Networks Will Carry Address To The People

Report On Overall Program Planned From 9 To 9:30

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. — President Truman's radio report to the nation will be made between 9 and 9:30 p. m. (CST) Thursday, January 3.

The White House made this announcement today and said the speech will be carried on all networks from the first floor oval room of the White House.

Report To The People

"As the President announced in Independence, it will be sort of a report to the people on his overall program," said Charles G. Ross, press secretary.

"It is not to be confused, of course, with the state of the nation message to Congress some time after Jan. 14," Ross said.

It has yet to be decided definitely whether Mr. Truman will deliver the message to Congress in person.

Ross said that when the President returns to the White House this afternoon from his aerial holiday trip to Missouri, he will act on some pending bills.

Cruise Is Planned

Then the chief executive plans to depart on the yacht Williamsburg for a five-night cruise down the Potomac river to Chesapeake bay. He will return to the White House Jan. 2.

The President will work on both his radio speech and his message to Congress while aboard the yacht, Ross added.

Arrangements are expected to be made for the President to see Secretary of State Byrnes after his arrival from the Moscow foreign minister conference sometime tomorrow. It is probable that Byrnes will be driven to nearby Quantico, Va., to see the President on his yacht there.

Big Supply Of 1946 Clothing Being Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Doggedly persistent in the face of only partial success thus far, the government will try again next year to put a generous supply of inexpensive clothing on the market.

The principal goal in 1946 will be to make more low and medium priced suits available for veterans and for boys.

For the first three months of next year a total of 23,000,000 yards of wool fabrics will be earmarked by the Civilian Production administration for use in such garments and for 7,000,000 pairs of mens and boys trousers and 15,000,000 overcoats and topcoats.

Sell At Low Cost

The goal for all of 1946 is between 28,000,000 and 30,000,000 suits, and CPA says it hopes that 14,000,000 of these will sell at low or moderate prices.

For example, a top retail price of $33 has been set for men's suits made during the first quarter of next year by manufacturers who accept government aid in obtaining material.

There is nothing in the program to compel manufacturers to participate. There was no such requirement this quarter either, and as a result only about 60 per cent of the fabric supply set aside was claimed for inexpensive garments, CPA officials acknowledge.

Authority Runs Out

Also, while CPA is setting a goal for production of inexpensive garments throughout 1946, its authority to grant priorities assistance to manufacturers runs out next June 30 unless the recently-renewed second war powers act is extended again.

In announcing last night that the government clothing program

Truman Plane Lands Safely

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—President Truman returned by plane at 1:28 p. m., CST, today after a 4-hour and 51-minute flight through cloudy weather from Kansas City.

The weather delayed the arrival. The president's big C-54 took off from icy runways at Kansas City at 8:37 a. m., CST. Weather conditions dictated the cancellation of a planned en-route stop at St. Louis to pick up Reconversion Director and Mrs. John W. Snyder and their daughter, Drusi. The Snyders flew with Mr. Truman as far as St. Louis when he made the trip out on Christmas day.

First To Step Down

The chief executive, hands in his top coat pocket and slouch hat pulled down over his eyes was the first one to step down from the plane.

The presidential plane came in from the west on instruments through a 900-foot ceiling.

A crowd of several hundred gathered to see the president's arrival.

Others On Flight

Accompanying the president on the return flight were Mr. and Mrs. James Pendergast and their daughter, Mary.

All commercial flights were reported grounded from Kansas City airports today, and airport officials termed it "bad weather" for the President's flight. The trip to Washington usually takes about four hours.

Mrs. Truman and Margaret did not accompany the president to the airport.

Fair Weather Is Due For Coming Weekend

(By The United Press)

Fair and warmer weather appeared in the offing for the coming weekend in Texas today as a brief cold snap moderated quickly under a bright sun.

Dense fog prevailed over much of East and South Texas early this morning, but it, too, gave way before the sun and no precipitation was in prospect for the next 36 hours anywhere in the state.

Light rain was reported in Northeast Texas yesterday, but none elsewhere.

Minimum temperatures were below freezing in the Red river valley and in a general area west and north of Mineral Wells, and at Dallas, where 32 degrees was the minimum.

Lowest mercury reading in the state was 21 degrees at Wink and temperatures ranged in the upper 30's in Northeast Texas, the lower 40's in East and Central Texas and upper 40's along the coast except at Galveston and along the lower coast where they were in the 50's.

Freedom For Japs Demanded

All Powers Of Emperor May Be Forfeited

Rights Of People Will Be Defined In Constitution

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Dec. 28. — Proposed constitutional revisions stripping the emperor of all political power and limiting his activities to "ceremonial functions of the state" were submitted to the government today by a private group of Japanese constitutional experts.

The move followed by a few hours a statement by General MacArthur's press relations officer that Japan's all powerful emperor system "is being destroyed —wiped out of existence" and that it is up to the Nipponese to found a Democratic government.

Proposals Extensive

Tokyo newspapers prominently displayed the experts' six-point recommendations, formulated by educators and publicists. Their proposals are far more extensive than any made heretofore on limitation of imperial prerogatives.

The revisions would transfer the prerogatives to the diet and specify that final responsibility for state administration rests with the cabinet. Diet approval would be necessary for the emperor's ascension to the throne or appointment of a regency emperor. The diet could be dissolved only by decision of a plebescite. Premiers would be recommended by the speaker of the House of Representatives and the president of the House of Peers.

The draft stated "the rights and duties of the people are to be clearly defined in the constitution in order to ensure freedom of the

Fire Destroys Grain Conveyor And Wharf

GALVESTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—A $150,000 water front fire today destroyed 875 feet of a grain conveyor and 640 feet of wharf.

The conveyor, at the Sunset elevator on Pier 42, was owned by the Southern Pacific lines and Houston officials of the company who investigated said origin of the fire was unknown.

The blaze started at the north end of the conveyor at 2 a. m. and for a while threatened a ship, the Claus Spreckles, which docked near the elevator. The ship whistled for a tug but as the fire crept closed it pulled away under its own steam.

Bodies Sought After Swedish Ship Sinks

GALVESTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—An attempt to recover the bodies of eight crew members of the Swedish tanker Sveaborg, which exploded and sank at Texas City yesterday, will be made, it was announced at Texas City today.

All eight of the crew members were trapped in the crew's quarters by the explosion. The ship settled to the bottom of the channel. The crew members were from Sweden. Twelve others were injured.

Dealer Tired Of Shoving Rotten Liquor Down Customers' Throats; He Smashes $80,000 Worth Of Wartime Concoctions

HOUSTON, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—All that was left today of $80,000 worth of wines, rum and brandies made during the war and possessed by Liquor Dealer Louis Boldreghini was a pile of shattered glass.

Boldreghini had workers smash the liquor stocks Thursday. Hammers were used on four truckloads. "I'm tired of shoving that stuff down customers' throats," he said.

"Whether the market loosens up or not, my customers get only good merchandise from now on in my five stores," he said. "I can't sell that junk anymore—the war's over."

Commenting on Boldreghini's move, his auditor said, "The boss is a very impulsive man."

Workers Battle Smoke And Fire In Mine Today

NINE FOUND ALIVE

PINEVILLE, Ky., Dec. 28 (AP) — Nine of the miners trapped in a coal pit near here since Wednesday morning were brought out alive by rescue workers shortly after 2 p. m. (CST) today.

PINEVILLE, Ky., Dec. 28.—Veteran coal miners said today that it was likely that the explosion which blasted the Kentucky Straight Creek Coal Co. mine No. 1 near here Wednesday morning killed all of the 31 or more miners in the shaft.

They pointed out that rescue crews—now battling smoke and fire in the wrecked slope—had penetrated to within about 2,500 feet of the trapped men but still were some 1,500 feet from the center point of the explosion.

Heat Is Blistering

That would place the miners originally within 300 yards of an explosion so powerful it splintered shaft timbers and caused caveins more than a mile from its source.

Blistering heat and smoke so dense it overwhelmed even the heavily-masked emergency crews halted digging early today; and workers were unable to approach the fire seven hours later.

A rescue crew foreman came out of the shaft at daylight and said the smoke was driving his men farther back. Leaking emergency ventilators, hastily built as the rescue squads worked forward, were unable to exhaust the smoke.

May Seal Mine

As a last resort, when all hope of succor for the trapped men is given up, the mine may be sealed to suffocate the fire, miners said. Such fires have been known to

East Texas Drafts Development Plans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Plans for industrial development for East Texas were unfolded here today by a group of Texans.

With Carl L. Estes, Longview newspaper publisher, acting as spokesman, they conferred with Surplus Property Administrator Stuart Symington and his aides. They outlined a proposal to give jobs to thousands and lead to the reclamation of at least 10,000 acres of river bottom lands.

Plan School For Vets

Key to the whole projected development is the proposed location in East Texas by R. G. Le Tourneau, Peoria, Ill., manufacturer, of a plant to turn out heavy road-building and construction equipment and of an industrial school for returning veterans.

The four points to the program:

1. Operation of the $25,000,000 Lone Star Steel Co. furnaces at Daingerfield, built during the war but never put into full production. The iron and steel would go into the making of construction machinery.

Would Use Hospital

2. Utilization of the Army's recently closed $7,000,000 Harmon General hospital at Longview as a Le Tourneau foundation training school, were some 2,000 students would receive room and board and pay for part time work while being taught industrial trades. Veterans would receive priority in enrollment.

3. Construction of a manufacturing plant in the Longview or Daingerfield areas where 2,500 men would be employed in the

Loose Bombs Menace Ship

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (AP)—The Henry D. Thoreau, a Liberty ship out of Naples, Italy, for Cape May, N. J., messaged the Navy here today that 5,000 tons of bombs were breaking loose and "if they give way entirely nothing can save us." The Navy said it was not a troopship.

The Thoreau reported she was about 420 miles southwest of the Azores, the Navy said, adding she had a normal crew of about 40 men.

Unused In Italy

The message, received by the Navy at 7 a. m. said the bombs had been stored in a "'tween decks hatch." The bombs probably were some of those unused by American Air Forces in Italy and were being returned to an ammunition depot in the Nnited States, the Navy said.

An unidentified ship radioed the Navy she was standing by the Thoreau, but could do nothing immediately to assist.

Further details were unavailable, the Navy said.

Would Not Be Fused

H. M. Singleton, operating manager for the Luckenback Steamship Co., Inc., agent for the Thoreau, said bombs would not be fused while loaded aboard ship. Singleton said he preferred not to announce the name of the captain of the Thoreau because "it might alarm his family unnecessarily."

A Navy bomb disposal officer said it would be "very unlikely" for unfused bombs to explode, but that they would burst if shock were great enough. A Navy public information officer said all bomb shipments were "packaged for safe transport."

Company Says Profits Will Not Be Bared

UAW Accused Of Infringing Upon Firm's Rights

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. —General Motors corporation withdrew today from President Truman's fact finding proceedings in the GM automobile strike.

The fact-finding board promptly announced it would continue its hearings regardless.

"We have withdrawn permanently, and I'm going back to New York," Walter Gordon Merritt, GM attorney, told reporters.

Protested Showing Profits

General Motors withdrew because it challenged the inclusion of its profits as a factor in settling the 30 per cent wage increase demand of the CIO-Auto Workers union.

Merritt flatly announced GM had withdrawn from the hearing after first submitting a ten-page explanation of the company's position on the fact finding proceedings.

Chairman Lloyd G. Garrison recessed a hearing in the investigation until this afternoon, at which time the board will make a short statement of its position.

Stick To Statement

The chairman said "the fact-finding board has no intention of receding from or modifying in any way its statement of Dec. 21" in which it declared GM's ability to pay would be one factor to be considered.

After the recess, Garrison said, "We will be prepared to proceed with the taking of evidence."

Asked whether this meant the board could proceed without General Motors, Garrison replied with an emphatic "certainly."

In outlining GM's belief that "it has no choice but to withdraw from these proceedings" if the board considered profits, Merritt accused the UAW of infringing on management rights.

Accusation Is Hurled

As Merritt finished his long statement, Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice president, vigorously accused him of "deliberately misstating the facts" of the union's position "because he hopes to gain some propaganda advantage."

Reuther challenged Merritt to "find one word where we have ever said we wanted to usurp management prerogatives or select management personnel."

Merritt, asked by reporters if the corporation was withdrawing immediately from the proceedings in view of Garrison's statement that board rules would not be changed, replied:

Chairs To Be Vacant

"Our chairs will be vacant."

Merritt apparently meant the chairs would be vacant when the hearing reconvened later. Reuther told reporters there was no doubt

Jealous Mate Shoots Rival

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (AP)—Capt. Archie B. Miller, 25, Army Signal corps officer, was held without bail today on a charge of felonious assault in the shooting of Capt. Eugene Dale, 27, Bataan death march survivor, at the apartment of Miller's wife, attractive former Powers model.

Assistant District Attorney Edward Murphy said in felony court, where Capt. Miller was arraigned, that the shooting was "one of the usual triangle affairs" with jealousy apparently the motive.

In Critical Condition

Capt. Dale, of Enid, Okla., was in a critical condition at Roosevelt hospital with three gunshot wounds in his head, chest and abdomen. Dale is attached to the First Air Force headquarters at Mitchel field, N. Y.

Police said he was struck by three of six shots allegedly fired by Capt. Miller from a souvenir gun brought home from Europe.

Miller, of Bellevue, Tex., was arrested at the apartment by Detective John Kennedy.

Former Powers Model

Miller's wife is the former Fay Hancock, 24, once a Powers model.

Russians Will Cooperate For Keeping Peace

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. —Russia aligned herself today behind Anglo-American proposals to put atomic energy controls up to the United Nations and in turn won a voice in control of beaten Japan.

These two results highlighted the 11-day meeting of Big Three foreign ministers in Moscow — a meeting which officially re-united the top wartime Allies in their efforts to solve the formidable problems of peace.

Deadlock Is Broken

Breaking a deadlock in their relations which lasted nearly three months, the United States, Russia and Britain also agreed in a communique made public simultaneously in the three capitals last night on:

1. Necessity for a unified, Democratic and independent China under the national government now headed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

2. Establishment of a provisional government for Korea with prospect of complete independence in five years.

Young Girl Drowns In Bathtub At Home

STRATFORD, Dec. 28. (U.P.) — A few hours after her brother ended his Christmas holiday at home to return to his Navy base, seven-year-old Frances Fae Walker was drowned in a bathtub at the Walker home, apparently overcome by gas fumes.

A girl friend, Emm Gean Luther, 12, who was to have spent the night with the child, was found unconscious by the tub last night by Frances' parents. She was recovering today.

The fire was out in the bathroom stove but the gas was turned on, the family said.

Indonesians To Aid In Restoring Order

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 28. (AP) — The unrecognized Indonesian government agreed today to cooperate with the British in restoring order in Java, on the condition that no more Dutch troops be brought into the strife-torn island.

The Indonesian position was set forth in a statement after the cabinet had considered a request by Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in the East Indies, that units of the peace preservation corps (TKR) be assigned to assist the British.

Test Of Atomic Bombs At Sea Creates Diplomatic Question

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP) — The forthcoming Army-Navy test of atomic bombs at sea poses a military-diplomatic question for the United States:

Should the precedent of the 1923 airpower vs. warships experiments be followed to permit foreign observers to attend?

Made No Commitment

The co-possessors of the bomb secret — the United States, Britain and Canada—apparently made no commitment at the Moscow foreign ministers conference to share the secret with any other power at this time. This, however, does not necessarily preclude the possibility that some foreign observers might witness phases of the ocean tests if visual observation is possible.

On the other historic occasion—when the Army Air Corps' Brig. Gen. William Mitchell bombed and sank German and American warships off Cape Hatteras — world powers had their representatives there to learn what lessons they could.

Data Was Withheld

They were able to report only what they saw. The American Navy and Army withheld detailed, technical data.

Meat Price Boost For Public Possible After First Of Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)— The government is expected to announce by January 1 whether ceiling prices on meats are to be hiked when some $610,000,000 in yearly subsidies are withdrawn by next June 30.

On the basis of present indications it is possible consumers will be asked to assume about $267,000,000 of the subsidies in the form of slightly higher prices. In that event producers will be required to assume the remaining $343,000,000 in the form of lower prices.

The government several weeks ago announced that $1,785,000,000 in food subsidies will be eliminated by June 30, 1946.

The meat subsidies have been saving consumers all the way from 8.5 cents a pound for sliced ham to 3.7 cents on salt pork.

It has been suggested in some government circles that farmers assume the full loss of production incentive subsidies, of which there are two. One is 50 cents a hundred on the top two grades of beef cattle. The other ranges from $1 to $3.15 a hundred for sheep and lamb. These subsidies cost the government $76,000,000 yearly.

Be Divided Equally

It also has been suggested that the loss effect of slaughterer subsidies totaling about $535,000,000 annually be divided equally be-

Since most of us expect to go through a "no hose" routine again this summer, now is the time to take a good look at your legs and start working on them.

The first thing to do is to remove all surplus hair, before you even think of going without stockings. When that is done, either by wax, depilatory or the razor, get yourself into a tub of hot water with a scrub brush, pumice stone and a big bar of soap. Now get to work. Start scrubbing, using lots of soap and your scrub brush, then take off all the rough spots with the pumice stone, watching the back of the heel and around the toes because the feet have to be really pedicured when you go without hosiery.

Then take a rough towel and rub your legs and feet dry, massage with chilled good quality witch hazel, using an upward stroke.

You should now be ready for a pedicure. Gather up cotton, nail polish remover, orangewood stick, clippers, emory board and polish within reach.

Use the orangewood stick to push back the cuticle. Be sure you have removed the old polish thoroughly. Clip the nails straight across to keep them from becoming ingrown. Use the emory board to take off any rough edges. Dry nails thoroughly and apply polish. At night, before going to bed, rub a little lanolin into the nails to keep them from drying.

If your feet are really tired and you want to treat them to a real luxury treatment, dip them into hot and cold water alternately, several times, and then wrap them in cotton soaked with chilled witch hazel. Stretch out on the bed or sofa and put a couple of pillows under the feet.

Now, you'll not only be ready to walk outdoors without hose, but with your feet all prettied and clean you'll find a new spring in your walk.

Your shoes should be correctly fitted to your feet. You'll feel and look younger and more rested.

Those here were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin J. Harvey of Hobbs, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Taylor of Temple; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knight, Stamps, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knight, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith, jr., of Slaton; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Knight and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Biffle, all of Lubbock.

Littlefield Coach Presented New Car

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 28. — J. S. Fikes of Littlefield High school was presented with a purchase certificate for a new car by citizens of the town in recognition of his record as football coach of the Wildcats who won the regional championship this year.

The presentation was made at a banquet given by the pep squad, high school band and teachers.

Fikes will go to Dallas Wednesday where he will receive a new car right off the assembly line.

Supt. Fred Miller and Leo Duffy, assistant coach, were each presented with $75 certificates for purchase of new suits.

Prisoners Of War Who Aided Texas War Work Going Home

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Prisoners of war, who greatly aided the Southwest's war effort with work in agriculture and industry, are fast being repatriated.

In January 1945 there were 41,455 of them in Texas. Today there are 23,967. The Eighth Service command says POWs will be withdrawn from outside work by the end of February and from employment on military reservations by the end of March.

Repatriation To End

Repatriation will be completed by the end of April.

Sent home directly from the service command were 897 Japs who lefe Kenedy and Hearne prisoner of war camps in December, leaving only 182 Jap prisoners in the command, at Huntsville POW camp. These are being made ready for repatriation soon after the first of the year.

One thousand co-operative Germans were repatriated from the command in November.

Harvesting and processing of cotton, sugar cane, rice and pulpwood was the most important work done by the prisoners. Of 24,000 allotted for harvesting and processing crops from September to December, 18,000 were working in cotton fields and gins.

Government Benefits

During 1945, about $8,000,000 was collected from employers of prisoner-of-war labor in agriculture and industry. The employer paid the government the prevailing wage and 80 cents per man per day was returned to each working prisoner in the form of canteen checks. The rest went to the U. S. treasury. Prisoners in the command received $625,000.

Except for prisoners not required under the Geneva convention to work and those not able to work because of physical reasons, there were no idle prisoners in the command during the year. When the number of prisoners available for work exceeded the demand, the excess were shipped to other service commands.

In no instance was POW labor allowed to compete with civilian labor. When the United States Employment service declares civilian labor is available for work being done by POW's, the prisoners are withdrawn.

Texas Prisoner-Strength

During the spring flood of 1945, more than 3,000 prisoners from the Eighth Service command worked in stricken areas along the Mississippi in Louisiana. Some of them turned back the 80 cents a day they earned for this work, asking that it be given the Red Cross for flood victims.

At the end of the year, prisoner-strength at various Texas camps included:

Fort Bliss, 4,550; Camp Bowie, 1,148; Fort Crockett, 853; Camp Fannin, 1,857; Hearne, 2,360 (this camp to be closed at end of year and prisoners being transferred to Camp Bowie and Camp Swift); Camp Hood, 2,256; Fort Sam Houston, 2,939; Camp Howze, 1,931; Camp Maxey, 444; Camp Swift, 2,481; Camp Wolters, 908; Hereford, 3,202 (Italian); Huntsville, 182 (Japanese).

At the start of 1945, 20 main camps were in operation in Texas. During the year, the following were closed: Camp Barkeley (now a branch camp); Brady; Camp Hulen; McLean; Mexia; Fort D. A. Russell and Camp Wallace (now a branch camp).

Leathercraft Aiding In Soldier Therapy

HOUSTON, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—Scores of convalescing soldiers at Ellington Field hospital have turned to the manufacture of leather handbags and other items in the recreational therapy department, hospital officials reported.

The soldiers are accomplishing two purposes, Capt. William R. Fitch, hospital department head, explained. "They are helping themselves recover from their injuries, and they are turning out valuable handbags, some of which are worth at least $40.

The men are schooled in the work by experts and study and work about four hours a day. The materials are bought by the government and the completed product becomes the soldier's own to sell or give to mother, wife or sweetheart. Most of them, Fitch said, prefer to give the bags to their loved ones.

The morale problem among convalescents at Ellington, who formerly had a dull hospital routine to follow, has practically solved itself, officers said.

Wine consumption in the United States is approximately 112,000,000 gallons annually.

Bob Waterfield Not "Mr. Jane Russell;" He Is Famous Too

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28.—Bob Waterfield returned to the Glen last night, but not as Mr. Jane Russell.

The Glen is a hallowed hangout for the UCLA crowd, situated in the wooded hills west of Hollywood. Bob and his beauteous bride dropped in on their return from a sojourn in the east.

When Bob left town a few months ago, his own substantial fame was overshadowed by Jane's. He was known as a star back for UCLA and she was the champ pin-up girl, a star without ever having been seen by the general public in a movie.

Makes Jane Happy

Then Bob got a pro football contract with the Cleveland Rams. He was considered the most outstanding rookie in the National league and was given a contract which may make him the highest paid football player. No one is happier over his success than Jane.

Jane's two pictures will be released in the next three months. They are Hunt Stromberg's "Young Widow" and Howard Hughes' "The Outlaw," the latter made four years ago and finally given Johnston (Hays) office approval.

Questions Her Dates

Sylvia Sidney's six-year-old son Jody must be quite a kirrecter. When I say Sylvia on "The Searching Wind" set, she told me the kid has taken to interrogating her dates. He insists they call before his bedtime, 8 o'clock.

Jody has the escort sit down and looks at him for a while. Then he asks "what do you do?" and the man must describe his profession. If it is at all dull, Jody takes over the conversation with a story or two.

Jody is some story teller. He stopped a strange woman in a grocery the other day and proceeded to tell her a long, imaginative story about a dog whose father was a lion.

Disabled Vets Work As Well As Fit Men

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 28 (U.P.)—Blinded and maimed veterans are making good at the Marlin Fire arms Co., Frank Higgins, personnel director, reports. They have been performing difficult jobs and art "every bit as good as the physically fit," Higgins said.

Take Nick Palermo. Nick was a sergeant of the 45th (Thunderbird) Division when it hit Cisterno, just beyond bloody Anzio Beach in Italy. A booby trap exploded in his face, destroying his sight. Today his pretty wife, whom he married after his misfortune, guides him to work at the Marlin plant, where he assembles peep sights for 2.-caliber rifles.

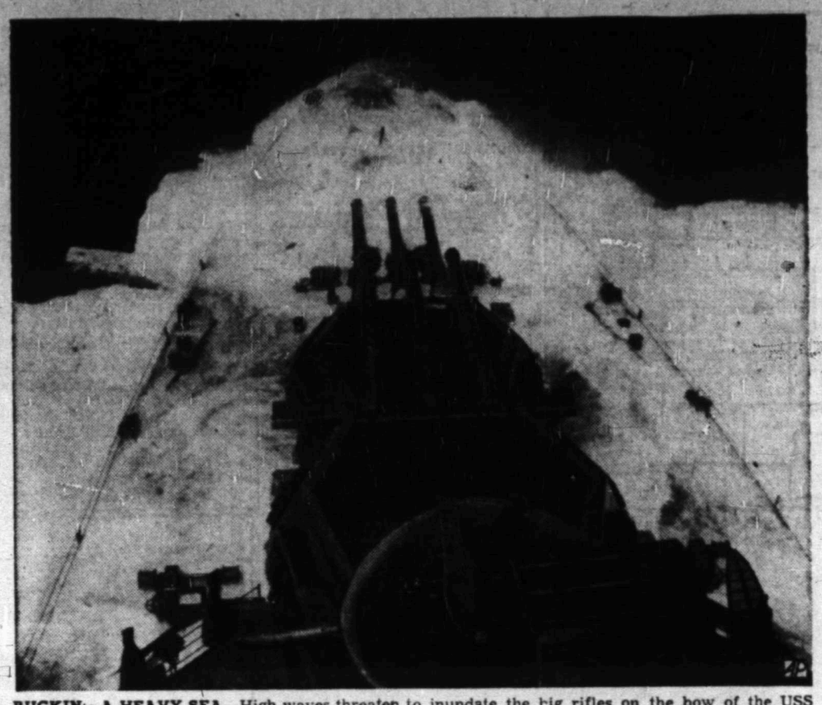

Palermo's buddy at the next bench is Jim Mathis, a former platoon leader in the 4th Marines, who lost his right eye at Iwo Jima when a hand grenade exploded.

These are two examples of the growing number of disabled veterans who are finding employment with Marlin and are proving that physical handicaps can be surmounted.

New Aeronautics Chief Sees Increase In Private Flying

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (A.P.)—Planning a statewide system of airports to give air travellers the facilities that highways now offer motorists, buses and trucks is the first job he will undertake in 1946, Asbury W. Meadows, said. This month Meadows assumed duties as the first executive director of the State Aeronautics commission.

Outlining his plans for the first time in an interview, Meadows pointed out that manufacturers were getting private planes into production. He predicted a great increase in private and non-scheduled flying and expressed the opinion that the need for airports to serve this kind of air traffic was greater than the need for commercial air line facilities.

Resorts Need Fields

He also foresees a need for airports in resort areas like the Big Bend country and airfields to accommodate National Guard aviation squadrons, State police and fire fighting and spotting services in the forest areas of East Texas.

"If we had the airports our civil aviation program would be further advanced," he said. "Texas has been late in starting and is behind some of the other states."

The State Aviation commission is now studying Texas' aviation needs, Meadows said, and early in the year he will send questionnaires to cities and towns to determine their plans for municipal airports. No policy or system of priorities for building municipal airports with the help of federal funds will be established by the commission until Congress passes a national airport bill he revealed.

Should Not Wait To Build

Meadows believes that cities and towns should not wait to build their airports until Congress votes the funds.

"Now is the time for our cities and towns to act," he said.

He cautioned, however, that airport development is a long term undertaking. It should be on a sound basis and take into consideration the present needs of each community.

Referring to the McCarran and Lea bills now before Congress, he pointed out that they not only provide that federal funds shall be made available to municipalities to build and improve airports, they also lay the legislative foundation for a national airport program.

Developed By CAA

"This was developed by the Civil Aeronautics administration to serve the expected extensive growth of civil aviation in the next ten years," he said. "The funds made available will be spread over that period. Not every municipality will be able to get help the first year."

The CAA, he said, will make the final approval of all airports built with federal funds. It is expected that a city or town seeking federal funds will have to show that its airport promotes commerce or serves the national defense.

With these considerations in mind his advice to municipalities is "to pick a site now and set up an organization to sponsor its development."

Cupola Discarded On Modernized Cabooses

CHICAGO, Dec. 28. (U.P.) — The time-honored rooftop cupola on the railroad caboose is on its way out.

The Southern Pacific railroad is the latest to announce that its new cabooses will be built with a three-sided bay window extending three feet out from each side of the car. The company has ordered 50 all-steel cars of this type, which are said to afford trainmen a better vantage point from which to watch the train's operation.

Aerial Photos Cut Forester's Travel

ANGELES FOREST, Cal., Dec. 28 (U.P.)—Use of aerial photography now makes it possible for foresters to take "field trips" without leaving their desks, fire control officer E. A. Grant reported.

Photographs from the air reveal density of timber stands, kinds and ages of trees, barren areas and spots where springs are likely to exist.

Grant says the pictures are especially valuable in fire-control work, since strategy may be mapped from study of photos of an endangered area.

Board Probes FDR Promises

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (A.P.)—Senator Lucas (D., Ill.) contended today that evidence before the Pearl Harbor committee has established that President Roosevelt made no prewar commitments to fight Japan.

Lucas told a reporter:

"The evidence up to this time has definitely disclosed that not a single secret commitment was made by President Roosevelt with Great Britain or any other country to go into the war before Pearl Harbor was attacked."

Want to Hear More

Republican members of the investigating committee said they want to hear more testimony before they pass judgment.

Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) said this was his attitude, as did Rep. Gearhart (R., Calif.).

Gearhart previously told a reporter he did not think any point had been proved in regard to what he termed possible promises by Mr. Roosevelt to former Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain.

"Mr. Welles certainly gave us some indications that some definite commitments of one kind or another were made at the Atlantic conference," Gearhart said.

Proposal Disclosed

The committee received memoranda Welles prepared about the August, 1941, meeting. His data disclosed a proposal for the United States to occupy the Azores but none committing this country to enter the war against Japan.

The committee—in recess this week—may hear more about this subject Monday when Admiral Harold R. Stark, former chief of naval operations, takes the stand.

Stark attended the Atlantic conference and participated in military conversations with the British which Gen. George C. Marshall, former Army chief of staff, said led to no commitments.

Stark's testimony is expected to mark the end of service with the committee of its counsel, William D. Mitchell, and his staff. Chairman Barkley (D., Ky.) has told members he has made no progress in his hunt for new counsel.

Early Start On Big Expansion Program For Lubbock Planned

So soon as bonds can be sold and contracts let, several phases of Lubbock's five-year expansion and improvements program will be commenced, city commissioners decided in a Thursday afternoon meeting.

Tentative plans for drawing of plans and specifications and starting negotiations for purchase of property and right-of-way on a greater portion of the improvement program, recently approved by voters in a $5,894,000 bond election, were discussed briefly in the four-hour session.

Water Supply Is No. 1

It was decided that as soon as negotiations can be started, work on the city's water supply and improvement program will be begun as the No. 1 project in the development. Approximately $1,100,000 bonds will be sold for this purpose if plans are carried out.

Next in importance is sanitary sewer improvements, which will also be started, as soon as arrangements for sale of bonds are made. Approximately $105,000 in bonds will be needed for this purpose.

Brief discussion on the program revealed that sale of $2,379,800 in bonds is contemplated within the next few months to get the above projects under way as well as phases of the fire stations, recreation and parks, police station expansion, auditorium - coliseum, storage garage, city hall improvements, airport development, storm sewers, street and traffic lights development.

Water Softening Plant

Considerable study will be given to the water softening plants before this work is started, it was decided.

Commissioners also took steps toward ultimate revision of Lubbock's charter with Mayor O. W. Ribble appointing a charter committee with Mark Halsey, J. O. Jones, Spencer A. Wells, M. R. Smith, jr., retiring city manager, and Tom B. Duggan, jr., as members.

Other action highlighting the session was passage at first reading of an ordinance providing for double charge for water served to meters outside the city limits and placing service on such meters under the same regulations as that to customers residing within the city limits. The ordinance also provides that water lines and service may be extended to customers on permanently improved premises provided any extension greater than 150 lineal feet is paid for in advance to the city on cost estimates made by the city plus the regular "tapping fee," the size and location of lines to be determined by the city.

Sanitary Sewer Service

Another ordinance provided regulation for sanitary sewer service outside the city limits, at cost of the property owner, and fixing a minimum charge of $1.50 a month for four or less fixtures and 25 cents per month additional for each unit or fixture over four in number. Where premises are used for commercial and industrial purposes, a minimum of $2 per month for the first 10,000 gallons of water or less and an additional 15 cents per thousand gallons of water consumed between 10,000 and 20,000 gallons and an additional 10 cents per thousand for water consumed over 20,000 gallons. Only customers with city water connections would be provided sewer service under the ordinance.

The two ordinances, discussed recently at a commission meeting, will go into effect on late February and early March water bills. The ordinance was passed after it was revealed that repeated requests had been made for water service outside the city limits.

Revenues About Equal

A survey showed that revenues from the water department and those from taxes being about equal, causing commissioners to impose the double rate in order to offset city taxes collected from customers residing within the city limits.

The move is expected to create renewed agitation for extension of the city limits to include those areas now served by city water and sewer, thereby equalizing water rates as compared to city tax charges.

Ordinance No. 736, extending the city limits to include the Tech Terrace addition, was passed at second reading and commissioners followed this action by authorizing paving of streets in the addition providing specifications meet city requirements and regular inspections are permitted by the city engineer's department.

City Limit Extension

Other ordinances approved during the afternoon included passage at second reading extension of the city limits to include parts of blocks 65, 66, 67, 68 and 69 of the Wheelock second addition in southeast Lubbock.

Ordinance No. 738, passed at first reading, established building lines on Ave. H from Thirtieth to Thirty-fourth, Texas avenue from Nineteenth to Thirtieth, Ave. G from Nineteenth to Twenty-fifth and Ave. Q from Eighteenth to Nineteenth streets.

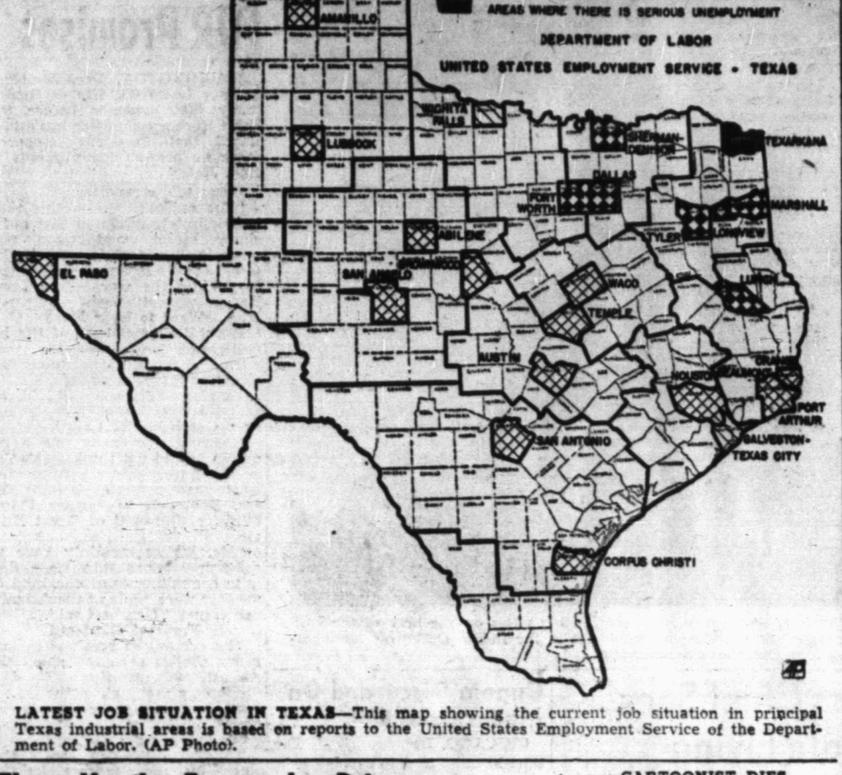

The commission also approved an indefinite leave of absence of Ed Young from the city tax office; sale of a pump house at the old sewage disposal plant to Claud Keeton for $250; resignation of J. F. Anthony and appointment of James Samson as member of the Plumbers Examining board; granting of a request from the Lubbock Kiwanis club for erection of a metal sign on city property near the underpass on the Crosbyton branch of the Santa Fe railroad; approval of a public works bond for Oscar B. Ray and abandonment of the old sewage disposal plant on the southeast outskirts of Lubbock and return of the property to Dr. Fred W. Standefer, original owner.

Smith Commended

A resolution accepting the resignation of City Manager Marlin R. Smith and commending him for faithful service to the city was also passed. Smith will be succeeded on Jan. 1 by Homer A. Hunter, present assistant city manager of Dallas.

Mayor O. W. Ribble presided and attending were: Commissioners Hub Jones, Fred Childress and W. B. Price, City Manager Smith, City Attorney Vaughn Wilson and City Secretary Lavenia Williams.

The breach of promise suit was barred from Swedish courts, except in cases when a child was involved, several years ago.

Three Youths, Former Jap Prisoners, Up For Induction; Legion Protests

DENVER, Dec. 28 (AP) — State selective service officials indicated today that under present regulations they had no choice but to draft three Denver youths called up by their draft boards despite the fact that all three suffered hardships as prisoners of the Japs in Philippine internment camps.

Commenting on a protest by an American Legion post in Denver against the induction of the three, Col. H. E. Reed, state selective service director, said:

"We haven't any choice in the matter under present regulations but to draft them if they answer selective service requirements."

Washington Ruling Asked

He added "We'd be glad to have Washington rule on the matter, since as I understand it there are similar cases all over the country."

The youths were identified by Dolan and Reed as Roger D. Schade, 21, a University of Denver sophomore; Henry B. Parfet, jr., 20, a Colorado School of Mines freshman student, and Benjamin Goodier, 21, a freshman at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston.

When the Japs invaded the Philippines the three youths were in the islands with their parents, who had business interests there. They and their parents were repatriated after the Philippines were liberated.

More Lieutenants In Regular Army Asked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP) — Senator Johnson (D-Colo) urged the War department today to "reduce the number of colonels and get more bright young second lieutenants."

"We've got an army of colonels today," Johnson told a reporter. "Why, we've got more regular Army colonels than the Governor of Kentucky has honorary colonels."

Johnson, ranking majority member of the Senate Military committee, promised to "do something about this."

"I just asked the War department for its list of regular commissioned officers," Johnson said. "It shows we have 3,397 lieutenant colonels and only 2,295 second lieutenants. We've got more colonels and lieutenant colonels than we have first lieutenants."

Just before Congress recessed it approved a War department request for adding some 8,000 officers to the regular Army, bringing the total to 25,000. This bill, awaiting President Truman's approval, authorizes regular commissions for temporary officers who served during the war, in grades from second lieutenant through major.

Civilians Get German Posts

BY FRANK ASTON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—About 700 United States civilians already have taken administrative jobs in Germany and more will go.

They are signing for a year now, but the War department says this is a field for careers.

During the war, the department set up the American military government which trained men to administer conquered territories. These men were instructed in broad fundamental principles of municipal operation. Few were specialists.

New Policy Formed

Now the military is planning to withdraw, and a new policy is being formed by the State department to direct the affairs of areas our troops occupy in Germany and Japan.

Troops will remain for security instrument but the civilians will serve as "city hall workers."

The War department civil affairs division is recruiting civilians and assigning them to Europe and Japan to carry out present programs as well as those which the State department eventually will establish.

Civil affairs is recruiting specialists — bankers, lawyers, transportation experts, sewer authorities, health officials, building inspectors and the like.

Have No Surplus

"So far we haven't been able to build a surplus of civilian specialists," a civil affairs spokesman said today. "But we expect recruitment to speed up after the first of the year.

"One reason for that will be that as our troops come home they vacate more housing accommodations for our civilians abroad. Another reason is that an increasing number of men are coming home, taking leaves and then offering to go back as civilians. In Europe an administrative American civilian can get living quarters for $15 a month, meals at $1 a day and transportation.

"In time we shall send families abroad with the specialists."

Civil affairs is paying up to $10,000 a year for occupational specialists.

Recruiting has been going on through trade, professional, industrial and business associations which recommend individuals whom civil affairs interviews and screens.

Want Valuable Men

One handicap, the spokesman said, has been: "We want $100,000 men at $10,000."

Fluency in the language of the occupied territory is desirable, the spokesman said. But, he added, the need is for administrative specialists, not bi-linguists.

"A good interpreter can take care of language difficulties," he said.

Sailors Protest At Delay In Returning To Homes In Texas

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 28. (AP)—Texas sailors, some 300 of them, complained that other groups had been sent to the Lone Star state ahead of them.

Arriving here Dec. 18 on the U. S. S. Osage, the men claimed that 50 men who docked Dec. 21 on the U. S. S. Saugus already had left for Camp Wallace, Texas.

"We expected to get home by Christmas," one man said, "and we didn't mean next Christmas."

Comdr. Glen F. De Grave, in charge at Swan island debarkation center, said railroads sometimes have capacity for the smaller groups, but not for the larger contingent. He said that thus some men who arrived earlier are later leaving for home.

Correspondent Finds Target Practice In Torpedo Bomber Is Still Thrilling

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD THE U.S.S. SIBONEY Off The Philippines, Dec. 28.—Riding a torpedo bomber during target practice at sea still has all the thrills of wartime—except for the comforting knowledge your plane won't be knocked apart under you by Japanese flak.

And if your plexiglass canopy suddenly caves in around you during one of the dives you even get that unpleasant feeling.

While riding from Hong Kong to Manila aboard this flagship of Rear Adm. Dixwell Ketcham, of Pasadana, Calif., commander of the American Escort Carrier force in the Pacific, I had an opportunity to make my first flight from a "baby carrier."

Men Fly Daily

Boys still make almost daily trips up while at sea although they grouse about it, some because most of them have completed their service terms. With the war over they are reluctant in many cases to take any more chances with catapult takeoffs before their discharge.

I hesitated before accepting an invitation from Ens. Roger Rose, of St. Paul, Minn., to ride with him. I had heard strange tales of catapult mishaps.

I decided to go—if only to show that catapult it didn't have an Indian sign on me. The machine itself is below deck. All you see is a looped steel cable which is fastened to the under-carriage of the torpedo bomber. It whips the plane along the deck for fifty feet or so and tosses it out like a slingshot at about 80 miles an hour.

I braced myself with both arms as if I was in the Seventh Avenue subway during the rush hour. The propellor roared to crescendo. Suddenly there was a jar, strong but not violent, and a sensation of swift movement. By the time I could look around, the carrier deck was well behind us and we were curving out to sea.

We flew 20 miles to the target area where fighter planes were battering a smoke pot on the sea with rockets. We glided down gracefully. I felt a muffled burst beneath my feet. Rose had fired our rockets.

We still had six 100 pound bombs to discharge. Roger circled and dived sharply at a 50-degree angle. I felt my stomach slowly wrapping around my safety belt buckle and thought heavily it was an odd way to get iron into your system. We let go some bombs and pulled up.

After the last bomb had sent the smokepot target boiling under the sea we headed home only 100 feet over the waves. The carrier deck looked no bigger from aloft than a worn dime. But we landed with scarcely a bump and the hook slowed and stopped us within a few feet.

"Dull ride," he said cheerfully. And meant it.

Bing Crosby Rated Top Star For 1945

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28. (AP)—Bing Crosby and box office appeal are practically synonymous, a year-end poll of exhibitors showed today.

The ballot, conducted by the Motion Picture Herald, ranked the crooner as the nation's No. 1 drawing power for the second straight year.

The Herald said Crosby, in the top 10 in six of the 14 annual polls, already has grossed $8,000,000 with "Going My Way."

Runners up, in order, were Van Johnson, Greer Garson, Betty Groble, Spencer Tracy, Humphrey Bogart and Gary Cooper (tied for sixth), Bob Hope, Judy Garland, Margaret O'Brien, Roy Rogers, Abbott and Costello, Betty Hutton, Ingrid Bergman, Bette Davis, Alan Ladd, Dane Clark, Joseph Cotten, Claudette Colbert, Walter Pidgeon, Fred MacMurray, Danny Kaye, Gregory Peck, Ginger Rogers, John Wayne and Mickey Rooney.

Betty Grable won top honors in 1943, Abbott and Costello in 1942, Mickey Rooney in 1941, 1940 and 1939, Shirley Temple in 1938 through 1935, Will Rogers in 1934, and Marie Dressler in 1933 and 1932.

Candles Light Punch Bowl

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

For a new light on an old subject—light up your New Year's Eve punch bowl. It's a thrilling sight.

Choose large, hard lemons for making floating candle holders: cut them into slices at least ¼ inch thick; pierce centers with point of a sharp knife and insert small birthday candle firmly so that it stands upright.

For a party where carbonated beverages are served, or wine or champagne, select from this list for your buffet supper: sliced chicken or turkey, shrimp, lobster or white fish salad, shrimp or lobster Newburg. When heavier beverages are served, select ham, cold roast beef, cold cuts, potato salad, rye bread, cheeses, pickles.

Delicious New Year's punches can be made without a speck of sugar by using combinations of bottled carbonated beverages. A supply of extra, well-chilled bottles beside the punch bowl keeps it flowing.

New Year's Sparkle
(Makes 32 punch-size cups, serves 8 to 10 guests)

Two quart-size bottles raspberry soda, 2 small-size bottles lemon-lime type carbonated beverage, 1 quart-size bottle gingerale.

Chill bottles of carbonated beverages thoroughly for several hours. Just before serving, pour slowly into punch bowl. Float lemon slices with candles on the surface; light candles.

Cranberry Fizz
(Makes 24 punch-size cups, serves from 8-10 guests)

One quart-size bottle gingerale, 1 quart-size bottle orange soda, 1 small-size bottle orange soda, 1 pound (2 cups) cranberries.

Place the bottle of gingerale and the quart-size bottle of orange carbonated beverage in the refrigerator to chill. Pour small bottle of orange soda into saucepan; add cranberries. Boil gently for five minutes, or until berries become soft. Remove from heat; strain through a fine sieve or cheese cloth. Discard cranberry skins and pulp, and chill juice in refrigerator. When ready to serve, pour cranberry juice and the well-chilled bottles of carbonated beverages into punch bowl. Float candles on top.

Southern Hash

Start with cooked meat and gravy or meat broth. Or, to take the place of gravy or meat broth, dissolve 1 or 2 bouillon cubes in water. Cut the meat in small pieces and brown in fat. Add diced raw or cooked potatoes, sliced onion, and green pepper, and brown. Add the gravy or broth, and cook slowly on top of the stove, or bake the hash in the oven until it is brown over the top.

Always burn old paint rags and papers out of doors in a trash receptacle.

Try Sweet Potatoes And Sausage Dish

This is the season for sausage and sweet potatoes—and these two are teamed in a delectable and attractive main dish in this sausage and sweet potato loaf. Apples, brown sugar and spice brighten the sweet potato layer and make it a delightful flavor contrast for the savory sausage. Quick-cooking oatmeal and double-rich evaporated milk are mixed with the sausage—which is a good idea, flavor-wise, texture-wise and nutrition-wise. The Loaf is richly moist and tender and slices evenly and well for serving.

Sausage and Sweet Potato Loaf

1 pound sausage meat
1 cup quick-cooking oatmeal
⅓ cup evaporated milk
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes
⅓ cup evaporated milk
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup thinly sliced apples

Mix the sausage, oatmeal and the ½ cup evaporated milk thoroughly. Allow to stand about 20 minutes. Blend sweet potatoes, the 1-4 cup evaporated milk, nutmeg, ginger and salt. Grease loaf pan and line with heavy waxed paper. Brush with shortening. Sprinkle the brown sugar and cinnamon on bottom of the pan. Cover with apple slices which have not been peeled. Cover with mashed potato mixture and top with sausage mixture. Press down lightly but firmly. Bake in hot oven 400° F.) 40 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes after removing from oven. Loosen edges and turn out onto a hot platted. Yield: 6 servings.

HERMITS

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mace
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup milk
½ cup shortening
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup raisins
½ cup broken nut meats

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, spices and granulated sugar, and sift together three times. Mix brown sugar and milk. Cream shortening; add sifted dry ingredients, brown sugar mixture, and eggs and stir until all flour is dampened; then beat vigorously 1 minute. Add raisins and nut meats and mix well. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350°) 15 minutes, or until done. Makes about four dozen.

The mean elevation of Wyoming is approximately 6,700 feet, varying from 3,125 feet, where the Belle Fourche river enters South Dakota, in Crook county, to 13,785 feet on the summit of Gannett Peak, Fremont county.

Dial-faced potato salad ring, assorted crackers and cold cuts will help you "eat" the New Year in.

Ring In Year At Buffet Supper And Try These Dunking Mixes

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

PLAN your New Year's Eve party around a substantial buffet with a touch of gaiety. Here's a centerpiece suggestion:

Make a "V" for victory by inserting two sticks of wood into a wood base. Slip rings of serpentine over them. Place alarm clock set for midnight at base, and heap up snappers, horns, paper hats, paper balls, and confetti, around the whole piece. When alarm goes off, signal for first peacetime celebration.

Have a bowl of delicious dunking mixes. Try cream cheese and minced clams, seasoned with chopped chives and Worcestershire sauce; also try Roquefort cheese and mayonnaise, and minced ham, mayonnaise and mustard: Cheese is welcome, so arrange assorted cheeses such as pimento, Bleu, smokel chedder and camembert near the cracker basket. Have a basket of crackers — cheese wafers, oatmeal crackers, whole wheat wafers, pretzel rings and pretzel sticks, butter wafers, sprayed butter rounds, and peanut butter sandwiches among them. Crackers should be very fresh. Place them in the oven for a few minutes just before serving.

Serve assorted cold cuts, such as sliced turkey, chicken or ham, with gherkin pickles and olives. Then this novel dial-faced potato salad ring.

Dial-faced Potato Salad Ring
(Serves 8-10)

Six cups diced chilled potatoes, 5 hard-cooked eggs chopped in coarse pieces, ¾ cup diced celery, 3 tablespoons minced onion, 1½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¾ to 1 cup real mayonnaise or salad dressing (depending on how moist you like it), ¼ cup sliced stuffed olives

Blend all ingredients. Pack into well-greased ring mold and chill thoroughly. Slip knife gently around sides and unmold on platter. Garnish top with clock numbers cut from pimento, or made with colored cream cheese forced through pastry tube, and garnish platter with lettuce, watercress or chicory.

Navy Announces New Fleet Commanders

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP) — Vice Adm. Frederick C. Sherman of Coronado, Calif., today was ordered to command of the Fifth fleet, suceeeding Admiral John H. Towers.

At the same time, Vice Adm. Daniel Barney of Portland, Ore., now commander of amphibious forces of the Seventh fleet, was ordered to duty as commander of amphibious forces in the Atlantic.

The Navy also reported that Rear Adm. Thomas L. Sprague of Coronado, will take over his new assignment as assistant chief of naval personnel on Jan. 10.

Sprague will succeed Rear Adm. William M. Fechteler of Washington, who will become commander of battleships and cruisers, Atlantic fleet, with rank of vice admiral.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

ROME, Dec. 28 (AP) — Mrs. Edward J. Murray of Mullan, Idaho, wife of the manager of the United Press Rome bureau, was seriously injured last night when a jeep in which she was riding was struck by a U. S. Army vehicle near Perugia.

CASSEROLE COOKERY

For days when the temperature is dropping, turn your thoughts toward the many flavorsome casserole combinations. A little nippy cheese or savory meat wil go a long way when combined with macaroni, spaghetti and noodles. Macaroni is especially satisfying these wintry days for not only is its goodness warming but it is chock-full of protein and energy-yielding carbohydrates so necessary these chilly days.

Fugitives Abduct Pair In Jail Break

PONTIAC, Mich., Dec. 28 (AP)—County officers conducted a fruitless search throughout Oakland county today for two men who broke out of the county jail at Sandusky Wednesday and abducted Postmaster Horace Parrish and a girl clerk in making their escape.

The fugitives were identified by Sheriff Roland L. Meredith of Sanilac county as J. C. Vyse and Charles Townsend, each 25, of Pontias, awaiting sentence on robbery armed charges in the recent holdup of the general store and post-office at Tyre, Sanilac county.

Peaches Civelli May Divorce Third Hubby

RENO, Nev. Dec. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Frances (Peaches) Browning Civelli said here today she expects to get a divorce from Joseph Civelli, San Francisco business man, on or shortly after Feb. 1.

Mrs. Civelli, who received wide publicity when she married her first husband, Edward W. (Daddy) Browning, an elderly millionaire, has been thrice married. Her second husband was Bernard Hynes, Denver, Colo., theater man.

Sweet Dreams Brew

Six cups freshly brewed decaffeinated coffee; ¼ cup whipped cream; 1-8 teaspoon cinnamon; 1-8 teaspoon nutmeg.

Add a spoonful of whipped cream, into which the spices have been folded, to each piping cup. Serve sugar if desired. Remember that decaffeinated coffee must be "perked," if made in a percolator, from 15 to 20 minutes, or longer than the ordinary kind, to bring out its rich coffee flavor.

NEGROES ARE HELD

CENTERVILLE, Texas, Dec. 28. (AP) — Sheriff J. H. Keller today was holding three negroes, charged with assault with intent to murder following a near riot in Jewett Chirstmas eve.

Sheriff Keller said a riot resulted following an argument. Those charged were Wilmer Lee Robinson, Bunk Robinson, and Tanola Robinson.

Indianapolis Survivor Relates Story Of Five-Day Privations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—A survivor of the Cruiser Indianapolis told belatedly today how Capt. Charles B. McVay III and 10 others fought off sharks, starvation, and sunstroke in the Philippines sea for five days before being rescued.

The Indianapolis was sunk by a Japanese submarine last July 30. In all, 880 officers and men of a crew of 1,196 died in the sinking or perished afterward.

Quartermaster Vincent J. Allard of Omak, Wash., was among those who lived. He came here to testify at the recent court martial trial in which McVay, the cruiser's skipper, was found guilty of failure to keep the Indianapolis on a zig-zag course in dangerous waters.

Allard gave the United Press this story of the sinking and what happened afterwards:

Two Explosions

"I had just gone off watch aboard the Indianapolis the night of July 29-30 when I heard two explosions up near the bow. I went to my locker to get some money I had hidden there. A buddy of mine asked me what happened. I told him I didn't know but advised him to get dressed as we might have taken a couple of fish.

"I then went to No. 3 mess hall and found one of my friends there His feet had been badly burned by steam. I offered to bandage his feet but he didn't want them bandaged unless I could put some burn ointment on them.

"From the mess hall I went to the conning tower which was my battle station. There I found two life jackets and gave one of them to Quartermaster 1/c Robert Gause of Tarpon Springs, Fla.

"I left the conning tower when the decks there started breaking loose. As I stepped out on the open bridge I saw Bugler Glenn Morgan of Nowata, Okla., going over the side of the ship, which was listing badly. I went down to the signal bridge but caught the buckle on my life jacket on the rung of the ladder. By the time I freed myself I could not get back to the high side of the ship. I then slid into the water.

Caught Under Light

"The water forced me back into the ship's side when she went down. I was caught momentarily under a searchlight which was located on the bridge. As I got free of the searchlight, I saw a mattress floating by. I wrapped my legs around the mattress and floated clear of the ship.

"I found a floater net in the water a few seconds after the ship went down and grabbed hold of it. As I tried to cut it open, I heard someone hollering for help. I swam in the direction of the cry and found a sailor who was injured sitting on a wing float which had been torn loose from the ship's airplane. I took him back to the floater net with me.

"I then heard more calls for help nearby. I swam toward two young sailors who were hanging on to a crate of potatoes which was still afloat. One could not swim and the other had been to sea only eight days. They weren't injured — they were just scared to death.

Captain Finds Raft

"I was trying to help them back to the floater net when I heard someone holler—'Come over here, I found a life raft When I heard the call a second time I recognized the voice as that of Capt. McVay. I told him my name was Allard—'Sir'—and he asked us to come aboard with him. The Captain assisted in getting the two men in the raft. They were very sick from swallowing oil and salt water.

"About 20 minutes later we saw another raft close by. It was riding so high in the water that at first we thought it was a surfaced submarine. After several challenges, we could see it contained five additional survivors. We secured their raft to ours and didn't see any one else that night or until the next couple of days.

"The first day we expected to be rescued at any time. The sun was very hot. I thought our most immediate danger was sunstroke. After the second day the worst part of the ordeal was the salt water and oil in our eyes.

Second Raft Found

"Later we saw another raft which we secured to ours. Only one man was in that raft. We now had a crew of 10 men in the various rafts. "Sometime during the second night an unlabeled can floated by which the captain grabbed. He thought it might contain foamite which we could release on the water later to attract airplanes. We opened it, however, and found it to be a can of rations containing several cans of Spam, canned crackers and malted milk tablets. Capt. McVay figured out a ration which would have lasted 18 days. The ration allowed us all a piece of Spam about an inch square a day plus two crackers and two malted milk tablets twice a day. This fare helped take the taste of salt water and oil out of our mouths.

Three Fish Caught

"On the third day we started fishing. We caught only three fish which Capt. McVay and I believed were parrot fish. They are poisonous so we used them for bait. We didn't catch any more fish of any kind.

"All this time, sharks were continually butting their heads against the rafts and scraping their backs underneath them. We tried to fight them away by hitting them on the noses and gills with paddles. But this apparently had no effect on them. I finally got mad at one which splashed water on me, and cut his snout with a knife. The captain wouldn't let me hit him again as he was afraid it would only make him mad. The shark, however, seemed friendlier after that and he followed us just swimming around until we were picked up. We nicknamed him 'Oscar.'

Planes Are Sighted

"Each day we sighted planes but they did not see us.

"On the evening of the fourth day we built a fire in a 40 mm. ammunition can. We tore up the collars to our kapok life jackets and Capt. McVay sprinkled them with some ether he had in a bottle. By adding more ether we got the fire to blaze up so that it could be seen for 50 yards around the rafts.

"Later that night a plane flew over. We fired flares at it and I signalled with a flashlight The plane answered by flashing its landing lights but didn't change its course and flew on.

"About 10 o'clock on the fifth morning Muldoon, a machinist's mate, saw two ships approaching us. We hollered and waved everything we could get our hands on to attract attention. In a short time one of the ships — the converted Destroyer Escort Ringgold —came alongside and took us aboard in cargo nets.

"It was a damned good feeling to get aboard ship again. I don't care to go through another experience like that one."

Economic Revolution Going On In France To Modernize Nation

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

A new form of revolution is going on in France.

It has nothing to do with street barricades or the guillotine. The men at the helm of the Fourth Republic, however, are just as determined as the founders of the First Republic to build a new France, one which will stand on its own feet and become again a leading member in the family of nations.

This revolution is not political or military, but economic. It includes a three-year recovery program which might be compared in intent to the successful five-year plans of Russia, or the Roosevelt New Deal after the 1929 smash-up in the United States.

A "Brain Trust"

The French plan will be directed by a "brain trust" of cabinet ministers, technicians and scientists. At its head will be Jean Monnet, who recently led an economic mission to the United States. Indicating its far-reaching character, one member will be Frederic Joliot-Curie, French expert on atomic research.

The objects of the recovery commission will be three-fold:

1. To modernize French industry and bring it more in line with the productive capacity of the United States, Britain and Russia.

2. To mechanize French agriculture, cutting down the necessity for food imports.

Import-Export Balance

3. To develop a balance between imports and exports, now sadly out of line to the detriment of the French living standard.

The French are working on the theory that international economy is now based on the American dollar, and that the Franc must be given a sound value in relation to the dollar if France is to share in world trade. Rene Plevin, Minister of Finance, pointed out to the Constituent Assembly last night that France has to have dollar credits to regain her former place as a world power.

As an immediate step, the Assembly ratified unanimously the Bretton Woods monetary and economic agreement, devised as the foundation of post-war stability among nations. The Assembly also approved the economic agreement with the United States under which France will get an advance of $550,000,000 through the Export-Import bank.

The necessity for this credit was emphasized by Plevin when he told the Assembly that France had spent $620,000,000 on imports since the liberation last May, imposing a serious drain on French economy.

Devaluation Of The Franc

Just previously to the Assembly's action, President Charles De Gaulle decreed the devaluation of the Franc, dropping it from the false value of two cents per franc to .84 cents.

Devaluation is intended to equalize buying power inside France, knock the props from under the black market and stimulate exports. When the franc was pegged artificially at 50 to the dollar, France had little chance of doing profitable business abroad.

French luxury exports now can be sold abroad much more cheaply, with the result that foreign funds will be accumulated to finance imports. Prices within France have in some cases been ten times as high as those in the United States.

Revalue Gold Stocks

Another projected step is to revalue the gold stocks of the Bank of France, to benefit the treasury by more than a billion dollars. Still another is to requisition gold, foreign currencies and foreign stocks held by French citizens.

In summary, France is out to pull herself up partly by her own bootstraps and partly with the aid and co-operation of outside nations.

"Dry land sailors" who never go to sea thoroughly test the giant 26-ton marine steam engines made by the Franklin Machine and Foundry Co., Providence, R. I., which are so huge railroad tunnels must be avoided when they are transported by train.

Meet The People—
Ex-Slave Remembers Bluffing Yankees

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (U.P.) — Meet a 96-year-old negro ex-slave who still remembers how he once bluffed the "Yankees" in the Civil war.

Meet "Uncle" J. W. Thompson, of Dallas, who's lived through four wars and plans to live through the next. Another war will come—it's inevitable—according to Uncle Thompson.

The tall, erect colored man remembers when he was just a 16-year-old kid in Victoria, and how he "bluffed" some Yankee "hijackers," who had halted his wagon load of supplies headed for the Confederate troops.

"There's a whole regiment of Confederate troops right back of me, and I wouldn't advise you to do that," Uncle Thompson warned the Yankees.

The negro recalled, laughing, "And you should have seen 'em get out of there!"

Uncle Thompson celebrated his 96th birthday today.

He has outlived his wife and six children, and he still hopes to see another birthday.

"On my next birthday," he says, "I want to go back to the West, get a good bronc, and a good pair of spurs—I'd like to prove I can still handle a bucking horse."

Four Children Born To Couple In Year

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Dec. 28. (AP) — Premature birth of triplets in St. Joseph's hospital today made Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mee parents of four children within a year.

The boy and two girls were put in incubators, but Dr. Charles Viney, attending physician, said they were in good health.

Their sister, Sandra Marie, was born last March 24.

The single jet Heinkel 162 fighter plane used by the Germans during last stages of the war had a top speed of 525 miles an hour. The ME-163, using a ricket motor, could make 590 mph.

Legislation To Curb Power Of Boss Petrillo Will Be Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 —Early congressional action on legislation designed to curb the powers of James C. Petrillo, head of the American Federation of Musicians, was urged today by Chairman Lea (D-Cal) of the House interstate committee.

The Californian said he will call his committee into closed door session immediately after Congress reconvenes January 14, to vote on a bill titled "to prevent control of broadcasting by coercive practices."

This development followed closely a new demand by Petrillo that broadcasting of foreign musical programs in this country — except those originating in Canada —stop after Dec. 31. Petrillo also is demanding that local radio stations employ more musicians.

Lea said the bill before his committee proposes new sections to the penal provisions of the federal communications act.

"Those provisions," he told reporters, "would penalize certain coercive practices which compel the hiring of a greater number of employes than wanted by a broadcaster or the exaction of tribute against the broadcaster for the use of certain materials, including transcriptions or chemical or electrical reproductions, and the use of such coercive methods to prevent noncompensated employes from participating in a non-commercial educational or cultural program."

Would Set Penalties

Violation of the proposed act would be punishable by up to two years imprisonment or by a $5,000 fine, or both.

Lea said his proposal originates from "certain demands upon broadcasters" made by Petrillo.

One of the demands, he said, compels the broadcaster to pay the American Federation of Musicians "for broadcasting transcriptions where no service whatever is performed by members of that organization."

Another, Lea asserted, called for a station which permitted noncompensated musicians to broadcast to pay the AFM an amount equal to the compensation which would have been paid "had members of the organization performed the service."

The latter demand resulted in a controversy between Petrillo and the Interlochen, Mich., music school which culminated, Lea said, in a halt of broadcasts by the school orchestra.

"These and like demands made by Petrillo are not within the legitimate rights of any organization," Lea declared. "A self-respecting government cannot afford to permit such practices to prevail."

burn for weeks and even months.

The rescue workers were unable to locate the fire immediately because of the dense smoke.

A cold drizzling rain soaked huddled groups around the mouth of the shaft where members of the miners' families waited in dogged hope.

Some of the wives and children had gone to their homes, but many of them continued their cold vigil.

Mine officials said the rain was not hampering rescue work. None of it has seeped into the mine.

Last night one of the emergency crews attempting to dig their way to the trapped men reported they were about 1,200 feet away from the spot where an unexplained explosion sealed the tunnel and cut off its ventilating system Wednesday morning.

However, shortly after midnight another crew was driven back by the outbreak of fire. They estimated that they were battling the blaze and choking smoke about 2,500 feet from the trapped men.

Tunnel 8,000 Feet

The 16 emergency crews, working in groups of 20 on five hour shifts, had gone more than 8,000 feet into the sloping shaft yesterday, 30 hours after the explosion.

They were still having difficulty digging their way through the shale and rock rubble, reshoring the walls and ceiling of the tunnel as they went along.

One of their most difficult problems was ventilation. Frank Rhodes, one of the rescue workers, said their improvised fresh-air ducts leaked badly.

He was with the crew at the farthest point of advance, which he said was "obviously no where near the spot of the explosion."

Hundreds Of Jokes No Joke To Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (U.P.) — A joke is a joke, but you can get too much of even a good thing, says Myra Keen, editor of Magazine Digest's potpourri department.

Two years ago the Digest offered cash awards for old, new, stale or fresh jokes, and since then Miss Keen has waded through an average of 600 entries weekly—about a tenth of which are some version of the moldy joke.

Miss Keen gets a little sharp nowadays when her friends try their favorite anecdote on her.

SPECIAL SESSION ASKED

AUSTIN, Dec. 28. (AP) — The legislative committee of the Young Democratic club of Texas today formally petitioned Gov. Coke R. Stevenson to call a special session of the legislature to bring about outright repeal of the poll tax statute and to provide additional funds for old age pensions.

Americans Held For Smuggling In China

SHANGHAI, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—The Army newspaper Stars and Stripes said today that two American businessmen, travelling in China as consultants to Rep. Maury Maverick of Texas, had been thwarted in an attempt to make a "quick kill" in smuggling cultured pearls.

The men not identified but said "to travel in the highest government circles" were caught while attempting to use government transportation to accomplish their personal mission, the newspaper said.

Maverick, chairman of the War Production board's Small War Plants corporation, had gone to China on an inspection tour.

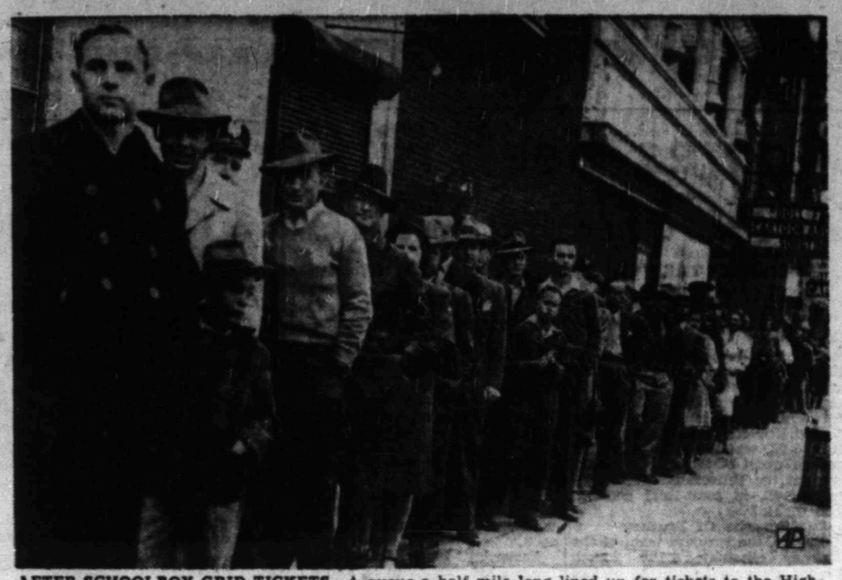

Stars and Stripes said it learned his two advisers were seized by government agents at Shanghai as they were about to take off for the States in an Air Transport command Globester. One of the men was said to have been carrying $25,000 worth of cultured pearls.

The government agents were reported to have followed the two around China gathering information on their activities before they closed in on them at the airfield.

Iron Lung Arrives At Roswell Hospital

ROSWELL, N .M., Dec. 28. (U.P.)—Installation of an iron lung—the first for Roswell and Chaves county—was being completed here today at St. Mary's hospital.

Allocated to the Chaves county chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis foundation by the parent organization, the iron lung arrived at the hospital here yesterday from Boston. It was obtained through the efforts of Mrs. J. P. White, jr., county vice-chairman and state advisor for women's activities of the national foundation, and Dr. L. J. Marshall, Roswell physician.

AFTER SCHOOLBOY GRID TICKETS—A queue a half mile long lined up for tickets to the Highland Park-Waco state high school championship football game when they were placed on sale in Dallas. The demand for tickets was so great that officials decided to transfer the game from Ownby statjum (seating 23,000) to Cotton Bowl (seating 45,500).

people."

Under the present constitution, sovereignty rests solely in the emperor, who has authority to summon or dissolve the diet and to appoint cabinets. Heretofore, the matter of ascensions to the regency and such other affairs as the imperial purse have been removed from diet control and governed by an intricate imperial household law.

Earlier today, Brig. Gen. Frayne Baker, MacArthur's press relations officer, summarized a series of the Allied commander's directives in a written statement which asserted:

"All of the controls now removed or destroyed, when exercised through the feudal bureaus, combined to constitute the tenno (emperor) system. With their removal, the system will be destroyed and voped out of existence."

Is Major Operation

"The project now before the Japanese, therefore, is to found a government on horizontal planes (the people and the government on the same level) in place of the vertical lines (power stemming downward from the emperor) previously known. It is a major operation which must be guided and closely supervised."

To the Japanese, the tenno system included the emperor and all of the intricate political and social machinery and power surrounding him. Hence, elimination of the system means elimination of the emperor.

"The last evil roots of the tenno system were pulled out and destroyed with the abolition of state Shinto" (ancestor worship) Baker added.

Steps Are Listed

Baker listed these steps in the elimination of tenno:

Abolition of the War and Navy ministries.

Abolition of the whip-hand control of the empire's police force and of thought control. This, Baker said, gave the Japanese free speech, free religion, free press, free assembly and free petition.

Directives guaranteeing free enterprise, controlling currency, and instituting social security, agrarian reform, collective bargaining and the fair distribution of food.

Judicial reform, freeing the courts from the influence of the sword.

The Japanese have become so conscious of MacArthur's aims, Baker concluded, "that the mass of people now wants to get along in the new life."

Later, MacArthur's headquarters denied a Japanese government request to send three foreign office agents to China in connection with reparations settlements for damage to American, British and Chinese property in central China.

In a separate action, MacArthur authorized Japanese returning from overseas to bring various records and documents relating to overseas personnel.

Return Of Low Cost Furniture Predicted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP) — Return to market by spring of low and moderately priced furniture was predicted by the OPA today.

OPA announced furniture dealers will be required to absorb up to the first 12 per cent of price increases ranging from four to 20 per cent granted to manufacturers.

To avoid large pinholes in material, use thin needles instead of pins when fastening a paper pattern on fine silks and satins.

New Plan For Medical Care

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)— The Veterans administration announced today an arrangement under which Michigan war veterans may receive "home town care" by doctors of their choice at government expense.

Limited to veterans with service-connected disabilities, the contract with the Michigan State Medical society is the first of its kind, said Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Veterans administrator. If the plan succeeds in Michigan, he added, it will be extended to other states.

SOME SAMPLE FEES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP) — Here are sample fees which would be charged by doctors for treatment of war veterans in the Blue Cross plan to be tried in Michigan:

Appendectomy — $80.25.

Operation for correction of hernia —$80.25.

Removal of gall bladder $149.86.

Operation for interstinal obstruction —$167.80.

Physical examination of heart or lungs—$5.35.

To Ease Pressure

A primary purpose is to ease critical pressure on Veterans administration hospitals.

The announcement said the Veterans' administration also is arranging for veterans to enter Michigan private hospitals.

Physicians' fees have been standardized and will be paid by the Veterans' administration. More than 400 are on an approved list.

Federal law specifies that veterans with disabilities not traceable to military service can be treated only if space is available for them in Veterans administration institutions and they have no money with which to pay a private physician.

Of 88,000 veterans now receiving government care, about 60,000 have non-service ailments.

Big Three were Secretary of State Byrnes; Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain, and Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia.

Many vexing problems remained unsettled — and unmentioned. Among them are the uprising in Soviet-occupied northern Iran; the issue of access to the Dardanelles straits; Germany's western border, and a common Big Three policy on the Franco government of Spain.

Bevin told reporters in Moscow last night the Iranian issue had been discussed at length but without final agreement.

Air Believed Cleared

The meeting cleared the air in British-American relations with Russia and heightened chances for a successful first session of the United Nations assembly in London next month.

Whether Americans and Congress would accept that verdict remained to be seen.

Rep. Bloom (D.- N. Y.), chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, called the agreements "a step in the right direction."

Russia agreed to join this country and Britain in sponsoring a resolution in the United Nations assembly which would establish an atomic control commission, responsible to the 11-member security council. It would work toward the exact goals outlined November 15 by President Truman and the prime ministers of Britain and Canada.

Exchange Information

These include international exchange of basic scientific information for peaceful ends; control of atomic energy to insure its use for peaceful purposes only; elimination of atomic and other weapons adaptable to mass destruction, and safeguards against violations and evasions of the control regulations.

For control of Japan, the Big Three foreign ministers agreed to establish a four-power (U.S., Russia, Britain, China) council in Tokyo and an 11-nation Far Eastern policy - making commission in Washington, to replace the present 10-member advisory commission.

The advisory commission now is en route to Japan for an inspection trip.

News Briefs

A charge of drunk driving was filed this morning against Dee Boone, 50, who was arrested by police after, they said, they had received three calls from 5:05 to 5:55 p. m. Thursday to go to 1900-block Ave. P. Boone had not been reported arraigned. The charge was in county court. Frank B. Morris, 45, pleaded guilty of drunk driving and was fined $50 and court costs. His driver's license was revoked for six months.

The condition of Oscar Ragland, 1519 Eighth, who underwent major surgery at St. Mary's Saturday, was said to be improved today by relatives.

The body of N. H. Pyron, 65, of Oakland, Calif., who died of heart attack Thursday in West Texas hospital, will be sent tonight to Wills Point for burial, Sanders Funeral home reported. He was visiting a niece, Kathleen Pyron of 2405 Ave. L, when he was stricken. He is survived by two brothers and a sister.

but that the corporation had bolted the hearing.

To Merritt's statement that the union was, in effect, making a "broad attack on American industry and free enterprise," Reuther declared:

"If free enterprise in the United States is to survive, it's got to work, it's got to create an ability not only to earn dividends for stockholders, but also to give millions of Americans economic security. It's got to demonstrate its capacity to deal with the problem of unemployment, and demonstrate a willingness to carry out national policies."

Arguing With Truman

Reuther contended that Merritt was arguing with President Truman and the fact finding board itself rather than with the union.

Reuther declared the corporation had said in effect "that unless the board is prepared to tear up the President's statement of Dec. 20, it will not participate.

President Truman, on Dec. 20, asserted that ability to pay was a proper factor for fact-finding boards to consider in settling wage disputes.

Meat Prices

tween consumers and producers.

Officials estimate that should this plan be put into effect ceiling prices on meats would be increased about as follows:

Round steak 4 cents a pound; rib roasts 3.5 cents; chuck roast 2.5 cents; hamburger 2.8 cents; veal cutlets 2.5 cents; pork chops 3 cents; bacon 3.4 cents; salt pork 2 cents; and sliced ham 3.4 cents. These higher prices would prevail, however, only if the demand continued sufficient to push them to the ceiling limits.

Farmers would tend to get about 80 cents a hundred less for their hogs; 55 cents less for veal calves, $1 to $3.15 for sheep and lambs, and from 65 cents to $1.50 less for their cattle, depending on grade.

Battleship Missouri Is A "Woman Of The Year;" Amazon Of Pacific Is Youngest Of 10 Women To Receive 1945 Merit Awards

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. — The battleship Missouri was a woman of the year today, and her skipper summoned courage worthy of his ship to accept the honor at a strictly feminine champagne party —without a blush.

The streamlined Amazon of the Pacific — launched just 23 months ago tomorrow—was the youngest of 10 young women to receive the 1945 merit awards of Mademoiselle magazine.

Others Get Awards

The slimmer waisted recipients of the other nine awards—$25 bonds in gold stamped green leather Lady-sized brief cases— included two women who worked on the atom bomb project, two singers, an actress, a negro poetess, a designer, a Netherlands resistance worker and an industrial vice-president under 30 years old.

The Missouri got a different token of esteem: A painting by Missouri Artist Thomas Hart Benton which Capt. R. H. Hillenkoetter promised would hang in the crew's library, a reminder to her male attendants that the Mighty Mo is strictly a lady.

How To Be A Success

For "how to become a success" statisticians: Four of the women of the year came to New York to conquer; four have ignored the city entirely; two were born here, including the Missouri, native of the Brooklyn Navy yard, who wrote her fame around the world in Tokyo bay.

The bomb workers honored were Dr. Leona Woods Marshall, 26, University of Chicago physicist, who worked with Dr. Enrico Fermi at the Richland, Wash., plant of the "Manhattan project"; and Capt. Arlene G. Scheidenhelm, 37, of Mendota, Ill., commander of WACs at all atom bomb installations, holder of the Legion of Merit award.

Other awards went to:

Californian Honored

Ruth M. Leach, vice-president of International Business Machines, native of Oakland, Calif., graduate of the University of California, who became IBM's first woman corporate officer in 1943.

Barbara Bel Geddes, 22-year-old daughter of Industrial Designer Norman Bel Geddes, acclaimed by critics for her current performance in the Broadway play "Deep Are The Roots." Like Dr. Marshall, she has combined housewifery and motherhood with a successful career.

Gwendolyn Brooks, 28, Kansas-born poetess, author of "A Street in Bronzeville," now living in Chicago with her husband, a garage operator.

Singer Is Named

Susie Reed, 18, of Columbia, S. C., a singer of folk ballads to her own accompaniment on the zither and Irish harp.

Blanche Thebom, "under 30," of Canton, O., the Metropolitan Opera company's Wagnerian mezzo-soprano.

Patricia Van Delden, 37, native of Los Angeles, widow of a Dutch engineer who died in a Nazi concentration camp, a leading figure in the Netherlands resistance movement throughout the war.

Emily Wilkens, 27, from Hartford, Conn., first dress designer to devote herself exclusively to teenage girls.

Lewis Kerr Elected President Of ABC

Lewis Kerr, owner of Kerr Tire & Storage, was elected president of the American Business club for 1946 when election of officers and board of governors was held at today's regular luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

Kerr succeeds Jimmie Wilson, retiring president, who automatically becomes chairman of the board of governors.

Other officers elected were Porter Garrett, first vice president; Bill Pittman, second vice president; W. D. McCarty, secretary-treasurer; and W. C. Bigham, sergeant-at-arms.

New Board Members

New members of the board of governors elected were Henry Buell, J. D. Jenkins, Harry Van Horn, A. B. Watkins, Hobart Nelson, and Wilson, chairman.

Plans were discussed, but no action taken, on holding annual presidential ball and to elect a pianist for weekly meetings.

Wilson expressed his appreciation for the club's cooperation during 1945 and his gratitude for having been able to serve as their president.

Luncheon guests were Leon Williams and Dick Hardin. Elwin Matthews and Bill Holmes were introduced as new members.

Best-Dressed Men Of 1945 Selected

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—Ten men who looked prettier in their clothes than anybody during 1945 were listed today by Apparel Arts, a men's stores magazine.

The best-dressed men, selected in 10 categories by a vote of more than 3,000 men's fashion authorities, were:

Army man — Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Navy man — Ernest J. King.

U. S. statesman — Edward R. Stettinius.

Foreign statesman — Anthony Eden.

Stage star — Frederic March.

Screen star — Adolphe Menjou.

Businessman — Marshall Field.

Sportsman — Walter Hagen.

Socialite — A. G. Vanderbilt.

Apparel industry — Peter Juster, of Minneapolis.

Jealous Mate

Dale and Arthur Gormley, of College Point, N. Y., a member of the Merchant Marine, returned last night from a Christmas visit to Jonesboro, N. C., Mrs. Miller's home town and were talking in the apartment when Captain Miller broke in on them about 12:45 o'clock this morning.

Slight Head Injuries

According to police, Miller took the weapon, a German Luger, from a footlocker in the bedroom he occupied during his wife's absence, returned to the living room and shot Dale. Gormley then disarmed Miller, inflicting slight head injuries on the latter police said.

The Millers, who were married in Florida 25 months ago, had discussed plans for a separation, police said, following the officer's return from the European theater last month. Mrs. Miller became acquainted with Dale seven months ago, police reported.

Dale, now stationed at Mitchel Field, N. Y., had served as a guerrilla fighter in the Philippines.

would be continued next year, CPA Administrator John D. Small termed it "an essential element of the administrations price stabilization program."

Must Maintain Aid

Small said production of men's suits this year was only 70 per cent of the 1944 total, and that the only way to assure output of an adequate supply in the lower price ranges was to maintain government aid to manufacturers seeking materials.

Departing from present practice, CPA will issue no priorities during the next quarter for production of women's or girl's woolen clothes. This is a move to provide more suits and coats for veterans.

Priorities will continue to be granted, however, for all kinds of essential garments made of cotton and rayon.

Rigid Curfew In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Dec. 28. (U.P.)— Police and British troops today arrested an undisclosed number of Jewish terrorists believed responsible for a night of gunfire and explosions in four Palestine cities which killed at least 10 men during the worst outbreak of violence in several years.

British airborne troops in armored cars mounted guard in the center of Jerusalem. Police and soldiers armed with machineguns searched civilians in the streets. All cafes and theaters were closed.

Police Officials Trapped

The death toll was expected to rise. Working in an atmosphere of extreme tension, rescue crews burrowed under heaps of shattered stone masonry at the bombed Jerusalem police station for a number of police officials believed trapped.

A rigid curfew was imposed in Jerusalem at midnight, and in Tel Aviv at 5 a. m. Police throughout the country were at the alert for further attacks in an organized outbreak which authorities blamed on the stern gang of Jewish terrorists.

At least 50,000 British troops garrisoning Palestine were ready to help police control the violence.

The outbreaks began early Thursday evening with simultaneous bombing attacks and automatic gunfire volleys against the police stations at Jerusalem and Jaffa, a raid on the Royal Engineers depot at Tel Aviv to steal arms, and a gun battle in Haifa.

Two Soldiers Killed In Stormy Atlantic

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—The U.S.S. Portland was scheduled to dock here today with more than 900 troops, including two who were killed in a stormy Atlantic crossing. The War department announced one other soldier was missing and 22 had been injured.

It was not immediately known whether any members of the cruiser's crew were casualties. The Navy department had a report from the ship that "top-side" installations had been considerably damaged by the rough seas.

The Portland had to return to the Azores for some repairs after she "salted up" — shipped sea water in fresh water compartments.

The War department said some of the injured were flown to New York from the Azores.

Injured included:

Master Sergeant Hoyt T. Humble, San Antonio.

output of such equipment as earth removers and road scrapers. Operated in conjunction with the plant would be the 10,000-acre proving grounds.

Erect Concrete Houses

4. Machinery to be made at the plant also would be used to construct low-cost concrete houses to relieve the housing shortage for discharged servicemen and their families.

Estes told Symington that Le Tourneau had agreed to locate a plant in East Texas if the hospital could be obtained for the trade school. Another requirement proposed by the manufacturer and said to have been met by East Texas citizens was obtaining options on three tracts of land as possible locations for the manufacturing plant and proving grounds.

Symington expressed interest in the proposal and then called in members of his legal staff to go into technicalities by which the hospital could be acquired from the government.

Non-Profit Organization

Gregg County Judge Merritt H. Gibson of Longview, one of the conferees, said that the Le Tourneau foundation was a non-profit organization and that Gregg county would waive its own priority in the purchase of surplus government property to bring about establishment of the trade school.

Surplus property officials declared they would seek an early appraisal of the value of the hospital and in reaching any disposal sales price would take into consideration the educational and other public benefits of which might accrue to the taxpayers in the use of the hospital as a school.

Also attending the conference were Curtis Morris, representative of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and Rep. Peckworth (D-Tex).

New President Of College Is Named

DENVER, Dec. 28. (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Ben H. Parker of Golden as president of the Colorado School of Mines was announced today.

Dr. Parker, 43, formerly was a faculty member, a petroleum geologist and assistant chief geologist for oil fields of the government of Argentina. He was born in Oklahoma City.

His work extended from 1924 to 1931 and into Oklahoma, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming, South Dakota, Texas and Colorado.

Waco Is Underdog Against Highland

Big Crowd To Watch Battle

Scots Picked By One Touchdown

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (AP) — The largest crowd in Texas schoolboy football history is certain tomorrow when Waco's Tigers clash with Highland Park's Scotties for the championship.

The two teams, finalists of the most brilliant campaign of 26 since the Texas Interscholastic league began offering the title trophy, will meet in the giant Cotton Bowl which seats 45,500.

The fact that 25,000 tickets were taken before the public sale even opened indicates that the big saucer may be filled tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when the Tigers and Scots close the grandest race of them all.

Only Filled Once

Only once has 45,000 turned out for a schoolboy game. That was at the Cotton Bowl in the thirties but it was not a paid attendance. That was the time everyone who went to the State fair of Texas received a ticket to the grid contest.

The game was moved from Ownby stadium at Southern Methodist university to the Cotton Bowl yesterday when it was found there were many more demands for seats than the S. M. U. field could accommodate.

Meanwhile, Highland Park continued as an overwhelming favorite to beat the Tigers and win the first title in the Dallas school's history. Often the Scots have knocked at the door; last year they went to the final game, but this time they appear destined to go all the way.

Picked By Touchdown

The state's sports writers yesterday voted almost unanimously that Highland Park would win the title. However, only a few figured it would be by any appreciable margin. Most of them picked the Scots by a touchdown. That would be the same edge boasted by the Highlanders when they met Waco in early season and emerged 7-0 victors.

Both teams are strong defensive units but Highland Park appears to boast the most offensive guns with its terrific ground game and dangerous passing attack.

Highland Park outweighs Waco, is undefeated for the season, is playing at home before a partisan throng and in about every way in which a game might be gauged seems to have the advantage.

They're Out To Win

However, Coach Harry Stiteler of the Tigers let it be know he wasn't taking too much stock in what the sports writers have to say about his team being a virtual cinch to lose. "We are coming up there to win," he said last night.

Stiteler was chered by the fact that for the first time since the middle of the season every member of his squad reported for practice yesterday. Even Bob Sallee, regular right halfback, who missed the Goose Creek game because of the flue and was in a hospital for a week, was out taking light work. Stiteler said he thought Sallee, while not ready to start the game, would play some.

Coach Eck Curtis of Highland Park found every member of his squad was in top condition except Herbie Wales, regular guard, who is nursing a shoulder hurt. Wales may not start. If he does not Van Smith will get the assignment.

HUTMENTS ERECTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 28. (AP) — University of Texas officials announced that 22 of the 150 hutments purchased to house veterans have been erected.

The hutments are expected to furnish housing space for an estimated 400 to 500 veterans and their families.

TO PLAN PROGRAM

AUSTIN, Dec. 28. (AP) — Representatives of school interests seeking to facilitate purchase of surplus government property for use in educational institutions met here today to plan their program.

It has been found that mental diseases are as prevalent as all other diseases combined.

Feeling Grows In California That Odds Making Alabama 13-Point Favorite Over Trojans Are A Little Bit Out Of Line

PASADENA, Callif., Dec. 28. (AP) —Call it what you will, there's a growing feeling around here that odds making Alabama a 13-point favorite over Southern California in the Rose bowl are out of line.

Southern California sportswriters took a good look at Alabama yesterday and found the Crimson Tide on the thin side. So thin and youthful, the writers began expressing doubt concerning the Tide's ability to withstand the battering of the Trojan behemoths on New Year's day.

Even Mancha Shrinks

Even Vaughn Mancha, 'Bama's tank-like All-America center, to some seemed shy of his listed weight of 240 pounds.

There was, however, no quibbling about Alabama's speed nor Harry Gilmer's graceful pass pitching. It was just that some observers wondered whether Alabama in amassing nine straight wins and 396 points to opponents' 66 had met any team as big and tough as the Trojans.

"Georgia, Tennessee and LSU were the only really strong teams we met this season," genial Frank Thomas, Alabama coach, admits. He candidly calls his own Southeastern champions "a good wartime team.

Gilmer Is Greatest

But Coach Thomas unreservedly endorses the 19-year-old Gilmer as "the greatest passer I've ever seen." This from the man who coached Dixie Howell.

Stacked up against the Trojans' top 34 players, the Southerners are shy 14 pounds. The USC squad averages 198.6 pounds and 21 years even. There is only one 17-year-old on the Trojan roster.

Cage Tourney On At Dallas

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (AP) — Only eight teams are left in the championship running in the big Dallas invitation high school basketball tournament today with three consolation games this afternoon and the four championship quarter-finals tonight.

Tonight's card will be Greenville vs. surprising Martin's Mill at 6 p.m.; Crozier Tech vs. Lufkin at 7:15; Woodrow Wilson against McAdoo, which will be making its first appearance because of a forfeit in the first round and a bye in the second; and defending champion Waco against Sunset at 9:45.

Consolation Round

The consolation play will pit Adamson against Ennis at 12 noon; Krum against Grand Prairie at 1:15 and Garland against Highland Park at 3 p.m., with Plano drawing a bye.

Martin's Mill stamped itself the darkhorse of the tourney with its victory over Forest yesterday, after eliminating Adamson Wednesday, and its meeting with Greenville, which boasts Texas' tallest cager in the person of Marcus Freiberger, will be watched with interest.

The second round, full of close battles, closed with its most thrilling tussle, in which Jesuit extended Waco to the limit before bowing on little Hollis Chatham's bucket with five seconds to go, 27 to 25.

In the other two night games, Woodrow Wilson jumped to an early lead and kept it to oust Bowie, 36 to 34, as Louis Zastoupil tallied 14; and Sunset edged a hustling North Dallas Bulldog five, 39 to 31, with Lynn Kendrick bucketing 18.

Von Rhea Beane New San Angelo Coach

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 28. (AP)—Von Rhea Beane, assistant football coach of San Angelo High school the last two seasons, was elevated to the head post by the school board last night. He succeeds Jewell Wallace, who resigned to accept a Texas college head coaching position as yet unannounced. Beane came here from Greenville, where he also had been an assistant to Wallace.

NEW LINE COACH

WACO, Dec. 28. (AP) — Athletic Director Ralph Wolff of Baylor university announced the appointment of Clark Jarnagan as line coach of the Bears.

Jarnagan, former coach at Hardin-Simmons university, has been in the Navy since 1942. He plans to report to Baylor Jan. 1.

Tigers Tuning Up Air Attack

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (AP)—Missouri's Tigers, who won the Big Six title with a potent ground attack, are getting ready to settle their Cotton bowl engagement with Texas' Longhorns January 1 "Texas style"—through the air.

The Tigers threw only 72 passes in nine games—a low for Big Six elevens the past season—and completed 26 of them. Only one aerial thrust clicked for a touchdown, however, that from Halfback Bob Hopkins to End Roland Oakes against Michigan State.

There are reasons to believe, however, that the Missourians can spring a fairly fancy air attack against the pass-minded Longhorns. Hopkins, Bill Dellastatious and Leonard Brown have accurate throwing arms and Ends Oakes, Bill Whitaker and Don Nickell can catch the ball.

Concentrate On Passes

In five practices here, Coach Chauncey Simpson has concentrated the Tigers on pass offense and defense.

Simpson likes the way his boys are completing their tosses, but isn't at all pleased with their ability to break up Texas passes executed by the third string.

Simpson is priming his giant tackle, second team All-America Jim Kekeris, a 299-pounder, for a field goal kicking job if the situation demands such a play New Year's day.

Missouri defeated Southern Methodist in Dallas last November, 10-7, on a field goal by Kekeris in the last quarter. Big Jim had his eye on the crossbars in a 40-minute drill yesterday.

COACHES PUT EACH OTHER ON THE SPOT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28. (AP)—Coaches of the rival Sugar bowl football teams today observed the traditional pre-game ceremony of putting each other on the spot.

Coach Jim Leokabaugh of Oklahoma A. and M. said the bookmakers' selection of his club to win by two touchdowns was without foundation in reason. Coach Jim Phelan of St. Mary's said the margin was too small.

"Only two touchdowns?" remarked Phelan, prepping his Gaels at Gulfport. "If I were a gambler I'd say that was conservative. After all, we're playing boys against their men."

BIG WELCOME GIVEN TEAMS AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—The University of Georgia Bulldogs today received the same kind of big, Texas welcome given Tulsa's Golden Hurricanes Thursday on their arrival in Houston, home of the Oil bowl.

Scantily-clad, pretty girls formed a pep squad that led a parade from the railroad station to the Bulldogs' hotel. Oil bowl officials said Houston had planned elaborate entertainment for both squads, though it would be left to the coaches, of course, how much of it the players would enjoy.

Aggies Seek Fifth All-College Title

Oklahomans Will Tangle With Baylor In Finals Tonight; Bears Pull A Surprise

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 28. (AP) —Oklahoma A. and M. seeks its fifth All-College basketball tournament title tonight by tangling with the Baylor Bears in the finals.

The Aggies showed mid-season form in overrunning the highly touted University of Kansas quintet, 46-28, while Baylor pulled its second upset of the meet by edging out the University of Oklahoma, 43-42, in semi-final contests last night.

Surprise Of Tourney

Baylor, the surprise team of the tourney, eliminated the fourth seeded Pepperdine college of Los Angeles, 40-36, in the first round. The Texans have a clean slate of seven victories for the season so far.

The Aggies victory knocked Kansas out of the undefeated ranks.

An indication of how the Big Six conference race will go should be found in the meeting of Kansas and Oklahoma for third place in the first game of tonight's doubleheader.

Pepperdine meets Rice and Texas Christian university plays Texas in consolation games this afternoon.

Yesterday, Pepperdine defeated Texas Christian, 57 to 45, and Rice defeated the University of Texas, 55 to 52.

Bob Fenimore Is Top Star To Appear In Bowl Tilts; Other Aces Will Tangle New Year's

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (AP) — The greatest one-man offensive in college football history — bounding Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A. & M. — leads an imposing array of statistical satellites into the nation's bowl games on New Year's day.

Audited reports of the National Collegiate Athletic bureau covering the 1945 season were released today by Homer F. Cooke, jr., director, showing Fenimore to be the first player ever to twice lead as the yardage producer.

Gilmer Is Second

Fenimore failed to equal his 1944 total of 1758 yards combined rushing and passing, but his 1641 yards on 203 plays in eight games was well ahead of any other performer in the nation. Second was Harry Gilmer of Alabama who rolled up 1457 yards and third was Herman Wedemeyer of St. Mary's with 1428. However, Gilmer played in nine games, Wedemeyer only eight.

Fenimore also annexed the 1945 ball-carrying title with a total of 1048 yards net gain — the first time any lugger has gone above the 1,000-yard level since 1942 when Rudolph Mobley of Hardin-Simmons carved out the all-time standard of 1281. It also was the first time any player had paced the nation both in total offense and rushing since Whizzer White turned the trick in 1937.

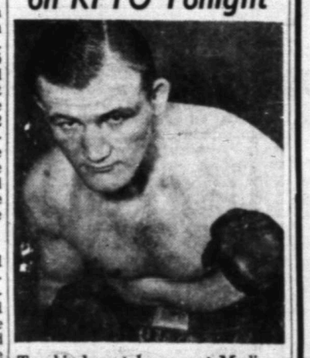

Stars To Tangle

Fenimore and Wedemeyer will vie in the Sugar bowl at New Orleans; in fact, the top four groundgainers by combined rushing and passing will be on display in three bowls — the Sugar, Rose and Orange. Gilmer will be in the Rose bowl and the fourth-place man, Stan Koslowski of Holy Cross, who got 1279 yards on 247 plays in nine games, will strut his stuff at Miami.

Then, the Oil bowl of Houston will display the pass-receiving king, Reid Moseley of Georgia, who caught 31 throws for 662 yards to successfully defend his position as the colleges' premier gridiron outfielder — but he had to share honors to a degree with Gene Wilson of Southern Methodist and Steve Contos of Michigan State. Each pulled down 31 passes, but Moseley's yards gained exceeded the combined total of the other two.

Only in forward passing and punting did the bowl games fail to snare the statistical leaders. Allen Dekdebrun of Cornell topped the pitchers with 90 completions for 1127 yards on 194 attempts. Howard Maley of Southern Methoist led the punters with an average of 41.71 yards on 59 boots.

Baksi-Schott Fray on KFYO Tonight

Two big boys take over at Madison Square Garden in New York and on the air tonight. Joe Baksi (above) from Kulpmont, Pa., swaps punches with Freddie Schott of Paterson, N. J., in a heavyweight ten-rounder.

Schott, a fast-rising, young husky who has been enjoying a consistent winning streak, encounters his first real major test in Baksi. A terrific body puncher, he possesses one of the best left hands in heavy ranks. Undefeated in 42 starts (half of the wins by kayo) Freddie is bound to throw everything he has to make it 43.

Rough, rugged Baksi is a hard-charging clouter who piles in with both fists flying. He has an impressive list of victims to his credit, including Mauriello Savold and Nova.

DONALD DUCK — FREE WHEELING! — BY WALT DISNEY

That Girl on Broadway says it usually costs you something to say what you please, but it's always worth it if you can afford it.

"The Eskimo couldn't withstand the extremely low temperatures in which he lives if he were civilized," declares a biologist.

(We suggest you clip out the statement and show it to the bores who are forever boasting about how they take cold showers every morning, even in winter!)

THAT radio has a grand job to do, and can do it when it sets its mind to it, was proven the other night by Columbia Broadcasting System.

At the regular Tuesday night spot of "The Inner Sanctum," the best of the horror programs, something different was added as a salute to Christmas. The half hour usually filled with tales of murder, mayhem, ghosts, etc., was given over to a recounting of the great classic, "The Littlest Angel." Helen Hayes did the reading and she'd be great if she did no more than repeat the alphabet. But with the glorious story "The Littlest Angel," plus fine and appropriate music in the background, the program was the very best The Plainsman has ever heard on the air.

CBS programs are not widely followed in this area if for no other reason than because reception from that network is none too good hereabouts. Therefore, probably very few Lubbock and South Plains people heard the Christmas night offering to which we refer.

But those who did hear it will echo The Plainsman in saying that it brought tears to the eyes of listeners no matter how blase and cynical they may have fancied themselves; that it tightened the throat to an extent that swallowing was impossible.

We have heard Lionel Barrymore on numerous occasions in his Yuletide rendition of Dickens' immortal "A Christmas Carol," and Mr. Barrymore is fine. He is so fine, and his subject matter is, too, that his Christmas program has become traditional. But Mr. Barrymore and "A Christmas Carol," as good as they are, aren't in a class with Helen Hayes and "The Littlest Angel."

CBS can do itself and radio a lot of good by making its last Tuesday night program a regular Christmas night feature, with Miss Hayes as long as she lives and, after she's gone, with her successor, as "America's First Lady of the Theater." Unless "The Littlest Angel" is done annually, radio will not be doing what it should for the people of the nation at Christmas time.

The truth is, "The Littlest Angel" is so good that all four of the nationwide radio chains would make friends for radio by going together for 30 minutes each Christmas night and blanketing the whole air with Miss Hayes and "The Littlest Angel."

They do it for presidential speeches—and we've yet to hear one that even approached "The Littlest Angel" from any standpoint.

In 25 years of newspapering, The Plainsman has heard a lot of words spoken and has read many a million written words, as well. But nothing has ever touched us as Miss Hays and "The Littlest Angel" did on Christmas night.

If CBS doesn't make a tradition of the program, we suggest that next year Judge Landis take whatever steps are necessary to secure permission to offer the program over KFYO, plus the very best readers and music here available.

There are too few really fine things in this crass, old world to let any of them lay in mothballs. And one of the truly fine things we have is "The Littlest Angel," the story of a little boy who went to heaven before his time and whose humble gift to the Christ Child became the Star of Bethlehem.

That Man on Avenue Q says money will buy so little these days it's no wonder so many people don't care whether or not they work for any of it.

Sudden thawt:

In the case of a gravediggers strike, would the strikers picket the corpses?

WE note with something approaching mental indigestion that the viewers-with-alarm—having nothing else to occupy their thoughts at the moment—are in somewhat of a lather over the fact that President Truman flew from Washington to Missouri on Christmas Day, when the weather wasn't exactly perfect.

Critics of the President's very human action (after all, just because a man is President is no sign he doesn't like to spend Christmas with his mother, family and friends) say he should think of his position before he goes rollicking off in one of them newfangled airy-planes. They drip with horror at the possibility that he might get killed and then where would we be? One guy, pointing out that the President is one of the three most powerful and important men in the world (in our book any U. S. President, as such, is THE most important and powerful man) indicated that if Mr. Truman's ship had crashed Tuesday, the whole globe would have been turned inside out.

Stuff and nonsense.

If ever a nation should have learned the hard way that no man is indispensible, this is the nation, surfeited, as it was for years, by the slick political argument that everything would go to hell in a basket if we changed presidential horses anywhere within 1,000 miles of even an imaginary stream.

We don't want Mr. Truman to die and we surely don't want to see the nation have another overnight change in executives. But a man can die in bed as well as in an airplane and it's our guess that those who have been criticizing Mr. Truman for his Yule flight would have been hopping on him for something else, even if he'd chained himself to the White House fireside, wrapped himself in blankets and kept a medical thermometer in his mouth on December 25.

THE truth is, one of Mr. Truman's principal appeals to the people is the fact that he's pretty much of an ordinary guy and disports himself in the same manner.

Just because he's President, he hasn't felt it necessary to make a political monk out of himself, as some of his advisors would like to see him do, nor has he assumed that he should be a sort of museum piece, to be kept under glass and viewed only from afar.

From where we sit, the "average American in the White House" is doing a better job than he otherwise would be able to do because he keeps his perspective—something that's darn hard to do from the big, rambling house at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue in Washington, D. C.

We believe he'll be able to do a better job, too, if he continues making more side trips to Independence, Mo., and county fairs around about the U. S., rather than more jaunts to the international poker games held by the bigwigs around and about the globe, under the cover of secrecy and far removed from the rank and file of men and women who, after all, make up this country and the world.

Hooray for Harry—and we're glad he got home Christmas!

Feminine Viewpoint

"CHILDREN will start to attend school when they are 3 or 4 years old in the school of tomorrow," predicts the director of the Public Education association, who points out that when they enter school at 5 or 6 many children already have formed bad habits which are difficult to change.

MILLETT

Okay, so they separate Junior from his Mama for a large part of his waking day when he is only 3 years old. That may be good for Junior, but who is going to figure out what to do with Mama, if she has her one or two (and that is fast becoming the popular-sized family) children around the house for only 3 years?

Is anybody or any group of persons going to bother to show her what to do with her time? If not we'll soon have a larger than ever group of idle, unhappy women who are potential troublemakers.

Of course, Mama—released from the job of training her child as soon as he reaches the advanced age of 3 — might be persuaded to have a larger family and put her mind to making its home life more important. But she'll have to be sold on the idea by somebody.

Perhaps it's true that the most expedient method of giving children good training when they are young is to turn them over to persons particularly trained for the job.

TRAIN MAMA FIRST

BUT wouldn't it preserve Mama's rightful place and make for a more normal way of living if we gave Mama the kind of education to fit her to become a competent mother, instead of just telling her she is no good and snatching her kids away from her almost as soon as they can walk?

If we are going to revise the educational system, why don't we revise it so that all girls are taught how to handle the job that most of them will some day have, the job of training children at home?

CHECKING ON MILITARY WASTE

The investigation by a Senate sub-committee of "probable wastage" of military goods is a worthwhile project, and there is little doubt that it will find plenty of things to look over and under and through.

The group will attempt to determine whether Army trucks are being dumped into canyons, whether food which might go to hungry children abroad is being hoarded, and whether other supplies are being destroyed, or needlessly withheld from possible nonmilitary use.

Right or wrong, the public has gained the impression that Army and Navy powers-that-be had just as readily throw away something as polish their buttons, or unwrap a new spool of vermilion tape. The khaki branch, being the larger, seems to have the more colored reputation for useless expenditure, though both services are certainly prone to squander, in one degree or the other.

Substantiation has been lent to rumor and presumption with the return to civilian life of service men. Their stories of waste in Navy stations and Army camps over the nation and in foreign lands are generally known. Their word cannot be questioned. They were there; they ought to know.

Naturally, there are times when fighting a war that wilful destruction of property can be done for valid reasons, particularly at the scene of the fighting; upon occasions it is a military necessity. But, it would be difficult to excuse any unnecessary waste now.

The American people have billions of dollars tied up in leftover military supplies and in Army and Navy bases of all kinds. It is nothing but sensible and proper that steps be taken to see that their investment is protested.

Jesse Jones Pulls A Faux Pas

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Since Franklin Roosevelt died, Jesse Jones has managed to stay on pretty good terms with Harry Truman. However, Jesse certainly muffed the ball at a private dinner at which the President was guest of honor the other night.

The dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Symington—he's the surplus property administrator—and at the start of the meal Mr. Symington rose and proposed a toast to the President of the United States. Mrs. Symington then rose and proposed a toast to the First Lady.

PEARSON

The guests then sat down and started eating. Suddenly, however, they heard a rattling at the end of the table. Someone was banging a fork against a plate. It was Jesse Jones demanding to be heard. Jones rose and said he, too, wanted to propose a toast. Lifting his glass, he said:

"I propose a toast to 'Mrs. Fiddlesticks,' the mother of Mrs. Truman."

The ensuing silence would have caused anyone less brash than Jesse to slide under the table. Obviously, he was referring to the remark made by the President's mother, "Oh fiddlesticks," when she was asked to pose for the photographers. However, nobody at the table thought this was funny at all. Nor did they think it funny that Jesse should get the President's mother mixed up with Mrs. Truman's mother.

After a moment of silence, Jesse sheepishly sat down. Dinner guests later referred to him at "Mr. Fuddy-Duddy" Jones, and remarked that his umbilical cord with the White House seems permanently severed.

STALIN QUOTES BIBLE

SENATOR Claude Pepper of Florida, just returned from a lengthy tour of Europe, had a man-to-man talk with Joe Stalin.

At one point during their conversation, Stalin told the Florida senator that he realized there was strong opposition to the Soviet government among certain elements of the American press and people, but that this wouldn't deter his efforts to improve mutual relations.

"As Christ said," Stalin remarked, " 'Seek and ye shall find'." — A strange remark coming from a man supposed to be un-Godly.

CAPITAL CHAFF

SINCE publication of General Marshall's letter to Governor Dewey telling how we were cracking Japanese and German codes, every major government has been changing its codes almost daily. In addition, the best cryptographers in the world are now hard at work in every capital trying to figure out new unbreakable codes. All suspect we have broken their codes too. . . The row between Mayor Maestri of New Orleans and Jimmy Comiskey was patched up at a secret caucus. This means that Maestri will be re-elected mayor of New Orleans. Basis for the settlement was that Comiskey would name the criminal sheriff. . . Relations between the White House and the State department sometimes get so irritated that Truman's friends facetiously suggest he appoint an ambassador of his own to the State department. Remarked one White House attache: "The only way we hear anything about what's going on in the State department is when they send it over to be signed by the President." . . President Truman is so concerned about his relations with progressives and liberals that he is appointing a special liaison group of liberal congressmen to confer with him regularly.

THE OTHER LaFOLLETTE

WHEN the name LaFollette is mentioned in Washington, most people think of the senator from Wisconsin, who succeeded his crusading Bull-Moose father. But another LaFollette, from Indiana, not Wisconsin, who sits in the House of Representatives, not the Senate, is also attracting more and more attention.

Empty chairs fill up quickly when Representative Charles LaFollette takes the floor for a speech. Colleagues may sometimes disagree with the two-fisted Indiana Republican, but they agree that what he says usually is interesting and never fails to pack a wallop.

In fact, one of his recent speeches packed such a wallop that conservative colleagues on the Republican side almost swooned. For LaFollette attacked that super-sacred cow, states' rights, and before he was through had virtually dehorned the animal.

"There are no such things as states' rights," declared the red-headed Hoosier. "There are rights of citizens who live within a state. The man who speaks of state sovereignty speaks the language of totalitarianism. There is only individual sovereignty."

Colleagues on both sides of the aisle listened in amazed silence. Only congressmen to answer were two Republicans: Jensen of Iowa and Bates of Massachusetts. Significantly, no whimpers came from Southern Democrats.

"Did not the sovereignty of the states exist long before the federal government was established?" asked Bates.

"Yes, but man existed long before the state of Massachusetts," shot back LaFollette. "The state of Massachusetts did not create its citizens and does not own them. The citizens own the state. In the continental Congress and the convention which created the constitution . . . the issue was not states' rights.

"The issue was, 'Shall the people determine that they can be better served by a (federal) government with power over the state.' That is the constitutional answer, and it is the only answer that parallels with any idea of the innate dignity and honor of mankind. From that premise I do not yield, nor shall I ever yield, God giving me the strength to retain my intellectual, moral, and spiritual integrity."

No one had any adequate comeback.

RECONVERSION CAR

ATTENTION, President Truman: Here's another example of how your fumbling Reconversion Director John Snyder is sabotaging your program. Recently you joined with leaders of labor and with Eric Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, in endorsing a study of the entire annual wage program.

The matter was then referred to the advisory committee of Snyder's office, headed by ex-Governor Max Gardner of North Carolina. That committee unanimously appointed two of its members, Arthur Meyer and Murray Latimer, to make a careful investigation of the entire subject. However, your own close friend and appointee, John Snyder, has now refused to okay the funds necessary for a thorough annual wage study. As a result, some people are wondering whether he is working for you or his old friends the St. Louis bankers.

ZIONIST STREICHER

WHEN Julius Streicher, bloodthirsty anti-Semite, was being questioned before the Nuernberg trial opened, he was asked about his part in the Nuernberg pogroms, during which thousands of Jews were killed, injured and deprived of their property. Streicher claimed he had advised Hitler against pogroms, cautioning him that such incidents would prejudice the world against the Nazis.

"I have always believed that the proper solution to the Jewish problem would be to give the Jews a homeland of their own, and send them all there," said Streicher.

"Actually," he continued, without batting an eye, "I have always been a strong Zionist.

"Try And Stop Me"

By Bennett Cerf

TWO old friends who had not seen each other in twenty years rediscovered each other recently. "Great to see you, Joe," boomed one of them. "I suppose you are a married man with children by this time."

"No," said the other, "I am afraid I never took the plunge."

"Joe, you must be crazy," said the first one. "I guess you just don't realize what it means to be married. Take me, for instance. I come home every night from a hard day at the office to a beautiful warm, comfortable apartment. My wife is waiting to hand me my slippers and the evening paper. Then she runs out to the kitchen, cooks me a luscious dinner. She tops that with my favorite liqueur, plants me in my easy chair by the fire, and hands me my pipe. Then she washes the dishes. Finally she comes and snuggles down by my side and starts to talk. She talks, and talks, and talks, and talks. I wish she'd drop dead."

Congressional Record Divided Into Two Distinct Parts

Rayburn And Vandenberg Aid Europe's Future

By MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Congress, off on a much needed holiday, can look back on a record that is divided into two parts as separate and distinct as night and day.

CHILDS

On the side of foreign affairs, the record is one of considerable accomplishment. Congress reserves a gold star especially for the speed with which, after so many delays, the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation appropriation was put through. Not only was the second appropriation of $1,350,000,000 authorized, but $750,000,000 of the money was made available.

That will make it possible to initiate a program for Italy, where the need is so critical. If Congress had not taken this action, the future of Europe would have been black indeed.

To two men goes much of the credit for the last-minute speed with which the UNRRA appropriation was passed. One is Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, and the other is Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

Credit To Vandenberg

In recent months, on one international issue after another, Vandenberg has shown a statesmanlike approach, devoid of any petty partisanship. During the year now ending, his stature has measurably increased. He has become in every sense of the word a leader of American foreign policy.

As the ranking Republican on the Senate Atomic committee, he has shown more boldness and initiative than most of his colleagues. Senator Vandenberg knows we have moved into a new era and he is trying hard to face the facts of that era.

SPEAKER Rayburn, as one of President Truman's lieutenants on Capitol Hill, worked intensively to speed the UNRRA appropriation on its way. Rayburn and the President enjoy a warm friendship. They work closely and effectively together.

The congressional score on foreign affairs includes adoption of legislation providing for American participation in the UNO and confirmation of members of the American delegation. The United States is now a full-fledged participating member of the new world league.

The score that Congress has run up on the domestic side is something else again. It is practically a goose, egg, a blank.

One of the most unfortunate defeats came just at the end. By a vote of 31 to 30, with 35 Senators either not present or not voting, the Senate killed an amendment which would have extended the President's war powers for a year instead of for just six months.

Important To Administration

Within the administration, this was considered of first importance. If the war powers are to expire on June 30, 1946, then the few controls that still remain will begin to crumble. Those who want to go on a high, wide and handsome inflationary spree will be encouraged to think that Congress actually means for all controls to end in six months.

During the brief debate on the one-year proposal, Senators argued that before June 30 the whole question could be reconsidered. But with such a deadline in the middle of the first full year of peace, it would be extremely hard to stand up to the pressure that is certain to build up.

Even though the importance of the 12-month extension was impressed on Democratic Senators, six Democrats joined the Republicans to defeat the amendment. They were Bilbo of Mississippi, Byrd of Virginia, Hoey of North Carolina, McLellan of Arkansas, O'Daniel of Texas and Tydings of Maryland. These are all Southern conservatives.

IT was another Southern conservative, Representative Carter Manasco of Alabama, who was chiefly responsible for diluting President Truman's full employment proposal to such a degree that it is now almost unrecognizable.

The form of the full employment bill is, of course, not yet finally determined. Conferees from House and Senate will meet on January 16 to decide whether the stronger Senate version or the weak House version will prevail.

On the U. S. Employment Service, on increased unemployment compensation, on issue after issue touching the economy of the nation and everyone in it, Congress has either said no or has said yes in such a half-hearted fashion that the net result was negative. President Truman is talking back to the men who have obstructed his program. But there is no evidence that he will be able to whip them into line.

FARMERS' SUPERMARKET

NEW ORLEANS (U.P.) — The Louisiana department of agriculture is making plans to construct a super-market for farmers on a 16-acre tract in New Orleans.

The site selected is accessible to rail, highway and air transportation, and will cost about $750,000.

If the idea goes over, similar markets will be built in five other cities in the state.

Appeal Is Sounded To E Bond Buyers

"We still have a fighting chance to reach our Victory loan E quota. Urge you use remaining few days to contact large potential E bond buyers to insure success in your county. Thanks for your hard work."

The above telegram was sent to Lubbock County War Finance committee leaders by Nathan Adams, state chairman of the Texas War Finance committee.

"We've only got three more days in which to make our quota and I would like to see this quota made more than any we've had," Neil H. Wright, chairman of the Lubbock county committee said today. "It's more of a matter of civic pride with us and we shouldn't let Lubbock county lag behind in this final bond campaign."

Wright said increased purchases of E bonds had been reported to him in the past few days and there was still a good chance for the county's E bond quota of $955,000 to go over the top.

Killer Sought In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28 (U.P.) — "Blackie," the unidentified hitchhiking murderer, today was trying to lose himself among the 600,000 persons in New Orleans, and police supplemented a meager report of his crime with several clues.

Wanted for shooting to death two men and critically wounding a third, the gunman was thought by police to be seeking refuge in the masses. And they said they were reasonably certain that Blackie was not familiar with the city.

He Walked Away

An unidentified man thrust an Army pass made out to Cpl. Irving Pincus, one of the men he is accused of killing, and a registration card for Pincus' automobile at a ticket agent in a local bus station. Then he walked away without attempting to purchase a ticket.

Ticket Agent Catherine Sansone told officers that at 1:48 a. m. yesterday a man who kept his head down and face hidden slid the pass and card through her ticket window. Also, he gave her a case containing a pair of Army type glasses.

Police investigated further and found that a bus had arrived at the terminal at 1:45 a. m., and the driver reported picking up a "very nervous man" at Lutcher, La., scene of the shootings which took place shortly before midnight yesterday.

Passenger Was Shaky

Three minutes later the articles were handed to Miss Sansone.

Bus Driver Irving Goubert said his passenger, who boarded the bus at a restaurant in the little swamp-bound town, was so shaky that he had attracted Goubert's attention. The man, Goubert said, had difficulty in drinking a cup of coffee because of his nerves.

State Police Capt. J. E. Currie said he believed he knows who the mysterious Blackie is, but he refused to divulge any hint as to his identity.

Currie has asked authorities in Little Rock, Ark., to trace a driver's license which was issued in that city. It was found in a suitcase abandoned in the car.

Blackie shot his victims with a German war pistol at point blank range without warning when the car in which all four had been riding paused on the lonely airline highway from Baton Rouge, La.

He was believed to be an ex-Marine because he had said so, and because a heavy Marine combat boot was found in the car which he abandoned after the shootings.

Can Be Indentified

There is one man who can identify "Blackie," but today he lay in a New Orleans hospital critically wounded, the victim of the gunman's barking German P-38 revolver.

He is a Seabee, Gordon W. Ray, of Electra, Tex. Ray survived the shooting ordeal on the lonely highway only because he feigned death as "Blackie" searched through his pockets after firing three slugs into his body.

Ray, piecing the story together as much as he could for the benefit of police, said that he hitchhiked a ride with Pincus.

"Blackie" and another man — identified by police as Walter J. Smith, a magazine salesman of Long Beach, Cal. — were already in the car, and Ray thinks they might have been hitch-hikers, too.

As the car approached a point six miles north of Lutcher, "Blackie" suggested that Pincus stop the car for a rest period.

Pincus did, and climbed out of the front seat "to stretch his legs."

Blackie leaped from the car and whipped out the gun, firing at Pincus three times and killing him almost instantly.

Then he turned the weapon on Ray and Smith. He killed Smith, but Ray, critically wounded, feigned death so that the killer would not finish the job.

"Blackie" then threw the bodies in the back of the car, robbed them, swapped the Army uniform he was wearing for civilian clothes and fled.

Army Units On The High Seas

PARIS, Dec. 28 (AP) — Personnel of eight American Army units were on the seas today en route home.

The units, which sailed yesterday according to the European theater service forces headquarters, were the 179th general hospital, the first traffic regulating group, tenth traffic regulating group, 313th field artillery battalion, 305th engineers combat battalion, 314th field artillery battalion, 315th field artillery battalion, and part of the 80th infantry division.

Five thousand others of the 80th division will leave for the United States Dec. 29.

Members of the 82nd airborne division were being shuttled to England for embarkation for home the end of this month, while first elements of the 29th infantry division were moving into Bremerhaven staging area.

The second armored division was in the Calais staging area. Advance detachments of the 84th infantry division were in Camp Philip Morris.

Status of other units in redeployment was:

On the seas — The 26th, 36th, 89th and 90th infantry divisions.

First elements on the seas — 100th infantry division.

Alerted for shipment home — 94th infantry division and 22nd corps headquarters.

Dallas Man Killed In Auto Collision

SOMERSET, Pa., Dec. 28 (U.P.) — Daniel Stansbury, 56, Dallas, Tex., died last night in Somerset hospital from injuries received in an automobile collision on the Pennsylvania turnpike.

In fair condition were Stansbury's wife, Blanche, suffering a possible fractured skull; his son, Daniel, jr., 13, possible internal injuries; Curtis Seymour, Champaign, Ill., a passenger, possible fractured skull; and Charles Weitner, St. Clairsville, O., driver of the other car, possible skull fracture.

There Was A War On But Some Amusing Things Happened For Texans During The Past Year

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

There was a war on, but some very amusing things happened in Texas in 1945.

A pastor from Robert Lee was asked to substitute for another in Bronte. He arrived late, found a third pastor delivering a sermon. Bewildered, he asked if he had made a mistake. He had. He was in the wrong church.

News To Him

Capt. Jack Tucker of Lufkin dived into a foxhole in Europe, found a bundle of newspapers. They were from his home town, and on page one was a little story about Capt. and Mrs. Jack Tucker announcing the birth of a son. It was news to him.

Corp. Nat N. Guzman was issued a GI tent in the Pacific, opened it, found he had made it himself in a Dallas awning and tent factory.

A cat named Tabby gave birth to quintuplets on the stage of a tent theater. The play—"Modern Marriage."

Raymondville prematurely celebrated V-E day when the fire siren short-circuited in the middle of a cold spring night, woke the town.

Made His Shorts

Joe Fields Merrow of Hillsboro, 51 inches around the waist, couldn't find shorts, bought some cloth, had some made by a dressmaker.

Despite the meat shortage, Leslie H. Miles of Dallas sold 9,000 pounds of choice cuts for $7.85. The meat had been under water for days after the Trinity flooded, inundated the restaurant. A by-product company bought the meat.

A fad among youngsters, marking sweatshirts with "PW" or "POW" almost got one shot in Dallas. A cop thought he was an escaped prisoner, pulled his gun.

New Secret Weapon

Tom L. Waters, a government trapper in Gray county, perfected a new "secret weapon" to use on coyotes. A bait is placed over a cylinder, in which cyanide and powder are packed. A yank by a coyote, and the thing goes off.

A cow belonging to June Abbott of Edinburg had hay fever.

K. F. Null and a traveling salesman spent the night in cold storage. They were inspecting a huge refrigerator when the door slammed shut.

One of the great Texas heroes of the war was Congressional Medal of Honor winner Jose M. Lopez of Brownsville. When the award was made, Brownsville draft officials found they had four men named Jose M. Lopez in the Army, had a hard time discovering which was which.

Dad Rollins of Houston had a drive-in and a labor shortage—so he trained his dog to hop cars, deliver and collect for beer.

An Edinburg man with a metal plate in his head said he picked up radio programs.

Man Loses Temper In Theater—Also $222

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—Clair E. Coulson, a Chicago businessman, told police today he almost lost his temper when a couple behind him in a local theater kept kicking his seat and nudging him.

What he did not discover until later was that his pocket had been slit with a knife and his billfold, containing $222, taken.

Texas Demos Vie For Lead

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP) — The political year 1945 in Texas was characterized chiefly by restlessness and uncertainty. Many questions were asked but few were answered.

The answering will come in 1946. All the undercurrents indicated a continuation of the struggle for control which went on more or less quietly throughout the past year.

Out-Organize Conservatives

The "Loyal Demoncrat" wing of the party that out-organized the more conservative faction and seized control of the party machinery at the September convention in 1944 worked diligently to consolidate these gains. County and precinct organization and education of workers in how to run conventions and how to get out the vote was pressed on a statewide scale.

In this connection the question most often asked was how firm a grip has the controlling faction? If it has a strong hold, how does it intend to retain it?

The obvious answer to the last question is that the party leadership is and has been seeking throughout 1945 for a candidate for governor.

Likewise the party faction on the other side of the fence has been looking for a candidate. There has been quite a lot of talk that some elements on both sides would prefer to find a middle-of-the-road candidate acceptable to both factions in an effort to heal the party split that climaxed in the battle of the electors.

Consolidation Doubted

There are many extreme right and left wing Democrats who do not think the political philosophies of the two groups can ever be brought into proximity.

Another uncertainty of the year was the question of the veteran vote and the old folks vote. Both are exempt from payment of the poll tax for voting. These two groups together could muster more than half a million votes in 1946 and if they should vote together, could control. This was just another of the uncertainties: No politician could know for example whether the veterans would vote en bloc. The old folks have to a great extent in some recent elections.

The young Democrats, including many veterans, reorganized in 1945 and gave all the signs of becoming more active than ever in future elections. They reaffirmed their old principle of not endorsing any candidate until he became the party nominee, but the convention at Fort Worth, in December was distinctly liberal in makeup.

Many Potential Candidates

With the first primary six month away, there were approximately 15 major gubernatorial candidates or potential candidates, and most of these had been in the preliminary skirmishing for many months before Christmas.

There was not only a great deal of political maneuvering in the governor's race, but in such important state races as attorney general, and for Congress. Out of the legislature will come a number of candidacies for lieutenant governor, and many returning veterans had their eyes on State and Senate and House posts.

TURKEY EGGS THRIVE

LINCOLN, Neb. (U.P.)—Brazil is learning to raise broad-breasted turkeys through the efforts of J. R. Redditt, former extension poultryman at the University of Nebraska.

Redditt, now working at an industrial poultry plant near Sao Paulo, tried out 25 eggs this year and got good results. He has written friends at the university that he will try to hatch 200 eggs next year.

LUCKY DOG — Although his master is dead, Ace, 12-year-old pedigreed fox terrier, will not have to worry about his daily bone. The late Ernest Mutzberg, of Paterson, N. J., bequeathed him $2,000 because, two years ago, the dog saved him from asphyxiation.

Adm. Mitscher Visits Corpus

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 28 (AP) —Vice-Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, vice chairman of naval operations for air, arrived at the Corpus Christi Naval Air station last night for an inspection of naval installations here and at Kingsville.

He was greeted by Rear Adm. J. J. Clark, commander of the naval air training bases here, who had fought under Mitscher in task force 58 in the Pacific.

Given Gold Star

Mitscher presented Clark with a Gold Star in lieu of a second Distinguished Service Medal at a dinner here last night.

The admirals plan to inspect the Corpus Christi bases today before leaving for Kingsville, where they will be honored with a luncheon given by civic leaders at Texas A. and I. college. Mitscher and his party plan to inspect the Kingsville naval auxiliary air station following the luncheon.

Later, the party will be guests at the King ranch. Mitscher is due to leave here Sunday for Washington.

Flashes Of Life

(By The Associated Press)

UNIFIED PROJECT

ST. PAUL, Minn., (AP)—Ten veterans of the Army, Navy, Marine corps and Merchant Marine joined to solve their housing problems. Each paid $400 as down payment on a 10-family apartment house, which will cost them $28,000.

"We simply got tired of looking,' explained John Tierney, former Marine lieutenant and the group's spokesman. As to present civilian occupants of the apartment—

"We're awfully sorry" Tierney said, "but we're tired of living with in-laws.

CLOSE

BARROW, Alaska, (AP)—The letter Charles Nelson of Chicago addressed to "Mr. Santa Claus, North Pole, Alaska," almost made it.

Principal George Wilson of the Point Barrow day school for eskimos said the letter had been delivered to him and he would see that it was forwarded "to its proper destination."

Barrow is Alaska's northernmost community.

QUEEN REFORMS

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Queen, the Milwaukee zoo's lioness, finally has a family that suits her.

Queen didn't like her first four babies born several years ago and refused to care for them. Last year she scorned two cubs and they died.

But this week Queen emerged from a covered cage with three two-weeks-old cubs and is giving them her undivided attention—even to the point of maintaining a vigil while they sleep.

Grave Concern Felt In Japan

TOKYO, Dec. 28 (AP) — Japanese viewed with surprise and dismay today the Big Three decision for establishment of a four-power occupation council for Japan, which most observers regarded as a Russian victory in international bargaining.

General MacArthur studied interestedly the joint communique outlining the creation of an 11-nation Far Eastern policy-making commission and all Allied control council — but he had no comment immediately.

By late afternoon, Japan had not been advised officially of the Allied decision and, therefore, the government foreign office had not formally informed Emperor Hirohito of the development.

Concern Apparent

Government officials declined comment, but an undercurrent of concern was apparent. Typical Japanese comment seemed to be: "Aren't things going all right now? What is the need for an occupation council."

The principal immediate Japanese reaction was the expressed belief that Russia had won concessions for the international council in bargaining for settlement of Korean and Manchurian problems. Some observers said they considered it a Russian victory to the detriment of the other Allies.

Apprehension over the fate of Hirohito and the emperor system appeared to increase, as the Japanese recalled that both Russia and China had previously proposed eliminating the system.

Gas Fails To Rout Skunk Under House

DALLAS, Dec. 28 (U.P.) — The A. H. Thompson family of Dallas believe they are in for a "smelly" New Year.

The Thompson home, stoutly founded on concrete, was no deterrent to an infiltrating polecat, which dug beneath the foundation seeking winter quarters.

The Thompsons in desperation sought aid from the U. S. Bureau of Entomology. Bureau experts offered tear gas as a solution. Explosion of the bombs just before Christmas almost drove the Thompson family from their home.

Mrs. Thompson said today that the tear gas fumes have outdistanced those of the skunk, but the "kitty" still has the situation stubbornly in hand.

Pittsburgh is planning construction of the second largest airport in the world. It would cover 1500 acres and cost the Pennsylvania city $20,000,000.

Twins Enjoy Reunion Over "Ma's" Waffles

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 28, (U.P.) — Omaha's Sell twins, Norman and Edward, ate stacks of Mamma Sell's golden waffles and recounted how Japanese flak over Tokyo separated them for the first time in their 21 years.

The brothers arrived home together after reunion in a California hospital, where Norman, released from a Japanese prison camp, found Edward recuperating.

Norm and Ed were separated last April 7. Ed flew to Iwo Jima. When he got back, he learned Norm had received orders for a low-altitude flight over Tokyo.

Flak hit Norm's ship just after it had dropped its bombs. He landed in a back yard in Tokyo, where Japanese gathered, beat him, and took him to jail.

Their father listened intently to his sons as they told of their experiences. He knew what it meant to be a prisoner of war. He was a Russian soldier in World War I, and spent four years in a German prison camp.

Plastic Surgeon Kept Busy Renovating Milady's Face

BY CLAIRE COX
United Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 28. — Dr. Alexander G. Ward spends most of his time keeping women's chins up and their ages down.

Ward, a plastic surgeon, has lifted 5,000 faces in the past 35 years, some of them two or three times. He said he's getting busier every day.

"All women want to stay young and more and more of them are finding out about face lifting," he said, in an interview. "Eventually, the wrinkle business will be as popular as dental work."

Range From 30 To 87

Ward said most of his patients are about 50 years old, but he's had them as young as 30 and as old as 87.

"When I finished with the 87-year-old woman, she didn't have to be sent back to the nursing bottle, but she looked better," he said.

The surgeon has taken tucks in about 50 men's faces, too. Most of them were theatrical performers, he said, but a few were "dragged in by their young wives."

Face-lifting operations are performed under a local anesthetic in the surgeon's office. It requires approximately four hours to take the necessary tucks and stitches.

"I only cut the threats of the older ones," Ward said. "They often have wrinkled necks, and it's the only way to iron them out.

Ruffles A Hazard

"It's just a tailoring process, like taking in a coat that's too big. Only with faces you have to be especially careful to avoid ruffles."

When face-lifting was introduced early in the century, only theatrical and society people were interested. Ward said. Now even scrubwomen ask him to restore their blush of youth.

Some of his patients have a "mania" for operations, he said, and "take it out" on him.

"One woman comes in every year to see if I can't take a tuck some place."

EVERY RIVERSIDE PLY IS 12% STRONGER TO GIVE YOU GREATER PROTECTION AGAINST BLOW-OUTS

Everyone dreads the sudden danger of a blowout. That's why Riversides are now built 12% stronger than our extra-safe, pre-war tires! Every ply is stronger because each individual cord is stronger to begin with; then chemically strengthened to stay stronger longer! Next, the cords are liquid-dipped to "weld" them together . . . then cushioned in rubber! Finally, the plies are cemented together before vulcanizing, as an extra precaution against separation! In a Riverside Tire, every care is taken to provide real protection against the possibility of a blow-out!

If we are temporarily out of your size, remember . . . new tires are arriving at Wards every week. (And selling fast!)
