According to head coach Tom Duncan "the enthusiasm is highly positive for the 81 season and the tracksters are displaying the best attitude seen in the a track squad. The schedule is good, with sharp competition coming every week."

Duncan further stated that Muleshoe probably is as good in depth and experience as anyone in our district.

This year's squad will have good distance people with the return of miller Scott Ellard, a Lazbuddie transfer, Martin Mendoza. Good things are also expected from William Orozco and Aldo Almanza.

The hurdlers this season are Monty Hysinger, John Wuerflein, David Pruitt and Raul Garcia. Quarter milers include Quincy Kir-

Texas students are expected to participate in the state meet. A highlight of the meeting will be skill contests, in which high school students will compete with their peers to test their vocational skills in industrial occupations.

When the skill contests take place on April 4, the Dallas Convention Center will resemble a 20 ring circus. In one corner brick-Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Water Depletion Explained At Rotary

Although water rights are absolute in Texas, both Mayor Charles Bratcher and City Manager Dave Marr are concerned with the effect these additional rights will have on Muleshoe.

Mayor Bratcher commented that the use of these wells by Lubbock will result in an additional drain of Muleshoe's water resources. "Lubbock has the resources to obtain water from just about anywhere," he said, "but where can we go if we have no water?"

Dave Marr expressed concern over the figures quoted in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal and explained his calculations from the statistics given showed a considerably larger amount of water expected to be pumped.

Banquet Tickets Still Available

The deadline for purchasing tickets to the 31st Annual Banquet of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at the advance price of $9.00 per person for non-members and $8.00 for members is Wednesday, March 18. After March 18, all tickets will be $10.00 each.

This year's banquet is scheduled for Friday, March 20, in the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria, at 7:30 p.m. The theme of this year's banquet is "Business and Agriculture: A Winning Partnership"

Speaker at the banquet will be Reagan V. Brown, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture since 1977. He has spoken extensively throughout the state of Texas, including every county in the State as well as 31 other states. He is well known for his knowlcrease will affect us, especially if Lubbock pumps more than a farmer would normally use," he said.

The City of Lubbock has contracted to purchase additional water rights on 1500 acres of land south of Muleshoe adjacent to the current Lubbock water rights. The contract is with the land owners, one of which is John Addink of Lincoln, Nebraska, according to the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

A. Wayne Wyatt, manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, addressed the Muleshoe Rotary Club March 10 on the possible impact of the Lubbock's water use on the ground-water resources in the remainder of Bailey County.

Wyatt began his address by displaying a map outlining the water rights area owned by the City of Lubbock which includes most of the sandhills area south of the City of Muleshoe. The area extends from the Lamb County line to the Texas-New Mexico border. The water rights area is approximately five miles wide. He told the audience that the Water District had recently completed a set of maps which illustrated the elevation of the base of the aquifer, the elevation of the water table in the aquifer, and the saturated thickness of the Ogallala Formation.

The base of the aquifer is commonly known as the "red beds" and for all practical purposes serves as the bottom of the bucket so to speak for the Ogallala aquifer. The red beds are a thick mass of shale and clay materials which allow little or no water movement through them. These massive clay beds were deposited during the Triassic age. Wyatt said the surface of these older beds

Governor Clements Receives First 1981 Easter Seals

Governor William P. Clements was presented the first sheet of the 1981 Easter Seals by the 1981 Texas Easter Seal Poster Child, Melinda Ann Housh.

It has always been a tradition with the Easter Seal Society that the Governor of the State of Texas does the honor of opening the annual Easter Seal Appeal in this manner.

The Campaign, which begins March 1 and continues through April 19, is highlighted by the National Easter Seal Telethon on March 28 and 29.

In addition to medically authorized orthopedic equipment purchase, including wheelchairs, braces and crutches, the Campaign permits the Society and its affiliates to provide therapies, medical, psychological and audiological evaluations and transportation.

The Campaign also helps fund the "Easter Seal Action Line," a toll-free number, which permits potential patients, their families, or handicapped persons in need of information to call 24 hours per day to receive assistance and/or information.

Presenting the seals on behalf of the 13,000 handicapped children and adults served nationwide by Easter Seals, Melinda represents the needs served by the year-round Easter Seal program of direct patient services, information, referral and follow-up.

Melinda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greg Housh of Dallas. She is 8 years old and a victim of Cerebral Palsy. Melinda has achieved considerable independence in her daily living activities following extensive therapy at the Dallas Society for Crippled Children. The Dallas Center is one of 11 Easter Seal Centers operated in the state of Texas. At the Center, physical therapists have taught her to ambulate independently using axillary crutches. Speech pathologists have helped her progress in the acquisition of language, and occupational therapists have provided the necessary training to improve her skills in daily living tasks such as dressing and hygiene.

The total needs of the entire community and meeting them requires the cooperation of all resources in the community, since no one agency or resource can do this by itself. Your support and generosity in the Easter Seals 1981 Campaign will be used to help the disabled in your area. For further information concerning Easter Seals services call 1-800-492-5555.

Carrot Acreage Boosts Vegetable Total

AUSTIN--Recent acreage estimates indicate Texas cabbage, lettuce and spinach are down this winter, but carrot acreage is up enough for a two percent total increase over last January, reports Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown said Jan. 1 estimates for the four fresh market vegetables was 29,300 planted acres, up from 28,700 Jan. 1, 1980.

According to Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting

Service figures, 10,600 acres of carrots were planted, up from 7,200 a year ago. Carrots are in good to excellent condition, and quality of harvest has been good so far.

Cabbage acres are down 12 percent from 13,300 to 11,700. Some 3,600 acres of lettuce were planted, down 14 percent from last year but 16 percent above 1979 acreage.

Spinach acreage is expected to total 3,400, down 15 percent. Harvest is underway in some early fields.

Water... From Page 1 was very uneven and it were possible to lift off the Ogallala Formation from Bailey County and observe the ancient landscape from where he was standing that we would observe some red hills back to the south and southwest of town. He explained that we would in fact be standing in an old river bottom area.

Wyatt explained that the City of Lubbock's water rights area was located in the area where these subsurface hills occurred. He said that "the elevation of the water table in the City of Lubbock's water rights area was approximately 200 feet above elevation of the water table in the City of Muleshoe." He further pointed out that the saturated thickness of the formation at that location was less than 100 feet, indicating that if the City of Lubbock pumped every drop of water out of the formation at that location, that there is no way the water from the Muleshoe valley could move uphill and migrate under the City of Lubbock's water rights area.

The discussion then moved to the site on the map two to three miles south of the City of Muleshoe and once again illustrated that there were red bed highs under the City of Lubbock's water rights area at this location; however, the subsurface hills are not quite as tall as the hills in the western part of the county. "The elevation of the water table in this area in the City of Lubbock's water rights area is about 30 feet higher than the elevation of the water table under the City of Muleshoe's water rights area which adjoins it immediately on the north."

Wyatt said that the slope on the top of the water table in the City of Lubbock's water rights area all along the northern boundary starting directly south of town then to the west to the intersection of the New Mexico line is sloping back to the north.

He reasoned that the water from the City of Lubbock's water rights area was presently moving from the Lubbock water rights area to properties owned by other Bailey County residents. He told the audience not to feel very good about this be-

DESHAZO'S BEST SPELLERS.... The top spellers in the DeShazo Elementary Spelling Bee competition include seated (L-R) James Ziegenfuss, first; Steven Moore, second; Ronnie Perez, third; and Caroline Liles, fourth; and standing (L-R) Sergio Gonzales, fifth; Melissa Burnett, sixth; Michelle Stevenson, seventh; and Tonia Roedler, alternate.

According to Wyatt the Water District is printing and will distribute in the near future a set of maps similar to those he used in his discussion for Bailey County. He encouraged those in attendance to obtain a set of these maps and to study them in detail. Wyatt said he appreciated the concern of the Muleshoe City Council and their bringing to his attention and to the City of Lubbock's attention the concerns of the Bailey County residents about the use of water by the City of Lubbock from its Bailey County water rights area.

Wyatt said the Water District was trying to initiate an Urban Water Conservation and education program for the cities in the High Plains and had hoped to use the City of Lubbock and the City of Muleshoe as the model study areas. He reported asking for financial support from each of the two cities and that the Muleshoe City Council had agreed to support the study by a contribution of ten cents per capita which amounts to about $480 for the Muleshoe contribution. Dave Marr, Muleshoe City Manager, presented Wyatt a check in that amount to show the sincerity of the Bailey County residents on the need for such a study.

Some of the programs and activities that the Water District is supporting in Bailey County were also outlined including a water conservation education program for which the Water District has written a supplementary textbook for use in the earth science classes, provided films through the educational service centers for viewing, and provided other public education materials.

Wyatt said the audience that the District had a super cooperative water conservation program with the Soil Conservation Service in Bailey County and that the District had located two mobile field water conservation labs in the county for use by the SCS to conduct on-farm irrigation application efficiency tests and that these mobile labs had been utilized frequently during the past two years.

The speaker was terribly concerned about the expected increases in energy prices to the irrigator for use in pumping water. He explained that the Bailey County Electric Co-op had announced that they expected their current prices to double by the end of 1982 and that the natural gas supplier to the area had been increasing its prices by two cents per MCF for natural gas per month and this trend was expected to continue.

Wyatt said the Water District had tested a large number of pumps in Bailey County during the past irrigation season and had found that the pumps' efficiency was averaging about 40 percent which was about one-half of what it should be, indicating that the irrigator is using about two times as much fuel as would be needed to pump the water with an efficient pump.

Questions were entertained from the audience one of which was "what are the City of Lubbock's water rates? And why did the City of Lubbock decrease its rates per 1,000 gallons for its larger users?" Wyatt told the questioner that he did not remember exactly what the

 A money-saving tip for cotton growers...
Hedge your fertilizer investment at plow down.

Instead of applying all your fertilizer at plow down, consider the efficiency and potential of a side-dress application of NA-CHURS Liquid Fertilizer at first cultivation — after you know you have a stand. Unlike a plow down application, none of the fertilizer is wasted in the skips, because NA-CHURS Liquid Fertilizer is strategically placed for quick uptake and utilization by the young plants. The result: vigorous, fast-growing plants with more resistance to adverse weather and disease.

SPECIAL 16-4-8 FORMULATION FOR SIDE-DRESS APPLICATION.
 This complete NPK + Sulfur formulation has been used by many satisfied growers right here in the High Plains. And yield-boosting chelated micronutrients can be added, as indicated by your soil analysis.

IMPORTANT EXTRA SERVICES — AT NO EXTRA COST.
 In addition to a premium quality product, the NA-CHURS program includes these special services, without extra charge:

- Soil samples are analyzed in NA-CHURS laboratories.
- Fertility recommendations are made by NA-CHURS staff agronomists.
- Leaf analysis and tissue tests are taken throughout the growing season, as required.
- Follow-up scouting service by your NA-CHURS representative helps your crop reach full-yield potential.

And remember, special discounts and credit terms are an important part of the NA-CHURS program.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — State agriculture officials last week closed the Texas border to California trucks carrying citrus fruit... and California wants the U.S. Supreme Court to re-open the Texas gates.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown imposed the quarantine to halt California produce unless it has been fumigated or placed in cold storage to kill adult Medflies (Mediterranean fruit flies) and their maggots.

The action touched off a legal war between the states. Allied with major growers there, the State of California sued directly in the Supreme Court, and won the Justice Department's help in seeking a restraint on the quarantine.

The Justice Department officials argued that Texas "speculative concern" about the potential damage from the fruit flies was far outweighed by the real damage the quarantine is inflicting on the California economy.

In response, Brown said that Texas growers are going to sue for damages if the Medflies are allowed into the Lone Star State.

He quipped that if he had not ordered the quarantine, those same growers would have tarred and feathered him.

The federal government's support of California came as no surprise to Texas officials. The U.S. Dept. of Agriculture had supervised the California program to get rid of the flies and may not want to admit the program failed, said one official. And, too, the home state of President Ronald Reagan has political clout all the way to the White House.

but Texans have been driving less in recent years, apparently because of the rising cost of fuel.

Governor Bill Clements and House Speaker Bill Clayton have dusted off the plan to raise the state's motor fuels tax, currently lowest in the nation.

Clayton said last week that Clements had predicted gasoline prices may be going down in four to six months because of a glut in supply, and that a 2-cents-per-gallon increase was supported by the pair.

The state would receive about $100 million per year for every penny it raises the tax and Clayton estimated that inflated highway construction costs would probably drain $900 million from the general revenue fund in 1982-83.

Clements reportedly told Rep. Lanell Cofer that he "doesn't believe in charity", but his office later issued a statement saying he would cooperate if he got a formal request for aid from the governor of Georgia.

Cofer had attacked Clements as hypocritical "in light of all the big talking he has been doing about fighting crime and especially crimes against children." A spokesman claimed he was misquoted.

Senate Soap
After Bobby Ewing of "Dallas" fame was elected state senator on last week's television program, real-life Dallas Senator Oscar Mauzy read a welcoming statement saying "many of us feel that we also arrived in the Texas Senate by virtue of a soap opera."

When Mauzy asked Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby if he should file the statement with the Senate secretary, Hobby quipped, "I think it should be filed in an appropriate place."

Unemployment Aid Cutback
The Texas House last week approved a bill making it harder for persons who voluntarily quit working or who are fired to collect unemployment benefits.

If the bill becomes law, a person cannot receive unemployment compensation until he or she has worked for at least six weeks in another job.

The version by Rep. Bill Messer, D-Belton, was only a bit more moderate than the Senate-approved version. Messer's bill makes allowances for servicemen who do not re-enlist and for a person who quits a job to move with a spouse to another city. The toned-down bill goes back to the Senate for approval.

Motor Fuels Tax
The Legislature has long had a problem seeking ways to replace depleting highway construction revenues. The state's highway system has been funded by a "user's tax", the nickel-per-gallon tax on gasoline and diesel,

Clements Lore
For his part, Clements made political friends in some areas and enemies in others in two non-related incidents last week which add more color to the already-rich "Clements lore."

The Governor, archenemy to organized labor, refused to see (and barred from his office) a group of Texas Farm Workers Union members seeking support for a bill giving them rights to unionize, bargain collectively and strike. His actions were no doubt applauded in the business and agriculture sectors. He surely made enemies in the Texas Valley, but the Governor, still stinging from party defeat in a recent state senate race on the border, probably could not care less.

The Governor also endeared himself with opponents of state spending when he apparently coldly rejected a black legislator's plea for $20,000 in state aid to help fund the killer of 19 black children in Atlanta.

What many farmers, elevator operators and industry experts are calling the "corn bloodbath" of late last year seems to be over - according to those same commodity watchers. What happened? With the education provided by hindsight, it seems that corn market hedgers were net short by a large margin, while speculators were net long. Speculators had to get out of the market when prices dropped, but buyers were scarce. Markets were congested, the Polish situation was up in the air, and the market went the other way. What's going to happen in 1981? The analysts see a major part of the carryover used up, and lower prices will probably bring overseas customers back into the market, causing a reasonable recovery moving into Spring. At least, that's what they're saying this week.

APPLY FOR TAX EXEMPTIONS

If you pay property tax in the State of Texas, there is one very important date to remember. Depending on your local taxing district, either April 1 or April 30 is ordinarily the last day to file for exemptions or to render your property for each tax year. Several types of tax relief measures are available to Texas taxpayers, but they do not go into effect automatically. Applications must be filed each year.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS offer a residence homestead exemption to all homeowners and additional exemptions to persons who are disabled or 65 or over. Productivity valuation is available to qualified farmers and ranchers.

COUNTIES offer homestead exemptions on their farm-to-market road or flood control tax rate, and may offer optional exemptions to the disabled and elderly.

CITIES and other taxing districts may offer optional exemptions for the disabled and elderly.

ALL DISTRICTS offer an exemption for certain disabled veterans on one designated property.

REMEMBER exemptions are not effective automatically. Applications must be filed each year on or before your local rendition deadline. While late applications for exemptions may be accepted in some instances, the burden and expense of proving a good reason for filing late rest on the taxpayer, and fully protect your rights and access to remedies as a taxpayer by applying before the rendition date deadline.

MHS Students Attend Canyon Freedom Forum

Three Muleshoe High School teachers sponsored a group of junior and senior students who received scholarships to the annual Panhandle Freedom Forum which was conducted March 10 in the Student Center Ballroom on the campus of West Texas State University in Canyon.

Conferees are selected on the basis of high intellectual and moral standards, and the program of the conference is designed to bring lasting values in citizenship and personal responsibility to the young people attending. Muleshoe students took notes and then brought the special messages back to their classmates through special reports about the forum. Selected scholarship recipients and their sponsors were seminar guests for the program and luncheon on the West Texas Campus. Each student received valuable, useful citizenship materials including the Forum Action Kit. About 1500 West Texas high school students attended this Panhandle Youth Freedom Forum.

Four speakers were featured during the day long event including a Vietnamese refugee, Duc Thanh Vo, who delivered the address entitled, "I Lost My Country and Gained Freedom." Mr. Vo, a former missionary in South Vietnam, managed to escape just before the Communist take over of his country. "May-know many people have risked and given their lives for this special privilege of freedom," stated Duc Thanh Vo.

During the morning session, Potter County Attorney Danny Hill discussed "Youth and the Law". Bringing a very dynamic message in the morning session also was Dr. Walter H. Judd of Washington D.C., a former medical missionary to China and 20 year Congressman from Minnesota. He gave a speech entitled "The World We Live In." Dr. Judd emphasized the fact that we have developed no adequate defense of our system of government. Not only must we be strong militarily, but we must crusade for our system - which has so many wonderful things that we treasure, noted Dr. Judd.

Addressing the afternoon session of the forum was Robert H. Rowland who spoke on the subject "Free to Choose". He stressed the point that we are all free to choose what we will do with our lives and that we must guard our special freedoms.

Students attending from Muleshoe High School were Jimmy Gleason, Ronnie Angeley, Wayne Precure, Kristi Henry, Encida Almanza, Cindy Turner, Sherri Henry, Robin Burgess, Jan Whitt, Devin Sisemore, Mickey Long, Felix Norman, Maria Flores, Stacey Campbell, Tourist: What's the speed limit through this quaint town?

Native: There cin't none; you city folks can't go through here fast enough to suit us.

By Spencer Tanksley
County Extension Agent

Each spring, I get several inquiries on what's causing bean seedlings to die suddenly. This is a common problem in all areas of the county and is brought about by a group of soil-borne fungi.

These fungi are present in soil throughout the year but are especially damaging during a cool, wet spring. Once the condition begins to appear, there is little that can be done to correct the problem. However, there are several steps that should be taken to reduce losses from damping-off where this disease has become a problem.

"Rotation" is one of the most important steps to preventing losses from this disease. Never follow vegetables from one group with another vegetable from the same group. Vegetables from the same group have similar diseases which build up in the soil and increase losses each year. Following is a grouping of plants based on their soil-borne diseases.

GROUP A
Watermelon
Cucumber
Squash
Cantaloupe
Honey Dew Melon
Pumpkin

GROUP B
Cabbage
Cauliflower
Brussels sprouts
Turnip
Mustard
Radish
Collards
Lettuce
Swiss chard
Spinach

GROUP C
Pepper
Tomato
Potato
Eggplant
Okra

GROUP D
Carrots
Sweet potatoes
Beets

GROUP E
Sweet Corn
Onions
Garlic
Shallots

GROUP F
Beans
Peas
Cowpeas

"Planting on a bed" is a method of planting which will keep the root zone of developing seedlings in a drier, more aerified soil and thus reduce losses from damping-off. Soil saturated with water has a greater tendency to have damping-off problems than soil from which free water drains quickly after a rain.

"Know the soil temperature" at which the vegetable you are planting grows best and do not plant before the temperature is reached. Here are some optimum soil temperatures for seed germination: beans, 86-95 degrees F; cucumbers, 86-95 degrees F; lettuce, 77-86 degrees F; okra, 95 plus degrees F; and spinach, 77 degrees F.

This is a partial list of vegetables and temperatures at which they germinate best. As a gardener, you should know at what temperature ranges seed will germinate and grow the most rapid. The less time spent as seedlings, the less plants will suffer from seedling disease.

"Seed quality" is important because high quality seeds will grow out of the seedling stage faster if all other factors favor seedling growth.

"Use of Vapam fungicide" will reduce losses due to seedling disease, but this practice is expensive and recommended only as a side benefit from nematode control. Captan is a fungicide that can be used on select vegetables. When using Captan refer to the label for vegetables on which it can be used and the rate per 100 feet of row.

Damping-off is a serious problem in vegetables in this area, but losses from it can be reduced significantly by following the above steps.

Nematodes and their control will be discussed next time.

Which Is Which? Along those lines, you've probably heard about the couple of recruits who were bird hunting when one of them shouted to the other that he found a dead animal on the road.

"It's got three stripes," he yelled.

"Leave him lay," shouted back his partner. "It's either a skunk or a sergeant."

Collins Says Congress Should Cut Too

While President Reagan is trying to make cuts in the size and cost of the federal bureaucracy, Congressman Jim Collins of Texas has proposals of his own to make cuts in the size and cost of the congressional committees' staffs. He will outline those proposals before the House Subcommittee on Accounts in the following weeks.

The Texas conservative noted that congressional committee staff growth has been extensive over the past few years. "In the past six years each committee that has its budget coming up for review has seen growth of at least 90%, and in some cases up to 656%," Collins said.

Collins has been working to get support for his efforts to bring the "cost and size of these committee staff down to a reasonable level. There is no reason in the world that the Rules Committee which has six staff members in 1972 should need 40 in 1979. There is no reason why the House of Representatives' District of Columbia Committee needs 39 staff members and is a full committee, when it is just a subcommittee in the Senate and operates on seven staff members. There is no reason, when the American people are tired of waste in the government, for the House to be operating a duplicative computer system costing $10 million and with a staff of 200. The Library of Congress' Congressional Research Service has a computer system that offers the same legislative service.

"Duplication and waste in Congress must be eliminated. These Committee staffs have grown tremendously in size and cost over the last few years. I am confident that this year we will be able to vote for savings," Collins said.

Movie trends point toward science fiction.

Almost Proud Judge: "Aren't you ashamed to be seen here in court so often?" Prisoner: "Why no, your honor, I always thought it was a very respectable place."

FARWELL PARTY... James Williams was honored with a farewell party recently when he resigned from the Sheriff's Department. Williams resigned to become a full time minister at the Calvary Baptist Church.

James Williams Honored With Farewell Party

On Thursday, February 26 a farewell party was given in the basement of the Law Enforcement Center for James Williams, Deputy Sheriff of Bailey County and attended by the employees of the Courthouse and Law Enforcement Center. It was in conjunction with the monthly birthday party. Sheriff Bobby Henderson presented Williams with a briefcase from the group.

Williams was called to Muleshoe on Easter Sunday in 1976 to pastor the Calvary Baptist Church of Muleshoe. He was hired as a deputy by the Sheriff's Department in July 1976 and has held that job until this time in conjunction with pastoring the church.

He leaves the Sheriff's Department to fulfill his dream of becoming a full time minister for the Lord. The church has grown under his ministry and leadership and now requires his full time, a spokesman said. He is married to the former Gayle Chandler and they have three children, Pam, 12, Paul, 8, and Misti, who will be 2 in April.

"He plans to continue to serve the community to the best of his ability as pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church and invites everyone to visit him at Calvary Baptist Church, 18th and Ave. C, Muleshoe," he continued.

Salesman: Your wife used to be so nervous. Now she seems quite cured.

Lee Murphy was second runner up. The meeting was closed with the goodnight song.

A spokesman of Epsilon Delta said, "having a home with six bathrooms and six to ten bedrooms requires an abundance of linens. She has her paintings hanging at Sherry's Art Shack, Midland Gallery as well as in the Clovis and Lubbock.

Miss Templar, Harris Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Charlotte Joanne Templar of Lazbuddie became the bride of Kenneth Ray Harris of Muleshoe in a double ring ceremony, Saturday, February 21 at 4 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Templar of Lazbuddie and Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Harris of Muleshoe.

Pot plants, ivys and a six tier candleabra with blue candles decorated the room.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore the traditional white bridal satin gown featuring a round neckline, empire waistline and lace sleeves with deep cuffs. Her fingertip veil was made of the same lace as the sleeves of her dress. The dress and veil were made by the bride's mother.

Her bridal bouquet was made of blue silk roses with baby's breath accented with small hearts made of beads.

Following tradition for something old, the bride carried her mother's handkerchief from her wedding; something blue, her garter; something new, her wedding dress; and borrowed, a pearl necklace.

Shari Templar, sister of the bride of Lazbuddie, served as maid of honor. She wore a blue crepe formal length gown featuring an empire waistline with a ruffle at the neckline. She carried a bouquet of blue silk roses and baby's breath.

Danny Ward, cousin of the groom, served as best man.

Nette Templar, sister of the bride of Lazbuddie, was the candlelighter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Templar chose an apricot street length dress with an apricot lace jacket, accented with a blue silk rose corsage.

Mrs. Harris, mother of the groom, chose a light blue single knit street length dress. Also a blue silk rose corsage.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Sharon Williams and Cindy Cargile, sisters of the groom, served at the bride's table. Netta Templar registered the guests.

After a wedding trip to Clovis they will make their home in Muleshoe.

For traveling, the bride chose blue knit dress pants and a light blue blouse.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Lazbuddie High School.

Harris graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1976 and is employed at the Texas Highway Department.

Patience is the art of solving problems by letting them alone.
