Uneasy Peace At Rochester Today

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—This riot-scarred city emerged today from a bloody weekend of racial violence with four dead, hundreds of injured and massive property damage. An uneasy peace was backed by a combat-ready force of National Guardsmen.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller activated 1,000 guardsmen and ordered them into Rochester to stand by for anti-riot duty if needed.

"Law and order will be maintained in the city of Rochester," the governor declared.

A detachment of 12 open trucks with 18 guardsmen each toured the city's trouble areas in a show of force shortly after the arrival of the guard Sunday night. The men carried rifles with bayonets fixed but had no ammunition.

Three persons were killed and a county official was injured critically Sunday when a helicopter surveying a potential trouble spot smashed into a three-story house and set it afire.

A man was killed by an automobile when he was struck during wild rioting Saturday night, in the height of the racial explosion, and staggered into the street. Two men were shot. One was in critical condition.

More than 800 persons, nearly all Negroes, were arrested. More than 300 other persons were injured, including 35 police officers and several firemen.

Thousands of Negroes participated in rioting throughout the weekend, but police had no estimate of the exact number.

Looters ran wild, pillaging and smashing, especially Saturday night. Liquor stores were a favorite target.

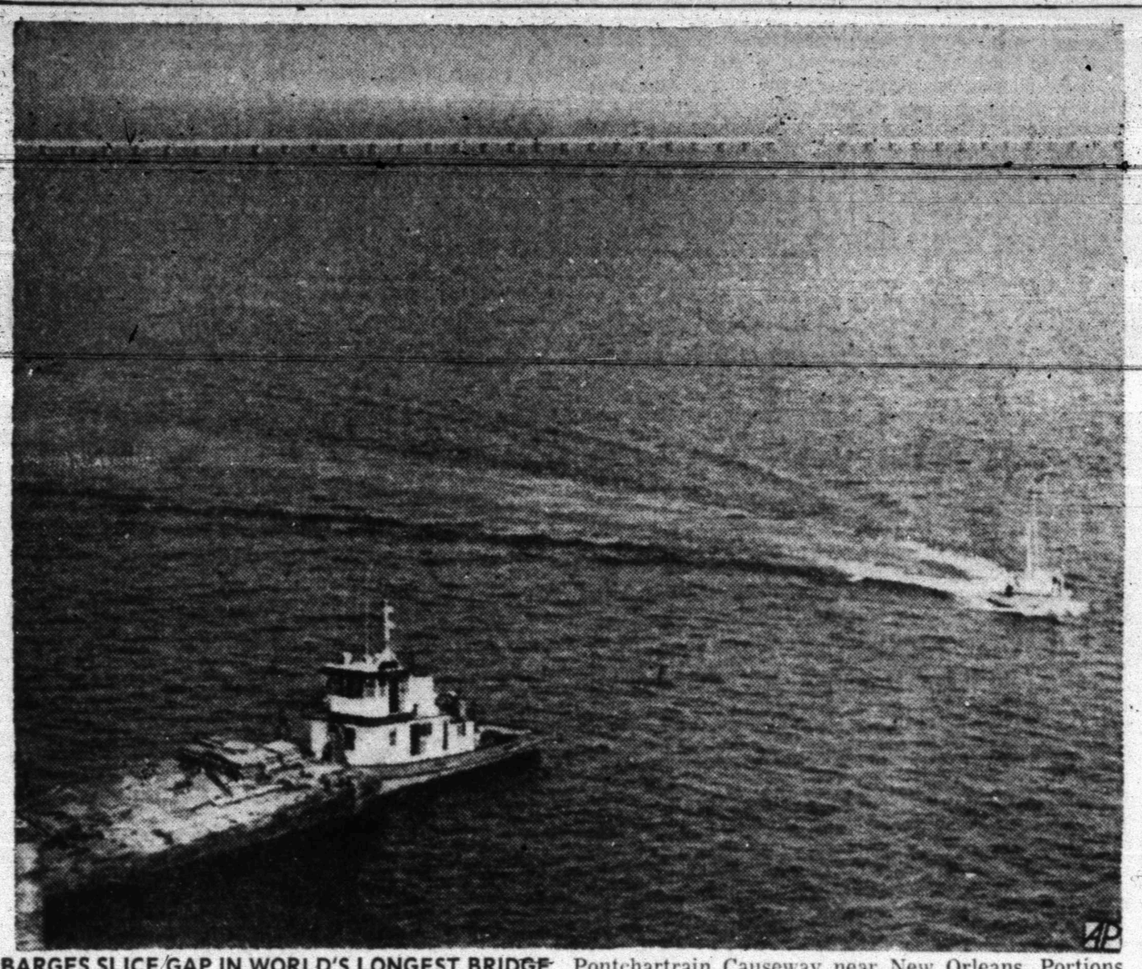

Many rioters were "all tired up on stolen booze," a police official said.

State and local police, working with little rest, were targets of bricks, rocks, bottles, full beer cans, fire bombs and sheets of glass in one outbreak after another.

They answered with tear gas, high-pressure streams from fire hoses and warning shots from their guns. Several individual rioters were clubbed into submission when seized.

The Rochester jail was jammed and a clerk said the property room was filled with "everything you can think of" in recovered loot.

Except for ravaged stores in the trouble area, business and industry throughout the city scheduled normal operations, although some plants had planned earlier to curtail operations because of vacations.

The local unit arrived home Sunday after placing fourth in the competition among combat units at the annual encampment.

Senate Leaders Set To Push Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders hope to hand President Johnson another victory this week by passing his $3.4-billion foreign aid authorization bill without major changes.

But their chances of matching last week's performance, when they put through the administration's high-priority antipoverty bill, are threatened by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

Morse, who has been gunning for the bill for weeks, has a flock of amendments ready, aimed at trimming it by $466 million. He says it could take a week to dispose of them.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, predicts passage this week without any "crippling cuts."

Before it can get into the foreign aid fight the Senate must dispose of a resolution growing out of the investigation of the financial dealings of Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democrats. The resolution would require senators and Senate employes to make annual disclosure of their incomes.

It may have been disposed of Friday night when the Senate voted to create a permanent bipartisan committee to police the conduct of senators and Senate employes.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the action had taken "a lot of steam" out of the disclosure resolution. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said it had made the resolution unnecessary.

Mansfield, who hopes to complete the Senate's business before the Democratic National Convention starts in Atlantic City on Aug. 24, has two appropriations bills ready for action this week in case the foreign aid bill is finished up early. They would appropriate $46.7 billion for the Defense Department and $210.3 million to run Congress.

House action this week centers on two bills, one increasing Social Security benefits and raising the tax that supports them, and the other creating a national wilderness system.

Hootenanny Is Planned For Snyder

Plans for a Snyder Hootenanny, to be held next Monday, Aug. 3, are taking shape under the sponsorship of the Merchants Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

Joe Williamson and Jay Thompson are producing the show which will be held at the pavilion in Towle Park.

The two-hour show will feature out-of-town talent and a number of local artists.

Bill Dryden, a member of the Merchants Committee, said that the committee was sponsoring the show because they felt it was the duty of local merchants, not only to give the folks of Snyder what they wanted in the way of merchandise, but also to give them something extra in the way of entertainment.

The Snyder Hootenanny is planned by the merchants as a way of thanking their Snyder customers for making it possible for them to have their businesses in Snyder.

The show is planned to start at 8 p.m.

Train Wreck Kills 85 In Portugal

OPORTO, Portugal (AP)—A speeding railway car packed with holidayers on the way home from the beach came uncoupled Sunday night, richocheted back and forth on walls beside the track and overturned down an embankment.

Hospital sources said 85 passengers were killed and more than 100 injured. It was the worst disaster in the history of the privately owned Portuguese Railway Co.

The company ordered a commission of three engineers to investigate the derailing near Custoias, about three miles from Oporto.

A company spokesman said the rear unit of the two-car diesel train snapped its couplings, jumped the track and "careened down a section of track flanked by walls, slamming back and forth between them."

"It dropped from the embankment and turned over where the walls came to an end," he added.

The impact destroyed one side of the steel and wood car, crushing passengers as it caved in.

Witnesses said the rear unit appeared to fishtail as it left a curve just ahead of the walled-in stretch of track. Passengers in the front car were not hurt.

The normal capacity of each unit was 68 passenger, but witnesses said the car was overcrowded.

A passenger in the forward car, Jose Ferreira, 43, told newsmen, "Suddenly I sensed the front car was rolling faster, lighter, as it left the curve."

He said he leaned out a door, looked back, and saw the rear car was rolling free.

"I jumped out, believing it would hit our car, and then I heard the smash," he said.

Negro Man Is Killed At Lake

District Attorney Wayland Holt was in Gail, county seat of Borden County, this morning to file murder charges and charges of assault with a prohibited weapon against Marjorie Humphries of Grassland, Tex.

The charges are being filed as the result of a shooting about 3:45 p.m. Sunday at Lem's Bait House on the north shore of Lake J. B. Thomas.

The Negro woman is being held in the Scurry County jail after surrendering to Scurry County Sheriff Earl Abercrombie at the scene of the shooting which left Charles Henry Banks, 34, a Negro farm laborer dead.

Lake patrolmen said that Banks was shot twice with hollow point .22 bullets. One bullet entered his heart, according to the doctor's report.

Banks was dead on arrival at Cogdell Hospital after being brought there by Bolger Ambulance Service. Funeral services are pending at Bolger Funeral Home.

Banks is survived by a five-year-old son, Charles, Jr., who is also the son of the defendant. Other survivors include two sisters and two brothers.

The defendant told officers that she and the dead man had been living on a farm at Grassland, a community near Post, for the past several years. She also said that Banks had threatened her with a tire tool just prior to the shooting.

July Keeps Texas Boiling

By The Associated Press

The Pearsall area 60 miles southwest of San Antonio was the envy of Texas Monday—it received usable amounts of rain overnight.

Pearsall gauged 1.20 inches. Spots around the South Texas town reported up to 2 inches.

Batesville, 35 miles west of Pearsall, was hit by a windstorm which slightly damaged a small airplane.

But otherwise, fast fading July kept Texas cooking on summer's front burner.

It stayed hot throughout the state and the weather man held out no promise of change. Skies were clear to partly cloudy with isolated thundershowers expected for most sections of the state.

UNITED FUND SETS IMPORTANT MEET TUESDAY

The important annual general membership meeting of the membership of the United Fund has been called for 4:30 p.m. Tuesday by fund president John Boren.

The meeting will be held in the community room of the West Texas State Bank.

The nominating committee, appointed by Boren at a directors' meeting last week, will give their report, and new officers will be elected.

The board voted last week to conduct the 1964 program during October and to use volunteer personnel only rather than a paid director as in recent years.

Boren said that it was important that as many members as possible attend the meeting Tuesday. Anyone who donated to the United Fund is a member.

Coliseum Sites Are Considered; No Decision Is Given

The Scurry County Commissioners court this morning discussed some of the proposed sites for the Scurry County Coliseum, but took no action on approving or disapproving any of the sites mentioned.

Meeting with the commissioners were Cullen Toombs, a member of the site selection committee, and J. D. Hinton, local architect who is representing the architectural firm which will design the building.

The commissioners indicated that they wished to explore every possibility completely before making a commitment so that the very best possible site would be chosen.

In routine court business, the commissioners approved the payment of county bills, and also approved the treasurer's report for the second quarter of 1964.

Local Guard Unit Honored At Camp

The local unit of the National Guard arrived home yesterday, bringing with them high honors from the two-week National Guard encampment at Ft. Hood.

The local unit received a rating of 93.10 by the Fourth Army evaluation board. This ranking placed the Snyder unit fourth among the approximately 150 combat units graded by the evaluation team.

Abilene's D Battery ranked first in the state with a grade of 94.35, or only 1.25 points ahead of Snyder.

The First Battalion of the 36th Division of which both Abilene and Snyder are a part, was ranked first by the Fourth Army team.

The Sweetwater battery, also a member of the First Battalion, placed second in the competition with a grade of 93.60.

The local unit arrived back in Snyder early Sunday afternoon.

During their two-weeks encampment, the unit practiced firing their heavy artillery weapons and participated in field exercises. The evaluation team described the entire exercise as "an outstanding two-weeks encampment" according to Lt. Tommy Ivison, executive officer of the local unit.

About 40 Snyderites participated in the field exercises. Some 25 other members of the local guard unit are undergoing six-months training at the artillery school at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Churchill In Seat As MP, Probably For Last Time

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, bowed by age and memories, took his seat in the House of Commons at question time today, probably for the last time.

He first entered the House 64 years ago as a spritely former war correspondent of 25, fresh from his escape from a Boer prison camp and still tanned by the African sun.

Today, at 89, he leaned heavily on a walking stick. Two fellow members—Sir Rolf Dudley-Williams and Capt. L. P. S. Orr—helped him to his usual place in the seat below the gangway.

Parliament published the text of a resolution it will adopt Tuesday in a unique tribute to the father of the House. Churchill will not then be present.

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home will move the all-party resolution extolling Sir Winston's services to Parliament and nation. Then opposition Labor Leader Harold Wilson and Liberal Leader Jo Grimond, who signed the motion with Douglas-Home, will speak.

Sir Winston spent just over 45 minutes in the House. He left as soon as question time was completed.

Parliament recesses for the summer Friday and will reassemble only for its formal dissolution before the national election to be held this fall. For the first time since 1900, Sir Winston will not seek re-election.

Castro Irked By Sanctions

By ARY MOLEON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American republics have slapped strong diplomatic and economic sanctions on Cuba and Fidel Castro has brushed off the actions as impudent and unjust.

A conference of the American foreign ministers Sunday approved a diplomatic break and trade embargo against Cuba and cleared the way for the use of armed force against the Castro regime if it continues subversion against other republics of the hemisphere.

Within hours after the action was taken, there were these reactions:

Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said the action "proved once again the ability of the Organization of American States to defend it against aggression."

—Castro said the OAS is "garbage" and the prime minister declared "the people of Cuba reject as impudent and unjust the sanctions imposed." He issued a "Declaration of Santiago de Cuba" as a reply to the "Declaration of the Americas" of the OAS.

—Tass, the official Soviet news agency, charged that the action set a dangerous precedent and it accused the United States of openly putting pressure on the OAS to take the historic step.

—Several Cuban exile leaders in Miami disagreed on the impact of the OAS sanctions but in general looked upon them as a forward step.

The sanctions were approved by a 15-1 vote—as author of the resolution, Venezuela could not vote. Mexico, Chile, Bolivia and Uruguay—the only Latin-American republics maintaining relations with Cuba—voted no.

The foreign ministers conference was called at Venezuela's request. It invoked the Inter-American Treaty of Mutual Assistance Dec. 3, after uncovering a three-ton cache of smuggled arms with Cuban markings on a lonely beach in the state of Falcon where most of the oil-rich Venezuela's refineries are located.

The sanctions became official when representatives of 20 nations signed the final act of the ninth conference of foreign ministers of the Americas.

Bolivia announced immediately it would respect the majority decision and Uruguay is expected to follow suit. Chile may do so if a Social Christian government is chosen in the September presidential elections.

Mexico denounced the censure of the Castro regime in speeches to the conference.

In addition, the foreign ministers issued a warning that if the Castro regime persists in carrying out acts of aggression and intervention against or or [illegible] OAS members, they may, singly or as a group, use armed force against Cuba.

Actual implementation of the actions must be carried out by the individual governments and it remains to be seen how far each will go in punitive steps.

Hoffa Is Found Guilty Of Fraud

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

CHICAGO (AP)—A jury out for three days found Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and six others guilty Sunday of a massive scheme to defraud a $280-million union pension fund.

Hoffa, a trustee of the pension fund, was convicted in U.S. District Court on four counts of fraud and conspiracy and faces 20 years in prison and an $11,000 fine.

Each codefendant was found guilty of at least one fraud charge and one of conspiracy.

The indictment included 20 mail fraud charges and one conspiracy charge.

The men specifically were convicted of fraudulently arranging more than $20 million in loans from the pension fund and diverting more than $1 million to their own use.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy hailed the decision and complimented the jury and prosecutors in a statement from his summer home in Hyannis Port, Mass.

Hoffa faces a maximum sentence of $1,000 fine and five years on each of the fraud counts and $10,000 and five years on the conspiracy count.

It was Hoffa's fifth federal prosecution since 1957—and his second loss in six months. In February he was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000 at Chattanooga, Tenn., for attempting to bribe a jury. He has appealed that conviction.

The stocky union leader nervously paced the courtroom floor while waiting for the jury to return its verdict, but showed little outward emotion afterwards.

The case went to the jury Friday after 13 weeks of testimony and sparring between prosecution and defense.

It took two weeks for opposing attorneys to agree on the eight-man, four-woman jury. During the trial, the jurors were kept under lock and key at the Great Lakes Naval Base 30 miles north of Chicago and permitted only one monitored telephone call per day.

The jury returned separate findings on 147 charges — 21 naming each defendant. They had deliberated 17½ hours, returning to Great Lakes Friday and Saturday nights.

Judge Richard B. Austin set Aug. 17 for rulings on motions made immediately by defense attorneys for arrest of judgment, a directed verdict of acquittal despite the jury's findings, or a new trial. He ruled the defendants could remain free under present bond arrangements until the hearings.

Walsh said he planned to appeal Hoffa's conviction.

One defendant, Benjamin Dranow 56, a former Minneapolis businessman now serving a prison term for tax fraud, was returned to jail.

The government's conspiracy conviction resulted from its charge that Hoffa and the others schemed to rescue Hoffa from a failing investment in a real estate project near Orlando, Fla.

Besides Hoffa and Dranow, the defendants are: Samuel Hyman, Calvin Kovens and Abe I. Weinblatt of Miami Beach; Zachard Strate Jr. of New Orleans and S. George Burris of New York.

Worker Dies Of Uranium Poisoning

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A 38-year-old father of nine was dead and two other men were back in Rhode Island Hospital today as an investigation continued into an accident Friday night at a uranium recovery plant in Charlestown, R.I.

Robert Peabody, a technician at the plant, died Sunday night of uranium poisoning. Death came 48 hours after Peabody was exposed to a large dose of atomic radiation while he was pouring a solution containing enriched uranium-235 from one container to another at the plant of United Nuclear Corp.

Earlier Sunday, two of the five men who had been given hospital treatment immediately after the accident and then released were returned to the hospital in what was dscribed by the company as a precautionary measure.

Oofficials said Richard Holthuas, 43, the plant superintendent, and Clifford Smith, 30, an employe, had received larger doses of radiation than had been believed earlier.

The accident, described as a fission of the enriched uranium, occurred when Peabody was alone in a third-floor room at the plant.

The others were exposed to radiation when they went to his aid.

Robert C. Johnson, a spokesman for United Nuclear, said the investigation of the accident by the company and the Atomic Energy Commission was not completed.

The plant reclaims uranium from waste products such as ags, metal scrap, liquids, paper and clothing for sale and re use in nuclear projects.

Florida Gets Heavy Rains

By The Associated Press

Heavy rains soaked northern Florida and coastal sections of South Carolina and Georgia today.

In the Appalachian region and some adjacent areas, as well as along the Pacific Coast, the sun was obscured by early morning fog and low-lying clouds.

Two inches of rain fell in downtown Charleston, S.C., while thunderstorms ranged from eastern Kansas to northeastern Minnesota. Wichita, Kan., measured almost an inch in six hours. At Concordia, Kan., 1.40 inches fell in 45 minutes.

Dry, pleasant air sent temperatures down to the 50s in early morning readings in the Great Lakes region and as low as the 40s in some sections of the Northwest.

But the hot weather continued unabated in the Southern plains where temperatures stood in the 80s. But that was some relief from the 100-plus readings of recent days.

Mt. Rainer Rock Slide Kills Pair

LONGMIRE, Wash. (AP)— A rock slide described by a survivor as "a cloud of rocks" killed two teen-age girls, one of them a bride of two months, on Mt. Rainer Sunday. Three youngsters were injured.

They were in a party of 19 on a mile hike from the Nisqually River bridge eight miles above Longmire to the snout of Nisqually Glacier.

Elise was spending the summer here with her stepfather, Jess Levine, a Los Angeles schoolteacher and a seasonal naturalist at Mt. Rainer National Park.

Mrs. Leettola died of injuries shortly before an Air Force helicopter arrived to rescue her. Her husband, Thomas, escaped injury.

Park Train In Disaster

HOUSTON (AP) — The locomotive roared along the quivering rails with the throttle wide open and no engineer in the cab.

At the sudden curve two engines and three cars piled up along the right-of-way.

It was the worst disaster in the history of the Wee Wild West Kiddieland, a children's amusement park.

The wreck was discovered early today.

Park Manager W. H. Mehaffey said both engines were heavily damaged and a long section of track was ripped up. Police estimated damage at $25,000.

"Someone slipped in while the watchman was at the other end of the park," Mehaffey said.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have always considered you the voice of anti-intellectual mid - Victorian morality. As such, you had your finest moment when you advised a 14-year-old boy to run rather than to defend himself against a 15-year-old outsized girl. I say if a girl wants to act like a boy, treat her as a boy. A black eye and a split lip in childhood is a small price to pay if it prevents a female from confusing her role with that of a male's in adult life.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE L.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to MRS. M. burned me up. That's the trouble with society today. You women want to wear the pants, smoke, go in bars and compete with men for jobs, but when the going gets rough you expect special treatment just because you're women. I say that kid who slugged the girl deserves a pat on the back. I'll bet that was the last time that big fat Amazon ever took a poke at him. Sign me. . .

SWEENY

DEAR ABBY: Just read about the 14-year-old boy who was given a beating by his father for socking a 15-year-old girl in the eye. When I was an 8-year-old-boy, I was unmercifully tormented by an older, bigger girl. I was ashamed to ask for help because people would laugh at a boy who would let a girl scare him. If only I had had the nerve to pick up a good-sized stick and let her have some good whacks on the shins, maybe I wouldn't dislike women as much as I do today. When an overgrown, aggressive woman provokes a man, she deserves a black eye. For a man to strike a woman of average proportions and ladylike deportment is a despicable act. But today just let one of those other types bug me and I'll kick her right in the seat.

MR. M.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our sewing club discussed that letter in your column from the mother of a 14-year-old boy who beat up a 15-year-old girl because she kicked him, hit him and called him names. The boy's father heard about it and gave the boy a good thrashing. You were asked what the boy should have done in such a case and you said that since the girl outweighed him by 30 pounds, and was half a head taller han he was, the boy should have run. In our entire group, Abby, I was the only one who stood by you. All the other women said they thought the boy had no choice but to beat the girl up in order to defend himself. Maybe you and I were not raised the same as most folks, but I still think it is less of a disgrace for a boy to run from a girl than to beat her up.

NELL IN N. J.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I just finished reading the letter from Mrs. M., whose 14 - year - old son gave a 15-year-old girl a black eye and a split lip in self - defense. You said, "under no circumstances should a boy ever hit a girl." I think you gave some pretty bum advice there, Abby. If a girl hits a boy first, I think he has a perfect right to hit her back. You have a son, Abby, why don't you ask HIM for HIS opinion? I'll bet HE wouldn't run from a girl.

ONE FOR YOUR WASTEBASKET

DEAR ONE: I just asked him. He said he wouldn't HIT her in the same way he'd hit a boy. But he'd give her a "paddling" she'd never forget. You win!

Storms Hit In Oklahoma

COLLINSVILLE, Okla. (AP) —Winds struck with tornadic-like force, injuring one person here and causing thousands of dollars of damage in northeast Oklahoma Sunday.

Tulsa, Muskogee and Joplin, Mo., also were hit by storms.

The Weather Bureau said the Collinsville storm was not a tornado.

Winds were clocked at 50 miles an hour in Tulsa.

The storm struck just one day before the anniversary of a record Tulsa rain. Up to 14 inches of rain fell in Tulsa last July 27 and an anonymous "rainmaker" claimed credit for the storm.

ABWA Meeting

The American Business Woman's Association met at the Martha Ann Woman's Club Thursday at 7 p.m. for the regular monthly dinner meeting.

The musical program was given by a duet composed of Linda Leech and Sherry Finch, accompanied at the piano by Sandra Browning. Mrs. Jack Dean was speaker for the evening. Title of her speech was, "Feminine Profile of Courage." Many examples of women showing great courage through the ages were recalled, the latest being the courage of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

A business meeting followed the program. Lois Leech was elected as delegate to National Convention to be held in Minneapolis, Minn. in October.

Pancake Recipe Not Found In Restaurants

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

NO DOUBT about it. America's passion for pancakes goes on and on.

Americans have loved griddle cakes since pioneer days, but only in recent years has the United States had restaurants devoted to serving them.

Now there's even a cook book chock full of pancake recipes (with some for waffles, fritters and omelets thrown in). It's "Pancakes Aplenty" by Ruth Ellen Church and it appeared a few years ago.

And here comes a new pancake recipe, one we haven't yet found in a pancake restaurant. It's an old - time combination of bulk pork sausage and fresh corn in a made - from-scratch batter. When we tried this recipe, we found it produced pancakes that were hearty and not overly rich.

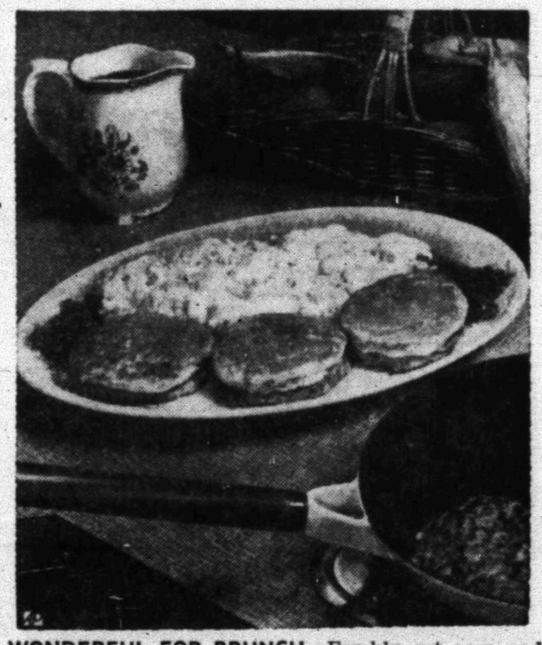

A cook who has an electric griddle will find pancakes great summer fare for breakfast, lunch, brunch or supper. Mix up the batter, waltz batter and griddle out to the porch or patio and bake the pancakes while the family gathers around.

Should you try this recipe, remember that it's best to shuck corn and cut it from its cob just before using. And always refrigerate corn as soon as you bring it home from market; at ordinary room temperature the sugar in the freshest of corn turns to starch. You don't want to lose that sweetness.

CORN AND SAUSAGE PANCAKES

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
2 eggs, separated
½ cup milk
½ pound bulk pork sausage, cooked
1 cup corn, cut from cobs

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and pepper. Beat egg yolks slightly; add milk and beat to combine. Stir in sausage and corn. Add sifted dry ingredients; stir just until moistened. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in. Drop ¼ cup batter at a time on a hot greased griddle. When bubbles form over top, turn and brown other side. Makes 12.

WONDERFUL FOR BRUNCH—Freshly cut corn and sausage meat add special flavor to pancakes.

Schweitzer And Work Depreciated

VERDICT ON SCHWEITZER. By Gerald McKnight.

McKnight, a British free lance writer, has made no equal balance of pro and con in his study of Albert Schweitzer.

He starts with the premise that the jungle doctor is a lengendary figure and says "legend is rarely true to its subject even in the most inspiring cases." Then he proceeds to examine all aspects of the Schweitzer career from a very skeptical viewpoint. And while he concedes his subject has many virtues, he devotes most of his text to the techniques of debunking.

He questions Schweitzer's theology and philosophy. He questions the importance of the doctor's books in those fields, as well as his writings on Bach, organs and other subjects. He challenges the doctor's motives in establishing the hospital at Lambarene, and repeats what critics and detractors have said about the lack of progress there. He casts doubt on the doctor's attitude toward his wife and daughter. He asserts "the benign dictator" gives little credit to his staff, and devotes a chapter to the theme that Schweitzer allows wealthy, but untrained, women to clutter up the hospital.

McKnight's methods are far from superficial. He cites many passages from Schweitzer's books and from books about the doctor. He visited Lambarene himself, and quotes many individuals who have worked with the doctor. He does knock down a few of the rumors about inefficiency in the hospital's operation, and gives rebuttal to some of the criticisms made by others.

But the whole trend of the book leads to a final chapter that is anything but favorable. It is a doubt - raising, image-breaking book.

Fabric Softeners

Fabric softeners are like cosmetics. They make fabrics soft and reduce wrinkling. They should be used only in the final rinse. Be sure the softener is completely dissolved before it comes in direct contact with clothes. You'll find ironing far less tedious and static in lingerie will be reduced, too.

Marriage A Problem In Uganda

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — "Have you married? If so, why?"

Ugandans are being asked questions like this as a government commission strives to unsnarl the country's tangle of conflicting marriage laws.

Different communities recognize various forms of religious ceremony. Additionally, at least a dozen tribes have often conflicting rites, laws and customs.

"Our object is to evolve common marriage laws for the whole country — within reasonable limits," says commission chairman William Kalema.

"But we are not going to give unlimited license for men to marry as many women as they want, or to divorce whenever they like. We do not live in Utopia and we cannot recommend anything fit for a Utopian society."

Besides visits to various districts to take verbal evidence, the commission has distributed questionnaires throughout the country.

"Are you happy?" is one question, followed by a searching "Why?"

"Are you not happy?" is another question, which calls for details on "What factors have contributed to this unfortunate state of affairs — money, drink, women, men, character, physical disability?"

After seeking suggestions about divorce, the paper asks:

"Have you had extra - marital relations? What made you do it? Were you sorry afterward? Are there children from this illicit union? What is your and your marriage partner's attitude toward them?"

Then men are asked: "Do you consider women as a 'weaker' or 'fairer' sex? Should married women have their own property? Should they be allowed to sue their husbands? Are women becoming more demanding?"

Past attempts at a national evaluation of these subjects have revealed irreconcilable differences according to tribe and religion.

Strongest Move Yet Made Against Castro's Regime

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has the problem of trying to take the steam out of Sen. Barry Goldwater's complaints about American foreign policy, particularly on two very sore points: Cuba and Viet Nam.

That he is working at it became clear over the weekend.

To bring Fidel Castro tumbling down, Goldwater has proposed various remedies, at various times—from backing an exile invasion of Cuba to shutting off non-Communist trade with it, even if it meant blockading with warships.

Sunday the American republics, through their foreign ministers, agreed not only on condemning Cuba for aggression but on approving strong economic and diplomatic sanctions against Castro's regime. The action had strong U.S. backing.

It was the strongest move by a conference of the ministers since Castro grabbed hold of Cuba on Jan. 1, 1959.

One quick way to step up and perhaps end the Communist guerrilla attacks on South Viet Nam would be to extend the war to North Viet Nam. But that might bring Red China directly into the war. The Johnson administration has been reluctant to take the chance.

But Goldwater has said the United States "can and should end the fighting in Viet Nam by taking strong, affirmative action." This is just one of the things he has said. He has offered various suggestions on how to do this, too.

Sunday night The Associated Press said the United States and Viet Nam reportedly are about ready to announce new measures to step up the war.

This story said there has been no indication here as to the exact nature of these new measures.

But, the story said, they will emphasize this country's determination to support the freedom and independence of Viet Nam and do not involve spreading the war to the north.

In both cases—Viet Nam and the U.S.-backed OAS sanctions against Cuba— the Johnson administration could say the new steps were natural developments without any political implications.

But, as Johnson said at his news conference last Friday, "I'm an old campaigner, I've been at it 30 years." Goldwater will have less to complain about if the clamp-down on Cuba gets tighter and the Vietnamese war tougher.

The American states' agreement on Cuba lets them, alone or together, use armed forces against Castro if he continues what the ministers officially described as aggression and subversion against other hemisphere republics.

It remains to be seen what they'll do since the actual carrying out of the actions approved by the foreign ministers must be the job of the individual governments.

Nevertheless Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, called the conference action a "body blow to Communist subversion in this hemisphere."

Mann's appointment to his present job was one of the first actions taken in the foreign affairs field by Johnson after he became president last November.

The mere act of the ministers' agreement won't topple Castro. And at this moment it seems unlikely any of the American states will invade Cuba.

It may even be unrealistic to expect the Latin-American countries which still have diplomatic relations with Cuba to break them off or even to break off all trade with Cuba, at least right away.

Actually, the Latin-American countries do little trading with Castro's Communist regime. But the psychological effect will hurt him and so will any drying up of such trade as there is.

Junior Editors Quiz on RAINBOWS

QUESTION: Why do we see rainbows?

• • •

ANSWER: The conditions under which we can see nature's most magnificent spectacle are shown by Cathy in our picture. It is just after a shower; raindrops are still in the air but the sun has broken through and is shining behind Cathy's back. As you see in the diagram, when a sun ray enters a raindrop it is broken up into the seven spectrum colors of violet, indigo, blue, green, orange, yellow and red. The color rays are bent, or refracted, and then reflected away from the drop as rays are reflected from a mirror. Each color ray has a certain angle between coming in and going out of the raindrop. When Cathy sees a color ray at one certain angle, it will look red if this is the right angle for the red ray. The other places where she can see this exact red angle are arranged in a large ring or bow, and so she will see a bow of red. It is like looking down the upper half of a large cone (B), black dots showing positions of the same angle (of course they all connect in a continuous bow). The other colors have slighly different angles, which in the main or primary bow (there are often two bows showing) are arranged with the other colors below or inside the red.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the rainbow and it will look more natural. Red should be outside, then comes orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo (blue violet) and violet. 7-27

Mean Angels Still Rolling

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those double-dealing Los Angeles Angels are getting meaner by the minute.

Their pilot got himself grounded between flights Sunday and the Angels soared right past the fallen leader without a backward glance.

Bill Rigney, the Los Angeles manager, established some sort of record when he was ejected between games of a doubleheader at Kansas City. But Rigney's absence didn't stop the Angels from completing a 3-0, 4-3 sweep over the Athletics and tying a 58-year-old major league record.

The doubleheader victory was the streaking Angels' fifth straight over a two-week period and concluded a 10-3 road trip that has vaulted them into the American League's first division. The 1906 Yankees were the last club to sweep five consecutive twin bills.

Umpire Al Smith chased Rigney during the home plate meeting preceding the 10-inning nightcap after a heated debate over a first-game decision. Rigney claimed a triple by KC's Chuck Shoemaker should have been called a ground-rule double.

Rigney will be back when the Angels—in fourth place, three games over the .500 mark—open a three-game set against the league-leading New York Yankees tonight at Los Angeles.

The Yanks unseated Baltimore with 11-6 and 5-4 victories over Detroit while the Orioles lost to Washington 4-1 and fell one half game behind. The third-place Chicago White Sox staggered Minnesota twice, 5-4 in 12 innings and 3-0, and Boston swept Cleveland, 6-3 and 3-1.

In the National League, second - place San Francisco trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2 and moved within one half game of first-place Philadelphia, which lost twice to St. Louis 6-1 and 4-1. Milwaukee thumped the New York Mets 11-7 and 15-10; Cincinnati split with Pittsburgh, winning 7-2 before losing 5-1, and Chicago blanked Houston 3-0.

The Angels' first-game shutout boosted their major league-leading total to 16. Seven of the 16 have come since the All-Star break and four—each by different pitchers—during the 13-game road trip.

Aubrey Gatewood, who worked the first six innings, ran his scoreless string, since being recalled from Hawaii of the PCL, to 19 1-3 innings. Bob Lee, who completed the eight-hitter, has not allowed a run in his last 18 1-3 innings.

In the nightcap, the Angels snapped a 2-2 tie on Bobby Knoop's double, a pinch hit single by Ed Kirkpatrick and two KC errors. The A's rallied for a run in the bottom of the 10th before Bob Duliba, sixth Los Angeles hurler, got the final out.

Joe Pepitone's three-run homer in the eighth capped the Yankees' first-game victory. Tom Tresh and Bobby Richardson each had a single, double and home run while Roger Maris added four singles.

John Blanchard's two-out pop fly in the seventh inning of the nightcap sparked a three-run rally that brought New York from behind. Hector Lopez drove in two runs with a pinch hit single and Phil Linz doubled home the other.

Dave Stenhouse held Baltimore to three hits and won for the first time after six defeats.

JOHNSON DOUBLED OFF FIRST — Alex Johnson, Philadelphia Phillies outfielder, is out trying to get back to first base after infielder Ruben Amara had flied out to left field in second inning action of the Phils-St. Louis Cardinals game in Philadelphia. First baseman Bill White made the tag to complete the double play after taking the throw from Carl Warwick at left. Johnson had just singled in his first major league time at bat. (AP Wirephoto)

Soviets Beaten Decisively

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—With two World records headed for the books, along with three American marks, the United States celebrated its most decisive victory and the Russians flew home for extra-intensive training for the Olympics Games.

Such was the wind-up of the sixth dual meet between the USA and USSR, whose track and field aggregations are regarded as the most powerful in the world.

A crowd of 55,924 turned out for the final show Sunday in Memorial Coliseum — 50,519 watched Saturday bringing the two-day total to 106,643.

The final scores: in men's events, the United States 139, Russia 97; in women's events, Russia 59, the United States 48; and over-all, the United States 187, Russia 156. It was the first time the United States won over-all.

The Russians on arrival from Moscow said their team was two months behind the Americans, because of the seasons, and with two months to go before the Tokyo Games, it could appear the Soviets will have a busy time in the immediate weeks ahead.

There were highlights for all and the crowd kept up a noisy rumble of approval each afternoon.

The big roar Sunday went to 27-year-old Jim Grelle for his victory in the 1,500-meter run, and Bob Schul as he and 30-year-old Bill Dellinger ran off with the 5,000 meters.

The day before the ovations went to 18-year-old Gerry Lindgren after his amazing triumph in the gruelling 10,000, and the two world record smashers, Fred Hanse, 17-4 in the pole vault, and Dallas Long, 67-10 in the shot put.

The main attraction Sunday was Russia's record holding igh jumper, Valery Brumel. But Brumel managed 7-3½ and missed at 7-6 in an attempt to better his mark of 7-5¾.

The American records were set by Ira Davis in the triple jump at 53-11, by Leah Ferris of Honolulu in the 800 meters in 2:08.8, and Willye White of Chicago in the broad jump, 21-6. Miss White placed second at 21-7¾ but it was wind-aided and would not hold up as a national record.

There were several outstanding firsts for the Americans in this meet:

First victories in the 10,000 meters, Lindgren in 29:17.6; in the triple jump, Davis' 53-11; the 5,000, Shul's 13:50.2; the 3,000-meter steeplechase, by George Young, in 8:42.1.

It was also the finest showing by the women's team since the meet began in 1958.

There were disappointments for the Americans, too. Dyrol Burleson was unable to run in the 1,500 because of a severe virus attack Sunday morning.

30 Teams Being Picked At Odessa

ODESSA (AP)—Thirty teams were being picked today to round out the field of 100 combinations for the $15,000 Odessa Pro-amateur Golf Tournament that opens Thursday.

About 50 teams were firing qualifying scores over the par 72 Odessa Country Club course.

Seventy teams were invited while the others are determined by the qualifying.

Miller Barber of Texarkana and Jackson Bradley of Houston were professional withdrawals Sunday but substitutions were quickly obtained. Troy Badgett of Amarillo and Jay Riviere of Houston were added.

The 72-hole tournament, with its finest field yet, will run Sunday and the winning pro will get $2,500.

Entrants include PGA champion Bobby Nichols, Don January, Billy Maxwell, Jimmy Demaret, Doug Sangers and Bo Wininger from the PGA tour.

Pony Stars Play At Home Tonight

Snyder's Pony League all-stars clash with an Abilene team this evening on the Towle Park diamond. Game time is set for 8 p.m.

The Snyder team won the right to advance in the playoffs by walloping Colorado City, 13-2, Saturday night in Colorado City. It was the second victory in a row for Snyder over C-City Pony Leaguers, the locals having won the opener of their series, 11-2, here last Tuesday evening.

Steve Holder hurled a six-hitter while his Snyder mates were pounding out 15 safe blows in the game Saturday night.

Ted Winter had a triple, double and single, Mickey Almond three singles and Max Moreland a pair of singles to pace Snyder's attack.

Colorado City made a game of it until the fifth inning when Snyder erupted for nine runs. The Snyder team got five of its hits in the big fifth, one of them a double by Frankie Grimmett.

Holder struck out nine batters and walked only two as Colorado City picked up single runs in the second and sixth innings.

Little Leaguers Decision Hamlin

Snyder's American Little League all-stars kept their big bats booming Saturday night to defeat the Hamlin all-stars, 8-3, on the local Little League diamond.

The victory sent the locals into another round of the playoffs scheduled for Thursday night. Identity of the opponent and site of the next game had not been learned this morning.

In Saturday night's game, Jim Patrick hurled a three-hitter at Hamlin and also socked a two-run homer in the first inning for the Snyder team.

Hamlin pulled back even with Snyder in the second when Gary Smith poled a two-run homer, but Merce Hernandez hit one out for Snyder in the bottom of the second to make it 3-2. Hamlin managed another run in the top of the third, but Snyder came back for two and then added three in the fifth to win it rather easily.

Patrick and Hernandez each had a single in addition to the home runs, and Wesley Bishop lashed a double for Snyder.

Schoolboys Working Out

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Thirty-three Texas high school football players went on display Sunday in an open house workout staged by Texas and Pennsylvania squads.

They clash here Aug. 1 in the Big 33 all-star game.

The Texans took the field with rebel yells and impressed a crowd of 2,000 with their passing and kicking. Kenny Hebert of Pampa awed the Pennsylvania schoolboys with 60-yard punting.

Pennsylvania players worked out earlier and their coach, Lefty James, said he was not impressed.

Both squads starred at the dinner table. They ate about 100 pounds of roast beef at a buffet luncheon.

Crash Kills Pro Gridders

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The sports world was stunned today by an auto crash which killed Chicago Bears' star halfback Willie Galimore and his teammate, John Farrington.

Galimore, a seven-year veteran who was drafted from Florida A&M University in 1956, and Farrington, a 6-foot-3, 217-pound offensive spread end, were killed in the wreckage of Galimore's car late Sunday night on a rural road.

State police said Galimore and Farrington apparently were returning to their living quarters at St. Joseph College when Galimore's car skidded out of control on a curve.

Don't Care Attitude Stands Out Among Latest Rioters

EDITOR'S NOTE—The nation has often seen disciplined, well-behaved Negro youths take part in civil rights demonstrations. But the riots in New York and Rochester have brought a different breed to the fore. Young men who heed no leader, follow no banner, and seem to despise non-violence. Here is a closeup of the hard ones.

By BERNARD GAVZER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—An exhausted firemen felled by heavy smoke was wheeled from a flaming house in Rochester's riot-wrecked Negro section.

"He should have got burned up long ago," a Negro boy said.

Here in the brilliant sunshine of a Sunday afternoon the boy and hundreds of other Negroes had watched a gruesome drama.

A helicopter being used to spot potential riot activity had hit the peaked gable of the frame house, fallen to the sidewalk, exploded and burned. The white pilot was killed. Two persons in the house, presumably Negroes, burned to death.

For some in the crowd, the spectacle was sickening and sobering. They were mainly older people. A minister, a chef, a mechanic. But the young fellows, the lean and well-muscled teen-agers and men in their early 20s, shed no tears.

Their attitude throughout rioting that began Friday night has been one of militant recklessness. There is a bravado to them—and the chill quality of boys who have begun to believe that life is a one way road to death and they are on it, put there by white men.

The role of young Negroes in Rochester parallels that of those who met police in hand-to-hand battle in Harlem and in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section.

"There's a don't care attitude about these boys," said Ernest Denny, a Negro social worker.

"They're saying to the white society, 'You're going to kill me psychologically if I live, so why not kill me with bullets?'

"The thing is that they are not afraid. These are brave boys."

"They have lost respect for authority," said Lt. Andrew Sparacino, head of the Rochester Police Department's youth division.

Boys and young men from the major Negro areas in town voiced bitter resentment of whites, especially of the police, and talked with a belligerent straightforwardness.

"Man, there ain't no cat going to frighten me," said a youth of 19. "They kicked that out of me when they kicked hell out of me one time when they busted a crap game. They grabbed the dough and then used the clubs."

A boy of 14 who wore a wrist wound proudly, said: "We are just different. My mama and pa, if it was up to them, would of locked me in the house last night. They scared. But they old and old peoples get scared. I went out and I stayed out. I didn't make it back home to maybe 4 o'clock in the morning. But nobody going to tell me what to do."

A young man of 20 bristled over the 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew imposed upon the city.

"The man comes on TV an he say all you people got to go to bed at 8 o'clock and not stick your nose outa the house. Hell, that just make the people be on the street. You think we afraid to go out? Man, we was out."

Lloyd Hurst, a Negro who is commissioner of Rochester's office of the State Commission for Human Relations, said, "The young element—the new Negro—is in Rochester as well as Harlem and elsewhere in the United States. They have lost faith in the ordinary forms of settlement of grievances."

Reginald Kenneth Ingram, the Negro chief of the Air Force's Equal Employment Opportunity Office, said, "If I were to try to say to these boys that they should act with caution or even try to advise them in any way, I'm certain that I would be booed."

The boys showed how willing they were to flex muscles Friday night at the street dance when patrolmen Roger Bacon and Anthony Cerretto attempted to arrest a disorderly young man.

"We ended up on the ground with the guy, putting the cuffs on him," said Cerretto. "The crowd wanted him and they got between us."

Fifty or more young men pushed in to keep the handcuffed youth from being taken to the police station. It was this incident that started the riot.

Sparacino, the youth division expert, knows by sight most of the city's juvenile delinquents and other young offenders.

"But to tell you the truth," he said, "these are kids I've never seen before. They're not the usual juvenile delinquents. I don't know where they come from. I know one we got is in a good high school and another is an athlete in high school."

"It's the system they are fighting, baby," explains Denny. "The boys feel the system is against them, and it is."

It was difficult for some of the Negro boys to articulate their feelings, but one, a rather thin boy who looked like he could be a chorus dancer, said: "It's like you're standing and across the way there is that store and the cats is saying, 'Let's go eat on whitey,' or 'Whitey, he going to give me a birthday suit, man.' We laughing and pushing and talking big.

"Doing it is knowing that the fuzz is coming. I mean any cat can reach in for a bunch a bananas if the Girl Scouts is watching, but the thing is, will you do it when you know the po-leese is just around the corner and coming.

"It's like you got to make the scene or the chicks will put you down as nothin'. I mean, you got to go. Ya dig?"

Lady Of 104 Is Popular Speaker

By BILL BARNARD

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A little brown-eyed lady of 104 stood up and made a speech in one of this city's churches Sunday night and wowed the audience for 29 minutes.

She is Mrs. Hilda Erickson, Utah's last living pioneer to cross the plains from the East before the railroads came.

When the time came for her to appear at the Federal Heights Ward Chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, she was offered a throat microphone.

"This will allow you to sit while you talk," she was advised.

"I'd ruther stand than sit," she said. Behind her, her only daughter, Mrs. Amy Hicks, 80, watched proudly.

Her husband, John Erickson, died in 1944. The couple's only son died a year later. She now lives alone in Grantsville, Utah.

Mrs. Erickson, who will be 105 in November, grinned at the audience for a moment and then said: "My friends, I don't know what I can tell you. They just run me into this!"

Then she laughed, heartily and delightfully, sewing up her listeners forever.

She had plenty to tell. Mormon missionaries visited her home in Skaraborgs Land, Sweden, in 1866. As a result, she and her mother and two brothers sailed for the United States.

Mrs. Erickson quit grinning when she told about the first leg of the wagon train trip westward, to Omaha.

"Cholera hit us," she whispered. "There were many, many dead."

Then there were the 10 weeks while oxen dragged the wagon train from Omaha to Salt Lake City.

"Wagons drove into a circle every night for protection from Indians, but no Indians bothered us. We stopped early in the evenings so we could see to cook and do things in the circle. There was singing and dancing."

After reaching this city Oct. 22, 1866, Hilda Erickson's family moved first to Mount Pleasant, Utah, then to Grantsville in 1868.

She married in 1882 and the Mormon Church assigned her and her husband John to be missionaries to the Goshute Indians in a wild, barren area 65 miles south of Wendover, Utah.

"We taught the Indians to sew and farm," she said. "When they got sick I took care of them. We did a whol lot of good among those Indians. I even pulled the old Indians teeth."

You can't very well cheer in a chapel, but the audience wanted to.

Kilgore Cleans Up After Well Capped

KILGORE (AP)—City workers sanded streets and flushed sewers Sunday to get rid of oil spewed from a wild well.

After threatening the downtown area of this East Texas city for several hours late Saturday, the well was finally capped.

A raging fire was set off when oil seeping from the well was ignited by a treater unit.

After the fire was extinguished the well continued to spew oil and gas until capped. Officials feared that a spark might set off a massive explosion.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

PARTIAL LOAD—Walter Bishop, attendant at the Walton Laundromat, is pictured with just a part of a 25-pound load which can be economically washed in the large commercial washer at the Walton Laundromat on the Big Spring Highway. The machine is capable of washing a large 9 by 12 foot shag rug, and costs only 50 cents per load. Other money-saving features are provided by the modern Westinghouse-equipped laundry.

Walton Laundromat Has Money-Saving Equipment

Folks who like to save time and money are finding that the Virgil Walton Laundromat provides them with just what they need to do both.

For example, at the Walton Laundromat, there is a machine which for just 50 cents will do a full - sized wash for the average family. That's the same machine that for 50 cents will wash rugs — up to a full 9 by 12 foot size.

For 50 cents more, the customer can dry that rug — making the total cost for cleaning that large rug just $1.

Of course the machine is important in any cleaning process. The large washer has "reverse action" — that is, it changes direction of rotation three times per minute.

The regular machines too, at the Walton Laundromat, are the time - proven Westinghouse commercial models — washers which are unexcelled for self-service operations.

Next to the washers themselves, probably the most important thing in getting clothes clean is the water.

A customer takes the water that goes in the machine for granted. But the operators of the Walton Laundromat don't.

Before the water goes into the machine they make sure that it's "polished" water — water that will do a good job of cleaning.

Obviously the temperature must be right. In order to guarantee that there will always be plenty of hot water, two heaters are provided in the equipment room. Any time that the load becomes too much for the regular water heater, the auxiliary heater goes to work so that a constant temperature is provided to the machines.

But before the water ever reaches the heaters it is first filtered and softened. Those impurities which cause the soap to make the grey curd, or "tattle-tale grey" are removed. Soap goes further, and does a better job.

Then just to be on the safe side, the water is treated with Micromet, just for added insurance that there will be no iron stain showing up in the wash water.

More cannot be done. Water at the Walton Laundromat is as nearly perfect for washing as any water can be. It's even better than that Grandma caught in her rain barrel!

The Walton Laundromat is conveniently located on the Big Spring Highway just south of Thirty - seventh Street. There's plenty of free parking.

Coin - operated machines are provided for such services as hair drying, soap dispensing, snacks and cold drinks.

The Laundromat is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and an attendant is on duty from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

All of these features, combined with the money - saving water furnished at the Walton Laundromat, are the reasons that more and more people are doing their laundry at the Virgil Walton Laundromat.

Thief Who Stole Body Is Sought

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP)—Police searched today for a night-roaming ghoul who stole the body of a 14-year-old girl from its casket, then abandoned it slashed and naked in an alley.

The body of Theresa Koertgen was taken Saturday night from a Skokie funeral home by an intruder who broke in through a window.

Some 20 hours later, an Evanston motorist nearing his garage in the early hours saw the body in the alley behind his home.

Later Sunday, a long-sleeved yellow dress believed to be the one in which the girl had been laid out for burial was found in an alley on the north side of Chicago.

Capt. Edward Caulfield, head of the Skokie police force, described the crime, technically only a burglary, as "unbelievable in this day and age." The theft and mutilation of the corpse pointed to a demented man, he said.

Police questioned and cleared two men, one a 16-year-old acquaintance of the girl and the other a man seen loitering around the funeral parlor.

Theresa was the daughter of Leo Koertgen, an auto sales firm executive. She lived with her mother, Margaret, who was divorced from her father.

The girl died Wednesday in Skokie Valley Community Hospital after collapsing Tuesday in a Skokie swimming pool. An autopsy showed she died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

The Aleutian earthquake of 1946 produced 55 - foot - high waves on the shores of the Hawaiian Islands where some 150 lives were lost.

Four Demos In Louisiana Are Opposed

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Four of Louisiana's eight Democratic nominees for Congress mapped plans today for "running scared" against Republicans in the Nov. 3 election.

In the past, Democratic nomination has meant automatic election in Louisiana. Political currents have grown confused lately.

"I am not an optimist," said Speedy Long, 36, who scored the only upset of the Democratic primary Saturday. "I always run scared."

Speedy, so named when he was born prematurely, defeated a cousin, Rep. Gillis Long, 41, in the 8th District in north central Louisiana.

The family fight, with civil rights the main issue, highlighted the races for Congress. In other districts, incumbents won easily or were unopposed.

Also facing GOP opponents in November were Reps. Hale Boggs, James Morrison and Edwin Willis.

The four unopposed in the general election are Reps. Edward Hebert, Joe Waggoner Jr., Otto Passman and T. A. Thompson.

Speedy Long's foe is William Walker of Winnfield, a retired colonel.

Walker described the Democratic primary in the 8th District as a confusing family fight. Speedy, a former state senator, polled 33,301 to 28,422 for Rep. Long.

Speedy ran with the blessing and background support of Gov. John McKeithen. Rep. Long was backed by Sen. Russell Long, D-La., also a cousin. Neither the senator nor McKeithen took personal part in the campaign.

Houstonian Heads Legion

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Louis Emerich, a Korean War veteran from Houston, was named Texas commander of the American Legion near the close of the state convention Sunday.

Re-elected treasurer was W.F. Speigel of Port Arthur, who has held the post since 1928.

Jack Whipson of Midland was elected sergeant-at-arms and Walter Janko of Somerville was named national executive committeeman.

El Paso was selected as the 1965 convention site.

The convention endorsed G. Ward Moody of Austin for national vice commander and passed a number of resolutions, including one calling for increased facilities at the veterans' hospital in Kerrville.

A recent run by collectors on silver dollars has cleaned out the Treasury Department's supply of "cartwheels" except for a reserve of some three million.

Air Conditioning Said To Benefit Pigs And Chickens

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —Central air conditioning for pigs is the latest gleam in the eye of the environmental control engineer. He says it will give you better porkchops.

He adds that it will cut the farmer's feed bills by letting the pigs get heftier faster without making hogs of themselves.

This type of engineer also says that a dairyman who plays it cool will get a lot more milk in hot weather.

A pre-chilled nest can fool a hen into laying more eggs. What's more they'll be bigger eggs with stronger shells. Since small eggs and thin shells affect the hatching and survival of young chicks, the poultry raiser could pare a bit off his dollar losses in the usual summer slump in egg production.

Young calves also slow down in gaining weight when the temperature goes to 80 degrees or higher. It's been doing that with great regularity in many places most of this summer.

All of this selling pitch, the engineer thinks, will woo many an animal raiser within the next five years and make barns and chicken houses year - round comfortable havens at steadily lowering costs.

Pig raisers are already heeding them, according to the environmental control engineers at General Electric. And this has led to some figures on how a pig reacts to heat and to controlled temperatures.

At temperatures of 60 and 70 degrees, a well-adjusted pig will gain more than 1½ pounds a day on 3½ pounds of feed. At around 90 degrees the same animal for some reason wants to eat more than 6 pounds, and gains about 1 pound in weight.

The engineer reasons that the cooler pig will produce top grade bacon, ham and pork products at lower feed cost, and therefore offer lower prices to the consumer.

Also the hot months adversely affect the fertility rate of swine, the size of their litters, and even the quality of the pork chop.

Pigs can be a problem other ways, too. The mortality rates of the young are among the highest among domestic animals. At the Borden Co. they say they have a system to counteract that.

Pigs are taken from the mother just before normal birth time while they're still disease free, and put in isolation units and brooders until four weeks old. That, of course, calls for a special feed formula. And the scientists there claim it all but eliminates the mortality rate that can run as high as 40 per cent in an unpampered litter. The special formula has nutritional value similar to sow's milk and is used by some farmers to replace cow's milk formulas they've used to ward off pig diseases.

And makers of feed supplements are just as sure as the environment control engineers that they can raise milk output, put more weight on beef cattle, fatten chicken drumsticks and get more eggs out of a hen. They, too, have statistics they like to quote.

The consumer? Well, he has promises of better food, and can hope for lower prices, as such human niceties as air conditioning and fortified foods are extended further among the animal population.

Subsidy Receivers Prefer To Call Them 'Payments'

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some folks who receive payments from the government under federal farm programs don't like to have it said that they receive subsidies.

The latest to protest is the cotton textile industry, the newest industrial group to come under the government payment tent.

Since Uncle Sam started programs in the early 30s offering payments to help bolster farm incomes, the term subsidy to describe such payments has become widely used and accepted.

Payments made by the Agriculture Department under its various commodity stabilization and conservation programs run more than $2 billion a year.

With the inauguration of a new cotton program in April, the government is making payments to cotton mills to enable them to buy cotton at prices on a par with those at which foreign mills are able to buy it under the export payment program.

The government seldom refers to the payments as subsidies. It uses the term payment — both in legislation and in administrative regulations and news releases.

The payments often are referred to in congressional committee hearings as subsidies, both by members of Congress and lobbyists appearing for and against payment proposals.

Perhaps the term subsidy is used most widely by the press, radio and television — and politicians.

Those who use the term subsidy contend it more accurately describes the financial aid given under the farm program than the word payment.

The word payment is generally used to refer to the discharge of an obligation such as payment for goods or services. The word subsidy carries the connotation of aid, assistance or grant of money.

Certainly, it would seem that this definition covers most if not all the payments made under the farm programs.
