chalupa supper to be Saturday beginning at 5 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at First National Bank, MAWC or by calling Lisa Williams at 573-2980. Harrell-Beck Roping Co. has donated beef and proceeds will benefit the American Cancer Society. Emily Hataway will provide music during the supper. Tickets are $5 for adults, $2.50 for children and carry-outs will be 50¢ extra. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Garden Club has program on bulbs

Snyder Garden Club met Nov. 3 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Seventeen members answered roll call with "a bulb I plan to plant."

Tips for having a successful flower show were given by June Boren. The last show at the Scurry County Fair was attended by over 1,000 people she said.

Rosie Floyd, reporting for the MAWC board, announced upcoming events. A chalupa supper will be held Nov. 12 from 5-8 p.m. with the proceeds going to the American Cancer Society. Margaret's Holiday Fashion Show will be Nov. 19 at 11 a.m.

Plans were made for members to help decorate the clubhouse for the holiays the last week of November.

Maggie Best gave an update on the landscaping of the Cornelius-Dodson House. She said Phase I was completed with the recent planting of wildflowers. Jim Wadleigh met with members to plant seeds he had collected near his home.

Annie Mae Sears won a year's subscription to the "National Gardner" by a drawing following tips for flower shows.

Bertha Terry presented the program on planting bulbs. She gave each member several bulbs from her flower garden.

Laverne Hood, Julie Fox, Maggie Best, Jo Ann Nunley and Patsy Huckabee, trustee of Texas Garden Clubs Inc., attended the District VIII meeting in Menard Nov. 7-8.

A workshop to make items for the MAWC Christmas Bazaar will be held at June Boren's Nov. 14. The club's next meeting will be Dec. 1 at MAWC.

Riggins speaks to Altrurians

The Altrurian Daughters Club met Nov. 9 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Christmas gifts for the Veteran's Hospital in Big Spring were collected.

Tim Riggins, representative from Edward D. Jones Investments, presented the program. An interesting discussion prompted questions from a woman's point of view. He suggested that a series of small group meetings for women be announced soon. These meetings are to be educational such as classes being taught now at Western Texas College.

Virginia Sleeper presided for the club business in the absence of Betty Youngkin, president. Lee Falls reported on the current refurbishing plans at MAWC. Altrurian Daughters voted to make a cash contribution for this project.

Nell Green and Hilda McCrary were hostesses for the 19 members present. The next meeting will be the Christmas luncheon Dec. 14.

WEEDERS GUIDE

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

In the so-called "good old days" many materials used for decorations on such holidays as Thanksgiving and Christmas came from nature.

Fields and roadsides can still provide dried plant materials for distinctive decorations, and autumn is an excellent time to gather them. Collect a bit more than you think you'll need because some of it is likely to break during handling or transportation.

Also remember that many of the things you pick up may harbor insects you won't want in your home. Items that are not very flammable may be put into an oven (about 150 degrees F) to kill hiding bugs. Be careful about fire.

Some decorative items should be gathered in summer and fall, dried and saved. Still around, however, are seed pods of milkweed, hibiscus, magnolia, sweet gum and sycamore. Other plants that produce interesting and durable seed pods are lily, oriental poppy, false indigo and yarrow. Many fairly common grasses have usable seed heads.

Of course nuts, acorns and pine cones are commonly used for holiday decorations. You can buy cones and nuts if you haven't time to go hunting.

You'll need wire stems to simplify attaching wreaths and other flowerfield arrangements. To wire some nuts, drill a small hole near the base and run a wire through them. Then bend the wire to form a stem.

To wire acorns, remove the cups from the base, drill a hole through the base of the acorn and center of the cup base. Run a wire through the hole in the nut, bend it down, then run it through the hole in the cup.

Some nuts or acorns may be glued to frames if stems are not needed. Garden shops sell frames.

For direct gluing of dried materials you can use heavy cardboard or wood frames using sticky florist clays or a glue gun. Wire frames also are available.

Use of wire also facilitates attaching dried grasses, leaves, cones and other dried materials. To wire cones, slip the wire between the scales near the base so they are hidden from view and encircle the cone. Cones may be cut into sections to form rosettes.

Floral arrangements add to the bountiful Thanksgiving fest. Long-lasting chrysanthemums are still plentiful in many areas. Fruit, native or otherwise, adds to the festive air and colored gourds provide a nice touch.

Dried ears of corn are a reminder of the harvest and so is squash. How about a pineapple adorned with a candle?

Table centerpieces of fresh fruit and vegetables stem from colonial days when fresh flowers were not available so late in the season.

Even a bowl of red and yellow apples, oranges, grapes and bananas will brighten the table, replenished as they disappear.

Dry material arrangements will last for weeks — into the Christmas season.

Why not an arrangement of cut flowers? They will need a bit of special treatment to prolong their lives. They can suffer even in short transit from the florist's to the house, losing water en route. Small air bubbles may be pulled into the stems as this happens. These can generally be eliminated by cutting off 1 to 2 inches from the stem bottom just before hardening by putting them into lukewarm water, a flower preservative and a cool location.

Preservatives contain sugar, an acidifier and a bacteriacide. A homemade preservative: to a quart of water, add 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon antiseptic mouthwash and 3 or 4 drops of a liquid dish detergent. As the water level drops, add preservative. Keep in a cool place until flowers are crisp, then arrange. Keep them out of sunlight.

A moveable feast

VENICE (AP) — What may be one of the world's most lavish and expensive dinners was served on a railroad here recently.

To commemorate the 100th birthday of the Venice Simplon Orient-Express on Oct. 4, 140 passengers paid some $2,000 each to drink vintage champagne and dine on haute cuisine recreated from menus on the first Orient-Express run.

The passengers, who traveled from London, through Paris and the Swiss Alps, to Venice, toasted a tribute to George Nagelmackers of Belgium, who launched the fabled train in the style of a grand hotel a century ago.

The train, refurbished at a cost of $23 million, was re-born in May 1982 as the Venice Simplon Orient-Express.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

It was the final match in the 1983 Grand National Teams.

At both tables South opened one club, North responded one heart, South bid two clubs and after West and North had passed, East reopened with a takeout double. Both Souths redoubled, both Wests and Norths passed and at one table East decided to pass also since his partnership agreement was that West's pass was for penalty.

The jack of spades was opened and won in dummy. The jack of diamonds was led and covered by the king and ace. The ace of spades and Q-10 of diamonds were cashed and the six of diamonds ruffed by dummy's nine of trumps. Six tricks to South as a starter.

A low heart was led and won by West, but South was now sure of four trump tricks to make his redoubled contract with two overtricks and a plus score of 1510 points.

A small club lead by West would have held South to just one overtrick, but an 1110-point minus against a part score is unfortunate indeed and an example of "Live by the sword, die by the sword."

East could have passed to two clubs, but in high-level IMP competition the tendency is to compete whenever possible, as evidenced by the fact that the other East doubled also.

The other South also redoubled, but that East couldn't stand the pressure and eventually his side got off the hook for a mere 200-point loss and a big profit on the hand.

"Out there by the bird feeder — is that a junko or a junkie?"

H. Lucas wants to be with dead girl

DENTON, Texas (AP) — Henry Lee Lucas, sentenced to life in prison for fatally stabbing his teen-age traveling companion with a butcher knife, says he will "probably" plead guilty to other murders and wants the death penalty so he can "be with" the girl he killed.

Lucas was given the maximum sentence Thursday in the first trial arising from his claim that he killed 165 people while hitch-hiking back and forth across the country.

While leaving the courthouse, the 47-year-old Lucas said he "expected life all along" for his conviction of the stabbing death of 15-year-old Frieda "Becky" Powell.

A note Lucas wrote to Tom Whitlock, his court-appointed attorney, said, "I will get either 75 years or life, which I don't care because I have already gave myself death. God can give a person like me a pardon of sin and He has promised to do so. I know I will be with Becky."

As he was escorted out of the courthouse, he said, "Death — that's what I've asked for. I'm going to get it."

Asked if that meant he planned to plead guilty to some of the other murders with which he is charged, Lucas said "probably."

Lucas has been charged in eight other Texas slayings, including four capital murder charges that carry a possible penalty of death by injection. His next trial will be in Georgetown, near Austin, either in December or October, prosecutors said.

Lucas is charged there with the strangling death of a young, unidentified woman whose body was found near Interstate 35 in 1979. He was taken to Georgetown soon after his sentencing here.

Earlier this year Lucas pleaded guilty to the 1982 slaying 80-year-old Kate Rich in Ringgold. Ms. Rich's bones were found in Lucas' wood-buring stove. He was sentenced to 75 years in prison, but has since requested a new trial.

The Denton County jury deliberated nearly three hours before announcing its sentence. Lucas shook hands with prosecutor Jerry Cobb and told the Denton County district attorney he had "done a good job."

In a hand-written statement addressed to "members of the press" Lucas said, "I have not tried to win. If I ever desire to win, I can." The note was written Wednesday night in the Denton County Jail.

Lucas said the trial and the attention it gathered enabled him to "to gain peace of mind."

Whitlock said Lucas did not tell him that he planned to seek the death penalty in future cases. He was asked after the sentencing if he believed Lucas could be the largest mass murderer in U.S. history, as he claims, and said he did not know.

"That's a very difficult question and I say that based on the many hours I've spent with Henry. I always found Henry basically easy to talk to and a very congenial person. I never even heard him say a cuss word."

Cobb agreed with Whitlock that he could not explain the dichotomy between Lucas' apparent gentle manners and his claims of mass murder.

"I could not tell you that ... all I know is he's charged with a lot of crimes."

Cobb also said the chances of Lucas being tried in all the cases with which he is charged diminished with the life sentence.

"You need to try him several times because you've got to have a backup to make sure a person like this goes to the penitentiary," Cobb said. "But ultimately I believe he will not be tried in all other cases."

Lucas tearfully told the jury that he didn't mean to kill Ms. Powell, with whom he had traveled in 36 states. He said he had taken care of her since she was 11. He testified he stabbed the teen-ager during a quarrel on Aug. 24, 1982, and then sat next to her corpse and "talked to her about trying to figure out what to do with her body."

After realizing Ms. Powell was dead, Lucas said he dismembered her body because "it was the only thing I could think of."

Lucas led police to Ms. Powell's bones after he was arrested in Montague County on a weapons charge.

Cobb had urged the jury to return a life sentence, calling Lucas an "animal" who threatened society.

"He sits here today having murdered his mother in 1960 and having murdered Becky Powell and he's asking you for leniency," Cobb said in punishment arguments.

"This ... has to do with the protection of American society by removing this animal from society," he said.

Local reports stolen battery

A Snyder man filed a misdemeanor theft report Friday. Roland Martinez told investigators that someone had stolen a battery from his NL Well Service Co. pickup sometime between 6 p.m. Thursday and 5 a.m. Friday.

The truck was parked in the 700 Block of East Highway at the time of the theft.

In other action, city officers arrested one male suspect on charges of public intoxication Thursday evening.

Two accidents here Thursday

Two minor traffic mishaps were reported in Snyder Thursday.

Involved in the day's first mishap — occurring at 11:21 a.m. at the entrance to Western Texas College — were a 1980 Pontiac driven by Emily Craig of 2315 41st St. and a 1976 Ford driven by Danny Denson of Ira.

The second accident was reported in the 2800 Block of 37th St. at 4:09 p.m. Involved in it were a 1977 Pontiac driven by Linda Shirleen Ellis of Rt. 2, Snyder and a 1976 Oldsmobile driven by Sonya Dayelle Adams of Rt. 1, Snyder.

No injuries were reported in either incident and damage was minor to moderate for all involved vehicles.

Obituaries

Dennis

BRADY--Mildred Dennis, 59, of Mexia, a former McCulloch County resident, died at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Scott and White Hospital in Temple after a lengthy illness. Graveside services were at 2 p.m. Friday at Cox Cemetery in McCulloch County, directed by Colonial Funeral Home.

The Rev. Chuck Hubbard, chaplain of the Mercury American Legion Post, will officiate.

Born Jan. 5, 1924 in McCulloch County, she had lived in McCulloch County for 12 years, moving to Austin and later to Mexia.

Survivors include her mother, Elsie Dennis of Mercury; two brothers, J. L. Dennis of Odessa and Jerry Dennis of Snyder; and two sisters, Mrs. Gary Hart of San Angelo and Mary Jo Beasley of Hawley.

Harrison

ANDREWS--Graveside services for Mrs. Ivy Harrison, 77, of Andrews will be at 2 p.m. Monday at the Hobbs, N. M. cemetery.

She died at 7:30 a.m. Friday at Permian Basin Hospital in Andrews after a lengthy illness.

She and her husband lived in Carlsbad, N. M. until they moved to Snyder in 1949. He died in 1953. She operated the Airview Courts which is now Jack Greene Construction Co. until moving to Andrews in 1979.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews including Billy Bob Kennedy of Andrews.

Emergency funding legislation pending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of the federal government was technically without cash or credit today as Congress tried to patch together a compromise on emergency funding legislation held up by bickering over $1 billion in education and social spending sought by House Democrats.

Despite the delay in congressional action, a widespread disruption of government operations was postponed by the Veterans Day holiday.

The Senate slogged nearly four hours past a midnight Thursday deadline before adopting its version of the stopgap money bill by a voice vote.

While the compromise might be acceptable to Congress, Republicans said President Reagan was sure to veto the measure if the social spending additions remained in it.

The House voted 224-189 to pass its version of the measure Thursday afternoon, then sent it to the Republican-controlled Senate, which immediately stripped out the additional social spending with a 53-36 vote.

The Senate then added more than a dozen items dealing with such subjects as a recreational development on a river in Tennessee and a traffic study in the Northeast.

The major issue was a $954.4 million amendment added by the House at the behest of Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Texas, that included $143 million to educate the handicapped, $300 million for a nutrition program for poor women and children, $195 million for low-income energy assistance and $10 million for emergency shelter for the homeless.

Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., declared that Democrats were "using the issue of education funding for blatantly political purposes ... to promote a political confrontation with the president."

And Conte asked Democrats: "How can you go home and tell the people you want to reduce the deficit and on the same day you vote to raise the deficit by $1 billion. Do you think your constituents are stupid?"

But Wright retorted that "we do not seek a confrontation with the president. We seek to give the president a chance to balance his priorities more fairly."

Injuries follow police-car chase

A 25-year-old Snyder man was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for observation following a car chase and subsequent wreck on at the intersection of U.S. Hwys. 180 and 84 around 10:45 p.m. Thursday.

Police report attempting to stop shortly after 10:30 p.m. a 1970 Lincoln driven by John Matthew Dempsey of 1907 Coleman Ave. Officers say they first tried to stop him in the 200 Block of East Highway

The ensuring pursuit ended when the Lincoln struck the rear of a tractor-trailer rig driven by Ellis J. West of Reno, Nev. This collision occurred at the intersection near Rip Griffins Truck Stop.

West was not injured in the mishap and Dempsey's injuries were not thought to be serious. Damage to the truck were moderate while extensive damage was reported to the Dempsey car.

Local authorities have filed charges of DWI, fleeing to elude arrest and driving with a suspended driver's licenses against Dempsey.

All 46 people aboard a U.S. Army helicopter were killed in 1982 when it crashed into a West German highway.

In 1649, Oliver Cromwell captured Drogheda, Ireland, and executed the entire garrison of about 3,000.

Milk OK for ulcers

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'd like to know whether a person with an ulcer should drink milk or not. I have heard that drinking milk may actually make your ulcer worse. But I have noticed that you seem to favor using milk for ulcers — or at least you don't object to it.

In my own case, I learned a long time ago that if I have symptoms, a glass of milk will relieve that burning pain in my stomach. If it relieves the pain, how come some people say it is harmful?

I thought people always used to be treated with milk and sometimes cream and various antacids. If so, why don't doctors treat ulcer patients that way anymore?

DEAR READER — Sometimes in medicine, if you hear a radical departure from time-honored methods and you wait a little while, things may switch back. Part of this is the constant learning process, as people learn new things and sometimes come to the wrong conclusion.

Of course, milk and cream can be helpful in treating ulcers. But you have to be sure what you are treating. If the symptoms are from milk intolerance, then the treatment with milk will make the symptoms worse.

The flap over milk was really because it contains calcium. Calcium can induce the stomach to produce more acid. But most antacids used in amounts that really neutralize stomach acid usually induce a rebound increase in acid production.

The old Sippy diet was highly useful in treating ulcers and began with very frequent or even dripped milk and cream. But note that the milk and cream, and later food, was given frequently enough to keep constantly neutralizing the acid.

I had to smile recently when reading one medical journal in which a doctor was commenting on how milk can increase stomach acid production. I had just read another report from the University of Texas in Houston where physiologists had discovered that the fat in milk was highly protective against stomach acid in rats. They call milk fats natural surfactants, and when they are removed from the diets, ulcers recur. So milk may be back in vogue soon, or at least a new product from milk's surfactants.

To round out your appreciation of ulcers, I am sending you The Health Letter 15-10, Understanding Ulcers and Acidity. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of ths newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My question is, is dry self-rising flour harmful to me? I crave it all the time and have for the past seven months. I eat an average of a quarter to a half cup a day. I eat it during the day. I would eat more but I'm afraid it might be harmful.

I'm a 45-year-old woman and I am in good health. I weigh 125 pounds and am 5 feet 5 inches tall. I take one vitamin E each day.

DEAR READER — You certainly must have a dry mouth if you can do that.

No, it won't harm you. It is the same flour whether you eat it out of the sack or in a slice of bread. But since it is dry and contains little or no moisture, it contains 440 calories a cup and 1,349 milligrams of sodium (for self-rising flour, not other flour). So it adds extra sodium and calories to your diet.

Check with your doctor soon and have a blood test run. Sometimes a person who is low on iron craves strange things, including laundry starch and clay.

Dear Abby

Next-Door Games Prompt Neighbor to Call a Foul

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Something is going on in my neighborhood that has me on edge. A divorced woman with a 10-year-old daughter has her boyfriend living with them. The three of them are together, laughing, playing games and so on. This woman thinks she is a great mother because she has a "happy" child. The fact that this mother is living in adultery and committing fornication right before her daughter's eyes does not seem to bother her.

Now I saw something indecent take place between that 10-year-old and her mother's boyfriend. I called two priests and a minister. One priest said, "Don't say a word," the other priest said, "Tell the mother," and the minister said, "Write the mother a letter."

I went over there and spoke to the mother, and all she said was, "Oh, they are very close. They love each other!" This woman sometimes leaves her daughter in the house alone with her boyfriend. If she isn't an unfit mother, I don't know what "unfit" is.

What should I do?

A CONCERNED NEIGHBOR

DEAR CONCERNED: You did not disclose what you "saw" that you perceived as "indecent." I appreciate your good intentions, but every community has some kind of child-protection agency, so if you saw something "indecent" going on, go to the authorities and make an official complaint. But be prepared to back up your suspicions with some hard facts. A person is still presumed innocent until proven guilty.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Recently I was given a baby shower that was attended mainly by my mother-in-law's friends. I promptly wrote my thank-you notes for each gift, and in so doing I addressed each woman as "Ms." (Most were married, a few widowed and several were unmarried.)

A few days later, my mother-in-law called to say that one of her friends was offended by being addressed as "Ms." Then my father-in-law got on the phone and told me I was never to address any of their friends or relatives as "Ms."

I tried to explain that I meant no offense—that this was a new trend so that all women, regardless of their marital status, would feel equal, but he insisted he liked the old way better and in the future I should forget the "Ms."

Did I make a "Ms"-take?

MS-UNDERSTOOD

DEAR MS-UNDERSTOOD: You made no "Ms-take." Your father-in-law ms'd the point.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our son is almost 6 years old. We wanted to name him for his father, but we did not want to name him "John Doe Jr.," which would have been his legal name, so we named him "John Doe II." We have since learned that a child named "II" is not named for his father—he is named for someone else in the family (perhaps an uncle or grandfather) who had the same name.

I am now concerned, and want to know if it is serious enough to change our son's name to "John Doe Jr."

My husband and I both like his name the way it is and we really don't want to change it, even though we realize it doesn't follow tradition. Please let us know if it is acceptable to leave his name the way it is, or if we should change it to Junior.

WITHHOLDING MY NAME

DEAR WITHHOLDING: Since you prefer your son's name the way it is, leave it that way.

Army says 6,322 rifles were seized during Grenada action

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (AP) — U.S. Army spokesmen say invading troops on Grenada confiscated 5 million rounds of ammunition, 29 tons of TNT and 6,322 rifles — at least three for each soldier believed to have been in the island's army.

Capt. David Boggs, a spokesman for the U.S. Army Command on Grenada, said Thursday that the captured rifles included AK-47 models, the standard issue for Soviet bloc infantries.

The size of the People's Revolutionary Army, Grenada's military force under pro-Cuban Prime Minister Maurice Bishop, has been estimated at 800 to 2,000 men. However, Bishop, who was slain Oct. 19 during a coup, had talked of raising a militia of 20,000.

U.S. officials say Bishop later scaled the size of his envisioned militia by half, but admit they have no estimate of the size of Bishop's standing army or of the militia at the time of the invasion. But they say some 1,800 army soldiers and militiamen have surrendered.

In 1981, U.S. diplomats in the Caribbean estimated the standing army at 2,000 members.

The Reagan administration, trying to win support for the U.S.-led invasion of the island Oct. 25, said after the operation: "We have discovered a complete base of weapons ... which makes it clear a Cuban occupation of the island had been planned."

U.S. intelligence had not detected the arsenal before the invasion, which the Reagan administration said was undertaken to protect U.S. citizens on the island from a radical Marxist military junta which seized power.

Many of the rifles were found in caches or warehouses near the Point Salines airport being built by Cubans. President Reagan had claimed the new runway would be used by Soviet and Cuban warplanes. Cuba said its people were there to develop the island, not occupy it.

On Oct. 28, Reagan said the arsenal was big enough to "supply thousands of terrorists."

The other rifles were taken from captured Cuban and Grenadian soldiers, the Army said.

In the confiscated arsenal, according to Boggs, were 5 million rounds of ammunition, 111 machine guns, 13 anti-aircraft guns, 65 mortars, 68 rocket propelled grenades, and 29 tons of TNT. U.S. troops blew up part of the explosives Thursday.

In London, a British television network ran an interview with a Grenadian nurse who said she heard what might be Bishop's last words.

"'My God! My God! They have turned the guns against the people,'" the nurse recalled Bishop as saying in his final moments. "The bullets were just coming and the place was in chaos and some of the people were praying," she told Independent Televison News as she described what happened when Bishop and a mob of supporters marched to army headquarters.

Slavery was abolished in all British possessions in 1834.

Pepper shortage is possible

BALTIMORE (AP) — One of the nation's largest spice companies says it's too soon to tell whether American consumers will feel the bite of a world pepper shortage that could double the price of the popular seasoning.

Dealers in London said Thursday that the price of pepper would soar in the next few months to the highest levels in 25 years because of poor crops in Brazil and Malaysia and short stockpiles.

But McCormick & Co. Inc., a major international producer of seasonings, flavorings and specialty foods, said the forecast was too speculative.

"The difficult thing here is to try to predict the future. We're just not in a position to do that," said Mac Barrett, manager of press relations at McCormick, which is based in Baltimore.

"Speculation just doesn't do anyone any good. It is unwise and risky for us to ever delve in speculation," he added.

A London dealer, who asked not to be identified, said the higher prices would hit the supermarkets there in a few months' time as higher-priced raw pepper is processed and shipped.

But he said it should have relatively little effect on consumers who buy in small quantities. A shaker full of ground black pepper costing the equivalent of 25.5 cents in London supermarkets could hit 60 cents, he said.
