REPORTS SLATED

Board Agenda Set For Monday

A report on progress of Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Act of 1965 and discussion of the final report of academics and curriculum by the Chamber of Commerce education committee are expected to highlight the February meeting of the Colorado School Board Monday night.

Supt. of Schools Frank W. Wilson and Federal Programs Director Earl Cook are expected to go over progress on new personnel and equipment acquired through the program of federal aid to the local schools. Confirmation of new certified personnel in the program is also expected to be made.

The education committee report will be a summary taken from the original findings of citizens' groups, local teachers, CHS graduates, and college and a recent session of citizens.

Mrs. Bob Reilly, committee chairman, said she expected to be present for the Monday meeting to answer any questions the board might have regarding the final report.

The board is also expected to call an election of school trustees for April 2. Filing deadline for the two board seats coming up for grabs will be March 2 in the school tax office.

Other items on the meeting's agenda include:

- Financial reports on the regular and athletic budgets and the transportation, construction and "Elementary and Secondary Act" accounts.
- Report on Title II project of the Elementary and Secondary Act of 1965.
- Making of plans for opening bids on science lab equipment.
- Report on status of drivers' education program for the current and summer semesters.
- Report on plans for improving the practice field north of Wolf Stadium.

C-City Loses, Sets Finale

Colorado City Wolves were virtually eliminated from the 5-AA league race by losing a 53-44 beating from the second place Haskell Indians.

The Wolves trailed 24-22 at halftime, but never could seem to get their offense rolling like it has in the past couple of games.

Jerry Franks hit for 15 points to lead Wolf scorers while Gary Parker made 14.

Ronnie Josselott and Perry Turnbow topped Haskell with 18 and 16 points.

The Indians still only had a narrow lead after three quarters at 40-35, but they outscored the Wolves 13-9 in the final period to move ahead for the win.

The loss left the Colorado City team with a 7-4 district record and Haskell at 8-3. Front running, Anson leads the league with a 10-2 district mark.

In the season finale for the local team the Wolves host Stamford in Wolf Gym Tuesday night.

Haskell won the B-team game 48-38 behind the 16-point production of Keith Chapman. Perry Rudnick topped C-City with 10 points.

VOLUNTEER SPEAKS

Topic: The Peace Corps

Hubert Jones has just returned from two years work with the "Keinedy Corps" in Malaysia.

Who here in the United States, know the organization better as the Peace Corps, but the Malaysian people with their strong feeling of closeness for the late John F. Kennedy, have tabbed it with a different name.

Hubert Jones, a former Wallace School student, is back — full of stories about the people and the land where he spent the last two years of his life.

His two years were spent in the compound of Sungir-Manggis teaching and giving practical instruction in industrial arts and agriculture to the people of the Southeast Asian country.

He lived in a house made of bamboo and rattan built on stilts.

One might think the stilts were to put air between Hubert and his two pet pythons that resided on the ground under the structure — but Hubert says, the stilts kept his quarters from the dampness of decay in the tropical climate.

"The longest dry season while I was there was one month," Hubert related after describing the monsoon period where rainfall was almost constant for three months.

The two pythons were the result of a request by the Peace Corps worker for snakes to use in a science course at the school. He was admittedly somewhat "shocked" when a villager turned up at his front door with the male and female specimens that measured some ten and 12 feet respectively.

Hubert's first notion of joining up with the Peace Corps came while studying at Prairie View A&M in 1962.

A recruiter for the group came by the college and Hubert later sent in an application. On Sept. 16, 1963 he was accepted.

After months of intensive training on both "American and Malaysian customs, culture and language at Northern Illinois University and the University of Hawaii, Hubert arrived in Malaysia Jan. 2, 1964 for duty.

At the Illinois school the Peace Corps volunteers studied the Malaysian language and Southeast Asia subjects in addition to such courses as American philosophy and history.

In Hawaii the volunteers went into the "field" to live and learn under assimilated conditions akin to those to be encountered in their country of destination.

Working with the local natives, Hubert first encountered the language difficulties that brought trouble in to achieving a good teacher-student relationship.

Leaving Hawaii his group traveled via Japan and Hong Kong on their way to work in Malaysia and Hubert's 150-student school.

He said many of the country's people "had no idea where America was." Some that did "thought all Americans were rich."

A very close relationship with the late President Kennedy was felt by many that Hubert encountered. "He was symbolic of world peace to these people," Hubert said. "And Kennedy was many times pictured in the same light as the late Prime Minister Nehru of India."

Speaking about the Malay people and society, Hubert said there were three distinct groups — the Chinese who were principally businessmen and shopkeepers; the Indians who made up the laboring class; and the Malays who are primarily landowners.

Over half the people are school age and under. Some 75 percent of the adult population is illiterate. Most of the educated people have only a sixth grade education.

Hubert said the Malay language was difficult to master. "Where we need only about 250 words to carry on conversation — they require over 2,000," he said.

"Most of Hubert's students were eager to learn and additional classes were taught to take care of all wanting to attend.

He gave his pupils and the natives practical instruction during the day and bore down on classwork at night.

The school was very modern as were the citizens, but the rural area was hurt by a lack of knowledge about sanitary facilities and their use.

Hubert taught personal hygiene and sanitation to his students and the villagers. He said the young were eager to learn and most followed instructions, but the older

Council Sets Discussion Of Downtown Parking

CONTROL NEED VOICED

Survey Majority Against Meters

In a survey of 50 Colorado City shoppers 71 percent said they preferred not to have parking meters downtown.

Disenters totaling 23 percent asked to have the meters put back into operation.

One line of thought ran through each of the 50 answers to the questions asked by a Record reporter — that was the need for control of parking in the area whether it was done by meters or some other method.

Marking of tires and a two-hour parking time limit was the alternate suggestion made by most of the parking meter opponents.

A lot of people go out of town to avoid meters. Also, changing to more space the angle of parking, needs us."

Many of those against the meters cited the problem of not having change to feed the machines.

Various complaints, also were made against the angle of parking used in the downtown area.

Those advocating the return of meters of another method made these comments:

"Probably workers using spaces rather have meters than walk."

"Sometimes my husband lets me out and drives around the block. I like the fire marking system."

"I can't find a place to drive somewhere else."

"Twice as hard to park. Need meters back."

"Almost impossible to park. Rather pay a penny than walk several blocks."

The key word in the sentiments of those questioned was that of control whether it was by meters or marking tires or some other method.

There was, however, much animosity against the parking meters expressed by those interviewed.

Dr. Quillian Speaks Today At Church

A Sunday afternoon workshop and the evening worship services at First Methodist Church will be conducted by Dr. Joseph Quillian Jr., dean of Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University.

The workshop slated for 3 p.m. today will be for members of the commission on worship and other church members. Arrangements for the session are under the guidance of Mrs. Charles C. Thompson, commission chairman.

Dr. Quillian will also conduct evening worship services at 6:30 p.m. He is the first in a series of guest leaders in a commissions revival.

First coming to Perkins in 1954, he became dean of the school in 1960. Dr. Quillian is a professor of worship and theology.

Among the organization of which he holds are vice president of the Association of Methodist Theological Schools and the Association of the American Theological Schools and chairman of the Council of Southwestern Theological Schools.

City Marks Three Auto Accidents

Three accidents were reported to Colorado City police last week.

At 11 p.m. Tuesday an auto driven by Jesse Lee Moon, 850 E. 13th St., struck a parked vehicle belonging to Cora Guerin Pace. Scene of the accident was on E. 13th, just north of the Waco St. intersection. $325 damage was estimated to the Moon-auto and $150 to the Pace car.

Vehicles driven by Ella Moore, Villa Inn, and Billie Ruffin, 1406 Pine, were involved in an accident in the 1400 block of Elm St.

Damage was estimated at $100 to the Moore car and $25 to the Ruffin vehicle.

An auto driven by P. C. Smith Box 974, hit a highway sign on E. 2nd St. just east of the Hickory St. intersection with an estimated $250 damage to his vehicle.

Damage to the sign was set at $15.

Straw Vote May Be Taken

City Council takes up the controversial downtown parking situation in their Monday session at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Parking is expected to highlight the session after weeks of discussion by "pro-parking meter" advocates and those opposing the reinstatement of these meters.

In a telephone conversation with J. C. Britton, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee, he told the Record that "his group would definitely make a recommendation to the City Council Monday night."

Britton declined, however, to reveal the nature of the group's request. "I had rather not talk about it until after the council meeting," Britton said.

Heart Talk Set At CHS

Dr. Hugh Wilson, prominent cardiac and thoracic surgeon speaks to the Colorado High student body Tuesday at 2:15 p.m. under sponsorship of the Mitchell County Heart Association.

The local speaker is one of many prominent physicians bringing the "heart story" to the population according to Bob Barman, president of the Mitchell County group.

Prior to his local appearance, the noted speaker will be on hand for a noon luncheon and professional meetings in Snyder.

In other Heart Association activity Barman noted that the "Heart Days for Business" solicitation would be conducted Feb. 19-23 in the community.

Heart Talk Set At CHS

In a talk with councilman C. G. "Skoot" Harkins, he said his sentiments rested with the merchants at this time.

Paul Boyd Hunter, another councilman, said that the "feeling of the public was needed."

C. C. "Mike" Barr said he felt the council would abide by the public's wishes.

All indications point to a recommendation from the merchants group for putting the issue on the city election ballot for a "straw vote" of the public.

Although it is not definitely known, most talk has it that this will be the wishes of the merchants.

Little League Meet Set Monday Night

All persons interested in Little League baseball are invited to attend an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Any manager, coach or worker is asked to attend the session.

Suicide Tries Are Futile

A Colorado City man, Floyd Jay Barr, has been committed to Big Spring State Hospital for treatment following two unsuccessful suicide attempts in the county jail Monday night.

Barr was charged Monday with a felony driving while intoxicated charge in 32nd District Court for an alleged offense Sunday, Feb. 6.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Richards took Barr into custody Monday night in Lorraine on a drunk charge and on the way to Colorado City, Barr attempted to jump from the car.

After being jailed in Colorado City later Monday night, Barr twice attempted suicide, according to Sheriff Lewis Claxton.

Tuesday he was committed to the state hospital as an emergency case and on Thursday received a 90-day commitment.

Bishop To Confirm Ten Persons Today

Confirmation services will be conducted by The Right Reverend George H. Quarterman of Amarillo in the All Saints Episcopal Church at 9 a.m. today.

He is the Bishop of the Northwest Texas Diocese and is expected to confirm ten persons in the ceremony.

ESTIMATED DIVERSION

Advance Payment Ready on Cotton

Upland cotton farmers who take part in the 1966 cotton program may receive in advance half of the estimated diversion payment to be earned, Jack Litan, member of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced.

The advance payment will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time. This provision of the program should be of substantial benefit to growers who can use some extra-ready cash during the spring planting season. The program sign-up at the ASCS County Office started Jan. 24 and will continue through April 1.

Litan emphasized the importance of signing up in the cotton program. This year, filing a sign-up application form is necessary for all cotton farm operators who wish to qualify for any of the program benefits.

This applies to operators on "small farms" as well as the larger ones.

Farmers will have a choice of diverting either 125 or 25 or 35 percent of the farm's effective allotment from the production of cotton, and devoting such acreage to a conserving use. The diversion payment — at 10.5 cents a pound on the projected yield of the acreage diverted — will be made only for the number of acres signed up, not more.

Operators of small farms (those with an allotment of not more than 10 acres or on which the projected production is not more than 3,000 pounds) need not reduce acreage below the farm allotment in order to qualify for diversion payments at the maximum level of 35 percent of the allotment; however, where acreage is actually diverted on such farms, an additional diversion payment will be made on the acres signed up and diverted.

By taking part in the 1966 cotton program, farmers may qualify for price-support loans and extra price support in the form of payments as well as for the diversion payments.

CONSERVATION PROGRAM

New Terrace System Aids In Distribution

Rex T. McKenney of Westbrook is improving his farm and rangeland under the Great Plains Soil Conservation Program through the Soil Conservation Service.

Parallel terraces and construction of a waterway have alleviated washing and erosion of soil on his farm.

He has also constructed a farm tank and grubbed 107 acres of mesquite on his rangeland. Some 320 acres of rangeland has been sprayed by aerial application.

After estimating repair labor and expense on his old system of conventional terraces, McKenney decided to construct some five and a half miles of new parallel ones.

Instead of having the 10-12 conventional terraces, the parallel system only required one. The old type helped in stopping erosion, but due to their steep grade, the water was not distributed evenly. Extensive land leveling, in between the parallel terraces allows for better distribution of water and lets the rain sink where it falls.

The level grade of the land between the parallel terraces also makes for easier machine harvesting of the crop.

McKenney's four new terraces are on 130 acres of land used for growing cotton, grain sorghum and small grains.

Great Plains program provides 75 percent of the financing on the new terraces and the landowner pays the remainder. His terraces cost 10 cents per foot.

At this time McKenney has plans for terracing 250 more acres next year by the same method.

McKenney constructed his waterway to combat outside water from a nearby highway. The 50 foot wide project now carries the runoff some half mile through his farm without damage to his terrace system.

The waterway has been seeded with Western Wregrass. In the near future McKenney has plans for basal oil spraying of 450 acres of range land infested with mesquite, prickly pear, catclaw and other types of cacti and shrubs.

The government and farmer share the cost 50-50 on this work, depending on the infestation—an acre cost $8-15 to have sprayed. Aerial application usually costs $2.50 per acre.

Deferring and rotating the use of pastureland for grazing will be the acreage additional plans for improvement.

named, celebrated in advance with a family party, together.

It was not any one's birthday party but of an anniversary. But Mrs. Rube Hart, the former Leta Dorn, decided to have turkey dinner because the seven Dorn "children" were all 40-49-50-51-52-53-54-55-56-57-58-59-60-61-62-63-64-65-66-67-68-69-70-71-72-73-74-75-76-77-78-79-80-81-82-83-84-85-86-87-88-89-90-91-92-93-94-95-96-97-98-99-100.

Object of the turkey dinner, Mrs. Hart, who is Mrs. T. J. Coffee of Loraine is 90. Still alert, though sometimes frail, Mrs. Coffee came to enjoy the party, too.

Mrs. T. C. Richardson was born Una Dorn. Mrs. W. E. Thurgill, Emma to her family and friend, Marvin Dorn and Pierce Dorn completed the guest list for the holiday dinner cooked by Mrs. Hart.

Pierce Dorn is "the baby" of the family. He is 75 and still lives at the old "Dorn Place" where the original J. M. Dorn reared his family of 11 children.

Marvin Dorn, who lives between Colorado City and Westbrook is in his eighties and still drives his tractor and does active farming.

"We're strong stock," one member of the family observed after the party.

"We're mostly a sort of historical society," laughed Mrs. Hart, who presided at the table in the first place.

After that is over he expects to work for an organization like CARE or UNICEF and plans a return to his teaching in Southeast Asia.

Wallace Wins Eighth District Title In A Row

After two postponements due to hazardous weather conditions and three weeks of restless anxiety while awaiting the opportunity to clinch the 1965-66 District 1-B title, the Wallace Wildcats finally nailed down their eighth consecutive district basketball crown and their tenth in eleven years by smashing Olton's Bohner High School quintet, 74-40, in Wallace Gym.

As a result, the Wildcats will now participate in the state basketball tournament, which will be held at Prairie View A&M College Friday and Saturday.

The Wildcats' fantastic record of ten championships and one second place finish in eleven seasons at the district level is a feat unparalleled in the history of the Prairie View Interscholastic League.

After winning their first district championship in 1956 and repeating in 1957, the Wildcats were edged out in 1958 by a potent Crane aggregation which went on to snare the state crown.

E. V. Wilder Goes Home After Illness

E. V. Wilder was returned to his home in DeQueen, Arkansas Wednesday after having been hospitalized for several months.

Wilder, former longtime manager of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, suffered a stroke while visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paris Yarbrough, Oct. 29. He was transferred from Root Memorial Hospital to the Veterans Administration hospital in El Paso, Texas.

Mrs. Wilder accompanied her husband in the ambulance which took him home.

Wallace won state championships in both 1959 and 1960 in Class B competition before being assigned to Class A at the beginning of the 1960-61 school term. During five years in Class A competition, the Wildcats won five district championships and one state championship, which provided a glorious climax to the 1961-62 basketball season.

Coming almost simultaneously with the announcement that Paducah's Dunbar quintet had forfeited its final district contest to the Wildcats, the victory over Olton enabled Coach Billy Smith's eaglets to register a perfect 8-0 record in district play and set a new full-season standard at 28-2, with two non-district contests remaining to be played.

Wayne Russell led the Wildcats to victory with 17 points, while M. T. Thompson and Ben Harris shared scoring honors for Olton with ten each.

Other Wildcats scorers in double figures were Willie Brown, who hit 16; Curtis Taylor, who bagged 14; and Melvin Williams, who bucketed 11.

Wallace led, 25-10, after the first quarter, and coasted to a 46-17 half-time margin. With both teams tallying nine points in the third quarter, the Wildcats carried a 55-26 lead into the final period.

The Wallace girls also won, romping to a 64-31 victory over their Olton counterparts. Joyce Lowey and Davie Green, Wallace forwards, popped the nets for 24 points each to take game honors. Lonnie Faye Williams chalked up 14 and Lonnie Russell meshed two to round out the scoring for Wallace.

Josephine Springer, Olton's highly regarded candidate for district honors, paced the visitors with 21 points.

LOCAL BIRD LIFE

Garden Club Members Stress Valentine Season

Colorado City Garden Club members observed the Valentine season Wednesday in Community Center with Mrs. John Brown as leader.

Program accent was on bird life, in keeping with the legend that birds seek their mates on Feb. 14, St. Valentine's Day.

Mrs. W. C. Berry, whose rural home in Riverview Community is a county show-place, took as her topic "My Happy Backyard Visitors." Mrs. Berry told Garden Club members that she has fed about 65 quail through the cold weather.

She also watches and provides food for mockingbirds, and such bird visitors as the thrasher, the cactus wren (state bird of Ariz) the juncos (rain crow) the Mexican flycatcher, the house wren, the canyon wren and the flickers (wood peckers).

Mrs. Berry's account included watching the nesting of a Mexican flycatcher in a guard.

"What I Do for the Birds" was the topic for Mrs. Sims A. Palmer. Her discussion highlighted sunflower seeds in safe and available spots for the cardinals which nest in residential areas here.

Mrs. Earl Brown's talk, "How to Attract Birds" was a lesson in helping the birds in rural areas to survive brush for shelter, bread crumbs and scraps during the cold weather. At the Brown farm-ranch she has spotted numerous wild ducks, mourning doves, mocking birds, humming birds—and the scissor-tails.

Arrangements using bird accessories were demonstrated by Mrs. Ruth Arhart, Mrs. Bruce Johnson and Mrs. Earl Brown with Mrs. E. M. Owen as judge. Planting of a tree to commemorate Texas Arbor Day was reported by Mrs. Owen, chairwoman of the Civic Committee.

A non-bearing mulberry tree from the J. Taylor home was transplanted to the playground area in Ruddick Park, Saturday, Feb. 5.

Members also set the date for their annual Tasting Tea, March 11. Details of plans for the tea will be announced.

Next regular meeting will be Wednesday, March 9, with "Texas Independence" as the program theme and Mrs. A. H. Jackson as leader.

Attending the Feb. 9 meeting were Mrs. R. D. Bridgford, Mrs. Roy Davis, Mrs. Coles, Mrs. Ben Elliot, Mrs. Chester Hart, Mrs. W. C. Hoofs, Mrs. Leon Jenkins, Mrs. A. H. Jackson, Mrs. Jesse B. Jones, Mrs. H. L. Lockhart, Mrs. J. B. Pritchett, Mrs. Kirk Taylor, Mrs. L. J. Taylor, Mrs. W. S. Edge, Mrs. Arhart, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Owen, Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. John Brown, and Mrs. Palmer.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

Valentine 1966

Roses are red
And this makes me blue —
Sugar is sweet
And fattening, too.

WE LIVE in a changing world. Hardly anybody over school-age bothers to celebrate Valentine Day any more. Aside from the heart-shaped boxes of candy on display and the "Heart Month" reminders being broadcast, Valentine season gets little enough attention these days. And that's sad. Lovers, new or old and chronic, don't just HAVE to have a day set aside to say "If you love me like I love you no knife can cut our hearts in two," of course. Average, busy, practical, down-to-earth people could use such a day for expressing the love — or just the likes in the heart. Even comic Valentines — the harmless ones — are better than none. Better than being ignored, that is.

Valentine to CBS "As the World"

Lost your marbles?
Well, I'm tellin'
You had better
Free our Ellen!

Valentine to Three Mary's

Mary Post
You're the most.
Mary, Mrs. J. Ralph Lee,
You're as nice as nice can be.
Mary, sister of my heart,
You're a doll. And also smart.

THIS line of foolishness and/or flattery could go on indefinitely. Only there's too much to talk about, this time. Favorite story of the week comes from Julie Jones. Seems that Mrs. Roxie Dill, the grandmother of Julie's husband Hughie Jones and his brother Murray Jones' C-City last weekend. She lives in Ontario, Canada, and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Al Louis, aunt and uncle of the Jones boys. The Canadian visitors stopped at a service station here to ask the way to Hughie and Julie's house. "It's just beyond the gin yard on this street," they were told. So they started looking for a distillery... and had to stop and ask again. "In Canada," said Mrs. Dill, "gin is a drink!"

SECOND favorite tale told is a cat tale — or is it, cat tail?

Pandora, the six year old Siamese pet in the home of the Glen Chapmans, 902 East 16th St., and their four children Keith, 12, Cindy, 11, Sherry, 9, and Jeffrey who is 5 has won herself a new movie camera.

Just for fun, Mrs. Chapman and the children sent Pandora's name in for a sweepstakes contest staged by Purina Cat Chow. Pandora won the fifth prize, the movie camera. Everybody but Jeffrey was surprised. He knew Pandora was a special cat.

Asked what she intends to do with her loot, Pandora arched her back and said "Meow." Which in cat talk means she's going to shoot pictures of the family she owns.

Valentine to Sheba

Sheba, my own pretty cat,
Why can't you get smart like that?

SEEN LATELYS included pretty Mrs. Gerald Matthews and her adorable little daughter named Tammy.

Frances (Mrs. Foy) Webb with a new "Dickie Bird" hair-do... Mrs. W. A. Sorrells saying her husband is improving after a recent illness... Jo Hart McCollum who has moved back to C-City from Snyder and is working in Eddie's Pharmacy. (Just the week after this column noted that Jo had moved to Snyder. That's the story of a columnist's life.)

MAIL CALL today brought two brighter than usual letters. First one was from Mae Jordan, wife of Jack. The Jordans their teenage sons and their three-year-old twins Joan and Julie have moved from Fremont to Dallas. They're former C-Citians.

Jack Jordan, Sun Oil man, is attending computer school (for Sun). Mae is seriously considering studying interior decorating at SMU. The family is well and happily excited about living in Big D. "But we're missing our C-City Records!" writes Mae with a plea for a quick change of address.

Guy and Eilon Burson, by the way, spent two nights in the Jordan home last weekend. The families were next-door neighbors here on Marshall St.

OTHER LETTER was signed by Wayne K. Tiller, editor of that slick little magazine Texas Parks & Wildlife. He is, by the way, nephew of E. L. and Jewel Tiller, cousin of Rodday and Anne. Didn't know that. After saying "thank you for your column and your

C. L. Grable Honor Guest

Progressive 42 Club members honored their oldest member Thursday night, with a party to mark the birthday of C. L. Grable.

Mr. Grable celebrated his 90th birthday, Feb. 1. The "Happy Birthday" theme was used in decorations and refreshments. A pink birthday cake decorated with confetti roses was inscribed with "Happy Birthday" and the figure 90.

Members of the club and guests sang the birthday song to Mr. Grable and served the cake with coffee and hot chocolate.

Present for the party were Mrs. Zanny Key, Mrs. Rosie Ayers, Mrs. Clara Mae Jones, and Mrs. Grable's sister Mrs. Fitts.

Miss Wanda Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Markham, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Phariss, Mrs. Myrtle Shults, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Young and Herman Ray, W. M. Turner, Mrs. Nora Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bloodworth, Mrs. Lollie Beekham, Mrs. Ida Mae Jones, Mrs. Nell Scribner, and the honor guest Mr. Grable.

Rev. Nipp Makes Radio Broadcast

Rev. D. L. Nipp of Dunn will be speaker for the "This I Believe" program today at 2 p.m. on radio station KVMC. Subject of Rev. Nipp's broadcast is "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only, and deceivers of yourself."

mention of our article about the Christmas dinner." Wayne writes "Although you seem to take some exception to our use of rattlesnake for appetizers, the next time I am in Colorado City area I would like to offer you some if I can obtain the raw ingredients between now and then... when properly prepared, either broiled, baked or deep fried rattlesnake is a very delicious meal and, of course, there is no danger of receiving any venom."

Dear Gassie Gumbel! Done met myself comin' back!

Valentine to Editor Tiller

Dear sir, dear sir, and thy good man
I won't eat it. Don't think I can.
Taint the venom after he's caught
It's the thought of eatin' him. The Very thought!

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought little chats with pretty Mrs. Perry O. Barber... Mrs. Royce Mphon, over from Loraine... Mrs. E. H. Winn on an office visit... Bill Doss subbing for Eddie Piland one afternoon... Ed (Mrs. H. H.) Simon on the shopping scene.

Saw Ruth Grantland again... and pretty Janet McMullen, Rainbow girl.

Danny Majors is the proudest one! He's got ski scars to show. He and his pretty wife Linda spent last weekend at the ski resort in Ruidoso and also visited Cloudcroft. At Ruidoso they bumped into our Dr. Larry Rudd and his wife of Roswell, N.M. The Rudds are both ski enthusiasts and Danny says Larry is really great at it.

Valentine to Nell

Dear Nell Scott
I like you a lot.

Valentine Finale

Dearest Mother, Mother mine
You're my lifelong Valentine.

OZARK HONEYMOON

Kelley-Cunningham Wedding In Abilene

The marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Kelley of Midland to C. Harvey Cunningham, also of Midland, is being announced by Mrs. Arthur Kelley, mother of the bride, of 1924 Locust St., in Colorado City.

Wedding of the couple took place at 2 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Johnny Bullock, at Abilene with members of the immediate families as guests.

The Rev. C. G. Sewell of Sweetwater, uncle of the bride officiated for the double ring vows.

Mrs. Bullock attended her sister as matron of honor. Attending the bridegroom as best man was R. J. Baugh of Midland.

Playing traditional organ selections for the ceremony was Mrs. Milford Prichard of Abilene, who also accompanied the wedding soloist, Johnny Bullock, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride wore for her wedding a suit designed of white silk. Her bridegroom wore a tuxedo to a small matching party.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Bullock home before the bride and groom left for wedding trip to the Ozark Mountains. After their honeymoon, the

Mrs. Orynski Funeral Held

Friends of Mrs. Leonard (Jim) Orynski, former resident of Colorado City, have learned of her death in Houston.

Mrs. Orynski, native of Waco and widow of a Standard Oil Co. geologist, lived in Dallas for more than 20 years after leaving Colorado City. She had moved from Dallas to San Antonio a year ago.

Funeral and burial were in San Antonio. Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Maury Maverick of San Antonio and Mrs. Calvine Woodward of Uvalde; sister Mrs. Orlena Elliott of San Antonio; brother Hugh Elliott of Pasadena, Calif.; and two grandchildren. She was the cousin of Mrs. Chester Hart, Colorado City.

EARL CHURCHES

Review & Reports At Historical Meet

Mrs. Truman Nix reviewed the history of local churches at the regular meeting of the Mitchell County Historical Society and Historical Survey Committee.

Colorado City's early history was closely interwoven with the organization of religious groups, she said. Historians have found in their research of early churches in Texas that the usual trend was contrary to this local interest in religions.

Duplicate Play at Club

Country Club Duplicate games, open to all women players each Thursday, attracted four tables of players at 1:30 Thursday in the clubhouse party rooms. Winning high score were Mrs. E. R. Nemir and Mrs. R. L. Haney, team from Roscoe. Mrs. J. W. Handle and Mrs. Fran Thomson won second honors. Mrs. Bob Shamburger and Mrs. Gary Baker placed third. Mrs. W. R. Powell and Mrs. H. D. Bridgford won fourth place.

Attending the meeting at the Mitchell County Courthouse were Judge Elmer Martin, Harry Ratliff, Mrs. Curtis Erwin, Sr., Mrs. Hoyt Roberts, Westbrook, Mrs. Rex McKenney, Westbrook, Mrs. Douglas Burns, Mrs. J. W. Watson, Mrs. Truman Nix, Miss Violet Moeser, Miss Martha Earpest, Mrs. Don Guilar, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Bennett, and Mrs. Nix.
