Joyous Throng Greets Ike In New Delhi

Santa Due Tomorrow

'Tis two weeks before Christmas and all through the town there are bright smiling faces with nary a frown. The fire truck is ready with whirling red flare to pick up old Santa and rush to the square. He'll talk to the children and tickle their chins, and for the whole town of Snyder CHRISTMAS BEGINS!

Santa will arrive in Snyder tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2 p.m. riding on a big red fire truck since it seems there will not be enough snow (even if it snows tonight) for nine reindeer and a sleigh. He will rush to the south side of the square where pre-school children will have an opportunity to tell him their wishes, until 2:45.

The first, second and third grades will turn out at 2:30 so the students may see Saint Nick from 2:45 to 3:30. At 3:30 all the older children who have not already written to him may see Santa personally.

A parade to start the Yuletide season off and greet Santa will originate at Avenue U and Twenty-sixth Street and proceed to the square. Bands from Snyder, Loraine and Coahoma will supply music for the parade. Floats entered so far include those from: First Christian Church, St. Elizabeths Youth Club, Calvary Baptist Church, Mount Olive Baptist Church, Dunn Baptist Church, Trinity Methodist Church, First Methodist MYF, the First Assembly of God, Colonial Hill Baptist Church, the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the First Baptist Church Youth Fellowship.

High School choral groups singing carols in the stores will give a festive air to the entire occasion.

19 Armed Convicts Are Still At Large

IVY BLUFF, N.C. (AP)—Hundreds of officers, using planes and bloodhounds, conducted a massive manhunt today for 19 heavily armed and dangerous convicts still at large from Tuesday's break from North Carolina's toughest prison here. One convict was recaptured.

Two helicopters from Ft. Bragg joined the hunt today, the FBI announced. Several private planes also are being used in efforts to spot any of the convicts still in this area.

The fact that only a few cars were reported stolen in this section led officers to believe at least some of the escapees are still hiding not far from this prison site close to the Virginia line.

Four men, one of whom identified himself with the escape here, broke into a home in Memphis, Tenn., and raped a woman. They tied up the woman's husband and, while one stood guard with a knife, three raped her.

"I'm one of the 20," one of the men declared in what police said was an obvious reference to the break here.

At least three of the escapees were definitely placed in Roanoke, Va., Tuesday night after a Buchanan, Va., man reported he was forced to drive three men at gunpoint to Roanoke.

W. R. Robinson told police he arrived at his home to find the trio coming from the house. He said they had taken three business suits and left three sets of prison garb. Robinson said he drove the men 25 miles south and let them off in Roanoke. Neither Robinson nor his wife were harmed.

Virginia state police reported a car stolen in North Carolina shortly after the break was found abandoned a short distance from the Robinson home.

In addition, a dark green sedan was reported stolen in Tazwell County, west of Roanoke. A few hours later a similar car was spotted speeding through Roanoke. Officers said it may have contained other of the escapees.

The prison is located near the Virginia state line in Caswell County.

Posses using bloodhounds and scouting planes scoured a six-county area on the theory that all of the fugitives couldn't have gotten out of North Carolina after the escape, despite a four-hour start before the break was reported Tuesday.

Prisons director W. F. Bailey reported on the break to Gov. Luther Hodges. The governor said he was awaiting a full investigation before making any comment.

Residents in a wide area around Ivy Bluff slept uneasily Tuesday night behind locked doors and windows, with family weapons within easy reach.

"Our jail wouldn't hold everybody who's packing a pistol under his belt," one Casewell County deputy sheriff said.

The 20 felons who escaped included four killers and four serving life for such crimes as rape and burglary. They walked from the prison after overpowering six guards and taking eight rifles, eight pistols and a sub-machine gun.

Charles Edwards, 28, serving life for burglary and attempted rape, was recaptured eight miles from the prison, 6½ hours after the break.

Chinese Protest Eisenhower's Trip

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China accused the United States today of using President Eisenhower's current tour to the detriment of the Peiping regime.

The charge was made by Peiping radio, official voice of Red China, in reporting on President Eisenhower's visit to Pakistan.

Six Broadcasters Picked For Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six broadcasting executives were named today to an industry committee created to bring about a thorough housecleaning in the radio and television industry.

The appointments were announced by Harold E. Fellows, president of the National Assn. of Broadcasters.

Fellows, chairman of the group, said in a statement the committee was authorized by the association's board of directors. Five of the association's staff executives will also serve on the committee.

The special group, he said, will deal wih "ethical and legal issues facing radio and television."

"This special committee will cooperate wholeheartedly with investigations by the Federal Communications Commission and the Federal Trade Commission," he said.

The FCC is holding public hearings on broadcast programming. It also has ordered all radio and television stations to file information by Jan. 4, 1960, concerning so-called payola practices. The Federal Trade Commission also is looking into broadcast advertising —commercials.

Members of the industry housecleaning group, in addition to Fellows are:

F. C. Sowell, vice president and general manager, WLAC, Nashville, Tenn.; G. Richard Shafto, executive vice president, WIS-TV, Columbia, S.C.; Merrill Lindsay, executive vice president, WSOY, Decatur, Ill.; Dwight W. Martin, chairman of the board, WAFB-TV, Baton Rouge, La.; Daniel W. Kops, President, WAVZ, New Haven, Conn.; and Clair R. McCollough, president and general manager, Steinman Stations, Lancaster, Pa.

Fellows also announced the association's board has canceled its meeting scheduled for Jan. 24-29, 1960, in Palm Springs, Calif., so that all NAB personnel would be immediately and completely available for the application of their time and energies to regulatory matters.

The FCC inquiry took a recess today so commission members could work on current business.

Steelworkers Move Ahead

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Steelworkers Union boasted today about a new labor agreement in the can manufacturing industry and moved on to aluminum in hopes a settlement there would help pressure steel labor peace.

David J. McDonald, the union's president, said new bargaining talks start today in Chicago with major aluminum manufacturers. He said he hopes to join the sessions there early next week.

The agreement reached Tuesday with the American and Continental Can companies—two of the nation's largest steel consumers—calls for wage-benefit gains valued at 30 cents an hour over a three-year period.

It includes provision for wage boosts of 8.2 cents an hour in each of the three contract years. The can workers averaged $2.73 per hour including overtime in September.

A feature of the can settlement calls for full hospital-surgical benefit coverage, paid for by the employers, to continue for workers after they retire. Retirement benefits also were raised.

"It is believed this is the first time a major American industry has agreed in collective bargaining to provide for the health needs of employes who retire," McDonald said.

"As a result of this progressive step, one of the great problems of old age is met—namely, the fear of people who retire of losing all insurance protection against the hazards of sickness in old age."

McDonald said the basis for the can agreement, covering some 45,000 workers, was worked out by the union with top men of the two can companies. Chairman Lucius Clay of Continental and President William Stolk of American Can.

He said this is in contrast with the situation in steel where, he said, top steel executives refuse to meet with him in real bargaining meetings.

Meanwhile, steel negotiations were moving fairly slowly. Government mediators called in steel industry negotiators for further talks today. They said they had no meeting scheduled with the union but asked for more technical date from union experts.

McDonald said the agreement with the can companies retained intact work practice clauses such as those in steel contracts. One of the major issues in the steel dispute is the steel companies' insistence on changing such clauses to give the firms more leeway in making manpower economies.

American Can said in a statement the union wanted stricter clauses—that is, stiffer language restricting work practice changes —but the company resisted and kept the clauses "as is."

Meantime, there appeared no early prospect for adoption of proposals by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell for new methods of solving the steel stalemate.

Mitchell publicly called on the industry and union Tuesday to submit their dispute to a fact-finding board's recommendations, or let the government's mediation service chart a way, or put unresolved issues to arbitration by a third party.

The industry had no immediate reply, but a spokesman recalled steel's repeated opposition to having federal boards dictate steel settlement terms. The spokesman said such boards always recommend inflationary terms.

The union said it would agree to consider recommendations by either a fact board or the government itself, but would oppose arbitration as a way out.

New Cotton Regulation

A new regulation may present additional problems for Scurry County cotton farmers in 1960.

Henry Burchett, ASC office manager here, said he had been informed that skipped rows cannot be deducted from quotas where cotton is planted on the "two and four" plan.

The "two and four" plan involves planting of two rows and skipping four in fields. Heretofore, farmers were allowed to deduct the four skipped rows from their acreage for allotment purposes.

Next year, however, cotton planted on the "two and four" plan will go as "solid cotton," Burchett said.

The regulation is expected to be a definite setback for dryland farmers.

Burchett said his office had not yet been informed of the spacing plan which will be allowed for next year, but as soon as it is available it will be publicized.

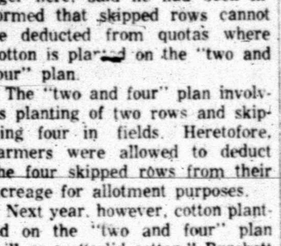

School Bus, Truck Are In Collision

WACO (AP)—A school bus and a gravel truck collided near Bruceville, 8 miles southwest of here, today, injuring six children and the truck driver.

Virgil Mayberry and Mike Larza, both of Route 1, Bruceville, were kept in Hillcrest Hospital in Waco pending X-ray examinations.

Four children and the truck driver, Robert Dominguez, 24, of Temple, were discharged from the hospital after treatment.

Highway Patrolman Ervin Siens said the bus and the gravel truck collided in a glancing blow shortly before 8 a.m. on an access route to an overpass over U.S. Highway 81 at Bruceville.

2nd Russian Getting Aid

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—For the second time in nine months, a Russian seaman was in need of U.S. medical help today in the stormy Bering Sea. For the second time, help was on its way from the U.S. Coast Guard.

The Soviet refrigerator ship Jana radioed Tuesday that a member of its crew was seriously ill. The Coast Guard flew a plane with a doctor aboard from Kodiak to Cold Bay, 400 miles west of here in the Aleutians, to pick up the unidentified seaman and fly him to Kodiak Naval Hospital.

The Jana is a member of the Soviet fishing fleet in the Bering Sea. Last April the mother ship of the fleet, the freezer Pischevaya Industriya, appealed for help when a seaman fell overboard.

The seaman was near death with concussion. The Coast Guard flew him to Elmendorf Air Force Base in Anchorage, where he recovered. The Soviet government thanked the United States officially last month.

One Million Line Streets

NEW DELHI (AP)—A joyously hysterical throng of more than one million—sometimes terrifyingly out of control—surged about President Eisenhower tonight as he rode for miles through this capital of India.

Proclaimed in a huge banner as "The Prince of Peace," the President was caught tight in an awesome crush of screaming, almost worshipful humanity.

It was the greatest welcome this capital ever has given a foreign visitor, eclipsing that accorded Nikita Khrushchev of the Soviet Union four years ago.

Eisenhower had been welcomed tumultuously in both Pakistan and Afghanistan, but this was one for the history books. Waving and smiling on the snail-paced 11-mile trip from the airport, he seemed at times bewildered by the sheer massiveness of the welcome.

The trip into the city took two hours. Hundreds of police were unable to keep back the surging crowds that stopped the motorcade a number of times.

Some screamed out: "American Badshah! (King)"

Some tossed flowers. Most just shrieked their approval for a man from the other side of the world.

White House secretary James C. Hagerty, himself somewhat overwhelmed, said he had never seen anything like it. Nor had newsmen who have followed Eisenhower's public appearances since his 1952 election campaign.

Hagerty said it was evident the Indian people went out of their way to show their love for Eisenhower and obviously were making most earnest attempts to be sure that the President knew they loved him.

All the way into New Delhi lit up and glittering like a fairyland for the occasion — people pushed and shouted. When the great crowd halted the motorcade by force of numbers, many tried to thrust their hands into Eisenhower's car to shake hands with him.

Prime Minister Nehru at times seemed to be emotionally affected by the demonstration.

The long trip from the airport after an early morning takeoff from Pakistan and a stop in Afghanistan would have been an exhausting experience even for a man of many less than Eisenhower's 69 years. At times he looked tired and a bit ruffled. But the President's firm step and strong voice at the airport indicated he was still able to take the grueling trip in his stride.

"What did you think of that reception? a reporter called to him as he later stepped from his car, ankle deep in flowers, at the home of Indian President Rajendra Prasad.

"You write it." Eisenhower shot back with a chuckle, apparently at a loss for any descriptive term.

In Parliament, just before Eisenhower's arrival, Nehru called him as a "messenger of peace," and that was the way the masses of old and new Delhi accepted him.

No one will ever know exactly how many Indians stood in their dhotis and saris to cheer Eisenhower along an 11-mile route from airport to city. Police guessed the crowd at 1½ million, but it could easily have been larger.

Many—even the poor illiterates who make up much of this nation's population — must have shared a widespread feeling that Eisenhower's presence at this time was a clear warning to Communist China against further action on the India frontier.

Prime Minister Nehru, welcoming Eisenhower from a triumphant six-hour stopover in Afghanistan, declared that friendship for America had been firmly established in India before his arrival. He said Eisenhower's visit would make this friendship ever stronger, more durable and lasting.

"We are grateful to you and to your country for this visit," Nehru declared, his voice filled with emotion.

Eisenhower responded with a pledge that American leaders will stand beside India's leaders in the quest for world peace.

"The Lord willing, that quest will be successful," Eisenhower said. "All of us know the only alternative to global war is peace. Let us pray that even this little step forward may have some useful purpose in furthering this great cause."

Eisenhower came to India, fifth stop on his mission to three continents, from another tumultuous reception in the mountain kingdome of Afghanistan. Crowds estimated at half a million so delayed his progress in Kabul that he was half an hour late reaching New Delhi.

UF Drive At 70 Per Cent

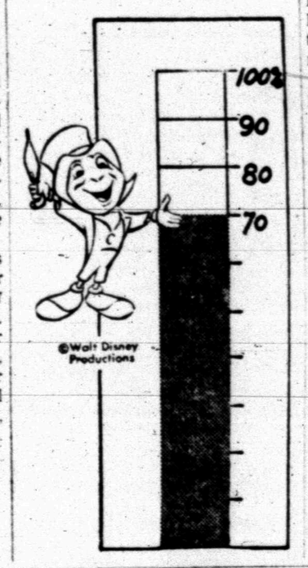

The last division to kickoff in the Scurry County United Fund campaign was the first to reach its goal as reports by workers of General Gifts attained 105 per cent of their quota at the Third All-Division Report Meeting in the Village Restaurant yesterday. Workers of this division had as their prospects the smaller business firms and individual contributors.

A total of $29,345.31 has now been turned in by all divisions, making 69 per cent of the campaign goal of $42,500. Commenting on the results so far, Dr. Bob Hargrove, Campaign Chairman said: "Our big trouble and we regret it, is that several potential gifts on which we had counted so heavily have been a great disappointment. It's too bad because the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Heart Association, Red Cross and others will be the only ones who really suffer."

The report by divisions was as follows: Advance Gifts, Roger Mize chairman, $18,200.50 or 77 per cent of quota; Employe Gifts, Bill Brown chairman, $6,506.41 or 50 per cent of quota; Special Gifts, Clyde Hall chairman, $3,002.00 or 70 per cent of quota and General Gifts, Joe Williamson chairman, $1579.40 or 105 per cent of quota.

Gifts from the Area (farms and small communities) have been very few and only $37 has been reported to date, according to Aubrey Headstream, chairman. Prospects of this division are so widely scattered throughout the county that it is difficult to find enough volunteer workers to solicit them. Under the circumstances county residents and businesses are urged to send in their contributions direct to the Scurry County United Fund, 1907 Twenty-fifth Street, Snyder or to Aubrey Headstream,

Daniel Undecided On Special Session, Own Political Plans

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel says he hasn't made up his mind about a special legislative session and he isn't ready to announce his political intentions for 1960.

That's what the governor told reporters Tuesday in his first press conference since August.

Daniel said he thinks it will be impossible to have a special session on proposed teachers' pay raises and increased school costs before Feb. 1.

"I plan to call a special session if there is a reasonable possibility of this program succeeding," Daniel said.

He noted that the Feb. 1 date was favored by most legislators because of the early deadline this year in filing for political races. Some fear their votes and actions in a special session before Feb. 1 might attract political opponents.

Daniel said he is "disappointed" in a recent gubernatorial poll in which he asked legislators (1) their leanings on the teachers' pay and school improvements and (2) how they felt about a special session.

Twenty senators favored consideration of the teachers and school issues but six of these conditioned their answers on the type of taxes that might be required. Nine senators favor a special session, two were against and 14 "non-committal," the governor said.

Seventy-seven House members favored debate on the issues but 33 of these had "reservations" either on phases of the program or on types of taxes to be required. Forty-seven said they want a special session, 24 were against, and 20 "non committal."

"This indicates that before any decision is made we need to have more replies from the House," Daniel said.

The first phase of the Hale-Aikin school study program recommended by Daniel calls for an immediate $405 a year raise in the base pay for teachers, plus extra money for experience and educational training. It sets out $60 a teacher for additional maintenance and operational costs of schools and $190 per school bus for increased transportation costs. Under the state's biennial appropriations system it will cost an estimated 64 million dollars.

Daniel repeated his plans to submit, for the fourth time, legislation that would seize abandoned and dormant accounts and deposits. He repeated his views that the state should levy an additional one cent on the gasoline tax.

20 Crewmen Feared Lost On Wrecked Norwegian Vessel

By DENNIS NEELD

LONDON (AP)—Winter gales in the North Sea overturned a Norwegian freighter today and little hope was held for any of her 20 crewmen. The storm, raging for the fifth day in the Atlantic and along the coasts of Europe, has taken a toll of 108, dead or missing.

The 1,719-ton Elfrida was found floating bottom up off the southern coast of Norway after she radioed for help. Her last call for help said the crew was taking to lifeboats.

The Oslo motorship Buffalo found two overturned lifeboats and six bodies. The Norwegian liner Oslofjord found a lifecraft but with no one aboard. Amateur radio operators said they heard another ship reporting 10 bodies found.

The Norwegian Air-Sea Rescue Service said, however, it had three planes still searching for another lifeboat.

Off the Scottish coast, seven crew members of the North Carr lightship were rescued by Royal Air Force helicopters.

An entire lifeboat crew of eight drowned Monday night in an effort to reach the drifting lightship, and a tug and lighthouse tender were unable to take her in tow.

Norway's radio frequencies were jammed with distress calls and rescue operations from all over the North Sea.

The wreck of the little German freighter Merkur, 995 tons, was found 100 miles off the rugged Norwegian coast not far from where the Eltrida turned over. The Swedish ship Vasaholm and a British trawler reported there was no sign of the Merkur's seven man crew.

The 700-ton Norwegian freighter Grete Solheim, with nine men on her, also was overdue at Aalesund, Norway, and was presumed lost.

The Norwegian salvage ship Slavator was standing by the German freighter Escherhem about 100 miles off Stavanger. The Escherhem reported she had lost her rudder.

The Norwegian trawler Ertnan of Kristiansund, with 14 men aboard, reported she was in trouble off Lerwick, in the Shetlands, after drifting for four days.

The Isle of Oland was cut off from the Swedish mainland by a blizzard and food was reported running low.

Firing Squad Has No Work In Cuba

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP)—There was no work for the firing squad today in Cuba following completion of the first two trials since Fidel Castro's revival of military justice for his enemies.

Military tribunals rejected prosecution demands of death for two Americans Tuesday and sentenced them to 30 years in prison. Another American was sentenced to 25 years. The tribunals also sentenced 18 Cubans to prison and acquitted 19.

In Pinar del Rio, Frank Austen Young, 38, of Miami, Fla., got 30 years for allegedly leading an anti-Castro band in western Cuba.

Young, who has a wife and three children in Miami, said he would rather be shot than serve the full sentence. But he added: "I don't think I am going to spend much time in prison because the Castro regime is going to last only about another 30 weeks."

Peter John Lambeton, 24, British-born American of Nassau, got 25 years on charges of participating in the activities of Young's group. He told the court he was there only to take pictures.

In Havana, a Cuban-born American from Miami, Rafael del Pino, 33, was sentenced to 30 years on charges of flying anti-government Cubans out of the country. He is still stretcher-bound from injuries received when he landed his light plane on a highway last July and was ambushed by Castro forces.

The death sentence also was asked for him.

The Pinar del Rio court spared the life of Fernando Pruna Bertot, 24, a Cuban who once attended Columbia University. He was given 30 years.

The tribunals weighed their decision for almost a week, a far cry from the 8 minutes taken last April to sentence to death Alan Robery Nye of Whiting, Ind. Nye was later deported.

There were no indications the Americans sentenced Tuesday would get the same release. But lawyers for all three planned to ask the supreme military tribunal for a review. The tribunal could increase the sentences or even give the death penalty.

Patrolman Commended By Garrison

A Texas Highway Patrolman formerly stationed in Snyder has been commended by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety, after the patrolman was credited with saving four lives in a South Texas traffic crash.

Dyson came upon the scene of a three-car collision second after it occurred. One of the cars was ablaze, and all of its occupants were unconscious.

Dysoff got them out of the car and hastily summoned additional help and ambulances.

An ambulance driver said he had never seen more efficient work at the scene of an accident.

"The highway patrolmen cannot be praised enough," he said.

Dyson was assigned here as a Highway Patrolman until several months ago when he transferred to the Houston area.

The mishap which led to the commendation occurred near Beaumont early this month.

Bill Brown, Employe Gifts chairman, in commenting on the results in his division to date said: "I am surprised that so many firms have not yet turned in their reports. We had our kickoff on Nov. 17 and it has now been four full weeks. That should be ample time for calling brief meetings and giving employes an opportunity to make their gifts in support of our youth, welfare and health agencies which mean so much to them as well as everybody else in Scurry county. I am taking steps to have my division leaders personally contact each firm from whom we have not had a report. I sincerely believe that the majority of those firms will give us the support that we so urgently need."

Mel Gilbert, United Fund president, pointed out that there were almost 500 cards still unreported after the meeting of Dec. 3. "Division chairmen should keep after their group and section chairmen and team captains until every card has been reported. All you have to do is look at those card progress reports that the campaign office puts out after every report meeting. At a glance you can see who has cards still unreported, and how many. Despite disappointment, we are going to finish this job and do the very best we can."

Joe Williamson, General Gifts, said: "Just because we have made our quota doesn't mean that we are letting down. I realize that we are going to have to help make up the lost ground in other quarters and we are going to do our best. I sure want to thank the fellows in my division who have worked hard to do a good job in relatively little time."

In closing the report meeting, Dr. Hargrove announced that there will be an all-division report meeting Thursday at 10 a.m. in Village Restaurant and this is the final scheduled report meeting.

A meeting of the Executive Committee, composed of campaign leaders, was held immediately following the report meeting.

2 Modernization Ideas Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reportedly is milling over two ideals for modernizing the top-level executive organization of the government.

They are:

Creation of a first secretary of the government, a sort of super-secretary, who would outrank Cabinet members and the vice president and who would take over much foreign policy detail now handled personally by a president.

A "business manager," who would rank at Cabinet level and who would coordinate many domestic programs now involving a number of agencies and departments.

The President has been thinking along these lines for several years. White House associates say, but his ideas are still rather vague, not yet in a concrete form for submission to Congress.

Eisenhower has spoken publicly of his thoughts from time to time. He has made it clear that any reorganization of the executive would be one of his final acts, so that no one would think he was trying to benefit himself. If such proposals are actually presented, then, it probably would be done some time next year.

The supersecretary idea got a cold reception on Capitol Hill.

Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said Eisenhower has not discussed the idea with congressional leaders. But he added that any proposal to place another official above the Cabinet would bring "a long discussion in Congress of where that road might lead."

As outlined by White House sources, the supersecretary would be authorized to act for the president in many foreign matters and possibly even take over some of his travels.

He would be completely in the president's confidence and familiar with his thinking to such an extent that he could act in many cases without consulting the president.

Pat Ward Files Suit Third Time

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pat Ward, former New York call girl who was a key witness in the Mickey Jelke vice trial, has sued for divorce for the third time.

Her suit, filed Tuesday, charges her husband, Dr. Charles Sevarese, an osteopath, with extreme cruelty.

An agreement, also dated Tuesday, gives her their house in nearby West Hollywood, alimony and support for their 6-month-old son.

She is asking full custody of the child.

Farm Surplus Is Climbing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam's investment in farm surpluses is climbing toward 10 billion dollars.

A government report today showed the investment on Oct. 31 was $9,225,000,000 compared with $7,895,000,000 a year earlier.

Agriculture Department officials said that figures for Nov. 30, now compiled, will show an investment of in excess of 9½ billion dollars.

Wheat continued to lead the list with an outlay of $3,461,000,000. Corn was next at $2,363,000,000.

Government losses in carrying out farm price support operations for the July-October period totaled $350,544,000 compared with $259,320,000 last year.

Officials Of 2nd Drug Firm Called

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of a second major drug company were called by Senate investigators today for questioning about its pricing practices.

J. T. Connor, president of Merck & Co. of Rahway, N. J., was listed by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee as the day's principal witness.

The subcommittee is looking into the prices of drugs used in the treatment of arthritis. It is the first phase of a broad probe into whether prescription medicines are being overpriced by manufacturers.

Francis C. Brown, president of the Schering Corp., of Bloomfield, N. J., wound up two days of testimony Tuesday with a sharp challenge of subcommittee figures about his firm's price markups.

He said the subcommittee staff had used distorted figures in picturing the company as marking up prices of some of its medicines by as much as 7,079 per cent.

Testimony presented on the opening day of the hearings was "severly damaging and most unfair to the company," Brown said.

Brown cited as typical of the company's profits what he called a 12.3 per cent return on sales of prednisolone, an anti-arthritis drug.

In testimony Monday, John Blair, the subcommittee's chief economist, said the drug had been marked up 1,118 per cent over the cost of production.

Brown said Blair failed to take into account income taxes, royalties, selling, research and administrative expenses, and cash discounts to wholesalers.

On this basis, Brown said, Schering's cost for a bottle of 100 tablets is $12.30—not the $1.57 Blair testified. He said Schering receives $14.03 wholesale for a return of 12.3 per cent.

"These figures represent the average or typical situation," Brown said. "There will be some products, consequently, with lower and some with higher costs or profit results."

He said he considered a return of 12.3 per cent on sales to be reasonable "considering the unusual risks involved in this business."

Alpine Switzerland, with an area of only 15,900 square miles, has 125 winter resorts, 900 licensed ski instructors and about 7,000 hotels.

Don't use elastic bands (unfortunately sometimes recommended!) for holding down improvised covers on steamed pudding containers; the elastic will probably snap during the long cooking. Better tie the paper or foil cover tight with string!

Quick Scalloped Potatoes-Ham

INGREDIENTS: 1¼ cups packaged sliced potatoes, 2 cups water, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 to 1½ cups cooked diced ham (about ¾-inch pieces), 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 1½ tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, white pepper, 1 cup liquefied nonfat dry milk, ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese.

METHOD: Prepare the potatoes according he package directions using the water and ½ teaspoon salt; drain. Place in a buttered deep 8-inch pie plate with ham. Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat; stir in flour, salt and a dash of pepper. Add the liquefied nonfat dry milk. Cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly; pour over potatoes and ham. Sprinkle cheese over the top. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 15 minutes; brown top under broiler. Makes 3 servings.

GOOD ADVICE

Coat small new cooked potatoes in parsley butter. A couple of tablespoons of minced parsley added to a quarter cup of melted butter will do the trick with a pound and a half of potatoes.

Mandarin Grapefruit

INGREDIENTS: 2 medium or large grapefruit, 2 medium or large oranges, ½ cup diced drained syrup-preserved mixed fruit (Chinese style), 1 tablespoons of the fruit syrup or sugar to taste, 4 glace cherries.

METHOD: Halve grapefruit; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Remove sections and any juice to bowl. Cut out membrane (with kitchen scissors) from grapefruit shells and discard. Notch edges of grapefruit shells with scissors; make notches about 1 inch apart. Drain juice from grapefruit; mix segments with diced preserved mixed fruit; add fruit syrup or syrup or sugar to taste. Spoon into grapefruit shells. Pare oranges so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Arrange orange sections over fruit in shells to give pretty topping. Garnish with cherries. Drink the grapefruit juice since it is not used in shells!

Johnson, Rayburn Appear To Be Calling The Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—This week in New York Adlai E. Stevenson went looking for a Democratic luncheon at the wrong hotel. He went out to a cab, explained his dilemma to the driver, and asked to be taken to the right one.

Then, Stevenson reported, the driver asked him: "Don't you Democrats know where the hell you're going? The answer to this might be yes or no, depending on where you sit or which Democrat you are.

Just a few days ago the Democratic Advisory Council, made up of Stevenson and some other top Democrats, put out a 10,000-word, 22-point program which the council says the country needs.

This was such a big bundle of ideas it would seem to show the party knows where it's going although, while some points were specific, others looked more like a collection of nice thoughts than a blueprint for action.

But this program was similar to one which the same council put out about this time last year, shortly after the Democrats won overwhelming control of Congress in the 1958 elections.

The leaders of the Democrats in Congress, both Texans, are Lyndon Johnson in the Senate and Sam Rayburn in the House. Neither man wants any part of sitting in on the council.

But the council in its 1958 manifesto said hopefully: "The Democratic victory in the congressional elections this autumn provides our party with great opportunities and responsibilities."

It went on to say it was enumerating the elements of a program it hoped would be adopted during the next two years. But the Democratic-run Congress did a pretty skimpy job of carrying out the program in 1959.

The council recommended big and broad changes in the social security program. Congress didn't make any.

The council recommended new steps in the civil rights field. Congress didn't tackle civil rights bills.

The 1958 document said government spending must be considered wisely but that "it is elementary that a growing nation needs larger public as well as larger private expenditures."

President Eisenhower, wanting to keep expenses down, constantly hit the Democrats on the head with the charge they were spendthrifts. But before the 1959 session on Congress ended Sen. Johnson was proudly saying that the White House consistently had asked for more spending than the Democratic-run Congress allowed.

So this raises once again a question asked many times before: Who is calling the shots for the Democratic party between presidential elections — the Advisory Council or the Democratic leaders in Congress?

The answer, in view of the record, seems to be Johnson and Rayburn.

Although Johnson is being mentioned as a Democratic presidential possibility in 1960, and although all the other would-be Democratic candidates were in New York this week for the party's get-together, Johnson stayed away.

Johnson and Rayburn in 1959 seemed more under Eisenhower's thumb than under the influence of the party big-wigs on the council. They didn't satisfy all congressional Democrats in 1959, but there wasn't any big revolt against them, either.

So it might be concluded that the Democrats in Congress are just as conservative as the Eisenhower administration. To put it another way: the Democratic Council talks a far more liberal line than the Democratic-run Congress followed.

Soda Jerk Always Had A Following

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—They can talk about their football heroes now.

Next spring they'll be talking about new baseball heroes. Football fellows will be forgotten.

But the fellow who had the firmest grip on the local situation in the old days was the soda jerker in the town's coolest hot spot. He had a following, as any hero does, and a technique, as any hero must.

He also had a language that set him apart. It was largely a language of grunts, waved hands, shrugs, squinted eyes and "what'll you have?"

If he didn't like a fellow, he would put one less dollop of ice cream in his malted milk.

He didn't serve breakfast, he didn't serve lunch, and he didn't serve dinner.

All he served was a miracle of ice cream, syrup and romance.

He had other duties when the wire-backed chairs held no couple sucking mutual desperation through separate straws. He had to sell perfumes, tobacco, candy and bile cures, and call the druggist on family concerns.

He had his own pleasures, too. He could dip into all the flavors of ice cream.

He wandered into the back part of the drugstore and knew all the wonderful long-ago smells near to the nose and distant to the mind.

There was a behind-the-scenes pungency to a drugstore then which few of the antiseptic drugstores of today retain. The old drugstore had drawers to pull out, patent medicine to sell.

Soda jerkers in those days also had to bring up things from the basement. The underground area of a drugstore at that time differed only from the sales area above by an odor of moldy neglect and the carelessness in which the stock was piled.

When you go into a modern drugstore today the man who serves you at the fountain is a technician in a new field of performance. He rules an empire for a tip.

The old-fashioned soda squirt had an empire without a tip.

Tournament Slate Filled

Stamford will enter a team after all in the Sixth Annual Canyon Reef Basketball Tournament and the eighth spot has been filled by the Snyder B team, Coach J. P. Ward announced this morning.

Stamford, an entry originally, had pulled out because its football team still is in the state playoffs. However, Stamford coaches advised Ward yesterday that they would try to field a tournament team regardless.

Tom S. Lubbock, a former champion, looms as the tournament favorite, with the Dumas team regarded as a dark horse.

Lubbock won the tournament here in 1955. If the Westerners should win again they would become the first team ever to win the event twice.

Midland won the opening tournament in 1954, while Snyder won it in 1956, Tulia in 1957 and Borger in 1958.

Tournament play will begin at 9:30 a.m. Friday with the Snyder B team meeting Childress. Snyder A team will meet Stamford at 11 a.m., while Tom S. Lubbock will play Graham at 2 p.m. and Dumas will play Lakeview at 3:30 p.m.

Friday night slate will find the losers of the first two games tangling at 7 p.m. in consolation play, while the winners of the first two games will play at 8:30 p.m.

The Saturday schedule will begin at 9:30 a.m. when the losers of the second two opening games will meet. The winners of the second two games will meet at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Consolation finals are set for 6 p.m. Saturday, and the playoff for third place will be staged at 7:30 p.m. and the championship game at 9 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded the first, second and third place teams and to the consolation winner.

Admission prices will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children at each tourney session.

Sonny Liston Is Favored

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hard-hitting Sonny Liston, who wants a crack at the heavyweight title, is favored to score his 19th straight victory tonight in a 10-rounder with Willie Besmanoff.

The 27-year-old Liston, of Philadelphia, ranks third among the heavyweight contenders. A 5-1 favorite to whip the German-born Besmanoff, Liston has lost only once in 26 fights. He has knocked out 16 opponents.

Besmanoff, who fights out of Milwaukee, has been knocked out only once, in the first of 64 fights. He has won 41, lost 16 and had seven draws, with 15 of his victories ending in knockouts.

Liston in his last outing Aug. 12 stopped Nine Valdes in three rounds.

Besmanoff, 27, dropped a unanimous decision in a dull bout with Eddie Machen on Sept. 16.

Tonight's fight is the feature event of the 34th annual Cleveland News Toyshop Fund boxing show. It will be televised nationally (ABC, 10 p.m.) with the Cleveland area blacked out.

National Golf Day in 1959 realized more than $90,000 which eventually will be turned over to charities and worthwhile golf projects.

Garney Henley of Huron College scored 141 points during the 1959 football season. In four years at the South Dakota school he tallied 394 points.

Tigers Rapped By San Angelo, 84-34

SAN ANGELO—San Angelo's red hot Bobcats scorched the nets with 55 per cent of the shots from the field to bounce the Snyder Tigers, 84-34, here Tuesday night.

The Bobcats administered their decision after the San Angelo B team had won over the Snyder B team 47-38.

The Bobcats distributed their scoring among an even dozen players, with Bud Ewing's 14 points good enough for high scoring honors.

Charles Gladson was Snyder's top scorer with 10 points.

The taller and more experienced Bobcats controlled the boards virtually all evening. Snyder was able to get only 15 rebounds during the game.

However, Coach J. P. Ward of the Tigers said he was more disappointed over his team's shooting percentage. The Snyderites hit only 10 of 42 shots from the field for 24 per cent, compared to San Angelo's 27 of 49 for 55 per cent.

Larry Smith and Jimmy McFarland were leading scorers for the Snyder B team in its losing efforts, with 8 points each.

Last night's action will be the last for local teams until they get into Canyon Reef Tournament play here Friday.

Topics Set For Winter SWC Meet

DALLAS (AP) — Officials of schools in the Southwest Conference will begin arriving Thursday for their winter meeting. Limiting athletic scholarships and setting up specific penalties for rules violations are the major topics.

The athletic directors and football coaches will hold the first meeting at noon. They will draft recommendations to the faculty committee, governing body of the conference. One is expected to be that night football games start at 7:30 o'clock instead of 8. This is to aid the fans and students in getting home earlier and to help in newspaper coverage.

The athletic directors, business managers and all coaches will meet at 9 a.m. Friday with the faculty committee opening its session Friday at 2 p.m. The faculty committee won't wind up its meeting until Saturday.

A committee studying the feasibility of limiting athletic scholarships primarily as an economic measure will make its report. The committee last spring decided to pass the situation at that time on to the athletic directors, charging them with keeping scholarships at a reasonable figure.

A list of graduated penalties was recommended at the spring meeting and whether they will be adopted will be decided here. These penalties call for everything from reprimand to expulsion.

Changing the spring football training period from 18 to 20 days to conform to NCAA rules, a division of basketball receipts instead of the home team keeping all and a new way to select the NCAA representative in basketball if there is a 3-way tie for the championship are other matters due to come. In the past such a tie has been decided by two of the teams playing and the winner meeting the third.

The 1960 Raven National sailboat races will be held at Marblehead, Mass.

Bears, Mountaineers Looking Strong Again

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

At the moment, it looks like a repeat performance isn't too much to expect from California and West Virginia in major college basketball. But it's already a long, cold winter of rebuilding for one-time power North Carolina State.

California, defending NCAA champion, ran its winning streak to 18 games mith a 65-40 breeze against winless San Francisco Tuesday night. It was the Bears' second victory of the season. West Virginia, beaten by one point by California in the NCAA title game, made it four-out-of-four for the season and 53 consecutive Southern Conference victories with an 84-62 decision over Richmond.

But NC State, which lost only four games last season and finished sixth in the final Associated Press poll, was a loser for the second time in three starts, beaten 71-70 by South Carolina on Ronnie Johnson's basket with 3 seconds left.

South Carolina, now 2-1 under new coach Bob Stevens, was behind 45-37 at the half. Sophomore Art Whisnant led scoring with 23 points for South Carolina.

California never was in trouble against San Francisco and had a 14-point advantage at intermission. Darrall Imhoff led the Bears with 16 points.

All-America Jerry West was at it again for West Virginia, scoring 28 points and picking off 16 rebounds. The Mountaineers, slowed a bit by Richmond's zone defense, had their worst shooting night of the season—hitting at a mere .424 clip.

George Washington whipped Virginia Military 90-77 in another Southern Conference game, exploding a 12-point halftime edge into a 25 bulge when VMI failed to hit a field goal in the first 6½ minutes of the second half.

Villa Madonna upset Niagara, regarded highly in the East, 77-73 on a three-point play by Jim Stewart in the closing minutes.

Unbeaten Wichita defeated Abilene Christian 91-66 with a full court press in the second half led by Larry Van Eman, who stole nine passes and was in on seven other steals. Marquette was erratic, but beat Valparaiso 75-58 with Junior son Kojus scoring 20 points. Southern Methodist defeated Oklahoma City 67-56.

Georgia Tech (4-0) beat Alabama 69-53 in a non-Southeastern conference game; Memphis State, whose NCAA probation period ends Jan. 6, whipped Texas Wesleyan 107-48, and Bradley defeated little Monmouth 86-61 as soph scoring ace Chet Walker counted 33 points.

Control tactics and 19 points from Homer Watkins gave Idaho State a 74-58 victory over South Dakota. Jim Darrow, a 5-11 play maker, scored 32 points in Bowling Green's 80-71 victory over Canisius. Syracuse rallied in the closing minutes to hand Cornell its first loss, 68-66. Wesleyan almost blew a 16-point lead, but beat Harvard 77-71. Navy beat Baltimore 90-74, the middies' highest total in 25 games.

In other games Washington State beat Idaho 59-55 and Seattle walloped Hawaii 102-68.

Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox stole 56 bases in 69 attempts in 1959. He was thrown out twice at third base and once at home plate.

Cannon Is Eager For Pro Career

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Cannon, the hottest piece of football property to come off the college grid this fall, says he isn't shaky about the big step into the professional game.

"I watch the pros every week on television—sometimes get two games a week," the speedy Louisiana State halfback said today. "They're a good deal bigger and a step faster, but they play the same game.

"I know it will be tough at first. But we'll have big guys on our side too. I'm anxious to try my hand at it."

Drafted by the Los Angeles rams, Cannon said he expected to sign sometime after the Hula Bowl game in Honolulu Jan. 10. He also renews a feud with Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans Jan. 1.

New honors came to the two-time All-America when he was named "Back of the Year" today in The Associated Press' post season poll. He won by a runaway margin in a vote of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Cannon previously had been voted the Heisman trophy, which he will receive here tonight at the Downtown Athletic Club.

The 23 - year - old thunderbolt from Baton Rouge, said his plans are to remain in professional football about five years—"at least until I get my dental degree and can start taking teeth out legally."

"Such plans depend on how well I do," he added. "Right now, I am very enthusiastic about pro ball."

More immediately, Cannon said, he is anxious to help score a repeat victory over Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl. LSU, the 1958 national champion, finished third in The Associated Press poll behind Syracuse and Mississippi.

"Charley Flowers (Mississippi fullback) and I watched the Syracuse-UCLA game together on television," the Louisiana speedster said. "We were both pulling for Syracuse to lose, thinking it would help our own teams' ratings, but they looked mighty good.

"Syracuse has a bigger line than we have and uses a different type offense, but I think Mississippi's line is just as big and probably better. But Syracuse certainly has fine depth.

"Charley and I don't say LSU and Mississippi could beat them, but both of us would sure like to play them."

Of the LSU-Mississippi game in the Sugar Bowl-LSU won the regular season game 7-3 in the last minutes on Cannon's 89-yard punt return—Cannon said: "I think we were lucky to win the first time. I only hope we're as lucky again."

Forsan Nips Ira Teams

Forsan basketball teams swept a pair of games from Ira last night.

The Forsan boys team edged the Ira boys, 32-28, while the Forsan girls were triumphant in their game with the Ira girls, 29-24.

Twelve points proved enough for scoring honors in the boys game with three individuals hitting that figure. Eubank had 12 for Ira, and Birdwell and Asfurd of Forsan each scored 12.

Lena Farmer of Ira was top scorer in the girls game with 20 points. Jan Stockton was high for Forsan with 12.

Foot Back In Football During '39

By The Associated Press

The foot returned to college football on a pronounced scale during the past season.

Encouraged by the widened cross-bar (from 16 feet, 6 inches) to 23-4, the nation's major colleges made twice as many field goals as ever before. And the conversion kicking percentage was the highest of all-time.

Punting also was the best ever.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which delves into such matters, came up with these findings today.

On an individual scale, honors went to Karl Holzwarth of Wisconsin, who set a modern record by kicking seven field goals; Bob Khayat of Mississippi, who scored 40 points on placements; John Hadl of Kansas, who averaged 45.58 yards on 43 punts, and Gary Dunn, who led Brigham Young to the team punting crown.

All but 14 of the 110 major teams tried one or more field goals for a total of 380 attempts. Eighty-two colleges contributed to the record 192 field goals kicked.

Field goals proved the decisive factor in 23 games, with three of these by a single man, Nick Patella of Wake Forest, whose boots beat Florida State, Maryland and North Carolina State.

Holzwarth's seven field goals in eight attempts beat the record of six shared by Ken Cook of San Jose State (1939), Bob Hainlen of Colorado State (1948) and Paige Cothren of Mississippi (twice, 1955 and 1956).

Vince Scott, Maryland end, kicked three in one game, the opener against West Virginia. The longest was a 53-yarder by Roger McClure of Virginia against Virginia Military.

Four punters averaged 45 yards or better on 20 or more punts. Hadl's average of 45.58 barely beat Dainard Paulson of Oregon State, 45.56. Lamont Miller of Utah State, whose team plays Hawaii Friday, has 45.4 and Joe Zuger of Arizona State, 45.0.

Branch Rickey's Squabble May TerminateIn Courts

By JOE REICHLER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Branch Rickey's four-month tug-o'-war with baseball's higher echelon for recognition and admission of his embattled Continental League into the major league circle may wind up in the courts, it was learned today.

William Shea, founder of the circuit, currently limited to six teams, has just about convinced Rickey the time has come to seek congressional aid in their bid to become a third major league. This was reliably reported to The Associated Press by a source closely connected with the embryo circuit.

Only a clear-cut stand on expansion by the American League—either yes or no—will deter the 78-year-old president of the Continental League from making this grave decision. The American League announced Monday that at the present time it had no plans to expand but that it had reached no definite decision on future expansion because of a number of problems which could not presently be resolved.

AL President Joe Cronin added that expansion was inevitable and instructed his fact-finding committee to continue its study.

"The American League decision is not satisfactory to us," the source said. "Cronin had promised us a yes-or-no answer. He hasn't lived up to that promise. Unless the American League tells us it will expand and makes its selection of cities, or declares emphatically and unequivocally that it has absolutely no intention of expanding, I'm afraid the only recourse is for us to go to the courts."

Cronin refused to comment on Rickey's assertion that he had offered to release any two cities the American League desired if it was sincere about expansion.

"There is no indication at this time," said Joe, "that the American League intends to expand in 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964 or 1965. I made it clear the AL will not delay the Continental League from going forward with the completion of its organization.

"It looks as though they have problems and are trying to blame them on us."

Cronin referred to the fact that the Continental League currently is comprised of only six members. Atlanta joined the founding five Tuesday. The original franchise holders were Toronto, Houston, Denver, Minneapolis-St. Paul and New York.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick also denied he was deterring the new league.

"When they get eight teams, I'll be behind them 100 per cent," he said. "I cannot subscribe to the theory that there is a road block. It's just impossible for anyone to say 'we are never going to expand.' I interpret the AL statement that it is not going to expand. To me it was perfectly clear that the AL gave the Continental League the go-ahead sign.

"It seems to me that instead of trying to hang the hat on somebody else, the time has come for the Continental League to act and not alibi."

Space Monkey Is Happy To Return

By DAVE CHEAVENS

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Sam, the motherless space monkey, nonchalantly rode 55 miles into the sky munching an apple and registering rocket reactions on a battery of instruments.

Before he finished the 24 hour stint last week sealed in a container, Sam was tired and just a little jittery, but the whiz into space at speeds up to 3,600 miles an hour left no ill effects.

Sam soon got his nerves under control and he is back in his original cage home at his birthplace in Austin, happy with his brothers and other monkeys.

Those details of the little monkey's fling into space were disclosed Tuesday by scientists, engineers and technicians at the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks AFB.

They emphasized that one of the flight's primary objectives was achieved when it demonstrated that the container in which Sam was flung outward from the earth worked well.

They are studying medical data gathered from the instruments attached to Sam's small frame to get his heartbeat, temperature, blood pressure and other reactions while in flight. They are not ready to say what the instruments will show or what it will mean in terms applied to man-flight.

Sam had a joyful reunion with his brother and understudy, monkey 13-X, at Langley AFB, Va., after his successful fling.

They hugged each other and danced showing plain signs of affection and recollection, said Capt. Donald Gisler, a veterinarian who was there.

"They were obviously glad to see each other," he said.

Dr. Wade Brown took Sam, 13-X and two other well-trained monkeys to Wallops Island, Va., where the Little Joe rocket carrying the mercury capsule and the monkey was shot into space. Each was ready to go, but the scientists felt Sam was the No. 1 boy in the class of four.

Sam was fished from the sea and returned to Langley before being sent back to Texas for further study.

Cohen Pal Confesses

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sam Frank Locigno, "constant companion" of ex-mobster Mickey Cohen, says he killed muscleman Jack Whalen a week ago in self-defense.

Locigno, alias Sam Lombardo, turned himself in to police Tuesday, accompanied by two lawyers and another of the missing guests at Cohen's dinner party the night of the slaying—Joseph De Carlo.

Locigno's confession to Police Chief William Parker came just as a witness reportedly told the county grand jury that a man sitting next to Cohen shot Whalen.

Locigno was booked on suspicion of murder.

De Carlo, ex-business manager for stripper Candy Barr now serving time on a narcotics conviction, gave his version of the shooting to newsmen.

"I was sitting at the table when a man came in. He hit George Piscitelle and then started around the table for Sam. He was using foul language. I heard two shots fired. I was watching the man and didn't see who fired them. When I hear (sic) shots, I run. That's what I did," De Carlo said.

Locigno, 39, has been arrested many times but convicted only twice—for speeding and vagrancy. Police say he habitually stays close to Cohen, former bookie and gambling kingpin who has been at the scene of numerous slayings.

Frank Bane Is Selected By Ike To Head New Commission

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man with a national knowledge of state governments will head a commission to consider common problems of federal, state and local governments.

He is Frank Bane of Washington and Chicago, 66, a widower who for 20 years was executive director of the Council of State Governments. The White House announced Tuesday President Eisenhower's selection of Bane to head the new 26-member commission.

Bane is a native of Smithfield, Va., home of the famous Smithfield hams. Governors introducing him at their annual gatherings made a point of that, he likes to recall.

It was in Virginia that Bane got started in state administration after studying at Randolph Macon College and Columbia University.

He was secretary of the Virginia State Board of Charities and Corrections and commissioner of public welfare for the state back in the 1920s. He also taught sociology and public administration at the University of Virginia.

After serving in Washington as executive director of the Social Security Administration, Bane became executive director of the Council of State Governments in 1938. He was in that post and the related one with the Governors' Conference until he retired in June 1958.

An amiable go-getter, he won a wide friendship among newsmen as well as the officials attending and covering the annual meetings of the governors.

Bane was asked today what stood out in his mind as important changes in state administration.

"The enormous expansion of state government as it took on more public services in the realms of education, highways, public welfare, mental and public health, and conservation development," he replied.

Bane also mentioned the great improvement in administration of state government with establishment of budget systems, consolidated purchasing agencies, and personnel and planning agencies.

Practically all of these are new in the last 25 years, Bane said.

In his new job Bane will head a commission including Cabinet officers, governors, mayors, senators, representatives and county officers. It will organize at the White House next Monday.

Its most important job will be to recommend the most desirable allocation of governmental functions, responsibilities, and revenues among the several levels of government.

Bane is one of three private citizens on the commission. He will receive $50 a day expenses — but no salary—while on the job.

Purse Snatcher Loses Battle

BALTIMORE (AP) — A purse snatcher came out second best Tuesday when he tried to get Helen McCarthy's money.

Miss McCarthy, 39, told police the man tried to grab her purse on the stairway of her apartment house. They struggled halfway up the stairs, lost their balance and crashed through the banister.

They fell eight feet to the floor, and Miss McCarthy landed on top, knocking the unidentified man unconscious. He was still groggy when police arrived several minutes later.

Miss McCarthy said her purse contained about $5.

Motherly Woman Champ Embezzler

DETROIT (AP)—Mary McCallum Averill, 58, sat silent and almost unconspicuous in the courtroom.

Then the gray-haired, motherly looking woman was arraigned in what the prosecutor's office described as "the largest embezzlement in Detroit history."

Hands shaking, the retired bookkeeper pleaded innocent and waived examination Tuesday on charges of embezzling $100,513 from a former employer. The firm has reported at least $876,168 missing since 1950.

Mrs. Averill was ordered bound over for Circuit Court trial by Recorders Judge Joseph A. Gillis and released on $1,000 bond.

Wife of a former Detroit police sergeant, Mrs. Averill retired in 1957 from her $20,000-a-year position as head bookkeeper of Giffels & Vallet Inc., a Detroit architectural and engineering firm. She was with the company 29 years.

A company official went to authorities after Mrs. Averill retired and said something was wrong with the firm's books. Asst. Prosecutor William P. Long said auditors discovered at least $876,168 missing.

A warrant for Mrs. Averill's arrest was issued.

Mrs. Averill, living in retirement with her husband Glenn, 62, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was found to have acquired extensive real estate holdings.

Police say the Averills have a 300-acre farm in nearby MaComb County valued at $300,000. It includes four homes and a large manor house.

Other property listed includes three houses in Windsor, Ont., and a luxurious summer home in Northern Canada.

In Detroit, the couple lived in a swank apartment in a downtown hotel.

The embezzlement charge is the third in which Mrs. Averill has been involved. She pleaded guilty in 1928 to embezzling $6,000 from Pennsylvania Petroleum Corp. A charge of embezzling $412 the same year from L. C. Smith & Corona Typewriter Co. was dismissed on the prosecution's motion.

Demand For Water Eases Off Slightly

Production by the Colorado River Municipal Water District eased off slightly in November.

Cities showed about a two per cent gain, but repressuring demands declined sharply to pull the total down. For the year the CRMWD is running ahead of 1958 by about 11 per cent.

Water metered to customers during November amounted to 514,778,000 gallons, said O. H. Ivie, assistant manager - production. This was some 38 million less than the 553,334,000 in November of 1958. Most of the decline was in the SACROC repressuring unit.

Total sales for the year are 8,439,210,000 said Ivie, and it now appears that the district will not quite reach the nine billion gallon mark for 1959. Of the total amount of water sold this year, 6,106,514,000 gallons have gone to the member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder.

Sales to the cities in November (with 11 months figures in parenthesis) are: Odessa, 222,810,000 (3,507,028,000), Big Spring 127,955,000 (1,985,173,600), and Snyder (37,792,000 (614,313,000).

During November, SACROC took 127,908,000 gallons, the Sharon Ridge unit 40,572,000, and the Lion Oil unit 25,920,000 gallons. The other consumers, Texas Gulf Producing took 2,540,000 gallons.

New Bank Is Sought

TENAHA, Tex. (AP)—A citizens committee was named Tuesday night to try to form a new bank to replace the one that closed after a shortage of $340,000 was found last week.

More than 100 citizens of this small town pledged in excess of $90,000 in deposits and $50,000 in stock purchases when they met to lay groundwork for a new bank.

Clifford Gary, assistant cashier at the closed First State Bank, has been charged with making false entries. Officers said he admitted taking the money and sinking it into his failing construction firm.

The citizens committee will meet with State Banking Commissioner James Faulkner in Austin.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. will pay off losses of individual depositors up to $10,000. Jack Motley, president of the closed bank, said he and his father will pay off all claims not covered by the FDIC.

Harrison In Top Form For Play

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—British star Rex Harrison is in peak form for his new Broadway play, "The Fighting Cock."

The witty exercise in satiric high comedy bowed at the ANTA Theater Tuesday night, a standout boxoffice contender.

Abetting Harrison is a splendid supporting array, among them two established stalwarts, Arthur Treacher and Roddy McDowall; and a pair of winsome debutantes, Natasha Parry and Margo Anders.

"The Fighting Cock" is a Lucienne Hill adaptation from the French of Jean Anouilh, a dramatist noted for mordant charades of love and marriage.

This time the mood is brighter and the arena wider as the players debate a Shavian range of themes.

Harrison, whose last New York appearance was as the acerbic professor of "My Fair Lady," portrays a Gallic general pondering the maggoty condition of present-day human behavior.

Director Peter Brook stages the caper with a vigorous inventiveness amid the elegant drawing room and garden settings of Rolf Gerard.

The entire company of the Kermit Bloomgarden production moves with crisp intelligence in an atmosphere that blends the real and consciously artificial.

Miss Parry, an import from the London stage, interprets Harrison's too-young wife with gentle sincerity, and Miss Anders has an engaging interlude as the nubile symbol of the era that has passed the general by.

"The Fighting Cock" is something to crow about.

Water District's Budget Approved

The proposed budget of the Colorado River Municipal Water District has been approved in the amount of $1,972,621.

Directors advanced the budget more than a month ago and when there was no objection for bondholders, the outlay was approved automatically.

Of the total $1,913,421 is anticipated from prime (water) revenues and $59,200 from recreational resources.

Bulk of the budget is wrapped up in electric power and payroll costs. Power costs are estimated at $307,814 and total wages and salaries at $203,110, or $511,924 together out of a total $72,360 operating budget.

Broken down another way, expenditures are budgeted as follows: Source of supply expense, $103,616 pumping expense $448,014, administrative and general $105,380, recreational operations $46,050, capital expenditures $19,300.

It is estimated that $1,473,121 will come from the member cities (Odessa $934,372, Big Spring $418,689, and Snyder $120,060), $435,300 from oil companies for repressuring, $5,000 from rural users and $59,200 from lake recreation ($21,000 lease rentals, $31,000 recreational permits, $7,200 concession income).

The $1,250,261 difference between the operating expenses and anticipated income will be distributed as follows: $404,713 interest and $390,000 principal. This leaves $455,548 to be transferred to indentured funds, of which $151,849 will go to improvement and extension and $303,698 to retirement of the bonds maturing as a "balloon" on the end of the issue.

Last of the right-of-way for the new section of supplyline of the Colorado River Municipal Water District has been obtained.

E. V. Spence, general manager of CRMWD, said that crews of Mitchell Darby Construction Company are now laying the last miles of line across a cotton field.

Laying of the last of the 33 miles of line from Odessa to the Martin County pump station should be completed within a week, and by the end of the month the tie-ins at pump stations and installation of equipment at the Martin County and Bush (north of Midland) stations should be complete.

Pumps are on hand and the new leg of the system should be ready for use by spring. The new line will offer greater flexibility, Spence explained& for during next summer's peaking periods, well water can be delivered through the existing lines while water from Lake J. B. Thomas can be supplied through the other. Pumps now being installed will put about 10,000,000 gallons a day through the new line, about half the estimated capacity of the 33-inch line. The existing line between Odessa and the Martin County station is 27 inches and has a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons per day.

HERE TOMORROW NIGHT—Joan Blondell is cast in the starring role in William Inge's "Dark At The Top Of the Stairs" which will open the series of the Scurry Concert Assn. here Thursday night in the high school auditorium. The play gives a look into the lives of the Flood family and is filled with all of the emotions from sadness to light-hearted laughter. Although children will be admitted, the drama is not recommended for children, officials of the concert association have been advised. Local members have been reminded that Big Spring association members will be admitted during the last five minutes before curtain time, and Scurry Assn. members are urged to be in their seats as early as possible.

Girl Reporter Finds It Easy To Break In As A 'B-Girl'

(Editor's Note: Young newspaper reporters fresh out of college always yearn for a big assignment—but seldom get it. When Mary Burdelak, 22, joined the Gary Post-Tribune this fall, she found herself editing the paper's church page. But she soon got a new "beat." Her job: pose as a B-girl in some of Gary's toughest bars, and find out how borderline prostitutes operate. To spare Mary embarrassment and possible danger, the Post-Tribune did not use her picture, and a picture of her was not available to illustrate this story.)

By MARY BURDELAK
Written for The Associated Press

GARY, Ind. (AP)—From church page editor to prostitute — even make-believe prostitute—is a big step.

Just a few months ago I was studying journalism in a nice, safe classroom at Marquette University. I dreamed of thrilling assignments—and I became a church editor.

Then . . .

"Go just so far but no farther," my city editor told me when he handed out the B-girl assignment.

It helped a bit to know that a husky male reporter went along, not with me but close enough to help if things got rough.

I soon learned that practically any young woman could get a B-girl's job in Gary at the drop of a beer bottle. All she needs is a tight sweater, wild hairdo and lots of makeup.

I received two offers in the very first bar I entered, the first from a male customer who wanted me to work in another tavern. Then the bartender approached me:

"Get customers to buy drinks for themselves and you," he explained. "The money is good. Your drinks would be tea instead of alcohol."

He neglected to mention the rear door leading to an upstairs room. That's where the B-girl takes the next inevitable step into prostitution.

Figuring I had learned enough for a first lesson, I stalled off the bartender and made a quick exit.

Another contact saw I was nervous and tried to calm me with a "soft sell."

"Now, you don't have to worry in this place," he said soothingly. "There won't be any mickeys, nobody's going to paw you and you won't have trouble of any kind."

The "salesman" quickly outlined the deal—$25 a week salary and a 50 per cent cut on every drink I hustled.

He called over a barmaid in a bulging sweater to back up his story.

"Sue, how much did you make last Saturday?" he asked.

"One hundred and four bucks," Sue replied enthusiastically. "You can make good money, as long as you don't sit around all day like some of 'em."

A little simple figuring showed that even deducting the $25 salary and pricing cold tea at a dollar a shot it would take 258 drinks to make that kind of money in a single day. That's where the upstairs room came in.

My brief career as a make-believe prostitute ended abruptly when one drunk and rather insistent customer joined me in a tavern booth.

"Hey, I got a hundred dollars in my pocket, and I'll give you $15," he muttered.

When I pretended not to hear him, he put his hand on my arm and smirked, "Okay, $20 then."

Right then I decided I'd reached the "just so far but no farther" point mentioned by my city editor.

Now, I'm back on the church desk, listing Sunday sermon topics once more, but I'd think twice before taking another B-girl assignment.

There must be a happy medium!

Originator Of Quiz Show Quits

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis G. Cowan, who originated the now-discredited quiz show "The $64,000 Question," has resigned in anger as president of the Columbia Broadcasting System television network.

He charged Tuesday that Frank Stanton, president of the entire CBS operation, had forced him out—using health as an excuse—because of his early connection with the show, despite the fact that his personal integrity had not been questioned.

Stanton "made it impossible for me to continue," Cowan declared.

His letter of resignation accused Stanton of publicly and privately expressing confidence in his integrity while urging the resignation and asking him not to communicate with his office.

Cowan chared that Stanton refused to approve any resignation announcement except one giving poor health as the reason. Cowan refused to go along with this.

In reply to Cowan's statement, Stanton said: "It shocks me that you should attribute to me motives that have no basis in fact whatsoever."

Cowan was affiliated with the "Question" for its first seven weeks in 1955. Recent testimony before a congressional subcommittee disclosed that the show and other big-money quiz programs were manipulated to fix winners in advance.

Because of his illness Cowan did not appear as a witness but other testimony bore out his statement that the "Question" was honest during his association with it.

In another development stemming from the quiz show scandals the National Broadcasting Co. Tuesday ordered an end to a kickback operation practiced by the network.

NBC Vice President James A. Stabile outlawed taking kickbacks from performers willing to refund part of their union-scale fees in return for show spots with publicity value.

Who Are The Goodfellows?

Ed. Note—Who are the goodfellows? That is a question which may be asked by many local residents since the Goodfellows organization is new here. In the following article, Herman Trigg, Chairman of the Goodfellows here, explains purposes and objectives of the organization.)

A Goodfellow can be anyone who believes in extending a helping hand to a neighbor down on his luck. A Goodfellow is any person dedicated to the idea that charity begins at home. Probably the major, underlying objective characterizing the newly-formed organization called The Goodfellows of Scurry County is the desire to help coordinate the efforts of our local welfare-minded people, and groups of people, in providing toys, food, and clothing to the underprivileged families of our county, especially at Christmastime, and to eliminate duplication and confusion in the process.

We, The Goodfellows of Scurry County, are a year-round, non-profit, non-soliciting, non-quota, volunteer welfare group, receiving free-will offerings only, without any other welfare organization outside of Scurry County.

Regardless of how effective our new organization becomes, we do not want to take away from any group any welfare project they have conducted in the past or plan to do in the future—all we want is knowledge of which families are being helped to avoid duplication of effort.

However, we will be happy to furnish the footwork for any welfare group that might want to combine their services with ours. Please feel free to consult with us.

Any individual, or groups of individuals, such as women's clubs, civic clubs, Sunday School Classes, and others, who wish to help us in the preparation and distribution of these commodities should call the Goodfellows Headquarters, HI 3-6213, or come by our office in the old City Hall Building, so that we may list such services. This office will be open on week days from 9 to 12, and from 1-4.

To do our job adequately, we will need the names of families needing help, ages and sex of all children, addresses, and-or specific information as to where these families live, and the name of the referring person who may be called on, as a last resort, in locating these families. The only criterion in accepting these families for aid is that they need help. It is just as simple as that! We are depending on the public to furbish us with this information — please mail it to the Goodfellows, Box 681, Snyder, Texas.

We are the Goodfellows and this is what we stand for. Do you want to help? Any contribution of money, food, clothing, toys, or labor makes you a Goodfellow. You are welcome.

Couple Wed For 81 Years

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP)—Friday is the 81st wedding anniversary of Peter and Celestia Peterson who have been married longer than any other couple in the nation.

He's 99 years old, she'll be 99 the 28th of this month.

They credit their long and happy life to "plain living and the strong support of the Gospel."

The southern Utah couple took wedding vows Dec. 11, 1878, at the nearby St. George temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

They've lived all their lives in or near Fairview. He was a farmer until he was 82.

Seven of their 10 sons and daughters are still living.

Man Lands Plane In Briar Patch

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—"Cincinnati tower, emergency. Engine failure."

That message crackled over the radio channel at Greater Cincinnati Airport Tuesday night from a light plane approaching from Lexington, Ky. Then the tower operator saw the plane falter and fall behind trees.

An emergency crew found the pilot, Paul E. Hays, 30, a Florida executive, apologetically trying to thumb a ride.

Hays, of Jacksonville, was a little rumpled, scratched and cut, and decided to stay overnight at St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation.

Hays bellylanded his four-place plane in a briar patch. It was demolished, sliding 50 feet down a gulley and coming apart as it went.

But Hays just gathered up his suitcase, briefcase and two flight books and walked out to the nearest highway.

While he waited for a ride, Hays recorded one last entry in a flight book: "Out of gas."

Abilene Man Is Shot Down

HOUSTON (AP)—A 25-year-old man died Tuesday night in a gunbattle at a crowded drivein.

Dead was Richard Charles Blair of Abilene.

He was shot once by another man at the Buccaneer Drive-In.

Witnesses said a man ran up to Blair's car and without a word fired a pistol at him. Blair staggered from his car and fired a snub-nose .38 caliber revolver twice as the man fled.

Mrs. Blair, with her husband when he was shot, said the man who fired at her husband was a relative. She said family trouble was the cause of the fight.

Concrete Lions Reported Stolen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Somebody stole two concrete lions from contractor William Matteson's garage in Arcadia. They weigh 1,200 pounds each and are valued at $3,500.

A 500-pound safe, containing $3,180 in cash and $60 in stamps, disappeared through the back door of the Sanitary Plumbing Co. at Long Beach.

In a third case, police booked Allen Charles Shenette, 24, a transient from Texas, on suspicion of burglary. They said he took a 150-pound safe from the Rocket Messenger Services office. It contained $1.47.

Atlas Firing Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force fired its Atlas intercontinental range missile on another successful 5,500-mile test flight Tuesday night.

The 85-foot missile rumbled down the Atlantic missile range at 15,000 miles an hour and officials announced it dropped a dummy warhead on target off the South Atlantic island of Ascension.

It was the sixth straight successful test since the Atlas was declared operational last September. The missile has registered 13 successes and one partial success since July.

More Unemployed Than 9 Years Ago

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission says there are more persons unemployed in Texas now than nine years ago.

The annual fiscal report shows 152,900 unemployed in August of this year compared to 106,700 in August 1950. The ratio of unemployment to employment has increased from 3.6 per cent in 1950 to 4.2 per cent currently.

The total labor force now stands at 3,627,200 compared to 2,981,600 in 1950.

Farm employment has decreased from 505,900 to 470,700 in the nine years while nonfarm employment increased from 2,368,600 to 2,995,100.

The American expression "That's tough" is roughly the equivalent of the English expression "Oh, crumbs."

River Searched For Body Of 9-Year-Old

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Stephen Rukstalis, 49, died Tuesday.

On hearing about the death, his son, James, 9, said he was so sad he felt like throwing himself in the river.

Young James disappeared Tuesday afternoon. His tricycle was found near the river.

Firefighters dragged the river in vain for three hours Tuesday and resumed their efforts today.

No Change Noted In Williams' Condition

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Walter Williams, 117-year-old veteran of the Civil War, took a few liquids Tuesday but showed no change in his fight for life.

Williams, the last surviving veteran of the war, has been stricken with his fourth attack of pneumonia since last summer.

"He can't seem to swallow," said Willie Mae Bowles, his daughter, Tuesday night. "I've been trying for three nights and two days to get some food down him but he won't take it—just a little milk and water.

"If he doesn't improve any in the next 24 hours I don't think he will ever get any better."

Williams is under an oxygen tent with a temperature of about 101 degrees.
