Cotton Price Advances On Report

SEVENTY - FIVE CENT BOOST IS MADE

ESTIMATE OF CROP IS LOWER THAN COTTON MEN EXPECTED

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8.—Cotton advanced here about 75 cents a bale today on the announcement of the final census bureau report estimating the crop at 16,918,000 bales. An estimate of at least 17,200,000 bales had been expected.

The first effect of the report on the market was a rally of 11 to 14 points, advancing January to 6.16, March to 6.31 and May to 6.49.

Held By Fears

It was considered probable that the figures would have gone higher on the strength of the report except for fears of what congress may do in the present session in the way of investigating exchanges and likely causing trade disturbances.

Total ginnings of 15,023,451 running bales announced was about as expected.

BALES ESTIMATED AT SIXTEEN MILLION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. (AP)—This year's cotton crop was estimated today by the department of agriculture at 16,918,000 equivalent 500-pound bales, based on conditions existing December 1. A month ago the estimate was 16,903,000 bales. Last year's crop totaled 12,837,099 bales.

The indicated yield of lint cotton was placed at 200.1 pounds, per acre, compared with 217 pounds last year.

Revising its estimates on this year's acreage, the department placed the area in cultivation July 1 at 40,954,000 acres, and that left

TAMPERING IN TRIAL TOLD

ATTEMPT TO THWART JUSTICE IN CAPONE TRIAL FRUSTRATED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8—An alleged attempt to tamper with justice in the income tax trial of Alphonse Capone was revealed last night by Dwight H. Green, assistant United States district attorney, who said the plan was frustrated by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Greene said prosecutors had learned that Capone agents had obtained names and addresses of 100 veniremen called for Judge Wilkerson's court and already had approached ten of them.

"At the last moment," he said, "Judge Wilkerson sent his whole venire to Judge Barnes and Judge Barnes sent his to Judge Wilkerson. Thus we got a venire that the Capone agents knew nothing about."

The prosecutor added that the pistol brought into court by Capone's friend, Philip D'Andrea, was carried for a definite and serious purpose.

"It was a death threat for a certain witness to make sure his memory would be defective on the stand," he said.

Capone was convicted and sentenced to 11 years. D'Andrea was sentenced to jail for six months for carrying the weapon.

Panhandle Area Is Covered By Snow

AMARILLO, Dec. 8. (AP)—The Texas Panhandle today was covered by a light snow which fell during the night, and low hanging clouds threatened additional flurries today. At 10 a. m. it was snowing between Dalhart, Texas, and Trinidad, Colo. With the exception of Amarillo, where the minimum temperature at 6 a. m. was 32 degrees, at no point in the Panhandle did the temperature drop below the 36-degree mark. There was little change in the temperature as the day advanced.

Unpaved highways were slippery and slow, but passable. Air line companies operating in all directions out of Amarillo reported all planes running except the Amarillo-Denver ships of the American Airways.

The whistling was stopped when a surgeon, with a bronchoscope, removed a tin whistle which lodged in the boy's lung after he had swallowed it while celebrating hallowe'en.

ASK DEATH FOR POWERS

"Official" System Wins Over Culbertsons In Bridge Fight

LENZ AND JACOBY WIN IN FIRST ROUND OF CONTRACT BATTLE

BY TOM O'NEIL

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Sidney S. Lenz and his partner, Oswald Jacoby, playing the "official" system, were 1,715 points in the lead today in their 150-rubber contract bridge match against Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson and the Culbertson system.

Lenz and Jacoby made the greater score in each of three rubbers played in the initial session. In the first two rubbers they won a bonus for taking two games. In the third rubber the Culbertsons took two games and with it a rubber bonus, yet because of sets given them, the point total of their opponents increased.

Each side remained convinced today its system was the better. Culbertson said Lenz and Jacoby had "dreadnaughts" in card holdings and that if the cards were reversed the Culbertsons would have made more than 4,000 points. Lenz insisted that if he and Jacoby had played the Culbertsons' cards the proponents of the "official" system would be plus just the same.

Each side found support in individual hands for its theories of bidding. Culbertson was especially critical of the failure of his opponents to bid more. Lenz was amazed at the Culbertsons' slowness of play.

All agreed on one thing: That there was nothing sensational in handling of cards after the dummy was down.

Twenty-three hands were played

Here's The Hand That Caused Argument

Much argument developed over the second hand in which the Culbertsons contracted for five diamonds and Mrs. Culbertson was set four. The hand:

LENZ (North)
Spades—A J 9 3
Hearts—K
Diamonds—10 8 7 6 3
Clubs—6 5 3

CULBERTSON (West)
Spades—Blank
Hearts—A 9 8 3 2
Diamonds—Q 4 2
Clubs—K Q 9 8 7

MRS. CULBERTSON (East; Dealer)
Spades—8 6 5 2
Hearts—J 10 5
Diamonds—A K 9 5
Clubs—A 4

JACOBY (South)
Spades—K Q 10 7 4
Hearts—Q 7 6 4
Diamonds—J
Clubs—J 10 2

The bidding ran: Mrs. Culbertson one diamond; Jacoby one spade; Culbertson two spades; Lenz pass; Mrs. Culbertson three diamonds; Jacoby pass; Culbertson three hearts; Lenz three spades; Mrs. Culbertson four hearts; Jacoby four spades; Culbertson five diamonds.

Lenz explained his failure to double by fear that the Culbertsons would revert to Hearts, in which four could have been made, but suggested the Culbertson could have gone little slam in clubs which they never did. Lenz regarded Culbertson's overcall in spades as a bit risky and Culbertson's rebidding of diamonds as wholly unjustified. In answer to the two spade bid of her partner, Lenz thought, Mrs. Culbertson should have bid no trump, which might have resulted in bidding of the clubs by her partner.

STATE BEGINS MURDER CASE TESTIMONY

DEFENDANT SQUIRMS AS NOOSE SHOWN IN COURTROOM

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 8 (AP)—A noose was dangled in front of Harry F. Powers today and the man on trial for his life squirmed.

The circle of web belting was produced by Dr. Leroy C. Goff, county coroner, who said he had found it knotted around the neck of Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke, Northboro, Mass., whom Powers is accused of luring to his garage and slaying.

Death Penalty Asked

At the opening session of the trial yesterday Prosecutor Will C. Morris asked that Powers be given the death penalty.

Powers had shown no emotion then but the noose that was shown him today seemed to cause him some uneasiness.

A minute later, however, he had dropped back into his role of yesterday—that of a bland, gum-chewing observer at a drama which seemed to bore him.

"Had the strap been tied tightly around the victim's neck?" Morris asked.

"Yes, tightly enough to have caused death," the coroner replied. Powers smiled slightly.

He displayed no interest when the coroner later held up a strip of canvas and told how it had been used to bind the victim.

Carl Southern, city detective, recounted the events that led to Powers' arrest. He described the subterranean death chambers in the garage Powers built at Quiet Dell.

He told how the bodies of Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher and her three children were dug from a ditch near the garage and identified. The body of Mrs. Lemke, however, was unidentified for several days, he said.

Legion Asks Hoover For Prohibition Referendum And Relief For Veterans

REQUEST LAID BEFORE PRESIDENT TODAY BY HENRY L. STEVENS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—A request for a prohibition referendum and an additional expenditure of more than $25,000,000 a year for veterans' relief was laid before President Hoover by Henry L. Stevens, national commander of the American Legion.

The requests were embodied in the Legion's legislative program for the present congress. In addition to the annual expenditure it requested an appropriation of about $40,000,000 for the construction of hospitals holding 11,677 beds.

The legion commander said the legion would "have its hands full of unemployment relief and other activities without carrying on an extended fight for the requested prohibition referendum.

The program he submitted consisted of eight points. Among them were requests for allowances for widows and orphans regardless of "service-connected death," estimated to cost more than $10,000,000 a year, reduction of interest on veterans' adjusted compensation loans estimated to amount to $12,000,000 a year and a provision for outpatient medical treatment regardless of service connection, estimated to cost around $6,000,000 a year.

JOBLESS ARMY TURNS BACK

DIFFICULTIES FACED AS DEMONSTRATORS BEGIN RETREAT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—A chilly welcome and a shortage of transportation made difficulties today for the retreat of 1,500 unsuccessful unemployment demonstrators.

Instead of 71 trucks and cars, with which they arrived, the contingent which yesterday paraded before the capitol and the White House had 45 vehicles in which to go home. Drivers of the others apparently had been paid when the column reached here Sunday. They immediately drove off.

Breakfast was the last meal and last night's lodging was the last housing available to the demonstrators. A big squad of motorcycle police came around early to escort them outside the limits of the district.

There were shouts of "we'll be back again" as the caravan rumbled away. Bunches of bananas, baskets of apples and loaves of bread were distributed.

Meetings along the route back home were planned to tell the workers of other cities the results of the march.

TRIAL POSTPONED

LOCKHART, Dec. 8 (AP)—Trial of Adam Briscoe of Luling, charged with the murder of D. B. Kennard, Luling oil field worker, was postponed today until March 28, 1932, on motion of defense counsel. Kennard died in Luling last year as the result of knife wounds.

GARDINER FOR NAVY PROBE

PRESIDENT HOOVER IS AGAIN ASSAILED FOR NAVAL ACTIONS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—William Howard Gardiner seized the moment of congress' assembling to again assail President Hoover conduct of naval affairs, calling for a sweeping investigation.

His plea, latest utterance in the long-drawn controversy between the White House and the Navy league, fell on fertile ground, for advocates of a more powerful naval establishment are planning to push large construction bills at this session.

The latest statement of the league president again assailed Mr. Hoover's suggestion of immunizing sea-borne food supplies from the hazards of war, by terming it the "ill-advised nostrum" of a layman. In essence he reasserted his original charge of "abysmal ignorance" against the president.

Although no senators or congressmen have yet sponsored the type of investigation sought by Gardiner, opportunities for extended testimony by naval experts and volunteer advisors doubtless will come in hearins on the construction bills.

GETS SUSPENDED TERM

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 8. (AP)—Porfirio Villarreal, who pleaded guilty to a charge of murder without malice in connection with the slaying of Joaquin Zapata, was under a five-year suspended sentence today. He waived trial by jury. Zapata was killed in a knife fight August 13.

Presidential Boom Started For Garner

UVALDE, Dec. 8. (AP)—The "home folks" today were boosting John N. Garner of Uvalde for president.

Organization of a "Garner-for-President" club climaxed a big celebration occasioned by the genial Texan's elevation yesterday to the speakership of the national house of representatives. The band paraded and people for miles around came to town.

H. P. Hornby, former state representative, was named county chairman of the club, the third to be formed in Texas. Committeemen were chosen for each precinct.

TAKES SALARY CUT

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 8 (AP)—President Pascual Ortiz Rubio today announced he will take a voluntary 25 per cent salary cut and contribute the money to charity. He ordered that the money 18,250.08 pesos (about $8,000) for the year, be given to the society of public charity.

LEAGUE ABANDONS SINO-JAP PLAN

PARIS, Dec. 8 (AP)—The League of Nations council today appeared virtually to have abandoned the plan to establish an official neutral zone between the Chinese and Japanese armies in the Chinchow area since agreement on its terms has been found impossible.

Instead, its resolution, which may be ready for final adoption tomorrow, is likely to recognize the status quo and to express hope that both sides will refrain from disturbing the comparative peace which now exists in southern Manchuria.

In view of the council, the neutral zone already exists in fact, the Chinese are left in possession of Chinchow and the Japanese have promised not to attack that city.

PUPILS PICKET TO PROTEST PEEPING PROFESSOR'S PETTING PARTY PROBE

(By The Associated Press)

LARAMIE, Wyo., Dec. 8—Students of the University of Wyoming have struck in protest against "serious reflections" cast by Dr. A. G. Crane, the president, on youths and co-eds he found in motor cars parked near the scene of a school dance last Friday night.

The strike was called by a vote of 432 to 85 at a mass meeting last night after Dr. Crane refused to apologize for remarks students attributed to him that the couples were "petting and drinking." About half the student body was represented.

Denying the charges amid jeers and catcalls, students said the couples had gone out during an intermission solely for fresh air. Order was restored by their leaders.

Although Dr. Crane refused to comment on his survey before the meeting, C. Eugene Cross, editor of the Branding Iron, student publication, said Dr. Crane had told him he believed he was fully justified in investigating the conduct of those attending the dance. It was held in the school gymnasium.

The strikers planned to picket the campus today and appeal to the university board of trustees in an effort to obtain an apology from Dr. Crane. Student leaders said campus pickets would not use force to restrain students who were not participating in the strike from attending classes.

PRESIDENT OFFERS PROGRAM TO BALANCE THE TREASURY AND HASTEN BETTER CONDITIONS

THIRD ANNUAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS PRESENTS MANY-POINTED PROGRAM AS CURE FOR CREDIT PARALYSIS; GIANT CORPORATION PROPOSED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—To balance the treasury books and hasten better days, President Hoover recommended increased taxation to congress today along with a many-pointed program to cure "credit paralysis."

Unless taxes go up and expenditures down, he said, the government will have run behind some $4,400,000,000 by the end of the next fiscal year. He did not specify the method of tax revision but suggested it be made effective for only two years.

A plan for a gigantic federal-financed reconstruction corporation, similar to the old war finance corporation, headed the president's proposals to help business. The agency would advance money to needy industries.

Besides, in his third annual message to congress, he advocated that it—

Subscribe more funds to federal loan banks.

Use federal reserve banks to liberate funds arrested in failed banks.

Establish a home-loan discount bank system.

Broaden the base for paper reserve banks can discount.

Overhaul banking laws.

Review postal savings bank legislation.

Avoid general tariff revision.

Revise interstate commerce commission laws regulating rails.

Allow "proper consolidation" of railroads.

Adjust anti-trust laws to remove injustices.

Refrain from extending expenditures on veterans.

Regulate interstate transmission of electrical power.

Reject proposals for government dole.

Transfer shipping board administrative functions to commerce department.

Make shipping board a regulatory body, having jurisdiction over coastwise shipping and rates and services on inland waterways.

Strengthen immigration laws.

To Consider Taxation

Mr. Hoover told the legislators he would deal with taxation more fully in his budget message tomorrow. He did say the $2,123,000,000 deficit expected this year needs to be partially financed by borrowing, but taxation should be increased as to balance the budget next year.

Seldom has he been more emphatic than in warning that for congress to go beyond the limits he prescribes "in either expenditures, taxes, or borrowing will destroy confidence, denude commerce and industry of its resources, jeopardize the financial system and actually

TWO-PARTY MAN

The proud distinction of being the only member of Congress to be elected by both parties is that of Representative Patrick J. Boland, of Pennsylvania, who was made a solon by Republican and Democratic parties and received invitations to both caucuses. Boland threw in his lot with the Democrats. He is an avowed anti-prohibitionist and a believer in a lower tariff.

HOODLUM HELD FOR MURDER

McERLANE, CHICAGO'S TOUGHEST GANGSTER, UNDER ARREST

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Chicago "toughest gangster"—Frank McErlane—was a police prisoner again today—this time in connection with the murder of his wife.

McErlane, described by the police as a "gun crazy" South Side hoodlum, surrendered to Chicago detectives at a hotel in Madison, Wis., and was hurried back to Chicago over a route kept secret because of the apparent fear he might be ambushed by rival gangsters.

Refuses To Talk

The hoodlum, who is listed by the Chicago crime commission as a "public enemy" refused to discuss the killing of his wife, formerly known as Marian Miller of St. Louis. She was found shot to death in McErlane's expensive automobile October 7. Beside her lay two pet dogs, also shot to death.

McErlane, the police said, had been hiding out at the winter, Wis., estate of Joe Saltis, an associate, but agreed through his attorney, Joseph Roach, to surrender.

McErlane has a long police record. He has been suspected of implication in a dozen gang slayings. Once he was wounded by gangsters in a hospital where he was recovering from a previous gangland scrape.

Authorities said they would charge him with murder in connection with his wife's death.

Declaring that international peace depended upon the teachings of the horrors of war in history as well as its glories, Dean James M. Gordon spoke on international goodwill before the Lubbock Lions club at Hotel Hilton today noon. Rev. J. O. Haymes was chairman of the program.

"Down through the ages, history has shown us that might makes right," Dean Gordon said, "until the coming of that one great man who began to teach us other things. DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

TREATMENT OF STUTTERER

WHAT I have written on stuttering for my next book may be of interest to the readers of this column:

"It may be that an occasional adult stutterer is helped or actually cured by mechanical treatment, such as rhythmical breathing, phonic and vocal exercises, where the instructor can gain the complete confidence of the patient. Even then the effect is primarily psychological, no doubt. Also an occasional adult is aided temporarily by his friends who, at the moment of greatest difficulty, ask him to wait or go slowly. But the younger the person the less good can come from such treatment. Certainly nearly all stuttering children under ten or twelve are greatly harmed thereby.

"Of course you say that an occasional stuttering child does seem to get help from mechanical drills. So he may. But when he does, there will be a relapse unless the emotional conditions under which it had arisen and had been re-enforced were corrected."

We parents have the greatest responsibility for preventing stuttering, and the greatest opportunity to correct it. Virtually every child developing speech stutters some. All surely are potential stutterers. When the child stutters, you and others in his presence are inclined to turn your eyes upon his mouth. This response emphasizes his awareness of the difficulty causing him to grow worse. Train yourself not to look at him then, but to act as if all were well. Provided you face him at all look right into his eyes with an air of assurance.

In case you know the word he is laboring to say, give it in a most casual manner. Train all your friends to treat him in this fashion. Don't tell him to repeat; don't say "wait" or "not so fast." Merely listen patiently, with the suggestion that everything will come out all right, that he needs feel no haste. Prove in his presence that you have perfect poise and calm. To this end train yourself to speak in soft, quiet tones, avoiding excitement and unnecessary noise. See that the child does not become agitated and greatly fatigued.

Build up in the stuttering child a strong healthy body, with ample rest, relaxation and sleep, good diet and eating habits, and other routine habits so that he takes care of himself as much as possible, with a minimum of supervision and a maximum of independence.

* * *

Virtually always the stutterer is considered even by the layman as a nervous child. He may be malnourished. Work hand in hand with your physician to build him up physically. Once the physical conditions of the child are properly cared for, the speech expert will be most successful, as a rule, if he has no further contact with the child but effects remedial treat- through the parents, the teacher and all others who have part in his guidance.

Treat stuttering in the child as an emotional difficulty. Consider it a personality problem.

Anything you do to cultivate a comfortable and likeable personality in the child will help save him from stuttering and, once afflicted, help him to recover.

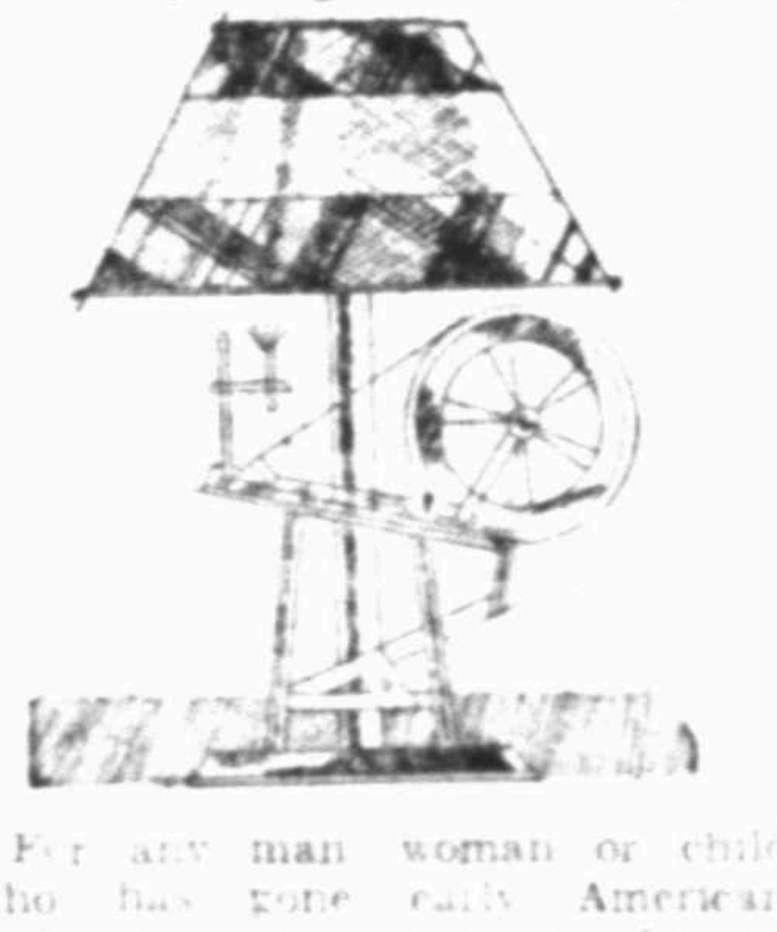
Santa Suggests—

A Spinning Wheel Lamp



For any man, woman or child who has gone early American in his interior decorating schemes, there is a brand new lamp that is just the thing for a Christmas gift.

It has a maple spinning wheel for the base and gingham for its shade and it is one of the smartest of all new lamps. If you have friends who use maple furniture in cottage style throughout their homes, this is a lamp well adapted to almost any room in the house. Of course, it is just ideal for a living room with a cozy fireplace. The spinning wheel nearby on a low table will transport much of old-fashioned homeyness into the home.

25 Christians Gather For Program

Mrs. R. A. Mills led the devotional lesson Monday afternoon when the First Christian Women's Missionary society met in church parlors. About 25 attended.

Mrs. E. L. Pitts was in charge of the program. Talks were made by Mesdames S. J. McFarland, J. E. Hartley and S. B. Haynes.

A branding iron over two hundred and thirty-five years old was displayed at a fair in Lakeview, Hall county, recently.

Dramatic Program Will Be On Friday

An annual Christmas program, which is open to the public, is to be given by expression students of Texas Technological college Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Room 202 of the college administration building according to an announcement made this morning.

This program is dignified in nature and embodies the true Christmas spirit the announcement reads. A one-act play and readings—arrangements made from legends of the Orient are included. There will be stories from translations of the Swedish author, Selma Lagerlof.

This program is being given early this year because of "dead week" which precedes examinations at the college. Because of the nature of the program the young peoples societies in various churches heard announcements of it on last Sunday evening. The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and will last an hour and 20 minutes, according to the announcement.

Those who will have parts are Beulah Anderson, Frances Barks, Aleen Brown, Edna Wilkinson, Lenora Brownfield, Mary Spring, all of whom are members of the Thespian Dramatic club at the college. Mrs. Ray C. Mowery is director.

T. E. L. Class Affair Delayed This Week

Because the First Baptist church revival is continuing through this week a Christmas party that had been planned by T. E. L. class members for Thursday evening has been postponed until next Tuesday evening.

The party will be in the church parlors at 7 o'clock next Tuesday evening. Hostesses are to be Mesdames Mary McComb, W. E. Twitty, Fred W. Sparks, H. O. Waters, and J. I. Noah.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Coffman and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coffman visited their mothers in Goree on Sunday.

Reception Monday Honors Methodists

As a courtesy to several Lubbock women who hold offices in the Methodist district and conference missionary societies, Mesdames R. T. Campbell and J. B. McCauley gave a reception Monday afternoon in parlors of First Methodist church. Women in the congregation were guests and over 100 called.

Mrs. Campbell is retiring president of the First Methodist Women's Missionary society and Mrs. McCauley is retiring president of the First Methodist Mary Helm auxiliary.

Chrysanthemums and autumn leaves were used in decking church parlors for the occasion. The refreshment table, from which punch was dispensed, was laid with green tapers and green leaves. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mesdames Harry Hall, A. B. Ellis, W. W. Campbell, M. K. Foster, Claude Burrus and H. W. Wylie. Mesdames Ellis and Wylie played musical selections during the hours that the women called.

Honorees and the hostesses stood in the receiving line. Those for whom the reception was given were Mrs. J. Frank Potts, vice-president of the Northwest Texas conference Women's Missionary society; Miss Mary De Bardeleben, member of the missionary council and professor of Bible at Texas Technological college; Mrs. G. C. Wolffarth, Lubbock district secretary; Mrs. A. N. Gamble, Lubbock zone leader; Mrs. C. A. Bickley, superintendent of the young women's circles in the conference; Mrs. J. O. Haymes, wife of the pastor, First Methodist church; Mrs. O. R. Copeland, president-elect of the W. M. S.; Mrs. John Richards, president-elect of Mary Helm auxiliary.

Couple Is Honored At Dinner Monday

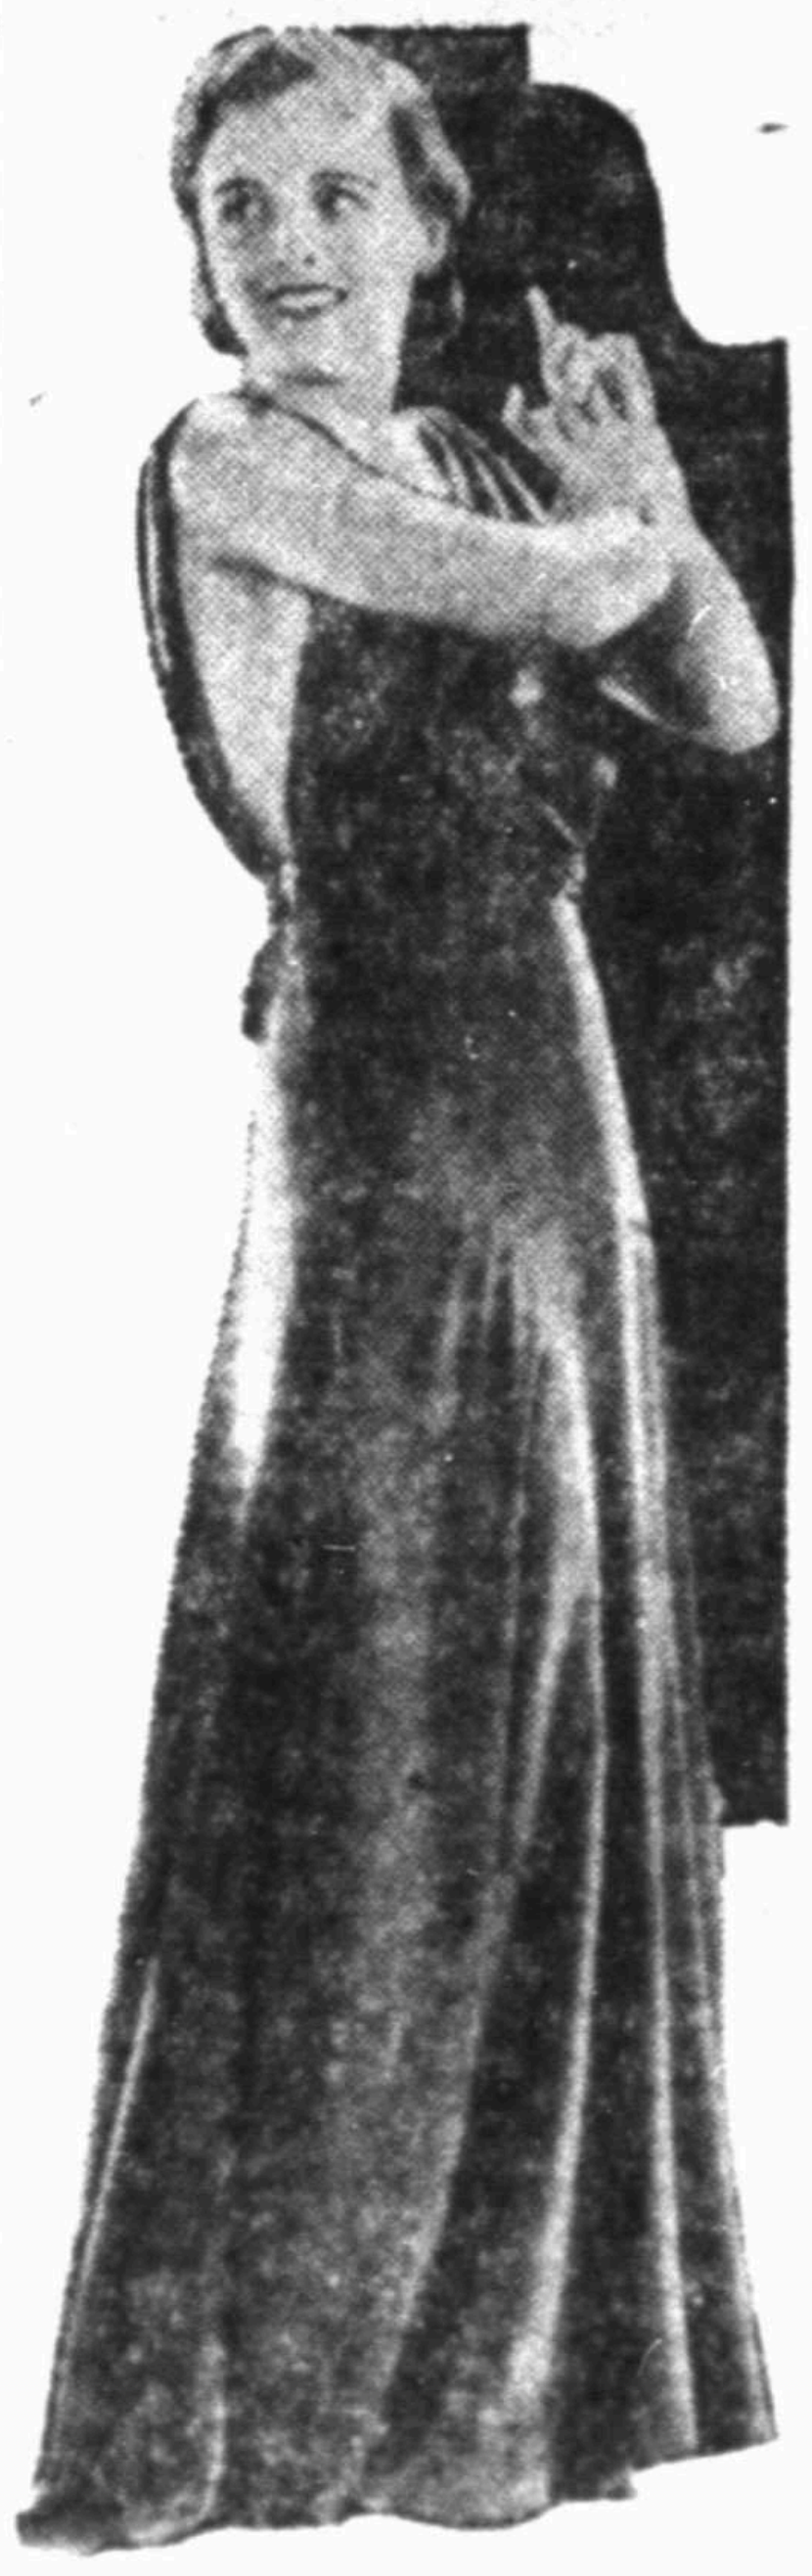
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. [illegible] 2103 27th street, entertained Monday evening with a birthday dinner complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coffman. Forty-two and bridge were played after the dinner.

Those who attended were Messrs. and Mesdames Reed Markham, Z. A. Kimbro, A. E. Coffman, R. F. Jones, O. A. Markham; Mesdames Addie Spikes and W. F. Coffman, the hosts and honor guests.

F. Z. Payne Home To Be Party Scene

The Anti-Can't class of Asbury Methodist church, consisting of young married people, will have a party on Friday evening in the home of F. Z. Payne, 1907 23rd street.

Plaited Straps



With much of the interest in dresses centered about color contrasts, for both day and evening types this graceful evening gown worn by Mary Astor, screen player, is distinctive.

It is fashioned of wine-colored flat crepe, and the only part of the gown that could be construed as trimming is the plaited shoulder straps and belt. Two straps hold the draped bodice together on the right shoulder, one on the left. The plaited belt forms a bow in the back with long streamers.

The skirt is gored and cut circular.

1928 Bridge Club Is To Have Party

The 1928 Bridge club is planning a Christmas bridge-dinner party for the evening of December 22 at the E. B. Adcock residence, 2001 19th street. Husbands of members are to attend.

Prayer Program Is To Be On Thursday

About thirty women attended a monthly business meeting of the First Baptist Women's society Monday afternoon at the church.

In addition to reports that were made, the women planned the annual week-of-prayer program for foreign missions for Thursday afternoon, combining five programs in one. Mrs. R. C. Campbell is arranging the program, which will be from 2 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the church. An offering for foreign missions—the Lottie Moon offering—will be taken.

Clapp, 1622 13th street, Monday evening. Mrs. C. M. Ballenger and Mrs. C. C. Schmidt were co-hostesses with Mrs. Clapp.

TELEVISION IS ADVANCING

POSSIBILITIES NOT TO BE RECOGNIZED BY RADIO GROUP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. (AP)—Although television has made great strides in the past year, it has not yet reached the point where the federal radio commission will recognize commercial possibilities in visual broadcasting.

The commission, in its annual report submitted to congress Monday said there has been great improvement in the quality and in the amount of detail in images transmitted but the available number of visual broadcasting frequencies put a severe limit on the number of stations which may be operated without interference. Because of this, the commission said it has encouraged experimenters to try out frequencies above 3,000 kilocycles. Preliminary reports have been encouraging.

A complete revolution had taken place during the year, said the report, in the type of equipment used by commercial broadcasting stations, with corresponding improvement in reception. The new equipment, required by commission order, materially increased the service area of stations.

During the year the commission licensed 11 new broadcasting stations, deleted 20, seven were consolidated, two voluntarily relinquished their licenses, one inactive was dropped and ten were denied renewals. At the end there were 612 broadcasting stations, against 621 the year before.

Survivors Are To Share In Estate

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 8. (AP)—The four surviving children and one grandchild of the late Dan Sullivan, pioneer San Antonio banker who died last Monday at the age of 87 will share equally in his estate, unofficially estimated to be worth $20,000,000.

Though not directly naming the beneficiaries the late financier's will, filed for probate in county court, specified that the entire estate should "pass to and descend according to the statutes of descent and distribution of the state of Texas," and this statute provides that surviving sons and daughters and the heirs of any deceased son or daughter shall share alike if the testator leaves no widow.

The beneficiaries are D. J. Sullivan, manager of the Sullivan bank; John C. Sullivan, attorney; Miss Annie M. Sullivan, all of San Antonio; Mrs. Elizabeth S. Clem of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Elanor S. Clements of San Antonio.

TODAY'S NEWS PRODUCES A DAZZLING ARRAY OF FEMININE BEAUTY

Of course, you're glad to see her back, even if she never has been here before! Because Lil Dagover's back is one of the reasons why Hollywood producers have lured her away from the German stage. Here she is, backed up to the camera, soon after her arrival in New York.

You haven't seen her on the silver screen lately. But Alice White is still proving her box office popularity by making personal appearances on the stage. Here she is in gym attire, keeping fit, at the Women's Athletic Association hotel in New York.

That smile and that medal — they both mean the same thing. Miss Helen Hendry, pictured here, had just swam to victory in the 220-yard back stroke handicap race in the Metropolitan A. A. U. senior championships, held at the Lido Beach Country Club on Long Island.

Sylvia Sidney's flower-like beauty blooms on the talking picture screen. Here the actress is shown posing with a posy. It's the "Sylvia Sidney gladiola" — and you might know it would win a prize at the Metropolitan Gladiolus Society's exhibition in New York.

A fashion expert—just back from Paris—and not wearing an Empress Eugenie hat! That may seem unusual, but Natacha Rambova, owner of a New York dress shop, hasn't any kind words for the new millinery mode. She is the widow of Rudolph Valentino.

She's back from a flying trip through foreign lands. Mrs. C. T. Stork, wife of an American aviation official, had a high time in Europe—she toured the continent by plane. But she returned to America by boat, and here she is shown as she arrived in New York.

WESTERNERS BEGIN PRACTICE TODAY FOR EAGLE GRID CONTEST

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

WELDON CHAPMAN can coach our football team and do our gambling. Doc Duncan takes a back seat now, but you can't make the Doc believe that he's not a first class coin-flipper. However,

Chap tossed a dime into the air;
It landed "heads" right then and there;
And when that little coin it fell
Coach Mayhew's Eagles were sick like that.
(—Selected from "Fireman, Save My Grid")

• • •

By way of continuing this piece today, we wish to let it be known that this department will be open during the next few days to fans and sideline coaches who think they can pick a better all-District 1 high school grid team than appeared in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal. Also, we'll be glad to hear any other comments, favorable or unfavorable, in regard to the Westerners and their season. It's open season on all-anything selections and it's your privilege to pick your team.

• • •

Jerry (My Pal) Malin of the Amarillo sheet picks the following for his all-star team: Watson of Lubbock and Floyd of Amarillo, ends; Pafford of Pampa and Spears of Lubbock, tackles; Welch of Lubbock and Howes of Amarillo, guards; Crawford, Lubbock, center; Martindale of Pampa, quarterback; Merrill of Lubbock and Enochs of Amarillo, halfbacks and Scoggin of Lubbock, fullback. Jerry names ten other men whom he would send in to replace the above selections in case of ineligibility or injuries, but he doesn't call it the second team. In the first team reserve list are Britton of Lubbock and Cazzell of Amarillo, quarterbacks; Kahl of Pampa, Carroll of Amarillo, and Chastain of Pampa, halfbacks; Kelley of Pampa, end; Burth of Pampa, Kirby of Amarillo, and Abbott of Lubbock, tackles, and Barnett of Lubbock, fullback. Then he names a second team, in which Rucker of Slaton and Witkowski of Plainview and Williams of Lubbock are named.

• • •

It's a good selection, corresponding to ours in that six Lubbock men are named on the first team. We're glad to see Spears get the tackle call. Spears showed his stuff in the last game with Amarillo and we rather expected to see Jerry name him. We chose Britton rather than Martindale at quarter and placed Bob Howes in our backfield along with Merrill and Scoggin.

• • •

And now to get to a little correspondence. There's been so much football that we have a letter or two stacked up on us. We'll reproduce and comment as long as the space lasts.

Williams	R.T.	Lubbock
Blagg	R.E.	Lubbock
Britton	Q.	Lubbock
Merrill	R.H.	Lubbock
Scoggin	L.H.	Lubbock
Barnett	F.	Lubbock

Coaches: Weldon Chapman and Burl Huffman. Downtown coaches: Jack Parsons, Dick Smith and S. D. Hunter.

Dear Mr. Parris,

All I want to know is why that the best football player on the Lubbock team never gets his picture in the paper only in a group and why he never gets any writeups in the paper. Anyone who knows anything about football at all knows who is the best players and that is Cecil Merrill. Quite a few of the main football fans of the town have been talking about this and have asked me to write you and have you put in your column the reason why this great big mistake is being made.

A Hi School Fan.

Lubbock, Texas
Dec. 3, 1931

Dear Mr. Parris:

May we ask why it is that "Doc" Merrill and Bert Williams don't get the publicity in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal that some of the other Westerners receive?

We feel that these boys have been slighted and should get some of the writeups that are due them. Especially did we notice that their pictures were missing in yesterday's paper. Think this over—and let's give these two boys a hand as well as the others. And let's scalp the Quanah Indians Saturday.

Westerner Boosters.

• • •

The second and third letters might not have been written had the writers waited until Sunday, for certainly Doc Merrill received his due in publicity by that time. As for Bert Williams, he can be on our team and so can Louis Spears. We'll take those tackles against most any of 'em. These three lads are publicity—and camara-shy, however, and that's why we don't have any pictures of them. Rest assured that we've tried to get them but the stafotographer fell down on the job.

• • •

That all-America selection is o. k., too, but we wouldn't be surprised to get a bunch of rebettals in regard to the choice of side-line or downtown coaches. Some of the coaches themselves are likely to raise a howl.

ARMY FAVORED IN CHARITY CLASSIC

GRIDMEN HERE GIVEN REST YESTERDAY

LUBBOCK AND ABILENE MEET SATURDAY IN QUARTER FINALS

Following a day of comparative rest yesterday, the Lubbock High school Westerners were to report to their Fair Park practice field this afternoon for the first of a series of workouts designed to get them in shape for a second round or quarter-final game toward the Texas schoolboy championship. They meet the Abilene High school Eagles, coached by Dewey Mahew, at the Texas Tech gridiron Saturday afternoon.

In a conference with Abilene High officials yesterday, Coach Chapman tossed a coin which Coach Mahew failed to call right and the game for the championship of Class A Districts One, Two, Three and Four will be played here. The game decides the high school champions of all West Texas.

Gridmen Get Rest

There was no workout for the Westerners yesterday. They were advised to put in as much time resting as possible and refrain from exposure to the weather.

No Bad Injuries

Quite naturally, the Westerners are battered and bruised from their recent experiences, but a check last night failed to reveal any serious injuries which might hamper the club's strength next Saturday. Cotton Welch and Gene Barnett, the leading casualties as a result of the game with Amarillo here last Thursday, were not called upon to play against Quanah in the bi-district game and consequently will have had a rest of nine days when they go in against Abilene Saturday. Will Ed Watson, star left end, was taken from the field with a wrenched ankle last Saturday but it is thought that the member will be sufficiently healed by Saturday to warrant a good performance.

Dope points to an Abilene victory, considering the strain under which the Westerners have been laboring and the possible weight advantage of the Mayhewmen. Abilene is so far undefeated, which is more than Lubock can say, and rules a slight favorite, according to comparative scoring.

The Westerners have gained considerable recognition as the "iron man" club of the state race, and they are causing fans and critics to wonder just how long it can last. If they beat the Elephants of Taylor county Saturday, they will enter the state semi-finals on the following Saturday with the winner of the Greenville-Fort Worth Central game, the latter to be played this week at Greenville.

BIG SIX CUTS ITS BUDGET

DEPRESSION IN GATE RECEIPTS GIVEN AS REASON FOR MOVE

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Big Six conference has cut its athletic budget because potential spectators, notably students, stayed away from football games in larger numbers during the season just ended than in 1930 when gate receipts also were appreciably depressed.

Other sports suffered loss of patronage but football was singled out, for its revenues have carried along dependent branches of athletics since it became the premier spectacle of American college sport.

The average reduction in football gate receipts in the conference was a fraction more than 20 per cent under the 1930 figures. The economy program, expected to effect a saving of $50,00, was presented for approval today to the conference faculty council.

It would entail virtual elimination of round robin competition in wrestling, tennis and baseball; discontinuance of medal awards; reduction in outlay for officials, possibly by having three instead of four at football games and one rather than two in basketball; fewer athletes on trips and less costly equipment.

Diminished returns from football were attributed generally to increasing student apathy toward spectatorship, economic conditions, the radio, waning of the "hysteria" over sports and high prices for stadium tickets.

CHARITY FUND TO BE HIKED

FOOTBALL TOTAL IS EXPECTED TO BE OVER MILLION

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Granting favorable weather conditions, the Penn-Cornell-Princeton-Columbia elimination tournament in the Yankee stadium tomorrow probably will add about $50,000 to the half million dollars football already has earned for the unemployed.

A similar tournament which drew 30,000 persons to the Yale bowl last week earned $40,000 for charity.

Pairings for the two preliminary games will not be made until a half hour before the tournament starts.

All told, the president's committee on mobilization of unemployment relief expects football to have earned $1,000,000 for charity by the end of the week. That figure is based on the expectation of a "gate" of $400,000 or more at the Army-Navy classic in the Yankee stadium Saturday.

REASON FOR GRID DEATHS IS GIVEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Some portion of the responsibility for the 40 deaths from football this year must be ascribed to the process of de-emphasizing the game, in the opinion of John V. (Chick) Meehan of New York university, president of the American Football Coaches' association.

"Elimination of spring practice in some schools, late starting in others, in fact, all this de-emphasizing of football, have contributed largely to the accidents this fall," he says.

"Football is a hard, rugged game. There can be no such thing as too much care, too much attention, too much emphasis in preparing boys for it."

NAVY DEPENDS ON LAW OF AVERAGES

TARS HOPE FOR FIRST WIN IN 11 YEARS OVER RIVALS

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—If the law of averages has anything to do with football, it should be operating overtime for Navy when the tars clash with the Army in their charity classic at the Yankee stadium Saturday.

It has been 11 long years since Navy has beaten her military football rival and, the law of averages to the contrary notwithstanding, the "dope" favors Army once more.

Of the seven games these rivals have played since 1922, Army has won five and tied two.

On the basis of its sensational 12-0 defeat of Notre Dame, Army would be an overwhelming favorite over the tars had not the latter shown such a striking reversal of form in turning back Penn last week. As it is, the cadets will be a strong public choice to win but not by any one-sided score.

They have won seven games, lost two and tied one this season, as compared to a Navy record of five victories, four defeats and a tie. But, whatever their records on paper, Army-Navy games almost invariably are closely fought.

Helen Wills Moody Defeated In Match

HONGKONG, Dec. 8 (AP)—Helen Wills Moody, world's woman tennis champion, was beaten here today 11-9 in an exhibition set against F. C. Fincher, the colony's outstanding man player.

Weather conditions were unfavorable, an almost continuous drizzle falling during the play. The match was exciting, however, the score being repeatedly deuced until it stood at 7-7. After that Mrs. Moody seemed to tire.

Mrs. Moody, who has been making a two-month tour of the far east, contracted a severe cold shortly after her arrival in China.

Charles Paddock Is To Compete Again

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (AP)—That perennial athlete, Charles Paddock, sprinter supreme of yesteryears, has donned the abbreviated attire and spikes again.

The former University of Southern California trackster who held most of the world's records at 300 yards and less several years ago, is training for a possible indoor campaign in the east for the 50-yard dash.

It all hinges on whether the Los Angeles Athletic club is able to send a team east after the New Year to compete in the indoor meets.

Golf Meet Will Start Tomorrow

PROFESSIONALS AND MANY AMATEURS TO VIE IN CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8 (AP)—Leading golf professionals of the country and many topnotch amateurs will tee off here tomorrow in the first 18 of the 36-hole qualifying test for the second annual $7,500 open match play championship.

Led by Billie Burke, national open title holder, the list of pros includes Tom Creavy, Pacific Golfers' association champion; Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente, defending titlist; Walter Hagen, Tommy Armour, Aubrey Boomer of England; Al Espinosa of Chicago; Horton Smith; Gene Sarazen, and Johnny Farrell.

George Von Elm, who gave up his amateur standing a couple of years ago for the self-designated status of "business man golfer," will seek a share of the prize money. The amateur ranks will be heavily represented with H. Chandler Egan of Medford, Ore., former national champion, and Johnny Dawson, Chicago, as "stand-outs."

LOW SCORING IS FEATURE OF 1931 FOOTBALL SEASON

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Despite recent rule changes designed to aid football's attack, the lowest scoring record in ten years was established during the past season.

An Associated Press compilation for the 1931 champaign reveals that 156 representative teams played 1,374 games and scored a total of 19,454 points. The resulting team average of 124.7 points for the season and 14.16 points per game compared with 137 and 16 respectively for 152 teams a year ago.

The 1930 figures were the highest and the 1931 averages the lowest since 1922 when the Associated Press first kept such statistics.

The individual leaders this year Davis & Elkins college scored 348 points as against 382 for Colgate, the 1930 leader.

Dempsey Wins Over Three Opponents

DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 8 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, pounded three opponents here last night but failed to score any knockouts.

Pat McLaughlin, Chicago, and Szymka Zabuil, Milwaukee, took beatings but stayed the limit, the former one round and the latter two rounds. Dempsey also boxed a tame round with Charlie Retzlaff, Duluth.

MORE GRAIN IS INSPECTED

INCREASE SHOWN BY RECORDS OF CHIEF INSPECTOR HERE

The Lubbock grain inspection bureau inspected 26 per cent more inbound cars in the first six months of the 1931-32 season than were inspected for the entire season of 1930-'1, records of R. R. Stuard, chief inspector, show.

Inspector Stuard announced that more cars of grain, both inbound and outbound, had been inspected for the six months in Lubbock than for the entire season of 1929-1930. Inbound inspections were 120 per cent greater and outbound cars nearly 83 per cent greater than for the first six months of 1929-30. For the first six months of 1930-31 the inbound inspections were over 50 per cent greater and the outbound inspections 46 per cent greater.

During November this year 238 1-2 cars of grain were received and inspected in Lubbock and 92 outbound cars inspected. Receipts were 24 cars of wheat; 59 cars of milo; 116 cars of kafir; one car of cane; 37 cars of sudan, and a half car of mixed grain. Outbound inspections were wheat, 67 cars; milo, two; kafir, 15, and sudan, eight.

Since June 1 this year 2,610 cars of grain have been received and 530 cars shipped out. The yearly total is 3,140 cars.

From June 1, 1930 to November 30, 1930, there were 1,738 cars received and inspected and 362 outbound cars.

November, 1930, showed 130 1-2 cars of grain received for inspection and 97 1-2 outgoing cars inspected.

November, 1929, inspections were inbound, 169 1-2, outbound, 57.

For the year ending May 31, 1931 there were 2,062 cars of grain received and inspected and 1,041 1-2 outbound cars, a total of 3,103 1-2 cars.

The fiscal year ending May 31 1930, showed 2,861 cars handled. Of these, 2,232 1-2 cars were inbound and 629 outbound inspections.

Cavalry Officer Is Held For Bad Check

RENO, Nev., Dec. 8 (AP)—Lieutenant-Colonel Arthur G. Hixson, United States cavalry officer at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of issuing a fraudulent $400 check to A. L. Hammond, night club proprietor. He is in jail in default of $1,000 bail.

Col. Hixson was granted a divorce Monday morning on grounds of cruelty from Helen Hixson, Washington, D. C., whom he married last June 20 in New York.

KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES CAN BE DONE ON LESS MONEY THIS XMAS

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—Keeping up with the Joneses can be done on a slimmer purse than ever this Christmas.

Gifts that cost little but look like lots can be purchased in the larger department stores, one of which urges that "thriftiness is smart this year."

Gay wrappings are an important item. Imported and domestic papers are reasonable and a variety of new ribbons and paper tape, stickers and tags are ready to enhance them.

An unusual, but practical, gift is a large white bath towel and two wash cloths with black silhouettes woven into them, all wrapped into one package.

Lipstick towels are new this year and you can't mistake their purpose for "lipstick" is embroidered in black on the bright red linen.

A flashlight pencil with the little light at the writing end is a surprise gift for folks who like to take notes at the theater or lecture.

Club Owners Rally For Annual Confab

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (AP)—Club owners and representatives of the American and National leagues rallied around today for their annual meetings but prospects of accomplishing sales or trades seemed to have more appeal than routine business.

Each league had its own problems such as radio broadcasting specification of baseballs and player limits but the urge to buy, sell or trade playing stock was uppermost. The Chicago Cubs and White Sox were especially eager to do business in players and their activities promised to keep the other clubs busy considering propositions or flatly refusing them.

Disarming World

WHEN Senator Borah broadcast to Europe the flat assertion that failure to disarm is a direct slap in the face for the Versailles treaty, he touched on a point that ought to get a lot more attention than it does.

Under that treaty, if you remember, Germany was almost completely disarmed. Stripped of her submarines and her air force and forbidden to replace these losses, limited to a third-rate navy and an army of 100,000 men, Germany ceased, in the strict military meaning of the expression, to be a "great power."

That, of course, was simply part of the program laid down by the victors. But the treaty added that all of this was to be a preliminary to general disarmament all around. Germany must disarm first, but her conquerors would follow suit in the immediate future.

But today, as Senator Borah points out, nearly $5,000,000,000 a year is being spent on armaments. The Versailles treaty disarmament clause has simply been ignored.

Yet Senator Borah's speech was not any more instructive than the way in which it was received.

There were two meetings in Paris that night, one to hear speeches in favor of disarmament and the other to protest against the first meeting. The disarmament meeting dissolved in catcalls and sporadic fisticuffs; the second meeting proceeded in an orderly manner.

Alanson B. Houghton was unable to make his speech. Former Premier Herriot voiced a rather obvious truth in stating that "the spirit must prevail over the brute forces of the world" and was greeted with a cry of "Nonsense!" from young men in front of him—which indicates the high plane which can motivate the foes of armament reduction.

All of this indicates [illegible] the exceedingly tough row the advocates of world peace have to hoe. Logic and reason may be on their side. They may have the solemn pledge of the Versailles treaty in their favor. But they are up against an angry passion that will not listen to them. The prospect is extremely discouraging.

Schoolboy Pranks

A Minnesota jury the other day imposed a fine of $750 on a school superintendent for spanking a boy who had put a tack in the seat of the little girl in front of him; and whether the ordinary citizen agrees that the fine was deserved or not, he will at least read of the incident with a good deal of interest. For it indicates that if one old American custom is slipping, another one, equally venerable, is still thriving.

In the old days no jury would have dreamed of fining a schoolmaster for flogging a juvenile culprit. In that respect American schools have changed tremendously. But in the very first of all the little red schoolhouses, no doubt, small boys put tacks in the seats of their feminine schoolmates; and, in a world of change, it is somehow comforting to learn that they are still doing it. It may be tough on the girls, but it is reassuring to us elders.

Japan's Machine

ONE important point to remember in studying the movements of the Japanese army in and about Manchuria, is that the Japanese war department operates under a set-up totally unlike that of any other modern nation.

In every other great power, the premier and Parliament have complete, continuous control over the actions of their fighting men. Through hysteria or incompetence they may occasionally lose control, of course—as actually happened in at least two European countries when the World War was about to begin; but legally they are in complete charge.

That Girl on Broadway says some women go right on chasing illusions at 40 but most of them, by that time, begin dodging disillusions.

REAL HARD TIMES

First New Mexico Citizen: Two-Gun Smith is having his name changed.

Second Ditto: Zat so? How come?

First Again—Since the depression hit he's had to sell one of his guns!

* * *

THE present football season has evolved a whole bunch of heroes. No patriotic citizen of Lubbock will disagree on that statement. But while we're extolling—with pardonable pride—our coaches and players, let's not forget to peep behind the scenes at a fellow who doesn't get before the public very much but who is the financial main-spring of the whole business.

* * *

The Plainsman refers to E. J. 'Pinkey' Lowrey, business manager of the high school department of athletics.

* * *

Although high school football is supposed to be a thoroughly amateur affair—and it really is, basically speaking—it must have adequate financing.

Like any other function, it takes money; it must have a thoroughly business foundation.

'Pinky' furnishes that business foundation not only with his mentality but also with his energy.

Without fear of successful contradiction, The Plainsman opines that there is no more energetic man in Lubbock than the diminutive red-head, who handles ticket sales, seating and what-have-you and nurses the nickels for the Westerner brigade.

* * *

HE scurries here and he scurries there in preparation for the games. He handles a thousand and one details, from securing 'tarps' to cover the field to seeing that the holders of tickets are finally seated in the spaces their pasteboards call for.

He has had a big job during the past few weeks and it's only fair to say that he's been doing it in a big way.

* * *

Pinky knows football.

He used to play for Lubbock High; he later [illegible] for TCU and then came home to coach Westerner squad of ten years ago or something like that.

And because he knows football he is able to do a good job at helping put the games over in a successful way.

* * *

PINKY and The Plainsman don't happen to be brothers-in-law. Each is more closely associated with a hundred persons in Lubbock than with each other and their acquaintance is scarcely more than casual. This is not a personal matter.

But because he is doing a good job—and a big job—The Plainsman feels that the public should know a little more of Mr. Lowrey.

In other words he'd like to see football lovers give the little fellow a great big hand.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says a man can do without anything, but he can't do very much.

* * *

The Plainsman is going to give Collier Parris and all the rest of the experts until January 1st to announce their All-America team. After that he's going to start worrying exclusively over Babe Ruth's [illegible].

* * *

THE announcement that entrance and exit facilities at Matador field will be improved by the addition of two, and possibly three, new gates comes as welcome news to fans planning to watch the Lubbock-Abilene melee here Saturday. It's a fine move—one which not only adds to the pleasure of attending a game but which likewise minimizes the danger of a crush.

People, when crowded together, ofttimes forget the sane judgment which guides them under ordinary conditions.

And there is nothing harder to stop than a stampede of human beings.

* * *

Coming out by the main gate last Thursday a near serious crush was narrowly averted and The Plainsman has been told that leaving by other gates was almost as bad.

Everyone knows how long it took to get into the stands and how many people were massed at the entrances at the kickoff and through the first half of the initial quarter.

The situation has to be improved some time or another. The fine schedule arranged for Tech next year will draw throng after throng to college games and it means as much to Tech as to the high school to have the park made easily entered and left. The great majority of football fans will greet the new announcement with loud cheers and huzzas. The improvement will make the games more enjoyable for all concerned.

* * *

Identifying the owner of any car shouldn't be such a hard problem. He's the only one who knows how hard the door has to be slammed before it will catch.

* * *

Somehow or other, The Plainsman fails to become worked up over the retirement of "one of our best, modern poets".

* * *

Most of us can't kill a healthy conscience but we don't have much trouble anaesthetizing it.

Unemployed Councils Have Organized "Hunger Marches" To Move On Capital From Boston, Chicago And St. Louis

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Dutcher

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Well, well—here's another exclusive story!

It can't help being exclusive because, when several hundred correspondents were invited to a press conference at which the "National Hunger March" of the unemployed was to be explained, this writer was the only one who went. Inasmuch as the march was organized primarily by communists—who, as Congressman Hamilton Fish and everyone else knows, are a serious [illegible] seemingly one's patriotic [illegible] attend and find out as much as possible so that one's fellow-countrymen might be duly warned.

In a small office in an old building one found Herbert Benjamin, field representative of the many Unemployed Councils which have been organized by radicals in many cities. Benjamin is thin, rather young, spectacled Hebrew with brown-waved hair. He wears an intellectual aspect, which [illegible] seems slightly tinged with fanaticism and [illegible]. His face reminds you of what Trotsky would look like clean shaven. His accent is not very pronounced. Without wishing for one moment to belittle your correspondent's courage in bearding a communist in his den, one might say that Benjamin didn't seem very dangerous. He used to be a member [illegible] in labor organization. But he is now more radical, joined the Communist party, worked in anti-imperialist movements and lately has organized state "hunger marches."

• • •

Benjamin said he would give the background of the national march. He said that demonstrations in March, 1930, had manifested the militancy of the unemployed and that "radicals and revolutionists" had then organized unemployed councils everywhere, centering on flop-houses, soup-lines and employment agencies. Principal activities of the councils had been directed against eviction of unemployed persons from their homes and in these activities at least five persons had been killed. Leaders of state "hunger marches" made in about half the states had been told, according to Benjamin, that the states were unable to cope with the problem and needed federal aid. So the leaders decided on a march to Washington, with columns forming at Boston, Buffalo, Chicago and St. Louis, to come here and demand unemployment insurance and immediate direct relief. The marchers, riding in trucks, were delegates elected by the councils.

• • •

Benjamin said the theory of the marchers was that the unemployed were not responsible for unemployment and so the government, taking money in taxes from the profit-makers, should see they received unemployment insurance to the amount of full wages. Unemployment insurance schemes proposed by Senators LaFollette, Wagner, and Couzens and those advanced by the Socialists, he explained, were designed only to appease the unemployed so as to keep them from making any trouble. Benjamin said the masses would always benefit to the extent that they asserted themselves and that the "hunger march" at least ought to help some of the measures in Congress, although if it were a communist movement it would be more militant. He said that it was not officially connected with the Communist party and that funds for trucks and other facilities were being raised by panhandling and tag days.

Asked if there were any money from Moscow behind the movement Benjamin said Moscow couldn't afford to subsidize radical labor movements everywhere and, anyway, would scorn the puny vitality of any movement not self-sustaining. He thought it was strange that when he and three other delegates went to the White House offices to see the president they were barred at the door. "Hoover has so many secretaries," he said, "that one of them might have been spared a few minutes to soft-soap us."

REMOVAL OF MOLES

A woman writes this department to ask about the advisability of removing moles.

Dr. Clendening

Dr. Bloodgood, who is the leader of the campaign to educate the public to the dangers of cancer, says that skin cancer in every case has an antecedent benign lesion. The average patient recalls having some minor defect of the skin for many years, and he has no concern until it began to change its character. These precancerous defects may be warts, moles or roughenings [illegible] and may have existed for years.

"Beautiful women do not have cancer" was the forceful way it was put a few years ago. This, of course, needs some interpretation and is only partially true. It means that a beautiful woman who is vain about her complexion will have these blemishes removed and hence end the danger of having them turn into cancer.

There are, of course, a great many different kinds of moles. Pigmented moles or birth marks are due to the formation of small blood vessels massed together. Hairy moles and the flat, warty moles are so frequent that hardly anyone is free of them. Most dangerous from the standpoint of subsequent cancer are the roughened, scaly places which develop on the skin of the face and hands, especially of middle aged and elderly people of a sandy, red-haired complexion. They are especially likely to appear on people with dry skin and with a tendency to freckles.

The advance that has been made in the treatment of all these conditions by modern methods of dermatology is extraordinary. There are now a half-dozen methods of [illegible] electro[illegible] [illegible] These have [illegible]

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

L. T. M.: "Is it harmful to take veronal occasionally for insomnia?"

Answer: This is not easy to answer. My personal inclination is to say that it is not harmful. Provided the exact terms of the question are fulfilled—that is to say, provided you really mean "occasionally." It is astonishing how many people take some form of sedative fairly regularly—especially the barbital hypnotics. The barbital hypnotics are [illegible] veronal (or more properly barbital), medinal, amytal, [illegible] dial, etc. Their advantages for the purposes for which they are used are many. Certainly they are superior to all other drugs. They seldom cause fatal poisoning even when large doses are used. They have little real tendency to habit formation. Therefore if taken, as was said, occasionally in small doses they do little harm and are a relief to over-wrought nerves.

Still all sedatives should be handled with respect and avoided if possible. The state of California prohibits the sale of the above mentioned products without a physician's prescription.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—Dear Burton Rascoe (somewhere in Burlingame, Calif.)—if I tell my readers that you've been sick from drinking alkali water out west, they'll only laugh. Some will say: "So that's what he calls it!"

And some who didn't know you when and don't know you now are going to ask: "Who is that bird and what difference does it make whether he is sick?" So, because you are probably so pale that a good blush would improve your looks, I'm going to explain that you're a lad from down Oklahoma way who prefers gushers to remain in the oil belt and not to spout at Manhattan parties; that you trekked to Chicago and newspapered and wrote a column, "A Bookman's Daybook," and edited The Bookman and Cabell dedicated "Jurgen" with your moniker; that you have discovered a flock of authors and still write pieces.

• • •

But what I'm writing about is that after all this elegant start you go and get into a newspaper argument with Dr. Brill, the eminent psycho gent, on why New Yorkers keep boasting about coming from small towns.

Dr. Brill, I understand, finds a psychoanalytical reason for this. They are supposed to be sensitive about their provincial backgrounds, to have a yearning to be taken for New Yorkers [illegible] and metropolitan [illegible] and hence to harp upon the home town because they are inwardly bothered by their back-grounds.

And I note that [illegible] many celebrities who [illegible] a point where they [illegible] to care about their [illegible] yet who still parade [illegible] came from [illegible] [illegible] since they have [illegible] and I [illegible] Y[illegible]

• • •

This is all [illegible] [illegible] for both [illegible] gents like myself [illegible] able flock [illegible] New York and [illegible] assortment of [illegible] [illegible] the trouble with [illegible] since you've been [illegible] of western small [illegible] have a touch of [illegible] wondered wha[illegible] New York might be [illegible] that.

Well, when I keep [illegible] the names of such [illegible] as San Bernardino, Oxnard, [illegible] etc., as having been [illegible] home port, it's part of what Dr. Brill might call an "escape" or [illegible] whenever it is New York [illegible] gets pretty complex and it's [illegible] to be able to get aboard a dream and go floating back to [illegible] back to high school dances and buggy rides down in the V[illegible] and Camarillo [illegible] where they used to have good parties.

• • •

[illegible] a bunch of the old San Franciscans sat down for [illegible] A dozen of us have wept into our beer many a night and there was no hint that New York might be just outside the door. For the moment we were all back reliving some of the swellest events that will ever come our way. The strain and worry and bunk of New York fell away. In the group has often been one or more celebrities like Will Irwin—who has reached the place where he doesn't have to care where he came from.

What I'm trying to say is this: I never drag out the name of some old small town without a certain yearning to be back. I suppose I'd want the place to be just as I left it. And I think I'm representing a large number of my friends. Don't let Dr. Brill see this, for I know he'll find something worse than mere inferiority. We're all probably cases of maladjustment, frustration and retarded development.

Hope you're the same and feeling better.

The little dog band finally stopped and to their feet the Tinies hopped to show appreciation for the music they had heard. They clapped their hands and stomped real loud. This made the players feel quite proud. Such fine applause for this dog band had ne'er before occurred.

The leader of the band stepped out and soon the Tinies heard him shout, "How would you like to have us play another little tune?" "Sure thing," cried Clowny, with a grin. "You play and I will join right in. Pick out a little lullaby so I can softly croon."

And so the band began again. It played a little while and then brave Clowny stood upon his seat and started in to sing. Said Scouty, "This is quite a treat. I must admit his voice sounds sweet." For [illegible] who from the tent sides gives his voice a double ring.

Then next the dog band took a chance at playing music for a dance. It sounded very snappy and some dogs jumped to the ground. The Tinymites were thrilled to see them dance as neatly as could be. Some of the dogs got dizzy just from swaying 'round and 'round.

The dance was over and Clowny cried, "Hey, bring that big horn to my side. I'm going to try to play it if my wind is strong enough. I don't mind if you laugh at me, 'cause I am new at this, you see. No fooling, bring the horn to me. My offer is no bluff."

The dog horn player said, "Okay, I'll gladly let him try to play." And so the Tinies lugged the horn out in an open space. Brave Clowny shortly blew real strong. Though notes came out, they sounded wrong. The Tinies laughed and said, "You'll scare us all out of this place."

Hercules, 6, Lifts His Uncle

If the ancient Greeks marveled at the feats of the infant Hercules in strangling serpents to death, what would they think of this six-year-old modern Hercules who can carry his 197-pound uncle on his shoulders! The lad is little "Buddy" Andreas of New Westminster, British Columbia, Canada. He only weighs 45 pounds and is but 3½ feet tall. "Buddy" could stand on his own feet when only five weeks old and scaled a 22-foot ladder at the age of 23 months! The youthful Hercules is fond of boxing and recently drew blood from his uncle's nose in a exhibition bout. Look at those back muscles (left) and his lifting of his uncle (right).

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today one point higher to 3 points lower. Orders were equally divided and trading was quiet. January sold up to 6.02.

Brokers who frequently act for cooperative interests were among early sellers. The Liverpool market made rather an irregular showing with the late months there now selling at discounts. Private cables reported hedging absorbed by continental buying with general business quiet, and said there were moderate sales of cotton cloths to the British home trade and the Argentine.

The market held steady before the government report was issued with January selling up to 6.04 and May to 6.40. Prices were within 2 or 3 points of this level when trading was suspended to receive the figures which placed the indicated production at 16,918,000 bales, well below the average expectation. This failed to stimulate general or aggressive buying when trading was resumed, but there was [illegible] ing and scattering demand which sent the price of January up to 6.14 and May to 6.50, or about 12 to 13 points net higher and prices were steady at midday. Ginnings of 15,023,451 bales were reported prior to December 1.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8. (AP)—The cotton market had a fairly active but easier opening today. Last minute evening up before the government crop report due at 10 o'clock was the main feature. First trades showed losses of 2 to 3 points and prices continued to ease off slowly, January trading down to 6.2 March to 6.20 and May to 6.37, or 4 to 5 points under yesterday's close. There appeared to be no early influences in the market other than belated liquidation and near the end of the first hour the market was quieter and at the lows.

The market was steady 4 to 5 points under yesterday's close just before receipt of the crop estimate and made a poor response to the announcement of 16,918,000 bales, advancing only 14 points on all active months. The estimate was 300,000 bales less than traders had anticipated.

On the announcement January traded up to 6.16, March to 6.31 and May to 6.51. Trading soon quieted down and prices gradually eased off with weak stocks and anxiety over the contents of the president's message to congress.

January dropped to 6.10, March to 6.27 and May to 6.46, or 5 to 7 points down from the highs reached just after the crop estimate had been issued.

At noon the market was quiet but steady.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—Rail stocks led an early rally in the stock market today but gains of 1 to 2 points had been largely relinquished toward noon when trading became very dull while wall street awaited the president's message to congress.

Food shares were somewhat heavy. Advances of the first half hour in the carrier shares, stimulated by the overnight Washington news, were reduced to fractions and improvement in pivotal industrials and utilities likewise diminished. U. S. Steel sold a point higher before falling back.

Call money renewed at 2 1-2 per cent.

A Winters farmer made a profit of nearly nine hundred dollars from a flock of four hundred turkeys.

TEXAS U. PLANS NEW BUILDINGS

AUSTIN, Dec. 8 (AP)—Bids on eight University of Texas buildings were asked by the University of Texas regents today to be opened and contracts awarded January 29. It was estimated the buildings would cost more than $3,500,000.

Contracts for bridges and paving of Waller boulevard through the campus were awarded, the project to cost $91,651.

Two bridges will be built by Langston Construction company of Dallas, at $42,923. Paving and grading will be done by Southwest Bitulithic company of San Antonio at $48,728.

The old main building will remain permanently a part of the campus plant, R. L. Batts, chairman of the regents announced. Only the north wing, condemned several years ago by the state fire marshal will be torn down, Batts said.

The new buildings will include student's union, men's dormitory, engineering, home economics, library, geology, architecture and physics structures.

Lubbock and in South Plains cities to enter floats in the parade.

Two other trips will be made Wednesday, completing the tours made inviting South Plains residents here for the pageant. O'Donnell and Lamesa will be visited by one committee, while another group goes to Petersburg and Lockney.

The local unit of the American Society of University Women Monday voted to enter a float in the parade. Mrs. Leroy T. Patton was named chairman of a group to arrange for the float.

Olton is sending a band and a float to the Christmas spectacle and parade to be held here Friday, according to word received from the Olton Chamber of Commerce today. Both will compete for prizes offered for the best band and float in the parade.

A large number of Olton people will also be here for the parade, it was said.

today. Plans for a special train from Amarillo are being talked today and orders for 250 tickets have been placed with local school officials.

Santa Fe Cooperates

The Santa Fe railroad is cooperating with the North Plains fans and provided a special train does not run, special cars will be attached to regular train arriving here at 11:40. The evening train, scheduled to leave for Amarillo at 4:15 will be held over until 6:15 so that the Amarillo people might return that night, it was said.

T. B. Gallaher, general freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe, of Amarillo, is in charge of the arrangements.

Pull For Westerners

Scores of South Plains grid fans want to see the Lubbock-Abilene game and this morning telephones at the high school and Bowen's Hilton drug store were ringing with calls from over the territory placing reservations for tickets to the game. Several towns will send large delegations to the game and they have all announced that they're "pulling for the Westerners" to win.

With arrangements completed with Chief of Police John Lemond for a corps of special deputy policemen, officials of the Lubbock high school athletic association made preparations this morning to prevent climbing of the fence at the Tech field Saturday.

Deputies will be instructed to arrest anyone trying to "slip into" the field and the association will file complaints of trespassing, it was said this morning. They will be charged immediately after arrest.

The action is being taken to prevent recurrence of so many slipping in as has been the case at past games.

Identity Of Truck Driver Not Learned

Identity of the driver of a truck which collided with an automobile driven by Mrs. Anthony L. Borho, 1620 Avenue L, Saturday night at Texas avenue and Broadway, had not been learned today. The left running board and fender were torn from the Borho car.

The truck slowed down but did not stop. Spectators said the truck ran a red light. Mrs. Borho was driving north on Texas and the truck was being driven east on Broadway. The car was hurled around but not turned over. No one was injured.

BUILDING PLANNED BY TEXAS A. & M.

HOUSTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—A $2,000,000 building program will be launched immediately on the Texas A. & M. college campus at College Station, F. M. Law of Houston, chairman of the A. & M. board of directors, announced here last night at the annual football party honoring Coach Matty Bell and his Texas Aggies. The Houston Aggie alumni were the hosts.

Mr. Law expressed opinion the program in some measure would relieve the unemployment situation in the building trades in this section. The money will come to A. & M. college from oil royalties accrued at Texas university. Some months ago, division of the royalties between Texas and Texas A. & M. college was settled.

FORT WORTH, Dec. 8 (AP)—Mrs. D. L. Reed, who saw her husband shot to death at their farm near Crowley October 19, was the first witness in the trial of Carter Rollins who confessed firing the fatal shot.

Negroes appeared for jury service yesterday for the first time in many years, perhaps in the history of the county, but none of them was accepted. More than a dozen either disqualified themselves or were challenged by the state.

A continuance was granted several weeks ago in the case because negroes were excluded from the venire.

The burglar jumped on Elliott's back and struck him in the face with the barrel of a pistol. Elliott drew his pistol and fired at the man who returned the shots from behind a desk. One bullet struck Elliott in the groin. Both fired until their pistols were empty. Then the burglar fled.

Police believed the burglar had planned to loot the school safe in which over $1,000 was locked.

"Frank Hawks said the other day that within a year somebody will fly from Los Angeles to New York in ten hours," Wedell said. "I expect to do that, but I won't have to wait a year."

YOAKUM, Tex., Dec. 8. (AP)—Martin Roznovjak, aged farmer living alone near Shiner, was dead today, burned to death in a fire trap from which evidence showed he sought to escape by amputating his leg with a pocket knife.

Authorities have reconstructed the holocaust in which RoznovjZak met his death as follows:

The floor of his house became ignited near a stove and Roznovjak attempted to stamp out the fire. The floor boards gave way and his leg slipped through. While the flames spread, the victim attempted to extricate himself, finally resorting to his pocket knife in an effort to amputate his leg at the knee. The flames trapped him and he was burned to death.

IT'S HIGH TIME TO BUY YOUR NEW OVERCOAT

Overcoats are garments that men choose with the idea of more than one seasons wear. For this reason it's advantageous to choose them at a time when the price level is in your favor. Hart Schaffner & Marx have done a very radical thing this season—"prices back to the level of fifteen years ago" is no idle saying. Its something that means real money when you choose your coat NOW.

Lighter Weights with Extra Warmth This Season

You'll like the light weights of the new fabrics—that absence of being "weighted down" when you slip them on. Never before has so much warmth been built into these closely woven Camels Hair and Tweed weaves with so little weight as this season. Rich fine colors are there—Blacks and Greys as well as natural Camel Hair colorings. Especially interesting are garments priced—

$18.50 and $25.00

New Hats at $5.00

GERMAN BULLET WHICH ENTERED FOOT OF WAR FLIER CREATED BRIDGE CHAMP

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8 (AP)—A German machine gun bullet which entered the foot of a Canadian flier created a new American bridge champion.

The foot belongs to Willard S. Karn, who left his home in Montgomery, Ala., to enlist in the Royal Canadian air force, before the United States entered the World war, and served in France with distinction for two years.

Turned To Bridge

Karn had been more than a fair tennis player. He loved the game and had won several minor titles. The bad foot slowed up his drives and serves, however, and he turned to ruffs and finesses for a hobby.

Last year he entered his first bridge tournament. Today he holds all three national honors—he is a member of the renowned "Four Horsemen" contract team, he and a partner won the pair championship at the American Bridge league tournament here Friday, and at Deal, N. J., last Labor day he captured the individual masters' trophy.

Karn [illegible] championships in the same year ranks in cards with Bobby Jones' grand slam at golf—it never had been done before.

Karn, 33 years old and single, is short of build and slight of stature. His black hair is thin, he has a little moustache and keen dark eyes.

His greatest concern is that he may lose his job because of his frequent "bridge benders."

Karn has small use for players who adhere rigidly to their "system." He says "common sense" is the best system and attributes his own success more to an intuitive "card sense" than to a bidding system.

TURKEY PRICE IS REPORTED HIGHER

Prices paid Monday by the Lubbock Poultry and Egg company for a Lubbock county turkey pool controlling about 3,000 birds were from 3 to 5 cents higher than the Thanksgiving market. Delivery was to begin today.

The successful bid was: No. 1 birds, 18 cents; old toms, 15 cents; and No. 2 birds, 12 cents. Thanksgiving market brought 15 and 10 cents, respectively, for No. 1's and old toms.

Three bids were offered, said George C. Cooper, chairman of the pool. More than 125 Lubbock county farmers are interested in the pool. Practically all of the birds to be placed on the Christmas market will be delivered today, Wednesday and Thursday.

AWARDS GIVEN TO THREE

TWO OCTOGENARIANS AND FRANK LOWDEN ARE HONORED

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (AP)—Two octogenarians, both "dirt farmers," and a one time presidential candidate were recipients last night of the American Farm Bureau's award for "distinguished service to organized agriculture."

They were:

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and seeker of the Republican nomination for president in 1920 and 1928;

Andrew "Uncle Andy" Shearer, 82, of Kansas, known as the original advocate of the equalization fee plan of surplus control, and

E. V. Titus, 80, New York, styled by eastern farm folk as the "grand old man of the New York State Farm Bureau."

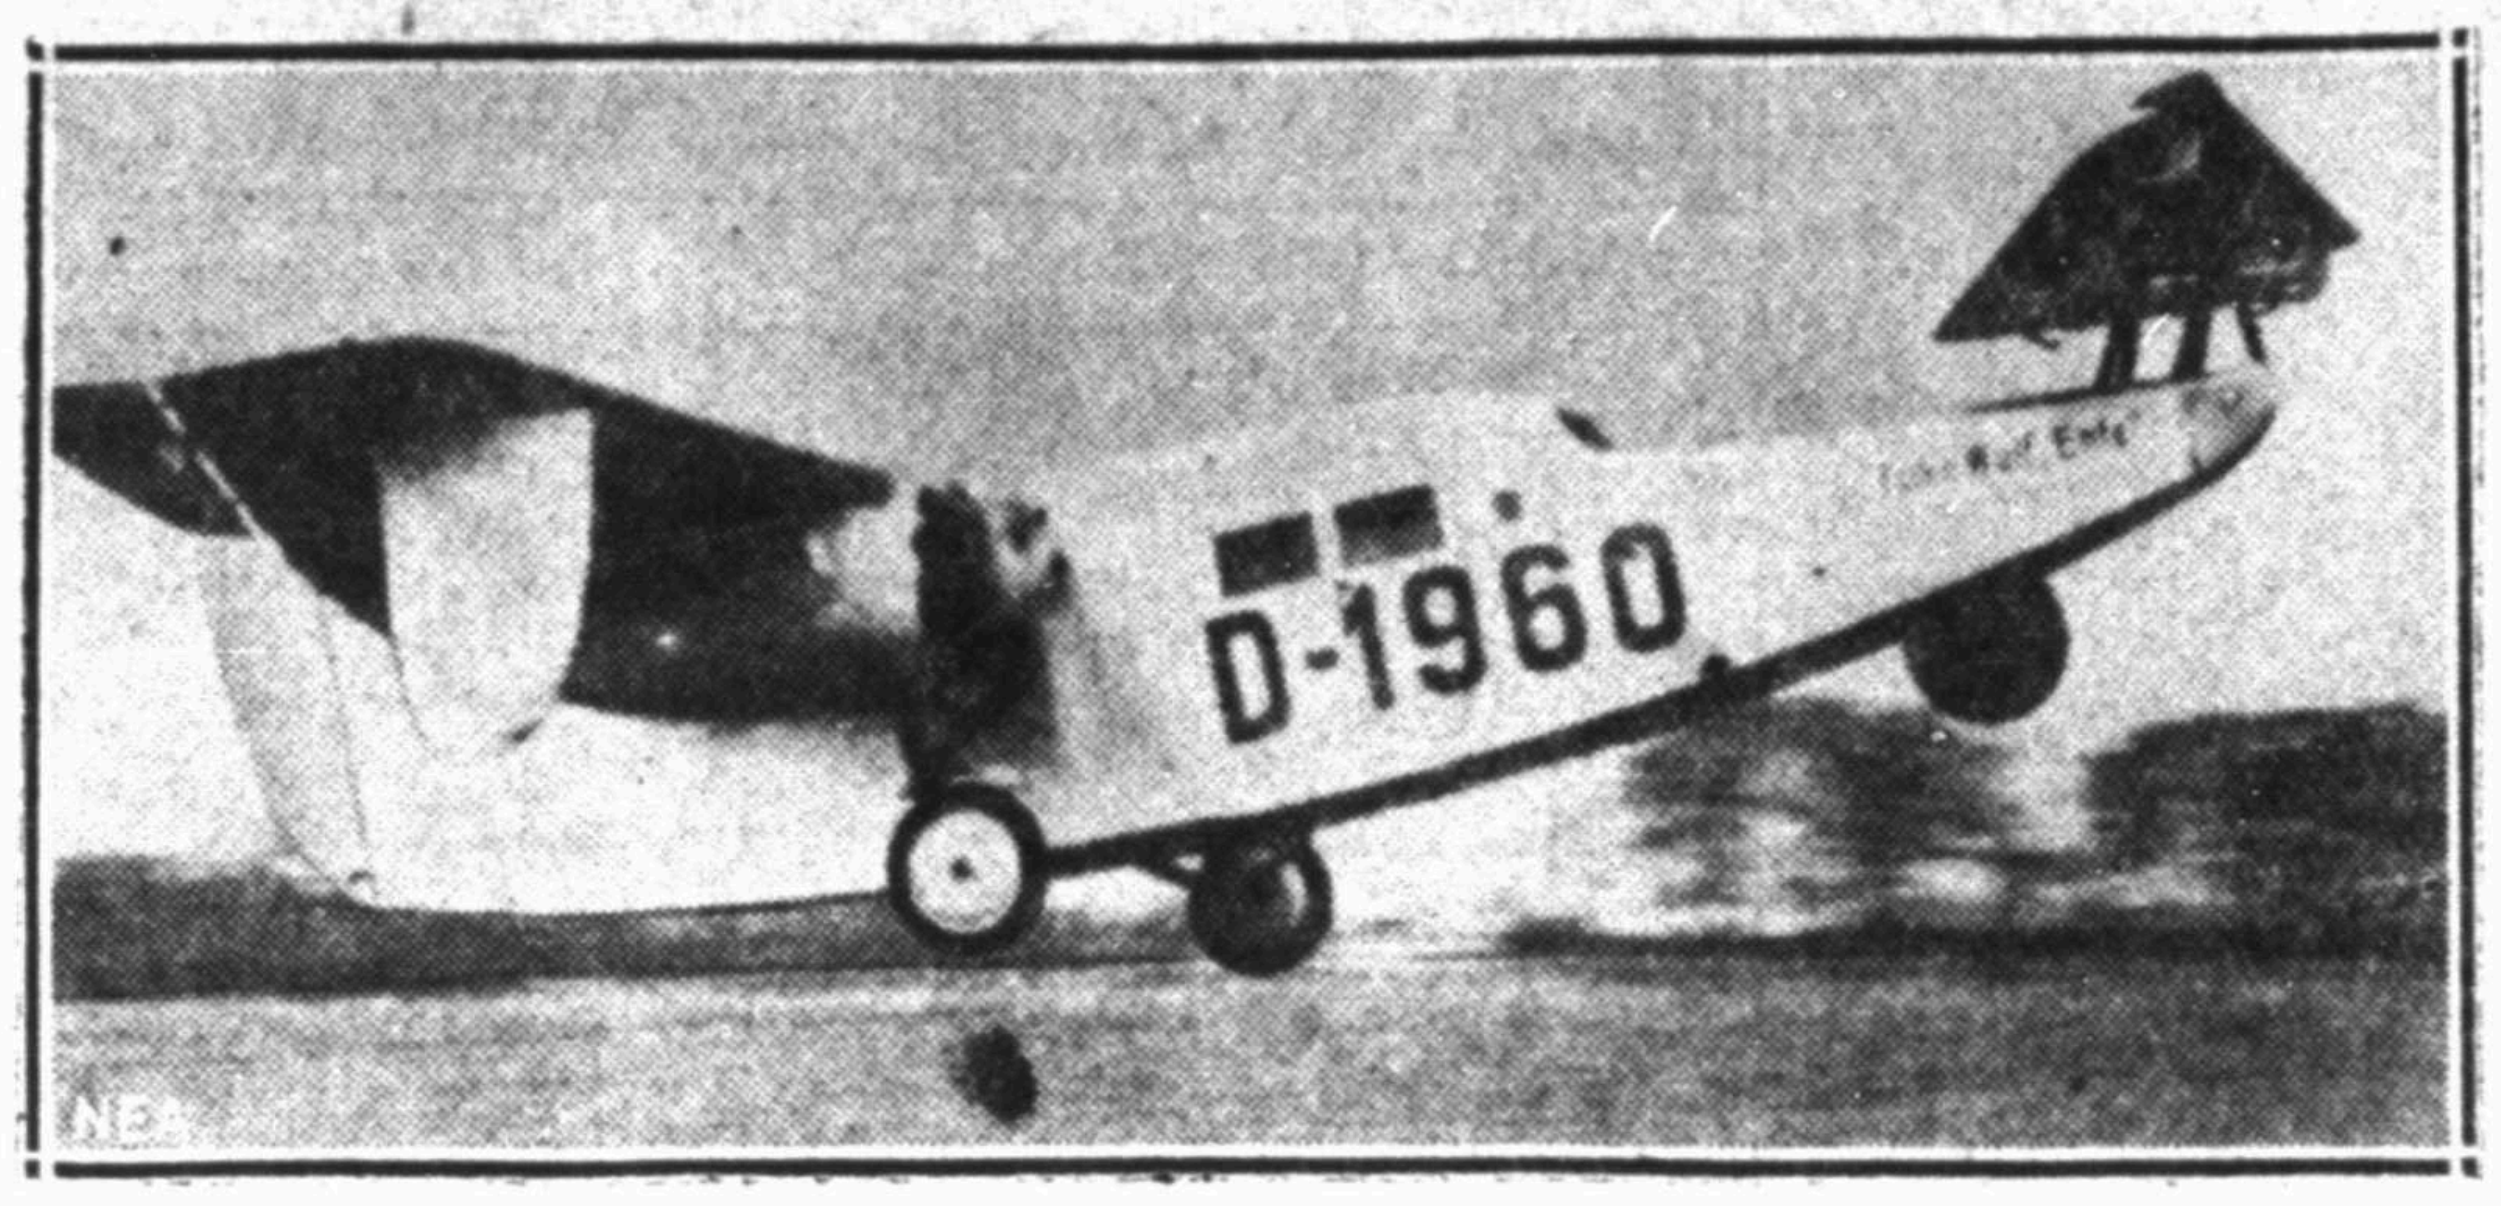
The three men picked from 25 candidates, were presented the gold medal of the farm bureau at last night's session of the annual meeting.

The selection of former Governor Lowden, the citation said, was largely due to the fact that "he probably lost a chance for the presidency, because, in fronting for agriculture in the councils of his party, he refused to abandon his convictions as to the type of agricultural reforms the time demanded, in favor of political expediency."

WED AT AUSTIN

LORENZO, (Special)—Elmo Durrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Durrett of near here and Miss Freda Glyn Pritchard of Crockett were married in Austin December 3. They will make their home here. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Prichard of Crockett.

This Plane Isn't Landing—It's Taking Off



No wonder English crowds gaped when this plane took off "backwards." Designed so it won't stall nor spin while in flight, the wings of the craft are in the rear and the "tail" is in front. This is how it looked hopping off from Hanworth Airdrome in Middlesex, England.

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS TO COME TO CHRISTMAS PAGEANT HERE FRIDAY TO RECEIVE WARM WELCOME FROM CITY

Arrangements are being made for a warm welcome to the hundreds of out-of-town visitors expected here Friday when the Santa Claus spectacle is brought here.

The festivity has been arranged to appeal to young and old alike. The parade itself has been developed so as to appeal to all classes and all ages. There will be something to attract the attention and hold the interest of the old people, the college girl, the high school boy, the working man, doctor, lawyer, banker and little children. Of course Santa Claus will be the center of attraction.

Santa Claus will be seen riding in his tiny sleigh which has been mounted on little rubber tired wheels so that it can be operated either in snow or on cleared pavements. The wheels make it possible for Santa to travel in the tropical countries as quietly, smoothly and mysteriously as he does in the land of ice and snow from where he comes. As he serves the children of all the world he must have equipment suitable to all climates and conditions.

Prince of Love, the mystic messenger, who will be seen in the parade also has sent a message saying that Santa Claus has asked that all the children persuade their parents or guardians to take them to the stores to see the wonderful toys and other things which make useful Christmas gifts.

Santa has taken all the store keepers in partnership with him and everything must be displayed in stores and shops throughout the world in advance of Christmas so children and older folks may visit the stores and see the toys, candies, fruits and many items of clothing, jewelry, furniture, toilet articles and beautiful things which they might think they would like Santa to bring them.

Children must understand that they cannot expect to have all the things they think they want. Never does any one have all the things they wish for at times. The happiest people are those who find complete satisfaction and comfort in the things which are rightfully theirs and who enjoy the fullest measure of pleasure in the gifts which come to them as a surprise from relatives and dear friends.

Good boys and girls will consult with parents or guardians and seek their advice as to what is best for them to have for Christmas and the loving mother, father, or guardian will be sure to tell the children just what they can expect Santa Claus to bring them. Santa never brings children anything unless he knows that the older folks of the household approve of his selections for the children.

Santa also wants everybody young and old, to help him spread happiness and especially asks that everyone condiser the welfare of people known to be in unfortunate circumstance so if you know of any such families you can be a real Santa Claus yourself by providing them with your cast off toys or clothing and with some new playthings and worthwhile presents if you can afford to buy them.

LOYALTY COUNCIL TO MEET TONIGHT

Accompanied by their associates, members of the Lubbock Loyalty council will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Hilton hotel ballroom. All "good citizens" have been invited to the meeting.

"This will be the final meeting at which we expect to invite new members,' said J. O. Jones, chairman.

"We are anxious that all persons previously invited to become members attend this meeting, also. Because it is impossible to reach every citizen we would like to have in the organization, we want to invite every good citizen of Lubbock who is interested in this city's welfare and in the platform and principle of the council.

"Our executive board believes that the council already has accomplished many worthwhile things for Lubbock and that there are many other things that our city by united efforts can accomplish. A full report of the accomplishments to date will be given and every member will be asked to make suggestions as to future activities."
