Here and There AROUND BURKBURNETT

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bazell have returned home from a month's vacation trip through the southern part of Louisiana. They visited his sister, Mrs. J. P. Stine and son in Mobile and also attended the Azalea Trail Festival. When they arrived home they had a letter awaiting them from Mrs. Edward J. Ely, who with her family is with T/Sgt. Ely in the Air Force, stationed at Isma, Turkey. They formerly lived at 510 Oak Street in Burk. Mrs. Ely related she and her daughter Connie had visited Athens, Greece, Naples, Italy, Weisbaden, Germany, Drendzie, Italy, Tripoli, Libya and had been on the Island of Crete and have traveled through Turkey.

Mrs. Paul Browning of Los Angeles, California arrived in Burk recently to be with her sister, Mrs. Beulah Hall who has been quite ill. Mrs. Browning is a former long time resident of Burk. Her husband Paul with his three brothers operated the Burk Motors for several years.

Mrs. Gladys Moorer and mother of Cache, Okla. visited Mrs. J. H. Cecil and other friends in Burk Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pilcher of Chillicothe, Texas visited his cousins, Misses Lois and Jewel Reed here Sunday.

Among the relatives attending the funeral of Mary Harmon here Tuesday were her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. "Buddy" Harmon of Choctaw, Okla. and cousins, Mr. Frosty and Boston Harmon of Dallas.

Mrs. Jim Haley and Mrs. Hettie Gilbert visited Mrs. Gilbert's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas of Holliday, Texas and also a niece, Mrs. Beulah Parrish of Houston who was at the home. Also had a good visit with an old school mate of Mrs. Gilberts, who called at the home, Rev. Silas Dixon of Quanah, a retired Methodist Minister, whom she had not seen in years.

Mrs. Walter Riley left Wednesday for Homer, La., where she was a Judge in their Flower Show in which she reports the flowers were very beautiful. She also visited a sister Mrs. C. W. Bibby in Homer and one in Shreveport, Mrs. Johnny Bullock. She returned home Saturday night.

Mrs. Lena Graham of San Diego, Calif., a former resident of Burk is visiting her son Edgie and family in Marlow, Okla. They spent one day last week in our city visiting friends. Mrs. Graham was owner and proprietor of the Liberty Cafe here several years ago.

Mrs. H. L. Lawrence of N. Holly Street, has returned home after a week's visit with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allen and her son, Fred Lawrence in Daingerfield, Texas.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce To Conduct Survey

The Burk Burnett Schools are planning to extend the vocational program offered by the schools. This is to be done under the Vocational Education Act of 1963. In order to implement a program under the act the need and opportunity for employment under the act must be established. This is done through an Occupational Survey. This is a survey of all employment in the school district with a projection of openings that will occur in the future. The Texas Education Agency has informed the school that this survey must be finished before an application for a program will be considered.

The Burk Burnett J.C.'s have agreed to conduct the survey as a service to the schools. The schools request that each employer cooperate with the member of the J.C.'s when they conduct the survey starting the week of the 7th of May.

This is an opportunity to improve and enlarge the offerings of our school and to educate and train our children for actual opportunities of employment.

Cashion Baptists Schedule Revival

A weekend revival has been scheduled at Cashion Baptist Church beginning Friday, April 29 and continuing through Sunday, May 1.

Evangelist for the meeting will be James Haynes, pastor of the South Leon Baptist Church, Comanche, Texas. Bro. Haynes is presently a student at Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth where he is completing work toward a Bachelor of Divinity degree. He is a graduate of Howard Payne College in Brownwood, Texas.

Paul Watson, Jr. of Wichita Falls will be leading the singing. Evening services will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening and the Sunday morning worship services will start at 11:00 a.m. The nursery will be open for all services.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

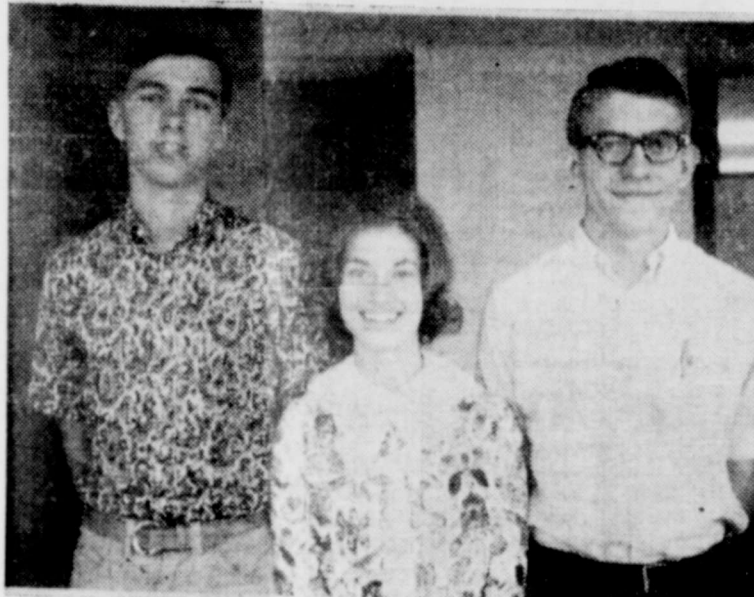

Mrs. Burns Attends Funeral

Mrs. E. R. Burns attended funeral services for Mrs. Roy E. Cobbs in Nowata, Okla., this week.

Mrs. Cobbs was the mother of Mrs. Elmer Burns, Jr.

She died in a Bartlesville hospital. She had been an invalid for two years due to injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

Student Council Elects Officers

Student Council Officers elected by the Burk Burnett High School Student Body, after extensive campaigning were: Bill Roe, president; Donna Greer, secretary-treasurer and Johnny Mitchell, vice president. They will serve during the 1966-67 school term. Other officers will be elected from the council membership next term.

Bill Roe is a junior. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Roe. Donna Greer, also a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greer and Johnny Mitchell is a sophomore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mitchell.

Episcopal Visit Planned For St. John The Divine, April 27th

The Church of St. John the Divine will receive an episcopal visit from the Rt. Rev. Theodore McCrea, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Dallas on Wednesday 27th at 7:00 p.m., at the Episcopal Church, 1000 S. Berry St., Burk Burnett. Acceptance will follow the Service of Confirmation and Holy Communion in the National Room at the First National Bank. Bishop McCrea will convey the gift of Laying on of Hands or The Order of Confirmation to those desiring to become members of Christ's Church and have completed the required study of the Episcopal Church.

Please come and witness this very ancient service.

The members of St. John the Divine had a very enjoyable evening at the Easter Pot Luck held Easter evening at the National Room at the First National Bank.

The Rev. Walter A. Gerth gave the final study in the study series on the Church Seasons by the women of the church, at the regular meeting April 12 at 7:00 p.m. Final plans were made for the reception for Bishop McCrea. Mrs. Velma Sanders was elected to the convention for the General Division of Women's Work, April 27th at St. Matthew's Cathedral in Dallas. Final plans were made for the Rummage and Garage Sale to be held May 6 and 7 at 705 S. Berry St. Anyone wishing to donate rummage, please call 569-2274 or 569-2644.

Bulldogs Blank Bowie, 10-0

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs played errorless baseball here Tuesday afternoon in a 10-0 blanking of Bowie. This runs their season record to three wins and no losses.

Rod Turner stroked a grand slam homer in the fourth inning and pieced together a one-hitter. Charles Herring relieved Turner to wrap up the game. The Bulldogs entertain Coleman here Friday in a double header which features an evening and night game.

2,500 Are Expected To Attend "Coffee Break" Jamboree To Be Held Here Next Saturday

Coffee break time for area CBers is every Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. Last Sunday 80 people met for breakfast and coffee and to finalize plans for the big Coffee Break Jamboree to be held in Burk Burnett Saturday, April 30.

Expected to draw 2,500 CBers from a 250 mile radius, the purpose of the Jamboree is to further public knowledge of Citizens Band Radio. Host club will be the Faith City Five Watters.

The days festivities will begin with a downtown parade at 2:30 p.m. Center of the activities will be at the Junior High School Auditorium and gymnasium. Entertainment has been planned for young and old. There will be booths displaying various types of base stations. Automobiles equipped with citizens band radios will each have a CBer to explain and demonstrate their use to visitors.

Featured in the parade and on display at the school will be the self-powered Emergency Communications truck. Equipped and maintained by the Faith City Five Watters Club and manned by a volunteer crew of the club. This vehicle can be in operation within five minutes after arrival, furnishing emergency communications, should a disaster cause a breakdown of normal communication methods. It also contains emergency first aid equipment.

CBers operate under FCC rules. They promote the use of Citizens Band Radio equipment to provide emergency communications assistance and participate in Civil Defense exercises.

Licenses are issued for business and personal convenience. "The use of citizens band radio is not a hobby," said Tommy Thompson, spokesman for the Faith City Five Watters Club. He said people who become interested in citizen band radio frequently ask why they haven't heard more about it. "We hope this Jamboree will inform people about the uses of citizens band."

Dave Ehlen, treasurer of the club will conduct a discussion concerning the rules and regulations of CB, in the auditorium at 7 p.m.

Programs will be provided so that visitors will know where to find the various displays and the times of all activities.

Faith City Five Watters

Shown are seven members of the Faith City Five Watters, a citizens band radio club which will host a jamboree in Burk Burnett on April 30. They are, left to right: Wayne Spradling and Clay Dudenhoffer of Grandfield, Oklahoma; Charlie Loffler, Karry Elliott and Rose and Jim Higgins of Burk Burnett and (seated) George Anson of Electra.

It's a family affair with the Skip Brown's. Mr. and Mrs. Brown, 7-year-old Johnny, 6-year-old Michael and 2-year-old, Ruth Ann don their red vests and attend the Faith City Five Watters Citizen's Band Radio Club coffee break on Sunday morning.

THAT EXTRA DIMENSION!QUALITY BEYOND MEASURE

A lump of coal and a diamond have the same basic ingredient — carbon; yet we Americans do not hesitate to invest hundreds or thousands in the diamond. And usually we make such a purchase on the basis of our respect for the integrity of the dealer. We don't look for labels or judge by the size of the jewel box.

Similarly, it takes more than just standardized labels or packaging to make sure that the housewife gets the best buy for her money. Buying wisely, after all, involves more than pounds or ounces per dollar; it involves quality, something that even the Federal government (at the present time) is not proposing to standardize.

The proposed Hart packaging bill would standardize dimensions of weight, composition, etc., on the label. It does not supply that intangible measure of quality and taste so important to the consumer. It does not establish the difference in true value compared to a lump of coal and a diamond, a Paris original and a mass produced copy.

Isn't it just possible that the store you patronize offers the best products at the lowest prices commensurate with the quality you desire? Forced changes in packaging, which contribute nothing to the contents value, will feed the fires of inflation in the food you buy.

NOT SO LONG AGO

It wasn't so very long ago when a trip to Europe was the cause of considerable excitement — an excitement shared not only by the happy travelers-to-be, but by the families, friends, remote acquaintances and the just plain curious.

The word went round the village or the neighborhood, carried by that mystic, unseen telegraph which was such an efficient, if unpredictable, agency of communication in that simple era when just everyone knew or was interested in everyone else. It was received with a shaking of heads, with pursed lips, and with smiles.

Usually, those who were about to embark on the grand adventure, were the leaders of the community — the banker, the head of the principal factory, a successful doctor or lawyer. Sometimes it was a much less impressive figure, and then tongues would wag: "Joe Smith going to France? Well! I never had an idea he could travel."

In another time, "abroad" was a star that only the very few could follow. The difference now is something we all take for granted — it deserves the word "incredible." A news release from Pan American World Airways, our principal international airline, tells us that in January of this year it flew 768 million passenger miles. That was accomplished by one line in one month. And the passengers were not just the town's leading citizens.

Travel now is for many reasons — business, study, education, the affairs of state, and pleasure. And so, slowly, but surely, we come closer to the great goal of people-to-people understanding and tolerance.

Weekly Report*THE SPRING CROP OUTLOOK

Babson Park, Mass., April 21
 —American farmers last year grossed almost $45 billion. This was a record income and marked a 50% increase over 1940.
 Will the luck of the growers hold out in 1966?

Modest Planting Intentions
 Neither Vietnam nor the specter of hunger abroad appears to have had much influence on farmers as they made their 1966 crop plans. If their March plantings intentions can be taken as a measure, their course is set much the same direction as in 1965.

Highlighting the official government report is an estimated increase of nearly 5% in soybean acreage and a probable boost of about 2½% in land to be sown to corn. Apparently, expanding markets for soybean and soybean products—here in the U.S. and in foreign markets—have convinced growers that it would be smart to plant more acres to this crop. Not so clearly evident is the reasoning behind the increase in corn acreage. Perhaps farmers figure this move will be profitable because hog farrowings are expected to be substantially higher later this year. Oddly enough, despite broadening demand for wheat on a worldwide basis, U.S. farmers intend to plant only slightly more durum than last year, and plan to cut other spring wheat seedings 5% below the 1965 level.

Bumper Outturn A Decided Possibility

Although acreage to be seeded to the 17 major crops is almost the same as that of last year, land to be planted to all 59 crops in 1966 may lag the 1965 total by about 2,000,000 acres. Even with this over-all cutback, there is a very good chance that the U.S. 1966 crop outturn will be of bumper size. It could very well set a new record!

In addition to the prospective increase in corn and soybean acreage, more land will be sown this year than last to barley, rice, potatoes, tobacco, dry beans, dry peas, and sugar beets, as well as to durum wheat. On the other hand, besides the promised curtailment in spring wheat plantings (other than durum), growers currently intend to cut back on the amount of land they will sow to oats, flaxseed, sorghum, hay, peanuts and sweet potatoes.

Our own Babson survey of crop prospects suggests a corn outturn this year that will approach 4½ billion bushels, — about 5% above the 1965 record. We forecast that soybean output may exceed the government prediction of 882 million bushels, though perhaps by only a small margin. And it appears now that oats output may be down some 5% from last year, and that all wheat production may slide off 6%.

What About Prices?
 Farm prices — which had been in the doldrums for some years—showed considerable improvement in 1965. They should make additional good gains this year in view of broadening demand which reflects record employment and record personal income. Another very favorable factor is the restraint of farmers with respect to crop plantings. Burdensome surpluses are not expected to be a problem during the 1966-67 season.

Of course, much will depend on the export trend. In very recent years, there have been exceptionally good gains in U.S. exports of farm products. While exports should reach good totals again this year, shipments of some items to Europe may be smaller if European crops make the good progress currently being forecast for them. But downward pressures on U.S. farm prices resulting from cutbacks in foreign demand will likely be offset by bullish pressures here at home.

1966 Should Be a Good Farm Year

With employment and wages scheduled to hold high and with military food needs likely to be mounting, U.S. demand for food and feeds is almost certain to be larger than a year ago. This, plus a continued heavy flow of government payments to farmers under price support and related programs, should improve the economic position of farmers—on balance.

There are, of course, some clouds on the horizon. The draft is cutting the farm manpower taxes are rising, most items farmers need in their operations will cost more this year, and soaring land prices will postpone some farm expansion programs. All in all, however, it will be a relative good year for farmers. They may tighten their purse strings this spring and summer, but they'll be good spenders again when the 1966 crops are in.

ROTUNDA, STATE CAPITOL
Austin

When you visit the rotunda directly under the dome of the State Capitol in Austin you can see Texas in the past, present and future.

On the stone floor are the seals of Spain, Mexico, France, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States. On the walls hang portraits of all Texas heads of state — presidents of the Republic and governors since 1846.

Then, looking some 300 feet straight up, one has an uninterrupted view inside the great dome. You can dream what the future has in store for Texas, as you lift your eyes.

Memories make Texans proud of their heritage. The present, too, is a challenge to continue Texas' great role in the affairs of our Nation. We all want our children to have a secure and safe future.

School Choirs To Present Concert

The High School Music Department will present the two choirs in concert April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria. The concert will be highlighted by the presentation of the Choir Sweetheart.

Presenting the first part of the program will be the Choralers, 30 - member freshman-sophomore choir, which is accompanied by Karen Johnson. This choir's numbers will include selections from religious works, Broadway musicals, novelties and folk music.

An anthem, spirituals, and lighter numbers including folk music and novelties will be included on the second part of the program, presented by the 50-member junior-senior choir, the Varsityers, accompanied by Kathy Sykes.

The choirs will combine with Mrs. Sydney Askins, choir director, conducting, for the performance of the final number, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

Activities of the choirs this year included the naming of four members of the All-Region Choir, and the participation of three senior choir members to the All-Senior Honor Choir at East Texas State University.

Camping out in Yellowstone National Park, a man was attacked during the night by a rambunctious black bear.

Later he sued the federal government for damages, blaming Park Rangers for not warning him of an outbreak of similar attacks in the area.

Until recent years such a claim would have been tossed out of court. Even if the government's employees had been guilty of negligence, a lawsuit was blocked by the ancient doctrine that "the King" (that is the government) can do no wrong. A victim's only hope then was to be compensated by a special act of Congress.

But in 1946, Congress passed the Federal Tort Claims Act, opening the door for the first time to suits of this kind. The bear-bitten camper in the case above, suing under the Act, did win substantial damages for his injuries.

By and large, the Tort Claims Act is limited to cases of negligence. Thus it does not let you collect for various intentional wrongs by government employees, such as assault and battery or false imprisonment.

Nor does it extend to injuries caused by decisions made at the higher levels of government, such as a decision to conduct nuclear tests in Nevada.

Neither are you entitled to payment merely because your injury happened to occur on government property. You must also have a legitimate cause for complaint. For example, a sightseer who slipped and fell in a corridor of the Capitol building was denied damages from the government, because there simply wasn't anything wrong with the floor.

It is in the ordinary negligence situations that you now have a right to sue Uncle Sam. To illustrate:

A motorist won damages from the government after his car was struck by a careless FBI agent.

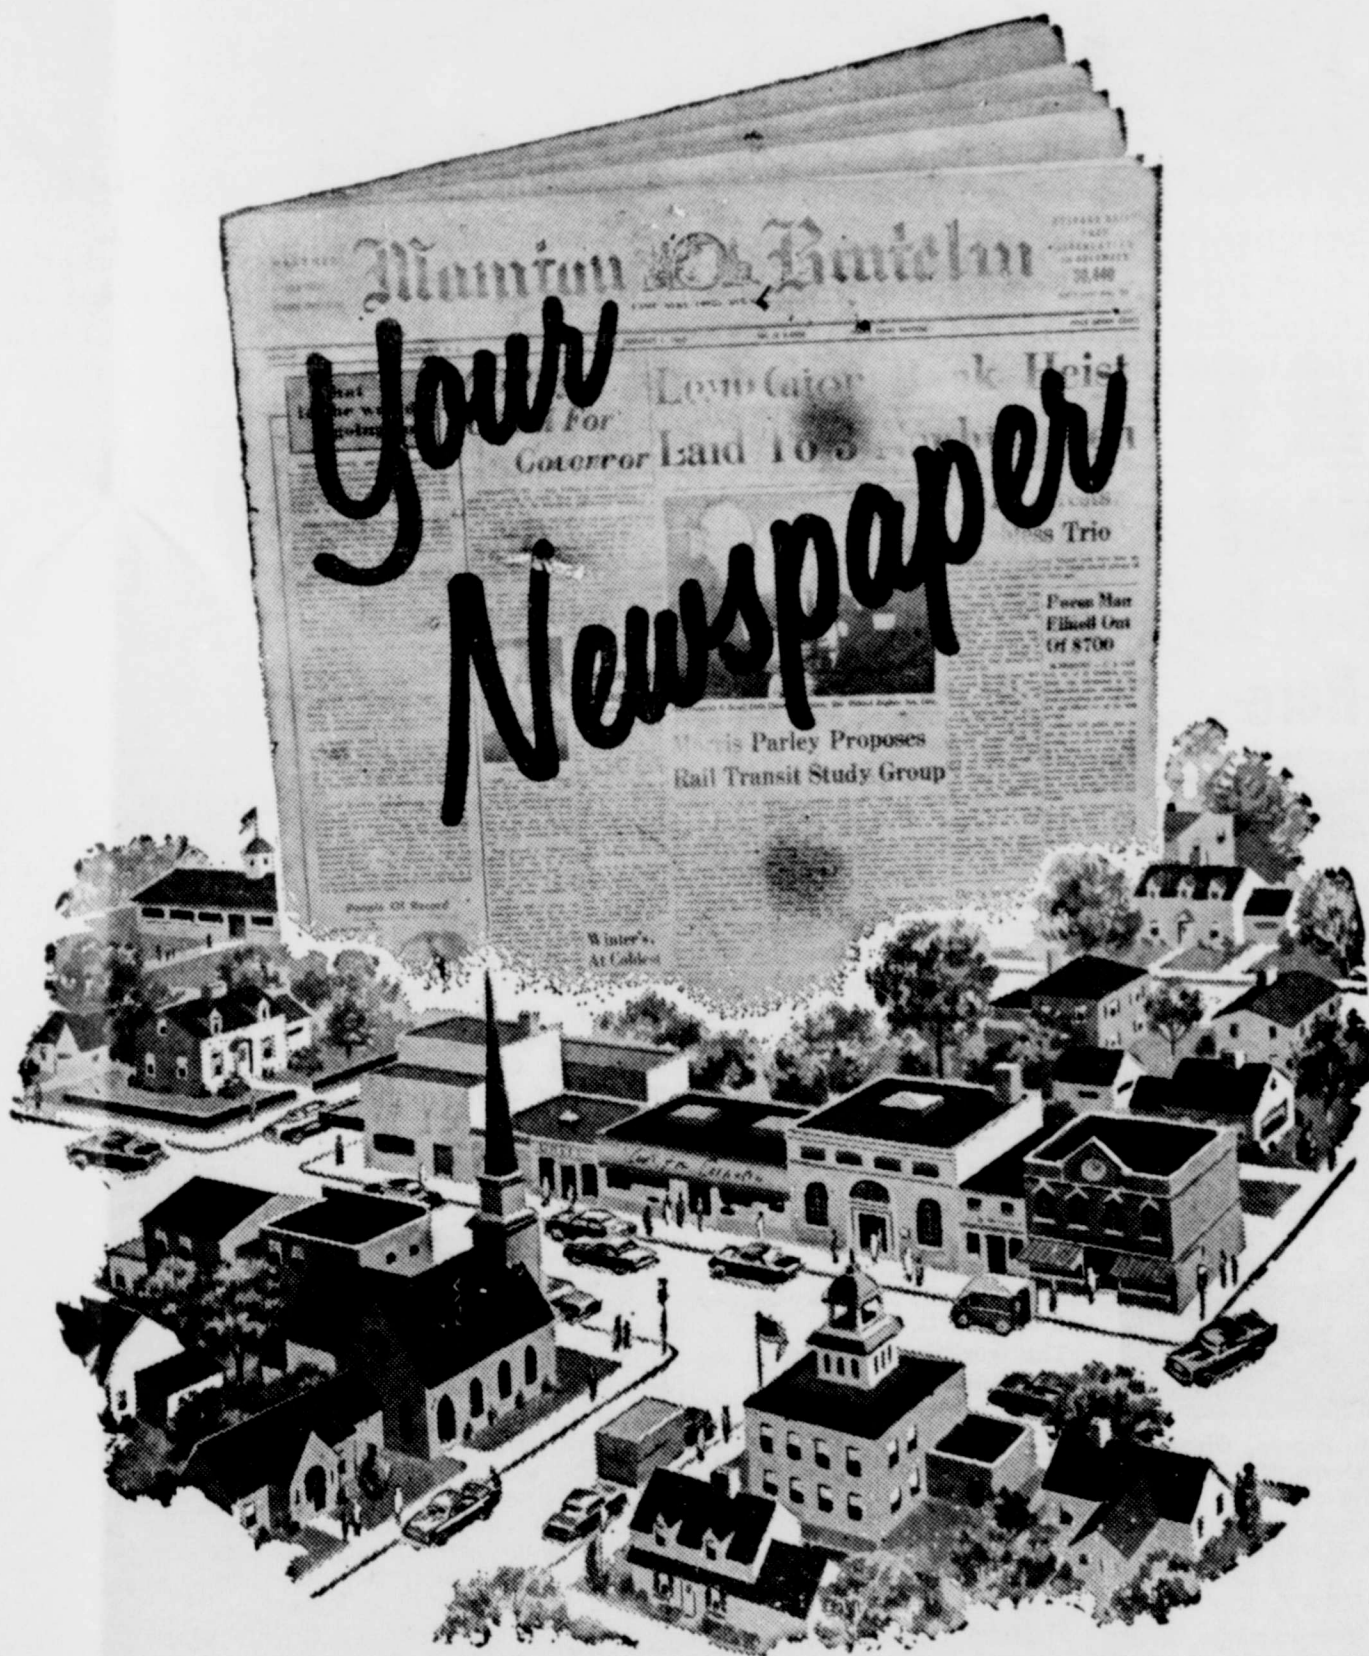

A woman won damages from the government after she lost her footing and injured on a slippery ramp at a Veterans' hospital.

And a woman won damages from the government after a faulty window at the local post office came crashing down on her fingers.

In other words, nowadays the "King" not only can do wrong but also can be made to pay for it.

"An echo always has the last word, but it never wins an argument."

Homemakers Workshop Is Slated Here

Mrs. A. E. Brown, Director of the Burk Burnett School Cafeteria System, will speak to the Homemakers Workshop on Children's Nutrition.

Are you interested in your health and the health of your family members? If so, you will want to attend the Homemakers Workshop in Burk Burnett on Thursday, April 28. The meeting will be held in the Texas Electric Auditorium and will begin at 10:00 a.m.

'Simplify Your Work' a topic of interest to any homemaker will open the program. Mr. James E. Allen will give this part of the program. Through the use of visual aids, Mr. Allen will illustrate methods homemakers can use to simplify the jobs completed by the average homemaker. Mr. Allen is Regional Director for the Texas Heart Association. He serves some 18 counties and headquarters in Wichita Falls.

'Family Nutrition' will be the second workshop session and will be led by Captain Ruth Williams. Captain Williams is Clinic Dietitian at Sheppard Air Force Base. In her present position, Captain Williams is responsible for all clinic patient diet instructions. She works with groups and individuals including expectant mothers, persons with diabetes and problems of overweight and other nutritional irregularities. Captain Williams hold B.S. and M.S. degrees and is a member of the American Home Economics Association. She has taught school in the Virgin Islands and is a native of Englewood, New Jersey.

Mrs. A. E. Brown will lead the third session on 'Children's Nutrition.' Mrs. Brown is director of the Burk Burnett School Cafeterias. She received her training at the Cafeteria Managers Workshop on the campus of Texas Woman's University and at the Wichita General Hospital. She has worked in food service work at the Altus Air Force Base before coming to Burk Burnett five years ago.

The workshop is sponsored by the Foods and Nutrition Subcommittee of the Wichita County Program Building Committee. Members of the planning committee include: Mrs. E. W. Roderick, Mrs. E. R. Rogers, Mrs. Jack Marshall, Mrs. Ray Strawn and Mrs. C. O. Davis.

The workshop is open to any area homemaker.

Mrs. Hoffman Hosts Friendly Homemaker HD Club Recently

Federated Missionary Society Has Meeting With Mrs. Bunstine

Federated Missionary Society met in the A. R. Bunstine home with Mrs. Carl Miller as hostess. President, Mrs. James Haley called the meeting to order. "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," was the opening song. Mrs. Jim Ady led the opening prayer. Bibles verses were given for roll call.

The Welfare Committee reported on things sent to state hospital for Easter. Especially the many beautiful hats for the ladies. It was voted to send money for a love offering to a widow.

Mrs. Lamoin Champ brought a beautiful devotional. She told of a lassie named Gwen who was crippled, she became rebellious, she was visited by the Sky Pilot, as the missionary among the mountaineers, was termed. He told her of the parable of the canyon. Then the Sky Pilot read to her.

The fruit and flowers of the spirit are love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, and some of these grow only in the canyon. Gwen said, "there are no flowers in my canyon, only ragged rocks." Someday they will bloom, Gwen dear. The Master will find them and we too shall see them.

Mrs. Bess Vann brought the program. It being the Easter time, she quoted some nice thoughts and closed with a poem.

God has not promised skies always blue,
Flower strewn pathways all our lives through
God has not promised sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow, peace without pain.
But God hath promised strength for the day,
Rest for the labor, light for the way
Grace for the trials help from above,
Unfailing sympathy undying love

A nice refreshment plate was served to the following members: Mmes. Carswell, Turner, Vann, Miller, Cauthorn, Ady, Horr, Shrum, Haley, Gilbert, Champ, Jones, Bunstine.

Our next meeting will be May 6, 12 noon luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. H. Cecil. Mrs. Jessie Jones will be co-hostess.

Scout Council To Sponsor TV Series

The eleven county area of NorCentTex Girl Scout Council will soon launch a new and unique training-by-television project in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Beginning Wednesday, April 27 at 6:30 a.m., the first of a series of four half-hour television programs, "Growing Up Today," will be presented on station KAUZ-TV, Channel 6.

This series, produced by the national headquarters of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., focuses on the wide range of stimulating activities offered to Girl Scouts — in the arts — in the home — in the out-of-doors.

This series, the first project of its kind developed and produced by the Girl Scout organization, is designed to train volunteer Girl Scout leaders. It describes what girls are like in the important growing up years from seven through seventeen, explain the vital role played by the leader in the four age levels of scouting, and discusses how this role differs with Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts.

Specially developed training materials to be used in conjunction with the programs have been distributed to each leader and assistant leader in our council, as well as Sooner Girl Scout Council, Southwest and Duncan Girl Scout Councils, who participated in this project. These materials outline the preparation each leader can do on her own before viewing the program, and suggest topics the leaders can explore in depth together in discussion groups following each of the televised presentations.

These discussion groups, an important adjunct to training-by-television, will meet with trainers or discussion leaders at many, different locations throughout the council. Preparation of this project has been underway since November. The training-by-television series has two objectives: to train new leaders in order that more girls can benefit from Scouting, and to serve as a refresher course for experienced leaders.

The four "Growing Up Today" programs are of special interest not only to Girl Scouts, their families and friends, and the adult membership of Scouting, but to all members of the community who support youth activities.

Participating in the coordination of this training-by-television project besides the staff, all leaders and assistant leaders, is your neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Leslie Landers.

Watch for "Growing Up Today" beginning April 27 at 6:30 a.m., on Channel 6 KAUZ-TV and continuing for four consecutive Wednesday mornings.

Modern Study Club Has Bunny Munch In National Room

The Modern Study Club had a Bunny Munch in the new National Room of the First National Bank, Monday, April 4.

The rooms were very decorative in an Easter theme. A delicious menu of salads were served buffet style by the Social Committee.

After the dinner, a business meeting was called to order by the president, Pat McClure. The Club Collect was repeated in unison and the salute to the flag was given. Roll Call was answered with "Mama's Brags." A very interesting program was presented by Mrs. Gad Garland.

Hats that were styled and modeled by club members were enjoyed by all. The prize for the best hat went to Mrs. Wanda Pierce. Mrs. Pat McClure won the door prize.

Treva Ladd Wins Trophy In Local Twirling Contest

Treva Ladd won the Miss Boomtown trophy and the advance solo twirl-off in the Boomtown Baton twirling contest held in Burk Burnett, April 16. Treva is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ladd, Meadow Drive.

The Twirl-Off has been called the "winner of champions," and Treva displayed her talent and showmanship to become the winner in this event.

Entries from Tulsa, Enid, Fort Worth, Dallas, Denison and the North Texas area were here and judging was not easy according to Neil Kriedler, President of Southside P-TA, host organization of the contest.

High point winner was 14-year-old Teresa Lawrence of Dallas. The runner-up was Brenda Cummings, aged 9, scoring only one point less. Brenda recently won the title of Juvenile Miss Majorette of Texas and five first place trophies. In the same contest, Miss Lawrence won the Junior Miss Majorette of Texas title.

Nancy Bell of Henrietta won the Flag Award and Lynette Holman won first place trophy in two baton. Tracy Marten and Lee Ann Thomas claimed 2nd place in strutting an novice solo.

Southside P-TA members were commended by President Kriedler for the work during the contest. They acted as clerks and tabulators under the careful guidance of Harold Wood, Linda Wood, nationally-known twirler, now a student at Oklahoma University, clerked for Judge O'Neil. Another judge was Glenna Benson (Landes), former "Miss Burk Burnett" and now a baton teacher in Bedford. "Everyone concerned with this contest went the extra mile to give these children a chance to prove their talent," Mr. Kriedler said.

Mrs. Bertie Brown of Slaton, Tex., was a recent visitor in the home of her daughter, LaWanda Henry of Burk Burnett. Also visiting briefly was a brother, Curtis Head of Lubbock.

Burk 4-H Club Has Regular Meet

The Burk Burnett 4-H Community Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Youth Center. The meeting was called to order by John Welter, President. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Louise Bentley, Secretary and approved. John Welter brought the program. He showed slides and told about the places where he lived and visited while he and his family were living overseas. The slides included scenes from Germany, Holland and La Bourg. The program was interesting and informative meeting was adjourned at 9:00 p.m.

Make a Wish...

FOR HIS FUTURE

A birthday party really thrills the children, and probably the climax comes when they blow out the candles, and make a wish. His wish would probably be for a bright shiny new toy, but you as a parent would wish for him the things that really count, such as good health, happiness, friends and along with these deeper and more serious things should be a prayer for him to have the right interest and relationship to God. You can help these things by taking him to church Sunday.

DEVOL NEWS

Mrs. C. O. Woodley

Mrs. Pearl Cates was hostess in her home Thursday afternoon when the Devol Demonstration met for their regular meeting.

Devotional was read by Mrs. Cates with a prayer poem entitled "Apples of Gold." Mrs. Grace Uthe, president, presided over the meeting and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. McCasland, Clara Mae Woodley called the roll which was answered with a spring time activity I have, and read the minutes of the previous meeting.

As this was a social meeting there was only a small amount of business, then club adjourned to meet April 28 with Dolle Hardin in her home. Several members drove out to Mrs. Miracle's home to help on a quilt. Refreshments were served to Pearl Coker, Willie Cozy, Leta Boston, Grace Uthe, Nora Wood, Buelah Miracle, Dolle Hardin, Clara Mae Woodley, three visitors, Mary Lucille Coles, Verta Stevens and Paty Cole of Burkburnett and the hostess, Mrs. Cates.

Dearl Adams received a severe back injury Saturday while working on a car at his home here and was taken to a Wichita Falls hospital for treatment.

The Devol Doers Club met Monday morning with Linda Adams in her home. Betty Adams was present and gave an interesting lesson on household appliances. Those present were Wanda Adams, Joan Adams, Aileen Barker, Delores Dorton and Yvonne Morgan. The next meeting will be the third Monday in May with Aileen Barker as hostess.

Mrs. A. J. Adams who has been ill for some time was returned to the hospital in Frederick Saturday for treatment and observation.

Mrs. Frank McClendon and Gillis and Mrs. Mattie Harrison of Grandfield visited Mr. and Mrs. George Douthitt of Electra, Tex., Sunday. Mr. Douthitt recently underwent lung surgery and is reported doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McCasland of Lake Jackson and three sons have been visiting his mother, Mrs. Ethel McCasland the past week.

Mrs. Belle Germany and Mrs. Maggie Nelson of Burkburnett visited their sister, Mrs. Dolle Hardin, Monday.

The men of the Big Pasture Riding Club are working on a rodeo arena in the west edge of town. They are hoping to have it completed soon but work seems to be progressing rather slowly and some help would really be appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wyatt and Mike returned home Sunday night from Les Cruces, N.M., where they visited Robert and Ronnie Wyatt and their families over Easter and the past week.

Mrs. Dolle Wheeler and Mrs. Addie Welch of Houston, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hinkle of Portales, N.M., were recent guests of the ladies' sister, Mrs. Floyd Uthe and Mr. Uthe.

John Shirley of Fort Worth, Tex., formerly of this community, visited here Sunday and attended services at the Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Hutson and son of Chattanooga, visited his mother, Mrs. Guy Hutson, Sunday.

Area Man Serves On Farm Bureau Growth Committee

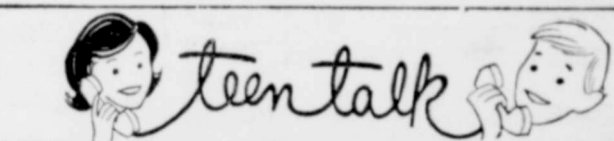

LOYS D. BARBOUR

WACO—(Sp) — A Wichita County farmer and long-time Farm Bureau leader is serving on the special 18-man Texas Farm Bureau Growth Committee which completed its first meeting here in mid-April.

Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park was appointed to the Committee by TFB President C. H. DeVaney. The group, consisting of county Farm Bureau leaders from all over Texas, is making a study-in-depth of Farm Bureau operations at county and state levels. It will make recommendations to the TFB board of directors in September.

Establishment of the Committee was authorized by the TFB Board of Directors. County voting delegates at the 1965 state convention called for "a complete study of the feasibility of expanding services . . . taking into consideration both present and future needs."

PRUDENT VS. PRODIGAL

by Margie Blake, Carnation Teen Committee

Prudent Peggy seems to have twice as much money as anybody else. The day before pay day, she has enough for carfare, lunch money, and school supplies. Could it be she has a secret hoard?

Prodigal Polly, on the other hand, is rich only on pay day. Other days, she's forced to beg and borrow from her friends and her prudent little sister.

It's strange, because Peg and Polly receive the same allowance and the same wages for incidental jobs. What do they do differently? Let's watch them on pay day!

Peggy knows how much she'll need for carfare and lunch money for the week (or month), so she puts that much aside. She's always saving for something, so she feeds the fund NOW while she can. She lists the things she must buy: shampoo, binder paper, stockings, and a new hair band. For the paper, she gets a large amount because it's cheaper. Turns out the hair band she wanted cost more than she'd figured, so she lets it go.

On Polly's pay day, she must first dig into her allowance to pay back what she's borrowed. She, too, goes shopping, and for the same things. She skimps on paper and splurges on the costly hair band. She meets a friend and treats her to a soda ("I'm rich," she says). They browse at the record shop, and Polly decides she can't live without Dylan's latest LP. By nightfall she's close to broke again, but what matter? She can beg and borrow again.

At first blush, it might seem that Polly's carefree way is more fun—but is it? The nagging and the begging can be nerve-racking . . . while Peg's so calm and solvent.

Well, there's a bit of Peggy and a bit of Polly in most of us. And as we get older—more mature, that is—Peggy tends to prevail!

To indulge generous impulses without wrecking the budget, make a batch of Banana Jumbos and take them to school to share at lunch hour.

Combine 1/2 cup soft shortening, 1/2 cup soft butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup (about 2) mashed bananas, 1/2 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk, 1 tablespoon vinegar, and 1 teaspoon vanilla; blend until light and fluffy.

Sift 3 cups sifted flour with 1 1/2 teaspoons soda and 1/2 teaspoon salt; add to banana mixture and mix till well blended. Stir in 1 cup chopped walnuts. Chill 1 hour. Drop rounded teaspoonfuls 2 inches apart on lightly buttered cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 15 minutes. Cool and ice with your favorite vanilla icing. Makes 3 1/2 dozen.

The Carnation Teen Committee, made up of teens in schools across the country, makes suggestions for this column. If you have an idea or want a Teen Party Idea Booklet, write to CTC, 777 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Farm Bureau Hear Candidates Speak April 28

Farmers and ranchers in Wichita County will have an opportunity soon to hear the candidates running for the Legislature according to Tole, president of the Wichita County Farm Bureau.

The "Measure-the-Candidate" Program, which is open to the public will be held April 28 at the Wichita County Agriculture Building in Iowa Park. The meeting will begin at 7:00 a. m. All Farm Bureau members are urged to be present.

The candidates who have indicated they will be present to participate in the meeting are Sen. Jack Hightower, Sen. Rogers and David Alford, Titus Mitchell candidates for State Representative.

Each candidate will be given an opportunity to state his position or opinion, on a number of issues on which Farm Bureau has adopted policies. Information on how each candidate stands on each issue will be made to the press, the Farm Bureau president added.

All of the candidates are asked to state their positions on Animal Health, Check-Off, Farm to Home Roads, Firearms, Herd Minimum Wage for Farm Labor, Research, Seed Fertilizer.

Tole emphasized that the Farm Bureau does not endorse any candidate for any political office. The meeting is being held only for the purpose of letting Farm Bureau members learn more about the candidates.

"This is one of the major programs in the Farm Bureau's citizenship program which is designed to help voter select the best candidate for each office by strengthening our understanding of the candidates," Tole explained.

The Wichita County Farm Bureau president said that ground rules would govern the conduct of the meeting to a discriminating against any candidate.

Melvin Dansby, Field Representative, Texas Farm Bureau, will act as moderator of the meeting.
