

Marshall To Testify Soon, Probers Hope

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew testified today that some codes used by the American embassy in Tokyo were destroyed before war broke out December 7, 1941.

And some were not destroyed until after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor on that date, he told the senate-house committee investigating the disaster. The inquiry also brought these developments today.

(1) Moves within the committee to hear General George C. Marshall before the former chief of staff leaves for China as President Truman's special envoy.

(2) A brief flurry over a suggestion by Senator Brewster (R-Maine) that committee counsel be permitted to go through Grew's personal diary in search of items that perhaps should be studied.

Grew told of the destruction of the codes after Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) asked him: "Do you remember when you got word to destroy codes in the embassy at Tokyo?"

"We destroyed some of our codes a few days before Pearl Harbor," Grew replied. "We kept certain others until the last moment; we destroyed them after we had learned that war had begun."

Several members said they wanted to hear Gen. Marshall before his departure.

An Army board which investigated the surprise Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, took special note of the way a final warning message from Marshall to General Walter C. Short, Army commander in Hawaii, was handled.

The board said that while Marshall telephoned an alert to General Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines, he sent a similar message to Short by commercial cables. It was not delivered until three hours after the attack.

Former Secretary of State Hull was excused from testifying today because of cold, rainy weather.

Chinese Admit Loss Of Hope Highway Center

CHUNGKING, Nov. 28 (AP) — The Chinese government admitted today the loss of the important southern Hopei province highway center of Felsiang to besieging communists.

But nationalists, meanwhile reportedly began long-delayed landings at the captured Manchurian seaport of Hulutao.

Felsiang, described by the nationalists as one of the insurgents' main objectives, fell after a three month siege. The deputy commander of the town's garrison was killed in action. The highway center is east of the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

An unconfirmed dispatch in the Chungking Commercial Daily News said government forces had started landing at Hulutao, recently occupied by government troops after evacuation by communist forces. The report did not say whether US transports were used.

Communist attacks on Hanchung, on the Peiping-Hankow railroad, were repelled, nationalist dispatches said.

The World Daily News said today that a Chinese-Russian agreement had been reached on two points:

1. Nationalists may land airborne troops at Changchun and Mukden, Manchuria, and ground crews may proceed immediately to both points.

2. The Russian withdrawal from Manchuria will be completed by mid-January.

There was no indication what China might have promised in return.

An American military leader, Maj. Gen. Keller Rockey, commander of US Marines in North China, was quoted by the Shanghai Central News correspondent as taking a grave view of the situation in North China.

Rockey said that the Marines are not contemplating any drastic measures against the communists who daily are attacking the rail line between Peiping and Chingwangtao, but American lives and property would continue to be protected. The railroad is the only supply line for 50,000 Marines in North China.

It would be hard to predict, Rockey said, when the Marines would withdraw, as it depended on completion of disarming of the Japanese.

The government meanwhile designated Sept. 3 as the official date of the termination of the Sino-Japanese war, which began June 7, 1937.

NLRB Conducts Biggest Strike Vote On Record

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP) — One government agency undertook the biggest strike poll on record, among 700,000 steelworkers today, while another sought ways to settle the big General Motors labor dispute.

CIO — steelworkers laid the groundwork for strike action under the Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes Act with a strike poll at more than 750 steel, iron and aluminum companies. They want $2 a day more.

Another 5,000 steelworkers at 14 additional companies will vote December 6, and an additional 50,000 employed by 130 other firms on December 20, McDonald said.

The union has concentrated its wage increase campaign on the United States Steel Corporation. The corporation has declined to reopen negotiations, broken off October 23, until OPA sets higher price ceilings on steel products.

OPA Administrator Chester Bowles declared last week there is no justification for price increases now.

The reconversion wage dispute of still another big CIO union—the oil workers—went before a government fact-finding commission for public examination. The commission will recommend a solution, but the parties are not bound to accept it.

Named to the fact-finding panel were:

Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, chairman; Otto Beyer, former labor relations adviser to the Office of Defense Transportation, Maritime Commission, TVA, and Bonneville Dam; Paul Eliel, professor of industrial relations at Stanford University and an arbitrator in the San Francisco shipbuilding industry.

Meeting of the grand jury has been changed from Monday, Dec. 3, to Thursday, Dec. 6, due to the illness of the district attorney, it has been announced by Cecil Collins, district judge.

Summoned to report are LeRoy Echols, R. T. Shafer, Ed Martin, E. T. O'Daniel, C. M. Adams, Rufus Stallings, Porter Hanks, C. H. Hyden, Ted Phillips, Robert Currie, Harry Hurt, Lonnie Coker, Ray Shortes, Roy Bates, M. E. Ooley, R. V. Fryer, Albert Worth, John Davis, W. S. Shaw and Charles Lawrence.

Petit jurors will meet as scheduled on Monday, Dec. 3.

JUMP TO SAFETY

WALHALLA, S. C., Nov. 28 (AP) — Brig. Gen. George H. Weems, five other army officers and an enlisted man parachuted to safety when an army transport plane crashed in rainy weather near here last night.

The World Daily News said today that a Chinese-Russian agreement had been reached on two points:

1. Nationalists may land airborne troops at Changchun and Mukden, Manchuria, and ground crews may proceed immediately to both points.

2. The Russian withdrawal from Manchuria will be completed by mid-January.

MANILA, Nov. 28 (AP) — Bluff, bullet-headed Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita described himself today as a subordinate commander having somewhat of a bystander role in the defense of the Philippines and hence not accountable for the long list of Japanese atrocities detailed by the prosecution in his war crimes trial.

Testifying in his own defense before the U. S. military tribunal, Yamashita declared he always was under orders of Field Marshal Count Hsaiichi Terauchi, supreme commander for the Southwest Pacific, and never had control of the air force, marine transportation corps, naval men and 30,000 other Japanese troops in the Philippines.

Asked whether he ordered or knew of atrocities, Yamashita ges-

Hess Judged Sane In Trial

By DANIEL DE LUCE

NUERNBERG, Nov. 28. (AP) — Franz von Papen and Arthur Seyss-Inquart — two of the top Nazi leaders on trial before an international military tribunal — were described by American prosecutors today as leaders of the fifth column which paved the way for Hitler's invasion of Austria in 1938.

While the Nazi plot to seize Austria was unveiled, the four-power court today rejected the defense's claim that the two leaders were "not insane" at present. Arguments on Hess' plea to be released from trial on grounds of amnesia were set for Friday.

American prosecutors met their first setback of the trial when the court ruled against their move to introduce an affidavit from Kurt Schuschnigg, deposed as chancellor and jailed for seven years by Hitler, in which he told of Nazi plotting against Austria.

Schuschnigg, the first of many European leaders called to the witness stand for the Hitler treatment of intimidation and terror, may get his revenge by appearing to testify against the Nazi leaders.

The prosecution showed that von Papen was sent by Hitler as Minister to Austria in 1934 to bring "slowly increasing pressure against Germany's neighbor."

Seyss-Inquart, who succeeded Schuschnigg as chancellor, was described by Assistant US Prosecutor Sidney S. Alderman as "the original quisling."

Reporting on results of mental examinations, British, Russian and American psychiatrists agreed Hess' loss of memory was self-induced and he was, in the words of British doctors, "not insane at the present time in the strict sense of the word."

The British psychiatrists' report revealed that Hess had tried to commit suicide on several occasions since his sensational and mysterious flight to Scotland in May, 1941.

The psychiatrists conceded that his loss of memory would "interfere with his ability to make his defense." Hess went on trial on war crime charges last week with 19 other top Nazi leaders but has paid scant attention to proceeding with his large, muscular hands and replied through his interpreter, "No, absolutely not."

Further, Yamashita insisted, he had determined that Manila was indefensible and had ordered his troops out last December.

Yamashita contended it was Japanese navy troops that remained there, although he didn't know of it at the time, and that he himself never at any time even had his headquarters in the city.

While the general was testifying, the Philippine supreme court denied his counsel's contention that the military tribunal was illegal and that Philippine civil courts should take jurisdiction.

He admitted never having inspected prisoner of war or internment camps because of day and night absorption in the task of planning the defense of Luzon.

The man who conquered Malaya from the British in a slickly-run operation at the start of the war, said that when he arrived in the Philippines he found his chief of staff was sick in bed and that only three staff officers were familiar with the terrain of the islands.

There were five fewer divisions than needed, he testified, and those that he had were short of supplies, especially food and fuel.

Another witness, Shigemasa Suda, a former Japanese diet member, testified that Yamashita had refused to let his troops celebrate the fall of Singapore but instead had held memorial services for the dead and had erected a monument to the fallen enemy.

Representatives from all organizations, schools and churches are to meet at 3 p. m. Thursday to set up machinery to begin the city-wide campaign to raise money for additional public library funds.

H. D. Norris, chairman, asks that everyone contacted please be present at the chamber of commerce office. Work is to get underway immediately, he said.

Only A Bystander Yamashita Subordinate Head In Philippines, He Claims

MANILA, Nov. 28 (AP) — Bluff, bullet-headed Lt. Gen. ings, reading a novel much of the time and giggling occasionally.

Hess, the medical board reported, is suffering from "Hysteria" and "in addition, there is conscious exaggeration of his loss of memory and a tendency to exploit it to protect himself against examination."

Three separate reports of examinations were filed, one by the British, one by the Russians and a third by American, French and Canadian doctors.

It was reported last night that several conference members and others, including Secretary of Commerce Wallace, Dr. George W. Taylor, conference secretary, and Fred Smith, conference press officer, had urged White House advisers to persuade the President to step in.

This disclosure came from public officials who may not be quoted by name. These officials said a proposed presidential message was drafted, embodying two specific objectives which Mr. Truman might set before the conference:

1. Machinery for voluntary arbitration as a means of avoiding strikes and lockouts.

2. Machinery for fact-finding. So that informed public opinion could be brought to bear in labor strife.

The plan was taken up with White House advisers, but even its advocates were pessimistic that Mr. Truman would step in.

Conciliators Plan Peace Parleys

DETROIT, Nov. 28. (AP) — Management representatives were absent today as federal conciliators arranged the first peace parleys aimed at settling the widespread, week-old General Motors strike.

Top officials of the striking CIO United Automobile Workers left Detroit by plane this morning for Washington and conferences later in the day 2 p. m. CST with Edgar L. Warren, chief Labor Department conciliator.

C. E. Wilson, General Motors president, said late yesterday, however, that he and other corporation executives could not confer with Warren for several days at least.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach had announced earlier that representatives of both parties had agreed to confer with him today.

Wilson said he told Warren by phone that because of the strike he would be unable to attend the national labor-management conference in the Capital this week.

As the strike entered its second week, some 225,000 workers were idle, further steps were taken in behalf of the strikers and the first "incident" connected with it passed without violence.

The "incident" involved the "imprisonment" of 65 supervisory employees in a GM plant at Saginaw, Mich., for more than 15 hours by a group of about 400 union pickets.

In another strike development last night representatives of 31,000 UAW Tool and Die Workers in 278 Detroit area shops voted to give local union officials authority to stop work on all materials intended for use in GM plants "whenever it is most feasible to aid the GM strikers."

A monthly assessment of $5 a worker for the GM strike fund also was voted.

Governor Urges British To Halt Military Action

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 28 (AP) — The Indonesian governor of western Java asked the British command today to halt military action at Bandoeng, and was told that nationalist forces must evacuate the residential area north of the east-west railway line by noon tomorrow.

In the midst of a tense situation in the summer capital, the Japanese governor approached British headquarters in Bandoeng under a white flag, an official British statement said.

Earlier, strong allied patrols had been ordered out in Bandoeng, about 75 miles southeast of Batavia, to disperse Indonesians who were gathering in the city.

A British brigade commander told the Japanese governor that if the area north of the rail line was not evacuated by the fixed deadline, any Indonesians found there after noon tomorrow would be liable to be shot by British patrols.

The governor replied, the British said, that he was unable to "assent or make proposals."

Sutan Sjahrir, premier of the unrecognized Indonesian republic, planned to go into the interior of Java within a week with members of his cabinet, for conferences with local leaders in such trouble spots as Bandoeng.

Contributions Asked For Paralysis Fund

Funds raised in the 1945 appeal for the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Infantile Paralysis Foundation Fund will be used to train nurses and technicians to make the Kenny treatment available to every boy and girl stricken with the disease it has been announced by George C. Francisco, Jr., of Houston, state chairman of the campaign.

Kenny trained nurses and technicians are now available to polio victims in Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston. The ultimate goal of the Texas Committee of the Sister Kenny Foundation is to build a Kenny Clinic in this state.

The Texas quota is $250,000. The campaign now underway is scheduled to end on Saturday, Dec. 8, but will be extended until solicitation by all county organizations has been completed. Francisco said that the campaign time was extended because of the lateness in organizing some counties. Checks may be mailed to him in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Clay are the parents of a son born Monday at 4 a. m. in a local hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds and nine ounces and has been named Robert Wayne.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Clay of Los Angeles, Calif., who are visiting here now, and Mrs. Homer Boatwright of Baird.

Dorcas Class Plans Visitation, Party

At a special called meeting of the Dorcas class of the East Fourth Street Baptist church Tuesday afternoon plans for visitation day on Thursday were discussed, and a committee was tentatively appointed to make arrangements. Luncheon will be had at the church on that day.

In addition, plans for a Christmas party were made with the time and place to be scheduled later.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. C. C. Mason, Mrs. R. J. Barton, who presided at the meeting, Mrs. W. H. Bagley, Mrs. C. M. Harrell and Mrs. R. M. Kinard.

Native Music Suited For Great Symphony

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (P) — The native music materials of Texas are utilized by some major composer to "weave them into a great symphony" says Dr. Archie Jones, professor of Music Education at the University of Texas.

An effective music education program should dig out the indigenous culture of a community and express it in its musical forms and activities, Dr. Jones believes.

"Texas is distinctive because of its Latin and Western touches," Dr. Jones said. "Its music can be strong, highly individualistic, and colorful."

Tyler Oil Man Freed After Apologizing

DALLAS, Nov. 28. (P) — After serving four days of a 30-day sentence for contempt of court, A. S. Genecov, Tyler oil man, asked to be released from the Dallas county jail, following his apology to Judge John A. Rawlins of the 116th District Court.

Genecov said he was ready to pay fines of $1,500 and $3,000 for allegedly failing to obey an injunction prohibiting him from polluting the Angellina river with salt water from the East Texas oil wells.

To Renounce Ranks

TOKYO, Nov. 28. (P) — Toshiro Shiratori, former Japanese ambassador to Italy now held as a war-criminal suspect, has decided to renounce court ranks and honors. He said he didn't want to appear before an Allied tribunal with such honors because "I would feel ashamed."

The average Mohammedan mosque consists of a great open court with a fountain in the center, surrounded by covered arcades. The special place of prayer always faces toward Mecca.

Christmas Jewelry Emphasizes Pretty Neckline, Maureen O'Hara Reminds

By BETTY CLARK

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

The lucky girl who has some of grandma's heirlooms can take them out for a Christmas airing provided she is conscious of the added emphasis pendants, brooches and clips create at the neckline.

Glamorous stars of the screen who have adopted a new bare shoulder line so that their necklines can be highlighted, find that their necks must be in beautiful condition to do them justice.

As moviegoers Maureen O'Hara says, "If a girl wants to stick her neck out, she has to have a pretty neck and lovely shoulders."

The first thing to do, suggests Maureen, is to watch the chin line. If you are a double-chin sleeper, better give it up. One pillow is bad enough. If your chin is starting to sag you've got to give up pillows completely to keep that chin line from drooping.

A good exercise for shoulder and chest development that will help fill out those little hollows starts by spreading arms out at the sides. Hold the arms stiff, and make little circles with the arm. To keep your skin looking soft and white instead of discolored, freckled or tanned, use a bleach of lemon juice. Massage frequently with cold cream to keep it soft and supple.

First Of Program Series Heard At Beta Sigma Phi

"Poetry Into Music" was the title of the program for Beta Sigma Phi meeting Tuesday night, when members met in regular session in the home of DeAlva Graham.

This was the first of a series of programs on music, and the discussion concerned pieces of poetry which have been used in musical selections, and composers who have been influenced by poets. Emphasized was Frederic Chopin and a recorded example of his work, the Polonaise, was played. Lesley Cathey read "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," a poem that was basis for a song.

TODAY'S VICTORY LOAN STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (P) — "All of us as citizens have positive reasons for buying Victory bonds. Being good practical Americans, we like to plan for our own future, for the future of our families, and the education of our children. Then too we bought war bonds to send millions of our men overseas. It costs just as much to bring them back. We have made promises to these men and women; these promises we intend to keep. Buy Victory bonds. They pay off."

Officials Warned Not To Infringe On Rights

City commissioners instructed city officials to be certain that property rights of individuals are not infringed upon before they proceed with the legal part of the street paving project.

Further discussion on the paving question was held and it appears as if work on the paving will not get underway until Jan. 1st, the city manager reported.

Work of the Health Unit, in connection with complaints filed on several cafes and other establishments handling food, was discussed.

It was announced that no information as to the future of the airport could be obtained from the Army but that the CAA had been contacted in order to get it to continue operation of the control tower at the local air field after the post inactivation date, Nov. 30.

Three other dissatisfied couples signified they wanted to go their separate ways by recording suits in the district clerk's office.

They involve J. T. Jolley vs. Nancy Jolley, Emil Jahnke vs. Ida Jahnke, and Dillmon Jackson vs. Betty Jackson.

Driveway Washers Violate City Laws

Several persons have been named in recent complaints for washing their driveways with water in the town area. City officials said this is a violation of a city ordinance.

Other complaints are being made on the rummage sales held on the north side. A few of the rummage stands have been placed on city property and block sidewalk traffic. Using city property without permission is violating a city ordinance.

YMCA Can Develop Basic Interests Of Youth, Don Newton Tells Lions

Taking the time of youth or taking youth off the streets is not enough to solve the real problem, Don Newton, Dallas, regional executive for the YMCA, told the Lions club Wednesday.

Crux of the matter is to establish certain basic interests which can be followed immediately and subsequently so that through the development of skills, character also may be developed.

Alluding to the recent creation of a YMCA here, Newton warned that "the YMCA is not some hocus pocus from the outside" to solve difficulties and said that "you can expect out of it what you put into it."

Through its establishment, Newton said, the community had the advantage of adopting a movement which would endure and which "will bless youth more 10 years or 50 years from now as well as tomorrow."

Jack Smith, president, announced that the club-sponsored banquet honoring the coach and football team would be held on Dec. 11. Dutch Myer, TCU grid coach, previously had accepted an invitation to address the gathering.

Harold Steck urged Lions to join in the unofficial sponsorship of the Lakeview Lions (Big Spring) and Tyler Bulldog football game for the mythical title of Texas colored schoolboy championship. The game is 8 p. m. Thursday and club members are undertaking to promote ticket sales.

Roxie Dobbins was honored for his having been accepted into the Lions International Puzzle Club. Dobbins solved 10 of the tough problems presented in the Lions magazine.

McVay Faces Court Martial Charges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP)—A public court martial will try Capt. Charles B. McVay III, beginning Monday on undisclosed charges concerning the loss of his ship, the heavy cruiser Indianapolis, and 880 men on July 30 off Leyte.

Navy officials explained that Navy regulations forbade making the charges public before they are formally read to the accused officer. They added however that the court martial would be concerned only with Capt. McVay's responsibilities in the loss of his ship.

Casualties among the 1,196 on board were 100 per cent — 875 missing, five known dead, 316 wounded.

McVay, who is 47, lives in Washington.

Drivers Wishing For Tires Have Break From Car Production Strike

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP) — Car owners who need new tires get a bit of a break from strikes and bottlenecks in new car plants. And it seems likely tire rationing will end early in 1946. It will if production meets government hopes. It's been mounting month by month.

The government is not going to wait, to end rationing, until there are enough tires to meet all demands. New car makers — under rules of the government's civilian production administration — can't build stocks of new tires larger than will be needed within 15 days.

Since strikes and bottlenecks cut down new car production, the auto makers' need for new tires is less. Thus — more new tires for old cars. Eventually, this works in reverse. When new car output picks up, they will gobble up new tires. Then — less for old cars. Even so, those owners of old cars — on government figures, hopes and forecasts — won't fare too badly.

End of rationing early in 1946 depends not only upon continued tire production but increased production.

The government schedule calls in the first quarter of 1946 for 13,000,000 tires; about 16,000,000 in the second quarter; 18,000,000 in the third quarter and 19,000,000 in the final three months.

By the end of 1945 the government hopes the supply in the hands of dealers and manufacturers will have been built up 6,000,000 tires. The government wants a good supply on hand before ending rationing.

HONORED — Ben Logan, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Logan of Coahoma, Miss., has been honored as one of 20 students from Texas Tech to be nominated for the collegiate Who's Who. A senior engineering student, 18-year old Logan is president of the Tech chapter of American Institute of Electrical Engineers, on the board of directors of the Engineering Society, secretary of Tau Beta Phi and a member of Kappa Mu Spillon and Alpha Chi. He will get his degree in the spring before reporting for military training.

Skymasters Oppose Second AF Sunday

FORT WORTH, Nov. 28. (AP) — Returning to AAF football league wars, the Training Command Skymasters this week make ready for their final home game of the season, a Sunday tilt with the Second Air Force Super-bombers of Colorado Springs.

Currently in second place in league competition, Maj. Doug Fessenden's skymen still have a chance to go into a first place tie should the loop-leading Third Air Force Gremlins lose to the Fourth Air Force Flyers at Los Angeles. To tie up the league in that event, the Skymasters would have to turn back the Superbombers this Sunday and then go on to beat the Personnel Distribution Command Comets in the season's windup game for the skymen at San Antonio Dec. 9.

Prominent in the tricky attack of the Second Air Force gridders are Ray (Fireball) Evans, former all-Big Six back from Kansas, and Don Fambrough of Texas, quarterback on the Longhorn. Cotton Bowl eleven of 1943. A standout in the Superbombers line is Clyde (Buildup) Turner of Hardin-Simmons who won all-league honors four years in a row with the Chicago Bears.

Ten Local Men File Discharges At Draft Board

More servicemen from Big Spring have donned civilian clothes and have taken up where they left off when they entered the armed forces to do their part during the war. Included in a recent filing with the Selective Service Board are: R. L. D. Myrick, Pvt., 1st Air Cargo Control Sq., enlisted Oct. 30, 1942; New Guinea, Southern Philippines, Luzon; A-P theater campaign medal with one bronze star, three years, one month foreign service.

Kyle B. Cauble, Cpl., 410th Field Artillery Battalion, enlisted June 27, 1940; Central Europe, Aleutian Islands; American Defense Service medal with one bronze star, American theater campaign medal, EAME campaign medal with one bronze star, A-P campaign medal with one bronze star, three years, one month foreign service.

William H. Perry, Pvt., 1880th Engineers Battalion (aviation), entered service Feb. 17, 1943; India-Burma; A-P theater campaign medal; one year, three months foreign service.

Drennan S. Anderson, Pfc., 735th Tank Battalion, entered Feb. 6, 1942; Northern France, Rhineland, Central Europe; EAME campaign medal with three bronze stars, three years, one month foreign service.

James T. Underwood, Pfc., 690th Field Artillery Battalion, entered service July 24, 1942; Normandy, Northern France, Ardennes, Rhineland, Central Europe; American theater campaign medal, EAME campaign medal with five bronze stars, Victory medal; two years, one month overseas.

Wilborn L. Townsend, Pfc., discharged from enlisted Army Reserve Corps.

"Wet Firecrackers"

Eco Professor Says First Bomb Just A Mere Pop

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP) — One world or no world is no longer a figure of speech, but has become a hard, cold fact since the day the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, Dr. R. H. Montgomery, University of Texas economic professor, told the Texas Power Reserve Electric Cooperative here last night.

The atomic bombs that were dropped on Japan were described as "wet firecrackers" compared to a bomb which has since been made in the United States and the next atomic bomb "will wipe out life permanently," Montgomery declared.

In his first public lecture since returning from Washington, D. C., where he has been chief of bombing objectives for the Foreign Economic Administration during the war and more recently, from a two-months lecture tour in South America, where he described the meaning of atomic power, the educator said the full meaning of the release of nuclear energy is just now being realized.

Explaining why there will be no defense against the next atomic bomb dropped on the earth, Montgomery compared the effects of an atomic explosion to a fire burning in green cedar. "If the fire is being enough, green cedar will burn. If the explosion is great enough it will set off chain explosions in hydrogen and carbon and will engulf the world," he said.

The culmination of the Einstein theory that all matter is electricity and nothing else; "everything is exactly the same thing, only in different amounts and squeezed together in different manner," means that man has "infinite power and infinite resources," he said. Speaking of social changes which must come about as a result of a discovery which will make a

CONSTIPATION is the cause of MUCH SUFFERING

Constipation may cause no symptoms for a long time, but unless corrected will finally impair the health. Symptoms associated with advancing constipation are loss of appetite, heavily coated tongue, tired feeling and mental depression. Headache, dizziness, anemia, and skin disturbances such as acne, are commonly experienced. In severe cases, neuralgia and joint pains occur. Indigestion, with gas formation and colic, and piles and fissures frequently add to the discomforts of severe chronic cases. No matter how many other medicines you may have tried for constipation, we urge you to try B-L PREPARATION, with the understanding that B-L PREPARATION must bring you satisfactory results or your money back. Caution: Use only as directed.

Tucker's Illness Cause Of Anxiety At W'Point

Master-Mind Of T-Formation In Hospital; Applications For Million Tickets Made

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 28 (AP)—It took a slight case of influenza to show how highly Army regards Arnold Tucker, the Cadets field general and chief passer.

Overlooked in the attention focused on the West Pointers' touchdown twins—Glenn Davis and "Doc" Blanchard—Tucker, key man of the Cadets polished T machine, was the cause of much anxiety yesterday when he was hospitalized with the flu.

For a while when his temperature soared to 102 it looked like the 21-year-old Miami, Fla. quarterback might miss the big game with the Navy in Philadelphia Saturday. But late in the afternoon the team physician, Capt. Robert W. Bayle, reported that Tucker's temperature had gone down and that the grid star would be released from the hospital by Thursday at the latest.

Some notes on Saturday's game: The service classic, shaping up as one of the greatest gridiron spectacles of all time, would be witnessed by a million fans if officials could only find some place to put them. . . . Army athletic manager Biff Jones has turned down more applicants than he can count but he estimates—"conservatively," he says—that he could have sold ten times as many tickets as actually were available.

As it is, around 102,999 fortunate fans who have paid an aggregate of something like $440,999 for the coveted postcards will be in Philadelphia's big municipal stadium Saturday to see an Army team that has stretched a 17-game winning streak over two seasons battle unbeaten but once-tied Navy for the unofficial but undisputed collegiate championship of the land.

MIDDIES BASE HOPE ON PLAY OF TWO WINGS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 28 (AP)—One position at which Navy figures it holds a decided advantage over Army is at end, and therein lies Navy's chances of penning up swift Glenn Davis.

Dick Duden, six feet tall, 203 pounds, 20 years old, and Leon Bramlett, six feet one, 195, and 21 years old, will shoulder the responsibility of halting Davis in Saturday's service spectacle in Philadelphia.

Nobody this season has been able to prevent Davis from sweeping wide on touchdown runs, as Army applied its one-two punch, Davis in the open and "Doc" Blanchard down the middle.

But Navy supporters contend that Davis never has run up against wingmen of the caliber of Duden and Bramlett.

Both have been mentioned repeatedly for all-America and Navy coaches consider them the "finest pair" of ends in the country.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With ANGUS LECESTER

Talk of your "iron-man" football team.

The Toyah six-man club coming in here Friday night to battle Coahoma's Bulldogs in bi-district play are composed of that many players, no more. The sextet has played ten games without relief this season.

Statistics released by Jimmy Stewart, executive secretary of the Southwest conference, reveal that Southern Methodist is leading that unit in offensive play as of last week.

Team	1st	Net	Passes
SMU	130	2541	120
Texas	116	2508	60
Baylor	97	2259	73
Arkansas	97	2040	76
Rice	105	2247	34
TCU	90	2040	76
A&M	104	2009	40

The breakdown on all schools: The Mustangs do not have a ball carrier to rank with the top nine in conference play. They do have the best punter in Howard "Red" Maley, whose average for the semester is 40.9 yards in 58 tries. They have three of the seven most successful passers in Dock Walker, Dave Moon and Maley.

Walker threw nine passes against Baylor last week, completed eight for 82 yards advancement.

Little "Pepper" Martin, son of Floyd "Pepper" Martin, one of Big Spring's colorful baseball figures of the middle 30's, has at long last returned from an overseas tour of duty with the CE's. He was beyond the continental limits of this country for something like 30 months.

Around 1941, the younger Martin played a bit of professional ball with the Big Spring WT-NM league club.

The United Press has come out with its 1945 Little All-America football club, naming four Texans to the first eleven.

UP's selections are: Ends, Dick Meyers (Texas Tech); and A. Littleton (Swarthmore); tackles, Bob Kirkman (Dakota Wesleyan) and Ed Edmiston (California); guards, Don Bolt (Fresno State) and Floyd Lawhorn (Texas Tech); center, Ellsworth Nunn (Miami, O.); backs, Terry Ragan (Redlands), Bim Boswell (Oberlin, O.), Walt Schilnkman (Texas Tech), and Walt Trojanowski (Connecticut).

Boswell is a native of Hearne, Texas.

Albuquerque gets the eighth berth in the WT-NM baseball league, as everybody knew it would.

The New Mexico city had the money, at the loop's initial meeting last month but some of the circuit backers held out in the hope that Big Spring or some other West Texas town would rally to the cause.

Aggies Due To Be In Mental Trim For Thursday Battle With Steers

Seek To Repay Herd For Loss Five Years Ago

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 28 (AP)—Back in 1940 an underdog University of Texas football team ruined Texas A. and M.'s greatest winning streak and knocked the Aggies out of the Rose Bowl.

Since that bleak November day A. and M. has been trying to ruin something for Texas without success.

Thursday, the Aggies have another chance. This time it's the Cotton Bowl that beckons to the Longhorns as they enter the traditional battle with the Cadets—the fifty-second game in more than a half-century of bitter football rivalry. Texas can clinch the Southwest conference championship by either beating or tying the Aggies—and that would mean the Cotton Bowl.

But if the underdog Aggies can clip the Longhorns, the conference race would end in a four-way tie with A. and M. one of the principals. Who would go to the Cotton Bowl then would be something about which there would be long and loud talk.

Texas, with much the better record and moving along in championship style, is a heavy favorite to bounce the Aggies. There is no Kyle Field tradition. There was one but Texas blasted that long ago. There is nothing but the deepest rivalry in football to spur the Cadets to the heights.

Coach D. X. Bible of Texas isn't taking the words of the critics to heart—that the Longhorns are a cinch to win. "It always is a great game and this one will be a great game," he said today. "It's one that you can't figure on past performances or comparative performances. Records don't count. We have a real battle on our hands. Both teams will extend themselves to their fullest capabilities."

Bible ought to know. He once was coach at Texas A. and M. and had to win his share of victories over Texas the hard way.

A. and M. adherents point to the fact that Texas will be at full strength and that the Aggies enter this game with two key men definitely out. Tom Daniel, quarterback and passer, and Bob Butch-offsky, blocking back, will be watching the game from the sidelines because of injuries. Texas is at full strength.

But that has dimmed in no way the spirit of Aggie land on the eve of the season's big game. There will be a bonfire here tonight that will equal any ever held on the Aggie campus.

Texas, too, will have its pregame rally and master bonfire to-night with Col. George Hurt, director of the Longhorn band, and dean of men Arno Nowotny as the principal speakers. They are calling this year's bonfire the "Aggies' funeral pyre."

An overflow crowd of 40,000 is certain for Kyle stadium. Not a space remains despite the addition of approximately 8,000 temporary seats. Ticket man: "Pete Jones said he could have sold 75,000 seats had they been available."

You can't find sleeping space within 100 miles of here. All tourist camps, hotels and other sleeping facilities were sold out long ago not on reservations but paid for in advance. Eating facilities in Bryan and College Station will be supplemented by service in the two college dining halls which will

Bisons, Friday Foes Of Coahoma, Have Formidable Record For '45

Albers' Sextet Are Crippled For Title Go

TOYAH'S Buffaloes, who come to Big Spring Friday night to meet the Coahoma Bulldogs for the District 9-10 football championship, boast one of the finest records in six-man competition in the state.

In ten games this season the contingent from Reeves county have rolled up 29 points to 55 for the opposition. They played two close games with Barstow, winning one, 14-12, and tying the other, 6-6, but no other sextet in that section of the country has been able to hold them to less than four touchdowns.

The Bisons defeated Balmorea three times during the season, the last time by a 37-6 count. Coach of the Toyah troupe is N. E. Craft, who also serves the school system as superintendent.

The Buffs build their hopes around a 195-pound powerhouse by the name of Cavender, who drives into opposing lines like a projectile from a French 75.

John Albers Coahomans cannot provoke as much favorable comment on their record as can the Toyah clan but they've always been able to come through when the chips are down. The Bulldogs lost three games in a row at the beginning of the season but they came along fast to win the District Nine crown, routing Water Valley in the deciding bout, 25-12.

The last Howard county aggregation will not be at full strength. Marion Roberts, the Bulldogs' best defensive man, is out for the season. So is Pete Hull, ace wing. Both were hurt in the Water Valley game.

Clovis Phinney and Marion Hays will start the game for the injured parties. Phinney and Hays weigh 140 pounds each.

Friday night's setto gets underway at 7:30 o'clock.

Fleet Of Cars Due

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—State highway patrol chief W. J. Elliott warned motorists traveling to College Station Thursday for the Texas A. and M. football game, to "figure out how long it will take you to get there, then leave an hour and a half earlier."

He estimated yesterday that at least 7,000 automobiles will travel the highways to College Station.

All automobile traffic on the campus will be stopped at 10 a. m. and those coming to the game by car will have to park in the free parking lots adjacent to the stadium.

Texas Can Lay Claim To Own Powerhouse

FORT WORTH, Nov. 28 (AP)—Move over Army; you too, Glenn Davis; you also, Red Grange.

Fort Worth has a football team with a record equalling anything that comes along; undefeated, untied, unscored on in seven games and making at least four touchdowns in each contest.

The "Red Grange" of this team did even better than the Galloping Ghost of Illinois in 1924 when he made four touchdowns runs in 12 minutes against Michigan. This "Grange" received the kickoff and ran it back 70 yards for a touchdown, and the next five times he carried the ball went all the way to scores.

This team is so good it has run out of opposition and at this hour is keeping the wires hot in an effort to arrange a post-season classic.

However, there are a few minor details which may keep the Fort Worth whizzes out of a bowl game.

1. They are a wee bit small, with their heaviest man tipping the beams at 90 pounds.

2. They are a shade immature, with the average age approximately 11 years.

3. They have not played what could be called a representative inter-sectional, national schedule, having downed one neighborhood eleven six times and beaten another team from across town once.

This eleven is known as the Masonic Home Micromites. They get the name because they are a small edition of Masonic Home's Mighty Mites who once were terrors of Texas schoolboy football.

Coach of the Micromites is Bobby Hogan, 17-year-old member of the Mighty Mites.

The little guys astound Bobby with their versatility of attack. Regarding the Micromites' system Hogan said: "Sometimes I wonder myself. By plan, we are supposed to be a short punt eleven. But the liberties my men take with their directed formation is a scandal to the jaybirds. It never seems to come out the same way twice."

Rose Bowl Vote Saturday Night

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28 (AP)—A decisive UCLA victory over the Southern California Trojans Saturday could throw the Pacific Coast conference in a tremendous turmoil over its own Rose Bowl nominee.

While Southern California and Washington State are the only teams with a mathematical chance of finishing first in the conference race, there's a possibility — in the event of a Trojan debacle — that the league might split in its telegraphic vote Saturday night and pick an also ran to go to the bowl against Alabama Jan. 1.

Each of the 10 conference schools has the right to vote for the team it believes will "best represent the conference."

UCLA could become a "pre-tige" candidate although finishing fourth in the race. The Bruins would base their claim on a better nonconference record, including a 13-7 win over St. Mary's which beat USC, 26-0.

Washington (6-3), which would be tied with USC for second place, might also become a contender.

The balloting of the faculty fathers might develop into a political picnic with the four top teams grubbing for votes.

Lakeview Bears Down In Workout For Thursday Game With Tyler

Shifting their base of operations to the high school stadium, the Lakeview (colored) Lions of Big Spring went through a long, bruising drill Tuesday afternoon in preparation for their Thursday night encounter with the Tyler Bulldogs.

If there is pessimism in the Lion camp, it isn't apparent. The Tyler club is bringing west one of the most awesome records in the state but confidence runs rampant with Coach Frank Miller and his boys. The Big Springers have played well all semester and even Miller himself — never one to praise his charges — admits the club has improved remarkably in recent weeks.

The mighty Bulldogs will arrive here tomorrow morning for the bout. Twenty-five men make up the traveling squad. Obviously the invaders will be well stocked with substitutes.

In that respect, Miller is in better shape than any time in recent weeks. He has had 18 boys suiting out for the past weeks. Through the first five or six games of the season, the Lakeview club had to struggle through its games with but three substitutes.

All the Lions are ready to operate, including big Claude Tucker, who played his best game of the season against Odessa last week.

The Thursday clash could develop into a personal duel between Tucker and Tom Hinton, the Bulldogs' ace back who rated all-District laurels in East Texas in 1944 and is supposed to be better than ever this year.

Tucker will have plenty of help from such stalwarts as Harry Doolley, rated as one of the finest ends in the state of Texas, Edward J. Wrightsill, Claude Pollard, Conroe Slaton, Pete Jones and others.

The speedy Jones was recently switched from center to the backfield and Miller says he helps the Lions' offense. Originally scheduled for 7:30, game time was moved back to 8 o'clock. Turnstile tariff stands at 75 cents for adult trade and 25 cents for students. One of the better crowds of the campaign is expected to look on.

People Should Be Told

Reports from an Associated Press correspondent at Chungking to the effect that the war department has ordered every available American plane in India and Burma flown into China constitutes a question that should be answered squarely and promptly by the war and state departments.

There have been accusations and reports of intervention in the internal affairs of China, but this is tantamount to a direct report of it. If it is true, the war department should acknowledge it and the state department should make explanation of it.

What the American people will be entitled to know is whether these reports are true, and if they are true, what objective is in mind.

This is too ticklish a matter to call for secret and double dealing, regardless of sentiments or a desire to hedge against the encroachments of communism. If there is sound reason why such a course should be taken, then the American people are entitled to be told. If sufficient reason is lacking to stand the rigors of open discussion, then the course should be abandoned.

Meddling in the affairs of China may not be so dangerous within themselves, but they constitute a means of becoming involved with the USSR, or rather provoking the Soviets to counter action in a theatre of greater proximity to them and in which they could doubtless have the advantage in many ways.

If Russia is already intervening, and there have been comparatively few reports to support such a contention, then we should be told, else our people will be no better off than in Russia where the people are told nothing which the government does not want to be told. Perhaps more honesty at home would result in a more straightforward foreign policy for us.

New Quality Needed

Mr. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley has announced his resignation as ambassador to China with the assertion that American foreign policy has failed in Asia. Gen. Hurley discreetly points out that the objectives of his own mission were achieved. He put the blame in "professional diplomats in the lower echelons" who were said to be "frustrating attainment of announced policy aims."

Perhaps there is some truth in what he has to say, but then Gen. Hurley can not so easily absolve himself from complicity in the general state of affairs of our policy in China. He was head of the diplomatic service in that country and the responsibility was his. He was careful to take credit for achieving war objectives. How can he, in the name of consistency, put the blame for failure on his underlings?

It seems to us that, based on reports of conflict between Hurley and other high placed American officials in China, our interest will be better served

LONDON, Nov. 28.—England's new socialist government naturally is being viewed in varying lights, but one finds the opinion widely expressed even among conservatives that the big labor majority in the house of commons is an extremely bright and active body of men and women.

Indeed, I heard it characterized by a conservative expert of great experience as the best-informed house ever elected. Be that as it may, it certainly is keen and active, as your columnist team found upon attending yesterday's session.

I asked Mrs. Mac what her outstanding impression was and she laughingly replied that she was overwhelmed with the Scotch accent. Well, it must be admitted that it was pretty thick, for there are a lot of Scots in the house.

Thus far the conservative opposition, of which former Prime Minister Churchill is leader, has had little to say. Having watched the great Churchill in action in commons for many years at close range, I can hardly believe he won't stage an offensive in due course. There are reports that the conservatives are getting set for an attack.

In any event, the socialists of laborites, if you wish—they themselves use both designations—are on trial in a big way before not only their conservative opponents but the entire country. Here it is important to note that the socialists received a very large vote (especially middle-class) from other political parties, including the conservatives.

It is significant that the elections for individual vacancies in commons (they call them by-elections) have continued to return laborites. The same has been true of many municipal elections. This means that the result of the general election wasn't a matter of snap judgment, but that the country is determined to find out whether the labor party program can bring better days to England.

Up to this point the socialists have stuck to the wares they advertised in their general election platform. There has been no indication of any radical trend.

The present indications are that they intend to preserve the monarchy and to follow the general lines pursued by the conservatives in foreign and imperial affairs.

by his return. Gen. Hurley has an abundance of suavity, but something a little more substantial and compatible with the deep problems of human misery is needed.

The Unseen Audience

With The AEF: CO Makes Decision For A Soldier

By HAL BOYLE

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Somewhere in America there is a wife who never will know how much she owes to her husband's commanding officer.

This is a true story, so far as anonymity let us say that her husband was a sergeant—which he was not.

The story goes back almost to the beginning of the late war. He had been married only a short time, and was a sad and sorry guy when his ship steamed out of the Golden Gate more than three years ago.

There followed three years of change and chance.

At last the sergeant was eligible for discharge on points, but he showed no jubilation.

"I guess I've got putty in my head instead of brains," he told a tent-mate, "but I don't know where I want to go."

The friend pointed to the picture of a beautiful dark-haired girl on a packing case beside the sergeant's cot and replied, "You must have putty in your head if you don't want to go home to a wife like that."

"That's the trouble," said the sergeant. "She's not my wife."

Holding her head in his hands, he explained:

"I met her in Australia. It didn't happen all at once. She introduced me to her parents. I was pretty lonesome, and I guess they were too, for they had a boy in the Middle East. They took me into the family, and before I knew it, the girl and I were liking each other better than we had a right to do.

"I don't know just how it happened. I used to tell them all about my wife in the States and I never thought anybody could take her place, but I guess I was in Australia too long.

"Now I'm in a fix. I never wrote my wife about the other girl, so I can't tell her now, and I don't know whether to go home or go to Australia and try to arrange a divorce from there. It's running me nuts."

Somehow the word of his predicament got around, and one day the sergeant was called before his commanding officer.

"Sergeant," he said, without preliminaries of any sort, "I have some classified material we are sending back to the States. I want you to take it back. It will be your last army assignment. The plane leaves tomorrow and you will be discharged soon after you arrive."

The sergeant looked bewildered, but managed to reply, "Yes, sir."

At the tent flap he paused, turned slowly and added, "Thank you, sir."

When the sergeant caught the plane for home next day, there was a happy grin on his face.

On the packing crate beside his empty cot his friends found the picture of the beautiful Australian.

Washington—

Services Eventually Discharge Obligation

(Second of Two Articles)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Complaints against the armed forces discharge system and failure to move troops back more rapidly from abroad are expected to reach their zenith about the first of the year.

After that the complaints will gradually die out—for the causes of them will be dying out.

The usual answer to all complaints about getting the boys back so slowly is "lack of shipping."

After talking to War Shipping Administration officials as well as Army and Navy men who have come through the discharge mill in both oceans, the conclusion must be that "lack of shipping" is only the result of a fault that goes far deeper: lack of advance planning.

If VE-Day didn't come sooner than expected, VJ-Day certainly did. It caught the War Department in the throes of trying to move an army half way around the world and the Navy cocked and primed to unleash the greatest naval force in history.

Some of the worst early confusions have been ironed out. For example, the deluge of returning men are no longer being dumped into one port on each coast to cause irremediable land transportation gluts.

In both oceans, the War Shipping Administration has more than 500 ships (subject entirely to orders from the joint chiefs of staff, WSA officials point out very emphatically) with a capacity of more than half a million men.

Add to these the fleets of Army transports and hospital ships, and the aircraft carriers the Navy now is converting to troopships, and the contribution of the Air Forces and you can see that the "lack of shipping" can't last forever.

Taking just one week at random from recent ones, the Associated Press roundup of troop arrivals went like this: Sunday, 34,500; Monday, 28,400; Tuesday, 29,000; Wednesday, 18,600; Thursday, 34,000; Friday, 31,700; and Saturday, 20,600.

That's getting very close to 200,000 men a week. It doesn't take much arithmetic to see that the complaints from overseas can't go on for very many months at that rate.

Another bright spot in the offing is that re-enlistments are outstripping expectations. (The emoluments offered for re-enlistment have some of the veteran regular Army enlisted men mumbling in their beards.) Soon, there should be a steady stream of these men who want to say in the Army on its way to replace those who want to get out.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Let-Down Strike Against Reconversion

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Clearest call for Congressional action on reconversion was voiced last week in a little-noticed speech by the ex-Minneapolis street-sweeper, Representative William J. Gallagher. Without any hesitation, he pinned responsibility for the Congressional sit-down strike right where it belongs — on the leadership of important House committees.

Gallagher, a member of four committees (Census, Indian Affairs, Mines and Mining, and Pensions), pointed out that only the Indian Affairs committee has been at all active.

"I might just as well not be on a committee at all," he remarked. The bent, white-haired former supporter of Henry George called for an end to the long delay in stalling off the St. Lawrence Seaway project. He called for action on the full employment bill, the 65-cent minimum wage bill, and other important measures bound up with reconversion.

Reason for the long delays in committees, he said, is that "leaders on both sides of the House do not trust the members. If they are not in complete agreement on the objective of these measures, at least they should permit them to come before the House for a vote."

"Why should we sit here day after day doing nothing but talk, talk, criticize, and fight battles that are past, in place of having our eyes to the future for the benefit of our country and for the benefit of the soldier boys? . . . I want action and sane thinking."

It was one of the sanest speeches Congress has heard in weeks.

Note — as long as reactionary Southern Congressmen are chairmen of committees they can bottle up legislation and prevent its coming to a vote.

Spell the Name Right

No. 1 rule of all good advertising men is to remember names—particularly the names of clients. All successful government executives understand the same rule—especially when it comes to their clients — the members of Congress who vote them money.

That's why frascious old Senator Kenneth McKellar, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, couldn't understand the lapses of Assistant Secretary of State William Benton when he appeared before McKellar's committee. Benton, founder with OPA's Chester Bowles of one of the nation's top advertising agencies, was testifying in secret session, trying to get more appropriations for the State Department.

But Benton couldn't remember McKellar's name. Other Senators chuckled behind their hands at the Tennesseean's annoyance, but Benton kept addressing the venerable chairman as "Senator Keller."

Finally, McKellar could stand it no longer. Grabbing a pencil and a scratch pad, he interrupted Benton to point out, "Mr. Benton, that's the fifth time you've done that. My name is McKellar—here, let me write it out for you."

Then, in labored hand, McKellar spelled out his name on the paper and handed it to Benton. The ex-advertising executive flushed and kept the reminder before him during the rest of his testimony.

J. L. Lewis Comes Home
Officials on both sides publicly deny reports that John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers Union will rejoin the American Federation of Labor. However, prito restore crispness to veils, press them between two sheets of waxed paper.

How To Modify Sovereignty

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Speaking in the House of Commons on Thursday, Mr. Eden said that he was "unable to see any final solution that will make the world safe from atomic power other than that we all abate our present ideas of sovereignty." All will agree that any plan to outlaw, regulate, control, inspect, must involve some modification of the idea that within its territory each national state is the supreme authority. The question is how this abatement of sovereignty should be worked out.

There are now two main schools of thought as to how to modify national sovereignty in order to control atomic energy. The one, to which Mr. Eden belongs, holds that the national states should renounce their veto under the San Francisco charter, agreeing to be bound by the decisions and judgments of a majority of other national states. The other school, which seems to me the wiser, is seeking ways to make the rules regulating the production and use of atomic energy binding upon individuals.

Letter To Editor—Reader Hart Has Look At Pappy's Weekly Newspaper

Dear Editor:

A few days ago I was talking to some of my friends under the Tree of Knowledge. One of them, O'Daniel's most enthusiastic supporter and who headquarters is the Tree of Knowledge, wanted to know why I had quit writing about Sen. O'Daniel. I replied I had not been able lately to get a copy of his paper. A few days later this friend obliged me by sending me a copy of the O'Daniel News.

Well, the first thing I noticed was that it is no longer printed in Fort Worth but is issued from Washington, D. C. Of course, Texas being such a small place I suppose it was necessary to move it to Washington where it could become a national paper.

It is issued weekly and you will be surprised that the subscription price is only $5 per year, cash in advance. I just do not see how he does it! The paper contains four pages. What a wonder! I cannot begin to tell you all the paper contains, so I will mention the general trend. First it takes a few shots at the New Deal and throughout he shows he is anti-Roosevelt. He has an article about Bureaucrats in Washington and proposes a six year term for president and all federal officers. I feel he realizes he will not be able to go back so he will try and keep everybody else out regardless of how good they have been.

Now he does not have one word to say about the Old Folks. How well do I remember when he was campaigning for office, his main plea was to try and help the old folks. After each speech he would have the boys pass the barrels and gather in their nickels, dimes and quarters to elect him to office so he could help them.

Sen. O'Daniel succeeded Sen. Sheppard, the great prohibitionist. Yet his paper does not contain one word for prohibition or against it. Or what has become of the pious voice we used to hear over the air on Sunday telling us to go to the church of our choice. The voice is now stilled, only a beautiful dream remains. Ah, how our souls were uplifted by his great exhortations, and just to think we can no longer sit by our radios and be thrilled by the uplifting strains of "Beautiful Texas" and "Please Pass the Biscuits Pappy."

Respectfully,
W. H. Hart.

Government Reduces Wool Selling Prices

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The government today reduced the selling prices of its wool by an average of seven cents a pound, grease basis, to encourage greater use by domestic manufacturers.

Little domestic wool has been moving into use because foreign wools have been priced cheaper.

The price reduction, announced by the agriculture department, was made effective today.

The department said the new prices were designed to permit "resumption of sales of domestic wool at prices in line with prices for comparable foreign wool."

The government owns 421,000,000 pounds of domestic wool, acquired under wartime programs designed to support grower prices at levels which would encourage production.

Brighten Your Corner

ST. JOHN, Kas. (AP)—Gillmore Osborne, chief of the volunteer fire department, notified all members to be on hand at the next regular meeting. "Something special," he said. When they showed up, he handed them cans of wax and polish and put them to work brightening up the fire truck.

Drugs Gem-Scarce In Ravaged Italy

ROME, (AP)—"Talking of penicillin to Italy's physicians is like talking to them of diamonds," said Dr. Charles Muzicato of New York, national chairman of American Medical Relief for Italy (AMRI), summing up the acute need of this country's war stripped hospitals for medical supplies.

The roentgenologist, attached to the staffs of the Goldwater Memorial and St. Luke's Hospitals in

New York, has surveyed hospitals and clinics in Naples, Rome, Milan, Florence and Bologna, and expects to tour southern Italy and Sicily before returning home next month.

"Almost literally, doctors have nothing," he said. "I am surprised that they are able to do anything at all."

Chinchilla, perhaps the most expensive of all furs, is not very durable.

Hollywood—Baby Sturges Should Soon Be Rich Boy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 27 (AP)—In an effort to provide complete financial independence for his son, Preston Sturges will give the boy complete rights to a play which he will write and direct for Broadway production.

Fifteen years ago Sturges wrote the successful "Strictly Dishonorable" and then came to Hollywood to become a topnotch screen writer. He achieved more fame by directing his own pictures, such as "Miracle of Morgan's Creek." After producing "The Sin of Harold Diddlebock" and "Columbia" he intends to return to the stage.

"Naturally I hope that my three-year-old son, Solomon, will be amply provided for with what I earn from pictures and my other ventures," Sturges said today. "But in these days of high income and inheritance taxes, not to mention possible depressions, I can't be sure that he will be taken care of. So full rights to the play will be in his name."

If the untitled play is a success, Solomon should be a rich boy.

I paused during lunch with Jack Benny to inquire: "Is Fred Allen's accusation correct that you couldn't ad lib a belch after a Hungarian dinner?"

Somewhat hurt, Jackson replied that his friends think he is pretty nifty with the unwritten joke. "I can ad lib if the occasion is right," he said, "but usually I don't like to break up the continuity of the program."

For removing silk from corn, use a small hand brush.

(and nearly everything Sturges has touched in recent years has been successful). Solomon should be well off. The play's run would provide a large steady income and screen rights to successful plays are going for as high as a half-million dollars.
