Airlift To Be Boosted With More Planes

Hints Of Russian Interference No Bother To General

(By The United Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today that the Berlin airlift will be expanded during the winter with more planes and new runways that are now being opened in Berlin.

The American commander in Germany said there is "no reason to think" that war is imminent.

Clay announced plans to expand the American airlift shortly after it was announced that two American airmen were forced to parachute into the Soviet zone when their airlift transport developed engine trouble.

No Withdrawal Intended

Clary indicated American authorities have no intention of withdrawing troops from Germany as demanded by Russia. To do so, he said, would nullify the original reason for the German occupation.

He said he didn't think the Germans would like the Russian proposal.

"We set out to accomplish something entirely different from that in Germany," he told a press conference.

"If now we were to toss Germany back to the Germans for what they might do with it—I don't know why we came here in the first place."

Hints No Bother

He said Russian hints they may interfere with the airlift do not bother him. He said the airlift will be maintained during the winter at the present levels at least, and probably at higher levels. More planes will be added and new runways will be opened, he said.

"Actually, we have not yet brought the airlift to anywhere near our maximum," he said.

Clay said American troops did not force the Soviet blockade with an armored train or convoy when it was first imposed because that would have been an act of aggression violating the United Nations agreement.

Clay's comment on the possibility of war was prompted by a question as to whether he thought he had enough troops here.

Strength Discussed

"If we were getting ready for war with the Soviets, no, but our strength is measured actually not by our strength in any one spot but by our overall strength at home," he said.

"As far as strength to do our

HST Says Nation's Safety Is Menaced

President Declares Some Politicians Are Using Smear Tactics Against Scientists

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—President Truman assailed Congress from a new quarter today with a charge that "some politicians" are endangering the nation's safety by "smear" tactics against scientists.

The House un-American activities committee—which he did not mention by name—was the obvious target of Mr. Truman's assertion that atomic experts are being driven from the government in these "hazardous times" by "totalitarian" and "un-American" procedure.

The President stoked up his feud with the House committee, headed by Rep. Thomas (R-NJ) in an unexpectedly fiery address last night to the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He termed the talk "non-political."

Speaking to an audience estimated by Constitution hall officials at upwards of 2,000, the chief executive asserted the country's security requires that scientists work "in an atmosphere free from suspicion, personal insult or political motivation."

Their indispensable work, he he continued, "may be made impossible by the creation of an atmosphere in which no man feels safe against the public airing of unfounded rumors, gossip and plain villification."

"Such an atmosphere," he went on, "is un-American—the most un-American we have to contend with today. It is the climate of a totalitarian country in which scientists are expected to change their theories to match changes in the police state's propaganda line."

A short while after Mr. Truman spoke, Dr. Philip M. Morse announced that he had resigned as head of the Brookhaven National laboratory partly because of the "atmosphere of suspicion" against atomic scientists created by the

Residents Are Evacuated But Loss Is Heavy

Palatial Summer Dwellings Of Rich Californians Burn

(By The Associated Press)

OJAI, Calif., Sept. 14—With women and children evacuated from two communities, the picturesque Ojai valley resort area lay blackened and desolate today from a still burning, 12,000-acre forest fire.

The community of Ojai itself and the population of 3,500 felt the fringe of the flames, but a wind shift enabled the hundreds of fire fighters to gain control last night.

35 Houses Destroyed

Chief Pete Little of the Ventura fire department said some 35 homes, including palatial summer dwellings of wealthy Southern Californians, were destroyed, but the fire was halted two blocks short of the business district. Initial damage estimates ran over $1,000,000.

U. S. forestry officials estimated an area of at least 12,000 acres of chaparral and scrub oak was burned over. The area is part of Los Padres national forest.

The community of Meiners Oaks, population 1,500, also was threatened by the blaze.

Women and children were evacuated from both Ojai and Meiners Oaks to Ventura, where the Red Cross disaster relief set up eating and sleeping facilities in the civic auditorium.

Men Stayed Behind

Red Cross operations were headed by disaster experts, Edwin H. Carrol and Cecil Davis, San Francisco, and James C. Dancy, Los Angeles. Red Cross chapters of Ventura, Santa Paula and Oxnard were alerted to care for evacuees.

Ojai's men stayed behind to fight the blaze, which claimed the life of one volunteer fighter, Louis Franklin Hall, 44, of Ojai. Hall was found dead in a field behind his home, apparently the victim of a heart attack.

There was no report of any other serious injury.

The Riconado orchid ranch was described as almost a total loss—including its extremely valuable

POLICE TOSS TEAR GAS BOMBS

Violence Flares In California Walkout

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14 — Hundreds of CIO oil refinery strikers fought a rock and tear gas battle with police for two hours today in an unsuccessful effort to keep non-striking AFL maintenance men out of a plant.

A policeman, a state highway patrolman and four strikers were hospitalized.

Cameras Are Seized

Cameras of three news photographers were seized and the film exposed. Several photographers were roughed up. An Oakland Tribune reporter was hit by a tear gas bomb.

It was the first mass violence of California's 11-day-old strike over wages, a strike which has curtailed gasoline supplies up and down the West Coast.

Some five pound rocks were flung during the fighting.

Most of the violence occurred at the main gate of the Standard Oil refinery in Richmond. But it also extended for blocks around the approaches to the plant.

The police fired tear gas guns and threw tear gas bombs. Strikers tossed the bombs back and also threw rocks.

Start Massing Early

The CIO unionists started massing early this morning after an overnight warning that they were not going to stand peaceably by as they did yesterday while non-strikers went to work.

Disorders started about 6:45 a. m. when AFL members began a motorcade approach as though to enter the main gate. Their truck and cars moved bumper to bumper.

Hundreds of strikers and sympathizers formed a flying wedge in the direction of the oncoming cars. There the melee was touched off.

But the AFL stratagem worked. The first two cars were decoys. But the rest of the caravan slipped away and went into the plant through a rear gate.

The Richmond police department reported that all 1,400 of the workers got into the plant.

About a thousand strikers and sympathizers had gathered in the

Records Set In Maine Voting

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 14 (AP)—Rep. Margaret Chase Smith won a senate seat with two new records—majority and percentage — in yesterday's Maine election — another Republican grand slam.

She and other GOP leaders hailed the results as indicative of a smashing victory for the Dewey-Warren ticket in November.

The 50-year-old senator-elect called her vote "wonderful" and "forerunner of a great Republican national victory . . ."

GOP Governor Named

First Republican woman elected to the Senate, Mrs. Smith also is first of her sex elected without first having served by appointment.

In the seventh straight GOP clean sweep of top offices, Republicans also named a governor and three congressmen.

Unofficial tabulations of practically complete returns gave Mrs Smith 154,687 votes and Dr. Adrian H. Scolten (D) 61,837.

Mrs. Smith's majority — 92,850—bettered a 20-year-old record of 82,481, set in the 1928 gubernatorial contest.

Her percentage, 71.4, was 1.1 percent over the previous mark set by Gov. Horace Hildreth four years ago when the total vote

Robber Too Friendly To Make A Success

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (U.P.)—Robert Rankin, 23, of Detroit, was arrested by police today who said he was too friendly to be a successful robber.

Rankin entered the Rustic bar on West 44th St. this morning, police said, waved a gun and took $150 from the cash register.

"Say, guy," said the proprietor, Sidney Otner, "I'm just an ex-GI trying to get along. Why pick on me?"

"Well, buddy, I was in the army, too," Rankin reportedly replied. "If you're my buddy, I guess I can't take your dough.'

Then, police said, Rankin handed back the $150 and went across the street to the Sawdust Trail bar. There, they said, he fired two shots into the floor to emphasize his demands for money. However, a customer hit him on the head with a chair and knocked him unconscious.

Rains Are Light In Area Along Coast

(By The Associated Press)

Light rains fell today in the Houston-Galveston coastal area while partly cloudy skies held down temperatures in most other pars of the state.

The flooding Rio Grande was at a standstill at 22.9 feet—1.9 feet above bank level—at Hidalgo in the lower valley this morning. No serious damage was expected although the level is about the same as that of the July flood. The crest is expected at Brownsville Thursday.

Rains totaling 1.45 inches at McAllen and 1.95 at Edinburg in the last 24 hours were not expected to swell the flood crest greatly. Most of the drainage is into the Arroyo Colorado and floodways. There were a few showers in the lower valley this morning. A downpour of 2.35 inches flooded streets at Harlingen yesterday.

Other rain reports included: Laredo .43 inch; Brownsville .13; Beaumont .07; Tyler .02; Galveston and Texarkana .01.

Hyderabad Reports Indian Casualties

KARACHI, Pakistan, Sept 14 (AP)—A communique from the Hyderabad defense ministry said today Indian troops suffered 1,000 casualties on the first day of their invasion of the princely state.

(An Indian army communique issued in New Delhi this morning said one Indian column, in western Hyderabad, had lost 100 killed and 150 captured.)

On the northern front, the communique said, the forces of the Mozlem Nizam recaptured one village within eight hours after Indian troops took it. An earlier communique said the Indian advance had been stopped on all fronts.

Stevedores Will Ignore Army Call For Workers, CIO Says

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14—CIO longshore headquarters announced union stevedores will ignore today' call by the Army for dock workers to handle military cargoes in struck Pacific ports.

The Army called for qualified dock workers on a "first come first hired" basis for 8 a. m. today in San Francisco and said similar calls were being made in other West Coast ports. Loading cargoes for the Army's Pacific areas will begin Wednesday, the announcement said.

There will be a picket line around the Army employment office this morning," longshore headquarters said.

In a bitter statement the union denounced the Army's plan to bypass the union-controlled hiring hall as "an open shop move."

"It means direct strike breaking by the Army," a spokesman for Harry Bridges, union president, said.

Men to Refuse Work

He added that longshoremen in all West Coast ports would refuse to work for the Army. All of the maritime unions involved in the strike will meet "sometime today" to discuss the situation, he said.

Earlier the union had expressed willingness to handle Army cargoes for the Orient under pre-strike conditions and wages, and a CIO regional director had said union stevedores could be on the job today.

The announcement by the Army's port of embarkation here last night made no mention of hiring halls but said longshoremen for San Francisco would be hired at the port employment office.

The union spokesman said:

"It means hiring at dock gate in complete bypass of the hiring hall which has been used by the Army for the past 12 years, would reinstitute the shapeup system

Ring Swindler Sought Here

Police today sought a suspect in connection with an alleged swindle perpetrated in the night on a gasoline service station attendant.

Harold W. Burdett and Robert Basher, police patrolmen, answered a 6:20 a. m. telephone call from Noel Edwards, manager of the station, at Ninth and College, and gave this account of what allegedly happened:

Details Are Revealed

Joe Thomas of 1921 Twenty-first, attendant at the station, was approached when on duty in the night and asked how much money he would give on a diamond ring.

Thomas said he told the man that he was not able to advance any money, that the money at the station was not his.

He said the ring looked like quite a bargain. He informed the man with the ring that Noel Edwards was station manager.

Received Phone Call

At 5:35 a. m., police were informed, Thomas received a telephone call from a man who represented himself as Edwards.

The caller asked "how much money" was in the cash register of the station, police were told. Thomas reputedly told the caller, "You don't sound natural," but

President Accuses Senator In Letter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. (AP)—President Truman has accused Senator Taft (R-Ohio) of an "entirely improper" attempt to "put the heat on" the National Labor Relations board to act against the AFL International Typographical union.

The letter was written by Mr Truman on Aug. 20 to David P. Findling, NLRB associate general counsel. It was made public by the White House today.

The President wrote in reply to a letter from Findling, reporting on a meeting of NLRB officials and representatives of several newspapers with Taft at the capitol on July 28.

Courtship Forced Into Autos And Parks

Modern Apartments So Small Romance Doesn't Have Chance

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Modern apartments are so small there's no room for romance, a New York educator said today.

"The dwindling size of city apartments," said President Bryan J. Hovde of the New School for Social Research, "compels young people to conduct their courtships on the streets, in commercial places of amusement, in public parks or in automobiles, rather than in one another's houses.

Though "all the world deplores" that situation, Hovde said, builders still make apartments "so small there is no privacy there."

Hovde told a symposium of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that "housing is one of the most acute problems of our time" and that the natural and social sciences should join in attacking it.

"For the proper planning of good housing," he said, "we should know more than we do about the ways in which families like to use their indoor

Bermuda Clears Away Debris After Blow

Hurricane Whirls On Toward Shipping Lanes In Atlantic

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 14 — The honeymoon and vacation resort of Bermuda cleared away debris today in the wake of a severe hurricane that lashed the area with winds of 123 miles an hour.

No loss of life was reported and property damage was not extensive, according to reports.

The hurricane had winds of 140 miles per hour in a small area near the center and heavy squalls and gales extended outward 200 miles from the center.

It whirled northward at 16 miles an hour and the weather bureau said it probably would make a slow curve to the north northeast, accelerating in a forward movement.

All shipping in its path was advised to exercise extreme caution as the disturbance roared toward the busy North Atlantic shipping lanes.

Chief Storm Forecaster Grady Norton said at Miami the hurricane apparently would pass out to sea without any effects being felt along the U. S. coast.

Bermuda, about 600 miles off the South Carolina coast, was lashed by winds up to 123 miles an hour in gusts. Power lines were blown down and highways flooded. Some slate roofs were blown off

Attempts Made To Bar States' Rights Group

Boos And Heckling Heard From Floor During Addresses

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14.—Amidst an uproar of protests from States' Righters, the state Democratic convention at 1:02 p. m. came to the first test vote on the pro-Truman and anti-Truman issue.

The immediate issue was whether or not Harris county would be permitted to vote on a proposal to bar its anti-Truman delegation from proceedings of the convention.

Chairman Robert W. Calvert had ruled that the delegation with its 199 votes could not participate in the contest. Former State Senator Frank Rawlins of Fort Worth appealed from the ruling of the chair. Calvert relinquished the chair to W. O. Reed of Dallas, acting parliamentarian, and he ruled Harris county could not vote on the appeal. The roll call started.

The convention had roared off to a fighting start with the effort to boot the Harris county delegation out.

Byron Skelton of Temple, floor leader of the pro-Truman or loyalist forces, moved to amend the executive committee's report which recommended seating of the anti-Truman delegation headed by Robert W. Milner, jr.

Seating Is Asked

He asked the convention to seat the pro-Truman delegation led by Sam D. W. Low. Skelton charged that many of the Harris county delegation were leaders of the States' Rights movement to elect Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina president.

Skelton had great difficulty making his voice heard over a chorus of boos. Much of this heckling seemed to come from the Harris and Dallas county sections.

Milner himself appealed for order.

"No one should be allowed to take part in these deliberations who is not a Democrat and who is not willing to take the pledge to support the nominees of the Democratic party," Skelton shouted.

Will Determine Control

He plainly told the delegates their vote on the motion would determine whether the anti-Truman or pro-Truman forces would control.

Ralph Lee of Houston came to the microphone to speak against Skelton's motion.

Lee said the Democratic party of Texas is an entity in itself, not subject to control of Democrats in Philadelphia or New York or Boston or anywhere else. He said the Truman-Thurmond referendum in Harris county which carried for Thurmond by a big majority

Big Four Meet Gets Underway

MOSCOW, Sept. 14 (AP) — The three western envoys went to the Kremlin today for a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

This was the first four-power meeting in Moscow since Aug. 30, when U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau and special British envoy Frank Roberts saw Molotov and his deputy, Andrei Vishinsky, on the Berlin question.

The three westerners met among themselves just before they went to the Kremlin. The new meeting followed the return of Francois Seydoux, Fernch political adviser in Germany, with reports on the talks held in Berlin by the four military governors.

The three envoys left for the Kremlin together, from the U. S. embassy, where they had been meeting.

Prime Minister Stalin was not present at the Kremlin meeting, another in a long series of four-power talks which began the end of July.

Following the session, the three westerners were to confer at the British embassy, an American embassy spokesman said.

PARIS, Sept. 14. (AP)—Hope is all but gone today for any Big Four agreement on the knotty question of what to do about Italy's pre-war African empire.

Judge Suspends Sentence In New York Vice Case Scandal

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (INS) — A compassionate New York jurist suspended sentence today on pretty Nancy Choremi, daughter of a U. S. career diplomat, convicted of prostitution, so she could "resume a normal married life, as if nothing had happened."

The 27-year-old daughter of C. Paul Fletcher, U. S. consul-general at Casablanca, wife of a wealthy Greek cotton broker and mother of his five-year-old son, was visibly moved as the court decision was announced.

Nancy was found guilty of acting as a $100-a-night call girl and given a suspended sentence of three months in the workhouse. Two other young women also were found guilty and had their sentences suspended. They were convicted of "abetting" her.

They were plump and attractive Madeleine Blavier, 33, a Belgian red-blonde, and statuesque Margaret Starr, 30, a former minister's daughter.

Attorneys for all three said they would appeal the conviction.

Nancy's husband, George Choremi, said, "we want complete vindication."

The conviction of the young woman was obtained partially as the result of wire-tapping by New York police.

Magistrate Arthur Markewich who delivered the decision, said of the evidence which convicted her and of her probation report, "it is completely confidential and will remain so."

He said, however, "if the offense is repeated, it will be met with swift and sure punishment."

Nancy, Miss Blazier and Miss Starr have been free on $2,500 bail since their conviction on July 8.

Magistrate Markewich explained his somewhat unusual action. He said:

"Jail terms are for two purposes. One as a deterrent, the other as a punishment for an act It has never been my practice to sentence a first offender. The prime purpose in this case is rehabilitation.

"I don't believe any purpose would be served in placing these women on probation. The problem of prostitution is not solved in a criminal court. It is a social, economic and moral problem.

"All these defendants are adults, quite intelligent and can look after themselves. No lecture by me is going to change any one of them."

For that reason, said Markewich, he did not believe a jail sentence at this time would be the answer to the problem.

In response to a question by Nancy's attorney, the magistrate said all defendants were free to travel. This was important to Nancy and Miss Blavier both of whom regularly reside abroad.

Miss Starr said her husband, Enrique Manuel, a Mexican actor, was joining her soon. She said she is expecting a child.

Postwar problems haven't licked the Lanks!

AMERICAN FAMILY CLOSE-UP

As they go, so goes the nation!

The Lank family of Harrisburg, Pa.: Navy veteran Dick, 28; his wife, Ruth, 27; and baby Deborah.

Back home from service in the Navy, Dick Lank faced a problem. Like so many other veterans with no business or professional training, he had to find a job that would be fun to learn . . . with a good future. He talked it over with his two brothers and his father.

Each put up $1500 of their savings and founded the electrical appliance firm of O. B. Lank & Sons. But even with a promising job, Dick and Ruth still have the problem of getting ahead in spite of high prices on a salary of $65 a week.

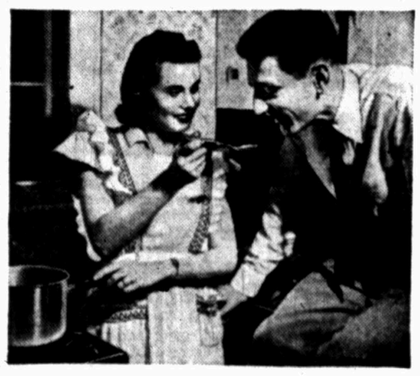

Dick met Ruth in this church in 1939! Five years later they were married in this same church by Ruth's father, a minister.

The Lanks love music! A major source of entertainment, their modest record collection costs little. They have fun, too, in church and community work.

Anything electrical interests Dick. Home repair work earns him $15—$20 extra a month.

Ruth saves food money by careful buying, clever cooking. They also save by having Sunday dinners at their family's. Dick's business lunches, too, help keep home food costs to about $55 a month. Rent is $65, clothing costs $16, recreation $10 a month.

Yes, the Lanks are getting ahead . . . making their way toward their goals despite the difficulties and problems everyone has been facing since the war. With their life insurance agents, the Lanks have worked out a program which now includes $15,660 of life insurance protection. They go over this program with an agent every two years to decide whether family circumstances call for any changes to keep it up to date, make it more useful.

They're saving money, too, for the home they plan to build some day . . . already have $1800 in the bank. By working hard, managing their money wisely, enjoying inexpensive things, Dick and Ruth have found one way to happiness.

For travel—a new car some day! Ruth would like to own a children's shop. Dick wants to set up a retirement plan. "They're all on our dream list!"

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

BRING YOU THIS STORY BECAUSE... families like the Lanks show us one way that happiness is earned! You, yourself, probably know a family, right in your own town, that is getting ahead in the same typically American way. Such families prove to all of us that we can solve our own problems by our own efforts. . . . Their example shows too why it is so important for us to hold to our rights to think for ourselves, to work at what we like, to live as we choose. German Shepherd Guide Dog Obtained For Blind Vet By Local VA For First Time

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

Suda, a German Shepherd guide dog, was trained at expense of approximately $1,500 but trying to set his value in dollars would be impossible, said Ralph Ferbrache, blind veteran who acquired the dog last month.

The remark was one of several given in praise of the dog by the 36-year-old veteran as he sat on a porch at the John T. Howell home at 2615 Twenty-seventh Monday afternoon before leaving by train for Wichita, Kas.

Ferbrache is the first blind veteran to receive a guide dog through efforts originating in the regional office of the Veterans administration here. He also has been aided by Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross, which has power of attorney for him.

"They're just like having a child around," Ferbrache said of guide dogs. "You have to be firm. You have to praise them up plenty when they do something good and correct them when they do something they shouldn't do."

Dog Businesslike

Showing humor which he evidenced several times during the conversation, he said: "She's just an ordinary dog with a college education."

Suda, an Arabic word meaning sweetheart in English, was trained to respond to 13 words, among which are "Let's go" "Stay;" "Fetch;" "Steady;" "Heel;" "Left;" 'Right;" "Forward," and "Hop Up."

She's extremely business-like when on her job and that means she's not supposed to be petted by passersby. When she's not working, she likes to run in and out of the house and be petted just like any dog, said Ferbrache.

BLIND VETERAN GETS GUIDE DOG—Suda, guide dog, became acquainted with his master, Ralph Ferbrache, less than a month ago but has learned to obey when the blind veteran says one of the 13 words the dog knows. In the photograph, are, left to right, Miss Lula Mae Cravens, chairman of volunteer services of the Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross, Ferbrache and John T. Howell, training specialist for the blinded in the regional office of the Veterans administration. The photograph was made at the Howell home at 2615 Twenty-seventh. (Staff Photo).

Howell, who is training specialist for the blinded in the regional office of the Veterans administration, said that Ferbrache "is one of the best adjusted blinded veterans in this region." Moreover, he added, Ferbrache accomplished much of his adjustment to blindness without official assistance.

Ferbrache left service in 1943 before the Army had set up adjustment centers for the blinded.

Training Restricted

Ferbrache had been in service only a few months when he developed an eye infection and his eyesight started to fail at a camp in Arizona, said Howell. After Ferbrache's discharge, his eyesight kept failing and finally an operation was performed, and he was given plastic eyeballs, extremely natural appearing.

Since his discharge he has gone to school two years, at Los Angeles City college and at Long Beach City college. He is an orphan.

He may remain in Wichita for employment or he may return to Los Angeles.

Few blinded veterans use guide dogs, said Howell. He said veterans are not encouraged to apply for guide dogs unless in a situation permitting proper use of one. A guide dog, for instance, might be of little benefit on a farm, since their training is restricted to sidewalks.

Adjustment Required

Ferbrache had received an electric razor, typewriter, Braille typewriter, radio and a recording machine through the Veterans administration prior to receiving the dog.

His application for the dog was made June 1 at the regional Veterans administration office, then was processed through the branch office at Dallas and later sent to the central office in Washington. He received notice in August to go to the Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., school in San Francisco. The Veterans administration paid expenses for the trip.

There, he entered a four weeks' training period during which he became acquainted with Suda and learned how to direct her and what she had been trained to do.

Puppies Tested

Dogs are furnished to veterans and civilians alike for no charge, said Ferbrache. The program is financed by donations. The largest amount, he said, comes from $5 and $10 donations rather than larger amounts.

Some persons make their donations by keeping a puppy taken from the school when eight weeks old until it is returned for training when 10 months old. Tests are given to puppies when they are six to eight weeks old to determine whether they are shy or timid. When the dogs are returned, they are trained in obedience to various commands.

Ferbrache arrived in Lubbock at 4 a. m. Monday. Indicating his high spirits, he said, "If I were in California, they'd call me a native already." He had lunch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howell.

Socialite And Future Bride Awaiting Action On Divorce

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Sept. 14. (AP)—Socialite Francis Hitchcock and Stephany Saja, the Pennsylvania coal miner's daughter he plans to marry, held their plans in abeyance today as they awaited the action of a circuit court judge at West Palm Beach.

Judge E. C. Chillingworth set for today a hearing on the final decree that would divorce Hitchcock from his second wife, former model Marie Grammer. Hitchcock is the 39-year-old brother of the late polo star Tommy Hitchcock.

Judge Makes Comment

"The court cannot indicate what disposition of the case will be made," Judge Chillingworth said yesterday. He then commented: "When a man signs a marriage license, doesn't he have to swear he is single?"

Hitchcock and the tall, blond Miss Saja applied for their wedding license about three weeks ago from Flagler County Judge E. W. Johnston at Bunnell. Hitchcock at the time said he was divorced, Judge Johnston declared.

License Will Be Legal

Although the decree was not then final, the marriage license will be legal, Judge Johnston said, if the divorce action is completed and the wedding takes place within the 30 days before the license expires.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Mother Is Worried Over Her Young Daughter's Attachment To Unkind And Wayward Youth

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: One of my many problems concerns my daughter Ruth, 17, who recently graduated from high school. She seems slavishly attached to Roger, a boy about her age, who drinks and plays cards for money, dislikes going to school, stays out late at night and causes his parents lots of worry.

Ignoring my advice she went steadily with Roger during her senior year, despite the fact that he kept her on tenterhooks with his highhanded attitude.

One day they would be on the best of terms, the next day or so he would decide that he didn't care to "go steady," and a few days later he would be courting her again; and then again he would decide that he didn't want her.

GIRL HAS BECOME HOSTILE TO MOTHER

HE would telephone her, make a date and then fail to appear. Other times he would break dates at the last minute, calling to say that he wouldn't be over because he didn't feel like getting "dressed up." He was always making smartaleck remarks and hurting her feelings and getting "mad," as he called it, over little things.

During commencement week he broke two dates with Ruth, one for the class dance and another for the night following commencement. At that, my sons and I absolutely forbade her to make another date with him. (I have two sons, ages 21 and 23.)

Recently Roger has been talking to Ruth and trying to cajole her into having sneak-dates with him. She wants to date him and tells me she is very unhappy. She has assumed a very unfriendly attitude towards me and goes about with a long sober face. Your discussion of the situation might be helpful, so please advise us.

Signed: V. S.

IS RIGHTEOUS REPROACH FULLY JUSTIFIED HERE.

DEAR V. S.: You cite Ruth's slavish attachment to the wayward Roger as one of your "many problems," which suggests that you regard life as a maelstrom of grievous difficulties, and probably mourn each new trial as the last straw, instead of treating it quietly as a challenge todevelop more resourcefulness or adaptability.

Since you have two sons older than Ruth, doubtless she is your least-favored child (if the innermost truth of your feelings were told), and perhaps has often borne the brunt of your ill-humor with life. If so, she would be conditioned to accept Roger's capricious treatment as her natural portion; hence moralizing about the destructive caliber of her longsuffering isn't going to help matters.

Both youngsters are emotionally maladjusted, quite apart from their fitful liaison, a wretched romance which simply proves the psychiatric axiom that neurotic personalities have an affinity for each other.

Each in his own right sorely needs sympathetic intelligent attentive guidance, indirectly supplied by parents who have the good sense and warmth of heart to give them a valid concept of their real value as individuals, without wearing blinders to their limitations; and who encourage them (mostly by inspiriting example) to believe that life is an eminently worth-while experience, if not a perennial picnic.

PARENTS SEEM BLIND TO BASIC DIFFICULTY

FOR INSTANCE, Roger's dislike of school and his precocious defeatist use of drink might be linked to an undiagnosed "reading disability" that has hampered him all through school, sabotaging his self-confidence and causing him finally to shun, and in fact defiantly reject, competitive situations where book-knowledge counts. Keen educators are beginning to uncover a tragic incidence of delinquent behavior thus incited; and remedial tutoring, given in time, often works wonders in such case. But have Roger's parents explored that angle?

Now, briefly back to Ruth. By what authority do her brothers "absolutely forbid" her to see Roger? Here is another hint that she isn't granted equality-rating with them, who feel warranted in talking down to her as to a nincompoop without intrinsic dignity or fine sensibilities. This is the crux of her difficulty, probably; the spot where you've most failed her; the reason why she has no pride or backbone in dealing with a lover.

All of you need first-hand psychological counsel; but in the meantime, here's my emergency advice to Ruth: While Roger drinks he is a menace as a heart-interest. A girl is sentencing herself to purgatory who fosters the habit of caring for or counting on him. His wayward personality may be more his misfortune than his fault, but it marks him a damaging associate; so in self-defense, don't connive with him to resume courtship. M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

THE CROSSLEY POLL

Even If Everyone Cast Vote, Best HST Can Expect Is Tie

By ARCHIBALD M. CROSSLEY
Director, The Crossley Poll

If every potential voter in the United States should cast a ballot on Election Day—which is statistically impossible — the likely chances for Truman's election would only be about even. These are the poll figures for choices by all adult citizens:

Truman	39%
Dewey	39%
Others	7%
Undecided	15%

These figures were obtained from a careful cross-section of all types of American citizens of voting age, regardless of sex, income level, color, where they live and whether they intend to vote. Some of the 94 millions potential voters represented cannot vote temporarily because they have not lived long enough in their present location. Some reside in Washington, D. C., where residents do not vote. Some have not paid a poll tax. Millions of them normally just will not take the trouble to register and vote.

Out of these 94 million potential voters, the best current estimate is that 56 millions will vote and 38 millions will not. In general, the greater the vote, the greater the Democratic chances. With this fact in mind, the President recently has appealed for a large turnout.

City Situation Reversed

The poll results would indicate that the Democrats, to win reelection of President Truman, cannot rely solely upon getting out the vote. Their chances for success on November 2nd depend upon either (a) their ability to switch favor from other candidates, or (b) the failure of Republicans and others to vote.

In recent elections, the greatest opportunity for bringing out masses of Democratic voters has been in the big cities. Today, that situation is entirely different. Across the United States the cities of over 50,000 population and their surrounding metropolitan districts would furnish no better than a tie vote if by some possibility every adult citizen voted.

The younger voters are generally more Democratic, and the older voters more Republican. The same is true for citizens of voting age, but today the Democratic margin among younger citizens is not very great.

More Women Undecided

Traditionally also the upper living standards levels are the more Republican and the lower living standard levels the more Democratic. Among all adult citizens in the latter group, Truman would still find 44 supporters of him for every 31 supporters of Dewey. Among Union members, his lead would still be substantial, particularly members of the CIO, where his ratio to Dewey would be better than 2 to 1.

In general, the choice of Progressive, States Rights and other parties as a group is stronger among the younger citizens. There are more women undecided then men, more of the lower income group than of the upper group.

The following tabe shows comparative percentage standings by segments of the total adult citizen popuation (both voters and non-voters):

	Truman	Dewey	Others	Undecided

Westerners Climb From Tenth To Fourth In Grid Ratings

It's "Now Or Never" For The Hubs As Gold Sox Lead, 3-2

AMARILLO, Sept. 14. (Special)—The Lubbock Hubbers, fighting to remain in the Shaughnessy playoffs against the Amarillo Gold Sox, and one down again after a 9-1 licking last night, will take the field tonight as underdogs.

The Hubbers, playing in an unfriendly park where they already have lost two games this series, must win two games in a row to cop the playoffs. To do that, they must beat Jack Shumacher tonight and Jim Heller tomorrow night, providing they win the first game.

Clodfelter Gets Nod

Manager Jackie Sullivan, far from discouraged, is sending Bob Clodfelter to the mound tonight. This will be Clodfelter's first appearance in the series, but he holds several victories over the Sox this year and, if his arm is in shape, might turn the trick. If he wins, Sullivan might start Roland Miller or Chris Haskins in the seventh game.

But the first task facing the Hubbers is winning tonight and they are determined to get revenge for their treatment last night, when Joe Budny held them in complete control for nine innings.

Budny turned in another magnificent job in holding the Hubbers to one run and four hits during the game and was in trouble only in the seventh, when he gave up his only two walks of the contest. He fanned six men and gave up hits only one to an inning.

One To Go Higher

The Cheektowaga, N. Y., hurler, destined to climb higher in baseball circles next year, hurled an even more effective game than his first victory. He allowed the same number of hits, but gave up a two-run homer to Don Moore that time. Last night he gave up only a double, to Floyd Walker, who was thrown out trying to stretch it. He walked one less man and he fanned three more.

Roy Larue, Royce Mills and Cotton Russell, meanwhile, weren't having such an easy time of it, although two of the first four Gold Sox runs were tainted. It was the near collapse of Hubber fielding that was as disastrous as anything, along with the fact that Larue wasn't getting the best of the officiating.

Ground Balls Booted

Frank McAlexander and Jackie Wilcox both booted ground balls that should have been easy double plays, while Larue got himself in trouble in the third inning with a bad throw to first that set up a run.

Of course, when you look at the type of hurling Budny was showing last night, there isn't much the other team can do but play out the game and wait for the next night. That's what the Hubbers did and they're hoping that Schumacher has a bad cold, breaks an arm or just doesn't have his stuff tonight. If they can hit him early—and hard—tonight it could well be a seven-game series.

Pretty Betty Mims White Is Medalist

Women's Amateur Golf Title At Stake; 64 Starting Play

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Sept. 14 (AP)—Sixty-four fair ones set out today in the first round of match play to decide the Women's Amateur golf championship of the United States, but one of the fairest and best of the field watched the conflict from the sidelines.

With such strong candidates as medalist Betty Mims White, Dorothy Kirby and Polly Riley leading the march toward the throne vacated by the 1947 queen, Louise Suggs, pretty Dorothy Kielty of Long Beach, Calif., the ranking threat, bumped into an unbending rule of the United States Golf association and found herself bounced out of the tournament.

She Is Disqualified

Winner of the recent Western Amateur crown over this same field of the finest in the nation, and California's reigning state champion, Miss Kielty was disqualified after yesterday's round.

She thought she had an eight on the 18th hole, but discovered, quite some time after her card had been turned in and accredited, that she had shot a nine on the woeful, ocean bordering hole for a medal score of 83 instead of 82.

The total actually didn't matter, because Dallas' eye-catching Betty Mims White already had sewed up medalist honors with a one over par 77, and anyone with 93 strokes and under qualified for today's match play.

Rule Is Automatic

But the USGA rule is automatic—and it has often been applied. A wrong score accidently, unintentional or otherwise, invokes the ax.

It was a bitter blow and after volunteering the correction to Executive Secretary Joseph C. Dey of the USGA and receiving the sad news, Dorothy shed a few feminine tears and then decided to stick around and root her friend, Dot Kirby, in to the title that Miss Kirby almost won in her duel at Detroit last year with Miss Suggs.

Westerners On Defense Work

Head Mentor C. R. (Pat) Pattison sent his Lubbock High Westerner gridders through a lengthy drill session Monday afternoon at Chapman field, stressing defensive work in preparation for the Friday night non-conference encounter with the heavyweight San Angelo Bobcats from District 3-AA.

Although Lubbock fans were well-pleased by the Westerners' surprise 7-7 deadlock with Odessa's potent Broncos last week, Coach Pattison was not satisfied with the defensive showing of the local schoolboys "We'll have to get some of the daylight out of our pass defense," Pattison remarked Monday. "Those San Angelo boys are supposed to have a good passer and a couple of good receivers."

Cats Have Strong Squad

End Coach Fred Taylor, who scouted the Bobcats last week in their tussle with Denison, warned the Westerners that the Bobcats have a much stronger team than their 25-6 defeat by the Yellowjackets indicated. Denison scored early on the inexperienced 'Cats, Taylor said, but the San Angeloans staged a comeback in the last half and just missed scoring another touchdown.

Bobby Clatterbuck, the quarterback on the Bobcats' potent "T" formation attack, is reportedly a brilliant long passer and the spark of the San Angelo eleven. He is aided in the backfield by speedy left half Cliff Rowland and hard-driving fullback Pat Hall. Walter Schleyer, center and linebacker, is rated as one of the top grid performers in 3-AA.

Coach Pattison reported that pass defense drills will continue through the next three workouts before the Bobcat tussle, with some contact work slated at the sessions this afternoon and Wednesday. The drills this week are closed to the public, officials warned, and observers will not be allowed at the field.

E. J. Lowrey, athletic department business manager, announced that tickets for the San Angelo tilt will be on sale at his senior high school office all this week. Lowrey also emphasized that all Lubbock school children must obtain their ducats through their local school officials. No student tickets will be sold at the stadium Friday night.

Lowrey said that, for the information of fans who are not familiar with the seating arrangement at the new Jones Stadium, tickets for reserved seats in the west stands wil be sold from ticket windows under the west stands Friday night. The west stands parking area can be reached either by the new hard-surfaced road one block west of the Tech gymnasium, or by the unsurfaced extension of Fourth Street just north of the new stadium. End zone tickets should be purchased at the booths at the north end of the field.

Southwest Conference Teams Drilling For Opening Clashes

(By The Associated Press)

Long, rough scrimmages appear the rule for Southwest conference teams as four—Texas, Texas Christian, Texas A. and M. and Arkansas—ready for opening games this week.

Yesterday, Texas found itself in sound condition for its opener with Louisiana State university at Austin.

Blair Cherry had the Longhorns sharpening their passing attack in a long drill.

SMU In Scrimmage

Matty Bell ran his Southern Methodist university reserves through a tough scrimmage.

Tackle Buddy King, fullback Bill Richards and blocking back James Marion nursed minor injuries.

Texas Christian has three backs that may be below par physically in the opener with the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kan., Saturday.

Jack Archer, wingback, tailback Dexter Bassinger and fullback Gene Reed are on the doubtful list.

The Horned Frogs polished their play yesterday.

Texas A. and M. worked on offense and defense as the Villanova game loomed

Only One Injury

Only one injury was reported on the Aggie squad. Dick Callender is favoring an injured ankle.

The Aggies lost Clovis Olsak, transfer fullback from San Angelo Junior college, when he was ruled ineligible

Baylor went through a rough scrimmage under game conditions and Coach Bob Woodruff said blocking was ragged.

Tyler, Longview In Playoff Series Tie

(By The Associated Press)

A two-run homer by Oscar Williams in the seventh inning sent the Tyler Trojans off to a 10-8 victory over Longview last night and evened the Lone Star league Shaughnessy playoff series at two games each.

Kilgore and Henderson were rained out. Henderson leads this series, 2-1.

Longview jumped in an early lead but the Trojans whittled the margin away with a total of 17 hits off three pitchers. Tyler used four hurlers.

The fifth game of the seven game series will be played tonight at Tyler.

MATHIAS IS HONORED

Light Drill Conducted Monday

Strenuous Session Expected On Red Raider Agenda Today

Only a skull session and a light practice drill were on the Texas Tech football agenda yesterday, but the Red Raiders were expected to see a strenuous session this afternoon.

Coach Dell Morgan called the players together Monday morning to go over offensive and defensive tactics to be used against West Texas State Teacher college here Saturday night. Then allowed the players an easy afternoon session, stressing offensive and defensive assignments.

Tough Scrimmage Held

The Raiders had a rough, tough two and a half hour scrimmage Saturday against the Abilene Christian squad that this week will meet Arkansas. The scrimmage brought forth several Raider faults and these will be corrected this week.

The Buffaloes figure to give Tech one of the stiffest opening games in a long time. They turned in an easy 28-0 victory over Flagstaff Saturday night in Canyon in which the first string players were in the game for only seven or eight minutes. Most of the work was done by second and third string men and observers termed the Buff squad "remarkable" at this stage of the season.

Coach Frank Kimbrough has 10 of last year's starting eleven back and he has good replacements, although he is weak in depth. He is priming the squad for Tech and the game promises to be one of the best openers Tech has had at home in many years.

Many football followers in Lubbock would not be surprised if the Buffalo eleven beat the Raiders Saturday. They have a fast, heavy line that is experienced and their backfield also is intact. The Buffs have a smart quarterback in Cloyce Box, their 197-pound star, and a rough, bruising fullback in 190-pound Lloyd Johnson.

Kitchens Fast Wingman

Charley Kitchens at right end is a 185-pound wingman who is fast and an able pass receiver. Pete Bromley at right guard and Homer Garrett at center, 195 and 190 pounds respectively, are two of the best linemen in the state and are being boomed for All-Conference.

The Buffs feature Boyd Williams as their main punter and he boots a long ball. Box, Junior Molton and Ray Moore do the Buffalo passing, which is an important part of the West Texas offense.

Everyone knows that the Buffaloes would rather beat Tech than any other team on the schedule and, with one game's experience, the visitors Saturday night will be extra tough to beat. Tech practice this week will stress perfection of the so far ragged offense, as well as a defense against Coach Kimbrough's use of the T formation.

Texas Loop Playoffs Will Start Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas league's Shaughnessy playoff gets under way tonight with Shreveport at Fort Worth and Houston at Tulsa.

Fort Worth, which won the regular season title but dropped eight of its last nine games, will have Willard Ramsdell on the mound tonight.

Shreveport Manager Salty Parker plans to start Howard Auman.

The strong Tulsa Oilers, who finished second in the regular race, will open behind the fireball pitching of Bud Lively.

Houston Manager Johnny Keane is expected to counter with his speedball ace, Cloyd Boyer.

Shreveport finished fast to nose out San Antonio for fourth place on the final day of the season.

Polo Grounds Now Is Becoming Graveyard For Pennant Hopes

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The historic Polo Grounds is fast gaining a reputation as the graveyard of pennant hopes.

Burt Shotton brought his Brooklyn Dodgers into the lair of the New York Giants over the weekend for a four-game series and left the cigar box with only one victory.

The high-flying Pittsburgh Pirates showed up last night boasting a seven game winning streak and Lippy Leo Durocher's fence busters cooled them off, 5-2.

Giants Stick In Race

By knocking off the pursuers of the front-running Boston Braves, the Giants themselves are sticking very much in the running for the National league flag.

Last night's triumph boosted the Giants into a fourth place tie with the idle St. Louis Cardinals, five and one half games behind the Braves. The Giants and Cards are only .0005 of a percentage point behind the third place Dodgers, who also trail the Braves by 5½ games.

Brooklyn wrested third place from the Cards by dumping the Chicago Cubs, 6-4.

Only one game was played in the American league, the St. Louis Browns upsetting the third place Indians, 3-2 at Cleveland.

The loss left the Tribe three full games behind the first place Boston Red Sox.

Bowen Gets Homer As Dukes Win 6-0

(By The Associated Press)

Albuquerque jumped back into the running in its series with Pampa last night in the West Texas-New Mexico league Shaughnessy playoffs, defeating the Oilers 6-0. Pampa now leads, three games to two.

Ron Bowen's grand slam home run in the seventh inning sewed up the game for Albuquerque, but Les Mulcahy chipped in a circuit clout for good measure in the eighth.

The teams will play in Albuquerque tonight.

Texas Longhorns Expect To Set Grid Attendance Record

Cherry Boasts Power Aplenty

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor

AUSTIN, Sept. 14—The University of Texas expects to play football before 440,000 fans this season with 255,000 of them at home. It will be a new attendance record both for Texas and the Southwest conference. And Texas appears to have the team to justify such a turnout.

It boasts speed, experience and versatility. It will have top punting and passing. It will show one of the finest lines in the country. Here they think the forward wall will be the greatest in Texas football history.

Team Has "Know How"

Coach Blair Cherry says his team will have more "know how" and he thinks young Paul Campbell will step into the quarterback spot vacated by Bobby Layne without loss of strength. In view of the fact that Layne set some passing records and was considered a truly great quarterback, this puts great responsibility upon a youngster who didn't get to play enough last year to earn a letter because of Layne's presence.

Cherry, however, adds that Campbell could have been used more. "Layne was the big star and the team had confidence in him," Cherry explains. "The crowd came out to seem him. There was no need to use Campbell."

Stronger on Defense

Defensively, Texas should be much stronger, says Cherry who has shifted Dick Harris, former all-conference center and last year All-American at tackle, back to the pivot post. In this way he will be able to use the line-backing talents of both Harris and Dick Rowan, the .947 regular center. He plans to have both in the line-up on defense.

Texas isn't deep in lettermen at some positions but on the roster are 31 players who have lettered or been on the squad. Quite a few of the squadmen would have been regulars had it not been for the presence of so many stars last season.

There are 21 lettermen, counting three who earned their numerals in years prior to 1947. There is only one letterman back at left tackle and one at left guard but at all other positions there are two and three.

"Find" of the Season

The "find" of the season may be Billy Allen, a sophomore who played high school football at Waxahachie with little notice. Allen is the quarterback just back of Campbell and bears promise of equalling or bettering Campbell in passing. Bobby Coy Lee, defensive stalwart, is the third quarterback in Cherry's T formation. Lee, who lettered in 1943 but has been handicapped by injuries in recent seasons, gives Texas three capable passers.

Byron Gillory, a fine runner and talented pass-receiver, returns for his fourth varsity season at left halfback and Billye Pyle, expert safety man and a top runner, will fill the spot at right halfback vacated when Jimmie Canady graduated. The fullback will be Tom Landry, a great defensive player and line-rammer who also will do some playing at quarterback.

Frank Guess, one of the best punters in the country, and Perry Samuels, a spot runner, will back up Gillory. Randall Clay, letterman last year and called a greatly improved player this season by Cherry, and H. J. Shands, also a letterman, will work with Pyle. Ray Borneman and Wilton Ferrell, 1947 squadmen, are fullbacks behind Landry. "Borneman," says Cherry, "is improved 100 per cent."

Texas has five lettermen back at end, making this position the best manned of all. Dale Schwartzkopf, George McCall and Peppy Blount will work at one terminal with Lew Holder and Jimmie Watson at the other. Watson was a letterman in 1944. Ray Stone, transfer from Kilgore Junior college, and Ben Procter, 1947 squadman, are other capable ends. Procter, one of the speediest men on the team, is a fine pass-receiver.

All-Amrican Calibr

George Petrovich, labeled of All-America caliber by Cherry, is the left tackle starter and Ed Kelley, two-year letterman, is the top man at right tackle. Backing Kelly are two lettermen—Charley Tatom, called the fastest lineman in America, and Ken Jackson, a sophomore. Working with Petrovich are Eugene Vykukal, a big sophomore, and Alfred Miller, who was a center in high school.

Vic Fasicek will start at left guard and Errol Fry will be No. 1 at the other guard post. Bud McFadin, the giant from Iraan who line coach Ed Price says is potentially one of the finest linemen he has seen, will spell Vasicek as will Elmer Daffer, a junior college transfer. Fry will have the help of letterman Danny Wolfe and Alvin Myers, sophomore from Wharton.

Sam Callan, who lettered as a guard in 1945, is due to see service at center back of Harris and Rowan.

Attendance In 1948 Boosted

ABILENE, Sept. 14 (AP) — The lusty Longhorn League drew 335,219 paid attendance this year, an increase of more than 100,000 over 1947, President Howard Green announced today.

Last season six clubs drew 220,632. This year there were eight.

"The future of the league looks bright," Green said. "In Del Rio, San Angelo and Sweetwater there is considerable discussion for the construction of new parks. In fact, Del Rio and Sweetwater will have to build new places or give up their franchises as the present are not adequate."

By clubs home attendances this season were: Ballinger 34,413, Big Spring 59,503, Del Rio 13,425, Midland 51,865, Odessa 61,193, San Angelo 29,145, Sweetwater 35,425, Vernon 50,250.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

AMARILLO—The Hubbers are convinced that they had the misfortune to run into Joe Budny on two nights when he was an extremely hot young man. And if the Shaughnessy playoffs between the Gold Sox and the Hubbers end tonight, as everyone in Amarillo believes, Bob Seeds and Buck Fausett can express a lot of thanks to the hefty Cheektowaga, N. Y., pitcher.

• • •

There's no question that Budny hurled a beautiful game last night. He fac d only 29 batters officially and his team supported him with errorless ball. Last Thursday night, we were told, he used only six curve balls throughout the game, the first time this year he depended solely on his blinding speed. Last night he mixed his curves and that same speed, baffling most of the Hubbers. He only fanned six, one of which was on a questionable decision by Plate Umpire Frank Secory, who turned in an unusually poor job for the usually good arbiter

• • •

And the Gold Sox were hitting, not hard, but regularly and it told. They were the benefactors on several gift runs when the usually reliable Hubber fielding went sour. The Hubbers, to make matters worse, weren't hitting and the combination of good pitching, poor fielding and opposition hitting was too much. Tonight, however, they have another chance and they intend to make the most of it. They believe they can get Jack Schumacher, tie up the series and go on to win. And if Bob Clodfelter is right, they could win. After that it might be Chris Haskins, Roland Miller, Red Ramsey or Fred Pollock against Jim Heller.

• • •

Incidentally, Haskins has proven to be as valuable a chattel as the Hubbers own in this series. He has gotten a pair of timely hits and he's the only Hubber who has won on the mound. Of course Miller deserves a definite assist in the Sunday win. He hurled four and two-thirds innings of runless ball until his arm, which is more painful than anyone realizes, forced him out of the game. Miller is a competitive player. He begged for a chance to start, but his arm caused him agony and finally became so bad he coudn't go on. And when he stepped down, Haskins stepped in. He merely shut the Sox out for three innings, fanning Bob Crues and Dick Gentzkow in the seventh to end the inning, after a man had reached second.

• • •

If the Hubbers win tonight, look for a capacity crowd Wednesday night to see what may well be the greatest game of the series, with anything liable to happen, any number of pitchers thrown in and a lot of hitting. Neither mound staff is deep in A-1 hurlers and the two clubs are about evenly matched in club hitting. It should be a great finale, if only we can get by the Sox on their home grounds tonight.

• • •

We were guests Sunday night at a get together for Texas Tech coaches and their wives, and squad members and their wives or girls. Arch Lamb supplied unlimited ice cream, pecans and fruit and everyone had a good time. It was informal, helping to get the players together with the coaches for a pleasant time without the usual official status. It was a good idea and, from the way the varsity ate ice cream, it was fine gesture. If they can play as well as they eat, look out for the Red Raiders!

• • •

Coming after Saturday's scrimmage, the party was just the thing. The boys had a chance to relax and talk with the coaches about mistakes. They also had a chance to learn about West Texas from two members of the staff, who were in Canyon. From what they reported, Tech is in for a rough time Saturday night. The Raiders didn't look too impressive against ACC, even though the backs looked pretty good and almost ready to go.

• • •

Tech's line appears to be its Achilles Heel. The tackles are fair, the ends are fair, the guards are fair, the centers are fair, but they need something that is good. If the present job holders develope, Tech will have a good line and a good many troubles will be solved. It will take a lot of game conditioning to get the reserve men ready and much of the burden of the first games will fall to experienced personnel. By the time conference games roll around, possibly the understudies now will be ready. Until they are, Tech's forward wall leaves much to be desired.

• • •

At the same time, the backs failed Saturday to make the most of their ability. If they learn that they can hurt someone by running, rather than doing toe dances in one spot, look out for the Tech backfield. Saturday there was too much of a tendency to take mincing steps, instead of running toward the ACC goal. After all, the point of football is to score touchdowns and even the neatest Sally Rand in football clothes can't get there by shimmying in one spot. There's no question that the backs are further developed than the linemen, so that much of the work will fall on them.

• • •

All things considered, Tech should be a team that starts slowly and builds up with each succeeding week. There'll be a lot of surprises in store for the opposition, but Tech also will hand out its share. Don't underestimate Coach Morgan and the Raiders.

Lubbock Nine Beats Boston

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 14 (Special)—Lubbock's Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers chalked up an impressive 4-1 triumph over the Boston, Mass., nine in the second round of the National Softball Congress tourney here last night behind the three-hit hurling of Warren (Stringbean) Pope and the timely slugging of Willis James and Ray Butler.

The Boston crew jumped into the lead in the bottom of the first inning, when Pope walked two batters and gave up a single to the Boston twirler, Joe Faulk. But the Sunbeamers regained the lead in the top of the sixth with a three-run offensive.

Abbott Leads Off

James Abbott led off in the sixth with a walk and, after Pope and Roy Butler flied out, James connected for a single. G. W. Warden watched a fourth ball go by to fill the bases, then Faulk tied the count by walking Jimmy Reigor.

With the bases full, Ray Butler smashed out a ringing double to push two runners across the plate and give the Bluebonnet representatives a 3-1 margin. Wally Fowler scored in the seventh, knocking a triple and coming in on an outfield fly.

Pope was superb after he recovered from his early inning wildness. The lanky chunker, who pitched for Odessa in the Texas Softball loop this summer, gave up only three scattered hits while striking out 11.

The Sunbeamers will tangle with the Toronto, Canada, nine at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the third round of the double-elimination tournament. G. W. Warden is slated to hurl for the Texans.

The linesscore:

Sunbeamers	000 003 1—4	6	0
Boston	100 000 0—1	3	0

Pope and James; Faulk and Andlike.

One Killed In Dawson Crash

LAMESA, Sept. 14 (Special)—A Fort Worth man was killed; two persons were seriously injured and several others temporarily hospitalized as result of a car-truck collision near Ackerly, 20 miles south of Lamasa, about 10:45 o'clock Monday morning.

Dead is Joseph William Hammack, 25, of 400 Hammond St. Fort Worth, an employe of the Hughes Engineering company of that city.

John Dorsey Linder, 24, of Dallas, Hammack's companion in a late-model two-door sedan in which the two men were en route to Lamesa, is in a local hospital in a critical condition. His injuries include a brain concussion, possible skull fracture, multiple rib fractures and lung hemorrhage.

Woman Seriously Hurt

Also hospitalized and in a "serious condition" is Mrs. Ascencion Rodriguez, 52, of Taft, one of the occupants of the bob-tailed truck which was bringing a load of cotton-pickers to the area.

Several other persons were brought to local hospitals by ambulances and passing motorists, but were released after treatment for minor injuries.

The driver of the truck was Esteban Rodriguez, 31, of Taft, and riding in it was the family of Natividad H. Carrera of Victoria About 10 Latin-Americans were riding in the vehicle, according to J. C. Welch and E. B. McKnight, highway patrolmen who investigated the accident.

Torches Used On Car

The patrolmen said the wreck apparently occurred as the car driven by Hammack attempted to pass the truck as Rodriguez started to make a left turn off the main highway toward Ackerly. Thinking he couldn't pass, Hammack apparently swerved back and his car rammed into the rear of the truck. Both vehicles were going north on the Big Spring-Lubbock highway.

Patrolman Welch said the car was completely demolished and that the truck, which flipped over on its bed, was heavily damaged.

Blow torches were used to cut open the car so that the body of Hammack, who died instantly could be removed, Welch said. Hammack's body was brought to the Higginbotham Funeral home here. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Texas Demos

spoke for the Democrats of that county. It carried in labor boxes, he declared.

"The action of the county convention was sustained by the referendum," Lee said. He was referring to postponement of action on a pledge resolution at the county meeting "before it was organized."

Decide In Convention

"We maintain that the Democrats of Texas can decide in convention what they want to do," he said. "Sustain our delegation in order that the Democrats of Harris county not be disfranchised."

Joe Hill of Austin, a big wheel in the States' Rights fight, came to the mike.

"Regardless of the action of this convention, that by product of the wicked Pendergast machine of Kansas City will not get the electoral vote of Texas," he rumbled.

"The issue in this campaign is whether or not you are going to destroy your constitution and way of life. The Philadelphia convention spat in the face of the Democrats of the South.

"They want to mongrelize the South with the FEPC."

Hill exchanged wisecracks with hecklers. There was scattered booing and applause, well mixed.

Runs Into Difficulty

"You haven't got a candidate and you haven't got a platform you have the guts to stand up and endorse." Hill said after Calvert got order following the outburst of boos.

Hill ran into increasing difficulty making himself heard.

"I know you don't want to hear it," he shouted. "But you don't want to know the truth."

Roy Baker of Sherman arose from his seat on the front row and demanded that the chair enforce the 10 minute limit on speakers. Baker is president of the Young Democratic clubs of America.

Nowlin Randolph of Harris county was the next speaker against the motion to amend the committee report barring the anti-Truman delegates.

"You cannot be in favor of Harry Truman and be opposed to his program of so-called civil rights,' Randolph said.

Others May Walk Out

Milner, head of the Harris county delegation told this correspondent "if we get thrown out, I expect other States' Rights delegations to walk out with us. We will hold a meeting somewhere in Fort Worth today, but it will not be a separate convention."

(States Rights Democrats in Texas have already formed their own party).

Tom Tyson of Corsicana closed in behalf of the Skelton amendment.

"This meeting is an assemblage of Democrats, by Democrats and for Democrats," Tyson said.

"The States' Righters convention was held in Dallas last week. The Democrats stayed away and let them run their show.

"Harry S. Truman is the one and only Democratic nominee for president.

"Both my grandfathers were Confederate soldiers. But my grandpappies came home and told us the truth—they told us they lost the war."

Milk-fed vegetables can be expected presently to join milk-fed chicken on our tables. Scientists have markedly increased the yield of tomatoes and onions by adding buttermilk and skim milk to the soil.

The fire path into Ojai was checked by bulldozers, which rammed into residences already ablaze and carried them away from other homes.

Nearly 1000 men, directed by helicopter scouts, remained on the fire line, which extended roughly over a 10-mile front.

Ojai valley, some 90 miles northwest of Los Angeles, is mostly foothill timber land, but contains some citrus and apricot groves. The Ojai country club is largely backed by Hollywood personalities including Irene Dunne.

Ojai—the name is Indian for "nest"—has maintained its rural aspects, with billboards, hotdog stands and the like strictly banned. The late Krishnamurti and his disciples founded a Theosophist castle in the quiet valley years ago.

Service Enlistments Put On Quota Basis

Due to rush of enlistments after the draft bill became law, Navy enlistments have been placed on a quota basis and as result the Navy recruiting substation in the federal building has set up a waiting list, it was announced from the substation.

The Navy still needs men, and enlistments are by no means closed, it was stated, even though the Navy enlistment program is on a limited quota basis.

When a man makes application and has been completely processed, he is placed on the waiting list. "We call them in the order they were placed on the waiting list. How soon the man can go depends on how many we have on the list," it was stated.

Ex-Navy men who want to go back into service are the only applicants not placed on the waiting list.

Marine Corps Cuts Enlistment Quota

Because of the great number of enlistments in the regular Marine Corps during the months of July and August, the recruiting quotas for September have been slashed nearly in half; however, the reenlistment of ex-Marines is unlimited, local recruiting officials announced today.

The training facilities for new enlistees in the Corps are already overcrowded and by curtailing enlistments during September, it is hoped that this congestion will be relieved, officials said.

They also explained that with the present rate of enlistments forcing the quotas to drop, the Marine Corps does not anticipate the need of accepting draftees.

Model Airplane With New Fuel Disappears

A 1/5 h. p. model red high-wing monoplane with 6-foot wingspread that rose to 6,000 feet Sunday over Lubbock Army Air field, then disappeared without a trace, was sought unsuccessfully by a standard airplane Monday afternoon.

Bob Bryant and Cliff Cocanougher, both of Lubbock, owners of the plane, explained they were testing a new fuel at the time. They offered a "worthwhile" reward for recovery of the little speedester.

"The ship wouldn't be worth anything to anybody except us," said Bryant, who flew 180 miles Monday with Belverd Needles as his pilot in a circling search that extended to Levelland. The engine is diesel-powered. That means no spark plugs, no coil, no battery, no ignition wires. The plane has no other identification, the builders said.

Motorists Warned Of Peril In Getting Anti-Freeze For Cars

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. (U.P.)—This winter's motorist may have difficulty getting anti-freeze that will not harm his car, the National Automobile Dealers association reports.

The association issued a warning to automobile owners to start checking with anti-freeze dealers right away. It said the shortage of satisfactory anti-freeze products will in all "likelihood result in many deleterious compounds flooding the market."

"Preparations of this type can have a ruinous effect on cooling systems," the association noted.

The association said the anti-freezes made with a petroleum base are harmful to radiator hoses made from natural rubber. And, it added, natural rubber was used in a great majority of automobiles.

Salt base anti-freezes have a destructive effect, too, the statement said. "They will cause serious corrosion of the cylinder block, water pump, radiator, and especially of any aluminum parts such as cylinder heads."

Corrosion will stop the flow of water in the radiator, resulting in overheating and boiling. Since the solutions have "a great tendency to 'creep,' they may get into engine cylinders . . . and may completely ruin the engine."

Alcohol Advised

The association advised motorists to get anti-freeze of ethylene glycol or alcohol whenever possible. But ethylene glycol, the best base, is scarce There is not enough for all motorists.

Experience shows alcohol to be good also, the statement said. Four hundred Brooklyn buses used it "to advantage even in heavy duty service."

Motorists were warned to check the anti-freeze mixtures frequently. The statement cautioned motorists to change their anti-freeze at the first sign of rust, and to make certain the cooling system is thoroughly flushed before fresh anti-freeze is put in.

Service Of British Draftees Extended

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 14. (AP) — Britain today extended for three months the term of service of conscripts who were called up for the armed forces on or before Jan. 1, 1947. The step was taken because of the international situation, an announcement said.

A government announcement was read to occupation forces in the British zone of Germany. It said:

"It was our anticipation at the end of the war that by this time the post-war international difficulties would perhaps have been resolved. Unfortunately this expectation has not been realized. Our armed forces must be in the best possible form to fulfill the demands made upon them and these demands have materially increased during recent months."

500 Are Expected At Cotton Conference

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 14 (U.P.) —The National Cotton council's plans for holding its annual belt-wide mechanization conference at Lubbock, Texas, Oct. 14-16, were discussed here yesterday by Ransom E. Aldrich.

Aldrich, chairman of the council's production and marketing committee, and more than 500 representatives of the farm equipment industry, government agencies and the cotton industry were expected to attend the Lubbock conference.

Much of their time will be devoted to planning means for making adequate farm machinery for all parts of the cotton belt, he said.

The conference will be under sponsorship of the cotton council, in cooperation with the Texas agricultural experiment station, the Texas agricultural extension service, Texas statewide committee for cotton and the Plains Ginners association.

Aldrich said that mechanized cotton production offers the cotton farmer his greatest single opportunity to equalize his income with the earnings of farmers in other types of production.

Italian Colonies Problem Is Another Conflict With Soviet

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—This country and Russia peer at each other out of bloodshot eyes in a world grown gloomy.

Berlin? The Russians continue to needle and needle, hoping to get us out. We stand doggedly, refusing to go.

No solution is in sight. The problem may be heaved into the United Nations' general assembly when it meets in Paris September 21.

Meanwhile, another sore spot is turning an angry color: the Italian colonies. What to do with them?

That ulcerous problem, too, probably will be dumped on the U. N. in Paris. No one at this minute is predicting the outcome of that, either.

Britain Took Areas

But here is an ABC on the problem of the colonies since it's all part of the deepening conflict between this country and Russia.

Part of the bad beating Italy took in World War II was loss of her colonies in Africa. They were cornerstones in the empire the beefy Mussolini had kidded himself he was going to build some day.

Britain, which did a lot of her World War II fighting in Africa, got those colonies.

Just as the colonies were a vital part of the World War II battleground, so would they be in a third world war.

That's why it's of far-reaching importance who gets control of them.

The colonies taken by Britain were Libya in North Africa, Eritrea and Italian Somaliland on the east coast of Africa.

Since those colonies are important, one of the questions after the war was: who gets them for keeps?

That was one for the four big allies—U.S., Britain, France, and Russia—to work out in a general peace treaty for Italy.

Colonies Left Hanging

They worked out a peace treaty for Italy all right but they couldn't agree on the colonies.

The peace treatry was approved Sept. 15, 1947 and the Big Four said this:

If they couldn't reach an agreement on the colonies one year later—by Sept. 15, 1948—the problem would be left to the U.N. to solve.

For almost a solid year representatives of the Big Four met, talked and argued about the colonies. They met 50 times, the last time about two weeks ago. No solution.

One of the things they talked most about was a trusteeship for the colonies under the U.N.—which means this:

Italy or one of the Big Four would have possession of the colonies and run them with the U.N. watching to see that the job was done all right.

That's the meaning of a trusteeship: some one nation controls territory under the supervision of the U.N.

Russia Reversed Position

Eventually, although it may be many years, that territory would be given its independence but only when the U.N. decided it could run itself all right.

Russia wanted Libya for itself, under a U.N. trusteeship. With control of Libya, Russia could shut off from the whole eastern Mediterranean any nation with which it might go to war.

But then came April, with the Italian elections. Badly wanting the Italian Communists to win that election, Russia reversed herself and suggested this:

Let Italy have her colonies back under a U.N. trusteeship.

Some diplomats figured this was a move by Russia to gain friends for the Italian Communists among the Italian people.

But the other three of the Big Four didn't go along on the idea. At least not flatfootedly.

This nation so far has never publicly said what it wanted done with the colonies. Britain and France haven't been very clear, either.

But the deadline for settling the problem is tomorrow—September 15—for unless it's settled by that date, as explained above, it must go to the U.N. assembly which meets next Tuesday.

Representatives of the Big Four sat down together again yesterday to work out an answer—although no one seems to expect them to—before tomorrow's deadline.

Wealthy Iraq Jew Sentenced To Die

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Sept. 14 (AP)—One of Iraq's dealthiest merchants, Shafiq Ades, a Jew, is under sentence of death on charges that he helped the Jews in Palestine and organized Zionism in Iraq.

The military court which convicted him yesterday also fined him 5,000,000 dinars (about $20,000,000). The fine is to be collected at once. The death sentence is subject to approval of the king.

The court's verdict, reached after two months of investigation and a week of court sessions, said:

"The military court of the Basra area sentenced Shafio Ades to death by hanging, with a fine of 5,000,000 Iraqui dinars, which will be obtained from all his property, mobile and immobile, and paid to the Iraqui ministry of defense to compensate for losses of men and material suffered by the Iraqui army."

Ades was accused, among other things, of purchasing surplus British army material, particularly arms, and of shipping it to Palestine for use by the Jews. He also was accused of bribing agents in Iraq to create internal disturbances and promoted hatred against the government.

The payroll of the United States government exceeds $11,000,000 a day.

County Tax Rate Is 70 Cents

Hike In Budget Gets Approval

The Lubbock county tax rate was maintained at 70 cents the $100 of assessed valuation, by Monday afternoon's action of the county commissioners court.

The commissioners also approved the county budget for 1949—$719,491.65. That would be an increase of $104,826.28 over the year before. The county spent $558,-211.36 in 1947, when it was still impossible to get much supplies and equipment made scarce during war years.

Totals Are Given

The tax rate was thus broken down by County Auditor Joe Boyd, whose budget figures were adopted by the court:

General fund, .18; jury fund, .055; road and bridge fund, .15; library fund, .03; permanent improvement fund, .01; new courthouse sinking fund, .0075; new courthouse and jail sinking fund (1946), .11; courthouse and jail sinking fund (1948), .0675; permanent improvement sinking fund, .01; road bond sinking fund (1946), .065.

Boyd said the budget was based upon estimated valuations of $46,-500,000, an increase of $3,410,613 over last year. That increase is not comparable, however, with the 1947 valuations' increase of approximately) $7,000,000 over those of 1946, Boyd said.

Revenue Is Studied

Upon the estimated valuations, the 70-cent tax rate, Boyd estimated, would bring in approximately $292,900 (on the basis of 90 per cent collection). Additional collections of approximately $6,-050 would be made from delinquent taxes; and other revenues such as automobile registrations, fines, etc., would boost it another approximate $420,500, the auditor said.

The commissioners also accepted recommendations of S. C. McCarty, district highway engineer, for construction of 16.2 miles of farm to market roads, of which 12.2 miles would be from Idalou to Slaton, four miles from Shallowater southward. McCarty said in a letter to the court that the highway department has instructed him to prepare for a two-year farm to market program in this district. He said Congress had allocated funds of only 60 per cent of the amount it provided for the last three-year program.

The court also:

Approved payment of $1,410.96 for office equipment, machinery, machine parts and repairs and tires.

Resolved that the Board of County and District Road Bond Indebtedness be requested to send the balance of such fund on deposit with the board ($26,520.91)

Truck Shipments In Texas To Cost More

AUSTIN, Sept. 14. (U.P.)—With a few minor exceptions, common-carrier motor truck shipments within Texas will have an advance of 10 per cent in rates, effective Sept. 17, under an order published today by the Texas Railroad commission.

Movie films and newspapers are excepted from the general raise. There are exceptions also for some carbon black shipments because they recently were given rates equivalent to the new general rate.

Johnson Gets Injunction At Alice Hearing

ALICE, Sept. 14. (AP)—The Jim Wells Democratic executive committee is under a temporary injunction which forbids recanvass of the county's vote in the U. S. Senate runoff race.

It was obtained yesterday by Lyndon Johnson in a suit which named Johnson's opponent, Coke Stevenson, among the defendants.

Judge L. Broeter granted the order in 79th district court. He overruled contentions by Stevenson's attorneys that he did not have jurisdiction. He said he did not see how granting the injunction "would interfere in any way with an election contest."

Notice Of Appeal

Stevenson's attorneys entered notice of an appeal.

While attorneys for Johnson and Stevenson argued the matter some three and one half hours here, the candidates were in Fort Worth.

There, several hours after Judge Broeter ruled, the state Democratic executive committee by a one-vote margin in a wild, tense session decided to certify Johnson as the senatorial nominee.

The state Democratic convention in Fort Worth passes on that certification of Johnson today.

In the official count of votes on a statewide basis Johnson had 87 more than Stevenson. The official count included the votes from Jim Wells county originally certified to the state committee.

That committee acted after hearing attorneys for Stevenson and Johnson argue on the validity of votes in precinct 13 here.

Argument over ballots in that precinct also was involved in the court test at Alice.

Fraud Is Charged

Stevenson charged fraud and error in the precinct 13 vote; that 202 votes more than should have been certified were included in the count.

Johnson obtained a restraining order and sued for the temporary injunction. He charged that Stevenson and other defendants had conspired with a purpose of altering the returns.

Judge Broeter said after the hearing that the injunction would be in effect until the case could be heard on its merits, or an election contest is filed.

He had pointed out that under Texas election law election contests must be filed in Travis county, in which Austin, the state capitol, is located. That is provided in article 3147 of the Texas election laws.

Ruling Is Given

It says: "The venue of suits or contests between candidates for nomination for state office is hereby fixed in the district court of Travis county unless the parties

Holiday Planned By Schools In Lubbock

Wednesday, Sept. 29, will be a full holiday for all Lubbock public school students, Supt. R. W. Matthews announced this morning.

The day has been designated "Lubbock School Day," and has been set aside as a holiday so that students may attend the Panhandle-South Plains Fair. That, too, is the day when the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus comes to town for two performances.

Matthews explained that normally two half-day holidays are given so that students may attend the fair, but said to follow such a plan this year would be unfair to some groups, because of the half-day attendance schedule in effect in some schools.

All public school students will be given fair admittance tickets at their schools on Tuesday, Sept. 28.

Wells Attrad Oil Interests In This Area

Oil developments in Andrews and Garza counties held interest in West Texas oil circles after news of the developments were announced Monday.

Esperado Mining company No. 1 J. E. Parker, central Andrews county wildcat, one and a half miles northwest of the Parker field, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 2, block A-43, psl survey, bailed clean oil at the rate of one barrel per hour, over an extended period from the lime section at 4,682-88 feet in the San Andres-Permian.

No water was developed. The production was natural. Operator is making new hole below 4,743 feet in lime. The venture will be continued to its contract depth of 5,000 feet, and if it finds no better indications of production it is due to plug back and test the zone at 4,682-88 feet

To Continue Drilling

That section likely will be treated with acid in an effort to make it yield petroleum in commercial quantities.

Honolulu Oil corporation is preparing to run 5½-inch casing and drill ahead in the San Andres-Permian lime at its No. 1 Shelby County School land fee, Northwest Garza county wildcat.

This prospector, located 3,360 feet from north and 440 feet from east lines of the Shelby County School land survey, ran two drill-stem tests above the current total depth of 3,672 feet.

The first was at 3,640-72 feet. The tool was open three hours and 15 minutes. Recovery was 13 feet of oil and 12 feet of oil cut drilling mud.

The second test was at 3,522-3,672 feet. The tool was open four hours. Recovery was five feet of clean oil and 300 feet of drilling mud.

No water has been developed from the formation showing the possibility of production. The prospector is three miles southeast of Southland and about six miles north of the PHD field.

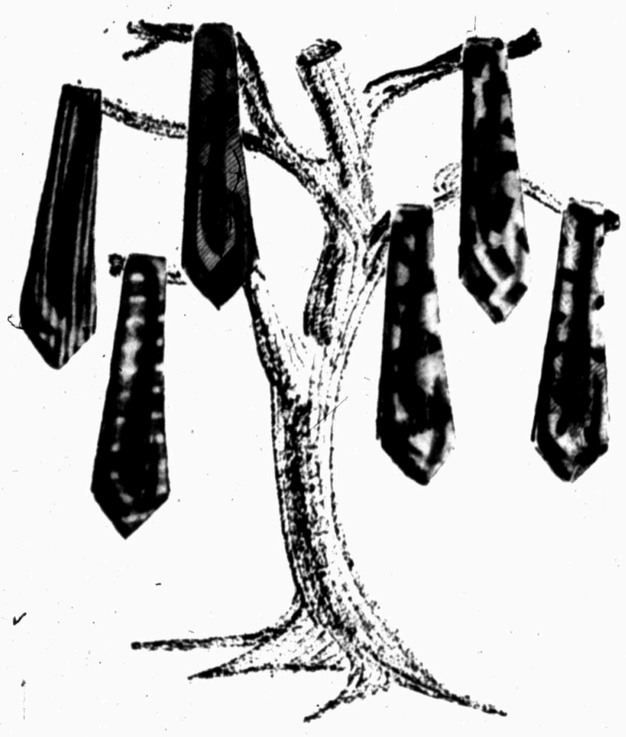

After the casing is run and cement a cable tool unit will be moved in to drill the plug and drill deeper.

Anti-Red Berliners Denounce Sentences Imposed By Russia

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Anti-Communist Berliners today denounced 25-year sentences imposed by a Soviet military court on five youths who took part in last Thursday's rioting against Russian troops and German police.

The hard labor sentences touched off a torrent of bitter press comment which worsened relations between anti-Communists and Communists in this divided, blockaded city.

The youths were sentenced at a secret trial. The official Russian announcement said they were convicted of attacks upon German police and Russian soldiers, violation of law and order and tearing down the Soviet flag from the Brandenburg gate. They were participants in an anti-Communist mass meeting which became embroiled with Russian police and Soviet-backed German police.

Sentences Are Highest

Their sentences were the highest which could be imposed, since the Soviet courts last year abolished the death penalty.

The Soviet press referred to the youths as "fascist provacateurs."

Otto Suhr, socialist speaker of the anti-Communist assembly, denounced the verdict as "dreadful injustice" and "revenge action."

The western press raised a chorus of complaint against the severity of the sentences. It charged the Russians refused to permit the defendants a German defense lawyer, rejected appeals by the city government to send an observer to the trial and refused to let in the press.

Court Said To Be Guilty

The American-licensed newspaper Tagesspiegel said the Soviet court had "made itself guilty of a crime against humanity."

The official organ of the conservative Christian Democratic union called it "a horrible verdict."

The Socialist paper Telegraf said the verdict was the equivalent of a death sentence.

Nazimuddin Named To Succeed Jinnah

KARACHI, Pakistan, Sept. 14 (AP) — Kwaja Nazimuddin, former premier of Bengal, has been appointed acting governor-general of Pakistan, an official cabinet announcement said today.

He will fill the vacancy caused by the death Saturday of Mahomed Ali Jinnah, founder and first governor-general of the new Moslem dominion.

Today's cabinet announcement, issued at noon said:

"On advice of the Prime Minister of Pakistan, his majesty the king is pleased to appoint Kwaja Nazimuddin acting governor-general of Pakistan in the vacancy caused by the sad demise of Quaid-E-Azam (Great Leader) Mahomed Ali Jinnah."

Nazimuddin, 54, was educated at Harrow and Cambridge in England and later became a member of the English bar. He had been a member of the government in his native province of Bengal at various times since 1927.

He was premier of Bengal from 1943 to 1945 and became premier of East Bengal after partition last year.

He was a member of an Indian food delegation to the United States in 1946 and represented India at the last League of Nations meeting at Geneva.

SAVING AMERICA MONEY FOR OVER THREE-QUARTERS OF A CENTURY

Small Vote In Michigan Seen

DETROIT, Sept. 14 (AP)—Two questions confronted puzzled politicians in Michigan's anticipated small primary election today.

The first was the reason behind the lack of interest in a presidential year and the other was a hot battle for Republican delegates in metropolitan Wayne (Detroit) and Kent (Grand Rapids) counties — scenes of previous "anti-boss" factional fights.

The politicians did not know whether the lack of public interest resulted from absence of major contests in the state elections or whether it was a portent of a November swing.

Senate Candidates Unopposed

The state contests were limited to the Democratic party's races for governor and lieutenant governor and the congressional and legislative campaigns.

Senator Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) had no opposition for renomination in the Republican primary, while former representative Frank E. Hook of Ironwood, seeking the democratic senatorial nomination, likewise was unopposed. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) does not seek reelection this year.

With Republican Governor Kim Sigler and Republican Lieut. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes unopposed in the primary, the spotlight centered on three Democratic aspirants for governor and two for lieutenant governor.

Democrats Listed

The Democrats had a choice for governor between Burnett J. Abbott, Albion industrialist and one-time power in the party; Victor E. Bucknell, Vicksburg attorney, and G. Mennen Williams, former attorney for several federal agencies and member of a wealthy soap family.

Williams had the endorsement of AFL and CIO groups in Michigan.

For Democratic lieutenant governor were John W. Connolly of Detroit and Victor Targonski of Wyandotte.

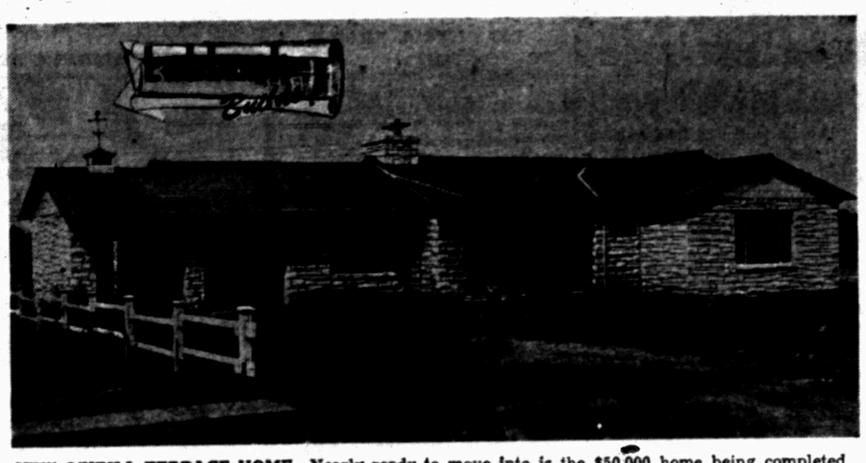

All but three of the 17 congressional districts had primary contests to stir up some local interest. The three candidates lacking opposition were Reps. Fred L. Crawford of Saginaw, Albert J. Engel of Muskegon and Charles E. Potter of Cheboygan, all Republicans.

Chance For GOP In Harris County Seen

HOUSTON, Sept. 14. (U.P.)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey and the Republicans have a chance to lead in Harris county in November, a leading GOP backer said today.

Keith McCanse, chairman of the Republican campaign committee in Harris county, observed that the White House doors were already opening to receive the next Republican president.

"It's conceded that Dewey will be the next President," McCanse stated.

shall agree upon some other county."

In ruling on whether he had jurisdiction, Judge Broeter said: "I am not saying there was fraud or there was not fraud." He said he was merely ruling against the exception that he did not have jurisdiction.

Wilbur Matthews of San Antonio, counsel for Stevenson, had quoted statute 3125 in the election laws, saying the judge had no authority "except to issue an order or mandamus instructing the county executive committee to investigate alleged fraud or voting irregularity."

Matthews contended that the hearing was asking the judge to do something contrary to the only power which the laws give him.

Dudley T. Tarleton of Corpus Christi, Johnson's chief counsel, argued that the law providing for a county Democratic executive committee to reconvene did not apply because the committee which made he original count is out of existence. He said the new committee could convene but not reconvene.

An outgoing Jim Wells committee certified the vote to the state committee. Shortly afterward a new committee of which H. L. Adams is chairman took office.

Adams, H. L. Poole, secretary of the county committee; 17 members of the committee, Stevenson, Frank Hamer of Travis county, and Kellis Dibrell of Bexar county were named defendants by Johnson.

JEWELRY STOLEN

TEMPLE, Sept. 14 (U.P.) — Nearly $6,000 in jewelry was taken from Ray's jewelry store here last night by a prowler who smashed a plate glass window with a paper-wrapped rock, reached in for his haul and made a fast getaway.

Two years later the store moved to a building now comprising a portion of the Woolworth store.

The store moved to its present location at 1012 Broadway, Jan. 1, 1930. In 1923 the store had three employes, now it has 21 employes and is recognized as one of the leading jewelers of West Texas.

Voters In Colorado Cast Ballots Today

DENVER, Sept. 14—(AP)—Coloradoans vote today to decide two hot primary contests for the U. S. Senate.

Election officials expected about 200,000 persons—nearly half of the registered voters—to cast ballots. The 1,701 polling places open for 12 hours at 7 a. m., M. S. T.

Eugene Cervi, former Democratic state chairman, opposed U. S. Sen. Edwin C. Johnson's bid for the Democratic nomination for a third term.

Cervi, seeking his first elective office, accused Johnson of being an isolationist and bolting the party in his voting.

Johnson pointed to his sponsorship of a 70-group air force and quoted a letter from Sen. Alben Barkley, the party's vice presidential nominee, praising his senate service.

Another political newcomer, Will F. Nicholson, a Denver businessman, opposed Former Gov. John C. Vivian for the Republican nomination. Nicholson said the party needs a candidate to appeal to young voters. Vivian based his campaign on experience and economy in government.

New Regulations On Overtime Wages Will Become Effective

By FRED W PERKINS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—New regulations on overtime pay become effective tomorrow in thousands of businesses covered by the wage-hour law.

They result from a recent Supreme Court decision that several hundred New York longshoremen were entitled to collect several million dollars in back pay. The court ruled that "premium pay" for Saturday, Sunday, holiday or night work could be included under certain conditions in calculating the "straight time" wage. This is the base wage on which time and a half is paid for hours worked in excess of 40 hours a week.

Complaints in Congress and elsewhere that the court decision foreshadowed a flood of back-pay suits were discounted by labor lawyers and William R McComb, wage-hour administrator.

Undesirable Hours Involved

So far the deluge has not appeared, and wage-hour authorities say it can be averted if employers and unions follow the new regulations based on the Supreme Court opinion They provide that "true overtime" pay need not be figured in determining the straight-time rate—thus disposing of the "overtime on overtime" complaint.

However, the straight-time rate must be figured from the "premium pay" if the higher wage is paid because of undesirable hours or disagreeable work.

Mr McComb added, "in determining payments to an employe at an increased rate for Saturday, Sunday, holiday or night work are made for time worked in excess of a bona fide standard or, on the other hand, simply because such periods are less desirable for the performance of work. The division will look not only at the terms of the applicable contract but also at the actual practice of the parties under the contract.

Test Case Pending

"The mere fact that a contract calls for premium payments for work on Saturdays, Sundays, holidays or at night would not necessarily prove that the higher rate is paid merely because of undesirable working hours if, as a matter of fact, the actual practice of the parties shows that the payments are made because the employes have previously worked a specified number of hours or days, according to a bona fide standard."

Harry Bridges, west coast longshoremen's union chief, has advised his local unions against filing back-pay suits under the Supreme Court decision, until a pending test case is decided in San Francisco.

Employers outside the longshore industry, according to Mr McComb, are largely protected against back-pay suits by provisions of the portal-to-portal law.

Man Feels Kind Of Silly, But Letter Is Written While Keeping Cool In Ice Box

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Today I received what probably was the first letter ever written inside an ice box.

It was from Don Rose of Richmond, Ky., who happened to be in South Bend, Ind., at the time. He said he had met me someplace—Denver, Chicago, New York, Dallas or Montreal. Maybe so.

Anyhow, there sat Don, locked in an ice refrigerator among the cucumbers, T-bones, and radishes. He was getting a chill just to prove to the world that (1) a refrigerator is air-conditioned. 2 it's life sustaining.

Takes Equipment Also

Don lugged along a camp stool, a rubber air cushion, a flock of newspapers and comic books for entertainment, some canned soup, a carton or so of cigarettes, some vitamins, some water, and a gallon of hot coffee.

For comfort he wore some red flannels, army socks, boots, combat pants and an army field coat with an inner lining and hood. The temperature inside was 38 to 42 degrees—which wasn't too bad compared to our recent hot spell.

Don un-zipped his hood and came out to greet the people after 28 hours and 53 minutes. The people had been viewing him all that time with mixed emotions—alarm and mockery — through a window in the big ice box.

Feels Kind of Silly

"I felt kind of silly," he said. He started his note out, quite logically, "I am working in cramped quarters, so please excuse the handwriting.

"Did you ever try to write with mittens on?"

(I sure did—once, while covering a football game in a snowstorm at Madison, Wis.)

"The air in here," Don continued, "seems to be getting colder. But I'm dressed for the occasion.

"This ice box is pretty big but I have no place to sleep, although there is plenty to eat."

Don left a blank in his letter with a little bracketed notation that he was about to take his sterno out of his duffle and cook a meal.

Later Picks Up Thread

A few minutes later he picked up the thread.

"I feel like a million bucks," he wrote. "There's nothink like a little cool air to pep one up on a hot day."

Don mentioned in a postscript that it was over 100 in South Bend that day and that he was the envy of the Souh Bend home show.

"People are sitting out there in front of my little glass cage, dripping with perspiration as I write to you," Don said. "They make faces at me and fan their faces to show how hot they are.

"I pull my hood up, shiver a little for 'em and get on with my writing."

DEATH TOLL RISES

TOKYO, Sept. 14. (AP)—The death toll from Sunday's flash flood on Kyushu island has mounted to 127, Tokyo dispatches from Sasebo reported today. Another 100 were reported missing and 56 injured.

There are more than 18 miles of seats in the Yale Bowl.

King Opens Parliament Session By Asking Cut In Lords' Power

By TOM WILLIAMS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 14 — King George VI rode in royal splendor to Westminster today and asked parliament—in 74 cautious words—to curtail the ancient power of his lords.

His terse speech opened a special 10-day session of parliament and a bitter political battle between the Labor government and the Conservative opposition of Winston Churchill.

The King asked the legislators to "amend the parliament act of 1911," by which the Labor government intends to cut in half the two-year period in which the House of Lords can delay legislation. This is intended to help the government ram through one of its most controversial measures—nationalization of the iron and steel industry before the general elections of 1950.

Berlin Crisis Overshadowing

It seems destined to be one of the most controversial legislative sessions of recent history.

One paper termed it a "phoney session." Another spoke of a "cynical party maneuver."

The special session was called partially to speed up the Labor government's program to limit the powers of the House of Lords, but this was overshadowed by the east-west tension over Germany.

There was speculation the King might refer in his opening speech to government plans for slowing demobilization of troops during the Berlin crisis.

There were also strong indications the Conservatives were preparing to undermine the latest demonstration of Labor's parliamentary strength with political booby traps.

Censure Vote Planned

Conservative papers indicated a move would be made to put the government on the spot during the session by challenging it to offer mediatory services in the India-Hyderabad battle. Failure to move in this direction would strengthen the Conservative charge that the Laborites called the special session solely for party advantage.

Political commentators in London say the Conservatives plan to push a vote of censure against the government during the sitting. Basis for the vote would be a charge that the Laborites waste time by creating a constitutional crisis over the parliament bill while the nation wallows in a sea of economic and international problems. Failure of the Laborites to defeat such a vote would mean the immediate resignation of the cabinet.

Bevin Report Expected

The government wants to cut from two years to one the length of time in which the House of Lords can delay enactment of a bill.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is expected to make a statement later this week on the Berlin negotiations.

The proposed demobilization policy has been kept secret, but most government sources expect a slow-down without raising the present 12-month limit on service by draftees.

Prime Minister Attlee's office announced last night that five of the seven prime ministers of the British commonwealth nations will begin "confidential discussions of common concern" here Oct. 11.

Young Girl Killed By Shotgun Blast

KNOXVILLE, Tenn, Sept 14 (AP)—A nine-year-old girl was slain last night by a shotgun blast innocently fired by a six-year-old boy, Homicide Officer Carl Bunch reported.

Bunch said Alice King, daughter of Mrs Stella King, was shot down when Polkie Mitchell, sitting in a parked motor car with several other children, shoved the gun through a window and pulled the trigger.

The officer said Alice was standing near the car watching a friend ride her scooter.

The boy's mother, Mrs Pat Mitchell, and her brother-in-law, City Fireman A. E. Rollins, were returning from a hunting trip and had stopped at a grocery store when the shooting occurred, Bunch said. The adults had gone into the store and left Polkie and his companons in the car, he added.

The death was ruled accidental, the officer said, and no charges would be made.

Yes, it's true that "man wants but little here below"—a little more than the other fellow!

THE REPUBLICANS are making all sorts of promises about how they will clean up the New Deal mess if Dewey is elected.

Not having been born yesterday, we don't believe all—or even most—of their promises, although one of them has to do with a needed reform which long has been one of our pet dreams.

In listing some of the things the GOP will do in Washington if Republicans control both the White House and the Congress, Sen. Styles Bridges, of N. H., included a clean-up of the army of propagandists which infests the capital.

That is something which needs doing. Also, it represents an economy which may be levied without the loss of anything to anybody—except, of course, the "loss" of much expense to the taxpayer.

* * *

Early in the New Deal, the late President Roosevelt "borrowed" from various European countries the "office of information" plan of propagandizing the people.

Before very long, every department, bureau, commission and committee of the Executive branch of our government was simply crawling with propagandists.

Their job was not as advertised. Instead of being employed to "keep the American people informed as to the activities of their government," these propagandists were employed (1) to sell the New Deal to the voters; and (2) to cover up, as much as possible, its foibles, its mistakes and its less appealing objectives.

* * *

TAXPAYERS of all political leanings were forced to pay the bill for the New Deal's advertising-propagandizing department and the direct cost must have run into hundreds of millions of dollars; in fact, still is mounting.

As for the indirect costs, they ran into the billions—billions mulcted from the pockets of the people who had been previously "conditioned" by New Deal publicists to approve all sorts of expensive federal projects, many of them purely political.

We have no idea how many "public relations advisors" the government had through the heydey of the New Deal or, for that matter, how many such hangers-on still remain.

But we do know that the number once ran into the thousands; that it still is high. In the group, of course, were and are some responsible, able and hardworking people. But there were others—some lazy, incompetent stumblebums and those who used their positions to promote ideologies of a distasteful nature—on the lush payroll.

* * *

Some people will argue that the government's publicity army represents only a minor sore on the body politic; that there are many other worse conditions in Washington and in government offices all over the land.

Perhaps so.

But by the very nature of their work and their duties, undesirable types of publicists have vast capacity and great opportunity for disservice to the taxpayer and to the best interests of the nation at large.

We hope (albeit not too optimistically) that the next administration, regardless of its political stripe, will clean out the propagandists.

"Slanted" government reports, and so-called "news" of a distorted nature have no business in an American government. They belong in Russia and her satellites.

* * *

SOMEBODY sent this in by mail. It's pretty good. It is called "The Six Mistakes Of A Man"—

"1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.

"2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.

"3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because no one yet has accomplished it.

"4. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind and not acquiring the habit of reading and studying.

"5. Refusing to set aside trivial preference.

"6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do."

Who was the author of these "six mistakes?"

Fellow name of Cicero, who was quite a wisenheimer in his day.

WANT A NEW car, quick? Want a '48 model, brand new, at 40 per cent under the original price?

That's easy—providing you go to Switzerland.

One of the New York Times' bright young men reports to that dignified journal that new American cars are a drug on the Swiss automobile market.

"You can walk into any Swiss dealer's showroom," he reports, "and drive off with a 1948 model in the time it takes to fill out the papers. Stocks in warehouses are so large they are causing real storage problems."

As for the used car market, it's condition is even more startling to the American visitor, the Times relates. Six-months old American cars are going without buyers when priced down to 40 per cent cheaper than new cars.

* * *

The reason for this strange state of affairs is three-fold three-fold.

In the first place, most Swiss and other European roads are too small for American cars. In the second place, smaller, European automobiles may be operated much cheaper than our products. Gasoline in Switzerland sells for 65 cents per gallon and repairs are proportionately high. In the third place, duties are higher on American cars, because they are compounded by weight, rather than by the value of the automobile.

So, if you want a new car you can get one, but quick, in Switzerland. Only fly in the ointment is that even if you get a six-months old model for 40 per cent under our own price, it will cost you too much money to get the car home to make it worth your while.

* * *

ALL OF THIS naturally gives rise to the question of how many other places over the world—if any—are "glutted" with American automobiles?

If there are others, as there must be, why do our manufacturers send their products where sales are slow when so many people here at home want new cars, but can't get them without paying outrageous prices on "new-used" car lots?

The answer probably is that American manufacturers want to do everything they can to hold pre-war international trade and to increase it, if possible, in the future.

But even a good argument like that is difficult for the home customer to applaud, especially when he has the money and is crying for a new car.

One of the hardest things to figure out in life is why so many wise people do so many darn-fool things!

FIELD MARSHAL BERNARD MONTGOMERY, the British war hero, must be an old-fashioned sort of fellow. The other day he commented:

"Teach your boys and girls to grow up into decent men and women and you need not worry about the future state of the world."

That makes so much sense we doubt if many people will pay any attention to it.

BY DREW PEARSON: UNITED STATES ARMY IS IMPROVING ITS TOP COMMANDERS

Gen. Bradley Brings New Deal To "Brasshatism"

WASHINGTON — If war should come to beleaguered Berlin, the men at the top of the U. S. Army today are among the most competent, human, and civilian-minded that this newsman has seen around the War department in many a year.

PEARSON

This appraisal, by the way, comes from a long-time and vigorous critic of the brass hats.

Responsible for this new deal around the Pentagon building are General Eisenhower and his successor, modest Omar Bradley.

It is important for the American public to know that when the daredevil boys of the Air Forces and the drop-the-bomb-now men of the Navy gather at joint chiefs of staff meetings, there is always present one calm conscience who never forgets the 300,000 G. I.'s buried under white crosses from Guadalcanal to Sicily.

Take off his uniform and Omar Bradley looks like a college professor. He is quiet, gracious, generous, good-natured and basically a very plain person. Everybody who ever worked with Bradley remarks on his simplicity. His mess sergeant in France had orders never to use Bradley's name to wangle food for headquarters. Once during the historic landing at Normandy, Bradley, then a 3-star general, took off his fleece-lined jacket and handed it to a shivering corporal.

"Here, son," he said. "It will be easier for me to get another than it will be for you."

* * *

Bradley Studies Like G. I.

Bradley has so monotonously plugged away for the little guy both in war and peace that he is almost taken for granted.

Typical of his quiet manner is the fact that after being appointed chief of staff, but while waiting to be sworn in, he took two months of refresher courses at the Pentagon side by side with other officers. They report that Bradley was never late for class, took careful notes, shamed many a colonel or one-star general by his promptness and interest, compared with their casual attitude.

It may have been because Omar Bradley was from Moberly, Missouri, that President Truman picked him to be Veterans administrator, later chief of staff. If so, this geographical coincidence was the good luck of the American people. However, it was not luck which put Bradley at the top.

When a youngster he worked for the Wabash railroad; being poor yet anxious for a college education he applied to his congressman for a West Point appointment. To take the examination in St. Louis, he had to promote a pass on the Wabash.

BRADLEY was graduated from West Point in the class of 1915. Another famous member of that class was Dwight Eisenhower of Kansas. Ike ranked 100th. Bradley ranked 44th. Perhaps this rather low rating should not be cited in the month of September, when several million American youngsters are reluctantly going back to school; so, in passing, it might be noted that General MacArthur graduated No. 1 in his class of 1903.

Bradley's start in the recent war was none too happy. He commanded the 28th division, officered in part by Republican politicians from Pennsylvania. Senator Ed Martin was commanding general, later relieved (for age) by Bradley, while Jay Cooke, one of Stassen's hot supporters, was a battalion commander.

After various difficulties with the 28th division, Bradley stepped up to command a corps under General Patton in Sicily, later became top commander of the European theatre, entrusted with carrying out the strategy of General Eisenhower and the Allied chiefs of staff. He faced some tough problems.

* * *

Battle of the Bulge

One of them was getting along with temperamental, grandstanding Field Marshal Montgomery. Bradley had no regard for Monty's lack of nerve and reluctance to advance. But realizing Montgomery was a symbol to the British people, he said no word against him.

Bradley got part of the blame for the Battle of the Bulge, and toward the end of this battle Montgomery, his rival, was given command of part of Bradley's forces. However, the inside fact is that it was Montgomery's stooge, General Strong, who served as Bradley's chief intelligence officer, plus Gen. Eddie Siebert, an American, who claimed the Germans could not possibly attack in the Ardennes.

Only his close friends know it, but Bradley himself was worried before the attack, took a trip down to the Saar to talk it over with "Old Blood and Guts" Patton. His explanation to Patton was that "topside" had ordered him to leave the Ardennes woods exposed, since the Germans could not possibly attack. After it was all over, Bradley, like the soldier that he is, took the blame for the Battle of the Bulge on his own shoulders.

* * *

BUT the toughest job Bradley ever faced came after Potsdam, when Truman asked him to unravel the muddled Veterans administration. The V.A. is the world's largest social-welfare agency, the world's biggest dispenser of pensions, the world's biggest operator of hospitals and one of the world's biggest banks.

Running it is one of the most thankless jobs in the United States. Unfortunately, when men in government do a good job they get little applause. Bradley did so well that he attracted scant attention until he took on the gentleman who is supposed to be able to do no wrong—the commander of the American Legion—and publicly whipped him.

When Bradley first became chief of staff, Secretary Forrestal kept him so busy on strategic problems that he had little time to revamp the administrative side of the Army. In addition, various hangers-on, who should have had the good grace to retire, continued their chair-warming.

However, Bradley has now begun to move in with some of his own men, including Gen. Bryant Moore, former commander at Trieste, Gen. "Buck" Lanham, formerly in charge of the Army's education program, and various others.

Bradley believes that one way to avoid war is to take all the profits out of war. And at staff conferences you will hear his nasal Missouri drawl formulating plans for training green troops, outlining strategy in case the worst happens in Berlin—yet at the same time hoping against hope that nothing will happen and "we can all go fishin'."

Unification Of GOP Factions Is Dilemma To Dewey Forces

WASHINGTON.—Since his nomination in June the resourceful men around presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey have been hard at work helping him hammer out the speeches that will define his position. Soon the campaign will begin and their handiwork will be unveiled.

The task of the members of the Dewey team has not been an easy one. They have been conscious of the diverse and opposing elements within the Republican party.

CHILDS

Even for the purposes of a campaign, it would be impossible to reconcile all these elements. But in a national contest, no matter how confident your side is of victory, the goal is to unify as many factions as possible. And it is here that the Dewey team faces a tough dilemma.

The fact is that powerful men within the party know exactly what they want out of victory. They will work hard and they will give generously of their money in the expectation of the fruits of victory.

While these powerful men do not all want the same thing, their desires in many instances overlap. They will expect a Republican administration to deliver certain tangible gains. Their "program," set down more or less as they will hope to carry it out, is of the following order:

* * *

Program Is Listed

1. Passage of a law granting to the states the right to oil and mineral deposits in the tidelands of the cotstal waters adjoining the states. Large oil companies have spent millions of dollars in "educating" public opinion and particularly state officials to go along with this view.

2. Further reductions in the income tax as promised by Chairman Harold Knutson of the House Ways and Means committee. Linked with this may be an effort to put over a federal sales tax that would supply part of the revenue lost in another reduction of income taxes. The 80th Congress passed over the President's veto a reduction of nearly five billion dollars.

3. Take the government out of the distribution of power generated at federally constructed dams and sell the power at Wholesale to private utilities. A beginning was made in this direction when Congress after tremendous pressure by the private utility lobby denied funds to the Tennessee Valley Authority for a steam plant to back up TVA's hydro power.

* * *

4. Repeal of the 160-acre water-tight limitation in the great Central Valley irrigation project in California. This could be taken as a precedent for breaking down the 160-acre restriction in other U. S. reclamation projects.

5. Compelling, either by changes in law or by administrative and policy changes, a liberalization of present grazing and timber cutting limits in the national forests and the national parks. Lobbyists well supplied with funds have long been agitating for more generous treatment from the forest service and the department of interior.

This is not by any means the whole program. But it illustrates the major goals of some potent individuals who are looking to a GOP victory to achieve those goals. And among these men are certain key figures in Congress.

Therein lies the essence of Dewey's problem if he is elected President. With some of the steps in the above program he probably would be in agreement. Turning the tidelands over to the states, a move that his running mate, Earl Warren, has long advocated in California, is one.

* * *

Moves Inflationary

With respect to others, however, Dewey knows full well that they are inflationary and will contribute to the grave danger of a bust following on a short-lived boom. He knows also that other steps will reverse conservation practices fixed by his own party in another day and threaten to make new dust bowls, with resulting loss of livelihood and impoverishment.

Can Dewey in the White House control these men and carry out his own program? That is the question mark that casts a shadow longer than the double-talk of the campaign.

Candidate Dewey and the men around him have an insight into political currents that goes beyond blind partisanship. They must know that if the narrowest self-interest prevails, then the Republican party will not stay in power for long. A skyrocket boom and a deadstick bust could mean loss of the Congress in 1952.

There are other forces in the country hoping just that

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WOMEN are often accused of being slaves to their houses. But what is just as bad, they've made Papa a slave to the yard.

In their zeal to have everything just a little nicer than the neighbors, women have saddled their husbands as well as themselves with an unending amount of work.

MILLETT

Papa comes home from the office tired and ready to relax. But he knows that he doesn't stand a chance.

There's work to do in the yard. The lawn has to be watered. Or it has to be mowed. Or the flower beds need attention. Or new shrubs need to be planted. Or the roses have to be sprayed.

* * *

HARD YARD

AND so it goes. A beautiful yard, theoretically, is a place for the family to relax in. But unless they can afford a man to take care of it Papa never gets to do much relaxing in the yard.

The only time he gets to sit down and enjoy it is when there are guests.

And then, of course, he can't really relax. Not with Mama telling the guests how she is going to take out a few shrubs here, and build a rock garden there and a barbecue pit somewhere else.

How can the man relax when he knows that he is the poor guy who is going to have to dig and shovel and hoe to carry out all those beautiful ideas?

"Try And Stop Me"

A LITTLE bit of a man with spectacles and an umbrella was brought before Judge Maguire in Magistrate's court recently. Behind him towered his wife, a Junoesque creature who looked strong enough to tear telephone books in half with her bare hands. Judge Maguire was amazed to discover that the shrimp was accused of beating his wife.

"Guilty or not guilty," he barked. "Guilty," said the little man promptly. "50.00 fine," said Judge Maguire.

After the fine had been paid and the ill-assorted couple had disappeared into the gloaming, the court clerk said to Judge Maguire, "Weren't you a little hard on that little fellow?" I don't think so," answered Judge Maguire. "I punished him for bragging."

Today's Journal Editorial

OUR NEEDED NEW COURTHOUSE

Lubbock county's need for a new courthouse is too apparent for discussion. The present building, erected in 1917 to serve a county with about 5,000 population, obviously is inadequate for one with 80,000 inhabitants which is growing like the proverbial prairie fire.

Therefore, the action of the County Commissioners' court in attempting to start the ball rolling toward providing the need unquestionably will meet with approval.

This does not suggest the court should give a green light for the start of actual construction without full consideration of all the factors, many of them unpredictable, involved.

But only the most convincing reasons can justify further indefinite delays. Many Lubbock citizens may be inclined to feel that there has been too much delay already in going ahead with a needed improvement for which they voted bonds more than two years ago and which would cost substantially more to build now than if construction had been started more promptly.

will happen The extreme left is counting on blind reaction trying to push the clock back and thereby throwing the economy of the nation badly out of balance.

That is the role of the third party. The party managers mean it to be midwife to reaction, and their goal is for the future after reaction has had its futile and self-destructive victory.

TUNNEL-BAKED

MEAD'S FINE BREAD is the pace-maker in purity because it is untouched by human hands throughout the baking process. This is made possible by use of the air-conditioned, tunnel-shaped oven pictured below. Specially designed and built for Mead's Fine Bread Company of Lubbock, this massive oven bakes MEAD'S FINE BREAD with five different temperature stages. Each stage is thermostatically-controlled for baking accuracy. "Hands-off" tunnel-baking gives MEAD'S FINE BREAD active flavor and ripple-soft texture. Air-conditioned tunnel-making is another advance in the art of making a better MEAD'S FINE BREAD.

LARGEST OVEN WEST OF FT. WORTH

This tremendous oven, 75 feet long and man-height, has a daily capacity of 96,000 loaves. Bread enters at one end, basks and bakes in five graduated heat levels, and comes out well done with perfect flavor.

Law Of Chance Takes Beating In Election Of U. S. Senator

BY BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Writer

Insinuations of law violations in the recent U. S. senate race—the outcome of which may or may not have been finally settled—are nothing new.

Each side has hurled charges if not saying outright—that there was fraud connected with the other side's vote-getting.

And there is evidence that at least one law if not broken, certainly was badly bent. That law is the law of averages.

Statistician Explains

Dr. David F. Votaw, a statistician at Southwest Texas State college, San Marcos, says the senate race couldn't have been as close as it purportedly was even if the two candidates had pitched pennies to determine the outcome.

For example, Dr. Votaw says, if you match pennies 10 times, it would seem that by chance five heads and five tails will show.

Actually, by applying the statistician's law of normal probability, you'll find that usually there will be either more heads or more tails—as anyone who has matched pennies, or nickels for cokes, can well testify.

Almost Million Votes Cast

In the Aug. 28 election, almost 1,000,000 votes were cast.

Says Dr. Votaw "If Lyndon Johnson and Coke Stevenson had flipped pennies 1,000,000 times, there should be a difference of at least 674 votes, according to the law of probability."

The actual vote, not even yet positively determined, gave a much smaller difference.

Regardless of the outcome, the laws of chance certainly have taken a beating.

Or maybe they'll have to resort to tossing a coin to settle the thing yet.

Woman Has Faith In The Good Earth

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14. (INS)—An elderly St. Louis negro woman who believes all good things come from the earth has enlisted its aid to cure her rheumatism.

The woman, Mrs. Anna Washington, daily buries herself to the waist in a pile of dirt beside her home. While covered with the earth she reads the Bible.

Mrs. Washington explains her novel "cure:"

"I've had rheumatism for four years and medicines just haven't done me any good. My knee joints have got so stiff I have to sit down to do my housekeeping."

Officers Chosen At Senior Class Meet

When senior class members at Lubbock Senior High school met Monday, six vice presidents and two yell leaders were chosen from among the group.

The vice presidents, acting as a committee and representing the class as a whole, will in turn nominate class members to the offices of president and secretary, elections for which are set for the near future, according to H. J. McCabe, dean of boys at Senior High and head senior sponsor.

Elected vice presidents were Frank Poyner, Jack King, Norman Bantz, Edda Lyn Cox, Francene Cox and Katharine Starnes.

Yell leaders are W. J. Blake and Edda Lyn Cox. Joyce Worrell, a third senior yell leader, was named to the office before the close of school last spring.

In addition to McCabe, other sponsors of the senior class are A. B. Reese, Mrs. H. B. Hawkins, Rogers Orr, Miss Irene Armes, Mrs. Ben McGregor, Miss Bessie Bullock, Miss Neville Wren, N. J Robnett, and J. H. Penn.

Church Group Will Hold Meet Tonight

A meeting of men of the First Christian church will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the church, Broadway and Ave. X, for the purpose of adopting a constitution and by-laws for the men's organization, and for the election of officers.

Presiding will be O. A. Terry, Joe Holmes, and Floyd Reed. Refreshments are to be served. All men of the church are invited to attend the gathering.

Official From Wales Believes In "Labor"

AMHERST, N. S., Sept. 14. (AP)—Thomas George Thomas, Labor member of the British parliament from Wales, really believes in that "labor" designation.

He worked his way to Canada on the lumber ship Hawkinge to spend a short vacation. He's going back the same way next week.

Texas Oilman Sending Three Eskimos Home As "Souvenirs"

DALLAS, Sept. 14. (INS)—Multi-millionaire oilman L. L. Horne expects to collect $25,000 in bets today at a collection cost of more than $42,000.

Horne bet several persons $25,000 he could have three Eskimo women in Fort Worth by Thursday.

Horne said his pilot Lew Leach, and co-pilot contacted him from Portland, Ore., and told him that they had found three young Eskimo women willing to come to Fort Worth to cinch Horne's wager.

Named As Souvenirs

The pilots will leave Portland this morning with the Eskimo trio they discovered living in the Oregon city and hope to make the 1700 mile hop within seven hours.

The 52-year-old oilman said the betting started after he was in Montana on a fishing trip. He phoned some Texas friends to ask what they wanted him to bring back as souvenirs.

"They told me they'd like to see some real Eskimo women," Horne said. "I told them I'd bet 'em ten bucks I could have three in Fort Worth by Sept. 16.

Bought Special Plane

"Then they suggested that we make it worth while and before long we had dozens of people and about $25,000 in the deal," Horne chuckled.

He said he'd sent the pilots up in the north country in a chartered plane to look for the women and that he had bought a $42,000 Beachcraft to transport them to Texas.

"I'm giving 'em each $100 and a new dress and three days in Fort Worth with all expenses paid."

Horne describes himself as "just an oilman from Fort Worth and Dallas."

Kaiser-Frazer Asks $38,552,118 Damage

DETROIT, Sept. 14 (AP)—A $38,552,119 damage suit, Kaiser-Frazer corporation's latest move in its legal battle with Otis & Co., was on file in federal court today.

The corporation accused the Otis firm of conspiring with two attorneys, James Masterson of Philadelphia and David V. Martin of Detroit, to upset the issue of 900,000 shares of K-F stock last February.

The fight began Feb. 9 when Martin filed a federal lawsuit here against Kaiser-Frazer in the name of Masterson. In yesterday's court action, the automobile manufacturing corporation charged Otis & Co. arranged the suit with the two attorneys.

Masterson's suit asked that the $10,000,000 stock deal be halted, and Otis & Co. declined to go through with its agreement with K-F, pointing to a contract that stated no lawsuits could be pending against the auto company.

A long hearing on the battle before the Securities and Exchange commission followed.

The Kaiser-Frazer action claimed the firm suffered general damages of $3,712,500 and special damages of $15,563,559. Because of what it called the "punitive" nature of the Masterson suit, it asked double the combined sums.

Voting Slated In Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Senator Joseph H. Ball, Republican, and Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, candidate for the Democratic-Farm-Labor nomination for senator, test their strength in the Minnesota primary election today.

Ball has two opponents and Humphrey one, but even during their pre-primary campaigns, they aimed their shots at each other.

Issues Are Defined

They have banged away principally at stands on the Taft-Hartley act and rationing and price control.

Ball has defended the Taft-Hartley act, which he helped write. Humphrey says it should be repealed. Humphrey advocates rationing and price control of scarce items to halt inflation. Ball opposes rationing and price control in peacetime.

Ball's primary opponents are Lenore Irene Bussman, St. Paul housewife, and Earl L. Miller Aitkin filling station operator. Neither has made a statewide campaign.

Wallace Has Candidate

Humphrey, who led the fight at the Democratic national convention for a strong civil rights plank, heads a slate of candidates endorsed by the Minnesota wing of the party supporting President Truman.

His opponent for the senatorial nomination is James M. Shields, of Minneapolis, choice of the faction backing Henry Wallace. Shields is a former regional director of the National Labor Relations board.

Four congressmen, all Republicans, are without primary opposition. They are Rep. Harold Knutson, sixth district on chairman of the House Ways and Means committee; Rep. August Andresen, first district; Rep. George Mackinnon, third district; and Rep. Edward J. Devitt, fourth district.

Outstanding Young Texan Is Honored

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14. (U.P.)—Former junior chamber of commerce president John Ben Shepperd of Gladewater held the title today of "outstanding young Texan of 1948," bestowed upon him last night by the Young Democrats of Texas.

Shepperd was presented a scroll at a banquet attended by Gov. Beauford H. Jester and other state officials. Presentation was made by Jim Blundell of Dallas, organizational director of the Young Democrats clubs of Texas. Toastmaster was Jim Brinkley of Houston, head of the Texas Young Democrats.

Speakers included Jester and Wright Morrow, Houston attorney and a Democratic national committeeman from Texas.

Blonde Secretary Rejects Father's Plan To Obtain Husband Who Could Pay $7,000

DETROIT, Sept. 14 (AP)—Blonde Georgie Martin refused today to have any part of her father's plan to get her a husband who could pay $7,000.

"I'm ruined," wailed the 19-year-old secretary.

But George Martin, her 53-year-old father, insisted he "just wanted to make sure that Georgie would be well taken care of if anything happened to me."

He told reporters he was in financial difficulties after being forced to quit work a year ago. At that time Georgie, who needed but two years to complete work for a law degree from the University of Detroit, was forced to drop her studies.

Debts were piling up, Martin said, when he began to read newspaper accounts of women who offered themselves in marriage to rich suitors.

Thinking the move might lift some of his own financial burden and help Georgie finish her education, he said he sent letters making the marriage proposal to papers in Wyoming, Idaho and Montana.

Georgie then announced she knew nothing of the matter until it appeared in a local paper. And it's "no sale," she added firmly.

Officers Seek Body Of Port Arthur Man

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 14 (AP)—Officers of Jefferson and Orange counties today searched the Neches river between here and Orange for the body of Thomas L. Burnham, 21, of Port Arthur.

Burnham was reported to have climbed the railing of the 176-foot high Port Arthur-Orange highway bridge yesterday and dived into the water. R. D. Clark, Orange, a passing motorist, said Burnham reappeared in a few moments on the surface of the river and then vanished.

SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Try serving fried tomatoes with sour cream. Fry them golden brown in egg and crumbs, then mix in a few tablespoons of flour over the fat left in the pan, mixing well. Pour in a cup of sour cream. Stir, cook until thickened. Pour the hot sauce over the tomatoes on the platter. Serve at once.

Session Held Monday By Decorating Group

Sam Lowe, representative of Globe Mills of Texas, Houston, was principal speaker Monday night at a meeting of the Lubbock chapter of Painting and Decorating Contractors of America.

Thirty-three members and associate members attended the session in the Navajo room of the Hilton hotel.

Lowe told the group that their field should attract more newcomers and apprentices, that more young people were needed in the professions they represented. He pointed out that more artists were employed in the painting and decorating field than in any other industry.

Speaking of wallpaper trends, Lowe said there is a definite move toward darker colors and more elaborate designs than ever before. Solid colors in darker shades also are popular, he said, pointing out that violet was in demand again for the first time since Victorian days.

Lowe said that some firms were producing a suede finish paper and that present wallpapers surpass all previous products in quality, color fastness, durability and versatility. In colors he said denuded greens ranked first followed by grays, yellow, plum, brown and blue.

Winston Jones, program committee chairman, had charge of the program. Doyle Jordan made arrangements for the speaker. Visitors were R. G. Webb, also of Globe Mills, Houston, and Vin Higensback, Denver, Colo.

What Some Famous People Have Said About These Wonderful Volumes

RAYMOND GRAM SWING
Noted Radio Commentator:

"It is difficult to think of a more important single contribution by a publisher than the production of an encyclopedia within the reach of the 'ordinary' person. In the past the encyclopedia has been a restricted privilege. So the New Standard Encyclopedia has a great service to perform. Its publishers are to be commended for achieving the paradox of a work of reference, printed decently, and selling at a remarkably low price, which is a genuine encyclopedia."

JOHN KIERAN
Famous Newspaper Columnist, "Information Please" Expert:

"I have looked over the volumes of the New Standard Encyclopedia and they seem to me to be very handy reference books. I look forward to getting a great deal of help from them. Their appearance is fine, too. This set certainly should fill a long felt want for those unable to purchase much bulkier and more expensive editions of other standard reference works."

THOMAS MANN
Celebrated Author, Nobel Prize Winner:

"I have had a good look into this rich reference work and am convinced that it will prove a very precious and helpful possession."

DEEMS TAYLOR
Noted Composer and Critic:

"I think you are open to congratulations. I have worked on three encyclopedias myself, and so know something about how they are put together.

"I must say that the New Standard, considering its limitations of size and space, is an extraordinary achievement. Your biographical section is particularly good in that it lists many contemporary names that are not to be found in other similar reference books."

MAJOR GEO. FIELDING ELIOT
Noted Military Analyst, Author, Commentator:

"The NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA exactly fills my need for ready reference on a variety of subjects at home and has indeed enabled me to stay home in comfort and do some little odd jobs of work—on an evening or a Sunday afternoon—when otherwise I would have had to betake myself to the office. So I have already a very definite reason for kindly feelings toward you and your excellent Encyclopedia."

DOROTHY CANFIELD FISHER
Eminent Educator, Critic:

"Living in the country, as I do, and aware as I am of the fact that the high price of the standard-size encyclopedia is prohibitive for most rural families and small-town libraries, I am struck by the special usefulness of the smaller volumes and smaller price of the Funk & Wagnalls edition. They are within the reach of schools, libraries and families who never could have afforded the more expensive sets, and provide a most useful reference work for situations where it is especially needed."

HERE IS WHAT OTHER READERS HAVE SAID AFTER RECEIVING THEIR FREE VOLUME ONE

"After examining the first volume of your New Standard Encyclopedia, I believe it will be of very great value and convenience to me in my work as a publicity man and writer as it will save me hours of research. I am also glad to have it in my home as a reference book. It is not cumbersome or overwritten." Mr. J. D. G.

"I think it is the greatest encyclopedia buy at this price that I have ever heard of. I will be proud to add these 27 volumes to my library." Mr. C. H.

"A highly satisfactory reference work, and one which should be in every home, especially where there are school children. I am expecting many years of service from these books, both for my daughter and myself." Mrs. M. J.

"Am highly pleased with my first volume of the Funk & Wagnalls New Standard Encyclopedia—think it is 'tops.' Like the size, the binding, the color, and know I will find it an invaluable source of information." Mrs. A. V. W.

"I think it worth three times the price I am paying for it, and look forward to much pleasant reading." Miss M. C.

"I consider this the most satisfactory Encyclopedia for my use I have ever consulted. My two sons, 8 and 4 years of age, respectively, and eager to learn, will soon begin and continue through the years to feast on its very interesting, well-arranged and inspiring wealth of information." Mr. W. A. T. M.

"As a teacher, I shall have many occasions to use this up-to-the-minute set." Mrs. E. R. E.

Some Facts About This Encyclopedia

We expect to enclose with Volume I a small pamphlet giving the facts to show that this is one of the finest encyclopedias anyone can buy for home use—unsurpassed by any other at any price.

In the meantime, we want to give you a few of the facts printed in the pamphlet, so as to interest you in taking the trouble to send for Volume I.

This newest 1948 Edition contains over 52,000 subjects, covered in separate articles. Compare this with any other encyclopedia in the world. You will find that this number is at least 30% greater than in encyclopedias costing you up to four times as much as ours.

Each volume (comprising about 500 double-columned pages) contains over a quarter of a million words—over 7,000,000 words in all—which will give you some idea of the completeness of coverage of each subject.

Each volume is as up-to-date as human ingenuity can make it. In this edition the subjects have been revised to cover events of this last year, and each volume, as it goes to press, is brought finally up-to-the-minute. Our unique book a week delivery plan, bringing you the volumes almost as they come off the presses, makes it the most up-to-date of encyclopedias. Better still—later volumes, delivered to you during the coming months—will contain events which have not yet occurred!

Easy-Reading Handy Volumes

Editor-in-Chief of the original edition was Frank H. Vizetelly, the beloved "Viz" of radio fame, and the editor of the unexcelled Funk & Wagnalls New Standard (unabridged) Dictionary. Surrounded by a host of authorities in many fields, he brought this immense work into being.

But the books are easy to read! Your children in grammar and high school can read them, use them with profit. Free of technical detail, abstruse wording and dry-as-dust research specialist attitude—and free also of concise, over-abbreviated, fact-omitting brevity—this grand encyclopedia will be your rainy evening companion for many years to come.

And, in spite of their truly enormous contents, each volume can be held in one hand! Gone is the old-fashioned, bulky, cumbersome format—big, heavy books that easily drop and as easily break. Here is a new, streamlined, USABLE set that is attractive, interesting and handy for daily reference.

Nor does the almost incredibly low price we have set on the remaining volumes indicate the quality of materials and labor that went into the printing and binding of the set. We have used a high-grade book paper, cover board, and binding cloth. The printing is crisp and clear-cut, and the work of binding has been done by one of the largest and best-known firms in the field. These are first-quality books, as of course you will soon see for yourself.

Unique Book a Week Plan

Our plan, which has been tested and approved by many thousands of appreciative purchasers, gives you the books almost as quickly as they come off the presses.

The first few volumes are now on press. Volume I is delivered to you immediately. Two weeks later, unless you cancel your reservation after examining Volume I, the next two volumes are mailed to you. Two weeks after that the following two volumes are sent you, and so on. You thus receive your volumes, freshly off press, at the rate of a volume a week.

YOU DO NOT PAY FOR ANY BOOKS IN ADVANCE—We enclose a bill with each two volumes, which you pay within five days after receiving the books. Considering the amazingly low price of the set, and the fact that you pay for it at the rate of only a book a week, our own pay-as-you-go plan therefore puts no strain at all on any pocketbook.

How much are the volumes? Here's the surprise. You pay only $1.49 for the De Luxe Binding, plus 11¢ mailing cost. The complete set thus costs you only a small fraction of what other high-grade encyclopedias would cost you—and we want only the opportunity to PROVE to you that ours is unexcelled for your use.

A Choice of Editions

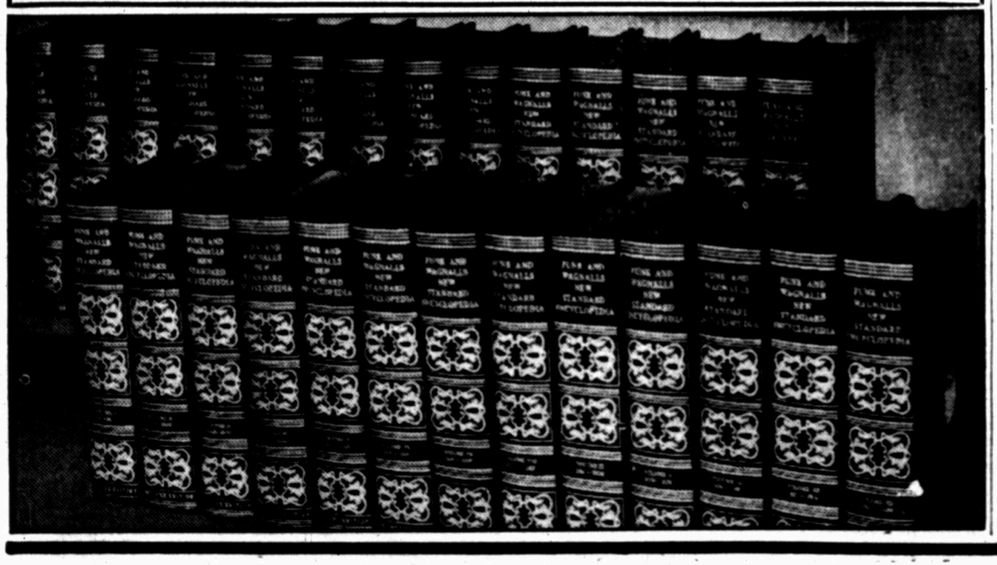

With this announcement we offer you a choice between our De Luxe Edition and our Library Edition of the encyclopedia.

The De Luxe Edition, at $1.49 per volume, is bound in dark blue, leather-grained cloth, stamped in red and gilt, as illustrated here, with head and tailbands, and harmoniously stained page-tops. End papers and frontispieces are color reproductions of woodcuts by Hans Alexander Mueller, renowned artist in that medium, the frontispieces being a set of woodcut portraits of American Presidents.

The Library Edition costs slightly more ($1.89 per volume plus the same 11¢ mailing cost), and has all the features described above, plus a more expensive binding. The covers of this superfine edition are in a tan linen-weave cloth, with red and black title panels, decorated with genuine 22 carat gold leaf, bright and untarnishing—making in all an extremely handsome and dignified set of books.

You may have your choice of these editions in sending for Volume One, at the same 10¢ mailing cost. However, before indicating your choice of editions in the coupon below, please remember the difference in price. And hurry! Fifteen hundred sets are not many for a newspaper of such large circulation as this one. First come, first served. Send off the coupon TODAY!
