Town talk

By Mac McKinnon

Annie Get Your Gun is 2½ hours of pure entertainment. It will be presented by Colorado City Playhouse beginning tonight for six performances including tonight, tomorrow and Saturday and again next weekend; April 13, 14 and 15. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for each performance.

Tickets are now on sale for $3.50 per person and reservations may be made by phoning 728-3491 or going by the Opera House ticket office. Mrs. H. Jene Steakley is in charge of reservations.

Since tickets went on sale Monday, sales have been brisk and as of Tuesday afternoon, about 80 tickets have been sold for opening night and about that many more for Friday. A number of tickets have also been sold for the other performances. A large portion of the reservations have come from out of town patrons.

There are only 160 seats in the Opera House and all are good seats. Reservations should be made as soon as possible in order to make sure you can get a seat the night you want to attend.

The Irving Berlin two-act musical is a very exciting play and the way it is presented here will make it even more enjoyable. The sets and costuming are elaborate. This production has been in rehearsal since mid-January and was originally to be presented in early March but due to sickness and bad weather interrupting rehearsals, it had to be delayed.

The audience will benefit from this delay as it gave the cast a chance to further polish this production. I've seen this musical presented on the professional stage and believe the Colorado City production will be ever bit as good as you have seen or could see anywhere.

There are 32 members of the cast, a number of whom play several roles. They have all been dedicated to the task at hand and it hasn't been easy because Annie Get Your Gun requires a lot of details to be worked out. This required a lot of hours on the part of all the cast. For almost three months, rehearsals have been going on for at least four days a week and in recent weeks, rehearsals have been going on six days a week. Rehearsals last a minimum of two hours and many are as long as four hours each.

In addition, those involved in constructing scenery and costumes have spent many, many hours on this play. George Womack, for instance, has spent at least 60 hours just painting scenery and it is good.

Trina Taylor has been in charge of costuming and with the assistance of a number of people, has come up with costumes that'll make you think you are living in the 1890's.

Director is Marsha Moore and there's no telling how many hours she has put in working out the details of how the musical could best be presented.

There are many others who worked with staging, lighting and the many aspects of presenting a play including Playhouse President Carl Beery Moore, Porter Richardson, Anita Richardson, Shirley DeLaney, Ann Nobles, Tandy Curlee, Lovess Curlee, Jolyn Mikow and so many others it would be impossible to name them all without leaving someone out.

Every detail imaginable has been worked out to make sure this is an entertaining production. Consider for instance that there are four people working lights and sound effects, Bill Martin, Cara DeLaney, Orphie Conner and Craig Helm. There are at least 50 people who have had a hand in helping making this play a polished production including choreographer Cheryl Hines.

If you haven't ever seen Annie Get Your Gun, I'm sure you've heard the songs anyway. All of them are familiar tunes such as There's No Business Like Show Business, You Can't Get A Man With A Gun, Moonshine Lullaby, Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better, Doing What Comes Naturally, They Say It's Wonderful, I Got The Sun In The Morning, I'm An Indian, Too, The Girl That I Marry and Old Fashioned Wedding.

The story revolves around the true life story of sharpshooting Annie Oakley and her introduction to show business through Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. She falls in love with the show's sharpshooter, Frank Butler, who, in turn, is miffed by being shown up by a woman.

Complicating matters is the rival Pawnee Bill Far East Show. Chief Sitting Bull is being sought by both shows as an attraction and also to help with finances.

Sarah Coleman of Snyder, plays Annie Oakley. She steals the show and wil stun the audience with her acting and singing abilities. You know right off she's been on stage before including the last two summers in the famed Texas production at Canyon, in the leading roles in a number of plays at Western Texas College and had the lead part in the UIL one-act play that won the state championship in Snyder a few years back.

After this play she leaves for Dallas where she plans to turn professional. She is already a professional actress but soon she'll be getting paid for her acting abilities.

Playing opposite her in the role of Frank Butler is Sonny Pawkett. His quality tenor voice is familiar to playhouse goers and those who attend First Baptist Church where he sings in the choir. He also turns in a very fine performance.

Other major characters in the cast are Tandy Curlee as Buffalo Bill, Carl Beery Moore as Charlie Davenport, Trina Taylor as Dolly Tate, Kent Holder as Pawnee Bill and Mac McKinnon as Chief Sitting Bull.

Other parts of the performance that are particularly enjoyable are those involving Annie Oakley's sisters and brother played by Jamie Parker as Minnie; Kay McDonald as Jessie; Kim McKinnon as Nellie and Perry Conner as Little Jake.

There are the many others involved with which the play could not go on. Although they have small parts, there are none more important. Many of them have more than one part.

Those include Don DeLaney, Porter Richardson, Anita Richardson, Amy Moore, Kris Seale, Lovess Curlee, Frances Deregibus, Tom Wishart, Ray Anne Carlock, Nell Holman, Marjori Wishart, Lesa Wilkinson, Laurie Wilkinson, Alex Taylor, d'Arcey Taylor, Jay Piland, Tony Nobles, Margaret Bishop, Mike Rogers, Bill Vest and George Womack.

Musical director is Betty Holder on piano, accompanied by Addie V. Payne on the Playhouse's new Baldwin Organ.

This will rank with the best productions in Playhouse history and possibly could be the very best. See it!

Season tickets also are on sale costing $50 for 24 admissions; $30 for 12 admissions and $15 for six admissions.

Baseball Work Day Saturday

A work day to get the Texas freshman and midget baseball park in shape is slated for Saturday.

Beginning at 8 a.m., parents and interested persons are invited to meet at Ruddick Park to prepare the baseball field for another summer season of play.

J. B. Bodine, president of the Texas league program, noted that work will be done on the bleachers, concession stand, backstop and dug outs. He also said that the trees need to be pruned.

Bodine said that people should bring necessary tools and those who have questions should call him at 728-5467.

Chamber Ponders Rodeo Proposal

Whether to sponsor a rodeo was the major thrust of Monday night's monthly meeting of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Bobby Kelley, a rodeo stockman from Stanton, confronted the Chamber with the possibility of hosting an American Junior Rodeo Association rodeo July 5-8 in Colorado City.

Kelley explained to the Chamber that he would furnish all livestock and would direct the show for a fee between $2,700-$3,000.

The Chamber would net $3 of the entry fee for each contestant and the remainder of the fee would go toward prize money for the winners.

Kelley assured the Chamber that getting contestants for the rodeo would not pose a problem. He explained that the AJRA contacts each member so he knows where the rodeos are being held.

"As far as the contestants putting on a good rodeo goes, you see some real talent at these shows," said Kelley.

Because the Mitchell County Rodeo Arena has not been used for a rodeo in about four years, the Chamber discussed the matter of repairing the facilities.

Kenneth Beasley was selected to head up a committee to investigate the possibility of sponsoring a rodeo and check out the facilities. Other committee members include Larry Blassingame, Alton Raschke and Ken Godsey.

In other business, Drew Ballard reported that he had contacted Don Maynard, former New York Jets player from Colorado City, about speaking at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held in January. Ballard said that Maynard agreed to speak, although a date has not been set.

Regarding the Chamber of Commerce Church League Basketball Tournament played last weekend in Colorado City, it was reported that about 95c profit was netted for the Chamber.

"It may not have been a financial success," said Larry Winders, Chamber manager, "but people enjoyed it."

Winders noted that several of the players from out of town teams expressed an interest to compete in the tournament again next year.

In conclusion of the meeting, Winters who officially began his duties as Chamber manager this week, addressed the Chamber.

Among Winders' suggestions for the Chamber were for him to start a series of meetings with chairpersons of each committee to examine possible directions for the committees. He also suggested that the Chamber consider having a monthly newsletter.

Propects Interviewed

Loraine Seeks New City Clerk

Interviewing prospects to fill the slot of city clerk of Loraine was the bulk of the monthly session of the Loraine City Council Tuesday night.

Homer Hart, Loraine city clerk for some 34 years, resigned his post, effective March 31.

The Council interviewed seven possible candidates for the position, but did not make a decision regarding who will assume the duties.

In other business, results of the Loraine City Council election held Saturday were canvassed.

Doris Henderson, an incumbent, was sworn into the council. Roy Holland, the other elected councilperson, was unable to attend the Tuesday night meeting but will be sworn in at the next session.

Faye Hamilton, acting city clerk, informed the council that she had received a letter from the Texas Department of Community Affairs stating that funds were available to improve the personnel system of city governments. That is, the state will match funds of the town if the town wishes to participate. The council unanimously voted to send a letter of intent to the office of Community Affairs.

After a bit of discussion, the council agreed that it would be necessary to put a lock on the water tank used by the Loraine Volunteer Fire Department because unathorized persons were using the water.

By unanimous approval, the council voted to lock the water tank and to have a key available at city hall, but a $5 deposit must be put down to use the key. In addition, $1 will be charged per 1,000 gallons.

Other business for the evening included a report by Mrs. Hamilton concerning a special meeting of the council which was called Friday to accept the resignation of Hart.

Ambulance Trudges On

Mitchell County Ambulance Board is busily working to find an answer to the existing manpower problem which plagues the service.

They have recently contacted several independent services requesting bids according to Larry Hamner, board member.

A few answers have been received and are not promising.

One company would consider the service for $62,000 per year subsidy. Another company would consider the service for a slightly lesser amount but had no manpower.

Presently the service is still being run through the police department and made eight emergency runs and one dry run last week.

The board is still considering the plan which the hospital district submitted that would relocate the service in the hospital and utilize hospital personnel primarily and use police department personnel in rotational shifts.

The board is still investigating the possibility of a private service using the ambulances now in service.

Donations To Preserve Site

Donations totaling over $859 have been made by persons dedicated to the preservation of nearly a century of history.

The Scott-Majors Home has been designated the Heritage Museum by the Memory Preservation Inc. of Colorado City.

This old home will be restored as nearly as possible to the way it appeared when it was built in 1883.

Through the efforts of Lee Jones Jr. and the Memory Group, the old home has been nominated for the National Register. If elected it will be eligible for federal grants of 50 per cent matching funds to help in the restoration.

The Memory Group will use the Heritage House as a museum to display items of historical value from all parts of Mitchell County.

"More and more of our history is lost every day," Jones noted. "As original founders of Mitchell County and Colorado City die and their families scatter to different parts of the world the evidence of their heritage is scattered and lost," he stated. "It is hoped by the formation of this museum to preserve this heritage in a hope that future generations can enjoy and take pride in the reminders of their roots."

It is hoped by the Memory Group that individuals will honor this Heritage House Museum by establishing Memorial Funds in memory of loved ones. A special honor roll is planned and will be displayed to honor the memory of such donations.

It is also hoped that families will donate items of historical value which would be lost as pioneers die and families move to other locations.

All gifts and donations to the Museum should be made out to Memorial Preservation, Inc. and are tax deductable.

Interested persons may contact Lee Jones Jr., 341 Elm, Bobbie Steakley at 728-3120 or George Womack at City National Bank.

Loraine Baptist Women Have Mission Program

Women of the First Baptist Church, Loraine met at the church Monday afternoon for a Mission program.

Mrs. Clifton Henderson presided over the meeting and gave the introduction to the program on the subject "Health Care Ministries in Nigeria."

Meeting opened with song and prayer and during the business, Mrs. Harvey Leach, Community Mission's chairman, stated that project this month would be doing something for patients in the Loraine Nursing Home.

Mrs. L. E. Crutcher read the Calendar of Prayer and Mrs. H. C. Taylor gave the prayer for missionaries.

Discussing the topic were Mmes. Dexter Taylor, T. L. Holman, Buck Taylor, Luke Smith and Hall Bennett. They told how medical missionaries minister to Nigerian people in welfare centers and as they treat them physically they continually remind them that "God loves them." Another medical work in Ogbomosho area is the Kersey Home for motherless children, a clinic in the "Bush" gives aid, and in 1959 the nursing school was moved from Ogbomosho to Eku. The main help though is in giving these people the message that God loves them.

Mrs. H. G. Denson led the closing prayer.

Others present were Mmes. Lynn Compton, Clara Butler, Charlie Harris, Frances Porter, Pauline Smiley and Bernice Hallmark.

Two Attend Conention

Mrs. Doyle Hester and Mrs. Willie Taylor, members of the Atheneum Study Club of Loraine, attended the Mesquite District of Federated Women's Clubs held in Stamford, Wednesday, March 22.

Speaker for the programs was from the M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. He showed slides and gave a very informative talk on the research of cancer, noting the progress which has been made toward finding a cure for the disease.

Washington is giving Mitchell County the death sentence. Should we get a good lawyer and fight?

If you don't believe it, just look around you.

Our farmers are selling their products at 1951 prices, while their production costs have gone up 675% since then.

Housewives are being beaten to death by prices when they shop for food and clothing for their families. Nobody can believe what it costs for a bill of groceries today.

Are the merchants getting rich? Not on your life. Their profit margin, the thing that keeps them in business, is shrinking every day. All their costs are up, plus they have to wade through a deepening ocean of government red tape.

Does it sound to you like we may need some help? Does it sound like things may not be going our way? But, you say, maybe this is temporary. Maybe it is a passing thing. Maybe it will go away.

Stop dreaming. It not only is here to stay, it is going to get worse. Here's why.

The government controls our lives and our businesses. Congress runs the government. That means that congressmen in Washington control us. Now here is the sad part. Not many of those congressmen care about us. In fact, not many care about Texas—and most of those who do care and have some influence on other congressmen are about to retire.

That's right. Omar Burleson, Bob Poage, George Mahon, Olin Teague, men who have given Texas several decades of dedicated service as Congressmen, have chosen to retire.

So, at the very time when the men and women of our county are fighting for their economic lives, at the time their future is really on trial in Washington, a new man has to be put on their case.

That new man had better be a good man. He had better be one who can go into the courtroom of Congress and plead our case well. He had better be an experienced defender who can keep our citizens from being sentenced to more inflation, more red tape, higher costs, more government control.

For the future of your family, your friends, your neighbors, don't you agree?

We can have that kind of man in Washington fighting for us. Dusty Rhodes is a candidate for Congressman from the 17th District, of which our county is a part. Dusty is a lawyer. He is a trial lawyer—a good one.

That is why we need him in Washington. That is not the only reason. He is also a small businessman and he knows the kind of struggle they are having to make enough profit to stay in business.

He farms a little place and runs a few cows. You don't have to explain to him about the farm situation—he knows first-hand.

Dusty has a wife and four children. He can tell you about inflation and how the costs of providing for a family have skyrocketed.

He knows all that, but he also knows more. He knows how to defend someone. He knows what to do when the cards are stacked against him. He knows how to change people's minds. He knows how to handle a trial. . .and the people of our county are on trial. A trial for their livelihoods.

It is up to you. You can sit back and do nothing.
Or you can do something about it. You can send Dusty Rhodes to Washington to defend you.

A lot of your friends and neighbors have already decided to vote for a good defense. Won't you join them?

Colorado Middle School Chatter

You've heard of joy and sorrow, like one minute you are happy then another you are sad. Well, the CMS track girls faced these two problems last Friday.

Friday the girls traveled to Snyder. The weather was rather hot. Not only was the weather hot for the people at the track meet, but it made a good sale for the workers at the concession stand. Everyone was buying Cokes faster than the employees could fix them.

As the girls arrived, they set up camp, which is, in other words, a vacant area where we lay our blankets, first-aid kit, track shoes, etc. Later on the girls jogged around the field or just did a few stretching exercises to get ready for their events.

Events that took place in the finals were the shot, which was done by Venita Johnson with a distance measurement of 26'9".

Placing for the broad jump was Della Ausbie for second place with a measurement of 14' and Tomika Randle placing for sixth with a distance of 13'6½".

Sandy Castillo, Jana Bruce and Loretta Morris placed in the triple jump.

In the 80 meter hurdles, Loretta Morris placed second with a time of 13.1.

These are just a few of the seventh grade girls who placed for the finals.

By gaining and working as a team with our points, we accomplished (or achieved) a second place trophy plus an 880 and 440 relay trophy.

The C-City seventh grade girls came in with a total of 131 points.

On Thursday, March 30, the seventh and eighth grade choirs traveled to Cisco for a choir contest. They left at 5:30 a.m. In concert the choir received a II rating. After lunch on the Cisco College campus, solos and ensembles started.

Those making a I or excellent on their solos are: Tammy Bentley, Patricia Holguin, Loretta Morris, Carolyn Green, Venita Johnson, Holly Taplin, Brenda Williams, Donald Ridge and Shelia Crenshaw.

Those making a I on their duets were: Shelia Crenshaw and Tammy Bentley.

One trio made a I. It consisted of Kristie Swann, Loretta Morris and Lisa Rivera.

Two double trios made an excellent score of I. They are: Sherry Stinson, Debra Jackson, Tonja Randle, Teresa Bradley, Monique Taplin, Shirley Scott, and Brenda Williams and Venita Johnson, Holly Taplin, Michelle Franco, Norman Molina and Sally Martinez.

There were twenty soloists and people who participated in ensembles who received a II rating.

We are sure proud of all those people.

On the way back from Cisco the choir stopped at Westgate Mall in Abilene. They were free to eat or shop for 1½ hours. On the buses on the way back, it sure was quite.

In Mr. Welch's science class, students have been working on collecting flowering plants and arthropods. The grades given on these projects will be used as this six weeks exam. People can work as partners or as individuals. If they are working with partners, they need to collect 35 specimens. If they are working alone they need to collect 25 specimens.

The flowering plants are to be pressed and pasted on posterboard and identified. The arthropods are to be killed, identified, and pinned down to a piece of styrofoam.

These projects are due around May 26 and are to be completed. Each specimen that is wrong is counted off five points. Mr. Welch plans to take the students on field trips during their class for collecting specimens. On one of the trips, the students may go to the park on a bus.

Another dissection may take place if students will bring perch to the classroom. Mr. Welch gives each class a number of perch, depending on the size of the class--then the students will get the rest.

Guess what the Homemaking class is doing? They have just got finished making Southern Bisquits.

The class made the dry mixture Wednesday. Because they didn't have time to cook them, they decided to wait and cook them when they would have time to sit down and eat.

The week before the students did skits on two different chapters. They were called "How Food Changes You" and "Be Smart about Food." The students thought the others' skits were really educational.

The students have now placed their orders on what they want to be making in the sewing portion of the Homemaking class.

Last week in Language Arts, we were taking achievement tests. We have a test on each subject in school. Each subject is timed, and if you don't get finished before the time you cannot work on it any longer.

There is a book which we get the questions out of and special paper on which you fill in the dots. The dots have to be dark as can be because these tests are sent off to be checked by a machine. The testing took a week before the teachers got everybody tested.

Last Thursday, the Colorado City Optimists Club, established recently by David Hancock, held a national oratorical contest. The speeches had to be between four and five minutes.

Trophies were given to first, second and third places. The only Middle School entrant was Tanya Sorrells. She received third place.

Laurie Mercer and Sam Stricklin, ninth and tenth graders won first place for the boy and girl. They will go to San Angelo this week for the district contest. Good luck to Sam and Laurie.

The 1320 relay came in fifth place. It was led by Ricky Thompson, Lynn Williams, Jeff Hammond and David Harvey.

This is one of the toughest track meets the boys will probably ever go to. However, we are expecting a tough meet when we go to Sweetwater.

The next meet is Friday at Coahoma.

World War III. Do you ever wonder who would win if there was another World War? What would happen? Would the USA still be free? All these things could be answered in the near future. The United States may be strong in nuclear and atomic power, but the people are getting too soft.

Things are getting too easy for them. They sit around taking it easy. I'm not saying it's all bad, but it can make some people lazy and think they do not have anything to do. Russia once said that they just would sit back and watch the United States ruin themselves.

Tom Rees has volunteered to cover seventh grade boys track. We welcome him to the staff.

Track seems to get more exciting every week. This week we had a track meet at Snyder and it was tough. Colorado City was the only AA school there, but we managed to do well.

In the pole vault, Ernest Harvey won first by clearing seven feet. Danny Martinez took first in both the 70 yard high and the 220 yard intermediate hurdles. Tom Rees won fourth in the intermediate and fifth place in the high hurdles.

The Wolf 1320 relay did their best but only got fifth. The 440 relay came in fifth also. The 330 relay came in sixth. Stacy Tarter won first in the 600 meter run.

The Wolves came in fourth in the whole track meet. We hope the Wolves will do better in the Coahoma track meet Friday.

Saturday, April 1, the Middle School band went to contest. The band received two superior ratings in this Cisco contest. One of them was in contest and the other was in sight-reading. This is the highest rating.

Most students that played solos and ensembles came out with superior ratings. The band brought home 45 medals, for first place.

On the way home from Cisco the band stopped in Abilene at Westgate Mall.

They left at 7 a.m. and got back around 8:45 p.m.

The band is real proud of themselves. They have no one to thank on their good work except for the band director, Mr. Newman.

In first period math the students are studying flow charts. Most people are saying that they are very hard to understand.

The other math classes are studying geometry. In the book the flow charts are used with geometry, multiplication and division.

Miss O'Zee the math teacher says that the flow charts are like little computers. Some students say they are fun.

North Loraine HD Club Has Regular Meeting

Mrs. T. L. Holman presented an interesting question and answer program on "Your Key to the Court House," when the North Loraine Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. J. E. Price for its regular meeting on March 15.

Mrs. Hubert Meadows, club president called the meeting to order at 2:30 p.m. with group reciting the THDA prayer.

The roll call was answered with "What I Like About Mitchell County." A solidarity of opinions was expressed in one saying, "the friendly people." Also the love for country living in a farming community was expressed. They even excused the wind and sand!

After giving or reports, a discussion of the tentative County Home Demonstrator, educational trip to the denim plant in Littlefield on April 27 was held. Several from the club will be going. Included in the tour will be a dinner-theatre evening at the Hayloft in Lubbock. The group is scheduled to go by chartered bus.

In her talk on "Your Key to the Court House," Mrs. Holman brought an interesting question and answer period. This proved very informative on where to go in many areas of business--e.g. Marriage license, cattle brands, filing injunctions, collecting of debts, estates, etc.

Refreshments were served to nine members, Mmes. Clifton Henderson, Holman, Jack Linam, Bud Shepherd, Meadows, Roy Wells, Raymond Wheeler, J. M. Templeton, by the hostess, Mrs. Price.

Mary Lou Cooley and Penny Branyan, daughters of Clyde L. Cooley of Colorado City, will be participating in the first Decorative Art Show and Sale Sunday, April 9 from noon 7 p.m. at the Western Plaza Cafeteria meeting room in West County Plaza Shopping Center in Odessa. Admission is free.

This is the first time decorative artists of the Permian Basin have sponsored a show. Special features include continuous demonstrations by decorative artists, an educational display which includes the history of the art as well as a variety of examples of both current and antique decorative art.

Loving Care Goal Of Kindercare

By DONNA WATSON

The children's daycare center, Kindercare, which was pushed, prodded and pounded into existence by and through the efforts of its director Jon Shamburger will soon be losing her as its driving force.

Because of her husband's transfer to Oklahoma with Sun Oil Company this month, Mrs. Shamburger will be leaving to join him in June.

Kindercare came into existence in August of 1974. It operates five days a week from 6:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Its staff is hand picked by the director. She states the necessary qualifications for employment as high principles, dedication and a giving, interested person.

One of the prime objectives of the center is to free persons who would otherwise not be able to seek schooling or employment because they have dependent children.

It was established to offer a safe place at a minimal cost to care for these children.

The organization of Kindercare didn't come easily Mrs. Shamburger noted. It took five long years.

Herself, as director of the Community Action Program, and a small group of interested persons tried many avenues before deriving a workable plan.

"You meet with groups of people and have them set their own priorities, you help them by being supportive," she commented.

After contacting many governmental agencies she was able to convince the state of the need for matching funds in a daycare program.

Her next move was to approach the County Commissioners with the daycare idea and request $3,000 to match the state funds, which they granted.

"Interest in the center was tremendous, we were inundated with suggestions and proposals," Mrs. Shamburger said.

The present building was obtained and with a handful of people and herself, they turned old storage closets into lively class areas for children.

They had little or no money for equipment and still had stringent state regulations to meet. With inventive minds they turned old cable spools into decorative tables and work areas, used scrap lumber to build shelves and walls. A coat of bright green and orange paint turned the run down old building into a cheery day care center.

Today, colorful murals of orange and yellow cartoon characters and little Winnie the Pooh adorn the walls. These were donated and painted by Toni Wulfjen Everett. Sixty-five children, age six weeks through five years, are enrolled in the center full time.

Arrangements may also be made to have students from Kelley Elementary School picked up and cared for until 5:30 p.m.

Emphasis is placed on the positive attitude for care and training in the school.

As director, Mrs. Shamburger feels and has emphasized that good discipline is not negative but rather redirective. A child in the center is taught to exercise control and at the same time allowed to be enthusiastic, active and happy.

The center has tried to create learning situations. The child is led and not forced to learn. He is encouraged to experience the senses by using the educational aids provided.

Most of the equipment used was built by the school personnel. A series of small scale gym sets, cylindrical tunnels, a log cabin playhouse and bean bag chairs are in the larger play areas.

Oversized, lightweight building blocks, rocking horses and a sand and water box are just a few of the examples of learning tools the center employes.

A science center filled with plants, grown and cared for by the children, hamsters and fish also fed and cared for by the children, help teach them responsibility and respect for life.

There is a division for the one, two, three-four, and five year old age groups according to their abilities. As soon as the child becomes mobile, he is taken from the crib and encouraged to explore.

When the center was first started it was for only the economically deprived families. However, that soon changed and anyone in need of the center's services is eligible.

The cost of using the center is still determined by a family's economical situation with the maximum charge being $6 a day.

"The work is not over yet," Mrs. Shamburger noted. The center is full and there is a waiting list.

Mrs. Elston Dines With Roosevelt

It's not every day that one is invited to dine with the President of the United States.

In fact, not many people can claim that they have.

But Mrs. Lela Mae White Elston was offered the chance about 42 years ago, and she took it.

Mrs. Elston, or "Snooky" as she is commonly known, was the guest of President and Mrs. Franklin Delenor Roosevelt at the White House Jan. 26, 1936.

Mrs. Elston, who resides at Claxton Lodge, has kept the letter inviting her to the Roosevelt's home for lunch.

At the time Mrs. Elston received the invitation, she was 18 years old and attending Fairmont School for Girls in Washington, D.C.

She explained that her brother-in-law was Mrs. Roosevelt's cousin and that he had encouraged the Roosevelt's to invite Mrs. Elston to the White House.

Delivered to the White House by a chauffeured limousine, Mrs. Elston said she could still remember how beautiful the dining table looked.

"I had never seen anything like it before," said Mrs. Elston.

What would the conversation at the president's table concern? Foreign policy? Domestic affairs? Maybe the economy?

"No," Mrs. Elston remembered, "President Roosevelt told a lot of fish stories."

Family Moves With Sun

Shamburgers Reminsce About Time Spent In Colorado City

Robert and Jon Shamburger were first transferred to Colorado City in 1965 by Sun Oil.

Shamburger had been with the company four and a half years when he was sent here as area clerk. Since that time he has been promoted to district manager of administrative services.

Now, after 13 years, he is being transferred to Oklahoma City.

Jon recalled, "When we first came to Colorado City, I was prepared to hate it. But that didn't last long. The people here have been like family. They are warm and good hearted.

"I took courses in cooking and macrame to fill my time. Of course the boys--Ross, 16, and Jeff, 12,--took a lot of my time. We did things together. We'd go to the river or a gun show. Sometimes I could talk them into going to an antique or art show," Jon stated.

"I enjoy time to myself, too. I like sports and play bridge. Then there's always reading."

Bob and Jon met in John Tyler High School in Tyler where they went to school together. Bob got his Associate Degree in English at Tyler Junior College and went on to get a degree in business from Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches.

Jon has recently begun studies in Snyder at Western Texas College where she will obtain her Associate Degree in general education this May.

Bob recalls the first job he ever had. It was in Tyler where his father was a rose grower. "My grandfather shipped the first box car of roses out of the state of Texas. My first job was in those rose fields."

In January 1960 Bob went to work for Sun Oil in McAllen where he and his wife spent four years. They were then transferred to Silver where they spent six months before being transferred to Colorado City.

Jon joined a study club and became active in church work at First United Methodist. Then in June 1969 after many letters and much dogmatic persistence on her part, a Community Action program was formed in Mitchell County with her at the head as director.

The first thing the group accomplished was the renovation of the Wallace Center. This was done to offer a place for youth activities, adult education classes, arts and crafts, citizenship classes, tutoring and family planning classes to meet.

The group also assisted Drs. Rhodes and Chinn in a family well baby clinic held at the center. They ran summer recreation programs.

"A lot of our work was contact and referral,"Jon stated.

"When we first began the program we would go door to door asking what they would like to see done and where assistance was needed," she commented.

"We tried to match up people in the community who knew how to do things with people who wanted to do the same things. We tried to get people involved," she smiled remembering how successful the program has been.

"In 1970 we first started pushing the idea of a Kindercare Center. We worked with individuals and government personnel and finally in 1974 we were able to get the program off the ground," she stated.

"We were active in the West Central Texas Council of Governments, Insularly Committees which dealt with the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act."

These committees acted as a clearing house for government funds, she noted. "We learned how to fill out the forms and request grants for the programs."

After Kindercare was established, Jon split her time between Community Action and Kindercare. As plans began to work and individual programs began to be established and function on their own, the Community Action program began to wane until she now spends most of her time with Kindercare.

In 1969 Jon was named Woman of the Year by the members of the Business and Professional Women's organization.

Jon attributes that honor to the supporting effort her husband and family has given to her. "I couldn't have done it without their understanding and love."

During the time Jon was trying so hard to push Mitchell County down the road of progress, Bob was doing his bit too.

Besides being a Mitchell County Reserve Deputy, he coached Little League and helped start the Mitchell County Gun Club, of which he is a charter member. He was a member of the Board of Directors at the Country Club and a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

"We (the family) enjoy target shooting and reload our own ammunition. We bowl, golf, hunt and fish," he explained.

Another hobby that started out to be Bob's and has become a family project is antique guns, specifically colt single actions.

"A great deal of our time is spent with the boys. Jeff plays baseball and has made all star two years in a row," Bob noted.

"He is a very competitive kid," Bob added. "He won in the punt, pass and kick four out of the last five times he has participated."

Jon commented, "Ross' prime effort is a new job. He is working as an assistant at the Veterinary Hospital. He is very good at it and very good with people."

Both the Shamburger boys were on the 4-H rifle team last year. Ross owns a motorcycle which he is paying for himself and has had several entries in the ceramics fair.

This whole family has been very special to Mitchell County and will be a great loss, as noted by many, including the County Commissioners who stated, "What will we do without them?"

Candidates Appear At Looney Auction

About 50 persons turned out to "Meet and Chat" with political candidates when the Looney Home Demonstration Club gave a pie auction Friday evening.

Before the pie auction each candidate present was invited to give a brief speech.

Only one candidate from last Saturday's election for City Council and Independent School District Board was present to voice her views and state her qualifications, Mrs. Coleen Palmer for the ISD.

Candidates in the contested race for Mitchell County clerk were present. Joan Beach who is running against incumbent Marie Bassham took the podium first, followed by the incumbent.

Mildred Boyd, incumbent county treasurer and Bill Erwin, incumbent district clerk, both were present and acknowledged appreciation from supporters.

Mike Burt, Mitchell County tax collector, District Judge Weldon Kirk, and County Commissioner Johnny Shackelford all sent their regrets at not being able to participate.

State Representative Elmer Martin officiated and introduced the only national candidate to accept the invitation to the meet, Crews McCulloch. McCulloch is a candidate for Representative from the 17th Congressional District.

The highlight of the evenings festivities came after the political introductions when the pies were auctioned and then sliced.

To the voters of Colorado City:

This a "thank you" to my supporters in the recent City Council election, and a note of apology for running so poorly.

Obviously, vote-getting is not one of my many talents. I had known for a long time that I had no talent for making money, and now I'm convinced I've no talent for vote-getting.

I had always thought of myself as simple, kind, loveable, wise and trustworthy and I assumed that voters would think likewise. I could have been wrong.

The election officials at City Hall reported there were no injuries in the rush to put that "x" beside my name on the ballot.

There is a vacancy on the council which will be filled at the next meeting. I will request that my name not be considered by the council for this replacement, acquiesing in the judgment of the electorate.

But really, fellows, a candidate defeated by a total of seven votes in two elections can't be all bad.

Sincerely,

Tom Jay Goss II

Burglary Suspect Surrenders

Colorado City Police got a lucky break Monday when the second suspect in the March 4 burglary of Western Auto walked into the station to give himself up.

Hector Gardea, 19, previously charged in the burglary, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Henry Doss and placed in the Mitchell County jail on $5,000 bond.

The other suspect in the burglary, Jesse Herdia Ornelas, 23, of Colorado City, was arrested the day of the burglary after a series of incidents involving a high speed chase by officers and the recovery of about $1,500 in merchandise.

An estimated $3,500 worth of merchandise was stolen in the break-in and burglary.

Ornelas was released from jail on a $5,000 bond.

Police are continuing investigation into the incident.

Edens Plan Holy Lands Pilgrimage In Summer

The Rev. and Mrs. Davis Edens, of the First United Methodist Church of Stanton, have announced plans to escort a travel group on a Mediterranean jet cruise pilgrimage to the Holy Lands July 4-July 17.

The 13 day adventure to six countries and four Greek isles was designed under the auspices of Meier International Study League, Inc., (MISL) a firm headquartered in Hurst, Texas and specializing in Middle Eastern travel.

The Rev. and Mrs. dens and their group will be participating in one of the five Holy Land cruises designed by MISL and scheduled during June, July and August.

Traveling on the deluxe cruise ship Victoria, the group will visit Greece, Egypt, Israel, Italy, Yugoslavia and Turkey, plus Rhodes, Patmos, Crete and Santorini.

The itinerary has been especially designed to follow the life of Christ and retrace the best of the Journeys of Paul. Noted scholars from a variety of faiths and institutions will accompany the group to deliver optional lectures on the Biblical, archaeological and historical significance of the cities and sites on the itinerary. Graduate and undergraduate credit will be available.

"We are especially pleased to have again secured the magnificent ship Victoria for our 1978 jet cruise pilgrimages to the Holy Lands. Staffed by international crew, the ship may boast of consistently superior accommodations with more than 90 per cent of the staterooms being outside cabins.

"The Victoria's six decks, which are serviced by three elevators, include a cinema, a ballroom, a balconied dining room, sun decks, two swimming pools and sports deck," said Dr. David Meier, president of MISL.

"The Victoria is newer, faster and four times the size of any previous MISL ship. The superior ship, the itinerary we've perfected during the past 7 consecutive summers and the scholars who add another dimension to our cruises will make our 1978 jet cruise pilgrimages the best yet," said Dr. Meier.

The package price is from $1,699 and includes all meals, round-trip transportation, sightseeing tours, all accommodations, cruise ship passage, regular lecture/study program, transfers, porterage, a Jerusalem hotel, and travel with professionals who escort the group.

For further information and a free brochure, contact the Rev. and Mrs. Davis Edens, Box 426, Stanton, Texas 79782. Phone 756-3467 or 756-2303, (area code 915). Don't miss this trip of a lifetime!

Ratliff Writes Poetry

In the April 1978 edition of Arizona Highways Mrs. Isabel Ratliff of Colorado City contributed a reminiscent poem, written since her book While The Iron Is Hot was published, about her early life in Pecos.

Local residents have enjoyed her poetry for many years as well as her paintings. This particular poem, brought to our attention by one of our readers, concerned the true account of Mrs. Ratliff's childhood experience of owning an inquisitive, stubborn, and delightful burro bought for a dollar at that time in 1910.

In the corresponding letter, Mrs. Ratliff hinted about a prickly toss into a cactus bush by her beloved burro and you might ask her about it when you see her.

Girl Scout Open House Sunday

Camp Boothe Oaks, West Texas Girl Scout Council camp, will hold its annual Open House Sunday, April 9th, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. as a prelude to the resident camping season which begins June 9 with the Brownie/Dad Special and ends July 21-23 with the advanced camping Senior Weekend.

The Council Camp Committee, chaired by Mr. Newt Newberry, will host the Open House. Miss Linda Walker, Camp Director, will be present to greet prospective campers and to give information about the camping sessions available. Guests will be guided by former Girl Scout campers as they tour the camp facilities.

The Open House is an ideal time for parents and daughters to see what the camp has to offer in varied programs and environmental opportunities for girls, fourth through twelfth grades. Non-Scouts may also attend the camp. First time visitors will be pleasantly surprised by the unique rustic setting of each area of the camp surrounded by live oak, elm and blue dwarf oak trees.

Campers live in platform tents and cabins romantically named Gypsy Glen, Sherwood, Plateau, and Sleepy Hollow. There is an outdoor theatre area called Shadows where campfire programs are held. Along a green briar trail is the "Little Church in the Woods."

The swinging bridge over Sweetwater Creek is an invitation to adventurous study of plant life and wild life neighbors along the banks. Other popular attractions are the obstacle course, and Tarzan Bluff slide, Rattlesnake Hill and Tajar's Country Store.

Newberry reports his committee will raise the platform tents April 1 for troop camping and summer living. They will also clear areas for two new cabins to be built for personnel. A new shower house/restroom is under construction in Sherwood.

The swimming pool has been completely reconditioned, and will be available to registered troops from May 13 through late August, troops being required to provide a qualified lifeguard.

Camp Boothe Oaks is located eight miles southwest of Sweetwater, off FM 1809. It is accredited by the American Camping Association, and adheres to Girl Scout Camping Standards and is governed by Texas State Laws on Organized Camps.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coldewey arrived home last Tuesday after a six week trip and visit in Arizona.

They left Loraine Feb. 17, traveling to Green Valley, Arizona where they visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coldewey and with his mother, Mrs. Annie Coldewey of Sweetwater who had visited there during the winter months.

They went from there to Tucson, Arizona where they parked their trailer in parks and did some sightseeing. They attended the Lawrence Welk show which was showing while they were there, went to the Grand Canyon, and visited Mount Lemmon, the ski resort where 17 inches of fresh show had just fallen. In Wilcox, Arizona they visited friends, the B. H. Youngs.

They attended the National Good Sam Club Jamboree at which they are members and saw many friends from Texas who were there for the occasion. All but three states, Conn., Hawaii and Maine were represented at this meeting of the club.

Mrs. Annie Coldewey joined them at Green Valley and returned with them and is here visiting in their home.

Conservation Program Presented To Club

Mrs. Harold Martin was hostess to the Atheneum Study Club on Tuesday March 21 at 3 p.m. with Mrs. Doyle Hester presiding. During the business she announced the Mesquite District meeting on Wednesday, March 22nd and plans were made for some to attend.

Mrs. C. R. Green was program leader and led the American's Creed, spoken in unison and called the roll with each one answering with their previously selected subject. The program was on "Conservation" and Mrs. Green introduced one of the two speakers, Mrs. W. C. Henderson, who spoke on the topic John Muir (1838-1914). She stated that Muir, America's apostle of the wilderness, was born in Scotland. In 1849 when John was 11 years old he and his immigrant family arrived from Dunbar, Scotland and settled in the Wisconsin wilderness. Muir first won fame, she said, as the inventory of an array of mechanical contrivances, but later as a naturalist and conservationist.

Nothing quite so entranced Muir's imagination as trees--trees of any sort. Mrs. Henderson related the story of Muir, who back in 1903 camped out alone with President Theodore Roosevelt in a grove of sequoias. He talked to the President regarding the timber thieves and other spoilers of the forests. T. R. returned to Washington aglow with Muir's ideas. He soon put into motion governmental machinery to set aside five national parks, 16 National monuments and 148 million acres of National forest.

The names of parks in whose origins Muir himself played a direct role read like a conservationist doxology: Yosemite, Sequoia, King's Canyon, Ranier, Petrified Forest and Grand Canyon. She also brought out the fact that Muir was a guiding light behind the 1906 Antiquities Act, which gives Presidents the power to proclaim National monuments. The creation of the National Park Service finally achieved in 1916, 2 years after Muir's death was another of his worked for dreams.

"Growing Coal" was ably discussed by Mrs. Raymond Wheeler. She said as we use up our oil, natural gas and other fossil fuel, we may turn from pumping or mining fuel to growing it. One proposal calls for raising certain crops simply because they produce large amounts of living matter, or biomass that can be used as fuel. She explained that biomass is a kind of young coal which can be burned directly as fuel or converted to synthetic fuel gas or oils.

One of the most promising biomass crops is hybrid poplar. She stated that pilot projects for using biomass fuel are now underway and that there are any number of energy crops such as wood waste, corn, winter rye and cattails. Also sunflowers, wheat and many other crop residue. Then there is the possibility of processing grain to produce alcohol which could supplement or replace gasoline.

A more exotic fuel crop possiblity is the milk bush, also barnyard energy which has been in use for a number of years in some countries. Mrs. Wheeler stated that some energy experts say that agriculture is a logical and renewable energy source and farmers may ultimately derive as much income from producing fuel as from producing food.

The hostess served refreshments to: Mmes. Lily Bennett, Floyd Coffee, Glen Coon, C. R. Green, W. C. Henderson, Doyle Hester, S. E. Meadows, Woodrow Pratt, W. A. Taylor and Raymond Wheeler.

The April 7th meeting will be a joint meeting in the Civic Center in Colorado City at 3 p.m. A film "Girlstown" will be shown.

MOORMAN'S IGR MINERALS
"There's nothing else like it."
"Fly control with IGR costs about a cent-and-a-half per day for a cow. Total cost, including minerals, is about 3¢ per head daily."
"With IGR Minerals, around-the-clock horn-fly control on 100 cows costs about $1.50 per day."
"Compare the cost of roundup, spray, weight loss and spraying time for 100 cows each 10 days to the $15 it'll cost to control flies with IGR."
"Even if you spray every 10 days, new horn flies keep hatching out of the untreated manure. It's a never-ending cycle."
"With IGR, you don't have to worry about when to spray or that a rain will wash off the spray."
"Spraying for horn flies temporarily removes the symptom. It isn't a 'cure.' Feeding IGR relieves the symptom by providing the 'cure'."
"It works."
"No need to worry about horn flies all season. That's peace of mind."
"IGR isn't a posion. It is a totally new concept in the control of horn flies without harming beneficial insects, wildlife or the environment."
"The active ingredient 'tricks' the horn-fly pupa into remaining a pupa until it dies without posion."
