FIFTEEN DIE IN CROSSING CRASHES

GRAND JURY PROBES RATLIFF HANGING

COOPERATION OF OFFICIALS GIVEN BODY

ACTION OF EASTLAND MOB CONDEMNED IN CITY TODAY

(By Associated Press)

EASTLAND, Nov. 21.—As a grand jury convened here today to investigate the lynching here Tuesday of Marshall Ratliff, Cisco "Santa Claus" bank robber, District Judge George Davenport instructed the body to "ferret out thoroughly the deplorable affair of Tuesday night and bring to [illegible] all persons who were in any way connected there-

The jury organized immediately, but arranged to recess this afternoon for the funeral of Tom A. Jones, peace officer whom Ratliff wounded fatally in an attempted jail break before the lynching. It was the attack on the officer that led to the hanging.

Judge Davenport reviewed the history of the Cisco bank robbery Dec. 24, 1927, and said no one had a right to complain of the legal manner in which prosecutions were handled.

Ratliff, who wore a Santa Claus costume in the Cisco bank robbery, when two officers and one robber was slain, had been sentenced to

STRESS LAID ON GOOD WILL

MERCHANTS TO PLAN GREATER PROGRAM IN TRADE AREA

One of the principal features of the meeting tomorrow night of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association will be the outlining of a program by the public relations committee for extending good will throughout this city's trade territory, T. A. White, president of the association, announced today.

Every citizen interesting in retail merchandising is being urged to attend the meeting, which will be held at 7:30 o'clock at the Hotel Lubbock. "It will be purely a business meeting; there will be no banquet," Mr. White explained.

The public relations committee is composed of B. Sherrod, chairman; J. A. Hodges, L. C. Ellis, J. W. Gamel, C. J. Meyers, George Moore, and S. C. Wilson. This group will meet tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock to discuss proposals for discussion at the evening meeting.

Names of members of the Christmas decorations committee were made public today. They are A. G. Hunt, Carl Patton, H. H. Jons, Jack Parsons and Sam Lightfoot. This committee will study plans of other cities in arriving at a program for dressing Lubbock up during the holidays.

WOMAN WILL FACE CHARGES IN CITY

Charged with theft and forgery, following arrest Wednesday afternoon in Sweetwater, Mrs. Charles Amos, 28, of Brownsville, will probably be brought before Justice of the Peace G. R. Scott tomorrow morning for an examining trial.

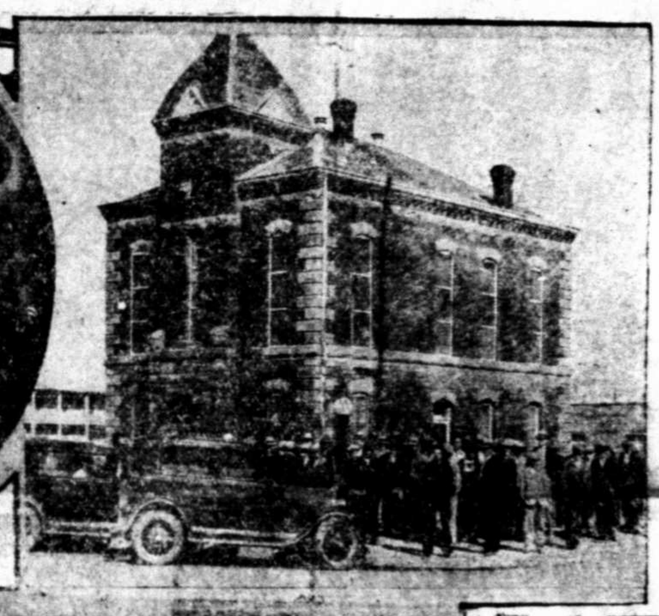

Mrs. Amos was arrested by I. F. Benedict, local deputy constable, following a four-days search. When arrested she was at a Sweetwater hotel in what officers termed a feigned semi-conscious condition." Following an examination, physicians said that the woman was able to be returned to this city.

She is alleged to have forged the name of T. F. Smith to a $4.35 check at the C. E. Stone company store last Friday. She is also charged with having taken out a $69.85 suit from the store on approval, without returning the merchandise.

Where The Courts Were Relieved Of Justice

Four Men Are Sent To Lubbock Prison

Following pleas of guilty, four accused men were sentenced to jail and assessed court costs in Lubbock county court this morning before Judge Robert H. Bean.

Antonio Ramirez, charged with theft of a coat, was sentenced to five days in jail and assessed cost, which amounts to $22.40.

Pleading guilty to theft of a gun, coat and other items, Manuel Lopez was sentenced to 20 days in jail and fined cost of the court.

Robert Gallardo, charged in connection with Lopez's offense, also drew a 20 days' sentence and was fined cost.

M. A. Dingle, pleading guilty to swindling, was sentenced to 20 days and was fined court cost.

Three Communists Face Convictions

ST. CLAIRESVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Three members of the Communist party today faced maximum sentences of 10 years imprisonment and fines of $5,000 as a result of their conviction of criminal syndicalism, the first case of its kind in Eastern Ohio.

The defendants, Tom Johnson and Miss Lillian Andrews of Cleveland and Charles Gwynn of Lansing, Ohio, were found guilty late yesterday after the jury deliberated only three minutes.

King Winter Hits Mid-West Area

TEMPERATURE IS 30 AT 2 O'CLOCK; SNOW FALLS IN STATE

While a gray canopy is releasing a light mist early this afternoon the South Plains is still in the throes of winter, the thermometer registering 30 degrees at 2 o'clock.

The mercury dropped as low as 27 degrees early this morning.

Bus drivers arriving at the union terminal report roads in good condition throughout the area.

TEXAS AREAS GET TASTE OF REAL SPELL

(By Associated Press)

Using snow and sleet for battering rams, winter made another assault on some sections of West and North Texas today, and indicated it would attack others before nightfall.

Snow was reported in numerous places as near freezing temperatures were recorded.

Snow At Amarillo

The first snow of the season fell at Gainesville, while at Amarillo the eighth such happening occurred, bringing the total fall in the Panhandle city for the season to 7.2 inches. Except in sheltered places, the flakes at Gainesville melted.

Snow also fell at Sherman, Borger, Sweetwater, Wichita Falls and Longview.

Heavy flakes fell in Dallas for half an hour, following a drizzling rain last night.

SNOW AT LAMESA

LAMESA, Nov. 21—(Special)—The first snow of the season fell lightly over the Lamesa section this morning, following a rain last night.

FREEZING AT PAMPA

OIL MAGNATE IS FREE MAN

SINCLAIR IS RELEASED FROM JAIL TODAY; HAS STATEMENT

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Harry F. Sinclair today laid aside the compulsory duties of pharmacist at the District of Columbia jail for the freedom of leisure of a multi-millionaire oil baron and proprietor of racing horses.

His sentences for contempt of court and of the senate arising from oil scandals of the Harding administration were completed last night at midnight, and a few minutes later he emerged from the jail, to be greeted by a few close friends and hasten at once to the Mayflower hotel where Mrs. Sinclair awaited him.

Plans Indefinite

His plans were somewhat indefinite, but he expected to go first to New Jersey, where the stock farm of the Rancocas stables is located, and then to his Long Island home and New York office.

The booming flash lights of newspaper photographers hailed his emergence from the jail, and reporters clustered about him for a statement.

Has Nothing To Say

TWENTY-EIGHT DROWNED BY TIDE

TRURO, N. S., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Twenty-eight persons were reported to have drowned on the Burin, N. F., peninsular tidal wave which accompanied Monday's earthquake, according to private advices received here today.

The wave was between 40 and 50 feet high. Eleven houses with 16 occupants were swept into the sea at Burin. Other drownings along the southern New Foundlan coast were reported but unconfirmed.

Senator Watson Is Defendant In Suit

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov 21.—(AP)—United States Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, was named defendant today in a suit for $100,000 damages for libel filed in federal court here by Ralph B. Bradford, former county official and politician, growing out of the Federal grand jury inquiry into corruption in Lake county.

BORGER MEN ON WAY BACK TO STINNETT

BURTON 'HEADS NORTH' FROM CLEBURNE WITH TWO PRISONERS

(By Associated Press)

CLEBURNE, Nov. 21.—Deputy Sheriff M. Burton of Hutchinson county today "headed north" from here with Jim Hodges and Sam Jones, indicted for the murder of District Attorney John A. Holmes at Borger Sept. 13. The men were handcuffed as they left.

Burton arrived with the two men last night, and when he left this morning said the men were being "taken to Stinnett."

Asked concerning investigation of the Holmes slaying, Burton said "information is very satisfactory." The deputy sheriff has covered a large part of central Texas recently trying to keep Jones and Hodges with him without outside interference, he said.

CALHOUN UNDECIDED ON ACTION IN CASE

STINNETT, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Opinion that the state would not unduly contest bonds for Sam Jones and Jim Hodges Saturday at a habeas corpus hearing was prevalent here today.

District Attorney Clem Calhoun, who returned here last night to assist the grand jury which he expected would return several indictments, first said he did not expect to fight attempts by the prisoners to make bonds, but later said he was not decided exactly what he would do. He admitted Jones and Hodges were subject to bond, the amount of which would be left to the jurisdiction of the court.

CITY PLANNER GETS HEARING

BCD COMMITTEE HEARS DENVER ENGINEER HERE TODAY

Members of the Board of City Development committee on city planning continued today to grind toward a solution of their problem in a meeting, held this morning at the city hall, during which Arthur H. Carhart, Denver, member of the city planning firm of McCrary, Cully and Carhart, was heard in recommendations.

The meeting this morning was another of the sessions being held by the committee with city planners anxious to secure a contract for the carrying on of the Lubbock project. Yesterday the committee conferred with Major E. A. Wood, Dallas, consultant in the Dallas project, and also the author of several other Texas city plans.

Members of the committee include George E. Benson, J. B. Max-

Whalen Urges Laws Covering Aviators

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Regulations to prohibit any but experienced pilots from flying planes over Manhattan were demanded today by Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen as the result of the fall of a plane in West 64th street, near Central Park.

Charles I. Reid, 34 years old, amateur pilot, was killed, and his passenger, Robert Bailie, 23, saved himself by a parachute leap yesterday when the plane crashed against the fourth story setback of a new Y. M. C. A. building.

Harrison Attacks Critics Of Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Republicans and democrats in the Senate struck out today at critics of the Senate and more particularly at those who would blame Congress for the recent stock market collapse, the debate including an attack by Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, upon the "propaganda" disseminators for President Hoover.

DALLAS SMASH IS FATAL FOR FIVE WOMEN; TWO KILLED AT CISCO AS SNOW HIDES TRAIN

FIVE IN ONE FAMILY KILLED IN TENNESSEE AND THREE KANSANS PAY WITH LIVES IN CRASH

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 21.—His vision apparently affected by a heavy fall of snow, the first of the season, a negro chauffeur today drove an automobile into the side of a railroad motor car on the outskirts of Dallas, killing five women passengers and seriously injuring himself.

After much difficulty, four of the victims were positively identified as Mrs. Charles Clark, 42, Mrs. A. P. Grider, 41, and Mrs. G. R. Grider, 65, all of Leonard, and Mrs. Dolly King, 39, Fort Worth, and Mrs. H. S. Pendergrass, 65, of Leonard.

The chauffeur was taken to a hospital there he gave his name as Robert Guess. He said he was employed by A. P. Grider, of Leonard.

The women left Leonard early today for Fort Worth, where they were to have attended a luncheon given by Mrs. Hubb Diggs.

The accident occurred about five miles east of Dallas, the automobile apparently skidding on slippery pavement into the motor car, bound from Dallas to Paris. The motor car belonged to the Santa Fe railway company.

The automobile was dragged through a cattle guard and demolished. All of the victims were mutilated save the chauffeur.

All of the women were of prominent Fort Worth and Leonard families.

A. T. McClasang, motorman, said his car was nearly across the highway crossing when he heard the automobile crash into its side. He brought his car to a stop as quickly as possible, and assisted in removing the victims.

FIVE OTHERS KILLED

JACKSBORO, Tenn., Nov. 21. (AP)—W. H. Metzler, a coal miner, his wife, two daughters and a son were killed instantly today when their automobile was struck at a railroad crossing by a Louisville and Nashville passenger train, en route from Knoxville to Corbin, Ky.

HIS HATRED IS STRONGER NOW

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—More than ever, Charles Loso hates policemen.

Loso had a flat tire yesterday. It happened at a busy intersection. He stopped, jacked up the wheel and heedless of traffic went to work.

Policeman William Sackweh did not know Loso hated cops. He approached Loso and told him to get his apple cart, or words to that effect, out of the way.

"I do not like policemen," said Loso, and cracked Sackweh with the jack handle.

Later Judge Max Luster fined Loso $100 and sent him to jail for 30 days. In jail, the court told Loso, one could hate policemen all one wanted to, but couldn't do anything about it.

LEADERS TALK CHARITY PLAN

MAJORS AND CAPTAINS HOLD CONFERENCE ON CHEST CAMPAIGN

Majors and captains of the men's territorial team, under direction of Colonel G. P. Kuykendall, formulated further plans for the $30,000 community chest budget drive to be conducted here December 3 to 6 when they met this morning in the city hall council room for nomination of lieutenants.

"Although scores of persons have been named for positions as lieutenants, we will not be ready to make announcements until we obtain acceptances," said Mr. Kuykendall.

Leader Gratified

"I have been gratified with the unified effort manifested by those selected to aid me in the campaign," he continued. "We are confident that a strong organization will be built and there is no doubt in our mind as to success of the campaign."

Body Of Good Will Reach Home Today

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 21.—(AP)—James W. Good, who went eastward to a political career in Washington two decades ago, comes home today for the last time—honored in death with all the ceremonial tribute due a member of the Cabinet.

The body of the War secretary, accompanied by Mrs. Good, her two sons and close relatives, arrives in Cedar Rapids late today. Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams is with Mrs. Good as the representative of President Hoover. Members of the Senate and War Department staff compose the rest of the funeral party.

Mitchell Is Given Stock Slump Blame

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the board of National City bank, of New York, was blamed in the senate today by Senator Glass, democrat, of Virginia, for a leading part in the stock market collapse while senate leaders of all factions assailed those who were putting the responsibility on the doorstep of congress.

NEW ROUTE TO CITY SOUGHT

FLOYD COUNTY WANTS MORE DIRECT ROAD TO LUBBOCK

Proposal for opening of a road from Idalou through Petersburg and through Floyd county was discussed yesterday aftern oon at Lockney, where Lubbock County Judge Robert H. Bean and Commissioner W. L. Brashear conferred with William McGehee, Floyd county judge, and several citizens of that county.

At the meeting was a committee from the Lockney Chamber of Commerce and several Floydada citizens.

"We're promised cooperation in plans for the new route," said Judge Bean. "The Floyd county citizens seemed equally anxious to have a new and more direct route into this city. It is likely that a unified program will be started for the new road."

BIDS ON BONDS TO BE UP DECEMBER 6

Bids will be received here December 6 on sale of Lubbock's $650,000 bonds, voted here 10 weeks ago for purpose of erecting a new high school structure, A. C. Jackson, secretary of the Board of Education, announced today.

Members of the school board will have the privilege of accepting or rejecting any or all bids, it was explained.

Plans and specifications for the new structure will be finished within the next two weeks, the architect firm of Peters, Strange & Bradshaw announced.

Twenty-five members of the Hi-Y organization of Lubbock High School will attend the older boys conference at the state meeting in Amarillo December 6, 7, and 8, R. W. Mathews, principal, announced today.

EX-GROCERY CLERK WHO MADE SELF ONE OF THE NATION'S GREAT FINANCIERS MAY HEAD NEW INTERNATIONAL BANK

BY BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 21—A former country boy who spent his days behind the counter in a little grocery store in Texas and meanwhile burned the midnight oil to study law at night school that he might prepare himself for the future, now stands a fair way to become head of a world-wide banking organization.

He is Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, who, his friends here believe, is soon to be named president of the

Mr. Traylor is a brother of Mrs. A. B. Brown, 2308 17th street, and an uncle of C. M. Traylor, member of the Avalanche-Journal staff.

Bank of International Settlements, that vast financial organization to be set up in Europe to handle Germany's war reparations payments to the world. Traylor is now in Europe and it is recalled that Owen D. Young, author of the plan and his close personal friend, visited Chicago last summer, supposedly to persuade Traylor to accept the office.

The "Young Plan" for the settlement of reparations, put into a form acceptable to all parties at the recent Hague conference, includes a project for the International Bank, capitalized at $100,000,000. The institution's purpose is to take the reparations question out of politics, put it on a sound business basis, collect the payments made by Germany and distribute them among the creditor nations.

World-Wide Influence

It is to collect approximately a half billion dollars a year in annuities and bids fair, in time to become one of the most powerful financial organizations in the world through its influence on foreign exchange.

The man whom Chicago feels certain will be chosen as the head of this gigantic institution has had a typically American career, working his way up the ladder of success.

Born near the little town of Breeding, Ky., 51 years ago, Traylor still has the trace of the south in his speech and there is a Kentucky angularity about his wiry and muscular figure. Golf has kept him in the pink of physical trim.

There were not enough books to go around in the little country school that Traylor attended, so the pupils exchanged them. When classes were finished, there were the chores at home to do.

When 20, Traylor went to Hillsboro, Texas, and became a clerk in a grocery store. He decided to become a lawyer and at night he studied law books by the aid of a kerosene lamp. In three years he was able to pass the bar examination.

Clients were few, but the struggling young attorney fortunately got a job as city clerk. Three years later he was appointed county attorney. Then, in 1907, destiny stepped in and turned his career to banking. He became cashier of the Bank of Malone, Texas, and two years later when it was merged with the Citizens' National Bank of Ballinger he became president of the combined institutions.

It would be rather trite to say that Melvin A. Traylor has had "a career like that of a Horatio hero," but nothing could be closer to the truth. He worked as a grocery clerk by day and studied law at night—and now he's president of one of the ten largest banks in the United States and prospective president of the "world bank" to be set up in Europe to handle the German reparations payments.

This lasted only two years. The National Stock Yards Bank of East St. Louis, Ill., with which the Ballinger bank had dealings, soon saw he was a young man of energy and ability. So they brought him to East St. Louis and made him vice-president. Three years later, in 1914, he went to Chicago as vice-president of the Live Stock Exchange National Bank. Later he became president.

Heads Big Chicago Bank

In 1916 Traylor left the stock yards district for the loop to become president of the First Trust & Savings Bank. Not long ago the First National Bank acquired this bank and the Union Trust as well. This brought about a $600,000,000 institution and one of the ten biggest banks in the United States. And, naturally enough, Melvin A. Traylor was made president of the consolidated institution.

Just about the time he was leaving Hillsboro to go to Malone to begin his banking career, Traylor met and married Miss Dorothy Arpold Yerby. They have three children, Nancy, Frances and Melvin A. jr., whose pictures hang over his desk in the First National Bank here.

During the World War he contributed his services as director of sales for the U. S. Treasury Department's Certificates of Indebtedness in the Seventh Federal Reserve District. He is a member of numerous Chicago clubs and a director in many big corporations, including the General Electric company and the National Broadcasting company.

He is a former president of the United States Golf association, having been elected to that office in 1928, although he had never played a game of golf in his life until 1923.

Three Teachers Are Added Tahoka Group

TAHOKA, Nov. 2 (Special)—With an increase of over one hundred students, the Tahoka public schools have been forced to add three additional teachers to her faculty, bringing the total number to twenty-six. The enrollment is expected to pass well beyond the eight hundred mark before the close of the school year.

Youth Must Serve Seven Years In Pen

TAHOKA, Nov. 21 (Special)—Leon Stanley, who has been given a two-year penitentiary sentence for forgery by a Garza county jury, must now serve seven years in imprisonment. Stanley was tried here about six months ago, found guilty and given a five-year suspended sentence. Later, a like charge was filed against him in Garza county and as the result of the conviction there he must also serve the five years assessed in Lynn county.

Wood Block Given Tahoka High School

TAHOKA, Nov. 21 (Special)—A block of wood made from the timbers of the wood trusses which were removed from the roof of the White House at the time it was remodeled two years ago has been presented the Tahoka high school as a souvenir. The block will be preserved and kept as a permanent display at the school, according to B. M. Hays, principal.

COTTON LOST IN FIRE LAST NIGHT

Forty-three bales of cotton were damaged, resulting in an undetermined loss when a box car caught afire last night about 9:30 o'clock on the Santa Fe tracks near the freight depot.

Officials of the railway company said that they could make no announcement as to the owners of the cotton explaining that about six persons had placed small shipments in the lot. It will requre considerable time to trace the owners, said a clerk.

An investigation has been made into the incident, but cause of the fire has not been dtermined.

Harmony Results In Republicans' Meet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Members of the republican senatorial campaign committee met last night with their charman, Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, for the first time and a harmony session was reported.

The six committee members are all members of the "young guard" of republican regulars who have been reported in some quarters as seeking to dislodge the old guard leaders but they all emerged smiling and Chairman Moss declared the three hour session found "us at least knee deep in harmony." If any attention was given to his characterization of the western independents as the "sons of the wild jackass" it was not reported.

Ralls Woman Was Buried Wednesday

RALLS, Nov. 21.—Mrs. W. F. Finch, 44, died at her home one mile west of Ralls Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church of Ralls at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday with Rev. Tommie Dunn, Primitive Baptist minister, of Crosbyton officiating. Interrment will be made in the Ralls cemetery.

Mrs. Finch had been ill for several months. She is survived by her husband, W. F. Finch, four daughters and three sons.

Imagine your Motor

Constantly immersed in Oil
That, in effect, is what happens when you fill your crank case with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil--none of its hundreds of moving parts are ever without lubrication.
CONOCO

Per Quart - for All Grades Except Special Heavy and Extra Heavy
A MOTOR OIL, to do a 100% job, must lubricate all the time. That means that it should provide a lubricating film at every stage of motor operation including starting when the engine's cold. In other words, the motor should have a perpetual oil bath.
And that's exactly what happens when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil for the very good reason that this super-lubricant because of the patented germ process by which it is produced, actually combines with the bearing surfaces to form a film which adheres indefinitely. It never leaves the bearings—and that means constant lubrication.
Think of the saving this means to the motoring public! Automotive engineers estimate that from 40% to 60% of the destructive wear and tear on a motor is caused in the starting operation because, with ordinary oil in the crankcase, the moving parts have no lubricating film when the engine is cold—and the oil is not distributed until 5 or 10 minutes after starting. Imagine the abuse to the engine during these periods of running with absolutely no lubrication! No wonder Conoco Germ Processed Oil is hailed as the revolutionizing motor lubricant. Its "carry-over" film has solved the greatest lubrication problem of the day. It assures longer life and smoother operation in any motor where it is used.
And never forget that to produce Conoco Germ Processed Oils the exclusive germ essence principle is applied to only carefully selected paraffin base crudes, resulting in a lubricant with greater film strength, greater adhesiveness, greater tenacity, greater stamina and lower friction than any other oil on the American market.
Draw up to the Conoco Red Triangle and give your motor a perpetual oil bath. Ask for Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

WOOL CO-OP IS CREATED

CENTRAL SALES AGENCY IS FORMED BY WOOL MEN OF NATION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Under guidance of the farm board, the wool and mohair cooperative associations of the country have formed a central sales agency to be known as the National Wool Marketing association.

Articles of incorporation by law, and marketing agreements for the organization, the board announced today, were approved at a meeting of the organization committee in San Angelo, Texas, with C. B. Denman, a member of the farm board, present.

Arrangements also are being made by the farm board to finance growers through existing co-operative associations, while the national wool marketing association is working to coordinate and strengthen state and regional wool and mohair marketing associations. this will be done through pre-shearing advances to ranchers. Money also will be loaned through cooperatives on unsold wool and mohair.

L. B. Palmer, of Columbus, Ohio, president of the Ohio wool growers cooperative assocation will be the president of the new sales organization, Roger Gillis, of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association, of Del Rio, Texas, is vice president; and B. M. Wilson of the Wyoming Wool Cooperative Marketing association, of McKinley, Wyoming, is secretary-treasurer.

An executive committee and a board of directors was selected from widely scattered groups of wool and mohair marketing and growing associations.

The new organization is the second to be formed under the guidance of the farm board, the first being the Farmers National Grain corporation.

SAN ANGELO SESSION TO ACT ON NEW PLAN

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Delegates to the annual convention of the national wool growers association prepared to act today on the National Wool Marketing plan formulated by the association's special committee of fifteen cooperating with the Federal Farm Board.

The plan has been called "a practical and workable one," by C. B. Denman, member of the farm board who is attending the convention. President F. J. Hagenbarth of the wool growers association urged delegates to let no minor details stand in the way of ratification of the proposed million dollar national wool marketing association.

Makes Stable Prices

The wool growers, Denman said, "should be able to enjoy a more stable price through the marketing association's storing, financing and ultimate sale of next season's crop." He said the plan should appeal to the big, as well as the small producer.

Hagenbarth urged adoption of the proposed plan so wool growers would no longer "play second fiddle to Wall Street."

Following talks by Denman, Hagenbarth and Governor Moody, who welcomed the delegates at the opening of the convention yesterday, standing committees were announced, and the new marketing association plan was read and explained.

HOUSES AGREE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The House today agreed to the Senate's plan to adjourn the extra session of Congress sine die Friday.

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

Look at your TONGUE every morning!

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

HOOVER COMPLETES APPOINTMENT OF NAVAL CONFERENCE DELECATES; U. S. TO HAVE SEVEN OFFICIALS IN PARLEY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—President Hoover today completed the American delegation to the London naval conference by appointing Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy and Ambassadors Charles G. Dawes, Dwight W. Morrow and Hugh S. Gibson.

This increases to seven the number of the American delegates, Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, already having been designated chairman and Senators Reed, of Pennsylvania, and Robinson, of Arkansas, as members.

A state department announcement of the new appointments reiterated that Admiral William V. Pratt, commander in chief of the United States fleet, and Read Admiral Hilary P. Jones, retired, would be the chief naval advisers to the delegation. This disposed of various published reports that Admiral Jones would decline the president's appointment.

INVESTIGATION URGED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Investigation by the House expenditures committee into lobbyists and lobbying associations and their revenues and expenditures was asked in a resolution introduced today by Representative Schafer, republican, Wisconsin.

Verdict In Korn's Suit Likely Today

The jury is expected to return a verdict some time this afternoon in 59th district court in the case of Oscar Korn, of Slaton, versus William Hoefs, of Fort Stockton, a suit seeking specific performance of contract, involving the alleged sale of $170,000 worth of theater property.

Argument in the case was completed shortly after 2 o'clock.

Korn, charging failure to deliver property after purchase agreement had been entered into, is also seeking $10,000 damages.

Theaters involved are located at Slaton, Plainview, Crane, Wink and Fort Stockton

ANNUAL SALE OF SEALS SCHEDULED

With the approach of the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, thoughts turn toward the remembrance of loved ones and toward the distribution of relief funds to the underprivileged and less fortunate in life.

The holiday season for the year has been chosen by the Texas Public Health association for the annual Christmas seal sale for the relief of those suffering with tuberculosis in Texas during the coming year.

Starts On Thanksgiving

Distribution of 32,000,000 seals will be started over the state on Thanksgiving Day and will continue until Christmas. These seals will be sold through 28 local associations affiliated with the Texas Public Health association and through volunteer chairmen in 80 counties where no local associations are funtioning.

The association will send 60,000 letters containing seals to individual in all other counties of Texas where the Texas Public Health association is not represented. These letters will be mailed out of the Austin headquarters of the association on Thanksgiving Day.

Through an agreement with the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis association, the Christmas seal sale will not conflict with the annual Red Cross roll call. No official connection exists between these two welfare organizations.

Dr. Sutton Stresses Health To Students

Stressing a health program in public schools, Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta, Ga., schools, spoke twice yesterday at the Lubbock High school.

In his first address, Dr. Sutton made an appeal for body cleanliness and observance of health measures before the student assembly. Following the talk to students, the educator addressed 40 to 50 patrons of Lubbock schools.

Dries Up Colds In a Few Hours

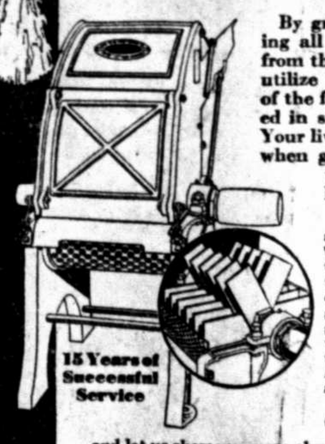

The most disagreeable and embarrassing part of a cold is that constant, nasal discharge, which you can now stop in a few hours with Aspironal, the latest and most scientific "Liquid Cold Remedy."

Aspironal is guaranteed to stop the irritation that causes sneezing and nasal discharges; dispel the congestion and relieve grippy, neuralgic pains, at the same time causing a gentle and complete evacuation of the liver and bowels. All druggists carry and guarantee Aspironal, the largest selling liquid cold remedy in the world. (adv.)

Grinds any Feed at Low Cost

A W-W Feed Grinder grinds and mixes everything from the ground up, with lightning speed—separately or together. CHINESE IN WAR OUTBREAK

REBELLION IN CHINA IS AGAIN IN FURY; ADVANCES MADE

SHANGHAI, Nov. 21.—Severe fighting between loyal notionalist troops and the rebellious Kuominchun, or "peoples army," continues without decisive victory for either side.

The Kuominchun has penetrated Hupeh province and captured Siang-Yang, advancing down the Hankiang toward Hankow. Meanwhile the center of interest has shifted to Canton where the revolution "ironsides" regiment has once more invaded Kwangsi province.

Other Troops Join

A number of other disaffected troops have joined them, the combined force capturing Wuchow and preparing to advance against Canton. It was understood here Chen Ming-Shu, governor of Canton, had telegraphed Nanking asking aid, but it seems Chiang Kai Shek, president, was unable to spare any troops for defense of Canton without risking loss of Hankow.

Cheng Ming-Shu was wounded when a bomb was thrown at him at midnight. A woman was arrested charged with attempted assassination.

NATIONALISTS REPORT SUCCESSFUL ADVANCE

HANKOW, Nov. 21. (AP)—The nationalist government today announced its forces had occupied Loyang, Honan province, and President Chiang Kait-Shek had ordered a concentration of troops at Tsao-Yang, Hupeh province, in preparation for an advance westward against the rebellious "people's party" forces.

The Kuominchun were reported to have made "sharp advances" from Stankyang and Fanchang, thirty miles from Tsaoyang, and to stop the advance toward Hankow Chiang was believed to have ordered many ing the bodies from the wreckage.

He said it was snowing at the time and thought it probably the chauffeur, unfamiliar with the highway, did not realize the danger until too late to stop his car.

No Eye Witness

As far as could be learned there was no eye-witness to the crash, although several men in the vicinity heard the collision and reached the scene a few minutes later.

All but one of the women, Mrs. Clark, were killed instantly. She died on the way to a hospital.

Guess recovered consciousness long enough to disclose his identity and that of his employer, but gave no details of the accident. He was expected to recover.

The bodies lay for several hours in undertaking morgues before they were identified. Through personal effects found in the wreckage, relatives were located and started for Dallas immediately.

Bodies Identified

Dr. M. B. Fry of Dallas, nephew of Mrs. King, was the first to reach a morgue where four of the bodies were removed. He immediately identified the bodies of his aunt and Mrs. G. R. Grider.

The crossing where the accident occurred was opened to view on either side, but the railroad tracks were at the bottom of an incline in the highway, down which the Grider automobile was going.

An ambulance from Leonard started for Dallas to return the victims of that city.

SAN DIEGOANS ARE DEAD AT CISCO

CISCO, Nov. 21. (AP)—A man and woman, believed to be Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Davis, of San Diego, Calif., were killed today as their touring car was struck by the Texan, fast east-bound passenger train of the Texas and Pacific, near Cisco.

VICTIM'S HUSBAND IS SICK IN BED

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21. (AP)—E. G. King, oil man, was sick in bed from a nervous breakdown when notified his wife was among five women killed in an automobile crash near Dallas today. He said Mrs. King was en route to Fort Worth to meet him and she had been visiting relatives in Leonard.

While Mrs. King was out of the city, King was staying at the Westbrook hotel. He remained confined to his bed. His daughter, Mrs. Tom Watson, Mineral Wells, was reported en route to her father's bedside.

The Kings have lived in Fort Worth for the last 14 years.

THREE ARE KILLED IN CRASH IN KANSAS

INDEPENDENCE, Kas., Nov. 21. (AP)—Three persons were dead today and two dangerously injured as the result of a collision last night between a motor car and a freight locomotive one half mile west of here.

The dead are William Keck, W. A. Long, 60, and Mrs. Sherman Springer, 60. All lived at Independence. Mrs. Springer's husband, 61, and Mrs. Keck were injured.

Mr. Keck, who was driving the car, had been warned not to drive a motor car because of deafness.

HOTEL COMPANY TO BUY STATIONS

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Contract for the sale of radio stations KGDR of San Antonio and KUT of Austin for $37,500 was approved Wednesday by Judge Anderson in the 37th district court on the application of William C. Church, who was appointed receiver for the Miam Radio company recently on the petition of the Radio Equipment company of Texas.

Church, in his application, said he has an opportunity for the sale of the two stations to the Rice Hotel of Houston, and that it was the best offer he had received.

The contract calls for the removal of KUT, a 500-watt station, to the Rice Hotel in Houston, and the San Antonio station will be taken to Austin wheer it will be operated by the hotel company.

Men-Of-The-Church Honor Wives At Banquet On Wednesday

One Hundred Thirty Attend Function; Thanksgiving Theme Used In Program

Entertainment by the Ladies' Trio a Thanksgiving address by Dean J. M. Gordon and talks by the Rev. W. K. Johnson and Dr. Jack M. Lewis featured a program for the turkey banquet given by Men-of-the-Church to honor their wives Wednesday evening in the basement of the First Presbyterian church. One hundred thirty attended the function.

The tables were made attractive with bowls filled with orchid and white chrysanthemums and a delicious two-course meal was served by girls from the intermediate department of the Sunday school.

J. J. Clements was master of ceremonies and arranged an interesting Thanksgiving program. The Rev. W. K. Johnson led the opening prayer, which was followed by a song "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," and a discussion, "A Glance at Home Missions," also by the Rev. Johnson.

The Ladies' Trio, composed of Mesdames J. M. Lewis, J. H. Howze, and H. E. Blocker, sang a vocal selection "When Twilight Weaves," by Beethoven. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. J. von Tungeln.

Dean James M. Gordon, dean of the school of liberal arts at Texas Technological college, delivered the Thanksgiving address. Following the talk, a number of guests expressed gratitude for the year and the pastor, Dr. Jack M. Lewis, made a three-minute speech and offered the closing prayer.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames O. V. Adams, R. W. Amick, H. E. Blocker, H. H. Bidwell, F. D. Biedsoe, J. W. Boyd, George C. Cooper, J. J. Clements, John R. Coon, H. A. Davidson, A. B. Davis, W. L. HANDS IMPORTANT TO GOOD GROOMING

Claire Luce . . . "the hands speak eloquently."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Claire Luce, noted stage beauty, discusses beautifying of the hands today. This is the fourth of a series of six articles on "New Modes in Beauty" which she has written for The Journal and NEA Service.

BY CLAIRE LUCE

Written for NEA Service

Not only do the palms of the hands convey the past or future.

The tops of the hands, terminating in nails that were given to us perfectly groomed at birth, speak eloquently of care or neglect.

How many times do we observe women who are carefully dressed from hat to shoes, with glowing complexions, and well kept hair, who seek to hide their hands beneath their napkins at the luncheon table?

It isn't just the woman of leisure today who boasts of beautifully kept hands. Science is showing the housewife how to dispense with that rough, red look that comes from putting the hands in severely hot water and using soaps with heavy lye foundations. Rubber gloves, worn when getting into corners with the dust-mop, also help to preserve the soft texture and whiteness of the hands.

An Oatmeal Remedy

I recall advice given several years ago by an older woman to one who was about to start housekeeping. This woman had done the family chores for years and yet had hands as white as any prima-donna's. They had been kept in this condition, she said, by keeping a bag of ordinary oatmeal close to the basin, and when she was through with her dish-washing, she would rub some of the oatmeal into her hands, thus bleaching out the discoloration caused by the hot water.

Unless a woman is very stout, she does not have the plump, dimpled hands that one admires so on a baby but which are not so sought after later on in life. Rather, the hands are the first telltale talisman of age. Unless they are well nourished with creams or oils, they shrivel up and wrinkle just as the face does. The good old-fashioned mixture of glycerine and rose water is an excellent tonic, particularly in cold weather when they are likely to chap from exposure. However, in this day and age, when warm suede gloves are procurable, it is quite unnecessary for anyone to expose hands, and particularly wrists, to the elements.

Hair Complements Face

The nails should be treated in relation to the hands, as the hair is dressed as a complement to the face. Their length and shape depends upon whether the hands are square or long, whether the fingers taper or are short and stubby. An extremely long, pointed nail is slightly out of place on a short, pudgy hand, but by modifying the length and shaping them gradually to a point, the fingers may take on a longer, graceful appearance. The tall, willowy type with slender hands may go in for the very long nails because they accentuate her type. She, however, must see that they do not resemble talons.

The color chosen for a polish must harmonize with one's own coloring. A dark, colorful woman may choose a slightly darker hue for her nails without attracting too much attention, where the woman who goes in for a pale make-up will over-accentuate her hands if she chooses a nail polish that is too ruddy. On the whole, however, it is best to avoid a polish that is too red or too orange in tone, for they are not in good taste, particularly in the daytime when the light is harsh and distorts color values.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Recently I pleaded in this column for mothers to let their married children work out their own problems without interference from them.

Now it is the turn of the young woman to have a scolding.

Don't try to run your in-laws, girls. They managed to worry along before you entered the family, and probably can do so now. You'll only get yourself disliked. Run your own home and insist that no one meddle with you—although, of course, kindly advice should not be scorned.

Even if you think your husband is being imposed upon by his family, don't be eternally harping on it and making him feel it. Better that he be too good to them than thoughtless and hateful. Just see to it that you don't impose on him. That's your job.

LINDOLA: I think you are making a good deal of a mountain out of a molehill, my dear. Even if they do impose on the boy friend's good nature, better that than that he be indifferent to his family. Drop the whole matter. Make up your mind that it is none of your business, and that as the relations between you and his family are so harmonious now, that you will do nothing to spoil them.

* * *

PUZZLED MARY A.: Why not tell the parents about it, dear, and then answer the boy's letter? You'll feel better, and I am sure they won't object if you tell them how nice he is.

* * *

LOVESICK BOBBIE: I suppose the usher likes the looks of you, as you do him, Bobbie. You'll probably have several of these little affairs if you live to grow up. They are not very serious. I don't know, I'm sure, how you could get to know him unless you have mutual acquaintances to introduce you. It is his place to seek the introduction if he wishes it, however, according to all the rules of the game. Glad my former advice was satisfactory.

* * *

LONESOME: No need to try to find out whether the man is in love with you, Lonesome. He certainly wouldn't let two or three months go by without seeking a date if he was. Better not spend much time worrying about him, my dear. Perk up and set your cap for some other chap. He may decide to come back if you act as if you didn't care. It sometimes happens so.

* * *

A BLONDE: My dear girl, don't be a door mat for the boys or you'll never have boy friends. Keep your pictures until someone who really cares for you wants one. Don't say anything to the boy friend about the small ones you foolishly gave him. If you can't forget him, at least don't let him see that you think of him continually.

UNHAPPY: If you have begged your husband to stop drinking and pointed out to him that he is a bad example to the boys and that he and they are missing the companionship they might have, there is little more you can do, Unhappy, dear.

The person who has the drink craving must have a strong desire to stop and realize where it is leading him or else efforts to help him are futile. Doctors are now considering the diet of drink patients to see if there is a possibility of a deficiency in the food that causes the craving for drink. Have you studied foods to see that your family diet is properly balanced? That the proper elements are included in what you give them to eat—mineral elements, protein, vitamins, etc.

If you would send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents (coin) I could send you a pamphlet on this subject that is compiled by a doctor, or you could get a book on the subject from your library. It might be interesting and might do some good.

Am glad you have decided to stop quarreling. It does more harm than good.

I wish I could be more comforting in my advice, but am afraid all I can say is you must enjoy the companionship of your boys, and the movies once a week. There are interesting books you can read that will help you spend your evenings pleasantly and profitably, and there is always hope that your husband will change his way of living and then you will be happy. Have faith that this will come about.

TOTSY: Yes, it would be all right to write and ask the boy why he has stopped writing. It is not necessary to ask him for your picture. If you continue to correspond you can mention casually sometime that you are "heart whole and fancy free," as the saying goes.

* * *

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: Could you please let me know where I could obtain a state highway map of the United States? Thanks.

"EMMA."

Go to the automobile club, Emma. If they can't give you one they can probably tell you where to get one.

Turkey Dinner Is Fete For Birthday

J. B. Jackson, 716 Avenue J, was complimented on his 69th birthday yesterday when his daughters surprised him with a turkey dinner served in his home.

ELLISONS UP FOR SLAYING

SEVERANCE OBTAINED IN TRIAL; DEFENSE IS THWARTED

(By Associated Press)

LLANO, Nov. 21—Defense efforts to postpone the murder trial of D. K. Ellison and his son, B. F. Ellison, charged with slaying L. C. Calloway on the public square here last September, have failed. The defense succeeded, however, in obtaining severance, and the son, B. F. Ellison went to trial first.

Witnesses were dismissed until Friday when it is hoped the jury will be completed. Three jurors acceptable to both sides were obtained from the first 39 veniremen examined.

The Ellison, contractors, were charged with killing Calloway after a quarrel over some plumbing Calloway installed in one of the buildings the Ellisons built.

Probe Reveals Texan Was Slain In Sleep

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21. (AP)—Herbert S. Bursley, American consul at Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, reported to the state department today that investigation of the death of J. S. Youngblood of Hemphill, Texas, indicated the American was murdered while asleep in his bed the night of November 15.

No clue to the assassin or the motive revealed. The consul informed the governor of the state of Sonora, where Youngblood owned a farm, that the American government desired that necessary steps be taken to apprehend and punish the person or persons responsible.

ATTACK MADE ON BABSON'S STATEMENTS

BORAH LEADS ASSAULT ON CONTENTION OF BUSINESS EXPERT

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Leaders of the democratic-republican independent coalition in contral of the tariff bill in the senate Wednesday attacked a statement by Roger Babson, statistician, published in the New York World, ascribing "lack of confidence" throughout the country to the actions of congress.

Senator Borah of Idaho, of the western independents, said in the senate that those opposed to carrying out the republican pledge of the last campaign to equalize agriculture with industry "now speak through the venal voice of Mr. Babson" and call for adjournment of congress.

Want To Do Duty

"We serve notice on Mr. Babson and all of his kind," shouted the Idahoan, "that until we have done our duty we will not cease from our efforts."

Senators Walsh, of Montana, the acting democratic leader, Glass of Virginia, George of Georgia, and Reflin of Alabama—all democrats—jointed the assault. There were indications that Babson might be called before the lobby committee along with Fred I. Kent, a director of the Bankers' Trust company, who made a similar charge against the senate coalition and attributed the stock market collapse to it.

Denies Statement

Denying a statement by Babson that congress adjourned in the 1914 financial crisis and gave full powers to President Wilson, Senator Walsh declared:

"For the purpose of making a point, joining in a hue and cry against the congress of the United States, and particularly against the senate of the United States he (Babson) is perfectly willing to put out such perfectly false statements concerning historical matter."

Senator Glass, a former secretary of the treasury, suggested the Babson statement "is simply a part of a concerted effort to direct attention away from those responsible for this disaster and to give it a different color."

Senator Borah interposed that Babson is "utterly unreliable as to facts and utterly unsound as to opinions."

Amarillo Realtor Is Released On Bail

AMARILLO, Nov. 21. (AP)—John Dees, realtor, was released Wednesday on a $12,500 bail bond after surrendering on a grand jury indictment charging murder. He was charged with slaying Finis Brown, mechanic, October 29. Dees will be arraigned Friday. He is expected to plead self defense.

SEED BOARD TO BE HERE

GROUP WILL BE HERE MONDAY FOR SHORT BUSINESS MEET

The pure seed inspection board of the State Department of Agriculture will hold a meeting in Lubbock at the agricultural building at Texas Tech next Monday, at which time rules will be adopted by the board governing seed in the state.

The board is composed of three men, a representative from Texas A. & M. college, one of the State Department of Agriculture and one from the state at large.

Humbert to Attend

Dr. E. P. Humbert, professor of genetics at Texas A. & M. and chairman of the state board will be here to attend the meeting.

A. H. Leidigh, dean of the agricultural department of Texas Technological college, said last night that all farmers of the section are urged to attend the meeting.

James Burroughs, of the Carlisle community, grower of certified grain sorghum seed, returned from Dallas recently where he attended an organization meeting of the seed growers association of the southwest.

Burroughs, Pat Nix, and W. A Goeth are the only growers of pure seed on the South Plains this year so far as is known, whose products will be sold under the state seal.

Camel has the quality that smokers depend upon

It is all right to experiment but a pity to spend too much time experimenting when you might be enjoying the fragrant pleasure of smoking Camels.

It has been the experience of many smokers, after trying other brands, that Camels give constant and unfailing pleasure. Their mildness, due to choice tobaccos and expert blending, makes it possible to smoke them liberally without any tiring of the taste. This quality, which smokers have learned to depend upon, will be maintained, because Camels are made for those who know and appreciate the real pleasure of smoking.

POST BACK IN CLASS B RACE; RALLS POINTS FOR LOCKNEY GAME

WESTERNERS INVADE VERNON FOR LIONS TILT

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

From our perch today it appears that the Post Antelopes are headed for the Class B football championship of District Two. This decision comes after word is received that Spur authorities have forfeited the Nov. 11 game, won by the Bulldogs, to Post. Thus the Antelopes are counted among the undefeated contenders for the title and unless we have been mislead, the Antelopes will be plenty hard to keep out of that bi-district game when time comes.

Ralls, Lockney and Lamesa are the other teams in the running for the championship, but only the Tornado eleven is given an outside chance to stop Harry Taylor's scoring machine. Lamesa flashed a brilliant attack in downing the Slaton aggregation on Armistice Day, and in Banta and Hill have a pair of fast-stepping backs. From the standpoint of real strength, the game on Turkey Day between Post and Lamesa, if played, should decide the district title. The Slaton Tigers have apparently lost much of their early-season strength. Evans and McMinnamy in Coach Wright's forward wall have been lost and this would hurt any man's football team.

Continued reports of illness from the football camp of the T. C. U. Horned Frogs makes it look a bit as if Old Man Epidemic might do to the Frogs what no grid rival has been able to do this year. Five members of the squad had been signed in at the school hospital Wednesday and another was added last night. Right now Coach Schmidt is extremely doubtful as to whether Buck Barr, 190-pound tackle, will get into Saturday's game with Baylor. Leo Butler, "Red" Moore and other players have been somewhat under the weather, but may be in condition to play Saturday. Kenneth Moore, the elusive Frog halfback, was the latest addition to the list.

We have called attention before in this column to the unmistakable good feeling between Lubbock and Wichita Falls. Always when the Westerners invade the Coyote stronghold, they are accorded every courtesy, as well as the boosters who made the trips. The same has been true when Wichita Falls sent its team here, and below is a letter of appreciation from Wichita Falls, in which Lubbock's hospitality and sportsmanship is commended highly. The writer is a member of the Wichita Daily Times staff.

Dear Sir:—

A number of the Wichita Falls folks who accompanied the football team to Lubbock last Friday have asked me to see to it that some expression be made of their appreciation of Lubbock's treatment of them.

The thorough and whole-souled hospitality that was extended, the healthy spirit of sportsmanship that was displayed and the generally cordial attitude of Lubbock people made a profound impression upon those who cheered for the Coyotes. The Wichita Falls fans want Lubbock to know that they are sincerely grateful. They want to thank all of those who furnished transportation to the field, and the management of the Lubbock Hotel for special courtesies. The fans said to tell Lubbock that Wichita Falls will try to even things up when the Westerners come here next fall.

Lubbock's pep squad made a great impression on Wichita Falls folks, who voted it the best-drilled and best looking aggregation of the kind they have yet seen. Your team ought to do well, with such support.

Sincerely,
JOHN GOULD

It is expected that the prize offer will cause the entire city to take on an attractive holiday atmosphere encouraging the true Christmas spirit among the citizenship.

Work On Church In Ralls Progressing

(Special To The Journal)

RALLS, Nov. 21.—Work is nearing completion on the new manse being built by the First U. S. Presbyterian church of Ralls. The church recently organized, will use the manse as a church building until a church can be built.

The congregation has engaged the services of two preachers for part time work with the church. The Rev. W. K. Johnson of Lubbock, will fill the pulpit on the second Sunday and Rev. J. W. Gregg, of Crosbyton will be with them on the fourth Sunday of each month.

SPUR SIGNS FORFEIT OF POST GAME

INELIGIBILITY OF MAN IS ADMITTED IN ACT OF OFFICIALS

(Special To The Journal)

POST, Nov. 21.—Superintendent Cluck and Coach Gene Taylor of Spur signed forfeit papers here last night which have put the Post Antelopes back into the running for the Class B championship of District Two, along with Lamesa, Ralls, and Lockney.

In signing the papers, Spur officials have admitted the ineligibility of a member of the Bulldog football eleven and forfeited the Armistice Day game with the Antelopes to Post. This action gives Post a clean record for the season and a right to be counted in with the undefeated contenders for the title.

Mailed To Rogers

The forfeit papers, signed by Superintendent Cluck of Spur, were mailed to V. Z. Rogers, chairman of the executive committee of District Two, at Lamesa. The league executive will be expected to call a meeting of the committee within the next few days to settle all over again the manner in which the championship will be determined.

Post had been counted out of the race last week when the executive committee ruled that the winner of the Lockney-Ralls game at Lockney Saturday should meet Lamesa on Thanksgiving Day for the title. These were the only undefeated teams in the district at this time. Spur sprung the season's surprise on Nov. 11 by defeating Post, 24 to 19. On the same day, Lamesa went to Slaton and trampled an overconfident Tiger aggregation, 32 to 13.

Teams To Meet, Maybe

The original schedule calls for Post and Lamesa to meet on Thanksgiving day. In case this game goes through, the winner will likely meet the victor in the Ralls-Lockney fray at some early date after the holiday.

This week's games center around the Ralls-Lockney game at Lockney and the Slaton-Post encounter at Post. A special train is planned to carry a large delegation of Slaton boosters to the scene of the battle.

CO-EDS MEET IN CANYON

TEXAS WOMEN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE IN SESSION TODAY

(Special To The Journal)

CANYON, Nov. 21—The annual meeting of the Texas Athletic conference of college women will open here tonight with representatives from thirteen Texas colleges in attendance, and with the West Texas State Teachers college as hostess for the session.

Among the features of the program will be an address by Mrs. Helen Murphy of Texas Christian University, who attended the National meeting of the Woman's Athletic associations of the United States held at New York City this year.

Business Sessions Friday

Friday forenoon will be given over to business sessions and will be followed by a luncheon at Cousins Hall, Canyon Teachers College dormitory with the local W. A. A. as hostesses.

Friday afternoon there will be a demonstration of sports, including badminton, which is new in the southwest. The same afternoon a real Western barbeque will be served the guests by the West Texas State Teachers college outing club. This will take place in the famous Palo Duro canyon.

Visit Amarillo Saturday

Saturday's program includes a business meeting, swimming party, luncheon in Amarillo as guests of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce tea in Canyon with the American Association of University Women as hostesses, and a supper at the college cafeteria.

The colleges and their delegates follow: Stephen F. Austin, Nacogdoches, Ruby Peasell, Ida Lee Farris and Miss Thelma Jagee; Baylor college, Belton, Theresa Woodward, and Mrs. Paul B. Baker, University of Texas, Austin, Emma Glenn Vickers and Miss Margaret Kirkner; Sam Houston Teachers college, Huntsville, Louise Whitley and Lucile Abshier; North Texas State Teachers college, Denton, Flo Robinson, Katy Bryson, Grace Petts and Miss Edith Kubeck; Southwest Texas State Teachers college, San Marcos, Johanna Walling; College of Industrial Arts, Denton, Edith Coleman and Sara Malone; Southern Methodist University, Dallas; Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Allene Allen and Mrs. Helen Murphy; Texas Womans College, Fort Worth; East Texas State college, Commerce, Eleanor Clifton, Christine Woolsey, Obedia Gaulden; West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, Charlsie Mae Harding, Oma Wilson, Dorris Loudder and Miss Ruth Cross.

INDIANA SPILLS WILDCATS IN CONFERENCE DOPE UPSET

Uncovering an attack built around George Ross, a twisting, dodging fullback, Indiana threw a surprise into Big Ten ranks by defeating a confident Northwestern eleven, 19-14 at Evanston, Ill. CRITICS RELYING ON SATURDAY'S GAME BETWEEN FROGS AND BAYLOR FOR SELECTION OF TWO ALL-LOOP PLAYERS

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Many critics are counting on Saturday's game at Waco to tell when something about their all-conference selections. Three very prominent candidates for backfield berths will match their mettle. They are Jake Wilson, Baylor quarterback; Howard Grubbs, shrewd T. C. U. signal caller; and Cy Leland, the Frongs' streaking halfback. Two of the three are pretty certain to be chosen on a majority of mythical elevens. Then there will be a scrap between Noble Atkins, crack T. C. U. center, and Les Paradeaux, Bear pivot man. Both are outstanding in the list of conference centers. Still another focal point will be the duel between Captain Mike Brumbelow, hefty Frog guard, and Bootney Koch, whom Baylorites firmly believe is the greatest guard in the country.

Baylor's diminutive backfield is certain to see a shower of passes this week. If any team in the conference can match Southern Methodist's passing attack, it is the Frogs. Howard Grubbs can shoot them far and accurately, and he has some able receivers in Leland, Robertson, McCullough, Hinton and others. Coach Jennings has tried all season to perfect a defense the aerial game, realizing it was his weak spot, but to no avail. While Wilson, McElreath and Kathcart can go placed with a ball under their arm, they lack the height to make sure-fire pass blockers. Last week the Mustangs simply passed over their heads, and it is a safe prediction the Frogs will try the same scheme Saturday.

Baylor and Texas Christian have played remarkably close since they began football relations back in 1904, when both schools were located at Waco. Thirty games have been played, each winning 13 and four terminating ties. There was a scarcity of opposition in the early days of their rivalry. They played each other three times both in '04 and '05. Last week the Bears nosed out, 7 to 6, in a torrid fray at Fort Worth.

Texas Christian's "specialist," Paul Snow, again demonstrated his efficiency against Texas last week. It will be remembered he was in one play of the Aggie encounter, just long enough to intercept a Cadet pass at a crucial stage. He did better against the Longhorns, getting into two plays. Both times when the Frogs kicked off he went down the field and tackled the receiver. Then he was jerked for Phil Handler, regular guard. Some of these days Coach Schmidt is going to let Snow play a full quarter, and there is no telling what he might do to the opposition.

Business offices at T. C. U. and S. M. U. already are swamped with application for the decisive struggle Nov. 30. Something like half of the seats at Clarke Field already have been applied for, the officials report. Three thousand temporary seats at the ends of the field will bring the plant's capacity to approximately 20,000. It is estimated twice that numbers would see the game if they could be accommodated. The Southwest conference rapidly is outgrowing its stadia.

STAR SENTENCED

California Player Must Make Points In Stanford Tilt

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 21. (AP)—If Ralston "Rusty" Gill, sophomore star of the University of California varsity football team, doesn't score a touchdown or otherwise distinguish himself in Saturday's game with Stanford, he had better steer clear of Police Judge Oliver Young's court.

Arrested for driving an automobile with illegal lights, Gill, pleaded for probation yesterday, explaining the pressure of his studies combined with the strain of the coming game kept his mind occupied with other things besides headlights. Would the judge please overlook the violation——?

The judge would but, he warned the star fullback, he would stand no trifling.

"You are sentenced to make as many points against Stanford as you can next Saturday," quoth Judge Youngs, a Californis rooter and a football fan. "I will be there and if you don't distinguish yourself there will be another session in this court after the game."

A famous London newspaper receives, on an average, applications from three women a day seeking work as reporters, and it seldom engages more than one a year.

CLOSE FIGHT IS EXPECTED ON TOMORROW

VERNON TEAM TO PUT UP STRUGGLE WITH LOCAL ELEVEN

(Special To The Journal)

VERNON, Nov. 21.—Vernon awoke today to find a band of husky Westerners from the Plains in its midst and interest in the Lubbock-Vernon encounter here tomorrow at the City park gridiron has begun to rise rapidly.

Coaches Henry E. Frnka and Del Morgan landed here early today with twenty-two squadmembers on a special pullman and were greeted by a swarm of enthusiastic football fans when they made their appearance. The fact that the Vernon eleven has lost its last three games bode nothing but evil for the invading gridsters as they dis-embark this morning.

Vernon Fans Rally

Strangely enough, Vernon fans have rallied behind the Lions this week and have served notice that the Westerners will be forced to the limit if they carry off the long end of the score. Wichita Falls, Amarillo and Plainview have defeated Vernon on successive playing days, but the Weirmen are determined to withstand the Lubbock onslaught and stay out of the cellar.

The Lubbock squad will take a light workout on the City park field this afternoon as a final tuning-up exercise for the battle tomorrow. Although no special train has been chartered at Lubbock, a large number of Westerner fans are expected to be on hand for the scrap.

Battle Is Forseen

Friday's skirmish between the rival clubs will likely be a battle between two stubborn lines, with the Lions holding a decided weight advantage. Three Lion regulars in Vernon's forward wall tip the scales around 200 pounds, and the rest of the forwards could be classed along with the light-heavyweight division.

Anticipating a hard test for his forwards, Coach Frnka has brought 15 linemen here for the contest. This includes five ends, three tackles, five guards and two centers.

Lions Drilled In Defense

Coach Weir has drilled the Lions all week on a defense for the tricky running attack of the Westerners. Moody Smith, W. D. Lawson, and the other flashy Lubbock backs have been studied closely by local footballers and the visitors will have their hands full in outscoring the Weirmen.

Manis, 190-pound bruising fullback, carries the brunt of the Lions plunging attack, while the fast-stepping Lawrence, Gilhausen and Christian are called upon to skirt the enemy flanks and brush the tackles. Crawford, versatile Vernon field general, does a large part of the passing and kicking for the Lions.

Following are the Lubbock players who established headquarters at the Wilbarger Hotel here this morning: Ends—Price, Rich, Hardberger Watson, and Blagg; tackles—Frizzell Brawley and Williams; guards—McGeehee, James, Grigs, Welch and McCaslin; centers—Leaverton and Crawford.

Backs who made the trip are: Green, Teal, Smith, Lawson, Martin and Watkins.

Harnett Has Another Operation For Cure

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Gabby Hartnett again is waiting to learn if a surgical operation has cured the arm ailment which prevented him from catching baseball games for the Cubs last season.

Hartnett, whose condition has caused mourning among Cub fans, has had a "repeata" operation on his tonsils, to be certain nothing that might cause infection, remains. He had the tonsils clipped last summer, as well as all kinds of treatments for his arm, but failed to regain the ability to throw in the style that made him one of the best catchers in either major league.

Mandell Is Favorite In Tonight's Battle

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A topheavy favorite and with nothing to lose, Sammy Mandell, world lightweight champion, tonight will meet Joe Azzarella of Milwaukee in a non-title bout.

The fight is to go eight rounds. The weight has been set at 138, three pounds above the lightweight championship figure.

Big Spring Plays Brownwood Saturday

(Special To The Journal)

BIG SPRING, Nov 21.—The last football game of the season to be played on the local gridiron will be played here Saturday between the Big Spring Steers and the Brownwood Lions. The two teams are reported to be equally well matched and the tussle is expected to be fight from start to finish. The Brownwood team holds sixth place in the Oil Belt District topping Sweetwater, Mineral Wells, Big Spring, and tieing San Angelo.

Coventry and Barwell, England, recently played their 123rd successive annual cricket game, and among the spectators were men who had not missed a contest in 60 years.

COWBOY STARS

The three young men below, members of the Simmons Cowboy eleven which the Texas Tech Matadors meet in Abilene Thanksgiving Day, are familiar figures to football fans of Lubbock and the South Plains. Hardy Pearce, top, right tackle, is a former student of Tech, coming out for the Matador eleven for one season. He is considered one of the best linesmen in the Texas Conference having been named all-conference last year. The youth in the center is Curtis Hamilton, former Slaton Tiger star, who holds down the position of left guard. The player at the bottom is Steve Marshall of Floydada who plunges through as the Cowboy fullback. Marshall, a star on the South Plains for several years, also aids Sanders with the Cowboy punting.

JACKRABBITS SEEK VICTORY OVER LOCKNEY

LOVVORN PUTS TEAM THROUGH PACES IN PREPARATION

(Special To The Journal)

RALLS, Nov. 21.—The Jackrabbits are undergoing hard work-outs this week in preparation for their dash up the home stretch in the race for the championship of District Two, Class B. The Jackrabbits, one of the three undefeated teams, are at the top in conference games, with five victories and no defeats. However the hardest part of their schedule is still before them.

The game this week-end is with the strong Lockney eleven and much depends on the outcome of this game as the winner will meet Lamesa on Thanksgiving day for championship honors.

Pointing to Game

The Rabbits have tried to take each game in its turn and not prepare for any contest more than a week ahead but there has been a certain degree of pointing to this Lockney fray for several weeks and knowing the strength of the Lockney team, and realizing the importance of winning this game, the local boys are putting everything they have in an effort to be ready for them on Friday.

Coach Froggie Lovvorn reports the boys in excellent physical condition. And when the Jackrabbits go into the all-important conference game on Friday they will have their strongest combination on the field.

OUSLEY WARNS CITY OFFICIALS

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21.—City managers here for the annual convention of the International City Managers association were warned against what he termed "conceit of knowledge" by Clarence Ousley, former assistant secretary of agriculture.

Ousley condemned the pronouncements of "many persons in power" to withhold information of public business from the constituency they represent. It was to this tendency that he referred in his phrase, "conceit of knowledge."

He paid tribute to the officials present as "pioneers in reforming and refashioning what has long been looked upon as the great weakness" in the American governmental structure. He warned however against failure to keep the public constantly informed and civicly alert, a failing, which, he said, might permit the city manager system to fall into the same corruption that often gripped the old ward government.

Tahoka High Adds Commercial Course

TAHOKA, Nov. 21.—A commercial department with courses in typewriting and bookkeeping, under the direction of John C. Allen, have been added to the Tahoka High school.

The local school is now accredited with the State Department of Education with twenty-six subjects, including fourth year English. Among the courses offered are home economics and vocation agriculture under the Smith-Hughes plan. Public speaking is also a popular course.

The London Chamber of Commerce now has more than 100 women members, most of whom, as heads of commercial houses, have an income of more than £10,000 a year.

Little expectation of a title game here when fans were purchasing tickets early in the season caused many to buy Kansas-Missouri tickets in preference to those of the Aggie-Nebraska tilt.

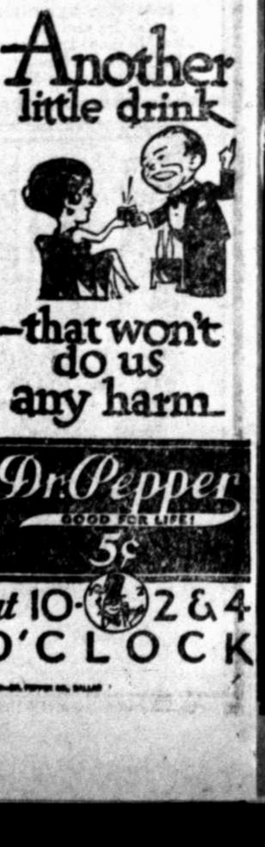

GAME LIKELY TO END RACE

NEBRASKA-AGGIES TILT OUTCLASSED BY OLD RIVALS' MEET

(By Associated Press)

MANHATTAN, Kan., Nov. 21.—A big six football title may be decided here Saturday when Nebraska plays the Kansas Aggies, but because the Aggies were a dark horse championship candidate the title game will be far outclassed in popularity by another game a hundred miles away.

Scheduling of the traditional Kansas-Missouri game at Lawrence on the same day will drastically curtail the Aggie-Nebraska attendance, and authorities do not expect to fill the Manhattan stadium, which will seat 16,500. More than 20,000 are expected at Lawrence.

Thought For Today

For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile.—Peter 3:10.

Liars act like the salt miners; they undermine the truth, but leave just so much standing as is necessary to support the edifice. —Richter.

Why Not Pay?

No true philosopher, of course, could possibly be disturbed by anything that might develop in connection with college football; so it is hardly surprising to find the eminent Will Durant greeting the recent Carnegie Foundation report with an amused, "Well, what of it?"

Dr. Durant, far from being shocked by the disclosures in that now famous report, remarks that he can see no reason on earth why a college should not pay a star football player.

To begin with, Dr. Durant asserts bluntly that intercollegiate football is quite as apt to teach its participants something as the average course of study in classrooms.

"It is too bad," he says, "that there is a general feeling that those who indulge in college sports are wasting their time, because, really, athletics require as much gray matter, and often more, than the most involved academic course.

"When a football player weaves his way through a field of opponents for a touchdown his mind has not been a blank."

Then he takes up the question of paying football players.

"I had a scholarship when I went to college and no one thought there was anything irregular about that," he says. "I received the scholarship because I answered correctly test questions that had been written on paper.

"Now, if a boy plays an unusually good game of football, is there any reason why a college should not assist him through school? I do not believe there is. To what better use could money taken in at a Yale-Army football game be put than to assist players on the team in completing their education?"

A good deal of ineffectual indignation has been aroused by the Carnegie report; but, really, Dr. Durant's suggestion is far from being humorous.

The American colleges have turned football into a big business. In such matters as ballyhoo, gate receipts, crowds and general interest aroused it in no way differs from such a business as, for instance, big league baseball.

That being the case, it is hardly out of the way to suggest that the football players ought to be paid, quite openly for what they do.

To be sure, it may be said that professionalism of that kind is out of keeping with the whole theory of undergraduate sport. But so are the monster stadiums, the great gate receipts, the skillfully arranged publicity. Football is no longer an undergraduates' diversion; it is a large-scale business venture. Why not treat it as such, openly?

Dr. Durant's proposal is not as far-fetched as it sounds.

The Cost

Secretary of Commerce Lamont estimates that traffic congestion in the United States costs the country something like $2,000,000,000 a year.

This sum, as he points out, is practically equal to our annual expenditures for the construction and maintenance of traffic facilities.

An economic loss of this size is something staggering to contemplate. It indicates that traffic congestion is rapidly approaching the point where it will simply throttle our social and economic growth. No problem that we face is much more serious than this one.

Yet, instead of solving it, we are pouring more automobiles on to our highways every year. What the situation may be in five more years—unless something much more drastic than anything yet atempted is done—is a matter for pessimists to think about.

Italy has appropriated $11,285,000 for its program of public improvement to alleviate the unemployment which follows the harvest season each year.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says if you are polished that's no excuse for casting reflections upon other people.

* * *

The Lubbock Police department will sponsor a benefit dance to afford funds with which to purchase new uniforms. That'll be one dance where the crowd will be orderly, and no foolin'.

* * *

A goodly percentage of the local coppers will likely be on hand for the big event but it is doubtful if there will be many more than are usuually present at the 'wiggles', which appear to be so popular here. The Plainsman is not much of a dance patron, one reason being that he's not much of a hand at tripping the light fantastic or whatever you call it, but from all he can hear the struggles have been well policed here recently.

* * *

The Plainsman is heartily in favor of the idea, however, and expects to buy a ticket, whether he goes or not. This column has been crying to see the cops in uniform for some time and if money to see the thing through will come out of the dance then we're perfectly satisfied.

* * *

The case of Marshall Ratliff, the 'Santa Claus bandit' who was executed in Eastland by Judge Lynch after other Texas courts had failed miserably to handle the situation, offers an opportunity for constructive thought. After every other legal loophole known to man had been exhausted in the fight to save Ratliff from the electric chair, the bandit's lawyers asked for a sanity trial and it was granted. Before it could be called, however, Ratliff made a desperate bid for freedom, fatally shot an officer and was subsequently, and quite efficiently, put out of business at the end of a rope.

The question which many Texans are turning over in their own minds is "was Ratliff really crazy?" To answer the question and be sure of a shadow of proof a man should be an authority along such lines and, in addition to making a close study of Ratliff personally, should have some knowledge of psychoanalysis, psychology, biology and what-have-you. This column admits that its author is not that learned—but he has his own idea about sanity and insanity as applied to criminals. Perhaps you're interested in the opinion. If you're not, just jump down a couple a paragraphs and skip it.

The Plainsman believes that any man who departs upon a career of major crime, who wantonly slays and robs over a long period of time is mentally unbalanced. Probably he is as bright, or brighter than the average man along certain lines. Perhaps his method of calculating is direct and, at times, bordering upon the brilliant. Perhaps he is as rational, in speech and appearance as any man in profession or business but there is bound to be a queer quirk—a break in the circuit of his brain, somewhere.

The arm of the law is slow to move but it is a long arm. Peace officers may look dumb and courts may be unwieldy, as they undoubtedly are, but a man will sooner or later run up against a stone wall too high to leap if he continues to break the statutes. Sooner or later he's going to be caught and, at the end of crime's trail there awaits the lawbreaker nothing more inviting than a barred cell or the 'hot seat'. To continue on a career of crime is not intelligent—a man whose brain functions normally is not going to do it for long. His reasoning will tell him that he's fighting a losing battle and he'll quit.

While we're on this subject of insanity as a plea for mercy, it is not amiss to offer the opinion that just because a man is insane is no reason that he should be barred from sitting in the chair from which he will be carried to his grave. Whether a man is insane or not, if he is a consistent killer he should be removed from the scene. People who are slain by a lunatic are quite as dead as those bumped off by a man in full possession of his mental faculties. If the Plainsman has to be killed it makes little difference to him whether the job is done by some dude in his right mind or one who thinks he is Napoleon off on a picnic.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says most people are willing to give three cheers for something that they wouldn't give anything else for.

* * *

The Plainsman feels all put out and not a little worried. Here all the birds he knows in town have been decorated for bravery and made generals and colotiels and majors and what-nots in the big Community Chest drive and nobody has even suggested that he be made a corporal. If they run the campaign like they did the army, The Plainsman will probably be the only private in town and you know what that'll mean—the private does all the work and gets none of the glory.

* * *

Still, every cloud has its silver lining and if Ross McWhorter, Jake Hassell, Herb Quinn, Dan Daniels, Roy Furr and all the rest of the guys with the epaulets work on each other they may overlook The Plainsman in the rush. We aren't looking for any work to do but if anybody wants to hand us out a high sounding title—like major-domo or something—it suits us. There's nothing quite so pleasing as a military title.

The Marx Brothers Give the Nation the Benefit of Their Advice on Government and See Plots Ahead, Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—"You see more funny looking people in this town than anywhere else in the country except the lobby of a certain big hotel in Indianapolis," said Mr. Groucho Marx after two days in the national capital.

Mr. Zeppo Marx, Mr. Harpo Marx and Mr. Chico Marx nodded in concurrence.

"We are going away from here", continued Mr. Groucho Marx, "because life is slightly more worth living elsewhere. We came to Washington because I wanted to be president so I could refuse to invite people to dinner. Zeppo wanted to be vice president, Chico was to have been speaker and Harpo would have been Mrs. Gann. But we have not had a single good meal and our observations in the capital convince us that the country is in such a hell of a mess that there is nothing we can do to save the situation. Anyway, our show is moving on to Pittsburgh."

Hoover Failed to Come

One gathered that the Four Marx Brothers were somewhat pained because President Hoover had failed to attend the first performance of their epic tragedy, "Animal Crackers."

"Cal came down to see us and laughed so loud he almost stopped the show," recalled Zeppo. "One time his wife cracked him so hard on the back that she nearly knocked him out of the box. A couple of the girls were all set to catch him. I wonder does he still need that cowboy hat and would he sell it cheap for one of our acts."

Your correspondent said that things looked pretty bad in Washington right now and that this was a time to be serious.

"Yes," said Mr. Groucho Marx, "We have a legislative program upon which we expect Congress to act. Most of all we need a law providing for stock tickers that will go two points up and two points down but no further. I notice one of the investment trusts is giving away a revolver with every three shares of stock and probably that should be made compulsory.

"We hold that Henry Ford started the stock market panic so everyone would have to ride in flivvers. But let's fool him and get out of the retrenchments by Chistmas. We are also backing a bill to make the 65-cent tea rooms in Washington serve stiff, crisp lettuce and our slogan is 'Let the potato chips fall where they may.' We are unalterably opposed to the movement for a 13-month calendar, which is only a plot of the Book of the Month Club so they can put over another book on us."

"Why do not more actors enter politics and help keep our country pure," asked your correspondent.

"Why don't more politicians go on the stage?" demanded Groucho Marx. "What's the difference between a ham actor and a ham congressman? The ham actor dresses better. But probably there would be more politicians on the stage if monologues weren't out of style. You can't filibuster in a musical comedy or a melodrama."

It was suggested that he should not walk out on Washington in this time of trial and might be tempted to remain by a good job such as that of prohibition director or perhaps he could be the fellow who reads all the bad books and censors them for the customs service.

"I always wanted to be in the liquor business," Groucho Marx admitted. "America is much more interested in liquor than books. I think the government ought to start a Bottle of the Month Club. But maybe both those jobs could be consolidated and we'd save the taxpayers money. See what you can do!

"I see Bishop Cannon lost his pants in the Virginia election. Now he can devote all his time to the stock market. Those reformerr should never let pleasure interfere with business."

The Marx brothers always vote the same way—on the theory that four votes are better than one.

COURT OPINION IS BLOW TO RACKET

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—An unhearlded opinion by the state supreme court Wednesday, was termed by Assistant City Attorney H. F. Kucera last night a "nullification of Dallas' long fight to use police power in enforcing race segregation ordinances."

The court's decision in effect instructed the city government to cease attempts to draw a legal color line in the residence areas. Thousands of homesteaders and property owners are affected, Kucera said.

The Dallas News, said "city officers are frankly apprehensive, pointing out that feeling in recent years has run high on several occasions in Dallas, because of encroachmets by one race or the other on territory overwhelmingly inhabited by those of opposite color."

Negro Is Sentenced Before Man Buried

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—What is said to be the first murder case ever tried here before the victim had been buried was disposed of this week in court here when Monroe Robinson, negro, was given a ten year penalty for killing A. L. McEachern on October 28. McEachern's body is still at the undertaking establishment, as no relatives have arrived to take the body.

With Swan

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The "up to Harlem" movement of the night-going hordes, duly recorded by this department some days ago, has suddenly become something of a Manhattan sensation.

At least one tabloid newspaper and a national magazine are viewing the "goings on" above 135th street with alarm.

As one who chronicle vogues, fads and fancies in this metropolis, I have sought to set down from time to time what is going on, rather than what symptoms may be read into the circumstances.

Having watched Greenwich Village change from smocks to smugness; from garrets to gilt paint—I can believe almost anything.

To be sure, some of our best people are to be found at ringside seats, watching the junglesque gyrations of Harlem's cabaret sirens.

But, after all, this entertainment was not originally patterned for white eyes. I can recall a few years back when only a few newspaper reporters and some particularly bold slummers could be seen looking on at the negro shows "way up town." Harlem did not begin by inviting the whites to come up and crash its gates. As a matter of fact, the first whites up there were frowned upon. Harlem came to accept them only when the commercial possibilities of the big white spenders was appreciated.

About all the white visitors have done to the black belt is to push cover charges up to the skies. So that today you'll find few blacks in the places where the whites gather. Harlem's shows were for eyes accustomed to them. There has been little effort made to tame them—though in some places a certain "swank" has been added.

The negroes drift from one place to another, trying to enjoy themselves in their own way. To be sure, it isn't always the white way. But the whites try hard enough to get in and spoil one place after another by making it ultra-expensive. I can remember when 50 cents was a lot of money to spend "up there" for a seat at a table.

I'm not sure that Harlem is healthy for everyone. There is an abandon, both in presentation of the dance and in costume. There are times when the evening comes close to the orgy point. One can find a great deal of the unreleased primitive.

But one can appreciate the beauties of a tiger's movements without wishing to be a tiger. Of all the sights of Harlem there is none more ridiculous than that of the white man and white woman trying to imitate the sinous, and often beautiful, movements of the dancing bodies. Yet, night after night, I've watched them try it.

In other words—I do not view with alarm. I've seen vogues and fads come and go before.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

REDUCING MEDICINES ARE HARMFUL BECAUSE OF CONTENT

DEAR DOCTOR: About two years ago, when I was 50 pounds overweight, I happened to read an advertisement which I am enclosing, of a reducing medicine. I reduced some through this, but to my sorrow, I positively ruined my stomach. Some time ago I wrote for your pamphlet on reducing, but by the time it came I was in such a condition that I didn't have to reduce, as I can't eat anything without getting the most terrible pains in my stomach and around my heart. What can I do? MISS K."

The reducing tablets you took are extensively advertised in the United States, and as the manufacturers say in their ads, they have been at it for 22 years. But they do not say that these tablets contain thyroid extract. They say they contain a "gland food." But you will find in the formula which they give in the booklet which comes with the tablets, that this "gland food" is thyroid, and thyroid is one of the most dangerous drugs known; dangerous because, if taken without the careful supervision it will give results such as you received, Miss K., and others that are worse. It has been known to stimulate the thyroid gland so that goiter is produced, it can give rise to heart and nervous disturbances, cause diabetes and exhaustion, and has resulted fatally. (McGuigan).

It is true that thyroid is used by physicians in some cases of obesity, but they have to watch the pulse and heart of the patient very carefully, and keep track of symptoms. Even when it is advised, it is not advised to be used continuously, for the effects may be cumulative.

But the advice given with these advertised tablets is to take them continuously until results are obtained, and "if another box is needed, get it before this is gone." The formula also contains cascara sagrada and phenophthalein, both physics. You are advised, if the tablets do not cause the bowels to move once or twice a day, to come through with a little more money, and get a special laxative that they put out—for that won't combat any of the effects of the tablets!

If the thyroid doesn't reduce you, the directions you must follow while taking it certainly will. Here they are: "But under-exercise and overfeeding naturally retard results. . . Moderation in the use of all fat-forming foods will aid what you are seeking. Avoid starchy foods and sweets in excess, cut down fatty foods. Be sparing of foods with high calorie content such as sugars, cereals and fats. Greater energy when it develops leads naturally to greater activity. Satisfy that desire by walking. Chew all foods well, even your soup. At every meal eat a little less than you think you need." All good advice.

Now, here's something laughable—a little slip evidently. After saying that many have the impression that these tablets do something to destroy fatty tissues, and denying it, they add "that every result of the tablets comes as a result of exercise or diet!" But they're wrong there. Every result from their use doesn't come as a result of exercise and diet, for these only bring good results. The disastrous results that may occur come from the dangerous thyroid they contain, and the constant physicing they produce.

The only advice I can give you now, Miss K., is to put yourself in the hands of a competent physician. Be out in the open air as much as possible, and gradually increase your diet until you get back to normal.

We have a pamphlet on Reducing and Gaining for those who need instructions on the subject.

Editors Note: Dr Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining," "The Kidney and Its Excretions" and the "Hygiene of Women," 10 cent in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover cost of printing and handling.) Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

EDUCATION FOR EVERY CHILD ANNOUNCED AS MISSOURI'S POLICY

BY HENRY S. CAULFIELD, Governor of Missouri

(Henry Stewart Caulfield was born at St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 9, 1873. He was educated at St. Charles college and the law department of Washington university. In 1895 he began practicing law at St. Louis. From 1907 to 1909 he was a member of congress from the eleventh Missouri district. He was judge of the St. Louis court of appeals from 1910 to 1912 and was director of the St. Louis Public library from 1918 to 1921. He took office as governor of Missouri last January. He is a Republican.)

The state has an obligation to see to it that every boy and girl within its borders has an opportunity for education. It is not possible for the state to provide the same opportunity for every child, but it is possible, and it is the state's obligation, to provide in every school district a sufficient school term, with well-qualified teachers and buildings and equipment that are adequate.

H. S. Caulfield

We must recognize that some communities are more able to provide education for their children than are others. If every community in Missouri were to levy a tax to the constitutional limit, there still would be areas in which the money collected from such a tax would not be enough to maintain schools for longer terms then four or five months and not enough to pay salaries sufficient to employ competent teachers.

In other states, notably Maryland, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado, this problem has been attacked and solutions have been developed. In each case, after a reasonable effort has been made by the local community, the state has stepped in to provide such additional sums of money as are necessary to maintain reasonably good schools.

In none of these states was it proposed that the state take away from the local community its control over its own school system. Indeed, it is of the utmost importance that local communities have the power to develop their own school systems under their own control.

It is essential that the state require adequate training for all of its teachers. Even though sufficient money is made available for the support of better schools, our goal will not have been attained until every teacher in the state shall have qualified for better service. No one would propose that teachers now in service be dismissed, but a wise educational policy would require that those least qualified shall, by study, attendance at summer schools, and otherwise, acquire greater proficiency and additional professional training.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The next thing that the Tinies knew, they say their friend, the Goofy-goo, perched out upon the sled front. He was proud as he could be. "Climb back upon your sled," he cried. "Then you can go on with your ride. Whenever you're in trouble, you should always send for me."

And so the Lunch, still hanging tight, swung up their feet with all their might. It surely was a funny sight to see them scrambling 'round. It didn't take them long to get back on the sled and you can bet that they were glad to do so 'cause they now felt safe and sound.

One Tiny shouted, "Goofy-goo, we're very much obliged to you. How did you straighten up our sled? That trick was simply great." The Goofy-goo just heaved a sigh, and said, "Oh, anything I try I always do. The thing that fixed your sled up was my weight.

"I knew if I sat on the prow I could straighten it right out somehow. And that is just what happened. Say, where have you Tinies been?" "Oh, here and there and everywhere," said Scouty. "We've had quite a scare. We thought we'd fall down from our sled." This made the big bird grin.

The bird then said, "Now I must fly away. I'll see you bye and bye." He flapped his wings and off he went, to disappear from sight. And then the bunch heard Clowny say, "I wish he hadn't flown away. He's always been real nice to us. I think that he's all right."

All of a sudden came a thrill! The Tinies floated toward a hill. "Oh, look," cried Coppy. "There's the entrance to a cave. I'll bet. We're going in. Oh, my, oh my! It's too late now for us to try to dodge it. We will have to take whatever we may get."

(The Tinymites land in the cave in the next story.)

BEAUTY REST CONTENTMENT

The frontiers of our country have been pushed to their extreme. The pioneer is a character blending into the mists of the past. With their passing goes the idea that a cemetery is a mere burying ground . . . a spot at which to pause and leave behind, with a tear and a prayer, a loved one passed away.

Today, just as the wiser man considers insurance a matter of course, so he considers the selection of a final resting place an obligation to be fulfilled as quickly as his circumstances permit. Amid the agony of bereavement there is neither the time nor inclination to exercise the care and judgment this duty evolves.

"I need only to visit the cemetery of any community to learn the character of its people."

TEACHERS TO HAVE HOME

CONTRACT SIGNED FOR PERMANENT SITE OF HEADQUARTERS

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21.—Contract for purchase of a site at the southwest corner of Weatherford and Grove streets for construction of permanent headquarters building for the Texas State Teachers association was signed Wednesday.

The site consists of two lots. The purchase price was slightly in excess of $10,000, of which $1,000 will be paid by the Fort Worth association of commerce and the remainder by local teacher organization.

The ground purchased is directly across the street from the administration building of Fort Worth public schools. The headquarters building will cost $47,500.

M-WEST WEATHER

mittent showers which at times turned to sleet fell here today. The temperature was 40 degrees.

TEXARKANA COLD

TEXARKANA, Nov. 21. (AP)—A minimum temperature of 30 degrees, accompanied by a light snow greeted residents of Texarkana this morning. It was the coldest weather of the winter.

SNOW AT BORGER

BORGER, Nov. 21. (AP)—A steady snow driven by a south wind began falling here today.

SNOW AT SHERMAN

SHERMAN, Nov. 21. (AP)—A light snow, the first of the season, fell here today.

FIRST REAL BLIZZARD OF SEASON HITS WEST

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 21. (AP)—The first real blizzard of the season hit Montana today, shrouding many sections of the state in biting frost and sending the mercury down to new low levels for the season.

A cold blast swept down from the north late yesterday, making the night the most severe of the early winter. Lewistown was apparently hit hardest by the storm. In that section of north central Montana, a light fall of snow was piled into drifts by a strong wind, and the mercury slipped to five or more degrees below zero. The cold was considered very unfavorable for the winter wheat crop, since the snow of a previous storm had disappeared.

Throughout Wyoming and Colorado zero temperatures were general—the rule today, but blizzard conditions seemed confined to Montana.

LOW MARKS RECORDED IN TEMPERATURES

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Frigid temperatures held sway today in the middlewest and northwest, and in many places the ground was spread with snow.

Continued cold and fair weather with readings ranging down to zero was the forecast for today.

Some of the low marks for yesterday were: The pas, 6 below; Minneapolis, 14; Sioux City 14; Bismark, 6; and Sault Ste. Marie 16.

In Chicago the thermometer is expected to reach 10 above by nightfall.

SINCLAIR

them; "I came to jail for not talking, you know."

He was greeted at the door by his brother, E. W. Sinclair and G. I. Stanford, an attorney, who had been waiting at the entrance for some little time. In sharp contrast with the May night on which he bustled past reporters and cameramen into the jail, Sinclair agreed to pose for photographs and later to make some remarks for the talking motion pictures.

Jibed With Newspapermen

In doing so, he jibed laughingly at the newspapermen, thanking them for their "kind reception," and saying:

"I hope you will have another opportunity, and I know you will, for a little more training, and then I believe you will show a marked improvement."

A short time before leaving the jail, Sinclair issued a statement asserting he had been imprisoned as a "victim of political campaigns to elect honest democrats by proving how dishonest republicans were."

Claims Innocence

He asserted he could not be "contrite" for sins which he had "never committed, nor "pretend to be ashamed of conduct" which he said he knew to have been "upright." In addition, he reviewed the contentions of his lawyers when the two cases on which he was sentenced were in the courts.

While a prisoner, he served as jail pharmacist and assistant to the jail physician, and in the latter capacity made several trips outside the jail proper. A storm of criticism was aroused when this became known, and the practice was discontinued.

Mary Stahl's Plea Given Denial Here

District Judge Homer L. Pharr, overruled this morning the application for a new trial of Mary Stahl, charged with aiding a prisoner to escape, and subsequently a two-year penitentiary sentence was pronounced.

Mrs. Stahl was charged following the jail break of Leroy Kizer October 18. She is alleged to have slipped a gun to Kizer while visiting him at the jail.

No notice of appeal has been filed by the prisoner.

CITY PLANNING

ey, Charles Mahoney, Harry Rogers, N. L. Peters and Chas. A. Guy, chairman. In addition to members of the committee present this morning, Marlin R. Smith, city engineer, and A. B. Davis, Board of City Development manager also sat in on the conference.

Mr. Carhart, whose firm is consultant in the Denver city plan and which has also drawn up plans for Enid, Okla., Ft. Collins, Colo., Ogden, Utah, and other communities, recommended a three-sided project for Lubbock at the present time. He recommended a project covering major thoroughfares and the coordination of highway traffic; zoning and a park system. Members of the committee were unanimous in the opinion that the mode of attack suggested by the Denver engineer was the correct one for the city at this time.

Dallas Man Is Coming

Major W. L. Powell, Dallas, also consultant in the Dallas city plan, who has appeared before the committee before, will be here tomorrow or Saturday and will also confer with Lubbock men. In addition, the firm of Montgomery and Ward, Wichita Falls, has also been heard and invitations are out to a dozen additional organizations, inviting their representatives here for conferences.

Mayor Harley D. Woods, and members of his commission, are anxious for an early start on the city plan and the committee, which will recommend the firm to be employed, is working diligently toward that end, Chairman Guy said today.

CHEST DRIVE

o'clock to go over the prospect list recently prepared by headquarters.

Directors To Meet

E. L. Klett, president, will meet tonight at 7 o'clock with the board of directors of the chest.

After speaking today at noon before the Kiwanis club, Henry Clark, of the American City Bureau, is scheduled to speak on the community chest plan at meetings of the Parent-Teachers' association at the George M. Hunt school this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and at the Central Ward school at 4 o'clock.

CLARK TELLS KIWANIS CLUB OF CHEST WORK

Members of the Lubbock Kiwan's club were told of the benefits and advantages of the Community Chest plan by Henry Clark of the American City Bureau in their regular weekly luncheon program at the Lubbock hotel today. Mr. Clark was the only speaker on the program which was presided over by S. C. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Community Chest plan has been and is one of the most interesting phases of city life during the past 10 years, Mr. Clark stressed the importance of the installation of the work here.

"Lubbock should have at least 3,000 subscriptions in the chest during this year," Mr. Clark declared during his talk. He also pointed out the benefit drive from application of the system.

G. P. Kuykendall, in charge of the chest drive, stated that 100 men had been selected as workers for the drive and would be notified in the near future.

The club voted to meet with the Lions club during next week.

death and was awaiting action on an application for a sanity trial, filed by his mother, Mrs. Rilla Carter.

The grand jury had the promise of vigorous co-operation from the county attorney's office in the event indictments were returned.

Body Sent to Fort Worth

Although Mrs. Rilla Carter, mother of the Santa Claus bandit, so-called because of his disguise during the Cisco bank robbery of two years ago, had asked Eastland authorities to hold the body until her arrival, the body was dispatched to Fort Worth early. Burial services will probably be held Saturday.

Crowded out of the small undertaking establishment into a larger store next door, where more people could see it, the body of the bandit lay out for the public gaze on an impromptu bier yesterday.

Third Man Arrested For Youths' Deaths

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 31. (AP)—A 30-year-old farmer was in jail here today, the third person arrested in connection with the murders of Lee and Arthur Matson, shot to death and thrown down an abandoned well near here.

In jail with Foos Coe, ex-convict, and Ola Owens, his 20-year-old sweetheart, the farmer denied all knowledge of the murders.

Officers arrested the man after a three-day search, instituted when members of the Matson family said they had had trouble with him for several years. He was once indicted for an attack on the mother of the two boys and acquitted.

Coe was held on the statement of another Matson boy that his two brothers were associated with him in manufacturing illicit liquor.

Sanitarium Burns After X-Ray Blast

OPELOUSAS, La., Nov. 21. (AP)—Nothing today remained of the St. Landry sanitarium here but ashes and charred ruins.

The institution burned to the foundations last night after an explosion in the x-ray room started a fire. Four patients were helped to safety by nurses and attendants.

Merger Of Airlines Discussed At Tulsa

TULSA, Nov. 21 (AP)—Initial steps toward the merger of two air transportation companies for passenger and mail service in the Southwest and Mexico have been taken at a conference between officials of the Southwest Air Safe Express company, the Southern Skylines and the Detroit Aircraft company, it was learned here today.

Erle P. Halliburton, president of the S. A. F. T. company, informed the Tulsa Tribune the proposed consolidation had been discussed with W. G. McAdoo of Los Angeles, chairman of the board of Southern Skylines, and Edward S. Evans of the Detroit Aircraft company.

Heavy Buying Puts Stock Prices High

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Heavy buying of the railroad shares turned the course of stock prices upward today after an earlier flurry of selling had carried many of the leaders down $1 to $4 a share, and a few specialties down $5 to $21. Most of the early losses were cut down, or wiped out, soon after midday, and a long list of stocks were selling $1 to $8 a share above yesterday's final quotations.

Local Child Injured By Fire Last Night

Johnny Dell Grigsby, 8-year-old daughter of Mrs. Richard B. Borders, 2903 20th street, was taken to the Lubbock sanitarium this morning for treatment, following an accident last night about 8:30 o'clock when the clothes of the child were inflamed while she was standing before a fireplace.

The body of the child was badly burned when her clothing was partly caught by the flames. Her condition is not regarded as serious, attendants at the sanitarium announce.

Fifth Frat House Is Swept By Flames

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The fifth house in the University of Southern California's fraternity row to be burned within a month was swept by flames last night. It was the Delta Phi Delta chapter house.

The blaze started in a lounging room of the first floor and burned through the roof. A leaking gas hose was blamed for last night's fire. The others were alleged to have been of incendiary origin.

For the special benefit of crippled ex-soldiers, a tenement block has been erected at Duesburg, Germany, stairs having been dispensed with and elevators to accommodate invalid chairs have been installed.

Gambling Bill

The amazing statement that $4,000,000,000 changes hands annually in the United States through commercialized gambling is made in the current North American Review by Howard McLellan.

McLellan itemizes the nation's gambling bill as follows:

Baseball pools, $500,000,000; policy games (lotteries based on daily totals of bank clearings, etc.), $300,000,000; racetrack betting, $1,000,000,000; handbook betting on races, $800,000,000; cards, dice and similar games of chance, $1,000,000,000; bucket shops, $500,000,000.

It is impossible for the average man to estimate the accuracy of these figures, of course. But if they represent anything like the truth—and McLellan asserts that they are an underestimate, if anything—our gambling problem is a far greater one than most of us have supposed.

NATION'S BUSINESS OVERLORDS GATHER WITH HOOVER TODAY

BUSINESS PARLEY SERIES RESUMED IN WHITE HOUSE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Overlords of industrial America and leaders of organized labor today answered the call of President Hoover for counsel and cooperation in his campaign for stabilized and stimulated business conditions.

Leaders to Meet

First on the day's program, as Mr. Hoover resumed the series of conferences which had been interrupted by the death of Secretary James W. Good of the war department, was the meeting of industrial leaders, attended by men bearing such famous names of Henry Ford, Owen D. Young, and Julius Rosenwald.

Secretary Mellon of the treasury and Secretary Lamont of the commerce department were called into consultation, together with Julius Barnes, chairman of the board, and William Butterworth, president of the United States chamber of commerce.

To Meet With Labor

Approaching his problem from both ends of the economic scale, the president arranged a meeting with the labor men for later in the day to determine what place the workers could take in his general scheme for sustained business activity. Secretary Davis of the labor department, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and a dozen other leaders of organized labor were invited to attend.

The primary purpose of Mr. Hoover's series of conferences, which already have included meetings with the presidents of the eastern railroads and bankers from all sections of the country, is to banish what he has termed "foolish pessimism" regarding the fundamental stability of the nation's business.

Anxious to Curtail Sentiment

This goal was before him as he entered upon the consultations with industrial and labor leaders. The chief executive was particularly anxious to avoid the institution of a vicious economic cycle under which the workers of the country, the nation's great consuming mass, in expectation of hard times and unemployment, sharply curtail their expenditures for necessities and luxuries alike and thus contribute to bringing about the situation which they fear.

In the president's opinion, there is no need for any retardment in the pace of business. On the contrary he looks for expanded activities, and to take up any possible slack in employment caused by a decreased demand for luxuries, the government has instituted plans for a sharp increase in public construction and marine building and has received assurances that a great volume of railroad construction is in prospect for the near future.

Names Are Well Known

Names of those attending the industrial conference are in most cases household words. They are the country's automobile, steel, telephone and telegraph magnates and merchant princes. In addition to Ford, Young and Rosenwald, they included.

Alfred P. Sloan, jr., president of General Motors; Pierre Dupont chairman of the board and E. I Dupont De Nemours and company; E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation; Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the Finance committee of the United States Steel corporation; Walter Gifford president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company; Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, representing the California Development Board; Walter Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey; Clarence M. Woolley, of Chicago, representing the American Radiator company; Matthew S. Sloan, president of the New York Edison company; E. J. Kulkas, president of the Otis Steel company; Samuel W. Reyburn, New York president of Lord and Taylor; Jesse I. Straud, president of R. H. Macy and company; George Laughlin, Pittsburgh Steel manufacturer; A. W. Robertson, of the Westinghouse Electric company; Redfield Proctor, Boston, president of the New England council; Ernest T. Trigg, Philadelphia; and Phillip H. Gadsden, president of the Philadelphia chamber of commerce.

OFFICIALS NOT ALARMED AT THREAT OF DEFEATED CANDIDATE IN MEXICO

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21.—Commenting upon the declaration of Jose Vasconcelos, anti-reelectionist presidential candidate, that he is the president-elect of Mexico and will come to the capital as such, officials of the national revolutionary party said there is nothing to prevent him from doing as he pleases as long as he does not attempt to create a disturbance.

They pointed out that a precedent for Vasconcelos' action was set some years ago by Aurelio Manrique who, refusing to admit defeat in a congressional election, attended the sessions of the chamber of deputies for two years, occupying a seat in the gallery and insisting on voting from there, although the vote was discounted.

Vasconcelos made his statement in Guaymas, Sonora, the day following the election in which Pascual Ortiz Rubio the revolutionary party candidate was swept into office by what the party claims was a record vote of approximately 1,500,000.

Prosperity Boosts Revenues In Nation

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Increased incomes all down the line, attributed by the internal revenue bureau to business prosperity boosted its tax collections for the first four months of the 1930 fiscal year by $101,441,533 over those for the same period of last year. The total for the four months period was $857,608,874.

Income tax receipts totaled $640,024,358 and accounted for $90,669,785 of the increase and miscellaneous taxes for the remainder. The four months ended last October 31.

Corporation taxes showed a gain of $8,733,249, reaching a total of $338,070,063 while individual and partnership taxes amounted to $301,954,295 an increase of $81,936,536.

Fletcher Advocates World Court Plan

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 21.—(AP) Henry P. Fletcher, who recently resigned as Ambassador to Italy after a long career in the diplomatic service, told the Pennsylvania Council of Republican women last night that a permanent world court is distinctly an American idea and ideal. In advocating entering the world tribunal, he said: "we should no longer hesitate to take this step toward world peace."

The world court, he said, should not become a bone of party contention. It had received "fine and loyal support from distinguished members of both parties."

Two Texans Hurt In Automobile Mishap

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. W. R. Brown of Holiday, Tex., was injured so severely today that hospital attendants said she might not live, and Leonard Derrick, Wichita Falls, was critically hurt, when the automobile they occupied turned over near here today.

O. L. Wilson, Iowa Park, Tex., driver of the machine, was held by officers here for investigation. He said the machine turned over when he turned out to avoid collision with another machine.

Mrs. Brown and Derrick are in a hospital here.

Arrangements In Air Line Are Being Made

DALLAS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—John Borden Miller, general manager of the Great Southern Airways, which contemplates an air line between Los Angeles and Atlanta visited Dallas today en route to West Texas to complete arrangements for inauguration of his service. The service will be started January 1, he said, with seven, eight-passenger planes, and will follow the North Texas route through Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso.

BRIDGE TOLL CASES HEARD

BRIDGE COMPANY HAS PLEA TO SET ASIDE SECRETARY'S RULE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Application of the Red River Bridge company of Texas for an injunction against the secretary of war's action reducing tolls on a bridge between Denison, Texas and Durant, Okla., was on today's calendar of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, but probably will not be reached until Monday, in its regular turn.

R. M. Tilley, assistant attorney general for Texas, and W. C. Lewis, assistant attorney of Oklahoma, were in court today. It was announced they probably would file briefs as friends of court, resisting the motion of the bridge company that bridge tolls be returned to a higher level in force before the secretary's order.

No Delay To Come

The death of Secretary Good has raised some question whether it will be necessary to serve the process on the acting secretary of war. William A. Gallagher, government attorney, however, said the acting secretary could be substituted by a formal motion without further delay in the proceedings.

Argument Monday will be on the third amended bill of complaint by the bridge company, asking a permanent injunction against the lowered rates.

BUSINESS RULED FROM THE OUTSIDE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 21. (AP)—Fully sixty per cent of the influences that make the success or failure of any business are outside of that business, Saunder Norvill, president of the Remington Arms company and the Remington Cash Register company, New York City, told delegates to the first Ohio Management Conference in an address here last night.

"A merchant working in his own business, no matter how thoughtful he may be, or ho wgood his judgment is, if he confines his thinging entirely to his own enterprise, will cover factors which are only forty per cent of the total result."

Independent of Business

Norvell stated that changes taking place in both industry and distribution were, to a great extent, entirely independent of the businesses of the indivudal dealers and merchants.

The conditions have changed as much in the economic and industrial world with the passing of time as they have in the historical and political spheres, John G. Lonsdale president of the American Bankers' association said. Progress has revolutionized industry, commerce and transportation, and financial conditions consequently have altered.

Schoolboy Charged In Beating Teacher

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Nov. 21. (AP)—James Johnson, 15, a schoolboy, was being held by county officers tonight charged with beating his teacher, Miss Lela Walls, with a shovel, at the Prairie View school house west of Hominy, Okla.

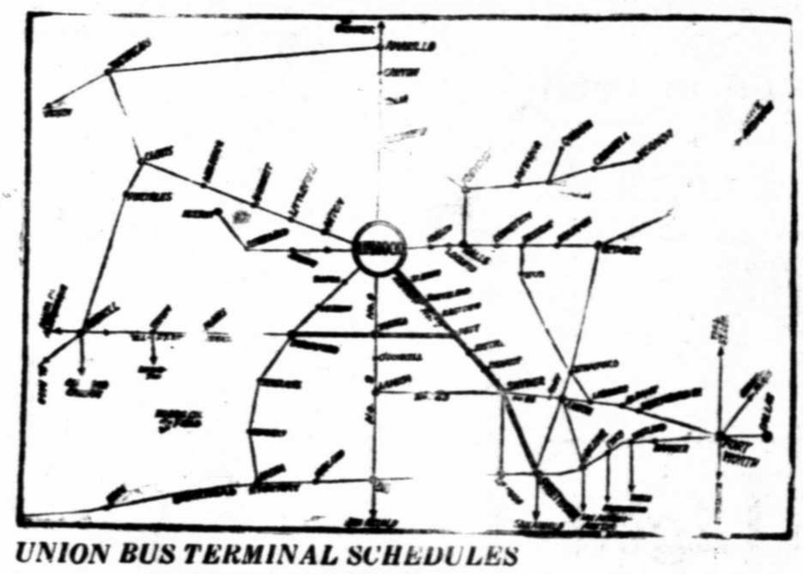

Hearing on the charge has been set for Saturday, before Judge Henry Wood, in juvenile court.

Miss Walls said Johnson struck her on the head with a shovel, when she attempted to correct him. The boy denies this, contending that he merely held the teacher's wrists, after she had struck him.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD TO MAKE VISIT TO TEXAS IN NEAR FUTURE

GROUP WILL SET UP NEW CO-OP UNITS

TEXAS TO BE FIRST OF COTTON STATES TO BE VISITED

(By Associated Press)

WACO, Nov. 21.—The federal Farm board will come to Texas in December, or early in January, to set up co-operatives which it expects will appeal to farmers in a more popular way than organizations now in existence, it was announced by Lawrence Westbrook at a meeting of Central Texas farmers held Wednesday afternoon at the Waco Chamber of Commerce. Westbrook, chairman of Governor Moody's committee to work with the farm board said the governor talked with him last night and expressed hope that "farmers will not obligate themselves with any other organization until the farm board announces its plan."

Selecting Texas First

The farm board is selecting Texas as the first of the cotton states in which to set up its organization, Westbrook said. "While I do not know the exact nature of the plan they approve," he added, "as a members of the governor's committee, I have been in close contact with the board of representatives, and known that they contemplate a number of regional organizations in Texas, rather than one big state organization. The state is too big for a single group." Pointing out that only two per cent of Texas farmers are members of a cooperative, he said that "the chief of the bureau of cooperative marketing and one of his assistants came to Texas a month ago, and remained until a week ago, studying the situation. And I have confidence that the plan they will submit will be acceptable to a majority of the farmers and also to a majority of the business men."

University To Build $1,000,000 Building

CORSICANA, Nov. 21. (AP)—Bids will be opened in Austin Saturday for the proposed construction of a $1,000,000 chemistry building for the University of Texas by the board of regents, Beauford H. Jester, regent, said here today.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD TO BUY 150 ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES FOR SYSTEM

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The New York Times today said it has learned the Pennsylvania Railroad soon will place a $16,000,000 order for 150 electric locomotives of greater speed and unit power than any previously manufactured.

These locomotives, to be used between New York and Philadelphia and Washington, will be part of the Pennsylvania's $100,000,000 electrification plan. They will have a maximum speed of between 90 and 100 miles an hour.

Reception Will Be Tendered Calles

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Responding to an invitation to welcome General Plutarco E. Calles upon his return from France next month, the governors of the northern states have decided to meet him at Nuevo Laredo or Monterrey and those from the other state will give him a reception here.

Appeal For Youth Is Filed In High Court

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Attorneys for Richard Nash Burrows, 19 year old Chicago youth, sentenced to be hanged here December 13, for murder of Jack Martin, filed notice of appeal with the Arizona Supreme Court today. It automatically will stay execution until the Supreme Court reviews the case. Burrows counsel being allowed six months in which to file briefs.

Burrows was convicted of slaying Martin, Mesa, Ariz., salesman, leaving the body in a dry wash and fleeing with Martin's car.

Dallas Man Killed In Car Collision

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Edward McMicken, 54, Dallas landscape gardner, was killed last night when his roadster collided headon with a street car. He was thrown against the steering wheel with such force that some of his ribs were broken and driven into his body, physicians said.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

EMPLOYES CHARGED

FLINT, Mich., Nov. 20. (AP)—Warrants naming four more employes of the Union Industrial bank here as participants in the $3,952,000 defalcation of the bank's funds were issued here today. The men charged were:

Frank D. Montague, assistant vice-president; J. W. Barrow, A. J. Holzer and C. A. Plumb, tellers.

STOCKS MOVE HIGHER TODAY

NUMBER OF LEADERS ARE LOWER; RAIL SHARES WANTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Stock prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's market, but some of the recent leaders opened slightly lower on profit-taking. U. S. Steel and American & Foreign power declined a point and Radio Montgomery-Ward, and several others yielded fractionally. Warren Bros. jumped 7 7-8 points and Westinghouse Electric, Union Carbide, Pennsylvania and General Electric opened a point or so higher.

Early selling centered largely in such issues as American Can, General Motors, Radio and U. S. Steel, but the declines were small. National Biscuit dropped 3 points on the first sale but quickly recovered its loss. Auburn Auto fell back 5 points.

Demand For Rail Shares

Brisk demand was apparent for some of the investment railroad shares. Norfolk & Western ran up 6 1-2 points, Union Pacific 3 and Chesapeake & Ohio 2 1-2.

Among many other stocks to point upward at the start were American Sugar Refining, Consolidated Gas, Granby Copper, North American Co., Reynolds Tobacco B, and R. H. Macy.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling quoted 1-8 of a cent higher at $4.87 9-16.

CATHOLICS TO MEET

ROME, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Ancient Rome, 21 centuries ago, destroyed Carthage after 118 years of warfare; modern Rome, exemplified in the church, next year will give it a new world wide significance.

Ruins of the ancient city, which the third Scipio in 146 B. C. razed and plowed into the ground, will be the theater in 1930 for the church's biennial Eucharistic congress.

Another Amarillo Man Speaks Up

"Since Taking Orgatone, My Aunt Shows No Signs Of Her Old Troubles," He States

The list of men and women now endorsing Orgatone in and around Amarillo grows longer day by day. To the large number of representative men whose statements have been published in the press of the country is now added the name of L. D. Rankins, who lives at 613 Monroe St., Amarillo, Texas, who made the following statement, detailing his aunt's experience with Orgatone.

"I've just come in to get another bottle of Orgatone for my aunt, Mrs. J. B. Chadwell, who lives on rural route 3," said Mr. Rankin, "She has already taken three bottles and her improvement is simply wonderful. My aunt has suffered for three years from a disordered stomach that gradually got worse and several months ago she noticed a distressing feeling of gas after eating and it caused her to be in a very weak and run down condition. She was losing weight right along and had very little appetite, but what little she did eat wouldn't digest and sometimes right after eating she would often get sick at her stomach.

"Her condition got to be so serious I worried a lot about her, till she started taking Orgatone, then she began to improve at once and I became more hopeful of her recovery. She sleeps likes a top every night now and shows no signs of her old trouble. Her nerves are quieter and she eats better and everything seems to agree with her and gives her no distress afterwards. She is stronger and has more life and energy than before and says she feels more like working around the house than she has in a long time. We know from actual experience what Orgatone will do and are telling all our friends about it whenever we see them."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowens Drug Store. Adv.

COTTON HAS RISE TODAY

ADVANCES MADE IN N. ORLEANS MARKET ON OPENING TRADES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21. (AP)—The cotton market opened steady here today in spite of easier cables due to the bullishly construed census bureau report of 11,898,308 running bales ginned to November 14, which was about as expected. Prices opened 2 to 3 points up on advance impressions the report would show bullishness. Offerings became rather heavy due to profit-taking and the market gradually let down. December traded at 17.43, January 17.57, and March 17.84, or 14 to 18 points below the opening figures. The market steadied more at the end of the first hour.

The market continued to ease off slowly due to selling by buyers disappointed ove rthe ginning report and liquidation of December shorts by those who deferred covering in the hope the ginnings would prove smaller than expected. December traded down to 1740, January to 17.52 and March to 17.80, or 17 to 19 points below the previous close. Around noon the market rallied 10 to 11 points on the firmness of the stock market.

LOSSES SHOWN ON NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 1 to 11 points, he census report showing 11,898,308 bales ginner prior to November 14th was about in line with expectations. Offerings increased after the opening with active months showing net losses of 11 to 14 points by the end of the first half hour.

Reactionary sentiment seemed more in evidence after publication of the ginning figures, and some local brokers reported more Southern selling here than recently. Prices eased off late in the morning. January declined to 17.59 and May to 18.59 and May to 18.12 or 16 to 18 points net lower, and the market was within a point or two of these figures at midday.

SANTA FE TO PRESENT PLEA

WITNESSES OPPOSING NEW RAIL LINE TO BE HEARD TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Delayed by cessation of activity directed by President Hoover in tribute to Secretary Good, the Santa Fe railroad marshalled its witnesses before the interstate commerce commission today in opposing the Abilene and Southern railroad's proposal to extend its line from Ballinger to San Angelo in Texas.

C. L. Baker, San Angelo cotton buyer, testified he had bought an average of 36,000 bales of cotton annually in territory about San Angelo and that present rail facilities had met his needs adequately. He said cotton delivered to railroads one day usually was sent down to the concentration point the following day.

J. J. Beck, agricultural agent for the Santa Fe at Ballinger, Fred Kiechle, vice president of the Farmers and Merchants state bank of Ballinger, and Paul Cowley, assistant to the vice president of the Santa Fe, also testified.

Kiechle said the territory now served by the Texas and Pacific system did not need additional rail facilities and that he saw no prospect of further requirements in the near future.

PENNY SERIOUSLY ILL

R. T. Penney, 58, resident of Lubbock since 1901, is in a serious condition at the West Texas hospital, following complications which have developed into a brain absess.

Mr. Penney underwent a radical mastoid operation last Friday, and he showed satisfactory improvement until complications arose Tuesday night.

If you are NOT yourself

Are you being denied the happiness that is due you in life?

S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

IT is easy to abuse our golden life-given body, but Nature has a way of signaling danger. If heeded, graver troubles may be avoided. That tired, exhausted feeling, lack of appetite, aches and pains, flabby flesh, skin troubles—all speak of a body weakness—a lack of the normal count of red-blood-cells.

Every normal person's blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles to the cubic millimeter—those vitalizing, tiny red-cells which give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. It is dangerous to let the red blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people. It helps Nature increase the red-blood-cells. It promotes healthy body building. It is time-tested and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It is easily assimilated. Pleasant to take. It is on sale at all drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical. © S.S.S. Co.
