Debate Slated Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1960 battle for the White House makes political history tonight as both presidential candidates debate domestic issues before millions of television viewers.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, will address a larger audience than any two candidates have ever faced jointly as the four major networks televise and broadcast the hour-long debate starting at 8:30 p.m. EST.

The great debates in the history of American politics—the Lincoln-Douglas debates 100 years ago, for instance—were insignificant affairs in comparison.

While Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas could rely only on their lung power to reach audiences in their battle for the U. S. Senate, Nixon and Kennedy will have at their command all the marvels of the electronic age.

The debate will originate in a CBS studio. Kennedy will appear first. He will have eight minutes to state his position.

The cameras then will swing to Nixon and he will have eight minutes to line his stand.

Then Howard K. Smith of CBS, the moderator, will signal a panel of four television and radio newsmen to begin firing questions. The presidential hopefuls will have three minutes to reply to each question. His opponent, if he wishes to give a rebuttal, will have 1½ minutes to comment on the question and answer.

At six minutes before 9:30 p.m., Nixon will take over for a three-minute summation. Kennedy will have the last three-minute crack at the television viewers by virtue of a toss of the coin which decided the finishing order.

Between 250 and 300 newsmen will sit in other studios about 50 feet from the debaters, using special telephones and direct wires to their offices to cover the story. On Oct. 7 and 13 the candidates will meet for hour-long, all-subjects news conferences. The final meeting will be in New York on Oct. 21.

Two Fires Reported

Fire destroyed a storage room and contents at the residence of Raymond Overton, just south of the city limits on the Old San Angelo highway Sunday afternoon. Two refrigerators were among the contents lost in the blaze. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Little damage was reported at the Town House Motel, 400 Gregg, where fire broke out in one of the cabins early Sunday morning.

A broken gas line was given as the cause of the fire. The line broke when a stove was pulled away from the wall for painting.

Yep, Fall Has Really Arrived

Longsleeved shirts and jackets came out of storage on a general scale on Monday as shivering citizens pondered the question of "What has become of summer?"

The mercury dropped to a chilly 52 degrees Sunday night and had not pushed high above that mark when residents arose to go about their daily chores. Sunday was comfortable with an 80-degree top reading recorded.

Gray skies and a nippy breeze definitely put the tang of fall in operation.

Some residents were comparing the temperature of Sept. 26, 1953 with that in effect today. It was 103 on that date seven years ago.

The 52 degrees of last night lacked much, however, of being the chilliest morning. In 1912, the temperature dropped to 27 degrees.

Truck Driver Killed

The driver of this truck was killed when the vehicle slammed into a concrete embankment west of Colorado City Sunday morning. A passenger, asleep at the time of the crash, escaped with injuries which his doctor said were not serious. Rescuers worked 2½ hours before freeing M. C. Richardson, the passenger, shown being pulled from the wreckage. Another hour passed before the rescuers got to the body of the driver, W. M. Sutter.

Driver Killed As Truck Crashes In Embankment

COLORADO CITY (SC)—A truck driver was killed when his semi-trailer smashed into a concrete embankment five miles west of here about 5:30 a.m. Sunday. A sleeping passenger in the truck received injuries but was not considered in serious condition.

William Murray Sutter, 55, Howard, Kan., was dead when rescuers pulled him from the wreckage.

The passenger, Marvin Cornelius Richardson, 34, Miracle Valley, Ariz., was taken to Root Memorial Hospital for treatment of multiple bruises and lacerations.

The truck was traveling east on Interstate 20 when it left the highway and rolled down into a county road underpass west of Morgan Creek. The truck careened down the west embankment, traveled across the county road and crashed into the east concrete embankment, Richardson told officers that Sutter may have dozed momentarily prior to the crash.

It took rescuers about 2½ hours to free Richardson from the tangled cab of the truck. Sutter's body was removed after about 3½ hours of work.

The Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department, Colorado City police, employees of the Caddell Transit Co., and others, aided the highway patrol at the scene. Firemen continually sprayed the area with foam to prevent leaking fuel from igniting.

The truck, owned by the A. A. Allen Revivals Inc., Miracle Valley, was en route to Dallas. Sutter's body was taken to the Kiker and Son Funeral Home at Colorado City. Papers found in his billfold indicated he is survived by a wife.

Highway Patrolmen Buddy Herterberger and E. M. Rogers investigated the accident.

Youth Injured In Cycle Wreck

A motorcycle-car collision which sent a 16-year old boy to the hospital, was one of two accidents investigated by police over the weekend.

James Clifford West, Knott Rt., Big Spring, received a broken collar bone and facial cuts when he collided with a car driven by Carolyn Holder, 410 Aylford, at 5th and Douglas. The youth was treated at the Howard County Hospital Foundation.

In a mishap at 8th and Goliad, Tommy Baker, 2000 Donley, was in collision with Dianna Hughes, Big Spring.

LIONS BEGIN BULB SALES

Lions Club members will be ringing doorbells this evening in hopes that they may turn on the lights for others.

The occasions is the annual light bulb sale with proceeds going for the club's sight conservation and blind work and for its charities.

Club leaders hope to canvass the entire city within two days, setting over 1,300 sacks of bulbs for $2 each.

NEW YORK (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev maneuvered today for the favor of neutrals in the swelling struggle over international leadership and the future of the United Nations.

The Soviet premier promised to hear out Cuba's Fidel Castro—even if Castro's speech to the U.N. General Assembly ran six hours instead of the predicted four.

TO MEET NEHRU

He arranged an early evening date with Jawaharlal Nehru, Indian prime minister who had an appointment with President Eisenhower earlier in the day.

Khrushchev also planned to attend a luncheon given by Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton, who said the purpose is "to consider means of increasing trade between the Soviet Union and North America." U. S. and Canadian industrialists were invited.

Khrushchev was off to a running start for his second week here as the result of a supposed rest weekend at the Glen Cove, Long Island, estate of the Soviet delegation to the U. N.

From the time of Khrushchev's Saturday noon arrival at the luxurious mansion, under heavy security guard, to his departure Sunday night, the 37-acre estate was the scene of diplomatic activity interspersed with Khrushchev news conferences.

MET NEWSMEN

The Kremlin boss met with newsmen with seeming casualness, once late Saturday and twice Sunday for question-and-answer periods lasting as long as 1½ hours. He alternately joked and, turning serious, tossed out new fireworks as followups to his Friday speech that shook the U. N.

He said:

1. Unless the U. N. is revamped, as Khrushchev proposes, "We will likewise be unable to solve the disarmament question."

Under Khrushchev's plan, the present setup under Dag Hammarskjöld, Secretary-General of the U. N., would be replaced by three secretaries-general representing the West, the Communist and the neutral nations. Khrushchev says Hammarskjöld is a lackey of the West.

2. If the U. N. is not reorganized according to his scheme, the world "shall continue to be in a state of cold war."

3. Under his proposed reorganization, each of the three groups could exercise a veto over U. N.

Dag Says Crisis Puts UN Future At Stake

Diefenbaker Takes Lead Against Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—

A Western counteroffensive against Soviet attempts to revise the United Nations rolled into high gear today with the Soviet Union accused of conducting a "giant propaganda drama of destructive misrepresentation" to undermine the world organization.

Kicking off the counterattack for the West was Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker of Canada, who told the assembly that President Eisenhower had tried to open the door to East-West conciliation, but Khrushchev tried to shut that door.

Diefenbaker accused Khrushchev of giving lip service to the United Nations "which would be destroyed by his proposal." He rejected as unjust the Soviet attacks on the secretary-general, and called those attacks part of "a transparent plan to undermine the prestige and authority of the United Nations."

In a vigorous counterattack, Diefenbaker poured scorn on Khrushchev's proposal to grant immediate independence to all dependent areas. He challenged Khrushchev to permit free elections in areas now under Soviet control.

For the Communists, Czechoslovakia's President Antonin Novotny endorsed Khrushchev's proposal to substitute a three-member commission for the secretary-general's organization, which he said would be "in full harmony with the democratic principles upon which the U. N. is based." He was the first of the top satellite Communist leaders to address the assembly.

As Novotny finished, Khrushchev and Indian Prime Minister Nehru were chatting on the assembly floor.

BIBLE FUND GETS BOOST

The Bible Class Fund had its best day of the appeal Sunday, but it fell short of its goal of $2,000 by that date.

The response, including $188 from classes and individuals within the First Baptist Church, brought in $268 for the day. This raised to $1,717.50 the amount so far raised.

It is possible that not all the reports are in from all sources, and the Herald will continue to receive gifts for a few days in hopes the goal can be underwritten. If you can help, please send or mail your gift to the Herald (Box 1431).

WORLD BANK

IDA To Offer Easier Terms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Development Association, a new world organization which will help finance economic expansion in the underdeveloped nations, was formally established today.

The official birth of IDA, as the new institution is known, was announced at the opening of the annual meetings of the World Bank, International Monetary Fund and International Finance Corp.

Harold Holt, treasurer of Australia and chairman of the joint sessions, made the announcement.

An affiliate of the World Bank, IDA will lend money to underdeveloped countries on terms easier than those offered by the bank. While the governors of the bank voted a year ago to set up IDA, its formal establishment was delayed until 60 per cent of its planned capital of $1 billion had been supplied by member countries.

So far, 15 nations have contributed $686 million to IDA. The biggest contributors have been the United States, the United Kingdom, West Germany, India and Australia.

Eligible for membership in IDA are the 86 member countries of the World Bank.

In a message to the session, President Eisenhower said IDA "will provide new and enlarged means of dealing with some of the development problems that could not otherwise be handled."

Eisenhower's message was read to the session by Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson.

Finance ministers and Central Bank officials from more than 50 nations are taking part in the meetings and discussions of the free world's fiscal problems.

While problems exist, none are deemed pressing enough to demand multilateral action at this time. Also, there may be some reluctance to initiate any major move at a time when the United States faces a change of administration.

The problem of the outflow of gold and capital from the United States is two-fold. First, short-term investment money is moving to Europe in significant quantities because interest rates there are higher. Secondly, the United States continues to run a deficit in its total financial transactions with the rest of the world.

Jacobson told a weekend news conference the flow of funds toward higher rates does not trouble him because it is a temporary development. As for the deficit in the U. S. balance of international payments, he said the amount coincides with the value of new American private investments abroad which represent and addition to this country's assets. For this reason, he said, it means "no loss of substance" to the United States.

LEADERS RELAX

Eggs, Fists Fly At Castro's Hotel

NEW YORK (AP)—Eggs and fists flew Sunday night when foes and supporters of Fidel Castro clashed outside the Cuban prime minister's Harlem hotel. Fifteen persons were arrested.

The battle raged erupted after about 6,000 persons gathered to watch Castro smile and wave from a window of the Hotel Theresa. Police quickly squelched the battle.

Other demonstrators and pickets protesting the presence here of Communist leaders—showed no sign of halting their activities in other parts of the city.

Many of the Communist chieftains and neutralist leaders, spent the weekend relaxing, holding conferences—and sightseeing.

HARLEM BRAWL

The Harlem brawl began when four cars loaded with Castro foes stopped in front of the bearded leader's hotel. They were immediately surrounded by Castro supporters.

The occupants of the cars—some armed with ball bats—hopped out and a fight began. Several cops were hit by flying eggs. Two of the more than 500 policemen on guard were treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

Two of the 15 arrested were booked on felonious assault charges. The others were held on disorderly conduct charges.

Earlier, police had quelled another near riot which started after Castro sympathizers chanted "yellow press, yellow press—cha, cha, cha" to the throbbing beat of congo drums.

Police escorted about 50 Castro opponents away from the hotel, separating them from 300 Castro supporters.

During the afternoon, Castro and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic conferred for 90 minutes at Castro's headquarters.

While they met, about 1,500 Moslem and African movement demonstrators swarmed in the area carrying signs that read "Belgium and United Nations out of the Congo" and "Allah is the greatest."

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Negro Democratic congressman, issued a statement deploring "Castro's use of Harlem as a battleground for his own political ends."

HARLEM GRAWL

About 100 Albanian anti-Communists paraded near the United Nations. Another group of 50 picketed near the building where Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is staying.

About 150 demonstrators picketed the offices of El Diario in support of the Spanish language newspaper's anti-Communist editorials.

The car bringing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev back to New York City from Long Island was struck by a thrown egg.

Tito, Gen. Mehmet Shehu, premier of Albania and Janos Kadar, first secretary of Hungary's Communist party, did a little sight-seeing Sunday.

Kadar visited Times Square, the Empire State Building and City Hall. Police said he was "very impressed."

Tito took a stroll through Central Park.

Shehu went to the top of the Empire State Building.

President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia and Todor Zhivkov, Communist party chief of Bulgaria, visited Bear Mountain, N. Y., a resort area.

MIDDLE OF THE ROAD

The bouncy premier, who conducted one press conference in the middle of the road in front of the estate, showed no reluctance in commenting on any subject the reporters could think up.

While berating the U. N. under Hammarskjöld, he sported a tie clasp showing the U. N. emblem.

He agreed to "contemplate" running for president of the United States, provided he could run on the Communist ticket. He professed disdain for the anti-Communist demonstrators, saying they showed American culture.

He said the Soviets are ready to shoot a man into space, but he set no date. He said no spaceman launching has been tried yet.

Communists Do Not Join In Applause

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—

U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, in an unexpected General Assembly appearance today, told the world organization that not his future but that of the United Nations is at stake in the crisis aroused by Soviet attacks on him.

Hammarskjöld spoke against a background of heavy assault upon his office by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who has asked the assembly to abolish the secretary-general's job and substitute a three-man board.

The Communist contingents, possibly to show their disagreement, failed to join in applause for Hammarskjöld, but smiled and thumped their fists upon their desks.

The secretary-general's brief talk opened a day to be marked by much diplomatic activity touched off by Khrushchev's offensives at the United Nations.

BIG ROLE

President Eisenhower is playing a big role in the activity, with meetings with African leaders. He is working for massive support against Khrushchev's attempts to recast the U. N. structure.

Khrushchev countered with a virtual ultimatum—"continued cold war"—unless his demands are met.

From all corners of the earth more heads of government rushed to New York, drawn by the great and increasingly dangerous conflict. Never before in history have so many presidents, prime ministers and princes been gathered under one roof.

Eisenhower, reportedly grim, had appointments this afternoon with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and the president of the United Arab Republic, Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The President prepared to stay overnight in New York. He sees Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker on Tuesday.

In the U. N. itself, delegates of the 96 nations braced for two more stormy sessions.

CASTRO

Fidel Castro trained his guns on American policy in Cuba in a speech expected to last four hours. Castro usually speaks without a text—"from the heart," his admirers insist—working himself into a frenzy of emotion.

Later, the 21-nation Steering Committee tackles the annual East-West battle over seating Communist China in the U. N. The Soviet Union has proposed it; the United States is determined to block it.

The votes of newly admitted nations—some neutralist, the allegiance of others yet unknown, may make the China fight a close one.

It is widely believed that Khrushchev will suffer a shattering defeat if his proposals are put to the vote in the U. N.

James J. Wadsworth, chief of the American delegation, in a television interview—NBC-Met Press—believed the Soviet leader "overplayed his hand."

Khrushchev's attempt to weaken the office of secretary-general, said Wadsworth, actually "has strengthened it."

Steady Rains

Splash State

By The Associated Press

A steady rain throughout the weekend stacked up nearly six inches of rain in Northeast Texas.

The heaviest fall, 5.88 inches, fell at Marshall, near the Texas-Louisiana line. Up to 2.16 inches fell Saturday and 3.72 Sunday, and it continued to rain Monday morning.

There has been no flooding and the only damage reported was to trees at Marshall during a Saturday night thunderstorm.

Lighter amounts of rain fell throughout the state Sunday.

Arthur City on the Red River north of Paris measured 5.48 inches of rain for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. Monday.

Texarkana got a 2.19 inch deluge and Longview recorded 1.87 inches. Laredo on the Rio Grande got a dousing 1.09 inches.

Cloudy skies and light rain and drizzle extended from north-central to northeastern Texas early in the day. Fog covered Lufkin and cloudy to partly cloudy skies covered south central Texas and along the coast.

Most of the rains in north-central and northeastern Texas were generally light to moderate.

3,153 Officers Lose Flight Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today ordered the armed services to take away the flight pay of 3,153 officers who now receive the bonus.

The department said the Congress has placed a ceiling of 99,946 aeronautically rated or designated officers to receive flight pay.

The current total is 102,199. The reductions must be put into effect between next Jan. 1 and June 30.

The new limits are Air Force 70,620; Navy 18,125; Army 6,430 and Marine Corps 2,853.

Jack Answers Quiz; Nixon Is Too Busy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to obtain and compare their views on specific topics, The Associated Press submitted seven questions to Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Democratic and Republican presidential nominees. Kennedy replied to each. Nixon did not, saying through an aide that campaign pressures did not permit time for a personal reply.)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today the next president must restore American prestige abroad and provide moral leadership in the civil rights field at home.

He also expressed the belief that a Democratic president "would be better able to work in harmony with the Congress to get this country moving again."

The Democratic presidential nominee outlined those and other views in reply to specific questions submitted to him by The Associated Press.

QUESTIONS

The questions and his verbatim replies:

1. What makes you think you are better qualified than your opponent to be president of the United States?

I will leave any comparison to the voters in November. But I run for the presidency after 18 years in the service of our nation—four as a naval officer in the South Pacific and 14 as a member of the House and Senate—convinced that I can best contribute to my country at this time in the executive branch, where a new and vigorous approach will be needed to win the peace. Based on views dating back to my 1939 visit to the Soviet Union, my book in 1949 on England's unpreparedness for war, and my active participation on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, I believe that America in the Sixties will urgently need leadership capable of summoning every element of our strength to meet our commitments around the world. And my repeated visits to every state in the union convince me that the American people are ready for that kind of new leadership.

NEW SUCCESS

2. Do you believe you would have more success in getting a legislative program through Congress than President Eisenhower did, and if so, why?

Every objective observer agrees that the Congress will continue to be strongly Democratic—that a continuation of divided government will mean continued inaction on vital problems—and that a Democratic president, with long experience in both the House and the Senate, and with a mandate from the people, would be better able to work in harmony with the Congress to get this country moving again.

3. Won't the program you are advocating cost more money than now is being spent by the federal government? Would you recommend a tax increase to cover any added outlays?

This country can afford to meet all of its basic needs—even if that requires increased outlays to give protection and priority to both our retaliatory and our conventional forces, to build schools in areas of critical shortage, to hold out the hand of friendship to new nations in search of stability, and other programs I have discussed. Some of that increase can be financed from savings on other programs—cutting down our farm surpluses and reducing waste in the Pentagon, for example. Some of it may have to be financed by a shift in our spending programs until our priority needs have been met. Others can be financed through closing tax loopholes and better enforcing our tax laws. Some programs—such as medical care for the aged and self-liquidating power projects—are not a burden on the taxpayers.

Above all, I am convinced that a nation on the move, growing at a more rapid rate than we have for the past eight years—with more people working and more industries operating at full capacity—will produce far more revenues without an increase in taxes. But there is no doubt in my mind that the American people would meet any sacrifice asked of them if it meant the difference in our survival and national security.

4. Do you believe American prestige has sagged in the world? If so, how would you restore it? The sag of American prestige is evident around the world. A Gallup poll found a majority of citizens in 10 foreign capitals convinced that Russia would outstrip us by 1970. In recent years, we have seen attacks on our leaders and good name, we have seen friends become neutral or hostile, and the world has seen us apparently standing still in areas where the Communists are pushing ahead. The next president must restore our image of a nation acting with vitality both at home and abroad.

But prestige will not be restored by any massive public relations operation. We must earn the respect and friendship of other nations by assuring them of our ability to protect them from war, by demonstrating an earnest desire for peace, by evincing an understanding of their own problems rather than merely enlisting them as allies against communism, and, above all, by practicing at home what we preach abroad: human rights and equality, economic progress and security, and educational and scientific achievements second to none—while emphasizing our devotion to liberty and self-determination for all our spiritual advantage as well as our material advantages.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

5. What would you do as president to bring about greater equality among the races in the United States?

All men are already created equal. The role of government is to protect them in the enjoyment of their rights and make certain their equality of opportunity. In addition to his leadership on new legislation designed to implement the full constitutional rights of every American, the next president must carry out the Civil Rights Commission recommendations for executive action, such as strengthening the Government Contracts Committee. The executive branch, as an employer and as a law enforcement agency, must set a high standard for all to follow. Finally, the president must be a moral leader—using the educational and inspirational powers of his office to achieve the goals of harmony and justice our national responsibilities require.

6. In your judgment will the so-called religious issue be a decisive factor in the election outcome?

I hope that no one will cast his vote in this election on religious grounds. With all of the critical issues this nation is facing, at home and abroad, I cannot believe that many voters—once they have satisfied themselves as to the sincerity of my views on church and state, and in support of the American Constitution—will be influenced by appeals to prejudice.

U2 INCIDENT

7. Do you believe American security and intelligence operations have been satisfactory or bungled? What action would you take to avoid a repetition of code clerk defection and the U2 incident?

I do not think that any candidate in any election should charge "bungling" in our security and intelligence operations without complete access to executive files. I am sure there is a common desire by all Americans of both parties to provide the most effective system—and, while it is difficult to provide complete protection on all occasions against human frailty, the next administration, whether Democratic or Republican, must give constant vigilance to improving these efforts. But may I suggest that a question of equal importance is what is done with the intelligence reports after they are submitted—and whether we are taking action in advance of the crisis stage on problems which are clearly reported to be arising.

Royalty Leaves For U. S. Visit

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Prince Albert of Liege and his Italian wife, Princess Paola, will leave Saturday for a three-week visit to the United States.

A court source said they will return from their goodwill tour in time for the wedding of King Baudouin and Fabiola de Moray Aragon of Spain. This would indicate that the wedding is to take place, at the earliest, in the last week of October and more probably in November.

Dallas Baptists Approve Budget

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—What is believed to be the largest annual local church budget "in the history of Christendom" was approved Sunday by the 12,000-member First Baptist Church.

The $1,195,000 budget was adopted by members at the morning worship service.

Pastor W. A. Criswell said "this is probably the most stupendous financial program ever undertaken by any church in the history of Christendom."

More than half of the 1961 general budget will go for missionary causes outside the local church program. The church supports five missions in the Dallas area and regularly tops all of the 32,000 Southern Baptist Convention churches in total gifts to world missions.

Political Gadgets Are Still With Us

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political paraphernalia of America changes not down through the years.

These days maybe you don't wear a celluloid collar inscribed with the names of your candidates as men used to do, but you can get a tie or a tie clip proclaiming your man.

Maybe in the old days you couldn't get a blue plastic flag inscribed "Pat for First Lady" for your car radio antenna. But even in 1960 you could get a hand-painted banner bearing a portrait of Thomas Jefferson.

Nothing has changed fundamentally since 1860, when the American presidential campaign emerged in its present form.

"The main changes are more or less technical," said Dr. Wilcomb D. Washburn, curator of political history at the Smithsonian Institution.

The purpose of all the buttons, banners, balloons, photographs, symbols, slogans and hoopla remains the same—to project a favorable image of the candidate.

In the 1840s it may have been a metal token, Dr. Washburn said. When photography was developed, hundreds of thousands of pictures of the candidates were distributed. The played much the same role that television does now in getting the candidate's face known.

That 1840 campaign between Martin Van Buren and William

Henry Harrison was a humdinger. The campaign symbol appeared with the miniature log cabin and cider barrel for Harrison.

Come on down through the years with symbols—the ace and rails for Abraham Lincoln, the plumed knight of James G. Blaine in 1884, the beaver hat of Benjamin Harrison in 1889, the gold and silver bugs of 1896 in the silver-gold issue, the red handkerchief or the rough rider hat of Theodore Roosevelt in 1904, the sunflower for Al Landon in 1936, the worn-out shoe sole for Adlai Stevenson in 1956.

This year Democrats are wearing miniature PT boats for John F. Kennedy, who commanded one during the World War II.

This year the Republicans are putting the slogan "Experience counts" on their banners and posters. The Democrats are trying "Leadership for the 60s."

Going backward through history there were I Like Ike, the Fair Deal, the New Deal, We Want Wilkie, Keep Cool with Coolidge, the New Freedom of Woodrow Wilson, the "Cross of Gold" of William Jennings Bryan, Tippecanoe and Tyler, too.

It hasn't changed much at all.

Mother Dies With Three Children

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—When Jack Bryden called home but got no answer Sunday he thought something might be wrong. So he hurried home to discover his wife, Meredith, 24, and three of their four young children dead in the garage. A vacuum cleaner hose ran from the exhaust to a rear window.

"It's all futile," Mrs. Bryden said in a farewell note. Police listed the deaths as a triple murder and a suicide.

Trucker Drops Car, Undamaged

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—John Nowha, a Garden City, Mich., trucker, dropped something while traveling Sunday on U. S. 52 near here, and Ohio highway patrolmen chased him 10 miles to give it back.

The something was a 1960 compact car, undamaged except for some paint scraped off the side, which had fallen from Nowha's auto transport truck.

How Can God Bless America?

"How can God bless an America whose pulpits are filled with preachers who deny the deity of His Son and reject the inspiration of His Book?"

"How can God bless an America filled with injustices, race hatreds, class hatreds, and national selfishness?"

"There used to be 177,000 saloons in our land, but today there are 437,000 liquor 'joints' employing 1,335,000 girls and women."

"God can bless America only as she repents and turns to Him."

(By N. M. Young in "Firm Foundation.")

"And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commendeth all men everywhere to repent." (Acts 17:30.)

"Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized, every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." (Acts 2:38.) Adv.

Woman Flier Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Ruth Rowland Nichols, 59, world famous flier, was found dead in her apartment Sunday.

Her body was found by the apartment house superintendent after an aunt of Miss Nichols, Polly Haines, said she had been unable to reach the former flier by telephone.

Police said the cause of death would not be known until a medical examination was completed. They listed her death as a possible suicide.

Miss Nichols, who was a society girl, was regarded with the late Amelia Earhart as one of the pioneering women in American aviation.

Miss Nichols' latest achievement was in 1958 when she claimed women's records by flying an Air Force jet faster than 1,000 miles an hour at an altitude of 51,000 feet at the Suffolk County Air Force Base on Long Island, New York.

Trucks Feature Proved Design

Continuation of the successful suspension system introduced last year, moderate front style changes, and refinements in chassis and cabs mark the 1961 Chevrolet truck line. Proved by a full year of customer use, the suspension features independent front springing with torsion bars and rear coil springs. Cab improvements include a smaller floor tunnel for increased leg and foot room and optional thick foam rubber seat. The Chevrolet trucks go on display this week at Tidwell Chevrolet.

Chevy Trucks For 1961 To Be Shown Locally

Refinements in the highly successful chassis design introduced a year ago, further expansion of models, and styling identification changes mark the Chevrolet truck line for 1961. These units go on display this week at Tidwell Chevrolet.

New features for 1961 emphasize a lower and narrower floor tunnel on most light-duty models for improved foot and leg room with the three-speed or Powerglide transmission. New optional equipment includes a windshield wiper-washer combination with two-speed electric wipers, and a comfort package which includes a six-inch foam rubber seat and special body insulation.

Included in the 1961 line are three new four-wheel drive models for light-duty, maximum traction application. The 127-inch wheelbase, 1/2-ton vehicles are available as cab-chassis, wide-box pickup and conventional box pickup models rated from 4,900 to 5,600 pounds gross vehicle weight.

All Chevrolet four-wheel drive units for 1961 feature a new 10-inch diameter clutch, standard three-speed transmission, and 7.10 x 15-inch tires on the 1/2-ton models. Thus equipped, they meet the majority of light-duty, maximum traction requirements.

Identifying styling refinements for all except tilt-cab models highlight a new front-end appearance, new group classification nameplates and new seat trim design. Eight new exterior colors are offered buyers in addition to the seven previously available.

Kennedy Pleased With Two Large Receptions

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, happy over two tumultuous receptions—one the biggest of his campaign—turns out tonight to television-radio debate No. 1 with his Republican rival for the presidency.

Kennedy, the Democratic candidate for the White House, arranged to spend most of the day in seclusion preparing for his unprecedented duel to be watched coast-to-coast on the four major networks. The hour-long program originating here will start at 8:30 p.m. EST.

Aside from the debate—the first of four scheduled with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee—Kennedy's only announced campaign activity today is an afternoon address at the annual convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Kennedy devoted a good part of the weekend to boning up for the debate. He arrived in Chicago early Saturday at the end of his week of intensive campaigning.

The senator took time out for a quick visit to Cleveland Sunday where he got the most tremendous welcome since his nomination in July. On his return to Chicago he received another thunderous reception at a party rally on the Lake Michigan shore.

In Cleveland, Police Traffic Commissioner James B. Halloran estimated 118,000 persons were in the wildly enthusiastic crowd which Kennedy addressed at Euclid Beach Park. Police calculated that perhaps up to an additional 100,000 turned out to greet Kennedy along a 12-mile route to the park.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Halloran of the Kennedy crowds in Ohio's largest city.

There was the same sort of thing when the Massachusetts senator got back to Chicago. The crowd was smaller—estimates ranged from 25,000 to 40,000—but the rally the Democrats organized lacked none of the enthusiasm evident in Cleveland.

In Cleveland, Kennedy spoke of Ohio with its 25 electoral votes as one of the key states where his contest with Nixon is extremely close.

"If we don't carry Ohio, we are not going to win this election," he declared.

In Chicago, he sounded the same theme regarding Illinois with 27 electoral votes.

"It is my judgement that whoever carries Illinois in November will be elected president of the United States," Kennedy said.

Graham Holds Berlin Meet

BERLIN (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham, under attack by the Communists, today called his visit to divided Berlin "providential."

A huge tent holding 20,000 persons has been set up for him within 100 yards of the "Little Iron Curtain" that separates the two parts of the city. The first of a week's series of meetings was to be held tonight.

"We planned this trip more than 18 months ago," he told a news conference. "and we did not know that we would be here at this difficult time. It is providential that we should be here just now, where the two worlds meet."

"Berlin is the most prayed-for spot in the world just now—unless it is New York," he said.

The Communists have attacked him as a representative of "Wall Street" and "American imperialism." Communist police have questioned choir-singers and other helpers recruited in East Berlin for the meetings.

There were unconfirmed reports that East Berliners had been forbidden to attend. There is normally no interference with Berliners moving between the two parts of the city. Since early this month, the Communists have required West Germans on visits here to get a special pass to go into East Berlin.

Speeding Car In Cattle Crash

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A speeding car smashed into a herd of cattle on the road Sunday night killing 11 cows, a cowboy's horse and two men in the car.

There were five men and one woman in the car, all from the Idaho Falls area. They were driving to this eastern Idaho city at a speed that patrolman C. B. Roberts said was in excess of 100 miles per hour.

The other four persons in the car were seriously hurt, as was the rider whose horse was killed. Killed were Phil Garner, 36, driver of the car, and Jay Brown, 39.

The eight BRT organizers met in a caboose in the D&H yards here Sept. 23, 1963. Wessell was elected a trustee when the grand lodge was established.

Nasser, Castro Get Together

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said Arab Leader Gamal Abdel Nasser has asked Fidel Castro of Cuba to join in an alliance to stand between the West and the Communist nations.

The president of the United Arab Republic conferred with the Cuban prime minister at the latter's residence in the Hotel Theresa in Harlem Sunday.

The Times said the major topic was the similarities between the problems of their countries. The pair also exchanged invitations for state visits to Cairo and Havana, the Times said, but no dates were set.

Nixon Prepares For TV Appearance

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon went through final briefings today for his big television campaign debate tonight with his Democratic rival for the presidency.

He had a speaking engagement before the United Brotherhood of Carpenters but kept his schedule otherwise free for concentration on his nationwide joint appearance with Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The Republican nominee left his wife, Pat, in Washington when he flew here Sunday night to start the third week of intensified campaigning.

Nixon told crowds at the Midway Airport and at three South Side receptions en route to the Pick-Congress Hotel, where he spent the night, that Mrs. Nixon decided to remain at home and view the debate over television with their two daughters.

A crowd at the airport, estimated by police at close to 5,000, almost swept the vice president off his feet when some of them surged through police lines and he had difficulty getting to an airplane ramp from which he spoke. He said he never made the football team at college, but after his experience, "I could qualify as a blocking back."

Mrs. Nixon, he said, had a few things to do in Washington, like getting clothes cleaned and buying neckties for him, before rejoining the campaign party early Tuesday in advance of the flight to Memphis, Tenn., for speeches there and at West Memphis, Ark.

The GOP nominee said he is returning later to campaign Illinois "as it has never been campaigned before" with speeches in Chicago and suburbs.

"If we don't take anything for granted, and campaign as hard as we can," he continued, "we are going to win. I'll see you on television tonight."

Automatic Light

Russell Tidwell looks over the Ready-Lite which automatically turns itself on when the sun goes down and then turns itself off when the sun peeks over the horizon the next morning. The light is also equipped with a hand electrical outlet which is ideal for persons using electrically powered lawn tools out for a little extra light.

Modern Electric Yard Light Turns Itself On And Off

The modern electric yard light, the Ready-Lite, offers two highly distinctive features not found on ordinary yard lights.

Turning itself on and off at dusk and dawn at a photo electric cell, the Ready-Lite saves the home owner money. As soon as it is dark enough to require light, the Ready-Lite comes on. When it is light, the Ready-Lite goes off. The Ready-Lite also has a convenient electric outlet built into the pole, handy for using electric powered lawn tools and other electric devices.

Electric customers who buy the lights from authorized Ready-Lite dealers may pay purchase and installation costs in monthly installments on electric service bills. The cost can be for as little as $2.50 a month and the customer can take up to two years to pay.

Ready-Lites are available in a large variety of styles and are on display at the electric company office and in authorized dealer stores.

Available To Butane Users

The above appliances can now be used in homes anywhere, whether they are in urban or rural areas, thanks to the use of butane fuel. All are on display at the S. M. Smith Butane Company, main offices of which are located on Highway 57, just within the northern city limits. Shown are two Dearborn LP gas heaters, a Homemaker LP gas cook stove and Corningware cooking utensils.

Water Boy Systems Offer Economical Lawn Watering

Lawn-watering season is almost over this year, but there's always next year to think about, and now's the time to do it. Naturally, you will want to utilize the most efficient, economical watering method available, and Water Boy Systems of Big Spring is just that.

Water Boy Systems is a comparatively new company in Big Spring, having come here only last spring, but many home owners have already taken advantage of the modern methods used in the system. Head of the operation in Big Spring is S. Gorman, 303 W. 1st.

The system is engineered to supply an even distribution of water off conventional faucets and lines. A special machine used by the company cuts evenly-spaced trenches two inches wide and 6 inches deep in your lawn. Polyethylene pipe with holes placed at regular intervals on the bottom are laid on gravel in the trenches. By operating off a fixed gradient flow, the system avoids the disadvantages of depending on pressure. Instead of watering your lawn several hours each day of the week, you will only have to water a maximum of four hours a week to have a beautiful lawn. And there's no worrying about water running down the street, or muddy shoes, since all watering is done underground.

Water Boy also does away with the inconvenience of moving a hose and sprinkler, and you're assured of an even distribution of color, with no detracting dry spots.

Union Electricians To Rehash Dispute

HOUSTON (AP) — Union electricians from Galveston and Houston will meet here Oct. 7 to rehash complaints over a shift in union boundaries between the cities.

Gordon M. Freeman, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, called the session to calm Houston members angered by the jurisdictional move.

Herman C. Waggoner of Houston last week lost an injunction suit to keep the international from shoving territory from Houston Local 716 and transferring it to Galveston Local 527.

An estimated $325 million in new construction is scheduled soon for the disputed area.

The boundaries set by the international will determine how much of this work will fall to members of each local.

Anytime you need a trucking service, keep in mind that the prime concern of the H. W. Smith Transport Co., Inc., is to furnish the best of service in moving oil or water to the lease for frac jobs and work overs, and to pipeline storage terminals.

To do this, all company trucks used in transporting such materials have been equipped with short-wave radio units to keep them in constant contact with the main office.

In connection with their general field work, they have one treated tank used for nothing but fresh water hauling.

If you need crude oil or water for a frac or work-over job, keep H. W. Smith Transport Co. in mind. They can also furnish high or low gravity oils for frac jobs.

The H. W. Smith Transport Co. offers the specialty service of a 55 barrel vacuum unit used in moving drilling mud, B.S. & W. or any other heavy material. The unit can also be used in spraying roads with water and other functions.

Caprock Service Co., a crude oil purchasing agency in this area, is an affiliate of the Transport Co. Service may be obtained by calling AM 4-2561, day or night. If there is no answer, at night call AM 4-8159 or AM 4-3992.

The company is located at 210 E. 2nd Street in Big Spring.

National Grid Loop Openers Set Record

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Football League showed its star-studded cast of proved performers front and center over the weekend and inaugurated its 41st season with an impressive show of muscle at the attendance gate.

With veteran quarterback Bobby Layne leading the parade of NFL standouts, the well-established circuit drew 216,069 to its five weekend curtain-raisers in the first regular-season test of strength at the turnstiles with the newly formed American League.

Layne, firing passes accurately in an aerial duel with little Eddie LeBaron, pulled the Pittsburgh Steelers from behind for a 35-28 victory over Dallas Saturday night, that spoiled the cowboys NFL debut.

NEW RECORD

Layne eclipsed Sammy Baugh's all-time record for yards gained passing in a career by connecting on 16 of 25 attempts for 286 yards and a 12-yard total of 22,351 yards. Baugh made 22,065 in 16 seasons with the Washington Redskins.

The Baltimore Colts began their drive for a third successive NFL championship by whipping Washington 20-0 before 53,818 as Johnny Unitas extended his record TD-agame string to 38 with a scoring pass to Ray Berry.

In other openers, New York's Eastern Division titlists edged the 49ers at San Francisco 21-19 with 44,598 in the stands. Cleveland blasted the Eagles 41-24 at Philadelphia before 56,303 and Chicago defeated the Packers 17-14 as 32,150 watched at Green Bay.

The American League, giving the NFL its first competition in a decade, won the much heralded battle for Dallas attendance supremacy by default when rain held the Steelers-Cowboys crowd to 30,000.

BIG CROWD AT BIG D
The head-on collision between Los Angeles and Dallas, two pre-season AFL favorites, attracted an estimated 42,000 at Dallas Sunday. The Texans won 17-0 while Oakland upset Houston 14-13 in another game.

LeBaron's three scoring strikes gave the Cowboys a 28-21 lead in the third quarter before Layne engineered the Steelers victory with a 49-yard TD toss to Preston Carpenter and a 65-yard scoring pitch to Tom Tracy in the final quarter. He also passed for two other touchdowns.

With the Colt defense holding Washington immobile Baltimore wrapped it up when Lenny Moore rammed 4 yards for a second-period touchdown. Steve Myhra kicked 28 and 18 yard field goals for the NFL champs.

Fullback Mel Triplett caught a 42-yard scoring flip from substitute quarterback George Shaw in the final quarter for the clincher in the Giants' squeaker. A 38-yard field goal attempt by Tommy Davis with 43 seconds left was wide after the Giants' had held the 49ers on the 1-foot line. Bobby Mitchell scored on runs of 31, 30 and 11 yards, gaining 156 yards on the ground and caught 5 passes for 34 yards while Jimmy Brown chipped in with 153 yards and one touchdown as the Browns beat Philadelphia. Norm Van Brocklin passed for two Eagle TDs.

John Aveni's 16-yard field goal with 35 seconds left clinched the Bears come from behind triumph. Willie Galimore's 18-yard dash and a 26-yard run by Rick Casares tied it after the Packers built a 14-0 lead after three quarters.

DALLAS PASSES ATTENDANCE TESTS FOR PRO FOOTBALL

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas pretty well passed the professional football test but the Texans won the first leg of the attendance fight with the Cowboys.

More than 70,000 fans turned out in threatening and rainy weather to see the rival teams—the Texans of the new American Football League and the Cowboys of the old, established National Football League—play within 16 hours of each other.

The Cowboys drew 30,000 into the Cotton Bowl for a Saturday night game but declined to announce how many were paid. It rained during the day and that undoubtedly cut down the attendance.

The Texans played Sunday afternoon and pulled 42,000 into the Cotton Bowl. It was more threatening and actually rained a little during the game.

That's why the Texans were considered to have come out on top in the first head-to-head test.

The Cowboys had the best game, losing to the Pittsburgh Steelers 35-28 in an offensive thriller.

The Texans played the Los Angeles Chargers and the game was rather dull and filled with mistakes. But the Texans won 17-0.

Poker-Frog Tilt Looms As Big One

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Arkansas and Texas Christian members of the Big Four of Southwest Conference football, tangled at Fort Worth Saturday night in a game due to have a profound effect on the championship race.

TCU, choice of many to win the title and rated No. 2 just put of Texas by the others, will put that "favorable schedule" to its first test.

The Horned Frogs are considered to have the best schedule, setting Arkansas, Texas and Baylor, the other members of the Big Four, at home.

Arkansas has raised a flock of eyebrows with its solid appearance as a contender, whipping Oklahoma State 9-0 and smothering Tulsa 48-7 last week. TCU made a poor start in falling before Kansas 21-7, but the Frogs pretty well redeemed themselves with a 7-6 triumph over Southern California last week.

FISTS FOR TECH
Of almost as much interest will be the clash of Texas and Texas Tech at Austin in the second conference game on the week's card. Tech made its start in conference competition last week with a 14-14 tie with Texas A&M. Texas was pulling out of the doldrums, occasioned by an unexpected defeat at the hands of Nebraska, with a smashing 34-0 triumph over Maryland.

Texas Tech, following a rugged trail that has it meeting Texas, TCU and Baylor on successive weekends, must win this week to stay in the race. A defeat and a tie, which counts a half-game won, half-game lost, will just about eliminate a team.

Embued over good showings last week in intersectional football, Baylor and Rice follow the same pattern Saturday. Baylor blasts at Louisiana State at Baton Rouge while Rice hosts Tulane. Baylor was impressive with a 26-0 victory over Colorado of the Big Eight Conference last week. Rice lost to Georgia Tech 16-13 but made a favorable impression on what is to come.

The record for the week in intersectional play was four victories against two losses and that makes the record eight decisions against 11 defeats for the season.

Southern Methodist left before Ohio State 24-0 in the second loss for the league in intersectional play last week.

SMU rests this week while Texas A&M plays inept Trinity at San Antonio. The latter took a 45-0 lacing from New Mexico State last week.

Yanks, Pirates Tie Down Series Berth

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just 11 days ago, the New York Yankees were clinging to the American League lead by one thin percentage point and it was leaky ship Casey Stengel was piloting.

The Yanks had just lost two straight to their country cousins, the Kansas City A's. A drastic patching job was needed with the four-game set coming up with the second-place Baltimore Orioles.

Stengel did the job, the leaks were plugged, the ship got on an even keel. The Orioles tumbled to four straight defeats and today the Yanks are the champions of the American League for the 10th time in 12 years.

GREAT FINISH
Since that day more than a week ago, the Yanks haven't lost. They've won nine in a row, including the clincher, a 4-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

To the Cleveland Indians goes a large assist. The Tribe blanked

Chicago, 4-0, thus eliminating the White Sox.

So Stengel, 70, now has equalled the record of John McGraw as the major league manager who has won the most pennants, 10. Stengel once played for McGraw as an outfielder with the New York Giants.

The pennant is the Yanks' 25th in 40 years, a record that probably never will be equalled. The Giants are next with 17 pennants. In the American League the No. 2 club in pennant production was the old Philadelphia A's with nine, all under Connie Mack.

FIRST IN 33
The Pittsburgh Pirates won their first National League pennant in 33 years, although they lost to the Milwaukee Braves, 4-2, in 19 in innings on Eddie Mathews' home run. The Chicago Cubs shut out second-place St. Louis behind Glen Hobbie, 4-0, thus eliminating the Cards. The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 7-1, and the San Francisco Giants turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers, 13-9, in other NL games.

The last time the Yanks met the Pirates was in the 1927 World Series—the last time the Buccos won the National League pennant. The Yanks won it, 4-0.

Ralph Terry—with a one-batter assist from Luis Arroyo—pitched the Yanks to their deciding victory.

He was untouchable from the fourth until the ninth when he yielded three singles and one run. With the tying run on third, Arroyo came to the rescue and forced Pete Runnels, the league's batting leader, to foul out.

OPENS OCT. 5
The World Series will open on Oct. 5 in Pittsburgh. The first two games will be played there. The teams will get a day off and return to New York for the next three on Oct. 8-10. If it isn't over by then, they'll have another day off and head for Pittsburgh for the final two games on Oct. 12-13.

Bobby Locke took care of the White Sox for the Indians. He let the Pale Hose down with just four hits, and worse yet, dropped them into third place behind the Orioles, who whipped the Washington Senators, 3-1, when Brooks Robinson blasted an eighth inning home run with two on.

The Detroit Tigers pushed across two runs in the ninth inning to edge the A's 6-5, in the other AL game.

In the National, the Philadelphia Phillies beat Cincinnati 7-1 and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 13-9.

Individual trophies will be given later to members of the Tiger squad.

P. Martinez with 11 doubles; A. Gamboa with 17 stolen bases, and Weatherall with 39 runs batted in. Moser's pitching record included a fancy 119 strikeouts.

Other individual champions were Weatherall with nine homers; Jackie Thomas with four triples;

Yawkey said the aging 42 year old Williams will serve as a batting instructor at the pre-season camp at Scottsdale, Ariz., next spring. Williams then would remain in the organization and "assume duties in keeping with his great talent," the owner added. He did not elaborate.

The statement killed speculation that Williams might change his mind about ending his playing days.

With 520 home runs, Williams is third in the all-time derby, only 14 behind Jimmy Fox.

With five games to play, Williams has 28 homers and a .318 batting average for the season — his 22nd since joining the Sox to stay back in 1939.

More than six of those years were lost to Williams through two service hitches, a cracked elbow, a broken collarbone, divorce, the game's most celebrated pain in the neck and numerous lesser injuries and ailments.

Something Went Wrong

Big Spring hopes sunk to dismal depths on this play against Snyder Friday night. The Steers had launched a fourth-quarter bid to win the game when the ball got away on a pitchout and Mike Moffett covered for Snyder. No. 33 is Ronnie Clanton and No. 11 Tommy Whitley. Fortunately, three plays later Jack Irons snared a Snyder short pass and the Steers drove to the winning touchdown. This Friday Big Spring gets an even tougher test in meeting Sweetwater, top ranked in AAA circles. (Photo Keith McMillan).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Alfredy Zuany, the Mexican heavyweight who fights Britain's Dave Rent on the Joe Brown-Battling Torres card in Houston Oct. 4, has fists only slightly smaller than those belonging to Sonny Liston.

Bobby Luna, the Snyder back who was making all those yards on cross bucks in the early moments of the game here last Friday night, is only a sophomore.

Big Spring finally slowed him down when Coach Emmett McKenzie started slanting his guards.

Anticipating the fact that Snyder might get in close enough for a field goal try after Big Spring's "go ahead" touchdown, McKenzie sent in orders to let John (Red) Schwarzenbach try to kick the point-after touchdown try.

The Longhorns could never get the ball down, however, and had to send Jerry Dunlap on a lunge up the middle.

Had Schwarzenbach made good on his kick for the extra point, the Tigers quite probably would have gambled for a touchdown when they had the ball on Big Spring's 13, rather than go for a field goal.

A lot of the fans on hand thought the officials were very generous in giving Snyder a first down on that fourth-down pass completion in the last 90 seconds of play. Many felt the visitors lacked a couple of feet in getting the renewal.

Tommy Whitley, who crashed into the Snyder punter and kept a Tiger drive going for the visitors' second TD when the Steers drew a penalty, couldn't be faulted for his effort. Had he arrived a split second sooner, he'd have blocked the kick. As it was, he couldn't stop in time.

Emmett Kent Morgan, the little Big Spring injured near the end of the game, suffered a muscle cramp and should be all right this week. Apparently, he tried to change directions too fast.

Charley Johnson, the quarterback from Big Spring who is in his senior year at New Mexico State, tossed the ball for gains totaling 298 yards in his first two football games this fall.

He completed 23 of 43 pass attempts, had one intercepted and three of his aeriels went for touchdowns.

The Aggies opened with a 41-0 victory over the University of Mexico and then toppled Tulsa, 38-18.

Larry Jones, a Goliad Ninth Grader who has been playing football going on six years now, suffered his first injury in a workout last week.

The young guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Jones, had a mild concussion and was forced to miss his first workout since he began playing football.

One of the boys performing for the Lamesa freshman football team is Jay White whose father, Gus, Jr., was one of the best backs the Lamesa Tornadoes have had in the last 25 years.

Gus, Jr., later became one of the area's best and best known poloists and also shoots a creditable game of golf.

The state of California spent $9,000,000 plus on the Winter Olympics and is still $148,000 in debt on the promotion, despite the fact that the state legislature appropriated $1,000,000 to cover all unforeseen debts.

Sloppy bookkeeping caused part of the spiraling debt. In one instance, $1,400 was spent needlessly by paying the hotel and food bills of 16 interpreters who also were getting $14 a day expense payments.

Retired Mailman Is Olster Champ
OSTERVILLE, Mass. (AP) — The new king of the nation's golfing old-timers is retired mailman Mike Costone, 55, of Jambourg, N. J.

Costone, only a tournament freshman, captured the U. S. Seniors Golf Championship Sunday on the wind-swept Oyster Harbor course with a 20-hole victory over Dave E. Rose, 56, Cleveland hides broker.

Tigers Lose Final To Odessa, 7-4

The Tigers ran into trouble in the ninth inning Sunday and dropped their final game of the season to the Odessa All-Stars 7-4.

It was a nip-and-tuck affair until the top of the ninth when the Odessans bunched four hits off Bobby Suggs. Chubby Moser came in to put out the fire by whiffing the last batter, but the Tigers went down in order in their last chance.

At that it was the Tigers' most successful season with 28 won and 5 lost. A watch went to Tito Arrencia, whose 416 was the tops in hitting, and to Ronnie Moser for his 11-0 record in pitching during the season.

Other individual champions were Weatherall with nine homers; Jackie Thomas with four triples;

P. Martinez with 11 doubles; A. Gamboa with 17 stolen bases, and Weatherall with 39 runs batted in. Moser's pitching record included a fancy 119 strikeouts.

Individual trophies will be given later to members of the Tiger squad.

It's Official: Williams Is Hanging Up His Spikes

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams ends his career as baseball's most colorful slugger Sunday, but the Boston Red Sox will continue utilize his batting skill.

Sox owner Tom Yawkey made Williams' retirement official Sunday.

Yawkey said the aging 42 year old Williams will serve as a batting instructor at the pre-season camp at Scottsdale, Ariz., next spring. Williams then would remain in the organization and "assume duties in keeping with his great talent," the owner added. He did not elaborate.

The statement killed speculation that Williams might change his mind about ending his playing days.

With 520 home runs, Williams is third in the all-time derby, only 14 behind Jimmy Fox.

With five games to play, Williams has 28 homers and a .318 batting average for the season — his 22nd since joining the Sox to stay back in 1939.

More than six of those years were lost to Williams through two service hitches, a cracked elbow, a broken collarbone, divorce, the game's most celebrated pain in the neck and numerous lesser injuries and ailments.

The last of the 400 hitter (406 in 1941) has the following Major

League totals through Sunday with his all-time standing in parentheses:

Home runs — 529 (third)
Runs batted in — 1837 (sixth)
Runs scored — 1791 (seventh)
Lifetime average — .345 (eighth)
Doubles — 525 (14th)
Games played — 2290 (26th)
Hits — 2653 (31st)

Oakland Upsets Houston Oilers

HOUSTON (AP)—A fourth quarter surge by the Oakland Raiders upset the Houston Oilers, 14-13, in an American Football League game here Sunday.

It was Houston's first defeat in three league starts and the first victory for Oakland.

"I've never asked a team for a victory before in my life," Oakland Coach Eddie Erdelatz said after the game. "But I asked the team to win this one for Ernie George, our assistant coach who had a heart attack."

Hepburn Role Raises A Few Eyebrows

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Audrey Hepburn is back in town with a new baby and a new role—as a kookie trollop, of all things.

Again slim as a boy, the actress has returned to Hollywood with husband Mel Ferrer. She is starting work on "Breakfast at Tiffany's." The casting has raised a few eyebrows.

"I must say I couldn't see myself in the role, either," she admitted. "I didn't think it was anything I could play. But when they sent me the script by George Axelrod, I just couldn't resist it."

Famed as a portrayal of princesses and nuns, Audrey is doing a 180-degree turn to play Holly Golightly, a wild, weird creation of Truman Capote. She's the precocious New York doll, a bride when "going on 14" in her native Tulsa, Tex., a sometime model who is not averse to taking $50 from gentlemen escorts.

"But they don't get anything for it," Audrey assured, "at least not in the picture."

Apart from her new role, Audrey admitted that her life has changed in the past year.

"My family has always been uppermost in my life," she said. "I enjoy working, but I don't miss it when I am away from it; I have too many other interests."

"Now the baby adds another element to my planning. Mel and I have always arranged our careers to be apart as little as possible, and we've done pretty well. With the baby, I'll have to consider pictures more carefully, if they involve extensive locations."

"It won't be so bad until he goes to school, because he will be able to travel. I'll continue working—if I can find the jobs. After that, I might quit work altogether."

Red Skelton Starts 8th Consecutive Season On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Red Skelton, calm and cracking Khrushchev-Castro jokes, is in town to start his eighth consecutive season of weekly television shows.

This 48-year-old marvel of longevity — even Jack Benny took a breather last season by sharing a spot with George Gobel — does not fit the classic pattern of the sober, serious, harried funnyman on the ragged edge of collapse from the ulcer-making chore of making laughs.

Tuesday night will be a breeze for him even if it will be something of a novelty for his CBS audience. It will be a one-man all-pantomime 30 minutes, composed from bits and pieces of things he has done over the years in night clubs, vaudeville and elsewhere. Red has been a performer since he was 10 and is the son of a circus clown.

This real pro does not share in widespread concern about the sad condition of comedians in television.

"In the history of the world there have never been more than 30 or 35 internationally known comedians living at the same time. And I would guess that there are between 30 and 35 people around today that people will laugh at."

"And as for the comedy they are calling sic, if you do any research into the humor of the past, you'll find that every generation has the same sort of humor. Besides, you can call a joke sick or anything else — but if people laugh at it, it's funny."

United Nations took the weekend off — and the TV networks thoughtfully gave us for the most part — a change from both Mr. K and the political campaigns. The emphasis was on sports.

Ed Sullivan is going to be pretty unhappy if football continues to bump into his program. The Giants-49ers game usurped about a quarter of his hour.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

"Mister Angel" will be the first on the boards for the high school players this season. Later, they plan to stage "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Bedford Forrest, drama instructor, will call readings and first rehearsals for "Mister Angel" in about three weeks. Staging of the Harry Segall comedy should occur about six weeks thereafter.

"We'll have the play ready before Thanksgiving," Forrest said, adding with the wistful pessimism of theatre people, "we hope."

"Mister Angel" is the hilarious and racy adventure of a couple of angels who are trying to help an unborn child to get born, by getting a man and his wife (thees-pians, both) back together. Forrest is cutting out a few words here and there, since this is for high school players, but the play will not be mutilated. It's funny, slightly racy, and tops even "The Moon Is Blue."

Comparing his productions of last year and those planned for the upcoming season, Forrest commented:

"I want to show how wide-ranging in subject matter theatre can be, and that high school players can handle these plays like professionals. And I want to show our audiences how good theatre can be."

Loves Pets, Loses Finger

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Philip A. Berkes, a 38-year-old salesman, says he "loves to go to the zoo and pet the animals" — even lions, before dawn.

Berkes went to the Elmwood Park Zoo with his wife Frances early Saturday. They headed straight to the lair of Isabel, a lioness.

Berkes said he climbed over the chain link fence around the cage, and reached into to pet the big animal.

Isabel snapped at the hand, biting off the little finger.

Berkes was treated at Mont-gomer Hospital.

Dobie Not Excited Over Campaign

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Famed folklorist J. Frank Dobie hit 72 today running "but not uphill."

He went to work early on next Sunday's syndicated column and took time out to say he would like occasionally to have a chance to "vote for a great man" for president of the United States.

"I'm not so hot up over this presidential campaign as I have been over some others," Dobie said. "I'm not enthusiastic about either candidate, but I'm going to vote for Jack Kennedy."

Dobie, a lifelong Democrat and unquenchable rebel against the conventional in religion and education, said he is "dead set" against Richard Nixon.

The religious issue should have no place in the presidential campaign, Dobie said.

"What we need in the presidency is a free-thinker," Dobie observed. "That would be a great thing for our country."

"I'll tell you, somebody like Thomas Jefferson, Ben Franklin or Abraham Lincoln, even George Washington. It would be invigorating to have a chance to vote occasionally for a great man."

Dobie was a strong Adlai Stevenson man and still is.

"There was a man with a great mind and that's what we need in politics," he said. "But at least, Kennedy is a gentleman."

Dobie said he feels much better than he did two years ago. He had been seriously ill.

"But I'm not running uphill any more," the one-time cowhand quipped. "I've been frittering away a lot of time but now I'm back at work."

He was digging away on next Sunday's column—"I haven't missed a one since 1939"—and has "two or three" books laid out ready for writing. His latest, "I'll Tell You a Tale," is scheduled for publication Oct. 11. It is an anthology of what he considers to be some of his more interesting anecdotes and essays.

Dobie, often called the "grandfather of Texas folklore," had no special plans aside from his work, for this birthday.

"I'll have some more and we can celebrate then," he said.

Also known as "the best professor that ever got on a horse," Dobie forthrightly talked himself out of a job at the University of Texas after a 33-year stint as a teacher of writing.

He took sides pungently with Dr. Homer P. Rainey in the former university president's losing struggle with the regents and finally was fired in 1947. Dobie's refusal to resume active teaching after a leave of absence was the official reason, but his friends said they knew it was because he was a born rebel who couldn't live happily under authority, and who wouldn't shut up.

In 1957 he was hospitalized with pneumonia. Subsequently he had a heart attack. Now he looks exceptionally strong. And his mind is as fertile as ever.

"It's not so much how long you spend on the road, but how far you travel, how much that's worth picking up that you pick up," Dobie says.

IKE PLANS NO POLITICS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A speechmaking trip will take President Eisenhower across the country and into Mexico next month to visit President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

"This is not a campaign trip," White House Press secretary James Hagerty said. There would be no political speeches, Hagerty said.

Starting Oct. 17, Eisenhower will travel for nine days, visiting six states and covering 6,500 miles. He will make five speeches.

On Oct. 24 he will fly to Laughlin Air Force Base near Del Rio, Tex., and cross border to meet Lopez Mateos in Ciudad Acuna for third in series of meetings to encourage friendly relations between the United States and Mexico. He then will go on to Houston to address a convention at Rice University.

Five Firms Revealed As Renewal Plan Owners

DALLAS (AP)—Five firms have bought more than $4 million worth of downtown Dallas property in what has been revealed as a gigantic urban renewal plan by private enterprise.

Thirty-nine separate tracts are involved in Dallas' fading western downtown area. The tracts are bounded roughly by Elm, Lamar, Field and Commerce streets.

During the past five years 54 separate tracts in the area have been purchased by S. P. Ciniotti. Until last week he was simply named as "trustee" for unnamed purchasing parties in deed transfers recorded in the county clerk's office. Because of the recent illness of Ciniotti, the deeds were re-recorded under the real owner's name.

The largest number of Ciniotti-to-company shifts, 24, went to the Dallas Texas Corp., headed by W. T. Overton, son of W. W. Overton, board chairman of the Texas

Bank and Trust Co. Seven more went to W. W. Overton Jr. & Co.; one to Overton Real Estate Co.; two to McGrath Industries, Inc., and five to merchants buildings, Inc.

Merchants Buildings, Inc., is intertwined with the various Murchison family interests in Dallas. Most of the buildings purchased in the semi-blighted area have been razed and converted into parking lots.

Style Vote

LONDON (AP)—Britain's 250,000 Boy Scouts began voting today on whether to swap their knee pants for the ankle-length variety. The bare-knee ballot will go on all week. Lanky teen-agers complained that short trousers, make them look silly.

Can't Make It

BONN, Germany (AP)—The U. S. Embassy said today President Eisenhower would be unable to fit into his crowded schedule a visit to Berlin Oct. 24 for the 10th anniversary of the Freedom Bell.

King Advocates More Stand-Ins

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King advocates peaceful stand-ins to "dramatize the continued injustices the Negroes face in the area of voter registration."

The Negro leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott said Sunday that "stand-ins" at registration places must follow sit-ins at lunch counters, washrooms and beaches and pools, and kneel-ins in churches.

The Atlanta minister, at a meeting sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, also said, "Even in counties of the Deep South where resistance is great, Negroes must organize themselves by the hundreds of thousands to stand nonviolently and peacefully for hours in the corridors and on the sidewalks of places of registration."

Has Ideas About Complexions

From Argentina comes attractive Ann St. Clair, who is making her Hollywood debut in Columbia's "All the Young Men." Clear complexion comes from being clean, she says.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Actress Has Ideas On Complexion, Diet

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Ana St. Clair is making her Hollywood debut in Columbia's "All the Young Men," but as Ana Maria Martinez she was starred in a score of pictures in Argentina and Spain.

"Latin men like women with curves," she began our conversation, "so she began to eat a lot of food. I was in the Hollywood Brown Derby."

"So do I," her husband Hal Bartlett, chimed in. Bartlett is producer of her picture.

Ana smiled at him and continued. "Even so, I had to be eight pounds lighter, and I don't like crash diets. I found that cutting down on salt and not eating late dinners are helpful ways of reducing."

Miss St. Clair was wearing a beautiful suit with the kind of chic that comes from familiarity with the great couturiers. When I complimented her she replied:

"I love clothes and I have always tried to dress like a woman should. The designers introduce bizarre things that are not pretty but are for publicity."

"One fundamental rule," Ana confessed, "is to dress for the occasion. You can't be elegant when an occasion calls for a casual costume, and it has been said that there is less and less reason for elegance."

Ana has a clear, radiant skin that is outstandingly beautiful and I asked her opinions on skin care.

"The women who don't care for her skin will not keep it young. I have noticed that girls who stay in the sun too long have lines they didn't have before."

Bridal Tea Is Honor For Miss Vaughn

LAMESA (SC) — The selected wedding colors, emerald and fern mist green and white were accentuated in the decor for a gift tea Saturday afternoon at the Lamesa Delphian Club. Honoree for the courtesy was Sue Vaughn, bride-elect of Troy Howard.

Receiving guests with Miss Vaughn were her aunt, Mrs. Bill Lane; her future mother-in-law, Mrs. T. L. Howard, and the sister of the bridegroom-to-be, Mrs. Donald Richey of Big Spring.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with white net over satin. Its centerpiece featured white chrysanthemums and white frosted wedding bells interspersed with fern mist candles and leather fern.

Sharing the hostess duties were Mrs. Owen C. Taylor, Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, Mrs. Earl F. Henderson, Mrs. W. O. Ford, Mrs. Harley Campbell, Mrs. Luther Lee, Mrs. Bill Love, Mrs. Conley Esmond, Mrs. Harvard Roberts, Mrs. Roy Love, Mrs. Lex Woodul, Mrs. D. W. Ogilvie, Mrs. E. E. Wright, Mrs. Phillip Jones, Mrs. Ernest Rhoades, Mrs. Thomas Howard Jr., Mrs. Alton Addison, Mrs. C. R. Woodward, Mrs. Leroy Holladay, Mrs. Clifford Baird, Mrs. Beachy Barron and Mrs. John T. Agee.

Tongue Slices

The center of a smoked tongue is the best part to serve sliced. The tip and root end may be chopped or ground for hash or a sandwich filling.

Shower Is Courtesy For Couple

Airman 2.C. and Mrs. William Turner, who were married Sept. 18, were honored Saturday evening with a miscellaneous shower.

The courtesy was given at Elbow School for the airman and his bride, the former Joyce Bronaugh, daughter of Mrs. A. T. Bronaugh.

Hostesses for the shower included Mrs. Russell Howie, Mrs. Jack McKinnon, Mrs. Ray McKinnon, Mrs. Harold Gilmore, Mrs. Son Dunagan and Blanche Radtiff.

Refreshments were served to 46 from a table centered with a mock wedding cake of white satin encircled with pink roses, and placed on a reflector.

The couple will leave soon for Florida, where the bride will reside while her husband completes a tour of duty in Greenland.

Presbyterians Note Rally Day At Family Night Meal

Rally Day at St. Paul Presbyterian Church was closed Sunday evening with a covered dish supper at the church.

Observed as a family night affair, the supper was followed with the presentation of Patty Minear, director of Christian Education at First Presbyterian Church. Miss Minear discussed the co-operation of parents and teachers in developing the spiritual life of youngsters.

During the program, the young people of the church were entertained with slides taken in Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Perry, sponsors of the youth group, showed the pictures.

Fall Fashions Are Sparked By Glitter Of New Jewelry

Jewelry sparks the difference in the new fall fashions and therein lies one of the most glittering and exciting stories in the whole fashion field.

Discreet, understated clothes demand the accent of color and drama that jewelry, worn in various ways, gives every woman the chance to put her own stamp of individuality on fashion. She can use the magic of her jewel box to create many different looks, from high fashion to the conservative, from the discreetly tailored to gay and giddy.

Nothing can give a stamp of newness to a dress this season as will a longer length necklace to complement the simple necklines and easy body lines. A close-cropped hairdo cries for the bigger, bolder earrings. Shorter dress, suit and coat sleeves make bulky bracelets a must. Suits gain their final touch of sparkling appeal from the big pins or groupings of pins matched to earrings.

A costume without jewelry—and a lot of it—is like a cake without icing or a stew without spice this year.

For Glamor

For after-dinner glamor, brew Italian-roast coffee and serve in small heavy footed glasses with twists of lemon peel and sugar.

Make A Change From Summer To Fall Beauty

Remember how fishy white you felt when you first donned shorts or bathing suit last spring? Remember how eagerly you rushed out to let old Sol hurry on with his work?

Maybe you were happy with that beet red that changed to tan, but your skin wasn't. Skin suffers under the summer sun. A cosmetic expert, who has been perfecting methods of skin care since most of us were moppets, warns that sun is one of our skin's greatest enemies.

Let's make a quick checkup on what damage it has done this summer. First, put on a dark crepe or wool dress of the type you'll wear on cooler days. Now, take a long candid look in the mirror. Hm-m-m, that tan doesn't look quite right somehow. Were those tiny wrinkles around the eyes really there last spring? Probably not. No time to waste—here's the big picture for your autumn change-over to beauty.

Before bedtime, go to work on those clogged facial pores first with a creamy cleanser; leave it on for six or seven minutes and tissue off.

Pat a rich, lubricating cream on your throat as well as your face and let it work while you sleep. On throat and cheek areas pat very firmly with both hands in an upward and outward motion. Don't be timid about giving yourself a good slap on the face. It's a wonderful way to stimulate and strengthen facial and chin muscles, but always remember to pat upward and outward.

When tans begin to fade, many skins take on a muddied, yellowish hue and are inclined to appear rather coarse in texture. To hurry nature through this unattractive phase and especially before evening dates, apply a beauty mask as the next step. Be sure to cover areas with expression or smile lines. Stretch out in a Hollywood slant (this means with feet elevated) while the mask dries to a fine, transparent film.

Rinse your face in lukewarm water and dry. Your face should be radiantly alive and ready for make-up.

Be faithful to this change-over routine and in less time than it takes green leaves to turn red and gold, you'll be a dazzling autumn beauty. For best results use the mask three times weekly.

Winkies go everywhere Tokyo girls go, clinging to their arms or purses. The little black plastic dolls with winking eyes are about 10 inches high with arms that clasp and hold.

Now It's A Winkie Fad

TOKYO (AP)—The Winkie craze has hit Japan. Winkie, a 10-inch high, black plastic air-filled doll with winking eyes, is easily the biggest rage in Japan since the hula hoop two years ago.

"We have customers queuing up from before dawn waiting to buy a Winkie," says an official of Tokyo's Takashimaya department store. "It would be bedlam if we sold them in the toy department, so we've set up a special sales booth outside a ground floor entrance."

A spokesman for Tsukadaya, a wholesaler who has a patent on the doll, declares "we're swamped with orders. We'll never be able to fill them all."

What started the craze? Some say it's because they're cute. When inflated, a Winkie doll cuddles up to anything its clasping arms can cling to. Girls sport them on their arms, or their hand-bag straps.

Others say it's because it's a doll with a difference—and cheap. One costs 180 yen (50 cents).

He explains there is a Winkie shortage because "we can't mass produce them. It requires a lot of manual work."

Takashimaya gets about 500 Winkies a week. They're sold on Thursdays and Sundays and are snapped up within minutes after opening time.

Winkies first hit the market in late June. Tsukadaya estimates 30,000 have so far been sold throughout Japan, but the number is probably larger.

On order are hundreds of thousands more, including requests from America and other foreign countries.

Necklaces Go To All Lengths For Beauty

Necklace fashion has taken a downward plunge to achieve a fresh new look of flexibility and drama for fall.

The new, longer necklaces are keyed to the fluid lines of the new clothes and help to carry out the look of ease, accent the grace of fuller skirts and the elongated chic of the eased and dropped waistlines.

Comes the question—longer than what? Any necklace that is longer than choker length hits the new stride. The 18-inch single strand or bib gives a stronger note of color accent to plain dress bodices. The classic 22 to 24-inch beauties, known as the matinee length, star in everything from cultured pearls or gold, to beads strung with sparkling stones.

The 29-inch necklace is the high fashion mark of the season and is seen in everything from classic versions combining pearls and jade, to big gilded beads and chains in chunky links. For evening the 29-30-inch necklace stars in links of metal set with flashing stones.

The 30-inch length, a "do-it-yourself" chain or rope, is the season's candidate to complement bulky sweaters, shirtwaists and jersey tops.

Newest length of all is inspired by the twin trends from the 20's and 30's and falls 45-inches to the waist. These beauties may be single strands of graduated pearls, cascading bibs of beads and brilliants, or loops of chain. They are the newest look of all.

Whatever its type, the longer-than-choker length marks a necklace as a new fresh fashion accent this season.

A Devotional For Today

Lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul... And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. (Deuteronomy 11:18, 19.)

PRAYER: Dear God, abide in our homes and in our hearts. May we truly worship Thee through our prayers and through our lives. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

More Money From More People

Addressing a group of officers and attorneys for many of the state's major corporations and business firms, Alvin A. Burger, director of the Texas Research League, said Texas' tax structure just can't cut the mustard when it comes to solving present problems and producing another $200,000,000 said to be needed to meet pressing demands.

He spoke at a seminar on Taxation sponsored by the group.

In contrast to the neighboring states of Louisiana, Arkansas, and New Mexico, who he said had fairly well settled on their tax policy several years ago, Texas has not fit into any particular category. He said the tax systems of surrounding states were nearly three times as productive on a per capita base as Texas. We presume that this is another way of saying that on a per capita basis taxes in those states are three times as high as in Texas. This may be a dubious distinction.

Mr. Burger noted that if two hundred million dollars is to be produced in taxes by the next legislature, it is difficult to see how this can be done without broad-based taxes. Broad-based is the more popular term for such taxes as sales, gross receipts, transactions, etc. taxes.

The alternatives, he thinks, are to whittle down the size of additional demands, tabbing certain available non-tax revenues, expanding the selective tax bases so that more products will be covered. What Mr. Burger is saying is that if we get more money, it will have to come from more people.

Double Dose Of Sugar Coating

Nikita Khrushchev unveiled his latest proposals for easing international tension when he addressed the United Nations general assembly on Friday. Like a good country lawyer, he did a fair job of presenting his side of the case. That, however, does not mean that he won the verdict.

To those nations staggering under heavy tax burdens (as if who isn't?), he made his disarmament pitch. To the uncommitted peoples of the world, he called for an immediate end to colonialism. Admittedly, both of these have considerable appeal.

Basically, he proposed that warfare by rocketry be banned both by refraining from production of the missiles themselves and of the means of producing them. The elimination of nuclear weapons would be accompanied by a reduction of armed forces to minimum figures capable of internal and world police action.

One of the jokers in the deck is his proposal for elimination of all foreign bases, for this at the moment is where we have him at serious disadvantage.

Suggestion that there be an immediate end to colonialism, there is a practical barrier of time. One of the ingredients of crises, as exemplified by developments in the Congo, is in too hasty a switch from dependent to independent status. There needs to be a period of orderly transition, a period of testing and training. Freedom is self-determination, as President Eisenhower suggested, must include freedom from subversion by external forces.

Moreover, there is another form of real and deadly colonialism in this day: we would call it satelliteism. Does Mr. Khrushchev propose to put to an immediate end his enslavement of millions of those residing in the nations of the Soviet-dominated bloc?

President Scores In U. N. Speech

WASHINGTON — It was a truly great speech that the President of the United States delivered before the United Nations General Assembly in New York City. For Mr. Eisenhower reflected the spirit of America and of the free world as he called for a "world community, rooted in law and justice." He appealed not for a "super-state above nations," but for a union of independent states established by a "universal plebiscite" that would give every man the right "to participate through his or her vote in self-government." His address was perhaps the best of Mr. Eisenhower's career. It was reminiscent of the famous speeches of President Woodrow Wilson in support of the League of Nations four decades ago.

WHENEVER a spokesman for America issues a call for freedom, and offers the moral support of the people of the United States, the peoples of the rest of the world are bound to take notice. Mr. Eisenhower talked to the whole world as he promised not only America's aid to Africa but also "programs of assistance for the economic and social development in freedom of other areas, particularly Latin America, Asia, and the Middle East."

The most sensational note of the whole speech, however, was the direct support for the United Nations organization itself and the unequivocal denunciation of Soviet treason against the U. N. The President had in mind the recent Soviet interference with U. N. operations in Africa when he said:

"TO ATTEMPT to hinder or stultify the United Nations or to deprecate its importance is to contribute to world unrest and, indeed the incite the crises that from time to time so disturb all men. The United States stands squarely and unequivocally in support of the United Nations and those acting under its mandate in the interest of peace."

"Outside interference with these newly emerging nations (in Africa), all eager to undertake the tasks of modernization, has created a serious challenge to the authority of the United Nations."

"IN RESPONSE to the call of the Republic of the Congo, the United Nations, under its outstanding secretary-general, has recently mounted a large-scale effort to provide that new republic with help. That effort has been flagrantly attacked by a few nations which wish to prolong strife in the Congo for their own purposes."

"The people of the Congo are entitled to build up their country in peace and freedom. Intervention by other nations in their internal affairs would deny them that right and create a focus of conflict in the heart of Africa."

"THE ISSUE thus posed in the Congo could well arise elsewhere in Africa."

"The resolution of this issue will determine whether the United Nations is able to protect not only the new nations of Africa, but also other countries against outside pressures."

The President hammered home his point—the disregard of the basic principles of the United Nations charter by the Soviet Union. He called for pledges by all members of the General Assembly to be given to the African nations by means of three specific commitments as follows:

"TO REFRAIN from intervening in these new nations' internal affairs—by subversion, force, propaganda, or any other means."

"To refrain from generating disputes between the states of this area or from encouraging them to wasteful and dangerous competition in armaments."

"And to refrain from any action to intensify or exploit present unsettled conditions in the Congo—by sending arms or forces into that troubled area, or by inciting its leaders and peoples to violence against each other."

THE PRESIDENT followed this up with a pointed suggestion that "each speaker who follows me to this platform will solemnly pledge his country to honor this call."

The President's thoughtful discussion of disarmament and effective inspection as a means of avoiding a war "by miscalculation" was a penetrating part of his address. It questioned the sincerity of the Soviet Union before the world. Mr. Eisenhower, moreover, did not fail to mention the "threatening encroachments to the freedom of the people of West Berlin" and the refusal of the Soviet Union to permit a U. N. investigation of its shooting down of an American plane flying over international waters last July and the imprisonment of two fliers aboard that plane.

THE WHOLE SPEECH was a challenge to the Soviet premier and the totalitarian philosophy. The peoples of the free world, and particularly the peoples of the so-called "neutral" countries, cannot fail to be impressed. For here is a charter of liberty, a program for world progress, and, if fulfilled on all sides, one that can insure an unprecedented era of peace throughout the world.

Carrier Boy Hero

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Because a newspaper carrier boy hurried home to lunch, he was able to save his invalid father from a fire.

John Hodge, 11, Maryville-Alcoa Daily Times carrier, opened his front door to find flames leaping to ceiling. A furnace had ignited a living room couch.

Groping his way inside, he roused his father and helped him outside. The boy's mother, at work, said she was certain her husband, who suffers from rheumatoid arthritis, could not have moved by himself to escape the flames.

Nikita Accomplished Purposes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev, having done his best to paralyze the United Nations, has no reason for staying around now except to watch a cripple try to walk.

He had two purposes in coming here—to make propaganda and to undermine the United Nations. He accomplished both.

By his performance last week in New York—despite the bleeding heart he exhibited to backward peoples—he showed himself a hypocrite, a destructive force, a bully and a bore.

It is perhaps no accident he seems upset by the thought of death and disaster. It may be a pattern of his mind. Just read his speech to the United Nations and many previous speeches.

He dwells on annihilation.

HIS TWO-HOUR speech to the United Nations could have been delivered in an hour. It was a long-winded kind he delivers to captive audiences in Moscow. It had a few moments of thunder. As a whole it was a bore.

Khrushchev talks peace but he acts like a man frightened of it.

For more than a year he desperately wanted a summit meeting. Then at the last moment, after the U2 spy plane incident, he backed away and wrecked it.

It was thought at the time he might have been trying to save face.

But he came to this country where it was possible at the United Nations to make a new start toward peaceful settlement. Instead, he exploded in denunciation and undermined the world's greatest agency for peace.

He talked, as he has many times before, of the need for disarmament. The next day he made disarmament impossible by declaring there could be none unless he had his way in demanding a basic change in the U.N. itself.

THIS WAS WHEN he castigated Dag Hammarskjöld, U.N. secretary-general, who had been critical of the Soviets' efforts to penetrate the Congo when the United Nations was trying to restore peace there.

Khrushchev called for revising the fundamental structure of the United Nations by eliminating Hammarskjöld's job and creating a three-man secretariat to run the show.

One man would represent communism, one the West, and the third the neutral nations. Under the setup a veto by any of the three would paralyze the United Nations.

But Khrushchev knew his idea was impossible of achievement when he offered it.

What it boils down to is an effort to bulldoze the world organization into not interfering with Russian adventures in the future. Khrushchev did it by expressing a lack of confidence in the organization.

This leaves the future usefulness of United Nations badly damaged if not ruined.

KHRUSHCHEV SPENT more time in his speech on the evils of colonialism than he did on anything else, demanding that all territories now held by any power be immediately freed.

Here he was at his hypocritical worst, for he said: "It could be said that it is easy for the Soviet Union to speak for the elimination of the colonial regime since the Soviet Union has no colonies."

But the Soviet Union is the newest and biggest colonial power. Witness the bondage of Russia's European satellites. The proof: Khrushchev's bloody suppression of the Hungarians when they tried to shake off communism.

Reducing Pills Should Not Be Given To Children

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

What about "reducing pills" for children? To remove all doubt, it is my firm opinion that a young child should not be given them.

I have in mind a letter concerning a boy of four, clearly overweight, who has shed some pounds by taking such medication, but note this excerpt: "He became very tired by four o'clock, which is very unusual for him, and he cried easily."

Naturally, what else could be expected, when the little fellow's system is being over-stimulated? It may not always be easy to control a youngster's weight by diet—but it can be done.

With proper feeding, enough low-calorie foods to give his stomach an adequately full feeling, along with the necessary vitamins that are contained in many low-calorie foods, a child of four can be fed gradually and safely toward normal weight, and toward normal eating habits that will be good for him all his life.

Another letter is about a girl of 14 who is "5 feet 3 and weighs 175 pounds. She has always been rather heavy. The doctor doesn't think she has any glandular disturbance. She has very little interest in life—a very difficult child to understand in every way."

Again I say, "Of course." At 175 pounds, she's "the fat girl" to all her friends and playmates. Off to a wrong start in life, a child substitutes eating to compensate for being emotionally starved. Or some do, at any rate.

Actually, not many cases of obesity are the result of glandular disturbances, but in this particular case one can't help but wonder whether a child with "very little interest in life" may not, at least, have some thyroid deficiency. In such a case (after proper and not-very-difficult metabolism tests) it may turn out that modest use of thyroid extract can do wonders in encouraging normal, brisk interest and activity.

I do not mean that this will solve the entire problem. She'll have to learn or re-learn normal eating habits, but as she begins to see progress, she may very well become much interested in keeping the improvement going.

(Side question: What about the whole family's eating habits? Are they all over-eat-ers, and hence too plump? It's neither fair nor reasonable to expect a child with a weight problem to eat sparingly if everybody else at the table eats too richly and too heartily.)

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any connection between hardening of the arteries and palpitation of the heart? —Mrs. D. W."

There can be. But it's a lot more profitable to your health to look for other causes—tobacco, coffee, menopause, anxiety, thyroid disease.

Note to J. D. B. and other school pupils asking me for material for themes for school: Look, I'm under enough pressure to write my own "theses," or columns! Furthermore, part of the purpose in your school work is to push you into learning how to find information. There are librarians, encyclopedias, catalogs. Use 'em.

"Vitamin starvation" is possible even if you eat a lot. In order to check your diet to make sure you are getting necessary nourishment, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, for a copy of my pamphlet, "Vitamin—The Alphabet of Health."

Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner is always glad to hear from his readers, and whenever possible he uses their questions in his column, but because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, he cannot answer individual letters.

What We Do To Philosophies

Quotable quotes:

HENRY SIMMONS, a Georgia silver-plating king:

"I wonder why people take up crime when there are so many legal ways of being dishonest."

SYDNEY J. HARRIS, Chicago writer:

"Names have a way of coming to mean something much more crude and restricted than their originators meant them to be—the Stoics were not as stoical, the Epicureans as epicurean, or Machiavelli as Machiavellian, as we think they were today. In each case, we have taken one element in their philosophies and distorted it to represent the philosophy."

DR. GEORGE J. WALLACE, professor of zoology at Michigan State University:

"The current widespread and ever-expanding pesticide program poses the greatest threat that animal life in North America has ever faced—worse than deforestation, worse than market hunting and illegal shooting, worse than drainage, drought, or oil pollution. The present ill-conceived and ineptly executed fire-eradication program will go down in history as one of the worst biological blunders that man has ever made. If this and other pest-eradication programs are carried out as now projected, we shall have witnessed, within a single decade, to a greater extermination of animal life than in all the previous years of man's history on earth."

MANCHESTER (ENGLAND) NEWS:

"Many are the ills to which television has exposed man, it is said. Almost every physical affliction has been attributed to it in recent years. (We say nothing of its mental effects.) Children get eye strain, through sitting on the floor and looking up at the screen and dental trouble from cupping their chins on their hands and grinding their teeth. Everyone eats too many sweets and cookies while watching TV. The more elderly get digestive trouble from eating a heavy meal first and then reclining in an armchair at the wrong posture. There must be cases innumerable but unrecorded of cold feet, hot feet, aching necks, chilblains, shaking hands and bad tempers. The latest thing to be found, recorded in the British Medical Journal, is angina pectoris brought on by excitement. Those of us who have long been inured to death and disasters on the home screen may be surprised at this, but so it is. Westerns, it is said, are mainly responsible for the trouble."

A GOOD POKER PLAYER:

"Raise immediately, no matter how close to the opener. The fewer the players, the better your chance of winning."

OSCAR WILDE:

"Selfishness is not living as one wishes to live. It is asking others to live as one wishes to live."

Mr. Nixon Uses Mr. Khrushchev

Let us now give some concentrated thought to the hard luck that dogs Richard Milhous Nixon. Not long after World War II, the current Vice-President started running for public office as a Republican, opposing, ostensibly, Democratic candidates.

Now in the last Presidential election in 1956, a total of 26,031,322 votes were cast for the losing, or Democratic, candidate for the highest office in the land. That would certainly indicate that there is quite a passel of Democrats in the United States. Since the vast majority is still at large and since a proportion, fully as numerous as that of the Republican party, has fought and bled in the nation's wars, it must be presumed that the great bulk of Democrats, as the great bulk of Republicans, are loyal, patriotic citizens.

YET, BY GOLLY, such is Mr. Nixon's bad luck that he never runs for any office against a Democrat that said Democrat's patriotism and motives aren't under suspicion.

Now Senator Kennedy's true-blue Americanism is under question, as has been that of Mr. Nixon's Democratic opponents in the past. The present Democratic candidate is Nixon-guilty because he will not accede to the demand of the Republican candidate that any and all criticism of the present Administration is harmful and un-American while Nikita Khrushchev is in these United States.

SINCE THE RUSSIAN leader has indicated that he may sit it out here until January, Mr. Nixon would effectively muzzle the opposition. That would, indeed, be very nice for him and the G.O.P.

First, the Vice-President tried to slip the muzzle on his opposition on the religious issue. It continues to be raised by a clamorous gaggle of Nixon supporters whom the Republican candidate has not yet seen fit to repudiate in any way. Oh, sure, he has deplored the issue, but not the rabble that cries it.

MR. NIXON OR his ghost writers have coined a swell phrase for any criticism of the Administration. It is "national self-disparagement." My goodness, no nice person would want to be guilty of "national self-disparagement," would he? Better a man should hit his mother!

Any strictures on the present Administration, for whose wisdom and foresight Mr. Nixon has been taking so many bows, over its shortcomings in military strength or economic growth is not legitimate in a political dialogue; it is "national self-disparagement," which is a dreadful thing.

APPARENTLY, in the Nixon credo, any criticism of the domestic scene is not addressed to the domestic audience, i.e., to American citizens, by his Democratic opponent, but directly to Khrushchev, et al. Of course, the Russian mastermind, totally without a spy system of his own or any means of information about the American military or economy, is wholly dependent upon such information as Mr. Nixon's opponents or opponents will utter in their campaign speeches!

HOW IN THE WORLD would Khrushchev ever find out anything about the U.S. state of preparedness or its economic development if those nasty Democratic opponents of Mr. Nixon didn't make their un-American speeches? How, indeed!

Well, sir, we're really getting into the campaign now. And, by the way, whatever became of the "new" Nixon? Sure faded fast, didn't he, when he felt the pinch? (Copyright, 1960, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

The Perilous Ladder Of Ambition

WASHINGTON—John P. Marquand, who died too soon at 66 last July, was too valuable a social historian to go unconsulted in a Presidential campaign.

While abroad this summer I read some literary obituaries which, with typical European provincialism, dismissed Marquand as a too-prolific writer whose bad books drove his good ones out of mind, and who would never be read again till "people once more have parlours."

MARQUAND'S countrymen, I'm glad to say, see him more truly and hold his memory higher. In the New York Times the other day critic Orville Prescott compared Marquand's ten past novels favorably with Anthony Trollope's "Barchester Towers" series and summarized Marquand's insistent "double theme" as follows:

(a) "The importance of social status in American life and (b) the delusion that follows success too dearly bought."

WELL, THE CAVORTING of Presidential candidates Kennedy and Nixon is well described in Marquand's summary. Every boy born in America can become President. This office is the top of the heap. In Marquand's own language it is "upper-upper." Anybody who associates with politicians knows their terrible yearning to live at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue as the First Family of the Republic.

Ah, but what delusion will follow for the winner, and the nation, too, if the success is too dearly bought! The thought has been dogging this well-wisher of John Kennedy and Richard Nixon for a long while. Have they climbed too fast, at too great a sacrifice to the properties and realities?

CERTAINLY, by this time, Jack Kennedy must be wondering in delusion if his overpriced, overmanaged conquest of the Democratic nomination was worth it. No social-climbing parvenu ever feels wholly dressed and fully at ease upon the summit. Neither, I would guess, does Kennedy always feel that he was wise to battle like Bonaparte for the Democratic diadem and to take by force from the party chieftains what they were very reluctant to bestow.

MY OWN INTUITION, perhaps warmed by friendly admiration, is that Kennedy has the presidential potential. But in the third week of September many Kennedy friends must be recalling that ominous question last July by Harry Truman—the young Senator "ready" for the White House?

Richard Nixon was more sought than seeking in his early career. Everybody must know by now how Nixon was minding his own business in Baltimore when a long-distance call from California fetched him home to run for Congress. He was sought by the Eisenhower forces for the Vice Presidency and, along with a couple of rough bumps, came fairly normally to his present candidacy.

BUT SINCE THE nomination, Nixon has begun to show the color of the money he will pay to succeed. Although the Eisenhower Administration has made a real issue for private power development, Nixon went campaigning in the Northwest and plumped for public power. The Vice President has sniped at the debacle of Secretary Benson's farm policy—but when he recently clutched for the precious farm vote, Nixon proposed to out-Benson the Secretary with another multimillion dollar "eat-more" campaign. As a member of the National Security Council, Nixon must have some qualms about military security—but you'd never know it from his speeches with their trumpeting assurances of American invulnerability.

THE GLITTERING Prize—the ultimate Thule is what another onetime Senator and one-time Vice President, Martin Van Buren, called the Presidency. To pay too much for a personal desire, to climb beyond one's proper level of ambition, is a subject about which Marquand wrote bitter-sweet comedy.

But when the goal is the White House in the Cold War—well, it's no laughing matter.

How To Do It

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP)—Marvin Shoulters, who manages the Oklahoma State Penitentiary annual rodeo, couldn't find an inmate who knew how to ride a bucking animal. To show how it was done he chose a tough bull and stayed aboard the required amount of time.

Bottle Battle

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—When a customer changed his mind about buying a bottle of half-tonic he had ordered specially, the barber let him have it—and the police got both men in their hair.

Officers said barber Horace A. Johnson, 54, hit T. J. Morgan, 50, over the head with a billy club when Morgan refused the bottle of tonic. Morgan suffered a scalp wound and was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Johnson was charged with assault.

U.S. Concerned With Gold Loss

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The big loss of gold in recent days by the U.S. Treasury may sharpen American demands that the finance ministers of the non-Communist world do something about the reverse in the dollar gap.

Uncle Sam has been on the short end of the international financial stick for three years. Last week he lost more gold in normal transactions than in any week since 1931. It's far different from the days when he was helping other nations struggle with dollar shortages—the dollar gap of yesterday.

NO SECRET
The ministers are in Washington today for the annual meetings of the International Monetary Fund and World Bank. U.S. unhappiness over a possible threat to confidence in the dollar is far from a secret.

The gold loss could spark several changes.

Already prices of gold mining shares have risen on the stock exchange—largely because the metal now commands a premium in the London bullion market over the price fixed by the U.S. Treasury.

Talk grows that England may help damp the outflow of gold and dollars from this country by lowering its discount rate from the present 6 per cent. The U.S. rate is 3 per cent and money flows to the place where it can earn more. The piled up dollars abroad can be, and are, turned in for gold.

Rumors are again rife in West Germany that help for the United States may come in the form of a revaluation upward of the German mark, now 4.19 for the U.S. dollar. A costlier mark could slow the flow of investment money from the United States to Germany.

And the United States may urge Germany and other West European nations that are gathering in all our outgoing dollars to start sharing the wealth with underdeveloped areas. That is, take over some of the burden of foreign aid that is cited as a prime factor in the continuing deficit in the U.S. balance of payments.

It is this deficit—more dollars spent abroad for goods, services, aid, travel and investment by U.S. business firms than come back in payment for U.S. goods and services—that has caused our gold hoard to shrink.

In three years of deficits here the dollar reserves of other nations have risen to heights that cause some observers to fear that in time they could undermine world confidence in the dollar itself. Both government and private financial observers, however, are largely united in insisting that no run on the dollar is in prospect.

EXPORTS TOP IMPORTS
Our exports continue to top the monetary value of our imports. But this isn't enough to offset the sums we continue to spend on foreign aid, or military bases abroad, on travel, and increasingly on investments in foreign enterprises and in building of overseas plants by U.S. corporations.

This is the long-range cause of our payment deficit and the buildup of dollar holdings by foreign governments and individuals.

Alert At 107

SACKETS HARBOR, N. Y. (AP)—Alma B. Harris was alert and interested in world affairs as she observed her 107th birthday Sunday. Mrs. Harris, mother of the late John D. Harris, former mayor of Watertown, lives with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Clark.

'Other Worlds' Give Ultimatum

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman for the British Flying Saucer Society said today that before the Soviets—or anyone else—try to put a man on a planet they'd better get the planet's permission.

"We've been informed by the cosmic masters," said William Mayhew, an interview, "that earth men will not be allowed to land on other planets."

Mayhew, a lawyer, and 700 other members of the society have been attending Britain's first National Flying Saucer convention.

During their two-day session in London they said they established contact with a spokesman on Mars through one of their officials, George King.

King went into a yogi trance and said a Martian spoke through him. He recorded the message purportedly from Mars. The message—apparently directed at the leaders of East and West—was broadcast through the convention hall.

The delegates listened in respectful silence as the "master of Mars" said: "Unless much ground is given by both sides alike—"

Here the spokesman was interrupted by what sounded like a very earthy cough. Delegates were unable to say if the cough was King's or the Martian's.

"If you go on as you are at the moment," the voice went on, "fostering suspicion, arguing and boasting about your latest weapons, then a conflict will most surely come."

The voice said the conflict would take place between 1963 and 1964.

Braniff Clerks Strike Today

DALLAS (AP)—The Braniff Airways clerks union members struck today in a dispute over wages and a union shop but the line continued operations.

Some flights from the Dallas airport were 15 minutes late as supervisory personnel took over baggage loading and ticket sales. The company said operations will not be disrupted. The union said it will be at least a day before the full effect of the strike can be determined.

Pilots and other workers crossed picket lines set up by members of the Air Transport Division, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Local 3090.

The union also scheduled picketing at downtown ticket offices.

Prior to the 6 a.m. strike, the union said 2,400 workers would walk off their jobs.

The company declared the dispute centers on union demands for a union shop. But C.L. Dennis, a union international vice president, said if the company would pay what he termed "decent wages," the union shop demand would be abandoned.

The union is asking a wage increase of approximately 36 cents an hour spread over three years and fringe benefits of about 12 cents an hour.

Highway accidents and other violence claimed at least 17 lives in Texas during the weekend. Eleven persons died in car crashes, three persons were shot to death, two died in fires and one drowned.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Sunday.

Mrs. Lela Jewett Blankenship, 41, of Beaumont, died in a fire at her home Sunday.

Hippolito Leal Garza, 24, of Jourdan, and Miss Celia Rizo, 17, of Natalia, died Saturday when their car ran off U.S. 81 near San Antonio.

Santiago Gonzales, about 26, of Port Isabel, was found shot to death early Sunday near Port Isabel.

Mathis Skaines, 55, of Houston was killed and two other men were injured when two pickup trucks collided during a rainstorm Saturday near Waverly.

Jesse P. Griffith, 44, Denton, was fatally injured Sunday night in Fort Worth when his car failed to make a curve.

Lady Silvy Takes Role Of Nudist

LONDON (AP)—Lady Silvy Thyne, lovely blonde daughter of the sixth Marquess of Bath, plays a leading role in a new nudist movie.

She appears, unadorned and unashamed, in "Like Young," a British movie shot in the grounds of her father's stately home at Longleat, in Warwickshire.

"Lord Bath offered us a new naturalism for the film when we arrived," Director Michael Winner reported.

"We already had a lot of extras—members of British nudist clubs. But he led us to the orange-ry and there was his daughter—stark naked."

Lord Bath said he wants to see stills of the movie before it is released. "Not that I expect to object," he added.

Lady Silvy is 16 months old.
