Former Gov. Connally Accepts Treasury Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy is resigning his post Feb. 1 and will be succeeded by former Governor John Connnally, a Texas Democrat.

Kennedy is not leaving the administration but will become the country's ambassador at large under Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Nixon announced the shifts personally at a briefing for reporters.

He lauded both Kennedy and Connally highly, the one for contributions he already has made and is expected to make, and the other for qualities he said will be of great benefit to the government.

HE'LL BE AROUND

Kennedy still will have the title of a member of the Cabinet in the post he will take over on Feb. 1.

Nixon said that Kennedy, white-haired and 65, had accepted the Treasury post with the understanding he could leave at the end of two years and perhaps consider some new assignment.

By putting the departure time at Feb. 1, Kennedy will be on hand through the final stages of preparing the next federal budget. And Connally will be around in the interim to consult and brief himself on budget matters.

LBJ's FRIEND

Connally, a friend of former President Lyndon Johnson, will be the first Democrat to fill one of the regular, departmental Cabinet positions.

Nixon stressed the need of bipartisan approaches to national problems in speaking of the appointment.

Patrick Moynihan, who has resigned as presidential counselor to return to the Harvard University faculty, was accorded cabinet rank—and he, too, is a Democrat.

The cabinet change came less than a month since Nixon fired former Secretary of Interior Walter Hickel. The White House has been saying consistently that at the halfway point in his first term, the President will not remain static with regard to changes in the administration team.

'DEVOTED WAY'

George Shultz, former secretary of labor, has moved into the top post at the newly set up Office of Management and Budget. Robert Finch left the secretaryship of health, education and welfare to become a presidential counselor.

Nixon, in his appearance before reporters, said: "Secretary Kennedy has served this nation in a selfless and in my view in an admirable and completely devoted way."

He credited Kennedy with having brought stability to the handling of monetary policies.

Nixon said Kennedy, as ambassador at large, will have extremely important duties in the field of international finance. Secretary Rogers was standing beside the President and Kennedy, and Nixon said Rogers was enthusiastically in favor of the Kennedy appointment because the State Department also has a primary responsibility in the field of international financial policy.

NOT A BANKER

Turning to Connally, whose wife, Nellie, was also on hand, the President said that he had grown to know him very well in the last 18 months. He mentioned that Connally had served on the Presidential Advisory Council on Executive Organization and as a member of the Foreign Intelligence Advisory board.

"He brings at the highest level the viewpoint of a leading member of the Democratic Party," Nixon said.

He said Connally's experience as governor gives him some special qualifications on the question of federal sharing of revenue with the states.

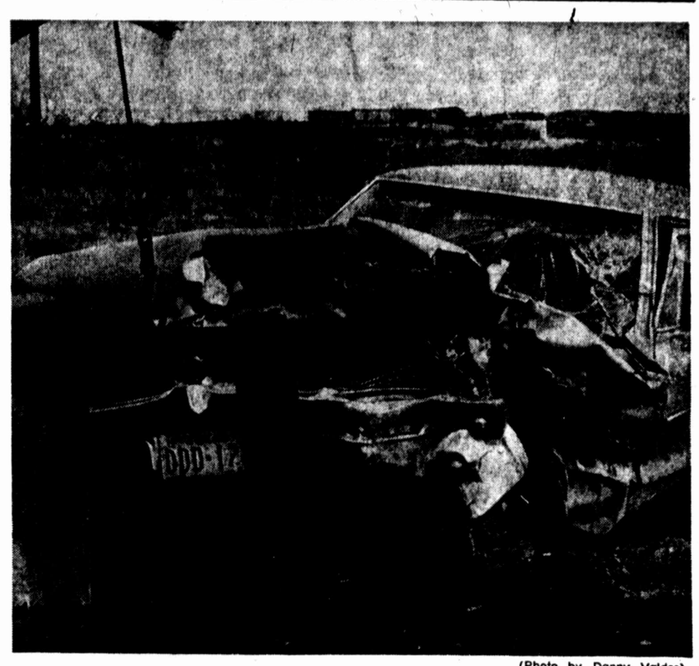

In finance, he conceded that Connally is not a banker, but said he has had a great deal of experience. He mentioned that Connally has served as head of a "great law firm" and on the boards of a number of financial institutions.

Nixon also let it be known he thought Connally would be valuable in relations involving a Republican President and a Democratic Congress.

Connally told reporters he was grateful, humble and proud in accepting the Cabinet appointment. He said it would be impossible to fill Kennedy's shoes because the latter had brought great expertise and dedication to the office.

ANNOUNCES NEW TREASURY SECRETARY — President Nixon points to his newly-designated secretary of the treasury, John B. Connally, former Texas governor, at the White House today as the outgoing secretary, David M. Kennedy, makes remarks to newsmen. Kennedy will become an ambassador at large.

Two Injured In Head-On Collision

Two drivers involved in a head-on accident on the north service road of IS 20 this morning were being treated for injuries at noon today in the Medical Arts Hospital.

Y. B. Hodnett, 43, 1106 Marijo, was in surgery with head and chest injuries, and Bruce A. Love, 23, 2718 Ann, was awaiting treatment for head lacerations.

Investigating officer David Sutton said Love was heading west from the direction of the Birdwell intersection and Hodnett was going east, both on the north service road, when the accident occurred just after 11 a.m.

Herald Ex-Staffer Named To Post

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor president Abner V. McCall appointed Adrian Vaughan, 45, acting chairman of the university's journalism department today.

Dave Cheavens, who died Dec. 8, was chairman of the department for eight years.

Vaughan, an associate professor of journalism, is a graduate of Baylor and the University of Texas. He received his bachelor's degree from Baylor in 1945 and doctorate from Texas in 1950.

He is a native of Brownwood. Vaughan, returned to his alma mater in 1965 after eight years as director of public information at Texas Tech. Vaughan was news editor of the Big Spring Daily Herald from 1947 to 1949.

MANIPULATION

Budget Board Cuts Welfare Money Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes told the Legislative Budget Board today next year's tax bill might be reduced by $200 million through a welfare manipulation.

Barnes spoke shortly after the board's staff presented a revised estimate indicating a two-year tax bill of $645.1 million even without cost of living raises for state employes or new construction.

The staff's estimate Nov. 25 was $643.5 million. The increase was due to revisions in the estimated cost of the foundation school program.

At the same time, the estimated amount of the emergency welfare appropriation bill that must be passed shortly after the legislature convenes Jan. 12 was lowered from $45 million to $39.9 million.

The emergency appropriation would be almost entirely for unforseen increases in the program of medical assistance to welfare recipients.

Barnes said he authorized the staff of the Senate Interim Welfare Reform Committee today to "compile information" on whether Texas could obtain federal welfare money to match amounts spent by local governments for charity medical treatment.

"If this plan is enacted next year, it would well enable Texas to receive more than $200 million from the federal government for welfare," Barnes said.

Alabama Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State of Alabama was denied review today by the Supreme Court of a state law that prohibited the compulsory assignment of students on the basis of their race to achieve racial balance.

Deputy Named Dawson Sheriff

LAMESA — The Dawson County Commissioners, at their regular meeting this morning, appointed Guy Killison as Dawson County sheriff.

Killison will fill the unexpired term of Sheriff J. A. (Shorty) Hancock, who resigned because his health would not permit him to fill his duties.

Killison had been chief deputy under Hancock in the Dawson County sheriff's office.

Cambodia Aid Bill Advanced, Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved today President Nixon's request to send aid to Cambodia. But it coupled the action with sharp restrictions and disclaimed any U.S. commitment to defend that nation.

The committee adopted a revised form of the Cooper-Church amendment, approved by the Senate last June but stalemated in conference by House opposition, barring U.S. advisers and instructors as well as American ground combat troops from Cambodia.

UNANIMOUS

Like the earlier amendment, it was sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky. Approval was unanimous.

Then, the committee adopted an amendment by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., specifying that approval of the $255 million aid request in no way constitutes a U.S. commitment to defend Cambodia.

Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., won inclusion of an amendment requiring President Nixon to give advance notice in case any foreign aid or defense funds are transferred to Cambodia to supplement the aid program there. Present laws require notice to Congress—but only after the action is taken.

The committee's action came as the Senate took up a $2 billion catch-all money bill that includes $500 million for credits for Israel, authorized previously, and the new $535 aid request in the bill foreign relations com-

ONE GIFT TO CHEER FUND

The was only one gift received today by the Christmas Cheer Fund, but it was a substantial one of $40 from members of the Elizabeth McDowell Sunday School Class of the First Presbyterian Church.

This sent the Fund total to $704. Considerably more is needed to carry out the full program of getting Christmas happiness into every home in Big Spring, so that all children can be remembered.

You are invited to have a share in this warm-spirited effort. Make your check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND and send to The Herald for grateful acknowledgment.

Workers Call Off Power Slowdown

LONDON (AP) — Britain's electrical workers called off their power slowdown today, assuring 55 million Britons of a Christmas with lights, heat and other facilities they missed in a week of brownouts.

Union negotiator Frank Chapple announced the surprise after a marathon session with the government and its Electricity Council as "an act of good faith with the nation."

The differences between a union seeking 25 per cent more pay and a council willing to give only 10 per cent remained.

Even a national court of inquiry to recommend a peace formula remained uncertain.

The 125,000 power station workers wanted absolution from blame. The government wanted to make certain the British economy didn't suffer and feared setting off spiraling inflation.

Nixon Brands Welfare System Big 'Outrage'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Branding the welfare system "a consuming, monstrous, inhuman outrage," President Nixon has called for passage of his Family Assistance Plan before Congress adjourns.

"For the Senate to adjourn without enacting this measure would be a tragedy of missed opportunity," Nixon said Sunday night as he opened the once-a-decade White House Conference on Children.

The legislation, which would set an income floor for a family of four at $1,600 a year, has been passed by the House but is mired in the Senate.

"In terms of its consequences for children," the President said, "I think it can fairly be said to be the most important piece of social legislation in our nation's history."

In his speech, Nixon also said the federal government cannot solve all the problems hampering the welfare of the nation's 55 million children.

"We shall do our best to meet our responsibility in those areas where the federal government can best do what needs to be done," he said.

"But I would also stress that equally and often more important is what states and communities do, and the school and the church and the family, the mass media, voluntary organizations and each of us as individuals. For the child is not raised by government. The child is raised by his family. His character is shaped by those people he encounters in his daily life."

But before Nixon's appeal for support, doubt was expressed by several hundred delegates that any plans put forth this week will obtain much action by the administration.

DAYAN SAYS ISRAEL WILL NEVER ALLOW U.N. TROOPS

Hussein Urges 'Peacekeeping' Role

By The Associated Press

King Hussein of Jordan prescribes a U.S.-Soviet peace-keeping force to allay Israeli suspicion of negotiated Arab peace commitments. But Israel's Defense Minister Moshe Dayan says United Nations troops never will be allowed in his country.

Dayan was not asked specifically about an enforcement team from the two superpowers, but he said Israel has had "very bad and bitter experience" with foreign peace forces in the past.

Both men appeared Sunday on taped television interviews made during visits to the United States last week. Both conferred with President Nixon.

Appearing on ABC's "Issues and Answers," Hussein said a peacekeeping role for the superpowers might "simplify matters because unfortunately the Israelis have suspicions and continue to seek secure and recognized boundaries.

A two-power peacekeeping police force was suggested last summer by the Nixon administration, but Washington dropped the idea when it met opposition, from both Arab and Israeli diplomats.

Dayan was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press" and said Israel's experience has been that its own armed forces are the best guarantor of Israel's peace. He also repeated that Israel would not withdraw to its boundaries before the June 1967 war.

Dayan said Israel will return to indirect peace talks with the Arabs at the United Nations after the United Staes promises to block any U.N. attempt to impose a Middle East settlement.

Hussein said recent clashes between his army and the Palestinian guerrillas are unimportant, and "we have re-established law and order" since the civil war in September.

Guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat and Hussein's brother, Crown Prince Hassan, again agreed to cease hostilities during a five-hour meeting of the Arab conciliation commission in Amman Sunday. Such agreements have been made repeatedly since the 11-day war and broken repeatedly. But last week Hussein's army moved into the guerrillas' last stronghold, at Jarash, and flushed them out.

IRS MAY HIRE PSYCHIATRISTS

Ouch Couch?

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — Internal Revenue Serivce Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower said the IRS may one day use psychiatrist to help with tax audits.

"We may well find them helpful today where the mental defense is urged in a criminal investigation of tax fraud," Thrower said.

Thrower said the use of psychitrists is a possibility because of the increasing complexity of auditing tax return.

"ONCE UPON a time single revenue agent could examine any return," he said.

But the IRS abandoned this procedure for large corporations years ago and now uses specialists such as engineer agents, attorneys and experts in internal finance to help with audit computer systems, ferret out hidden Swiss bank accounts, and find their way through conglomerate finances, Thrower said.

Auditing tax returns has become an "interdisciplinary science," he said, adding, "Who knows? Maybe we will even find a role for psychiatrists in the tax audit of the future."

Rain Pelting Coastal Areas, Mercury Climbs

By The Associated Press

A half-hearted attempt at rain deteriorated to intermittent drizzle and mist along the Gulf Coast of Texas this morning while the northern part of the state awoke to clear skies.

Temperatures numbed the thermometer in Northwest Texas where Dalhart had a reading in the mid-20s. Most of North Texas had temperatures in the 30s while in extreme South Texas as readings were up in the 50s.

The precipitation was more determined Sunday, dumping showers on scattered South Texas areas. Alice, Brownsville, Laredo and Del Rio all recorded small amounts of rain.

Bright sunshine and crisp temperatures covered the northern half of the state Sunday while cloudy skies persisted in the south.

The weatherman said it would be fair over most of the state today with only minor adjustments in temperatures.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to leave the right and wrong up to you. I took two ladies to a nightclub for an evening of dinner and dancing. I danced with Lady No. 1 and everything was okay. Then I asked Lady No. 2 to dance and she refused, saying she hadn't danced in a long time because her husband had been dead only two years and she was still sort of "in mourning." I let this pass, but later on in the evening I asked her if she cared to dance, and again she refused saying, "Oh, you two go ahead and dance."

No sooner did she get the words out of her mouth when a man who was a perfect stranger to me — and I am sure to her, too — came up to our table and asked Lady No. 2 to dance, whereupon she bounced off her chair as if she had a spring under her.

I felt insulted. How would you have felt? K.K.

DEAR K.: Insulted. But don't hold a grudge. The stranger actually performed the lady a great service. He officially terminated her "mourning" period.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I, an old lady of 89, agree with your correspondent who wished her incurably ill mother to be released from her suffering. At the present time when unable to effect a cure, a physician often employs artificial means to extend the life of a hopelessly ill patient. But prolonging life, without prolonging good health, is a dubious blessing, and no victory over the grim reaper. It only adds to the patient's ill being and puts a strain on the family, all too often depleting them, physically, mentally, emotionally and financially by long, loving, but useless nursing.

It is time that proper legislation be enacted to legalize euthanasia — with safeguards, making its use available for reputable physicains.

Permitting the incurably ill to die in dignity is not a step backwards, nor an admission of failure on the part of the medical profession. It is a step forward, an act of mercy, and should be heralded as such.

HCJC Concert Slated Tonight

The Howard County Junior College Choir will present a program of contemporary and traditional Christmas music and popular music at 8 p.m. today in the HCJC Auditorium.

The performance, which is open to the public, is directed by Ralph Dowden, choir director and vocal instructor at the college. Mrs. Mary Skalicky, piano instructor, will accompany the college choir.

Violence Claims Lives At Fast Rate In State

By The Associated Press

The death toll from violent causes climbed steadily over the weekend, bolstered by a four-fatality car wreck near Bridgeport.

The Associated Press began its regular weekend count of violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and continued the grim tabulation until midnight Sunday.

By midnight Sunday, the death count was 27 persons dead, 21 of them killed in car wrecks.

VICTIMS NAMED

Four persons, all residents of Chico, were killed shortly before noon Sunday when two cars met head-on on Texas 144 about 3 miles north of Bridgeport. The Highway Patrol identified the dead as Garland Gail Pittman, 32; Garland Gail Pittman Jr., 8; Ethel Mae Pittman, 2; and Margaret L. Mader, 23. Lloyd Mader, 25, driver of the second car and his son, Larry Lloyd Mader Jr., 2½ were taken to a Bridgeport hospital in serious condition.

John R. Puckett, 46, assistant managing editor of the Dallas Morning News, was killed early Sunday when his car struck a light standard in North Dallas. Puckett, a veteran editor at the News, was dead on arrival at Dallas' Parkland Hospital.

Curtis Joe Moore, about 25, was shot to death Sunday in what Tarrant County officers called a family argument. Sheriff's officers questioned a man and a woman in the shooting at Abbott.

Johnny Cordell, 19, of Amarillo died died early Sunday on Interstate 27 near Tulia when his car rammed a bridge embankment.

AUTOPSY ORDERED

Dr. John Valentine Baher Jr., 27, of Albuquerque was killed and his wife and infant son were injured Saturday night in a rear-end collision. Officers said the accident occurred on U.S. 287 about 15 miles east of Claude.

Roman Pacheco, 58, of San Antonio died Sunday in a hospital several hours after his car struck a parked automobile. An autopsy was ordered.

Mrs. Ruby Sharp King, 69, was fatally injured Sunday in a two car collision near her home on a Hale Center rural route. The accident occurred at the intersection of Farm Road 1071 and a county dirt road. Mrs. King's husband was killed just a mile west of the accident scene in a two-truck collision in 1968.

Scientist Dies

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — Dr. William M. Breazeale, a nuclear scientist who supervised engineering of the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, the USS Savannah, is dead at age 62. He died Friday at his home here.

Dallas News Editor Killed

DALLAS (AP) — The assistant managing editor of the Dallas Morning News was killed Sunday in a car wreck on Dallas' north side.

Investigators said John Robert Puckett, 46, was killed when his car went out of control and struck a utility pole. His body was found at 5:10 a.m. by police.

Puckett was named assistant managing editor in 1968. He had joined the paper in 1951 as a copy reader.

He graduated from Oklahoma University in his home state and served with the U.S. Army Ground Forces in Europe during World War II. He was later recalled to duty in the Korean War.

Before going to the News, he worked as a sportswriter for the Arkansas Gazette in Little Rock.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter and three sons.

Puckett will be buried Tuesday afternoon in Dallas' Hillcrest Memorial Park.

Director Dies

LONDON (AP) — John Paddy Carstairs, British film director, painter and novelist, died Saturday night of a heart attack at age 60. Carstairs was best known for comedies for family entertainment. His paintings hang in the Royal Academy.

LBJ Singles Out Young Journalists

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon Johnson and the University Interscholastic League have singled out young journalists at Canyon High School here for their interest in ecology.

The entire staff of the high school newspaper, "Cougar Tracks," was awarded proficiency citations by the Interscholastic League for a special ecology issue published last Tuesday.

Nancy Read, editor of the paper, received compliments from former President Johnson.

Willie Day Taylor, a spokesman for Johnson, informed Miss Read:

"The President has asked me to tell you he is pleased to see you taking an active interest in this subject and to commend you on the fine job you did."

Under the sponsorship of David Yates, 15 pupils delved into pollution, interviewing businessmen, Comal County officials and others for the special edition.

Rabies Vaccine Success Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Philadelphia scientist reported today a new rabies vaccine has shown dramatic success in laboratory animals, perhaps opening the door for protection of humans before and after exposure to the deadly virus.

"The way is now open to clinical (human) trials with these preparations," said Dr. T. J. Wiktor of the Wistar Institute. "A rabies vaccine should soon be available that can be used in man both (preventively) and after exposure to rabies."

One injection of the new vaccine several hours after infection in animals, including monkeys, prevented death, he said.

Humans bitten or scratched by rabid animals now have to undergo painful treatment of up to 14 daily injections directly into the stomach.

The new vaccine, produced from rabies viruses multiplying in animal tissues inside test tubes, is much purer and speeds production of antibodies which fight the infection, he said.

Present vaccines are made from the tissue of animal brains or bird embryos infected with viruses.

In a separate report by two Swiss scientists to an international conference on vaccines, Drs. M. Abdussalam and K. Bogel of Geneva said present rabies vaccines are outdated.

"Although the vaccination of persons exposed to rabies was one of the earliest immunization attempts and has been widely practiced for decades, the procedure remains archaic and dangerous," they said.

At the same conference, sponsored by the Pan American Health Organization, a former U.S. Army medical researcher forecast development of vaccines against several more viruses during the 1970s.

OES Chapter Drapes Altar

The altar was draped in memory of John Temple Rice, a former worthy grand patron of Texas, at a business meeting which followed Thursday's Christmas party for the Laura B. Hart Chapter 1010, Order of Eastern Star.

The group met in the Masonic Hall where Mrs. Victoria Adams was introduced as a new member, and Mr. and Mrs. H T. Sefton were guests. The chapter members will deliver Christmas baskets to members who have been ill and unable to attend meetings.

The party refreshment table was covered with a white silk scalloped cloth, embroidered with beads, and the centerpiece was a miniature cathedral window flanked by twin candelabra. The gift table, laid with a white net cloth bordered in felt and sequined trees, held a small white tree and Santa figurine. Gifts were exchanged.

The next meeting will be Jan. 14. At that time, guests will be Mrs. Pauline Lybland, Andrews, a member of the fraternal visitation committee, and Mrs. Lela Wilson, grand representative from Idaho to Texas.

Susanna Members Prepare Cards

The Susanna Sunday school class, First United Methodist Church, prepared Christmas cards for shut-ins at their Thursday meeting in the Downtown Tea Room. The invocation was given by Mrs. N. W. McCluskey, the devotional by Mrs. W. D. McDonald and the closing prayer by Mrs. W. A. Laswell.

WWI Vets, Auxiliary At Dinner

A Christmas dinner for the Ladies Auxiliary and members of Big Spring Barracks 1474, Veterans of WWI, was held Thursday evening in the IOOF Hall where about 30 costumed students of the Jack and Jill Kindergarten presented a choral program of Christmas music. The director was Mrs. Charlene McKinnon.

Guests were registered at a table accented with a red candle arrangement, and a red punch service was placed at one end. The other tables were decorated with red streamers, holly, and miniature Christmas trees.

The hall featured a large Christmas tree, and a red-capped Santa Claus distributed gifts to approximately 60 members and guests.

Earlier in the week, new officers were installed at ceremonies held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moren.

Oasis Club Luncheon

The Oasis Garden Club elected new officers at it's December luncheon in the home of Mrs. Dale Smith, 2705 Crestline, with Mrs. M. C. Stulting giving the nominating committee report.

The new slate includes Mrs. Alton Marwitz, president; Mrs. Albert Hohertz, first vice president; Mrs. Paschal Odom, second vice president; Mrs. Thomas Evans, third vice president; Mrs. Mark Harwell, secretary and Mrs. R. G. Sinder, treasurer.

Mrs. Evans, social chairman, arranged the luncheon, where a program on holiday decorations was given by Mrs. Marwitz who displayed various types of arrangements.

Plans were made to sponsor a Christmas party Dec. 17 at the special education school. The next club meeting will be Jan. 13 in the home of Mrs. Hohertz, 2800 Parkway.

Christmas Party Held By HD Club

The Lakeview Home Demonstration Club had its annual Christmas party Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bill McIlvain. The rooms were decorated with traditional Christmas ornaments and the centerpiece was a pink candle arranged with angel hair.

Mrs. Ray Russell and Mrs. Claude Russell were guests. The club will meet Thursday to complete its Christmas project for the Sky High Girls Ranch. The next regular meeting is Jan. 7.

Hospital To Get Candy Wreaths

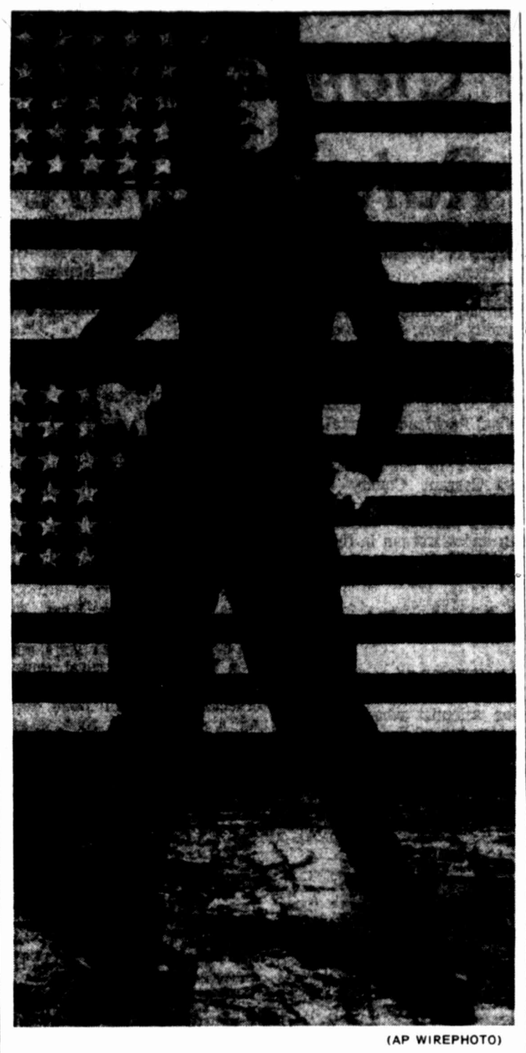

Candy wreaths were made for Big Spring State Hospital last week by the Lucky Acres 4-H Club, and members brought gifts for patients.

Joan Crawford, president, introduced two new members, Tim Martin and Frosty Reynolds. The pledge was led by Guy Gross.

Gifts and candy were provided by Lois Ivey, Paige Little, Gena Gross, Danny Priest, Carl Grisham, Greg Gross, Joan Crawford, David Crawford, Kay Willbanks, Kirk Nye, Lita Cox and Scott Shaver.

High Card Tallies

Mrs. George McAlister and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr. placed first in La Gallina bridge games held Friday at Big Spring Country Club. Other winners were Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Granville Hahn, second; and Mrs. Delnor Poss and Mrs. Harold Davis, third. Three and a half tables were in play.

Mrs. Scull, who wore the belt to a black-tie party recently, thinks the belts are "cute and amusing," and says she feels "like Butch Cassidy." The painting behind her is entitled "Flags," and was done by Jasper Johns.

Forsan Families Entertain Guests

FORSAN (SC) — Visiting the A. J. McCalls recently were Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Jones of Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Archer of Seminole, the L. D. Parkers of O'Donnell and the C. A. Fletchers of Grandbury.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ackerman's guests were the J. E. Oteys from Pampa.

The Aubry Oglesbys of Westbrook were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Oglesby.

Mrs. M. M. Fairchild recently visited the Dan Fairchilds in Odessa.

Mrs. Bob Wash returned from Medical Center Memorial Hospital recently, following surgery on her hand.

Rev. and Mrs. Don Bradley were visited by her parents, the W. O. Watts of Wichita Falls.

The D. L. Griffiths were visited by their daughter, Mrs. Nell Foster, and Miss Mona Tinsley of Andrews.

Mrs. Vera Harris visited the James Craigs in Robert Lee. Craig has been a patient in the Sterling City hospital for several days.

Mrs. Bill Willis of Midland is visiting her parents, the Earl Beesons.

Ladies Auxiliary Has Installation

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the United Transportation Union met for installation of officers Friday at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Albert Smith gave the invocation at the luncheon meeting, and members signed cards to send to the sick. Guests included G. C. Ragsdale, H. J. Rogers and C. G. Barnett.

The new officers are Mrs. Smith, president; Mrs. C. G. Barnett, vice president; Mrs. Frank Powell, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Eastham, conductress; Mrs. Jack Smith, chaplain; Mrs. G. C. Ragsdale, inner guard and Mrs. H. J. Rogers, outer guard.

Installing the officers was Mrs. T. A. Underhill, past president, and the installing conductress was Mrs. B. N. Ralph. The next meeting is Jan. 8, 2:30 p.m. at the IOOF Hall.

Country Club Coffee Fetes Paula Buckner

The Emerald Room of Big Spring Country Club was the setting Saturday morning from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. of a gift coffee honoring Miss Paula Buckner, bride-elect of Robert Steven Chrane. Hostesses were Mrs. Coy Nalley, Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. Vernon Swafford.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Tommy Buckner, Mrs. Tom Buckner, Mrs. Bill Chrane, Miss Karen Chrane, Miss Sharon Chrane, Mrs. Leon S. Cole, Mrs. R. V. Middleton, Miss Jeanette Middleton, Miss Candy Middleton, Miss Nita Cox, Miss Ann Powell, Miss Carla Chrane, Miss Marie Buckner and Miss Cindy Chrane, the latter two presiding at the guest registry.

The registry, covered with a red net cloth, was accented with a miniature tree of white poinsettia leaves interspersed with red roses.

The refreshment table was laid with a floor-length, hand-embroidered cloth from Belgium and appointed with silver. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white chrysanthemums, red carnations, fir and holly in a silver container. Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Tom Buckner and Mrs. B. T. Chrane poured.

The honoree was attired in a pale blue and yellow crepe dress, low-waisted with pleated skirt. She was presented a red carnation corsage. White chrysanthemum corsages were given to her mother, Mrs. Charles Buckner, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Bill Chrane.

The couple will be married Jan. 8 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Speaker Tells Of Holiday Customs

Christmas customs around the world were discussed by Mrs. S. R. Noble at Friday's meeting of the Modern Woman's Forum. Mrs. Noble compared the holiday customs of several European countries to those celebrated in the United States.

At the Christmas luncheon in the home of Mrs. Mary Brown, 1606 Wood, gifts were exchanged and cards were signed for shut-ins at the Big Spring Nursing Inn. Cohostess for the meeting was Mrs. J. P. Dodge, and the invocation was given by Mrs. Fred Whittaker.

The next meeting is Jan. 8 3 p.m. at Mrs. C. R. Moad's home, 702 Abrams.

Air pollution.

What F-310 is doing.

Great strides are being made in the control and reduction of automotive pollution by the automobile manufacturers and the petroleum industry, assisted by Federal, State and local governments.

For example, while controls on automotive emissions began only ten years ago, there is already marked progress. 1970 model cars emit, on the average, 80% less unburned hydrocarbons than did the models ten years ago.

The development of F-310* is another important advance. To our knowledge, F-310 is the most significant step taken to date by any oil company to provide a gasoline which helps reduce air pollution.

F-310 cleans the critical parts of dirty automobile engines, reducing total exhaust emissions from those engines. That means cleaner air.

F-310 breaks down and removes deposit accumulations in carburetors, Positive Crankcase Ventilation (PCV) valves, and other critical engine parts. It provides a continuing cleansing action so that deposits don't accumulate.

In cars with deposit accumulations, significant improvements show up after about 6 tanksful of Chevron with F-310. Engines run better and exhaust emissions of unburned hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide are reduced.

Older cars are the prime offenders in causing air pollution. In California, for example, pre-'66 autos without emission controls make up 50% of the car population—but they emit 68% of the unburned hydrocarbons.

In new or clean cars, F-310 will not show improvement in performance nor reduction in emissions. But with F-310 these engines are kept clean, and emissions stay at a minimum—and that, too, means cleaner air.

Many competitive oil companies have made similar claims about the effectiveness of their additives in reducing exhaust emissions. But so far no one has come forward with independent test proof that we have seen.

F-310, on the other hand, is one of the most thoroughly tested and documented gasoline additives in history. Tests by several different independent research organizations have conclusively demonstrated F-310's exceptional effectiveness in reducing total exhaust emissions.

Following are three of the most recent and definitive tests in this continuing research program:

Los Angeles County Sheriffs' Cars. In February, 1970, six Los Angeles County Sheriffs' cars (three 1968 and three 1969 models) were selected as representative of stop and go, idling, long distance and high speed driving. The cars had 30,000 miles or more and all had very dirty engines.

The cars were switched from a competitive premium grade gasoline to Chevron with F-310 and driven for as little as 678 miles and as much as 2,093 miles. Exhaust emissions of the cars were then measured at a government laboratory.

The results: Unburned hydrocarbon emissions were reduced by an average of 24% and carbon monoxide emissions by 42%.

Orange County Test. In March-July, 1970, a group of 53 vehicles from an independent fleet in Orange County, California, were selected to represent a cross-section of high and low mileage vehicles of various model years.

This independent fleet was especially well-maintained and had previously been using a major brand competitive premium grade gasoline containing a highly publicized carburetor detergent.

Initial tests were conducted by Scott Research Laboratories, an independent testing company, to measure the existing exhaust emissions.

These vehicles were then switched to Chevron with F-310 and driven for 2,000 miles. They were then tested again by Scott Laboratories for emission levels.

The results: Unburned hydrocarbon emissions were reduced an average of 12.4% and carbon monoxide emissions dropped an average of 27.5%.

Pasadena Tests. In the Spring of 1970, 297 cars, using 21 competitive brands of gasoline, were specifically selected as representative of California's total car population.

These cars were tested for exhaust emissions by still another independent test firm, Olson Laboratories.

Then the cars were switched to Chevron with F-310 and driven by their owners approximately 2,000 miles under normal driving conditions, and tested for exhaust emissions again.

The results: Unburned hydrocarbon emissions were reduced an average of 13.9% and carbon monoxide emissions reduced an average of 11.6%.

The full significance of these results is: If Chevron with F-310 were used in all the cars in Los Angeles County alone, reductions of this size would have the effect of reducing these emissions by over 1,000 tons per day, or 365,000 tons per year, as compared against the level of emissions existing prior to the introduction of F-310. And projecting the same results throughout the state of California would have the effect of reducing emissions by almost 1,000,000 tons per year.

What remains to be done.

There has been definite progress in reducing automotive pollution since the first emission control systems appeared on some cars in 1961. However, more work needs to be done before the problem of pollution can be solved.

It will take the combined efforts of the automobile manufacturers and the petroleum industry, assisted by Federal, State and local governments. It will take America's best research and development capabilities.

To begin with, the automobile industry must continue improving the internal combustion engine, and developing new emissions control devices to meet the stringent emissions standards of the future.

All of the oil companies need to continue to improve the capability of their gasolines to reduce exhaust emissions now. Also, according to the automobile manufacturers, the oil industry must make available unleaded fuels in order to meet the requirements of low emission cars of the future. The introduction at selected stations of Chevron Unleaded—with F-310—is a significant step in this direction.

Although no single development alone can solve the automotive air pollution problem, extensive and independent tests prove conclusively that F-310 is a genuine and significant contribution to air pollution control.

Officers Recover Checks, Not Money

The purse and wallet containing approximately $500 in checks stolen Saturday night from Mr. and Mrs. Joe King, Knott, were found Sunday by Howard County Sheriff's Officers along a road near the King home.

According to Sheriff A. N. Standard, he and his deputies are currently following up leads given them by witnesses who saw the car used in the robbery just prior to and following the robbery. Some tire tracks and other physical evidence have been found at the scene.

"I don't believe this has any connection with the Garden City robbery. I think it's just a case of someone deciding to use the same pattern. The description and mannerisms of the robber fits a description we have in a similar incident a year ago in another county," said Sheriff Standard.

"We do have some possible suspects in mind; however, we have nothing definite yet. We still lack a positive identification of the car such as the license number," he added.

The King couple was robbed at gun point in the driveway of their home shortly after 7 p.m. Saturday. Two men in a blue and white car pulled into the driveway behind them, and one of the men armed with what could have been a sawed-off shotgun, approached the couple and demanded the purse and wallet. After taking approximately $500 in checks and $75 in cash, the robbers drove away from the King home, heading north. The $75 has not been recovered.

It was first reported that the thieves passed back by the house and headed south, but the vehicle that passed was later found to be that of a nearby resident. Another Knott resident has reported seeing suspects parked at an intersection just prior to the robbery. It is believed that the pair waited there for the Kings to pass on their way home after closing their store.

Investigation Sunday led to the recovery of the stolen checks. The thieves apparently discarded the checks during their flight. Investigation into the case was continuing this morning.

Newsman Dies

BALTIMORE (AP) — Howard Eustice, veteran newspaperman who had served on copy desk staffs for major papers in seven cities, is dead at age 65. Before working for the News-American and the Sun papers in Baltimore, he was night telegraph editor for the Chicago Tribune. He died Saturday after a month's illness.

Lamesa Assessor To Convention

LAMESA (SC) — Gladys Dennis, tax assessor-collector for the Lamesa Independent School District, will attend a three-day tax training institute in Austin beginning this weekend.

Mrs. Dennis, newly elected vice president of the Texas Association of Assessing Officers, said the institute is to be conducted under joint sponsorship of TAAO and the University of Texas. She will attend an executive board meeting Sunday afternoon and a series of workshops dealing with various tax problems from Monday morning to noon Tuesday.

She will preside at the Tuesday general session of the institute which is scheduled to examine assessment of mobile home parks and recent legal developments in Texas property taxation. She will also preside at a noon luncheon gathering for delegates Tuesday.

Installed Enough Missiles In Cuba To Destroy Cities?

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev in the last installment of the reminiscences attributed to him says the Soviet government in 1962 installed enough missiles in Cuba to destroy New York, Chicago and other American industrial cities, "not to mention a little village like Washington."

But the account, "Khrushchev Remembers: Part IV," in the Dec. 18 issue of Life, says the Soviet aim was to keep the United States from invading Cuba, not to start a war. It says the Bay of Pigs invasion in April, 1961, convinced the premier that Soviet missiles should be installed in the Communist island.

The reminiscences also say President John F. Kennedy appealed to Khrushchev to order the missiles removed in the 1962 crisis because he feared a military takeover in the United States, and that Khrushchev assurances there would be no U.S. attempt to invade Cuba.

"The Caribbean crisis was a triumph of Soviet foreign policy and a personal triumph of my own career," Khrushchev is quoted as saying.

In another article in the magazine, an American doctor says Khrushchev told him last year that after Francis Gary Powers' U2 plane was shot down in Soviet territory in 1960, he "was no longer in full control . . . Those who felt America had imperialistic intentions and that military strength was the most important thing had the evidence they needed."

The doctor, McGehee Harvey, director of the Department of Medicine at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, went to the Soviet Union last year for a medical consultation on a member of the Khrushchev family.

HIS STORY

The Khrushchev reminiscences say that President Kennedy during the missile crisis sent his brother Robert, then the attorney general, to see Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrinin, and Kennedy told the Ambassador: "The President is in a grave condition . . . and he does not know how to get out of it. We are under pressure from our military to use force against Cuba. President Kennedy implores Chairman Khrushchev to take into consideration the pecularities of the American system. Even though the President himself is very much against starting a war over Cuba, an irreversible chain of events could occur against his will. That is why the President is appealing directly to Chairman Khrushchev for his help in liquidating this conflict. If the situation continues much longer, the President is not sure that the military will not overthrow him and seize power. The American army could get out of control.'"

VIEW LIGHTS FROM SCENIC

Big Spring residents who want a birds-eye view of the area Christmas light displays can visit the Big Spring State Park from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Park Ranger Ed Wisenbaker said the 8 p.m. closing time gives area persons enough time to see the Christmas lights at night. He also invited all persons to visit the park's prairie dog town. "The animals are adapting well to the area, but spend most of the time underground — preparing for the winter," he said.

Frank Sinatra Gives Her Away

CATHEDRAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — Nancy Sinatra said she chose the date for the wedding because "we decided that since Daddy likes to give things away on his birthday he ought to give me away."

And so on his 55th birthday Saturday Frank Sinatra did.

The Roman Catholic ceremony at St. Louis Church near her entertainer father's desert home was the second for both Miss Sinatra, 30, and her husband, Hugh Lambert, 40.

NEXT-TO-LAST RING IS GIVEN

Mrs. Linda Lemon, 104 NW 1st, was the winner of a $300 diamond ring at a drawing held Saturday.

The drawing is sponsored by participating downtown merchants, who have registration blanks for the drawing.

Last week, more than 10,000 shoppers entered the drawing.

The merchants will give away their sixth and final ring in a drawing Saturday afternoon, and invite all downtown shoppers to register for the drawing at participating stores.

Cowboy Hall Ceremonies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Dedication ceremonies were held at the National Cowboy Hall of fame in Oklahoma City Sunday for a new million dollar addition to the western museum.

Also placed on public display for the first time in Oklahoma was an 8,000-pound sculpture, "The End of the Trail," by the late James Fraser. The statue of a tired pony and his exhausted Indian rider was restored at a cost of some $50,000. It will remain on permanent display in the new Payne-Kirkpatrick Memorial Building at the Cowboy Hall of Fame.

Principal speaker at the dedication ceremony was U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, a close friend of the late Dave D. Payne, for whom the new building was named, along with Oklahoma City philanthropists Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kirkpatrick.

'Messiah' Majestic Start To Season

Another large crowd Sunday heard the traditional presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" at the First Methodist Church, and despite a reticence to applaud in a sanctuary, some gave the choir and accompanists a hand.

Ralph Dowden, director, had to step in as the last-minute replacement for Kenneth Roach in the tenor recitative and air which open the oratorio. He did it masterfully in displaying a fine voice. This was the second successive year that the tenor lead has been knocked out by a severe sore throat. Lester Morton, now of Midland, was last year's victim of the bug.

Dowden narrowly escaped injury when he slipped in attempting to remount the podium after his solo. Fortunately, he was only shaken and took over with aplomb. Kenny Sheppard directed during Dowden's solo passages.

All soloists acquitted themselves nobly, both as to quality and execution. Others were Sheppard and Susan Dawes, alto, Joyce Bradley and Marilyn Newsom; sopranos.

As usual, the accompaniment added great dimension to the work. Mrs. Mary Skalicky was at the pipe organ, and the string orchestra from the Midland-Odessa symphony, with Jack Rozman as concertmaster, furnished a rich, yet delicate backdrop for the incomparable composition. The Methodist choir was reinforced by HCJC Choir and by singers from other churches.

It seems hardly fair to single out choral numbers, but among those which struck the most responsive chords were "For unto Us a child is Born," "He Shall Feed His Flock," the "Hallelujah!" chorus, and the finale, "Worthy is the Lamb," with its swelling Amen chorus. Perhaps these were the more familiar passages of Handel's challenging work with its complex tapestry of indulating melodies. This year's crowd was a bit under the previous capacity turnouts, and more's the pity for it was a majestic start for the Christmas season.

IN PARADISE

A Pretty Girl Ranks Second To Balconies

PARADISE ISLAND, Bahamas (AP) — A pretty girl in the tiniest of bathing suits can stroll by the pool at the Britannia Beach Hotel and find all eyes fixed not on her but on three ninth-floor balconies.

It happens whenever a curtain seems to stir, or when a figure is spotted on the hotel roof.

For whether intentionally or not, Howard Hughes still is in the spotlight after more than two weeks in seclusion in the Bahamas.

No one who might recognize Hughes admits to seeing him. Yet everyone is certain he is here due to the four guarded suites on the top floor of the Britannia.

Few people have seen Hughes in the past 12 years. But at this resort, it is easy to find many who say they saw him during the past two weeks.

Waiters and busboys in several hotel restaurants swear they saw and served Hughes. Each one has a different description of the billionaire recluse.

And there is the guest who says he saw a man at 6:30 one morning, bundled up in a sweatsuit jogging slowly around the hotel tennis court. The guest is convinced it was Hughes.

A photographer aimed a powerful telephoto lens at one of the ninth floor balconies and found himself looking at a camera aimed at him by a man standing in front of the ever-drawn curtain.

A brief stir was created by the appearance of three men on the hotel roof. Were they making preparations for a helicopter landing? Perhaps. But a night-long vigil passed with no helicopter.

The betting is that it will take a helicopter landing on the roof to get Hughes out of the hotel undetected—if, in fact, he is here.

A local pilot said he is certain a helicopter capable of carrying up to 11 passengers could land on the roof with no advance preparation.

What brought Hughes here, if he is, remains a mystery.

Tools Stolen

Tools reportedly valued at $375 were stolen sometime after 7 p.m. Saturday from the Chapman Construction Co., Lamesa Hwy. Grover Kirk, reported to the Howard County Sheriff's Office today that the tools and their box were missing.

Funds Approved For Police Videotape Equipment Here

Gov. Preston Smith and the Texas Criminal Justice Council have approved a grant of $1,894 to the city police for the purchase of videotape recording equipment to aid law enforcement.

Official paperwork on the grants has not yet reached city hall, but the grant will require about $1,263 in matching funds to be approved by the city commission.

In requesting the grant, Chief of Police Jay Banks outlined several uses for the equipment, such as photographing arrested persons as they are booked into jail to reduce the number of false complaints about police brutality. The machines could also be used to substantiate intoxication charges made in court if the subject is photographed during tests at the station.

The equipment can be mounted in a patrol car for cinematic traffic studies or photography of traffic violations. In some cities videotape cameras have photographed riot participants.

Role-playing is one of the police training techniques aided by using videotape. Some policemen take the role of criminals about to be apprehended, and they must decide for themselves how to react to police action.

The machines may also be used to make training films or record police lectures.

The equipment planned for purchase is the Sony Law and Order Package, with camera, recorders, monitor set, and auxiliary supply unit. Special training will be needed by the personnel in the identification and records section, but everyone on the force is expected to use the equipment from time to time.

'ALL I WANT IS A BODY'

She Doesn't Want To Set World On Fire

WILLMETTE, Ill. (AP) — A woman graduate of George Washington University says she doesn't want to set the world on fire — she wants to extinguish some of the blazes.

Christine Bradley, 22, of this north suburb of Chicago, applied Nov. 18 to join the village fire department. Her request is expected to be acted on tonight by the Wilmette Police and Fire Commission.

Why does she want to be a fireman?

"I'm not suited for a 9 to 5 job," she explained "and firemen work 24-hour shifts then have 48-hours off. You could have a job and be able to go to school for a master's degree too," she said.

She already holds a bachelor's degree in anthropology.

Response from city officials to her idea was "rather adamant," she said. "They thought I was doing it just to cause trouble."

As for Fire Chief Frederick Behrendt, she says: "He was very polite to me."

Behrendt told a newsman he had "no opinion one way or the other," on who was hired. "All I want is a body," he said.

Asked if he would mind if the body was female, he replied, "I don't know.

"I don't do the hiring and firing," he said. "That's up to the Police and Fire Commission."

Commission regulations require a minimum height of 5 feet, 8 inches and a minimum weight of 140 pounds.

"That's going to be my major concern," said Christine, who stands 5 feet 4 and weighs 110 pounds.

She contends the current standards are "designed for men, not women. They're overlooking half the population."

She cited Chicago Fire Department regulations which were revised to accommodate persons of smaller build.

Police charged James W. Hale Jr., 18, of 3900 Hamilton, today for possession of a dangerous drug. Hale was reportedly arrested in the 1800 block of State at 4:30 a.m. today. Police are holding as evidence a bottle of pills identified as phenobarbital.

Three others were arrested at the same time for being under the influence of drugs or liquor in public. Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter set bond at $15,000 for Hale.

DEATHS

Henry L. Kidd, Lamesa Funeral

LAMESA (SC) — Henry L. Kidd, 68, a resident of Lamesa 44 years, died Sunday in his home at 1012 N. 12th, Lamesa.

Funeral was to be at 2:30 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Bill Hardage, pastor, and the Rev. Walter Horn officiating. Burial was to be in Lamesa Memorial Park.

Mr. Kidd was a member of IOOF No. 289 of Lamesa and had been a member of the First Baptist Church 15 years.

Survivors include his wife, Grace, of the home; three sons, Linual Kidd, Lamesa, and Weldon Kidd and Sherell Kidd, Austin; two daughters, Mrs. Wayne Hildreth, Midland, and Mrs. Wallace Stogner, Lamesa; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mary Chism, Funeral Today

LAMESA (SC) — Funeral was to be at 2 p.m. today in the Branon Funeral Home Chapel for Mary Chism, 78, who died Saturday.

Officiants were to be Herman Mayberry, minister of Northside Church of Christ, and Bill Allen, minister of Downtown Church of Christ. Burial was to be in Lamesa Cemetery.

Survivors include one son, E. N. Arwine, Lamesa; one grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

Shelby Pelton, Tuesday Rites

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Shelby Pelton, 60, died Saturday night in a Big Spring hospital after a two-week illness.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel in Colorado City. Burial will be in the Coahoma Cemetery.

Mr. Pelton was born Nov. 20, 1910, in Howard County and had lived most of his life in the Coahoma area, but he had moved to Westbrook two and a half years ago. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. A. G. Anderson, Westbrook, Mrs. Ralph Holloway, Corsicana, Mrs. Stella Butcher, Kankakee, Ill., and Mrs. Lucy Harrell, Longview; and three brothers, Perry Pelton, Dallas, Jack Pelton, Bridgeport, and Melton Pelton, Dillon, Mont.

Commissioners Study Bids, Land Purchase

County commissioners have tentatively awarded a $3,681.50 office supply contract for the courthouse to Hester Supply Co. The bids were opened at 10 a.m. today.

Hester Supply and Eugene Thomas Supply submitted bids and both had to delete some paper supplies from their bids. Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, was instructed to study the bids to determine if both were equal in the items bid on. Thomas bid $3,865.03.

Cleo Richardson, owner of property needed for the Andrews Hwy. widening and improvement project, was in Commissioners Court today to confer on the purchase of right-of-way across his land.

The county is offering $1,500 per acre. Richardson told the court that he would accept $2,500 for his .376 acre section the county desires for right-of-way.

Commissioners told Richardson that they would have to confer with members of the Highway Department before they could accept his terms. Commissioners pointed out that Richardson's tract of land might not be necessary to the project.

Max Green, CPA, was selected to do the 1970 audit. The county currently employs three local agencies who audit on a two-year rotating basis. Hollingsworth and Co. is one of the agencies used as is George Thorburn, CPA.

Joe Pond was scheduled to meet with the court this morning to discuss the possible combining of all county employes' bonds into a blanket bond. Currently each employe is allowed to obtain his bond from any bonding agency.

AN AMERICAN INVENTION — Bill Blackbeard, founder-director of the little known San Francisco Academy of Comic Art, says comics are no laughing matter to him. They are the very serious center of his scholarly life. His academy is a treasure house filled with examples of comic strips and cartoons. He claims his research has disclosed the first comic strip was drawn by Jimmy Swinnerton of San Francisco.

Classics Scholar Responds To Remarks Made By Erwin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A heated verbal exchange between Frank Erwin, chairman of the University of Texas regents board, and classics scholar Dr. William Arrowsmith, widened Sunday following Arrowsmith's resignation from the UT faculty.

Arrowsmith resigned Saturday, accusing Erwin of "tyranny" on the UT campus. Erwin responded that Arrowsmith had quit because his "lucrative playhouse had been exposed."

'PLAYHOUSE'

In rebuttal Sunday, Arrowsmith said Erwin's remarks were distortions.

"Not since," he said, "the late Huey Long has there been a politician who could so befuddle the public with calculated distortion. It is hard to avoid admiring chicanery, especially when it reaches the lower depths of genius as it does in Frank Erwin's reply to my resignation."

Erwin's "playhouse" remark referred to, he said, last summer's discovery that Arrowsmith was being paid $3,600 a month for teaching a single three-hour class of 13 undergraduates each week.

Arrowsmith responded that "Erwin purposely misrepresented" his teaching assignments by singling out a period when he was on an assignment with the U.S. State Department.

'LACKEY'

He said he had taught six classes of more than 160 students the preceeding semester.

Erwin had said Arrowsmith turned out but one Ph. D. graduate but the professor said one such degree in classics is in keeping with national averages.

Arrowsmith charged that "Erwin's direct and illegal intrusion into the management of the campus" has made the school's presidency an office of "mere functionary or lackey."

"The same is true of the chancellorship and the innumerable vice chancellorships, now for the most part occupied by mediocrities and non-entities who can be counted on to offer no opposition to Erwin's will," he added.

Erwin said Arrowsmith had made a "vicious personal attack on me and other university officials." He said Arrowsmith "chose to find another job rather than assume his fair share of the teaching load."

UT 'DOOMED'

A "great national university was very nearly created at Texas in recent years but all of this is now, I believe, doomed," said Arrowsmith.

Erwin, appointed to his post by then Gov. John Connally in 1963, has been exposed to a long-standing series of criticisms. Recently, he received wide criticism over his dismissal of Dr. John Silber, dean of the college of arts and sciences.

Arrowsmith said he plans to become a visiting professor of humanities at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Previously, he taught at Princeton and the University of California.

A Rhodes Scholar, he has authored numerous published works.

Hopes Yule Spirit Will Penetrate

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says he hopes the spirit of Christmas will penetrate to a society "in which freedom frequently seems to favor the formation of great collective selfishness."

The primate made his appeal in a hoarse voice from the window of his studio during his regular Sunday noon blessing to a crowd in St. Peter's Square.

He sounded as though he had a cold, but a Vatican spokesman said there was no report to make on the Pope's health.

DEMOCRATIC CONTENDERS—I

Sen. Muskie Running Ahead Of Nixon In Opinion Poll

Editor's Note: Who is going to challenge for the White House on behalf of the Democratic party in 1972 is already a dominant political question. The following dispatch, the first of five, considers Edmund S. Muskie, a once-obscure Maine senator.

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two years and a long campaign away from the ultimate goal, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is the front runner, the target, the Democrats' presidential prospect with the most to lose. He delights in the role.

MATTER OF TIME

His formal announcement of candidacy will not come for a while, but it will come. It is only a matter of time.

But Muskie of Maine is on the move, speaking out more sharply and quickly on major developments at home and overseas, planning to travel abroad—probably next month—seeking to enhance his foreign policy credentials.

Every likely rival acknowledges Muskie a long lead toward the 1972 nomination; Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts said it may be all but insurmountable.

One public opinion poll shows Muskie running ahead of President Nixon, the ultimate rival, 46 per cent to 40 per cent.

"It doesn't mean anything," said Muskie. "There are going to be ups and downs. I've been Goddamned lucky. It hasn't been the result of deliberate planning."

In a Senate anteroom, Muskie says he can see no value in evaluating his candidacy, and proceeds to do so.

"I don't know whether I'm a front runner or not. There's no way of proving it, the polls are the only indication."

"As the front runner, you tend to become the target of the other candidates . . . But it also means that the front runner is a meaningful candidate . . .

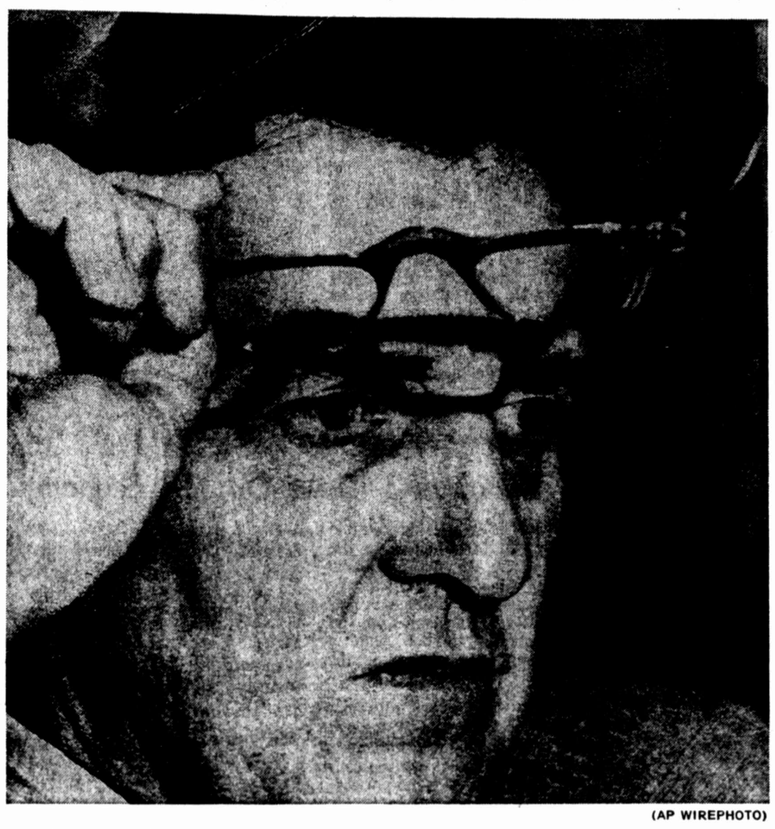

"If there were a way of pacing this as you do a horse race, a pacing race, I suppose the pace might be a little bit slower."

Then a shrug.

Muskie says he cannot pace what he did not plan. He believes his high rating in recent polls stems from his appearance as the Democratic spokesman in an election-eve telecast last month.

"I suppose in a sense that was a pure stroke of luck," said Muskie of the biggest single boost to his candidacy since named to the party's vice presidential spot in 1968. "How do you control that?"

"If the result is to get you running faster than you want to be running, that's the price you have to pay."

Withdrawals Race Ahead Of Schedule

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that American troop strength in Vietnam has dropped below 344,000, beating President Nixon's withdrawal timetable by three weeks.

Nixon already has announced that U.S. forces in Vietnam will be reduced another 60,000 troops by next May 1, and informed sources said 7,000 of these will be cut by the end of the year, dropping American strength to about 337,000 men.

The U.S. Command said American troop strength in Vietnam was 343,700 men last Thursday, 6,000 less than the previous week and the lowest level in more than four years. The command said the total included 258,300 Army, 43,300 Air Force, 25,000 Marines, 17,000 Navy and 100 Coast Guard.

PARED POWER

Nixon has now pared American strength in Vietnam by 37 per cent from a peak of 543,000 in April, 1969, to its present level. Authoritative sources said present plans call for all U.S. combat troops to be out of Vietnam by the summer of 1972. But one source said a "very substantial number" of Americans would remain to give the South Vietnamese advisory, logistics and air support.

As a result of the withdrawal program, the big U.S. base camp at Cu Chi, 20 miles northwest of Saigon, was turned over to the South Vietnamese 25th Infantry Division during the weekend. It replaces the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, all but one brigade of which has been returned to Hawaii.

Highly placed sources also reported that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong are scaling down their forces in South Vietnam, having deactivated four regiments and 15 battalions since last July.

"Most were deactivated because of tremendous personnel losses," said one informant.

The U.S. Command reported no major ground action but announced the loss of an American spy plane over Laos, an F100 jet fighter-bomber in Cambodia and two helicopters in Vietnam, raising to 7,379 the total number of aircraft reported lost in the war. One man was reported killed and five wounded, all aboard the two helicopters.

The spy plane was a B57 loaded with top-secret electronic equipment. The command said it was brought down by ground fire Saturday night while over the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos, but informants said the Air Force thinks the secret detection equipment was destroyed. The two crewmen were rescued.

Two American soldiers were killed and five wounded by a booby trap in Quang Ngai province south of Da Nang. Two Vietnamese riding a motorbike threw two gasoline bombs at a U.S. Army bus in Saigon today, but nobody was hurt, and the Vietnamese escaped.

May Try To Persuade Nixon To Adopt New Look In '72

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Republican Governors, their ranks thinned by election defeats, may try to persuade the White House to adopt a new political look in the 1972 campaign, urging that the GOP put its emphasis on the positive rather than on the attack.

But one Republican governor said his colleagues are not likely to stage any political rebellion—in part because so many lame duck governors would like jobs in the administration.

Thirty GOP governors and governors-elect hold the first business session today at their winter conference in this snowy mountain resort.

LOOKING FOR JOBS

Ten of them here will be yielding their statehouses to newly elected Democrats next month. All told, Democrats displaced eleven Republican governors in the November elections.

"One of the things that's going to keep this from being very flashy is that about half the people here are looking for jobs in the Nixon administration," said Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon. "That's going to inhibit any revolution."

There has been speculation that Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, may wind up in the administration after he leaves office.

Gov. Don Samuelson of Idaho, another lame duck, said he would like an appointment to work on Western states programs for the interior or agriculture departments.

Gov. David F. Cargo of New Mexico said he is going back to the practice of law and is not interested in any administration posts.

TALK POLITICS

About a dozen of the governors planned to meet later today to talk about politics, the 1970 campaign and the future of the party.

Cargo and McCall both said they were concerned about President Nixon's firing of Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel. Cargo said he intends to protest Hickel's ouster to administration officials.

Local Sales About Normal For Christmas

Local merchants surveyed this morning said that Christmas sales were running about normal compared to last year despite a late start.

"It was tough sledding for a while, but now our sales are up and it looks like we'll have a good Christmas season," one merchant said.

Merchants reported that toys were selling slightly higher than last year but that no items or departments were being neglected by the shoppers.

Several merchants said the busiest day of the season so far was Saturday, and it looks like heavy shopping will continue until Christmas.

Only 10 shopping days remain before Santa Claus makes his midnight toy-delivery rounds.

Rights Of Negroes Facing Court Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court turned today to two new tests of the rights of Negroes—to move up on the job and to approach social equality.

In one case, a group of North Carolina black workers is trying to wipe out intelligence examinations and educational requirements they say have kept them from advancing to better-paying jobs.

In the other, a handful of Mississippi blacks is trying to force Jackson officials to open swimming pools closed when courts ordered them integrated.

In both instances, the blacks have the important and vigorous support of the Justice Department, though the government is not participating directly in the hearing.

Together, the cases will measure the high court's attitude in areas where discrimination, if it exists, is on a more sophisticated plateau.

The black workers are from Draper, N.C., where the Duke Power Co. has a generating plant. There, the blacks say, they are frozen into inferior jobs because they cannot pass tests or produce academic credentials that have nothing to do with the better jobs they are seeking.

Jack Greenberg, general counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, argues that irrelevant qualifications are prohibited by Title VII of the 1964 federal civil rights law. The provision bars job discrimination based on race, sex or nationality.

The company's lawyer, George W. Ferguson Jr. of Charlotte, defends the tests as a necessary measure of competence. The government, meanwhile, has entered a "friend-of-court" brief strongly supporting Greenberg's position.

Significantly, the battleground no longer is whether blacks are being denied jobs, but whether they are being denied better jobs.

The second appeal culminates an eight-year fight by Jackson blacks to integrate five swimming pools. When courts ordered them integrated, the city council decided to close the pools down.

POOLS CLOSING

Paul A. Rosen, a young Detroit lawyer, argues that the blacks have a right to a reopening of the pools since the closing was "racially motivated."

His colleague in the case is William M. Kunstler of New York City, a prominent advocate of radical causes who is asking the court to ban all forms of social discrimination —even the exclusion of black workers from a private, backyard party at the boss' house.

The Justice Department, in a brief, backs the Jackson Negroes and Rosen's interpretation of the Constitution though it does not go to the frontiers pushed by Kunstler.

William F. Goodman Jr., a Jackson lawyer, argues for city officials, meanwhile, that the Negroes simply have no right to require the city to make public swimming pools available.

Stunt Man Missing, Manson Faces Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The county grand jury was called today to investigate the disappearance of a stunt man who once worked at the movie ranch where Charles Manson and his hippie-style family lived.

The district attorney was expected to seek murder indictments against Manson and two male family members, sources said.

The grand jury hearings should last three days with 45 witnesses summoned, including some members of the Manson family who testified at the nearly six-month-old Sharon Tate murder trial.

Donald "Shorty" Shea, 36, a horse wrangler and character actor, vanished in August, 1969, and has not been heard from since.

The district attorney thinks Shea was stabbed to death, his body hacked up and disposed of, sources reported.

Shortly after Manson's arrest in the Tate slayings, sheriff's deputies spent days digging around the Spahn Ranch, 25 miles north of Los Angeles.

Paul Watkins, a 20-year-old family member, testified at the Tate trial Oct. 27 that Manson once talked about killing a man named "Shorty."

'SAD' CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR WORKING HORSES

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Humane Society gave its 38th annual Christmas party for working horses Saturday, but only two showed up and they had to come out of retirement for the event.

The party for the city's working horses years ago drew hundreds of animals, whose owners competed for cash prizes for having taken best care of them over the years.

But times have changed. Saturday, Maggie, owned by Frank Berry, 73, and Chicken, owned by John Clark, 80, had to come out of retirement to attend the event. Berry, who used to collect junk along Detroit's Trumbull Ave., said he takes Maggie out now only for exercise.

Sgt. Jack Holt of the mounted police division declared the competition a tie.

BEST PROTECTION: EXAMINATION BY PARENTS

Hazards May Lurk In Christmas Toys

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soft cuddly animals which harbor barbed teeth or wire in their ears. Toy weapons which can damage a child's hearing. Noisemakers which can easily become dislodged and be swallowed.

These are examples of hazards which private and government organizations say parents should watch for when they buy Christmas toys this holiday season.

HELLO DOC

President Nixon's consumer assistant, Virginia Knauer, warned parents last week to examine carefully the toys they give children. "Santa Claus should not be followed by a visit to the doctor," she said.

The Food and Drug Administration has negotiated changes or termination of 24 toys this year and proposed banning four others. Consumers Union has petitioned the courts to require that the government ban five others.

As the biggest toy-buying season of the year approached, Mrs. Knauer suggested that the best way to make sure toys are safe is for parents to examine them carefully.

TOY CLARINET

And Morris Kaplan, technical director for Consumers Union, has warned that manufacturers' agreements to stop selling toys cited by the government as unsafe are not assurances that the toys aren't still around. They can stay in the marketplace for months or years, said Kaplan.

One yardstick of the dangers inherent in some toys is the list of 24 on which the FDA has acted unofficially since the Toy Safety Act became law in January:

—In a toy clarinet the agency found a four-inch metal pin with a sharp point which could tear flesh. The point was made blunt.

—Lenses in toy sunglasses were found strong enough to alter a child's vision. The manufacturer stopped distribution.

—The point on an electric wood burning set exploded when plugged in. The point was redesigned.

SHARP TEETH

—A stuffed dog contained a nose anchored by sharp teeth and eyes which could be removed and possibly swallowed. The firm stopped using the style of nose and eyes.

—The noise of a cap pistol hurt children's eardrums. The pistol was discontinued.

—A bottle of play electric shave lotion was contaminated with bacteria. The firm retained a laboratory to monitor future shipments.

Other dangers cited in the National Commission on Product Safety's final report this summer included electrical toys which become hot enough to burn children or presented shock hazards.

The commission also was critical of high-rise bicycles, noting that the number of injuries associated with bicycles in general amounts to 1 million a year. This compares with 700,000 toy-related injuries and another 700,000 associated with playground swings and slides.

Both bicycles and toys rated in the commission's list of the ten household products most likely to injure.

An engineering report for the commission concluded that operation of high rise bicycles requires more skill than conventional bicycles because "shorter wheelbase and smaller wheel size are detrimental to both lateral and vertical plane stability."

The commission found that devices like "sissy bars," "banana seats" and center-mounted gearshifts make the high-rise bikes even more hazardous.

The bicycle industry, which admitted it made no detailed engineering studies before putting the bicycles on the market, has formed a safety advisory committee since publication of the commission report.

BELL & HOWELL

A Devotion For Today . . .

The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord. (Proverbs 20:27)

PRAYER: Lord Jesus, come into my heart at this Christmas season and light my candle; illumine me with Your light and presence. Thank You, Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Help Thwart Thieves

Christmas shopping is hitting the high-gear stage, if not the desperation stage, this week

Hence, a hint of precaution is in order.

There are a few simple don'ts which may save you a lot of distress and money.

Don't put packages in your automobile without making sure it is securely locked; better still, put all of your packages in the trunk and make sure it is locked. That way you won't tempt thieves to break your car windows.

Be careful about carrying large sums of money with you; and if you do, don't let your purse out of your hand unless it is in your plain sight all the time.

Finally, never leave your house unlocked, even if you are just going to run down to the corner store. Packages piled high around a Christmas tree offer an easy target for hit-and-run thieves. And they might take more than your packages, too.

Good For The Girls

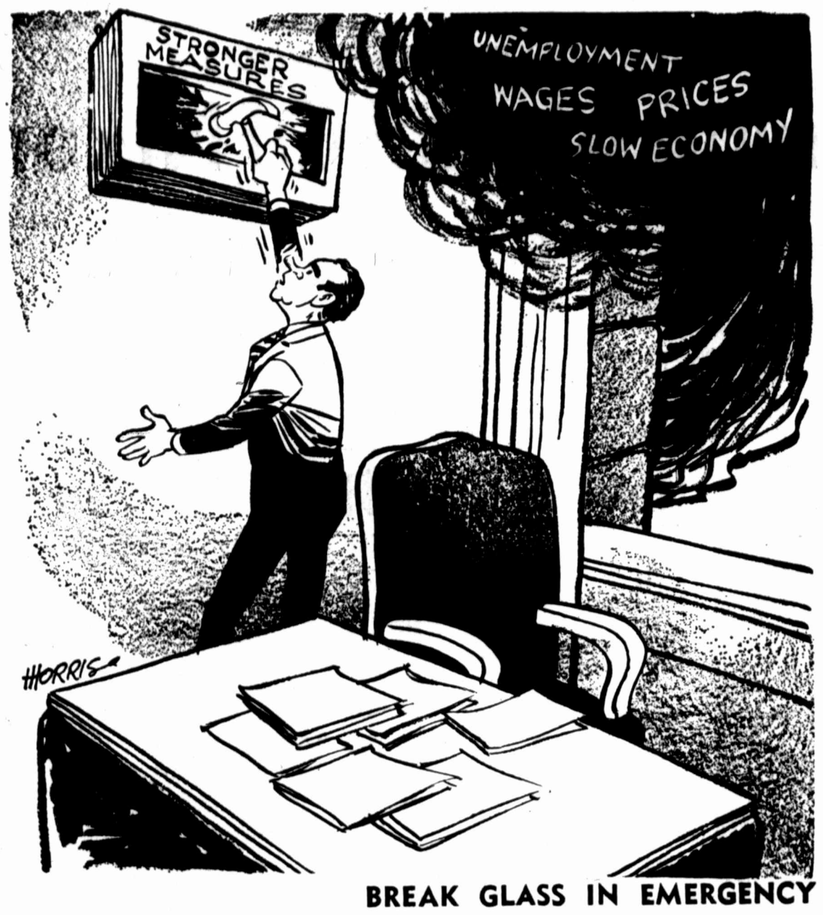

Take it from 2,355 driver education instructors in 600 high schools across the nation: Girls are catching up to boys in being better drivers.

As part of its review of driver education, Chrysler Corporation asked instructors to rate their young male and female pupils. Despite boys having head starts because of earlier interest in cars and things mechanical, girls achieve driver-safety equality by the end of the courses taken by high school students.

The boys still hold a slight lead in the eyes of instructors—52 per cent to 48 per cent—but instructors report girls accept instruction more seriously and are more eager to learn.

Nationwide, according to highway safety authorities and others involved in driver safety, youngsters who take driver education courses have fewer violations and fewer accidents, both sexes included.

With 20 per cent of America's drivers in the teen-age bracket, it's good to know the girls are pushing the boys in the right direction — toward safety.

BREAK GLASS IN EMERGENCY

Around The Rim

Today, We All Weep Together

What ever happened to the old saying: "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone?

The philosophy now seems to be that we'll all weep together — especially today's alienated, concerned, disillusioned, turn-off generation — because mankind is going down the drain and the person who sees humor in any thing is just a little kooky.

WHERE ARE the Irish when we need them? Fighting each other, that's where. Time was when an Irishman could laugh at anything. His sense of humor was about the only thing that made life tolerable for him. Nowadays, that seems to have disappeared into the gloaming.

Down through time, comedy has been referred to as "the imitation of life, the glass of custom and the image of truth" but people today no longer seem to want to be confronted with the truth.

HUMOR REMAINS a sought-after commodity but laughs are harder to come by because so few new clowns are emerging to replace the laugh masters who are fading into limbo.

I think the brightest young comic of our time is Flip Wilson and he is being clobbered by militants of his own race because he won't slant his style and become involved in the civil rights movement.

Today's youthful audiences seem more interested in music than laughs. That in itself is hard to understand, since much of the music they listen to today is garbage.

SATIRE SEEMS to be the order of the day in entertainment, wherein vices and follies are held up to ridicule. The young parodist ventures onto a college campus and scores by putting down the wealthy, the great middle class and the establishment while praising the revolutionaries among the ethnic groups, the oddballs and the fruitcakes of society. He becomes identified as a great wit when, in reality, he isn't funny at all — he's simply saying what his audiences want to hear.

DOWN THROUGH TIME, the predominant theme in all humor has been man's folly. Society despises the perfect man or the pretender. He likes the bumbler because he identifies with him.

So much of the time, we are prone to laugh at something because we cannot weep over it.

It would be a dreary life indeed if we couldn't stop along the way occasionally and laugh about our inadequacies, our social blunders and our misjudgments. The best humorists today are working amongst us without pay.

Burleson Reports

Need For Health Care Personnel

WASHINGTON — It is somewhat difficult to understand just why there is a critical shortage of health care personnel. True enough, our population now stands at 205 million people but the last decade increase is not in proportion to the demand for Registered Nurses.

Warnings come from doctors and other experts in the field of health care that the situation is likely to worsen before it gets better.

Latest statistics show that there are now about 720,000 Registered Nurses on active duty but that 155,000 more are needed. It is estimated that by 1975 a million more RNs will be required to keep hospital care up to minimum standards.

EVEN DURING the present shortage, federal, state and local health care people are attempting to close the shortage gap by a number of methods. One method, is providing financial aid for nurses training. From 1950 up to the last two years, active Registered Nurses have been increased by 76 per cent. Licensed Practical Nurses have risen at the same period by 134 per cent, but the shortage continues to be descried as critical.

IN ADDITION to more graduate nurses and licensed vocational personnel, some of the big-city hospitals have been recruiting nurses from England, Canada, Australia and Ireland. Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas has filled 104 nursing positions with foreign personnel. Many nurses have been induced to return from retirement to their active profession by reason of increased pay.

Other incentives are being offered. As an example, All Saints Episcopal Hospital in Fort Worth is reported to offer facilities for the care of children while the mother works. In some cities retired police and firemen are being offered nurse's training and the guarantee of a job.

FROM ALL INDICATIONS the problem of qualified health care is greater in the big city hsopitals and in the more rural hospitals than in medium-size towns and cities. One of the reasons given for this situation is living conditions in these two extreme circumstances. In the cities there is the problem of living in the area where the hospital is located. There is a fear of going out at night in crime-infested cities, and the opportunity is plentiful to take on assignments in the day-time at a more convenelent place. In the small towns in the more rural areas, opportunity is less for the husband of a married nurse, and the pay is less.

A LACK OF registered nurses and other qualified health care personnel leaves some medical facilities unutilized, so reports from many parts of the country say. Of course, the work-load of Registered Nurses has been increased by requirements under medicare and medicaid, some of which could be performed by other professions qualified for the particular service.

ALTHOUGH FEDERAL, state, local and private professions in the health care field are making tremendous efforts to alleviate the critical shortage of health care personnel, there is need for a better coordinated effort. Such an effort, including provision for hospital facilities and health insurance, has this week been presented in the form of a proposal which I have just introduced and which will be considered in the new Congress convening in January. The purpose of introducing the measure at this time is that the professional people in health care services, including doctors, nurses, hospital administrators, insurers and others, may have an opportunity to study the proposals and be prepared to testify before the Committees of Congress handling these matters.

World Keeps An Interest In Timepieces

NEW YORK (AP) — About 45 million watches will be sold in the United States this year, bringing the 10-year total to nearly 350 million and suggesting that something other than time is on the minds and wrists of buyers.

Quite true. Ladies to whom time is of no essence buy tiny watches in jewelled cases as accessories to their various costumes. Men buy snorkel or diver's watches for the reasons they also buy sportscars. Children buy them because they like Mickey Mouse or Spiro Agnew.

In underdeveloped lands, especially in Asia, the growing demand for watches indicates they are one of the first signs that industrial culture is accepted by people who still prefer to tell time by the sun.

In all, about 159 million watches were made throughout the world last year, and the total this year is expected to be close to that figure. Next year should be even better, of course, as the world remains fascinated by timepieces.

But all is not comfortable in the watch industry and it seldom has been. The record is spattered with tariff fights, intrigue and commercial tragedies, although it also has been enlivened by ingenious marketing and innovations.

In the United States, only one company, Bulova, continues to manufacture jewelled watches domestically, although Longines-Wittnauer assembles high quality units from imported parts.

Some of the biggest names have ceased to exist and, currently, others are experiencing several financial problems. Hamilton lost $4 million in the first nine months of the year. Elgin National is diversifying into other products.

But there is another side to the story. Some of the problems encountered by the makers of expensive jewelled watches, in which hard artificial rubies are placed at friction points, results from the success of pin-lever watches.

The latter use a simple connecting pin where moving parts come together, and so have managed to sell their products for as low as $5 or $6. One company, Timex, is expected to account for no less than one-third of all U.S. sales this year.

But, judging from the names on the gravestones, past success is no criterion of the future, and everyone from one-man Swiss shops to the big mass producers are closely watching the moves of the Japanese and Russians.

A decade or so ago neither of these nations had watch industries capable of competing internationally, but last year the U.S.S.R. was entrenched in second place and the Japanese in third, making 24 million and 19 million watches respectively.

In their advance they dropped the United States, with production of 17.7 million watches, to fourth place and seriously challenged the Swiss in some of their markets.

Although the Swiss remain far ahead, with 71 million units manufactured last year by 1,200 firms, they realize that they could be "tariffed" out of some markets to protect an emerging domestic industry and outsold in others. Competition knows few bounds.

Fags Reduce Sex Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Americans have some 800 million unfilled dental cavities and about one in 20 million people are toothless. The more hopeful side of an American Dental Association report, however, is: Emphasis in dental work in the last decade has switched from fixing damage to preventing it.

Tokyo, with an estimated population of 11.4 million people and claiming to be the world's largest city, is planning to solve its housing crisis by the erection of apartment buildings ranging from 20 to 100 stories. The latter would rise to a height of 1,150 feet.

Guess what else cigarettes may do harmful to man.

Reduce his sex drive.

A Soviet newspaper, citing what it describes as scientific evidence, says changes in sex hormones resulting from the effect of smoking on the blood notably reduces the sexual interest and performance of men over 40—even men of 30.

There's many a slip: Man is supposed to have invented stairways about 4,000 years ago. Now some 250,000 people in the United States are hurt in stairway falls, and one in 20 deaths in household injuries result from falling down steps. Warning: Don't go around the home wearing only stockings made of synthetic fabrics. They're too slippery. If you don't keep your shoes on—or slippers with a grip—you're better off to go barefooted.

Tiny aids: It is wrong to think of all bacteria as harmful. They make possible the production of wine and vinegar, the turning of dead plants into topsoil, and help cows manufacture milk from grass. In our intestinal tract they even produce some of the vitamins we need. About 2,000 species are currently known, some so small that a million of them could sit on the point of a needle without obvious discomfort.

Something for nothing: Store thefts now cause an annual loss of $3 billion a year, an increase of 134 per cent since 1960. Who are the shoplifters? Surveys in Atlanta and New York showed that in from 60 to 75 per cent of the cases they were under 21 years old.

Soldiers' Hostel

JERUSALEM (AP) — A luxury hotel for Israeli soldiers with recreational facilities including a swimming pool, bar and discotheque opened in Jerusalem this month.

The soldiers-only hostel charges its guests 85 cents per night for a bed. Meals are available at minimal prices.

The hotel was built for 1.5 million dollars from private contributions.

Fed Chairman's Views On The Economy

WASHINGTON — Considerable significance can be attached to the speech made by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, at Pepperdine College in Los Angeles last week. He dealt with the current economic situation with a feeling of confidence concerning the future.

WHILE THE Federal Reserve Board is, of course, concerned primarily with monetary matters, it keeps in close touch with every development in the economic world. Mr. Burns analyzed the inflation which started in 1964. He referred particularly to a mood of "speculative exuberance" which reinforced the upsurge of corporate mergers in the middle 1960s. He said that, while many of these mergers could be justified on the grounds of efficiency, their financial history suggests that some businessmen became preoccupied with "promoting the conglomerate image," and they lost sight of "the primary objective of seeking larger profits through improved technology, marketing and management." He added:

"WHEN TALENTED corporate executives devote their finest hours to arranging speculative maneuvers, the productivity of their businesses inevitably suffers — and so too does the nation's productivity. These speculative excesses had to end, and it is fortunate that they ended before bringing disaster to our nation. Equity values are now being appraised more realistically than a year or two ago."

The Federal Reserve Board chairman declared that our major financial institutions have proved to be strong and resilient and are much stronger today. He said that corrective adjustments in private financial practices have improved the prospects for maintaining order and stability in financial markets.

BUSINESS ATTITUDES toward cost controls have changed dramatically in Mr. Burns' opinion, as he noted that a cost-cutting process "more widespread and more intense than at any time in the postwar period is now under way in the business world." For this reason, he remarked, the growth of productivity has resumed "after two years of stagnation."

THE COMMENTS by the Federal Reserve Board chief about wages are especially interesting at this time. He asserted that the government's efforts to achieve price stability are continually thwarted "by the continuance of wage increases substantially in excess of productivity gains." He declared that the inflation of today "rests on the upward push of costs — mainly, sharply rising wage rates." Mr. Burns added:

"Nor is the end of this explosive round of wage increases yet in sight. Next year, contracts expire in such major industries as steel, aluminum, copper and cans. If contracts in those industries are patterned on recent agreements in the construction industry — or, for that matter, in the trucking and automobile industries — heavy upward pressures on prices will continue."

MR. BURNS MADE several suggestions about further steps that may prove necessary to reduce upward pressures on cost and prices. Among these are the creation on a nationwide scale of local productivity councils to seek ways of increasing efficiency, a modification of minimum wage laws to improve job opportunities for teenagers, national building codes to break down barriers to the adoption of modern production techniques in construction industries, and compulsory arbitration of labor disputes "in industries that vitally involve the public interest."

Billy Graham

When I was a child I thought life was wonderful, but now I am disillusioned. How can a young person feel secure in this world?

R.T.

The truth is: There is no real security apart from God. I know men who have been successful in the world's terms, but there is always something missing when God is not taken into account. He is the element which brings the fragmented pieces of life together and gives them meaning. I would hate to think what would have happened to me if I had not found Christ in my teens. I'm sure that I would have been as bad or worse than some of our young people today. But Christ did for me what He has done for so many others: fit the jigsaw puzzle of life together and gave it meaning.

It is a shock when we awaken to the fact that the world is filled with so many people who have distorted ideas about what life is all about. They tend to put a high price on cheap things, and a cheap price on good things. But remember, God's values never change. The Bible says: "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: but let him that glorieth glory in this, THAT HE UNDERSTANDETH AND KNOWETH ME." (Jer. 9:23.) Christ is the answer to disillusionment. There never lived a person on earth who, having known Him, was disappointed in Him. He can give meaning and purpose to your life.

Birth Control

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand Roman Catholic bishops have agreed to provide about 12,000 New Zealand dollars ($13,440 US) over the next three years to finance research into the rhythm method of birth control.

The project, aimed at making the method surer, will be carried out at Auckland's National Woman's Hospital by a group headed by Dr. John France, himself a Catholic. He is a senior lecturer at the city's postgraduate school of obstetrics and gynecology, and has a special interest in the action of steroid hormones in reproduction and pregnancy.

If the research program is successful, he believes its results will particularly benefit Catholic married couples — who are forbidden use of the pill — and will also be welcomed by many non-Catholic couples.

The principal object is to achieve a means by which ovulation can be regulated to occur at a set time in a woman's menstrual cycle.

400 Drinking From The Same Cup

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This may be a delicate question because it involves a religious ceremony, but answering scientifically, is it dangerous for a group of people (I mean about 400) to drink from the same cup, passing it from one to another and wiping the spot they drink from with the same cloth napkin? I worry about hepatitis, tuberculosis, etc.

Most of the people seemingly do not worry about this, and the ones who do are hesitant to pass the cup by, for fear of looking "different."

This ceremony occurs several times a year at school, and as a mother of one of the participants I would like to have it cancelled because I feel it isn't healthy. Perhaps I am wrong, but if I'm right, I need some basis for stating my feelings to school officials.

Can you contract hepatitis, TB, etc., this way?

Does a private school have to follow public health regulations? —K.C.

Well, yes, it is a touchy topic, but I'll give you the best answer I can.

True, it is possible to transmit hepatitis, tuberculosis, or other infections in such manner — provided, of course, someone in the group has such a disease. Religion doesn't provide total immunity from the laws of nature, as witness occasional outbreaks of food poisoning at church suppers, or in school cafeterias, or picnics.

But if you ask me for specific examples of disease being spread by use of a common cup, I don't know that I can do so. That would be difficult to prove unless it happened to be a disease that developed rapidly, and among a considerable number of participants.

I've asked public health officials, and they tell me, yes, regulations apply to private schools just as they apply to anybody, but it is a ticklish and touchy matter unless a definite danger can be cited. There is a potential danger in a common cup, but it is not easy to specify how much danger exists. So it's a situation that is, for the most part, allowed, like a sleeping dog, to lie.

* * *

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 19 and my fiance is 24. We are fifth cousins. Do you think this is far enough off for marriage? He had mumps when he was 6. Can this cause sterility? Please answer as we are very worried. —J.W.

Yes, I'd say a fifth cousin is far enough removed. Mumps can cause sterility, but that is usually because the person is older when he gets the disease; very rarely at age 6. You're probably worrying for nothing. A sperm test can be done to determine his status.

* * *

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for send for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "You and Your Gall Bladder." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Nixon's Troubles In His Own Party

WASHINGTON — "Wally Hickel by himself is unimportant," said the conservative White House aide. "But Wally's a symptom of a situation we've got to face — that the President doesn't exactly have a united Republican Party behind him."

The aide, who wrote some of Spiro Agnew's more fiery speeches, is a realist not noted for understating the administration's difficulties. While remarking correctly that "All Presidents have this kind of internal trouble — (Hell, look at Franklin Roosevelt)" — he admitted that troubles are accumulating for Richard Nixon.

QUITE ASIDE from the sacking of Interior Secretary Hickel for "disloyalty," there are other disconcerting signs of a handwriting on the wall for Nixon. Some moderate-to-conservative Republicans deserted the President on the Senate vote to reject the administration's request for $290 million for the supersonic transport plane. Without their defection, the SST would have breezed. And there is restlessness in GOP ranks over inflation, the Vietnam War and the administration's refusal to cut back on U.S. troops strength in Europe.

IN SHORT, less than two years before he must run again, Richard Nixon is facing a growing discontent among the politicians whose support he will need even to be renominated by his party.

The thought that a party would discard an incumbent President is so startling as to seem idiotic. For one thing, it would be an admission of party failure. For another, it would mean scrapping the political muscle that resides in the White House. Yet the possibility definitely exists.

ONE REASON is that party politicians, acknowledging that Nixon is a minority President, can't help wondering whether he can win again in 1972. Frank Roosevelt and Dwight Eisenhower were the recent exceptions to the rule that an incumbent President suffers an erosion of popularity merely by occupying the office, especially in times of turmoil such as now exxist. Another is that the GOP is not lacking in men ambitious to take a whack at unseating Richard Nixon.

CALIFORNIA Gov. Ronald Reagan's people already privately have said Reagan will seek the GOP nomination in '72. New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, on the opposite, liberal end of spectrum, is also interested. So is leberal Sen. Mark Hatfield of Oregon.

HICKEL'S INDIRECT indictment of Nixon: ("I think the people want to see someone in Washington who cares") is one Nixon must answer in the next two years. On the SST issue he is open to the charge that he is insensitive to the necessity for an urgent reordering of national priorities. Although expressing himself as concerned about the balance of payments, he insists on keeping 300,000 U.S. troops in Europe, at a cost of $14 billion a year. His support of consumer legislation has been lukewarm at best.

In another era, Nixon would be right. He may even be right today. But today his thinking definitely does not reflect the feelings of a majority of the electorate, as shown in poll after poll. As that White House aide suggested, the President may not be able to count on the support of even his own party.

Used Tires

NEW YORK (AP) — Safety tire studs should never be installed in worn tires, even if they haven't been used much. Holes molded into the tires to accept the studs will quickly collect particles of dirt. Experts at Kingrip Division, Kennametal Inc., explain that during installation, the studs may push dirt particles through the casing and ruin the tire.

Doug Sanders Breaks Famine

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama (AP) — Doug Sanders broke a long victory famine. And Arnold Palmer broke a long victory string.

"It's important to know I'm not finished," the 37-year-od Sanders said Sunday after a two-hole sudden-death playoff victory over Chris Blocker for the $26,000 first-place check in The Bahama Islands Open Golf Tournament.

"Well, we'll have to try it again next year,' the bitterly disappointed Palmer said after his drive failed in this, the last tournament of the year. And, for the first time since 1955, he doesn't have a major title to call his own.

Sanders abandoned his happy-go-lucky playboy role for one of stony-faced determination in the final round as he sought his first victory in almost four years.

He watched in stricken fascination as the husky, hard-hitting Blocker nibbled away at his lead, passed him and finished with a sparkling six-under-par 66 for 272.

Sanders, winner of 17 previous events but slump-ridden for two years, came to the finishing hole, a long par-five with water in the front, needing a birdie to tie. He put his second in a trap to the right of the green, blasted out some 45 yards to about seven feet and knocked in the putt that forced the 12th playoff on the circuit this season. He finished with a 68.

"I wanted to go for the green," he said, "but I didn't want to put myself completely out of position to make four. When I made that sand shot I really felt I could make the putt."

Both Sanders and Blocker made par on the first playoff hole. Blocker, a 31-year-old veteran of six years on the tour, bogeyed the second from a trap and Sanders scored a two-putt par for his first victory since the 1967 Doral Open.

Lee Trevino had a final round 65, a course record, and protected his triple crown as the No. 1 money winner, the Vardon Trophy winner and the leader in exemption points.

He had a 275 total for third place and finished the year with over $156,000 in winnings.

Dick Crawford, also with a 65, was fourth at 276, followed by Tommy Aaron, 277, Gay Brewer, 278, Dave Hill, 279, and Palmer, who had a 69 for 281.

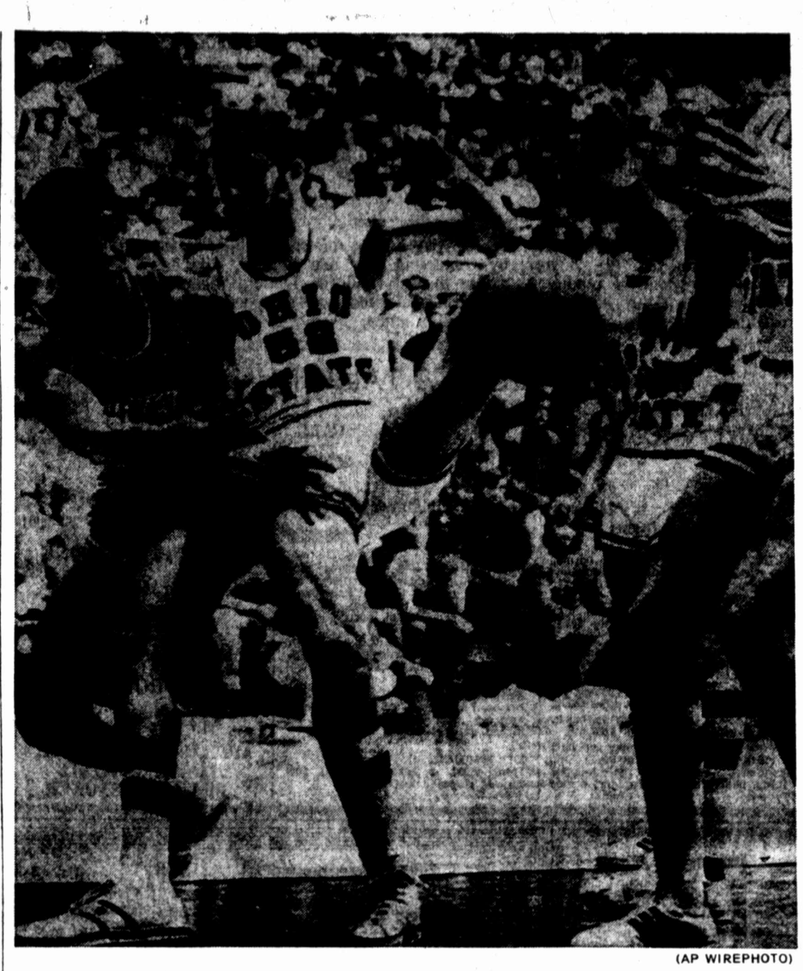

Player's Dad Fatally Shot

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., (AP) — The father of Toronto Maple Leafs hockey player Brian Spencer was shot to death Saturday night after making a gun-point complaint about a television station's hockey coverage and wounding a Mountie, officials said.

Roy Edward Spencer, 59, Fort St. James, B.C., was killed after wounding constable Dave Pidruchny in the leg, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said. The shooting came as Spencer was leaving CKPG—TV, which he had forced off the air, the RCMP said.

Authorities said Spencer forced his way into the station with a .45-caliber pistol after telecast of the Vancouver-California National Hockey League game.

He complained to newsman Tom Haertel and asked why the station didn't broadcast more Maple Leaf games. His son had been interviewed during the Maple Leafs' east coast game, not seen in the Vancouver, B.C., area.

SOCCER KICKER IN BASKETBALL? — Well, hardly. Mike Macknim (52), Ohio State, isn't really kicking the ball away from the outstretched hands of Corky Calhoun, left, University of Pennsylvania, but falling down after the two collided during their non-conference basketball game Saturday night in Columbus, Ohio.

Last Games Decide Some NFL Titles

By The Associated Press

"The first step to the Super Bowl."

That's how Coach Don McCafferty described the 20-14 victory his Baltimore Colts registered Sunday over the Buffalo Bills in National Football League action.

The triumph gave the Colts, 1969 Super Bowl losers to the New York Jets, the championship of the American Conference East and one of the eight NFL playoff berths.

The Colts joined the Oakland Raiders and the Minnesota Vikings on the list of division champions. The Raiders wrapped up the AFC West on Saturday with a 20-7 decision over Kansas City, defending Super Bowl titlists. Minnesota won the National Conference Central Division crown last week.

DOWN TO WIRE

With only one more weekend of regular season action left, the NFC East and West and the AFC's Central Division races will go down to the wire.

The New York Giants, behind Fran Tarkenton's three touchdown passes, joined Dallas as NFC East co-leader by thumping the St. Louis Cards 34-17 in one of Sunday's key games. Dallas was a 6-2 victor over Cleveland on Saturday.

St. Louis isn't out of the title picture, however, although the Cards dropped to third place in the NFC East.

In Sunday's other games, Cincinnati's Bengals claimed sole possession of the AFC Central lead with a 30-20 beating of Houston; the Vikings crushed Boston 35-14; San Francisco remained on top of the NFC West with a 38-27 decision over New Orelans; Washington, with Larry Brown cracking the 1,000-yard rushing barrier, defeated Philadelphia 24-6; Atlanta cooled Pittsburgh's AFC Central title hopes 27-16; Chicago blasted Green Bay 35-17; Miami remained in the playoff picture despite Baltimore's title-clinching triumph by downing the Jets 16-10 and the Denver Broncos and San Diego Chargers played to a 17-17 deadlock.

KEY GAME TONIGHT

The Los Angeles Rams, only a half-game back of the 49ers in the NFC West, host the Detroit Lions, second-place team in the NFC Central Division but still playoff hopefuls, in tonight's NFL television spectacular (ABC).

The division winners in each conference, plus a fourth team from each conference—the division runners-up with the best record—qualify for the playoffs and a possible trip to next month's world championship game in Miami.

And here's how it went Sunday:

Colts 20, Bills 14: Norm Bulaich's three-yard scoring run after a 20-yard Johnny Unitas pass to Roy Jefferson brought Baltimore back from a 14-10 third-quarter deficit. Buffalo's Robert James got thrown out by officials as the result of a fight wich erupted after Bulaich's TD. The Bills were assessed 103 yards in penalties.

ANOTHER FIGHT

Giants 34, Cards 17: This game also saw a fight break out. Tarkenton, scoring once on a rollout himself, completed 14 of 21 passes for 242 yards plus his three TD tosses. One, however, was with the aid of a lateral by Bob Tucker to Don Hermann. Tucker went the first 12 yards, Hermann the final 20 on the scoring play.

Bengals 30, Oilers 20: Houston had to rally in the second half and Essex Johnson was the sparkplug. He ran 15 for one touchdown and hauled in a 49-yard pass from Virgil Carter for another score.

Vikings 35, Patriots 14: Reserve Minnesota quarterback Bob Lee threw twice for touchdowns and ran for a third as the Vikings crushed Boston and former teammate Joe Kapp, now the Pats' signal-caller. Lee, pinch-hitting for injured Gary Cuozzo, passed for 278 yards, hitting on 18 of 25.

Forty-niners 38, Saints 27; The Saints took a 21-10 halftime lead before San Francisco's John Brodie primed his offense, passing for three touchdowns, all to Gene Washington, and also sneaking one yard for a fourth TD.

SKINS WIN

Redskins 24, Eagles 6: Brown, who wound up with 1,081 yards, joins Gale Sayers and Leroy Kelly as the NFC's only active rushers with over 1,000 season yards. He scored one of the Washington touchdowns.

Falcons 27, Steelers 16: Randy Johnson got his first start this season as Atlanta's quarterback threw two touchdown strikes. The Steelers had four turnovers and were eliminated from the playoff picture with their loss.

Bears 35, Packers 17: Jack Concannon had his finest day for Chicago, hurling four touchdown passes and running 15 yards for a fifth score. Dick Gordon, leading pass catcher in the NFL, was on the receiving end of seven Concannon tosses. Two of Gordon's receptions were for touchdowns.

MAGIC TOE

Dolphins 16, Jets 10: The Miami victory boosted the Dolphins playoff chances and hurt those of Kansas City. A Dolphin triumph over Buffalo next Sunday—or even a tie—would give Miami the best won-lost showing among AFC runners-up and eliminate the Chiefs. Balding Garo Yepremian was the star of the Miami victory, kicking a 14-yard field goal with 1:57 left to break a 10-10 deadlock and then adding another three-pointer before the final gun.

Broncos 17, Chargers 17: Rookie Al Pastrana directed two fourth-quarter scoring marches to rally Denver from a 17-0 halftime deficit. John Hadl had passed 63 yards to Gary Garrison for one of San Diego's first-half TDs.

Frisco Beats Knicks At Own Game — Solid Defense

By The Associated Press

One mistake is one too many against the New York Knicks, says Nate Thurmond.

"I haven't seen a team play as well as a unit since the old Boston Celtics," says San Francisco's super center, "you just can't make any mistakes."

So the Warriors didn't make too many mistakes—and the Knicks did—Sunday night. The results was a 101-94 San Francisco victory.

San Francisco beat New York at its own game—defense—and Thurmond helped control the backboards with 17 rebounds although playing only part way on ailing knees.

Elsewhere, Atlanta beat Buffalo 110-91; San Diego defeated Cleveland 118-95; Milwaukee punished Seattle 124-107 and Detroit tripped Los Angeles 103-100.

In the NBA Saturday night, it was New York 118, Philadelphia 101; Phoenix 113, Milwaukee 111; Buffalo 93, Detroit 92; Baltimore 119, San Francisco 96; Cincinnati 114, Cleveland 95; Atlanta 107, Portland 101 and Chicago 103, San Diego 98.

Pete Maravich scored 12 of his 22 points in the fourth period, helping Atlanta pull away from Buffalo at the end. Walt Hazzard led the winners with 26 points and John Hummer had 22 for the Braves.

Elvin Hayes scored 40 points for San Deigo, his third straight 40-point night against Cleveland. The Cavaliers dropped their 31st in 33 games.

Lew Alcindor scored 40 points in Milwaukee's easy victory over Seattle. The Bucks pulled away from a 31-31 tie at the beginning of the second period and never looked back.

Terry Dischinger and Dave Bing scored 20 and 19 points and Jimmy Walker hit clutch baskets in the fourth period to pull Detroit over the Lakers.

Charlie Scott Paces Victory

By The Associated Press

What can you say about Charlie Scott?

How about, great.

The Virginia rookie continued his hot scoring pace Sunday night, leading the Squires to a 112-109 American Basketball Association victory over Utah.

Scott scored 40 points, the fourth time in seven games he's hit the mark.

Pittsburgh bounced Kentucky 130-125; the Floridians trimmed New York 100-07 and Carolina nipped Texas 119-118 in the other ABA games.

In the ABA Saturday night, Indiana beat Texas 124-118 and the Floridians turned back Kentucky 122-117.

Utah held a 30-20 lead at the first-quarter mark and led 40-32 with 1:15 left in the half. But the Stars then went 5½ minutes without scoring from the field and Virginia, led by Scott, moved to a 53-43 advantage. Utah managed a brief rally in the final period, but could pull no closer than three points.

John Brisker, recovering from a bout with the flu, sparked a late rally for Pittsburgh. The Condors were trailing when Brisker hit a layup and a minute later, put in a three-pointer. He wound up with 33 points for the night.

Larry Jones and Mack Calvin had 33 and 31 points, respectively, to pace the Floridians' triumph over the Nets. Rick Barry had 28 for New York.

Carolina blew a 14-point lead, then came back on Dave Newmark's hook shot in the last seven seconds to pull it out. Bob Verga led the Cougars with 31 points while Ron Boone paced the Chaps with 23.

Sands Sacks Both Ends Of Garden City Tourney

GARDEN CITY — Both Sands boys and girls captured top honors in the Garden City invitational basketball tournament which ended here Saturday. The girls rubbed out Forsan 62-59 on the strength of sharpshooting by Jan Nichols, who pounded through 43 points, but only one more than Forsan's Gloria Dodd.

Sands boys were hot as a pair of duelling pistols in laying it on Forsan 73-45 in the final game. John Peugh led with 18 points, followed by Felix Robles with 17.

The Sands boys piled up 258 points in three games, eclipsing by five points the previous record set in 1968.

Garden City girls got edged out of third place in the third place by reason of a cold second quarter. They hit 10 per cent and wound up with three points in that canto, although they led in the other three.

Garden City will entertain St. Joseph's of Rowena here Tuesday starting at 5 p.m. with the girls' B game. There also will be games between the boys and girls varsity teams.

All tournament choices stacked up like this:

State Grid Final Tilt Has Same 1968 Teams

By The Associated Press

Austin Reagan, Brownwood and Iowa Park are no strangers to the State schoolboy football championship jousts this weekend.

Austin Reagan will tackle the tough Odessa Permian Panthers at San Angelo at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Reagan, appearing in the state finals for the third time in its brief five-year history in the University Interscholastic League, defeated Odessa Permian 17-11 in the 1968 championship game of Class 4-A.

The Maroons made it into the finals this time on a solid 28-12 victory over Port Arthur Jefferson in the semifinals while Odessa Permian took out Dallas South Oak Cliff 32-13.

Brownwood is the defending Class 3-A state titlist. The Lions play Cuero at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in Austin. Brownwood knocked off Plano 35-21 in the semis while the Gobblers upset Ennis 12-6. Cuero has a 10-4 record.

The defending Class 2-A champion Iowa Park Hawks meet Refugio at 8 p.m. Saturday in Waco. The Hawks edged Haskell 14-13 Friday night while Refugio battered Friendswood 26-7.

In Class A, Pflugerville, regaining its former prestige as a state football power, plays Sonora at 8 p.m. Saturday in San Angelo.

Pflugerville edged the White Oak Roughnecks 7-6 Friday night in the semifinals while Sonora romped 49-8 past Petersburg.

Steers Meet Ponies Today

The Big Spring Steers will attempt to repeat their early-season victory over the Sweetwater Mustangs here this evening and at the same time get on the plus side of the column.

They will carry a 6-6 record into the contest. They were riding 6-4 until a pair of losses in the Canyon Reef tournament at Snyder put them back even. They dropped their first game to Lubbock Estacado 93-91, then were banged by Hereford 96-74. Standouts in scoring were Richard Bullard, Mike Randall and David Carter.

The junior varsity game will be at 6:30 p.m. and the varsity game will follow. Tuesday the Steers go to Odessa to tangle with Ector.

Brown Crosses Magic Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Larry Brown has joined pro football's great ground-gainers by cracking the 1,000-yard season mark while running on just one good leg.

Brown burst past the magic figure with a 12-yard dash around left end on his first carry of the game Sunday in Washington's 24-6 victory over Philadelphia.

The Redskin runner, in only his second year of pro ball, joined Cleveland's Leroy Kelly and Chicago's Gale Sayers as the only active players in the National Conference ever to reach the 1,000-yard pinnacle.

Brown, who overcame hard-hearing and a lackluster college career to become a premier pro back, went into the game only four yards short of the mark, but he said he wasn't even thinking about that on his first carry.

Jacksonville, S. Carolina, UCLA Are All Impressive

By The Associated Press

What's up, Jack?

Jacksonville. . .way up.

Proving it's what's up front that counts, the third-ranked Dolphins unleashed their 7-foot monstermen at Richmond and came up with a 94-69 college basketball victory Saturday night.

As usual, 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore showed the way for the Dolphs with 28 points and 19 rebounds.

And, as usual, he wasn't satisfied with his performance.

"We were lousy, we stunk up the gym," said Gilmore, who teams with 7 - foot Pembrook Burrows and 6-6 Greg Nelson to give Jacksonville one of the biggest front lines in the nation.

On the other hand, Coach Frank McGuire thought his South Carolina team played extremely well after the second-ranked Gamecocks belted Duke 98-78.

While Jacksonville and South Carolina continued to do their winning things, so did the rest of the Top Ten. Top-rated UCLA breezed by Tulsa 95-75; fourth-ranked Marquette smashed Nevada, Reno 102-74; No. 5 Kentucky beat Indiana 95-93 in overtime; No. 6 Notre Dame topped St. Louis 68-67; Seventh-rated Drake just beat Iowa 72-70; No. 8 Penn downed Ohio State 71-64 and No. 9 Southern California knocked off Arizona State 88-68.

In the Second Ten, it was No. 13 Western Kentucky 69, Duquesne 62; 14th-ranked Army 63, Boston College 61; No. 15 New Mexico State 63, Texas El-Paso 61; No. 16 Utah State 116, St. Francis, Pa. 84; and No. 19 St. Bonaventure 92, Baltimore Loyola 62.

Slick John Roche, South Carolina's blue-chip guard, took matters into his own good hands after Duke suprisingly stayed close at the half despite having star center Randy Denton in foul trouble.

Roche, who hadn't scored a point in 17 minutes of the first half, hit 9-of-13 shots from the floor in the last and wound up with 26.

Tom Owens of South Carolina got 18 rebounds, almost half of the entire Duke total of 27.

Sidney Wicks scored 27 and reserve Terry Schofield came off the bench to score a quick eight for UCLA, prompting this remark from Tulsa Coach Ken Hayes: "We were beaten by the finest team in America."

Is UCLA better than last year's national champ?

"Seniors are always better than juniors," said Hayes.

New Round Looms As Derby Bright

By The Associated Press

New Round has given ample notice that he could be a colt to be reckoned with in the 1971 Kentucky Derby next May.

The Kentucky-bred son of Round Table out of New Class, owned by Michael G. Phipps, demonstrated his credentials with an impressive four-length victory in the $67,512 Heritage Stakes at Liberty Bell Park last Saturday.

'Feels Pretty Dang Good'

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — "It feels pretty dang good," was the reaction of Coach Gil Steinke after watching his Texas A&I Javelinas wallop Wofford 48-7 Saturday for a record second straight NAIA Champion Bowl football championship.

Steinke's warriors, in winning their third NAIA crown, another record, had humbled the Terriers from nearby Spartanburg in highly convincing fashion.

While the big, aggressive defense was smothering a Wofford team that was protecting a 20-game winning streak, 11 this season, the A&I offensive unit amassed a playoff record of 574 yards. The Texans scampered for 339 yards on the ground and 235 passing.

French Ski Team Has Cup Lead

SESTRIERE, Italy (AP) — The French Alpine ski team has taken a firm grip on the 1971 World Cup from the very start by dominating both men's and women's downhill events as the new season opened the weekend.

Phillips No Longer One Man Gang

By The Associated Press

Let's make it official. Southern Methodist's Gene Phillips is no longer a one-man gang.

Phillips, the leading scorer in the Southwest Conference last year, was all the Mustangs had. It's a different story this year and that's SMU you'll find at the head of the standings against non - conference foes with a 4-1 record.

Coach Bob Prewitt's hosses haven't been picking on any mullets.

They knocked off previously unbeaten Nebraska 80-75 Saturday night behind the shooting of Bobby Rollings and the rebounding of Clayton Korver.

Captain Phillips, who scored 21 points, had a chance to watch Rollings and Korver in action for awhile and liked what he saw.

And one thing's for certain. SMU will give it to you anyway you want it right now. The once-feared SWC basketball power is apparently back after several lean seasons.

The non-conference picture is rather drab elsewhere. Texas Tech is the only other club with a winning record—3-2.

Rice is 2-2, Baylor 3-3, Texas 2-3, TCU 1-4, Texas A&M 1-4, and Arkansas 1-4.

Games tonight find Oklahoma State at Texas, Abilene Christian at Texas A&M, New Mexico at Texas Tech and Arkansas at Iowa State.

SEASON

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	Pts.	OP
SMU	4	1	0	.800	448	401
Texas Tech	3	2	0	.600	390	400
Rice	2	2	0	.500	307	345
Baylor	3	3	0	.500	510	545
Texas	2	3	0	.400	442	439
TCU	1	4	0	.200	355	389
Texas A&M	1	4	0	.200	387	423
Arkansas	1	4	0	.200	424	440

Saturday—Tulane 89, Texas A&M 69; Texas 95, Southern Mississippi 80; Oklahoma City 62, TCU 58; Texas Tech 79, Arizona 67; Southern Illinois 99, Arkansas 78; Rice 74, Air Force 67; SMU 80, Nebraska 75; Oklahoma State 79, Baylor 74 (overtime).

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

Monday—Oklahoma State at Texas; Abilene Christian at Texas A&M; New Mexico at Texas Tech; Arkansas at Iowa State.

Thursday—Mississippi State at Arkansas.

Friday—SMU at Vanderbilt Invitational in Nashville; TCU in Texas Classic at Fort Worth; Arkansas at Centenary; Southern Illinois at Texas Tech.

Bertlesen Is Unsung Player

DALLAS (AP) — Ask Texas coach Darrell Royal his opinion on the country's most underrated college football player and watch how quick he answers.

"The most underrated player is Jim Bertelsen," Royal said.

Note Royal said player — period.

"Not only is he a tremendous offensive player but he could play THAT defense, and play it well," said headmaster Royal, who sends his charges—unbeaten in 30 games—against Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

Bertelsen has missed a number of All Southwest Conference teams including The Associated Press' coaches version.

"Bertelsen can do it all," said Royal. "And it's really a shame he doesn't get more credit."

Royal said, "He would make a good safety or halfback on defense. He can range and catch. If a guy will block, you know he will tackle. And he's a good blocker. He was outstanding on defense in high school (Hudson, Wis.). He's the best football player around and he's not getting many honors. I believe he's an All-American."

Asked if Bertelsen could pass —a subject that usually makes Royal blanch—Royal smiled and said, "He could throw it."

But Royal left you with the impression that he won't resort to such drastic means against the Fighting Irish.

So that's Royal's latest soap box oratory for the little man.

Last week it was Eddie Phillips, the heady Texas quarterback, who's a master of the third down but doesn't make any All-Star teams because he doesn't have the passing statistics.

"They ought to give something for artistry," Royal said at the time. "Phillips knows our offense better than any quarterback we've had."

Royal, who was an effective quarterback at Oklahoma, knows what it's like to have to struggle to reach the limelight.

And he doesn't mind helping his players along when he believes they deserve it.

Surprise Bengals Demolish Oilers

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Only the Boston Patriots can prevent Paul Brown's surprising Cincinnati Bengals from moving into pro football's playoffs as the American Conference Central Division champions.

The Bengals, for the most part had been picked to finish in the cellar, but Brown watched his team clinch at least a tie for the division title Sunday by defeating the Houston Oilers 30-20.

Sprinter To Wed Coach

BANGKOK (AP) — Spring Queen Chi Cheng will return to Taiwan this week to marry her American coach, Vincent Reel, and will rest about six weeks because of the leg injury which stopped her in a race Sunday, Reel said today.

The 26-year-old Chinese sprinter already had won one Asian Games gold medal in the 100-meter dash and had a commanding lead in the 400-meter run when she began limping and then fell on the track in pain about 50 meters from the finish line.

She was running amid a flurry of excitement over reports she and Reel, 56, would marry Tuesday in the Thai capital.

Reel said today that they originally had planned to marry in Bangkok at the end of the Asian Games track and field competition but now plan to return to Miss Chi's home in Hsinchu.

One Down, Ten To Go

By The Associated Press

For those who think the college football season is over, the major bowl picture today reads one down and 10 to go.

With Tulane having disposed of favored Colorado 17-3 in Saturday's Liberty Bowl for openers, attention now turns to two more games on tap this weekend — Georgia Tech vs. Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., and Louisville vs. Long Beach State in the Pasadena Bowl at. . .Pasadena, Calif.

Tulane made its first bowl appearance in 30 years a memorable one.

Sporting green-and-white lapel buttons reading, "1970 — Year of the Green," Tulane fans turned the lobby of a downtown Memphis hotel into a bar after the game and toasted their team over and over.

The game was a rough one and Tulane's Ray Hester and Colorado's All-American center Don Popplewell were ejected following a fourth-quarter shoving match.

Five small college championships were decided over the weekend.

In NCAA regional contests, it was top-ranked Arkansas State 38, Central Missouri State 21 in the Pecan Bowl at Arglinton, Tex.; North Dakota State 31, Montana 16 in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif.; Tennessee State 26, Southwestern Louisiana 25 in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Baton Rouge, La., and Delaware 38, Morgan State 23 in the Boardwalk Bowl in Atlantic City, N.J.

Texas A&I captured its second straight NAIA championship with a 42-7 rout of Wofford while Jacksonville, Ala., State downed Florida A&M 21-7 in the annual Orange Blossom Classic.

Stephen F. Austin Hits Best Stride

By The Associated Press

It appears Stephen F. Austin hit its stride just in time for championship play in the Lone Star Conference basketball race.

The Lumberjacks were unimpressive in the non-conference going with a 5-2 record. But now they share the LSC lead with Howard Payne and Texas A&I.

SFA whipped league favorite Sam Houston 98-83 Saturday night in the LSC's first showdown game of the year.

All-America guard James Silas scored 30 points for the Lumberjacks while 6-foot-7 newcomer Pete Harris poured home 17 and added 14 rebounds. James Lester scored 30 for the losers.

Howard Payne and Texas A&I are 2-0 in LSC play with SFA 1-0.

Over-all Howard Payne has the best record with a 6-2 mark. SFA is 5-2 and Tarleton is 4-3—the only LSC records above .500 for the year.

Owners who now service UII vending machines are growing from part-time to full-time operators with Company's financing.

As little as $600 to $1500 investment in UII profit producing vending machines can grow.

Time requirement is 6 to 8 hours per week along with a serviceable car. No personal sales calls. The machines do the selling for you. Just give good service!

Youth Slain By Deputy, Protests Set

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Two Mexican-American organizations said they will protest today in connection with the slaying last week of a Brownsville youth by a Cameron County deputy sheriff.

Efrain Fernandez of the Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO) announced the protest demonstration at a rally sponsored here Sunday by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Fernandez urged the estimated 300 persons attending the rally to attend the funeral of Victor Nava, 14, of Brownsville.

Nava was shot to death last Thursday by a .38 caliber pistol by Deputy Nem Bryan in an alle yin Brownsville. Bryan told Brownsville police he scuffled with Nava and some other youths and fired the shot when he believed that Nava was about to attack him with a knife. It was learned that the object that Bryan believed to be a knife was a stick of wood.

FILLED WITH GLUE

A sack filled with glue was found near the dead boy. The others in the group had fled.

An autopsy last Friday revealed that the youth was shot in the back of the head and had been struck on the face.

No charges have been filed in the case. Police Chief Gus Krausse said he has turned over the evidence to Dist. Atty. F. T. Graham.

A man who identified himself as Nava's father, Juan Mancini, urged those attending the rally to attend the funeral to protest.

"I come to ask only justice and help to combat these people who want to treat us like slaves," Mancini said.

Nava's funeral was to be held at 10 a.m. today at St. Thomas Catholic Church. Fernandez said the group plans to carry Nava's casket to the courthouse.

Police Chief Krausse said he will not permit the group to carry the casket to the courthouse because he fears this might cause trouble.

Six members of the Brown Berets, a militant Mexican-American organization, from California were reportedly scheduled to be pall bearers.

While plans for the demonstration were being announced at Rio Grande City, representatives of several organizations in Brownsville were reported to be making plans for the funeral and demonstrations. Leaflets were distributed over a wide area of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, urging Mexxican-Americans to attend the funeral and protest.

Maltreating Recruits Trial Scheduled Today

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A veteran Air Force sergeant, unsuccessful so far in attempts to obtain a stay, was scheduled to go on trial today on charges of maltreating recruits.

Facing a general court-martial at Lackland Military Training Center is T. Sgt. Jack H. Wilson, 34, of San Antonio, a native of Kenova, W. Va.

A federal court denied Wilson's request last week for a stay in his case pending a ruling on the constitutionality of a military law under which he is charged.

His lawyers then sent a similar petition to the Court of Military Appeals in Washington. A defense attorney said the high military court has not yet replied to the request.

Wilson, a veteran of more than 15 years of military service is accused of choking, striking or kicking recruits while a training instructor last September here at Lackland.

One of 10 trainees involved in the case claimed he required surgery after Wilson allegedly knocked his head and another recruit's head together.

Wilson is the second Lackland training instructor to face trial on maltreatment charges here this year. Another sergeant was acquitted last month of charges involving seven basic trainees.

After losing in federal court, Wilson's lawyers said they sent a request to the military appeals court asking a stay in proceedings until a ruling is rendered on the constitutionality of Article 93 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

The article, under which Wilson is charged, states: "Any person . . . who is guilty of cruilty toward, or oppression or maltreatment of, any person subject to his orders shall be punished as a court-martial may direct."

Wilson's lawyers contend the article is "so vague, uncertain, and ambiguous" that it violates constitutional rights under the 5th Amendment.

Appeal On Behalf Of War Prisoners

PARIS (AP) — A delegation from San Antonio, Tex., and one from Colorado Springs, Colo., today began trying to get information about American prisoners of war from the North Vietnamese mission.

The Texans arrived today with petitions bearing more than half a million signatures from persons in the San Antonio area.

"The parents and wives of these men and their neighbors are concerned for their loved ones and want to know what sort of treatment they are getting," said the delegation's head, County Judge Blair Reeves. "Some of them have heard nothing from the missing or prisoners for four years."

He said his group brought photographs of 13 servicemen listed as missing and five listed as prisoners and would like to help with any identification problems the North Vietnamese may be having.

"We think that the North Vietnamese people should know there are over a half million people from the San Antonio area who are concerned about the prisoners," he said.

Judge Reeves said the group had already made preliminary contact by cable, but that Mai Van Bo, head of the North Vietnamese diplomatic delegation here, responded that the delegation should contact a prisoners' liaison committee in New York.

He gave no encouragement to the group.

The North Vietnamese have rebuffed several other groups which have come to Paris in recent weeks with large batches of letters or petitions.

Prince's Polo Handicap Slips

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip's polo handicap has slipped from five to four.

It was the first time in 23 years in the national ranking that the husband of Queen Elizabeth II had suffered such a setback. He has been hampered by a recurring right hand injury.

Also, he is 49, and Col. James Logan, secretary of the Hurlingham Polo Association, which issues the rankings, remarked Sunday:

"At a certain age, of course, one's handicap does tend to slide backwards."

To Quiz Wounded Suspect In Juarez

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — U.S. federal agents planned to question today a wounded man arrested by state police near this Mexican border city Sunday in connection with an armed robbery of the Union National Bank in Denver in which an FBI agent and a customer were wounded.

Jesus Chacon, chief of the state judicial police here, said Antonio Hernandez, whom he identified as about 25, was arrested along with two women and two men on the outskirts of this city, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Tex.

Chacon said Hernandez was carrying a wound in his right shoulder.

On Sept. 26, armed bandits held up the Union National Bank and fled with $15,702.

FBI agent William Fenimore, cruising with a companion nearby, arrested Paul Hernandez Jr., 21, as the robbers fled. The second agent, Thomas Miller, was hit in the right leg by a pistol bullet in a brief exchange of gunfire. He since has recovered from the wound.

John Morley, assistant agent in charge of the Denver FBI office, said Paul Hernandez and his brother, then identified as Anthony and 18 years of age, who was not apprehended, have been charged in federal warrants with bank robbery and assault to a federal officer.

Three other men, taken into custody, after the robbery, were cleared and released.

Donald D. Gooden, 39, of Longmont, a customer, was hit in the back by a shotgun blast fired by one of the bandits, police said.

About two-thirds of the cash was recovered by police who found a money bag and a sawed-off shotgun in the doorway of an office across the street from the bank.

Miller and Fenimore, who heard the robbery alarm on their car radio, arrived at the bank as the gunmen were fleeing.

Arsonist Set School Fire

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — Fire Marshal R. R. Januc ruled arson Sunday following this town's fourth school fire in the past 90 days.

Januc said a device believed to be a Molotov cocktail was discovered near the Carver Elementary School after a fire which did an undetermined amount of damage.

Two schools — Neal Junior High and Washington Elementary — have been destroyed by fire here. A third school, Fannin Elementary, received minor fire damage two weeks ago.

Although he has been unable to determine the origin of the first three fires, Januc said he has not ruled out arson as a possibility.

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(© 1970: By The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A10 9 6 4 2 ♡K3 ◇K3 ♣J10 3
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass

What is your response?

A.—While normally we would give partner a little leeway when he has opened in the third seat, in this instance it might be putting too much pressure on him to merely jump in spades, so we would gamble it out by leaping right to game.

Q. 2—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AK10 4 ♡10 8 6 5 4 2 ◇A5 ♣A
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♣	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Five clubs. While partner has not shown outstanding strength, he is to be relied on for a seven card suit. Your weakness in hearts should not be a deterrent, for partner is marked with a singleton at most. With two of the suit he should have returned to hearts after the three spade bid.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A9 5 3 ♡8 ◇K 10 9 4 ♣QJ7 3
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ◇	1 ♠
3 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades, a cue bid suggesting slam possibilities. Your hand is worth 14 points in support of clubs and partner has opened and jumped. You will support clubs on the next round and the extent of your raise will depend on partner's next bid.

Q. 4—Neither side vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠A 4 3 ♡AK 6 2 ◇ 6 4 2 ♣ 8 5 3
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—One heart. No thought should be given to a jump bid. The old fashioned player would undergo a quick change in blood pressure at the thought of having passed three honor tricks. In point of fact this hand is worth only 11 points and if partner passes one heart, no game will be lost.

Q. 5—Neither side vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠A 6 2 ♡A 9 7 5 4 ◇J 3 ♣Q 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	3 NT	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You have a 5-3-3-2 distribution, one of the best for no trump, and with values in all suits you should prefer to play for nine tricks.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠K Q 9 8 7 4 2 ◇ 8 5 2 ♣Q 7 6
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Partner presumably heard you bid three spades, announcing that your hand is worthless in anything else. If he bids four hearts it is in the belief that he expects to make the contract in his own hand. Don't be a nursemaid.

Q. 7—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠A 6 5 2 ♡K J 9 8 7 ◇A 6 ♣A 10
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	2 ◇	Pass
2 NT	Pass	4 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Our preference is for six hearts. It is true that we have only 16 points in high cards, but valued at hearts our hand is worth three more points after North supports the suit, one for each of the doubletons and one for the fifth card of the supported heart suit.

Q. 8—You are South, vulnerable, and you hold:
♠A J 10 ♡K 9 7 6 4 2 ♣A K 8 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	2 ◇	Dble.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. It is true that we are normally reluctant to leave in a low level double when void of the adverse suit. In this case, however, we have more than enough defensive values to justify our opening bid, and it is very probable that partner is short in hearts when he chooses to double a nonvulnerable opponent.
