

Krush Optimistic As Farleys Continue On Outlawing Tests

China Rapped By Premier

By REINHOLD G. ENZ MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev declared today a new world war is not necessary to build communism or speed up revolution. He said a nuclear war could destroy mankind and even those who survived might "envy the dead."

The Soviet leader laid down the blunt challenge to his Chinese Communist opponents — who believe revolutionary wars are inevitable — at a Kremlin friendship rally for visiting Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar.

As he spoke his aides were fighting the argument out with Chinese delegates at rapidly-collapsing peace talks at a suburban villa.

Khrushchev told 6,000 widely applauding persons at the rally that "a world war is necessary neither for the building of the socialism nor communism nor for the acceleration of the world revolution."

He said that "the superiority of the forces of socialism, peace and democracy over the forces of imperialism, reaction and aggression is growing."

Without specifying how, Khrushchev insisted "a concrete possibility of preventing world war has appeared. And this is not merely a possibility, but a vital necessity for the peoples of the world."

Khrushchev said all the peoples of the world would break with capitalism sooner or later but "the victory of socialism in every given country is decided by the people of that country. This question cannot be solved by unleashing a world thermonuclear war."

Agrees To Inspection

By PRESTON GROVER MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev expressed optimism today about the chances for a Big Three agreement in current negotiations on a limited nuclear test ban and said he would like to see outlawing of all such tests, including those underground.

The Soviet leader reiterated in a Kremlin speech that he wanted an East-West nonaggression pact. "He did not insist that it be tied to the treaty being negotiated here to forbid nuclear test blasts in the air, outer space and under water."

This would seem to indicate that Khrushchev might be receptive to a counterproposal made by President Kennedy through his special envoy, W. Averell Harriman, that the issue be handled through nonaggression declarations.

At the same time, Khrushchev again announced he was ready to permit Western inspection of vital military installations inside the Soviet Union as a safeguard against concentrations for a surprise attack.

This was offered as a device for helping to ease world tensions and was not directly connected with the test ban treaty.

Speaking of the U.S., British and Russian test ban talks in Moscow, Khrushchev said: "We are under the impression that there is hope now of achieving agreement on the banning of nuclear tests in the atmosphere, cosmic space and under water if of course there are no special changes in the positions of the American and British representatives."

"We would like to achieve such an agreement that would include the banning of all tests, including underground tests as well."

"It has been demonstrated by science and technique that the banning of all tests, including underground ones, can be controlled with the help of national, technical means of detection which are at the disposal of nations now."

But the representatives of the United States and England still insist on the necessity of international inspection. They do not want to give up their aspirations which, in reality, have nothing to do with the cessation of nuclear tests.

"Why and what for is this being done? In order to have the chance to carry out intelligence work."

"The picture is quite clear: Apparently, we will not reach agreement on the ban of underground nuclear tests at the present time. Nevertheless, the Soviet government considers that if an agreement is achieved on a ban for nuclear tests in the atmosphere, cosmic space and under water, there will be an important, useful step forward."

"Building for easing of East-West tensions at a time when the Soviet Union remains heavily involved in a Communist family dispute with Red China, Khrushchev spoke at a friendship rally for visiting Hungarian Communist leader Janos Kadar."

In quick succession he: "Proposed a Russian offer of 1953 to permit foreign inspectors to take up station at Soviet airfields, railroad stations, highways and ports to prevent secret concentrations of troops for surprise attacks."

"Proposed an exchange of inspection teams between western troops in West Germany and Soviet troops in East Germany, adding that the Russians were ready to negotiate a reciprocal reduction in the number of those troops on both sides."

Insisted again on the signing of a peace treaty with Germany that would settle the status of West Berlin, but set no deadline.

Hint Freeman On Way Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital is buzzing with speculation that Orville Freeman will be replaced as secretary of agriculture this year.

Nothing to substantiate this possibility came from high administration sources. Of course, much of the talk of a Freeman departure may have begun with critics of his farm policies in and out of Congress.

Freeman is touring farms in Russia and other Communist countries.

"Freeman expects to put in eight years as secretary of agriculture," said a close personal friend and a department assistant.

Speculation about his possible retirement is connected with the recent grower rejection of a new wheat program in a national farm referendum.

Those predicting a Freeman departure emphasize he is making his trip in the midst of a congressional session that has vital cotton, dairy, land retirement and wheat legislation before it. It is argued that if Freeman were staying as secretary he would have remained here to help get the legislation through. Others say the trip is a sort of payoff for past services.

Texas Woman Flees Jail

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—A Texas woman, held on an armed robbery charge, snatched the jail and then used his keys to free a male companion so the two could escape from jail today.

Mrs. Millie Jones, 37, of Eastland, Tex., and William Spilman, 49, got out through an upper window of the jail and down a fire escape. They are believed to left in a stolen car.

Jailer Lloyd Stewart, 62, said Mrs. Jones got him to open her cell about 5:15 p.m. on the first floor. She started to take a shower. She struck him over the head with a weapon made by placing bars of soap inside a shirt sleeve.

McNamara Says No Plans Are Leaked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today "I know of no leaks" of U.S. military plans or information on current weapons in recently uncovered Swedish and British security cases.

The Pentagon told a news conference he knows of "no compromise of our current weapons systems."

JFK Given Rail Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special six-member fact-finding committee delivered to President Kennedy today its report on the facts and issues in the railway work rules dispute.

The report is to be sent to Congress Monday, along with Kennedy's proposals for legislation to block a nationwide rail strike.

The committee, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, entered Kennedy's office without making any comment.

It completed the report Thursday night, with help from a staff of Labor and Commerce department aides.

The President probably will take the report with him for study at Hyannis Port, Mass., over the weekend. He plans to have his recommendations ready for presentation to Congress Monday.

The President, Wirtz and congressional leaders have said they hope some agreement would be arrived at before legislation is necessary to break the union-management deadlock. But there has been no indication of any behind-the-scenes negotiations.

At Kennedy's request the carriers agreed to hold off instituting new work rules—designed to eliminate eventually some 50,000 rail jobs deemed unnecessary by management—until July 29. Similarly, the unions agreed not to take any strike action until that time.

That gives Congress just one week to mull over any possible legislative remedies Kennedy may suggest. All indications are that the most likely legislative approach would be compulsory arbitration.

A draft of the report was shown to the nation's largest rail carriers and five operating unions.

Eclipse Of Sun Is Due Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time since 1932, North Americans will have a chance Saturday to view an eclipse of the sun.

But unless you have proper equipment, scientists say, the best and safest way to watch will be on television. Infrared, infrared rays, combustion, permanent eye damage to those who look at the sun directly.

The spectacular scientific show will be heard, from the start of the eclipse over Japan at dawn to 4:44 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on the Maine Coast, about three hours later. And only in a 60-mile wide strip across Alaska, Canada, and Maine will the eclipse be total.

Most Americans will only be able to see a partial eclipse. San Francisco will see 34 per cent. New York 88.

But everyone from astronomer to eye doctor are warning everyone not to watch the sun without special equipment.

Even if it appears our colored glasses are allowing you to watch the eclipse without pain, unseen rays can damage eyes severely and permanently.

The path of the eclipse will be diagonally across the United States. In the Southwest, the eclipse will be roughly parallel to a line between Denver and New Orleans.

The moon apparently will move across the face of the sun at Denver beginning at 2:05 p.m. (EST), and at New Orleans at 2:52 p.m. (EST).

New Water Record Set

It was just plain hot all over Texas yesterday, and a 96-degree reading in Snyder set the stage for a new water consumption record.

The city water plant here delivered 5,330,000 gallons of water, the highest production for a single day in the history of the plant.

There was no rain anywhere in the state overnight, and the day began with temperatures still in the 70s and 80s.

No change was in prospect. Extended forecasts, covering the period through next Wednesday, promised temperatures averaging several degrees above normal and little or no moisture.

The top temperatures Thursday ranged from 96 degrees at Galveston up to 101 at Childress and Mineral Wells, Austin, El Paso, Laredo, San Angelo and Wichita Falls registered 100.

10 Rebels Executed In Syria

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Major Gen. Amin Hafez, the Syrian army strong man, announced today 10 persons implicated in an uprising Thursday against Syria's Ba'athist Socialist government have been tried and executed.

Radio Damascus broadcast Hafez's statement after a new curfew was clamped on the entire country and Syrians were warned to stay inside or be shot. The revolt had seemed to have pro-Nasser overtones.

O'Brien, a Negro, was scheduled to die Sunday for the Sept. 5, 1961 pocket-knife slaying of James Johnson, 19.

Shahib, five noncommissioned officers and four civilians were tried by a court-martial formed by the National Revolutionary Council and quickly executed, the radio said. All the soldiers were from the army signal corps.

Hafez, who is deputy military governor, interior minister, deputy premier, defense minister and chief of staff, warned the disturbers of the peace must be punished. He said the court was still in session.

Shortly after the curfew was lifted for daylight hours early this morning, it was reimposed. Hafez reminded Syrians of the ban against demonstrations or the carrying of arms.

International telephone lines were cut again. Syria's borders remained closed.

In the absence of direct news from the sealed-off country, the warning indicated that street disturbances may have erupted when the curfew was relaxed.

The Syrian National Revolutionary Command, which has run the country since the Ba'athist coup last March 8, accused "groups and individuals" both inside and outside the country of plotting Thursday's attempt to overthrow the government.

It did not pin the blame specifically on supporters of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. But a Damascus Radio commentary mentioned Nasser's former top aide in Syria, Abdel Hamid Seraj, as a plotter.

El Paso Border Dispute Settled

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — With mingled emotions, residents on both sides of the border here learned Thursday that Mexico is going to recover El Paso's stockyards district in settlement of a century-old boundary dispute.

Under an agreement made public by presidents of both countries, the United States is pledged to return the 437-acre Chaparral strip, a narrow strip of land which once was on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. In 1864, a flood tumbled the river to change course and the land then was on the United States side.

Once a worthless stretch of brush, the Chamizal sector lies between the El Paso business district and the city of Juarez, across the river. The area has acquired 3,750 residents, nearly all of Mexican descent, and 382 buildings.

In common with the two heads of El Paso leaders applauded the international pact as long overdue in payment of a just claim.

Not all the reaction was favorable. Some Chamizal residents don't want to see their homes cross the border and said they're dubious about obtaining fair compensation for the strip.

Tourists who cross the international bridges from El Paso to eat, drink, shop and see the billboards in Juarez know the Chamizal strip as a largely drab section containing $5,000 to $10,000 homes, shacks, apartments and business structures—office buildings, a public school, a meat packing plant and two stockyards.

Each government will turn over land and other property to the other free of private claim.

To prevent Juarez bars and night spots from moving closer to the new international boundary, the Chamizal strip will become a federal zone. Mexican leaders have voiced dreams of making it the campus for a huge international university, graded by scores of fine buildings.

Mechanics of transferring the land, at a cost of about $20 million, to this country, are expected to require at least four years. Congress must give final approval. Six new bridges will be required.

President Kennedy said return of the Chamizal acreage will contribute significantly to relations between this country and Mexico.

New Feed Grain Payments Slated

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will offer growers of corn, barley and sorghum grain upward of $1.2-billion in payments next year to make way for a larger feed market for wheat.

For the first time in years, wheat, which is principally a food grain, will be grown free of government controls. At a referendum last May, producers rejected a new and tighter central plan of feed by the administration.

Officials expect a sharp increase in wheat production next year which could add to surpluses and depress grower prices.

The Agriculture Department says it hopes to minimize these possible impacts on wheat farmers by encouraging feed grain growers to reduce planting sharply below levels of recent years. The drop in feed grain production would be met by the extra wheat.

Farmers who voluntarily reduce feed grain acreages at least 20 per cent will get price supports and diversion payments on the idled land.

Farmers will be permitted to idle as much as 50 per cent of their feed grain land and get paid for it. This year, the maximum eligible for payments was 40 per cent.

Price support rates for the three feed grains will be held at this year's levels—$1.25 a bushel for corn, 96 cents a bushel for barley, and $2 a hundredweight for sorghum grain.

Next year, price support loans will be $1.10 for corn, compared with $1.07 this year; 84 cents for barley compared with 82 cents, and $1.77 for sorghums compared with $1.71.

Payments, which come on top of loans, will be 15 cents a bushel for corn compared with 18 cents this year, 12 cents compared with 14 cents for barley, and 23 cents compared with 25 cents for sorghums.

Wheat will be operating under a 1964 support rate of $1.25 a bushel, compared with $2 this year.

Various Components Help C-C Perform Many Services

WRAP UP... The purpose of these articles on the chamber of commerce has been to acquaint the members and non-members alike on the value of the chamber's organizational structure; the functions of the various divisions; their responsibilities. It also has served as a "refresher course" to the staff.

The chamber of commerce, as has been shown, is not a new type of organization. It is "discovered" in business days and served a definite purpose then just as it is doing today. Progress in concept was made as the years passed until today it is the most useful tool in community building to give a brief summary of each phase of chamber activity; the divisions are as follows:

CIVIC DIVISION — The chamber of commerce today prouly boasts of a committee, or group of committees, promoting programs of a civic nature because most chambers have been born of a desire of citizens to improve the civic aspects of their community. People like to see their parks improved, new streets added, old streets improved, youth centers for their children, better transportation facilities added if needed, and many other things which, when put together, make for a better community.

INDUSTRIAL DIVISION — A diversified economy is needed in any community if it is to survive and the industrial program of the chamber of commerce is one "tool" with which each and every citizen can use to work. The entire community is needed to give encouragement and positive thinking to the program, for without it the program is sure to fall short of its goal. The nature and extent of the industrial activities of the chamber, however, depend on the resources, needs and aspirations of the particular community. Perhaps it may be said that in the field of endeavor have chambers of commerce achieved more outstanding successes—and suffered more disheartening failures—than in the field of industrial promotion. But try they must, for in reality, the chamber of commerce is the only organization that truly represents the community in its entirety.

RETAIL DIVISION — Through its retail trade activities, the chamber of commerce seeks to organize and change the efforts of all merchants so as to bring about a community-wide improvement in retailing practices and a fuller exploitation of the opportunities available to the merchants. "All" every community can recognize a considerable amount of the business lost to a competing metropolitan center by an intelligent program of community merchandising. This is a responsibility of the Retail Trade Division of your chamber of commerce.

MEMBERSHIP DIVISION — The chamber is the pulse of the organization and quite naturally, the financial foundation on which it stands. The membership of the chamber represents democracy in action for it is a true cross-section of the community united for one purpose, to make the community a better place in which to live.

AGRICULTURAL DIVISION — Though there are fewer farms today than there were 10 years ago, interest in agriculture has not decreased in fact, agricultural and government leaders are more concerned over the agriculture industry today than ever before because of the increase in population over previous years and the projected increase in future years. The activities conducted by the various chambers of commerce include the whole gamut of agricultural problems. They begin with the land itself and end with the profitable marketing of farm products. On our local level, agricultural programs have dealt largely with livestock, cotton, and related products.

It is hoped that this review of the various divisions and their basic responsibilities will cause some particular point to be remembered, a specific question to be answered, and in general outline and clarify the concept of a chamber of commerce to the citizen.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you go about disowning a relative? My mother-in-law has been so on the race on a Saturday and Sunday she married a man who works at the track. She's 62 and he's 44. She dyes his hair the same color red she dyes her own and thinks everyone turns around to look at her because they're so good-looking. I think she's gone into her second childhood. They are positively nauseating together. Should I put an ad in the local paper, officially disowning her? I don't care how much it costs.

EMBARRASSED
DEAR EMBARRASSED: Don't put an ad in the paper. And save your money. You may need it to have their red heads examined later.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell people not to put the dog's dish in the dishwasher with the family plates. Hot water and soap do NOT kill every kind of germ. If they did, hospitals wouldn't need sterilizers. Even boiling water doesn't kill all bacteria. Especially spores and fungi.

The notion that a dog's mouth is cleaner than a human's mouth is folklore. We still know from old diseases, and how they are transmitted, it is wise to observe all sanitary precautions.

EMERITUS, MAYO CLINIC
DEAR EMERITUS: Thank you for the information. I'll pass it on to my readers. But those who NEED it most will probably be the first to give me an argument.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LAS PALMAS": The mother-daughter team that looks "just like sisters" frequently does more for the mother's ego than the daughter's.

Recipes From Colorado Eating Places

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. A new cook book has come out of the West. Two enterprising young women have been riding around Colorado (where they live), eating at what they consider the state's finest restaurants and edging recipes from chefs.

The results are in "Colorado Well-as-cooks, the restaurants a la Carte," published by Alan Swallow (Sage Books) in Denver, and the authors are Beverly Anderson Nemiro and Donna Miller Hamilton. To help travelers as well as chefs, the chefs' recipes include meat, poultry and fish dishes; breads and pancakes; sandwiches and sauses, salads and salad dressing; soups and vegetables; pie and other desserts. The restaurant cuisines offer interesting variety, and this is of course reflected in the recipes.

It's too bad that since they home - tested these rules, trying them on their families, the Messames Nemiro and Hamilton didn't always include utensil measurements where these would be helpful. We wish, too, that they had not defined maroons as water chestnuts! But we will always be grateful to them for ferreting out and including a great recipe for trout. Tried in our own kitchen, its explicit directions worked perfectly.

High Country Trout

From Hotel Splendide, Empire, Colo.
6 trout, fresh or frozen, about 1/2 pound each
18 pats butter
Salt
Pepper
6 lemon wedges

Place each trout on a bed of pats butter, on aluminum steak platter. Put in very hot (450 degrees) oven, on bottom shelf, and cook until butter begins to turn brown, about 12 to 15 minutes. Salt and pepper trout lightly on both sides, turning over with spatula, leaving cooked side up. Return to oven and cook until trout is done, approximately 10 minutes. Serve with a wedge of lemon. The hotel serves sliced cucumbers, marinated in a lact French dressing, and crisp hashed brown potatoes, as accompaniments. Makes 6 servings.

Hero Has Many Names, Good Taste

No matter what you call it — "Hero," "Submarine," "Grinder" or "Floor Boy" — the king-sized sandwich on a crusty French roll has won its place as a popular American eating tradition. The hot dog and hamburger will have to share the spotlight with this everything-in-the-ice-box sandwich.

The "Hero" is a do-it-yourselfer's delight, and the versions of it far outnumber the names it has. It starts with a French roll, and the refrigerator supplies the rest of the "fixings": from meats to cheese to relishes. Here's how to make one version, using mellow American blue cheese as an intriguing flavor component.

Split each six- to eight-inch French roll in half lengthwise. Spread top half with mustard and bottom half with a blend of equal parts of American blue cheese and butter. Line bottom half with salami, and Bologna interspersed with slices of Swiss cheese, tomato, and dill pickle. Add more lettuce and secure top in place with toothpicks. Each roll makes one man-sized sandwich.

Dad's Delight

Here's a creamy, all-purpose blue cheese salad topper that's especially designed for the men in your family who like blue cheese dressing on any and all kinds of salads. Mix 1/2 cup (about 3 ounces) crumbled American blue cheese with 1 cup dairy sour cream, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons vinegar, and a dash of salt and pepper. Chill and serve in generous amounts.

Ever stuff canned drained figs with cream - cheese squares and serve on a bed of shredded lettuce and paper - thin celery crescents as a salad? Good with fried chicken or baked ham for a ladies' lunch.

Quality Counts In The Water

Quality has become a byword of the American home. And woman, the prime shopper for the household, demands it in every consumer item, whether it be furniture, clothes, appliances or food.

But, ask a woman about water—essential to her for cleaning, bathing, cooking and drinking—and unknowingly she may be lumping along with a mediocre product. If this valuable commodity meets the high standards of quality set by the American Water Works Association, the homemaker would consume a clear, colorless, tasteless, liquid that's odorless and non-corrosive. Actually, only about 15 percent of our nation has naturally high grade water (commonly referred to as soft water). Thus, the quality of water most homemakers use depends on how effectively it has been treated to dissolve the collection of minerals, gases, and organic impurities it has accumulated in the atmosphere and earth.

When properly treated, a good grade of water is a woman's best detergent in the laundry room. Its two miracle ingredients — hydrogen and oxygen — are natural solvents. However, if water-hardening minerals magnesium and calcium remain in substantial amounts in the water, they are most troublesome to the homemaker. Soap and synthetic detergents adhere to these minerals and form an insoluble film on clothes. The laundry emerges gray-looking, and that dulling film also weakens the fabrics' fibers and ultimately shortens the life of the clothes.

Hard water presents similar problems for the homemaker in bathing. The mineral - soap film prevents thorough cleansing of her skin, causes roughness, and drying of mucous membranes. Her hair lacks lustre after it's washed, and to boot, deposits of iron and manganese from the water may leave a brown stain on her bathroom fixtures.

Minerals and chemicals in water used for cooking can further handicap the homemaker in the kitchen. They impair the flavor and odor of her food, especially vegetables. And, they stain and corrode her aluminum cooking utensils.

Such aesthetic characteristics as color, taste, odor and temperature often mar the enjoyment of drinking water, leaving the homemaker with a brew that meets health standards only. An insufficient supply of water for daily use is another hindrance to the homemaker. In over 1,000 communities, she faces restrictions on water for laundry, washing dishes, bathing, air conditioning, watering lawns, and swimming.

But these water problems can be solved. There's plenty of water available in this country, according to figures published by the National Water Institute: a total of 300-400 billion gallons a day compared to actual daily usage of only 75-100 billion gallons. And methods to exist for upgrading the quality of it. Thus, when shortages or sub-standard quality prevail, stressed the NWI, it's because of improper facilities for transporting, purifying and treating water.

When communities realize the deficiencies in their existing water facilities and equipment, they may be willing to finance improvements. Only then will the homemaker and her family realize the benefits of a better product.

Fruit Refresher

Here's a blue cheese refresher to dress up fruit salads! Blend 1/2 cup (about 1 1/2 ounces) crumbled American blue cheese with 1/2 cup each mayonnaise and dairy sour cream and 3 tablespoons orange juice. Try it with fruit, gelatin, as well as fresh fruit plates.

Dress Up Lettuce

A simple wedge of head lettuce turns into a special salad when you top it with this unusual blue cheese dressing. Blend 1 cup of Italian style dressing with 1/4 cup (about 1 1/2 ounces) crumbled American blue cheese. Stir in 3 tablespoons chopped pimiento, stuffed olives and one chopped hard-cooked egg, and spoon over each lettuce wedge.

GOT TO GO THROUGH ALL THAT AGAIN?

Alas, Woman Can't Be Sure Of Man's Dreams Anymore

BY INEZ ROBB

The most disillusioning item of science-reporting that I have ever read says, "Men Found to Dream of Men." Whether they are eight or 80, when men close their eyes and wait to the land of Nod, they dream of each other.

"Men dream about other men more than they do about women," report Dr. Calvin Hall and Bill Domhoff of the Institute for Dream Research. They have intrusted their conclusions to the Journal of Abnormal and Social Psychology.

These psychologists say that men, no matter that their age, creed, color or national origin, and no matter how normal or neurotic, do not dream of men or other members of my sex but the egotists—of one another.

Alas, the "dreams-with-the-light-brown-hair" of whom they allege they dream is probably Gene with a crew cut, seersucker suit and white sneakers.

"Dream girl," my eye! That phrase is just a cover-up for a dream about good old Charlie, the one with a foreign sports car and a "three-handicap." Fickle as a changeful dream," indeed. All the lovely words men have woven through the centuries to assure women that we are the joyous burden of their dreams is just so much self-serving propaganda, it now develops.

Dr. Hall and Mr. Domhoff explain—excuse, really—man's dreamy preoccupation with other men on the principle that dreams reflect the everyday anxieties and stresses of the dreamer. The two researchers say that most of man's unresolved problems, when he tucks into bed after a hard day at the office, are with men.

Well, presumably women should be grateful for small favors. At least Dr. Hall and Mr. Domhoff absolve my sex of being the other sex's most worrisome problem.

And that's the first blanket abolition of that kind to come our way in a millennium.

I'll settle for the conclusion that man, when he beds down for the night, continues in his dreams the searing tensions of the office water cooler or the 19th hole.

If men have more unresolved problems with men than with women, and that's what the researchers say, women, in their opinion, strike a middle course. My unscientific guess would have been that women have more unresolved problems with men, and I'd have been wrong. Women's anxieties are equally divided between their own and the opposite sex.

So we dream of men on a half-time schedule.

It is impossible to tell whether the poets have deceived us or themselves—they and their preoccupation with dreams, beautiful dreams of fair women. At least, to hear their rhyme it.

The next time some man hums, "Have you ever seen a dream walking?" I'm going to ask, "What did he have on and in what direction was he headed?"

Perhaps the only honest poet among them was Robert L. o' u's Stevenson when he wrote "Many's the long night I've dreamed of cheese— toasted, mostly."

Or do Shakespeare deserve the last words: "We are such stuff as dreams are made on; and our little life is rounded with a sleep."

And how can we be sure that it was the dark LADY of the sonnets of whom he dreamed? (Copyright, 1963, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Don't Forget To Write

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Here's a message for Louise and Junior— whoever they are:

Ruby has buzzed off to Myrtle Beach for a couple of days.

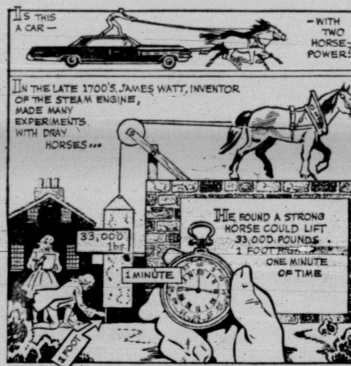

John Farmer, 12, and Ronnie Begley, 11, said they were playing in farmer's yard when a red and white light plane circled overhead a couple of times, then dropped a small package.

The boys ran to a nearby field and found the note wrapped in cloth. It said, "Louise and Jr.: Going to Myrtle Beach for a few days. (signed) Ruby."

No one in the neighborhood has any idea who Louise and Junior are—or Ruby, for that matter.

The average "lifetime" of a Tiros weather satellite is about four months.

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSEPOWER

QUESTION: How can a car have "horsepower"?

ANSWER: Not, certainly, in the ludicrous way our artist has suggested in his first drawing; this is not to be taken seriously. Horsepower measures how much power the engine of a car may have. It is figured on a standard worked out in the 1700's by James Watt, inventor of the modern steam engine.

Watt wanted some way of measuring how much work an engine or animal could do. He experimented with strong dray horses. If one pound of weight could be raised one foot in one minute—this was to be called one foot-pound. A powerful horse, Watt found, could lift 33,000 foot-pounds in one minute. Watt called the force exerted by the horse to do this one horsepower. A stronger force, such as an engine, can have two or five or many more units of horsepower. Such horsepower ratings are still used for engines today. One way to figure them is to multiply pressure on the piston by area of piston, the length of strokes in feet and the number of strokes per minute. This will give number of foot-pounds per minute. Dividing this by 33,000 gives the engine's horsepower.

FOR YOU TO DO: Watt did not actually invent the steam engine; he took crude steam pumps devised by Savary and Newcomen and from these worked out the principles of the modern steam engine. Read his fascinating story.

(Carol Nunn of Hickory, Pa., wins today's grand prize of a 30-volume World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Make yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper and you may win a set too.)

Politicians Really Kin To Squirrels

EDITORS' NOTE: Politicians and squirrels have something in common—at least the squirrels in the following fable. Read on, and get a rabbit's-eye view of living on a family budget.

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political fables for our time, or, a lary man's guide to national issues.

How To Win Friends
Once there were two squirrels, Wilbur and Ezekiel.

From nesthood, Wilbur seemed marked for great squirreldom. It was he who launched the campaign to hide more acorns so more mighty oaks would from little acorns grow.

It was he who devised the plan to scatter the sneaky cat by dropping nuts at him from high places. It was Wilbur who first made the daring leap to the wire that led to the birdfeeder and the sunflower seed.

"A natural born leader," the other squirrels said.

"Zeke was a howza squirrel. 'Howza girl' Howza boy?" he would ask, smiling affably the living day.

"You can't help liking Zeke," the other squirrels said.

Both ran for the same office the same year, and while everyone agreed Wilbur was one smart squirrel, there was some discord. Someone pointed out that some times the birdfeeder was empty. Another remembered the cat still prowled about.

Still another doubted the wisdom of planting those acorns, since oaks grow so slowly. "An acorn in the-jay is worth two under the zoyzia," this doubter said sagely.

Zeke won in a breeze. With his great capacity for offending no one, his political future looks brilliant.

So, if a politician who takes for firmest stand is apt to be the first to be knocked flat.

Zeke's Responsibility

Hortense and Horace got married early—rabbits usually do—and, kid, they lived it up. All those kids, all those expenses.

One day while Horace was figuring the bills, he got all hopped up over the way things were not improving, and he said:

"Deficit spending is immoral." "It sure is, sweetie," said Hortense.

"We should operate on a budget," said Horace.

"Let's," said Hortense.

So they settled down to the dreary business.

But Hortense soon recalled the living room—furniture was tacky and Horace said he thought he had better keep up his membership in the golf club, and they began throwing fiscal rabbit punches at each other, and three days later there they were again, trying to make a deal with the man at the finance company.

Moral: Of course, anyone can save money—in the abstract.

Boy Killed While Making Rocket

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward Sacco Jr., 13, was making a rocket in the basement of his home in Queens.

He and a friend opened a carbon dioxide cylinder and packed it full of kitchen match heads Thursday. They had to make a hole for a fuse.

Edward put a nail to the cylinder and started pounding. After half a dozen blows the cylinder exploded.

He was fatally injured.

Clay Sticks To Listen

By BOB MYERS Associated Press Sports Writer LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—It appears you can take or leave Cassius Clay, but you can't get rid of him.

Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston agreed to this today after an unscheduled and quite uninvited visit by capricious Cassius to the Liston training camp Thursday.

If nothing else, it did offer some comedy relief from the bore of routine training as Liston and ex-champion Floyd Patterson exchanged the end of the grind for Monday night's title rematch.

Cassius spent a better part of an hour heckling the awesome champ—from a safe distance, of course.

Sonny for the most part took it in half amusement, mixed with other detachments.

At one point Cassius and Liston flexed their muscles in a threatening gesture at close range, and some of the more glibbly thought they might actually come to blows.

But a Liston handkerchief stepped in and pushed them back with the same labor it would take to separate a pair of wet towels on a clothesline.

Thus far, Cassius hasn't annoyed Patterson.

Liston's manager, Jack Nilon, disclosed that negotiations for a Sonny-Cassius title fight have gone so far as to pin down a possible site and date—New York, Sept. 28.

This is naturally dependent on the 4-1 favorite, Liston, whipping Floyd.

IN PGA TOURNEY

Early Worm In Good Position

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—No less an authority than Arnold Palmer thinks the early worm will get the birdie at the Dallas Athletic Club course today, which could mean lumps ahead for upstart Dick Hart and smooth sailing for shot-lust Boris in the second round of the Professional Golfers Association championship.

Julius is in a perfect position with that 62-72 Palmer said after his opening round 74—marked by four three-putt greens—dropped the 41 favorite eight strokes behind the 27-year-old Hart's brilliant 66 Thursday.

Reliefers Give Strong Showings

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer Dick Radatz is a huge bruiser who overpowers the batters with his speed and strength.

They don't look alike and they don't work alike, but they rate alike—in the upper echelon of American League relief pitchers.

Radatz ran his record to a remarkable 11-1 with two scoreless innings as the Red Sox thumped the Kansas City Athletics 10-6.

In National League action Los Angeles' first place Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 10-5; the Chi-

Dallas Girls To Semis

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (AP)—A girl who learned tennis from her father, and another who picked it up in public parks square off today in the semifinals of the National Clay Court Tournament.

Nancy Richey, 20, of Dallas was tutored for 12 years by her professional father, George. She reached the semifinals Thursday with an 11-9, 6-1 victory over defending champion Donna Floyd Fales of New York.

Judy Alvarez, 20-year-old Tampa, Fla. University physical education major who took up tennis in public parks five years ago after starring as a softball pitcher, upset America's No. 1 ace, Darlene Hard of Los Angeles, 6-6, 6-2.

In Friday's men's semifinals, defending champion Wimbledon king Chuck McKinley met unseeded Herbert Fitzgibbon, 21-year-old Princeton student from Garden City, N.Y.

McKinley moved up by downing his Trinity University (Texas) teammate, Butch Newman, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3 in a two-hour, 50-minute marathon.

Fitzgibbon defeated Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis, 3-6, 6-0, 6-4, 7-5.

Death Ruled Justifiable Homicide

MARION, Ark. (AP) - The death of a 17-year-old Negro shot by a group of white citizens and sheriff's deputies after a woman said he had molested her daughter was ruled justifiable homicide Thursday.

Courier T. H. McGough, who conducted the inquest, said there was no testimony as to who fired the bullet which killed Andrew Lee Anderson of nearby Vincent, Ark. Wednesday.

The mother testified she saw a Negro molesting her eight-year-old daughter on a lawn near her home in Marion. She said he ran and she started driving down the street yelling for help.

Several white men and sheriff's deputies chased Anderson into a bean field, where he was shot in the leg with a high-powered rifle. The bullet severed an artery.

Sheriff Cecil Goodwin said Anderson halted several times and threw up his hands, but each time he ran again.

Marion is across the Mississippi River from Memphis, Tenn.

Williams Gives Senate Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., cited in the Senate Thursday what he called examples of the "imaginings" of the men on President Kennedy's New Frontier.

Williams said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved research grants providing:

- $46,731 for a study of the "regulation of development of the mouse egg."
- $9,740 for a study of the "physiological adaptation of the Mexican free-tailed bat."
- $4,120 to support a study of the "effects of frustration on a reflex response."

An average of 24 letters per minute were sent to the Post Office as compared with more than 50 when a mechanical sorter is used.

Furr's Start Big Giveaway

A $116,700 prize total awaits customers of Furr's Super Markets during their "Blue Ribbon Beef" celebration. It was announced today by Roy Furr, president of the large Southwest grocery chain.

"There will be eight weekly drawings in each Furr store," Furr pointed out. "And in each case there will always be ten prize winners from each of our 65 outlets. No purchase is required; we want folks to come in and sign up every day."

Considering that it is not a national drawing, prizes hit what is perhaps a peak in this market. They will include eight Lincoln Continentals, eight color television sets, eighty portable televisions, eight sides of beef, 8 Hydrocne sixteen foot boats with trailers and sixty-five horsepower motors, one hundred and sixty men's and ladies wrist watches, eight hundred portable radios, and over two million free Frontier trading stamps.

"Our purpose," explained Furr, "is to quickly acquaint people with our new Farm Pac Blue Ribbon Beef. This beef is purchased and processed in our own plant and is from heavy grain, fed stock which has been aged under the most exacting controls. Each and every cut carries an unconditional money-back guarantee."

The Blue Ribbon Bonanza promotion from Furr's broke Thursday in local newspapers, and will be further exploited on radio and television. Weekly winners will be announced in subsequent weeks' newspaper ads as well as a complete posting list in each Furr's Super Market.

Vestal Speaks To Kiwanis

Bill Vestal, SACROC reservoir engineer, presented the program at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday. With charts and graphs to illustrate his talk, Vestal told the club about the recent efforts of the SACROC unit in attempting to get an increase in the allowable for the Kelly-Snyder field, as presented in a recent hearing before the Railroad Commission.

It was pointed out that the Kelly-Snyder field has 8 percent of the known oil reserves in the State of Texas, with 17 percent of the production. Testimony at the hearing was translated into Spanish for Seely County, and the economy as a whole.

Several guests and visiting Kiwanians were welcomed at the meeting. Club president, J. M. Mathis, recently returned from the Kiwanis International Convention at Atlantic City, presided at the meeting. Luncheon music was furnished by the club sweetheart Nancy Meador.

Mormon Pioneer Day Proclaimed

Gov. John Connally has signed an official proclamation designating July 24 as "Mormon Pioneer Day" in Texas. Officials of the Church accepted the document from the Governor and in appreciation, presented him with a leather bound brochure and several Mormon Tabernacle Choir records.

The Governor, in calling upon all Texans to pay tribute to the pioneer spirit of the Mormons, stated in his proclamation: "One hundred and sixteen years ago this July twenty-fourth, the first of the Mormon pioneers left the Brigham Young entered the Great Salt Lake Valley. The Mormons made a significant contribution to the conquering of the West. They established over one hundred and thirty-five towns, gave the foundation to what is now four western states, introduced the principle of irrigation, established a major crossroads in Salt Lake City which was an invaluable aid to those pioneers which followed them, and even were the first to settle five new Texas counties and prepared the way for many others."

Following the signing of the proclamation, Elder Ralph J. Hill, President of the Texas Mission and Roland C. Bremer, President of the San Antonio State of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, presented the Governor with a brochure explaining in pictorial form some of the activities of the Church throughout the world today. The brochure, engraved with the Governor's name in gold, is the same booklet which has been presented to many of the heads of state in Europe.

Wednesday, Feb. 4, 1846, the first of the Mormon pioneers, left Nauvoo, Ill., and crossed the Mississippi River on the journey to the west. Brigham Young, succeeding the Prophet Joseph Smith in the leadership of the Church, organized the saints systematically into companies of hundreds, fifties, and tens, with officers appointed to preside over each.

Certain parties were selected to travel on ahead of the group to build and repair the roads; also to seek out temporary places for shelter.

On the 24th of July, 1847, President Brigham Young, with the main body of the pioneers, entered the Salt Lake Valley. Sitting in his carriage, somewhat ill, President Young stated with an expression of satisfaction, "This is the place." At the end of 1847, 2,065 pioneers had entered the Valley. This was just the beginning.

"Espionage Case Goes To Jury"

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of Navy Yeoman Nelson C. Drummond, accused of espionage, goes to the jury today.

Drummond could receive the death sentence.

This is Drummond's second trial. The first ended May 23 in a hung jury. Several jurors told newsmen the only holdout for acquittal was a Negro. The Negro juror told newsmen he believed the FBI framed Drummond.

The second jury, 10 men and two women, also has one Negro member.

Drummond testified that Soviet agents paid him up to $24,000 for documents that he said had been declassified and were not valuable. He also said the Soviets threatened him.

Drummond, 34, was arrested last Sept. 28 by FBI agents who caught him with two copies of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations outside a diner in Larchmont, N.Y. Drummond was stationed at the naval base in Newport, R.I.

Man Guides Rocket Minus Electronics

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—For about four minutes, Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth guided the X15 rocket plane as it streaked at 3,818 miles an hour with the electronic controls turned off.

The test Thursday was the longest the sleek black craft has ever flown without its autopilots. The test showed how the X15 and similar future spacecraft would handle if their automatic control systems should fail during re-entry.

At one-point, Rushworth nosed the plane 30 degrees above the slipstream, within 5 degrees of the highest ever attempted— even with its electronic controls.

Engineers said that beyond 25 degrees, the X15 would go into a dangerous stall.

It was a low-level test for the X15—103,000 feet.

When No One Was Looking, He Ran

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—The fire alarm sounded next door to the Village Court Thursday.

Everybody rushed to the windows to see where the tricksters were headed—everybody except Ernest Armstrong, 35, who was being arraigned on a charge of stealing a television set.

He slipped out the back door and escaped.

Italy Hit By Quakes

TURIN, Italy (AP)—Three strong earthquakes rumbled across northwest Italy and the Italian and French Riviera coasts early today sending thousands of pajama-clad tourists and residents fleeing to open ground from fright, but there were not a number of persons fainting.

reports of deaths or injuries. The Turin Regional Meteorological Institute said the quake, which came after a violent electrical storm over the mountainous French-Italian frontier, was centered in the Aosta Valley in the Italian Alps. It was the worst quake in 55 years in the Turin-Riviera area. Earthquakes are rare along the Riviera. Pretoria is South Africa's administrative capital.

What makes a champion? What is that extra force inherent in a great leader, teacher, musician, scientist, or a Christian? This extra force, this compelling quality, this something has a current all its own... out-shining our every-day efforts. It turns the common into the outstanding. It has been called "inspiration" and surely it must be just that. Want to possess it??? Of course! — then keep an open heart, a clear unprejudiced mind, clean body, and a receptiveness to the will and word of God. Learn of Him through regular church attendance and daily reading of His word. Only through God may we find this something, — this force, — this inspiration. "There is a spirit in man: and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
