The new Texas penal code

Texas lawyers, judges and law enforcement officers are dusting off old study habits and applying them to the new penal code that went into effect Jan. 1.

Taking the place of many different laws that had been passed and changed from time to time, the new code gives Texas courts a standardized, easy-to-understand set of rules to work under.

The basic philosophy of the new code is to simplify the law and bring it up to date.

There are basic changes in the law that came with the new code, some of them of interest to Post merchants. One important difference is that a "hot" check is a misdemeanor up to $200 now, rather than $50 as it was before.

The law on bad checks has been separated into two sections now, one dealing with "check fraud" where the writer receives something in return for the check, and the second part for the issuance of hot checks to pay bills or for other purposes without receiving anything in return.

The change from $50 to $200 for felony theft will particularly affect local merchants due to the near impossibility of extraditing a person from another state for a misdemeanor.

The differences between the new code and old laws shows up particularly in the area of theft. Where there were once dozens of laws to cover many different kinds of theft, one law now covers all of them, with uniform punishment.

The easy classification and uniform punishment under the new system is seen as probably its best and most important aspect.

Possibly the most dramatic change is the restoration of capital punishment in the state.

The new penal code will allow the death penalty where a police officer or fireman was killed while on duty or where a murder was committed while in the act of kidnapping, burglary, robbery, aggravated rape or arson. Murder for hire for both the killer and his employer is now a capital offense, as is murder while in a penal institution or while trying to escape from a penal institution.

Aside from the death penalty, there are six basic categories of punishment in the new code: first, second and third degree felonies and class A, B and C misdemeanors.

Misdemeanor penalties range from a maximum $200 fine for class C to a maximum $2,000 and/or one year in jail for class A. Felonies have a maximum penalty of death or life in prison for capital felonies, 5-99 years for first degree felonies, 2-20 years for a second degree felony and 2-10 years for a felony of the third degree.

One section of the law that sees frequent use in Garza County and will not be changed relates to traffic laws and offenses such as driving while intoxicated. These laws remain the same.

The new penal code will bring Texas more in line with customary definitions of punishment throughout the U. S., but like all new laws, they are still in the process of being tested by the courts to see if they can stand the test of daily use. — CD

Get on the Doe bandwagon

All local basketball fans are urged to get on the Post Doe bandwagon this Friday night by making the trip to Slaton where Coach Jay Wilson's girls' team meets the Slaton Tigerettes in a game that will decide the first half championship of District SAA.

The Post girls have one of their best teams in several years, but are "doped" to lose to the Tigerettes, defending district champions, in Friday night's game on the Slaton court.

A big crowd of Post supporters in the stands at Friday night's game can help the Does overcome the odds and upset the favored Slaton sextet.

The Does have lost only to McCamey and Ropesville, both tough teams, this season and have the potential to upset the Tigerettes.

The Post girls are the type of team that is going to give its best every time it takes the court. If the Post fans will do likewise with their support Friday night, they can help the Does pull off one of the upsets of the season. — CD

New hairstyles are coming

Regardless of the energy crunch or of anything else that might develop in these "times that try men's souls," the spring and summer 1974 hairfashions will be elegant, vibrant, radiant and opulent, according to the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

The Dispatch has just received from the NHA a news release and a packet of glossy prints describing the new hairfashions, and we feel we'd be doing our female readers a disservice by tossing the material in our already-bulging wastebasket without some comment on the new styles.

The four new hairstyle images have been designed to reflect the elegant and radiant moods in women's fashions which have developed for spring and summer, says Louise Corder of Detroit, Mich., national styles director of the 60,000-member association.

The NHA descriptions of the four new spring-summer hairfashions follow:

THE RADIANT IMAGE: Beaming . . . Bright . . . Illustrative! This ultra shining sleek coiffure is as uncomplicated as it is sophisticated — with professional care, cut, curl and color! A quick flick of the brush can alter this simple cloche bob into an exciting flurry of movement and softness. Whether the mood be coquettish or serene, put your best image forward and "radiate."

THE ELEGANT IMAGE: Remember page boys and the sumptuous peek-a-boo hairstyle? Reminisce in the past with this up-dated version of the deeply swooped bang, smoothly combed style, or ornate chignon. All are expressions of elegance which are created through professional expertise in the cutting, waving and styling of this versatile, tastefully executed "Elegant Image."

THE OPULENT IMAGE: Provides a look of quality and a touch of class in a coiffure for the exuberant woman who wants her personality reflected in her hairstyle. With fashion's rediscovery of "the imaginative chignon" or worn loose and free, the "Opulent Image" makes a positive statement of confidence and self-assurance.

THE VIBRANT IMAGE: The "Vibrant" woman has her own means of expressing her excitement and energetic views of "life" in this waved fashion silhouette. A slight nostalgic reminiscence of the days gone by is suggested in the vibrance of this "Now" woman-on-the-go style. This professionally styled short cut, together with a textured fashion permanent, makes the vibrant image both durable and flexible. — CD

Our contemporaries say . . .

We lucky people in small towns now have all the more reason to feel sorry for people living in the big cities. They have been trying to cut down on air pollution, and now they will have to turn down on heating fuel. Present policy is to allow more air pollution in order to provide more fuel. That may be the best compromise. Now the residents will only half-freeze to death and half-choke to death.—The Belton Journal.

The visiting Englishman was asked to comment after seeing his first football game in the United States. "Not a bad sport," he replied. "But they seem to have too many committee meetings."—Wendell Tooley in The Floyd County Hesperian.

I'VE GOT A bad case of "Mondaynucleosis" this morning, but when I can't think of anything to put in a column over the weekend, Monday is the absolute deadline, so I might as well face up to it.

I watched Sunday's Super Bowl game on TV, but there's nothing to write about there.

READING AGAIN this morning about the 55-mile speed limit that goes into effect Sunday, I recall a barber shop discussion that took place many years ago about highway speeds. The barber who was cutting my hair said 40 miles an hour was fast enough for anybody to travel. Of course, that was back in the days when we didn't have fast automobiles and good roads and when even haircuts were slow.

In fact, that barber shop discussion took place way back when:

—You finally learned to tie your own shoes, and felt that life could hardly hold a greater victory.

—A dime would buy more licorice than you could chew in a day.

—One of the last things you did before going to sleep was to hide your gun in a place where you could find it again — and your mother couldn't.

—One of the greatest joys of childhood in winter was to make snow ice cream — with the help of a little cream and vanilla flavoring.

—One of mother's biggest tasks was to see that you scrubbed behind your ears before leaving for school.

—You were too shy to tell your first grade teacher that all you wanted out of life was to grow up and marry her.

—Immediately after smoking your first cigarette you ran home and looked in the mirror to see if you had caught tuberculosis.

—The most sophisticated comeback to any remark was the reply, "So's your old man."

—Everybody in the neighborhood knew you had fallen in love with the little girl down the street when you finally agreed to play hopscotch with her in public.

—The worst thing about losing a front tooth was that it ruined your whistling.

—You went to bed tired and woke up hungry — instead of the other way around.

THE MAN UP the street says any couple with five or six kids is happier than a couple with five or six million dollars. They don't keep straining for more.

The National Weather Service again this year is using girls' names to identify hurricanes in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico. Here is the list of potential hurricanes for 1974 in case any of you gals want to see if your name is on it:

Alma, Becky, Carmen, Dolly, Elaine, Fifi, Gertrude, Hester, Ivy, Justine, Kathy, Linda, Marsha, Nelly, Olga, Pearl, Roxanne, Sabrina, Thelma, Viola and Wilma.

Hurricanes and typhoons in the Eastern North Pacific are also identified by girls' names, as follows:

Aletta, Blanca, Connie, Dolores, Eileen, Francesca, Gretchen, Helga, Ione, Joyce, Kirsten, Lorraine, Maggie, Norma, Oriene, Patricia, Rosalie, Selma, Toni, Vivian and Winona.

THE DISPATCH frequently gets telephone calls to help settle arguments. Sometimes we can do it right off the bat and sometimes it takes a while for us to find the facts, which was the case when someone called Friday afternoon and asked us to help settle an argument over this nation's war losses.

We could tell from the noise in the background where the argument was taking place, but that's beside the point. The fellow who called us said the argument was that the U. S. losses in the Korean Conflict was more than those of World Wars I and II combined. We told him we could look it up in our World Almanac when we got home, but the fellow wanted the answer right then, so we referred him to the Post Public Library.

I DON'T KNOW if he got the information he wanted at the library, but I looked it up when I got home and found that the number of men killed (which seemed to be what he was referring to) was considerably less in Korea (35,000) than in either World War I (116,000) or World War II (406,000). So, somebody lost an argument.

SUPERSONIC SPEED

The prefix Mach is used to describe supersonic speed. When a plane moves at the speed of sound, 1088 feet per second at sea level at 32 degrees F., it is Mach 1; twice the speed of sound, it is Mach 2.

Timely Tips from CHDA

ALTERNATE HEAT SOURCES SAVE FUEL

Alternate heat sources in the home can help consumers save fuel supplies this winter. Extra heat comes from woodburning, sunlight or adding humidity to the home.

For example, burning wood continuously in a fireplace supplements the home's heat supply. However, leaving the damper open after the fire's out lets heat escape up the chimney. So, for maximum energy conservation, keep the fireplace damper tightly shut when not in use.

Also on bright, sunny days, fully utilize solar heat. To do this, keep curtains and blinds open wide on south or west windows — to take advantage of the warm winter sun during daylight hours.

Another conservation method involves controlling the amount of fuel used in keeping a home warm. When no one is home, turn the thermostat down to 60 degrees. Warming the house back up to 68 or 70 degrees just takes a few minutes — and uses less fuel than maintaining the higher temperature all day.

In addition, learn to live with a little less heat. Although most people feel comfortable in a 68-70 degree room, lower temperatures can be tolerated.

SLIGHTLY INCREASING HUMIDITY

Slightly increasing humidity while lowering the temperature is one way to add comfort. Remedies include less frequent operation of ventilation fans and boiling water on the range. However, where dry conditions are severe, the boiling water method will not put sufficient water into the air. Humidifier units, available in a range of sizes and types, can also be used to add moisture. Dry air always seems colder than air with about 30 per cent humidity.

However, in homes where the air is too moist, condensation on cold, indoor surfaces causes window sweating, mildew and undesirable odors. To solve such problems, cold surfaces must be warmed or the moisture in the house reduced.

If the house has a crawl space with no basement, thin sheets of polyethylene plastic can be used to cover the ground under the house. Excessive moisture can also be reduced by exhaust fans in the kitchen, bathroom and laundry area, the places that most contribute to raising relative humidity. Such fans need not operate continuously but only when these areas are in use.

Many condensation and sweating conditions on walls and windows may require structural changes to completely remedy the problem. Storm windows and doors and insulation with vapor barriers added to the walls, ceiling and floor usually give good results.

Simply placing a fan in front of a large glass window or door to provide a flow of air over the cold surface will offer temporary relief.

When other measures do not give favorable results, a dehumidifier will provide more positive moisture removal.

Huck by Rosemary Chapman

Carl Rains told me to come out to her house. She'd give me a ride on a tractor.

That riding tractors is a much more worthwhile resolution than some health thing. When you write a column every week you get paid every week. Surely I can think of something to write about.

What have I been doing, for heaven's sakes? Washing, ironing, cleaning, cooking — somehow, these things just don't make good column material.

Does anyone know a good story?

I found a terrific Indian camp out on the Double U Sunday but I told Emmett Shedd about it Monday and he said he'd found the same one 12 years ago. (It was nice of him to leave me half an arrowhead.)

Preston Poole sent me a birthday poem. The last verse said, "If I had the vocabulary of Howard Cosell I would expand more on Rose, but since I don't for now I will close." Preston, that's a good ending. I think I'll use it. One out of three resolutions may not be much to write home about but it's better than nothing.

Nothing happened to me this week. I swore I would walk, skip or run five miles every day. I sat on the curb and cried.

After to make these exercise plans is the best I ever keep them.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick and The Garza County Museum Association express appreciation to the following:

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Surman for their interest and enthusiastic support.

Ed Bruton and the Postex Plant of Burlington Industries for their many services and generous contributions.

Silas Short for the gift of a show case.

Mrs. C. K. Pierce for the acquisition and sales of souvenir tiles and china, and to Marie Neff for the art work on same.

All who have assisted in hospitality duties at meetings and programs given at the museum.

Judge Dalby and the County Commissioners for placing the Museum in the County budget.

Gene Solis for his assistance this past year.

As Chairman of the Garza County History Book Committee, I would like to express my thanks and appreciation to the following members of the committee: Vada McCampbell, Evelyn Neff, Lottie Shelton, Edward Neff, Georgie Neil Davies, Helen Welch, Helen Livingston, and Mr. Charles Didway.

Also to Mrs. Octavia Thompson, Marie Neff, and Ruth Young for their fine and untiring efforts on Wagon Wheels. And to Mr. Vanzant of the Pioneer Publishing Company for his patience and helpful suggestions.

Sincerely,

Winnie Tuffing

The members of the Garza County Child Welfare and Development Board would like to thank everyone who sent gifts and donations to provide Christmas presents for the nine Garza County children in foster homes. Because of your generosity each child received gifts they had especially wished for. Again we say thank you and God bless you all.

Fiscal year spending in Garza by VA $216,915

The Veterans Administration spent $216,915 in Garza County in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973, according to a report compiled by VA figures.

Operation and pension benefits for veterans accounted for the largest share of the Garza County VA's $216,915 spent for fiscal year 1972.

According to Jerry Brannan and Jack Coker, directors of the Waco VA Hospital and Regional Office, respectively, these expenditures included $401,236,559 in compensation and pension benefits to veterans, $164,715, rehabilitation and $13,172 for insurance and indemnities.

Statewide, the VA's fiscal year's expenditures totaled $778,247,694, an increase of $68 million over fiscal year 1972 expenditures in Texas by the VA.

856 in G. I. Bill educational benefits and $36,589,170 in insurance and indemnities.

The remainder was spent for construction costs and operating expenses for the two regional offices at Houston and Waco, the ten VA hospitals and centers at Houston, Dallas, Temple, Waco, Amarillo, Big Spring, Marlin, San Antonio, Kerrville and Bonham, and outpatient clinics at San Antonio, Lubbock, Corpus Christi and McAllen.

Harris and Dallas Counties received the largest amounts with Harris getting $144.8 million and Dallas $110.2 million. Other counties receiving a large share of the VA benefits and operating money spent are Bexar, $63.2 million; Tarrant, $45.2 million; McLennan, $34.8 million; Travis, $24.3 million; Bell, $23.4 million; El Paso, $17.7 million; Jefferson, $14.3 million; Potter, $13.1 million; Nueces, $12.5 million; and Lubbock, $11.4 million.

Eighty-five counties in Texas received over one million dollars in VA compensation, pension, education, insurance and operating cost money.

New producer is completed

Tom R. Minham has completed his No. 2 A Connell in the Rocker A. Northwest (San Andres) field of Garza County, seven miles southeast of Post.

The well potentialized at 20 barrels of oil per day plus 40 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio too small to measure. Gravity was 86.6.

Production was from perforations at 2,554-2,752 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 2,902 feet, which is the total depth.

The producer is 707 feet from south lines and 1,667 feet from west lines of Section 8, Block 5, GH&H Survey.

Abilene's million dollar zoo, opened in 1966, is one of the five largest in Texas.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN — It's an economic fact of life that the costs of almost all goods and services have risen at a rather heady rate in recent months, but most consumers feel the pressure most in their grocery budgets.

Economists are telling us that there's no immediate hope of turning the price trends downward, so it's more important than ever that individuals follow the examples of business and government, and concentrate on getting full value for money spent.

Most shoppers are aware that unit pricing is a good indicator of value, and have learned to compare the costs of various brands, shop for "specials," and experiment with new labels and products.

Not so well known is the fact that the U. S. Department of Agriculture requires that practically all food products be coded as to freshness, ingredients included; nutritional values, and weights by general measures as well as measuring units for cooking (cups, pints, etc.).

Some food manufacturers and processors have made it easy for the buyer to tell how long an item can be expected to retain its fresh flavor. For instance, the label of one brand of mayonnaise clearly states that the customer should not buy a jar of a specific batch after such-and-such a date.

Most cereal and cheese manufacturers, as well as producers of baked goods put the sales expiration dates on packages so that they are easy to find and read.

Coding on canned goods, on the other hand, may be a bit obscure for the average consumer, but your store manager should have a key list for coding to guide you.

Date coding on meat may vary from store to store. Some large chains stamp the day of the month a cut was packaged right below the weight, and price. Others use codes which would have to be deciphered by the butcher or store manager.

Milk is dated, but usually the date is embossed — without a color contrast — at the top of the carton on the spout side.

Bakers of bread usually employ colored tag twists to denote the difference between days loaves were baked. Package markings also serve as clues in the cases of some bakers with national distribution. Do not be misled by such assurance as "baked fresh daily," if the loaves were shipped from a city faraway.

The importance of date coding is that it tells you how long you may expect to use a food item, without worrying about its going stale, losing its flavor, or posing a health threat to your family.

Certainly, nothing would be gained if you took the trouble to buy groceries in large quantities, to make a saving or to resist the temptation of an extra trip to the market, and then had to throw out an unused portion.

Do not assume that the item nearest at hand is the freshest. In order to keep stock moving in sequence, store clerks usually put the most recent inventories at the back of a shelf, so the others can be sold first.

Do not hesitate to tell your grocer if you find out-dated goods (such as canned biscuits which are too old to rise, or old cottage cheese) on his shelves. The mechanics of updating are complex, and honest errors do occur.

Most grocers are sincerely cooperative. After all, they deal daily with the toughest consumer of all — the food-buying housewife.

Letters to the Editor

A THRIFTY HINT

Dear Readers:
I have just discovered a fantastic new way to add twelve inches to each yard of fabric that I buy. As you all know, due to the fuel shortage, material will probably become more expensive and difficult to obtain. This is a thrifty hint I felt I should pass on.
Like many of you, am an avid seamstress. When I realized I could actually save fabric by simply changing my cutting method, I was delighted.

First, turn your cutting table so that it runs east and west. This step is very important.

Lay your fabric down and smooth and straighten it. Now — cut twelve inches off of the east end and sew it to the west end. Perfect! You should now have an extra foot of material on the west end. Think of the savings. From these added inches you will be able to cut all of your smaller pieces such as collars, cuffs and facings.

What? You say it didn't work? You have exactly the same amount? You didn't enjoy the experiment?

Gosh, I'm sorry. I got my idea from Daylight Saving Time. I wonder if "THEY" know?

Sincerely,
Polly Cravy

Auto registration will again be made by mail

AUSTIN—Owners of some 8.4 million motor vehicles in Texas already are receiving, or soon will be, some important mail.

Registration renewal applications were to be put in the mail shortly after the holiday season by the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department.

The same quick and easy method made possible by modern computer technology will be in effect this year as it has been in the last few years.

Vehicle owners can save time that used to be spent waiting in long lines at county tax offices throughout the state by ordering their 1974 license plates by mail.

All that must be done is to send the entire three-part application by mail to the county tax assessor-collector in the owner's home county, enclosing the registration fee plus $1 for each vehicle to cover handling and postage.

There are three things to remember:

1. Leave the three-part form intact. Don't separate the three parts.

2. Mail it to the county tax office in your home county. (Mailing it to the Highway Department will only delay getting your 1974 license plates.)

3. Be sure to include the registration fee, plus $1 for each vehicle for postage and handling.

You may apply for license

The letter "S" was formed from the Egyptian hieroglyphic "se" meaning a "goose," whose shape was outlined in it.

plates by mail after Jan. 1. However, county tax offices won't mail plates until after Feb. 1. Owners should allow at least 30 days from the time they apply for the license plates to be returned.

In-person registrations will begin at county tax offices and, in some counties, at substations on Feb. 1. Even though the automated registration application procedures have speeded up the process, waiting lines will grow progressively longer as the April 1 deadline approaches.

Important tax deadlines near, officer says

LUBBOCK — Important tax deadlines face taxpayers and employers in Texas during January, John T. Sloan, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service (IRS) for the Lubbock area, said today.

Employers are reminded that the deadline to give employees their 1973 W-2 forms is Jan. 31, 1974. The form should show earnings, income tax withheld and Social Security information. Jan. 31 is also the deadline for reporting Social Security information Jan. 31 is also the deadline for reporting Social Security and withheld income taxes for the calendar quarter ended Dec. 31, 1973. If employers make timely deposits of the full amount of the tax due, ten additional days are allowed to file the return. Sloan said that employers who received a pre-addressed Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return", should use this form to report their tax liability. Other employers can obtain blank copies from their local IRS office.

The last day of January is also the last day to report and pay any balance of Federal Unemployment Tax not over $100 for 1973, using Form 940. If the balance of tax due is over $100, the employer must make a deposit with FTD Form 508. If the full amount of the tax is deposited on time, employers may then file the return no later than Feb. 11, 1974.

Seniors in Spotlight

By LEE ANN HODGES

Our first "Senior in the Spotlight" is Rhonda Holly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Holly. Rhonda was born Aug. 13, 1956, is 17 years old and has two older brothers.

The activities she is involved in this year are Cooperative Homemaking, and she works at the hospital and is in FHA. The activities Rhonda has been involved in during high school are FHA, Cooperative Home-making for two years and pep squad.

Rhonda's favorite famous person is Richard Bach (who wrote Jonathan Livingston Seagull) because she believes that if you set your mind to doing something and want it bad enough you can do anything you want to do or be anything you want to be. Rhonda's favorite food is shrimp, her hobbies are horseback riding and arts and crafts.

We asked these seniors how they liked the time and how they liked coming to school in the dark? Rhonda's reply was, "The Daylight Savings Time hasn't really affected me because I work in the mornings and when I go to work it's still dark, only now it's a little darker. And when I leave to come to school it's about 9:45 a. m. and it's already light."

Rhonda's plans after graduation are to get married and go to a junior college to train to be a nurse.

Our next "Senior in the Spotlight" is Steve Sawyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sawyers. Steve was born May 18, 1956, is 17 years old and has one younger brother and one younger sister.

The activities that Steve is involved in this year are National Honor Society, UIL Typing, Science and Math Club, and band. The activities he has participated in during high school are basketball, golf, National Honor Society, band, Science and Math Club and FFA.

Steve's favorite famous person is Joe Namath. His favorite food is steak and his favorite color is red.

We also asked Steve what he thought about Daylight Savings Time and coming to school in the dark and he said, "I don't like it because it is too dangerous for little kids crossing streets and it just doesn't seem right to go to school in the dark."

Steve's hobbies are playing baseball and watching all sports.

After graduation, Steve plans to attend a college, probably Texas Tech.

'Caprocks' are now on sale

The 1973-74 edition of the "Caprock," Post High School yearbook, is now on sale.

Junior Historian Chapter active with 30 members

Thirty Post Junior High School students are participating in the newly-organized Junior Historian Chapter here. Miss Sarah Holder, a sponsor, told members of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee at its annual appreciation awards meeting Tuesday morning in the community room.

Miss Holder, introduced by Lottie Shelton, a member of the GCHSC, said in addition to the 30 students there are four sponsoring teachers in the junior historian chapter.

Winnie Tuffing spoke in appreciation of Octavia Thompson, Marie Neff and Ruth Young and members of the history book committee for their efforts toward the publication of "Wagon Wheels: A History of Garza County."

Mrs. Tuffing also read a letter from Bob Watson, coordinator with the State Historical Commission, in which he suggested that the committee enter its county history in state competition for 1974.

Vada McCampbell reported that "Wagon Wheels" has been well received. She said all copies of the original shipment were sold in advance sales and that an additional shipment of 95 copies was received. A letter was read from the Gaines County Historical Survey Committee complimenting the book and the introduction party held here in December.

Mrs. Tuffing presented GCHSC members with Distinguished Service Award certificates from the Texas Historical Commission and the Texas Historical Foundation.

Ruby Kirkpatrick thanked all those who assisted in the various efforts of the Garza County Museum Association in 1973, and also the Texas Tech architectural students for their

Parallel terraces help on crop moisture need

Many Garza County farmers have found a partial solution to crop moisture needs by use of parallel terrace systems.

Bob Arhelger, district conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, says this conservation practice could mean the difference between profit or loss in a farmer's operation.

Arhelger says that as irrigation wells weaken, a method of holding all of mother nature's rain on cropland is imperative. In this low rainfall area, one good rain held on a field could mean money in the bank.

A properly installed parallel terrace system will hold rainfall on the land and more evenly distribute water between the terraces. This also helps assure a more uniform crop.

Other benefits gained from parallel terraces are fewer point rows, more ease in use of modern equipment, and erosion control. A properly planned system can also aid in irrigation water management.

Arhelger points out that parallel terraces have already proven their value to the point that several local farmers are replacing their old standard terrace systems with parallel systems.

Arhelger says interested landowners can get more detailed information on parallel terraces and other conservation problems by contacting their local Soil Conservation Service office.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF GARZA COUNTY

Due to our not being able to secure bids for petroleum products for the year 1974, Garza County will have to rely on the allocations as set for previous years by the U. S. Government. Therefore, our normal requirements will be cut considerably. Due to this, we will have to curtail our services according to the petroleum products available in all county government jurisdiction.

We ask your kind indulgence through this period of time and will do our best to minimize any inconvenience to the public.

Happy New Year!

By George L. Miller

(Some New Year's Resolutions . . .)

1. Start counting calories, it's definitely time to get back in shape
2. Cut down on the cocktails, no more than two a day—if possible
3. Quit smoking
4. See if I can pay off the note at the bank, the first one, and work on the other three if there's anything left over

(Found on a Crumpled Sheet of Paper . . .)

5. Be a little more considerate with my wife and pay more attention to the kids
6. Straighten out that quarrel with my best (I mean former!) friend
7. Start going to church more regularly
7. Pray at least once a day, whether I need to or not

(In a Wastebasket.)

9. Start believing in people again
10. Start believing in myself again
11. Just start believing again, period

(And Scrawled across the bottom of the list . . .)

Oh Lord, one more new year, and another list of resolutions to keep! How I hate having to try again. I don't need a New Year, Lord—I need a new me.)

55mph speed limit will go into effect Sunday

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Commission has set a statewide maximum speed limit of 55 miles per hour, effective at 12:01 a. m., Sunday, Jan. 20.

The action was taken in keeping with the law passed by the recent special session of the Texas Legislature, empowering the commission to set lower speed limits to comply with federal energy saving actions.

Under the terms of the Emergency Highway Energy Conservation Act signed by the President Jan. 2, a state not establishing a 55 m. p. h. maximum speed limit would not receive its share of federal highway construction funds.

Federal taxes on items related to the operation of adjusted base period volumes.

For a purchaser, the Register explains, the base period volume means those purchases of each middle distillate product during the corresponding month of 1972.

The adjusted base period volume means the amount which is assigned by the Federal Energy Office to a wholesale purchaser of greater than 84,000 gallons annual volume or by the State office to other wholesale or end-use purchasers for Category II uses.

The Federal Register also says that "upon restoring Category I uses to 100 per cent of current requirements, any additional supplies will be offered for sale to Category II uses with first right of refusal on a pro-rata basis up to 100 per cent of current requirements. The excess and unsold remainder may be sold on the open market."

To provide for seasonal fluctuations, the regulations state that "agriculture and construction, suppliers and purchasers should agree among themselves either to borrow on future allocations or defer current allocations within the level of the total allocations for the year, as long as such arrangements do not result in an involuntary reduction in allocations to other purchasers. Similarly, suppliers may borrow or exchange products among themselves."

The allocation of middle distillates, Childers explains, is of course meaningless if Category I users consume all available fuels. The likelihood of this probably is unpredictable, he adds.

As for motor gasoline, agricultural producers also will get 100 per cent of the 1972 base period volume. Each supplier is required to provide supplies of motor gasoline to those purchasers he has supplied since Jan. 1, 1973.

Each wholesale purchaser who was not in business during the entire year of the base period, the Register explains, or who has had substantial expansion in fuel requirements since that time, may apply to the Federal Energy Office and be assigned an adjusted non-priority base period supply volume and an adjusted priority motor vehicles — notably a four-cents-per-gallon levy on gasoline — go into the Federal Highway Trust Fund. These funds are apportioned back to the state for the federal government's share of highway construction.

Texas' share amounts to some $240 million annually which would be withheld if the lower speed limit were not set by early March.

Today's action is subject to review within eight days by Gov. Dolph Briscoe. The lower speed limits will apply to all highways in the state, including highways under the control of the Texas Turnpike Authority, cities and counties.

New speed limit signs replacing the old 70-m. p. h. maximum speed limit on the state's major highways, will be in place by the effective date. The Highway Department will begin immediately the task of making and posting the new signs.

The commission also directed the Highway Department to monitor and document circumstances "which might relate to the establishment of speed limits and to report to the commission on a monthly basis." This is in order that the commission may make findings as to whether the 55 m. p. h. limit should continue in effect.

Many motorists in Texas already have voluntarily reduced their driving speeds to below 55, Highway Department spokesmen said.

base period supply volume.

There is an important requirement in motor gasoline allocations. Each wholesale purchaser must inform his supplier on a monthly basis of his allocation level for motor gasoline for priority-end uses. To accomplish this, the supplier may require submission of data from his purchasers on volumes needed for priority uses. Such reports must be certified by the purchaser for accuracy and that the quantities will be sold for non-priority uses.

This means that wholesale purchasers will adjust their future requests for priority allocations to reflect their previous month's underage or overage and actual usage for priority purposes.

Finally, Childers concludes, hardships, inequities, and new-user requirements will be met through the reclama procedures established in the state, regional and national administrative machinery.

The program, he says, boils down to a fairly heavily regulated allocation of fuels. Just how flexible it will be remains to be seen.

In view of a growing economy and expansion in most areas of agriculture during this time of energy limitations, farmers and agribusinessmen will have to plan more carefully than ever before to meet consumer demands and make a profit.

Nurse's Aide and Orderly training set

LUBBOCK — The Regional Occupation Center here is taking applications for a Nurse's Aide-Orderly Training Program which will begin Feb. 11. The class will be conducted at University Hospital in Lubbock and Mrs. Leona Smith, R. N., B. S., will be the instructor.

The class is open to men and women who wish to qualify for employment as a nurse's aide or orderly in local hospitals, nursing homes, and other medical care facilities.

The first two weeks of the course will be classroom instruction and will meet from 8:30-2:30 daily, Monday through Friday. The last three weeks of the course will be devoted to clinical training and the students will work on a hospital ward under the supervision of the instructor during an assigned eight-hour shift. The training program will provide a total of 180 clock hours of classroom and clinical training.

The Nurse's Aide-Orderly Training Program has been approved by the Texas Education Agency and graduates of the program will be given a Certificate of Completion by the Regional Occupation Center. As a branch campus of South Plains College in Levelland, the center is fully accredited.

Application materials will be provided upon request. Completed application forms must be received on or before Feb. 6. For further information, contact Dr. Charles Sylvester, Dean of the Regional Occupation Center, at 2404 Ave. Q, Lubbock, or telephone 747-0576.

? Your ? Name ?

WHAT'S IN IT?
By CHARLES DIDWAY

MORRIS

Lewis Morris, a New York farmer, and Robert Morris, a Pennsylvania merchant, were two of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Lewis was a great-grandson of Richard Morris, who fought in Cromwell's armies and emigrated to America on the restoration of Charles II of England. He founded the manor of Morrisania, in what was then New Netherland. Another of his great-grandsons was Gouverneur Morris, one of the leading advocates for the Declaration of Independence.

The surname Morris, which originated in England, is the 34th commonest in that country and Wales, 26th in Scotland and 46th in the United States where there are an estimated 266,000 persons by the name.

In England, Morris was an early spelling of the given name now usually spelled Maurice from the Latin Mauricius, meaning "dark-complexioned one." The name was introduced into England by the Normans, among whom it was popular as a first name in honor of St. Maurice, who was martyred by the Romans in Switzerland in 287.

As did many first names, Morris became a hereditary surname unchanged when the latter began to come into common usage.

hopes to have these plans and estimates ready for presentation to the city and county within the next few weeks.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick said the youth board was asked in December in a meeting with the county commissioners court, Mayor Giles McCrary and Councilman Ed Sawyers to work up plans and costs on an entirely new building to see how it compared with the costs for purchase and remodeling of two present downtown locations.

School and city officials will meet in the future to work out lease arrangements on the temporary youth center location, Mrs. Kirkpatrick said she was told.

People have believed for thousands of years that a charm worn around their necks protected them from witchcraft, the evil eye and other misfortunes.

The Morris name in Ireland is also of Norman origin, but was introduced there early enough for the original Morris family to be counted as one of the "Tribes of Galway." The name also takes the forms of MacMorris and Fitzmorris in Ireland.

Jacob M. Morris was one of the organizers of the first archery club in America in 1825 in Philadelphia. In more recent years, Charles Lester Morris made the first cross-country helicopter flight in 1942.

Rites held for Max L. Morris

Services for Max Lindsey Morris, 82, of Lubbock, formerly of Post, were held at 2 p. m. Sunday in Asbury United Methodist Church in Lubbock, with burial in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Lindsey died about 2:30 a. m. Saturday in a Lubbock Hospital.

He was born in Wylie, moved to Lubbock from Post in 1933. He was a veteran of World War I and past master of Masonic Lodge 846 in Lubbock.

Survivors include his wife, Ida; three sons, Horton of Macon, Ga., Nelson of Lubbock and Don of Shawnee, a daughter, Mrs. Frances Thornton of Arlington, Va.; a brother, Roy of Newhall, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Esma Cash of Abilene and Mrs. Hazel Lewis of Rule; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

John Chapman, known as Johnny Appleseed, devoted his life to planting apple seeds and pruning apple trees. He began his task in the Ohio Valley in 1800 and for 50 years he sold or gave away apple seeds to families moving West.

Does to face showdown with Slaton there Friday

Both teams have perfect records in district play

The big game of the week as the District 5AA first half girls' basketball championship is concerned will be played at 7 o'clock Friday night at Slaton between that school's Tigerettes and the Post Does. Neither team has lost a district game, with Friday night's contest to end the first half action.

The Post Antelopes, who are 0-5 in district play, will be looking for their first conference win when they go against the Slaton Tigers following the girls' game. Preceding the girls' game will be a contest between the junior varsity Antelopes and Tigers.

Junior varsity teams are in Slaton tourney

The junior varsity Post Antelopes and Does are to play first round games today (Thursday) in a junior varsity basketball tournament at Slaton.

The girls' team is to play Tulia at 1:10 p. m., and the boys' team takes on Abernathy at 2:20 p. m.

If the girls win over Tulia, their next game will be at 5 p. m. Friday against the Roosevelt-Tahoka winner. If they lose to Tulia, they play the Roosevelt-Tahoka loser at 10:30 a. m. Friday.

If the JV Antelopes get by Abernathy, they will play next at 11:50 a. m. Friday against the winner of a first round game between the Clovis sophomores and Frenship. If Post loses to Abernathy, they will play the Clovis-Frenship loser at 3:50 p. m. Friday.

Other teams in the tournament are Slaton and Ralls.

ence win when they go against the Slaton Tigers following the girls' game. Preceding the girls' game will be a contest between the junior varsity Antelopes and Tigers.

The Tigerettes are the defending district champions, while the Does were runners-up in last season's district campaign.

Coach Jay Wilson said Tuesday that his Doe squad is in good shape for Friday night's game and will be going for an upset win over the Tigerettes.

Tuesday night, the varsity teams and the junior varsity Does will travel to Cooper to open the second half of district play.

The junior varsity teams are playing in the Slaton JV tournament which opens today. Monday night, Jan. 21, the freshman and 7th and 8th grade teams are to play Frenship, the girls here and the boys there.

Slaton clobbers freshman girls

Slaton's freshman girls' basketball team got too big a jump on the Post freshmen in the first quarter here Monday night and went on to win, 48-20, in a district game.

The score was 17-4 in Slaton's favor at the end of the first period, 25-8 at the halftime intermission, and 33-14 at the end of the third quarter.

Scoring for Post were Karen Williams, 12, and Amy Cowdrey and Brenda Weaver, four each. The loss left the Post team with a 5-2 district mark and 6-3 on the season.

POST TEAMS OPEN WITH TAHOKA

Six-team 8th grade tourney gets under way here today

Competition will get under way at 4 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday) in Post's invitational 8th grade basketball tournament, in which six teams are entered.

There were to have been eight teams in the tournament, but the field was shortened to six with the withdrawal of Crosbyton and Ralls. That left, Post, Slaton, Roosevelt, Tahoka, Idalou and Frenship as the competing teams, according to Post High School basketball coach John Alexander.

Following today's openers, play will continue Friday and Saturday, with the championship games scheduled for Saturday night.

Trophies will be awarded champions, runners-up and consolation champions in both boys' and girls' divisions.

Today's first tournament game, at 4 p. m., will be between the Roosevelt and Slaton girls, with the Roosevelt and Slaton boys to follow at 5:20.

The two Post teams will see first round action, with the girls playing Tahoka at 6:40, and the Post-Tahoka boys winding up Thursday's action in a game starting at 8 o'clock.

Play will be resumed at 4 p. m. Friday with Idalou meeting the winner of the Post-Tahoka girls' game. The Idalou boys will play the Post-Tahoka boys' winner at 5:20 p. m.

At 6:40, the Frenship girls will take on the Slaton-Roosevelt winner, while the Frenship boys will go into action at 8 o'clock against the Slaton-Roosevelt boys' winner.

The girls' consolation championship will be decided in a game starting at 1 p. m. Saturday, while the boys' consolation championship game will start at 2:30.

The battle for third place in the girls' division is to get under way at 3:40 and in the boys' division at 5 o'clock. The game for the girls' championship is set for a 6:20 start, while the boys' championship will be decided in a 7 o'clock game.

VARSITY DROPPED, 59-51

Antelope teams lose 2 close ones to Mustangs

The Post Antelopes played what Coach John Alexander described as "a tremendous game" last Friday night before losing to the Denver City Mustangs, 59 to 51, in the Post gym.

The Antelope junior varsity also lost a close one, 46 to 43, to the Denver City JV's.

In the varsity game, the score was tied with a minute to go, but the Mustangs made a three-point play then hit five more quick points before the buzzer.

The victory gave the favored Mustangs a 4-1 district record and left the 'Lopes at 0-5.

Denver City led 15-9 at the end of the first quarter, but failed to gain any ground in the second period when both teams scored 18 points. Post pulled up to within two points, 43-41, by the end of the third quarter.

Ricky Shepherd scored 14 points and Mark Bevers, 13, to lead the 'Lopes scoring, while Bruce Shores' 16 paced the Mustangs.

Post held a 12-11 lead at the end of the first quarter in the JV game, but Denver City was ahead 26-20 at halftime, and 36-31 going into the final period of play. Mike Hair and Bryan Davis, with 12 and 11 points, respectively, were the top scorers for Post, while York's 11 paced Denver City.

The scoring summaries:
Varsity
DENVER CITY: G. Lehnert 5 4 14; Shores 2 2 16; Floyd 4 0 8; Allen 2 1 5; Thorne 3 0 6; Ivy 4 0 8; Parks 0 2 2. TOTALS: 25 9 59.
POST: Bevers 6 1 13; Shepherd 5 4 14; Kirkpatrick 1 7 9; Conner 3 0 6; Josey 1 1 3; Craig 1 4 6. TOTALS: 17 17 51.

Junior Varsity
DENVER CITY: York 5 1 11; Terry 3 1 7; Slentz 1 0 2; Stafford 5 0 10; J. Lehnert 1 0 2; Murray 3 0 6; Kidd 3 2 8. TOTALS: 21 4 46.
POST: Hair 4 4 12; Davis 3 5 11; Price 3 1 7; King 2 0 4; Martinez 1 0 2; M. Shepherd 2 3 7. TOTALS: 15 13 43.

Girl Scout troop is making rabbits

By RACHELLE SMITH
Girl Scout Troop 398 is working on rabbits made out of socks. When finished, the rabbits will have a nose, eyes, and a tail out of yarn. These are to be presented to a nursery in one of the Post churches.

Girls present for the meeting were: Rachelle Smith, Judi Morris, Lona Hodges, Connie Halford, Laurie Balongie, Estelle Harper and Dede Haas. Leaders are Mrs. W. H. Smith Jr., and Mrs. A. D. Halford.

CLOSE CITY MEETING
The Close City Community Center will meet Saturday night for a potluck supper and games. A short business meeting will be held. The public is invited.

Oldsmobile sets new sales record

LANSING, Mich. — Oldsmobile Division shattered all previous annual sales records in its 76-year history by delivering 803,313 new cars during calendar year 1973. William J. Buxton, divisional general sales manager, announced today.

"We set our sights on a goal of 800,000 cars early last year," Buxton said, "and we are all proud we surpassed our objective."

The 1973 total tops the division's previous calendar year high of 771,280 set in 1972 and marks the third consecutive annual sales record.

Post teams win 2 of 3 from Trojans

The Post Does raced by the Christ the King girls' basketball team at Lubbock Tuesday night, 70 to 39, to bring their record on the season to 17-2.

The Post Antelopes lost to the CTK Trojans, 54-43, largely on account of a "bad" second quarter in which the Trojans outgunned them 17-8.

The junior varsity Antelopes won, 48-42, behind the 23-point performance of Bryan Davis.

In the girls' game, Post jumped off to an 18-13 first quarter lead and were out in front 38-23 at the halftime intermission, and 54-23 at the end of the third quarter, in which they held their opponents scoreless.

The Does hit 20 of 24 shots from the free throw line, with Melanie King connecting on 16 out of 17 and coming up with a 38-point total. Jenda Gilmore scored 16 points; Becki Dalby, eight; Sandy Bullard and Joni Hays, four each. Kim Mitchell and Sandra Dudley also played at the forward positions, and the guards were Ann Mitchell, Jan Hall, Darla Baker, Kennedy, Sylvia Smith, Merrie Cross.

The Antelopes were the Trojans by only 8-6 at the end of the quarter, but slowed down second period to allow opponents to go to the room with a 25-14 lead. Teams stayed even in the third quarter, and the fourth.

Besides Davis' 23, the junior varsity game Hair scored 12, Mike 10, and Edward Price.

The scoring summary follows:
POST: Bevers 3 6 12; Conner 1 2 4; Wyatt 1 0 2; Josey 1 0 2; Kirkpatrick 0 0 0; Blair 4; Davis 2 4 8. TOTALS: 48 42 90.

CTK: Castillo 0 3 3; 12; McMahon 4 2 10; Hopperman 3 1 7; Quinn 16; Meyer 0 2 2. TOTALS: 54 43 107.

Post 8th grade girls win Tahoka tournament

Post's 8th grade girls' basketball team, coached by Sherry Woods, won the championship trophy in Tahoka's invitational 8th grade tournament Saturday by winning over St. Joseph's of Slaton, 26 to 16.

The Post team had opened with a 26-22 win over New Home, then advanced to the finals in a 26-24 squeaker over Slaton.

Cindy Kirkpatrick scored 15 of Post's 26 points in its victory over St. Joseph's for the championship trophy. Debbie Wyatt scored six points and Karla Kennedy, six.

Against Slaton, Wyatt scored 14 points; Nancy Clary, six; Kirkpatrick, four, and Kennedy, two.

In the New Home game, Wyatt hit 12 points; Kirkpatrick, seven; Kennedy, five, and Clary, two.

Seeing action at the guard positions for Post were Nancy McCowen, Sharon Johnson, Kelly Mitchell, Stacy Starcher and Donna Josey.

MAKES DEAN'S LIST

ABILENE — Laura Kay Herron Cathey of Post has made the Dean's List at McMurry College this past term. To be able to make the Dean's List a student has to have an average of 3.5. Kay, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Herron of Post, is a senior majoring in business education and had a 3.8 average.

Rites held for M. J. Stacy

Services for M. J. Stacy, 52, of Brownfield, a native of Post, were held at 5 p. m. Tuesday in Levelland, with burial in the City of Levelland Cemetery.

Stacy, a nephew of Mrs. Cameron Justice and the late Marshall Mason, both of Post, died about 11:30 a. m. Monday at his home in Brownfield after a sudden illness.

He had farmed at Friona and later lived in Crystal City before moving to Brownfield in 1971.

Stacy was a veteran of World War II and a member of the First Baptist Church of Brownfield, Levelland Masonic Lodge, El Paso Scottish Rite and the Khiva Shrine in Amarillo.

Survivors include a son, Bomar of Plano; a brother, J. G. Stacy of Levelland; and three grandchildren.

Two held in slaying of Post man's father

Robert Bartlett of 203 South Ave. C, Post, reports that a Ferriday, La., man was arrested Sunday and charged with murder and armed robbery in connection with the slaying of Bartlett's father, William R. Schepers.

Bartlett said sheriff's records at Vidalia, La., show that Robert Earl Spann, 42, has been charged with the fatal shooting of Schepers.

After questioning Spann, police arrested another man, Orville Aaron Farmer, also of Ferriday.

Schepers was shot twice near midnight Dec. 22 after he was called out of his trailer home to fix a flat tire. He was the owner of a service station at Ferriday.

Shiver gave trustees a lunchroom financial report indicating receipts of $20,023.29 through Dec. 31 as compared to expenses of $23,296.22 for a subsidy cost to taxpayers of over $3,200.

He also reported use of the lunchroom had fallen from 425 meals served daily in August to an average of only 354 in December. He said a meal price increase might reduce participation still further but that the lunchroom needed to serve 400 daily for most economical operation. Average meal cost through Dec. 31 was 74 cents.

The chief also suggested that classroom lights be turned on before classes in the morning to provide a little outside light for arriving students and that trustees consider installing some lights at the front doors of school buildings, along the sides, and at their ends. He said the state has some regulations as to how close lights can be erected to the highway which passes in front of three of the schools and he couldn't advise the schools on that.

Trustees indicated they would like the city to provide additional street lighting in front of the schools.

After all these plans and discussions, trustees later in the meeting approved of Supt. Bill Shiver's present school starting time, pointing out that in two or three more weeks it will be no problem.

included.

Outside of these two units, however, the entire cost is being financed from donations over the last three years to the Post Public Library Memorial Building Fund.

More donations will be needed to finance the patio and provide additional library furnishings. Some furnishings already are on order and funds for them are available.

Trustees hope to finance new books and shelving from the annual $3,000 budget from the city and county.

A library open house will be held in the near future when all is completed and the building will be "given back to the city."

If you remember, it has belonged to library trustees during the construction process to avoid required architectural work and added costs which would have put the whole expansion program "out of reach."

providing local physicians approved and would cooperate in the service.

The organization is headquartered at Plainview and in some areas with heavy migrant populations has its own medical staff but in areas such as Garza County where indigent migrant needs are not so great the program would be conducted with the organization providing fees for treatment by local physicians.

The organization is federally funded and would not cost any local funds for its operation within the county.

Cornish named a nominating committee, composed of Walter Didway, chairman, Mozella Mitchell, and the Rev. Kenneth Metzger, to provide the committee with a slate of new officer nominees for the annual election at the March meeting.

Maddera told the committee he was guardedly optimistic about chances for federal funding continuing for the community action program and many of its principal programs.

The Meals on Wheels program here probably is assured of funding until September, but prospects for its continuance after that time now do not appear good although the South Plains Community Action Association is still searching for an agency from which to continue funding. Maddera told Garza directors.

He said the South Plains Association now has necessary funds to continue the program until "probably September."

Mrs. Ann Tubbs, coordinator of the Meals on Wheels program here, said a check from the association for $1,400 would carry the program through March here and thus complete the first year of the program's continuous operation.

She asked the directors to find a new coordinator by March as she plans to increase her regular working hours and will be unable to devote as much time to supervision of the program.

Liz Menchaca gave a family planning report which shows 145 women, 140 of them active, are now participating in the program.

Mrs. Sue Shytles, director of the Lorenzo Alexander Center, reported another busy month of activity in December including 242 contacts. She said she spent considerable time helping those get straightened out as the social security office took over adult welfare.

She said two young men have received their high school equivalency diplomas from Roswell and one is attending vocational school at Sweetwater.

She reminded that the Well Baby Clinic has been changed to the last Thursday afternoon tion Committee as long as he remains in office. Equally important is his membership on the Legislative Budget Board which has the responsibility of keeping in touch with financial requests of state agencies between sessions of the Legislature. In addition the budget board prepares biennial budget recommendations to be presented to the Legislature when it convenes.

Healty's major activities and concerns have been with livestock, agriculture, mental health and mental retardation, Texas Youth Council, and public education. He has supported all constructive legislation and voted for all pay raises and retirement benefits for school teachers.

During his last three terms he has introduced the School Bond Assumption Act. This would work on the same order as the Road Bond Assumption Act as it was passed many years ago. It would mean that the State would assume the outstanding school bond indebtedness, thereby alleviating the sinking fund and permit the public schools to have considerable more funds for their operation. This bill has not passed but Healty hopes that it will gain momentum and become a law in the not too distant future.

Healty authored and got passed during the recent session of the Legislature a Rural Medical Education Board that would assist medical students who would agree to practice in a rural area of less than 25,000 population.

Healty is married to the former Jonnie Green Hawkins of Wichita Falls and they have three sons. He attended Decatur Baptist College and Baylor University, receiving his B. A. and L. L. B. from Baylor. He is a practicing attorney in Paducah and owns an abstract company and has ranching and farming interests in Cottle and Dickens counties.

Grassland burns at Jimmy Bird Ranch

Fire destroyed about three sections of grassland at the Jimmy Bird Ranch, 18 miles east of Post, early Tuesday afternoon.

The fire burned through two or three fences in destroying the well-rooted grass, it was reported.

Some of the firemen, along with County Judge Giles W. Dalby, who also helped fight the blaze stayed at the ranch.

of each month from 2 to 4 p.m. She also reported that David Garza with "Project Learn" will be in Post today to meet with a group of high school seniors and explain how they can apply for government loans to attend college.
