CUB SCOUTER AND FRIEND

It would be hard to convince Danny Manly that rabbits don't come out of magicians hats. This one did. Danny received the rabbit at the end of the program at the Cub Scout Banquet Monday night, Feb. 28, to his own surprise and that of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Manly. Danny is recovering from an illness that has kept him out of school about six weeks. The magician was C. J. Lyon of Childress.

District Court Session Under Way This Week

A 100th District Court Grand Jury meeting Monday, Feb. 28 returned three indictments, while civil cases on the docket kept the court in session until 11:30 p.m. Tuesday and it was reconvened at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Judge Charles Reynolds is presiding.

Another civil suit was set for Wednesday and a criminal case Thursday.

A motion for a summary judgment filed by the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 was heard. This concerns a suit filed by Boyd Barjenbruch on behalf of himself and his mother, Mrs. Eunice Barjenbruch, and M. C. Pigg and one by James Doneghy asking that their property be excluded from the water district.

Judge Reynolds ruled "that the Water District did not show as a matter of law that those plaintiffs were not entitled to appeal the ruling of the board denying the exclusion of their property from the district."

The legal effect of the ruling is that these people have the right to a trial in district court to determine whether or not their property should be excluded, the judge explained.

Boyd Barjenbruch, in behalf of himself, his mother, and father-in-law, Mr. Pigg, then filed a motion for a summary judgment in their behalf which asserts as a matter of law they are entitled to have their property excluded without a trial.

A hearing on this motion was set by Judge Reynolds for Thursday, March 17.

Subject to that motion, the cases were set for trial Wednesday, April 16.

In the case of Leo Thomas and others vs. Virgie Thomas Evans, on an appeal of probate judgment, the finding was for the defendant.

One divorce case was dismissed and in another, Mrs. Joyce Phillely was granted a divorce from Calvin E. Phillely.

The auto personal injury suit of Francis Roberts and wife vs. Ronald Sharp got under way Wednesday morning.

On docket for Thursday was a criminal case, the State of Texas vs. Jim Hill.

The grand jury, in its Monday session returned indictments against: Lewis John Slaughter, Jr., assault with intent to murder; Clarence M. Fournier and Richard Eldon Asbell, burglary of a coin operated machine; Dayne Klincole, burglary.

Horses Jinx Ranch Employee

Sometimes a cowboy should keep his distance from horses. Donnie Barnett, an employee of A. J. Fires, received a broken right ankle Thursday, Feb. 24 when the horse with which he was working stepped on his foot.

The accident occurred at the Fires Ranch in the Needwood community, about 25 miles northeast of Wellington.

On Sept. 18, Barnett was seriously injured when the car in which he was riding collided with a horse on Highway 203 west of Quail. He was hospitalized several weeks and underwent extensive plastic surgery.

Three months before that, a horse reared and struck him, and Barnett got a broken nose. Barnett lives in Wellington.

ROCKET SHOT PUTTER

The athletic picture turns to track and field events as the Wellington team enters its first meet, that at Iowa Park, Saturday. Johnny Harris shows the correct stance for a shot putter preparing to hurl the 12-pound ball. A sophomore, he is on the varsity team for the first year. He is 16 and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harris.

Band Brings Home More Honors

More honors rode home with the Wellington high school band when its members returned Saturday, Feb. 26 from the annual Brownwood Stage Band Festival, largest of its kind in the world.

The Wellington band received third place in competition among 15 of the top Class A bands of the state. The group performed Thursday afternoon. Fifty-four bands participated in all classes.

First place went to Troop high school and second to Midway high school, Waco.

"They did about the best overall job they've ever done," declared band director James Larson proudly. "They were as relaxed as they have ever been when they played."

The criticism of the judges was about the same as when the Wellington Stage Band won first place in the recent Doc Severinsen contest at Pampa, according to Larson.

One judge, however, commented that the all-star band from the state of New York would not rate with the best Class A bands at this festival.

Class A were the smallest schools to participate.

"Third place at Brownwood was much harder to win than first place at Pampa," Larson declared.

The judges were Bill Holman of Los Angeles, a professional player and composer; Harley Rex, director of the Houstonians, Sam Houston State College Stage Band; Bob Seibert, Dallas composer and publisher; and Vincent Di Nino, director of the University of Texas Longhorn Band.

Winners in other classes were:

Class AA: first, Atlanta; second, Bridgeport; third, Hamlin.

Class AAA: first, Greenville; second, Stephenville, and third, Snyder.

Class AAAA: first, Robert E. Lee School at Houston; second, Paschal of Fort Worth, and third, Jeff Davis of Houston.

Band Boosters Set Pancake Supper March 10

The Wellington Band Boosters Club is sponsoring a pancake supper Thursday, March 10, and proceeds will go to help buy that organization's part of new band uniforms.

The supper will be held at the school cafeteria between 5:30 and 7:30 p.m.

James Larson, band director, said that under an agreement reached last year, an additional 15 uniforms will be purchased to care for the increased number of student coming in the high school band for the 1966-67 school year.

One-half the expense will be defrayed by the school board and the other by the Band Boosters Club, he said. The Band Boosters part will amount to approximately $750.

Members of the Band Boosters Club will do the work for the supper.

Norwood Studies Recreation Program

People of the Samnorwood area are exploring through the Samnorwood school board a possible recreation area which would be used jointly by the school and the community.

This was revealed by Robert Dwight, superintendent of the schools.

It would be located on the school campus and would include additional classroom space, a physical education area and cafeteria in one section. The other section would be an indoor swimming pool for year round use.

Mr. Dwight emphasized that this is still in the exploratory stage, to determine if such a project is feasible and how it can be financed.

It has been explained and discussed at various civic meetings in the community, including the Cub Scout banquet on Friday night, Feb. 25, and the joint meetings of the Samnorwood PTA, Samnorwood Water Association members and the school board on Monday, Feb. 28.

Good Hog Prices Seen

Supply and demand still works in the market place. John G. McHoney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University says the present situation with hogs is a good example. He expects prices during the first half of 1966 to average above those for the same period of 1965.

For the last half, prices will be influenced by how fast the apparent expansion in hog numbers builds up. But, he adds, based on past cycles, there is real danger of over-expansion and low prices in 1967.

Music Club Pays Tribute to Bernstein in Parade of American Music

The Wellington Music Club met February 22 with Mrs. Velman Warrick as hostess to its traditional Parade of American Music program.

This 1966 observance by the Wellington group was "A Tribute to Leonard Bernstein" in three parts—highlight of his life, a review of "West Side Story", and music from "West Side Story."

The program director, Mrs. Warrick, told some of the unusual accomplishments of this dedicated young man, saying that his record to date would do credit to one twice his age. He was the first American-born conductor to conduct at La Scala. He has conducted more concerts with the New York Philharmonic than any other conductor in the orchestra's history.

His first book, "The Joy of Music," was translated into five languages, including Chinese. Another book, "Young People's Concerts," is both for reading and listening. Leonard Bernstein speaks five languages—German, French, Italian, Spanish and Hebrew.

The Music Critics Circle Award was won by his "Jeremiah Symphony."

The music for several Broadway hits bears his name. Mrs. Warrick reviewed "West Side Story" with special emphasis on the music titles used in the Wellington club's programs.

"Somewhere" was a flute solo by Adele Burquist with Mrs. Sam Thompson at the piano. A vocal trio—Mrs. Orville Vaughan, Mrs. Hiram Cudd, Mrs. B. M. Sims—sang "America" and "Tonight" with Mrs. Mack Bush at the piano.

"Maria" was a piano solo by Mrs. Thompson. Nancy Thomas, voice student of Mrs. Bush, sang "I Feel Pretty."

Presented as Junior Musician of the Month was Virginia Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Patterson of Dodson. Mrs. Claude Groves, Junior Musician chairman, told of the activities of this outstanding young musician.

A senior in Wellington high school, Virginia is a member and officer of Beta Club, a member and officer in FHA, and has been on the Student Council. She was recently chosen local Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow and is the FHA talent entry for the spring area meeting.

A member of Ti-ca service and social club, Virginia is a member also of the Skyrocket annual staff. For six years she has been Church of the Nazarene pianist and is an officer in the Nazarene Young People's group. Her talents as pianist are varied; she is soloist as well as accompanist. Besides accompanying solos and ensembles, Virginia has been accompanist for the WHS chorus and for the "Bye, Bye Birdie" production.

In the business session with the president, Mrs. Bush, presiding, the members voted to contribute to a scholarship honoring a past NFMC president.

Entertaining rooms featured the George Washington's birthday theme with branches bearing red cherries and leaves.

The next meeting is scheduled March 15 at the Methodist Church with the Junior Choirs I and II participating.

Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Nazarene Church met Tuesday, February 22 for an all-day session.

During the morning the women rolled bandages which will be sent to foreign missions for use by medical missionaries.

After the covered dish luncheon, the members convened their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Earl Yarbrough gave the devotional, then Mrs. Robert Posey discussed Nazarene missions in Italy.

Those who attended were Mrs. Earl Yarbrough, Mrs. Clyde Emmert, Mrs. Leslie Moore, Miss Catherine Turner, Mrs. Fred Yarbrough, Mrs. Posey, Mrs. Ronald Crosley, Mrs. Oral Bishop, Mrs. Mack Bush, Mrs. Pat Kimbro, Mrs. Leburn Goswick, Mrs. Ike Emmert, Mrs. W. S. Brewer and Mrs. Frank Falk.

Busy Money Stays at Home

Money that you deposit in the City State Bank is too "busy" here at home to go into out of town investments. A good portion of our depositors funds are reinvested right here, in sound loans to individuals and businesses in our banking area.

This way, your dollars are helping the Wellington trade area grow. They are helping the men and businesses who have ideas to put to work. They form the strong credit that is the lifeblood of today's economy.

On the other hand . . .

If you have the ideas and the know how, and borrow the money to put them in operation, it is these same "busy" dollars that are working for you.

Whether you deposit or borrow, you will benefit by dealing with the City State Bank.

Where WHS Will Play

2AA Coaches Set up Plans for '67 Season

An organizational meeting of basketball coaches of District 2-AA was held Friday, Feb. 25 in Vernon, attended by Supt. J. L. Harper and basketball coach James Stavenhagen.

This is the district Wellington will step into at the beginning of the 1966-67 school year. The basketball schedule was set up for home and home round robin. Other teams in the district are Electra, Iowa Park, Olney, Seymour and Quanah.

There are only four girls teams, Wellington, Electra, Iowa Park and Olney.

"We will try to match games with other girls teams from Districts 1-A, 2-A and 1-AA on open dates," the coach said.

"I feel our girls will be as strong as those teams and will be a district contender," Stavenhagen said. "We will have five of our first string back and we'll be able to play anybody. We will have depth we didn't have this year, and our present sophomores will be old enough and mature enough to play lots of ball."

Competition will be tougher for the Wellington boys. "We will have the best team since I've been here, but we really won't know how they stack up until we start playing some of those (2-AA) teams next year.

Mar. 5 Deadline for City Council

Three candidates for places on the City Council filed during the week, bringing to a total of four the number running for the four places.

Hurshel Tyler, owner of R. H. Tyler Co., filed for the unexpired one-year term. This vacancy was created by the death of Quinton Brewer last summer.

Seeking re-election to the regular two-year terms are Bobo Castleberry and Leon Hartman. Mack Bush filed for a regular term earlier.

The deadline for candidates to file for a place on the ballot is Tuesday, March 5, 30 days before the election.

One Third U. S. Publicly Owned

One third of the United States is publicly owned, Congressman Walter Rogers reminded recently.

Although states, counties, cities and other governmental units own a vast acreage, the largest portion by far is that held by the Federal government. There are approximately 354 million acres of public lands outside of Alaska being administered by various agencies of the Federal government, and of that total approximately half is uncommitted by legislative authority for any specific use.

In addition, the Federal government owns approximately 365 million acres.

Comparatively speaking, there is only 169 million acres in the entire state of Texas.

Texas, having retained control of its public lands when the Republic of Texas agreed to be annexed by the United States, has a small proportion of Federally owned land, unlike most other Western states.

AMATEUR AUTO THIEVES

It is reported that 80 to 85 percent of all cars stolen are taken by non-professional thieves, mainly juveniles.

John Milton used 8,000 different words in his poem "Paradise Lost."

"Big Thicket" Popular With Texas Tourists

One of the newest tourist attractions in Texas is based on a culture out of the past. It is the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation in the "Big Thicket" forest of East Texas and opened to the public for the first time this year.

Set amid picturesque woodland scenery and offering historical and educational fun for the whole family, it is the only Indian reservation in Texas.

There is no charge for admission to the reservation, which is located 17 miles east of Livingston on US 190. (Livingston is approximately 74 miles northeast of Houston at the intersection of 190 and US 59).

However, travelers should plan on a visit from Tuesday through Saturday, as the reservation is closed on Sunday and Monday. The tourist season runs from March through November.

The reservation village features an arts and crafts shop offering a large selection of authentic Indian handicrafts, many of which are made from natural materials found on the reservation; a museum showing the colorful, interesting heritage of the Alabama and Coushatta tribes; and a dining room staffed by Indian waitresses and featuring tribal foods such as "sofkee" and "fry" bread plus short orders.

Historical tribal dances are performed five times daily (11-12-3-4) by the "Na Ski La Dancers," and a nature trail is open with more than 100 plants and trees identified along the trail. For those who like their scenic wonders the easy way, a specially constructed vehicle is available to carry tourists along a three-mile road through the Big Thicket.

Although tourists are welcome at other hours, the museum, crafts shop and dining room are only open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the days the reservation is open and the entertainment programs are also scheduled those same hours.

There are no overnight facilities for visitors on the reservation but motels are available in Woodville (16 miles east of the village) and Livingston.

According to tribal legend, the Alabamas and Coushattas once lived as neighbors in the land named Alabama by De Soto in 1541. Later, the tribes moved west through the Southern woodlands and into what is now Texas about 150 years ago.

General Sam Houston reserved about 1,280 acres of land for the Alabama tribe in 1854 and the Coushattas joined them to continue the peaceful existence of the tribes enjoyed before the days of the DeSoto expedition.

Hunts Net 6.2 Quail Per Gunner

CANADIAN. — Forty-eight quail hunters participated in three one-day hunts on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area near here and bagged an average of 6.2 quail per man, according to Vernon-Morse, area manager.

In addition to the 298 bobwhites, six pheasant cocks were harvested on the area's lush bottomland.

Sportsmen hunting without dogs invariably had low success, while those with dogs filled their limit in a few hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Monroe of Mandan, N.D., visited here recently with Mrs. Ralph Ball and Mrs. Otis Ball.

Reinspection of Guard Unit Set

Re-inspection of National Guard Battery A in Wellington has been scheduled for Saturday, April 16 at 4 p.m., Capt. Jim Chappell, commanding officer announced.

The unit failed its annual GI drill inspection in October.

That inspection came immediately after Capt. Chappell took over as commanding officer, and was due to low attendance at the drills.

Capt. Chappell set up a system of fines for absences from drill and for the last three months the battery has had a 92 percent attendance. The attendance was 98 percent at the last drill.

Annual Sent to Publisher

The final pages of The Skyrocket, Wellington high school yearbook, have been mailed to the publisher, said Mrs. Dee Coleman, sponsor.

The annuals will be received for distribution two or three weeks before the end of school. The editor of The Skyrocket this year is Marilyn Philly, while Alan Fires is business manager.

Clements Home From Valley

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Clement returned Monday from Pharr, where they have been for two and a half months.

On Feb. 18, a cousin of Mrs. Clement, Mrs. T. E. Montgomery of Pharr, died.

Mrs. Montgomery was born here in 1892, and was Ora Nichols, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nichols. The family moved to Shamrock in 1902 and she and Mr. Montgomery were married there.

She had visited in Wellington several times in the last ten years, but had lived at Pharr since 1926.

En route home, Mr. and Mrs. Clement visited her brother, Ward Kelley, and family, at Corpus Christi.

Group Visits Mike Shields

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Bear-den and Mrs. Quinton Brewer accompanied by their brother, Joe Shields of Amarillo, were in Dallas during the week end to visit their nephew, Mike Shields, who is hospitalized there.

Mike, a University of Texas freshman, is suffering from leukemia, which was discovered only earlier this month, when he became ill during an ROTC drill session.

Named an alternate to West Point last spring, Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shields of Stinnett.

Group Attends WTCC Workshop

A group representing the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce was in Canyon Wednesday, March 2 to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Leaders' Workshop.

The principal speaker was John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, former attorney general of Texas.

During the workshop periods, the duties of C-C officers and committee members was outlined.

Going from here were Zook Thomas, president, and John Sherman, N. M. Higdon, Jeff Wilson, Mrs. E. H. Harwell and Mrs. John Coleman.

Texas Public School Week Is a Time For Us to Visit

Education Week, proclaimed throughout Texas, will be observed Monday through Friday, March 7 through 11. This is the time each year when parents and other friends of the schools are invited to visit, to see for themselves their operation and their own children at work in class.

There will be special programs or assemblies in part of our schools, others prefer that parents see the operation much as it is every day.

Those who visit the schools each year will see the new equipment that has been added since their last visit. By talking with teachers and principals, they can learn something of the trend education is taking. Locally they will have the opportunity to see the new equipment being used in teaching the remedial reading classes — for equipment plays a big part in this.

Discerning parents also will see the needs of the schools, whether it be for enrichment or stepping up of curriculums, or new or repaired buildings.

Frankly, the doors of the Collingsworth County schools are always open to visitors, but we do not always respond to an invitation so indefinite.

In Texas Public Schools Week, the invitation is firm and specific:

"Come to see us!"

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW:

THE NEED FOR SAFER CARS

By Roger W. Babson

Traffic deaths and injuries are climbing steadily. This, despite the fact that auto makers are installing new and more effective safety equipment on their cars and despite the more rigid and frequent state car inspections. The death toll of our highways — which President Johnson has termed our gravest national problem next to Vietnam — poses economic as well as moral and legal questions . . . for which we must find answers.

The Problem Is Acute

We are concentrating, in this column, on the topic of safety equipment for cars, because rising public concern about highway deaths and injuries has centered on the question of just how safe the cars themselves are.

The problem is acute, and in the absence of swift, decisive action by agencies of the federal government, state governments are beginning to take more of a hand in probing this field. Only a few weeks ago the Attorney General of Iowa conducted hearings to determine "whether or not traffic fatalities and serious injuries can be sharply reduced" even if the number of accidents is not lowered. The Iowa hearings, held at the State Capitol in Des Moines, centered on car safety equipment or the lack of it.

What Car Makers Say

Except for an appearance by a spokesman for their Automobile Manufacturers Association, the leading car makers boycotted the Iowa hearings. Their position is that hearings at the state level place too great a burden on the industry. Also, that "there is not and never will be a completely safe auto." They point, further, to an impressive list of safety devices which have become standard equipment on U.S. cars in recent years. For example: The wrap-around windshield, designed to increase visibility; the use of safety glass in windshields, to resist shattering; lowering the center of gravity for car frames; safety locks; self-adjusting brakes; and seat belts.

In addition, car makers contend that in general the public has been slow to purchase "optional" safety devices available for additional fees — devices which often cost manufacturers large sums to develop and perfect.

An Economic Drag

Probably no one would seriously argue that the car makers have not tried to make cars safer. The record amply supports their efforts. But today's slaughter on the highways has become truly massive; and it has become also a definite drag on the economy; hence, it is certainly in order to ask whether the car makers are trying hard enough to make their cars safer.

Over the past few years, deaths on U.S. highways have risen to a scandalously large total, greater than all our casualties in Vietnam. The rapidly climbing claims against the auto casualty insurance companies and the mounting costs of such insurance settlements are appalling. And no computer could accurately assess just how much brainpower and manpower the nation has lost through these traffic deaths and accidents.

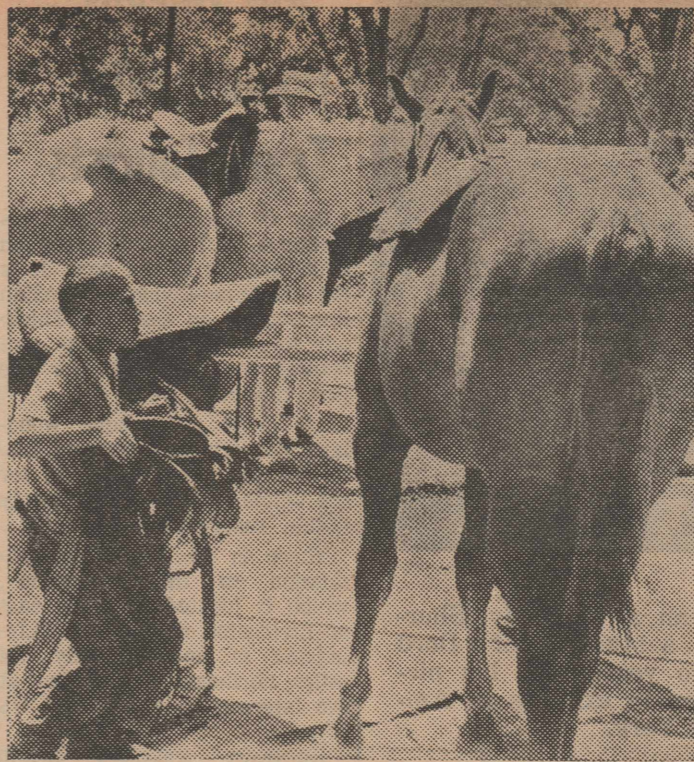

More Controls to Come

Right now, a congressional investigating subcommittee is studying the relationship between safety equipment on cars and the accident toll. Crash-injury research projects at Cornell and Harvard suggest that safer cars could be made. The industry must, then, take its responsibility more seriously. If the manufacturers are already doing their best, perhaps they should seek the help of outside engineers and researchers.

This is a grave national problem, not merely an industry problem. If the auto makers do not solve it, they will be inviting federal and state controls. And such controls—both troublesome and costly—would be bound to eat deep into industry profits.

HOME ACCIDENTS

Deaths in home accidents in the U.S. dropped 2 percent, from 29,000 in 1963 to 28,500 in 1964. More than two out of five such fatalities resulted from falls.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

My work-allergic neighbor says obviously a Great Day is coming, when the Negative Income Tax Law is passed.

This is the plan cooked up by some highly advertised economists, whereby any citizen whose income don't add up to some Congress-set Poverty Level will get a check from Washington for the difference.

And this neighbor is real hopeful, considering how our Congressmen have raised their own wages to keep out of Poverty's reach, that they will law that anything under $20,000 a year is Poverty.

The human conscience is making news these days, with some people's consciences prodding them to violate some law, other people's consciences telling them to go easy on Bobby Baker, etc.

My controlled conscience neighbor says the real up-to-date conscience is the one that is not all the time pestering its owner to do something he don't want to do.

Says the old Puritan-type conscience was an impractical sort of thing, anyway. Sometimes it even compelled politicians to do something that cost them money or votes.

It is recorded in the papers that jolly Mr. Hubert Humphrey has been on a jet-sleigh ride to the Far East, where he filled stockings with rich promises all over the place.

My tight-wadded neighbor says he wishes he could get glorified like that as a giver of great gifts to poor people and countries, without digging into his personal money.

Says he is glad, though, that Hubert came back home before he got around to giving away General Motors or the Grand Canyon.

News is that Congress has been re-ordered to vote rent subsidy money for people who can't pay the rent on quarters that fit their dignity.

My unstatified neighbor is now looking forward to a federal aid program, so he can start driving a car that will make the working Joneses think he is Somebody.

In fact, with government bent on coming to the relief of ev-

He is stationed at Fort Polk, La.

Under the supervision of veteran Navy petty officers, he is receiving instructions in naval history and organization, customs and courtesies, ordnance and gunnery, seamanship, damage control, first aid, swimming and survival, shipboard drills and sentry duty.

Military drills are emphasized during recruit training, and with various inspections and a planned physical fitness program, keep the recruits mentally and physically alert.

Upon completion of recruit training, he will be assigned to a school, shore station or ship, according to the results of his Navy classification tests, his own desires and the needs of the Navy.

Volleyball Tourney Here March 11, 12

A volleyball tournament open to high school and outside teams, will be held at Wellington high school gymnasium Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12. Coach James Stavenhagen announced.

There will be divisions for both boys and girls teams.

"There will be an entry fee for each team, and proceeds will go to buy junior high basketball uniforms," Stavenhagen said.

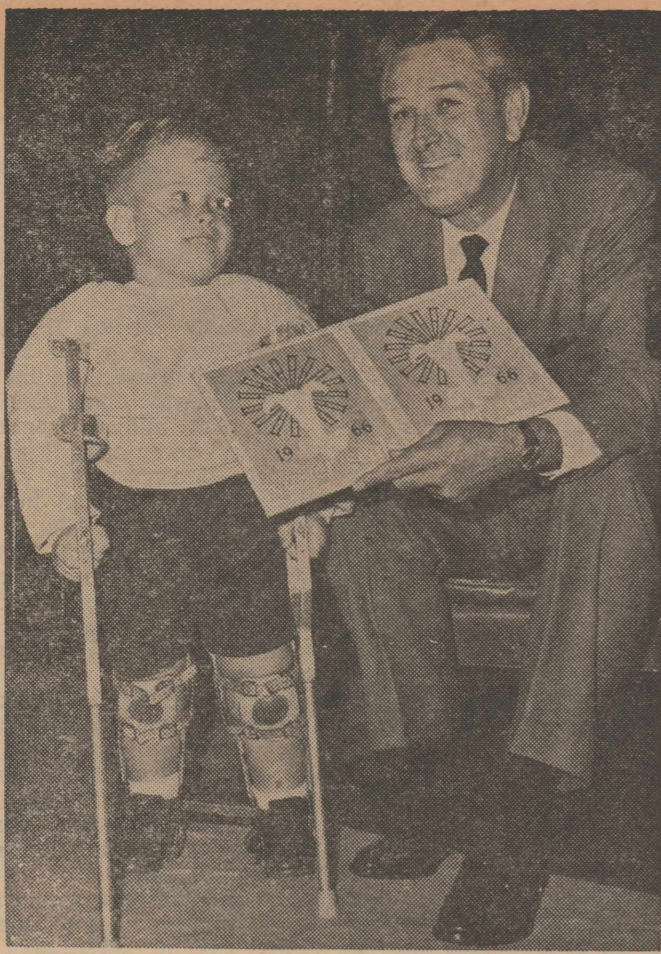

"As long as team members pay their own entry fee and do not let a business establishment sponsor them, there will be no jeopardy toward their eligibility under the University Interscholastic League," Coach Stavenhagen continued.

Sportsmen See "Good Side" of Game Wardens

AUSTIN. — The expanding state game warden staff is gaining public notice, mostly good and some on the beyond-the-call-of-duty side, according to a spot check of the huge volume of mail reaching the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department headquarters.

Most of the current correspondence dates to the recent wildlife harvest, involving public contacts from everything from routine game checks through law enforcement to aiding wounded hunters, as well as providing emergency transportation and tow service.

There's a generous sprinkling of audience response to public appearances before Scout groups and such, and acknowledgement of front-line reinforcement for law agencies at all levels.

But deep in the pile is a hand-scrawled letter from a far Southeast Texas deer hunter whose "old hunting and fishing car" surrendered to nighttime general debility, far from assistance, and who got back on the beam to his Fort Hood hunting target only when a game warden, unlike other whizzing traffic, stopped to help.

This sportsman devoted as much time as it would take to stalk a prized buck to describe his hard luck, the brush-off from countless other drivers, and the happy ending from the "brothers-under-the-skin" treatment by a state game warden.

First the warden offered to drive the hapless hunter to the nearest town of Cameron. Then when he learned the man's car wasn't locked—too old to lock as the man wrote—and contained his gun and equipment and forty-seven precious reminders of conquests afield.

When the warden learned that, he turned around and hurried back to the disabled rig. And finally got it started, for a happy climax all around. What really touched the writer was the considerate affection he showed to the man's faithful old chariot.

Highway Beautification Set

AUSTIN. — The Texas Highway Department's 1966-67 highway beautification program, Texas' first major push under the recently enacted Highway Beautification Act, was tentatively approved recently by the Texas Highway Commission.

The $10.8 million program, which will cover more than 300 projects throughout the state, will now be submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads.

The program, subject to the approval of the Bureau, will be submitted over an extended period. Project plans will go to the Bureau as they are completed.

As prepared by the Highway Department, the program represents Texas' first large effort toward compliance with the Highway Beautification Act of 1965 which was passed by Congress and enacted into law last October.

The program proposes work on 321 projects at a total estimated cost of $10,862,400. Of these, 122 projects are on Interstate System and will cost an estimated $7,486,600.

One hundred and ninety-nine of the projects are on the ADC system — federal-aid primary roads, federal-aid secondary roads and urban extensions of federal-aid systems. The ABC projects will cost an estimated $3,375,800.

Of the projects proposed 147 rest areas are planned; 19 scenic overlooks; landscape plantings for 133 projects; and right of way purchase for 64 projects.

Also, purchase of right of way easements for 6 projects; 68 comfort stations; 111 water systems; and lighting on 60 projects.

INSURANCE CAN SERVE AS INCOME FOR RETIREMENT

COLLEGE STATION.—Families need to consider insurance as a source of retirement income to supplement social security benefits, says Mrs. Doris Myers, area Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

This need was shown in a recent study made by Mrs. Myers while working with aged farm couples in Central and East Texas.

Only about 40 percent of all the families in the study had straight life insurance, and about 80 percent had either straight life or burial insurance.

Seventy percent of the retired farm couples in the social security group and all the farm families with old age assistance benefits in the study had incomes of under $3,000 annually—which has been defined as the "poverty" level.

Mrs. Myers explained that the average cash value of straight life insurance per retired farm couples in the study was just under $1,900. Some of the families had borrowed against their insurance and reduced the cash value of the policies.

Of the husband-wife families drawing social security, 52 percent had straight life insurance. Nineteen percent of these had life insurance on both the family head and the spouse, and 28 percent had life insurance on the family head only, and five percent of the couples had life insurance on the spouse only.

In contrast, less than 10 percent of the couples drawing old age assistance had straight life insurance. Texas couples who draw old age assistance can have life insurance with a cash value of not more than $1,000 on each person and still be eligible for the benefits, Mrs. Myers explained.

In the old age assistance group, 83 percent of the couples had burial insurance and 70 percent had both family head and spouse covered. Some of these families had several burial insurance policies, making this a very expensive way to have life insurance. Ownership of burial insurance does not affect the eligibility for old age insurance, since it has no cash value, the specialist added.

Eighty Attend Medicare Meet Here Friday

Eighty county residents were present for the educational Medicare program sponsored by the Extension Service here Friday, Feb. 25.

Curtis Watts, field representative of the Social Security district office in Amarillo was the speaker, and Sam Helmers, county agricultural agent, was in charge of the meeting.

Mr. Watts began the meeting by saying Medicare is health insurance for the aged, but it is important not only for those who are 65 or older, but equally important for those who are now working and will want coverage in later years.

The two main parts of Medicare were named by Watts as hospital insurance and supplementary medical insurance.

There are four parts to the hospital insurance: (1) Medicare pays for 60 days of inpatient care except for the first 90. This is effective July 1 and a person must be 65 years old; (2) it pays for 20 full days of nursing home care if you have spent at least 3 days in the hospital. It will pay an additional 80 days at $5.00 a day. This is not effective until Jan. 1, 1967.

(3) Medicare pays for 100 visits in a year to the person's home by a health official, therapist or nurse after a 3-day stay in the hospital. This part goes into effect July 1.

(4) The Medicare hospital insurance pays 80 percent of everything above $20 for diagnostic service.

All of these four parts cover a period of illness. Mr. Watts then outlined the provisions of the doctors or medical supplementary insurance, which has a $3 monthly premium.

(1) This pays for medicines that the doctor or hospital administers, but not that which he prescribes.

(2) It pays for an additional 100 visits by a skilled medical worker or nurse.

(3) It covers miscellaneous items such as x-rays, a wheel chair, iron lungs, artificial limbs, etc.

The time covered by these three points is a calendar year. Social Security will pay 80 percent of the expenses above $50.

Mr. Watts urged the people not to drop their present insurance until they have talked to their insurance agents and certainly not before July 1.

March 31 is the deadline to apply for Medicare for the current period.

Mr. Watts also showed a film which re-emphasized the points he had made, and then closed the meeting with a question and answer period.

LAWN GONE

The owner of an apartment building in Whittier, Calif., complained to police that somebody stole his lawn.

Tenants of the building told officers they saw two men dig up 75 flats of grass valued at $300, but thought the men were hired by the owner to remove it.

REBOUND RUBY

Rebound Ruby will be one of the forwards for the California Cuties when they meet Clement's Dolls Saturday, March 5, at 7:30 in the Wellington gym. This will be a benefit game, sponsored by the Wellington Classroom Teachers Association. The Cuties are a men's novelty team, the Dolls are former Skyrocket players.

New Highways Constructed to Save Lives

AUSTIN.—A steady increase in the building of new highways—highways with built-in safety features—is saving lives and cutting down traffic accidents in Texas.

In the first three quarters of 1965, traffic accidents and fatalities on primary highways in Texas showed a marked decrease.

The Texas Highway Department credits the decrease to safer, multi-lane divided highways, with a minimum of grade crossings and employing controlled access.

A third-quarter report by the Texas Department of Public Safety showed 94 fewer deaths on U.S.- and state-numbered and Interstate highways as of Oct. 1 than in the same period in 1964. Fifty-seven fewer accidents were recorded.

This is an especially dramatic decrease considering that primary highways in use increased by more than 400 miles and that they carried an increasingly heavier burden of total traffic.

The Highway Department disclosed that as of Oct. 1, 27,324 miles of State- and U.S.-numbered highways and 1,438 miles of Interstate Highways were in use in Texas.

This compares to 1,268 miles of Interstate and 27,071 miles of State and U.S. highways under rubber during the same period in 1964.

In the same vein, in 1964 the Highway Department recorded 4.3 billion vehicle miles driven on completed Interstate highways and 20 billion miles driven on all other completed Federal aid primary routes.

A sizeable increase is forecast for 1965. For Interstate highways, the estimate is 5.7 billion vehicle miles and for other Federal aid primary routes 21.4 billion vehicle miles.

Logically, the number of accidents and deaths should have increased in proportion to the increase in highway miles and driver miles.

This has not been the case, however. Experience has confirmed, and the DPS report reflected, that multi-lane divided highways, because of their built-in safety design, are 2 1/2 to 3 times safer than other types of highways.

Although traffic deaths on Interstate highways increased slightly from 82 to 86 in the first nine months of 1965, accidents decreased from 69 to 66, the DPS report showed.

More dramatically, for U.S.- and State-numbered highways, accidents dropped from 620 to 566 and deaths from 842 to 744. The Highway Department attributes a significant part of this improved record to the fact that more motorists are traveling over the newer and safer multi-lane facilities.

The report found a sizeable increase in both deaths and accidents in cities and a slight decrease in towns with populations less than 2,500.

City accidents went from 649 in 1964 to 680 in 1965. Traffic deaths in cities climbed from 722 in 1964 to 764 in 1965.

In areas with populations less than 2,500, accidents fell from 104 in 1964 to 99 in 1965. The deaths went from 128 to 117.

Although accidents on Farm to Market roads dropped from 163 to 152, fatalities increased from 193 to 199. The Department added 778 miles to the Texas highway Farm to Market system in the 12 months preceding Oct. 1, from 34,667 to 35,445 miles. On county roads accidents decreased from 110 to 97 and fatalities from 127 to 111.

Cuties-Dolls Meet in Benefit Game March 5

California Cuties, a novelty men's basketball team attired in ladies garments, will face the Clements Dolls at Wellington high school gym Saturday, March 5 at 7:30 p.m. in a mirthful contest local area cage fans will not soon forget.

The game sponsor is the Wellington Classroom Teachers Association, and proceeds will go toward the scholarship awarded to each worthy student each year.

Clements' Dolls include some of the Skyrocket stars of other years—men who at one time played basketball under E. W. Clement, then a coach, now principal of Wellington high school.

The roster is fast shaping up, although one or two additional cagers will be added.

The California Cuties cage squad, an off-shoot of their internationally famed softball aggregation, is a star-studded group of basketball stars built around a 6-foot, 8-inch center playing under the name of Dinah Sore. However, the team average dips considerably when Bouncing Beulah enters the line-up at 38 inches as one of the few midgets playing in the sport of giants today.

Rebound Ruby, more for show than for dough even though she watches the gate receipts like a hawk as originator and manager of the club, always finds time to play in every Cutie game—on the diamond or on the court. Portrayed by Trino Palacios, this former collegiate all-sports star is ageless in the sports world but admits only to 39 years.

Leaping Lena and Dump Dora usually handle the forward positions with Dump Dora, Blackboard Betsy and Lotta Fanny alternating with Ruby and Beulah. Sometimes, in the confusion and heat of Whatever the outcome of the game here Saturday night, the Cuties had a record of 130 victories against 5 defeats last year, and they hope to improve on that record this year.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) The scientists are now working on such propositions as steering hurricanes away from populated areas, breaking up or preventing tornados and abolishing persistent smogs. Lets not say that they won't be able to accomplish these herculean feats. They can increase rainfall from certain types of clouds by 10 percent and lessen crop damaging hail and reduce the number and danger of lightning bolts in thunderstorms.

Hearing the loud claps of thunder and noting the intense flashes of lightning that occurred here during the last week in February, Calvin Hurst said he thought of digging his old tornado insurance advertisement out of his files and putting it in the paper even though it is two months until the tornado season starts here officially. As a matter of fact, tornados can occur at any time of the year and they have been recorded many times in every state of the union except Hawaii.

March blew in with its usual gusto; but March 2, Texas Independence Day dawned clear and serene to mark the 130th anniversary of this historic date.

People do a lot of talking about the need of birth control in view of an exploding world population that threatens most of mankind with starvation; but only one nation is doing anything about the problem. That is Denmark. They have established a program that sterilizes the unfit. This includes mental defectives, normal people with hereditary defects, the chronically jobless, alcoholics, criminals and others. The program is aimed less at improving the race than at improving family life and preventing the spread of disease and crime.

Glenn Shelton, columnist for The Wichita Falls Record News says that our vast stockpiles of food are steadily diminishing and predicts that the retired acres may be needed at an increasingly accelerated pace from now on. That is substantially what I have been saying for over a year; but you can't tell that Washington knows anything about it by reading the ASC regulations of retiring grain sorghum acres for the 1966 crop year.

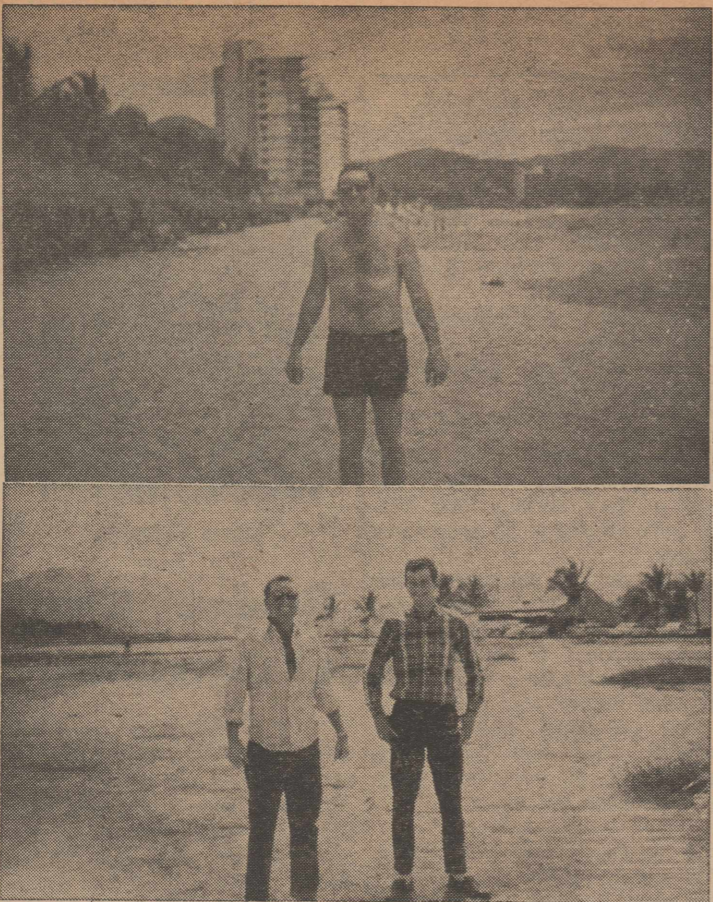

Perhaps columnist Shelton's prediction will have some validity next year. When and if it happens it should change the prosperity of agricultural communities rapidly.

Candler Hawkins of Missouri and any other state he happens to be at the moment was in town the other day and he and Luther Sullivan and I held a talkathon on our school days in Wellington and at West Texas State. Not so long ago he took a walking trip through the Big Thicket which is northeast of Houston and northwest of Beaumont. Candler says it is a genuine dense forest and is a place of great beauty. It has all kinds of animals and birds as well as a wide variety of plants. Giant beech trees, leafy pines, wild magnolia and peach trees are only a part of the myriad flowering vines and plants. Sen. Ralph Yarbrough has introduced a bill in Congress that would make the Big Thicket a National Park.

We also started talking about how little so many Texans know about the beauty and scenic diversity of our state and its colorful history. There are people living right here in the Panhandle who know more about Colorado than they do about Palo Duro Canyon not to mention the Big Bend, the Guadalupe Mountains, the Davis Mountains, the hundreds of caves and springs, and the second largest coastline in the continental United States. Yes, that is correct; Texas has a longer coastline than California and is second to Florida among the 48 states south of Canada.

There are also people living right here in Wellington who know more about New Mexico and Arizona than they do about the beauty spots on Elm, Salt Fork and Buck Creek. This is ridiculous when you start thinking about it.

Different Sales Pitch: Patti Lacy, Mickey Ann Kendrick, Elaine Karnes and Debbie Lewis came by the house the other afternoon selling candy for the band.

FEBRUARY FUN — SI!

Two Wellington area men are shown having fun on the beach at Acapulco, Mexico, which they visited last week. Danny Davis, top, is just out from a swim in the famed Acapulco Bay. In the background are the thatched cabanas, for rent to tourists who prefer to lounge, and in the background are two of the ultra-modern high-rise hotels. Below is another show of Davis, left, and Douglas Seal, who lives south of Wellington.

Duo Visits Mexico City, Acapulco

Danny Davis or Rolla and Douglas Seale who lives south of Wellington returned Monday Feb. 28 from 10 days in Mexico City and Acapulco, Mexico. They made the trip by car and also visited Monterey and Saltillo.

In Acapulco most of their time was spent swimming along the beach of this world-famous resort, although they also toured the city and saw the high divers of Miramar. They visited many of the principal points of interest in Mexico City, including the Zocalo, or plaza on which many of the famous old buildings front, including the cathedral, which they visited, and the presidential palace.

They attended a bull fight in Mexico City, where they saw Antonio Ordenez of Andalucia, Spain, one of the famous bull fighters of the world, as the primero or first fighter of the session. Two other fighters were on the program, and each man had two bulls during the afternoon.

They also saw the horse races and visited the University of Mexico, noted for its tall buildings, some of them faced with tile murals by famous Mexican artists. It has an enrollment of 60,000.

The two are convinced that driving through is the best way to see Mexico.

FTA Members Attend State Meet in Austin

The Wellington high school chapter of the Future Teachers of America was represented by eight members at the annual state convention in Austin Friday and Saturday, Feb. 25 and 26.

Part of the group was picked up in Brownwood, where they participated in the Stage Band contest, and the next stop was at Fredericksburg for a traditional German lunch in a German cafe.

"It's a lovely place and all would have liked to spend some time there," they reported.

The FTA general sessions started Friday afternoon. After the night session, the group toured the State Capitol.

Saturday morning was given over to workshops. A general session speaker was Curtis Bishop, noted Texas author, who discussed "So You Want to Write."

"To try to write without knowing grammar is as ridiculous as trying to be an accomplished musician without knowing any music," he said.

When questioned about obscurity in literature, he said: "It really has no place and serves no purpose. I have had 45 books published and have never used a 'four-letter' word."

Saturday afternoon was spent visiting the University of Texas campus and other points of interest, when the convention closed with the presentation of awards Saturday night.

Those representing Wellington were Sarah Blackshear, Marilyn Philley, Linda Winton, Regina Ferguson, Peggie Crawford, Don Sweat, Nat Holton and David Groves.

Their sponsors were Mrs. Claude Groves, Mrs. Bernice Welch and Denzil Lacy.

Their proposition was that if we would buy the candy, they would play a tune for us. We bought and listened. If you want a few minutes of interesting, vivacious and cheerful entertainment you might invite the young ladies into your home.

Nipp, Jr., of the U.S. Army in Japan, and Bill Nipp of Abilene; three sisters and a brother, Mrs. Maggie Cherry of DeLeon, Mrs. Kate Valenta of Abilene, Mrs. Mildred Cooke of Seagraves, and Dean Gardner of DeLeon. Norwood Water Board Meets

A membership meeting of the Norwood Water Association was held Monday night, February 28 with 33 members present and an additional 48 proxies voted.

The vote was approved to extend the water line to the east to serve five new customers.

Money for this, $9,000, was approved earlier by the Farmers Home Administration and the action by the membership was a necessary step to make the funds available.

The water board, with Willie Knoll as chairman, met after the membership meeting and passed a resolution concurring with the membership vote.

She was born at Union Grove, Okla., and later moved with her family to the Vinson area.

Her first school was at Shiner, where she remained several years. She also taught for a long period at Bean Hill. Later she was in New Mexico for a short time.

She was a member of First Methodist Church and the Eastern Star at Lubbock.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist Church in Lubbock, with Dr. Paul Bumpers, pastor, and the Rev. Samuel P. Auslam, assistant pastor, officiating.

Her body was brought here and lay in state from late Friday until Saturday at 2 p.m., when burial services were conducted at the Independence Cemetery, near Vinson. The Rev. Ronald Crosley, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiated. Pallbearers were Buddy Yarbrough, Fred Yarbrough, Clarence Littleton, Hiram Cudd, Don Jones and Raymond Snider.

Miss Peters is survived by two sisters and a brother, Mrs. C. R. DeArmond of Lubbock, Mrs. Yarbrough and Vernon Peters.

Guard Unit Alert Called

Wellington's National Guard Battery A underwent a test alert Sunday, March 27, Capt. James Chappell, commanding officer, said.

The alert was sounded at 7:30 a.m. and by 9:30 forty-three of the 47 men had been accounted for.

"This was pretty good, for the men are scattered from Amarillo to Paducah to Shamrock," Capt. Chappell said. As this was a non-pay drill, the men were dismissed at 9:30.

Don Beck

Graduated from West Texas State University in 1958, Beck was backfield coach at Lockney one season, then went to Perryton, where he was backfield coach and head track coach three years.

In Wellington, he has an overall football record of 26 games won, 13 lost and 2 tied. In the 1965 season, his team lost only one game—the best season the Rockets have had. Beck has never had a losing season.

Year before last, Don Beck was named DuPont Coach of the Year for this region, part of a national awards program honoring outstanding coaches. He also has written for The Texas Coach, official magazine of the Texas High School Coaches Association.

In Wellington, Coach Beck and his wife, Zelda, have been active in the Methodist Church and for several years sponsored the MYF.
