No. 1 Unsolved Crime In Texas Still Is Shadowed By Mystery As Year Goes By

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. — Still shadowed by mystery, the Blanton disappearance case was one year old today.

Officials admitted fate of Luther and John Blanton, father and son who on Nov. 18, 1936, left their farm near San Perlita in Southwest Texas to hunt ducks, remained unknown.

Nevertheless these points stood out currently in efforts to find the key to what apparently was Texas' number one unsolved crime:

1. The famous Texas rangers seemed, for the first time to have a free hand in the investigation.

2. There was widespread agreement the rangers had an able man on the job.

3. The rangers believed the Blantons, last seen by their families walking toward a prohibited state game preserve on the world-renowned former King ranch, were dead.

4. They had definite theories as to who killed them, but did not know where the bodies were and did not have evidence as yet to warrant arrests.

5. The investigation was being pressed as vigorously as ever and Col. H. H. Carmichael, chief of the state public safety department, which includes the rangers, declared it would never be relaxed.

Carmichael, reviewing developments of the year, summed up the situation:

"Yes, I have a theory. Rangers who have done intensive work on the case have theories. The theories are alike as to essentials.

"I believe the Blantons did not leave the country. I think they are dead, that they were murdered. The theories include who did the killings.

"But I do not know where the bodies are, nor do I have suf-

Body Of Missing Man Found In Watery Grave Near Dallas

Texan Admits Slaying Man To Get Auto

Dallas Mechanic And His Wife Arrested; Missing Man Found In Pit With Bullet In Heart

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 18 — Detective Inspector Will Fritz today said the body of Harry Leon Helfman, 32-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., merchant, who had been missing since Monday, had been found in a watery pit with a bullet hole through his heart.

Robert Lacy, 22-year-old automobile mechanic, Fritz said, admitted killing Helfman last Monday during ostensible negotiations to buy Helfman's new $1,100 car.

Two Are Arrested

Lacy and his wife were arrested early today in a tourist camp where officers, Fritz said, spotted Helfman's automobile.

Fritz, leading a squad of five detectives, said the young mechanic led them to the body after they had questioned him for several hours. Previously, the officer said, Lacy steadfastly maintained he knew nothing of Helfman's whereabouts.

Car Figures In Crash

Fritz said Helfman came to Dallas from Brooklyn 60 days ago to set up a small business. He drove down in a new automobile which figured in a crash near Dallas, Fritz said. Helfman took the car to a Dallas garage for repairs, which cost $300.

The Brooklyn merchant, able to pay but half the repair bill, entered into negotiations for the remainder with Lacy, who worked at the garage. For several days, Fritz said, Helfman and Lacy dickered over sale of the car to the mechanic.

Fails To Return

Last Tuesday Isadore Angrist reported to police Helfman had not returned to his residence in Dallas. Shortly afterward police questioned Lacy but obtained no information. The officers returned again to question the mechanic but learned nothing, Fritz said.

When the Helfman automobile was seen at the tourist camp, however, Lacy admitted he slew Helfman last Monday night in a park near Dallas, hauled the body five miles and dumped it into a pit at a municipal sewage treatment plant.

Police took Lacy and his wife to jail for further questioning.

Janitor Gives Tip To Officers Which Results In Arrest Of Kidnapers; One Still Free

(By The Associated Press)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 18. — Heavily guarded, two recaptured members of a gang convicted of the 1933 O'Connell kidnaping, were lodged today in separate cells while state and city officers continued their hunt for the third participant of the jail break.

The pair, John Oley and Harold "Red" Crowley, who said he "liked his freedom like anyone else" were moved yesterday from Syracuse police station to the detention quarters in the Onondaga county court building to await prosecution on escape charges.

Geary Still At Large

The third, Percy Geary, was still at large following his leap from a bathroom window of a Syracuse rooming house where Oley and Crowley meekly surrendered yesterday to officers who were directed there by a janitor—Ivan Whitford.

Whitford earlier had walked into headquarters, drew Patrolman Harold Kelley aside and casually re-

Severe Freeze Is Predicted For Tonight

Flurries Of Snow And Sleet Reported In Panhandle And Colder Readings To Come

A severe freeze for most of this section of Texas was forecast and livestock warnings issued by a government weather man who stuck out his neck long enough this morning to make his prediction then promptly drew it back inside his muffler and turned-up collar.

"Partly cloudy in southwest, rain in southeast, snow in north portion, colder, cold wave and livestock warnings in the north and east portions, with freezing in southeast and severe freeze in north portion tonight; Friday partly cloudy, colder," read the West Texas forecast.

Nasty Weather Ahead

"Nasty weather ahead," came the terse announcement from Municipal airport. Government meteorologists said theer was chill evidence of a "high" rushing to displace a "low" that began at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Eighteen-degree weather may sweep with the expected blue norther.

"Snow is falling nearly everywhere to the north of us," said an airman.

Borometer Is Rising

Six-thirty o'clock weather at the port included a rapidly hising barometer that stood at 29.83 (which is low even for this altitude); temperature of 44 degrees, dew point of 33 degrees, a minimum for the night of 32 degrees, a high of 58 degrees, nine-tenths cloudy skies, ceiling of 4,000 feet, visibility of 10 miles, and a northwest 10 mph wind that bit sharply through rough woolens.

The mercury had climbed one degree from the low, at 10:30 o'clock, "but that evidently is deceptive," said a port attache. Conditions outside and "upstairs" were becoming grayer and more indicative of the rough weather expected.

Snow Rolling In

The wintry wave, which had been ebbing and flowing the past two days, rolled into various sections of the state, sweeping southeastward with rain, snow and sub-freezing temperatures in tow.

Trade Pact By England And U. S. Hinted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—The United States and Great Britain agreed today to negotiate for a reciprocal trade pact, a decision fraught with far-reaching economic and political implications.

It was the first formal step toward an objective long sought by the Roosevelt administration as an indispensable feature of its program for liberalization of world commerce.

Announced By Hull

The decision was announced by Secretary Hull in a statement asserting merely that the United States "contemplates" such negotiations.

Actual start of the negotiations, expected within a few weeks, will climax more than a year of exploratory work by representatives of both governments in London and Washington.

Hull's announcement, released simultaneously with a statement to the British house of commons on the subject, gave no hint of the basis of approach agreed upon nor any details of the long preliminary conversations.

Get Equal Treatment

There appeared good reason to believe, however, that the British government probably consented to consider granting to some American products treatment equal to that which it now accords to goods from the British dominions under "empire preference."

Secretary Hull has striven, since his reciprocal trade program started in 1934, to obtain an agreement with Great Britain in the conviction that closer Anglo-American economic cooperation is essential to any general lowering of world trade barriers.

Apart from the strictly economic aspects, some observers attach potential political significance to the action. They express the view that it would emphasize the close cooperation already evidenced between the two governments at the Brussels far eastern conference and that it would constitute in effect, an answer from the leading exponents of democratic government to the new alliance between Italy, Germany and Japan.

Cowboys Agree That Married Mavericks Over Country Ought To Wear Some Sort Of Brand

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 18. Cowhands from the cattle country—sworn foes of rustlers—agree with the S. F. T. P. O. M. M. P. A. B. that these married mavericks ought to wear a brand.

"Success to you," penned a New Mexico man today to this new born society which aims to let the busy working girl know at a glance at the wedding ring finger if the boy friend is single, or kicking out of the matrimonial corral.

And if putting rings on the married man's finger will keep him on the range, the admirer added "you have a brilliant idea."

Other letters brought the same good wishes.

An unbranded Texas cowboy, a little muddled over the nature of the Society For The Prevention of Married Men Posing As Bachelors, likewise sent along best wishes and allowed he was honing for a brand himself.

"I'm not branded," he wrote Miss Jessye Arnett, one of the founders, "but I would like to be . . . I got a job here but no cook. I'm tired of batching."

This proposal, (rejected) took the founder aback, for, said she, "it looks like they are trying to turn our reform move into a matrimonial agency."

There were other inquiries from men laboring under the delusion the society was a matrimonial agency.

"What," puzzled Miss Arnett, "would you suggest. Should our misunderstood society fade out or broaden the objectives to include easy steps to matrimo-

Prospects For FDR's Program Grow Dim

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Hope of beginning work soon on the president's legislative program cheered congressional leaders today, but they were not optimistic over enacting more than two of his four recommendations at the special session.

Passage of farm legislation—their chief objective—appeared more certain after a willingness to compromise developed in committees.

Chances for the wage-hour bill depended largely on breaking a deadlock in the house rules committee unless a discharge petition, signed by 105 house members, gets 113 more signatures.

Prospects for the other two administration measures—government reorganization and regional planning—were greatly dimmed, leaders conceded, by the time-consuming filibuster in the senate over the anti-lynching bill.

Pressure for tax revision during the short session grew steadily amid evidence of almost unanimous congressional sentiment for modifying the corporate surplus and capital gains levies. But Democratic Leader Barkley of the senate said:

No Chance Is Seen

"I have talked with leaders in the house, and they say there is no chance to get a bill framed in time for action at this session, so there is no use talking about it."

The prospects for enacting the farm bill rose when members of the senate agriculture committee said they probably would complete a "give and take" measure by Monday. Friends of the anti-lynching bill gave public assurance that the agriculture bill would be given right-of-way.

Southern opponents meanwhile continued talking leisurely against the anti-lynching measure. Senator Bailey (D-NC) carried the fight for the opposition today, and many others, including Senator Dixie Bibb Graves (D-Ala), had speeches ready.

Would Pass Eventually

Even foes of the lynching bill forecast it would pass eventually.

While the senate was talking about this issue, the house was hearing miscellaneous speeches. The result was continuation of the do-nothing habits and the Democratic bickering of last session.

The underlying cause was not the president's program, however, as it was during the last session, but the political nature of the anti-lynching bill. Observers said this measure, which has been pending in congress in one form or another for a generation, has more political potentialities than any other current bill.

It always has created a Democratic deadlock, because it is political dynamite in the north, particularly in states where negroes hold the balance of power, and political poison in the south.

Dispute Flares On School Plan

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 18—Parents and educators were divided today over an extensive vocational training program for a greater percentage of the city's 135,000 high school children.

The issue flared into the open shortly after Superintendent William H. Johnson's announcement that a five-year plan, calling for 80 per cent vocational courses on the schools' curricula, would be launched immediately.

Termed "Undemocratic"

Opponents termed the program "undemocratic," "Fascist" and "construction of a political machine."

But Johnson cited lack of correlation between the city's employment needs and the education offered by the schools.

A survey by Maj. Frank L. Beals, an assistant superintendent, showed 60 per cent of the city's employed were engaged in trade and industry, 33 per cent in commercial lines and only 6 per cent in the professions. On the other hand, 84 per cent of high school students were taking college preparatory courses and but 16 per cent were attending vocational schools.

Less Than 10 Per Cent To College

Furthermore, Johnson said, less than 10 per cent of Chicago students attended colleges.

Conversion of present high schools into vocational schools as the need arises and gradual replacement of approximately 50 per cent of academic teachers with trained vocational instructors were chief elements in the Johnson plan.

Big Airliners Are Forecast For Future

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The controversy over the comparative efficiency in trans-oceanic travel of lighter-than-air craft and grant air lanes was reopened today by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

The chamber, in a report to the United States maritime commission, combined a forecast of winged flying boats weighing 300,000 pounds with severe criticism of lighter-than-air ships for passenger, mail and express service over the oceans.

Prediction Is Made

The chamber, trade association of the aircraft manufacturing industry, predicted the "next step" in the construction of sea-spanning flying boats would be a monster plane of 150,000 pounds gross weight with sleeping accommodations for 100 passengers.

The airplane, contended the report, is faster than airships such as the Hindenburg, destroyed by fire at Lakehurst, N. J., last May, is more reliable, more efficient and less expensive to operate, considered on a passenger-mile basis.

The chamber argued further that development of large flying boats was essential to national defense.

It quoted and took issue with Dr Hugo Eckener, the German airship expert, so said last January that wide oceans were "beyond the performance ... ability" for economical airplane transport."

Huge Refinery Is Dedicated

(By The Associated Press)

MOUNT PLEASANT, Nov. 28.—A two-million dollar refinery on a field were a year ago a few weather-beaten bull yearlings prowled among the cotton and corn stalks was dedicated today.

Opening of the Talco Asphalt and Refining company's new plant was witnessed by a crowd of oil men and industrialists who gathered from all parts of Texas. Many came by special train.

Milestone Of Progress

Claude McDonald, mayor and president of the Mount Pleasant Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the new industry to Titus county, urging knowledge and use of home industry in the southwest, and pointing to the huge refining plant as a milestone of progress.

'Less than a year ago, the site of this huge refinery gave employment to possibly three men and two mules, producing a gross revenue that did not exceed three hundred dollars a year," he said.

"Today this plot of ground is occupied by this modern refinery representing an investment of $2,000,000 and giving employment to almost a hundred people. Today this organization has an annual operating payroll of more than $100,000."

The refinery, owned by Capt. J.

Bizarre Death Story Revealed By Slayer

(By The Associated Press)

ST GEORGE, Utah, Nov. 18—Youthful Charles Bosshardt loosed today, in a verbal torrent locked behind tight lips for almost three years, a bizarre account of how he killed a man, then married the victim's widow—who did not know her husband was dead—to atone for his crime.

From a jail cell at Salt Lake City his brother-in-law, 33-year-old George Schaefer, confirmed the story of the killing of Spencer Malan March 17, 1935, in a ranch fight, and of Bosshardt's subsequent marriage to Mrs. Malan, who is Schaefer's sister.

Thought He Deserted Her

And at the ranch scene of the killing near Enterprise, 25 miles northwest of here, Mrs. Bosshardt nervously stroked the hair of her 11-year-old son—Malan's son—and told Sheriff Antone B. Prince she had always believed her first husband, Spencer, had deserted her. "Neither my husband nor my brother ever gave a sign they knew what had happened to Spencer."

Bosshardt, 25, and Schaefer said they threw the body into an old

Local Hunters Are Tracking Wily Bucks

Along the deer hunting front guns roar these chill mornings and send multiple echoes chasing each other in mountain fastnesses here and there in southwest Texas.

Coupled with reports some hunters had good luck, either dropping bucks in Texas right after the season got under way Tuesday or returning home from other states where the season was opened earlier, were stories of other hunting parties leaving.

Return From Arizona

Not waiting for the Texas deer seasodn Mr and Mrs J. D. Jones of 2427 Twentieth street and L. G. Brown of 1219 Sixteenth street have returned from a hunting trip to the mountains near Springerville, Ariz. They bagged a 560-pound bear after tracking it with dogs, brought in two large bucks, but failed to get one of the wild turkeys said to be numerous there.

Dr. Sam G. Dunn and Harold Humphries left Monday night for the Davis mountains near Fort Davis, were on the firing line when the hunting season opened at dawn Tuesday and, within two hours, each had killed a buck.

The shots were fired at the same instant; the bucks weighed the same, and each had the same number or points.

City Of Lubbock To Be Adorned In Colorful Brilliance During Holidays; Plans Are Drafted

Lubbock will be adorned for the Christmas holidays in a colorful brilliance such as has never been seen on the South Plains before.

This was assured at a meeting at the chamber of commerce this morning of 27 prominent business men and women who agreed that ornamentation for the approaching holidays should surpass anything attempted in the past.

To Glitter With Lights

While the general plan is yet to be completed, the Yuletide picture of Lubbock, as sketched at this morning's meeting portrayed a business district glittering with colored lights upon streets and business buildings.

No time is to be lost in perfecting plans, it was decided. President J. D. (Jake) Hassell, jr., of the chamber of commerce, who presided, was authorized to appoint a committee to take charge of arrangements, and immediately named A. I. Glassman, I. A. Stephens and O. J. (Bo) Sexton.

Chairmen Are Named

In addition, he appointed committee chairmen for each business block in the downtown district and they are to contact each business firm in their respective blocks today relative to financing. Contributions toward the street decoration equalling $5 for each 25 front feet of space or less will be asked as a minimum, it was decided.

Decorations thus provided will be merely for streets and sidewalk edges. Tentative plans are to string thousands of ornamental lights across the downtown thoroughfares, to erect a huge and elaborate decorated tree on the courthouse lawn, and probably to decorate other trees in the business district. Several other suggestions designed to enhance the beauty were made, but it will be left to the committee to decide what is done.

Suggestions Are Made

One suggestion was that if the holidays are cold, to sprinkle trees with water and play lights upon the ice. Another was that present street lights be sprayed with washable paint of various pastel shales. That can be done, the committee was informed, with the loss of only

Larger Crops In Texas Forecast

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 18—Slightly larger cotton, pecan and citrus crops for Texas than were indicated a month ago has been forecast by the U. S. department of agriculture.

The crop reporting board, however, said perliminary November estimates showed small reductions in corn, grain sorghum, peanuts and sweet potatoes.

Per Acre Yield Up

Prospective crop yields per acre were reported considerably above the relatively low yields of 1936, but grain and field crop yields were somewhat below averages for the period 1923-32.

The Texas cotton crop was estimated at 5,050,000 bales, based on Nov. 1 indications, representing a 1-2 of 1 per cent increase over October estimates.

Corn Figure Lowered

Corn production was predicted at 72,048,000 bushels, a decline of 2.5 per cent from earlier forecast. Yield, however, was placed at 5 per cent larger than last year.

The board said harvesting was revealing a larger crop of pecans than indicated earlier. Total yield was placed at 27,360,000 pounds as compared to the 10,400,000 of last year and 24,360,000 average for 1928-32.

Citrus production was forecast at 8,400,000 boxes, a slight increase over previous predictions. It compared with 9,231,000 boxes in 1936.

Old Santa Better Watch Step When Visiting The Dionnes

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—There are some Santa Claus skeptics among the Dionne quintuplets now, so this year Santa had better watch his step.

Dr. Allan R. Dafoe said today he believed one or two of the sisters "have a little doubt" about Santa, because last Christmas they pulled off his whiskers, and thought they recognized him.

"Oh no, they still believe in Santa," said one of the "advisers" usually present at an interview about the quintuplets. Dr. Dafoe didn't say anything more, after that.

Anyway, big plans for Christmas are underway in quintland—not the least of them the dinner for Mama and Papa Dionne and their eleven children, to be served at the five sisters' nursery.

Dr. Dafoe, here for a few days' vacation, also said the quintuplets:

Have a half million dollars in liquid assets.

Duke And Duchess Approve Of Colors For Formal Clothes

PARIS, Nov. 18. (AP) — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, two of the world's fashion setters, approved today of men's formal evening clothes in colors—especially blue.

"We have hunting jackets in bright red color — why not dress with a little color in the evening?" the duke asked, admiring a display of new styles during a three-hour visit the couple paid to the Paris exposition.

Likes Blue One

"I like the blue one particularly," the duchess declared.

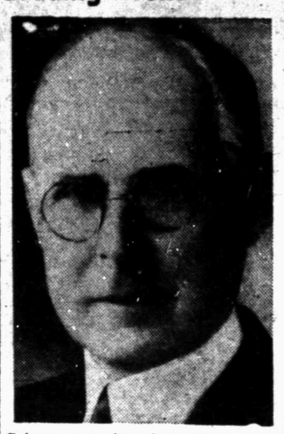

"I am going to hold the duchess to that," Edward answered enthusiastically.

Later, at the new museum of masterpieces of French art, the former monarch, a connoisseur of art, did more talking than listening.

"That picture," he said, pointing to a landscape, "we tried to buy from you several years ago. I was a trustee for the National (British) Gallery."

He paused a moment, then added, "but then I became king."

Leading "Tone"

Science won its place with art in the Tone family of Niagara Falls when Dr. Frank J. Tone, of Buffalo, above, was awarded the 1938 Perkin medal for "valuable work in applied chemistry." Dr. Tone's contribution to the arts is his son, Franchot, film player husband of Joan Crawford.

Unusual Libel Action On File In Court; United States Is Suing A Pint Of Oysters

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18. (AP)—"The United States of America versus 328 pints of oysters, more or less."

On file in federal court today was this unusual libel action brought by U. S. District Attorney Charles F. Uhl.

The government charged the oysters with being "adulterated" with water, to "reduce or lower its quality or strength," in violation of the pure food and drug act.

Unless counsel appears for the oysters to answer, they will be destroyed.

Bride To Aid Her Husband

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 18.—A 19-year-old bride of less than two weeks announced today she loyally will defend her husband when the state accuses him and two companions of the abduction-death of Dr. James I. Seder, 79, retired Lutheran minister, before the grand jury Friday.

She is Verla "Sonny" Travis, who said she married John Travis, 25, one of the trio accused, on November 5, five days after Dr. Seder disappeared.

"I love him," she said of her husband, "people have said I could divorce him and go my way. I'm not that kind. I'll stand by him. I want to sit with him in court."

The state will present charges of kidnaping and murder against Travis and two companions, Arnett A. Booth, 46, and Orville Adkins, 24, at a special venire Friday.

Prosecutor E. E. Winters said the men would be tried under the state's kidnaping law. He said the death penalty would be asked.

Dr. Seder, former head of the state anti-saloon league, was found wandering about a Wayne county hillside last Thursday after being held captive for days in an abandoned mine. He died Monday.

HE COULD LAY HIS HANDS ON A MILLION DOLLARS, but this man's task was to load these gold-laden casks, part of a $10,500,000 shipment, aboard the Normandie as it prepared to sail from the U. Former Ship's Mess Boy Tells Government He Now Is Broke

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18 (AP)—A former ship's mess boy, Alejandro Vega, who won $150,000 on a horse race, tells the federal government he is penniless.

One horse, a horse he knew nothing about, a horse he drew in the spin of a giant disc on the drawing in an Irish sweepstakes, brought him wealth, affluence.

Other horses he thought he knew something about, he says, took all the money he won.

The government doubts his story. The government is suing him for unpaid income tax. It wants $106,351 in taxes and penalties.

Telegrams Of Invitation To State Meeting Are Sent

Telegrams asking that Lubbock be chosen as host city to the 1938 session of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers were sent to Beaumont late Wednesday from seven Lubbock organizations and persons. The Congress is meeting in Beaumont.

Representing Lubbock at Beaumont are Mrs. H. F. Godeke, a vice-president and state parliamentarian; Mrs. S. B. Haynes, president of the local PTA council; and W. B. Irvin, superintendent of public schools here.

One of the telegrams bore the signatures of Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, and American Business clubs. Another was signed by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college; and others were from the chamber of commerce and the Retail Merchants association.

Selection of the 1938 convention's host city will be made by an executive committee today. Dallas also has placed a bid for the next annual session.

During the current season the billionth ton of iron ore was dug from the Mesaba iron district in Minnesota, and it is estimated that more than a billion tons still remain in that deposit.

FELT LIKE SHE WOULD DOUBLE UP WITH PAIN

Had Awful Attacks Of Gaseous Indigestion And Miserable Cramps Due To Gas; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Her And She Feels Fine

Thousands in this city and section say: "VAN-TAGE gave them relief. I never saw anything act like it does!" This is the Amazing Compound of Natural Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents now being introduced in this city at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. Widely-Known people throughout this entire vicinity are publicly endorsing this Great Medicine. For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. Emma Gresham, of 118 W. 7th St., Dallas, Texas, stated:

MRS. EMMA GRESHAM

Had Regular Attacks Of Nervous Indigestion

"I had regular ATTACKS of what I would call 'nervous' indigestion after meals, caused by an acid, gassy condition of my stomach. I would have severe pains and sometimes I had spells of cramping so bad I felt like I was going to double up into a knot! The papers had been full of statements from people about the relief they got by taking Van-Tage, so I decided to try it, and it seemed to start clearing the gas and acid from my stomach in no time at all, and the first thing I knew I was beginning to eat big meals and enjoy them, and the terrible gas pains and cramping spells were relieved. I am so well pleased with Van-Tage that I urge everyone who suffers with troubles like mine to get this medicine and start taking it."

Is Like Taking Several Medicines At Once

VAN-TAGE contains over 20 Ingredients. So it is like taking several medicines at once. Brings forth gas and bloat, helps cleanse bowels, and invigorates sluggish kidneys, so that people declare it made them feel different ALL OVER. And—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So, get it—TODAY—at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. —Adv.

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1937

Amarillo And Borger Meet On Saturday

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 18 — Two games with all the chips down, one deep in the East Texas oil field and the other in the Panhandle, stand out in a comparatively light weekend of only 38 games in the schoolboy grid league.

Trying for its fourth straight state title, Amarillo's Golden Sandies tackle on their home lot Saturday, a Borger team that is tied with them for the district 1 lead. Beaten only once, Amarillo faces a Borger crew that has won three, lost three and tied one, but scored in all.

Longview Meets Marshall

At Marshall, on Friday, the Longview Loboes, East Texas' powerful undefeated team with it's dandy Dick Miller, prancing ball carrier attempt to clear another hurdle in their district 9 race. Marshall, tied with the Loboes for the district lead, has shown offensive strength that could provide an upset.

Other choice tidbit games in the 16-district league have been held over until Thanksgiving day, but seven more Friday games could alter standings.

Unbeaten Abilene, leader of district 3, travels to Big Spring to meet a club that has won only two games and dropped five. Sherman, heading the district five parade, stays at home to meet the challenge of an inferior Paris eleven and Vernon, the district 2 pace setter ranked a favorite over Wichita Falls in their meeting on the latter's field.

Title Is At Stake

At Dallas, the city and district eight title was at stake when Woodrow Wilson, only slightly favored, clashed with North Dallas. Lufkin, power of the district 10 battle had Jacksonville, with two wins and three losses on its books in a home game.

A smashing Conroe team, unbeaten and untied, prepared to defend its district 13 lead against the invasion of John Reagan of Houston, while Jeff Davis and San Jacinto, two Houston teams deadlocked for second place and still in the race, clashed at Houston.

Beaumont, tied with the disputed Port Arthur Yellowjackets in district 14, had a rough assignment in Ball High of Galveston, a team that lost its first game to Port Arthur last week.

Golf Duffers Given Break

The "forgotten man" of golf won't be forgotten at Lubbock Country club in a series of team matches scheduled to start Sunday.

The "expert" class will be barred from this tournament; the duffers get a break. First and most important rule of the event is: No player who shoots under 90 eligible.

All members who "play for the fun of it," and who have not crashed in to the "eighties" are eligibles, and urged to compete.

Captains have been appointed and they will "choose sides" for the three matches. The matches will be in two-somes, the first to be played Sunday. Pairings will be changed for each of the three events. At the end of the three matches, the losing side pays for the barbecue dinner.

Captain of the "Blues" is E. L. Klett. Hubert Allen is to direct the "Reds" as captain. They will divide the membership roster, listing only those players who shoot 90 or over.

Akey will meet with Captains Klett and Allen later this week to arrange the pairings. All golfers of the club are eligible—if they can't break 90.

It has been determined that the Bible now has been translated, in whole or in part, into 991 languages and dialects.

Detroit Pilot!

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18. (AP)—The San Francisco Examiner said today it had learned Del Baker would be named manager of the Detroit Tigers this season and Manager Mickey Cochrane would be given an executive position.

Notre Dame's System Best For Defense

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—When you speak of the Notre Dame system, you speak generally, of offensive football.

Yet of the ten top teams in this week's national ranking, the four with the best defensive records are coached by disciples of the late Knute Rockne.

Villanova Is First

Last in the first ten, Villanova, coached by Maurice "Little Clipper" Smith is No. 1 on defensive performance with only seven points scored against it in seven games. Fordham and Santa Clara, coached by Jim Crowley and Buck Shaw, and fourth and sixth in the nation, are tied for second defensively, with nine opponents' points each. Alabama, under the tutelage of Frank Thomas and third in the rankings, come next on the defense list, although having held eight rivals to 13 points.

At the other extreme of defensive play is Minnesota. The Gophers have given up 44 opponents' points and have been scored on by five of their own rivals, including North Dakota state.

Between them and the four leaders are Dartmouth and California, nicked for 33 each. Pitt, with 27 points, all in the last three games, on the debit side. Yale, which has given up 23 to Army, Dartmouth and Penn, and Louisiana State.

NCAA Has Won Its Fight For Control Of Olympic Units

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association has won in its fight for control of several Olympic game sport committees.

For years the Amateur Athletic union has had the upper hand.

A compromise adopted yesterday at the meeting of the American Olympic association gave the N. C. A. A. equal representation with the A. A. U. on committees in charge of men's track and field, boxing, men's swimming, wrestling, men's gymnastic, basketball, field handball and ice hockey.

Avery Brundage of Chicago was reelected president.

California Not Thinking Of Opponent For Rose Bowl

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 18 (AP)—University of California, favorite to defeat Stanford Saturday and thereby win the coast conference football championship and the Rose bowl bid, hasn't given an official thought, as to an opponent in the New Year's day game at Pasadena, Graduate Manager Kenneth Priestley said today.

"First we must win from Stanford," he added.

SHAME ON YOU, ALEX

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Don't look now, but Alex Wojciechowicz, Fordham's candidate for All-America center is an ardent devotee of tisk, tisk crocheting. He learned it years back and his latest creation is a maroon block "F" on a white field (for Fordham, no doubt.)

Local Coaches Are Worried Over Battle

Texas Tech's Red Raider gridsters are winding up practice this afternoon for one of their most important games of the season—Saturday's contest at Shreveport against the Centenary college Gentlemen.

The squad takes off tonight for its fifth cross country pilgrimage of the season, its fourth invasion of other states, and its last road trip of the season. And they are going south for what very likely will be one of the toughest—if not THE toughest—games on the entire 1937 schedule.

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith are frankly worried over the prospects, and possibly for good reason. While the club has put a lot of zest into practice sessions this week, it has not approached the "steamed up" attitude that has preceded other important games. Coaches fear a let down at Shreveport, possibly another "Detroit" game. Players themselves are definitely against any such idea.

Injuries Hurt Team

The team's cripples is another source of worry for the coaches. Pete Owens, sturdy senior guard and a most important cog in the Tech machine, offensively and defensively, was in uniform yesterday but not in practice. He was limping around the field, and prospects for his even making the trip were dim last night. He has a badly injured leg, and even if he goes along, he probably will not enter the game.

The other injured parties were taking their turns yesterday, but visibly slowed up. Charley Calhoun, recovering from a groin injury, is not at his best. Wee Bobby Holmes, jackrabbit runner and important as a passer and kicker, favors an injured hand. The member will be useless as a chunker of passes. They were trying to get him in the open to receive passes yesterday. Leonard Latch still has a badly swollen hand, result of a fracture received at Detroit, but was able to work out.

Tech's fine running attack, sparked by Holmes and backed up by Calhoun, will suffer terribly if this duet is not permitted to play Saturday. The punting and passing effectiveness also will be spiked. Calhoun has developed into one of the best punters of recent Tech history, and his line-ramming qualities make him all but invaluable.

Scrimmage Freshmen

In yesterday's workout, next to the last before the team takes off, the Raiders worked on a passing offense, then stood against Berl Huffman's freshmen who were armed to the teeth with Centenary plays.

With each freshman representing a Centenary player, the Picadors charged against the more or less flexible varsity lines with a hard running and passing attack featuring Centenary's popular "double shift." It is a tricky formation, usually resulting in a short punt setup from which any number of deceptive plays are run.

Coach Curtis Parker of Centenary has eleven lettermen off the 1936 squad which lost to Tech here last year by a touchdown. Of these, Tech holds wholesome fear of W. H. "Grandma" Stone, galloping punting and passing star of the Gent backfield, easily the hardest running back Centenary has, extremely elusive with his 170 pounds in a broken field and a quick kicker.

Face Versatile Backs

Probably no less important to Centenary's backfield are Al Beasley, 155-pound halfback noted for his rifle passes and off-tackle drives. Known to his team mates as "Powerhouse Al," Beasley is a great battler. He is a senior, as is Stone, and Lanford Huddleston, another middleweight who lettered as a sophomore last year and who has been carrying a lot of mail for the Gents this season. He is known as the "Little Iron Man" of the club, with speed, versatility and a lot of natural ability. He is a triple threater, as are Stone and Beasley, and is as likely to pass the agate as he is to run with it.

It is indeed a tough assignment facing the Red Raiders this weekend. Riding the crest of a five-game winning streak and in a position to be knocked off by a team they'll catch on the rebound, the Techs must do a lot of neck-bowing and rugged scrapping to stand off the Gents, who'll be "set" for the invasion.

The student body and townsfolk are invited to be on hand to bid the Raiders good luck and farewell at the Santa Fe station tonight at 9:30 o'clock. Director D. O. Wiley and the Matador band will furnish music, and cheering units will lead the "rah rah's."

Manpower? Tech's Got It

By Collier Parris

TEXAS TECH trying to get in the Southwest conference? Heck, Elmer, we're already in it!

At least Captain Red Ramsey is.

Our good friend, Weldon Hart, sports editor of the Austin Statesman, called upon by NEA service of Cleveland, to which this newspaper subscribes, to name an All-Southwest football team for 1937 does not hesitate to put down Red Ramsey of Tech for one of the terminal posts.

Ramsey rates over Baylor's great Sam Boyd and Rice's fine Nance. Benton of Arkansas is listed with Ramsey as ends on the first team. Boyd of Baylor and Hamilton of Arkansas are placed by Hart on the second team.

Ramsey is the only non-Southwest conference player listed on either first or second team. You'll probably see more of the selection but Hart's first team consists of Benton and Ramsey at ends, Hale of T. C. U. and Young of the Aggies at tackles; Routt and Jones of the Aggies at guards, Aldrich of T. C. U. at center, O'Brien of T. C. U. at quarter, Baylor's Bill Patterson and Texas' Hugh Wolfe at halfbacks and Lain of Rice at full.

And that'll be the send-off for the Red Raiders as they grab the rattler and head south for Shreveport tonight. They play Centenary's Gents there Saturday. Ramsey and his mates can do a lot about getting Ramsey on other all-star selections Saturday afternoon.

We're still not changing the prediction—but there's another day. We haven't been impressed by Tech's workouts this week. They haven't had the old pepper. And they have Calhoun, Holmes, Pete Owens and Leonard Latch nursing injuries. The first three are key men in Tech's offense and defense.

FRESHMEN TO SHOW STUFF HERE FRIDAY

There'll be a game at Tech Stadium tomorrow afternoon that ought to interest every Tech football fan. Coach Berl Huffman's frosh, undoubtedly one of the finest looking fish teams Tech ever had, are playing the yearlings of West Texas State.

There's rivalry in that game. The sparks may fly high before the issue is settled tomorrow afternoon, although we wouldn't give you much for the chances of the Canyon team.

We're staying shy of going wild about these freshmen—until they turn up for varsity duty next season. We have been fooled too many times by the flowers that bloom as freshmen, then fade out completely before another season rolls around. This time, however, we believe the majority of stars on that fish squad will stay put. They're a fine-looking outfit, no foolin'.

You'll see plenty of speed and color and dash when the fish take the field Friday afternoon. The game, by the way, begins at 3 o'clock, instead of 2:30 or 3:30.

LOOKING AHEAD, with the Tech freshman and varsity rosters before us, we can see something pretty potent in the way of a Red Raider football club for 1938.

We can see, for instance, a line averaging 210 pounds, a backfield averaging 192 pounds—a lineup averaging 204 pounds!

Texas Tech can put a team weighing that much figuring that the boys there now will be back next year on the field against all comers. Manpower? Tech will have it.

How do we get that way?

Start with the backfield. Tech will have Bobby Holmes, Charley Calhoun and Elmer Tarbox back next year. They're fine boys, and they'll probably do a lot of work together. But they don't weigh much, altogether. If it's weight you want, take this backfield lineup: C. L. Sterrs of Lubbock, 199; Charles Dvoracek of West, 193; Walter Ranking of Colorado, 192—provided he is released from his current farm duties and returns—and Calhoun, 185. That amounts to nearly 770 pounds—769 to be exact, according to present weights—in the backfield.

For our heavyweight line—and it's quite possible that this will be the lineup—take Thurman Boetis, off this year's varsity, 205 pounds and Kenneth Madry, a sophomore now, whose eligibility is being "saved" at 194 at ends, for tackles take Grapevine Bill Davis, at 235, and Durward Herring of Mineral Wells or Robert Bryant of Olton, either at 215 pounds—and if you want to increase weight here, and name a possible starter and regular, put down Bull Russell of Robstown at 235 pounds, for guards, take Holt Waldrep, a varsity first reserve, at 192 now, and Dixie White, at 186, who plays with Waldrep, or for a sophomore guard next year, take Charles Mathis of Sayre, Okla., at 186, and at center, Rafe Nabors, at 240, has the call over the field.

These weights, of course, are subject to change. In most cases, they'll be higher next year, because on the freshman squad are several youngsters who will grow. A few of the older boys will lose a pound or two, depending on their summer's occupations, but the actual weights by next fall will be a bit higher than those submitted above.

A heavy, beefy footballer will lose from ten to 20 pounds in the course of a single game, or a hard workout.

Take the sad case of Rafe Nabors, Lubbock High center a year ago who is bound to be a regular at Tech. The freshmen scrimmaged a team of ineligibles and holdovers the other day, the latter making up one of the toughest clubs you ever saw on a gridiron. At the end of the scrimmage, lasting the full time of a regulation game, Nabors came in perspiring. Stripped, he jumped on the scales. "Great Criminy For Goodness Sake," he said, "I just weigh 238 pounds!"

Louis Anxious To Get Back In The Ring

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Joe Louis is itching to pull on his ring togs, after a layoff of ten weeks, just to get the feel of boxing again.

The heavyweight champion said so today, but he won't have his craving satisfied until Monday when he starts a ten day span of gymnasium work. Louis will not fight until next February when he expects to make a defense of his title against a challenger in New York, but he is anxious to sharpen his punching eye, after being idle since defeating Tommy Farr in their fifteen round bout Aug. 30.

Scales 210 Pounds

The titleholders said he believed. He scaled around 210 pounds at present which is ten pounds above his normal boxing weight.

Louis leaves this afternoon for Detroit to spend the weekend. The champion said he positively would do no boxing until after Thanksgiving when he plans to stuff himself as full as a billygoat, with turkey, dressing and all the trimmings. he might top off the meal with a little fried chicken, his favorite dish.

"That's one day I'm going to eat my head off," Louis mumbled.

Opposition Aerial Circus Is Being Promised For S. M. U.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18 (AP)—Word leaked out of U. C. L. A. today that Southern Methodist will encounter an opposition aerial circus in the coliseum Saturday.

Coach Bill Spaulding's Bruins have been holding secret practice all week and hope to avenge a defeat handed out by S. M. U. two years ago.

HAVE THEIR NICKNAMES

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—New York university teammates of Bernie Bloom, the Violets' ace passer, took one look at his out-size feet and immediately tagged him with the nickname "Shoebox." Captain Andy Barberi is known among the footballers as Butch; Ed Williams, the negro fullback, line-cracker answers to "Big Apple."

WINNER IS LOSER

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP)—J. Bilderback, 25, won a wager on his prowess as a motorcycle rider, but didn't come out ahead.

He rode a motorcycle at high speed across the courthouse square while standing on the seat.

A fine of $10 and costs for reckless driving took away his winnings.

Great Joy For Sport Writer Knocked Out

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—One of the supreme joys of sports writing has been kicked out of bounds. No longer will scribblers be permitted to smirk and roar over the weekly goings-on of the New York state athletic commission.

All of us felt like the kid who was told he couldn't eat ice cream any more when the commission announced henceforth all its meetings would be closed to the press.

Are Always Funny

The commission's meetings, starring General John J. Phelan, Bill Brown and Colonel D. Walker Wear, always is funny because it's a gathering of three truly honest but easily rattled gentlemen with boxers, wrestlers, managers and promoters who are past masters in the art of phenagling and skullduggery.

There's no question of the commissioners' honesty because they make so many mistakes and because all are well-to-do business men.

General Phelan, the chairman, is an elderly brassiere manufacturer. Commissioner Brown, an excitable red-faced health resort owner, can't stomach criticism. Colonel Wear, wealthy manufacturer from Binghamton, is the quietest and most conservative.

Is Great Attraction

Greatest of the attractions is the general, who to this day denies a story that when his World war division landed in France he got so mixed up that he yelled "squads right" and almost marched them into the Atlantic ocean.

There are a thousand funny stories about the general, who not only murders the king's English but has no regard for punctuation.

The general's most noted slip came one night last week when Freddie Steele, middleweight champion, asked postponement of his fight with Fred Apostoli. Matchmaker Al Weill of the Hippodrome was present. After Steele had finished and a postponement was suggested, the general said a bit grandly:

"Is it all right with you, Commissioner Brown, and with you, Commissioner Weill?"

Another Winter Tourney For Nation's Golfers Launched

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 18. (AP)—Another winter tournament swing for golf's gold-seekers was under way today with the start of the 36-hole Mid-South Open.

Upward of 90 golfers including many topnotchers were entered in the two-day event.

Babe Didrickson was among the competitors.

Horton Smith and Jimmy Thompson tied with Tony Manero and Mike Turnesa yesterday in the preliminary tournament.

ALL FIGURED OUT

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 18. (AP)—Those three "shave-less" sophomores of Marquette's football squad—Bill Burke, Dave Braden and Dan Koster—have it all figured out how they can give the campus barbers some business without going back on their vow. They pledged themselves to go without shaves until the Golden Avalanche wins a major game. Since Duquesne is heavily favored in the regular season finale Saturday, the three sophs figure on interesting authorities in a post season popover in the hope of getting shaves before Christmas.

CORNERING THE MARKET

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 18. (AP)—This White family is cornering the market on individual point production this season. There's Byron (Whizzer) White at Colorado, here, who has piled up an even 100 points so far, and leads the nation. While back at Brooklyn college, Sid, of the White clan (and somewhat of a Whizzer himself), has chalked up 93 points to date, and is second in the country.

Lake Chad is the largest in the world, being 50,000 square miles in area.

Smoothly-Geared Halfback Combination One Reason For Great Power Of Pitt

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18 (AP)—A smoothly-geared halfback combination, the usual thing at Pitt, is one of the reasons the undefeated Panther is up there again with the nation's great football teams.

This year's "touchdown twins" are Marshall (Biggie) Goldberg and Harold (Curly) Stebbins.

While there was nothing but dignified silence among Pitt athletic bosses today over rumors from California that Pitt would not be invited to the next Rose bowl game, the usually mum Dr. John Bain Sutherland turned to thoughts of "the boys" who have won 101 games for him during his career as Panther coach.

The reminiscing Scot said:

"Goldberg and Stebbins make up the finest halfback combination since I began coaching at Pitt."

This year's "twins" have between them netted nearly half the power-gained yardage of the Pitt team. Biggie carried the ball 90 times for 567 yards and Curly 123 times for 429 yards.

There will be some consolation for Pitt opponents in the fact that Dr. Sutherland loses nearly all of his first string team through graduation this year, but there probably will be others just as hefty to replace them.

And Goldberg and Stebbins will be back.

Country Club Out $4,000 For Damage By Gallery At Montague-Ruth Golf Joust

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—It cost the Fresh Meadow country club at Flushing $4,000 to repair the damage done by the John Montague-Babe Ruth golf match gallery . . . Marshall Goldberg has replaced Gibby Welch as Coach Doc Sutherland's favorite football player of all time . . . The Anti-Nazi society is warming up to blast the Max Schmeling-Harry Thomas fight at the Garden December 13 . . . What Max can't understand is why the nazi-haters didn't go to work on Baron Gottfried Von Cramm when he was playing all that tennis at Forest Hills a couple of months back.

Cubs, Giants, Cards and Pirates all are bidding for Van Mungo, with the Cubs having the inside track . . . No wonder they call the Duquesne football team the Night Riders . . . Only games they've won this year have been under the lights.

Here's a real golf story: Myron B. Thurrell, Torrington (Conn.) high school teacher, stood on the fifth tee at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month and fired away with a No. 4 iron . . . The ball landed in the cup, 175 yards away . . . Washington and Lee lost no time knocking down our yarn that Yale's Greasy Neale is in line for head coach . . . (We don't blame them if the announcement was a bit premature) . . . But brothers, we didn't reach up and pluck that story out of the ozone.

Huge Bankrolls Will Flash As Managers Seek New Players

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—Baseball's big league managers are dusting off old but "swap-able" ivory and bringing bankrolls into the open for what may be the biggest buying and trading session in years.

Every pilot, from Joe McCarthy of the Yankees on down the line in both leagues, is hoping Santa Claus is good to him. When they spring the barrier on the minor league meetings in Milwaukee on December 1, and follow along with the major league conclave in Chicago, the buying and selling is going to resemble the stock exchange floor on a big day.

All Need Improving

There isn't a team that couldn't stand improvement. McCarthy, despite his world champion wallopers, could find a lot of use for another starting pitcher, and an infielder, in the event the Yanks sour on Joe (Flash) Gordon as second-base successor to Tony Lazzeri.

The Yanks' neighborhood rivals and World series opponents, the National league pennant winning Giants, have an eye out for at least one pitcher to back up Hubbell, Melton, Castleman, et al, and definitely need punch in spots, particularly those spots at first base and center field.

Wants Third-Sacker

Jimmy Dykes has shouted his need for a third-sacker, and it doesn't require a psychic hot-stover, to see that his Chicago White Sox can't go on forever with their old-man pitching corps.

If the Chicago Cubs can get Van Lingle Mungo from the Dodgers, their only worry will be the outfield, or an outfielder. But Brooklyn, believing the Mungo market has dropped because of temperamental Van's dismal season, may hold off on any deal involving him.

Similar needs for talent were seen in a survey of the other big league clubs.

The Atlantic ocean, with its 34,801,400 square miles of area, is the second largest body of water in the world.

Annual Parley Closed Here

Nomination of Marion Sanford, Lubbock insurance man, to succeed S. S. Sloneker of Plainview as regional vice president of Texas Association of Insurance Agents was a feature of the annual regional conference which closed at Hilton hotel late Wednesday.

While the nomination must be confirmed by the state association at its convention next May in a city yet to be selected, that was described as a matter of routine. Sanford is secretary of Lubbock Fire Insurance exchange.

Fifty Are In Attendance

Among the approximately 50 persons in attendance here from Lubbock, Austin, Fort Worth, Dallas, Amarillo and eight other South Plains towns were several representatives of the state insurance commission at Austin, including Commissioners Marvin Hall and R. G. Waters. Also registered was D. G. Foreman of Fort Worth, executive secretary of the state association.

Hall, who is fire insurance commissioner, made the meeting the occasion for the announcement that fire losses in Texas for the first six months of 1937 were the lowest for any corresponding period in more than 20 years, and for statements highly praising the efficiency of Lubbock fire department. Hall, because of his position, is ex-officio state fire marshal.

Warns Against Increased Costs

Waters, who is casualty insurance commissioner, warned that traffic accidents must be reduced or that increases in costs of property and personal liability insurance for automobiles will become inevitable. He said further that the places where most automobile accidents occur is shifting from the cities to the rural districts.

Hall explained that Texas is perhaps the only state, and certainly one of the very few, which has a system of fire insurance rates which permits credits to cities for excellence of fire equipment and fire department. Under the Texas system, he said, a penalty of as much as 15 per cent may be charged the city or town deficient in equipment, or a credit of 25 per cent may be allowed for excellence. Lubbock, he added, had a 20 per cent credit. Credit for that showing he gave to Lubbock's vigorous cleanup and fire prevention drives, with specific mention of Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and City Fire Marshal Cecil Casey.

Incendiarism Still Problem

He declared also that although fires of suspected incendiary origin are less of a problem than a few years ago, they still are a problem. Thorough investigation of all fires and vigorous prosecution of persons charged with arson, he said, is bringing about a solution of that evil.

With the commissioners here for the meeting were C. N. Chapman, actuary of the fire insurance division; Alvin Reagan, automobile division; and R. B. Cousins, jr., checking officer in the department.

The complete list of those registered for the conference follows:

S. S. Sloneker, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Perry, R. I. Silverthorne and Lawrence Ludeman of Plainview; M. S. Hargrave of Ralls; C. C. Gorsuch and C. L. Crum of Dallas; H. E. Richter of Abernathy; W. A. Cox of Seminole; M. A. Pember and J. H. Brewer of Slaton; H. A. Bragg of Amarillo; J. W. Keithley and Wylie W. Cox of Littlefield; O'Bera Forrester and Mrs. R. C. Fansley of Tahoka; B. N. Graham of Farwell; John Nabors, J. S. Raines, C. N. Chapman, R. B. Cousins, Marvin Hall, Alvin Reagon and R. G. Waters, of Austin; D. G. Foreman of Fort Worth; and Glen Hess, Thord Dockray, Marion Sanford; G. R. Kennedy, Jeff P. Watson, T. A. Atkinson, J. E. Maisen, Mrs. C. A. Burrus, Mrs. R. H. McPhail, L. D. Casey, L. G. Davis, Bush Smith, S. J. McFarland, D. K. Bondurant and Chas. H. Read, all of Lubbock.

Five Years Imprisonment Is Given Man After Slaying

KERMIT, Nov. 18. (AP)—Five years' imprisonment was the punishment assessed V. C. Newchurch, 59-year-old Wink barber, by a jury which convicted him of murder of his son-in-law, E. L. Crouse, 46. The defendant indicated he would appeal.

Crouse was shot to death a week after his marriage to Newchurch's 16-year-old daughter. The defense pleaded temporary insanity and claimed Newchurch killed Crouse in defense of his home.

An infant born in Melbourne, Australia, in 1935, is said to be the biggest new-born baby in the world. Weighing 15 1-4 pounds at birth, he measured 24 1-2 inches in length and 16 3-4 inches around the chest.

Plaque To Her Grandfather Is Unveiled By Virginia Knapp

A plaque dedicating an arch of the department of agriculture building to Seaman A. Knapp was unveiled by Miss Virginia Estella Knapp, Wednesday in Washington, the Associated Press reported.

Miss Knapp, daughter of the president of Texas Technological college, was a granddaughter of Seaman A. Knapp, who was long a member of the agriculture department and was known as the father of extension work in agricultural colleges, of the 4-H club movement, and other farm services.

Her father, Dr. Bradford Knapp, and an uncle, S. Arthur Knapp, banker of Lake Charles, La., also were present at the ceremonies.

Dr. Bradford Knapp conferred with the Reconstruction Finance corporation on possibility of securing $700,000 loan for two dormitories at the college here. He said nothing could be done, however, until he returned to Lubbock to discuss collateral with the board of directors, the Associated Press reported.

Thanksgiving Turkey Dinner Served Week Early As Bird Escapes And Is Shot Down

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18. (AP)—The Thanksgiving turkey dinner at the home of Mrs. Mary Stewart will be served a week early.

The gobbler bought for the feast escaped from the Stewart basement and fled to a tree top roost from which it was shot down by an obliging policeman.

"We'll eat it tomorrow," Mrs. Stewart told the officer.

Automobile deaths in 122 major cities of the United States during the first 8 1-2 months of 1937 totaled 6,265, an increase of 12 per cent over the corresponding period of 1936.

Erection Of Permanent Double T Being Sought For Tech

Erection of a permanent "double T" similar to one erected recently for Homecoming festivities was asked in an editorial in Wednesday's issue of the Toreador, semi-weekly newspaper of Texas Technological college.

The editorial suggested that the "double T", symbol of Texas Tech, be erected at the entrance to the campus and, lighted at night, serve as a reminder to travelers that they are passing Texas Tech. It also could be seen from downtown Lubbock as was the temporary, red-lighted symbol.

The editorial also calls attention to a recent suggestion made by Charles A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications, that the lighted "double T" be a gift from the senior class this year.

Nancy Johnson, wife of a young U. S. naval officer, is credited with the invention of the ice cream freezer.

The first steel pipe was made in 1815 by screwing together old musket barrels. Now 8,500,000 tons of pipe can be made in the United States in one year.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ALL right. Here's a way to end the day wrong! Just try these over on your think-tank. Correct answers are down at the bottom of the column:

1. True or false:

a. An eclipse of the sun occurs when the sun passes between the moon and the earth.

b. Lamaism, a form of Buddhism, is the religion of many people in Tibet.

c. Mark Twain's real name was Samuel Clemens.

d. In 1923 Warren G. Harding succeeded to the presidency upon the death of Calvin Coolidge.

e. Swing-time music is polyphonic jazz.

2. Give two meanings of each of the following words:

3. If you know the states and their capitals, you'll see some errors here.

Springfield, Indiana.
Phoenix, New Mexico.
Pierre, North Dakota.
Madison, Minnesota.
Concord, New Hampshire.

4. Watch out for this: How many days apart are Sunday and Thursday?

DR. J. T. Krueger, just back from Rochester, Minn., tells The Plainsman that every visit to the rightly famed Mayo Brothers clinic sends him home all pepped up with new ideas and rearin' to do bigger and better things in his profession. That is especially interesting and thought-provoking since, as all and sundry know, Doctor Krueger has been doing big things for so many years now that he is not expected to do anything else.

The moral in the good surgeon's remarks is, of course, that it's a good thing for all of us, no matter what field we may be in, to get away every once-in-a-while and see what other people are doing. Especially is it good for us to see what the acknowledged leaders of our individual fields are doing and to learn what they are thinking.

The rule holds good whether the fact-seeking individual happens to be a doctor, a lawyer, an editor, a grocer, a plumber, a barber, or whatnot. All of us can learn from the successful, other fellow.

It would be interesting to know just how much money Lubbock men spend in traveling to conferences, clinics, conventions, factories and sales meetings every year in an effort to do bigger and better things at home.

The total expenditure probably would be surprising.

H. T. Coleman, Amarillo weather man:

"If a telephone line sings loudly, you can look for a cold spell."

WOULD you be greatly surprised if the Lubbock Westerners journied up to Amarillo next Thursday — Thanksgiving — and thumped the heralded Sandies?

The Plainsman wouldn't, and here's why:

Many and many a year we've had the "edge" on Amarillo. We have been "due" to beat the Sandies upon numerous occasions.

But practically every time we were "doped" to win, a bad break or two — or Amarillo's foresight in flooding the playing field with fire hoses — have turned the tide and we've lost. That's history.

This year, however, we are not "doped" to beat Amarillo.

Maybe we won't beat the Sandies because, as we've noted here before, football is a big business up there and the entire school system is geared on football first, last and all the time.

But The Plainsman has a hunch — like he had on the Tech-Duquesne game — that this time Lady Luck is going to be on our side and that the Westerners may come home on the long end of the score.

LUBBOCK this year has a peculiar kind of a team.

It looks like a million dollars in Chinese money sometimes; again it doesn't look so good.

But if the Westerners have a "day" up in the frigid zone next week — if they click like they have clicked at times and still can—look out, Amarillo!

Every once-in-awhile in the past The Plainsman has headed up a little campaign to get gold footballs for the Westerners if they beat Amarillo.

Upon two occasions the boys have won those footballs.

Jack Parsons, Parker Prouty and Spencer Wells — all of whom are like The Plainsman in that they'd rather see Lubbock beat Amarillo than anything they know—have demanded that The Plainsman again offer those gold footballs for a win over the Sandies. So-o-o.

You Westerners do your stuff and a bunch of us downtown guys will get the footballs. That's a promise and don't think there aren't plenty of Westerner fans in Lubbock who'll fight for the chance of helping get the trophies! The town's full of them.

Join the Navy and see the world; beat the Amarillo WIND-storm and wear gold footballs, you Westerners!

CAST OF CHARACTERS

PRISCILLA PIERCE — heroine, young woman attorney.

AMY KERR — Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim.

JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiance.

HARRY HUTCHINS — Amy's strange visitor.

SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday: The web of circumstantial evidence tightens around Kerrigan when Dolan points out that he might have been on the roof and hidden afterward in Cilly's apartment until the confusion died down.

CHAPTER X

"We're not holding anybody yet," Sergeant Dolan told Cilly as he and Martin were leaving. "I'm telling you, and I'm telling everybody else in the house, to be on hand for a call down to headquarters. I'll be honest with you, Miss Pierce, the one I'm most interested in is your friend Kerrigan. I'd like to know the reason he asked that girl up on the roof with him. When I find that out . . . well, we'll be seeing you."

As soon as they were gone, Cilly went back into the living room and looked into the Cloisonne vase for the newspaper clipping. She took it into the kitchen and held it over the flame on the gas stove until it disappeared into a fragment of black ash. Then she took Jim's postcard from underneath her pillow and did the same thing with that. The words on the card danced before her eyes as the flames spread around them. "Taking the first plane I can make. Love, Jim."

The hot gas flame scorched her fingers, but she held on until the card was nothing more than a mystifying memory.

She breathed a great deal easier when both tasks had been done.

It was 11:30 by the banjo clock in the living room when Cilly was ready to leave the apartment. Only 12 hours since the four of them had stood in this very room, laughing and happy. Only 12 hours, yet one of them was dead and another had vanished in a cloud of mystery. What was behind it all?

If Amy and Jim had known each other previously, as Jim's note would seem to indicate, why hadn't Amy mentioned it to Cilly before? Certainly she had heard Cilly mention his name enough.

For that matter, she had spoken frequently to Jim about the friend who shared her apartment—Amy Kerr. If he knew her, why hadn't he said so?

She suddenly remembered something she had quite overlooked. It wasn't altogether her idea that the four of them get together last evening in order that they might become better acquainted. It had been equally Jim's idea. He had, she recalled now, often asked her how she was getting on with the new friend who was sharing her apartment. What was she like? Where did she come from? Casual questions, to be sure. They became important now only in the light of what had happened. Did Amy, as Cilly discussed her, seem familiar to Jim? Was her name familiar? If so, why hadn't he said, "I knew a girl once named Amy Kerr."

And if Jim knew Amy, how did it happen that Amy had not recognized Jim Kerrigan's name? Cilly had mentioned it often enough at home.

Cilly tried to figure it out as she walked to the subway. Somehow it was easier to think clearly once she was out of the house. Perhaps there was something Amy had wanted hidden . . . prison, perhaps. That was why she tried to wipe out the past four years . . . why she still spoke of an Aunt Harriet who had passed away. Because she feared to speak of where she had been after she left Aunt Harriet, lest her secret slip out.

Then the one all-important question returned. What did Amy's past life have to do with Jim Kerrigan?

No matter what new track Cilly's thoughts started out on, they invariably came back to that one vital problem. What was the secret which linked Jim and Amy? What had happened in Utah? In Bluefields, Utah.

Jim had never mentioned Utah. He spoke of Chicago, for that was where he came from. He spoke of his father, whom Cilly understood to be in Chicago. He spoke of Mr. Maddox, the publisher of the Midwest Review, and a friend of his father's, who had given him a job as eastern representative because of that friendship. He spoke of his mother, who died when he was only 12. He spoke of summer vacations on a ranch with his father, and Cilly could sense the deep bond between these two.

"You'd love my dad, Cilly," he had said one time. "Gee, how I'd like you to meet him . . ." and then his voice had grown suddenly wistful.

There was no mystery to Jim, Cilly was certain of that. He'd only been in New York a few months, whereas Cilly had lived here always, as had her parents, and her grandparents before them. But that was unusual. Nine out of every ten people you meet in New York come from the West or the South or from New England.

It was after one o'clock when Cilly left the funeral parlors. And each time a shoulder brushed hers in the crowded streets, she started so violently that her own pounding heart-beats threatened to choke her.

She was in no mood to put her mind on the work at the office which awaited her. She would have to turn the Harvey brief over to someone else. It was a disappointment not to be able to finish it herself; Mr. Crowell had given it to her especially.

Under the circumstances, however, there was nothing else to do. Tomorrow she would have to be out for Amy's funeral. And during the next few days, there would inevitably be many more conferences with Sergeant Dolan, or summons from him to appear at police headquarters. It would be much better if she forgot the Harvey brief, and adjusted her work at the office so that it would not require any immediate attention on her part.

As she entered the Cannon Building, she was surprised to see Harvey Ames directly ahead of her. He stopped at the news-stand to buy a paper; Cilly noticed that it was the early afternoon edition. She wondered if any news of Amy's death had appeared as yet.

Mr. Ames turned toward the elevators and saw her.

"Hello, Miss Pierce," he greeted pleasantly. "Where's my worthy secretary keeping herself today?"

Evidently Sergeant Dolan had not seen him yet.

"You haven't heard?" Cilly asked hesitantly.

"Heard what?"

"Amy was killed last night, Mr. Ames."

"What?"

"She fell from the roof of our apartment house." Let the police, she decided, tell him that it was a murder.

* * *

Mr. Ames gasped. He stared, open-mouthed, at Cilly.

"You don't mean—she wasn't—that girl?" His words were jerky, nervous.

"What girl, Mr. Ames?"

"That girl—in Brooklyn, St. Ann's Avenue?"

Cilly nodded. She was not prepared for the manner in which Harvey Ames took the news of Amy's death. That he would be surprised, even a little stunned, she well expected. But he acted like a man suddenly stricken.

His face blanched, he leaned against the wall as if to support himself. His dark eyes bulged. His collar choked him; he slipped one long finger underntath to loosen it. Harvey Ames was more than surprised at the news of his secretary's death. He was terrified.

"How did you know, Mr. Ames?" Cilly asked him.

"How did I know?" he repeated stupidly. "Why, I saw it in the paper. In this morning's paper, of course."

That was a lie, and Cilly knew it. There had been nothing about Amy's death in the morning papers. They were already printed and on the newsstands by midnight. If Mr. Ames had not been so surprisingly shaken, he would have realized that. The first details of the tragedy would, at the very earliest, be in the afternoon edition of the evening papers. And that edition Harvey Ames was holding in his hand. He had not opened it yet.

Hold Everything! ... By Clyde Lewis

"Cheer up, Charlie—we can't be far from civilization! There goes a bomber!"

Today's Journal Editorial . . .

WE BECOME MORE ENLIGHTENED

Although it is hard to see sometimes, what with war, epidemics and other discouraging occurrences dotting the map, the world is struggling onward and upward.

Two indications of the slow enlightenment of civilization were to be noted in Tuesday's Evening Journal. One was found on the front page; the other on next to the last page. One was found in a story from Beaumont; the other was under a Pasadena, Cal., dateline.

In the Beaumont story was set forth among recommendations of the board of managers of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers one calling for state expenditures to fight venereal diseases. In Pasadena, Superior Judge Frank C. Collier advised from the bench emasculation of men charged with sex offenses against little children.

We say these instances show enlightenment not only because the suggestions contained in them are practical and sensible, but also because we, as a nation, have found that frank yet inoffensive discussions of such problems form the only sure and intelligent way of solving them. We say they are indicative of better days because our thinking people are taking a public interest in such problems which, although as old as civilization, have been allowed to go unsolved because of the mistaken idea that "nice people pay no attention to such things."

The sooner we leave forever the smug, lah-de-dah ways of the late 1890's and the early 1900's, the sooner we stop closing our eyes to the ills of the world and the sooner we discover that the ostrich is a silly bird, the better off we'll all be.

The Journal is glad to mark the improvement.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 — Short takes: Movie production is at an all-time low for this time of year because executive shakeups and business re-alliances are expected momentarily at almost every studio.

"Why should I start a picture now?" asked one man. "A new set of geniuses will be running the place next week."

A dance director who knows all the cuss-words was telling his people just what he thought of a bad rehearsal. A little chorus girl stepped out of line and said, "I quit. You can't use such profound language in front of me!"

Quip-of-the-week: Robert Montgomery (reports the Hollywood Reporter) said, "Bob Benchley looks like an unmade bed."

EMBARRASSING MOMENT

"In Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," Gary Cooper went through a difficult speech several times. Finally, after about the sixth take, Director Ernst Lubitsch, exclaimed, "That's perfect! Print it."

But the sound man said it wasn't perfect; someone had coughed. "Who coughed?" thundered Lubitsch, glowering at his crew.

"You did," said the assistant director.

Gloria Blondell, sister of Joan, is working at Warners. Blossom MacDonald, sister of Jeannette, is being tested by Metro. And Bob Crosby, band-leading brother of Bing, probably will start a movie career soon. Crosby said: "If I'm hired, it'll be because the make-up man is a genius."

Barrymore All Square

Universal was able to hire the French star, Danielle Darrieux, only by engaging her husband.

Paramount was able to keep John Barrymore largely by the inexpensive stratagem of giving Elaine Barrie a job. She receives an amount which is 10 per cent of his salary. Curious enough, that's just the share of an agent's commission.

Under the management of Paramount and Miss Barrie, Barrymore is doing very well. Last spring his debts amounted to $161,503 and only two months ago his $77,000 yacht was sold at a Federal court auction. Today the busy actor is square with the world and has bought a new yacht. Smaller than the magnificent Infanta, but still a yacht.

Shirley Temple, like that lesser fry, Greta Garbo, should do a comedy occasionally for variety. So plans have been shelved for "Little Princess," a dramatic picture which was to have followed the current "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." Her next will be "Susannah of the Mounted," mostly laughs.

Puzzle department: "The Good Earth" is breaking attendance records in Japan.

Johnny Weissmuller's contract with Metro has been extended a year. He and Harpo Marx are the only screen players of prominence who never have spoken a word for the camera, although Weissmuller has grunted a few times and whooped his Tarzan yell.

The new Tarzan, Glenn Morris, talks in the flicker now being made. He has four words: "Cynthia, I am Tarzan." After that he also merely grunts and whoops.

At one of the studio restaurants, says George Jessel, the coffee is so bad that one has to have a prescription to buy it.

Theater manager in Dunn, N. C., advertised "Two Lousy Features and a Comedy." That left no chance for customers who might have demanded their money back.

Seen: Patsy Kelly, looking tired but much thinner. Always has to reduce before starting a picture. Rudy Vallee and Gloria Youngblood are making the night-club rounds and holding hands, even if they aren't engaged. Margaret Lindsay, in 18th costume, hipping a hot rhumba on the set of "Gold Is Where You Find It."

Mae West, in black wig and dark makeup, for her impersonation of a French girl. And such a French accent!

Heard: A former actress, having acquired a divorce and a generous cash settlement, was asked why she didn't take a trip around the world. She said, "Oh, there are lots of other places I want to see first!"

With Norris' Backing Some Action Is Certain On 'Seven Little TVAs' Dutcher Declares

this is the fifth of six stories on Congress and what lies ahead of it at the special session.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — The aims of the regional planning program which will be before Congress are so many and divers that it is difficult to comprehend the program at one gulp.

Under the Norris bill in the Senate and the Mansfield bill in the House, the nation would be divided into seven planning regions, among which the Tennessee valley and adjacent area would be one.

Rodney Dutcher

Regional authorities similar to TVA would plan — or initiate — the carrying out of the Roosevelt dream of substituting planned development and conservation of natural resources for the familiar congressional "pork barrel."

Flood control, prevention of soil erosion, reforestation, storing of water for irrigation, cheap electricity, decentralization as against urban congestion, new opportunities for millions and employment for the unemployed are among the objectives.

Six More Authorities

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, recently ill, is back here in good health. He has a remarkable record of success on legislative objectives to something seems more or less bound to happen.

His own bill, after putting the Tennessee river basin and sections of the Mississippi valley under TVA would create six other planning development authorities.

These would be set up in corporate form, with administrative power over regional power, water, forest and soil projects. Each authority would operate, as does TVA, with a lump sum and discretionary power to decide how, when and where the money should be spent.

Congressman Mansfield of Texas, chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors committee, also has a bill. It provides for planning, but not for actual development of similar regional districts by regional boards which would make recommendations to Congress. Congress would then, if it saw fit, have the regular departments of government carry out the recommendations. Any power development begun in this way would have its own individual administrator.

Compromise Is Likely

The issue between the two bills, involving congressional delegation of power, is likely to be solved by a compromise which would create authorities similar to TVA for two new regions and create planning authorities for four others.

The Columbia Valley authority, for the drainage basins of the Columbia and of rivers flowing into the Pacific north of the California-Oregon line, would be one of the two new authorities under such a compromise. Whether the other would cover the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes area or the Southwestern authority — covering the basins of the Colorado, rivers flowing into the Pacific south of the California-Oregon line and the Great Basin—is speculative.

Other authorities proposed by Norris would be the Atlantic seaboard, Missouri valley and Arkansas valley authorities.

The TVA record is a strong talking point for proponents of the Norris bill, as is the idea of submitting specific projects in specific regions to a board which theoretically would have a scientific approach and a maximum localized representation.

Army engineers, with a firmly entrenched lobby and a distaste for public power development, are opposed to the Norris plan because it would take from them jurisdiction over inland navigation, flood control and other aspects of regional planning.

To Wreck The TVA

The whole proposal is involved with the running battle between Roosevelt and the public utilities.

Power interests are sending their shock troops in against the Norris plan, claiming it would destroy and displace the private

But aside from the proposed St. Lawrence development, contingent on an international treaty, the only area available for large-scale public power development is that of the Columbia river area, which already has the Bonneville and Grand Coulee projects, municipal plants in Seattle and Tacoma and widespread public power sentiment.

The real purpose of the power interests is to wreck TVA and their suit arguing against TVA constitutionality will be heard by the Supreme court in its present term. Congress is unlikely to act on regional planning proposals before the court hands down its TVA decision.

"I take pleasure in giving this testimonial so that sufferers of today may realize what this wonderful herbal Gly-Cas can do," said Miss Rosa Marks, 1213 Taylor St.,

MISS ROSA MARKS

Brownsville, Texas. "For the last five years my head has ached almost constantly, kidneys became disordered and my back ached terribly. Then to add to my distress, rheumatism got a hold on my body. My limbs and arms were so sore and stiff and I suffered so greatly that I was unable to get any rest or sleep at night. Everything failed in my stubborn case and I grew worse continually. I heard about Gly-Cas and decided to give it a trial and was certainly amazed at its quick action.

"I have taken only one box of this herbal remedy," continued Miss Marks, "and already I am feeling like a new person. Those terrible headaches have ceased, my kidneys are regulated and functioning in a natural manner and those awful pains across the lower part of my back are gone. Rheumatism with its stiffness and soreness has been ejected from my body. It is wonderful to feel so well again and go to bed to enjoy a full night of restful sleep. Gly-Cas has given me a new lease on life and I feel I cannot praise its merit enough."

Sons Of Vets Group Grows

Lubbock Sons of the American Legion will be chartered with the second largest initial membership among sons' squadrons of the world.

This was the information disclosed this morning as having been received by E. Kelley Nail, sponsor for Allen Bros. post of the Legion of the organization of the sons here.

Applications Total 105

Applications for charter membership now total 105 with the expectation that the number will be increased further before technicalities required in the application for the charter can be completed. The actual list of applications compares with the goal of 40 set when organization was first proposed. That goal subsequently was stepped up to 60, then to 75 and finally to 100.

The only squadron with a larger charter membership is at Seattle, Wash., in which 202 boys were enrolled. Nail was advised. Seattle is a city of more than 365,000 population, according to latest official census figures, which compares with Lubbock's present estimated 30,000.

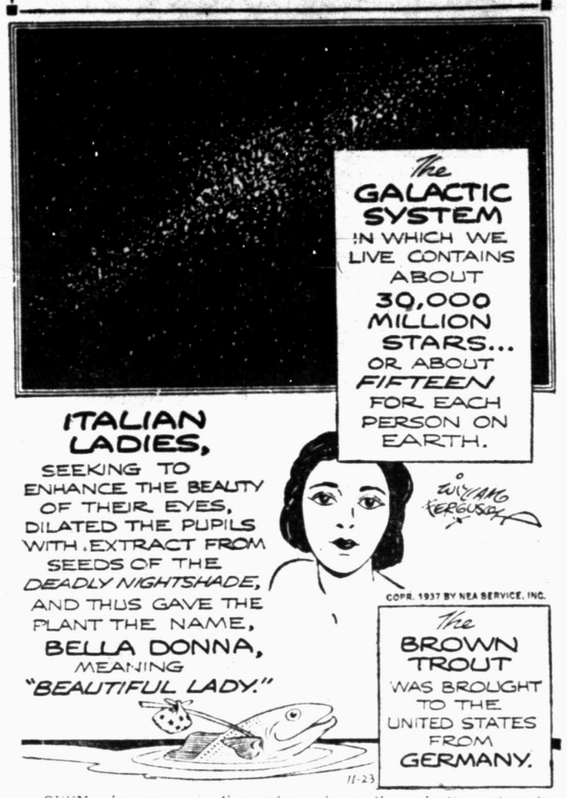

Funds To Be Raised

Because of the enthusiasm shown in the movement here, Nail announced that preparations have begun for the organization of a drum and bugle corps among the boys. Fund already has been started and a rummage sale to raise additional money will be held Saturday in the business district at a place yet to be chosen. Mrs. Nail, who is the only woman member of the Legion in Lubbock, is in charge of arrangements. She asked that anyone with garments or clothing they might wish to contribute to the sale to telephone her at 1084.

Nail also announced that helmets ordered for the boys and intended for arrival before Armistice day finally have reached here. They will not be distributed, however, until the sons make their next public appearance, he said.

Severe Freeze Is Predicted

dipped to 28, presaged the onslaught the rest of the state as far south as San Antonio and Houston might expect.

The regional weather bureau at Dallas said Dallas might expect a hard freeze Friday, with temperatures around 20 degrees. Rain was expected to turn to snow by Friday night.

Mercury Drops 20 Degrees

In five hours starting at 3 o'clock this morning, temperatures plummeted 20 degrees at Borger, hitting 28 and steadily dropping. Livestock warnings were issued for most of the eastern and western sections of West Texas.

The regional bureau said temperatures early Friday in a region extending 300 miles north and northwest of Dallas would range between 14 and 20 degrees. To the west it would be almost as cold, and South Texas could expect freezes by Friday night, at least.

A wall of mixed warm and cold air, the bureau explained, was causing the rain prelude to a blue norther coming in from the northwest.

Five Below Freezing

The Texas Panhandle saw flurries of snow and temperatures that stood steady at five degrees below freezing at mid-day. The forecast provided for even colder weather, possibly more snow. Snow was observed curling over most Panhandle cities, from Canadian to the north and east. Much of western Oklahoma reported freezing mist.

The Dalhart section had low temperatures of 28 degrees, and southern Kansas had snow flurries.

Eastern New Mexico had below freezing temperatures, but overcast skies had not released snow.

Heavy snow fell between Pueblo and Denver in Colorado, Wichita, Kas., had light snow.

Lowest temperature in Amarillo the last 24 hours was 27 degrees, at 11 o'clock this morning. The thermometer was steady and poised for a precipitate plunge later in the day.

Unsolved Crime

ficient evidence to warrant arrests.

"In the last year we have left nothing in our power undone. . . . We have followed literally hundreds of rumors and threads.

"We have had from one to six men on the case since the beginning.

"I cannot say the case will or will not be solved. Some crimes never are solved despite the best efforts of officers. A solution to others is had after long years.

"It would not be surprising if the break comes if at all, from the disposal of the bodies. If the killers had help the helpers may tell, one day, under the stimulus of reward. If they did not have help, there is a big question.

"There are men in the world who would murder you calmly and lie down an hour later to sleep peacefully. . . . There are men who would do this and never breathe a word of it to anyone, drunk or sober."

One of the more favorable aspects, others said, was that the investigation had been turned over almost entirely to the department and one of its shrewdest men, Ranger Ernest Best.

These things have been noted in the case:

Threatened mob action by citizens demanding apprehension of the criminals, a county court of inquiry assisted by the state attorney general's department, a contempt case against four officers involved in the arrest of an investigator, numerous charges of inefficiency and politics in the investigation.

Those taking the favorable view said the department and its rangers had been so busy defending themselves and running down false reports handed them by others they hardly had had time to do anything on their own. Their attitude, in brief, was:

"We've got a good man on it now. Let's keep still and give him a chance."

Today there're not only self-supporting and it costs from $1,600 to $1,800 monthly to maintain them, their nursery and staff—but they contribute $100 a month to their family and have that tidy half million in bonds.

The funnie part of it is that in not—even a shiny new dime—doesn't interest them at all.

In the fan mail there was but one masculine note of dissent.

"Who cares" sulked the sender, "in this evil generation whether a man wears a ring or not. I'm footloose and derned near all the girls I meet are married. But does that stop them? No, not much. So for Pete's sake lay off. Give the married man a break."

Free For 36 Hours

Oley and Crowley were seized almost 36 hours after they escaped from the Onondaga county penitentiary at Jamesville, N. Y., with the aid of Geary who cut his way through cell bars to truss the prison guard staff of six and escape in a stolen car.

Captain of Detectives Russell W. Humphrey said Whitford said he met the trio early yesterday and was forced to agree to provide them lodging and food at his own rooming house.

Sent Out For Food

The janitor said that the men sent him out frequently for food and liquor and that he drank "frequently" with them "to give them the idea I was a good fellow."

It was on one of these food missions that Whitford decided to "turn them in" to share in the $6,000 reward posted for their capture.

Meat Cutting Demonstration Will Be Staged On Friday

A hog was slaughtered in Shallowater community Wednesday for a meat cutting demonstration for county agents there Friday, according to Homer K. Thompson, assistant Lubbock county agent, and Walter F. Johnson, assistant in agricultural conservation.

The cutting demonstration will be under the direction of Roy Snyder, extension service meat specialist. Friday morning will be devoted to instruction in the cutting of both beeves and hogs, while in the afternoon Snyder will give a slaughtering demonstration. The beef for the morning cutting demonstration will be slaughtered in the Shallowater community this afternoon by Thompson and Johnson.

Friday's meeting will be conducted for the training of county agents only. County agents from Dickens, Crosby, Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, and Kent counties will be present for the demonstration.

Story Of First Thanksgiving Told In School Program

The story of the first Thanksgiving was told by Pilgrim and Indian characters in a program presented by Mrs. Carl Willingham's fourth grade students of Dupre school at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Senior High school auditorium.

All the students in Mrs. Willingham's room were to wear special costumes for the play.

Children who were to take part included: La Juanah Ince, Jack McClellan, Rita Gwyn Pettigrew, Robert Brown, Eloise Hughes, Marjorie Moore, Will Ed Rush, Charles Jo Collier, Jackie Ferntsch, Joyce Yocum, Norman James, Bobbie Dan Snodgrass, Sue Clair Moreland, Ulyss Hobgood, Richard Lee Turner, Marie York, Billie Wayne Holly, LaVern Billings, Conrad Ward, Billie Nell Pipkin, Virgie Lee Sneed, David Rowland, Bobby Stephens, Mary Ethel Herbert, Wenton Butler, Joe Dean Payne, Molly Pinkston, Theron Lee, Florence Jooster, Giles Carter, Clifford Dean, Martha Lynn Mitchell, and Angie Beth Merchant.

well. Deputies climbing into the 110-feet deep hole discovered a cavein had buried the bottom in 25 feet of dirt and estimated it may take several days to remove the debris.

Ignorant Of Killing

Both prisoners insisted Mrs. Bosshardt was ignorant of the killing.

Prince said statements dropped by both men during recent years had given rise to rumors which came to his attention. He arrested Bosshardt yesterday, he said, and the man at once confessed.

Bosshardt told Prince he felt "responsible" to Mrs. Malan.

"I knew she had to raise Malan's son," he said, "and so I tried to do the next best thing. I married her."

The picture will be completed by the decorations of various business establishments, and that will be of magnificent brillance. Some of the individual concerns, reports to the chamber said, will invest hundreds of dollars in their exterior decorations for the holidays, most of it for lighting.

Participating in this morning's session, additional to Hassell and the committee members were Jerry Fulton, L. E. Grimes, O. A. Terry, Vernon Herndon, Arlie Crites, Clayton Gammill, Ray Farmer, John Powers, A. H. Maas, C. M. Guess, Clyde Brown, Jack Macrel, Lee Hubby, C. E. Hunt, Freeman W. Groce, Mrs. K. Patience Breaks After Paying Alimony 28 Years; Files Suit

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Friends of Tom Harmon were wont to liken his patience to that of Job, his regularity to that of a good timepiece.

For 48 years he worked as a mail clerk without a murmer of complaint. But 28 years of alimony payments have finally broken down the Harmon reserve.

He has filed a petition to vacate the alimony order under which he has paid more than $8,000 in installments of $25 on the first of each month for nearly three decades.

FIND YOUR CAR ON THIS CHART

IMPORTANT! The price per gallon of an anti-freeze means nothing unless you know how many gallons you will need during the entire winter. You can't get that information on a boil away anti-freeze. But you can get it for "Prestone" anti-freeze ... and here it is. See how reasonably you can get two-way protection all winter long against both freeze-up and rust with one shot of "Prestone" anti-freeze—one shot because it won't boil off, no matter how warm the weather gets between the cold snaps. If your car isn't on this chart, your dealer has a chart showing all cars, and amounts needed for temperatures to 60° below zero.

Find your car and read from left to right. The first figure shows the protection you get with one gallon of "Eveready" "Prestone" anti-freeze in the cooling system, the second with one and a half gallons—and so on. "+" means above zero. "—" means below zero. If your car has a hot water heater, add ½ gallon to the quantity called for.

Parade To Be Staged Here

Parade of Progress will arrive in Lubbock Friday about 4 p. m. and will parade through the downtown district before setting up on Texas Technological campus, according to word received Wednesday night. Arrival originally was scheduled Saturday.

The exhibit will open as originally planned Sunday and will continue through Tuesday.

"The traveling exposition," said Robert McKnight of the General Motors public relations department, who is here on advance arrangements for the showing, "was expected to arrive at noon on Saturday, but J. P. Dever, assistant director, telegraphed me last night from Amarillo, where the exposition plays its last times Thursday night, the change of plans.

Encouraged By Reports

"'We are so encouraged,' Mr. Dever said, 'by the reports of the widespread enthusiasm and interest in the coming showing of the Parade of Progress in Lubbock that we have decided to get there as soon as possible and spend just that much more time in so friendly and enterprising a community.

"We shall arrive in Lubbock at 4 p. m. on Friday and open as scheduled at 2 p. m. on Sunday."

Travels In 44 Units

This "world's fair on wheels," produced by General Motors Research Laboratories, directed by Charles F. Kettering, noted inventor and scientist, travels on the highway in 44 automotive units—26 huge trucks bearing the fantastic scientific exhibits and research laboratory devices and 20 passenger cars transporting the 50 men of the operating crew.

Plans are under way for parading the city on arrival, before the fleet is parked on the campus of Texas Technological college and construction of the big free science show is begun.

Roy Luschbaugh, in charge of Parade of Progress construction, is expected in Lubbock today to lay out the ground for the exposition. His father and grandfather built the big tops for Barnum & Bailey and he is an expert in putting up and taking down circuses.

Ill-Tempered Porcupine Still In Hands Of City Officials

City park department still was in possession this morning of an ill-tempered porcupine which definitely is not wanted, according to Park Board Chairman K. N. Clapp and Park Superintendent C. D. McGehee.

They had noticed, they reported, that bark had been gnawed from trees at McKenzie park, so an investigation started as to the cause. Result was the porcupine, weighing about 25 pounds and with a mean disposition, was found. He kept his quills ready, but there were no casualties as he was slowly prodded toward the park workshop near the swimming pool where he was kept Wednesday night.

Since porcupines are not native to the Plains region, Clapp and McGehee are of the opinion that he probably escaped from a case at some home in Lubbock or from an itinerant. They plan to make some disposition with him today unless the owner puts in an appearance.

Relic Destroyed

Modern improvements are blamed for the flames and smoke that lick the roof and spire of the 202-year-old Dutch Reformed Church at Pompton Plains, N. J. The fire was blamed on a short circuit of electric wiring. Many documents and historic relics were destroyed.

Hoover Believes In Mothers As Competent But He Isn't So Sure About The Fathers

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP) — Herbert Hoover said last night at a dinner of the Madison Square Boys club, "I am satisfied that the country has a vast majority of competent mothers—but I am not so certain about the fathers."

Asserting governments cannot build character, the former president said, "if we had just one generation of properly born, adequately educated, healthy children, we would have Utopia itself, even if we don't succeed with planned economy."

He spoke as honorary chairman of the Boys Clubs of America at a 25th anniversary of the club for boys of New York's lower East Side honoring its founder and director, Albert H. Hines.

MORE TRUMPETER SWANS

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK (AP) — The rare trumpeter swan is making good his comeback.

Threatened with extinction in 1934, when only 50 of the big white birds could be found in the entire United States, there are now 114 in their nesting grounds here.

Youth Now Hoping To Get Clemency

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 18.—Confidence of clemency sustained 17-year-old Delbert Lord of Flint, Mich., in the state prison death house today as he calmly saw the date originally set for his execution near.

The youth was sentenced to die Friday for the kidnap-slaying in a lonely lava field near the Mexican border of Robert Aubuchon, aged Deming campground attendant, but an appeal to the state supreme court automatically stayed the sentence.

Lord, who was admitted to the penitentiary Sept. 4, was branded ringleader in the crime for which an older brother, George Alfred, received a life sentence.

One other man was sentenced to prison and one acquitted.

An open-air swimming pool in London issues colored rubber wristbands, which are varied according to the time of day. Attendants thus know if any bather is staying beyond his limit.

England's trade in cut flowers finds employment for 100,000 persons. It is a $70,000,000 a year business.
