They will join some other 220 other musicians selected state wide to participate Feb. 12-15 in the ATSSB All-State Band clinic and concert, to be held in San Antonio.

Alleged thief arrested as he returns to scene

An Iowa Park man was arrested Tuesday by Iowa Park police, when he returned to the same location where he is alleged to have committed a theft two days earlier.

But he is facing far more serious charges in Wichita Falls, because he reportedly used a credit card that was in the purse to make some $2,000 in purchases.

She did not discover the purse was missing until that afternoon, and immediately called the credit card company to cancel it.

That was about five hours later, and three purchases had already been made, primarily from building supply businesses in Wichita Falls. She then called the police department to report the theft.

During their investigation, police determined that two of the stores which had accepted the card had security cameras. Film from both provided photos of the suspect.

Copies of the photographs were shown to school personnel, but none could recall having seen him.

But Thursday, Beason returned to the administration building, and it was then that personnel recalled having seen his face in the photos, and police were summoned.

Most of his purchases had been of power tools, as well as chain saws and drills. All were made in that one afternoon.

Mrs. Lovelady's purse was found at Beason's residence, which is the mobile home park on the east edge of the city.

Missing from the purse were the credit card, her driver's license, and $5 in cash.

Chief Ray Smock said, while they were looking through the purse in Beason's presence, he was asked what happened to the cash, whereupon he reached into his billfold, extracted a $5 bill, and dropped it into the purse.

A charge of theft under $50 has been filed against Beason here, and a charge of credit card abuse will be filed by Wichita Falls police.

Local police have busy week

The past week was unusually busy for officers in the Iowa Park Police Department.

Five arrests, not including one for theft of a purse, were among the offenses listed on the police blotter.

The first was Thursday evening when Cody Lynn Beavers, 20, turned himself in at the station after being informed three outstanding warrants had been issued for him.

The warrants were for exhibition of acceleration, change of address on drivers license, and running a stop sign.

After being booked, Beavers paid his entire fine of $366.50, and was released from custody, according to the blotter entry.

A pursuit developed at Pacific and US 287 about midnight Thursday, ending at Wellington Road. Marvin Lee Menasco, 20, was arrested on a charge of evading arrest, and was taken directly to the county jail.

Albert Edward Delago, 34, was taken into custody at 7:23 a.m. Friday on a local warrant, capius pro fine, speeding, which carries a bond of $99.

At the same time a computer was determining that warrant existed, it also was learned another had been issued by the Wichita County Sheriff's Department, for criminal non support. He was transported at 10:07 a.m. to the county jail under a $15,000 bond.

Gary Don Crawford, 30, was arrested at 1:55 a.m. Sunday on a charge of public intoxication, and was later released when he paid a $132 fine.

Another arrest on a county-issued warrant was made at 11:21 p.m. Monday, in the 1300 block of West Highway. Albert E. Roberts, 23, was wanted for theft by check, with a bond of $200. He was turned over to a county deputy at 2:14, to be transported to the county jail.

One criminal mischief complaint was filed during the week.

Officials at Iowa Park High School told police someone had torn off windshield wipers of buses Friday night, which had transported.

Crime stopper reports have been issued at both the high school and junior high, concerning the incident.

Petitions circulated to slow train speeds

Local residents are being asked to sign petitions, requesting railroad trains to reduce speed while passing through the city.

"I don't know if they'll do any good," said Donna Caffey, who is coordinating the effort, "but I don't know what else to do. I don't want trains passing through the city as fast as they now can."

Caffey is placing the petitions at a number of Iowa Park businesses.

Three petitions, all stating the same information, will be stapled together, and those signing are asked to sign each copy.

The reason they are in triplicate is so that original copies of signed petitions can be presented to the two U.S. Senators and a state legislator.

"We're told they (elected officials) want original signatures," Caffey explained.

A regulation approved earlier this year by the Federal Railroad Administration allows trains to travel at a speed of 60 miles per hour.

Because of that, the City of Iowa Park's council withdrew its ordinance restricting rail speeds between the city limits.

Overflow crowd expected for Hawks' playoff battle

The Iowa Park Hawks are one win away from returning to the Class 3A State playoffs after a one year absence, after picking up two district wins this week.

Iowa Park, now 16-11 overall and a perfect 4-0 in district play, will host Bowie, 20-5 overall and also 4-0 in district, Friday night to decide the first-half winner. The winner of each half is assured of a playoff spot.

The Hawks opened the week in a big way as they reached the century mark for the first time this season beating Jacksboro 104-46.

Iowa Park blew the game open in the second quarter outscoring the Tigers by 30 in the period. Iowa Park, leading 22-15 after the first, exploded for 36 points in the second quarter while holding Jacksboro to only 6 to take a 58-21 halftime lead. The Tigers scored first in the second quarter but Iowa Park went on a 17-0 run to take a 39-17 lead with 3:34 left in the half. A 15-2 run later in the same quarter made the score 54-19 with 44 seconds left.

The Hawks extended their lead to 80-32 after three quarters winning the third period 22-11.

Iowa Park outscored Jacksboro 24-14 in the final period to take the lopsided victory.

Nick Black led Iowa Park in scoring with 24 followed by Levi Scholl, who finished with 21. Shawn Campbell also reached double figures with 10. Todd Yeager, Shawn Fulfer and Jake Dillard all scored 9. Every player on the team scored for Iowa Park.

The Hawks continued to take care of business Tuesday night with a 66-58 road-win at Henrietta, and even though it wasn't pretty, the results were what counted as it set up the showdown with Bowie this Friday night for a playoff spot.

Iowa Park trailed 4-3 early, but went on an 8-0 run to take an 11-3 lead with 4:29 left in the first and looked to be on their way to another easy win, but the Hawks had trouble all night long when it came to hitting their shots, missing from both long range and from point blank.

Iowa Park finished the first quarter leading 17-10, but Henrietta whittled away at the lead and cut the Hawk advantage to only 2 at 25-23 with 2:35 left in the half. Iowa Park couldn't extend the lead and went into the locker room leading 29-27.

The third quarter was a big one for Iowa Park as the Hawks outscored the Bearcats 19-9 to go on top by 12 at 48-36. Dillard's three-pointer at the buzzer gave Iowa Park it's biggest lead of the game. Dillard scored 7 of his 11 points in the third quarter.

Henrietta was not ready to throw in the towel as the Bearcats scored the first 8 points of the fourth quarter on a pair of three's and a 15-foot jumper to cut the lead to 48-44 with 6:14 left to play. Scholl kept his team on top, scoring Iowa Park's first 6 points of the fourth quarter, all on inside baskets.

Henrietta, 10-13 overall and 0-4 in district play, pulled to within 4 at 54-50 after a layup by Jim Walker with 4:02 remaining, but never got any closer as Iowa Park pushed it's lead back up to 10 at 62-52 with 1:41 left in the game.

Scholl led Iowa Park with 17 points, 8 of those coming in the final 8 minutes of play. Campbell, who also scored 8 points in the fourth quarter, finished with 15. Black added 13 and Dillard chipped in with 11 as Iowa Park placed four players in double figures.

Henrietta was led by J.J. Pierce, who finished with 14, Walker with 12 and Clay Blackmon with 10.

A big crowd is expected for Friday night's contest against Bowie with the varsity girls game scheduled for a 6:30 p.m. tip. The varsity boys game will follow around 8.

Because of an anticipated overflowing crowd for the Bowie game, the school will have its television

Taxes due next week

Because April 15th gets most of the publicity, concerning tax-paying time, it's not the only date taxpayers need to remember.

January 31st is another important date, and some people fail to remember it.

Payments for the year 1996 are due by Jan. 31 for city, school and county taxes.

If those are not paid by the deadline, they become delinquent and penalty and interest charges are added.

Seven percent penalty and interest is added in February, and it increases by one percent each month.

A 15-percent attorney's collection fee also is added to tax bills that remain delinquent after July, and that's atop the penalty and interest that has already been accumulating.

Council to hear request

The city council is to hear a request for the second time Monday night, for the city to make improvements to the Tom Burnett Ballfield.

The regularly-scheduled meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Sudda McLaughlin appeared before the council some two months earlier, asking the city to make needed improvements on the field, so the senior Little League softball teams could play their games there.

Mayor Tim Hunter told her then that an informal meeting should be scheduled with her to determine how much the city needs to expend, and how much would be available from Little League.

Two other items are included on Monday's tentative agenda, including a resolution and an ordinance.

The resolution, if approved, would be a contact with Wichita County, Wichita Falls and Burkburnett for service with Laidlaw Medical Transportation for ambulance service.

An ordinance relating to trees also will be considered by aldermen.

Estrogen: Keep Your Teeth

by Joe Hughes, R.PH

A recent study published in the Journal of the American Dental Association shows that estrogen replacement therapy reduces the risk of tooth loss in postmenopausal women. Tooth loss can be an early sign of osteoporosis. Estrogens may help strengthen the bone that support the teeth. A survey of 42,000 women found that those currently using estrogen had a 24% lower rate of tooth loss than women who had never taken estrogen. Protection from tooth loss was less for women who had used estrogen in the past but had discontinued it. There is a question whether women in the study may have had a higher standard of dental care than the general population. However, the preservation of teeth may be added to the list of benefits of proper hormonal replacement therapy.

Overman on Honor Roll

Brande Lynn Overman, a graduate of Iowa Park High School, has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the fall semester at Oklahoma State Univ.

Breast cancer topic 23 Study Club meeting

The Thursday meeting of Twenty-Three Study Club was held in the home of Mrs. John Brown, with Norma Harrell as co-hostess.

Quotation for the day was "God never makes us conscious of our weaknessess except to give us of His strength," taken from the book, "Apples of Gold".

Lucy Reynolds was program leader. Following the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag, Flossie Nunn gave the meditation, taken from "An Inspiration A Day"; by Jerome Waterman, closing with the line, "It is nothing to die, but it is frightful not to live."

A presentation on preserving Postal Art was given by Frances Park. She stated that during the early years of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's term in the severely depressed economic times of the 1930s, he decided to do something to help starving artists and thus, was instituted the Public Works of Art Program, or PWAP, the first government sponsored effort to support art in the United States.

Divided into 16 regions nationwide, artists from all over the country were invited to participate in painting murals, or doing sculptures to decorate the nation's post offices. Artists competed with all types of art work, which not only furnished employment for the winners, but also inspired a sense of pride in the past and hope for the future in those economically depressed times.

Ms. Park stated that in Texas, more than 60 of these works of art can still be seen in Post Offices and Federal buildings. She said "The nearest one to us is in the Electra Post Office." She said there is still one is Anson, and that one of the largest is in Dallas.

Between 1934 and 1943, 125 of these works of art were commissioned in Texas by this PWAP Federal Grant. Ms. Park presented each one with a list of towns and places where these still exist.

More information and exhibits of this program can be seen in the National Postal Museum in Washington, D.C., it is a part of the Smithsonian Institute.

Musical portion of the program was presented by Colleen Roberts with her accordian. She played a selection of winter favorites, "Let It Snow," "Marshmallow World," and "Winter Wonderland."

The program on "Breast Cancer Awareness" was introduced by Shirley Hicks. She quoted statistics that one out of every eight womn in the United States will at some time in her life be diagnosed with breast cancer. She said it is the most commonly occuring cancer among women, and the second leading cause of cancer deaths among women in the United States today.

She also related that in 1997 an estimated 180,200 cases of female breast cancer will be diagnosed and 43,900 American women will die from it. Mrs. Hicks introduced Mrs. Shirley Smith, a volunteer with the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Smith heads a group of 14 volunteers who work in the Cancer Society's "Reach to Recovery" program, serving women who have undergone mastectomies.

She emphaized two areas, Prevention, which emphasizes the impo rtance of regular self-examination and having mammograms, especiallly after the age of 50. Secondly, she emphasized survival after breast cancer, and the work of the Reach To Recovery volunteers, who work with the a patient after referral from the surgeon or attending physician.

These women, each of whom has undergone mastectomy herself, visit the patient and offer moral and practical support in their special areas of need, from supplying information on what facilities the American Cancer Society offers, to the personal needs of the patient, such as exercise, family support, and the availability of prostheses.

Through their "Look Good, Feel Good" program, they help patients to feel better about themselves. Mrs. Smith outlined services available from the Cancer Society for all cancer patients, and following a question and answer period, she` distributed informative literature to those attending the meeting.

GWFC counselor's report was given by Joy Belle McKinnon. She reported on "Operation Smile--International", which is a volunteer medical program providing reconstructive surgery and medical care for children in developing countries.

These volunteer surgeons and medical personnel work closely with the local medical personnel in the particular area to create an atmosphere of trust and friendship.

Many thousands of children with cleft palate and other deformities have been helped by this program. She reported that a donation drive is underway to offer support for the first ever medical mission to the Phillipines.

Following the business meeting conducted by Wanda Singer, president, members were reminded of the upcoming combined meeting of GFWC clubs to be held in Iowa Park in the spring.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

As I See It...

By Bob Hamilton

There was a time, until here recently, when I took exception to anything Bob Bullock said.

If "Bully Bob" said something was round, I said it was flat. And in my mind, by golly I was right and he was wrong.

I don't know exactly what has changed the man who now holds the state's Lieutenant Governor's office, but he has somehow come around to a more correct way of thinking.

A good example came this week, when he said he believes the state should divert profits from the lottery to education.

Shucks, I said that when the lottery was being proposed and Texans were asked to vote on whether the lottery should be legal.

Fact is, mentioned in the publicity preceding the state-wide referendum was a proposal that those monies would be dedicated to public education.

Then, some who felt differently, and after the election was held, said it wasn't a dependable source of funding for education. They prevailed in having the profits go directly into the state's general operating fund.

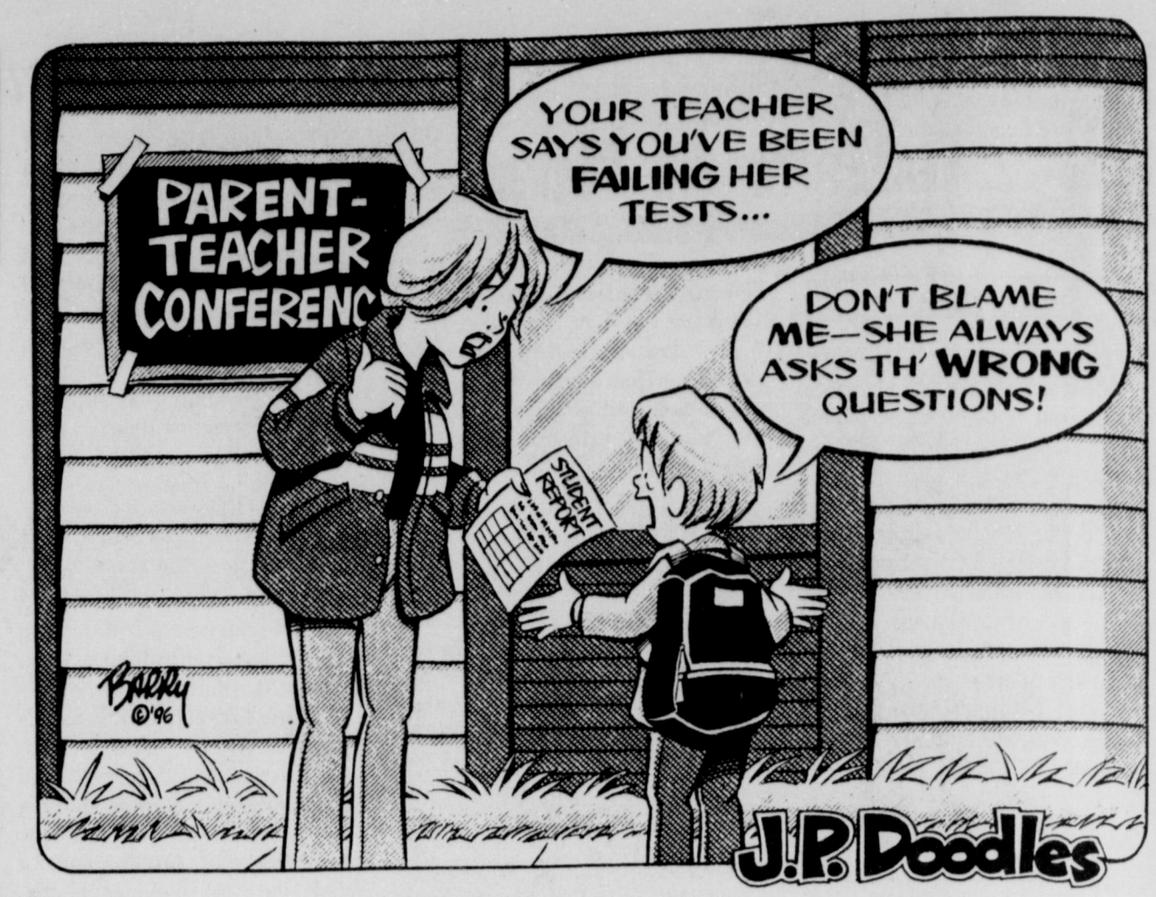

What those folks said had some truth in it. It is a fact that revenue from gambling is not as dependable as taxing real estate and property.

My thinking was, and continues to be, that profits from the lottery should be placed in a bank account, and the legislature allocate what is on hand each beinnium.

Bullock hasn't ventured that idea as far as I know, but he is advocating lottery profits go into the funding of education.

And what I like most about how he came to that idea is, according to published stories coming out of Austin, is that he realizes that is what a majority of Texans want.

Worth Quoting

Blame it on the second helpings of turkey, giblet gravy and ham -- or perhaps that extra slathering of whipped cream over the pumpkin pie.

But during the afterglow of a Thanksgiving meal dedicated to life's blessings here in the U.S., strange questions kept intruding into our somnolent semi-consciousness.

In the next war, will G.I.s be permitted to smoke in their foxholes?

Will we have non-smoking zones on the front lines for us and the enemy?

Will the quartermaster issue smokeless cartridges? How about tracer ammunition? Will the chemical composition of tracers drive the EPA over the edge?

Before the 155 mm Long Toms fire their shell, will we need an environmental impact study? What if the enemy is hiding in an historic building with pictographs on stucco walls?

If an enemy soldier is in your peepsight and lights up, will we shoot or wait until he extinguishes the cigarette?

What if G.I. Joe steps on a land mine and his leg is blown off and he asked the medic for a cigarette? Is his wish granted or is he told that he's in a no-smoking zone?

Will the "smoking lamp" ever be lit on the destroyer, the cruiser, or the aircraft carrier? Or will all ships at sea carry signs that read: "Women yet, smoking no!"

In the next war, will pilots drop cigarettes rather than bombs on the enemy so as to kill them from inhalation rather than concussion or shrapnel?

Will the dogface who has a wad of tobacco in his jaw to keep his teeth from chattering in the wind, be permitted to spit?

Will each rifle company have a smoke patrol? Will the sergeant of each 12-man squad designate four men as riflemen, four as machine gunners, and four as smoke-detectors?

What if the enemy files a complaint with the Geneva War Ethics Board over the GI practice of using -- not gas warfare -- but the cruel and unusual punishment of letting cigarette smoke drift over enemy lines?

Now don't get all riled up. We're only kidding. It's the turkey talking. Besides, we'll never have World War III -- the EPA, OSHA, DEA, NRA, ACLU, and Jesse Jackson won't allow it!"

About the Law

Sponsored by Iowa Park Police Dept. 592-2181

As of January 1, 1997, trains are allowed by law to travel 60 miles per hour through town.

Be extra cautious when crossing the railroad tracks. Be sure all the tracks are clear before you proceed across. There may be two or more sets of tracks. One train could be blocking the view of another.

Always stop for flashing lights, bells and crossing arms. If for some reason the lights are flashing and no train is in sight, stop, look both ways, and then proceed cautiously when you are sure the route is clear.

According to the Federal Railroad Administration: It usually takes from 30 seconds to two minutes for a train to pass through a crossing.

 A car traveling 50 mph needs 188 feet to stop. A freight train going 50 mph needs over a mile and a half to stop. That's more than 18 football fields!!

As we all know, a vehicle is no match for a train. The average freight train weighs approximately 6,000 tons and the average passenger car weighs approximately one and a half tons.

As you can see, disregarding the crossing guards is extremely dangerous. It is also against the law! The trains through town will be traveling at a much higher rate of speed than we are used to.

So please remember when approaching a crossing: Look, Listen and Live!

Letters to the Editor

TO THE PEOPLE OF IOWA PARK:

Thank you for your support during my recent ordeal. With what has happened, it would be very easy for me to be ashamed to go into Wal-Mart or any local cafe or other business establishment for fear of being considered a felon. However, just the opposite has happened. It seems the entire city of Iowa Park has told me they knew from the beginning this was not right and they never doubted me.

A special thanks to Mike Price and the Iowa Park Police Department for their efforts in my behalf. After living here for 20 years, this makes me feel even closer to this community.

I want everyone to know that I have not recently nor have I ever been in prison or out on parole. As for the "FBI Agent, Deputy, Private Investigator, Texas Ranger" - (pick one or insert a new one I haven't heard yet), - he was arrested and jailed by Wichita Falls police for kidnapping, aggravated assault, and weapons charges. I have also filed a civil suit against him for kidnapping and aggravated assault.

Several weeks have passed and my physical wounds have healed and I am beginning to be able to put this all out of my mind. However, I do not think that I can ever forgive this man for what he has done to my wife, my employees and my friends.

Thanks, everyone, again for your support as I get on with my life.

Your "Armed and Dangerous" neighbor,

Charley Strickland

MOST BENEFICIARIES NO LONGER SUBMIT ANNUAL EARNINGS REPORT

Social Security has eliminated the need for most beneficiaries to file an annual report of earnings.

Instead, the agency will adjust benefits as required under the Social Security annual earnings limits based on the amount of wages or net earnings from self-employment posted to the worker's Social Security earnings record.

The new process begins with reporting year 1996 and could save up to 330,000 public reporting hours.

Under the new procedure, beneficiaries will need to file annual reports only when their earnings for purposes of the Social Security earnings test are not the same as the earnings reported on their W-2 and/or self-employment tax return.

This program is offered Monday through Thursday and consists of a wide variety of activities, including picture bingo, craft projects, games, movies, and more. Low attendance during the busy holiday season and bad weather caused a pause in the program, but we are ready to start up again. Interested parents and caregivers are urged to call the RAC so we can set a time schedule that best meets your needs.

First Aid

We are still trying to schedule a first aid training for February. Ten participants will be required to secure an instructor, and at this time we only have four names on the waiting list. If you would be interested in taking the course, please call the RAC at 592-4471 and we will put your name on the list.

In the Works

Valentine's day and spring break are fast approaching, and we are making plans to help the kids enjoy their holiday from school (and for pre-schoolers, too!) If you would like to offer any suggestions for our program committee, feel free to contact the RAC and share your ideas. Please keep in mind that we can only offer these programs if there is significant attendance, so let us hear from you in advance. The number to call for reservations is 592-4471.

Checkoff dollars help Texas beef producers

Investments by Texas beef producers in checkoff activities conducted within the state, nation and world in fiscal year 1996 are highlighted in the recently published Texas Beef Council (TBC) annual report, says Chaunce Thompson of Breckenridge, TBC chairman.

"TBC's board of directors mandates that all programs conducted by TBC's staff with checkoff dollars be highly measurable as to the intended result," Thompson said.

"Texas producers will see from this annual report that TBC has conducted cost-effective programs with accountability that have provided value to consumers and cattle producers alike."

One side of this year's annual report lists highlights of projects conducted by TBC in Texas to strengthen beef's position in the marketplace. The report covers the fiscal year from Oct. 1, 1995, to Sept. 30, 1996.

The other side of the report lists national and international activities also conducted with beef checkoff dollars over the same period by the National Cattlemen's Beef Association (NCBA) and the U.S. Meat Export Federation (MSFEF).

The report shows that Texas, the No. 1 cattle population state, received $13,206,527 in checkoff dollars (96 percent of which came from Texas producers) and $208,468 in interest and other income.

TBC sent $6,276,231 to the Beef Board as its 50 percent share of all checkoff dollars collected.

Of the remaining 50-cent share, Texas sent $2.5 million to NCBA, all of which helped fund additional national beef promotion, education and research programs.

Some of the highlights of what the checkoff dollars helped fund in the last fiscal year were:

* A close working relationship between TBC and the Texas affiliates of the American Heart Association and American Cancer Society, which contributed to the 14 percent increase in physicians nationwide who recommend beef two to three times per week.

* A partnership with HEB that helped move one million additional pounds of shoulder clods through a new cut called the Texas-Style Short Rib.

* A partnership with Wendy's that increased ground beef summer sales by five percent in Houston and four percent in Dallas.

Gardening Hints

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Q. How can I start a Bur Oak from seed? I live in Wichita Falls and have numerous acorns in my yard under a large Bur Oak tree. I thought that the acorns might need some type of treatment to germinate properly.

A. Bur Oak would have to be on the top of my list as one of the better large oaks to use in landscapes in the Texoma region.

The acorns from Bur Oak can be planted as soon as they mature in the fall of the year. Simply plant the large acorns into a loose potting mix in a one-gallon container and keep the growing mix moist, but not overwatered. The young seedling should be ready for planting into the landscape by the following fall season.

Bur oaks are members of the white oak group of oak trees. The white oaks generally don't require any type of special treatment of seed prior to planting. In contrast to that, many of the oaks in the black oak group of oaks require a cooling period referred to as stratification prior to planting.

Q. We live in a subdivision in Wichita Falls. We have quite a bit of mistletoe in Cedar Elm trees on our street. What do you do to get rid of this problem? We have heard about a spray to control mistletoe.

A. Generally, removal of the parasite mistletoe will require pruning back about 18 inches behind where the mistletoe is attached to the tree branch. This can result in severe pruning if a tree has a great deal of mistletoe in it.

The control product you have referred to is called Florel. Florel is basically a plant growth regulator which must be spot sprayed onto individual clumps of the mistletoe while host trees are complete dormant. The result -- demonstration work that has been done in Wichita County showed that the Florel will hold the mistletoe back to where it joins the tree if properly applied. Out tests showed approximately two years of suppression on treated trees.

It is important for you to understand that the mistletoe is not actually killed by the application, but is held back for a period of approximately two years. It is not a permanent suppression of the mistletoe. Proper coverage of the mistletoe is important and it may require two applications spaced two to three weeks apart. Large and valuable specimen trees that you don't want to heavily cut by mechanically removing mistletoe are candidates for the Florel treatment. This may require that you hire a professional tree care company or pest control operator with the equipment needed to get the job done safely and accurately.

Q. I live in Burkburnett. I have a shaded bare spot underneath a large tree where nothing grows. What type of evergreen could I plant in this area?

A. If you want a small to medium sized evergreen shrub, then I would certainly consider one of the dwarf hollies such as Dwarf Burford Holly (5 feet height by 3 feet spread) or Dwarf Yaupon Holly (2 feet height by 3 feet spread) or Carissa Holly (3 feet height by 4 feet spread). Hollies as a general class of plants are good performers in Texoma. They grow in sun or shade and can take our hot summers and cold winters if properly cared for.

Other options if you want a lower growing plant would be to use one of the shade-loving groundcovers such as Asian Jasmine, Dwarf Mondo Grass, English Ivy, or Purpleleaf Euonymous. Check with your local nursery professional for these plants and even other options.

One word to the wise: heavily shaded areas under large trees are better planted in a shade-tolerant growncover or shade-loving shrub, not any type of turfgrass.

New surgery techniques mean shorter recovery

Surgery performed with tools the width of a pencil tip yields smaller scars and a shorter recovery tthan previous instruments.

Surgeons at Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital in Houston can now use two-millimeter instruments to remove gallbladders and perform other abdominal operations with minimally invasive surgery techniques.

"The smaller tools allow these procedures to be performed as outpatient surgery, and patients can return to normal activities within a week," said Dr. Charles Brunicardi, chief of general surgery at Baylor and Methodist.

The five-millimeter instruments previously used for minimally invasive surgery left incisions about the width of a pencil eracer and usually warranted an overnight stay in the hospital.

"But even that was a dramatiec improvement over traditional 'open' surgery for gallbladder removal, which entailed an incision eight to 12 inches long, at least one week in the hospital and six to eight weeks for recovery," Brunicardi said.

During minimally invasive surgery, a miniature camera called a laparoscope shows the internal organs on a video screen. The scope, scissors, lasers and other surgical instruments are inserted through the navel and four small holes made around the abdomen. The gall bladder can be removed in portions through the navel.

"The incisions are barely noticeable, especialy now that they are only two millimeters," Brunicardi said. "Patients have much less pain after the operation than they would experience with traditional open surgery. There's also a quicker return to to full activity."

As more surgeons become skilled with the two-millimeter tools, Brunicardi expects minimally invasive surgery to become the standard for other operations, such as treatment of heartburn reflux and hernia repairs.

"The miniaturization of surgical technology is the most exciting advance we have seen in general surgery,"he said.

Lady Hawks win by 41-point margin

The Iowa Park Lady Hawks finished off the first half of district play with an impressive win over Jacksboro on Friday night and despite playing one of their best games of the season, dropped the first game of the second half to Henrietta on Tuesday.

Iowa Park opened the week with a 67-26 win over Jacksboro to improve to 14-12 overall and 2-3 in the first half of district play. Jacksboro fell to 4-22 overall and 0-5 in district play.

The Lady Hawks won all four quarters easily starting with a 15-7 first. The Tigeretts actually led 7-5 with 4:44 left in the first quarter before Iowa Park ran off the final 10 points of the period.

Iowa Park used another big run, this time an 11-0 run midway through the second quarter to go on top 28-11 as the Lady Hawks defense, which forced 13 first half turnovers, limited Jacksboro to only 4 points in the second quarter.

The Lady Hawks opened the third quarter scoring the first 6 points of the period to extend their lead to 34-11 with 6:01 left in the third.

Iowa Park finished the game strong, scoring 26 in the final 8 minutes of play while holding the Tigeretts to only 9 to take the easy win.

LeAnn Jordan led Iowa Park in scoring with 17, followed by Sara McCarty and Laci Downs, who each finished with 9. Alora Foster added 8 points while Randi Tigrett, Alisha Clements, Sharla Hughes and Kim Scobee all scored 6 points.

Jacksboro was led by Kizzie Sanders with 8 and Whitney Stockdale with 7.

In Tuesday's game against Henrietta, the No. 5-ranked team in Class 3A, Iowa Park fell behind early as the Lady Bearcats raced out to a 14-2 first quarter lead. Henrietta connected on 7-of-15 shots from the floor while Iowa Park was 0-of-6.

Iowa Park continued to have the cold hand from the floor and didn't get it's first field goal until the 4:46 mark of the second quarter as Henrietta led 20-5.

That first field goal by the Lady Hawks was a spark that ignited a 12-0 run that saw Iowa Park trim the Henrietta lead to 20-15 with 1:11 left in the half. Iowa Park finished the quarter with a pair of free throws by Tigrett and entered halftime trailing 23-17.

The third quarter was closely contested as Henrietta outscored Iowa Park 10-9 and led 33-26 heading into the final 8 minutes of play.

Iowa Park pulled to within 6 at 40-34 with 3:18 remaining but from that point on nothing fell for the Lady Hawks as they couldn't buy a basket.

Henrietta scored the final 6 points of the game, all from the free throw line to take the 12-point win.

Scobee led Iowa Park in scoring with 10 followed by Foster with 8. Jordan and Tigrett each scored 5 points for the Lady Hawks.

Danielle Seward led Henrietta with 17 points, including all 10 of her team's points in the third quarter. Lesley Crowley added 10 and Emily Horn scored 8 for the Lady Bearcats, who improve to 23-2 overall and 1-0 in the second half of district play. Henrietta won the first half with a 5-0 record. Bowie finished in second with a 4-1 mark with the only loss being a 2-pointer at Henrietta.

Things don't get any easier for the Lady Hawks as they host Bowie, the No. 7-ranked team in Class 3A Friday night, then travel to Childress to take on the Lady Bobcats, a team that took Henrietta to double overtime last week before falling by 2.

Both games are scheduled for a 6:30 p.m. tipoff.

JV Lady Hawks win pair

The JV Lady Hawks closed out the first half of their district schedule with a hard-fought 37-34 win over Jacksboro on Friday night, then followed that up with another close game against Henrietta on Tuesday with the Lady Hawks winning 19-14.

Iowa Park opened the week edging the Tigeretts thanks in part to an 8-2 first quarter. Iowa Park improved to 14-5 overall and finished the first half of district play at 2-2. Randi Nelms led her team in scoring with 15 points followed by Cari Hogan who finished with 13.

The Lady Hawks traveled to Henrietta on Tuesday and in a very low scoring affair pulled out a 19-14 win.

Iowa Park won the first quarter 3-2, and the second 4-2 to lead at the half 7-4. Henrietta took a 1-point lead at 12-11 heading into the final quarter after outscoring Iowa Park 8-4 in the third.

An 8-2 fourth quarter sealed the win for Iowa Park which improved to 15-5 overall and 1-0 in the second half of district play.

The Lady Hawks were led in scoring by Amanda Reed with 8, Kayla Stevens with 5 and five players with 4 points including, Laci Wells, Krysha Hoover, Audrey Wells, Christy Landers and Erin Foster. The loss drops Iowa Park's record to 10-8 overall and 2-2 in district play to finish the first half.

Iowa Park needed overtime Tuesday night to get past Henrietta, 40-35. The Lady Hawks rallied from 9 down starting the final period to tie the game at 31-31. Iowa Park outscored the Lady Bearcats 9-4 in the extra period to gain the win.

Laci Wells led her team with 8 points, followed by Reed and Foster with 7 each. Jenny Pack's three-pointer with 1:50 left in regulation gave Iowa Park it's first lead of the game.

The Lady Hawks improved to 11-8 overall and 1-0 in the second half of district play.

CHAT WITH PATTY

Question: How can I spend my money wisely when preparing my home for sale?
Answer: Concentrate on rooms that can help sell your house: the kitchen and bathrooms. Also take a good look at the roof and ceiling. Is there anything here that would make a buyer hesitant?

Inexpensive improvements I recommend include:

1. Paint the front entrance. (First impressions)
2. Pack anything (furniture, knick knacks, and floor pillows) to make rooms free from clutter.
3. Clean house thoroughly. Hire someone, it's worth it!
4. Tighten loose knobs or faucets.
5. Replace light bulbs.
6. If the carpet detracts - clean or replace!
7. Ask yourself - "Does everything work as it should?" - if not, fix it.

If you follow through and consider these items seriously, I believe you will find your repairs will "pay off." Please also consider hiring a professional to do repairs especially if time is lacking or you really are not qualified to do the work required.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said the state Legislature, which convened Jan. 14, may change the law that requires wealthy school districts to share their tax revenue with poor districts.

Bullock said that because Gov. George W. Bush is urging legislators to reform the school property tax system, it would be appropriate to address the 1993 "Robin Hood" school finance law.

"It has always offended me somewhat to take money away from a wealthier district and give it to a poor district because I have always felt it was really the obligation of the state to bring the (education) system up instead of leveling it out," he was quoted by the Houston Chronicle.

About 100 of the state's 1,000 school districts have to share their local revenue.

Bullock had said it would be hard to lower school taxes without opening the debate on how education dollars are spent and thus endanger the school finance system's delicate balance.

But last week, in a meeting with reporters, he said the system may be repealed because "a number of senators and House members have been extremely critical of the school finance system we have today, specifically Robin Hood, and this will be their opportunity."

Bullock, a Democrat who presides over the Senate, said that if the new (16-14) Republican majority in the Senate wants to change the system, "they're going to have the opportunity to do it with no roadblock, certainly, from me."

Senate rules require a two-thirds vote to pass legislation.

Lottery Director Is Fired

The Texas Lottery Commission last week fired Nora Linares, who has been director of the Texas Lottery since its founding in 1991.

The commission voted 3-0 to dismiss Linares, without stating an official reason, after an ethics investigation revealed that her close friend, Mike Moeller, earned $30,000 in 1992-93 from a contract with GTECH Corp., the company that runs the lottery.

Moeller is serving a federal prison sentence on bribery allegations that accused him of trading state and federal contracts for campaign contributions while he was a deputy commissioner of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Last spring the lottery commission voted to renew GTECH's contract to run the lottery for five years without taking bids.

After the vote, Linares said, "I've done nothing that justifies the actions taken by this commission today. When the dust settles and the air is cleared and everything comes out in the open, I will be cleared."

Linares' lawyer, Buck Wood, said there is no evidence that Linares ever gave GTECH any favorable treatment or benefits because of Moeller's contract.

Wood also accused Texas Lottery Commission Chairwoman Harriet Miers, a Republican, of stirring up the ethics controversy to get rid of Linares, a Democratic activist, the Chronicle reported.

The commission named Zoann Attwood, the lottery's deputy director since 1992, to serve as interim acting director. Attwood is former director of the Montana Lottery.

Special Elections to Fill Seats

Two vacancies in the Texas Legislature will be filled by special elections to be held Jan. 28, two weeks after the 75th Texas Legislature convenes.

One vacancy was created when state Sen. Jim Turner, D-Crockett, was elected to Congress. The second vacancy resulted when state Rep. Steve Ogden, R-Bryan, notified Gov. Bush he was resigning from office to run for the seat vacated by Turner.

Also running for the seat Turner had held since 1991 is Democrat Mary Moore of Bryan, a certified public accountant and the daughter-in-law of former state Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan.

Other Capital Highlights

■ Attorney General Dan Morales advised several hundred state employees who work in two state office buildings to take a day off while bomb-sniffing dogs, state troopers and other investigators combed the buildings for explosives. Morales' office received a threat apparently connected with his dispute with the so-called "Republic of Texas," an anti-government group.

■ Gov. Bush appointed John Hill, former chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court, to the three-member Texas Lottery Commission on Jan. 3. Hill, who formerly served as Texas attorney general, joined Lottery Commission Chairwoman Miers and commissioner Anthony Sadberry on Jan. 7 in voting to fire Linares.

■ The three-member Texas Railroad Commission elected Commissioner Charles Matthews as chairman on a 3-0 vote. Matthews, a former mayor of Garland, was elected to the commission in 1994. As chairman, he succeeds Carol Keeton Rylander, who remains a commissioner. Rylander and Matthews, as well as Commissioner Barry Williamson, are Republicans. The TRC regulates the state's oil and gas production industry.

News of the Iowa Park Genealogical & Historical Society

Among the most authentic original records in existence are the church records prepared by the pastor or other official, and preserved in the church or parsonage. These records include the baptismal, marriage and death events, and usually include the date, names of the parents and places.

The minutes of the church council or session often contain valuable data, including admissions to membership and isssuance of removal letters with information as to where the members were from and where they moved.

Many churches have at various times published histories of their churches and congregations in order to observe anniversaries, and many have included the vital statistics as well as the church minutes. In some instances, the church records have been turned over to a central organizatiion, such as a church historical society where information can be obtained.

Practically all churches, especially during the early days, owned and maintained burial grounds where residents of the community could be buried. The church records usually show the name of the owners of the cemetery lots but not always the names of those buried therein.

Persons residing over a wide area were included in the records as often members of that faith would travel many miles in order to have the event of the baptism, marriage or burial performed at the church where they had religious ties. Marriages were usually performed in the locality of the bride's parents, either at their church or home, while the groom may have traveled a considerable distance.

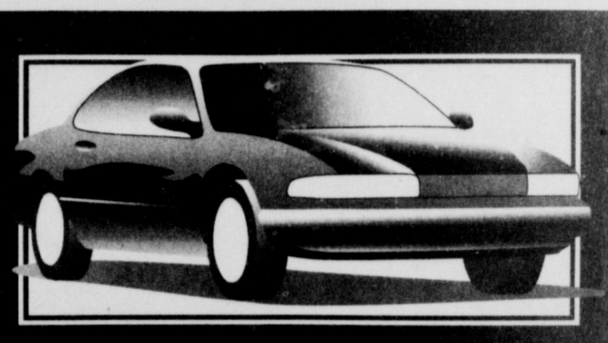

Pastors who had several charges or who covered certain areas periodically were known as circuit riders and their records were usually retained by them.

Some records are not being preserved by the church and other historical societies, or by descendants, but in many cases were either lost or destroyed.

The Tom Burnett Memorial Library has a genealogical section that you may use for such research, and the Iowa Park Genealogical and Historical Society is here to help in your quest.

PCA Production Credit Association
A Friend of Our Community

To all our members and friends:

Since 1934, Wichita Falls PCA has been a lasting part of your community. In the early days, PCA financed cattle, wheat and dairy loans here. Today, you can still turn to your local PCA for agricultural financing on livestock, crops, agribusiness needs and more.

As a member of your community, PCA takes pride in participating each year in many ag-related events within our 21 county territory. From the county livestock shows to the Farm and Ranch Ag Expo, and many other local events, we've supported the things that are important to you, our members and friends.

Last year was an excellent year, and we would like to thank you as we head together into 1997. Because of your continued support, in the last several years we have returned more than $2.4 million in patronage refunds to our customers. Patronage refunds are just one of the benefits of cooperative membership, and our way of saying thank you for your continued support. This past year, the PCA loaned more than $120 million to agricultural producers like you and your friends.

With the beginning of the new year, please look to us for all your production agriculture needs. As the region's largest provider of agricultural funds and related financial services, we have the experience and ag expertise to help you take your business to the next step.

Sincerely,
Board of Directors — Wichita Falls PCA
