HOTEL BUILDING for HEREFORD, TEXAS

R. MERLE JONES AND ROBERT E. HUCKER

ARCHITECTS
AMARILLO, TEXAS

Don't get excited. This is merely an architect's sketch, produced for the Hotel Committee, to give you an idea of the proposed hotel. The building plans include four floors of rooms, mezzanine, ground floor and basement. So far the location, Third Street and Sampson, is the only portion of the dream to be realized. The hotel committee, including several business men, cattlemen, and farmers, reports that several persons are interested in the project.

Others were said to have investigated and lost interest due to the cost of building and furnishing the hotel. Bonuses have been offered to persons or hotel companies who will construct and operate a modern hotel in this community. Meanwhile the hotel provides an excellent topic of conversation—even for numerous visitors, tourists and traveling men as they sit in hotel lobbies in Clovis and Amarillo.

Drunk Driver No. 13 Fined In County Court

Drunk Driver No. 13 went through the mill in County Court this week.

Charles Digby, arrested on Highway 60 in Hereford Sunday night, by Deputy Sheriff Neal Young, pleaded guilty in County Court Monday and paid a fine of $200 and costs, totalling $221.15 according to county court records.

Digby became the 13th drunk driver to be convicted in county court since early this year, when officers of the local sheriff's department, city police, and highway patrolmen joined forces in declaring an all-out against drunk driving on public streets and highways.

For several weeks county court records heralded a new case each week. Last week, for the first time in many, no cases were filed. However, week before last, two drunk drivers were charged and convicted. Digby became the unlucky 13th Monday.

No better luck is in prospect, however, for the potential No. 14.

Twister Hits Home Of Jack Wilkins Brother at Tulia

The twister which apparently formed between Hereford and Dimmitt Tuesday afternoon found its mark four miles south-east of Tulia at the Clyde Wilkins home.

Deaf Smith County certified seed growers, operating this year for the first time on an organized basis, will produce nearly 20,000 bushels of certified wheat seed, County Agent Hugh Clearman estimated this week.

W. A. Goeth, of Abernathy, certified inspector, was in the county last Friday and Saturday and checked thirteen growers, with a total of 1,034 acres in wheat for certification.

Only one field of the 13 inspected was turned down for certification. Light smut in this field of 30 acres was responsible for the check-off.

Two fields were certified immediately for No. 1 grade certification, and the remainder was certified as No. 2, with the probability that most or all of it will be certified as No. 1 when a re-check is made.

Certified wheat being grown here is of three varieties, Standard Blackball, Westar, and Pawnee.

Members of the Deaf Smith County Certified Seed Growers Association who are reproducing seed wheat this year for certification are Ira Scott, W. T. Carmichael, W. P. Axt, T. J. Parsons, Colby Conkright, Walter David & Son, Luther Leaky, Jack Renfro, E. C. Reinauer, Ed Dault, Frank Bezner, George G. Heard, and C. J. Albracht.

The certified wheat is averaging in the neighborhood of 30 bushels to the acre, according to pre-harvest estimates, and is expected to produce some 20,000 bushels of certified seed.

enough to sow about one-tenth of the land in wheat in Deaf Smith County this year.

The eleven members of the Beta Eta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha are going to be baby sitters for a month, starting today.

Members of the recently organized sorority group have pledged themselves to give up their free evenings for 30 days—nights—to place themselves on call for service as baby sitters.

Before the rush starts, however, we might point out that there are a few rules to the game: (1) No male babies over 21 years of age will be accepted by the group and (2) a standard fee of 50-cents an hour will be charged.

The funds raised by the baby sitters will be used for the Auricular Foundation, a non-profit organization which operates for the purpose of aiding children who are deaf, or have crippled hearing, by doing everything possible to alleviate their handicap.

The Foundation was organized in 1939 by eminent doctors, teachers, and social workers, in Los Angeles. It is supported by memberships, donations, and small fees (where clients are able to pay).

Aids offered by the Foundation include medical attention, special education, psychological readjustment, or hearing aids for deaf or near-deaf children.

The Foundation has been adopted by the local club as one of its projects, and that's where the baby sitting comes in.

The girls who plan to donate their time are: Lilye London, Jane Harris, Ella May Martin, Bess Hagar, Francis Young, Gwen Springer, Virginia Adams, Mar-

HEREFORD KIDS TO PARADE PETS
Prizes to Be Awarded in Six Classes in Lions Pet Parade

The "elite" of Hereford animal-land will come to town Saturday morning.

Little pets, big pets, ugly and pretty ones—everything except rattlesnakes—are expected for the city-wide Pet Parade to be held June 28. And there will be prizes for six different classes, according to A. O. Thompson, chairman of the Lions Club committee in charge of the event.

When every Hereford boy and girl has had a chance to show off his or her favorite pet, awards are to be given for the following animals: the most unusual, the smallest, the most beautiful, the ugliest, and the best-trained.

All youngsters of school or pre-school age are entitled to enter. The only requirement is that contestant and owner be at the First Baptist church at 10 o'clock

Saturday morning. The strange procession will trot, run, hop—and probably be pulled—down Main street to the highway and back to the corner of Fourth and Main. The judging will take place on the north side of the Star Theatre.

All children will be guests of the Lions Club following the parade to see the show, "Little Miss Marker," starring Shirley Temple at the Texas Theatre.

A revival from the Children's Film Library, the picture is one of a series being presented currently at the Texas. The show is to begin at 11 o'clock.

Owners may enter more than one pet in the contest, according to Mr. Thompson.

So till Saturday morning at 10, here's to Hereford pet population!

Wheat harvest, which was just getting underway in the Hereford area Tuesday when it was halted by the heavy rains, is just a trickle, but barring further rain this week end, its expected to become a flood early next week.

Ripening of grain has been slowed by cool days and cloudy weather, and most of the grain brought in to local elevators to date has been too high in moisture content, elevator men report.

With the richest harvest in history in the making, farmers are anxious to get into their fields with combines before hail or high wind can complete the harvest for them.

However, terminal elevators are refusing to accept wet wheat, and local elevators are reported to be turning down all wheat with moisture content more than 16 percent. No wheat at all is being accepted for storage and loan if the moisture content is more than 14 percent.

Twenty-five cars of wheat from Dimmitt were turned down by terminal elevators at Houston early this week because the moisture content was too high.

Some wheat has already been shipped from Hereford as local elevators are keeping their bins clear as long as possible in anticipation of an overflow when harvest gets underway in earnest.

Most observers are expecting harvest to be in full swing next week, although there will be some cutting this week end if fields are dry enough to permit combines to enter.

The combine situation is bad, County Agent Hugh Clearman reported this week. "We will need at least 100 combines by the week end," Clearman said Tuesday.

Judging from reports from areas where harvest is already

Hail and winds of near tornadic velocity harvested hundreds of acres of rich wheat land in this county late Tuesday afternoon, with heavy losses reported from several areas.

A hail storm cut a swath a mile and a half wide between Jumbo Community in Castro county and Wyche, southeast of Hereford. In the center of the hail-path, wheat loss was estimated to be 100 percent. High winds added to the hail damage in this sector, which had already been struck by hail and a tornado earlier this year.

Heavy hail damage has been reported in the northwest section of the county, where some of the best wheat in the area is nearing the harvest stage, and from northeast of Hereford.

One of the heaviest losers in the storm area south of Hereford was Wilburn Axe, who reported 100 percent loss, including 50 acres of Certified Westar wheat which was cutting 40 bushels to the acre, and would have brought close to $3.50 a bushel as seed.

Axe had just started his combines on the 50 acres of Certified wheat Tuesday afternoon, and after cutting one round, with the yield running to 40 bushels, had halted the combine when the grain tested 16.9 moisture. Axe had just started cutting a larger acreage of Chiefcan, which was producing 30 bushels to the acre, when the hail drove him from the field.

Hartland Caraway, on an adjoining farm, reported a loss nearing 100 percent from hail and wind.

In the same area, heavy losses ranging to 90 percent were reported by Leo Forrest, Liston Wilson, G. W. Newsom, Lee Benefield, and A. B. Jury. Forrest said Wednesday morning that he had combines ready to begin cutting when the hail storm struck.

H. C. Baird, who lives in the Jumbo community in Castro county, reports near total loss of wheat from hail and wind.

Potatoes on the Louie Olson place, belonging to George Jones, and on the Wilburn Axe farm, were badly damaged. Troyce Carmichael reports 50 percent damage to wheat and a total loss of cotton.

Northwest of Hereford, in one of the richest wheat-producing areas in this section, hail storms struck heavily.

Manuel Hawks, 8 miles west and 9 north of Westway, reported 100 percent loss.

Cord Hammock reported a heavy loss from hail. Charlie Hoover, in the Bippus community, reported his loss at 25 percent.

Alton Biggers, whose place is near the Hawks farm, lost up to 75 percent of his wheat crop. Roger Brumley, in the same area, had a heavy hail loss on a half section of wheat. Burl France, north of Westway and Mack Jackson, 18 miles northwest also reported heavy hail damage.

Bill Davis reports a potato crop south of Hereford wiped out.

Twister Hits Axe Farm; Damage To Crops Is Heavy

A small twister which struck the W. P. Axe farm five miles east and three miles south of Hereford Tuesday evening June 24, caused damage estimated at $20,000. The storm hit the Axe place at 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday morning, Mr. Axe reported 100 per cent loss from hail on this wheat and an unknown amount of damage to his potato crop.

A granary on the farm was completely destroyed by the force of the tornado. However milk cans and empty oil drums which were standing near the walls of the granary were untouched.

Describing the twister, Mr. Axe said Wednesday that after heavy rains and hail had driven him from the field where he was cutting wheat, he parked his loaded pick-up approximately 10 feet from the granary intending to wait for a slackening in the storm before going inside.

Setting the emergency brake on the vehicle had no effect when

Truckers Hi-Jack 700 Bushels of Swisher Wheat

Pointing up a warning issued last week by Sheriff J. C. Reese for wheat growers to take precautions against theft of wheat, one Swisher county farmer is looking for a trio of truckers who absconded with some 700 bushels of grain last week end.

The Tulia farmer sent three transient trucks to his place with instructions to load wheat for transportation to the elevator. They did... but not to the right elevator. The grower estimates that about 700 bushels of grain were loaded, and he's asked officers to look for the trucks that loaded it.

However, Reese reported, he was unable to furnish either the license numbers of the trucks or the names of the men... information which the local sheriff's office has urged Deaf Smith farmers to obtain before loading wheat on any strange trucks.

Vocational Ag School Will Be Opened for Veterans July 15

Inauguration of the long-heralded Veteran's Vocational Agriculture courses in Hereford is scheduled for July 15, Ralph Smith, county veterans' service officer, announced this week.

Charles Crowell, West Texas State College graduate and himself a Veteran of World War II, will teach the courses, Smith said.

Opening of the G. I. school here has been held up for months for lack of a qualified instructor. Forty-seven Deaf Smith county veterans have applications on file for the courses.

Only 25 can be enrolled in one class, Smith stated. If more than that number qualify, efforts will be made to secure the services of another instructor so that a second class can be started.

Unless wheat harvest interferes, the courses will be started on July 15. Classes will be held at the high school agriculture department in Hereford, and will meet two nights each week.

Only qualified veterans will be admitted to the courses, and at the present time, regulations require that they be bona fide farm operators.

A three-man board has been appointed by the County School Board to examine and pass on applications for the courses.

County Judge Leonard Foster said this week that Paul Rudd,

High School To Offer Agriculture Courses Again

Courses in Agriculture will be offered again in Hereford High School this year for the first time since 1943. Supt. George L. Graham announced this week.

Walter Thompson, Texas Tech graduate and a teacher in agriculture for the past eight years has been employed by the Hereford Board of Trustees to teach agriculture classes in the high school this year, Graham said.

Mrs. Thompson will be employed also as a teacher in the elementary grades.

Thompson is a former resident of Farmer County, where his father was formerly County Judge. He has been teaching agriculture for the past eight years in schools at Childress and White Deer.

The number of courses to be offered this year will depend on the number of students, Supt. Graham said. The Hereford schools have secured state and federal approval for financial aid in setting up the agriculture department again.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have one small son. They will move to Hereford soon.

Only A Mountain Between Museum And Dinosaur

LUBBOCK, June 24—Bones of a sauropod dinosaur of the Lower Cretaceous age, first large collection of such remains to be found in North America, could be added to the West Texas museum at Texas Technological College, if officials could get to them.

Wan Langston, geology instructor, has recently returned from inspecting the bones embedded in a hard sandstone ledge located about 300 miles southeast of Lubbock.

Only a single bone of this creature from the Lower Cretaceous age, which ended some 100 million years ago, has been unearthed in North America. It is now at the museum at the University of Oklahoma. Although part of the skeleton is exposed in the sandstone ledge, extending about 150 yards along the side of a hill, it would take heavy expenditure of time and money to remove the crest of the hill covering the deposit, Langston said.

The sauropod dinosaur is one of a group of very large dinosaurs which roamed this country in pre-historic times. It is characterized by a relatively short body with a long neck and long tail. Its overall length varied from 30 to 82 feet, and it stood about 12 feet high at the hips.

Now Firemen Can Ignore Falling Walls

A converted Sherman tank with water nozzles instead of a cannon goes into action as a fire-fighting machine to defly blazing aircraft or exploding ammunition. Known as an "ammunition dump fire fighter," the remodeled land dreadnought is expected to revolutionize methods of controlling dangerous fires by permitting fire fighters to track right into the middle of the blaze with water foam, ignoring danger of falling walls.

Hereford Lions Club Installs Officers At Ladies Night Program Here Monday Night

New officers of the Hereford Lions Club were installed Monday night at a Ladies' Night program at the City Hall.

John McLean of Hereford, district governor of Lions International District 2-T-1, presided at the installation of new officers and directors.

D. C. Kinsey was installed as new President of the club, succeeding Howard Gault. Owen Bybee is the new vice president, and Bill Phillips was installed for a second term as secretary.

Other officers installed were Bruce Woodruff, Lion Tamer, and Bill Smith, Tail Twister.

Sylvester Slagle and Ben Ezell were new members of the Board of Directors, and Alex Thompson and Wayne Evans were returned to the Board for another year.

Thompson and Ezell were the only officers not present at the meeting.

A Sheaffer fountain pen and pencil set was presented to the retiring president, Howard Gault, as a gift from the club.

Fred Pierce was in charge of the program, which featured Don Boles, master of ceremonies from Clovis Radio Station, KICA, and his troop of entertainers in a highly entertaining program of songs and skits.

The baby incubator recently presented to the Deaf Smith

County Hospital by the Lions Club was on display, and T. E. Seliger Jr. and Sylvester Slagle, members of the hospital's board of directors, formally accepted the gift on behalf of the hospital.

More than 100 Lions Club members and wives were present for the dinner.

Old time friends stopping in Hereford yesterday for a visit with Mrs. J. F. Ward were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Amarillo. They were enroute to Carlsbad for a trip through the Caverns.

Around Town

That "dream picture" on page 1 this week is the architect's conception of Hotel Deaf Smith. Back in the files of The Brand about 1905 and 1906, and periodically since then, Hereford has been publicly lamenting the need for a first-class hotel. Well, its on the drawing boards now, and has been for quite a while, complete with hot and cold running sponsors. The project until the time comes to get on the dotted line, but that $500,000 figure on the price tag seems to have a chilling influence. Anybody want to build a hotel?

Members of the Heiselman Home Demonstration Club are upset. Seems there was a report in The Brand last week about a frozen food demonstration at that club, and the headline quoted Mrs. Tom Draper, CHDA, as saying that "the product you take from the frozen food locker is better than the product you put in." Mrs. L. Creitz, reporter for the club, says the word "no" was omitted. Its an important little word. Maybe we were overwhelmed by all this propaganda in recent years about freezing improving some foods. We stand corrected. Mrs. Draper says the frozen product is NO better than the product frozen. Sounds logical, at that, but what about all those rosy pictures of the post-war world that we've been building up. Having grown up in an age of miracles, we are sometimes inclined to believe in too many of them. All those dreams about being able, someday, to quick-freeze that tough beef steak and have it come out tender and juicy are shattered.

Alex Thompson is unhappy with us, too, although he hasn't said so. A pair of those pictures on page one of last week's Brand were, naturally, products of

No Criticism

Around Donna Quigley there's absolutely nothing wrong with this glamorous bathing ensemble—satin black rayon lastex shorts, side-tipped, and polka dot rayon jersey bra with middle drawstring.

Alex's magic lens. Someday we're going to catch Alex in front of the camera himself, and then we'll be certain that he doesn't rate a credit line on the photo.

The Brand has just received a letter from Amarillo wanting to know why Hereford doesn't have a city bus service? The letter contains some interesting arguments, and The Brand would be glad to publish it as requested except for one thing... its signed only "An Ex-Herefordite and Reader." As we have explained many times before, we do not publish anonymous letters. If the writer cares to supply a proper signature, we'll be glad to publish the letter.

BACK IN TOWN: S. B. McLallen is back from a trip to Denver. C. D. Hardesty returned this week from a visit in Kentucky and Virginia after attending his son's graduation from college.

Vocational Ag ...

J. H. Barclay, and Alec Bateman have been appointed to serve on the board, and are scheduled to hold their first meeting next Tuesday.

Veterans enrolled in the agriculture course will be eligible to receive the same monthly subsistence allowance ($90 for married man, $65 for single man) which is paid under the G. I. Bill of Rights to veterans attending colleges and other approved educational institutions.

Classes meet two nights each week, and the courses continue for three years.

Library Offers Many Advantages Of Summer Tour -- Without Mosquitoes

Many Hereford vacationers will be only arm-chair travelers this summer.

And for those who will not be fighting chiggers and mosquitoes in camp or stopping in overcrowded hotels enroute to the nation's vacation spots, the Deaf Smith County Library is ready with numerous books which afford the reader imaginary trips through the United States.

Mrs. Clara McLean recommends two new volumes treating national parks. They are "Your Western National Parks," by Doris Yeager, and "Let's Visit Our National Parks," by Byron Steel.

The former will appeal to everyone who loves the out-of-doors or who has even a passing interest in the great parks and monuments of the west. In it the reader-traveler glimpses the thundering waterfalls of Yosemite and Yellowstone, marvels at the glaciers of Mt. Ranier and the rain forests of Olympic, hears again the mystery of Mesa Verde and feels the silence of Death Valley. This volume portrays 49 national parks and monuments. Steel's book is more appropriate for those who plan actually to visit some or all of the twenty-eight national parks it describes. It is "A Practical Motor Guide to the National Parks and Principal Tourist Cities of the United States." Complete with scenic and historic routes for the vacationer, opening dates of the parks, admission fees, hotel rates and accommodations along the way, history and description of the reservations, the book marks out 50 trips with New York, Chicago, New Orleans, St. Louis, San Francisco, and Seattle as possible starting points.

The author of "Texas: A World in Itself," George Sessions Perry, now offers in his "Cities of America" a modern journey through twenty-two great United States cities. From one's own easy chair, he may go sight-seeing in "Detroit, with its production line; Denver, with its magic mountains; Hollywood, wearing its chrome on its sleeve; San Antonio, daubed with khaki and flushed with sun; Seattle, next-door neighbor to Alaska; and Baltimore, holding onto its past while making a fast grab for the future."

Harold Augustin Calahan's "Geography for Grown-Ups" is not the dry account of distances and borders found in grammar-school textbooks. It is on the contrary readable and understandable, explaining clearly such simple, but "more-often-than-not-misunderstood" things as direction, latitude, longitude, time and tide.

In this new kind of geography, there is much to stir the imag-Ination. The author explores possible geographic changes in the era of atomic power, gives vast conceptions of interstellar space and presents graphic evidence of the lost continent of Atlantis. Rather light reading for the stay-at-home who would like to "travel" to New York is Alice Beal Parsons' "The World Around the Mountain." This is a "volume of essays: informal and personal" describing the author's life in her country home near the "big city." She tells of her trips into town when the reader will stroll down Fifth Avenue and enjoy New York in spring with her.

Besides the travel books on America, there are many books in the library now to delight those who would journey from their own living rooms to foreign countries.

Conservation District Warns Of Burning Wheat Stubble

The Supervisors of the Deaf Smith County Conservation District have issued a warning to all farmers against the burning of wheat stubbles after harvest.

Due to favorable weather and growing conditions, wheat acreage is very large and the plants are tall and thick on the ground. All harvest and hauling crews should be careful as possible against fire. Be sure that all matches and cigarettes are completely out before throwing them on the ground either in the fields or in the roads. One destructive fire has already occurred in the Hale-Swisher area where 200 to 300 acres of grain were destroyed.

However, from a conservative standpoint stubbles should never be burned, but should be left on or near the surface by plowing with a sweep-type cultivator, or other light cultivation tool. If handled properly and kept near the surface, a good coat of straw, such as most fields will have this year, is the best insurance in the world against land or crops blowing out during the two years following.

Milk Shortage In Texas This Fall Forecast

LUBBOCK, June 24—Texas is apparently headed for another milk shortage this fall, L. G. Harmon, professor of dairy manufactures at Texas Technological College, predicted following a meeting of dairymen from West Texas and other points over the state held at the college.

Worst shortages will probably be on the north and south plains areas and in south Texas along the coast, he said. The milk surplus which has been evident this summer in the area around Fort Worth, Dallas, Brownwood, and Eastland will probably be eliminated in the autumn months, according to the dairymen present.

One of the reasons for the shortage is that farmers tend to ease up somewhat on milk production efforts when field crops are excellent as they now are in the Panhandle. But the major cause is the common practice of dairymen of breeding most cows for spring freshening.

The breeding practice causes production to be heaviest in the summer when demand is lightest, and leaves the October to February period with low production.

The obvious solution is for more milk producers to breed for early fall calf crops, Harmon said. But he predicted that it will probably take at least four or five years to increase the percentage of cows freshening in the fall to the extent needed to eliminate annual winter milk shortages.

Some producers in the north and central part of the state are planning to build up grade A volume and ship milk into the Rio Grande Valley and along the coastal areas, it was disclosed.

Although some of the qualities of cotton can be reproduced in other fibers, there is no other fiber, natural or synthetic, which can substitute for cotton in all its uses.

Milk production per cow in the United States for 1947 is likely to set a new record for the third consecutive year, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Merchants Agree On Closing Hours And Holidays

Official Rate On Wheat Loan Set at $1.77

Interim loan and support price on wheat for Deaf Smith county has been officially set at $1.77 per bushel, six cents under the un-official figure quoted last mid-week by the grain trade, F. G. Collier, secretary of the Deaf Smith ACA, reported Monday.

The support price had been quoted unofficially last week at $1.83 for this county.

National average loan rate, according to the Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation, has been set at $1.80 a bushel. In general, in the past, the loan rate in this area has been higher than the U. S. average.

The interim loan will hold until June 30, when the final loan and support price will be set for the 1947-48 season.

The following deductions from the basic loan values were announced:

(1) For loan value on No. 2 wheat, deduct 1 cent from the loan value on No. 1.

(2) For loan value on No. 3, deduct 3 cents from the loan value of No. 1.

(3) For the loan value on No. 4, deduct 6 cents from the loan value on No. 1.

(4) For the loan value on No. 5, deduct 9 cents from the loan value on No. 1.

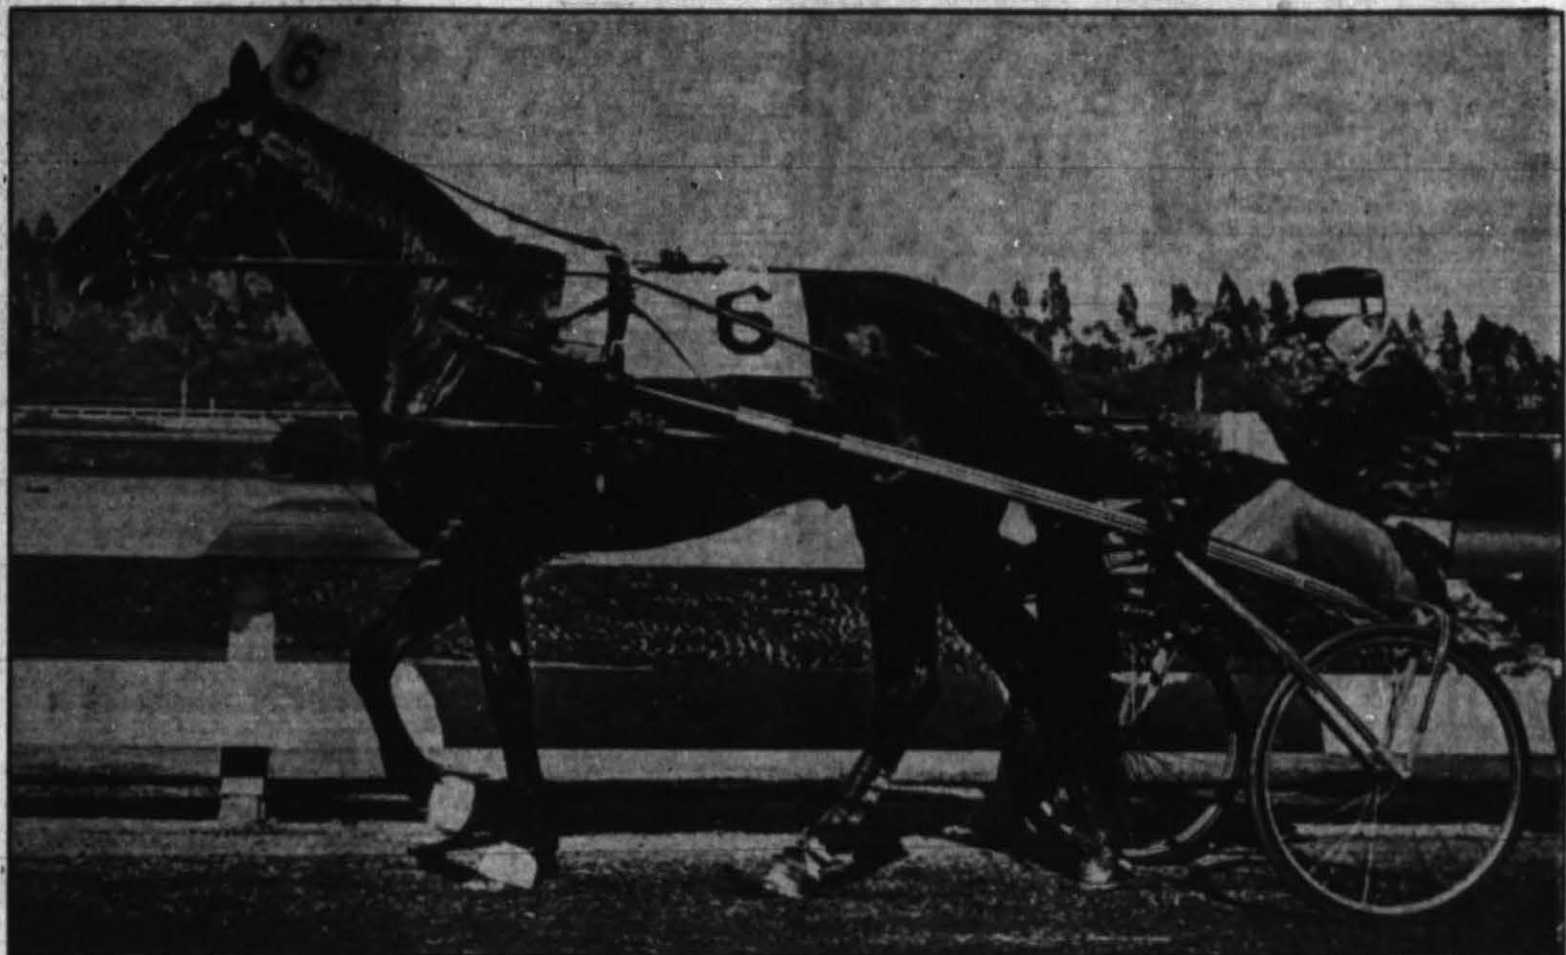

(5) For light smutty the loan value is 2 cents less and for smutty 6 cents less for all grades.

Loan and support values for wheat in Castro, Farmer, Swisher, Oldham, and Randall counties is the same, at $1.77 per bushel, U. S. No. 1 grade.

The rate for south plains counties was set at the same figure. On the North plains slightly lower loan rates were quoted. In Ochiltree, Moore, and Hansford counties, the rate is $1.75. In Dallam county, the rate is $1.74. The Commodity Credit Corporation announced that the loan rates were "for interim use until issuance of final Wheat Loan Rates."

Final rates are expected to be set on June 30 or July 1.

Will Not Close on July 4th

Hereford retail merchants met at the county courthouse Friday night, at the call of a merchants committee named by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, to make decisions on closing dates and other matters affecting retail stores.

Merchants agreed that all business houses in Hereford would remain open on July 4, since that date falls in the middle of the wheat harvest in this section and is one of the busiest times of the year.

As an accommodation to the people of the Hereford area, a resolution adopted by the merchants stated, our stores will remain open for business as usual on the Fourth of July.

Closing dates agreed on by the merchants, however, included Labor Day (September 1), Armistice Day (November 11), Thanksgiving Day (November 27), Christmas Day and New Years Day.

Christmas and New Years Day this year will each fall on Thursday.

Merchants present agreed, also, to obtain the cooperation of all business houses, with the exception of grocery stores, drug stores, and cafes, to a 6 p. m. closing hour on week-days.

All business houses will be asked to agree to closing at 9 p. m. on Saturdays.

Grocery stores have been contacted, and all but one have agreed to a 5:30 p. m. week-day closing hour, Chamber of Commerce Secretary Pete Cowart said this week.

An effort will be made to obtain 100 percent agreement on the closing hours before the next meeting of the merchants, which is scheduled for July 21.

The new closing hours are scheduled to go into effect in July 27.

A monthly meeting of all retail merchants is being scheduled for the third Monday night of each month, at 8 o'clock, at the county court room. All interested merchants are being urged to attend these meetings, when various problems will be worked out as they arise.

A committee, composed of Paul Harvey, chairman, Grady Rogers, Homer Henslee, Dub Reeves, and L. C. Thomas was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce at the request of merchants to organize the group.

Another committee was appointed Friday night to work out plans for a monthly "Community Day" for Hereford. Members are J. R. Johnson, L. C. Thomas, Ernest Kendall, Frank Daniels, Tom Alderson, and Homer Henslee.

Blue Cross Advisory Council Elects New Chairman Friday

A meeting of the Advisory Council of the Community Blue Cross Group was held at the County Courtroom last Friday night, and opening dates for enrollment of a new community group were formally set.

Jack Reeves, field representative of the Group Hospitalization Plan, of Amarillo, announced that two representatives from the Abilene area office would establish headquarters in the Commissioners Courtroom in Hereford to take applications for membership in the new group from June 28 through July 4.

Reeves said that the Hereford Community Group has shown a great deal of interest in Blue Cross hospitalization service since the group was organized in October, 1946, and also revealed that 23 industrial groups have been organized here.

Elmer Mathies, manager of the Deaf Smith County Hospital, told the board that "Blue Cross is rendering a real service to the people," and pointed out that last month the total receipts at the hospital were made up almost 50 percent by Blue Cross claim payments. Mathies said the Blue Cross payments lacked only $100 of making up exactly half the hospital's revenue.

Homer Henslee was elected president of the Advisory Board, succeeding Fred W. Baird, who has moved away. Mrs. Dyalthis Brady is secretary of the Coun-

FRIONA, June 24—Funeral rites for Dallas H. Coldiron of this city were conducted Sunday, June 15, at the First Baptist Church in Friona. Rev. Joe Wilson of Olton, former pastor of the Friona church, conducted the rites.

Mr. Coldiron, age 56, died at his home in Friona on June 14.

He was born in Coryell county on March 14, 1891, and moved to Erath county with his parents when he was a child. He was married to Laura Carter on September 15, 1912.

He was a member of the Friona Baptist Church.

Surviving him are his widow; one son, Dallas Earl Coldiron of College Station; one daughter, Mrs. W. S. Crow of Friona; three brothers, J. E. Coldiron of Friona; N. W. Coldiron of Memphis, and H. L. Coldiron of Denison; and four sisters, Mrs. H. G. White and Mrs. C. D. Carter of Friona, Mrs. T. M. Hudgens of Paducah, and Mrs. L. G. Goodman of Rotan.

Interment was in the Friona Cemetery.

Local Shriners Bid for Location Of New $500,000 Crippled Children's Hospital

Members of the Hereford Shrine Club of the Masonic order are making a strong bid on the part of Hereford as a site for the proposed construction of a $500,000 Crippled Children's Hospital.

Khiva Temple of Amarillo has been given authority by the Imperial Council of the Shrine to raise $500,000 for the construction of a Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children to be located in the Khiva jurisdiction.

Pampa, Amarillo, Canadian and Hereford appear to be making the principal bids for location of the hospital at the present time.

The W. W. Hill family of Hereford has offered to give 100 acres of choice land, located north of the Hill home on Highway 51, two miles north of Hereford, as a site for the hospital.

D. L. McDonald of Amarillo, known throughout this section of the country as "the father of irrigation on the plains," has offered to drill an irrigation well on the Hereford site and to install a pump in a building planned to conform with the hospital architecture at actual construction costs.

A powerful bid is being prepared by the Hereford Shrine to bring the potential benefits of the Hereford site to the attention of the Imperial Council of the Shrine which will make the final selection of site.

Hereford's location in the heart of the Khiva Temple district, and the Deaf Smith County reputation for growing mineral-rich foods are being cited as chief arguments for bringing the new hospital to this area.

Final selection of the site will be made by the Imperial Council at a date not yet announced.

Major W. E. Culbertson, and wife, from Delavan, Illinois are here during harvest. Mr. Culbertson owns two farms Northwest of Hereford, all in wheat; one farm is rented to Rufus Overstreet, the other to T. E. Rohrbach. The Culbertsons are stopping at the Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fowler of Parsons, Kansas are visiting Mrs. Bess E. Glivan here. Mrs. Glivan is Mr. Fowler's aunt. Mrs. Glivan will accompany them to Booker, Texas, to visit for a few days with her sister, Mrs. Minnie Fowler.

Amarillo Invites Plains to Join In Waddy Week Rodeo to Be Staged June 30 to July 6

AMARILLO, June 25.—By Mayor's proclamation Waddy Week June 30 thru July 6, will be an annual occasion for Amarillo.

By invitation it is a four-state event, and every community in the Texas Panhandle, New Mexico, Western Kansas and Oklahoma is urged to join in keeping alive the old western spirit.

Delbert Dalby, president of the Will Rogers Range Riders who are sponsors of the event, urges every community to start making its plans now to have its Western delegation present in Amarillo on July 4, the day of the big parade and first day of the Range Riders Annual Rodeo.

The Waddy Week invitation committee is sending out wires to every Chamber of Commerce or town mayor inviting them to participate in the July 4 parade and Waddy Week activities.

From Monday through Sunday the week will be studied with parades, Western dance festivals and rodeo performances.

Gov. Beauford Jester, flanked by other celebrations of regional and national prominence, will lead the July 4 parade.

He will also open the Will Rogers Range Riders three-day rodeo which gets off to a start Friday afternoon. This is Gov. Jester's first official appearance in Amarillo since his inauguration.

Jones Bros. are the producers of the Rodeo. Purses total $2,750.

Three days of the week will be highlighted by Western music events. Lucky Moeller and his Western Oakies featuring Billy Foust will furnish the music. The nine-piece orchestra is described by critics as a "find" in Western music.

Tuesday night the orchestra will play for a Western ballroom dance at the Nat. The following night the orchestra will play for a street dance on the four sides of the Potter County Courthouse.

The bandstand will be atop the eight story courthouse. Thursday night the Oklahoma boys will present a Western concert at the Municipal Auditorium at which there will be square dance exhibitions.

According to Tex Thornton, parade chairman, everybody with an organized mounted group is invited to participate in the July 4 parade. Also individual horsemen or anybody with a Western float or vehicle reminiscent of frontier days.

Entries should be addressed to Parade Committee, Box 1743, Amarillo, so that places can be assigned in the parade.

State Takes Over Inspection Of On-Job Vet Training

Veterans administration regional office at Lubbock announced today that the State of Texas has assumed complete responsibility for inspection and approval of all facilities for on-the-job training of World War II veterans under Public Law 346 (GI Bill).

In addition, the State has taken over the supervision of 6,043 West Texas farms, establishments and shops presently conducting on-the-job training for veterans.

FANCY ROPERS TO FEATURE WADDY WEEK RODEO

The Buss Carson family of Hollywood, California, pictured above, are among the many special attractions which will feature the Range Riders Rodeo in Amarillo during "Waddy Week" July 4-6.

VA advised that all future requests for inspection and approval of concerns to train veterans on the job under the GI Bill should be addressed to: State Approving Agency for Veterans Education, Land Office Building, Austin, Texas.

The Veterans administration regional office emphasized that it had not relinquished supervision of some 4,000 veterans engaged in job training but that sufficient funds have been allocated to the State in order that it may inspect and supervise the facilities which provide the training.

This arrangement will enable the VA to intensify its efforts toward rehabilitating disabled or physically handicapped war veterans. Formerly, VA's own training facility officers made surveys and forwarded reports to Austin.

Texas Employment Commission Sets Up Branch to Aid Harvest Labor

As a part of the program to render a complete employment service to the community, the Texas Employment Commission, formerly known as the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, operates a program known as the Rural Industries Program.

Briefly defined, rural industries are those industries engaged in the initial processing of food products and includes such establishments as grain elevators, meat packing plants, vegetable packing sheds, bakeries, bottling plants, etc.

Since January 1, of this year, B. A. Myers, local office manager stated today, the organization has been readying itself for this wheat harvest. Personnel who are familiar with this type of work have been assigned to the Rural Industries Program. Elevators in the district have been contacted to determine labor needs, and active application files have been gleaned for workers who have qualifications for work in rural industries.

At this time, the organization is particularly interested in assisting employers in securing elevator workers and car loaders. Workers who are interested in employment of this nature should contact the office located at 325 W. 7th Avenue in Amarillo. Farmers wanting combine operators and truck drivers and workers wishing this type of work should contact County Agents in the respective counties in which they may be located.

Since rural industries work, in many instances, is highly seasonal, information about lay-offs and the beginning of new activities is very important so that workers can be channeled from one activity to another with the least loss of time and the least inconvenience to the employer, Myers said.

The service rendered to both employer and employees is free. The regional office located at 325 W. 7th Avenue, Phone number 2-5521, Amarillo, serves Dalhart, Sherman, Hartley, Moore, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong and Potter Counties. Other offices are located at Borger, Pampa, Childress, Plainview, Lubbock and Littlefield.

cents per dozen at Denver, Amarillo, and Austin: $7 1-2 at New Orleans; around 38 at Fort Worth, Dallas, and San Antonio; and 44 at Houston. Dallas bought fryers at 35 cents per pound, and heavy hens at 24 to 25. Fort Worth paid 33 to 35 for fryers, and 21 to 23 for heavy hens. New Orleans took fryers at 33 and hens 26.

Corn values rose rapidly last week in response to unfavorable planting weather in the corn belt states. Total advances of around 30 cents per bushel brought No. 1 white to $2.62 Friday, and yellow to $2.40 at Fort Worth and Galveston. Wheat and oats eased down another nickel or so, and sorghums gained about the same amount.

Milled rice met slow demand. Early plantings made good progress under favorable conditions. Most feeds held fully steady; bran gained $6 per ton, and shorts lost $4. Trade expects prairie hay movement from North Texas and Oklahoma next week. Peanut exports through April 1947 neared ten times the volume for the same period in 1946 Texas 12-months combing wools and the finer territory wools continued in good demand.

Cotton prices fluctuated widely, but closed a little lower. Extremely light offerings and demand for only special qualities sharply restricted trading.

Lambs dropped from 50 cents to $1.00 at San Antonio to around $3.00 at Wichita last week. Aged sheep and feeder lambs remained steady at Fort Worth, but sold generally lower at other markets. Good spring lambs closed at $20 to $21.50 at Fort Worth; and medium to good $17 to $19 at San Antonio, and $18 to $22 at Oklahoma City.

Cattle markets weakened materially on practically all classes, with the better grades of cows, steers and yearlings holding up best. Good cows closed the week at $15.50 to $16.50 at Houston; $16 to $17.50 at Fort Worth; $16.50 to $18 at Wichita; and up to $18 at Oklahoma City. Medium to good cows brought $17 to $18 at San Antonio; and common to good kinds $15 to $17.50 at Denver. Medium to good steers and yearlings moved at $17.50 to $23.50 at Fort Worth; and steers $21 to $24.50 at Oklahoma City.

Butcher hogs closed the week steady at Oklahoma City, but fell mostly 25 to 50 cents or more at other southwest terminals. Sows sold generally 50 cents to $1.50 lower, and feeder pigs dropped at San Antonio. Late high price on butchers was $24.50 at San Antonio and Fort Worth; $24.75 at Oklahoma City and Wichita; and $26 at Denver.

MARKETS

(USDA) Many southwest farm markets showed considerable easiness last week but some held firm, and corn and milo rose to even higher levels, according to the Production and Marketing Administration U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Market for East Texas tomatoes weakened and many shipments moved out unsold. Most late-week f. o. b. sales went at $2.75 to $3 per bag box for 6 by 6 and larger U. S. No. 1's. Denver's wholesale market noted a general easing of fruit and vegetable prices. New Orleans held mostly unchanged. Potatoes showed recent firmness at St. Louis but cantaloupes and lettuce declined there as well as at Kansas City.

Perryton Sprays DDT to Rid City of Flies, Insects

PERRYTON, June 23—A city-wide spraying program to control flies and mosquitoes was started in Perryton on Monday, June 16. Adapting the methods used by the U. S. Army in the mosquito-infested jungles of the Pacific islands, the city of Perryton is using two spraying machines owned by the county, and every street and alley in town has been sprayed with a DDT solution.

The sprayers have also been used around the city lake where mosquitoes breed. Approximately 8,500 gallons of DDT were spread during the first two days of the program. City officials said that most of the adult flies and mosquitoes have been killed with the DDT spray, but that not all of the breeding places were covered. Repeated applications are planned during the summer which will keep the fly and mosquito population down.

Property owners are being urged to aid in the program by a general clean-up of premises.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ross and little daughter Cynthia Lynn of Lubbock spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williamson of Muleshoe were in Hereford over the week end to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williamson. Their son, Ayers, returned home with them after spending a week here in the Williamson home.

Wrong-way storage of vegetables in the home results in a great loss of food nutrients.

If properly managed, lespedeza seeded on Texas pasture land will thrive and produce forage for many years.

Mrs. Hromas, a member of the Hereford Garden Club, spoke on "The Basic Principles of Flower Arrangement," treating the subject from the four basic principles: design, scale, balance and harmony. She told of color harmonies in arrangements speaking of the analogous or colors that are all kindred, complimentary which are opposite colors, the monochromatic, all of one color and the triad with equal distances apart or containing all primary colors.

Reminder for the month was "Spring flowering bulbs such as tulips, daffodils, and Dutch iris may be taken up, divided and replanted or held for replanting in the fall."

The next meeting will be held on July 11 instead of on July 4 as scheduled in yearbooks.

P. Walker. She also discussed design, proportion and balance in flower arrangement.

Another Letter to the Editor from

The Bootleg Philosopher

Dear editor: I was considerable upset the other day when I went across the road to get The Brand out of my neighbor's mail box on account of you not livin up to your promises to put my name on the mail in list as yet though its only been a month now and I reckon that that aint in no way bad time for the Brand as I have heard of cases of people out this way gettin' expiration notices before they ever managed to get put on the mailin list after payin up a subscription, which I aint done of course seein' I'm a member of the staff now, so to speak, and figger I'm entitled to a subscription free gratis.

But as I was sayin I was considerable upset when I seen right along side of my regular contribution, in a manner of speakin addin insult to injury, that poison pen letter from a guy signin himself Ah Fooey which certainly aint his right name as he aint a Chinaman even if he does look somewhat like one, as I am pretty darn certain of who he is. I aint mentionin any names, but I've read somewhere about a Fox eatin sour grapes and this is a clear case of such if I ever seen one.

I will say that I consider some of them remarks totally unjustified and I don't see where The Brand had no call to print such remarks about a regular member of the staff, so to speak, and I would've cancelled my subscription right off except for the fact that you aint put me on the mailin list yet like you promised you would as I mentioned previously and maybe by that time I will've gone through a coolin off period anyhow, like President Truman is always urgin that these here Unions do, though I haven't noticed that coolin off has had any noticeable effect on the unions as they go on strikin anyway, cool or hot.

If The Brand is goin to continue to publish these anonymous letters about me, however, I'm like as not to go on a strike myself which I am considering anyway as these long hours is hard on a man, especially with-out air conditionin. And the pay aint nothin to speak of, as in fact you haven't spoke of it yet in

Teaching Your CHILD

(Note—Mrs. J. B. Fewkes prepared this article for the Child Study Club using material from "Parents Can Be People" and "The Family in a World at War.")

Tolerance
If we are to teach our children tolerance we must begin in early infancy. It does not matter whether the skin is light or dark, or whether the child is Protestant, Catholic or Jewish, the parent's attitude establishes an attitude or feeling within the child, at first without meaning, but later to mark the difference between tolerance and intolerance. Mother's whole body pulling away from some one she doesn't want to speak to on the street or in a crowded store has its influence, not only what is said, but much more important, what is done or felt begins to make sense until suddenly and swiftly the full realization strikes home. This way of feeling, this way of talking, this way of doing things is all right. The words and deeds and feelings of prejudice of the parents and those close to the child give meaning to the words "Don't You Hate Niggers" or "He's Like All the Other Jews."

How are we teaching our children to regard the Negro veteran? Through the things we do and the things we say, are we building a world of intolerance, of prejudice and discrimination—A world forever at war?

Intolerant people are people who hate. Hate expressed in words or deeds or gestures, and the hater is less aware of what is going on because his intellectual functions become narrowed. The first step before teaching your child tolerance is to develop human sympathy and kindness in your own life and then you are ready to impart that knowledge of kindness and human sympathy to the child.

The process of taming the savage within us begins in early infancy. When we were little we were hurt and as we grew older we were hurt. The hurt that was really deep was a hurt to either mind or body and it was also a hurt to our feelings of security. Such hurt created resentment and hatred, but because these feelings would so often be against parents whom we were supposed spite of my bringing the subject up in my first letter.

However I aint one to take offense so easy, and since I been readin in the Amarillo News about them United States negotiatin all the time, I'm willin to negotiate with this character who writes the anonymous letters so long as it don't involve no particular effort on my part.

If he wants to come out to my place he can join me in my two-holer and we'll talk things over, tho if he can't negotiate no better'n General Marshall has with Russia, we aint gonna get no place very fast.

Faithfully yours,
J. A.
P. S. I'll be glad to negotiate these here salary matters with you, too any time only you'll have to arrange with that anonymous letter writer of yours to come at different times as the two-holer can't accommodate no Big Three meetings.

Drillers Hit Dry Hole Below 9,000 Feet in Crosby

FLOYDADA, June 26—While drillers for both Hale and Crosby county oil tests were being announced this week, leasing activities were continuing in the immediate vicinity of Floydada, where lease men were buying small tract leases as fill-ins. Owners were being paid $25 an acre for leases. A few other tracts are due to be signed up in limited area.

Ten year leases are being bought with $1 annual rental offered. The promising pool in the Hale-Crosby-Floyd county area has so far failed to develop, with drillers chalked up on two more tests last week.

At the Humble Oil & Refining Company's No. 1 Montgomery in Crosby county, drillers reported the hole abandoned after the drill had hit into granite at 9,707 feet. The test was the deepest of many now-abandoned tests in the area.

It was the first to be punched below the 7,000 foot horizon, except for recent tests in Hale county.

The Montgomery test was 12 miles northwest of Crosbyton.

Tests abandoned in Hale county were off-sets to the producing Fisher No. 1, located north of Petersburg, which touched off the flurry of drilling in the area several months ago.

Yankees Sign Buffaloes Cage Star for Baseball Try-Out

Metz LaFollette, powerhouse athlete from West Texas State College, was the only Panhandle hopeful signed by the New York Yankees at their training camp held at Memphis two weeks ago.

A contract was offered, and accepted by LaFollette, at the conclusion of the four-day training camp, where more than 80 aspiring baseball players had assembled for the try-outs.

Burleigh Grimes, Wattle Holm and Dutch Lorbeer, scouts from the Yankees baseball system, looked over all candidates and picked the husky 6 foot 4 inch right-hander for a debut in organized baseball.

LaFollette was assigned to Denver, in the strong Class A Western League, and optioned to the Henderson (Texas) Club in the One-Star loop.

LaFollette, who has lettered twice with the Buffaloes in football eligibility in college athletics, but has not announced whether or not he will return to college this fall.

Whether he returns to the campus or not, LaFollette is not expected to turn out with the Buff gridders this fall, as he's taking no chances of injuring the pitching arm with which he hopes to carve out a major league baseball career.

Cultivators Club Features Program

Mrs. A. L. Manjeot provided the program for the Cultivators Club when a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Marvin Knox Friday afternoon.

The guest-speaker outlined information advice in making flower arrangements, urging the proper cutting methods and getting material well in hand before beginning the arrangement. She pointed out that the success of the arrangement depends on the conditioning of the flowers and told the group to cut the flowers early in the morning and place most of the stem in water until arranging time. "If this method is followed corsages and other arrangements will stay fresh looking" Mrs. Manjeot said.

During the business session Mrs. Paul Wilson was extended membership in the club and a called meeting was scheduled for July 3 at the home of Mrs. W. H. Patton. Members are urged to attend the meeting as the constitution and by-laws will come up for discussion.

Members also voted to entertain with a coffee at some time in August.
