Hope Is Dwindling For Release Of Pueblo Crew

SEOUL (UPI)—North Korea celebrated its 20th anniversary today with anti-American speeches and banners that squashed speculation it was ready to release the U.S. spy ship Pueblo or its 82 crewmen. But United Nations officials kept buses waiting at the border demilitarized zone and a hospital ready in case the Communists decided to turn back the Americans they captured Jan. 23.

A spokesman for the South Korean Foreign Ministry said his government has no information to support reports the release is imminent.

But the influential Seoul newspaper, Don-A Ilbo, quoted diplomatic sources as saying there had been progress in negotiations concerning the Pueblo between U.N. and North Korean officials. It said North Korea would reply to the latest U.N. proposal in the next few days.

"Important reports" that the North Korean news agency had promised for Sunday turned out to be excerpts from a speech by North Korean President Kim Il Sung that carried several anti-American passages.

He told his nation that North and South Korea can be unified only after "the U.S. aggressors are driven out of our soil and the South Korean puppet regime is blown up."

U.N. command officials declined comment in Seoul on unconfirmed reports that allied and Communist negotiators met Sunday at Panmunjom to discuss the possible release of the Pueblo and its crew.

North Korean gunboats forced the Pueblo ashore Jan. 23, claiming the ship had violated North Korean waters. One U.S. sailor was killed and American officials said the ship had been hijacked in international waters.

Connally Backs 10-Year Plan For Education

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas Gov. John Connally, saying the 10-year education plan proposed by the Governor's Committee on Public School Education was costly but would eliminate weak spots, has called for the next governor and legislature to adopt the measure.

"The plan submitted to us will be costly, but none of us expected otherwise," Connally said. "It offers a practical, step-by-step sequence for eliminating the weak spots, remedying past failures and installing the basic elements of excellence."

The report was issued Saturday.

"Our Last Chance"
"This could very well be our last chance to catch up and go ahead in our public school system in Texas."

"This report recommends some rather drastic changes, and change usually means controversy. But it offers the state... the opportunity to establish a public school education program second to none."

"As the report points out, we have failed in many areas in the past to meet our responsibility to a large segment of our young people."

"Labor Shortage"
"We also have failed to keep pace in our vocational and technical education programs when Texas faces a skilled labor shortage of major proportions," he said.

Connally recommended creation of the committee in 1965. It was charged with creating a plan that would make the state a leader in education.

Connally commended the committee's proposals for vocational-technical education, pre-school education, summer school and teacher salary increases.

Unusual 'Explosion' Near U.N.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Yao Kusama's "atomic explosion" went off across the street from the United Nations in all its naked glory.

For 30 minutes Sunday, four young women and a man danced in the nude near the United Nations. Eventually, the crowd of 50 appreciative onlookers drew the attention of a passing police cruiser but by then the dancers had clothed themselves again and there were no arrests.

Before dressing, the troupe burned a Red flag in symbolic protest against the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia.

It was the fourth naked "atomic explosion" staged in Manhattan streets and parks by Miss Kusama, a Japanese artist who offered no explanation for their meaning.

So far Miss Kusama and her dancers have escaped arrest by simply covering their nakedness before police arrive.

"We were just cruising by and saw the crowd," one police officer growled. "Not one of them called us."

Severe Weather Hits Areas Of Texas Sunday

By United Press International
Much of North Central Texas was under severe thunderstorm alert early today.

High winds ripped up power lines and twisted limbs off trees early today in Paris, Tex., and a police department spokesman said at Bowie, Tex., heavy rain fell late Sunday for about a 10 minute period, accompanied by brilliant electrical displays.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Fort Worth issued a severe thunderstorm warning for persons in Lamar, Red River, Delta, Hopkins, Franklin, Titus, Morris, Camp, Upshur, Fannin and Hunt counties.

The thunderstorms were triggered by a cold front stretching across Texas roughly along a line drawn from Fort Smith, Ark., through Dallas-Fort Worth to San Angelo.

And while rainfall behind the leading edge of the front was locally heavy in some places, the front was diffused to the south and little rain fell.

The storms in the northern sections of the state had rainfall rates in excess of an inch per hour in some places.

The front sailed into the Panhandle early Sunday, bringing unseasonably low temperatures along with the rain. The Weather Bureau said it was strong enough to continue its southward movement and eventually KANGEROO RAT — This kangaroo rat can live without water if he can escape the jaws of "King." The desert rat was captured about seven weeks ago by Ron and Mark Mitchell, 601 E. 19th. His body is able to convert the hamster food he eats into water, so he does not drink conventionally. The rats are plentiful about 50 miles northeast of Pampa but come out only at night and are difficult to capture. They have hind legs like a kangaroo, short fore legs and hop instead of run. Their long tails end in a tuft. The rats fight if caged together.

De Gaulle Says He Saved France From Communism

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle said today his tough stand in the face of the May-June student-labor unrest saved France from a totalitarian regime—meaning a Communist takeover.

De Gaulle, speaking at one of his twice-yearly news conferences, said he acted to crush the "nightmare of the advent of the totalitarians."

He did not mention the Communists by name, but it was clear he was blaming the uprising on them. Other government leaders warned at the time of a possible Communist takeover attempt.

De Gaulle, in his 17th meeting with the press in his decade of power, said that even after his government had satisfied labor demands "the totalitarians declared they were ready to participate in a government of transition" leading to Communism.

De Gaulle, who will be 78 in November, said it was to fight against this menace that he decided to remain in power and call new elections.

De Gaulle said that "I admit that my government has not found immediate solutions (to the problems raised by students and workers in May), but when the Frejus dam burst, it was not possible to stop the torrent immediately."

The general also defended his firing of Premier Georges Pompidou after the crisis. Pompidou was replaced by Maurice Couve de Murville, the former foreign and finance minister. De Gaulle said Pompidou is now "placed in reserve for the republic."

Suez Canal Fighting Erupts On Sunday

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
Jittery Israeli and Egyptian troops today observed an emergency United Nations cease-fire order in the wake of the bitterest Suez Canal fighting since last year's Mideast War.

Twenty-one persons were reported killed and 49 wounded in a 3 1/2 hour duel with tank guns, mortars and heavy artillery that erupted along a 70-mile stretch of the canal.

The United Nations Security Council met last Sunday at the requests of both Israel and the United Arab Republic and reported today it "deeply regrets the loss of life and required the parties strictly to observe the ceasefire called for by the Security Council's resolutions."

CIVILIANS Killed
Military officials in Cairo reported five Egyptian soldiers and six civilians killed by shells that reportedly thundered into Suez City, Port Tewfik and Ismailia. They said 12 soldiers and twenty civilians were wounded.

An Israeli military spokesman in Tel Aviv said eight Israeli soldiers were killed and 17 wounded in positions along the eastern canal edge they have occupied since the lightning 1967 war.

The Security Council adjourned without specifying a new meeting time for considering an Israeli complaint against alleged Egyptian aggression across the canal that predated Sunday's fighting.

It was the most serious violence along the canal since Israel shelled Port Suez oil refineries last Oct. 24 in reprisal for the sinking of an Israeli destroyer.

Secretary General Thant reported that U.N. truce observers could only determine that the shooting followed an explosion on the Israeli side of the canal about 1 p.m., six miles from Port Tewfik.

Claim Violation
The Israelis charged the fighting was an "unprovoked violation" of the cease-fire by the Egyptians, who they said opened fire on an Israeli patrol in the act of detonating a mine it had discovered.

The United Arab Republic said the fighting was "another premeditated act of aggression by Israel" which included unprovoked shelling of civilian centers at Port Tewfik, Suez and Ismailia.

Officials of the United Nations truce supervisory organization (UNTSO) suggested cease-fire at 4:30 p.m., but mortar, artillery, tank and machine gunfire continued until about 5:30 p.m.

Controversy Over Fortas Heightens

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Abraham Fortas' nomination as chief justice continued to hang in limbo today under new charges that he had exceeded the constitutional borders of his position while an associate justice.

The controversy over the nomination heightened during the weekend when Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., revealed he would charge Fortas with helping draft legislation for President Johnson while serving on the high court.

The White House did not deny the allegation and Fortas could not be reached for comment. Allott contends that as associate justice, Fortas took part in the drafting of an amendment to an appropriation

US Military Sources Expecting No Immediate Saigon Invasion

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. military intelligence sources said today there was no sign the Communists were mustering for a Saigon offensive despite weekend battles on three sides of the capital.

Their appraisal followed headquarters announcements that 214 Communist soldiers died in six battles around Saigon during the weekend. Viet Cong terrorism inside the city killed 12 persons and wounded 80, none of them Americans.

The intelligence sources said they would have 48 hours warning if the Reds were preparing a capital attack because most of the main-force guerrilla units are a two-day march away. B52 bombers hit those bivouacs today, the U.S. command said.

South Vietnamese headquarters said their Brig. Gen. Truong Quan An, his wife, an American colonel and three U.S. helicopter crewmen were killed Sunday when their chopper was shot down in the Central Highlands. An was the first South Vietnamese general of the war slain by Communist fire.

Sink Supply Boats
U.S. Navy destroyers off the coast of North Vietnam sank or damaged 58 Communist supply boats ferrying war goods south to the battlefield, a war communique said. It was one of the largest catches by destroyers of the war. U.S. bombers pounded landlocked supply lines in 123 missions.

The heaviest fighting near Saigon centered 25 miles north of the capital on an oft-used Communist infiltration corridor from Cambodia. In two days, American Paratroopers said they killed 103 Viet Cong against 31 U.S. troops killed and 31 wounded.

South of the city, American infantrymen of the 9th Division reported killing another 47 Communists while losing five men wounded, and other Paratroopers said they killed 35 Reds in a fight north of town.

Vietnamese, Communists Clash
In three other clashes west and north of the capital, South Vietnamese soldiers killed 29 Communists and captured three, spokesmen said. The government losses were described as light.

An, 36, was the first South Vietnamese general killed by Communist fire in the Vietnam War. Three American generals have died in air crashes—Air Force Maj. Gen. Robert F. Worley and William J. Crumm, and Marine Maj. Gen. Bruno Hochmuth.

The helicopter was carrying An, his wife and the American officers to the U.S. Special Forces camp at Duc Lap, where more than 1,100 Communists died a week ago in heavy fighting. Two U.S. crewmen survived the crash and were rescued. The dead American officers were not identified.

An was to present awards to Montagnard tribesmen who helped defend the camp during a four-day Communist siege. Duc Lap is about 150 miles north of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

By JAMES O. JACKSON
PRAGUE (UPI)—The Czechoslovak press, hindered but not cowed by Soviet censorship, today reflected the rising tide of national anger with reports on rowdiness and abuses by "foreign troops on our soil."

Several important journals in Prague reported, without embellishment, the fatal machine-gunning of a provincial official by a jumpy Soviet patrol, the mugging of a housewife by a Soviet soldier and the report of a potential epidemic brought on by occupation troops.

As the press threaded its way through an apparent loophole in the censorship rules, the Soviet Union's crisis envoy, First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov, conferred with Czechoslovak leaders at an undisclosed location.

One of the reported topics was, precisely how to make recalcitrant Czechoslovaks toe the mark of Soviet "normalization" terms.

Czech Anger Rising

One of the reported topics was, precisely how to make recalcitrant Czechoslovaks toe the mark of Soviet "normalization" terms.

Kuznetsov sped east from Prague in a curtained limousine Sunday afternoon after a weekend of talks with President Ludvik Svoboda, party chief Alexander Dubcek and Premier Oldrich Cernik.

New Leader
There was speculation he was bound for talks with Gustav Husak, head of the Slovak Communist party, whose star is rising as a supporter of complete Czechoslovak obedience to the 14 points laid down by Moscow as prerequisites of a troop withdrawal.

Observers said one of Kuznetsov's prickliest problems is the matter of dealing with the public anger building over continued presence of the troops.

Mlada Fronta, the youth organ that drew particular Soviet denunciation before the occupation for its liberal line, described the machine gun death of an official in the town of Vimperk. The article said passing troops riddled him with bullets after they were apparently startled by the backfiring of his car.

Another shockwave came from the interview with public health service hygienist Dr. Vilem Skovranek in Rude Pravo, the party newspaper.

Contamination Threat
He said occupation troops

The police and the Secret Service had picked up reports that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and other prominent Democrats were targets for assassination.

When this story came out after the convention ended, some dismissed it as apologist propaganda from the Daley organization. Perhaps.

What would these same people have said, however, if one of the leading Democrats had been killed by a sniper's bullet or blinded by acid?

Police Precautions
Which brings to mind something that happened in New York city shortly after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, was making his first trip to Manhattan as chief executive.

When Johnson heard of the elaborate police precautions planned for his visit, he asked that this show of police strength be scaled down drastically.

When the Johnson party reached New York, however, the police were out in the fullest possible force. Members of the President's staff were critical. One of New York's high police officials listened to their complaints then replied:

Sufficient Protection
"Your idea of what constitutes sufficient protection is your own business. But this is my town and I am not going to have him shot in it—I've got one aim and that is to get him in and out of New York City unharmed. Once he leaves here, it is your business again."

Hubert H. Humphrey, roaring into his presidential campaign with a cross-country tour of three major cities, said today it is time for a "new-day" in America.

Sounding a theme he hopes to carry into the White House, the vice president said in Philadelphia: "The choice in 1968 is this: are we going to accept as inevitable the conflict and hatred which are becoming a part of our everyday life? Or are we going to stand up together and say 'This can be done in America. We can make this country work.'"

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Vice presidential candidate Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Me., made a last-chance attempt Sunday night to bind gaping wounds in the Texas Democratic Party.

Some 1,000 San Antonio Democrats answered invitations to hear Muskie speak before his departure from Texas. Muskie began his short talk saying his first meeting with Lyndon Johnson had "gotten off on the wrong foot, because the President wanted support on legislation with which I did not agree," but later Muskie made a statement supporting Johnson's Vietnam policies.

FINDERS FEE

PILGRIM'S HATCH, England (UPI)—Bob Wheel, 45, has received 50 replies since he offered to pay $25 to anyone who found him a wife.

Wheel said he hasn't found a mate yet.

"They were either too old or too fat, just big dumplings."

INSURE HAPPINESS

BOURNEMOUTH, England (UPI)—The city council plans to vote on a proposal to guarantee vacationers their money back if they don't have a good time at this seaside resort.

The council is also looking for an insurance company to issue policies on the guarantee.

This prediction:

"When Johnson retires in January, so will his vice president."

Soldier Ends Hunger Strike Over Viet War

FT. CARSON, Colo. (UPI)—A brief hunger strike by a former Kansas National Guardsman who is opposed to the war in Vietnam ended over the weekend, Ft. Carson officials said Sunday.

A spokesman at the military base near Colorado Springs said Pfc. Donald D. Shoemaker ended his hunger strike Saturday night by eating a pork chop dinner at the base hospital where he was being confined.

Shoemaker also ate a hearty breakfast Sunday and watched television, the spokesman said. His general physical condition was listed as good. Shoemaker was admitted to the hospital Saturday for treatment.

Shoemaker, an Emporia, Kan., National Guardsman called to active duty, explained in a letter to the Kansas City Kansan he began the strike "in protest against the war in Vietnam and against compulsory military service."

"I am also trying to organize other soldiers at Ft. Carson who feel the same as I do so that we may have a common voice," he said.

The protest was not the first for Shoemaker. In August, 1966, he picketed the National Guard Armory in Kansas City, Kan., and protested the war and the treatment he received in the Guard.

"I'm not a coward," he said then. "Personally, I just don't think we ought to be over there (in Vietnam)."

Shoemaker is assigned to Company C, 2nd Battalion, 137th Infantry, 60th Infantry Brigade at Ft. Carson. Military officials have not revealed what disciplinary action, if any, they intend to take in the case.

Burglaries Are Reported Here

Two burglaries were reported to Pampa police Sunday morning.

An undetermined amount of money was taken in a residential burglary at 1709 Coffee, and $100 was taken from a service station at 631 W. Brown. Both burglaries are believed to have occurred late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

WELL FED

CHICAGO (UPI)—The hole in the foundation of Judge John C. Melaniphy's home was just big enough when a dog squeezed in under the house a week ago. Construction workers had to be called in to enlarge the hole when the dog was removed Thursday.

In the interval, neighborhood children had been feeding the dog steak and chicken.

Social Security Questions Answers

Q. Has there been a change in the method of payment for doctor bills under Medicare?

A. Yes, a change was made by the 1967 Amendments. Payment may now be made to the patient on the basis of an itemized bill, paid or unpaid, or to the physician under the regular assignment method. It is no longer necessary that the itemized bill be paid before the patient can receive payment under Part B of Medicare.

Q. I have a doctor bill from last year which I have not yet been able to pay. Does this new procedure help me?

A. Yes, if your doctor does not accept an assignment and file the claim himself, you can now file a claim on the basis of an itemized unpaid bill and receive payment.

Q. How much can I earn this year and still receive all my social security checks?

A. Beginning with 1968, a person may earn up to $1,680 and still receive all his social security checks. The exempt amount for last year was $1,500. Remember that you may be able to earn substantially more than the exempt amount and still receive some checks. Check with the Pampa Social Security Office if you have any questions about your status.

Q. My wife died recently and we have 2 minor children. At the time of her death, I could not receive benefits for the children since my wife had not worked recently. Would it now be possible for them to receive benefits?

A. If a woman died fully insured, the children can receive monthly benefits based on her earnings. It is no longer necessary for a woman to have had a current connection with social security in order for her surviving children to receive benefits. Check with the Pampa Social Security office. They will advise.

Q. I am 23 years old and was injured in an accident one month ago. How much work must I have to receive social security disability payments?

A. Under the new social security amendments, a person disabled before age 24 will need only 1 1/2 years of work under social security. This 1 1/2 years of work credits must be in the three year period ending when the disability is evaluated to determine if you meet the disability requirements.

Indian Group Has Meeting On Sunday

The Pampa Chapter of the Southwest Indian Organization met yesterday in the Gray County Courthouse with 40 members in attendance.

Mariand Hayes, a sub-chief in the organization, presented trophies to members of the group who have done outstanding work toward giving aid to other Indian people in the area.

Ross Neugin, who lives near Pampa, spoke concerning Indian fishing rights in Wyoming and Colorado.

Those receiving awards for their work included Neugin, J. R. Newman, Mrs. Lorene Wilkinson, Mrs. Mary Frances Mason, William Wildcat, Jonnie Bowman, Leroy Arnold and Mrs. Hatty Bland.

Mrs. T. Hayes was presented a Polaroid camera from Sub-Chief Hayes and Miss Vanda Arnold, Indian Princess of the Southwest Indian Organization.

Plans were made at the meeting for the S.I.O. Princess to attend the Urban Indian Convention in Chicago the last of October to represent the Pampa organization concerning matters pertinent to the Indian people.

County Receives Gas Tax Refund

Gray County has received a check for $26,668 from the state comptroller.

The money is an annual refund which all Texas counties receive from the state gasoline tax, and will be used here for the county's lateral road fund, according to County Judge S.R. Lenning Jr.

Woman Is Charged After 'Ramming' Automobile Here

Charges of assault with a motor vehicle were expected to be filed against a 47-year-old Pampa woman today after she allegedly rammed a vehicle early Sunday morning in which her husband and another woman were riding.

Police said the incident occurred around 12:30 a.m. in the 400 block of S. Cuyler St.

The angry woman reportedly told an investigating officer, "I was gonna stop them some way."

She was lodged in city jail but later released on her own recognizance after she failed to make $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace E. L. Anderson.

Jerry Perry For Typewriters At Less Cost, More Service

For 20 years, Jerry Perry paid high rent, hiring bookkeepers, salesmen and engaged in all the other ordinary necessities for operating a business. Jerry did not get the satisfaction however, of being able to sell typewriters and adding machines for enough less than ordinary list prices which he would have liked to have done.

Now You Know
By United Press International
The first presidential candidate to run under the Democratic party banner was Andrew Jackson, who polled the most popular votes but lost the election that was decided in the House of Representatives.

In April, 1967, Jerry moved to 940 S. Hobart where he converted a rickety garage into a complete compact, sales and service store. Jerry does all his own sales, service, and bookkeeping. Having no rent to pay and combining his purchases with the purchases of one of Oklahoma City's largest dealers he obtains his machine for less money per unit than any other typewriter dealer in the Texas Panhandle. This adds up to being able to sell machines for less than all his local competition combined.

With inflation what it is people like to buy the most they can get for the least money and they like to know they can re-

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the autumn rituals in America is an exercise in futility and frustration called "getting the kids off to school."

The futility and frustration comes mainly from trying to cram a second-grader back into his first grade clothing.

Those clothes were a perfect fit, or maybe a little on the loose side, when school closed last June.

How, then, does one account for the fact that they are now twice too small?

I checked with the children's bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and I was told no boy that age could possibly have doubled in size in less than three months. It is my theory that we have a psychopath in our neighborhood. Harkening back to my police reporting days, I have dubbed him "The Phantom Shrinker."

Last month while we were away on vacation the shrinker sneaked into my house and washed all of my kid's school clothes in the wrong kind of detergent. I'm turning the case over to the FBI tomorrow. Meanwhile...

Well, meanwhile, there is the business of trying to get my elder daughter ready to go off to college for the first time.

Unless you have been through this yourself, you couldn't believe all the stuff that freshmen girls take with them to college these days.

Assemble Equipment
My wife, the quartermaster, has drawn up a check list and the other evening we conducted an inventory to make certain all of the necessary equipment was at hand.

"Riot helmet?"

"Check."

"Tear gas mask?"

"Check."

"Bail money?"

"Check."

"Water, paint and cardboard for making protest signs?"

"Check."

"A length of rope for tying up the dean?"

"Check."

"Empty beer bottles to throw at the cops?"

"Check."

"Okay. It looks like she's ready to begin her higher education. Let's get it crated up. The moving van will be here next Saturday."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—"If the market is to make any significant upside progress from here, it will be necessary for trading volume to expand above the levels seen in most of the recent sessions," E.F. Hutton advises.

Thomson & McKinnon says now that many glamor stocks have suffered substantial declines, there is a growing body of opinion that weakness in glamors is the forerunner of general decline in stock prices. However, the firm believes there is little evidence at this time to support this thesis.

Hayden, Stone believes it is quite logical and normal for the market to perform indecisively until some of the prevailing uncertainties disappear completely, or draw more sharply into focus.

In this connection, it notes, there is very rarely a time when the wheels of the general market does not include a few flies, and the present is no exception.

Women Discuss Week of Prayer in Pampa Area

One Pampa and two Skellytown Women's Missionary Union Circles discussed their annual Week of Prayer plans in meetings recently.

Two WMU Circles, Kezzia Mae and the Sylvia Freeman of Skellytown First Baptist Church, discussed the week during a Royal Service program and covered dish luncheon in the Church Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Walt Shair presented the program on "Missionary Schools." Those participating in the program were Mrs. Paul Thurmond, Mrs. J. C. Jarvis, and Mrs. M. L. Mercer.

Preparation was made for a week of prayer for State Missions, today through Saturday.

Attending were Mmes. M.L. Mills, Paul Thurmond, Walt Shair, Lon Trask, Irvin Brown, J. C. Jarvis, Bill Thompson, John Kenney, Bill Price, Della Grant, Jackie Cooper, Bill Houghton, M. L. Mercer. Guests were Rev. and Mrs. Muri Rogers, J. C. Jarvis, Bill Price, Bill Thompson, Mrs. McCracken and Miss Billie Price.

At Pampa First Baptist Church, women will have special prayer each day this week from 10 to 11 a.m., will hear Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor, speak Wednesday on "Spiritual Life."

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother-in-law. I have been married for 42 years and have never said a cross word to her, but I am at the end of my rope. She lives in another town, thank God, but she uses up all her old age pension just traveling around visiting the relatives. When she comes here, she insists on sleeping on our sofa where she can hear and see everything. And she snores so loud we can't hear the TV. We have a spare room but she won't use it.

She complains about my cooking, my coffee, our children, grandchildren and friends. She puts her false teeth in my best china cups and when she leaves I have to throw the cup out. She won't go to church so one of us has to stay home and keep her company. We never know when she's coming. She will get on a bus and travel 600 miles and call us from the bus depot to come and get her. Isn't that a lot of nerve? If we have plans it's just too bad. Every one has to change their schedules to suit her. I would rather be dead than have her again. What should I do?

PROVOKED
DEAR PROVOKED: After playing the shrinking violet for 42 years, it may be difficult to become a tiger lily, but try. Tell the crusty old lady where you want her to sleep, where to put her false teeth, and if she does not care to go to church, she can sit alone. Also let her know that unless you have some advance notice, you may not be home.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a very successful businessman who insists on holding all his business conferences in his private sauna?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: Maybe that's his way of sweating out the best deal.

DEAR ABBY: When one telephones an office and asks for Mr. John Doe, frequently the receptionist asks, "Who may I say is calling?" This gives the caller the impression that whether Mr. Doe is in or out will be decided when Mr. Doe learns who is calling him.

This is irritating to the caller. In your opinion, is it proper for the receptionist to ask this question?

E.P.K.
DEAR E.P.K.: The caller should first identify himself. If he doesn't, the receptionist may properly ask who is calling Mr. Doe, whose privilege it is to be either in or out to the caller.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Stop fussing over the same old perplexing financial problem and utilize your time to greater advantage by showing others that you are the one who does understand how to piece new lines of activity that require energy and an alert mentality. Getting into confusion, if you are only making things harder for you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Listen to what an associate has to say so you know better how to make your end of things efficient. Don't take your anger out on another associate either. Spend time at more practical things.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Avoid the dull now and spend more time with charming persons so that you get their favor easily, stop permitting that coworker to get you to feel sorry for yourself. He, or she, is simply using bad psychology. Don't get into trouble. Be happier.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) You have made promises to kin that should be kept, so stop trying to go off on some tangent or other. Take the time to make your surroundings more comfortable and efficient. Be happier.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) You can make some big mistakes if you are resentful where kin or property is concerned. Study matters well instead. If there are any stumbling blocks in your way, get rid of them quietly and you advance more quickly.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Get that new plan working in a more ideal and practical way so that you have a larger income. Forget all that fussing about and getting nowhere. Ironical remarks to good friends could really end up in a fine kettle of fish.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Talk over any personal matters with associates and make the future more interesting, a profitable through proper planning. Forget the monetary and property angles right now. Avoid any opportunities for deception.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Be wise and rid yourself of the petty anxieties quietly, but avoid a fearful partner who endeavors to get you to join in a rather foolish plan. An authority can give you the information you want. Go after it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) Look to your pals for cooperation in some good plan you may have in mind, but avoid that petty co-worker. You can go ahead with that plan or special kind of amusement also. Succession all is possible now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) Getting busy at home reorganizing everything is fine instead of going off on tangent that could lead to trouble. Wait a better day for this. Assist another to gain aims, also, and all goes well today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) An early start in the business world or the social world is fine, provided you first talk over with a generous associate what should be done. Get right data for improvement. Stop being so inactive.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Amusement and new contacts could be difficult, but going property improved is quite easy now. Sit down with some business expert and find out the latest methods, etc. Then get busier than the proverbial bee.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those opinionated young people who either likes or dislikes things or people, so teach early to be more tolerant for real success in life. Ideal chance for the handling of property and assets of others, making changes, pioneering in new developments and the like, whether male or female. College time.

The rugged leather look for fall is being softened in some fashions with the addition of fur trim in back to school styles, Fox, Persian lamb and often teamed up with hides.

Oilers Host Chiefs In Official Game

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Houston Oilers and the Kansas City Chiefs will each be defending something when they meet tonight in the Astrodome's first regular season American Football League game.

Both teams have equal pre-season records (4-1—the best in the AFL), both have won two games from National Football League teams and both have lost to an NFL power and both have visions of division titles at the back of their minds.

Houston's quarterback, Pete Beathard, has something else to defend. Beathard was traded to the Oilers in mid-season by the Chiefs last year and so has been on the winning side the last five times the two teams met.

Beathard was with the Chiefs when they bested the Oilers twice in 1967 and in a pre-season game and the season opener last year, but he engineered a 24-20 victory over the Chiefs during Houston's championship drive last season.

Houston will be opening defense of their Eastern Division crown and the Chiefs will be seeking to regain the Western Division and AFL title they dropped last season to Oakland.

Beathard is the big reason the Oilers think they can repeat last year's performance. He has adapted to the Oilers system and given them a passing attack.

Also contributing to Houston's pre-season confidence is the comeback of split end Charlie Frasier (12 receptions for 187 yards) and halfback Sid Blanks (5 for 40), plus the fine play of rookie flankers Jim Blinn (8 for 93) and Mac Hall (8 for 67).

The Oilers averaged only 99 yards a game passing last season but in pre-season this year figures were 181 per outting. Beathard completed 60 of 129 (46 per cent) for 695 yards and five touchdowns.

But the aerial edge is with the Chiefs.

Veteran Len Dawson breezed through the pre-season with 63 per cent completing 41 of 65. His top receivers were fullback Windell Hayes, acquired during

Dallas Coach Jeered When Meredith Plays

DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas Cowboys coach Tom Landry illustrated last Saturday night that he meant what he said earlier about not pulling a quarterback like you do a baseball pitcher.

Landry ignored the boos of a crowd of 69,520 much of the second half in the Cotton Bowl, leaving Don Meredith in at quarterback to absorb a 16-10 pre-season defeat at the hands of the Baltimore Colts.

"You just don't pull quarterbacks like you do pitchers in baseball," Landry had said earlier last week. "You do something to a quarterback when you pull him. It's his game and he expects to win or lose it."

Statistically, even the boos fans, who were chanting "We want (Craig) Morton," could find little to fault with Meredith as he hit 76 per cent of his passes in the first half (15 of 22 for 224 yards) and yet got only three points on the scoreboard. He wound up with 25 of 43 for 354 yards.

Four interceptions, all of them in the second half, hurt sharply since the Colts turned two of them into the winning field goals by Lou Michaels; three fumbles, two of them after Meredith had driven the club inside the Baltimore 10, hurt even worse, and three penalties, two of which stymied promising drives, didn't help.

Yankee Player Keeps Occupied Despite Low Total Of Contests

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—Ruben Amaro is like all ballplayers.

You ask him how he feels, he flashes you a bright white smile and says fine.

But if you sit down with him and go a little deeper behind that bright white smile, you soon find out everything isn't really as fine as Ruben Amaro makes out.

When you ask him again how he feels he has a different answer this time. "Torn," says Ruben Amaro. "Little by little."

He's talking about the way he feels inside and the reason he feels that way is listed right there for everybody to see on the New York Yankees' statistic sheet.

Count Discouraging
The sheet says Ruben Amaro has been in 43 games with the Yankees this season and technically that's right. But ballplayers figure a little differently. They generally count the full games they've played and when Ruben Amaro counts that way, 12 is about as high as he can count.

He's not complaining and he's not grumbling because he knows his 122 batting average isn't going to win him many MVP votes this year, but that figure along with the meager number of games he has played have combined to make him feel the way he does inside.

The most games Ruben Amaro has played in succession this season is two and his 43-game total is his lowest ever for any one year with the exception of 1966, when he tore up his knee in a collision with Tommy Tresh.

Hard to Adjust
"I was privileged always to be part of the ball club," said Amaro, remembering the six seasons he played shortstop for the Philadelphia Phillies, "and the off season from Denver, split end Otis Taylor and halfback Mike Garrett.

Houston seems in better shape in the defensive secondary, especially since all-pro cornerback Miller Farr will return to the starting lineup.

Kansas City's ground game appears a little superior to Houston's and their defensive tackles, Ernie Ladd, 6-9, 296, and Buc Buchanan, 6-7, 287, give them the nod on the defensive line.

Ladd came to the Chiefs in the Beathard deal, and his showing in the Kansas City-Houston meetings is just the opposite—0-3.

to lose the next 14 games," Landry commented after the game.

Actually, Landry said he thought the fact the Cowboys were throwing so well "hurt us."

Raps Running Game
"We never did, and I believe we could have, establish our running game," he added. "That's what really hurt us."

Landry also had high praise for the Cowboys' defense, which never allowed Baltimore past the Dallas 40-yard line in the first half except for the first Colt play of the game, a little flip from Johnny Unitas to tight end John Mackey that Mackey carried 84 yards for a touchdown.

"We have made tremendous strides the last couple of weeks on defense," Landry said.

Opener Against Lions
Landry, looking ahead to the season opener Sunday against the Detroit Lions, said that on defense "the only question now is at free safety" when rookie Ken Kneib has been filling in for injured Mel Renfro.

"We need experience back there," Landry said. "It would help us tremendously if Mel Renfro could come back. It would also help us if Dick Daniels (on injured reserve) gets back, but Mel's the main one."

He said Renfro would get a chance against Detroit to see if he's going to be able to play.

Rookie Slams Homer To Pace Twin Victory

By STEVE SCHWARTZ
UPI Sports Writer
Graig Nettles has arrived—five months too late for the Minnesota Twins.

The Twins, picked as a pennant contender and now mired in the second division, have suffered from a lack of power through most of the season due to Harmon Killebrew's injury in the All-Star game and Bob Allison's off year.

Nettles who was called up Friday from Denver, slammed his fourth home run in three days as he powered the Twins past the league-leading Tigers, 3-1, Sunday.

The hard-hitting rookie made his second game-winning hit in as many days as he smashed a three-run homer in the sixth inning off Tiger starter and losing Earl Wilson.

Regular Habit
The left-handed Nettles tagged Pat Dobson for a pair of homers Saturday night to beat Detroit, 2-1, and smashed his first major league blast off Denny McLain Friday night in a losing cause.

In other American League action, Baltimore edged Chicago, 3-2, New York blasted Washington, 7-2, California nipped Boston, 3-2 and Oakland trounced Cleveland, 10-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh blanked New York, 3-0, Atlanta beat Houston, 4-1, Los Angeles got by Cincinnati, 3-1, St. Louis outlasted San Francisco, 3-2, in 11 innings and Chicago drubbed Philadelphia, 10-3.

Dean Chance fired a six-hitter for the Twins as he evened his record at 14-14. Chance struck out seven and allowed just one hit over the last four innings.

Twenty Game Winner
Dave McNally, winning his 12th straight game since the All-Star break, raised his record to 20-8. He became the second Oriole in Baltimore's modern major league history to win 20 games. Steve Barber racked up a 20-13 mark in 1963.

Rookie Stan Bahnsen pitched a four-hitter and Joe Peptide and Tom Tresh drove in two runs each as the Yankees completed a weekend sweep of the Senators. Bahnsen lifted his record to 15-10.

Jim Hunter hurled a five-hitter as the Athletics pounded 18 hits to down the Indians. Danny Cater had three singles and a double while Bert Campaneris slammed two doubles, a triple and stole his 51st base to pace the Oakland attack.

California pushed across three runs in the first inning with the help of three walks off Red Sox starter Juan Pizarro and held on to edge Boston. Clyde Wright, who replaced Angel starter Jim McGlothlin, got credit for his ninth victory against five defeats. McGlothlin was injured while he turned a Carl Yastrzemski first-inning smash into a double play.

Matson Competes In Final Trials

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer
SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (UPI)—World record holders Jim Ryun, Randy Matson, Charlie Greene and Jim Hines, launch the final U.S. Olympic track and field trials today at 7,377-foot high Echo Summit as the countdown begins for 175 Olympic hopefuls.

Ryun, the world's fastest at 800 and 1,500 meters, tackles Wade Bell, the former Oregon star, and Wisconsin freshman Mark Winzenried among others in the 800, one of four qualifying events on the opening day show.

Matson, the shot put world record holder who suffered his first loss in more than a year three weeks ago at a sea level meet in Houston, Texas, faces his conqueror, George Woods, Dave Maggard and Carl Wallin, while Greene and Hines, who have done the century in 9.9, take on Mel Pender an old foe, who has a 10 flat clocking to his credit.

Only one final is on today's program, and that is the 10,000 meter run in which little Gerry Lindgren will hook up with Marine Lt. Billy Mills, hero of the 1964 Tokyo Olympics, and Tracy Smith. A total of 10 men will compete in the grueling race with the top three winning Olympic berths and the fourth man an alternate berth.

On the eve of the final trials, head coach Peyton Jordan said he expected some world records to fall in the next eight days.

"I'm very optimistic about this crew and I'm sure the one we wind up taking to Mexico City next month will win a fair share of gold medals."

Total of 69 athletes from the field of 175 will make it to Mexico City for the Olympic Games, which begin Oct. 12. Three already have won berths—Bill Toomey, Rick Sloan and Tom Waddell, who finished in that order in the decathlon during the weekend.

Gowdy Wins Golf Award

HEREFORD—Ken Gowdy of Pampa won the president's flight of the Hereford Invitational golf tournament with a 146 over the weekend.

Levelland's Jimmy Johnson won the championship flight by 11 shots.

The Texas Tech golfer, who had never played the course, shot a 38 on the first nine and then stuck together nines of 30, 32, 33, 32 and 32 to finish 17 under par at 197.

Nearest competitor was Amarillo's Otis Golligush and Lubbock's Don Kaplan, each of whom shot 208 to tie for second. Kaplan was defending champion.

Kaplan made an early charge Sunday with three birdies on the first five holes. Johnson brought Kaplan to his knees, however, with back-to-back eagles on six and seven.

The championship flight finished with Hereford's Jimmy Young in fourth at 214, Amarillo's Monte Roach at 216, Johnny Ethridge of Amarillo at 218 and Dick Tubbs of Levelland at 220.

Pat Robbins and Kyle Hall of Hereford tied for first flight honors at 158, Ed Line of Hereford won the second flight at 154, Amarillo's James Daugherty won the third flight with a 161. Leon Yell of Vega garnered fourth flight honors at 157. Joe Soliz of Hereford was the fifth flight champ at 173 and M. H. Richie took the sixth flight with 187.

Methodical Casper Wins Fifth Tournery

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Billy Casper has never achieved superstar status on the professional golf tour but 1968 may be the year of the major breakthrough for the cool and confident Californian who is starting to make winning a monotonous habit.

Casper, who was named golf's Player Of The Year in 1966 but was never accorded the recognition and following given fellow tour players Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, is currently on a rampage which already has him ahead of his pace of two years ago.

The Bonita, Calif., golfer picked up his fifth victory of the season Sunday by winning the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open at the Wethersfield Country Club.

Casper shot a final round five-under par 66 in posting a total of 266—a record low for the tour this year. His total also tied the tournament record set in 1966 by veteran Art Wall.

The methodical Casper also became the first player to win the Hartford tournament three times and pocketed $20,000 in first prize money. That boosted his earnings for the year to a 188.

$171,436—highest since he joined the pro ranks in 1964.

The 37-year-old Californian finished 18 under par for the tournament and wound up two strokes in front of Australian Bruce Crampton, who had a final round of 67 and a total of 269.

Ray Floyd finished third at 271 after an final route 68 and young Dave Stockton had a final round 71 which placed him fourth at 274.

Hickey Finishes 2nd In Sudden-Death Play

HAYS, Kan. (UPI)—R. J. Smiley of Salina, Kan., sank a six-foot par putt on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday to win his third Smokey Hill invitational golf tournament.

Smiley defeated Max Hickey of Pampa, Tex., after the two had tied at 186 after the regulation 45 holes.

Hickey hit a bad tee shot on the playoff hole and was forced to settle for a bogey. Dennis Close of Hays was third with a 188.

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

'Closest To The People'

"America belongs to the people who inhabit it. The source of the nation's strength is the people's freedom to be the source of the laws governing them."

That is the opening statement in the Democratic party's platform for 1968. And, if the Democrats went no farther than that, we would not have too much disagreement. If the people were really allowed to be the source of the laws that govern them, we think there would be considerably less control of the people through government laws.

The Democrats say in their platform, "We recognize that citizen participation in government is more meaningful at the levels of government closest to the people."

But, let's dig a little deeper into the platform to find out how the Democratic party wants "government closest to the people." The following are federal plans the Democrats would adopt:

"Income payments and eligibility standards for the aged, the blind, the disabled and dependent children should be determined and financed on a federal basis in place of a state plan."

"Congress has temporarily suspended the restrictive amendment of 1967 that placed an arbitrary limit on the number of dependent children who can be aided in each state. We favor permanent repeal of the provision requiring mothers of young children to work."

"Benefits under old age, survivors and disability insurance should be raised."

"Medical care for the aged should be expanded."

"We will fully fund title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965."

"We will enlarge the federal scholarship program."

There is a great deal more to the Democratic platform, of course. The Democrats are against crime and poverty, and they're for better health, a good national defense, and motherhood ("We urge consideration of a program comparable to Medicare to finance prenatal care for mothers").

But a careful reading of all the planks in the platform shows that they are warped so that they promise "something for everyone" at the federal level and lead the American people into thinking the federal government will always take care of them for free whether they work or not.

Not once do the Democrats stress that it is the hard-working tax payer who must pay the way for those who prefer idleness, and must pay for the schooling of other people's children. In other words, the Democrats would have us be "one big happy family with the federal government as its head" instead of individuals who should have the right to truly "be the source of the laws governing them."

The news also believes in "government closest to the people," and to us that means self-government. But we've seen little inclination on the part of those in government — either Democrats or Republicans — to allow people to govern themselves.

Let's Start Now

Have you begun to check and revise that Christmas shopping list yet?

If this strikes you as a bit early for such a suggestion, remember that there are few crowded stores just now. Few traffic jams. And, most every store has a wide choice of all merchandise which affords an almost unlimited choice. You'll be surprised at the great feeling you'll have if all the packages are locked away and may be even wrapped by Thanksgiving Day. You then can venture out among the holiday rush crowds and smugly enjoy the hustle and bustle of frustrated shoppers.

There's another big advantage to early shopping. You can spread the cost over a longer period of time and avoid the burdensome bills that seem to pour in come January. And what's wrong with having a little cushion money during the holiday season when guests arrive and the costs of entertaining rise.

But the special reason for early shopping is the gift that must go through the mails to those away from home come December 25, especially the guys and gals who are "over there." The Post Office Department is preparing schedules for packages and greetings to men and women serving overseas with understandable emphasis on those in the Vietnam war zone.

According to a Post Office spokesman, last year there was an average of 50 pounds of mail for each man in Vietnam. This included the normal flow of letters, plus the Christmas season cards and packages. During November and December of 1967, 25-million pounds of mail were processed for our service personnel. That's a lot of stamp licking, tying and packaging.

These are the dates to keep in mind—the deadlines for fair trial certain arrival in Vietnam for Christmas: Greeting cards sent by regular mail should be en route by November 23. Regular air mail should be on its way by December 11. Large surface-mail packages, which take about a week or ten days coast to coast before beginning the trip overseas, should be posted by November 9. Small packages of 5 pounds or less can be sent, on a space available basis, before November 23; for an added dollar, (with a 30 pound limit) you can use the Parcel Air Mail until November 30.

Those dates are the best reason for shopping now to beat the rush. Early shopping and mailing will reflect the thoughtfulness you want to convey to loved ones in Vietnam.

Forgotten Foods To Fight Famine

The quantity of food a nation can provide its people is not the only gauge of its relative prosperity in a world that is predominantly underfed. The variety of food that is eaten also differs markedly between countries.

The United States raises 38 major food crops. Although about 95 per cent of our food is taken from only 20 crops, including the principal meat sources, these are transformed into more than 5,000 different kinds of food products — fresh, canned, concentrated, frozen, dehydrated, you name it.

By contrast, in 87 countries considered to be food deficient, the average number of food crops is fewer than six. The world average is about 11. Yet, according to one botanist, at least 80,000 plant species are edible and nutritious. Only about 800 of them have been cultivated as food crops throughout history, and most of these have been forgotten.

In the United States itself, the census of 1830 recorded 129 food crops. Since then, for a number of reasons, we have lost 91 of them. Today, however, some of these forgotten foods are making a comeback, impelled by agricultural research and the race against worldwide starvation.

Recently, reports IBM's "Think" magazine, two teams of plant hunters from Israel and the USSR were looking for a

Sucker For Guaranteed Employment

By RAY CROMLEY

Secretary of Labor Wirtz has joined a procession of labor leaders and labor-backed congressmen who want the Democratic party to promise a government job to anybody who wants to work and can't find a suitable private job.

By insisting that "last resort" public employment is essential to any proper employment program, Mr. Wirtz joined such men as George Meany of the AFL-CIO; Walter Reuther, who recently led his United Auto Workers out of the AFL-CIO and into affiliation with the teamsters; and Rep. James G. O'Hara, a Michigan Democrat who owes his job largely to the labor unions.

He also demonstrated his own apparent gullibility by backing an idea which will do what it is not supposed to do. Backers of the plan talk as if it would provide "useful" jobs and "self-respect" for willing workers for whom there is no private employment available.

We wonder if Mr. Wirtz happened to look at the five full pages of Help Wanted ads in yesterday's Tribune. True, most of them required some sort of skill, but many of them offered jobs to men and women, black or white, without any experience at all.

The trouble, we are sometimes told, is that these jobs don't happen to be where the people who need them live. We can only infer from this that the whole thing would be just another make-work relief project, a glorified WPA or CCC.

Government-guaranteed jobs would be unproductive and would discourage productive training because they would appeal mainly to those who are not interested in existing private training programs. The program would merely be a grown-up version of the job corps for high school dropouts.

Every day, companies are setting up new training programs designed to attract the unskilled and the uneducated. Those that have been in operation for a reasonable time are showing encouraging results. Young people who thought there was no future for them are finding that they can do useful work—and, what is more, that public transportation is not as baffling as they had thought. By pretending to offer them an easier way out, the government would deny these people the chance to develop the initiative and reliability that they lack.

The government-guaranteed job would be as bad for what it did as for what it failed to do. It is no coincidence that the plan's chief backers are big labor leaders whose unions have been anything but eager to take in new workers. If Messrs. Meany and Reuther and their friends can persuade the government to hire the unemployed, thus removing them from the free enterprise system, the unions would have virtually a free hand in pushing up wages. In the guise of assuring full employment, they would also assure perpetual inflation, caused partly by the enormous government spending that would be entailed and partly by the removal of any restraint in wage demands.

This is certainly not what the people want. We wonder whether it is what the Democratic party wants.

nourishing tuber crop that could thrive on lands too dry and hot for potatoes. They found it in the American helianthus, a once important but long-abandoned root that grows in the arid West.

The Israeli explorers also found another once-great American food crop listed in the 1830 census as Indian parsnip. It can be converted into excellent bread flour and yields about three times as many digestible calories per acre as the best wheat.

Danish agronomists have rediscovered another American tuber, this one a species that grows in wet lands. Known as tuckahoe, it is believed to have been the first native food developed by settlers of the Jamestown colony. The tubers weigh up to five pounds each, are flavory, highly nutritious and can be used as a flour source or baking vegetable.

The search for new-old foods goes on in other lands as well. In Central America, 135 different species of edible plants have been identified and analyzed, and at least seven of them are being developed as commercial crops.

Soviet Air-Sea Build-Up
Ominously Pressing
Czech-type Submission on Rumania and Yugoslavia

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Russia is now in position to extend its brutal Czechoslovakian aggression to Rumania and Yugoslavia at any time.

Despite the worldwide barrage of sanctimonious denials and befuddling propaganda to the contrary, the Kremlin has replaced powerful military forces so as to be able to strike fast and hard at the two defiant Communist-ruled countries.

It is this sinister possibility that was behind President Johnson's angry warning against further Soviet aggressions and his long meetings with the national security council.

What he and his top military, intelligence and diplomatic advisors know, but have given no public hint of, is the following foreboding development:

Simultaneous with the ruthless armed invasion of Czechoslovakia, there began a big build-up of Russian naval and air strength in the Mediterranean.

This ominous activity is still continuing. When it started, the Soviet had some 50 surface warships in this strategic undersea area—cruisers, destroyers, missile ships and other craft, plus a number of submarines. At least 25 of the former have been added, and nuclear-powered subs have joined the underwater units.

All these Russian naval vessels are using Egyptian ports and facilities as operating bases. The Reds now completely dominate the Egyptian facilities. The Egyptian flag flies over them, but the Russians control them. Soviet officers and technicians are the bosses and briskly make no bones of that — whether the Egyptians like it or not.

Much the same has happened in air build-up.

A number of TU-16 medium jet bombers have taken over Egyptian airfields. The planes have newly painted Egyptian markings, but the pilots and maintenance crews are Russian. Intelligence estimates there are now upwards of 2,000 Soviet airmen in Egypt.

Total of Russian military and other personnel in Egypt is put at around 10,000 Soviet officers, specialists and other experts of various kinds are virtually running the Egyptian military forces and economy.

This foreboding naval and air build-up is aimed directly at Yugoslavia and Rumania. Yugoslavia's vital ports on the Adriatic could be sealed off in short order, isolating that country from the West and laying it open to ground invasion through Moscow's subservient satellite Hungary — which sent a division into Czechoslovakia.

Rumania could be assaulted even more directly and easily through the Black Sea and the Soviet, which it adjoins. The historic Russian military base at Sevastopol points directly at Rumania. This is the starkly fearful threat the Kremlin rulers are now holding over Yugoslavia and Rumania to force them to come to terms. Whether they will remain to be seen. President Tito defied Stalin and got away with it. But the times and conditions are different — and anything can happen.

Rumanian President Ceausescu, whose rule over his country is as tough and tight as any behind the Iron Curtain, is deemed more likely to make hide-saving concessions to Moscow than Tito.

RESTRAINING INFLUENCE — One indirect effect of this Russian military build-up is to deter Israel from forcefully retaliating against Egyptian guerrilla attacks.

That's what happened quickly and violently in the past. But with Soviet-manned bombers sitting on the alert on Egyptian airfields, the Israeli have moved with restraint and caution. Instead of blasting the Egyptians with shot and shell, the Israeli took their complaint to the United Nations.

That doesn't preclude the likelihood of military retaliation. Clearly, Israel is playing it cool and biding its time. But, for the immediate present at least, there will be no shooting. Despite those official denials there was a quid pro quo deal in Algeria's return of the hijacked Israeli jet airliner and crew members.

In exchange for the release of the plane, Foreign Minister Abba Eban agreed to free the two Syrian Mig pilots who mistakenly landed in Israel last month and some captive El Fatah terrorists. Eban made this arrangement, at the strong urging of French and Italian authorities, who pressed Algeria to give up the hijacked plane, over the protest of other Israeli officials.

Senate deputy Democratic leader Robert Byrd, W. Va., is throwing his considerable influence behind the mounting congressional demand that President Johnson authorize the sale of 50 F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers to Israel.

These planes are urgently desired to replace the Mirages Israel bought from France whose delivery has been blocked by DeGaulle. The U. S. has never sold supersonic aircraft to Israel. Byrd contends the time has come to do that to "preserve the balance of power in the Middle East."

Israel is one of our staunchest allies in this area," he declared. "Despite Israel's victory in the six-day war last year, she is still being threatened by her Egyptian and Syrian neighbors. The fact that the Soviet already has rearmend the forces of Egypt and Syria has given them an undue influence in the area. I believe that unless Israel is constantly in a position

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Two years ago Congress enacted a law requiring the Shriners to file a bond to hold harmless the District of Columbia against loss or damage and liability that might be caused by parade held during a Shrine Convention. This well-known benevolent organization is composed of lawabiding, respected citizens who spent more than $15 million in Washington during the 1967 convention. They were not there to make demands, to riot or to create disorder. Never the less, Congress thought best to require a bond.

When the American Legion conducted parades in Washington in honor of those who have fought to maintain our freedom and the independence of our country, it likewise is required to file a bond.

The protesters who marched to the Pentagon last October caused damage in excess of a million dollars and there was no bond to make good this damage. The "poor people" assembled in Washington had to file a bond of only $5,000.

It seems curious that those who come on peaceful errands, to honor our dead and to help our crippled children should be required to furnish a bond, while those who come to make demands, to disrupt the life of our capital city, and who threaten to make themselves so disagreeable and obnoxious that their demands will be granted (and these demands run into tens of billions of dollars), are required to file only a token indemnity bond. What has forgotten that rioting and burning in Washington last fall cost many millions of dollars?

Wit and Whimsy

At a golf club one Sunday morning a member turned up late. Asked why, he said it was really a toss-up whether he should come there that morning or go to church.

"And I had to toss up fifteen times," he added.

to defend herself against her hostile neighbors, it is highly likely that a situation could develop which would almost compel the U. S. to become involved in a shooting war.

"That is why I think it is important for the peace of the world that we sell these Phantom jets to the Israelis. Just this week I urged the President to go forward with the sale of these super-sonic fighter bombers."

In informed diplomatic circles, former Premier Georges Pompidou's abrupt ouster by deGaulle, after spearheading his spectacular election victory, is attributed in part to his outspoken disapproval of the refusal to turn over the bought and paid-for super-sonic Mirage fighters to Israel.

A 'Way Out' Of Vietnam

Some of us have no sympathy for the violent protests which disrupted the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, but, at the same time, much sympathy for some of the protesters' protestations. When 3,000 antiwar demonstrators marched on and tried to invade the Hilton and other downtown hotels they were properly confronted by helmeted police and National Guard troops.

Tear gas turned back some others had to be beaten with nightsticks, herded into paddy wagons. In one turbulent night 300 were injured, 300 arrested.

From the convention floor Mayor Richard J. Daley was accused of "police terror tactics," of "Gestapo methods."

Though I heard none of the accusers say how he would subdue an unruly mob—gently.

Mayor Daley tried to explain that militant security was necessary to prevent violence inside the convention hall. "The same forces creating disorder outside are trying to create disorder inside."

So it's possible that some of those delegates and others who so vehemently castigated Daley owe him their lives.

Again: some of us reject the concept of winless wars. Further some of us believe that to fight communism in Vietnam and tolerate it 90 miles from Florida is abject hypocrisy. But invading public buildings en masse, destroying private property, disrupting the deliberations of a convention, profaning our flag and resisting police—these are the un-American tactics of Old World revolutionaries.

I am very sorry that in this next election neither major party platform gives voters a drive-it-or-park-it choice in Vietnam. Republicans and Democrats are officially apparently content to just let our men stand there and bleed.

It could be worse. Neither platform approved a unilateral cessation of bombing which would have placed our men already over there in further jeopardy. Our troops are grateful for that small favor though it offers no solution to an apparently untenable situation.

Little wonder our frustrated draft-eligible young shoot their displeasure. What else can they do to make themselves heard? How can they right the wrong of being forced to fight with less than our best weapons to perpetuate unworthy government on the other side of the world with a war which we appear ashamed to lose and yet afraid to win?

Because I share the indignation of the upcoming generation, what I am about to say may be partly wishful thinking. Also, though, it is based on hard political reality.

The party platforms notwithstanding, somewhere between now and November an alternative Vietnam policy will emerge. As the politicians court the electorate discover the pertinence of this Vietnam issue with the voting populace, of our country, at least one nominee will fight for his political life with a specific proposal or he will be forced to.

He will be forced to by George Wallace.

Communist propaganda, Fortas pleaded before the Supreme Court to grant Communist Party propagandists "free commerce in opinion and political expression." (1944).

Now that you know what kind of man might become Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, don't worry about a thing, folks. As President Johnson says: "Have you ever had it so good?" Sleep well!

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Abe Fortas, President Johnson's incredible nominee to the job of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, was an outspoken critic of government loyalty security programs in the late '40s and '50s. "Dove" Fortas also plugged for war against Germany before Roosevelt arranged Pearl Harbor (so we could join our Communist friends in making the world safe for democracy). But although 31 years old and with no children, he got out in less than two months. Twenty-nine days of this was spent undergoing tests and examinations in a New York training camp where it was decided he had an "arrested case of ocular tuberculosis." It has evidently been arrested ever since. He swabbed no decks but immediately returned to work for Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, and at 55, after pouring over countless lawbooks during the ensuing years, his eyesight is so arrested that he doesn't even wear glasses. Thus his "service career" also is similar to that of Lyndon Johnson. Neither could find a uniform to fit them for very long.

When the Democratic crises erupted in 1965, Chancellor Benitez of the University of Puerto Rico, contacted Fixer Fortas as a source who would have Mr. Johnson's ear. Benitez was interceding for his pro-Communist friend and Castro partner, Juan Bosch, who was trying to re-take the Dominican Republic for the Communists.

Together with Thurgood Marshall, Roy Wilkins, Lee Pressman, Nathan Witt, and others, Fortas is an officer and National Committeeman of the International Judicial Association. In the 1930s he was affiliated with the National Lawyers Guild (subversive organization). In the 1940s he was a member of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action (subversive organization—Attorney General's list).

Fortas was a supporter of (he doesn't remember whether he actually joined) the Southern Conference for Human Welfare in 1947 (listed as a Communist Party front group for three years at the time). He helped to write the "Gesell Report" for the Defense Department, aimed at forcing off-base racial integration in housing, social life, etc., of U.S. servicemen.

Fortas tried to "fix" the Washington press to prevent the publication of Bobby Baker's "fix" of the famous stereo to LBJ. Fortas was highly praised by the Communist Party Worker (November 3, 1950) for denouncing the firing of certain State Department employees for disloyalty as "unfair and un-American." Fortas said the firings were the act of a "police state." In appealing the firing of one Milton Friedman from a top-level position for disseminating Com-
