Esther Jonsson In Two Concerts Today

Miss Esther Jonsson, world famous musician and lecturer, will give two concerts in Perryton at the school auditorium today (Thursday). Miss Jonsson will present a Mozart program, with a special appeal to children at 2:15 this afternoon. In this program she will dress as Mozart. Tonight at 8:15, Miss Jonsson will give a lecture concert, playing and talking about the music she discovered among the peasants of Greece, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Roumania. Colored motion pictures of the peasants as they live will also be shown during this concert. The evening program has also been arranged for the entertainment of young people as well as adults.

It is seldom that an artist of Miss Jonsson's ability can be heard in a city as small as Perryton, and for such a small admission. Every man, woman and child should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear one or both concerts. Miss Jonsson has studied several years in Europe and has appeared on the concert stage in all the large cities of the United States and Europe. She is coming to Perryton under the auspices of the Ochiltree County Co-ordinating council.

JUST HERE and THERE

R. B. Orrill, Commander of the Perryton American Legion Post, deserves recognition for the wonderful membership record that the Post is making under his leadership. The advance 1940 paid-up membership now stands at 136, 45 members over the assigned quota of 85.

This outstanding record is second high in the life of the Perryton Legion. In 1939 when Orrill was Post Adjutant and chief member "Getter," a few more members were enrolled. Orrill says that the real credit for the present high standing of the Post goes to Hugh Shotwell and Sibley Jines, captains of the two contesting membership teams.

Shotwell's team is now slightly ahead but Jines says his men will never give up until the end of the contest on November 11. The losers will fele the winners at a "stag" party at the close of the contest.

Honoring a large number of the members of the Perryton Post who live in the Follett community, the next meeting of the Perryton Post and Auxiliary Unit will be held in the new high school gymnasium at Follett on Monday evening, Nov. 6. It will be a "pot luck" dinner with social hour following.

F. H. Johnson, former Perryton young man located in Old Mexico for many years as a mining engineer, writes us from Acapulco, Gro. enclosing pictures of a catch of 682 lbs. of fish, the results of one day's deep sea fishing off the West Coast of Mexico.

In the catch was a 346 lb. Manta Rays, a 62 lb. shark, and 19 fish weighing 74 lb. All fish were caught with hook and line. We think that's pretty good fishing for an old boy raised out here on the "haldies" where we get excited over catching a one pound mud cat.

FREE EXHIBIT AND PROGRAM NOVEMBER 1-2

To Show Red Cross Film In Connection With This Exhibit

HERE TWO DAYS

The Public Health Pro-Motor exhibit will be in Perryton Wednesday and Thursday, November 1-2, and will be open to the public at 1 p. m. each day, with the feature attraction in the evening at 7:30. Admission is free and the exhibit will feature motion pictures, self operating displays, descriptive talks and demonstrations.

As a prelude to the Red Cross Annual Roll Call, a film entitled, "Why Not Live" will be presented as a part of the program by the Public Health Pro-Motor. In addition to giving some invaluable tips on how to reduce our national accident rate and keep tragedy from our homes, the film will give local people a chance to see how the Red Cross funds, which they contribute, are returned to them a thousand fold in the form of services which make our lives healthier, happier and safer.

This Red Cross film however constitutes only a part of the entire program to be presented when this unusual exhibit visits our city next week. The entire program is free and every individual interested in his own health and the health of his community is urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

This unique project represents one of the health education services of the American United Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Ind., and represented in this community by Dewey R. Allen.

VETERAN PEACE OFFICER DIES

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR R. H. GAMEL THIS AFTERNOON AT PERRYTON BAPT. CHURCH

Masonic funeral services will be conducted for R. H. Gamel, 68 years old pioneer peace officer, who passed away here at his home Monday evening following an extended illness. The rites will be held at the First Baptist Church Thursday, October 26, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. S. R. McClung will officiate.

R. H. GAMEL

A male quartet composed of J. H. Biggs, Irvin Buchanan, Robert Lawrence and A. K. Wooten will sing at the services. Pallbearers will be fellow Masons. Burial will be made in the Ochiltree cemetery.

R. H. Gamel served the people of Perryton in the capacity of night watchman and fire marshal for the past 19 years and with his passing from the scene, a void is left difficult to fill. He was always known as a just and cautious officer and many fine hazards in the city were removed, helping to enable the City of Perryton to enjoy one of the lowest fire insurance rates in the state.

Robert Henry Gamel was born September 17, 1871 in Douglas county, Georgia. When he was seventeen years old he moved to Texas with his parents in 1888. While still a young man he professed faith in Christ and joined the Baptist Church and was a faithful worker in the church during his lifetime. He was united in marriage to Mrs. M. J. Gamel. COUNTY SHEEP SHOW RETURNS AS MARKETING

Adverse Conditions in the Weather Affects the Profit Somewhat OTHERS FEEDING

With many Ochiltree county farmers having stocked their farms with lambs to feed out this fall, the lambs are moving to market every week. The returns from the feeding out, a practice only recently revived in this county, appear to be generally satisfactory in spite of the unfavorable weather conditions under which little wheat pasture has been available. It is indicated that under better conditions lamb feeding could be worked into a profitable sideline by many farmers in this area.

During the past week John Rogers and L. R. Cramer of the Farnsworth community shipped several decks of lambs and yearling wethers. The lambs brought $8.75 per cwt. and the bulk of the yearlings $6.75.

This week Carl Ellis topped out and shipped three decks of fat lambs out of the 1190 he has been running on stubble and stalk fields since July 10.

Curtis Roach shipped 248 head of lambs this week to St. Joseph, Mo., which weighed 71 pounds and brought $8.60 per cwt. These lambs were shipped in August 3 and had been run on sudan and stalk fields. Others who have lambs on feed and on fields are R. H. Holland, O. A. Schuster and J. S. Slaughter.

Legion Halloween Carnival Saturday Night, October 28

The American Legion and Auxiliary annual Halloween carnival and fun-fest will be Saturday night, October 28, at the Donkey Hall, starting at 7 p. m. Many new attractions will be found at the carnival this year, states Sibley Jines, general chairman, and Roy B. Orrill, Post commander.

A photo gallery, displaying old pictures and snap shots of many prominent people in this area, is in charge of Mrs. A. P. Spicer and Mrs. J. G. Schultz. Many old photos have been collected and are being mounted and properly labeled so that you may recognize your friends.

The services of a real fortune teller have been secured. Word was received Wednesday that Madame Goe-An-Go would be in Perryton Saturday night and donate her services to the Legion and Auxiliary. Madame Goe-An-Go has been with several professional carnivals and her work has been satisfactory. See her Saturday night and let her tell you about the future.

Other concessions will include bingo, roulette, shooting gallery, mouse house, penny dice, duck pond, ball game, penny board, pop corn stand, hamburger stand, doll rack, fish pond, dart board, confetti and others too numerous to mention. The public is invited to attend and have a hilarious evening. All proceeds will be used for child welfare and other activities by the Legion and Auxiliary. The general committee members for the Legion are: Sibley Jines, chairman, H. E. Showell, E. W. Thomas, C. C. Bull, H. C. Graham, J. W. Woodworth, A. W. Henry, Tom Denman and Van W. Stewart. For the Auxiliary, members are: Mrs. Tom Denman, chairman, Mrs. J. W. Herrell, Mrs. J. H. Nail, Mrs. Sibley Jines, Mrs. H. E. Showell and Mrs. Blansit Carter. Water Facilities Program Aids Plains Farmers

Under the Department of Agriculture water facilities program hundreds of farmers and ranchers in the semi-arid portions of Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, and Oklahoma are being aided in the development and improvement of water resources with a view to promoting better use of the land and advancing human welfare. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics selects suitable areas for such development. The Soil Conservation Service furnishes technical aid and does the actual construction, while the Farm Security Administration makes loans to farmers when necessary. Under provisions of the program farmers are provided with irrigation pumps of the type shown at upper left; small irrigation systems, an example of which is shown at upper right; stock water ponds, such as the one at lower left; irrigation systems for home gardens shown at lower right, and windmills for general farm needs. Aid also is given in developing springs, installing water spreading systems and similar improvements for the utilization of water resources.

Amarillo, Texas, Oct. 19.—Water—the basic essential of successful agriculture in the semi-arid Texas Panhandle—is being utilized more and more to place farmers and ranchers of this area on a more sound economic basis and to improve living conditions under the water facilities program of the Department of Agriculture, according to Ross Floyd, administrator of this work in the Southern Great Plains.

Three agencies within the Department of Agriculture are cooperating in carrying out the water facilities program. Floyd explains. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics does the general planning. The Farm Security Administration handles the financial side, contributes farm and home management plans and counsel. The Soil Conservation Service, which is directly responsible for detailed planning and installation of the facilities, supervises construction, outlines soil and water conservation plans for individual farms, and exercises leadership for the program as a whole.

The program provides facilities for storage or utilization of water for farm gardens, for crop and hay lands, for ranges and pastures, for stock, and other agricultural purposes through the use of ponds, reservoirs, wells, pumps and windmills, spring development, water spreaders, stock water tanks, flood irrigation, recharging of underground reservoirs, and dams for detention, retention and diversion of water.

The water facilities program has been set up to benefit farmers and ranchers, within selected areas, who need assistance and who agree to furnish portions of the labor and materials, and to practice sound management which will provide soil and water conservation, a subsistence for family and livestock, an income to cover living expenses, operating costs, and loan payments.

Facilities are available to landowners, tenants and groups. Assistance may be given to a soil conservation district, a cooperative association, a mutual water company, an irrigation district, or other appropriate organization.

Actual construction and installation of the facilities can be handled either by having the Department of Agriculture do the job, or by making the necessary funds available to the benefiting farmer or farmers who will do the job with the technical guidance of the Department of Agriculture and pay for materials and equipment.

Benefiting farmers and ranchers are expected to repay the cost of labor, equipment, materials, and supplies furnished by the Department of Agriculture, and funds advanced to them. Repayment at three per cent interest may extend for the useful life of the facility, but in no instance can the loan run for more than 20 years.

The program, which now has been in operation more than a year, already is proving of great benefit to many residents of the Texas Panhandle, Floyd reports. Many have been relieved of the necessity for hauling water long distances for livestock and home use. Home gardens, made possible through irrigation, have provided fresh vegetables during the summer and a canned reserve for winter use. Range conditions have been improved through the use of stock ponds, tanks, spring development and water spreading. In numerous instances, development of water facilities has meant the difference between success and failure on a farm.

Approved areas for water facilities development in the Texas Panhandle include the Rita Blanca and Major Long's creek watersheds in Dallam and Hartley counties; the Coldwater-Palo Duro watershed in Dallam, Hartley, Sherman, Moore, Hansford, Hutchinson and Ochiltree counties; the Mustang-Seminole-Monument watershed in Andrews, Dawson, Gaines and Yoakum counties, and special work in Lubbock and Hockley counties.

In addition it has been recommended that seven counties in the Panhandle of Texas be set up for water facilities demonstration work. These counties will be approved when the County Land Use Planning Committee requests assistance.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us remember that the eternal law of right, though it can never annul the law which makes sin its own executioner, exempts man from all penalties but those due for wrongdoing" (page 285).

INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

Temperance and Progress

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 29.
Text: Micah 2:9-11; Luke 21:29-31, 34-36; I Corinthians 6:9-11.

ALCOHOLIC intemperance and its effect on the social progress of the world is the theme of the lesson for International Temperance Sunday. It deals with the challenge set before us by Micah and its parallel with conditions in our own time.

Micah was one of the minor prophets. He lived in a small Judean town and was a contemporary of Isaiah, Hoseah and Amos.

His being a minor prophet does not in any way apply to the truth that he had to declare. The humble preacher from a village pulpit may proclaim the truth as truly and as vitally as the man who thunders from some city pulpit.

The prophets lived in a society and time when materialistic prosperity and corruption went hand in hand. The wealthy and the powerful had made themselves great by the oppression of the poor.

In the verses immediately preceding those chosen from Micah for our lesson, the prophet denounces these general wrongs and tyrannies of his day. He cites the way in which good men suffered because of the aggressive and violent spirit of those in affairs.

IN the verses of our lesson he sets before us the picture of women and children evicted from their homes. The society of the day had fallen to such a low place that, according to Micah, the only prophet who could satisfy this corrupt people would be a prophet of wine and of strong drink.

Here he sets before us a challenge that applies very closely to our own time.

What would we think of a country that had drunkards for its leaders and drunkards for its prophets? We would say that it was not only in a sad condition morally, but we would also say that such a nation was not at all a place of safety or security.

We do not have drunkards for our rulers, yet one must face the sad fact that even in our American life today there has arisen a philosophy of life which thoughtless and well-disciplined people even a few years ago would have regarded as disgraceful. Not only has the drinking of alcoholic liquors become more prevalent, but the drunkenness was once considered a matter of disgrace. There is a tendency in some quarters to write of it as humorous.

The danger of this situation ought to be very clear, if we thought for a moment of what would happen should our moral ideals and discipline be swept away because some glory were attached to this idea of intoxication.

The insistence of the lesson is upon clarity of vision and upon common sense to apply this clarity of vision in life. There is a tendency today to put a mask of glamor on the face of sin—but there is no glamor to it.

Perryton Vicinity Entering "White Spot"

This map represents current business conditions. It appears in the November number of "Nations Business", published by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Under lightening of the map shows sharp expansion in mining, industrial operations and higher for agricultural products. Advancing for the fourth consecutive month, the volume of business activity in September exceeded the peak of last November-December and marked the high level reached since September 1937. Broad upswings came in wholesale lines. Bank clearings and bank debits went well above September, while business failures were the fewest in two years.

EROSION COST CHECK IS DUE

FARMERS WATCHING BENEFITS OF CONSERVATION PRACTICES ON PASTURES AND FIELDS

The slack period following the harvest or row crops within the next few weeks will afford those farmers an opportunity to check on erosion costs on their land, says H. A. Finch, Superintendent of the Soil Conservation Service, located at Perryton, Texas.

Farmers cooperating with the Service, he explains, are watching closely the results of various conservation practices, such as terracing, contour tillage, strip cropping, controlled grazing, pasture furrowing, and other soil and water conservation methods, as reflected in crop yields and animal weights.

In a similar manner, Finch points out, returns from land not treated received as to whether there is a relationship between decreasing yields and soil and water losses.

This yields of sloping fields are compared with those of more level fields of similar soil type and other factors, to see if water and topsoil have been lost and thus brought down the yield. The farmer likewise may find it revealing to examine the condition of the soil on spots in his fields where his crops were poor, or to inspect his pasture where the stock has not held up in weights as should be expected.

The important thing, Finch says, then is to plan remedial measures for the next season. Where run-off water is resulting in reduced yields, terraces may be constructed and contour tillage adopted. Strip crops may be planned to stabilize the soil against both wind and water erosion, or pasture furrowing may be done to aid in improving the grass stand.

CULTIVATING GRASS PROFIT

MANY FARMERS USING ERODING FIELDS TO AN ADVANTAGE IN THIS COUNTY BY STARTING GRASS

"Just as it once was considered profitable to put grass and wooded areas in cultivation it now is considered profitable to place eroding cultivated fields back to grass," points out George C. Twombly, Agronomist of the CCC Camp of the Soil Conservation Service located at Perryton. This is being done by several farmers in this area, it is stated.

Records of this Camp show that 470 acres of land actually have been taken out of cultivation and planted to grass within the last four years. In addition to this acreage an additional 430 acres of land are to be retired to grass within the next year. With more favorable rainfall conditions the retirement program should be greatly expanded.

Retirement of severely eroded land from cultivation and planting it to grass is considered an essential part of the complete better land use program recommended by the Soil Conservation Service. In practically all cases where land is being retired from cultivation it is being done in such a way that it does not upset the farming program, Twombly explains.

Roosevelt Authorizes a Substantial Increase of this Unit; Qualifications are Strict

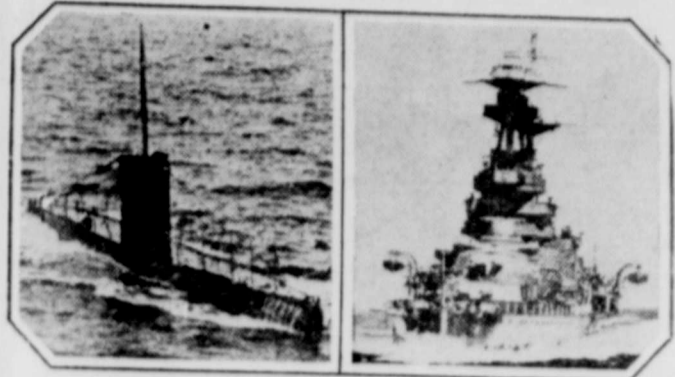

The United States Marine Corps is now making a methodical canvass of inland towns—particularly rural communities—with the view of finding the very best young men possible for enlistment in the Marines. Postmaster M. R. Coffee stated today.

Only 6,000 young men out of the slightly more than 100,000 increase in complements of all the armed forces of the national defense are authorized by President Roosevelt for the Marine Corps. Thus, only one man out of each group of eighty thousand qualified applicants will be accepted for service with the "Leathernecks."

Requirements for enlistment remain the same—between 18 and 30 years of age, white, unmarried and without dependents, not less than 64 nor more than 74 inches tall, of good moral character, and of excellent physical condition.

Nazi Planes, Subs Threaten British Control of Sea

Nazi submarine, like one shown at left, invaded harbor at Scapa Flow to sink British battleship, Royal Oak, right, in first of series of attacks by planes and U-boats to challenge British naval supremacy.

DOWN out of the clouds and up from the ocean depths have appeared two Nazi blood brothers to become masters of the British navy for the moment, then to go back into their voids to hide in safety.

These are the airplane and the submarine, driving powers in naval warfare for a nation whose sea vessels are hemmed in by blockade. If they should conquer the fleet that has controlled the seas for centuries, the world will see a revolutionary change in methods of conflict on the water.

It was a German submarine that felt its way through submerged ship barriers and mines to enter Scapa Flow, base of the British Grand Fleet off northern Scotland. There it sent the Royal Oak, 29,150-ton battleship to join nearly 50 allied merchantmen, victims of U-boat attacks, at the sea's bottom.

England had announced in August plans for construction of 100 new warships to be used to defend her commerce against submarine raiders. She bent out the U-boat in 1918 and hopes to do so again with anti-submarine defenses like the depth bombs that explode under water with great concussion.

It was a group of German bombers that flew over the bald, treeless Orkney Islands to bomb the harbor at Scapa Flow. Their attack damaged the training ship Iron Duke at this naval base, one of several to become the target of attacks from the air.

Great Britain, top nation in air strength in 1918, let Germany, Russia and Italy take the lead after the war because of slashed

Continental Oil Company Start Large Building Project On November 1

Ponca City, Okla.—Continental Oil Company will spend $1,500,000 on a building program to improve quality and to increase the gasoline manufacturing capacity at its Ponca City refinery. It was announced here today by President Dan Moran.

Construction is scheduled to start about November 1, and the project should be completed next June, he said.

A contract for installation of one of the most modern thermal gasoline cracking processes yet developed has already been awarded to the M. W. Kellogg Company, New York. This contract involves approximately one and a quarter million dollars, said Moran, and Continental will spend an additional quarter million in revisions of equipment and rearrangement of the steam system, and in remodeling pumping units.

and electrical systems. "In announcing this project, we should like to point out that there is ample labor now available in Ponca City to handle the work," said Moran. "Previously when we have announced large building programs there has been an influx of this time we don't want to displace them, as we already have men whom we could not employ, plenty of both skilled and common labor to complete this project."

Approximately 200 men will be employed in the construction project, the largest refinery building program undertaken in the Mid-Continent area in several years.

Launched in 1927 with University and Rockefeller grant money, The University of Texas Bureau of Research in the Social Sciences has conducted 67 surveys in social science, ranging from archaeological studies and county government surveys to research in Texas history and studies of Texas prison management.

Increase Use of Farm Products In Manufacture of Oils And Greases is Seen

Chicago, Ill.—The wide use by the petroleum industry of agricultural products to improve the lubricating qualities of their oils and greases was revealed here today by Dr. B. H. Lincoln, chief chemist of the Continental Oil Company in a statement that manufacturers are now using about $22,000,000 worth of animal and vegetable fats and oils, largely of agricultural origin, in the production of lubricants.

Speaking before the American Oil Chemists' Society at the Hotel Stevens, Dr. Lincoln named lard and tallow and corn, cottonseed, linseed, rapeseed and soya bean oils and greases.

The animal and vegetable oils and fats were said to improve the wetting ability or "oiliness" of straight mineral oils, the consistency and other requirements of greases and the load-carrying capacity and resistance to oxidation and corrosion of both oils and greases. The use by the petroleum industry of fatty materials of farm origin is expanding yearly, Dr. Lincoln said.

GIRLS SOFTBALL TEAMS

PHYSICAL ED GROUPS ORGANIZE 4 SOFTBALL TEAMS AND HOLD CLASSES ON THREE DAYS

The four softball teams of the Girls' Physical Education class have played three games. The "Perryton Rustlers," whose captain is Virginia Pluitt, lost a game to Hazel Cook's "Roaring Lions" on Friday, October 20, after having defeated Carolyn Chase's "Perryton Reds" in two games. Hazel Cook's "Roaring Lions" defeated also the "Jumbo Cardinals," whose captain is Lenora Reimer. The "Cardinals" defeated Carolyn Chase's team the last game played.

The Physical Education groups hold different classes each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. On Monday, calisthenics are taught with Miss Oleta Kelley in charge. The purpose of the calisthenics is to improve posture, to develop all parts of the body, and to introduce new exercises to the girls.

Each Wednesday the girls are separated into three groups with Miss Verna Harris. Miss Hazelie Scott and Mrs. W. F. Haggard in charge. Health habits, diet, sleep, recreation, and importance of health in daily life are subjects of importance discussed in these classes.

On Friday the girls participate in softball and rope jumping. Miss Kelley and Miss Scott are in charge of the softball teams, while Miss Harris and Mrs. Haggard take charge of the rope jumping.

Chapel and Rally

Spindler Speaks at Chapel and Pep Rally Led by Bush Tuesday Morning

C. G. Spindler, Song Evangelist from Tulsa, Oklahoma, was the principal speaker at the regular chapel, October 24. Mr. Spindler gave as a scripture Psalm 1, and recited some of his original poems, entitled "My Little Gray Britches," "Growing Up," and "A Dad to His Daughter."

The remainder of the program was given over to a pep rally, consisting of pep talks from O. A. Bush, Ralph Duke, Miss Verna Harris, and the members of the first string Ranger team: Clarence Morris, Willis Neal Lilly, S. R. McClung, Jimmie Panser, Weldon Wright, Clyde Flowers, Joe Buckharts, Jack Williams and Vernon Hargett.

CAMPUS CLOTHES

Old man winter has been reaching out and clutching Perryton in his icy hand. This weather is bound to influence clothes.

Therelene Devore wore a brown suede jacket made Cordigan style that looked as though it would keep out plenty of cold wind. "Sadie" Morris has a good-looking brown leather jacket, and Johnnie Gurley has a tan wool jacket with leather sleeves that is "sweet elegant."

Costume jewelry is another fashion of the year. The Indian bracelets and rings that some of the girls have are pretty. "Sug" Phillips' bracelet and ring are set with turquoise forming the petals of a flower.

Miss Hazelie Scott looked very nice when she wore a light blue knitted sweater, but then Miss Scott always looks nice.

Jane Rogers wore a "snazzy" bright green jacket and green hat to match with a plaid skirt.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

The Future Homemaking club met Thursday at the regular club period, with the president in charge. After the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting the program for the year was discussed. We hope to begin working by next club period.

Know Your Rangers

Here he is—that powerful little left half back, Willis Neal Lilly. He is five feet 3 inches tall and weighs 130 pounds.

Willis Neal started his football career as Equipment Manager in the year 1937. He was a very good manager, but as he came on up in high school that old spirit came to him. "I want to make the Ranger team." With plenty of ambition and spirit though the going was tough, he has at last succeeded.

Last year as a sophomore he made quarter back on the second team, playing at times on the first string. Toward the end of the season he had to take it easy on account of a ankle.

This year as a junior he came back with that old fight and solved the answer to his dreams. He made the first string, and carrying his load like the man that he is, will do all he can to make the Rangers an outstanding team in the district.

After all, it's of the size of the boy in the fight, it's the size of the fight in the boy.

EL TORO

Ho, hum, the first six weeks have gone their weary, dragging way and most of the students are trying to get the cramp out of their brains that the six weeks' exams gently (yeah, like a steam-roller) put in. When these teachers must have spent their vacations thinking up those questions.

Oh yes, it seems that Bob Schuster and Clair Brillhart were trying to pull a "Tarzan and his Mate" act in the school fish pond last Thursday night. Tish, tish, boys, such "carrying on."

If you students see "Butch" Hergert on the campus waving his arms and moving his mouth (but not saying anything) don't rush him to a doctor, he is just practicing a pantomime for the speech class.

Clyde Flowers says that the abbreviations in geometry are about as good as they get. Just stay with 'em Clyde, ole chap!

GIRLS NEWS

The 411 Home Room had a program Friday. The program consisted of 15 slides on "How to be Beter" by Gene Johnson. "The Three Bears" by Betty Joe Balenocifen, and a poem, "Thanksgiving," by Lorraine Firestone. After the program Mozelle Stuart took some pictures of the room.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB

The Girls Glee Club has been trying to decide on the uniform for the year.

Different parts of music are being studied, such as classical, semi-classical, and popular. Notes, accents and markings are also being taught. Mr. Bush and Mrs. McCreivy plan to have a very successful Glee Club this year.

Meet Our Teachers

Our Superintendent, Roger A. Burgess, was the first teacher interviewed concerning his likes and dislikes. Many a late hour was spent by him reading "David Copperfield" which was his favorite book. His favorite show was "Maytime," since Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, his favorite movie stars played the leading roles.

Pontiac is undoubtedly his favorite car since he is now driving his fourth one. Mr. Burgess, like most men, has steak as a favorite food. Football is his best-liked sport and fishing his hobby. The slogan he always gives the seniors is "A good name is to be chosen rather than great riches," from the Book of Proverbs. Mr. Burgess obtained his Bachelor's and Master's degree from the University of Texas, and is now working on his Doctor's degree from that school.

Homemakers Elect

Willie Rae McCarter Named Area President; Other Officers Elected Monday

All girls taking homemaking met during the first part of the first period, Monday, October 16, and elected the president and corresponding secretary for this area. Those elected were: Willie Rae McCarter, president, and Dorothy Woods, corresponding secretary.

Unit 2 elected the following officers: Arvada Russell, president; Mary Kathryn Allen, vice president; Margaret Jean Orrell, secretary; Peggy Jane Thomas, reporter; Norma Lawrence, parliamentarian.

Meetings are the second and fourth Friday of each month, and programs are taken from the year-book planned by the council.

SEEN AND HEARD ON TRIP TO HERRIS OCEAN 29

Joe Pete Lile—with his usual supply of chewing gum.

L. D. Morgan—jumping up every five minutes to see if the bus is going any slower than it was the last time he looked.

Bob Schuster—sneezing and coughing. Been swimming lately, Bob?

Shorty Frank—looking kind of wistful. Probably worrying about that coke he bet.

Sally McClung—"Will they have the same pep squad as last year, Coach?"

What is Sis Wright getting at when he says, "Six minutes is a long time." Under what circumstances, Sis?

Lard Dunlavy—seen and very easily heard, but what he is talking about only he knows.

"Mule Ears" and his usual supply of pointless jokes.

Shorty and Tex singing "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." What town, boys?

We, the Seniors

Lenora Reimer's favorite pastime is kokodging. She has no plans for the future. "Pee Wee" is her pet nickname and she likes shoes. She has gray eyes and is a brunette. She was born April 4, 1924. Her favorite color is blue.

Virginia Barker, better known as "Dusty" to all of her friends, was born December 7, 1923. She likes fried chicken, polo, roping, and her ambition is to own a ranch. You certainly can tell she has lived in the West!

Alva Frye, a very ambitious senior, plans to be a mechanic designer. He was born July 19, 1922; likes ice cream, peanuts, and books. He plans to go to Texas Tech when he finishes high school.

HOBBY CLUB

The Hobby Club opened its regular session with business, which was followed by a short program. Muriel Hattenkamp gave the poem, "Mother and Her Clubs." Two vocal numbers were given by Jane Black and Wanda Shepherd. "The Old Apple Tree in the Orchard" and "Buttering Billy." Refreshments of cookies and popcorn were served by Eileen Black and Nellie Anderson. The members decided to have a party soon.

A SCREWBALL'S VERSION OF THE PANHANDLE-PERRYTON FOOTBALL GAME Duck Talk

The other night, about noon, I was in the jailhouse, talking to the desk clerk about some money. He said I owed him ten dollars, but I told him I did not. Seeing that I was not going to pay him, he gave me a nice warm bed upon which to spend the rest of the week.

Finally I got it into his head that I had to get out in order to see the football game between Perryton and Panhandle. When the month was over, I was released and I at once went to the theater to see the game.

The band was playing in "Dixie." The cheer leaders were playing in the stands. Perryton was playing Panhandle and Panhandle was just playing.

The man with the ball blew the gun and the game was on its way. The ball was kicked to third base. The man on second stole third and the man on first at once ran to the fifteen yard line where he was given time out.

I did not like the showing Perryton was making, so I left the grandstand and went to the bench. When I reached the bench they would not let me on, so I had to walk. Finding a seat on the ground, I began to watch the game from another angle.

Panhandle now had the ball on their own ten yard line. The center dropped back to kick. The ball was passed to the right guard, who went around the back field for a two yard loss. With the ball now on the twenty-five yard line and no downs to go, Panhandle decided to run with it.

The ball was snapped back to the umpire who took it around the grandstand for a goal and three extra points. With a touchdown and three extra points in their pockets, Panhandle kicked off to Perryton.

Perryton decided to wait until the ball was kicked before they caught it. With the ball in his left pocket, "Eytallian" Spaggett started for a home run when he stopped all of a sudden. Going over to the sidelines where a certain somebody stood waiting on her little love, Spaggett lost four hundred eighty nine yards.

Giving the ball to Sally on the next play, he decided he would pull a trick play on the enemy. He took his shoe off and hid the ball in it. After an hour and sixty five minutes the umpire called for a new ball.

Sally forgot about his shoe being off and continued to play without it. Perryton, with the ball still in their possession, kicked it down to Panhandle's goal where someone returned it for a gain of ninety nine and one half yards, putting the ball on the one half yard line.

With the score nine and nothing Perryton decided to hold Panhandle. Trying three times, Panhandle failed both times, then they kicked over the goal. The ball was brought back to the one yard line where Spaggett hit the line and the umpire gave him ten yards.

It was about two and a half minutes till the game would be over and here Perryton was behind in scores. While Spaggett was calling signals, Sally found the other ball.

PHILLIPS OUT AS PERRYTON SETTLES DOWN

Run Blackhawks Off The Field Friday Night With 21-0 Score
Play White Deer Fri.

The Perryton Rangers in their second conference tilt of the season overran the Phillips Blackhawks last Friday night to the tune of 21-0, putting them in the top bracket of district 2A. The Rangers' first conference game of the season was with Canadian on the Canadian gridiron and the Rangers took the game 26-9, thus putting them on top with two conference games played and no losses.

The Blackhawks put up a good fight and were still going strong when the game ended despite indications to the contrary by the one-sided score.

The Rangers kicked off from their forty yard line to start the game. Cooper, playing safety for the Blackhawks, took the ball on his own 15 yard stripe and brought it back to the 30 before being stopped.

Two more plays and a 15-yard penalty assessed against the Rangers would have given the Blackhawks two first downs but a fumble on the play following the penalty was recovered by the Rangers on their 45 yard line. McWilliams, Lilly, Flowers and McClung went right down the field for five first downs and across the goal line, for the first touchdown of the game. Lilly's kick for extra point was good, making the score 7-0.

When the Rangers kicked again from their forty yard line, Cooper took the ball on his 15 and brought it back to the 25. Two more plays with Cooper lugging the ball and then a punt which was taken on the Ranger's 30 and brought back to the 39. A punt on the next play, was brought from the Blackhawks' 20 to the 25. Two more plays and then a fumble on the next gave Perryton the ball and kept the Blackhawks from a first down, just as the first quarter ended.

Starting the second quarter McClung took the ball through the

RANGERS TO WHITE DEER

THIRD CONFERENCE GAME OF SEASON FOR RANGERS; BAND AND PEP SQUAD TO MAKE TRIP

The Ranger football squad has been preparing this week for an invasion of White Deer in enemy territory Friday night when they play the third conference tilt of the 1939 season.

The Perryton eleven is in tip-top condition and has developed a strong enough offensive to give the entire team confidence in a comparatively easy victory over the White Deer boys.

Coaches Otis Burk and George Phillips of the Rangers expressed themselves as being confident that their boys will remain at the top of the grid heap and will play in the final elimination for championship honors in district 2-A football. It is almost a cinch that Perryton will win the conference title in their own field of endeavor.

Panhandle is generally conceded to be the outstanding opponent facing Perryton on the remainder of their schedule. An open date results in the Perryton setup on November 3, but a team has not been secured to play on that date as the Herald goes to press. Perryton has won six games and played six as follows: Rangers 40-Pollett 6, September 13; Rangers 26-Canadian 9, September 22; Rangers 50-Shattuck 9, September 29; Rangers 45-Lefors 0, October 6; Rangers 12-Wellington 7, October 13; Rangers 21-Phillips 9, October 20.

on the first play of the last quarter it was taken and downed there. On the second play McWilliams went for a first down; a pass McClung to Lilly another first down; two more plays, McClung and McWilliams made three first downs. A pass to Morris was good for six yards and a nine yard gain by McClung through the line gave the Rangers four more downs. A loss on the next play, a short pass complete, and a long run around end put the ranger on the 8 yard line and gave them another first down. Flowers picked up about four yards and then McWilliams took the ball over the goal line, making the Rangers' third touchdown of the game. Kick for extra point was good, making the score 21-0.

Mary Margaret McBride, author, receives the first bouquet of the new David Barpee Zinnia, which was shown recently before 2,000 flower specialists and horticulturists at a preview at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City. The flower, a granddaughter of the famous "Old Maid" of early American days, is five to six inches across and up to four inches deep. It will bloom in any garden within 10 weeks from seed. Note the difference in size of the new giant Zinnia and the old variety being held by Miss McBride.

The wedding has been set for Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Wright is employed at the Jines Body Shop and they will make their home in Perryton.

Marry at Home

Miss Pauline Almeta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. LaMaster became the bride of Mr. Ellis Demo Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kelley, Saturday evening, eight o'clock in the LaMaster home, two miles southwest of town. Rev. S. R. McClung officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an old-fashioned gown of blue chiffon velvet, fashioned with a tight bodice and full floor length skirt. The short puffed sleeves and square neckline were edged in quaint tatting. Her headpiece was a tiara of seed pearls and velvet. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley and a white point lace handkerchief. Her only jewelry was a cameo brooch, a gift of the bridegroom, and a wide gold bracelet, which had been in the Kelly family over ninety years.

Mrs. Kathryn LaMaster, and Mr. Harry Cayler attended the couple. Miss LaMaster was dressed in a salmon pink brocaded taffeta, made in period style with long full skirt. Her bouquet was of yellow mums.

Home Demonstration CLUB NEWS

HUNTOON SUNSHINE CLUB

"Growing girls should be careful to stand straight," stated Mrs. Hazel Martin, county home demonstration agent to members of the Sunshine 4H Club which met at the Huntoon school house on Monday afternoon.

"Before your clothes can look nice on you, you must have an erect, beautiful body. This can be achieved only by practice and care of the diet and health rules," she further stated.

Each girl planned her goals for the coming year in clothing and in poultry. Materials were studied and patterns given the girls for their first garments.

Irene Latham is poultry demonstrator and Esther Kershman is clothing demonstrator.

Those present were the new officers, Irene Latham, President, Carrie Neil Bremmer, secretary, Berta Ann Hurter and Esther Kershman, Olive Nowlin and Mrs. Martin. After the meeting Mrs. Martin visited in the home of Esther Kershman and discussed her demonstration with her mother.

BLUEBONNET CLUB

Bettie Bender, Reporter

"Each 4H Club girl will set her own goals for 1940," stated Mrs. Hazel Martin, county home demonstration agent to members of the Bluebonnet 4H Club, which met in her office on Saturday.

The club has for its poultry demonstrator Leola Ewyker and for clothing demonstrators June Lanco and Ruth Day. Lillian Williams is the new sponsor for the club.

This club will meet each month at the school house and on every third Saturday at the agent's office.

BUSY BEE CLUB

"One step to good looks is correct posture," stated Mrs. E. C. Dodson, sponsor Busy Bee 4H Club, which met Saturday, October 21, in the home of Mrs. George Yates with Beryl Dodson, as hostess.

"We may have a beautiful body by developing good health habits by daily recreation and by keeping clean," further stated Mrs. Dodson. Beryl Dodson was elected finance chairman, Gladys Schwab, poultry demonstrator, Vivian Williams, clothing demonstrator. A short recreational period was enjoyed, and Vivian Williams won the "game-wal" package.

Those present were: Misses Elaine Hardy, Gladys and Bessie Schwab, Vivian Williams, Beryl Dodson, Mrs. E. C. Dodson, sponsor, and visitors, Mrs. George Yates and Evelyns.

Improves Yard

Mrs. B. E. Plummer Finds That Shrubs and Vines Enhance Appearance of Yards

"I think that the evergreens on my doorway and the Austrian Pine at the corner of the house are especially attractive," stated Mrs. B. E. Plummer, yard demonstrator of the McMillen Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Plummer has made good improvement in her yard this year. She began making improvements by planning the yard with the help of the home demonstration agent. Only plants that were recommended for this area were used.

A wind break of tamarix, already planted was supplemented by a row of privet next to the lawn, in order to make the windbreak more dense and more attractive. Mrs. Plummer's flower bed was at the back of the yard and formed a background for the outdoor living room.

An attractive screen planting at the back of the house is of yucca.

Shade trees are Chinese elm, parrotia, elm, and apricot. A row of trees in the front of the house are red bud.

Mrs. Plummer's foundation planting is largely evergreen in order that it will be attractive throughout the year. The foundation is of juniper, arbor vitae, pine spirea and yucca.

A cutting bed next to the house is filled with many cuttings which were covered with glass jars. The jars were removed when the cuttings seemed to be well rooted, but many were lost due to the dry hot summer winds.

Despite dry weather and much damage from grasshoppers, Mrs. Plummer had a beautiful green yard and expects to continue her yard improvement.

NEW HOPE CLUB WILL HOLD ACHIEVEMENT DAY

November 1 will be Kitchen Achievement Day for the New Hope Home Demonstration Club, in the home of Mrs. Reece Taylor. Please bring your jars for the Ball Jar Contest. Visitors are always welcome.

NEW HOPE CLUB

Mrs. Albert Ackley, Reporter
"I love the country for its freedom," was Mrs. C. R. Cudd's answer to roll call at the meeting of the New Hope Home Demonstration Club held Wednesday, October 18, in the home of Mrs. C. J. Prantz.

There is space in the country for a garden, flowers and chickens. There is plenty of room for the children to play out in the fresh air without getting on the street. Horse back riding and fresh well water were other answers to the roll call. "The Country Things I Love."

During the business meeting, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Alvin Koehn, president; Mrs. C. R. Cudd, vice president; Mrs. Carl Carter, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Albert Ackley, council delegate and reporter. The following committees were appointed: Mrs. W. L. Lovett, yearbook; Mrs. Gus Koehn, expansion; Mrs. Ivan L. Lovett, exhibit; Mrs. Lorena Kutch, finance; Mrs. O. E. Carter, parliamentary; Mrs. M. M. Cudd, scrapbook; Mrs. R. E. Taylor will be yard demonstrator and Mrs. J. E. Yaden will be kitchen demonstrator.

Mrs. G. J. Brandvik and Mrs. Thurman Boren were guests. Members present were Mesdames O. E. Carter, Alvin Koehn, C. R. Cudd, Carl Carter, Lorena Kutch, Gus Koehn, J. E. Yaden, Fred Purnish, W. G. Yeary, Albert Ackley, and the hostess, Mrs. C. J. Prantz.

NEW HOPE CLUB PARTY IN YEARY HOME FRIDAY

The members of the New Hope Home Demonstration club and their families are invited to Mrs. W. G. Yeary's home Friday night, October 27, for a Halloween party. Each member will bring sandwiches.

That government jobs are still in demand is indicated by the fact that at a recent examination conducted by the Civil Service Commission approximately 100,000 people took the test in the effort to secure appointments to stenographic positions.

Cigars and candy climax centennial celebration of service to the poverty-stricken by congregation of Little Sisters of the Poor at St. Paul, Minn. Gov Harold E. Stassen passes smokes while Rev. John Gregory Murray, archbishop of St. Paul, serves sweets to residents at home for aged and infirm.

Mrs. J. S. Slaughter Makes Farm Yard Improvements

"It was much easier to start our Buffalo grass lawn than I had thought it would be," stated Mrs. J. S. Slaughter, yard demonstrator for the Missouri Avenue club.

"Although I had part of the yard started with Bermuda grass, I used Buffalo on that which was not sodded. I have found that it makes a quick growth and gives a thick attractive cover," Mrs. Slaughter stated.

At the beginning of Mrs. Slaughter's demonstration a plan was drawn of the farmstead and the future planting was planned. Keeping in mind the principles of good landscaping and those plants which are adapted to this county, Mrs. Slaughter began the basic work on planting the farmstead.

A tree site for a windbreak was laid out and a terrace made to hold water on the trees. Trees will be planted in the spring of 1940. Chinese elm, desert willow and red cedar will be planted to form the windbreak.

A row of tamarix was planted to screen the lots from the house. Although this row of tamarix was not watered almost every one lived and grew.

Mrs. Slaughter planted a number of native cedar. Most of these died, probably due to being transplanted too late. Other plants include, Nandina, Ligustrum, roses, privet juniper, arbor vitae, cherry trees, chinquapin.

OCHILTREE H. D. CLUB WILL MEET FRIDAY NOVEMBER 2

The Ochiltree Home Demonstration Club will hold their next meeting in the home of Mrs. Jim Dodson at 10 a. m., November 2. Members are urged to be present and bring thimbles and embroidery work. Visitors are welcome.

While the horse and buggy days, broadly speaking, are now only a memory, buggy whips valued at $500.00 were made in the United States last year. Most of these whips were sold to farmers for stock driving purposes and to men engaged in horse racing.

Some elms, red cedar, several vines, althea and spirea.

At the back of the house near the outdoor living room an attractive flower bed bloomed against a background of castor beans. A combination well house and wash house was also landscaped and a screen planting planned for the sea pool.

The wide grass lawn is the outstanding feature of this demonstration, the grass growing over the terrace of the tree row and completely surrounding the house keeping down dust, glare and weeds.

Mrs. Slaughter says that it is particularly nice to be able to walk anywhere in the yard after a rain and not get her feet muddy. Now that the yard is sodded she can give her attention to care of her shrubs and to adding the things she needs to complete her planting.

More shade trees and shrubs will be added in the spring. Mrs. Slaughter says "I intend to prepare the soil for my flower bed next year."

Walnut and Pecan are the best nuts to be used for this purpose because they may be used on most dark furniture," Mrs. Williams further remarked.

The club voted to have a games journey on November 2.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Claude Crouch, president; Mrs. Eli Goucher, vice president; Mrs. C. H. McCartney, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Arlo Williams, council delegate; Mrs. Jack Dodson reporter; Mrs. Kirt Williams, year book; Mrs. Arlo Williams, scrap book; Mrs. W. T. Lackey, exhibit; Mrs. Valda Lackey, finance chairman; Mrs. Arlo Williams, expansion; Mrs. Jacob Schwab, education; Mrs. Jim Dodson, program; Mrs. Lloyd Black, Achievement Day.

The council delegate gave the report and the club worked on garments to be given to the needy.

The club was happy to add Mrs. Schwab on the rolls as a new member.

Those present were Mesdames, Jacob Schwab, W. T. Lackey, Valda Lackey, Jim Dodson, Eli Goucher, Arlo Williams, Claude Crouch, C. H. McCartney and Kirt Williams.

Just as it should be, so that it will not need so much watering and so that the ground will not pack so badly.

An interesting part of the plan is the playground for Harlan Dean, the young son, and a barbecue pit for the outdoor living room.

Slaughter has completely changed the appearance of the yard this first year and expects to see growth of the plants and shrubs and those which will be added make the farm more attractive.

Maginot Is Line of Forts, Westwall a Defense Zone

German machine gunners cover wide area of sloping terrain from inside Westwall pillbox. These small concrete forts are built at half-mile intervals on frontier.

CHIEF difference between the French Maginot Line and the German Westwall, or Siegfried Line, is that the one is a continuous string of underground fortresses, while the other comprises an entire fortified zone.

France's defense line can be entered far behind the front lines. From sunken roads, underground galleries lead deep into the earth to the two billion dollars worth of subterranean chambers in the Maginot Line.

Roofed with steel and concrete, the forts are built to withstand barrages of heavy bombardment. Each contains a gymnasium, movie theater, hospital, mess hall, tank garage and airplane hangar.

The forts are stocked with food, water and munitions, and are connected by subterranean railroads. Increased air pressure keeps out gas.

Pillboxes atop the underground forts are so spaced that cross-fire by machine gunners in the towers protects each from infantry advance. Artificial hills and camouflage hide them from attacking forces.

GERMANY'S Westwall is no line of forts. It is a deep fortified zone, a broad ribbon of land running through vineyards, hamlets, rolling mountains and valleys. It includes three complete lines of defense. The deeper an enemy penetrates into the thick belt, the harder the going becomes.

Germany takes advantage of the terrain of the country to build and space her defenses. Only light pillboxes and some block-houses are set directly along the Rhine. Heavier fortifications are located higher up and big-gun placements are set well back in the ridges of the forest regions.

Here, too, are used mutually supporting strong points with interlocking arcs of fire. Heavy machine guns and 75 mm. field guns spray the ground subject to attack from pillboxes.

Behind these, and connected by underground tunnels, are subterranean barracks that could quarter an army of 500,000, secure from gas and shells. Farther to the rear are balloon barrages, anti-aircraft batteries and fields for fast pursuit planes.

Even the manner of tank defense differs. The French use "asparagus" beds of upright steel rails to hamper mechanized units. The Germans have built endless rows of tombstonelike concrete blocks designed to trap and wreck the tanks.

Two Ideas on Neutrality

In most important sessions of Senate Foreign Relations Committee since World War, members debate measures designed to guarantee America's neutrality. Pictured at conference table are opponents—both of whom have same idea of keeping U. S. out of war. But Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, left, favors retention of current arms embargo. And Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, committee chairman, supports administration program which calls for embargo repeal, cash-and-carry plan.

marx Bros. GROUCHO CHICO HARPO

A circus of entertainment will show at the Ellis Theatre Sunday and Monday, October 29-30 when M-G-M presents the "Marx Brothers at the Circus," in which that inimitable trio, Groucho, Chico and Harpo turn the Big Tent upside down with their appearance as trapeze artists, wild animal tamer and clown.

Today's Western Front Close to That of 1914-18

The current western front lies along the Maginot and Siegfried lines. Just 21 years ago it was only slightly east of this position. Above map shows comparison of the two lines and prominent battle centers during first World War.

NO such imposing fortifications as the Maginot and Siegfried lines confronted each other across the French-German border at the outbreak of the first World War in 1914. If this had been the case, the boundary might have remained the western front from the early days to the Armistice.

Yet, today the front is hardly more than 130 miles at the farthest spot from the battle line which existed at the close of hostilities in November, 1918. Such towns as Nancy, Bar-le-Duc, Verdun—familiar to veterans of the past conflict—are very close to the current battle zone.

'War in Earnest' on Land and Sea

Hitler's "war in earnest" finds Germans massing troops for battles on the Western Front and bombing naval bases on the British coast. Nazi attacks drove French back to border in Saar region. Bombers damaged warships at Scapa Flow and at Firth of Forth base near Edinburgh.

Marx Brothers in Circus of Entertainment at Ellis

A mirthquake such as only those Marx Bros. can bring about will be presented on the screen of the Ellis Theatre Sunday and Monday, October 29-30, in "Marx Bros. at the Circus." From start to finish it proved one of the most successful comedies out of Hollywood since the last Marxian epic.

They share the camera with scores of circus animals, a gorilla, a seal, an orang-utan, an Upside-Down-Girl, a midjet villain, the World's Strongest Man and a symphony orchestra cast adrift on a raft. Portraying the outstanding roles are Kenny Baker, Florence Rice, Eve Arden, Margaret Dumont and Nat Pendleton.

The picture is the story of Kenny Baker, circus owner, who escapes his circus through the cooperation of Groucho, Harpo and Chico, which is accomplished through a chain of hilarious episodes.

The principal character of the story, Randolph Scott, has been featured in "Frontier Marshall" and many other pictures. He will be supported by Margaret Lindsay, Preston Foster, Mary Healy, Kane Richmond, Maxie Rosenbloom and many others.

The film was released on October 27 by 20th Century-Fox. The hero will be seen training some of the 20,000 but the actual theme is one of personal disappointment, courage, sacrifice and heroism.

The handsome lad now has four pictures to his credit, and gets better, if that is possible, with each succeeding performance. Mary Healy is a lovely feminine foil for Roy. Supporting players are excellent. Farouk, Gunnels, Lulu Belle and Scotty, and by Chester Gunnels.

Rogers continues his sensational acting pace he set in his starring debut in "Under Western Stars." The handsome lad now has four pictures to his credit, and gets better, if that is possible, with each succeeding performance.

WARS of the more distant past have also moved across this stage. The region has seen the downfall of two Napoleons. Emperor One met his Waterloo in north central Belgium; Emperor Three, battling Prussia, rang up the white flag at Sedan in 1870.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, Federal expenditures exceeded receipts in the sum of $1,580,000,000. The gross national debt is now roughly estimated at $40,738,000,000.

The oldest member of Congress is Edward T. Taylor of Colorado, chairman of the appropriations committee, who is 81. Although he did not come to Congress until he was 30 years of age, he is now serving his 18th consecutive term.

Johnson grass, while a large majority favor the use of any type of forage plant that has a good chance of stabilizing blowing fields and of providing grazing, Reynolds explained. Of farmers who have planted Johnson grass, Cecil Jones probably has been the most successful.

"I planted ten acres to Johnson grass in 1934 and have increased the acreage annually until I now have 1,000 acres in this type of vegetation," said Jones, who is a livestock farmer residing near Dalhart. "On 640 acres of Johnson grass from one to five years old, I pastured 150 head of cattle and 1,350 head of sheep for four months this summer, and there is plenty of vegetation cover left as protection against soil blowing during the coming winter and spring. My Johnson grass gave me greater returns to the acre than did my cultivated land," Jones declared.

Several farmers in the Dalhart area have planted fields to Johnson grass for the first time this year, and others are planning to do so next year. The Soil Conservation Service agronomist reported.

"However," Reynolds pointed out, "Johnson grass should be confined to severely eroded land and that scheduled for retirement to grass. Land that is to be cropped every year should not be planted to Johnson grass," he warned.

"20,000 Men a Year" Brings To The Ellis Theatre All The Glory Of Flying School

One of the entertainment features of the year will be shown at the Ellis Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, October 31 and November 1 when "20,000 Men a Year" flashes across the screen unfolding the story of the actual training of thousands of young men for Uncle Sam's air corps.

President Roosevelt announced a short time ago that the government, in cooperation with America's peacetime aviation activity, would like to see thousands of young men trained annually in the art of flying to augment the national defense arm. The announcement aroused widespread comment and now comes the picture that will take you behind the scenes of the action involved.

The hero will be seen training some of the 20,000 but the actual theme is one of personal disappointment, courage, sacrifice and heroism.

The principal character of the story, Randolph Scott, has been featured in "Frontier Marshall" and many other pictures. He will be supported by Margaret Lindsay, Preston Foster, Mary Healy, Kane Richmond, Maxie Rosenbloom and many others.

Pest is Blessing

Johnson Grass Considered Pest Gives Blowing Land A Good Protection

Dalhart, Texas—Johnson grass, an "outlaw" plant that is considered a pest to most farmers, may prove to be a blessing to the severely wind-blown land of the Southern Great Plains, according to Fred S. Reynolds, agronomist on the Soil Conservation Service project at Dalhart.

Several Dalhart County fields which were damaged severely by wind erosion during the long period of drought now have been stabilized completely by Johnson grass and are providing the land owners with pasturage for their livestock, Reynolds said.

"Efforts to obtain a protective turf by planting native species of grass on land in need of revegetation have met with failure in most instances," the agronomist stated. "Stands obtained were spotted and suffered from subsequent erosion. Therefore, a fast growing perennial that will completely stabilize the blowing areas within a year or two appears to be the immediate need in the severely-eroded portions of the Southern Great Plains. Observations indicate that Johnson grass comes nearer to meeting this requirement than anything else tried thus far."

Fans attending the Tech and Aggie game Saturday at Goodwell will see a most powerful Tech line, one that losted the Cameron Aggies for a grand total of six lost yards instead of giving the Aggies a net gain for the game. In Walter "Jumbo" Webster fans will see the greatest "turning back" in Texas. He carried Lubbock High to the Texas Interscholastic League finals last season and every college in the country was after him but he elected to remain in Lubbock and attend Texas Tech.

In anticipation of a tough game against the Panhandle Aggies, Coaches LaMaster and Huffman will transport their entire squad to Goodwell for the game. The freshmen trimmed the Aggies last season. It promises to be the best game in this section this season.

Its roster includes such outstanding 1938 Texas Interscholastic All-State players as Walter "Jumbo" Webster, Thayne "Red" Ammonett, Kenneth "Cock-Robbin" Robbins, Pete Wilhoite, Wayne "Red" Pipes and many others who grabbed the high school headlines last season.

Wednesday's tax collections hit a high mark for 1939 tax payments when they took in almost $7,000. Fred also reports that their office has had 106 applications for certificate of title since the car title law went into effect on October 1. Most of these were for used cars.

Every child and adult in the Perryton community should attend the Esther Jonsson piano concert in the school auditorium this afternoon and evening. Scarcely do people of a small community like Perryton have the opportunity to hear an artist of such international renown.

A delegation consisting of Judge Dave Shanks, W. B. LaMaster and Oscar C. Flowers of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce highway committee, and State Representative Max W. Boyer will meet with the Texas State Highway Commission in Dallas, Monday in an effort for the immediate completion of the gaps in the hard surface on No. 117 east from Perryton to the Oklahoma state line.

Representatives from Booker, Fellet and Lipscomb have promised to join with the Perryton Mountcastle.

The jury for the third week of the District Court is subpoenaed for Monday morning, November 27, at 10 o'clock. Those called for November 27 are:

A. C. Dial, Jerry Boston, Frank F. Dodson, B. L. Hurter, Ray Skinner, W. E. Perry, J. H. Halsey, T. M. Osborne, J. C. Cooper, W. R. Grabert, H. C. Brillhart, B. B. Yankley, E. M. Allen, S. K. Ollie Morris, Knox Pipkin, H. I. Hudson, J. W. Daniel, R. J. Barlow, A. D. Reed, James Caldwell, E. N. Flathers, I. L. Lovett, D. D. Hummer, H. R. Russell, J. A. Harbaugh, G. M. Cooper, O. H. Many Perryton folks have been wondering about the trains thru

Put on your "must go and see" list the annual Halloween Carnival to be held in Donley Hall, Saturday evening, October 28. This fun and frolic entertainment is sponsored by the Pierce Johnson Post and Auxiliary Unit of The American Legion and all proceeds go for Child Welfare and other charity work.

A special added feature of this year's carnival will be the first appearance in this community of Madame Goe-An-Go, that famed fortune teller. Madame Goe-An-Go has appeared in many professional carnivals. She has often received as high as $1.00 for her readings but on Saturday night, the price will be only 25c.

There's a reason for this low charge. Madame Goe-An-Go is interested in the good work that will be accomplished with the profits from this carnival. And folks, here's a secret, "Madame Goe-An-Go" is now a resident of this community and she's also an Auxiliary member. Now guess who she is.

It can't happen here. A flood! Yes, that's what we've always thought until our plant foreman, Jake Dunkle dashed down into our basement Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock and stepped off into eight inches of water. We were surprised and when he rushed up to the front office and gave the alarm "Rush for the hills, the dam's washed out", we thought he was crazy or else.

But it did happen here! City employees were flushing out the sewer line in the alley back of the Herald office with the full fire hose pressure. Our basement floor is only about 18 inches above the sewer level. Result, the water backed up into our basement ruining over a hundred dollars worth of paper stock and it took the entire force an entire day to clean up the mess. No, it wasn't as bad as it could have been, it was just pure, clean city water direct from the water mains.

Many Perryton folks have been wondering about the trains thru

Perryton last Sunday night. You know out here on this daylight railroad, it's something special to have your slumbers disturbed by the shrill blast of a locomotive. It wasn't a wreck or a wash-out on the main line that sent trains into Perryton Sunday night.

It was a special 19-car train of cattle shipped from Magdalena, N. M. and unloaded at Farnsworth. Two cars went to C. S. McGarragh. The other 17 cars were for Ray Bateman and R. L. Flowers.
