

See-Saw Fight On Schools

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An integration showdown loomed in Louisiana today as Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright maneuvered like military strategists in a day of lightning developments.

Wright issued a temporary restraining order Thursday prohibiting state interference with New Orleans schools and banning enforcement of the state's new package of school segregation laws passed in a 12-day special session that recessed last Tuesday.

Davis, in a surprise move late Thursday night, countered by calling a second session to convene 30 days starting Tuesday—the day the Legislature returns to end its current session.

Davis, a singer of hillbilly songs who took office six months ago on a platform of "peace and harmony," used the same broad language as in his first call.

He said the next session would deal with schools, states rights, education, and protection of public order. Omitted this time was any reference to a state militia.

Previously, a member of a state committee appointed to seize control of the schools speculated it might be necessary to call another special session to put the full weight of the Legislature behind the committee's actions.

Within hours after Wright signed the temporary restraining orders, the New Orleans School Board okayed admission of five Negro first grade girls into two of the city's all-white schools.

The pupils' names and the schools they are to attend Monday, start of the second session, were kept secret. The integration was ordered in a previous ruling by Wright.

In Baton Rouge, a spokesman for the State Sovereignty Commission — Louisiana's segregation "watchdog" — said token integration was "unpalatable."

Chairman Frank Voelker Jr. said schools will be "kept segregated, and if the federal courts attempt to strike them, the segregation laws, under the Legislature will assert our interposition."

U. S. Center Hits In Algiers Riots

By DAVID MASON ALGIERS (AP) — Angry European settlers fought off tear gas attacks, stoned police, wrecked buses and attacked the United States information center in bloody anti-De Gaulle riots here today.

Almost all the demonstrators were students and youngsters. About two score were injured. Thousands hurled stones, tomatoes or whatever was at hand.

The U.S. cultural center was stormed by the demonstrators after several hours of pitched battles in nearby streets. The center was sacked once before, during the turbulent days of 1958, and has been the target of right-wingers in lesser demonstrations on many occasions.

Initial reports mentioned no injuries there this time nor was there any word as to what damage was done to the center.

The temple of the European demonstrators mounted toward the boiling point as French President Charles de Gaulle's civilian chief in Algeria, Paul Delouvrier, drove through the Boulevard Pasteur to lay a wreath at the monument for war dead. The crowd shouted "Resign!" and "De Gaulle to the stake!"

Delouvrier laid his wreath without interference, however. The violence came after he drove off. Anger has mounted among Algeria's militant French settlers since De Gaulle, in a broadcast a week ago, promised that the North African territory would no longer be governed by Metropolitan France but would have its own government, its own institutions, its own laws.

The settlers generally interpreted De Gaulle's words to mean an Algerian republic in which they would be overwhelmed by the Moslem Majority.

Paris newspapers reported Thursday De Gaulle may soon proclaim Algeria a republic in a bold move to liquidate the festering six-year-old nationalist rebellion.

Thursday night a crowd of about 1,000 demonstrators, in an Armistice Eve wreath ceremony at the war dead monument, clashed with security forces. Several persons were injured by police clubs.

Administration, Kennedy said Thursday at his first news conference that he expected to have his cabinet complete "in late November or early December."

His press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the president-elect has received 13,000 congratulatory telegrams in the past 24 hours.

Kennedy was to take three of his top assistants with him to Florida. They were Kenneth O'Donnell, named as special assistant to the president; Lawrence O'Brien, political adviser; and Salinger.

Kennedy's vacation schedule includes a conference in Texas with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

There were indications that he might ask President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon to shoulder important responsibilities in the incoming government.

Two Kidnaped Men Freed In Arkansas

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Two Texas men were kidnaped and robbed Thursday and then left tied up in a motel here early today after an overnight ride with their abductor through Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The kidnaper, believed to be the same former convict who earlier disarmed and trussed up two Beaumont detectives, later abandoned the car he had stolen from one of his victims.

Released here were Ray Clark, 40, a Fort Worth salesman, and John Nunley, 24, of Port Arthur, a student at Lamar Tech at Beaumont. They were not injured.

Beaumont detectives George Cole and W. E. Goodnight escaped Thursday soon after John Henry Schrimsher, charged with felony theft and burglary, left them tied to a tree near Groves, Tex.

Schrimsher's wife was then with her husband—apparently reluctantly.

Clark and Nunley, who were unable to say definitely that their abductor was Schrimsher, told police and reporters that no woman was along on their trip.

The men said their abductor gave them a name, but neither could recall it.

Arkansas state police said Nunley's station wagon was found abandoned about five miles north of here on Highway 65.

They said the Schrimshers formerly lived in the area.

Nunley was kidnaped at Beaumont, shortly after noon Thursday; Clark, at Marshall, Tex., six hours later.

Nunley said he was sitting in his car eating at a drive-in near the Lamar Tech campus when a man thrust his head inside, asked "Are you going to Port Arthur?" and immediately threw a bag into the car, and got in.

The intruder held a pistol and warned Nunley. "This is real. This is no toy. Get this car going."

He said he drove a circuitous route, mostly on back roads, at his captor's direction.

Once they stopped at a house near Silasbe, Tex., where the kidnaper said his sister lived. No one was at home.

Clark was accosted outside his motel at Marshall and forced, at gunpoint, to join Nunley and the kidnaper in Nunley's car.

All three men had eaten shortly before in a cafe near the motel. Nunley said he considered making any outcry or running at the time but didn't because he was afraid the kidnaper would shoot him.

The kidnaper took Clark's wallet containing about $150 and some credit cards, which he later used to purchase gasoline.

Nunley previously had given up his billfold. He said he didn't know how much it contained.

Nunley and Clark alternated in driving, the abductor keeping them covered with the pistol. He kept the weapon out of sight.

The motorists said they drove through Fayette and crossed the western front in Europe 42 years ago—a presidential wreath will be placed at the Tomb of the Unknowns.

For the first time this year, a torch that was lighted in Antwerp, Belgium, and flown across the Atlantic Ocean, will be presented in the amphitheater adjoining the tomb.

Another torch, lighted in this country, has been flown eastward across the ocean for presentation at similar ceremonies in Antwerp.

Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., former commander of the Marine Corps, will address representatives of the veterans organizations in the amphitheater.

The day was observed as Armistice Day through 1953. Thereafter, by act of Congress, the name was changed to honor the services of veterans of all wars.

Sponsorship of the Arlington ceremonies is rotated yearly among veterans organizations.

This year the Marine Corps League is in charge.

By agreement among the organizations, regional observances are being conducted elsewhere in the country with the ceremonies being in charge of the following organizations:

The American Legion at New Orleans; Veterans of Foreign Wars at Long Beach, Calif.; Army Navy League of Valor at Trenton, N. J.; Disabled Veterans at Birmingham, Ala.; and the Amvets at Louisville, Ky.

Tribute Paid To Veterans Of All Wars New Regime In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation pays tribute to the veterans of all American wars in ceremonies originally scheduled to commemorate the armistice that ended World War I.

The Veterans Day ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery form the pattern for similar observances being conducted by veterans and patriotic organizations in other parts of the country.

At the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month—the very moment when the "guns went—along" along the Western Front in Europe 42 years ago—a presidential wreath will be placed at the Tomb of the Unknowns.

For the first time this year, a torch that was lighted in Antwerp, Belgium, and flown across the Atlantic Ocean, will be presented in the amphitheater adjoining the tomb.

Mac Sends Special Message

By RELMAN MORIN HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—A personal message from British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was delivered this morning to President-elect John F. Kennedy at his Hyannis Port home.

D'Arcy Edmondson, British through the message personally, but there was no immediate indication of the contents.

Macmillan previously had sent his congratulations to Kennedy, a customary formality between heads of government. Therefore, it was assumed that the communication concerned matters of high foreign policy. It was reported that Macmillan, along with several other heads of European governments, expected to confer personally with Kennedy within the next few months.

Kennedy prepared to leave by air for Palm Beach, Fla., for a two-week vacation.

He had with him a list of several hundred names for consideration for appointments in his administration. Kennedy said Thursday at his first news conference that he expected to have his cabinet complete "in late November or early December."

His press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the president-elect has received 13,000 congratulatory telegrams in the past 24 hours.

Johnson In Conferences

AUSTIN (AP)—Vice President-elect Lyndon Johnson continued a round of staff conferences here today in preparation for the visit of President-elect John Kennedy next week.

Johnson's staff said he was up early today making telephone calls. They said he probably will go to his ranch 85 miles west here later in the day.

Staff members said it is uncertain whether Kennedy will visit Austin next Thursday or visit only at Johnson's Central Texas ranch.

If Kennedy flies to Texas from his vacation in Florida in a large plane he probably will land at Austin. If he travels in a small plane it will be possible for him to land on the air strip at the Johnson ranch.

The rebel military committee, which took over the government, in a broadcast announcing the ouster of the pro-American president, charged:

"Nho Dinh Diem adopted a family dictatorship and was unable to face the situation which has deteriorated because of mounting Communist danger. The army has been divided and the population is without any freedom.

There was absolutely no indication that the army rebels contemplated a neutralist policy, as neighboring Laos has just adopted. The new military junta said in a broadcast it had no political affiliations and had seized control of the government "to re-establish security in the country."

Sharing borders with neutralist Cambodia and Laos, South Viet Nam is a cornerstone of the western defense arch in Southeast Asia. The South Vietnamese army of 120,000 men is supported by U.S. aid funds. There was no immediate comment from the U.S. Embassy in Saigon.

Jackson To Hold Post Until Spring

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington said Thursday night he will stay on as Democratic national chairman until spring.

Jackson was elected chairman after the party's national convention in Los Angeles in July. He said then he hoped to resign before Congress reconvened in January.

He has changed his mind, he said, because of a campaign deficit which he said might run as high as $2 million.

Irregularities In Voting Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton has asked state and county GOP chairmen to investigate charges of voting irregularities, particularly in Texas, the Carolinas, Illinois, Michigan and New Jersey.

A spokesman for the Republican National Committee said Thursday it had received many complaints alleging fraud, vote buying and other irregularities.

The New York Herald Tribune said today that allegations of election irregularities in several states caused Republican leaders to check all returns—and wonder if their contention of victory to Sen. John F. Kennedy might have been premature.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper added that one top Republican figure told the Herald Tribune that if "half the reports we've been getting can be proven quickly enough to be true,"

Kennedy, Sorensen Thrown Together

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—It was late in 1952 when the fateful accident in timing occurred.

John F. Kennedy had just been elected to the U.S. Senate from Massachusetts and needed staff assistants.

Theodore C. Sorensen, then 24 and only a year out of law school, had just finished a temporary assignment as aide to the Joint Committee on Railroad Retirement Legislation and was looking for a job.

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., acquainted with both men, got the two together.

It was, as Sorensen was to put it later, his "luckiest break."

By the time Kennedy last year declared himself a presidential candidate, Sorensen had become his administrative assistant, chief advisor, speech-writer, coordinator, researcher and confidant.

It was an association so close one observer was led to remark that when somebody cuts Kennedy, it is Sorensen who bleeds.

To the surprise of no one familiar with Sorensen's role, the president-elect Thursday designated Sorensen as his special counsel—right hand man in framing the Kennedy administration's program.

Sorensen's political heritage, oddly, is Republican.

His ancestral origin is Danish and Russian.

His home base is Lincoln, Neb. His religion is Unitarian.

Sorensen was born in Lincoln 32 years ago, attended Lincoln schools and was graduated from the University of Nebraska Law College in 1941 as a Phi Beta Kappa top scholar in his class.

His father, Christian A. Sorensen, son of Danish immigrant, was a former Republican attorney general for Nebraska. But he was a member of the liberal George Norris type, born Annis S.

Satellite Is Working Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — All eight experiments aboard Explorer VIII, the newest satellite, are working well, including the one that has to be switched on from the ground.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported this today after detailed analysis of taped telemetry information sent back to radio devices aboard the 90-pound scientific space package.

Morton J. Stoller, assistant director of NASA's space flight programs, said the electric field meter aboard Explorer VIII was first turned on by a radio signal from Blossom Point, Md., during the satellite's fifth orbit of the earth, and since has been used repeatedly.

The field meter measures the amount of electrical charge that has collected on the surface of the satellite.

Stoller said that when a radio signal turns on the switch, the meter goes into operation for two minutes and then turns off automatically to avoid drain on the batteries.

He said the other experiments, which operate continuously, also appear to be operating well.

They are providing information on the ionosphere—the thick layer of electrified particles extending from 30 to about 1,000 miles above the earth—which may result in vast improvement of long range radio communications of the future.

administration to Adlai Stevenson.

"I talked to Gov. Stevenson yesterday on the matter of—I would prefer to postpone until I come back to the whole question of roles, appointments, responsibilities."

Kennedy also announced that he has named Clark Clifford, Washington lawyer, to be his representative as liaison with the Eisenhower administration during the period between now and the day he takes office, Clifford served as special counsel to former President Truman.

The duties of the liaison agent are to meet regularly with government officials and to keep the president-elect advised on developments in defense, foreign affairs, the preparation of the budget, etc.—to be the main link in the orderly transition of government.

He assigned four members of his personal staff to duty in the White House.

They are: Pierre Salinger, former San Francisco newspaperman, political manager, and one-time piano student, to be White House press secretary; Salinger now lives in Falls Church, Va.

Andrew Hatcher, of San Francisco, official of the California State Labor Commission, to be assistant press secretary; Hatcher is a Negro.

Philadelphia and Chattanooga will have a baseball working agreement next season.

TRAGIC MISTAKE

Wrong Body Is Found In Coffin

NEW YORK (AP)—How did the body of the "wrong" airline stewardess get into a coffin scheduled for burial in California?

The body was the anonymous girl in a California hospital? A tragic case of mistaken identity, a coroner explained Thursday.

The announcement brought crushing despair to the family of one girl and joyous hope to another.

Last Monday, four stewardesses were in a head-on traffic crash while riding in a taxicab near the San Francisco Airport. They were taken to Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame. One stewardess died. And on the basis of a few scattered personal papers found at the scene she was identified as Mary Hawthorne, 26, a tall blonde from New York City.

The survivors underwent surgery. One girl, her face bandaged, remained unconscious. She was identified as Joan Frost, 26, of New York City.

But the identifications were wrong and the body of Miss Frost was shipped to New York for burial.

Coroner Paul Jensen, 52, of San Mateo County, said identification was made on the basis of the purse and personal effects arriving at Peninsula Hospital.

"Here you have the situation—four girls arriving at the hospital all in the same uniforms. All with the same hairdos, and all with the same type of attire," he said.

"The body of the dead girl had been placed in a sealed casket and when she arrived here the lid remained closed."

Only a sentimental gesture on the part of Miss Hawthorne's friends halted the funeral, scheduled for Thursday.

Norma Pugh, also an American Airlines Stewardess, and another of Miss Hawthorne's friends, Robert Evans, an American flight engineer, went to the Bronx funeral home Wednesday to pay their last respects.

Miss Pugh had one of Miss Hawthorne's favorite rings—a pearl friendship ring. She and Evans asked that the coffin be opened so they could place the ring on Mary's finger.

"Oh, my God," cried Evans. "That's not Mary."

They called Mary's stepfather and her mother, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Schnell, of the Bronx. Hushed calls were placed to California.

The bandaged girl regained consciousness Thursday and murmured: "I'm Mary Hawthorne."

The correct identification came as a shock to Thomas Frost, father of the dead girl. He had flown to California to be near the girl he thought to be his daughter. He couldn't know that she was in a funeral home across the country.

When told he collapsed. He and his son, William, 21, flew to their Philadelphia home last night. He was too grief-stricken to comment.

Mary Hawthorne still is in grave condition, but her family has hope.

America's First Lady-Elect Returns To Washington Hqme

By FRANCES LEWINE

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy had a hectic and historic three-day election reunion with her fast traveling husband—and their paths separate again today.

They hardly had time to savor the idea of moving into the White House.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the president-elect, was off to a sunny Florida vacation. His wife headed back to Washington, D.C., so she could stay near her doctor because she is expecting a baby about Dec. 15.

The circumstances were reminiscent of 1956, when Kennedy emerged in a bid for the Democratic vice presidential nomination, had gone to the French Riviera while Mrs. Kennedy, expecting a child then too, waited back home.

That time, Mrs. Kennedy had a miscarriage, blamed on the tension and excitement of the convention events.

"But now, she was taking things as easily as she could, staying out of most of the election campaign—even going to bed at 11 p.m. on election night—because 'I knew I couldn't get involved in the tension of the all-night vote counting'."

Mrs. Kennedy said Thursday she thought her husband should have a month's rest in order to properly carry on his duties as president. She observed colorfully: "You can't race a car endlessly without taking it into the shop."

But her husband had allotted

MAKING HIM JUST A BIT EDGY

New Party Is Needed By Country

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP) — What this country needs is a new play-as-you-go political party that could refresh promises to meet everyone's real needs.

The election of 1960 proved that the most common remark made by the average voter after casting his ballot Tuesday was this: "What difference does it really make to me who wins? I'll still have to work for a living."

This attitude reflects a deep underlying dissatisfaction in the electorate. They are unhappy with both the Democratic and Republican parties, both of which are a bit out of touch with the people's real desires.

A third party — perhaps to be called the True Welfare or Better World party — might sweep the nation in 1964.

Here are a few suggested planks in such a party's national platform:

HOUSING — Two barbecue pits would be provided for every home, one in the front yard, one in the back yard. No wife would have to stay home every night unless she wanted to. If her husband would be tired every day, a government-leased maid or a government-leased maid would be at her service one evening a week.

WELFARE — A free guaranteed parking space would be available without charge to every citizen — and located within one-minute walking time of his job.

HEALTH — Federal authorities would expend half a billion dollars annually for the discovery of an all-purpose wonder drug that would cure male baldness, prevent women from wrinkling, prevent the common hangover, and enable anyone to eat as much of anything as he wanted and still keep him from gaining an ounce.

WAGES — A salary that lasted from payday to payday would be the government goal for all — instead of the present salary which only lasts from payday to the day after payday.

CONDITIONS — Every office and factory would be patterned after modern progressive schools. All hired hands would do their chores in the morning, eat a free government lunch, take a long nap, then spend the afternoon finger painting, playing golf or square dancing. As a sop to management, the boss would be allowed to call the tune.

YOUTH — All potential teenagers would be removed to government centers at the age of 12, educated there and returned to their parents only after they had lost all interest in rock 'n' roll music.

TAXES — All taxes would be paid by government employees, foreign tourists, and heads of state who came here to make speeches at the United Nations.

A political party with a program like that surely would win hands down in 1964. It might stay in power only a few years — but wouldn't it be years to remember?

Dr. Adler's Wife Granted Divorce
 SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, 57, an internationally known philosopher and editor, was divorced Thursday in a brief, uncontested court proceeding. His wife, Helen, to whom he had been married 33 years, charged extreme cruelty.

Dr. Adler was the founder and editor of "Great Books of the Western World," a 54-volume encyclopedia of human thought.

Candidate Is Still Hoping
 HOMER, Ga. (AP) — Bird-watcher Connie Watts, the presidential candidate whose platform was strictly for the birds, said he isn't ready to concede the election to Sen. John F. Kennedy.

"The trend seems to be running against me as late returns come in," Watts admitted Thursday, but "you may quote me as saying I know I got seven votes — they just haven't been announced yet. Besides, the absentee ballots from a lot of places haven't been counted. You can't tell what might happen."

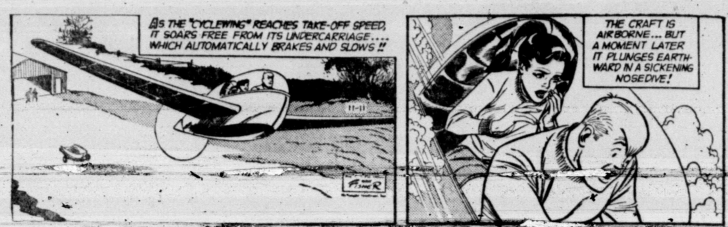

Watts, write-in candidate of the "Front Porch party," campaigned for better housing for all the birds of Atlanta. He wanted to put the unemployed to work boring holes in dead trees so more birds would have places to build nests.

Soviet Embassy Party Held In A Deceptive Atmosphere

By ED KOTERBA
 WASHINGTON — Open letter to Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov:

Dear Sir: When we were talking there under the exquisite crystal chandelier of the Soviet Embassy, I made some mental notes, which I put down in this letter to you.

The jam-up of guests who looked on you celebrating — in November — the anniversary of the October Revolution, wore no cold-war blues.

These were people on opposite sides of the Iron Curtain existing in a pleasant atmosphere of friendship. I was thinking, looking at the party, why your people don't extend this kind of personal friendship on a permanent basis around the world. It seemed such a simple solution, in that environment.

We were on Soviet soil, once through that massive, black iron door of the Embassy, but from all the hand-shaking and back-slapping you'd have thought this was a back-yard barbecue in America.

For a while there, you seemed as though you, an important Soviet citizen, relished the things that had made our country great.

You beamed when you talked of your new grandson. A few minutes before, you drew a chuckle from Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson when you remarked that your wife had just returned from Moscow and had brought the snow back with her.

Of course, you are nothing but a salesman for communism. Your gentleman and dress is that of a fortunate American businessman. Your smile is infectious. It is almost disarming.

All the while, though, there was a vague, oppressive air bearing down from somewhere. Maybe it was that sickly smile on the wall portrait — the smile on the overfed lips of Nikita Khrushchev.

This sense of despondency which filtered through the heavy, smelly smoke of Russian cigarettes was only common sense warning us that this is all but a fake front. The evening's camaraderie was as flimsy as the glad-handing of your boss, One-Shoe Khrushchev, just before he shattered the summit conference. At least, we must assume so on past evidence.

It was a clammy feeling, too, when the Cuban military attaché in the diluted beard came in, and

Kite Rider Seeks Damages In Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alphonso Woodall, 37, contends a television company's negligence caused a kite he was riding to crash, breaking his legs in eight places.

Woodall went to court Thursday seeking $150,000 damages from Wayne Steffner Productions, Inc. Jurors were told Woodall was hired to perform a kite flying stunt for a TV film. The kite was pulled by a truck to get it aloft.

The accident happened March 25, 1959. Seven months later, Woodall, who lives in Cleveland, Ohio, disregarded his injuries even though he was still using crutches, and rescued a man from drowning. He was granted a Carnegie hero's medal.

Nice for Sunday brunch: cheese sauce served over buttered toast, English muffins and pan fried thin slices of ham.

Oil Demand Estimated

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today had estimates from two sources indicating an oil demand for about 2,615,000 barrels a day from Texas wells next month.

A December demand at that figure was forecast by the Bureau of Mines compared with 2,540,000 barrels a day in November.

The nominations submitted by the major oil buying companies totaled 2,616,945 barrels, down 12,783 barrels from November.

Change Urged In Trends

DALLAS (AP)—The director of the Farm Bureau Federation's Washington office said today "The trend toward concentration of authority in the federal government should be halted and in some cases reversed."

He said the economic system that has made the United States the most powerful nation is jeopardized by those who see in every problem a reason and opportunity to concentrate power and responsibility in the federal government.

Travis Grid Teams Sweep

Football teams of Travis Junior High School made a clean sweep Thursday night as they tuned up for their final action of the season against Lamar Junior High teams next week.

The Travis 9th Grade Blue Devils trounced Goliad of Big Spring, 34-0 on the local junior high field, while Travis 8th won over Goliad 8th, 20-6, at Big Spring, and Travis 7th decisively Colorado City 7th, 36-20, at Colorado City.

Travis 8th 20, Goliad 6

BIG SPRING—The Travis 8th Grade footballers, Snyder's only perfect record team, won their seventh victory in a row by decisively defeating the Goliad 8th grade team, 20-6 Thursday night.

Leslie Brown got the Travis team off on its scoring parade when he went off left tackle for five yards and a touchdown early in the second quarter. The Travis team lost the ball on a punt return inside the Goliad 25 in the opening minutes of play. However, they got the ball back in short order and Fullback Rex Akin rumbled over from the three for the first score. The try for two conversion points failed.

In the second period, Billy Stewart capped a 25-yard drive by going over from the three, and Ignacio Benitez legged it across for the points.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Blue Devils recovered a fumble to set the stage for another touchdown. Benitez carried over 15 yards out of them, adding the extra points, giving Travis a 22-0 bulge at halftime.

The Blue Devils took the kickoff opening the second half and marched for another quick touchdown. The big kicker was a jump pass from quarterback Robert Thomas to End Jackie Stewart, which moved the ball on the threshold of the goal line. Thomas carried over for the score.

In the fourth quarter, Benitez turned in a 6-yard touchdown run to climax another Blue Devil drive.

Travis 7th 36, C-City 20

COLORADO CITY—The Travis 7th Grade footballers saw a 20-8 advantage melt away in the fourth quarter, but rebounded with two touchdowns in the last three minutes of play to triumph over the Colorado City 7th Grade team, 36-20, Thursday night.

Jerry Kincheole gave Travis the lead early in the second quarter when he scored on a 15-yard run. However, the try for the extra points failed and Colorado City scored with 24 seconds left in the half, then converted to hold an 8-6 advantage at the intermission.

Travis bounced back quickly in the third, with Kincheole hitting off tackle and streaking 70 yards for a touchdown. A few minutes later, he broke up the middle for 60 yards and another six-pointer. Dugan took a pass for the two-point conversion, and Travis led, 20-8.

Kincheole went over again on a 60-yard run, but the play was nullified.

Then, Colorado City scored twice in the fourth to tie the score at 20-20.

Baytown Facing Showdown Tonight

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

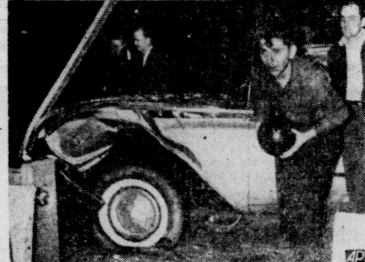

Baytown's desperate Ganders, their feathers plucked last week by Galena Park, clash Friday night with unbeaten, untied Freeport for a possible ticket to the state schoolboy football playoffs in Class AAAA.

The game headlines a number of crucial games extending through the top four divisions and stretching across the far reaches of the state.

In the Panhandle, Olton and Floydada, both undefeated and untied, tangle for the championship of District 2. The West Texas powers are two of just 29 teams still sporting perfect records.

A minimum of 73 of 96 district titles will have been determined by this weekend, although most will be in the lower divisions. Three could crown kings in Class AAAA, six in AAA, and 12 each in AA and A. The lower divisions wind up regular season play Friday night while AAA and AA conclude action next week.

Dallas Samuell Thursday night won the North Zone of District 6 AAAA by nailing Dallas Hillcrest

AND THE GAME ROLLED ON—When a car smashed through the plate glass window of the Philadelphia, Pa., bowling alley, scattering glass all over the place, the game was halted only a short while. Wayne Aronovitz, bowling when the crash occurred, said he ran right down the alley without stopping to look around. (AP Wirephoto)

Porkers To Take Semi-Final Step

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Arkansas takes its next to last step in the drive toward the Cotton Bowl Saturday as the Razorbacks play winless Southern Methodist at Fayetteville.

Arkansas has only two games left to clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference championship and possibly take it all. But either way, the Razorbacks will be in the Cotton Bowl because only Rice could tie them for the tie, and they've already beaten Rice.

It's upset time, however, and no one would be too surprised if the Razorbacks fell to Southern Methodist or if Rice should open the way to a clear Arkansas championship claim by losing itself.

Rice plays Texas A&M, which hasn't won a game in the conference since it was defeated at Houston with 60,000 in the stands to see what is expected to be a Rice victory.

Another most important game—more important actually than the other two because each team still has a chance to win the championship race—will be played at Fort Worth. It's Texas Christian, which needs to pick up a game on the leaders in order to figure in the championship, vs. Texas, which can't afford even a tie and retain any hopes at all.

So close does this one appear that there are no odds. The teams look even on their season records. While their brothers are trying to make big decisions in the conference race, Baylor and Texas Tech will be playing intersectional games.

Baylor meets Southern California at Waco followed by 10 points but needing to pull out of the doldrums of two straight losses.

Texas Tech plays Wyoming of the Skyline Conference at Lubbock and can have a perfect intersectional record for the year with a triumph over the Western visitors. Tech beat Tulane 35-21 last week in its first game against the outsiders.

Tech is a touchdown favorite but expects trouble aplenty.

Crowds totaling over 170,000 are expected for the five games with Rice-Texas A&M getting the biggest turnout. Texas Christian-Texas should draw 40,000. Arkansas expects 31,000 and there will be

Titans Take On Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Sammy Sauts cliff-hanging New York Titans, beaten in their last three trips, hope on Boston tonight in a battle for second place in Eastern Division of the American Football League.

New York holds the No. 2 spot with a 4-5 record while Boston is 3-5. Neither has much hope of catching front-running Houston, 6-2.

The Titans seem to specialize in last-quarter thrillers. Of the 221 points scored against them, 77 have come in the last quarter. And in their nine games, six of them have been decided in the last few minutes.

One of those was Boston's 28-24 victory over New York earlier this season. Chuck Stumbo scooped up a New York fumble and ran 20 yards for a touchdown on the last play of the game.

The game is the only Friday action in the league. Sunday games have Houston at Los Angeles, Buffalo at Oakland and Denver at Dallas.

Ali-America Back Honors Wide Open

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The race for honors in the 1960 All-America backfield is wide open.

Although there are plenty of candidates, there are no real standouts. Why? Because the next three Saturdays will go far in determining the men AP's eight regional boards each representing an NCAA district, will recommend for the first team.

Here are some of the more prominent candidates: Jake Gibbs, Mississippi quarterback; Tom Matte, quarterback; and Dave Groz, Oregon quarterback; Roman Gabriel, North Carolina State quarterback; Bill Kilmer, UCLA tailback; Joe Bellino, Navy halfback; Ronnie Bull, Baylor halfback; and Pervis Atkins, New Mexico State halfback.

Final determination of the all-America team will not be made until after the games of Nov. 26. Gibbs probably is as near to a standout as there is today. He is a great passer, runner, leader and defender. His team needs Tennessee Saturday and it will be an acid test.

Matte is the key to the powerful Ohio State offense. He has completed 93 of 155 passes for 573 yards and eight touchdowns.

Kilmer leads the Big Five in total offense with 1,148 yards in six games. He is one of the most deceptive of modern runners, and Atkins is the long gainer for unbeaten New Mexico State.

Among other backs who are coming in for close attention are Ed Dyas, Auburn fullback; Francis Tarkenton, Georgia quarterback; Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback; Wilburn Hillis, Iowa quarterback; Keith Lincoln, Washington State halfback; Terry Baker, Oregon State halfback; Ernie Davis, Syracuse halfback; Tom Watkins, Iowa State fullback; Mel West, Missouri halfback; Jerry Hill, Wyoming halfback; Lance Alworth, Arkansas halfback; and Nolan Jones, Arizona State halfback.

B Team In Action Here

Snyder High School's B team gets a chance Saturday night to avenge an early season football loss when the Big Spring B team pays a visit to Tiger Stadium.

The Snyder lads dropped an 8-16 decision to the Big Springs when they met previously in Big Spring.

Since then, however, the charges of Coaches Jim Steinhilber and Jimmy Galford have gone on a five-game winning streak, and they are anxious to make it six in tomorrow night's action.

Kick-off time has been set for 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Aggie Frosh Down Rice Unit. 27-13

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas A&M sparked by a dazzling 91-yard touchdown romp by fullback Jerry Rogers, rolled to a 27-13 victory over Rice Thursday night in a freshman football game played before a chilled crowd of 7,500.

It was the annual Good Samaritan benefit game.

Rice led in the third period but touchdowns by A&M's Rogers and Jim Linnstaeder erased the margin.

A&M registered the first and last touchdowns with Travis Reagan scoring both. He intercepted a Rice lateral and returned it 45 yards for the first and scampered 27 yards for the other.

Turkey Shoot Set Sunday Afternoon

The Canyon Gun Club will sponsor a turkey shoot at its range Sunday afternoon.

The range is located seven miles southwest of Snyder, and the shoot will begin at 1 p.m.

Shooting will be with rifles and pistols only, with several classes of shooting with both types of weapons. The public is invited to attend, and there will be no admission fee charged.

Pee Wee Gridders Clash

The 1960 season for the Scurry County Boys Club Pee Wee Football League comes to a rousing climax this evening when the Pee Wee All Stars clash with the powerful Little All American Rockets of Wichita Falls in Tiger Stadium.

Prior to that, however, three awards will be presented by John Conley, Snyder High School coach. The awards will go to the top back, top lineman and to the player voted tops in sportsmanship during the regular Pee Wee season here this year.

The squad of all stars, selected from the rosters of all Pee Wee teams in the city, has been working under the supervision of Walter Hines, Lonnie Crosby and Norman Fuiks, all-star coaches. The Rockets, who are scheduled to pull into town this afternoon and remain overnight after the ball game will bring an impressive 7-1 win-loss record.

The Wichita Falls aggregation took a 6-0 decision from the locals in the third annual star game here last year.

Tonight's appearance will be the second for the Wichita Falls team in an annual all-star game here. Visiting teams from the first two Pee Wee All star games came from the Panther Boys Club in Fort Worth.

Admission prices for tonight's contest are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. The proceeds will go to support the Pee Wee football program in Snyder.

Baseball In Cuba Faces Poor Gates

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's labor unions have moved to save professional baseball from collapse in Cuba, where for the first time in history the game is being played without Americans.

A number of the unions announced plans today to purchase box seats for the current season which has seen games played to nearly empty houses since the opening two weeks ago.

Even the personal appearance of Castro at the curtain raiser failed to fill more than about half of the 30,000-seat stadium. Since then there has been a sharp decline in attendance.

The International League franchise was moved from Havana to Jersey City late last season on orders of the league president, Frank Shaughnessy.

Whether the lack of American fans is responsible for the attendance decline is a matter of conjecture. Baseball men here say it could be a factor because the lack of players from the United States has forced the Cubans to draw on untested youngsters and as the result there has been a corresponding decline in the quality of play.

However, at the same time they point out the general deterioration of the economic situation as another possible reason. All Cuban citizens have been forced to take salary cuts while paying the highest income tax in history plus contributing to a myriad of government fund-raising schemes.

It is understood that the labor unions were asked to help out after the national sports directorate rejected a request by club owners for subsidy of $80,000 to see them through the season.

The players themselves were asked to take a 25 per cent salary cut as a patriotic gesture. order issued by Commissioner American players were barred Ford Frick.

Election Over, But Shouting Endures, Especially in Texas

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff Writer

The jubilant election of 1960 for all practical purposes, ended Tuesday when the final polls were closed, but in Texas as in many areas the shouting still persisted.

There were shouts of "four" from Republicans who claimed they were city-slipped at some points.

There were shouts of "I want a boy" from citizens who backed the winning Democratic Party ticket.

And of course there were shouts of joy from the Democrats, out of power for what to them must have seemed a long, long years after the hey-day of the Roosevelt-Tammian regime.

Meanwhile, Vice President-El Lyndon B. Johnson, who shouted himself hoarse for the Democrats' cause before the election victory, continued conferences with party leaders.

Johnson talked by telephone Thursday with Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic standard-bearer in 1952 and 1956, and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago.

He also talked via phone with President-elect John F. Kennedy who will visit Johnson's farm in Washington, where the Johnson daughters, Linda Bird and Lucy Barnes, are in school.

Considerable shouting also erupted over Johnson's successor.

There has been some conjecture that William Buckley, interim U.S. senator when Gov. Price Daniel resigned the post several years ago, would get the nod from Daniel again.

But when Johnson resigns the seat, a date he says he has not set, has much to do with the situation. Some believe he will stay on as senator until just before the new Congress is organized.

If he does, it might give him a stronger voice in the Senate organization. But, on the other hand, such a course possibly could antagonize persons he would like to have solidly behind the new administration.

Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, another man prominently mentioned as Daniel's possible interim appointee, said Thursday he would like to be in the Senate but had not made a final decision on seeking the post.

A special election, which must be held regardless of the interim appointment, must be called within 30 days after Johnson resigns. It must be held within 60 to 90 days after it is called, and under new election laws—a runoff must be held if no candidate receives a majority of the votes.

"Some have suggested that the governor appoint me," Wright said. "I have not encouraged anyone to do that." Wright said he realized the governor's position had added nothing to the issue.

"I think the proper thing probably would be for him to appoint someone who will not seek the full term and let the public have a free and open choice."

Other Democrats of varying hues, have suggested former Rep. Ed Goffett of Dallas, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

And in Dallas, what Daniel appointed him, but Republican John Tower of Wichita Falls, who polled more than 800,000 votes against Johnson, may be a candidate in the special election.

Dist. Atty. Doug Crouch of Tarrant County, quoted an assistant attorney general, Dean Davis, as saying there was no objection to complaints from Thad Hutcheson, GOP state chairman from Houston, of voting irregularities in Tarrant County.

Crouch said also that John Edwards, the Tarrant County Republican chairman, had withdrawn the complaints.

At Tyler, the FBI completed a probe of alleged federal election law violations. U.S. Dist. Atty Paul Brown said the investigation was made after he received an oral statement from a Republican. The Democrat denied the accusations, Brown said.

And in Dallas, W. G. Vill, district director of the Civil Service Commission had some information for job hunters.

"Looking at the national picture," he said, "94 percent of the 2,225,000 federal employees are under the Civil Service competitive system and cannot be touched by so-called patronage."

There are only about 3,700 positions generally considered as patronage, Gill's figures also reflected that federal jobs hardly make the holder rich. Slightly more than 2,000 of the nation's federal employees make more than $15,000 per year.

Washington (AP)—As Vice President Richard M. Nixon was the right to another shot at the presidency by his strong popular vote showing against Sen. John F. Kennedy in Tuesday's election? The answer to this question is puzzling. There are all shades of opinion today. It is a query that only the political developments of the next four years can answer.

In those four years, while Nixon holds the usually vacuous role of titular party leader, other Republicans will be busy. Men like Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois will be in the daily news. Some little-known Republican governor may blossom into a national figure.

The first tendency of many Republicans is to write off Nixon's future, chances because he lost in a contest at the beginning of which he seemed to have everything going his way.

He had behind him nearly eight years of the best kind of training, a popular Republican president could give him for the job. He had visited 53 foreign countries and talked with their leaders. He had argued with Nikita Khrushchev and, according to the Nixon version, had "stood up" to the man who had become to many Americans the world's most menacing villain.

At 47 Nixon was young, vigorous, progressive in his views and politically astute.

Generally speaking, times were good. The pocketbook issue appeared to figure only in spotted areas. Although the cold war danger clouds hung low, the nation was at peace. No American was fighting anywhere in the world.

President Eisenhower — probably still the single most popular man in the country — was enthusiastically for him. Republican liberals and conservatives temporarily had forgotten their differences, and were working hard for him.

All of this leaves Nixon in the plight of an also-ran who can hardly expect to operate under as favorable circumstances if he tries again for the prize.

Nixon's plans for the future are not known. But whatever role he takes as a private citizen he probably would find that Kennedy's face and Kennedy's record would be imprinted on the voters while his own political accomplishments would be largely forgotten.

Kennedy might stumble in the presidency and thus give the Republicans hope of unseating him in 1964. The Republicans are not noted for returning losers in such circumstances. They tried it only once, with Dewey in 1948. But Dewey had kept himself in the news and had retained his political power as governor of New York.

If he can get re-elected as the Empire State's governor in 1962, Rockefeller will have what amounts to a first mortgage on the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

This may take some doing in a state that Nixon lost by 400,000 votes, despite what the vice president himself described as the governor's highly satisfactory and vigorous support of the Nixon cause.

If it came to a battle of personalities again in 1964, Rockefeller could match Kennedy in this field. But even if he were re-elected, Rockefeller would face the same sort of fight from party conservatives that Eisenhower had to overcome to win the nomination.

Goldwater, who has graduated into the role of spokesman for the party conservatives, has made it clear he doesn't want Rockefeller as the nominee. But the conservatives don't often get their way at GOP nominating conventions.

Junior Editors Quiz on HEALTH

QUESTION: What is the Finnish sauna?

ANSWER: The sauna is a steam bath. Almost every Finnish farm has its own steam room. The Finns create the steam by heating stones and then pouring water on them. The Finns have been convinced for many years that taking steam baths is a good way to keep bodies strong. Some steam bathtubs go one step further — after leaving the steam room they plunge into snow. Going from hot to cold is not unusual among people who take steam baths. In the modern steam room there are days a nearby tub of cold water or a cold water shower ready for use by steam bathers. Steam baths were popular among the ancient Romans who built sumptuous public baths.

FOR YOU TO DO: After a shower or bath, you can imitate the Finns by rubbing yourself briskly with a heavy towel or swinging it in an arc around your body, so that the towel strikes your back.

"AM I RICH"

...this thoughtful man reflects. Men call him a captain of industry but that may not make him successful. He has no fear of the future as far as the comforts of life go but, never-the-less, he stands in pensive thought. Has he given companionship to his children? Has he taken them to the right places? How often has he sat with his family in church? Would they call him a good Father, a successful husband? Has he shared in building a good community and civic institutions? Any man is much richer who does these things. But who is the truly rich man? What is the distinguishable mark? If he should die this night, who would miss him? Would neighbors be made poorer by his going? Would any hungry folk go without food because his hand was stayed? Perhaps he is asking the ancient question... am I rich with God? All of us should ponder, "just what will I carry into His presence when I go?" What are the qualities which make a rich person? That man is truly rich who leaves a poorer world by his going. Then come with me to church and learn of the ways of God.
