Refuses the Pork—
Money Makes Noise—
Why Falsify?—

By H. N. F.

SENATOR JOHN K. SHIELDS of Tennessee refuses to smell the flesh pots of Egypt. He spurned an extra judge for his state when he voted against the judicial court bill. Eight Democratic senators voted for it. Thirteen Democrats and eight Republicans voted against it. Unless the roll call is at fault Senators Culberson and Sheppard were either paired, absent or indifferent. Shields of Tennessee won immortality by the casting of a single vote. He refused to accept a slice of pork for the old volunteer state.

"IMAGINE JOHN D. ROCKEfeller alone in a strange town without a cent in his pockets" is the picture painted of the American billionaire by a New York correspondent stationed at Ormond Beach, in the Everglades state. What rot. John D. Rockefeller, even in a strange town, would not need a cent in his pocket. Most of the leading citizens would crowd around him. All the newspaper representatives would interview him. All the lion hunters would shower him with invitations. A billion dollars makes more noise than all the spielers ever crowded on to Coney Island.

SENATOR THOMAS E. WATson of Georgia made the direct charge that the name of Christ was deleted from the opening prayer of the Arms Conference. Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes blandly and bluntly branded the charge as a falsehood saying that the narrowness and bigotry exhibited in the criticism were in his judgment so utterly despicable that he did not intend to notice the matter in any way. Now why should a statesman be a brazen falsifier?

WHY IS IT THAT THE BARN door is always locked after the horse has been stolen? Charles M. Ludden of Boston has been arrested on a secret federal indictment charging use of the mails to defraud. There are sixteen business men of New York and Boston in the same frame of mind as Ludden. They were caught in the net. Their transactions may involve a loss of 26 million dollars. Frozen or liquid—which? Thirty years ago a notorious American said, "There is a sucker born every minute." Times have changed. Now there must be sixty suckers born every minute.

GOVERNOR LEN SMALL OF Illinois may have grabbed a million in extra fees when he was state treasurer but the state of Illinois is putting over a thousand mile hard road program this year. Illinois farmers helped to put over a 65 million dollar state bond issue and the thousand-mile road is to be finished before the year is ended. It calls for 2,707,000 barrels of Portland cement as one item in the construction. Going are the mud land marks of the fathers.

TEXAS LUMBEK MEN HOLD BIG HOOHOO

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, April 11.—Texas lumbermen today attended the opening session of their annual convention. E. P. Hunter of Waco, president, called the meeting to order and delivered his report this afternoon. The morning was given over to the registration of delegates. A hoohoo concatenation, the first in Texas in many years, was held tonight.

HUGHES GOES ON RECORD AGAINST NAVAL MEASURE

Injury to Nation Would Result, Says Letter

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Leaders of the movement seeking to defeat in the house the naval bill proposal cutting the enlisted personnel to 65,000 presented today a letter from Secretary Hughes setting forth the view that it would reduce the American navy below the 5-5-3 ratio as fixed by the arms conference and prove "most injurious" to the nation's interest.

View Challenged

The moment the secretary's letter was read Representative Garrett, of Tennesse, the democratic leader, challenged the "doctrine as laid down in the first official utterance before us," that congress would be bound to keep the navy up to the mark stipulated by the treaty.

In a leiter to Representative Rogers, republican, Illinois, who asked his opinion because of his work in the conference, Mr. Hughes said he had been advised by the naval experts that the enlisted strength as provided in the bill was far below the number required to maintain the navy on the basis contemplated by the treaty.

DEMOCRATS BLAMED FOR KU KLUX KLAN

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, April 11.—R. B. Creagor, of Brownsville, chairman of republican state executive committee in Dallas conferring with local republican leaders today, denounced the Ku Klux Klan, declaring it to be a symptom of diseased political conditions and placed the blame on the democratic party.

A non-partisian ticket in Texas year, joined with the republicans and elements of the democrats who favor a protective tariff for southern agricultural products, is more than a possibility, Mr. Creagor said.

ARE YOU KLANSMEN? DALLAS MUST KNOW

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, April 11.—Questionnaires as to membership in the Ku Klux Klan or similar organizations that will be submitted to all public officials and candidates for office in Dallas county by the Dallas County Citizens' League will be placed in the mails tomorrow afternoon, according to statements by members of the executive committee following its meeting this afternoon. Committeemen declined to make it public until after it has been placed in the mails.

RANCHMAN FATALLY STABBED; WIFE HELD

By Associated Press.

AMARILLO, April 11.—W. G. Ivy, 33, Quay county, New Mexico, ranchman, who was stabbed to death Sunday afternoon on his ranch near Glen Rio, was buried here this afternoon. His wife, who is in a Tucumcari, N. M., hospital, suffering with a slight cut on the hand, is in the custody of the sheriff and will be given a hearing at Tucumcari tomorrow.

NOMINATION OF TEXAN CONFIRMED IN SENATE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Nominations of three members of the railroad labor board, J. H. Elliott, Texas, representing the managers; G. Wallace Hanger of Washington representin the public group, and A. O. Wharton of Missouri, representing the labor group, were confirmed today by the senate.

WACOAN KILLS SELF

By Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, April 11.—G. C. Niemeyer, until recently bridge and building foreman of the Cotton Belt railroad, died in a sanitarium here this morning as a result of a wound self-inflicted last night in his room at a hotel. He was shot with a .45 calibre pistol through the breast the bullet going through his body and the mattress and dropping on the floor. Three daughters survive. He was 52 years old.

"DEAD BEATS" LISTED

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—There are 30,000 "dead beats" in Philadelphia, H. B. Smith, secretary of the Retail Credit bureau, told the chamber of commerce in an address last night. All of them, however, have been listed, he said saving the retail merchants hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

SEINE ON RAMPANGE

PARIS, April 11.—Navigation in the Seine through Paris was at a standstill today because of the abnormal rise on the river, causing considerable anxiety. Several neighboring municipalities were flooded and some of them reported great loss of property and cattle.

BRYAN LIKES FLORIDA SO WELL HE WILL NOT BE SENATE CANDIDATE

By Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., April 11.—William J. Bryan in a statement given out this afternoon announced his definite decision not to become a candidate for United States senate from Florida.

In his statement, Mr. Bryan said all his fights had been for democratic principles and policies, that nearly all of these had been written into unrepealable laws, and that he could not "at my age, turn from such enjoyable work to personal pleasure."

WOMAN TO GO UPON GALLOWS

Hornsby Hears She Fights for Him

AUSTIN, April 11.—Mrs. Bennet Smith has told George Hornsby sentenced to hang in Belton Friday, in a verbal message to him that she will stand on the platform of the gallows as he pays the supreme penalty if he so desires. Mrs. Smith has taken a leading part in the effort to have Governor Neff commute Hornsby's sentence to life imprisonment.

"Do not give up hope until the last minute," was her message.

"While there's life, there's hope. But if the worst comes to the worst, and you so desire it, I will go with you to the platform of the scaffold."

The message was delivered to Hornsby by Mrs. M. B. Moreland, secretary of the Travis County Humane society.

To the message Hornsby only replied: "Thank you."

Hornsby was convicted of the murder of J. N. Weatherby at Brownwood. He has been in the Travis county jail several weeks, being brought here to guard against any possible violence. It is not known when he will be returned to Belton.

Court Makes Public Provisions of Will Left by 'Ole Marse'

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 11.—Henry Watterson, former editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, left an estate of $228,500, mostly in government securities, according to the terms of his will probated in county court today here. The income from $200,000 is left to Mrs. Watterson during her life time, and then descends to Mr. Watterson's son, daughter and grandson. The remainder of the estate is disposed of in special bequests. Mr. Watterson's library, curios, pictures, and other personal belongings are left to the Louisville public library, to which was bequeathed $5,000 for the construction of a place to keep them, to be known as the "Henry Watterson alcove."

The will was dated June 12, 1921, and was in the testator's hand writing.

BROWNWOOD BAND TO PLAINVIEW MEETING

Special to the Record News.

BROWNWOOD, Texas, April 11.—A decision has been reached here to send a large delegation to Plainview on the occasion of the fourth annual convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce. The local National Guard band, 42 strong, will attend the convention.

FLEXIBLE RATES WRITTEN IN NEW TARIFF CLAUSES

Measure Ready to Run Gauntlet In Senate

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The long awaited administration tariff bill was presented today in the senate, Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in speaking of the measure announced that to give senators time to study he would not call it up before April 20. Some republican leaders thought it would be passed after about 60 days of debate, but other estimates ranged as high as three months.

Experts who assisted the senate finance committee majority to prepare the bill, estimate that the average of its rates is slightly higher than the average of the Payne-Aldrich law, the last republican tariff act. The Payne-Aldrich level was approximately 41 per cent on all dutiable imports and 21 per cent on all imports free and dutiable.

Measures Compared.

The average of the democratic Underwood tariff, which the new bill would replace was 37.60 and 14.88 per cent, respectively, in 1914, the first year of its operation, and the only year when trade was not seriously affected by the world war or postwar conditions.

Comparing this bill with the Fordney measure, which the house passed last July 21, and of which this is a rewrite, the experts estimate that the average of all rates is lower, though the specific rates and more particularly those on foodstuff, are somewhat higher.

Revenue Greater.

While they have not completed all calculations, the experts says that senate measure probably would raise between $330,000,000 and $350,000,000, in revenue as compared with the estimate of $300,000,000 for the Fordney bill and the $380,000,000 returns from the joint operation of the Underwood and emergency acts in 1921.

Returning to the valuation principle, the senate committee majority carried out suggestions of President Harding to congress last December for a flexible tariff. Under special authority in the measure, in the language of the majority representatives which got up the bill, would be authorized:

Rates Elastic.

"To modify tariff rates either up or down within prescribed limits (50 per cent) in accordance with definite rules laid down by congress so that rates all times may conform to existing conditions.

"To change the basis for the assessment of advalorem duties on selected items from the value to the value of the domestic articles in the American market when the foreign value is not a certain basis for the assessment of duties on such items.

"To impose penalty duties or prohibit the importation of particular goods for the purpose of preventing unfair methods of competition in the importation of goods.

Provides Protection.

"To impose additional duties on the whole or any part of the imports into the United States from any country which discriminates against our overseas commerce. These additional duties are limited to the amount of the discrimination, but if the descrimination is maintained, the importation of merchandise may be prohibited."

The report declared that the elastic tariff was entirely constitutional and that it would contribute toward stopping discrimination against American goods in foreign markets, which, heretofore has caused no end of troubles, immediately following the enactment of new tariff measures.

"The rates imposed by this bill," the report continued, "are sufficient to protect the American market and preserve democratic competition and at the same time will permit fair competition from other countries."

Party Fight Due.

Before its presentation in the senate the bill was formally approved at the first meeting of the entire committee since the work of drafting the measure was started three months ago. Democratic members of the committee present voted against it and were given ten days in which to prepare their minority report and also for the fight which they plan to launch against it immediately after it is called up.

Immediately after the bill was introduced an effort to raise the 7½ a pound rate on long staple cotton now in the emergency law and approved by the committee was launched. Senator Cameron, republican, Arizona, introduced an amendment to make the rate fifteen cents the figure urged by producers of this cotton in his and other southwestern states.

Short Staple Free.

Short staple cotton is retained on the free list, but opposition is promised to some of the rate proposed on cotton goods which in sme instances are higher than those in the Payne Aldrich bill.

One of the personal schedules in the new bill is that dealing with agricultural products. It includes most items of foodstuffs, many of which were on the free list in the Underwood bill, and including a duty of 30 cents a bushel on wheat as under the emergency law, but 5 cents higher than is proposed in the Fordney bill. The compensatory duty on flour was placed at 78 cents per 100 pounds, as compared to 50 cents in the Fordney bill and 25 cents advalorem in the Payne-Aldrich measure.

WIFE NO. 1 VISITS WIFE NO. 2; THIRD MISSING

NEW YORK, April 11.—The matrimonial conquests of Joseph Donald Grafton, son of a wealthy Pittsburgh merchant, have just brought heartaches to two women.

Grafton's matrimonial record came to the attention of police after Mrs. Ellen Curley McIntyre Grafton called on Mrs. Mary Margaret Laird Grafton in a hospital here to discuss their mutual husband.

Mrs. Mary Grafton is better known by her stage name, Peggy Davis. She's wife No. 2.

But she is recovering from a major operation and so when her mother, Mrs. Capitola C. Laird, heard the story, she took wife No. 1 to an attorney's office to repeat the tale.

Police have uncovered marriage certificates showing that Grafton married Miss McIntyre in Youngstown, Ohio, November 23, 1921, and Peggy Davis here three weeks later. Grafton is missing.

5 Members of Grand Jury Probing Ku Klux Klan Come Out Into Court With Plea That They Be Excused

Five members of the special grand jury in the 78th district court conducting the so-called Ku Klux Klan investigation Tuesday presented a signed request to Judge Napier asking for relief from further service on the grand jury. The request was presented to Judge Napier in open court right at the noon hour. The five who asked to be excused were D. M. Perkins, Frank D. Keim, George Hodgins, Scott Ralston and Sam Kruger.

Judge Napier questioned several of them. Frank D. Keim gave as his reosan for desiring excuse from further service, dis agreement over certain methods of grand jury procedure.

Judge Napier refused the request to be excused and members of the jury indicated belief that the action they had taken was a "bone." The grand jury reconvened soon after noon, but at 3:30 o'clock adjourned until Monday.

General Semenoff Made Villa Look Like Raw Amateur

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Efforts have been begun to free General Semenoff, ataman of the Cossacks, from civil arrest pending hearings on the bankruptcy petition brought by a New York concern.

Cody March, adjutant of the Siberian veterans, of which Woodrow Wilson is honorary commander in chief and Brig. Gen. W. S. Graves, is commander, today issued a statement in which he asserted that Semenoff "Makes Franscisco Villa seem like an amateur.

"Semenoff covered Siberia with a trail of blood and every unspeakable crime," said the statement.

CHARGES OF ASSAULT AND THEFT OF AUTO CONFRONT SOLDIERS

By Associated Press.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, April 11.—The sheriff of Bexar county today notified Sheriff Williams here that he had recovered a new popular priced automobile reported stolen last night from Leo Weust, and also that three soldiers of Camp Eagle Pass were in the San Antonio jail in connection with the disappearance of the car.

The driver was assaulted and knocked from the car, it was reported to the police. Charges of theft and assault to murder, probably will be filed, officers said.

MOTIVE FOR ARMY OFFICER'S SUICIDE REMAINS MYSTERY

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—An army board of inquiry into the death of Major W. Duryea in his quarters here today, found that it was a case of suicide, but learned nothing of any motive that should have caused the officer to shoot himself.

Duryea, a member of a well known New York family, was son of General Hiram Duryea, a leader in the civil wor. He served two years overseas in the ordinance department and had been here about a year in the finance department.

SAFE CARRIED OFF

ABILENE, April 11.—Burglars last night broke into an oil company's office here and carried off a small safe containing about one hundred dollars. The safe has not been found.

STATE SPENDS LOTTA COIN

AUSTIN, Texas, April 11.—A total of $1,251,845 was paid out of state treasury yesterday. This is the largest amount paid out in a single day in a number of years, according to State Treasurer Terrell.

STORM APPEARS SPENT AT GENOA

Disposition Shown to Seek Peace

By Associated Press.

GENOA, April 11.—After two rather stormy days without serious mishap, it begins to look as if Premier Lloyd George and Premier Facta, the presiding officer of the conference, are equal to a squall stirred by the Russian and French exchanges over land disarmament and other matters, and may be able to steer the ship into a peaceful haven, or one that will pass pencefully in this stormy European sea. The organization of a sub-committee today threatened for a time to raise another storm, but was put through with far less clamor from the lesser powers than they raised at Versailles when that conference was organized.

Powers Peaceful

Most of the powers have shown a disposition to abandon war hatreds. The Russians and Germans were permitted to speak at the opening session as an evidence of forgiveness, although France resisted this courtesy.

The conditions of the Cannes resolution and the agenda agreed were accepted by all the nations, although M. Chitcherin insisted on speaking for disarmement and threatens to do so repeatedly at succeeding sessions. However, he said that he would not insist on consideration of disarmament as part of the agenda.

Bones of Contention

Russia is growling about Japan and Roumania occupying part of her territory and France bristles when Germany and Russia are shown any consideration. But there is a sort of armed neutrality and there are indications that the irreconciliables will become more tractable as the days proceed and actually will consider the Cannes agenda, leaving land disarmaments untouched except for occasional bursts of oratory.

It is expected that the conference will take vacations on Good Friday and Easter Sunday and Monday.

IRISH PEACE SOUGHT

By Associated Press.

BELFAST, April 11—The National Executive committee of the Irish labor party today issued a strong protest against the re-introduction of military methods in Ireland. The committee demanded that the armed forces in the country should be under and be amenable to civil authority, responding to the people.

PHARR MAYOR DIES

By Associated Press.

BROWNSVILLE, April 11. — W. E. Cage, 68, mayor of Pharr and editor and publisher of the Pharr Clarion, died of apoplexy at his home there late yesterday. Burial will be at Dallas.

LAW ADVOCATES SEEK 3,000 MORE

Women Take Part in Citizens Drive

Three thousand members is the goal set by the Wichita County Citizens' association in a concerted membership campaign which will be started within the next few days, it was decided at the Tuesday meeting of the county executive committee.

The association, formed not long ago for the purpose of openly standing for the enforcement of law, for the removal of officers who are inefficient or corrupt in the enforcement of the law, and for the examination of and report on candidates seeking places as peace officers in the county, has several hundred members on its rolls. No effort in the direction of securing members has been made since the initial mass meeting in each place.

Women Interested.

Active campaigning for membership was deferred until after the various municipal elections, through belief that a conflict with a demand for public interest would not be opportune, and the organization, being largely country-wide, should not take part in local affairs, except in such a way as might be done by individual members.

Representatives of several women's organizations met with the committee Tuesday afternoon, and expressed an interest in the work before the association. Appointment of committees to have charge of the planned canvas has already been made in Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Iowa Park by Judge R. E. Huff, R. H. Henry and J. C. Boyd, chairmen from these communities, respectively—committees being named for both the men and women. As soon as the members of the committees have been notified the committee lists will be announced.

Candidates Discussed.

Discussion of candidates already announced or prospective candidates for various peace offices got under way at the Tuesday meeting. Members of the committee expressed themselves as not being "tied" to any man for any office, and expressing themselves as anxious to reach unanimous agreement on some all round acceptable man. Further action in this connection is expected at the next week's meeting.

Investigation in connection with some present officers is being continued by a special committee.

WILL TEST VALIDITY OF REDISTRICTING

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 11.—Representative John T. Smith of Travis county proposes to test in the state courts the validity of the representative redistricting bill passed at the last session of the legislature in which Swisher county was omitted. Validity of the law was taken up by Representative Satterwhite of Carson county but later abandoned on account of the expense.

ADVANTAGE OF SHIP MEASURE STRESSED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Incentive would be given importers and exporters through passage of the administration merchant marine bill, to have their goods carried in American vessels with the result that shipowners would be assured full cargoes, Norman B. Beecher, counsel for the shipping board, declared at today's session of the joint congressional hearings on the measure.

FIFTY SOLDIERS BARELY ESCAPE HORRIBLE DEATH

Tragedy Occurs in Demonstrating Fireworks

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, April 11.—The death toll reached a total of four today following an explosion of pyrotechnics in a target pit at Camp Bullis Monday night when fifty soldiers, assisting in staging a night demonstration found themselves surrounded by a fiery furnace of bursting fireworks.

At Camp Bullis.

The tragedy happened in the last minute of a night demonstration which was staged by the 17th infantry of Fort Sam Houston on the rifle range at Camp Bullis, 25 miles northwest of here.

The dead are:

Private John A. Benner, Baltimore, Md.; Private Joseph R. Miller, Reading, Pennsylvania; Private Adolph Anlis, San Antonio, and Private Felix Katchings of San Antonio.

Water Not Available.

Many officers of the regular army and more than fifty officers of the organized reserves, attending a tenday conference at Fort Sam Houston stood on a lookout hill, 1,200 yards from the blazing trench, at the time of the explosion. The woodwork of the trench, saturated with oil quickly caught on fire and burned for an hour before extinguished by soldiers who rushed from nearby trenches and fought the flames with dirt. Water was not available.

The dead and injured were brought to San Antonio. At the station hospital tonight little hope was held for the recovery of five of the other victims.

600 MINERS RETURN, ASSERT OPERATORS

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 11.—First reserves for United Mine Workers organizers who have been trying to unionize the plants of the H. C. Frick Coke company throughout the Connellsville region were reported to night when coal operators declared that 600 men had returned to work. On the other hand, it was pointed out that Continental No. 2, employing 100 men, had closed down.

GALVESTON PRISONER TAKEN TO HOUSTON

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, April 11.—Robert J. Jones, 33, of Alvin, facing two charges at Galveston, murder and criminal assault, was brought to Houston and lodged in the county jail shortly before midnight last night.

TEAMSTER SLAIN

CISCO, Texas, April 11.—H. C. Hoffman, 35, teamster, thought to be from Billings, Montana, was found in the wagon of a contracting concern today with his skull fractured in two places. An operation was performed. Doctors doubt his recovery. The identity of his assailant is unknown.

It is believed that he was struck over the head with a large club.

TRAIN DERAILED

CHICAGO, April 11—Four or five passengers were injured, none seriously, when east bound train Number 20 of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad was derailed this afternoon one-half miles east of Watkins, La., the train, known as the Continental Limited, was enroute from Los Angeles to Chicago and carried nine cars.

PARIS GETS SCHOOLS

PARIS, Texas, April 11.—The city council, and school board today let contracts to architects to draw plans for three new school buildings, one of fourteen and two of ten rooms; and plans for a fourth are to be drawn as soon as the cost of the first three is ascertained.

Each
Business
Institution
In Wichita Falls
Has Its Friend

But did you ever hear of any one of them complain that it had too many? You did not!

No business, however popular, can grow, however, without adding new friends to its list of patrons. And how does it do it? By selling good goods at right prices and by advertising. Every concern endeavors to advertise in some manner—by signs, windows, "location" or newspaper space. No method, however, has ever been devised that will ever come within gun range of the great family newspaper. People buy it to keep abreast of the news of the day, and incidentally it brings your advertisement into the intimate circles of the home.

PARSON TELLS 'EM TO MASK

"But Cover More Than Face"

"Why cover the face only—I admit that on such an occasion it would be proper to cover the face—but I suggest that you give orders that the entire physique be masked." This suggestion by Dr. S. M. Martin, evangelist, and the principal speaker of the day, gave to the members of the University club at their Tuesday luncheon, following the announcement of a "ball masque" at the Kemp on Thursday, April 20.

"You will not have a very large attendance if you do that," he added.

The luncheon was held at the North Side Community House. In addition to Dr. Martin's remarks, which were made and received with perfect good humor, the members of the club were entertained with two well delivered readings by Miss Juanita Kinsey, head of the expression department in the local high school.

He'll Preach on Dance

"After you have gone to the masked ball on April 20—and I hope you will be careful to get your money's worth—I want to invite you out to hear me preach on the night of April 23 on amusements of the present day," Dr. Martin told his hearers.

"I will lay especial emphasis on the demoralizing influence of card playing and of the modern dance."

He promised, if they would come to hear him with an open mind after thus further imperiling their immortal souls, that he would prove that the text book of Christianity condemned the modern dance, and that those who do so indulge will never inherit the kingdom of heaven.

As modern dances Dr. Martin gave the following list: Maxixe, Texas Tommy, Turkey Trot, Bunny Hug, Crab Crawl, Grizzly Bear, Chinese Waddle, Japanese Toddle, etc.

The amount of money a man should have came out in the body of Dr. Martin's talk, which was based on "Love, Labor and Laughter," the preacher declaring that one had enough money when it was enough to keep him without him having to keep it.

He said the rich were not always happy, but declared that the happy are always rich. He has known 10 wretched men because of money, he declared, to every one he knew who were wretched because of the lack of it.

Look Out for Flapper

The statement that of the divorces in Wichita Falls, which he said as was the case everywhere else made up a fair sized number, the women were to blame in only one of a dozen cases, was made by the speaker. "This condition may change in the future, though," he said. "The influence of the modern flapper is beginning to be felt."

Plans for the ball were outlined to the members by Paul Von Allmen. President Norris Ewin urged a full attendance, declaring that this "might be the last the University club would have."

In the banter back and forth which preceded and followed Dr. Martin's talk, Judge J. W. Akin queried Rev. J. Lem Keevil with reference to a statement in connection with the announcement of the dance, that the University club would be unanimously behind it. Judge R. O. Kenley arose afterward to clear himself to the extent that his membership in the University club was with a dance reservation. F. G. Swanson urged that Dr. Keevil be required to donate for a couple of the excellent dinners served to members by the North Side Civic league, basing his motion on the amount of chicken Mr. Keevil was alleged to have consumed. With an amendment taxing Swanson for the dollar, the motion carried.

The members of the club were thanked on behalf of the North Side Civic league for their attendance by Mrs. A. F. Gullat, president.

TIPTON TEST DOWN 300 FT. SAY REPORTS

The Tipton test, in section 201, block 3, Carson county, has started drilling recently, and is now down around 300 feet, according to reports from the Panhandle, where interest in oil activity is still on the increase. The well is being drilled by C. J. Rogers and W. H. Ellinger, well known locally as drilling contractors, and a bond of $35,000 is said to be up to insure the depth of 3,500 feet if necessary. A new speed record is promised on this test.

The Tipton test lies between the Gulf Production company's No. 2 Burnett, the Panhandle's only oil producer so far, and the Harvey test, in Gray county. It is 12 miles southeast of the Gulf well, and in a part of the prospective oil producing territory that is claiming a large part of interest.

SLEUTH MAKES DATE WITH DOPE PEDDLER THEN ARRESTS HER

"Who is It?" asked Lucy Beckman, negress, living at 108 Sullivan street in answering the telephone Tuesday afternoon.

"Ah'll meet yuh down at the past-yuh, and hav' it fur yuh," the negress is said to have declared after a brief conversation in which the party satisfied her as his identity.

A few minutes later Federal Prohibition Officer Tyler, and Constable Frank Morgan arrived at the spot designated. Before she could throw away the drugs officers charge, they arrested her and secured two grains of morphine which Morgan, using the name of one of her supposed customers, had ordered over the telephone.

Officers secured 125 grains of morphine and cocaine in a search of the house immediately after her arrest, they reported. With her husband, Eugene Brochman, she is held at the county jail with charges of having violated the federal narcotic law filed against them. They will have a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Lantz this morning.

Grand Jury Turns In 13 Indictments

In their first partial report, 13 indictments were returned Tuesday morning by the special grand jury of the 78th district court now in session. Persons indicted are either in jail or out on bond.

Among the indictments returned was one against Arthur Gray, negro, charged with burglary. Tuesday morning Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court quashed the indictment returned by a previous grand jury against Gray because of an error in the manner in which the indictment was written. After it had been quashed the case was brought to the attention of the grand jury now in session and the second indictment returned.

Other indictments returned include the following:

B. A. Tate, two indictments for theft. Tate is alleged to have stolen property from H. Rowe and E. B. Robinson in March of this year.

Sanford Sanders, theft of boiler from W. T. Tarkenton in February of this year.

W. H. Barnett, burglary from E. B. Robinson on March 21 of this year.

CALOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose May Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism.

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. (Adv.)

IRRIGATION WORK IS GOING AGAIN

Right of Way Being Secured

After a delay of a couple of days for mud to dry, all work on the irrigation project is again in full swing, according to information obtained from R. A. Thompson, chief engineer of the project. A single exception is in operation of the sheet steel piling on the diversion dam embankment, where failure to secure a shipment is holding up this work.

Work toward securing the remainder of the right of way for the South Side canal down to Call Field is now the chief occupation of irrigation officials. The location survey was recently completed to the terminus. A branch to empty into Holliday creek and thence into Lake Wichita, not under contract, is being surveyed and located.

Another grading outfit joined the group working on the South Side canal within the past few days, and other outfits are ready to go to work as soon as additional right of way is obtained. Only one condemnation suit for right of way was necessary on the first 17 miles of the ditch, the remainder of the property owners showing their appreciation of the enhancement of value to their lands by willingness to donate the right of way to the district.

Guinn Williams to Begin Race Saturday

Guinn Williams, candidate for the short term of Congress, as well as for the coming term, which opens next year, will begin his race for the short term on Saturday, at Nocona, according to announcement from Mr. Williams, by telephone from Gainesville Tuesday night. His itinerary for next week will be announced following the Nocona address, he stated. He expects to be in Wichita Falls in a few days.

REV. DATSON TALKS TO FAITH CHAPTER

Two hundred members of the Faith chapter of the Masonic lodge attended the first Master Mason initiation Tuesday afternoon and night. Five candidates received the Master Mason degree. The initiation ceremonies were held in the new home of Faith chapter located on Scott street.

The Rev. Fred Datson, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd (Episcopalian) delivered an address on Masonic work. The meeting was the largest attended by any since the recent organization of the Faith lodge.

FIRST CONVICTION FOR BREAKING DEAN BOOZE LAWS IS SECURED HERE

The first conviction in local district courts under the state prohibition laws was secured Tuesday morning when Ralph Pardy, employe of an Indiana street cafe, was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary by a jury in the 89th district court. He was charged with selling liquor.

The Pardy case went to the jury Monday afternoon but no verdict was reached until Tuesday morning. Twice before Pardy was placed on trial on similar indictments the first case resulting in a hung jury and the second in an acquittal. In the first two trials as in the last men testified that they had purchased the whisky from him while he was working in a cafe.

A motion for a new trial will be made, defense attorneys said and in the event that it overruled it will be the event that it is overruled it will be recent session of the grand jury in the 30th district court.

D. M. Perkins, member of the grand jury, testified Tuesday in the Pardy case of having been present when Charles Bryant purchased whiskey at an Indiana avenue cafe—a purchase for which Pardy, an employe, was on trial. He said that he had accompanied Bryan at the latter's request. Bryan, the state witness, who is an insurance man, testified that he purchased the whiskey for the purpose of securing evidence. Through an oversight, a headline of Tuesday morning gave the impression that Perkins was called with regard to purchase of whiskey on his own account, which was not the case.

SWEARING CUTS DOWN KNOT HOLE MEMBERS

Too much swearing, smoking and the like has already resulted in several boys of the city being declared ineligible for passes to ball games of the coming season as members of the "Knot Hole" gang. It was announced Tuesday by the Rotary Club committee in charge of the gang that cancellation of passes had been found necessary because holders had violated the pledge which they took regarding their conduct.

Today is the last day in which passes will be issued. All who have made application and have not received the passes are requested to call during the day at the scout headquarters. The passes are not good for the opening game Thursday. Friday night a meeting of the boys will be held to effect an organization.

SCHOOL BOARD RE-ELECTS HEAD

Carrigan Again Is Voted President

Judge A. H. Carrigan was re-elected president of the school board at a reorganization meeting held Tuesday night. W. R. Ferguson was elected vice president and W. W. Brown secretary of the board.

Plans for the proposed new high school building featured the discussion at the meeting. J. T. Harrell, representing the chamber of commerce, and Norris Ewing, W. S. Curlee and E. P. Haney, representing the University club, met with the board by invitation to discuss plans for the new building for which bonds will probably be voted in the near future.

A called meeting of the finance committee of the school board will be held Monday night for the purpose of making a final report regarding the bond issue that will be necessary to secure the erection of the building.

Rev. James E. Greene, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, was selected by the board to deliver the baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class this year.

Miss Henrietta Pyle, director of music, made a report to the board of the recent convention of music supervisors which she attended at Nashville. The report of Superintendent Lee Clark, H. A. Glass and S. H. Ridler regarding the National Educational society meeting at Chicago was postponed until a later date. All members of the board attended the meeting.

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO HELP BRING MUSICIANS

A series of high class musical attractions will probably be brought to Wichita Falls during the next few weeks as a result of Tuesday's action by the University club agreeing to share with the Musicians' club underwriting of these events. Negotiations for a series of particularly good musical entertainments are now in progress, and the result is expected to be announced in the next day or two.

ODD FELLOWS DEGREE TEAM TO BURKBURNETT

The degree team of the Panhandle lodge of the Odd Fellows will go to Burkburnett Friday night to confer degree work and the "Annointing of Davis" on a large class of the Burkburnett lodge. The local team will leave the lodge room here for Burkburnett early Friday evening.

All local members of the lodge are requested to bring books to be sent to the orphans home at Corsicana at once. April 26, is "shower day" for the home and the books will be sent from here on the 24th. W. W. Clark of the local lodge has been designated as deputy grand master of the lodges of Wichita county by Grand Master Wheeler of Bonham.

CHURCH TO SAY 'DO' TO YOUNG PEOPLE

Floral Heights Methodists are going into competition with entertainments which the church considers questionable by providing entertainments of the other sort, the pastor, Rev. J. H. Grosecloss announced Tuesday. These entertainments will begin on Friday night, April 28. Miss Ada Emily Sandel providing the entertainment on this occasion with a pipe organ recital. She is dean of the American Guild of Pipe Organists. Miss Katherine Hurt, a reader, will give one of the succeeding entertainments. A silver offering will be taken on each occasion.

"The church has said so often 'don't' that I think it was time in finding something of which we can say 'do,'" declared the pastor.

New Refrigerator To Be Made Here

Wichita Falls is soon to have a new industry in operation, it became known Tuesday with announcement by W. K. Knutson that the Knutson Vacuum Refrigerator company had leased property at Call Field and would soon be ready for the manufacture of the vacuum refrigerator for which Mr. Knutson recently received a patent.

The new refrigerator, the principal of which can be applied to automobiles, railroad cars or ships, is on exhibition at the Perkins-Timberlake department store. It was described in the Record News several months ago when Knutson first made application for his patent, and at that time was on exhibition at the North Texas Furniture Co. store.

As before described, the principal, the first successful application of the vacuum idea to refrigerators, consists in the arrangement for circulation of the cold air around the food chambers, and the arrangement of these chambers in such a manner that when one is opened the cool air is not permitted to enter the others, nor the ice chamber.

Knutson is a refrigerating expert of long standing, his experience in this connection having been gained through service in many tropic countries, including India and Egypt, and in the construction of refrigerator chambers on sea going vessels for an English shipbuilding concern.

Officers and trustees for the concern include J. S. Smith, W. C. Kavanaugh, C. C. Crowell and C. E. Brown. They have established an office at 208 Chenault building.

CASING SET IN DOW; BAILING STARTS TODAY

Casing was set Tuesday in the Dow test, on the Horton farm, east Texhoma field, and bailing is scheduled to start today, to test out the new 600-foot sand drilled into Monday. The hole was in good condition, according to the report from the field Tuesday night, and no trouble was anticipated in the testing.

Production here would mean an extension of a half mile east from the Texhoma pool. This location is a short distance south from the 400-foot producers recently completed on the R. E. Moore farm, which

CHAMBER HEADS ARE BANQUETED

Burk People Dine at Y. M. C. A.

BURKBURNETT, April 11.—As an act of courtesy to the new and retiring officers of the chamber of commerce, members of the organization were both hosts and guests at a banquet tonight, which was served at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Approximately 60 members were present to enjoy the spread and the interesting addresses and informal discussions on the general subject of the "Development of Burkburnett."

The discussion touched especially on the fire insurance situation in the city and means by which lower rates may be obtained. A. R. Thomas, president of the chamber of commerce, officiated as master of ceremonies.

Ladies of the Emmanuel Baptist donated their time and services in serving at the banquet.

Self-Denial Work Helps Salvation Army Mission Fund

Wichita Falls Salvation Army workers report progress on their Self Denial Week, which is being carried on here in common with army work all over the United States. The money which is secured in this way goes for home and foreign missions, and is entirely independent of the drives for maintenance, which have been concentrated on one drive o year.

The workers and congregation members are responding splendidly to the appeal, it is stated, and the opportunity to help is being extended to the friends and supporters.

This self-denial money will be distributed among the heathen missions, training colleges, women's social work children's homes, ministering league and general work, according to statement from the territorial headquarters in Chicago.

Each solicitor is furnished with signed credentials.

Intervenors Plea In Little Motor Car Co. Granted

Wichita Falls and Burkburnett stockholders in the Little Motor Kar Company, and it is understood that many thousand dollars worth of stock is held in this county, have learned that the petition of the intervenors has been granted, and that the receivership has been dissolved. The affairs of the company have been handed over to J. E. Payne, C. M. Ward and W. E. Joor, who were chosen at a recent meeting of the stockholders to act as trustees.

Judge J. E. Gilbert, in the 68th district court, at Dallas rendered the judgment dissolving the receivership, which has been in force since April 1920.

The judgment directs R. C. Ayres, receiver, to deliver the property to the trustees. It is provided that a lien be taken on the property to secure claims contested by the trustees.

Gregory Hatcher and Lee Zumwalt represented the trustees in the case.

TWO BOUND OVER ON BOOTLEGGING CHARGE

Pete and Gus Bohrines, owners of a cafe and soft drink stand on Ohio street, were bound over under $750 bond each Tuesday by United States Commissioner Lantz following a preliminary hearing on a charge of having sold liquor in violation of the federal prohibition act. The two men were arrested Saturday night by Federal Prohibition Enforcement Officer Tyler, Ranger McCormick and City Detective Belcher. The officers secured liquor in their store at that time, they allege.

Louis Garthler arrested Sunday night by federal officers was also held under $750 bond by Commissioner Lantz for the alleged sale of whiskey. Garthler was employed by a cafe on Eighth street.

MORE COTTON TO BE RAISED

Winter Wheat Plot Being Used

Northwest Texas and Panhandle farmers are expected to raise more cotton this year than for a several year period—farmers generally being reported as planting cotton to acreage on which the winter wheat failed to sprout.

An increase in many other field crops, including wheat and forage crops planted this time of year, is also expected.

Women May Join Varsity Activities

Admission of women to full membership in the club, and the establishment of a students' loan fund to which 20 per cent of all the revenue of the club will be devoted, are features in the suggested future activities of the Varsity club. These recommendations, submitted by the board of governors to the club members Tuesday, will be allowed to brew for a week and will be acted upon at the next luncheon.

Establishment of a required attendance—at least 50 per cent of the meetings in any quarter—incorporation in the club, the holding of one night social meeting per month as an alternative for the fourth of the usual luncheons, the establishment of the luncheon cost at $1.00 with the extra two-bits to be devoted to the various club activities, and the suggestion that members prepare questions to be discussed, at future meetings for the guidance of the program committee, which in turn will assign the subject for some member for preparation, comprise the list of suggestions.

A permanent program committee composed of W. J. Townsend, John P. Marrs, Julian Bobo, Joe B. Hatchitt, F. G. Swanson and Paul Von Allmen was appointed.

ESCH-CUMMINS REPEAL.

Hon. Earle B. Mayfield demands the repeal of the Esch-Cummins Act and the Hon. Cullen F. Thomas demands a real dirt farmer as a member of the federal reserve board. Republicans will control the senate for years to come. Former Congressman John J. Esch is an interstate commerce commissioner. Three or four members of the federal reserve board were born on the farm. Now when is a man a dirt farmer and when isn't he a dirt farmer? Mr. Mayfield was a farmer before he became a statesman; Mr. Thomas was a farmer before he became a school teacher and a lawyer before he became a statesman. If a man deserts the farm for other fields of endeavor does he lose all heart interest in the tillers of the soil and their needs? There is a lot of bunk tossed about in every political campaign.

Senator Charles A. Curtis of Kansas asked the senate tariff committee to give the independent oil producers a chance and a dollar a barrel duty to protect the mid-continent and Texas fields against importations from Mexico. Curtis was given the frozen mitt by the senate tariff makers. They would have none of it. They said that protection was not a good thing when it came to petroleum. They agreed, however, that a tariff on hides would be all right. If Texas livestock men are to be protected then why not protect the independent oil producers of Texas? Is protection a special privilege for the few and a joke for the many?

New York may reject the statue of Civic Virtue sculptured by Frederick McMonnies for erection in City Hall Park. Why not erect it in Wall Street if the Tammany tiger is too modest to accept it for ornamental or educational purposes. Most of the women condemn Civic Virtue, by McMonnies because they insist that woman is shown as tempting the male from the straight and narrow when she should be shown hand in hand with man. And now all the art critics, all the politicians and all the newspaper writers of Gotham have made the acceptance or rejection of Civic Virtue a paramount issue. It must be true that men and women are just children grown up.

Petroleum is the game. Now the scouts have invaded the Gold Coast Colony of West Africa. Louis P. Bowler of London made a thorough investigation of prospects and believes that gushers of oil will be found and that the Golden sands has been struck 33 feet under ground. All the big British companies have their agents there. They are wise. Standard Oil has its agents everywhere and when it comes to the sons of Mr. John Bull and the sons of Brother Jonathan the writer is for "America first." If there is to be a world petroleum monopoly let the golden fleece come to these shores.

Now it is charged that the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation has been offered a virtual bribe of 2 and 1-2 million dollars if it would seek to obtain from the government the leasing of Muscle Shoals nitrate plant No. 2 and thus defeat the efforts of Henry Ford to lease the entire project. There must be big money in the manufacture of fertilizers. Muscle Shoals is certain to become a burning issue in the campaigns of the future. Henry Ford is a billionaire. He has his own working organizations. He has an army of employes. He has won the confidence of the farmers of America. Politicians may be given the hot end of the poker by the Detroit wizard before the coming of the next presidential election.

Cotton seed oil is one of the large industries of Texas and the oil is one of the staples of Texas. Now the independents are up in arms against the Fordney tariff bill oil rates. Vegetable oils are down for a duty of 3 cents but if used in the manufacture of soaps the oils come in free. If the vegetable oils of the Orient are to be permitted to come in free then the cotton growers of the South are to be given the blackest of black eyes. China and Japan and India, where labor is a pauper from the cradle to the grave, produces the vegetable oils of those Oriental countries. Is the southern cotton grower, or southern laborer, to be dragged down to the level of the pauper labor of the far East?

Watching the Parade

By JOHN PILGRIM

I used to think that pluck is one of the most valuable qualities a man can have. Given pluck, I used to say, and a man will eventually get out of the deepest holes. But I've come to the conclusion that there is something even more worth having. That is the ability to keep on going long after pluck has gone.

"We're all right now," said my friend Mrs. Brandes. "We're out of the woods, our worries are over."

They ran on pluck for a time. Then pluck left. They were in a strange country. Neither could speak the language except to procure the most obvious necessities. They sank their capital in a losing venture. Then the husband fell ill of a fever. For eleven months his wife nursed him in a hut in a tropical jungle. During that time she did not see or speak to another white person. They left the jungle because they literally could stay no longer. Their money was almost gone and Brandes was about to die.

So they came to a city in which they were quite unknown and he was nursed back to health. The day came when out of the wreck of their fortune they had but $25 left. The husband had been a professional man. The wife had been a professional musician. They had lost courage so that there were times when death seemed the only way out. A few more days would have left them, starving, on the mercy of a foreign and perhaps inhospitable community.

So they bought a hotel. Maybe the in-for-a-sheep, in-for-a-lamb maxim animated them, but I prefer to think it was that perfect courage that keeps the right sort of a man or woman struggling on long after pluck is gone. Now they are on their feet again and their feet are on Easy street. No one knows precisely how the miracle has been accomplished, but that it was worked is indubitable. Maybe Fate gets tired battering people who are too game to be whipped, and it is Fate that takes the count.

One queer thing is that they had determined not to be beaten. If they had lost the $25 they put into the hotel they would have taken what they didn't have left and gone at something else. People of that sort can't be downed.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

executive committee of the Union Pacific Railroad, has made the announcement that his road will spend 29 million dollars this year for additions and equipment and short line extensions. Thousands of freight cars have been ordered. This will make a big dent in the army of the unemployed. Speaking of Lovett, the successor of E. H. Harriman, the writer is reminded that he is a native of San Jacinto County, Texas, that he was born on a rocky farm, that he got out railroad ties for 50 cents a day in his youth, that he made the money to pay his way through school and college and that he was a noted young lawyer in Texas before he attracted the attention or had won the confidence of the wizard of the rail. Now the Texas boy who chopped ties in his youth is the master mind of the Harriman system. Isn't truth stranger than fiction?

SENATOR J. W. HARRELD OF Oklahoma announced to a bleeding world that a vast horde of Democratic office-holders reported daily to Joseph Patrick Tumulty as to the progress of events. What rot. Senator Harreld shouldn't pull childish stunts. Joseph Patrick Tumulty died, politically speaking, when Woodrow Wilson retired to private life. An office-holder, Democrat or Republican, never bows to the setting sun. With him it is "the king is dead; long live the king."

YOUR PROBLEMS

By H. Addington Bruce.

Whatever your business, it forever presents to you problems to be solved. They may be problems of improved working methods, selling problems, problems of gaining constructive ideas for business expansion, problems of meeting unexpected competition. Problems of some sort are all the while confronting you, if you are in business.

Being much desirous of winning business success, you naturally attack these problems earnestly and vigorously. You concentrate upon them, you think hard about them. But you have to confess that, for all your concentration and hard thinking, you are by no means always able to work out really satisfactory solutions.

In that case it may very well be that you are making the common mistake of overthinking with regard to the problems that perplex you. It is a mistake the earnest often make, just as the worker who does not take his business seriously enough errs by underthinking about it, by thinking about it scarcely at all.

Certainly you are making the mistake of overthinking if you keep perpetually returning to your business problems during leisure hours as well as during the hours ordinarily given to work. This not merely means that you are mentally exhausting yourself, but, what is even more serious as regards problem solution, you are preventing yourself from using the full powers of your mind as you can and should use them.

In your mind, as in the mind of everybody, there is what psychologists call a sub-conscious region. It is a region of great fruitfulness, for in it the data obtained by experience, observation, and study are automatically worked over, developed, and later transmitted to the conscious region in improved, perhaps entirely new, forms, to the gain of the minds possessor.

But if the sub-conscious is to do its work properly there must be compliance with certain conditions. Chief among these is the condition that conscious thinking and effort, indispensable though they are, should not be too continuous. As tersely put by an excellent authority on sub-conscious mental action:

"There must be work and waiting. A period of close inquiry and reflection should be followed either by a change of subject or by a period of mental inactivity. Deep concentration of a prolonged character is a psychological error.

"Idleness, in sensible proportions, gives the sub-conscious its opportunity. Close work, on the other hand, with its constant absorption of eye and brain, monopolizes the whole area of the waking mental life, allowing few opportunities for transitions from the sub-conscious to the conscious."

In other words, it is well for the business man to follow the example of numerous men of letters, philosophers, artists, musicians, and mentally creative workers generally, in giving himself periods of comparative mental passivity so far as conscious thinking is concerned. Apply this to yourself.

Whenever you have a problem to solve, think of it as energetically as you can—for a time. Then dismiss it entirely from your mind, and for a time close shop mentally, so to speak, or at all events turn to routine work or to recreation that will not compel you to keep thinking at high pressure.

Following this plain faithfully—alternating intensive thinking and mental relaxation—you should soon begin to get results that will please as much as they astonish you.

FLIES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

(Copyright, 1922, by Frank Crane.)

And now comes Professor E. Roubaud and submits to the French Academy of Science a mass of figures relative to the fly.

Next to the prophet who predicts the end of the world, nothing is so terrifying as a statistician.

Citizen Roubaud tells us that his studies have established that one pair of flies from May first to September thirtieth may breed by successive generation as many as 4,000,000,000,000,000,000 descendants.

The way you speak that number is four quintillion.

And, speaking of quintillions, we are reminded of the small boy who asked his preoccupied father on one occasion, "How many make a million?" and was answered, "Damn few."

However, it will be seen by M. Roubaud's figures that friend fly is an industrious and vigorous individual, manifestly blessed of the Lord in that his quiver is full of arrows so that even such an one as the late strenuous Mr. Roosevelt would approve him as not being addicted to race suicide.

All this means that the egg deposited by the first fly that flits from the butter to the garbage can early in be spring, at the beginning of the five-month fly season, will turn you out during the course of that time some thousand trillion successors—accent on the first syllable.

Still this figure is only approximate, since the Professor is careful to point out that the captive flies he used in his experiments did not thrive as they would have "throve" under natural conditions.

Some idea of what this busy little worker can do in the way of unlimited birth control, and of what such figures mean which we have jauntily been setting down, can be had when it is remembered that a man counting steadily 10 hours a day and 300 days a year, which would give him all his Sunday's off, would only average about 20 million units per year. To reach four quintillion, it would take him 200 million years.

It will also be noted that, according to the conclusions of the able scientist, it would take only about a couple of years, with a reasonable amount of fine weather and plenty of decaying vegetable matter, for the entire habitable world to be wholly submerged in flies.

Take it by and large, there is nothing so comforting as science.

THE DAILY STORY

FORTY PITCHERS

Mary Crull was half-hearted dusting her sitting room when Mrs. Frame entered. "So you've got back!" Mary cried, going forward to shake hands with her neighbor. "I was afraid you'd fall in love with Nova Scotia and want to stay right there. How did you find your sister?"

"Oh, Winny was well. No, I didn't have the least notion of saying any longer than just to make a nice visit." Mrs. Frame started to sit down, then remembered what she had come for and handed a parcel to Mary. "There's a little remembrance from Winny," she said. "They make them up there—just whittle 'em out of pieces of wood. I watched the old fellow do it, but I couldn't get head or tail to it."

"Why, thank you." Mary unwrapped the parcel and disclosed a large wooden fan, intricately carved. "It's a real curiosity," she said. "I'll put it—" There did not seem to be a vacant spot anywhere. "I'll just move this tray—it ought to be in the dining room anyway, and the fan can have its place. There now, how's that?"

Mrs. Frame eyed the fan in its new position on the old square piano. "Looks all right," she said with gratification. She chatted a few minutes about her trip and then went home, leaving Mary to her dusting.

First, Mary must find a place for the large tray, made out of an old picture frame, filled with milk weed silk, upon which a pair of monarch butterflies were embalmed, the whole being under glass. It was an ugly thing, but it had been given to her. She carried it into the dining room, but found there was no place for it there. So she brought it back. On this muggy summer morning the sitting room was breathlessly close. Mary was a large woman who felt the heat. She sat gazing about her. "I suppose we shall go on getting things," she thought, "until we're crowded out of house and home."

It came to her suddenly that she would like to make one enormous bonfire and burn up the entire accumulation of things given her—the Japanese dinner bells, the peacock feather shield, the pictures, vases, cushions, brie-a-brac of every description. There were cotton bolls from Georgia tied with faded ribbon, orange-wood paper holders from Florida, pine cones from Oregon, gilded grasses from California. Every region had yielded something that her friends felt they must bestow upon her. The whole house was full of tokens of one kind and another, things which jostled and quarrelled with each other and forbade one to move. A lifetime of friendship was represented in the clutter about her.

It had begun with her wedding. She had been a popular girl, Bert was a popular young man. They had received a multitude of presents, things valuable and otherwise. But she had considered them all alike.

Perhaps her appreciation of her wedding gifts made people all the more eager to bestow other offerings. Then, too, she had a way of keeping even the most trivial picture in sight. Whenever the giver entered her house he was sure to see it, and it tickled his vanity.

And so things had accumulated through the years until the symbol was lost in the burden. Mary was getting elderly, and there were times when the task of dusting so many objects seemed almost terrifying. It was so at this moment.

She laid the tray on a chair and arose determinedly. She would begin a ruthless sorting out of her possessions. She would not live in such a jungle any longer; she would have one glorious bonfire.

Mary turned to the wall beside her, but the first picture she laid her hands upon was a small faded snapshot in passepartout. As she took it in her hands the association of that wonderful day's outing so long ago rushed over her. She stood studying it, giving way to memories, almost to tears.

No, she could not burn that. But that hideous painted tray would make one good flame. Angie Nettleton had given her that tray. Poor Angie! Mary sighed. She seemed to feel the love in every stroke of the clumsy brush. Angie had died believing herself to be an artist.

Here was this queer old sandlewood box; that at least was no good. And the lambrequin, and that dreadful pair of china figures. Where had she got them? Ah, she remembered now. Aunt Ellen had made the lambrequin, Uncle Steve had given the box and Cousin Anna the figures. It all came back as clearly as if it had happened yesterday—the parcel which she had received from the expressman one inexpressibly blue day; when she had opened the parcel and found these things they had seemed precious enough then.

No, Mary could destroy nothing. Every smallest thing held too much that was sacred and precious. If she only had an empty room she could pack them all away where they would be out of sight yet safe. But she had no such room. It looked as if she must go on living with them.

But it was already time to prepare dinner. Mary went to the kitchen. Even here the kindness of her friends followed her. The useless, the absurd, covered her kitchen walls. She opened a cupboard door and a great array of pitchers that she had never used and never could use, although she broke a new one every day, confronted her. She laughed. Whoever heard before of a woman who owned forty pitchers?

She was still laughing when Bert came home a little earlier than usual. His face lightened at the unusual sound. "I guess you've had something please you, Mary," she replied.

"Yes, I have," she replied.

"Must have heard of the white-elephant sale downtown the churches are getting up for the new hospital," said Bert.

"No, I haven't," Mary turned upon him. "A white-elephant sale? What's that?"

Mary read. She learned that a white elephant was something you had that you did not want but which, properly disposed of, might do good to others. Her kindly, plain face flushed, her gray eyes began to sparkle. "Oh, Bert," she exclaimed, running to him and putting her arms about his neck, "this house is just full of white elephants. May I give them to help the hospital?"

Bert looked around. "Why, I don't see's you've got anything to spare," he said.

"Forty pitchers! And all the rest" Mary flung open the cupboard door.

Bert stared at the pitchers. "Oh, well, I guess you wouldn't want all these," he said. "Well, do as you like, mary." He sat down to read his paper while Mary dished up the dinner.

That afternoon Mary packed dozens of white elephants. That evening she packed more. She was even busy all next day. They swelled the receipts of the sale enormously.

At last she could breathe in her own house.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

THE PROCESSION

The roads are black with motor cars, they're whizzing all the day; and some are glittering like stars, and some are dingy gray; some drivers smoke their fine cigars, and some are smoking hay. I watch the long procession pass, it never has an end; by day and night men press the gas, more speed and pep to lend; and from the horns of tin or brass the wailing honks ascend. How many cars, I ask my aunt, would leave the big parade, how many fans would gallivant, if all their debts were paid? A million cars that chug and pant from this blithe scene would fade. If it were by the law decreed that men who dodge their bills were not allowed in cars to speed along the vales and hills, the traffic would be light, indeed, and void of present thrills. For men will burn old John D.'s juice, though credit fall apart; they owe the butcher for a goose, the baker for a tart; and yet they're scorching like the deuce, each in his buzz-buz cart. I hold joyride should be done when all our debts are paid, our creditors should have their mon, the bills should be defrayed, then we may let our wagons run, the ghosts of conscience laid. —(Copyright, 1922, George Matthew Adams.)

FIRST CHRISTIAN DIVISIONS MEET

Meeting in social sessions, divisions of the First Christian church were entertained Monday afternoon at the following places:

Division No. 1 met with Mrs. McBrayer, 1806 Ninth street, with Mrs. E. E. Fisher leader of the devotionals. Roll call was answered with current events and Mrs. Lewis read an interesting paper on "The Shepherd-Towner" bill.

Following the lesson, dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames Fisher, Christensen, Curtis, Walker, W. L. Smith, Lewis, Claggett and Holden.

Division Two

With Mesdames R. D. Bone, Bolton, Patten and Bradley hostesses, members of Circles Two and Six enjoyed an Easter party at the home of Mrs. Bone, 902 Broad, in connection with the regular meeting. The colors of yellow and white suggestive of the Easter season were used, with rabbits, fluffy chickens and other motifs forming the favors. In an Easter contest which furnished the diversion, Mrs. Robert Tevis won the favor.

At the close of the afternoon, refreshments consisting of brick ice cream and cake in the chosen colors were served to Mesdames J. M. Sheers, Russell, T. A. Bradley, J. A. Sims, C. F. Hall, Childers, Reed, Reese, C. M. McDaniel, Snow, Ferguson, Robert Tevis, Jarvis, Hollingsworth, Ray, members, and W. O. Gilbert, H. B. Switzer and Ike Marcus, guests.

Division Three

Met at the home of Mrs. T. A. Rogers in a delightful social session, the hours being pleasantly spent in playing games and music. A dainty refreshment plate was served to Mesdames J. B. Hatchitt, Kilander and Elizabeth Brown.

Division Five

Met at the home of Mrs. C. O. Frits on Lucile. The afternoon was taken up mostly in planning work for the division. Refreshments were served during the social hour to, Mesdames Bishop, Stuart, Jamison, Baldridge and Miss Dora Coons.

Division Eight

Mrs. Walter S. Tyson and Mrs. A. D. Patillo were joint hostesses to Circle No. 8 at the home of Mrs. Tyson, when the hours were pleasantly spent in sewing. A contest also added interest to the meeting. Refreshments were served at a late hour to Mesdames King Davis, P. B. Curd, J. T. Haggard, R. E. Shepherd, Dan Lundien, Paul Barnett, Curtis Graham, John Gibbs, R. E. Hilburn and S. F. McConnell.

Division Ten

Met with Mrs. L. C. Tyson with three members present. The usual social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

WHAT TO DO FOR FAINTING

Strong Tea Helps Recovery

Mary Ethel worked in an office, and one afternoon she very quietly fainted, slipping in a limp little heap to the floor, and lying quite white and still with her head in a waste paper basket.

There were six girls in the office besides Mary Ethel.

But it was a man who assumed charge of the inert girl. He told the other six girls what to do rather sharply.

"It won't last long. Open the window. Loosen her clothes. Put her on that couch by the window and bring some cold water," said the man, giving himself directions at the same time. He had the girl in his arms and was placing her on the couch before the girls had quite grasped his meaning.

"Oh! She looks as if she were dead!" said Lucille, turning quite white herself, except for the vivid dabs of rouge on her pretty cheek bones.

"She isn't dead. Far from it. Tired out, perhaps, and probably half dead for want of sleep, and a sensible meal," growled the man.

How to Prevent Fainting

"If she had realized what was going to happen she could have averted the faintness by putting her head down on a level with her knees," he continued, sprinkling cold water on the girl's white face, and explaining to the frightened girls as he did so that the cold water caused nerve impulses to send the blood back to the heart again.

The girl drew a shuddering breath and faint color began to come back to her blanched face and lips.

"Run down to the tea room and get a cup of boiling hot, strong, freshly made tea," said the man, as the manager entered the room and, discovering the consternation, proffered a flask which he kept for emergencies not mentioned in the eighteenth amendment. He waved the flask away.

"No whiskey, Bob," he said to the manager. "A cup of hot strong tea will have just the same effect, or almost the same, because the heat is a stimulant and there is just enough caffeine in a cup of tea to stimulate her nerves. There, she's coming back, all right," as the girl opened her eyes and began to gasp words of apology for causing such a commotion in the office hours.

Dieting Was the Cause

The hot tea arrived, and as the girl sipped it she felt better, and thanked every one weakly.

"I have been dieting," she admitted, "and I suppose I went to extremes as usual."

"And isn't that just like a woman?" snorted the manager, returning his flask to his pocket and going back to the inner office.

"If you take my advice, and I don't suppose you will," said the man at the desk, "you will eat nourishing food and get enough sleep and exercise to keep you from crumpling up in office hours after this, like a little paper doll."

Meekly, the girl who had fainted, turned over a new leaf and promised not to faint any more.

A Wife or a Profession?

BY CAROLYN BEECHER

(Copyright, 1922, by Carolyn Beecher)

CHAPTER XLVIII

Howard Blake had few outside calls. In fact, had he done as Annette wished he would have answered none. One night the telephone shrilled. It was the mother of a small child. She feared her boy, who had scarlet fever was worse. She had telephoned her own physician. He was out and not expected back for some time. She had consulted the directory and found Dr. Blake lived nearer than any other physician, so had called him. Would he please come at once?

Annette and he were dressed, the car was waiting. They were going to an evening of cards and dancing at the home of one of Annette's friends. "I'll drive you there and then make the call," Howard said.

"You'll do no such thing! You'll either stay with me until I am ready to go home, or I'll not go! Nice way for you to make little of me. Accept an invitation from my friends, then dump me down and leave me. That is probably a silly message anyway. She had no business asking you to come. She should have waited for her own doctor."

"Annette, are you really as hard-hearted as you pretend?"

"I'm not hard-hearted at all. I'll pay for another doctor's visit if you like. Or send them money. But your duty is to me."

That was the one expression that invariably made Howard think. Was she right? Was his first duty to her, and only her? So now he weakly yielded to her insistence that he remain with her, feeling a bit less guilty because he really believed with her that when he did not arrive the mother of the little sick child would get some one else.

That he could reason thus showed his deterioration.

The evening passed gayly to some. Annette especially seeming in rare good humor. She never had been lovelier, never more attractive. Howard still thrilled at the thought that she belonged to him. He had loved her very dearly and it takes some time to extinguish such a love, especially if the object of it is young and beautiful.

"I'll be back as soon as possible,' "You don't mean you are going to be silly enough to make that call at this time of night?"

"Yes. I wish you'd go to bed."

There was no answer and he knew that no matter what the hour he would find her awaiting him on his return.

He was not gone long. Annette started when she saw his face, ghastly in the brilliantly lighted room where she had waited.

"What's the matter. Are you ill?" she asked, hurrying to him.

No—he's dead! Died for lack of attention, the attention I might have given him when I was playing cards and dancing. God! I feel like a murderer! Get me a drink, please."

His hand trembled as he held the glass of brandy she brought him. He was never a drinking man, even before prohibition put a ban upon liquor, but he drained the glass at one swallow. Then he sank into a chair and covered his face with his hands.

"I'm not fit to be a physician, not fit," he muttered, slow tears falling through his fingers and falling unnoted to the floor.

"Nonesense! Don't act like that, Howard!" She put an arm about his neck. "The child would probably have died anyway."

"Perhaps—and perhaps not. I think I could have saved him had I gone at once. That poor mother! Her reproaches will ring in my ears until I die. For once I have heard the truth about myself." Not one word of blame had he said for Annette, but she knew he would have gone but for her, that she had made it almost impossible for him to go any more against her wishes.

For days Howard was desperately unhappy. He would lock himself in his office and refuse to open the door. He took long walks, denying Annette's wish to accompany him. He ate scarcely anything, and kept away from the hospital, sending word that he was ill.

Annette, subdued for a time, sensibly left him alone. That is, sensibly from her point of view. Had she fretted him in the mood he was then in it is more than likely he might have rebelled in a manner that would have been more or less lasting. Annette justified herself. After a few days Howard recovered a certain amount of his old poise. She was only quietly sympathetic and never mentioned either the child or his days of gloom.

"I know how to handle him all right," she said to Claire Gordon, to whom she had told the story. Claire had threatened to ask Howard what had happened and Annette, fearful of the result, had told her.

"I don't know what you mean."

"The man who lets a woman, no matter how much he loves her, or she him, weaken his character, is paving the way for his unhappiness and hers. Why not be a good sport, Annette, and help the doctor in his profession instead of making him choose between you and it?"

"He has chosen. He has chosen me."

"Then I have nothing more to say, but I can't believe it is yet settled in his mind. I never shall until I hear him say so."

OLD MAN NOT MAN-HANDLED

Chief Looks Into Cruelty Report

The charges that night police officers Sunday night mistreated an old man whom they had in their custody a short time are not sustained, according to Police Commissioner Fitts who conducted an all-day investigation Tuesday following a hearing Monday night before the city council. Ed Staley, local resident at the council meeting told of the alleged mistreatment.

Fitts' Statement.

In connection with the investigation Tuesday, Commissioner Fitts issued the following statement:

"In response to a call at the station stating that an old man was down on the sidewalk on Scott street between Seventh and Eighth, Officer Hoskins was immediately sent. This officer reports that when he reached the man he found him down and unable to rise without assistance, and that from appearances he judged the man to be considerably under the influence of an opiate and that he was unable to talk coherently. Officer Hoskins called a car and took the man to the station, assisting him both in and out of the car without any mistreatment. Just at the time of arriving at the station, neither Chief Morgan nor Night Chief McDonald were present and the man was placed in a for further observance and investigation and was not booked as a "drunk." Shortly after Night Chief McDonald arrived, was told about the case, saw and identified the man, released him and sent him in a car to his room accompanied by an officer.

Man Not Abused.

"From what I can learn, this man was treated with consideration and was not abused by the officers. Officer Hoskins bears the reputation of being a gentlemanly officer and I believe he acted as such in this case. If this man had been taking an opiate to alleviate his suffering he might have taken an overdose and in that condition have considered the treatment accorded him as abusive.

"All officers on the force have specific instructions to conduct themselves as gentlemen at all times and from my observations I believe these instructions are being conscientiously followed.

"J. B. FITTS."

YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers, Watch Your Daughters' Health

Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established, she needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give.

The condition that the girl is then passing through is so critical, and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health, that it is almost criminal for a mother or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period.

Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let them overstudy. If they complain of headache, pains in the back and lower limbs, they need a mother's thoughtful care and sympathy.

A Household Word in Mother's House

writes Mrs. Lynd, about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was 14 years old for troubles girls often have and for loss of weight. Then after I married I took the Vegetable Compound before each child was born and always when I felt the least run-down. Both my sister and sister-in-law take it and have only the highest praise for it. It has been a household word in my mother's house for years." — Mrs. KATHERYN LYND, 2431 Gladys Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Little Book Helped Her to Decide

Milwaukee, Wis. —"My daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she was so weak and did not feel like going to school. She was like that for a whole year before taking your Vegetable Compound. I found a little book of yours in our mail-box and decided to give her your medicine. She is now strong and well and attends school every day. We recommend your Vegetable Compound to all mothers with weak daughters. You may use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. E. KLUCZNY, 917 20th Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

"I was always feeling tired and sleepy, was losing in weight and would faint at times. I had other troubles too, that made me feel badly. I read your little books and heard friends talk about the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done them, so I have taken it too. The results are most satisfactory, for I have gained in weight and my bad symptoms are gone. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to all my friends and you may make whatever use you like of this letter." —GLORIA RAMIREZ, 1116 9th Ave., Tampa, Fla.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Salm's Boys Look Like a Million Dollars at the Barrier

WICHITA GOING AFTER CUP AGAIN

Money Put in Team Shows Up Like House Afire

With a return of good warm weather Tuesday afternoon, Walter Salm's stable of prize beauties, the gathering of which has set the coffers of the local club back several notches since the ambition to turn out a 1922 pennant winner really began to bite in earnest, went through a final hard workout before beginning of the summer grind Thursday afternoon.

It is expected that the practice will be lightened this afternoon so that the Spudder hopes may be fresh for the getaway the day after.

Adams Expected Soon.

With the acquisition of Joe Newkirk, spitballer whose purchase from Omaha was chronicled this morning, and with confirmation from Branch Rickey of the deal for Shortstop Adams, which had been in question for some time, local fans felt Tuesday that the Spud moguls had gone a long way toward plastering the tiny crack which was seen by some in the Spudder machine.

No word has been heard from Adams in connection with reports that he would not report to the Texas league. Officials of the local club for this reason do not put much credence in it, and look for this likely looking workman according to train schedule from St. Louis.

With the local entry picked by many observers around the circuit as the strongest on the start, hopes were running high here of Wichita Falls capturing the attendance cup which has been on display here. Wichita Falls, one of the best if not the best town in the circuit in point of attendance during past seasons, has always been in the running for the cup, but has never quite made the grade.

Money Put In Team.

The real money spent in an attempt to assemble a winner may be indicated by the half dozen purchases made since last season, with several more in prospect. Lest it be forgotten those six, each of whom cost a round penny, were: Beck from Wichita; Summa from Pittsburgh; O'Brien from himself (free agent) Adams from St. Louis; Newkirk from Omaha and White from Oakland.

TEXAS GETS TWO FROM CARDINALS

Sandcrabs Secure Slab Artist

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—Branch Rickey, manager of St. Louis Cardinals, today announced the release of four players to minor league teams. Earl Adams, shortstop, was sent to the Wichita Falls, Texas league club; Pitcher Adolph Pieretti went to Galveston; Irwin Wimer, infielder, was released to the Syracuse club of the Indianapolis league, and Herbert Hunter, infielder, was released unconditionally.

Junior High to Meet Graham Team

By "HANK" HAYES

The high school and Junior high school went through a thorough practice session yesterday under their respective coaches, Henderson and McMillan. The high school will swap blows with the Graham team Saturday, while the Juniors will show Burkburnett their wares Friday at that city.

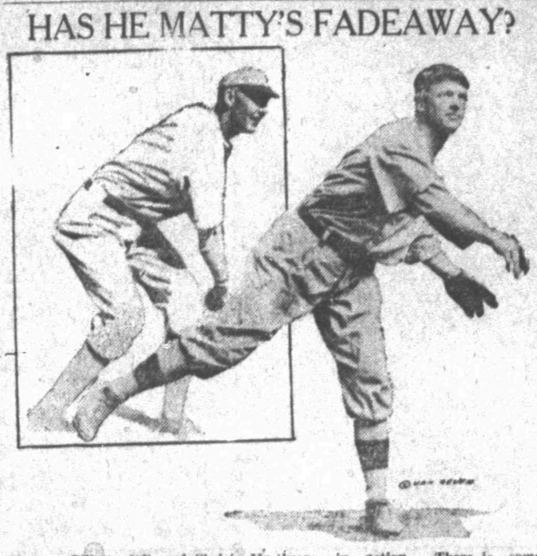

Volley Ball Clash

The fourth and fifth period volley ball masters clashed again yesterday afternoon so Manager Danheim could pick a crack team from the two aggregations to play at Iowa Park Saturday.

The fourth period boys, however, turned the trick on the later ones and walloped them two out of three games and revenged the drubbings that the fivers administered on them last week. All three games were fast, sensational and hard fought by both sextettes, but the fourth period six played a stronger defensive and won the first 15 to 8, and the fifths tightened and took the next 13 to 15, and the fourth periodors took the next 15 to 11.

Lineup for Fourth period: Hayes, Featherston, Keevil, Callahan, Somerville, Carter, Smith. For Fifth period: Armstrong, Blakney, Bartlett, Ross, Ellis, Fleming.

HAS HE MATTY'S FADEAWAY?

Herman Pillette, left, and Christy Mathewson in action. There is some similarity in their styles, you may notice.

Young Herman Pillette, whom the Tigers acquired along with Pitcher Johnson from the Portland club for $40,000, has made a big hit with Manager Ty Cobb of the Tigers. Ty is quoted as saying that he believes Pillette has a fadeaway resembling the one with which the great and only Christy Mathewson fooled the batters. Cobb doesn't hazard the remark, however; that it is as effective as Big Six's was. But both Ty and Coach Dan Mowley are devoting much time to tutoring Pillette and developing that fadeaway in particular.

BABE IN ECLIPSE AS GONG SOUNDS

"Ruthless" Warfare Faces Fans

NEW YORK, April 11.—Tomorrow George Herman Ruth becomes "a sadder and a wiser man."

The home run king cannot play for 38 days because he defied Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball, and went barnstorming with an exhibition baseball team.

Naughty Babe.

While hundreds of thousands of fans in the eight American league cities are marking one day off their calendars tomorrow, the misbehaving Babe, notwithstanding, long, gruelling training in the south, will be seated in the grand stand on the park at Washington looking on, listening to the blare of the opening day—"sadder, wiser."

For 38 days Ruth will loaf while the public impatiently stamps its wearied feet and Colonel Huston and Rupperts, owners of the New York Yankees, pay the heavy hitter his regular stipend, reliably reported to be $75,000 a year.

"Hug" Hit Hardest.

Repressing his tears, Miller Huggins, the midget manager of the Yanks, who piloted them to a championship last year, dolefully said today that Ruth and Bob Meusel, the player who was suspended with Ruth, will make the trip with the team and if the regulars have the opportunity for morning practice the two "prisoners" will be out chasing flies and batting a bit. But there'll be no fans on hand to see—Ruth will be in total eclipse.

Ruth will don a Yank uniform May 20, at the Polo grounds, and be permitted to stay on the playing field to his heart's content, and, if he is in condition Huggins will stick him into the batting order for his 1922 debut.

PEP YOUNG LET OUT BECAUSE OF HITTING

A drastic change in the policy of the Detroit club as well as a shifting of conditions generally in baseball, is indicated in Ty Cobb's action in asking for waivers of "Pep" Young, second baseman.

During Hughie Jennings' reign as manager of the Tigers the team became known principally as a slugging, ball murdering team. Only men who could kill the ball every third trip to the plate were wanted in the lineup.

But Ty Cobb has shown several times that he is out to make a well balanced ball club from every angle out of the Tiger team. And one thing he wants is a stonewall infield. Therefore, despite Young's ability to hit he will be missing from the infield this year. Cobb plans to start the season with the veteran George Cutshaw, formerly with the Phillies, at the second sack.

(By International News Service.)

PARIS, April 11.—"The Olympic games in 1924 will not attract the number of visitors anticipated. They cost too much money. Such games have never been a success financially." Such are a few of the remarks La Petit Bleu, a republican newspaper, has to hand out to the organizers of the 1924 games in Paris.

ROUTE OF TEXAS UMPS IS SECRET

Their Schedules to Be Confidential

DALLAS, April 11.—Five of the nine Texas league umpires were here today to receive instructions for the opening of the season Thursday and for final conference with President Roberts. They were Hunter Hill of Austin, who will be chief of staff this year; Roy Brashear of Dallas; "Dutch" Myers of St. Joseph, Mo.; Jack O'Toole of Niles, Ohio, and J. O'Hearn of Detroit.

President Roberts announced that umpire schedules this season are to be strictly confidential. Roberts and Hill leave for Houston tonight to meet the other umpires in south Texas.

DOPE ON GIANTS

The pennant won by the Giants last year was the ninth captured by the New York team in the National league since the league's formation in 1876.

The previous pennants were won in 1888, 1889, 1904, 1905, 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1917.

John J. McGraw has piloted the team to seven of these championships and to two world's championships.

The Giants won the world's championship in 1905, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics four games to one. Last season they defeated the Yankees five games to three.

PENNANT RACE OPENS IN BIG LEAGUES

16 Clubs Fight to Get Early Lead

(By International News Service.)

NEW YORK, April 11.—Tomorrow 16 major league ball clubs annually attempt to start the new year right.

It marks the official opening of the National and American league seasons, and every team, however, lowly, starts out on a diet of faith and hope, with very little charity. But, like January resolutions and Marcelled coiffures, the permanent wave is often temporary. In an eight-team race somebody must finish eighth, or the thing wouldn't add up right.

Champions Open at Home.

The world's champion New York Giants are to open at the Polo Grounds, and, given kindly weather, should draw a capacity crowd. The Giants have picked a tough spot. They are to be tossed into the arena with the Brooklyn club and, aside from the detail that the Dodgers, seemingly, can knock the Giants off at will, there is the additional fact that the McGraw entry is in poor physical condition.

The American League champions, the New York Yankees, invade Washington for the inaugural, and here again is a red-hot skirmish right at the outset. The Senators figure to be up with the front-runners from first to last.

Pirates-Cards.

Another opening series of more than ordinary moment is that involving the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Louis. Both are certain pennant contenders, and somebody's dignity may get badly ruffled before the end of the week.

The Chicago White Sox draw the St. Louis Browns as a co-attraction at Comiskey's ball park and in view of the fact that the Sox uncovered surprising strength in the recent inter-league series with the Giants, the forthcoming games may not look so sweet to the Browns as they did some weeks ago.

Detroit Plays Cleveland.

Detroit and Cleveland open in the Forest City, where Tris Speaker is attempting to revive a defunct pennant winner, without much hope of success. Nearly all the Indians are getting much hope of success. Nearly all the Indians are getting along in years, but if they get enough good pitching to hold some of Cobb's hitters in check, they may win out.

His Privilege.

Mrs. Peck—Do you know that you talk in your sleep, Henry?

Mr. Peck—Do you begrudge me those few words?—Tit Bits (London.)

TODAY'S GAMES

National league: Chicago at Cincinnati; Pittsburg at St. Louis; Brooklyn at New York; Boston at Philadelphia.

DEMPSEY STICKS "SEASICK MANUEL" IN POCKET AND SAILS AWAY TO CLEAN UP EUROPEAN PUGS

NEW YORK, April 11.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion left today on the Aquitania "to clean up Europe."

He said he would fight anyone who appeared willing, but he said that his manager, Jack Kearns, had nothing definitely in sight, although, he said, there were several bouts offered abroad which Kearns and himself are considering.

Even the length of European trip is not certain, he said.

"I'm going over to clean up Europe," he added. "And it rests with Europe how long I will stay and what I will do. I would like to fight in London and if Beckett or Wells, or even Cooke show a willingness and a desire then I will sign up."

The champion in his first venture from his native shores was accompanied by his manager, Jack Kearns; his trainer, Teddy Hayes, and his friend, Joe Benjamin, California lightweight boxer. He carried abroad a sheaf of pamphlets on "How to Prevent Seasickness."

Dempsey has not been engaged to meet any of the European heavyweights while abroad, although he said he would not be averse to accepting a reasonable offer. He expects to spend three months in Europe.

TWILIGHTERS ARE SIZZLING WITH PEP FOR GRAND OPENING TODAY

Eight members of the Twilight League of this city will put forth their best efforts this afternoon to take the first contest of their season.

All of the nines are in their best condition and "rarin" to go. The University, Legion, Baptist, Ponds, Christian and Shrine nines have all played one or more games for practise thus far and show that there will be hot games during the season.

The schedule shows that the University will tie up with the Mill and Elevator nine, and Legion against the Baptists, Pond Laundry and North Methodists, and First Christian vs. the Maskat Shriners.

Each team has 14 games on their list to play and the season will close about the middle of July. The winner of the trophy of the Twilight circuit will play the winner of the city league for the city honors, as has been the custom.

Several of the clubs will not confine their playing to their own lots, but will invade other towns and try to win more laurels for their city. The Legionaires have already taken the Bradley Corner nine to a cleaning, and the Shriners have tentative games with the Hella Temple of Dallas, and Shrine aggregation of El Paso, Texas.

3 TRACK MEN ON SICK LIST

High Athletes Go Over Field

The track squad of the local high school loaded into their cars yesterday afternoon and drove up to Iowa Park to take a look at their athletic field. Ten members of the squad, with Coaches Hall and Adams, made the trip. They report that the field is a good sandy one and the athletes felt muchly at home on it and all made good showings at their different parts.

The team is worried over three of the stellar athletes being out for different troubles; Howle, mile and discus man, is on the sick list, Brashear, a hurdler was unable to practise, and Hobbs, a broad and high jumper injured a foot last week and may be on the sidelines on the day of the district meet. The other two expect to be able to enter the meet, if nothing further happens.

RIVERS HITS MAT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 11.—Young Sharkey, local bantam, knocked out young Joe Rivers of Chicago, in the first round of a scheduled eight-round bout here last night.

Lullaby (?)

"Papa, will you buy me a drum?" asked a little lad of his father.

"But, my boy," answered papa, "I am afraid you will disturb me very much with it."

"Oh, no, I won't," said the little chap, "I'll only play it when you're asleep."—Toronto Evening Telegram.

Weather May Mar Big League Debuts

CHICAGO, April 11.—It looked like rain in Cleveland for the opening game, while the forecast for Cincinnati for cool and windy weather. Fair weather was forecast for St. Louis, while the prediction for Chicago was for cloudy and unsettled weather. Fans here however, were pointing tonight to the proverbial "Comiskey luck," which usually means clear skies at the "Old Roman's" park when his club opens at home.

JIM FLYNN SIGHS

Old Jim Flynn sighs deeply every time he reads the purses involved in the present day boxing matches between even second raters.

And to think I got nothing for fighting Jack Johnson, one of the greatest fighters of all time," muses Flynn.

High to Play Most of Games On Foreign Field

By "HANK" HAYES

Manager Danheim says the Wichita Falls High school will play only a limited number of their games here. The reason, he states, is that the athletic finances are low and there is not much of a chance of the team being able to use Athletic park, and there is no other place available where there is a grandstand to accommodate a crowd and collect gate receipts. Most of the games will be played on foreign diamonds.

With a Texas league team in this city and about 20 different city league clubs will tend to lessen the interest in highschool baseball, and the high school management says that they have a better team than most of the high school clubs around this district as the game with Burkburnett showed, and want to play with nines more in their class. The football contest with Polytechnic High of Fort Worth showed that the high school athletes of this city are as good as those of the larger cities of this state.

COBB TO PLAY

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 11.—Ty Cobb will participate in at least part of the opening game of the American league season tomorrow, Cobb, who injured his knee several days ago at a training camp, declared today that he will go to the bat in the first inning, after which he will retire to the bench in favor of another player, probably Ira Flagstead.

GRAIN MARKET PRICES DECLINE

Drops Largely Due to Poor Cables

CHICAGO, April 11.—Wheat declined in price today largely as a result of downward tendency of Liverpool quotations and weakness of foreign exchange. The close was unsettled 3-4 to 2 cents net lower with May 1.31 3-4 to 1.31 7-8 and July 1.20 to 1.20 1-8; corn unchanged to 1-4 cent off; oats unchanged to 1-8 cent down and provisions unchanged to a set back of 20 cents.

It had been expected by many wheat traders that in view of yesterday's advance in values on this side of the Atlantic the Liverpool market this morning would show an upturn. Disappointment in this respect was emphasized particularly by a decline in sterling and by advices of disturbed financial conditions in Greece. Besides, export demand was slow, and the view was expressed that all known bullish factor had been fully discounted for the present.

Better milling demand at St. Louis Kansas City and Omaha helped somewhat at one stage to rally the wheat market here, but toward the end of the day's renewal of weakness became evident owing more or less to gossip that two Minneapolis mills were offering to sell in Chicago hard winter wheat which had been purchased in the southwest. Selling of 100,000 bushel here to go to store was also a late depressing factor, especially as to the May delivery. Unfavorable crop reports from parts of Kansas were virtually ignored.

Persistent weather made the market for corn and oats relatively steady. Business however, lacked volume.

Provisions as a rule were lower in line with hogs and on account of an increasing stock of lards.

STOCK VALUES CONTINUE RISE

Number of Issues Set New Records

NEW YORK, April 11.—Quoted values in the stock market registered additional substantial gains today in another large turnover, sales amounting to 1,400,000 shares. The irregular tone of the list in the first and final hours was ascribed to profit-taking, based on the more acute coal strike situation.

The same groups of stocks which have given greatest momentum to the more or less steady advance of past few weeks—steels, motor, and their specialties, oils and utilities—again showed advances from 3 to ten points.

New high records for the year, or a considerably longer period was shown by Studebaker and several affiliated issues, as well as Mexico petroleum and many unclassified specialties, coppers and Textiles.

United States Steel failed to equal its maximum of the previous day but was in fair demand, probably as a result of the very favorable March tonnage reported yesterday.

As a group, rails were sluggish, but exceptions were made by Rock Island, presumably in connection with than road's good showing in the financial report for last year.

Ieible and Gulf States steels and Bladwin Locomotive, at the close, were neutralized by net gains of one to five in Mexican petroleum, Royal Dutch, Pacific oil, Utah, American smelting, and Stromberg carburetors.

Heavy inflow of funds from interior banks accounted for relaxed money rates, call loans easing from 4 1-2 to 4 percent in the last half of the session. Time money rates were unaltered but in more liberal supply for short dates.

Brokers reported only a modgrate amount of trading in foreign exchange. British and the leading contingal rates were mainly lower, but Dutch and German bills displayed pronounced strength and the Greek rate was not unfavorably influenced by reports which confirmed recent advices of disturbing economic conditions in that country.

COTTON PRICES DROP SLIGHTLY

Offerings Fail to Attract Buyers

NEW YORK, April 11.—Except for a support of activity toward the close, trading in the cotton market was very quiet today with fluctuations correspoodingly narrow. After selling at 17.41 early, July eased off to 17.28 and closed at 17.31 with the general market closing steady, net 2 points higher to 6 points lower.

An opening advance of 4 to 9 points reflected relatively steady Liverpool cables and a better weather may than anticipated. There was not much buying, however, and price almost immediately eased off. After showing net losses of 3 or 4 points the market steadied up slightly on bullish estimates of domestic consumption for April and favorable Manchester advices, but no demand of consequence developed, prices showing renewed weakness in the later trading. May sold off from 17.79 to 17.68 and closed at 17.73, while new crop months touched the lowest of the day late in the afternoon with October selling down from 17.26 to 17.16 and closing at that figure. New Orleans was a seller of October late in the afternoon here. Wall Street was credited with switching long contracts from May into December, while spot houses sold some May against purchases of July at a difference of 42 points. Otherwise there was no special trading to evening up of accounts.

Private returns were said to indicate domestic consumption of 524,000 bales for March compared with 473,000 for February and 438,000 for March of last year, which was commented upon as better than expected in view of New England labor troubles. Manchester cables reported a good demand for cloths from India and steadiness in Liverpool was attributed to spinners calling combined with a good spot demand.

Exports for the day were 51,170 bales, making 4,411,3 2 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 11.—Influences were well balanced in the cotton market today and the results was a narrow range in the fluctuations. From net advances of 3 to 6 points in the narrow trading there was a drop to 3 to 4 points. Closing prices were typical of a good part of the session, the list being one point up to two points down. May sold up to 16.67, fell off to 16.60 and closed at 16.64.

Liverpool was better than expected and reported spot sales of 10,000 bales. There was too much rain over the belt over night, but these two bullish features were balanced by the outlook for fair and warmer weather for nearly all sections of the cotton region. Favorable private crop reports came from Georgia.

Total clearance for foreign countries from all American ports amounted to 51,170 bales against no export at all this day last year.

According to gossip of the market, a private bureau put out figures of 524,000 bales at the American consumption during March. This total compared with the official figures for February of 473,073 and 438,218 for March last year.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS

LIVERPOOL, April 11.—Cotton, spot, moderate business; prices steady; good middling 10.76; fully middling 10.46; middling 10.31; low middling 9.61; good ordinary 8.76; ordinary 8.28. Sales 10,000 bales, including 7,100 American.

PASSOVER SERVICES HERE THIS WEEK

Beginning this evening at 7:45 o'clock, Passover week services will be held the remainder of the week at the First Methodist church, corner Seventh and Lamar with sermon by the pastor, Rev. T. S. Pittinger, each night. A special service for the women of the church and their friends will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the mothers of the Sunday school pupils are especially invited. Communion services will be held Friday night when the subject of the pastor's sermon will be "The Cross."

These services are preparatory to the Easter service Sunday and an appeal is made for a special Easter offering of one-tenth of the week's income of each member. These services and offrings are being held throughout the world at this time, according to the announcement.

CONCRETE ROAD WORK TO BURKBURNETT WILL BE PUSHED

There will be no delay in the construction of the concrete road north from a point midway between this city and Burkburnett, according to information Tuesday from the county engineer's office although the actual contract for the work will not be let until the end of the month. Formal actions required by the state and federal highway departments delayed the advertising for bids although the county commissioners court has already agreed to bid in the work and has entered into a contract with Potts and Prentice to complete the construction of the road through Burkburnett to the Red river.

In order to prevent loss from shutting down the work pending the formal letting of the contract the end of the month officials have decided to continue the work.

Work was resumed Tuesday on the south mixer. It is expected that work will be resumed on the north mixer within the next day or two.

WINDS BLOW DOWN RED RIVER DERRICKS

Two derricks blown over by the winds was the sum of damage in the Red river federal receivership area during the several days of heavy rains and high winds according to information Tuesday from the local federal office. The two derricks which were constructed before the area was taken over by the receivership were not being used.

The river did not rise enough to interfere with the operation of the wells located in the bed of the river. The river was rapidly receding according to reports from the field Tuesday.

HARDING APPROVES MOTHERS' DAY PLANS

MINNEAPOLIS, April 11.—Approval of "Mothers Day" on May 14 by the American Legion auxiliary was given by President Harding today in a letter received by Mrs. Lowell F. Hobart, national president of the auxiliary.

"I approve your purpose to honor all mothers," said the president and "particularly the mothers of the men who wore the uniform and also to give voice to the desire of the fallen recognition of their claim by the nation, is wholly worthy and commendable."

LOCAL MEN ASK ROAD PERMIT

Culbertson and Kell At Capital

Requesting early action on applications for the issuance of stocks and bonds by the Wichita Falls & Southern, and for a permit to build the Byers-Waurika railroad extension, recently filed with the commission, Frank Kell and Jack G. Culbertson of Wichita Falls appeared before the interstate commerce commission, according to advice from Washington.

The issuance of a permit for the building of the extension from Byers Texas, to Waurika, Oklahoma, affording Wichita Falls a rail connection with the Rock Island at Waurika, alone now stands in the way of beginning of construction. The application is made in the name of the Wichita Falls & Oklahoma, corporate name of the Byers branch of the Wichita Valley, which will be taken over as a part of the new line.

The application of the Wichita Falls & Southern is for permission to issue $1,700,000 in bonds and preferred and common stock. The purpose of this is the securing of money to add to the equipment of the line, as well as for distribution to those participating in the financing of the extension from Newcastle to Breckenridge. No stock has been issued for this new line, the investoors merely having a certain proportionate "share" to represent his interest.

The Right Word

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

OVERHEARD.

(Find the error in this article.)

Heard: "They don't have nothin' to do with these dishes."—Waiter.

Criticism: "Don't" and "nothing" make a double negative, which is a bad form of speech and should be avoided.

Corrected: They do not have anything to do with these dishes.

Heard: "I don't get nothin' out of it."—Same waiter.

Criticisms: Double negative. Round out the pronunciation of "nothing."

Corrected: I do not get anything out of it.

Heard: "I'll wait till you need the cash bad."—Another waiter.

Criticism: "Badly" is the right word. The modifier of "need" must be an adverb.

Corrected: I will wait until you need the money badly. Purer English: "unless you need the money very much."

Heard: "The thing for you and I to do."—Banker.

Criticism: Change "I" to "me;" because it is a part of the compound subject of the infinitive, "to do," and should, therefore, be in the objective case.

Corrected: The thing for you and me to do.

Heard: "It's like you and I."—Same banker.

Criticism: Change "I" to "me" because it is the object of the preposition, "like."

Corrected: It is like you and me.

"CHINATOWN GERTIE" DIES.

NEW YORK, April 11.—"Chinatown Gertie," one of this city's underworld figures until 11 years ago, when she became a Salvation Army worker, is dead.

WOMAN IN RACE

Minnesota is due for one of the hottest senatorial races in the political history of the state. At least Mrs. Peter Olson was nominated by the Democratic convention to oppose U. S. Sen. Frank B. Kellogg, who will be a candidate for re-election. Mrs. Oleson has a nation-wide reputation as an orator and stump speaker.

Maddened Steer Ignores Lincoln's Road Regulations

By Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Nebr., April 11.—At least six persons were injured, one believed seriously, and several others scratched and bruised when an enraged steer, breaking away from the slaughtering pen on the Lincoln Packing company, broke through a stockade, eluded the yard men who tried to intercept the animal, and charged into the business section of the city, scattering pedestrians and causing motor vehicle drivers to abandon their cars and seek safety in downtown stores.

The animal, galloping and charging over fourteen blocks of the city's main thoroughfares, turned into the residential section and ran two miles further down the streets, before shot dead by police, nearly three miles from th packing house. Packing house officials attributed the steer's frenzy to the smell of blood.

PANAMA EMPLOYES MUST DIG UP RENT

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, April 11.—Three thousand government employes of the Panama canal and the Panama railway must pay the government rent for the use of their houses in the Panama canal zone, the United States circuit court of appeals decided here today in denying the petition of Harvey McConnaughy, representing the workers, for an injunction to restrain the government from collecting the rent.

INDICT TUCKER AFTER SHOOTING

Arrested Following Statutory Charge

Mike Tucker, automobile mechanic, who was shot and severely wounded on the night of February 20 by Ethel Elledge, 17 year old girl, when the two were taking a ride in an automobile, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by deputy sheriffs, charged by indictment with a statutory offense. Tucker was confined at the county jail Tuesday night.

The indictment returned against Tucker in a partial report of the grand jury now in session gives the name of Miss Elledge as the victim of the offense.

Miss Elledge on the night of shooting calmly called a local physician and police to her home and told them that she had shot Tucker. She said then that she shot Tucker when he brought his automobile to a stop near the Riverside cemetery. She shot Tucker in the back and in walking to her home fired two more shots at him neither of which struck him.

She was arrested and later released on bond after charges of assault with intent to murder had been filed against her. She was not indicted by the grand jury.

MORTGAGE PROPOSED ON GERMAN OWNINGS

(By International News Service Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, April 11.—Compulsory mortgaging of all real property in Germany to pay the reparations is the solution proposed by Paul Reynaud, member of the chamber of deputies. Not only would M. Renaud put a 20 per cent mortgage on houses, but he would also increase the capital stock of every German corporation by one-fifth and present the stock certificates to the Commission of Reparations.

This is an adaptation of the German proposal of the German Minister Hirsch to the French point of view. Minister Hirsch suggested the drastic programme of mortgaging German property and giving the mortgages to the German state. M. Reynaud would present the mortgages to the Allies. He believes that this would represent a capitalization of 40,000,000,000 gold marks on a pre-war valuation.

M. Reynaud's proposal is an indication that the hypnotic slogan of M. Klotz that "The Germans will pay," which was pronounced on every occasion when any question arose regarding the French budget, is gradually being forgotten. France is beginning to realize that there are limitations to the amounts she can collect.

Texas Congressman Defends Naval Bill From Wheel Chair

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Discussion of the naval bill in the house today presented the unusual feature of an address made by Representative Mansfield, democrat, Texas, from a wheel chair. Mr. Mansfield, who has been ill for nearly a year, declared he would support the bill with its provision for a navy of 65,000 enlisted men, plus 2,000 apprentices.

"Conscience Fund" Of U. S. Treasury Growing Rapidly

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Spring is having its effect upon guilty conscience, according to treasury officials, who announced the receipts of five donations to the "conscientious fund."

They consisted of a two-cent stamp from an Iowa town; $25 in cash from "an old soldier" from another point in Iowa; $1 in cash from Indianapolis; $10 in cash from Troy, N. Y., and $20 money order from Memphis, Tenn.

From time to time money is sent to the treasury with or without explanation as to the reason for its return to the government.

5,000 SMALL CHICKS ON RANGER RANCH

Special to the Record News

RANGER, Texas, April 11—Lackland Bros. dog and poultry ranch located near this city is recognized as being one of the best equipped poultry ranches in the United States. At this time this ranch has on hand more than five thousand small chickens. The farm is under the direct management of Col. Rufus J. Lackland, formerly of Fort Worth.

PECANS WIN PRIZE

Special to the Record News.

BEND, Texas, April 11.—W. J. Millican of this town has received premium check from the Southwestern Exposition at Fort Worth for the best pecans on exhibit in the All-West Texas chamber of commerce display. Mr. Millican is now editing the only exclusive pecan newspaper or journal in the world in the name of the "Pioneer Pecan Press." He anticipates sending copies of this newspaper to all pecan growers in West Texas.

SHORT WHEAT CROP IN TEXAS

Good Quality Will Follow Slump

Northwest Texas and the Panhandle will have a short wheat crop in spite of general improvement reported since recent rains, the crop being short enough to promise a scramble among the wheat dealers in the early months.

The corn will also be late this year, according to J. C. Mytinger of the J. C. Mytinger Grain company, and H. L. Stover, head of the grain department at the mill.

This promises a lively market during the early days as the world's supply of wheat is close adjusted to the demand at present, and the best of prospects now seem to indicate only a small carryover for the year.

The wheat which has sprouted at all seems to have a good stand, according to the reports. Banking on the fact that a short crop is almost always of good quality, it is expected that the wheat crop will be a good one in this respect unless adverse conditions develop later—this being early in the year for much of a line on quality.

With the crop late this year it is not expected that cutting will begin until about the last of May, and not get well under way until the first 10 days in June.

LABOR SHOULD NOT BE MERE COMMODITY, SAY RAIL WORKERS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 11.—The man without a job, due to industrial depression should not be allowed to represent a standard to which other workers would be defeated, railway employes told the railroad labor board today in declaring that labor should not be treated as a commodity, subject to the law of supply and demand, but deserves an "adequate living wage."

Lawyers representing maintenance men, or common laborers, fighting against a wage cut proposed by the railroads, argued for a wage sufficient to support a standard of living based on health, decency and a reasonable and modest degree of comfort.

FORMER BANKER OF NORTH TEXAS FACES 21 NEW INDICTMENTS

By Associated Press.

SHERMAN, Texas, April 11.—E. A. Ragsdale, former cashier of the First Guaranty State bank of Collinsville, under $5,000 bond in six cases, charging misappropriation, false swearing and embezzlement filed last December, was placed under bond in 21 additional charges of a like nature, following waiver of hearing before Justice R. A. McCrary yesterday afternoon. Judge McCrary set the bond of Ragsdale at $500 in the first of the new cases, and $225 in each of the other charges, a total new bond of $5,000.

BONUS MAY PRECEDE TARIFF IN SENATE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Senate republican leaders have about decided to give the bonus bill limited right of way over the tariff bill. With the reporting of the tariff measure the party leaders expect the finance committee to begin work late this week on bonus legislation and to have it ready for the senate within a fortnight. The plan is to press the bonus measure quickly to a vote so as not to delay materially the tariff debate.

OSSMAN FALLS FOR ZBYSKO'S TOE-HOLD

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, April 11. — Stanilaus Zbyzko, former heavyweight wrestling champion, won in two straight falls from Yusif Ossman, Turkish wrestler, here tonight, taking the first fall in an hour and eight minutes with a toe hold and the second in 17 minutes with a toe hold. Ossman collapsed on his way to the dressing room following severe punishment inflicted during the toe hold siege.

STATIC ELECTRICITY CAUSES EXPLOSION

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, April 11.—J. L. Hambrick-Taylor and his wife narrowly escaped death from an explosion in their dye works here today when clothes, valued at $600, were destroyed and part of the building blown away. Collection of static electricity in a cylinder was given as the cause of the explosion.

COTTON FARMER'S YEARLY INCOME $400

PURCELL, Okla., April 11.— The average yearly income of the cotton farmer of the south for the last 10 years has been $400, Aaron Sapiro, California attorney and co-operative marketing expert, declared in an address here today warning cotton producers that only by organization could they expect to increase their returns.

DROWNS AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Texas, April 11.—G. Luther Hughes, 33, was drowned here today when he fell into a shallow pool at Forrest Park. A woman standing some distance away was the only witness. He was in the water but a few minutes. Artificial respiration was unavailing.

INTEREST LOWER ON NEW CERTIFICATES

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Bearing interest at 3 1-2 per cent, the lowest since September, 1917, a new issue of six months treasury certificates of indebtedness to the amount of about $150,000,000 were offered for subscription tonight by Secretary Mellon.

The low rate of the new issue, according to treasury officials, reflects the condition of the market for government securities and is in line with the present prices quoted for treasury securities.

NATION'S COAL STOCK CONSIDERED AMPLE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Reports in the hands of administration leaders concerning the progress of the coal strike were said today in authoritative circles to have convinced the president that no serious results may be expected at this juncture.

The country is heavily stocked with surplus coal, it was said, and in some sections of the strike area there were said to be heavy accumulations of loaded cars for which billing had not been received, causing the administration to feel there was sufficient coal supply for any demand which might be made.

"MAY" BE BIGAMISTS

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—The Rev. John Henry Hammer, 55 years old, rector of a church known as "The Gospel of Truth" and his fourth wife, today admitted, according to police, that both might be bigamists. Mrs. Hammer also was married four times, she said.

HUBBYS FORM CIVIC LEAGUE

Men Organize to Help Women

Under this inspiration of a most ample and appetizing supper of roast chicken and all the fixin's, North Side Civic League husbands, Tuesday night organized, elected officers and made plans for regular weekly meetings at the Community House, where the supper was held.

This organization promises to be a departure from the usual order of things, inasmuch as it will be a "Men's Aid" sort of an organization for they are organizing to help the ladies, in recognition of their splendid accomplishments to date. Usually it is the "Ladies' Aid" that is formed, but the North Side husbands are quite willing to admit leadership to the wives.

Officers Elected.

S. D. Ford was elected president, Ruben Moore, vice president and Lonnie Scott, secretary. The first action of the new organization was to make a nice donation to the Civic league treasury, for the purpose of purchasing silverware for the community house. They agreed that their dues and benefits should all go into the Civic league treasury. The men will meet each Friday evening at 7:30 at the Community house.

Tuesday night's meeting was the regular meeting of the Civic league, made a social event in honor of the husbands. There were about 65 present, to enjoy the splendid supper, and the social evening, and five new members were added to the League rolls. Talks of commendation, appreciation and promise of assistance were made by Messrs. Ellis, Moore and Eads.

Business Meeting.

Mrs. A. F. Gullatt, the president, conducted a short business meeting, disposing of the routine business, which included the authorizing of the purchase of chairs for the house, articles which are much needed at present.

The service committee reported the case of a needy family in the community, which had been attended to. The husband had been in the hospital for some time, and there was other sickness in the family. Contributions of groceries have been made by various members of the league. This is one of the departments of the Northside Civic league's work to which especial attention is paid.

Tuesday night's meeting was reported very much of a success, with the intention expressed of repeating the joint session shortly.

Business Women Hear Paper Read On Great Author

An instructive paper on Shakespeare's life and works read by Mrs. Charles William Wallace and taken from the records compiled by her husband, Dr. Wallace, who is an instructor in the State University of Nebraska, on leave of absence to do research work, was a feature of the Business Women's meeting held at the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Wallace described in an interesting manner the costumes and stage arrangement for Shakespeare's plays during his life and the interest the famous author took in having his plays properly presented, as found described in the old documents unearthed by Dr. Wallace while living abroad.

Miss Martineau, domestic science teacher at the high school was announced to talk to the club next Tuesday evening on "What to Eat and How to Prepare It."

In the contest which concluded the entertainment for the evening, Miss Cleo Stinnett was awarded the prize, a suit of silk lingerie, donated by the Winston Department store.

RICHARDS CLEARED OF ASSAULT CHARGE

J. A. Richards, local teamster, was found not guilty of a charge of statutory assault by a jury in the 89th district court Tuesday night. The verdict was returned at 8:30 o'clock.

The trial of Richards opened Tuesday morning before Judge P. A. Martin. The principal witness for the state was Leona Hunt, 13-year-old girl resident of the city who testified to the alleged assault on June 1, of last year, at Richards' home. The girl was cross-examined at length by defense attorneys. The girl did not vary her statement as to the alleged assault but contradicted herself regarding other details. The case went to the jury at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Why the $10.90 USCO is better than just a $10.90 tire

ON November 10, 1921, the 30 x 3½ "Usco" was marked to sell for $10.90.

This odd and closely figured price was the lowest quotation ever made on any tire of known standards.

* * *

Now comes a lot of different $10.90 tires being rushed into the market. "Special" tires. "New" treads.

Unfamiliar to look at—with perhaps an atmosphere of having been made to meet the price.

But the "Usco" still occupies a place by itself. A good old standby on millions of cars for years. Better than it ever was.

Still putting the emphasis on honest quality, even if it does sell for only ten dollars and ninety cents.

The tire that people still buy for the dignity of its quality regardless of the low amount they pay.
