RECOVER AUTOS HERE PURLOINED IN FORT WORTH

Local Police Assisted by Dallas Detective, Identify Eighteen Stolen Automobiles.

Express Belief Wichita Falls Is Sub-Station for Large Band of Thieves Operating in Texas.

Local police officials Tuesday working in co-operation with offices from Fort Worth were rapidly identifying 18 Ford automobiles which are alleged to have been stolen in Fort Worth during the last three months and which have been sold in this city after the cars were altered.

According to the police it is believed this city for several months has been a sub-station of an automobile theft organization which had its main headquarters in Fort Worth with numerous other sub-stations in other cities of the state.

Tuesday night three of the 18 cars stolen in Fort Worth had been positively identified by officers from that city. The machines here were in the possession of parties which the police believe had no knowledge of the fact that they had been stolen. It is expected that other cars will be recovered today.

Police officials here refused to divulge the manner in which information was obtained here of the stolen cars. It is known that recently in Fort Worth the officers discovered a large supply of Ford accessory parts in connection with the raiding of a still near there. Investigation led to the uncovering of a large theft organization in that city and from the alleged confession made by one connected with its organization it is believed that the local end of the theft organization became known. C. E. De Witt, operator for the Automobile Underwriters Anti-Theft bureau Dealers brought the case before the local officers.

According to information from the police 18 Ford cars have been stolen in Fort Worth and delivered to this city after they had been altered in a garage in Fort Worth. In practically all cases new cars were stolen. If the car had any identification marks such as a damaged fender or tires they were changed before being brought to this city. The man actually stealing the car was allowed $50 for delivering the car here, according to information obtained by the police.

O'Callaghan Asks Longer Time in U. S.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Threatened by the department of labor with arrest and deportation, Donal J. O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, appealed today to the state department for a change of his status from that of "seaman" to political refugee and for permission to remain in the United States indefinitely.

In the petition placed by his attorneys, Judge Lawless and Michael Doyle, O'Callaghan protested against his deportation "at this time, to any place or point where he might be exposed to capture or molestation by the forces of the British government."

The lord mayor's attorneys were received by both Secretary Colby and Under-Secretary of State Davis, and were assured that no steps would be taken until opportunity had been granted for the filing of a brief in O'Callaghan's behalf.

Presentation of the petition served to bring to light for the first time that the time allowed O'Callaghan to depart from the United States had been extended by Secretary of Labor Wilson. Although both attorneys for the lord mayor and some officials of the labor department have disclaimed knowledge of any agreement by which O'Callaghan should leave the United States by February 11, it was learned today that the expiration of the time limit was responsible for this last effort of O'Callaghan's counsel to stay his departure.

WILSON CALLED ON FOR ACCOUNTING OF EXPENSE INCURRED WHILE IN PARIS

President Assailed During Heated Debate in House Prior to Adoption of Resolution.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—After heated debate the house late today adopted a resolution calling upon President Wilson for an itemized statement showing disbursements and allotments of the $150,000,000 war funds voted by congress.

The resolution, which was adopted, 211 to 79, was attacked by democrats, who charged it was put forward to defame and malign President Wilson in the closing days of his administration. Reference to expenditures by the American peace commission at Paris, aroused the democratic side, and turned the debate into strictly partisan channels.

"Democrats Responsible."

Chairman Good of the appropriations committee, who reported the resolution, introduced by Representative Gould, republican, New York, declared if any injustice had been done the president, the democrats were responsible, by attempting to create the impression that "there was something crooked in the money spending," when the resolution itself did not intimate that there had been anything improper. Mr. Good declined to offer an amendment calling upon the various government departments for an accounting, which was the method adopted, democrats stated, in asking for an accounting of Spanish war funds in President McKinley's day.

After the chairman had made a preliminary statement as to what had been shown by partial reports of expenditures, Representative Byrnes, democrat of Tennessee, declared that while he had no objection to adoption of the resolution, he thought the information should be sought from departments to which the money had been allotted. The president, he said, had nothing to do with the actual spending, that more than four-fifths of the fund had been accounted for, and that it was merely an attempt to make it appear he was unwilling to present the record.

People Will Not Forget.

"The American people will never forget the great achievements of Woodrow Wilson," said Mr. Byrnes, "and his name will fill the brightest pages of history after his detractors are dead and forgotten."

Representative Rogers, republican of Massachusetts, attacked reported expenditures of the peace commission at the Hotel Crillon in Paris, calling attention specifically to an item of $125,000 for damages to the hotel property. He said he did not know if chandeliers were in the damaged list or at what hour of the morning they might have been broken.

"The acting secretary of state was unable to give details of the Paris expenditures," Mr. Rogers said. "Wages of hotel employes amounted to $141,000, and we had to pay for their food. There was another item of $14,000 for automobiles, when the streets of Paris were overrun with American cars. Confidential expenses of the presidential party were put down at $17,534. Why should there be confidential expenses of a president to negotiate on the part of the people a treaty of peace?"

Representatives Byrnes of South Carolina, and DeWalt of Pennsylvania, democrats, assailed the resolution, Mr. Byrnes insisting that congress, after the Spanish war, "did not attempt to insult McKinley." Mr. Byrnes said he did not believe there was a man small enough to question the honesty of the president, "or no peanut politician small enough to question the amount paid for his food."

"Defames President."

"I charge that the purpose of this resolution," said Mr. DeWalt, "is to defame and malign President Wilson. And here you come," he de-

Operators Enabled to Get Oil Run

A successful and strategic way of obtaining a pipe line connection was recently devised by one of the Wichita Falls operators in Young county.

This company had one well in, on which there had been application for a pipe line connection to one of the pine line companies on file for several days, with no result. A second well was brought in, on another lease, and application made for a connection. They were told by pipe line officials that there was no immediate chance of securing this connection.

But this lease happened to have an owner a little different from the general run. The last well was on state lands, and the state got the royalty. So the well was turned into the field tanks and allowed to run. Soon the tanks began to run over, the oil going into the river. By accident, or otherwise, it so came about that the overflow came coincident with the visit of a number of representatives of the oil and gas supervisors' department. They came, saw the waste, and learned the reason.

The next day the operators got notice from the pipe line company that a connection would be made to this well immediately. The other well, completed ten days earlier, but located on private land, is still waiting for a connection, or was at last reports.

SENATE MAKES PROGRESS ON FORDNEY BILL

Four of Remaining Nine Amendments to Tariff Measure Adopted After Long Debate.

McCumber Hopeful Final Vote Will Be Taken on Proposed Protective Legislation Today.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The senate made real progress in its consideration of the Fordney emergency tariff bill today, and when the eight-hour session ended it had taken up and adopted four of the nine remaining amendments which had been recommended by its finance committee.

At the close of the day's work, Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the bill, said prospects were good for a vote tomorrow. A vote tonight had been the object of the supporters of the bill, but they were thwarted by a series of speeches, some extremely heated, which delayed action on amendments.

After it became apparent that final action on the bill could not be had tonight, Mr. McCumber sought to conclude consideration of all committee amendments. This plan, likewise, suffered defeat.

Among the amendments accepted by the senate was the substitute sugar schedule proposed by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, for that agreed upon by the committee. The Smoot amendment would place the tariff at 1 per cent a pound, in addition to the present duty of the same amount, while the committee amendment to the house bill would have added approximately 3 cents a pound to the present rate.

The other amendment adopted by the senate would provide rates as follows: Butter and butter substitues, 8 cents per pound; cheese and cheese substitutes, 23 per cents ad valorem; fresh milk, 2 cents per gallon, and cream 5 cents per gallon.

MAINE'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE IS BLOND BACHELOR

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 15.—Rich, young, a blond and a "dresser."

That's the new governor of Maine, Percival Proctor Baxter, forty-seventh occupant of the executive chair. His father, James P. Baxter, is reputed the wealthiest man in the city, and possibly in the state.

Here's what the new governor never did:

He never wore ragged clothes.

H never milked cows.

He never clerked at $5 a week.

He never starved rather than borrow—he never had to borrow.

He never fell in love with his wealthy employer's eldest daughter.

He never wrote a poem to a girl's eyes and married the girl.

And many other things besides.

Here's some of the things he has done:

He has always dressed in perfect taste.

He received a liberal education.

He became a lawyer and managed his father's vast real estate holdings.

He avoided the social whirl.

He has remained single.

Over the teacups you may learn that the new governor is not "handsome," but still is good looking. He is six feet tall, with blond hair and blue eyes. It is generally agreed that his manner is courteous and that of a "distinguished personality."

M'CLUSKEY MAKES AROUND 600 BARRELS

South Bend Producer Rated Locally as One of Best Wells in Young County District.

Making 600 barrels a day, and rated by the local office as the best producer of the company in the South Bend field, the Panhandle Refining company's No. 6 McCluskey drilled in Sunday, is the feature of the completions in the Wichita Falls district. Other wells on the sand and showing up for producers as good as the average in the field, are reported still held up for completion on account of lack of pipe line connections. The Panhandle production is now between 1,600 and 1,700 barrels daily, the largest production of the companies operating in Young county.

The Iowa Park Land & Development Co's. No. 2 Edgerly, about a mile west of Burk station, is reported completed for about a hundred barrel pumper, according to latest reports from the field.

This well is in a new sand for this section, 1,577-foot, and the size makes it of real value. There are shallower wells to the north of the Iowa Park company's strike, and three miles to the west is the new 900-foot sand opened up by the Gulf Production company a few weeks ago.

Completion Near Townsite.

Reports of a 125-barrel well on the east side of the old Burkburnett townsite pool constitute a rather unusual phase of the Burkburnett developments. The No. 1 P. P. Langford of Ryan and Rogers is reported making 125 barrels from the 1,650-foot sand. There has been so little drilling here for more than a year, that any completion at all attracts attention and especially a well dbe good. A few weeks ago the Panhandle Refining company brought in it's No. 5 Gillis, also on the east of the townsite, making better than 80 barrels flush.

Kemp Munger Allen district completions are still few. In Block 18, the No. 3 Logan of Hill & Roberts is reported a 125-barrel completion and in block 20 the Universal Oil company is reported to have completed its second producer from the 1,500-foot sand, making 100 barrels.

In the Clara section the W. G. Skelly No. 3 is reported a hundred-barrel well, from the 1,740 foot sand. Two other recent completions in the old Burkburnett sand include the No. 10 Chenault Viles of the Kansas-Gulf company, making around 15 barrels and the Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 15 W. A. Martin, 60 barrels.

Shallow Operations.

In the South Electra shallow field the Greater Texas Oil company's No. 1 Burnett is reported a 50-barrel well in the 840-foot sand.

The Portland Texas Oil company's No. 1 Hy Willis is reported completed in the Texhoma field, usual 1,300-foot sand. Production estimate 100 barrels.

HOUSE DEBATES BILL TO MERGE STATE BUREAUS

Local Representative Takes Back Opposition to Joining of Warehouse and Marketing Departments.

Proposal to Wipe Out Highway Jobs and Let Railroad Commission Handle Work Made.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 15.—By a vote of 78 to 43, the house today engrossed the bill by Veatch of Johnson and Melson of Hopkins proposing to consolidate the warehouse and marketing department with the department of agriculture. This consolidation was recommended by Governor Neff in his message to the legislature regarding the consolidation and abolishment of certain state departments, boards and commissions.

Consideration of this measure occupied almost the entire day in the house. Strong opposition greeted the bill when read for engrossment and the arguments for and against were replete with figures showing what the warehouse and marketing department had done and why it should be put under the agricultural department.

Representatives Lackey of DeWitt and Williams of McLennan led the opposition to bill, while the authors of the bill were its main defendants, Johnson of Wichita offered an amendment to strike out the enacting clause, but later withdrew it. The opposition held that the marketing department was a great benefit to the farmers in selling their products at a nominal cost, while the defense claimed that the saving to the state in putting this work under the agricultural department would more than justify the merger.

College Removal Bill Fails.

A bill was introduced in the house by Binkley of Young, proposing to abolish the highway department and putting the administration of that department under the railroad commission. The house concurrent resolution by John Davis of Dallas, proposing to submit the university removal question to a vote of the people, was killed by the house committee of appropriations. The committee has taken no action on the measures by Baldwin of Lubbock and Satterwhite of Carson dealing with the same subject.

Senator Witt of McLennan requested the unanimous consent of the senate today to take up a bill by himself and Senator Page of Bastrop permitting convicts to testify in state cases, but Senator Murphy of Harris objected because the bill had been printed and it went over until tomorrow.

This was requested so that the bill might be acted upon, and, if passed, W. S. Scrivner, confessed accomplice in the Dallas postoffice robbery, who is an escaped convict, could testify in the case of Albert L. Rowan, alleged "master mind" of the robbery, in connection with the death of G. W. Street, postoffice employe, who died from pistol wounds received during the robbery.

Scrivner Not Yet Pardoned.

Maury Hughes, district attorney of Dallas, has asked Governor Neff to pardon Scrivner so he may testify and has announced that the governor told him "to go ahead with the trial," but that he had not yet granted the pardon.

The bill by Senator Dudley of El Paso, providing for regulation of architects and engineers in Texas and creating a board to pass on applications for permits, was finally passed in the senate. The bill by Senator Russell of Eastland, proposing to create the tenth court of civil appeals at Abilene, was killed.

The senate joint resolution by Darwin of Lamar, proposing to amend the constitution so as to increase the pay of the legislators to $10 per day for the first eighty days and $5 per day thereafter was defeated by a vote of 17 to 6. Twenty-one affirmative votes were required to adopt the resolution.

The minimum wage bill by Miller of Dallas was brought up in the house late this afternoon and was under consideration when the house recessed until tomorrow.

A quantity of flour, bacon and other supplies were stolen Monday night from a grocery store on Granger street, owned and operated by negroes, according to reports made to the police. Officers said that it was believed that the robbery was committed by Mexicans.

Miss Pressley Stowers and James R. Inglis were married Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Rev. T. S. Pittenger officiating. Besides members of the family a number of people from the Rebekahs' and Odd Fellows' banquet were present at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Inglis will make their home in Wichita Falls.

HUSBAND LOYAL TO WIFE, 'ENIGMA WOMAN,' ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF MANUFACTURER

R. C. Peete and his wife, Louise, photographed between sessions of he trial.

The habitual calmness of Mrs. Louise Peete as she in a Los Angeles court on trial for the murder of Jacob C. Denton, a wealthy manufacturer, has earned her the title of "enigma woman." Testimony introduced in an effort to connect her with the crime fails to bring evidence of worry or strain to her face. Her husband, R. C. Peete, by her loyalty during the trial. Denton disappeared last June and his body was found last September buried in the basement of his home.

ACCIDENT ENDS JOYRIDE; FOUR AUTOS SOUGHT

A police search here for four missing cars, either stolen or "borrowed" for joyriding purposes Tuesday, resulted in the recovery of one when the driver collided with a truck on the Holliday road near the municipal water ditch intersection about 10 p. m.

Frank Monders, an auto mechanic, the driver, was arrested and held for investigation.

Another car was taken from in front of the Sacred Heart church, on Ninth street. Ignocio Perz was arrested for investigation in this connection.

A search for two youths who held up and robbed a store at Hastings, Okla., of guns and watches valued at $300, and then took successively two automobiles with which to escape in, led into Wichita Falls at night.

While F. S. Morrow was describing to the police a Marmon roadster taken from Tenth street, between Scott and Lamar, a telephone call brought officers to the Holliday street accident. J. D. Polhemus, driver of a Ford truck which was stranded across the road, said that Monders ran into him. Only the spotlight on the Marmon was lighted. They said he was driving about twenty five miles an hour. The car was identified by new numbers, which Morrow bought Tuesday.

Ross Downing and L. A. Darby, occupants of the Ford, supported his statement.

Monders said he had "borrowed" the car from Morrow for a joyride. Later he told Night Chief Humphris that he did not get Morrow's permission to use it.

Two unknown boys robbed a store at Hastings, Okla., of guns and watches and then stole an Oakland car in which to escape. At Walters the machine broke down. They stole a Ford roadster, loaded the loot into it and drove into Wichita Falls, officers believe. The car was seen coming in this direction and about seven miles from here.

BULLET HITS BULLET IN BARREL OF RIFLE

BOSTWICK, Ga., Feb. 15—A rather serious shooting affray occurred at the Morgan county convict camp near here when two guards, Moore and Bramlet engaged in a discussion over some trivial matter. The argument became so heated both men drew guns and began firing at each other from a distance of about eight or ten feet.

Moore received two wounds in the head and Bramlet two in the right arm. That both were not instantly kill is perhaps due to the very unusual occurrence, the like of which was never before heard of here, and is without counterpart, so far as known.

One of the belligerants was using a .45-calibre gun cararying a steel jacket bullet, and the other a .38-calibre carrying a lead bullet. Both were five shooters and had each been fired four times. When the fifth shots were fired the bullet from the .38 entered the muzzle of the .45 and came in contact with the bullet of the .45 that had proceeded about three inches in the barrel on its way out.

When the bullets met they lodged and had to be removed with a punch. It is thought that both men will recover.

The Irish question was responsible for the longest continuous sitting ever held by the British parliament. In January, 1881, the house of commons met on a Monday afternoon to discuss Irish affairs and continued the discussion until 9:30 Wednesday morning, the session lasting forty-one and three-fourths hours.

EXPERT TESTS RANK WICHITA PAVING BEST

The concrete paving that has been laid in different parts of the city for the past several months is of greater strength then any that has been investigated by the University of Texas, according to a report made to the city engineer's department by H. R. Thomas, testing engineer of the university. The report says the strength obtained in the pavement is 6,510 pounds per square inch, which, Mr. Thomas declares, is the "highest that we have seen for concrete anywhere near this mixture except a few special concretes which we have made in this laboratory and your pavement will no doubt be good for many years to come."

The sample of concrete which was sent to the university was from the paving on Lucile street which was paved by the S. E. Whitman & Co., local contractors, in October. The same kind of concrete paving has been used in other paving for the last several months, the mixture used being in accordance with the specifications adopted by City Engineer Montgomery when he assumed charge of the city engineer's department in June.

The strength obtained in the concrete is practically twice the usual requirement. The usual standard test is 3,000 pounds per square inch after the cement has set 28 days.

MOTHER FUND BY TOMBSTONE ADDRESS PLATE

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 15.—Tacked to a tree at the head of the grave of John Erickson in Oakwood cemetery here are four metal plates bearing the names of his children. They were Margaret Bright, of Lake Forest, Ill. Below them is a fifth plate with the name and address of the mother.

These plates are the reason for John Stanley Erickson, twenty-one, being at home today with his mother instead of continuing his absence of 19 years. A boy's yearning for his real parents led him to his father's grave and there he learned the new address and name of his mother.

John, with two brothers and a sister, was placed in a Lake Bluff, Ill., orphanage 19 years ago, following the death of the father. Each was adopted by a different family.

John went to a German minister named Horn, who rechristened him Manfond Horn, took him to California and finally to Switzerland. When he was sixteen the boy learned of his real parentage and tried to run away. Then came the war. Finally, in 1918, he escaped, and sought protection as an American citizen at the United States consulate in Geneva. After months of waiting while state department "red tape" was being overcome, John finally landed in America penniless, worked his way to Missouri and finally back to his old home here, from where he was able to be reunited with his mother.

More than 100 per cent increase in the output of electroplating vats is gained by the recent discovery of an English metallurgist. The method of applying the new process, as used at Sheffield in silverplating, is merely to add potasium carbonate to the plating bath, instead of neutralizing that already present by introducing baricum cyanide, as is ordinarily the practice. The silver deposits obtained the new way is declared to equal ,if not surpass, in quality any accomplished by the old method.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WILSON CALLED ON FOR EUROPEAN EXPENSE ACCOUNT

clared, turning to the republican side, "with a resolution to examine his laundry bills."

Turning upon Representative Rogers, Representative Rayburn, democrat of Texas, said:

"In the 14 years of my legislative service, I have seen some pretty small men and some pretty small acts, but never in that time have I seen so small a performance as that enacted a moment ago by the gentleman from Massachusetts.

"Last fall I was surprised and shocked that the president's personal life and character should be dragged through the mire and the heart in his emaciated frame wrung by slander. I wondered then where they came from, and I wonder now if they originated in Massachusetts. It is astounding that a man in a great legislative body, supposed to be here for a great purpose, should ask about laundry bills and what time of night the hotel chandliers were damaged, when in that building was the man holding the highest office in the United States."

"You Are Small Man."

"In God's name, when will small men cease this campaign of slander and abuse on the retiring president. The big men of the republican party never engaged in it. They may differ as to questions of great policy, but they never stooped to defamation of character."

Closing the debate, Mr. Good said the resolution was introduced last May, calling for expenditures and that the president's secretary had reported only allotments.

"The democratic attack on this measure does the president an injustice," Mr. Good declared. "In my mind you have created the impression that there was something crooked, when no charges are made. Thank God it was not the republicans, who questioned the propriety of asking the president for information."

After the vote had been announced, Mr. Good asked that a "resolution of a similar nature" be tabled.

"Is that the last official insult a mad majority intends to offer the president?" shouted Representative Garrett, democrat of Tennessee. Mr. Good replied that no insult had been intended.

Wichita Runs Are Increased During Week

Production in the Wichita Falls district took an upward turn, for the past week, as indicated by pipeline runs, the district's total being around 79,000 barrels daily average. Young county's runs show a slight gain, not at all commensurate with the possibilities of the field, if there were sufficient pipelines in the field to care for the wells already in the sand.

At present only about 3,000 barrels can be handled daily. The three big pools in this county showed slight gains, also.

The runs by pools, based on various pipeline estimates are as follows:

Burkburnett, all pools	60,000
Electra	10,000
Kemp Munger Allen and Iowa Park shallow	4,750
Holliday	200
Petrolia	400
Young county	3,000

A naturally heated cave has been discovered at Horse Butte, near Bend, Ore., which apparently draws its warmth from a subterranean volcanic source. The discovery was made by C. A. Yarnell and H. D. Eide, Bend fuel dealers. The cave is located near the top of the butte and first attracted attention when a wave of heat was felt issuing from the mouth. The cinder bottom and rock walls of the tunnel are unbearably hot to the touch, the heating increasing as far back as could be explored. That the phenomenon is a recent manifestation was indicated by the smouldering of grass and twigs near the opening. To test the natural oven, Yarnell cooked a light breakfast by introducing raw articles of food into the aperture and closing the orifice for a few moments.

A penniless tramp arraigned in a London police court the other day on a charge of vagrancy demonstrated his ability to speak seven languages and showed an intimate acquaintance with the world's best literature.

GRAY STITCHING TRIMS THIS NAVY TRICOTINE SUIT

The smart tailleur is favored everywhere this spring and there was a noticeable predominance of tailored suits in the recent fashion show held in New York. Here is one dashing tailored model made of navy tricotine with gray stitching trimming the edges of both skirt and coat. Several rows of the stitching trim the collar, but a single row is used on the rest of the suit.

CHARGE DEBTOR SECRETES ASSETS

Charge of fraudently concealing material assets in his business were made in a petition in involuntary bankruptcy filed Tuesday in United States district court by three creditors against S. J. Pfrimmer, proprietor of a confectionary store at Knox City.

The creditors, Blair & Hughes, Boren Stewart company and the Southwest Cigar company, claim that Pfrimmer owes them debts to the amount of $1,393.13, $215.80, and $70 respectively and that on or about December 26, he concealed some of his assets by purchasing $9,000 in merchandise and secreting the larger portion of his profits.

They ask that proceedings be instituted against him and that they be furnished with an accounting and awarded such judgment as the court deems proper.

DEWEY SMITH CASE STILL WITH JURY

No verdict had been returned by the jury in the case of Dewey Smith, special officer of a railroad company, charged with assault with intent to murder, being tried in the 30th district court, to a late hour Tuesday night. It is alleged that the defendant shot at a man who was passing along the right of way of the railroad in January, 1921.

In testimony introduced by the state Art Kramer stated that Smith struck him across the mouth with a pistol, rendering him unconscious for nearly two hours.

GOES TO JAIL TO SAVE HORSE FROM BEING SHOT

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—An old horse, Bimbo by name, munched his oats with satisfaction one day recently. For three days he had stool in his stall waiting for his owner to hitch him to the rattely old vegetable cart he had been pulling around the hard pavements for fourteen years. And his master, John Ranavaro, of East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, did not come back. His absence of three days was due to his love for old Bimbo, for rather than allow the decrepit Old Dobbin to be shot he went to jail.

Bimbo was reported by humane agents as being lame and generally "all in." Ranavaro was haled into court, but he refused to allow his old friend to pass out that way. He steadfastly said he couldn't have old Bimbo shot, but wanted to have the horse treated by a veterinary. The fine was $10 or three days in jail and Ranavaro took the days. Bimbo still lives and Ranavaro was happy to make the sacrifice for his horse.

According to reports received from Copenhagen, the original manuscript of Rossini's "Barber of Seville" has been discovered in the Conservatory of Music in that city, says a Berlin correspondent of La Petit Parisian, Paris. The manuscript includes an overture, hitherto unknown, which Rossini apparently discarded in favor of the one now so widely celebrated.

PARIS WOMAN'S DEATH BAFFLES AUTHORITIES

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Texas, Feb. 15.—The officers have been casting about all day for a clue to the murderer of Mrs. Marie Edwards, aged 20, who was slain some time after midnight Saturday while on an auto ride with Claud Gambill, a young farmer who lives near Paris. Tonight they have made no arrest and are plainly at a loss as to what further step to take.

Gambill told the officers that a strange negro had perpetrated the crime; and tonight Sheriff Brown stated that this had been corroborated, but declined to give his reasons for so stating. The sheriff stated that, according to Gambill, the negro had made three trips to the auto, which had become stranded because the battery had played out. The first time the negro appeared Gambill asked him to crank the car, which the negro endeavored to do but failed. The second time the negro came back with a pistol and robbed Gambill of his wallet containing $70 and shot him in the foot and in the breast.

There is a bullet hole in the shirt worn by Gambill at the time, but the bullet evidently was deflected, for it did not enter the body. Gambill said that the force of the bullet caused him to fall. He and Mrs. Edwards then started to walk to the city, but within a short time the negro again appeared and compelled the woman to go with him.

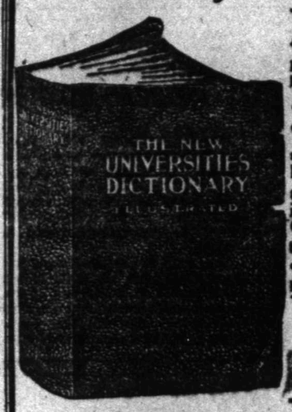

Within a few moments thereafter Gambill said he heard a shot, and he made hurriedly for a house to telephone in the alarm. When the officers reported on the scene they began immediately a search for the body of the woman, but did not locate it for several hours. When they did find it, the body had been carefully arranged, the feet were close together and the hands had been crossed upon the breast. Her slippers were found some distance from the body near a mudhole and near them was the wallet belonging to Gambill with the money intact.

Mrs. Edwards was a comely young woman who has been separated from her husband for some months. He resides in Denton and the officers talked with him over the telephone Sunday morning. Gambill is at his home near the city, where he is nursing his wounded foot.

But there will be capital punishment as long as people live in Washington in hot weather.—New York Mail.

JAIL IS NEXT FOR 'DRINKERS' PROHIS ASSERT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Jail sentences for buying a drink!

That's next. So say the prohibition leaders.

Pretty soon they'll urge jail terms for asking for a drink, then it'll be the millennium, retort the "wets."

They are lining up for a stiff fight to make it impossible to get a drink, if the plans of the dry leaders in congress are to be relied upon.

"Dry" leaders claim the only way to stop bootleggers, now expanding their trade, is to make it criminal for one to even offer to buy whiskey. The drys in their legislative proposal would make a prima facie case against a man or woman caught in the act of tendering money to a bootlegger for a pint flask of liquor.

The "wets" on all sides are fairly aghast at the bold measures which are to be pressed in congress. It is an open secret that they have been urged to adopt these tactics by government enforcement officials. These officers have made an utter failure of enforcement. The most extreme measures have been adopted recently, some of them apparently running counter to the plain intent of congress, but adopted as the only expedient left to check a wave of whiskey frauds and bootlegging upon a scale which even the most optimistic drys never believed possible.

PALACE

Sheila Terry with Harry Peterson and Morris Lloyd headlines this week's bill at the Palace theater in a delightful musical romance called "Three's A Crowd." Miss Terry is a new star with all of the necessary requisits of stardom—youth, appearance, personality and ability. William B. Friedlander has written a model and modern operatta the so-called classic music and jazz take each other by the hand with romance and sparkling comedy as pals.

Bert Baker will be seen in this city for the first time in a rollicking one act farce called "Prevarication." This comedy sketch is just one lie after another with funny situations throughout—an old idea built for laughing purposes only. The story of this sketch is well explained by the title. A husband who is a distant relative of Ananias, a jealous wife, a private secretary and his decidedly pretty fiance, who manage to cook up so much trouble for the prevaricator, that he is finally glad to climb aboard the chariot of truth.

Dave Genaro and Ann Gold are presenting a miniature musical comedy which they have called "Wanted—A Model." This piece contains merely dozens of ingredients necessary to this form of amusement.

The Three Lordons are billed in "Dropping Bombs of Comedy and Thrills," being a combination of clever acts, and put across in a comedy vein.

Lenore Kern in "Sample of Varieties" presents a clever volin act which is unusual because of Miss Kern's pleasing personality and remarkable good showmanship.

George and May La Fevre open the bill with a unique novelty act.

Powers and Wallace in their act of "Georgia and BroadwayoHug-psh'aa "Georgia on Broadway" present an act of singing and dancing.

EMPRESS

Dorothy Gish's latest picture, "Flying Pat," is the merry story of a nation-wide search for his runaway wife and found her in his own kitchen. It will be the chief attraction at the Empress theater today.

In the role of the bride, Miss Gish is urged by her screen husband to choose a "career" for herself and decides to become a flyer. But this leads to complications, when her teacher turns out to be of a flirtatious disposition. Following an accident in the air, there is a smash-up at home, and the bride leaves in haste and tears. However, the world gives her the cold shoulder, and she comes back to her own kitchen, disguised as a cook. Some laughable complications lead to the newlyweds' reconciliation.

Miss Gish is supported in "Flying Pat" by James Rennie and a competent cast. Richard Jones directed the picture, which is a Paramount.

OLYMPIC.

Today's feature attraction at the Olympic theater will by "My Lady's Latchkey," in which Katherine MacDonald, "the American beauty," is featured. It is a First National attraction and few films have been screened that tell a tale of such absorbing interest. Here is just a glimpse of the story—enough to indicate the adventurous spirit of Annesley Grayle, played by Katherine MacDonald: While awaiting the advent of an "elderly lady" in the Hotel Savoy, she is approached by a young man, ostensibly an American, and who, in apparent trouble, begs Annesley to save him by pretending to be his wife. She is astounded by this proposal, but the man's distress appears to be so great that she agrees to it. Later, after two men have threatened the young man, who gives his name as Nelson Smith, the two young people depart for Annesley's home, which, by coincidence, is also the London home of Ruthven Smith. The latter, thinking that Nelson is another robber, fires point blank at him. To the girl's horror she finds that Nelson is the jewel thief, and is about to give him up to justice, when she overhears his declaration to the thieving gang that——Well, when you see the picture today you'll learn just what happens in this thrilling picture of startling adventure.

OLYMPIC.

Three new faces will greet film fans when they see Cecil B. De Mille's Paramount picture "Forbidden Fruit," which will be shown at the Olympic theater next week. All have appeared on the screen before, but this production marks their appearance under the Cecil B. De Mille banner. The trio are Agnes Ayres, Forrest Stanley and Clarence Burton, who play the three characters of the central triangle of Jeanie MacPherson's fascinating picture story.

Agnes Ayres is known as one of the most beautiful women of the screen. Forrest Stanley, who plays the masculine lead, is admittedly one of the most talented of the younger leading men.

The supporting company includes Theodore Kosloff, Kathlyn Williams, Theodore Roberts, Shannon Day, Julia Faye and Bertram Johns.

PLAZA

"Better Times" is here! It will be shown at the Plaza today and is the product of that young master of the screen craft, King W. Vidor, whose first picture from Brentwood studios distributed by Exhibitors Mutual, "The Turn in the Road," made such a profound impression.

Vidor has the happy faculty of selecting human and heart-touching subjects of the unhackneyed type, and presenting them in a way that gets under the skin.

"Better Times" is a dramatic comedy of real folks, people that the majority of us lived among and grew up with; whose emotions we can understand, whose troubles we can sympathize with and whose frailties are common to us all.

The author of "The Turn in the Road" has succeeded in putting into "Better Times" this simple human note that made his first effort a notable success, while injecting a lot of clean, wholesome humor that keeps the audience vacillating between laughter and tears.

The triumph of optimism over pessimism, the uplift of hope and the tonic of good-cheer, is told in a story that moves blithely along spreading sunshine in its wake.

ZaSu Pitts, an exceedingly clever comedienne; David Butler, cast as the hero; Jack McDonald, Wm. DeVaull, Hugh Fay and Lillian Leighton, complete a cast much above the ordinary.

Woman Parole Agent Here to Assist Morgan

Miss Ann Bullard, parole officer from the state training school for girls at Gainesville, arrived here Tuesday and will assist R. W. Morgan county juvenile officer, in work here until Thursday when she will return to Gainesville with a 15-year-old girl of Electra.

The young girl was committed to the training school Saturday by County Judge Jones after her parents entered a plea of guilty to a charge of delinquincy in her behalf. She was arrested at Vernon while in company with a man there who is being held on charge of statutory assault and seduction.

Complaints charging similar offenses have been filed in justice court here against three men at Electra in connection with their alleged associations with her during the past year.

CHARGE GARAGE HERE RECEIVES 5 STOLEN CARS

Charges of receiving and concealing stolen property are made in five complaints filed Tuesday before Peace Justice Gwinn against J. A. Abbott, proprietor of a local garage. He was arrested Tuesday morning by Detective Chief Boyd in connection with the purchasing recently of five alleged stolen Ford automobiles from a man in Fort Worth.

Abbott perfected bond of $3,000 for his release pending arraignment for examining trial before Justice Gwinn Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

He is reported to have admitted purchasing the five automobiles although the details of a voluntary statement which he is said to have made to Assistant County Attorney John Martin were not made public.

An investigator of the Automobile Theft bureau of Dallas, C. E. De Witte who assisted Chief Boyd in the case said Tuesday that the theft of more than 50 cars in Dallas and Fort Worth during the past several weeks has led to investigations by his agency in this county.

Several more arrests are expected within the next few days.

RELIEF FOR OIL OPERATOR.

If only as a straw to indicate which way the wind lies, the announcement Monday by the Gulf Production company that it would buy 100 per cent of oil run in the future, thus rescinding its 50 per cent cut in quantity handled, the news will be a hope-inspirer for the oil man.

It is the second favorable "straw" in the last few days. The first was the increase by one company of 25 cents a barrel for Ranger crude oil, on the same day that Coastal was cut. This will be of double importance to the Ranger oil operator because his pay is in the deep black lime, almost twice as far down and as expensive to obtain as the semi-shallow stuff in the Wichita district.

The big oil companies ordinarily are quick to follow the lead of any other of the big companies on matters of great importance, such as the amount of oil run. It is to be hoped that they will join in line with the Gulf.

THE SECRET OF STRADIVARIUS.

A sensation seems to have been made at Berlin by the recent invention of the Hamburg violin maker, Heinrich Ohlhaver, which was exhibited before a large audience of musicians, critics and amateurs of music.

The demonstration was made by a distinguished Dutch violinist, Maurice Vander Berg, who played first on a genuine Stradivarius and then on three new instruments made by Ohlhaver. That most of those present were unable to distinguish the old from the new proves little, for tests of this kind have not infrequently been made, showing that at a distance many of the subtle beauties of tone which appeal to the performer are lost. One celebrated test of this kind was conducted some years before the war in Paris, the result being that a jury of competent musicians was unable to tell with any certainty whether the instrument heard was a priceless Cremona or one of the modern instruments that were being exhibited.

This, however, is very far from proving that the value put upon the old violins is fictitious. In part, of course, prices running into four or five figures are due to the competition of rich collectors, who pick the finest specimens, leaving musicians for the most part to choose between an inferior instrument of the golden age of violin making, or as good a modern substitute as can be found. It is unlikely that a modern substitute can be found for such a violin as Fritz Kreisler, for example, plays on, but it is quite conceivable that by a fresh study of resonances and of the mechanics of the violin, Ohlaver may have found a way greatly to increase sonority and richness of tone. If he can do this, as he professes, in the case of any sound, well-made new instrument, he may have done something even better than discovering the "secret of Stradivarius," of which so much nonsense has been written. It is doubtful whether the most famous of violin makers had any secret, other makers equalled or surpassed his best, but no one else produced so many of the highest grade. What has made his instruments so pre-eminent is their characteristic brilliance, which fits them better than most of the Cremona violins for modern music and the large concert halls of today. If Ohlhaver has succeeded in getting these qualities without the roughness which makes most new instruments unpleasant, he is, indeed, a benefactor. But his alleged discoveries will have to undergo a severe test before they win general acceptance.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican. (Ind.)

JAP AGREEMENT WON'T SAUCE EASTERN GOOSE AND WESTERN GANDER

"Secret diplomacy" is again under fire in the press as a result of the controversy between Senator Johnson and Secretary Colby over making public the Morris-Shidehara agreement. As is usually the case in discussing the Japanese problem, division of editorial opinion is chiefly geographic. Insistance upon "open covenants openly arrived at" is found in western papers, while most of the eastern editors support Secretary Colby in his refusal to announce the result of "official conversations" which he maintains have not reached the stage of formal agreement.

Emphasizing the point that 'the treaty is not complete; it has not been submited; it is still under consideration," the Fort Wayne Journal Gazette (Dem.) ridicules the suggestion that it is at this time the concern of the senate:

"Shades of John Hay!" it exclaims, "since when did it become customary for an ambassador to consult with members of the foreign relations committee of the senate in the negotiation of a treaty? His chief is the secretary of state; with him he consults and from him secures his instructions."

Opposition to this view, however, comes from at least one paper on the Atlantic coast, as well as from the Pacific. The Express and Advertiser (Rep.) of Portland, Maine, sees in Senator Johnson's request "a splendid opportunity for demonstration" of "President Wilson's celebrated point of 'open covenants openly arrived at'," particularly since "there is no need for secrecy" and "Senator Johnson is right in his position that the west should be informed at once as to what has passed between the two governments."

While the California senator may be a "troublesome person by reason of his insistence on light here and there," as the Wichita Eagle (Ind.) rather satirically suggests, the Detroit Free Press (Ind.) finds "good excuse" for his demand that the people chiefly concerned in these negotiations shall not be "obliged to wait until the details, already being discussed at length in Japan, filteer through via Japanese news channels." Eventually, the Spokane Spokesmen Review, (Ind. Rep.) points out, the state department, "if it is to get anywhere with its reputed agreement with Japan," must "bring it into the open." Therefore:

"It would seem that Mr. Colby is going about his undertaking in the wrong manner. An attitude of frankness and non-concealment would seem more effective. Certainly it would be more consonant with the spirit of American government."

In the opinion of the Columbus (O.) Dispatch (Ind.) however, Johnson is merely "stirring up unnecessary friction" which may react injuriously by forcing the people of California to yield more "to the judgment of the country as a whole" than would have been the case had they refrained "from throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery of conciliation."

It is this appearance of an attempt on the part of California "to dictate national policies" which is most strongly opposed by papers not in the immediate battleground. To the Rochester Times Union (Ind.) "it would seem that the rest of the country ought to have something to say about the matter" and the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot (Ind. Dem.) feels that:

"Senator Johnson should realize that he himself does not enjoy a monopoly on Americanism and that California is not the only state in the union. The treaty between Japan and the United States is not to be considered on the basis of Johnson of California statesmanship, but on that of American statesmanship. The questions involved are of national and international proportions."

The question as the Buffalo Express (Ind. Rep.) sees it "is whether the ideas of a group of California politicians should direct the policy of a nation or whether it should be representative of the entire country." That question can be answered only in a refusal to allow California "to impose her special obsession on the United States."

We read with considerable interest newspaper accounts to the effect that the Lisle Silk Bank has gone out of business. It is always regrettable to see an old institution fail, but in this case we might have known it. In the old days it was not unusual to note a slight bulge on lady's leg just above the ankle and to know that she had there deposited her hard-earned money—whether she got it from a job or from her husband, it was hard-earned. Now the stockings are so thin, so disphanous, in fact, that any passerby could at a glance tell just how much money she was worth holding up. Now the ladies keep their money somewhere else, but may we ask where? All the ladies we have seen lately have been so tightly dressed that a thin dime cached anywhere on the person would stick out as prominently as a full-sized quart on a gentleman's hip. They don't carry it in handbags, because we have found several of those and they have never had a cent in them, and when a woman does look for a nickel in a handbag she pokes around in it for ten minutes. Still we see women eating in restaurants, riding on street cars and buying cigaretes. They carry the stuff somewhere, but where?

CHARMING MATRON PRESENTED HERE

Tuesday afternoon's reception at the home of Mrs. Charles F. Spencer possessed the double interest of the formal presentation of Mrs. W. L. Parker, a charming young matron, to Wichita Falls society, and the initial hospitality in the new Spencer home, on Morningside drive.

Mrs. Parker is a bride of the new year, coming here from Gainesville, and already there have been several informal hospitalities for her by friends of her school days.

The Valentine season suggested the decorative scheme, and the flowers, used in fragrant profusion throughout the reception suite, were in the scarlet and white shades. Carnations banked the mantel in the candlelit drawing room, and sweet peas in a silver basket centered the dining table.

The mints and other accesories of the ice course were daintily served in silver baskets, tied with red tulle, and the ice cream brick was centered with a scarlet heart. Boutonnieres of red and white sweet peas formed the plate favors.

The callers were greeted by Mrs. T. P. Adams, and presented to Mrs. Spencer and her honor guest, Mrs. Parker, and to the remainder of the receiving line. Mrs. H. W. Stark of Gainesville, the mother of Mrs. Parker, was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. Spencer's gown was of brown cut velvet, and she wore a corsage of scarlet sweet peas.

Mrs. Parker wore a frock of blue and silver, and a corsage of sweet peas in the orchid tones.

Mrs. Spencer was assisted by a house party, including the following: Mesdames J. A. Kemp, T. P. Adams, W. B. Hamilton, W. W. Cook, James C. Berney, C. N. Alexander, Virgie Lowenstein, J. R. Parks, J. Lem Keevil, R. E. Shepherd, John O'Donohoe, A. J. McNeese, John King, Schultz, P. P. Langford, Fred C. Barron, T. T. T. Reese, Ed Strange, F. R. Collard, Walter S. Robertson, H .W. Waller, Eddie Lee Fitshugh, Ola G. Hamlin and C. W. Gilliland.

Two hundred and fifty guests called during the afternoon.

MRS. HAYNIE GIVES VALENTINE AFFAIR

One of the prettiest of the Saint Valentine season's hospitalities was the card party given by Mrs. Otis Haynie Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Gardner, 1806 Elizabeth.

The heart motif was carried out in every detail of the game arrangements, and in the two course luncheon.

The living room was decorated with festoons of hearts, and with other novel Valentine colors. Miniature Valentines formed the tally cards and the plate favors, the salad was served in heart decorated cases, and the ice course was moulded in red hearts.

Tables were arranged for both Five Hundred and Bridge. The high score prize in the former game was a basket of red tulips, won by Mrs. Roy Reeder, and the consolation, a hand embroidered linen apron, went to Mrs. Thomas. Mrs. Fannie Nichols scored high in the Bridge game, receiving a corsage of violets.

EPISCOPAL LADIES HEAR OF COUNCIL

Members of the Woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church held a delightful social Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. W. Sibley, on Huff avenue, at which the president, Mrs. George Fuller, presided, and also gave an outline of the diocesan council, which recently met at Paris, Texas. Mrs. Fred Datson, who represented the local auxiliary at the council, gave an interesting report of the auxiliary work as reported.

Miss Gertrude Datson gave a piano selection, and the Rev. Mr. Datson gave a short talk. Women were appointed at the meeting to make cakes for a market which will be held Saturday. These markets will be held by the Episcopalian women all during Lent. Sandwiches and tea was served to forty members.

JADE CHARMEUSE FROCK FEATURES RUFFLED SKIRT

Women are finding the new little silk frocks for spring quite indispensable, for they fit into so many needs. This pretty model is made of jade charmeuse and is quite alluring in its simplicity. The blouse is a simple surplice type with short kimona sleeves. The skirt is made up of nine wide folds or straight tucks which slope downward toward the sides and back.

MISSES M'GHEE ARE VALENTINE HOSTESSES

Misses Joel and Mildrel McGee entertained a number of their friends Monday evening at their home on Grant street with a Valentine party. The house was beautifully decorated with motifs suggestive of Valentine season ,and a color scheme of red and white was carried out in the refreshment course. Forty-two and other games were enjoyed and those who were present included Misses Walters, Loreen Taylor, Jewell Marshall, Clytie McKnight, Inez Boyd, Kathleen Hays, Georgia Michaelson, Hortren Deemis, Florence Smith, Susie Downing, Fay Bourn, Hazel Donohoo, Iona Bivins, Alina Kilpatrick and Messrs. Charles Kilpatrick, Herndon, Jewell Marshall, Carroll Reid Pope, Frank Benson, Ralph Harper, Lanson Rowe and Curtis Harper; Messrs. and Mesdames W. B. Chauncey and R. E. Schoolfield.

INTEREST SHOWN IN CHARITY BALL

Members of the Cypher club, which is giving the charity ball for the starving European children's relief fund Friday night at the Kemp, are requested to send in their checks for tickets that have been mailed them, in order to give the committee in charge an idea of how many couples will be present. Much interest is being shown in the affair, according to R. J. Marin, president, and only a small percentage of the 150 tickets mailed out to non-members have been returned.

Dress will be optional, it was announced, and no effort will be made to make a strictly formal affair. A number of out-of-town visitors will be here for the event.

The club, through its president, R. J. Marin, wishes to voice its appreciation for the generosity of the Palace drug store and the Wilford Harrison Drug company, which donated the punch; to the American Printing company, which gave the programs, and to the management of the Kemp hotel, which gave the use of the ballroom.

The following will serve as patronesses for the affair: Mesdames J. A. Kemp, C. W. Snider, C. W. Reid, R. H. Hollinger, Mark Walker, Clarence Moore, Lester Burns, J. T. Carter, Merril Blair, T. B. Smock, A .H. Britain, H. F. Weldon.

SCIENCE TEACHER MARRIES STUDENT

J. S. Cantwell, science teacher and athletic coach at the local high school, and Miss Maybell Street, a junior pupil, were quietly married Monday evening. The ceremony was read by the Rev. J. Lem Keevil, pastor of the First Christian church, at the parsonage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Street of 1306 Huff avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Cantwell are at home at 1915 Buchanan street.

With the Women of Today

The members of the National Women's party who will attend the convention in Washington this week have a treat in store for them in the women from foreign countries who will address some of the meetings. It is always interesting to hear of the doings of women in other lands and the most surprising thing which usually strikes the hearers is that the women of other lands have the same trials and tribulations and the same interests that they do. There is not the great difference in women throughout the world that there is in their geographical locations.

Mrs. Thit Jensen will be one of the prominent speakers at the convention. She is a Danish author who will speak on the program of the women of her country. She has long been an ardent suffragist and has lectured throughout Denmark on the suffrage question.

The Woman Pays

Statistics given out by the New York state income tax bureau recently contained the surprising information that of the 745,000 income tax returns filed during 1920, over 144,000 were filed by single and married women.

The figures show that one-fifth of the taxpayers of New York state who contributed toward the cost of administering the affairs of the state were women.

Another important fact is that 101,191 single women, not heads of families, filed returns and over 99 per cent of them paid a tax running from one cent to many thousands of dollars. The single women of the state made a remarkable showing when it is considered that the number of single males totaled less than 200,000—to be exact, 190,000.

An illustration of the part women are sharing with men in carrying the burden of bringing comfort and happiness to dependents is furnished through the statistics which show that over 30,000 single women filed returns as supporting heads of families as against 54,000 single males who made returns as heads of families.

'BLACK SOX' ENDEAVOR TO 'GET UNDER'

With the approaching date, March 14, the day set for the trial of the eight "Blacksox," accused of throwing the 1919 world series, coming closer and closer, as each twenty-hour fours roll around, the old trick of high financiers in "getting out from under" is being practiced by some of the indicted players. To understand the attitude taken by these players, as they each deny the charges they once confessed, would take more than the combined powers of "Alexander," "Auburtus" and others who claim they can read the past present and future.

While it would be unjust, probably, to openly accuse two or three of the indicted players of being implicated in the crooked work, for there is little, if any, proof of wrong-doing by several of the eight, excepting the accusations made by some of the others, there is little doubt that Risberg, Cicotte, Joe Jackson and Claude Williams received money for throwing games.

The latter two are now giving notice to the press and to the public in general that they are innocent of all thought or action in taking part in a conspiracy to throw games.

Of course, it is up to the Cook county court to decide whether or not the eight or any part of them are guilty, but the big joke of the whole affair is that the government income tax collectors have demanded their share of the "pillow money." Jackson failed to include the $5,000 he is said to have received in his income tax report, giving as his reason that he thought it was a gift. It sure was, Joe, but it sure reacted.

Expecting Signatures.

In so far as news from the Spudders' offices—there isn't any. Will Gray, secretary of the club, and Walter Salm, president and manager of the team, while not finding the time hanging heavy on their hands, are patiently waiting for March 7, when the initial practice of the 1921 season will be held. So far, only four regulars have signed up for the coming campaign, although the club has a score of promising youngsters to convert into Class A ball players, if possible. Gray expects some of the regulars' contracts to be returned signed in the next few days, but up until Tuesday afternoon the large steel safe where the contracts are securely kept under lock and key, was almost as barren as Old Mother Hubbard's kitchen cabinet.

Murphy Drives Again.

Tommy Murphy, the Poughkeepsie horseman, who has had the leading money and race-winning stable of the Grand Circuit ten of the past eleven years, will be back next summer with another star stable, despite several accidents and an attack of appendicitis, which handicapped him in 1920.

Murphy has eight trotters and eight pacers, with race records, not including 2-year-olds, 3-year-olds and "green" horses. Peter Manning (2:02½), champion trotter of 1920, is the star of the stable. He is considered by many of the critics to be a two-minute trotter whenever Murphy deems fit to set him after the mark.

Association May Merge.

Amalgamation of the Union and the American Trotting associations will be considered at the annual meeting of the American Trotting association to be held in Chicago Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. In a statement sent to all members, W. H. Smollinger, secretary of the American association, stated that minor changes in the racing rules of the association are to be made.

The annual report of the secretary shows receipts for the past year of $40,908.25 and disbursments of $22,712.11.

AMERICAN ADOPTS 168-GAME SEASON

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The American association today adopted a 168 game schedule for the coming season.

The waiver price for the league was increased from $750 to $2,500 with no recall privilege. The player limit was increased from 18 to 20 and the club owners by a vote of 6 to 2 officially confirmed their previous decision not to permit major league clubs to draft their players. The meeting will be continued tomorrow.

Sporting Life

THE RUBAIYAT OF THE TRAINING CAMP.

The practice starts. As light as a gazelle,
Each rookie throws, and bats, and runs, too well—
The scribes take photographs, and write much bunk,
While the grim veterans yawn, and say, "Oh hell!"

Closely the manager keeps watch—and now
He makes long speeches, telling each man how
To play his chosen place—they hear him talk,
And give him the attention due—some cow!

The days go by—a long and steady pull
Rounds them into shape. The wires are full
Of glowing screeds sent home each night by those Whose only mission is to throw the bull.

At last they start for home. Each day, a date
Is played somewhere in some wild cactus state,
And at each city where they halt for eats,
A dazed, resentful rookie gets the gate.

The same old crowd comes home to face the foe—
The same old crowd that played a year ago—
"Youth must be served" they say, but here, we find,
About one youth in forty gets a show!

It is an old axiom of natural science that anything which is full of hot air goes right up. We don't want to doubt the professors but how do Jack Cupley, Danny Morgan, Leo P. Flynn, Harry Frazee and several others manage to say on the ground?

Mississippi fan wants to know "if there are many southern players in the major leagues." Are there? Say, friend, Dixie's young men have risen up, learned the old game of baseball, and moved into their big leagues in such numbers that you can't hear the letter "F" from April to October, while the roster of the National and American leagues sounds like a roll call of Forrest's cavalry!

Sartorial Questioner: Why, certainly. Glad to give you the information. A pinchback overcoat is one where you get pinched when you go back to the restaurant where you got it.

MOVIE TRIUMPH.

Very popular during the past season: "The Jag, in Several Reels."

PROMOTION BULLETIN.

Harding, from senator to president.
Coolidge, from governor to vice-president.
Harvey McClellan, from bench to regular job.
Water, from chaser to drink.
Cobb, from ball player to trouble-carrier.
Golf, from a joke to general esteem.

Lynching ought to be abolished. Among other annoying things, it causes an awful amount of throat-trouble.

No, Lucille, terra firma is not a suburb of Terre Haute. Try to learn your geography better.

ROUGH STUFF.

Scotch tweeds.
Football.
Sandpaper.
Wrestling.
Nutmeg graters.
Basketball.
Horned toads.
Water polo.

How to give confidence and morale to a new player: throw away your glove and start for the bench when you see a fly ball going his way for the third out with bases full.

MILITARY PROBLEM.

Could you conscientiously court martial a soldier who served his whole regiment by shooting the cook?

Judge Kay Says Self Control Is Most Important

"Self-control is one of the most important things in a man's life," declared Judge John Kay in a talk at the weekly luncheon of the University club Monday at the Business Women's club rooms, "and until a man has grasp of his own soul he is not living, in the true sense of the word."

"It is the strain,' he continued, "that runs through every accomplishment worthy of note in the world's history, it is the theme of the Book of books, and is necessary for the development of a man's soul and intellect.

"One of the best chances to exercise control is to avoid friction and foolish arguments. Some young men, before they have learned better, think it smart to break into every conversation, spouting their opinions for the pure sake of an argument. The man who likes to be always in some argument on some trifle makes warm enemies and cold friends.

"I don't mean that a man should not have honest convictions. But he should not go to war about petty things. He should let the men whose place it is to look after these things do the worrying. Friction wears out the mind like friction destroys a machine. You never saw an epitaph that said work killed a man; it is always worry that tears down the resistance.

"Have a little patience and don't be always wishing for the future. Live in the present more and let the future take care of itself. Don't make the mistake of the poker player who can't wait until he is dealt all of the cards but must look at each card as it comes to him. That does not help him to draw a better hand—and sometimes he would do better to watch the dealer."

In conclusion, the judge congratulated the University club on its projected campaign of education and civic improvement and promised his support in securing a junior college for this city. He emphasized the fact that the money now being sent away to help maintain other schools would go a long ways toward financing a school in Wichita Falls. He declared it was time the people were thinking about a school, because Wichita Falls was behind other towns of the same size in educational matters.

Violin numbers by Miss Berenice Jackson, accompanied by Mrs. Ben Bell, and vocal solos by E. C. Huckabee, with Mrs. Huckabee at the piano, comprised the musical program.

Next week's meeting will be held at the Wichita club quarters, the invitation of the latter being accepted by the members at the luncheon. No business was taken up at the meeting Monday, although President A. C. Easley announced the work was progressing nicely on plans for the minstrel show.

A Chinese bowl only seven inches high was sold at auction recently for $6,000.

Farm Life Too Tame for Jess

By Associated Press.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Feb. 15.—The quiet life of the farm is no more for Jess Willard, former world champion heavyweight pugilist, who announced here today that he would follow the plow no more. The oil game and the prize ring will claim his interest henceforth, he said, and he will soon make his home in Los Angeles, California.

"I am through farming," Willard said. "From now on I am an oil man and a prize fighter. I am going to California to train."

Willard said he has oil interests in California.

More Than 8000 Buy Auto License

At closing time Tuesday of the office of L. M. Tittle, tax collector, 8,466 automobile license tags had been procured. This leaves an estimated total of more than 3,000 automobile owners of the county who will be assessed with an additional 25 per cent as penalty for delinquency when they appear to obtain the new plates.

Authorities have announced that they will arrest and prosecute all owners of automobiles which do not bear the 1921 tags after midnight Tuesday.

LYNCH BALKS AT MEETING DICK GRIFFIN

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Feb. 15. — "Dandy" Dick Griffin of FortWorth was three and one-half pounds over his required weight of 118 pounds and Joe Lynch, of New York, bantamweight champion, refused to meet him in their scheduled 10-round bout here tonight.

The crowd, however made such an uproar that Lynch agreed to go four two-minute rounds with Griffin. During the sparring exhibition when the crowd grew angry and began making threats policemen stood near the ring.

The exhibition was held for the benefit of the European relief fund. The Rev. R. M. Nolan, a member of the local relief commission, who helped induce Lynch to show his wares here, was greeted with cries of disapproval after the bout. It was a dissatisfied crowd that filed from the scene of battle.

Bambino and Other Yanks Begin Work

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Four new recruits, three pitchers and an infielder, have been signed by the New York Yankees, the management announced today.

They are Eugene T. Gramley, right hander, formerly with Penn State; Frank Schwartz, left handed pitcher, formerly with the Kitcherner club of the Michigan-Ontario league; A. J. Cook, southpaw pitcher on the University of Alabama nine last year, and John White, a semi-professional third baseman of New York.

Waite Hoyt and Harry Harper, pitchers, and Wally Schang, catcher, all of whom came to the Yankees from the Boston Red Sox in a recent trade, planned to leave this afternoon for Hot Springs where they will have preliminary workouts before joining the Yankee squad at Shreveport, La., "Babe" Ruth, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth, leaving Sunday and join the trio at Hot Springs.

SIGN ANOTHER RECEIVER FOR GIANT SQUAD

TULSA DOG WINS LONGHORN PURSE

HOUSTON, Feb. 15. — McNary Queen, owned and handled by T. M. DuPur of Tulsa, Okla., was awarded first place here today in the membership derby stake of the Texas Field Trial association meet at Hot Wells, Texas, against a field of 7 braces of dogs, birds being found in every heat except one.

MERCHANTS LINE UP IN MOVEMENT FOR SANE BUYING

The merchants are in line with the "buy sanely" movement and conditions are much better especially in the clothing lines, according to George Herron, buyer for Baum & Gardner who has returned from Chicago where he purchased spring goods for the men's department. Rock bottom has been reached for the present, clothing men agreed at conferences of buyers in Chicago, Mr. Herron said, and business has settled down to a normal basis.

"Prices will not be quite as low as some merchants thought," Mr. Herron observed. I believe the the decline in price will amount to about 20 per cent. Price cutters were not in evidence in the markets," he said, as practically all of the manufacturers have disposed of their surplus goods.

TYPICAL CONVERSATIONS.
Business.

Well, how's business by you?
Oh, so, so; how is it by you?
Oh, so, so.
That's the way it is with me; just so, so.
D'ye think it'll pick up?
I don't know, d'ye?
Oh, I 'spose it will.
I s'pose so, too.
So do I.
Me, too, but y' never can tell.
That's right, y' never can.
Y' sure can't. Sometimes it will and sometimes it won't.
Ain't it the truth? That's just what it is. Sometimes it will and sometimes it won't.
You said a mouthful that time.
I'll say so.
You sure did.
I'll say I did.
That's what you did.

Yes, that's just the way it is. Y' never can tell.
Ain't it so?
It sure is.
I'll say it is.
Yes, SIR. Y' know there are times when it will pick up over night; yes, sir, over night! And then there are other times when it is as dead as a doornail.
Yes, sir, just like a doornail.
Ain't it the truth? I ask you?
It sure is.
You said it.

Well, this is my station. G'by.

Yes, I guess that's right. And yet there are a lot of good furriners, too, y'know.

That's right, there is' isn't there?

There sure is, but I don't think we should ought to let them there Japanese in. They'll lower our standard of living. Don't you think so?

Jess Asserts Dempsey Fears To Enter Ring

By Associated Press.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Feb. 15.—Jess Willard declared emphatically today that he would not meet Fred Fulton or any other runners-up in the heavyweight division prior to his championship bout with Jack Dempsey on Labor day.

"If they don't let me meet Dempsey I wont fight again, and that goes," the former title holder declared. "I'm a former champion. The public didn't ask Jeffries or Corbett or Fitzsimmons to go out and make a reputation when they wanted return fights. I am in line for a return match. I don't want to meet second raters. I'm not broke and do not need the money like some of the fighters."

Willard said it appeared that "a bunch of sport writers want to make it easy for the present champion." He said it would take a hundred years for him to meet all the "white hopes" that had been "dug up" for him. "It seems that New York doesn't want me to meet Dempsey," he said. "Everybody there is picking an opponent for me."

"I am after Dempsey," Willard continued. "They stepped out on me at New York. I didn't make Dempsey and his manager put up any money for the March 17 date. They took advantage of that to run out to the coast for a movie contract. It was lots softer for the champion.

"Dempsey's manager said I ran out of New York. I am ready to put up $30,000 in cash for my appearance Labor day. I dare Dempsey to do the same. The public will soon find out who took the 'powder'."

"Fulton is not a fighter and he would not draw anywhere," Willard exclaimed hotly when Fulton's name was mentioned.

Attack Railroad Board's Control Of Road's Purse

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The United States railroad labor board today heard arguments upon the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlatnic's plea for permission to reduce wages. The case is said by railroad men to be of greater importance than any other single line dispute yet brought before the board.

The argument hinged upon whether the board had jurisdiction over the road's financial status, which furnished the railroad's principal reason for wanting to reduce wages. It declared that a reduction of wages was made imperative because the road faced a monthly deficit of $100,000.

Summed up by Colonel B. L. Bugg, president of the road, the road's position was:

"Is the board going to disregard conditions of traffic? If the board can fix rates regardless of the railroad's earning power; if the board can fix wages without regard to other conditions than the claims of the employes, then it is just as well that we have no representation here. There is a public interest here. I don't see how you can avoid seeing it. When a cord is around a railroad's neck, strangling it to death, the board should give relief."

A local dance inspector says young folks would behave better at the dances if it were not for the jazz music. Oh well, that kind of logic doesn't arrive anywhere. There wouldn't be any jazz music if there were no jazz people.—Kansas City Star.

Polo Amateurs Will Receive Coaching Free

The Wichita Falls Polo club, a live organization that is looking forward to putting this city in a class by itself in the polo world of the Southwest, have announced the formation of a beginner's class, the first instructions to commence Wednesday afternoon, at the polo grounds at Call field.

All men of this city who are interested in the game and would like to learn, have this opportunity to become a member. The lack of equipment will not be a drawback to the novice, for the club possesses plenty of horses and practice paraphenalia to take care of an unlimited number of beginners.

The Polo club practices every Wednesday afternoon and Sunday afternoon, special instructions to the beginners to be given on the mid-week date. If the beginners desire to become members, or would like to arrange for instructions, they should get in touch with Cecil Wilfong at the William-Mary hotel; Horace Robbins at his office. The Robbins Insurance company in the Bob Waggoner building; H. D. Hemphill at the City National bank, or Rhea Macon at the American National bank.

The present members of the club will alternate in giving the novices instructions, in the fine points of the game. At present the club consists of fourteen members, several whom have played on some of the best polo teams in the country.

The invitaotion to those who would like to learn the game does not include the necessity of becoming a member of the club, unless they desire to do so. The chief desire of the club is to locate as many promising players as possible, so as to put Wichita Falls on the polo map, as the best city polo team and club in the country.

Those who do not wish to play the game but who like horse-back riding and hurdling are included in this invitation of the club. Hurdles are to be erected and with the location of the club at Call field, unlimited possibilities to become an expert horseman are offered.

JUDGE DEFERS DECISION ON HOWATT CASE

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Kan., Feb. 15.—Presentation of testimony at the hearing in district court of Alexander M. Howatt, president of the Kansas Mine Workers union, and five members of the union's executive board, charged with contempt of court in calling a strike, was completed late today, and Judge Andrew J. Curran took the case under advisement. Judge Curran said he would announce his decision tomorrow.

Contempt of court charges against three officials of a Crawford county local union, growing out of alleged orders of the men to fine two miners for appealing grievances to the state court of industrial relations, will be heard tomorrow, and the belief prevailed tonight that Judge Curran would announce a joint decision.

The charges in both cases are based upon alleged violations of injunctions issued by Judge Curran last year.

Today's hearing was concluded with the testimony of Howat, who occupied the stand more than an hour, and who gave his views on the Kansas industrial courts and courts in general. Howat asserted the belief that the industrial court law is unconstitutional.

There are many valuable metals which we could not know in their pure form if it were not for the electric furnace. This remark applies particularly to the newly discovered metals, such as tantalum (used for pen points, because it will not corrode), chromium (which hardens steel), uranium (for iridescent glass), molybdenum (for giving a fine blue to pottery glases), vanadium (for gold bronze), and selenium, the oxide of which gives a beautiful ruby color to glass for railroad and other signal lights.

VOLUNTEERS TO ASSIST IN WAR ON RAT SOUGHT

In connection with the announcement of the instructions to govern rat extermination on February 22 the city health department, working in co-operation with a citizens committee, Tuesday asked for volunteers throughout the city to assist the heads of the different zones in carrying out the program outlined.

City Sanitary Officer Douglas said that at least one person would be needed in each block to supervise the campaign and give aid where needed. Those willing to help were requested to send in their names to the heads of the zones in which they are located. The different zones and those in charge were published in the Tuesday issue of The Record News.

In connection with the clean-up campaign, which precedes that of rat extermination, Dr. Douglas announced Tuesday that wagons would start to pick up rubbish Thursday morning. Residents in all parts of the city are requested to collect their rubbish near the alleys at once. No charge will be made for taking care of the rubbish while the special campaign is being waged.

Order 5,000 Traps.

The 5,000 traps which have been ordered by the city to be used in the anti-rat campaign will not be distributed until Monday or Tuesday. At the same time pamphlet instructions will be issued:

Following are the instructions which will govern the rat extermination in the city:

Don't allow piles of rubbish or trash to accumulate about your premises. They harbor rats.

Don't pile lumber or kindling directly on the ground. Place it on racks about two feet high. Rats live in and burrow under such piles.

Don't throw garbage on the ground. Keep it in metal cans with tight-fitting lids and have it regularly removed. Keep grain in metal-protected containers. Starve the rats.

Guard Children.

Don't place rat poison within easy reach of children. Place it also out of reach of domestic animals. It is dangerous and will kill.

Don't mix or handle poison or handle traps with the bare hands. Pass traps through a flame to destroy human scent. Rats are suspicious of human odor.

Barium carbonate is the safest poison to use. It can be placed on pieces of buttered bread, fish or meat scraps or made into a dough with four or five parts of flour, meal or oat meal. To add a little bacon grease will make it more enticing. The poisoned bait is placed in runways and holes protected from children and domestic animals.

"Runway" Specifications.

To make a "runway" place a box three or four inches from an outbuilding and remove a small strip of board from the lower edge of the box next to the building. This makes a "runway" and playground. After the rats have become accustomed to using the box loosen one of the top boards and introduce different kinds of bait, but no poison. Ascertain which bait they prefer, then use that as the poisoned bait.

Concentrated lye placed in "rat runs" and holes will tend to drive rats away, but is not an effective poison.

Carbon disulphide mixed with water and poured into rat holes will kill and drive them out.

Snap Trap Best.

The spring trap is the most efficient. It should be placed in or near rat "runs" and dirt or other material scattered over it for disguise. Remove dead rats as soon as possible from the traps and pass traps through a flame before resetting, to destroy scents. Generally the addition of bacon grease to trap bait will tend to entice the rats.

These traps should be protected from children and small domestic animals.

Use every safe scheme you may know of for killing and ridding your premises of rats.

Three types of vitamines are known to exist, the water-soluble found in milk, the fat-soluble found in butter and eggs, and the "anti-scorbutic," found in a number of fresh vegetables and fruits. Lack of these constituents in food results in scurvy, beri-beri and other diseases, according to medical scientists.

CALOMEL HORROR TOLD BY DODSON

You Don't Need to Sicken Gripe or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated. You feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.—Adv.

Third Death Due To Typhus Spurs Fight on Plague

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A third death from typhus reported to city health department officials today caused increased efforts on the part of both city and state authorities to prevent spread of the disease, brought here by immigrants from infected regions of Europe.

While Health Commissioner Copeland enlarged his force to insure inspection of all immigrants arriving here, either on boats directly from Europe or by steamships or trains from other American ports, Dr. Leland E. Cofe, health officer of the port of New York, hastened his plans for delousing and cleansing all arriving immigrants. At the same time Commissioner of Immigration Waltis went to Washington for a conference with labor department officials.

At the port quarantine station preparations were made by state officials to turn it over to federal control. The change, it was said, would make available a larger staff of physicians and inspectors. In this connection state health officials denied reports that a twelve-day detention period on incoming ships had been ordered.

Dr. Copeland today notified railroad officials at other ports to inform him when immigrants who disembark at those points prepare to start for New York, in order that inspectors may meet them here and examine them.

Greatest Steel Man in America says:

"You must build up your body if you want to build up your brain, or build up your business."

That's what Eugene G. Grace, President of the Bethlehem Steel Company, contends, who rose from the lowest ranks to his present position in which he draws a salary of $1,000,000 a year, and of whom Charles M. Schwab says "is the greatest steel man America has ever produced."

It's worth your while to ponder his words, for they contain a world of valuable advice, based, no doubt, upon his own experience in reaching the top round of success.

COTTON SHOWS SOME STRENGTH AFTER OPENING

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15.—Stronger from the opening, the cotton market today made a display of pronounced strength. Highest prices came late in the session when the active months were 58 to 59 points over the last quotations of yesterday. Thec lose was at gains of 51 to 55 points. Early gains were due to favorable cables from Liverpool and much of the demand in the late trading was caused by private messages from the English market reporting distinct improvement in Manchester. Reports from Washington that legislation affecting future trading had been shelved for this session of congress, claims of a better spot demand in Texas and the announcement that the recent government figures on the probable world's carry over of cotton at the end of this season were too high by 1,409,200 bales, owing to errors in calculations concerning the East Indian crop, were features that helped to keep the advance going.

There was much short covering, especially after rumors were heard that March shorts were getting out of their contracts because of indications that March tenders would not be as large as expected right along. The market had a firm undertone from start to finish.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The cotton market was more active today with prices on reports of an improvement in Liverpool and reduced figures on the world's available supply of all kinds for the season. The general market closed very steady at a net advance of 44 to 51 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 15 points on the firmer Liverpool cables and reports of a better spot demand in the English market. There was considerable southern and spot house selling at the start. The market became firmer during the middle of the day. There was some realizing in the late trading and last prices were a few points off from the best. A good deal of the business represented switching between months and it was reported that some of the interests who took up January cotton were buying March against sales of later deliveries. Port receipts today 18,032; United States port stocks 1,409,832; exports 15,725; exports so far this season 3,208,189.

READING IS FEATURED ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Trading in the stock market today was largely overshadowed by pressure against Reading issues. The common shares recorded an extreme decline of 5 points and the first and second preferred 3½s and 4¾ points respectively.

Heaviness of the Reading group, which later extended to the general list, left little doubt that the terms of the segregation ar distinctly disappointing to speculative interests as was the case with Southern Pacific several months ago.

Other noteworthy incidents of the session includes a vigorous advance in foreign exchange which caused British remittances to mount to their highest quotations so far this year and a court decision in Chicago which was calculated to further complicate the question of state and interstate railway rates.

The money market was unruffled, the only change of interest being the greater firmness of call loans at 7 per cent.

Reading general fours were among the active features of the bond market, making a substantial advance, but reacting later. Liberty bonds and other domestic issues were irregular with the prominent foreign flotations.

WINTER CROP FORECAST IS BULL FACTOR

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Uneasiness regarding the winter crop outlook led to a decided fresh advance today in the price of wheat. The market closed strong 4½ to 6¼c net higher, with March 1.75 to 1.75¼ and May 1.65 to 1.65¼. Corn gained 2¾ to 2¾, oats 1⅝ to 1¾c and provisions 15 to 55 cents.

At first the wheat market displayed considerable weakness, buyers showing a disposition to go slow; it being contended that bullish factors had been well discounted for. Later, however, reports became current that green bugs had been discovered in Kansas, a state that heretofore this season appeared to be immune from the pest. Moreover, actual damage from the bugs was reported in Texas. Active general buying followed and the market finished at about the topmost point of the day.

Corn met with increased demand, owing to wheat strength. Besides, export buying of corn remained in evidence. Oats were swayed upward by action of other grains.

Provisions went upward from the start, influenced by an advance in the price of hogs.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Issuance of new shares by the Anglo-Persian Oil company has been decided upon by the directorate of the new corporation, in which the British and French governments are financially interested, it is announced. Second preferred stock worth 5,000,000 pounds sterling will be placed on the market for the purpose of enabling the company to develop its plant and handle its largely increasing output and its distributing facilities after the end of next year, when its contracts with the Asiatic Petroleum company expire.

IMPORTANT CALL MEETING

Thursday Morning 9:00 o'clock, February 17.

All parties having any claims of any nature against the FEDERAL RECEIVER in the Red River Boundary case, or are interested in royalty or working interest in oil produced from this territory, are urged to attend an important meeting to be held in Judge Gwinn's court room at the courthouse, at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, February 17th.

It seems probable that prompt action may prevent the operators and others from suffering any direct loss by reason of the Receivership and they may be able to recover in full. The Court may hand down an opinion in this case on Feb. 28, and it is necessary that immediate action be taken to protect the interest of the operators, drillers and others who own property in the Receiver's area. It is hoped that a representative of every operator will attend this meeting.

A representative of the Chamber of Commerce will leave Wdneaday to co-operate with the committee in their efforts to land the 1923 convention, according to announcements made Tuesday.

The following firms will go represented in the "step lively" committee of Wichita Falls: P. B. M. company, Perkins-Timberlake company, Freeman-Black, Richardson Haberdashery and W. B. McClurkan company.

PLAN SURVEY OF MOUNT OVEREST

LONDON, Feb. 15.—"We shall not make use of aeroplanes for the reconnaissance of Mount Everett. It was impossible to make an aerial reconnaissance last year, and this year we shall have surveyors on the spot."

This announcement was made by Sir Francis Younghusband, who presided at a meeting of the Royal Geographical society, when he gave details of the expedition which is to attempt to scale the world's highest peak.

The conduct of the expedition, he added, would be in the hands of Col. Howard Bury, a great explorer of Asia, and one who could be relied on to preserve the good will of the Tibetans—and the actual reconnaissance of the mountain would be undertaken by Harold Raeburn.

BOYS FROM FIVE TO TEN CLASSED AS UNDESIRABLE

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 15.—Boys ranging from 5 to 10 years are most savage, least wanted and classed as "undesirable citizens," according to Wiley Mountjoy, chief deputy in Montana for the bureau of child and animal protection. He said that of all requests received by families who wish to adopt children, requests for boys of the age of 5 to 10 years are received most infrequently.

Mr. Mountjoy reviews the situation at length in his biennial report to the governor, which includes the observations of many years' experience in child welfare work.

"We are not often asked for boys between the ages of 5 and 10 years. They are considered in the 'savage state' and 'undesirable citizens. After a home is approved there comes the question of age, sex, nationality, religion and sometimes even the color of the hair and eyes are matters of serious consideration," he said.

Two Escape In Fighting With Police

Local police received information Tuesday that two automobiles stolen here recently had been recovered, one in Burkburnett and the other in Graham. The Buick touring car stolen from T. C. Franklin, 1313 Seventh street, was recovered in Burkburnett by Constable Lane. The officer approached the car in which were two young men. While asking the men about the car one of the men succeeded in making his escape. About to handcuff the other man he was fired on from a distance by the first. The second escaped while the officer was returning the fire.

The Oldsmobile car belonging to G. B. Honkont, 1317 Seventh street, stolen from in front of the Sacred Heart church Monday morning was recovered that night by officers at Graham. Officers from there were sent to that city to return the car.

A Hudson speedster stolen from in front of 1405 Grant street, belonging to Lloyd Weaver, local agent for the Hudson machine, had not been recovered at a late hour Tuesday night.

SEPARATION OF CRUDE IS PLANNED HERE

The shaving of oil prices and the increasing importance of the small margins in the oil game is likely to lead local operators to initiate a movement to secure the separation of Wichita county crude from the other Texas crudes and the crude run from other Mid-Continent fields in order to derive the benefit of its higher value, on account of its greater gasoline content, according to a well known local oil man.

The higher gasoline content in the oil of this district gives it an appreciably higher value than the Ranger and other central West Texas crudes, despite the greater recovery of lubricating stocks from those oils. Both have a higher value than the other crudes in the Mid-Continent. In fact, the greater recovery of gasoline in this district provided the margin which allowed many local refineries to come through when Oklahoma and other refineries were having to shut down during the time when crude prices were at their peak and the small refineries were having to pay premiums for their oil. This statement is made on the authority of a well known local refiner.

Has Been Considered.

A great many difficulties would have to be worked out if the crude from this district were handled in such a manner that the pipe line companies would be willing to pay a higher price—something they are not inclined to do while the crude is being run into their common stock in the Mid-Continent, even though the crude admittedly adds more to the full value of that common stock. But it is believed that a movement toward the end of an edge price as against the general price in the Mid-Continent will eventually produce results.

In fact, it is known here that the general office of one of the largest crude purchasers here has given not a little thought to this same problem, though without working out a definite plan as yet. The fact that the problem has been under consideration, is, however, regarded as a good omen, and one holding out possibility of a friendly attitude on the part of some of the larger companies in efforts between the producers and the pipe lines to work out a system making this higher price possible.

Humble Boost.

While most local oil men are at a loss to account for the 25-cent increase posted by the Humble on Ranger crude, after cutting with the rest to $1.75, and ascribe the move to various motives, from "camouflage" to a wish to set a higher value on its stored stocks of this oil, quite a number are inclined to attribute it to a willingness to recognize the higher value of this crude as applied to the general run of the crudes produced in the Mid-Continent section. They point out that the actual return from the crude oil in this district in refined products has an even higher value than that from Ranger and Breckenridge in asserting the possibility of securing higher prices here.

This matter did not receive serious attention on the part of operators during the time that Mid-Continent crude was at such a price, and its production allowed such a margin, that everyone was willing to overlook a margin of this kind.

Supply Exchange.

And, while operators are talking of having to watch their corners closer, many have expressed themselves as feeling that the move of the Chamber of Commerce to provide an exchange of used but still useable oil field supplies will effect a service of considerable value to the operators who cannot afford to purchase entirely new material at the unrevised Steel corporation schedule. Little decline has been made by the materials, except such as is on hand and can be purchased from the small supply houses and jobbers and other independents.

Large quantities of used supplies are in the hands of operators in this section, however, and it is believed that the local organization will perform a real service, both to the operator who has a surplus and the operator who needs materials, in bringing them together.

Wage adjustments in line with the new crude prices continue, principally on the part of the small companies. Only one of the large companies, however, has made a reduction so far, except the Standard Oil subsidiaries, who are affected by the action of this combination in discontinuing part of the 10 per cent bonus allowed several months ago. Other of the larger companies, it is expected, will revise their field schedules, but the revised schedules, expected some days ago, have not yet been received.
