Weather Hindering Operations There. Bulgaria's Intentions Remain Matter of Conjecture—French Report Small Gain in Champagne District.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 23.—The new German offensive with its object the capture of the important Russian fortified city of Dvinsk has made definite progress. The Berlin war office today announced that Russian advance position west of the city had been penetrated and that more than two thousand prisoners and several machine guns were captured.

Latest reports indicate that the bulk of the Russian army is retreating from Vilna.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 23.—The strongly fortified Russian city of Dvinsk on the Dvina, 110 miles southeast of Riga has become the new German objective now that the Russian army apparently has escaped from the Vilna front. The German forces east and southeast of Lida are now making more rapid progress but their increased speed at this time is expected to gain them little in view of the fact that the safe retreat of the greater part of the Russian forces now seems to be assured.

The chief success of the Germans in the last day or two has been along the Dvina front which bars the road to Petrograd. Southwest of Dvinsk the invaders captured Russian trenches on a front of nearly two miles, taking two thousand prisoners and eight machine guns. Further down the river near Friedland the Russians have gained a minor success.

For the time being the domestic situation in Russia is quiescent. The strike in protest at the prorogation of the Duma has been suspended but may be revived if the government persists in opposition to the movement in favor of reassembling parliament.

Along the western front the French report destruction of a German petrol in Champagne. Berlin states that the patrol was withdrawn after destroying French works.

Mobilization of Bulgarian forces continues to excite keen interest but the belligerent as well as the neutral world seems to be in the dark as to the purpose which dictates this.

Recent reports that Turkish supplies are running short are reiterated in private reports from Constantinople brought to Switzerland. It is declared that because of the lack of raw material two thousand workmen from the Krupp plant in Germany are idle in the Ottoman capital. Little further light has been thrown on Bulgaria's attitude toward the belligerents.

Reports from the Italian front are that snows are already rendering the operations in the mountain districts difficult. Rome, however, declares that Austrian forces which have penetrated into the valley of the Posana and Cristallo ranges have been successfully dealt with and driven back. The British steamer Dromedary of 988 tons and the Norwegian steamer Forsvik of 1107 tons, have been blown up.

FRENCH AVIATORS BOMBARD CAPITAL OF WUERTTEMBERG

Paris, Sept. 23.—French aviators have bombed Stuttgart, capital of the Kingdom of Württemberg, according to the French official communication issued last night. They dropped about 100 shells on the Royal Palace and the station. They were bombed at different points along the way. The text of the statement follows:

"The same artillery activity continues to the north and to the south of Arras as well as between the Oise and the Meuse.

"To the north of the Aisne a violent bombardment has occurred in the region of Ville-Aux-Bois, where we compelled the enemy to evacuate a fortified post which we have occupied.

"In Champagne both sides have been employing their heavy guns at a large number of points. An enemy patrol which attempted to penetrate our lines was completely destroyed.

"An artillery action of particular intensity has been in progress in the Argonne on the western outskirts and in the region of Haute Chauchee.

"On the heights of the Meuse to the northwest of Bouchet our batteries demolished the works and caused an explosion in the lines of the enemy.

"The cannonading likewise has been violent in the forest of Apremont on the Lorraine front and in the Vosges in the sectors of the Meurthe and the Fave.

"In retaliation for the bombardments by the Germans of open towns and civilian populations of France and England a group of aeroplanes set out this morning to bombard Stuttgart, capital of Württemberg. About a hundred shells were dropped on the Royal Palace and the station. Our aeroplanes, which were cannonaded at different points along the line, returned in safety to their base."

General Joffre, the French commander in chief, and the allied commanders on this front—Field Marshal Sir John French and King Albert of Belgium—are developing a new plan of campaign that involves the almost continuous use of artillery on a vast scale along the whole line.

The allies are now methodically maintaining their shell fire for days at a time without infantry attacks, dropping projectiles upon the charred front line every fifty yards and repeating the process a deadly automatic, unceasing pounding. The heavy calibered guns send their storms of shells upon encampments of first reserves behind the lines and upon bridges and provision trains.

Triangle In Which Russians May Be Trapped By Huge German Forces

VON HINDENBURG TRAP FOR RUSSIANS. ARCHDUKE LEOPOLD

By a wide flanking movement in which his cavalry at last reports had reached Molodechno (2) and Wrojan (3), Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has compelled the Russians to evacuate Vilna and has almost, if not entirely, surrounded the retreating forces in the triangle between Vilna, Vileika and Lida. A strong force of Russians who attempted to cut their way through at Michalichk (1) were beaten back, according to the German official report. The armies of Archduke Leopold of Bavaria, who is working in close cooperation with Hindenburg in a supreme effort to cut the Russians off, has crossed the river Szara, between Slonim and Heretichin (4).

E. L. BARTHOLOMEW DROWNS
IN A MICHIGAN LAKE

Father of Roy Bartholomew of the Metropolitan Cafe—Had Spent
Winters in This City.

Ray Bartholomew, one of the proprietors of the Metropolitan Cafe, received a telegram last yesterday, announcing the death of his father, E. L. Bartholomew, by drowning in Sweet Lake, Michigan. The telegram gave no details of the drowning. Mr. Bartholomew took an automobile to Lawton, where he caught a Rock Island passenger train for Michigan.

The elder Bartholomew for several years had spent the winter in Wichita Falls returning to Michigan to spend the summers. While here he often acted as cashier of the cafe where he became known to many patrons. He and his wife made many friends during their winters in Wichita Falls to whom the news of his death will be received with regret. Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew were planning to come to Texas the first of October. Mr. Bartholomew was about 65 years of age.

dent It Doesn't Want Bryan to Go to Europe.

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 23.—Lewis M. Hammerling of New York, president of the American Association of Foreign Language Newspapers, called at the White House today to assure President Wilson that his organization has nothing to do with the representations of Dr. William Forgo of Brooklyn that editors of foreign newspapers in this country wanted W. J. Bryan to go abroad to work for peace.

"Our association," said Mr. Hammerling, "stands behind the president and will do nothing to embarrass him. We have nothing to do with Mr. Bryan and do not want him to go abroad."

Mr. Hammerling added that an investigation is being made to learn if any members of his association had accepted subsidies from foreign governments during this war. If any had done so, he said, they would be expelled from the association.

Rixi is the miner whose telegram appealing for aid for the destitute miners wife and children led directly to the aid given the miners after the strike.

ED THRASHER IS GIVEN
TEN YEARS FOR ROBBERY

Already Under 4 Year Sentence For Forgery—Negro Murder Trial
Postponed Until October

Oscar Wells, the negro under indictment for murder, will not be tried until October 14. When his case was called this morning in the 78th district court, his attorney E. B. Cox, moved to quash the special venire, showing that at the time the venire was ordered the case had not been transferred from the 30th district court, in which it originated. The special venire was quashed and the case set for October 14.

Ed Thrasher, charged with robbery was found guilty and given a ten year sentence. Thrasher is already under a four year sentence for forgery, so that his total term will be fourteen years. The complaining witness in the robbery trial was Charles Johnson, who was a fellow convict of Thrasher in the state penitentiary several years ago. Johnson is now under arrest on a swindling charge. He testified that Thrasher, expressing gratitude for favors shown him, had offered to take him to a place where a gun was hidden to make him a present of the weapon. When they arrived at the scene, Johnson said, Thrasher knocked him in the head and robbed him. Thrasher was represented by R. E. Martin and Wayne Somerville, who made a brilliant effort in behalf of their client.

This afternoon W. H. Bowman, charged with forgery in connection with the passing of a check which Attorney P. B. Cox cashed, is on trial. He entered a plea of guilty and asked for a suspended sentence.

Strange of Covington, Ky., was held in jail here today on the charges preferred by Columbus, Ohio authorities. The man was arrested on information that he was wanted in Columbus and Cincinnati in connection with an alleged life insurance swindle, which, according to reports received here, amounted to between ten and eighteen thousand dollars. The man was located here, it was stated, through Cincinnati detectives watching mail received by Mrs. Strange.

REPORT OF FRICTION IS DENIED BY COMMISSION

Anglo-French Financiers Deny That There Has Been Friction With American Financiers

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 23.—In disavowing reports current in Wall street that there had been friction between Anglo-French financial commission, who are in the city to establish a big credit loan to Great Britain and France, the commission issued an official statement today denying the friction under the caption "Reported friction between the Commission and American bankers." The statement reads: "The commission wishes to deny emphatically that there has been friction. This is not so."

Meetings between the bankers and the commission were continued today. Those in close touch with the negotiations said that they thought information as to the loan would be given out in about a week.

A SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IS PRESAGED.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 23.—Sinks as to the probability of a special session have undergone a distinct change within the past fortnight, for appearances now lead political observers to believe that Governor Ferguson surely will call a special session before the fall and winter have passed. They base their belief on the fact that special elections have been called to fill vacancies in both houses of the legislature, whereas if there was to be no special session they feel that no special elections would be called to elect officers who might never see service.

Elections have been called in two representative and one senatorial district. Senator T. H. McGregory's place must be filled and Representative D. M. Biggers of Lubbock, resigned and the late Bernard Schwegman, of San Antonio have left vacancies to be filled.

It is generally believed that should the special election be called the Gibson insurance bill will be resubmitted and this memorable fight renewed. The bill failed of passage at the regular session by the close margin of one vote.

They are accused of having procured the death of Abraham Lifcovitz, a member of the union, during the garment makers strike in 1910. EVIDENCES OF FRIENDSHIP

In Making Announcement Germany
Says Orders Given as Evidence to American Government of Conciliatory Attitude

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 23.—Germany in its latest note in the Frye case, made public today, notifies the United States that orders have been issued "to the German naval forces not to destroy American merchantmen which are loaded with conditional contraband, even when the conditions of international law are present, but to permit them to continue their voyage unhindered, if it be not possible to take them into port."

Germany gave this assurance "in order to furnish to the American government evidence of its conciliatory attitude." While the question of interpreting the treaty of 1923 is submitted to arbitration, the American suggestion of naming of experts to assess damages by a commission and to let the Hague pass upon disputed treaty rights involved. She also gives assurances that no more American ships carrying contraband will be destroyed under any circumstances. American ships carrying contraband, however, still may be destroyed.

What effect this may have on practical operation is problematical because Germany and Great Britain in their retaliation have made absolute contraband practically everything that was conditional under the Declaration of London.

One thing seems to be officially certain—German naval commanders now are ordered to exercise the right of visit and search with respect to all American ships to determine what cargo the vessel carries, thus making it practically sure none will be attacked without warning or being given ample time to transfer passengers and crew irrespective of the cargo.

Considered with reference to the entente controversy between Germany and the United States the Frye note is regarded as an indication that the Berlin foreign office is anxious to avert a split with the Washington government. This increased today interest in Germany's attitude toward the negotiations with regard to the Arabic.

NATIONAL BIBLE PLAY SOCIETY ORGANIZED WITH NUMBER OF TEXAS

"ECCE HOMO" FIRST FILM

Headquarters of Concern Will Be Located at Montezuma Springs, New Mexico

A corporation which has for its purpose the presentation in motion pictures of Bible stories, has been organized with a Wichita, Dr. A. L. Andrews as president, and with a number of Texans as stockholders. The headquarters of the concern are at Montezuma Springs, New Mexico. O. L. Williams of Bowie, who was the moving spirit behind the company, wanted to have Wichita Falls as headquarters but the New Mexico town was selected. The corporation is to be known as the "National Bible Play Society" and it has a paid up capital of a million dollars.

Its first production will be the famous Biblical story of the time of Christ, "Ecce Homo" and this will be followed by other films of a similar nature. The corporation proposes to set aside 40 per cent of its net proceeds for charitable and benevolent purposes, and among its plans are endowments for churches, encampments and schools.

Several years were provided for certain kinds of big game and also for game birds. Hunting mountain sheep was suspended in Idaho, Montana and in Washington, and goats were protected in Montana. Moose were protected for four years in the State of Maine, the first absolute close season on this species for 35 years—since the suspension of hunting from 1875 to 1880. Antelope were given indefinite protection in New Mexico and Montana. In Michigan, New Mexico and Oklahoma, prairie chickens were protected for several years. Michigan extended complete protection also to quail, imported pheasants, grouse and wood ducks for five years. Minnesota protected doves, woodcock, plover and wood ducks until 1918. New Mexico gave protection to pheasants, bobwhites, pigeons and swans. Oklahoma—protected doves, grouse, wood ducks and curlew. Several birds were removed from the game list and protected through the year. Oklahoma gave such protection to pelicans, gulls and herons. Tennessee declared ring neck pheasants, bull bats, robins and meadow-larks to be nongame birds. In a few cases protection was removed from certain species, notably the turkey buzzard in Delaware, Florida, and North Carolina, owls and starlings in New Hampshire and cormorants in Illinois and North Dakota.

For the first time in 12 years moose hunting is permitted in Wyoming and for the first time since 1907 prairie chicken shooting is permitted in Indiana.

Novel Features of State Laws. Among the novel features in the laws this year may be mentioned the declaration in the Florida law that ownership of game is vested in the respective counties; the provision in the California law protecting spike bucks or deer with unbranched horns. Instead of deer with horns of a certain length and the Wisconsin exemption of allowing the killing of 50 bull moose under $100 licenses instead of an indefinite number during a limited season. Methods of hunting were restricted in Michigan by prohibiting the use of searchlights or other artificial lights attached to autos for hunting game on or near a highway. Several new restrictions on shipments appeared for the first time. Illinois prohibited importation from points outside the State of any game except deer legally killed. Pennsylvania prohibited shipment of game by parcel post and Wisconsin shipment under an alias. Connecticut authorized the commissioners of fisheries and game to grant permits to bring in game lawfully killed outside the State, provided such game is not offered for sale.

Quail. Notwithstanding the agitation in favor of protecting quail for several years, in some sections, no bills of kind were passed this year and 39 States still provide quail shooting. The seasons were shortened six weeks in Oklahoma and two weeks in Nevada. Limits were established for the first time in Arkansas and New Hampshire, reduced in Iowa from 25 to 15 per day, in Oklahoma from 25 to 10, in Minnesota from 10 to 10, and in Nevada from 10 to 10. All but 14 of the States which permit quail hunting now have a limit of 25 birds or less per day.

Waterfowl. All the States now allow waterfowl hunting, but the wood duck is protected for several years through out the northern zone and in the southern zone in the States of California, Kansas and West Virginia. Early limits were established for the first time in Arkansas and Connecticut, reduced in Oklahoma from 25 to 10 and increased in Missouri from 10 to 15. Most of the States now have a limit of 25 or less per day.

Open Seasons. Upon seasons were lengthened in Montana on elk and deer two weeks; in Florida on deer and birds three weeks; in Minnesota on quail twenty days; and in Nevada on sage hens.

four and a half months, on grouse one month, and on quail two weeks. New Jersey reverted to the former plan of hunting deer on four consecutive Wednesdays instead of five consecutive days.

Seasons were shortened in a number of States. In the case of big game the deer season was curtailed in Arkansas, three months, in Oregon and Washington two weeks. In New Mexico the seasons were generally shortened and arranged in two districts divided at latitude 35. In California the dove season was made later and in Minnesota shortened 20 days; in Oklahoma the quail season was curtailed six weeks, and in Michigan, Nevada, Minnesota, Tennessee and Wyoming spring shooting of waterfowl was abolished.

Laws Protecting Big Game. The more important changes affecting big game included the closing of the season for four years on moose in Maine; authorization for the killing of 50 bull moose in Wyoming; lengthening the season on elk in Montana two weeks; closing the season on mountain sheep in Montana; changes affecting deer in seven States including the removal of protection in Florida, Nevada, New Jersey and Wyoming; establishment of a limit in Arkansas; and decrease in the limits in Alaska, Michigan, Montana and Nevada.

Under present conditions deer hunting is permitted in 36 States, in about one-third of which the hunter is limited to one deer a season and in most of the others, to two. Eighteen States protect deer at all seasons and allow only bucks to be killed—namely Alabama, Arizona, California, Georgia, Idaho, Mississippi, New Mexico, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. Pennsylvania requires that deer killed shall have horns two inches above the hair. New York and Vermont at least three inches long, and West Virginia four inches long, while California prohibits entirely the killing of spike bucks.

Small Tires Made Bigger

Goodyears Enlarged 20 Per Cent

Nearly half the cars running use small-size tires—sizes 30x3 1/2 and 30x3. So this year we are offering some special extras to the million small-tire users.

Cost $317,000

These three new extras on this year's small-tire output will cost us $317,000. And this is in the face of a big price reduction.

We have added size, so the air capacity is increased 20 per cent. That means much added mileage.

We have added 30 per cent to the rubber in the side walls. That's where constant flexing breaks a thin-walled tire—just above the bead.

We have added endurance in a newly-found way by changing the tire's design.

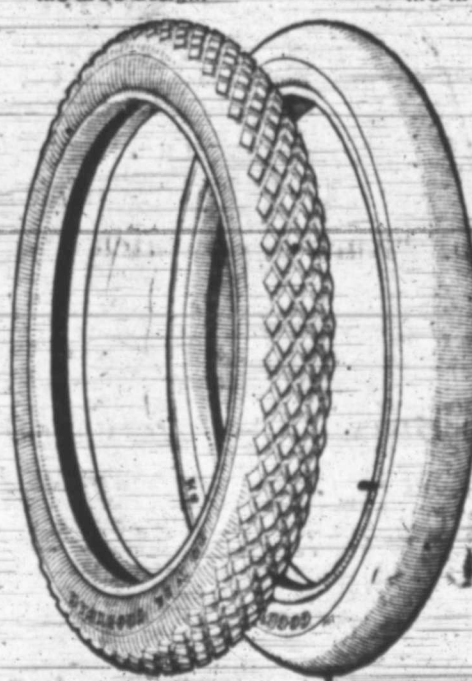

They are giving to Goodyears a vastly greater capacity than any other tires in these sizes.

Remember that Goodyears have for years held top place in Tiredom. By their super-quality they have won more users than any other tire that's built.

Even the 30x3 size is a four-ply tire in Goodyears. And our All-Weather tread on every size is made double-thick.

Now we add in this big way to the capacity. And we combat the risk of side-wall breaks by 30 per cent more rubber.

Don't take smaller tires or lighter or tires with thinner treads. And don't in any size accept a three-ply tire. Until others give what we give, get the Goodyear tire.

PRODUCE AND FRUIT MUST BE SCREENED FROM FLIES.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 23.—A campaign against violators of the state law requiring vendors of product and fruit to screen their wares against flies has been determined upon by State Food Commissioner Robert H. Hoffman. This decision has been reached since the statute's constitutionality was upheld in the 19th district court at Waco by Judge Tom McCullough. Judge McCullough refused applications for four writs of habeas corpus for persons who had been incarcerated for alleged violations of the act. The remedy was sought on the ground that the statute was unconstitutional and the court's decision turned on the holding that the statute was wholly within the requirements of the constitution. Pure Food inspectors have been instructed by Commissioner Hoffman to make thorough investigations throughout the state along this line and report to Austin.

NEW GAME LAWS

ENACTED IN 1915

240 NEW STATE GAME LAWS ON STATUTES IN FORTY STATES LAST YEAR

MORE PROTECTION FOR GAME

Closed Seasons Extending Several Years Provided in Several States

Washington, Sept. 23.—More than 240 new game laws were enacted during 1915—a larger number than in any previous year except 1911, according to Farmers' Bulletin 692, "Game Laws for 1915." Forty-three States held regular legislative sessions and in all of these States except Arizona, Georgia and Nebraska some changes were made in the statutes protecting game. The largest number of new game laws passed in any one State was 6, in North Carolina; but in California, Connecticut, Maine, New Jersey, Oregon, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin the number reached 19 or more. Several measures were vetoed, including a general game bill in Idaho, the first bill appropriating the hunting license fund in Pennsylvania, a bill protecting bears in California and three sections of the game bill in Washington. A number of bills were introduced for the purpose of harmonizing the State laws on migratory birds with the federal regulations. In at least nine States seasons were made which brought the seasons into substantial alignment, viz. California, Connecticut, Maine, Michigan, New Hampshire, Tennessee and West Virginia. In Illinois the seasons for all migratory birds except mallards were fixed and in Washington for the smaller shore birds, were made to conform with the regulations under the federal law. Uniformity was also secured by provisions in the laws of Connecticut, Maine, New Mexico, North Dakota, Washington and Wisconsin prohibiting hunting between sunset and sunrise. On the other hand, Delaware adopted a provision opposing the migratory bird law and Ohio and Rhode Island which had harmonized their seasons in 1914, changed the seasons on waterfowl this year.

As a result of the decision of the supreme court of the United States on January 19, 1914 sustaining the aliens from hunting or owning shotguns or rifles was enacted. In at least four States—Massachusetts, New Jersey, North Dakota and West Virginia—but certain exceptions based on property qualifications were made in Massachusetts and New Jersey.

She's somewhere in the sunlight strong,
Her tears are in the falling rain,
She calls me in the wind's soft song,

THAT KIND OF WEATHER MARKS FALL'S ADVENT

Wednesday Autumnal Equinox and Intermittent Showers With Cool Temperature Prevails

With the mercury remaining near the 60 degree mark practically all of the 24 hours and with little sunshine, autumn weather is the rule in Wichita Falls at present. There were light intermittent showers Wednesday and Thursday, the total precipitation being less than half an inch. Rain is also reported from points on the Fort Worth & Denver all the way to Childress, with light showers along the Wichita valley. The weather locally, while not cold, has been cool enough to cause the gas heaters to be lighted and hardware dealers report quite a little business in that line. The maximum temperature for three days has been about 70 degrees.

Wednesday was the day of the autumnal equinox, the day and night being of equal length yesterday. From now on until December 21 the days will gradually become shorter. September 22 is supposed to mark the real beginning of fall and was marked by real fall weather in this section.

J. L. Mimnaugh & Co., announced recently that the Macy system would be established at their store, on or after October 1, next. No goods will be charged and the business will be conducted on a strictly cash basis.

"This rule of spot cash will apply to all rich and poor alike," said Mr. Mimnaugh. "I will not vary the rule for any one, regardless of who it is. That is the reason I am giving my customers six months' notice."

Mr. Mimnaugh said that he would be able to give his customers even better prices when this system is inaugurated for it will eliminate the expense of carrying a large number of accounts on the books.

J. L. Mimnaugh & Co.'s is one of the largest stores in the South, and it will be something new to that section for a store of this magnitude to be on a strictly cash basis.

They are coming to it—all over this land both the stores and the customers are realizing that to buy and sell on the most economical plan that the cash system is necessary. We shall be pleased to demonstrate the correctness of this fact if you will visit our store.

We have never been better prepared to serve you than this fall, and invite you to see us and make the comparison for yourself.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept. 23, 1915.

According to the estimate of Fred W. Davis, commissioner of agriculture, the Texas cotton crop this year will not exceed 3,000,000 bales. Hold your cotton for a better price. The prediction made that it will sell for twelve cents before the holidays can not be far from wrong.

Aerial postal routes are now being seriously considered by Postmaster Burleson. He says there is $2,000,000 available for that purpose if it can be demonstrated that mails can be carried by aeroplanes with any degree of regularity.

Dr. Dumba has asked for safe transportation back to his country, and expects to make the start on the 28th. But it is intimated at Washington that until Austria replies to the note of the United States asking that the Austrian ambassador be recalled, no such courtesies will be extended, and it is not likely that Dr. Dumba will attempt to make the trip back home unless he is given protection. Look to us as if it was right up to Austria to come through with a reply to that note.

Governor Ferguson has purchased another state farm at a cost of some thing like $300,000 to the State, and this right in the face of the report made by the State Prison investigating committee to the effect that the State farms the State already owns are operated at a great loss to the State. But Governor Ferguson, being a practical farmer may know a way by which the State can operate its farms with convict labor at a profit instead of an actual loss. At any rate, he seems to have confidence enough in himself to believe that he can solve the problem, and if he can do it he will have accomplished something that other governors have made a most miserable failure. Here's hoping his plans, whatever they might be, will not add further and heavier still, the burden the taxpayers of the State are already carrying through mismanagement of the State government.

Washington dispatches tell us that Mr. Bryan called on the President yesterday and they were closeted for more than an hour. It would be most interesting to know just what they discussed. But both the President and Mr. Bryan refused to talk. The fact, however, that Mr. Bryan is yet a welcome visitor at the White House and in all probability enjoys the confidence of President Wilson is not very consoling to his political enemies. He is yet a great power politically, and those who refuse to recognize this will probably come to a very different opinion when the time comes for him to give a demonstration of his power.

Judge Gordon Russell denies the statement credited to him that the Federal game law provided for the open season for killing doves to be in October 15 and which would take precedence over the State law. As the result of the report it is stated there has been a wonderful drop-off in ammunition sales, showing a disposition upon the part of sportsmen to avoid a Federal court trial. The report of the ruling came through the regular channel of news and was accepted as true by all papers which handled the item. The correction will doubtless bring joyous anticipation of continued sport to the hearts of many who had encased their guns and resolved to stay within the law, Denison Herald.

The Reporter favors the most careful investigation on the part of all grand juries before bills of indictment are returned. No person should be indicted because somebody is mad, and nobody should be indicted until there is every reason to believe that sufficient evidence exists to secure a conviction, and the grand jury room is the place to investigate both sides of all cases. Still grand juries at not the final arbiters of the guilt or innocence of the accused. Much commotion has been caused by the acquittal of the more than thirty-five men in the federal court at Corpus Christi. The Reporter feels that it was most unfortunate that indictments were returned against innocent men, but the fact that the federal authorities have entered the field of politics and that here after elections where United States officers are concerned will be considered matters for federal attention, will in our opinion, contribute to cleaner elections and a more honest ballot. In Texas the will of the people has more than once been defeated by dishonest votes and anything that will help the state to secure cleaner and more honest ballots should be welcomed by the people who stand for right living, even if we have to give up some of our prejudices against Federal interference with state rights.—Abilene Reporter.

DON'T BELIEVE BAILEY WILL RUN IN 1918.

But few of Mr. Bailey's home people believe he will be a candidate for the Senate in 1918 because they do not see how he can afford to make the financial sacrifice of getting back into active politics. If he should oppose Morris Sheppard at that time it will be a battle royal for the Texas Senate seat will be one of the hardest men in Texas to defeat on his first term.—Gainesville Signal.

NOT THAT TYPE.

When Congress meets again, the public will probably hear a good deal about the F-4 and the fate of its crew. And the navy department will probably be the object of considerable criticism for its apparent laxity in this matter. How much censure it deserves will depend on the findings of the board which will examine the raised boat, but the preliminary findings indicate that whoever is responsible for keeping boats of this type in active service is, in part at least, responsible for the loss of the crew. But the main trouble is that some one erred through a false sense of economy. When it was seen that boats of this kind, which, because of the youth of the submarine, could have been little more than experimental, were not designed with proper regard for their function, they should have been dismantled and rebuilt, or even junked. They should be replaced with submarines patterned after the most successful boats developed by the belligerents in the present war.—Indianapolis News.

THE CRIME OF VOTE BUYING.

(Galveston News.)
Judge Burns told the five men who were convicted at Corpus Christi of vote buying that they had his "sinister sympathy." Vote buying is no venial crime. In essence it is the crime of treason. Men who engage in it are undermining the foundation of their government, a form of warfare chosen when the danger of open assault is great. Faith in the men who make and execute them is essential to the integrity of the laws, so that the corruption of the ballot box is the corruption of laws. No little of the growing disregard of laws is chargeable to such crimes as this assessed against the five men convicted at Corpus Christi. Appraised by the consequences, there can be few crimes more heinous than this vote buying. It may occur to some that men convicted of a crime of such enormity little deserve sympathy. The crime is theirs exclusively; but the moral culpability is not. The people of the State of Texas are at fault, and the five men convicted at Corpus Christi are somewhat the victims of this fault. The fault of the people of Texas is in putting the ballot in the hands of men who are aliens to us in spirit, despite the length of their residence in the state. Having no understanding of our language, to them the ballot is no more than a merchantable commodity. Few of them are sensible of any turpitude in selling it. They may know vaguely that it is a crime. But having no sense of the ballot's sanctity, they but dimly if at all understand why the sale of it should be regarded as a crime. If they conceal the traffic it is for prudential reasons, and not to veil any sense of culpability. But how does this argue a claim to sympathy on the part of the men who buy those votes? It argues it because the existence of a purchasable vote capable of being made decisively presents a temptation which is not easily resisted in the excitement of a contest in which pride and covetousness conspire to deafen men to the promptings of conscience. Indeed, the fact that the ballot is in the hands of men who have so little of the sense of loyalty that urges an honest use of it, and none of that understanding which enables a wise use of it, has the necessary effect of disparaging its value and sanctity; even in the minds of the buyers. Cheapened as it is, they find it easy to extenuate a grave crime into a peccadillo. One of the underlying causes of the conditions that were revealed by the trial at Corpus Christi is that the ballot box is prostituted by the law which permits men who do not understand our language or our affairs to approach it. When a temptation, if not an invitation, is given to buy votes, there can be no reasonable astonishment if votes are bought.

He was held as a suspect in connection with the alleged plot. Begoway was arrested after another employee of the mill had made an affidavit that Begoway had told him of a plan to destroy the plant with a bomb because explosives were being made for the allies.

CORN FUTURES GO LOWER

Early Advance in Wheat Because of Inadequate Supply Wiped Out Later in Day

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Wheat developed strength today influenced by the chances that supplies here would be inadequate to fill contracts for September deliveries. After opening 1-3 to 3-8 higher the market reacted a little but then rose higher than before. Absence of any severe frost prevented corn from responding decidedly to the advance in wheat. Price changes for corn were narrow. The opening which ranged from 1/2 off to 1-8 up was followed by a slight gain in the deferred option. News of importation from Canada, duty paid led afterward to a sharp setback in wheat. The close was unsettled at 1-18 to 1-38 to 1 1/2 net down with December at 94c and May at 96 5/8c. Subsequently the corn market declined with wheat and as a result of large country offerings the close was weak to 1-2 to 5-8 to one cent under last night. Wheat closed: Sept., 91.05; Dec., 94c; May, 96 5/8c. Corn: Sept., 74 1/4c; Dec., 55 1/8c; May 57c. Oats: Sept., 37 1/2c; Dec., 35 5/8c; May, 37 3/4c.

Tuesday we sold three diamonds and on Wednesday we sold two more, leaving just half of the ten big diamond bargains that we offered in Monday's Times. These are among the best bargains in the lot, from a diamond merchant's view point, and every one of them should go before the week is out.

No. 1380—Two and one-half carat, white and perfect, on which we loaned $365. It is worth $467—we will take $401.50—a saving of $65.50 to the purchaser.

No. 1389—One and three-fourths carat, steel blue diamond, mounted in solid platinum ring. It is easily worth $460. We loaned $335 on it and will sell it now for $368.50

No. 966—A beautiful stone weighing one and one-half carats. Is worth $257. We loaned $175 on it and will sell it now for $192.50

No. 1345—Fine white stone of full carat weight, is easily worth $165. We loaned $100 and will sell now for $110

No. 927—A very pretty pair of ear screws that would delight the heart of any lady. They are worth $135. We loaned $85 on them and will sell now for $93.50

These are positively the very best diamond bargains we have ever offered, and we do not think that any other jeweler in North Texas could offer anything like these stones at the price.

MRS. FRANKLIN REGAINS POSSESSION OF CHILDREN

Mother—Counters With Injunction When Father Files Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

ora May Franklin, aged 4, and Alie Franklin, aged 4 years, are once more in the custody of their mother, Mrs. Herndon, at 706 Fourth street, while their father, W. A. Franklin, is restrained by injunction from interfering with either the mother or the little ones until court proceedings are concluded. Yesterday, after Mrs. Herndon had taken charge of the children, Franklin instituted habeas corpus proceedings to regain possession of them, and pending final action on this matter, he went to the house Wednesday and brought the children away with him. Today Mrs. Herndon counterattacked by securing the injunction. No date has been set for final hearing of the controversy.

BELIEVE THIEF HEADED TOWARD WICHITA FALLS

Clay county officers and citizens of Byers were scouring the country between Byers and Wichita Falls today in search of the thief who took about $90 in money from the Wichita Valley office at Byers, yesterday afternoon. The theft is believed to have been committed when Agent Dickerson was at dinner. It was discovered some time after his return to the office. There are several clues and this morning it was believed the thief was attempting to reach Wichita Falls.

Monday night an attempt was made to blow a safe at Holbrook, Kan. in which the dynamite was wrapped, it is said, showed that it had been purchased from a Wichita Falls hardware dealer.

COTTON DECLINES UNDER REALIZING

ADVANCE AFTER THE OPENING BROUGHT SELLING ORDERS THAT CAUSED A DECLINE

OPENING WAS IRREGULAR

Overnight Selling Orders and Disappointing Cables Made Market Less Buoyant

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 23.—Overnight selling orders and slightly disappointing cables caused rather an irregular opening in the cotton market today.

First prices being seven points higher with two points lower. An advance carried December up to $11.82 and January to $11.83, or back to practically the high level of yesterday and encountered a very heavy realizing under which prices reacted five or six points towards the middle of the morning. Offerings became still heavier late in the morning with active months selling off with a net loss of about seven to thirteen points.

SAXON $395

The Car Women Like

Every day, in fast increasing numbers, women owners are finding the Saxon Roadster the easiest, safest and most economical car.

They like to be keen in the Saxon—because it is such a stylish, handsome car—in the latest automobile fashion.

They like to drive the Saxon because it is so simple and safe. It has so few levers to operate. It starts and stops and turns so easily. It gets in and out of traffic so handily.

They like to ride in the Saxon because its good upholstery and easy riding cantilever springs make it so comfortable.

For the 1915 season Saxon Roadsters are even better than ever before. Improvements include Timkin axles with silent gears, three-speed transmission, signal lamps at side, and other refinements.

In designing the Saxon Roadster, our engineers have incorporated those features that appeal to women drivers. How well they succeeded you will appreciate when you see the new cars.

Mrs. Rose Gostinoff of New York Writes: "I find the riding qualities of my Saxon exceptionally good. On four long trips I have averaged 31½ miles to the gallon and 126 miles per quart of oil. The motor runs very steadily, keeps cool in hottest weather and has not misfired once. The car is very good on hills." 386 Manhattan Avenue.

Tumulty A Big Asset For The Administration

(From Kansas City Star.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Joseph P. Tumulty (pronounced Tum-ul-ty, the first 'u' as in 'sun,' and the accent on the first syllable) an experienced correspondent remarked, "is the biggest asset of this administration."

Tumulty is the secretary to the President. That means that he is much more than a clerk. He is the President's confidential man and adviser. The secretary to the President, as William Loeb demonstrated, may be really the assistant to the President. The secretary has plenty of assistants to do the clerical work. It is up to him to be the eyes and ears of the administration, to see that it gets its views properly presented through the newspapers, and to guard against political mistakes.

Tumulty is a lively, light-haired genial young Irishman. He is popular, tells good stories, is a natural mixer, and the newspapers call him "Joe." If you go up to the executive offices at 10 o'clock you will find him holding his morning conference with the correspondents. He stands by his chair at the big desk. His visitors stand about or sit on the edge of the desk.

They Call Him "Joe."
"Joe," says one, "what's the President going to do about that last arm shipment to Mexico?"
"Not crossing that bridge yet. Waiting for fuller information. Here, Gus, I've been saving this Cincinnati paper for you. Thought you'd be interested in what it says about the G. O. P."

Gus and Joe chaff each other a bit and then somebody inquires about a post-office appointment. Nothing doing on it yet, he is told. So it goes with informal questions and answers for fifteen or twenty minutes. The President isn't accessible to newspaper men and doesn't know what to do with them when he sees them. So Secretary Tumulty works the harder on the job to see that they get what news they are interested in, and to make sure that they understand the administration's position—in so far as the head of the administration desires it understood.

It is a very important job that the secretary has and it is made more so by the President's isolation. Naturally he must depend to a considerable extent on Tumulty's judgment as to what he learns of sentiment throughout the country.

Mr. Wilson is not a newspaper reader. He doesn't enjoy the chief Washington morning paper, which has been a trifle nasty about him, so he gets his morning news from a Baltimore paper. That is about the extent of his newspaper reading, except on special occasions, and except for the "yellow journal."

The "yellow journal" is the device by which Secretary Tumulty provides the President with news "from the grass roots." The White House subscribes for nearly one hundred papers from every part of the country. These are selected as representative of public sentiment in the various cities.

All the papers are read by a clerk, who cuts out news and editorial comment which he thinks would interest the administration. The clippings are pasted on sheets of bright yellow paper, from which the "yellow journal" gets its name. All of them are labeled the sheets are bound into a thick package of two and these are laid on Mr. Tumulty's desk every morning.

From the "Yellow Journal."
The secretary glances them over to get an idea of the drift of sentiment and of political happenings in various parts of the country. If he finds anything particularly significant—for instance, the sort of reception Mr. Bryan is getting for his speeches—he tears out the leaves and puts them on the President's desk. He is so well acquainted with the President's ways and with the sort of things that interest him that he is able in this way to save his chief from the labor of extensive newspaper reading, and at the same time to make sure that misses his eyes that he would desire to see.

It is up to Tumulty, too, to be enough of a mind reader to let only those persons get to the President whom the President wants to see. He must know the relative importance of people from out of town. He must understand that there are certain important people whom Mr. Wilson doesn't care to see.

There are times when the President doesn't want to be disturbed even by a Cabinet officer or a congressional leader. The delicate task devolves on the President's secretary to stall off the distinguished visitor with explanations that won't hurt his feelings. By virtue of much exercise of this faculty Tumulty has become exceedingly proficient in it.

As the President's political manager the secretary must smooth out political differences. If a senator is obstreperous Tumulty soothes his ruffled feelings. Or if the pleasant treatment doesn't get results, then he sees that the senator has patronage difficulties and gets into trouble at home, until he is ready to listen to reason.

The secretary's job is made easier by the personal affection that exists between him and his chief. He regards Woodrow Wilson as the greatest man in the world, and the President recognizes in Joseph Tumulty the incarnation of loyalty, combined with excellent political judgment. At times when the Tumulty family is away the secretary lives at the White House. He is the one man in whom Mr. Wilson confides and to whom he seems to open his heart. How they came to know each other is indicated in the brief biography in the Congressional Directory, here reproduced:

"Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President (2311 Calvert Street), was born in Jersey City, May 5, 1879; attended St. Bridget's Parochial School and subsequently entered St. Peter's College, Jersey City, from which he was graduated in 1898 with the degree of B. A.; admitted to the bar of New Jersey in 1902; practiced law in Jersey City. He was married in 1904 to Miss Mary Byrne of Jersey City; they have six children, four girls and two boys. He served as a member of the New Jersey House of Assembly 1907-10; in 1910 was appointed private secretary to Governor Wilson and in 1912 clerk of the Supreme Court of New Jersey. He continued, however, to act as secretary to the governor until the governor resigned to become President. On March 4, 1915, he was appointed secretary to the President."

Necessarily Mr. Tumulty is a good deal of a politician. As governor of New Jersey Mr. Wilson found him of great help in dealing with political situations with which the former Princeton president was unfamiliar. This help has been continued on a larger scale in Washington.

GERMAN FINANCES SHOW RESULTS OF DISCIPLINE

Washington, Sept. 23.—Economic conditions in Germany after one year of war are described in a report compiled by the American Association of Trade and Commerce in Berlin and received yesterday at the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. It says the financial record has shown "the results of rigid organization and discipline" and draws particular attention to the fact that Germany has raised $2,250,000,000 in war loans and the Imperial Reichsbank has accumulated a gold reserve of $600,000,000.

"The change of the entire economic activity from its peace conformation to one of war," says the report, "has, with the aid of the Reichsbank, taken place rapidly and thoroughly. The establishment of the official loan banks and credit institutions has provided credit accommodation in abundant measure. It is significant that in the past year, when Germany was not only in a military but also in an economic sense confronted with superiority of hostile forces, the issue of industrial securities did not come to a stop."

Besides the official new corporations, organizations organized as purely war measures, quite a number of new corporations having no war connection, have been established. Many existing concerns have increased their capital stock."

We have just received new crop grits, oatmeal, corn meal, barley, Graham flour, whole wheat flour and Pettigrew's Breakfast Food. Phone 232 and 432. C. H. Hardeman, 13 21c

COMPLIANCE WITH NEW LAW MAKES COTTON SEED BETTER.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 23.—Farmers throughout the state are getting from $4 to $6 a ton more for their cotton seed since the ginners have begun to comply with the provisions of the permanent warehouse law which requires the ginners to separate all dirt and other foreign substance from the seed. In consequence the oil mills of North Texas are praising the improved quality of seed they get for manufacture.

At The Theaters

The Gem.
Charles Chaplin is featured in a two part Essanay comedy, "The Bank" a headline on today's program and a three part Broadway Star Feature adds to this interesting program. Alma Reuben and Juan De La Cruz are featured in "The Lorelei Madonna" the story of which is given.

Brought up in the atmosphere of the convent, Malcolm's one great ambition is to paint a Madonna worthy to be placed in the great Mission Chapel. His wealthy and worldly uncle, Morrison, introduces the boy into the life of the world, the boy's lack of sophistry proving a great source of amusement to him. In Hollywood, they visit Vesey's Palace, a notorious dive where a beautiful girl called Alma or "The Lorelei" is the premiere danseuse. King La Farge, the richest peer in the South Sea Islands, is favored above the other habits of the place, so that when Malcolm becomes fascinated with the dancer and shows it, he nearly kills the young man. Malcolm's artistic soul is set ablaze when the Lorelei adds variety to the entertainment impersonates the Madonna, and his reverent admiration awakens in the woman a desire to know the only man who has never looked upon her as his lawful prey. She conceives a genuine love for Malcolm, and he, knowing nothing of her mode of life, learns to love her. But he finds her dancing for La Farge's edification, understands the situation at last and his hot shattered, Malcolm turns against her. But she has proved the necessary inspiration for his painting of the Madonna, and through it, he is led to believe that the woman's reformation is complete and that she truly loves him. He is about to take her in his arms when La Farge, in a frenzy of rage, shoots—intending to kill Malcolm—but instead kills Alma. Older and wiser, Malcolm returns to the little Mission town and there finds happiness with Alice, the companion of Convent days, as his wife.

"The Phantom Extra" a two part Broncho with Rhea Mitchell and Richard Stanton is quite as interesting as the name is unusual and adds fun to the program by a two part Keystone. "Dirty Work in a Laundry." Vivian Rich, Jack Richardson and Harry Von Meter are featured in a two part drama. "After the Storm" of which a synopsis is given. Rev. Jerold Roper loses his baby.

girl in a shipwreck. The child is found and adopted by Meg and Jacques Fortell who, afterwards become the leaders of a gang of thieves. Twenty years pass. Roper is pastor of a mission church in the slums. Thirder comes a young girl, called Jane, for whom the minister feels a peculiar sympathy. One night, returning from church, Jane is pursued by Lloyd Perry. Her flight leads him to the "Jacques" den, where he is attacked by Jacques. Perry draws his gun and declares as the pistol of his silence that Jacques give him Jane. Pastor Roper, who lives in the adjoining tenement house, hears Jane's cries for help. He rescues her and takes her to the church. There he discovers by a strange mark on her arm that Jane is his long lost daughter.

IDIOTIC YANKEES IS WHAT AMERICANS CALLED

German Military Attache in Letter Found on Archibald Blizes up in This Language

Washington, D. C. Sept. 23.—Acting Secretary of State Polk announced today that the department now is in possession of all but two of the documents taken from James F. J. Archibald which resulted in the request for a recall of the Austro-Hungarian ambassador. It was declared that until the remaining letters, one from Dr. Dumba to his foreign office, "on political subjects" and a letter from Count Von Bernstorff, reach the department, no further action which might affect other persons implicated will be taken.

All correspondence made public by the British government, it was made plain, was before the department when President Wilson decided upon the recall of the Austrian ambassador. Publication of some of the letters has aroused considerable speculation here as to the government's future course with regard to some officials of the Austrian and German embassies. Officials would not comment on the letter of Captain Fritz Von Pape, the German military attache, in which he said:

"I always say to those idiotic Yankees that they had better hold their tongues."

The copy of Dr. Dumba's letter, in which the Austro-Hungarian ambassador comments on the attitude of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing, it was said, had not reached the department. Five of the letters made public in Great Britain yesterday were also given out by the state department today.

In addition to correspondence, already published the department divulged a translation of a letter addressed to the "Royal Ministry of War Berlin," by Von Pape dated New York, Aug. 20, regarding the probable sale of war materials to the Dutch and Norwegian governments.

The translation of the letter was as follows:

"Recently news has come in here from various sources that the Dutch and Norwegian governments are buying war materials, such as powder, tools, etc."

"I respectfully beg the royal ministry of war to be good enough to let me know whether there would be any objection to a sale of war material by us to the countries mentioned, in the event of the governments or their representatives guaranteeing that no further sale of the goods shall take place."

"On the Norwegian government I could probably unload a large portion of the Lehigh Coxe company's tools which is lying here useless in storage."

BIG MOVEMENT POTATOES FROM THE NORTHWEST

Thirty to Forty Carloads Daily Going Through on the Denver-Cotton Beginning to Move.

Dozens of cars of Irish potatoes are passing through Wichita Falls daily en route to southwestern points from the far Northwest, being shipped from points in Idaho and Montana. The movement amounts to 30 or 40 cars daily. The refrigerator cars in which the potatoes are shipped were used to carry bananas to the Northwest several months ago, coming back with spuds.

On the Northwestern the wheat movement is still heavy, and is increasing steadily. Threshing is not yet over in Northwestern Oklahoma and wheat shipments are expected to continue for several months. On the Wichita Valley some cotton is beginning to move, though the shipping season cannot be said to have fairly started yet.

OL-E-PINE

A varnish food and floor-lac. It cleans, polishes and disinfects. For floors, furniture and automobiles.

Don't sweep with a broom. It raises the dust together with disease germs. Just dampen a cotton mop with OL-E-PINE and go over your floors. They will look like new and will be thoroughly disinfected without leaving a disagreeable odor.

Come to our store and ask for sample.

We make OL-E-PINE and sell it on its merits.
