PAYS OFF ELECTION BET—Repeal advocate Dick Love followed his nose in Tulsa, in paying off a bet lost on the Oklahoma special repeal election. Love, a beer tavern owner, said the state would go wet. Friend Jack Rivers said, "no." Love paid for his bad guess. He had to root the five-gallon cask of beer two blocks on hands and knees. Love equipped himself with knee pads, gloves and tape on nose and chin.

Final Effort To Avert Walkout Will Be Made

Thousands Of Men Already Are Idle As Production Cut

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—The nation's CIO steelworkers are set to strike at midnight tonight for company-paid pensions and insurance. They say they'll settle for nothing less.

Eleventh-hour negotiations are deadlocked—but continuing.

U. S. mediators summoned union and management in a last-minute, all-out effort to avert the crippling walkout.

Already thousands of Philip Murray's steelworkers have jumped the gun in wildcat strikes.

Thousand Are Idle

Thousands more were forced into idleness as steel mills banked furnaces, cutting production to a trickle.

Picketing has started. Police guarded mills against possible violence.

Meantime, union and management stuck stubbornly to demands. No one hints at compromise. Both sides decline comment on everything.

Murray, United Steelworker union president, said glumly after another fruitless talk with U. S. Steel:

"I wouldn't even comment about hope at this time."

That's how bleak the picture is.

Issue Is Explained

The issue is a pension-insurance program. The union wants steel firms to adopt the formula set down by President Truman's fact-finding board. This is a 10-cent-an-hour contribution paid entirely by industry. The union says it's the minimum they'll take.

Big Steel rejected the proposal. Instead it offered a pension-insurance plan toward which employes would contribute.

Murray and his 500,000 steelworkers wouldn't buy that. They say:

Agreed To Truce

Twice Murray agreed to a strike truce, requested by Mr. Truman, while negotiations for a new steel pact continued.

Now—it's a contract or a strike. And, says Murray, if it's a strike the steel industry forced it on the workers.

Attendance At Big Show Past 59,000 Mark

New Mexico Day Is Set Saturday For Grand Finale

BY EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

Officials of the 32nd annual Panhandle-South Plains fair are still hopeful that the attendance mark will pass 100,000 before the gates are closed on the final performance Saturday night. Through Thursday night the gate recorded 59,968 visitors. Thursday accounted for 19,388 of this total.

Friday was dedicated to "College Day" and honored the colleges in the area. Friday was also known as Lubbock, Idalou and Shallowater day.

Season Handicap

Judging continued at the third annual rabbit and cavy show. Judge Fred Davis, Albuquerque real estate man, stated that the 189 entries were in exceptionally fine shape for this time of the year.

"Rabbits are at their best in the cold winter and spring months," Davis explained. "During the late summer their flesh falls off and they begin to moult. This detracts from their appearance."

"Despite the seasonal handicap the show here in Lubbock compares with any I have attended in the Southwest," Davis went on.

Judging was well advanced in the New Zealand White class this afternoon. The New Zealand Whites accounted for the greatest number of entries. Some classes had few exhibits. For example there was but one Angora and only three Checkered Giants. Even

Home Of Aged Pensioners Is Hit By Flames

Victims Scream In Agony; Neighbors Aid Rescue Work

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 30.—An ancient, two-story house, doing double duty as a convalescent refuge for old-age pensioners and as a rooming house, today became a death trap for seven of the 18 occupants when flames faned through it.

Three of the victims were a mother and her two small children, Mrs. Myrtle M. Hershey and Marion and Myrtle Marie. Five of the seven victims suffocated and two others burned to death. At least four more persons were hospitalized with minor burns and shock and exposure.

The husband and father of the Hersheys returned from his overnight work as firemen finished the grim task of removing victims from the debris.

Victims Of Blaze

The dead were identified as:

Myrtle M. Hershey, 25; Marion Hershey, jr., 26 months; Myrtle Marie Hershey, 9 months; Lorraine Ellis, 17; Owen Richards; Florence Richards, 85; Mrs. Cora Andrews, 68.

Those taken to the hospital were Mrs. Audora Bayse, owner of the house; Bert Morgan, 83; Charles Steele, 80; and Betty Fishback, 64. None was believed dangerously injured.

Mrs. Ola Jones, a neighbor, said she first became aware of the fire when Mrs. Bayse ran into the yard screaming for help.

Others Were Aroused

Other neighbors said they were aroused from sleep also as the fire broke out about 4:45 a. m.

In the early dawn a gathering of residents watched flames spread through the 50-year-old house and others made attempts to help the victims trapped in the building.

John Paulsen, a next-door neighbor, saved two of the people from the flames.

"I heard a woman scream for help and rushed to the front door of the house," he said.

Paulsen told firemen he pulled the two people from the first floor of the house but was unable to get to the second floor, where all of the victims died.

"The heat was unbearable," he said.

Another neighbor, Miss Helen Mitchell, 20, said the sight of women screaming and old folk running from the smoking structure

Truman Threatens Continued Session For Fair Deal Plans

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30—President Truman confronted Capitol Hill opponents today with a new threat to keep Congress in session until it enacts his entire "fair deal" program.

And, if that course fails, he said the Democrats "will win with that program" in 1950 and again in 1952.

In fighting words, he sounded the keynote for Democratic orators in next year's congressional campaigns at a testimonial dinner for the party's national chairman, William M. Boyle, jr. Boyle, like the President, is a Jackson county Missourian.

Free Press Claimed Need

The President, speaking last night at the end of a program in which a long list of talkers, including Vice President Barkley, preceded him also:

1. Promised to battle for measures to raise the country's income to $300,000,000,000 annually and establish "an income level in the country of $4,000 per family per year" which he said "is not a pipe dream."

2. Hinted that Barkley, a frequent caller on Mrs. Carleton Hadley of St. Louis, might be getting married soon.

3. Declared that the country needs a "real, honest free press" worse than anything in the world.

4. Said that in these critical days of an uneasy peace, "it is dangerous to try to go back" to the 1890 isolationist attitude and that the country must "catch up with the moral spirit that will match the material in which we live."

To Fight It Out

The dapper, gray-haired chief executive, speaking before several thousand of the party faithful, declared that his party will battle on for enactment of its 1948 platform pledges.

"Now, I have told the Congress and the leaders in the Congress that we are going to fight it out on that basis if it takes all summer and winter, and all next summer," he said.

Approximately 9,000 persons jammed into Kansas City's municipal auditorium to hear the speeches. Nearly 3,000 of them paid $15 a plate at the dinner to honor Boyle. They included cabinet members, other top-level Washington officials and governors from several states.

Mr. Truman came through with this comment on Barkley, who earlier addressed the celebrants as "fellow Missourians."

"We are glad . . . we are very glad that we have managed to get

Eight-Year-Old Son Discovers Bodies

Mother And Father Of Four Are Found Slain At Borger

BORGER, Sept. 30 (AP)—A man and his wife, parents of four children, were found shot to death at their home here today. An eight-year-old son found the bodies.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Harley Cummings. Cummings, about 32, was an oil field worker.

Sheriff Hugh Anderson of Hutchinson county said the body of Mrs. Cummings was on a bed. She was shot through the head with a .22 caliber rifle. Cumming's body was on the floor. A .22 bullet had pierced his head, above the right eye.

Both bodies were clad in nightclothing.

They were found at 7:30 a. m.

Sheriff Anderson did not contemplate making any arrests.

A coroner's verdict was not returned immediately.

Eight-year-old Gerald Cummings found his parents' bodies. He has two sisters and a brother. They are:

Harlene, 10; Linda Sue, 3, and Oliver, 5.

BIG MONEY MEASURE SPEEDED

European Aid Bill Gets Solons' Okay

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Congress sent to President Truman today the second of two bills designed to pump $7,124,000,000 into foreign recovery and military aid.

The President's signature was the only thing needed to start the dollars working in the giant effort to defeat Russia in the cold war.

The Senate completed action last night on a $5,809,990,000 program to bolster the economies of western Europe and other friendly nations.

Bill Is Approved

The big money bill was approved without a word of opposition. A short time earlier the House had passed the bill with critics taking only a brief final slap at the program.

Two days ago Congress authorized a $1,314,010,000 arms bill. The measure provides enough cash to start shipments of $450,000,000 worth of arms overseas. The rest of the money must be provided later by appropriation.

Government officials said yesterday the first arms cargoes will begin moving to Atlantic pact countries by mid-November. American military experts are due to go overseas in about two weeks to pave the way for these shipments.

Europe To Be Aided

Most of the recovery dollars will pour into western Europe. The Marshall plan nations will receive $3,628,380,000 in cash and have another $150,000,000 available in loans during the present fiscal year which ends next June 30.

The bill also contains:

$912, 500,000 for army occupation costs in Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyu islands.

$45,000,000 for Turkey and Greece.

$1,074,000,000 to cover economic cooperation administration costs during the last three months of the 1949 fiscal year which ended June 30.

$119,000 for expenses of a congressional watchdog committee staff to check on foreign aid spending.

BURNED TO DEATH

Youngster Joins Pal At Hospital

ABILENE, Sept. 30. (AP)—Donald Bynum, 5, was lonesome Monday when doctors took his next-door pal, Milly Adamy, 4, to the hospital.

Missing Guard Plane Sought

EL PASO, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—Nearly 50 planes are searching for a National Guard F-51 Mustang plane missing on a flight from Will Rogers field, Oklahoma City, to the naval air station in Corpus Christi, the Air Rescue service at Biggs field announced today.

Lt. C. A. Smith of the Rescue service said the plane left Oklahoma City at 1:35 p. m. and the last report on it was at 2:43 p. m. over Austin. He said the pilot of the plane made his position report, but did not say whether he was returning to Oklahoma City or continuing to Corpus Christi.

Planes Are Dispatched

"However, we are concentrating our search for the plane between Austin and Corpus Christi," Lt. Smith said.

The Biggs rescue service has dispatched two C-47s, a C-82, a B-14 and a helicopter to search for the missing pilot, whose name was not announced.

Goodrich Strike Is Called Off By CIO

AKRON, O., Sept. 30. (U.P.)—The CIO United Rubber workers today called off their strike against the B. F. Goodrich company which affected 17,000 workers in seven cities.

The strike began Aug. 27, and hit plants here, in Cadillac, Mich., Miami, Fla., Oaks, Pa., Tuscaloosa, Ala., Clarksville, Tenn., and Los Angeles.

Representatives of the union and the Goodrich company had been meeting daily at Dayton, O., in an attempt to settle the strike. No details of the settlement were announced immediately.

Theft Suspect Detained Here

When a 17-year-old youth showed up at county jail about 6:45 a. m. and asked for "work," Dep. Sheriff Lem Pounds looked him over, saw a patch over one eye, bloodstains on his clothing and nervousness in his eyes.

"You're tired now, and need a rest," the jailer said. "We'll let you rest awhile, then talk it over."

Pounds had received a call a brief time earlier saying a pickup truck had been run through a fence on the road north of Keeton Packing company about 5 a. m. and that a youth with blood-stained clothing was seen to walk away from it an hour later.

Admits Theft

While the youth was "resting," the sheriff's department investigated further, then confronted the youth with an accusation of theft of the pickup.

The youth, identifying himself as Hobart Wickens, of Kansas City, told Pounds he had stolen the pickup in Young county, from two men who operate a gasoline service station.

Further, he told officials he was under parole in a Kansas burglary conviction.

At first, he had attempted to convince investigators he was a hitchhiker who was riding in the pickup with a man who "ran off" after the crash.

Negro Surrenders

Sheriff Grady Harrist informed Young County Sheriff C. R. Bunnell, who said he would leave Graham today for Lubbock and further investigation into the case.

Montgomery county officials were informed by the sheriff that

South Texas Wire Service Disrupted

DALLAS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Hundreds of South Texas communities were practically cut off from outside communications today by disrupted wire service.

The Western Union reported 200 of its circuits went out about 1 p. m. (CST). The exact cause was not immediately known. Western Union said the break was between Temple and Austin.

Southwestern Bell Telephone company wires also were out to many points. Most Associated Press wires in South Texas were out. Only one of four Associated Press wires into Houston was operating.

A long distance call from Houston had to be re-routed in a very round about way to Dallas.

Famed King Ranch To Restrict Deer Hunts

KINGSVILLE, Sept. 30. (U.P.)—The office of the largest ranch in the world said today that deer hunting on the King ranch this season would, with few exceptions, be limited to residents of Kleberg county.

It was explained in a statement to the press that exploratory and development work in oil and gas fields makes it too dangerous for the men at work to permit hunting with high powered rifles.

As in the past, ranch guides familiar with the ranch will accompany hunting parties.

Crazed Rail Worker Is Killed In Fight

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 30. (U.P.)—A berserk railroad brakeman, using lighted signal flares and a hammer as weapons, attacked the engine crew of a speeding freight train today and was killed during a desperate struggle in the locomotive cab.

Kenneth W. Hopkins, 35, Portland, died at the Salem, Ore., hospital of injuries inflicted by fellow crewmen who fought for their lives.

PARTIAL STRIKE HALT ORDERED

102,000 Miners To Start Work Monday

(By The Associated Press)

John L. Lewis put 102,000 of his striking United Mine Workers back in the pits today in the first break of the 12-day-old coal walkout.

A word from the UMW chieftain narrowed the nationwide strike to the industrially-vital bituminous fields of the central-eastern region of the United States.

Lewis ordered 80,000 eastern Pennsylvania anthracite miners and 22,000 bituminous diggers west of the Mississippi to resume work Monday.

A telegram to presidents of UMW districts announced the action Lewis said:

"The suspension of mining in the western and anthracite areas is not now vital to the pending wage negotiations."

Nearly 400,000 other UMW members in the bituminous fields apparently were set to continue their crippling "no day week" which began September 19.

Sympathy Walkout

Western bituminous diggers and the antracite workers walked out in a sympathy move when diggers quit the mines to protest failure of southern operators to contribute to the union's welfare fund.

Nearly 15,000 non-union miners are continuing to provide a trickle of soft coal to the fast-dwindling national stockpile.

This meager activity in the fields caused tempers to flare.

Dynamiting, rifle-fire, and rock-throwing became more common in the nation's coal fields. Prospects of an early settlement of the UMW's "no pension no work" dispute grew more remote.

At White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where UMW Chief John L. Lewis has been holding sporadic contract talks with northern and western operators, both sides freely admitted yesterday they

Busy Little Thief Now Rests In Jail

BELO HORIZONITE, Brazil, Sept. 30 (AP)—Francisco de Paula, a busy little man, had a busy weekend at a brick factory, while everybody else was away. He stole 60,000 bricks, hundreds of tiles and a donkey.

Busier than ants at a picnic, he carried away the bricks. Then the tiles. And then the donkey. As he led the animal away he met an old acquaintance, the policeman on the beat. Now he is resting in jail.

Tech Conducts Class Election

Only three students received wide enough margins to be certified as class officers following an all-college election on the Texas Technological college campus this week, Curtis Sterling, president of the student council, revealed today.

Announcement of the three as well as the names of those to be voted on in a special run-off election Tuesday was delayed while council members checked eligibility of the candidates.

Candidates Elected

Already elected by sufficient margins were Ralph Lacy, textile engineering student from Goldsmith, as junior class president and Alvin Davis, Post, vice-president of that class; Earl Hutcherson, Lubbock, was elected vice-president of the sophomore class.

Run-offs for the other positions will be held at 5 p. m. Tuesday by secret ballot, Margaret Clark, secretary of the student council, announced. Representatives to the Association of Women students were also voted on this week, but eligibility standings were still being checked this afternoon.

Candidates for senior president in the run-off election include Arthur Busch, a New Mexico student, and Harold Luke, Muenster. Sophomore presidential hopefuls are Bob Schmidt and Jim Choate, both of Lubbock, while Harold Brannon and Bo Kennedy will

Return Of Raider Player Is Delayed

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 30. (AP)—Plans to return Don Williams, Texas Tech guard, injured in last Saturday's game with Texas A. & M., to Lubbock were cancelled today because of the player's condition.

The husky 210-pound line star from Phillips, one of the Red Raiders' outstanding players, will remain at Baptist Memorial hospital until he has shown more improvement from a knee operation last Sunday. Williams' left leg was stil swolle ntoday and the danger of infection caused the change in plans to fly him back to school.

Williams underwent a three-hour operation following the game for repair of torn ligaments and cartilage in his left knee and ruptured blood vessels. The injury occurred when he was blocked by one of the Aggie Players.

Williams, who was being fed intravenously yesterday, has given up hope of playing again this season, it was stated. A junior, he has one more year of eligibility with the Raiders.

Water Rights Warning Given

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30. (AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel warned West Texans today that the invitation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to the Department of the Interior to "step in and take over our watersheds is setting a dangerous precedent."

Daniel, addressing the Rotary club here departed from his script on the controversy with the federal government over ownership of oil tidelands to point the parallel in ownership and administration of water rights.

Invitation Called Dangerous

"There is great danger in the states not exercising their own responsibilities on rivers and watersheds," Daniel insisted, "and the invitation from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to Secretary of Interior Krug is a dangerous thing.

"The department of the Interior holds the theory that the federal government already owns and has the right to control the waters in our rivers. This is absolutely contrary to the Texas constitution and laws governing riparian rights on our streams.

"We have only ourselves to blame if these people try now to take over our riparian rights."

Daniel described such state-created agencies as the Lower Colorado River authority as "certainly having done a splendid job of building dams and operating them for the three-fold purposes of flood control, soil conservation and proper use of the water."

Fight Is Urged

"If water conservation projects in West Texas are financially feasible," he reasoned, "then West Texans certainly have the initiative to finance, build and control such projects themselves under state and local management."

He insisted that 'every Texan

Five Hurt In Kansas Automobile Accident

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 30. (U.P.)—Five persons were hospitalized today with injuries they received when a partially-paralyzed World War II veteran lost control of his specially-equipped convertible.

Sheriff's deputies said the car was furnished by the Veterans administration and driven by M. J. O'Connor, 28, who is paralyzed from the waist down. He and four passengers in his car were hurt.

Witnesses said the convertible was traveling about 80 miles per hour near the Wichita city limits when O'Connor swerved to avoid hitting a truck.

They said the convertible went into a dith and rolled about 300 feet before it struck an embankment.

Use Of Surplus Buildings Would Cut Cost

Gov. Shivers Proposes Plan To Save On Hospital Needs

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 — Gov. Allan Shivers yesterday advanced a plan to meet Texas state hospital needs, including a long-range building program, for less than the anticipated $40,000,000.

Shivers said he believed the figure could be cut by state acquisition of surplus buildings from the federal government.

He said many millions of dollars could be saved if the state could take over McCloskey hospital at Temple.

At a session next January, the legislature must act on operational appropriations for the second fiscal year of the biennium, which were red-penciled by the late Gov. Beauford Jester.

Operational needs came to some $18,000,000, while long-range building needs were pegged between $21,000,000 and $23,000,000.

Following his news conference yesterday, Shivers left for Tyler, where he opened the Texas Rose festival today.

At noon, he was to leave Tyler for Lufkin to attend the

Scientists Being Trained For Job In Case Of Atomic Attack

FELIX COTTON
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—Government agencies revealed today that a small pool of highly skilled personnel is being trained to cope with deadly radiation if atomic attacks should come.

This is part of the civilian defense program which is being prepared under the overall direction of the National Security Resources board, of which presidential assistant John R. Steelman is acting head.

Agencies cooperating in the work are the atomic energy commission. The defense establishment and the public health service.

Objectives Explained

Officials said the problem takes three directions: training of personnel; further research to learn more about the effects of radiation and atomic attacks, and dissemination of information so that the public will know what to do and how to minimize radiation injuries.

Thus far the whole effort is in its initial stages. Officials explain that much more will have to be done before plans approach maturity.

The undertaking is apart from the indoctrination of troops, as part of their training, on what to do in case of an atomic attack and what to avoid.

Troops are told, for example, to stay away from salt where an attack has occured. Tests at Bikini showed that salt, or in fact anything containing sodium or potassium, soaked up radioactivity avidly.

Scientists Trained

The AEC has training programs for scientific personnel: the fellowship study plan under attack in Congress some time ago because three communists were found in it; short one month courses given highly skilled people in radio-isotopes and radiation effects at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Fellowship enrollees this year in biological and medical studies in atomic energy total 223, of whom 15 are taking special thorough studies in health physics. More are expected.

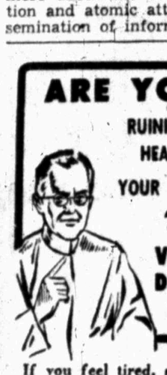

More than 300 people have taken the Oak Ridge course thus far.

The defense establishment and the Public Health service are beginning to train doctors in what to do in case of atomic attacks. A small number of Army and civilian doctors are receiving instruction.

The NSRB says that it will be up to the states to make use of federal civilian defense plans for atomic attacks or any other kind of warfare. Government Officials are steering clear of any jurisdictional squabbles with states over civilian defense.

LAFB Authorized To Hire Civilians For Special Work

Temporary authority has been granted for the employment at Lubbock Air Force base of a number of workers in various specified positions. Applicants for the listed jobs will be accepted through Wednesday, Oct. 5, at the Civilian Personnel office in Building T-1. Applicants must be disabled veterans, veterans or non-veterans who have a permanent civil service status.

Positions now open are: aircraft junior woodworker and and woodworker, grade 10, $1.05 per hour and grade 15, $1.27 per hour; office and appliance repairman, grade 15, $1.27 an hour; hospital attendant, female required, grade 3, 76 cents per hour; machine shop benchworker, grade 16, $1.31 per hour and aircraft metal tubing former and cable worker, grade 12, $1.14 per hour.

Prior Experience Needed

Among the requirements for the woodworker jobs are at least three years of progressive experience for the grade 10, which may include apprenticeship as a cabinet maker, wood pattern maker, or wood model maker, and four and one-half years of progressive experience for the grade 15. This must include at least one year in aircraft wood work. In either of these grades an applicant may substitute for six months of the wood working experience a six months course successfully completed in wood working at a resident trade school above high school level.

Applicants for the job of office appliance repairman must have twenty-four months of experience in the maintenance repair and complete overhaul of office appliances and machines. This experience must have included the machining of parts necessitating the use of power driven metal working machinery and welding and brazing broken castings and other machine parts.

No experience or training is required for the hospital attendant, but additional credit will be given if the applicant has had experience in this or related work. The applicant must demonstrate ability to read and write to a degree sufficient to perform the duties of the position. These include duties in immediate contact with patients such as to feed, bathe, dress and undress; to make beds; collect, sort and distribute linens and clothing; and to perform routine ward work, such as sweeping, scrubbing, mopping and polishing floors, and maintaining furniture, equipment and utensils in a clean and orderly condition.

The machine shop benchworker applicants must have completed a four year apprenticeship in the trade or must have had four years of practical experience in the trade sufficient in content and progressive acquirement of trade skills to be the substantial equivalent of a completed apprenticeship. The experience must have included working from sketches, drawings, blueprints, diagrams, etc.

The applicant for the position as aircraft metal tubing former and cable worker must have three years of experience under the general supervision of a crew chief, splice, wrap and solder flexible steel cables; bend, bead, flare and square all types of fuel pressure and vacuum line cables; flare and square all types of fuel pressure and vacuum line cables; sweat solder fittings to cables; repair throttle mixture, carburetors, hot and cold air cables, oil temperature regulator cables and install cables and tubing in aircraft.

New Plan Of Nationalism And Communism Advanced By Tito

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Russia's abrupt cancellation of her treaty of friendship with Yugoslavia, thereby setting a fiery example which her satellites may be expected to follow, further tightens the banishment of Marshal Tito from the bolshevist fold.

The Yugoslav dictator now is decidedly on his own until he makes new friends who at this stage obviously must come from the democracies. I imagine his sensations are something like those of your correspondent one day in the first World war when he got caught in the middle of a German barrage of high-power shells. I wasn't exactly lonesome, you understand, but did have a feeling that I could do with a little friendly encouragement.

Charges Are Hurled

Thus far the only kindly word Tito has received from his old comrades is contained in an article published by "The Literary Gazette" in Moscow. The Gazette says history soon is going to offer him a choice—"either rat poison, like Hitler, or a soaped rope, like Mussolini." The article adds that "there is good reason for the Belgrade dwarf to go crazy."

Moscow accused Tito of lining up with "foreign imperialist circles." Specifically Russia charges that the Budapest treason trial of former Hungarian Foreign Minister, Laszlo Rajk, sentenced to death last Saturday, disclosed that Yugoslavia has been carrying on hostile activity against the Soviet Union.

Yugoslavia also has friendship and mutual aid pacts with Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania. In the natural course of events all these neighbors also will cancel their treaties.

Refuses To Surrender

Well now, the significance of all this lies in the real reason for the break between Russia and Yugoslavia which came into the open in a big way in June, 1948. That was when the Moscow dominated Cominform expelled the Balkan state from membership.

The cause of that expulsion was Tito's refusal to surrender Yugoslavia's national sovereignty to control of Moscow. He maintained that his country's internal affairs concerned her alone, and that she would accept no dictation. In other words he was pursuing nationalism in building his Communist state, whereas Russia's whole effort is centered in international Communism under which every country would take its orders from Moscow.

This means Tito has inaugurated a new brand of Communism for his state. And that, of course, is a turn of events which is of vast importance to the western nations. Observers are speculating whether the Yugoslav dictator's example may inspire other discontented satellites to try to follow suit in maintaining their nationalism.

GUESSES WEIGHT WELL

WHEELING, W. Va. (U.P.)—Jack Naru is a weight-guesser but not the type who passes out bric-a-brac if he misses by three pounds. As an employe of the state road commission, Naru must estimate the tonnage of all vessels going over a steel bridge to Wheeling Island. The limit is 16 tons and Naru has a good eye.

Compensation Asked By John Kimbrough

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30 (AP)—John Kimbrough, the former Los Angeles Dons fullback who retired with a knee injury this year, has filed a novel claim. He wants workman's compensation from the California Industrial Insurance commission.

If his claim goes through, Jarrin' Jawn would be paid $30 a week and medical expenses, deputy Commissioner Clell McCredie says.

Attorneys in the case disclosed last night that it may open a new income source for pro gridders permanently benched with injuries. Hearing was set for Nov. 9.

Kimbrough, former Texas A. & M. All-America, played three years for the Dons before the injury put him on the shelf. He owns a 1900 acre cattle ranch at Haskell, Tex., and is a distributor for an oil company.

Test-Tube Babies For Spouses Only, Church Head Rules

CASTEL, Gandolfo, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Roman Catholic church has put the stigma of immortality on test tube babies unless the man and woman involved are married.

Pope Pius XII last night told delegates to the fourth international congress of Catholic doctors that in the eyes of the church artificial insemination is permissible only when necessary to "fulfill the work of nature"—the fertilization of a wife by her husband.

"Only spouses have the right to unite their flesh to generate a new life," the Pope said. "If the active element (the sperm) has to be taken from a man to fecundate a woman, this constitutes a sin against nature."

The pontiff said the church considered as illegitimate any child produced by artificial insemination if the donor of the male sperm is not married to the child's mother.

Service For Former C-C Leader Slated

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30. (U.P.)—Services will be held today for W. T. Wheeler, 71, manufacturer's representative for Lehigh steel company and onetime West Texas Chamber of Commerce leader.

He died at a hospital yesterday at the age of 71.

Wheeler organized the Texas Highway association in the 1920's and, additionally, was a former assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The THA was disbanded after it had attained its announced goal, several state highway designations.

Condition Of Polio Victim Is Critical

The condition of five-year-old Ray Young, jr., of Clovis, N. M., today was reported to be critical by attendants of Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he was admitted as a polio patient Tuesday.

He was brought to Lubbock by his parents for observation after he had become ill early Tuesday. He was placed in a respirator about 6:15 p. m. Thursday after his condition became serious.

Young Mother Is Frightened By Desperate Need To Get Away From Responsibility

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 25, have been married six years, have three bright, happy, sunny children—ages 5 years, 3 years, and six months—and I want to be a good wife and mother, but I don't seem able to carry my share of responsibility.

I'm no good at being economical; no good at being a patient, infinitely loving mother; no good at giving my husband a helping hand. I am short-tempered, moody, discouraged and depressed; yet all around me I see women meeting difficult situations graciously, while I get progressively worse.

I go into fits of dark depression and during the last two months I feel quite violent, which frightens me. I feel I'll explode if I don't get more space and quiet, and I am dreadfully tired all the time. My mother says it's gotten to be chronic tiredness, but my husband feels he is to blame.

SHE WAS NEUROTIC PRIOR TO MARRIAGE

I MET Sam when I was 19 and knew nothing of the facts of life—as I was an only child in the midst of elderly folk and never had gone out with boys. I had always been miserable, easily depressed, overly sensitive, and not proficient at anything. And my mother had always made me feel guilty and conscience stricken if I didn't do just what she wanted.

Sam is a dream husband, good-looking, amusing, absolutely faithful, kind and understanding. He has loved me and has been gentle and patient, but lately he says my moods are too much for him; they make him very nervous. I still love him but I am so terrified of having another child that I have become frigid. He works night and day to support us, so I don't see him often, and we have no social life at all.

We live in a one-bedroom apartment and I have to take the children to the park to play. Large apartments at reasonable rents are hard to find. They really are wonderful children, and I do love them and Sam, and I want a gay, happy home. But is there any hope of orienting myself to a full family life? Or would it be better for them if I took my gloomy ego far away? Signed: F.R.

SHE IS BURDENED BY COMPLEX STRESS

DEAR F. R.: You have two kinds of a problem here. First, an actual problem of severe physical and nervous strain, imposed by poor housing, financial pressure, insufficient rest and too little recreation or adult companionship; and to cap it all, dislocated relations with your husband, due to fear of begetting more children than you can't afford.

Secondly, and equally wracking, is the problem of your sick personality, which you recognize was a chronic affliction even before you married and began to try to manage a growing landslide of literal worries. Also, as you astutely sense, this bias towards misery stems from your unwholesome rearing, which conditioned you to feel like a helpless infant, a trying nuisance, a complete ignoramus, a guilty failure, a "no-count" social misfit, etc., in any situation or relationship. Isn't that correct?

The general tenor of your letter is fixedly self-damning, guiltily and abjectly so. You haven't a good word to say for yourself, and hardly a straw of hope for self improvement up to par. And that despairing attitude of self rejection, habitual to you, is at the core of your emotional illness or progressive depressions.

INNER CONFLICT ADDS TO FATIGUE

SINCE YOU'VE produced three bright, happy, healthy children in rapid succession, it seems likely that you are a vigorous specimen fundamentally, but the well-spring of pessimism in your soul paralyzes your energies when you see hardships to be met. And it is the deadlock between conflicting forces in your nature that causes you to feel "explosively" tired.

For advice: You need Sam and the children and they need you, and while there is life there is every reason to bank on building sound social health, if you keep trying. But right now you urgently need good psychiatric help in sorting out the various "parts" of your complicated anxiety, so that you may clearly decide what childish tag-ends to discard, and which to work on practically. And I hope that Sam, through his service connections, can locate an able specialist to "sieve" the problem.

Prayer Week Topic Is On Evangelism Work

"Gleams of the Lone Star in Evangelism" was topic of the Week of Prayer program presented by First Baptist Women's Missionary society Thursday afternoon at the church.

The Blanche Rose Walker circle was in charge of the program and parts were presented as follows: "A Star of First Magnitude," Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson; testimonies from district missionaries on what the Mary Hill Davis offering has meant to rural churches, Mrs. R. H. Ewing; and "Radiant Rays in Rural Ways," Mrs. T. K. Martin. The opening meditation was by Mrs. Gerald Schantz.

Church Classes

Mrs. Gradie Bownds, using the theme, "Path of Christ," installed the following officers of First Baptist Euzelian class at a Thursday afternoon tea given in the home of Mrs. O. A. Woody, 2806 Twentieth:

Mesdames Dick Heath, teacher; B. T. Rucker, assistant teacher; Jimmie Jones, president; Jerome Fuquay, H. A. Padgett, H. J. Bingham, T. O. Harrell, O. A. Woody and George B. Long, vice presidents; A. M. Hall and Pina M. Jenkins, secretaries; J. J. Scharnberg and Wayne Ashley, extension chairmen; Albert Hastings, historian; Oliver Cates, members-in-service chairmen; and H. C. Girod, reporter.

A centerpiece of pink roses and pink candles decorated the tea table at which Mrs. Bownds presided. Guests were Mrs. J. C. McEntire and Lillian Wilkinson.

The Evangel class of First Baptist church had a dinner and installation ceremony Thursday night at the Chicken Village. Twenty nine members and six guests, Mesdames Bill Mead, Troy Enis, Allen Bryant, A. C. Bowden, John Chapman and James Halliburton, attended.

Mrs. Bowden installed the following officers: Mesdames Mack Mead, teacher; Morris Clinton, president; Trenton McCurry, Troy Bowers, Wayne Pharr, and J. W Kinard, vice presidents; C. F. Garner and W. T. Holder, secretaries; R. C. Fields, extension chairman; Lloyd Stinson, reporter; and B. D. Locke, L. V. Risinger, jr., Norman Harp, O. W. McWilliams, R. C. Johnson, J. C. Youngblood, John Perry and Ted Long, group captains.

A gift was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Jimmie Lumus.

Brunch Is Given For Miss Betty Jenkins

Continuing a series of parties for Miss Betty Jenkins, bride-elect, Mrs. R. C. Tucker and Mrs. W. F. Eisenberg gave a brunch Thursday morning in the home of the latter, 2214 Sixteenth. Garden flowers were decorations.

Attending were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Arthur Jenkins; her grandmothers, Mrs. Stanley Hays of Elizabethtown, Ky., and Mrs. Leila Jenkins of Harlan, Ky., and Mesdames Bill Franklin, O. P. Harlan, jr., Fray Smith, Ray Collier, Elmer Reed, jr., and Sidney Brown.

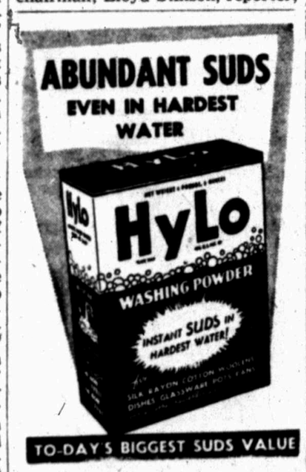

Election Of Officers Is Staged By Club

Broadview Sewing club elected officers in the home of Mrs. L. M. Alexander Sept. 28 as follows:

Mesdames Floice Drake, president; O. B. Wright, vice president; L. A. Akins, secretary; D. L. Watkins, reporter. Club pals' names were revealed.

Mrs. E. L. King was a guest. Fourteen members were present.

The club will meet with Mrs. John Ballard Oct. 12 at 2 o'clock.

Sale Of Tickets For Lubbock Little Theatre Begins Today

Sale of season tickets to the Lubbock Little Theatre's productions to be presented during the season opening in October opened today and will continue through Wednesday.

Tickets will be on sale from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 3 to 6 p. m. each day through Wednesday, except Sunday, at the Charles W. Aydelotte agency at 1313 College Ave., telephone 4208, said Leon Harris, chairman of ticket sales for the association.

Sell Exchange Tickets

In addition, members of Lubbock Optimist club, which is sponsoring the Little Theatre again this year, and Little Theatre members are selling exchange tickets, which may be exchanged at the Aydelotte agency for season tickets for reserved seats. Exchange tickets do not specify a seat. Price is $6.50, allowing purchaser a savings of $2.50 if bought instead of individual reserved seats for each performnace. Reserved seats tickets cost $1.80, general admission tickets cost $1.20, and student tickets, 60 cents.

Five performances to be presented by the Little Theatre will be given in O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium rather than Senior High school auditorium this year.

Last year's reserved seats tickets holders who filled in requests at the last play of last season for their same seats this year were asked to call the Aydelotte agency as early as possible. Due to change in auditorium, they will need to select similar seating arrangement; at O. L. Slaton Junior High school Also, many records were lost during flood conditions in Green Acres in May and among them were written requests for seats for this year. That makes it all the more important that the people who have previously requested reserved seats tickets telephone 4208, said Harris.

Plays For Season

Plays of the season will be "Ah Wilderness," a comedy, Oct. 10 and 11 at 8 p. m.; "The Male Animal," a satire, Dec. 12, and 13; "The Heiress," a drama, Feb. 13 and 14; "The Late George Apley," a comedy-drama, April 10 and 11, and "Command Decision," a drama, June 5 and 6.

Lubbock Little Theatre, incorporated under Texas laws, is a non-profit organization. No individual participating earns money for their work and voting membership is obtained by purchase of a season ticket. Special financial assistance is given through patron contributions in amounts of $25 or more. Patrons are given two season tickets in appreciation.

Bogart Charge Is Thrown Out

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (U.P.) — Assault charges brought by a pretty model against movie tough guy Humphrey Bogart were thrown out of court today.

Magistrate John Sharkey dismissed the case, saying Bogart was only protecting his own property" when he floored Robin Roberts, 23, in a night club tussle over a toy panda.

"To my mind, the night club press agent created the entire situation," Magistrate Sharkey said.

Others Kept Waiting

Dressed in a gray flannel suit, light blue shirt, and bow tie, Bogart showed up at 11:30 a. m. and posed for photographs on the courthouse steps.

"Say I'm smiling," he said.

Bogie had kept all the other principals in the case waiting since 10 a. m., including the complainant, sultry brunette Robin Roberts, 23.

Miss Roberts, who claims Bogart roughed her up in a tussle over a toy panda, was dressed stunningly in a black broadcloth suit with white ermine collar and cuffs and white ermine on a black hat.

She had sat in a back row of the courtroom awaiting the screen bad man's appearance and chatted gayly with a girl friend, who was expected to testify for her about the brawl in the club El Morocco.

Bogart's companion on the night of the panda pandemonium, Billy Seeman, also had been on hand early.

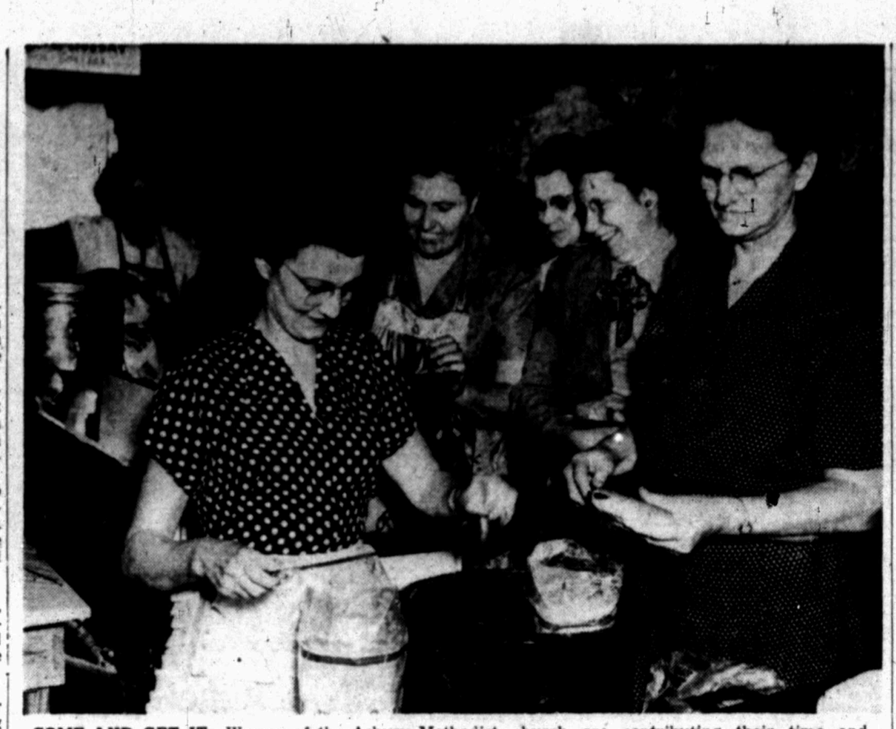

Funeral For Lubbock Man's Mother Set

Services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Rix Funeral Home chapel for Mrs. Virginia Woods, 64, Houston resident for 11 years, who died there Tuesday.

Burial will be in Tech Memorial cemetery.

Survivors include a son, Merritt Woods of Lubbock; a daughter, Miss Edna Woods, with whom she made her home in Houston; a brother, Frank L. Durham of Chattanooga, Tenn.; three sisters, Mrs. T. D. Hester of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. M. H. Hammond and Mrs. Durra Dodd, both of Fort Valley, Ga., and three grandchildren.

Gas Blowout Hearing Set

KILGORE, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission will hold an emergency hearing today on what to do about a recent gas blowout at a well near Jefferson.

Operators of the well want to sink another hole to "bleed off" the charged sand that caused the trouble.

The meeting is scheduled here at 2 p. m.

The well is the Algord Oil company's state well No. 1, Rodessa field, on an island of the Black Cypress bayou about two miles northwest of Jefferson. The blowout occurred on Sept. 3. Four weeks earlier, there was a gas surface blowout about a mile southwest of production in the Rodessa gas field.

Temperature Tests Made

The field developed in the middle and late thirties. It has a pay sand at about 7,000 feet.

After the first blowout, temperature tests were made on all deep gas wells in the area. Results of the tests may be disclosed today.

The operators want to drill a relief well about 200 yards north of the well that blew out, Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson said.

"We couldn't just let them drill the well without a hearing. We'll hear their application before deciding on issuing a permit," Culberson said.

Algord's No. 1 was spudded in by White-Webb Drilling Co. Sept. 2. Railroad commission reports show that at midnight Sept. 3 the well blew considerable mud, sand, and water from a depth of 338 feet. At 6 a. m. Sept. 4 the well apparently bridged and killed itself.

Began Blowing Again

Six hours later it began blowing again, The contractor began moving equipment. At midnight, Sept. 4, the well began cratering. That continued until early Sept. 6. Then the well bridged itself and gas began escaping through the drill pipe. Drilling equipment worth an estimated $65,000 was lost in the crater, but recovery is believed possible when the well is permanently dead. The crater is about 25 feet in diameter with six feet of water standing in it.

Since Sept. 6 the well has alternately shown activity in the crater and pipe. The first gauging Sept. 6 showed the well flowing 3,500,000 cubic feet of gas daily through the drill pipe.

WORKER PENSION PLANS PROBLEM

Ford Settles Dispute While Steel Stumped On Same Issue

BY JAMES MARLOW
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 — Should a company have to bear the full cost of the pension it gives its workers without any contribution from them?

Yes, say the CIO auto workers and steelworkers. The Ford Motor company and the auto workers yesterday agreed on a pension plan and avoided a strike.

But the big steel companies are sticking to their position that the workers should contribute to part of the pension a company gives. Because of that disagreement the threat of a steel strike is at hand.

Adds To U.S. Payments

Yet, under the Ford plan the workers actually would be contributing toward part of the total pension they'd receive. This is why:

The Ford company agrees to see to it that a worker who retires at 65 after 30 years' service will receive a pension of $100 a month.

But—Ford isn't going to give him the whole $100. Ford agrees to give him the difference between $100 and whatever social security pension the retired worker gets.

(That social security pension from the government is called old-age insurance and is part of the government's social security program.)

For example: Ford-worker Jones will retire. From social security he'll get a pension of $25 a month. Ford will add $75 to that to bring his total pension to $100. or—

Some Workers Not Covered

Smith is retiring with a social security pension of $40 a month—the most any retiring worker can get from social security now is $44.80—and Ford will give him $60 to bring his total pension to $100.

But—the worker has had to contribute toward that part of the pension which he receives from the government. The Ford company has had to contribute to it, too.

A worker in a job covered by the social security pension program is taxed yearly one percent of his salary up to $3,000 and his boss is taxed an equal amount.

Steelworkers and auto workers are in jobs covered by the social security law. Certain kinds of workers, like farmers and the self-employed, are not covered, are not taxed, and so get no pension.

Numerous Systems

The Ford company will be making two contributions to the employe's one.

The worker has paid only into the social security program. But the company not only has paid into the worker's social security pension but alone pays into the company's part of his pension.

There are now in this country—according to the government's internal revenue bureau—about 10,000 pension systems, with perhaps 33 per cent of them being contributed to by employes, and the rest paid in full by the companies.

Those 10,000 systems don't include the casual pension arrangementsunder which a company with ments under which a company with a retired employe on its own accord, without any guarantees.

Studies show that migratory birds confine themselves to certain geographical regions, known as "flyways."

Court Ruling Finds Missing California Widow Legally Dead

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30 (AP)—As far as superior court's concerned, socialite Mimi Boomhower, missing since Aug. 18, is now dead.

Judge Newcomb Condee made the death ruling to clear the way for estate matters. Police have been unable to find a single clue as to the whereabouts of the 48-year-old widow since she disappeared from the Bel-Air mansion where she lived alone.

Her attorney disclosed that the $45,000 home is mortgaged and that her personal effects are valued at no more than $5,000. He asked for the court ruling so an estate administrator can be named to reclaim a $3,000 watch Mrs. Boomhower had pawned for $100.

Never Broke Dates

The widow's sister, Mrs. Olga L. Herman of Hewlett, Long Island, testified that Mrs. Boomhower had accepted many social invitations for the week following Aug. 18 and "it had never been her habit to break any appointment without notifying the people involved."

Wayland College Boosted By Larger Faculty, New Courses

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 30. (Special)—Wayland college began the fall semester with a large number of new teachers, new courses, and new students.

The freshmen, who had a full program of orientation for the first week, and the new transfer students number approximately 200. The full enrollment for the semester is about 475, according to Mrs. Theo Royer, registrar. There are 95 veterans enrolled, compared to the 135 who attend Wayland last year.

Woman Directs Program

Mrs. Lois Marshall directed the freshman orientation program which included numerous socials in the college recreation center, at the churches, and the president's formal reception. Lectures were also given to help students learn rules, traditions, and places to receive help on the campus. "How to Study" was the theme of a continued program during the first week. Mrs. Lake Pyland, head of the Christian Recreation Department of the school, directed most of the social activities.

Fourteen new faculty members have been added to the teaching staff this year with five of them heading departments. The new department heads include Mrs. Margaret Faith Shanklin, art; Dr. Dorothy McCoy, mathematics; Professor Sheridan Loe, biology; Arthur B. Smith, business administration; and Jane Godfrey, who will come to Wayland from Tech at the end of the semester, adding one more to the list.

New Teachers Listed

Other new teachers are Miss Eulalia Burke, piano teacher; Lillian Thomason, reference librarian; Billirene Lloyd, accounting; Ben Shanklin, voice and organ; Joe West, psychology; and Joe West, government.

The remainder of the list includes Mrs. Josephine Collier, art; John Earl Harwell, science; Helen Baldwin, business administration; and Bill Odom, assistant professor of physical sciences.

Among the new courses being offered are engineering physics and physical measurements, differential and integral calculus, theory of equations, analytic geometry, principles of marketing, consumer economics, rural sociology, comparative vertebrate anatomy, histology, organic chemistry, principles of physical education, health education for elementary school teachers, and practice of corrective physical education.

Others are personal hygiene, visual education, news photography, drawing, readings from modern Spanish writers, Texas history, and the diplomatic history of the United States.

Shivers Gives Third Reprieve To Slayer

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—James Willis Blackmon was saved from the electric chair temporarily for the third time yesterday when Gov. Allan Shivers approved a reprieve and stay of execution.

The new reprieve postpones the execution date from Oct. 7, 1949, to Feb. 10, 1950.

Blackmon was given the death sentence on conviction of murder in the death of Leslie D. Gibbins, a Houston bus operator.

The reprieves have been granted because a co-defendant in the case, William Smith, jr., has appealed his death sentence to the court of criminal appeals and no decision has been rendered.

Death Of Man In Fire Investigated

BAYTOWN, Sept. 30. (AP)—Clifford M. Mitchell, 30, was dragged dead from a burning shack on the bank of Cedar Bayou late yesterday.

Officers believed he might have been robbed, slugged and the bedding in the cabin set on fire.

Capt. Charley Nix of the sheriff's department said the fire could have been caused by a cigaret, but he wasn't satisfied with that explanation.

An employee at a nearby cafe told officers Mitchell bought two packages of cigarets today and received change from a $20 bill. The change couldn't be found on the body or in the cabin.

The least used letter in the English alphabet is the letter "z."

Slick Appointed To Good Neighbor Group

AUSTIN, Sept. 30. (AP)—Tom Slick, San Antonio "wildcat oil operator, rancher and inventor, today was the fifth member appointed to the Good Neighbor commission in recent weeks.

Gov. Allan Shivers named Slick yesterday to fill the unexpired term of Gen. Jonahtan Wainwright who has resigned. The term runs to June 19, 1953.

Slick is president of the Slick Oil company and founder of the Southwest Research institute located in his S-4 ranch near San Antonio. He speaks Spanish fluently and is actively interested in Latin-American affairs, the governor said.

Gen. Wainwright told the governor he was resigning because he was unable to participate actively in commission meetings. He referred to wartime injuries in the defense of Corregidor having left him "quite deaf."

Other recent appointees to the commission by Gov. Shivers are Neville Penrose of Fort Worth, Ramon Guerra of McAllen, Dr. Julian Salvidar of Dallas and C. W. Meadows, sr., of San Angelo.

SCARE STATEMENTS REVIVED AFTER A-BOMB BLAST

Biological Warfare Stories Placed In Doubt By Lack Of Knowledge On Spreading Epidemic

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—For biological war, nearly $3,500,000. For atomic war, more than $3,500,000,000. These are the approximate sums for American spending on the two new kinds of war.

The two sums do not measure precisely the differences in importance, but they come closer than the sensational predictions about either kind of war.

Biological scare stories were revived after President Truman said Russia has an atomic explosion. Congress was told—death-dealing powers of the A-bomb would be child's play compared to what might happen under full-fledged virus war—great cities could be wiped out by viruses—virus warfare is in a class by itself.

Official Reason For Doubt

There is an official reason to doubt these predictions. It was issued three months before his death last May by Secretary James Forrestal. He then answered claims previously made that—a single plane filled with a biological agent would be capable of wiping out the population of an entire city with a single blow—biological war makes it possible to kill the inhabitants of an entire continent quickly—it would be a simple matter to spread plague (the black death) in the United States—a means is available for spreading various diseases among millions of people by dropping a few capsules from one airplane.

Forrestal said such claims are fantastic and have no basis in fact.

The new claims name viruses as the dealers of mass death. Forrestal named only biological agents. But biological agents include all the viruses.

Epidemics Mysterious

The basic facts for both sides are the same. First is the fact that in an epidemic the disease, once started, spreads by itself. Up to the war it was a puzzling fact that no scientist knew how to start an epidemic. He could not start one even among laboratory animals. Epidemics always were mysterious.

If we discovered how to start an epidemic in wartime studies, the fact never has been revealed. But Forrestal indicated not by saying "in epidemic diseases of man the factors governing spread ar not completely understood. It is not at all certain an epidemic of significant proportions could be produced at will."

An epidemic, uncontrolled, spreads among the attacking troops.

You can make enough disease germs or viruses in a small, inconspicuous building, with a few workers. A quart, an amount easily made in most cases, is enough theoretically to kill many millions.

Saboteurs Handicapped

But making a quart is worthless without means to scatter it. The means—a big air force. Saboteurs are handicapped by sanitation in the United States.

Another trouble is how to keep the germs or viruses alive and virulent. It is true that some can be stored, but they are not durable like munitions.

You can change disease germs and viruses into something worse than their present destructive powers. On paper predictions the prospects along this line appear terrific. But they are still the same diseases, subject to the same remedies, or improvements of the same antidotes.

One of the foremost world authorities on these changes, Dr. Selman A. Waksman, discoverer of streptomycin, said talk of developing terrible new diseases was "pure hokum."

Crop Destroyers Fought

No one says germs and poisons can't be scattered. Forrestal and other military authorities were sure they could have war uses.

A popular theme now is destruction of crops and livestock instead of men. Overlooked is the fact that for half a century agricultural scientists have been fighting precisely these crop destroyers, and animal epidemics. Science knows more about how to protect crops and animals than people.

The biological war money is concentrated at Camp Detrick, Maryland. Half a million goes to crop and animal diseases and poisons. A third of a million to dispose of the virulent viruses, germs and poisons produced at this camp.

One new building is to house explosions, and other means of dropping germs, without letting them leake into the surrounding air. In another place tropic and arctic weather will be reproduced.

Biological war surpasses atom bombs in one respect. The good to health and agriculture to come from these studies is immense.

No-Bill Returned In Officer's Death

EL PASO, Sept. 30 (AP) — Pvt. Charles E. Meloche of Long Island, N. Y. was nobilled by the El Paso county grand jury today in the death of Lt. Edward L. Helmstetter.

The beaten body of Helmstetter, whose home was Cumberland, Md., was found Sept. 4 on a sidewalk in an El Paso residential section. Both men were stationed at Fort Bliss.

Jury Foreman E. G. McGruder told District Judge W. D. Howe that evidence presented on the case was insufficient to warrant Meloche's indictment.

District Attorney Roy D. Jackson replied that full evidence had been presented by the state as well as by criminal investigators of Fort Bliss.

Meloche told officers he struck Helmstetter because Helmstetter tried to force Meloche's girl companion into an automobile.

The girl testified at an inquest on the death that Helmstetter accosted them as Meloche was escorting her home. She said Helmstetter insisted she was his wife and tried to force her into his car.

HST To Speak For Community Chest

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 30. (AP)—Tonight is a big night for eight-year-old Lynda Harper. She'll introduce the President of the United States on a four-network broadcast launching the Community Chest drive.

Lynda, daughter of William and Hester Harper of Santa Monica, was born a "blue baby," with a heart ailment that makes normal breathing impossible. An operation at Children's hospital, under Community Chest auspices, made her a normal, healthy girl two years ago.

Her story will be told in full on the broadcast (slated for 10 p. m. EST) by Ethel Barrymore. Other entertainers on the kickoff show include Jack Benny, Fred MacMurray, Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra, Ann Sothern and Ralph Edwards.

President Truman's short address, from Washington, will highpoint the program.

Boy Escapes Injury In Street Accident

A three and one-half-year-old Lubbock boy escaped serious injury when he dashed into the path of a moving car in the 2200 block Sanders about 5:50 p. m. Thursday.

The boy, Kenneth James Garrett, of 2219 Sanders, suffered slight bruises of the left shoulder and the left side of the head, attendants at St. Mary's hospital said. He was taken to the hospital by a Rix ambulance.

Police said the boy apparently ran into the street from behind a parked pickup truck and into the path of a 1946 Nash sedan driven by Hobart J. Mitchell, of 2207 Sanders.

Police Alerted For Red Meet

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30. (AP)—Police are on the alert today as Paul Robeson arrives for a singing—and speaking—engagement.

The left-wing negro singer is scheduled to speak tonight at Wrigley Field, home of the coast league Los Angeles Angels in the heart of this city's harlem.

The occasion is the 70th anniversary celebration of the California Eagle, negro newspaper. Robeson is honor guest.

The city council has warned all groups not having anything directly to do with the program to stay away from the ball park. The usher concessionnaire refuses to supply ushers for the occasion, frankly fearing a riot.

Police To Be On Hand

Police Chief W. A. Worton has ordered a tight vigilance of the park by a large cordon of blue shirts and plain clothes men. The chief declined to give figures, but estimates of police officers expected to be on hand ran over 250.

There has been no indication thus far, however, that any group or groups plan to demonstrate against Robeson's appearance. His most recent talk, at Chicago, created no disturbance.

But police and other authorities point out that Los Angeles has the largest group of communist sympathizers outside New York City, and chances of a pro or anti-Robeson demonstration, similar to that at Peekskill last month, are greater here than in Chicago.

San Angelo Votes To Annex New Territory

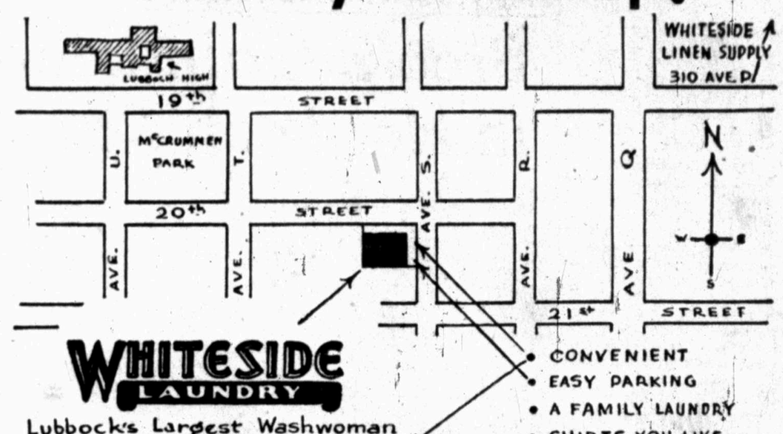

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 30. (AP)—San Angelo will annex a 20-mile square section, tripling the city's area and adding 12,000 to 15,000 new residents.

The vote in favor of the annexation was 1,266 for to 714 against, complete unofficial returns showed last night. The city's population will be increased from an estimated 40,000-42,000 to an estimated 55,000.

Iceland will build a nitrogen plant, as part of its long-term development plan.

Westerners To Invade Plainview Tonight

Texas Tech Frosh To Test WTS Eleven

Bulldogs Will Bid For Upset

Coach Pat Pattison sends his Westerner football eleven against the Bulldogs of Plainview tonight in a non-conference clash there at 8 p. m. in Bulldog stadium.

The road trip will be the first for the Lubbock team this year, since the two previous Westerner games were played at Jones Stadium, and Coach Pattison is expecting stiff competition from Plainview.

The Westerners have one of the best records in the state thus far, with two one-sided decisions in previous starts. They have beaten Childress, 47-0, and North Side of Fort Worth, 38-0, and the team will be out for its third straight non-conference victory.

In Good Condition

Both teams are reported to be in good physical condition, the only major injury being in the Bulldog camp. Coach Dub Harris said that Tom Caskey, a regular right halfback, would not see action because of a knee injury. Otherwise, the wily mentor stated, his team is in fine shape, and although outweighed and lacking in experience, he "hopes to field a scrapping ball club and one that will hold down the score."

Plainview has been pointing to the Westerner conflict since early season, but even so the team is not equipped to handle the staggering ground and passing attack boasted by the Westerners.

The Lubbock squad has two teams in top shape for the contest, and the only player on the roster not likely to see action is the third quarterback, Jack Weldon, out with an ear infection.

Large Crowd Expected

A large crowd is expected to fill Bulldog stadium to its full 6,000 seat capacity, and a large caravan of Lubbock fans will probably take to the road to witness the contest.

This season Plainview has met stiff competition after opening with a 7-0 victory over Big Spring. Two games away from home brought two defeats. Against Fort Worth Polytechnic, the Bulldogs came out on the losing end of an 18-7 score, and last week Lamesa drove to a 26-2 decision over Plainview at Lomesa.

In recent years Lubbock has suffered almost annually to defeats by the Bulldogs, losing six years in a row before breaking into the victory column last year with a 47-0 victory.

Plainview Seeks Revenge

The Bulldogs will be out to avenge that one-sided loss and to wreck the 1949 unbeaten, unscored on record of the Westerners.

Both teams will operate from the T-formation, with Bobby Brown directing Lubbock's offensive and Dale Scott calling signals for Plainview.

Standouts thus far for the Bulldogs have been Fullbaek Jack Howton and Halfback Lowell Kingery on the ground, with Scott turning in the best passing performance. Ends Weldon Hayes and Sherwood Holley have been on the receiving end of most of the aerials.

Coach Pattison and assistant Coaches Fred Taylor and Bill Floyd have been working the Westerners long in preparation for the tilt, but the squad has not been as responsive this week as before the other two games. There have been more fumbles in dummy practice sessions, and the players did not seem to have as much hustle and drive.

Lubbock Line Heavy

Coach Harris indicated that Plainview would probably be trampled under the turf by the heavier Lubbock line, which averages 187 in comparison to approximately 158 for the Bulldogs. In the backfield things are more even, with both combinations weighing approximately 158.

The Bulldogs will definitely be out to upset the high-flying Westerners and can be expected to expend a little more effort against their former District 1-AA foes, meeting this year for the first time in a non-conference game. Lubbock is now in 3-AA.

INDIANAPOLIS WINS

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Indianapolis Indians, runner-up to St. Paul in the regular American association season, won their first league playoff title last night. The Indians earned the right to represent the association in the "little world series" against Montreal of the International league by beating Milwaukee, 9 to 5.

PIRATES BEAT CARDINALS, 7-2

Brooks Gain Lead In Hot Loop Race

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sport Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers held the upper hand in the National league's pennant scrap today while the American league's scramble remained a dead heat between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees.

Brooklyn, pre-season favorite to cop the National's bunting, roared into the lead yesterday by mopping up the 1948 kingpin Boston Braves, 9-2 and 8-0, while the St. Louis Cardinals lost again to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-2.

The Dodgers killing in Boston boosted the Brooks half a game ahead of the Cardinals. Brooklyn has two games left to play with the third place Phils in Philadelphia while the Cards have three to go with the last place Cubs in Chicago.

While the Dodgers ascended to the top of the National league, rain kept the Red Sox and Yanks tied for blue ribbon honors in the American league.

Games Rained Out

New York's game with the Philadelphia Athletics in the stadium was rained out as was the encounter between the Red Sox and the last place Senators in Washington.

The two American league contenders are scheduled to play off their washed out games today. If rain again intervenes the games will be cancelled, as the Yanks and Red Sox are scheduled to open a two-game series in the stadium on Saturday.

Brooklyn had no trouble in whipping the Braves yesterday. The Braves were in the game for only three innings in the opener and they might as well have "stood in bed" for the nightcap.

Tied, 0-0, going into the fourth, the Dodgers ripped Warren Spahn for five runs. Duke Snider drove home the first three with his 23rd home run. Carl Furillo provided an anti-climax two innings later when he socked a three-run homer over the center field barrier.

Dodgers Blast Sain

The night cap was settled before Sibby Sisti stepped up to open Boston's half of the first inning. The Dodgers whaled into Johnny Sain, Boston's 1948 pennant pinup boy, in their half of the first, scoring five runs.

The game, played in a drizzle, was called after the fifth inning. Don Newcombe fanned the last three Boston batters.

Little Murry Dickson, a once beloved member of the Cardinal pitching staff, spiked his former mates' pennant hopes.

Dickson hurled a brilliant six-hitter while the Pirates banged Gerry Staley, Howie Pollet and Ted Wilks for nine blows. It was Dickson's fifth triumph of the the year over the Cards.

The Pirates broke a 1-1 tie with a four run rally in the sixth. Pete Castiglione singled home the first run to put the Pirates in front, 2-1, and chase Staley. Pollet took over and was greeted with a two-run double by Monte Basgall. Basgall scored the fourth run when Red Schoendienst threw the relay from the outfield over Catcher Joe Garagiola's head.

The Cleveland Indians trounced the Chicago White Sox, 8-3, in the only other game played in either league. Home runs by Larry Doby and Bob Kennedy were the deciding factors.

Dallas Sunset Is Victim Of Upset

(By The Associated Press)

The list of undefeated, untied teams in Texas schoolboy football had shrunk to 22 today.

Sunset of Dallas, one of the state's rated teams, took the plunge last night in a jarring upset. Gladewater beat the Bisons on their home field, 19-6.

In other games starting off a busy week-end, Poly of Fort Worth beat Forest (Dallas) 6-0, Lamar of Houston edged St. Thomas (Houston) 7-6 and Texas City nosed out Beaumont 13-12 while Brackenridge beat its San Antonio rival Lanier, 32-6, in a District 4 City conference game.

Tonight Port Arthur plays San Jacinto of Houston at Port Arthur in a game matching unbeaten, untied teams as the feature of a schedule of 45 games in the City conference and Class AA.

Dunbar Beats Midland Team

The Panthers of Dunbar High school continued their winning ways last night, defeating Midland's Eagles, 26-7, in a game played at Chapman field.

Approximately 1,300 persons filled the stands to watch Coach Damon Hill's Panthers roll to their third victory in as many starts. Previously Dunbar beat Hobbs, 40-12, in Hobbs and last week defeated Amarillo, 20-7, at Chapman field.

Halfback Lawrence Robinson turned in a brilliant offensive game for the local eleven and led scoring.The flashy halfback scored three Dunbar markers on runs of 30, 22 and 35 yards, the last tally coming on a pass interception late in the game.

The Panthers scored midway of the first quarter when Robinson got the ball on a handoff, broke through the line and raced 30-yards down the left sideline for the tally.

Wasting no time in the second quarter, right Halfback Otis Walker scored early, with Quarterback Robert Oliver passing to end Arthur Jones for the extra point.

Dunbar Takes To Air

With a 13-0 lead, Dunbar took to the air on the last play of the half but Midland Fullback Wayne Walker, who played a fine game all evening, came racing out of nowhere to grab the ball and race 50-yards down the right side of the field for the Midland score. Halfback Willis Storms powered over left tackle for the extra point to give Dunbar a 13-7 advantage at the half.

Following a pass interception by Jackson in the third frame, Lubbock marched 40 yards to score, with Robinson ripping off the last 22 yards. The final marker came in the last stanza on Robinson's interception and return without being touched by a Midland player. Otis Walker converted.

Starters for Lubbock were Albert Smith, le; Dennis Sanders, lt; Sampson, lg; Gary, c; Joe Billy Hewing, rg; Jackson, rt; Jones, re; Oliver, qb; Robinson, lh; Charles Harvey, rh; and Bullock, fb. Subs were Lawrence Fred, Fred Wright, William Moore, Locke, John Milus, Dorrance O'Neill and A. J. Lewis.

Midland starters were William Bass, le; James Banks, lt; Curtis Jones, lg; Arthur Sams, c; Charlie Hudson, rg; Oliver Lee, rt; Walso Jackson, re; Virgil Morris, qb; Storms, lh; Caruthers, rh; and Tom Walker, fb. Subs were Lee Smith and Thomas Phillips.

Seminole "B" Scores Win Over Levelland

LEVELLAND, Sept. 30. (Special)—Seminole's "B" football team last night scored a 9-0 triumph over the Levelland "B" aggregation.

The visitors pushed over all their points from Loyd Farris to Happy Bingham, with Bert Affleck adding the extra point from placement.

Picadors Open 1949 Slate At Jones Stadium Here Tonight

Two star-studded football teams will take to the field at 8 o'clock tonight when the freshmen teams of Texas Tech and West Texas State clash at Jones Stadium.

Although neither team has seen action this season, an action filled game is forecast, with Coach Allie White's Picadors trying to defeat the West Texas Calves of Coach Borden Price.

Most of the players come from the South Plains and Panhandle, and the main Lubbock attraction is Waldo Young of Monahans from his halfback position.

Young May Play

Young sprained an ankle over a week ago and has seen only light action since then, but is expected to be ready to play some ball tonight. He may be forced to share the spotlight with W. H. Barker of Colorado City, one of the most sought-after backs in the state. Also running him a race for honors will be Ronnie Miller of Albany, another all-state selection, While Quarterback Carl Madison of Atmore, Ala., another all-stater, has been an outstanding passer in practice.

West Texas will bring its share of outstanding players here also. Price is loaded with such high school stars as Lonnie Rice of Dimmitt, a fine passer and signal caller. Jim Harris of Vega, another outstanding player, will be at one halfback spot, while Bobby Clark of Rotan will be at the other. R. C. Dalton, Borger's great back of last season, will anchor the backfield at fullback.

The Buffalo line also is a strong one. Toby Booth, Farwell's outstanding end, will be at one wing, with Marvin Smith of Perryton's great team at the other. Booth weighs 180 pounds and Smith weighs 192. Howard Pilcher of Borger, a 225-pounder, is at one tackle and Joe Bob Newman of Phillips, a 180 pounder, is at the other tackle.

Virgil Patterson of Borger, a 212-pounder, and Tommy Jinks of Lefors, a 182-pounder, will be at the guard positions. Center will be Quanah's great player, Douglas Mahan, a 180-pound key man.

Other outstanding boys Price will bring here include Bill Simmons of Crosbyton, a fine ball carrier; Jimmy Billings of Brownfield, another fine back; and Eddie Daugherty of New Deal, a center.

Tech's line will probably outweigh the Buffs. Heading the forward wall performers will be Jimmy Williams at center, the great all-stater from Phillips, who starred in the annual all-star and Oil Bowl games. Don Gray of Breckenridge and Buddy Barron of Temple, the latter an all-stater, will be at the guards. Probable tackle starters will be Marlan Ribble, member of the Arlington Heights of Fort Worth state city champions, and Charles Goff, a six-foot, four-inch, 220 pounder from McAllen. Alton Linnie of Monahans, another all-stater and Jimmy Clark of Sundown, a great high school player, will be at the end positions.

In reserve for the Raider frosh will be Sam Jones of Temple, center; Neil Rogers of Abilene and George Krohn of Wichita Falls, guards; Edward Briggs of Shamrock and Harold Harris of Fort Worth Masonic Home, tackles; James Thames of Alvarado and Ned Wallace of Lubbock, ends; and Don Seale of Idalou, Chuck Reynolds of Atlanta, Ga., Carroll Drye of McAllen and Jerry Killian of Holliday, backs.

Tickets will sell for $1 each at the stadium for tonight's game, first of five on the Picador schedule.

Arkansas Battles T. C. U. In Loop Tilt

Southern Methodist To Face Dangerous Missouri Eleven

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Southwest conference football teams range over four states tomorrow in the biggest intersectional week-end of the campaign.

At the same time Texas Christian and Arkansas will be battling at Fayetteville in the opening conference game of the season.

The circuit will be favored to win four of the five games against outside opposition but there's nothing certain about a couple of them.

Baylor and Rice journey into the South, both expected to notch victories. Baylor meets Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss., in an afternoon tussle. The Bears could run into trouble here.

Rice meets Louisiana State at Baton Rouge at night. The powerful, versatile Owls ought to have a lot of fun in this one. LSU doesn't appear close to stopping the Rice powerhouse.

Up at Norman, Okla., Texas A. and M.'s green but fighting forces will be trying to halt the surge of the crunching, blasting Sooners of Oklahoma. In another day game, Texas will march against downtrodden Idaho at Austin.

The major battle of the week will be at Dallas tomorrow night when Southern Methodist's Mustangs meet touchdown-happy Missouri. This is one of the doubtful games. The Mustangs will take the field light favorites.

But headman Matty Bell says his scout reports indicate Missouri is much stronger than last year when the Tigers licked the Mustangsin their only loss over a two-season stretch.

We hit six out of seven with one tie last week but who didn't? We're going down the line again this week and if they don't come out this way a lot of other guys will have bad records, too:

Saturday afternoon

Baylor vs Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss.—Baylor by two touchdowns.

Texas Christian vs Arkansas at Fayetteville — Too much Lindy Berry and too much T. C. U.; the Frogs will lick Arkansas by 13 points.

Texas vs Idaho at Austin—well, it was a nice trip for Idaho anyway; Texas by 40 points.

Texas A. and M. vs Oklahoma at Norman, Okla.—Even we can't see a chance for one of our favorite football teams; Oklahoma by four touchdowns.

Rice vs Louisiana State at Baton Rouge — The Owls will "nose-out" LSU by three touchdowns.

Southern Methodist vs Missouri at Dallas — Look for plenty of scoring; we think Doak Walker and the other Methodists will do most of it—Southern Methodist by a touchdown.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—Trying to pick Saturday's football winners while still unable to say who will compete in the coming World Series.

Last week's record:. 49 correct selections, 13 misses for an average of .790.

Notre Dame over Washington: Even if Washington built a corral of mountains they wouldn't be able to keep Emil (Old Folks) Sitko in check. Notre Dame.

Michigan Is Favored

Michigan over Stanford: Michigan has won 24 in a row. Stanford's sophomores probably will make this a rugged fray but the Wolverines appear a touchdown better. Michigan.

North Carolina over Georgia: That bruising battle North Carolina had last week with North Carolina State is exactly what Charlie Justice and his mates needed to pull this one out of the fire. North Carolina.

Tulane over Georgia Tech: Eddie Price, Tulane fullback, will simply love the middle of the Georgia Tech line. Tulane.

Dartmouth over Penn: The Quakers' powerful 1948 team could beat Dartmouth by only a touchdown last year. Penn lost much by graduation, the Indians very little. Dartmouth.

Northwestern over Pittsburgh: The boys who back their opinions with cash say the Big Ten club will win by three touchdowns. That's about right. Northwestern.

Navy Is Selected

Oregon over UCLA: Too much traveling for the Uclans. Oregon.

Navy over Princeton: Here's where the Middie break that string of defeats although George Sella probably will be the game's star. Navy.

Checking off some of the others in a hurry:

Friday: Wake Forest over Boston college, Maryland over Georgetown.

Saturday:

East: Army over Penn State, Brown over Holy Cross, Cornell over Colgate, Harvard over Columbia, Rutgers over Temple, Amherst over Coast Guard, New York over Bucknell.

South: South Carolina over Furman, Clemson over North Carolina State, Vanderbilt over Alabama, Rice over LSU, William & Mary over Virginia Tech, Duke over Tennessee, Mississippi State over Baylor.

Midwest: Ohio State over Indiana, Wisconsin over Illinois. Purdue over Iowa, Oklahoma over Texas A & M, Minnesota over Nebraska.

Southwest: Texas over Idaho, Texas Christian over Arkansas, Texas Tech over West Texas State.

Far West: Southern California over Washington State, Oklahoma A & M over Denver, California over Oregon State.

Bruce Barnes Will Play Tech Netter

Bruce Barnes, one-time national professional tennis champion, Satpurday will play an exhibition match with A. J. (Jake) Broyles, No. 1 Texas Tech netter, on the Tech courts Saturday.

In addition to the singles match, scheduled for 2:30 p. m., Barnes will conduct an informal tennis clinic and possibly take part in an exhibition doubles match.

Barnes, a former University of Texas star, turned professional soon after leaving college and for years was one of the country's top pro performers. He capped his career in 1943 by winning the national pro singles title. Now a representative of a sporting goods concern, he makes frequent exhibition appearances in the Southwest.

Saturday's program is open to the public, with no admission charge.

Meadowbrook Golf Finals Slated Today

Mrs. Frances Nance and Mrs. Mary Frances Bell were to meet today in the finals of the handicap match play tourney of the Meadowbrook Women's Golf association.

In Thursday's semi-finals, Mrs. Nance defeated Mrs. Kathryn Trammel, 2 up, while Mrs. Bell won from Mrs. Eloise Moore, 1 up.

First flight consolation results Thursday included: Mrs. Ileta Hitchcock over Mrs. Kay Taylor, 1 up, and Mrs. Billie Kuich over Mrs. Billie Lee, 3 and 2.

In the second flight, Mrs. Kathy Sullivan ousted Mrs. Johnnie Trammel, 2 and 1. Mrs. Alene Williams edged out Mrs. Alice Bolinger, 1 up, in consolation play, while Mrs. Lucille Jones and Mrs. Mary Davis each drew a bye.

Cooper Team Drubs Slaton "B" 28 To 0

Cooper's Pirates and the Denver City "B" team won last night's openers on the weekend schoolboy grid slate.

Cooper, dedicating its new playing field, romped over the Slaton "B" squad by 28-00 as Bobby Vinson personally accounted for 20 points. A crowd of 400 fans saw the game.

At Plains, 600 persons saw the home town eleven drops its third successive start as the Denver City "B" crew walked off with a 13-6 decision.

Tulsa Oilers Lead In Dixie Playoff

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 30. (AP)—The Tulsa Oilers, jubilant over their 13-2 rout of the Nashville Vols last night, try to make it two in a row in the Dixie Series tonight.

Since Jim Avrea had little trouble with the Southern association sluggers last night, Manager Al Vincent of the Texas league club indicated he'll send another lanky right-hander, Dave Jolly, after the second game of the four-of-seven series.

He'll face Garmon (Pistol Pete) Mallory, Nashville righthander who has a 22-5 record.

Pioneers Tie Plainview "B"

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 30 (Special) A last minute touchdown and conversion enabled the Plainview B team to tie Lubbock High school's Pioneers, 13-13, here last night at Bulldog Stadium.

Plainview trailed throughout the game after allowing Lubbock to score in the fourth quarter, and then came from behind for the deadlock after taking the ball on their own 30-yard line with four minutes remaining in the game and marching 70-yards to score with a drive that was made possible by accurate passing.

Charles Northington Scores

Fullback Charles Northington went 30 yards for the initial tally through the middle of the Plainview defense to climax an 80-yard drive, with Halfback Billy Tucker supplying valuable yardage. Kenneth Aldridge converted to put the visiting team ahead, 7-0.

A 45-yard drive gave Plainview a six-pointer in the third quarter, with Paul Smith going over from the 10-yard line on a quick-opener. The try for point was no good.

Ray McCarty Recovers

Early in the fourth period Lubbock took advantage of a fumble on a punt, with Ray McCarty recovering for the Pioneers deep in Plainview territory. Jeff Jones and Tucker hit the line repeatedly, with Tucker going over for the tally from the four-yard line.

Then came the long Plainview drive to knot the score, Charles Harris passing to Dan Baldwin for the score and Craig Silverthorne running for point.

Quarterback Sammy Sayers kept Lubbock out of hot water throughout the game with his punting, one kick rolling dead on the Plainview 10-yard line. Roy Burrows stood out on defense for the Pioneers from his end post.

Brownfield Juniors Defeat Ranger Team

J. T. Hutchinson Junior High gained a tie and were charged with a defeat at Chapman field Thursday in games with the Brownfield Juniors, the Rangers losing their game and the Ranchers ending in a 7-7 tie with the younger Brownfield squad.

The ninth grade Rangers were on the short end of a 14-0 score being unable to cope with the larger Brownfield players.

Brownfield scored both its touchdowns with the aid of passes, one being an interception of a Lubbock pass by Jerry Bailey and a 30-yard touchdown gallop. A pass from Loman Jones to End Jerry Anderson set up the first Brownfield score, and several plays later Eddie Mac Brown plunged over for the final marker. George Crosslin kicked both extra points.

A brilliant 80-yard kickoff return by Brownfield's Leroy Little and a stout goal line defense in the last quarter enabled Brownfield's seventh and eighth graders to tie Hutchinson's Ranchers, 7-7.

Hutchinson scored early in the game following a long pass play, with Jerry Gilliland passing to Robert Coons for the tally. Gilliland sneaked over for the extra point to put the Ranchers ahead, 7-0.

The kickoff in the second half was taken by Little on his own 20-yard line, and he went all the way for the score through the middle of the Lubbock defense.

Several fumbles marked play the rest of the game, and with minutes left a Lubbock drive stopped on the two-yard line after a penalty set the ball back to the 12.

Dallas Will Furnish Gainesville Players

DALLAS, Sept. 30. (AP) — The Dallas Eagles of the Texas league will furnish the players next year for Gainesville of the Big State league and Jimmy Adair, former Dallas manager, will run the team.

The 100 per cent player agreement with the Class B league team was announced yesterday.

R. E. (Dick) Burnett, owner of the Eagles, said similar agreements probably will be worked out soon with Gladewater of the Class C East Texas league and Chickasha of the Class D Sooner state league.

Burnett and Bobby Goff, who relieved Adair as manager of the Eagles toward the end of the 1949 race, will leave Sunday for the World Series. They'll talk over a player agreement with President Louis Perini, General Manager John O'Quinn and field Manager Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves.

Wolffarth Gridders Top Cottage School

George C. Wolffarth defeated Cottage school, 32-13, Thursday in a flag football game, with Norman Womack leading the touchdown parade with two six-pointers.

Wolffarth dominated the play, and it was not until substitutes were in the lineup that Cottage managed to score.

REDS MEET BUCS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds—with or without a manager—headed toward Pittsburgh today and the final series of a season that has found them confounding the predictions only to the extent that they may finish seventh instead of eighth.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

Lubbock's power-laden Westerners go after their third straight victory of the season tonight at Plainview and only the inability of reserves to score (if that's possible) should keep the score down to a respectable margin. As we said yesterday, there is a strong suspicion that Coach Pat Pattison will lay off as much as he can. He'll probably try to punch over a score fast and then yank his first string. There's a strong possibility that the varsity will see little action the remainder of the game. Which doesn't mean that the Westerners can step right in and run over the Bulldogs. It may be a rough, tough game for at least a quarter, but we can't see the home team stopping the Lubbock eleven.

Waldo, they call him "Wild-o," Young, the Monahans Marvel, gets an opportunity tonight to show whether he can go in college circles. There's been a lot written about him and so far he has lived up to everything written—except the advance dope since he arrived in college. Tonight he may prove that he can play college ball as well as he did high school. But if he doesn't, Tech has a host of other good backs just aching to show that Waldo is just another number on the field. W. H. Barker of Colorado City is the top punter at present, but he's even more valuable as a defensive back. He hits like a ton of bricks. Ronnie Miller at fullback is another fair hand at ramming the line and should prove popular with local fans.

Right now, the prize package appears to be Carl Madison, the Alabama quarterback. Carl is a diminutive bundle, but ablaze with action. He has a fine, accurate passing arm and he snaps signals briskly and keeps the Picadors moving. He isn't a bad ball carrier, either, and is slippery to the tackler. Don Seale of Idalou is running him a close second at the quarterback slot and probably is the better passer. Chuck Reynolds of Atlanta, Ga., is another fine back that the Raider freshmen are counting on heavily.

But the line is the real pride and joy of the first year men. They have it—and in large doses. Jimmy Williams is as fine a young center as you'll want to see and a great linebacker. Marlin Ribble and Charles Goff both are big, rangy tackles and will function on offense. On defense the Raiders have Ed Briggs and "Tiny" Harris, a pair of tackles whose combined weight is about 500 pounds. They are big and move well for big men. Buddy Barron, Neil Rogers, Don Gray and George Krohn give the frosh great guard play. Alton Linnie, a prize package from Monahans, Jimmy Clark of Sundown, James Thames, a six foot, eight and a half incher, and Ned Wallace of Lubbock, who measures six-six, give the Raiders potentially great wing play. There are a lot of others, all of whom can step in and give a good account of themselves.

It's a fine freshman squad and the good burghers of this city ought not to regret paying a dollar to see the future Raiders in action. They haven't, unfortunately, had enough time to work by themselves on offense. Coach Allie White has had to use the squad all this week as cannon fodder for the varsity. While this has given them good experience at learning defensively, their offensive game undoubtedly has suffered. And a good part of the entire point of hiring a full time freshman coach was to give him an opportunity to work with his charges, free of having to keep them tied up every afternoon with the varsity. That was one of the big reasons last year's freshmen couldn't beat anyone. It's unfair to the team and to the coach. We hope that the freshmen are given a chance to develope by themselves.

Harry Gilstrap, Amarillo Globe-News sports editor, said this week that Texas Tech certainly wouldn't cause the Buffs any more trouble—if as much—than McMurry had. Editor Gilstrap's opinion of the Red Raiders apparently is pretty low. Of course, Harry could be right. He sometimes is. In fact, the Buffs might even beat the Raiders tomorrow night. They live 364 days for their chance to play the Raiders and beat them. It's an obsession, not only in Canyon, but also in Amarillo. Marshall Gettys, an Amarillo product, said that the townspeople probably would declare a holiday if the Buffs beat Tech. And you can bet on one thing for certain; the Buffs will come here and play over their heads. Tech had better be ready for a real fight, or else prepare to leave town.

There's all kinds of good football for the fans of the South Plains tonight. Lockney plays at Abernathy in one of the top games in District 3-A. The Tulia at Ralls tilt in the same conference is another humdinger. Sudan at Morton and Slaton at Tahoka are a pair of outstanding District 4-A contests. Andrews meets Crane in District 5-A's top feature and there are a number of extra good Class B tilts. Farwell goes to Hale Center in one of the better games, Hereford is at Friona in another classic. You couldn't ask for much better than the Idalou clash at New Deal and Springlake goes against Olton. These are the headliners in the area. You might try taking in some of these fine area games if you have nothing better to do.

THE ROUNDUP: Hudson Routh of Olney, injured in scrimmage at Tech, was released from the hospital Tuesday. He didn't have a concussion and is all right... How do you like Dr. Litkenhous picking West Texas over Tech!... Hope the groundskeepers at Tech get rid of the snakes on the practice field before the 1950 season ...Bill Henderson picked up a following in Carlsbad off his showing there Wednesday night... Bill Serena is doing okay with the Cubs... Joe Palmer of O'Donnell is playing halfback with the New Mexico State Teachers college (Silver City) football team. He scored two touchdowns in the 37-19 victory over Gila college of Thatcher, Ariz., last week... The telephone really has been ringing the last few days for reports on the Cards, Dodgers and Yanks.

Henderson To Prep For Bout

Bill Henderson, the Levelland lightweight who last Wednesday night notched his 26th victory in 28 pro starts, today began a training program in preparation for his Oct. 17 meeting here with Manny Ortego of El Paso.

Contracts for the 10-round match, which will be held at Chapman fieldhouse under sponsorship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, were signed Wednesday night immediately after Henderson's win at Carlsad N. M.

Ed Sides, member of the VFW sports committee who announced plans for the bout, said profits from the program will be divided equally between the Goodfellows fund and Girlstown, U. S. A.

Henderson won his 26th verdict in 28 pro starts Wednesday night. He has been beaten only by Jean Mougin, a Frenchman who turned the trick twice.

Ortega long has been one of Texas' outstanding fighters. Though now past peak form, he once stopped Manuel Ortiz, current world's bantamweight champion, in six rounds. He is reported to have lost only six of 120 starts.

Sides also promised two preliminary bouts for the Oct. 17 card. One is a return go between Gene James, Lubbock, and Dickie Brown, Amarillo. These two heavyweights met here recently in a real crowd-pleaser, with James gaining the decision.

Leonard Duncan, slow but rugged Hale Center middleweight, has been paired with Mike Reddin, a Canadian fighter said to be a provincial champion in the Dominion.

Two other preliminary matches also will be lined up for the program, Sides said.

Tickets, priced at $3.50, $2.50 and $1.50, will go on sale Monday in the lobby of the Hilton hotel. Mail orders accompanied by check or money order are being accepted at City Club gym, 1313½ College avenue, Lubbock.

Local fighters who will see action on the card will be working out at the gym, Sides said. He said the public is invited to attend daily workouts at 6 p.m.

Wife Of Senator Is Claimed By Death

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—Mrs. Allen J. Ellender, wife of the Louisiana senator, died early today in a hospital. She was 54.

The senator's office reported death was caused by a brain tumor, discovered only after she had entered the hospital yesterday. She had complained of severe headaches for weeks.

Ellender, a Democrat, has been a member of the Senate for 13 years.

JACK TO FIGHT

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 (AP)—Beau Jack, former world lightweight champion, and Italy's Livio Minelli of Bergamo will meet in a 10 round bout tonight in the first of 10 winter boxing shows to be sponsored by the International Boxing club.

Negro School Strike May Mean Court Action Against Parents

TATUM, Tex., Sept. 30 (AP)—A negro school strike went into its 18th day today with prospects parents of some students may go to jail.

Of an expected attendance of about 146, only four to twelve have been attending the Tatum colored schools.

Parents of the striking students are being served wi papers by Rusk County Sheriff Gordon Strong, warning them to send their children to school—or face charges in county criminal court.

Dispute Explained

Rusk County Attorney Robert Allen said today "I've got papers served on all but about ten of the parents. He added:

"But I don't know what in the world we're going to do."

Allen said parents of the students "called the strike" as a result of disagreement over selection of negro teachers for the school. Several years ago the white board of trustees approved a resolution providing for sub-trustees of the negro schools. The sub-trustees, negroes, were to recommend teachers for selection by the board. The white-manned board refused this summer to accept negro principal Johnny Pollard for reelection. Allen said the board also put aside the resolution providing for sub-trustees.

Grounds Uncertain

Allen said the notices served on the parents quote article 297 and 299 of the Texas penal code. Article 297 provides that every Texas child seven through 16 years old shall be required to attend the public school in the district of residence or some other district to which he may be transferred for a period of not less than 120 days annually. Article 299 outlines the duties of parents or guardians to see that children attend school.

"However," Allen said today, "the law requires only that they attend school 120 days a year. It doesn't say they must commence school at any specified time. There's still time for them to get that 120 days in—there's enough of the school year left."

For that reason, he said, authorities were not entirely certain of their grounds in action against the parents.

Tech Election

fight it out for freshman class head.

Sponsors Chosen

In the vice-presidential race will be Hiram Jordan, Monahans, and John Klein, Denton, for the senior post and Marland Ribble and Frank Poynor in the freshman division.

Mary Alice Christian, West, and Janet Moore, Amarillo, will vie for senior class secretary-treasurer honors in the Tuesday election; Guida Miller, Amarillo, and Mary Ruth Norris, Waco, in the junior division; Ann Tidball and Claudyne Young, sophomores; and Jo Cole and Nancy Davis, freshmen.

Records To Be Checked

Three representatives to the AWS received sufficient margins for election this week, but council members had not yet checked their academic records to see if they were eligible to hold office. All student officers must maintain a C average on all their college work.

Run-offs will be staged Tuesday for one post in each of the sophomore, junior, and senior class divisions to the AWS, while the freshmen women will choose both their representatives on that date.

The Tuesday elections will also be under the direction of the student council. Sterling will preside at the senior class meeting, Lacy at the junior class session, Raymond Brigham at the sophomore, and Miss Clark at the freshman.

was the "most pitiful I have ever witnessed. "I can still hear the screams of those who died ringing in my head," she said.

Firemen who reached the house within a few minutes after the fire began said the blaze was concentrated in the center of the building. Smoke made rescue impossible, they said.

Tom Cook, district fire chief, said it was only a matter of minutes before the flames swept both floors of the house. The origin of the blaze could not be learned immediately.

At the Passantino Brothers funeral home where the bodies were taken attendants said five of the bodies were badly charred. The two others were not severely burned, they said, and were apparently victims of suffocation but all of the bodies were recognizable.

our distinguished vice president to visit a place in Missouri outside of St. Louis. The vice president is a grand man, and I am proud that he is my friend and counsellor, and I also am exceedingly glad that he is about to become a citizen of Missouri."

Mr. Truman winds up a two-day visit to Missouri this morning with a call on his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman, and his brother, J. Vivian Truman, of nearby Grandview, Mo.

He takes off from the Grandview airport at 2 p. m. (EST) on a three hour return flight to Washington where he speaks at the White House tonight on a program opening the annual Community Chest drive.

Daily MARKET

Stock Market

CHANGES FRACTIONAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP) — The stock market closed with a scramble of gains and losses today after an early rally failed to develop any push.

Prices headed downward at the start of trading. A ponderous rally got going and for a while leading issues moved up for gains of fractions to around a point.

Later in the day traders showed a high degree of caution and the market backed down from the day's best marks, with some leaders drifting lower. Changes either way were mainly fractional, a few going to a point or so.

Volume crossed the 1,000,000-share level once more, swollen by considerable activity in low-priced Commonwealth & Southern. Turnover for the full session was at the rate of about 1,100,000 shares for the day.

The morning rally followed news that coal labor leader John L. Lewis had ordered about 100,000 workers back to the pits on Monday. Settlement of a strike at Goodrich Rubber was also regarded favorably.

With a threatened steel strike scheduled only a few hours away — at Friday midnight — the tendency grew for traders to keep their commitments low.

One block of 50,000 shares and another of 10,000 shares of Commonwealth sold, up ½ at 5⅝ and equal to the year's peak.

Lower most of the time were Youngstown, General Motors, Studebaker, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, American Smelting, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and Paramount Pictures.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular today, with price movements narrow. The market was very active in early trading as hedge selling broadened, reflecting the heaviest spot cotton sales so far this season on Thursday. Offerings were absorbed through aggressive mill buying. The market subsequently turned quiet. Evening-up operations in nearby October were fairly extensive, although there were no transferable notices issued against October contracts.

Cotton closed steady.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 (AP) — Soybeans responded to a variety of favorable items today by spurting a couple of cents on the board of trade. Lard was not far behind as buying entered all fats and oils markets.

In back of the upturn was an unconfirmed rumor that the government intended to allocate $250,000,000 to foreign countries for the purchase of various fats and oils here.

Price changes in major grains were not large, although corn developed considerable easiness late in the day. Purchases of cash corn on a to-arrive basis expanded to around 150,000 bushels and dealers said demand was less aggressive in the spot market.

Wheat closed ¼-1½ higher, December $2.14⅝-¾; corn was unchanged to ½ lower, December $1.17⅞-⅞; oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December 68.

FORTH WORTH REPORT

PORT WORTH, Sept. 30 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.33½-39½.

Cotton Seed Price Support Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (Spl.)—Texas congressmen joined with representatives of other cotton states today in requesting the Department of Agriculture to begin buying cotton seed throughout the nation to make the price support program function more effectively.

Representatives George Mahon of Lubbock and Ken Regan of Midland said they felt some effective program would result under proper price support.

The congressional committee told department officials cotton seed should be processed into oil if sufficient storage space is not available.

Under the price support program, the farmer will get approximately $9.50 more a ton for his cotton seed than if he sold it to cotton mill.

CREAM OF THE CARROT-MUNCHERS—Judging of rabbits in the Panhandle-South Plains Rabbit and Cavy show at Panhandle-South Plains fair continued this morning. College Day in these classes prizes were not awarded unless the rabbits met the stringent specifications. Many were disqualified from taking any honors.

Winners Chosen

Ewell L. Spruiell, Iowa Park, Texas, won best of breed in the New Zealand Red class. His entry was a doe weighing seven pounds. Spruiell also won first place in the junior buck class.

Lynn Peveler, Lubbock, took top honors with his White Flemish.

Others winning honors in the New Zealand Red class were: H. C. Clark, Denver City, second; Kenneth Smith, Hurlwood, third.

R. C. Schwab, Roswell, New Mexico, also captured a number of first and second places in the various classes of Reds.

Despite few entries the Chinchilla giants drew a lot of attention. Lewis Lee Gilbert, Lubbock, was the only exhibition and took prize money for both does and bucks.

Odie Clark, Ft. Worth, Thursday afternoon won honors for best of breed in the Dutch rabbit class. His entry, a Blue doe, won over a score of entrants in several color classifications. Clark also won first place in the Black Dutch class.

Kenneth Smith, Hurlwood, took first place in the Chocolate Dutch class. Sammie Norman, Hurlwood, had the only Angora entry. It will compete for show honors today.

Homer Randall, Dallas, won first places in the Black and Fawn Flemish classes. L. J. Wright, Abilene, was first in the Tortoise Dutch class.

The only cavies entered in the third annual Panhandle South Plains Rabbit and Cavy show were owned by J. J. Scharnberg. They were rated top quality by Judge Fred Davis.

Judging in all classes was conducted in a close and business-like way. Davis disqualified many entries that might automatically have won prize money. Small hidden defects were pointed out to breeders and audience.

L. E. Settles and Elton G. Settles aided Davis in the judging. L. E. is also secretary for the show.

Another new exhibit was placed in the judging arena this morning. It was a pair of fur-coat bearing mink. The mink are being shown by Roy Moreman, owner of the Dollene Mink Ranch, Brownfield. Warning signs were placed all over a specially constructed double-wired cage to keep visitors from placing fingers inside. The mink is a vicious little animal with exceptionally sharp teeth.

Those who don't believe in the warning sign retreated quickly when the mink charged at their provocative fingers dangling through the wire mesh. Those people had more faith in the printed word after that.

Members Of Association

All officials and recorders at the rabbit show are members of the South Plains Rabbit and Cavy Breeders association. C. M. Harvin is superintendent of the division. Davis is the judge. He is assisted by L. E. and Elton G. Settles, Chuck Ware and V. M. Burleson.

Recorders who make complete entries of the judges remarks on each and every rabbit are Mrs. Rhea Abbott, Mrs. Dorothy Galloway, Mrs. Chuck Ware and Miss Frances Harvin.

Children from schools of the area were even more numerous Thursday than on the first Children's day, which was unusual. The first such day ordinarily has attracted the larger attendance. The Wednesday Children's day turnout totaled 15,369.

The visitors included the uniformed Slaton High school band, recognized as one of the best in the state.

Attendance also picked up Thursday afternoon at the second of the series of "hot rod" auto races in front of the grandstand, but still totaled well under 1,000 spectators who were thrilled by several spectacular near-crashes. The last of the two-hour races programs will be presented this afternoon.

Crowd Watches Musical Revue

The Lucky Lott "Hell Drivers" will return to the grandstand as the afternoon attraction Saturday, repeating the spectacular performance presented Tuesday.

The stand was filled to about two-thirds of its 4,000 capacity for the musical revue, "A Trip to Wonderland," Thursday night. At at all previous performances, the show was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Hugo Zacchini known as the "human cannonball," presented his act to crowds which overflowed the midway both in the afternoon and at night.

This act will be presented only once today and Saturday, each at 10:30 p. m.

Lizards are the most abundant of living reptiles.

BUNDLE OF FLUFF—Lynn Peveler holds one of the outstanding rabbits at the Panhandle-South Plains Rabbit and Cavy show. It is an English Angora rabbit owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Donelson of 3318 Twenty-first. The Donelsons bought it to test their New Zealand rabbits for woolly factor. Angora rabbits are ordinarily sheared or plucked and their fur, incredibly light and fluffy, brings high prices on the market. (Staff Photo).

Familiar Face In Courtroom Sorrowful Sight And Incorrigible Case To Judge

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30 (AP)—Traffic Judge Roger Pfaff groaned as he spotted a familiar face in the front row.

Then to the courtroom at large, he said:

"This boy (a minor) before me got a car three months ago. Since that time, he has broken every traffic law in the book. Yesterday, on the advice of this court, he sold his car."

The judge nearly choked as he looked at the citation: "Two dollars fine for jaywalking."

Untamed Luizette Was Ape Celebrity

Escaped Chimp Is Killed To Prevent Injuries To Public

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 30 (AP) — Luizette, the chimpanzee whose captive career included such highlights as a wine jag and a kidnaping spree, was shot to death here after a brief freedom.

Duffy, her chimp mate, broke a padlock yesterday and opened a gateway to the great open spaces of Audobon park—and death.

Kidnapped Baby

It was "a heart rending thing for me to do," said Douglas, "but it was done for the good of the public." Few persons were in the park at the time, but Douglas decided to take no chances with a loose chimpanzee around the zoo.

Luizette first hit the headlines in 1939, when she kidnapped another chimp's baby. Coco dropped her baby on the floor of the chimps' cage, and Luizette grabbed it. All efforts to induce her to give up the child failed. Zoo experts and police in Chicago and St. Louis offered advice.

Finally a lasso turned the trick. Luizette's feet were tied, and attandants quickly retrieved the kidnaped baby.

Employed Trickery

Fighting for her own youngsters after weaning time was an old tale to Luizette. Trickery made her give up the first of the four she mothered. Attendants lured her from the baby's cage and slammed a door.

To get the second, attendants got Luizete tipsy and took the youngster when the mother was out cold on the floor.

The ruse taught Luizete a lesson. When it came time to wean the last youngster, Luizete refused to take even a sip of wine. But attendants took the young chimp after giving the fighting mother narcotics.

One of Luizette's sons, Andy, now lives in the Forest Park zoo in St. Louis.

Express Rate Hike Plan Is Suspended

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission has suspended until April 29, 1950, a ten percent increase in railway express rates on shipments of gift packages of citrus fruits from Florida and Texas.

The increase had been scheduled to take effect today.

Actress Doing Stage Roles After Mishap Nipped Movie Career

By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 30—Susan Peters always swore she'd never drink liquor or go on the stage.

Money matters have forced her to break the latter resolution. She spent the summer touring all over the east in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street." In Hershey, Pa., next month, she starts another tour which will last 30 weeks, perhaps a year.

This is pretty rugged for a girl who never faced a footlight before. And for one whose legs are useless.

"I cherish my independence," says Susan, whose promising film career was nipped by a hunting accident that paralyzed the lower part of her body. "So I had to find a way to make a living and keep my little family together." (She has a three-year-old son).

Movie Not Successful

At present, there was nothing for her in the movies, the field she knew best. She tried one since the accident—"Sign of the Ram."

The psychological thriller hit the market at the tag end of the war boom and didn't fare too well. Besides, her fans objected to her role as the killer. Stay sweet, they pleaded.

There was radio, the easiest work in her situation. But radio has weekly deadlines and Susan doesn't like to be confined. "I like to be able to get out of town if I feel like it," she remarked. "Nothing makes me feel better than being out of doors."

The stage seemed her only chance. Such plays as "Barretts" and "The Glass Menagerie" could be adapted to her immobility. So, with great trepidation, she set out on the summer tour.

Drives Own Car

Susan's movement is limited to a wheelchair, but she is by no means confined. She keeps a pace which would weary anyone with less enthusiasm. She drives her own car, visits veteran hospitals, has taken flying lessons and does some horseback riding.

She lives in a modest Beverly Hills apartment with her son and a nurse. If all goes well, she plans to adopt a daughter next year. She was recently divorced from Richard Quine.

Susan has no hope of walking again. "How can I—I have no cord," she said frankly. "It will take longer than I'll live for the doctors to discover how to fix that."

Theft Suspect

Julius Green, 32, a negro charged in Montgomery county with felony swindling, had surrendered to Lubbock deputies at the county jail.

Juan Costilla, 27, a Levelland Mexican, was released to the Rock Springs sheriff, who held a burglary warrant.

Charges Dismissed

Upon motion of the district attorney's office, D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, dismissed car theft charges against two of three midwestern soldiers charged Monday in connection with the Sunday disappearance of a car owned by H. A. Trammel.

The motions said there was insufficient evidence upon which to sustain conviction of Donald A. Miscewicuz, 18, of Muskegon, Mich., and Francis M. Frier, 17, of Milwaukee.

There was no dismissal asked in the case of Howard Eugene Cutright, 19, of Charleston, Ill. He remained in county jail in lieu of $1,500 bond binding him over to investigation of a grand jury meeting Monday in the 99th court of Judge G. V. Pardue.

The three soldiers are stationed at Lubbock Air Force base.

Bond Posted

Bond of $1,000 was posted by W. F. Kemp, jailed several days ago on a forgery complaint, the sheriff's department said.

A 10-ton hydraulic jack was reported stolen from the cars of C. L. Jones, a negro of Lubbock route 2. The car was parked at Seventeenth and Ave. H.

Police held a 38-year-old Mt. Pleasant man for the Terry county sheriff's department, which said it had a warrant charging misdemeanor theft to him. Lubbock officials said they understood the charge accuses the suspect of having driven away without paying for gasoline in Brownfield. He also figuredе in a fight at Broncho, with a man he had worked with recently in New Mexico, police said they had been told. The Texas Highway patrol also investigated the case.

Liquor Seized

Marcus Crump, 42, and J. W. Hanson, 29, pleaded innocent of Liquor law violation, and each posted bond of $500 for trial appearance, as results of Thursday raids.

The liquor control board, police and the sheriff's office combined to raid a service station at 3901 Nineteenth and seized nine pints of whisky and 253 containers of beer, officials said.

Hanson was charged in connection with a raid on an Ave. C cafe.

Sam Calloway, 32, of Lubbock, pleading guilty on a liquor charge filed Thursday, waived formalities of trial and was fined $500 and costs of court by Judge Walter Davies. Calloway was charged in connection with a raid on a residence here. Four four-fifths quarts of intoxicating liquor were seized, officials said.

WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Louise Patenotre, 80, former principal owner of the Philadelphia Inquirer, pleaded guilty today to income tax evasion charges and received a suspended sentence upon paying a $2,000,000 liability.

Man Accused In Murder To Be Tried For Attempted Assault

RIPLEY, Tenn., Sept. 30 (AP)—Tony Marteliano, 26, accused of murdering a South Texas woman, will be tried here on a charge of attempting rape.

Marteliano, a former professional boxer from Key West, Fla., is charged in Texas with the fatal beating of Mrs. Lora Rogers. She was the wife of Brooks Rogers, citrus grower and former owner of the old Donna club of the Rio Grande valley baseball league.

Sheriff Willard Norvell said Marteliano was arrested here and held without bond about a month ago after a young Dyersburg, Tenn., girl accused him of trying to rape her while on a date. He will be tried during the circuit court session opening Oct. 3.

Suit Is Filed

Mrs. Rogers was beaten in a Pharr, Tex., tourist court June 25. She died July 3 in an Edinburg hospital. On June 18, Rogers had brought suit for divorce in 93rd district court at Edinburg.

After Mrs. Rogers' death, a warrant was issued for Marteliano's arrest. Police lost his trail at Corpus Christi.

He had boxed several times last winter at Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Houston.

Texas Tales

Four South Plains young men are aboard vessels in "Operation Miki," a large-scale amphibious exercise in the Pacific. The maneuvers, scheduled for late September, October and November, involve nearly 40,000 soldiers, sailors and marines, and are designed to dislodge an imaginary "aggressor" force from the Hawaiian islands. Two of the group, both from Lubbock, are serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Washburn. They are: Rodney C. Hall, fireman, of route 5; and C. R. Henslee, seaman apprentice, both USN. Two Levelland men, Cpl. Sherman Hill, USMC, and Kenneth Leon Cooper, seaman apprentice, USN, route 1, are serving aboard the general communication ship USS Eldorado.

C. L. Jones, a negro of Lubbock route 2, Thursday night reported to police the theft of a hydraulic jack from a car parked at Seventeenth and Ave. H. Value of the jack, described as having a lifting capacity of 10 tons, was not given.

Firemen and equipment from the central fire station answered a call to a minor blaze at a service station in 2200 block Main about 9:45 p. m. Thursday. No heavy damage was reported caused by the blaze.

"The World's Youngest Democracy—Impressions from Israel" will be the sermon subject of Rabbi Julius Kerman of Congregation Shaareth Israel at the Sabbath Eve service at 8 o'clock tonight at the synagogue, Twenty-third and Ave. Q. Rabbi Kerman visited Israel during the summer.

A two-room residence in the negro section of Lubbock was damaged by fire today. Firemen of Central station answered a 10:50 a. m. alarm.

Four Lubbock students have been pledged in sororities at Southern Methodist university at Dallas, Dean of Women Lide Spragins has announced. They are Patricia Lindsey 3114 Twentieth, Alpha Delta Pi; Etta Campbell, 1715 Twenty-third, Delta Zeta, and Edda Lynne and Lynda Francynne Cox, 3013 Twenty-fourth, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Pro Golfers Will Appear In Match

Frank Baker today outlined to fellow American Business club members final plans for the exhibition golf match next Friday at the Lubbock Country club featuring Dr. Cary Middlecoff, National open champion, and handsome Frank Stranahan, millionaire bachelor who is one of the Nation's top golfers.

Speaking at the regular weekly luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel, Baker expressed belief that a gallery of more than 1,000 persons will view the exhibition.

He related that tickets cost $1 a person, tax included, and that all spectators must wear the ducats in plain sight throughout the match.

George Dale, president of the club, said the two famous golfers will be luncheon guests of the club next Friday before going to the golf course to begin play at 1:30 p. m.

Steel Strike

(Ohio) Steel corporation—has given in to Murray. Unofficially it's the 14th largest steel producer in the nation. But it employs only 4,000 of the 500,000 unionists.

U. S. Steel, the industry's giant, hires 160,000 about one-third. Any agreement with U. S. Steel would undoubtedly set a pattern for the rest of the steelmakers.

Federal mediators feel they can get Murray and U. S. Steel together. They're going to try in conferences throughout the day and night.

First Crack In Front

Murray was jubilant yesterday in announcing Portsmouth's capitpulation. It was the first crack in the solid industry front against the free pension-insurance plan.

But nowhere else did industry knuckle down to the union terms. And as the strike deadline approaches the picture grows bleaker. A steel shutdown, economists hint, could start a slide toward recession.

A steelworker walkout would push the nation's strike-idle past the million mark. Some 480,000 coal miners have been idle nearly two weeks.

Industry spokesmen declined to say how long present steel supplies would last. But a long strike could wipe out reserves.

Production in steel-using industry would be cut, perhaps curtailed entirely. Unemployment would be heavy.

Crucible called it "a full-fledged strike."

Coal Strike

are getting nowhere.

The anthracite miners quit work when the 400,000 soft coal diggers marched out Sept. 19 to protest suspension of their pension and welfare fund benefits. The anthracite fund was not affected.

Cut Off Benefits

Refusal of some southern operators to pay the 20-cent-a-ton royalties into the fund after the UMW contract ran out June 30 prompted Lewis and other trustees to cut off fund benefits.

Dynamite blasts rent two tipples at Grass Flats in Clearfield county, Pa., not far from Snow Shoe mountain, and near Morgantown, Ky.

Robely M. Smith, president of the Junedale Coal company at Grass Flats, blamed the tipple blast on UMW pickets.

Police Investigating

No one was hurt in that blast nor at the wrecked coal mine tipple of the Hawkes Coal company in Kentucky. Deputy Sheriff Tom Sox said Kentucky police are investigating the possibility the dynamite was set off by UMW pickets.

A 15-truck coal convoy descending Snow Shoe mountain in central Pennsylvania was struck by a fusillade of shots yesterday. The truckers were carrying non-union coal from the mines to tipples where the coal was to be cleaned, crushed and loaded on railroad cars.

"We have properly availed ourselves of federal funds for such projects on navigable rivers and the Army engineers always have recognized state ownership of the waters, which the Reclamation bureau has not," he added.

Daniel said federal officials negotiating in the tidelands case "backed out completely" from a recent compromise and he appealed to Texans to "unite our forces and fight for complete state ownership within our boundaries, as guaranteed under the Texas treaty of annexation."

New Old Age Pension Plan Forecast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) — Democratic leaders predicted today the House will pass overwhelmingly before adjournment a bill vastly broadening the government old age pension program.

The bill sped toward a House showdown as some labor unions threatened strikes if employers do not pay the whole cost of pension plans operating outside the government's social security. The Ford Motor company agreed to such an independent plan yesterday. Under the government system the employes and employers equally share the cost.

The House ways and means committee voiced fear that company-financed programs, if not discouraged by passage of an improved government social security, may undermine the federal program. It said:

"Without an adequate and universally applicable basic social insurance system, the demands for security by segments of the population threaten to result in unbalanced, overlapping and competing programs. The financing of such plans may become chaotic, their economic effects dangerous."

The House rules committee balked at the ways and means committee's request for what some called a gag rule for consideration of the social security expansion bill. The committee asked that the bill be voted on a "this or nothing basis, with no amendments permitted.

Want Separate Votes

Some Republican ways and means members asked the rules group to order procedure that would permit votes on amendments. Rep. Curtis (R-Neb) said the new disability insurance bill is a forerunner of socialized medicine, and the House should be able to vote on this section of the measure separately.

Some other sections of the legislation are "political insurance" instead of social insurance, Curtis said.

However, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts, said he is confident the rules group will approve a rule barring amendments. One effect of such a rule would be to ban presentation of the Townsend old age pension plan.

Ways and means Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said chaos would develop if this 201-page technical bill were opened up for amendments. "We might be here until Christmas, if that happened," he said.

Doughton pointed out that Republicans, in control of Congress last year, presented a social security measure under procedures barring amendments.

Pending Legislation

The pending legislation, approved by the ways and means committee 22 to 3 in August, would:

1. Increase by 11,000,000 the 35,000,000; workers now covered by old age and survivors insurance; 2. Increase the benefits by 70 to 80 per cent on the average; 3. Inaugurate insurance for totally and permanently disabled persons; and 4. Boost the payroll taxes against employers and employes, to finance the expanded program.

Here is how the increase in benefits would work for a man over 65 (with wife also over 65) who has been under the social security program for 10 years:

Average Monthly Wage	Present Benefits (Monthly)	Benefits In New B. (Month)
100	41	79
150	50	87
200	58	94
250	66	102

The benefits are smaller for persons in covered employment less than 10 years, more for those in more than 10 years.

Divorce Rumored For Governor Of Illinois

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Tribune said today that Governor and Mrs. Adlai Stevenson have consulted lawyers about a divorce.

The Tribune said that only a property settlement and a decision to where the action will be filed remained to be agreed upon. It quoted the governor as saying in Springfield last night:

"I have nothing to say at all now. I may have something to say early next week, but nothing right now."

Steveson, 48 year old Democrat, is serving his first four year term, which ends in 1952. In his first bid for an elective office, he defeated Republican Dwight Green, who had served two terms. Stevenson, a lawyer, at one time was an assistant secretary of the navy, assistant to former Secretaries of State Byrnes and Stettinius and in 1946 and 1947 he was a delegate to the United Nations general assembly.

The Stevensons were married in Chicago on Dec. 1, 1928. Mrs. Stevenson is 40. They have three sons.

STRIKES COULD DEAL HEAVY BLOW

Production Gains Expected To Carry Through November

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) — Economists predicted today that the pick-up of industrial production which began in August will carry through November—barring a body blow from major strikes.

This forecast came after the Federal Reserve board announced last night that output of the nation's factories and mines had gained five per cent last month, halting eight straight months of "recessionary" decline.

Until December, there would be powerful seasonal forces at work to push production higher: restocking by merchants for the winter season and for Christmas sales. The economists said 1950 trends remain uncertain, with December developments expected to provide a good clue.

The August upturn reported by the board put substance behind the spread of optimism manifest recently among officials here and businessmen across the country.

It was, nevertheless, in part the result of a seasonal phenomenon not taken into account in reserve board compilations: July production has come to look unduly poor in recent years because of a tendency to shut down industrial plants for all-worker vacations.

Durable Output Rise

On the board's seasonally adjusted index, August production was recorded as 70 per cent above the 1935-39 average compared with 62 per cent above in July, 95 per cent above at the peak reached last November, and 91 per cent above in August, 1948.

The reserve board forecast that its September production date, when compiled, "may show a small further rise in September despite a work stoppage at coal mines" after mid-September.

The August production gain was marked by a five per cent rise in output of durable goods, mostly from "substantial gains" in the iron and steel industry—now facing the threat of a strike after this week—and the lumber and nonferrous metals industries.

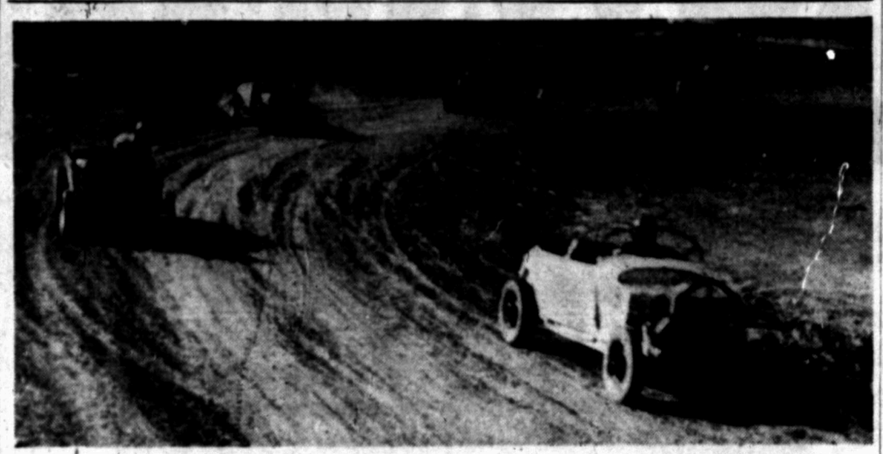

Another feature, the board said, was a gain in output of non-durable goods "to the highest level since March." There were notable increases in production of cotton and rayon textiles, shoes, paper, paperboard and tobacco products.

Los Angeles Police Chief Is Acquitted

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30. (AP)—Former Police Chief C. B. Horrall, in a speedy trial, has won speedy acquittal on perjury charges.

Perjury and bribery charges against another officer, Lt. Rudy Wellpott, were dismissed yesterday by Superior Judge Stanley N. Barnes.

The judge indicated the grand jury had returned indictments against Horrall and Wellpott on insufficient evidence.

The court, however, refused to quash perjury and bribery charges against Sgt. E. V. Jackson, who was ordered to trial Nov. 14; nor perjury counts against Asst. Chief Joseph F. Reed and Capt. Cecil Wisdom, to be tried Nov. 9.

Ex-Chief Horrall retired recently in the midst of a furore kicked up by revelations that his vice squad had dealings with Hollywood bawdy house keeper Brenda Allen.

The court held Horrall—who was the only defense witness—had not lied in telling the grand jury that his office was still investigating the tie-up with Miss Allen last June.

DISASTER AVERTED—Jimmy Martin of Clovis, N. M., inspects damage to his racer following a crash through a chain-link fence during the Junk Car races at Panhandle-South Plains fair Thursday afternoon. Martin escaped uninjured but there was considerable damage to his high-powered car. A wet, slick track added to the danger Thursday afternoon. Another performance is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the stadium on the fairgrounds. (Staff Photo.)

Ex-Canadian Girl Is Facing Deportation

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30 (AP) — Betty Ritchie, ex-Canadian schoolteacher and girl friend of Gerard Dennis, convicted society burglar, is ticketed for deportation.

She must appear before district immigration director William A. Carmichael before Oct. 6 to sign a deportation waiver or file an appeal, if she intends to fight the order of the U. S. attorney general.

Miss Ritchie, 24, is accused of entering this country without a visa. The former Toronto schoolma'rm was acquitted of complicity last April in Dennis' "Raffles" escapades, after her arrest in his apartment here. He was convicted of burglary at White Plains, N. Y., and sentenced to 18 years to life imprisonment.

DeMolays Hear Talk By Former Official

John Lee Smith, former lieutenant governor, was the principal speaker Thursday night at the Masonic hall when the Demolay E. Y. Lee chapter observed Constitution day with a special program. A large crowd, including several visiting Masons, attended the meeting.

In his address, former Lieut. Gov. Smith traced the history of the constitution of the United States. He explained what it has cost in terms of lives from the Revolutionary War to those of the present century. He illustrated the high standard of living and the protection of human rights enjoyed by those living under the constitution in contrast to the condition of peoples in Russia and other totalitarian countries.

Former Lieut. Gov. Smith commented on the "Bill of Rights," the first ten constitutional amendments, and told how they have protected Americans on many occasions.

The program was arranged by a chapter committee headed by Richard McCollum, senior deacon, and presided over by Tommy Cooper, master councilor. James H. Kennedy, past master councilor, introduced the former state official.

Chiang Forces Defend Canton

CANTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists were reported today to be pouring more reinforcements into the Kukong area to block the approaches to Canton.

Kukong is 125 miles north of the refugee capital.

Communist guerrillas harrassed Nationalist position near Yanfa, just north of Kukong. Across the border in Kiangsi province, Red regulars waited to strike. A large irregular force was reported assembling near Yanfa, 20 miles north of Kukong.

Near Chihing, 25 miles east of Kukong, forward elements of Red regulars were digging in to meet a Nationalist attack along the Kukong-Chihing road.

Canton newspaper readers were treated to simultaneous reports the Reds were retreating from Chihing—and being reinforced.

The military news agency said part of the Communist 11th army moved from Anyuan to Tingnan, still on the Kiangsi side of the Kiangsi-Kwangtung border, about 140 miles northeast of Canton. Lack of food and illness among the troops were said to have cut down the army's speed.

A Central News agency dispatch reported air raiders destroyed most of the Red defense works and many invasion craft—junks and sampans—on the Fukien coast. This may have forestalled an amphibious assault on Amoy island, under communist siege from the mainland.

The ministeries of defense and interior prepared to investigate the case of Gen. Chu Shao-Liang. As governor of Fukien province, he was the nominal commander in the recent futile defense of Foochow.

Foochow was garrisoned by troops under Gen. Tang En-Po, who directed the losing battles for Nanking, Shanghai and Hangchow.

Ex-Diplomat Claims Russians Got A-Bomb Secret From FDR

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—A former Mexican diplotmat said today that a "well known" Russian had told him the late President Roosevelt gave "the formula for the atomic bomb" to the Soviet Union at the Yalta conference in 1943.

Jose Ruben Romero, writing in the magazine "Hoy," said "a very well known Russian personage" told him in Cuba that Roosevelt turned over the "nuclear formula, looking for greater efficiency in the defense against a common enemy." Romero formerly was Mexican ambassador to Brazil and Cuba.

Two Navy Fliers Die When Planes Collide

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 30. (AP)—Two Navy fighter planes collided in the air, crashed and burned about four miles south of Beeville yesterday. Their student pilots were killed.

The fliers had been making practice landings at Chase field at Beeville a few minutes before the collision. They were students in the Navy's advanced carrier flight training at Cabaniss field here.

At Waterbury, Conn., the family of Midshipman Paul Boulier said it was notified he was killed in a plane crash here yesterday. The Beeville crash was the only one the Navy had reported.

FREE DDT GOES OVER BIG

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Police had to be called in to control crowds when a paint manufacturer gave away $59,200 worth of DDT through several department stores. The manufacturer offered the 80,000 units of DDT, one unit to a customer, with no strings attached, nothing to buy. The firm said it simply wanted the compound used to help fight the spread of disease by insects.

It Was First Interview With Dog In His Lap

Marie Wilson As Normal As Shortcake, Writer Declares

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. — It was the first time in my life I ever had an interview with a dog in my lap.

There was this lovely lady right beside me—Marie Wilson of the movies and radio. And there on my lap was her dog, Hobbs. A frilly-haired critter the lady said was a "Yorkshire terrier."

I asked Miss Wilson, who plays the dumb blonde in the Columbia Broadcasting system's radio show called "My Friend Irma," how she happened to be so dumb—which she isn't—and the dog squirmed on my lap.

First Time In Capitol

Marie could be named Miss America without challenge. And she's as normal as strawberry shortcake, as they say in the songs.

Sure, she looked something like a big shot. She had on a mink coat. But capping her outfit was a deep pink scarf, which your wife or mine might wear to the store to pick up a can of beans.

Marie's mother was with her. She said neither she nor her daugher ever had been to Washington before and they wanted to see the sights. We saw 'em.

Marie was born in Anaheim, Cal., back there a ways. What year, she'll tell you, is her own business. When she was 15, she decided a career in Hollywood was her dish. She was ready for movietown, but the town was not ready for her. She hit the studios and, according to her own version, they hit her right back. She decided that there were more pretty girls than there were funny-people in Hollywood so she concentrated on that. The funny business.

It took an awful long time, but at length she was starred in a comedy role in "Miss Pacific Fleet." After that she landed a fat contract.

Marie is almost as modest as her puppy, Hobbs.

"We're both shy," she said. "And we're a little alike, in a way."

As a matter of fact, they are. As "Irma," Marie is a blonde with the face of an angel and—quoting Marie, herself—the brain of a mouse.

Not over-educated, she can be as naive as the next one. At other times, she baffles even the closest of her friends. Like kicking in for neighborhood benefits and other things. Her mama told me that. Marie didn't.

Allen Nixon, her actor-husband, kind of wishes that he made as much as she does. And he's not dumb, either.

Neither is Hobbs, her dog.

When we got in front of the National Press building, the dog started to kick up a fuss when I wanted to get out.

Wrong Man Is Sent To Waco Hospital

WACO, Sept. 30 (AP)—Waco and Oklahoma City officers were busy today correcting a mistake.

It seems the Oklahoma City's sheriff's office, told to deliver a man held there to the veterans hospital here, showed up with the wrong man.

The man they brought was facing criminal charges in Oklahoma. The man they were supposed to have brought to the hospital—but left languishing in the jail at Oklahoma City—needs medical treatment.

Once over the state border, the criminal suspect was in the custody of the state of Texas. Waco Sheriff C. C. Maxey said he could have forced Oklahoma to go through extradition proceedings to get him. Fortunately he didn't and the exchange of men was underway today.

Girl Murderer Found Insane

JOILET, Ill., Sept. 30 (AP) — Diana Allen, 13-year-old slayer of a boy playmate, was ordered sent to a mental hospital yesterday after she was found insane by a circuit court jury.

Diana, who signed a statement that she drowned Charles Johnson, 7, to satisfy an "urge to kill," made an unsuccessful attempt to escape after the verdict. She broke away from a matron as she was being led across the street from the Will county courthouse to the county jail. She was caught by a deputy sheriff after a short chase down the street.

Struggled With Officer

Diana struggled with the deputy, Roy Doerfler, and shouted: "Let me alone. Keep your dirty hands off me. I don't want to go back to jail." She had shown no emotion during her four-day trial.

The girl had been in jail for five months. She admitted drowning the Johnson boy in a drainage ditch on April 30.

Both state and defense lawyers recommended a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity. Three psychiatrists testified that Diana is a victim of schizephrenia (split personality).

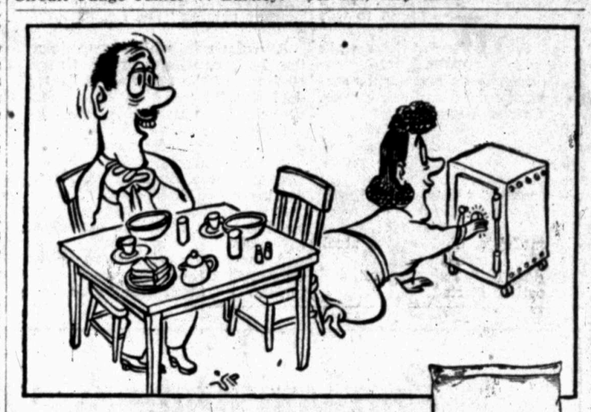

Diana was admitted to the Illinois state hospital for the insane at nearby Elgin three hours after her committment was ordered by Circuit Judge James V. Bartley.

LUCK WITH CATFISH

UPTON, Mass. (U.P.)—In a single evening, 76-year-old Mrs. Mabel Alexander caught five hornpout ranging from -0 to 14 inches long and weighing a total of nine pounds.

RIDES THE FALLS

SANDPOINT, Ida. (U.P.)—Duane Davis wasn't in a barrel nor was he seeking publicity when he was swept over the pounding falls of Lightning Creek near here. Davis lost his footing on the steep bank of the creek, tumbled in and rode headfirst over one of the falls. Struggling vainly, he kept on going and was washed over the second and larger falls. He was finally near enough to shore to clamber out, very tired.

BAKED MEAT LOAF DUMPLINGS
(Serves 6)

All Measurements Level:

CRISCO PASTRY

2¼ cups sifted flour — ⅔ cup Crisco
1 tsp. salt — ¼ cup water

Sift flour and salt into bowl. Remove ⅓ cup of this flour. Cut Crisco into remaining flour with 2 knives until pieces are the size of small peas. Mix the ⅓ cup of flour with ¼ cup of water to make a paste and add to Crisco-flour mixture. Mix and shape into a ball. Divide. Lightly roll half of dough ⅛" thick. Cut into 3 squares 6" x 6". Repeat with remaining dough.

FILLING: Combine 1 lb. raw ground beef, ½ cup fine crumbs, 2 tbsps. chopped onion, 1 tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper, ⅓ cup ketchup, 1 egg. Place ½ cup of meat filling in center of each square. Moisten edges with milk and bring together. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) about one hour or until pastry is well baked. Serve with tomato sauce.

Steel Negotiators Keep Reporters In Dark

Weighty Decisions Are Being Made In Hotel William Penn

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Either way they go, important decisions are being made in room 735 of the Hotel William Penn.

For it's in this room that the steel negotiations are held. Here the answer must be found to this vital question:

Shall 500,000 steelworkers walk off their jobs at midnight?

Conversations Secret

Philip Murray, head of the United steelworkers, arrived. He looked gay. He grabbed a pencil from one reporter, a writing pad from another, and played reporter—as President Truman did once.

Then John A. Stephens, vice president of United States steel, arrived. He looked glum.

The door of 735 swung shut, and the meeting started.

Reporters sat on the floor of the hall (fortunately, the carpets are soft), or played cards in a nearby room, or wandered around.

If anyone hoped to overhear any conversation from room 735, he was bound to be disappointed. A radio blared away, with a bay soprano singing "The Lord's Prayer."

A woman in white came down the hall, causing a mild flurry. Had one of the negotiators passed out? But it turned out she wasn't a nurse, but only a hotel employe checking up on spare rooms.

Rumors Rampant

A rumor started, heaven knows where, that a decision would be coming down right away.

By now the boy soprano was singing "zing went the strings of my heart."

A rumor started, heaven knows where, that the union was warming up its duplicating machines, and would have a statement right away.

Two hours of this, and very long hours they were.

Finally the door opened. Out came Stephens, glum. No statement. Out came Murray. He was glum, too, by now. No statement.

Out came assorted helpers, showing assorted shades of glumness.

Yes, be back tomorrow. Yes, we'll try it once more, with government mediators sitting in this time.

I went into 735 to see if I could find any clues on the progress of the negotiations, but I didn't have much luck.

Someone had doodled, in ink, on the tablecloth. One ashtray had ten cigaret stubs and a wad of chewing gum, all well used.

Well, today's another day. There'll be a fresh table cloth, fresh cigarets, fresh gum. But no one could say whether the arguments would be fresh—or convincing.

LEWIS' MOTHER ILL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 30. (AP)—Mrs. Louisa Lewis, 90-year-old mother of John L. Lewis, was reported by relatives as critically ill today in St. John's hospital.

Texas Demos Are Gathering

LUFKIN, Sept. 30. (AP)—Democratic big wheels rolled into Lufkin today to help celebrate its forest festival, and perhaps even to make peace among themselves.

Little open politicking is expected until the committee holds its formal business session tomorrow morning.

Today, it was sightseeing and handshaking. Committee members will be honor guests tonight at a barbecue at which national committee—men Wright Morrow of Houston will be the chief speaker.

Showers To Attend

It will be the first session attended by Gov. Allan Shivers since he became titular head of the party. At Austin yesterday, Shivers said he hoped it would be a peaceful meeting.

The session has been widely advertised as a peace gathering.

If no reference is made to the national committee's Aug. 24 approval of Morrow as national committeeman, the meeting may run off as advertised.

But one faction of the committee will make a fight if any sort of Morrow resolution — either in praise or otherwise—is introduced. There have been reports a resolution patting Morrow on the back may be offered.

Morrow was okayed by the national committee in August after a long fight that started with the September convention a year ago. The convention repudiated him. Byron Skelton of Temple was recommended to the national committee by the state committee.

Morrow had been accused of party disloyalty. He denied this, and worked for the Truman-Barkley ticket. This the national committee took as final evidence in its decision to seat him and reject the state committee's candidate.

Ground Crew Chief Seriously Hurt By New Pilot Ejector

MARCH AIR BASE, Calif., Sept. 30. (AP)—Tech. Sgt. Vincent Didio can tell you that those pilot ejector seats really work.

Didio, 30, ground crew chief for the 94th fighter squadron, was checking over the cockpit of an F-86 jet plane when it happened. Somehow he hit the trigger that set off the 37 mm. shell powering the ejector.

It ejected him and the seat through the half-open canopy 20 feet into the air. He came down on the concrete flight apron in a shower of plastic—and with a broken shoulder, ribs and knee.

Long Beach Naval hospital authorities said yesterday he'll be all right after a few weeks.

Rites Slated Today For Idalou Infant

Graveside services for James Alvin Brashear, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brashear of Route 1, Idalou, who died Thursday morning at West Texas hospital, were to be held at 2 p. m., today in Babyland at Lubbock cemetery. Rev. I. D. Walker, pastor of the Parkdale Baptist church, was to conduct services.

The infant is survived by the parents; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brashear, Lubbock; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Sellers, Gobler, Mo.

LEFT-WINGERS URGE EARLY TEST

British Election Asked Even As Commons Backs Laborites

LONDON, Sept. 30 (AP)—A group of left-wing Laborites called today for a general election soon on the heels of yesterday's solid vote of confidence for the government's crisis policy in parliament.

Even as the House of Commons registered a smashing 342-5 approval of the Attlee regime's action cutting the value of the pound sterling, a leading Labor organ urged the government to call an election for November, instead of serving the full five-year term which expires next July.

It was the first open demand from an important segment of the Labor party for a "snap" election and set members of parliament wondering whether their seats may be at stake within a matter of weeks.

Attlee Opposes Idea

The publication is the Tribune, a weekly journal edited by Michael Foote, a member of the Labor party's executive committee, and Jennie Lee, wife of fiery Health Minister Aneurin Bevin. Bevan also is a member of parliament.

Political sources said Prime Minister Attlee, however, opposes an election before next spring.

Left-wingers within his party appeared to be pressing for an election now on the grounds that delay might cost them votes if a rise in living costs develops as a result of devaluation.

Shortly before yesterday's Commons vote, a motion of no confidence—which would have forced Britain into an immediate election—was proposed by Conservative Leader Winston Churchill. It was defeated 350 to 212.

Election Tactics Charged

Conservative party sources said today their machine is ready for an election any time. The anti-Labor press has been demanding a fall election.

The three-day devaluation debate, which resulted in yesterday's approval of the government financial policy, left the impression it was more of an election campaign preview than a discussion of the consequences of cheapening the pound.

The government and its opposition each accused the other of resorting to "election propaganda" tactics.

The independent Times of London said the parties sparred in parliament "for the purpose of electioneering debate."

The Times political writer said "however much longer this parliament may drag on, it is now plain that its useful work is virtually ended and that the date of the election is the question in which members now are fully interested."

Vote Eighth Endorsement

The House of Commons adjourned last night. The House of Lords had adjourned the night before. Parliament, which was called from its summer recess to consider the devaluation crisis, returns to work on Oct. 18.

Government sources said that before the body reconvenes Labor leaders probably will have decided when to call the general election.

Some observers said they thought Attlee and his chief lieutenants would not make a decision until after the Conservative party's annual conference on Oct. 12.

Yesterday's confidence vote was the eighth endorsement since Labor was voted into power in 1945.

The five votes against the government motion were from either Communists or independent laborites ousted from the Labor party for travelling too close to the Communist line.

Meanwhile, ration-groggy Britons heard a cheering item. For the three weeks beginning Oct. 9 they will get 21 cents worth of meat instead of 18 2/3 cents worth weekly.

Court Rules Against Film Man's Ex-Wife

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30. (AP)—Mrs. Natalie Kalmus will have to wait for Massachusetts to make the next legal move in her attempt to prove she is still the wife of Dr. Herbert T. (Technicolor) Kalmus.

Superior court here refused yesterday to set aside its ruling of June 1 that she was no longer married to the millionaire film man. Seeking separate maintenance, she still has a suit pending in the Bay state to set aside the divorce she obtained from Dr. Kalmus in 1921.

Dr. Kalmus, 67, has consistently denied there was a reconciliation following the divorce. In fact, he married Mrs. Eleanor King, newspaper columnist, last Sept. 6.

Frenship Students Return From Austin

Attending were seniors Mary Louise Woods, Yvonne Williams, and Mona Sue Goodpasture, and juniors Patsy Haws and Dorothy Womack.

Delegates from Tahoka and Littlefield schools also were present.

Mysterious Message Branded As A Hoax

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—A renewed plane and ship search for two missing Italian trans-Atlantic fliers was called off late today after the mysterios message which inspired it was exposed as a hoax.

The mysterious message had given hope that the two airmen—John M. Brondello and Camillio Barioglio—might be drifting in the Atlantic 300 miles east of the Bahamas. They had been missing 12 days.

However, reports from Rome late in the day indicated that the whole thing was based on a fake message received by "telegraphic currents," not by radio.

The Coast Guard announced here that the Italian embassy in Washington, after a series of urgent inquiries in Rome, had reported "all authorities regard case as hoax."

PANTS WERE TABOO

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (U.P.)—Students actresses assigned male roles in early Smith College theatrical productions had to stand behind hedges, couches or low screens when they appeared on stage. The reason: they were not allowed to wear pants, and skirts spoiled the illusion created by false handle-bar moustaches.

STEALS KITCHEN SINK

GUIDES FOR FARMERS AVAILABLE

Shields Enable Tractors To Dust Crops Without Damage

A set of shields to enable a tractor to go through rank cotton without running over it has been built at Lubbock experiment substation and similar shields can be built by farmers who have farm shops, sub station personnel has announced.

The shields are expected to be especially valuable this year, since moisture has caused more rank growth than in normal years.

The state experiment station of Mississippi designed such shields for side wheels on tractors and the Lubbock substation obtained drawings from the Mississippi station. It added a shield for the front wheel, built in similar fashion to those for the side wheels. The shields brush leaves aside.

Main purpose of the shields is for use in going into cotton late in the season for application of defoliants with a ground machine to prepare for mechanical harvesting. Although some farmers use airplanes in dusting, many use ground machines.

The shields may be built either with 30-gallon barrels or light sheet metal by the farmer if he has a shop. Otherwise, they may be made in a blacksmith shop.

The experiment substation east of Lubbock has rough sketches to give to farmers for use as a guide in constructing shields.

Shop Valuable

The substation believes a farm shop to be a valuable asset to farmers on the South Plains, since farming in this area is heavily mechanized. The farmer may save himself trips to town during busy season by having a place to work and a few tools to do it with, Rex Colwick, agricultural engineer at the substation, said.

The shop at the experiment station is 24 by 40 feet, which is twice as large as the average size shop a farmer would need, he said. "The main thing is to have enough room to keep your tools and drive a tractor in on a clean floor." A concrete floor is prized for use in adjusting and setting up implements at the experiment substation.

Barkley Silent About Rumors He'll Marry St. Louis Widow

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30 (AP)—Vice-President Barkley was still mum today about the possibility of becoming a groom—despite a hint from President Truman.

But Mrs. Max O. Truitt, Barkley's daughter, laughed off the idea and said the President was "just kidding."

Barkley has made frequent trips to St. Louis recently to visit Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, a 38-year-old widow.

Last night in a speech preceding the President's Barkley addressed the audience as "fellow Missourians." When Mr. Truman spoke, he called Barkley a grand man and added:

Visits Mentioned

The vice-president joined in the laughter, but said nothing.

Prior to his Kansas City visit Barkley stopped in St. Louis. He mentioned the publicity he has been getting in connection with his visits to St. Louis and remarked:

"That shows what a gracious and charming woman can do for a man."

He added that he still didn't know whether he "would make the grade."

Police Blame Fall For Death Of Man

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 30. (U.P.)—A pathologist's report showed today that Emmett E. Hamilton, found dead in his jail cell Tuesday, died of a fractured skull.

City Detectives said Hamilton, 63, struck his head in a fall prior to his arrest for drunkenness.

Cops Probe Shooting Of Husband And Wife

PARIS, Ill., Sept. 30 (U.P.) — The shotgun death of a 19-year-old wife and critical wounding of her husband was called "an apparent murder and suicide attempt" by police today.

Mrs. Adelia Briscoe, of Crescent, Okla., was found dying of a wound in the abdomen when police entered the couple's apartment last night. Her husband, E. A. Briscoe, 28, was found wounded nearby Beside him was a shotgun and two empty shells.

Briscoe, employed by the Seismograph Service Co., Tulsa, Okla., has been in Paris for several months on business.

Hospital attendants said today that his condition was critical. He was shot in the chest.

An inquest into Mrs. Briscoe's death will be held today.

LONGSHOREMEN PREVENT UNLOADING

Orphan Pineapple Barge From Hawaii Is Looking For Port

THE DALLES, Ore., Sept. 30. (AP)—An orphan pineapple barge from Hawaii was looking again today for a port, loser in another bout with CIO longshoremen.

The Dalles port commission ordered the barge and its $800,000 load of pineapple to shove off to prevent any further outbreak of labor violence.

Jubilant longshoremen asserted they were making good their boast of six weeks ago—when the pineapple left strike-bound Hawaii—that they would make the barge another "Flying Dutchman," destined to sail years without finding a port.

Unloading Delayed

Earlier the longshoremen's roving picket platoons balked the barge's attempts to find a Puget Sound port where it could unload.

Then the barge slipped up the Columbia river, arriving here last Saturday before pickets could each up. But the unloading was delayed and longshoremen apparently won their battle Wednesday by swarming 200-strong onto the dock. They roughed up ten cargo workers and truck drivers, wrecked unloading equipment, and tossed 100 cases of pineapple into the river.

This led the port commission to cancel its agreement last night with the Hawaiian Pineapple company for unloading on the commission dock. A clause permitted cancellation in case of labor violence. The action came before the company had moved any pineapple from the waterfront.

Intimidation Charged

A company spokesman, A. K. Tobin, protested that the longshoremen had "been permitted to intimidate an American community through a display of violence and brutality." Another asserted the Dalles had been subjected to a "reign of terror."

Still another, R. M. Botley, was reported in Seattle today to confer with Dave Beck, vice-president of the AFL teamsters, on the possibility of attempting to unload elsewhere.

The elsewhere may be at some obscure port like Tillamook, Ore., where an estimated 350 tons of pineapple slipped in last Tuesday. Teamsters drove some of the trucks moving the fruit inland. The unloading was made there on a privately owned dock, guarded by private employes.

That led, however, to violence in Portland yesterday. Longshoremen caught up with two non-union pineapple drivers from Tillamook and mauled them slightly before police arrived.

Still to be settled are two court suits here. One is a request by the Hawaiian Pineapple company for an injunction against longshoremen's picketing.

The other is a $40,000 damage suit filed by the company after the longshoremen's dock raid. It asks $5000 for damage to equipment, $10,000 for lost time and $25,000 punitive damages against the longshore union and its key officials.

In addition there may be assault complaints. Guenther Krause, attorney for the company, said photographs of the Wednesday raid were being studied in at attempt to identify participants.

Squads of state police, armed with riot guns and bayonets, patrolled the waterfront here yesterday to keep the peace. They were sent by Governor Douglas McKay of Oregon, who later telephoned Mayor R. J. Mauser of The Dalles to urge quick settlement of the controversy, since he said he couldn't keep the state police there long. This was believed to have played an important part in the commission's decision to order the barge away.

SERVICES ARE SET

Funeral services for Paul H. Schreckengast, 46, who died Thursday morning at his home, 1301 Twenty-sixth, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Foursquare Gospel church. Rev. Floyd Dawson will officiate. Burial will be in Tech Memorial Park cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

MEET THE MANAGER—Harold "Al" Alschuler, owner and manager of Alschuler's Campus Toggery, was born at Waukegan, Ill., July 16, 1907. His family moved to the new town of Gary, Ind., when he was two months old. He grew up there and graduated from Emerson High school in Gary. He then attended the University of Illinois. He got married and worked as credit manager for Sears, Roebuck and company and other firms in Gary before establishing his own business. He then operated a men's wear store and his wife operated a women's store. In January of this year he purchased the former Bray's Campus Toggery and moved to Lubbock. His hobbies are spectator sports and mixing with people. He belongs to the Lions club. Mr. and Mrs. Alchuler and two sons, Al, 15, and Harry Neil, 3, live at 3008 Twenty-fourth. (Staff Photo).

CAA Probing Airline Gasoline Complaint

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30 (AP) — City and Civil Aeronautics administration officials are investigating a complaint that some gasoline supplied Central airlines contained rust sediment.

City Manager W. O. Jones asked airport Manager Allen Rubottom yesterday for a written report on progress of the investigation. Jones said Rubottom already had given him an oral report.

The complaint was made by R. E. Harding, jr., vice president and operations manager of the airline.

M. L. Cunningham, CAA regional chief of safety operations, said Central reported that one of its flights originating in Fort Worth had to land at Love field in Dallas Saturday after its engine sputtered and lost power. Then eight Central planes were examined and drained of gasoline taken from a truck containing sediment.

THREE SWEETHEARTS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (U.P) — A greeting card representative for the Hallmark company here reported seeing a man step up to a retail counter in Kent, O., and buy two cards each inscribed "To My Sweetheart," and then buy one card that read, "To My Dear Wife." But don't jump to conclusions: the first two were for his daughters at school.

Cotton Disease Threat Ended

A disease which has caused considerable concern among South Plains farmers who planted cotton early in the planting season has been analyzed and no longer is considered a threat to the area's cotton crop, Don L. Jones, Lubbock experiment sub-station superintendent, said Thursday afternoon.

Numerous farmers visited the experiment station after leaves on mature cotton began to dry and die and drop off the plants about three weeks ago, following a period of cloudy, dry and foggy weather.

Threat Has Faded

Jones sent some of the affected cotton leaves to the department of plant physiology and pathology at Texas A. & M. college which analyzed the disease as a fungus disease, Alernaria spores, which frequently grow on weakened foliage during periods of wet weather.

"What appeared to be a threat will not be a threat any more unless we have another spell of wet weather," said Jones.

The disease affected a small amount of cotton in relation to the total acreage on the South Plains, but did affect mature cotton in various parts of the area. Most of the affected cotton was planted in April and early May, while cotton planted later generally was spared.

Fiber May Be Weakened

Some damage occurred in the affected cotton, since the cotton lost part of its "manufacturing plant" when the dying and defoliation occurred. The leaves are necessary just as the root system is and loss of leaves may cause fiber to be less strong, it was pointed out.

Some farmers whose cotton had been affected had wondered if a new disease had developed, possibly root rot.

The same condition occurred in some cotton in the area in 1941, after cloudy, foggy weather similar to that this fall.

Mickey Cohen Trial Postponed By Court

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30 (AP) — Gambler Mickey Cohen and five of his henchmen have three extra months to prepare their defense against a grand jury conspiracy indictment.

Superior court yesterday postponed their trial from Oct. 3 until next Jan. 16 when defense attorneys explained that previous commitments would keep them from adequately presenting the Cohenites.

Two of the Cohen aides originally charged were not present at the court session. Neddie Herbert was slain since in the assassination attempt on Cohen; Frank Niccoli has been missing nearly a month and Cohen thinks he's been killed, too.

Cohen and his men are charged, along with three police officers and two others, with rigging up a release and hushup in a slugging case involving the gang.

UN DEBATES ORDER OF ISSUES

China Presses For Hearing On Charges Against Russia

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 30 (AP)—Nationalist China pressed today for an early hearing in the United Nations on her charges that Soviet Russia aided the Chinese communists.

The fight had reached the important 59-nation political committee but a time to argue it and unroll the Canton government's evidence still had to be picked.

Debate on placing the Chinese charges on the agenda was delayed by a long, wrangling argument yesterday afternoon about executions in Greece.

Charges Reviewed

Poland refused to withdraw a resolution calling for a halt to the scheduled execution of a Greek woman named Katherin Zevgos. Greece disclosed Mrs. Zevgos was reprieved two weeks ago.

The Polish resolution was beaten, 41 to 9, but the long debate served two purposes. It brought a full-dress review of charges by the Russian bloc that Greece oppressed her people in civil war. It gave Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, a breathing spell to prepare new replies to China's charges, which he complained yesterday were too generalized to answer.

Lester Pearson of Canada, political committee chairman, announced at the end of the session that the committee would take up this morning the old question of disposing of Italy's prewar colonies.

Atomic Talks Secret

But the question of debating the Chinese charges was a procedural measure that the Chinese could bring up any time and they gave every evidence of eagerness to push the fight. Vishinsky's principal opposition, after two futile attempts to keep the question out of the United Nations, was to any move that would put the Chinese charges ahead of his proposition for a peace pact among the big five—including China. The Russian proposal is listed third on the agenda.

Atomic control discussions will continue in secret to allow full, free discussion, Russia and the five western powers announced after a meeting yesterday. No meeting will be held until next Thursday, a commission statement said, but a report was promised for this assembly.

United States Delegate Warren Austin renewed his plea last night that Russia yield to inspection procedures in any control plan, and thus allow effective international control. The plea was voiced at a dinner in New York honoring Secretary General Trygve Lie.

The special political committee continues discussion today of a United States proposal to give the U. N. Korean commission more power to settle unification strife in Korea, menaced by a "peoples liberation" communist regime in North Korea.

Texas Aggies Will Stage Celebration

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 30. (Special)—Plans have been set in motion for the celebration of the 75th anniversary of Texas A. and M. college, 1950-51.

The board of directors in session in San Antonio Friday voted to name a three-man committee from its membership to work with committees fro mthe Association of Former students, the faculty and student body to plan the celebration.

Major events which will mark the anniversary celebration include the opening of the $1,300,000 Memorial Student center in September of 1950; the inauguration of a new president in June and biggest homecoming on Muster day, April 21, planned to be the biggest homecoming in the history of the college.

Indian Relics Are Studied By Class

Indian relics and motifs to be found in Lubbock were studied Thursday by the third grade students in the room of Miss Murl Ratliff at Roscoe Wilson school when they took a tour of the city.

First stop in the excursion was at the home of Mrs. R. T. Prideaux where the children were shown the mural of a Pueblo village on the walls of the den, pottery bowls over 400 years old found by Mrs. Prideaux's brother on the banks of the Red river and Mrs. Prideaux's arrow head collection. Mrs. Prideaux also told the children of the pottery made by Julian and Maria Martinez in San Ildefonso.

Exteriors of adobe houses were also observed by the students as were totem poles in the yard of K. N. Clapp.

Lubbock Ministers To Present Program

Tickets for the Oct. 6 symposium of three Lubbock ministers who traveled extensively in Europe this summer will go on sale Monday, Fray Smith of the Exchange club announced Thursday.

The program will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium.

Tickets will be sold at Hemphill-Wells, in the lobby of the Hilton hotel and by members of the Exchange club. Tickets will be on sale through Tuesday at one dollar plus tax.

Proceeds from the program next Thursday night will go to the Polio Epidemic Emergency drive, which the Exchange club is pushing for the local chapter of the National Polio foundation.

To be presented in the program are Rev. William F. Blakeslee of the St. Elizabeth Catholic church, Rabbi Julius Kerman of the Congregation Shaareth Israel, and Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ. Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, will act as moderator.

The three will discuss social, economic and religious conditions as they found them in Europe.

TO BE MARRIED—Marquis of Milford Haven and Mrs. Romaine Dahlgren Pierce Simpson, 26-year-old American divorcee, smile happily during a press conference at Claridge's hotel in London, England, where they announced their intention to be married in Washington, D. C., in late November or this year. Their romance, Mrs. Simpson said, was "probably love at first sight."

MORE THAN 500 AT ROTARY MEET

Mabry Says Strong Defense Best Security Against War

Congressional unity on the military aid bill to re-arm friendly nations is proof that "we don't walk out on democracies standing and holding against Communism," Gov. Thomas J. Mabry of New Mexico told more than 500 Rotarians and guests in Lubbock last night.

The New Mexico governor was principal speaker at the 26th annual Inter-City Relations meeting held in the Texas Tech gymnasium following a chicken barbecue under the east side of Jones stadium. Lubbock Rotarians were hosts for members and guests of 32 Rotary clubs in the area.

Ample Preparation Favored

"Democrats and Republicans standing together to vote money for military aid to other countries shows that we don't walk out on the democracies of the world," Gov. Mabry said, departing from his prepared speech to praise the $1,314,010,00 military aid bill passed by the House and Senate on Wednesday.

His remarks on the aid bill came after he said: "We do not know what lies ahead nor what is in the minds of Communist leaders, but we do know that ample preparation for national defense is our best security against war."

"Communists are telling the world that democracies are all washed out and that a new ideology...is soon to take over. But I do not believe that we are in the sunset days of democracy," Gov. Mabry said.

"I believe that we are in the bright and early morning of democracy; that democracy is to endure, and that America, the one strong spokesman of the remaining democracies, will be spared to hold the torch of freedom and justice under law, to light the way for liberty-loving peoples of all the world."

Gov. Mabry said America has become the greatest country in the world through spiritual and moral strength, tolerance, recognition of the freedom of the individual and through faith in its leadership and the principles on which the country was founded.

Prior to his formal speech, Gov. Mabry, asked for his views on the proposed Canadian river dam to supply water for 13 Texas cities, said he supported Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico. Senator Anderson had asked that no construction be authorized until a water-compact was formed between New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, later agreeing to a revision of the project bill now pending in the Senate.

Gov. Mabry was introduced by Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal. Guy C. Victory, president of the Lubbock Rotary club presided at the meeting. Directing the program was Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech.

On the speaker's platform, and speaking briefly was E. V. Pesqueira, Mexican consul from Amarillo. Dr. William O. Gordon outlined the work and advancements made by the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy center sponsored by the Lubbock Rotary club.

Tokyo Rose Is Found Guilty

Sentencing Is Slated Oct. 6

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30 (AP)—Stony faced, Iva Toguri D'Aquino heard herself convicted of treason last night — for telling American troops their ships had been sunk in Leyte gulf and they were "orphans of the Pacific."

A somewhat reluctant federal court jury of six men and six women brought in the verdict after four days' deliberation. A surprised "Oh!", of apparent disappointment, swept the courtroom.

She Remains Stoic

Iva—Los Angeles-born and educated—remained as stoic as she had during the 12-week trial. Head bowed, she said nothing. No tears. Later she told her attorney "I can't understand it." An appeal is planned.

October 6 was set for sentencing. The minimum sentence would be five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine; the maximum—death. But the government did not ask the death penalty.

Foreman John Mann said the jurors would have liked to acquit the 33-year-old woman known to GI's as Tokyo Rose, but "we did the only thing we thought possible under the judge's instructions."

Actually, she was convicted on only one of the eight counts in the indictment. That one related to her broadcast from Radio Tokyo in October, 1944, about the Leyte gulf battle.

Sufficiently Damaging

Kenkichi Oki, an official of Radio Tokyo, testified the defendant said "now you fellows have lost all your ships. You are really orphans of the Pacific. How do you think you are going to get home . . ."

That, the jury decided, was sufficiently damaging.

THE QUESTION

What do you enjoy most about the fair?

THE ANSWERS

KAY LYNN PHILLIPS, Hale Center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beauford Phillips: "I like to ride the merry-go-round best, because I like the horses on it. I like to ride them, and I've ridden a real one of my grandfather's. I like to ride the little tubs, too. And I like to get candy and cokes."

MRS. J. E. DULIN, Muleshoe, housewife: "I believe I enjoy the handiwork on display most. I am a club member, and I do handiwork myself. I still like to ride the ferris wheel, too.

RAYMOND RUCKER, Lockney, farmer: "I enjoy the livestock most I'd say. I'm in the livestock business myself. My kids like the rides, and I like them, too. I also like to see the races."

KENNETH DAVIS, Abernathy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davis: "I like to ride the merry-go-round best, because I like to go 'round and 'round. I like the trains, too. I'm afraid of the big things. I like to just walk around and watch the people, too."

ADNELDA SYNATSCHK, Anton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Synatschk: "I like to ride the different things best; the loop-o-plane and the little swings. I also like to see what the home economics girls have made. I like to win things, too."

JOE NEIL STEPHENS, Lamesa, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Stephens: "I like to go through the livestock exhibits best. That's mostly what I came for anyway. I like the loop-o-plane and the little airplanes, too."

DIES OF INJURIES

KERMIT, Sept. 30 (AP)—D. B. Frissel, 48, died yesterday of injuries received when his car collided with a gas transport truck. He was a Kermit resident.

Acting President Of School Is Appointed

GEORGETOWN, Sept. 30 (U.P.) — Dr. William C. Finch was serving today as acting president of Southwestern university until a successor is chosen for the late Dr. J. N. R. Score, who died earlier this week.

Dr. Finch, administrative assistant for the past three years, was named acting head by the university board of trustees.

Scurry Wildcat Being Watched

A closely watched wildcat in Central - South Scurry county, D&R Oil company No. 1-A Martin, made sulphur water, with a slight show of oil and gas in an unidentified Pennsylvanian lime, thought by some observers to be the Strawn. The venture is slated to drill deeper.

The water came in a drillstem test at 7,400-65 feet. The tool was open one hour and 45 minutes. There was a blow of air at the surface for the first hour and 20 minutes, and that was followed by a small gas blow for the remainder of the period.

Recovery was 400 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud and 6,500 feet of sulphur water.

Prospector Tops Reef

This prospector is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 159, block 97, H&TC survey. It is two and three-quarter miles east of the nearest production in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field.

Sun Oil company No. 1 Lemons, one-quarter of a mile southwest of the closest completed producer from the Canyon reef on the northwest side of the Kelly field in West-Central Scurry County, five miles west of Snyder topped the reef at 6,756 feet, to give it a datum of minus 4,279 feet, and made it regionally high.

The project cored at 6,760-70 feet and at 6,770-76 feet. The material recovered showed good porosity and was saturated with oil.

Wildcat Hits 6,343 Feet

This exploration is 330 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey.

C. L. Nortsworthy, jr., and associates No. 1 Feldman, Central-East Scurry county wildcat, had reached 6,343 feet in shale, and was making more hole.

At that level it had not found the Canyon reef lime, the producing formation in the North Snyder, Kelly, Diamond M and Sharon Ridge-Canyon fields of Scurry county.

Skelly Stakes Location

PRANK BACKFIRES — Charles Berndt, 16-year-old Schurz High School student in Chicago models the costume that put him in a mess of trouble. Charles played hookey from school, donned a rubber face mask with an old mop for hair, and a black cape. He looked horrible. He decided to try his hand at frightening people. The plan backfired when several women chased him and held him until police arrived. He was taken to a juvenile home and turned over to his father.

Hungary Denounces Treaty With Slavs

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—The Hungarian government denounced its treaty of friendship and mutual assistance with Yugoslavia today.

Foreign Minister Guyla Kallai delivered the notice of the treaty scrapping to Yugoslav Jura Jovanovic at noon today.

The Hungarian action followed by 24 hours the denunciation by Russia of a friendship pact with the Yugoslav regime of Marshal Tito. That move was expected to set off a chain reaction of repudiation by other Cominform countries.

Applications On TV Stations Returned

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—Applications for two new television stations in Lubbock and Amarillo have been returned for correction of technical errors, the Communications commission announced today.

The applications were submitted by Dave C. Edwards, manager of the Hillcrest mausoleum, Dallas, and three Dallas physicians; Drs. Watt E. Winn, Glen Terry and Warren E. Massey.

A commission official said the applications had not been properly notarized. They are seeking to operate on channel 5.

Another application for a new television station at Beaumont was received yesterday from a Dallas man and woman in a partnership doing business as Beaumont Television Co.

They are Loula Mae Harrison and A. W. Smith.

Lubbock High Class Leaders Are Selected

With the election of Charles Brewer and Shirley Chapman as sophomore president and secretary, organization of the Student Council at Lubbock Senior High school was completed Thursday, according to H. J. McCabe, sponsor.

Forty students make up the Student Council, whose purpose is to participate in the government of the school.

The council has charge of assembly programs, in addition to keeping standing committees at work all year on the care of building and grounds, courtesy, safety, and cafeteria. The council also sponsors the Who's Who banquet, all-school parties, and the Westerner Round-up.

Junior Officers Listed

Officers of the junior class are: president, Frank Ford; secretary, Lola Anderson; vice-presidents, Iris Brunson, June Franklin, Marybelle Perryman, Faye Pruitt, David Clark, Gerre Hancock, Jerry Jackson, Sterling Miller, and Neil Vaughn.

Vice-presidents elected this week to represent the sophomores, other than president and secretary are: Belva Blake, Virginia Carr, Tommie Hartsfield, Mary Jane Smith, Marilyn Young, Billy Breedlove, Melvin Deardorff, Duane Ramsey, Jerry Smith, Lonnie St. Clair, and Donnie Dean.

UN To Open Sessions With Silent Prayers

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept 30. (AP)—The United Nations assembly is on its way to have silent minutes for prayer or meditation at each session.

The legal committee yesterday approved and sent to the general assembly a recommendation that every assembly meeting open and close with a minute of silence for prayer or meditation by delegates, who represent every faith and creed.

The committee voted 44 to 0 for the recommendation after Secretary-General Trygve Lie's legal expert told the members the delegates could pray, meditate or just let their minds wander during the silent minutes.

Seven nations did not vote on the proposal. They were Yugoslavia, Russia, White Russia, the Soviet Ukraine, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Uruguay.

STREET FLOOR

CULVER CITY, Cal.—Today I put on my Hollywood uniform—consisting of coat and came over here to mix and mingle pants of different colors—and with the movie stars. I didn't wear dark glasses, on acct. of I don't like to be asked for autographs.

Anyhow, I came over here to see the stars at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and saw about all of them that were working, but I didn't see either Mr. Gable or Miss Hepburn, who weren't around. They didn't see me, either, so that made it even.

I did see and talk to several movie luminaries, though, and the experience, while not exactly exciting, was all very pleasant.

I can confidently report that all of them I saw apparently put on their pants one leg at a time, just like all the rest of us.

Not having any more time for the movie people than they had for me, I only spent a couple or three hours on the 195-acre MGM tract, located in the heart of this industrial community of Greater Los Angeles, its 17,000 inhabitants ringed in on one side by a forest of oil derricks on Baldwin Hills and by Howard Hughes' widely celebrated, all-wood Flying Boat on the other. But that couple or three hours was very productive, thanks to Miss Melvina Pumphrey, one of MGM's publicity experts to whom fell the dubious distinction of showing me around.

Miss Pumphrey, who used to be a newspaperman herself not only piloted me hither and yon about the movie yard, but also bought me a nice lunch in MGM's own restaurant.

FIRST SET we went on was where a young couple named Mr. and Mrs. Richard Powell were laboring in an opus called "The Reformer and the Redhead," Mr. Powell being the reformer and Mrs. Powell, perhaps better known as June Allyson, being the redhead. Mr. Powell, cast in the role of a crusading young lawyer running for mayor and fighting a crooked political machine, was making a speech over the radio (in make believe, that is) and doing right well at it. Mrs. Powell, all dressed up cute, was just sitting in a chair waiting to go to work when called.

After making his speech, which sounded very much like all political speeches, Mr. Powell made himself quite hospitable. Among other things, he remarked that he was always glad to meet people from Texas because it is right next door to the best state in the union—Arkansas, that is.

Mr. Powell hails from Arkansas and used to sing in a Little Rock church. Mr. Powell must be pretty close to 40 by now but he doesn't look it.

Handsomer in person than on the screen—and even more personable, if that is possible—he wears no stuffing in his shirt.

From now on, we shall miss none of his pictures, which will be no departure from the past. He seemed tickled no end at our recalling the words to a song he sang in a picture 10 years or more ago, when he ribbed radio as the singer of a commercial about Fleggenheim's cheese.

Then he went us one better by recalling, even, the name of the non-existent sponsor of the cheese program which existed only in the movie.

Miss Pumphrey, who is a great Red Skelton fan, then hied us over to another set where three guys named Skelton, Slezak and Arnold—Red, Walter and Eddie to you followers of Photoplay—were being shot in a sequence in a forthcoming picture called "The Yellow Cab Man." Mr. Skelton is the star of this particular picture but Mr. Arnold was making all the noise this morning.

MR. SKELTON is a big guy who wears a battered hat, always dry-smokes a cigar in the manner of Walter Posey and A. B. Davis and who, until recently, refused to talk on the telephone. He is probably the most popular of the galaxy of MGM stars with the 3,500 people who work in and around the studios.

Mr. Skelton says anybody can be funny if he wants to be.

Being funny, he avers, is just like doing any other job in that you've got to think about it in order to do it well. He will prove his point at the drop of a hat by improvising humor out of any situation anybody suggests to him. You just choose a subject, or a situation, and Mr. Skelton comes up with something humorous, just like that.

We saw Mr. Skelton again later, in the MGM restaurant, going about from table to table dropping a wisecrack here and a slap on the back there, not limiting his attention to the Big Brass but bestowing it everywhere.

Miss Pumphrey says he does that every day, simply because he likes people.

People like him, too, and he is known as one of the most generous and big-hearted guys in these parts, even though he will not permit his generosity to be publicized by the studio.

They say that if you eat in MGM's resturant every day for a year you'll see more people of importance than anywhere else in the U. S., which may be an exaggeration but if so, not too much of one.

Within recent years, two American Presidents have been there for lunch; countless governors, senators, cabinet members and other governmental luminaries; a flock of foreign potentates and, of course, most of the big name people of cinema, radio and the stage.

As we chomped our luncheon, Miss Pumphrey rattled off the names of a number of famous directors and producers, actors and artistes seated nearby but the only one we were particularly interested in was a guy at the next table. His name is Johnny Green; he is MGM's musical director, and if you listen to the radio any, and the records you know he plays a very mean piano, indeed.

I SUPPOSE that most people who go to a movie studio are more impressed by the actors than by anything else, but in our own case it was different. I was impressed most by the fact that a movie lot is very much like some huge factory and requires the services of an astounding number of people — including many experts—to keep operating.

Take the costume department, for instance.

In that one department, scores of adept dressmakers and tailors are employed day in and day out, whipping up clothing to be worn in forthcoming productions. When we looked in, these people were working largely on costumes for "Annie Get Your Gun," which will star the blonde A-bombshell, Betty Hutton.

In addition to making the dresses, the suits, the petticoats, the hats, etc., some artisans were doing the minutest sort of needlework on bodices while other were making, all by hand, sequins and other decorations.

After "Annie" is shot and the sets are torn down, these same people will undo all the work they've done, saving as much of the cloth and other materials as can be saved for future use.

Everything on a movie lot is used over and over again, as long as possible. It has to be, else the cost of production would be prohibitive.

MGM has warehouse after warehouse—each as big as a couple of Lubbock county courthouses put together — literally crammed with furniture and other properties—which have been used in the past and may be used again.

In the property department are artists who can copy an Old Master, paint a set, or furnish a bedroom exactly in keeping with any era in any country ever on the map. There are historians and decorators, architects and upholsterers—Joes and Janes who know which chandelier should go with which clock and still others who can find in a matter of minutes anything from a deck of playing cards, a hatcheck, or a stuffed elephant's head.

Maligning the movie makers is a popular pastime in this country but it is well to remember that this same industry has found and nurtured from all over the world men and women whose peculiar arts and knowledge otherwise would have disappeared long ago from the commercial scene.

YOU PROBABLY didn't know it, and neither did we, but outside of Southern California more movies are produced in India than anywhere else on the globe.

Miss Pumphrey's husband, an independent producer named Ken McEldowney, is just back from India after completing two technicolor films, soon to be shown here. They are "Eastward In Eden," and "The Khedda." Mr. McEldowney was in the China-India-Burma theater during the war as a Navy officer and there met the people who offered to put up the capital for the films if he'd come back during peace and turn them out. This he has done, and very happily, too.

Miss Pumphrey says she and her husband both believe that "Eastward In Eden" will be a tremendous hit. It tells the story of a typical family residing along the Ganges, their trials and tribulations, their hopes, their fears, their little successes and their big disappointments.

Miss Pumphrey says the hardest working people in the country are people who work in the movie industry and she should know. She's been with MGM for seven years; her husband has been mixed up with the movies even longer—and her 18-year-old daughter, now in her second year in the Pasadena Playhouse, is going to make a movie actress—or bust!

BY DREW PEARSON: BOTH SIDES IN STEEL PENSION DISPUTE TIED BY OTHER FORCES

Truman Promises Rural Telephones To Farmers

WASHINGTON — One factor which has made the steel dispute so difficult is that both sides' hands have been semi-tied by other forces.

PEARSON

Tier of Phil Murray's hands is — John L. Lewis. Since Lewis, an old rival and bitter enemy of Murray, got a welfare fund from the coal operators under which the miners pay nothing, Murray cannot require his union to contribute to pensions without losing part of his membership.

Tiers of U. S. Steel's hands are —it banks and directors. The men who control the big steel companies, particularly U. S. Steel, are J. P. Morgan together with a group of industrialists and insurance men who do not want a pension pattern set for their industries. If the steel industry pays pensions without any contribution from labor, it will set a standard for almost every other industry in the country.

Who Runs U. S. Steel?

For instance, directors of U. S. Steel include:

Walter Gifford — chairman of the giant American Telegraph and Telephone company, which also faces wage and pensions problems.

Sewell Avery — head of Montgomery Ward, who once was ejected from his Chicago office by U. S. troops during a labor strike. Avery is also chairman of U. S. Gypsum, director of the Pullman company, Pure Oil, Armour, Peoples Gas, Light and Coke, which also face wage and pension problems.

James Black—head of Pacific Gas and Electric, a guiding executive of the Southern Pacific Railway and director of various insurance and utility companies.

George A. Sloan — director of Goodyear Tire, Bankers Trust, American Alliance Insurance Co., and a group of insurance companies.

When the President's fact-finding board first published its recommendations, Sept. 10, for a 10-cent pension and insurance plan, some U. S. steel executives indicated to newsmen that this would be acceptable. Then, suddenly, on Sept. 11, word was passed out that the bankers behind U. S. Steel objected. They did not want big steel to set up a pension pattern for other industries under which labor did not contribute.

Note 1—John L. Lewis already has started to crow over Phil Murray in the United Mine Workers Journal for surrendering on the fourth round of wage increases. Insiders say he is just itching to crow again on any Murray compromise over pensions.

Note 2—It was U. S. Steel —which owns extensive captive coal mines—which helped set the welfare fund pattern by which John L. Lewis and his miners do not have to contribute to the fund. If this precedent had not been set, it would have been easier for both Murray and the steel industry to do business.

IT LOOKS like the lawyer who defended the late Senator Bilbo of Mississippi against charges brought in the U. S. Senate would now be paid $6,000 by the same Senate which did not seat Bilbo.

The lawyer, Forrest Jackson, served as Bilbo's attorney in warding off impeachment. Bilbo, because of his health, was never impeached, and died before any proceedings were brought.

Therefore, since it is customary for the taxpayers to pay for a senator's defense as long as he is not impeached, attorney Jackson turned in his bill to the Senate, and the man who replaced Bilbo, Sen. John Stennis, tried to get the Senate to pay.

However, rules Chairman Curley Brooks of Illinois who was supposed to pass on the matter, pleaded that he was up for reelection, begged Stennis to hold up the bill until the 81st Congress.

Now Stennis has submitted the bill to the new rules chairman, Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, and a subcommittee quietly approved the $6,000 fee. It is planned to bring the matter up quietly on the Senate floor during routine business in order to avoid publicity.

Truman On Farm Phones

One of the first persons President Truman saw after announcing that Russia had exploded the atom was genial Jim Patton, boss of the National Farmers union.

"That's mighty tough business, Mr. President," Patton said, as he entered the presidential office.

"I had to make the announcement once we were sure," reported Truman, in tight-lipped seriousness. "I can assure you it wasn't tasteful."

Turning to a more peaceful topic, the President promised Patton his full support in getting the rural telephone bill through the Senate during this session. It has already passed the House.

"Farmers are really steamed up about this bill," reported Patton. "They feel they have as much right to a telephone as city folks. Also, the practical need for bringing phone service to farms that do not have it is getting more urgent all the time. Brooders and other equipment on a great many farms are now operated by electricity.

"When there are breakdowns, farmers have great difficulty getting a repair man if they don't have telephones."

"Jim, we'll get that bill enacted," predicted Truman, "even though we're fighting one of the biggest trusts in the country."

Note — the President referred to the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which has been lobbying vigorously against the rural telephone bill.

CONGRESS seems to be over the unemployment jitters. A few weeks ago, the joint committee on the economic report was all steamed up to investigate unemployment. But the whole thing has now been quietly called off . . . Jimmy Roosevelt and Congresswoman Hele Douglas were the two stars of the western states Democratic conference. Sen. Sheridan Downey, California's one Democratic member of the upper chamber, who snubbed President Truman last year, didn't even show up . . . It now looks certain that Mrs. Douglas will oppose Downey for the Senate. Jimmy Roosevelt has the Democratic nomination for governor sewed up . . . President Truman has assured intimates that he will not back down on his appointment of Leland Olds, liberal member of the Federal Power commission, for a third term. Olds' appointment, which is bitterly opposed by the private power trust, has been boxed up in the Senate interstate and foreign commerce committee for months.

Damocles Was A Piker

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New "Racket" For Writers Is Developed By James Thurber

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Master James Thurber, a man I admire greatly, had just done a piece for that journal of elfin whimsy and remembrances of childhood, the New Yorker, which has startled me into belated recognition of what a great racket I am tied to. I guess I just never fully realized the limitless possibilities of the writing dodge before.

RUARK

Mr. Thurber's lead paragraph, for an article called "The Comparable Max: A Quandary" is the thing that set me to clapping my chubby fists and cooing with delight that I am not a doctor or a lawyer or a merchant or a chief. It says:

"We are a nation of critics, and when the New York Times book review asked me, early last month, to write about 'Chips Off The Old Benchley' (Harper, Sept. 21) I put aside my novel, my play and my sonnet sequence and set to work."

I presume the New Yorker pays writers for their stuff which would lead me to believe that writing has finally flowered into a boundlessly lucrative golden age. Here you have Mr. Thurber writing a piece, for pay, for one magazine, about a piece he wrote for another publicaion, about a man who has been dead for years, but whose works are still being exhumed and sold to the public as fresh goods. I do not think you can beat this for getting the fullest mileage out of the old goose-quill.

"Pretty Good Racket"

I claim it is a pretty good racket when you can sell a piece about a piece you wrote for another publication, and highly indicative of the fact that an author's labor pangs are of interest to the reading public. What makes it so nice is that you never need to run out of creative gas.

For instance, I see no reason why Mr. Thurber cannot write a story about the story he wrote for the New Yorker, about the story he wrote for the Times book review, and sell this one to the Saturday Evening Post. Having sold the Post a story about the story he sold the New Yorker about the story he did for the Times, he can then relax a moment, take a deep breath and hawk one to Collier's concerning the piece he did for the Post about the piece, et cetera.

WHEN a man rubs his brains together, as a means of livelihood, his greatest fear always is that his inspiration will wither and his topics dwindle. Mr. Thurber's experiment would appear to lay that scrivening ghost forevermore. So long as a man can peddle the reminiscences of his reminiscenes he is in business until his typing finger wears down to the knuckle.

This would be of particular help the folk who put out writing to dry five or six days a week. It seems to me that lately there have been less subjects around for learned commentary than when I was a youth in the business, and I had begun to fret and chew the spacebar. This is no longer necessary. If pressed, a man may always deal his public in on the difficulties he experienced with yesterday's, or even pesteryear's, essay, and thus be assured of subject matter in perpetuity.

In the writing business today everything is utilized, nothing thrown away. If Armour used everything but the sequeal in the pig, we even employ the squeal. There was a time when Billy Rose would write a column, and a little later you would see it as a short short in a magazine. Ere long it would be reprinted by one of the digests, and a little later you heard that the movies have bought the plot. It cropped up again in Billy's autobiography, to be revealed by Look magazine before the book came out. And all the time, Billy was on the radio with the same stuff every day.

Describes Thought Process

Mr. Thurber, though, takes it a good step farther. He describes his thought process while debating a dubious reference; he tells of sharpening pencils, skipping luncheons, snarling at people and crumpling paper. He tells us of cutting out the passage that troubles him; of putting it back; of his disturbed dreams over the eventual handling by copyrighters, and by-and-by he has a full length article—an article about a paragraph.

We have our troubles in this business — the thoughts that won't jell, the sentences that don't parse, the inhumane editors and the sadistic copyreaders—but I had never thought of employing them commercially before. From now on I welcome trouble with my craft. One unkind word from my masters, one misstep by the printers, even one lousy little cleft infinitive, and I will put aside my novel, my play and my sonnet sequence and beget myself an article for the New Yorker.

All the fools aren't dead yet. In fact, we are loath to report, most of them seem to be disgustingly healthy.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"DO we have to spend another evening with the Browns?" Mr. Smith asks irritably.

Mrs. Smith scarcely hears her husband's protest. She heard them so often it doesn't sink in any more.

MILLETT

The couples have known each other for several years. The only effort it takes for them to be together is for the husbands to brace themselves for another one of "those evenings." And they had a little in common once, even if it was nothing more than that both couples were newcomers and knowing each other gave them both a feeling of belonging just a little.

But that's dangerous business, burdening a marriage with friends who aren't in any way stimulating, entertaining, or fun to be with.

A smart wife doesn't shrug off her husband's protest. She knows it for what it is—a danger signal.

WIFE SHOULD GET BUSY

IT'S a signal that she is falling down on her job of making their social life give them something, instead of being a burden to them.

If her husband is bored with the Browns, why in the world should Mrs. Smith inflict them on him week after week?

Maybe she can't, off-hand, think of any couples he does enjoy. But if she can't, then she should get busy broadening their social circle.

A lot of women seem to have a greater tolerance for boring people and boring evenings than their husbands have. But that's not good, it's dangerous.

Just because the wife doesn't mind squandering her time on dull people and wasted evenings, it doesn't mean she ought to subject her husband to them if he isn't equally tolerant.

If the Browns bore him, then the wife ought to look around for a couple to take their place, a couple who won't be boring.

A married couple needs the stimulation of interesting friends. And if the wife doesn't realize that, in time her husband may not only find the Browns dull company—but his wife as well.

"Try And Stop Me"

NEW stories about Tallulah Bankhead are more plentiful these days than bills after Christmas. John Emery, for instance, describing his brief but tempestuous marriage to the lady, recalls an argument they had with an inebriated guest at a Broadway restaurant. Emery silenced the man very neatly and quietly without resort to fisticuffs, but when he returned to his table, found that Tallulah did not approve his tactics at all. "You should have killed him," she announced, and unleashed a splendid left.

Another day she visited F.D.R. at the White House, and was ushered into his study just as a group of graduates from a girls' reformatory was being bowed out. Tallulah took in the girls' uniforms at a glance, and won the president's heart by declaring, "We're going to get along just fine. I see you like delinquent girls!"

A cub reporter on the Columbia Spectator announced, "Here's a wire saying our fencing team lost another match this evening." "Curses," said the editor. "Foiled again."

"The world is a billion years older than it was believed to be a decade ago," says a scientist. It probably got that way during the past ten years.

Today's Journal Editorial

NORTH COLLEGE IMPROVEMENT

Regardless of whether State aid can be obtained to widen pavement on North College avenue and to provide better drainage for Northwest Lubbock, these are improvements which urgently demand attention.

The present narrow pavement north of Fourth street forms a bottleneck which adds to traffic congestion and creates serious hazards. The need for better drainage for the residence and business areas adjacent to the avenue has been neglected shamefully.

It still may be that methods can be devised to obtain aid from the State Highway department in providing the needed improvements. If the thoroughfare is not now eligible for such aid, it should be because of the huge volume of traffic it takes from and puts on State highways.

But, regardless of who does it, the work should be done, and without unnecessary delay. The traffic problem there demands correction, and the residents of that portion of Lubbock should be taken out of the mud and slush which invariably results from any rain of quantity.

FAMOUS SAN LUIS VALLEY

I will sell you any size tracts from 160 acres to 70,000 acres, 160 acres to a section. Prices will range from $25.00 to $35.00 per acre. It is nearly all level land; in proven shallow water belt. Well located to paved highways, all-weather roads, railroads, schools and churches and is as good land as there is in the San Luis Valley.

There is not to exceed 10% of land in San Luis Valley as good as this land. This has no alkali, is well-drained. Some of the biggest crops in the valley is near this land.

Average lift of water in this territory will be about 60 feet and the depth 80 to 200 feet.

Located in a fishermans' and hunters' paradise; good climate; great summer resort; no sand storms; very little snow in the winter; very little wind; clear, still, dry cold. Cattle can run all winter without sheds.

According to my judgment, this land is worth three times what it's now selling for; based on the price of irrigated lands on the plains of Texas. $30.00 to $35.00 per acre will put this land under irrigation and in cultivation with the necessary leveling. This is one of the best farming countries in America and if you want to buy land you had better get it quick because according to my judgment, the best bargains will advance 50% in the next 60 days and over 100% in twelve months. Live agents wanted a liberal commission paid.

If you want to come by yourself to see lands in this country, come through the Milvard Land Office in Alamosa, Colorado. If you want big tracts, write me c/o Capitol Hotel, Amarillo, Texas.

Man Fails To Bring Culture To Houston; Lands In Jail

HOUSTON, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—Police wondered today just how many ideas William E. Norris, self-designated "ideas associated," brought to Houston to complete his mission of lending culture to the city.

Detectives thumbed over four paintings discovered in Norris' plush hotel apartment last night. Price tags said the canvases were worth a cool $1,000,000.

Their value was confirmed by Kyril Vassilev, a Palm Beach, Fla., artist whose name was found on the wrappings. Vassilev told police by telephone he owned the paintings and that Norris was trying to sell them for him.

Works Are Described

Detectives O. C. Friday and R. E. Blanchard, no art critics, asked Vassilev to describe the works. He said one was a Roger Van Der Weyden called "Man Holding Flower;" another a Frans Hals, "Nurse and Child;" a Paul Potter called "Dog Family," and the fourth a festival scene by Bassano.

Earlier yesterday, police visited Norris' apartment and removed a hatful of costume jewelry, at first thought to contain some valuable pieces. Examination showed the total value was $16.

Various persons claimed they gave the 39-year-old California man sums of money to patent and publicize their inventions—ranging from a prickly heat powder to a tray to fit on a car's dashboard. All stated they had received no patent, no money and had seen nothing to publicize their inventions.

Wanted In California

Picked up when he tried to dispose of an "old master" to a local jewelry store for $100,000, Norris' activities quickly came to light.

He was wanted in Tulare, Calif., it developed, for allegedly swindling jeweler Glenn Lewis out of $1600, and also was on the roster of San Francisco officers. He reportedly had a wife in California, yet has been married twice since he arrived here in June—once to a Baytown woman, and now to an operator of a charm and modeling school here.

Lounging in his jail cell, Norris declined to talk to reporters "until I have discussed matters with my attorney." So far, no lawyer has come forward to defend him.

He explained briefly that he had tried to bring cultural roots to Houston, but that the populace wasn't receptive. "They're too commercial," Norris complained.

Only one person in 35 of the population of England owns an automobile.

Standard Oil Company of Texas has filed an application with the Railroad commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill a 7,000-foot venture in the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county to test the Canyon reef.

The operation will be Standard's No. 4 Jap Beck and will be located 660 feet from south and west lines of the lease in the south half of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey, and nine miles north of Snyder.

ficiently damaging to American morale to constitute treason. Her defense was based primarily on this contention. Her wartime broadcasts on the "Zero Hour" were harmless entertainment, and she and prisoners of war on the same program really tried to boost instead of lower morale.

While Chief Prosecutor Tom Dewolfe termed the verdict "a just one for the United States," Defense Attorney Wayne Collins called it "absolutely erroneous — unsupportable by any credible testimony."

Collins said he would file a motion for arrest of judgment, for a new trial and would appeal.

The verdict came with surprising suddenness. The courtroom, well packed during the trial, was far from full. Everyone thought the jury was getting ready to recess for dinner.

Had Given No Hint

The jury at no time had given any indication of its sentiment, although it frequently called for transcripts of testimony and for explanations of Judge Michael J. Roche's instructions.

Many observers, thought late yesterday the jury was leaning toward acquittal. Only a few minutes before the verdict, the jurors asked amplification of Roche's instruction which read: "Overt acts of an apparently incriminating character, when judged in the light of related events, may turn out to be acts which were not of aid and comfort to the enemy."

They asked the meaning of "related events."

Judge Roche merely told them not to single out a single instruction, or part of one, for guidance. He then suggested that they might like dinner and said he would await their decision whether they wished to continue work afterwards.

When they filed back in with coats on, it appeared they were enroute to dinner. Clerk James P. Welsh seemed astonished when the foreman handed him the verdict.

Iva, termed an "arch traitoress" and a "female Benedict Arnold" by the prosecution, sat immobile as the separate verdicts were read on the eight counts — not giulty on 7, guilty on one.

In scrutable, she listened as the judge thanked the jury: "No jury in all the years of my experience has exercised more patience."

There was a brief consultation of lawyers and the decision on the sentence date. Then Iva was led downstairs, and soon afterwards hustled into the marshal's van and back to the county jail.

Thus ended the longest treason trial in modern history.

TRAFFIC FINE GROWS

TACOMA, Wash. (U.P.)—Ralph B. Hall, 33, got into all sorts of trouble with police over a traffic ticket. He failed to show up in time to pay his $5 fine. A warrant was issued and an additional $2.50 tacked on. He paid by check. The check bounced. Hall was picked up again. This time $50 was added to the fine.

Higher Temperatures Are Predicted Here

A 52-degree minimum temperature between 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock this morning will rise to 78 degrees by late afternoon, the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport predicted.

Generally fair conditions will continue in Lubbock and on the South Plains through Saturday, said Melton Connell, observer.

Today's maximum is expected to be about four degrees higher than Thursday's high of 74 degrees. No dew is forecast for Saturday morning.

Police Hunt Robbers Of Houston Store

HOUSTON, Sept. 30. (U.P.)—A quick-thinking bandit who knew what he wanted and got it was the object of a police hunt today.

Grocer E. S. Crouch told police an armed man took $304 in cash from his store last night. He didn't pretend to want to buy anything —just pointed a gun at a clerk, demanded the cash, picked it up off the counter and left.

The clerk, Mrs. Christine Pieczynski, said she put the cash in a cloth sack. Another man was waiting outside in a car for the robber, she said.

Rotary Meet

the First Baptist church of Lubbock, delivered the invocation. Rex Webster led group singing, with Roy Bass at the piano. Frank Day, Plainview Rotarian, sang "The Bells of St. Mary."

The Noteables quartet, composed of Tiny Jones, Ray Dickey, Dick Richards and Jim Black, sang several numbers in barber-shop quartet fashion.

Elmo Wasson of Big Spring, district Rotary governor, was a special guest for the meeting.

Mrs. Mabry, still on crutches after receiving a broken hip nearly a year ago, came to Lubbock with Gov. Mabry. She was entertained last night by a group of Rotary Anns, wives of Rotary club members.

New Mexico clubs represented at the meeting were Clovis, Melrose, Portales and Tatum.

Wide Experience Noted

Texas Rotarians present were from Amarillo, Big Spring, Borger, Brownfield, Canyon, Floydada, Hereford, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lockney, Midland, Odessa, Plainview, Post Ralls, Seagraves, Seminole, Slaton, Snyder, Spur, Sudan, Sweetwater, Tahoka, Houston, Fort Worth and Texarkana.

Gov. Mabry, introduced as "one of the outstanding statesmen of our time," has served in the top offices of all three braches of government—legislative, executive and judicial—in New Mexico. He also was a delegate to the New Mexico constitutional convention in 1910.

In 1915, he practiced law in Crosbyton before moving to New Mexico to continue his political career.

Gov. and Mrs. Mabry, staying at the Hilton hotel, were scheduled to return to New Mexico early today.
