July 4th Celebration Committees Busy

FLATTERING CROP PROSPECTS IN DONLEY INCREASES CONFIDENCE

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR CELEBRATION

CONCERT, PARADE, DRAMA, SINGING BEE, AND STYLE SHOW ON PROGRAM.

The tentative program for the Pioneer and Pre-Centennial Celebration to be held here July 4th was released this week by members of the general committee after a meeting Saturday morning at the City Hall during which the following program was drafted:

Band concert—10:30 a. m.
Speaking—11:00 a. m.
Lunch for Pioneers—12:00 noon.
Parade—1:30 p. m.
Singing Bee (Methodist Church) —3:00 p. m.
Baseball, County Teams, College Park—3. p. m.
Old Time Style Show—8:00 p. m.
Home Talent Western Drama—8:45 p. m.

Everyone is requested to bring his or her lunch except pioneers, those living in Donley or surrounding counties prior to 1895, who will be given a "dinner" at noon. Ice water will be furnished and lunch may be spread in any shady spot.

The pioneer spirit is to be carried out in the decorations; local people are planning elaborate decorations for the occasion.

Members of the finance committee will make a canvass next week to secure the necessary funds to make the celebration a real success.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Naylor of Pampa were Clarendon visitors Sunday.

Miss Loree Hamm underwent an appendicitis operation Saturday in Amarillo. Her condition is reported as improving.

Nail Picker Gathers 1,041 Pounds Metal

The State Highway Department nail picker arrived in Clarendon ten days ago and traversed the highways of the county, gathering 1,041 pounds of metal.

Bob Rankin, Highway foreman, reports that Donley county is now less 1,041 pounds of "flats."

On the last visit to this county, sometime near Christmas, the nail picker gathered over 5,000 pounds of metal, which shows a generally improved condition in the highways at this time of the year.

Donkey Ball Game Furnishes Comedy

A large number of fans assembled at the College park Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and enjoyed a fast game of Donkey baseball.

The donkeys were in fine shape and moved around when they desired in spite of the coaxing and begging of the players. Transient boys persuaded the donkeys to bring in three runs for them in the first inning, but from then on the donkeys moved when it suited them.

After much hard hitting, lots of persuading, much argument and several falls the game ended. Summary, Transients, 9 runs, 47 spills and no broken bones; Lions All Stars, 11 runs, 69 spills. 5 kicks and one bruised ankle. But it was a good game.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bellah of Childress are spending from Monday until Friday in this city visiting their daughter, Mrs. Jack Killough.

Miss D'Laurel Beville arrived last Wednesday from San Antonio to spend three or four weeks in this city visiting with friends and relatives.

F. H. A. Office To Be Opened In City

O. C. Watson, chairman for Donley county of the Federal Housing Administration, by working diligently at the project and through co-operation with the committee has secured state approval and a F. H. A. office will be opened in this city the first of next week.

The office will be located one door North of the First National Bank in the Ozier building. A man, not yet appointed, will be in charge of the office, giving information and literature to all interested parties. Two men will be employed to canvass the county, surveying needed improvements and property on which applications have been filed.

Applications may be made for residental or business improvements, building of bathrooms, painting, or any general property improvement.

TRANSIENT CAMP TO BE ENLARGED

APPROXIMATELY 160 AMARILLO EMPLOYEES TO BE TRANSFERRED HERE.

At a conference with city officials last Friday morning at the City Hall, W. R. Bowden, district director of the Federal Transient Bureau; Mr. Jones, engineer supervisor of the bureau; Paul Armstrong, division work manager of the bureau and R. W. Willis, district engineer of the Texas Relief Commission, plans and agreements were made whereby a part of the transient bureau now located in Amarillo will be moved to Clarendon within a short time.

The move is planned to expidite work on the control dams being built in the water shed South and West of the city.

After looking over the work being done here, Mr. Jones said, "the work being done here incident to flood control and soil erosion is the most worthwhile work being done in Texas so far as the transient bureau is concerned," and recommended to Mr. Bowden that approximately 160 workers be transferred from Amarillo to Clarendon.

The move will not entirely eliminate the Amarillo camp as the medical division and an overnight stop will be maintained there. Present plans call for making the overnight stop location at the Amarillo Municipal Airport which has not been in use for several years. Transient employees signing up at the Amarillo district office will be retained there if not physically able to perform work, otherwise they will be transferred within 24 hours to Clarendon.

According to officials the same working agreement as heretofore in force between the city and the bureau will be continued, that is, the bureau will furnish workmen while the city will furnish housing facilities and transportaton to and from work and certain medical facilities. Texas Relief Commission furnishes work projects.

The work on the dams have been done both with transient employees and relief workers from the local relief office.

The transfer of a large number of employees from Amarillo will mean a swift completion of the work started last Fall. It is estimated at the present time two years will be required to complete the work planned by engineers and will be of great benefit to the city as well as the farmers located in the control area.

As yet housing facilities for the increased force have not been obtained.

The transfer is not expected to be made before thirty days it was stated by city officials.

ED BARNES DROWNS IN JOHNSON LAKE

BOAT CAPSIZED WHILE FISHING; BODY IS RESCUED AN HOUR LATER.

Ed Barnes, 52, was drowned Wednesday afternoon at 6 o'clock at Johnson Lake, four miles East of this city, when the boat from which he and I. O. Nobles were fishing capsized. throwing both occupants into water of nearly ten foot depth.

Men worked for more than an hour in an effort to bring the body to the surface. The fire department was summoned but efforts to resuscitate the victim failed. Mr. Noble was rescued within a few minutes and artificial respiration was administered.

The two men, accompanied by their young sons, Joe Barnes and Billy Nobles, left Clarendon only a short time before the accident. The two young lads were standing on the shore of the lake when the tragedy occured.

Mr. Barnes has been a resident of this city for 30 years, and was engaged in contracting and carpentry.

He is survived by a wife and eleven children, Mrs. Don Martin of Amarillo, Roy of Denver, Colorado; Delia of Amarillo, Edwin of this city, Mrs. Pete O'Dell of Paducah, R. L., Lily, Ann Lynn, Joe, Bert and Ned, all of Clarendon.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete awaiting arrival of relatives.

Local Bankers Attend Amarillo Convention

Approximately 600 attended the thirty-first session of the Panhandle Bankers' Association which convened in Amarillo Tuesday.

Optimism was the keynote of the convention proceedings and Fred F. Florence of Dallas, president of the Texas Bankers Association, told the bankers as they convened in the Crystal Ballroom of the Herring Hotel that "Texas banks are in the best condition in the state's history; bankers are co-operating more, and they are fast getting back to the position of leadership which is rightfully theirs."

DeLea Vicars, president of the First National Bank of Pampa, was elected president of the association at this meeting.

Many other speakers of note were included on the program, namely S. A. Jones, President of the New Mexico Bankers Association; Charles Maedgen of Lubbock, and H. H. Finnell, regional director of the federal soil conservation service.

Concluding the program was a barbecue in the evening at Jack Hall's Ranch and a dance at the Country Club. A golf tournament was held in the afternoon and a luncheon was given the wives of visiting bankers at the Rose Bowl Tea Room.

Those present from Clarendon were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Knorpp, Mrs. C. B. McCanne, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Swift, Miss Anna Moores, and Mrs, Harold Bugbee.

Attending the convention from Hedley were Clifford Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Noel, Miss Martha Noel, Miss Juanita Ivy, and Miss Roberta Mann.

FRANK WHITLOCK RECOVERS FROM HEART ATTACK SAT.

Frank Whitlock was back at his barber shop Monday morning after having suffered a heart attack Saturday afternoon, which confined him to his home over the week-end.

Mr. Whitlock's vitality and energy will not permit him to be absent from his work very long.

Miss Mary Chaveaux of Claude visited Bob Land Tuesday.

'Juneteenth' Passes Quietly This Year

Contrary to past years, 'Juneteenth,' that day of all days for the colored folks, this year was not celebrated as publicly as has heretofore been the custom among the colored folks.

A barbecue was not held this year as is the usual custom. Several families visited different picnic and fishing grounds to enjoy the holiday.

Some of the colored boys stated the failure to have a public celebration this year was the inability of the boys to 'get together' on their plans. The majority seemed to favor the small group fishing trips.

TEXLINE YOUTH IS KILLED NEAR HERE

TRUMAN PARKS KILLED 1 MILE WEST OF LELIA THURSDAY MORNING.

A tragedy, the first of its like in many months, occured near Clarendon Thursday morning at 12:45 o'clock when Truman Parks, 25 year old youth of Texline, wrecked a stolen automobile which he was driving and was killed instantaneously on Highway 5, one mile West of Lelia Lake.

The youth was killed in a 1934 V-8 coupe, identified as the one stolen from W. H. Van Shaw of 2116 Ong Street, Amarillo, on the same eveening. Parks evidently lost control of the machine, missing the first culvert East of Johnson's Lake. Sheriff Guy Pierce stated indications were that Parks had been driving excessively fast as the car flew forty feet, plowing along the barrow pit and crashing into the embankment.

Dr. A. W. Hicks discovered the wreck and notified Sheriff Guy Pierce, who rushed to the scene of the tragedy with an ambulance. Parks was partially thrown from the car and was believed to have been dead for more than an hour when found by Dr. Hicks.

The body was brought to the Buntin Funeral Parlor and identification was made through a letter addressed to Mrs. W. C. Lampkin, a sister at Memphis. Mr. Lampkin identified the body as that of Truman Parks, his brother-in-law.

Justice of Peace W. A. Davis held a coroner's inquest Friday morning at the scene of the wreck, rendering a verdict of accidental death.

The stolen car was badly damaged but did not turn over. The wreckage was brought to the Palmer Motor Company and later in the day, hauled back to Amarillo to its owner.

The body was taken to Lakeview and funeral services were conducted Sunday.

Highway Softballers Shut Out Hedley 2-0

In the best game of the season the Highway team here shut-out Hedley in a 2-0 game Wednesday afternoon before a large crowd of fans. It was acclaimed the best exhibition of the softball art seen here in a long time, and was packed with thrills, as the winning runs came in the last of the ninth inning.

Bradley and Rhodes were the batteries for the Highway boys, while Thompson and Settle carried the burden in a fine way for Hedley. It was anybody's game until the last inning.

The Highway lads are chesty after their brilliant victory and plan to reach out into the Panhandle for games with any outfit who thinks they are good or lucky.

Mrs. R. A. Morris and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Morris of Amarillo left this week for a fishing trip to Lake Kemp.

LARGE DELEGATION OF BANKERS HERE

MORE THAN FIFTY PRESENT; LOCAL BANKERS PROVE GOOD HOSTS.

A delegation of more than fifty bankers and their wives from Collingsworth, Hall, and Childress counties gathered in this city Friday afternoon for the annual social of the Four-County Bankers Association. Memphis, Childress. Hedley, Wellington, Kirkland, Turkey, and Quitaque were the towns represented.

A golf tournament at the local Hillcroft Golf Club was the first event of the day's program, and the wives of the bankers were entertained with a theatre party at the Pastime Theatre.

The main feature of the day's entertainment was the chicken barbecue given by the local Donley Count State Bank, the Farmers State Bank, and the First National Bank, at the Clarendon Country Club at 5 o'clock. Swimming was followed by a sumptuous chicken dinner and more than one hundred attended.

The "Syncopators," local five-piece orchestra, furnished music for the dance which was given that evening honoring the visiting bankers at the Country Club house.

The Reverend Robt. S. McKee left Monday for Shreman to attend a Young People's Conference. Rev. McKee will return Monday.

Farm Co-Op Groups Not To Be Registered

Austin, Texas. — Legitimate Farm Cooperation Associations are exempt from the terms of the Texas Securities Act which requires all salesmen, agents and dealers in Securities to be registered with the State. However, provision is made that the exemption shall not apply when the sale of such securities is made to non-members, or when the sale of such securities is made either to members or non members and a commission is paid or contracted to be paid such agent or salesmen.

The reason for this latter provision is to prevent many unscrupulous from attempting to qualify at Farm Co-Op Organizations and thus evade the general provisions of the law.

The new law which seeks to regulate and control the sellers of various securities is rapidly becoming known to Texas people and will result in the savings of millions of dollars annually in this state, Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann believes.

Representatives B. L. Rogers of Farnsworth, and A. B. Tarwater of Plainview, were the House members primarily responsible for the exemption of Co-Ops under the Act. The provision was written in at the first Committee Hearing on the bill and it was satisfactory to all the interested parties.

FATHER OF JACK BAILEY DIES IN CALIFORNIA 13TH

D. B. Bailey, father of Jack Bailey who resides in the Martin community, passed away at the General Hospital in Bakersfield, California, last Thursday, 13th, at 3:15 o'clock.

Mr. Bailey was born August 6th, 1869. He had been in ill health for some time, having been confined for three months prior to his death. The deceased had been a faithful member of the Methodist Church since a young man.

Survivors are his wife, three sons, Jack of this city, Jesse of Bakersfield, California and Hay of Santa Anna, California; four grandchildren, two brothers, and two sisters.

W. H. Patrick Returns From Austin Meeting

W. H. Patrick of this city, President of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Studer of Amarillo, and Professor L. F. Sheffy of West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon left Sunday, returning Wednesday, from Austin where they met with a committee of three that make recommendations to the Centennial committee of nine for apportionment of funds to various localities in Texas to mark historic places where events have occurred. to establish museums and for other purposes incident to the Centennial celebration. This committee submitted a plan for the apportionment of $25,000 to the Panhandle Plains Historical Society.

Mr. Patrick reports a very pleasant trip, with no interference from bad roads and high water.

LIONS OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED

COMMITTEE REPORTS TICKET OF PROPOSED STAFF FOR COMING YEAR.

Members of the Clarendon Lions Club heard the report of the nominations committee for the new staff of officers for the coming year, Tuesday at the regular weekly luncheon, when Past President Fred Rathjen presented the list. The annual election will be held next Tuesday.

The nominations are as follows: President. Odos Caraway; 1st Vice President, H. T. Burton; 2nd Vice President. D. O. Stallings; 3rd Vice President, W. H. Patrick; Secretary, Robt. S. McKee; Treasurer, A. A. Mayes; Lion Tamer, Dr. O. L. Jenkins; Tailtwister, G. K. Reading; Director, R. E. Drennan. Officers elected will take office the last week in July following the annual International convention in Mexico City.

Lion Braswell made a report on the recent state Lions convention at Temple, having been the only registered delegate from the club, others of the delegation having been prevented from attending. Under the action of the convention, the Temple meeting will be the last one held in Texas, under the old form of representation. Hereafter the state convention will be composed of twelve delegates from each of the five districts and one International representative—sixty-one members in all.

For the program committee Lion A. W. Hicks conducted a contest in which each Lion was required to list in twelve minutes all the states of the Union he could recall. Those who finished quickly got stuck, for the committee made the five early finishers sing a song and the five luckless, if smart, were Lions Lowe, Reading, Bugbee, Ellis and Braswell. Accompanied by Lioness Weidman they sang, "Hail, Hail, the Lions Are Here." The listing of the states was done to the accompaniment of the French Harp by Lion Merchant. which accounts for so few finishing in the limit set.

Lion Mulkey announced the Donkey Ball Game at the College park at 2 o'clock, and asked all Lions not able to attend to pay twenty-five cests which with the club's part of the gate receipts goes into the Lions Crippled Children's fund. He also made announcement about the club's float to be entered in the July 4th celebration parade.

Lion Drennan called attention to the city's "Celebration of a Fourth of July Fifty Years Ago," and asked for the full and hearty co-operation of the membership in whatever task that might be assigned them in making the event a real success.

Jack SoRelle of Borger spent Tuesday in this city.

FARMERS REPORT GOOD PROSPECTS

STATISTICS SHOW YIELD IS GREATER ON CROPS PLANTED AFTER JUNE 1.

"Best prospects in five years" states Donley county farmers concerning 1935 crop outlook; County Agent H. M. Breedlove, who recently made a tour of practically every section of the county, states that crops have a beautiful stand all over the county.

County crop statistics show that the yield has been greater on the acreage of crops planted after June 1st than those planted earlier. The only dark spot on the horizon of Donley farms, other than the late date of planting, resulted from a hail storm Sunday when two or three farms North of Goldston were damaged; however, the farmers are again planting their crops and will suffer no great amount of loss from their misfortune.

J. T. Warner, who farms 5 miles Southwest of Clarendon, reports that his cotton, maize, and kaffir corn are in excellent condition.

M. L. Putman, who farms 1 mile East of this city, reports that his cotton is pretty, to be up such a short time. "If weather conditions continue much in the same fashion as the past month, I'll be among other Donley county farmers who will make an average crop or even more," Mr. Putman stated.

"My cotton is in perfect stand," stated G. W. Warrick who cultivates his farm 5 miles Southeast of Clarendon.

"With mediocre seasoning from now until gathering time, Donley will see one of the best seasons for cotton and feed crops in the past five years," reports County Agent Breedlove.

Rev. McKee Preaches Sunday To Baptists

The Reverend Robt. S. McKee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, delivered a very inspiring message Sunday evening at a fellowship meeting of the Baptist and Presbyterian churches of this city at the Baptist Church. A large congregation of both Presbyterians and Baptists attended.

Rev. McKee analyzed the identities of the two churches, entreating in his sermon the differences be minimized, the identities be magnified.

Masons Elect New Officers Friday

At a regular meeting of the Masonic Lodge last Friday night the following were elected officers for the new year:

Ralph Andis, Worshipful Master; Rhea Couch, Senior Warden; Heckel Stark, Junior Warden; R. C. Weatherly, Secretary; W. H. Patrick, re-elected Treasurer; Lonnie Hahn, re-elected Tiler.

Appointive officers are to be filled by the newly elected Worshipful Master.

Installation of officers will be held at the lodge hall Monday night, it has been announced.

MR. AND MRS. H. C. BRUMLEY LEAVE ON 4,000 MILE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brumley left today for a 4,000 mile trip in their automobile. They will first visit Oklahoma City, then Tennessee, Arkansas, and on to North Carolina to Forest, where they will visit a friend, Dr. H. T. Lovelace.

After visiting Dr. Lovelace. Mr. and Mrs. Brumley will visit the Blue Ridge Mountains of Kentucky, St. Louis, and Rockport Missouri where Mrs. Brumley will visit relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Mims.

CLARENDON'S WELCOME TO BE TRADITIONAL

Fifty years ago Clarendon's welcome and hospitality were well-known over forty counties, and the mere announcement of a celebration at the then capital of the Panhandle brought hundreds from great distances to participate.

In 1935 Clarendon is stretching out the welcoming hand again, and on July 4th will be host particularly to the Pioneers and Old Settlers of this section. In addition the Home-coming idea of former residents has been adopted and local people are being asked to invite some family who formerly lived here to be their house-guest for the celebration.

Clarendon's welcome is traditional and The News hopes it's warmth and quality will gain new acclaim in 1935.

COTTON SITUATION HAS TWO ANGLES

There are people who are perturbed over the AAA plans for the cotton farmer of the South. There are those who are restive over the failure of the present administration to work out some settlement of war debts, tariffs and perfect trade agreements so the South may again have a market for its cotton.

We are not so disturbed over the AAA plans. They are temporary and will finally be liquidated as the Nation beats back to recovery—soon or late.

The thing that is costing us the most money and is the principal element in the postponement of recovery is the failure of the administration to live up to campaign promises to make settlements and trade agreements with the foreign powers and re-establish our foreign markets. There's the rub.

PRECIOUS CARGO

When thought is given to the fact that 7,000 school busses are operating daily through the school year in Indiana, and that they traverse 2000,000 miles of highway, each day hauling 306,000 children to and from their schools, sober minded folks must be amazed at the hazards run.

Fathers and mothers of these children will surely approve the new law which sets up a board to draw safety specifications for school busses. This board, including the state director of safety, state director of public health, state superintendent of public instruction, state motor vehicle director, and the lieutenant governor, already has acted.

School busses purchased from now on must be of steel bodies sufficiently strong to sustain the weight of the whole truck if overturned. They must have emergency doors and shatter-proof glass, and must have proper ventilation. Drivers are required to pass health examinations. The law insists that all school busses must conform to these standards by September 1, 1940.—Pulaski County Democrat, Minamach, Indiana.

WHY I FAILED

1—Didn't save what I earned.
2—Did not as a boy realize the value of an education.
3—If I had taken better care of my money, I would be in better health and morals.
4—Did not realize the importance of sticking to one kind of employment.
5—The greatest blunder of my life was when I took my first drink.
6—One of the greatest blunders of my life was not to perfect myself in one of the lines of business I started out to learn.
7—My greatest blunder was when I left school in the fifth grade.
8—The turning point in my life was when at fifteen I ran away from home.
9—Spent my money foolishly when I was earning good wages.
10—When I let myself be misled in thinking that I need not stick to one thing.
11—Self-conceit and not listening to my parents.
12—Was to fool away my time when at school.—Exchange.

SALOON MANNERS STILL WITH US

Liquor advocates boast of the passing of the old-time saloon, but saloon manners are still with us.

At the Texas Press Convention in Galveston last week an incident occurred which showed there has been no change in the character of those who work for liquor and are trying to fasten it legally on the people of this state.

Under the guise of making a simple announcement the state secretary of the Repeal forces got the floor through a member of the legislature who is also a member of the Press Association. The announcement was about the organization and its headquarters, and then the presumptious official exemplified that saloon manners are still the same by launching into a plea for liquor and taxation, with all the well-known sophistries that his kind always employ. This was timed just as the hour of adjournment for the noon luncheon came, and the surprised chairman called to the introducing member to get his man off the floor while the stunned membership wriggled under the breach of ethics so brazenly wrought. The next-friend Press member tried to stop his man who defiantly continued until he had finished even if his coat-tail was being pulled.

Just another evidence that there is no difference in the plans, aims and tactics of the whiskey crowd.

Saloon manners are still practiced, and no stone is being unturned in the well-financed effort to give them legal standing in Texas on August 24th.

AN ENCOURAGING PREDICTION

America will attain greater prosperity than ever before.

More individuals and families than ever before will own their own homes.

Our current total of 21,500,000 automobiles will be doubled.

Our 13,500,000 telephones will be more than doubled.

Such little-used conveniences and comforts as air-conditioning equipment, sun lamps, and television receivers will be commonplaces in the home.

Much better provision will be made for caring for those thrown temporarily out of employment.

In short, a better day will dawn—certainly!

That isn't the opinion of a professional optimist of the "prosperity-is-just-around-the-corner" school. It is the opinion of B. C. Forbes, the realistic financial analyst, who expresses it in a recent issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

The natural question to ask, then, is WHEN are all of these blessings going to come to us? And that, in Mr. Forbes' belief, is largely dependent on the activities of government. He is confident that the pent-up natural forces of recovery are rarin' to go—and that only man-made obstacles are standing in their way. Fears of inflation, stifling taxes, government competition with private business, industrial regimentation, bureaucratic regulation of our great businesses—these are the friends of depression, and the enemies of recovery. What is needed, in Mr. Forbes' words, is "a sensible get-together between government and governed; a pact to work in harmony rather than at cross purposes . . . ."

A tremendous responsibility weighs upon our political leaders to bring that about. The American people are in no mood to let politics continue to interfere with the course of recovery.

18-Year Dodge Makes Call At Factory

Presenting the picture of motoring as it looked in the days of the linen duster, an 18-year old Dodge touring car bustled through the gates of the factory for a courtesy call on the company's president, K. T. Keller.

With an authenticated record of its previous ownerships and of wanderings extending over 200,000 miles, the car made the trip from Rochester, N. Y. to Detroit without incident, in twenty-four hours actual running time.

"We would have made the trip in less time," Clarence Pauli, the driver, reported, "had it not been for the many persons, mostly owners of war-time Dodges, who, meeting us at stopping points, grew reminiscent at the sight of 'Old Faithful' with its long service record."

'PANHANDLE TO GULF OF MEXICO'

EDITOR COMMENTS ON VARIOUS OBSERVATIONS MADE ON 1,500 MILE TRIP.

The News Editor and wife returned the first of the week from a rail trip which included several stops, Clarendon to Galveston and return. The occasion for the trip was the State Lions Convention at Temple the first of last week and the meeting of the Texas Press Association at Galveston the latter part of the week.

June weather brought a real appreciation of the air-conditioned day coaches in operation on the Fort Worth & Denver lines. They will get more applause in July and August, for they actually seemed a mite cool here in the higher altitudes. The twotone greens in which the new equipment is finished lends a cool psychology to the interior of the coaches. Some smart architect thought that out.

A short walk around Dallas brought the thought that men's clothing there is very reasonably priced. A look in the windows in Houston and Galveston showed a difference of twenty to twenty-five percent in favor of Dallas. Just looking—the editor buys his clothes in Clarendon, and doesn't lose any money by it, either.

Grain crops never looked better than they do between Dallas and Waco. Around Hillsboro oats are making sixty to eighty bushels per acre. Corn and cotton are looking good, and in spite of high water in lots of low places a great harvest seems due for the farmers in the section. Such sights give one a feeling of confidence for better times. Quite different from a year ago.

High water and washouts on the rail lines made many trains late during the week. Since it was Railroad Week, a good many wags thought up things to say about it.

Lion Jimmy Allred of Austin was one of the interesting attendants on the Temple convention and made a very inspiring address along the lines of the Texas Centennial. The governor is a great admirer of Sam Houston and used him as his text. Lion Jimmy has been an active member of the Austin club since he first took office at attorney-general.

As a guest at the rustic country club home of Dr. Scott, famous surgeon of Temple, we saw a great oak tree which had been operated on by tree surgeons, who pronounced it three hundred years old. The tree has an enormous spread and gives one an instant feeling of veneration for its age and size. Dr. Scott admitted he had done a little tree surgery himself after having watched the Davey men do their stuff. He says he has chiseled on human bones just about as tough as the trunk of a mature oak. in his day.

In his cedar log-cabin, Dr. Scott has a fire-place built of stones from every quarter of the globe. He has stones of all sizes, colors and shapes. Stones from the Chinese Wall, from the Pyramids, from the floors of ancient old-world cathedrals, and precious stones from silver quartz on up to Mexican fire opals. It's a work of art and most interesting.

Mrs. Allred accompanied her husband to Temple and was the popular figure among the women of the convention. She is a most vivacious and charming lady, democratic like her husband, and one of the most popular "First Lady's" to live in the State House.

One of the real pleasures of the trip was a thirty-six hour visit with the editor's daughter, Miss Clair Marie Braswell, in Houston. She is a technician and x-ray operator and holds one of the most desirable positions of this kind in Houston. She sends her kindest regards to her many friends in Clarendon.

In Galveston with the press gang we had a most enjoyable association. For the first time in history this editor was late at the first session, account of a late train, but soon made up for the lost time in happy meetings with newspaper workers from all sections of Texas.

Food was never cheaper than it is in Galveston now. Full meals from 35c up. A four course lunch in an air-conditioned hotel dining room for 60c. Competition has helped along the sea-wall.

Prominent speakers before the convention were President Bledsoe of the Santa Fe system, Wm. D'Arcy, head of the advertising agency of St. Louis by that name, President F. M. Law of the Texas Bankers Association, Senator Holbrook of Galveston, and others.

Saw Tom Gallaher of Amarillo there at a dinner given the press at the Del-Mar Club by the Santa Fe lines. Santa Fe executives over the state were on hand as hosts. Over four hundred were fed and the food came up hot, too. Railroad Week.

Taxis all over town for 25c. That's a lot better—it used to be fifty cents.

Forgot to take bathing suit, so didn't go into the Gulf. Well, never mind, it probably would have looked too archaic. The 1935 model has more lines than body.

Never saw so many hairy chests, sunburnt backs, arms and legs. Quite a show, and the show didn't always display the best of taste, but most of the boys argued that it showed good form.

Went fishing one afternoon out on the North jetties, but was among some thirty or thirty-five who didn't catch a thing. Believe it or not, the sailors say there has been so much flood waters come out of Texas streams this month that the water is fresh five miles out to sea. It's a good alibi and it may be true that salt-water fish have to move out past five miles to enjoy life.

Got back safely under the chaperonage of the Mrs. the first of the week, and glad to be back. There is no finer climate nor society than right here in Clarendon.

One thing about it, though—it's pretty tough getting back to work after sight-seeing and conventioning for eight or ten days.

Shoe stores, 4 percent.
Music stores, 5 1-2 percent.
Electrical stores, 6 percent.
Furniture stores, 5 1-2 percent.
Men's clothing and furnishing stores, 5 percent.
Miscellaneous, 4 percent.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. E. D. Landreth, Pastor

Last Sunday marked the largest at Sunday School, excepting Easter, since the beginning of the Conference year in November. Unusually large congregations attended the preaching services of the day. We seem to be going into the summer without the usual summer slump. We urgently invite those of our people and others who are not otherwise enlisted to be in our services next Sunday. The morning sermon will be brought by Dr. G. S. Hardy. There will be no preaching service in the evening as the pastor is out of the city attending the pastor's school in Dallas.

The first session of the Leadership Training Class meeting Sunday evenings at 7:15, was well attended Sunday. However we hope others will come with us next Sunday and enter into this profitable training. A large number should be present next Sunday evening who were not with us last Sunday.

We invite all who feel the need of the church to worship with us.

Planning and Coordinating Committee Oil Industry to Continue NRA Code

Dallas, Texas.—In commenting upon the United States Supreme Court's decision in declaring the National Recovery Act unconstitutional, Arthur P. Dyer, Texas State Chairman for Marketing of the Planning and Coordination Committee of the Oil Industry Code, which committee has been functioning under the N. I. R. A., made the following statement:

"The Petroleum Industry Code has been operating for many months along voluntary cooperative lines. More than a year ago it was seen that Federal enforcement of the rules of the Petroleum Code was ineffective and, therefore, our chief work has been in educating marketers of Texas to observe these rules as matters of efficient business practices.

"Therefore, it is highly probable that the work of this committee, which has proven of inestimable value to the industry throughout the country, will be continued in some form. Primarily the industry desires a Code of Fair Competition with a centralized appeals body. This opinion has been voiced consistently and it is hardly to be expected that this industry will be allowed to drop back the many steps which it has taken forward in the past eighteen months.

"Many practices of competition have been eliminated under the code which, for many years, represented expensive inefficiency. but until the code was adopted no means had been available to eliminate these things which the entire industry was anxious to be rid of.

"The industry as a whole, if opinions in Texas can be used as a basis for a statement, is insistent that some code of fair practice be prepetuated and it is very probable that within the next few weeks a definite plan will be evolved by the National Planning and Coordination Committee, along lines suggested in the Supreme Court's decision—that is, a code conducted under the supervision of the Federal Trades Commission."

Corn-Hog Meeting Held In Childress

County Agent H. M. Breedlove and Corn-Hog Committeemen Claude Bain and Earnest Lamb attended a District corn-hog meeting held last week at Childress in the auditorium of that city. Parker D. Hanna, District Agent, was host.

Distinguished visitors present were H. H. Williamson, State Agent from the Extension Service, and E. L. Deal, Certificate Pool manager from Washington, D. C.

Mr. Williamson gave a summary of the state crop conditions and a round-table discussion of corn-hog compliances was the only program of the day's meeting, with the exception of a brief but interesting talk given by Mr. Deal.

In a personal talk with Mr. Deal, county farm agent Breedlove gleamed several facts of great interest to the farmers of Donley county. Mr. Deal stated that approximately 68 percent of the surplus cotton certificates that were pooled last year were sold and the remaining 32 percent will be returned to the producers to be used in 1935 in addition to this year's Bankhead allotment. He further stated that mailing of checks on second pool certificates would start Friday.

Mr. Breeedlove was also informed that a special cotton pool was being created whereby the producer can pool certificates that were not sold. This pool will last approximately thirty days. The underlying reason for the creation of this special pool being to have surplus certificates on hand for early producers in the Rio Grande Valley and the Southern portion of the state. This special pool is connected in no way, stated Mr. Deal, with the regular pool which is created in the fall of the year to take care of surplus tax exemption certificates.

Mr. Deal made the startling exposure of the fact that the expense of handling certificate was approximately twenty cents a bale.

COMMERCIAL FAILURES ON INCREASE DURING MAY

Austin, Texas.—Commercial failures in Texas during May showed a substantial increase, both in number and in total liabilities as compared with the similar month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

An average of six failures per week occurred during May, the same as in April, against an average of only four per week during May last year. Total liabilities were $231,000, a decline of 7.2 percent from the previous month but an increase of 63 percent over May a year ago; while the average liability per failure, $10,500, was 3 percent below that of April but 11 percent above May last year.

Mrs. Lew Tims, nee Louise Adamson, of Amarillo visited with friends in this city Monday afternoon.

Transients Warned To Stay At Home

Austin, Texas.—Transients, particularly those originating within the state, have been urged to settle down and stay off the road by Adam R. Johnson, state relief administrator.

Federal officials have appealed to railroads and to autoists to refuse free transportation to transients, and several legislatures recently have passed anti-hitchhiking laws.

"Unless they have a job waiting for them somewhere, Texans contemplating hitchhiking trips ought to stay at home," Johnson declared. "Other states and other counties have their own unemployed to provide for and transients will find conditions no better at distants points.

"Transients themselves are exposed to injury and disease in some of the over-night stops along the road. People who offer free transportation are sometimes assaulted before they reach their destinations.

"For these reasons, we urge tourists to refuse free transportation to hitchhikers. In like manner, w eadvise against handouts and the small cash donations to persons making house-to-house canvasses."

Transients already on the road were advised to go to their homes or to the nearest transient division camp. These camps are located near the division depots in all the larger cities of the state.

"SOFT BAWL"

By ROBERT NICHOLS

Well, here is the old cry-baby back again this week with a bit of fantastic foolishness. It is said that "all's well that ends well" so ye writer couldn't afford to quit with his first "solo hop" therefore here tis again:

"Home-run" Stricklin, alias Dr. Guy Stricklin, almost saved the day for the Lions last week when he entered the struggle against the Methodist as pinch-hitter. Doc says that the only thing that kept him from getting a home-run was that he forgot to take the bat off his sholder. Nevertheless, three balls passed the M. D. and Mr. Ump said, "Out."

The Highway crew and Transient team tangled in a bang-up good ball game last Thursday with the boys from the "Northside" winning 7-4.

The first shut-out of the season was registered by "Bring 'em in alive" Pierce of the Lions club against the Baptist Babies last Monday. The Baptist couldn't catch or hit 'nary' a one it seemed and lost 16-0.

Orderly Government Resumes

When the NRA with all its codes was put into operation there was a clear understanding that it was emergency legislation. The opinion was quite general that the Supreme Court would declare it unconstitutional when the issues reached that high body. "But that will take two years and the depression will be over, and it won't make any difference," was the customary way of dismissing that probability.

Under all the circumstances President Roosevelt is perhaps lucky that the Supreme Court has removed the NRA and its entangling alliances. The excitement, noise, romance, heroics and promised miracles of that part of the New Deal are passing. Some substitute legislation may be needed to "patch matters up," but no one's rights are likely to suffer.

The Federal Trade Commission has been regulating business and trade practices for years. The NRA furnished substitutes for its well-defined and highly organized methods.

The Department of Commerce has been developed as one of the greatest of government activities, and it has kept a hand on trade organizations and all the affairs of domestic and foreign commerce. The NRA butted into its duties with a lot of bungling schemes.

The Department of Labor has been the clearinghouse for problems of employers and employees, and Miss Perkins and her predecessors have shown abilities to deal with strikes, lockouts and troubles.

The Department of Justice looks after legal affairs for the Federal Government.

Congress is the branch of the Government to legislate for the people. The President has no authority to convert business men operating under codes into legislative bodies.

The states have temporarily surrendered their authority. The President liked the idea so well that in his first comments on the Supreme Court decision he laid down an issue that the ONE central government should continue its domination over the other 48 state governments, and he threatened to carry that issue to the country.

The many departments of the Federal government are now to proceed more normally. Congress shows that it is weary of being a rubber stamp. The President's declaration in favor of continuing supergovernment in Washington failed to get a single hand-clap on Capitol Hill. State rights stock has risen fifty points.

There is overwhelming evidence in Washington that orderly government has resumed, and that there is to be more and more of the old deal and less of dangerous experiments in our national affairs.

Everybody seems to be glad of it!—U. S. P. A.

Collis Bouldin in Gonzales county has 150 acres of terraces which he allows paid for themselves in one April day when seven inches of rain fell—three and one-half of that within less than one hour. Without the terraces, erosion would have carried off his whole crop as well as the top soil, he says.

GOLF TOURNEY IS IN FINAL MATCHES

COOKE MEDALIST SUNDAY; WOODS TO PLAY WINNER COOKE OR MERCHANT.

Dick Cooke won medalist honors in the qualifying round of the Clarendon City Golf Tournament played here Sunday at the Hillcroft Golf Club. Cooke won with an 18-hole score of 70 or two under par.

A. N. Woods was two strokes behind with a 72. Ira Merchant came in with a 73. Other scores included in the qualifying round was Pinkey Kerbow, 75; Bill Cooke, 78; George Carter, 78; Odus Jackson, 80.

In the first round Monday of the first flight, Dick Cooke beat George Carter, Pinkey Kerbow beat Odus Jackson, Ira Merchant beat Meredith Gentry, and A. N. Woods beat Bill Cooke.

In the second flight, played on the same day, Joe Jackson won over Bennett Kerbow, Tom Connally won over U. J. Boston, Carl Parsons beat Alex Cooke, and Wesley Knorpp beat J. T. Patman.

In the third flight Monday, Glenn Allison was winner over R. C. Weatherly, Fred Buntin over Doss Palmer, Byrum Haile over Paul Greene, and Dr. C. G. Stricklin defaulted to Earnest Harp.

Fourth flight winners were Jim Cornelius over Bert Smith, Billy Cooke over Bob Boston, C. Huffman over O. C. Watson, Jr., L. E. Thompson over Frank Whitlock.

In the only semi-final match of the championship flight, A. N. Woods defeated Pinkey Kerbow, 1 up in nineteen holes, 2 down at the turn. Woods came in with even par on the last nine holes to square the match winning on the 19th with a par of 4 to Kerbow's 5.

Final matches will be played Sunday with Woods playing the winner of the Cooke and Merchant match.

Transients Tame Highways 7 to 6

Thursday afternoon the Highway and Transient teams met in a very fast game. The Highway started the game off in fine shape by scoring two runs in the first inning and two in the fourth. The Transients were slow in getting started but in the fourth and sixth they scored, but it was not until the last inning that they put on the speed. In the last inning they brought in five runs. Summary, Highway, 11 hits, 6 runs; Transients, 14 hits, 7 runs. Umpires, Windell and Johnson.

Friday the fans saw another fast practice game. The Oilers were to play Chamberlain but as the team did not appear they played the Highway. Both teams played fast ball, but the Oilers were victors. Summary, Highway, 8 hits, 3 runs; Oilers, 19 hits and 8 runs. Umpires, Behrens and Petak.

Monday a large crowd of fans gathered early at the ball park and the Lions and Baptist went forth to battle. The Lions having lost two games decided that they must win and they showed they were ready to play ball. Captain Nichols of the Baptist had some trouble in keeping the Lions from running his players to death. Windell, the catcher for the Lions holds high honors for the day, having made four trips to the bat and making one single, ond double, one triple and a home run. Summary, Lions, 24 hits, and 16 runs; Baptist, 5 hits and no runs. Umpires, Jones and Kerbow.

Tuesday the Future Farmers of America were defeated by the Highway team. The Farmer Boys worked hard but the husky Highway stars were just too much for them and were able to hit almost whenever they desired. Summary, Highway, 14 hits, and 7 runs; F. F. A., 8 hits and 2 runs. Umpires, Bradley and Johnson.

Drennon-Swinburne

* * * *

In a simple but impressive wedding Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Ashtola home of the bride, Mr. Thell Drennon and Miss Jesse Swinburne were united in marriage. The ceremony was solemnized by the Reverend E. D. Landreth, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The bride wore a floor-length frock of white net with a dust ruffle on the skirt. The frock was cut low in the back and was attractively trimmed in white silk organdy. She carried an old-fashioned boquet of pastel colored sweetpeas and baby's breath.

Mrs. Drennon is the daughter of Mrs. M. S. Swinburne of Ashtola and the groom is the son of J. C. Drennon, also of Ashtola.

The bride attended school at Clarendon and at West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon. She taught for the past year in the Martin community school. The groom is a graduate of the high school at Elmore City, Oklahoma.

For a going-away suit, the bride wore a suit of navy net with accessories of white and navy.

After a trip through New Mexico and points of interest, the young couple will be at home in Vernon where Mr. Drennon is employed by the Magnolia Oil Company.

Only close friends and relatives attended the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank White spent the first part of the week in Fort Worth.

Nichols-McKinney

* * * *

Announcement has been made here of the marriage of Mr. Raymond Nichols to Miss Mona McKinney, both of this city, at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at Miami. The Reverend Wilson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Miami, read the ceremony at the parsonage.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McKinney of this city, was attired in a white suit with a finger-tip length coat of Matelasse crepe with a blouse of shadow-block sheer. She wore accessories of white.

Mrs. Nichols attended school at Roswell, New Mexico, and the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Nichols of this city, attended school in Clarendon where he was football captain for two years, 1930 and 1931. He attended Clarendon Junior College.

Mr. Lonnie Langford of Pampa was present at the ceremony.

The young couple will live at Pampa where Mr. Nichols is employed in the Harvester Service Station.

Mrs. J. W. Evans Is Hostess Friday

* * * *

The Junior Les Beaux Arts Club was entertained Friday afternoon in the lovely College Hill home of Mrs. J. W. Evans.

Boquets of snapdragons, delphiniums, and roses attractively decorated the rooms.

The members were called to order and a business meeting ensued. The club made a donation to the Woman's Club Room Board, received the treasurer's report, and pledged themselves to co-operate with the committee chosen for the Clarendon Pioneer Roundup and Pre-Centennial celebration.

Clothes were brought by the members as the monthly welfare project to be donated to needy families. The Welfare Committee decided on a plan for the following month whereby children of needy families would be furnished with magazines and reading literature.

Other business which came before the club at this time was in regards to the summer meetings. It was unanimously voted that the club would continue through the summer, the meeting being socials.

After the business was transacted, a delicious ice course was served to Misses Dorothy Jo Taylor, Cleo Brown, Joyce Link, Mary Frances Powell. Helen Rogers, Jo Ella Stewart, and the hostess, Mrs. J. W. Evans.

A color scheme of pink and white, used in the refreshment course, was further carried out in the bowls of roses which decorated the entertaining rooms.

Sewing and conversation entertained the guests, and Pollyanna gifts were exhcanged.

The hostess served a tasty salad course to Mesdames Rhea Couch, Ralph Decker, Earnest Hunt, Carl Peabody, Alvin Landers, Carl Tyree, Vadie Carpenter, Ben Buck, Sam Cauthen, Jimmy Moore, U. Z. Patterson, Guy Wright, Joe Ritter, and Clarence Whitlock.

DENTON TEACHERS COLLEGE
NEW DINING HALL AND STUDENT UNION

Denton, Texas, June 6.—Despite the numerous spring rains, work on Marquis Hall, the new P. W. A. dormitory at North Texas State Teachers College, is progressing rapidly and the building will be completed according to schedule. The building, which will cost $210,000 exclusive of fixtures, will be completed in January and will be opened in February at the opening of the spring semester.

This is the first building to be added to the Denton Teachers College campus since Dr. W. J. McConnell assumed the presidency May 1934, upon the death of President Marquis. The building is named in Honor of President Marquis, who served the institution as president from 1923 to 1934.

When completed, the building will accommodate 115 girls. The lower floor of the building will be given over to a large lounge, cafeteria, including a sandwich shop, and a dining room and tea room under the supervision of a graduate dietitian.

Mrs. George Holman of Dalhart spent several days of last week in this city with her sister, Mrs. Henry Williams. Mrs. Holman returned to her home in Dalhart Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gidley of Whittenburg spent Sunday evening in this city with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Gidley were enroute home from a visit in Corsicana.

WASHINGTON SNAP-SHOTS

Not often since the founding of the Republic has the capital city been so stirred by turmoil as in the past few weeks since the Supreme Court called the nation back to the Constitution. The Administration leaders could not determine where they should turn next, and even after they got their lines partially reformed, Congress was not told what was coming next.

Thus far there is only one clean cut indication. Legislation which clearly falls within the restrictions defined by the court is not being withdrawn but is being pressed steadily ahead. This can only mean that a number of these measures will be laid before the Supreme Court. When it throws them out as unconstitutional, certain leaders hope to use this to kindle a fire leading to a constitutional amendment curtailing state powers. Actually there is no otheer way to interpret the determination to go forward with measures which every one but New Deal legal advisers know to be unconstitutional.

Modern political concern was caused in the capital by a brief Associated Press item from San Pedro, Calif., disclosing that 60,000 tons of Argentina corn are enroute to this country. The British tramp freighter Cycle arrived from Rosario with 4,000 tons for discharge at San Pedro, and 2,500 tons for other Pacific Coast ports. The fact that huge imports of agricultural products are continuing was disturbing to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's control plan, while the fact that British ships were sharing in the harvest gave no comfort in other quarters.

A recent announcement from the Federal Department of Commerce showed that farm imports into this country for just three months ending with March were $89,000,00—22 percent higher than the same period of 1934. Multiplied by four to give a year period, this would be $366,000,000 worth of farm products imported into this country, the highest in many years.

While virtually all economists foresee a further pickup in business during the Fall, there is almost certain to be some decline during the summer. The hope is that the slump will be less than usual during the hot months. The ringing declaration of business men that they intended to maintain the highest wages possible, despite the elimination of codes, has done much to curb any pessimism that arose in the wake of the Supreme Court's killing of NIRA. Fears had been expressed that wages might suddenly slump.

On the political horizon, the activities of former President Hoover are being watched probably as carefully as any other possible factor. He undoubtedly was one of the powers behind the recent Republican rally at Springfield, Ill., and reports have it that from now on he will be more openly active in opposition to Roosevent policies.

"Every canvass of industry shows a determination to maintain wages and hours at the highest level economically possible," said C. L. Bardo, president of the National Association of Manufacturers. "High living standards and high wages have long been accepted principals of American industry, and those who talk of industry turning voluntarily to sweatshop condition with use of child labor present a damnable destorted picture."

STATE HEALTH OFFICER WARNS OF POISON SPIDERS

Austin, Texas.—Several cases of spider poisoning caused by the bite of the so-called black widow spider have been reported in Texas this year and people who live in rural districts might well take the precautions against bites from these poisonous insects, warns Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

The scientific name of the black widow spider is Latrodectus mactans, and it is called the "hour-glass," "black widow," and "shoe button spider." Its shiny black, round abdomen gives rise to the name shoe button and the bright reed patch, which may be shaped like an hour-glass, is responsible for the hour-glass designation. It obtains the name "black widow" from its custom of eating its mate. The body of the female is often an inch in length and the long, shiny black legs may stretch over a spread of as much as two inches.

This spider builds its web in dimly lighted places, generally in old toilets, garages, and other outbuildings. Its rough, coarse, irregular webb is found under floors, in corners, between rafters, but especially under the floors of toilets, sheds, barns, etc.

Many requests have been received by the Texas State Department of Health relative to the best methods of controlling these insects. Spraying crude oil or creosote in cracks and crevices, particularly around the seats of old toilets, in an invaluable procedure, but precautions must be taken against fire. It is possible, also, to crush the egg masses with a stick. Other methods of control are unknown, although efforts are being made at the present time to find a parasite which will feed on the egg masses.

After the sharp, stinging bite acute pain developes in the region of the surface bitten, spreading to other parts of the body. In addition to the pain, there is generally writhing, muscle contraction, difficult breathing, cold perspiration, nausea, and an extreme rigidity of the abdomen. If recovery occurs, there is a long convalescence, during which there remains general weakness, numbness, and pain. There should be no delay in calling a physician in cases of spider bite.

FRED REID PURCHASES CORDER GAS STATION

Fred Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reid, announced this week that he had purchased the Corder Service Station.

Fred will be remembered by Clarendon people as the chap who gave football fans from all over the Panhandle thrills in 1931 and drew lusty applause from the bleachers. Fred promises Clarendon and Donley county people real filling station service now with somewhat the same enthusiasm which won him fame in high school.

Carl Pitman, expert washing and greasing man, has been employed by Fred to insure satisfactory service in all lines of filling station service.

John R. Ragland, Jr., left Thursday for Wichita Falls where he will be employed in the Shamburger Lumber Company of that city.

"Pits" Hold Drama of World's Greatest Racing Classic

START OF INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY RACE

ABOVE: SCENE IN THE "PITS." A CAR IN FOR GAS

Unfortunately the average spectator at the annual Indianapolis Speedway Classic is unable to witness much of the tense drama of the race, which takes place in those little concrete-walled boxes known as the "pits," located on the "apron" of the track near the starting point. Here the "teams," composed of a dozen men, — a necessary organization for every entrant — perform their duties in an atmosphere tense with excitement but with the precision of a well-drilled stage show. Without their help no driver would stand a chance of winning.

Theirs is the directing genius behind the strategy involved in this four-and-a-half-hour contest. Whirling around the two-and-a-half-mile rough brick oval at speeds approaching 150 miles an hour, their senses reeling from the thunder of their motors, the fumes from the engines, and the eye strain, the drivers lose track of their position and their speed.

It is the pitmen who keep them informed on these important matters, and advise them regarding strategy through a complicated system of signalling. When to come in for water and gas, and who the leaders are at the moment are among the many pieces of information that the driver must depend upon his pit crew for.

The operations in the pit are as thrilling, at times, as the actual race itself. A car slides onto the apron and stops in front of its own pit. Half a dozen men leap the low concrete wall, each concentrating on a definite job. The cap is off the radiator in a second and a stream of cool water is flowing in; gasoline is already being poured into the tank; tires are examined; and two men lift the hood and their expert eyes and ears can tell in a split second whether all parts of the engine are synchronizing.

One or two A.A.A. officials dash up. The pit crew gives them an anxious glance, for their inspection may mean loss of many precious seconds—possibly elimination from the race. These officials have the authority to order adjustments, and, if in their judgment the car has a defect, to order it from the race as a precaution of safety for all concerned.

Kelly Petillo won this year's race, setting a new track record of 106.24 miles per hour. Each of the two times Petillo stopped at the pits, he was seen to continue to sway in his seat, not yet recovered from the effects of the bodily rhythm induced by the terrific car-swing at high speed. Peter DePaolo, his pit manager, shouted advice into his partly deafened ears and within a minute or so Petillo was back on the track with a fresh supply of gas and water, and his engine in perfect tune.

Petillo frankly stated after the race that much of the credit for his performance was due to two factors—his pit manager and his tires. The winner said he was tempted several times to "burn up" his car early in the race to catch the several drivers then ahead of him. "I knew my Firestone tires would stand any speed my car could go," he said, "but I had my instructions from Pete DePaolo. He worked out the plan of campaign and I followed it." DePaolo signalled instructions to Petillo on almost every lap of the 200.

In the pits, too, watching and checking car performance, is the engineering genius of the country.

Take tires for instance. The recent race marked the sixteenth consecutive contest in which Firestone tires had been on the winning car. Firestone engineers and designers were in the pits throughout the race, checking every phase of the cars' performance. The drivers buy and pay for their tires, and have for years. Firestones were on all cars that finished and there was not one tire failure. With new records each year, the problem for tire and motor car engineers is ever new.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

We have had three very worthwhile additions to the books on our shelves within the last few days. "A Nest of Simple Folk" by Sean O'Faolain, given us by the Book Club; "Testament of Youth" by Vera Brittain, and "Full Flavour" by Davis Leslie. Both the latter have been on the list of best sellers.

Another Texas writer plans to publish a book in September—Edwin Lanham, a grandson of Governor Lanham. He was born in Weatherford; worked his way around the world on a freight boat when he was 16. Has been living in Paris, but is now back in New York. He published a book "Sailors Don't Care" in 1929. His new book will be a Texas story based on history, but with fictitious characters, and will be called "The Wind Blew West."

Pearl Buck is book editor for the magazine Asia. She calls her department the "Asia Book Shelf".

The annual meeting of the American Library Association will be held in Denver the 24th through the 29th of this month. During the session a Newberry Medal Anniversary Dinner will be given in celebration of the hundreth anniversary of the founding of the United States' first Juvenile library in West Cambridge, Mass. The dinner will be given in the Brown Palace Hotel. The Newberry Medal is awarded each year for the most worthwhile contribution to children's literature. The award will be made at the afternoon session, and it is expected that the winner will be present for the dinner.

John Bushan, the next governor general of Canada, and author of "The People's King; George V, a narrative of 25 years" will publish a new novel this fall, "The House of Four Winds."

Sinclair Lewis will soon bring out his new book "Selected Short Stories."

Early this month there was published a biography of William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army and its leader for half a century. It is by St. John Ervine and is entitled "God's Soldier: General William Booth."

A wonderful personality is Selma Lagerlof, the Swedish author who was the first woman to win the Nobel Prize some years ago. She celebrated her seventy-sixth birthday last November, yet she is still writing actively. Her latest book, "Harvest," reveals no appreciable impairment of her imaginative power. It is a collection of sketches, legends and public addresses, and is largely autobiographical. Morbacka, the Lagerlof's ancestral home, is conspicuously pictured, and many of the Swedish legends remind one of her "Gosta Berling." Miss Lagerlof's recent photographs show her to be white haired, kindly, maternal, dignified, and her writings show her to be always an optimist, always believing that life is good. Her "Ring of the Lowenskolds" is the only one of her books on our shelves.

Anne Morrow Lindbergh will publish her own story of the flight which she and Colonel Lindbergh made to the Orient in 1931 in the early fall. It will contain maps drawn by Colonel Lindbergh.

Alfred Neuman's novel of Louis Napoleon Bonapart, "Another Caesor," will be published in ten languages soon.

The James Taib Black Memorial prize, founded by the widow of James Taib Black, Edinburgh publisher, is given annually to a work of biography and a work of fiction. It was awarded this year to J. E. Neale for his "Queen Elizabeth."

CAPITALIZATION OF NEW TEXAS CHARTERS INCREASE

Austin, exas.—Total capitalization of new Texas firms granted charters in May, aggregated $2,613,000, represented an increase of 36 percent over April and 123 percent over May last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The number of new firms was 156, a decline of 6 percent from the previous month but 30 percent above May a year ago.

There were six new corporations capitalized at $100,000 or more against only four during April and two during May last year. The number of new corporations with capital of $5,000 or less was smaller than in either of the two comparable periods.

CHURCH CHATS

"BORDER-LAND CHRISTIANS"
Numbers 32:1-5

Multitudes of Christians are seemingly content to live in the borderland of Christian experiences, preferring the commonplace type of religious life, with all its worldliness, to the spiritual privileges and enjoyments of life hid with Christ in God. Paul in I Corinthians calls the "carnal Christians." Like the tribes of Reuben and Gad, they prefer to dwell on the outskirts of spiritual privileges and power.

I. The border-land Christian is more interested in securing temporal, than spiritual advantages. Prospects of wordly prosperity is more alluring than possibility of spiritual privilege. Reuben and Gad asked, not where is the best place to bring up our families, but where is the best place for our cattle.

II. The border-land Christians are satisfied with partial conquest of spiritual foes. Reuben and Gad had done some faithful fighting, had helped to clear the land of some of God's enemies, but they were satisfied with this and wanted to settle down, while the whole land was filled with enemies. The border-land Christian, starts well, conquers some foes, overcomes some faults, but is satisfied to stop when the work is only well begun. He enthrones Christ in his heart, but leaves much soul territory in the hands of his enemy.

III. The borderland Christian's influence is discouraging to aggressive Christian work. Moses was displeased with their request, because it was calculated to "discourage the hearts of the people." Border-land Christians are always somewhat of a weight in every spiritual campaign. When a revival is suggested or aggressive work planned, they are always the pastor's field rather than his working forces.

IV. Border-land Christians are always the first to fall away in time of spiritual stress. Reuben and Gad separated from the rest of the tribes, by the river Jordan, were soon out of touch with the national spirit and the religious life. They were exposed to the first attacks of Israel's enemies. They were always getting into trouble and needed much attention.

CASE

No other all-purpose tractor offers so many practical improvements as the 1935 Case. In addition, Case now announces a new line of "easy on—easy off" Motor Lift implements for tillage, planting, cultivating, haying or other operations.

No longer do you need to spend hours changing from one tool to another. All connections are simple and accessible. You can attach the two-row cultivator, for instance, in less time than harnessing and hitching a team. Yet, cultivator is firmly mounted on the tractor—with gangs and shovels perfectly aligned for positive control, light draft and easy steering.

Here's what yo uget in the 1935 Case: Power take-off as regular equipment—adjustable tread, from 84 down to 48 inches, for every crop and every job—heavy-duty engine with power for two or three plow bottoms—full pressure lubrication through drilled crankshaft—100 percent dust-sealed construction.

The First 500 Miles Are the Sanest

Nine out of every ten automobile accidents which in 1934 involved driving errors resulted from too much speed. This fact is brought out in numerous ways by the statistics on automobile accidents, among which are these:

The rate of death in 1934 per accident on highways was more than 100 percent greater than the average for all accidents combined. This shows that the highway is no place for a driver to be "asleep at the switch."

The rate of death per accident on curves was 131 percent worse last year that the average for all accidents combined. The question has been asked, "what does the driver think about when he goes around a curve too fast or on the wrong side of the road?"

Government mortality statistics show that the rate of death from automobile accidents continues to mount faster in rural territories than in urban districts. In 1933, the latest year that such statistics are available, the death rate from automobile accidents increased 6.4 percent compared to 1932. In urban districts it increased 4.5 percent, while in rural territories it increased 10.1 percent. From 1923 to 1933 inclusive, the total death rate from automobile accidents increased 53.7 percent although in urban districts it increased only 32.8 percent. In rural territories, however, the rate of death jumped 101.9 percent.

"Say, what is honor? 'Tis the finest sense
Of justice which the human mind can frame.
Intent each lurking fally to disclaim,
And guard the way of life from all offense
Suffered or done."

For more than three score years I have known and loved this man as a true friend. To name two of his most distinguished characteristics, I would say sympathy and princely liberality. He never owned a dollar that he thought was too good to spend for the bettermeent of his fellowman, and he was as tender-hearted as a little child.

In all these years I've never heard him utter a sentiment unworthy of a Christian gentlemen.

Being human, he doubtless had his faults, but I didn't see them. We sometimes differed in our views, but always each with respect for the opinion of the other. He has left to his loved ones the most priceless heritage on earth; an unblemished character and spotless reputation.

He had the loftiest ideals of right and justice, and always made it a point to take his stand on what he thought was the clean side of a question. Give us a man who can bear adversity and murmer not; who is meek when strong and successful; who can bear with a brother's foibles; who can be glad at another's joy and weep at another's sorrow; who for the right will stem the tide of prejudice, and we will honor him whether he be dwarfed and rough as the mountain shrub, or majestic as Lebanones stately cedar. Such must have our meed of praise, and such shall wear the prize while God himself will give.

"That prize with peerless glories bright,
Which shall new lustre boast,
When victor's wreaths and monarch's gems,
Shall blend in common dust."

T. H. Peebles.

A LITTLE BIT OF EVERYTHING

Between the city golf tournament, softball games and fishing over the country, the cog wheels of main street business houses are at a stand still. When the week is over a traveling man will be able to get an appointment with a store manager.

The city golf tournament has the other sports backed off for the time being, however. Even Mr. Tom Connally has to stick around town to see how the matches are coming out. He can't slip away for a few hours to see if his pet fishing hole has been invaded. What a shame!

The coming of a part of the Amarillo transient camp to Clarendon will increase the tills of the Clarendon merchants, as all of the boys get an allowance, and of course they are going to spend their money in Clarendon.

The coming "Pioneer's Edition" of The Clarendon News will be distributed to the entire Clarendon trade territory, and will be a great asset to those merchants who take advantage of the wonderful power of The News circulation in this territory. We will appreciate early advertising copy, as well as historical articles which will be carried in that issue.

If you know who the oldest living person in Donley county is, please drop us a card or letter. We would like to know the names of the oldest living married couple in the county.

At The First Baptist Church

Fellowship—Service
There is always Worship—

There is not any reason why anybody in Clarendon should be just an ordinary Christian. In fact Christianity challenges strong stalwart Christian leaders in your community by being present every Sunday morning and discussing and hearing discusses the rules regulating righteous living. Be a week-end worshipper instead of a week-end visitor. The road to success in Christ's cause is no man's private drive way. It is a highway upon which we are all priviledged to travel. Our success depends upon ourselves. We will not succeed upon any merits or demerits of our neighbor. Success comes to those who hustle. That is true in any field of endeavor, and especially so in your church life. Even in the dictionary the word success comes after the word hustle. If you would succeed in your Sunday School work, your Young Peoule's Society, the W. M. S. work do some hustling and the results will be gratifying. Go to your church next Lord's Day and have the higher, finer, nobler, and more worthwhile ambitions of your life stirred into action. You will thereby help yourself, your family and make your town a better place in which to live.

Services as usual Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church. The evening services have been changed to 7:45 and 8:30 respectively. You are cordially invited and most heartily welcomed to worship with us.

News Requests Data on Old Settlers

The News again calls upon the oldtimers of this territory to write a sketch of their trials and tribulations as early settlers, and mail to The News to be used in the "Pioneer's Edition" which will be published for July 4.

Many early settlers suffered untold hardships, and many have never related them to their fellowman. All old settlers or sons and daughters of old settlers are called on to assist The News in gathering the data on the lives of our 'old timers.' It will be appreciated by the present generation, in knowing 'their people' had a part in making the Panhandle of Texas the good country it is today.

ARTHUR E. BENSON DIES AT AGE OF 75

ONE OF THE PANHANDLE'S FIRST SUCCESSFUL FARMERS DIES HERE SUNDAY.

Death came to Arthur E. Benson, 75 year old resident of this city, shortly after midnight Sunday night. Mr. Benson passed away after a lingering illness with paralysis and death came as a result of complications.

Mr. Benson was one of the earliest successful farmers in this section, owning extensive farm lands in Donley and Hall counties. He lived a life of devotion to his family and fellow man; an unassuming yet esteemed citizen.

The deceased was born at Elkton, Giles county, Tennessee, on February 15, 1860. He moved to Clay county, Arkansas in 1861 and to Johnson county, Texas in 1877. In 1892, he moved to Hall county and was married to Miss Lucille Dickson. The couple moved to Brice where they lived until 1913 when they moved to Clarendon where they have since made their residence.

As a youth, Arthur E. Benson united with the Baptist Church at Waxahachie. He was a member of the Masonic lodge for many years.

Besides his wife, Lucille Dickson Benson, he is survived by three sons, Hardy M., George F., and Floyd C., all of Hereford; four daughters, Mrs. T. E. Major of Hereford, Mrs. Jimmy Miller of Fredrick, Oklahoma, Mrs. Leonard Parker of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Lenode Goldston of Dallas; one brother, C. L. Benson of this city; one sister, Mrs. Ada Tierney of Fort Worth; nine grandchildren, a niece, Mrs. Houston Bell of this city; two nephews, C. L. Benson and Lloyd Benson of this city; two cousins, Mrs. Clarence Whitlock of this city and Odos Barnes of Amarillo.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning from the family home with the Masonic members conducting the rites.

Pallbearers were Doss Palmer, Van Kennedy, Jim Swift, John Hunt, T. M. Pyle, and G. G. Reeves.

Interment was made in the Citizens Cemetery.

Out of town relatives and friends present at the services were Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Benson, Mr. and Mrs. George Benson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Benson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Major, all of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Miller; of Frederick, Oklahoma Mr. and Mrs. Leonode Goldston of Dallas; Mrs. Leonard Parker, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Odos Barns and Mrs. Willie Goldston, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. George Dickson and daughter of Memphis; and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Youngblood of Brice.

Dr. and Mrs. Knox Dunlap returned this week from their wedding trip to Wichita, Kansas.

Mrs. Clarence Heironimus and three children of McLean and Miss Frances Caraway of Paducah were guests Sunday in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Odos Caraway.

Motorcade is Planned For Panhandle Bands

J. M. Edwards of Childress reports that he plans to take twenty-five band members to Galveston between July 10th and 15th via Fort Worth, Waco, Marlin, Houston, San Antonio, and Austin. Fifteen members of this trip will be selected from the Childress High School Band and the remaining ten will be from surrounding towns.

Mr. Edwards estimated the cost of the trip as comparatively low, the round-trip bus fare being only $8.00, not including the meals.

High spots of the trip will include a boat ride into the Gulf, a visit to the beach at Galveston, a visit to such historic spots in San Antonio as the Alamo, a visit to Baylor University at Waco, to the State Capitol at Austin and State University, and broadcast over station WBAP at Fort Worth, together with a visit to the Armour and Swift packing plants in that city.

Listed by Mr. Edwards as necessities for the trip will be two blankets, change of clothes to last ten days, comb, soap, towels, flashlight, tooth brush, two pair of white pants, and band caps and coats will be furnished by those sponsoring the trip.

Reservation money for this fifteen hundred mile trip must be in the hands of Band Director J. M. Edwards by July 4th. Mr. Edwards is anxious that Clarendon should be represented on this motorcade and any additional information may be gained by writing to Director J. M. Edwards of Childress.

Have You a Photo Of Grandfather?

"Particularly are we interested in making a collection of old photographs," states Jerome D. Stocking, Chairman of the Exhibit committee for the Clarendon Fourth of July and Pre-Centennial Celebration.

Mr. Stocking has received response from various persons throughout the county with pictures, old Indian relics, and other articles of nioneer nature, but a large number of articles of like nature are needed to make the exhibits worthwhile.

It is the purpose of Mr. Stocking and the committee to have an art gallery of early cattlemen and pioneers; individual photographs or group pictures of this kind would be greatly appreciated by the committee.

Photographs of early social life in this section of the Panhandle, of longhorns, shipping scenes, or business houses in the early days of this city are among the articles being sought by the committee.

If convenient to the owner, Mr. Stocking suggests that all articles of this nature be brought to the Stocking Drug Store in the near future.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. McMILLIN

MRS. McMILLIN, 89, DIES AT HOME OF HER DAUGHTER TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Mrs. Jerry Black McMillin, familiarly known as Mammy McMillin, was called home Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the age 89 years, 6 months, and 9 days after a beautiful and well-spent life.

Mrs. McMillin made scores of friends in this city, having moved here in 1903. Intimate friends find words inadequate to describe her impeccable character and animated disposition.

She was born Ann Hutchens in Monroe county, Kentucky on December 9, 1845. Ann Hutchens was married in 1869 to Jerry McMillin, a gallant Confederate soldier. The couple came to Texas in 1881 and Mr. McMillin died at Cleburne, Texas, on June 23, 1903. After that date, Mrs. McMillin and her daughter, Lizzie, came to Clarendon to be with her daughter, Mrs. A. T. Cole.

She united with the Baptist Church in young womanhood and is believed to be the oldest member of the local Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. A. T. Cole of this city and Mrs. P. D. Reynolds of Big Sandy, Texas; seven grandchildren, Bruce, Black, and Hugh Reynolds of Big Sandy, Mrs. Ben Williams of Pampa, Mrs. Richard Bell of Palo Duro, and Katherine and Abe Cole of this city; two great grandchildren, Nancy Ann Bell and Ann Williams.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the A. T. Cole home. The Reverend J. Perry King, pastor of the First Baptist Church, had charge of the services.

A quartette composed of Mrs. J. L. McMurtry, Miss Anna Moores, Mrs. George McClesky, and Miss Annie Bourland sang "We'll Pass Over the River and Rest In the Shade of a Tree," "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown,' and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

Pallbearers were Karl Adams, A. L. Chase, Lloyd Lumpkin, Allen Bryan, W. C. Stewart, and Ralph Keys.

Interment was made in the Citizens Cemetery.

Out-of-town relatives present at the funeral services were Dr. and Mrs. P. D. Reynolds and sons, Bruce, Black, and Hugh of Big Sandy, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams and daughter, Ann, of Pampa.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES AT PAMPA

MRS. J. B. BAIRD DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS WHILE VISITING IN PAMPA.

Mrs. Mittie Fleming Baird, 62, passed away at 5 o'clock at Pampa at the home of Dr. W. Purviance, where she was a guest last Thursday and Friday during the Pampa Pioneers Roundup and Pre-Centennial celebration. She became ill Friday night at Pampa, pneumonia developing and complications causing her death.

Mrs. Baird came to the Panhandle in 1887 and was known and loved by hundreds of people here and in surrounding counties.

Mrs. Baird was born September 16, 1872 in Hamptonville, North Carolina. She made her first trip to the Panhandle in 1887 to visit her sister, Mrs. Dickerson of Mobeetie, returning to North Carolina in 1889. She was married to J. B. Baird in 1894 in Hamptonville, and moved to Mobeetie where they resided on a ranch 9 miles east of Pampa. In 1915, Mr. and Mrs. Baird moved to Clarendon where she has since made her residence.

To this union were born three daughters, Irene, Mrs. Allen Beville; Lelah, Mrs. Dick Walker, who died in August of 1934; Beulah, Mrs. John T. Sims, Jr. Mr. Baird past away in August of 1924.

Mrs. Baird joined the Methodist Church when a child; she was an active member of the church, the Eastern Star, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and a prominent club woman of this city.

Survivors include, two daughters, Mrs. John Sims, Jr. of Pampa and Mrs. Allen Beville of Amarillo; three sisters, Mrs. Annie Hall of this city and who was with her when she passed away, Mrs. W. W. Dickerson of Centralia, Washington, Mrs. Bettie Mills of Jacksonville, Florida; and two brothers, W. F. of Centralia, Washington and Lon C. Fleming of Hamptonville, North Carolina.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the local First Methodist Church with the Reverend E. D. Landreth, pastor, in charge.

Mrs. E. D. Landreth and Mrs. J. L. McMurtry sang "Face to Face."

Pallbearers were Fred Chamberlain, Wesley Knorpp, John T. Sims of this city, H. A. Talley, Miami; Claude Leadrick, Siler Faulkner, Jim Williams, and Clinton Henry all of Pampa. Flowers were in charge of Mrs. J. T. Patman, assisted by Mrs. R. H. Alexander, Mrs. E. W. Brumley, Mrs. John Sims, Mrs. A. A. Mayes, and Mrs. W. T. Clifford.

Interment was made in the Citizens Cemetery.
