Tornadoes Cause Damage Over Widespread Texas Area Today

FIRST BIRTHDAY COMING UP—John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., wears a big smile as he nestles in the arms of his mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President, in this picture released by the White House. Two Leaders Are Agreed On Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Kennedy and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer were reported today to have agreed that the Western powers should hold further exploratory talks with the Soviet Union on a Berlin settlement.

They were also reported in agreement on basic Western policy positions to be taken if the talks lead to formal negotiations.

The U.S.-West German policy conference ends today with a final White House session. Adenauer is due to leave for Bonn early tonight.

A communique reflecting a high degree of agreement between the two leaders on Berlin issues was expected to stress Allied determination to protect West Berlin against Communist pressures and at the same time to keep the way open for a peaceful settlement with the U.S.S.R.

Advance indications of the results of the conference were expected in a luncheon address to be made by Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder at the National Press Club, substituting for Adenauer.

The chancellor cancelled the engagement because of a cold. Aides called the illness slight: it did not cause him to miss any of his meetings with Kennedy.

Those meetings kept him at the White House most of Tuesday and he entertained Kennedy and other U.S. officials at a dinner at the German Embassy. Prior to the dinner a joint German-U.S. statement said the talks had gone well.

"The talks involved an exhaustive and productive discussion of the curent status of West Berlin and its relationship with the Western Allies," the statement said.

West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss went further. He told reporters as he left the White House that Adenauer wants to negotiate on ending the Berlin dispute.

"We achieved a common basis for further talks on the ambassadorial level. We achieved unanimity for talks," Strauss said.

The comment by Strauss coincided with information from other officials that Kennedy and Adenauer have greatly narrowed their differences over Berlin issues. It is also understood that Adenauer has shown readiness to take a more flexible approach to negotiations with the Soviet Union than some of his recent public statements had indicated.

SHOWERS SWEEP THROUGH SNYDER

Thundershowers swept through the Snyder area last night and early today in the path of a cold front which stirred up wild weather over much of the state

The weather activity here was limited mostly to intermittent showers, some accompanied by brilliant electrical displays and booming thunder.

The official gauge here registered .63 of an inch of rain, while heavier amounts were reported in localized areas.

Brisk north winds swept many of the clouds out of the area after the norther passed through this morning.

Rockefeller Joins Search

By ROBERT MYERS

MERAUKE, New Guinea (AP) —New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today flew a 500-mile survey along the swampy south coast of New Guinea where his son Michael was lost three days ago but found no trace of the missing 23-year-old.

Arriving after a transpacific jet dash, the governor set up his personal search headquarters in this coastal village southeast of the Flamingo Bay area where his youngest son was last seen swimming toward shore Sunday.

Dutch troops and natives fought their way through the dense, swampy jungles to search the uninhabited coast. Dutch navy ships criss-crossed offshore.

The governor returned to Merauke at dusk to interview Michael's Dutch companion on his ill-fated trip, Dr. R. S. Wassing, 34, who stayed with their overturned boat and was rescued on Monday.

Wassing was flown to Merauke from Cook's Bay, 185 miles to the west, where he was taken after his rescue.

The governor on his arrival in New Guinea today had been heartened by the news that Michael was only about two miles offshore Sunday when he began swimming toward land and not 14 miles as reported earlier.

A DC3 twin-engine transport flew the Rockefeller party along the coast which Michael had tried to reach when the boat capsized after he had set out with Wassing and two natives on a 25-mile trip to some villages.

It now appears the boat sailed down the Eilanden River Saturday, instead of Thursday as reported earlier. The plan was to go from the village of Agats to the coast and then sail on another branch of the river 15 miles to Asta. The group was collecting primitive artifacts from tribesmen who were active headhunters only a few years ago.

Gov. Rockefeller plans to use a flying boat for a close-in look at the Agats area Thursday. The banks of the river there are formed of soft mud and are thickly covered with mangroves. The water is teeming with crocodiles.

DAN COTTON

Dan Cotton Passes Bar Examination

Dan Cotton, Scurry County Clerk, received word yesterday from the Board of Legal Examiners in Austin that he had successfully passed the bar examination.

Cotton will go to Austin Tuesday Nov. 28 for the official swearing in ceremonies.

Permission to take bar examinations is granted to graduates of accredited law schools, and, as is the case of Cotton, to those who have studied law under a practicing attorney. The latter plan requires three years of study and at least 90 college hours. Cotton attended Texas Tech, and studied law under George R. Killam, County Attorney.

Cotton is a native of Scurry County and has been County Clerk since Jan. 1, 1955. He is married to the former Jane Ann Woodson. The Cottons and their two sons live at 3774 Dalton Drive.

E. E. Grant Of Ira Dies; Rites Today

Edward Elza Grant, 70, of Ira died yesterday afternoon at 1:30 in the Veteran's Hospital in Big Spring. Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at 4 p.m. at the East Side Church of Christ with Bill Watson, minister of the East Side Church of Christ officiating, assisted by Darnell Boyd of the Ira Church of Christ. Burial was to be in the Ira Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Mr. Grant came to Scurry County in 1902. He was married in Snyder Nov. 23, 1920. He had lived in Dunn until 1954 when he moved to Ira. He was a retired farmer at the time of his death.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Exa Sorrells Grant; one daughter, Mrs. J. L. Byars of Ira; three sons, Elza of Snyder, Dale of Arlington, and Donald of Conway, Ark. Also surviving are two brothers, Unie of Ralls and Bob of Abilene. Twelve grandchildren also survive.

Pallbearers were Royce Gene Grant, Baelum Grant, Alfred Grant, Vollie Sorrells, Mimmie Don Sorrells and Weldon Watson.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Tuesday, 64 degrees; low 44 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. today, 44 degrees; precipitation, .63.

Southwest Texas: Partly cloudy and cooler this afternoon. Clear and colder tonight. Fair Thursday. Low tonight 32-42 north and 40-50 south.

North Central Texas: Considerable cloudiness and turning cooler this afternoon, occasional light rain mostly in east. Partly cloudy and cooler tonight and Thursday. Low tonight 34 northwest to 48 southeast.

Northeast Texas: Considerable cloudiness this afternoon through Thursday. Thunderstorms locally severe south early this afternoon. Ocassional rain or showers tonight mostly east. Cooler west this afternoon and over area tonight and Thursday. Low tonight 40 northwest to 53 southeast.

Northwest Texas: Partly cloudy this afternoon through Thursday. Cooler this afternoon and tonight and southeast Thursday. Low tonight 21 northwest to 40 southeast.

ESPINOZA WINNER OF GRID CONTEST

Arturo Espinoza of 1107 Thirtieth Street is the recipient of the past week's first-place prize money of $10 in the Snyder News Football Contest, with his fine effort in choosing 25 of the 28 games outdistancing the field.

Espinoza successfully called the shot on several upsets, with two of his misses being contests that went against the grain—TCU's stunning 6-0 win over top-ranked Texas and Washington's 17-13 surprise over UCLA. His only other miscue involved a tie game between Rotan and Seagraves, which ended up 22-22. He liked Rotan to win in that one, and Rotan will advance in the Class A playoffs by having compiled more first downs than did Seagraves, as penetrations in the clash were all even. A tie game, however, has to be called as such in order to be counted right for contest purposes.

There was also a clear-cut winner of the second-place prize money—Roy Taylor of 3001 Crockett, who missed only four. Due to multiple ties over the past two contest weeks and the carrying over of the winnings on both of those occasions, Taylor will receive $7.50 rather than the normal $2.50.

A trio of contestants finished out of the monied circle with five miscues. That group is composed of Mrs. Haney Atyia, Roy L. Dunlap, and Mrs. S. E. McCowen.

A new contest for the current week is listed elsewhere within today's edition.

Front Brings Heavy Rains

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes slammed into such widely separated points as San Antonio in Southwest Texas and the Kilgore - Lufkin - Nacogdoches section of East Texas Wednesday.

The tornadoes injured at least 10 persons, one critically, and caused widespread damage.

Heaviest damage appeared to be at Kilgore, where oil derricks and pumps rise throughout the city.

The injuries occurred north and northeast of Nacogdoches.

Earlier, lightning struck a residence at Cisco, and hail battered Breckenridge, in Central West Texas.

The funnel felled two oil derricks on the western edge of Kilgore and unroofed or damaged several homes and small businesses.

It roared to what observers called the north central portion of the city, then appeared to lift and remain in the air until striking again on the northern edge.

There it caused extensive damage to about 10 structures, and destroyed awnings, plate glass, and trees.

About 1,000 Kilgore telephones were put out of operation.

Railfall at Kilgore measured 4.5 inches by midnorning, and still was faling at that time.

At the Danville community, about 3 miles north of Kilgore, the twister blew a barn onto some trucks.

What was apparently the same tornado roared down on Longview, 11 miles northeast of Kilgore. It knocked down two barns and caused other damage. Accompanying rains flooded some homes to a depth of three feet.

A tornado also struck near Nacogdoches, about 40 miles south of Kilgore.

Two small tornadoes were reported in the San Antonio area and a third was sighted near Hondo, west of there.

One small funnel dropped out of a cloud to smash a garage and damage several homes on the southwest edge of San Antonio about 1:15 a.m., several hours before the tornadoes hit in East Texas.

A second moved across the North Central part of San Antonio and dissolved, said the Weather Bureau.

No damage occurred at Hondo, the Weather Bureau reported.

Dallas underwent some hail, while rains of more than two inches caused some street flooding and a rash of automobile collisions in the rush hour.

A new tornado alert from the Weather Bureau at midmorning covered a large slice of heavily populated Southeast and South Central Texas.

The new tornado forecast was in effect from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and included an area 60 miles on each side of a line from 60 miles southwest of College Station to 60 miles north of Lake Charles, La.

Union Fines Opposed

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's chief enforcer of the laws on worker-employer relations started a move today to outlaw union fines for members who produce more than the union likes.

The action was directed against Local 283 of the United Auto Workers Union based on charges filed by employes of the Wisconsin Motor Corp., West Allis, Wis., that the union is suing them to collect such fines.

Under the union production norms, it was said, most employes of the firm were able to finish up a normal day's work two hours before scheduled quitting time.

Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, announced he had directed a complaint against the union as a test legal case because similar charges of union-imposed production standards have "recently arisen with some frequency."

Under NLRB procedures issuance of a complaint is a preliminary to trial of charges. The case first will be heard before an NLRB trial examiner whose eventual findings can then be appealed to the five-man NLRB itself and then to the courts.

The union was said to have originally imposed only token fines of $1 on over-producing members but lately to have adopted a policy of levying penalties of $50 to $100 in cases of "flagrant conduct unbecoming a union member" in outdoing union production standards.

Several months ago the union filed suit in Milwaukee courts seeking to force collection of fines on members who balked at paying them.

Rothman said that imposing fines to discourage employes from meeting an employer's production requirements is in effect requiring the workers to engage in a slowdown. This could enable the union to enforce production standards it had been unable to negotiate in collective bargaining.

Rothman said various rights under the federal labor relations laws are involved. On one hand, he said, unions may prescribe rules governing members. On the other, employes are guaranteed the right to engage, or refrain from engaging, in such activities.

It was indicated Rothman's office is also considering a case challenging the legality of union fines on members for crossing picket lines during labor controversies.

MRS. J. A. MARTIN

Mrs. Martin Enters Top Ad Rime

Mrs. J. A. Martin, 2208 Twenty-eighth Street, is the winner of last week's Ad Rime contest.

"Wonderful! I didn't dream that I would win it," Mrs. Martin exclaimed when informed that her Ad Rime was selected as the best of the week.

Mrs. Martin has lived in Scurry County for 37 years and once served as a community correspondent for the Scurry County Times for four years.

Her Ad Rime entry follows:

Satisfaction guaranteed,
In Snyder, Texas, yes indeed.

Mrs. Martin thus became the second winner in the Ad Rime series. Another contest begins today and the clues may be found in sponsors' ads on Page 8 of this issue.

Tucker Rites Here Today

Funeral services were to have been conducted this afternoon at 4 p.m. for Thomas James Tucker, 33, of 2311 Avenue H. Mr. Tucker died Tuesday morning at the Veteran's Hospital in Big Spring.

He was born in Sweetwater, and was a veteran of 16 years service with the United States Navy.

Services were to be at the North Side Baptist Church with the Rev. Jack Dean officiating, with burial in the Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Mr. Tucker is survived by his mother, Mrs. Andrew Daniel Tucker of Snyder and one brother, Andrew Daniel Tucker Jr. of Fair Oak, Calif.

Kind Saud Arrives For Medical Tests

BOSTON (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia arrived today for medical tests and treatment for a possible gastric ulcer.

A string of seven limousines moved onto the field one behind the other as the 59-year-old monarch's chartered jet touched down at Logan International Airport.

An ambulance and a wheel chair were ready but the king walked to the first limousine and slid inside. The 35 persons in his party filed into the other cars.

Saud was admitted immediately to Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Sanger Rites In Michigan

Word has been received of the death this morning of Bill Sanger, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Sanger of 3102 Denison Avenue.

Sanger became ill while serving with the armed forces in Germany. He had been a patient at Baylor Hospital in Dallas for the past several weeks.

He is survived by his parents, one brother, Fred, of the home, paternal grandparents in Cincinnati, Ohio, and his maternal grandmother of Mt. Pleasant Michigan.

It has been requested by the family memorials be sent to the Cancer Society or the First Presbyterian Church of Snyder. Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

Balaguer Claims Control Of Dominican Republic Affairs

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — President Joaquin Balaguer says the Dominican armed forces have lined up solidly behind him and that threats by anti-Democratic die-hards to topple his government have been eliminated.

Balaguer in a radio address Tuesday night claimed the government had emerged in full control from the crisis prompted by the return of two Trujillo family leaders last week. Their return raised speculation of a resurgence of Trujillo rule and brought a covey of U.S. warships hovering offshore.

Balaguer declared that the crisis was created by the "ambitions and senselessness of some men of rural mentality." He said they included two Cabinet members but offered no further identification.

Balaguer's address on the state of the nation obviously was intended in part to squelch reports of rumblings in military ranks over some of his military appointees named to succeed exiled Trujillos. He said there was "propaganda tending to create a false impression" that threats of a coup d'etat remained but he warned Dominicans not to take stock in such reports.

As lights from U.S. warships twinkled offshore, Balaguer said he would announce new plans Thursday to hasten the installation of democratic processes in the land after three decades of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo's feudal dictatorship.

Balaguer's address followed a frenzied demonstration in which most of this city's 300,000 people appeared to have turned out to welcome back two opposition leaders, Dr. Viriato A. Fiallo, president of the National Civic Union, and Manuel Tavarez Justo, president of the 14th of June Movement.

The two returned from Washington where they urged the Organization of American States not to lift its economic and political sanctions against the Dominican Republic. They contended that to do so would be interpreted as support for Trujillo elements.

The forced exile of the Trujillo leaders by Balaguer — with air force and U.S. backing—put the picture in a different light. Both groups and a third, the revolutionary party issued statements in support of the present regime.

Snyder Is Set For Holiday; Community Service Planned

Regular business activities will soon come to a halt in Snyder tomorrow as the city takes time out to celebrate the Thanksgiving Holiday. Traditional turkey feasts will replace the hurried lunches normally gobbled by many Snyderites.

The annual Community Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance and the Snyder Jaycees will be held this year at the Grace Lutheran Church at 10 a.m. The Rev. Alan Lynch, pastor of the First Christian Church, will bring the message. The Rev. Custis Fletcher of St. John's Episcopal Church will read the Thanksgiving Proclamation.

R. Virgil Mott of First Baptist church will lead the singing; scriptures will be read by the Rev. Walter Lentz of the Grace Lutheran Church; organ music will be by Wayne Pitner of the First Methodist Church, and the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church will preside.

Jerry Edwards, chairman of the Jaycee Religious Activities Committee urged everyone who can to attend the services. However, for those unable to do so, the services will be broadcast over KSNY radio.

Today's Rockets Likely To Be 'Model Ts' Of Tomorrow

By JOHN WHEELER

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — If scientists at work on nuclear-powered spaceship designs succeed in conquering their formidable engineering problems, the rockets of today will be known as the model T's of the space age.

Some scientists say application of nuclear power to rocket flight may carry the United States into the lead in the race for the planets. They claim there are signs the Soviet Union lags in this field.

Nuclear-powered space vehicle designs are scheduled for submission to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the end of this month.

Aerojet General Corp. already is developing a nuclear fission and liquid hydrogen engine under a NASA contract. The Atomic Energy Commission has accelerated its program to perfect a lightweight reactor at its Nevada Camp Mercury testing grounds.

The advantage of nuclear rockets over conventional liquid and solid fuel models has been compared to the superiority of speedy, long-ranging U.S. atomic submarines over their diesel predecessors.

Dr. Harold Plank of Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. here says a nuclear-powered upper stage in a manned "interplanetary" space rocket system could provide twice the speed and double the payload of present rockets of the same weight.

Kraft Ehricke, General Dynamics rocket scientist, has been quoted as saying, "space will be conquered only by manned nuclear-powered [illegible]."

The maiden flight of a U.S. nuclear rocket may come in 1965 or 1966, the Atomic Energy Commission has predicted.

The nuclear and conventional rockets are quite similar in that both use chemical fuels, turning them into rapidly expanding gases.

In nuclear rocket engines a jet of liquid hydrogen will be directed through holes in an atomic reactor where temperatures may reach about 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit. This is far higher than the burning temperatures in conventional rockets of the same size and would cause much greater exhaust gas expansion and a corresponding boost in thrust, according to Aerojet.

An even bigger factor in expected performance of nuclear rockets would come because vast quantities of liquid oxygen used in conventional liquid rockets would be replaced by a lightweight atomic reactor and its comparatively tiny amount of uranium fuel.

One major problem in harnessing the atom for space exploration is the vast quantities of radiation which would be given off by the reactor.

For this reason, says Dr. Plank, nuclear-powered engines probably would not be used in the atmosphere of the earth or other planets.

Plans call for a chemical booster to lift the nuclear rocket into space where it would be discarded as the nuclear power plant took over propulsion. A final stage conventional rocket could provide the power for landing [illegible] distant body and later relaunching the manned capsule and returning it to earth.

James Rites Here Today

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Pearlene James Stafford, 33, of Post. Mrs. Stafford died late Saturday night at the Garza County Hospital where she was taken following a shooting.

Services were to be conducted at the Friendly Will Baptist Church with the Rev. C. R. Crayton officiating. Burial was to be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank James of Snyder, two sisters, Mrs. Roselie Shelton of Carlsbad, N.M., and Mrs. Ceola Cleveland of Corpus Christi; eight brothers Elbert James of Stockton, Cal., L. S. James and Pearl Lee James of Farmington, N.M., Hosa James of San Diego, Cal., B. J. James of Pasadena, Cal., Julius Ray James, Earnest James, and Freddie Ray James, all of Snyder.

Local FFA Team Cops First Place

BIG SPRING—Snyder's FFA Senior Chapter Conducting Team has swept to a first place in competition here, qualifying the team for the state contest to be held at Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville December 2.

The team consists of chapter president Tommy Hallmark, vice president Robert Stipe, reporter Tommy Foree, treasurer Jim Shearer, secretary Paul Savage, and sentinel Weldon Lloyd. They won out over teams from Marfa, Bowie, Wall, Hamlin, Coahoma, and Wilson.

Snyder's FFA quiz team, composed of Carrol Stone, Leon Smith, Ernest Shifflett and Nonnie Ford, finished fourth in the competition. They went up against teams from Marfa, Ysleta, Garden City, Tahoka, Rule, and Coahoma.

Only first place teams are permitted to advance into the state contest.

Billy Bob McMullan instructs the Snyder teams.

A number of the bonus players signed this spring will appear on major league rosters next winter, unless the unrestricted draft of first-year players is changed.

Cubans Mount New Attack On America

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Cuba mounted a new attack on the United States in the Security Council today, accusing Washington of threatening armed force to prevent the Dominican Republic from deciding its political future. The Soviet Union was certain to join in the attack.

Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin, Security Council president for November, called the 11-nation body into session this afternoon to consider Cuba's charge that the United States plans armed intervention in the Dominican Republic.

Cuban Ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchautegui claimed in a letter to Zorin that the United States is trying to prevent the Dominican people from exercising democratic freedoms—and achieving full national independence.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson readied a denial of Cuban charges that U.S. planes had flown over Dominican soil or that the United States had violated the Caribbean nation's sovereignty in any way.

Two Vehicles Are Damaged In Mishap

The Snyder Police Department investigated an accident this morning in the 800 block of Twenty-fifth at 8:10 a.m.

Involved was a 1959 Ford driven by Glen L. Toler of Snyder, and a 1955 Buick driven by John Edward Payne of 2707 Avenue O.

Damage to the Toler car was estimated at $175; to the Payne car at $200. No injuries were reported.

Embattled Farmer In Ozarks Slain

BRANSON, Mo. (AP)—An embattled Ozark farmer who earlier stood off 10 policemen was killed today in a fusillade of gunfire as the police, reinforced with two armored vehicles, closed in on his mountain cottage.

The bullet-riddled body of Bill Jenkins, 38, was found inside his hillside home after police fired more than 100 shots into the cabin.

Armed with a shotgun, Jenkins wounded two officers when the posse tried to roust him Tuesday night, and police withdrew for the night.

At 8 a.m. today, some 30 state police and deputy sheriffs lobbed tear gas shels into the four-room cottage before moving in. Jenkins appeared at a window briefly, apparently for air, then vanished.

Jenkins became angry with authorities Tuesday, accusing them of being too slow about stringing a power line to his farm home.

He was charged with abducting the manager of the White River Valley Electric Cooperative from his home in Branson and forcing him at gunpoint to chop down a tree on the right-of-way of the line. A charge of assault with intent to kill had been filed against Jenkins.

AF Launches Titan Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The first Titan missile launched by an all-Air Force crew successfully flew 5,000 miles Tuesday night and tested a nose cone being developed as a target for the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile.

Air Force troops manned all blockhouse positions as the 98-foot rocket blazed away from the Cape and streaked to a bullseye off Ascension Island.

Previous Titan launches here were conducted by civilian personnel of the Martin Co., which makes the missile.

Data from Tuesday's flight will be used in computing intercept patterns when Nike-Zeus is launched from Kwajalein Island in the Pacific next year in an attempt to knock down Atlas missiles launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

The Atlas nose cones—the actual Zeus targets—will be like the cone which capped the Titan.

Decorate Walls Fireplaces, Dens

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Old houses are fun to own if you are a do - it - yourself type or can afford to hire someone to make the necessary improvements. But it can be frustrating when the budget keeps a good decorating plan from being carried out.

Here's a letter with a wall problem that is not a rarity in an old house:

"We bought an old house and the only drawback is the walls. I had dreams of papering the bedrooms in gay Colonial patterns, but wallpaperers discouraged me because of our gouged, bumpy walls. It is too costly to replaster all the walls. Do you think fabric could be smoothed over them? I have read that decorators use ticking and other fabrics on walls."

Decorators do use fabric on walls but the walls must be smooth They use paper behind it, applying the fabric to the paper, not directly on the wall. When the walls are not flat, they either sand them smooth, or attach the fabric to playboard. The method is to stretch the fabric over the board and then staple it to the wood at top and sides using a staple gun. Attach the plyboard to the walls and then paste or tack braid over the stapled areas. One other possibility, of course, is to paint your walls a single color, utilizing the bumps and hollows to provide texture."

"We would like to have a fireplace in our ranch house but my husband says it is a structural impossibility because of the space required for the fire bricks. Would a phony fireplace look too modern in a room that is furnished in early American style, or would the coziness of the room be upset by a fireplace that is run by electricity?"

Fake fireplaces and those run by electricity are made in early American designs which fit nicely into a cozy room. Also there are many stylish woodburning fireplaces available which do not employ conventional chimneys. If you investigate the possibilities locally, you will find that some have flue arrangements that take up little space and the fireplace itself can be very decorative. It also is well to check with your fire underwriter, who may have suggestions for safety in connection with both electric and small-flue fireplaces.

The trend is to more color in the home, but many people have difficulties in assembling a satisfactory color scheme as this letter indicates:

"I want to furnish my home in Colonial style, but find that I am stymied when it comes to color schemes. I just don't know how to begin. Where can I get help?"

One clue may be obtained by examining documentary fabrics in stores, noting the colors that are used. These are authentic reproductions and offer great possibilities in selecting paints, rugs and fabrics for a period room. A fabric swatch of a color scheme you like could give you an easy way to solve your decorating problem throughout your house. You could alternate dominant, related and accent colors and get a coordinated color scheme in the various rooms. Deep yellow, tole red, apple green, brown and blue are colors you are most likely to find in some of these early patterns.

How to place furniture around a fireplace isn't as easy as it sounds when you want to make it the focal point of a room as this letter points out:

"I don't have two small sofas to use in the usual fashion at the fireplace in a new home. I have tried putting one sofa in front of it but it looks too bare. I have put a small upholstered armless chair on either side of it, but that looks skimpy. The other furniture I have includes an oblong low table, a large upholstered chair, a desk, a Regency bench and two miniature chests which are now used at either side of the sofa along one wall."

If the room is wide enough to permit it, you could use a sofa on one side of the fireplace and the two armless chairs opposite it. You might use the miniature chests at either end of the two chairs, to make that group equal in length with the sofa opposite. The small table could be used in the center of the arrangements.

"My sportsman husband has put a mounted fish up on the living room wall, duck decoys on the fireplace and pheasant feathers in floral arrangements. The last straw is a large poster listing shooting rules and regulations which he placed on our bedroom wall. How do other women cope with this idea?"

A man should feel that the home is his as well as his wife's. Put his prizes around a desk or occasional table and he'll be ecstatic. A mounted fish can be attractive if placed properly on the wall, over a desk for instance. Pheasant feathers combined with other dried flowers may make a delightful arrangement on the desk or table. Duck decoys may be used in the same area. The shooting regulations could be framed and put on the wall.

There is a current trend to using wall plaques, old signs, posters of every description, so you can be right in style.

You can toast grated coconut by spreading it out in a shallow pan and placing it under broiler heat. Watch carefully so as not to scorch!

Hermleigh Holds Annual Coronation

The Hermleigh High School and grade school coronation ceremonies were held Friday night, Nov. 17. A Hawaiian theme was used.

The heralds and ushers were dressed in the native Hawaiian costumes which consisted of muumuu's and leis. The entertainment included Hawaiian numbers.

Judy Etheredge, Queen of Hermleigh High School, and Debra Vicary, Queen of Hermleigh Grade School were crowned by George Vicary, the High School principal.

Miss Etheredge, a senior, is the daughter of Mrs. W. B. Etheredge. Miss Vicary, a second grader, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Vicary.

Jim Robinson, King of HHS, and William Kimzey, king of the grade school, were crowned by Curt Wise, superintendent of HHS. Robinson, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robinson, Kimzey, a second grader, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kimzey.

Other candidates were: high school-Virginia Hanson and Rodney Mayo, eleventh grade; Betty Etheredge and Travis Withers, tenth grade; Geenita Robbins and Don Taylor, ninth grade. Grade school—Margie Soules and Chester Collier, eighth grade; Linda Colvin and Jimmy Hess, seventh grade; Sherry Fritz and Ronnie Goebel, sixth grade; Dana Vicary and Allen Kress, fifth grade; Sharon Pieper and Randy Kubena, fourth grade; Janet Holdridge and Jerry Wempkin, third grade; Wilma Stirl and Richie Withers, first grade.

Flower girls for high school king and queen were Judy Bollinger and Esther Kerrera. Train carriers were Tommy Vineyard Timothy Ince. Crown bearers were Kelly Brannon and David Williams.

Grade school: flower girls, Mary Garcia and Angelita Garcia. Train carriers, Charles Kress and Dale Peterson. Crown bearers Dan Dacus and Michael Goebel.

Heralds were Kay Glass and Carole Chorn, both seniors. Ushers were Mary Carole Hanson, a senior and Morris Hanson, a junior.

Lucky 13 Entertains Gay 20

Recently the Lucky 13 Sports Club was host to a hayride for members and dates. The fun-filled evening was topped off with a wiener roast on a creek bank at Judy Richardson's farm.

Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Boren, Mr. and Mrs. Max von Roeder, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dunn.

The club held a rummage sale recently, with proceeds going to helping a needy family at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The members will also work with the Goodfellows.

Saturday, Nov. 20, the club gave a tea in honor of the Gay 20 Social Club in the home of Mrs. Badger Robertson. Spiced tea and individual white cake squares were served. Entertainment was a humorous skit presented by Susan Richardson, Sally Wade, Becky Beaty, Carol Ann Young and Diana Ator.

Two Local Beauticians Attend Meet

Johnnie Taylor and Ann Tuetschlander represented Snyder at the District 2 meeting of Beauticians held November 19 in Plainview.

The delegates discussed the bills that will be presented to the next legislature regarding beautician's state board examinations, and types of operator's licenses to be required. Also discussed were beautician's insurance policies.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

by Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"For by grace you have been saved through faith...not because of works, lest any man should boast."

Ephesians 2:8 (Read verses 1-10)

Some people might think that "works" would be an easier way to heaven. At least in this method of salvation one could do some heavenly accounting, adding up the times of good works and debiting the times of bad works. Paul had discovered that this law of works only leads a person farther and farther away from heaven instead of closer. "The good that I desire to do, I do not," he said. Only through faith in God, through His Son Jesus, can any person be saved from sin and be given the gifts of eternal life.

Angela Will Spurn Talking Dolls For Home-Family

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures Writer

Ventriloquist Angela Martin, 18, of Astoria, Long Island, has a bright future in the theater, but chances are she'll toss it all over when she's 25.

"I'm not going to be one of those girls who keeps hoping she'll make the big time, then keeps worrying about staying on top. I'd rather have a home and family, because I'd be sorry if I postponed it so long, it didn't materialize."

Doll - faced, red - haired Angela has had network time with the best in show business — Jack Paar, Garry Moore, Jackie Gleason, Milton Berle and many others. But that's not enough, she says. You must keep fighting to get ahead, one reason she would not want children of her own to go into the theater. (She wants at least four.) From what she's seen of it, "it's a rat race, even for the top performers.

"You've got to have alligator skin to last in show business. There are a lot of cold - hearted types in the theater, and most performers must be selfish to advance themselves. I feel that I must be getting selfish too," she says.

This conflict of values upsets Angela. She feels there is no point in having success unless you can share it with people, and she doesn't like stepping on people's toes. She explains:

"I told my mother that if I should make a name in this business, I'd use the money to help friends. It sounds Pollyanish, but I mean it."

Angela taught herself ventriloquism at age 8. She had watched ventriloquists perform and began practicing with dolls at home. Neighbors suggested that she audition on a kiddie show. She passed the test, and later was invited to appear every week. The show's producer became her manager.

Can't Teach

"People are always asking me how to learn the art and I can't explain it. I've been asked to teach it, but I couldn't. I've been reading about it lately, just to have a few answers when I'm questioned."

The dolls must be part of your family, like sisters and brothers she explains.

"You must believe the little puppets are real, if you'd make them come to life for your audience," she says. She has been described as "the best ventriloquist in show business," and the master of ventriloquism, Edgar Bergen, has been quoted as saying of Angela, "no one can throw an inflection with less of that embrassing lip tremor."

The little mannikens are made by her father.

A runner - up for the "Miss New York City" title last year, Angela says it is good to be in contests because if you don't win, you learn how to lose gracefully.

Exercises To Music

Angela has a weight problem. She works at it as hard as she works at everything else.

"I have a wonderful trick for doing dreary exercises. I turn on my favorite record, whatever it is, and do my exercise routines to it. Music makes it seem less of a chore and before you know it, you're lost in bongo, and doing more exercises than you planned to do," she says.

Her last year of high school was spent at Quintanos, the professional children's school. She has tudied music, singing, dancing and acting to add to her repertoire. She has played in summer stock in "Anything Goes," "Say Darling" and "The Pajama Game." Her latest record is "I Wish I Were." Angela has made many personal appearances at theaters here and in Canada.

Wonderful for tea: thinly sliced date - and - nut bread spread with cream cheese that has been mixed with grated orange rind.

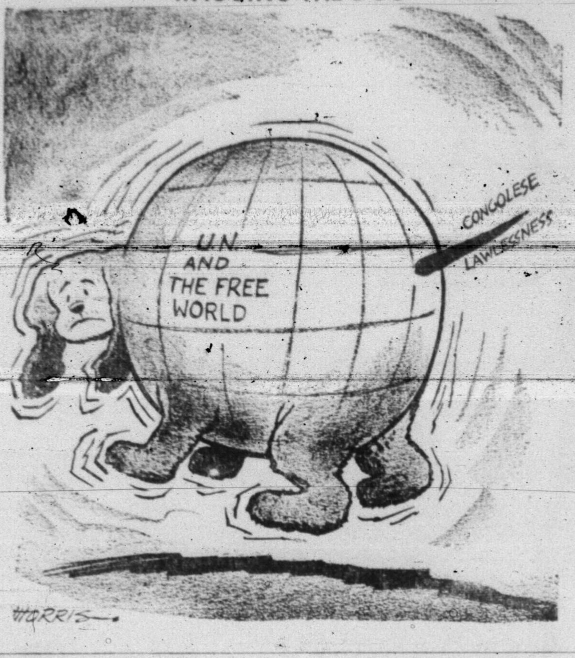
WAGGING THE DOG



Back Zippers Preferred For Purpose, Columnist Learns

BY INEZ ROBB

"A pox on back zippers!" I cried in a recent column, pointing out that their only virtue had been to put a premium on husbands. I spoke with sympathy of the single woman who must deal alone with this menace.

Then I sat back, awaiting a rash of laudatory letters from women tied in judo knots from dealing with back zippers. Wel-l-l-l—there were plenty of letters all right. But a good 50 percent of them advised me to speak for myself, mind my own business or zip my head in a pliofilm bag.

"Have you shaved your head?" "Do you wear a wig?" and "Do you favor a crew cut?" were among the politer queries.

Masses of women favor back zippers and for a reason that I should have been smart enough to figure out by myself. Today's woman is a slave not to her husband or her employer but to her hairdresser. She may break an arm, slip a disc or dislocate her disposition trying to deal alone with a rear zipper.

But these are minor matters, scarcely to be noticed when stacked up against the happy fact that the rear zipper enables a woman to get in and out of her clothes without disturbing her coiffure.

Woman's hair today is not so much her crowning glory as her cross and most-demanding care. Hair has become a way of life. Within the last decade hairdos have become so increasingly costly and elaborate that a whole new cult has been built up around their care and prolongation.

No coiffures since the days of Marie Antoinette have been so elaborate as those of today, proudly advertised as an age of simplicity that has reduced even the dinner hour to Metrecal and pemmican. As the taste setters turned homes into "engineered living space" and furniture into functional frustration, something was bound to give.

With the girls, it has given at the top, in a rash of extravagant hairdos ranging from the beehive to the bouffant. And all costing such a mint at the hairdresser's that self-preservation became the first law of fashion.

Who, familiar with the classics of world literature, does not remember that tender and inevitable scene when the lover runs his trembling fingers through the glorious locks of his beloved?

Let him try it today! Just let him try it, and see what happens!

Let the modern lover but stretch his hand toward his beloved's coiffure, and she'll put an arm lock on him that would do justice to the Terrible Turk or Georgeous George.

Of, if the poor man actually gets so far as to thrust his fingers over her artichoke or lion "do" he will be maimed for life, every finger shattered by its impact against a coiffure set with concrete. The hair spray, now widely used throughout the U.S.A. to "set" a hairdo and preserve its shape for six or seven days, is a form of liquid cement. And before the liquid concrete is applied, the hair, in most instances, is ratted, the better to help it hold its shape.

Now, "ratting" is an old-fashioned term I picked up from my mother. It has been updated—that is, the name has been updated not the process—and is now variously known as "teasing," "ruffing" or as "French lace". Makes it sound more expensive.

No woman in her right mind, who has submitted herself to a "setting lotion," "French lace," tarice over lightly with the liquid cement, the dryer and then to the cashier is going to do naught to damage her investment in time and money.

The modern Melisande would would see Pelleas in a dungeon dire before she either could or would let down such hair as she has. As for combing it — are you crazy?

I realize now that the back zipper is here to stay as long as the coiffure is king and women suffer from a Samson Syndrome.

No Celebration On DeGaulle's Birthday

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle was 71 today, but his schedule called for no celebration.

De Gaulle's program included a Cabinet meeting, lunch and political talks with President Fulbert Youlou of the Congo Republic, an evening performance at the Comedie Francaise in honor of Youlou and departure by special train for Strasbourg, where De Gaulle will speak to the army Thursday.

Heat equal parts of tomato juice and clam juice for a before-dinner drink. Serve in mugs with cheese - spread crackers.

Cleaning Off Desk Good Investment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every few years or so, whether it needs it or not, I clean off my office desk.

Always it is by compulsion; never by choice.

Sometimes this cleaning chore is undertaken when a fire department inspector threatens to give me a summons for maintaining a hazard to public life and property. More often it is the result of an ultimatum from the boss.

"I'm tired of having to climb a stepladder to look over the debris on your desk to see whether you're loafing or working. Clean it off," the boss will say.

The boss usually adds condescendingly, "A messy desk is an indication of an insecure childhood. There's something pitiful about a grown man who even hoards used toothpicks in his desk because he's afraid to throw anything away."

"Well, in a crisis a used toothpick is better than none," I tell him, and go on to point out:

"You've got your psychology backward. A man with a polished desk shows an insecure adulthood trying to hide a secret sense of guilt. A clean desk is the sign of a frightened mind."

As my boss—and the other swivel chair Caesars on the executive rungs above me—all maintain spotless desks, my own rubbled desk may explain why I've never been elected general manager of my firm. There must be some explanation why honest merit has been held down for 30 years.

The rest of the staff enjoys pitching in and helping me, too. What greater pleasure in office life is there than pawing through another fellow's desk—on company time, naturally?

If the 50 people who work near me spend only a week of their time happily sifting through the man-made mountain I labor behind, I figure it costs the firm more than $5,000 every time I clean my desk.

But what better investment can a well-run organization make? Everybody has more fun than he does at the office picnic. Most everybody winds up with a souvenir worth keeping. The other fellow's desk always has something in it you'd like to have yourself.

So far I haven't really dented the Mt. Everest atop and inside my desk, but here are a few items I've found:

A pair of adenoids sent in a test tube by an admiring reader who apparently had no further use for them.

46 packets of matches.

137 pieces of string in eight colors.

About 13 cents worth of stub on a dollar cigar.

A picture of Sophie Tucker as a child actress.

18 toothpicks—only 9 used.

A bottle of sulphur and molasses tonic.

A 1948 Dewey campaign button, and a 1952 one for Stevenson.

A letter dated, "Little Big Horn, May 15, 1876." The letter contains only one word: "Help!" It is signed "George Armstrong Custer"—but the signature could be a fake.

When there is illness in the family, two important "drugs" are a dependable supply of hot water and plenty of soap and detergent. Both contribute to the patient's comfort through refreshing sponge baths and clean linens. Towels, sheets and pillowcases need to be laundered in hot suds and rinses for hygienic protection.

Texas Solid Choice In TV Turkey Tilt

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chestnuts in your turkey dressing improves its flavor but chestnuts in college football forecasting can ruin your average. Last week's picks showed 37 correct, 8 chestnuts for .822.

This week's winners:

Michigan over Ohio State: It is being played at Michigan and there won't be 82,000 fans in the stands cheering themselves hoarse over Buckeye Bob Ferguson's antics.

Minnesota over Wisconsin: Sandy Stephens, the versatile bridegroom, pitches Minnesota to a second straight Big Ten crown.

Louisiana State over Tulane: Little more than a workout.

Texas over Texas A&M: The Longhorns will be all business this time to save their Cotton Bowl invitation. You will see it on your TV Thursday.

Colorado over Iowa State: The Buffs are infuriated by their lack of bowl appeal.

MICHIGAN State over Illinois: The Illini are grateful this is the last game in a long winless season.

Arkansas over Texas Tech: Lance Alford has too much speed for the weary Tech Raiders.

Kansas over Missouri: This will be more bruising than any of their previous meetings but John Hadl will engineer a narrow victory.

Purdue over Indiana: They call this the Old Oaken Bucket game because the Purdue line is made of the same timber.

Maryland over Virginia: With the greatest of ease.

Harvard over Yale: The revamped Harvard backfield has too many guns for the young Yales.

Syracuse over Boston College: Syracuse won't have to rely on movies and rulings to pull this one out of the fire. The Orangemen will have it safely won by half-time.

Rutgers over Columbia: Rutgers started this football business 92 years ago and by defeating the Ivy League champs will have its first perfect season.

UCLA over Southern California: The host spot in the Rose Bowl goes to the victor.

Thursday

Friday

Miami over Northwestern.

EAST: Holy Cross over Connecticut, Cornell over Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh over Penn State, Princeton over Dartmouth.

SOUTH: Auburn over Florida, Clemson over North Carolina State, Kentucky over Tennessee, Mississippi Southern over Trinity, Vanderbilt over South Carolina, North Carolina over Wake Forest.

MIDWEST: Detroit over Cincinnati, Iowa over Notre Dame, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Oklahoma State over Kansas State.

SOUTHWEST: Baylor over Southern Methodist, Houston over Florida State, Rice over Texas Christian, Texas Western over North Texas State.

FAR WEST: Arizona State over Arizona, New Mexico State over Hardin-Simmons, New Mexico over Brigham Young, Oregon State over Oregon, Washington over Washington State, Stanford over California.

Burkburnett Given Blade In UIL Move

AUSTIN (AP) — Burkburnett High School has been suspended by the University Interscholastic League from next year's list of schools eligible for league football competition.

The League's nine-member executive committee, in secret session Tuesday also placed the school on probation for 1963.

The executive committee received the case on a complaint by the Fort Worth chapter of the Southwest Conference football officials association. The case stemmed from allegations that a Burkburnett coach verbally abused an official after the Olney-Burkburnett football game Oct. 27.

The league's director of journalism, Dr. Max Haddick, said the order means that Burkburnett may not play any league member schools next year. Burkburnett may play some private schools, however, he said.

The school will be permitted to play its full schedule in 1963, Haddick said, and will be eligible for district honors providing there are no further infractions of league rules.

Froggie End Is Lineman Of The Week

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "I'm not much good at talkin'," says Texas Christian University end Buddy Iles, "but that touchdown pass was the greatest thrill of my life—ever."

The modest 21-year-old senior, selected Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press Tuesday, spoke quietly of the 50-yard pass from Sonny Gibbs that upset Texas Saturday 6-0.

Buddy hauled in the pass on the Texas eight and battled into the end zone for the touchdown that snapped an eight-game Texas winning streak and tumbled the Longhorns from their ranking of the nation's No. 1 team.

"I thought I had been tackled before I crossed the goal line," Iles, an educational math major from New London, Tex., said of the pass play. "But I didn't argue, no sir."

When Coach Abe Martin learned that Iles had gotten the nod as top lineman in the weekly poll of sports writer and broadcasters, he exclaimed: "Well, great."

Martin, who called the victory one of the greatest of his career, added quickly that many of his players deserved a share of the honors.

Iles, in addition to his touchdown, played outstanding both offensively and defensively and in the fourth quarter halted the final Texas drive with a vicious tackle at the TCU four.

Special Week Is Set By Governor

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel has proclaimed Nov. 26-Dec. 3 as alcoholism information week.

Daniel designated the week to call the attention "of all citizens to the need for development of adequate service and facilities in our state to deal more effectively with this problem."

Daniel said there are about 5 million alcoholics in the United States with an estimated 200,000 in Texas.

Smarting Longhorns Eye Aggies

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas, sidetracked in its rush toward the national championship five days ago, will try to pick up the pieces against Texas A&M Thursday in the top game of a thin collegiate Thanksgiving Day football schedule.

Texas Christian cut down the Longhorns, 6-0, last Saturday, so whatever the outcome against the Aggies, it will provide little solace, except for a berth in the Cotton Bowl.

In other games, Maine and Massachusetts play for the Yankee Conference championship, Richmond meets William and Mary, Virginia Tech tangles with VMI (both Southern Conference contests), Colgate goes against Brown and Memphis State takes on Chattanooga.

Despite the fact that their national title hopes have been shattered Texas still is on the spot against Texas A&M. A loss to the Aggies also could leave the Longhorns on the outside looking in at the Cotton Bowl.

Texas and Arkansas are tied for the Southwest Conference lead, each with a 5-1 record. If Texas whips Texas A&M and Arkansas gets past Texas Tech — as it should—Saturday, the Longhorns and Razorbacks would finish deadlocked for the lead.

The host spot in the Cotton Bowl then would go to Texas on the basis of a 33-7 victory over Arkansas earlier in the season.

Syracuse is expected to decide today whether to play in New York Gotham Bowl on Dec. 9 or Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl on Dec. 16—or no bowl at all.

The Gotham bowl has said it would like to pair Syracuse against Notre Dame in a replay of the Irish's controversial 17-15 victory over the Orange last Saturday. But Notre Dame has a policy of not playing postseason games and no doubt will decline.

The make up the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., on Dec. 30 was tentatively set Thursday night.

Georgia Tech will face Maryland if the Terps win their season finale from Virginia Saturday. Yellow Jacket players voted unanimously to accept the bid. Official acceptance, under Southeastern Conference rules, must await Georgia Tech's final game against Georgia on Dec. 2.

Cougars Top Fluvannans

KLONDKIE — Klondike's Cougars downed the Fluvanna Buffaloes here Tuesday night to the tune of 71-25, with the 19-point spree of Douglas pacing the winning effort.

Bobby Stansell was high for the Buffs with 10.

Klondike also came out on top in the girls game, 53-29, with Denson topping her contemporaries in the scoring department with 21. Fluvanna's Robin Beaver was only a point behind her, however, with 20 points.

FLUVANNA — Beaver 2-1-5, Kingston 2-1-5, Stansell 4-2-10, Green 1-0-2, Conteras 1-1-3, totals 10-5-25.

KLONDIKE—Beam 5-1-11, Williams 0-2-2, Garrett 3-1-7 Airhart 5-1-11, Matthews 2-0-4, Douglas 9-1-19, Cohorr 4-1-9, Cozart 1-0-2, Schneider 2-0-4, Aten 1-0-2, totals 32-7-71.

Crimson Satan's sire, Spy Song, ran second in the 1946 Derby. He was beaten eight lengths by Assault, the colt with the deformed hoof.

Hermleigh Drops Pair To Highland

HERMLEIGH — Phil Wright poured in 28 points here Tuesday night to skyrocket his Highland Hornet quintet to a 71-48 victory over the Hermleigh Cardinals.

The win was the second of the young season for Highland without loss, and dropped the Cards to 0-2 in the won-lost column.

Ken Bell sparked the Hermleigh attack by meshing 19 points.

The Highlanders made it a clean sweep by roaring to a 52-48 win in the girls game, also, paced by the 27 point output of Peggy Bankhead.

Carolyn Roemisch was tops for Hermleigh with 17 for the evening.

NT Freshman Gridder Dies In Lubbock

LUBBOCK (AP)—Pat Wheeler, 18, a North Texas State freshman football player, died Tuesday of a broken neck suffered in the North Texas-Texas Tech frosh game last Friday.

Wheeler was injured when he tackled Tech halfback Jim Zanios late in the third quarter of the game which Tech won here 21-6.

Doctors said the 165-pounder from Ada, Okla., suffered a broken neck and a dislocation that damaged the spinal cord. He was paralyzed from the neck down from the time of the accident.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wheeler of Ada.

The sire of Papila, Crimson Satan's dam, was Requiebro who won the Argentine Derby at one mile and a half. Crimson Satan won the Garden State at one mile and a sixteenth.

Foss Puts Stop To Controversy

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League has cancelled the controversial secret draft that had the colleges up in arms and the rival National Football League making snide remarks.

In a telephone call to The Associated Press from Washington early today, Foss said he was exercising his power as commissioner and declaring the draft null and void.

Foss declared when the story broke Sunday that he didn't know it had been done but that he would investigate.

The draft, called a poll for negotiation by the club owners, came two weeks before the official draft of the AFL, set by Foss for Dec. 2 in cooperation with the American Football Coaches Association.

When news of the secret draft leaked out, the colleges called it a breach of faith. Bill Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten and cochairman of the Football Coaches-NCAA Committee which worked out a draft ban until the end of the college season, asked that Foss repudiate it.

Foss told The Associated Press "After investigating and considering more fully the various ramifications of the negotiation poll conducted secretly by presidents of the American Football League, without the knowledge of myself or my office, I feel such a poll has the aspects of a premature draft and exercise my power as commissioner and hereby declare it null and void. Only the draft in Dallas on Dec. 2 conducted by the commissioner will be the authentic and official one."

Foss said he was voiding the draft through power given him by the constitution and by-laws of the American Football League which specify that he can take any action he deems necessary for the good of the organization.

Foss took his action with the knowledge that he might be fired by the AFL club owners. He has another year to go on his contract.

He said when the secret draft was revealed that it was embarrassing to him that the club owners would do this without his knowledge. He said today, in announcing that he was voiding it, that he had heard it being talked about and spoke to a club owner, telling him it was wrong, and thought he had prevented it.

Football Is Dropped At Paris JC

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — A heavy deficit in football receipts has caused Paris Junior College to drop that sport from the school's athletic program, Dr. C. C. Clark, president of the college, said Tuesday.

The school's board of regents voted to discontinue the football program which was begun in 1925.

Clark said in the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1961, the football deficit was $57,721, or 37 per cent of the total tax and tuition receipts of the college.

Clark announced, however, that the college will spend $10,000 on other facets of its athletic program with added emphasis on intramural sports, baseball, and track and an expanded basketball schedule.

He said that athletic director and football coach Boyd Converse will continue as athletic director.

Ira Flipped By Coyotes

GAIL—Joel Dennis meshed 17 points here Tuesday evening to lead his Gail Coyotes to a 48-34 win over the Ira Bulldogs.

Tommy Sterling and David Cagle split scoring honors for the Bulldogs by dropping through 10 apiece.

Gail's "A" girls also won out over the Ira sextet, marking up a 46-26 triumph. Kay Ford paced the losers with 12 points.

Ira averted a clean sweep when its girls "B" team opened the night's play with a 31-18 victory over the Gail "B".

GAIL—Bobby Burris 4-0-8, Joel Dennis 8-1-17, Tim Cockerman 4-0-8, Mike Stephens 2-0-4, Bill Nunnally 1-1-3, Telchick 3-0-6, Tommy Burris 1-0-2, totals 23-2-48.

IRA — Tommy Sterling 4-2-10, David Cagle 5-0-10, Mike Sterling 2-1-5, Donnie Dunn 0-2-2, Ronnie Autry 2-0-4, Robert Sterling 1-1-3, totals 14-6-34.

Hobbs, Roby Split Cage Doubleheader

ROBY—Roby's host Lions outgunned the Hobbs Panthers, 42-29 here Tuesday night, as Jerry Burk led the way for the winners with a 13-point output.

Richard Ratliff and Ruben Mijares split scoring honors for the Panther five with 12 each.

The Hobbs sextet emerged victorious in the girls game, an overtime affair, by 39-37.

YEAH, BUT WHO WON???

Irish-Orange Feud Boils

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Notre Dame has a 17-15 victory over Syracuse in last Saturday's controversial football game but Syracuse is claiming a 15-14 victory over the Irish.

Commissioners Bill Reed of the Big Ten and Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletics Conference issued a joint statement Tuesday that the game officials erred in allowing the Irish an extra play after time ran out in which Joe Perkowski booted a 41-yard field goal to wipe out the 15-14 Syracuse lead and give Notre Dame a 17-15 triumph.

Notre Dame shunted aside the commissioners' statement as "ambiguous and illogical."

Syracuse athletic director Lew Andreas said "We believe absolutely Syracuse won the game 15-14."

That's the way matters stand. But Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, said the matter should be settled by the institutions involved in consultation with the commissioners and Gen. Bob Neyland, Tennessee athletic director and chairman of the NCAA Rules Committee. The Rules Committee, said Byers, is the final authority on interpretation of the rules.

Syracuse had hopes that the NCAA would rule on the matter. But, according to Byers' statement, this is not the NCAA's problem.

Notre Dame is in no mood to concede the victory to Syracuse in the manner which Cornell did to Dartmouth in the 1940 season. In that game, Cornell apparently had won 7-3 by scoring a touchdown on the game's final play.

Two days later referee Red Friesell discovered he had permitted Cornell a fifth down on which the game-ending touchdown was scored.

Syracuse had a 15-14 lead over Notre Dame when the Irish tried a field goal by Perkowski with three seconds to play. The attempt was short but a roughing the kicker penalty was called. Syracuse was penalized 15 yards, although time had run out, and Notre Dame was given another shot. This time Perkowski made good.

The controversy began Sunday long after Gus Skibbie, head linesman from Bowling Green, Ohio, supplied by the Big Ten, had called the roughing penalty.

Under the interpretations of Reed, Bushnell and others, the NCAA ruling is "a foul during the kick, including roughing the kicker, will not extend the period as the ball is not in (the kicking team's) possession."

Notre Dame doesn't buy this. The Irish showed a movie clip of the play at the Chicago Football Writers' luncheon Tuesday and then issued a statement by Rev. Edmund C. Joyce Notre Dame's vice president and chairman of the faculty board.

"We are quite surprised at the developments following our last-minute victory over Syracuse. We felt and still feel that the officials made the proper decision on the field. The infraction occurred before the ball was dead," the statement said.

"There fore, it seems mandatory that a penalty be invoked. It is strange that the officials now feel otherwise. At any rate, the interpretation given to the basic NCAA football rules as it applied to the point in question seems to us to be both ambiguous and illogical."

At Syracuse, Andreas said, "we believe Commissioners Reed and Bushnell have interpreted correctly and we know the game officials in their reports admitted their mistake in allowing an extra play. Syracuse is confident the committee (NCAA Rules Committee) will agree with the commissioner's report."

A&M BD To Meet, Hash Over Myers

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The board of directors of Texas A&M College is scheduled to hold an open meeting today and the athletic situation involving football Coach Jim Myers may be discussed.

There have been reports from some quarters that Myers may not have his contract, up Dec. 1, renewed.

Roy Edwards, writing in the Dallas News today, said that while there was an executive session of the nine-man board Tuesday, and another meeting, this one open, is scheduled today, the story being circulated was that there will be no report on the athletic situation until Saturday.

"There was no assurance of course that any action on the football coaching situation was taken Tuesday and in such case there doubtless would be no announcement of any kind," Edwards said.

Edwards said "this is taken in some quarters as indication that a change is forthcoming, that the college, which has harvested volumes of unfavorable press clippings in its recent coaching hunts, will give the entire package—including name of a new coach—in one announcement."

Edwards said there had been recent reports that the players are in or near revolt, that Coach Myers has lost the confidence of school officials and alumni and that his contract, which expires this season, will not be renewed.

"I believe some of those people who are doing the talking should realize that it's the athletic council and the board who hire coaches, not disgruntled alumni," Myers said. He also declared there was no basis for stories of player dissatisfaction and dissension.

"I can't find them if they are," Myer said. "The attitude of the boys is excellent."

Myers told Edwards he had no intention of yielding his job—not voluntarily at least. "I'm not planning on leaving when I'm just now getting in position to reap some rewards," he asserted.

The team this year has won 4, lost 4 and tied 1. It has what are considered to be good prospects for 1962.

Uncle Sam Loans Out Paul Hornung

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions will have a gimmick. But the Green Bay Packers will have Pvt. Paul Hornung.

The U.S. Army is giving the National Football League's leading scorer back to the Packers for their Thanksgiving Day showdown clash with the Lions.

Green Bay, leading the Lions by 1½ games in the tightened Western Division scramble, also will be bolstered by soldier-players Ray Nitschke and Boyd Dowler. The second-place Lions will be strengthened by the return of John Gordy.

Thursday's battle will be nationally televised (CBS, 12 noon EST) and will lure a sellout crowd bettering 53,000 into Tiger Stadium.

An Army spokesman said Hornung had received a holiday pass and would leave Fort Riley, Kan., today.

Coach George Wilson of the Lions said he received word the other soldiers would fly here from Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Wilson, fed up with the Lions inability to win at Tiger Stadium, sought—and received—permission to have his players wear road uniforms against the Packers. Five of Detroit's six victories occurred in road games when the Lions wore white shirts.

The uniform gimmick is something Wilson is reluctant to discuss.

The rest of the NFL teams will enjoy turkey Thursday and wait until Sunday to play. The big one pits first-place New York against Cleveland in a battle of Eastern Division leaders. Philadelphia plays Dallas, Los Angeles meets Chicago, Minnesota plays San Francisco and Washington plays Pittsburgh in the other Sunday games.

Junior Editors Quiz on WATCHES

QUESTION: How can I use my watch as a compass? Can it be done?

* * *

ANSWER: Yes, it definitely can be done. Hold your watch flat, face side up. Then hold a small straight stick upright at the edge of the watch and just where the hour hand of the watch points. Now turn watch and stick until the sun casts it's shadow directly along the hour hand, so that the hour hand points toward the sun. Then, if it's morning, south lies just halfway between the hour hand and the number 12 on the watch. Notice, in the picture, that we move clockwise as we figure this. West will be at 1:30, north at 4:30, east at 7:30. If the time is noon, south will lie in the direction in which the hour hand points. In the afternoon, south will be also halfway between the hourhand and the number twelve, but you must count backwards, in a counter-clockwise direction in order to locate the halfway point which will be south.

* * *

* * *

(Jinnie Cleveland of Norway, Me., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.) 11-22

Kennedy Clan In Holiday Gathering

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and his family leave today for a traditional Thanksgiving holiday gathering of their clan at Cape Cod.

About 30 Kennedys will celebrate at Hyannis Port, Mass. with a Thanksgiving dinner. Over the four-day weekend they'll stage a second joint birthday celebration for the President's two children.

Caroline, who'll be 4 next Monday, and John Jr., a year old on Saturday, already have had a gala White House party featuring a live monkey, movies and two birthday cakes.

The party Tuesday was for Caroline's Washington nursery schoolmates and a few cousins. The Thanksgiving weekend affair will be a family observation of the birthdays.

The family of ex - Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy has made it a practice for years to assemble for Thanksgiving at the rambling Kennedy home by the sea.

The President, his wife and children, will step aboard a helicopter on the White House south lawn late in the afternoon and make the brief hop to Andrews Air Force Base to board a jet plane for Cape Cod.

They plan to stay at Hyannis Port until Sunday night or Monday morning.

Sitting down with the first family at the Thanksgiving Day dinner table will be the President's father and mother, three of his sisters and their husbands and his two brothers and their wives. There will be 17 Kennedy small fry.

At the White House Tuesday the President's little son enjoyed the excitement of a joint birthday party with Caroline, 11 of her school chums and several Kennedy cousins.

The red-carpeted ground-floor hallway was turned over to the youngsters and they started their frolic riding tricycles down the long corridor.

Next came a 20-minute program of animated cartoons shown in the White House movie theater.

A main feature of the party, staged by Mrs. Kennedy, was a live monkey named "Susie," brought in to amuse the youngsters.

The youngsters had refreshments in the new dining room in the Kennedy upstairs living quarters.

The White House reported that the President was lured from his high level world business to stop in for a brief look at the festivities.

Pvt. James Bowen Is Now In Hawaii

Pvt. James Bowen of Snyder is now stationed at Fort Shafter, Hawaii.

He enlisted in the U. S. Army last July and had eight weeks of basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He reported to Oakland, Calif., on Oct. 13, and boarded the USS General Gaffey for Hawaii.

Pvt. Bowen, 22, is a 1957 graduate of Snyder High School and a 1961 graduate of Texas A&M College. He is the son of Mrs. Hubert Gregory, 3104 Avenue B.

Program Slated At Union Church

The public is invited to a special program scheduled for Thursday night at the Union Methodist Church.

The Carpenter Sisters trio, composed of daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. O. D. Carpenter, will present a program of music. In addition, Karen Carpenter will show pictures taken during her trip to the Orient last summer with the Texas Baptist Student Union Choir.

Big Party Vetoed By Garner

By TED POWERS

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner stoutly vetoed a big party for his 93rd birthday today.

Puffing on a big black cigar, Garner said Tuesday, "I don't want a fuss. I don't want anybody raising a ruckus around here."

When his visitor arrived, Garner suggested a drink of bourbon. But he couldn't find the bottle and finally gave up the search.

The former county judge, state legislator, congressman, speaker of the House and vice president said [illegible] time, but I don't feel so good at other times."

"My doctor told me to spend more time in bed—and that's what I'm doing." Relatives said Garner spends about 16 hours a day in bed, with frequent cat-naps.

Expecting visitors, Garner was wearing the full dress suit he wore in Washington on state occasions during his two terms as vice president under President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He seemed to be in one of the periods when he feels good.

Three years ago "Cactus Jack" gave up cigars and bourbon. He smoked several cigars Tuesday. Since he couldn't find his bottle, it was unclear whether he had also resumed "striking a blow for liberty" — a Garner euphemism for taking a drink.

Garner moved out of the house to a spot under a huge oak but wouldn't allow his visitor to carry his chair—"I can do it myself."

He reminisced about his years of public service which ended when President Roosevelt decided to run for a third term.

When he and FDR broke on that issue, and others, Garner retired from politics.

His last big party was on his [illegible] birthday. The late Speaker Sam Rayburn, former President Harry S. Truman, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, now vice president, and Gov. Price Daniel were among the hundreds who attended.

Last year the party was smaller and visitors found Garner shelling pecans. This year he was looking at greeting cards.

Family Of Five Perishes In Fire

DARIEN CENTER, N.Y. (AP) — A family of five died Tuesday night in a fire that swept [illegible] their two-story frame farm house [illegible] County community.

The victims were John Amedick, 46, his wife, Margaret Mary, 43, and their daughters, Noreen, 6, Patricia Ann, 5, and Jacqueline, 10 months.

In St. Jerome Hospital in nearby Batavia with serious burns are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Drilling, who lived with the Amedicks. Mrs. Drilling and Amedick were brother and sister.

Storm Area Controlled

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican government says the situation along the storm-ravaged coast north of Acapulco has been brought under control.

Communication by highway has been restored to all points along the 100-mile strip, relief supplies are arriving at a steady rate and a feared outbreak of disease has been averted, the government said.

Minister of Defense Agustin Olachea said the death toll from a weekend of heavy rain and high winds a week ago has not been accurately determined.

Olachea said 275 deaths had been confirmed and that the figure might be higher.

Troops continued patrolling the area to prevent looting and to help civilians dig out their tiny towns from beneath tons of mud the storm swept inland.

It's reported that a new baby just about doubles a household's use of hot water for cleanliness purposes: laundry and baths.

Capital Required To Operate Farm

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of articles in connection with observance of National Farm-City Week, prepared by Bernhard Bartels, chairman of the Kiwanis Club Agriculture and Conservation committee.

* * *

Farming requires a great amount of capital. The average investment per farm worker is half again as great as the average investment per factory worker.

In Scurry County it now takes about a half-section of farm land to support a family. At a price running in the neighborhood of $150 per acre this represents an investment of nearly $50,000. Add to that equipment and tools which could easily cost $10,000 at today's prices. If this farmer nets $6,000 he is actually getting only $3,000 for a year's work because the other $3,000 can and should be considered a fair return on an investment of this size.

In this age of substituting machinery for high-priced labor and acreage controls on crops produced, farmers need more land to spread the overhead costs over more acres. This bidding for additional land along with speculative buying by non-farm people has pushed the sale price of land above the productive value in many areas. The present relationship between net farm incomes and the sale value of farm real estate is the most unfavorable for 25 years and shows no sign of improving.

Agriculture is the biggest private buyer, seller, and borrower in the United States.

Farmers are heavy taxpayers. They pay a larger percentage of their net income as taxes than any other group. Last year farmers paid one dollar in real estate taxes out of each $12 they received in net income.

If incomes were based on increased productivity per man, the farmers would be the best paid group in our economy. However, this is not the case. Net farm income has trended downward since the late 40's and early 50's. Here in this area where we have come out of a severe drouth our income has had no way to go but up.

Gross income has risen a little in agriculture but farm costs are nine billion dollars higher than they were in 1947. The farm price squeeze has resulted because the price of most things farmers buy has risen 18 per cent while the price of things farmers sell has declined 14 per cent since 1947.

Agriculture furnishes work for a great many people. Sixteen million people are employed in processing and marketing farm products and furnishing supplies to farmers. This is four times the number of farm operators. If agriculture should leave Scurry Co., think what would happen to the elevators, feed dealers, farm equipment dealers, fuel and oil distributors, lumber yards, truckers, and nearly every other business in and around Snyder.

Bernhard Bartels

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Daily News:

If, you live your life just as you did years ago; if, you take no interest in fighting communism; if, you're not concerned about what a mess your country is in; if, you call those who fight communism "crackpots;" if, you haven't joined up with at least one group fighting communism; if, you won't read materials on the evils of communism; if, you have no desire to become informed; if, you don't read your daily newspaper; if, what Khrushchev said doesn't worry you; if, you haven't studied a map of the world lately, then, my friend, you DESERVE to live under the communist tyranny which is taking over the world right before your (sleeping) eyes.

Mrs. W. Ed Murphy

HOW TO WIN AD-RIME PRIZES

The arrow points to the "Guideline" →

AD-RIME lines must be in and rhyme with the Guideline. Your entry MUST carry the "Hidden Slogan." Find it among the ads—one word in each column starting at the left.

You don't have to buy anything to win prizes but MUST find and write the Hidden Slogan. Preference is given to AD-RIME lines that tie in well and BOOST LOCAL TRADE. Get the swing—the two lines are a "jingle." One which can't win is:

Better prices grade for grade but you must write original ones. Good luck—and keep trying.

Wade through these ads for "hidden slogan" words. You need no spade to aid in digging them out. Ten dollars is paid to someone making the grade with an AD-RIME line. Join the "local shoppers' parade!" Your beauty (and money) may fade if you invade out-of-town stores. Persuade yourself to raid local stores for the best that's made.

A fair young maid, with nerves all frayed
Was quite dismayed and sore afraid
Those trips she made have never paid,
So—home she stayed—felt well repaid.
