

KELLY AND BATES BLAMED IN KIDNAPING

A Mirthful Moley

Prof. Raymond Moley, former head of the President's "Brain Trust," had a good laugh as he left the White House the other day. Not about the conference he had just attended, which concerned the serious business of inflation, but about a wise-crack tossed by one of the newspapermen who met him.

TAMPICO IS DAMAGED BY A HURRICANE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25.—The worst catastrophe in the history of Tampico was reported today in official dispatches describing a hurricane which destroyed "three fourths of the town with many dead." Martial law was declared. The dead was estimated at more than 100.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25.—Heavy damage and possible loss of life was feared today from a hurricane which skirted Yucatan, struck with force at Tampico and traveled northward across the State of Tamaulipas toward the Texas border.

It was the second disastrous storm to strike Tampico in little more than a week. All communication was interrupted. It was feared the region was hard hit.

Officials of the National Railways announced two rivers had flooded low-lying sections of Tampico with an indefinite number drowned and many homeless.

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 25.—Fear of heavy damage to Tampico was expressed here today in radio messages received by the Pan-American Airways. The message said wind estimated at 100 miles an hour swept the area.

League Bureau Name
Has Been Changed

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—The Interscholastic League Bureau of the University of Texas has lost its name.

Henceforth it is to be known as the Bureau of Public School Interests.

ELEVEN NEW TOPICS SENT LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—Eleven new topics were submitted to the state legislature by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today.

Bills already drafted by members on many of the subjects were attached.

The bills were received by the house of representatives a few moments after the house had voted against a resolution to adjourn a week from tomorrow.

In addition the governor has promised to submit a bill to regulate the distribution of machine guns.

Among the bills submitted today was one for cooperation in the national recovery program by limiting the hours of work of state employees and one for amendment of the cigarette tax law to continue payment of two per cent of collections for enforcement work. The old act suspends such payment in 1934.

Relief Manager
of Bexar County
To Be Quizzed

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—Tex Alsbury, Bexar County relief administrator who is reported to have said "to hell with the critics" when told of the Texas Senate relief investigation, today was subpoenaed to appear before the senate inquiry.

"We want to see how much relief funds have been allotted him and how they have been administered," said Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman.

Approximately $17,750,000 will be needed for relief in Texas during the six months, October 1 to March 31, Lawrence Westbrook testified today.

He said the figure was a maximum estimate.

El Paso Dairy
Cows Are Giving
Cod Liver Oil

EL PASO.—Twenty cows at an El Paso Dairy give cod liver oil. Of course, the product isn't exactly like that which comes from the fish, but milk from the cows is rich in Vitamin D—the vitamin doctors seek for patients when they prescribe cod liver oil. A quart of the milk is the equivalent of two teaspoons of oil, laboratory tests revealed.

Operators of the dairy learned from scientists' experiments that cows fed violet-ray-treated yeast for 90 days would produce milk containing Vitamin D. Twenty cows were selected, fed the yeast at a cost of 17 cents per day each, and at the end of three months their milk was marketed for children who dislike cod liver oil and for tubercular patients.

Governor of New Mexico Drops Dead

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 25.—Governor Arthur Seligman of New Mexico fell dead in his hotel room here today of heart disease. The attack came suddenly a few minutes after noon. The governor had been in good health and had come here to attend a meeting of bankers of the state.

HUGE SUNFLOWER GROWN

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo.—One of the largest sunflowers grown in this section of Missouri is exhibited here. The flower is 12½ inches across and in addition there is a two-inch fringe of petals.

AUGUSTA, Kan.—A three-legged Pekin duck is making friends with his webbed-foot brothers and sisters on the Will Church farm near here. Mrs. Church says the fowl is as healthy as any other in her flock.

GREEN LAKE, Wis.—A flour mill built on Silver Creek near Green Lake in 1848, just a few weeks before Wisconsin became a state, still is in operation. The pioneer mill is one of the few of its kind still standing.

AN EMPTY HONOR

After all, they couldn't let a perfectly good decoration go to waste. So here you see the solemn presentation—over an empty chair—of the medal struck as a tribute to the so-far-unnamed man (or men) who hit Senator Huey Long in the wash-room of the Sands Point Club on Long Island. Shown during the ceremony are, left to right, Owen P. White, principal donor of the medal; Edward Newell, president of the American Numismatic society, and George De Zayas, designer of the award.

Eastland County Relief Work Cost
3.02 Per Cent Paying Officer Says

In contrast to a reported average in excess of 6 per cent for most counties in Texas, administration of R. F. C. unemployment relief in Eastland county since its inception has been only 3.02 per cent, according to a detailed report issued over signatures of F. E. Harrell, county paying officer; W. W. Gilbert, county administrator, and A. Angus, bookkeeper.

The county received to Aug. 31, 1933, a total of $125,360.04, the report shows, which has been administered at a total cost of $3,843.22, or 3.02 per cent.

The report also reveals that more relief was handled out of the Cisco office at less expense than out of any other of the larger offices. Twenty-five per cent of the entire receipts were distributed from here at a total cost of $599.55, the tabulation shows. A larger per cent of the county population is served out of Cisco.

Of the administrative expense now incurred in the distribution, $275 per month is chargeable to salaries. There are three paid employees on the county staff. They are W. W. Gilbert, county administrator; W. Allison, investigator, and A. Angus, bookkeeper. The former is paid a salary of $125 per month and the latter two salaries of $75. Incidental expenses of $125 per month have been authorized, making the total cost of the upkeep of the county relief organization $400, if all the allotment for incidentals is used. This fund is to take care of stationery, postage, express, telephone and telegraph for all of the seven towns participating and the county office, the committee explained.

10 Month Period
R. F. C. relief work began in Eastland county 10 months ago, in November, 1932, and the report covers administration by the former setup under the Sterling regime and the present setup under the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission program.

In submitting the report, the county committee said: "Information on the administration and disbursement of R. F. C. funds in Eastland county has been given to the press from time to time, and the records have been wide open at all times to anyone sufficiently interested to look at them, in fact we are proud of our records and are pleased to have them scrutinized and commented upon."

"At this time we are submitting details as below, which date from the beginning, in November, 1932, to Aug. 31, 1933, the latest date for which the figures are tabulated."

Distribution of the total fund received by the county was as follows:

Office	Pct.	Amt.	Ad. Exp.
Cisco	25	$31,340.01	$ 599.55
Ranger	22	27,579.21	652.40

Duckett Installed
As Class President

The Men's 9:49 Bible class was opened by the new president, O. L. Duckett, at the regular meeting Sunday morning.

Hymns, "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul," prefaced the prayer by T. M. Johnson.

Mr. Boyd of Dallas and two local guests were introduced as visitors.

Special music, a duet, "Sweetest As the Years Go By," by Messrs. Pierce and Herring, was followed by the second number, "In the Garden," given by request, with the class joining in the chorus.

CAVALRY AND TANKS GUARD
CUBAN PALACE

HAVANA, Sept. 25.—Cavalry and tanks guarded the presidential palace today while the government negotiated with political leaders and sent troops to suppress half a dozen small provincial uprisings.

There was no indication that the negotiations were making progress toward ending the deadlock that had endured since San Martin took office.

Rumors of an impending major revolt persisted and caused the government to strengthen the palace guard.

Although a state approaching anarchy existed in the provinces there was not real threat to the regime.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Commanders of U. S. Naval vessels off Cuba have been authorized to act on their own initiative in protecting lives of Americans in emergencies, Secretary of State Hull said today.

'Walled Kingdom
of Kenedy' to Get A New Highway

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 25.—The "walled kingdom of Kenedy" at last will be penetrated by a state highway, thanks to the hurricane which recently devastated the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The "walled kingdom of Kenedy" is Kenedy county, in the valley, which in its entirety is owned by five families of wealthy cattle barons. John Kenedy is the largest land-owner. The county has but one road, a dirt road leading to Kenedy's palatial ranches.

Desiring to build a highway from Corpus Christi to Brownsville, the state was faced with the choice of two possible routes. The shortest was directly through Kenedy county. The other, 50 miles longer, would have to be built along the length of Padre Island.

Padre Island is a narrow, rattlesnake-infested strip of land stretching for 120 miles from Corpus Christi to Port Isabel. It is bordered on one side by the gulf, one the other by Laguna Madre.

The Kenedys and others of the county's cattle barons, including Rep. Richard J. Kleberg, declined to permit the state to build a road through the county. The state was unwilling to build one on the island, because of storm danger.

Meantime, motorists seeking to traverse the distance were forced to detour 50 miles around Kenedy county. The county is surrounded entirely by a barbed-wire fence, with occasional locked gates.

The 43rd legislature at its special session, however, decided that through Kenedy county would be the best route for the proposed Corpus Christi-Brownsville highway.

Col. Roscoe Turner
Sets Speed Record

FLOYD BENNET FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Col. Roscoe Turner today cracked the transcontinental airplane record when he arrived from Los Angeles at 11:43 E. S. T. His time was 10 hours and 5 1-2 minutes. The previous west-east record was Jimmy Hazelip's spectacular flight across the country August 29, 1932 when he traveled the distance, 2,250 miles in 10 hours and 19 minutes.

Works For Beer But Cannot Drink It

HOUSTON, Sept. 25.—State Representative John Mathis is an object of pity. As chairman of the Texas Liberal Legion, he worked so hard for beer he is unable to drink any.

Mathis fell ill after the beer campaign and his physicians ordered him to forego beer until he had fully recovered.

Target of Balked
Kidnap Plot

Southwestern desperadoes plotted to kidnap Peggy Ann Landon, above, 16-year-old daughter of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas in an effort to effect the release of several life-term convicts in the Kansas penitentiary. Governor Landon has revealed, naming Harvey Bailey, alleged member of the Urschel kidnap gang, as one of the plotters.

One of Twin Cities "Money Changers" Released; Other Held For Trial.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 25.—Full blame for the $200,000 kidnapping and ransom of Charles Urschel was laid squarely on George (Machine Gun) Kelly, his wife and Albert Bates today as other defendants opened their desperate fight for freedom.

R. G. (Boss) Shannon, 54-year-old farmer, was the first of a long string of defense witnesses, including Harvey J. Bailey, who will seek to batter down the government conspiracy case against the remaining 10 Lindbergh law defendants.

Bailey's counsel made an opening statement for him, picturing him a victim of circumstances and in no way the "Master Mind" Bailey was waiting to testify.

Opening statements revealed a defense effort will be made to show that the objections of the aged grandmother of the fugitive Mrs. Kelly forced Bates and Kelly to take Urschel to a farm in Texas instead of one in Stratford, Okla., as planned.

Judge Edgar Vaughn opened the second week of the trial by freeing Peter Valder and holding for trial Isadore Blumenfeld, the two Twin Cities "Money Changers."

Counsel for the three Shannons, husband, wife and son, said they would testify that Mrs. Kelly lead them into the trouble that was climaxed by holding Urschel in captivity on their farm.

Bailey's counsel said that the defendant would explain he received the $700 in ransom money found on him when arrested, from a man in Kansas City who has since been killed by police.

Bailey will claim no connection with the crime and testify he knew none of the defendants before he was arrested.

DALLAS, Sept. 25.—Tom Manion, night jailer in the Dallas county jail during the imprisonment here of Harvey Bailey and a butcher friend, Grover Bevil, were indicted today by the county grand jury for aiding in the notorious prisoner's escape last Labor Day.

TEETH TO SPARE

The question, as to code agreements, "can they make them work?" will have an emphatic answer, if a state law written by Sen. Walter Woodward and Rep. Holland Bradley is enacted at this session.

This bill, patterned after the model recommended by the national government, would give the effect of state law to the codes of fair competition, and set up damage liability up to $5,000 per day, for violations.

It would give any man in business, who adheres to a code, the right to go to court to enjoin a competitor for violations. The attorney general and all district and county attorneys also could take the injunction case to court.

The bill has the unusual legal proposal that even where no actual damages are proven, a violator still would be liable for punitive damages.

The bill, to escape obvious unconstitutionality, has no penal provisions, but actual and punitive damages, and the mandatory requirement for injunction, and the enforcement power's extension to the bands of competitors, amply would make up for that.

This law would be in effect for the same period as the national industrial recovery act, that is, to June 16, 1935, unless the national act were earlier terminated by proclamation of the president.

The law leaves the anti-trust statute in effect, as to any combinations in restraint of trade not embodied in approved codes of fair competition; but provides that proof a business man is acting in compliance with the terms of an approved code as to the matter complained of will be a complete defense to any anti-trust proceeding in any court.

People during the voluntary period of the blanket code operation, have been asking whether, in the absence of definite police powers, recalcitrants or "chiselers" could be made to abide by the terms of the agreements. This bill, if enacted into law, will be a complete answer, so drastic that anyone who expected to stay in business would comply with it as an elementary act of self-preservation. The bill has teeth. It is all teeth.

INSURANCE LEGISLATION

Foreign life insurance companies, unwilling to do business under the state compulsory investment law, always send groups before the legislature trying to repeal the Robertson law. They claim repeal of the law alone will attain the end for which it was enacted, or having insurance reserves invested in Texas land notes.

There is agitation to get the old question up at this session.

Many of the foreign companies came back and are operating under the Robertson law. A few other foreign companies came in after the law was in effect. A number of substantial Texas insurance companies have been built up under the law. Only a few large eastern companies insist they will stay out until a regulation offensive to them is repealed. Apparently Texas is an attractive field, for they have spent much money in lobby activities trying to strike down the law.

This question is unnecessary in the present session, since it is sure the same old group that walked out of Texas will have their same old group on hand at the next regular session—and the next, and the next.

The question of repealing the compulsory investment law because it displeases certain insurance companies is very distinct from the regulation and taxing of insurance companies and the insurance business generally, and the efforts to confuse them, has been kept distinct in the minds so far.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

TO BE STEEPLE

Steady Smokers turn to Cam

NOT MANY OF US have the iron nerves necessary to be a New York steeplejack. But we can all take a tip from these dare-devils whose very lives depend on healthy nerves.

As James J. Dwyer tells it: "I've been climbing for years and smoking cigarettes even longer. I picked Camels because they're milder. And when I say milder I mean that no matter how many I smoke they never get on my nerves. What do I think about the air? Not much of anything. Worry? Not smoke Camels—and my nerves are OK."

You'll like Camels, too. Their costlier tobacco makes a difference. In taste. In mildness they never get on your nerves.

Martha Dorcas Bible Class

New Officers in Charge
The Martha Dorcas Bible class of the Methodist church Sunday school expressed their appreciation of the faithful services of their president, Mrs. W. E. Coleman, and her board of officers, who retired at this session of the class Sunday morning.

The incoming officers were presented by Mrs. Coleman, following the opening of the class procedure, with the hymn, ensemble, "Onward Christian Soldiers," prayer by Mrs. W. H. Mullings, and hymn, "Son of My Soul."

Special music, a duet, "In the Garden," was beautifully sung by Mrs. Sam G. Thompson and Mrs. Anna Perkins Stewart, with Mrs. Stewart at the piano.

The program was arranged and announced by Mrs. H. O. Satterwhite.

A letter of appreciation for the sympathy and kind offices of the class, received from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Marlow, was read by the president.

The letter referred to the recent death of Mr. Marlow's mother.

Mrs. Thompson gave a message of appreciation from Pastor Thompson, from Temple, in recognition of the class letter recently sent him.

New officers introduced by the outgoing president, presented Mrs. H. O. Satterwhite, president; Mrs. Ed T. Cox Jr., vice president; Mrs. L. A. Cook, second vice president; Mrs. J. Atchley, secretary-treasurer; Miss Ila Mae Coleman, assistant; Mrs. Jack Dwyer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Shupe, assistant; Mrs. C. W. Hoffmann, reporter; Mrs. Anna Perkins Stewart, pianist; Mrs. P. R. Cook, assistant; Mrs. C. C. Robey, class teacher; Mrs. W. H. Mullings, assistant.

Mrs. Coleman, in charming phrase, expressed thanks for the class support during her administration.

Mrs. Mullings on behalf of the class, paid a beautiful tribute to the work of Mrs. Coleman, and gratitude for same, of class members.

Mrs. C. C. Robey brought a powerful lesson from the theme, "Go Teach Ye All the People; to the Four Corners of the Earth."

The class prayer in unison, closed the session. The new officers take their places next Sunday morning.

Others present in addition to the foregoing were: Mmes. Francis M. Jones, J. J. Winkelman, Fred Michael, W. A. Hart, D. C. Hawley, Frank Pierce, W. B. Harris, L. A. Cook, Treadwell, D. J. Jobe, R. E. Harris, R. G. Porter, Ora B. Jones, Jack Noell, John McEachern, Guy Quinn, M. B. Griffin.

Boys and Girls World Club

An assembly was held in the Boys and Girls World club meeting Saturday morning in lower assembly-room of Methodist church, with the junior and primary engaged in vocational work.

The scrap-books of 25 leaves, both sides used, formed the lesson foundation by their director, Mrs. Fred Drago, in the meaning of the pictures as understood, and told by the children.

The content, of Bible scenes, verses, foods, beautiful flowers, pictures of missionaries, and foreign children, were each described. Of one religious subject, the children explained the motif, as "Children of One Father." A large picture of Christ was interpreted by them, as "Jesus, the Friend of Children."

Following this questionnaire the sand table was prepared for promotion day exercises, and placed in the primary room.

Several new songs were practiced. The children then gave a song program followed by the study of Scripture verses in song.

Hereafter the meetings will be held each Wednesday at 4 p. m., and the making of an Indian village will be commenced next Wednesday.

Mrs. Drago closed the meeting with a talk on the Sioux Indians, and story of a little Indian girl, "The Smile That Wadutah Wore." The meeting closed with a song prayer.

Booster Class Meets

The Booster Bible class of the Methodist church enjoyed a very fine song service at the opening of their meeting Sunday morning, conducted by their retiring president, Mrs. W. W. Kelly, and with Mrs. Neil A. Moore as pianist for session.

There was no lesson, the time being given to other features that developed.

A card of thanks in appreciation of flowers sent a member, was read, and a message from Judge Leslie was reported from Kentucky, that Mrs. W. P. Leslie is still in the hospital at Pikeville and is improving, but that the date of their return is uncertain.

Ed Willman presented the treasurer's report. A full statement of this report and money raised for charitable and other purposes will be given in full later on.

The class expressed their thanks and appreciation for Mrs. Kelly's able administration, in a rising vote.

Mrs. Kelly replied expressing her sincere thanks for the class co-operation during her regime.

The lesson, from Acts, was led by Mrs. L. Y. Morris, the class reading in response.

A round-table discussion conducted as a round-table discussion of the theme of lesson, "God's Message to All People."

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Price, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Willman, Mmes. C. G. Stubblefield, B. M. Collie, Edward Everett, Neil A. Moore, L. Y. Morris, Joe C. Stephens, Misses Mary Thompson, and Lillian Thompson.

Week-End House Party

Dr. and Mrs. E. Roy Townsend had as their guests over the week-end, their cousin, Mrs. Henry Zweifel, of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crawford and children, Mary Josephine and Diane, of Granbury.

Mrs. Crawford is the daughter of Mrs. Zweifel.

Promotion Day Methodist Church Sunday School

The Sunday school of the Methodist church of Eastland held their annual promotion day Sunday morning.

The entire attendance numbered 296 pupils.

B. E. McGlamery, superintendent of the Sunday school, stated that the young people's department, Mrs. E. C. Satterwhite, superintendent, does not promote.

This obtains also with the senior department, Mrs. B. E. McGlamery, superintendent. This department presented a missionary program on this occasion.

The cradle roll department had no program or promotions, on account of the unavoidable absence of their superintendent, Mrs. C. W. Hoffmann. These promotions will be made later.

The beginners' department, Mrs. Wood Butler, superintendent, Mrs. O. O. Mickle, secretary, promoted 16 pupils each presented their promotion certificate for the primary department.

There was an attendance of 36 children.

The primary department, Mrs. Fred Drago, superintendent, promoted 15 children to the junior department.

A program of worship was presented, followed by the observance of the birthdays of those born in the month of September, children of 7, 8 and 9 years of age.

The room was decorated with roses and flowering plants, and the large birthday cake, presented by Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Johnson, was served the class and the incoming children promoted from the lower department.

The birthday offering will be sent the Waco orphanage.

Jane Ferguson was at the piano for the music. The class has been greatly assisted throughout the year by Clara June Kimble.

There were 75 children and several guests in attendance.

The junior department, Mrs. Fred Davenport, superintendent, gave a very fine program, opening with the promotion prayer song, "In His Holy Temple."

Scripture reading of the 100th Psalm, Ernest H. Jones Jr.

Story of Our Bible, Jack Johnson.

Musical reading, Anna Jane Taylor, with Mrs. A. F. Taylor at the piano.

Song, by Mrs. Taylor's class of 10 girls.

The honor students were introduced. These children have memorized all the required work in the junior department, and fulfilled all other requirements. Personnel: Norma Mayes, Nan Mickle, Mary Nell Crowell, Anna Jane Taylor,

Senator Davis Goes to Trial Again

On trial for violation of the Federal lottery laws, United States Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania here is shown (left) leaving Federal court in New York with his counsel. A previous trial, involving his conduct of charity drives in the capacity of director general of a fraternal order, resulted in a mistrial nearly a year ago. Judge Johnson Hayes (lower right) of Greensboro, N. C., is hearing the present case.

Elizabeth Jones, Catherine Carter, Charlotte Ball, Bobby Leslie, Leon Hale, and Ernest H. Jones.

Of the 40 children enrolled, 22 were promoted to the intermediate department.

The intermediate department held no promotion day service, on account of the absence of their superintendent, Mrs. J. M. Perkins, who has been in Massachusetts several weeks.

The work is carried on temporarily by Mrs. W. A. Martin, and Miss Maurine Davenport, substitute superintendents.

TUC Will Have An Inexperienced Line This Season

By W. WINSTON COPELAND
United Press Staff Correspondent
FORT WORTH—The success of Texas Christian university's football team this year appears to depend on its line and how well young players hold up under severe fire.

The performance of several new comers in the victory last Friday over Austin college heightened the Frogs' outlook for retaining the Southwest conference crown and brought smiles to Coach Francis Schmidt.

Schmidt, however, is not holding out any false hopes. He realizes this year's squad so far does not measure up to last year's champions.

Particularly pleasing to Schmidt is the accurate passing of left-handed Dan Harston of Dallas. He also has fine running attack. Harston is considered the "find" of the year and may push the veteran Johnny Kitchen out of the full-back job unless Coach Schmidt finds a place for both of them.

The terial attack used in the first game, is taken as an indication Schmidt will resort to an open game this year. Most of his backs are light and fast, offering promise of a powerful broken field game.

Jack Wallace, Texarkana; Charles Casper, San Antonio, and J. Coleman, Waco, all veterans, are light and speedy backs. Once in the open either of the three are dangerous ball carriers.

An efficient short pass designed to enable his speed merchants to get through the first line defense is one of the angles on which Schmidt is expected to concentrate.

Kitchen, a good passer and a capable plunger, with several inexperienced but capable men make up the rest of the backfield material.

With two star ends, Captain Jack Graves of Beaumont, and Jack Langdon of Cleburne, as regulars and W. Myers of Jackboro, with two variety letters to his credit, and J. Jacks, Fort Worth, an experienced man, as substitutes, that department seems qualified to give a good account.

Consequently Schmidt is expected to give much attention to the line.

On the one-sided game with Austin college the line play was ragged with the opponents breaking through repeatedly to smear ball carriers.

Cy Perkins of Olney, is a veteran and strengthens one side of the line at tackle. At the other tackle there are several promising candidates but none with very much experience. Of these, R. Allison, Dallas, is the most experienced. He has yet to make a letter. His chief competition is from three new men, Willis Cannon, Fort Worth, Jury Truelson, Dallas, and M. Godwin, Hot Springs, Ark., each weighing 220 pounds.

Two lettermen guards, L. Bassinger of Fort Worth, and Bud Taylor, of Austin, got first call against Austin college. Each weighs around 180. P. Hill, 220-pounder from Pampa, is a promising heavyweight for a guard post.

If the tackle problem is quickly solved, Schmidt may be able to shift one of the heavier tackle candidates to a guard post.

Darrell Lester, a 200-pound sophomore from Jackboro, looks like the best bet for center, although Heard, Floore, a Fort Worth player with the squad last year, is a strong contender. Both lack polish and need experience.

With his first conference game set for Oct. 7 against Arkansas university, Schmidt will have much time to experiment with his men. His first two games of the conference schedule are against Arkansas and Texas A. & M., rated as the best teams in the conference. These games will be the real tests of his 1933 team, Schmidt believes.

Arlington Downs Is Ready For Racing Season

By United Press

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Tex. — Five feature days have been announced by Paul Waggoner for the racing meet here October 19 to November 11 which will mark the revival of legalized horse races in Texas.

Bookings have been made for 1,200 horses to compete in the meet and more are certain to be entered before the first barrier is lifted, Waggoner said.

The Arlington inaugural, opening the meet, will be attended by Vice-President John Nance Garner and Postmaster General James A. Farley. Two year olds and over will run six furlongs for a $1,200 added stake.

The Waggoner Handicap, October 28, for three year olds and over offers a $2,500 added purse for a mile and a sixteenth.

Texas Derby day will be November 4. It will be for three year olds at a mile and a quarter for $2,000 added.

Closing feature of the meet will be the Armistice Day Dallas Handicap for two year olds with a purse of $2,000 added for three-quarters of a mile.

No races will be held on Sundays, Waggoner announced. Seven races will be run daily with $600 to $800 purses posted, he said.

Construction has been started on 300 additional stalls costing $50,000. More than $300,000 has been spent in preparation for the meet, Waggoner said.

Second Saturday of the meet will be auction day for race horses.
