The SDN COLUMN

Probably few people outside the flocks he has served ever would have heard of the Rev. Dr. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis if President Johnson had not attended his church last Sunday.

The clergyman seized opportunity by the forelock and proceeded to turn his morning services into a one-man forum on Vietnam, which promptly touched off a wave of controversy.

I would not challenge Rev. Lewis' motives or his sincerity, but would suggest that perhaps those who attended the services at his church, including President and Mrs. Johnson, for the purpose of worshipping were short - changed.

The worship habits of presidents have varied considerably since World War II.

President Johnson often attends services of the Episcopal Church, his wife being a member of that denomination, and on many other occasions he appears in Christian (Disciples of Christ) Churches, of which he is a member. And occasionally he attends services of other denominations if it is convenient.

President Eisenhower probably got more publicity from church attendance than any other president in the nation's history. The news wires almost always carried items on Saturday detailing where President Eisenhower would attend services on Sunday and then follow up after the services with brief stories about his attendance and perhaps what the minister's sermon subject was.

This appeared strange to many people, because President Eisenhower was never affiliated with any religious denomination until he entered politics.

There was never much ado about President John F. Kennedy's worship habits, since he was known as a devout Roman Catholic long before he reached the presidency for his brief tenure that was cut short by tragedy.

Earlier, President Harry S. Truman preferred to slip into church via a side door or back entrance without any prior notice to the clergyman or congregation. This habit sometimes caused excitement, but President Truman, in commenting on it himself, said that he believed that worship was a personal thing between a man and God. He did not want any minister preparing a special sermon because of the president's presence, and he did not want to sit in a congregation that had been swelled by curious people who came just because they heard the President of the United States was going to be there.

As time goes on, Harry S. Truman looms ever larger in stature on the list of U. S. Presidents.

Clark Heads C-C In 1968

H. F. Clark, manager of Texas Electric Service Company, was elected president of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Tuesday in a meeting of the board of directors held at City Hall. He succeeds Bentley Baize in the top civic position and will take office in January.

Other newly elected officers include John Thomas, first vice president; Shelby Coker, second vice president; and, Charlie Balkey, treasurer.

The new officers will attend all of the board meetings during the remainder of the year to keep abreast of present plans and policies. Later, the new officers will confer with committee heads to plan another program of work for the new year.

The board Tuesday approved the erection of a highway sign to be located near the U. S. 84 - Avenue S exit from town. The 10 x 20 foot sign will have flourescent lighting. Estimated cost is $250, and completion is expected prior to the next board meeting.

Tentative plans also call for the erection of a similar sign on the U. S. 84 exit near the Ezell-Key Grain Co.

Gene Merrifield, chairman of a steering committee, told of plans to stage "livestock events" in the new County Coliseum. He also discussed plans for the Christmas Holidays and agreements concerning the bi-district football game to be held here Saturday night between Seagraves and Aspermont.

Baize, the outgoing Chamber president, presented Hugh Boren Jr., a certificate of appreciation on behalf of the Chamber in recognition of Boren's work on the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee.

Boren announced that the Santa Fe Railway Co. will move the Chisholm Trail Museum car here Nov. 21 for the benefit of history students and others who care to visit it.

Grid Prize Shared By. Two Entries

It was the same old story last week in the Snyder Daily News Football Contest — a tie for the prize money.

This time, however, only two entrants were left at the top to share the prize money. They are Bobby Burleson, 4515 El Paso, and Cecil Carroll, 134 Milburn.

Each of the winners missed three selections in last week's contest. There were umpteen others just off the pace with four misses apiece.

Actually one game was "scratched" since there was an error in listing the opponents. The contest erroneously had LSU and Washington matched.

The two winners will divide the $12.50 first and second prize money for the week.

Cold Grips Northeast

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snows riding gale-force winds pasted the eastern Great Lakes region today as an intense cold snap bore down on the Northeast.

Snow squalls spawned by the fast-moving storm system dumped more than a foot of snow on sections of Upstate New York south of Buffalo. Winds accompanying the storm whipped the snow into 4-foot drifts. Police reported road surfaces were slippery and visibility was poor.

Three deaths in the Buffalo area were related to snow shoveling.

The heavy-snow belt extended generally along the eastern and southern shores of Lakes Huron, Erie and Ontario and into northern New England. Lesser amounts fell through the night in most of New York state and much of New England.

General Arrives For Viet Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland declared today the Vietnam situation is more encouraging than he has seen it in four years in the combat zone.

Arriving from Saigon for conferences with President Johnson, the U.S. commander in Vietnam left open the possibility the United States may step up troop deployments to Vietnam to meet a 525,000-man level before the mid-1968 target date.

"Very, very encouraging," was the way Westmoreland portrayed the war effort.

Westmoreland was asked "We've had stand-downs the last several years," Westmoreland said. "I'm not happy about the prospect. But we can live with it for short periods."

Westmoreland said the Communists virtually always violate any declared cease-fires.

"Westmoreland said it was "absolutely inaccurate" that recent severe fighting in Vietnam's central highlands indicated that the Communists were taking the initiative in the war.

"We beat them to the punch every time," he said.

Westmoreland denied the administration has put pressure on him to turn out more significant military victories before the next presidential election.

"I put pressure on myself constantly to do the best job possible" in keeping pressure on enemy forces in Vietnam, he said.

Johnson is holding the high-level conferences at a time when he says the Vietnam war could cut even deeper into his public support.

Red Mortar Attack Leaves Camp Ablaze

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Three heavy North Vetnamese mortar attacks, hours apart, rocked the U.S. 4th Infantry Division's forward base camp at Dak To today and explosion of the main ammunition dump spread fire through the valley of that central highlands stronghold.

Associated Press correspondent John Lengel, reporting on the third attack of the day about 9 p.m., said widespread fires lighted the night sky.

The entire base complex, which includes an airfield, a Special Forces camp and a brigade headquarters of the 4th Division, was on the alert for a possible all-out ground assault by the North Vietnamese.

Martar shells had quickly destroyed two U.S. C130 transport planes, used to ferry war supplies, and damaged another.

Students Compiling Space-Age Dictionary

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Students in Oregon State University's science education program have almost completed a 600-word dictionary of spaceage terms for elementary school pupils. They're doing the project for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Some of the terms—which probably were nonexistent in grade school dictionaries 10 years ago—are: air breather, loxing, orbital decay and plasma engine.

Antiwar Pickets Clash With Police

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Screaming mobs of antiwar pickets clashed with police in a sporadic running street battle Tuesday night as they protested a speech-making appearance by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Police counted at least 46 persons arrested from the crowd they estimated at some 3,000. Five policemen and an undetermined number of civilians were injured.

The violence broke out in front of the New York Hilton Hotel, on Sixth Avenue in midtown Manhattan, where Rusk was addressing a dinner meeting of the Foreign Policy Association.

Renewing his offer to the North Vietnamese government to "negotiate today without condition," Rusk told an audience of 1,200 "if a representative of Hanoi would make himself available anywhere to discuss peace I would be there."

He chided opponents of the war who, he said, "would brush aside a security treaty as a scrap of paper," urging his listeners to "reflect soberly on the dangers which would arise if it should be discovered that our security treaties do not mean what they say."

Departing from his prepared text he took note of the demonstrators and challenged "those who carry the banner, 'Peace in Vietnam'," to produce a representative of North Vietnam willing to negotiate.

Heavy police guards prevented the demonstrators from effective harassment of the dinner proceedings and elements of the crowd circulated up and down Sixth Avenue and over as far as Times Square.

There, theatergoers found themselves trapped in stores and restaurants as the crowds of demonstrators swarmed over the sidewalks and taunted mounted police. The windshield of one cap was kicked in.

Big Spring Slates Sales Tax Voting

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—The Big Spring City Council voted Tuesday to set a Dec. 16 election on a proposed one per cent city sales tax which officials estimate would bring in $250,000 annually.

The officials pledged to cut the ad valorem property rate by 10 cents if the sales tax proposal were endorsed. About $100,000 of the estimated sales tax receipts would be funneled into capital improvements.

TEXTBOOK PANEL NAMED

Orderly Expansion Planned For Occupational Training

Snyder School Trustees last night appointed a textbook committee and instructed Supt. Bill J. Hood to plan for orderly expansion of the occupational training program in local schools.

Discussion of the occupational training program developed upon receipt of requests for more equipment in this program at Travis Junior High School. To utilize the proposed additional equipment in the boys classes, more space would be needed, Supt. Hood said. After some discussion, the board indicated that it definitely wanted occupational training pursued with a view toward moving it progressively along into the high school level. The two classes at Travis, one for boys and one for girls, have been labeled highly successful.

Members of the textbook committee are Mrs. Helen Feather, Central Elementary; Mrs. Nina Nesbit, West Elementary; Mrs. Josie Barron, East Elementary; Mrs. Jo Ann Peek, North Elementary; Mrs. Bobbie Taylor, Stanfield Elementary; Mike Ezzell, North Elementary; Mrs. Lois Powell, Travis Junior High; Mrs. Bobbie Combest, Lamar Junior High; Mrs. Edna Shields, Lamar Junior High; Lynn Fisher, Travis Junior High; Bill Boles, Travis Junior High; Marshall Parham, Lamar Junior High; Mrs. Madelyn Mills, senior high school. Supt. Hood and Principal Herman Trigg of Central Elementary, will represent the administration on the committee.

The board also requested that the superintendent present a plan for standardizing the procedures for reporting pupil achievement in the lower grades. Some schools use parent-teacher conferences in lieu of report cards in the low grades, while others use a combination of conferences and written reports and still others use only the regular report cards. Board President Kenneth Wilson said that variations had been somewhat experimental, but that probably the time had come to

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Did I do a stupid thing? A very handsome middle - aged physician has just moved into my apartment building. And glory be! He is a bachelor, and I am single, too, and am just about the right age for him. He gives me a nice hello when he sees me, but because of his profession he is always in a hurry.

I wanted to get to know him better, so I called his office and made an appointment for a routine physical.

When I appeared I must say that he was most professional about it, and it was in every sense of the word "routine." He hasn't called me, as I had hoped he would.

How can I get this doctor interested in me? He sees beautiful women all day long and the competition is terrific.

I don't want to scare him off by inviting him to something like a cocktail party, dinner or concert, as I understand he runs a mile from the aggressive type woman.

Maybe if I could come up with some rare and interesting disease he would take a special interest in me. But how can I get one?

PLAIN JANE

DEAR JANE: Forget the disease. That would only make you more of a "clinical specimen." As it is, when you lined up that "physical" you probably killed your chances. (Ethical doctors do not cavort with their patients.)

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have put off writing to you for a whole year, and now I can't take it any longer.

It concerns my husband. Let's call him Willie. For our honeymoon Willie took me to his folks' place instead of to a motel. And there I sat for my whole honeymoon, with Willie's Mamma, while Willie and his Daddy went hunting and trapping.

Every week - end since we have been married I've spent with Willie's Mamma. She is a very nice person, don't get me wrong, but I didn't get married to sit around and talk to her.

Before we got married Willie said he loved me and I believed him, but I can't see his running off and leaving me with his Mamma every week-end. What should I do?

WILLIE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't see much future in your marriage until you and Willie sit down and have a heart-to-heart talk about how you spend your week ends. I don't know what Willie has "trapped" (besides you), but let him know if he doesn't pay more attention to you, he may have to go hunting for someone else to keep his Mamma company.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our 21 - year-old daughter is a senior at college. She has written several times asking us if she can bring a boyfriend home with her for the week-end.

My husband and I have discussed this a number of times, and we do not feet that it is the proper thing for her to do. We have nothing against the boy, as we have never even met him.

Our daughter says that all her college friends take their boyfriends home for week-ends.

What is your feeling in the matter?

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If your daughter wants to spend the week-end with her boyfriend, I can't think of a better place for them to be than in your home.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TRYING HARD" IN ROCHESTER: Try harder. If I could recommend a revision of the marriage vows, I would suggest, "LOVE, HONOR AND FORGIVE," instead of "OBEY." I think forgiveness is far more important to a marriage than obedience.

Cable Pact Is Expected

Contract is due to be let to Nelson Electric of Dallas for 162,000 feet of cable to be used with a new pipeline section of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Nelson was the lowest of six bidders on the direct burial cable which will be laid with the 30 miles of 33-inch pipe line from Big Spring to the Martin County pump station early in 1968. Its proposal of $18,468 compared with a high of $26,018. The cable contains six pairs of wire and will be used for automatic controls of pump stations on the line.

No date has been fixed on receiving bids for the pipeline, but indications are it will be in the latter half of December. CRMWD is expected to ask for two types of pipe — concrete steel cylinder or steel.

Plan To Picket IBM

AUSTIN (AP) — A student conservative group called Young Americans for Freedom was set to picket International Business Machines offices today in protest against sale of computers to Iron Curtain countries.

Spokesmen for the organization said IBM plants or offices would be picketed here and in Amarillo, Houston, Lubbock, Dallas, Beaumont, Fort Worth, Waco and Tyler.

A statement from Albert Forrester of Amarillo, state chairman, quoted the New York Times as reporting that IBM had been selling its Series 1400 computers to Hungary, Poland, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia since January.

Forrester said IBM confirmed the sales and said it had State Department sanction.

"YAF believes that the way to effectively oppose communism is to enforce sanctions against trade with Communist countries," Forrester's statement said.

Shirley Fails In Political Debut

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Writer

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, former child movie star attempting a political debut, was defeated Tuesday for the Republican nomination for Congress by Paul N. McCloskey, Korean war hero who advocates American disengagement from the Vietnam war.

McCloskey, 40, Navy Cross and Silver Star winner, faces Democrat Roy A. Archibald, 47, in a Dec. 12 runoff election. They will contend for San Mateo County's 11th District seat vacated by the death of the late J. Arthur Younger, a Republican.

Mrs. Black told her supporters, "I will be back. This was my first race and now I know how the game is played. I plan to dedicate my life and energies to public service because I think my country needs it now more than ever."

With all of San Mateo County's 575 precincts counted today, McCloskey rolled up 52,878 votes to 34,521 for Mrs. Black.

Archibald polled 15,069 votes against 8,813 for Edward M. Keating, his nearest Democratic rival.

The campaign confrontation between McCloskey and Mrs. Black, 39, now a Woodside housewife and mother of three, was mainly on the Vietnam issue.

She urged leaving conduct of the war to the Joint Chiefs of Staff, "the experienced military leaders of the United States."

In a victory statement, McCloskey declared voters had endorsed his ideas "for pressing for negotiations to gradually disengage U.S. forces from Vietnam."

Archibald, the Democratic nominee, also is a critic of present Vietnam policy.

"We should stop our bombing of the North and carry on an all-out diplomatic offensive to bring about peace negotiations," he said.

Mrs. Black said she offered her congratulations to the winners of the field of four Republican and six Democratic contenders.

"I might even see them next year, who knows," she concluded, hinting she may run again in the June 1968 primary.

The Dec. 12 winner will serve only the unexpired remainder of Younger's term—until next November.

evaluate the systems of reporting and standardize procedures throughout the system. It was the concensus of the board that the variations of reporting now used were confusing to pupils and parents.

The school policy on continuous education for professional personnel was re - written to clarify the orginal intention of that policy. It states that professional personnel must complete at least six semester hours of college credit, or its equivalent, during any five years of employment. The policy defines "professional personnel" as those who require certification. The rewritten policy was approved on a split vote, with board members Bill Schiebel, Ted Crenwelge, Dillard Teal and Dan Cotton voting for it and Harold Lacik voting against it. Lacik said he believed the superintendent and assistant superintendent should be excluded from the requirement.

The board approved a leave of absence for Mrs. Gussie Gray, special education teacher at West Elementary, provided a suitable temporary replacement can be found. Mrs. Gray asked for the leave to complete work on her degree at West Texas State University. Also approved was an increase of the monthly travel allowance of the special education teacher at the high school from $25 to $50.

A letter from Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education was read, upholding the local board's decision in refusing to admit an under-age child to schools here.

Zimmerman Speaks To Central PTA

Mr. Bill Zimmerman delivered an address on the topic, "Encouraging Respect for Law and Order" to the Central Elementary PTA, Monday afternoon, in the speech arts rooms.

"Proper training at home will encourage young people to have the right attitude toward law and order," the guest speaker said. He encouraged the group to understand the laws, to serve on petit juries, and to meet the responsibilities of serving on grand juries when called. He reported that Texas has a better rehabilitation than it once had and one better than most states.

"While the national crime rate has climbed 156 percent since 1952," he continued, "the rate in Scurry county has remained the same for the past six years, but indications are that the number of referrals will be higher this year." At the end of his speech he conducted an interesting question and answer session. Mrs. Dale Cotton, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. N. L. Whittenberg, president of the unit, presented Mrs. James Bellamy, devotional chairman, who brought an inspiring talk about Thanksgiving, a holiday observed in a land where there is free education and where the principles of Christianity are predominantly the way of life.

Mrs. Freddie Everton reported that the October carnival was a success.

Mrs. Kenneth Smith asked that anyone interested in Girl Scouting contact her because there are enough interested students for three more Brownie groups, and a leader for a Junior Girl Scout group is needed.

Mr. Herman Trigg announced that November 22, is the date for having the school pictures made again. The [illegible] will be at the school in the morning of that day, and forms will be sent out to the parents to sign, especially for the smaller children, whether or not the child is to have the picture made.

Room count was won by Mrs. Vera High's and Mrs. Edwin Phy's rooms.

DOESN'T THAT SPEAK VOLUMES?

STASSEN ANNOUNCES AGAIN

What Makes Harold Run?

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If anyone has an incurable presidential itch, it's Harold Stassen. He's been scratching for years, and he is not through yet although most people thought he was years ago.

Hope for Stassen is like a rubber band. He's been stretching it all his life.

From the exercise he got, you'd think he'd be in wonderful political condition. He's been running for something since he was 22. For a while he was so successful, back in the 1930s, he was called the "Boy Wonder" of American politics.

He's not a boy anymore. He's 60. But he never hung up his sweatshirt. He tried for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, again in 1952 and again in 1964. He never had a chance any of those times.

Meanwhile, maybe just to keep in shape for the big event later or because he was just anxious for something, he tried in 1958 for the governorship of Pennsylvania and in 1959 for the mayor's job in Philadelphia. He was drowned both times.

Tuesday he announced he would make another stab at the presidency in 1968.

Few men have outmatched his eagerness. William Jennings Bryan was a little more successful, at least in trying. He won the Democratic presidential nomination three times—1896, 1900 and 1908—only to lose in the elections.

But those two would-be presidents, Stassen and Bryan, not only couldn't hold a candle to Norman Thomas, they couldn't hold a match to him although Thomas, who got the Socialist party's presidential nomination six times, was different from Stassen and Bryan.

He almost certainly knew from the beginning that in all the times he ran a Socialist had no chance. He must have been running for the principle of the thing.

About the time Stassen was announcing, Thomas, at 83, was hospitalized Tuesday with a slight stroke. Two weeks ago he said he was withdrawing from public light but was skeptical he had made his last speech.

As if to prove it, he made a speech Saturday and was stricken shortly afterward.

But all this doesn't answer the question: What makes Harold run? Maybe he doesn't know himself. He has an explanation, though. He said Tuesday he wants to give voters a wider choice.

He said he will be a "peace" candidate, referring to the war in Vietnam. When he announced his candidacy in 1963 he said, "I should like to see the Republican party take the lead in trying to modernize the United Nations."

In this year's August edition of Esquire magazine, when he said, "I don't rule out the 1968 nomination" for himself, he gave this view:

"I want a progressive Republican party. I want a strong United Nations. I want peace in Vietnam."

But he doesn't always stick to the same line. Early in 1952 he said he was the most likely compromise candidate if a deadlock for the nomination developed between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft. In May 1952, he was saying Gov. Earl Warren of California was a likely compromise candidate.

But his worst political boo-boo came in 1956 when he was in the Eisenhower administration and suddenly told a news conference, in an effort to block the renomination that year of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, that his own private polls showed Nixon would be a handicap to the re-election of President Eisenhower.

He suggested Christian A. Herter, governor of Massachusetts, as Eisenhower's running-mate. Herter called Stassen's performance comic opera. Herter nominated Nixon. Stassen, after a brief talk with Eisenhower, seconded it.

The road was all down hill after that. Yet, at 22 he was elected a county attorney in Minnesota and at 31 was elected governor. He was twice re-elected.

Boyle Recalls War Of 25 Years Ago

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Now in November the mind of many a paunchy, middle-age American goes back to the time, 25 years ago this month, when U.S. troops landed in force in North Africa.

But it couldn't really have been a full quarter of a century ago. It still stands so fresh and green in the memory that it must have happened only a dusty yesterday ago.

War seemed so simple to the uninitiated then. All that had to be done was to whip that hysterical little man with the mustache in Berlin. Then everybody could come marching home, stand outside the neighborhood pool hall, and start whistling at the pretty girls again.

The pessimists feared the whole job would take six months or more. They were right. It took several more landings—and a full 30 months— before the victory in Europe was fashioned.

Every man has his own recollections of those days in North Africa, our kindergarten to war.

As we plowed through sullen seas toward the "iron coast" of French Morocco, a grizzled colonel who had survived the first World War, turned to me and said:

"So this is your first experience with this kind of thing? Well, what you'll wonder about forever after is how these men will find the courage within themselves to face the things they'll have to, and to do the things they must."

Only a few days later that same colonel performed a battlefield feat that won him the Medal of Honor.

Anyone who goes through combat owes his life to the help of others. I owe my life, as a gawky war reporter, to two men, neither of whose names I know and neither of whom I ever saw again.

One was a soldier who saw me on the darkened deck, just before we were to embark in our assult boats. I was carrying enough equipment to settle Africa, not just land there.

"This is going to be a wet-foot landing," he said. "With all that gear on you'll go down like a stone. Get rid of it."

I did. I got rid of everything except a pencil, a notebook and a slender volume of Emily Dickinson's poems.

Saviour No. 2 was a soldier ahead of me who, after we had been dunked in the water and I had reached a coral outcropping too weak to climb up, stretched down a wet hand of safety and pulled me from the breaking surf.

All my life I'll wonder what happened to those two soldiers.

That first morning in Africa I saw the body of a young lieutenant, his middle stained red, being trundled back in the hay of a peasant's cart. Only a few hours before I had seen him in the ship's wardroom, his arms on the shoulders of a couple of other junior officers, singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Where is that unity of 25 years ago, now in November, here in America and there in Vietnam?

A Junior Editors Quiz About SEA CUSTOMS

QUESTION: Why are there ceremonies when a ship crosses the equator?

* * * *

ANSWER: The equator is an invisible, imaginary line going around the center of the earth, separating the northern from the southern hemisphere. Sailors have always felt it was an important moment when they first crossed the equator; they wanted something to prove they had travelled to such a distant, romantic place. Consequently, there were often elaborate ceremonies when a ship crossed the line. In our picture, one of the crew has dressed up as King Neptune, with another sailor as his wife; These two dropped into the sea and commanded the ship to heave to; then they climbed aboard and took their places on thrones as the various crew members who have not crossed the line are lined up before them. These unfortunates will have greasy material slopped over them and will be shaved with a huge wooden razor. Buckets of sea water will be dumped on them and finally they will receive certificates proving they have crossed the line, signed by old Neptune himself. The candidates may be hazed a bit, but no one is really going to get hurt. Passengers on present day liners often go through some such ceremony.

Court Fells Oakland Oak

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball League lost a game Tuesday night, but that may be the least of their troubles.

Hours before their 128-98 defeat by Pittsburgh, the Oaks learned that LaVern Tart, the league's leading scorer, had been enjoined from playing for them by a Pennsylvania court.

The injunction had been sought by the Wilkes-Barre Barons of the Eastern Basketball League who claimed Tart's contract with them last year gave the Barons on option on this season's services.

Tart was not at the game in Pittsburgh, reportedly because he had the flu, and Judge John Brosky of the Allegheny County Common Pleas Court set a hearing for Nov. 20.

In other ABA games Tuesday night, Houston downed Anaheim 113-106 and Minnesota crushed Kentucky 125-75.

In the National Basketball Association, San Francisco beat Baltimore 129-123, Boston topped Seattle 114-111, New York took San Diego 122-109, Detroit downed St. Louis 124-107 and Philadelphia dumped Cincinnati 122-102.

To go along with their legal troubles, Oakland had problems with Connie Hawkins and Charlie Williams, who both scored 11 points in Pittsburgh's third quarter when the Pipers ran away with the game. Hawkins led all scorers with 33 points.

Houston ended an eight-game losing streak with its home-court victory, outscoring Anaheim 31-15 in the second period. Dewitt Menyard scored 29 points for the Mavericks while Ben Warley led the Amigos with 28.

Minnesota scored more points in the second half at home than Kentucky got in the whole game. Eight of the nine Muskie players finished in double figures led by Ron Perry's 22 points. Darel Carrier led the Colonels with 19 points.

Ector Still In Playoffs

ODESSA (AP) — Odessa Ector, the top rated Class AAA team in Texas schoolboy football, got a slap on the wrist from its district executive committee Tuesday.

Committeemen found that Ector had violated the scrimmage rule in fall training and placed it on probation for next year.

However, Ector will be permitted to compete for the state championship in the playoffs starting next week, and also will not be affected next year when it moves up to Class AAAA, provided it does not violate any rule. In that event, it would be suspended for a year.

Luther Guffy, Ector principal, attributed the violation to a misinterpretation of the rule, which states no boy shall participate in more than one scrimmage in a period of seven days.

"We thought we were within the rule when we held a scrimmage with Snyder on a Friday and then Midland Lee the next Thursday, which is seven days," said Guffy. "But Rhea Williams, athletic director of the Texas Interschlastic League, interpreted the rule to mean that the school had to wait until the eighth day to have another scrimmage."

Since the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1933 the University of Alabama has had six teams go undefeated and untied.

Scribe Foresees Trojan Victory

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When college football follows form, even Aunt Martha can pick the winners. But why does she always take her vacation at this time of year?

Last week's average was .774, lifting the seasonal average to .731.

Southern California over UCLA: Gary Beban, UCLA's magician who plays quarterback, pulled his miracle of the year in the opener at the expense of Tennessee. This time it will be O.J. Simpson of the Trojans who performs the miracle and takes his team to the Rose Bowl.

Tennessee over Mississippi: This one will be played on a neutral field in Memphis and that will be the only neutral thing in the area. Dewey Warren, possibly the best passer in the conference, will decide it for the Volunteers.

Purdue over Michigan State: Would you believe that the Spartans will be dropping their fifth in a row?

Indiana over Minnesota: Why should those hungry Hoosiers start a losing streak this late in the season?

Texas El Paso over Wyoming: The heat and linebacker Dennis Carr will get to the previously unbeaten Cowboys.

Oklahoma over Kansas: There was doubt early in the season about the Oklahomans' offensive line. There isn't anymore.

Oregon State over Oregon: The margin will be so great that Mike Haggard the Beavers' field goal kicker won't be needed.

Notre Dame over Georgia Tech: Midseason injuries have ruined the Georgia Tech attack. In contrast, everyone in the Irish line-up is healthy.

North Carolina State over Clemson: The Wolves are solid through the middle with Dennis Byrd and Terry Brookshire two of the league's better defensive players.

Alabama over South Carolina: Kenny Stabler's southpaw passing decides.

Army over Pittsburgh: Down through the years Army never has won in Pittsburgh. The Cadets will this time and will wind up going to a bowl.

Illinois has never beaten Notre Dame in football. They have met 11 times. In 1937 they played a scoreless tie.

Trapp Made Great Run

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"It was," said Florida Coach Ray Graves, "the greatest run I have ever seen in college football."

"It" was a 52-yard scoring dash made by flanker Richard Trapp late in the game that brought Florida within two points of Georgia. Moments later, Trapp caught a 24-yard pass, setting up a field goal that won the game for the Gators 17-16.

Trapp, the Associated Press Back of the Week, broke no fewer than seven tackles on his touchdown run, game films revealed. In all, the 6-foot-2, 177-pound senior caught nine passes for 171 yards.

Trapp is the kind of player who gets mad if he doesn't go all the way every time he catches the ball, Graves said, and this competitive spirit made him a .350 hitter for Forida during the baseball season and the school's former pool and ping pong champion.

It also led him to rifle an assistant coach's desk to "borrow" some pictures of last year's Georgia-Florida game for some last-minute boning up.

"We never had a boy work harder to play," Graves said.

A close runner-up for Back of the Week was UCLA quarterback Gary Beban, who completed 14 of 22 passes for 289 yards and three touchdowns in the Bruins' 48-0 victory over Washington. Beban also scored on a 24-yard run.

Tiger Puts Title On Line

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Dick Tiger is the light heavyweight boxing champion of the world and he defends the title here Friday night against Montana's No. 1-rated 175-pounder, Roger Rouse, who admits he was once the best street brawler in Anaconda.

The 38-year-old Tiger — christened Richard Ihetu in faraway Nigeria — has his immediate thoughts pinned on the nationally televised fight. But his deepest concern hinges on the turmoil in Africa and the saftey of his family in the new secession state of Biafra in the eastern part of Nigeria.

Tiger is staying and training at a downtown hotel. The most important furnishing in his room is a shortwave radio. It is tuned in on the Voice of America.

Before and after drills Tiger has the set on, trying to hear anything possible of the strife in his native country.

"I have a wife and six children — it should be seven by now—and I haven't been able to hear a word about them since I left for this country," Tiger said Tuesday, venturing into a personal and political subject he doesn't like to dwell upon because of the possible repercussions to his family.

The champion remains a 7-5 betting favorite, odds that are expected to shrink by fight time, 7 p.m. PST, when the Rouse backers roll in from Montana.

FRIDAY NIGHT FOES

Champion Panthers Have Great Speed

"They're the kind of team you can beat 19 plays out of 20 — then they'll beat you on the score board on the 20th play," declared Coach Wayne Tyrone.

Thus the head varsity coach of the Snyder Tigers sized up Lubbock Dunbar — this week's opponent in the final 3-AAA clash of the season. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday in Tiger Stadium, and several seniors on the Tiger squad will be playing their last football game. Tyrone spoke Tuesday night at the regular weekly meeting of the Quarterback Club.

Speaking further about Dunbar, Tyrone said:

"This is no new team — they're well versed in fundamentals, well - coached, and they know how to execute the plays properly."

He pointed out the Panthers have the best speed in the district. Dunbar already has won the district championship. They have four backs who run the century in less than 10 flat, and a nose guard who has been clocked in 9.5.

Tyrone said quarterback Wayne Davis of the Panthers probably is the fastest quarterback the Tigers will face this year.

With such great speed Dunbar can strike from anywhere on the field. They operate from an I formation and like to throw the bomb, he added.

"It's hard to key on them because the flow often goes in different directions," observed Tyrone, " — about the only thing you can key on is the ball — if you can see it."

He also said the Panthers have used "every known defense but they prefer the 4-5." The Dunbar squad includes 22 senior lettermen.

The athletic director said the Tiger defense, overall, played well at Sweetwater last Friday, but was up against a "real fine ball team." He said the Ponies have good size, good speed and hit hard.

Two intercepted passes put the Tigers in a hole early in the contest, but they never gave up — even after a 15-yard penalty halted what appeared to be a certain touchdown drive in the third quarter.

Line Coach Jack Gray also expressed pride in the Tigers. He said they "played their best." Films of the contest revealed that nose guard Barry Welsh of Sweetwater is one of the top defenders in the district. He is extremely difficult to block even with double - team-blocking.

Four members of the Quarterback Club volunteered to work as ticket takers for the bi-district clash here Saturday night. Bob Holder, vice - president, presided over the meeting.

Page Is Man Of Hour

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Alan Page, the hulking rookie defensive tackle for the Minnesota Vikings, says he had more trouble with the Detroit Lions Sunday than with previous National League teams.

But Page himself was big trouble for the Lions, in a standout defensive performance which earned him the Associated Press Defensive Lineman of the Week award.

The 6-foot-5 271-pound tackle from Notre Dame was credited with jarring loose four of Detroit's record 11 fumbles in their 10-10 standoff.

He also recovered one bobble to end a sustained Lions' drive, knocked down a pass and had six solo tackles and five assists in the rugged defensive battle.

"It seems that I had more trouble with Detroit than with other teams," said Page. "I usually get off to a slow start every game, and it builds up."

Page saw nothing particularly different in his performance Sunday. "It's about as good as I've been performing in the past."

He's dead certain how two of those Detroit fumbles came about. "I grabbed the ball."

A&I Loses Place Kicker

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — What happens to a kicker whose toe nail on his right foot—his kicking foot—is torn off by a slamming door?

He plays football all right but he won't do any kicking.

And that may prove a big blow to Texas A&I in its battle with Southwest Texas State here Saturday in the Lone Star Conference football showdown.

John Kardow is the fellow who lost his big toe nail after booting 23 of 28 points after touchdown and five of 12 field goals to lead A&I scoring with 38 points.

Coach Gil Steinke said Kardow, who is a regular linebacker, would play at that position but the kicking will be entrusted to freshman Roger Crawford of Victoria.

Crawford was red-shirted this season but has worked at kicking each day.

Supersonics Scare Boston Before Bowing, 114 To 111

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Weiss played 24 minutes against Boston Tuesday night. They were almost as many as he played in each of his two previous pro seasons, and they were almost too many for the Boston Celtics.

Weiss sat out the first and third quarters, but during the two periods he was on the court he scored 29 points as the new Seattle Supersonics battled Boston right to the final buzzer before bowing 114-111.

The 6-foot-2 guard, who played only 30 minutes in 1965-66 and just 29 last season with the Philadelphia 76ers, hit on 10 of 16 shots from the field and nine of 11 foul shots.

Weiss scored 16 of his points in the fourth quarter when he brought the Supersonics, who had trailed by as many as 17, to within two points of the Celtics on four different occasions.

The game was the first half of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden. In the nightcap, the New York Knockerbockers trounced the San Diego Rockets, the loop's other new team, 122-109.

In other NBA action the Detroit Pistons snapped the St. Louis Hawks' nine-game winning streak with a 124-107 victory and the 76ers bombed the Cincinnati Royals 122-102 in a doubleheader at Philadelphia, and the San Francisco Warriors edged the Bullets 129-123 at Baltimore.

Houston beat Anaheim 113-106, Pittsburgh drubbed Oakland 128-98 and Minnesota thrashed Kentucky 125-75 in American Basketball Association action.

New York sealed San Diego's seventh straight loss by outscoring the Rockets 18-4 late in the third period. Willis Reed led the Knicks with 27 points. John Block's 18 topped the San Diego scoring.

Terry Dischinger and Dave DeBusschere wrecked St. Louis' hopes of a 10th straight victory. Dischinger poured through 39 points and DeBusschere 33 for the Pistons, who led only 47-46 at halftime. Dick Snyder scored 22 for the Western Division leading Hawks, who lost for only the second time in 18 games.

Wilt Chamberlain, who in one game this season failed to take a shot from the field, took 14 against Cincinnati and hit on 12. He also made three of six foul shots for his season high of 27 points. Jerry Lucas scored 19 for the Royals, who played without the injured Oscar Robertson.

San Francisco put down a late Baltimore charge for its victory. Nate Thurmond led the Warriors with 26 and Jeff Mullins netted 25. Don Ohl paced Baltimore with 33, and Jack Marin added a pro career high of 31.

Industrial Spying Necessary

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The public rarely hears about industrial spying except when a scandal is involved, but the fact remains that knowledge of what the other guy is doing rates the highest priority among most marketing men.

Some of this information gathering is legitimate; more of it is considered unethical and illegal. But, as far as many marketing executives are concerned, it is also necessary.

So effectively is information gathered, for example, that a research executive recently told a conference of marketing men here:

"I have come to the conclusion that there is a very low probability of maintaining marketing secrets for any lengthy period of time. In fact...it is virtually an impossible task."

Most publicity about industrial spying concerns the unethical aspects. Everyone knows about wire tapping and electronic bugging. Most people have heard that General Motors hired a detective to spy on Ralph Nader, the auto safety critic.

But without violating moral or legal codes, a dossier can be compiled easily from legitimate sources. Cocktail parties, for example.

Jack Baen, an excutive of Squibb Products Co., made this report to the National Industrial Conference Board, a nonprofit research and educatfonal organization:

"It is worth noting that when management and professional personnel attend professional and trade association meetings, they return many times stating how much competitive information was gleaned from competitive personnel.

"Strange as it may seem," he continued, "they invariably report that they have not given up any themselves."

U.S. corporate laws, which compel disclosure of sales, profits and management, also provide a good source of material. Job applicants often have vital information in their heads, which personnel men tap. And Wall Street security analysts, who often have access to management, also are cultivated.

Much of the material so gathered is raw, meaning it must be processed, analyzed, correlated, compared before its importance is revealed and it can be put to use. More and more, electronic computers are used for the job.

Dr. William Copulsky, an executive of W.R. Grace & Co., feels that so much competitive data is available legitimately, that illegal and unethical methods are usually not necessary.

"The best spy," he maintains, "would be one of my salesmen. He is on the firing line."

Nevertheless, Copulsky asserts, almost 30 per cent of companies believe they are the target of illegal or unethical espionage. What, then, do these companies consider legitimate? Copulsky answers:

"Surveys showed most businessmen considered ethical methods to include use of information voluntarily offered by job applicants, taking of photos of competitive plants from a car or plane, and gathering of data at a competitor's cocktail party in connection with an industry technical meeting."

Police Seek Foot Kisser At Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — In a musty niche deep in the book stacks of Yale University's Sterling Memorial Library sat a pretty graduate student absorbed in her books.

Nearby, though hidden by the stacks, two or three other Yale graduate students were studying.

Footsteps. She ignored them. But it seemed to her that someone was standing above her for a long time.

"All of a sudden I felt somebody kissing my feet," she told Yale authorities and the Yale Daily News.

"Here was this guy on his hands and knees kissing me . . .

"I screamed but everybody ignored me."

The man fled.

"I've had some pretty strange passes made at me," she told the News, "but never anything like this."

Such incidents have taken place during afternoon or evening on at least four occasions reported to Yale authorities.

Three of the foot-kissed girls have been graduate students. The fourth was a professor's wife.

Campus police are looking for a white male, 160-170 pounds, with blond hair and a fair complexion, who is "probably an emotionally disturbed person," said Yale Security Director John Powell.

Dallas Directories Weigh 1,038 Tons

DALLAS (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., issuing a new Dallas yellow directory, says the 705,750 copies if stacked, would reach 16.7 miles high.

Laid end to end, they would reach from Fort Worth to Dallas.

The books weigh more than 1,058 tons.

RECORD HIGH BENEFITS

Social Security Bill Pushed

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Social Security bill proposing the biggest cash benefit increase in history—and the highest tax boost—heads for Senate debate with Democratic leaders pushing for passage before Thanksgiving.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield set the start of floor consideration on the bulky measure for this afternoon.

As sent to the floor by the Senate Finance Committee after more than two months of consideration the bill would, as of April next year:

—Increase the amount of Social Security checks for all 23 million Americans now receiving benefits by at least 15 per cent.

—Raise from $44 to $70 the minimum monthly benefit, a 59 per cent increase. Because of the big percentage boost in minimums, the over-all benefit increases would average nearly 19 per cent.

—Increase total benefits paid by $3.5 billion next year and $5.8 billion in 1969. Under present law, $25.5 billion in Social Security benefits would be paid out in 1968.

—Boost maximum taxes for individuals, and for employers who must match employe contributions, from the present $290.40 a year to $352 in 1968 and $422.40 in 1969.

A House-passed Social Security bill calls for a 12½ per cent minimum over-all boost in benefits and a $6 hike to $50 in the minimum monthly benefit.

Mansfield expressed confidence the bill would clear the Senate and go to conference with the House before the Thanksgiving recess scheduled to begin a week from today. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told newsmen meanwhile he expects Senate action to be completed on the bill by week's end.

The Finance Committee greatly liberalized the version passed by the House in August, putting it much more in line with administration recommendations.

A floor fight on the bill has been pledged by a group of Republicans including Dirksen and Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior GOP member on the Finance Committee.

They said in committee minority reports they would seek to substitute the lower House-approved benefit and tax levels for the Senate panel's version.

The Republicans complained the tax increases next year will not be sufficient to cover proposed additional 1968 benefit increases.

Since 1968 is a national election year, "this might be branded by some as political chicanery," the Republicans said.

But it appeared unlikely that Williams, Dirksen and their supporters would get anywhere near solid GOP support for an effort to substitute the House bill.

Lufkin Nixes Sales Tax

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Residents of Lufkin in East Texas voted in record numbers against a municipal sales tax while the levy won approval in six other towns Tuesday.

More than two dozen towns and cities now have adopted the one per cent tax authorized by the last Legislature. A number of others will hold special elections on the question Dec. 5.

The latest to accept such a levy are Alpine, Marfa, Georgetown, Granger, Hughes Springs and San Marcos.

Prior to the Lufkin vote the only Texas town to reject a sales tax to help finance local government was Electra in the northwest part of the state.

Ballot totals in Lufkin, a lumber and paper mill center, were 1,522 against and 1,237 for the tax—the largest turnout ever for a municipal election in that city.

Margins of approval were 279 to 75 at Alpine and 194 to 82 at Marfa, both in Southwest Texas; 167 to 101 at Georgetown, 123 to 20 at Granger and 634 to 134 at San Marcos, all in Central Texas, and 123 to 78 at Hughes Springs in Northeast Texas.

Clark Speaks At Denton

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — "The idea that a man will hear a Supreme Court decision and then go out and rob a bank is ridiculous," retired Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark declared Tuesday night.

He also told a North Texas State University audience that stronger, better paid local peace officers afford the only means of checking a steady increase in crime across the nation.

"We have 18,000 different police jurisdictions in the United States," Clark said, "but most of them work with no facilities and at poor salaries."

Clark, 68, a Dallas lawyer before he went to Washington, retired from the Supreme Court bench in June.

He disputed a statement by FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover that decisions of the high court have tended to "hamstring" peace officers.

"There is really no factual basis for the criticism the Supreme Court receives on law enforcement," Clark said.

DPS To Get List Of Blind

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Welfare Department must furnish the Department of Public Safety the names of all persons who appeal for aid to the blind so their drivers' licenses may be revoked, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held Tuesday.

Martin said this must be done regardless of a 1941 law against disclosing the names of welfare applicants.

The new law requiring the information be furnished to the DPS was passed this year. It does not specifically repeal the 1941 law.

"It is only where acts are so inconsistent as to be irreconcilable that a repeal by implication will be indulged," Martin said.

Martin said both statutes may stand, with the law against disclosure applying generally and the law ordering the reports on aid to the blind applicants applying only in the specific situation set forth.

LSD Aids In Discovery Of Cause Of Mental Illness

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — LSD, the potentially dangerous drug, may have accidentally uncovered a cause of considerable mental illness—the inability to express warmth toward one's fellow man—a Mayo Clinic psychiatrist says.

Dr. M. Robert Wilson Jr. said studies of a group of emotionally-ill adolescents who were given the drug during treatment had revealed a common underlying emotional effect.

He told a seminar for science writers Tuesday that the common theme was expressed by one of the patients who said that during his LSD "trip" he suddenly "felt free to be compassionate and warm towards my fellow man."

Evidence from the study, he said, indicates that at least some emotionally-disturbed persons need "freedom to be warm or close" to another person, or perhaps even to express suppressed warmth for an experience they are undergoing, such as attending college.

"I therefore think," said Wilson, "that the inability to express one's warm feelings probably underlies many psychiatric situations."

He said that some of the patients in the study had been drop-outs from college, but that after their LSD experience they returned.

Wilson spoke at a seminar cosponsored by the Council for the Advancement of Science Writing and by Washington University.

The doctor stressed that LSD has potential psychological and physiological hazards, and he made clear he was not condoning its use by anyone, except under controled medical observation.

But he said that supplies of the drug for medical experimentation are now virtually exhausted because of "moral pressures" exerted on the federal government. He said these pressures have led to the withdrawal of the drug, by its American manufacturer, from researchers experimenting with it to explore possible beneficial effects, such as in the treatment of chronic alcoholism."
