PORTALES BOY TAKES FIRST STATE PRIZE

Hines Reynolds, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reynolds of Portales, won the first prize ribbon in the State Club Contest on Maize.

This is quite an honor for Hines, and will doubtless encourage him towards the better methods in farming, and by the time he reaches maturity he will be able to show his father how to do real farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Glover, who have been in California since selling their home at Floyd, have returned and are visiting Mrs. Glover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dillbeck of Pleasant Valley.

Mrs. Coe Howard, Mrs. A. D. Ribble and Mrs. J. C. Compton and son Benjamin Lee motored to Amarillo, Texas Tuesday to meet Mrs. Cline Caperton who came down on a visit.

Annual election of O. E. S. officers, Thursday Dec. 10, 1925, 7:30 p. m. All members requested to be present.

Mrs. Jas. P. Stone and Mrs. J. W. McMinn will entertain the Daughters of the Confederacy with a one o'clock luncheon on Dec. 1, at the home of Mrs. Stone.

Rev. Howard Rogers, pastor of the Christian church at Clovis with several members of his congregation attended services at the Christian church here Monday night. They said the sermon was worth coming from Clovis to hear. Why not you come just a block or two and hear for yourself.

MRS. DOUGHTON BAGS A 15-POINT BUCK

Friday Mr. and Mrs. Doughton returned from a hunt in the Black range, with two large black tail bucks strapped to the car.

Mrs. Doughton holds the record for bagging a 15 point buck and Doughton got a 12 point buck.

These two bucks were killed way back in the mountains and had to be carried 12 miles by mule back.

EDITOR FEASTS ON DEER MEAT

The faily of the News editor has feasted on deer meat for several days the past week. The first was a fine mess of deer stake, compliments of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Priddy. This was a portion of the outlaw buck bagged by Mr. Priddy, and it was fat and tender.

Saturday Chas. Maxwell feeling sorry for the editorial family brought a nice roast off of a 8-point buck which he bagged in the Rincon country south-east of Alamogordo. This buck dressed 200 pounds. Mr. Maxwell was accompanied on his hunt by his brother-in-law, Earl Nail, who also bagged a nice buck.

F. E. ALVORD GETS CACTUS BUCK

F. E. Alvord returned from the mountains Friday with a big buck with 12 points. By those familiar with the deer tribe it was pronounced a cactus deer, and attracted considerable attention.

J. C. COMPTON GOT ONE TOO

The News overlooked the fact that J. C. Compton bagged his buck early in the deer season and returned with it on Friday the 13th, which probably accounts for the fact that it was overlooked. Now this is the first deer that J. C. ever killed, and that fact alone may be responsible for the oversight as it is reported that he still has the buck ague and has about shook down the court house at Tucumcari.

HENRY LAGES

Henry Lages aged 80 years, died at the home of H. T. Cheek, north of Portales, on Saturday. Burial was Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Portales cemetery.

City Auditor Jones returned from Roswell Sunday evening. He had been down to get acquainted with his new 10 1-2 pound girl, who came last Thursday. The Jones live in Mrs. Rose McDowell's house.

Let Us Give Thanks!

"SOME HAD MEAT AND CANNOT EAT,
AND SOME WOULD EAT THAT WANT IT;
BUT WE HAD MEAT, AND WE CAN EAT
SAY LET THE LORD BE THANK IT!"

Thus wrote the illustrious poet, Robert Burns. And as another Thanksgiving Day draws night, we can't help but recall that simple verse of four lines. What a wonderful bit of Truth in it! The picture it paints befits us all—no matter what station in life we hold—no matter whether our home be a humble abode or a mirrored palace.

We HAVE much to be thankful for! Prosperity has wielded its magic wand o'er our great land. It has brought the light of happiness into every home. Perhaps, not as much in some as in others—but all, in some measure, have been benefited by its blessings.

Yes we know not what it is to come away from a table hungry and let's hope we never do. Nature has again blessed us with a bountiful harvest and our markets are flooded with the necessities that sustain life. We have but to ask and it is given us with plentiful hand.

Each day the sun seems to shine a little brighter for us. And through its beams we see no dark clouds on the horizon. Our future seems assured—yes looking more promising of Happiness and Success than ever.

So as we once again gather round the festive board on Thanksgiving Day—let's not forget to take the poet's advice and

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doughton entertained at their home on Tuesday evening with a 6 o'clock dinner. The table was beautiful in its decorations. In the center was a vase holding large yellow chrysanthemums, surrounding this were four yellow candle sticks with yellow candles. The nut cups were yellow mums. The favors were concealed in hazel nuts in yellow mums, and brought forth much merriment. The color scheme of red and gold was carried out in the menu as well as decorations. The butterfly alad and desert showing it especially well. While all the dinner was delicious the piece de resistance was roast venison, from the deer Mr. Doughton killed on his hunt last week. The guest were all in a jolly mood and spent a pleasant time. After the dinner they made a line party to see the Ten Commandments. The following guests were seated at the table:

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Greaves, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Isenberg, Mrs. Jno. W. Wright, Mrs. W. W. Jackson, R. Hardy, Jack Turner, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hancock, D. D. Tucker, Mrs. Jas. P. Stone, and the host and hostess.

MAIL YOUR CHRISTMAS PACKAGES EARLY

Under a new ruling of the post office department the post offices over the United States will not open at all on Christmas day, and mail coming in on the night trains of the 24th will not be distributed until the 26th.

Christmas parcels loose their value if not delivered before Christmas. The mails are already being crowded with holiday packages and a delay of several days over thirty days ago is being experienced in the transportation of this class of mail.

The postal clerks on the trains and at all post offices will be overworked for the next thirty days, and the public can do much to relieve the situation by cooperating with them by mailing out their Christmas cards and packages in plenty of time for them to be received before Christmas.

Miss Helen Lindsey, the accommodating post-mistress at this office, has assured the News that she will do all in her power to give service during the rush and try to get the mail delivered to its destination so that it will carry its full measure of Christmas cheer, but that this will be impossible unless the sender gives plenty of time considering the congested condition of the mails during the holiday season. It is better to begin mailing out early in the month, and having everything mailed out ten days before Christmas, than to wait until Christmas week, and have your package delayed and not delivered until the day after Christmas.

MUSICAL RECITAL

Mrs. Wade Freeman presented her pupils in music in a recital at the Methodist church last Thursday evening. The house was crowded and enjoyed the evening. The numbers were all well rendered and brought forth applause. The pupils were a credit to their teacher and showed both training and progress.

NARROW ESCAPE

On last Friday, D. H. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith had a very narrow escape. He was riding a bicycle when he was struck by a car. Fortunately he passed under the center of the car and was only shaken up a bit. The bicycle was a complete wreck.

A HANDY ARRANGEMENT

One of the handiest arrangements in town was the cutting down of the drive way in the C. & T. Service Station. Before this was done the drive-way was pretty steep and some of the timid drivers were afraid to take a chance. Now it is reported that Jack has fixed it so convenient that the cars run right in without any guidance on the part of the driver at all.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Minor Huffman, Boy Scout Executive, for Eastern New Mexico was in Portales last Friday and with the local scoutmasters made arrangements for a Court of Honor. The local Court of Honor is to be composed of Judge Mears, W. B. Oldham, E. N. Smith, Prof. Brown and Dr. N. I. Wollard. The Court will meet regularly once a month and will examine and award badges to the local Boy Scouts. The first meeting will be held Thursday evening Dec. 10th, likely in the Court House. Parents and friends of the Scouts will be invited to attend.

J. P. Adams returned Monday from a business trip to Lamesa, Texas.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA DIES AT SANDRINGHAM

Sandringham, England, Nov. 20 —England's "Fairy Queen" is dead. Stricken with heart disease yesterday morning, almost on the eve of her eighty-first birthday, Queen Mother Alexandra passed away at 5:25 o'clock this afternoon with her son, King George V, Queen Mary and sorrowing members of the royal family at her bedside.

Thus died the radiantly beautiful Danish princess who captivated England 62 years ago, when she came to be the bride of the then Prince of Wales, and who held the empire's love and reverence throughout three generations as the Princess of Wales, as Edward the VII's queen, and then as the Queen Mother.

Wales Is Absent.

There was a poignant note of tragedy in the final drama of Queen Alexandra's long life, for her favorite grandchild, the Prince of Wales was not among those at her deathbed. His special train, feeling its way through the fog, arrived at Sandringham a few minutes after the end came.

The heir to the throne never saw his grandmother alive after the visit he made to greet her just after his return from his African and South American tour. The grief-stricken prince accompanied by his brother, the Duke of York, went from the little station at Sandringham, where the station master broke the news to him, to the royal house of mourning, Sandringham house, which a heavy pall of fog had wrapped in a melancholy shroud.

Tonight the villagers of Sandringham and its adjoining hamlets and the country folks of the royal estate are lamenting the death of the womanly queen who endeared herself to her subjects in her adopted country in a measure unprecedented in English history.

LONE BANDIT ROB BANK

On last Saturday a lone bandit held up the cashier of the bank at Claude, Texas, looted him in the vault and robbed the bank of $5,000 in cash.

With the auto, it is not possible for the criminals to operate over a wide scope of country, and it is hard to catch them. The only remedy is for the courts to meet out sure and swift justice when they are caught.

RUN OVER BY WAGON

On last Saturday, Mr. Snelson of Redlake was on a load of maize when an auto ran into his team of mules, causing them to run away. Mr. Snelson was thrown from the wagon and the wagon ran over him bruising him up considerably.

He was brought to town for medical aid, and on examination no broken bones were found.

He remained in town for a few days for medical treatment until his injuries could be fully determined.

SENIORS STAGE WONDERFUL FIESTA

The Fiesta at the High School Building Friday night was a scream. Wait we are getting too fast. There was a play before the sideshows, that had real merit. It was "Polly Wants a Cracker," and it was well staged and well received.

After the play the crowd was invited into the gym where the Fiesta proper was staged—and had P. T. Barnum been there, the high school would have been minus one senior class—as they developed such expert showmen and showwomen that they would have had a permanent engagement with this great showman. There was freaks in the sideshow—and freaks in the audience. There was confetti, hot dog and hamburger vendors, and everything that goes with a first class Fiesta, and the seniors got the money. The funds will go towards the publication of the Yarn the coming spring.

(NUMBER 5306.)

Elida will observe Elida Day again Saturday. This is the second month this day has been observed and the Elida merchants are trying to make it a real event. The News is glad to see this progressive spirit. Elida is a good town and is a part of Roosevelt county, and her prosperity will be the prosperity of the entire county.

In the last issue the Portales Valley News again brought up the subject of a hospital for Roosevelt County. It has heard no response so far, but as sure as the wind blows in March, the day is coming when the people of this county are going to awaken to the importance of this move. Our taxes are high, yet there is more money spent each year for the lack of a hospital than it would take to support one. As to the method of securing one the News will not say. If it is a private one, or one by a corporation, the News will be satisfied, provided it is equipped to take care of the sufferers when it is needed. The News is confident that this need will be supplied before another thanksgiving passes.

People oftentimes are compelled to go away from home before they can appreciate the home advantages. That is the case in Portales today. Few people in the town are aware of the fact that Portales has an amusement house on a par with Amarillo, Albuquerque and other cities of many thousands. In the past two weeks, pictures which have been shown in Portales on the regular program, have later been shown in the best theatres of Amarillo and Albuquerque as feature pictures. Monday Mr. Cox, stated to the News representative that his audiences were increasing, and that he found that people in Portales and over the county were watching the paper for his programs. Mr. Cox is a splendid show man and he is giving Portales clean, high class shows.

The churches of Portales have inaugurated the sidewalk campaign and the property of the Baptist, Christian and Methodist churches are now supplied with nice sidewalks. It is rumored that the other churches will take up the move and build sidewalks. It would be a fine thing for every citizen in Portales who owns property to build sidewalks along the front of same. Mrs. H. L. Morrison has contacted to have a sidewalk laid along her property connecting with the Methodist church sidewalk. This walk is to be put down at once. Mrs. Morrison is one of the old settlers of Portales, and she has a wonderful community pride and spirit which is the sort that builds towns and cities. The only regret is that to build this sidewalk Mrs. Morrison will have to sacrifice a good part of her beautiful rose bed, which comes out on the sidewalk line.

On last Saturday night the writer had the pleasure of attending the program at the High School where the Vocational stock judging teams of the Clovis, Ft. Sumner, Floyd, Melrose, Elida and Portales were awarded the prizes in the livestock judging contest which was held in Portales on that day. On looking over the earnest faces of the lads composing these teams, one could but wonder what the farming future of this country would be. These young men are making an exhaustive study of farm and livestock, and the result will be better livestock and better farming methods than that which "dad" followed.

There is still considerable ridicule hurled at the white collar farmer, but in the past few years the white collar farmer with his trained assistants, which are the boys who have made a study of the farm problems in the high schools and in the colleges, have actually produced more products per acre than "dad" ever thought possible.

These lads are not only going to produce better crops and better livestock, but they are going to make farm life pleasant and attractive, so that when they lead the maid of their choice to their farm home, they will do so without fear of regret.

The farms are the cradle of the nation. There is where some of the greatest statesmen received their training. There is where the world food problem is solved.

But the present generation is no longer satisfied with the slipshod methods of past generations when land was of little value, and the soil was worked to death on one crop. Today the farmer with a vision farms to build up the soil. He farms to produce from one acre what his grandfather was satisfied to produce on three acres.

The vocational agriculture department in the high schools is one of the most important branches of education today. It is getting results, and these results have already been felt in Roosevelt county. These boys are good sports, and took the lecture of the instructor as to the reasons of the awarding of prizes in the true sportsman spirit, and as the result they will be better judges of livestock than they were before last Saturday. They will not be satisfied with producing anything but the best.

The Portales Valley News is proud of them. Portales is proud of them and Roosevelt County and New Mexico is proud of them.

NEW FILM PICTURES WESTERN ARMY LIFE

The social life of an army post in the West is faithfully depicted in "The Scarlet West," will be shown at the Cozy Theatre Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 30, and Dec. 1.

The period is that following the Civil War, when the various tribes of Indians infesting the Western plains rose in revolt against the encroachments of the white men seeking new homes. So aggressive did the redskins become that the government was compelled to send many regiments of soldiers into that territory to preserve order and prevent the extermination of the pioneers.

Forts were erected in many points, and in most cases the officers took their families to these isolated spots. There were no theatres to attend; no operas or other attractions such as the big city boasts, but nonetheless there were many social events that helped to make life more bearable. And there were social distinctions as clearly defined as in a metropolis.

And there was real romance too, as you will see by visiting the Cozy Theatre.

In the cast of this First National picture are such notable players as Clara Bow, Robert Frazer, Robert Edson, Johnny Walker, Walter McGrail, Gaston Glass, Helen Ferguson, Ruth Stonehouse, Martha Francis and Florence Crawford.

"The Scarlet West" was produced by Frank J. Carroll and directed by John Adolph.

LEASE HOLDERS TO MEET AT ROSWELL

Commissioner of Public Lands, E. B. Swope, is sending out notices to lease holders and all those interested in the leasing of oil lands, to the effect that a meeting will be held at Roswell, New Mexico, on December 7th, 1925, at 10:00 a. m. in the library of the Court House, for the purpose of discussing rules and regulations relative to the leasing of state lands for oil and gas purposes.

It is the intention of the Commissioner to secure all the information possible with reference to this matter with the idea in view of promulgating new rules or amending the present rules where it is felt that a valid objection can be made thereto.

The State Land Office feels that with oil and gas royalties now amounting to $24,000.00 per month, it is time a definite policy be set for the further development of the state. These oil and gas royalties are practically all derived from the Artesia field.

This is a Portales case.

You can verify it.

Joe Boren, says: "When my kidneys acted irregularly, the secretions were highly colored and there was a scalding sensation in passage. My back ached considerably, especially when I got up in the morning. During the day when I got in an unusual position, sharp stabs of pain went through me like a flash. Doan's Pills made my kidneys act normally and all the trouble with my back left at once."

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

(By National Editorial Asso.)

Washington, Nov. 25.—Aside from the usual interest in the forthcoming annual message of the President to the Congress, the official set here is awaiting the opening skirmish between the Vice President and 96 Senators. Though little attention is given this subject in the current news of the day, it is an absorbing topic for the drawing-rooms and clubs where the political folks gather. Underneath the veneer of polite conversation, one can detect a certain satisfaction on the part of senators of both parties at the prospects. They know that they are entrenched in a citadel of precedents and traditions while Mr. Dawes is outside in his self-assumed role of a crusader.

A certain high official who has a reputation as a wag has said that no Vice President ever had the attention that will be accorded the present incumbent. Mr. Dawes will find a reception committee of 96 more or less hostile Senators with chips on the shoulders. No evangelist ever had a more skeptical audience. Yet the most amusing feature of the situation is that the Vice President cannot reply to his critics, at least, not from the floor of the Senate. His powers and duties are prescribed and an individual Senator has the advantage of the presiding officer.

Dawes has been stumping the country in an attempt to enlist public opinion and force the Senators to revise the rules of the Senate. According to the stories current here and probably sponsored by incoming Senators, the Vice President drew large crowds principally by his personality and not because of his object. The average citizen knows little and cares less, they say, about parliamentary procedure. It is the results that interest them especially legislation affecting their groups, localities or pocket-books. The English in changing their legislative procedures admitted decades ago that 'reformation is a work of time.'

A test of the Administration strength in the Senate will be made about two weeks after the convening of Congress. At that time, an effort will be made to force a vote on the World Court protocol which Mr. Coolidge recommended last winter and will undoubtedly boost in his annual message. A count of the Senate has been made by Administration leaders but the data is uncertain. The re-organization of the Federal departments will also be pushed but there is a wide difference of opinion as to the transfers of the various bureaus.

The hand of Mr. Hoover was noted in the last public address of the President before the New York Chamber of Commerce. Practically all of the economic theories advocated by Hoover were included in last week's speech by Mr. Coolidge.

The question of electrification will be brought to the attention of the Congress in several ways. The Federal Trade Commission is now investigating the holdings of the financial interests in power companies. This inquiry is at the demand of Senator Norris whose original request was turned down by the Commission. The Muscle Shoals problem will be revived by the Southern industrial groups. It seems that Muscle Shoals is destined to be a football of politics rather than a real manufacturing center. The project will be used as an excuse for long-winded discussion on public ownership. As a result, the legislation which would dispose of the power plants now subsidized by Federal government funds will get nowhere this winter.

It appears likely that the aftermath of the Mitchell trial will be a close scrutiny into the appropriation for the military and naval establishment. The charges against the management of the Army and Navy which were aired with a lot of other soiled linen recently, have impressed Congressmen. One thing is certain the Mitchell case gave anybody with a grudge an opportunity to "cry their spites." This phrase, by the way, was applied to the testimony of Admiral Sims, retired, who was garrulous a few years ago that then Secretary of the Navy Denby publicly reprimanded him. Since that time, observers say, Sims has the leading critic of the Navy department. While sentiment favors a house-cleaning in the Navy and War departments where inefficiency and intense bureaucracy has been proven, few examine the motives that may have inspired the attacks made during this sensation trial. Curiously, folks are always willing to believe criticisms of their neighbors and not so quick to accept the boosts. The two departments are torn with feuds which seldom come to the surface in normal times.

The Committee on Committees of the House which has charge of the assignment of Congressmen to Committees have a real problem on their hands. They must consider all political aspects taking the question of geography, personal wishes, and relative ranks into the pictures at all times. There is always a struggle for jobs on the major committees, with the Appropriations Committee first and the Ways and Means a close second. It is necessary to poll the state delegations to ascertain their views of the delegates and then apportion the patronage. Certain jobs are at a premium. Politics is a great game.

Fifty women in Roosevelt county who have cooperated with the Extension Service, report a canning budget of 17,429 quarts of fruit vegetables and meat. These women are from 6 communities, but the Arch women are in the lead, these women have canned 5,093 quarts. The Floyd women are next with a total of 4118, quarts. An Arch woman, Mrs. Hamelin Hill also leads with the largest individual budget, which is over 1200 quarts. These women also report having cured 6,180 pounds of meat.

Twenty-one girls have completed canning club work, and have canned in all 1215 quarts, thus making a total of 18,644 in the county. A conservative estimate of the value of this supply of canned foods would be over $6,000. The prediction of hard winter need hold no fear for these families in Roosevelt county.

Surprise Party.

Last Saturday evening about 8 o'clock, Mrs. Rose McDowell had just returned from Clovis, and was cooking her evening meal when in came two of her friends. Upon ushering them into the living room she was almost over come upon seeing that the living room and dining room was full of friends. They had come to present her with a Worthy Matrons badge of O. E. S. Coe Howard made the presentation speech and Mrs. Mc-

Dowell finally came alive enough over the shock to respond. Later it was discovered there were refreshments had come from no one knew where. Mrs. McDowell has been Worthy Matron of O. E. S. No. 26 for the past year and the Star took this means of showing their appreciation of her work. Mrs. McDowell left Tuesday for Kansas City.

The Baptist Ladies served lunch in the Universal Motor Co's sales room on last Saturday, and enjoyed a splendid patronage. One feature of the luncheon however was overlooked and will probably cost Portales a valuable citizen, as it is rumored that Fred Harvey had one of his scouts present. That is that A. C. Browne developed into such a howling success as head waiter that he will receive offers from that syndicate to take charge of their Chicago or San Francisco dining room.

The H. M. C. met Wednesday Nov. 18 at the court house with eighteen members and guests present. Three names were added to the roll. The subject, Christmas Suggestions was very appropriate to the season and many helpful ideas were exchanged.

Next meeting, Wednesday, Dec. 2nd, with Mrs. Carl Mueller. Subject, Candy making with demonstrations by Mesdames Mueller and Garrett and Miss Kerr. Any one wishing instruction, concerning any special kind may bring the ingredient for same and receive aid (in eating). Everyone to meet promptly at 1:00 o'clock at Mrs. Livingstons and transportation will be provided.

The fourth Sunday in each month is observed by the Methodist Sunday school as Missionary Sunday. Last Sunday Mrs. E. N. Smith's class, which consists of twenty-four girls about sixteen years rendered the program at the opening of Sunday school. There were a number of songs and Marion Jones gave in a very impressive way the life story of a Korean boy. The class rendered their program in a spirit of reverence which impressed everyone.

The Christian Ladies Aid met Thursday, Nov. 19th, with Mrs. Pyeatt, with twelve members and guests in attendance. The afternoon was spent quilting. The program for Dec. 3rd, has been postponed until Dec. 17th, and Friday Dec. 4th, each member is requested to be at the Universal Garage promptly at 1:30 p. m. The Universal people having kindly tendered the use of a part of their building for the pantry sale and bazaar. Bring you bazaar articles and help get every thing in readiness.

The Christian Ladies Aid will hold their annual bazaar and pantry sale on Saturday, December 5th, at the Universal Garage. They will also serve pie, sandwiches and coffee. Your patronage will be appreciated. 5-2t.

John Russell was in from Upton, Monday. Mr. Russell says that he succeeded in harvesting his entire crop of cockleburs before they were injured by the freeze, but that the frost got a good part of Mrs. Russell's maize crop.

JESSE JAMES

Jesse James never lived at all, R. F. Dibble claims in his new book, "Strenuous Americans." The notorious bandit, according to Dibble, "was a pure creation of the mind. He was born, he lived, he died, in the complex and far-reaching imagination of his race. He was America's Odysseus, America's Beowulf, America's Robin Hood."

Over a western bank we once saw a weather-beaten sign riddled with bullet holes which old residents claimed were from Jesse's pistol. We have seen other historical relics of his career. We have further been led to believe that Jess was shot April 3, 1882, while hanging a picture on the wall, and we have talked with old timer reporters who "covered" that shooting.

All hokum and bunkum, according to dabbler Mr. Dibble.

We'd be inclined to believe that Dibble is joshing—if he weren't so historically accurate in his treatment of other characters in his book: such as P. T. Barnum, Brigham Young, Mark Hanna, Admiral Dewey and James J. Hill.

Come to think of it, we never actually SAW Jesse James. All we know about him is hearsay, second-hand evidence. So we have to believe either Dibble or the rival faction of historians.

The more we ponder this, the less certain we feel of our ground. And the more it dwms on us that 99 per cent of the things we "know"—things we accept as unquestioned fact—are merely matters of faith on our part.

For instance, we have always believed that Columbus was first to discover America, though we have no actual proof that any such person as Columbus ever existed. Our confidence in Christ rests on tradition—inherited say-so.

Similarly, we believe there's a city named Hongkong, though we've never seen it.

Faith is the mightiest of all human forces.—Amarillo News.

FLOYD HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The knowledge gainers of the Floyd High School have been very busy since school started. We all have been establishing a foundation for our school achievements. To verify this statement we have a few specific examples to present broadcast to the advancing people of Roosevelt County.

Our part in the Judging Contest last week seems as if it were special Floyd Week. In the first place we proved that our school to be ranked in the North Central Association. We are one of the seven high schools of the state to be listed there. The only one in Roosevelt County. Quite an honor, we are proud to say. Let's hope that the time will come when all New Mexico schools can show that they are "little but big."

On Saturday the 20th Floyd distinguished herself at the Judging Contest, the first interschoolastic battle of the year. Who won? Floyd school. High men? Luther Jones first and Orel Botler second. All of our men took home an individual prize. It was the privilege of two of the Floyd boys to be spectators of both the placing and the judging. It could easily be seen who would win. The efficient management of Prof. A. E. Lang portrayed itself clearly, the boys reasons showing logic and style. The team was as follows: Luther Jones, Orel Botler, Dorsey Nash, Donald Gordon and Sumner Clary.

Some schools are sleep like sheep others lead like goats. Take warning, let's go! We lead and back Floyd Roosevelt County in the achievements.

On Friday evening November, 20, the Seniors were royally entertained with a progressive Rook party at the home of one of its members Miss Willie Terrell. A beautiful box of stationary was awarded to Miss Oder Perry as winner of the most games. Miss Yvonne Terrell and Miss Thelma Compton tied for the consolation prize, which was a large stick of candy. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served and the table was beautifully decorated with the Senior colors Old Rose and Silver. All left at a late hour after expressing their enjoyment of the evening.

The Sophomores entertained with a Chinese program Friday in Assembly. This Chinese program was well rendered and enjoyed by all.
