The Board of Navigation and Canal Commissioners met May 1 with Chairman, Richard J. Fox presiding. Commissioners present were Wm. M. Brown, Jr., R. W. Landrum, David Maguflin and F. M. Rouquette, attorney Ellis L. Clark and harbormaster B. C. DeForest. Visitors were Dr. and Mrs. George Miller of Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Jr., and M. W. Cochran. Minutes of previous meetings were read and approved.

Treasurer's report was reviewed. The Board approved transfer of funds in the amount of $11,700.98 from the escrow account to the rental account for operating expenses. Monthly bills were approved and checks signed.

Miller appeared before the board to obtain its approval to continue with plans for building a full-service dry-dock marina at Cove Harbor, which had been discussed and outlined at the special meeting. Pros and cons were discussed and Commissioner Brown made a motion that Miller be allowed to proceed with project. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Maguflin. Vote carried.

Mrs. Smith asked the board's approval to sublease the Basin Cafe from Mrs. Gladys Houk until the business agreement between the two parties were completed, then the Smiths would assume the lease. Approval was granted by the board.

Cochran, consulting engineer, appeared before the board with an outline of the rules of the Parks and Wildlife Dept. of Texas regarding the bulkheading of the Rockport Beach. The board agreed that Cochran should prepare specifications for application to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. and the Corps of Engineers of Galveston for permit. Also, public notice will be run three consecutive days in the nearest daily paper, being the Corpus Christi Caller.

The harbormaster reported that eight pilings were needed at the Fulton Harbor, south of B dock to 1st dock. Motion was made by Commissioner Rouquette that the piling be set. Motion was seconded by R. W. Landrum. Motion carried.

Whoopers Leave Aransas Refuge

The whooping cranes have flown their winter coop at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge.

The last two of the 51 whooping cranes staying at the Aransas Refuge are believed to have left.

Lee Marlatt, assistant refuge manager, said an adult and a young whooper were spotted in the refuge April 28. Marlatt said no whoopers were seen during a check May 2.

"They probably left April 29," Marlatt said.

The whoopers have been leaving for their northern home in Canada during the past three weeks, according to Marlatt. He said some whoopers were seen in North Dakota last week.

The whoopers are returning to their nesting grounds in the Wood Buffalo National Park in northern Alberta, Canada. The nearly extinct birds began their winter stay in South Texas last October.

County Finances In Good Shape

Aransas County upkeep, repairs and equipment for rural roads almost kept pace with the spending in general fund operations during 1972, according to the annual report prepared by Mary A. Deane, acting auditor.

Submitted to commissioners court and district judges, the account of fiscal affairs for last year reported the outstanding debt of Aransas at the end of 1972 amounted to $13,500 in short-term time warrants. This sum, plus interest charges of $675, will be retired this year.

All county funds and departments wound up the year with balances. With a $1.10 tax rate and assessed valuations of $44 millions for 1972, the general fund recorded ad valorem tax receipts totaling $241,659.75, providing about two-thirds of the revenue source for general fund spending.

Remainder of the $430,908 in general fund receipts came from a Jan. 1 balance of $50,491, and fees of office. The bulk of the latter came from the tax assessor-collector who reported $67,362 in fees.

General fund outlay for the same period totaled $320,780, leaving a balance at the end of the reporting period at $110,128.

The road and bridge maintenance and operating fund for 1972 drew $279,873.07 from its revenue sources, including the 30 cent road and bridge special tax levied, and automobile registrations. Total resources available to this fund amounted to $330,316, including a beginning balance of $50,443.

Disbursements from this fund totaled $270,671.68, leaving a balance at the end of the reporting period of $59,645.13.

In a separate fund, another $7,968 was expended for road and bridge equipment bringing total outlay for road purposes for 1972 to $279,000.

The jury fund for 1972 reported total funds available $7,971.71, and disbursements of $7,064.95, leaving a balance at the end of the year of $906.76.

The mosquito control fund reported funds available last year of $33,562.81, while disbursements amounted to $23,632.33, putting the year-end balance at $9,930.48.

The county-owned airport fund reported the healthiest account, showing funds sources available of $260,584.02, while expenditures totaled only $3,906.17. Oil royalties produced the major revenue source for this fund, but the proceeds can be used only for airport purposes, according to county officials.

Balance in the fund at the end of the year totaled $256,677.85. In addition, it was reported that the county also owns securities totaling $28,500.

A list of the Concern Center at 114 N. Church Street, across from this month's meeting, will follow. The Center, which is a community service offering a place for needs of all people to be brought and answers sought, opened May 1 and already has been much involved in establishing the Youth Employment Center (Y.E.S.), coordinating volunteer cooperation in city-county Clean Up Week May 7 - 14, and assisting individuals and groups in securing information about people and group resources here.

If you would like to know of services in this area, volunteers answering the Concern Center's phone (729-2672) using the Referral Services Listings, will assist you with information ranging from who is available locally in time of crisis; interest groups you may want to join for recreation or study; when Bingo games, pot luck suppers and fish fries are scheduled on the Community Calendar; and how you may be a part of making something new happen here, when needs are not being met.

Anyone who would like to volunteer his or her time and interest to programs that are being developed in areas of employment, recreation, ecology and better communication between people and groups, is invited to call the Center (729-2672) or come by 114 N. Church Street.

Mayor Discusses Growth 'Pains'

Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr. views the waterfront as one of Rockport's most valuable assets.

And with this thought in mind, he says that the municipal government is taking a close look at all rezoning requests for permission to use waterfront property for business purposes.

But the greatest problem facing the city of under 5,000 population, he said, is the rapid, uncontrolled growth on all sides, just beyond the municipality's extraterritorial jurisdiction.

Operating under general law because of its population size, Rockport cannot annex, unless it is by petition. The result is that the city is unable to expand for protective purposes, Falk said.

Falk said he personally does not consider growth "for growth's sake" always in the best interest of a city, but that he would like to see Rockport in a position to be able to annex "areas to our mutual advantage."

"We hope to reach...in a year or two...5,000 population," he said.

Another special concern to Rockport at this time, he said, is that "more and more Aransas Pass is expanding into Aransas County."

He said that Aransas Pass Mayor J. M. Attaway recently assured him that Aransas Pass does not plan on extending its boundaries any closer to Rockport.

Falk believes that this is a case in point; That Rockport is too small, on the one hand, to extend its own boundaries for protective reasons, and at the same time it stands at some future date to inherit many of the problems developing on its flanks.

In an effort to put the city's immediate and future growth prospects in perspective, Falk said that if all the inquires and plans on the drawing board at present are realized, Rockport would have a population of 45,000 within 10 years time.

He said the city recently increased its sewer treatment plant capacity from 500,000 gallons a day to one million gallons "and we already have requests for another one million."

He said there are proposals for development of offshore islands, and that one concern made inquiries about developing a 1,200-acre tract. "That could mean an additional 7,500 people right there," he said, of the 1,200-acre tract inquiry.

The city is enforcing its subdivision ordinance within its extraterritorial jurisdiction, and this means that the city is furnishing sanitary sewer services to developments in this area. Falk said the city will put in sewers and bill the developers.

But the protection of the waterfront property is of special interest to Falk. He said the city is particularly concerned about controlling the growth along the waterfront from Liberty Street, all along Texas 35 and out around Little Bay.

"That is what draws the tourists and winter visitors," he remarked.

TAX OFFICE NOW OPEN AT NOON

Mrs. Margaret Weber, tax assessor-collector for Aransas County, agreed to staff her office during the noon hour.

The request was made by the commissioners court after several members said they had received complaints of the noon hour closing.

The issue was raised by Commissioner Erie Eller, who said he had received four complaints recently. Commissioner Wanda Sparks commented that she too had received complaints.

Most of the complaints, it was indicated, have come from individuals who work out of town.

Mrs. Weber readily agreed to staff the office 12 - 1 p.m. However, she pointed out that except perhaps during the period when license tags are sold, few persons have occasion to be inconvenienced by the noon office closing.

'Clean Up Week' Spurs Many People into Action

"Clean Up Week," officially proclaimed for May 7 - 12 by City of Rockport and Aransas County officials, got off to a good start with indications that by the end of the concentrated campaign this area would be much cleaner.

Many individuals and organizations went into action even before the official start of the drive and continued their efforts throughout this week.

City and county crews pitched in and the results of their work could be observed by the improved appearance of the streets in the downtown business area and along the roads winding throughout the county.

One example of an organization assuming "Clean Up" responsibilities was the work of the Aransas County Chapter of the Young Homemakers of Texas.

These young ladies concentrated on local parks. Armed with plastic sacks and metal containers, they picked up cans, bits of paper and other types of trash which they loaded into

Garcia Narrates Cancer Film

Gene Garcia, local attorney and a director of the American Cancer Society of Aransas County, narrated a film, "Man Alive" for the GI Forum Sunday.

The film is about a man that has cancer and almost worries himself to death listening to his friends' advice about cancer and finally in desperation he goes to a doctor and finds that because of early detection he can be cured.

The film also stresses cancer's 7 warning signals, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a change in size or color of a wart or mole, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, change in bowel or bladder habits, unusual bleeding or discharge, a sore that does not heal and hoarseness or cough.

He said the city has reserved its federal revenue - sharing funds received in 1972 to assist in financing any capital expenditure necessary to solve the solid waste disposal problem.

The city received $31,000 last year in revenue-sharing funds, and expects to receive approximately the same amount this year.

Johnson pointed out that if the city decides to purchase its own incinerator, it will take up to $300 a month for fuel, plus a certain amount of backup equipment. "And we will still be faced with a site to take things that you can't burn," he said.

Rockport continues to burn at the existing 29-acre sanitary landfill site, about 2 1/2 miles west of the city. "And we will keep on burning until the end of the year," Johnson said.

way 35 North and Bayshore has now been moved. The club cleared the triangle of large diseased plants that made mowing in the past difficult. The addition of 5 Dwarf yaupon plants in the existing planter completed this small area.

The "Centennial Time Capsule" has been surrounded with dwarf yaupon shrubs. The marker was moved and placed in front of the time capsule with Indian hawthorn plants at each end. Fig Ivy has been planted at the base of the capsule and soon will cover the entire capsule. The capsule will then appear to be a large round trimmed hedge, surrounded with the low yaupon hedge.

The Rockport Home and Garden Club does not feel that its responsibility ends with the project planting. Local organizations are being contacted and asked to take on, as a club project, the maintenance of one planter for a designated period of time. The Garden Club will place a plaque on each planter naming the organization maintaining a specific planter. Mrs. Stubbs requests that if you have not been contacted and your group is interested in maintaining one of the planters, that you contact one of the committee members.

The Garden Club will maintain planter "C" along with coordinating the "Maintain A Planter" program. Not only organizations but individuals may volunteer to care for a planter.

Boy Scout Troop 280 has volunteered to care for planter "H". They will see that the plants are properly watered and the planter weeded. Melvin Mills is troop leader.

"The Outsiders," a youth group of the First Methodist Church, will maintain planter "G". Mrs. David Rossman is adult leader of this group.

Mrs. R. L. Eckman pointed out that the first year of the planting is the most critical time. They must be properly watered to become firmly established. After the ground cover has grown sufficiently to cover the planters, maintenance will be at a minimum.

Members of the club who served on the Urban Beautification Committee are Mrs. W. K. Thomas, Mrs. B. F. Street, Jr., Mrs. Danny Adams, Mrs. Bob Evers, Mrs. T. E. McCardle, Mrs. E. H. Butler, Mrs. Eckman, chairman and Mrs. Stubbs, co-chairman.

Mrs. Stubbs said, "Club members wish to express their appreciation to Delmar Hiller of the Centennial Committee, the Mayor, City Council and Navigation District, for the trust and opportunity given the club to use their talents for such a worthwhile project."

There will be a joint installation of officers of the V. F. W. and Ladies Auxiliary May 21 at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited.

Corpus Christi Little Theatre

"The Accidental Angel" by Ron Alexander is the next offering at The Little Theatre Corpus Christi. The breezy family comedy shows the reaction of a college community to a visitor from another dimension of time. The peaceful college community is in an uproar when a young professor's experiments result in a series of laboratory explosions. They get even more excited when the professor refuses to stop using his father's formulas that have resulted in these explosions. Then the college is really amazed by the visit of a "manifestation" in the guise of a beautiful young lady who admits to being an angel.

"The Accidental Angel" will open Friday, May 11, playing Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. on May 11, 12, 18, 19, 25, and 26. One Thursday performance is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. on May 17. Tickets are available at 5523 S. Alameda or phone 991,6770 for reservations.

It's parade time again in Rockport.

The Aransas County Riding Association parade will be held June 2.

Boys and girls with bicycles! Borrow some of Dad's car wax and put a shine on that bike that'll hurt your eyes. Dude it up with pretty crepe paper or anything your little heart desires! There's a special place for you in the parade.

Do you have a dune buggy? Pony cart? Goat cart? Little red wagon? Big red wagon? Motor scooter? Mini bike? Stick horse? Little brother? Little sister? Big brother? Big Sister? Dress up or clown up!

Merchants, put a sign on your car with a pretty girl at the wheel, so you can be represented!

You young fellows with ski boats and pretty girl friends! Shine up your boat and pull it filled with pretty girls in the parade.

If you wish to fix a float, remember there will be a trophy for the most beautiful and most original float. Time: Saturday, June 2nd, 10 a.m. You may call Peggy Hunt, 729-5111 after 6:30 p.m. or Vel McLester, 729-2793 most any time of the day.

Auto Safety Center Winners

Winners in the drawing at the grand opening of Auto Safety Center were Otis Cartwright who won a set of tires; W. Bonanegra, set of heavy duty shock absorbers; Ceylon Ammons, wheel alignment for one year; and Emma Ramirez, set of wheels balanced.

WINS TROPHY -- Tammy Mayes, 5, recently was named "Miss San Antonio Bay" at the Seadrift Water Safari Holiday. Selected from 22 contestants, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary W. Mayes of Port Lavaca and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eathan Fricks and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mayes of Rockport.

Cheerleaders Elected

Cheerleaders for Rockport-Fulton High School were elected April 26. The following girls were elected by popular vote of the student body and also by two out-of-town judges to serve for the coming school year: Cathy Flores, Myrna Wilcox, Cindy Fields, Mellinee Harwick, and Teresa Domaschk.

Gayna Harrell Presents Program

Gayna Harrell, former owner of Gayna's Flower Shop, was guest speaker at the Young Homemakers meeting May 1.

Mrs. Harrell presented a program on artificial flower arranging. She demonstrated a center flower arrangement and a one sided flower arrangement. She gave special tips on how to dry flowers. After her program her arrangement was awarded to Janice Spears.

A short business meeting was held. Becky Livingston read the minutes, and Jane Browning gave the treasurer's report. Debbie Kelly, gave a report about the Field Day that was held in Yorktown.

Plans were discussed about what to do for Rockport since May 7 - 14 is Beautification Week. A motion was made to clean up two parks in the Rockport area.

The club finalized their plans for the FHA Mother-Daughter Banquet, which is to be held May 15, at 7:00 p.m., in the High School Cafeteria.

Members present at the meeting were: Becky Livingston, Maryllan Bennet, Jane Browning, Benny Moore, Sue Randow, Carol Winkler, Glenda Blankenship, Lenora Beck, Janice Spears, Francis Mutchner, and Debbie Kelly.

Can't Be Done

Perpetual motion is virtually impossible because energy cannot be created. Without a constant source of energy, any machine will eventually run down because some of the energy will be changed into heat by friction.

WALL COLLAPSES

SYRACUSE--While watching television in his living room, Arnold West heard a noise and when he turned around the rear wall of the building had collapsed. No injuries were sustained in the 100-year-old brick structure.

Smart Scotchman

Two Scotchmen tossed to see who would pay for the dinner. The winner called, "heads." The loser called, "Fire!" and escaped in the confusion.

J. M. Franz Home 'Yard of Month'

The "Yard of the Month" award for May has been presented by the Rockport Home and Garden Club to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Franz, 804 Pine Street, in Oak Terrace Subdivision.

Mr. and Mrs. Franz both work in their yard, mowing, spading, planting and landscaping. Mr. Franz, having retired in 1970, enjoys helping to beautify their three-lot yard.

The yard is brilliant with color from every view. Roses are the "specialty." A large round rose bed is in the front yard, plus groups of trees surrounded by flowers. There is a beautiful Norfolk Island pine tree in a corner bed, and on each side of the lawn are borders of Red Robin roses that grow from three to four feet high.

The roses are blooming in large clusters in shades of light and dark pink, and there are climbing roses in shades of red and other colors.

Mr. Franz said they found one "climber" at the city dump where someone had discarded it. The couple like to experiment with culture and food for their yard.

All of the beds are beautifully kept and brilliant in color. Blooming now are gladioli, day lilies, amaryllis, petunias, geraniums, roses and cannons with beautiful hanging baskets around the back patio.

Mr. and Mrs. Franz were presented a $10.00 gift certificate from the Fausey Nursery on Highway 35 North at Holiday Beach.

The Yard of the Month Award is sponsored by the Rockport Home and Garden Club. Anyone in Rockport and surrounding areas is eligible to win the award. Nominations may be made by anyone.

To nominate a yard, please write Mrs. E. N. Adams, 1141 Ruby St.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by

A lot of people ask me, "Just what is a Nutria and did it really come from South America?" Well -- the nutria is a large, semi-aquatic rodent. It resembles the beaver and the muskrat, however, it is smaller than the beaver and larger than the muskrat. The beaver weighs 40 to 70 pounds and has been known to weigh 100; the muskrat will usually weigh only one to four pounds. The nutria will weigh seven to 20 pounds and has been reported to reach as much as 40 pounds, but this would be highly unlikely in a wild animal.

The beaver's tail, of course, is flattened horizontally like a paddle while the muskrat has a slender tail that is flattened vertically and is used in swimming. The nutria's tail is rather large, round, and almost hairless. In spite of his resemblance to the beaver and the muskrat, the tooth pattern and other skull characteristics show that the nutria is more closely related to the porcupine than to any other animal in this country.

To answer the other part of that question: The nutria did come from South America. They are natives of Chile, Patagonia, and Argentina. In their native countries there were originally three separate sub-species but they have become so mixed that it is impossible to separate the nutria found in the United States into such divisions.

As early as 1880 some nutria had been taken to France where they were raised on fur farms for their pelts. The first extensive farming, however, was done in South America in the early 1920's. The success of these ventures led to an expansion of the industry to Europe in the mid-1920's and to the United States in the 1930's.

Although some nutria were imported into California in 1899 and some zoos obtained some specimens about this same time, very little is known about their eventual fate. The earliest record of successful introduction for fur farming in North America came in Quebec in 1927.

In the United States the thirties were considered the boom years for establishing nutria "farms" or "ranches". Washington, Oregon, Michigan, New Mexico, Louisiana, Ohio, and Utah all turned up with nutria farms. Shortly after these boom years, early in the World War II era, nutria farming virtually collapsed. Poor reproduction, low fur prices, and competition with beaver pelts were some of the causes. Farmers either released their brood stock or didn't try to recapture any that escaped because they weren't worth the cost of their food. This is how they became established in the wild in the United States. Although the farmers complained of low production on their farms, there was certainly no lack of reproduction in the wild. Their numbers multiplied and they spread from Louisiana to Texas. These wild ones that made their way over here from Louisiana were welcomed by Texans with open arms, especially by people who had small lakes that were choked with underwater vegetation. Their numbers were even supplemented by farmers buying them to put in their lakes. They did eat some of the underwater vegetation, then they gnawed holes in wooden boats, chewed up duck blinds, ate the handles off oars left in boats, and finally took to the rice fields where they did a tremendous amount of damage.

The nutria is now a well established resident in Texas, but one that we could do very well without. He is a real nuisance and a good example of what we may expect when we introduce exotic animals before a careful study has been made to see if this is a species that we really need.

Refreshments for the Chamber's hospitality program at the C of C Building were provided last week by Irwin Real Estate and this week by Key Allegro Motel.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

A challenge to the commonly held theory that depression and mania represent opposite poles of a single biochemical continuum and a description of the little-understood "switch process" between the two conditions have earned three National Institute of Mental Health scientists the coveted Hoffheimer Prize for Research.

The prize is given by the American Psychiatric Association and was recently awarded to Doctors William E. Bunney, Jr., Frederick K. Goodwin, and Dennis L. Murphy.

Manic depressive illness is second only to schizophrenia as the most common functional mental illness and is also associated with a high incidence of suicide. An estimated 300,000 Americans are now under treatment for severe depression. One particularly striking form of manic-depressive illness is seen in patients who vac-illate between aggressive, loud, and euphoric behavior (mania) and withdrawn, seclusive, and often suicidal behavior (depression).

The prize-winning scientists found that the switch into mania is often preceded by environmental stresses, that certain drugs are capable of inducing mania, and that certain physical and chemical changes accompany the switch in behavior.

In addition, their pioneering studies have advanced understanding of the role of brain and nervous system biochemical transmitter substances in manic-depressive illness.

For example, the investigators point out their findings that the compound, "L-DOPA", can activate a form of mania in depressive patients without helping the depression. This suggests, they say, that mania and depression may not be simply opposite poles of the same biochemical abnormality but may represent, in some ways, separate entities.

The Hoffheimer Award, carrying an honorarium of $1500, was established in 1947 in honor of Lester N. Hoffheimer to honor U.S. research investigators for outstanding work in psychiatry and mental health. This year, the NIMH group shares the award with Dr. Joseph J. Schildkraut of Harvard, who is also a leader in research in the field of biochemicals and depressive illness.

Letter to Publisher

Dear Mr. Rogero:

An impressive 2.5 million individual tax returns were filed in the Austin IRS District during the recent filing period. What else is impressive is that almost all of them were filed on time--and in good order! We're grateful to our southern Texas taxpayers for a grand tax filing job.

We're also grateful to you and your good staff people. You helped make our 1973 filing period a great success by getting tax information to folks in your area.

Thank you so much.
Sincerely,
R. L. Phinney

Baptist W.M.S. Holds Meeting

The W.M.S. of the Baptist church met May 1 in the educational building of the church, with Mrs. Larry Stewart, president, presiding.

The meeting opened with a song and scripture reading taken from Matt; 9:34-38.

Mrs. Truett Roach read the list of names of missionaries whose names appeared on the calendar of prayer. The mission pastor, Rev. Roberto Morales' name appeared on the calendar this month.

The lesson was on "Puerto Rico Today" and was given by Mrs. Eddie Bradley.

Mrs. Eva Lutz read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Lillie Calvert gave the treasurer's report. Coffee and cake was enjoyed by twelve members.

Mrs. Larry Stewart was the hostess.

Phones Busy On Mother's Day

Every Mother's Day, Southwestern Bell scratches its head and wonders about that so-called generation gap.

This year the telephone company says "Mother" will generate an average of 25 additional long distance telephone calls a second, nationwide.

Some 33,240 calls to mothers are expected to be placed in the Corpus Christi area Sunday, says Ron Maples, Southwestern Bell district manager. This includes Rockport.

"Mother's Day is neck-and-neck with Christmas in the race for the nation's biggest calling day of the year," says Maples. Last year Christmas won with 9.1 million calls, a lead of only 56,000. This year the Bell system is bracing for 10.7 million long distance calls on Mother's Day.

Rates are cheaper if you dial direct, the district manager said. Direct dialed calls bypass the operator.

You'll get the best service if you call before 11 a.m. Sunday or in the afternoon. To really avoid the calling rush, the district manager said, you could call Saturday and get the same low week-end rates. "There really aren't any non-busy times to call on Mother's Day anymore," the district manager added.

Southwestern Bell will have all available operators on holiday duty to serve callers requiring assistance in the Corpus Christi area.

Males were the first to take up baton twirling but today the boys are outnumbered by girls 10 - 1.

STUDENTS MUST RETURN CERTIFICATES

The Veterans Administration said today that veteran-students enrolled in below-college-level programs will not receive their May assistance payment until a certification of attendance for May's enrollment is received.

For example, A.A. Hunter, Director of the Houston VA Regional Office, pointed out that a veteran-student whose award ends May 25 received a pre-payment check on April first for the month of April. The certificate of attendance enclosed with the April payment must be certified by the student and the school after May 25 in order to receive a final payment for the time enrolled during May.

Hunter said that key officials of schools have been informed of this procedure to assist veteran-students presently receiving benefits under the G.I. Bill.

Hunter added that these special procedures apply only to veteran-students enrolled in below-college-level programs.

Fidelis Class Has Meeting and Supper

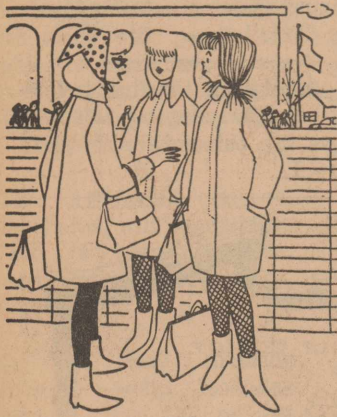

The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Charles Chrisman, Monday night. Mrs. Oscar Brown was co-hostess.

Mrs. Josephine Cox presided at the short business meeting. Mrs. Mary Scrivner gave the devotional and Mrs. Olga McLester read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Mellinee Shults gave the treasurer's report. There was a brief business discussion and Mrs. Esther Lockhart gave the closing prayer and the Blessing.

A delicious supper of turkey and dressing with all the trimmings, which had been prepared by the hostesses, was served in a very unique way. The humorous menus and the manner of serving the food created much fun and laughter throughout the meal.

Those present for the supper were Mesdames: Georgia Green, Sheila Roach, Ruby Mundine, Estle Turner, Esther Lockhart, Viola McNorton, Bessie Edgar, Lillian Sorenson, Jewell Blair, Gladys Hensley, Olga McLester, Mary Scrivner, Mellinee Shults, Josephine Cox, Eva Lutz, Ethel Brown, Chris Chrisman, and Louise Shults.

'War' Being Waged Against Organized Crime In Texas

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the conclusion of a series of stories on organized crime in Texas. Figures used were compiled by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council and the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Public awareness is vital to stamping out organized crime," say Attorney General John Hill and Colonel Wilson E. Speir, DPS Director, who are co-chairmen of the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council. This series is part of a public education program developed by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council with assistance from the Texas Criminal Justice Council, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Office of the Attorney General of Texas and local law enforcement agencies.)

A corporation will be set up as a going legitimate concern. It promptly buys all sorts of equipment through credit and then quickly takes voluntary bankruptcy.

The illicit gains are converted to cash quickly and the mob has pocket money. This particular device was one of the favorite methods of supplying "family" members with their every need during the heyday of the Mafia in New York and Chicago over a period of three decades.

The mind-boggling, whirlwind high-finance arena of stock fraud and stock manipulation really doesn't touch the life of the average Texan—unless he has his life savings invested in a company which is involved.

There is evidence of some link to organized crime in specific cases, but for the most part dishonest businessmen are able to operate because there always are potential investors with ideas of quick wealth.

Where organized crime does directly become involved in corporate swindlings, strong-arm tactics are often employed. It is not unknown for a mobster to actually take over a legitimate business and freeze or scare the owner out.

One classic case came to light in South Texas several months ago where the owner of a small incorporated business became involved in creation of a new conglomerate through a legitimate friend.

A "friend" of his friend convinced him to put his business into the conglomerate "because it will double your profits." To the lasting regret of the honest businessman, he discovered the conglomerate was mob-controlled. They milked his assets bone-dry, even threatening violence at one point, then walked away.

This short-term exploitation of the small businessman in Texas is not prevalent, but it can happen to anyone unless prospective new partnerships are carefully checked.

Recognition of the enemy is

USE IRS FORM TO CLAIM EXEMPTION FROM INCOME TAX WITHHOLDING

Students who work this summer may be entitled to exemption from income tax withholding, R. L. Phinney, IRS District Director for southern Texas, said today.

Students who did not owe any tax last year and who expect to owe none this year should use a Withholding Exemption Certificate, Form W-4E, to claim the exemption. This would eliminate the need to file a tax return next year unless there has been tax withholding and the student wishes to recover it.

For 1973, a single person under 65 years of age who makes the best weapon against organized crime for the average Texan.

The public must be constantly aware of and educated to the fact there is organized crime in the areas of theft, prostitution, narcotics, gambling, illegitimate takeovers of businesses, credit card abuse and all the other by-products of criminal activity.

Colonel Speir says "the best defense against organized crime is an educated public, a public unwilling to be victimized."

He urges "recognize organized crime for what it is and what it stands for and then illegally-based criminal operations won't stand a chance in Texas if the tax-paying citizen is willing to strike with us at the economic threshold of mobdom and help us keep our state clean."

less than $2,050 owes no tax. This is based on the $1,300 low income allowance and a personal exemption of $750. A single taxpayer over 65 who earns wages less than $2,800 incurs no tax liability, Phinney explained.

Exemption from tax withholding began in 1970 and has an annual cycle beginning each May 1. Therefore, any exemption certificates filed for 1972 expired on May 1, and new ones are required for the current year.

Besides students, anyone else who qualifies can fill out the form and give it to his employer to claim exemption from income tax withholding on his wages.

Employers who need quantities of the new Form W-4E can obtain them from any IRS office.

ATTEND WEDDING

Returning from Austin were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hinton and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baugh and son Jason of Houston.

In Austin they attended the wedding of the Hinton's granddaughter, Miss Barbara Lynn Herring, to John J. Waters, also of Houston. Mrs. Waters is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Herring of Austin. Waters is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Waters of Houston.

The vows were exchanged in St. Matthews Episcopal Church. A bridal buffet was served at the Herring home.

Mrs. Waters attended North Texas State College in Denton. Waters attended the University of Texas. The couple will make their home in Austin.

Warm Weather Is Here, It's Time for Skiing

AUSTIN -- Texas lakes are warming up, and this brings out the water skiers.

Skiers mean an extra responsibility for boat owners. The first skier sighted on the water should be a signal for boat operators to be extra cautious.

A skier down in the water is hard to see, and your propeller could make a mess of him.

Of course, a skier is responsible to a large degree for his own safety. The first step in this direction is making sure that his boat driver is competent and reliable.

The driver should know how to keep the rope taut and avoid jerks which will injure the skier's shoulders. He should know that horseplay in a boat can have serious consequences. And he should be alert for a fallen skier so that he can circle immediately for the pickup.

Many experienced drivers insist on having a second person in the boat as a spotter. This is not a legal requirement, but the law does require a four-inch-square mirror mounted in the boat if the skier is being towed.

For this part, the skier must make himself as visible as possible when he falls in heavy boat traffic. He can do this by holding one ski in the air as a signal to other boaters.

The skier should also wear some sort of life-saving device. Although many skiers prefer the ski-belts, they should keep in mind that the belts are not designed to keep them upright if unconscious. And to fill the legal requirements, if the skier is being towed by a boat 26 feet long or less, there must be a Coast Guard-approved life saving device on board the boat for him, if he is not wearing one.

Children 12 years old and under must wear a Coast Guard-approved life jacket when a passenger inside the boat, as well as when they are skiing.

A skier should have communication with his driver, and this can only be done with hand signals. These signals should be worked out before the skier takes to the water since misunderstandings could lead to an accident.

Boat operators are the "eyes" of the skier, and it is up to them to avoid obstacles such as submerged stumps and rocks. And they should avoid the temptation to speed along parallel to dams. Several skiers have lost quite a bit of hide when they fell along concrete structures.

As a matter of courtesy, fishermen should be avoided. Theirs is a quiet sport. A smart aleck skier is going to cause some hard feelings, and remember, you are legally responsible for any damage caused by your wake.

SEAMAN BERRYHILL COMPLETES TRAINING

SAN DIEGO -- Navy Seaman Recruit Martin E. Berryhill, son of Mr. Gilbert Berryhill of 1010 Stuart Drive, Amarillo, Texas, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center here.

Less cash, more carry.

Consider the Jim Beam half gallon:

- (1) The World's Finest Bourbon Since 1795 costs less per drink.
- (2) There's a handle on it. Easy to carry, easy to pour.
- (3) There's less chance of running out; less need to run out for more. A sensible way to enjoy the Bourbon that has been a family art since 1795.

The Kinsay Report

Funny, how one bird can change your way of life—at least for a while.

Recently my wife bought a poodle-cut ligustrum plant in a wooden planter and had it placed just to the east of the front entrance to our home. In the planter, it stands about 5 1/2 feet high.

A few days later we noticed that some bird had started to build its nest on top of the plant. Next we discovered that a cardinal was very busy picking up bits of grass and twigs and then hurrying to complete her nest.

Determined not to disturb Mrs. Cardinal, we took several steps to insure her privacy. First, we began parking one of our cars at the west driveway entrance off the street so no caller could drive in and approach our home from the east. Thus, callers had to use the west driveway.

Next, we pulled the shades on the windows nearest the bird nest. Of course, we had to take a peek now and then to see the progress of the nest building which finally was completed and Mother Cardinal made herself at home.

She hasn't laid any eggs, yet, but she seems contented—and she looks us straight in the eye when we peek out through the shades.

Neighbors have even started dropping by to take a look.

B&PW MEETS AT STEELE HOME

At the recent annual covered dish supper of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Lillian Moulton was named chairman of the nominating committee for 1973 - 74 and Cepha Jesse and Ruby Hart were named members. The event was held at the home of Deane Steele.

Automatic Enrollment For Medicare

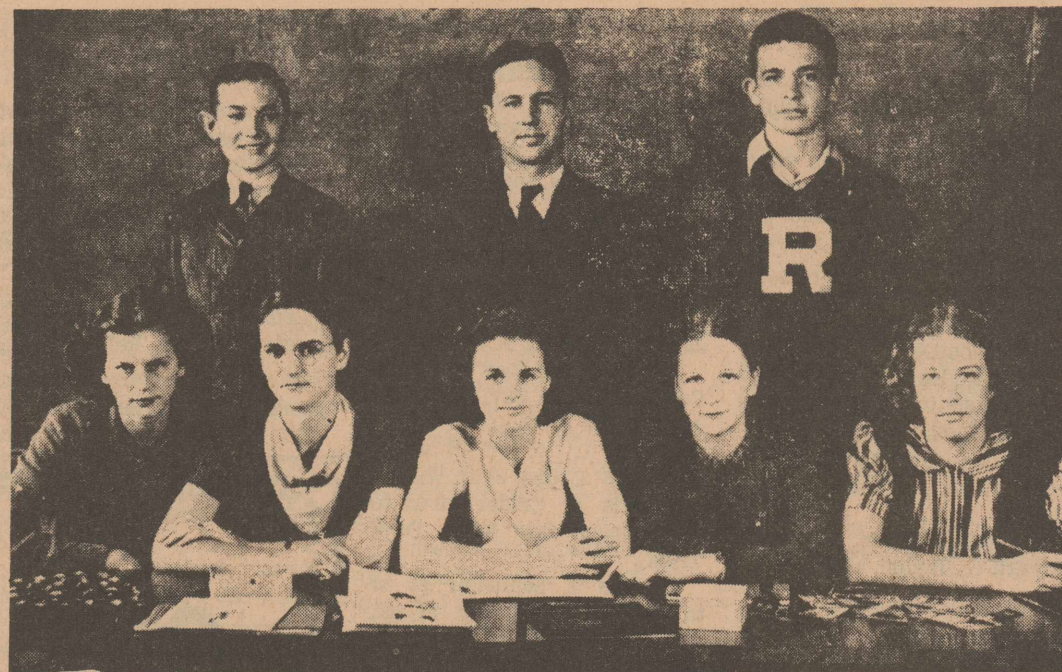

Recent changes in the Social Security Act provide that persons who first become entitled to hospital insurance benefits under Medicare beginning July 1, 1973 will be automatically enrolled in the medical insurance part of Medicare, according to H. M. Cleveland, Social Security district manager in Corpus Christi.

"Previously, an individual had to enroll to get the medical insurance. About four per cent of all eligible individuals did not enroll at the proper time and thus they lost several months of coverage. In some cases, persons were excluded altogether from the medical part because they delayed too long. Congress decided that all eligible beneficiaries would be covered unless they do not want the protection," Cleveland said.

The changes in the law provide that retirement and disability beneficiaries, except for residents of foreign countries and Puerto Rico, will be enrolled in the medical insurance automatically as they become entitled to hospital insurance. Persons who are eligible for automatic enrollment will be given the opportunity to decline the coverage if they wish to do so.

Those who are receiving monthly social security or railroad retirement benefits before age 65 will be entitled to both parts of Medicare effective with the month they attain age 65 after June of this year. Those who have been entitled to disability insurance benefits for at least two years will be entitled to both parts of Medicare beginning July. Recent disability beneficiaries will have to wait until they have received benefits 24 months before they are entitled to Medicare benefits, Cleveland explained.

If you would like more information call, write, or visit your social security office. The telephone number is 883-5511. The office is located at 1802 South Staples Street, in Corpus Christi.

Question And Answers to Veterans Benefits

Q - Is it true that my G.I. insurance dividend on my World War II term policy is taxable?

A - No. Accrued interest on insurance dividends left with VA is taxable, but not the dividends.

Q - I'm a 43-year-old veteran with an honorable discharge. Several months ago I learned I have terminal cancer and I am bedridden with no income for the remainder of my days. Can I get financial assistance from VA?

A - If you had wartime military service, you should contact your nearest VA office for assistance in making a determination of your eligibility for a VA pension.

Q: My brother is a veteran and a heavy drinker as well as a drug addict. Should we take him to a VA hospital that has a drug treatment center or to one that has a unit for treating alcoholics?

A: He should apply to the drug treatment center. The VA drug treatment centers have recognized abuse of alcohol as a problem among drug addicts and varied their treatment to cope with this complication.

Q: I know I have to wait to the anniversary date of my policy to get my World War II G.I. life insurance dividend this year, but how much will I get?

A: The average dividend for World War II National Service Life Insurance in 1973 will be $72.

Q: My husband is a prisoner of war and I am not near any military base. Could I go to VA and talk to them about what the future will be for us when he comes home?

A: The veterans benefits counselors and veterans assistance officer at the nearest VA regional office, or personnel at the nearest VA hospital, will be glad to talk with you and give you any assistance possible.

Q: I'm drawing monthly educational assistance checks from the Veterans Administration, and would like to have them continued when I go to summer school. How can I accomplish this?

A: After you enroll for the summer session, notify the school of your continued eligibility for VA education benefits. The school will certify your re-enrollment to VA, and you will receive your payments effective the date of re-enrollment.

Q: With six million Vietnam veterans back in civilian life, how long before I can look forward to Vietnam veterans taking over the Veterans Administration?

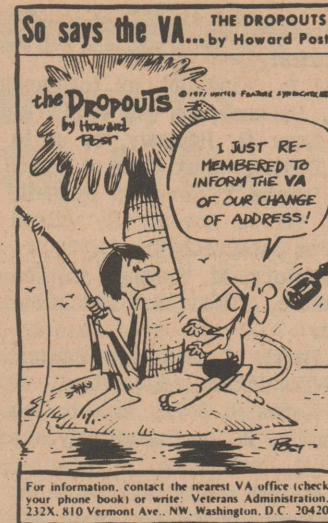

A: One out of every four persons hired by VA in recent months has been a Vietnam era veteran. The more than 18,000 Vietnam era veterans working for VA as paid employees now make up about 9 1/2 percent of the agency's total employees.

Does dew fall? If so, when does it fall?

Dew does not fall, so there is no need to answer the second question. However, dew is an interesting weather element and close observation of it can tell you something about the weather to follow during the day.

Dew collects on surface objects, like blades of grass, and is moisture taken from passing, warmer air. The earth objects which collect it from the air must be colder than the air—so as to condense some of the moisture out of the surrounding air.

Seeing dew, either at night or early morning, is a clear weather indication—though not a foolproof one. The absence of dew tells you that chances are good that rainfall is ahead—sometime in the next twenty-four hours.

Mother's Day Gifts

COLLEGE STATION—Mom might like a gift of time this Mother's Day—time for joining family fun and enjoying life more.

"Portable kitchen appliances—from toaster/ovens to fondue sets—can cut time spent in the kitchen," Lillian Cochran, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, noted.

She offered some guidelines concerning selection of such appliances.

"Choose a toaster/oven with convenient controls, signal light which indicates the unit is on, automatic shut-off, and crumb tray for easy cleaning. This handy appliance toasts, bakes and broils.

"An electric skillet, on the other hand, fries, bakes, fondues and just about anything else desired.

"Many models feature detachable controls and handles for dishwasher use and tilt legs for simplified draining or basting. A dome lid allows enough room for roasts."

A third kitchen helper is the blender—which chops, grates, crums and mixes. Although many speeds are available, only a few are actually used, Miss Cochran contended.

Blender containers should have easy-to-read graduations, easy-pour spout and handle. Other popular features include detachable blades, removable cover insert for adding ingredients, and various attachments, she said.

"Look for electric knives with off-on switches and safety locks. Used in slicing bread, cake, meat and other foods, many have releasable blades for easy cleaning and storing. Some stainless steel blades feature serrated edges.

"Portable mixers should be lightweight with comfortable handles -- they're great for whipping, beating and blending. Fingertip controls, chrome-plated beaters without center shafts, stable heel rests and permanently lubricated motors also are desirable."

The final group of appliances Miss Cochran discussed consists of special-purpose items generally for entertaining—fondue sets, electric woks and slow cookers.

"Choose fondue sets which are safe and stable to prevent tipping -- and possible burns. Select a set with readable temperature controls, immersible pot, non-stick interior, and fuel container large enough to last an entire meal.

"Refueling a hot fondue set is dangerous," she warned.

"Woks—popular in oriental cooking and for preparing certain foods -- should utilize the same safety features as fondues. In addition, they need a wide-range temperature control.

"Slow cookers, on the other hand, stew or simmer foods for long periods of time—all day or night. Made of either crockery or metal, they're ideal for stews, soups or pot roasts. For convenience, consider immersible cookers.

"Any of these gifts should please Mom on her special day -- and give lasting pleasure throughout the year.

"Select the gift with care --and it will serve for many years," the specialist concluded.

LEO--July 23 to Aug. 22--Organized effort is needed. Watch that you don't offend those close to you. Some are wearing their feelings on their sleeves.

VIRGO--Aug. 23 to Sept. 22--Talk that new idea out. When you discuss the idea of selling something with someone who is objective, you may find that the time is right.

LIBRA--Sept. 23 to Oct. 22--New methods needed now. Be loyal to your employer or employees. You lose only if you are dishonest.

AQUARIUS--Jan. 20 to Feb. 18--Try to keep your moods on an even keel, avoiding the tendency to be either high or low. You will do well to avoid making promises at this time.

PISCES--Feb. 19 to March 20--Take a look at family finances. With careful planning the budget can take on a healthier look.

ARIES--March 21 to April 20--Others will love you if you build their confidence, putting their preferences before your own. True happiness lies in giving, not getting.

It's used here for a softly tailored shirt-jacket with rodeo bead trim, and a sweeping ankle-length skirt. Color-keyed to the sun-up or sun-down ensemble is an all-cotton shirt in a delicate flower print. Designed by Judith Halle for Beverly Paige. Denims by Erwin Mills.

Father Of 80

Cyril Chapman, of Wellington, New Zealand, recently became the father of his 80th child, according to news reports. It is only the 16th for his second wife!

The wire service report on the birth didn't offer a box score for his first wife or anyone else. But it did note that Mr. Chapman supplements his state pension by catching fish and growing vegetables.

One must assume he is, quite a fisherman and quite a whiz in the vegetable garden, among other places.

Disabled Workers Should Apply Promptly For Monthly Social Security Payments

Workers who face a possible long-term disability should apply for social security benefits as soon as possible to avoid loss of payments they may be entitled to, according to social security officials here.

Social security pays monthly cash benefits to eligible workers and their families if the worker is severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more. "Back payments can only be made for up to 12 months," a social security spokesman said. "So you shouldn't delay your application—even if you're not sure you'll qualify for payments."

About one of every 12 workers who get social security disability payments doesn't get all of his back benefits because he didn't apply soon enough, according to the spokesman.

"If you're disabled and haven't applied for benefits, call any social security office and apply as soon as possible," he said. "Or ask a friend or relative to call for you."

It can help speed up the processing of the claim if the disabled worker has certain information ready when he applies, the spokesman noted. "For example, we'll need the names and addresses of doctors and hospitals involved, dates of treatment, and a brief history of the disability," he said.

To qualify for payments, a worker must be disabled before 65. "He must have worked long enough on jobs covered by social security. That's generally at least 5 years of work during the 10 before the disability began," the spokesman said.

League of Women Voters Meet

The League of Women Voters met April 24 at the Dingenary home. Plans were made to print up a Legislative Directory, which would help the public to be informed as to who their duly elected representatives are.

Different league members were given study topics to report on in the upcoming months. For May's meeting members of the league will attend the city council meeting May 14 to enhance their knowledge of city government.

Also discussed was the forthcoming Navigation Board Election which will be given priority for the month of June.

Members of the League were asked to think about a study topic that would be pertinent for the general membership.

A membership coffee was mentioned as a means to inform interested citizens on the working of the organization.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

My mother is so old-fashioned that she doesn't want me to dress like all the other girls I go with. She thinks it is bad to wear a tight sweater without a bra or a bikini. What must I do to make her realize that times have changed and nobody pays attention as to how many clothes you have on?

Daughter--N.C.

Answer:

Things have changed but you are wrong about what people think when they see girls in garments that are vulgar and in bad taste.

I, for one, am glad that we have turned away from some of the prudish ideas of past years but I also think that we have gone too far in displaying our bodies to the public.

I recently heard a speaker give statistics on the great increase in the crime of rape during the past year. He felt and I agree with the idea, that much of this has been caused by magazines, theaters and television networks encouraging young people to be immoral.

However, I think many of the girls innocently accept ideas and customs, not because they are wicked, but because they try to run with the crowd and get attention. I'm sure that if they knew what was in the minds of some of the men who see them they would care less for such attention.

Louisa,

Address letters: Louisa, Box 532, Orangeburg, S.C. 29115

Mother's Day

The observance of Mother's Day is a recent one in the United States, beginning only in 1907. Then it was the idea of Miss Anna M. Jarvis, of Philadelphia, that at least once a year sons and daughters should pay tribute to mothers. Miss Jarvis arranged for a special service in one of the Philadelphia churches and suggested white carnations be worn by those attending.

The observance, on the second Sunday in May, has rapidly spread to every part of the United States and the fact that it became custom in all the states only four years after it had been suggested testifies to the sentiment for such an observance in this country.

In later years, the custom of wearing a white carnation on Mother's Day was changed and those whose mothers were still alive wore red flowers, instead of white. First observed in the United States, Mother's Day has become an international occasion and mothers in every area of the world are now honored each year on Mother's Day.

More than anyone else, the mother who cares for both home and her children is destined to influence the character and future of the country. And often this responsibility is combined with a back-breaking and steady ordeal of sewing, washing, mending, cleaning and teaching. It is to this mother, who dedicates her life to her home, her family and children, that the country owes a debt of gratitude. It is this mother who represents the finest in our civilization.

Rotarians Hear of Sailing Cruise

A recent sailing cruise aboard a 200-foot, three-mast schooner in the British Virgin Islands was described by David H. Crooks at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club May 2 at Corky's restaurant.

Crooks described the cruise as a sort of "do-it-yourself" adventure in which passengers were encouraged to participate in manning the ship, although they were not required to do so.

During the cruise the ship visited seven islands, including Norman Island which was supposed to be the island about which Robert Lewis Stevenson wrote "Treasure Island." All of the islands are of volcanic origin and many are reputed to hold undiscovered pirate treasure, according to Crooks.

Since the end of slavery killed the sugar cane - run economy of the islands, they have declined in population and economic importance, until today many are uninhabited. One exception is Virgin Gorda Island where Rockefeller interests have developed an elaborate resort complex, Crooks said.

The British Virgin Islands are considered among the most scenic in the Caribbean, abounding in reefs and underwater caves, as well as many attractive swimming beaches, Crooks explained.

The oldest building in Minnesota is Fort Snelling, at Minneapolis, which pioneers used for defense against Indians.

Questions and Answers

Q. I'm getting disability payments from another Government agency, but my application for disability benefits from social security was denied. Can you tell me why?

A. You can get payments under social security only if you are so disabled that you can't do any kind of gainful work. This definition of disability is usually different from that of other Federal agencies or private companies. Therefore, entitlement to disability benefits under some other agency or company would not necessarily mean that you would also qualify for disability under social security.

Q. An accident at work left my husband paralyzed. He's 50 years old, and our doctor says he probably will never be able to work again. Can he collect both social security disability payments and workmen's compensation?

A. Yes, but there's a limit. Social security and workmen's compensation payments combined can be no more than 80 percent of the disabled worker's average monthly earnings. Because of recent changes in the social security law, average current earnings now can be based on a worker's highest year of earnings in any one year of the 5 years before he became disabled. This change will mean higher monthly payments to some disabled workers.

Q. My husband and I were divorced after 32 years of marriage. I never remarried. My ex-husband died a few months ago. Now that I'm 65, can I collect social security on his work record?

A. Yes. Since you were married to your former husband for at least 20 years, you can get social security payment on his work record.

Before January 1973, a divorced woman also had to show that her former husband was providing one-half of her support, but a recent change in the law ended this requirement.

Q. I was told to apply for social security payments 2 or 3 months before I retire, but I wrote to my home town several months ago for my birth certificate and haven't received it yet. Should I wait until it comes before I apply?

A. No. Apply for payments without it. Your social security office may be able to suggest some other document which you can use to prove your age.

Q. My husband died 3 years ago. I'll be 60 in a few months and I want to apply for monthly social security widow's payments. Must I wait until I'm 60 to apply?

A. No. You should apply

2 or 3 months before you reach 60. You'll need proof of your age, proof of your marriage, and your husband's social security number when you apply. If you have a social security number of your own, you'll need that number as well. But you should not delay filing your application because you don't have all of the items listed above. The people at the social security office may be able to help obtain them.

Let's Make It Permanent

With the Rockport-Aransas County Clean Up Week drawing to a close, it is essential that all of us continue to do our share in making sure the benefits of this county-wide effort not be lost through indifference or neglect.

To be of lasting benefit to our community we must continue the campaign on a permanent basis. All of us must retain a continuing interest in keeping our streets, roads and waterways clean and beautiful--attractive to visitors and home folks alike.

This is a project which should enlist the interest and participation of everyone, regardless of age. School children can be especially effective by keeping elders aware of the importance of "no-litter" philosophy. We all experienced incidents in which children have rebuked their elders for careless littering. It is especially important that young people be ever-conscious of the bad effects of littering. After all, they are the adults of tomorrow, and habits acquired at an early age usually last a lifetime.

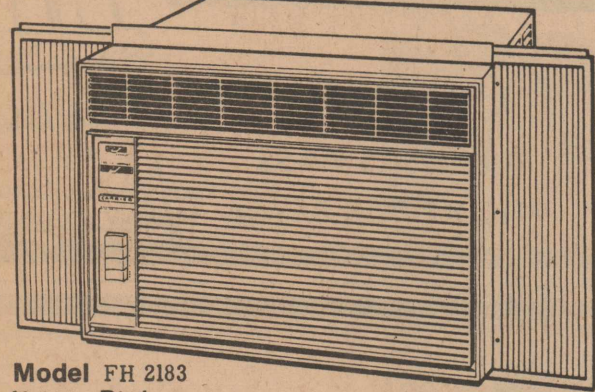

So, each of us has a responsibility to make Rockport-Aransas County's clean up campaign a permanent part of our way of life.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I am writing in reference to the grave of my granddaughter Lynda Lee Ovenden in Rockport Cemetery.

Her parents have gone to considerable efforts to keep the grave neat and clean with flowers planted and ceramic ornaments placed around to improve the appearance. These ceramic objects were cemented down to keep them in place.

Someone has stolen some of these ornaments and I think such persons must be of pretty low mentality and morals to steal from the grave of a little girl. Probably other graves have been vandalized also.

I would appreciate it if you gave some publicity in your paper and let people know how sorrowing parents and grand parents feel about such unthoughtful acts against their departed loved ones.

Yours truly,
V.I. Ovenden

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To: Eldred C. Manning, Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 156th District Court of Aransas County at the Court House thereof, in Rockport, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock a.m. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 28th day of May A.D. 1973, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 11th day of April A.D. 1973, in this cause, numbered 4807 on the docket of said court and styled in the matter of the marriage of Bertha Lee Manning Plaintiff, vs. Eldred C. A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit:

A suit for divorce by Petitioner, Bertha Lee Manning from Eldred C. the legitimate ends of the marriage relationship and preventing reasonable expectation of reconciliation as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Rockport, Texas this 11th day of April A.D. 1973.
