Farrar Files School Suit For Tax Post

Nick Farrar, former tax assessor collector for Colorado Independent School District, has filed suit against the district, asking for $15,809 damages.

In 32nd District Court the suit claims that Farrar was "wrongfully fired and told to leave the offices" of the school tax position.

Farrar's services as tax assessor - collector were terminated by school district in a resolution by board of trustees last Aug. 8, effective for Aug. 31, 1967.

Since Farrar's departure, the position has been filled by J. S. (Jay) Craddock Jr. by appointment of the school board.

The civil court action names the district and Supt. James G. McMath as defendants. It follows reports for months that Farrar had contemplated court action in regard to his school job.

Farrar in his court petition claims he was employed as tax assessor - collector for the years beginning Sept. 1, 1967, and ending Aug. 31, 1969, at $5,400 per year and refers to written minutes of the school board.

He claims also that he accepted the contract although already employed by the school district from Sept. 1, 1966, to Aug. 31, 1967. However, his court petition states he was informed in Aug. 1967 that his services as tax assessor - collector was terminated as of Aug. 31, 1967, although an action of the board had previously, unbeknowing to the plaintiff, on July 13, 1967, attempted to rescind the contract of his employment.

Farrar claims in his suit that his contract was valid and legal, that he was able, willing and anxious to perform such services and that he continued to try to work as tax assessor - collector after Aug. 31, 1967, but was wrongfully fired and told to leave the offices.

The plaintiff asks for $10,800 actual damages and $5,000 exemplary damage, claiming that he is in ill health and unable to do heavy work, but able to handle the tax job; that he has sought but been unable to obtain employment in the Colorado City area; that the actions of the defendants were wanton, willful and maliciously done, carried by the superintendent with sanction of the school board with intent to injure Farrar without regard for his feelings or his standing in the community.

Legal consultant for the school district is Gil Jones, of Big Spring, former district attorney in that city. Attorney filing the petition for Farrar was Dell Barber.

Weather Hurts Planted Cotton

A seeding disease complex is showing up in early planted cotton all across the county.

County Agent Bobby Lemons Wednesday said he had found the disease in a personal check of more than two dozen farms. Reports of the same came in from other farms.

"This is a general conditions," Lemons said, "for cotton already up.

"It has set in after the rains that brought on cold, wet weather."

Lemons advised farmers with cotton up to quickly as possible break crust around the plants so that plants can get air and alleviate the hard crust baking around plant stems.

"This situation is unusual here," he said. "It only comes from early planting and cold rain.

"I don't think it will happen to those farmers planting now and those replanting unless extraordinary weather conditions follow.

The seeding disease is being observed in several forms — some with seed rot, some damping off and dying after sprouting, some with "sore shin" brown spots after getting up.

"We have seen cotton planted more than 3 weeks," he said, "and it is barely holding on. It is in the three leaf stage and slowly progressing."

City Making Tests

In Study Of Sewage Plant

Colorado City sanitary department employees have already started catching samples for study of this town's sewage treatment plant, said J. A. Sadler, Jr., city manager, Tuesday.

Sadler announced during City Council meeting Monday evening that the study was being made with cooperation of the Texas State Health Department.

Samples are now being taken at the influent intake and at the effluent which discharges into the Colorado River, under statuatory permit from the State Health Department.

Taking of samples which are then sent to Austin for examination and analysis will be continued for about six months, Sadler said.

We are simply looking toward the future," said Sadler when asked what promted the study at this time.

Our sewage disposal plant was built in 1947. That's 21 years ago. Time gets by. If the current study should show that we need updating, we want to proceed under the normal city budget instead of being ordered to update under emergency conditions," the city manager said.

Post chlorination, that is, chlorination of the effluent, is definitely going to be necessary in the future if Colorado City is to continue to be appointed by State Health Department, Sadler stated.

"The study is simply for evaluation purposes," he stressed, and has not been ordered by any board or suggested by anybody except city officials interested in city health and civic improvement.

If current tests show that changes are needed, the city's engineering firm would then be called to keep the plant operating by State Health Department standards.

Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock, city engineering firm, presented a city council a report of the recently completed city paving program. Total cost of paving, less engineering costs, was $217,925, the report showed. City property owners paid or owe for a total of 207,620. Engineering costs, paid by the city totaled $38,350.55.

The city also paid $10,305 for intersection paving, making the city's "out of pocket" share $50,528.72, Sadler noted.

Cost of another new project for the city, lifting and widening of the low water bridge at the dam over Lone Wolf Creek in Ruddick Park, was $6,701, City Council was told in another report.

Widening of the bridge at low water crossing and raising of the crossing has already added 30 inches more than 3 feet of water to the park's pond. Crossing was raised 4 feet and bridge was widened by 8 feet. A drain pipe was added to help prevent flooding and inundation at the low water crossing, Ruddick Park pond, formed

Frank Ginzel, county attorney presented a resolution requested a plank in the Democratic platform for support of laws to prosecute those who act against constituted authority to breach the peace.

The resolution was approved by unanimous vote of the county convention.

It read as follows: "Be it resolved on this 11th day of May A.D. 1968 by delegates to the Mitchell County Democratic county con-

Shorty Northcutt, Ranch Manager, Talks Balance

"Two things that are not needed on a ranch are a dry cow and a bale of hay," commented J.E. (Shorty) Northcutt, manager of the 120,000 acre Renderbrook Spade Ranch.

"A dry cow is a boarder that does not pay her way. If she does not raise a calf, she receives a one-way ticket to the market," Northcutt said.

"If feed supply is so low that a rancher has to feed hay, too many cattle have been kept on the range too long. The only feed that will make the rancher any money in West Texas is the grass we grow on the range," he said.

"Range management, including brush control, fencing, salting, and water development as well as animal husbandry practices, must be based upon Livestock in balance with feed," Northcutt stated.

Northcutt joined the Renderbrook Spade in April 1933. In 1935 Christine Bolin became Mrs. J. E. Northcutt, and a participant in the ranching operations. They have reared two sons —Bobby, who has followed his father's footsteps, and is now foreman of the ranch, and Kenneth, an ensign in the U. S. Navy, serving off the coast of Vietnam.

In 1958, Northcutt became assistant manger asuming the duties of wagon boss. In February 1967, he was promoted to manager of the ranch.

Many new methods of range management and animal husbandry have become a part of the ranching operations since Northcutt was made assistant manager.

"Brush control including chaining is the greatest thing since wheels were invented. If I had to give up screw worm control or brush control, I would give up screw worm control. I can handle the screw worms without brush, but I cannot handle this brush," Northcutt added.

Brush control cannot be a hit-or-miss program. It must be planned to get the best results for the least amount of cost. It must be scheduled to allow the rancher to defer the pastures following brush control. Rotation deferred grazing works well with brush control, he holds.

Pastures to be treated can be the ones that are to be rested in the rotation. Since 1969, the ranch has controlled brush on 51,691 acres by chemical crown treatment, 5,393 acres by chaining; 250 acres of cacti by grubbing and/or based treatment.

Plans for 1968, call to treat 15,000 acres by chemical crown treatment, and 90,138 acres of rotation - deferred grazing.

A few years ago, the ranch set up and started the practice of rotation - deferred grazing. Last year, Northcutt installed and is now carrying out rotation - deferred grazing on all the ranch.

"The four- pasture, four-month system is a natural for ranching operations. It fits in well with other range management pracices," Northcutt stated.

Some other practices the ranch has planned and applied recently are:

Fencing: Twenty-six miles of new fences constructed to plan, install, and carry out the brush control and rotation - deferred grazing. The number of pastures has been increased from 15 to 28.

Watering Places: Twelve ponds, four wells including storages and 4,092 feet of pipeline. Taps on two lines. Municipal Water Authority owned by Colorado River have added several nwe watering places.

Working Pens: Four additional sets of working pens have been constructed to facilitate the working of livestock. All livestock are worked in pens.

Scales: Two new sets of scales have been installed. Four sets of scales are now utilized to keep a good record of the pounds of beef produced.

Horses: All horses used on the ranch are raised to provide a special type of quarter horse that has been developed and bred by the ranch.

Range management and animal husbandry practices are paying off in calf crop production. In 1966, the ranch delivered a 94.7 per cent calf crop. Due to sell-off and reworking of the rotation deferred grazing, an accurate record of the 1967 calf crop is not available. So far in 1968, a 95 percent calf crop has been marked up.

Commercial hunting has become a very important phase of the ranching operations. Northcutt urged that the income from hunting would pay the cake bill. "It is doing it now," he said.

All brush control work is planned to provide and improve the wildlife habitat. "We must not do anything that will destroy our wildlife," Northcutt concluded.

by the dam at the crossing should be wider, deeper, and prettier, Sadler said.

Council appointed R. B. Baker and A. L. Geer to the city board of equalization, with Henry Billberry and Phillip Berman also named, subject to their acceptance.

City National Bank again named as official city funds depository for another two years.

Low bid from Jay Adams Chevrolet of $2,960 for purchase of a two-ton truck by the city accepted. Pakmor Co. bid of $3,206 for a 3,205.8 cubic - yard garbage packer unit was accepted. The garbage packer will be mounted on the new truck for use by city sanitary department employees.

No tradein was included because the city has long needed "A spare," said Sadler, to continue efficient twice - weekly garbage pickup for city residents.

Ministers Tour

For Soil Stewardship

Soil Stewardship Week, May 19-26, will be sponsored by Mitchell County Soil & Water Conservation District with cooperation of the Ministerial Alliance.

Saluting the week were two special programs this week in preparation of the official observation.

Monday morning, starting at 10 a.m., there was an agricultural tour for members of Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance with John Kazda as tour guide.

Tour left the SCS office by school bus, stopping first at the farm of Tommy Christon where cropping system and parallel teracing were discussed.

Second stop was at Rex T. McKenney land for a study of brush control. Tour members then were guest at the McKenney home where Mrs. McKenney was hostess for a coffee and refreshment hour.

John Russell of Farmers Home Administration and the host, McKenney, explained and demonstrated farm machinery.

The group next traveled to V.R. Trulock estate land to observe a farm pond.

Chaining of mesquite was observed on Tom Morrison land. The tour ended with a noon luncheon hour in Cattleman's Restaurant. Leslie Mickey, minister of 22nd & Austin St. Church of Christ was speaker at the luncheon.

Letter To The Editor

Westbrook, Texas,
Route 1, Box 3
Dear Joe —

I feel that the letter to the editor in the Sunday paper must be answered.

When I read it I went to the Westbrook cemetery to see what had happened there in last few days. It was so pretty and clean and the only "weeds" there were the native wild flowers that were a solid mass of blooms.

As "Name Withheld" may or may not know, we do not have water in our cemetery and the native grasses and flowers are left for ground cover rather than scraping the ground and letting the dirt blow.

Graves are as clean as can be with grass left between the plots. This grass is mowed regularly. We have an active Westbrook Cemetery Association staffed by elected officers who are very capable and faithful and who give their time and energy.

Each Memorial Day we have an all-day meeting, work the lots that need working, have a short business session and Memorial Service for our honored dead. Flags are placed on graves of all servicemen sunrise to sunset. At noon we enjoy the fellowship of basket lunches served under a tent kindly furnished each year by Doyle Kiker.

There are so many people who give of their time working in our cemetery all year. Some are paid (not enough) but most are not. This service is given the community from loving hearts by people who care. No grave is ever nelected even though it is not marked in any way.

To our friends who have moved away from here and who still generously and faithfully contribute through the Association for care and up keep of the cemetery, and who still subscribe to the Colorado City Record, let me say that it has been many years since I have seen Westbrook cemetery overgrown with weeds except when it was too muddy to work.

In fact, I think it is a most attractive little country cemetery.

I am sure that if "Name Withheld" would like to bring flowers to graves of friends or loved ones, this action would be most welcome.

I will appreciate it if you will print this letter.

Sincerely Yours,
MRS. REX T. McKENNEY

EDITOR'S NOTE: At the some time Mrs. McKenney's letter arrived, there came a second note from the writer of the first letter. It reads as follows:

Thank you for printing my letter but there is an error I would like to correct — one I made, not you.

I failed to mention the cemetery I was referring to. It was the COLORADO CITY CEMETERY, not the Westbrook cemetery.

A gas range is a food cooker... not a you cooker!

There's no hangover heat with a gas range. Turn off the burner and the heat's off instantly. Gas infra-red broiling is 30% faster, too, so the heat's off sooner. And, the broiler door stays closed because the flame eats up the smoke. The heat stays on the job and out of your kitchen.

You say you'd like a few suggestions on how to get more out of your telephone service?

Here are five tips to help make your every "hello" a real good buy:

1. Whenever you're moving to another town within the Bell System, let us arrange for your phone service before you move. If you know the address of your new home, we can make arrangements in advance so you'll have the exact service you want in your new home. We'll also refer calls from your old phone to your new number if you like. Just call the business office and ask about our Easy Move Plan. There's no extra charge.

2. Speaking of moving, we hope you realize that wherever you move in the Bell System, there is no color charge for the phones at your new address if you had color phones at your old address.

3. Ever wonder what to do when you get a wrong number on a Long Distance call? Just hang up, dial "0" for "Operator," and tell her what happened. She'll see that you're not charged for the call.

4. And if you ever lose your dime in an out-of-order pay telephone, just go to a working phone and report it to the Operator. She'll arrange to have your dime mailed to you. Also, if you give her the number of the out-of-order phone, we'll get it fixed right away.

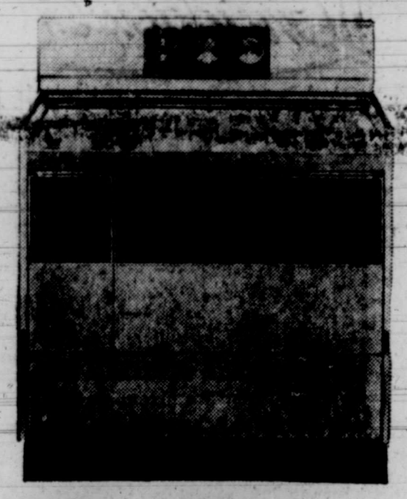

5. Long Distance interstate rates are lower all day Saturday and Sunday, and after 7 p.m. each weekday. You can also save money if you call by number. A station-to-station Long Distance call costs about one-third less than a person-to-person call.

At Southwestern Bell, our goal is to help you get the very best telephone service. We want your every "hello" to be a real good buy.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

AMAZING, isn't it, the things people can learn from reading newspapers! For instance learned Sunday that there is anew movement underway to abolish both the term housewife and homemaker.

Some smart gal or other wants to do away with those labels in favor of "domestic engineer."

Perish the thought. Domestic means homeloving tame, all right, all right, but it also means in hifalutin' circles a servant or maid. As one of the tribe of little women who can't replace a fuse, fix an iron cord, or put in new washers, simply have no desire to be referred to as an engineer. Or domestic, either.

Us housewifes and homemakers can smile and say please to the man of the house. Or we can call the plumber. We've got a pretty good thing going for us like it is. Make engineers out of us and we're sunk.

HOMEMAKER has always had such a beautiful sound. It's a literal term, meaning simply the maker of a home.

Homemaker smacks of the art of cookery, supper on the patio, children in the kitchen . . . the joy of new linoleum, fresh curtains, wild colors for bed linens, slacks and shorts and sandals and a man coming home to rest.

Housewife is all right in its way. Only it's ambigous. It sounds as if a woman were married to a house. Housewife. Have known a few such creatures to be pitied. They're the ones who follow people around with ash trays, dust pans, broom, and mop. They buy soft chairs to admire but not to sit in. They are even apt to cry over spilled milk from a small child's mug to the tablecloth.

Most of us homemakers, however, prefer to be the wife of the legal spouse, not a house. It not only is more fun, it is easier.

Any time women get promoted to the realm of domestic engineer, it's going to set this country back 100 years. Next thing you know men will want us to fix the furnace and mow the grass.

REAL something else that intrigued, Sunday. It was a story based on another survey.

Little or short women are more accident prone than their taller, calmer sisters, the survey was said to have proved.

A short woman is more apt to stand up in chairs, which is purley logical while hanging curtains or reaching for the casserole on top shelf. So far, so good.

But a little woman is also more likely to leave the iron plugged in, burn her fingers on the oven rack, grate her thumb, and cut her fingers, the article noted.

Why was not made clear. But at least all of us five foot two or under can now feel justified and proud of our scars.

"I couln't reach the toaster," we can say, "and because I'm so accident prone, we're having scrambled eggs."

HEAR TELL our Roy Davis Coles, Jr. of Bakersfield, California spent Saturday and Sunday here with his parents Roy D. and Alice. He was enroute to Houston to attend an exploitation conference. Roy Jr. is division engineer for Shell Oil Co.

Sunday, the Coles home also had as guests their daughter Rebecca, her husband Bob Erice, and their children David, Doug, and Mary Alice, of Lubbock; Mr. Coles' brother and his sister Mrs. John Brown and brother Corley Bozman.

Saw cute Shirley Delaney at the bank. Ditto Aveline Hallmark, Lena Strange, George Womack, Tom Rees and Trevelyn Kelley.

Mrs. Homan Posey was on the downtown scene. So were the Rush Neffs. Talked a minute to Bea Henderson, wife of Eual, Bonnie Brown, wife of James, and Mae Dunn, wife of Glenn.

FAMILIAR FACES various places belonged to Mrs. Raymond Wheeler of Loraine . . . Bobby Lemons, Allen Sheppard, and John Kazda, all at one and the same time.

Did you know that Gloria Richardson and Delza Kaye Moore are to be freshman roomates at McMurry College in Abilene?

TWO interesting little books have come this way, recently. One is Scurry County Style, "stories from below the Caprock and Beyond," written by Viola M. Payne whose mother was a Bozeman.

The author is niece of Corley Bozeman, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Roy Davis Coles, all of C City, and of Mrs. Charles Womack, former C-Citian.

John and Mary Womack have an authographed copy of the charming little book published by Texas University Press. Scurry County Style is an informal book with bright verbal pictures of this part of the world "back when." Mrs. Payne lives now in El Paso.

LENA BAUMANN, women's editor, has the other little book. It is Bleeding China, story of the late Herman Becker, missionary, as written by Fred J. Meiday and published by the Christian Victory Co. in Denver. Mrs. Becker gave it to Lena.

Particularly facinating is the account of the meeting of Pastor Becker and Joe Cowan family on the Palau Islands.

Mrs. Becker and Miss Minna Ostertag, also retired missionaries, now live in the Cowan home here on Chestnut St. through courtesy of their friends Joe and Eunice Cowan. The Cowans attended Pastor Becker's mission church, the Emmaus Mission, on Palau, after Pastor Becker retired from China.

FAMILY GATHERING

Mother's Day Dinner Fetes Mrs. J. Brown

CHINA GROVE — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and children hosted a Mother's Day and birthday dinner Sunday honoring Mr. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Pylant and children of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Merket of Coyado City.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Laster were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray and children of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Stubblefield of Odessa.

J. D. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Hall and granddaughter, Naomi, visited Mrs. Reed Ashley and daughter in Snyder Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and granddaughter, Weinona, visited Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Stone in Colorado City Saturday evening.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pete White were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jones and Regina of Lubbock, Mrs. Don Wester, Rickey and Angie of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Cotton of Dunn recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesy Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall of Stanton.

Mrs. Hollis Mize Jr. of San Angelo was winner of a free trip to Horse Show Ford Arle for her and her family at a recent fair.

If you're counting on a new VW, you can stop at $X,XXX.*

In fact, when it comes to money, a VW will save you a lot of counting after you buy it, too.
On gas bills. (It gets about 27 mpg.)
On tires. (They average 40,000 miles.)
It hardly ever needs oil between changes.
And, since the engine is air-cooled you never have to dish out for anti-freeze.
So if you don't like to count, buy a Volkswagen.
It figures.

A Floral Story –

One of the most impressive reports coming to me is the Mother's Day and Easter business by Colorado City's Neff Nursery & Greenhouses.

To help provide happiness for mothers across West Texas the Neffs shipped out more than 4,000 floral plants. Weeks earlier, for Easter, they moved out 5,000.

That's pretty good wholesaling anytime for this new, expanding industry within our community.

However, right now it is even finer because it marks a comeback by Mr. and Mrs. Rush Neff from a greenhouse fire earlier in the year that caused for them a $28,000 loss — all uninsured.

So, while their flowers are making others happy . . . I'm especially happy for the Neffs, who incidentally are the kind of looking-up moving-ahead citizens our community needs.

Q. How often do you get a bargain these days?

A. Every time you use electricity.

True, your electric bill probably is higher than it was a few years ago. That's because you use more electricity to enjoy added comforts and conveniences.

During the past 10 years, the average price per kilowatt-hour to residential customers of Texas Electric Service has come down 27%. At the same time, the average annual use of electric energy by our residential customers has more than doubled.

Electric service is a big exception to rising living costs. It's one of the few things that costs less than 10 years ago.

Electricity, the clean modern energy that does so many nice things for you, is the biggest bargain in your household budget.

Panelists Discuss Faiths At May Fellowship Program

A panel of women from the Abilene area was featured Friday during the May Fellowship Day Program for local United Church Women.

The five panelists all homemakers and Abilene civic leaders are members of a group who meet monthly for the purpose of discussing preiudices and how it affects them.

They were Mrs. Benjamin Aguirre, who spoke of Latin American Baptists; Mrs. John Wiley, a Unitarian; Mrs. Walter Hoffienz, a Methodist; Mrs. Marna Franklin, a member of the Jewish faith, and Mrs. Ray Prien, a Catholic.

Mrs. Hoffienz, whose husband is a professor at McMurry College, was moderator for the panel.

They began their discussion by telling about their individual religions, what they believe and how religion prejudices affect them and their families.

Mrs. Hubert Bassinger, vice president of United Church Women, presided during the business meeting.

Mrs. James E. Payne was program organist. Mrs. B.A. Jackson, chairman for the program, directed music.

Rev. Billy Wilkerson, pastor of First Methodist Church, said the opening prayer. Mrs. J. S. Craddock Sr., spoke the closing prayer.

Mrs. J. S. Craddock Jr. accompanied her IF a.m. family living students of Colorado High School to the panel discussion.

A covered dish luncheon was served in Fellowship Hall of the church following the program.

Buffet table was centered with a large bouquet of geraniums. Dining tables were arranged with smaller bouquets of geraniums.

Mrs. Charles Thompson was in charge of floral arrangements.

Potted geraniums were given to members of the panel.

Approximately 55 persons attended the annual May Fellowship Day program.

Agent Tells Pecan Tree Treatment

Pecan growers in Mitchell County who have observed inadequate growth of their trees, particularly the younger ones, can probably attribute the condition to zinc deficiency, reports Bobby Lemons, County Agricultural Agent.

"Zinc deficiency in pecans is a common occurence in this area," he said. The condition is best indentified by a shortening of the internodes and small leaves where there is new growth, explains Lemons. Yellowing may also occur and, severe cases, leaflets may die.

Foliar applications of zinc sulfate (36 percent zinc) gives effective control of this disorder, point out the agent. A solution may be prepared by dissolving two level teaspoons of zinc sulfate in one and ½ gallons of water and adding one-half teaspoon of liquid household detergent to insure even coverage. This gives a consentration equal to one pound of zinc sulfate per 50 gallons of water.

Foliage should be sprayed until wet when leaves are about one-third grown, says Lemons. Spraying should be repeated about three weeks later.

If pecan nut casebearer is a problem, the zinc solution may be mixed with the regular spray to control this insect. Zinc deficiency is limited primarily to pecans, adds Lemons, but may possibly affect other trees and shrubs. Additional information on this disorder is found in Leaflet L-721 available at the County Extension Office.

Administration Reports

On Business Program

Small Business Administration programs are now working at all-time highs and are going farther than before to meet the challenge of opening new opportunity in deprived areas, Administrator Robert C. Moot said recentiy.

In a "State of the Agency" message Moot called for steadily increasing efforts to unify the work of all levels of government with private enterprises to bring new business and job opportunities to deprived areas.

Moot said that "despite a creditable record, we must reach still more of the population that has been denied opportunity. We must help more people attain a measure of economic security and a place of dignity in our affluent society."

The message went to members of the Small Business National Advisory Council, public advisors of the Agency, who met in Washington, May 12, marking the opening of National Small Business Week.

Moot pointed out that SBA in its 15 years of existence has funneled more than $5 billion in loans into small business, provided an endless supply of management assistance, and now has even gone into business itself.

SBA, with Congressional Authority, is taking government contracts for items relatively easy to produce, then subcontracting actual production to small firms putting plants in depressed areas to provide jobs and necessary training for "hard core" unemployed.

He also described a new Community Development program now started in seven depressed areas, under which all the resources of the Agency are directed to finding persons who may be trained to become small businessmen, and helping them get started. Tentativly, seventy target areas have been named for the program

The Administrator's survey of the Agency also showed:

1,500 Local Development projects, aided by SBA loans and community investments, have produced more than 64,000 jobs.

In the past 13 months Economic Opportunity Loans to disadvantaged persons in urban and rural areas have gone to 3,700 persons for total of nearly $40 million.

Nearly $100 million has been loaned to business displaced by Federally-aided projects in urban renewal, road construction, etc.

About 69,000 loans were made to victims of 600 disasters for an aggregated total of $616 million.

SBA assisted small firms in getting 9.9 billion in subcontracts from Federal procurement prime contractors.

More than 3.5 million SBA publications covering 500 different subjects were distributed last year alone as part of SBA's program of management assistance.

SCORE, the Service Corps of Retired Executives, which aids small businessmen in need of advice, now has 3,600 volunteers with expertise in numerous fields including industry, banking, law accounting, advertising, etc.

SBA will shortly complete an in-depth study of crime on small businesses. Undertaken at the direction of Congress the study will evaluate protective devices, development of new systems, possible changes in small business physical facilities, etc.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Then you will visit a travel agency, study maps, read travel books, and talk with those who have already made the journey.

And what about that far more important (and uncertain) journey . . . the journey of life?

The Church offers wise counseling from those who have studied life.

The Church presents you with a map formed from the fundamental truths of God and his directives for living.

The Church interprets for you the greatest of all travel books, the Bible.

The Church gives you the companionship of the all-wise Guide, who made this journey without a mistake, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Agency, map, travel book and Guide for life's journey. Come to Church and find them all.
