Pointing out that bread, rich in vitamin content, will be just as important as bullets in safeguarding the American way of life, Miss Jessie Hogue, noted authority on nutrition and meal preparation, declared today that a key to soldier morale will be found in army kitchens.

"The same goes for civilian morale, and American housewives can play a great role in keeping up the nation's energy by preparing the right kind of meals," said Miss Hogue, whose lectures will be a feature of the Happy Kitchen Cooking School to be sponsored soon by the

Harmony Wins Rural School Championship

C. T. Clanton, principal of the Harmony School in northeastern Dawson County, was in the Courier office Monday at noon, and reports that his school was declared the Rural All-Around Champions of this county on the basis of complete returns from the Dawson County Interscholastic League Meet held the latter part of March in Lamesa.

Harmony won the championship by tallying 94½ points in all events to head Woody who took second, and McCarty who finished third.

Brings In Odd Shaped Egg

J. C. Minor, pioneer Dawson county citizen, who now lives on South First street, Lamesa, brought in a very peculiarly shaped hen egg Monday morning. It looked like one of these small decorative gourds one sees in flower shops, and if a person had not known it was an egg, would have thought it such. It was practically as heavy as an ordinary egg, although apparently much smaller.

Scrap Rubber Week Being Observed In This County

Following designation of the dates last week, April 6 to 11, inclusive is being emphasized as National Scrap Rubber Week.

During this week all Dawson County citizens who have scrap rubber of any kind, especially old automobile, tractor and truck tires, are requested to bring them in and selling them to scrap or junk dealers. The Office of Production Management emphasizes that these tires are sought as scrap only when they are absolutely ruined beyond any further use, and that such old tires are the main source of scrap rubber.

"There is a pressing demand for scrap rubber to augment the nations restricted crude rubber supply," OPM officials stated, "and old rubber tires are the main source of scrap rubber. Those tires that we are urging be turned in for scrap purposes no longer have any service value."

J. E. Barron, chairman of the Dawson County Rationing Board, states that it is the desire of this board that every citizen of Dawson county cooperate in this worthwhile movement, and bring in all the old rubber that is to be had in the county.

"The nations stockpile of crude rubber faces complete exhaustion before March of next year," Mr. Barron states, "and the turning in of all scrap rubber is of vital importance to the war effort."

When farmers throughout the cotton belt were urged to plant the full allotment of 27,400,000 acres for 1942 it was no April Fool's yarn that there is a pressing need for every inch of staple, every pound of lint, every drop of oil and every ounce of cake and meal that can be produced.

Cotton fiber probably is more essential to the successful prosecution of the war than rubber, tin or any other materials of which shortages exist or are threatened, according to experts at the A. and M. College of Texas.

The United Nations look to agriculture of the United States for food and clothing and no other crop is so important to the war effort as cotton.

There is no "dangerous surplus" of lint cotton today. Of 23,000,000 bales on hand, domestic consumption will take 13,000,000, leaving 10,000,000 bales in the carry-over August 1, 1942. Government frozen stocks account for 4,000,000 bales of (Continued on Back Page)

Want Ad Sells Cow And Calves

J. C. Porter who resides two miles west of Lamesa on the Seminole highway, ran a small For Sale ad in the Classified columns of the Courier in the issue of March 27, advertising a milk cow and whiteface calf.

On Saturday, March 28, Mr. Porter came to town, and while he was away from home, his wife not only sold the cow and calf he had advertised, but another calf as well. And on Sunday, Mr. Porter declares that he had more company than he has had in twenty years, all asking about the cow and calf, and that they were still coming.

So once again the Courier Classified Column got the job done, and at a cost so small that it was almost negligible when compared to the results achieved.

If you have something to sell, trade buy, rent, lease, a Courier Classified will be the wisest investment you ever made.

Yes, I Was Rejected And Left Behind

We found the following article stuck in the door of the Courier Office one morning last week. We don't know who the writer is, but are going to break our rule of not printing anonymous articles by printing this one. Who ever the boy was who wrote this item, he has left a thought that should not go unregarded. Let's not condemn any boy who is left behind until we learn the true facts in the case. Sometimes they are not left behind willingly, but because of circumstances of which we know nothing. Think it over.

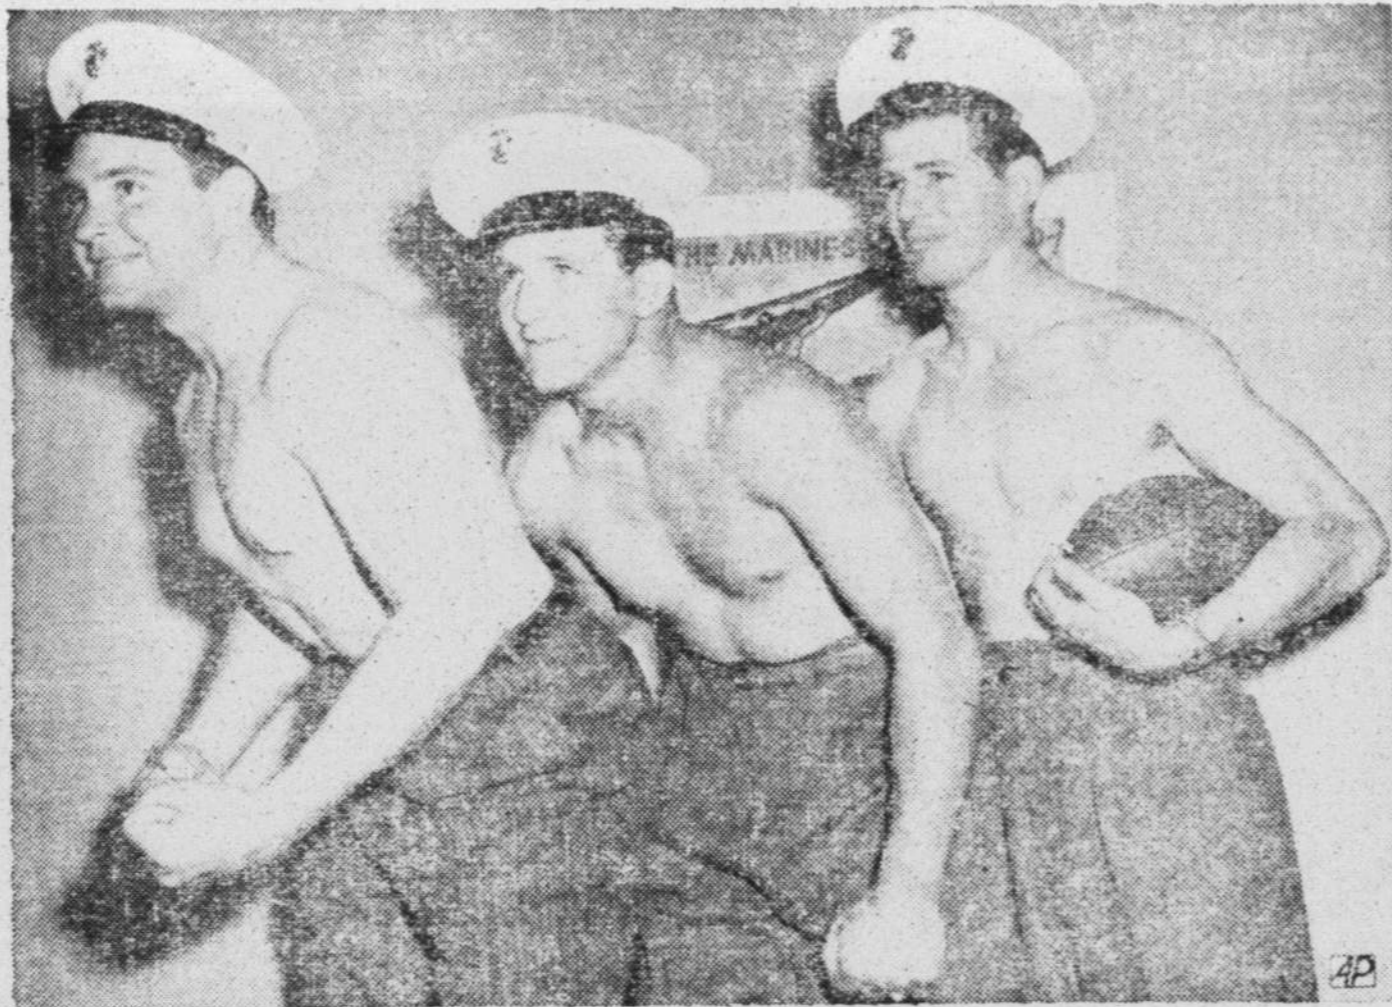

YES, I WAS REJECTED AND LEFT BEHIND!

When I walk down the street I feel that I am at the end of the pointed finger. I can hear whispers and low voices that seem to say "Why hasn't he gone?" Yes, I was rejected and left behind.

My friends have gone, years ago it seems. I heard their parents and friends tell them goodbye and so warmly wish them well. They left with a look of proud and lasting determination in the faces. I can think of no finer act that I could do with greater glory than to answer the call of my Uncle Sam and serve my colors. Yes, I was rejected and left behind.

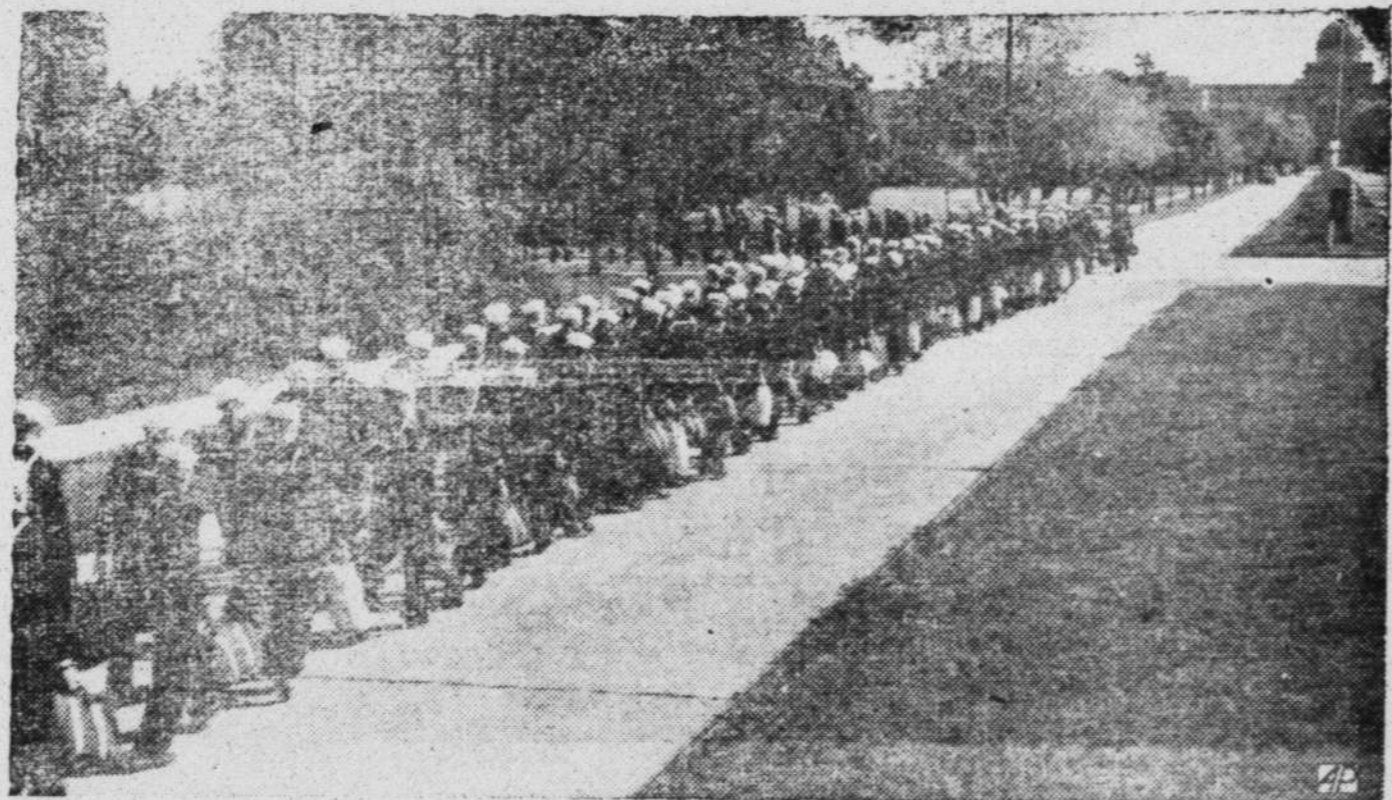

Deep down inside me, part of my very heart and life seems to be gone — gone with my best friends. It seems that I haven't much left to offer, only my income, which isn't much, but that I will give with my prayers. Yes, I was rejected and left behind.

Food Distribution Program Helps All Hornflies Cause

Issuance of more than half a million dollars worth in the blue food stamps in January to Texas families participating in the food stamp program represents a substantial boost to farm markets in the state, according to a statement made today by officials of the USDA's Surplus Marketing Administration.

In addition to the benefit farmers realize from the food stamp plan and other SMA food distribution programs, they are helping also to build and maintain the strength of America and other nations who are fighting aggression by making nutritious foods available to millions of people whose health would be endangered by an inadequate diet.

During January the SMA furnished nearly three million pounds of nutritive food which was served in 4,970 community school lunch programs in Texas. About 240,000 rural and 111,000 urban children benefited.

Dr. Cox Says:-

Typhus fever is fast developing into a serious health menace in Texas, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who today issued an appeal for every Texan to co-operate in the prevention of this dread disease.

"Last year the greatest number of cases in the history of the state were reported, when there was a total of 733 cases of typhus fever in Texas. While there are only 46 cases of typhus fever reported during the first twelve weeks of last year, the same period this present year, there have been 131 cases," Dr. Cox stated. "With the peak of this disease occurring in August, if the present rate is continued, we may expect serious conditions resulting from typhus by the end of the summer."

The type of typhus fever occurring in Texas is known as endemic or Bill's disease, and is transmitted to human beings from infected rats, by means of the rat flea. The eradication of rats greatly reduces this death hazard, and a consistent program of rat poisoning, rat trapping, and rat proofing will materially aid in the control of typhus in Texas.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that it is the patriotic duty of every Texan to co-operate in maintaining the highest possible health level, and the eradication of rats will promote the control of typhus among our civilian population as well as our armed forces.

Don Phipps, a ten year old Club boy of the Grandview community, made the boys "look down their nose" this year in the Heavyweight Drylot Class at the Junior Fat Stock Show. Don bought a nice Hereford from his grandfather last fall, carried it home and put it on feed. When that little 85 pound boy led that 885 pound calf into the show ring everyone knew that Don had done a good job of feeding, and was doing a good job of showing. His calf won first place. This beautiful calf was purchased by the First National Bank of Lamesa.

This soldier operates a 37-millimeter gun and among his comrades on foot are mechanics, cyclists, telephone operators, ski troopers, "walkie-talkie" radio men, parachute troops and airborne infantry. Off to each file of infantry troops, mounted in a speeding armored car or crouched behind his well-concealed weapon at a road junction is the 37-millimeter gunner. Primarily, in modern warfare, he has but one target: enemy tanks and armored vehicles. His first shot must be a direct hit for armored vehicles travel at a high rate of speed and a miss means precious seconds lost.

The Voice Of The Sweetheart Conquered Man Is Still Heard

By PAUL J. C. FRIEDLANDER
Wide World Features Writer
NEW YORK—Every day of this war in the Nazi-occupied countries, the underground newspapers go to press.

Copies of the editions even reach America, along with whispered accounts of the conditions and dangers under which they were got out. And every edition of the 325 newspapers published secretly in attics and cellars and caves, on broken down handpresses muffled against Gestapo ears, strikes another blow for liberty and for the freedom of speech and press for which the United Nations are fighting.

Newsboys dare not hawk them on the streets; they slip them quietly into the hands of loyal subscribers behind the soldiers' backs. There are no names of editors in the masthead, for a firing squad or worse is the reward the Nazis promise fearless editors if they are caught.

Occasionally the entire staff of one of these underground plants is captured and executed but still they continue their work. Word came only recently to the Inter-Allied Information Center here, clearing house for data on life in the occupied homelands, that Josef Skalda, editor of a leading Czechoslovakian newspaper "Boj", had been executed by Nazis.

But the rest of the staff of the "Struggle" escaped and the 4-page paper is still being published. The Czech lion rampant in a Victory V continues to preach sabotage from "Boj" masthead as it has for nearly three years.

Gestapo leaders, infuriated by the regularity with which underground newspapermen smuggle their latest copies on the desks of their oppressors have been unable to stamp them out in Poland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Norway, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Belgium and Denmark.

Yugoslav patriots last year floated a 20,000,000 dinar bond issue (about $200,000) through advertising campaigns in their underground publications to finance this work. They offered to pay 4 per cent interest after the war. The issue was sold out.

"La Libre Belgique" was one of the things Kaiser Wilhelm's soldiers had to contend with in Belgium during World War I. The revived Free Belgium newspaper is one of the crosses chafing Hitler's Gestapo in the low countries today. Thirteen editors of this paper were captured and shot during World War I.

Today new editors publish "La Libre Belgique" in six to 12-page tabloids and their 3,000-4,000 press run reaches more than 100,000 patriots, Inter-Allied Information officials estimate.

Five Poles, the entire editorial staff of one small free newspaper, recently were captured, according to German news reports. Gestapo raiders found a powerful shortwave radio set and a small apparatus for reproduction of pictures.

A few weeks after the Churchill-Roosevelt meetings of last year, pictures of the two anti-Axis leaders appeared on front pages of underground newspapers.

To prove to their compatriots on the other side of the frontier that it can be done, these daring editors regularly sneak out to their consulates and information offices in London and New York micro-films of their editions. The Polish Information office here has an almost complete file of the major underground newspapers.

The Polish underground even boasts two comics—the weekly "Lipa" first published Nov. 2, 1940, with the editor's note that "We are laughing over graves." The other is the monthly "Szpilka."

One Year Of Food For Freedom Sees Goals In Sight

Texas farmers this week looked back on a year of Food for Freedom production and knew they had done a good job.

At the same time they looked to the future, to the current crop year which must break all records, and knew they had a still bigger job ahead of them.

One year ago, April 3, 1941, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard issued a call for more dairy, poultry and pork products. Texas farmers answered that call by increasing their production of all three.

According to V. C. Childs, Agricultural Marketing Service representative on the Texas USDA War Board, Texas produced 4,452 million pounds of milk in 1941, compared with 1940's 4,192 million pounds and 184,833,333 dozen eggs compared with 178,250,000 dozen. The 1941 pig crop totaled 2,309,000 compared with the previous year's 2,144,000.

The nation's agriculture as a whole responded to the Secretary's call in the same vein by producing 115,498 million pounds of milk compared with 1940's 109,510 million pounds and 3,392,000,000 dozen eggs compared with 3,239,000,000 dozen. The national pig crop in 1941 was 85,035,000 compared with 79,840,000 in 1940.

Production in 1942 will dwarf 1941 production if USDA War Board goals are met, Childs pointed out. Texas farmers have pledged 1942 production of 5,707 million pounds of milk and 231,585,721 dozen eggs as two of the principal goals they

HAS FINE HEIFER

Thomas Craddock, of the Wilson Community 4-H Club, is raising a nice Jersey heifer purchased from Shelton Bros., Brownwood. This beautiful heifer is out of a Gold Medal cow that produced 679 pounds of butter fat in 305 days, and was sired by Premier's Combination of F. F., a Gold Medal bull, and also the sire of 44 daughters that averaged 549 pounds of butter-fat.

GRAND CHAMPION!

Leon Archer, 4-H Club Boy of the Grandview community, purchased a calf from Fred Henderson, Dawson County Hereford Breeder, in October, 1941. This calf was born July 3, 1941 and was a very small calf to its age. The calf had the breeding behind it, and was a very likely looking "show prospect." Leon put this calf on a ration of yellow corn, maize, oats, bran, alfalfa, cottonseed meal, minerals, hay and a milk substitute. In a few weeks the calf began bloom, and at eight months of age was the Grand Champion Calf of the Dawson County Junior Fat Stock Show.

DOES BEST JOB OF FEEDING

L. D. Langham, 4-H Club Boy of the Key Community, probably did the best job of feeding and fitting a calf of any Dawson County 4-H Club boy in 1941-42. L. D.'s calf after being put on feed took a growing spell, and about Thanksgiving looked like he would never settle down and go to fattening. L. D. did not get discouraged. He stayed in there and kept on feeding his calf. About Christmas the calf settled down, started to really eating and putting on fat. At show time this spring, L. D. brought his calf into the Junior Fat Stock Show, and showed him to such a good advantage that he won third place in the Heavyweight Drylot Division. L. D. could have given up in November and lost. But he did not give up. He stayed in there and worked—and his efforts were well paid for.

HAS TWO WINNERS

Tommy Allen, 4-H Club Boy of the Key Community, purchased two calves in McCulloch County in August 1941. He brought these calves home and weaned them before Sept. 1, 1941. He put his calves on feed, and at the Junior Fat Stock Show won first and 4th Lightweight Drylot; champion drylot calf, and first in the class of two calves fed by one boy.

WINS WILSON MEDAL

Douglas Brown, 4-H Club Boy of the Bartlett Community, is the 1941 county winner of the Wilson Medal. This medal is presented each year by Wilson & Co., nationally known meat company, to the boy in the county that has done an outstanding job of feeding calves, hogs or lambs for three years. Douglas started his club work in Mitchell County in 1936 under B. J. Baskin, then County Agent of that county. In 1940 Douglas moved to Dawson County, and has been feeding and showing ever since.

Charged Under Draft Law

Charles Witsotsky of New York City (above), who masqueraded on the faculty of the University of Texas medical branch at Galveston under the name of Dr. David Fell, was returned to Houston April 4 to face a charge of false registration for the draft. Witsotsky told reporters he was the same man who was on the medical school faculty about fifteen months before his masquerade was discovered. The Federal indictment against him charged that he registered with a Galveston draft board as David Walton Fell but said that in fact his name was Charles Peter Witsotsky. Witsotsky said that although he is charged under the name Witsotsky his name had been legally changed to Charles Peter West; that there "was an intent on my part to evade the draft at any time."

10-YEAR OLD WINS

Adell Crumpler, 10 year old 4-H Club Boy of the Mt. Olive community, does not let a little matter of "short age" or "lightweight" bother him. No, Sir. Not Adell. He just picks up his little .22 calibre rifle at the District 4-H Club Camp at Ceta Glenn Canyon last August, and went to shooting. When the smoke had cleared away Adell was the winner of a beautiful gold medal for first prize in the Junior Division. He just had to beat about 200 boys at the camp to win that honor, but that did not bother Adell. He just went to shooting, and won.

His winning of the Junior championship, gave Dawson County two winners in two years. In 1940 Ruston Peterson won the Senior Division at District Camp.

L. has purchased four registered gilts out of one of the top herds in Texas. He is continuing his 4-H Club work with these fine hogs as his demonstration.

Farming On Level Pays Dividends

"Farming on the level" helps to maintain or to increase production of the Food for Victory crops, and at the same time often conserves time and tractor fuel, according to Paul H. Walser, state coordinator for the Soil Conservation Service and a member of the Texas USDA War Board.

This photograph shows a farm being operated on the level, or on the contour, in order to conserve both soil and moisture. The additional moisture held in the field may mean the margin between crop failure and a fair harvest. In addition to increasing production, contour cultivation in some areas has required ten per cent less time and seventeen per cent less tractor fuel to produce an acre of corn when compared to non-contoured fields. This means a saving of seven hours of time and fifteen gallons of fuel for a field of 30 acres.

O. H. Morris Gives Good Talk At Rotary Meeting

O. H. Morris, secretary-treasurer of the Lamesa Federal Savings and Loan Association, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Lamesa Rotary Club Friday at noon at the Plaza Hotel.

The subject for Mr. Morris' talk was "Loans and Its Effect on Community Life."

Mr. Morris opened his talk by giving a short history of his connections with the loan business, saying that he had been in that line or profession in Lamesa for the past fifteen years. During that time he had loaned over a million dollars, mostly to Lamesans, of which sum over three-quarters of it had been repaid. He expressed his appreciation and thanks to the people of Lamesa for their loyal support, and hoped that he might merit that loyalty and confidence and success by rendering such service as best suited to the community and his clients.

Mr. Morris continued by saying that he had just returned from a three-day convention of Building and Loan executives held in Oklahoma City. During the convention Mr. Morris said he had the privilege of hearing four of the finest lectures he had ever had the honor of hearing, on "Matters of Loans as Related to World Conditions and Affairs." These talks were made by outstanding building and loan men in the United States.

Building and loan executives at the meeting were advised to return home and conduct their businesses as nearly normal as possible making all loans on merit and need, mostly for minor repairs and mortgage adjustments, with the major part of their attention to be placed on saving accounts and the sale of Defense Bonds.

Mr. Morris said that the people of the United States were facing a problem of grave importance. The government is spending huge sums for permanent housing of defense workers, families of Army and Navy officers, which after the emergency would become ghost towns, disrupting the normal way of life in the cities and communities in which they were located. At the same time people were leaving their old homes, jobs and businesses for this temporary situation, with the resulting diminishing buying power, closing of business, and unnecessary want in certain areas.

And with the building of these housing programs by the Federal government, local communities are forced to spend additional huge sums, either raised by government loans or voting bonds, to enlarge water systems, school systems, etc., which, when the emergency is over will be wasted and still owed for. At the same time other sections are losing both inhabitants and materials which is causing the disturbances as mentioned before.

It seemed the consensus of opinion among the loan executives that men in defense work seemed to think it more important that they have their families and loved ones with them than the soldiers and other members of the armed forces. In reality they said, they should be treated the same, having barracks, mess halls, etc., so that when the emergency is over, the great outlay in permanent structures will not have been wasted.

Mr. Morris concluded his remarks by saying that he had recently had occasion to have a long talk with a union worker, employed at Paramount studios in Hollywood. Both became somewhat exasperated he said before the conversation ended. When the union man was asked why it was necessary for a man who was willing and capable of working had to pay an initiation fee of from $25 to $100 and fees of from $5.00 to $10.00 per month to keep working, he replied that this was done to limit union membership and thus make it stronger. Mr. Morris said that he did not censure the man who belonged to the union, but did hate to see the racketeering and grafting which some labor leaders practiced, and asked the unionist what became of all the dues and fees charged. This brought an interesting reply: "I don't give a damn what happens to them, just as long as my job is insured." And when the man was asked what the government would do about overtime, and double time pay, he said "Nothing. In my opinion the government is afraid to change the existing labor laws."

Mr. Morris talk was greatly enjoyed by the Rotarians, and they expressed the desire that he would soon be back to make another.

MACHINE AIDS THE WEARY MATH PROF

MANSFIELD, O. — (AP) — Dan B. Haber, a Junior High School mathematics teacher here invented a mechanical grade averager that is a time saver.

"A Russian adding abacus — centuries old in principal — that I saw in a hotel in Odessa in 1938 while abroad, gave me the germ of an idea for the averaging machine," Haber said.

The machine is so simple that a fourth grade child can operate it. But development of the calculator took months of mathematical gymnastics and planning.

It is operated by means of a "puncher," placed in a slot opposite the grade to be averaged. The machine computes averages for from one to 24 degrees with the result appearing in a small traveling window.

Charnell Jobe Makes Statement To Voters Of City

I want to be your Mayor. We all want Lamesa to go forward and be a better town to live in.

I am not a stranger to most of you. I have been in Dawson County twelve years, and by the long time residence here of Mrs. Jobe and her family entitles me to many privileges of the Old Settlers.

I know the problems of the people of Lamesa and of its local government. I pledge my time and efforts to the solution of those problems.

My candidacy is not being sponsored by any special group of job hunters or holders. I realize that these places must be filled but I think they should be chosen according to ability instead of political alignment.

If I am elected I shall take the office obligated to no group but to all citizens of Lamesa, to fulfill my pledge to give you an efficient administration and assure you that the city's funds and property will not be wasted and abused.

Your vote will be appreciated.
CHARNELL JOBE.

Mrs. Dub Middleton and Mrs. J. Earls, of O'Donnell, spent Tuesday here visiting with friends and relatives and shopping.

Sybil Mitchell left Sunday for Ft. Worth where she has accepted a position.

—MR. A. FARMER.

R. E. Speck Makes Statement

To The Voters of Lamesa:

In seeking the office of Mayor I feel that it will not be all together new to me as I was water superintendent for 4 years and commissioner for 2 years, during which time I have made city problems a study for the best interest of all concerned. I have tried to be fair in my dealing and to serve the people of the city as though I were working for myself. If elected I shall devote my full time to affairs of office and city.

I shall appreciate any consideration you may see fit to give me.

Thanking you,
R. E. SPECK.

More Cotton—

this carry-over, leaving 6,000,000 bales.

In addition to low quality of much of the 1941 crop, 2,500,000 bales are tied up in normal mill stocks. Therefore the available stock of free cotton from which mills can make selections may not exceed 3,500,000 bales.

Consumption at the rate of 1,000,000 bales per month after August 1 might exhaust this carry-over by December 1, 1942.

Importance of cotton linters in war time has resulted in War Department designation as one of the nation's most important materials for smokeless powder and other types of explosives. Mills now cut 140 to 200 pounds of linters off a ton of cottonseed, but there are not enough tons of seed to meet the needs of the armies and navies of the United Nations.

The cotton seed is one of the most important sources of fats and oils essential to winning the war, because more are needed to increase the caloric value of foods consumed by fighting men and civilians engaged in strenuous labors. More paint and varnish oils are needed, special lubricants are needed, soap-making and glycerine plants require them.

Cottonseed meal is a universally used protein concentrate for livestock feed and the United Nations must have more meat, milk and poultry products than this nation ever before has produced.

If the millions of Texas cattle, sheep and workstock were fed as they should be fed, they would consume 1,963,000 tons of cottonseed meal and cake annually—the total present output of the entire United States.

These facts clearly point out the urgent necessity for planting the full allotment of cotton acreage allowed under the law in order to safeguard against a shortage of so important a crop as cotton, which is vital to the nation's war effort.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's food stamp plan has been extended to Armstrong, Cottle, Hardeman, Knox, Nolan, Throckmorton and Dallas Counties.

P. L. Alexander Appeals To Voters

From P. L. Alexander to the Voters of Lamesa:

To those who believe that from my citizenship in Lamesa in which I have participated in nearly every phase of its enterprise and activities, that I have thus become qualified to render valuable service as one of the Commissioners, I promise you that if I am chosen that I will devote the best that is in me in laboring for the interests and welfare of the town and will endeavor to so conduct myself that you will never have cause to regret having placed me in that responsible position.

To those voters who are not well acquainted with me personally, I refer to those who know me better, both as to my citizenship and qualifications.

Very respectfully,
P. L. ALEXANDER.

Candidates for mayor include the present incumbent W. L. Marr, Roy E. Speck, present city commissioner, and Charnell Jobe, well known Lamesa business man.

Those in the race for the two city commissioners jobs include Vernon W. Bryant, present commissioner, P. L. Alexander, W. E. (Bill) Roberts, Nelson Cope, M. Hatch, W. L. (Walter) Taylor, and James A. Fox.

All candidates urge every eligible voter to come out and cast their votes, regardless of whom it is for, because the power of the ballot is the only method of determining who will be the next city officials. Remember the place of voting will be the City Hall, and the hours of voting will be from 8:00 a. m., to 7:00 p. m., Tuesday, April 7, 1942.

NOW IN POULTRY BUSINESS

Billy Joe Peterson, 4-H Club boy of the McCarty community, has been one of Dawson County's leading Pig Club boys for years. Now Billy Joe is in the poultry business. "Uncle Sam needs eggs and more eggs for his War Program and his Lease-Lend deal," says Billy Joe, "and I am going to do all I can to see to it that my part of that business is taken care of."

GETS DUROC-JERSEY GILT

Bill Carpenter, Lamesa 4-H Club boy, has purchased a beautiful registered Duroc-Jersey gilt as his 1942 Club demonstration. This gilt is out of one of Texas' leading herds, and barrows out of this herd were top winners at the Dallas Fair in 1941.

LEADING CALF FEEDER

Weldon Kinnison, 4-H Club boy living near Arvana, has been one of the leading calf feeders and showmen in Dawson County for two years. Weldon is a small boy, but when he leads his calf into the show ring, business always picks up.

W. E. (Bill) Roberts Makes Final Statement

In making this last appeal to the voters of the City of Lamesa asking for their votes for City Commissioner, I do so with the promise that if elected that I will work and cooperate with the other officials and the entire citizenship.

If for some unaccountable reason I have not seen some of you, I would like to make this a personal solicitation of your vote when you go to the polls tomorrow. Your vote will be just as much appreciated as will those with whom I have talked.

Pledging once again my cooperation and willingness to work to the best interests of the city and its citizens, I am,

Sincerely,
W. E. (Bill) Roberts.

HAS REGISTERED HERD

Arlan Youngblood, a 4-H Club boy of the Bartlett community, also has a nice herd of registered Hereford cattle started. Arlan has been one of the leading Club Boys in calf feeding since 1940, and was a consistent winner in the breeding classes at the 1941 Fair at Lamesa. Arlan showed and sold a registered Hereford heifer at the West Texas Hereford Show and Sale at Abilene last fall.

HAVE REGISTERED JERSEYS

Two Dawson County 4-H Club Boys have registered Jersey heifers as their 1942 Club work. These heifers are out of Gold Medal Cows and Superior or Gold Medal sires.
